P. J. McAndrews Succeeds A. A. Boire As President

Westmount Rotary Club weekly luncheon on Wednesday saw the addition of another Past President to an already long list of Past Presidents as A. A. Boire handed over the keys to the incoming President, P. J. McAndrews.

Past President A. Callard officiated in the chair and welcomed Percy Jarman to his first luncheon following his recent accident.

Retiring President Boire gave a report of his year in office including reports from the following committees; Programme, Fellowship, Crippled Children, Unity Club, Youth Service, Interclub, Membership, Attendance, Public Relations and the House Committee.

Speaking highly of the support given him by the members during his term of office, Mr. Boire called on the members to give the same support and co-operation to the new President, McAndrews, and pledged his own personal support.

A. Callard presented Mr. Boire with his Past President's badge and a travelling bag from the members. Speaking to Mr. Boire, Mr. Callard said, "you have now joined the band of elder statesmen and it has been said there is nothing so past as a Past President," but he went on to state that none of their members had been so co-operative and helpful as the past presidents.

The incoming President P. J. McAndrews came into office with his sleeves literally rolled up, and stated, "I will not misplace the trust and confidence that you members have placed in me."

Mr. McAndrews asked the members for their 100% co-operation and said that if that was forthcoming, this year would be a better one for Rotary than any to date in spite of the excellent records of the other years.

Recreation Unit Inaugurates "Music Nights"

"Music nights" will be held each Thursday evening during the summer at Westmount Park it has been announced by the recreation division of the Westmount Parks Department. The event will take the form of recordings and broadcast through a loudspeaker system.

The first program will start this Thursday evening July 4 when the "Hot Jazz Club" will sponsor a program of jazz recordings. According to Arnaud Maggs, secretary of the club, the program will be varied with many numbers planned for the entertainment of the crowd and on top of this, some records will be of a "serious" nature with interpretations.

This will be the first time anything along these lines have been attempted in Westmount although the Music Appreciation Group sponsor concerts during the winter months at the Library. The Music Appreciation Group, incidentally, have been asked to supply the music for the second program on Thursday, July 11.

The intention is to have each Thursday night devoted to a certain type of music such as Scotch, Irish, French - Canadian, light opera, etc. With this in mind, residents with records of this type are asked to let Recreation Supervisor Jim McCormick know if they would be willing to lend them out for an evening. McCormick may be reached at FI.1929. All concerts in July will start at nine o'clock and be approximately an hour of duration.

APPOINTED CHAIRMAN

R. V. Macaulay, 727 Roslyn Avenue, vice president in charge of engineering of the Bell Telephone Company of Canada, who has just been appointed chairman of the Trans-Canada Telephone System, succeeding P. A. McFarlane, 637 Sydenham Avenue.

This system embodies all seven of the major telephone organizations across the Dominion.

New Citizens From Overseas

Dependents of Westmount service men listed as arriving in Canada aboard the SS "Lady Nelson" approximately June 29th are as follows:—

Joan Griffiths, wife of S/Sgt. I. Griffiths, 4334 St. Catherine Street, W.; Joan E. Scott, wife of L/Cpl. H. E. Scott, 55 Somerville Avenue, and Geoffrey C., age 2 months; and Daisy Dalling, wife of WO2 J. Dalling, 355 Prince Albert Avenue.

GEORGE WARNER, 38 DRAWS SENTENCE FOR INDECENT EXPOSURE

Wednesday, June 12th, Detectives Wylie and Bunclark, arrested for indecent exposure in a lane off Selby Street, a man who gave his name as George Warner, 38 years of age.

On June 21st, this man appeared before Recorder C. A. Hale, and was found guilty on two counts, and fined $25, plus costs, or one month in jail.

Tailor 'Blamed' For Idea That 'Blossomed' Clothes

If your stock of old clothing is depleted, and you still feel that you would like to do more to help the needy people of war ravaged lands, the story of this Westmounter may solve your problem.

A Westmount business man brought a considerable quantity of old and new articles to the Clothing Drive Headquarters in Victoria Hall and when asked, "How Come?" he said:

"Anyway I blame my tailor for

Wednesday Night Singings Offer Amateurs Chance

Singsongs, a wartime casualty in Westmount, will be resumed on Wednesday night at Westmount Park. The site of the program will be the Ravine Pond in Westmount Park. This "natural theatre" atmosphere will be used to the fullest extent this year.

Each Wednesday night from now until the end of August, it is hoped to hold a singsong. Variety entertainment will also be offered, and all local talent wishing to go on these shows are asked either to contact Recreation Supervisor Jim McCormick at the office in the greenhouse, or at FI. 1929, or Pete Farrell, who will probably be in charge of the entertainment end of the show, at WE. 5161. All sorts of talent is needed, vocalists, those who can play musical instruments, tap dancers and anything along these lines.

The singsong part of the programme will be supervised by Johnny Walker, well known song leader, and former radio artist. Walker is one of the leaders at the famous N.D.G. 'Y' "Bonfire Theatre."

The singsong will begin at nine o'clock each Wednesday night, and persons attending the affair, are asked to seat themselves on the bank of the pond across from the comfort station. While nothing sensational is promised for the first few performances, it is hoped to build the event up into an entertaining feature.

Westmount Children To Conduct Canvass

The youngsters on the Westmount playgrounds will be waging a campaign of their own this coming week, a campaign to publicize the work accomplished on the local playgrounds and the facilities offered local boys and girls. This will all be part of what is to be known officially as a "KNOW YOUR PLAYGROUND WEEK."

One of the features of the campaign will be a personal canvass by the youngsters themselves of the local residents whereby information will be sought as to the number of boys and girls in Westmount using the playgrounds, those not using the playgrounds and the reason why. It is felt that many parents are not aware of the program offered on the local playgrounds, namely Westmount Park, Staynor and Prince Albert.

Boys and girls will be allocated to streets adjacent to their own playground and will make calls at the houses with a card explaining the canvass and an accompanying questionnaire, and residents are asked to co-operate in filling out the questionnaire. Local residents are asked to the idea. I took him an old suit to fix for overseas and he made such a good job of it he advised me to keep the suit and give some money to the clothing drive, but I went him one better. I had intended to buy two suits so I told him I'd only buy one and use the rest of the money to buy shoes.

"At his suggestion I approached one of the big repair outfits, where he had stated I could get 100 pairs for $100. The repair store was more than co-operative and as they hadn't that many pairs I picked up more elsewhere. These shoes were all repaired, full soles, half soles, heel and

Westmount Highlights

BY GEORGE COCHRANE

So another school year has come to an end for the happy, carefree denizens of the little school below the police station. It has, on the whole, been a pretty good year for just about everyone if you except the realm of boys' athletics. The Purple and White was a rip-roaring success that producers John Clennel Dickins and Arthur Aurel Voronka, who are both returning to school come September, will have a mighty hard time eclipsing next year. For the second straight year the inter-school debating team finished second. The muscular femora of the building snaffled up more than their share of inter-school championships.

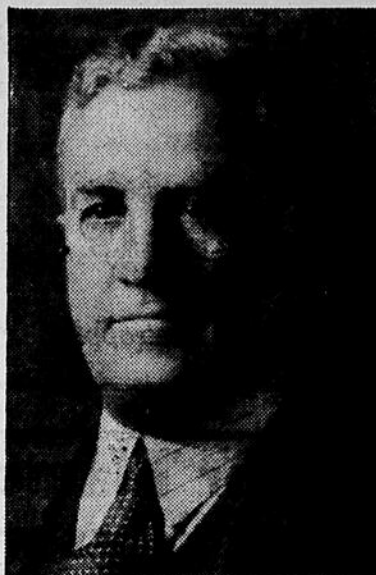

Ah, yes, Murgatroyd, it's been a mighty fine year. And it got a mighty fine send-off at Belmont Park Tuesday night when the gang threw off examination worries and really celebrated. The wind-up was at Arnaud Maggs' Grey Avenue mansion — open house.

And now the WHS mob, as swell a conglomeration of guys and gals as you'll find anywhere, will be scattering far and wide and won't be reunited until those bright green leaves adopt their auburn hues in September. Bon voyage, peoples.

RANDOM NOTES

Bill Hanington, the sturdy 12a student who was one of the singing stars of the Purple and White Revue '46, left last night by train for Calgary, Alberta. From there he'll travel to Edmonton and thence to a beaver farm. Willie's going to look after beavers . . . He asked us to extend to all his Westmount pals and fans to whom he did not personally say adieu. . . It's so-long from Bill Hanington, a good guy, to his cronies.

