Space offered to St. Leonard kids

MONTREAL (CP) — The Protestant school board of Greater Montreal Tuesday offered temporary classroom space for 400 immigrant and English-speaking children who have been denied English-language education in suburban St. Leonard.

The decision, taken at an emergency meeting of the board's executive committee, was described by an education department spokesman as a "great temporary solution" to the 15-month-old school language dispute.

However, the offer has to be studied by the education department to make it certain it does not infringe on school jurisdictions.

The St. Leonard Parents Association, which represents English-speaking and immigrant parents, has agreed to pay a $25 monthly fee for each child who attends the classes in two Protestant schools.

Association President Robert Beale Tuesday said the 400 Grade 1 and 2 children, caught up in the St. Leonard school board's plan to eliminate English-language instruction, should register today for temporary classes.

APPEALS TO PARENTS

Mr. Beale, speaking on a radio station, also urged parents of English-speaking children in Grades 3 to 7 to end a brief boycott and send their children back to regular schools today.

The boycott went into effect Monday in the suburb torn by a bitter dispute over the school board's policy to eliminate gradually all English-language instruction.

Meanwhile, the Ligue pour l'Integration Scolaire, which advocates French-only instruction in Quebec schools, said it intends to go ahead with a parade tonight in St. Leonard even though it was denied a permit by the police chief.

A school boycott also continued Tuesday in a second Montreal suburb, Brossard, where parents of 296 English-speaking children in Grades 4 to 7 are objecting to the conditions of a convent rented by the Catholic school board. One parent estimated that about three-quarters of the children have been kept home from school.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Gerda

BOSTON (AP) — Hurricane Gerda, spinning up the eastern seaboard so fast there was time for only cursory precautions, brushed by New England Tuesday and headed into the Maritime provinces.

Gerda, who sprang up Monday off the U.S. southeast coast, dumped heavy rains as she sped parallel to the coast at about 50 miles an hour.

Winds near the hurricane centre were measured at about 100 m.p.h. but the worst experience on the U.S. mainland was about 50 m.p.h. Damage was reported light, with no significant injuries.

A U.S. weather bureau report at 9 p.m. EDT said Gerda then was about 25 miles southwest of Saint John N.B.

A weather bureau spokesman said Gerda would dissipate quickly over land. A reconnaissance flight into the storm late Tuesday afternoon indicated she was weakening.

Gerda dumped up to four inches of rain in Portland, Me., and two inches farther north at Eastport, Me.

Hurricane warnings in effect for the Maine coast might be lowered to gale warnings at midnight, the weather bureau said.

CHANGED COURSE

Gerda had headed toward Cape Cod earlier in the day but swung away.

Planes collide

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — A single-engine plane in which a student pilot was soloing slammed into the tail of an Allegheny Airlines jetliner with 82 persons aboard Tuesday. Both craft plunged to the ground. There were no survivors.

The DC-9 passenger plane, Allegheny Flight 853, smashed into a soybean field about 500 feet from a trailer court. The single-engine Piper Cherokee fell into a wooded area nearby.

Flight 853 originated at Boston and picked up passengers at Baltimore and Cincinnati on the way to Indianapolis. It was bound for St. Louis.

The light plane had taken off from nearby McCordville with a student pilot from Indianapolis at the controls on a solo cross-country flight, state police said. The pilot's name was withheld.

Fred Spitzer, a farmer who witnessed the collision, said the smaller plane made a popping noise as if the engine was misfiring. The weather was partly cloudy at the time.

Secrecy

EDMONTON (CP) — The identity of the men travelling a mystery train between here and Calgary may become known today—if they leave the train as some sources expect.

Speculation is that the occupants are executives of Atlantic Richfield Oil Co. of the U.S. who are preparing details on the company's bid for oil leases in the Prudhoe Bay area of Alaska, site of a major oil find.

Between $600,000,000 and $1,500,000,000 is expected to be bid for 468,000 acres of land in the area. With that kind of money at stake, absolute privacy and secrecy surrounds the plans of competing oil companies.

Israeli raid knocks out Egyptian installations

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An Israeli amphibious force with tanks and air support thrust into Egypt across the Gulf of Suez Tuesday and an army spokesman said 100 to 150 Egyptians were killed in "one of the most daring raids" since the six-day war of June, 1967.

Defence Minister Moshe Dayan hailed the attack as a "heavy and shocking blow" to the Egyptians and warned the Cairo government to expect "even heavier strikes."

Israeli forces in the raid displayed "an operational ability almost unprecedented in military history," Dayan said.

Cairo radio disputed the Israeli account, saying the

Kidnapping

TORONTO (CP) — A woman who was kidnapped from her home near Toronto and released Tuesday for $200,000 ransom is believed to be Mary Nelles, daughter of trucking executive Marshall D. Davis of Toronto and wife of H. Radcliff (Cliff) Nelles, 29-year-old stock broker.

Acting on sparse information that indicated the victim was Mrs. Nelles and hence the daughter of Mr. Davis, a reporter called the Davis home early today and said: "We'd like to confirm that Mary Nelles, Mr. Davis's daughter, is all right after being returned by kidnappers this afternoon."

The man who answered the telephone did not identify himself, but said: "A statement will be made in the morning."

invasion was repulsed with the loss to Israel of three planes, two torpedo boats and heavy casualties.

Israel reported one plane lost to anti-aircraft fire and one soldier slightly wounded.

BROADCASTS TO NATION

In a national radio and television broadcast, Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir said: "The raid was meant to strike at the bases and concentrations of the Egyptian army which have served as a base for commando units laying mines and launching attacks against Israeli positions."

The tank and troop landing, the Israelis said, took place near El Hasayer, about 28 miles south of the Port of Suez at the southern end of the canal. At that point the gulf forms a 25-mile-wide barrier between the Egyptian mainland and the Israeli-occupied Sinai Desert peninsula.

The Israeli force then swept south 30 miles along the rocky desolate coast to Ras Za'farana, meeting little or no opposition, an Israeli communique reported, adding: "Through rapid progress, the force attacked guard posts, army camps, radar stations, military vehicles and military encampments."

TARGETS BOMBED

At the same time, Israeli planes attacked scores of military targets, including a "devastating attack" on a major Soviet-built surface-to-air missile battery at El Hasayer, Israeli officers said.

A senior member of the general staff, addressing a crowded news conference in Tel Aviv, said 110 to 150 Egyptians died in the raid that lasted from 2 a.m. until noon. There was no estimate of Egyptian wounded.

Many Egyptian officers fled rather than fight, the general officer said.

