YUKON GOLD FIND RIVALS KLONDIKE

AUTOMOBILE ROAD

As a Consequence Recommends Overland Highway

DAWSON, Y.T., Dec. 14.—(Associated Press.)— Winter operations on the Yukon Gold Company's [illegible] group of claims on Keno Hill reveal, according to mail received from the Mayo district, silver deposits rivalling in richness the Klondike famous placer gold of Eldorado and Bonanza. One new vein of solid galena eight feet wide is reported to have been opened on the [illegible] claim near to Discovery, and another new rich vein is reported on the Keno claim. One sample of ore ran 14,000 ounces of silver to the ton, while 5,000 ounces to the ton and five foot veins are commonly reported. The average of the ore is more than 200 ounces to the ton.

As a consequence of the development and travel the gold commission has wired a recommendation to Ottawa for the construction of a $100,000 overland automobile road. Application also is being made to Ottawa for a railway to Keno, either from Mayo Landing or Gordon's Landing on Stewart river.

Several of the most prominent geologists of the country who have spent the summer in the district, believe it will rival and even eclipse Cobalt. Provisions which are now barely enough for the 300 persons at Mayo Camp are most expensive.

TARIFF AGAINST CANADA OPPOSED

Wall Street Journal Shows Folly of Striking at Dominion

GRAIN MARKETS

Also Reminds the United States Farmers Where They Sell

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 — Canadian Press)—Discussing the project of tariff on Canadian wheat, the Wall Street Journal this morning says:

"This is a time when farmers should fervently pray to be delivered from their legislative friends. Schemes to help them in Congress are multiplying as rapidly as the nature's farm pests. One of the most menacing is a proposal to shut out imports of Canadian wheat.

"At a time when wheat is going from this country at the rate of 40,000,000 bushels a month, and Bradstreet's report shows that 230,000,000 bushels have been shipped from both countries, while Europe is steadily buying, it is well for people to think of the future.

IMPORTS FROM CANADA.

"Farmers have not suffered loss through imports from Canada. But they might suffer irreparable loss if a tariff wall were raised against that country. The loss of an important market might result. No farmer can prosper unless he can find a market for his products. He will not find it among other farmers. The manufacturing centres and foreign countries furnish his market for surplus products. Without them his work for the year will go to naught.

"Two-thirds the wheat crop is marketed to domestic consumers who depend upon wages and salaries to pay for it. The other third goes to foreign countries. Wheat is only an example of the marketing of farm products. Thus the farmer is directly dependent upon industry and foreign trade. Take away either of them and his market is depressed.

"The farmer cannot survive without industry, and industry is dependent upon the markets. Next to the United Kingdom, Canada is of more importance to American industry than any other country on the face of the globe. Exchange rate runs heavily against Canada; yet in the ten months ending with October that country bought goods from the United States to the value of $841,000,000. By the end of the year the total should be above a billion dollars. Every wage earner and every farmer is interested in this.

"In the same period Canada sold to us $489,000,000, of which wheat was a very, very small portion. By the year's end the country will owe us $500,000,000 on balance. A customer who buys almost twice as much as he sells should be preserved.

"Canada's idea of the outlook may be inferred from the fact that the present price of wheat at Winipeg is considerably higher than at Chicago.

CHRISTMAS MAIL DUE NEXT WEEK

Reaches St. John from Old Country by Victorian December 19

The eagerly watched for Christmas mail from overseas is due to arrive at St. John on December 19, when the R. M. S. Victorian steams into port with 4,840 sacks of holiday greetings and packages to be distributed throughout the Dominion, said R. Lapraitie, superintendent of the Railway Mail Services of the Postal Department, this morning.

Three hundred bags will be dropped off for the Maritime Provinces, but the rest will be brought here and despatched from this city to Ontario and western points. Two letter mails are due in Montreal this morning which arrived in New York last week on the Aquitania and Adriatic. The mails this year are exceptionally heavy, said Mr. Lapraitie, fourteen car loads being shipped on the S. S. Melita which sailed last week. The last outgoing mail which is sure to arrive in the Old Country and be distributed in time for Christmas, closes at five o'clock to-day and will be placed on board the S. S. Aquitania sailing from New York to-morrow. Packages too late for the Melita will go by the Megantic sailing from Halifax on the evening of December 16 which will carry mail originating from Montreal, Kingston, Toronto, Hamilton and London. Mail from Ottawa and all other points on the C. P. R. line will connect with the Empress of Britain, which sails from St. John on December 15 and a despatch letter mail to the U. K. will leave Montreal on the evening of December 17 to connect with the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria from New York.

KIWANIS TO GIVE CHRISTMAS TREE

Children of ex-Soldiers Will Be Entertained in Stanley Hall

One hundred children of ex-soldiers under vocational training have been invited by the Kiwanis Club to join about 150 others drawn from the Soldiers' Wives' League and other sources at a Christmas tree fete to be held by the club in Stanley Hall, Stanley street, Thursday, Dec. 23.

The hall will be profusely decorated for the occasion, a large and shady tree will be planted in its centre and will bear all manner of bright and useful toys which Santa will then distribute. The Club members, busily at work on these preparations, rollicking time is in store for the fortunate children who will be invited to respond to this hospitality.

The Vocational Branch of the Department of Soldiers' Re-establishment, through which the invitation was conveyed, is placing emphasis upon the delicate task of selecting from the large number those who are directly in their charge who are the most eligible and deserving.

The Vocational Branch is not paying any Christmas tree expenses on its own account for its members, although it is doing its utmost to find substantial positions for those who have graduated as well as for those still under tuition in the workshops in the rear of the Montreal Technical School.

YOUNG WORKERS AT NIGHT SCHOOL

Compulsory Registration Reduces Illiteracy in Quebec

Since the beginning of the year approximately 7,500 wage earners of both sexes between the ages of 14 and 16 years have been registered in Montreal by the Provincial Department of Labor under the direction of Deputy Minister L. Guyon.

[illegible] of Hull, St. Hyacinthe, Sherbrooke, Magog, Joliette, St. Jerome and Berthier have [illegible] officials and the data brought to light, especially with regard to attendance at night schools, has convinced the provincial authorities that the legislation compelling young apprentices to attend school or use the privilege of becoming wage earners has been very successful.

In conversation with The Star, Mr. Guyon stated that with the whole hearted co-operation of teachers in the night schools, the rounding up of young illiterates had been quite thorough. In very few cases was illiteracy absolute but where there was any faltering in reading or in the handling of a pen the young wage-earner had the registration data marked for night school attendance. His or her absence at night school was followed by cancellation of the registration card.

GIRLS BETTER THAN BOYS.

In Montreal between eight and nine per cent of the boy and girl wage-earners had been found deficient in educational standards while in the country districts the illiteracy percentage was much lower.

In both city and country districts girls were far ahead of the boys in reading or writing. In all the examinations instituted, said Mr. Guyon, the French-Canadian girl was a great surprise and was a worthy product of Quebec schools.

Provincial Secretary, David toured the night schools of the province recently, in company with labor department officials and was surprised to find that in some night classes over two thirds were factory boys and girls brought in for instruction by the registration officials of the labor bureau.

The work of registration has now been almost completed and the first report will come out as soon as the figures from Quebec and Sherbrooke are ready. It is estimated that there are between fifteen and eighteen thousand wage earners in the province registered between the ages of 14 and 16 years. Although the work has been carried on entirely by labor officials the effect of the registration has been purely educational. The schools, it is stated, co operated very thoroughly and as soon as parents realise that their children must pass a certain standard of education, before they can become wage-earners in any employment whatever, it is felt that illiteracy will have disappeared from Quebec.

EIGHTEEN DAY SENTENCE.

One of the lightest sentences imposed this year was pronounced by Judge Leet on Alphonse Bertrand, accused of having stolen goods to the value of $500 from the Dominion Copper Products Company. Bertrand was sentenced to serve eighteen days in jail, which will allow him his freedom on New Year's Eve.

ORGANISTS PLAN LOCAL BRANCH HERE

Montreal Organists Hold Meeting to Further This Plan

The establishment in this city of a centre of the Canadian College of Organists, which has existed in Toronto for several years, was decided upon at a meeting held last night in the [illegible] House of St. George's [illegible] attended by fifteen leading [illegible] organists holding posts in [illegible] denominations.

Dr. Herbert J. Ilsley, president of the College, outlined the history of [illegible] since its inception in 1909. He enlarged on the fact that while other professional bodies had taken steps towards closer amalgamation, the organist was without this much needed benefit. The Canadian College of Organists, with its laudable objects of advancing church music, improving the general proficiency of organists and choirmasters by examinations, discussions, and general intercourse, to promote everything that might serve to elevate the profession, seemed to present the most commendable solution to the question of strengthening the organist in his professional capacity.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

The question "Is it desirable to form a centre of the Canadian College here?"—put by Dr. Ilsley, met with a unanimous assent. With this the meeting proceeded to the election of officers as follows: Chairman, Arthur H. Egg, of Christ Church Cathedral; vice-chairman, R. Octave Pelletier, St. James Cathedral; secretary, George M. Brewer, Church of The Messiah; treasurer, J. H. Lauer; executive, Henry Graves, F. Whiteley, and O. F. Deveaux. In addition, the following became members of the Institution: Henry Colcomb, W. J. Larminie, C. F. Fisher, E. Jennings, W. W. Wilson, Stuart P. Rochead, R. F. L. Picard, Harold Key, G. A. Stanton.

Apologies for inability to attend were received from T. H. Blair, F. Whitely, C. S. Fosbery, J. E. F. Martin and R. Oct. Pelletier.

The next meeting will be held on January 3, when it is expected a definite program will be adopted for the season.

ODD ITEMS

SNORED TOO MUCH.

BOSTON, Dec. 14—Charles Jones of Lynn put up with his wife's snoring as long as he could. Then he built a solid partition around his wife's bed, but it didn't do much good. So Jone stopped contributing to her support. Today his wife hailed him into court on the charge of nonsupport. Jones told his story, but the court failed to become impressed. Jones was given a suspended sentence of two months in the house of correction and ordered to pay his wife $4 each week.

SHOCKED THE VILLAGE.

DUBUQUE, Ia., Dec. 14—Michael Baum, a farmer, today was fined $25 and costs by Mayor Sherman of Farley on a charge of "shimmying" in a dance hall.

Baum was charged with "shaking his body from the hips up" as the town orchestra struck up a fox trot and refusing to desist upon request of the town constable.

DYING CANARY SAVES FAMILY.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 14—Three residents of Long Beach owe their lives to a pet canary. The bird awakened the family of Fred Hocks just before they fell victims to deadly gas fumes. The shrill chirping which awakened Mrs. Hocks early yesterday morning was the death cry of the feathered songster.

YOUNG MEN'S CANADIAN CLUB.

George E. Mellwain, of Boston, will address the Young Men's Canadian Club tonight at the Rose Room of the Windsor Hotel at 6:15, on the subject of "The Fundamentals of Labor; Its Future."

GEESE DISRUPT RAIL SERVICE.

PROVIDENCE, R.I., Dec. 14. — A large flock of wild geese, which flew into telegraph and telephone wires and demoralized its signal system, held up traffic on Pascoag branch line railroad for several hours late Sunday night and early yesterday morning.

CLAIMS HOUSING SYSTEM USELESS

Federal Grant of $1,000,000 Not Practicable for Montreal Workmen

COST $45 A MONTH

Man with Several Children at Present Penalized by Family

The system established by the Federal Government for dealing with the housing question is useless so far as Montreal is concerned according to Jas. E. Wilder and John Quinlan, both well known members of the building trade, and members of the committee recently appointed by a meeting of prominent business men to interview the Administrative Commission regarding the apparent failure of the Government's loan offer to alleviate the housing problem in the city.

The full committee consisted of John Quinlan, Jas. E. Wilder, Fred Wright of the Municipal Journal, J. T. Foster and Gus. Francq. Yesterday afternoon they met Chairman, E. R. Decary of the Administrative Commission, Commissioner Alph. Verville, and Commissioner Ross, and at this meeting Mr. Decary explained that the grant of $1,000,000 had been given in such a way that it was not available for the working men of Montreal, some of the conditions being that the houses had to be either detached or semi-detached, of solid construction, and for one tenant only; the smallest room in the house to contain 120 square feet, and the money must be loaned to the individual. As houses of that type would cost from $4,500 to $6,000 each, it meant that the purchaser would be obliged to pay from $45 a month upwards in order to have his house paid for in twenty years, and such payments were considered out of the question for the ordinary workingman.

Mr. Decary further feared the risk of the individual borrowing money to build a house, and through inexperience, not being conversant with the market conditions as regards labor and material, he might find himself unable to complete the house with the money at his disposal.

Interviewed by The Star this morning regarding the outcome of this meeting, and the housing situation generally, Messrs. Wilder and Quinlan both agreed with the commission that this scheme was impossible under existing conditions, and that some other steps should be taken by either the Provincial or Federal Government or the city to relieve the situation.

WANT 5,000 HOUSES

"At least five thousand houses," Mr. Wilder declared, "are required at present in Montreal to meet the demand, and nothing is being done. In fact, building is at a standstill and will be so until there is some means of obtaining money on mortgages. The banks are not making such advances on real estate, and the insurance companies and loan companies are purchasing other securities rather than loan on property. But if Montreal is to go on and improve, there must be a change in the building situation."

Mr. Wilder emphasized the fact that both he and Mr. Quinlan had started in business building working men's houses, and were therefore in a position to speak with authority on this subject. They both felt that the present plan as outlined by the Federal Government was of no use in Montreal, and believed that it was time for the Provincial Government or the City of Montreal to take some action.

"What would you propose, Mr. Wilder," was asked.

"There should be no further red tape regarding obtaining money, and no strings and [illegible] attached to it, provided collateral security is produced for 85 per cent of the money. All plans for building should be inspected by a commission appointed for that purpose before advances are made. The idea of getting philanthropic companies [illegible] to build and rent or sell houses with only six per cent profit [illegible]. Mr. Quinlan [illegible] 'Even if such philanthropic [illegible] would not be a business proposition, as they would be amateurs in the housing business without the necessary technical knowledge and experience, so that it would not be a business proposition.'

"If the Government would grant loans on houses already built," Mr. Wilder continued, "either to the builders or to prospective purchasers, enterprising builders would go ahead building on the chance of either selling to someone to whom the Government would grant a loan, or obtaining themselves a mortgage to carry them over until the house was disposed of. This would leave no danger of an unfinished house being left on the city's hands."

TENANTS LOSING.

At present the [illegible] tenants were losing enormously through the lack of Government money. In addition to the interest charged on loans, every time a mortgage was carried through 2 per cent had to be paid to a middle man.

On the basis suggested, a man with $1,500 [illegible] could obtain a $6,000 house and pay it off in twenty years at the rate of $30 a month plus taxes and insurance. In many cases he could rent such a house for more than that. He could rent half of it for $15 a month and only have $15 a month to pay out of his own pocket.

"And what about the people who only want to build one storey frame house, to which they may add a second storey, or are putting up the brick facing later, and twelve later and so on as and when they have funds available?

"That is [illegible] one of the most deserving cases, of which the present Government scheme takes no cognizance." Mr. Quinlan replied. "Such a man does not want a $1,500 loan to build a big house, he wants a small loan to help him build something just as good as the flat he lives in perhaps a little better, and which will form the nucleus of something still better to come. The system we suggest would enable such a man to build his little primary structure, pay off his debt on it, and then go on with further improvements. And another class of whom the Government does not seem to take cognizance is the working man with ten or twelve children. They are very prevalent in Quebec Province. You cannot house such a man comfortably in the $4,500 house the Federal Government proposes, but you must do something for him. You have no right to penalize him because he has a large family."

SEEK DESCENDANTS OF McGILL FAMILY

Will Be Invited to Attend Big Re-union on Hundredth Anniversary

THE PROGRAM

Some Coming from as Far Away as British Guiana Dates are Chosen

As many as can be searched of the descendants of the McGill family and of those who were instrumental in organizing McGill University in the early days of its existence will be invited by the Reunion Committee to attend the great gathering of graduates and past students of the university, which is planned to celebrate its hundredth anniversary next October. The reunion will cover a period of four days commencing October 12, 1921 and ending October 15.

The program for the occasion is in course of preparation. It is planned to hold a general reception of all classes on one afternoon so as to give everyone a chance of meeting former college pals. Another afternoon will be devoted to an elaborate pageant depicting scenes from the history of the university during its hundred years existence. On Friday afternoon, October 13, the university sports will be held and it is hoped to arrange that the inter-collegiate football match between Toronto and McGill will be played in the Stadium on Saturday. In addition to these main functions there will be various class reunions and smaller entertainments which have not yet been decided upon.

The general committee under the chairmanship of Brig.-General G. E. McCuaig, which was appointed over a year ago, has, up to the present, devoted its energies chiefly to circularizing the graduates and past students.

The general committee has been divided into sub-committees, with power to add to their numbers, as follows: Finance, J. G. Ross and H. Y. Russell; housing, F. B. Common and A. G. Cameron; program, Dr. W. G. Turner; entertainment, J. C. Kemp and Gregor Barclay; publicity, Fraser Keith; transportation, Abner Kingman, jr., and H. C. Scott.

CHRISTMAS OPPORTUNITIES

Through The Star the Charity Organization Society of Montreal has for years presented to the public in December some of the pathetic discoveries revealed by the Society's inspectors during their visitations. The people appealed for in these cases are thoroughly deserving, and mostly the kind who do not make their condition known; who do not thrust themselves into notice; who struggle on, often to die, rather than beg. They are discoveries and hence are presented through The Star to the kindly public as "Christmas Opportunities."

Good Neighbors All!

"Christmas is the mile mark of another year. Kinder thoughts, more generous impulses come home to us as we remember what the day commemorates. Even old Scrooge, miserly soul that he was, learned how to keep Christmas well, and echoed Tiny Tim's prayer, 'Merry Xmas! God bless us—Every one!'"

To you to whom the Christmas season means much of happiness and festivity, we would like to say, Remember those neighbors of yours whose homes the Spirit of Christmas will pass by, leaving them untouched by that joy and cheerfulness which we all crave at this time. Remember too the stern realities from which these shadows come. The tragedy of unemployment, the bread-winner stricken down by sickness or accident, the infirmity of old age, and all those other ills that so commonly beset the lives of the poor. Will you not lend a helping hand to bring encouragement and practical help to just a few of these?

The Charity Organization Society is assuming a burden greater than it can bear. Provision has been made for the majority of families known to the Society, but here are fifteen instances where we have as yet been unable to secure funds to make it possible for us to provide the help and security during the coming year which their needs demand. Here is a two-fold OPPORTUNITY! It is yours to give, and theirs to realize from your giving that help and inspiration which will make successful their own brave efforts to meet misfortune.

All gifts, large or small, will be very gratefully received and acknowledged, and will be placed exclusively to the account of the opportunities chosen. They should be sent addressed to the Hon. Treasurer of the Society, James Hutchison, Esq., C.A., No. 70 Mance St.

OPPORTUNITY No. 1.

A family of eight. The father an incurable invalid. The youngest of the family a baby in arms. Coal $18.00 a ton. Rent $15.00 a month, and eight mouths to feed, eight bodies to be clothed and shoes that wear out at a seemingly impossible rate. This is the problem facing the wage earners in this family—two boys aged 17 and 13. A pretty big burden for two lads to carry. The home is always neat and clean. The children are devoted to their mother who works from early morning till late at night to give them what she can out of their slender resources. It is a worthwhile work to keep such a home going. We must have $350.00 if it is to be done.

"Now isn't it amazing the way they go through their boots?" says "Big Sister," who is the chief bread winner in this family. You who do not know her might look at "Big Sister" and say "Why, she isn't big at all, but just a child herself." But we who know her think she is big in her way, for she cheerfully shoulders the responsibility of a frail little mother and four active and hungry younger brothers and sisters. "Big" brother has earned his title too, for alas he is a cripple, but manfully contributes his mite, which is hard earned indeed. With $10.00 a week we can help to make ends meet in this family and help "Big Sister" from worrying about appetites that are infallible and boots and other things that are not. $420.00 is needed.

There is a pathetic bravery about this little home which you would find very moving could you know it as we do. An old mother of nearly eighty lives with her crippled daughter. Many years ago they emigrated to this country from Holland. They have been good citizens, but time has brought many changes. The old father, the son, who took his place, and then the daughter's husband, all have died and now these two are quite alone. With hands and feet badly crippled from rheumatism, the daughter manages to go each day to do what work she can at a nearby factory, earning a wage, however, that is quite inadequate for their needs. Out of a brave attempt to keep the home together. Tidy, and quaint and clean, the home means very much to them. Will you not help them to keep it intact? $120.00 is needed.

Six years ago, when Mildred was only twelve her father died and left her with a helpless invalid mother to whom she was greatly devoted. Friends told Mildred to put her mother in a home for incurables—but not she! "What, have Mother put where I could hardly ever see her!"

So Mildred went to work in a factory, adding a fictitious two years to her age so she would be given work, and ever since, for six long years, she has been supporting her mother. It has been a big struggle particularly the last two years because of increased prices and the girl's health being undermined so that her work at times has been irregular. Still needing individual care, Dick is however well enough to begin school with the new year. We need $208 to keep him in the care of this woman whose love has done so much for him. Will you help us? SHOE SITUATION TO BE DISCUSSED

Effect of Exchange on Export Trade One Problem to Be Faced

MEET IN TORONTO

Important Gathering to Be Held Near the Close of Next Month

The peculiar problems which now face the manufacturers of shoes will be thoroughly discussed at the annual meeting of the Shoe Manufacturers' Association of Canada, which will be held on January 25 and 26, in Toronto, says Henri Viau, secretary of the Montreal Branch of the association. Arrangements for the convention are nearly complete, and reservations for those attending have been made at the King Edward Hotel.

One of the matters to be discussed is the export of shoes.

At present the export trade is practically killed, partly by the exchange situation, which makes it unfavorable for European countries to buy goods from Canada, and partly by the inability of the other countries to finance credits for their foreign purchases, said Mr. Viau. Another reason for cessation of the export business is alleged to be the action of the Canadian banks in hesitating to provide the facilities for financing Canadian exports.

"It is most important that we should do a good export business," said Mr. Viau, "for in so doing we increase our production and are enabled to lower the price of shoes in the home market."

Other subjects for discussion by the conference will include the tariff and measures for combatting the period of depression. Arrangements are being made for addresses on important questions by a number of prominent men. The shoe manufacturing business has been passing through an unexampled period of stress, and the convention is expected to be of unusual importance.

CHAUFFEUR DRUNK

So Will Pay a Fine of $100 or Spend Month in Jail

A fine of $100 or the alternative of a month in jail was the sentence meted out by Judge Lanctot in the Court of Arraignment this morning in the case of Joseph Louis Filion, 52 years old, of 1465 St. Lawrence street, charged with being drunk in charge of an automobile on St. Zotique street yesterday. He pleaded guilty. The judge expressed a determination to stamp out if possible the careless habits of motorists which cause so many accidents daily.

A CHEERFUL DAY! STREETS FLOODED; MORE RAIN COMING

The thaw which commenced at 1 o'clock this morning, and the rain which began four hours later, brought disaster to traffic in the city this morning, and started floods which rapidly spread over side-walks and ran into the cellars of the buildings. In the course of eight hours 1 1-3 inches of rain had fallen, and there is more in sight.

Business men this morning waded through water ankle deep on their way to their offices. The gutters choked with ice and snow did little toward carrying off the water, and the sidewalks and roadways rapidly became shallow lakes containing islands of half-melted snow. Automobiles and street cars splashed through the water, and thickly bespattered pedestrians crossing the streets or on the sidewalks.

On the narrow streets the water of passing automobiles splashed passers-by on both sides of the roadway, and it was impossible for pedestrians to find a place of safety. The slippery condition of the streets added to the difficulty and many falls occurred, the inevitable result being a drenching. One girl fell into a particularly deep puddle this morning almost in front of a passing automobile, the driver of which stopped and offered to take the maiden home, provided that she did not live too far away. At the street crossings the traffic policemen resembled lighthouses in the centre of a lake.

SCHOOL CHILDREN SUFFER.

School children suffered particularly in their efforts to reach school, and many appeared at their studies too wet to remain and were sent home by their teachers. The attendance at the schools was much affected, many parents keeping their children at home rather than allow them to trudge through the storm and wet.

The change in the weather threw nearly a thousand men who had been engaged by the city in snow removal, out of employment this morning, but despite this fact less than a hundred could be obtained to wield pick and shovel in the rain in order to open up the gullies. Ninety-eight men were actually employed this morning. Outremont was employing seventy-five.

Although no serious tie-up of street cars is reported by the Tramways Company, cars on almost every line are delayed by sleighs which have become stuck at the crossings where the snow has disappeared, great difficulty is also experienced at the switches.

The weather forecast offers little hope of immediate relief. The Washington meteriological office has issued a warning that storms are likely to prevail on the Great Lakes, and the meteriological office in Toronto predicts continued gales and rain for the Upper St. Lawrence area.

A RICH HAUL

Youthful Thieves Were Getting Ready for Christmas

Five youths, whose ages vary from 14 to 16 years of age, were arraigned before Judge Choquet in the Juvenile Court this morning charged with breaking into a hardware store in the vicinity of St. Urbain street and also into the store of J. E. Debien, butcher and provision merchant of 112 Park avenue. They were remanded until December 22 for trial. It is alleged that four of the boys entered the hardware-store and took a large number of knives, valued at $100 and $40 in cash. The following day they are said to have broken into Debien's and taken over $100 worth of merchandise, biscuits, chocolates, turkeys and geese.

Out of Luck

TIME was, when the problem of fitting out the person who needed glasses with the right sort of glasses was largely solved by guess work.

If a person's eyes were weak he bought a pair of glasses and if they didn't help his eyesight he was simply "OUT OF LUCK"—that was all.

But now-a-days, thanks to modern science, you can get just the right sort of glasses to fit you by simply going to Jerry Britton's.

GARNEAU MURDER AROUSES INTEREST

Evidence of Adopted Mother of Victim Has Important Bearing

NEW FEATURES

Widow Fortier Testifies She Was Also Attacked Near Scene of Crime

QUEBEC, Dec. 14.—(By Canadian Press).—The Blanche Garneau murder inquiry which is now proceeding before Hon. Judge Choquette has aroused public curiousity to a greater pitch than any other case heard here for some time. Yesterday afternoon anticipating a large gathering of people, it was decided by the judge to hold the sitting in the Criminal Court room which has many times the capacity of the Court of Sessions.

Upwards of fifty ladies were present in the court yesterday and the galleries as well as the body of the court were crowded with men to their utmost capacity.

Ten witnesses were examined, and for the most part the evidence was the same as adduced at the Coroner's inquest, but one new point which may have considerable significance was brought out by Mrs. Michael Baribeau, the adopted mother of Blanche Garneau. She swore that on the Tuesday evening preceding the murder the victim drove home in an automobile. The mother was not at home at the time, but when she returned from church at 8 o'clock she noted that the victim had not eaten any supper. The victim had not told her the name of the party who drove her home.

