TRIO FOUND GUILTY OF STEALING CAR

Juggling of License Plates Solved by Local Police

Alphonse Gaudreau, George Godrelli, John Capozzi and Peter Pasquale, who were arrested on September 20 by Outremont police after they had been seen driving in an automobile reported previously as being stolen, were found guilty of stealing an auto car and license plates on Tuesday afternoon. The plates of the stolen car, an American number, were found by Outremont police after. Sentence will be passed on October 7th.

According to the police who testified at the trial the accused made separate confessions, each putting the blame on the other. All the accused, with the exception of Pasquale, appeared in prisoner's garb, as they are at present serving a two-month sentence in jail passed on them by the Outremont recorder for loitering at night.

ANNUAL COLLECTION AT CATH. CHURCHES

On the first Sunday in October, by order of His Grace the Archbishop of Montreal, the annual collection in aid of the poor is taken up in all the Catholic Churches of the Archdiocese, or as soon thereafter as may be found possible by the respective pastors.

The total amount contributed by the English-speaking parishes is given to the Catholic Social Service Guild, which acts as their clearing-house, and maintains a regular bureau and trained service to investigate reported cases and seek the correct solution of the problem involved. A free employment bureau is also carried on by the Guild.

Owing to the prevailing conditions of unemployment and the hardships that follow in its wake the Guild is finding the work much heavier than usual at this season, so that its always slender resources are severely tapped in an effort to relieve the most acute forms of distress.

A recent appeal to the members of the Guild to report vacancies for men or women in any line of work, and, where possible, to create temporary jobs of painting, housecleaning, repairs, gardening, etc., has brought good results and been the means of cheering many a discouraged breadwinner, but help on a much larger scale will be needed to meet the demands of the winter season, and it is hoped that all who are in a position to do so will bear a generous share in the efforts now being made.

HISTORIC CHURCH GOES ON THE AIR

Christ Church Cathedral, the Anglican Parish Church of Montreal, as such dates back to the Military Chaplaincy in 1763 where the services of the Church of England were held in the old Recollet Church. The present edifice was erected in 1859 on what is now perhaps the most valuable plot in the heart of Montreal's uptown section and surrounded by towering business blocks. The beautiful spire was removed about two years ago owing to weakening of the foundations.

The services of Christ Church Cathedral will now be broadcast over C.H.Y.C., the Montreal station of the Northern Electric Company, in rotation with the other seven churches under the jurisdiction of the Central Broadcasting Committee.

Pictures show a familiar glimpse of the Cathedral through the autumn leaves. Inset is a view of the pulpit above which hangs the King's colours of the Grenadier Guards which was carried by them during the Northwest rebellion.

Anniversary Week At Outremont Theatre

The Outremont Theatre will be the centre of enthusiastic entertainment seekers, when it stages its first Special Anniversary Program, for one week, beginning Saturday the fourth.

A number of unusual specialties are included on the program, which will introduce to Montreal audiences again, stage celebrities that have received a welcome ovation, wherever they have played.

Notable of these will be the presentation of Delong and Renard, sensational ball-room dancers, in a series of popular specialties, which promise instant popularity with everyone. Jean Winslow, America's famous acrobatic dancer will again thrill and entertain her audiences, with her remarkable girations. Miss Winslow has a magnetic personality about her, that helps to make her dancing all the more irresistible to the eye. Louis "Charter", world famous Canadian baritone singer will assist with a number of selected songs, arranged by himself for this program. A splendid reception has always welcomed this noted artist with his listeners, and it is expected, his appearance at this Theatre will be none the less remarkable. Bob Nelson and his jazz mates will help to dispense with the program, offering as their share, popular song and dance melodies. Bob says he is very happy to play for stage audiences again, as he has been doing a lot of ground work lately, for society folks out of town.

The Management has apparently spared no expense in making up this program, to what might be termed, the most appropriate for the occasion.

FAIR-ST. GILES MEN'S ASSOCIATION PLAN CAMPAIGN

Have Splendid Program For Autumn Season

TUESDAY EVENING Opening Meeting of Year Billed For Coming Week

The Men's Association of Fairmount-St. Giles Church are planning a great season of work in the commodious new church located at the corner of Bernard and Stuart avenues, Outremont. Last winter the activities of this association were continued with great success from October to April, meetings being held every Tuesday evening for recreation in carpet bowling and other games, and for social and mental improvement. This year the opening meeting will be held on next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock and the entire evening will be given to a social meeting. The men are preparing for a large number of strangers, and cordially invite men who are newcomers in the district.