He estimated 2,000 to 3,000 Egyptian troops were in the area when the attack was launched, but declined to give the size of the Israeli force.

Mayor asks Savard to stay one year

SHERBROOKE — (RS) — Alderman Marcel Savard's resignation from city politics Monday left council with a feeling of regret and concern.

Council members praised their confrere yesterday, saying "he was very devoted and worked hard for his city."

Sherbrooke Mayor Armand Nadeau, appreciative of the Mr. Savard's work, said yesterday he had asked the Center Ward alderman to reconsider his resignation and remain with the city for another year.

Mr. Nadeau asked the finance committee chairman and alderman to remain until the Municipal Affairs department has determined the date of the next municipal elections.

Carl Camirand, the dean of aldermen, said Mr. Savard had represented his constituency well, by being a most responsible and active member. "In addition, continued Mr. Camirand, "he fostered many parking lot projects for the city."

Equally surprised and stunned, West

Ward Alderman Antonio Pinard said he was thankful for the opportunity he had had to work with the center ward representative.

"If Mr. Savard has plans to exercise his powers in a different field," Ald. Pinard said, "I wish him the best."

In a tribute to his colleague, Ald. Romeo Quintal said Mr. Savard's controlled manner had inspired him during council debates.

He continued that Mr. Savard's knowledge and experience had been of great use to him in consultation.

Mayor Armand Nadeau repeated his request to the alderman, and asked he stay on for another year.

The mayor said he had been advised by the alderman Sunday, of his resignation, and he had appreciated the gesture.

"A city like Sherbrooke cannot really develop itself and prosper without some financial difficulties," the mayor said, "and Marcel Savard was the man who solved many of them."

US vetoes Quebec Agreement

QUEBEC (CP) — A Louisiana official said Tuesday night a projected Quebec-Louisiana cultural agreement was abandoned because of opposition from the United States state department.

The comment was made at a news conference by James Domengeaux, chairman of the 50-member council for the development of French in Louisiana.

Mr. Domengeaux visited the provincial capital with Gov. John J. McKeithen, who announced a program of Quebec-Louisiana co-operation after a meeting with Premier Jean-Jacques Bertrand.

The 60-year-old chairman of the Louisiana state agency said the idea of a cultural agreement was abandoned because "it could cause a lot of trouble."

In its constitutional negotiations with Canada's federal government, Quebec province seeks the right to sign international agreements in fields of its internal jurisdiction.

The Canadian government maintains that it has exclusive jurisdiction over international relations.

East Angus trouble

Says ignore reports

EAST ANGUS — (RS) — So said East Angus Mayor Herve Maltais yesterday. The threats and sabotages reported to the local police officers of the CNTU affiliated Pulp and Paper Workers Union in East Angus are not worth worrying about, explained Mr. Maltais.

As for contingency measures, Mr. Maltais told the Record he had instructed police chief Phaneuf not to bother.

Mayor Maltais added he was preparing a statement to be released Saturday, that would help end the confusion.

Members of the Pulp and Paper Union are complaining about union members and officers being subjected to sabotage and terrorism, with no police intervention.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Health Problems
Of Moon Travelers

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Although few of us will ever go to the moon, the medical problems of those who do are of interest. A head cold is never fatal but the discomfort of the attendant blocking of the nasal sinuses is greatly aggravated in outer space. No amount of decongestant will drain the sinuses in a weightless environment.

All the health problems of our astronauts in flight are treated by flight surgeons on three eight-hour shifts in mission control. Although several drugs are available to the astronauts, they are under strict orders not to take anything but aspirin without first consulting one of the flight surgeons.

The problem of motion sickness has apparently been solved by a simple exercise. The head is bent forward, backward, left and right, then turned left and right repeatedly. Each movement is held for a count of two. The exercise is repeated for a couple of hours if necessary at the first inking that motion sickness may develop. This may be worth trying sometime to prevent airsickness or seasickness.

Prolonged space flights greatly reduce the efficiency of the heart because of the limited opportunity for exercise. This can be corrected by a period of reconditioning on return to earth. Furthermore, travel in space is not conducive to rest. The space ship has an automatic firing device that may discharge as often as every five minutes to keep the ship properly oriented in relation to earth so that vital messages can be sent and received. This firing creates vibrations that allow a very fitful sleep at best, and usually not more than five hours a day. Only persons in top physical condition can take this for long.

In spite of the medical scientists' worry that passing through the Van Allen radiation belt might damage the astronauts' genes, there is no evidence at present that this has happened. Two children have been born to astronauts after successful flights. They are now 3 and 5 years old and perfectly normal.

Your Horoscope

JEANE DIXON

FOR THURSDAY, SEPT. 11, 1969

Your birthday today: Your life now is apt to take an entirely different direction in which much that is now going on will be dropped. The urgent requirement is to disentangle yourself from any routine or recurrent obligation which would hinder a sudden move or reorganization. Today's natives have vivid imaginations, and many have used it well in writing novels.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Be more sociable both day and evening. Make the rounds, catch up on the news, find some new friends among the old. Enjoy yourself, without excess of food or drink.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): You now face the challenge of avoiding family squabbles just at a time when you need all your time and wits about you for public relations. Your ideas should be attractive to important people today. The soft sell wins.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): It is easier to deal with strangers than the people you know so well. Stand clear and give your differences time to cool off a bit.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Get down to hard facts today and get your relations with associates and partners onto a sound basis. Healthy self interest will lead you well through a variety of normal routines.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Minor problems must be ignored while your time and attention is fastened on major projects. The day is very promising. Your friends have even bigger ideas than you. A neglected matter turns out to be fortunate after all.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): You are about to begin using more of your time on new activity. Clear out the loose ends from the past, pay off your old debts, get the latest information into your files.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): "Follow up" is the key phrase for the day. Check on any pending ventures which are being neglected. Assume that any information may be incomplete. Your mate has a problem to pursue alone—stay out of the way.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Conferences, agreements are promising if you do not push too hard or too soon. Work through your connections, older friends. You may find others expressing views contrary to yours.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Pains-taking, old-fashioned work methods now pay off even if they do slow you up quite a bit. Indulge yourself in some childhood luxury again.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Now you are in sustained in your views and enterprises by expert advice. Make long range agreements, map out travel schedules, deal with in-laws.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Planning for future purchases is strongly favored, but this is not the day to make them. Your friends are full of ideas which do not suit your best welfare.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Decide what you can do with the immediate situation, and go at it diligently. Do the most difficult things first, get them out of the way.

HARD AT WORK — Bishop's students are slowly beginning to arrive but the big influx doesn't come until early next week.

Seen above are a few of the early arrivals working to complete renovations on the university's coffee house, the Spectrum.

