BRITISH NAVAL AIRMEN MAKE DARING RAID

ATTACK ON THE GERMAN ZEPPELIN AIRSHIP AT DUSSELDORF OFFICIALLY REPORTED AS HAVING BEEN SUCCESSFUL.

London, Sept. 24.—Two squadrons of British naval airmen made a daring raid yesterday from Belgium against the German Zeppelin airship bases at Dusseldorf and Cologne. The attack upon Dusseldorf was officially reported as having been successful. Lieut. C. H. Collet dropped three bombs there on a Zeppelin shed, sweeping down to within four hundred feet of his target.

The attack on Cologne apparently failed of its object, as the official announcement fails to mention it. An Antwerp paper, however, says that four bombs fell on the Zeppelin camp at Pickendorf and set fire to the hangars.

The squadrons making the raid into Germany are believed to have consisted of five aeroplanes, with a navigator and an assistant in every machine. The novel expedition started from an unmentioned base. The weather was misty, which assisted in the secrecy of its approach to the intended scenes of operation. It is thought in some circles that the weather conditions may have caused a hitch in the schedule of the aeroplanes and that it is possible that the two bombs which were dropped on the Dutch town of Maastricht, near the German border, Tuesday, from a mysterious aircraft, may have come from one of the British fliers. Fortunately no fatalities resulted from the explosions in Maastricht.

VILLA ANNOUNCES HIS INDEPENDENCE

STATE OF CHIHUAHUA IS IN OPEN REVOLT AGAINST THE PARTY IN POWER.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 23.—General Francisco Villa, dominant leader in Northern Mexico, tonight denounced the central government headed by Venustiano Carranza and announced his independence in a statement sent to the Associated Press.

This placed the State of Chihuahua in open revolt against the party in power at Mexico City as well as Sonora, the next border state to the west, where Governor Maytorena previously has proclaimed his independence of the Constitutional party as represented by Carranza.

Villa's statement, in which he asserted that besides Chihuahua and Sonora, Zacatecas and a part of Coahuila, Carranza's native state, had joined the uprising.

Nogales, Sonora, Mex., Sept. 23.—A proclamation of revolt against General Carranza, first chief of the Constitutional army, was published here today. It is signed by Jose De G. Sanchez.

"General Villa has refused to recognize the traitor Carranza," the proclamation read, "and has ordered the mobilization of his veteran troops to move on the capital."

After paying tribute to Villa, the proclamation adds that his efforts are supported by Governor Maytorena and Governor Manuel Castilla Brito, of Campeche.

ALLIES DRIVE BACK GERMANS ELEVEN MILES

ENEMY BOMBARDS SOISSONS AND NOYON—MANY ARE WOUNDED IN BATTLE.

Paris, Sept. 23.—General Joffre, the Commander-in-Chief of the French army, is devoting much attention to the western wing on the battle line where the fighting has been incessant night and day. The Allies, since the beginning of the battle of the Aisne have pushed back the Germans a distance of nearly eleven miles, forcing them to seek a further defensive position on the plateaus and in the rough country, which, however, offer excellent opportunities for entrenchment.

The headquarters staff has been enabled to make a long movement forward towards the north. The town of Soissons has been subjected to a furious bombardment for nine days. The cannonade starts each day at dawn and continues until eight o'clock in the morning. It then ceases and begins again at 4 o'clock, continuing until 7 in the evening. The Cathedral and other buildings have been greatly damaged.

The German artillery is posted to the north-east of the town, while the French guns occupy an emplacement to the south-east. There appears no necessity for the shells to fall on the town itself, as the French troops are stationed a considerable distance from it.

Noyon is also suffering from the German gun fire, but the fine Cathedral up to the present has escaped.

Today's advance of the allied troops entailed very severe fighting, in which the artillery played a great part. The combat had lasted for 24 hours, but eventually the Germans yielded ground after sustaining a large number of casualties. The Allies were also heavy losers. Many ambulance trains have left the front for provincial cities, carrying German and French wounded. Large numbers of seriously wounded British officers and men have been transported to the American and other hospitals in Paris.

Among the killed today was General Dupuis, commander of the 67th Infantry Brigade.

Eight American and British correspondents, arrested at Rheims on Monday for visiting that city without leave, have been released through the intervention of the American ambassador, Myron T. Herrick. The military governor of Paris announced today, however, that any one using a temporary pass for leaving Paris to penetrate the fighting zone would be subject without exception to a severe penalty. This is a precaution against spies, who appear to be numerous and adroit. A resident of Maubeuge, who has just escaped from that town, says that that city during the siege was full of secret German agents.

SITUATION OF PARTICIPANTS IN LONG BATTLE UNCHANGED; PROGRESS OF ALLIES IS SLOW

Battle Has Developed Into War Of Assault On Entrenchments With The French And British Attacking---Russians Continue Pursuit Of Austrians In Galicia---No Engagement On German Frontier---Servians Retake Liubovia---Germans Mine Approach To Brussels---Survivors From Sunken Cruisers Are Landed

London, Sept. 23.—The battle of the Aisne seems to be waiting on the outcome of the attempt of the allied forces to outflank the German right wing. At any rate, the French official report issued this afternoon, while it speaks of an advance made by the Allies' left in the region of Lassigny, and unofficial reports say that this advance was one of 18 kilometers (about 12 miles), simply records the repulse of several violent attacks by the Germans and the fact that elsewhere the situation remains unchanged. Military experts, however, warn the public not to ignore the German efforts to force the French barrier chain at its more assailable points.

It requires a lot of patience to wait for the result of this battle, but so confident are the English and French that their armies will be successful that they are not worrying much.

In Galicia the Russians are pushing steadily on to their goal, which for the moment is Przemyśl. They apparently have that place pretty well surrounded by now, for, following the capture of Jaroslau, they announced today the occupation of Wislok, a town on the Hungarian border, south-west of Przemyśl, and an important station on the railway which runs from Sanok through one of the passes of the Carpathians to Zemplin and thence to Budapest.

Wislok was probably taken by that part of the Russian army which advanced from Lemberg by the southern route to cut off the retreat of the Austrian army through the Carpathians to Hungary. It is also another link in the chain which the Russians are drawing around the fortresses of Przemyśl and Cracow.

On the German frontier the Russians are in close touch with the German forces, according to their report, but no fighting has occurred.

The Servians record their almost daily successes. This time it is the capture of Liubovia, on the River Drina.

The event of the day has been the flight of British naval aeroplanes from Antwerp to Dusseldorf, approximately a distance of 500 miles, in the course of which they dropped bombs in Zeppelin sheds of the German aerial fleet which would co-operate with the German navy in case of a raid on England.

The Official Bureau intimates that the flight was undertaken with a view to warning the Germans that if any more bombs are dropped on unfortified towns in Belgium or France, the Allies can retaliate. It is quite likely that the warning is also intended to include London, which has been looking for a visit from the Zeppelins for some days.

The flight of the British aeroplanes was one, so far as distance is concerned, that they were quite used to, as for some time the British flying men have been put to the test. They have made flights from Montrose, Scotland, to Salisbury, which is about the same distance as the round trip between Antwerp and the Rhine fortresses.

It has not been possible as yet to make up the rolls of the losses occasioned by the sinking of the British cruisers Aboukir, Hogue and Cressy by German submarines, but, thus far, out of 2,200 officers and men on the ships 1,067 have been accounted for, and it is hoped that trawlers and other vessels will bring in more survivors.

The landing of some of the survivors in Holland has raised the interesting question as to whether they must be interned until after the war. It has been taken for granted that this would be the case, but the point is now brought forward that they are really shipwrecked sailors and are entitled to the hospitality of a neutral country as such until they are ready to return home.

A similar case arose at Che-Fu during Japan's attack on Port Arthur. A number of Japanese, whose ships were sunk at Port Arthur, were brought to the Chinese port, and the Russian consul asked that they be interned. They were finally allowed, however to return to Japan.

The losses through the sinking of the British cruisers, while heavy, are infinitesimal compared with those on the battlefields. It was reported today from Holland that 50,000 German wounded had passed through Liege from France, and it is known that the losses on both sides are very heavy.

Another batch of German prisoners arrived in England today. They were taken to Camberley, where, since Friday, 1,500, including 300 Imperial Guardsmen, have been brought in.

The Austrian losses are even heavier than those of the Germans and the Allies. Up to September 14, according to Russian papers, the Russians have captured seven Austrian flags, 636 guns, 44 machine guns and 64,000 prisoners, including 535 officers.

It is announced by the Newcastle Coal Exchange that owing to the inability of the German coalowners to execute the contract for supplying the Portuguese railways, the contract has reverted to a British colliery. This is the first reported instance since the outbreak of the war of the diversion of business from Westphalia to this country.

Baron Lovat, late Lieutenant Colonel commanding the Highland Territorial Mounted Brigade, has been granted the temporary rank of Brigadier General, and the Duke of Marlborough that of Lieutenant Colonel.

PROGRESS MUST BE SLOW

Paris, Sept. 23.—The French official communication issued (Continued on Page Seven)

WAR SUMMARY

Again the status of the warfare on the long line in France remains unchanged, according to the official report of the French War Office. The battle has developed into a war of assault, with the Allies in the role of attackers against the strongly entrenched positions of the Germans, which are fortified with large and small artillery pieces and are hedged about with barbed wire entanglements. The French report says that in these circumstances progress of necessity must be slow.

In the eastern war zone, the Russians report that they are still pursuing the retreating Austrians in Galicia, while on the German front the German and Russian armies are in close contact. No engagement has occurred here as yet, however.

A press despatch says the Servians have retaken Liubovia from the Austrians and that in the fighting the losses were heavy.

A news agency despatch is authority for the statement that the Germans have entrenched and mined the approaches to Brussels and also are fortifying the region around Ath, north-west of Mons, with the purpose of preventing the Belgians falling on the Germans should the Germans be forced to retreat from France.

China has replied to Germany's protest of China's violation of neutrality by permitting Japanese troops to land in China, saying she was unable to defend her neutrality.

The latest estimate of the casualties in Tuesday's North Sea disaster gives 1,067 of the 2,200 officers and men on board the three warships as lost.

British aeroplanes have invaded Germany and dropped bombs on a Zeppelin airship hangar at Dusseldorf. The Germans claim that no damage was done by the aerial attack.

A Venice despatch says the Hungarian Minister of the Interior reports that there have been nine cases of Asiatic cholera among the wounded in Hungary.

According to a despatch received from Paris, a Russian cruiser has sunk a German cruiser and two German torpedo boats in the Baltic Sea.

BRITISH AIR CRAFT DELIVER AN ATTACK ON ZEPPELIN SHED

ALL MACHINES RETURNED
SAFELY AFTER DROPPING
THREE BOMBS.

