Pontiac School Board decides to reject teacher cuts

by Denise Belec

The decision made by the Pontiac School Board on October 7 probably made parents happy, but displeased the Ministry of Education. The Board decided not to cut four-and-a-half teachers, and to add one teacher in Ste-Anne School in Calumet Island and half a teacher in St-John's in Campbell's Bay.

The teachers were to be cut because of the decline in student enrollment. In all, the school board lost 77 students, 48 of which were to attend the Sieur de Coulonge High School.

At the regular meeting on Wednesday October 7, Commissioner Bowie proposed that the Board refuse the Ministry's plan for distribution of teachers as presented, because of the deterioration of the quality of education and of the exodus of pupils it would cause. He also moved that the three teachers at Sieur de Coulonge, the one-and-a-half teachers at St. Alphonsus school be retained, and that the one-and-one-half teachers requested at St-John's in Campbell's Bay and Ste-Anne in Calumet Island be added. The motion was accepted by the Board.

This decision goes against an earlier agreement between the Ministry and the School Board that the Ministry would financially help the PSB on the condition that the Board respect the recommended student-teacher ratio.

The number of teachers allowed by the Ministry is decided by the total number of students in a school board, and does not take into consideration the number of students per school or the fact that there are both English and French schools. Also, the two schools in Campbell's Bay, St-John's and John-Paul II, had an increase of six students each.

The loss of 77 students means a loss of $308,000 to the Pontiac Board. Also, the Board could lose even more money if the Ministry decides not to help the Board with its deficit.

Either Education Minister Claude Ryan, or Deputy Minister Jean-Claude Rondeau were to meet with Board trustees in a closed meeting on October 13. Results of this meeting will be known later this week.

Should the commissioners stick by their decision of not cutting the teachers, the ministry could cut their financial aid, because of non respect of the agreement.

Should the board reconsider and cut the teachers, it will mean a total rearrangement of student and teacher schedules at Sieur de Coulonge. It will also mean bigger classes.

If the Board can prove to the government that the quality of education will deteriorate if the teachers are cut, then the norms set by the Ministry may not apply.

Opening ceremonies for Pontiac Jr B's

School Board Election November 15:

Your name must be on the list

On Sunday, November 15, elections for all members of all school boards in Quebec will take place.

For the first time, following modifications to the "Loi de l'instruction publique", all seats for school board members, more than 2000 of them, will come up for elections for three year terms. The change in the laws were made following requests from school boards through the Federation of School Boards (F.C.S.C.Q.).

All Canadian citizens of 18 years of age or over are invited to exercise their right to vote. They must, however be registered on the electoral list.

The Pontiac School Board asks the population of its territory to check the list and, if necessary make a written request to add or delete names on the electoral list from October 17 to October 21, 1987 at the Administrative Office, 185 Principal Street in Fort-Coulonge or at one of the following schools from October 19 to October 21.

In the West sector, wards 1-2-3 at St-Alphonsus School in Chapeau from 8:30 am to 3:30 pm. In the Central sector representing wards 4-5-6-7 at the Poupore School in Fort-Coulonge from 8:00 am to 11:30 am and from 12:30 pm to 3:00 pm. In the East sector, wards 8-9-10-11 at John Paul II in Campbell's Bay from 8:30 am to 3:30 pm. For ward 2 in Rapides des Joachims the list will be available for consultation from 9:00 am to 3:00 pm at Ste-Anne School.

This election is important since it will determine who will administer a budget totalling $5 billion per year for the province and oversee the smooth operation of 3,000 schools. Quebec public schools greet 1,200,000 pupils every day with 90,000 employees. School board members, therefore, have a key role in Quebec society.

In addition to ensuring courses and quality education for children and adults, the school board member, as custodian of school democracy and as representative of the people of a ward, brings forth the needs and priorities of the area in matters of education and the needs of the community in sports and culture.

The school board election, to be held November 15, is an ideal time for the population to have a good look at the public school and to contribute to its growth through local school governments.

The degree of involvement of the population may determine to which extent the decisions and actions of the school board will reflect local interest in education.

Brian Allen talks about the Philippines

by Ross Dickson

"Many want to believe that the struggle is over in the Philippines, with the ousting of Marcos. It's not true." Fr. Brian Allen, a priest in the Anglican Church of Canada, was speaking to about a hundred people at St Paul's Parish Hall on Tuesday, September 29th, about the Philippines and his life there during the past three years.

Despite the removal of Marcos as president of the Philippines, the election of Corazon Aquino, and the ending of martial law, the vast majority of the population continues to live in poverty and fear.

Fr. Allen and his wife Françoise Joaquin are visiting Canada for three months, during which time they will be speaking to interested groups across the country about the problems of the Philippines. They plan to return home to Manila when the tour is completed.

Brian left his position as priest of St Paul's Anglican Church in Shawville about four and a half years ago. Since then he has been at the Anglican head office in Toronto for six months, in Guyana, South America where he was the director of diocesan education for six months, and in Edmonton at the Boyle Street Mission for another six months.

In Manila, the capital of the Philippines, Fr. Allen is a fraternal priest worker for the Student Christian Movement (SCM). This is the organization that originally requested an Anglican priest from Canada.

He also teaches social ethics and moral theology at St. Andrew's Anglican Seminary and assists at the Holy Trinity Anglican Church. In his spare time he works as a radio correspondent for the American network, ABC, finding that as a journalist he has more protection and access to certain situations than he would have as a priest.

The SCM is a worldwide ecumenical organization, in effect the youth arm of the World Council of Churches. In the Philippines the main task of the SCM is to take university students out of university on weekends and holidays, and expose them to the realities of their own country.

Most students who can afford to attend university are wealthy and as a result they have little knowledge of the lives most people in their country are forced to live. Most likely, once they graduate they will leave the Philippines. With a better understanding, many of the students are deciding to stay instead to help solve the problems of their country.

According to Fr. Allen, the problems are enormous. Fifty-one million people, out of a population of fifty-six million live in poverty. "The number one cause of death is dehydration from diarrhea. Children are starving. There is no need for this in the Philippines."

Although the minimum wage is only $2.00 per day, multinational companies are able to reduce their labour expenses to even less by laying off entire work shifts every three months in order to convert the workers' status to part-time.

Fr. Allen asked the audience to consider Canadians' participation in creating the problems of the Philippines. He stated that the strength of Canadian unions has pushed companies out of Canada, creating unemployment here and the exploitation of labour there.

Brian had created a video film showing some of the problems and horrors of living in the Philippines, and some of the

by Mike McIntyre

On September 8, at John Paul II High School in Campbell's Bay, nominations commenced for the John Paul II Student Council. The nominations began with two students from Secondary V being chosen to run for president and two students from Secondary IV being chosen to run for vice-president by their fellow classmates. Finally, two students, one from Secondary V, the other from Secondary IV were nominated to run for Secretary-Treasurer. On top of these nominations each class elected a class representative, as part of the Student Council. Preceeding the election of the executive, was the campaigning. For the next week posters and banners covered the school walls to advertise all the campaign promises.

On September 17, each nominee gave his or her speech in front of the student body to repeat his campaign promises. That same afternoon, the election decided who would fill each position in the Student Council.