On Thursday, October 9th, a lecture will be given by Rev. Dr. J. W. Ward, formerly of Montreal, now located in Detroit. The lecture will take the form of a "Dramatic Recital," on Dicken's great story "A Tale of Two Cities". The association are expecting that the large assembly Hall will be crowded out that evening, and that only early comers will get seats. A mass meeting for men will be held in the church auditorium on Sunday, October 12th at 3 p.m., the Rev. Mr. Jones of Calvary Church will be the speaker. A special program of music is being prepared, and the Silver Band of the Salvation Army will also give sacred selections. The association are also arranging that select pictures be shown for the Sunday School scholars and their friends on Friday evenings from 7 to 9 o'clock as announced.

The Devotional Meetings carried on last year on Sunday mornings at 10 o'clock will be resumed during this month.

Dr. Potter has arranged a helpful series of topics for the Mid-Week Service in MacVicar Memorial Church each Wednesday night. On Wednesday last the subject was: "The Great Text of Sir Walter Scott," "I must work the works of Him that sent me while it is day; The night cometh when no man can work." Great interest has been taken in the Series of Studies. Next Wednesday's topic is "The Great Text of Oliver Cromwell." These meetings are open to everybody.

Macdonald College; "Arithmetic—Arousing Interest in Problems in Fifth, Sixth, and Seventh Years," F. H. Spinney, Principal, Alexandra School; "Our Objectives in English," Prof. F. Clarke, McGill University. High School Section: "The Character Element in Education," Leslie Pidgeon, B.A., D.D.; "The High School Teacher and Vocational Guidance," F. E. LOCAL FOLKS AID CHARITY IN OCTOBER

Financial Drive Will be Held October 27th to November 3rd

The first large gathering of workers who will participate in the annual campaign for the Federated Charities, will take place at 6.15 p.m., October 7, in the cafeteria of the Sun Life Assurance Company. T. B. Macaulay and other prominent citizens will be present, and films depicting the work of various social agencies in the Federation will be shown. The key men in the employees' division are being invited to this supper at which they will be the guests of the Sun Life.

The Financial Federation campaign will be held from October 27 until November 3. Campaign headquarters will be opened in the McIntyre Building, Victoria Square, on October 10.

The employees of large factories, stores, railways and offices, usually raise from $40,000 to $45,000. The canvass in this division will open October 11. There are approximately 600 firms participating in this division.

The following citizens have resumed responsibility for the employees' division: Chairman, Norman Holland; vice-chairman, J. M. Morris; secretary, W. McK. Barlow.

The district chairmen are: St. Henri, E. M. Mansler; St. Joseph, A. D. Johnston; St. Andrew, George S. Layton; St. James, R. H. Dean; St. Lawrence, J. C. F. Reid; Outremont, James Butler; Delormier and Maisonneuve, Gordon Robertson; Harbor, Irving P. Rexford.

The Communist candidates in the Dominion poll chronicled 5,685 votes in a total of 3,898,995. This is a healthy sign.

NORTH COUNTRY LIFE PUTS POUNDS ON DUGUID

Lorne Duguid will look like a man-mountain when he parades down Forum ice this Winter if he does not lose any of the size that he has accumulated since the last hockey season. The high scoring centreman of Victorias and Canadian National hit for the high sticks in Northern Ontario a few months ago, and from recent reports has put plenty of poundage on his rather lanky frame.

Duguid tipped the beam at 170 pounds in mid-summer, registering considerable gain after the hockey season. Now he weighs 186, and that is not fat, for the local athlete has been indulging in a lot of sport in the mining country, first at Cobalt and now in Kirkland Lake, where he has been living for some time. He is expected back in town shortly and should be in great shape for the coming ice season.

G. R. Quesnel Receives Fracture of Skull Thurs.

Suffering from a fracture of the skull and possible internal injuries, G. R. Quesnel, residing at 125 Cote Ste. Catherine Rd., was admitted to the Notre Dame Hospital shortly after noon on Thursday, following an accident when the motorcycle he was driving east on Ste. Catherine Rd., got out of control.

According to witnesses Quesnel was proceeding along the thoroughfare at a fair rate of speed when his machine suddenly swerved and he was thrown some distance along the pavement. Dr. Sperber 4500 Hutchison street, was summoned and rendered first aid to the victim. Outremont police summoned an ambulance from the Notre Dame Hospital where Quesnel was removed in an unconscious condition. Considerable difficulty was experienced by police in identifying the victim and it was not until he recovered consciousness sufficiently to whisper his name on the way to the hospital that police had any information concerning him.