London, Sept. 23, 5:24 p.m.—The Admiralty confirms the report of a raid on the Zeppelin shed at Dusseldorf in the following communication:

"Yesterday the British aeroplanes of the naval wing delivered an attack on the Zeppelin shed at Dusseldorf. The conditions were rendered very difficult by the misty weather, but Flight Lieut. C. H. Collet dropped three bombs on the Zeppelin shed approaching within 400 feet. The extent of the damage done is not known. Flight Lieut. Collet's machine was struck by one projectile, but all the machines returned safely to their points of departure."

"The importance of this incident lies in the fact that it shows that in the event of further bombs being dropped into Antwerp or other Belgian towns, measures of reprisal can certainly be adopted if desired to almost any extent."

GLIMPSES OF OLD QUEBEC

From the Files of The CHRONICLE, September, 1884, and 1914.

A HUNDRED YEARS AGO TODAY

Geneva Gazette.

The following was written on the cover of the Geneva Gazette. If it should prove to be true that the British have received so large a reinforcement, our army at Erie must be in a critical situation. "The British at Fort Erie have been reinforced by two regiments, containing about 1,400 men." "Great numbers of the militia from this place and vicinity are going to Buffalo."

Jersey Blues—nearly 500 volunteers—are now encamped in the vicinity of Powie's Hook. These men will form an insurmountable barrier against the enemy on that side. Troops are pouring in from all sides, and we will soon have an army of 20,000 men in the vicinity of our city. Captain Somerby, a Newbury port pilot, was captured in a whale boat close in with Cape Ann, and carried on board the British frigate Nymph. His boat was retained, but he was released, and has since arrived at Newbury port. He was treated very handsomely, and dined with the officers of the ship. They were in high glee; he had Boston hand-bills on board containing accounts of the capture of Washington. They were much elated, and said they would now give us war in good earnest. Every few minutes the hand-bills were read aloud, and a grand drink of wine passed all round.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Has Quebec a Future?

In these columns thirty years ago, the above question was asked and answered in the following manner: Let us consider whether there may be a future for Quebec, although not promising at present. Suppose a 40 p. c. duty were imposed by Canada on all goods whether imported from England or the United States, and a similar duty by the United States on all importations from England and the Dominion. It would be immaterial to England whether she exported to Canada or the United States. Again, suppose that Canada and the United States imposed 40 per cent. on all goods from any country, but admitted each others products free of duty, this would be an enormous advantage to Canada. But would not a bounty of 40 per cent. be thereby granted to the United States over England? A great market would be opened up to Canada. Americans would flock in with capital, the value of property would be increased. But it might be objected, what would be the use of this colony to Great Britain if all British goods were mulcted in a duty of 40 per cent. Answer.—Canada would still be a British Colony. In case of war with all the nations of the earth, England could still carry on a trade with her colonies. This would not be annexation or independence, but we would reap the advantages of both without the drawbacks of either, and there would be a future for Quebec.

RUSSIAN TROOPS REACH VESCHLOKY

Are Also In Close Contact With the Enemy On German Front.

Petrograd, Sept. 23.—The Russian General Staff has issued the following: "In continuing the pursuit of the retreating Austrians the Russians troops have reached Veschkloky."

"In the region of Przemyśl the operations of the Russians are developing with success."

"Upon the German front the Russian troops are in close contact with the enemy, but no battle has yet taken place."

PRO PATRIA

(From Punch)

Britons, in this great fight to which you go
Because where Honor calls you, go you must,
Be glad, whatever comes, at least to know
You have your quarrel just.

Peace was your care; before the nation's bar
Her cause you pleaded and her ends you sought;
But not for her sake, being what you are,
Could you be bribed and bought.

Others may spurn the pledge of land to land,
May with the brute sword stain a gallant past;
But by the seal to which you set your hand,
Thank God, you still stand fast!

Forth, then, to front that peril of the deep
With smiling lips and in your eyes the light,
Steadfast and confident, of those who keep
Their storied 'scrutcheon bright.

And we, whose burden is to watch and wait—
High hearted ever, strong in faith and prayer,
We ask what offering we may consecrate,
What humble service share.

To steel our souls against the lust of ease;
To find our welfare in the general good;
To hold together, merging all degrees
In one wide brotherhood;—

To teach that he who saves himself is lost;
To bear in silence though our hearts may bleed;
To spend ourselves, and never count the cost,
For others' greater need;—

To go our quiet ways, subdued and sane;
To hush all vulgar clamor of the street;
With level calm to face alike the strain
Of triumph or defeat;—

This be our part, for so we serve you best,
So best confirm their prowess and their pride,
Your warriors sons, to whom in this high test
Our fortunes we confide.—O. S.

This sale is to make friends. We want you to know it. Tailor-made Overcoat in fine Steel Gray Vicunas. Always sold at $18.00. Special this week for $11.50. Order early this time.

SINKING OF CRUISERS WAS LIKE NIGHTMARE

SUBMARINES HAD BEEN OBSERVING THEM PATROL-LING THE WATERS FOR WEEKS BEFORE

London, Sept. 23.—A Harwich despatch to the Central News says it is learned from reliable sources that the death roll of the British cruisers Aboukir, Hogue and Cressy will be about 1,400. Survivors explain that the affair happened in so brief a period of time it seemed like a nightmare.

One of the crew of the Aboukir said he was in the water for about four hours. In his opinion all the men between decks must have gone down with the ship. He thought that for the past three weeks the submarines of the enemy had been observing the cruisers, waiting for a fine day to take a torpedo shot at

KAISER'S POLICY KNOWS NO HONOR

RABBI STATES GERMAN SAV-AGERY WILL BRAND THE NATION FOREVER.

Montreal, Sept. 23.—"The very manner in which this war was inaugurated proves that Germany acknowledges no right but force," said Rabbi De Sola, in his New Year sermon in the Spanish and Portuguese synagogue today. "They who shape German policy recognize no code of honor, no moral or international obligations. The violation of the neutrality of heroic Belgium was a dastardly act that has few parallels in history. And this infamy has been typical of the German campaign. War is terrible enough under any conditions; but this war has been rendered yet more terrible by the pitiless savagery of the German army, savagery that has placed the Kaiser before the world as the chief of a horde of assassins. For the massacring of non-combatants, the binding together of prisoners as a shield for German soldiers, the mutilation of the wounded, the perpetration of unspeakable outrages against women and children, the burning alive and burying alive of helpless men, the indiscriminate sowing of mines in the high seas; those are not acts of war, they are atrocities worthy of fiendish assassins. The German campaign was infamous in conception and it has been diabolical in execution."

An ordinary man who commits a murder is sent to the gallows. The despot who is responsible for this orgy of murder and outrage is hailed as the great and august War Lord of a nation that prides itself upon its intellectuality, and German culture, intellectuality, and Geoman culture. What grim irony in these terms.

"Hyenas of the Night."

The ruthless destruction of Louvain and the dropping of bombs upon Antwerp, so well described as "attacking a sleeping city like hyenas in the night," have naturally won for the Kaiser the execration of the civilized world. He has made a lamentable attempt to justify the savagery of the German army by asserting that Belgian civilians attacked the soldiers. But as German soldiers had no more right to march through Belgium than a body of bandits would have to enter your homes or mine, The Kaiser's attempted justification of German savagery cannot remove the stigma of barbarism that now attaches to the German army.

William the Infamous, has been compared to Attila. They who make this comparison insult the memory of the original Hun.

Kaiser's Infamous Prayers.

"We do protest with all the energy of which we are capable against the pippant manner in which the Kaiser has seen fit to associate the infinitely holy name of God with his iniquitous campaign. It is impious. It is blasphemous. Congratulating the Crown Princess upon a victory her husband was alleged to have won, the Kaiser wired to her: 'I rejoice with you in Wilhelm's first victory. How magnificently God supported him'—for all the world as if the deity had been pressed into the firing line as a German conscript, and had done His work sufficiently well to deserve a word of commendation."

them. They must have known that the cruisers were patrolling the same waters for weeks, and seeing their opportunity took it.

The canteen steward of the Hogue was on the deck when he heard an explosion and saw the Aboukir with a decided list. In a few moments the sea was dotted with heads. The Hogue had just lowered boats when she received a blow which shook the ship, her stern seeming to go down. There a periscope was seen, traveling very quickly and the bow gun fired at it.

The periscope disappeared, but whether the submarine descended of her own free will or received her quietus he did not know.

At that moment the Hogue received another shock and began to heel over. Within a quarter of an hour the waves were washing about their feet, and Captain Nicholson sang out every man for himself.

At once all dived overboard. From the water they saw the captain standing on the bridge and gave him a cheer.

One of the most common delusions is that of the man who imagines that he is working for himself when he is grinding another's axe.

1,067 WERE SAVED FROM THE SUNKEN BRITISH CRUISERS

TOTAL CREWS OF ABOUKIR,
CRESSY AND HOGUE NUM-
BERED 2,200.

Lowestoft, Sept. 23.—(By way of London)—So far as can be ascertained, 1,067 officers and men were saved out of a total of 2,200, who were on board the three British cruisers when they were sunk by a German submarine yesterday.

A trawler arrived here today with 34 survivors, including two officers. The survivors are accounted for as follows:

At Harwich, 505; on British ships, 220; at Ymuiden, Holland, 308; at Lowestoft, 34.

It is possible that other Lowestoft fishing trawlers have made further rescues. The trawlers which arrived here today saw the three cruisers sink and rescued 350 men who, with the exception of 34, were transferred to warships. The captain of the trawler says that the first cruiser attacked, sank in three minutes, the second in eight minutes, and the third as quickly as the first.

VATICAN AWAITS NEWS OF RHEIMS

WANTS AUTHENTIC INFOR-MATION CONCERNING BOM-
BARDMENT BEFORE CON-SIDERING PROTEST.

Rome, via Paris, Sept. 23.—7.41 p.m.—The Vatican, according to the Rome newspapers, is awaiting authentic information concerning the bombardment of Rheims before considering a protest. It has been asserted that Pope Benedict telegraphed the German and Austrian Emperors, deploring the damage done to the Cathedral at Rheims. The Vatican, however, declines to confirm or deny this assertion saying it will publish through its own proper channels what steps have been taken when the opportune moment arrives.

HEROIC DEATH OF FRENCH OFFICER

THOUGH SURPRISED BY THE ENEMY'S FORCES, "E DID NOT SURRENDER."

Angouleme, Sept. 23.—via Bordeaux, 8.10 p.m.—The family of Major C. Dupont of the artillery, has received news of his heroic death in a recent action. With a regiment of 700 men strong, he received orders to take a position in a meadow near a town. There was a dense fog at the time, through which ominous rumblings were heard, but Major Dupont's instructions were urgent.