Hydro works to improve service

by Denise Belec

This has been a bad summer for power failures. Many were caused by natural events such as storms or winds, while others were caused by accidents. Some were caused by Hydro Quebec. These interuptions of service were voluntary and were required because of work by Hydro Quebec.

Hydro's territory covers from Davidson to Beechgrove. The Ottawa River marks the southern limit and Otter Lake the northern limit. Hydro also serves Rapides des Joachims.

To help reduce power failure, Hydro has a budget of $115,000 to cut branches along their main arteries. Often branches will put pressure on electric lines and interupt services.

During the past summer, Hydro has made many repairs to its line. $225,000 was invested in the reconstruction of the line on Hwy 301 from Hwy 148 to Portage du Fort.

On Route 303 north of Ladysmith toward Otter Lake, the line was removed at the request of the transport ministry. Hydro took this occasion to replace the conductors, and spent an additional $240,000 to bring the line to Otter Lake.

A budget of $100,000 was allowed to replace poles and another $120,000 will be put on repairs on "le chemin de la Chute" in Mansfield.

Work to be done in 1988 includes a budget of $125,000 to cut branches and to do other work that will improve the service. $60,000 as been allocated to replace poles and conductors in Norway Bay.

Hydro Quebec is aware of the factors that influence power services. That is why it does not guarantee its service 100%. However, the work done this year and next year should improve it.

Plowing Match. The Plowing Match at Vinton last Wednesday was the best yet. More people entered the contests, more people came to watch, and more people ate more than ever before. Bobby Crawford was the big winner of the advanced 2-furrow trailing plow award, which netted him the Royal Bank Trophy, $20 and the Lawn Trophy for the best ridge of the day. Bobby also beat out every other plowman there with the highest points in any event.

McDonald Endorsed. If there was any doubt before last Wednesday night about who Pontiac's favorite Liberal is, there shouldn't be any now, because from the minute he was applauded onto the platform until after his enormously popular endorsement, it was Wallace McDonald's night.

The Bryson Town Hall was packed, really jammed to beyond the doors with a loud, boisterous crowd, disciplined only by their own keen interest in what was going on. From three to four hundred people cheered, stamped and applauded when the results were made known.

Old Time Happenings (by W.A.H.) The Railroad. We always thought the old Pontiac Pacific Co. had a spendid chance, that they had their road built at very little cost or no cost to themselves. They had subsidies of $3200 a mile from the Quebec government, $4000 a mile from the Dominion government, and the County must have given another $1500. But with all this it seemed they wanted more.

Coming close to Shawville, they swung their surveys one mile north, and it was only after a lot of persuasion and a cash payment of $500, hastily gathered by Mr.Geo. Hynes and the late J.A. McGuire, and a promise of another thousand dollars from the Shawville Council, that the railway officials would consent to come into Shawville at all. Fortunately for Shawville, this promise stipulated payment on completion of the road to Pembroke, so we have never been called on to pay it.

W. Dale Harris, the engineer in chief and his staff of helpers, draughtsmen, right of way men, etc, made Shawville their headquarters for more than a year, and things were humming during the construction period. Work trains were much in evidence during 1883. We had our first supposed regular service in the Spring of 1885.

Married. On October 6th, at St. Andrew's United Church manse, Miss Mary Kathryn (Peggy) Hawke of Sudbury, married Mr. Erwin Groves Chamberlain, son of Mrs. Chamberlain and the late Mr. Marshall Chamberlain of Shawville. They will make their home in Toronto, where Chambie recently contracted to play hockey for the Maple Leafs in the National (Professional) League. He was a member of the Sudbury Tigers, amateur champions of the world.

Local News. The Calumet Mines are again in operation; quite a large staff of men are at work running day and night shifts on a new shaft that is being sunk.

Our band boys report that they had a great time at the Chapeau Fair, although the weather was disagreeable. From Waltham they made the journey to Chapeau by water in Cahill Bros.' motor boat.

Mr. RJ Hamilton's handsone bay team got a fair share of the prize money at the Chapeau Fair.

CNR. The workmen on the CNR right of way south of here have been doing a lot of blasting during the past two weeks.

The engineers have prepared a plan of the proposed station for Clarendon Front on Lots 15 and 16, range 2. for the council's approval or otherwise. The proposed location is on the property of Mr. E. Dagg and B. Hynes (the latter known as the Wheelihan property) and diagonally as the crow flies, is about 6 miles from Shawville.

By the existing avenues of travel, however, the distance would be greater, so that from the point of view of the Shawville citizen, the location is not as favorable to this place, or the country north and east, as it could be. The council should recommend a location that would afford the greatest benefit to the greatest number.

Ladysmith. Rev. Geo. Winning, the Lutheran clergyman at Ladysmith, desires us to announce that the new church will be open for service on Sunday next. Morning service in German, afternoon service in English.

Caldwell. While blasting rock for a lime kiln last Tuesday morning, Mr. Thomas Sharpe and son Harry, of Caldwell section, were very seriously hurt. It seems from what we heard of the accident that the men had several holes charged with dynamite, and when the blast was discharged, one hole did not go off. Sharpe and his son thought that it had blown out, however, and set to work to drill the hole deeper. A drill was inserted in the hole and held by the elder man, while the younger began to strike it with a hammer; a blow or two set the blast off with terrific effect, throwing both men apart and inflicting serious injury to each.

Born. At Shawville on Sept. 30th, to Mr. and Mrs. Norman C. Smith, a son.

At Charteris on October 1st, to Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Hodgins, a son.

Quebec Timber Market. From all accounts the timber market is firmer and decidedly in a more healthy state than it was some weeks ago, eight or nine rafts having changed hands during the last ten days. The prices of fair rafts of large, average say 58 to 60 feet and new timber, bring 26 to 26.5 cents per foot. No recent sales of hard wood reported.

Imortant Enterprise. "He must have more faith in the future of Bryson village than I have," is invariably the expression made to us by parties who visit the site of Mr. WH Clarke's new foundry, in course of erection on Egin Street. Be this as it may, from the character of the building which Mr. Clarke has undertaken to put up, it does not seem as if that gentleman had been permitted to peer behind the screen which hides the development of the future. But on the more probable assumption that he is guided by his confidence in a prospective era of progress for the village, which at present certainly seems somewhat remote, his enterprise is worthy of the highest commendation and deserves success.

The establishment will be of brick, the laying of which is now being executed by Mr. D. Kennedy of Clarendon.

Paddy. Mr. P. Cunningham of Litchfield, who has the well-merited reputation of being the most speedy stone mason in this section of the country, as well as a gentleman who performs his work substantially in every respect, returned home from this village (Bryson) last week after building the foundations of Mr. John Ralph's house and Mr. WH Clarke's stove foundry, which taken together constitute a job of considerable magnitude. Paddy, however, rushed it through in a couple of weeks with apparent ease to himself and satisfaction to all concerned.

Mine Bought. Mr. James Russell, of Renfrew, was in this village (Bryson) last week buying horses for his lumber shanties. During his stay he visited the Lawn silver mine, Calumet Island, and purchased it for a large sum of money. The mine, which is said to be rich in silver, zinc and lead, will be opened out this fall. It is situated about 2 1/2 miles from this village and about the same distance from the line of the PP&J Railway.