John Joseph Junior Pepper, the ex-WHS'er now attending Loyola College, still hasn't fully recovered from the disappointment he suffered Tuesday. Seems as if a certain someone telephoned the drum-playing fourth of the Westmount Four on Monday with an offer to play for an orchestra this summer at the Royal Connaught Hotel in Hamilton, Ont. The rate of pay: $60 per week plus room and board free. Junior was stunned by the offer but turned it down because he's taking two summer courses out at Loyola. . . John was talking to the Dean and mentioned the Royal Connaught offer to him. Quoth the Dean, "You can't let an opportunity like that slip by." And he fixed it up so that Junior could study by himself this summer and write the exams when he returned in the fall. . . John Joseph phoned the man who had made him the offer, told him that he'd be able to take the job. . . "Sorry," was the reply, "I've just signed up another man" . . . A bit of tough luck for the short, ever-smiling owner of Astrophel.

Outdoor Opera Superb Cast

No opera in the repertory is more popular and beloved by the people than La Boheme, which Montreal Festivals have chosen for their first excursion into outdoor opera. Puccini's celebrated work is to be given at the Molson Stadium on Wednesday, July 10, with full Metropolitan cast, starring Grace Moore and an exact replica of the production seen and heard regularly at the great opera house in New York City.

La Boheme is fifty years old, having had its premiere in Turin on February 1, 1896. It was first heard on this continent in San Francisco two months later, reaching the Metropolitan on December 16, 1900, since when it has been sung nearly 300 times, a record surpassed only by Aida, Faust, Carmen and Lohengrin, all of which are much older works.

The gay, irresponsible people Puccini and his librettists took from Henri Murger's novel of the Paris Latin Quarter, the pathos of the love of the poet Rodolfo and the little seamstress, Mimì, the unforgettable street scenes of the second and third acts, these and Puccini's melodious and highly personal music are felt to be mainly responsible for the extraordinary appeal of the work.

The music is probably as well known as any written for the lyric stage. It includes such favorites as Rodolfo's "Your Little Hand is Cold," Mimì's "I am Called Mimì," the duet of the

The list of guests on this happy occasion reads like a collection of all the most illustrious names in New France at this period. The costumes both of the ladies and the gentlemen were at this period picturesque, and of lovely materials. Laces, and fans, embroidery, satins and velvets were the order of the day and the customs and costumes of the French court were echoed faithfully in New France.

The marriage contract was read in due order, and included a description of the possessions of the husband, of the wedding presents, and of the dowry of the wife. At the conclusion of the reading, all the eighty guests present were invited, if they so desired, to sign the contract after the husband and wife. Music followed these formalities and dancing was carried on. Meanwhile tables were spread in the dining room, and the most pressing problem became the order of precedence of the distinguished guests when seating them at the table.

This happy ceremony, an example of the social gatherings which the de Ramezay's held in their home, should be followed by "and they lived happily ever after". However, Louise-Geneviève's husband died in 1736, and she retired to l'Hospital-Général in Quebec, dying there in 1769.

Carlton Moody and Eddie Smith; Toymaker Badge, Milton Dorman (also absent). Then followed the chief award of the evening, Mr. F. H. Newman's trophy for the Cub showing the best all-round sportsmanship during the season, Charles Ancrum, sixer of the Grey Six, received the award from Mr. Newman and all agreed that the right lad had received the trophy. Charles was adjudged the boy showing the best co-operation and sportsmanship in everything the Pack undertook to do.

Five children were born of the marriage, and the fact that one of her daughters married the son of Madeleine de Verchères is of interest.

Marie-Angéline, next in age to Louise-Geneviève, did not marry and became a king's pensioner while François died at the age of two months, as did a little sister, Françoise-Ursule.

Françoise-Louise, who was born after these children, remained unmarried, and of her remarkable achievements as a business woman we shall learn later. Marie-Elizabeth, next in age, married a lieutenant in the army, Louis de la Corne, Sieur de Chapoy. Later her husband became a captain, chevalier de Saint-Louis, and the Seigneur de Terrebonne. He died at his seigneurie in 1780 and Marie-Elizabeth, his widow, retired to the Grey Nuns in Montreal where she died in 1780. There were seven children born of this marriage.

The son next in age to Marie-Elizabeth, actually was the one to carry on the family name, before considering his career we shall trace his father's to its close. A little sister, Marie-Marguerite Louise, was the last of the children, and died at the age of three months.

Claude de Ramezay, father of this considerable family, and Governor of Montreal, had risen to this position owing to his prowess in fighting and his definite organizing ability. His military career in fact earned him the "croix de Saint-Louis" in 1703 in recognition of his success, but so closely did his career parallel Vaudreuil's, that the friction seems to be inevitable as a result of the rivalry between the friends.

Each of these fine and capable men, one as a Governor of New France, and the other as Governor of Montreal, complained about the other in his annual reports to France. It does not appear that Vaudreuil's complaints damaged M. de Ramezay's standing, for in 1708 he received the Seigneurie of . . .

BOYS' BRIGADE 1st CO. NEWS

A few of the officers spent part of the week-end making elaborate preparations for a bumper camp. The wharf, raft, waterfront have all been put into first class shape, ready to receive the campers and let them get off to a good swim immediately upon their arrival at camp.

Captain J. Howard Richardson will command the camp and this year Lieut. Robert Morrow will be in full charge of the waterfront, as well as instructor in handcraft and conductor of special features. Lieut. Alex Upham will be camp Registrar as well as being in charge of the bank and special camp-fire features. Capt. Conway Prindiville of the 6th Company will conduct some very interesting classes in photography as well as wireless and telegraphy, utilizing much of the interesting equipment recently procured by the Company on loan. Lieuts. Sam Hallam and Arthur Campbell will be able to attend during the week-ends and will conduct the Saturday evening camp-fire programs. Rev. C. A. Selby, former Dominion president of the Boys' Brigade will be in complete charge of the senior camp.

This year, for the first time, a number of Life Boys will attend during the first week. It will be the first experience for most of them in camping, but their enthusiasm knows no bounds, and due preparation has been made for them to get the most out of their week's stay with the 1st Company.

John Gillingham was awarded his stripe, elevating him to the rank of Lance-Corporal, last Friday evening at the Company's supper meeting. A very inspiring chat was given by Rev. A. J. Mowatt on the duties of a Chaplain overseas. The camp committee met at the close of the meeting and laid plans for utilizing to the fullest a number of useful articles of equipment recently acquired from a number of interested friends of the unit.

RETIRING CHAIRMAN

P. A. McFarlane, 637 Sydenham Avenue, operating vice president of the Bell Telephone Company who was recently succeeded by R. V. Macaulay, as chairman of the Trans-Canada Telephone System.

Mr. McFarlane has been chairman of the System since its inception more than 15 years ago.

P. F. Sise Was Dinner Speaker

P. F. Sise, 1266 Redpath Crescent, President of the Northern Electric Company speaking at the annual reunion dinner of the Northern Electric Council of the Charles Fleetford Sise Chapter, Telephone Pioneers of America, held recently in the Mount Royal Hotel stated that "there is more money available in Canada than ever before and, consequently, the demand for goods and services is enormous, but as the situation stands at the moment, it is going to take industry many months to catch up with the demand."

Mr. Sise said the large number of post-war strikes in Canada and the United States has very seriously retarded the supply of raw materials, and production is going to be seriously affected unless the supply of raw material is resumed much more rapidly than at the present moment seems possible.

F. E. Barkley was in the chair. A. W. Whiting, president of the Charles Fleetford Sise Chapter, was also present.

Entertainment and dancing followed the dinner.

Beer Wednesday?

Legally, beer can be bought in grocery stores in Westmount on July 3rd, but it was learned from reliable sources that the applications for permits to sell beer were only filled out on Tuesday so that it is doubtful if the permits will be received by that date.

Following the referendum held early in June, in which residents of the city approved of permitting grocery stores to sell beer, the by-law was amended by the Westmount City Council on June 13th, and approval of the move was asked of the Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec.

On June 18th, approval was granted and a public notice published to this effect. Fifteen days must elapse before the amendment becomes law, which brings the date to July 3rd.

We all hope a civilian commission will continue development of atomic energy. The military, however, is interested in seeing that the security of the country is not threatened by the misuse of this new weapon. The Army has no intention of attempting to limit scientific research.

