THE HUNTINGDON FAIR.

Took place on the 14th and 15th and attracted a good attendance. The morning of the first day opened badly, heavy rain, with a peal or two of thunder, setting in about daylight, and when it ceased the clouds looked threatening. It was not until 8 o'clock that the sky began to clear and that the day was to be fine was not assured for an hour later, when the sun broke out and the weather became all that could be desired. The morning shower, however, prevented many at a distance from starting, with the result that the attendance was several hundred less than last year. This was more than made up the second day, when the crowd was large. The show itself was hardly up to the mark, and indicated a falling-off in every regard, out side of live-stock, to previous exhibitions. In horses there was an improvement, but cattle and sheep no more than held their own, and there have been better exhibits of both. The wet morning kept many articles entered from being brought, which partly accounted for the inferior display in the building. In fruit, flowers and ladies' work there was a decided decline, and to one-half of the visitors these are the three most attractive features of the show. The following is a list of the prizes awarded:

CORRECTION.
Filled Cloth: 1st W. E. Anderson instead of D. White.
There were 17 entries of pedigreed Clydesdales, which, by no means, represents the number in the district, the Bells themselves having more than that in their stable. All entered did not come forward, Mr Ness, who had sent in the names of 5, being unable to attend, much to the disappointment of those who came expecting to see part of his late importation.
In aged stallions, Banker was placed 1st and subsequently took the prize as the best stallion on the ground, Black Warrior 2d, and Henry Irving 3rd. There were only 2 broodmares, Jennie of Netherleugh and Mr Somerville's. The judges preferred the former on account of her colt, a large one off Old Times. The 3-year old stallions were ranked thus, 1st Lockerby Lick weighing 1845 lb, 2d General Mite, and 3rd Dutchman, sired by Endymion. The two colts that failed to get prizes, Cumming's and McNaughton's, were thought by the onlookers to be discriminated against. Of the 2-year old fillies, one was bought from Ness and the other, sired by Endymion from the mare owned by Mr Brims.
The year-old horse-colt, off Henry Irving, weighed 1130 lb, and the yearling fillies were both sired by Forward.
In the cross-bred heavy-drafts there was a large competition, and the several classes furnished the best features of the show. The ring was well filled by the stallions, and there was trouble in making selections. A fine-bodied horse, off Break O'Day, was given the red ticket, Conqueror, which showed well despite his 18 years, the blue, and Mr Somerville's Lansdowne, off Sir Colin, the white. The 1st and 2nd old fillies made a splendid class, several weighing 1400 lb and over. The 1st is off Sir Colin and the second off Lord Clyde. The 1st and 2nd year-olds are off Conqueror and the 3rd off Banker. The teams were equal to any ever shown on these grounds. The Bell's team of buckskin bays, weighing 3200 lb, off Prince Royal, are well-mated and well-fitted; the 2nd prize were a pair of Glendairs, and the 3rd to a pair of Princes, weighing 3277 lb.
The Bells took all 3 prizes. The foals off these fine mares were lost from the penkine, which disease entailed the death of 8 colts and 1 mare, and a loss of custom to the stallions which is estimated altogether to have deprived the Bell brothers of $7000. The disease was introduced into their stables by a team that had been bred along the lines. In brood mares Alex McDougall led with a Prince Royal mare, 1577 lb, and a Henry Irving colt at her foot, 670 lb, deemed the best on the ground. The 2d prize mare, 1587 lb, is also off Prince Royal, with a colt, 560 lb, off Old Times, and the 3rd a Sir Colin mare with a Lord Clyde colt. In 3-year old mares, one weighing 1540 lb off Banker led, succeeded by one off Endymion with a colt at her foot off General Mite. Although she happens to have a colt, the Bells do not approve of mares so young breeding, believing that it not only stops the growth but entails sterility.