20% of fires caused by smokers

20% of fires in the province of Quebec are caused by careless smokers. Between 1981 and 1986, smokers caused 8 664 fires, 250 deaths and 712 injuries, and $118 923 172 millions of material loss.

Two out of three victims are men. The victim is usually in good health and could have escaped the flames if he had not been surprised in his sleep.

A prevention campaign on fires caused by smokers is now underway and will last until January.

The theme of the campaign will be Quand le fumeur s'endort le feu se réveille (when the smoker falls asleep, the fire awakes).

ways people are trying to deal with them. After the video he answered questions from the audience.

To the question, "Who is in control of the country?" Brian replied, "How do you criticize this sweet lady in yellow, when everybody thinks she is the savior of the country?" He was referring to Mrs. Aquino, the recently elected president. "She really believes that God put her where she is and that it is up to God to fix things. She has used none of her dictatorial power to help the situation.

"She has installed a government that has only the façade of a democracy. Congress has shelved the project of land reform which is the country's most pressing need. Nothing significant has changed.

He noted that the army is a significant political influence in the Philippines. Most of the soldiers are loyal, but one month ago there was a military coup that almost succeeded. The leader has still not been caught. "Did it fail or is it ongoing? Was it a strategic withdrawal?" wondered Fr. Allen.

A close friend of his, Lean Alejandro, had been assassinated two weeks previously in Manila. Brian thought that this was a plan by the armed forces "to provoke the Left to make a move and then force Mrs. Aquino to respond by imposing martial law."

"The opposition to Aquino consists of members of the Philippine Communist Party who are 100% Communist ideologues, and the NPA, the New People's Army, made up of uneducated farmers who have simply had enough."

Commenting on the struggle, Brian added, "When I left here I was a pacifist. I didn't think anything was worth killing for. I have changed, somewhat. In a country like the Philippines I am not in a position to say they shouldn't fight violence with violence.

"When we get to the point where a Communist is no longer a human being I am worried. Lean's killing was excused by claiming he was a leftist leader. His group included Communists, nuns and priests, social workers and capitalists, all working for social reform.

"He had run against Aquino's sister-in-law in the election, his wife was the chairman of the Student Christian Movement. He had a wife, a soul, a heart and a name.

"Now anytime the military is accused of something (such as this killing) they claim it is a "lost command", a renegade troop beyond control, that is responsible.

Fr. Allen discussed the role of the World Relief and Development Fund. Each dollar which is donated to this organization in Canada for aid to Third World countries used to be matched by $9 from CIDA, and sent to nongovernmental organizations.

"In Marcos' day Canada was afraid to give the money to the government because it would simply go

Toy distribution company established

by Richard Wills

Karen Price of Stark's Corners is on a quest. Her quest is for quality in toys, and it has led her to establish her own in-home business to help others in the same search.

As a parent, she found that too often she would buy cheap toys, or TV fad toys that did not last, or had no learning value.

Then Mrs. Price discovered the European tradition of toymaking in which quality of construction, versatility, and imagination are more important than media hype.

To help other parents frustrated by low value in toys, she established her own retail distribution company, "Toy Quest".

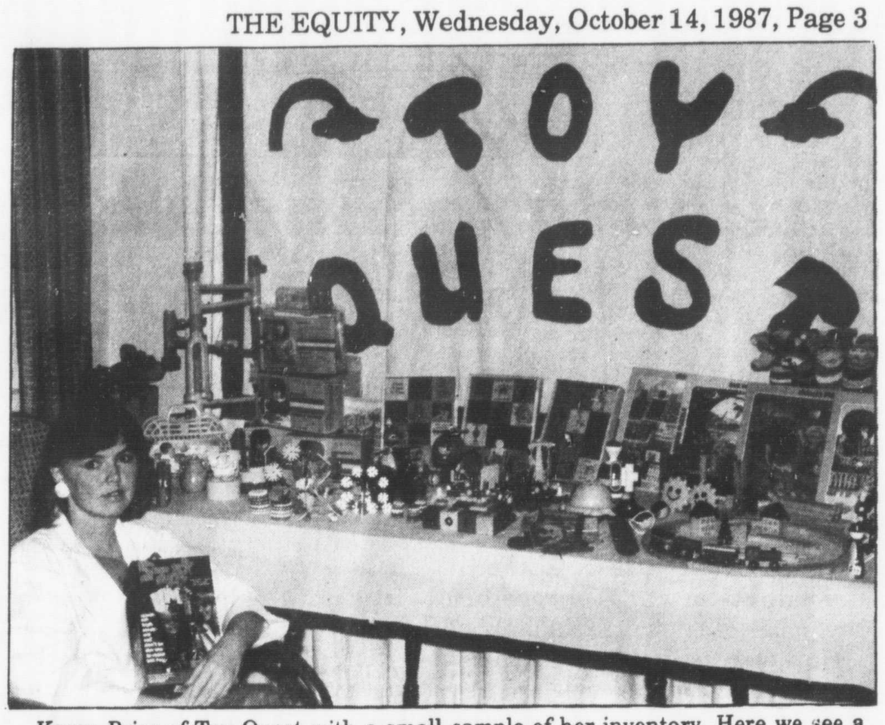
Mrs. Price's quest has led her in search of toys that are "new and unusual," that are well-built, educational, have a combination of uses, and do not over-emphasize competitiveness.

Her main sources of supply are in Europe, but she also buys some Canadian and Japanese toys. She makes regular visits to gift and toy shows in Toronto and Ottawa. She would also be interested in local products, if the quality and price are satisfactory.

She receives mail orders at home, but most of her sales come through home demonstrations at parties, teas, etc.

Toy Quest carries adult gifts, in addition to items for children of all ages. Though she only began her enterprise at the beginning of September, already "The response has been terrific," says Mrs. Price. One-hundred-and-eighty-five people played her "Stack-Um" game contest at the Toy Quest booth at Shawville Fair. The winner was Rhys Davies of Aylmer.

So far, the Toy Quest story has been spread by word-of-mouth only, but a mail-order catalogue is in the works.



Karen Price of Toy Quest with a small sample of her inventory. Here we see a marble run, science kits, "Stack-Um" blocks, word games, building toys, learning puzzles, puppets, trains and baby toys. In short, fascination for all ages.

Live births of English students are not to be taken for granted

September 30th is a very important day in Quebec's schools. That is the day that the total number of students in each school is counted in order to calculate each school's grants.

For most schools in Quebec, this is a straight-forward procedure; the number of students is simply added up. However, such is not the case for Quebec's English schools. The presence of every student in these schools must be justified according to Bill 101.

In many cases all that is required is proof that the parents or older siblings attended an English school in the province. Children of parents who were educated outside of Quebec have to provide more, namely "Statements of Live Birth". For school boards such as the Protestant Regional School Board of Western Quebec (PRSBWQ) this amounts to quite a chore since many of its 5000 students do come from outside the Province.

If the proper documentation is not available as of September 30th, the students are declared illegal, and must be registered in a French school. Until recently these "illegals" were permitted by some school boards to continue on in the English school they had chosen. The Ministry of Education would not pay the operating grants for these students and the Ministry would not issue the students' marks. Still, the boards found ways to make ends meet, and issued their own certificates to the illegals.

This has changed radically since the Liberals took over the government. Heavy penalties, including fines and jail sentences, await those officials who permit illegal students to enter the English schools. So, each year, as September 30th approaches, people become a little frantic as they try to assemble sufficient documentation to prove each student is legal.