It was reported at the hospital yesterday that his condition was critical.

The Terrault - Crepeau Case

Thousands of electors in the North End who voted for Camilien Houde last Spring in preference to an English-speaking candidate must have read with amazement the newspaper accounts of the debate at the City Hall over the resignations of Messrs. Crepeau and Terrault. While the Mayor was perhaps justly wrathful at the papers publishing the fact that he blew his false teeth out of his mouth during the heated debate, nevertheless nobody will blame the reporter for reporting the incident as it was merely the finishing touch to an afternoon of highly diverting comic-opera on the part of those who represent the populace of Canada's biggest city.

The resignations of Mr. Crepeau and Mr. Terrault have not as yet been adequately explained. The method of punishing Mr. Crepeau, for example, for his alleged part, consent, or silence, in regard to the water deal is highly puzzling to the ignorant layman. Mr. Crepeau, who got $10,000 for working hard and faithfully for the city, is "fired" by the Houde administration—but only on condition that he gets half a year's salary as a present ($5,000) and an annual pension of $7,500. That kind of "punishment" is hard to understand.

There is plenty of suggestion to the whole situation that there is more to it than has yet been divulged. Hints dropped by some of the aldermen during the heat of the debate aroused grave doubts as to the lily-white purity of some of the elected guardians of the public's interests.

The real facts of the case would possibly make interesting reading. However, even assuming that the case was as extraordinary as stated, the behaviour of the majority of the aldermen was not conducive to strengthening their case with the public.

Peaches Combine With Other Fruits Tastily

Peach-Orange, Peach-Pear, Peach Lemon, Peach-Pineapple and Peach and Maraschino Cherry Are Combinations Which Produce Delicious Jams and Marmalades

FAVORITE RECIPES FOR PRESERVING PEACHES

As we have received numerous requests for suggestion for preserving peaches, we are publishing a number of our favorite recipes. These have been taken from the peach recipes which have been tested over a number of years and are favorites.

Peaches combine delightfully with other fruits. Peach-orange peach-pear, peach-lemon, peach-pineapple and peach and maraschino cherry are combinations which produce most delicious jams and marmalades. Jams made from these combinations may be prepared by using the recipes which we publish herewith, or by using the peach jam recipes found in the commercial pectin cook book—using the combinations of fruits instead of peaches alone.

Peaches may be canned very easily and successfully by the one-period, cold pack method. The fruit must first be sorted, using firm peaches only, uniform in size and ripeness. Those discarded from the canning lot may be used in preserves, jellies and jam. To peel the fruit, immerse it in boiling water for about one minute. Remove, then plunge into cold water for one minute and slip off the skins. Place the fruit in a strainer and rinse with cold water. Pack into hot jars without crushing, using a large spoon. Fill up with boiling syrup, place rubber and cap in position, but only partially seal. Sterilize in a water bath. When sterilized, remove from water, tighten tops, and invert to test for leaks.

For the syrup, two cupsful of granulated sugar to three cupsful of water is used for a thin syrup; equal quantities of sugar and water is used for a heavier syrup. Boil the syrup for ten minutes, and skim it before filling the jars.

The proportions of sugar and water used will depend upon individual taste, some persons liking the fruit sweeter than others.

Plain Peach Jam

Rub the fuzz from peaches, and remove the stones. Tie the stones in a cloth. Crush a few of the peaches in the bottom of a kettle, to prevent burning. Add 3-4 pound of sugar for each pound of the stoned fruit, and allow it to stand for one hour, then put on to boil and simmer gently until thick. Cook the stones with the peaches as they add to the flavor, remove the stones when jam is half cooked.

This jam will make most delicious meringue tarts, individual pies, filling for cakes, or can be used as ordinary jam.

Pectin Peach jam recipe will be found in the small cook book which accompanies each bottle of commercial pectin.

Peach and Maraschino Marmalade

Six pounds peaches, peeled and sliced, 6 pounds granulated sugar, 2 large oranges, put through food chopper (with skins). Add the juice of a thirty-five cent bottle of maraschino cherries, and the peach stones, in pieces and seal. The delightful flavor of the combined fruits makes this peach marmalade the most delicious preserve I have ever tasted." —Mrs. G. E. S. Oshawa.