The judging on the heavy-drafts caused as much dissatisfaction as it did last year.
The general purpose class was unusually large, and gave the judges no end of trouble, for the choice was between grade Clydesdales that happened to pass the weigh-plates and horses that in bone and action were really lightdrafts. In stallions it was particularly perplexing to make a choice, for among the 16 were two excellent thoroughbreds. The choice of the judges was a neat little horse off Sir Colin. The 3rd is off Mr Ness's Sir William.
Both brood mares and fillies were numerous and good. The 1st prize mare is off Sir Colin and the 2nd off Conqueror, both with colts sired by Banker. The 3rd is a Prince Royal with a Forward colt. The 1st and 2nd two-year old fillies are off Endymion, as are also the 1st and 3rd year-olds, the 2nd being from Black Warrior. The horse colts were all from Bell stock, the 1st and 3rd two-year old off Endymion, and the 2nd off Conqueror. The 1st prize year-old is off Prince Royal and the other 2 off Banker. The teams were very good. The judging of the roadsters on the second day attracted great crowds, and they were an improvement on past years, there being fewer attempts to pass off general-purpose horses as drivers. The mares were the best class and the society has never had as creditable a display.
A dispute as to the ownership of the mare awarded 1st prize, causes the withholding of the awards for a few days. The competition in saddle-horses, compared with former years, was surprisingly large. The introduction of a two-foot hurdle as a test of their being saddle-horses proved too much for the majority, and Mr Tees, as at Havelock, came in easily first with his veteran grey. The three ladies who competed under a pretty show of horsemanship and were loudly applauded. Miss Gardiner rode her powerful black with customary ease and grace, and from a mishap she met, in her foot slipping from the stirrups, she recovered with a spirit that was admirable. Miss Pringle's mount, a beautiful sorrel, was much admired, and little Miss Jennie rode with a confidence and abandon that marks her out as the winner of future first prizes.
In cattle the strongest class was the Ay-shires, and visitors for the first time must have been surprised to see so many of the breed and of so high quality at a local show. Although Mr Holdsworth lost, from milk-fever, his old prize-taker, he again came 1st in cows with a very fine animal, but was unable to enter for the herd. Mr Watson had a fine selection, and his herd was much admired. Durhams were few and included no new blood; Mr Brims' cow remaining the best in the class. Mr Sangster was on hand with his Holsteins. The old bull weighs 2040 lb and as good-tempered as he is big. In year-old bulls he had competition in the animal bought by the Messrs Brown of Elgin in Ontario. The Holstein grades were examined with interest, and took several prizes against grade Durhams and Ayshires. The heifer calf was particularly good, and had that smoothness the lack of which in the pure-breds is a defect in the eyes of many farmers. The grade cows were hard to beat, and Muir took into the ring a herd of 5 of the most even and best milkers that have been seen here and winning the prize for the 8th year in succession. His father's bossie, which beat all-comers for a number of years, was placed second to a beautiful 4-year old. Much interest was taken in the Pooled Angus heifer and yearling bull, which Andrew Gilmore of Elgin employed Mr Buchanan to purchase for him in Scotland, and which, landed in Huntingdon, cost him $700. They are beautiful animals, smooth to touch and sight, shapely and heavy in the body, with short legs, and deep black in color. That they will be prime beef cattle is apparent, and Mr Gilmore hopes they will hold their own for milk, they being of a family with the milking strain. As the advent of this valuable breed in our district is an event in its history, we give their pedigrees:

exhibited.
It will thus be seen that the Bull is descended from some of the best blood in the country, combining in his pedigree strains of three of the most distinguished Pooled families in Scotland, namely, the Ericas, the Mayflowers of Montblanton, and the Kates of Glenbury.

1st prize at Edinburgh in 1859 as a yearling heifer and 1st prize at Aberdeen as one of a pair of heifers, and was bought by Mr Walker, Montblanton, at the Tillyfour sale in 1860 for 55 guineas, being the second highest price at the sale.