This leads to situations such as occured last month when David Conrod, the assistant executive director of the PRSBWQ, had to fly to Toronto to obtain certified Statements of Live Birth for twenty-two students. These statements also contain private information regarding pregnancy, birth, and marital status. Birth certificates are not good enough for students entering English schools, although the Ministry accepts them for their French schools.

It seems that, once again, in its inimitable way, our provincial government, using our money, has found a way to harass and discriminate against the English-speaking minority of Quebec.

The Church Corner

by Fr William Craig, Campbell's Bay

There is a scene in Hamlet in which Claudius the King is wracked in guilt because, as he says: "O, my offence is rank, it smells to heaven; It hath the primal, eldest curse upon't, A brother's murder...."

He tries to pray, but is kept from it by his guilt. Even though the attempt saves his life (for Hamlet will not kill him during prayer, for to do so would be to send the King to heaven, and would not be revenge), Claudius gives up, and rising from his knees utters the famous lines: "My words fly up, my thoughts remain below: Words without thoughts never to heaven go."

I feel rather sorry for poor Claudius. Because he couldn't summon up the right feeling when he tried to pray, he gave up the attempt. And while it makes sense to think as he did, and strive for unity of mind, soul and words when we pray, I suggest that it is wrong and dangerous to give up as he did.

I am not suggesting that what you think when you pray is not important. It is. I am suggesting that if you wait for the right feelings all the time, and you think that you have to have all the right attitudes before you start, you will never get around to praying.

You see, the right spirit, the right thoughts, the right beliefs for prayer are things that God gives. You can't expect to summon them up from your heart as a prerequsite for prayer. They are one of the things you must pray for.

I think, though, that many people are too much like King Claudius, and give up the attempt before they've really tried. They think of prayer as a kind of magic, rather than as an encounter and meeting with God.

Like Claudius, too, they don't really seem to know God. After all, how can one become acquainted with a person if one thinks about talking to him but never calls him up?

This is what it boils down to. We were all taught, you and I, that it is good and important to pray. But somewhere along the line, we all get attacked by strange ideas about 'higher spiritual thoughts' or simply such a fuss about honesty that prayer gets lost while we try to get the right mood. The thing to do is this.

For preparation, concern yourself with privacy and quiet when you pray, as the Lord taught us. Use His prayer. But maybe, just maybe, you should content yourself with asking God to help your thoughts grow to match the words.

Words without thoughts may have trouble getting to heaven. But for most of us, the thoughts aren't going anywhere unless they have words to hold on to. So don't worry. If you really want to pray, start with the words and keep at it. The right spirit will come in God's good time.

Quyon Committee

At our regular meeting held at Gavan's Hotel September 23, 1987, present were: Chris McColgan, Terry Dolan, Mae McCann, Shirley Trudeau, Gary Trudeau, Juliette Trudeau, Laurie Mackechnie and Nicole Trudeau.

Motioned by Juliette Trudeau and second by Terry Dolan that Donnie Campbell make a flag pole for Quyon Park situated at the corners of Clarendon and Egan at a cost of $150.

Motioned by Laurie Mackechnie and second by Shirley Trudeau that our committee send a letter of thanks and a cheque of $100 to the Pontiac Agricultural Society for the use of the grounds during our Reunion Weekend.

The Quyon Citizens Committee has put plans to construct a sports and recreation centre on hold for the time being. The centre was to include a curling rink, indoor tennis, indoor track, gymnasium, etc.

In order to gauge the support and needs of the whole Municipality of Pontiac, the Committee sent out 1500 letters explaining the project to the residents and they were asked to reply by a "yes" or "no" in favour or not. Although 80 percent of respondents who answered were in favour of the project only 67 people answered which amounted to about 5%. It was felt by the Committee that this was not enough of a mandate to proceed with a project of this magnitude and therefore a project of this nature or one similar could be considered in the future.

As October 31, 1987 is the end of the present mandate for the Committee a financial balance sheet is to be prepared and to be presented at a complimentary public wine and cheese reception to be held at Gavan's Hotel on October 23, 1987 at 7:30 pm.

An ad announcing this reception is to be published in the Equity inviting everyone who is interested in attending. The work and the activities as well as future plans are to be explained to the public that evening. It is the hope of the committee that new members can be recruited that evening, not only from Quyon, but also from surrounding area.

into his pocket. Instead the money was given to non-governmental organizations. Now they are giving this money to the government, and it is going to support the vigilante groups."

He recommended that the TV news about the Philippines should not be believed, since time limitations resulted in over-simplification and the information did not represent the situation there.

As an example of how perception of the situation may be distorted, Brian quoted one of the clergy who has been involved in the struggle. "When I feed the poor you call me a saint. When I ask why they are hungry you call me a communist."

He recommended that those wishing to help could do so by writing directly to Corazon Aquino, Malacanang Palace, Republic of the Philippines, expressing their concerns. They also should write to Joe Clark, minister of External Affairs, asking him to reassess Canada's policy of bi-lateral funding to the Philippines and to encourage CIDA to re-establish its ties with the nongovernmental organizations in the Philippines.

Next month, when his visit to Canada is finished, Fr. Allen is returning to the Philippines and to an uncertain future. As a result of his leading non-violent protest masses under the previous regime, an arrest order was issued by president Marcos. With the election looming at the time, and the troubles since, the police have not had enough time to deal with the small people, and they have not got around to Brian, yet.

Canadian Authors

by Amelia Bretzloff

Lucy Maud Montgomery

"I cannot remember the time when I was not writing, or when I did not mean to be an author. To write has always been my central purpose around which every effort and hope and ambition of my life has grouped itself."

During her lifetime, L M Montgomery, author of Anne of Green Gables, published twenty-two books of fiction, a book of poetry, a serialized version of her life, and approximately 450 poems, and 500 short stories which appeared in magazines and newspapers. At her death in Toronto on April 24, 1942, she left ten volumes (about 5000 pages) of unpublished personal diaries, miscellaneous articles, and hundreds of letters.

For four reasons she had a very successful career. She had a goal which was stated in the opening quote; she had unlimited enthusiasm coupled with a striking imagination; and she had a passion for hard work. For example she said that life never held for her a dull moment. "I had in my vivid imagination a passport to the Geography of Fairyland. I love my work! I love spinning stories, and I love to sit by the window of my room and shape some 'airy fairy' fancy into verse." One winter when she was teaching school she boarded in a very cold farmhouse. Too tired to write in the evening after a day of strenuous school work, she arose an hour earlier in the mornings to write. "For five months I go up at six o'clock and dressed by lamplight. The fires would not be on, of course, and the house would be very cold. But I would put on a heavy coat, sit on my feet to keep them from freezing, and with fingers so cramped that I could scarcely hold the pen, I would write my 'stunt' for the day."

She often wondered why she did not give up in utter discouragement, because nine out of ten manuscripts were returned.

"But I sent them out over and over again, and eventually they found resting places. After a while I got hardened to it and did not mind. I only set my teeth and said, 'I will succeed'. You see I had learned the first, last, and middle lesson – never give up!"

