HERRIOT RECEIVES HEARTY APPROVAL OF FRENCH CABINET

British Special Squadron, Fog Bound, Reached Quebec Harbor at 1.30 P.M.

FRENCH CABINET APPROVES LONDON CONFERENCE PLAN

Premier Herriot Greatly Strengthened by Success Of Pact

OTHER CONFERENCES

Second Allied Debt Conference Said to be Held Shortly

BERLIN, Aug. 19.—(United Press)—An official statement issued today declared that if the Reichstag did not pass the three Dawes laws before August 30 and the German Government was thereby prevented from signing London agreements, the decisions reached at the London conference would be invalidated.

In case of such a situation, the official statement declares, all the conferring premiers would be released from their pledges, and the guarantee of the French and Belgian leaders to evacuate the zones of Dortmund, Hoerde and other territories of the Ruhr would be invalidated.

PARIS, Aug. 19 — (Associated Press). — The French Cabinet today unanimously approved the work of the French delegation at the international conference in London and thanked it for the important results it had attained in the interests of France.

The Cabinet met this morning, and, after having listened attentively to a report by Premier Herriot on the proceedings and results of the conference, gave its unqualified approval of the records which had been concluded at the lengthy meeting at the British capital.

It was decided that the Premier should read his declaration before the Senate and Chamber on Thursday, giving a complete report of the work of the London conference to both bodies of the French Legislature.

Meantime the Ministers will attack an important problem of internal policy, meeting this evening to consider measures connected with the high cost of living, notably in regard to the price of bread.

The cordial reception accorded M. Herriot this morning by his colleagues of the Cabinet echoed the enthusiasm of the vast throngs of men and women who came to greet him when he arrived from London yesterday evening.

The popular demonstration in and about the St. Lazare station when the Premier arrived was an unmistakeable expression of popular rejoicing over the accord concluded in London, but it was also, in the opinion of observers a personal tribute to M. Herriot from those Frenchmen who believe the London agreement was a paving of the way for a return to a real peace footing.

WILL PASS PARLIAMENT.

The approval given by the Cabinet this morning to the work of the French delegation in London is said by competent observers to augur well for the survival of M. Herriot's report through the two or three weeks of Parliamentary buffeting it will have to undergo. Eight important interpellations are scheduled and eight prominent orators are on the list for speeches and it is understood that M. Herriot does not desire to cut short the discussions.

Whatever the results of the debates in the two Houses—and it is not felt the Premier's course will receive any serious setback in either — M. Herriot already has the satisfaction of the knowledge that the general councils of three departments of central France have passed congratulatory resolutions, praising his attitude in London.

LEADERS UNMOVED BY LABOR PROTEST

Sentiment Against Wearing Of Court Dress Called Snobbishness

LONDON, August 19. — (Canadian Press). — Among the Labor leaders generally in the United Kingdom only the mildest sort of interest has been created by the flood of resolutions which the East London Labor meeting on Sunday decided to bring up at the annual Labor Conference in October, particularly the resolution condemning the Ministers of the MacDonald Government for attending Court and social functions wearing court dress, which was referred to as "foolish and ridiculous."

One North of England Labor leader declares that the sentiment against the wearing of court dress as expressed in the resolution is merely another form of snobbishness. To refuse to conform to recognized social customs would be snobbishness indeed, he says. Any man whose principles are in danger of deflection because he changes his apparel during the day is hardly likely to attain to prominence in any capacity, he adds.

Premier Ramsay MacDonald himself some time ago declared that it was greater snobbery to persist in wearing a red tie for its provocative effect than to courteously follow the custom of the country by wearing a normal uniform.

GRANITE MAN SHOT ON QUINCY STREET

QUINCY, Mass, Aug. 19.—(Associated Press.)—Joseph Buccini, proprietor of the Eagle Granite Company here, was shot and fatally wounded by Sebastinio D. Cristosaro, also of Quincy, on the street near his office here today. The assailant was arrested without a struggle.

KID McCOY GOES INSANE IN CELL, "GAME" SOME SAY

Ex-Pugilist Charged With Murder Sits on Floor Cutting Dolls

ANOTHER PROBE

Alienists Will at Once Make Second Examination

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Aug. 19. — (Associated Press.) — Kid McCoy, ex-pugilist, held on suspicion of murder, in connection with the death last Tuesday night of Mrs. Theresa Mors, became mentally unbalanced in his cell here today, according to a police announcement. Alienists yesterday declared McCoy sane.

"What's the matter, Kid," queried a jailor, passing the cell and witnessing the strange spectacle of the former fight champion sitting on the floor and intently tearing paper strips.

McCoy looked up with what the jailer described as a "kind-a dumb" expression.

"I'm only making mouse-traps," he replied.

"Mouse-traps?"

"Well, I guess you'd call 'em rat-traps. They have real rats in here, believe me, brother. But I'm coming out in the gym pretty soon. My trainer's calling me. Who've you got for my sparring partner today, Bo? Who?"

And the Kid rambled on. "Why, he can't hit for sour apples. Now back in—"

The jailor turned away.

For several days the newspapers have hinted that the "Kid" would advance an insanity defence. His attorneys declared that such a plea would be offered.

McCoy, however, has greeted friends with a cheery smile and a hand-shake, has daily repeated his "setting up" exercises, and, according to alienists hired by the State, has shown no signs of insanity.

Today he had changed. Mumbling, he sits on the floor playing with a broken spoon and some paste-board boxes.

"I'm only making mouse-traps," he crooned, "to the tune I'm always blowing bubbles."

"Pretty mouse-traps on the floor."

"I'll catch a rat."

"Quick as a cat."

"Watch and you'll see me, just like that."

And McCoy smiled, bowing in recognition of the plaudits of jailors and newspaper men.

The applause seemed to send his thoughts back into the years of his fistic renown. He did not see those about him.

"Punch drunk," old-timers who gathered about the cell said.

Others grinned and winked.

"Pretty good play, Kid," they said. "That ought to save your neck. 'From padded mitt to padded cell'—that's the title of your drama of life if you keep this game up."

District Attorney Keyes was told of McCoy's antics, and ordered another examination by the State's alienists immediately.

"I'm afraid Mr. McCoy's (sensational attempt to 'go crazy' comes too late," said Keyes. "The report of our alienists shows him absolutely sane."

Part of the time McCoy spent stopping up holes in his cell with wads of paper. He declared that Albert Mors, divorced husband of the woman he is alleged to have slain, was coming through the holes after him, and his safety demanded that he plug them up.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 19. — (United Press.) — The brain of Kid McCoy, racked by the charges made against him, recollection of recent events, confinement of jail life and thoughts of the future, snapped today.

Either that or, seeking to confound the alienists who have pronounced him "sane," the "Kid" is doing a mental "flop" to add strength to his probable plea of insanity, the defense he will make when confronted with a charge of slaying Mrs. Theresa Mors.

For Kid McCoy, one-time pugilistic champion, "pal" of Isadora Duncan, confidante of Maeterlinck and the husband of eight women during his checkered career, sat on the floor of his jail cell today and made paper dolls.

INTERNAL STRIFE ON INCREASE IN LABOR RANKS

Trade Unions Will Be Asked To Make Many Sacrifices

TARIFFS UPHELD

Labor Official Declares Certain Circumstances Warrant Tariff Reform

LONDON, August 19.—(Star Special Cable, by J. E. Poole, Staff Correspondent.) — Notable admissions which may possibly result in an increased internecine warfare within the Labor Party, were made in an address before the Independent Labor Party Summer school, last night by W. Graham, financial secretary of the party. Graham, speaking for himself only, declared that there is nothing in economic Socialism which would prevent the Government from assisting weak industries by means of Government bonus or gifts under proper safeguards.

He issued a stern note of warning to trade unions that true Socialism involved trade unionism in many sacrifices and might necessitate the surrender of many of their present ideas. He pointed out that the only safe way of inaugurating public ownership would be by taking over only such industries which were on a sound footing.

In reply to a question, he said that while he believed the free trade policy was best, this system did not rule out possibilities of tariffs under certain conditions and circumstances. He declared he had often thought that a tariff was more or less possibly justifiable in certain spheres. He added that he had discovered on labor back benches, where all true moderation resided, "a powerful tariff reform party," and they must adjust their own difficulties with these tariff reforms.

STATEMENT SIGNIFICANT

Such an admission by so highly placed a member of the Labor Government is significant of a steady ferment within the party. His reference to trades unions having to prepare themselves for sacrifices more than likely will widen the breach between the powerful, strongly financed trades union section party which is already indulging in sarcastic references to the "Intelligentsia" as the Independent Labor Party is classified by the rest of the main labor body.

The reference to bonusing weak industries is certain to result in ribald comment from the Communistic section of the party as pap for capitalists, while the admission that tariffs are not necessarily unholy things is certain to draw condemnation from Phillip Snowden and other Labor free traders as well as the Asquithian Liberals.

Graham's statements are the visible illustration of the confusion and chaos of existing British politics.

WRITER TO TELL OF SQUADRON CRUISE

E. Scott O'Connor Guest of Fleet Waits At Quebec

QUEBEC, Aug. 19 — (Canadian Press) — The round-the-world cruise of the British Special Service Squadron, will not be forgotten as soon as it is completed, for the British Admiralty has made arrangements to have a book written about the cruise and the writer is in Quebec today.

This is Mr. E. Scott O'Connor, a well known British writer, who recently published a book on Morocco.

Before the Fleet started on its cruise last November, Mr. O'Connor was requested by the British Admiralty to be its guest on board H.M.S. Hood, and to make the trip for the express purpose of writing a book about it and showing to the people of the world something of life as it is lived in the Navy and, through the visits to the various parts of the Empire, the relation of the Fleet to the Empire as a whole.

"We will all be glad to get home," Mr. O'Connor said this morning, as he was about to leave for the Island of Orleans, to watch the Squadron round the point below St. Joseph de Levis.

"The Fleet has had a wonderful reception wherever it has gone, both in the Empire and at the two American ports at which it stopped, Honolulu and San Francisco. What struck me most was the wonderful popularity of the ships and sailors. This popularity I think rests upon a long tradition within the Empire and has contributed greatly toward establishing that bond of unity which keeps the Empire together."

Mr. Scott O'Connor left the Hood at Vancouver, preferring to spend some time in Canada rather than go through the Panama canal with the war vessels. Here he has an opportunity to study the Canadian reaction to the visit of the Fleet and to gather other facts which will aid him in writing his book. He will rejoin the Hood before she sails from Quebec, September 2.

STEFANSSON STOPS AT NEW ZEALAND

WELLINGTON, N.Z., Aug. 19.—(Canadian Press, via Reuters).—Vilhjaimur Stefansson, the well-known Canadian explorer, who has made several explorations to the Arctic regions, has arrived here on his way to Canada via Tahita, Society Islands. Stefansson has been exploring in Australia. He intends to visit New Zealand in 1925, when he will spend some time in this country.

King George Expresses Pleasure On The Opening Of Direct Wire Between Montreal And London

OTTAWA, Aug. 19.—(Canadian Press) — "I have received with much pleasure the loyal message you have sent me from the people of Canada on this auspicious occasion of the opening of direct communication between London and Montreal, another happy link between our countries," states a telegram received from King George by Governor-General Lord Byng, in reply to the message sent on the occasion of the opening of the new land, telegraph and ocean cable, giving direct communication by Anglo-American cables, with London, England. The telegram is dated August 15, 1924.

WALTER MITCHELL BACK IN ARENA

To Enter For Ste. Anne's—Dennis Tansey to Oppose —J. H. Dillon Too

Adequate protection for the manufactures of industrial Quebec is the slogan with which Walter Mitchell will approach the electorate in the coming by-election in Ste. Anne's. Mr. Mitchell's re-entry into the provincial arena was definitely confirmed today by a man prominent in Liberal circles in a conversation with a Star representative.

He will be opposed by Dennis Tansey, who will carry the Sauve banner into the fight. An interesting development is the appearance of Joseph H. Dillon, who will present himself as an old-fashioned 1896 Liberal.

Although nominally an independent, Mr. Dillon is a supporter of the Taschereau regime and will vote with the Government if elected.

When the Hon. Mr. Cardin was interviewed today, he refused to deny the rumor. "I am in Federal politics," he said, "but of course am interested in anything that affects the Liberal party. I cannot deny the rumor."

CANADIAN DOLLAR DUE FOR RISE

New Loan to be Floated Will Likely Create Premium

OTTAWA, Aug. 19. — (Star Special, from our own correspondent).—It is probable that the big refunding loan which the Government will float next fall will be divided between Canadian and New York financial houses.

The amount will not exceed $200,000,000, although there is power to go as high as $350,000,000. Funds raised will be used to refund the Victory Loan of 1919 and Treasury bills which together aggregate $199,270,650. Any amount raised in the New York market and not required here will likely be invested there, in which case it is believed the Canadian dollar, instead of being at a discount may go to a premium as it did under similar circumstances in October and November, 1922.

GREY RESIGNS AS LIBERALS' LEADER

Retires From British House of Lords For Personal Reasons

LONDON, August 19. — (Canadian Press.)—Viscount Grey of Fallodon has retired from the Liberal leadership in the House of Lords for personal reasons.

Viscount Grey, who was Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs in the Government of Mr. Asquith when the war broke out, and was British Ambassador to the United States in 1919, was created viscount in 1916. He was Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs from 1905 to 1916. He was Liberal Member of the British House of Commons for Berwick-on-Tweed from 1885 until he was elevated to the peerage, 1916. Viscount Grey is in his 63rd year.

BUNGALOW KILLER GOES TO GALLOWS

Appeal of Patrick Mahon Dismissed By British Court

LONDON, August 19. — (Canadian Press.)—The appeal of Patrick Mahon to the Court of Criminal Appeal against the sentence of death pronounced upon him for the murder of Miss Emily Kaye, at Eastbourne on April 15, has been dismissed.

Mahon was convicted and sentenced to be hanged for the murder of Miss Emily Kaye, a typist, who had spent several week-ends with him in a bungalow at Eastbourne. Mahon is married. The bungalow had been rented by him for a short time. Miss Kaye's dismembered body was found in the bungalow, but her head was missing and the police failed to locate it. Portnons of Miss Kaye's body were found packed in a trunk.

The "Bungalow murder," as the crime was commonly called, aroused public interest to an unusual extent and the owner of the bungalow for a short time profited by the morbid curiosity of the people by charging a shilling admittance to the house. The owner, a woman, was not allowed to continue her money-making venture, however, the house being closed by the authorities within 24 hours after the shilling charge had been levied.

STRAIGHT FIGHT; BELL WITHDRAWS FROM ST. ANTOINE

Convention Nominee Joins Birks Executive, Consolidating Forces

PARTY CONTEST

Alderman Hushion in Field — Birks Issues Proclamation

At three o'clock this afternoon the names of W. M. Birks and W. J. Hushion were the only ones put in nomination as candidates in St. Antoine division. The returning officer announced them as the candidates.

"Actuated by a keen desire to heal the breach in the Conservative Party in Montreal, and to contribute on a broad basis to the success of Conservative principles, I am retiring from the contest," Leslie G. Bell, slated as one of the party candidates in St. Antoine Division by-election, announced today. He will work in the interests of William M. Birks, his opponent for party honors. Mr. Bell has accepted membership on the executive of Mr. Birks' election committee.

Mr. Bell withdrew at some considerable loss to himself and in order to make certain the victory for the principle of adequate protection for which the Conservative party stands.

Mr. Bell entered the field in St. Antoine shortly after Hon. Walter Mitchell resigned from the House of Commons in protest against the low tariff policy of the Mackenzie King Government, and later captured the Conservative Convention by a commanding majority. He continued to take an active part in the riding until Mr. Birks entered the field, when with full appreciation of the crisis in national affairs and the need of securing a signal victory for the policy of adequate tariff protection he withdrew after a series of conferences.

The withdrawal of Mr. Bell clears the political atmosphere and will bring the fight clearly between adequate tariff, and the "death knell of protection."

BIRKS STATEMENT.

The following statement to the electors of St. Antoine was issued this afternoon by Mr. Burks:

TO THE ELECTORS OF ST. ANTOINE.

"As is already known I have acceded to the request of a large number of people from al parts of St. Antoine constituency to present myself as Liberal Conservative Candidate for the House of Commons in the present bye-election. It is, therefore, fitting that I should lay before you the principles upon which I appeal for your support.

"There are many questions of considerable importance arising out of the conduct of our affairs by the Government of the Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King which insistently cal for public attention at this time. Among these I would cite the subject of Immigration, the Disfranchisement by the recent Redistribution Bill of more than half our urban population, the General Mismanagement of our finances and the pitiful failure, covered up by a clumsy guarantee juggle, to hold in check federal expenditure to the level of our revenue.

"Each and all of these (not to recall many others) presents a topic worthy of review at the hands of the paying public, and the whole constitutes a record wherein the incompetence of the Ottawa administration is only too plainly manifest.

"What, for example, can be said for an Immigration policy, the result of which, after two and a half years, leaves the exodus of our people a much heavier loss than our immigration is a gain? How can anyone defend a re-distribution which gives to Montreal only half the seats that a community of equal population would have elsewhere? So great a discrimination is indefensible.

"And, most of all, its utter incapacity to control expenditure in the face of ever increasing debt and of dull business conditions deserve to be severely condemned.

PROTECTION.

"I have mentioned but a few of a long succession of unfortunate performances on the part of Mr. King's administration which now engage attention. But I have enlisted in this contest mainly on account of another error of policy which I consider even more disastrous. In the election campaign of 1921 we were led to believe, at any rate in this part of Canada that the principle of Protection, or at least the practice of protection as a cardinal feature of our fiscal system, was established. This was taken as admitted and we were assured was to be continued.

"What have we witnessed? Year by year, budget after budget, there have been persistent encroachments. A very low tariff which we had maintained against British goods, has been lowered and lowered again, heedless of the minimum necessities, heedless even of the life of Canadian industries, and, consequently, of the proper standard of Canadian wages for the working man. Steel products and many other products have been attacked as well.

"The results are already apparent and are bearing hard at this moment on thousands of people in this city and this constituency of St. Antoine. Unnecessary unemployment prevails. The prospect for the coming winter is not alluring. For all this there is no reason in justice and no economic defense; for all this the only explanation was the need of the Government for Progressive votes to maintain itself in power; out of all this nobody has benefitted excepting the employers and workmen of Europe and the United States.

"In protest against all this the late Liberal member for this riding deemed it his honorable duty to resign his seat; and to do battle against this whole drift of policy this trafficking with the weal of Canada for the price of votes in Parliament, I have entered the fight in St. Antoine, and appeal to the people for support.

