OFFICIAL CRESTS NOW IDENTIFY MEMBERS OF BUSINESS ASSOCIATION

Firms Belonging to Organization Prominently Display Insignia—Members Pledged to Conduct Businesses At High Standards—Active Season Planned by Executive Committee

Every firm which is a member of the Business Association of Westmount now bears the association's official crest, prominently displayed, and may be readily identified by local shoppers, C. A. James, publicity chairman, announced yesterday. All members of the association, whether they offer goods or services, are pledged to conduct their businesses at the highest possible standards and solicit the patronage of local residents.

Mr. James also announced that window streamers, designed to attract Christmas shoppers, would shortly be distributed to members. They will be brightly colored reminders of the many articles suitable for Yuletide gifts that are available in local shops.

CRAFT CLUB AT Y.M.C.A. MAKES FAST PROGRESS

Membership of 50 is Steadily Increasing—120 Models Turned Out

Since it started the season two months ago, the Westmount Y.M.C.A. Craft Club has made remarkable progress. With a membership of fifty which is steadily increasing, it has turned out one hundred and twenty models to date. In the short period it has been active it has increased the number of crafts that it carries on, from five to ten.

With Christmas only three and a half weeks away, many boys have been making their presents. In the last week, there have been many leather purses, wallets and key cases turned out, and leather work has proved the most popular craft to date. Basketry, woodwork, cordwork, fretwork, linocutting, and wood burning are also carried on.

The schedule of the week's activities is as follows:

Monday: 3:45-5:30 p.m.; Tuesday: 3:45-5:30 p.m.; Wednesday: 3:45-5:00, 7:45-9:30 p.m.; Thursday: 3:45-5:30 p.m.; Friday: 3:45-5:30, 7:30-9:30 p.m.

The Craft shop is under the direction of Ross Seaman, Wallace Beaton, and Gordon Mackey.

The Sisterhood Community Fair will be held in the new Community Centre on Jan. 23 and 24.

INSPECT REGIMENT

Col. C. B. Price, D.S.O., D.C.M., V. D., A.D.C., accompanied by Major H. V. D. Lang and Captain Charles Foulkes inspected the Royal Montreal Regiment (Machine Gun) on Tuesday. The Regiment paraded at the Westmount Athletic grounds, under the command of Lt.-Col. J. E. Slessor, E.D. The Royal Montreal Regiment (M.G.) has been mobilized as part of the 3rd Brigade of the 1st division, C.A.S.F.

Three Girls Are Injured When Struck by Taxicab

Struck by a taxicab as they were crossing from north to south on Sherbrooke street near Greene avenue at 4:45 o'clock Monday afternoon, Shirley Browne, 9 Grove Park, Marion Heward, 10 Anworth road, and Marjorie Heward, of 462 Mountain avenue, sustained minor injuries and were treated by a doctor at the home of Shirley Browne where they were taken in a police car.

The girls told police that they started to cross the street on the green light but as they reached about half way across the light switched to amber and as they ran to the opposite curb were struck by a taxi driven by Adolphe Nadeau of 540 Ontario street East,

The association further announces that a great many firms have renewed their membership in the organization and that an unusually successful year is anticipated. While no official arrangement has yet been formulated the executive committee is busily preparing plans to stimulate business here.

Open Meetings Planned

Meetings open to the general public, somewhat similar to those staged last year, will undoubtedly be held. The meeting held in Victoria Hall last fall attracted over a thousand persons and resulted in a closer and more friendly relationship between merchants and consumers.

Closed membership sessions at which matters pertaining to business firms operating in Westmount will be discussed, are to be held from time to time. As was the case last year they will enable the members to present a united front in obtaining objectives that will result in improved business conditions locally.

Matters that arose at the initial meeting of the season as regards later closing of stores on Friday; the operation of gasoline stations on Sunday; and the sale of beer by stores located within the boundaries of Westmount will be further studied at these sessions and final decisions reached. If the majority of members agree that local by-laws governing their businesses need revision the City Council will be asked to make the necessary adjustments.

The association has taken an interest in the sale of beer here only because it is allowed to be delivered in Westmount by outside firms. Some of the members have expressed the feeling that this revenue should go to local stores.

LIBRARY HEADS LAUDED BY CITY

A. D. Thornton, chairman of the board of the Westmount Public Librarian, and Miss Jenkins, head librarian, were lauded for their work in a resolution adopted by the City Council at a regular meeting Monday night.

In part the resolution read that: "The City Council unanimously goes on record to express its appreciation for the amount of time, thought and enthusiasm given to the work of the extension of the library by A. D. Thornton and the wonderful work of Miss Kathleen Jenkins."

Mayor W. A. Merrill, K.C., presided at the meeting.

AN ARMY OF RECRUITS TO THE RANKS OF MATRIMONY

In a unique mass marriage ceremony in Mexico City's National Stadium, the government made 730 soldiers respectable husbands by legalizing their union with common law wives. ## SHOW WILL BE PRESENTED BY ROTARY CLUB

Treat Promised by Performers—Will Benefit RMR—Fine Orchestra

The Royal Montreal Regiment, will be the beneficiaries of an all star Minstrel Show to be presented by the Rotary Club of Westmount on Thursday, December 7.

This Minstrel Show, which is under the direction of Bert Stanway, will be presented in the Notre Dame de Grace Community Hall. Proceeds from the performance will be donated by the Westmount Rotary Club to the Women's Auxiliary of the R.M.R. to be used for the purchase of wool so badly needed for sweaters, scarfs and other knitted goods.

The show itself promises to be one of the best minstrel shows seen in Montreal for many a day. The company consists of some 60 performers, headed by that ace of "end men," Bill Smart. Allen Murray, formerly a star of the famous Dumbells is also in the cast and will be featured in several comic skits. Alex Fraser, formerly of the Montreal Repertory Theatre, will present a skit entitled "Henry VIII," and another highlight will be a blood-curdling melodrama "Do Your Worst," complete with hero, heroine and deep-dyed villain.

Dance Numbers
 In addition to the traditional minstrel features there are several dance numbers by a troupe of talented girls, and featured also will be the Schubert Male Chorus considered by many the finest in Canada.

The music for this show has all been specially arranged by Bert Stanway and the whole show will be backed by the 15 piece Orchestra of Alex Lajoie, famous on the radio and in Montreal's night clubs.

Tickets for the show are now available through any member of the Rotary Club of Westmount. Because of the worthy nature of the cause for which the show is being produced and the excellence of the show itself the Westmount Rotarians are confident that the Community Hall next Thursday night will be packed to the doors.

GIRLS HI-Y CLUB

Thursday evening the Girls Hi-Y Club of Westmount High School enjoyed the movies and address on Italy given for their benefit. After this, the members of the Glee Club, under the direction of Sheila Ward, sang.

An exhibition of recreational reading books for children of various age groups will be held in the adult section of the Westmount Public Library commencing on Saturday and closing on the following Saturday evening. The volumes will be on display during regular library hours, from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m.

The main objective of the exhibition is to guide parents and others in the selection of books suitable for children from the stage when they can first comprehend picture-stories until the 16-17 age group.

Will Aid in Christmas Buying
 The display is particularly timely as it will show the type of book, suitable as Christmas gifts for children of the various ages. Miss G. McEwen, librarian in charge of the children's department, will be present in the adult section on Tuesday and Friday evenings. Others librarians may be consulted when Miss McEwen is not present.

Although the books to be on display are for the most part of a recreational type there will be a few biographies and travel volumes included. Some of the stories

Michael Oliver Re-Elected Head Of School Parliament

Teachers and Students of Westmount and Argyle Junior High Schools Figured Prominently at Sessions on Friday and Saturday—W.H.S. Sent 12 Delegates

Teachers and students of Westmount High School and Argyle Junior High School figured prominently at the third annual session of the High School Model Parliament of Montreal held at the Montreal High on Friday and Saturday. Michael Oliver, W.H.S. student, was re-elected to the post of Prime Minister while Miss I. B. Truax, French instructress at W.H.S., delivered a message from the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers of which she is president. H. Davidson, teacher at Argyle, was named advisor of Commission C.

Twelve Delegates
 Westmount High School was represented at the session by twelve delegates.