All his men stood at their posts waiting. Suddenly the fog lifted and revealed a company of quick firers within 1,500 yards of the French position. In a few seconds all except a couple of officers and thirty men had fallen before the storm of shot.

Major Dupont was among those unscathed. The German captain approached him and asked for his surrender. Major Dupont declined to give up, and sprang to a gun beside which his gunners lay dead and trained it upon the enemy. But before he could fire, a bullet stretched him across the gun, mortally wounded.

HUNGARIAN RULES

RE PATENT RIGHTS

Adopted In Consequence of Britain

Cancelling Austrian, German

and Hungarian Patents.

Vienna, via Paris, Sept. 23, 6.50 p.m.—In consequence of the reported action of the British Parliament in cancelling Austrian, German and Hungarian patent rights in the British Isles, the Hungarian Cabinet has empowered the Ministry of Commerce to adopt immediately extraordinary rules regarding patent rights and trade marks in Hungary.

It is asserted that 3,258 British patents have been granted in Hungary as against 280 Hungarian patents granted in Great Britain.

Owing to the constantly increasing demands of the army for meat, the supply of cattle arriving in Vienna has considerably diminished with a consequent advance in prices.

HOW R.C.R. REPLACED BERMUDA'S GARRISON

AN AMERICAN TELLS HOW SMOOTHLY THE CHANGE
WAS EFFECTED.

New York, Sept. 23.—How the Second battalion of the Lincolnshire regiment, the Tenth Foot, of the British army, stationed at Bermuda, was embarked for the front and its place taken by the Royal Canadian regiment, was told yesterday by Chester A. Lyons, who returned from Bermuda on board the Trinidad, of the Quebec line. Mr. Lyons managed to obtain several interesting photographs of the arrival and leaving of the regiments.

It was on September 14, according to Mr. Lyons, that the Lincolnshires, who were ready to march, were informed that their transport was ready. The battalion, 950 officers and men, commanded by Lieutenant-Colonel G. B. McAndrew, marched from Prospect Barracks to the quay at Hamilton. Out in the harbor, Mr. Lyons said, too far away for her name to be distinguished, lay a transport, surrounded by tenders. These vessels left her and started for the shore, filled with soldiers. They were the men of the Royal Canadian regiment, who had come to take the Lincolnshires' place. As fast as they were landed they fell in at the quay, then the regiment marched past the waiting Lincolnshires, the men of both regiments cheering wildly. The Lincolnshires then filled the tenders and in another hour were on board the transport and she was under way, convoyed by a warship.

"The entire operation was carried out without fuss," said Mr. Lyons. "The men went about their work quietly, every man seeming to have his place in the embarkation. The only cheering was done by the soldiers themselves. The townspeople stood quietly looking on. Colonel McAndrew made a short address to the city officials, thanking them for their hospitality to the Lincolnshires during the battalion's stay of nearly a year, and he and his men were wished a God speed in turn."

"The men seemed to be very glad to go," Mr. Lyons asserted. "The wives and families of the officers, who accompanied them on board the transport, and who will, of course, be left in England, were very quiet. Friendly parting between Bermudians and the soldiers were many. "Nine hundred strong, the Royal Canadians took the place of the Lincolnshires, and, so Mr. Lyons heard, will be kept at Bermuda for several months, when they in turn will go to the front, being replaced by another Canadian regiment. The first battalion of the Lincolnshire regiment is at present at the front, and, according to despatches, has suffered severely in the earlier stages of the fighting."

ENFORCED SERVICE IN GREAT BRITAIN

ARTICLES IN SPECTATOR
QUOTES LINCOLN ON CON-
SCRIPTION FOR FUTURE
NEEDS.

London, Sept. 23, 7.47 p.m.—The Spectator, in an article on "President Lincoln and Compulsory Service," gives verbatim Lincoln's plea for the draft as taken from John Hay's biography of Lincoln. The paper says that while England is likely to get only a million men without conscription, it is obviously better to leave things as they are during the war, "even though the voluntary system acts with a good deal of unfairness and places a heavy burden on willing shoulders."

"We put Lincoln's words forward," says the Spectator, "not for immediate needs, but because they are so wise and stimulating and because at the moment people will really listen on a question of universal service."

MORATORIUMS WILL END NOVEMBER 4TH

NO FURTHER SUSPENSIONS AS REGARDS DEBTS DUE BY RETAILERS, ETC.

London, Sept. 23.—It has been decided that there shall be no further suspension of the moratorium, so far as it applies to debts due by retail traders in respect of their business, for rent, or relating to bills of exchange, other than checks or bills on demand.

As regards other debts to which the general moratorium applies there will be an extension for one month from October 4th, subject to the condition that the interest due under past proclamations is paid.

On November 4th, the moratorium will come to an end as regards all debts.

CANADA'S HEAVY ARTILLERY FIRING ALMOST PERFECT

FIFTEEN SHOTS FIRED AT TARGET AT VALCARTIER
ALL SCORED HITS.

In a test of Canada's heavy artillery at Valcartier yesterday it was demonstrated that Canadian gunners can hit the mark with deadly accuracy. In order to test new shells "made in Canada" a test of the 60-pounder ammunition had been ordered. The heavy battery was brought into position and given fifteen rounds with which to test the skill of the gun lay and the merit of the ammunition. A target was set up on the rising ground across the Jacques Cartier River. The guns were brought into position on this side of the river between two hills which divide the rifle ranges. Firing commenced and was carried on methodically and under such conditions as would prevail in actual warfare. The target was set up three and one-quarter miles from the guns. When things were checked up afterwards, it was found that all the shells had found their mark. The fifteen rounds fired from the heavy guns were all hits. Each of the fifteen shells landed its deadly load within a radius of thirty feet. No better shooting has ever been done in Canada. In war such shooting would be considered practically perfect.

COLORADO MINERS REPLY TO WILSON

WILLING TO RE-EMPLOY THE STRIKING EMPLOYES, WHO
THEY CONSIDER DESIR-ABLE.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 23.—Operators claiming to produce seventy per cent. of the coal mined in Colorado today, sent a letter to President Wilson, on the strike situation.

They expressed willingness to obey the mining statutes of Colorado and to re-employ such striking coal miners as they think desirable, and for whom there is work at the mines, but they refused to enter into a three-year truce with the United Mine Workers of America, or to re-employ all strikers not convicted of crime or to submit to a final arbitration of all advances by a federal commission.

The letter was a reply to the communication in which the President urged the operators to adopt the plan suggested by Hywel Davis and Wm. E. Fairley, Federal mediators, for ending the coal miners strike.

The operators expressed doubt as to the impartiality of the Federal mediators.

WILSON ADAMANT IN

THE COLORADO STRIKE

Washington, Sept. 23.—President Wilson today refused to change his attitude toward the Colorado strike situation, and indicated that the mine operators must accept the basis of settlement already agreed to by the miners or stand responsible before the country for the result.

J. E. Welborn, president of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, known as the "Rockefeller property," discussed the situation with the President and told him that some of the principal points of the basis of agreement did not meet with the approval of his concern. He proposed another plan of settlement, but Mr. Wilson refused to take it up.

It was said at the White House tonight that the President will stand behind the original plan of settlement, which was drawn up by a mine operator and a miner named by Secretary of Labor Wilson.

METHODIST CHURCH OPENS CONFERENCE

SIR WILFRID LAURIER WEL-COMES DELEGATES TO THE FEDERAL CAPITAL.

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, N. W. Rowell, K.C., leader of the Opposition in the Ontario Legislature; Hon. Martin Burrell, Minister of Agriculture, and Mayor McVeity, of Ottawa, joined tonight in welcoming to the capital the three hundred and fifty delegates to the quadrennial general conference of the Methodist Church in Canada, which opened its sessions this morning. His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught and Sir Robert Borden were unavoidably absent.

In extending a welcome to the delegates, Sir Wilfrid referred to the war and its causes.

"It is a matter of pride to know that we are not the aggressor in the present conflict," he said, "it is a matter of pride that although we detest war we are proud to be in this war because we are fighting for the cause of justice and truth. Records show that when the British Empire went to war it was because peace could not be kept with honor."

"Our duty in Canada is to help the Mother Country with the last dollar and the last man, if need be," Sir Wilfrid said, amid applause.

"The sword must not be put back again until the German bully is taught that wheat he termed as a 'mere scrap of paper' is something more than that. The sword must not be put back into the scabbard until the dignity of Belgium has been restored to its former position."

"We are entering into a new phase of making history of the world and are just now turning over a large leaf. If this war means anything, it means one thing that is whether or not the world is to be governed by brute force or by justice and freedom. The German sovereign's law is to govern by brute force, but the law of the British Empire is to govern by the law of righteousness, justice and freedom."

Mr. N. W. Rowell, in his reply to the addresses of welcome, emphasized that the present offers the greatest opportunity to the church to teach the higher things in life. For a long time the desire for material gain has prevented the church from getting a hearing, but the war has injected a great deal of seriousness into the minds of men, thereby offering an opportunity to the church. The outcome of the war will depend on the character of the men at the front and the men at home.

Rev. Dr. G. D. Chown, one of the superintendents of the conference, said in his address at the afternoon session that Canadian Methodism is looking with great expectancy to this conference for some definite deliverance on the question of church union with the Presbyterian and Congregational churches. The Methodist Church, Dr. Chown said, is ready to resume negotiations, should the Presbyterians give assurance they are willing to proceed to the consummation of a union upon a basis to be mutually accepted. He proposed a joint church union committee be named by the conference to be called into activity when deemed expedient.

Rev. Dr. Chown outlined the principles which have been outlined for the basis of union. Attention was called to the following:

In the last four years there has been an increase of 28,901 in the membership of the Church, the total membership being 368,312 with the number of ministers at 2,059 and number of probationers at 776.

There are now 2,339 Sunday schools in the Dominion with a membership of 409,632, an increase of 75,649 in the quadrennium, with an increase of 151 in the number of schools. The Sunday school force totals 459,037, which includes those attending union schools, increase being 81,637. The number who have signed the pledge from 1910 to 1914 was 127,273.

Nearly $1,000,000 was raised in the four years for Sunday school purposes, the actual amount being $961,074; for missionary work, $209,836; for all purposes $1,462,428.

Mayor Hocken, of Toronto, was introduced to the conference as a "distinguished Methodist." He testified his love for Methodism and praised the work the church is doing for the young people, paying especial emphasis to the class meetings.

"Municipal life," said Mayor Hocken, "is improving as a result of the progressive efforts of the churches in the past few years."

"It is the work of the church that is humanizing municipal life," he said. "The prison farm system, the children's court are signs of regeneration. Municipal government used to mean merely building sidewalks and things of that kind. Today it means looking after human beings. When you feel inclined to criticize your municipal authorities be careful to support those who will courageously stand up against 'that is evil.'"