Maud experienced her first success the year she spent with her Father and Step-Mother in Prince Albert, Saskatchewan. In thirty-nine four-line stanzas she wrote "The Legend of Cape le Force", a story her Grandfather MacNeill had often told her about the French sea-captain, killed in a duel on the cape, that was later named after him. It was a legend from long ago when P.E.I. was called Ile-St-Jean and was still under the French flag. The poem was printed on the front page of the Patriot, a Charlottetown newspaper. Said Maud, "It was the first sweet bubble on the cup of success and of course it intoxicated me." The same year more success was to follow. The Prince Albert Times published "A Western Eden", two and a third columns of "Lucy Maud Montgomery's views of Saskatchewan, in general, and Prince Albert in particular". The same article was reprinted by the Manitoba Evening Free Press and Sun as, "the following excellent paper by L M Montgomery – words from the Pen of a Lady Writer". That same winter other articles and verses were published including a prize-winning story in the Montreal Witness.

But having underestimated both her love for P E I and the problem of adjusting to her young stepmother, she returned to Prince Edward Island after one year, to live once again with her maternal grandparents. Her stepmother, only twenty-seven years old and a bit domineering, found it difficult to cope with a highly sensitive stepdaughter, whose exceptional intellectual gifts were accompanied by an extremely emotional and excitable nature. There were two half-brothers and two half sisters – Kate, Bruce, Carlyle and Ila. For two months a resentful Maud had been kept home from school to help with domestic chores, missing the education she was so anxious to get. "Oh, I couldn't live another year in this place if I were paid a thousand dollars an hour", she said.

To Nashville ...

Jill wrote all about friends old and new
But forgot she was one of the crew
To Nashville she did go
Prim and proper, high and low
A few ballads she hummed and sang
Accompanied by the Portage gang
She proved to be quite a poet and such a pet
I am real glad that we met.

Cécile.

Letters to the Editor

An open letter to Mr Gilles Lanteigne, executive director of Pontiac Community Hospital.

M. Lanteigne,

Je désire vous faire part de ma réaction lorsque que j'ai lu l'article qui a paru mercredi le 30 septembre dernier dans le journal "The Equity". L'article s'intitulait "New Hospital Directors" et annonçait la nomination de quatres nouveaux directeurs au sein du conseil d'administration de l'Hôpital Communautaire du Pontiac.

Je n'ai rien contre les nouveaux directeurs (je ne les connais même pas) mais le fait qu'ils viennent tous de la région de Shawville donne l'impression que le restant des gens du comté sont incapables de combler les postes vacants.

Vous avez manqué une occasion dépareillée de donner un caractère vraiment régionnal au Centre Hospitalier en oubliant les régions non-représentées sur votre conseil. Une représentativité plus équitable aurait sûrement aidé à rapatrier les patients qui se dirigent chaque jour vers les centres médicaux ontariens, ce qui occasionne en même temps des fuites économiques majeures.

Je comprends que trouver des gens bénévoles et responsables pour siéger sur un tel conseil n'est pas une chose facile surtout si on ne connait pas les gens. Donc pour vous faciliter la tâche, aux prochaines nominations, je m'engage personnellement à vous fournir une liste de personnes intéressées à sièger au conseil.

Je vous prie de recevoir, cher Monsieur, l'assurance de mes sentiments cordiaux.

Transportation on the Ottawa River

I'd like to add a few more lines to the glorious Lady Colbourne by explaining how those headed up river to Arnprior, Clarendon, Opeongo, Portage du Fort, Western Canada portaged from Lake Deschenes to Chats Lake.

Fitzroy was the end of the line. The last stop before the end was a dock made up at the old trail on Victoria Island to a small wharf on the other side where people from Clarendon and Bristol took row boats back to range road where they were squatted or had settled. Those headed for Laird McNab's settlement took the horses and coach from Fitzroy Harbour on a twelve mile trek or by oxen, horse and wagon, horseback or by foot.

Captain William Grant saw the importance of expanding his paddle-driven boats' service further up the Ottawa River. During 1834 and early 1835 he asked Ned O'Hagan to give him the weekly numbers of officials, women, settlers, squatters, hewers, bushmen, teamsters and animals that disembarked at Fitzroy Harbour and Victoria Island.

By the stories handed down Ned, (or we should call him O'Hagan) found out that a lot of those going by coach, horseback or walking would have sooner gone by the river.

Grant decided that he needed a sister ship on the Chats Lake so he, Audrey and George Buchannan formed a company, with complete with figurehead, bowsprit, hurricane deck, ladies' quarters, mess hall and the finest cooking facilities seen on the sidewheelers that plyed our great river.

Remember Ned? Well Grant had him transferred up river to the new ship, the George Buchannan, after he had flirted and became involved with an aristocrat's wife who wanted to teach him to read and write. According to folklore, Ned enticed this lady to show him the big city of Montreal. As you know, Ned had worked for Grant on the Lower Ottawa for a few years and he had wooed other lonesome ladies so hard that they too paid his trip to the big city because Bytown was a rowdy town some financing from Montreal and Hull interests, to build a mate for the Lady Colbourne to ply the Chats Lake. This ship opened up the Upper Pontiac and especially Clarendon and Litchfield which had used an Onslow port up to this time. The other medium of transport mostly to Richmond area where many of the early Pontiac residents first settled.

The Buchanan brothers with the help from the builders of the Lady Colborne built a ship at Arnprior. This ship was slightly smaller than her sister ship the Lady Colborne, but it was an improvement in nearly every way. It was said at the time that this ship was built to be ocean-going during this era.

D. Cowley was the steward of the George Buchanan during its early days and through the time of the rebellion in Upper and Lower Canada, 1837-38. He then became captain. In the meantime Andrew Buchannan died and George was drowned in the Ragged Chute near Fitzroy Harbour.

Captain Cowley became famous for navigating the slick ship over the Cheneau (Snow) rapids. There were times when neither him nor Captain Richards could get the ship up the rapids and these were some of the verbal tales that Ned O'Hagan sent back to the ailing Captain Grant.

Around 1840-41 Captain Cowley joined hands and finances with the Craig Company and purchased George Buchannan.

They had trouble from the start, but they made twice weekly stops along the river at Arnprior, Braeside, Sand Point, Norway Bay, Clarendon, Castleford and anywhere passengers or supplies were destined for up to Portage du Fort.

Captain Cowley saw a ship that had been sunk, raised and getting old, together with an energetic company building steel skinned ships and a modern horse railway bridging the gap between Lake Deschenes and Chats Lake, so he sold out the old company and became a minor director of the new company.

Fort-Coulonge receives grant for centennial

Mr Barry Moore, (right) MP for Pontiac Gatineau Labelle presents a $2000 cheque to Fort-Coulonge Mayor, Hector Soucie.

by Denise Belec

Mr Barry Moore, MP for Pontiac Gatineau Labelle was in Fort-Coulonge on Wenesday, October 7 to present a $2000 grant to Mayor Hector Soucie and the centennial committee.

The centennial committee took the occasion of Mr Moore's visit to mention their request for a $9000 grant for a firework display to be held on opening night of the celebration, December 10.

"I am happy that the federal government is able to assist your efforts in this manner." said Mr Moore.

Funding will be utilized primarily for the production of a souvenir calendar and a permanent commemorative plaque for the inauguration of Centennial Park.