POOR TURNOUT OF VOTERS

The recent beer referendum in Westmount was notable in that comparatively few voters took the trouble to cast a ballot. The poor turnout indicated either lack of interest in the subject or disinclination to break the daily routine by going to the trouble to vote. We are inclined to think more people stayed away from the voting booths because it was too much trouble than for lack of interest in the matter, and this is much to be regretted. Our democratic system will only work at its best when the great majority of the people express their wishes with the vote. That is the only way the elected representatives can get a true picture of the feelings of all the people. People who won't take the trouble to vote shouldn't squawk afterward if they don't like the decision of the people who did.

"ABOVE ALL, A CANADIAN"

It is refreshing to hear words of tolerance and good common sense among all the charges and appeals to prejudice that have followed the breakdown of the Dominion-Provincial conference. Answering charges that he had been collaborating with the centralizers of Ottawa to the detriment of Quebec, Hon. Adelard Godbout told a Sherbrooke audience Saturday night: "I am a good resident of this province, but I am above all a Canadian and I will not preach division and isolationism on the pretext of provincial autonomy."

Conditions today are reminiscent of those that prevailed following the execution of Louis Riel, and Mr. Godbout's words are reminiscent of those of Sir Wilfrid Laurier uttered at the unveiling of a Monument to Jacques Cartier on the Plains of Abraham four years after Riel was hanged. Sir Wilfrid Laurier was preceded on the platform by Mr. Mercier, premier of Quebec, who had made a fiery speech in reply to an anti-French outburst by a Mr. D'Alton McCarthy, an Ontario M.P., delivered a few days before. The Canadian political atmosphere was full of trouble.

It would have been easy, and perhaps, to a small mind, profitable to appeal to prejudice on that occasion. But such considerations never swayed Sir Wilfrid.

"We are French-Canadians, but our country is not confined to the territory overshadowed by the citadel of Quebec," he told the gathering, "our country is the whole of what is covered by the British flag on the American continent. Our fellow-countrymen are not only those in whose veins runs the blood of France. They are all those, whatever their race or whatever their language, whom the fortune of war, the chances of fate, or their own choice, have brought among us . . . As far as I am concerned, loudly do I proclaim it, those are my fellow countrymen: I am a Canadian. . . ."

"It is written that the sands of the sea are numbered. It is written that not a sparrow falls without the permission of an eternal Providence, eternally wise. Can we not believe that in that supreme battle fought here, on the Plains of Abraham, when the fate of arms turned against us, can we not believe that it entered into the decrees of Providence that the two races, up to that time enemies, should henceforth live in peace and harmony, and henceforth form one nation."

Making political capital over such issues as provincial autonomy seems pretty small compared with the breadth of vision of men like Sir Wilfrid and Mr. Godbout.

OUR NEW BOND ISSUE

The Minister of Finance announced today in the House of Commons that in response to public demand the Government will offer a new security, the Canada Savings Bond, for purchase this fall. The Canada Savings Bond will replace both the Victory Bond and the War Savings Certificate which were formerly offered as securities designed for the investment of personal savings. The new security will be similar in most details to the Victory Bond. It will be available to the general public through banks, trust companies, and investment dealers although there will be no organized door-to-door campaign as in the past. A payroll savings plan will be available to employers who wish to operate it.

In announcing these peacetime savings facilities, the Minister referred to study that had been given to the subject following the Ninth Victory Loan. It is understood that a survey taken last November showed that a large number of employers representing approximately one million employees were in favour of continuing a payroll savings plan. A second survey indicated that 82% of past buyers of War Savings Certificates and Victory Bonds plan to buy Government securities if available.

Although Mr. Ilsley predicted widespread acceptance of the Canada Savings Bond, he emphasized that the launching of this security could not be considered as another "Victory Loan". "Sales of these bonds are not expected to cover the Government's total borrowing requirements," he said. He indicated that a substantial part of these requirements would be met by public offerings of the usual type at appropriate times. Mr. Ilsley pointed out that for this and other reasons, it was not practicable or desirable to recall the National War Finance Committee to duty or to build up the large organization of salesmen which would be needed for a house-to-house canvass. The initiative for purchasing the Canada Savings Bond will lie, for the most part, with the people themselves.

The Canada Savings Bond will be issued in denominations of $50., $100., $500., and $1,000., and will be redeemable on demand at Chartered Banks at 100% plus interest. While the terms are not yet known, Mr. Ilsley indicated that they would be more favourable than the terms existing for comparable investments at the time of issue. The Canada Savings Bond will therefore be registered as to principal in the name of the holder and a limit will be set on the amount which can be purchased by any individual. "I have no doubt that Canadians will see in the Canada Savings Bond a desirable successor to the Victory Bond," stated Mr. Ilsley. "But it is also important that Canadians see in themselves the successors to the Victory Bond salesmen for they will be responsible in large part for initiative in making their own purchases."

THE FORUM

Conducted by Howard S. Ross, K.C., D.C.L.

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper, and it does not accept responsibility for them.

On the eve of the first General Election held in Russia since 1937, Marshal Stalin announced a new 5-year plan. It calls for the restoration of ruined European Russia, the raising of the standard of living and large-scale research until Soviet scientists not only catch up with, but pass, those abroad. It includes goals for the production of iron, steel, coal and oil in amounts roughly equal to three times the 1941 figure for Russia. This will make Soviet production of these items of military significance approximate to U.S. totals for 1944, their greatest war year. Such an announcement cannot be dismissed as mere pre-election oratory. Previous term plans of this sort have been taken seriously and pursued relentlessly. There is no doubt, so competent observers feel, that this one will determine the direction of Soviet effort for many years. They feel that the direction may change, but as it now stands it indicates that the U.S. S.R. is preparing for war. This shows the importance of Marshal Stalin's warning given in the same speech against the idea that no more war is possible. He claimed that wars arise "as the inevitable result of the development of world economic and political forces on the basis of monopoly capitalism." He pointed out that wars might be avoided if there was "a periodic redistribution of raw materials and markets." He held that this is impossible at present.

move in the war of nerves against which Foreign Secretary Bevin has repeatedly protested. Another answer, so supposedly well known commentators state, is that Soviet leadership is slipping and can keep its hold on the people only by hinting at the possibility of another war.

Perhaps a third reason may be found in the growing stockpile of atomic bombs being piled up in the U.S.A., and in the lack of effective steps toward disarmament, and in the growing tension over the Middle East, where the U.S.A. has just opened a great military air-field in Saudi Arabia.

Leading U.S.A. journals praised their President for his address to his highway safety conference but regretted that he put the blame only on the "traffic incorrigibles, nuts, morons and crazy people" and did not mention one killer who accounts for more injuries than any of those he named, namely, "the drunk and partially drunk driver." One journal stated in part: "It is high time to remind him and others that no safety campaign is worth the paper it is written on unless it deals with this destroyer."

William J. Cameron, who once edited Henry Ford's Dearborn Independent, has been retired by the Ford Motor Company. I read the Independent for some years after meeting Mr. Cameron and being shown through the wonderful Dearborn plant. I tried to get the paper interested in the work unit dollar but was told Mr. Ford would not be interested in such a

Of course one answer to the question as to why the Russian leader issued this warning at this time is that it is only another

LETTER to the EDITOR

Dear Sir:

In your issue of June 21st one of your patrons suggest for a referendum—"Do the Citizens of Westmount value inanimate objects more highly than animate?" referring, obviously, to flowers and dogs—For a lover of flowers and dogs, this appears ridiculous.

I have been tortured by barking dogs for years and knowing them well, having owned many, know that any dog can and should be trained not to bark at unreasonable and unreasonable times and objects. I believe dogs should be allowed off the leash in parks, away from children but to allow them to destroy flower beds and grass obviously, destroys much of the beauty of our lovely city.

This is the first year my front patch has had a chance to bloom—and not be scratched up. Year after year I have struggled with it, though neighbours say—"Why try, the dogs destroy it." Not this year!!! I have been visualizing how much lovelier our Westmount could be if every one had a flower patch and window boxes of flowers—as in lovely England—instead of front lawns where the grass is not even cut and hay and weeds flourish?

Surely we should have a law to compel owners and tenants to keep their front lots in decent order? Is there anything that lifts us higher, I have a beautiful flower? I quote three verses—

"He came and led me by the hand up to a red rose tree—

He kept His meaning to Himself but gave a rose to me—

I did not ask Him to explain the mystery to me, Enough, the rose was heaven to smell and His own face to see."