MILD SENSATION.

A mild sensation was caused in the court when Joseph Plamondon a street railway motorman, who had testified at the Coroner's inquest, reiterated his testimony that on July 22, last, he had seen two men and a woman on the tracks near Victoria Park opposite the spot where the body of the victim was found a week later and then calmly informed the court that he believed he had seen the lady in question in the corridor before entering to give his evidence. The woman was sought and brought in, but turned out to be Mrs. A. L. Latulippe, who had not been near the scene on the date mentioned. Her young son was a witness and she had simply come with him through curiosity.

Mrs. (widow) Thomas Fortier, whose evidence was awaited with interest, was also a new feature in the case. She swore that on July 22 she was attacked by two men at a point near where the body of Blanche Garneau was found. She gave a description of the men. She said that one wore a grey suit and cap, while the other wore a black suit and hat. She believed she would recognize them if she saw them again.

In reply to Crown Prosecutor Marchand, this witness said she had given information in case of Blanche Dubois, who was murdered here in the spring of 1914 but could not recal giving information in other murder cases.

The witnesses examined yesterday were C. M. De R. Finnies, Miss E. Boucher, Michel Baribeau, Mrs. Michel Baribeau, Detective D. Bussieres, Hector Delisle, Gaudias Cinq-Mars, Joseph Plamondon, Mrs. Thomas Fortier and Albert Latulippe.

ONTARIO'S PREMIER NOT READY TO ARGUE

Discuss Effects of Proposed Development on Backus Scheme

OTTAWA, Dec. 14.—(Star Special)—Premier Drury is not yet ready to argue with the Dominion and Manitoba governments the question of effect upon the rights of these authorities, of the proposed development of the Backus power schemes in Northern Ontario under agreement with the Drury Government.

If the Backus plan be implemented to the full, the levels of the Lake of the Woods and adjacent waters stand to be effected, and, in the opinion of experts of the water power board, it will be prejudicially so. Certain negotiations with the Ontario Government were abortive and a conference to discuss the subject had been arranged here for Wednesday. This has been postponed.

WAR RECORD MADE BY GIFT VESSELS

Aurora, Patriot, and Patrician Worthy Christmas Presents from Britain

ON DOGGER BANK

Canadian Cruiser First to Catch Sight of the Germans

HALIFAX, N.S., Dec. 14.—(Canadian Press.) — The Aurora, Patriot and Patrician, worthy Christmas presents from Britannia, are modern vessels, with excellent war records. The cruiser Aurora had some of the very best luck of the British fleet, taking an honorable part in almost every action fought by white-ensign boats in the North Sea during the four years of hostilities. She was attached to the 8th flotilla at Horwich, known as the "Fighting 8th," and at the outbreak of the war was the flagship of Commodore Tyrwhitt (afterward Sir Reginald Tyrwhitt).

Aurora helped to sink the first German naval vessel sent to the bottom. This boat was a mine-layer, the Koening Louise, caught red-handed laying traps for unwary mariners off the dangerous Goodwin Sands. Later the Aurora was with the squadron that pursued four German destroyers of the "G" class returning from a raiding expedition on English coast towns, between Dover and Heligoland. The British ships sank the raiders on this occasion.

IN DOGGER BANK ACTION.

In the famous Dogger Bank action the new Canadian cruiser had the good fortune to first catch sight of the Germans, and she was one of the first vessels under fire at Jutland.

The cruisers Arethusa, Aurora and Undaunted were together in nearly all their scraps, and after one particularly difficult piece of work carried out with noticeable efficiency and valor, one of the trio received a special message from His Majesty himself. "Well done," the message said.

The two destroyers presented to the Dominion, played meritorious, if not as conspicuous parts in the Great War. They were attached to the destroyer flotilla on the Firth of Forth for some time, under the command of Sir David Beatty. Among other actions they were present at the Battle of Jutland, at which they performed remarkably well.

Captain Henry G. H. Adams, C.B. E., commander of the cruiser Aurora, is the only Royal Navy man among the officers of the new Canadian Navy. The Patriot is commanded by Lieut.-Commander Charles T. Beard, an Ontario man, and the Patrician is in charge of Lieut.-Commander George C. Jones, of Halifax. The other officers are:

Eng. Commander—John F. Bell, O.B.E.

Paymaster — Lieut. - Commander John G. Elga, D.S.C.

Lieut.-Commander—E. G. Halliwell.

Lieutenants—L. W. Murray, D. W. Moffat, H. F. J. Hibbard, R. I. Agnew, A. R. Pressy.

Sub-Lieutenants — F. S. Hart, H. W. T. Grant.

Eng. Lieutenants—M. C. Bannantyne, A. D. M. Curry, G. L. Stephen.

Acting Eng.-Lieut.—W. E. Morrison.

Paymaster—D. Cossette.

The Aurora was launched in 1914. Her dimensions are: length, 426 feet, beam 39 feet, tonnage 3,500. She has a horse-power of forty thousand, on which she is able to make twenty-nine knots. Her armament consists of two six-inch guns and six four-inch guns.

The two destroyers, launched in 1916, have similar dimensions—Length 271 feet, beam 27 1-2 feet. They develop twenty-seven thousand five hundred horse-power, on which they make a speed of thirty-five knots. They are armed with three four-inch guns.

The Aurora's complement is 318, and the destroyers carry 80 officers and men each.

QUEBEC, Dec. 14. — The Dominion Arsenal, after having been closed down for several months, will be re-opened on Wednesday, when some 267 men will be given employment. This is below fifty per cent of the number employed when the Arsenal closed, but it is understood that eventually half the number will be engaged.

COL. HUNTER'S NARROW ESCAPE.

KINGSTON, Ont., Dec. 14. — Colonel Geo. Hunter, a former Justice of the Peace here, and Mrs. Hunter, who are spending the winter with a son in New York, narrowly escaped injury from a shell that penetrated their place of residence, crashing through the house from the attic to the cellar. The shell was one of a cargo of shells that exploded on board a ship in New York harbor.

WHEAT MARKETING SCHEME PROPOSED

WINNIPEG, Dec. 14 (Canadian Press)—Steps to effect the pooling of the wheat not only of Western Canada but of Ontario, have been taken as a consequence of the decision arrived at at the recent meeting of the Canadian Council of Agriculture in Winnipeg, and a tentative form of marketing agreement between the individual grower and the proposed United Farmers Grain Corporation, has been prepared. This agreement, it is understood, will be submitted to a committee composed of leading grain organizations, and the committee will be asked to make arrangements for the formation of an effective wheat marketing agency; to negotiate with the farmers' companies for the use of their facilities to the extent necessary for handling the wheat in the pool; to take the necessary steps to secure incorporation and to work out the details by which the pool will be financed.

This committee will report to the Canadian Council of Agriculture at its next annual meeting, or to a meeting to be specially called for the purpose and the following organizations have been requested to appoint representatives to it: The United Farmers of Alberta, the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association; the United Farmers of Manitoba, the United Farmers of Ontario, Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company, and the United Grain Growers Limited. Each association has been allotted one representative on the committee and the companies two, and the eight thus formed will have power to select a ninth, who will have all the powers of the other members of the committee.

The tentative form of wheat marketing agreement was drawn up by the wheat market's committee of the Council of Agriculture, composed of H. W. Wood, president United Farmers of Alberta; F. W. Riddell, general manager Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company, and J. R. Murray, assistant general manager United Grain Growers Limited.

WANT PARCEL POSTAGE RATES INCREASED

OTTAWA, Dec. 14.—(Special to The Star.) — Because freight rates have gone up, and express rates are likely to do so as a result of the hearing just concluded, representations are being made that the parcel postage ought likewise to be increased. This view is being put forward particularly by retail merchants, who claim that the mail order houses are not only cutting extensively into local trade, but also are getting a service below cost.

The volume of parcel post business, admittedly, is increasing very materially, and the doubling of the registration charge has been followed by an increase, rather than a decrease, in parcels sent with that security.

PRESIDENT TO ADOPT 20 EUROPEAN CHILDREN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (United Press)—President Wilson yesterday announced he would "adopt" twenty starving children of Central Europe as "temporary wards."

The announcement was made in an appeal for funds for the European Relief Council.

"Ten dollars contributed to the European Relief Council will save the life of one child," the President said.

"I shall adopt twenty of these children as my own temporary wards and I can think of no better use to which I could put $200."

TASK OF REBUILDING HALIFAX COMPLETED

Reconstruction of Devastated Area Cost $23,000,000

TORONTO, Dec. 14.—F. L. Fowke, of Oshawa, Ont., a former member of Parliament for South Ontario, who for the past three years has been one of the commissioners overseeing the rebuilding of the part of Halifax which was devastated by the great explosion of a munitions ship in the harbor on December 6th, 1917, in an interview here outlined the work accomplished by the commission, of which Judge Wallace, of Halifax, and Mr. Rogers, a prominent business man of the Nova Scotian capital, are the other members. Mr. Fowke said the commission had practically completed the rebuilding of the North End of Halifax where 1,000 homes accommodating 6,000 people have been erected, more than 600 of these being fireproof.

In addition to providing new homes for those who lost everything in the disaster, the commission restored damaged properties to their former condition and replaced furniture. Every house rebuilt has a bath.

Thirty people were permanently blinded by the shattering of lass in the explosion, and these have been provided with pensions. As a result of exposure following the destruction of so many homes a number of children have developed tubercular trouble. A fund of half a million dollars, partly contributed by United States citizens, is being used in behalf of these children.

From all sources the sum of $23,000,000 was available for the work of reconstruction, etc., of which $5,000,000 was from the British Government, $16,000,000 from the Dominion Government and the balance from Canadian and Eastern United States municipalities.

SOVIET HOLDS POLAND RESPONSIBLE.

RIGA, Dec. 14. — The note of Soviet Russia protesting against sending the troops of the "so-called League of Nations" to Vilna, holds Poland responsible for the actions of the Allied troops sent there by the League. The note, which was presented Saturday, was written by Adolf Joffe, the Russian Chief Delegate, to M. Dombski, who represented Poland in the peace negotiations.

PROPOSAL FOR RELIEF OF UNEMPLOYMENT

Cost to Be Shared by Federal, Provincial and Municipal Bodies

OTTAWA, Dec. 14.—Plans for unemployment relief during the next few months, the cost to be shared by municipal, Provincial and Federal Governments, are understood to have been drawn up at recent meetings of Cabinet Council and an official statement to this effect is expected to be made in the course of a few days. Under the proposal, which is stated to have resulted from recent conferences between the Government and returned soldier leaders and others, the relief work must be inaugurated by the municipal authorities and then the cost will be divided equally between the municipality, the Province and the Federal Government.

In last week's conferences the position taken by the Federal Government was that the municipal and Provincial authorities had an equal responsibility with the Dominion Government in the matter of providing against unemployment as far as possible.

RECLASSIFICATION PLANS ANNOUNCED

Procedure to Be Followed by Special Inquiry Boards Outlined

OTTAWA, Dec. 14—The procedure to be followed by the Government Departmental and Civil Service appeal boards against the classification of civil servants all over the Dominion, was announced last night and will commence its duties in some of the smaller departments of the Government at Ottawa within the next week or ten days.

The investigating board is to be comprised of one representative from the Civil Service Commission, one representative of the department being investigated and a representative of the branch of the department to be inquired into.

The investigation is to be made in five different places at the same time. The Civil Service Commission is shortly to name five inspectors who are members of its staff, and these with the departmental and branch representatives will virtually form five separate courts of investigation to hear appeals against the present classification.

The form of investigation will be that the board of investigators will personally visit each of the departments and inspect the work of each branch. Though it has not yet been definitely announced, it is understood that in the event of the investigators finding that the work being done is unjustly classified a recommendation of such a matter will be sent to the appeal board to deal with.

LIGNITE MAY PROVE GREAT FUEL SAVER

Has Same Value as Anthracite, at Less Than Half Price

RESEARCH REPORT

Estevan Plant Soon Capable of Producing 30,000 Tons Annually

OTTAWA, Dec. 14. (From Our Own Correspondent)—Lignite as a substitute for anthracite coal promises to be economically feasible, in the light of investigations conducted at Estevan, Saskatchewan, by a committee of the Federal Council of Scientific and Industrial Research. R. A. Ross, of Montreal, head of the committee, has just reported to a meeting of the Council that in three months' time, the Estevan plant will be turning out this fuel at the rate of thirty thousand tons a year. While the product will have the same fuel value as anthracite ton for ton, it will be marketed for less than half the present price of that kind of coal.

The Research Council has renewed its recommendation to the Government for the appointment of Dr. A. S. Mckenzie, president of Dalhousie University, at Halifax, as its chairman, in succession to Dr. A. B. Macallum, who resigned to become professor of chemistry at McGill. There appears to be doubt, however, whether the position of chairman of the Council will be joined with or separate from the head of the Industrial Research Institute for which provision is promised at the coming session of Parliament.

Dr. Mackenzie has not yet accepted the position as chairman of the Council, but it is believed he may head the new institution. The Council is recommending that its membership be increased from eleven to fifteen, so as to include representation from some of the basic industries. A further proposal is for a number of grants for the assistance of certain researches of pressing importance. The appointment of a successor to Dr. Macallum is expected to be made as soon as Sir George Foster returns. Dr. Macallum will go to Pekin, China, in March, to deliver a seven months' course of lectures at the Medical College there, having been selected by the Rockefeller Foundation.

SOCCER PROTEST GROWS--SHAG DISCLOSES BASEBALL PLANS

EXPERTS PREDICT BILL BRENNAN MAY STAY THREE ROUNDS

Bout With Dempsey Scheduled for Fifteen Intervals But Opinion is That a Knockout Will Finish Chicago Boxer in Three

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—(By Henry L. Farrell, United Press Staff Correspondent).—Even if a beating is thrown in with it, $35,000 is not so bad for about seven to ten minutes work.

Therefore the glove clan gathered here today was not questioning the sanity of Bill Brennan.

The Chicago heavyweight is the other person necessary to help Jack Dempsey, the heavyweight champion, defend his title the second time and make his debut in Madison Square Garden tonight, the scene of many of the greatest battles of the big fellows.

Brennan is scheduled to go through fifteen rounds with the champion tonight, but the experts predicted that it would take just about three rounds for him to go through the floor or the ropes.

Despite the general hunch that it will not be more than a short workout for Dempsey, at least 12,000 fans were booked to pay $200,000 to see the Chicago heavy flirt the second time with a catastrophe.

Brennan, it will be remembered stayed with Dempsey once before for six rounds. The bout was stopped and it was found that Bill had a broken ankle. Bill says he slipped and fell on it. So does Leo Flynn, his manager.

In compliance with the State Boxing Law, both were to weigh in this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Word from the training quarters said that the champion would step into the ring tonight around 185 pounds while Brennan would be around 190.

In keeping with its policy, the Boxing Commission refused to make public the name of the referee or any of the officials.

Dempsey is to get $100,000, the same sum which Jess Willard got for taking a beating from the present champion in Toledo when Dempsey won the title.

The purse of $135,000 is the largest in the history of the ring, the $127,500 purse for the Willard-Dempsey engagement being the previous high mark.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14. — Though Brennan tonight is within striking distance of the championship for the first time, he took up professional pugilism in 1914, a year before the champion. He is 27 years old, while Dempsey is two years his junior.

The two met once before, in February, 1918, at Milwaukee. Brennan went down for the count in the sixth round.

A 10-round bout immediately preceding the championship event has attracted interest among fight fans. This is a meeting of the chief sparring partners of the two principals, Bill Tate, who trained with Dempsey and Kid Norfolk, Brennan's daily recipient of punishment.

PRO. BOXING

It is announced that Jimmy McKimmie, the popular local boxing referee, has been appointed referee and matchmaker for the Regal Athletic Club, and has gone to New York to sign on if possible Mike McTigue and Jeff Smith for Boxing Day.

It is still expected somehow or other that Bert Schneider will make his professional debut here shortly after New Year's day.

PRESTON'S ROAD RACE.

PRESTON, Ont., Dec. 14.— Preston's first road race was held here Saturday afternoon, and was a decided success. Arol St. Clair, of Galt, was the winner, running the three and a half miles in 19 minutes. Bramwell Bradford, of Preston, was the second runner to cross the tape.

Jack Harris, of Preston, eight years of age, completed the race in 29 minutes, two minutes ahead of J. W. Ballantyne, of Galt, who is sixty years old.

9 YR. OLD PHYLLIS LANE SWIMS ¼ MILE IN 17½ MINS.

Forty-seven girls qualified for M. S. S. A. certificates at the Y. W. C. A. tank. Never before in the history of the Association has there been such a large turnout of girls.

Special mention should be made of the fine work of Eileen McKyes, aged 10 and Phyllis Lane, aged 9, who were able to swim quarter of a mile, the latter in 17½ mins. This is no mean achievement for such small girls. Results:—

PRACTISING HARD FOR WATER POLO THURSDAY

The senior water polo players are putting the final touches to their practice work in preparation for the big M. S. C., M.A.A.A. game at the Laurentian Baths, Thursday night. The officials say that the rules are to be applied and catch every little kick or foul on top or below the surface. Referee Garipy states that owing to the clearness of the water he will be able to follow all underwater play and this will give him better control of the players.

The Islanders are preparing to handle a large crowd and would advise their followers to secure their reservations early.

The first game will start sharp at 8:15 p.m. and will be followed by the senior contest.

MAISONNEUVE NOSED OUT M'GILL POLOISTS

The Maisonneuve aquatic stars just nosed out a win from the McGill intermediates poloists at the Maisonneuve pool last night. The final score was 4 to 3 and the even play throughout would justify saying it was anybody's game until the final whistle.

McGill started defending the deep water and during the first period the fast Eastenders by way of Naesmith and Charlie Mousette notched up a lead of two goals. Before half time the students evened up first with a shot by Bruker, than another by Winter. In the second half of the game Naesmith and Mein each added another for Maisonneuve, whilst the best the college team could do was to get one more on a clean piece of play by Bruker.

The teams and summary was:

Maisonneuve (4)	McGill (3)

SOCCER GOSSIP

BY CRAIG CAMPBELL

The latest professional soccer talk is that six clubs intend to break away from the P.Q.F.A., form a league of their own, and share the profits (?) from the gates between the players. At present it is "talk," and as far as six is concerned, likely to remain so.

Secretary Steve McKellar, of the joint league meeting, says he will have the amendments for the new P.Q.F.A. constitution ready for tomorrow's board meeting, but that the ballot papers used in voting for the state of a new P.Q.F. board will not be handed over, these being considered of a confidential nature.

Of the 31 clubs comprising the First, Second and Third Divisions, the only two that failed to vote at last Wednesday's meeting were Blue Bonnets and Woodland Park; but there were seven other clubs not represented.

U to last evening there were no further nominations to the P.Q.F.A. board.

NEW ELECTION OF P. Q. F. A. COUNCIL DEMANDED AT ANNUAL MEETING

The following letter will be read with interest in view of the fact that The Star announced last week that the straw-vote taken at a joint meeting of the three divisions of the P. Q. F. A. would be contested and the right to take it questioned.

The Sporting Editor The Daily Star.

Dear Sir,—In answer to Mr. McKellar's letter re the soccer slate, I would like to point out to the writer that there were twenty-nine out of a possible thirty-eight, and not thirty-one who cast their votes. He omits the six midweek clubs and one from the South Shore who are fully affiliated with the governing body, and who are entitled to the privilege of attending the joint meetings with the three divisions for the purpose of amending the constitution and make nominations for the council. This was not extended to them by invitation to be present as was done to the three divisions. He quotes that the three divisions are more or less in honor bound to stand by what they have already done at the annual meeting in January. Yes, and we are more or less in honor bound to respect those clubs who were not invited but fully justified to be present and who have amongst them good men with ability for good soccer legislation. An error was made in not including these clubs. I myself admitted it, and I was willing to make amends in my motion which was supported by several clubs at the last joint meeting that all ballot papers be returned to the clubs and all nominations already made be sent to all affiliated clubs, including those not invited to the joint meeting to vote on those or any other nominations sent to the secretary of the P.Q.F.A. before Dec. 15th inst. All ballots to be opened at the annual meeting. From Mr. McKellar's statements there is only one option for the uninvited clubs; to take what is given them by the three divisions. I conclude by not agreeing with him, but advocate that the council have a full ballot taken by all affiliated clubs present at the annual meeting for the election of the new council so that all clubs affiliated with the P. Q. F. A. and present, can participate in the election in a proper manner.

"SHAG" WILL NOT PAY FOR SYRACUSE LOSSES BUT GIVE FAIR PRICE

NEW YORK, Dec. 14. — At the meeting of the International League, Akron club owners wanted to quit the league. President Landgraf, of Syracuse, offered his franchise and players for sale at $30,000. It was proposed to send the Syracuse outfit to Montreal at the figure quoted by Landgraf. Frank Shaughnessy and Knotty Lee, who were in attendance at the meeting in the interests of the new league, in which it is proposed to include Montreal and Ottawa, were approached in the matter. They said they would not give a cent for anybody's franchise, but would consider the advisability of joining the National Association if the Syracuse property could be had for nothing. They took the position that they had something that the league wanted, and were prepared to "sit tight" or go ahead with the organization of their new league. Montreal is wanted by the National Association, and further negotiations will probably be conducted, although Shaughnessy left for home tonight. He claims to have unlimited financial backing for baseball in Montreal, either in his new circuit or in the former International. One of his backers was here with him today.

The Akron franchise and players will probably be sent to either Providence or Newark. These are matters with which the club owners will wrestle when they convene again tomorrow.

In regard to the above, when interviewed by The Star, Shaughnessy said that he and his associates did not intend to pay for the careless management in connection with the Syracuse Ball Club.

They were prepared to buy that franchise in the International League at a reasonable figure, something like what the Syracuse owner paid for it, but they would not reimburse him for his losses, which was a preposterous thing to ask.

If then cannot get an International franchise at a reasonable price, they will get a National Association one.

It is the intention to rebuild new stands on Atwater Park and play the weekday games there.

M'GILL B.W. AND F. SMOKER TOMORROW

The first assault-at-arms to be held at McGill this season will take place tomorrow evening at the McGill Union, when all of the better boxers, wrestlers and fencers will get into action in public. About thirty men out of classes containing three or four hundred have been chosen for exhibitions, so that the standard of the program should be very good.

The program consists of seven boxing bouts, seven wrestling matches, and two fencing bouts. Nearly all of the men who are taking part in the bouts are experienced, the majority of them having been in the Intercollegiate Assault-at-Arms last spring. The contests tonight will serve as the first elimination trial for the intercollegiate team and the men are all on edge to show their best.

George Smith, who has coached the wrestlers for many successive years, has them in hand again this season and has high hopes of their success in competition. With a couple of intercollegiate champions as a nucleus for a team, he is building up an aggregation that should be able to hold its own in any contest. The wrestlers have been working overtime for the past month, and all appear to be in good shape.

The boxing class is being handled once more by Jack McBrearty. At least, he is coaching the advanced class, as the large number turning out made it necessary to secure two coaches this season. Several newcomers to the college have been showing up well, and these, along with some of last year's material, make up a team that should develop into a good outfit before the season is over.

The fencing class is about the largest in the history of the sport at McGill. At present the main trouble is in securing space accommodation and equipment for the men. Mr. Raimandi has been teaching the men the fine points of the game, and they are all showing good progress, while many appear to be exceptionally good. While fencing with foils is the main part of the club's program, there is some work with the sabres.

During the program tomorrow evening one of the college orchestras will entertain the spectators between the bouts, and some other features will be on the bill. Anyone wishing to attend may secure tickets at the door tomorrow evening.

LEWIS NOW CHAMPION WRESTLER; MUST BE ZBYSCO'S TURN NEXT.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Ed. "Strangler" Lewis, master of the headlock, reigned king among the wrestlers today.

The big Kentuckian took the title from Joe Stecher, who threw Earl Caddock for the championship last winter, after a bout lasting one hour and forty minutes here last night.

Stecher went down a victim to seven crushing headlocks, the last of which came just a few seconds after he had almost pinned Lewis' shoulders to the mat with a body scissors.

FRENCH-CAN. SKI MEN MAY JOIN IN WEEK OF SPORT

The executive committee of the Club de Ski Mont Royal d'Amerique will hold a special meeting tomorrow evening at the Outremont residence of Joseph Beaubien, the club's secretary. It is said that the object of the meeting is to make final arrangements for the coming season, and to make plans in connection with the visiting of the various French colleges who want the French-Canadian skiers to give a demonstration of their "savoir faire."

The committee will also decide whether the club members will take part in the new proposed branch of winter sport. L. A. Racicot, who is in charge of the snowshoe committee in connection with this carnival, has been in communication with President Champlain Provencher, to that effect.

Mr. Provencher told the latter that the whole matter would be referred to the club's executive committee, which is meeting tomorrow night.

Duncan Next Captain of 'Varsity Rugby Team

TORONTO, Dec. 14.—(Star Special)—At a meeting of the University of Toronto football players yesterday, Gordon Duncan was elected captain of next year's team. Duncan is well qualified to fill the vacancy left by the departure of "Joe" Breen and should prove an ideal leader.

He is well liked by his team mates and added to this is one of the best flying wings in the game. "Laddie" Cassels is not sure that he will be able to spare the time to coach the team, but efforts will be brought to bear to have him consider. Cassels is a lawyer now and a very busy man.

ST. PATRICK'S BUSY COMPLETING TEAM FOR HOCKEY SEASON

It is Expected That in Addition to Saving Money in Travelling, St. Patrick's Will Get Big Houses Through Hamilton

FIRST HOCKEY PRACTICE FOR M'GILL SQUAD

The McGill hockey team held its first practice on ice yesterday afternoon when the squad turned out on the campus rink. Owing to the fact that it was uncertain whether the rink would be ready the turnout was not very large but the men put in a stiff practice. The ice was exceptionally good for this time of the season and the teams ought to be able to get in several fast workouts before the closed rinks are ready.

It is impossible to judge which of the newcomers are likely to make the team this season as they have not done enough work as yet to show their capabilities. There is a large turnout of men, however, and some good material should be found among them.

Of last year's senior squad, everyone has returned with the exception of Heney, Earl Anderson, and Parsons. Cully is left alone on the defence, while Behan, Dineen, "Boo" Anderson, and Flanagan are all left for the forward line, although the two latter can play on the defence if it is found necessary. Ted Clarke will try again for the goaler's position and will have sharp opposition from many of the other candidates. His experience gained in senior company last season should stand him in good stead and he will most likely have first call on the berth.

Leo Timmins played in goal for the intermediates last season and is trying out with the squad this year. Gallery is also in the game again, while Kelly, McLaughlin, Lyall, and Kent of the second team are all in uniform again and should make one of the senior squads. Syd Davis, the star defence man of the intermediate team last season, looks like the likely man to work with big Jim Cully on the defence of the intercollegiate team. Davis is not very big but he is a hard man to pass and will probably make a good bid for the position.