On hand to accept the cheque from Mr Moore were Mayor Hector Soucie, and counsellors Lucienne Roy and Claire Benoit, as well as Carl Dubé and Benoit Paré who are both in charge of the centennial calendar. The calendar should be launched in November and will contain photographs depicting the history of Fort-Coulonge. It will also serve as a guide for the activities to be held during centennial year.

New alert system for Shawville Fire Department

Have you wondered lately why you don't hear the Fire Siren anymore? Unfortunately it is not because of fewer fires. In keeping with the times, the Shawville Fire Department has gone to a different system to alert the fire fighters.

How does the fire alert system work?

There are eight fire phones located throughout the town. When someone calls 647-2239 the phones all ring simultaneously, somewhat like a party line. On receiving the fire call, the person answering would activate a switch causing the fire siren to blow.

The new system still uses the eight fire phones, but from there the alert system is different. The person answering the fire phone will take all the information required. They then take their own personal phone and dial a special number. This number activates the 18 pagers worn by the fire fighters. After a series of tones, they broadcast all the information they have received such as the exact location, neighbours, and type of fire. After they have given all the information, they hang up, redial and repeat the message. This is to clarify any misunderstandings and to make absolutely sure that every fire fighter received the message. The pager system is supported by a battery power supply in case of hydro failure.

How often does the fire phone ring?

The fire department answers between 30 to 35 serious fires every year. The fire phone rings almost every day and up to 5 times a day. These calls can range from wrong numbers, someone "having fun", to a city news reporter wanting information on an accident somewhere in the Pontiac.

Does this cause problems?

What the caller has done is to cause eight people to drop what they are doing and rush to answer the phone. As soon as they say, "Shawville Fire Department" they get a receiver hung up in their ear, or even worse a person at the other end, who realizes they have dialed a wrong number but doesn't say anything. "This situation leaves us with a terrible feeling, is it a fire? Did the person collapse from smoke? It can leave you with a very funny feeling to say the least!"

Another problem that is still more serious, is that when the fire phone is tied up with this type of "nuisance call" what if someone was trying to call in a real emergency?

Who answers the fire phones?

The fire phones are located at the homes of Roy Thoms, Neil Sharpe, Bill Black, John Hodgins, Allan Black, Brian Judd, Piries' Gas Bar and at the Fire Station. If a fire fighter is present he will usually take the call. But in most cases, he is at work and the calls are answered by their wives. These ladies do a job for their community that is beyond measure, and in many cases without a "special thanks" that is certainly due by everyone!

Will the fire siren not be used anymore?

The fire siren is still in use but in a different capacity. It is now used for a fire alarm system between the Community Center and the fire station itself. In both of the buildings there is a sprinker system that can combat a fire in its early stages. The system was installed a few years ago in the arena by the Municipality of Shawville. The sprinkler system was installed in the fire station shortly after a fire destroyed the town office and fire station in Fort-Coulonge.

In both places, the second the sprinkler system is activated, an electric control switch will automatically cause the siren to blow. This way the fire fighters will know on arrival at the fire station that if the fire is not there it is at the arena.

par Denise Belec

Lors de sa première réunion tenue le 6 octobre dernier, le conseil d'administration du Patro Fort-Coulonge/Mansfield a établi certaine priorité pour mettre en marche la corporation. Good posture pays health dividends

We spend approximately one third of our lives in bed, so proper posture during sleep is essential to maintaining a healthy back. It is advised that you sleep either on your side in fetal position or on your back with a good pillow to support the neck and a firm mattress.

Do not sleep on your stomach – this increases the forward curvature of the low back and can often cause pain by jamming pain sensitive joints together. The neck is forced sideways into a compromising position which may irrate delicate tissues.

A special cervical pillow is often recommended to provide adequate support for the neck curvature and reduce stress. You can inquire about these special cervical pillows by contacting any chiropractic clinic.

October is arthritis month

St John the Evangelist CWL of Campbell's Bay hosted an arthristis information evening on September 29, 1987, at the Pontiac Lions hall. The guest speaker was Dr Oleg Zadarozny of Hull, a specialist in the field of arthritis. Also accompanying Dr Zadarozny was Mr Guy Perron, field representative for the Sociaeties' Eastern Region. After brief introductions by Mrs Sheila Lawn, co-ordinator of the Campbell's Bay Arthritis Drive for the past four years, Dr Zadarozny delivered his lecture outlining the many different kinds of arthritis and the treatments presently available.

A slide presentation accompanying the lecture graphically illustrated the physically debilitating characteristics of this disease, which affects more children in Canada than does diabetes. A question and answer period followed the slide presentation. Mrs. Sheila Lawn and Mrs Sophie Ringrose extended a gracious thank-you to Dr Zadarozny, Mr Perron and the Pontiac Lions Club for making the evening possible. Cake and coffee were then served by the CWL ladies. Further information on arthritis may be obtained by writing to the Arthritis Society at 109 Wright St, Hull QC or by calling 777-2373. Quyon . . .

by Ada Daley

Stella and Stan Scott celebrated Thanksgiving with Rev Father Scott celebrating Mass in their home. Father explained the various parts of the Mass and said he once was in Rome and said Mass in the Catacombs where the first mass was ever celebrated. The Scotts had their family, grandchildren and some of the aunts present for over this lovely celebration.

Eleanor Foran was presented with a plaque from the parishioners of the French laity. She was organist for them for the past several years.

The senior citizens (or should I say the card-players) from the Upper School all went by bus to Granby, Quebec, and enjoyed the trip immensely. The Curleys were along and played music as they travelled.

Danny Gavan is home holidaying with his parents, Lennox and Margaret Gavan of Quyon and also his sisters and brothers. Danny is living in Yellowknife, Northwest Territories and has been away for three years. He will be around for a couple of weeks. Welcome back Danny.

Billy Foran and his girlfriend are home from Edmonton, Alberta, visiting with Clem and Joan and family. Birthday greetings to Joan.

The Army-Navy Base was a jammed-full place last Saturday evening, October 3rd when the Pontiac Connection entertained. A bus load of music-minded folks left Quyon at 7 to listen to the talent.

Dennis Poirier was Master of Ceremonies and he kept the crowd in a happy mood with his jokes and comedy.

Some of the entertainers were Joe Teevans, Dominic and Louella Curley, Andy Lusk, Cal Cummings Jr, Reg Young, Charlie Muldoon, Lorne Daley, Jackie Salmon and Gail Gavan.

Sympathy is expressed to the Joanisse Family. Marcel Joanisse died in Ottawa hospital at the age of 64 years. He worked for the OTC Transport for 45 years. He leaves to mourn his wife Gabrielle Boisvert and two children, André and Micheline. He is a brother-in-law of Gayle (Daley) Lariviere. Burial was from Kelly's Funeral Home and St Francis of Assisi Church on Saturday, October 10th, with cremation to follow.

The christening of little Jesse Robert Thomas Daley, son of Veronica and Mark Daley, took place in St Mary's Church. Fr. Garry Cain performed the baptismal services. Over forty-five family and friends came. The dinner was served at the Legion in Quyon. It was a lovely affair. Randy Daley and Dawn Findlay were the godparents.