Montreal High School buzzed with activity. The Parliament summoned delegates from all the Protestant high schools on the Island, the total attendance being approximately 300.

The program for the two days was a stiff one. At previous sessions one day only had been set aside for the important meeting but this year it was found more convenient to assemble for a longer period in order that the business might be more fully and adequately covered. At exactly 7:30 on Friday evening, the registration of the delegates and observers began. An hour later the Speaker of the House, Melbourne Doig, opened the first sitting of this year's session with the introductory "speech from the throne." This was immediately followed by a warm message of greeting from Miss I. B. Truax.

The report of the work accomplished by the outgoing Cabinet for the year was then read by the Prime Minister. It is interesting to note that Michael Oliver is looked upon as the most qualified and polished public speaker—one of sixty reasons why he was chosen "chief." Briefly outlined, here is what the Model Parliament achieved last year: Figures were gathered concerning the employment of students who had graduated.

BOYS BRIGADE IN SUCCESSFUL CHURCH PARADE

Battalion Assembled at McGill Campus—Service Held in Erskine and American Church

Members of the First Westmount Company of the Boys Brigade turned out in excellent numbers to the Battalion parade and church service, held in Erskine and American United Church on Sunday. Assembling on McGill Campus, the Battalion marched along Sherbrooke Street to the church, led by the Fifth's Company Band. An inspiring message was delivered by Rev. Dr. Pidgeon which was greatly appreciated by the officers and boys. On the return march, the First Company's band led back to Westmount and they were complimented by several members of the Battalion executive on their efficiency.

Tomorrow will finally close the inter-squad competitions for November and the First Squad under Sgt. Don Taylor is well in the lead. However there is still hope of the Second Squad catching up. The medal will be presented on Friday, December 7th.

Boxing will be introduced each Friday from now on by Warrant Officer Robert Beal and those boys who would like coaching in this form of physical training are asked to report to him. Numerous boys have requested a weekly period so that they might train for special display purposes, especially on the occasion of "Parents' Night."

The Life Boys, junior section of the Company for boys under 12 years, has been making good progress under Ross Way and Herb Wilson. The boys are enthusiastic and working hard to build their team up to 30. A membership campaign is under way and already Buddy Lighthound leads by bringing in three new members. ## CANADA'S RAILWAYS MOST EFFICIENT IN THE WORLD, ROTARY SPEAKER STATES

S. W. Fairweather, Chief of Research and Development Of C.N.R. Addressed Local Club Yesterday—Believes Railways Are Not Drag on Country's Progress—Says Canada Second in Standard of Living

"No other country in the world needs efficient railways more than Canada and no other country in the world has such efficient railways as Canada," S. W. Fairweather, chief of Research and Development, Canadian National Railways, stated while addressing the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Westmount Rotary Club in Victoria Hall yesterday.

It is a mistake to believe that Canada's railways are a drag on our national progress. Quite the contrary, Canada's railways form the foundation of her industrial development, and therefore, of Canada's national wealth, the speaker declared.

Not Over-Constructed

"It is a rather commonly held view that as a nation we made somewhat of a mess of our railway development, that we are grossly over-constructed and that there is a huge amount of duplication of railway effort. But those who believe thus might just as well premise that if there had been less duplication of Canadian cities the country would be wealthier; or if instead of Quebec, Montreal, Sorel and Three Rivers all being developed as ocean ports, only one had to be developed, the country would be 'wealthier,' he said.

Fifth In Trading Nations

"I am willing to judge results, not by mere theoretical standards based on what might have been if I had been given the job of planning the destiny of the country, but by the very practical standard of comparing the industrial development and national wealth of Canada with other countries. Anyone who makes such a study cannot escape the conviction that we have done rather well by ourselves. We have accumulated national wealth of a capital value of 30 billions of dollars. Our national income is 5 billions of dollars. With a population which classes us far down amongst the countries of the world, we nevertheless, rank fifth amongst the trading nations. Our gross wealth production per capita is one of the highest in the world. Our standard of living, which, after all, measures our economic success, is second only to that of the United States. Measure it how you will: automobiles per capita, telephones per capita, bath tubs per capita, you get the same result. And lest I be accused of overlooking the fact that Canada has borrowed a large amount of capital for her industrial expansion, I would like to inform you that Canada, some years ago, turned from being a debtor country in the balance of international payments to being a creditor country, which means from being an importer of capital to being an exporter of capital. The Dominion Bureau of Statistics is my authority for saying that in the last five years Canada had a favourable balance of international payments totalling more than 950 millions.

Is Optimistic

"These facts explain why I possess a reasoned optimism. I simply do not know of any other country in the world which has accomplished so much in so short a period of time as Canada. It is granted that mistakes have been made, but I do submit that any (Continued on Page 2)

RED TRIANGLE CLUBS OPENED

Legion Of Frontiersmen Holds Active Meetings

The "A" Squadron of the Legion of Frontiersmen (Canadian Command) is engaged in brushing up in all departments, and is using Queen's School, Oliver avenue, every Thursday evening for physical training, first-aid work, lectures, etc., while all active firing and small arm instructions are being held at quarters suitable for that purpose.

For the benefit of further enquiries regarding the meaning of "The Legion of Frontiersmen," this is best portrayed by the following excerpt from their Official Canadian Gazette:

"The name 'Frontiersman' has long been a tradition; he was a man considered capable of tackling any job that came along, and in our organization there is a place for all, and a place for one's special interest, be it radio, riding, telegraph, transport, engineering, flying, boating, first aid, etc.

WESTMOUNT, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1939

CATHOLIC CHARITIES

Coming as it does immediately after the nation-wide appeal on behalf of the Red Cross, the annual Catholic Charities campaign is making heavy weather, and at the time of going to press is somewhat behind corresponding 1938 figures. This is naturally somewhat discouraging to the directors of the campaign, but as the cause is a most worthy one and as Montreal has an outstanding reputation in meeting the needs of charitable appeals, we are confident that once again the drive will go 'over the top'. We know that local residents generally, regardless of their religious denomination, will respond to the appeal and maintain the very fine tradition this district enjoys of being generous to all worthy objects.

CANADA TO FLOAT WAR LOANS

Although the people pretty well knew that the Dominion Government would have to float some war loans, or victory loans, to win the war, the fact was made official recently. Hon. J. L. Ralston asked the support of Canadians whenever it became necessary to issue a loan. The Minister of Finance emphasized that it would be the patriotic duty of the citizens to subscribe. Mr. Ralston need have no fear. The people are repared to help win the war.

OUT OF FOOTBALL PICTURE

Montreal passed out of the football picture for this season with the defeat of the Westmounts here Saturday by a definitely inferior Sarnia team. Fans who have followed Westmount throughout the season, fully expected the team to enter the Eastern Canada final against Ottawa, for the boys looked good enough to walk right past Sarnia. In fact, the team looked good enough to hold its own with Argos, if not quite up to the standard of the Rough Riders. Consequently, the defeat by Sarnia came as a bitter disappointment, particularly as Westmount looked far better all the way. And the fans decidedly do not attribute the defeat entirely to ill luck, or fumbles. In the second game at Montreal particularly, there was something askew in the strategy employed. The series was lost by bonehead plays on the part of whoever was calling the shot at critical times, not by the fumbles the boys made.

$26,820,000 A DAY

The present conflict, the most costly war in history, is costing Great Britain a total of $26,820,000 a day. And it isn't half started yet. There are two compensating factors to this vast expenditure. The one is that if Great Britain is spending this amount, Germany must be spending as much or more. Germany is fighting both France and Britain, as well as having the costly task of keeping the Poles and Czechs under control. Britain and France can stand the strain better than Germany. The other thought is that the Allies are fighting for something which cannot be estimated in value of dollars and cents. Of what use would all this money be to us, now spent daily, if we were under Nazi control? A subject race, we would be hewers of wood and drawers of water for Huns. They would have the money.