T. & D.F.A. President Resigned Office

TORONTO, Dec. 14.—(Star Special)—Norman J. Howard, president of the Toronto and District Football Association resigned last night. His resignation was caused by the fact that he is going to Ottawa, where he has accepted a new position with the water works department, General Supply Co. of Canada. Thomas Holland, first vice-president, was elected by the delegates to fill the office of president for the remainder of the association year. Tom Sterling will be first vice-president and Fred. Mitchener second vice-president. J. L. Logie, of the Caledonian Club will fill Mr. Mitchener's position as councillor.

ANCIENT PACER DEAD.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 14.—John R. Gentry, 2:00½, once pacing champion of the world, is dead of old age. Had the horse lived until January 1, he would have been 32 years old.

John R. Gentry, for many years known as "The Little Red Horse" was owned by the E. H. Harriman estate and had spent his last years in luxurious quarters at the Tennessee State Fair Grounds. He was sired by Ashland Wilkes and his dam was by Wedgwood. He set his record at Portland, Me., Sept. 4, 1896.

TORONTO, Dec. 14—(Star Special)—The replacing of Quebec with Hamilton, will mean a wonderful saving in travelling expenses for the St. Patricks and a great increase in attendance because Hamilton teams always bring out good crowds in Toronto. And it looks as if Percy Thompson is rounding out a strong team for Hamilton and one that will be right in the hunt for the championship. What the Arena's share amounted to in the games played last year by St. Patricks would mount up to nearly $12,000 and it goes without saying that on some of the games their share amounted to more than $1,000 a night. The St. Patricks officials know when they made the agreement with the receivers to pay $1,000 a night just how much they contributed last season and they can figure pretty well just how they will do at the straight rental.

Indications right now are that St. Patricks will have some new faces from the amateur ranks on their team before long. Young Vernon Forbes will perform in goal. This kid was the sensation of the N. H. L. last season and as he is a great favorite in Toronto the St. Patricks could not afford to lose him. At any rate the kid was smart enough to make the Irish officials sign him to a two year contract when he jumped the amateur ranks last season. Randall and Cameron are the two defence men in the fold at present. The St. Patricks are angling for another. George Kennedy of Canadiens, has offered big Harry Mummery to the St. Patricks either in a straight cash deal or in a trade. That St. Pats. will get him goes without saying. The big fellow is popular here. Just who St. Pats can offer in a trade is not known, but it must be a forward because that is all Kennedy will take. On the forward line they will have Noble, Dye, Roach and Dennenay. "Cully" Wilson may come along later but he tied up with the C. P. A., having accepted money from them. For that reason the St. Patricks are not bothering with him until they see how the situation comes out.

St. Patricks have been angling for a long time for Gordon Keats, the former Toronto boy and 228th Battalion centre player, who is now playing as an "amateur" out in Alberta.

There is a slight difference between the club and player in regards salary but this will no doubt be adjusted. Keats would look good on this St. Patricks club. "Rod" Smillie last year with Dentals in the O. H. A. senior series and this year a candidate for the Varsity senior team, is being sought. Smillie is one of the most consistent forwards in amateur hockey in these parts. He is not a flashy player by any means and if anything is inclined to be awkward on his skates. But he is a glutton for work and as back checker has no superior. He is as hard as nails, always in first class condition and can take a powerful amount of abuse. "Bill" Carson, last year's clever centre player of Varsity, is another who may land with the St. Patricks. The St. Patricks' officials are keen on having young, fast forwards, who are going all the time and that is their idea in keeping the attack made up of stars from the amateur ranks. "Mike" Mitchell, the spare St. Patricks' goaler, is now in bed and unable to turn out to practice. Hamiltons need a good goaler and have asked St. Patricks to trade Mitchell to them. This may be done and Carpenter, last year with Quebec, may come to Toronto in exchange. That will give St. Patricks another defence man.

BLUE LAWS.

If I must spend the Sabbath sitting knitting,
I'm going to try to make the best of it,
Although there is no point in not admitting
That I don't care a lot to sit and knit.
And yet it's not distaste for such employment
That touches me so much upon the raw;
What wounds me is that it will give enjoyment
To those self righteous folk who passed the law.

I'll stay at home, if it is made unlawful
To tramp or drive, or ride on trolley cars;
And though I'll miss tobacco something awful
If also I'm deprived of my cigars,
It is not this that stirs my indignation
At times, and alternately makes me sad.
I get that way because my deprivation
Will make a lot of smug reformers glad.

If I must draw the blinds because I'm fearful
That I will meet some stern policeman's gaze,
Get dragged to court, and tried for looking cheerful
And sent to jail perhaps for thirty days,
I know that I'll commit no overt action,
But what will fill my heart with bitter stings,
And rile my soul up is the satisfaction
I give to men who've made me do these things.

McCauley said no Puritan objected
To baiting bears because it pained the bear.
But for the reason that the show affected
With pleasure the spectators gathered there.
And I bewail the woes that I must suffer
When forced to do naught else but draw my breath,
Because I know some lantern jawed old duffer
Who sees me will be tickled half to death.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

THE GIRL-LESS TELEPHONES.

At last the telephone girls are to be given a chance to laugh last.

Under a new invention subscribers are to be required to get their own connections. And if the subscriber calls himself all the names he previously called "Central," a great many men are going to cease to be on speaking terms with themselves.

The Girl-less Telephone System has been perfected and will soon be tried out in New York. In other words, there will be no hello girls at the telephone office to get you your numbers. That there have been any there in the past will be denied by most telephone users.

The new invention will make it possible for every 'phone user to have a little telephone exchange in his own home. If he can learn to play it everything will be lovely.

Each telephone instrument will be fitted out with a set of buttons, a wheel of fortune, a set of winning numbers, and an alphabet. Not all the letters of the alphabet will be included. Just enough to spell the most popular profane words.

The chief drawback to its success is that to use the new 'phone successfully one must be able to spell the names of the exchanges. Most people can't even pronounce them.

RULES FOR OPERATING THE NEW 'PHONE.

1.—Choose your number and exchange.

2.—Spin the wheel. If it stops on the number desired you get the connection. Three spins for a nickel. Positively no blanks!

3.—You then spin it again to get the exchange. To win you have to be lucky enough to have the wheel stop at the right number and the right exchange.

4.—Any person getting the right combination the first time will be given a $3 kewpie doll.

5.—All exchange numbers will come in two colors, the red and the black. State what color you are playing when you spin the wheel!

6.—Any subscriber giving himself unsatisfactory service will be expected to look at his image in the hall mirror and address it as follows:—

"Whazzzamattah with you? . . . . Don't you know nuthin'? . . . .

"Of all the boneheads I ever tried to get good telephone service from, you are the worst!"

7.—If a subscriber gives himself particularly bad service it will be permissible for him to file a written complaint against himself with the telephone company.

8.—No subscriber shall be permitted to talk back to himself under any circumstances.

"Central" will be sorely missed, we think. She has always been a good old soul, a little slow, rather dense mentally and with a vocabulary limited to "Scuzeitpleaze," "Thepottyatcalledjewhashungup," and "Atlinezouterorder"; but she has taken a lot of punishment with good grace.

On the whole, it has been rather comforting for you to know that she was there and that she represented the one woman in the world you could talk snippy to—and possibly swear at—without getting all scratched up or sued.

CHARGED WITH THROWING GAMES

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 14.—Wm. (Babe) Borton appeared in the Superior Court here yesterday to respond to an indictment charging him with having participated in a conspiracy to lose and win games in the Pacific Coast Baseball League for the benefit of alleged gamblers. He deposited $1,000 bond for appearance today for arraignment.

Ottawa Hockey Squad Held First Practice

OTTAWA, Dec. 14. — The Ottawa Hockey Club's squad held its first workout at the Arena Saturday night and had fifteen players in uniform. Manager Dey gave the team a perfect sheet of ice and for over an hour the players were hard at it.

Those of the regular championship in uniform were: Broadbent, Benedict, Cleghorn, Gerard, Boucher, Darragh, Denenny, McKell and Bruce. John Ross, the best defence man in the city league last year, was also present and may decide to take the jump. It was announced that Frank Nighbor would report just as soon as he gets his affairs at Pembroke in shape, so the Ottawas will be intact.

Eddie Lowrey, formerly of the Ottawas, is negotiating with the Hamilton team and may report this week to Manager Percy Thompson.

TO MANAGE READING TEAM.

READING, Pa., Dec. 14.—Announcement was made that Richard C. (Dick) Hobitzell, former first-baseman of the Cincinnati Reds and Boston Red Sox, has signed a contract to manage the Reading International League Baseball Club next season, succeeding "Silent" John Hummel, who recently resigned. Hobitzell managed the Akron Internationals last season.

"Do you haul many cars out in a day?"

"I've pulled out twelve today."

"Do you work at night, too?"

"Yes; at night I haul water for the mudhole!"

DIAMOND RING SOLD OUTRIGHT

Defendant Was Not Pawnbroker, So Could Not Accept Pledge

The tale of a day's jollification and its disappointing aftermath was unfolded in the Superior Court yesterday in the judgment rendered by Mr. Justice Duclos in the case of A. Phillips versus S. B. Vineberg, for restoration of a diamond ring.

In explaining his decision, His Lordship stated that apparently Phillips came from a very dry corner of the United States to spend a day in Montreal with a friend. He spent it so happily, however, that before it was over they had used up all their available funds. Their liquid assets having turned into liquid refreshment, they decided to try to raise $200 on a diamond ring, Phillips' property. For this purpose, they visited Vineburg's shop, where the proprietor explained that he was not at liberty to lend, not being a pawnbroker, but would buy the ring for $200, and if they wished they could buy it back from him later.

Phillips on returning home, instructed his friend in Montreal to see about re-purchasing the ring, but Vineberg wanted $300 for it, and while they were arguing about the price, he sold the ring for $275. The result was the present action, in which Phillips claimed that the money was loaned to him, and asked for restoration of the ring.

His Lordship maintained that the transaction was a legitimate sale, not a loan, and dismissed the case.

EXPRESS SITUATION UNAFFECTED HERE

The announcement that the American Railway Express Company is laying off a large number of men in the United States has no bearing on the branch of that company in Montreal, according to A. S. Friedlander, assistant freight agent. "Business is at present better than one would expect and we do not anticipate the laying off of any men, though with conditions as they are, it is impossible to make any definite plans."

Inquiry at the Dominion Express and the Canadian National Express brought the reply that neither of those companies had any intention of laying off men, though they too could only speak for the very near future. The Canadian Express had no statement to make on the matter.

FIND HORSE AND RIG BUT ROBE IS MISSING

Champlain Provencher, organizer of amateur sporting clubs for boys, while taking a drive behind his fast little Canadian roadster, called on some friends on Clarke street, near Villeneuve. He left the horse and rig standing attached to the usual weight, but when he came out fifteen minutes later, found them gone.

He reported the loss to the nearest police station and was notified this morning that they had been found standing near the corner of Sherbrooke and St. Denis streets.

One of the two valuable buffalo robes, worth three hundred dollars apiece, was missing.

MONTREAL, TORONTO AND CHICAGO.

The double track route of the Grand Trunk between Montreal, Toronto and Chicago will afford those who are travelling this Christmas the maximum of travel comfort. The "International Limited" leaves Montreal daily at 10:00 a.m., standard time, arrives Toronto 5:40 p.m., London 9:03 p.m., Detroit 11:35 p.m., and reaches Chicago at 8:10 the following morning. For those who desire to begin their journey at night, equally attractive service is provided, leaving Montreal at 11.00 p.m., by the Montreal-Toronto, Hamilton, Detroit and Chicago Limited. The equipment on these trains is unexcelled and includes, on the "International Limited," observation library, sleeping car, compartment drawing room sleeping car, parlor car and dining car (breakfast served before reaching Chicago), and on the night train from Montreal, club compartment drawing room, sleeping car and standard sleeping cars. The dining car service is an outstanding feature. For full particulars, reservations, etc., apply Canadian-National-Grand Trunk City Ticket Offices, 230 St. James St., Montreal.

Life and Character Reading

DECEMBER 14.

The women of this birthdate will be found most unhappy if they cannot have the latest garments in style and cut, and the men will not be willing to sacrifice pride of power or display. Luxury loving, both men and women of this birthdate are selfish and want nothing in which they do not receive the lion's share.

We find the men and women of this birthdate sticklers for conventionality and formality of manner and method. The nature is very critical, sometimes quarrelsome, excitable and easily prejudiced. There is refinement, love of the artistic and considerable love of display.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1921.

Capital is the Labor of the Past.
Labor is the Capital of the Future.
Capital and Labor pulling together, create the prosperity of the Present.

A CENTURY'S LABOR AT STAKE.

A GREAT principle now established by the British and American peoples concerns the ability of two powers speaking a common language to live for a century at peace as Great Britain and the United States have lived, despite the natural divergences in interests consequent upon competitive foreign trade. Establishment in history of this example is an asset stored in the treasury of civilization, urging upon mankind the belief that maintenance of world peace is within the scope of practical politics.

This achievement of a century is at stake in threatened naval rivalry between the two great English-speaking nations. They have not lived in harmony by good fortune, but because of the laborious work of enlightened statesmen. The efforts of the past will have gone for naught if now the two nations are to enter upon a gun-building competition, leading, as it will, to world mischief.

Canada's interest in Anglo-American harmony is profound. It is her good fortune that she is able to interpret the aspirations of each of these peoples and to speak to both on a basis of understanding. Nothing would so quickly and radically disturb this Dominion as friction or armed suspicion between Great Britain and the United States. Given that development, the arming of the Canadian border would come at once within the concern of official circles. The possibilities are appalling.

The sacrifices of the great war are believed to have sealed the closing of the era of bluster and blunder in international affairs. No longer is it necessary to follow through anxious years of mounting taxation to the swirling whirlpool of death, debt and chaos which every intelligent citizen knows to lie at the end of the road. With each vote and counter-vote of money, the people can visualize the blood and brutality to which the vicious round is leading.

Civilization assumes that man is not a slave in the galley of Mars, but a free citizen, capable of mastering his fate. The whole upward and onward movement of mankind depends upon the continued ability of the British and American peoples to find self-respecting satisfaction for their aspirations in healthy rivalry in the arts of peace.

THE CHARTER AND THE LEGISLATURE.

ON more than one occasion the Provincial Legislature has blocked legislation inimical to the true interests of Montreal. We look to the Legislature to see that no new civic charter is decreed that is not in the true interest of the city.

There is much in the proposed new Charter that creates concern, much that will require wise consideration at Quebec. It cannot for a moment be believed that the Legislature, for instance, would favor going back to the old administration by a city council and committees. There has been ample experience to prove that such government has worked untold harm; to revert to it again would be to court disaster.

Montreal is the fifth largest city on this continent, and it is vital to the interests of the province itself that its administration should be business-like and efficient. This cannot be attained unless the reins of office are in capable hands.

The present is not the time either to adopt old methods or gamble with doubtful innovations of government. When the Legislature, at the urgent plea of citizens, came to the rescue and appointed an Administrative Commission to remodel our civic finances and prevent the threat of bankruptcy, there was widespread approval.

When the Legislature convenes next month it will have no more important subject before it than the consideration of the form of government this city is to have.

Wise civic government means satisfactory finances, rapid increase of population, and esteem both here and abroad.

Canada and the United States are disputing the ownership of two Western rivers. With both countries under prohibition, the matter is quite serious.

A federal prohibition agent says making New York dry is "a hopeless task." (Wireless of sympathy from the Scottish retreat of "Pussyfoot" Johnson.)

Christmas preparations go on. One million bottles of champagne are expected in America, to be used for medicinal purposes.

CALIFORNIA AND THE JAPANESE.

OF the many questions pressing for settlement which face President-elect Harding on the eve of his entry into office none will require more delicate handling and none is more pregnant with possibility for good or evil than the adjustment of differences between the United States and Japan.

It was in the autumn of 1906 that the relations between Japan and America were first disturbed by the school question in California. The devastation caused in the City of San Francisco by the earthquake of that year had created a dearth of school accommodation and the Board of Education issued an order excluding Japanese children from the ordinary public schools which they had previously attended, and providing for their education in the common Asiatic school established in the Chinese quarter. There is no doubt that the origin of the trouble was the desire of the labor unions of San Francisco and other places on the Pacific Coast to exclude Japanese as well as Chinese labor for the purpose of maintaining a high rate of wages and restrictions on output.

Relations were better for a time and at least on the surface there was no visible cause for dispute. In 1913, however, difficulties again arose between the two countries by the introduction in the California Legislature—among other anti-Japanese measures — of what is known as the Webb Bill. This bill, which virtually, although not in form, prohibited the ownership of real property by the Japanese was passed by the Legislature in spite of the strongest protests from Japan.

In the course of the diplomatic correspondence relating to the passage of this bill it was pointed out by Japan that the law in question discriminated unfairly against Japanese subjects and was in direct contravention of treaty provisions. The Washington Government of the day upheld the action of the California Legislature on the grounds that the law was a result of economic competition and that every nation has a right to determine for itself such questions as the one in dispute in order to preserve internal peace and avoid contentions which might disturb international relations. The correspondence came to an end without any settlement of the dispute being reached.

There was a strong difference of opinion between the Federal and State authorities over the Alien Land Ownership Bill. President Wilson declared that while he fully recognized the right of the people to legislate according to their judgment on the question of land tenure, he urged them to consider the international character of such legislation. Japanese feeling rose to a high pitch in 1916-1917, and there was anti-American rioting in Tokio and other Japanese cities. This Land Act was condemned by many newspapers in America, the New York Tribune declaring that "the statute was a plain violation of the treaty of 1911 with Japan."

By a plebiscite held simultaneously with the last Presidential election California has again endorsed the discriminatory principle against the Japanese.

Meanwhile both America and Japan are adding millions to their naval estimates without any attempt at concealment of their mutual defiance. The analogy to the preparations of another Power for "The Day" is too similar not to be exceedingly grave, and with a constant source of friction in California the big guns of the battleships cast a shadow that appals a world whose wounds have not yet healed.

THE POPULAR HABIT.

THE last-minute rush of Christmas shoppers is a regular feature of the season. People seem to prefer to wait until feverish anxiety possesses them.

Generosity is not essentially a methodical virtue. It does seem rather out of harmony with the seasonable spirit to buy a Christmas present weeks in advance and then wait in ambush with it somewhere until the victim comes along on December 25, to be hit over the head with the gift.

Even where the children are concerned, there are difficulties. The youngsters are in the house so much of the time that no opportunity is afforded the interested parent to try out the merchanical toys and see how the ridiculous thing works. Everything must be hidden away and kept for Santa Claus and the quick and effective wrecking operations of Christmas morning.

That eleventh-hour dash through the shopping district, anticipation of which so often breaks down the sternest determination in favor of economy, is a big feature in our best memories of Christmas. Most of us go in for it regularly, like heroes on errands of daring rescue. And when, tired and trussed up with bundles, we make towards home, we look sufficiently foolish to do our part in spreading the spirit of the season.

TWO WAYS OF HELPING.

HARD words are sometimes spoken of men of business training because of their apparent want of sympathy with charity. To many such men charity appears as an inefficient remedy for an existing evil.

The world situation at the present time offers an interesting example. Distress and famine are reported from many quarters. What is to be done?

"Charity," cries the altruist, and he is right, but the business man is also right when he deduces from the situation an imperative demand for the stabilization of national finances everywhere and a resumption on a normal basis of international trade.

The warm-hearted altruist rushes to meet the temporary crisis; the hard-headed business man seeks the permanent remedy. Humanity needs the services of both.

THE WORLD'S PRESS

Restricting Immigration.

Springfield Republican: Canada's decision to increase the requirements in cash which immigrants must possess will doubtless still further swell the Ellis Island tide. The situation has become one unquestionably calling for prompt attention by Congress.

Aggravates the Crime.

Providence Journal: It is stated on good authority that, following up the ruling that the preparation of the home-made Christmas pudding, with brandy sauce, is a treasonable offence, the discovery of cloves in any household will be taken as prima facie evidence of a criminal debauch.

Where Ignorance is a Crime.

Times of India: If political economy is the dull science, then to be dull is the most important thing in the world. Few realize this, and hence the frequency with which politicians who have never heard of the margin of cultivation and think that the law of diminishing returns has something to do with bogus companies and investments commit sins against their country.

Art and Economics.

Manchester Guardian: The effects of economic circumstance upon the course of art have often been large and curious. An example may presently be offered by the effects of high railway fares upon the theatre. The high fares cut many ways, but two are particularly obvious. It has become much harder, and may become impossible, for managers of travelling companies to pay their way. And it has become much harder for people living at some distance from any large town to go in to the theatre as much as they did before the war.

The Black Shadow in South Africa.

Buluwayo Chronicle: A cloud much larger than a man's hand has arisen at Port Elizabeth, and has its smaller counterparts in other portions of the Union. While white South Africa has been frittering away its time and energies and blinding itself with political disputes of racial origin in the Republican movement of the Nationalists and the hostility of that party to all immigration from overseas, the position as regards the colored inhabitants of the Union has been going from bad to worse. Not that the colored races have anything special of which to complain; but the same parochial spirit which would restrict the numbers of the country's white population also aims at the keeping the colored man in the place he traditionally occupied under the Transvaal and Free State Republics.

The Foolishness of Under-Production.

Los Angeles Times: While there may have been isolated cases of overproduction, on the whole the world has always suffered from under-consumption. And since our whole social order of modern times is based upon cooperation, reciprocity and the general exchange of services and commodities, any plan which proposes to benefit only a given group or workers and traders is under indictment for militating against the welfare of the community as a whole. Since it is evident that we supply our own wants by exchanging production and services with each other, any limiting of production for the purpose of raising prices and wages is impairing the purchasing power of one's customers and intriguing to place them at a disadvantage, which must, after all, ultimately react against one's self.

The Strolling Players.

London Times: If the revival of the masque in the town hall of Dorchester should lead to its revival in the villages of England; if the mummers, wondrously habited and proud in their splendour should once more tramp the roads and act their play at the squire's and the parson's and the farmers', rural England would be the richer by some very good and neighbourly fun. London and the big towns have their Punch and Judy, and the mummers' play is not for them. It is for the village and the small country town; and, seeing the success which has attended the revival of folk-dancing, it may not be too much to hope that equal avidity be shown for this ancient country rite. But there is no time to be lost. The mummers' play is already dying, if not dead; and memories so long and so well stored with country lore are not many.

Give Freely and Wisely.

Scotsman: It is necessary in these times, when demands for financial support, alike on the Government and on the private purse, are greater than can possibly be met, to remember, along with the duty of giving freely, that of giving wisely and discriminatingly. University education, however, has always had a special call upon the sympathy and the generosity of our countrymen; it has been a point of national honor to provide it bounteously, of the best quality, and on terms that place it within reach of practically all classes of the nation. The dilemma in which Edinburgh, in common with the other Scottish Universities—but in measure, perhaps, more pressing than the others—finds itself placed, is that whereas the call for academic training was never so great, and the students seeking admission never so numerous, the demands have largely outrun both accommodation and financial resources.

Too Much Cheap Talk From Hon. Wesley Rowell.

Toronto Telegram: Canadians should not applaud Hon. Wesley Rowell in Mr. Rowell's cheap suggestions to the effect that European diplomacy put 50,000 Canadians in soldiers' graves. In so far as diplomacy contributed to the outbreak of the war in 1914, France was innocent of the responsibility for such diplomacy. The Great War had its primary origin in the hearts of 80,000,000 Germans, who were taught to believe that war was the easiest, most profitable, glorious game on earth. The war had its beginning, not in European diplomacy, but in Germany's delusion that the Huns had only to stretch out the hand of their military power and the mastery of the world was theirs for the taking. The Great War had its secondary origin in the heads of Britain's peace-mongering rulers. The Gladstones, the Asquiths, the Greys and other idols whom Hon. Wesley Rowell ignorantly worshipped, did their best to leave Britain unarmed against the German peril. The anti-dreadnought diplomacy of Laurier, Rowell & Co., did more than the worst forms of European diplomacy could do to arm Germany for war. The pacifist, Free Trader, anti-dreadnoughter, Hon. Wesley Rowell, represents a Little Englander, native Canadian diplomacy that is more destructive of the world's peace than all the diplomacies that were ever heard outside of Potsdam.

A Post-War Shrine in Italy.

Above bright sea and gleaming villas, where
Two rough-paved hill tracks cross, I found a cheap
New shrine, already crumbling; just a square
Sunk in the wall, a sight to laugh and weep!
Madonna! Dear Bambino! Is it you
They meant to paint there, so grotesquely shawled,
With heads flaked off, no trace of gold or blue?
Above, some ribald, vagrant hand had scrawled:
"Viva il bolschevismo!" Yet beneath,
The shelf was decked with daisies that grew wild
About; quaint, pink knots and a tiny wreath
Lay near a broken doll! "Oh, little child,"
I thought, "God's blessing on you! Here is leaven
To Start the veriest vandal toward Heaven!"

—Isabel Valle, in the New York Sun.

THE EDITOR'S MAIL

IS THIS THE SOLUTION?

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star:

Sir,—From my office window I view a very large number of chimneys, from which there belches forth considerable heat, as though every one were endeavoring to warm the atmosphere. Of course it is lost, wasted; but is there not room here for a great discovery or invention that would effect such a needed economy, of retaining and taking benefit to the full of all this escaping heat? But if not, why couldn't this heat be caught in large domes over each block or conducted to a heat sewer down to the river St. Lawrence and thus warm its waters and keep it open the year round. Let nothing be lost or wasted that might be turned to account.

Can our good friend Mr. Allen G. Ingalls, who is a heating expert, not advise us in this regard? ECONOMY.

THE REWARD OF A LIFE'S WORK.

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star.

Sir,—I have read with much interest the letters that have appeared in the columns of The Star from time to time concerning the total inadequacy of the pensions paid to superannuated teachers. Having myself taught in various schools of the Province for upwards of forty years, and being in receipt of a pension of $300 a year, I am, in the eyes of some of my confreres, looked upon as a sort of bloated plutocrat for, in addition to my pension, I am in receipt of the sum of $90 a year, the interest on a mortgage I hold and in which I have invested the sum of $1,500, at 6 per cent. The accumulation of this sum is the result of forty years of the most rigid economy. During the whole of that time I added to my income in every possible way. . . . by giving private lessons, by taking charge of night schools, by keeping books for various firms and by working during the summer on the farms, or elsewhere, if more favorable places occurred. I never smoked, or drank, or travelled. I cannot recall ever having wasted a single dollar. I do not lay the flattering unction to my soul that I am better than others because of this. The penury in which I, in common with most teachers, had to live, made it absolutely compulsory that one should be abstemious, industrious and thrifty. As my gross income, from all sources is the munificent sum of $390, and as I have a wife to keep (she is the most capable housekeeper in this Province of capable housewives), it will readily be seen that we are still on the job of trying to make a dollar do the work of three. That we are not wholly unsuccessful may be gathered from the fact that we do not owe anybody a dollar. Not a bad showing on a daily income of $1.06¾ cents. But we are thankful that next year is not Leap Year. The problem of providing for that intercalary day upsets all our calculations every four years.

PLUTOCRATIC PENSIONER.