"This Dominion requires a stable tariff. In my humble judgment an impartial, dependable, continuous protective tariff, applicable to the products of all classes is essential to our industrial existence. A high tariff is not necessary, but a fluctuating tariff is ruinous. Stability of tariff cannot longer be expected from the Mackenzie King administration. One minister has just proclaimed "the death knell" of protection. Two others have declared that the practically Free Trade platform of 1919 is to be steadily and surely approached. The Prime Minister himself is equivocal, talks in circles, and is satisfied to superintend the bartering of Canadian interests to the ends of his Progressive alliance.

"It is little wonder that business confidence has been undermined and that, notwithstanding bountiful harvests, there is no improvement in the condition of the people. Taxation is heavier to bear and no progress can be discerned.

"An opportunity is now presented by which the electors of this constituency can be heard. I have been requested to act as your spokesman. I am yours to command.

"I was born in St. Antoine and my record as a citizen you may know. I have sought to deserve the good-will of all classes, and your support I shall much appreciate and I shall employ my utmost endeavors to merit."

Discussing Mr. Bell's position Mr. Birks said:

"At the request of the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Mr. Leslie G. Bell has retired from the St. Antoine Contest and has generously joined our Executive of the Election Campaign and further is encouraging every member of his organization to co-operate to bring the election to a successful issue.

"This conveys to Mr. Bell not only the heartiest welcome to him and to all his associates but also a warm tribute of respect and appreciation for his loyalty to the Liberal-Conservative Party and all it stands for."

NAVY FOR CANADA AMBITION DEFENCE MINISTER HOLDS

Declares Dominion Wants To Follow Example of Australia

MEN BEING TRAINED

Hopes Squadron Visit Will Arouse Sentiment to Back Expense

QUEBEC, Que., August 19.—(Star Special by Staff Correspondent). — A Canadian navy for Canada. That is the ambition of Hon. E. M. MacDonald, Minister of Defence—but such a navy must wait on Canadian public opinion.

Mr. MacDonald outlined his views on the subject of a navy in conversation with a staff correspondent of the Montreal Star here last night. Mr. MacDonald was in Quebec for the purpose of meeting the British Special Service Squadron and expressed his disappointment that Government business would prevent his remaining over until Tuesday for the reception.

"It is not the policy of Canada to contribute money to the upkeep of the British Navy," he said.

"We want a navy of our own—Australia has set the example in that respect and we want to follow it.

"Just at present we are not able to do so. Our railway constitutes too heavy a drain upon our resources to enable us to do so.

"It is our hope that the visit to our shores of the British Squadron will create such a public sentiment as will in the future enable us to expend the necessary funds to build such a navy as will be a credit to Canada.

"We are now training men to man a navy through the Volunteer Naval Reserve. Men from that reserve accompanied the Special Squadron from Vancouver to Halifax. We hope that the enthusiasm engendered by that trip will result in the creation of a public sentiment to support the necessary expense involved in the construction of a navy.

"We felt that the best way in which to create an interest throughout Canada in naval matters is to have our own navy. Mere contributions of money to Great Britain would not arouse the interest that would be aroused if we maintained a navy manned by Canadians.

"We hope to have such a navy whenever conditions make it possible for us to do so. In the meantime we do our best to create a sentiment favorable to the creation of such a navy."

Mr. MacDonald will not be in Quebec to welcome the Squadron. He left for Ottawa last night where on Thursday night he will preside at the Government dinner to Vice-Admiral Sir F. L. Field.

On Friday Vice-Admiral Field will leave Ottawa for Toronto where on Saturday he will open the exhibition. He will remain in Toronto until August 26 when he will leave for Montreal. On August 27 he speaks before the Canadian Club there and is due to rejoin the squadron in Quebec on August 28.

WARSHIPS REACH QUEBEC HARBOR AT 1.30 O'CLOCK

Special Service British Squadron Now Anchored Off Provincial Capital

KEEN INTEREST

Boatmen Reap Harvest Conveying Tourists To See Ships Come in

QUEBEC, August 19 — (Star Special by Staff Correspondent.) — The British Special squadron led by H. M. S. Hood rounded the turn from the Isle of Orleans into Quebec Harbor exactly at 1:30.

Cheered by thousands of spectators who thronged Dufferin Terrace, the Heights of Levis, the roofs of the lower town and the windows of the Chateau Frontenac, the British special service squadron, lead by H. M. S. Hood, closely followed by H.M.S. Repulse and the Australian vessel, the Adelaide, steamed into Quebec harbor and dropped anchor off the King's wharf at 1.30 to-day.

With flags and pennants flying the squadron steamed past the many gaily decorated small craft that lay in the river awaiting its arrival.

Crowds gathered at all points of vantage on both sides of the St. Lawrence to extend a welcome to the ships.

In honor of the occasion Quebec donned gala array. Flags and streamers flew from all public and many private buildings, all the craft in the harbor were gaily decorated and as the squadron steamed slowly to its anchorage the ships were greeted by the whistles of smaller vessels.

Martial music by the band on the Hood as she drew into the harbor stirred the pulses of all fortunate enough to witness the arrival.

Gun turrets and decks of the three vessels were lined with officers and sailors as they drew close to their anchorage and the cheers from the shores were echoed and re-echoed from the ships.

So intense was the interest this morning being taken in the expected arrival of the squadron, that scores of people, including tourists from the United States, are reported as having offered as high as $25 to captains of river vessels to take them around the point at St. Joseph de Levis so that they might witness the approach of the super-vessels of the British Navy as they steamed up from the lower traverse.

In many cases these offers were accepted, and craft of every conceivable description were swarming with enthusiasts, while on the other hand the available space had already been engaged some days ago.

The official calls on the Vice Admiral began at 2.30 when the Lieutenant-Governor and the Premier of the Province boarded H. M. S. Hood. These were followed in turn by Brig.-General J. P. Landry, commanding Military District No. 5 by the Mayor of Quebec and by Brig. General T. L. Tremblay, President of the Reception Committee.

At 5 p.m. Vice-Admiral Field lands at Kings' wharf where he will be received by the civic and military officials after which he will proceed to Spencerwood to pay his official call on the Lieutenant-Governor.

At 8 p.m. an official dinner will be given the Vice-Admiral and his staff at Government House.

BURGLARS AVOID TAILORS BILLS

Enter Store and Purloin Well Cut Suits for Youthful Frames

Taking time enough to make a complete change of attire, two youths entered the store of John Allan, clothier, 1 Bleury street, Sunday night and carried away with them enough of clothing to furnish a boy's wardrobe for the next twelve months.

A hole in the wall at a lane in the rear of the store proved the open sesame. Through this gap the juvenile burglars gained entrance to the cellar and from that vantage point proceeded to the store proper.

Two nice looking suits that were on a form in the store appealed to the invaders. Out of their worn clothing they got and into the new suits, adding stockings to their wearing apparel. They then flitted about the store, taking goods that appealed to them from every section of the establishment. The management placed the loss at close to $100.

EXTRADITION OF BROTHERS WANTED

Extradition proceedings in the case of Charles and Francis Aiken, held at Plattsburg, N.Y., for the death of George Benton at Roxan, Que., May 7, were commenced yesterday and adjourned until September 2. Delay was granted in order to allow the introduction of argument by the prosecution.

In his argument for extradition, District Attorney Jarry referred to the President Garfield murder in 1885, when Charles Guiteau assassinated the soldier President of the United States. Guiteau was arrested in Ohio and the murdered President shot at Illinois. The point was raised and a decision entered by which it was decided that the prisoner should stand his trial in the district where the murder was committed.

Mr. Jarry, representing the Canadian Government, argued for the return to Canada of the two prisoners because the crime was not committed on American soil. The defence will reply later.

MOTOR CHECK

New Machine Registers Amount of Power Developed

A machine which will register the power developed and transmitted to the rear axle of an automobile and check up on the slippage of gasoline past the piston rings into the crank case, causing loss of power, is being demonstrated in Canada for the first time, at the Boulevard Garage, corner of St. Joseph boulevard and Boyer street.

J. B. Maus, Canadian manager of the Havoline Oil interests, is responsible for the demonstration which is being given every day. He explains that the machine, known as the Wasson Motor Check, is well known in the United States. This machine practically shows what is going on inside the motor while it is working. It also shows when the rear wheels are out of alignment. It shows when oil is being improperly used by loose piston rings, and shows at what speed a particular car will develop the most power.

IDENTIFY BODY FOUND IN CANAL

Alexandre Charette is Name Of Latest Lachine Canal Victim

The body of the man found drowned in the Lachine canal on Saturday afternoon, the only clue to the identity of which was a pen-knife engraved with the initials "A. C." was identified last night by Alderic Lavoie, of 256 Razilly street, Ville Emard. The dead man is Alexandre Charette, 22 years of age, 1106 St. Antoine street, St. Henri, a nephew of Lavoie. He has been missing from the home of his grandmother, with whom he lived, since last Wednesday evening, and his relatives had been searching for him since that time. Owing to the fact that the body had been three days in the water it was only recognized by a description of the clothes that young Charette had been wearing.

At the inquest which was held this morning by Deputy Coroner Prince, it developed that Alexandre Charette had left early on the morning of Wednesday, August 13, with his elder brother Rosario in the latter's car to spend the day at Valleyfield. The dead man was last seen at 10 o'clock that evening by his brother who left him in possession of the car at the corner of Atwater and Notre Dame street, and went home.

WITNESS OVERCOME.

Rosario Charette was present at the inquest, but was taken ill during the hearing, and left the room overcome by emotion. Mme. Marie Charette, wife of witness testified that he had arrived home at his house on St. Phillipe street at 10.15. He stated that Alexandre had been ill. He was last seen crossing the bridge at Cote St. Paul.

The body was discovered floating in the canal on Saturday afternoon by Alfred Smith of 51 Ryde street who notified the police. Medical evidence showed that death was due to drowning. There were no marks of violence on the body. A verdict of accidental death was returned.

FRENCH VISITORS LIKE MONTREAL

Mathematicians Claimed English and Americans at Congress Short on French

"It was somewhat of a shock to find that the only delegates at the recent International Congress of Mathematicians in Toronto, who did not understand French were Americans and Englishmen," declared Prof. Koenig, Member of the Institute of France, Mechanical section, and head of the French delegation to the Congress, who with the rest of his party made a tour of inspection of the McGill grounds yesterday afternoon.

Prof. Koenig spoke of the great number of nationalities represented at the Conference. "There must have been almost a dozen," he said. "Someone in Toronto said that it reminded them of the Tower of Babel, but it was quite the opposite, for, with the exception I mentioned we all understood one another perfectly, the majority of the European communications being given in French.

The French delegates who are paying a visit to Montreal on their way back to France, were charmed with the city. "It is a paradise on earth . . ." one of them remarked. Arriving in Montreal this morning they were taken through the University of Montreal and the Commercial and Technical School, and this afternoon visited McGill under the direction of Dr. Paul Villard, and Prof. L. A. Herdt.

The Congress, they said, was one of the most interesting that had ever been held, and many announcements of great importance to the scientific world had been made.

Before leaving Monreal on the Minnedosa on Friday, the delegates will visit several industrial plants.

Among the delegates were the following prominent mathematicians: Prof. G. Koenig, Prof. Charbonnier, Ballstic, Vicomte d'Adhemar, analyst; Prof. Lemoine, Department of Physics, Conservatory of Trades and Labour; Prof. Le Roux, University of Rennes; Prof. Poney, Director of the Telegraphic School, Paris; Prof. A. Ley, Department of Mathematics, at the Lyceum of St. Louis; and Prof. Andrade, Professor at the University of Besancon.

FROM THE STAR FILES

THIRTY YEARS AGO.

August 19, 1894, fell on a Sunday.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

(From The Star Files, Friday, August 19, 1904.)

St. Petersburg.—The hope of accomplishing the cherished plan of the Admiralty of uniting the two Russian Far Eastern squadrons to await the coming of the Baltic fleet seems now almost hopeless. Nevertheless the Admiralty expects the battleships, if they return to Port Arthur, to sally forth again, even to certain destruction. But the whereabouts of the battleship division and of the protected cruisers Diana and Pallada are not considered to be absolutely established.

Quebec.—The brief sojourn of the Governor-General's party at the Citadel, coupled with the presence of the British warships in port, have given occasion for a number of festivities in the Ancient Capital this week, which are attended by the elite of this city, as well as by a number of residents of other cities, who are spending a week or so in town. Wednesday evening a large number of military, naval and civilian guests attended a dinner given by their Excellencies, Lord and Lady Minto, at their quarters in the Citadel. Yesterday afternoon, Vice-Admiral Sir Archibald Douglas and officers of H. M. S. Ariadne entertained about 250 guests on board the flagship, when a most enjoyable time was spent.

Montreal.—A number of the senior officers of the Montreal Garrison were in Ottawa yesterday afternoon with the object of interviewing the Minister of Militia in regard to the establishment of the projected school of instruction in this city. This project has been in the air now for a number of years, and the officers of the garrison are of the opinion that something practical should now be done, and that speedily.

R. B. Teakle Pleased With Wembley and Optimistic Of Future

On his return from a three months' tour of Great Britain and Europe R. B. Teakle, general manager of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, stated that he looked forward to a considerable improvement in the position of the C.G.M.M., although he would not state whether there would be any change in the operations of the merchant fleet or in the vessels composing the fleet.

Mr. Teakle was accompanied by J. E. Dalrymple, vice-president of the Canadian National Railways, and D. O. Wood, traffic manager, foreign freight department, C.N.R. WHY THE WEATHER?

(By Dr. Charles F. Brooks, of Clark University.)

MORNING RAINS — AFTERNOON SHOWERS.

Some people in daylight saving towns may have noticed that since daylight saving became the practice in recent years they have not been caught in an afternoon shower so often. This would naturally follow from the afternoon showers being characteristic of days with morning rains. While before daylight saving the proverb rain, "Rain before seven, shine before eleven," now we must lose the rhyme and say "Rain before eight, shine before twelve." Formerly the morning rains in damp weather would usually be over before the office-worker left home, and the umbrella was not needed. Now they are still going when he sets out—taking his umbrella with him as a matter of course.

Under conditions moist enough for "rain before seven" the "shine before eleven (or twelve)" provides the heat necessary for the production of afternoon showers. The first shine may so quickly make low clouds that not for another hour or two can the sun appear again. On this second attempt the clouds, resulting from the forced rise of the warm moist air, often make showers. These may begin as early as two, but they are most common only after four or five (five or six daylight time). So when it is time to go home the afternoon showers are not fully developed, and even should one happen along, the morning umbrella immediately becomes useful again, to ward off raindrops, made perhaps, of some of the same molecules of water that came down in the morning.

ALDERMAN WILL DEFY RESOLUTION

Dubreuil Will Not Present Police Charges in Three Days

RESIGNATION

Ald. Savard Will Ask Complainant To Retire

The resignation of Ald. J. Magloire Dubreuil, instigator of the police enquiry demands, will be asked at the next meeting of the council, next Tuesday, by Ald. Savard, if, in the meantime, the other alderman shall not have conformed to the demand of Ald. Brodeur, supported by the whole council, to make his complaints against the police within three days from yesterday.

Ald. Dubreuil, representative of St. Edward Ward, has asked, for the past six weeks, that a Royal Commission be held to investigate the police department. A month ago he gave notice of motion that he would ask the council to support this request. Yesterday, he was challenged to make the motion then and there, by Ald. Brodeur, chairman of the executive commission, but refrained, stating that as yesterday's assembly was not a regular meeting, he was not obliged to bring down his motion, awaiting the regular meeting, to be held in September only.

The council unanimously supported Ald. Brodeur's motion, demanding that Ald Dubreuil place in the hands of the city clerk, within three days, any complaints or charges against the police, to be placed before the council for study. Then, Ald. Brodeur stated, the aldermen would be in a position to judge whether or not a Royal Commission was warranted.

"If Ald. Dubreuil has not produced his complaints in the time specified, or at the latest, by next Tuesday's meeting, then I will move, seconded by one of my colleagues, that he be asked to resign from the council," Ald. Savard, St. Denis ward, announced this morning. The seconder was already obtained, and Ald. Watson will act in this capacity.

"If he has any complaints, he should give the council the benefit of them. If he has none, and has been urging an investigation without reason, arousing public sentiment against the administration, and placing the whole council under suspicion, then he is not worthy to sit in council with the rest of his colleagues," Ald. Savard continued, explaining the reason for his motion.

"Ald. Dubreuil emphatically stated this morning that he had absolutely no intention of complying with the demand of Ald. Brodeur and the council that he place before that body the information or charges on which he based his demands for a Royal Commission.

"I will not produce any complaints either in three days, at next Tuesday's meeting, at the next regular meeting or any other council meeting," Ald Dubreuil stated, "but will keep them for the Royal Commission when it is called."

FARMERS DROWN IN IOWA CYCLONE

Millions of Dollars Damage Done in Four States

CHICAGO, August 19.—(United Press.) — At least two men were killed and property damage running into millions of dollars were caused early today by cloudbursts and cyclones which swept four middlewestern states.

J. N. Schley and Claude Barrett, 19, were killed by flood waters near Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where the storm struck hardest. Schley and Barrett, both farmers, were drowned when they attempted to rescue a herd of cattle.

In addition to other Iowa cities, portions of Wisconsin, Illinois and Nebraska were hit by wind, hail, rain and electrical storm.

Thousands of acres of farm land throughout Iowa were covered with water. Growing crops were beaten down and in many places completely destroyed.

In the cities, trees and telegraph poles were blown, down, automobiles washed down main thoroughfares and buildings damaged by the wind and hail.

Telephone and telegraph communication was demoralized throughout the storm-swept areas. Railroad schedules were virtually abandoned, trains running wherever possible to avoid washouts.

BRIDGES DESTROYED.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, Aug. 19.—(United Press.)—Two farmers J. N. Schley and Claude Barrett, were drowned with 35 head of cattle they tried to save during a severe hail and rain storm which struck this section last night and early today.

Streets in the residential district today are raging rivers. The water in many places is six feet deep. Rowboats are employed to rescue automobile passengers caught in the torrent.

All railroads in central Iowa are at a standstill. The Rock Island is washed out. The Northwestern and Milwaukee roads and inter-urban lines report many miles of track torn out and bridges washed away.

DEBRIS FILLS STREETS.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 19.—(United Press.)—Thousands of dollars damage was caused here early today by a windstorm of cyclonic proportions. Traffic was tied up by debris which filled the streets. Trees were up-rooted and telegraph poles blown down. Rain and hail accompanied the winds.

BERTRAM, Iowa, Aug. 19.—(United Press.) — The Chicago and Northwestern railroad was completely blocked near here today by bridge washouts along the right of way.

CLINTON, Iowa, Aug. 19.—(United Press.)—Clinton's streets were flooded and traffic tied up today as a result of heavy rainstorms during the night and early today. Several small streams flowing into the Mississippi River near here were out of their banks.

BAGGAGE THIEF.

Rene Caron pleaded guilty this morning before Judge Enright in the Court of Sessions of five counts of stealing suitcases and grips from strangers in the city. Sentence was postponed to next Friday.