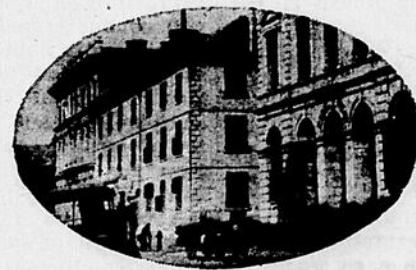

Sincerely

M. L. Parker.

"The more one studies," said the naturalist, "the more one is convinced that nature is a performer of great wonders."

"Yes, indeed," said the optometrist. "Thousands of years ago nature didn't know a thing about people having to wear glasses. But look how handy she placed our ears."

man but that I could write their economist.

I did so and he liked the idea and made some favorable references to it, and put in such a shrewd way that persons as busy as Mr. Ford and Mr. Cameron could not notice the items. I noticed that in the typewritten letters of the economist there were always a number of typographical errors but no errors in his clear thinking or lack of devotion to the welfare of humanity. Later I learned that the economist was blind but did all his writing on a typewriter. I regret that I cannot recall his name or find one of his letters or a letter of mine to him. I shall write to Mr. Cameron and if I get the address of the economist shall write him about the growth of equitism. I shall tell him that the idea is spreading slowly because most persons prefer to deal in a superficial manner with effects rather than with root causes — or putting it another way — they prefer to fuss with effects. But I shall be able to tell him that the idea is making its way surely because it is so fundamental and sound.

My visit to Detroit on that occasion was to speak at the Detroit Forum and the Kiwanis Club. The Forum was financed by wealthy manufacturer and public spirited citizen, Mr. Ingram, who acted as chairman and after the meeting had the speaker and number of interesting persons meet for a round table conference. After the Kiwanis meeting a Ford Company representative said he would like me to go with him to see Mr. Ford who he said was keenly interested in the money question. Knowing from articles about Mr. Ford I knew how difficult it was to see him I declined and he then suggested he would show me over the Dearborn plant and introduce me to Mr. Cameron and I was glad to go with him.

MEDITATION ON DOMINION DAY

By Rev. Canon R. Kenneth Naylor
Rector of Trinity Memorial Church

Loyalty is living up to one's obligations; my obligations are my response to what some person or group or social entity has done for me.

My first loyalty is to my home. It has given me my life; it provides me with food, protection, love, and at least the beginnings of my education. But my home is part of a community, which, in turn, provides for my parents a place to live and a means of earning a living, and such amenities of civilized life as schools, hospitals, theatres, means of transportation, and all the other things which go to make up our modern civilization. At the same time the community provides protection for inner communities, such as the Church and the various voluntary organizations that play so large a part in domestic life.

The village or town or city is also a part of a larger community, in our case the community of the Province of Quebec, with all its peculiarities of two languages, two races, two systems of law—a combination almost unique in the modern world. The Province in its turn is part of a larger self-contained, largely self-sufficient community, with its laws, customs, habits of thought, ways of life, forms of education, which are to some extent different from all the rest of the world.

Each of these concentric communities lays certain obligations upon us. We have pride in each of the widening communities. I inherit a pride in my family, and I feel that I must not dishonour it by word or deed. I have a pride in the village in which I was brought up: it has certain peculiarities, but I do not feel entitled to deride those peculiarities. I inherit a pride in my Province; I defend it against the gibes directed against it by my neighbour from Ontario or British Columbia, because I am a part of the Province and I have some understanding of its history and peculiarities.

I inherit a pride in the Dominion of Canada; there is no doubt whatever that with all its shortcomings it is a marvellous country, "a land of brooks of water, of fountains and depths that spring out of valleys and hills, a land of wheat, and barley, and vines and fig trees; a land wherein thou shalt eat bread without and profitable holiday in the city. St. Luke's congregation has been asked to accommodate ten commissioners to the General Council which meets in Montreal Sept. 10th to 20th. Will you be good enough to contact the minister for particulars?

scarceness, thou shalt not lack any thing in it; a land whose stones are iron, and out of whose hills thou mayest dig brass." But my loyalty to the Dominion of Canada does not make my loyalty to my Province or my village or my family any the less. They are all part of my life.

Do we stop there? Is our sole loyalty confined within the boundaries of the Dominion of Canada? By no means. For while we are Canadians we are all members of the human race, which in the long run has conferred all these other things upon us, and my final human obligation is to the human race. Just as it became necessary 79 years ago to federate the Canadian Provinces, so it becomes necessary now to bring together in some manner the nations of the world in order that all may benefit.

But my loyalty to that idea does not make my loyalty to the Canadian idea any less. In fact, it intensifies it; for it gives me the opportunity to contribute what I value most in the Canadian idea to the well-being of the rest of the world.

APPROACHING WEDDINGS

The marriage of Raymonde, daughter of the late J. Arthur Crevier and Mrs. Crevier of Notre Dame de Grace, to Doctor L. P. Belisle, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Belisle, of Papineauville, will take place on Saturday, July 6th, in the St. Victor's Chapel, Notre Dame de Grace Church, at nine thirty. A reception will follow at the Cercle Universitaire.

WEDDINGS

BULMER—McCORMICK

The marriage of Shirley Muriel McCormick, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Stanley McCormick, of Westmount, to Mr. Clayton Thomas Bulmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bulmer, of Montreal and Chateauguay, took place on Saturday afternoon at three o'clock in Westmount Baptist Church, the Rev. Dr. J. A. Johnson officiating. Pink and white peonies and ferns decorated the church, which was lighted by candlelight. Pink tulle bows marked the pews reserved for the guests. Mr. B. Hayward played the wedding music and Mr. P. Mariano sang "At Dawning" and "Because" during the signing of the register.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a model gown of white satin and lace, the bodice having dropped shoulders, long sleeves ending in points over the hands, a full skirt ending in a slight train with an inset front panel of satin and lace caught up with a French bow. Her veil of tulle illusion extending beyond the hem of her train, was held at either side of the head with lily-of-the-valley. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink Delight roses. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

The bridal attendants, Miss Margaret Wilson as maid of honor, Miss Nancy Dawson as bridesmaid, the Misses Joan McCormick and Barbara Cadman, little cousins of the bride, as junior bridesmaids, were dressed alike in moire frocks fashioned on long princess lines, with lace inserts, matching long lace mittens and Juliet caps. They carried Colonial bouquets of variegated sweet peas. The matron of honor was in sea-foam green, while the bridesmaids wore pale lilac. Mr. William Clayton was best man for Mr. Bulmer. The ushers were Mr. John S. McCormick jr., brother of the bride, Mr. Donald George and Mr. Albert Tonilson.

Mrs. McCormick, mother of the bride, was wearing an afternoon frock of silver grey crepe. Her hat, an original model of dusty pink and silver grey, was trimmed with pale pink gardenias and multicolor lilac. She wore dusty pink accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Bulmer, mother of the groom, wore an afternoon frock of navy blue sheer, matching hat and navy blue and white accessories, with a corsage of white carnations.

A reception was held in the Jacques Cartier room of the Berkeley Hotel, where summer flowers were used to decorate. The bride's table, which was centered with the wedding cake, was arranged with pink peonies.

WED AT DOMINION-DOUGLAS CHURCH

Pictured above is Mrs. George James Morley Gale, who was married recently in Dominion-Douglas Church, Westmount. Mrs. Gale is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Campbell, of Montreal. The groom is the son of the late Rev. James S. Gale, D.D., of Seoul, Korea, and Mrs. Gale of Looe, Cornwall, England.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in Salon "D" of the Mount Royal Hotel, and later the newlyweds left by plane for New York, Washington, Atlantic City and the southern states, the bouquet of carnations and mixed flowers.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Bulmer left for the Laurentians, the bride travelling in a suit of pearl grey summer wool, matching hat and brown alligator accessories, her corsage bouquet of white gardenias.

Upon their return they will reside in Notre Dame de Grace.

BERRY - COATES

The marriage of Miss Marjorie Edith Coates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Coates, of N.D.G., to Mr. Robert Charles Berry, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Berry, of St. Lambert, Que., took place on Saturday afternoon at four o'clock on June 15th, in Christ Church Cathedral, the Very Rev. Dean K. C. Evans officiating. The bride, who is Ballet Mistress for the Verdun Operatic Society, is a former pupil of Norma Darling, and has taken part in many of the operettas staged at Victoria Hall, Westmount. The groom was formerly a Flight-Lieutenant with the R.C.A.F., and served in India.

Mock orange blossoms and peonies, with candelabra, formed the decorations. Dr. Alfred E. Whitehead played the wedding music, and the service was fully choral. Mrs. Ethel Bardo Gardner was soloist.