Work starts on Richmond city hall

RICHMOND — (DM) — Sod turning ceremonies were held here Monday, at the proposed site of Richmond's new City Hall. Construction will begin immediately and should be completed by early March.

Mayor Roger Trudeau told the Record that it will be functional and of service to all citizens. He said that he hoped the town's people would take pride in the new building.

The 115 x 70 foot City Hall will be built by Sherbrooke contractors, Marquis et Freres, for $230,000. Total cost of the project is expected to be $290,000.

It will be located in front of the Richmond Arena, next to the park. Ample parking will be available in two nearby areas. This space can be used by visitors to the arena in the evenings.

The building will house the municipal administration, offices of the labour and agriculture departments and new Provincial Police headquarters.

Mayor Trudeau said that government staff will begin to occupy offices as early as December. Final completion of the building is expected by March 1, when the 40 or 50 city hall workers will move in.

Municipal police, the fire department and the road works will remain in the old building.

Signs of life at Bishop's

LENNOXVILLE — (RST) — The gradual return of the Bishop's community has begun. After a four month break signs of the student population can be seen throughout Lennoxville and the Bishop's campus.

Most of the students will arrive next week. New students will be coming in Monday and will set off immediately into the introduction program. Returning students will be back on Tuesday.

Some of the first to return were those in search of lodging for the coming year. With the increasing numbers of students at the university residences at Bishop's, housing within Lennoxville cannot accommodate the student overflow.

On Sunday the football training camp began. An ambitious group of 45 are trying out for this year's squad. Their first game will be on Sept. 20 against the University of New Brunswick team.

During this week many students have returned to the drudgery of writing supplemental examinations.

Others have returned to begin work on projects within the university. A few ambitious students are hard at work redecorating the coffee house in the student union. The Spectrum will be fully equipped with a sound system for this year as well as new lights and an electric coffee machine.

Some are at work installing new equipment at Radio Bishop's. A grant to the club has allowed them to purchase a new console and turntables.

Other students are working in the theatre to get the equipment into top shape for the coming season.

Langlois acquitted of theft

SHERBROOKE — (DM) — The jury found Albert Langlois not guilty of theft yesterday, in Assizes Court. Representing him during the trial was Defense Attorney Claude Boutin.

Langlois had been accused of stealing 92 suits, eight pairs of pants and a jacket from Fernand Prince Engr. in Asbestos.

March 19 Langlois was later found with the clothes in a car driven by Yvon Beaudoin, who admitted to owning the car.

He stands trial again tomorrow for possession of stolen goods in connection with the same case.

On Friday, he faces charges of escaping from Sherbrooke Prison last spring.

Grade five girl's scrapbook praises Magog

MAGOG — (Special) — The City of Magog has a very colorful and informative scrapbook at its tourist information office, compiled and arranged by 13 year old Pamela Wighton of Greenfield Park, Quebec.

The 34-page book, bound in colorful centennial covers, was a 1967 school project, in which Miss Wighton, then in grade 5, earned full marks. Her assignment resulted in a historical resume of Magog, with facsimiles of the city crest, tourist map, and many clippings, some of outstanding historical significance to this community and the district.

While the creator's book was received with deep appreciation, it generated considerable interest among members of this community's tourist commission, as it typified the way others living outside Magog see the centre. In Miss Wighton's eyes, this is a beautiful city, but more historically important, than generally considered by local citizens.

The textile industry too, comes into prominence in the Magog historical scrapbook, and in the author's view, is a mark of great distinction for the Townships and Quebec, indeed a credit to Magog.

A whole scholastic year's work went into Pamela Wighton's scrapbook, and while just a grade five project, the work means a great deal to the people of Magog. Little remuneration other than praise and words of appreciation go to reward Miss Wighton, but she can rest assured, the people of this centre who have seen and learned of her book are grateful and flattered also that an 11-year-old student would see their municipality as this girl did.

Leadership quest may start here

By CUTHBERT JONES

SHERBROOKE — (CJ) — The decision of Jean Lesage to step down as chief of the provincial Liberal party has caused a temporary lull in political activity at the provincial level.

Premier Jean-Jacques Bertrand has declared that he will not call a general election until after the naming of the new Opposition leader at a convention to be held in Quebec City some time in January, thus easing the pressure upon the Liberals to select their candidates for ridings now held by Union Nationale members.

Thus conventions tentatively scheduled for this month in the counties of Sherbrooke and Wolfe have been cancelled and probably will be held late in January.

One obvious reason for the decision to delay the conventions in constituencies which have not already nominated candidates is the desire to get men who may be more in sympathy with the ideas of the new leader and with the electoral platform adopted by the convention.

And following the same line of thinking, several of the candidates already nominated have indicated they will call meetings of their organizers following the leadership decision to have their selection confirmed.

In most cases this is expected to be a mere formality but it is felt that such votes of confidence would be of great value to the candidates by removing any possible charge that they were running under false colors — that they had been chosen as supporters of Jean Lesage and the policies he advocated.

With the leadership convention still some four months away there has been little indication of the final lineup of leadership candidates but indications are that the race will be between standard-bearers for three groups: The strong federalists who are favoring the nomination of federal Economic Development Minister Jean Marchand; a combination of provincial party regulars, former Municipal Affairs Minister Pierre Laporte, Robert Bourassa, MNA for Mercier, and reportedly Montreal Executive Committee Chairman Lucien Saulnier; and former Justice Minister Claude Wagner who touched off the original revolt that undermined Mr. Lesage's leadership. And it is possible that former Education Minister Paul Gerin-Lajoie, who recently resigned his seat in the National Assembly, may attempt a comeback.

While potential candidates are marking time this week, the leadership campaign may be unofficially launched in Sherbrooke Saturday when the local Reform Club holds its annual golf tournament.

The list of those who have given definite promises of being present reads like the Who's Who of the Liberal party in the province.

From the federal house the participants will include National Revenue Minister Jean Pierre Cote, Mr. Marchand and Yves Forest, MP for Missisquoi, and Paul Gervais, MP for Sherbrooke.

The provincial delegation will include Messrs. Laporte, Bourassa and Wagner, Mr. Lesage, and Members of the National Assembly Glen Brown, Georges Vaillancourt, Emilien Lafrance, Bernard Pinard, Alcide Courcy and Louis-Philippe Lacroix.

Rotary should review and renew

SHERBROOKE — (DM) — New members are needed, he said, but not only older, established members of business. Determined young men should be urged to join. He said the Rotary Club does not need a generation gap.

Rotary International has a planning committee, he added, but every individual club should have one. He mentioned he was glad to see that one existed here in Sherbrooke.