Caron is already serving a twelve months' jail sentence on similar accusations.

UN-BOBBED HEADS MUST BOW TO BARBERS' SHEARS, —FASHION SO DECREES

The faithful few in the feminine ranks who have refused to have their hair "bobbed" are going to be "out of luck," according to the forecast brought back from New York this morning by a well-known local hairdresser.

In Gotham Town the hairdressing establishments deal with short hair only, and are refusing to shampoo the heads of those women who have insisted in preserving their "crowning glory."

Hat shapes and sizes, too, have been reduced to such a basis that only the semi-shorn feminine head can be accommodated with fashionable covering.

The death knell of the "unbobbed" is sounded, insofar as fashion, and indeed the necessary treatment, are concerned. Fair woman must willy-nilly bend her graceful head to the barbers' shears.

TWO MEN HELD ON BURGLARY CHARGE

Alleged by Police to Have Entered Home of Mrs. E. Ross

Jack Harris, 25 years of age, 42 St. Catherine street west, and Ruby Morton alias Harowitz, 26 years of age, 34 St. Catherine street west, were ordered held without bail this morning by Judge Perrault, pending preliminary examination fixed for August 27, on the charge of entering private premises with the aid of master keys. The two accused were remanded for three days in the custody of detectives' headquarters.

Harris and Morton, the latter better known to the police under the name of Harowitz, were caught yesterday by Sergeant Lafleur and Constable Chicoine after entering the apartments of Mrs. Evangeline Ross, 646 Delorimier ave, the police say. Mrs. Ross is abroad.

PREMIER KING IN WESTERN ONTARIO

With Graham and Murdock He Attends Picnic in Rondeau Park

CHATHAM, Aug. 19. — (Canadian Pres.) — Premier W. L. MacKenzie King, accompanied by Hon. George P. Graham and Hon. James Murdock, arrived in this city at noon today and were immediately driven by motor to Government Park, Rondeau, where they are billed to speak at a big Liberal rally this afternoon. They were met here by Senator A. B. McCoig and several other prominent Liberals of the county.

The weather was none too promising for the event, as clouds were passing over the district all morning, but at noon it appeared as if it might clear up for the picnic and the open air speeches.

The Liberal rally is being combined with the Howard farmers' picnic, the annual outing of a number of fraternal societies of the Ridgetown district, and several other minor celebrations.

EXPERIMENT WITH NEW BREAD IN U.S.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. — (By Associated Press.) — Something new in bread which its originators believe should prove popular, is announced by the United States Department of Agriculture. It is cocoa bread, has a decided flavor of cocoa which pleases most palates and retains its freshness longer than ordinary bread.

The experimental baking laboratory of the bureau of chemistry achieved the product by substituting eight to ten per cent of the flour in any good bread formula with cocoa and omitting shortening which is supplied by the cocoa. An equal amount of sugar and cocoa is used. The bread is dark brown.

FIND ONE OF SIX DROWNING VICTIMS

Mrs. Boyer's Body Was Washed Ashore at Repentigny

INQUEST HELD

Two Other Bodies Taken From River Not Yet Identified

The body of one of the six victims in the drowning fatality which occurred on Sunday morning in the St. Lawrence, near Boucherville Islands, has been recovered. A woman's body was washed ashore at Repentigny, and Coroner Dupuis returned a verdict yesterday of "found drowned." The coroner communicated the description of the woman to Chief of Provincial Detectives D. Lorrain, who notified the relatives of the victims. The father of Leo Boyer recognized the description as that of his daughter-in-law, Leo's wife, who was with her husband in the boat.

Two other bodies have been washed ashore, one near Lanoraie and one at Varennes, but they have not been recognized. The body found at Lanoraie was that of a woman, wearing a gold ring with the inscription inside, "M. Jeanne." The woman was about 30 years old, 5 ft. 4 inches in height, 140 lbs. weight, with brown eyes, brown bobbed hair, and two gold-capped teeth.

The other was that of a man, age 45 to 50, with grey hair, and partly bald.

The other bodies are not likely to be found until Thursday or Friday, in the opinion of harbor officers who are well acquainted with the currents and other conditions in the river.

The probability also is, according to the harbor men, that they will drift ashore somewhere in the vicinity of Boucherville, as there are strong undercurrents there, which would draw them away from the shipping course and carry them in towards that point.

There is no organization specially charged with the work of looking for these bodies, it was learned from Chief Lorrain, Dr. W. A. Derome, and other officers of the morgue and the police service. When a body is found, it is reported to the coroner of the district where it is discovered, and he, in turn, reports on it to the Chief of Provincial Detectives. The latter notifies the press, and also the relatives of any missing persons he knows. It lies entirely with the relatives then to go to the place where the body has been found and identify it if they wish to do so.

Similarly, it rests with the relatives to get up search parties to look for the bodies of persons believed to have been accidentally drowned. Any such work done by police or other officials along the riverside is voluntary in character.

MOVING PICTURE PATRONS UNAWARE

Fire in Roof of Mount Royal Motion Picture Theatre

While the spectators sat unconscious of anything amiss through the show at the Mount Royal motion picture theatre, 143 Laurier avenue, last night, firemen from Stations 17 and 30 under Chief R. Gautier battled with a blaze that broke out at 8.51 in the roof of the theatre.

The fire which was due to a short circuit in the wiring above the booth where the moving picture machine is housed, was not a dangerous one, and was extinguished by the firemen in about twenty minutes. Very little damage was done, as the flames were confined to a small section of the roof. Electric currents in the building did not fail, and there was no interruption in the evening's progress. The people who heard the fire bells were unaware that it was in the theatre in which they were sitting that the outbreak had occurred.

PLAN REVISION OF CANADA GRAIN ACT

Parliamentary Discussions Emphasize Need of Consolidation

OTTAWA, August 19. — (Special by Own Correspondent).—A revision of the Canada grain Act is planned for the next session of Parliament. Since the Act was passed in 1912, there have been some amendments but, although discussed in Parliament have emphasized the need of revision and consolidation, nothing extensive has been accomplished.

The report, which the Grain Commission has now under preparation will be the basis of the new act and will embody the outstanding recommendations of the commission in regard to grading, mixing, the operation of the elevators and other aspects of the trade.

There is small probability of the interim report in regard to the Vancouver elevator being acted upon in so far as it recommends a separate commission to have charge of all Government terminal elevators. This is considered a needless duplication.

REDUCED PRICE FOR NEWSPRINT

BARRIE, Ont., August 19 — (Star Special.) — Major Jos. Kilgour of Kilgour Bros., Limited, Toronto, paper manufacturers agrees with Lord Beaverbrook's statement to the press in Montreal that the price of newsprint is too high and that Canadian manufacturers will soon have to cut the price of their product.

"He's right," said the Major, "and the reason is over-production."

Continuing Major Kilgour gave as another reason for the forecast price reduction the fact that Swedish manufacturers of newsprint are again furnishing strenuous competition for Canadian manufacturers.

"Our freight rates are so high in comparison with the cost of ocean shipping and European labor is so cheap that they can undersell us. The high Canadian wages are ridiculous," exclaimed the Major.

RECORDER TO DECIDE WHO LAUGHS LAST IN SUIT AGAINST FATHER

He who laughs last, laughs best, and he who laughs first sometimes takes big chances.

Mrs. Alice Simard and her 18-year-old daughter, who live at 281 Chapleau street, decided to take a chance and laughed long and heartily yesterday because they thought their husband and father was funny. He didn't think so at all, Mrs. Simard alleges, and to prove it he punched his young daughter in the eye.

This morning the three of them appeared in the Recorder's Court and none of them were laughing.

Theodule Simard, who furnished the material for his family's hilarity, faced a charge of assault. His daughter conspicuously nursed a black eye. Mrs. Simard scowled at her husband.

Theodule pleaded not guilty to the charge. Recorder Geoffrion, perhaps fearing he would make the other prisoners laugh too much, decided he was better out of jail than in and released him on bail of $100. He will appear for trial on August 26th.

When Theodule came home yesterday, his wife claims, he looked so funny, both she and her daughter began to laugh. The head of the house was annoyed and said so, Mrs. Simard alleges, but his annoyance only increased his family's visibilities, and the roars continued till Theodule doubled up his fist and connected with his child's right optic, thereby dispelling joy from the household.

Next week when the case comes to trial, Recorder Geoffrion will decide who is to laugh last, and therefore best.

CONCRETE CRUSHED LABORER'S SKULL

Workman Cut Through Steel Pillars and Block, Fell 10 Feet

Wilfred Goslin, 42 years of age, of 179 Plessis street, was instantly killed this morning at 8.50 o'clock when a block of concrete fell and crushed his skull. The man was employed as a laborer on the building of the Liquor Commission at the corner of Delorimier and Craig streets. He was engaged in sawing through some steel pillars with a cold drill, the completed cut setting free the concrete block which fell on the man. He is survived by a wife and four children.

The inquest was held this morning by Deputy Coroner Prince. Three eye-witnesses, Harry Winter, Delfosse Dorval and Louis Lafontaine, of 7a Parker street, fellow workmen, described the occurrence, and stated that there was no question of negligence either on the part of the contractors or of the dead man.

Detective Charles Godin, who made an investigation immediately after the accident, bore out this testimony.

A verdict of accidental death was returned.

MR. TROWER ACCEPTS.

Mr. W. K. Trower has accepted membership in the Anti-Tuberculosis and General Health League.

LONGUEUIL CITY COUNCIL MEETNG

Municipality Sec'y is Leaving — May Build Hospital

At a meeting of th Longueuil City Council last night the resignation of J. R. Bournet, secretary-treasurer of the city for the past eleven years, was accepted. Mr. Bournet has been appointed one of the three inspectors of Municipal Finances by the Provincial Government. Alderman Roy stated that in appointing Mr. Bournet to the post they had honored the town as well as the man, and although the council were sorry to lose him, they wished him every success in his new sphere.

Letters were received from the Montreal and Southern Counties Railway regarding the laying of new rails on St. Lawrence street, and from J. A. L'Heureux applying for the post of secretary-treasurer. Both were referred to the Finance Committe. The offer of F. Hawkins and Company to submit plans for a new incinerator was referred to the Hygiene Committee.

A motion was moved by Alderman Gareau as follows:

"That a committee of citizens comprised of the Mayor, Aldermen, Fathers Payette and Favreau, Doctors Girouard, Trudeau, Lesage, and Brisebois, together with Messrs. A. Daigneault, J. L. E. Brais, Lucien St. Mars, Joseph Lamarre, K.C., P. B. Lamarre, M. Lamarre, Michel Viger, and V. Pigeon, with power to add to their number to form a committee to study the question of a hospital for the counties of Chambly and Vercheres.

Alderman A. David, who was presiding over the meeting for the Mayor stated that he was in hearty sympathy with the motion and referred to St. Johns and other towns which supported similar institutions. Whether the committee will recommend building a new hospital or the addition of a wing to the building of the Sisters of Grey Nuns, is not yet known.

SUICIDE VERDICT FOR WAR VETERAN

James Hamilton Found Lying Near Gas Stove —Taps Turned on

Suicide was the verdict returned by Deputy Coroner Prince this morning in the case of James Hamilton, aged 44, who was found dead from asphyxiation by gas in his room at 131 Metcalfe street at ten o'clock yesterday morning.

Harry Smith, of 129 Metcalfe st., a friend of the dead man, stated that Hamilton was a returned soldier, and was in the 4th Pioneers. He was an invalid, being paralysed, and did not as yet have a pension. Witness had seen him last on Sunday morning, and at that time he seemed in good spirits and showed no signs of mental depression. He was a moderate drinker, and as far as witness knew did not take drugs.

Philias Bastien, a tenant of the same house, described the discovery of Hamilton's body. He had gone to the ex-soldier's room yesterday morning, and on opening the door he saw the man lying on the floor with his head against a small gas stove, the taps of which were open. He was fully clothed. Bastien notified the police and a doctor, but Hamilton had been dead for some hours.

Medical evidence showed that the man, who was undernourished, had died from the effects of gas poisoning. As Hamilton has no relatives here, the body was handed over to the Last Post Fund for burial.

WANT CANADIANS TO BUILD BRIDGE

The Canadian Workers' Federation of Returned Soldiers and Sailors, at its last meeting, passed a resolution asking that labor and material used on the proposed bridge to the South Shore, as well as the plans and supervision in the construction, be wholly Canadian.

Under no circumstances, it was urged, should outside labor, skilled, unskilled or technical, be retained.

The recommendation was made "in view of the conditions that now prevail whereby thousands are out of employment and the need for work is very pressing."

It was further asked that it should be specified that a certain percentage, not less than 25 per cent of those employed in constructing the new bridge, should be returned men.

Copies of the resolution have been sent to the Minister of Labor and the Minister of Marine.

TWO FAILURES.

Two failures were registered in the Superior Court this morning. The Northern Products Company made an assignment and J. O. Bonnier was appointed guardian of its assets. Neille Cardinal, doing business under the firm name and style of the Parisian Fashion Millinery Co., at 962 St. Denis street, abandoned her property for the benefit of her creditors. A. H. Lesage was appointed guardian.

LIMIT BUILDINGS' HEIGHT TO 130 FT.

But Storeys Can Be Added If Set Back 23 Feet

CERTAIN CONDITIONS

Changes in Building Regulations Proposed in Civic Report

Important changes in existing building regulations are proposed in a report of the executive which is laid on the table for study by the council at its next meeting. In future, first class buildings, the report says, shall be those which are absolutely fireproof, of not more than 130 feet in height, and with not more than one ground floor and eleven other storeys, the ground floor being that which is at least half above the street level.

The by-law further will provide that this height shall limit only the facade of the building, and will allow superstructures of greater height, providing these are set back 23 feet from the front of the building. The superstructure shall be limited, however, to a floor space not exceeding that of an ordinary building of eleven storeys and a ground floor, covering the whole of the lot built upon. This floor space shall be measured, including the space of the ground floor and all other floors, on the area of superstructure.

Another clause will allow the city to establish a building line on determined streets, apart from the street line. Also the council would be empowered to limit builders to the use of certain materials on certain streets, and to demand that no building of less than three storeys be built thereon.

ST. LAMBERT'S BONDS ACCEPTED

Water Supply Excellent — Want Filtration Plant, Not Public Hall

The tender of the Royal Securities Corporation for the purchase of $180,000 bonds issued by St. Lambert City Council was accepted last night by the council at their meeting in the City Hall, Mayor E. P. Gordon, presiding. The offer of the Royal Securities Corporation was the highest received, being $101,847; six other companies tendered, their offers ranging from $99.01 to $100.15.

A by-law referring to sewer and water connection at Greenfield Park was referred to the committee, and Alderman Cantin gave notice of motion to the law respecting the levy of water rates, the object being to keep the water rates level. Alderman Foster proposed that the motion passed on June 6, 1921, allowing the public to attend council meetings be rescinded. The motion was carried.

The South Shore Laundry Company was granted exemption for ten years providing that during the first year they employ 25 employes at a total salary of not less than $20,000. The Montreal and Southern Counties Railway Company refused to pay any of the salary of the policemen who had been rendering assistance at Riverside Drive, and returned the bill for $240 that had been sent them by the Council.

The water analysis from the Superior Board of Health from July 26, to August 8, showed that the water supply of the city was in excellent condition. A by-law changing the name of St. James street to Oak avenue was read for the first time, and a notice of motion by Alderman McRae was read asking that the amount provided for a public hall be used for a filtration plant.

LOUIS BOILY NOT DROWNED

"I am not drowned," came a voice over the telephone this morning. It was Louis Boily, of 473 Demontigny street east, speaking. It was Mr. Boily who heard the cries of the victims of the drowning fatality on the St. Lawrence on Sunday morning, and who was instrumental in rescuing the three survivors. Inadvertently his photo was published yesterday as one of the victims of the disaster, and he explained that he had since had several communications from friends to know whether this was true. Luckily he was able to tell them, in the words of Mark Twain, that "the reports of his death were greatly exaggerated."

HOLD-UP MEN RAN.

Thomas McDonnell, 351 Girouard avenue, knows how it feels to be intercepted on the street by highwaymen bent on getting something, for nothing.

McDonnell was on University street near the McGill University, at 10 o'clock last night when three men walked to him and demanded his cash. McDonnell held a moment's argument balking at the request. He fared ill at the hands of his attackers who gave him a beating. He yelled loudly and the sound of his voice had the desired effect on the highway men. With a parting punch they ran away leaving McDonnell in possession of his money.

SPEEDER FINED AND JUDGE ALSO ORDERS HIS LICENSE CANCELLED

Louis Tucker, 614 City Hall avenue, pleaded guilty this morning before Judge Perrault to driving an automobile yesterday on Sherbrooke street west at a speed of 32 miles an hour, and was condemned to pay $59 and costs or spend one month in jail. His license was also ordered cancelled.

Tucker pleaded that he had been driving an automobile for five years, and had never had any trouble. "That makes no difference," interrupted Judge Perrault, "the law is imperative and it is quite time that you speeders should realize that there is a law, and that it is not made to be infringed."

FELL INTO WATER AND WAS DROWNED

The man who fell into the harbor opposite Shed 11 at 1.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon was Angus Murray, a sailor staying at the Sailors' Rest here it was learned today.

The affair was reported by James McKinley, of 118 Inspector street, who was walking along the harbor front with Murray and another man when the accident occurred. Murray tripped over some obstruction and fell into the water. His companion threw a life buoy and rope to him but he was unable to catch it. Constable Dumais of the Harbor Police also attempted to aid the drowning man, but was too late.

Murray is thought to be a native of Liverpool. He told McKinley that he was fourth engineer on a ship of the City Line sailing between Liverpool and the West Indies. He came here from Buffalo. At the time of the accident the three men were walking across the wharf to one of the vessels of the Canadian Government Marine where they hoped to get employment and a passage to England.

FINED FOR SPEEDING

Thoughtless Drivers Destroy Roads, Judge Says

Alonzo Larocque, who said he was a truck driver for Dupre & Co., contractors, was condemned this morning by Judge Perrault to pay $25 and costs, or spend fifteen days in jail, for driving an over-loaded truck yesterday at a speed of 14 miles an hour on Sherbrooke street west. He pleaded guilty.

Constable Senecal, who made the arrest, said that Larocque had just been condemned by Recorder Semple to $5 and costs or 15 days in jail for over-loading his truck, and Judge Perrault thought it was a case where he should order the licence cancelled. He relented, however, and imposed the penalty as stated, remarking, however, that it was a pitiable state of affairs to see the provincial and municipal authorities spending so much money on roads when these roads were destroyed indiscriminately by thoughtless drivers.

PAVE CITY LANES WITHOUT CONSENT

Council Leader Seeks Power To Do So — Discuss Tramway Extension

NORTH END TROUBLE

100,000 People Congested On North Bound Tram Service

The city clerk, Rene Bauset, received this morning, a communication asking that the council authorize the holding of a referendum on daylight saving for next year. The letter is signed by F. Brunet, and has appended a number of ratepayers' signatures.