1886, and very fine Fameuse, Alexanders, St. Lawrence, and Duchesses were shown. Mr Erskine had no competition in the best collection and did not need to fear any, for his assessment was good both as to name and quality.
He had 34 varieties. The grapes were good, though smaller in bunch and berry than in previous years, for the heat and drought this season was too forcing. The flowers were disappointing like in quantity and in the absence of novelties. The cut-bloom was abundant and satisfying.
Amid the flowers the Huntingdon Organ company had several of their instruments, which are working their way in public estimation, and selling freely not only in this neighborhood but at a distance, Mr Cornwall having disposed of a large number in the Maritime provinces.
In bread there was a fine competition of excellent loaves, an indication that good bread is no rarity on many of our farmers' tables. The flour of the 1st prize bread came from McDonald & Robb's mill. Maple sugar and syrup were good; in grained sugar there were plates white as crushed. The 1st prizes in honey went as at Havelock. Preserves and pickles showed no diminution and the judges had their hands full.
Compared with last year there were over a hundred fewer entries of fancy work. Still, the display was ample, and comprised much that was tasteful in design and skilful in execution. An olive-green table scarf was agreed upon as the best piece of work, and next to it three sofa pillows. As every printer knows to his annoyance, there are people who will persist in writing verses although they have not a scintilla of poetic fire, and so there are amiable young ladies who will draw and paint in whom the artistic faculty is absent. The pictures we would rather pass over.
Of domestic manufactures there was a good display, especially of rag-carpets, of which there were over 20.
In point of attendance the fair was equal to any of its predecessors. On the first day there were fully 5000 people on the grounds and on the second about 4000. The special train from Montreal brought 500 and counting both days, the railway lauded 1000. Among the visitors were a number of Montreal gentlemen, who saw the fair for the first time. Mr Scriver and Mr Holton greeted their constituents, and both gentlemen were in good health and spirits.
The fair passed without untoward event until its close, when, as Mr Somerville, who lives in Fort Covington, was engaged in getting a sheep that he had bought, on his wagon the horse started and he fell backward on the ground.
He was unconscious for some time, but recovered sufficiently to go home. The band played and the people enjoyed themselves socially.
One man was ejected from the grounds for selling liquor. The ladies of the Methodist church furnished a capital dinner, taking in both days $689, which enabled them to contribute $500 towards paying for the parsonage. The receipts of the society were:
Tickets at gates 1st day..... $663
" " " 2nd "..... 447
Rent of dining-hall and of tents..... 222 $1332
The number of members is 584. There were 2491 entries and $1360 was paid out in premiums. That the secretary, Mr MacLaren, and his assistant, Mr Dewick, were careful and accurate, was shown in the fewness of complaints.
The prospect of rain caused the crowd to disperse early on Thursday afternoon, and when a drizzling shower set in at 4 o'clock the grounds were almost deserted.

AN UNLOOKED FOR DISASTER OVERTOOK Mr Ness of Howick, while exhibiting his Clydesdales at Sherbrooke. On the 13th, at the close of the exhibition for the day, the horses were locked up in their stalls for the night, and watchmen left in charge. At eleven o'clock fire burst out in one of the stalls, and running on the straw and hay, in a few minutes the entire row, some 400 feet, were in a blaze.
The watchmen, too few in number, and others burst open the doors of the several stalls as quickly as possible and set the horses loose, many of them by this time frantic from injuries inflicted by the flames. The night was pitch-dark and the scene that ensued, of some forty heavy horses, many of them stallions, rushing madly up and down the grounds, whinnying or snealing with pain, was a terrible one. Before the poor brutes could be caught they were overheated, and a new danger had to be faced, for they were liable to incur inflammation from cold. They were rubbed and walked to cool off, but, notwithstanding, several are laid up from their exposure. None of Mr Ness's horses were burned to death, all being got out of their stalls before the fire had obtained complete mastery, but one of them, Golden Guinea, was so terribly burned that he was shot to end his agony.
Marathon escaped with burns on the head, neck, and along the back, and the veterinary surgeon holding out hopes of curing him, he was spared. The Maid of Erskine, a two-year old filly, was badly burned all over the body, but as her wounds did not seem to be deep and she could eat a little, she too was spared, and with Marathon is now under treatment at Sherbrooke. When they will be fit to be removed home is uncertain, and it is very doubtful if either will recover sufficiently to be marketable.
Mr Ness returned to Howick on Friday with the 5 horses that had escaped unharmed. Great sympathy is felt for him throughout the district, for his enterprise and skill in improving our breed of heavy horses is acknowledged. A subscription was started at Sherbrooke, and the governor-general headed the list with $200, but the amount raised, compared with the loss, which is estimated at $20,000, there being no fewer than 29 animals burned, is trifling. Mr Bos lost 7 horses, but, fortunately, he is a wealthy man, and so are most of the other exhibitors, among them the Hon Mr Pope, who lost a twin-sister to Mr Somerville's mare. Of the origin of the fire nothing certain can be ascertained. One conjecture is that a lamp exploded, but as there was no restriction as to smoking in the stables, the likelihood is that either of the renowned incendiaries, Mr A. Pipo or A. Cigar, Esq., is responsible for the calamity.
Mr Ness's loss is easy to estimate, as he had refused offers of $2000 each for Marathon and Golden Guinea, and the filly was worth at least $600. Golden Guinea, was one of his late importations, a 4-year old, and a horse that was hard to get to buy in Scotland. He was twice in the short list of five at the Glasgow stallion show, an honor only The Laird of Bellair, now owned by Mr Ness, and himself, could lay