He said that community projects should be organized, especially fund raising programs, like the one recently held in the Sherbrooke Club.

Mr. Hardy has initiated two competitive projects himself. The district is offering trophies for the highest membership growth and the best membership presentation at the District Conference.

Opening meet

At a meeting of the officers of the Sherbrooke Numismatic Society held at the home of the President, Mr. Alan Mooney, it was decided that the opening meeting of the 1969-1970 season would be held Wednesday night, September 10, 7:30 p.m. in the Bands Mess, Williams Street Armory.

Tentative plans have been made for several activities in the coming fall months and these will be discussed at this meeting. All coin collectors are cordially invited.

New clubs are needed as much as anything else, he said, and he hopes that local clubs will continue to sponsor others. He said that the member per club increase is lower here than in other countries.

He closed by saying that members everywhere have the opportunity to carry out these ideas through vision and dedication.

Ald. Savard's decision regretted by citizens

In his thirteen years as a member of the Sherbrooke City Council, Ald. Marcel Savard has earned the high respect of citizens generally for his ability as an administrator and for his devotion to the duties of his office.

Thus his decision to step out of the municipal political arena will be regretted by Sherbrooke residents generally although most of them will realize that he has done his full share for the advancement of the city and that he is completely justified in handing over his responsibilities to others.

For the past several years he has occupied the post of chairman of the general administration committee which was involved chiefly with the problems of raising the money and meeting the city's bills.

The latter part of his term of office has been a critical one. The demands on the civic exchequer have been increasing much more rapidly than have the municipal revenues. This placed a special burden on the general administration committee chairman who was compelled to apply, or attempt to apply, stringent controls over expenditure in an effort to prevent any increase of the tax burden.

The extent to which this policy has been effective is evidenced by the fact that real estate taxes in Sherbrooke have not been increased over a lengthy period while the credit rating of the city has been maintained at the head of the list for Canadian municipalities — large and small.

In bidding farewell to Ald. Marcel Savard as a member of the City Council Sherbrooke residents will wish him health and prosperity in the future and perhaps express the hope that at a later date he may see his way clear to serve them again in some other field.

They say the puppy was paper-trained, but we haven't been able to find the out-of-town paper he reads.

Lightened collections

Not all Britons are happy about their nation's schedule 1971 switch to decimal coinage to supercede the time-honored but confusing system of 12 pennies to the shilling, 20 shillings to the pound, one pound and one shilling to the guinea and so on.

Clergymen are especially doubtful about the changeover in change, the reason being that the largest British coin and the one most frequently found in collection plates — the half-crown — will be eliminated in the new coinage.

The half-crown (there is no such thing as the crown; that would be too logical) is worth about 32 Canadian cents. Its place will be taken by the new 10 new-pence piece, worth about 26 Canadian cents.

The worry among clergy men and church financiers is that if the habitual half-crown giver begins giving the coin nearest in value, he will be cutting his donation by 20 per cent.

The church administrators are hoping that the one-coin man will become a two-coin man, dropping in two 10-penny pieces and thus increasing his giving by 60 per cent.

But being in the salvation business, they are not too optimistic about human nature.

People who pride themselves on being sharp as a tack can often win extra points for having small heads.

TODAY in history

Sept. 10, 1969 . . .

Expulsion of Acadian French settlers from what now is Nova Scotia and New Brunswick began 214 years ago today—in 1755. In 1713 it was decided that all settlers should either take oath of allegiance to the English crown or move to another part of North America within a year, but this was not enforced. But in 1755 the Acadians were rounded up and put aboard ships, often without money and without warning to authorities at their destination.

1846—Elias Howe patented the sewing machine.

1917—Maine rejected woman suffrage by a large majority.

Second World War
Twenty-five years ago today—in 1944—Americans took Luxembourg, Hasselt and Verviers linking with British 2nd Army along Albert Canal; 5,000 Allied bombers struck from Channel ports to inside Germany and Austria; RAF bombed Berlin by night; Americans fired first shots on German soil near Aachen

Inefficiency rules as Burma goes Socialist

By JAMES M. MARKHAM

RANGOON — (AP) — "The people have lost their laughter," said the old man, who spent four years in one of Gen. Ne Win's jails for his allegiance to Burma's now-defunct parliamentary democracy.

And it is true that many people in this lush, once-rich country have been sapped of their elan, demoralized as their government marches austere toward something called "socialism."

Socialism — or the Burmese Way to Socialism, as it is officially enshrined — has meant indiscriminate takeovers of almost all private economic enterprises, often without compensation.

The takeovers were in part attempts to dislodge the important Indian and Chinese communities, which dominated commerce before Ne Win assumed command of the country in 1962.

But, though many Burmese were happy to see the Chinese and Indians ousted, they are not happy today with inefficient, and sometimes corrupt, management by military leaders.

The ordinary Burmese, one who has no friends in high places, can do half his shopping in his local "people's stores," whose shelves are usually pitifully empty. The other half he must do in the flourishing — and expensive — black market.

BUY WHAT'S THERE

Since prices are lower in the people's stores, Burmese housewife will buy anything that happens to be available on a given day, knowing that some other store in another neighborhood will be out of that item.

"I may have no use for flashlight batteries," explained one young Rangoon woman. "But if I can get five of them I can probably exchange them somewhere for condensed milk, which my store hasn't had in months."

"We spent most of our days running around, exchanging this for that and that for this," said an old man with a small smile. "I wonder if the government keeps us running around so that we have no time for plotting."

In drab, bare, tidy Rangoon the prices of all goods have risen two to eight times their 1962 values.

In 1962 the price of a longyi — the skirt-like, ankle-length piece of material worn by both men and women in Burma — was five kyats — or $1 at the inflated official rate. Today each Burmese is allowed to purchase two longyis a year from his people's store — for 15 to 20 kyats each. On the black market, he pays 30 kyats.

The black market, supplied by smugglers along the porous Thai border, is tolerated as a necessary part of the economy by the military-dominated administration, which is incapable of organizing a workable distribution system.

RUMORS ABOUT

The only real liveliness in Rangoon, which closes up into a ghost town at 7 p.m. springs from rumors about what the government will do next.

A few years back the government declared that 50- and 100-kyat notes were worthless, hoping to wipe out the hoarded millions of the black marketeers.

Now the stories are that it is going to invalidate all savings not deposited in the nationalized "people's banks". Others say that soon all urban property will be nationalized.

"I don't think so," said one opponent of the regime. "There are three things this government won't nationalize — big houses, Mercedes-Benz and mistresses — because all the colonels have them."