The bride's attendants were her sister, Mrs. Norman A. MacKay, as matron-of-honour, and Mrs. Maurice Hodgson. Mr. Arthur Berry acted as best man for his brother, and the ushers were Mr. Norman A. MacKay and Mr. Maurice Hodgson.

Mr. G. H. Coates gave his daughter in marriage. The bride was wearing a gown of white embossed organza over taffeta, having a high neckline and long sleeves, and a short peplum of the same material. The bouffant skirt extended into a long train, and she wore a full-length veil of tulle illusion held in position by a coronet of orange blossoms, and carried an old-time colonial bride going away in a roman blue suit with black accessories and corsage of yellow roses, carrying a yellow top-coat.

Out-of-town guests were present from Detroit, Mich., and Chicago.

CREDICO—DAM

A colorful ceremony took place at four o'clock on Saturday afternoon, June 15th, at Calvary United Church, when Royal Canadian Mounted Police in dress of navy uniform with solet jackets, formed a guard of honor at the marriage of Vera Kirstine, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred. S. Dam, of Staynor Avenue, Westmount (formerly of N.D.G.), to Constantine Nickolas Credico, R.C.M. elder son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Credico, of Lethbridge, Alberta. It is interesting to note that the wedding took place on the bride's parents twenty-eighth wedding anniversary, at the same time and the same day of the month.

The Rev. Dr. T. W. Jones officiated at the ceremony and

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT CHARLES BERRY

Their wedding took place on June 15th in Christ Church Cathedral. The bride, the former Miss Marjorie Edith Coates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Coates, of N.D.G., is the Ballet Mistress of the Verdun Operatic Society, and well known here. The groom, formerly a Flight Lieutenant in the Royal Canadian Air Force, served in India, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Berry, of St. Lambert, Que. Photo by Posen.

and Mrs. W. P. Pillage on elections which revealed that Miss Ethel Richardson, a member of Auxillary 96, had been elected treasurer.

It was learned with regret that Mrs. H. E. Tessier, the treasurer, and Mrs. W. P. Pillage were leaving for Winnipeg, where they will reside in future, and the social hour took the form of a party in their honour. It was an hilarious moment when Mrs. Tessier was crowned Queen of the Treasury, by Mrs. R. Provencher. Regular meetings will be resumed on September 19th.

Junior would hang up his clothes if he had small hangers designed to fit his coats and jackets and if the hangers were low enough for his reach. There are plenty of small hangers in the shops, and now a new clothes-rod, in any closet, has come into the market.

SEAL-SLEEK COIF FLAGS ATTENTION

If your hair is long and your face can stand a severe contrast, dare to wear a straight, sleek coiffure. Many a nice-looking gal who would look no better than that with curls has flagged attention to herself as a distinctive type of beauty by wearing her hair as sleekly as a wet seal.

Season's Meetings Close For No. 96 C.P. Auxiliary

The Ladies' Auxiliary, Canadian Pacific (Que. 96) Branch, Canadian Legion, held the final meeting of the season on Thursday evening at the Club Rooms. The president, Mrs. A. Lyle, was in the chair and conducted an initiation when Mrs. Olive Brooks, Mrs. M. P. Foley, Mrs. Stuart LeM. Fairchild and Miss Vera D. Palmer were enrolled and presented with corsages of white carnations provided by Mrs. John Tanner.

That the Provincial Command Ladies' Auxiliaries Convention, held in Quebec City recently, was an outstanding success was evidenced by the general report given by Mrs. A. Lyle, and the reports given by Mrs. W. E. Henderson on social activities, Miss Ethel Richardson on resolutions,

Distribution Of Ration Books To Be Directed By Mrs. Hodges

Between 60 and 80 thousand volunteers will be required to handle the distribution of ration book six when it is distributed in Canada in September. It is estimated that 560,000 more ration books will be handled than in previous issues due to the return of service men and their dependents. These figures and the urgent need for continued rationing in Canada were discussed by O. W. Rodomar, Ration Administrator for the Wartime Prices and Trade Board when he met with the women's Advisory Committee, Consumer Branch of the Prices Board at the recent monthly meeting.

On Volunteer Basis

The committee members, who have given their services each time ration books were distributed, unanimously agreed that continued rationing was imperative. They also signified their intention to once again organize the women on a volunteer basis to assist when the books in this region are distributed the week of September 9th. There will be 12 to 13 thousand distribution centres to be staffed in this manner across the country, according to Mr. Rodomar.

The volunteer distribution work will once again be under the direction of Mrs. Leslie Hodges, chairman of the Montreal regional Advisory Committee. Subcommittee throughout the Montreal region will handle the distribution in outlying points, also under Mrs. Hodges' direction.

Committee

Members of the Montreal committee who have agreed to assist in the work include:

Miss Kathleen Simpson, Mrs.

E. G. Jones, Mrs. Norman Holland, Mrs. Sydney Levitt, Mrs. G. F. W. Kuhring, Mrs. E. R. Adair, Mrs. R. G. Gilbride, Mrs. Jack Pembroke, Mrs. Andrew Fleming, Mrs. Joseph E. Perreault, Mrs. Walter Molson, Mrs. A. T. Stikeman, Mrs. Quentin Bovey, Mrs. H. Singer, Mrs. E. B. Savage, Mrs. R. Vance Ward, Mrs. J. H. Norris, Mrs. Adjutant A. Simester, Mrs. R. B. Hamilton, Mrs. G. Ferrabee, Mrs. Leon Cresthol, Mrs. Franco Consiglio, Mrs. J. I. Hodgson, Mrs. H. D. Rolland, Mrs. J. A. T. Rogers, Mrs. A. T. Henderson, Mme. E. de B. Panet, Mrs. H. Fraser.

C.P. 96 Thanked At Welcome Room Official Closing

The official closing of Windsor Station Welcome Room took place on Friday evening, when the key was returned to Mr. A. Lyle, assistant to the Vice-President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, by Lt.-Col. C. F. Ritchie, D.S.O., M.C., Quebec director of Canadian Legion War Services, which operated the room during the latter part of the war.

Colonel Ritchie paid tribute to the volunteer work of the women of the Canadian Pacific Legion Branch 96 and of Branch 16 who cared for the needs of some 53,000 members of the armed forces and checked over 170,000 pieces of baggage.

Mrs. Juanita Legault, Chairman of the Welcome Room staff of 75 volunteers who worked in four-hour shifts, was presented with a gift on behalf of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Branch 96, by Mrs. Lyle, the President, who also expressed appreciation for the help given by Mrs. S. Sherrif, President of the Ladies' Auxiliaries Provincial Command, who was unable to be present.

Captain J. St. G. Hall, district supervisor of C.L.W.S., also expressed his thanks and Mr. Gerald J. Phelan, President of Branch 96, presided. Mrs. W. L. Payne, Mrs. R. A. Gunton, Mrs. H. W. Dunn and Mrs. C. Major, assisted with the refreshments.

Cotton And Lace Make Tiny Togs

All set to excite doting "oh's" and "ah's" from baby's admirers is hand-made finery for her spring wardrobe which laughs at fabric shortages, because infants, midgies and toddlers are singled out for favor in the cotton field.

For the biggest event in baby's life—the christening ceremony—Yolande, ace designer of baby clothes, creates a gala dress of finest organdy in two lengths. The longer dress sweeps down to 21 inches and combines hand-detailing and lace. Sometimes the lace used for fancy incisions or edgings is the real McCoy.

To top all of this, there are bonnet - and - coat ensembles of pink, blue or white crepe, sugared with hand-embroidery, ruffles and lace to send His Nibs out wrapped up in layers of froth.

Midgy styles this spring for charmers just out of the infant stage break from the all - white tradition and go into the color

Hints On Fashions

A rippling cascade from one shoulder is the main accent and focal point of interest in this pretty frock of creamy white raw silk. It has a high, draped neckline, and sleeves that are short and extended from the soft shoulders. The skirt has gathers that radiate from the centre front. A gold kidkin belt completes one of the prettiest of all color schemes, that of white and gold.

ranks of pale blue, pink and yellow. Fifteen-inch dresses of dotted Swiss, batiste, broadcloth and washable one - denier "miracle" rayon swipe grown-up styling tricks, such as contrasting pockets, embroidered "locket" necklines and flashes of color on white cottons.