The executive commenced this morning the study of tram extensions as asked for in yesterday's meeting by Ald. Legault, Ahuntsic. The proposed lines would have the effect of relieving traffic on present northbound lines, and make access to the north district easier. The administration is preparing a report on the required lines to be presented to the Tramways Commission, and if accepted, to be recommended to the Tramways Company for execution.

Ald. Jarry, of the Committee, comcents that the proposed extensions are much needed.

The lines include the running of the present Park Avenue line to Cremazie Boulevard. At present it turns west on Beaumont, up Bremner, and ends at Abraham. The proposed extension would continue northwards to the Boulevard. Another would bring the Montreal North-Bordeaux line to Cartierville, while a third would run the Iberville route to Gouin Boulevard. It is stated that nearly 100,000 people are served by these branches, and that the new lines would divert traffic from present loaded routes.

COMPULSORY PAVING

The legislation committee of the council this morning received from the city clerk the motion presented by Ald. Sansregret, leader of the council, which asks that the city be given powers by the Legislature to pave lanes without consent of the proprietors. At present two-thirds of the number and value of ratepayers is required.

Among new by-laws which are to be proposed at the next council meeting is one making the following one-way streets: Dorchester, Lagauchetiere and Vitre, between St. Lawrence Boulevard and St. Denis. Traffic would be alternated in the two directions by this regulation.

YOUTH UNCONSCIOUS.

John Carson, 17 years of age, of 255a Decarrier street, was admitted to the Royal Victoria Hospital at 7.30 this morning suffering from concussion of the brain and a fractured jaw. It is not yet known whether his skull is fractured or not. The youth was knocked down by an automobile on St. Denis street near St. Joseph Boulevard soon after seven o'clock, and brought to the hospital in the ambulance.

SCIENTISTS PRAISE ONT. SILVER MINES

Visiting Geologists Study First Hand Workings of Cobalt and Swastika

SWASTIKA, Ont., August 18.—(Star Special). — The silver mines of northern Ontario yesterday interested the delegates to the British Association for the Advancement of Science, who are now on their way to Vancouver in two special trains over the Canadian National Railways. Both Cobalt and Swastika were visited, the mines, the mills and everything that goes into the development of mineral wealth in these sections being thrown wide open for their inspection.

Cobalt was reached during the morning, the trains arriving 20 minutes apart, and arrangements were so perfect that large fleets of automobiles were waiting at the station. The visitors were driven about the town, and were then distributed among the various mines and mills in small parties so that each member was afforded ample opportunity of seeing exactly the manner in which operations are carried on, and of asking such questions as they deemed necessary. The same procedure was followed at Swastika, which was reached during the afternoon.

The delegates on their return to the trains, were most appreciative of the manner in which the arangements had been carried out for their information.

To the geological section particularly, the program proved of unbounded interest. Their eagerness was unlimited, and it is doubtful if so many people ever accumulated so much authentic information in such short time, and it should be a matter of considerable pride and satisfaction to Canadians, to know that without exception, these experts who have studied and visited mines and mining in all corners of the world were outspoken in their enthusiasm of the mineral wealth of this district and in their approval of the methods of its developments.

The party was enlarged yesterday by 30 members of the botanical section who joined the train at Timagami. They had spent the week-end in the Timagami Government forest reserve as guests of the Ontario Government. Guides took them over the entire district, and in addition to collecting valuable specimens of Canadian plant life, they had the opportunity of inspecting several areas of virgin white pine. They were all much impressed with the variety and the virility of the flora in the Canadian woods.

A special party of geologists, who have been making an extended tour of the mining districts in Northern Ontario, joined the Western excursion today on the arrival of the trains at Timmins.

IS HAMILTON CORPSE LONG LOST SON?

Shoes and Buttons Beside Skeleton Identified by Sorrowing Parents

HAMILTON, Ont., August 19. — (Canadian Press)—The skeleton found on the side of the Hamilton Mountain on Saturday is believed to have been that of John Plecen, five-year-old boy, who disappeared two years ago.

His parents felt certain of the identity when they saw the Roman sandals found with the skeleton. Their little son, they averred, wore the same kind of footwear. He also had pearl buttons on his clothes, similar to those found.

Young Plecen, it is learned, was last seen near the west end of Simcoe street, which was a long way from his home. He was also said to have been talking to an unknown man. This was the last ever seen or heard of the boy. From Simcoe street to where the skeleton was found upon the mountain side is almost five miles.

NOVA SCOTIA HAY DRUG ON MARKET

HALIFAX, N.S., August 19 —(Star Special.) — In Annapolis Valley District of Nova Scotia hay is at present, a drug on the market. Abnormally large crops both last year and this, a limited local demand, and a lack of outside markets have led to a situation which, as it stands today, will mean that many good hay crops in the valley district will not even be cut this year.

With many barns still heavily stocked with last year's cut and an usually large yield generally during the present season, there is practically no home demand—or at least none sufficient to take care of such large quantities—and prevailing prices in the valley districts range between $4 and $6, and in some cases, even as low as $3, with no takers.

Yarmouth County has shipped a few hundred tons to the Boston market but other sections have found no outlet.

BRITISH SCIENTISTS VISIT PRINCE'S RANCH

CALGARY, August 19 — (Canadian Press.) — About thirty of the eminent scientists who are touring the Dominion, will take a trip down to the Prince of Wales ranch, instead of spending the day in Calgary with the rest of the party when they are here Friday, August 29. Many of the distinguished visitors are personal friends of the Prince and have expressed a desire to visit his Alberta home. Arrangements are being made between the executive of the party and Prof. W. L. Carlyle, manager of the Prince's ranch for the transportation of the party.

RETIRED CLERGYMAN DEAD.

GUELPH, August 19 — (Canadian Press.) — Rev. Duncan Mackenzie, father of Rev. J. A. Mackenzie, pastor of Chalmers Church, this city, died at the General Hospital yesterday morning in his 73rd year. The deceased clergyman had held many important pastorates in the Presbyterian Church in Canada, his first being at Earlton, N.S., later serving at Kirkhill, Ont.; Wood Island, P.E.I.; Vankleek Hill, Ont., his last charge being at Lost River and Lakeview, in the Presbytery of Montreal, where he labored for ten years before ill health compelled him to retire.

FEWER FAILURES IN RETAIL TRADE

Conditions of Business in All Lines Better This Year

OTTAWA, August 19.— (Canadian Press)—"In comparing the conditions of trade in all lines throughout the Dominion this year with the conditions that prevailed last year, our Association has no cause for complaint," declared J. A. Banfield, of Winnipeg, President of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, in his address delivered at the opening of the 19th annual convention of the Association here this morning. "The retail trade is looked upon generally as the thermometer of trade, as it indicates and responds more quickly to both local and Dominion-wide conditions than any other agency." Mr. Banfield continued. "The failures in the retail trade during the year have not varied very much with those of last year, although the sum total of last year was somewhat higher."

Mr. Banfield said there was a tendency in Canada among the large producing and manufacturing industries to amalgamate and centralize their efforts, similar to the practise being followed in the United States. This condition, in the opinion of Mr. Banfield, was not favorable to the retail merchant nor was it beneficial to the consumer.

NOVA SCOTIA GIVES LIE TO PROFESSOR

1924 Not Year Without Summer in Maritime Province

HALIFAX, N.S, August 19.—(Star Special)—Professor Cox must certainly be referring only to Chicago and that part of the country," said Fred P. Ronnan, of the Meteorlogical Service of Canada, when shown a despatch from Toronto quoting Professor Henry Cox, of Chicago, as saying that 1924 was a year without summer and that there would be cooler weather for the rest of the year.

In contrast to the Professor's statement," he said, "Nova Scotians have enjoyed a remarkably good summer. One of the best in the past five years anyway.

"If my memory serves me right there has not been a storm signal hoisted in Halifax since March or April which should convince any person in this part of the country that we have had a good summer, Mr. Ronnan said.

"It is all the way you define summer weather," he added, "In Nova Scotia the heat and general precipitation this year has been better than average."

DEFAULTING BANKER IS POISON SUICIDE

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Aug. 19 — (Canadian Press) — J. Gordon Moffatt, manager of the Union Bank here, who has been lying ill in Midland hospital for two weeks following his arrest, died yesterday. He was past president and director of the Rotary Club, a director of Belleville Chamber of Commerce and past president of Belleville Golf Club. JULY RAINFALL WAS CLOSE TO RECORD

QUEBEC, August 19.—(Canadian Press).—The official bulletin of the meteorological bureau for the month of July shows that though there was a great deal of rain registered during the thirty-one days of July, there was a complete absence of heat.

Montreal registered the highest average of the month, with a mean temperature of 68.65 degrees, but it also experienced the greatest precipitation in the last 24 years, with 2.35 inches above normal average.

Lac Onatchway, which had a low temperature of 59.4 degrees was also one of the wettest spots in the province, having a rain fall of 7.10 inches. Gaspe had the least rain, only 1.40 inches being registered for the month.

A great deal of difference in weather in various sections of the province is recorded by the Bulletin, a daily average of ten degrees difference prevailing throughout the month between Lac Onatchway and Montreal.

In the Quebec district, there was very little variation in the various counties, the mean temperature being 67.2 and the average rain fall 3.79 inches.

DOMESTIC FACES SERIOUS CHARGE

Servant Alleged to Have Carried Babe's Body in Her Trunk

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 19.—(Canadian Press.)—The body of a baby which apparently had died at birth, was found in the furnace room of a local hotel yesterday, and one of the domestics, Hilda Reynolds, of Fox Island, arrested. It was charged by police that the girl had given birth to the child while employed in a hotel at Kentville, and that it had died at birth. She asserted, the police said, that she had carried the body with her in her trunk since sometime in July and after coming to Halifax to find employment, concealed the body behind the furnace at the hotel where she was given work.

WINDSOR IDLE MUST FIND EMPLOYMENT

WINDSOR, August 19 — (Canadian Press.) — Mayor Mitchell yesterday passed the word to the unemployed that they need not look to the municipality this winter for help and sustenance.

Many of those now idle are English immigrants. It is said that some of them refused offers of employment because the work was not to their liking, and that this attitude has left a bad impression in the minds of local officials.

TREES DISEASED BY INOCULATION

Important Discovery Made By Toronto Professor On Timber

HEAVY TOLL

Experiments Made Show What Steps Necessary To Combat Trouble

SWASTIKA, Ont., August 19.—(Canadian Press), — Dr. J. H. Faull, professor of botany at the University of Toronto, has made an annual toll of timber in Canadian forests comparable with the damage wrought by fire. A party of thirty botanists, from the universities of Great Britain and the United States, who attended the meetings of the British association in Toronto recently visited Professor Faull's tiny laboratory at Bear Island during their botanizing expedition in Temagami yesterday and saw how Professor Faull has been able to produce disease in trees by a method of inoculation.

Prof. Faull showed that the white pine blister rust is transmitted alternately through currant bushes to the pine trees, the mechanism being similar to the action of the parasites of malaria fever in man, where the invading organisms live first in the tissues of the mosquito and then in the blood of the sufferer, and are transferred back again from the human blood stream to the mosquito when it bites a person afflicted with the fever. By inoculating the trees with the spores of fungi and excluding all other means of infection the scientist has proved that the symptoms of the disease are developed, and he has been able to decide what coniferous trees are susceptible and what the alternative hosts are which permit the spread of the ravages. A species of blue berry bush has been shown to blame also for transferring the pine rust according to the latest researches.

The discovery indicates the steps necessary for combatting the disease. The elimination of the currant and blue berry bushes would stamp it out, but where this is not feasible measures can be taken to protect the trees now known to be susceptible.

The proof that trees can be inoculated with the germs of disease settles a point which has been a subject of debate among botanists. Conflicting views were expressed at the Toronto meeting of the British association.

GUM-CHEWING INDIANS DISPEL FOND HOPES OF BRITISH SCIENTISTS

WASTIKA, Ont., August 19—(Star Special.)—Disillusion swift and sorrowful has overtaken three ardent lady photographers, members of the British Association for the Advancement of Science now en route to Vancouver in two special trains over the Canadian National Railways.

On leaving Toronto they were curious as to whether they would see any Indians while travelling through Northern Ontario.

They were assured that they would and when the train stopped at Timagami, they were directed to the far-end of the platform, where three Indian guides were sitting on the railing awaiting the Continental Limited from Montreal.

The ladies, eagerness personified, practically ran to the end of the platform, arranging their cameras as they sped.

Arriving there, they looked about blankly.

As far as they could see there were no Indians. At least there were no feathers, no blankets and no war paint. There were just three dusky-faced solemn men in khaki shirts and trousers sitting on a fence rail chewing gum. Cameras were restrung on the shoulders, and the trio tramped dejectedly to their car. At least half the romance of Canada has been lost for them.

When the train pulled out, they were sitting on the platform of the observation car, but they never looked once at the three solemn-faced braves, who sat on the fence rail and chewed gum.

PREDICT HONEY CROP DISAPPOINTING ONE

TORONTO, Aug. 19 — (Canadian Press) — Characterizing as "utterly ridiculous," the statement of C. B. Gooderham, Dominion apiarist, that the Canadian honey crop this year will show an exportable surplus of 6,000,000 pounds, A. G. Halstead, general manager of the Ontario Honey Producers' Association of Toronto, with which is associated the great bulk of the honey producers of the country, stated last night that as a result of careful investigation of the honey situation, he was convinced that the surplus available for export would not amount to more than 500,000 pounds.

There is a 50 per cent. crop only, in Ontario, according to Mr. Halstead, 60 per cent. in Quebec, and a very uncertain crop in Manitoba.

GERMAN PRESS OPPOSES PACT

"We Remain At The Mercy Of French Militarists," Opinion

BERLIN, Aug. 19 — (Special Star-Tribune Cable, Copyright.)—"We remain at the mercy of the French militarists. We are the losers in the compromise."

This is the concensus of opinion in the German papers with only a few optimistic voices breaking through the gloom. The semi-official papers point out the concessions obtained by the German delegation in London, but they share the general fear that despite Premier Herriot's promise the Ruhr will not be evacuated next year.

Resolutions against the London compromise were adopted by the Nationalist organizations, voiced in such violent terms that even the wildest Nationalistic papers refused to print them. The Nationalists rely on the fight in the Reichstag, where they expect to be strong enough to vote down the Government's acceptance of the London Agreement. Their ardor was cooled today by an announcement that Chancellor Marx and Foreign Minister Stresemann were willing to dissolve the Reichstag and ask the nation for a new election should the present Reichstag refuse to legalize the London Agreement.

The decrees and laws demanded by the London Agreement will not be ready this week. They will first be prepared and discussed at special sessions of the Cabinet.

MUTUAL ASSISTANCE PACT CONDEMNED

GENEVA, August 19 — (Associated Press.) — Jugo-Slavia and Australia have joined Great Britain, Germany, Russia, the United States and other states in rejecting the pact for mutual assistance provisionally framed as a means of securing a reduction of armaments.

Portugal has notified the League that it accepted the treaty in principle but considers the guarantee afforded in case of aggression inadequate. It complains that the definition of what constitutes aggression is insufficiently clear.

Jugo-Slavia is of the opinion that a general reduction of armaments is impossible "unless some practical solution is found of the problem of assistance. Mutual assistance should be absolute, unconditional and immediate, according to Jugo-Slavia, and be founded on the maintenance of the status quo." But unfortunately, these requirements, Jugo Slavia contends, are not met by the draft of the pact under which the small powers especially, could be invaded and ravaged before military assistance was forthcoming; hence, Jugo-Slavia feels that it cannot trust its safety to the guarantees provided by the draft.

Australia finds that no nation would be obliged to come to her assistance if she were attacked; nor would Australia be obliged to assist anybody. Australia dislikes the regional alliance feature, and doubts whether the council could effectually determine which state was the aggressor, within the four days mentioned in the treaty. Premier Bruce declares, however, that useful avenues of inquiry have been opened by the provisional pact and the fact it is not acceptable, should not discourage the friends of the League.

"The League has done, and still can do, much to concentrate the moral forces of the world on the urgent necessity of a solution of this great problem," he says, "and devise means to that end."

BRUSSELS, Aug. 19 — (Associated Press) — The coal mines in the Mons Basin are completely idle through the strike which began five days in protest against a wage cut of ten per cent. About 30,000 men have walked out, but it is believed they will soon return to their work as the companies have given proof that the wage reduction is absolutely necessary, since British and German coal is being offered at prices below those of Belgian coal.

FIND WHITE MEN AND WOMEN SLAVES TO BLACK TRIBE IN CENTRAL AFRICAN DESERT

LONDON, Aug. 19. — (Associated Press.)—Out of the great African interior, by way of Cape Town, comes a pathetic story of a group of white men and women who are living in a state of subjection to blacks, who exercise complete mastery over them.

The tragic fate of these unfortunate whites has just been revealed in a report which officials of the South African Government's Locust Expedition, now in the interior of the great Kalahari desert, have sent to Cape Town. The expedition went into the interior to study the breeding grounds of locusts.

When they arrived at Molopolole, a hundred miles in the interior of the desert, the officials were taken before Sebele, the paramount native chief. They found him well educated, able to speak English fluently, and both he and his wife wore European clothes.

The visitors discovered some 50 white men and women living near the chief's kraal, where they act as servants to the chief and his followers. They are thought to be descendants of old Dutch pioneers who, trekking into the interior, lost themselves in the desert. Their horses, overcome with the drought, died, and the pioneers flung themselves on the mercy of the natives.

These unfortunates have no power to own land, and no privileges of any kind. They are virtually serfs to the natives, tilling the land of their black masters, who give them small quantities of grain as wages.

The natives around Molopolole are rich both in cattle and land. They carry rifles, but the whites are not permitted to possess firearms. Chief Sebele dispenses justice to all his tribe—the Bechuana—who are recognized as the aristocracy of the Kalahari.

The Kalahari desert forms the western part of British Bechuanaland, and is about 120,000 square miles in extent. It was first crossed to Lake Ngami by Dr. Livingstone in 1849.

Dale Winter Scores An Emphatic Success In "Connie Goes Home"

ARTISTS are not the only people who can learn from Stock. It is, of course, an excellent school—for acting, so long as the direction is sound and the students sincere. But it also affords the public an opportunity of establishing its own standard of what is and what is not wholesome, satisfying dramatic entertainment. I have seen most of the new comedies produced on this side of the Atlantic during the past twenty years, and after having paid a visit to the Orpheum last night, I am still wondering why I never saw "Connie Goes Home" before. The author, Edwards Childs Carpenter, has won fame with "The Cinderella Man," but at the risk of being thought both peculiar and eccentric, I want to say, plainly, that in my opinion, "Connie Goes Home" is, in some respects, the more amusing comedy of the two,—better as comedy, better as dramatic entertainment, better as a study of characters very little removed from the reality we call life, though it possesses a good deal of the element of improbability.