For the past four years a special committee has been preparing a new hymn book. The work is now complete and the report is ready to be submitted. The new book will have most of the old favorites in the six hundred hymns it will contain, this number being taken from 7,000 hymns examined. The new book contains one-third fewer hymns and

GERMAN EDICT IN CAPTURED TOWN SUGGESTS TYRANNY

HOSTAGES ARE DEMANDED
EACH DAY AND SUBSTITUTES MUST BE FORTH-COMING

London, Sept. 23.—The Official Press Bureau tonight made public the copy of a proclamation said to have been issued by Major Diekmann, commanding the general forces of the Germans in the commune of Grivegnée, a suburb of Liege. The proclamation ordered all inhabitants to give up arms or explosives, saying, "whoever does not do this will be liable to the penalty of death; he will be shot immediately or otherwise executed unless he can prove he is not to blame."

The inhabitants of the commune are ordered to be indoors at nightfall and to keep their doors shut. "Resistance to orders," the proclamation says, "entails a penalty of death."

The third section says: "The commandant must not meet with any difficulties. When domiciliary visits are made all rooms must be thrown open on summons. All opposition will be severely punished."

After stating that the inhabitants of certain villages will be permitted to return to their homes, the proclamation says the Burgomaster must furnish a list of persons who are to be kept as hostages and that the list is to be changed every day.

"The lives of these hostages," says the proclamation, "are at stake if the population does not keep quiet under all circumstances. I shall select outside the lists given me, persons who from noon of one day to noon of the next day will have to stay as hostages. If a relieving hostage does not appear punctually, the first hostage will be detained another twenty-four hours in the fort. After the second twenty-four hours he may be shot if his substitute does not appear."

"In the first class among the hostages will be placed priests, Burgomasters and members of the administration of communes. I require that all civilians moving about in my sphere of command shall show respect to the German officers by taking off their hats and bringing their hands to their heads in military salute."

"In any case of doubt whether any one is an officer any German soldier should be saluted. Any one failing in this must expect a German soldier to exact respect from him by any method."

Other sections say that a person failing without delay to obey an order to hold up his hand is liable to death. The same penalty is fixed for anyone, except soldiers, entering the grounds of headquarters between dusk and dawn or for circulating false news which might injure the morale of the army.

"While by the above directions inhabitants are menaced with severe penalty if they break the rules," the proclamation says in conclusion, "they may, if they conduct themselves peaceably, count on benevolent protection and succor on all occasions when they may be wronged."

DAMAGING FIRE VISITS MONTREAL

12 FAMILIES OF HOCHELAGA
WARD TENEMENT BLOCKS
ARE RENDERED HOMELESS

Montreal, Sept. 23.—Nearly a dozen families are homeless as the result of a big fire in the Hochelaga ward today. At 10 o'clock the brigade was summoned to 1180 St. Germain street immediately adjoining the Canadian Pacific Railway Angus shops, but before their arrival the flames had got such a hold on the frail structures that four complete blocks of tenement houses are now a heap of ruins.

SERBIAN TROOPS

London, Sept. 23, 6.50 p.m.—A despatch to the Reuter Telegram Company, from Nish, says that Serbian troops have recaptured Lubovia after violent fighting, in which the losses were very heavy on each side. Further to the left the Serbians have occupied Srebrenia (ten miles southwest of Lubovia in Bosnia).

GERMANY'S FINANCIAL PRE-DICAMENT.

Count Witte's expression of belief made a week ago that the combined economic and financial strain of the war will reach the breaking point in three months at least and perhaps in two meets some degree of confirmation in the news that is filtering through from Germany. The Frankfurter Zeitung speaks openly of the gravity of the situation. Popular manifestations and other signs of an economic crisis are appearing. There is a steady rise in the price of staples and these, it is feared, will have a rebound in the financial risks which Germany has assumed.

French opinion is that the heavy exactions imposed upon Belgium centers, such as the 200,000,000 francs assessed on Brussels and the 60,000,000 francs on Liege, and no doubt numerous others, are indicative of a desperate need of money upon the part of the German Government. Otherwise, it is argued, Germany would not have risked setting this pace in the matter of indemnities. Should the war now go against Germany, these Belgium indemnities would be an unsupportable argument in favor of the Allies demanding from Germany indemnity based upon the same scale. That there must shortly appear a need for funds in Germany is suggested by the almost complete tieing up of German industry and trade. Production appears to be practically at a standstill. According to The Tageblatt, of Berlin, one-third of the city's textile workers are unemployed, while of a woodworkers union having a membership of 27,000, 14,000 are admittedly out of work, not counting those in the army.

Germany's war outlay is conservatively estimated at $10,400,000 per day. The war has now been in progress for over seven weeks and Germany's expenditure in that time upon this estimate would be half a billion dollars. For this tremendous outlay nothing has been accomplished unless it be the holding of a narrow strip of Northern France. The possession of this strip is being stubbornly contested and may be lost to Germany at any moment. Germany's armies have evidently been driven into a defensive position from which they are not likely to emerge. It becomes apparent that the direct cost of keeping the enemy out of Germany will require the sum, every seven weeks, of half a billion dollars. At this rate Germany's war bill will by Christmas have reached the appalling sum of a billion and a half of dollars. In the meantime internal stagnation will have become more intensified and the cost of maintaining the army will be duplicated many times over in industrial and commercial losses. That this situation must very quickly spell ruin to Germany seems to admit of no contradiction.

HINDU TROOPS

By this time some of the Hindus brought from India to fight under the British flag on French soil must be at or very near the scene of hostilities. Doubtless we shall very soon hear of their exploits. Most people, therefore, will be interested in learning what manner of men they are.

There happens to be in Toronto a man who knows them thoroughly well—the Rev. J. G. Brown, Secretary of the Baptist Foreign Missions of Canada, and himself a missionary of long and varied experience in all parts of the Indian empire. In a recent interview with the Toronto News, he said: "My greatest wish, and what I am looking for every day, is for a strong force of Indian troops to land on the continent. When they do, you may be sure they will give a good account of themselves. Fighters, every man of them, I have never seen a finer sight than the native cavalry. Men and horses seem one creature. The riders look as if they had been born in the saddle. Fight? Why, there isn't finer fighting material in the whole world. Sikhs, Gurkhas and the rest of the northern tribes are born fighters. Led by British officers, they will face anything."

When asked whether they would stand against modern guns and trained troops like the Germans, he said: "Undoubtedly. They are themselves trained in the use of the most modern weapons in every arm of the service. And they want to fight. At the time of the Boer war, they begged to be allowed to fight for the empire, but Britain was afraid—afraid of letting them know how effective they could be against white troops. Oh, there is no fear of them not facing the best that can be brought against them. I hope to see 50,000 or 60,000 of them fighting in France as soon as they can be got there. If called on, India could and would place half a million of these splendid fighters in the field." The recent wonderful manifestation of loyalty on the part of the Indian princes and people comports with Mr. Brown's opinion in that respect. He fears no uprising, such as Germany would fain incite among the people when the regular troops are withdrawn. "The native population of India," he says, "is, roughly, 316,000,000. Of this 66,000,000 are Mohammedans, and the other 250,000,000 Hindus. There is no possibility of these two classes pulling together. They are too much opposed to each other. The Mohammedans would not rise in revolt, for fear of the Hindus."

A recent English writer, while highly praising the Sikhs, speaks still more enthusiastically of the Gurkhas. Of them he says: "Aryan by descent (like ourselves), and professing by way of faith a sort of purified Hinduism, still tinged by the Buddhism of earlier days, the Gurkha is a born fighting man—strong, sturdy, brave to a fault, famous alike for his endurance, his dogged tenacity, and his dash. He has come out victorious from some of the hardest fighting India has ever known. He has been loyal to us for more than a hundred years, and nothing will give him keener delight than to be fighting side by side with our own men in the greatest war that history has ever known, or ever will know. And these little brown men, with the bare and silent feet, and the courage that knows no check, are tremendous fighters. Hardy mountaineers for the most part, injured alike to heat and cold, and wonderful marksmen, it would be difficult to choose better auxiliaries in the task that now confronts the Allies. Moreover, they are a keenly intelligent race, and as tough as nails, splendid in a bayonet charge, and terrible at close quarters."

The Gurkhas have a peculiar weapon of their own for use in a hand-to-hand contest. It is a long, wide-bladed, keen-edged "kukri," with which they do even more effective work than with the bayonet.

When Canadians, Australians and Hindus are all fighting side by side under General French, the Kaiser will begin to realize the difference between a power that rules by love and one that seeks to rule by fear.

PRESS COMMENT.

In parts of India when a vigorous campaign has resulted in the extermination of tigers there has come such a pest of wild pigs that some people want the tigers back. That is the way it will be when the autocrats have been humbled in Europe. There will come such a pest of wild pigs—Socialists, pacifists, cranks and persons with a passion for deportment in others—that there will be regrets for the going of the autocrats. One of the great problems that come with free government is the handling of cranks who need to be sat on.—Life.

Without the aid of the Mother Country we would not be able, we who take upon ourselves the reputation of a great nation, to send a single bushel of our wheat across the seas. The thousands of French-Canadian tourists, priests and pilgrims, who visited Europe, would never have been able to return home had it not been for the protection of the British fleet. It is to be hoped that the terrible crisis through which we are passing will be a lesson to us and that we shall never again see politicians of either party, seeking to deceive the people of Canada as to their duty towards the Empire.—La Patrie, Montreal.

We give our children drums to beat. Before they stand upon their feet. We give them swords and soldiers. And at the game of war they play. We bend the twig of human kind. Yet marvel if the tree is inclined.

Early we learn that might is right. That life itself is one long fight. This world's a battlefield, we teach; Business is war—a common speech. We bash our brother on the nose. Yet weep if nations come to blows.

Our poems and pictures, books and plays. The doughty deeds of warriors praise. Our mode of speech, our mode of life. Are echoes of the transient strife. The women dress au militaire. Yet—"war's a horrible affair."

sion of arms. A master of military science, whose ability was proven at the time of the South African war, and even before then, his one great hobby is the war game. Napoleon was the ideal of his boyhood and in his almost passionate search for all information pertaining to the Corsican who became the "First Gentleman of France" he went deep into collateral subjects bearing upon Napoleon's career. The story of Waterloo and Napoleon's previous campaigns in France and Belgium caused him to make a study of every hillock, every forest and road in the country where Britain is now locked in death grip with the Empire's foes. As a consequence he is fighting on "known ground," and his complete knowledge has proven of such value to him that a few days ago he was able to direct a strategic retreat with a brilliancy that confounded an especially clever foe. Had the British commander been content to search only for information bearing upon the day's work he could not have achieved such a signal triumph. His bravery as a soldier, his military skill counted for not a little in assuring the success of his exploit but it was his accurate knowledge of the country in which he operated, knowledge acquired years before there was any possibility of its becoming of practical value to him, that, added to military skill and bravery, enabled him to do a deed which must rank him with the greatest military commanders the world has ever known.