CLEARING THE SKIES

French and British aviators have shot down 20 Nazi planes in three days, which is good going in any man's war. German reconnaissance planes have apparently become bolder, and have been penetrating some distances into France. The Allies decided the time had come to show the alien fliers that they cannot soar over Allied territory with impunity. There is only one way to deal with enemy aircraft. That is to knock down every possible one as soon as it sticks a propeller over Allied land. With United States and Canadian factories being geared up to high-speed production of planes, the Allies know that they can replace losses better than can Germany. There are those who claim that the turning point in the First Great War came with the day the Allies could claim superiority in the air, and when the Hun planes were driven back over their own lines. The motto should be, and probably is, in respect to enemy aircraft, to "Give them the Works" if they dare show up over Allied territory.

Brown hesitated for a moment, and then plunged. "Ostriches, sir."

"When that's bought, it goes to the cellar."

THE FORUM

Conducted by HOWARD S. ROSS, K.C., D.C.L.

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper and it does not accept responsibility for them.

The outward aspect of Cincinnati is the not-unusual one of stores, office buildings, hotels and the various impediments of a fairly large city where business is done. Upon slight effort one can find regions of despair and dilapidation, streets of decayed real estate, junk districts, equal to the best anywhere. This is as it is in many American municipalities. There are two features, however, that deserve more than a passing mention. One of these is the new Union Station. A building made, furnished and decorated in the modern manner, Cincinnati's one railroad station is a delightful welcome to the incoming guest. It is modern to the very last degree. Will this characteriza-tated. A questionnaire was distributed to 10th, 11th and 12th year pupils in order to determine their financial ability to attend the university. It proved that only 50 per cent could supply the necessary funds.

Then, two Cabinet representatives were sent together with the Canadian Student Assembly Delegation to the Labor Minister at Ottawa to obtain his advice on the matter. Soon afterward the required monies were appropriated and the Cabinet set out on the road to bring about the establishment of a printed inter-high-school newspaper. This paper—after some more financial difficulties—was set up and represents their finest work. The paper, without the slightest vestige of a doubt, is a true and splendid accomplishment.

War Is Theme
The whole theme of the conference was, "High School Students in a World of War" and it was on this topic that J. W. Perks, Assistant Superintendent of the Montreal Protestant School Board spoke. The speaker was listened to very attentively and after the chairman had tendered his thanks the first reading of the bills proceeded. These bills—there were eight in all—dealt with such varying changes and reforms as an improved curriculum, complete or partial adoption of the Quebec Survey Report, a higher standard of education in this Province, club activities to link the high schools of this metropolis in a firmer bond, further and more extensive class discussions on civics and a broader knowledge of the operation of foreign governments to be stimulated in all grades by the history teachers.

The House adjourned till the following afternoon.
Saturday afternoon everyone participated vigorously; each in an individual effort to see that the reform which he or she supported was carried through to effect.

Three Commissions
At 2:00 p.m. the House divided itself into three commissions for a more intimate study and discussion of the bills. Commissions A, B, C each went to a private room where a chairman presided over the second reading and held order for it is in these informal meetings that the different fires really blaze and the sincere sentiments come forth openly. The commissions returned to the main hall following three solid-hours of hot speech-making and a general lack of self-restraint. In the auditorium once again the third and final reading took place and the voting was recorded.

The election of the new Prime Minister and his Cabinet was two hours later than originally planned in which case the prorogation took place at about 7:30 p.m. The election results have not yet been made public.

Canada's Railways . . .

mistakes which have been made, whether it be in our governmental set-up, our banking system, our industrial and commercial systems, or our transportation systems, very serious or we never would have been able to achieve our present position and to give evidence, as we do on every hand, of continuing growth.

"I would now like to examine with you more particularly the relationship between transportation and industrial development, and through it national wealth. In an economic sense, transportation may be classed as an economic evil. If it were possible to conceive of the wheat of Western Canada being miraculously made available for use in our cities without the need of transportation, we would not be put to the necessity of constructing and operating railways, but since we are dealing in a world of practical affairs we must realize that if the wheat is to be grown, it must move to market and railways must be provided to move it. The same is true of the products of the forests, the mines and the fisheries. Railways must be built because railways are the only means of transportation capable of doing the job. You may have noticed the spectacular achievements of the motor truck in competing for high-class traffic, many doubt that statement, but it is nevertheless true because if you undertook to move all of the raw products of Canada by truck the trucks which would be necessary. The railway is now, and undoubtedly will remain, the chief instrument of land transport because it is by far the cheapest.

"Conceding then that railways are necessary for the national development it behooves us to find out what part they play in our national economy and whether the investment in railways has been a drag on our national development or has accelerated it. When these features are subjected to clear-headed logical analysis, we find that less than 10 per cent of our total national capital wealth is invested in railways and that only 8 per cent of our national income is expended for railway service, and by that term is meant all expenditures for railway service in Canada on all railways including the deficit of the Canadian National. If it be granted that national development could not have taken place without the tapping of our natural resources by railways, we see that for each dollar of capital invested in railways, there has already been created nearly $10 of capital wealth from the development of those natural resources. When we see, too, that we obtain all of our transportation by railway for 8 per cent of our national income, the railway, as an instrument of national development, is seen in its proper perspective. I think it is a most remarkable fact, and a tribute to the staffs of our railways, that a country so dependent for its development upon long distance transport should be able to obtain that service by expending only 8 per cent of its national income.

"I know of no other country in the world so magnificently equipped with a frame work of railways tapping its natural resources; no other country in the world which obtains its transportation as cheaply as Canada. We have vast natural resources yet to be tapped. I know that the people of Canada have demonstrated their industry, intelligence and courage. The combination of these factors has produced a great and rich nation. How can anyone, knowing these facts, reach any conclusion but that Canada's future is one of further development and opportunity and that it is upon railway transportation that such development depends," Mr. Fairweather said.

The speaker was introduced by George Wakeman and thanked by Bill Thow.

FUNERAL OF MRS. MARSHALL HELD TUESDAY

Western Avenue Resident Died on Saturday Morning in Her 81st Year

Final tribute was paid to Mrs. John Marshall, 4118 Western Avenue, on Tuesday morning when the Very Reverend Malcolm Campbell, D.D., conducted the funeral service at the chapel of Jos. C. Wray and Bro. Mrs. Marshall died on Saturday morning at the age of 80. She had been ill for a week and was taken to the Central Division of the Montreal General Hospital, where she died.

Mrs. Marshall's death occurred just over a month after the death of her husband. They had just celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary when the latter died in his 81st year.

Born in Thornliebank, Scotland, Mrs. Marshall came to Canada with her husband and family in 1900 and settled in Magog. Mr. Marshall worked with the Dominion Textile Company for many years and then came to Westmount, where their family has resided for the past 22 years.

Mrs. Marshall is survived by two sons; Walter, of Greensboro, N.C., and John, of Montreal; and by two daughters, Agnes and Bessie, of Montreal.

Following the service, which was held at nine o'clock, the remains were taken to Magog for burial in Pinehill Cemetery.

Christmas Seal Campaign Handled By Kiwanis Club

Admittedly one of the two worst scourges known, tuberculosis, takes annually a terrible toll of death, striking terror and despair into the hearts of the most valiant. The progress made by science in fighting it is slow, but one thing has been proved beyond any shadow of doubt—if cases are caught early enough, the chances of complete cure are very bright. It is to enable such institutions as the Bruchesi and Royal Edward Institutes, which have been doing splendid work for years in checking the ravages of this dread disease, to continue and to extend their work, that the annual Christmas Seal campaign is held.