In the countryside, where most of Burma's 27,000,000 people live, life has not become so desperate, or corrupt. The state theoretically owns all the land, but in fact peasants continue to work their own rice paddies.

Rice distribution has been nationalized — resulting in catastrophic drop of annual exports from 2,000,000 tons before 1962 to 345,000 last year — but cultivators close to urban centres manage to smuggle goodly quantities to the black market for higher prices.

Thoroughly but pleasantly Buddhist in conviction, most Burmese have been able to accept, or just ignore, the nation's official ideology, which in any case "gives full freedom of conscience and religion to those who believe and worship."

Buddhism, many Burmese point out, is not in theory incompatible with socialism, and many of the country's military leaders are practising Buddhists.

Buddhist monks are seen everywhere. Monasteries — not yet nationalized — still provide education for many novices, and the humble faithful continue to trek up the steps of the enormous golden Shwedagon Pagoda, the only shiny thing in Rangoon, to offer prayers before countless images of the Buddha.

In Mandalay, in Burma's Buddhist heartland, billboards gently urge culinary non-violence: "Be Kind to Animals by Not Eating Them."

Recently when it became necessary to control the exploding population of stray dogs in Mandalay, civic authorities put out one piece of poisoned meat for every poisoned piece. That way nobody was killing dogs, it was explained; the dogs were able to choose between death and nourishment.

Burma's expanding educational system — one of the regime's acknowledged successes — does not encourage its youth to abandon Buddhism, but it does, subtly, push the official ideology.

"We try to teach the ideals of the Burmese Way to Socialism," explains Education Secretary Nye Nye, who has watched his system reach out in the last few years to cover an estimated 93 per cent of all children between five and 11.

"We hope to include the remaining seven per cent in the next six years," Nye Nye adds.

Burma has no student problem in its colleges, Nye Nye says. Even those who otherwise oppose Ne Win's regime concede that Burma's students work harder and learn more than they did in the easy-going days when they themselves were students.

But as with much else in Burma, there is little gaiety among the students.

"Even too much cheering at football matches is discouraged," said one young college youth.

Intensely nationalistic and, diplomats speculate, slightly embarrassed by their predicament, the Burmese have virtually sealed themselves off from the outside world.

Burma receives practically no bilateral economic aid, has joined few regional groupings — and has told the world, in effect, to leave it alone.

Even so, pressed for foreign exchange, Ne Win's government recently decided to grant 72-hour visas to any interested tourists, who formerly could stay only 24 hours in Burma.

WI visits Ayer's Cliff lady on occasion of 94th birthday

AYER'S CLIFF — Several ladies from the Women's Institute paid a visit to Miss Maude Kezar at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Carter, the occasion being Miss Kezar's 94th birthday, which she observed on Aug. 11.

Mrs. Carter made the guests welcome as did Miss Kezar, who was taken completely by surprise. A birthday cake was presented to her and the birthday song was sung. The cake, made by Mrs. Ruth Waite, was decorated by Mrs. Wendall Cass.

Mrs. Pearl Berwick presented Miss Kezar with a copy of Rustic Ideals. She also received other gifts and many cards.

Mrs. Carter served afternoon tea and refreshments, including the birthday cake. The dining table was centered with a bowl of purple and yellow asters. She was assisted by Mrs. Lillian McFaul.

At the conclusion of a pleasant afternoon the party broke up, all wishing Miss Kezar many happy returns of the day, as they departed.

Purintons hold family reunion

ADAMSVILLE — The 93rd consecutive annual reunion of the Purinton family was held at the summer home of Leslie and Constance Collins, Adamsville, Que. on August 23rd.

This is only the third gathering of the family to be held in Canada in all these years: the first in 1894 at the home of Martin Luther Collins, and the second at David W. Collins' in 1939.

The family began arriving as early as nine o'clock with one of the first licence plates registering Kansas. Although this Purinton family had not travelled here just for the reunion they had extended their holidays for a week to meet the more than one hundred American and Canadian cousins who gathered together during the day.

At lunch time the guests were able to choose a most delicious meal from a variety of cold meats, salads, scallops, with cakes, cookies, brownies or home made pies for dessert. These were enjoyed at tables set up on the spacious grounds. This luncheon began after the grace given by the Rev. John A. Wheeler of Apple Hill, Ont.

A short business meeting was held following the lunch and picture taking. In the absence of the president and vice-president Leslie Collins was asked to conduct the meeting with Patricia Collins acting as secretary.

Elizabeth Collins, the Canadian cousin who has attended more reunions than any other Canadian, welcomed our visitors to Canada, and also her many fellow Canadians, especially those who were attending this reunion for the first time.

Greetings were brought to this gathering by family representatives from both sides of the border. Regrets were expressed that two elderly cousins from Lincoln, Vt., were not able to attend for the first time in many years owing to age and distance.

Leon Purinton of Vergennes, Vt., on behalf of all present thanked the hosts and hostesses, who were, Marion and Elizabeth Collins, Leslie and Constance Collins, Lawrence and Jessie Horner, and Edith Shufelt, for their time and effort put into this reunion to make it an enjoyable as well as a very fruitful gathering.

South Bolton — Mrs. Frances Scruton, postmistress, here received notice from the postal authorities of the District of Montreal, to the effect that the post office was to be closed soon.
Five carloads of irate citizens met with the Federal MP, Yves Forest, in Magog to protest the decision. A petition was signed previously by those affected and mailed to the postal authorities.
Seventeen businesses were represented at the meeting held on Sept. 4. Mr. Forest promised his support to keep the post office open, which has been run by the Lane family since 1903. Mrs. Scruton's grandfather, Henry Lane, began as postmaster, then the position was handed down to his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Argyll (Ettie) Lane, who in turn was succeeded by her daughter, Mrs. Scruton.

Chicago only 1/2 game ahead; Braves, Dodgers, and Houston close in

Mets bounce slumping Cubs 7-1, Giants back in 1st

Spitball charges, chants of "goodbye Leo," a winning single by a kid who wants to stay in the big leagues and a victory for Montreal Expos were all part of National League baseball action Tuesday.

En route to the outfield in the second inning, Cincinnati's Pete Rose complained to umpire Andy Olsen that Gaylord Perry was throwing spitballs. Out of the game went Rose, seven innings later down went the Reds, 7-4, to San Francisco, and back into first in the NL Western Division went the Giants.

Manager Leo Durocher sat in a Shea Stadium dugout, listened to chants of "Goodbye Leo, Goodbye Leo, we're glad to see you go" and watched his Chicago Cubs lose to New York 7-1. The loss cut the Cubs' Eastern Division lead to one-half game and actually dropped them a game behind the Mets in the loss column.