HUNTINGDON COUNTY COUNCIL.

This council met on the 13th; all the councillors were present, with the warden, W. B. Johnson, Esq., in the chair. Father Gagnon of Ste Barbe and a number of his parishioners were present.

After reading the decision of Judge Bélanger in the Ste Barbe case, the question of conforming to that decision or of carrying the case to the Court of Appeals was discussed by the council.

Coun. BARR said he understood, when the case was instituted, that it should be carried to Appeals, as otherwise it was a mere waste of money taking the present action, seeing that Judge Bélanger had already given an adverse decision on this very question.

The WARDEN—No such thing was understood. Coun. BARR—I don't know what the feeling of the council regarding this matter is, but personally, I should like to obtain the opinion of a bench of judges on this point. All the legal advice we had was to that effect and was favorable.

The WARDEN and Coun. WALKER here interrupted the speaker, declaring that all the advice had been adverse to their claims, and in favor of Ste Barbe.

Coun. BARR recapitulated all that had been done by the council to prevent Ste Barbe's becoming a municipality and reminded the council that it had appointed a committee to prepare a petition, which was to be laid before the local legislature, and which showed that there are only about 4000 acres of fairly good land in the new parish, while Elgin, the smallest township in the county, has 16,000 acres of good land.

Are we, as a county council, this day going to constitute a portion of the Teafeld, with only a few hundred acres of good land, into a municipality? We must bear in mind that we are dealing with one of the most important matters that has ever been before a county council in this province, and that the eyes of the English-speaking people of this province are on us this day. I hope this council will not take a rash step, and establish a precedent that may have a most unsatisfactory effect on the townships of this province. I, for one, believe the proceedings in the Ste Barbe matter to be irregular from beginning to end, and am opposed to Mr Perron taking a seat at this board.

He argued that, apart from the gross injustice that would be done the English-speaking settlers along the lake shore, by this action the council would be doing an injustice to the Ste Barbe people themselves in allowing them to burden themselves with the costs of a separate municipal existence.

A VOICE—That's their own look-out. Coun. BARR—Even St. Anicet, through the then mayor, Mr Masson, protested against this division when it first came up, and for much the same reasons as I have mentioned. I don't see that because our then Warden made a mistake in helping them to become a parish, that we should perpetuate that.

Coun. DUPUIS—We of Ste Anicet protested then because Ste Barbe wanted more than their share of the public money, and we would oppose them yet, if they had not come to our terms.

Coun. EDWARDS—So it is a matter of dollars and cents with you? As long as you keep your money, they may go. Coun. DUPUIS—I did not say so. But we were right to resist any unjust claims.

A discussion here took place on the costs already incurred, which were estimated at $400, and the probable cost of appeal, which was put at $500.

Coun. BARR then moved, seconded by Coun. EDWARDS: That the case be carried to the Court of Appeals.

Coun. DUPUIS (excitedly)—I here file my written objection that St. Anicet will not pay a single cent of these costs. I would like any one to tell me what possible harm it can do to make Ste Barbe a municipal parish.