As it was in the case of Sir John French, so it may be with any man. It has been written "opportunity makes the man," we prefer to read it "man makes the opportunity," for if the opportunity comes and the man is not capable of grasping it then its value to him is gone. If he is prepared by knowledge to grapple with opportunity and force it to yield of its advantage, then does it become of double value. But the chief thing is preparation. Sir John French by study and research fitted himself for an opportunity he did not dream would ever exist. When it came he was ready, and future historians will tell of the profit he made of it. There is a lesson for all in his experience.—St. John Standard.

ACID STOMACHS ARE DANGEROUS

NINE-TENTHS OF ALL STOMACH TROUBLE SAID TO BE DUE TO ACIDITY

A Physician's Advice on Cause and Cure

A famous physician whose successful researches into the cause and cure of stomach and intestinal diseases have earned for him an international reputation, said in the course of a recent lecture that nearly all intestinal troubles, as well as many diseases of the vital organs, were directly traceable to a deranged condition of the stomach which in turn was due nine times out of ten to excessive acidity, commonly termed sour stomach or heartburn, which not only irritated and inflamed the delicate lining of the stomach, but also set up gastritis and stomach ulcers. It is interesting to note that he condemns the use of patent medicines as well as of medical treatment for the stomach, stating that he and his colleagues have secured remarkable results by the use of ordinary bisulphated magnesia, which, by neutralizing the acidity of the food removes the source of the trouble. He contends that it is as foolish to treat the stomach itself as it would be for a man who stepped on a tack to rub liniment on the foot without first removing the tack. Remove the tack and the foot will heal itself—neutralize the acid and stomach troubles will disappear. Irritating medicines and medical treatments of the stomach remain acid; remove the acidity, and there will be no need for medicine—the inflamed lining of the stomach will then heal itself. Sufferers from acidity, sour stomach or heartburn should get a small bottle of bisulphated magnesia from their druggist, and take a teaspoonful in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water after meals, repeating in fifteen minutes if necessary, this being the dose which the doctor has found most efficacious in all cases.

IN AND ABOUT TOWN

NEWS NOTES FROM VALCARTIER CAMP

PREPARATIONS UNDER WAY FOR EARLY DEPARTURE FOR FRONT

Indications that the men will very soon break camp are everywhere in evidence at Valcartier just now.

When the contingent will sail, however, is a question which still remains unanswered. One thing is certain and that is no transports with troops will leave the Canadian shores until a convoy of battleships or cruisers is ready to accompany them across to the other side.

The heavy artillery yesterday tested out live shells in practice for the first time since the opening of the camp and an incessant cannonade could be heard on the grounds all afternoon. No exercises were indulged in other than kit inspections which could be noticed along the infantry lines and which also added to the general moving aspect.

Capt. Clifford has been appointed provost marshal of the Canadian contingent. He has done splendid work at the camp and has had experience in the South African campaign under Lord Kitchener.

It is understood that the Minister of Militia has decided to order a sufficient number of the combined entrenching tools and headshields which were given a test last week to supply each man in the contingent with one.

The entrenching tool resembles a garden spade, the only difference being that it has a very short handle and a hole in the blade through which the marksman thrusts his rifle. The tool is first used to dig trenches and stuck in front for the protection of the rifleman. The Minister appears satisfied that the implement is bullet proof and will, doubtless, be of great use to the men on active service.

When the date of departure has been definitely decided upon it is expected that the troops will be marched into Quebec to the transports. The engineers, under the superintendency of Major Hughes are at present working on the road to the city putting it into shape for the passage of the men, horses and guns. Work is also being done in the way of reinforcing the supports of several small bridges over which the troops will be compelled to pass.

The medical inspector at the camp spent a very busy day yesterday as there was a rush of men for inoculation. Many realize that a move is soon to be made and as quite a few have not received the second dose, they are now eager to receive it, fearful that they will be left behind unless this regulation is complied with, which will undoubtedly be the case.

The Council of Public Instruction

DISTINGUISHED PRELATES ATTEND MEETING OF THE CATHOLIC COMMITTEE IN QUEBEC

The Catholic Committee of the Council of Public Instruction met at the Parliament Buildings here yesterday morning, under the presidency of Hon. P. B. de la Bruere, Superintendent of Public Instruction.

At yesterday's session Abbe Arthur Roberts' book "Lecours sur Logique" was approved for use in Normal Schools. The report of the Examiners of the candidates for school inspectorships was received and two aspirants, Messrs. Leopold Langlois, of Quebec, and Mrs. Cudihy, of Montreal, were accepted, the former with great distinction and the latter with distinction.

It was resolved by the Committee to revise Article 30 of the Rules, dealing with the attendance of scholars at the schools.

Amongst those present yesterday were: Their Lordships the Archbishop of Montreal, of Chicoutimi, of Valleyfield, of Nicolet, of Mont Laurier and of Charlottetown; Mgr. Routher, representing the Archbishop of Ottawa; Abbe Lindsay, representing the Bishop of Pembroke; Mgr. Charliou, representing the Bishop of Sherbrooke; Mgr. Barry, representing the Bishop of Three Rivers; Abbe Gervais, representing the Bishop of Joliette; Mgr. Tetu, representing the Apostolic of the Gulf of St. Lawrence; Mgr. T. G. Rouleau, Abbe Desrosiers, Hon. Judge H. Archambault, Hon. Dr. G. J. Guerin, Hon. Cyr. F. Delage, Hon. Hector Champagne, Mr. Mathias Tellier, Mr. J. E. Prevost, Mr. John Ahern, Mr. Hyacinthe Fortier, Mr. Nap. Brisebois, Mr. Nere Tremblay, Mr. J. N. Miller, Secretary.

Evidence was commenced yesterday morning in a damage suit in which the plaintiff, Syr. Turgeon, a former brakeman on the I. C. R., is claiming $20,000 from the railway for suffering the loss of a leg and other injuries received in an accident a few months ago on a freight train at Cap St. Ignace.

EXCHEQUER COURT

Deputy Recorder DesRivieres' guests yesterday morning numbered twenty-one. Twenty of them were on the standard charge and were condemned to fines ranging from $2 and costs or one month. The twenty-first visitor added resisting the police and carrying a revolver to his drunk. On each of the two first charges he was fined $5 and costs or eight days' jail, and on the last $10 and costs or fifteen days.

THE LECTURE BY EX-PRESIDENT TAFT

WILL SPEAK BEFORE THE WOMEN'S CANADIAN CLUB HERE ON SATURDAY

What will, undoubtedly, prove one of the most interesting oratorical treats which Quebecers have enjoyed in a long time will be the lecture before the Women's Canadian Club at the Chateau Frontenac on Saturday afternoon by Mr. William Taft, ex-President of the United States.

Interesting Subject

Ex-President Taft who, for two years, has been one of the most prominent summer residents of Murray Bay has accepted the invitation of the Women's Branch of the Canadian Club and will lecture on "The Presidency of the United States, its responsibilities, its duties and incidents." The subject is a highly important one and no one is better qualified to develop it than Mr. Taft.

Men Invited

In order to afford everyone an opportunity of hearing this lecture Mr. L. A. Canon, President of the Women's Club announces that the ladies have decided to admit the men for a fee of fifty cents each, the proceeds to be devoted to the Patriotic Fund.

The management of the Chateau, entering into the spirit of the event, has placed the large drawing room at the disposal of the ladies for the lecture which will begin at four o'clock.

Mr. Taft, who is at present at Murray Bay, will be the guest of the Canadian Government on his return trip to Quebec, the Canadian steamer Druid having been placed at his disposal. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Taft and Miss Louise Taft.

Guest of Governor

The party is due to arrive here at eleven o'clock Saturday morning and after the lecture in the afternoon, Mr. Taft will be the guest of honor at Spencer Wood, where His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor Sir Francois Langelier will entertain the distinguished American visitor at dinner in the evening.

It is expected that a large number of Quebecers will avail themselves of this rare opportunity of hearing such a noted orator as well as helping to increase the contributions to the Patriotic Fund.

PEANUT FARMS ARE BIG MONEY MAKERS

Hundred Bushels to Acre Are Grown On Them in Oklahoma

Oklahoma City, Sept. 23.—Although planting of peanuts has been delayed to some extent by the heavy rains, the reports that are received from many sections of the State where peanuts are being grown are highly encouraging, and it is expected that the total yield this year will be greater than that of last year by half.

The soil throughout the State is in such excellent condition that there will be a great amount of late planting, which will make splendid yields; and in sections of the State where cotton and other crops have been seriously damaged by the heavy rains, and where replanting of these crops is likely to prove a losing venture, it has been suggested that peanuts be planted, as they will thrive in weather conditions that would prove detrimental to other crops.

To encourage the late planting of peanuts the price of seed peanuts on the local market has been reduced from $2.50 for a bushel of 80 pounds to $1.80. There are plenty of good seed peanuts available on the local market, and peanuts can be planted any time, with the assurance of a good yield.

For the last ten years the average has been from 35 to 40 bushels per acre and in some sections there has been a yield of 100 bushels per acre. Not only is peanuts one of the safest crops that can be planted in the state but it carries a great advantage of being one of the surest feed crops, as over a ton of peanut hay can be realized from an acre of peanuts and this hay has the same value as alfalfa for feed, according to enthusiasts of the crop.

The food value of Oklahoma grown peanuts is much greater than those grown in other parts of the country owing to the soil being adapted for the culture of peanuts and the excellent climatic conditions.

There can be found in Oklahoma City a market for every bushel of peanuts raised in the State, and last summer manufacturers of peanut products were compelled to go outside of the state to obtain a supply of peanuts sufficient to keep factories in operation.

The price paid last year for good quality peanuts averaged $1 per bushel, and it is reasonably safe to expect a price of from 90 cents to $1.10 per bushel this fall, with a market for the entire yield in Oklahoma City.

RECORDER'S COURT.

Deputy Recorder DesRivieres' guests yesterday morning numbered twenty-one. Twenty of them were on the standard charge and were condemned to fines ranging from $2 and costs or one month. The twenty-first visitor added resisting the police and carrying a revolver to his drunk. On each of the two first charges he was fined $5 and costs or eight days' jail, and on the last $10 and costs or fifteen days.

$148,670.60 NOW IN PATRIOTIC FUND

THIS INCLUDES PALACE WARD WHICH HAS CONTRIBUTED $3,944.40 TO DATE.

It is expected that Quebec will today have $150,000 as its contribution to the Canadian Patriotic Fund, the amount of which is now $148,670.60.