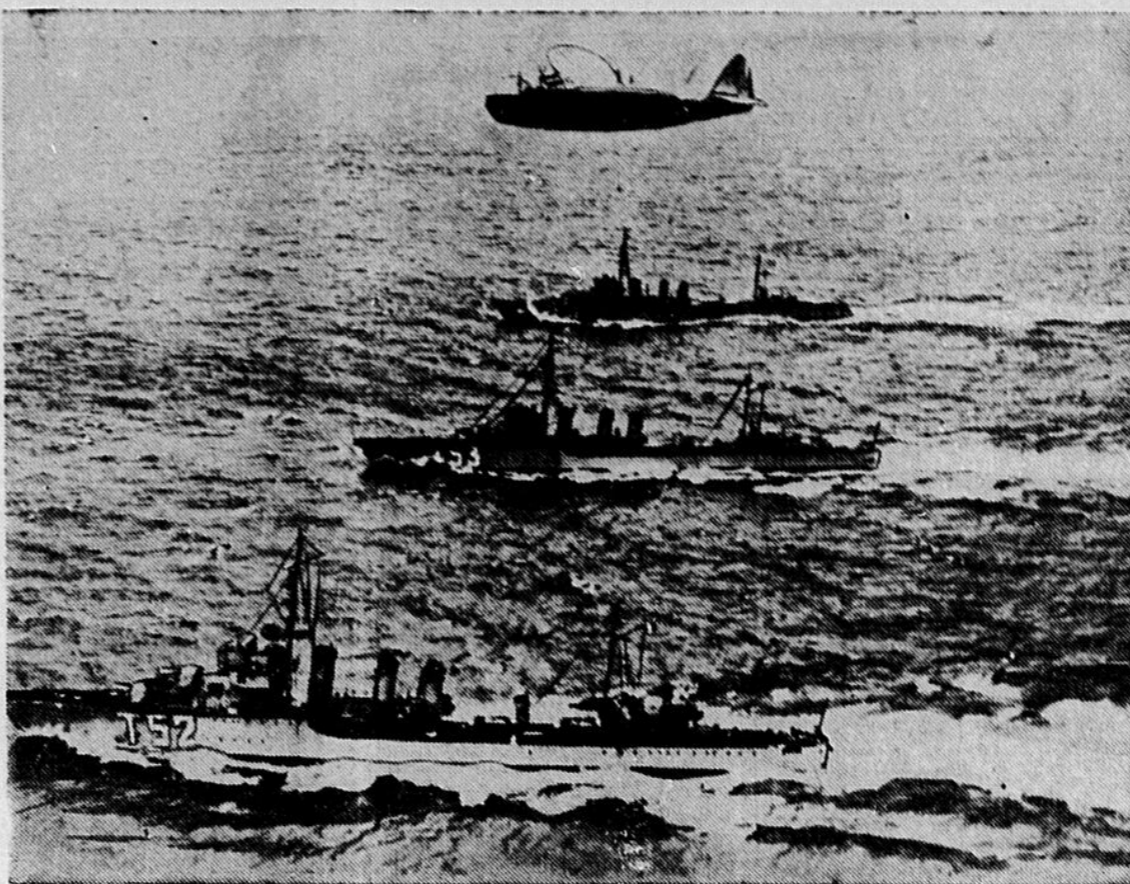

This campaign is handled by the Kiwanis Club of Montreal, without any cost. Its members give their services, and the entire resources of the organization are open for the fund, free of any expense. Every cent realized through the sale of these Christmas Seals is divided between the Royal Edward Institute and L'Institut Bruchesi, on a 50-50 basis. Last year $17,000 was realized in this manner for this fund. It is hoped this year to increase the total to $20,000.

To this end, thousands of letters are being sent out with sets of seals enclosed. It the Kiwanis Club of Montreal could realize a dollar or a little more on every set, they would be happy in reaching the total sought. Some donors give a lot more, some less. But no matter how small the gift, it will be both welcome and valuable.

The recipients of these Christmas Seal sets can do no better work as Christmas draws near than set aside a trifling sum in order to help swell a fund that has for its aim one of the finest services known to mankind—the alleviation of pain, the arrestation of the ravages of disease, and improvement in the public health. Upon the measure of your generosity at this time depends in considerable degree the ability of these two institutes to continue their work to which their directors have set their hands. A dollar is, after all, such a little thing.

Hops Gathered With Gas Mask

Behind the announcement that 4,800,000 bottles of British beer have been sent to France for the British Forces by the Navy, Army and Air Force Institute, lies the story of Britain's ability to supply the "national beverage" for home and export in spite of war.

Amounts of beer brewed in the United Kingdom is kept secret during war time, but the output for August, the last month of peace, was a record. The total of 1,848,966 barrels was nearly 71 per cent above that of August 1938.

Experts have already gone over to France to show the French how to brew for British tastes. The pale French "biere," brewed on different principle, is not much to the liking of the Expeditionary Force.

The British Government has issued a war license permitting the export of beer, for which there is a demand all over the world, particularly among the "exiles" in India, Egypt and South Africa. More than 8,370,000 gallons were exported in the last 11 months of 1938.

Bumper crops of barley are hoped this year mean an assured beer output for more than a year ahead without anticipating next year's harvest, or importing materials. About 100,000 hop pickers, each carrying a gas mask harvested a record crop worth $2,500,000, which is 500,000 more than the usual yield.

Belfast's Pride Is Her Industries

When the eyes of the world are on British industry's capacity to meet vast war requirements while maintaining her export trade, it is with special pride that Belfast, capital of Northern Ireland, claims four of the largest industrial undertakings of their kind in the world.

There is no bigger shipyard on earth than Belfast's specially renowned for building merchantmen. Shipbuilding began there about 1790, and the late Lord Pirrie's initiative was responsible for the city's present position of pre-eminence.

The largest composite linen mill in the world carries out at Belfast all the processes in making the famous Irish linen. The chairman of the company is the Hon. G. H. Mulholland, Speaker of the Ulster House of Commons.

What is now the largest rope-works in the world was started in Belfast in 1758, and its output of all kinds of rope and cordage had reached about 13,000 tons a year when war broke out.

In Belfast, too, are the largest makers in the world of machinery of all kinds for the preparation,

Borden Company to Again Present Very Fine Exhibit

The Borden Company has announced that it has signed a contract to return to the New York World's Fair in 1940 with its "Dairy World of Tomorrow" exhibit. In making the announcement, Theodore G. Montague, president, said:

"Results of our 1939 exhibit were highly satisfactory. The retractor, popularly known as the milking merry-go-round, proved one of the Fair's outstanding exhibits, attracting 7,743,000 spectators.

"Among these were thousands of dairymen, including leaders of the industry from South Africa, South America, Australia and Europe.

"Centering around a herd of 150 purebred cattle selected from hundreds of farms and brought from thirty-four States and three Canadian Provinces, the exhibit presented the most advanced methods of scientific dairying. All steps were demonstrated from production through animal care to processing and distribution, so that visitors were able to observe all activities involved in dairy farm to city plant operation.

"The enthusiastic interest of the public in the Borden exhibit showed that the people of the metropolitan area, as well as visitors from other places, greatly appreciated this unusual opportunity of a close view of the advanced methods which are constantly being developed in the milk industry. The Borden Company is glad to announce that it will present the Dairy World of Tomorrow again in 1940."

Need Of W.C.T.U. Explained By Rev. Dr. Frank S. Morley

"The task of the W.C.T.U. in war-time is not only to create dignified Christian temperance but also to take up the task to make more people think clearly," declared Rev. Frank S. Morley, Ph. D., pastor of Stanley Presbyterian church at the Francis Willard W.C.T.U. meeting held in Dominion Douglas church hall.

Not only must we keep young people from drinking, but we must put something in its place—create a romantic peace—make peace more romantic than war and continue our work even more ardently in times of peace, the speaker said. In concluding his address Dr. Morley said that philosophically war is a necessity and we are fighting for humanity and civilization, which some of the governments of Europe have thrown overboard.

Three scholars from Westmount High School, who received the Francis Willard prize for Poster work, were again the recipients of the Provincial Poster Prize. Prizes were presented in order of merit by Mrs. E. J. McLellan to Doris Kert, Riva Ein, and Charity Gallop.

A resolution passed by the Montreal Northern District W.C.T.U. was unanimously adopted: Resolved, whereas, it has been reported in the press that the newly-elected government of Quebec contemplates making changes in the Quebec Liquor Laws, one being to increase the hours of sale, the Montreal Northern district W.C.T.U., in meeting assembled, appeals to the said Government to consider the following reasons against such a step and against any concessions to the liquor traffic.

Mrs. J. R. Dobson expressed the thanks and appreciation of those present to Dr. Morley and to the musicians, Miss Norma McLean, violinist and her accompanist, Mrs. Eric Hanson.

Mrs. T. W. Wilson presided. Following the close of the meeting, tea was served by Mrs. David Taylor and her committee. The next meeting of the group will be held on December 27.

Full Sleeves Seen On New Fur Coats

Fashion shows become a habit as soon as autumn gets into its stride. They are staged regularly at some of New York's most important hotels. Smart and eager-to-see women pack the dining rooms at the noon hour in an effort to get a leisurely view of what's new to wear. They are never disappointed; there's always something good to be seen.