SOLDIERS' BURIALS.

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star:

Sir,—Having read in your columns recently the remarks regarding the deplorable conditions under which several returned soldiers who have died in Montreal are laid to rest without the respect that is due, I would like to submit the following:

Having held some important offices in the G.W.V.A. at Windsor and Walkerville, Ontario, I take credit for the fact that I was one of the first to help organize both branches and can therefore speak with some degree of correctness as to the methods carried out there.

When a comrade dies he is accorded a full military funeral; band, firing squad and members of the branches as mourners. We obtained a gun carriage, rifles and blank ammunition upon requisition; the former kept at the armories, and the latter at club rooms. I myself, an ex-N.C.O., invariably took charge of the firing party. We also procured lots both in the Protestant and Roman Catholic graveyards where our comrades are laid to rest side by side, and their graves taken care of. On memorial day a huge parade is held for the purpose of decorating the graves by all returned men and their friends.

This I believe is in accordance with the constitution of the G.W.V.A., Article I, paragraph B.

It seems to me that there should be no difficulty experienced of the same procedure being carried out here.

There are numerous branches of the G.W.V.A., Army and Navy Veterans, etc. Surely someone should be enthusiastic enough to attend to this and see that each departed comrade is laid to rest in a fitting manner.

The argument might arise that he was not a member. Even so, we had cases of such arise, but it made no difference to us, he was a comrade who perhaps through unavoidable circumstances was unable to join.

SEMPER FIDELIS.

AS A RAILROADER SEES IT

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star.

Sir, — "Traveller's" chief complaint against railroads in general is that they allow their employes passes on their respective lines. To the fair-minded person, this will not seem strange as, for instance, an employe of a department store, is allowed a reduction on any articles sold by that store, an employe of a moving-van company is given the privilege of having his furniture transported for him at any time, even "Traveller," I am sure, is granted a reduction in the line of goods sold by his firm which he may desire to purchase. Furthermore, while a railroad employe does not usually encounter any great difficulty in obtaining a half-rate on the line in which service he is, it is necessary to be with the same railway for a period of fifteen years before a pass good at any time can be obtained, and in those days before free transportation of any kind can be received.

As for "high" salaries, perhaps "Traveller" will explain how it is that there are so many clerks who have grown old in the railway service who are not receiving more than $150.00 per month. Persons of eighteen and over are now experiencing difficulty in obtaining positions at the minimum of $87.50 per month, a large proportion of whom are efficient stenographers and clerks.

To my mind, the average individual knows as much about the real working of a railroad, rates charged, etc., as who will be the next leader of Russia. The ignorance that I have encountered in conversing with most people is really amazing. How many of your readers, for example, know that there is to be a reduction in railroad rates on the first of January, 1921? In spite of the fact that this was announced in newspaper headlines, there are many who do not yet know of this change.

If persons like "Traveller" would only find out a little about a subject which they wish to discuss before doing so, there would be far less misunderstanding in this world. RAILROADER.

HE'S GOT IT!

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star:

Sir,—In reply to your distinguished correspondent, Mr. D. R. Perry, referring to the undersigned as an expert on the subject of heating the St. Lawrence river, I beg to inform your correspondent that he who libels my good name, throws mud at heaven, as I positively and solemnly affirm that I am not the father of the child.

I am not even an expert at house heating in spite of all the useful and even invaluable secrets on that important subject, furnished by Mr. Allen G. Ingalls in the past twenty years.

Nevertheless I have a most practical and ingenious suggestion which I am convinced should take first prize in any competition on the subject of Simple Solutions of Ponderous Problems for Mighty Minds.

My humble and saline solution to the unfinished mystery would be to establish a gigantic fish hatchery either at Caughnawaga or Laprairie where millions of dog-fish and cat-fish would be hatched. These would be turned loose at the close of navigation and Montreal would have a new winter sport as well as open navigation. The river banks would be crowded with excited spectators, ferry boats overloaded, St. Helen's Island swamped with sightseers. Why? What for? To see the herds of dog-fish chasing the schools of catfish up and down the river.

Sic a million dogfish on a million catfish and so-help-me-Mike, the river would be churned up all winter long so that ships could sail up to Montreal on a flood of sea-foam, caused by the fish riot. The river could never freeze, even at 99 below.

Another advantage of this plan would be that the Montreal city garbage could then be dumped off Victoria bridge and by the time it would have reached Maisonneuve the garbage would be churned into Oleomargarine equal to the kind the people of Montreal are paying 35 cents per pound for—cash and carry.

Hoping that this suggestion will meet with the approval of the Vigilance Committee.

I am, yours for fish and hot water,
SIMP McGLIMP.

FRENCH-CANADIAN VIEWS

ADVERSE EXCHANGE.

L'Evenement:— We shall always consider that Brother Jonathan treats us as a usurer when he gives us only eighty-four cents worth of merchandise for our Canadian dollar. With a noticeable increase in our exports due to the movement of the wheat harvest over American roads there was reason to hope that the exchange would swing in favor of the Canadian dollar. It would have been so with an honest dealer; but our cousin has been and still remains the voracious Shylock who exploits the world to the last drop of blood. At least we might hope that this flagrant injustice would awaken sentiments of dignity and of national prudence. We possibly possess more natural wealth than the United States has ever had. In refusing to accept our conventional paper money at par or thereabouts New York is treating Canada as if she were a prodigal whom she does not believe is sufficiently intelligent ever to adjust her expenditure to her normal revenues. This brutally frank lesson ought to awaken in us a sense of our economic responsibilities. More than ever good Canadians will be doing a duty in replacing articles of American production by articles of home manufacture as much as possible. They will even postpone indispensable purchases until such time as the usurers to the south of us make us more reasonable offers. A general decline in prices has come, especially in the United States. But the exporters of New York and Chicago wish to recoup themselves to some extent at the expense of the guileless. Don't let us be classed in that category. At the same time let us profit by the display of greediness by fighting them in every foreign market to which our products have access. It is a fair fight and the rate of exchange will prove a benefit to us.

PERPETUATING TRADITIONS.

La Presse:— "Providence," writes Dr. Browne in his article printed in America, one of the leading Catholic reviews of this continent, "In allowing the French-Canadian to be worsted did not allow him to perish. He exists, a perfect bond between the past and present events of his history and those who have marked the profound changes in dynastic orders of recent years in Europe. That is to say it is this perpetuating of the traditions of the race across the ages which has made and continues to make today the strength of the French-Canadian group. If we can boast of any influence in the Dominion it is due to the fact that we can offer those who live around us the example of a people that has remained faithful at all times to the teachings handed down by their ancestors and the allegiance which it promised to its conquerors in 1760. The Government of the country need have no fear of an ethnical element which gives such guarantees.

MOORE'S SOLUTION FOR UNEMPLOYED

Advocates Insurance as Only Permanent Cure for Problem

U.F.O. CAUCUS

Farmer Members Meet Today to Discuss Forthcoming Legislature

TORONTO, Dec. 14. — Unemployment insurance in Canada was advocated by Tom Moore, president of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, in an interview here.

"Insurance is the only permanent solution of the unemployment problem," Mr. Moore said. "We realize that any scheme, in order to be a success, must have within it some incentive to limit the amount of unemployment. This incentive could be secured by assessing employers according to the number of men they lay off from their normal staff."

Establishment of administrative boards throughout the country by the Dominion Government was suggested by Mr. Moore, the duty of the boards being to ascertain the normal working conditions and number of employes in each factory during good times, levy an assessment somewhat similar to that levied by the Workmen's Compensation Boards in the various Provinces. By these assessments a fund could be built up for the protection of workmen during periods of unemployment, according to Mr. Moore.

He added that the levy should be made so as to hit hardest at the employer who laid off most men.

Mr. Moore expressed himself as in favor of some phases of the system of unemployment insurance which Switzerland had. In Switzerland, he said, employers are prohibited from laying off men for economic reasons until they had reduced the working hours per day to at least one half the normal number, and only when the wages of the workmen fell below 75 per cent. of the normal wage. When such a condition was reached the employers were assessed a sufficient amount to bring the wages of every worker up to 75 per cent. of his normal wage. Unemployment insurance was a matter for the Dominion Government to undertake, Mr. Moore said.

U. F. O. MEMBERS CAUCUS.

A caucus of the U. F. O. members of the Legislature will be held today at the Parliament buildings to discuss legislation for the coming session. It is said the legislation proposed by the Labor group in the Legislature will also come before the Farmer members. Among the questions to be discussed are rural credits, similar to those in the Western Provinces, and the proportional representation. The committee on the Ontario Temperance Act has not yet reported to the Government, but may do so shortly. The Government expects to have the business which is to come before the session well in hand prior to the opening of the Legislature on January 25 next.

FIND MISSING MAN'S BODY.

Norman D. Davidson, 28 years of age, who was missing from his home since December 9th, was found dead in a bush in the western outskirts of this city yesterday with a bullet wound in his head and a rifle in his left hand. He had been employed by the Canadian Fire Underwriters' Association and on the day of his disappearance was supposed to have gone to work.

U. F. O. ANNUAL MEETING.

Among the questions likely to come before the United Farmers of Ontario at their annual three day meeting here this week, beginning on Wednesday, are the tariff and the creation of a provincial political party, as required by Dominion legislation with respect to campaign financing. About 1,000 delegates are expected to attend the annual meeting.

QUEEN'S FINANCE CRITICAL.

As a result of the depreciated value of the dollar, the situation at Queen's University, Kingston, Ont., was not merely acute but critical, Rev. Dr. R. Bruce Taylor, principal of Queen's University, informed the Royal Commission on university finances here yesterday. Dr. Bruce Taylor was accompanied by members of the staff and alumni of Queen's University.

A SCHOOL FOR CONVERSATION.

During the social season, when we have so many personal calls to make on our good friends, it is surprising how an evening can be termed a complete success or a complete failure from the standpoint of entertainment; and the question naturally arises: Should people who are bad conversationalists invite other people out to dinner? Most of us are familiar with the type of married couples who are kind and hospitable, but who are the most difficult people to talk to, or, rather, talk with! Any number of subjects may be opened up for discussion, and the most controversial subjects touched upon in such a manner as to challenge discussion, but Mr. and Mrs. A. simply listen politely, and in the space of three minutes after one has embarked upon a monologue it simply dies a miserable death, and the spark of local small-talk flickers away slowly but surely. By nine o'clock there often occurs one of those dreaded conversational hiatuses that make one feel as if one were sitting on spikes, and you can almost hear the walls straining to support the ceiling. One can picture the poor visitor searching wildly in his or her mind for some fresh topic of discussion—some racy anecdote told the other day—anything to break the nerve-wracking silence that seems to engulf the room. Ah! a sudden, bright thought strikes the victim of circumstances. They have an eccentric aunt whose idiosyncrasies offer an ever-present fund of exploitation in the realm of conversation. For a moment one hesitates, but it is the only means of escape from a desperate situation! The question is on my lips—I hesitate—and with a superhuman effort, it issues forth:—"How is Aunt Alice?" What a change in the situation takes place! A. sat up and smiled with the anticipatory glee of a man who has a really good story to relate, while his wife smiled her very best. Relief had arrived. Well, well, would you believe it, Aunt Alice proved to be one of the most pleasing topics imaginable for the best part of an hour; indeed, although I had heard it before, its revival proved most attractive and entertaining; in fact, their delight was obvious. I left that house feeling that I had not been altogether a complete failure.

I often wonder how it is that there are so many delightful people like the above-mentioned couple who have only one subject of conversation and yet, on its revival, can make it very attractive. No doubt the same topic gives them a degree of self-confidence, but I should think many of them must have met with their prototypes in our lives; perhaps their minds yearn for the personal, the provincial, or the private topic. Who can best judge but themselves? It is really wonderful how I extricated myself from an awkward predicament; in fact, I clapped myself on the back after it was all over.

To my mind, the successful conversationalist is a most desirable personage during the social season, especially when coupled with a charming personality; in fact, this type of girl or man dominates the festive board and are the envy and secret admiration of the onlookers who lack the talent of the conversationalist.

HELEN.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER.

I am a young man, twenty-six years of age, and have been keeping company with a young lady two years my junior, for the past two years, and we are engaged to be married this coming spring.

I go to see her every night, and sometimes her mother gets vexed if we remain at home and when we go out she also gets vexed. One evening last week I had some business to attend to, so I called at the house and informed the young lady in the presence of her mother (who seemed quite pleasant.) The following day my lady friend told me that her mother got quite peeved after I had left, saying I would like to see the fellow that would not take me out on such a night, etc. I cannot understand this woman in the least—this lady friend seems to be the black sheep at home—for they all seem to take a delight in picking on her. One of her sisters seems quite nice when I speak to her, but I am told that she continually finds fault with me after I leave for home, and I may also state that after we come home from a show at night her mother waits at the head of the stairs and hollers about us having been standing there for hours, when we had really just reached the door. I am in a quandry as to really what to do, to try and please all. Would you please give me your opinion of a mother or daughter that acts in such a manner, as it hurts me more than a slap in the face.

EMBARRASSED.

Ans.—I would stop it once for all by saying that if you heard of any more bickering, or you were embarrassed in that way again, you would stop visiting the house and would break off the engagement. It is unpardonable that you should be annoyed in this fashion and I would not be subjected to it.

HEALTH TALKS

By JOHN B. HUBER, A.M., M.D.

BLACK EYE.

This comes about through the escape of blood from capillaries, due to a blow and the discoloring action of sunlight on the hemoglobin of the escaped blood.

The discoloration will disappear of itself after a few weeks; more rapidly if the sufferer can keep in the dark as much as possible, or keep the eye bandaged before going out in the daylight. Thus will be shortened the period of embarassment during which one has to explain how the accident has occurred, whether by running up against a bedpost in the dark, or on account of a difference of political opinions or in some other way.

Ice cold applications should be made as soon as possible after the injury; or, if it is very painful, compresses soaked in lead and opium wash (which the druggist will furnish).

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

In Loco Parenti.

There are several boys in my family and the father is very severe with them; he has a very bad temper and for nothing almost he scolds in such an awful voice that he terrifies even me. What can I do?

Answer: Some of my very good friends appear to think of me as a venerable gent, with a shining dome, a silver fringe running posteriorly between the ears and a long, flowing and exuberant white beard—a sort of a tribal patriarch, with a peculiar gift for presiding over domestic relations courts. Fact is, being just a middle-aged medico, I cannot find much in the above plaint touching on and appertaining to my particular job in this column, which is Health Talks. I suppose I could, however, send consistently to the hyperexplosive pater familias above mentioned, my article on the insalubility of overstraining one's vocality; and this I gladly do.

A Typical Heart Case.

I have valvular disease of the heart. Lately my right leg and ankle begun to swell, I suffer no pain, however. Occasionally I am troubled with dizziness and faintness, shortness of breath, pain in my chest and palpitation. I was treated a short time ago for high blood pressure, nervousness and kidney trouble. I feel much better. I am 48 years old.

Answer: Such is the way heart disease develops and behaves. For many years no physical inconvenience, no distress develops. Then there come on gradually the symptoms above detailed, even without any heart murmur to indicate a "leakage." There is a striking passage in Scripture which demonstrates that even in the time of the Prophets the situation was well understood. "I have been with you forty years and your feet swelled not."

We should not wait until we begin to have shortness of breath, a pain in the region of the liver (under the ribs on the right side) and swelling of the feet; but after two score we should get examined yearly, so that such a condition may be taken in time. Much can be done, even in the case here under consideration, to prolong life in comfort through many years.

THE HISTORY OF YOUR NAME

(By Philip Francis Nowlan.)

SINCLAIR

VARIATIONS — St. Clair, St. Clare, Sinkler.

RACIAL ORIGIN — Norman-French, also Scottish.

SOURCE—Geographical.

In the classification of the Norman-French contribution to the nomenclature of the English must be included this group of family names.

In a sense they may be regarded as having been family names at the time of the Norman invasion, though it is certain that only a minority of the men who bore it as a designation of the localities from which they came actually bequeathed it to their descendants.

In a sense, too, the name of Sinclair may be regarded as Scottish, for it is the name of one of the clans of Scotland. But the Scottish name is subject to the same explanation of Norman-French origin as the English. Like many Scottish names, including those of several of the clans, it is not a native name.

The forms of St. Clair and St. Clare, of course, explain the source. The forms of Sinclair and Sinkler are but variations in spelling which have developed from spellings which were originally were by no means similar. There is a "Thomas de St. Clare" referred to in the ancient writs of Parliament, and the name occurs variously in the old documents as "St. Clare" and "St. Clair."

The Scottish clan name traces back to a follower of William the Conqueror, a "Comte de Sancto Claro," through his son William, who, in the reign of King David I, of Scotland, attached himself to that manarch's court. Through grants of land at first, and intermarriage later, the Sinclair line grew into the clan system of the Northern Goels as a distinct entity, and won the recognition of King Haco, VI., of Norway, to its sway over Orkney. Other old strongholds of the clan were Caithness and Stratherne.

FASHIONS FOR TODAY

Thrift is a distinguishing trait of the French people. This characteristic is demonstrated by their ability to combine simple fabrics and trimmings in such a manner as to produce veritable sartorial gems, and also by their knack in handling household affairs in such a way as to procure maximum results at a minimum cost.

The little coat and hat shown in the sketch are copied from French models. The fabrics and trimmings used are commonplace until combined, when really charming items of apparel are evolved. This outfit was shown recently in one of the smart shops. For the two pieces the price was well over $60, whereas they could be made at home—and just as good looking—for a fraction of the sum.

The coat and hat are both of tan colored polo cloth, bright green silk being used as a lining for the coat and to form a shirred facing for the hat. A green silk tassel swings at one side of the chapeau. Otherwise both hat and coat are trimmed with heavy wool embroidery done in a cross or simpler stitch and in a kindergarten design consisting of little trees, blocks, etc., scattered about.

Heavy wool embroidery is used to trim all sorts of garments these days. It is equally effective on the sheerest chiffons, georgettes and fine cottons, and on heavy rich velvets and wool fabrics. Some good looking spring dresses for little girls of two to six or seven years are of black taffeta embroidered in heavy colored wool in simple designs.

Some of the frocks show little wool crocheted flowers sewed on here and there. One cunning frock had a narrow yoke crocheted in wool, the frock proper being gathered in Mother Hubbard style. The sleeves were mere shoulder caps, set on beneath the edge of the yoke and finished at the edges with little crocheted bands.

"TASTE OF" AND "TASTILY".

(Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

It is not correct, according to many authorities, to say "taste of" a thing, instead of simply "tasting" it. Alfred Ayres, in "The Verbalist" says, "The 'of' often used in this country in connection with the verbs, 'to taste' and 'to smell' is a Yankeeism". We taste and smell a thing, not taste of, or smell of a thing. It is quite correct, however, to use the word "of" in such expression as the following: "The butter tastes of garlic" and "The handkerchief smells of the roses among which it has lain." But do not say, "Taste of this jelly"; say, simply, "Taste this jelly."

The use of the word "tastily" in the sense of "tastefully"—that is, "with taste"—is not approved. Do not say, "The contents of the window are tastily arranged"; say, instead, "The contents of the window are tastefully arranged," or, "are arranged in good taste." The books do not condemn this use of the word "tastily" as incorrect, but say that it is a 'colloquialism.'

BEDTIME STORY---HOME ECONOMICS

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME BY THORNTON W BURGESS

RUSTY DECIDES WISELY.

Just keep in mind for future use
The simple fact I here expose:
A thing best hidden often is
Beneath the searcher's very nose.
—Rusty the Fox Squirrel.

There is a very good reason for this. Few people ever think to look for hidden things in places they know all about and know that the one who has hidden them knows that they know about. They just take it for granted that people who hide things will choose places they think no one else knows of. So they seldom think to look in places right under their very noses.

Rusty the Fox Squirrel knew this, and so that is why he had hidden his store of fat hickory nuts in a hollow stump almost under the very tree on which the fat hickory nuts had grown, a stump he knew Chatterer the Red Squirrel knew all about and on which he often sat. He had intended to leave them there only until such time as he might be able to find other hiding places for them when he knew Chatterer was not spying on him. And he had intended to keep close watch of that old stump in case Chatterer did happen to look in that hollow and find the nuts.

Then he had been shot by the hunter with the terrible gun and found by Farmer Brown's boy and kept a prisoner until he had fully recovered from his wounds. Of course, that meant that all that time he had no chance to watch over his store of nuts in the hollow stump. So when at last he was free and hurried over to the old stump and saw all about it the tracks in the snow of Chatterer the Red Squirrel his heart sank, and you can guess how he dreaded to look in that hollow.

He climbed to the top of the stump, and, as he feared, in the snow around the edge were the tracks of Chatterer. Rusty was sure then that Chatterer had found those nuts. If he had, of course, he had carried them off to his own storehouses. Rusty looked this way and looked that way and looked the other way, to make sure that no one was watching him. Sure of this, he began frantically to dig down under the dead leaves that filled the top of the old stump. Presently he felt something hard, and a second later pulled out a fat hickory nut. Then he worked faster and faster. They were all there, all those fat hickory nuts! Rusty gave a great sigh of thankfulness.

He took one fat nut, covered the others with the dead leaves and then scampered over to a hemlock tree. As he ate that fat nut he chuckled. It tickled him to think how he had fooled Chatterer the Red Squirrel. Chatterer had been over to that old stump more than once, as the tracks plainly showed, and had even been up on top of it. But it hadn't entered his head to dig down under those dry leaves, because it hadn't entered his head that any one would think of hiding those nuts almost under the very tree from which they had fallen.

Having finished that fat hickory nut Rusty began to do a little thinking. Those fat nuts had been safe all this time in that hollow stump, but they wouldn't be safe there much longer.

Presently he felt something hard and a second later pulled out a fat hickory nut.

Chatterer would be sure to discover that he, Rusty, was visiting that old stump and that the leaves in it had been pulled over. He would become suspicious and would look under those leaves.

"The thing for me to do is to take those nuts away as soon as possible," thought Rusty. "I'll hide them in several places, so that if one happens to be found I will lose only a part. If I leave them here Chatterer will be sure to discover my visits. I'll get busy at once and store them where they will be fairly safe and where I can get them when I need them without danger of giving away my secret."

So Rusty wisely started to work taking away and hiding those fat nuts.

The next story: "Chatterer Wakes Up."

The ohm, the unit of measurement in electricity, gets its name from George Simon Ohm, of Germany (born 1787, dier 1854), who gave much of his life to a study of galvanic currents, and by means of mathematical tests and experiments was able to establish the law that forms the basis for the mathematical theory of electricity.

Home Economics

By Mrs. Elizabeth Kent.

SHOP EARLY—POST EARLY.

By this time of course we have bought all our Christmas presents, for we have been taught by campaigns for years past how much more decent it is to buy early and not make the holiday season a nightmare to those who serve us in the shops. We have learned incidentally that any such consideration we have shown has been worth while for ourselves too. We save ourselves as much by early shopping as we do those from whom we buy. Blessings, no less than curses, are like the chickens who come home to roost.

Now it is time to get the presents done up, and posted, not only to lighten the terrific burden on the postal system, but to assure prompt delivery. Christmas parcels are as much fun to send as to get. Dainty cord and paper may be bought for very little; canny souls have salvaged a good supply from the wreck of last Christmas morning, and now get the box down from the highest closet shelf. The joy of Christmas is spread over two weeks more if we begin to get our parcels off now. Letting the children see, and help, and mail the parcels is a joy for them. They are as interested as you, in what you send your friends if you will let them be. Most of what we do and say affects our children: they absorb more, unconsciously, than we can teach them consciously, but we can make an effort to let them share our nicest feelings and most generous moods. The best part of Christmas is getting ready for it, for children as well as anybody. Thoughtfulness for the sales clerk and the postman, taught to children, moreover will bear better fruit than it has yet borne among us adults.

UNSEEN HANDS

By ROBERT ORR CHIPPERFIELD

Author of "The Second Bullet"

Rannie had locked himself in his room and was unapproachable; but before he departed for the night Odell had a long talk with Gene and his stepfather, which removed his last lingering doubts as to the latter's complete innocence.

He retired no wiser than on the previous night; but with the morning a fresh decision had come, and he was back at the Meade house before the family had breakfasted.

Cissie was no better. He learned that she had passed a very bad night and her suffering and nausea had increased. With a very grave face the detective went to Rannie's door and knocked authoritatively. This time the familiar, querulous voice bade him enter; and he found the boy curled up upon the couch with a book, which he hastily thrust under the pillows at Odell's appearance.

"So you spoiled Gerda's little game," Rannie smiled his twisted smile. "I'm curious to know how you found out who she was."

"That was not difficult," the detective responded with an answering smile. "She told me at my first interview with her that she had been in a certain rather unusual place at a certain time; and when I learned that Mrs. Gael had been there also I put two and two together. I don't think you will see her or Farley Drew again. Have you had another bad turn?"

Rannie stiffened against the sympathy in the friendly voice.

"Nothing unusual," he replied in a surly tone. "I only want to be let alone."

"I'm sorry. I won't stay long, my boy; but I want you to help me." Odell drew up a chair beside the couch and seated himself. "I don't know how good a toxicologist you are as well as a bacteriologist, but I fancy you have our friend Doctor Adams beaten a mile."

"Oh, Adams is a pettifogging old ass," the boy returned carelessly. Then his eyes narrowed. "What's the game?"

"Just this." The detective leaned forward suddenly until his eyes were almost on a level with the dark, sardonic ones upturned morosely to him. "Suppose that I knew no more about poisons than—well, than I could learn from glancing through these books of yours at odd times or asking casual questions of some family practitioner. What poison would it be easiest for me to obtain without comment in any drugstore?"

The boy shrugged.

"Carbolic, or any of the acids for eradicating spots or verdigris, I suppose. They'd be pretty average deadly; but none of them would have worked, if you are still harping on my mother's case."

"I don't mean anything of that sort," Odell explained. "I have in mind some poison which would work gradually and be practically tasteless; something which could be given in the victim's food, perhaps, and produce symptoms which might easily be mistaken for those resulting from some trivial indisposition."

Rannie's eyes widened and their morose stare gave place to one of grudging admiration.

"So you're on that tack, are you?" he asked. "I was only waiting till I was sure before springing it on you myself. This is an old house, you know; there are plenty of mice and rats in the walls, and there is a certain white powder which exterminates them quicker than anything else, and which would be sold without question for that purpose in any drugstore if one's appearance and manner didn't arouse suspicion. It is funny, but I was reading up about it when you came in."

He reached under the cushions and drew forth the book, which he opened at a certain page and handed without further remark to the detective.

"Arsenic!" Odell read. "Tri-oxide, eh? 'The crude oxide yields a white, crystalline powder, odorless but with a faint, metallic, sweetish taste. Small quantities produce poisoning.'—Humph! I wonder how small a quantity would produce a noticeable effect in, say, a few days, and what that effect would be."

Rannie reached out his hand for the book, closed it, and placed it once more beneath the cushions.