Yesterday, the joint treasurers received $3,944.40, a sum which included the contribution of Palace Ward to date.

Alderman Dr. Lantier and Mr. F. de B. Gourdeau, captain and treasurer of the team in that ward, declared last evening, that they had in hand for the moment $3,012.40 and added that they expected some more important sums within a few days. Both mentioned especially that they appreciated the generous gifts of Cardinal Begin and of the Seminary, who have contributed for $1,000 each.

It is, indeed, a very satisfactory result of which the collectors are to be congratulated.

The last list of contributions sent directly to the joint treasurers included the following amounts:

Palace Ward, to date, names to be given later on and more to come ... $3,012.40

Corporation of Pilots ... 500.00

F. C. Laurie ... 250.00

Barry, H. D. ... 50.00

Garneau, Hon. N. ... 50.00

Whelan, Will J. ... 25.00

Gilmour, Mrs. J. D. ... 25.00

Sewell, Mrs. Alex., of Pont Rouge ... 20.00

A Friend ... 20.00

Thomson, Mrs. Andrew ... 20.00

Choquette, Hon. F. A. ... 10.00

A sympathizer ... 5.00

Debbage, Rev. J. B., Grosse Isle ... 5.00

Hardy, Leon ... 2.00

Total ... $3,944.40

Mr. Arthur Lachance, M.P., captain of St. John Ward team, declared yesterday, that the work done in that Ward to date, was satisfactory and that he expected to be in a position to give a very good report within a few days.

The collection in St. Louis Ward will be most imposing, though many citizens of that Ward have already sent in their contribution. The collectors are at work steadily under the direction of Alderman Dr. N. A. Dussault, captain of the team. We hope that he will be in a position to give soon the final result in that ward.

Montcalm will start without further delay in the same way, as Dr. Verge, who is captain of the team, is determined to rivalize with the above mentioned wards in the way of success. At the meeting held last night, a committee was formed and called upon to meet Friday night, when organization will be completed and the names of the collectors with the territory they will have to cover will be made public.

St. Roch, St. Sauveur and St. Malo, as well as St. Valer, are also in a position to begin their collection. The great meeting that took place Tuesday evening has given occasion to many citizens of that Ward for taking part into the movement and the success will no doubt be a good reward to their efforts.

In the other wards, organization work is not yet complete, and it is going to be completed in a short delay.

IS BOURRET AUTHOR OF LEVIS MURDER?

POLICE HAVE NOT YET SUCCEEDED IN CONNECTING HIM WITH IT.

The attempt of the Quebec authorities to establish a connection between Ismael Bourret, convicted of manslaughter in Montreal, and the killing of Odina Guay, a Levis carter, last summer, has so far proved futile.

Bourret, who was brought to Quebec on Tuesday, could not be identified yesterday with the Levis crime, although the police believe they may yet establish the convicting link.

WANT MORE FOR LAND EXPROPRIATED

INTERESTING CASE BEING HEARD IN EXCHEQUER COURT.

Mr. Justice Audette, in the Exchequer Court, is hearing evidence in a case arising out of the expropriation by the Government of a certain portion of land occupied by the Frontenac Gas Co. plant in St. Malo. The land expropriated is for the Transcontinental Railway, for which $3,856 has been offered.

This amount is not deemed sufficient by the Q. R., L., H. & P. Co., which is asking $30,000 for the portion taken and $50,000 for the depreciation of the balance of the ground. The case has been occupying the court for the past few days. Mr. G. G. Stuart and Mr. L. Morand are acting for the Crown and Mr. T. Chase Casgrain and Mr. E. A. D. Morgan for the company.

WOMAN'S BEST MEDICINE

Mrs. Kelly Advises all Women to Take "Fruit-a-lives"

Haagsville, Ont., Aug. 26th, 1913.

"I can highly recommend 'Fruit-a-lives' because they did me an awful lot of good and I cannot speak too highly about them. About four years ago, I commenced taking 'Fruit-a-lives' for a general break-down and they did me a world of good. We bought a good many dollar's worth, but it was money well spent because they did all that you claim for them. Their action is so pleasant, compared with other laxatives, that I found only pleasure, as well as health, in taking them. They seemed to me to be particularly suited to women, on account of their mild and gentle action, and I trust that some other women may start taking 'Fruit-a-lives' after reading my letter, and if they do, I am satisfied the results will be the same as in my own case."

MRS. W. N. KELLY

"Fruit-a-lives" are sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

POETRY AND PUNCTUATION.
In his poem "Narcissus" Robert Bridges, the English poet laureate, has banished the comma entirely, so that a procession of adjectives may be taken, at the reader's option, as separate qualities or as qualifying each other. Thus one may call his hero "almighty wondrous" or regard him as being both. Mr. Bridges' principles of punctuation are not obvious. He loves the exclamation mark, using it five times in the twenty-eight lines of the poem, and sprinkles dashes about with prodigality. He adopts the colon and does not slight the interrogation mark, while using now and then a full stop.—Chicago News.

PRICE THE SAME FROM SEA TO SEA

Semi-ready Clothes Establish the Standard of Value in Canada.

With the advent of many attractive new styles in Semi-ready tailoring there arises this season the question of price—for the higher cost of living makes the cost question a vital one.

The label in the pocket is intended as a protection to the customer—a guarantee of full value.

The "same price West as East" has been the slogan of Semi-ready.

There has seldom been a complaint from a Semi-ready store because of the close profits this policy compels. But this "lesser profit" has always been the first objection of a merchant who takes a superficial look when considering getting the best known line in Canada. A satisfied customer is an asset to any store and the standard of value will win his lasting trade. These splendid garments may be seen at these two stores:

WAR NEWS

tonight, after announcing that there has been no change in the situation on the battle front since the issuance of the previous communication, makes some comments on the Battle of the Aisne.

The text of the announcement is as follows:

"There has been no change in the situation since the last communication.

"The battle which is in progress along the Aisne has extended over eight days, but it should cause no surprise if one recalls the Russo-Japanese War.

"The Battle of the Marne was an action undertaken in the open field, which began with a general resumption of the offensive by the French army against the enemy who did not expect it and had not had time seriously to organize effective positions. The same cannot be said of the Battle of the Aisne, where the adversary, who was retreating, stooped and took position, which by the nature of the ground are very substantial in themselves in many places and which he has been able gradually to improve as to organization.

"This battle of the Aisne, therefore, present, on a large part of its front, the character of war by assault similar to the operations in Manchuria.

"It might be added that the exceptional power of the artillery facing each other—the heavy German artillery against the French 7.5 centimeter cannons—gives a particular value to the temporary fortifications which the two adversaries have drawn up.

"The task is, therefore, to take whole rows of entrenchments, each one protected by very close defences, particularly rows of barbed wire, with mitrailleuses in concealed positions.

"In these circumstances, progress of necessity must be slow. It often happens that the progress of the attacks only amounts to from 500 meters to one kilometer a day."

MONTREAL RECEIVES BELGIAN MISSION

HEARTY AND SYMPATHETIC WELCOME IS TENDERED TO THEM ON ARRIVAL THERE.

Montreal, Sept. 23.—A hearty and sympathetic reception was given by Montreal tonight to the Belgian delegation to Washington, who arrived at the Windsor Station at 10 o'clock. The distinguished party consisted of M. Carton De Wiart, Minister of Justice and head of the Belgian delegation; Emile Van Der Velde, leader of the Socialist wing in the Belgian parliament; Comte De Lichtervelde, secretary to the Prime Minister of Belgium, and M. Hymans, a leading member of the parliament of Belgium.

Several thousand citizens were at the station to greet the visitors, and besides patriotic airs from the 65th Regiment Band, there was singing of the Belgian and British and French national anthems by the crowd. Mayor Martin and a number of members of the City Council were on hand to extend the city's welcome, and among the organizations represented were the Board of Trade, Canadian Club and Chambre De Commerce.

Mr. Clarence I. De Sol, consul for Belgium, was with the party, he having met them at St. Johns, Que., where a ten-minute welcome was given by the mayor and clergy of St. Johns.

The party went from the Windsor Station, Montreal, to the Windsor Hotel. There M. De Wiart briefly addressed a gathering, and expressed the delegates' pleasure at being in Canada. "We will lay before the people the facts of our mission," he said; "we will lay before the world the barbarities our nation has suffered at the hands of the Germans in our fight to uphold the honor of our nation—our fight for civilization against barbarians." In conclusion M. De Wiart called for cheers for the Allies, which were heartily given.

A somewhat full program has been arranged for them tomorrow concluding with a mass meeting in the Monument National at night. They will leave for Chicago on Friday morning.

THE RUSSIAN MOVEMENTS.

Paris, Sept. 23, 11.02 p.m.—The Havas Agency tonight received the following Russian official statement from Petrograd:

"Pursuing the retreating Austrian army the Russian troops have reached the Wislow River (in Austrian Galicia) and in the region of Przemyel our operations are developing with success.

"On the German front the Russian troops are in close contact with the Germans, but no engagement has occurred."

ENGLISH OFFICERS KILLED.

London, Sept. 23, 11.15 p.m.—The War Office tonight issued a list containing the names of twenty-five officers killed in action or who have died in hospitals from wounds. The list includes Lieut.-Col. D. Warren West, of the Surrey Regiment and Lieut. Sir G. C. S. Baillie of the Royal Scots Greys. Major A. H. Maitland, of the Cameron Highlanders, who was reported last week as wounded, is given in tonight's list as having succumbed to his wounds. He was the third son of the Earl of Lauderdale. An additional list shows 41 officers wounded and five officers missing. Two of them are members of the intelligence corps. Three officers have been made prisoners of war, including one member of the Royal Flying Corps.

Mont-De-Marsan, via Bordeaux.—Among the German wounded who have arrived here are Lieut. George Von Bieherstein, nephew of the late Baron Marschall Von Bieherstein, once German Ambassador to Great Britain, and Lieut. Von Jagow, a son of the German Foreign Minister, Gottlieb Von Jagow.

NEWFOUNDLAND MAY SUPPLY RESERVE MEN

St. John's, Nfld., Sept. 24.—It is thought probable here that as a result of the heavy losses of the naval reservists in the North Sea fight yesterday, Newfoundland reservists, whose services heretofore were not needed, will now likely be called to the colors. The captain of H.M.S. Cressy, Lieut. Bernard Harvey, was a Newfoundland, a native of St. John's, a son of the late Hon. A. W. Harvey, principal of the largest shipping firm at St. John's.

Lieut. Harvey was married about four years ago to a daughter of Hon. Josiah Wood, Lieut.-Governor of New Brunswick.

GERMANS HAVE MINED OUTSKIRTS OF BRUSSELS.

London, Sept. 23.—A despatch to the Central News from Antwerp says:

"Fifteen hundred Germans arrived this morning at Ath, fifteen miles north-west of M. 4 s, Belgium, coming from France.