At the moment considerable attention is being paid to furs. Some of the luncheon showings are devoted entirely to handsome wraps of skillfully worked pelts. In others, where the accent is largely on dresses, there are bound to be some fur coats, for there is nothing that appeals more to the American woman's taste. The coats that are paraded before them are a joy to behold.

With each season furs are increasingly interesting because of the marvelous way in which they are handled. One wonders what will come next when one sees gathered persians, and minks, following a geometrical design. Even squirrel, which until very recently has been used in perpendicular lines, is now laid in herringbone pattern to good effect in dressy long coats. It's wonderful to behold how pelts are being tamed into submission at fashion's behest.

The spotlight is on sleeves at the moment. It has been a long time since we have had full sleeves on fur coats, and, if the writer's memory serves her well, when last they were in they were clumsy affairs. Not so now. With new methods of stripping pelts until they become as tractable as fabrics they can be made to take on graceful forms. It's new to make big puffed sleeves, held in deep cuffs at the wrist and seamed or tucked at the top so that they mold the upper part of the arm. We've seen persian and mink coats with this graceful new handling.

French Coats Have Gas-Mask Pockets

Mme. Leroy, designer for Fourrures Max, is making many of her new coats with special gas-mask pockets. The pocket may be featured as a trimming or hidden in folds. At one side of a full-skirted black astrakhan afternoon coat there is an outside pocket among the folds; it is long enough to hold a French gas-mask cylinder. The strap of the case, which is worn over the shoulder, relieves the pocket of some of the weight. Some coats are equipped with "musette" pockets to accommodate English gas masks. Large fur muffs with a pocket for a gas mask, or a tiny pocket fitted with a special container for a miniature emergency mask, are novelties.

St. Matthew's Guild Plan Demonstration

Group "E" of St. Matthew's Guild and W. A. is holding a demonstration and style showing of cottons, which consists of ladies' sport dresses, evening gowns, a bridal outfit and children's dresses and suits. Included in the showing will be bed and table linens. The event will take place in the church hall on Wednesday afternoon at half-past two o'clock.

Madame Duval will be in charge of the demonstration and will comment on the various models. Mrs. G. Adams of group 'E' is the convener.

TEA TIME TOPICS

Stockings today are not only attractive but serviceable. It is not much use having an article that looks smart if it runs the first time it is put on. Hence the many new and excellent ideas which make delicate silk stockings practical.

First comes the pure silk "Fish-net" design. We have already become accustomed to fish-net turbans, fish-net scarves, fish-net gloves, so the fish-net stockings follow on quite naturally. They come in black, navy and beige and are remarkably smart for day or evening wear. This fabric cannot run and is very easy to wash and dry quickly.

Next comes the "Beautyshere" a pure silk stocking with a double toe which is so cleverly contrived that it cannot be detected. At first sight the toe appears to be perfectly normal, but actually the ends take right off as soon as a single stitch is pulled, leaving a second toe in its place. By this means, should a hole appear, as they are so apt to do, it can be removed in a second, and there you are with a perfectly good stocking again.

The "Run-R-Less", as its name implies, is another boon to those who dislike the tedious occupation of mending runs, or the annoyance of throwing away an otherwise good stocking. The pure silk threads of this stocking are interwoven in a way that should a hole appear it cannot run. Moreover, the broken thread can be mended quickly and invisibly. The weave produces the appearance of a tiny pin spot which is attractive, and the soft shades in which the stocking comes are new and easy to wear.

Another novelty is the shaded "Ombre" stocking, which is made of very fine pure silk, the dark back shading to a light front. This is essentially a day stocking and should not be worn in the evening, the shadow effect losing its interest in artificial light.

The new stockings of coarser silk with lace heels and toes are for much harder wear, also the crepe stocking of very highly twisted silk, which is guaranteed to last much longer than the ordinary make. For sports wear, the new socks in a wide range of charming colors and designs have turn-down embroidered tops finished with a neat edging of chain silk.

The Way to a Man's Heart

Here's How An Expert Carves That Bird

Here's where the master carver really "goes to town." A noted carver, William A. Dennis, shows you how to slice large pieces of white meat from the breast with an expert's finesse. A sharp knife and a steady hand are the only requisites. The knife moves outward and downward to a deep incision just above the wing. For each new slice the knife starts a little higher on the breast.

Let's face it. The man of the house must carve the Christmas turkey. To stand or sit is the big question. Well, better stand unless you are a past master at the art.

Be sure the turkey is placed on the platter with breast toward the carver. That's rule No. 1 according to William A. Dennis, carving expert.

Cut off the leg first, separating it from the bird by cutting down through skin next to body and by twisting leg downward and outward.

Cut apart upper and lower parts of leg at joint, twisting the drumstick slightly to enable knife to cut through. Remove bone from dark meat of upper leg and carve meat into slices, cutting downward and at an angle.

Now for carving the white meat of the breast. Mr. Dennis says it is important to make a deep incision into the side of the bird just above the wing bone and at right angles to the breast bone. Then carve the breast downward and outward from the bone as far as the deep incision made before you start slicing.

USE SHARP KNIFE, LARGE PLATTER
For each new slice of the breast, the knife starts a little higher on the breast. Serve slices of white and dark meat in equal proportions. Your knife must be as sharp as a razor, the platter large enough for free movement and you should have extra warm plates nearby on which to lay the slices of turkey as carved.

To keep the turkey fast to the platter, use four ingenious little aluminum pins that "anchor" it to the platter.

These small suction cups are pressed on the platter so that the pins will be inserted along the backbone of the turkey, when the bird is placed on the platter. They are invisible in use, cost a dollar for four and save tempers and tablecloths.

Old English Recipe Given For Pudding

The spicy aroma of Christmas baking will soon pervade the home, with the housewife's usual stir and enthusiasm in the preparation of good things to eat for all the family and friends who gather around the festive table. Most prominent among these good things, of course, will be the Christmas pudding. Working in the tiny kitchens of two dining cars, one at Montreal and one at Winnipeg, Canadian National Railway chefs made a ton of plum pudding to be served to travellers on the dining cars of the National System this Christmas.

Here is the recipe—an Old English one—for a family-size pudding. It will make two and a half portions, ten generous individual portions.

- Ingredients
- 1/2 lb. bread crumbs
  - 1/2 lb. brown sugar
  - 2 oz. flour
  - 1/2 lb. brown sugar
  - 2 oz. mixed peel
  - Pinch salt
  - 1/4 teaspoon baking soda
  - Grated rind and juice of half a lemon
  - 1 pint milk
  - 3 eggs
  - 1/4 lb. sultanas
  - 1/4 lb. raisins
  - 1/4 lb. currants
  - 1 oz. cinnamon
  - 1/4 oz. nutmeg
  - 1/4 oz. allspice
  - 1/2 oz. brandy

Procedure

Mix the dry ingredients together thoroughly, then add the beaten eggs, milk and brandy, and mix all together thoroughly. Grease inside of pudding bowl or covered mould to prevent pudding from sticking. If pudding bowl used, cover bowl with floured gauze tied tightly around bowl to keep moisture away from pudding. Boil pudding for three hours. Heat thoroughly before serving, then unmould on dish. Serve with sprig of holly on top.

Serve with hard sauce, made as follows:

- Ingredients: 1/4 lb. butter; 1/4 lb. powdered sugar.

Procedure: Mix butter and sugar until the mixture becomes snow white; add a few drops of lemon extract. Roll in wax paper, place in refrigerator until hard. Cut in slices. Serve slice on top of plum pudding.

If it is desired to serve brandy with pudding, unmould plum pudding on dish, place sprig of holly on top of pudding, pour brandy around base, light brandy with match.

VEGETABLE SALAD

Ingredients: Lettuce or shredded cabbage, one half cup raw carrots, one half cup diced celery, one half cup ripe olives, seeded and diced; one green onion, if liked. Scrape and slice carrots very thin, put into mixing bowl. Add celery, olives and onion. Moisten with French dressing and let stand in cool place for half an hour or longer. Serve on nests of lettuce or cabbage.

Gardiner, 63 Ballantyne Avenue N.