Connie is a very minor actress, who finds herself facing virtual starvation. She refuses an offer to go into vaudeville—at a price she does not care to pay (and it is easy to imagine the stage door cads and the other puppies who think they know the stage, sneering at this, but what they do NOT know would fill a far larger space than their brains occupy). Instead, Connie conceives the rather wild idea of vamping a train conductor, in the guise of a child, for a longer train journey than she can pay for. Her little scheme—and it is a scheme Canadians will find it difficult to conceive as being within the limits of possibility, though over the border such things have been known—her little scheme goes awry, and she finds herself escorted by an impulsive but independent and attractive young man to his uncle's home, as a present. He has acquired an uncertain reputation for his presents to his uncle, but this one possesses the quality of novelty.

To meet the "present" there are the uncle and a cousin,—a smooth type of cad, whom one distrusts at sight (a tribute to the acting of Stewart Wilson, a former member of Orpheum stock, who has made considerable headway since he last appeared here and whose progress has been thoroughly well deserved). Connie is forced to continue her pose as a stage child, but circumstances—and the unpleasant young man aforesaid—compel her to reveal her deception. To her dismay, she finds the uncle—a keen, hard, irascible, elderly man—has guessed her secret. He seeks to make use of her to break an engagement between his nephew—the young man who has come to her aid on the train—and an undesirable party. She is already in love with the nephew, and she agrees to the uncle's scheme for love of the nephew and unwilling to accept payment. In the end, all difficulties and misunderstandings are cleared away, and the course of true love finds its way to smoothness after storm.

As I have said, there is considerable improbability in the story. The possibility of such a deception being maintained for any length of time will be challenged by most. But one is disposed to make allowances for the dubious plausibilities on account of the admirable comedy with which the play is filled, and the excellent character-study of a harsh-spoken, keen-eyed man with a soft spot in his heart, the uncle of the tale affords. And most of all, in this particular instance, for the delightful portrait Miss Winter draws of Connie.

Miss Winter has devoted her time exclusively to musical comedy in the past. But "Irene" proved she was a born comedienne, and as Connie she reveals such distinctive talent as warrants the statement that a future of no little success awaits her in comedy. Her voice is pliable and capable of a considerable range of expression. She modulates it well. But it is in the deft touches, the carefully thought-out trifles with which she embellishes and lends vitality and appeal to a role not in itself convincing, that her work wins the right to be called distinctive. She manipulated a little love scene with skill and finesse, and she controlled a big emotional outburst with real histrionic ability. I foresee a career of real achievement ahead of this young actress, if she sticks to the spoken drama.

* * *

The unexpected return for the close of the season of David Herblin, a former well-known and popular leading man, who played the role of the reckless young nephew with aplomb, naturally, smoothly, convincingly and without the least bit of artificiality, proved very much to the audience's liking. Mr. Frawley gave us the best stage portrait he has done this season as the uncle. Here was acting of the old school, finished, polished, adroit, always meeting the situation adequately, effectively, in an effortless and masterly manner, — a first-rate study for the younger generation.

Miss Margaret Wolfe was effective as a society icicle; Miss Revner was admirable in the prologue as a chorus girl off on a road tour; Mr. Franklin George did his bit as an unwholesome vaudeville man, well. Of Mr. Wilson's work I have spoken before. Staging and mounting were entirely appropriate.

This is a real good entertainment, from any point of view. Miss Winter is well worth watching throughout.

"The Lone Wolf" A Thrilling Film On The Screen at Loew's

Nothing has been lost in the screen version of Louis Joseph Vance's "The Lone Wolf," at Loew's this week. It still depends upon a series of thrills for interest, nevertheless it is a picture worth seeing. Jack Holt appears to advantage in the title role, and Dorothy Dalton is equally well suited to the part of the trusted agent of a band of Parisian criminals known as "The Pack."

The plot centres around secret plans for an invention capable of crippling airplanes in flight, their theft from the American Government, and their recovery. Of course there is the usual love story running through it all, but in this picture it is partially submerged.

* * *

Jack Wyatt's Scotch Lads and Lassies headline the vaudeville bill. They omit little pertaining to the music and dance of Scotland. Old songs and new, sword dances and pipe selections are presented in spirited style.

Downey and Claridge contribute an act which incorporated a little of almost every kind of vaudeville, roller-skating, cycling, dancing, songs and comedy. Milton Berle can best be described as "the Jazz Boy." His act is fifteen minutes of lively jazz,—a little patter, a few "active" songs, and some good dancing. Caverly and Ward present a light comedy skit that amuses. Clark and Villani are a couple of humorous "Wops," one of them a good singer.

"Covered Wagon" Is Back; Strong Popular Appeal of Spectacle

"The Covered Wagon," that cinematic epic of the great land treks which preceded the frantic rush for gold of '49, is this week making its second appearance in Montreal, and is to be seen at the Capitol Theatre for the first time at ordinary prices. The picture takes high rank among the greatest productions of the moving picture stage. The theme has freshness and originality and the picture is historically accurate and interesting. It is true that the story deals with an episode in the settlement of the United States, but Canada, too, had its pioneer fathers. The dangers, difficulties and heroism that were connected with the colonization of the Western states had their counterpart in the Dominion, and the drama unfolded in "The Covered Wagon" must, on that account, appeal with especial zest to Canadian audiences.

* * *

Money was evidently not begrudged in the production and, in this case, money has been well spent. The picture gives no impression of wanton and unintelligent extravagance, as is too often the case, but impressive, spacious and realistic effects have been secured. The heroic train of wagons, winding its weary length across the prairie, or corralled to meet the attack of revengeful Indians, makes an intense appeal to the imagination. The crossing by the caravan of the river which separated it from the Promised Land, the prairie fire sweeping down upon the encampment of forlorn but resolute adventurers, the buffalo hunt, the attack by Indians, are all scenes of intrinsic interest, apart from the special attraction lent to them by the story.

* * *

The plot itself awakens one's sympathies for the hero and heroine and holds the attention as their fortunes at length reach a happy climax. J. Walter Kerrigan, who plays the part of the gallant frontiersman, who is the hero of the tale, is all that a hero should be. Lois Wilson is the charming daughter of the leader of the pioneer procession. Ethel Wales, John Fox, Tully Marshall, Alan Hale and Charles Ogle have prominent parts in the cast. The characters are particularly well represented. The "old-timers" live again. The sturdy stock from which the new territories have been populated is re-incarnated. The spacious days in which there were still new lands to conquer come back from the dead past in "The Covered Wagon."

* * *

The program includes Lincke-Pot-Pourris, arranged by G. Agostini, introducing his favorite gavotte, "The Glow-worm," and Leon Leonidoff and Florence Rogge dance delightfully.

"Bread" at Palace Provides an Average Picture of Disillusion

Mr. Charles Norris' novel, "Bread," was a forceful and somewhat disturbing study of marriage and means. It has been made into a picture which fails to reproduce the spirit of the book, but provides Mae Busch, Wanda Hawley, Eugenie Besserer and a few others with average opportunities to portray average scenes of domestic felicity, infelicity, quarrels, and the hundred and one variations of two in paradise that marriage between young people is popularly supposed to provide for the onlooker.

There are two young couples,—two sisters married to different types of manhood. One couple, the Devlins, come upon disillusion early because the husband is bent more upon pleasure than upon progress, and his wife, who left a business career to marry him, finds it unendurable to continue and goes back to her business career. Her sister, less ambitious and therefore more easily contended, has children and a husband who is of the domestic type. The contrast between the two, and the eventual reconciliation of the less happily assorted couple, constitute the story on the film.

* * *

It is not wholly satisfactory, and in particular the whole force of the contrast and the moral — if there is any — the picture should hold is lost when we see the young couple who are supposed to be virtually penniless living in a splendid house and the wife dressed in a manner that would cost far more than they could ever hope to get credit for. Here is a typical example of unintelligent direction, for, obviously there is no sense of proportion or of appropriate background or setting, either in detail or in mass, in such a portrayal.

The acting, seen under these circumstances, would lose greatly in effect if it were entrusted to any but those in whose hands it rests. But both Miss Hawley and Miss Busch succeed in compensating to a large degree for the lack of conviction the tale as presented holds. The photography is effective, and there is no little comedy here and there. But it is impossible to be enthusiastic about a picture that leaves one wondering with what sort of intelligence the producers credit the people whose money they hope to get for looking at so paradoxical a picture of life as it is not.

Mollie Williams Opens The Season At Gayety Theatre

Mollie Williams is back at the Gayety with a new show which she calls her "Snappy Revue." It is the first production on the Columbia Circuit this season, so far as Montreal is concerned, and her performance in Montreal is one of the first for the revue. She has brought a chorus which shows a departure from burlesque's usual brand. The girls are all young and ambitious. Miss Williams' supporting cast, comedians, singers and dancers is stronger than in her former troupes. As for herself, she is the same as ever giving the swing to everything, sending songs over the footlights with mirth and enthusiasm, smiling and laughing and dancing.

The revue is in two acts and twenty scenes. Of these there are scenes where lovers meet and rivals meet; there is the South Sea Island, and the woman that conquers the men, there are the hospital, the fight promoter, the zoo and the little bit of France. We have seen them all before in burlesque, but not all, in Mollie Williams' burlesque.

There is something in her handling of a show which makes even the most timeworn plots and play wrangles and wrinkles entertaining. She retains her well known postman scene, and it is still good. She introduces pretty girls in various postal capacities, and demonstrate conclusively that ladies of this calibre filled the postal jobs here, there would be no strikes.

Praise is due the comedians Bobby Wilson, Fred Harper, Al. Morton and Andy Mayo. John Mack supports her well in the Slave Dealer. Ella Corbett, Lillian Corbett Bebe Almond and Ray King contribute much to the program with clever work in song and dance.

Diverting Skit At Imperial Proves a Good Comedy Vehicle

If one may judge from the enthusiasm with which large audiences greeted the vaudeville bill at the Imperial theatre on its opening, the standard of entertainment that is being maintained at that house is one that suits the taste of the public eminently well. The program provides plenty of bright comedy, at which it is easy to laugh and which is designed for no other purpose but amusement of the lightest type.

A hugely diverting skit is provided by Raymond Bond and company in "The Worm," — a picture of a shy and hesitating young man being keyed up to scratch by his more self-possessed and resolute sweetheart, until in the end he suddenly blossoms out into a cave-man of approved type and drags her off to the registrar with little gentleness. It is in Mr. Bond's comedy presentation of the character that the skit has its entertaining value. He does his work very well indeed, and there is hardly a minute without a hearty laugh. He is capably supported.

The Sutcliffe Family give us Scottish scenes,—a reception in a Highland home, and the festivities that follow. It is redolent of the land of the heather, and although I find myself unable to depart from my lifelong conviction that the bagpipes sound best when heard at a distance of twenty miles, across a fog-blown moor, there are obviously very many people who disagree with me, and their verdict must be recorded. It is that the bagpipes of the Sutcliffe Family sound well at the Imperial.

* * *

The Bison City Four have sung here before. They are clever comedians, who combine comedy and quartette singing and a considerable amount of farce in a manner that appeals to the risibilities of their audience. Jack Hanley, as a juggler of individual methods, who proceeds about his work in as unconcerned a manner as possible, and who is really an agile and dexterous manipulator, wins considerable applause.

The Zellias Sisters are graceful and daring trapeze artists whose feats are executed with precision and celerity, and who provide more than one genuine thrill for the spectators. Allman and Harvey pay a return visit in their amusing portrayal of an Arctic explorer and his funny blackface servant. Songs and the ukelele keep the act going effectively.

"Blow Your Own Horn," the feature film, is just as good summer weather entertainment as the vaudeville, — a picture designed to provoke laughter and successfully achieving the object of the producers. Altogether a pleasant way to spend an evening.

The former is the story of the Queen of Sardalia, wife of Constantine II, whose dissolute behaviour has driven her from him, and her subsequent love affair with Paul Verdayne, a young Englishman, sent to Switzerland by his parents to break off an unwelcome attachment. How Paul is made acquainted with a new sense of life and beauty, through his relationship with the Queen, whose identy is unknown to him, forms the thesis of this picture. Aileen Pringle has the role of the Queen. Conrad Nagel as Paul, John Sanipolis as the King, and other well-known actors complete the cast.

PROMOTIONS TO BE MADE IN FORCES

Canada May Exchange Officers With Other Domnions

OTTAWA, August 19 — (Canadian Press.)—The Journal learns unofficially of certain important promotions in the permanent force of Canada which will be announced shortly.

It is understood that Col. W. Gibson, at present director of personal services at headquarters of the Department of National Defence, Ottawa, is to be given the position of General Officer commanding at Calgary to succeed General A. H. Bell, the latter proceeding to Toronto to assume the command of Military District Number 2 in succession to Col. A. H. Borden.

There are also in progress negotiations relative to exchange of officers between Canada and various other parts of the Empire, as was the practice in the years preceding the war, the Journal understands. The first of these movements is the attachment of Col. W. O. Hodgins, D.S.O., to the Imperial staff in London, England, for a period of two years. At least one other officer will be sent to the British War Office, while plans are under way for despatching additional officers to Australia and New Zealand.

CONSERVATIVES ARE BEING KEPT BUSY

TORONTO, Aug. 19 — (Canadian Press) — A large gathering of Western Ontario Conservatives is expected to be present at the picnic which is being held Wednesday at Stratford, under the auspices of the Western Ontario Liberal-Conservative Association. Large numbers are expected from Windsor, St. Thomas, London, Goderich, Palmerston, Walkerton and other western Ontario points.

The Liberal-Conservative Association of the central district, which comprises the counties of York, Peel, Dufferin, Grey and Simcoe, will hold a picnic on Thursday, at the Hydro Park, Eugenia Falls. The principal speakers will be Mr. Arthur Meighen, Hon. George E. Henry and Hon. Dr. Jmeson.

A picnic will be held by the Northeastern District Liberal-Conservative Association, of which A. E. Honeywell, Ottawa, is president, at Russell, near Ottawa, on August 27. The speakers will be Mr. Meighen, Hon. Rudolph Monty of Montreal, Hon. Mr. Fauteux, of Quebec, and possibly Hon. G. Howard Ferguson.

CAPTAIN COULD NOT LOCATE RUM SHIP

NEW LONDON, Conn., August 19, —(Associated Press.) — "Somebody's brain child" is the term applied to the "floating cafe" reported Thursday to have been anchored fifteen miles off Fire Island by Captain Eugene Blake, jr., master of the coast guard cutter Senaca which, has been searching for the vessel. The Senaca arrived here early this morning after a thorough search for such a vessel.

"Unless it could have been the steamship Arallaka from Liverpool, a 2,800 ton vessel," said Captain Blake. "I do not know what the report could have referred to."

MONTREAL CABLE TO LONDON OPEN

Greetings Exchanged With "Heart of the Empire" Yesterday

A new direct cable service between Montreal and London operated by the Canadian Pacific Telegraph office in Montreal in co-operation with the Commercial Cable Company in London, is in operation since 9 o'clock this morning and is now open to the public. The new service places Montreal in as close connection with the capital of England as Manchester or Leeds.

One of the first messages received in Montreal by the new service was from the London office of the Bank of Montreal which cabled greetings to the Bank of Montreal headquarters in Montreal. The message was received and replied to by Sir Frederick Williams-Taylor within 15 minutes.

Hope that the new service might further development of trade relations was expressed in greetings exchanged between the London Chamber of Commerce and the Montreal Board of Trade. Sir R. L. Barclay of the London Chamber of Comerce cabled: "As chairman of the Council of the London Chamber of Commerce I welcome the opportunity afforded by the inauguration this day by the Commercial Cable Company of direct communication between London and Montreal to express to the Montreal Board of Trade hearty good wishes for its future prosperity. I trust that this new means of communication may assist in the development of the trade relations between our two cities."

BOARD OF TRADE REPLIES

H. B. Mackenzie, president of the Montreal Board of Trade, cabled in reply: "On behalf of Montreal Board of Trade I thank the London Chamber of Commerce for its good wishes, which are most heartily reciprocated. The direct cable service between your city and ours, inaugurated this day, is full of promise for the development of greater trade between the port and city of London and the port and city of Montreal, and will be an instrument in the promotion of that interest in Imperial trade so earnestly desired by all delegates to the Congress of Chambers of Commerce of the Empire held in your city and towards the realization of which your city has so largely contributed."

C.N.R. MAY CHANGE FROM COAL TO OIL

WINNIPEG, Aug. 19. — (Canadian Press.) — "It is all a matter of cost and supply, but if those controlling the Wainwright oil fields of Alberta can satisfy us that they can produce oil in sufficient quantity and at a satisfactory cost, then we shall most certainly consider the advisability of making a switch from coal to oil for fuel purposes on the road," stated Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, on his arrival here last night from the West.

Mr. Thornton said he could make no definite statement until he was advised of the exact position in the Wainwright field.

Kills Husband

Because she loved her husband and could not bear to lose him through a divorce he had filed, Mrs. Regina Morely, 32, of Kansas City, shot and killed James Emmett Morely, 33, when he visited the home to see his 20-months-old baby. They lived in the fashionable residential district in their home known as the "House of Hearts."

C.N.R. OFFICIALS DINED DALRYMPLE

Vice-President Just Back From Europe Was Optimistic of Future

Things look very promising for closer relationship between England and Canada and particularly for the Canadian National Railways, J. E. Dalrymple, vice-president of the Canadian National Railways, told officials of the company at an informal luncheon arranged to welcome him back to the city yesterday.

Mr. Dalrymple arrived in Montreal this morning after three months spent in Europe, during which he attended the first European staff conference of the Canadian National Railways, held in Liverpool from August 4 to 6. Returning with him were R. B. Teakle, general manager, Canadian Government Merchant Marine Limited, and D. O. Wood, foreign freight manager Canadian National Railway, who were also guests at the luncheon.

As a result of the trip many plans would materialize for the improvement of foreign trade and these would be put into practice as they materialized, Mr. Dalrymple said.

The luncheon was arranged by G. T. Bell, executive assistant to Mr. Dalrymple, and was held in the Prince of Wales Salon, Windsor Hotel. Mr. Dalrymple thanked the officials for their welcome and expressed himself as enthusiastic over the prospects ahead.

U.S. PROGRESSING IN "SAFETY FIRST"

Comparative Tables Show Work Accomplished in Thirty-five Cities

"The 'Safety First' movement is comparatively a new one in Canada, but in order to show the success which it has attained in other countries we have prepared a comparative table, showing how automobile accidents have been reduced in thirty-five United States cities," said Arthur Gadboury of the Province of Quebec Safety League to a Star representative today. "The figures are compiled from health department records by the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters."