Note: We make a quantity of this marmalade each year. It is delicious, not only when served as a marmalade, but as a cake and tart filling as well. It adds a most delightful flavor when added to home-made ice cream mixtures, then frozen.

LEMON PIE

Remove the crusts from 2 slices of bread, each 1-2 inch thick, and place the bread in a saucepan. Over it pour 1 cupful boiling water, add 1 tablespoonful of butter, and stir until very smooth. Add the juice and grated rind of 1 lemon, 1 cupful of sugar, the yolks of 2 eggs, 1-8 teaspoonful of salt, and 1 tablespoonful of cornstarch. Cook until thickened and smooth, stirring constantly, for it burns easily. Fill a baked shell with the mixture. Over it spread a meringue made of the 2 egg whites beaten with four level tablespoonfuls of sugar. Lightly brown in a slow oven (300 deg. F.) for 15 minutes. This is a different lemon pie and is delicious.

HEALTH SERVICE

OF THE CANADIAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION

Preventing Diphtheria

Diphtheria belongs to the group of communicable diseases as it is caused by a disease germ. It is a severe and frequently fatal disease, and its most dangerous attacks are made upon children from six minutes to five years of age.

The germ which causes diphtheria lodges in the throat and nose. When the person harbouring such germs coughs or sneezes or simply talks, he throws out little drops of secretions in which the germs are present in large numbers.

In order to convince yourselves that this happens, we would suggest that you stand in front of a clean mirror, and that you cough, sneeze or talk at the mirror. You will find that you throw out quite a spray of droplets, and as you gradually increase your distance from the mirror, you will discover also that the uncovered cough or sneeze sends these droplets a distance of several feet.

This then is the reason why you should always cover your nose and mouth with a handkerchief when you cough or sneeze. You can at least turn your face to the floor if the sneeze comes unexpectedly. You will also understand why you should not talk directly into a person's face or allow him to do the same to you.

These points have been mentioned because they show how, in our daily lives, we are almost sure to be exposed to disease germs. It follows that as we are frequently exposed to disease germs, we should, as far as it is possible, keep ourselves in such condition that we will be enabled to deal with any germs which may gain entrance into our bodies.

Diphtheria is one of the few diseases which we can prevent. The deaths, suffering and damage for which diphtheria is responsible each year can be prevented. This waste of human life, this injury to health need not occur because it is in our power to protect children against diphtheria.

By the injection of diphtheria toxoid, which is a harmless substance, the body of the child develops certain protective forces. When these protective forces are present in the body, then diphtheria germs are powerless to do any harm to that person.

Every child has the right to be healthy and to be protected from disease. We have the means to protect children from diphtheria. The question for each parent to ask is—What about my child? If all parents had their own children immunized against diphtheria, the disease would be completely wiped out.

Questions concerning Health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

Outremont Attractions

By Henry W. Sylvester
 Big League baseball provides thrills, adventure, romance and comedy for "Hot Curves", the Tiffany all-talking picture to be shown from Saturday to Tuesday, at this Theatre.

Benny Rubin and Pert Kelton are teamed for the laughs, whilst Rex Lease and Alice Day provide the leading romantic interest.

"Hot Curves" has more laughs than Babe Ruth has home runs to his credit. Its fun is irresistible in itself and Benny Rubin, with Pert Kelton keeping step with her own particular comedy brand, is as funny as only this Jewish tongue-twister can be. If he threw ball like he talked he'd have the game tied in knots, and it looks at the start as if he did, but he was only fooling. The climax of the story takes place on the diamond during the final game of the World Series. It is here that Benny and Rex distinguish themselves most, the worthy players that you will see.

The story on the whole is unfolded in delightful fashion, its scenes are well timed and interest-sustaining to the end. Its originality is viewed as a distinct departure from previous stories of this type, and is highly commendable as a well balanced vehicle for entertainment.

"He Knew Women" starring Lowell

Sherman and Alice Joyce, will be the second film offering on this program.

The story is adapted from "The Second Man" a Broadway success written by S. N. Behrman, acknowledged as one of the greatest American playwrights and author of a number of outstanding dramatic hits. It is a smart drama of modern manners, produced in notable fashion.

Sherman is seen as a polished man of the world—a role which suits him to perfection. Alice Joyce who appears opposite displays her magnificent charm, and confirms critics opinion of her as the "best dresser of screen players". She is seen on numerous occasions in elaborate costumes which sparkle amid effective settings.