"Three-quarters of a grain—a mere pinch on the end of a knife—if given twice a day would have a very decided effect in less than a week," he said slowly. "I told you once that I would not take the trouble to put any of my precious family out of the way; but I didn't mean that I wouldn't lift a finger to stop someone else from killing even the most disagreeable of them. The symptoms, Sergeant, are flushing, puffed eyelids, pain, and nausea."

Odell started from his chair.

"How long have you known this?" he demanded.

"I suspected yesterday; I had only convinced myself when you came."

"And the antidote? Quick! Tell me the antidote!"

"An emetic, anything that will remove it from the system. However, that won't prevent the next dose from being administered." Rannie had dragged himself to his feet. "Bring Cissie in here, if you like. I'll see that no one gets to her, and I guess Dad and I are off your list of suspects this time; we haven't either of us left our rooms since Saturday. It rather looks as though our family nemesis were working overtime, doesn't it?".

"Don't mention this to anyone else," Odell cautioned as he started hastily for the door. "It may be the very means of trapping the person we are after."

He passed out into the hall but paused for a moment, lost in thought. If Cissie was indeed being slowly poisoned, and the would-be murderer suspected that his secret was known, he would instantly cease his efforts, and the opportunity of proving his guilt would be irretrievably lost. Yet the girl must be protected and an antidote given to relieve her suffering. It might even be that one more dose would prove fatal! Dare he attempt dissimulation when her very life was perhaps in danger?

He advanced slowly to her closed door, and even as he paused before it with his hand uplifted to knock he heard her faint groans and Miss Meade's soothing voice in response. Another sound reached his ears also, the soft pad of feet up the back stairs; and he turned to find Peters coming toward him with a tray upon which a cup of broth steamed invitingly.

With instant decision the detective advanced and held out his hand.

"That's for Miss Chalmers isn't it, Peters?" he asked carelessly. "I'm just going to ask Miss Meade if she can spare a minute, and I'll hand it in to her myself."

He watched the butler narrowly, but Peters relinquished the tray without a moment's hesitation, and turning went downstairs again at his usual dignified gait.

Odell waited until he heard him descend the second flight to the kitchen, then put the tray down hastily on a chair near Rannie's door, and raised the cup to his lips. It contained beef tea undoubtedly, but beef tea with a sweetish, metallic taste; and the detective replaced the cup and softly opened Rannie's door.

"Have you a bottle or some small receptacle that is perfectly clean and sterilized?" he demanded in hushed tones.

"Several in the medicine-chest — Here, wait a minute." Rannie made his way slowly and painfully to the bathroom, and returned with a tiny vial in his hand. "What is it? You haven't got hold of some of the stuff already, have you?"

Without waiting to reply Odell dashed back, and filling the vial with the beef tea, he deliberately overturned the cup. Then he dashed down the front stairs and out the entrance door, beckoning to the ubiquitous Blake, who was still upon his post at the corner.

"Take this as quickly as you can up to Villardis laboratory; tell him to put aside everything else and analyze it at once. Say that I suggested the surest test he knows of for arsenic and wait for his report."

As the operative pocketed the vial and started down the steps he almost collided with Doctor Adams, who greeted Odell with a certain decorous triumph in his tones.

"I have just come from the autopsy on the body of Mrs. Lorne," he announced. "It revealed nothing but what we anticipated; pyemic foeci in the kidneys and liver. You see, my dear Sergeant Odell, it was a clear case of septicemia, after all."

"Doctor Adams," the detective brushed the statement aside as of small moment, "yesterday you diagnosed Miss Chalmer's case as ordinary stomachache. I believe; instead she is suffering from what is thought to be arsenical poisoning, given with criminal intent. Her life and your professional reputation are at stake —"

"Impossible!" the physician gasped. "Who would attempt such a dastardly—"

"The same person who has already murdered two of her family and tried to kill two more," Odell interrupted. "Think for yourself, Doctor. What are the symptoms of white-arsenic poisoning? Do they differ in any way from those Miss Chalmers exhibited yesterday?"

"This—this is frightful!" The physician put a shaking hand to his head. "If this is true my reputation is indeed at stake; but I never thought, I never dreamed of further foul play. Who is it, Sergeant? Who is keeping up these fearful attacks upon the family?"

"I mean to find that out before another day passes, Doctor, and I count upon your help," Odell replied earnestly. "I must ask you to follow my directions absolutely or you will be refused admittance to the house."

"Sir!" Doctor Adams drew himself up indignantly. "The young lady has been my patient since her birth —"

"And she would have been murdered before your eyes, as her mother was, if I had not interfered," retorted Odell sternly. "I am willing to protect you in this matter and give you credit of discovering her true condition, if you obey my instructions; if not, a police doctor will take your place, and your diagnosis of yesterday will be given the publicity it deserves."

Doctor Adams leaned suddenly back against the vestibule wall, and his face whitened.

"I am quite willing to assist the authorities in every possible way, but I must be assured that the diagnosis which has been made in contradiction to my own is the correct one," he asserted with an assumption of dignity. "Of course, in any event an emetic will do no harm—"

"Everything must be done to relieve her at once, but I desire above all else that no one in the household be allowed to suspect that we have discovered the truth; no one at all, Doctor, not even her aunt or her stepfather; for they might innocently enough mention it in the hearing of the guilty person." Odell spoke rapidly in an undertone. "You will be informed as soon as you enter the house that Miss Chalmers is no better, and you will naturally proceed at once to her bedside. I want you to pretend that you have in no way changed your opinion of yesterday; and whatever measures you take to relieve her suffering must seem to be in the line of treatment you would ordinarily prescribe for the case you believed it to be originally."

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep.

GREENWOOD STANDS BY TROOPS DESPITE WAVE OF OPINION

Refuses to Accept Hearsay Evidence That Crown Forces Responsible for Fires and Looting—Promises Punishment of Those Proven Guilty

LONDON, Dec. 14 (By Percy Sarl, United News Staff Correspondent)—In the absence of official evidence, Sir Hamar Greenwood refused in the Commons yesterday to accept hearsay evidence that the Crown forces deliberately set the great fire of Cork and terrorized the city with looting, after four blocks of the most beautiful buildings in town had been razed. But Foreign Office attaches also discussing the conflagration frankly admitted that this had been unquestionably another act of reprisal.

Greenwood's statement was made in reply to one by Commander Kenworthy, M.P., who declared he had evidence that it was members of Crown forces who burned Cork. He inferentially accused the Black and Tans of looting, murder, robbery and torture. Greenwood claimed that, if any of the Crown forces were found guilty of arson they would be tried by court-martial, which he regarded as a most effective procedure.

JUDICIAL ATTITUDE.

The Irish Office absolutely refuses to listen to the suggestion that Crown forces might have been responsible, not even admitting that British troops participated in the disorder. The officials there maintained an unusually judicial attitude, pointing out that no evidence has been received. They said the men seen in British uniforms might well have been Irish rebels in disguise and even went to the length of pointing out that the radicals of Cork have long entertained a deadly grudge against some of the drygoods merchants whose shops went up in flames, because those merchants violated the rebels' embargo by buying materials from Belfast houses.

Early in the afternoon the newspapers had not received their expected news despatches from Cork and even the Government professed to be without information. At once the press began to comment on this state of affairs and the Evening Star demanded "what is happening in Ireland?"

But by 5 o'clock the despatches began to come in from Cork, describing Patrick street as like the high street of a smashed town in Flanders. Crowds of strangely silent people moving listlessly, as though stunned, trudged from one pile of ruins to another and they seemed awed and frightened by their terrible experiences.

SAY LOOTING GENERAL.

"There is no question who is responsible for this tragedy," says the Press Association's despatch. "Looting was general outside the zone of the fires. Armed burglars forced their way into many shops and the police, firing at one group, killed one of the looters who turned out to be a women."

The people herded together on these tragic sightseeing expeditions and for blocks erstwhile thriving streets would be deserted but for the sentries and the silent, stricken groups revisiting the ruins of their homes. Fires still smouldered in some piles of ruins and it was difficult to estimate the extent of the loss. However, four blocks were razed and in that area, in addition to many dwellings were the forty finest stores and office buildings in town.

Hundreds of people fled the city on Monday and those who could not travel light went along with wagon loads of their household furniture amid scenes reminiscent of the evacuation of some French city during the war.

Reporters who talked with these people found that they had no doubts as to who was responsible for the disastrous outbreak. They blamed it to a systematic reprisal and told how scores of armed men bearing torches had gone from building to building, unchallenged by indifferent curfew guards, setting fires, hurling bombs, firing pistols into the air and looting the shops as they went, especially the jewellery stores. One group even loaded a tramcar with liquor looted from a saloon and then set fire to the car. At least 100 men were in the outbreak, it was said.

ONLY AFTER EXTREMISTS.

General Sir Nevill Macready has issued a remarkable proclamation which is to be posted in all the areas under martial law, informing all Irishmen that Great Britain has no quarrel with them as such but only with participants in crime, outrage and rebellion.

Macready declares that the troops in Ireland are now deemed to be "on active service" and gives warning that anyone wearing the uniform without authority or anyone possessing arms after Dec. 27, is liable to be shot.

Another important announcement from Macready was of his decision to appoint the British generals in command in various sections as military governors of their respective areas.

WOULD CONSULT DE VALERA

The Rev. Michael O'Flanagan, acting president of the Sinn Fein, has requested Lloyd George for time in which to consult with Eamonn De Valera and Arthur Griffith respecting the endeavors now being made to bring about a truce in Ireland. Father O'Flanagan made this request in reply to a letter from the Premier, in which Mr. Lloyd George, responding to the first proposal looking to a truce, said the British Government did not lag behind any section of the Irish people in the desire that Ireland would enjoy the blessings of peace and prosperity and was prepared to offer facilities for a complete decision of the whole situation.

REPORT COMMUNICATION CUT

LONDON, Dec. 14.—The Daily Mail says prominently in its second edition this morning that telephone communication between England and Dublin ceased early this morning. The London officials said they were unable to communicate beyond Belfast. The Belfast Post Office reported that it was unable to get in connection with Dublin.

APPEAL TO U. S. GOVERNMENT.

LONDON, Dec. 14.—The Lord Mayor of Cork and Messrs. Roch and Walsh, Irish members of the House of Commons, have sent the following despatch to the Ambassadors of the United States in all European countries:

"During the past week the people of Cork, men, women and children, have been held up in the streets of this city and robbed of all that they possessed. Hundreds of shops have been looted, unoffending citizens have been publicly whipped or shot, and it is feared in some cases burned alive in their homes; and the principal business quarters of the city have been bombed, burned and destroyed by the armed forces of the Crown, rendering thousands of people homeless and workless.

"In the name of humanity and for our tortured people who are seeking protection from such savage tyranny, we respectfully urge the immediate intervention of your Government."

CORK RESOLUTION.

CORK, Dec. 14.—A special meeting of the City Council presided over by Lord Mayor O'Calaghan yesterday afternoon adopted the following resolution:

"We, the Corporation of Cork, affirm once more that the Irish Nation is fighting for its very existence against an unscrupulous enemy, but is desirous of an honorable peace consistent with its position as a sovereign state, and we express undiminished confidence in our elected representatives who alone are authorized to speak in our behalf.

"We proclaim our unaltered determination to seek or sanction no truce save such international agreement as may be arranged between the Dail Eireann and English Government.

DATE OF MARTIAL LAW.

DUBLIN, Dec. 14.—December 27 has been set as the date when arms, ammunition and explosives held by civilians in the area under martial law in Ireland must be given up. General Sir Neville Macready, Military Commander of Ireland, made this known in a proclamation issued yesterday.

DENOUNCES BURNINGS.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—(Special to The Star.) — In a statement the Right Rev. Bishop Shahan, rector of the Catholic University of America, scathingly denounces the burning of Cork, and calls upon all Washington to "arise as one man to denounce this unspeakable crime."

"The burning of Cork surpasses in grim horror and fierce injustice the crime of Louvain," declares Bishop Shahan. "The little academic city of the Belgians was given over to arson and pillage in the name of the German Empire and under direction of the German military forces, whereupon England roused the entire world with her passionate denunciations of the crime of the ages.

"Now she has herself committed a super-crime, not in the name of any authorized Government agency, but in the name, spirit and principle of anarchy.

"Maliciously the English Parliament squints at its own agents, clothed by it with omnipotence and irresponsibility, and encourages Bolshevist practices that tomorrow will come home to London with sanguinary interest insofar as the loot of London surpasses that of Cork, and the red-eyed rage of its dumb masses can work out in deeds of horror that will make the ashes of Cork look like a playground.

"If this be the liberty that the English Government would force upon Ireland, who can blame the immense majority of the Irish people for rejecting it, backs to the wall? Better a thousand times to die by the bullets of English anarchy in defense of true liberty than to yield a poltroon, abject compliance to the dictates of a drunken English police, gathered in the slums of London, petted like hired gladiators and turned loose upon a great, religious and peaceful nation."

WILL REORGANIZE THE BISLEY SHOOT

LONDON, Dec. 14. — (Canadian Press Cable.)—With a view to securing greater popularity for the National Rifle Association, it is proposed that next year's Bisley program shall be framed by a joint committee representing the rifle association and all branches of the services above named, with three representatives from Canada, Australia and South Africa.

OIL FIELDS DISPUTE

LONDON, Dec. 14.—The British Government is drafting a reply to the most recent note of the United States government concerning the exploitation of the Mesopotamian oil fields, in which the United States sets forth its right to be consulted. This reply, after submission to the Cabinet, will be forwarded to the United States State Department probably within a few days.

Pending the Cabinet's approval, no hint is given concerning the nature of the reply.

KNIGHTS WANT THEIR DIGNITY RESTORED

Imperial Society Claim Tradition Impaired During Civil War

LONDON, Nov. 28.— (Canadian Press Correspondence.)—According to the Daily Express, the Imperial Society of Knight Bachelors are entering the lists in defence of their dignity, which, it is alleged, was somewhat impaired by the outbreak of the late Civil war (1640-1650 or thereabouts), and by the subsequent carelessness of Charles II. the Merry Monarch, and his Ministers. A meeting was held at the Royal Automobile Club to consider what steps could usefully be taken to mend the torn traditions of the order, whose foremost grievance is that it has no insignia or rank.

"We have nothing to show that we really are Knights," complained one of the stoutest-hearted of the society, to an Express representative yesterday. "There is no guarantee to the general public of our Knighthood, other than our word of honor that we have received the accolade.

"It is due to the fact that there was once upon a time a sumptuary law—designed more particularly to restrict the extravagant use of velvet—which, as the status of Knights Bachelors then went, prevent their use of an insignia of rank.

"This was so warmly taken up by the order, which even then had an active sense of its own dignity, that Charles I's. Government consented to review the position.

"The outbreak of the civil war, however, put the — well, abrogated this scheme, and, after the restoration of monarchy it fell for a time into disuse.

"Now we hope to get things put right.

"At present, the unhappy Knight Bachelor has no ceremonial robe, no parchment, no paper—in fact, we are in a situation the reverse of that once described as "All dressed up and no place to go."

PLANNED WIDESPREAD REACTIONARY COUPS

Alleged Germany, Austria, Hungary, Turkey and Ireland in Plot

BERLIN, Dec. 14 (United News)—Efforts to organize reactionary coups in Germany, Austria, Hungary, Bulgaria and Turkey, together with an uprising in Ireland, were made by Colonel Bauer, prominent in the last German revolt, according to documents published by the Freiheit. The Freiheit reprints from Prague Russian papers and documents which purport to show that the plan was to spring these coups between the fall of 1920 and spring of 1921.

WORK ON PEACE RIVER AIRDROME STARTED

Airplanes to Play Important Part in Oil Field Operations

PEACE RIVER, Alta., Dec 14.—Work has already begun on an Air Harbor at this point, in line with the announcement from Edmonton of the proposed inauguration of an air route to the Mackenzie oil fields. A site for landing place and airdrome has been secured and operations are under way for the construction of buildings that will form the southern terminal of the new aerial transportation system.

Two new aeroplanes that have been purchased in the east for service in Northern Alberta and the Mackenzie territory are due to arrive in Edmonton this week.

Both machines are of the type known as "JL 6" and are of all metal construction, carrying six passengers each. The machines were purchased by the Imperial Oil Company.

HOUSE VOTES TO REPEAL WAR LAWS

Except Certain Important Measures on Trading and Finance

IMMIGRATION BILL

Restrictive Act Passes U.S. House—Goes to the Senate

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14. — Repeal of most of the war-time laws was voted by the house, which adopted the Volstead Resolution for that purpose after two hours of debate.

The vote on adoption of the resolution was unanimous, 323 votes being recorded as favoring it, with none opposing it. The House before taking the final vote accepted an amendment providing for inclusion of the Lever Food Control Act among the laws which the resolution would repeal.

The amendment which covers all provisions of the Food Control Act, with the exception of the section relating to rents in the District of Columbia, was carried by a vote of 179 to 137.

The resolution which now goes to the Senate exempts from repeal only the Trading with the Enemy Act, the War Finance Corporation Act and its amendments, and measures dealing with the issuance of liberty and victory bonds.

The resolution declares "any act of Congress that by its terms is in force only during the existence of a state of war and a limited time thereafter shall be construed and administered as if the present war terminated on the date when this resolution becomes effective."

The measure, as adopted, is practically identical with that passed by Congress just before the adjournment of the last session and vetoed by President Wilson.

REPUBLICANS' FIRST STEP.

Republican leaders of the House asserted last night that adoption of the resolution was one of the first steps taken by the Republican majority to fulfill the Republican pledge to put the country on a peace-time basis.

IMMIGRATION BILL PASSES.

The House today transmitted to the Senate the Johnson Bill prohibiting practically all Immigration to the United States for a period of one year. The vote in the House on the measure 293 to 41 brought to an end the three days of heated debate of immigration efforts. It also followed futile attempts by the Bill's supporters to lengthen the prohibition period to two years, as originally proposed. The first of these attempts brought a rising vote in favor of the two-year exclusion, but a second call showed 181 in favor of the one year period, and only 165 opposed.

DUKE OF YORK HAS BIRTHDAY HONORS

Artillery Fires Salute in Celebration of His 25th Anniversary

LONDON, Dec. 14—(United Press)—The Duke of York, second son of King George and Queen Mary, celebrates his twenty-fifth birthday today, and artillery salutes were fired at all naval and military stations in honor of the occasion while flags were flown from the Government offices.

The Duke, although overshadowed somewhat by his popular elder brother, is rapidly winning public esteem. Commencing like all his brothers, in the navy, he turned his attention to flying, and is now a most capable pilot, with the rank of Wing Commander (equivalent to major) in the Royal Air Force.

PAY DIRT.

"I've tried for gold and copper, even for diamonds. But I can't seem to strike pay dirt."

"Why don't you try farming?"

LORDS LIKELY TO PASS IRISH BILL

Third Reading Scheduled for Today—Few Modifications

TWO CHAMBERS

Prorogation Looked for Before Christmas—Many Small Bills

LONDON, Dec. 14.—(By Canadian Press Cable.)—In the House of Lords yesterday the report stage of the Home Rule Bill was taken, and the third reading of the Bill is scheduled for today.

Recent conferences are stated to have improved the prospects of the Bill, and it is now expected that there will be no difficulty between the two Houses of Parliament in arranging the matter, although the House of Lords has made drastic amendments.

It is now probable that the measure will go through with a few modifications, the principal of which is the provision for a second Chamber for each Parliament.

This understanding brightens the outlook for prorogation before Christmas, although both Houses have still much business to transact.

BILLS IN COMMONS.

In the House of Commons yesterday the draft rules under the Government of India Act; the Roads Bill; and the Expiring Laws Bill were discussed.

The Order Paper is congested with small Bills, but the passage of a few only, in addition to finance business will be attempted this session.

In the House yesterday on consideration of the British Empire Exhibition Guarantee Bill, an amendment was moved to reduce the guarantee from 100,000 to 50,000 pounds sterling, but this was defeated.

It was stated that 140,000 pounds sterling had already been promised privately in support of the Exhibition on the understanding that if half a million pounds were forthcoming the British Government would guarantee 100,000 pounds sterling.

MOUNT VILLARRICA STILL SHOOTING FIRE

Two Further 'Quakes Felt at Santiago—No Damage Reported

SANTIAGO, Dec. 14 (Star Cable, Copyright Chicago Tribune) — Two slight earthquakes were felt here Sunday, one in the morning and one in the afternoon. No damage was done.

Troops have not yet succeeded in establishing telegraphic communication with the Villarrica region. The only message received came in a round-about way from Valdivia, and stated that towns several miles from Mount Villarrica reported the volcano was still erupting, shooting flames high in the sky which were visible for many miles.

Relief trains are en route to the stricken region.

MAINE TEXTILE MILLS ANNOUNCE WAGE CUT

Also Most of Rhode Island Plants—Effective December 20

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 14.—All of the textile mills of Maine, and practically all in Rhode Island, will put into effect on December 20 the 22½ per cent wage reduction announced yesterday in Lawrence, Lowell and New Bedford, and in many smaller New England mill centres. The reduction will apply to about 100,000 operatives.

The posting of notices of the reduction at the largest cotton mills in Lawrence yesterday was duplicated in a large number of Massachusetts, Maine, and Rhode Island cities. In some instances the amount of reduction was not specified, but it was understood that it would be approximately the same in all cases.

The Amoskeag Mills of Manchester, N.H., one of the largest cotton and worsted manufacturing plants in the country, and other mills in New Hampshire have not yet made any announcement as to a reduction. At Fall River, one of the principal textile centres, manufacturers and union labor leaders are conducting negotiations regarding wages.

William M. Wood, President of the American Woollen Company, which operates 50 mills in New England and New York State, said that he had no statement to make at present on the matter of wages. A few days ago he announced that the directors of the company had not yet considered the question.

KRASSIN PREPARES NEW AGREEMENT

A further communication with the Moscow Government on the amendments is likely to follow.

PETER MACSWINEY TO EXPLAIN TO CONSUL

Reported He Must Account for Presence in England

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14. — Peter MacSwiney, brother of the late Lord Mayor of Cork, whose friends allege he is unable to obtain a passport to the United States, although he is a citizen of this country, may come back as soon as he gives United States Consul-General, at London, a satisfactory explanation of the means he employed to get out of the United States and into British territory without a passport, it was said yesterday at the State Department.

A passport for MacSwiney was issued by the State Department and mailed to the Consul-General at London, on November 22, and it was explained that there had been no intention of making it difficult for MacSwiney to return to the United States, as was reported yesterday in the New York World. It was said that the course followed in dealing with this case was identical with that taken in granting an emergency passport to any citizens of the United States who were away from home without proper papers.

MacSwiney went to England just as his brother died in London.

CARUSO SINGS

Given An Ovation on Reappearance—Voice Not Endangered

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—His voice apparently unaffected by a broken blood vessel in his throat, suffered Saturday, while singing in the Brooklyn Academy of Music, Enrico Caruso appeared last night at the Metropolitan Opera House in Verdi's "LaForza Del Destino."

When Caruso first appeared before the footlights the unusually large audience burst into applause that lasted for several minutes. Caruso sang with his usual vigor and ease. Physicians said his voice was in no wise endangered by the injury.

At the time of its birth the giraffe measures six feet from its hoofs to the top of its head.

U.S. SENATE VOTES WAR FINANCE REVIVAL

Restoring Corporation Intended to Aid Farmers in Country

WASHINGTON, D.C., Dec. 14.—The Senate late yesterday passed the Agricultural Committee's resolution directing the revival of the War Finance Corporation as a measure of affording relief to farmers.

The second section of the resolution, which as introduced would have directed the extension of liberal credits to farmers by the Federal Reserve System, was amended to make the desirability of such a course only an expression of opinion of congress.

GERMAN CABLES NOT YET AGREED UPON

International Communications—Session to Be Held Again Today

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.— Ten hours of discussion, starting before noon and running late into the night, brought from delegates to the International Communications Conference last night no announcement of a definite basis of agreement on disposition of the former German cables.

When the second session of the day broke up late last night, it was announced that another plenary session would be held today at 11 o'clock. This announcement was taken to indicate that the prospects of agreement, which first appeared at sessions held Saturday, had not vanished, and that the delegates were hopeful of yet reaching an amicable adjustment of the questions at issue.

URGE NECESSITY OF ANNUAL CENSUS

Federated Commission on Education Will Wait on Charter Commission

The question of an annual census was entered into in detail at a meeting of the Federated Commission on Education, at the Windsor Hotel last night. It was finally decided that a delegation from the committee should wait on the Charter Commission and urge the necessity for the annual census, instead of the triennial one which the Commission favors.

It was considered that if a statistical knowledge of the number of children could be obtained, it could be applied in a great many directions, as well as benefitting the cause of education. That the census should be complete and non-sectarian was decided.

Rev. Dr. E. I. Rexford, when approached, declared that though he was not a member of the committee, he would be very pleased to accompany the delegation, in an unofficial capacity. He declared that a revelation of the number of children without educational facilities, for various reasons, might be rather disconcerting to the authorities on account of the financial questions involved.

Professor Carrie M. Derick believed that the authorities would readily appreciate the seriousness of the situation.

It was decided that the Rev. R. Gordon Burgoyne be added to the deputation. After some further discussion the matter was left to have details worked out by the executive committee, which was then elected.

There had been no decision as to the office of president, according to the report of the nominating committee. The vice-president elected was W. C. R. Anderson; secretary, W. P. Hughes; committee, Mrs. Walter Lyman, Mrs. W. C. Hodgson, Professor Carrie M. Derick, Mrs. George T. deG. Stewart, Miss Isabel Brittain, J. C. Cleghorn, J. W. Woodward, C. McFarlane, M. Hirsch (subject to his acceptance), E. A. Cunningham, and Canon A. P. Shatford.

Several speakers made reference to the law relating to the registration of births. The general opinion was that it was not being enforced, and thus was an obstacle rather than a help to the cause of education. The census would, in a manner, offset the results of non-registration.

The Association of School Commissioners, Montreal District, through their representative, Harry Bragg, called attention to the financial situation in Outremont and Verdun. The Protestants in these districts claim that many of them are tenants of houses owned by Catholics; they pay the taxes directly to the Catholic panel, and are thus paying indirectly for the education of Catholic children at a time when they are in dire straits for money to educate their own. A suggested remedy had been promised consideration by the Provincial Treasurer, that the taxes on all rented properties should be paid to the neutral panel. Mr. Bragg asked for the help of the Federated Committee in the efforts to obtain readjustment.

LIQUOR CASES

Four Licensed Vendors Seek Aid from Superior Court

Writs of prohibition to prevent Judges Choquet and Bazin acting on writs of summons recently issued by them for alleged illegal sale of intoxicating liquor, were applied for yesterday in the Superior Court, Practice Division, by Oscar Beauchamp, Donat Belanger, Arthur Hinton and A. G. Pigeon, all licensed vendors.

In each case the grounds of the application are lack of jurisdiction, denial of any breach of Quebec prohibition law, and vague enouncement, in the writ of summons, of the offence with which petitioners are charged.

PAY WIFE SHARE OF PROPERTY.