Coun. EDWARDS—I will tell you. If you admit that the Bishop has the power to mark out parishes wherever he likes in the townships we shall soon have our county knocked into a cocked hat. Once before we had the county cut in two by the erection of a parish at Franklin, and we should soon be in a like fix again if we do not fight it as we did then.

The WARDEN took the same view of the case as Judge Bélanger had done, and thought that the time to have objected to all this, was when St. Anicet was formed into a parish, and not now, so many years after. It is not a township, but an old parish that is now subdivided.

Coun. EDWARDS—I beg to differ from the Warden on this point. When St. Anicet was formed, it was called "St. Anicet de Goulinchester," just as you have now the parish "St. Joseph de Huntingdon" or "St. Agnes de Dundee," and yet these are not municipalities, and neither was the other until long after.

The WARDEN, continuing, said he thought it was madness to appeal. The people of the county did not want to spend any more money. The appeal would cost them $5000 before they were done with it, and everybody was against spending more money. As regards the Old Country farmers in Ste Barbe, we may sympathize with them, but we must not let our sympathy blind us to the interests of the county as a whole. And what do we want to appeal for, and have Ste Barbe coming on us for a fine of $2000 in 15 days for not admitting this man to a seat at our board?

Couns Walker and Edwards said it was impossible to claim the $2000 if they decided to appeal.

Coun. DUPUIS quite agreed with the warden, and was sure that the feeling around here was against spending any more money.

Couns. BARR and EDWARDS said such was not the feeling in the municipalities they represented, and twitted Coun. Dupuis on St. Anicet's change of face in this Ste Barbe question.

Coun. DUPUIS—And here you want to go to appeal without taking any advice on it. Coun. EDWARDS—You are speaking about something you know nothing about. How do you know what advice I have got on the point?

Coun. DUPUIS—The council has none, at any rate. Coun. EDWARDS—The council has. And why don't you say so? You appear in 1882 against the very point you are now favoring!

Coun. DUPUIS—I tell you, it was on account of the money; Ste Barbe wanted more than its share. Coun. WALKER—As far as regards Ste Barbe I am quite willing it should be recognized as a municipality, and am therefore against such an appeal; but should any attempt in future be made to cut up the townships in this way, I would be in favor of resisting it to the last.

After some further conventional debate,

HINCHINBROOK COUNCIL.

This council met on the 5th inst., members all present except Councillors McWilliams and Muir.

Moved by Coun. Parise, seconded by Coun. Leahy: That Alexander McKay, special superintendent, having reported that Richard Boyd has completed his contract of repairing the McCurry bridge and breakwater, that he be paid the contract price for the same, viz. $147.50, and Alex. McKay $9 for superintending the same.

Mr. John Coulter reported, that he had let out the contract for the erection of a new bridge, known as Coulter bridge, to George Winter, for the sum of $160, and that the work was completed.

Moved by Coun. MacLaren, seconded by Coun. Cameron, that Mr. Winter be paid said sum and John Coulter $107.75 for superintending and other costs.

Moved by Coun. Leahy, seconded by Coun. MacLaren: That the following bills be paid, viz.: Angus McNaughton, $2.87 for lumber and spikes for the Gilbert bridge, and a plow point, Henry Rennie's bill of $39.79 for rebuilding the Black bridge, James Feeny $5, for repairing Vance bridge after the flood in the spring.

Moved by Coun. MacLaren, seconded by Coun. Parise: That George Goldie be appointed to get the necessary repairs done to the Rockburn bridge, and John McCormick be notified to get the necessary repairs done to the bridges in his district.

A rate of 2 mills on each dollar was levied on all rateable property in the municipality for repairing and building bridges.

At the meeting of the Chateaugay county council last week, the application of the grant of $2500 by the provincial legislature to deepening Norton Creek above Nichol's mill, was the subject of discussion. The government insists, before paying over the money, that a guarantee be given that a sufficient sum will be supplied by those interested to complete the work after the $2500 is expended.