Mrs Mel Daley and Randy came from Burlington as well as Angea Coyle and Samantha Pratt. Helen and Lloyd Palmer came from London, Grannie Pearl McRae from Ottaw, Ken and Millie Daley, Urbie and Diane Daley, Lorraine and Steve Mayhew, Donna Hodgins, Chad and Kerri, Lornie and Pat Daley, Tracy Finlan and Nancy Leach, Aggie and Ron Finlan, Jimmy and Joanne Daley and great-grandparents, Francis and Ada Daley.

Wendy Desabrais sang "The Rose" and "Welcome to My World" for this occasion.

Canada Pension survivor benefits

Barry Moore, M.P., Pontiac- Gatineau- Labelle, confirmed that Health and Welfare Minister Jack Epp tabled in the House of Commons a Consultation Paper on the reform of survivor benefits under the Canada Pension Plan (CPP).

Society has changed greatly since the CPP began in 1966. Today twice as many families with pre-schoolers depend on the earnings of both spouses to meet their basic needs. And there are more single parent and blended families.

"We must now look again at how best to protect families against the sudden loss of earning due to the death of a wage earner", the Minister said.

On February 26, 1985, the Standing Committee on Justice and Legal Affairs was ordered to review federal statutes to ensure their conformity with the letter and spirit of equality and non-discrimination guarantees in the Charter. In its report, Equality for All, the Committee recommended that benefits under the CPP be awarded without reference to disability, age or family status.

The result of extensive federal-provincial discussions during the past year, the Consultation Paper proposes a new benefit structure with the following major components:

A higher monthly benefit payable to all surviving spouses under age 65 for at least five years following a CPP contributor's death; a transfer of a portion of the deceased spouse's CPP credits, to enrich the survivor's future CPP entitlements and to replace existing survivor benefits payable after age 65; increases in children's benefits.

The new structure would be phased in over several decades as younger Canadians became survivors. Benefits payable under the existing structure would be increased and would no longer be subject to limitations regarding age, disability or family status.

"We want to hear from you, the Canadian public, what you think about these proposals," Mr Epp said, "That's why we're beginning with a consultation paper instead of formal proposals for changes in the law. With your input, we'll be able to offer the best plan to meet your needs."

Mr Epp explained that the measures outlined in the Consultation Paper were designed to complement measures already introduced under Bill C-116 which amended the CPP effective January 1, 1987, and included improvements in survivor and children's benefits.

Any future amendments to the CPP will require the approval of both federal and provincial governments.

Mr Moore encourages constituents to express their views on the Paper by writing to the Standing Committee on National Health and Welfare, House of Commons, Ottawa, K1A OA6.

Copies of the Consultation Paper may be obtained from the Communications Directorate, Department of National Health and Welfare, 5th Floor, Brooke Claxton Building, Tunney's Pasture, Ottawa, K1A 0K9, or by calling 957-2991.

Obituary

Hugh William Horner

Hugh William Horner died September 14, 1987, at St Joseph's General Hospital, Elliot Lake, Ontario, in his 72nd year after a short illness.

Born in Moss Side, Count Antrim, Northern Ireland, he came to Canada with his parents, the late James Horner and Elizabeth McCaughan and his brothers and sisters in May 1927.

He is survived by his wife Wilma (Toye), son Ralph and wife Linda of Ottawa; daughter Sylvia (Mrs Gil Lafleur) of Elliot Lake; six grandchildren and one great-grandson. Also surviving are three sisters, Mary (Mrs Max Ennis) of Englhart; Rebecca (Mrs Cyrus Johnson) of Kirkland Lake; Dorthy (Mrs Sydney Surtees) of Charlton, Ont; two brothers, Sam and wife Gladys (Harvey) of Terrace, B.C. and Jim and wife Gladys (Davis) of Quyon, Quebec. He will be sadly missed by many nieces and nephews.

Hugh worked in the mining field, in Duparquet, Quebec, and Kirkland Lake, Ontario and in 1956 he moved to Elliot Lake where he worked for Rio Algom as hoisting engineer and shaft inspector until his retirement in June 1981.

A private funeral was held in the chapel of Menard Funeral Home, under the direction of Rev David Whiston, minister of Holy Trinity United Church, Elliot Lake, Ontario. Cremation followed this service.

For many years, Hugh and his wife, Wilma, spent part of his annual vacation on the Horner Farm at Quyon and enjoyed attending the activities of the fall agricultural fairs in the area.

He will be sadly missed by Jim and his family of Quyon.

Your leaving has left a huge void that is very hard to fill. Your hardwork is all around us as a constant reminder of your many years of hard work and suffering. Rest assured that it was not all in vain. A little bit of you remains in all of us to guide us on our way. We comfort ourselves with the thought that your soul will continue to grow. Mr Moss inquired as to the next steps to be taken by council, as to the problem of the overgrowth of weeds in Farm Lake. Council informed the residents that the municipal office will obtain more information, and try and schedule a meeting with the residents and the department of environment. The residents feel the pollution is creating the overgrowth of weeds in the lake.

Council also reminded the visitors, that a previous answer received from the Department of Environment was that an association had to be formed by the residents surrounding the lake, and that the association should contact the department of environment. A petition was received concerning the problem on Farm Lake. The Municipal office will forward copies of this petition along with a letter, explaining the situation on Farm Lake, to our members of Parliament, Mr Robert Middlemiss, and Mr Barry Moore.

Muldoon reunion held in Quyon

The family of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Muldoon held a reunion of the clan on August 1st and 2nd in Quyon. All nine family members, plus their children and grandchildren attended.

The reunion started on Friday at Stan and Stella Scott's home, where a turkey dinner was enjoyed by the immediate family.

Saturday visits were made to the cemetery to pay respects to Mom and Dad, and to the old homestead in Beechgrove, where the family was raised (now the home of Eddie and Nancy Scott). Many changes and improvements have been made to the old place.

All attended a Thanksgiving Mass for their parents, John and Mary, celebrated by Father Cain.

Later in the evening, everyone gathered at Gavan's Hotel lounge, where the cousins became better acquainted, and a good time was had by all.

Sunday afternoon, the Quyon Lions Club allowed the use of the Beach Barn, where everything needed for entertainment was provided.

This special event will long be remembered in the hearts of the participants as a renewal of harmony among all the members of the Muldoon family.

Muldoon reunion at Dunrobin

Close to two-hundred relatives gathered at Clearview Farm, the home of Eileen and Stu Carroll, at Dunrobin, Ont., on August 1st and 2nd, for a reunion of the Muldoon family. These were the descendants of Urban Muldoon, brother of John Muldoon of the Quebec lineage.

Hayrides, children's games, and a horseshoe tournament filled the daytime activities. A large tent with a stage was set up for celebration of Evening Mass, conducted by Fr. LeClare of Ottawa.

On Saturday night, this space was allocated to entertainment. The dance floor was always full, with music supplied by Mick Armitage and band, featuring Gail Gavan. Sunday night saw the tent filled for skits and a sing-along.

Later on, Master of Ceremonies Charles Muldoon called upon each of the clan to recall memories of their days on the farm. Hostess Eileen Carroll expressed her gratitude to all for making the reunion such a successful occasion.