Mr. Justice Bruneau yesterday afternoon ordered Walter Mackay Hislop to liquidate the community's moveable property and pay to Mary Claire Dawson, his former wife, from whom he was divorced by an act of the Federal Parliament, $49,144.25, should he desire to pay her in money rather than proceed to a partition of the effects which belonged to them in common.

Six Aldermen Now Wanted at Verdun Instead of Eight

The decision of the Verdun City Council to reduce the number of aldermen from eight to six and to elect them at large, is to be reconsidered at a special meeting next Monday as the result of a vote taken at last night's meeting. Ald. Rheaume raised the question, stating that though he voted for the change, he did not like it, since he had had time to think it over. The council unanimously agreed to hold a special meeting for this purpose.

Ald. Lanouette put a proposal on the agenda that the property qualifications for aldermen be abolished.

It was announced that no reply had been received yet from the military authorities regarding the letting of the old fire hall for a machine-gun corps at a rent of $1,000 per year. The council was also informed of the Tramways Company's promise that their first work next spring would be the building of a connecting line from St. Paul ward to Wellington street, on Church avenue.

A new contract with the Montreal Light, Heat and Power Consolidated was accepted by the council.

REVIVAL SERVICES CONTINUE.

Evangelistic services will be continued in Sherbrooke Street Methodist Church this evening and tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. The principal speaker this evening will be Rev. Isaac Norman, of the East End Methodist Church. Mrs. Alex. Milmine will be the soloist. Mr. Ross, of Glasgow, will also assist. Tomorrow evening the closing address of the series will be given by Rev. W. H. Hamilton, pastor of Shaw Memorial Church. The singing will include solos and quartettes from "Victory Songs." W. S. Scott addressed the meeting last evening, which was under the auspices of the Epworth League, and Miss Scott sang.

BANK REWARDS FIREMEN.

Chief J. Chevalier, president of the Montreal Firemen's Benefit Association, acknowledges the receipt, with thanks, of a cheque for twenty-five dollars from The Molsons Bank, head office, as a testimony of appreciation of the efficient manner in which the firemen handled the fire in the old Mechanics' Institute Building, corner St. James and St. Peter streets, on November 22 last.

STATIONERY DESTROYED.

Fire broke out in the sub-cellar of the Molsons Bank branch on the corner of St. Paul and Jacques Cartier square at 7:10 last night. The flames, which were soon under control of the fire department, destroyed a quantity of old stationery and cheques stored in cupboards. The blaze was said to have started in some of the stationery underneath the stairs leading to the first cellar.

'HOPPER PLAGUE AGAIN MENACES MANITOBA

Farmers in Infected Areas Warned Not to Relax Vigilance

WINNIPEG, Dec. 14. — (Star Special.)—Manitoba is faced with a return of the grasshopper plague in more serious form than ever, it was intimated at the Legislative buildings today. Efforts to obtain an official statement, either from the Agricultural College or the Department of Agriculture modifying assertions of Arthur Gibson, Dominion Entomologist, at Ottawa, that "A serious condition" obtains, failed of success. Officials are inclined to agree with Mr. Gibson. George Batho, editor of agricultural publications, confirmed Mr. Gibson's assertion that as many as three thousand eggs had been found on a single square foot of Manitoba soil.

Discussing the proposals for next spring, Mr. Batho said:

"Investigation of the grasshopper situation in other countries indicates that the plague runs more or less in cycles of three or four years. Parts of Manitoba, where the trouble was fairly light in 1919, and somewhat worse in 1920, may be seriously visited next spring and the year after.

On this hypothesis Mr. Batho held that farmers in infected districts of Manitoba could not afford to relax vigilance. Mr. Batho emphasized that districts hitherto immune could be affected next year only by the flight of adults from infested districts.

BECAME INSANE

Mother Tried to Kill Child and Then Attempted Suicide

CORNWALL, Ont., Dec. 14. — (Star Special). — A well-known resident of Massena, Mrs. Kurner, wife of Frank Kurner, suddenly became unbalanced in her mind as the result of a severe illness and attempted to take the life of one of her three children, as well as her own. Mr. Kurner caught his wife in the act of endeavoring to cut the child's throat with a razor, and while he was taking her across a bridge to the hospital of the Aluminum Company of America, she made two attempts to destroy herself, first by trying to jump into the canal from the bridge and then by throwing herself under a passing automobile truck. The big truck passed partly over her, but she was not severely injured. On being taken to the office of the chief of police for safe-keeping, she made a third attempt on her life by taking a sharp knife with which she tried to cut her throat. She was removed to the State hospital for treatment.

What a young woman applied to a Detroit housewife for a position as a domestic she specified that she must have garage room for her automobile.

ASSEMBLY ADOPTS WORLD COURT PLAN

Will Be Submitted to Member of Nations for Ratification

SOME DEFECTS

Still Lacks Obligatory Appearance of Both Parties to Dispute

GENEVA, Dec. 14.—The Assembly accomplished yesterday the first important constructive act in the work of the League of Nations in adopting a statute for a permanent International Court of Justice. The organization as planned still lacks the obligatory appearance of both parties to a dispute and provides no penalty for nonpliance with the decisions of the court.

The advocates of the project, however, believe that it is the most complete plan that could be accepted by the different Governments and are confident that the goodwill of the nations will remedy its defects. The plan will go now to the different states for ratification.

If twenty-two, or a majority of the members of the League approve it before the next meeting of the Assembly, the judges will be elected, and the court will come into existence in the month of September.

The members of the Council are making a strong effort to have Bolivia and Chile agree to submit the Tacna-Arica case to a special committee for a report to the September meeting of the Assembly. Although not yet consenting, it was indicated last evening that Bolivia would approve the suggestion, which also was said to be acceptable to Chile if Bolivia agreed.

The tension has been somewhat relieved by the apparent willingness of both countries to consider the council's proposal, but the question is still open with the possibility of refusal by either side. If the two nations accept the proposal, the Assembly will probably select the committee at once for a full inquiry.

PRIED DIAMONDS FROM LUNA IN N.Y. CHURCH

Burglars Secure Valuables Worth from $10,000 to $100,000

NEW YORK, Dec. 14—Pearls and diamonds, said to be worth from ten to a hundred thousand dollars, were stolen from a golden vessel in the Catholic Church of St. Vincent Ferrer here within the last day or two, by thieves who escaped without leaving a trace as to their identity or the exact time of the robbery. A lay brother entering the church yesterday discovered the disorder wrought by the burglars and gave the alarm.

The precise value of the jewels and money stolen from the church could not be learned today because of the absence from the city of Father Hofferman, the pastor. The theory on which detectives assigned to investigate are working is that the theft took place on Friday night, or early Saturday morning, when it was believed the intruders came out of hiding places.

Most of the valuables taken were pried from the Luna, a vessel of gold used in the church's ceremonials. They constituted part of the furnishings of the church, regarded as among the finest and most beautiful in the city. St. Vincent Ferrer is located at Lexington avenue and 66th street in a neighborhood including many handsome and fashionable residences.

This explains why we do not have to use dynamite or a sledge hammer to smash our prices.

TAPESTRY RUGS

Tapestry Rugs is our specialty. In these we carry an unlimited selection, consisting of four different qualities. Designs and colors suitable for bedrooms, dining rooms, sitting rooms, etc., and we guarantee every one of them to give satisfactory wear. We have the following sizes in stock:—1¾ x 2½ yds., 2¼ x 3 yds., 2½ x 3 yds., 3 x 3 yds., 3 x 3½ yds., 3 x 4 yds., 3½ x 4 yds. and 3½ x 4½ yds. Our prices defy competition. In addition to tapestry squares we have a choice selection of seamless Velvet, Wilton and seamless Axminster squares in designs that will harmonize with almost any color scheme, chiefly living rooms, dens and dining rooms. Standard sizes in stock.

STAIR CARPETS

Tapestry Stair Carpet, 22½ inches, 27 inches and 36 inches wide. In these as in Tapestry Rugs we lead by far with both the greatest variety and values. Colors in perfect harmony with the rugs, so that in making your choice you will experience no difficulty in securing just what you have in mind. Our assortment extends to the more elaborate kinds such as Brussels, Velvets and Wiltons.

DOOR MATS and HEARTH RUGS

Our stock of the smaller rugs is so extensive that it would be almost impossible to describe fully what it consists of. We will merely mention that they match perfectly the larger squares in colors and quality. They are made in all sizes from a door mat to 36 inches x 72 inches.

OUR TERMS

Come to the Metropolitan, state just what your requirements are and we will go out of our way to arrange terms that will be satisfactory to you. All transactions kept strictly confidential.

ALDERMEN VOTE AGAINST MAYOR

New Bridge Proposal Sanctioned Despite His Opposition

OTHER MATTERS

Commission Requested to Rescind Paving Contracts Already Awarded

The city council approved yesterday, by a vote of 11 to 7, of the project to build an additional bridge between Montreal and the South Shore. The idea was strongly opposed by Mayor Martin.

In addition to the debate on the bridge question a number of motions were adopted, among which were the following:

"That the Administrative Commission be requested, as it already was on March 29 last, to consider the advisability of replacing the Nicolet street wooden outlet sewer which was constructed 30 years ago, by a larger brick sewer, in order to avoid any future flooding in that part of the city;"

"That the Administrative Commission be requested to take the necessary measures in order to abate the nuisance resulting from the bad odors which, according to the report of the General Inspector, Mr. Grandchamps, dated Oct. 14, 1920, emanate from the abattoirs, as well as from the dumps, stockyards, etc., inasmuch as the recent situation is most intolerable for the residents in the neighborhood of said establishments and the public health is even endangered by the said bad odors."

NEW CONTRACTS ADVISED.

"Whereas contracts have been awarded, during the year, for the laying of permanent sidewalks and pavings; Whereas this council has reason to believe that there exists in these contracts a clause whereby the city may rescind the same in the event of the works provided for therein not being carried out within a certain delay; Whereas, in view of the lateness of the season, it will certainly be impossible to perform such works, this year; Whereas the price of materials is constantly decreasing, and, for this reason, it may reasonably be presumed that new contracts could be awarded, next spring, on more favorable conditions; That, for the above reasons, the Administrative Commission be requested to rescind the contracts which have been awarded this year, in order that new tenders may be called for, next spring for the laying of such pavings and sidewalks."

"Whereas the council has noticed, when supplementary credits were wanted in connection with some St. Catherine street sewers, that the Administrative Commission had asked an opinion from Mr. Laurendeau on the subject, which would go to prove that the services of the ex-chief attorney of the city, were still retained by the city; Alderman Desroches begs the Administrative Commission to kindly tell the council, (1) How many opinions has the Administrative Commission asked Mr. Laurendeau since he left the service of the city; (2) In how many cases or in what other circumstances has he represented the city since his departure; what fees has he been paid since the same date.

AMUSEMENT TAX.

The by-law concerning the amusement tax received two amendments, namely, that the sale of the amusement tax tickets could be made by the employe as well as by the employer, and, that the percentage which was given for the sale of tickets should not exceed five per cent. In order to provide for the collection of the amusement tax, lessors of unlicensed places of amusement are required to notify the civic authorities of any entertainment eight days in advance.

BRIDGE QUESTION.

In the controversy which arose over the bridge project, Mayor Martin left the chair and expressed the opinion that the execution of such a project was detrimental to the future progress of Montreal. The direct result of the erection of such a bridge would be diminution of population, which would follow the manufacturers who would flock to the South Shore on account of the low cost of land. The idea was one of the speculators of Cap Rouge, who cannot sell their land, he declared. "Populate the whole of the Island," he continued, "and then you may build your bridge. If the motion passes the Council I hope that it will be stopped at the Provincial Legislature." The Mayor proposed to see whether the Canada Steamship Lines could not place more boats at the disposal of those crossing the river.

Ald. Sansregret declared that he was strongly in favor of the erection of the bridge. He mentioned the inadequate service of the river boats on the occasion of the fire on the bridge during the summer and the high prices of farm products during the period between the closing of navigation and the time of using the ice bridge across the St. Lawrence.

Ald. Turcot said that a community was progressive in proportion to its means of communication. He asked the Mayor, who lives on Ile Jesus, if he would like to have the bridges which connect it with Montreal taken down, and be made to cross in a small boat. The motor lorry was the coming means of transportation, and another bridge was a necessity, he said.

It was moved by Ald. Brodeur and seconded by Ald. Desroches, "That this Council is in favor of the erection of an additional bridge between Montreal and the South Shore and would be pleased if this project were carried out by the competent authorities."

The vote on the motion was as follows:

Ayes—Aldermen Turcot, Rubenstein, Dubeau, Bedard, Creelman, Jacobs, Shaw, Desroches, Carmel, Sansregret and Dixon—11.

Noes—Aldermen O'Connell, Vaudelac, Elie, Brodeur, Fillon, Tremblay, and the Mayor—7.

LAY FOUNDATION OF NEW CONTROL

Montreal Metropolitan Commission Would Administer for Whole Island

The Montreal Metropolitan Commission commenced to take shape yesterday at a joint meeting of the representatives of the mayors of the surrounding municipalities and of the Charter Commission. Only the foundation of it was laid, however, for after spending nearly two hours on a scheme drawn up by Mayor Beaubien after consultation with other Mayors during the past month, the meeting was adjourned until this afternoon, the mayors to consult representatives in their district as to whether they were prepared to approve of such a commission having control over the finances of the whole island.

When the Commission met there were two schemes laid before it, one by Mayor Beaubien, setting out in detail the operation of the commission, and one drawn up by the secretary based on suggestions made by Sir Hormidas Laporte, which covered practically the same ground, going a little farther in that it gave the commission power to undertake general works of construction, arrange annexations, grant franchises and control exemptions from taxation. It was decided, however, to take up first the financial control scheme, and later on the others matters will be discussed.

The original scheme called for a survey of the whole island and the south shore by experts to see what territory should be included in the control exercised by a Central Financial Commission, but after changing the name to the Montreal Metropolitan Commission the members decided that the territory should comprise only the island for the present, although Mayor Beaubien thought the south shore was very closely connected with Montreal and would be more so if there was a bridge built. It would, in fact, be closer than some of the outlying municipalities. As to the constitution of the Commission, Mayor Beaubien amended his own scheme so that the commission should be formed of eight members, three elected by the City of Montreal, with two votes each, two by the Bankers Association or Trust Companies with two votes each and three appointed by delegates of outside municipalities, with one vote each, the term of officep to be four years.

Sir Hormidas Laporte thought it might be gangerous to give four votes to organizations outside the ratepayers control, and further, it would be difficult to get them appointed, for each trust company was out after all the business it could get and those appointed would have inside information as to what loans were required and thus have a great advantage.

Mayor Beaubien thought it advisable the financial interests should be represented on the Commission, as the more stability it was given the better terms would be secured for the municipalities. The Chairman, F. W. Evans, thought they might form part of the commission without having any vote and finally the question of the financial interests' representation was left over while the principle of the other representation was adopted.

CONSOLIDATE INDEBTEDNESS.

It was unanimously agreed that after a fixed date, to be determined later, the present capital indebtedness of all the municipalities shall be consolidated and its administration transferred to the Commission. Mayor Beaubien explained that each municipality would be responsible for its own debts, and could not incur any further debt without the consent of the Metropolitan Commission, which would supply the money required and control the expenditure of it, collecting from the municipality the interest and sinking fund each year.

The original scheme bore a note that the school authorities debt of the island should also be consolidated, and the commission exercise control over that also, but Sir Hormidas Laporte declared that if that was included in the charter it would not have a chance of passing the Legislature.

Mayor Beaubien: "The school tax wants watching more than the municipal tax. It loses more money by bad financing than the municipalities, and it collects its revenue from the same territory as the municipalities — why not bring it under the same control?

Sir Hormidas Laporte: "I quite agree it should be controlled, but we discussed that before and did not think it could be done now. The School Commission is stronger than some municipalities in its administration.

Mr. Girard agreed with Mayor Beaubien that the school debt needed control more than anything else.

Mr. Foster said they were unanimous apparently that something should be done to bring the finances of the school commission under closer surveillance, but whether they could get it or not was another question—certainly they would not if they did not ask for it.

Finally it was decided to let the school debt question stand over for the present, and the meeting approved of a clause that all loans for municipal improvements should be allocated by the commission to the municipalities which contracted them, and the loan charges assessed upon the said municipalities.

There was some discussion regarding the raising of loans, the scheme suggesting that the commission should issue stock, bonds, debentures, promissory notes or bills, which would be offered for purchase by tender. It proposed that the bills should be called Montreal District Bills, and that the money required by any municipality should be supplied by the commission through the issue of these bills.

Sir Hormidas Laporte thought that each municipality would prefer to issue its own bonds, although he had no objection to the scheme if the municipalities approved of it. Mayor Beaubien pointed out that all issues would be of the same value, and the commission could get better terms than a small municipality could, while it could advance the money as required and thus save interest charges, which would have to be paid on the whole loan otherwise. The municipalities would be surrendering a part of their independence but they would be submitting to a control which they knew was necessary.

A question was raised as to whether the municipalities would agree to this and Mayor Prieur said he was calling a meeting of his district to put the proposals before them, while Mayor McLagan said it was understood that anything decided by them had to be ratified by those that sent them there. At this stage the commission adjourned until this afternoon.

NEW TRADE LINK WITH AUSTRALASIA

Gov't Vessels Will Run to Australia and New Zealand

LINER PLANS ARRIVE

SS. Regina, Due Here May, Largest Ship to Enter Port

Another important link in inter-Empire trade is being forged by the Canadian Government Merchant Marine. In addition to their service of cargo steamers to Australia from Vancouver an additional line is to be established from St. John, N.B., to Australia via the Panama Canal.

The Canadian Planter of 8,000 tons, or a sister ship of similar tonnage, will open the new service on January 29. Ships of this type have also a limited first-class passenger accommodation and the new line is another evidence of the closer business relationships which are being established between Canada and Australia.

The service from the Atlantic to Australia will be maintained by larger freighters than those running from Vancouver. The ports of call are to be Sydney and Brisbane, Australia and Auckland and Wellington, New Zealand. During the summer months the original port of departure will probably be Montreal. Preparations for the new Australian service are at present under way at the C.G.M.M. headquarters here.

S.S. REGINA 16,500 TONS.

White Star Line headquarters here have just received plans of the new 16,500 tons liner Regina which is to lead the fleet of new liners headed for Montreal next spring.

The Regina is scheduled to arrive here on May 7 and to leave on May 14th. She will be the largest vessel to enter port, at the date of her arrival. Her lines show a marked difference from the Megantic which is of 15,000 tons. The new liner has two funnels, a cruiser stern and will be a coal burner.

She has a feature copied from the old Teutonic, namely a very large number of 2-berth cabins. There is also a playroom for children, a gymnasium and other modern features. The main dining saloon of the Regina will seat 350 at one sitting and the steerage dining-room will seat 610.

FEWER WRECK INQUIRIES.

Under the present administration of the Department of Marine, no further inquiries into mishaps to shipping, while in Canadian waters, will be made unless asked for by the owners of the ships involved, or by the vessels' agents. The result has been to cut down the number of sittings of the Dominion Wreck Commission almost to vanishing point.

It is estimated in local shipping circles that since the underwriters pay the damages, regardless of where the negligence or blame rests, very few ship-owners will care to be involved in the inconvenience of an inquiry.

The main value of the Dominion Wreck Commission court inquiries, it is stated, has been in allocating blame to navigators when it properly rested there, and thus clearing the good name of Canadian waters and navigation aids. "The ultimate aim," stated a local authority today, "has always been to lower the insurance rates on the St. Lawrence route or to keep them as low as possible. The high premiums are a big item in the profit and loss ledgers of steamship companies.

HALIFAX TO DANTZIG.

A passenger steamship service from Canada to Germany, without any intermediate calls at Britain or France, is being opened by the White Star Line on January 14, from Halifax.

The S.S. Gothland has been put on the schedule for the new route, and bookings are expected to be satisfactory enough to justify a permanent service between Canada and Germany.

The Gothland, after leaving Halifax will call at Hamburg and then pass through to Dantzig. Her return voyage will be to New York.

No anxiety was felt here with regard to the restrictions made by the new American immigration act putting the ban on all immigration for one year. It is stated that the measure has been approved by a dying Congress, and will never be enacted until considered by the new Congress and finally by President-elect Harding.

In South Wales the number of persons employed underground in the coal mines increased during 1919 from about 120,000 to 215,000.

CLAIMS MONTREAL RATES HIGHER

Unnamed Toronto Official Maintains Rates There are Lower

In a recent issue of a Toronto paper an unnamed official of the Toronto Hydro Power contradicted a statement made in a financial paper to the effect that Montreal electric service rates were less than those of Toronto. The unnamed official statement that the comparison was made between wholesale rates at Montreal and retail rates at Toronto. Further he declared that Toronto rates were in some cases 75 per cent lower than Montreal.

W. O'Brien, of the Montreal Light, Heat and Power Company emphatically contradicts this.

"The comparison was not made," he declared to the Star today, "between wholesale prices in Montreal, and retail prices in Toronto; it was made on the only basis on which a comparison of that sort could be made, namely on the average costs for all classes of service. In fact, taking that figure from the annual report of the Toronto Hydro Electric System and from the annual report of the Montreal Company, the Montreal figure was ten per cent lower than the Toronto one. In addition, the Toronto Hydro-Electric pay no taxes; the Montreal system has to meet both Federal and Provincial taxes."

Detective Found His Man in East End Dance Hall

Exceptionally fast work on the part of three detectives of the city bureau culminated last night in the arrest of Rene Aumais, charged with the theft of a beaver fur coat valued at $600, the property of Alex. Shatilla, a wholesale merchant, of 9 Notre Dame street east. Appearing before Judge Lanctot in the court of arraignment this morning he pleaded not guilty and was remanded for enquete on December 22. Bail was set at $1,000.

The coat disappeared at a gathering of Syrian merchants at a coffee house on the corner of Bonsecours and Notre Dame streets on Saturday night last. The owner reported the loss to Detective Lajoire, who at once made a round of the second hand stores and located the missing coat in one of these. An excellent description of the man who had sold it for $30 was given by the proprietor, who it is said also identified a photograph from the rogue's gallery, as that of the man. Detectives Walsh and Therrien were then detailed to find the thief. While making a tour of the dancing halls on St. Catherine street east, Detective Walsh decided to execute a few steps himself. In the middle of the dance he spotted his man almost beside him and arrested the suspect.

ELEVEN COUNTRIES WERE REPRESENTED

Canadian delegates to the All American Conference on Venereal Diseases, which was held in Washington, D.C., from December 6 to 11, have returned to Canada, among them being Dr. A. H. Desloges, medical director of public health of the Province of Quebec, who represented the province at the conference. Canada, Great Britain, the United States, Cuba, Porto Rico and South American countries were represented at the conference, a total of 11 countries in all. It was the second international conference, the first having been held last year at Cannes. A similar conference will not be held next year, but there will be smaller conferences, that for the Eastern Canada and the Eastern United States being held in Montreal.

At the conference this year there were 360 delegates. One of the decisions arrived at was that the use of prophylatics by civilians should be discouraged. The system, although used in the army and navy, was said to have met with only qualified success, and to have led to an increase of the social evil.

CANADIAN RAILWAY CLUB.

The regular meeting of this club will be held in the "Prince of Wales Salon" of the Windsor Hotel this evening, at 8.30. The chair will be taken by W. H. Winterrowd and a paper will be presented by R. E. Keough, assistant engineer of maintenance of way, C.P.R., entitled "The Everyday Duties of a Roadmaster."

SAVING COAL.

In order to cut down the consumption of coal at the Maisonneuve Baths—one of the most elaborate baths in the city, and a great consumer of coal for heating purposes, —the Administrative Commission has decided to spend $5,332.87 in changing the heating system, as soon as the budget for next year is passed by the council.

WOMEN'S WORK

Montreal Women's Club to Work for Women's Hall

At the monthly meeting of the Montreal Women's Club, held at the Y.M.C.A. Hall, Drummond St., yesterday afternoon, the president, Mrs. T. de Grey Stewart in the chair, Mrs. J. W. Dougherty reported that receipts up to date in the Club's campaign for the Society for the Protection of Women and Children amounted to $3,905.

Mrs. Fred. Robb presented the report of the building committee, which had under consideration whether the committee should concern itself with the present housing of the club as well as the planning of a future women's building. At present the club which has a membership of 550, is fast outgrowing its accommodation. It was decided to work for both.

The report of the Child Welfare committee was presented by Mrs. R. L. D. Mackie, who emphasized the necessity for birth registration.

Mrs. Allan Smith read a letter from Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, President of the National American Women's Suffrage Association, thanking the club for its congratulations on the victory of American women on the question of national suffrage. In her report on the Parliamentary Procedure and Public Speaking class, Mrs. E. T. Sampson announced that Mr. Holt would conduct a class for members on public speaking once every month.

An interesting report of the work of the Federated Committee on Education was given by Mrs. John Scott.

WOMEN'S ART SOCIETY.

People wishing to study Italian art should visit Milan before going on to Florence, Venice or Rome, declared Miss Agnes Hunter, in an address to the Women's Art Society on Milan and the Certosa of Pavia," at Stevenson Hall this morning. Milan was really the threshold of Italian art. People made a mistake when they flocked first to Rome. To the uninitiated it was too bewildering. Moreover, Rome had really no art of its own, in that it had not produced artists as Florence and other cities had. Almost all its beautiful things were the work of artists from other cities.

The history of a city, remarked the speaker, in relating the rise and development of Milan, was so interwoven with the development of its art as expressed in its buildings and pictures that it was hard to separate them. Milan today was a thoroughly modern city, wholly without a sense of ancient order and peace, a confusion of old and new, of misery and prosperity. In old Milan, they found the Latin ideal—space, order, nobility in building, as opposed to the sham Gothic pinnacles and spires which Ruskin praised so highly. Many different centuries were represented. There were the wide, modern streets of a busy commercial town, and, up some narrow byway, the terra cotta apse of a 15th century church, or the grated windows of a 17th century palace. The forms of expression were purely Italian—very little of the Gothic element being present.

The speaker proceeded to describe in detail the beauties and historic features of the three most famous churches of Milan—St. Anbrogio, St. Lorenzo and St. Eustorgio, and concluded with a brilliant description of the Certosa of Pavia, whose lavish beauty, she said, seemed to have little to do with religion. Rather than the House of God and His servants, it seemed to be the magnificent mausoleum of the Visconti and of the Sforza.

Miss Hunter, who has travelled widely in Europe, raised good sums for the Red Cross during the war by her talks on art subjects.

ELECTRICITY AFFECTING PIPES.

WALL ST. SHOWS DISPOSITION TO TURN--LOCAL LEADERS SOFT

LIST UNSETTLED BUT PAPERS HAD FAIR RALLIES

Throughout the morning on the local stock market, the tone was steady to lower for the majority of leading issues as well as for the less active issues appearing in the list and a number of new low prices were touched. There were one or two fairly broad losses, while some narrow drops in leaders were indicated.

Asbestos issues, which have recently been buoyant, weakened during the morning. The common opened the session at 85 and ranged down to 84½, a net decline of 2½ points. The preferred, while less soft, showed a net decline of 1½ points at 93.