"I hope these hits I'm getting mean I can stay up here a while," said Ralph Garr after his run-scoring pinch single in the 10th inning gave Atlanta a 2-1 victory over Los Angeles and moved the Braves past the Dodgers into third in the Western Division, 1 1/2 games back of San Francisco and a game behind Cincinnati.

EXPOS DOWN PIRATES
Bob Bailey drove in two runs with a double and a sacrifice fly and Coco Laboy hit a two-run homer to back up Steve Renko's five-hit pitching as the Expos downed Pittsburgh Pirates 4-2. In other NL action, Houston Astros trounced San Diego Padres 9-2 to move to within three games of the top in the West and St. Louis Cardinals took Philadelphia Phillies 6-2.

Willie McCovey's 42nd homer, with Willie Mays on in the seventh, snapped a 1-1 tie, and the Giants added four more runs on two doubles, a walk and three singles to replace the Reds in first place.

"All I said was 'Why don't you do your job and check the ball when a complaint is made,'" Rose said of the comment that led to his early exit. But Perry still was around at the end as he boosted his record to 17-12.

The Mets, who have won two fewer games and lost one less than the Cubs, gave Tom Seaver, 21-7, two runs in the first inning. Seaver went on to pitch a five-hitter, and the Mets went on to batter Ferguson Jenkins of Chatham, Ont., 19-13, for five more runs, two coming on Donn Clendenon's homer and one on Art Shamsky's homer.

LOSE SIX STRAIGHT

The defeat gave the Cubs their longest losing streak of the season, six straight.

Garr's hit drove in Sonny

Jackson, who was hit by a pitch and sacrifice to second, and made Phil Niekro the Braves' first 20-game winner since they moved to Atlanta. He has lost 12.

One of the six hits for the Dodgers, now two games out of first, was Ted Sizemore's leadoff homer in the fourth. Atlanta tied the game and broke a 19-inning scoreless streak in the seventh when Hank Aaron singled and scored on Rico Carty's double.

Jim Wynn's three-run homer, his 30th, sparked a five-run Houston fifth and helped Larry Dierker become the first Astro pitcher ever to win 19 games. Dierker, who has lost 10, pitched a two-hitter until the ninth when Jerry Morales singled with two out and scored on Ivan Murrell's homer.

St. Louis got a big game from rookie Jerry DaVannone—two doubles, two runs batted in and two runs scored—in beating Philadelphia.

Pitcher Mike Cuellar is rapidly turning coach Billy Hunter into a prophet.

Cuellar, Baltimore Orioles' 21-game winner, ran his record to 11-1 septe all-star game by holding Washington Senators to six hits Tuesday in the opener of an American League two-night doubleheader.

The Orioles took the opener 6-1 and the nightcap 3-2 and reduced their magic number for clinching the AL Eastern Division to six over Detroit's defending world champion Tigers.

"Mike, after the all-star break, it'll be your turn," coach Hunter told Cuellar earlier this season when the Cuban left-hander was bemoaning his poor win-loss record. "From there, on, you'll be 11-2."

Elsewhere Minnesota Twins outslugged California Angels 11-7 and boosted their Western Division lead to 9 1/2 games over Oakland Athletics who lost to Kansas City Royals 2-1. Boston Red Sox tripped Cleveland Indians 3-1 and Detroit blanked New York Yankees 2-0.

Cuellar, acquired in an inter-league trade with Houston Astros last winter, was only 10-9 at the all-star break.

Tuesday, Cuellar had a one-hitter for seven innings and lost his shutout in the ninth when Frank Howard slammed his 45th homer.

SINGLES WINNER HOME

Brooks Robinson drove in two runs in each game for the Orioles and a fourth-inning single by Mark Belanger sent home the winning run in the nightcap.

Frank Bertina, sent to the minors by the Senators earlier this season and then acquired by Baltimore, put down a bases-loaded Washington threat in the sixth.

Minnesota erupted for seven runs in the sixth inning, including five after California shortstop Jim Fregosi bobbled a third-out grounder, and went on to hammer the Angels.

The Twins raked four California pitchers for 19 hits and Leo Cardenas drove in three runs with a homer and double.

Rookie right-hander Dick Drago hurled a five-hitter and Bob Oliver drove in both runs with two-out singles in the fourth and sixth innings as Kansas City nipped Oakland. It was the Athletics' fourth consecutive defeat and 12th in the last 15 games.

Two-out singles by Carl Yastrzemski and Reggie Smith in the seventh accounted for two runs and lifted Boston past Cleveland as Vicente Romo, traded from the Indians to the Red Sox earlier in the year, out-pitched Sam McDowell. Tony Horton homered for Cleveland.

Detroit pushed across two runs in the first inning on a single, double, wild pitch and passed ball and rookie Mike Kilkenny scattered eight hits in blanking the Yankees.

G. Corbiere-1969 Dufferin Heights Club champion

DUFFERIN — George Corbiere is the 1969 season Dufferin Heights Golf Club champion with Norman Chamberlain, Jr., the runner-up.

The championship tournament was played on Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 6 and 7, at the Club. The weatherman did not in the least co-operate with rain on Saturday and foggy damp weather on Sunday, however, some of the men played some very excellent golf.

Mr. Corbiere's score was 142 with Mr. Chamberlain trailing by four shots, his was 146.

Stuart Edgar with 148 was champion in the Seniors of 50-age and over. Harold Reyer was runner-up with a score of 161.

In Class A, Mr. Edgar placed first, runner-up with 149 was Peter Griffiths.

Class B, John Cox, with 149 held first place and Robert Alger with 153, the runner-up.

Class C, Jim Murphy, with 174 placed first, Richard Boisvert, with 178 is runner-up.

The annual closing dinner of the Club for both the Men's and Women's Club will take place at the Club House on Sept. 26.

Mrs. Ruby Carter is champion of the Women's Club with Mrs. Helen Edgar, the runner-up.

The trophies and prizes will be presented at the dinner and other awards of the season will also be presented.

N.Y. Jets favored to win AFL title

NEW YORK (AP) — New York Jets have to be tapped as favorites to win the American Football League championship again this season.

But there are no guarantees. The main reason for that is the tricky title ending the AFL has installed for the 1969 season.

—the AFL's last before officially combining with the National Football League to form two 13-team conferences.

For this final season of AFL play, a new playoff system has been instituted in which the first and second-place teams in both the Eastern and Western Divisions qualify for the playoffs, which lead to the AFL championship game and the Super Bowl game against the NFL champions.