Mr. Paul, managing director, presented the prizes and afterwards conducted the party with their friends and newspapermen, on a tour of inspection of the company's plant on Beaubien Street East, explaining in detail each step in the intricate process of dry-cleaning in the modern manner. A number of the prize-winners are, it will be noticed, West-Enders.

Mesh or knitted materials are said to be more desirable for children's underclothing than woven fabrics of the same fibre because they are porous, they absorb moisture, and are easy to wash.

Wash oranges, cut in half and carefully take out sections of fruit. Mix orange sections with grapefruit, diced pineapple, diced celery and grapes seeded and cut in halves. Marinate in a sweet French dressing, and fill orange cases. Chill until ready to serve.

"Man In The Iron Mask" Is Fast Moving Romance

With Louis Hayward and Joan Bennett playing the top roles, Edward Small's new romantic drama, "The Man in the Iron Mask," which will have its premiere showing at the York United Theatre on Saturday, unfolds a thrilling and exciting tale of 17th Century romance and adventure in an era when extravagances and excesses ruled the court of France. The central theme of the story revolves around King Louis XIV and his twin brother, Philippe, who at his birth was whisked away to the province of Gascony and brought up secretly as a commoner under the guidance of the famous Musketeers.

Warren William, Joseph Schildkraut, Alan Hale, Miles Mander, Bert Roach, Walter Kingsford, Marian Martin and Montagu Love, featured in support of the stars, portray the parade of characters in this fast-moving, tensely pitched drama. Warren William plays the swashbuckling, beloved role of D'Artagnan, with Alan Hale and Miles Mander impersonating the other two musketeers in the trio devoted to Philippe.

Hayward plays the dual roles of King Louis and Philippe, while Joan Bennett appears as the lovely and gifted Maria Theresa of Spain, imported to marry the cruel and sadistic monarch and to thus preserve the peace of Europe. As King Louis, Hayward is seen as harsh and vain, cruelly taxing his subjects until they are on the brink of starvation and ruin. As Philippe, he is seen as a brave and understanding son of France, wishing for the honor and welfare of his country. The story reaches a smash climax when Louis realizes that Philippe is his twin brother. Louis fears that events may lead to de-thronement and decides he must do away with such a possibility. He takes the most sinister method at hand—the dread iron mask. Philippe is encased in this monstrous contraption and condemned to life imprisonment in the Bastille. But the Musketeers who also know the secret refuse to see Philippe die in this horrible way. How they outwit Louis and his ministers concludes the story, which is based on the famous novel by Alexander Dumas.

"The Man in the Iron Mask," directed by James Whale from the screenplay written by George Bruce, boasts some of the most lavish sets ever built in Hollywood. Some forty odd settings, including the King's Palace, his hunting grounds at Fontainebleu, the streets of Paris, the torture chambers of the Bastille and an ancient French Cathedral, were constructed under the supervision of John DuCasse Schulze, Mr. Small's famous art director. "The Man in the Iron Mask" is being released under the auspices of United Artists.

Montreal Repertory Theatre To Present "Family Portrait"

For its second major production of the season, the MRT is offering its public a play which is definitely "different." It is "Family Portrait" by Lenore Coffee and William Joyce Cowen, which created a sensation when it was produced on Broadway last spring with Judith Anderson in the leading role. The MRT's production will be the Canadian premiere of the play.

We cannot do better than quote Rosamond Gilder in "Theatre Arts": "In 'Family Portrait' the authors have brought no less a figure than Mary, the mother of Jesus—and by implication (He never appears) Jesus—onto the stage to express a redeeming hope, to reaffirm, against all odds, 'the dignity and significance of human life.'"

With a courage justified by the results, they have attacked one of the world's mightiest legends and brought one element of it into focus. They have taken their cue from a passage in St. Mark, 6:1-5, which describes the return of Jesus to Nazareth and his failure as a preacher among his own people. The Nazarenes knew him as one of themselves: 'Is not this the carpenter, the son of Mary, the brother of James and Joseph, and of Juda and Simon? And are not his sisters here with us?' And they were offended at him. But Jesus said unto them, 'A prophet is not without honor, but in his own country, and among his own kin, and in his own house.'"

"Family Portrait" is an imaginative reconstruction of that house and that kin, or rather, it is an interpretation of them in terms of everyday living. Since the basic forms of family life have changed little through recorded history, this household with its conflicts and ambitions, its daily needs, its kindnesses and cruelties, might exist in any community from Judea to Vermont. What would be the reaction of the members of an ordinary, unimaginative peasant-craftsman's family to the presence in their midst of an older brother who had seen visions and dreamed dreams? The Cowens present us with such a family in the soberest of terms, freed as much as possible from both historic and religious implications. The language of the play is deliberately unadorned and uncolored. But the greatest technical difficulty is the fact that the tragic hero of the play never appears on the stage. In order to overcome this, the authors have built the figure of Mary to noble proportions, giving it a central if not a dynamic position in this family group.

The intention of the authors has been to express their theme in the simplest terms, in modern idiom and to make it applicable to a family of today equally as well

POWERFUL DRAMATIC HIT!

Edward G. Robinson, Bobb Watson and Ruth Hussey in a scene from the exciting film "Blackmail" now playing at the York United Theatre until Friday.

"The Old Maid" Is Drama With Outstanding Stars

A drama that will linger long in the memory of all who see it, "The Old Maid" which is now playing at the Monkland United Theatre until Saturday, with Bette Davis and Miriam Hopkins in the starring roles. A deeply stirring story of the curious bond of hatred that binds two women together, it is matchlessly performed by the two stars and a brilliant supporting cast. Produced by Warner Bros., the new film is a worthy successor to such recent triumphs as "Juez," "Dark Victory" and "Daughters Courageous," from the same studio.

"The Old Maid," written by Edith Wharton, was first a world-famous best-selling novel, then was made into a stage play by Zoe Akins (winning the Pulitzer Prize of its year), and was performed behind the footlights by Helen Menken and Judith Anderson. With the added scope that is given to the film, if anything, it improves upon the novel and play. It is the tale of two girl cousins of a proud old Philadelphia family, and its period ranges from the beginning of the Civil War in 1861 up into the 1880's. Across that stretch of years the two live under the same roof—hating each other, never achieving reciprocal sympathy or understanding until both are well into middle age, and the young daughter of one is leaving the ancient homestead for matrimony. Miriam Hopkins is a widow, with two children of her own. The old maid is Bette Davis. She has never wed, yet the sweet young girl of the house is her daughter, born of a glorious farewell night with her lover, Brent, just before he goes off to the war, there to be killed in action. Jane Bryan plays the daughter, grown up.

Amusing Experiences Of Quartet During Travels

When anyone travels as extensively or for so long a period as the Hart House Quartet, which appears here on Monday, December 11, at the Ritz Carlton Hotel, there are bound to occur amusing incidents which are well worth retelling. Musicians always carry their own instruments, allowing railway porters to handle their luggage only. One day they arrived in Philadelphia, and unknown to Boris Hambourg, cellist of the quartet, the porter handed it to a redcap who flung it on the platform with the rest of the luggage. The result was a damage which threatened that evening's concert. "I thought that was a bag of golf clubs," said the redcap tearfully. Remembering that incident, Mr. Hambourg made a wild dash during the intermission of a private concert at the home of Lady Astor, when one of her guests came and picked up Hambourg's cello to admire it. "That's quite alright, old man," said the astonished Peer as Boris tried to take the instrument out of his hands, "I have two Stradivarius instruments myself, and know how to handle them." Adolphe Koldofsky, the second violinist, who speaks French like a native Parisian, was almost forced into a fight on board a trans-Atlantic liner, because he told a Frenchman that although he spoke the language he was an Englishman. At last the Frenchman was convinced and apologized. Milton Blackstone, the viola, has twice been fortunate in finding pearls while eating oysters as to a family of 2000 years ago. In the MRT production these points will be taken as the keynote. Costumes will be in an indeterminate peasant style and the general treatment will endeavor to avoid localization of time and place. Many of MRT's best players will be seen in "Family Portrait." Betty Wilson, fresh from experience with professional companies in London and New York will play the central role of Mary, while Muriel Duncan will interpret the salty freshness of the part of Mary Cleophas. Other well-known players in the cast of 30 are Whitfield Aston, Robert Goodier, Charles Rittenberg, Cora Carmichael, Douglas Peterson, Filmore Sadler and Edward Wilson.