Women should not be worshipped; it demoralizes them; they should be discreetly loved.—Mr. William Gerhardt.

Can't the paragraphs arrange with Roumania to have Carol crowned on Christmas?

STRATHCONA INTERMEDIATE TAKE OPENER

Whitewash Crack Twelve From Lower Canada College

Strathcona Intermediates got off to a good start in the Inter-scholastic football league last Tuesday when they decisively defeated Lower Canada seconds by a score of 8-0.

The speedy Strathcona backfield and hard hitting front line proved too strong a combination for the West end athletes who put up a very good display against the heavier team.

Strathcona secured two rouses in the first session when they were within striking distance of the collegians touch line due to fumbles recovered by the speedy wings.

Poor tackling on the part of the L.C.C. outsiders allowed Strathcona to get away for long gains which eventually resulted in a touchdown. Strathcona increased their score before the final whistle by booting for a rouse.

GYM FLOOR AT NORTH BRANCH 'Y' IN SPLENDID SHAPE

With tang in the air and leaves falling outside, the autumn activities at North Branch Y.M.C.A. are also in evidence. Various committees and clubs are holding their meetings to select officers and plan for more extensive programs in their respective divisions.

The gymnasium floor, after being repaired, oiled and lined, is in splendid shape for class work and games. The several grades of Boys' gym classes are all under way and the Young Men's Evening Class has also been started. The Business Men's groups will foregather next week and the Ladies Badminton Club will commence playing on Monday.

A number of men who took out summer membership for swimming privileges have converted their tickets into annual ones so that they may continue to enjoy comfortable swimming the year round.

During the past week new members have been added to the roll of both the Boys' and Men's Divisions of the "Y".

HELP! HELP! BACHELOR ATHLETES ARE SLIPPING

Wedding bells are sounding long and often these days, and they tolled the end of bachelor days for two well known figures in local athletics this week. On Tuesday night Cliff Melville, of Oxford Ave. captain of M.A.A.A. Basketball teams, and one of the best players in Canada, was married to Miss Marie Davies. Melville was a leading figure with the Maple Leaf softball team this summer.

Albert Edward Kenwood, better known as Pete, the man who year after year threatened to retire from his managerial duties with the Westward rugby teams, made the plunge on Wednesday night. Doug Kerr, who as coach of the Maroons was associated with Kenwood for nine or ten years in rugby, was at Pete's side when the procession marched up the church aisle.

Westward rugbyists showed their appreciation for Kenwood's devoted services for so many years when they presented him with a mantle clock on Tuesday night, just previous to the intermediate practice. Captain Art Allen made the presentation.

Miss Evelyn Easley is now Mrs. G. E. Kenwood.

We Take a Chance Again

It seems to be a quaint old custom in this paper to peer into the whys and wherefores of Canadian rugby, and out of the muddle of a multitude of teams sift out the ones that are apt to be sitting on top of the heap when a halt is called to the season's hostilities.

To Al T. Parsley this habit—perhaps a bad one—can be blamed. Four or five years ago he took on himself the role of prognosticator, and since then we have been picking them as we see them, irregardless of the flock of razzberries that are sure to be hurled our way. So once again we try our hand, but this time we make it short and sweet.

Say we "They all repeat". By that we line them up like this:

Intercollegiate:—Queens University.
 Interprovincial:—Hamilton Tigers.
 Intermediate Q.R.F.U.:—Westward A.A.A.
 Junior Q.R.F.U.:—M.A.A.A.

Just laugh that off.

There are a lot right now that will not agree with that selection. Not at the present date at any rate, especially the third named team.

In other years we have taken a fling at the Ontario Rugby Football Union, but enough's enough, and we've decided to play in our own backyard, for they're too far from home to keep our inexpert eye on.

As for the minor intercollegiate teams, they keep one buffaloe, here today, gone tomorrow, shuffled about so much that they seldom look alike in two successive games, particularly at McGill, where the seconds usually are the senior subs.

No Mildew on The Tigers Yet.

Picking four champions to retain their titles does not say that these clubs are faced with a set-up. Not by any means. A mighty tough season lies ahead of them.

To put any one team in the Big Four ahead of the Hamilton Tigers however, looks like absolute foolishness, however, when one takes a peep into the makeup of the Dominion Champions

The praises of Ernie Cox, Brian Timmis, "Pep" Leadley, Glenn Small, Alex Denman, Gear Elford, Ernie Rohmer, Cap Fear, Bert Gibb and numerous other Tiger stalwarts have been sung for a long time past, but these iron men of rugby have yet to hear their swan song.