While the Jets seem to be in a secure position as far as finishing either first or second in the East against Houston Oilers, Miami Dolphins, Buffalo Bills and Boston Patriots, they then will have to take on the West's top two teams on successive weekends to defend successfully their AFL title.

A LARGE ORDER

In a division that lists three offensive powerhouses—Oakland Raiders, Kansas City Chiefs, San Diego Chargers—along with Denver Broncos and Cincinnati Bengals, that is a large order even for a team led by passing wizard Joe Namath.

Still, the Jets have to be picked to take it all after division races that should wind up this way:

Eastern Division—1. New York; 2. Houston; 3. Miami; 4. Buffalo; 5. Boston.

Western Division—1. Kansas City; 2. Oakland; 3. San Diego; 4. Denver; 5. Cincinnati.

The Eastern race figures as a two-team battle between the Jets and Oilers. Miami, with Bob Griese at quarterback, should grab the No. 3 spot despite the fact Buffalo has O. J. Simpson. Boston, with too many problems to mention, likely will finish last.

NAMATH HEAD OFFICE

The Jets have balance with Namath heading an offence both air-oriented with Matt Snell, Emerson Boozier and Lee White. Steve Thompson, at tackle, could strengthen the defensive unit.

The Oilers have the potential offensively—if a consistent quarterback emerges. The most likely candidate is Pete Beathard. The defense has been extremely strong for two years.

Simpson, when he finally gets rolling, figures to help the Bills considerably but the offensive line has holes, the defensive line has age and the quarterbacks—Jack Kemp and Tom Flores—both have their problems at times.

The Dolphins, with the young, improving Griese at the helm, figured to be a factor but undoubtedly were hurt by the loss of fullback Larry Csonka for an undetermined time.

The Patriots don't figure to be a contender, which likely is true for both the Broncos and Bengals in the West.

CHIEFS HAVE THE EDGE

The Chiefs seem to be the class in that sector, although both the Raiders and Chargers are strong. Kansas City will rely on Len Dawson's passing and Mike Garrett's rushing, but there may be a depth problem—and injuries could cause trouble.

Injuries already have hindered the Raiders, particularly the loss of Kent McCloghlin in what was the AFL's strongest defensive backfield. That will put more weight on the shoulders of quarterback Daryle Lamonica.

The Chargers, with John Hadl throwing passes to peerless Lance Alworth and Gary Garrison, are an explosive unit that commands attention. But it is likely that a defence that is not the equal will put an end to any title aspirations.

REMEMBER WHEN

The Ladies Professional Golf Association of America was formed 18 years ago today—in 1951—with an announcement at New York by Fred Corcoran, former organizer of the men's PGA tournament. Patty Berg became first president and Babe Zaharias and Helen Hicks were among the charter members.

Sonny Wade to start against Saskatchewan

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Alouettes are going to sink or swim with rookie quarterback Sonny Wade.

Head coach Kay Dalton said he will start the rookie against Saskatchewan Roughriders in a Canadian Football League game at the Autostade tonight, despite the fact the Alouettes lost 47-22 to Ottawa Rough Riders Saturday with Wade at quarterback.

Veteran quarterback Carroll Williams led the Alouettes to their only victory in five exhibition games this year when Montreal defeated the Roughriders 27-21.

"But you can't keep changing from game to game," Dalton said. "We have to try to establish some stability, some definite path to follow. The kid has all the qualities we want in a quarterback. He stands right in there so you know he has the potential. Now we have to work to develop it, to bring it out."

Dalton said Mike D'Amata, recently cut from New York Jets of the American Football League, will be used as a defensive back for tonight's game.

The Alouettes will be looking for their first victory in six starts this season while the Roughriders will be trying to solidify their hold on first place in the Western Conference.

TRAIL BY EIGHT

The Alouettes have only two

Profile...

Fads in sports, as in anything else burn brightly for a time, only to give way to proven methods of operation. The search for a real or supposed advantage uncovers many peculiar techniques that in a short time prove themselves useless. The exception is an unusual procedure that is developed through a quest for survival. If it is successful, it becomes a permanent mutation, giving those who assume it an advantage in environmental adaptation.

Traditionally, professional football demands a passer who can quickly set up six to eight yards behind the line of scrimmage and throw from there with power and accuracy. Only when protection breaks down is he forced from the pocket to the outside. And it is generally conceded that a coach who would instruct his quarterback to run with the ball is either senile or a lunatic.

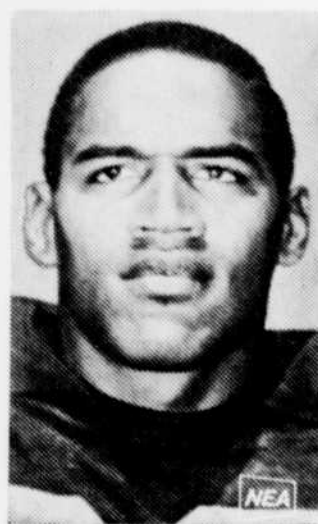

Yet Fran Tarkenton has molded both of these unlikely tactics into a quarter-backing style unmatched for excitement and diversity. And for him, it has been unquestionably effective. Coming to the expansion Minnesota Vikings after an All-American year at Georgia, the lanky, six-footer soon learned that expansion team protection was not designed to guarantee its quarterback a death of old age. Tarkenton began to run for his life. He modified a suicidal roll-out into a brilliant and bewildering stratagem.

And in carrying out this novel attack, he sparked his teammates as well as the fans. His receivers and blockers came to expect the bizarre. They got off the ground to throw the extra block or retrace their pass route because usually, Tarkenton would still be on his feet somewhere, scrambling and slipping through frustrated defensive linemen.

After six years of weekly cardiac arrest, Tarkenton went to the Giants, where in 1967, he enjoyed his finest year. He threw 377 times, completing 204. He gained 3088 yards and tossed 29 touchdown passes. He now holds the Giant record for most passes attempted in a season, 377 in 1967. He has passed for 20222 yards with 1410 lifetime completions. This is a 54.0 percentage. He has guided 163 touchdown throws, 21 of them coming last season. He holds the NFL record for most consecutive passes completed, 13. Rushing from his free-wheeling roll-out Tarkenton has gained 2500 yards in 394 attempts.

Red Grange speaks

NEW YORK—(NEA)—In the 100 years of college football there has never been an undergraduate like Harold (Red) Grange, a back for the University of Illinois from 1923 to 1925.

On one of the most remarkable days in any athlete's life, Red Grange, against the University of Michigan in 1924, returned the opening kickoff 95 yards for a touchdown, scored another on a 67-yard run, a third on a 56-yard run and a fourth from 44 yards out. Soon after that, the first quarter ended.