Randolph Scott (right), Frances Dee and Ralph Bellamy are shown above as they appear in Columbia's "The Coast Guard," which comes to the Westmount United Theatre Sunday.

IN PATH OF HURRICANE

CAUGHT in the danger zone, Irene Dunne and Charles Boyer are shown here as they await the approaching hurricane. The scene is climax in John M. Stahl's production, "When Tomorrow Comes," which opens Sunday at the Snowdon United Theatre.

HIS MAJESTY'S UNCLE WILL BE HEARD ON AIR

Beginning the week-end of December 1, 2, 3 the aim of M.R.A. is to have one hundred million people listening throughout the world. In preparation for this program world broadcasts have been arranged when statesmen, leaders and the ordinary man in all walks of life will tell what it means to listen to God, and find His plan for personal and national life. Commencing this series, King George's uncle, the Earl of Athlone, will broadcast over a world-wide hookup from London on Friday, first being heard in Montreal at 4.15 in the afternoon. His message will tell that only men who listen to God can keep a nation free.

Mountain Rescue And Air Raid Are Film Highlights

Long-distance make-up magic, construction of some of the largest motion picture sets ever built in Europe, painstaking months of adaptation to transfer the delicate sentiment of the novel to the picture screen, staging of a wartime air raid, and a rescue in the Tyrolean Alps, were among the activities that taxed the ingenuity of writers, directors and technicians, in the filming of "Goodbye, Mr. Chips," from James Hilton's celebrated novel. The picture, made in England by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is now being shown at the Snowdon United Theatre, with Robert Donat, of "The Citadel" fame, as the kindly schoolmaster, passing his entire life teaching successive generations of boys in a great English school. Hilton, a war veteran, was a newspaperman in Manchester when he wrote the story. First published in the Atlantic Monthly, it proved a literary sensation. Copies of the book sold all over the world by millions. Shortly after its publication in 1934 Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer purchased the book and brought the author to California to aid in the screen adaptation. Many long days were passed before the subtle flavor of the written novel was worked out for the talking screen by R. C. Sherriff, author of "Journey's End," Claudine West of "Good Earth" fame, and Eric Maschwitz.

It was decided to film the picture in England and Sam Wood, who directed "Lord Jeff," was sent there. Donat's work in "The Citadel" made him the logical "Mr. Chips," and little Terry Kilburn, of "Lord Jeff" and "A Christmas Carol," accompanied Wood to England. Greer Garson, beautiful English actress signed by the studio a year before, was also sent back. Building of a great school, the Victoria Station, and a great ballroom in Vienna, was accomplished by British technicians. Famous schools were used for cricket and football locations, with 2,000 English schoolboys appearing in various scenes.

PETE STARTS WEE LASSIE ON CAREER

To Pete Smith goes the honor of starting another young girl on her cinematic career. The youngster is six-year-old Nancy Long, chosen from 540 youngsters for the leading human role in Pete's latest M-G-M dog specialty, "The Adventures of Stuffie." Nancy has been in pictures for one year, but has never done more than extra work. Pete picked her, he said, "because she possessed more re-freshing charm than any child actress he has ever seen."

Y.M.C.A. Branch Addressed By Dr. J. H. Gray

Dr. J. H. Gray, for 31 years National Physical Director of the YMCA in India, China and Burma, addressed two enthusiastic audiences this week at the YMCA in celebration of the 50th anniversary of the start of the World Service program of the Association. On Monday evening 200 Hi-Y boys and girls met at a dinner meeting sponsored by the Hi-Y Grand Chapter. The chairman of the meeting was Gordon Hendry.

Dr. Gray spoke about how the YMCA had, through its Christian program, introduced the concept of strong physical manhood which was an entirely foreign idea to the Indian people, whose religion advocated neglecting the human body as unimportant.

He related a most interesting story of how the YMCA had demonstrated the value of physical health, demonstrated and propagated playgrounds, and finally established a college for the training of directors of physical education, which now all the provinces recog-

Menjou Feels "Golden Boy" Role Tops

Up to a few months ago, there were five characters Adolphe Menjou had brought to the screen in his 20 years of motion picture acting, characters he felt he would never forget. The veteran actor remembers them as roles he would either like to play again or roles which helped him in his career.

Now those five roles have grown to six. Menjou has added to his list the role of Tom Moody, prize-fight manager, in which he is now playing on the Westmount United screen until Saturday. In Columbia's "Golden Boy," Menjou, starred with Barbara Stanwyck and William Holden in the sensational screen version of Clifford Odets' stirring play, lists his favorite characterizations thusly:

The man about town in "A Woman of Paris," directed by Charlie Chaplin, because it brought him to the attention of the film world.

The fiery, aggressive editor in "Front Page," a role which lifted him to the forefront of outstanding actors in Hollywood.

The officer in "Farewell To Arms," a characterization demanding versatility and destroying the myth that he was capable of only "well-dressed man" roles.

The race track habitue in "Little Miss Marker," because it taught him a lesson he will never forget; that any member in a motion picture cast may jump to immediate stardom on a single role, as witness Shirley Temple in that film.

The showman in "The Mighty Barnum," in which he capitalized on his wise-cracking proclivities.

WESTMOUNT RUGBY TEAM LOSES FINAL CHANCE AT TITLE

SERIES OF FUMBLES ACCOUNT FOR SARNIA'S FINAL VICTORY; MISCUES LEAD TO TOUCHDOWN

Anxiety Blamed for the Loss of Game — Trying to Overcome Deficit Westmount Players Made Fumbles Which Were Costly Despite Fact They Had Registered Greater Gains

Westmount's final bid for a chance at the eastern Canadian rugby championship collapsed on their home grounds last week and the local team will fold up for the winter while the winning aggregation, Sarnia Imperials head further along the title trail. Westmount however has no apologies to make; it did well on the year's showing and became recognized as a formidable team.

In the game with Sarnia, however, it made a series of fumbles that were costly. They were trying to overcome a 12-point deficit from a previous game and at times it appeared as though they might succeed. Perhaps anxiety played an important part in these fumbles, but there were three of them and the final result was an 18-13 victory for the Oilers or 31-14 on the round. 5,000 witnessed the game.

To play Sarnia's type of game however, a team has to be on its mettle all the time, and despite the fact they were outclassed in the statistics, it must be admitted that Imperial were prepared for every break, and as opportunists alone, were deserving of their victory.

While the Oilers stand today as winners of the Ontario Rugby Football Union championship for a ninth straight year, they are conceded little chance against Ottawa's mighty Rough Riders this Saturday in the sudden-death encounter.

Sarnia in Early Score

The resounding notes of the referee's horn starting the game had hardly left the air before Sarnia chalked up its first touchdown. Hank Galloway returned the Westmount kickoff to Ray Mullins on his own 45-yard line, but the chunky halfback misjudged the high catch and the ball skimmed through his hands. Ike Norris came rushing in to boot the ball downfield and then picked it up on Westmount's 35 to scamper the rest of the distance for the major score, which was converted by little Mike Hedgewick.

It was a bitter blow to the purple and white, who had hoped for an early score to get back into the series running, for not only did it squelch their fight temporarily but in the long run was the payoff score of the series.

That, however was just the beginning of the local team's worries. Ed Meikle, who had been doing some fine booting after replacing Galloway, injured early in the game, gradually pushed Westmounts into their own territory with his hoists, and then climaxed the drive with a rouse point.

Again in the second quarter, Meikle had Westmounts "on the run" with his steady kicking, and lofted a long kick to Mullins on the Westmount 10, where the local boy again fumbled and again Sarnia recovered when Rapach fell on the ball at the five-yard stripe. From

Y.M.C.A. DOWNS HIGH SCHOOL BY 33 TO 20

Sharp Shooting of Phil Sargeant Was Outstanding For the Winners

Westmount Y.M.C.A. Juveniles downed Westmount High 33 to 20 on the 'Y' last Saturday afternoon. The sharp shooting of Phil Sargeant was outstanding for the winners, Phil netted sixteen points. Boxer was outstanding for the High School with eight points.