This would bear hardly upon many of the proprietors whose lands would be benefited, as they are poor. The engineer who visited the locality for the government thought it would take $5000 to lower the rock 4 feet. The council appointed a superintendent to prepare a process-verbal for the work, and a good deal depends upon his report. There are those who think the $2500 would deepen the creek sufficiently to drain the lands at present overflowed.

On the 8th, while the family of Napoleon Harte, who lives half a mile west of Dupuis corners, St. Anicet, were in the field picking hops, the dwelling-house took fire from some unknown cause and was totally destroyed with the greater part of its contents. Insured in the Mutual for $200.

The harrows mentioned in last Gleaner at Havelock show, were not Cunningham's. They were invented, made and owned by me. SIMON RENNIE, Franklin Centre, Sept. 17.

NEWS BY ATLANTIC CABLE. Dublin, September 9.—Mitchellstown, where the case of the government against William O'Brien, under the coercion act, was to have been heard to-day, was crowded all day with civilians, police and soldiers. Mr. O'Brien did not appear to answer the summons. The service of the summons was proved, and the judge granted a warrant for Mr. O'Brien's arrest.

An open air indignation meeting was subsequently held. Henry Labouchere and others made speeches denouncing the government for its course in regard to Ireland, and a conflict occurred. The police were attempting to protect a government stenographer when a fight took place, and the crowd repulsed the police, sixty in number, several of whom were struck with sticks and stones and severely injured. The police obtained reinforcements and returned to the scene. They fired six shots and two men were instantly killed. Several other persons were wounded. The rioters then dispersed.

Dublin, September 15.—Full details have been received of a terrible affair at Lisdoonvarna on Sunday night. The police, having learned that a party of moonlighters would visit the house of a farmer named Sexton, made arrangements for their capture. Constable Whelehan, accompanied by a dozen other officers, went to the place designated. Five of the force were placed in Sexton's house and the others in a shed near by, while Whelehan himself acted as sentinel in front of the house. When the moonlighters appeared on the scene the door of the house was opened and three of them rushed in with loaded rifles in their hands. They were in the act of searching for Sexton when the police secreted in an adjoining room rushed out and a fierce encounter ensued. Two moonlighters who, among others, had been left outside now tried to make their escape, but the police placed in the shed prevented this and drove them into the house. While the fight was proceeding in the house two other outlaws attacked Constable Whelehan on the outside. Police Constable Connell ran to Whelehan's assistance, but was immediately knocked down by a blow from a clubbed rifle and rendered insensible. Whelehan was quickly dispatched, and the body, with a loaded revolver lying alongside, was afterwards found some distance from the scene of the murder and removed to Sexton's house. Connell was also carried to the house, and at last accounts was recovering. Whelehan was a highly esteemed officer. He had been twenty-two years in the service. He was detailed to attend the Prince of Wales during the latter's visit to Ireland. The Prince at the time presented him with a souvenir in the shape of a gold pencil case. Two of the moonlighters taken into custody are sons of well-to-do farmers, and the others are laborers. All of them—ten in number—were taken to Galway and placed in goal to night. A crowd had assembled on their arrival, but no sympathy was manifested for them. It is stated that the leader in the attack on Whelehan has turned Queen's evidence. Farmer Sexton, whom the gang had meant to murder, had been summoned by the league and censured and he had promised to surrender his farm, but he did not do so. The gang, therefore, who entered his house were about to shoot him when the police, who lay in ambush, surprised them.

Belfast, September 18.—A party of Orangemen, while passing through Greenacole, a town near Belfast, last night, had an encounter with Nationalist residents. Three policemen, who tried to quell the disturbance, were stoned and driven away. The local authorities, being unable to restore order, sent a detachment to this city, asking for aid, and a force of police was accordingly sent to Greenacole. The reinforcements had the effect of awing the rioters, and peace was soon established. Ten of the principal participants were arrested. In accordance with the announcement, a meeting of Nationalists was held at Bandon to-day. A government reporter was present and

This council met on the 5th inst., members all present except Councillors McWilliams and Muir.

Moved by Coun. Parise, seconded by Coun. Leahy: That Alexander McKay, special superintendent, having reported that Richard Boyd has completed his contract of repairing the McCurry bridge and breakwater, that he be paid the contract price for the same, viz. $147.50, and Alex. McKay $9 for superintending the same.