Year in and year out they have been pummeling all opposition in Canadian rugby, and one could hardly pick out a "has-been" in this lot of veterans. Then pep them up with new blood, including Beano Wright, a football idol in this town, his brother Inkie, Timmy Langway, Ray Bowdway and a few more, and you have a combination of experience and well qualified youth to defend the Dominion title.

The Tigers have made mince-meat of all the opposition they have encountered from Ontario to the Pacific on their Western trip this Fall, but that does not mean a thing. Other Big Four teams probably would have done the same.

Montreal again looks strong, not on their rather painful exhibition match with C.N.R. last Saturday, but with the great array of talent they have available. They have looked that way for the past two years, too, but have just fallen short of their mark.

This year they present certain weaknesses that will not help the team. Quarterback looks doubtful with Bonny Haynes out of the game. "Buster" Fletcher and Wallie Sheppard are lined-up for the job, but both have yet to prove that they are equal to the occasion in Big Four battles. "Red" Moore will be a loss as well, with his aggressive backfield play, while "Huck" Welsh has not yet shown what kind of a backfield player he is without the powerful defense that the Hamilton club provided for him.

Toronto should again be strong, they always are, and are apt to upset a lot of dope, but Ottawa does not seem the crowd of old, and at this writing look as if they might already be counted out of the picture

Queens Are Pretty Well Intact

A lot of ballyhoo is coming out of Toronto this week about the strength of Varsity's team, thanks to their great work in beating Balmy Beach. They will need to be strong, for up at Kingston Harry Batstone is plodding away in a quieter manner than usual, fitting his tricolor champions for the college schedule.

That Kingston team should be no slouch, for few have departed, while others have stepped up that can ably fill their places, and make Queens an even stronger squad than they were last Fall.

McGill seems the hardest hit by the Freshman rule, and it would be hard to figure them in the running. McGill teams have been that way before however, and that is when they should be well considered. Major Forbes has put a lot of life into his squad, and they are apt to develop into a really smart team.

They did not show much against Westward, but to many did a lot better than expected. Give them another week or so and football fans should see a real revelation in the 1930 red team.

Canadian National Present Favorites

Canadian National right now are overwhelming favorites to run away with the Intermediate Q.R.F.U. title. Perhaps they will.

They got off to a whirlwind start against Ottawa Senators and the Winged Wheelers, and looked every bit as good as both senior squads. Their line is again powerful to a degree, their downfield men deadly tacklers, and their backfield well supplied with good material.

Westward have yet to do something impressive. Their ball handling was scandalous against McGill. They were penalized time and again for offside and interference, and these faults undoubtedly lost them the game. That sort of thing can be remedied.

On the other hand they were short on practice and condition, attributed to two weeks interference of the Fair.

They have a real job on their hands to work into a machine that can stop Canadian National, but the Dominion champions have the material available at Royal Avenue to do the trick, and for the next few weeks they want steady concentration on practice and scrimmage—and nothing else but.

Doug Kerr has a more powerful line than last season, two fine snappers in Art Allen and Jack Gormley, a strong kicker in Johnny Cloghesy, and possibly the smartest field general and all round player combined, in Canada, in his quarterback, Kenny Copland.

That's why we give Westward a slight edge over Dave Rollo's team, not on what the two teams have shown to date, but what they are capable of doing. Ottawa Rangers, too, might have a surprise to spring on entering the Q.R.F.U.

They grow their football players pretty tough in the Capital and its a cinch that they are not going to spend a lot of money putting a bunch of nitwits into a rough and tumble racket like the Q.R.F.U. for nothing.

The "Jotkus Juniors" Going Strong

The M.A.A.A. juniors have already shown a trick or two in the minor series of the Q.R.F.U.

Just associate the name Jotkus with a junior team, and it is a

OTTAWA UNIV. PLAYS LOYOLA HERE TOMORROW

Local Collegians Are Ready For Season's Opening

The Loyola College Intermediate football squad will officially open their grid-season tomorrow afternoon at the Loyola Campus when a representation of rugbyists from Ottawa University will visit Loyola to compete with the local twelve.