W. M. BIRKS' WORKERS IN ELECTION TEAMS

A meeting of volunteer men workers in the W. M. Birks organization was held at his campaign headquarters yesterday evening, following a meeting of his women workers in the afternoon. In both cases, the workers divided themselves into teams under chosen captains. Brig. Gen. Eric McCuaig, C. E. Gault, M.L.A. and Mr. Birks were present at the evening meeting and addressed the workers. In accordance with an understanding come to between the women workers, no individual names were given out in connection with their meeting or their work.

The total number of names added to the electoral list for St. Antoine Division, by the revising officer during the past week is 2,153, while only around 200 were removed from the list. Pat Barrett's motion to have placed on the official list those names that had been accidentally left off although appearing on the Provincial list, was finally approved last night, and these names will be included.

Equip Your Body for Success

MAKE it easy for yourself to win. Equip your body to successfully meet the many problems you must face each day. Have on tap always, boundless energy of body and mind.

The foods you eat, of course, are very important. You must choose them with care. You must see that they give your body the nourishment you pay for. Such a search will lead you to Grape-Nuts.

Grape-Nuts is concentrated nourishment. Whole wheat and malted barley give it a mighty store of the most vitalizing elements—phosphorus and iron, carbohydrates—all the essentials. A long baking process leaves these ready for rapid assimilation by the body. And then, because the whole wheat berry is used, Grape-Nuts contains an adequate supply of bran roughage.

Grape-Nuts is a perfectly-balanced food. Its crispness makes you chew it, thus aiding the teeth. It is easily digested; soundly nourishing; and economical, because there are many helpings in each package. Costs 1c per serving. Buy Grape-Nuts from your grocer and serve it tomorrow with milk or cream.

GRAPE-NUTS TOMATO SALAD

¼ cup Grape-Nuts, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 envelope minute gelatine, 1 cup boiling water, 1 can condensed tomato soup, Mayonnaise dressing, small heart of cabbage, or lettuce.

Put the butter over the fire till melted, then stir in the Grape-Nuts. Remove from fire and roll ¼ cup on molding board.

Dissolve the gelatine in the boiling water, add the can of tomato soup. Mold in custard cups. When beginning to harden, gently stir into each cup a portion of the buttered whole Grape-Nuts, using the ½ cup in all.

Set on the ice till hard, then turn out on a bed of lettuce or (preferably) finely chopped cabbage heart.

Sprinkle over the whole salad (tomato mold and cabbage bed) the Grape-Nuts dust already prepared, and serve with Russian dressing.

Russian Dressing.—Mix Mayonnaise dressing with one-half as much Chili sauce, add one pimento cut in small pieces. If preferred, plain Mayonnaise may be used.

COUNCIL ROUSED BY DEMAND FOR POLICE PROBE

Aldermen Brodeur And Dubreuil Crossed Swords On Latter's Motion

PROOF ASKED

Communication of Complaints Ordered to be Made Within Three Days

(From Last Night's Night Edition.)

Ald. J. A. A. Brodeur, chairman of the Executive Committee, threw down the gauntlet to Ald. Dubreuil, demander of a police enquiry, this afternoon, when he required and obtained by unanimous support of the Council, that Ald. Dubreuil give communication to the Council within three days of today of the declarations he would have in his possession concerning the Public Safety Department.

The demand came as a thunder-bolt out of a clear sky and precipitated the preliminary skirmish in the long-awaited debate on the necessity of a police investigation.

The Council had passed a number of administrative reports and had settled down to a drowsy day's business when Ald. Schubert shook the assembly into wakefulness by asking that the Council appoint a committee of twelve to study complaints said to be made against the police, and report to the Council, next meeting, on the advisability of having an enquiry by Royal Commission.

In amendment of the above, Ald. Brodeur rose, and proposed that the mover of the demand for an enquiry, Ald. Dubreuil, lay before the Council immediately, any complaints or charges that he might have and on which he proposed to base his request for a Commission.

Here Ald. Schubert withdrew his motion, and Ald. Dubreuil rose to ask for time. He thought his motion could not come up for debate until next regular meeting, but Ald. Desroches interposed that a month had already elapsed since Ald. Dubreuil had promised to give the Council the motion of which he had given notice.

Here Ald. Brodeur arose, and treated the Council to an appeal which has seldom been equalled in extent and earnestness. He challenged Ald. Dubreuil to make his motion now, demanding an enquiry, and emphasized that he had received absolutely no complaints or reports against the police which the administration had not acted upon. Further he denied statements alleged to have been made at a public meeting by Ald. Dubreuil in which he accused Ald. Brodeur of having refused to discuss police matters or consider complaints.

"Meetings have been held by Ald. Dubreuil to create a false impression concerning police matters here," Ald. Brodeur declared, "and to discredit the police and the administration. In particular this attempt has been levelled against the chairman of the executive. I have at all times sought to do my duty, and can give figures to show that every instance of misdemeanor or neglect has been investigated in police or other circles. In 1921 we dismissed 7 police, 21 in 1923, and 24 so far this year. In the detective department also, we have used the shears to the extent of 8 so far.

"Only since we have started to enforce order and discipline have we been confronted with accusations of neglect. The dismissed men are at the bottom of the trouble.

DEFENDS BELANGER.

"Even the Chief of Police has been attacked. I have studied his records and found everything in perfect order. While we favor enquiring into all charges, we can say also that we are not afraid of an investigation. If there is nothing wrong, why hold an investigation, at perhaps great cost, and with doubtful results?

"We are constantly making enquiries into every department and will establish discipline at all costs. Give us reports, rumors, anything to work on, and we will do our duty to discover if any thing is amiss. If our informants are afraid of publicity, we shall respect confidences.

"Mr. Dubreuil is reported as having had sworn statements of irregularities, let the Council see them and act accordingly. No one will gain by spreading insidious propaganda against the executive and police.

"We want to be shown if anything is wrong and are willing to be shown if there is. I repeat, we have received absolutely no reports on which we have not acted, and the only time Mr. Dubreuil approached me concerning police, was to speak in behalf of policemen whose records we were examining and whom we had temporarily suspended."

Here Alderman Dubreuil arose to answer, and briefly stated that he did not think he should produce any information today, as he was not ready with his preliminary work of making his case. He thought it would be time then to place the documents before the Council.

Ald. Brodeur again rose to add that Dubreuil had stated to the press that he was ready weeks ago, but still he had delayed, had not pressed his motion, but chosen to act by notice of motion, while stating to the public that he had 40, 60 and even 75 sworn statements against the police, and that his motion would be supported by some 5,000 signatures, obtained, he said, weeks ago.

"I want to prove that I have not been remiss in my duties," Ald Brodeur continued "and to clear my name against charges made by him."

Ald. Schubert, Ald Lalonde, Ald. Legault and Ald. Sansregret each supported Ald. Brodeur, Ald. Schubert did not want the City to pay some $100,000 for an inquiry which could be conducted by the administration. Ald. Lalonde thought the City Hall was not one-quarter so remiss as the Court House, and that for "every ten policemen at fault, there were 40, in the Court House who should be investigated."

Ald Sansregret thought it absolutely derogatory to an alderman for him to go to the public with his complaints instead of placing his supposed charges before the administration or even the Council as a whole. "Any alderman owes it to his oath of office," he declared, to come first to the Council with his grievances, then to the public if he has been unable to get recourse." Delays would not be brooked, and if Ald. Dubreuil had any charges, to delay presenting them was only to perpetuate a very dangerous condition.

Ald. Vaillancourt also took occasion to berate Ald. Dubreuil for appealing to the public through the press and public meetings instead of coming squarely before the Council. The campaign was not against the police, he declared, but against the whole administration and led by "a few bilious agitators." The motion carried without dissent.

The French societies of chemical industry have formed a syndicate called "Ammonia," for the production of fertiliser from atmospheric nitrogen to relieve France of her present dependence on Chilean nitrates.

Babe of May and December Union Left on Doorstep

(From Last Night's Night Edition.)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 18.—(United Press.)—Because her husband was too old—70 years—and couldn't live long, Mrs. Herman Bleistein decided she couldn't "afford" to rear her infant son.

The young wife—only 24 years old—left the infant on the doorstep of Mrs. A. K. Ruf, by agreement. Mrs. Ruf wanted to adopt the child.

Ruf, however, couldn't be induced to adopt the child of the "70-24" marriage, and called the police. The baby is at the General Hospital while welfare officers attempt to iron out the situation.

STATE SUMS UP POINTS TO PROVE SLAYERS SANE

Four Alienists Swear Nothing Abnormal About Chicago Youths

"SECRET TESTIMONY"

Defence Questions If Examinations Violate "Constitutional Rights"

(From Last Night's Night Edition.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 18—(United Press)—Presentations of testimony in the Leopold-Loeb murder hearing started on its final phase this afternoon when the State called Dr. W. H. Krohn, last State alienist to the stand, to sum up the State contention that Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb were legally sane when they killed Robert Franks.

Four alienists for the State preceded Krohn and all were agreed that there was nothing abnormal about the boys and that they were in full possession of normal faculties on May 21st, when they consummated their crime.

To show that the boys were in possession of their normal minds, Dr. Krohn recited his conversation with the boys in the office of State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe.

Dr. Krohn said he and Leopold engaged in a discussion of the mind, and how it differed with different individuals. Leopold told him he was of the behavioristic school, and that his mind was the sum total of the behavior of his nervous system, the doctor said.

LEOPOLD GIVES REASON.

Dr. Krohn then mentioned that a scientific institution had stated that the average age, mentally, of the several million men in the American army during the World War averaged less than 12 years and he asked Leopold why this was the case. Leopold replied that it was due to the fact that the army was recruited from the streets.

While there has been much "secret testimony" during the hearing, today for the first time "secret testimony" was given relating directly to the confession of the killing. Dr. Krohn had just explained how the body of Robert Franks had been stripped.

"Now here I want to explain something——," and the attorneys and the judge grouped themselves about the doctor as he whispered for a moment.

DARROW ANNOYS CROWE.

Darrow concluded his cross-examination of Dr. Singer, another alienist, by stating that so little was known of the causes of human conduct that it was extremely difficult to account for the motivating influences. To this the doctor agreed and Darrow turned him back to the State for re-direct examination.

Short, sharp argument developed between Darrow and State's Attorney Crowe while Dr. Singer was being questioned on whether his examination of the youths in the State's attorney's office was not a violation of their constitutional rights.

Crowe cried hotly that he would continue to examine prisoners as much as he wanted.

Darrow retorted that civilized society would not stand for a violation of constitutional rights of anyone, including prisoners.

PRESCOTT T.B. VICTIM COMMITS SUICIDE

PRESCOTT, Ont., August 19.—(Star Special). — Victor Lajoy, 38, afflicted with tuberculosis, committed suicide by slashing his throat with a razor at his home in Ogdensburg last night. He had been ill for two years and on previous occasions had attempted to end his life, but was prevented by his wife who guarded him closely. While she was in the yard at their home, he committed the deed. Despondency over his continued ill-health affected his mind and a verdict of suicide, while insane, was rendered by the Coroner's jury. Besides his widow he is survived by three small children, his father, five brothers and six sisters.

PLUCKY RECORD OF LONG FIGHT BY M'LAREN

British World Flier Recounts Difficulties Encountered in Flight

FOOLHARDY BUSINESS

Many Lessons Learned in Globe Circling Attempt That Will Prove Useful

(From Last Night's Night Edition.)

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., August 18—(Star Special.) — Squadron Leader MacLaren's story, of the final stage of his attempted world flight from Tokyo to Nikolski, is the record of a most gallant attempt to surmount appalling obstacles in the way of weather conditions and lack of facilities in one of the earths most inaccessible quarters. The thrilling tale that was told of the final crash on Behring Island which ended the attempt to fly around the world was but the culminating tragedy of a series of incidents of the flight since leaving Tokyo.

Battered by hurricanes sweeping down from the Arctic, enveloped in impenetrable fog which rendered it almost impossible for them to tell how close they might be to instant death against cliffs; with one of their number, Andrews lying ill in the cockpit of their machine, that every moment might be their last, these intrepid wayfares battled desperately to continue the flight they had begun.

The MacLaren exploit was a private venture from first to last. No aid whatever was given by the British Treasury and indeed the whole flight was planned and carried out by MacLaren.

Backed by the sterling loyalty of his companions, MacLaren brought to bear on his task not only his own genius for leadership but the whole of his amazing adventurous experience from the time, when, as a stripling of 19 he landed in Vancouver with $25 in his pocket and set to work as timekeeper of a tracklaying gang of Australians for the B. C. Electric Railway.

Leaving out of account the magnificent record of dogged pluck and daring MacLaren has given the world as a result of his flight, valuable lessons have been learned which will be of great assistance to others.

MacLaren's opinion of the problem with which he was confronted in the Pacific flight may be summed up in his own terse comment: "It is a foolhardy business to attempt to cross the Pacific via the Kuriles and Aleutians without at least two ships as escorts."

MACLAREN'S STORY

He says: "We encountered impossible weather conditions. You hear fog talked of in England. I myself have flown often in so-called fog, but the fog of the Kuriles is almost unbelievable.

"Day after day we never got away from it. It was absolutely impenetrable. To attempt to fly this route in summer months is utterly impracticable. The escort of two vessels is essential I consider for two reasons. First weather reports from ahead are essential. One vessel must be ahead to send back reports while a second is needed near the plane to receive them. So fickle is the weather that when a start is made on a flight it may be a fine clear day but before reaching your destination you may find utterly impenetrable fog barring your path. If there is only one escort ship the plane itself must be equipped with wireless receiving apparatus with a range of 200 to 350 miles, which means of course, adding seriously to the weight of the machine.

In the second place, if you come down anywhere in the Behring Sea Archipelago without vessels at hand you haven't a dog's chance; practically the whole archipelago is uninhabited and even if you are lucky enough to land safely you might easily die of starvation."

Discussing the lessons to be learned from the flight, MacLaren said "I am convinced the greatest mistake we made originally was in overloading the plane. We carried a lot of spares which we found unnecessary. If I should attempt the flight again I should carry nothing except absolute essentials just what we carried after the smash at Akyab in Burmah. Only the clothes we stood up in and a handful of handy tools. Overloading was responsible for the two failures we encountered at Corfu and Parlu, India."

MacLaren pays high tribute to the engine of his machine. "I regard the engine as the most perfect thing of its type ever made," said, "since the present engine was installed at Calcutta it has never misfired and no mechanical adjustment was required and is still in perfect order."

MONTH'S DELAY FATAL.

To the month's delay at Akyab is attributed the disaster which subsequently overtook his expedition all his plans were ruined by that he said and had they reached the Kuriles a month earlier it is probable that they would have been successful.

How Flight Officer Planderlieth clad only in his shirt rushed to rescue of the plane at Takotan is one of the humorous and indeed most dramatic episodes of the flight. MacLaren in his record says "Just as I was about to relieve Planderlieth the wind suddenly changed and commenced blowing inshore so I shouted to Planderlieth to drop anchor but before this was possible the machine commenced to drift on shore. We dashed into the water in an endeavor to keep the machine off and told Andrews to get the engine started and shouted for the others to come quickly. Planderlieth arriving on the scene clad only in his shirt as his trousers were being dried, waded into the water and clambered into the plane just as Andrews got it started. I had previously noted a narrow lake inshore and as the surf was raging shouted to Plenderleith to take the machine up and land in the lake which he successfully accomplished still clad only in his shirt."

At Simisir Island the machine encountered "terrific bumps" and on arrival there Broome and Plenderleith jumped out and went ashore and were met on beach by many blue foxes and small herd of reindeer which were raised by Japanese Government.

Toledo Boys Make Long Journey to Visit Toronto.

(From Last Night's Night Edition.)

TORONTO, Aug. 18.—(Canadian Press)—For the purpose of seeing the Canadian National Exhibition, Loren Allen and Elbert Roos, of Toledo, Ohio, arrived in town last night, having hiked all the way from their native city. The boys modestly explained, they were frequently given rides by passing motorists and last night, while on the road from Hamilton, a Toronto man picked them up, drove them to this city and put them up for the night, then after breakfast drove them down town. The boys intend to camp somewhere near the Fair Grounds.

THREE DAY DELAY HALTS AMERICAN GLOBE CIRCLERS

Heavily Loaded Machines Injured Under Attempted Start

ITALIAN ARRIVES

Will Continue Towards South America if Successful on Atlantic

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Aug. 19. — (Associated Press.)—The American army world fliers will be unable to leave Iceland for Greenland for at least three days more, owing to damage suffered by both planes in an attempted start.

Lieutenants Lowell H. Smith and Erik Nelson, the pilots, with their mechanicians, Lieutenants Leslie Arnold and John Harding, Jr., rose early yesterday, enthused by the prospect of being off once more, after the tedious wait here for favorable weather conditions and the establishment of a suitable landing place on the Greenland coast.

Their machines were heavily loaded with fuel for the hop of more than 800 miles to Fredericksdal, and it was this extra weight that caused the trouble, as the planes refused to lift from the water. Repeated efforts to get off were in vain, and the strain caused the spreader bar on Lieutenant Smith's plane to break, while the propeller of the other machine was shattered.

WAIT FOR CRUISER

Repairs wait on the arrival here of the cruiser Richmond with spare parts. The cruiser, which had put to sea in anticipation of the flight, is not expected to reach port before tomorrow.

Lieut. Locatelli, the Italian aviator, who arrived here Sunday, is still uncertain whether to join the United States fliers on their hop to Greenland or to remain here from ten to fifteen days longer for the purpose of taking motion pictures. While en route to Reykjavik from Hoefn Hornafjord the Italian pilot and his companions took some movies from the air, said to be the first ever taken in Iceland.

If successful in crossing the Atlantic, it is understood Locatelli intends continuing on to South America.

HANOI, French Indo-China, Aug. 19.—(United Press.) — The around the world flight of Major Piedro Zanni, Argentine airman, may have reached an unsuccessful termination early today when the big plane over-turned as Zanni attempted to take off.

The machine was badly damaged, and is considered beyond repair. Later today Zanni will decide whether to rush a relief plane here from Yokohama to continue the flight.

Although he was not injured when the plane over-turned on a soggy rice field, Zanni was taken to a hospital following the accident. He has a high fever and will remain in bed until it is decided whether the flight will be continued.

Zanni was attempting an eastward jaunt around the world, having started from Amsterdam.

MATTEOTTI'S BODY IS IDENTIFIED

All Doubts Concerning Murdered Italian Deputy Set at Rest

ROME, August 19. — (Associated Press). — The body of Giacomo Matteotti, the Socialist deputy whose disappearance on June 10 stirred Italy, was definitely identified this afternoon not only by Signor Duca, a dentist, who easily recognized work he had done on the deputy's teeth a year and a half ago, but by a number of relatives and acquaintances who were called by Judge Giudici, leader of the investigation into Matteotti's disappearance.

The identification was established in a small chapel at the Riano cemetery where the body was taken Saturday following its discovery underneath a roadside culvert near Scrofano, on the outskirts of Rome, where it is believed to have been lying for more than two months.