The outlook of the toddler, aged two to three, is also brightened by colored cottons, styled to make mites look like well-dressed dolls in frocks which have bolero effects, marked waistlines, tiny collars and puffed pockets. In this group, the hand-made details of Puerto Rican needlework which rate notice are cording of contrasting color, hemstitching, fagotting, smocking and splashes of embroidery.

EVAPORATED MILK STILL RATIONED

A large number of inquiries have been received regarding evaporated milk since the removal of subsidy on natural milk the Wartime Prices and Trade Board states. The increase in the Canadian birth rate this year is augmenting the demand for milk in tins. The Board points out that evaporated milk in most parts of Canada can only be sold for special ration coupons. These can be secured from the local ration board only on a doctor's certificate when he has prescribed an evaporated milk formula for the baby.

Cherry Price Ceilings Are Same As Last Year

Cherry prices will be the same this season as last year the War-time Prices and Trade Board has announced. The ceiling is general for all Canada and covers sweet and sour cherries both home grown and imported.

Imported cherries are already on the Canadian market and the Canadian crop will be equal to last year, growers expect.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

church was decked for the occasion with roses and gladioli.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white lace fashioned with a high round neckline and having a yoke of fine net and full skirt. Her fingertip length veil fell from a headdress of small pink roses, and her only ornament was a string of pearls, the gift of her parents. Her bouquet was a cascade of Talisman roses, bouvardia and babies' breath. Mrs. T. C. Dam, of Bowmanville, Ont., attended her sister-in-law, as matron of honor, wearing a floor length gown of yellow with matching headdress of flowers and shoulder length veil. Yellow roses with mauve blooms formed her bouquet in semi-cascade style.

Constable Fred Langshaw, R.C.M.P., acted as best man for the groom. There were two ushers, Mr. T. C. Dam, and a friend of the groom's, from Toronto.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the bride's table was decorated with a three tier wedding cake, and arranged with white tapers, white snapdragons and carnations. Later the bride and bridegroom left for a tour which will include Lethbridge, Banff and Victoria, the bride going away in a black suit, white hat, white accessories and corsage of gardenias.

Out of town guests included Mr. P. Credico, father of the groom, from Lethbridge, Alta.; Mr. W. Dullege, of Toronto, grandfather of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Dam, the bride's brother and sister-in-law, of Bowmanville, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. J. Norman, of Toronto, uncle and aunt of the bride; and Mrs. H. C. Hachey, of Detroit, Mich.

Milk In Restaurants Still Costs The Same

"Restaurant and cafe operators are not permitted to increase the price charged for milk served by the glass or by the bottle with meals," J. R. Croft, WPTB Services Administrator, has announced.

"There appears to be considerable misunderstanding about the price of milk served in restaurants since the removal of the milk subsidy," Mr. Croft pointed out.

"Some restaurants have illegally raised the price of milk recently because of misinterpretation of the new regulations. Discontinuance of the milk subsidy payments on June 1st does not effect the price of milk served in restaurants. Proprietors are prohibited from charging customers more than they did before or after December, 1942. If a restaurant operator charged 5c or 6c a bottle for milk he cannot raise his price now. If he was charging 10c at that time, he may continue to do so," Mr. Croft explained.

The Services Administrator urged consumers to report any price increases on milk served in restaurants to the nearest Price Board office for immediate investigation.

RESPIRATORY DISEASES

Warning to workers in industry to guard against lung irritants at work, is issued by the Industrial Hygiene Division of the Dominion government. Those whose work exposes them to such potential hazards as dust, fumes, sand particles, etc. are advised to adhere closely to plant rules regarding "good housekeeping", and to use all the protective devices provided for employee protection. Thus they will avoid chronic irritation of the air passages, which may develop into something more serious.

ENGLAND'S MOST TALKED-ABOUT DUCHESS! Paulette Goddard, in the title role of "Kitty," is seen above with her co-star, Charles Boyer, in the film version of the popular novel of 18th Century England. "Kitty" starts at the Westmount United Theatre on Sunday, playing for one week.

Technicolor Western Hit Now Playing At Westmount

Today America has lost her western frontier but the legend of the handful of cowmen and ranchers who fought organized rustling on the plains has been recorded forever in countless ballads and stories of the west. It is to these men that the Technicolor drama of the great outdoors, "San Antonio," which is currently playing at the Westmount United Theatre until Saturday night, has been dedicated. Starring Errol Flynn and Alexis Smith in the leading roles, "San Antonio" is a turbulent and ugly tale of Texas when it was young; when San Antonio was no more than a cluster of adobe huts, a fist-full of one-armed saloons and the shattered ruins of her citadel of liberty, the Alamo.

After a series of modern roles, Errol Flynn is cast in "San Antonio" as Clay Hardin, an embittered cattleman who seeks to pin a charge of brand-changing and cattle-rustling on treacherous Roy Stuart (played by Paul Kelly), the owner of the notorious Bella Union Music Hall. With a cattle tally book in his possession that is conclusive proof of Stuart's guilt, Hardin runs a gauntlet of outlaws across the Rio Grande, from Mexico to San Antonio. Reaching San Antonio, Hardin is in a position to force a showdown between himself, Stuart and Stuart's equally vicious partner, Legare (played by Victor Francen). For safekeeping, Hardin gives the tally book

Charles Boyer, Joan Fontaine

Charles Boyer and Joan Fontaine are starred together in "The Constant Nymph", which is paying a return visit to the Seville United Theatre. It starts there on Wednesday, July 3rd, playing until Friday night.

The film has an impressive supporting cast headed by Alexis Smith, Brenda Marshall, Charles Coburn, Peter Lorre, who has a sympathetic role, Dame Mae Whitty and Jean Muir. Others in the cast include that veteran actor Montagu Love, Edward Cianelli, Joyce Reynolds, Doris Lloyd and Joan Blair.

"The Constant Nymph" tells the story of Lewis Dodd, a young composer who is loved by Tessa Sanger, an adolescent girl he has always considered a child. He married a beautiful society girl, only to find out when it is too late, that he has always loved Tessa.

The film is based on the popular novel by Margaret Kennedy.

to Charlie Bell (John Littel), a friend of long standing.

That evening, as Clay Hardin is watching singer, Jeanne Starr's (Alexis Smith) much-heralded opening night at the Bella Union, Charlie Bell is ambushed and murdered by Legare. The all-important tally book changes hands and Hardin's plea for justice, supported by a flimsy testimonial coaxed out of Jeanne's manager (S. Z. "Cuddles" Sakall), is laughed out of a military court.

It is for Clay Hardin to decide whether he will accept this mockery of justice or fight back, singlehanded if need be, against the robber barons. He decides upon the latter and corners Stuart, Legare and their henchmen in the Bella Union.

TIMELY, ROMANTIC DRAMA! Deborah Kerr and Robert Donat are starred in "Vacation from Marriage," which starts at the Seville United Theatre on Saturday, playing until Tuesday night. The story tells of the problems of a young married couple, reunited, after separation due to service in the Armed Forces.

Gaiety Reigns Belmont Park

Taking advantage of the warm weather that prevailed these past few days, thousands of youngsters, accompanied by their parents or guardians, flocked to Belmont Park, ideally situated on the banks of Back River where cool breezes blow irrespective of the temperature in the city, as guests of Thrift Stop and Shop Stores. These kiddies' days, which will continue until Friday, July 5th inclusive with the exception of next Sunday, give the youngsters, fresh from school, an opportunity to relax and enjoy themselves in perfect safety. If you have not yet secured your guest ticket for the youngsters, please ask your nearest Stop & Shop dealer. In addition to these kiddies' days, the Canada Loisirs will be holding their outing on Friday.

Paige, Jewett and Kiki, 'Giraffe Unicyclists Supreme,' are being greeted with great acclaim from both young and old alike. These performers, two girls and a man, waltz and clown atop these one wheel contraptions with an ease that's truly amazing. They have played the world over, scoring phenomenal successes especially in the Coliseum and West End Theatres in London, England; the Cirque D'Hiver in Paris, France; and in Australia. Other places visited were China, Japan, South Africa, India and South America. Returning to America, their native land, shortly after the outbreak of war they became featured circus performers and then devoted their efforts to entertaining the boys at Army Camp Shows and other charitable performances. They are currently seen twice daily at 5 and 11 p.m. at the park. There's dancing every night as well as every Sunday afternoon to music supplied by Benny Louis and his Orchestra and on Saturday afternoons from 3 to 5 p.m. to recorded music.

Direct From Hollywood

By Jack Hirshberg

EDITOR'S NOTE.—Jack Hirshberg is vacationing, and Shirley Temple takes over as guest columnist this issue. Loretta Young pinch hits for Jack next time, and he'll be back July 11.