The game was very close in the first half and not more than two points separated the teams at any one time.

Westmount High School was leading at the half time by the score of 14-10.

In the second half a much improved offense was presented by the 'Y' boys and they had little difficulty in running through the high school defense. Parsons proved the steller guard for the 'Y' and in the second half they kept the high school down to six points while their forwards went wild and scored almost at will.

The line ups: Westmount 'Y'—Parsons, Jack McCreath, Bob Bill McKay, Phil Sargeant, Harold Thomson, Barry Condon, Jack Koushner, and Bill Morrow. Westmount High School—Boxer, Morris, Walker, Reid, Wexler, McCulloch, Sargeant, Mulligan, Claxton, and McDaniel.

HOUSE OF DAVID HOOP TEAM HAS PLAYED AGAINST STRONG AGGREGATIONS; FINE RECORD

Lost Only 15 Games in 200 Starts Last Season — Sect Was Established at Benton Harbor, Michigan — Excellent Combination of Clowning and Court Skill Promised

The House of David team which will play in Montreal on December 9, has met most of the best clubs in the country, while they play in Canada for part of November and December, they play continuously until the beginning of April, meeting the best quintets available. Amongst the professional teams they have met are the N.Y. Globe Trotters, N.Y. Shamrocks, All Stars, Detroit Head-Aids, N.Y. Celtics, Bendix Brakes, Whiting Casers, Terrible Swedes, Olsen Swedes and the N.Y. Renaissance. They have defeated such college teams as the Universities of Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee, Florida, Mississippi, Illinois, Texas, Stephen F. Austin, A. and M., of Texas, Nacogoches, State and the U. of Tyler.

The great Unshaven Horde, as they are sometimes called, will have one of the strongest line-ups in the history of the organization this year, in an effort to better last season's record of 15 losses in approximately 200 games.

The Biblical Samson, whose mighty feats of strength fills all three chapters of Judges (14-16), was a member of the sect from which the House of David sprang, the Nazarites.

Beliefs of this sect forbade cutting of the hair or shaving the chin, because the body's strength was thought to leave with the hair; the eating of no "unclean food", and taking of strong drink. The great strength of Samson, now used to typify any enormous-muscled person, is known to all who have read the Bible.

Court Prowess

The portion of the sect from which this basketball team comes, was established at Benton Harbor, Michigan, by "King Ben", now several years dead, who called himself the Second Messiah, and led his congregation in establishing an almost independent colony in Michigan, which had its own small factories and industries, and even operated its own street cars and later buses.

At present, the sect has its principle source of income, one of the largest green houses in the world, and operates a tourist camp of mammoth proportions. Funds derived from these enter-

"GARDEN" SIGNS FOR THE SALE OF PEPSI-COLA

Drink to be Only Cola Beverage Sold in Madison Square

Madison Square Garden—"Home of Champions," is to have another one—and this Pepsi-Cola—under the terms of a contract signed yesterday by Col. John R. Kilpatrick, President of the Madison Square Garden Corporation, and Walter S. Mack, Jr., President of the Pepsi-Cola Company, it was announced today by Mr. Mack.

The contract, signed in the office of Col. Kilpatrick in the "Garden," the scene of the signing of contracts for many historic championship fights, gives to the Pepsi-Cola Company the exclusive rights to the sale of a cola drink in the structure during the staging of all sporting and other events held in the huge arena, originally projected by the late "Tex" Rickard.

In addition, the contract also gives to the Pepsi-Cola Company the exclusive rights for the sale of a cola drink at Madison Square Garden Bowl, Long Island City, according to Mr. Mack's announcement, concurred in by Col. Kilpatrick.

The "new" Madison Square Garden was built in 1925 and officially opened to the public in December, 1925.

Among the many events held in the Garden each year are horse, dog and flower shows, ice carnivals, rodeos, circuses, six-day bicycle races, fights, wrestling matches, softball games, hockey contests and political rallies. The next big heavyweight championship fight to be held in the "Garden" in February will bring together Joe Louis, world's heavyweight champion and Arturo Godoy, South American titleholder.

In announcing the signing of the Pepsi-Cola contract with the Madison Square Garden Corporation, which is effective immediately, Mr. Mack said:

"We are delighted at the opportunity to place on sale Pepsi-Cola in Madison Square Garden, the center of spectacular sports activities, in the nation. It is our reaction that sports fans will be more than pleased to find Pepsi-Cola within easy reach as they witness the many sporting contests constantly staged by the Garden Corporation. The new contract, as we view it, marks another step in the onward march of Pepsi-Cola's sale and consumer acceptance."

The Pepsi-Cola Company did not make public the amount of money involved in the signing of the new contract.

Toy soldiers were purchased by stand-ins for the Lilliputian army in Paramount's "Gulliver's Travels."

CAGE TEAM TO MEET CENTRAL FRIDAY NIGHT

Local Y.M.C.A. Squad Will Be Without the Services Of Captain Chown

The Junior Basketball team of the Westmount Y.M.C.A. will be without the services of their Captain, Rodger Chown, in their initial start of the Montreal Basketball League tomorrow night when they meet the fast moving combination from Central 'Y'.

Westmount have already played Central in an exhibition game and won by quite a margin, but without the services of Chown and with a much improved Central team to meet the game is bound to be a good one.

The line-up will include Bob Ashley and Paul Redwood on the defense with Bert Ward, Ian O'Hara and the other position yet to be named on the forward line. Both games, the junior and the intermediate, will be played on Friday night the junior game to start at eight o'clock and the intermediate game to follow directly afterwards.

SCHOOL HOOP TEAMS START

Twenty-three teams will battle it out in Montreal Protestant High School Basketball Union play this season. The opening games are scheduled tentatively for January 8.

The Senior A division will include teams from Montreal High School, Strathcona, Verdun, West Hill and Westmount, while Argyle, Baron Byng, Commercial, Montreal High, Montreal West, Verdun, Westmount and West Hill will be represented in Senior B activity.

The Junior section will be composed of teams from Argyle, Baron Byng, Montreal High, Montreal West, Strathcona, Strathearn, Verdun, West Hill, Westmount and William Dawson.

Officers for the coming year are A. T. Smith, Strathcona, president; O. G. Parsons, Montreal West; honorary president; A. D. Talbot, Strathearn, vice-president; A. P. Watson, Verdun, secretary-treasurer. Members of the executive committee are G. A. Gregg, West Hill; P. L. Wearing, Westmount; F. S. Urquhart, William Dawson.

THE BUSINESS ASSOCIATION of WESTMOUNT

THE MERCHANTS WHO DISPLAY THIS CREST ARE FAIR To YOU - To THEIR EMPLOYEES - To THEMSELVES

The merchants listed below are members of the Business Association of Westmount and they have pledged themselves to be fair: to you, to their employees, and to themselves.

They are fair to you by offering merchandise at prices which are reasonable and yet will allow fairness to their employees and to themselves.

It is decidedly UNfair if a merchant is forced to cut the prices of his goods to such low levels that he is unable to pay his employees a fair wage and himself a reasonable profit. The employees suffer, among other things, a reduction in buying power which might even affect the wage earners in your own family, and the merchant who cannot expect a reasonable profit from his efforts and investment will eventually go out of business and his services will be denied the public entirely.

So make your purchases, whenever possible, where you see the crest of the Business Association of Westmount and be assured of a fair deal — for everyone.

WE GO INTO THE BEST CELLARS!

YOU CAN NOW HAVE A DUST-LESS HOUSE BY ATTACKING THE DUST AND DIRT AT ITS SOURCE.

During the winter coal and ashes create dust that permeates the ceilings, beams and walls of the cellar. Dust settles on the furniture, smoke-pipes, water-pipes, stairways, etc. Dust has the objectionable faculty of finding its way up into the house proper not only contaminating the air but also fraying your nerves as a result of constant dusting and polishing.

The O'Neil Coal Co. operate a department skilled in the work of furnace and basement cleaning. The work is done with the aid of a high powered specially constructed vacuum cleaner—absolutely dustless in operation. The attachments are designed to reach usually inaccessible nooks and crannies where dust lurks. The cost is surprisingly low. A phone call will bring our service department to your home.