"The outskirts of Brussels have everywhere been mined and strongly entrenched. The entire German garrison has left for Ath, Tournai and the adjacent districts, where barricades also have been erected to prevent the Belgians falling on the Germans should the Germans be compelled to retreat from France."

FINANCE MINISTER DEALS WITH WAR

Brockville, Ont., Sept. 23.—At the organization meeting of the Conservatives of the new Dominion riding of Leeds, which is now composed of the former ridings of South Leeds and Brockville, held at Athens, the principal address was delivered by Hon. W. T. White, Minister of Finance, member for the old riding of Leeds. His speech dealt almost exclusively with the war, and after a brilliant sketch of the events leading up to the conflict, he summed up the situation by saying that Germany deliberately brought it on, and that the present struggle was whether the soldier or the citizen should rule; autocracy or democracy, despotism or freedom.

The Canadian Parliament was unanimous in voting money with which to wage war against a power which was judged "guilty" by the tribunal of the neutral nations of the earth.

Paris, Sept. 24.—A son of Field Marshal Count von Moltke has been killed in the fighting at Esterny.

WANTS CENSORSHIP EVEN MORE RIGID

MORNING POST SAYS GREAT BRITAIN SHOULD USE MORE DISCRETION.

London, Sept. 24, 2.56 a.m.—The Morning Post in an editorial, in effect, praises the move of the Official Press Bureau for a more stringent censorship of war news.

"It is to be hoped," says the Post, "that Great Britain will continue to exercise discretion in the publication of news, even when it is permitted by the Press Bureau. It may be safely assumed that every scrap of information appearing in the British newspapers, which can possibly be of use to the German General Staff, will be communicated to that staff within a few hours. It is possible to give a cipher message, the appearance of a plain message."

Speaking of the necessity for the enrollment of new troops the Post says: "It is not clear that the public even yet has fully grasped the magnitude of the conflict and the exertions required for success."

TRUE BILL AGAINST DR. ROBINSON

Sarnia, Ont., Sept. 23.—Frank Miller, 29 years old, but a few weeks out from Germany, of whose regular army he is still a member, was taken from a train from the States tonight and goes to Kingston tomorrow as a prisoner of war.

ITALIAN TRIED TO SHOOT COMPATRIOT.

London, Ont., Sept. 23.—Ruffin Ruffel, an Italian, was arrested this afternoon charged with shooting with intent to kill, the complainant being Muluzi Gilbani, a compatriot. ACCUSED OF HAVING STOLEN BANK BILLS

Toronto, Sept. 23.—Patrick J. Welsh was arrested at the Woodbine race track here this afternoon on the charge of having in his possession $500 in bills stolen from the Bank of Montreal. This is said to be part of the two hundred thousand dollars stolen from the branch of the bank at New Westminster two years ago, and Welsh is believed to be one of a gang organized with headquarters in Chicago to get rid of this money. He was playing the races heavily and was apparently successful, as he had a large amount of money on him when arrested.

PORT OF LONDON IS CHOKED

London, Sept. 23.—The port of London affords a striking example of the effect of sea power in war. It is now congested with imports, including an immense quantity of wheat intended for the enemy's countries, which has been diverted by the fleet, so that the suction pipes used in unloading the wheat are overtaxed by the supply. All recorded figures of the general business of the port have been surpassed and fresh accommodation is being added at the West India, East India and London docks, and three large new sheds are being erected at Tilbury. While Hamburg is quite idle, the enemy's cargoes diverted to London already total 210,000 tons.

GENERAL NOTES

Steamers Mounthy, Captain Tudor, from the St. Lawrence, has arrived at Fastnet.

Steamer Ethelinda, Captain Drakeford, has arrived at Queenstown from the St. Lawrence.

HARBOR OF PORT NELSON

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—That the terminals and harbor at Port Nelson will be completed by the time that steel has been laid to the port, was the statement made by Mr. W. A. Bowden, Chief Engineer of Railways and Canals, who returned from an inspection trip there today. The tug dredge, the Port Nelson, is working in the channel at the mouth of the river. Mr. Bowden will submit a report to Hon. Frank Cochrane. His journey was made by way of Hudson Straits, and although he met some ice on the way in, none was visible on the return route.

At the port, the health of the men working on the contracts is good, and they are amply provisioned for a year.

TIME IN PALESTINE.

It is So Erratic That Making a Train Is Quite a Feat.

In Jerusalem town time and train time are different, 40 minutes different, and both are variable. Train officials say the train leaves for Jaffa at 6:40 o'clock in the morning, but 6:40 o'clock by train time is 7:20 o'clock by town time. One morning when we were starting for Egypt we ordered our carriage for 7 o'clock. Arriving at the station at 7:15 o'clock, we found the train gone and the station empty. At last was routed out an official.

"Where's the train?" we demanded. "Gone, messieurs."

"Gone? You've changed the hour of the train, then?"

"Non, non, messieurs. The train leaves at the same hour always, but the time has changed. Yesterday 6:40 o'clock train time was 7:20 o'clock town time. Today 6:40 o'clock train time is 7 o'clock town time. No, no!"

—and he smiled patronizingly—"the train always leaves at the same hour; our trains never change—it is the time that alters itself, not the train, messieurs."

"We sought the telegraph office. 'To the steamer agent to Jaffa,' we dictated. 'Missed train. Cancel passage on boat for Egypt. Wire date of next sailing for Port Said.' This was turned into flowery Turkish and sent. A reply came soon.

"Plenty of time. Your boat will wait till tomorrow afternoon, for the water is so rough she cannot land her passengers and cargo today. Plenty of time if you take the train tomorrow."—Atlantic Monthly.

ORIGIN OF WORD "MUSTARD"

Our English word "mustard" is traceable to the French "moutarde," the origin of which is curiously given in 1382 Philip the Bold, duke of Burgundy, granted to the town of Dijon the privilege of bearing his armorial ensigns, with the motto "Moutle marte" ("I wish ardently"), in return for a handsome contingent of a thousand men furnished to him at its expense. Pleased with the royal concession the authorities ordered the device to be affixed over the principal gates of the city. Time or accident at length obliterated the middle word, and the two remaining, moutle marte, were printed on the labels which the merchants of Dijon pasted on pots in which they sent this commodity all over the world.

AS GOOD AS HIS WORD

He—I always make it a point to profit by the mistakes of others.

She—I got weary of Geo. Brixton because he never seemed to know when to go home.

He then had her good night—Cleveland Leader.

IS HE CRAZY?
The owner of a large plantation in Mississippi, where the fine figs grow, is giving away a few five-acre fruit tracts. The only condition is that figs be planted. The owner wants enough figs raised to supply a co-operative canning factory. You can secure five acres and an interest in the canning factory by writing the Eubank Farms Company, 823 Keystone, Pittsburgh, Pa., U. S. A. They will plant and care for your trees for $6 per month. Your profit should be $1,000 per year. Some think this man is crazy for giving away such valuable land, but there may be method in his madness.

COMMERCIAL NEWS

NEW YORK MARKET.
 (Canadian Press.)
 New York, Sept. 23.—Financial developments of the day, so far as they bore upon domestic conditions, were of a hopeful character. The outcome of the New York City $100,000,000 loan, with the notes already quoted at a substantial premium, and the energy manifested by the leading bankers of the country in connection with the gold pool were regarded as sure indications of returning confidence.

There was a renewal of the gold movement to Canada, over $3,000,000 being shipped to Ottawa, presumably in connection with the city loan, to which participants paid their second instalment today.

Foreign exchange moved uncertainly again, early bills being sold under yesterday's high rates, but rebounding later on an unexpected demand for cotton bills, some of which it was said, were for Berlin and Hamburg. In the local money market loans were made with more freedom, some at 7 per cent. Another feature was the better demand for commercial paper, at a shade under that rate, by interior banks.

The weekly reviews of the steel trade authorities furnished the only discordant note of the day, it being lately declared that conditions have grown worse instead of better. Consumers, it was asserted, are well provided for the balance of the year and the money market is calculated to restrict new buying. It is not denied that there have been price concessions in some products.

Lower prices have stimulated a better demand for copper, but the further curtailment of the operations at Michigan and Montana points of production is viewed as an infallible barometer of the adverse conditions in that industry.

Despite a reduction in operating expenses of almost $700,000, the Baltimore and Ohio railroad reported a net loss for August of $235,000.

Cables from London, touching upon the efforts under way to resume trading there on a modified basis, were received with much interest. It was still the conservative opinion that no attempt should be made to reopen the local exchange until the British moratorium is lifted and greater ease is assumed to the international money market.

THE GENERAL STAFF AND ITS DUTIES.

Yesterday, the army was considered as wielding three weapons, infantry, cavalry and artillery; but a correspondent wants to know why the general staff was omitted. The best answer is that it was omitted because the most important duties of a general staff are not discharged in battle. The members do their work long before war is declared; but, since success or victory may depend upon the intelligence and the thoroughness with which these duties are discharged, it is proper that the work of the general staff should be considered and explained. What the spy does in time of peace, the general staff does in time of war. It makes preparations for war, gathers every piece of available information regarding a possible enemy, and plans the campaign in advance. It is a common notion that these plans are the product of the War Office, but the fact is that the War Office and the general staff are distinct. The duties of the War Office, as laid down by a "European Military Officer," who writes in the New York Sun, concern the purely administrative functions relating to finance, military justice, the providing of armament and all equipment, recruiting and all material provision for the feeding, clothing and housing of the men, and the care of the animals belonging to the army.

Preparing For War.
 It is the work of the general staff to study, organize and determine the use of the country's armed forces on land and sea; the general staff is in constant communication with the Foreign Office concerning the political relations with other countries, and the Foreign Secretary immediately communicates to the general staff if he sees upon the horizon the slightest cloud that might darken international relations. The duties of the general staff are divided into several sections.

Germany knew what she would attempt; Britain, France and Belgium knew what she would attempt, and therefore knew what they would do. Did Germany also know what they would do, and make plans to defeat their plan? This is the problem that will be settled, probably, in the course of the next few days. It is extremely unlikely that any of the great movements that will take place in the early stages of the war are decided upon by the generals in their tents overnight. They have been decided upon by the respective general staffs of the warring nations. In a war that lasts a year the skill of generals comes into play after a few months, when there has been opportunity for the unseen to arise, for half a dozen victories or only a couple of defeats have been anticipated. But we may say that up to the present time the plan of campaign, as decided upon and cover the collection of all available data in foreign countries concerning the organization, equipment, armament and tactics of foreign armies, also concerning the capacity of railroads and other transport facilities, such as the loading and landing of troops, wharfare, railway stations, rolling stock, bridges and all other topographical conditions, the details of the food resources in these countries, and, in fact, the work, so far as can be learned, of the general staff in every other foreign country.