By SHIRLEY TEMPLE

HOLLYWOOD, June 26. — Being a guest columnist is something new to me, and I'm indebted to Jack for asking me to occupy his typewriter while he is deep in Mexico sipping lemonade (?) with the gay señoritas. It's quite a kick being old enough to qualify as a guest writer. But then, I'm an old married lady of 18, and very proud and happy about it all.

It's quite a thrill to have people call me Mrs. Agar. You know, it's Hollywood custom to call married women "Miss"—but they make an exception in my case because both Jack, he's my husband, and I like folks to use my married name. Of course, it's still Shirley Temple on the screen, for my bosses pay for the use of my name, and "Mrs. John Agar" wouldn't look too good on theatre marquees.

Jack suggested that you might be interested in a few facts about my current doings, so if you'll pardon a burst of ego I'll try to bring you up to date. Like the words of the popular song, "I'm a big girl now!" I'm through school, and hope to take some college courses, but just now the studios are keeping me too busy for further schooling. We've just moved into our own house—and it's a real thrill. We're very lucky to have a roof over our heads. When we were house-hunting after Jack's discharge from the army, my father had a tract of land with some houses on it. But they were all rented, mostly to returned service men, so Dad couldn't find a place for us. But we finally located a spot.

Simultaneously with getting settled in our own home, I've been doing my first sophisticated role in movies. It's in "Honeymoon," and I

Robert Donat And Deborah Kerr In "Vacation From Marriage"

The changes that a wartime separation in the services bring to a young married couple, both of whom have altered their outlook on life, form the dramatic continuity of "Vacation From Marriage," which starts Saturday, at the Seville United Theatre playing until Tuesday night.

Splendidly acted by Deborah Kerr, Robert Donat and a uniformly fine cast of supporting players, the story of the tired and colourless young clerk husband who finds rejuvenation in the Navy and his equally drab young wife who joins the Wrens and finds a fresh stimulus amongst her invigorating surroundings will strike a responsive chord as a tale that is as honest and true as today's news headlines.

Donat offers a finely drawn portrait of the clerk who lives phosis in which she reveals not by routine until his larger instincts are given sweep by the stark reality and heroism of Navy life. Drawn to the nurse who administers to him when his ship is torpedoed in the Mediterranean, he feels himself unable to face a return to the placid wife and uneventful existence of his civilian days.

Deborah Kerr, as Cathie, the wife, is equally stimulated by her activities and contacts with the Wrens and undergoes a metamor-play opposite Franchot Tone and Guy Madison.

Yes, these are happy days for me—a fine new husband, a fine new home, and a fine new movie. If you who read this wish me well, just pray that it'll go on like this for months and years to come. And to you, from me, boundless happiness, too. That, I'm certain now in my mature old age, is all that counts!

Thanks, Mr. H., for the use of the hall. I hope you're collecting a good suntan in the wide open spaces near Guadalajara. . . And now, for some news items supplied by your Hollywood pals.

We're living in that postwar world we've talked about so long. And in the modern spirit, George Antheil is collaborating with Dr. Hubert Graf of the Metropolitan on the first opera written expressly for television. It will require two years to complete. . . . When 20th Century puts "Forever Amber" before the cameras in September, Otto Preminger will have John Stahl's old job as director and Linda Darnell has a good chance of playing Amber.

Although "Duel in the Sun" won't reach the screen for some months yet, it has already cost David O. Selznick $7,300,000. . . . India's ace film director is a gent named Shantaram. He has two wives, both of whom presented him with sons last week. The trade papers headlined the the new item: "Shantaram's Double Feature! . . . There's a smart secretary working for a producer at a leading studio. She's lovely to look at, and he is a wolf. So she wears track shoes to work—helps her outdistance him around the office!"

Dodgers Still Lead Ball League

Win Two Over Royals, Staynor

The Dodgers continued to dominate the senior section of the Westmount Municipal Softball League last week when they chalked up two more wins while their closest rivals, the Royals, dropped two out of three tilts. Dodgers trimmed Royals 7-1 and Staynor 12-0. In other games played last week Police-Fire downed Swans 7-4, Cardinals eked out a 2-1 decision from Royals, Swans defeated Staynor 13-8 and Royals won out over Police Fire 13-5.

Jerry Snyder pitched three hit ball as Dodgers downed Royals 7-1. In the other victory, Logue McDonald and George Scully combined their hurling talents to shutout Staynor 12-0.

A sixth inning homerun by Doug Heron was the deciding factor in the Cardinals 2-1 win over Royals.

The Police-Fire nine created another upset when pitcher Yenor hurled four hit ball to beat Swans 7-4. Swans then came back to outscore Staynor 13-8 with Jim Haggarty pacing the winners at bat with three hits.

ROYALS WIN

A sixth inning rally when they scored six times was enough to give Royals a 13-5 win over Police-Fire. Euard Read and Art Lormer hit homeruns for Royals while F. Keyes performed a similar feat for the losers.

Due to the holiday only three games will be played next week. On Wednesday Swans will play Staynor and Dodgers will clash with Cardinals. On Thursday Royals will meet the Police-Fire nine.

RAFFLE RESULTS

The following are the results of the raffle held by the senior teams in the municipal softball league:—1st prize, Mrs. E. B. Brown, 1482 Fort Street; 2nd prize, Herb Clayton, 4335 Montclair; 3rd prize, John Venters, 424 Metcalfe Avenue. # SHORTS ON SPORTS

By George Cochrane

With a long, low bow to Red Fisher, the capable, well-built, carrot-topped lad who filled in for us while we were enjoying a four-week holiday, your shorts on sports returned to the battered relic of a typewriter upon which this mortal prose and poetry is written each week. It is pleasant, in an unpleasant sort of way, to try to gather once again news in a community that seems to have had all the spirit knocked out of it by the current heat-wave.

While enjoying our four-week siesta we read with interest of the war between our beloved Snowdon Fastball and the Eastern Softball League which has been chronicled so well by Mons. Fisher in this fireside journal for public enlightenment and by Mons. Jeems McCormick in The Standard. If the presidents of the two leagues continue to hurl verbal brickbats at one another in the way they have been doing of late, they will soon be entertaining the lower browed elements of the population by bouncing black-jacks off one another's craniums. All of which would be a very interesting and would enrich the coffers of the two leagues if the battle were held in some place like the Forum and were well-publicized in advance. Who knows, maybe Eddie Quinn could use "A Battle of the Softball Presidents" on one of his Wednesday evening cards.

LETTER FROM HOWIE

Chubby Howard Harvie, the young net-minder who made the jump from junior to senior ranks this past season when Jerry McNeil, the Montreal Royals' number one goaler, was felled by an attack of appendicitis, writes as follows:

"This letter is in answer to the questions under 'What Do You Think?' regarding the football controversy which has arisen over the present-day rules.

"As to whether the four-down rule has helped or harmed school football, I, definitely, say it has helped it. You need only have to ask any fellow who has played it and most will agree. The four-down rule definitely brings out the stronger team whereas in C.R.U. rules if you have a fair line and an excellent kicker, you can keep a good team at bay for one-half the game and then start all over the next half. Take into consideration the sharp increase in crowds in the past three years and this ought to help to prove that the new rules have aided school football.

"I am also in favor of unlimited interference. This is one way a well-oiled football machine can really show up its opponents. Why should, as in C.R.U. rules, one man, after he has passed the scrimmage line, have to go against six while his teammates are helpless to help him? In unlimited interference, a man on the field can be taken out anywhere, anytime which tends to keep him more alert and therefore produce a smarter game.

"In answer to number three, I won't side with any of the three mentioned choices. School rules are not 'ideal' because of the lack of passing and kicking. I think a four-man backfield should be tried. That would make more passes and longer runs. As for the

Sailboat Racing At King George This Afternoon

The opening sailboat races of the season at King George park last Friday drew a small but enthusiastic crowd. David Wright captured most of the honors when his boat took three first place ribbons out of the possible four. In the other event, Tom Edmunds copped first place.

More sailboat races will be held this afternoon starting at three o'clock and on each Friday afternoon throughout the summer. Motorboats are also eligible for these races. Ribbons are awarded to the first, second and third place boats in each event.

PUTTING

Roger Lamb and Ernie Hirscheimer won the two putting tournaments held on local putting greens last week. Hirscheimer also won a third event when he captured the junior tournament last Saturday morning.