"It's an entirely different game now," he said. "It's as different as tennis is from baseball. No comparison with 30, 40 years ago."

"First of all, there is free substitution now. Years ago, we played 60 minutes all of the time. Now, who is to know how great Don Hutson, say, could have been as a pass catcher if he had not played defense?"

"Most of the rule changes have made it a better game, I think. For example, now after the ball goes out of bounds it is brought to the hash mark. Before, the ball was put in play just one yard in from the sideline. You just couldn't run as well from there."

"And years ago, you had to pass from at least five yards."

"Even though there have been many changes, the game has to be basically the same as it was. I mean, there are only a certain number of holes you can run through, only a certain amount of offenses you can devise. The players are good today, of course, but they were good in my day, too. But I don't think anyone today compares with Bronko Nagurski. He had speed, temperament, size and he was about the toughest man I've ever run into—literally. And he was a great competitor. He'd run into you and over you. He loved to play, and he loved that contact."

behind the line of scrimmage. Now, you can run right up to the line of scrimmage and still throw. That gives the defense a lot more to think about."

"Defense is the biggest change. Years ago a team had two set defenses, a diamond or a box. Now, there are as many defenses as offenses. I think it's made the game much more interesting."

"Equipment is another improvement. We wore equipment that weighed three times as much as now. We wore canvas, leather and felt. Now, it's sponge rubber, nylon and plastic—you can run in it."

"I think that, today, Gale Sayers is the best runner by far. I saw O. J. Simpson on television and he looked great. They run the way I did, not the way Nagurski did. I never sought out contact."

Herve Filion staging charge Filion

COLUMBUS, O. — Herve Filion, 29-year-old Quebec reinsman who set an all-time world harness racing record last year with 407 wins, is once again working a "double shift" and serving notice in the latest U.S. Trotting Association statistics that he has far from given up defense of his 1968 crown.

All but counted out of the 1969 race winning chase a month ago, the little Canadian driver notched 24 driving victories over the past fortnight to hike his total to 194 and push within easy striking range (for him) of long time leader Carmine Abbatiello, whose 10 wins the past two weeks brought him to 227. The figures are current through the start of this week's racing.

It is significant that Filion — now driving at Freehold Raceway in the afternoon and Brandywine Raceway at night — has a history of being both hot and durable during a season's stretch drive. Driving in Canada on Sundays last year to make it a seven day week, he logged 173 of his 1968 victories during the last four months of the year. Filion over the past two weeks also gained 11 driving wins on Del Insko, who now is a shaky second at 196.

Insko has managed to keep a healthy hold on his money winning lead, however, with a total which now stands at $850,617. Abbatiello is in the runner-up slot at $790,801, and third place Lucien Fontaine, with $717,458, is still holding on against a pressing Stanley Dancer who has banked $681,532.

Garaialde clinches qualifying berth

MONTREAL — The 1969 Alcan Golfer of the Year Championship moved one step closer to completion when France's No. 1 professional Jean Garaialde of Paris, clinched the lone European qualifying spot. Garaialde shot a 284 in the Swiss Open, Crans-sur-Sierre, for a 4th place finish but his victories in the other Alcan qualifiers; the Spanish Open, French Open and German Open, had already assured him of the Alcan berth.

Taking his three best 72-hole scores, the smooth-swinging Frenchman posted an 832 total to easily beat Roberto Bernardini of Italy by 11 shots.

The 34-year-old Garaialde joins an elite field of American and world-wide professionals who will tee it up at the Portland Golf Club, Oregon, September 25-28, for golf's highest first prize $55,000.

The conclusion of the European qualifying system leaves just the United Kingdom to decide at the Dunlop Masters on September 13, who its representatives will be at the Alcan "World Championship".

Already "in" from five other theatres of world golf are Bob Cox, Jr. from Canada, Graham Henning of South Africa, Australia-New Zealand sends 1960 British Open Champion Kel Nagle, and the Asia Golf Circuit qualified the young Australian sensation Dave Graham.

The U.S. named its qualifiers at the conclusion of the Greater Hartford Open on Labor Day.

NHL Hockey night in Canada returns

Hockey Night in Canada returns to the CBC-TV Network for its 18th consecutive season Saturday, Oct. 11 at 8 p.m. EDT when the defending Stanley Cup champion Montreal Canadiens meet the Los Angeles Kings in an interlocking game from the Montreal Forum.

Again this season the game will be broadcast in color in its entirety from the opening face-off.

CBC will continue its policy of alternating Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal home games on the network.

Danny Gallivan will again do the play-by-play for the Montreal games, while Bill Hewitt will broadcast the Toronto games.

BEST HITTER AWARD — Roger Goulet, president of the Sans Impression Softball League, Magog, was pictured last week, awarding a trophy to Leonard Bergeron, the best hitter in the league this past season.

Forgiving Sport

It has been said that what separates college football from professional football is an intangible quality called spirit. Professional spirit is heavy and mercenary. College spirit is sporting and forgiving.

Take that fine Carnegie Tech team of 1938, for example. The Tartans were unbeaten and playing Notre Dame in a national showdown. Tech had the ball near midfield and, after a running play, its captain approached the referee.

"What down is coming up?" he asked.

"Third down," the official said.

Carnegie Tech ran another play without success and returned to its huddle to plot punting strategy. Looking up, the team saw Notre Dame's center over the ball. The referee had been wrong. It had been fourth down. Much debate followed.

Notre Dame immediately scored the game's only touchdown to hand the Techmen their only defeat of the season.

Later, after the Tartans had received a Sugar Bowl bid anyway, the school decided to show it held no ill feelings toward the referee and listed him as one of their selections to officiate the bowl game.

Carnegie Tech lost again.

Dunham WI hears talk on camp for The Retarded

DUNHAM — The August meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Jacques Berard, with an attendance of 15 members, answering the roll call by guessing the weight of the person on their left. A fine of 10 cents was paid for not guessing within 10 pounds, with the sum of 90 cents raised for the Sunshine Fund.

Two conveners reported. For home economics, Mrs. R. Selby, read an article entitled "Saving an Honest Penny." Mrs. Ellis for publicity, also chose to read in article, "Do You Know?"

A tentative date was set of Friday, Oct. 24, for a tea and sale in the afternoon, followed with a card party in the evening to be held in the United Church Hall.

Correspondence included an acknowledgement of thanks from the Selby family.

The meeting adjourned, following which refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. D. Vaughan and Mrs. S. Bidner.

Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. G. Fernibough, when the hostesses will be Mrs. Comeau and Mrs. Quigley.