After a strenuous term of scrimmages, intensive training and work-outs every thing is now prepared for the Ottawa attack, which will be vigorous and difficult to thwart. The University griders will be led by Ed. Barnabe, star quarterback and captain, who has already shown rare aggressiveness and versatility by leading the Bytowners to victory over the Intermediate entry from Cornwall. The remainder of the Ottawa squad will be very much the same as that which opposed Loyola last year. In last fall's tussles Loyola proved victorious but this year with Ottawa appearing with a reconditioned and more experienced team the game should prove well worth while.

Coach Frank Shaughnessy was out on the Campus this afternoon giving the boys the final work-out before the tussles. About thirty five men appeared on the field and took part in the scrimmage. Some new formations have been introduced by Paul Haynes and will be tested out in reality tomorrow afternoon. The well known huddle and the 1-2-3 system, inaugurated at the College three years ago will be the back bone of the Maroon attack during the coming schedule.

The team that will oppose Ottawa tomorrow has not yet been completely chosen as there are about 4 men to every position on the field. Tim Slatery; pivot man and captain seems to be the only player able to count on his position as it is expected that Coach Haynes will put every one into the game in order to look over his candidates in real action.

The line will prove Loyola's strong point with such men as "Slug" Segatore, Charlie Letourneau, Andy O'Brien, John Tansey, and Laurie Shaughnessy supporting drawn and muscle to form one of the strongest, if not the strongest that Loyola has ever seen.

The back field positions are not proving a sleeping tonic to Coach Haynes. Far from it. They are causing a great source of worry to Paul Laurie Byrne, who showed fine play on the half-line last fall, will most likely fill his old position. His team-mates in this sector, however still remain a question. The most prominent one's being; McIlhonne, Buchley, Clough, Ryan, Dube, Darche, Daly and George.

It is remarked that the ocean is the only power on earth that can make a woman indifferent to her personal appearance.

HOME OF THE PERFECT TAUNTES

MOTHER WEEPS AS 4 CHILDREN SENT TO HOME

Parent Broken Hearted Ruling She is Incapable of Rearing Offspring

Denver, Col.—A heart-broken mother and her children were separated in the name of health and sanitation.

With tears rolling down her careworn face, Mrs. Edna Mae Davis heard Juvenile Judge Robert W. Steele commit her four small children to the state home.

The action followed an investigation by juvenile court officials and state humane officers at Mrs. Davis' home at 3545 Blake street.

In a tiny, tumble-down shack, which has been condemned by the city as unsafe and unsanitary authorities found Mrs. Davis and her family of tots, they told the court.

Unspeaking Conditions
The baby, eight months old, was born there.

The father of the family, Robert Davis, has left her and the family, Mrs. Davis said.

The oldest child is John six. There are two girls, two and four.

Conditions at the home were described as "unspeaking" by State Humane Officer E. N. Darwin, who conducted the investigation and filed the petition against Mrs. Davis.

"There is no water on the place," Darwin said, "and the most unsanitary conditions I have ever seen exist."

In issuing his decision to place the tots in the state custody, Judge Steele pointed out that Mrs. Davis had allowed the conditions to prevail for ten years.

Children Die to Run Away
Six children were born to Mrs. Davis by a previous marriage, juvenile authorities said. Three of the children died in infancy and three ran away from home and have never been found, they said.

Two other children, whom Mrs. Davis had adopted, were committed to the state home during Judge Ben Lindsey's administration.

The children will remain at the state home until further orders by the court.

Judge Steele told Mrs. Davis that she must prove to the court that she can properly care for the youngsters before they will be returned to her. "My one joy in life is my children, and now they are going to take them away," Mrs. Davis sobbed.

TO ENFORCE BYLAW

Wives of Civic Employes in Hamilton Must Not Work

Hamilton, Ont. — Unemployment, which has been felt in this city for over nine months now and which seems to be getting somewhat worse, has caused the civic authorities to take drastic steps with regard to civic employes holding dual positions or permitting their wives to work.

For some years there has been a bylaw in existence prohibiting the wives of civic employes from engaging in gainful occupations and also prohibiting all civic workers from undertaking any sidelines. In the past this regulation has not been enforced very rigidly but the word has gone out from the board of control that in future the bylaw is to be strictly enforced.

Complaints have been received that wives of city firemen and policemen, and in fact some wives of the clerical staff at the city hall, were working in stores and factories and keeping other unmarried girls from obtaining the work which they needed badly. Complaints were also made that civic employes were undertaking other work in the evenings, work which might have helped to relieve unemployment. This latter fault is considered particularly reprehensible in that the city council every summer as a special concession permits the city hall staff to quit work at 4 p.m. instead of 5.