The early range in the paper stocks was easier and during the first hour new low levels on the move were recorded in several issues. Riordon opened at the low on the decline at 138½, but rallied to 140 at the close, a net advance of 1 point. Brompton's early market was soft, the stock easing off from 54 to 52½, the low on the move, but rallying to 54½, leaving a net loss of ½ point. Abitibi was 54½ to 54, the low, to ½, a net drop of ½. Laurentide opened at the low on the move at 90, rallied to 91 and closed at 90½, unchanged. Spanish River ranged at 85½ to 85 recovering to 86½, down ½. The preferred was 91½ rallying to 92½, unchanged. Wayagamack ranged at 87 to 88½, down ½ point.

Dominion Steel was notable for the fact that it sold at a new low price during the session, when it changed hands at 44. This compares with a previous low point of 45 touched on several different occasions of late. Steel of Canada ranged at 60¼ to 60, down ¾ point.

Dominion Textile also declines to a new low on the move when the price fell from the opening at 109 to 108½. Besides being a new low this is a net loss of 1½ points.

Other losses were: — Brazilian, 32, down ⅝; Smelters, 16¼, down ¼; and Shawinigan, 102 to 101, down ½; Nat. Breweries ranged at 48 to ¼ to ½, up ½; Penmans, 101, up ⅝; and Winnipeg Rails, 36, up 1.

Those issues remaining unchanged at the close of the session were: Atlantic Sugar, 20; Quebec Ry., 21½; Dom. Bridge, 75, and Toronto Rails, 55½ to 55.

BANK OF HAMILTON

The Bank of Hamilton opened new quarters yesterday in the Canada Life Bldg., St. James and St. Peter streets, occupying premises recently vacated by the Bank of Nova Scotia. The original McGill street quarters will continue as part of the institution and will have charge of the foreign business under the management of W. W. McGillivray, who has been transferred with that end of the bank's activities from Toronto to Montreal. The office of the bank's Montreal manager, R. L. Ellis, will be in the new quarters.

Miller & Co. wire Fairbanks, Gosselin & Co.—Under steadily broadening selling pressure, the market is recording new lows. Traders in their present disturbed mood are ignoring real values.

Logan & Bryan.—A rather impressive feature at present is the enormous demand for odd lots of stocks for investment purposes.

TORONTO ARGUMENTS ON SECURITY EMBARGO

TORONTO, Dec. 14.—(Star Special).—The question of the continuance of the embargo on the import of Canadian securities held abroad continues to be the subject of much local discussion, following the freeing of Victories. While the Dominion issues were in the hands of the bond men, they were the strongest advocates of the embargo, which was considerably at the expense of the brokers. Now that the Victories are back on the stock exchanges, the bondmen have made a complete volte face and are putting pressure on Ottawa to achieve their ends. The brokers, however, are not so anxious, and it is generally understood that with one exception the banks are of the opinion that matters might better remain where they are.

Those who urge the embargo's removal say that the effect will be light. They cite the instance of the Saskatchewan 1934 maturity 5¾ per cent. issue selling in London around 120 and here at 92, the prices being approximately equivalent, making the yield approximately 6¾ per cent., both here and in London, coupons being payable in New York funds. It is said that the similarity in price would mean that there would be but little selling of such securities.

Those who would have the embargo remain point out that provincial securities are not the only ones affected and that the lifting would probably flood Canada, not with bonds, but with non-dividend paying stock. It is also rumored persistently that a big pool has vast blocks of Canadian securities in London under option at materially below the present price and are ready to make a "killing" once the embargo is lifted.

The arrivals of American coal in France during November totalled 845,000 tons, according to figures available today. Of English coal the arrivals were 895,000 tons.

IMPROVED TONE IN MANY STOCKS IN WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Further fractional decreases were manifest in the opening of the stock market today. Although many various reasons have been advanced for the recent slump of the market, it was believed the urgent need of many tax-paying organizations for money with which to pay their income taxes may have had an unfavorable effect on market prices.

U. S. Steel was one of the few issues holding at its closing price, 78⅝; Chandler was off ⅝ at 73; General Motors, 13⅝, off ⅛; Mexican Petroleum, 161½, up 1½; Baldwin, 85¼, off ⅛; General Electric, 118¼, unchanged; Texas Company, 41¼, off ⅛; Northern Pacific, 74¼, up ½; American Beet Sugar, 49½, off ½; Studebaker, 40⅝, off ⅝; New Haven, 16¼, up ⅛; Norfolk and West, 93⅝, off ⅛; Texas Pac., 38½, up ⅜; Anaconda, 37¼, off ¼; Pan American, 75¼, off ¼; American Woollen, 62⅞, up ⅜; Southern Pac., 95¼, up ¼; Reading, 80⅝, off ¼.

Recoveries of from 1 to 3 points were common after the heavy opening. Steel common led in the rally. Mexican Petroleum advanced 3¼ to 163¼, and Pan American 1⅝ to 77¼.

The oil group, which constituted the weakest feature of the previous day, registered early gains of 1 to 2½ points by Mexican Petroleum, Royal Dutch and Shell Transport. Rails were substantially better, although a gain of 1¼ points in Northern Pacific was offset by the heaviness of Union Pacific and Missouri Pacific Pfd. Shippings, another recent element of weakness, hardened on a rise of 2½ points for United Fruit and steels and equipments also came forward, Crucible gaining 2 points.

Dealings in the first hour were almost as large as the heavy turnover of the previous day, but most offerings were freely absorbed. Contrary to expectations there was virtually no "cash" selling. Soft spots were represented by motor specialties, minor steels, coppers, Sears-Roebuck and People's Gas at recessions of 1 to 2½ points.

Oils continued to feature the general rally at extreme gains of 2 to 5 points, and shippings, equipments and rails of the better class also made further upward progress. Central of New Jersey recovered a large part of yesterday's 15-point loss.

The market eased moderately before noon, but in the main the tone remained firm. Call money opened at 7 per cent.

The market showed some symptoms around midday of a cessation of the heavy liquidation which has characterized the operations of the past few days. In the early afternoon the action of the market continued to sustain this impression in some quarters but not in others. Early rallies in a number of leaders were partly relinquished while a few others continued strong and made further gains up to around 1.30 p.m.

U. S. Steel which rallied from 7⅝ to 79½ held at 79, while Southern Pac. recovered 2 points to 97¼. C. P. R. moved between 111¼ to 111½ to 112¼. Scotia sold down to 33⅛, and Union Bag dropped to 65.

Other features of the list were: Smelting, 40¼ to 41 to 39¼ to ⅝; Locomotive, 80 to 81 to 79⅝ to 80⅝; Beet Sugar, 49¼ to 47; Am. Car, 122⅛ to 125⅞ to 122⅞; A. G. W., 105⅝ to 110; Baldwin, 85½ to 88 to 85⅛ to 87⅝; Beth Steel B., 51 to 53⅝; N. Y. Central, 69 to 68 to 69⅛; Corn Products, 65 to 66⅝ to 66; Cuba Cane, 19⅝ to 20¼; Crucible, 83 to 84 to 81 to 83; Gen. Motors, 12⅞ to 13⅛; Gt. Northern, 72 to 73¼; Alcohol, 64⅞ to 66⅛ to 65⅛; Int. Paper, 47⅝ to 48⅞; Lackawanna, 48⅞ to 50⅛; Northern Pac., 74¾ to 76⅛; Pan American, 75¼ to 78; Reading, 80⅝ to 83⅛ to 82⅛; Studebaker, 40⅝ to 42⅞ to 41⅛; Mex. Pete, 161⅛ to 167 to 165½; Union Pac., 112 to 114⅛; Am. Wool, 62⅞ to 64⅝; Retail Stores, 52⅝ to 52 to 53⅛; Rubber, 62⅛ to ⅛. Money was 7 per cent.

Press Opinions on N.Y. Situation

Times:—Nothing in the day's news could be held to account for the market; the declines on the stock exchange were apparently based on judgment of the general situation. The question of profits and dividends in the event of prolonged trade re-action was naturally an uppermost consideration in the case of the industrial shares, and the question of how such trade conditions would affect traffic and earnings was uppermost with the railways.

World:—The market was one of the broadest in months. Nearly 400 stocks were traded in, and the aggregate sales were over 1,400,000 shares. Most of the activity was confined to stocks listed on the Exchange in the last two or three years. They were formerly known as "War brides." Now they are called "War bubbles" and new ones burst every day.

Herald:—News ysterday that 16,000 employes in textile mills in and about Lawrence, Mass. had their wages cut imparted no element of cheer to the security markets. If the stock market could be judged against the background of previous periods of stress, it would seem as though the sharp price reactions of the last few days forecast the approach to a condition of stability.

Tribune:—The lack of strength in the stock market was attributed to no fresh development in the news of the day, but rather to the further expression of forces already at work. Yesterday was the final day to sell securities in the regular way to get cash for Federal tax payments due tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14. — Foreign trade of United States in last fiscal year totalled 13,349,661,000 dollars, or 3,000,000,000 above high record established in previous fiscal year.

Topics of the Street

Transactions on the Montreal Stock Exchange this morning were only slightly heavier than those of yesterday morning, 5,517 shares being traded in, compared with 4,572 shares yesterday morning, a gain of 945 shares. Throughout the morning, there was a fairly steady changing over of stocks, and demand improved later in the session and early low points were topped. The closing was steady to easier in the general list.

Laurentide was the most active issue of the session with a turnover of 810 shares, while Brompton came next with 630 shares, and Abitibi third with 490 shares. Other issues traded in included: Brazilian, 430 shares; Spanish River 375; Nat. Breweries, 315; Spanish River pref., 300; Wayagamack, 235; Smelters, 170; Dom. Steel, 150; Atlantic Sugar, 150; and Mont. Power, 130.

While the local market has shown some response to the extreme weakness recently in Wall Street, the relatively small volume of liquidation has been viewed as a favorable factor.

Though not beyond the bounds of possibility that the market could have a wider break if things kept on in the New York market indefinitely as they are at present, it is hoped that the bulk of the floating supply of stocks is in insufficiently strong hands to weather the storm until Wall Street finally takes a turn for the better.

While the local situation has its discomforts it has a lot to be thankful for, it having been pointed out several times by competent authority that the commercial situation has not been nearly so over-extended as it was in the United States, besides which the bulk of our leading corporations are in strong shape and have conserved their resources for a rainy day, which it was inevitable would overtake the business situation sooner or later.

The paper leaders opened a little lower this morning, but later in the session there was a tendency to strengthen. Although the present range of prices and the desultory trading does not suggest any change of temperament regarding the group, the Street is quite confident that the future has something bright in store, although the technical condition of the market does not encourage trading at the moment.

That the Canadian interests will be able to conduct a highly profitable business for a considerable time despite any slight variations there may be in the price of newsprint, is broadly conceded.

The clearing away of an undercurrent of resentment on the part of American consumers over the 7 per cent rate of a couple of mills has given way to a much healthier feeling now that a basis for incalculable harm to the Canadian industry has been removed through a compromise.

In connection with the annual financial statement of the Canadian Car & Foundry Company, Limited, which is reviewed in another column, it is interesting to note that during the past year two or three companies subsidiary organizations have been liquidated. Liquidation was completed of the Standard Steel Company, this company having been acquired solely in connection with munition requirements of the Canadian Government. The Rhodes Curry Company, Limited, was also liquidated. Operations of this company had no bearing on those of the parent company, and directors decided that the capital involved might be better employed. Advantage was therefore taken of a favorable opportunity to dispose of this business.

The president, W. W. Butler, in his statement, besides referring to the above developments, has the following to say in respect of the Russian shell business: Your directors are able to report that, as a result of further settlements made throughout the year, the final adjustment of all matters at issue on a satisfactory basis has been brought considerably nearer.

The report points out that Car Company business of the past year was all in the regular lines of products, but explaining small profits shown directors point out that in common with all other companies engaged in the manufacture of iron and steel products, business was carried on under difficult conditions. In addition to internal labor difficulties, congestion in American steel mills together with American railroad embargoes retarded the company's output, and at no time in the year were plants operating close to capacity owing to shortage of materials. Outlook at the beginning of the year was uncertain. Because of the curtailment of Canadian railroads' equipment programs, the company made contracts for car repairs at a relatively low margin of profit. This condition, says the report, is but temporary. Various plants have been maintained at full efficiency.

TORONTO, Dec. 14.—It was stated today that the special general meeting of shareholders of Goldfields, Limited, which was to have taken place on Wednesday, will be postponed. Certain shareholders objected to the holding of a meeting at which the sale of all the company's assets was to be considered and passed upon before the shareholders had had a financial statement and an accounting from the directors, which has not been rendered for eight years, and it is said the directors of Goldfields, Limited, have undertaken to vote at the Wednesday meeting for a postponement with regard to the proposed sale of assets until after the annual meeting of the shareholders of Goldfields, Limited, has been held. Goldfields, Limited, are connected with Associated Goldfields Mining Company.

CAR STATEMENT; EARNINGS LOWER, ARREARS SCRIP

Canadian Car & Foundry Company, Limited, directors when they met here late yesterday afternoon decided to wipe out preferred dividend arrears of 23¾ per cent. by the issuance therefor of 6 per cent. negotiable 7-year scrip. Distribution will be made December 31, to holders of record December 24.

The annual financial statement was also given out and shows a falling off in profits which were $1,515,712, compared with $2,993,471, a year ago and $4,617,390 in 1918. After interest and depreciation there was left available for preferred dividends $539,397 against $1,887,635 in 1919 and $3,252,609 in 1918. Allowing for one payment of 1¾ per cent. on account of arrears in the year, amounting to $131,250, this would indicate that the preferred dividend was barely earned in the year. Preferred dividends normally take up $525,000. Actually there was paid out in dividends the same amount as in 1919, $656,250.

Profit and loss account compares as follows:

The balance sheet shows current assets at $20,720,183 against $12,438,623 a year ago, and current liabilities of $12,219,602 against $2,074,648 a year ago. This indicates net working capital of $8,500,581 against $10,363,975 in 1919. They compare as follows:—

Of the increase in assets inventories were a large part advancing in the year from $7,394,226 to $14,788,960. Accounts receivable, etc., gained from $2,326,184 to $4,105,888. Investments fell from $1,903,298 to $1,339,620. Total assets were $43,828,950 against $35,017,436. In liabilities, bank loans of $5,250,000 did not appear a year ago. Accounts payable rose from $1,661,162 to $6,714,230. The president in his report states that the condition of high inventories and high bank loans is temporary, and execution of unfilled business will restore liquid capital and strengthen resources.

Reporting to shareholders, W. W. Butler, the president says the value of the orders unfilled at the termination of the year amounted to approximately $26,000,000, compared with approximately $8,500,000 at the close of the preceding year. This large amount of unfilled business practically makes certain a steady output for some time ahead, and taking into consideration improved labor conditions and the fact that the bulk of the materials necessary is now on hand, directors hope results for the ensuing year will prove satisfactory.

AMERICAN COAL FOR EXPORT MUCH CHEAPER

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (Star Special).—Large quantities of American coal are being offered to French buyers at $14 per ton cost and freight. This being true, the practical cessation of American coal export may be looked for at an early date. Coal carriers which have been lying at southern coal ports for weeks, and in some cases for months, waiting for business, can be chartered at a price dictated by the shippers.

Grain loading at Gulf of Mexico ports is not proceeding as rapidly as shippers would like to see it, but from North Atlantic ports there is a steady outflow of wheat to Europe. Very little, is doing at Galveston or New Orleans in cotton, while the first cotton to move through the port of Portland, Ore., will load in January. A reduction in the freight rates on lumber from the Columbia river and Puget Sound to Honolulu has taken place and tonnage can readily be secured on the basis of $15 per 1,000 feet. There has recently sprung up a very fair business in mixed freight between Seattle and Honolulu and some lines are finding it a profitable trade.

Chartering is generally confined to grain, with rates holding firm on the old basis on both coasts. Tonnage has been chartered for grain from Portland, Ore., or Puget Sound to Europe at 120s down to 110s; 115s has been paid by the Royal Wheat Commission for a spot steamer from Dalfiy.

STEEL CAPACITY ONE HALF

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Dow Jones & Co. says the steel industry as a whole is not operating much more than 50 per cent. of capacity. United States Steel's operations, however, are in excess of 75 per cent. A material increase over next three or four months can hardly be expected.

CHICAGO, Dec. 14. — Hog prices reached a new low level here today when the market declined from 25 to 50 cents with prices quoted at from $8.80 to $9.10. Prices quoted today are the lowest in the last four years, it was stated.

RAW SUGAR PRICE SCORES ANOTHER DECLINE AT N.Y.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (Special to Star.)—The raw sugar market declined ¼ of a cent yesterday on a sale of 4200 bags of Perus to the Federal Sugar Refining Company at 3½ cents c.i.f, which is equivalent to 3¾ cents for Cubas. The market was not at all flooded with offerings at the new levels, holders quoting the old prices, indicating that they might take less for some lots. Buyers continue to point to the slowness of the refined sugar situation, and call attention to the fact that refiners are not in dire need of raws at this time.

Two lots of Cubas, each of 10,000 bags, were offered for prompt shipment on the basis of four cents cost and freight, with the intimation, said to have been made by at least one of the holders, that a bid of 3.75 cents would be considered. There were also available 30,000 bags Porto Rico, December shipment at 5.01 cents and the general belief was that a tender of 4.76c. by buyers would not be unacceptable.

Emphatic disagreement was heard in influential quarters with the statement made by a prominent trade factor that the 250,000 tons of last crop remaining in Cuba should be considered as non-existent in view of the fact that the Cubans have been able to hold it and have evidently made arrangements with banks to finance operations this season. It is asserted by opponents of this view that the fact of the existence of this sugar is the most potent influence contributing to the decline that has been going on and is still in progress.

A report was current that the Royal Commission has entered the market as a buyer of Perus at four cents f.o.b. The price, however, is so far above the c.i.f. New York basis recently established by actual sales that no one in the trade was disposed to credit the statement.

Local Cattle Market Prices Remain Firm

Twenty-seven cars of mixed stock were received today on the two markets. On yesterday's market the best cattle were the last to be sold. Among the top sales were 15 steers averaging 1,210 pounds which sold for $11.50 and were shipped out for feeders, twenty butcher steers averaging 1225 for $11.00, fourteen steers and three heifers averaging 1,155 pounds for $11.00, and 25 fat cows averaging 1,215 pounds for $8.75. Receipts today were all of common quality. Prices were steady. Quotations: Butcher steers, good $9.50 to $11.50, medium $8 to $9.50, common $6 to $8; butcher heifers, choice $8.75 to $11; medium $7.50 to $8.50, common $5.50 to $7.50; butcher cows, choice $8 to $8.75, medium $5 to $7.50; canners $3; cutters $3.50 to $4.50; butcher bulls, heavy $6 to $7.25, common $4.75 to $6.00. Calf quotations: Good veal $13 to $15, medium $9 to $12, grass $5 to $5.50.

Best lots of lambs sold $13.50. Quotations: Ewes $4 to $6; lambs, good $13 to $13.50; common $10.50 to $12.

Hog selects went at $16.50, lights $2 less than selects and sows $4 less than selects.

WHEAT MARKET OPENED STRONG, BECAME WEAK

The following noon letter was received from Chicago by C. Morris, manager for Logan & Bryan, at their Board of Trade branch here:—

Wheat—The report that the Senate yesterday passed the agricultural committee resolution directing the revival of the War Finance Corporation as a measure affording relief to farmers stimulated the buying of wheat this morning, prices making an advance of about four cents. From that point the market showed a lagging tendency due to the lack of any export demand. Cash premiums are firmer on yesterday basis. Receipts, 25 cars.

Corn—With wheat the governing factor corn prices advanced sharply immediately after the opening and have held their gain in a quiet market until time of writing. Although weather conditions are somewhat unfavorable for the movement, country offerings are reported rather liberal and increased receipts are in sight. Receipts at Chicago today estimated at 85 cars.

Oats—Followed the action of other grains with a reactionary tendency. Receipts smaller, being estimated this morning at 40 cars.

PEOPLE DIVIDED ON PASSAIC ROMANCE

Dutch Community Differs on Fixing Culpability of Principals

ACTION TAKEN

Parents of Miss Hannenberg are Excommunicated

PASSAIC, N.J., Dec. 14.—(United Press)—The little Dutch community here, as much a part of the Old World as The Netherlands itself, apparently went stolidly about its business to-day, but under the surface calm there was a soothing current of gossip and speculation about the latest turn to the romance of the preacher and the choir girl.

Public ex-communication yesterday of the parents of the girl, Miss Trina Hannenberg, from the First Netherlands Church of which the preacher, the Rev. Cornelius Dansel, was the titular head in this country, provided food for comment by the good wives and younger members of the congregation.

As when the preacher and the girl first returned together last week from a month's joint absence, presumably in Canada, the parishioners were divided in sentiment regarding the culpability of the principals. One faction continued to regard the whole affair as an act of God, with neither Dansel nor Miss Hannenberg responsible. The ones holding this belief argued that the dominie should be returned to his pulpit.

There were others who felt that the girl and her family were responsible for the romance and who accepted Dansel's explanation that he returned to his wife and eight children as soon as God had pointed out to him his error on the streets of Buffalo. These held that the expulsion of Mr. and Mrs. Marinus Hannenberg from the church was only justice. Still others, and these included the majority of men in the congregation, openly declared that the minister should also be read out of the church.

So far as known, Dansel has not left the parsonage since he was welcomed back with open arms by his family. Miss Hannenberg also remained in seclusion. Mrs. Dansel, who had refused to add to her original statement that she had forgiven her husband, was reported to be suffering from a nervous breakdown.

The future status of Dansel may be determined at a meeting of the church consistory tonight. It was generally believed that a call would be extended to some minister in Holland and that the local pulpit would be occupied meantime by the dominie of one of the nearby churches or one of the elders.

ROBIN REDBREAST'S JAG.

The robin has been given anything but a hospitable greeting upon his visits to the South each winter, and there are perceptibly fewer now than there were a decade ago, due chiefly to the ravages of market hunters, with what is known locally as "the $5 single barrel," meaning a cheap, 12-gauge shotgun, with which scores of fat robin redbreasts may be killed in a few hours. The robin's bad habit of getting on a red hew jag when he arrives in the South makes him easy prey for small boys with slingshots or even with sticks, for the enticing red berries made him so drunk he isn't able to fly.—New York Post.

URGING HARDING TO ENTER LEAGUE WITH SAFEGUARDS

Strong Representations Made to Save Framework of World Institution

ROOT AT MARION

Herbert Hoover Also Appears Against U.S. Scrapping Whole Structure

MARION, Ohio, Dec. 13.—(By Raymond Clapper, United Press.)—Pressure on President-elect Harding to save the framework of the League of Nations by offering to enter it on safeguarding conditions increased today with the arrival here of Elihu Root, one of the most powerful figures in the republican party and a staunch friend of the League.

Root planned to describe to Harding the organization of the World Court, under the auspices of the League, in which he participated several months ago. He was also expected to outline to Harding the extent to which European powers could be expected to go in making concessions to American public opinion in striking out Article X. and clearing up the League's Jurisdiction over immigration and other domestic questions, and interpretation of the Monroe Doctrine. The Rev. John Wesley Hill, New York minister, was also scheduled to call.

ROOT ADVANCES.

Root is being strongly urged by certain leaders in the party for Secretary of State. Harding, however, has not displayed any inclination to view Root so favorably as some of his advisors would desire.

Root's appearance here today served to back up the pro-League arguments laid before Harding by Herbert Hoover. Hughes is understood to have outlined essentially the same view. William J. Bryan this week will also bring a kind word for the league.

Ex-President Taft comes later for the same purpose. Hoover's talk with Harding threw light on several problems which will face the new administration. They discussed the Cabinet, the League, the Labor situation, the plight of the farmers, and Europe's chaotic industrial situation.

Hoover's view is that the framework of the League must be utilized, though with changes demanded by the American public. Hoover told Harding that it would be folly to re-open innumerable questions by attempting to negotiate a new treaty or organize a new association of nations.

OPPOSES SCRAPPING WHOLE STRUCTURE.

In urging Harding not to scrap the whole structure, Hoover declared that it finally had settled, with equity and justice, a number of questions which would only be re-opened should the United States try to form a new association of nations.

Hoover gave Harding his ideas on domestic labor situation, agriculture and industrial conditions in Europe, and he insisted on the necessity of extending liberal credit to Europe.

"Nothing conclusive was done," Hoover said, after the conference. Then he outlined a program which he said was fundamental to any reconstruction of international economics, as follows:

1.—America must extend credit to Europe so that European nations may buy American materials and start their factories.

2.—The German indemnity must be stated definitely so that that nation, knowing how much it owes, will get into the mood to get down to work.

3.—Russian production must be revived.

OPPOSED EXTENDED CREDITS.

Hoover opposed extension of credit to American farmers, as a general thing, because, although this would enable them to held their product for a certain time, it would not finally solve their problems.

All this Hoover explained, in much more intricate detail to Harding, and the impression was gained that the former Food Administrator had cleared up in Harding's mind a number of matters of perplexity.

Although there was no official intimation, it was believed that Hoover's ability and knowledge had so impressed the President-elect that they will be used either in the Cabinet or some Government commission.

SUSPEND IMMIGRATION FOR YEAR IN STATES

House Sustains Previous Action by Vote of 185 to 161

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14. — (Star Special).—Supporters of the immigration suspension lost a point when the House today sustained previous action and decided to fix at one year the period during which immigration shall be suspended under terms of the Johnson bill.

The vote was 185 to 161 for an amendment proposed by Representative Mann, Illinois, to fix the suspension period at one year.

A vote on the Johnson bill itself was then started, with indications that the measure would pass.

The Siegel amendment admitting wives as well as blood relatives of naturalized immigrants also was adopted 203 to 76.

NO CAKES AND ALE FOR CHRISTMAS

LONDON (By Mail).—Barnet guardians have decided not to accept offers of Christmas beer for workhouse inmates.

The Rev. W. Clarke deplored the decision, declaring that by no stretch of imagination could present day beer be called alcoholic.

Miss Hawkins said it was pitiful to see old people with nothing to drink at Christmas but a glass of fizzy lemonade. The Rev. A. R. Hancock said it was tyrannical to refuse the aged inmates a glass of Christmas beer.

The chairman (the Rev. H. S. Miles) said his experience had taught him the danger of even the smell of alcoholic drink to those who had once become slaves to it.

The refusal to accept gifts of beer was approved by ten votes to seven.

MAKING NAILS OF WAR BARBED WIRE

RIGA, Latvia (By Mail).—A use has at last been found here for the vast quantities of barbed wire left on the battlefields of Eastern Europe. Riga inventors have devised machinery for stamping nails out of the wire and hope by this method to relieve the shortage of nails in the Balkan States.

Riga has been the centre of much fighting throughout the war that most of the lakes, streams and roads about the city are thoroughly lined with barbed wire entanglements and great numbers of full spools of wire are lying about. The expense of collecting wire for making nails is thus made light. Many of the piers at this port are stacked high with wire suitable for nail making.