SOCIAL NOTES

Caldwell . . .

by Hermonie Sharpe

Saturday, October 11, didn't look like a very promising day, but it didn't stop the senior citizens of Bristol and their friends from taking their bus trip to Gananoque. When we arrived it was time for lunch so we ate at the restaurant facing over the river and then had time to brouse around the souvenir shop, which is part of the restaurant. By the time we were ready to take the three-hour boat trip on a Triple-Decker. Everyone was in high spirits as the sun decided to shine and as the boat was heated, we had one of the most wonderful trips, listening to the announcer telling us the history of the islands and watching other boats passing and waving to us. It was a trip we and our friends who accompanied us, won't forget for a good while. One lady on the boat trip said this was her seventh and she was so glad to be able to repeat it again. As for myself, I could go again even though it was the second time I had gone. On our way home we stopped for a lovely dinner, arriving home about 9 p.m. Our bus driver was really courteous to us all and made sure everyone got on and off the bus safely. Congratulations to all who made this possible for us and hope to meet you again on Wednesday night at the Bristol Townhall to enjoy another evening out.

Our deepest sympathy goes out to the friends and relatives of Marion (Lester) Dale who passed away this past weekend. Marion was the only child of the late Mr and Mrs Jack Lester and went to Shawville school with many of us from around here.

Visiting with us over the Thanksgiving weekend were Mrs Connie McGee and children Natasha and James of Osgoode, Tom Sharpe who is home for the holiday from Trent University and Kim Sharpe from Queen's University in Kingston and Corey Sharpe from Shawville. In another week Kim will be home to teach for two weeks in Renfrew and then back to Queen's.

Miss Elka Wittig of Ottawa spent the weekend with her parents and family, the George Wittigs.

We are talking to Don and Joanne Sharpe from Manitouwadge where they have had snow already. Guess we'll be next. I have my knitting needles out busy at it as it is the only time of the year I take the knitting fever.

We are so glad to hear that Leonard Roy is doing so well in the Civic Hospital. Keep your chin up Leonard. One of these days, they will have the repairing at the Shawville hospital finished and you'll be able to be back in this part of the country.

THE EQUITY sure travels all over our country as well as elsewhere. A lady by the name of Caldwell wrote to our Mayor requesting more information on not only Caldwell but the people it was named after. If she receives this edition, as she lives at Percé, Quebec, she can rest assured that Flora (Caldwell) Tracy and myself are going to help the Mayor to get what information she is looking for as soon as possible. In fact, we are planning to work on it this week.

I heard that Stark's Corners has started its Euchre parties on a Monday night. If my information isn't correct, I would appreciate a call.

I hope everyone has noticed the beautiful fall colours. It was always this time of year when our teachers had us gathering the different leaves and pasting them in a scribbler for nature study. One lady I visited last night had two beautiful rose buds which she had picked this time of year from one of her rose bushes. Nature does give us some surprises sometime.

Attending the 25th anniversary of Mr and Mrs Howard Orr were Mrs Gordon Orr, Mr and Mrs Bill Orr, Mr and Mrs Cecil Orr, Mrs Garnet Orr, and Mr and Mrs Doug Corrigan, all from Shawville; Mr and Mrs Ivan Orr and Mr and Mrs Basil Orr from Caldwell. Also attending, from Port Colbourne were Mrs Lottie Doherty and her daughters, Laura and Lisa; Mr and Mrs Donnie Doherty from Waterloo and Mr and Mrs Reuben Orr from Mississauga. Congratulations from your Caldwell friends.

Visiting with Ivan and Raeburn Orr are Mr Tom Glenn and daughter, Mrs Joan Chevrier of Chelmsford.

Mr Donald Telford of Ottawa spent Thanksgiving at the "Broken Spoke" at Weirstead where he and his friends enjoyed a partridge Thanskgiving dinner.

Waltham . . .

In last week's column, the item about the Wesleyan Church 60th anniversary should also have included with the ministers serving at the church the names of Willis Mach, J H Weaver;, R N Kierstead, and Brian Baker. Many people attended the function from Ottawa.

Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Women's League, Waltham, held its October meeting on Wednesday, October 7th, in the church hall, following celebration of the Eucharist by the Director, Rev Thos Fitzpatrick. Mrs Jean Adams, Diocesan President and seven members were in attendance. The roll was called by Mrs Reina Gagnon in the absence of the membership convenor.

One get-well card was sent to a sick member.

The meeting was published in the Church Bulletin and The Equity.

Masses will be celebrated in November for the deceased of the parish and War Veterans.

The Remembrance Day celebration will consist of a Mass on the Saturday evening before the 11th when the Mayor, Gerald Dempsey, will ask for a moment's silence and the reading of Flander's Field. There will be music and singing by the choir and a reading by Rev Roger McElwain. Wreaths will be placed at the foot of the altar and the Canadian Flag will be placed in the Sanctuary. There will be a light lunch following Mass.

Thanksgiving will be celebrated on Sunday at the Children's Mass. The Sanctuary will be decorated for both Saturday and Sunday masses with the fruits of the earth, etc.

Mrs Adams was present to give the details for the special Celebration of the Feast of the Immaculate Conception on December 8th at the Cathedral in Pembroke, where all Parish CWL Councils are invited to attend and take part in the program. Mrs Adams was thanked by the President, Mrs Dempsey, who presented her with a small gift in appreciation.

Father Fitzpatrick read from Pope Jean Paul II's letter on Mary, Mother of the Redeemer of the church and every christian. Her highest role is at the foot of the cross for us as disciples and particularly mothers. We need her as a model and we in turn should be models in the church.

Following adjournment, prayers were recited for the sick of the parish along with the Angelus.

A social hour was enjoyed. Mrs Reina Gagnon and Helen Perry were convenors for the lunch.

Campbell's Bay . . .

Dale Stephens spent a day with her sister and husband, Mr and Mrs Roger McElwain in Waltham.

The residents of St Joseph's Manor who were able went on a bus trip around Calumet Island last Monday. They were delighted to see the trees in their best color at this time of year. A nice change for them. Hopefully it will be a regular item on the agenda – i.e. short trips for those who are mobile.

Mr and Mrs Michael Bertrand and Kyle of Ottawa visited their parents, Mr and Mrs Hawley Frost and Mr and Mrs Eugene Bertrand.

Mr and Mrs Jean Videto and girls of Ottawa were at their cottage at Lawless Lake. They also attended a family dinner at Bob and Lois Smith's.

Nellis and Norma Stewart returned after a holiday in the West. They visited Sask., Alberta and North West Territories. They visited with their daughter, Donna and husband Jack Stewart and family son Jim and his wife Beccy in Edmonton; Amber Davis at Great Slave Lake and Norma's old hometown in Semans, Sask. An enjoyable trip all around.

Mrs Hilda Bowman returned this past week from a trip to West Germany where she visited with her brother, Herbert and his wife. She reports having a good time but like most other people she is glad to be home.

Congratulations to Norm and Rita Holmes who celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary this past week.

Lucy and Paul Leblanc of Ottawa spent the weekend at their cottage at Lawless Lake.

Al, Holly and Jessica Ladouceur, and Neil and Laurie Videto spent the weekend at their cottage at Lawless Lake.

Mr and Mrs Tim McShane of Lawless Lake left for their winter home in Florida on Friday.

A birthday party was held to honor Thomas Shea at Bobby Ringrose's on the weekend. Many of his family attended. He was 76 years old. We wish him health and happiness for the forthcoming year.