Mr. John Coulter reported, that he had let out the contract for the erection of a new bridge, known as Coulter bridge, to George Winter, for the sum of $160, and that the work was completed.

Moved by Coun. MacLaren, seconded by Coun. Cameron, that Mr. Winter be paid said sum and John Coulter $107.75 for superintending and other costs.

Moved by Coun. Leahy, seconded by Coun. MacLaren: That the following bills be paid, viz.: Angus McNaughton, $2.87 for lumber and spikes for the Gilbert bridge, and a plow point, Henry Rennie's bill of $39.79 for rebuilding the Black bridge, James Feeny $5, for repairing Vance bridge after the flood in the spring.

Moved by Coun. MacLaren, seconded by Coun. Parise: That George Goldie be appointed to get the necessary repairs done to the Rockburn bridge, and John McCormick be notified to get the necessary repairs done to the bridges in his district.

A rate of 2 mills on each dollar was levied on all rateable property in the municipality for repairing and building bridges.

At the meeting of the Chateaugay county council last week, the application of the grant of $2500 by the provincial legislature to deepening Norton Creek above Nichol's mill, was the subject of discussion. The government insists, before paying over the money, that a guarantee be given that a sufficient sum will be supplied by those interested to complete the work after the $2500 is expended.

This would bear hardly upon many of the proprietors whose lands would be benefited, as they are poor. The engineer who visited the locality for the government thought it would take $5000 to lower the rock 4 feet. The council appointed a superintendent to prepare a process-verbal for the work, and a good deal depends upon his report. There are those who think the $2500 would deepen the creek sufficiently to drain the lands at present overflowed.

On the 8th, while the family of Napoleon Harte, who lives half a mile west of Dupuis corners, St. Anicet, were in the field picking hops, the dwelling-house took fire from some unknown cause and was totally destroyed with the greater part of its contents. Insured in the Mutual for $200.

The harrows mentioned in last Gleaner at Havelock show, were not Cunningham's. They were invented, made and owned by me. SIMON RENNIE, Franklin Centre, Sept. 17.

A dreadful railway accident occurred at Doncaster, England, on the 16th. While a train, crowded with excursionists to see a horse-race, was standing on a crossing, an express train on the other line dashed into it, and fairly cut its way through, killing outright 26 and wounding 60. The cause of the accident is uncertain and arose from defective signals or brakes failing to work.

CANADA.

Thanksgiving day has been fixed for Thursday, the 17th of November.

Ottawa, Sept. 18.—Latest advices received at the Fisheries department show that the Canadian schooners have had an exceptionally good and remunerative season's fishing. The fishermen are satisfied with the protection that has been given them this season. It is understood that the protection service will be maintained as long as the fishing lasts. The mackerel run is expected to continue well on to October, and when it is over some of the cruisers may be laid up for the remainder of the season.

Ottawa, Sept. 17.—Five book agents, collectors for "Pictouque Canada," were set upon in Buckingham village, Ottawa county, to-day, and made to disgorge some notes which certain of the farmers had signed, it is alleged, without knowing the nature of the documents. The agents slipped out after their rough experience. Mill owners at the Chaudiere fear that if rain does not come soon, and that abundantly, the saw mills will have to close down, owing to the low water. The Ottawa river at the present time is 4 inches lower than the lowest records going back fifty years. Men for the woods are very scarce and lumbermen who are late in hiring are going to be short-handed. Mr. Noah Gareau, one of the upper Ottawa lumbermen, came down to hire 30 or 40 men and could find only three who were willing to go, although he offered the highest wages.