Besides the dentist, others who participated in the identification were the Socialist deputies Turati, Tonello, Bocconi and Gonzales, and a brother-in-law, Signor Steiner. Despite her repeated insistence, Matteotti's widow was not allowed to view the body because of her exhaustion from renewed grief. The identification ceremonies had been postponed until yesterday because the widow had felt too weak to go through the ordeal on the previous day.

While the body was virtually unrecognizable, the two most important means of identification relied upon by the authorities were Matteotti's dentistry and a wedding ring found on the right hand. When the body was found it was noticed that there was a gold crowned molar on the right side of the jaw and a tooth on the left side filled with gold but uncrowned. The Matteotti dentist upon being called, identified the work he had previously done.

Police authorities, continuing their search for other evidence in the vicinity where the body was found, discovered a dilapidated copy of the Corriers Italiano dated June 7, parts of the newspaper Massagero, of the same date and scraps of a newspaper, the Pravo Lidu, which the officials believe to have been the property of a Slav, who is under arrest in connection with the Matteotti disappearance.

The police attach importance to the fact that a newspaper in the Slavic language such as the Pravo Lidu, is unknown in this section of the country.

The question of a public funeral is being held in abeyance pending a conference of the deputy's Socialist colleagues.

SENATOR BOLDUC BURIED YESTERDAY

ST. VICTOR DE TRING, Que., August 19 — (Canadian Press.) — The funeral of the late Senator Joseph Bolduc, former president of the Senate and one of the oldest and most respected residents of this district, was held yesterday from his home here to the church of St. Victor. The former statesman was carried to his last resting place by citizens of the parish, friends of many years standing.

At the church an impressive ceremony was held. The Rev. Abbe Garon received the body and chanted the mass, assisted by Rev. Abbes Lavoie and Caron. Floral offerings were numerous, the most outstanding being a wreath of natural flowers sent by the members of the Senate. The chief mourners were Mr. Louis Bolduc, son of the deceased; Dr. George Cloutier his son-in-law; his brother Dominic Bolduc and a number of nephews and cousins. The Federal Government was represented by Hon. Dr. H. S. Beland, and His Excellency the Governor General by Major J. P. U. Archambault.

WILL GERMANY GET PLACE IN LEAGUE?

Great Britain Said to Be Anxious for Admittance Of Old Foes

GENEVA, August 19.—(Associated Press). — Great Britain's reported intention to propose an increase in the number of seats in the League of Nations council has aroused extraordinary interest in League circles, where it is looked upon as doubtless paving the way for Germany's entrance into the League.

It is feared, however, that a move to provide Germany with a permanent seat on the council might displease Brazil and Spain, who, as holders of non-permanent seats, would like to be promoted to permanent places. Therefore, there is some suggestion of giving Germany a non-permanent seat at first and a permanent seat later, so as to avoid friction. Up to the present the League has not been informed whether Germany is about to seek membership.

Those conversant with league affairs point out that any proposal greatly to enlarge the council would arouse opposition as likely to make the body unwieldy.

STRIKE HOLDS UP LINER'S DEPARTURE

HAVRE, France, August 19 — (Associated Press.) — The striking seamen of the French line have refused an offer of a two and a half francs increase in their daily pay, holding out for an increase of five francs. The offer was made by the shipowners at the suggestion of M. Meyer, Under-Secretary of the Merchant Marine Department. The company's steamer La Savoie, due to sail for New York today has been unable to complete its crew and will have to postpone departure.

PERSIANS HONOR DEAD CONSUL

Ceremonious Send-Off Given Remains of Murdered American

TEHERAN, Persia, Aug. 19—(Special Star-Tribune Cable, Copyright.)—A very ceremonious send-off was given the remains of the late American Vice-Consul Robert Imbrie, which were shipped yesterday to catch the destroyer, Trenton, which is expected in a Persian Gulf port in a few days. Military honors were given on the parade grounds. The Foreign Minister, the American Minister and First Secretary walked with Major Miles in the centre of the grounds where an automobile stood with the corpse and eleven guns were fired. The funeral march was Beethoven's. The Cabinet Ministers, Diplomatic Corps, Members of Parliament and other grandees were present.

Major Miles, military attache of the Constantinople American Embassy, who came here for the purpose, and Major Ruhollakan, of the Persian Army, will accompany the corpse to Washington. Other Persian officers will accompany it as far as the port of embarkation.

SPANIARDS—MOORS BOTH HEAVY LOSERS

MADRID, August 19 — (Associated Press.) — Guerilla warfare is being carried out by the rebellious Moroccan tribesmen on both the eastern and western fronts of the Spanish zone, according to an official statement given out last night. Sanguinary hand-to-hand fighting, with heavy losses on both sides is reported at Wadlau. The Spanish losses are given as four officers and 15 soldiers killed and two officers and 50 men wounded. The rebel casualities are said to be considerable.

"A Spanish column operating on the left," says the statement, "has reached Afrau and cleared the surrounding villages of rebels, meeting only with slight enemy fire. The enemy is believed to have suffered heavily, as 72 bodies were found at the foot of Moravite hill.

"Another column which escorted a convoy to reinforce Tazza, continued to march to Chenentafa, which is still besieged by the enemy in great numbers."

FATAL FAMILY FEUD ON PUBLIC STREET

Three Die in Gun Battle In Notorious District

TEXARKANA, Ark., Aug. 19. — (Associated Press.) — Walter Armstrong, 50; Charles Dixon, 26, and Jim Dixon, 20, were shot to death in a five-cornered gun battle in the main street of Fouke, near here, yesterday. William and Stuart Armstrong, sons of the dead man, are alleged to have shot the Dixon brothers, and are under arrest.

The shooting is alleged to have originated at a party at Ward's Camp, near Fouke, Saturday night. Jim Dixon, according to witnesses, was shot by one of the Armstrong brothers, after Charles Dixon had been fatally wounded. Which of the Dixon brothers shot Walter Armstrong could not be learned.

ARE YOU TAKING ANY OF THE GERMAN LOAN?

PREMIER MACDONALD'S letter to the French and Belgian Prime Ministers, suggesting that they should not insist upon the letter of the bond which permits them a full year in which to evacuate the Ruhr, is very probably inspired by the bankers, American and British, who are now assembled in London preparing their appeal to the public for subscriptions to the German loan. The bankers are thinking chiefly of the psychology of the investing public, and only incidentally of the political fortunes of M. Herriot. The question is: What security will the British and American investors demand?

A fair test of the matter would be to ask yourself: "Would I lend money to Germany at all; and, if at all, what security would I ask?" This is what each man, with a little capital to invest, will ask himself when the big banking firms lay before him their prospectus for the $200,000,000 loan to Germany. In many cases, the recommendation of the bankers whom he knows—rather than the reputation of Germany which he also thinks he knows only too well—will carry his judgment. Doubtless the terms will be attractive; the interest will be high and the price low. If he can be persuaded that both principal and interest are safe, he is quite likely to buy.

But it is obviously going to be very much harder to persuade him to buy if, during this critical year when the loan must be raised, French and Belgian troops still occupy the economic heart of Germany. The cautious investor will say to himself that it will be much easier for the French and Belgians to find excuses for staying in the Ruhr, now that they are there, than it would be to set up a good defence for again invading the Ruhr and wrecking the whole Dawes plan if they had once withdrawn. Then a prompt withdrawal, well before the agreement demanded it, would indicate a spirit of conciliation, if not of returning confidence, which would go a very long way toward convincing the investor that he might safely risk his capital.

* * * *

The bankers know best whether there is any chance of the German loan failing. For the strong groups of financial giants engaged in this task, $200,000,000 is not a very large sum. There is no doubt that they could raise it, between their more docile clients and their own reserves; but they do not want to raise it in that way. They want the general public to join them in risking a German loan, and so become the supporters of a political policy which will help make that loan secure.

The broader the basis of the loan in Great Britain and the United States, the greater will be the popular interest in seeing to it that Germany pays — and that Germany is given a chance to pay. What the bankers are fighting for now is not so much the dollars of the casual investor as his political influence. If this loan is largely floated throughout the interior of the United States, for instance, any future President will find, ready-made to his hand, an infinitely stronger sentiment in favor of American intervention in Europe than now exists. Thus the German loan can be a most valuable educational loan; but only if the conditions surrounding its flotation are so favorable that the average man will be tempted to invest.

There is also the German side of the problem. The Berlin delegation would not have been "German" if at least one of its members had not made an ill-natured and unfair thrust at the Allies, even in their hour of benevolence. Dr. Streseman, as he took the train for home with his promise of evacuation in his pocket and the prospects of a fat loan from the strongboxes of his late enemies and present hosts, viciously charged the Allies with bad faith when the gentle Germans "laid down their arms on the basis of President Wilson's fourteen points." The accusation is not worth arguing; but the spirit shown is well worth keeping in mind. If Stresemann feels that way, how about Ludendorff et al?

The German loan will not be worth much if Germany lacks "the will to pay"; and that is precisely what France insists she does lack. Stresemann's childish outburst is not a hopeful sign. We shall now see how the Reichstag feels about it. Doubtless people who are thinking of investing, will listen to the debates in the Reichstag quite as attentively as they are watching the retirement of French soldiers from German cities. After all, as a New York banker pointed out at a critical point in the negotiations, the money is being loaned to Germany.

Banking experts are very shrewd and well-informed, but they guessed badly in July and August, 1914. The berserker madness of the war spirit seems to be beyond their ken. There is no doubt that Germany can pay if she continues to want to do so during the full life of the Dawes Plan. But when she recovers sufficient military strength to no longer fear manhandling by the French, acting alone, will she gamble on the possibility that the British and the Americans will no longer support the French? Ludendorff would in a jiffy.

But we will all hope that sanity will prevail. Herriot's splendid reception would seem to show that France wants to try it. The British are all for it. Humanity everywhere will most fervently pray that the period of convalescence has finally set in. But the lime-light for the next week or two will be transferred from London and Paris to the stodgy building that houses the German Reichstag.

A CLOSED ISSUE.

IT is in the highest degree regrettable that there should have been any attempt to resurrect the proposal for an automobile road from the Cartier Monument across the lower slopes of Mount Royal to Outremont city limits. This scheme was put forward a short time ago, was considered by the aldermen of Montreal and was tacitly rejected. It was clearly the conviction of the civic authorities that to open this road to motors would be a serious menace to public safety.

There should be no hesitation whatever in scotching the effort to revive the issue. Apart from the city playgrounds, there is certainly no area within the city limits where so many children congregate throughout the summer months, morning, noon and night, as on this very section of Mount Royal Park it is sought to open to automobile owners.

A road open to automobiles through this part of the park would simply mean a series of juvenile fatalities. It would be an utter impossibility to control children playing about. The only guarantee for their safety would be to close that particular section of the park to them, and nobody has any right to do such a thing. Mount Royal is an inheritance of the people of Montreal in perpetuity as a recreation ground. There are roads and to spare for automobile drivers. They can get along quite well without any short cuts across a children's playing-place. Let it be made clear beyond any possibility of future doubt that the city intends to guard jealously the people's rights on Mount Royal slopes.

BRITAIN AND THE SUDAN.

IT hardly seems necessary for Britain and independent Egypt to exchange official views on the question of British responsibility for the government of the Sudan. Lord Parmoor several weeks ago defined this attitude in a statement in the House of Lords, and said nothing which was not perfectly well known beforehand to everyone concerned. His statement led to a violent outcry on the part of the Nationalists and a display of truculence by Zaghlul Pasha in the Assembly. Negotiations were still proceeding for the meeting between Zaghlul and Ramsay MacDonald, and the British Premier made it quite clear that the question of British responsibility in the Sudan could not be included on the agenda paper of their meeting. "I do not believe," said Premier MacDonald, "that this House would accept any arrangements which would break our pledges given to the Sudan or jeopardize the present administration and development of that country."

The Egyptians base their claim to control of the Sudan on the fact that this vast area of 950,000 square miles far to the South of Egypt was once controlled by that country. Their real reason for desiring sovereignty is, however, because in the Sudan lie the upper reaches of the Nile, the control of which is so essential for the secure possession of the water they need to irrigate their fields. Fifty years ago the Sudan was in the hands of Khedive of Egypt. It was corruptly administered and was one of the principal homes of the slave trade. Then arose a fanatical Mohammedan known as the Madhi, who stirred the people to a seething discontent and gradually drove the Egyptians back until they only held Khartoum and the region to the North.

Meanwhile, Ismail's reckless and wanton extravagance brought the British into Egypt. Under the masterful hand of Lord Cromer, the finances of the country were re-organized, British officers were placed in command of the Egyptian army and a barrier between Egypt and the Sudan was established which fanatical leaders from time to time attempted vainly to pierce. For sixteen years the Sudan remained a prey to disorder, terror and slavery, while Egypt under British administration was making substantial progress. Finally, in 1897, the British Government sent Lord Kitchener to recapture Khartoum and overthrow the misrule of the Mahdist regime. Kitchener did his work brilliantly and effectively and the Sudan has made much progress under the joint control of Britain and Egypt. This control is now challenged by the Egyptians on the ground that inasmuch as the independence of Egypt has been recognized, the Sudan should return to their control. Britain, in reply, says that it was laid down at the convention of 1899, which was signed by the Egyptian Minister of Foreign Affairs and Lord Cromer, that Great Britain was in the Soudan "By right of conquest" and was entitled "to share in the settlement and future working and development of the country." Britain claims control by virtue of this convention and adds that the inhabitants of the Sudan are not Egyptians, are separated from Egypt by hundreds of miles of desert and are violently opposed to being placed under Egyptian rule.

THE WORLD'S PRESS

Defence Day — Sept. 12.

Chicago News: Few Americans are opposed to preparedness or to proper and regular inspection of the defensive forces of the Republic. The extreme pacifists constitute a small group. But many thoughtful Americans sympathize with the view of Governor Bryan and John W. Davis that the withdrawal of millions of civilian citizens from their peaceful tasks in order to make a futile and objectless military demonstration against nobody in particular would be gratuitous folly.

Sport and Sportsmen.

London Daily Herald: The more international sport there is, the better—especially if it is arranged by the workers themselves. We should like to see international games started by the International. But they must be regarded as games and not as the serious business of life. The cause of all the trouble, the irritant which makes people rave and yell about sport, is the exaggerated importance attached to it. Sport is a splendid thing in its place. Let it become an obsession, let the really important thing in life be neglected for it, and it becomes a positive curse.

Science and Research.

Cape Argus: Grants for research work are too often given with a grudging hand. Yet in how many cases have such grants proved of value in destroying disease, saving human lives, and in alleviating suffering. If the prediction is true that we are on the threshold of developments by which forces will be unloosened and powers acquired far beyond those hitherto known to man, then it is essential to the well-being of mankind that statesmen and other leaders in the various walks of life should see to it that these new gifts are made a blessing to mankind instead of a curse. After all, "Science is for life, not life for science."

Electricity and Expense.

London Daily Mail: The Government itself has the gravest responsibility in the matter of unemployment, and it is not to be solved by the Socialist nostrum of nationalization. The example of Russia ought to serve as a fearful warning against such schemes. Of all the Government schemes, that for the production of high-tension electricity on a great scale will necessitate the most careful consideration. Exact particulars and estimates are essential. Electricity will not work miracles. The ultimate source of power is coal, which costs here, in labor 25s., against 7s. in the United States. So long as our source of power is so inordinately expensive, so long will our trade be at a grave disadvantage.

Educational Frills.

Vancouver Province: When education as we know it began, it was the privilege of the few, and it was organized for the few, for the leisured and wealthy or those who intended to enter the learned professions. It has broadened enormously, during the centuries. It is now the privilege of everybody, in some degree at least. Yet still, even in a young country like this, the old tradition clings, and the organization is in the interest of the few. The only straight, carefully marked path from the public school upward leads to the university and the learned professions. And few there be that find it. The vast majority stray off at some points in their course into byways and lanes, and the educational fixings thrust upon them as they journey, and which would have been useful had they continued on the marked pathway, are quickly dropped and thought of no more. To the student who finishes the course mapped out, they are, possibly, essentials. To those who have flung them away, they are frills.

To the Special Service Squadron.

(On Arrival at Quebec.)

When, from our sentinel heights, where the Governor stood
Once, long ago, to answer Phipps with his guns,
You hear our batteries salute, while, over the flood,
Rapturous music and welcoming cheering runs.

Gladly to greet you, O sons of the sea-mother's strain,
Come, in your peerless ships, with your flags set free,
To circle the globe by Drake's old highway again,
And bring us word of our kinsmen from over the sea—

Then, in that glorious hour—we would fain you knew—
Betwixt ourselves and your vessels, a glimpse will rise
Of Saunders' squadron, that made Wolfe's vision come true
And it shall tell us that all we live for and prize,

Even our country itself, since we held our sway
Over it first, we owe to the heart that beat
Ever the same, as it beats in your van today,
In Saunders' bulwarks of oak and the Jutland fleet.

And this we will hope for: that—even though apathy still Governs our course and neither shoulders nor shares
Even an ounce of the load nor exhibits the will
To take one tithe of the burden your Homeland bears—

You, hearing our batteries give tongue and the roar of our cheers,
Will see that our love is such as will not forget,
That our blood is staunch as this rock through the passing years
And the spirit that Saunders planted is bright in us yet.

CANADA'S STORY DAY BY DAY
By Blodwen Davies

(Copyright.)

August 19.

What visions of crude magnificence take form when a lively imagination is allowed to play upon the early history of Canada! There were colorful pictures indeed when the Indians, in all the glory of their savage art, unmarred by contact with the strange white men, travelled up and down the rivers of Canada in slender, graceful birch bark canoes. Chiefs of princely bearing wore buckskin garments encrusted with embroideries of colored porcupine quills, with brilliant feather headdresses, that sometimes trailed to their heels. There was a primitive, native dignity and grace which was too easily lost as they acquired the vices, without the virtues, of the white invaders. On this day in 1690, five hundred Indians from the west shot the rapids at Lachine, on their way to parley and trade with the French, their frail craft loaded with furs. Shortly after they left the rapids they were pitching camp on the river shores. Three days were devoted to ceremonies, in which the great Frontenac joined. Frontenac, now well over sixty, seized the opportunity of securing their aid against the Iroquois. To bring their emotions to the proper pitch, this remarkable man seized a hatchet and began an amazing war dance and war song in real Indian style, exciting the imagination and war ardor of the red men. So successful was his ruse, that at the conclusion of his dance the Indians leaped to their feet and vowed vengeance on the Iroquois. More feasts followed to seal the bargain.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

A NATIONAL HOLY YEAR.

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star:

Sir,—Having seen that fine letter of the Rev. F. G. Scott's upon the subject of a national holy year for Canada, I should like to say that I endorse every word of it, and hope and pray that heads of all churches and good Christian men and women everywhere, as well as the truly powerful press, will not allow such a splendid idea to go unheeded.