Lamb won the Westmount Park tournament last Friday night with an 84 for the 36 holes. Lamb's mark was three strokes better than John Haskell and Norm Dundas, who shared the runner-up spot with '89s. P. R. Minto was next in line with an 89.

Another tournament will be held tonight at Westmount Park with all entries to be in not later than eight o'clock.

Ernie Hirscheimer banged out a 91 on the King George course on Tuesday night to win this event. Hirscheimer was a "scratch" player, yet he outscored all the other competitors by at least nine strokes. Roger Lamb was the runner-up with a gross 100 and net 97. John Haskell was third with a gross 105 net 102 while Jim Brow came third with a gross 105.

Sorel, land granted earlier to a Captain Sorel, who had failed to fulfill his obligations. During the absence of M. de Vaudreuil in France, moreover, he was acting-governor of New France in 1714 and 1715.

In addition to his duties as governor of Montreal, de Ramezay was also responsible for defending the outposts of New France on the New England Border, and against the Iroquois. It was his responsibility to bar Colonel Nicholson's way i 1711, but the invasion was checked by the wreck of the English fleet with which Nicholson was to have made a junction.
 De Ramezay was a very able soldier, understanding warfare against the Indians, a far-sighted administrator, honourable, and stern in discipline of himself and his men. Like any man in a high position, his very virtues made enemies—those who resented his discipline, and fur-traders who felt that he had unfairly damaged their trade. In addition, financial worries dogged him, and he tried to mend this condition by selling the timber on his seigneuries.
 When in 1724 he died in the city of Quebec, he left his family definitely embarrassed financially, but he also left a very honourable name.

BULLETINS FROM BIRDLAND
 BY
WINIFRED E. WILSON

Young Toddlers

No wonder a laugh goes up from the audience whenever pictures of young birds appear on the screen. For the first few days of their lives most kinds do look comical. Watch a baby Robin, featherless, except for a little dark tuft over each eye, stretching up its scrawny neck to be fed.
 the enormous pink-lined mouth opened wide. Of course it has to be constantly brooded by one of the parents for about five days to be kept warm. At least ten days more must pass before it is mature enough to leave home, though still requiring a great deal of attention.

Yet not all birds are bore, blind, and - helpless at birth.
 Young Herring Gulls and Sora Rails are covered with fluffy down and need no swimming instruction on emerging from their shells. Almost immediately they take to the water, and are off and away.

On leaving the nest a Least Bittern can neither walk nor fly very well, but propels itself by clinging on to the reeds and rushes in which its home is situated—not with its feet, but with the fingerlike ends of its half-grown wings.

Providing nourishment for a large family must be a tremendous job, as most nestlings eat their own weight daily. Opinions differ as to which child gets fed first. Some people think the parents generally take turns, fairly; some say it is the offspring that yells loudest which receives the first attention. Frequently, one pushes its way to the front and demands breakfast most vociferously. Then when we find in a few days that there is a baby which seems to be growing faster than the rest, we have a strong suspicion that it claimed more than its fair share of food.

Most parents begin by giving each nestling only one little bite of the fly or worm, which is passed around from one to another. Later bigger bites are allowed, until at length the entire "roast" is put into one mouth.
 But a Kingfisher infant is given a fish that looks nearly half as big as itself, and is expected to swallow it down whole.

Some species, as Goldfinches, regurgitate the food to be given to their babies. A most amusing sight is a young Pelican being fed.
 The little one puts its long, flattened bill right into its parent's throat in order to extract dinner.

What bird loves potato bugs?

"James, have you whispered today without permission?"

"Only wunst."

"Leroy, should James have said wunst?"

"No'm, he should have said
 twis't."

Y NOTES

LEARN - TO - SWIM

The Westmount Y. M. C. A. Learn - To - Swim Campaign conducted closing exercises last Thursday and Friday afternoons, when the parents of the children attended the last regular class.

The Girls' Classes were conducted on Thursday afternoon, every half hour, starting at 2.30 and the boys on Friday afternoon, with a similar schedule.

We were very happy to welcome some 92 parents to witness their boy or girl in these final class periods.

The boys and girls registered in the classes did especially well at their swimming and George Barker, Physical Director, expressed satisfaction with the swimming progress made by the children.

In answer to numerous requests, Mr. Barker also announced that Learn - To - Swim Classes for boys will be held in connection with Camp Westmount and that swimming instruction for girls is available three days per week from 2:00-3:00 o'clock in the afternoon, both during July and August.

SOFTBALL

The Y. M. C. A. Aces moved into first place in the Westmount Church Softball League last night when the Westmount Baptist team defaulted to them their scheduled League game.

The Y. M. C. A. Aces played an exhibition game with the Y. M. C. A. All-Stars and lost, 19-6.

Bruce Renault on the mound and Joe Dufort in catching, backed up by Wilf Spearmen at first base and a tight infield including Major Forest, Margaret Morgan and Jean Sadaway, provided a strong playing team, both offensively and defensively.

Kaz Nishio and Bill Moreau formed the battery for the losing team, while Mac Yamada played a steady game at first base.

HOUSE LEAGUE

Games in the Y. M. C. A. Softball House League are played every Wednesday and Friday evening starting at 7.00 p.m. on No 1 diamond in King George Park. This is a hit-and-miss League, which means that new players are always welcome.

Leading the League is Bill Moreau with a .375 batting average including three home runs every game, closely followed by Marj Forest, .355.

OUTING CLUB

Following an executive meeting on Wednesday evening, the Outing Club announced plans for a bicycle trip over the 1st of July holiday, leaving Montreal Saturday afternoon, bicycling to Rousses Point in the Eastern Townships and returning Monday evening. Members on this trip are using Youth Hostel facilities for eating and sleeping.

kicking I would rather see more of the former two because kicking is really only one man in action. The crowd want action, and they pay for it, and I see more action in good runs and passes than in kicks.

* * *

"As for the kicking, the four-down rule almost kills it, except in the case of a very weak team, which, as soon as it gains possession of the ball, kicks to get the play away from their own goal-posts. The C.R.U. rules are definitely better for kicking but, as far as I'm concerned, that's all they're better for.

* * *

"As for number five, a good footballer ought to be able to adapt himself to any rules, no matter how bad they are.

* * *

"My preference is definitely school rules, as I have played them the past three years for West Hill under Mr. Chesley and Mr. Searke, but I still think a four-man backfield might add

Men's Doubles Tourney Starts Next Week

The entry list for a men's doubles tournament is now up on the municipal tennis courts. This tournament is open to all residents of Westmount holding tennis tickets. The entry list will be taken down on Tuesday July 2 and the tournament will commence on Monday July 8. The draw sheet will be put up on Wednesday July 3.

The mixed doubles tournament is still under progress on the courts at the present time. While this is only a makeshift affair with the social aspects of the game taking prominence, a large number of players have participated in the event.

It is hoped to have one of the more thrills, chills and spills to the now-good Montreal school football rules.

* * *

"I sure hope they don't decide to return to the 'old rules' as it will not only kill the crowds but also the players' interest in their game."

clubs on the island play an exhibition match with the local players sometime in July and an invitation will be extended to a couple of clubs. It is hoped to stage a home-and-home match.

Q.R.F.U. TEAM MEET

The executive of the Westmount junior rugby team which is entered in the Q.R.F.U. league this fall will hold a meeting Tuesday night, July 2, at the greenhouse. The meeting has been called for 8.00 o'clock and all those interested are asked to attend.

BE KIND TO ANIMALS

DR. BAKER'S COLUMN

Edited by Dr. Charles B. Baker, B.V.Sc.

For their welfare

One of the mistakes that humans make is to think of the capacity of a horse for labour in comparison with a man's. Because of the horse's size some expect a great deal too much of him.

The horse has not the endurance of a man. Men and horses have been matched time and again and invariably the man has won. The life of the horse is but a short span and, apart altogether from the cruelty involved, it is folly and the poorest kind of economy to overload or overwork so valuable an animal.

The horse has not the recuperative powers of mankind and the penalty for disregard of a work-horse's condition has very often been the death of the animal.

This advertisement is approved and endorsed by THE SOCIETY FOR THE PREVENTION OF CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

"Good Old Dobbin... 'The servant of man' they call you, but you're a lot more than that. In or out of the shafts you're a loyal companion too — patient, willing, faithful."

* * *

Be kind to your horse. Understand him. Help him to understand you. Pet him sometimes; that he may serve you the more gladly. Do not jerk the reins. Spare him on the hills. The reward for kindness to horses is willing and better service and your own inward gratification beyond price.