Quebec, Sept. 14.—The shrine of Ste Anne de Beaurpre, about 26 miles below Quebec on the north shore of the St. Lawrence, was to-day the scene of an imposing and very remarkable demonstration. According to previous announcement, Cardinal Taschereau, in accordance with an authorization from the Sovereign Pontiff, solemnly crowned the new statue of Ste Anne. Everybody has heard reports of some of the many hundred miracles alleged to have been wrought upon invalids and others who supplicated St. Anne for her powerful intercession. If the reader visits the Church of St. Anne de Beaurpre, which is even larger than the Basilica at Quebec, he will find hundreds of crutches there laid aside by parties hitherto lame or paralyzed, and who have leaped away from the shrine of the saint cured, or believing themselves cured through her efficacy. The Redemptorist Fathers in charge of the mission represented some time ago at Rome, through the medium of their superior, the numerous miracles wrought by the saint, and the Pope in a brief, addressed to Cardinal Taschereau, authorized the special crowning of the statue of Ste Anne in her shrine at St. Anne de Beaurpre. There were probably no fewer than 10,000 people present at to-day's ceremony. Besides Cardinal Taschereau there were present the Archbishop of Ottawa, the bishops of Rimouski, Sherbrooke, Chicoutimi, St. Hyacinthe, Nicolet and Pontiac and some 200 members of the clergy. The large church was crowded to suffocation and yet unable to contain anything like the whole of those who sought admission. Two crowns of solid gold for the crowning of the statue stood upon a table in the chancel, and before the singing of mass they were solemnly blessed by his eminence, who then celebrated a grand pontifical mass. Sermons were preached in English by Archbishop Duhamel, of Ottawa, and in French by Bishop Racine, of Sherbrooke. Both extolled the efficacy of St. Anne in intercession in Heaven and in powers of healing upon earth, and claimed that the saint was deserving of the homage, the trust and the veneration of the Canadian people, whose devotion to religion and the church from the earliest days of the infant colony of New France was warmly expatiated upon. The increase in the pilgrimages to Bonne Ste Anne was also referred to, and it was said that last year 100,000 pilgrims visited the shrine. At the conclusion of the mass the coronation of the statue took place, and in consequence of the inability of the church to hold anything like the entire congregation, was performed on a raised platform erected for the purpose outside the entrance. There was a procession of the clergy and bishops, the cardinal bringing up the rear. Four priests carried the statue of the saint to the platform and deposited it before the cardinal. The statue, which is about 6 feet in height, represents the saint in old age, carrying her daughter, the blessed Virgin Mary, in her arms. It was made in Munich and presented to the church by a wealthy Belgian family. Monseigneur Legate, Vicar-General, read in latin the Papal brief authorizing the coronation of the statue in consequence of the miracles wrought at the shrine of the saint, and to encourage her veneration by the Canadian people. The golden crowns were then presented to his Eminence, who in the observance of due precedences, took first the smaller one and laid it upon the head of the juvenile Virgin Mary, immediately thereafter, laying the larger crown upon the head of Ste Anne. Both crowns have been obtained by the contributions of the faithful, and are of very great value, so much so in fact, that their cost is not to be given to the public, lest it should excite a temptation to robbery. As the act of coronation was performed by Cardinal Taschereau, guns were fired, bells were rung, and the brass bands clanged out their most joyous music. Then a solemn "Te Deum" was sung in the open air, in which most of the vast assemblage joined. The statue as crowned by his eminence was carried back again into the church amid great rejoicing, and placed upon its proper pedestal in the nave in front of the chancel. Around it will be massed the crutches now found in another part of the church. The most intense enthusiasm prevailed at this period, and the scene which occurred is well nigh indescribable and must have been reiterated to be believed. Numbers of people reiterated the cry, thrice repeated: "Ste Anne, help of Christians, pray for us." A number of sick and afflicted people, for the most part helpless little boys, had thrown themselves or been carried in the way of the statue, and were imploring the saint for relief. At the approach of the Cardinal they eagerly reached out and appealed for the blessing of the prince of the church, which his Eminence appeared only too ready to bestow, lifting his hands in episcopal fashion over them as he tarried on his way and passed on. The proceedings terminated with the veneration of a relic of Ste Anne preserved in the church. This relic, which is claimed to be a portion of a finger-joint of the saint, was first presented to the cardinal by one of the Redemptorist Fathers in charge of the church, and was venerated by his Eminence, who pressed it to his lips. It was subsequently venerated by the bishops, clergy and people. One of the cannons used in saluting, exploded prematurely, wounding two men so terribly that they are not expected to live.