Warning has been issued to all employes that instant dismissal will follow discovery of violation of these edicts.

Some members of the House seem determined to see that the Hansard staff has no reason to complain of unemployment.

The nearest thing to a puppet in our political system is a cabinet minister at the head of a great public office.—Mr. Bernard Shaw.

Arms and the Woman—Sleeves Come to the Fore

New Detail Is Emphasized

When you start out to buy your new fall wardrobe you will probably think that, really after all, many of the dresses are quite like those of last winter. The silhouette is very much the same, with the skirt slightly longer. Yet when you begin to examine these new frocks, look closely at the sleeves—that is where you will find a great deal that is new.

Leg O' Mutton Sleeve

Don't for a moment confuse this new leg o' mutton sleeve with the good old model that thrived in the gay 'nineties. This modern version is entirely different. The "leg" is much shorter and the fullness is placed just below the elbow.

Dolman Sleeve Again

Some wise person once said that there was nothing new under the sun and as a matter of fact, when you stop to think of it, there really isn't—witness the Dolman sleeve. It is presented this fall as a new note in the mode yet it is as old as can be to some of us. It is decidedly a fashion that should not be adopted by ladies who have never heard of the eighteen day diet because it will do awful things to their figures! The baggy underarm fullness does not tend to slenderize.

New Cuffs and Such

The swash-buckling, buccaners seem to have been the inspiration for the very long gauntlet cuff that reaches to the upper sleeve section. This type of sleeve frequently goes whimsy and is fastened with a row of buttons so that in a twinkling of the eye, it can be unbuttoned to make the gown appear more formal. Then there is the double gauntlet cuff that may be of the dress fabric or may be made of net edged with lace (the old familiar lingerie touch slightly modified).

Three-quarter length sleeves often have an under sleeve that is gathered into a narrow band. This is usually of lace or net and is a popular note for the younger set. Looped cuffs are smart, too. Then there is shirring—the trimming is used to give fullness above the cuffs. Ruffles are sometimes shirred on the outer arm.

WIFE'S TONGUE HELD IN CHECK BY COURT ORDER

Forbidden to Speak to Husband, Who Asks Divorce on Charge of Cruelty

Des Moines—A wife's tongue was stilled by court order recently. The decree was meted out by Judge Lester L. Thompson, who decided that if Mrs. Josephine Hawkins had any more talking to do she must direct her remarks at somebody else besides her husband, Nelson Hawkins.

The order was issued by Judge Thompson on application of Mr. Hawkins, who filed suit for divorce a short while before. Hawkins' counsel complained that Mrs. Hawkins had threatened her husband with death and had made abusive remarks that "shook" his nervous system.

Charges Wife with Cruelty
The application asked that Mrs.

Hawkins be restrained from speaking to the plaintiff or molesting him in other ways. Mrs. Hawkins was further ordered by the court to allow Hawkins to "pack his trunk in peace" without interference from Mrs. Hawkins. Hawkins declared that he wanted to leave the premises and his wife occupied, and that she had prevented him from obtaining his belongings. In his divorce petition, Hawkins charges his wife with cruel and inhuman treatment.

Fire Truck Bridal Coach For Young Windsor Couple
Windsor, Ont.—Hugh L. McPherson of the Border Cities Star, and addition to other hardships.
In conclusion he stated that he wanted to impress his listeners with the thought that they should not listen to those who depreciated the home. It was really the one place where the greatest freedom could be found. Another point he pressed was that if there must be some escape from the home into the world it should be the endeavor of all to make the world a better place of escape. "Don't quarrel about the rights of women; but make the world a better place for her to get out into."
Mr. Justice Fabre Surveyer was in the chair during the lecture which was held under the auspices of Loyola College.

Miss Lenore Pratt of the East Windsor city hall staff, decided to wed. They tried to keep the fact a secret from their friends, but their plans were discovered.
On the wedding morning, when they stepped from Our Lady of the Lake Church, they were welcomed by the East Windsor fire department, police department, city officials, members of the Border Cities Star staff and many others.
The bridal coach for the trip to the home of the bride was the big motor pumper of the fire department.
Mr. McPherson has the distinction of being the last member of the Women Be God Darned Club to succumb to the wiles of Cupid. The club was an organization of bachelor members of the Star editorial and reporter staff, and now all five have joined the ranks of the benedicts within a little more than two years.