British Work Well Done.
 The same information is collected with regard to the home country, with the object of making mobilization as swift and certain as possible in time of emergency, and it might be remarked that, judging from the celerity and secrecy with which the first British army has been collected and landed in France, the work of the British general staff appears to have been well done. However, it must be assumed that the work of German and Austrian general staffs have been well done, too. A great part of the information upon which a general staff relies is easily available. It is true that only by subsidizing spies a general staff can learn full particulars as regards fortifications and guns, their number, disposition and range, and it is safe to say that all general staffs have in their pay foreigners whose business it is to supply these data; but, apart from these details, the general staff can easily acquire all the necessary information. The proof of its ability is the use it is able to make of its knowledge.

Present Plans Long Formed.
 We have seen that the Kaiser embarked upon the present war with a definite plan of campaign. France has such a powerful chain of forts upon her German border that the Kaiser realized that to penetrate French territory south of Belgium, and thus advance upon Paris, would be a long-drawn-out and perhaps an impossible task. Therefore he chose rather to incur the hostility of Britain than to give up the plan prepared by his general staff for an invasion of Belgium. It is to be assumed, also, that France perceived that Germany would invade Belgium rather than attempt a direct invasion of France itself. Britain, too, is not likely to have been caught napping, and it is plain that Belgium was not wholly unprepared for the events of the past fortnight.

First Moves Can Be Predicted.
 Germany knew what she would attempt; Britain, France and Belgium knew what she would attempt, and therefore knew what they would do. Did Germany also know what they would do, and make plans to defeat their plan? This is the problem that will be settled, probably, in the course of the next few days. It is extremely unlikely that any of the great movements that will take place in the early stages of the war are decided upon by the generals in their tents overnight. MAKES APOLOGIES FOR THE GERMANS

VON BETHMANN-HOLLWEG ACCUSES BRITAIN OF ACTS OF TREACHERY.

New York, Sept. 23.—The full text of the signed statement of the German Chancellor, Theobald von Bethmann-Hollweg, given in Berlin to the representatives of the American press, and in which he declared, the Emperor "has complete confidence in the sense of justice of the American people who will not let themselves be hoodwinked by the campaign of lies which our foes are waging against us," was received by the United Press today from Karl H. von Wiegand, its staff correspondent in Berlin. The statement, issued under date of September 4, follows:

"I do not know what is thought in America of this war. But I assume that since its beginning the exchange of telegrams between His Majesty the Emperor and the Czar of Russia and the King of England has been made public. This proves irrefutably that our Emperor strove until the very last moment to maintain peace. His efforts were destined to remain futile because Russia was determined to have war at all hazards, while England, which for a whole decade had been fomenting enmity against the German national spirit in Russia and France, now found a splendid opportunity to prove its oft asserted desire for peace, but preferred to let this go by; otherwise the war of our country with France and England could have been avoided.

"Once the official archives are opened the world will learn how often Germany put forth a hand of friendship toward England. But England wanted none of Germany's friendship. Jealous of the development of Germany and feeling that the English were being surpassed by German efficiency and German industry in many fields, England longed to overthrow Germany by sheer force of arms, just as of yore it ground down Spain, Holland and France.

"Accordingly, England thought the proper moment had come, and therefore made the German advance into Belgium a welcome pretext for taking part in the war. But Germany was driven to this advance into Belgium because we had to anticipate the planned French advance into Belgium for which the Belgians were only waiting to make common cause with France. That this was only a pretext for England is proved by the fact that Sir Edward Grey as early as the afternoon of August 2—that is before Germany's violation of Belgian neutrality—unconditionally promised the help of England to the French ambassador at the Court of St. James. In the case of a bombardment of the French coast by the German navy.

"But British policy knows no moral scruples and thus the British government, which has always posed as a champion of liberty and justice, has allied itself with Russia, the spokesman of the worst despotism, a country that knows no intellectual nor religious freedom, and which treats under foot the liberties of whole peoples as well as of individuals.

"Already England must begin to see that she had made a miscalculation since Germany is winning the mastery over her foes. Therefore, England now tries to injure Germany by the most petty means, striking at our commerce and our colonies, while, regardless of the inevitable consequences for the common civilization of our white race, England has provoked Japan to a predatory raid upon our colony at Kiau-Chau, and has led the negroes of Africa to battle against the Germans in our colonies there.

"After destroying all of Germany's means of communication across the sea, England went further and opened an all-round campaign of lies. Thus you Americans are told that German troops have burned down Belgian villages and cities, but you are not told that Belgian women gouged out the eyes of our helpless wounded men lying on the battle field. The officials of Belgian cities invited officers of our armies to eat with them, and then shot them dead across the table. Contrary to all laws of humanity, the whole civil population of Belgium was called to arms and Belgium civilians after their first friendly reception of our troops, shot them down from behind with concealed weapons and committed all manner of horrible cruelties. Belgian women have cut the throats of German soldiers whom they had received in their houses, after these soldiers unsuspectingly had lain down to sleep.

"England will also have told you nothing of those dum-dum bullets, which the English and the French, despite all formal conventions and all pretences of humanity employed against us. These dum-dum bullets have been shown here in their original packages, just as they were found in the possession of English and French prisoners of war.

"His Majesty, the Emperor, has authorized me to say all this and to declare that he has complete confidence in the sense of justice of the American people, who will not let themselves be hoodwinked by the campaign of lies which our foes are waging against us.

"Whoever has dwelt in Germany since this war broke out has had a chance to recognize the great moral awakening of our German people, who, beset on all sides, have gladly rushed into the field to defend their right to live, and all such foreign observers must know by this time that such a people is incapable of unnecessary cruelty, let alone bestiality.

"We shall win, thanks to the great moral momentum which a just cause has given to our armies, and in the end even the worst lies shall fail to obscure our victories any more than they can deprive us of our right."

VILLA COMES OUT AGAINST CARRANZA

DISAVOWS THE LATTER AS FIRST CHIEF OF THE CONSTITUTIONALIST ARMY.

Washington, Sept. 23.—General Villa has telegraphed General Carranza, disavowing the latter as first chief of the Constitutional army in charge of the executive power in Mexico. This was announced in a telegram from General Carranza tonight to the Constitutional Agency here.

General Villa at the same time announced that neither he nor his delegates would participate in the national convention called for October 1st, at Mexico City, to designate a provisional president.

The exchange of telegrams resulted from General Carranza's order to suspend railroad communication between Aguascalientes and Torreon until he could learn whether or not General Obregon, commander of the division of the north-east, was held under arrest by Villa.

"MISLEADING LADY" OPENS TONIGHT AT THE AUDITORIUM

Here is what a leading newspaper in an important city of the United States says of the play "The Misleading Lady," which opens tonight at the Auditorium for three nights and a matinee Saturday:

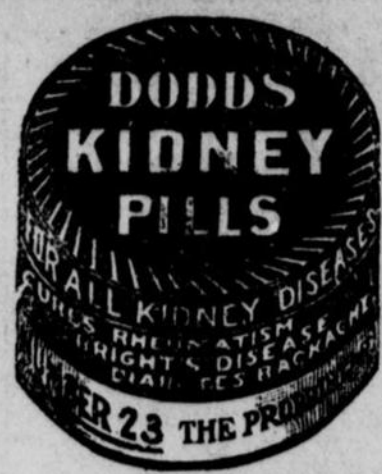

"The Misleading Lady" was the title of a delightful comedy drama, which Manager Hartford presented for an opening attraction for the season, and a good audience enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

"The comedy drama, and it is rightly named, for there is some real drama and a great deal of good comedy, has been playing in New York and other big town stands, but this is the first season on the road. It is very finely staged and presented by a most capable company, and there is not a slow spot in the entire three acts.

"Beresford Lovett as Jack Craigen was in the lead, and he is justly entitled to the place. A clever actor with a fine personality. Evelyn Watson as Helen Steele, who played a part, was very fine, an artist with considerable dramatic ability and pretty.

"All Hilton as 'Boney,' the escaped lunatic, had a part which is not often presented on the stage, but he certainly got away with it. He handled the part so that all times it was funny without being distasteful. A funny nut is putting it mildly. All of the company are clever and leaving nothing lacking in their characters.

The prices are 25c to $1.00 for the evening performances and 25c. and 50c. for the matinee.

NUMBER WOUNDED GROWS APPALLING

HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS ALREADY FILL BERLIN AND PARIS HOSPITALS.

New York, Sept. 23.—The number of wounded in battle in Europe is already in the hundreds of thousands, the hospitals of Paris and Berlin, cottages on the battlefields and the churches are filled, while many other wounded lie exposed in trenches, according to Ernest P. Bicknell, national director of the American Red Cross, who arrived here today on the steamship Olympic, from Liverpool. Mr. Bicknell spent several weeks observing conditions in the countries at war.

"Official reports give little definite information of the losses, but the number of the wounded, is already in the hundreds of thousands," Mr. Bicknell said. "The truth is that over the thousands of square miles already battle-swept, there have been lost almost countless thousands of men help less from ghastly wounds. Some have been gathered into trains by the Red Cross surgeons and nurses and taken to hospitals in the larger cities. Into Paris and Berlin thousands have already been brought and one by one the hospitals have been filled, public and private buildings have been utilized for the wounded, but still the numbers increase.

"Some of the wounded were taken into the cottages on the battlefields and the churches, but still there are thousands who lie in the trenches and in the fields suffering from thirst and exposure.

"Let no man imagine the American Red Cross can do too much or even enough. Nurses and surgeons are needed more and more and also medical and hospital supplies."

MAIL CLERK PLEADS GUILTY To Restore Stolen Money; Sentence Suspended

Montreal, Sept. 23.—J. L. Ploude, a Post-office clerk, pleaded guilty before Judge Lantot today, to stealing from the mails, and was allowed to go on suspended sentence. The decision was reached after a conference with Post-office officials. Ploude promised to restore the money he took from the letters.

When the Liver Gets Torpid

There is Nothing Like Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to Set it Right

Mrs. C. L. Cook, 248 Tenth street, Brandon, Man., writes: "I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for the last four years for liver trouble, and can say that I have had great satisfaction and help from them. I find that I do not need any doctor if I use them when the liver gets torpid, and believe that they are exactly suited for my case. My husband has used them for kidney trouble with good results, and my daughter in Winnipeg has been helped a great deal by the use of these pills. We say we can't keep house without them, and have cheated the doctors here out of a good many visits. I think Dr. Chase's medicines are just the thing, and have recommended them to many people who have used them with good results."

By keeping the liver active and the bowels regular Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills prevent and cure such disorders as biliousness, constipation, chronic indigestion and headache. One pill a dose, 25c a box, 5 for $1.00; all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.