SO-CALLED HAUNTED VESSEL STILL AFLOAT

Alleged Hoodoo of "Charles Haskell" Disappears with Change of Waters

ST. JOHN, N.B., Dec. 14. — (Star Special.)—An Associated Press despatch from Gloucester, Mass., told of the death of an old time fisherman, one John Winters, the last of those who were in the crew of the so-called haunted fishing schooner Charles Haskell. The despatch was to the effect that the Haskell, years ago, had sunk another vessel on the Georges Banks and that every time the Haskell went to the Banks the sunken schooner appeared and her ghostly crew boarded the one which sunk them. Winters was one of the Haskell's crew and, according to his story, it became so difficult to find the seamen to man her that she was tied up at a wharf for a long time. The despatch said that the Haskell no longer existed.

It is learned that the Charles Haskell is still afloat. She has been in St. John harbor and at the present time she is in winter quarters at Pictou. After the Gloucester owners of the schooners gave her up as a fishing proposition she was sold to Captain Howard Anderson, of Digby, who used her in the Bay of Fundy coasting and fishing trade. Captain Anderson sold her to A. Weatherbee and J. T. Matatall, of Tatamogouche, and only a few days ago she was taken to Pictou to be laid up for the winter. She hails from Digby. The schooner was almost as good as new when Captain Anderson bought her and she is now fifty-one years old. Captain Anderson was aware of the uncanny stories related of her, but he became satisfied that if the spectres ever appeared aboard they only did so on the scene of the disaster on the Georges Banks. She was a lucky vessel after she was brought to the Bay of Fundy.

By carrying a step further the process of recovering sulphite spirit from the waste of wood pulp factories, by evaporation, it has been discovered that a new and valuable fuel may be produced. The process precipitates the organic contents of the lye in the form of powdered coal.

AROUND THE THEATRES

"The Maple Leafs" Have New Features Of Attractive Type

THE retention of The Maple Leafs for a second week was a happy idea, for it provided an opportunity for many who, owing to the exigencies of Christmas shopping and other pressing duties of the immediate season, had been unable to see the performance given by this talented company of soldier-actors last week. There was considerable enthusiasm displayed last night not only over the numbers which proved so popular last week but also in regard to new features on the program. "Archibald and That" is a novel skit in which Fred Levitt as a "Johnny" Englishman of stage tradition and Pat Rafferty, the versatile little Irish comedian of the troupe, provide plenty of quickfire fun and amusing burlesque, involving considerable knockabout comedy which fits in well and keeps the audience in continuous laughter.

• • •

Ormond Perley, who is by way of being a genuine comedian, apart entirely from his skill as a dancer and burlesquer, contributes the second new feature by singing, "Just Dance, My Dear," in a resplendent gown of rich apricot-colored velvet, and considerably bejewelled headgear. Perley gets all there is to be got out of a song like this without any apparent effort, and it provided a pleasant contrast. Perley's dancing is uncommonly good, for he suggests the rhythm and style of the feminine dancer with deceptive agility.

• • •

Leslie Benson with "I'm all of Aooh" and "I'm a Good Girl Now" repeats his former success. Pat Rafferty brings the house down in "Nobody Noticed Me," and the "Swing Me in the Moonlight" number goes well. Bob Anderson's "Six Days' Leave" retains its hold upon the risibilities of the audience, and Harry Ashton's singing of "The Only Girl" in an exceedingly clever and effective bit of female impersonation, all round. The Colonial Episode was presented in a considerably more authoritative and colorful manner even than last week, and won ample applause. All last week's other features were repeated with emphatic success. S. M. P.

"The Yellow Ticket" Is Produced by the Orpheum Stock Co.

"It is open to question whether such plays as "The Yellow Ticket," which the Orpheum Players presented for the first time in Montreal last night are eminently desirable for a stock house where the audiences are in a peculiar sense family audiences. While enterprise in producing dramas new to the city is to be commended heartily, it would be better directed to the selection of such theatrical entertainment as deals with less unpleasant subjects than "The Yellow Ticket." There is nothing offensive about the play, however, and if it draws as large houses as preceding attractions have done the choice of the direction will be fully justified.

Marya Varenka, a Russian Jewess, has entered the service of Margery Seaton, daughter of an Englishman in St. Petersburg, to teach her Russian, and is followed to their house by a man of the secret police, the Okrana, whilst the Seatons are entertaining friends at afternoon tea. Amongst the guests are Julian Rolfe, a journalist, and Baron Stepan Andrey. Mr. Seaton, nervous at the thought of the Russian police visiting him, and not knowing the reason, is reassured at once by the Baron, who says the police would not have ventured to call if they had known he were there.

But this does not suit Julian Rolfe, in Russia to study police methods and other life for his newspaper. He suggests it would be delightful to have the man up, and hear what he has to say, and in this is backed up by Miss Seaton, and the man is finally admitted.

In the drawing room Petrov Paviac, the secret service man demands to see Marya Varenka. Where did she come from? She is under suspicion. Where is her passport? Who was this princess who gave her the introduction to the Seatons? How long was she there, and can she name anyone else there? Marya falls down under the cross-examination, for she had stolen the passport of a girl friend who died while sharing her rooms recently and she never knew the princess. But she produces a yellow ticket. Paviac at once apologizes; he did not know of the yellow ticket, or would never have troubled her, and is about to withdraw. But the guests are interested in the magic of the yellow ticket, and Paviac reads it out. It gives to Marya Varenka the right to go anywhere in Russia without hindrance, to live anywhere, despite being a Jewess. The reason? That is stated, too. Because she is a public woman.

• • •

Everyone is thunder-struck and horrified, for Marya seemed such a nice girl. Then she makes a confession, how her father had been dying alone in America, and she found there was but one kind of passport that a Jewess could obtain to let her leave the country. Rather than let her father die alone, she accepted that loathsome passport. She reached her father in time to close his dying eyes, but found that the passport would not let her stay in the new country. She returned to Russia and had been hounded by the police ever since, demanding that she practise the profession named on the passport.

This confession is made in a long, impassioned speech for which Miss Margaret Knight received the rather rare compliment, at the Orpheum, of a curtain. Later Baron Andry promises Marya protection, but when she claims it, she finds there is a price. She will not pay, and finding that it is no good to temporize, she stabs him with a hat-pin and he falls dead.

• • •

The restraint and the studied posing of Harvey Hayes as the Baron were good, and rendered faithfully the air of the tiger with claws sheathed in velvet. William Naughton was a very wide-awake journalist,—much too slick, in fact, to enter the portals of the Okrana without first informing his Ambassador where he was going.

Ragtime Burlesque Feature of Bill at the Princess Theatre

If you want to see a fine example of burlesquing ragtime and "jazz," accompanied by real musicians and skilfully directed by a clever and resourceful artist, go and see Henry Santrey and his syncopated society band at the Princess Theatre this week. Santrey has hit upon a delicious idea. He has a "jazz" band which can play "jazz" and real music also, and they do both. He utilizes them to provide a comedy obbligato to a burlesque recitation along comic reiterative lines, and then he conducts them in a burlesque of "jazz."

It is all excellent fooling of its kind, and a distinct departure from the ordinary "jazz" program, for Mr. Santrey shows up the farcical nature of "jazz" by good-humoredly poking fun at it all the time. He is a singer of repute, in addition, and one could wish to hear more of him in ballad-singing, for his interpretation of Tosti's "Good-bye" was worth hearing,—all ladies and gentlemen who think it is a "has-been" song notwithstanding. The act is effectively staged, carefully produced, and goes with a vim and a swing throughout.

• • •

"Petticoats," a little farce-sketch we have seen before, is also on the bill, and secures just as much appreciation from the audience as ever. The same cast plays it. The Follis Girls are also with us again, and their original methods are picturesque, although it needs something more than the cold-blooded stares of a typical Monday afternoon audience to arouse enthusiasm in any vaudeville artist this weather.

• • •

Florence Baird is a host in herself, and her partner, Charles E. Bensee, is just a foil for her eccentricities. She can make faces that would cause a hyena to laugh, and her singing has a novel vein of comedy, both in method and manner. Bartram and Sexton work hard in various sorts of songs. They also yodel a little. Jack Osterman is a little too confident for a monologuist. His methods are fairly good, but his material would stand boiling down and then screening through a fine sieve. The Four Lamy Brothers, who open the bill, give a sensational display of daring athletic feats dexterously performed. The clown ought not to make so much noise, however.

• • •

Hubert J. Kinney and Corinne close the bill with a first-class dancing act. Corinne is about as lithe, graceful, and spirited an exponent of terpsichore as we have seen for some time, and whether in straight-forward dance steps, toe-dancing, pirouetting, or trick steps and spectacular dances, she reveals considerable talent and a fine sense of the significance of line and rhythm. She is admirably supported by Mr. Kinney. The act is daintily staged, and forms an exceptionally attractive closing feature. S.M.P.

Loew's Bill Proves To the Taste of the Patrons of the House

The leading act this week is "Past and Present," presented by Margaret Doherty and Company. This is a combination of old and new songs and dances, and the old-time melodies of the South were rendered in a truly characteristic fashion, while the latest Broadway hits lacked nothing in brightness and vivacity. "A Business Proposal," a one-act comedy from the pen of Edgar Allan Wolfe, played by Jeff Nealy and Company, contained many rollicking situations.

Zoler and Dick showed themselves capable exponents of music and dance, and the former proved to be a pianist of no mean ability. The Imperial Four in a humorous skit presented the "Country" variety of home talent in a series of songs, dances and imitations of musical instruments. Lawrence Brothers and Thelma provided excellent juggling and dance specialties.

Enid Bennett was featured in a new film, "Her Husband's Friend." The story of the romance of a young widow and her unknown benefactor is told in an interest-holding and unexaggerated manner.

Show at the Gayety Proved Attractive To Large Audience

A light, laughable, and pleasing vehicle, "Going Up and Coming Down," is presented by the Bowery Burlesquers at the Gayety theatre this week. Billy Foster and Frank Harcourt are featured, and provided some good comedy.

As the title suggests the many scenes are built around a competition to travel around the world in 150 minutes by aeroplane for a prize of $50,000. U.R. Right is the chief aviator and I.M. Left, is just a plain aviator. A start is made at the opening of the second act, a realistic scene is shown of the 'plane flying across the sea. A storm is predicted, with the result that the plane crashes into the sea. The two "intrepid" aviators are then shown floating in the middle of the ocean on a raft. This gives plenty of opportunity to get away with an original line of comedy.

• • •

Billy Foster and Frank Harcourt as the two aviators proved a scream. Their comedy at times was a little rough, but not offensive. They worked hard and pleased the large audience. The scene in which they represented a bull fight in an arena in Madrid, Spain, was very cleverly executed. Louise Barlow, Libby Hart and Kitty Glasco played the feminine leads and did good work. The dancing of Louise Barlow in a specialty act with Andy Bennet, was extremely well executed. Another specialty which earned applause was that of Mallon and Well.

• • •

The stage settings of the Bowery Burlesquers are not as elaborate as those seen in other productions at the Gayety this year, but the costumes of the principals and chorus were up to standard. The work of the chorus was good, and the singing a little better than the average heard at this class of show.

Taken all round, the Bowery Burlesquers put on a very creditable evening's entertainment. During the performance last night it was announced by Marty Semon that on Christmas Eve a special performance will be given by the Social Maids Company, when a big Christmas tree will be featured and the audience will be allowed to put presents on the tree for the members of the company—and vice-versa, of course.

St. Denis Program Above the Average Merit This Week

Of more than average merit is the program at the St. Denis this week. The demonstrations of Jiu-Jitsu by the three Nakas are admirable, although the leader's announcement that "even a child can do" the tricks demonstrated hardly carries conviction. Montambo and Napp, aerial acrobats, were both remarkably clever and really funny. Mms. Jeanne Dhelbes gives an interesting sketch of Sarah in "L'Aiglon." Chass Hess sings well, and his banjo solos are interesting when they are audible above the orchestral accompaniment. The tale of a couple of scions of English nobility reduced to humble toil for a living and how they made good in the States despite the machinations of a clique of nouveaux riches forms the subject of the feature film, "The City of Masks," with Robert Warwick in the lead.

Yiddish Players in "The Whel of Life" Again Successful

A realistic play, capably presented by the Rosetta Conn's Yiddish Players at the Monument National, is "The Wheel of Life." This three-act drama, containing a prologue and an epilogue, is interspersed with plenty of comedy and singing.

A married man, the father of a child, falls in love with the daughter of a wealthy man, neglects his wife and child and, after several futile attempts to mislead his wife, finally seeks divorce. Continually aggravated by his philanderings, the wife is taken ill, and, maddened with grief, tries to poison herself and her child. Through prompt action, both recover. The daughter of the man of wealth, realizing the shame her liason with the married man has brought upon her, ends her life by leaping through a window. The stricken woman's husband's health gives way completely and he is removed to the sanatorium. One day his wife visits the institute, accidentally meets her husband there, and through the kind offices of the house physician they are re-united.

Miss Rosetta Conn, who has won many friends by her dramatic gifts, played the wronged wife in a most convincing manner. Mr. S. Adler as the husband played with reserve, while L. Bockshitzki was effective. Mr. B. Reitz, Miss Rosie Rubin and Mr. B. Zigenlaub also did well. Baby Woerst, the child, who has taken several parts with this company, plays again and is adding to her number of admirers. Mrs. Shorr, Alex Cohn and Miss Mollie Bockshitzki filled their parts capably.

LEADING FEATURE AT PRINCESS

Henry Santrey and his Syncopated Society Band, the feature attraction at the Princess Theatre this week. Santrey on the extreme left.

AT THE MOVIES

Lew Cody, supported by three leading women, Louise Lovely, Rosemary Theby and Lilie Leslie, in "The Butterfly Man," is the feature showing at the Imperial for the first part of the week. The play depicts the adventure of a young man who is seeking a fortune in the shape of an heiress. All the young debutantes and the matrons of the social world are attracted by his personality and his "good looks."

Amongst the younger women of the fortune hunter's acquaintance is a young girl whose father is a millionaire. She is madly infatuated with the "Butterfly Man" and does not hesitate to let him know that she is, by divers methods. "The Butterfly Man" is afraid that her father will not approve of him and asks her to elope with him. All the settings are arranged for the elopement. "The Buterfly Man" is waiting "by the east gate" where she is to meet him at midnight. As she is going out of the door she meets her father, who has been notified of the intended runaway. Her father has a talk with her and succeeds in making her understand that the "Butterfly" will soon get tired of her and start looking around for a new affinity. She creeps back to her room and goes back to bed while her lover waits until he tires of it and also retires.

A Pathe British-Canadian News reel and one of the "Edgar" comedies complete the bill.

There is a distinct kind of human being, whose only kind of mental nourishment is derived from an omnivorous consumption of monthly periodicals. He should be transported beyond the bounds of reason by "Nomads of the North," this week's picture at the New Grand, which is "railway literature" at its best. The plot is one which never fails to thrill, no matter— with what frequency the voracious magazine reader may meet with it. It is perhaps the commonest plot in this kind of literature. The film does not appear to be a new one. The lady's evening dress, which imposes no tax on her modesty, is clearly not post-bellum. Still, the producer is at liberty to reply that in these vast northern solitudes, only serviceable dresses are worn. But if this should be his point of view, he might at least have devised a scene which would give us a little relief from home made clothes; just a peep for instance at some bare shoulders and a frock of Lucile's or Paquin's.

There is one touch of variety in the picture, which is in fact the chief interest of the film. Some delightful animals take leading parts and play them with accomplished grace. The bear cub and the puppy are undoubtedly the star performers in this piece.

• • •

The story of a hobo who showed his worth and won a girl and a good job is unfolded in "West is West," which is showing at the Holman theatre this week. Harry Carey plays a realistic part as a cow puncher away from his ranch. He is of the type one always associates with the boys of the west, and his bluff, democratic manner adds to the attraction this type holds for many people.

The plot of the film centres around a small mining town where the majority of the miners are Welsh, and working for one company. His satisfaction amongst the men during the absence of their employer is caused through the unstable condition of the mines in which they work. It is not until later that the men find out exactly why the mines have been allowed to get in this condition and why they are supplanted by strike-breakers when they declare their intention of staying above ground until the mines are made safe.

Harry Carey, as the self-appointed leader of the strike-breakers, finds out that the strikers, the breakers, and the owner of the miner, are all the victims of the machinations of two mine officials. In his own way he solves the riddle and rectifies the damage caused by the plotters. Love is woven in the reels of the film, and this phase of the picture, too, has a happy ending.

Eddie Polo, in another episode of "King of the Circus," is also seen.

Today's bill at the Regent will include Constance Talmadge in "Good References," Maggie and Jiggs in "The Social Lion" and Clyde Cook in his latest comedy, "Kiss Me Quick." Commencing tomorrow, the popular British sporting production, "A Dead Certainty," featuring the Hon. Poppy Wyndham and an all-British cast, will be presented along with Tom Mix in "The Texan."

• • •

The usual double bill at the Mount Royal theatre today include Marjorie Rambeau in "The Fortune Teller", a story filled with dramatic situations. The plot reaks with the appeal of mother-love, and the mysteries of psychic phenomena. Tragedy holds the attention of the spectators until mother-love triumphs. The other feature is a Lyon & Moran comedy entitled "Fixed by George," taken from a story by Edgar Franklin.

GEN. BOOTH LAUDS LIQUOR PROHIBITION

On Landing at Southampton, Says Gratified at Results

LONDON, Dec. 14.—(By Canadian Press Cable.)—Landing at Southampton after a trip through Canada and the United States, General Booth expressed, in the course of an interview with newspaper men, high gratification at the result of prohibition across the Atlantic. He spoke of a man he met in Canada, who considered himself twenty thousand pounds poorer in consequence of prohibition, but who had told him that he was so convinced of its utility that if the question had to be decided by his casting vote he would give it to prohibition.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14. — Mrs. Ellen O'Grady, the only woman Deputy Police Commissioner in New York, resigned yesterday because she said "she had been treated like a dog" by Police Commissioner Enright since Jan. 19th, when she and her women detectives "tried to arrest men in his office for outrageous treatment to girls." EXPERT ADVISES ON HANDLING SHIPPING Makes Recommendations to U.S. Committee on Gov't Shipping Bd.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 — (United Press)—Martin J. Gillen, corporation re-organization expert, and former assistant chairman of the United States Shipping Board, has made the following recommendations to the Congressional Committee investigating the Board's operations.

The Shipping Board and the Emergency Fleet Corporation should be divorced, the former to be given full control of the 1,400 Government-owned ships and enforcement of shipping regulations, and the latter to control liquidation of ships, yards, and materials valued at more than $2,000,000,000.

Both the corporation and Board should be completely re-organized. The former should consist of seven members, including a chairman, and should be aided by a legal department of 15 specialists. The latter should also have seven members, including chairman, and should be composed of specialists in various lines of business.

The Board and corporation should be housed in the Navy Department building.

Terminal facilities built in various American ports during the war cost $178,000,000 should be rented to the states or municipalities for commercial purposes.

Sale prices of Government-owned ships should be adjusted to meet the present low market for tonnage so as to induce immediate buying, and sales already made at exorbitant prices should be re-adjusted.

Gillen, after testifying before the committee here several weeks ago, was asked to prepare a program of suggestions as a basis for possible recommendations by the committee to Congress.

START NEW MOVE FOR IRISH RELIEF

NEW YORK, Dec. 14—Twenty-five thousand men and women of Irish birth or extraction voluntarily broke away from the Friends of Irish Freedom and at the same time voted themselves into the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic through five thousand delegates who assembled last night in the Lexington Theatre. Two thousand delegates who could not get inside the building held a meeting outside.

Dr. Patrick McCartan, "envoy" of the "Irish Republic," announced that a new movement for Irish relief would be started today when 50,000 Irish women would campaign the houses and streets of the city for funds. He said it was planned to carry out a system of relief in Ireland along the lines established by the Red Cross.

SASKATOON, Sask., Dec. 14. — Passage of one man street cars, proportional representation and abolition of ward system by-laws featured elections here yesterday.

IN MEMORIAM.

OLSEN—In loving memory of my dear father, Julius Olsen, who was accidentally killed Dec. 14, 1916.
I little thought when I said good-bye,
We parted forever and you were to die.
Grief that I felt word cannot tell,
For I could not be there to bid you farewell.
—By his daughter, Mrs. Geo. Olsen and family.

SESSENWEIN — In loving memory of my dear mamma, who departed this life December 14th, 1909. Gone but not forgotten.—Miriam.

DANIELS OPPOSED TO LONG NAVAL HOLIDAY

Does Not Favor Pact With England, U.S., and Japan

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14. — Yesterday Secretary Daniels declared his opposition to the proposal that the United States, England and Japan enter into a contract proclaiming a five years' holiday for their navies, during which none of them would engage in new construction. At the same time Mr. Daniels made public the report of the General Board of the Navy providing for extensive armament building, new ships, etc., calling for appropriations of $700,000,000 for this coming year.

Secretary Daniels says he does not believe such a pact of nations is necessary at this time for world peace. He concluded:

"Such an alliance would be most unwise and short-sighted policy on the part of any three nations forming the agreement. Unless the United States is ready to go into an association of all nations, or of practically all nations, we cannot quit our building programme. The world today is in chaos. Nobody knows what will happen within the next year, and the United States should complete its building program, already started, without interruption."

SAYS UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE TOO SLOW

Would Take Two Years to Get Into Operation

OTTAWA, Dec. 14.—(By Canadian Press).—Unemployment insurance, as a means for dealing with present conditions, is impracticable. It is not being considered by the Government as a means to tide over unemployment prevailing now, and it would take at least two years to establish and operate any system of unemployment insurance in Canada.

The above opinion was expressed by Senator Robertson, Minister of Labor this morning. The Minister explained that any system of unemployment insurance in Canada must be based on a fund obtained by assessment of employers and employees, plus Government grant. It would take at least two years to build up such a fund. The idea that the Dominion Government was in a position to hand out millions of dollars at the present time for the establishment of such was certainly far from the fact.

Senator Robertson repeated his statement of some days ago to the effect that the Federal Government is ready and willing to assist the municipalities and provinces in solving the problem, but he emphasized the point that it was primarily a municipal or Provincial matter, and that the Dominion Government had no right or intention of assuming it. The Federal Government was willing to assist in, but not to initiate plans for relief of unemployment.

MICHIGAN MAN PASSED AWAY AT 114 YEARS

Ascribes Long Life to Early Retiring and Early Rising

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 14 — (Star Special)—Abraham Kittle, who was born when the population of all Michigan was less than 4,000, died Sunday afternoon. He was 114 years old. Kittle was born 14 years before the first steamship crossed the Atlantic. He preceded the telegraph, cable and the Monroe Doctrine, and the first passenger railroad was not opened in the United States until 1828, and then Abraham Kittle was 22 years old. He probably was the oldest Mason in the United States. He joined old Cinnamon Lodge, in Waterford, N.Y., in 1827, and during the excitement that followed the memorable Morgan affair when members of the organization were accused of disposing of the man who threatened to reveal their secrets, he helped to keep off a mob that attempted to destroy the Masonic Temple in his town, on the pretext that coffins were stored in the building. He smoked inveterately, puffing away until he was 106, and only stopped then because the smoke irritated his eyes. He was twice married, his second wife coming to him when he was 60 and she was 15. There were 7 children by this marriage.

Kittle ascribed his long life to retiring at 8 p.m., and rising at 5 a.m.

COL. PRICE WARNS ON LIQUOR ACTS, ETC.

Says Province Endangers Gains of True Temperance

SARNIA, Ont., Dec. — (Canadian Press.)—Col. W. H. Price, M.P.P. of Toronto, addressing a Liberal-Conservative party rally here last night compared the methods of the late W. J. Hanna, dealing with the liquor traffic, with those of the Drury-Raney regime. To the latter he said the vast majority of people were strongly opposed. Prohibition which had come in strongly had began to lose its effect when the U.F.O. came into power.

"I warn the temperance people of this Province," said Col. Price, "that what was accomplished under the Conservative administration for true temperance is on the verge of being lost by unwise and careless administration and manipulation of the Ontario Temperance Act."

Dealing with the Highways Department, Col. Price said that Hon. F. C. Biggs, "took the palm," when it came to spending money like water. His department has spent $6,000,000 on different roads so widely scattered that the money was simply wasted.

DRASTIC EMBARGO IS PROPOSED IN U.S.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—An embargo for one year against the importation of wheat, wheat flour, barley, rye, oats, flax, wool, hogs, cattle and sheep is proposed in a Bill introduced today by Representative Young, Republican, North Dakota. He also introduced a Bill establishing a permanent schedule of import duties upon these items after the one year embargo.

EDMONTON ELECTS DUGGAN

EDMONTON, Alb., Dec. 14.— In yesterday's election, D. M. Duggan was chosen for mayor of Edmonton by 700 majority over the labor nominee, Mayor Joseph A. Clarke, who has occupied the position for the last two years.

The entire Citizen's Progressive ticket is also leading the polls over the labor candidates. The money by-laws as well as the gas by-laws and the pay for aldermen, are all defeated.

WARNS AGAINST VILNA OCCUPATION.

KOVNA, Dec. 14. (United News) — Soviet representatives have warned the Lithuanian Government that Moscow will not sanction the occupation of the Vilna region by international detachments acting on behalf of the League of Nations. Such occupation, it was stated, would be a violation of the Russo-Lithuanian treaty.

ASKS D.U.R. TO SUBMIT PRICE FOR SYSTEM

If Ratepayers Favor Offer Would Give City Complete Service

DETROIT, Dec. 14.—(Star Special) —The Street Railway Commission has asked the Detroit United Railway to fix a price at which it would be willing to sell the city all its non-franchise and day-to-day agreement lines, within the city limits.

A letter to Elliott G. Stevenson, counsel for the Company, specified the 11 lines which come under this classification, and asked for an early reply from the Company, so that any offer it may make may be submitted to the council and to the voters at the April election.

If the D.U.R. will set a reasonable price on the lines and the voters decide to buy them, the municipality would have a practically complete system, capable of serving between 500,000 and 600,000 persons in all sections of the city, officials said.

The Commission explained that the proposition was put up to the D.U.R., because the Commission believes that the measure passed by the voters last April carried an implied obligation to present this plan to them. It is, therefore, the commission's hope to clear up this question before considering the D.U.R. proposition to lease its entire city system to the city.

Some definite proposal to settle the traction questions should be put up to the voters next April, the Commission believes, and this is the first step in the matter.

FIRE DESTROYS TWO HOTELS IN WINNIPEG

Damages Estimated at from $50,000 to $100,000

WINNIPEG, Man. Dec. 14.—(Canadian Press).—An early morning fire which threatened several business places, on Main street, opposite the City Hall, with destruction caused damage variously estimated at between $50,000 and $100,000 here to-day.

Four business places, including the Manitoba and City Hotels, suffered loss. Both hotels were well filled with guests who made a hurried exit in scanty clothing. Street car service was disrupted in all sections of the city, owing to a break in the power line opposite the fire.