INCINERATION OF DAMAGED FOODSTUFFS.

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star:

Sir,—Before the Montreal incineration plant was burned out, quantities of damaged foodstuffs landed here from steamers were properly destroyed by incineration. Those goods that arrived here in a bad condition (usually because of delay in transit or of contact with salt water) were examined by experts and when found to be dangerous or unfit for human consumption were ordered to the incinerator. After they had been destroyed certificates to that effect could be obtained from the superintendent. What of the final disposition of foodstuffs arriving in such a condition now?

WHY WAIT UNTIL 1925?

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star:

Sir,—The sentiments expressed in the letter of the Rev. F. G. Scott (published in The Star) entitled "A National Holy Year for Canada" are worthy of note; and the cardinal points should be emphasized in such a manner as to command the attention of every Christian. The suggestion that a large proportion of the population should engage in a gigantic and enthusiastic endeavor to purify our life, individual and domestic, that the cross of Christ should be set up in a mighty crusade against sin and indifference (so that the result would be a deeper consecration of individual lives and the exaltation of Christ as the Saviour of a sinful world) is very commendable. But why wait until 1925? Our poets have sung many warnings about procrastination. The time to commence is now; the place, at home and in church; and the way, by effectual fervent prayer.

LONGSHOREMEN AS WORKERS.

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star;

Sir,—In regard to the item that appeared in The Star recently under the heading "Little Chance of Stevedore Strike," I wish to say that a mistake has been made somewhere. The facts of the case are these:

A request (not a protest) was made to the Longshoremen's Association of Montreal through the Trades and Labor Council, that members of the association cease to unload freight from the railway cars direct to ships or to unload freight from ships direct to cars. This work in connection with the cars has been conceded by the International Longshoremen's Association at the Atlantic, Pacific and inland ports as rightly belonging to freight handlers employed by the railways. There are only one or two steamship companies at the Port of Montreal that allow the longshoremen employed by them to enter railway cars for the purpose of loading or unloading, and it is in connection with these one or two that the request was made. There has been no talk of a strike; there has been no previous trouble in connection with this matter, and furthermore the request does not interfere with the longshoremen's contract, which only obliges them to work on the wharves directly,—at the loading and unloading of vessels. The request comes from men employed by the largest transportation company in Canada. NON VI SED ARTE.

PLAYGROUNDS FOR CHILDREN.

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star:

Sir,—The recent timely editorial in The Star eulogizing the well-directed benefactions of the late Charles S. Campbell, K.C., was a tribute highly merited and one which expressed the feelings of many thousands of your readers. Mr. Campbell provided ample funds to purchase two playgrounds, one in the east end of Montreal (now provided for in the purchase of the property formerly occupied by Sohmer Park, Notre Dame Street East), and one in the west end (the location of which has not yet been announced), and further provided funds for band concerts in the various parks of our city. This new high standard of private benefaction will open an unlimited field for thought and action on the part of many men and women in this city of great wealth and world-famed generosity. No city in North America has any more generous citizens than the limited number in Montreal who carry the burden cheerfully of responding to the many appeals for charity in its various forms. The example set by Mr. Campbell should be carefully studied by those who have wealth; and—seeing the lasting benefits of his generosity—they should make their gifts now. Thus their remaining days will be brightened by the smiles of the children and by the gratitude of the anxious mothers—grateful for the security and the safe guidance of their children which a modern, wisely-supervised playground provides.

CHILD WELFARE.

A PARABLE ON PROTECTION

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star,

Sir,—There is but one point in Dr. R. Stanley Weir's letter concerning "Free Trade and Protection" that merits a reply,—viz., when he says: "We should take advantage of our wealthy neighbor (the United States) and trade as largely as possible with her to our advantage." Of course we should! but our wealthy neighbor takes precious good care that mutual trading is done only when all the advantage is on her side. A simple theme calls for a simple illustration. Let me cite one: "Four neighbor boys, Francois, Fritz, Sammy and Johnny, were each given a plot of ground to cultivate and were promised prizes at the end of the season for the best-appearing lawns and the heaviest-bearing gardens. Francois and Fritz, being older and more experienced, at once built fences around their plots. Sammy for a time tried to garden without protection against the boys of the neighborhood, whose chief delight was to trample down his lawn and steal his flowers and vegetables, but finally he gave in and erected a wall higher than those of either of his competitors. Johnny followed by putting up a few rails,—so low, however, that the boys jumped them with ease and without so much as a 'thank you,' played on his grass, picked his flowers and ate up everything that he grew. But Johnny was a dreamy kid and said to himself: 'Some day these boys won't be half so mean, and after all how much better is free play than garden prizes.' But Johnny had a father, and he sent for him and said, 'Johnny, my boy, I've been watching you play this fool game long enough. Your garden is a failure, your lawn a disgrace to the family and what's more we shan't have any vegetables for next winter unless you keep these thievish urchins off the premises. I've bought you some boards and nails and here are a saw and hammer: Now, go to it, build you a fence, and while you're about it, go that cute Sammy boy one better. He never lets you into his garden, but I notice that he's the leader of all the boys that spoil yours. Now quit your dreaming, be practical and see if you can't win a prize for yourself.'" If we in Canada had but a dad what a country we could make of her.

Montreal. H. K. S. HEMMING.

THE PASSING HOUR

VILLAIN.

"An' it's only this week I find out 'ow the 'eartless wretch 'as been deceivin' of me for years, Mrs. Gibbins. I've been givin' that man of mine threepence a day for 'is street car fare, an' now I find out that 'e's been walkin' to work an' spendin' the money!"

Blather, M.P., was a passenger on the steamship Sieve, which was sinking. The passengers were climbing into the lifeboats.

"Sir," suggested a reporter aboard the ill-fated craft, "here's a chance for good publicity. If you cared——"

"You may quote me as saying," replied the M.P., "that I am heartily in favor of a back-to-the-land movement."

"You know Jones who was reputed to be so rich? Well, he died the other day and all he left was an old Dutch clock."

"Well, there's one good thing about it, it won't be much trouble to wind up his estate."

"Look here," said the new tenant, "you advertised this place as being near the water. I've looked in every direction and I don't see any water."

"Ah," replied the agent, "but you haven't looked in the cellar yet."

This quip we clip from an exchange
It's rather neat and we enjoyed it:
"Some men are bent with toil and some Get crooked trying to avoid it."

Father—"Well, my boy, and did you enjoy your visit to the Isle of Wight?"

Son—"Yes, father, but its a peculiar place."

Father—"How is that?"

Son—"Well, it has Needles you can't thread, Freshwater you can't drink, Cowes you can't milk, and Newport you can't bottle."

"Come on," said the first flea, as he hopped from the brown bear's left foreleg; "come over and join me at a short game of golf."

"Golf!" exclaimed the second flea, hastily taking a bite of hyena. "Where in the realm of Barnum are we going to play golf?"

"Why," said the first flea, "over on the lynx, of course."

Clever Nellie Wallace, the girl who has made millions laugh, is credited with having perpetrated the very worst pun on record.

It came about in this way. A lady friend was walking with her towards Regent's Park.

"I wonder," she said, "why they call this Avenue Road?"

"'Oh, don't you know?" asked Miss Wallace in seeming surprise. "It was the expression of the man who made it."

"How was that?" inquired the friend.

"He said: 'Want a new road' ere? Well, 'ave-a-new-road 'ere.' So they called it Ave-a-new-road. Nothing simpler."

Amongst many amusing stories told by Lord Aberdeen is one concerning an Englishman and an American who were discussing the merits of their respective fireproof safes. The Englishman said he locked up a little dog in his safe and put under it a quantity of coal and tar, which he lighted. After the fire had burned out and the safe cooled down, the door was opened, and the dog was found to be all right.

The American said he put a young rooster into his safe and surrounded the safe with wood, petroleum, coal and coke, which, when lighted, brought the safe up to a white heat.

"I suppose," said the Englishman, "you are going to say that when you opened the safe the cock came out and crowed?"

"No, sir" said the American: "it was frozen stiff."

"Do come over to dinner again tomorrow," cooed Katrina van Katt to the beau whose frequent visits at meal time gave clear evidence of his being enamored of her cooking. "I'm going to make a sponge cake."

NO FAVOURITISM.

As most people are aware, Lord Beaverbrook was plain Mr. Aitken before he received a title some few years back.

His aged mother lives in London, and a friend of his, meeting her for the first time, said:

"Mrs. Aitken, I have the honor of knowing your distinguished son."

Her reply was, "Indeed, I am very glad. Which son?"

"That," remarked Lord Beaverbrook in telling the story, "is the spirit in which mothers should bring up their sons."

An old fisherman was once asked if there were any fish in the stream by which he was sitting.

"Well," he replied grimly, "I can't really say. I've dropped them a line every day for a week, but as yet I've had no reply."

"What became of that portable garage of yours?"

"I tied the dog to it the other day and a cat came by."

"We never needed any of them new-fangled scales in Ireland," said O'Hara. "There's an aisy way to weigh a pig without scales. You get a plank and you put it across a stool. Then you get a big stone. Put the pig on one end of the plank and the stone on the other end and shift the plank until they balance. Then you guess the weight of the stone and you have the weight of the pig."

Daughter: "Did you have to fish much, mamma, before you caught papa?"

Mother: "Fish, my dear, fish? I was bear hunting."

Chief of Police—"How can you tell when a man's going fast enough for you to take his number?"

Applicant for Speed Cop — "When he's going too fast for you to make it out."

The father of a college youth inquired about the item, "charity $50," in his son's expense account and received a very hesitating and unsatisfactory answer. "I conclude," he remarked, "that it is one of those instances where 'charity covers a multitude of sins.'"

Hospital Caller—"Poor man, you certainly have been all shot up."

The victim.—"Yes, I had so many bullet holes bored through me that the boys behind me complained of the draft."—Legion Weekly.

"You look tired this morning," said the head book-keeper to one of his clerks. "Don't you sleep well?"

"No. The pal I share a room with and I suffer from alternate insomnia!"

"Alternate insomnia! What is that?"

"Whichever gets to sleep first keeps the other awake all night."

Marie—"How long did it take you to learn to skate?"

Georges—"Oh, about a dozen sittings!"

The young wife sat plying her needle. A coat of her husband's was in her lap. As the husband appeared, she said, fretfully: "It's too bad, the careless way the tailor sewed this button on. This is the fifth time I've had to put it back for you."

CONNAUGHT RANGES, Ottawa, Aug. 18.—(Canadian Press.)—Out of a possible 35, on a 500 yard range, in the Tyro match, the first to be fired in this year's Dominion of Canada Rifle Association meet which opened here this morning, five marksmen scored 34 points and a large number registered 33 points, indicating the higher average obtainable with the newly issued aperture sights. C.P.R. SHOPMEN TO TAKE BALLOT

From Last Night's Postscript Edition.

Twenty thousand rail-shopmen employed in shops throughout the entire Canadian Pacific Railway system will state by ballot during the next two weeks whether they prefer temporary close-downs to reduction in staff when the company desires to reduce expenses.

Two questions figure on the ballot papers, they are as follows:

1—"If the company has to reduce expenses, do you prefer temporary shutdowns reducing the working hours to an average of less than 40 hours a week?"

2—"If the company has to reduce expenses, do you prefer staff reductions instead of temporary shutdowns?"

The taking of the ballot follows a series of conferences held with the management of the railway on the question of short time in the railroad shops. At these conferences the men have been represented by Frank McKenna, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen of America; J. E. McGovern, Montreal vice-president of the C.P.R. Federated Trades; Wm. Lester, secretary-treasurer, Montreal, and S. Lyons, vice-president, C.P.R. Federated Trades, Winnipeg.

Result of the ballot will decide the policy to be followed by C.P.R. shopmen throughout Canada on the question of close-downs as against reduction of staff. Up to the present rail shopmen in Montreal employed at Angus shops have preferred close-down to laying off of men.

A similar ballot was taken on Canadian National Railway shops, Central Region some weeks ago.

CHICAGO ATTORNEY FOR JAPANESE POST

From Last Night's Postscript Edition.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(United Press) — Edgar Addison Bancroft, a Chicago attorney, is expected to be appointed ambassador to Japan, it is learned authoritatively here today. Announcement of appointment is expected to come from President Coolidge shortly. Meantime the State Department refuses to comment on reports that the Tokio Government has already pronounced Bancroft acceptable for the post.

ENGLISH POLO TEAM NOT YET SELECTED

Will Need Two Months to Acclimatize Themselves on This Side

(From Last Night's Night Edition.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—(By Capt. Percy Redfern C. Reed. Copyright, 1924, by the United News.) — The arrival of the English polo players today for the international matches with America, brings up the question of the composition of the English team, which has so far been shrouded in mystery. The fact is that the vacillation of the English selection committee prevents that question being answered now.

Solomon, who knew a thing or two, said there were four things that no man could understand: The way of an eagle in the air; the way of a serpent on a rock; the way of a ship in the midst of the sea; and the way of a man with a maid. If he had known our English selection committee, Solomon would, I think, have added it to his honorable roll of mysteries. The selection committee was appointed last year by the Hurlingham Club, the governing body of polo in England. Those who claim to know maintain that the committee never meets, but that every now and then the butler of one of the members picks up some information which he allows to get abroad. Nobody, however, takes any notice, so it does not matter. Individually the committee are probably good scouts and regular fellows, but collectively they are like nothing else in this world. I have always maintained that the reason England had no plans during the war was to prevent the enemy from finding them out; and it is possible that our polo selection committee admires this method, even though the business in hand is friendly sport and not war.

TWO MONTHS' PRACTISE.

It is necessary to deal with the two questions which I have posed because they vitally affect the efficiency of the English team. The question of practise on this side of the Atlantic is all-important. The climate, the pace of the ground, the light, and the whole surroundings are so different from English conditions that at least two months' practise are required to enable English players to find their form. When they do find it, they prefer American conditions, and most of them play a better game on this side than they do in England—especially those who learned their polo on the hard grounds in India. Practise on English grounds with a view to playing test matches in America is worse than useless and our English players have been so busy practising in London that they will only have 18 days in which to do two months' work at Meadowbrook. These things are perfectly well known. There is no dispute about them. And the only answer if it can be called an answer, is the selection committee. But these things don't help England any to do herself justice at Meadowbrook.

It is expected that the English team will be chosen from the following players who are due in New York today—Major Vivian N. Lockett, Colonel T. P. Melvill, Major F. B. Hurndall, Mr. L. L. Lacey, Captain G. H. Phipps-Hornby, Major E. G. Atkinson and Major T. W. Kirkwood. It has been officially stated—but nobody believes it—that the English team will be: Kirkwood No. 1, Phipps-Hornby No. 2, Hurndall No. 3, and Lacey, back. That, I venture to say, will not be the English team, which will be found, I think, to include Melville and Lockett, if they can strike something like the form they showed at Meadowbrook last fall for the English army team.

Vivian Lockett, who is 48 years old, alone has had experience in the fight for the international polo cup, having had a handsome share in the English victory at Meadowbrook in 1914, and a less satisfactory share in the English defeat at Hurlingham in 1921.

PECULIAR NICKNAME.

His nickname amongst his intimate friends is "Slack-it," a play on his name which indicates his easy-going disposition. He has the ideal temperament for the trying ordeal of an international struggle—never downhearted, never rattled, but just keyed up to the pitch to show him at his best. His is the ideal temperament for the great occasion, the first and all-important quality of the international player. American number ones who played against him have profound respect for him. They say frankly that he knows too much for them. He is a fine horseman, a natural games player, and a good and accurate hitter all around his pony. He has always shown much better form in America than in England.

L. L. Lacey, who is 38 years old, is perhaps the most brilliant individual player of the day. His hitting is a perfect joy, and the hotter the pace the better it suits him. He has nerve, dash and a wit which works like chain lightning. And he is a deadly shot at the goal. If he could find a No. 3 to coalesce with him, they would make a combination second to none. He should be captain of the English team. He has never played for England before, though he has shown what he can do at Meadowbrook when playing for his adopted country, Argentina. He unfortunately had an accident in London lately, and tore the muscles of his shoulder rather badly.

Hurndall, who is 40 years old, is a very fine player, who would be a perfect No. 2 if he were not under the mistaken impression that No. 3 is his place. He is as quick as a flash with mind and stick, a brilliant hitter with a natural instinct of the game, and can combine with any other player. So good a judge as Devereaux Milburn last fall considered him the best of the English players.

MELVILL, THE DOYEN.

Melvill, who is 47 years of age, the doyen of the party, commands the 17th Lancers, a crack regiment known as the "Death or Glory Boys." His nickname is "Dolly," and there can be nothing much the matter with a man who can hold down the job of commanding such a corps and carry such a nickname. He weighs only 138 pounds, and he dresses smartly as his billet demands—hence the "Dolly." I met him in friendly rival on India's dusty polo fields as long ago as 1899 when we were both subalterns, and he has changed so little that it seems impossible that he can be 47 years old. He is a beautiful horseman, and give him the right pony and he will go as near to catching a pigeon as the next man. He put up a brilliant performance in the final of the open cup at Meadowbrook last fall when, playing No. 17, against Milburn, he scored four goals and himself did the work which led up to them. Phipps-Hornsby, Kirkwood, and Atkinson are first class players, but they have not so far established claim to international form.

The selection committee or the butler or whoever the English strategist is, has landed the English players at a hopeless disadvantage, and desperate cases call for heroic remedies. There is only one thing to be done. The English team should be: Melville, No. 1; Hurndall, No. 2; Lockett, No. 3; and Lacey back. They should forthwith be fitted to the best ponies available and given all the practise possible against the hottest American sides which can be found. And whether they play well or badly in the preliminary practise, no change should be made in the men or ponies. To waste time experimenting with players who have no American or international form behind them at this time of day would be not only a blunder, but a crime.

I may be asked, however, how the English team is going to be selected. In view of the obscurity surrounding the selection committee, I cannot answer that question, but I have some little confidence that the players themselves will solve the problem. One way of escape for the selection committee would be to give the captain a free hand to choose his team.

MORTALITY RATE AMONG YOUNG HIGH

From Last Night's Postscript Edition.

LONDON, August 18 — (Canadian Press.) — While 1923 was a record year in Great Britain in the matter of health, as pointed out by Sir George Newman, chief medical officer, in his report to the minister of health, he calls attention to the excessive mortality among the people under 50 years of age and urges the carrying on of popular education in hygiene and also of systematic research.

The report makes note of the fact that since 1921 there has been an increase of small-pox which apparently has not yet reached its zenith, and of the further fact that tuberculosis, and cancer continue to be formidable foes of the people. Sir George Newman urges healthy habits among the people as a means of fighting cancer and tuberculosis.

The births in the United Kingdom in 1923 totalled nearly 20 per 1,000 of population, according to Sir George's report. The death rate and infant mortality last year were the lowest in the country's history.

Notwithstanding the unusually healthy year the loss of time in 1923 due to sickness, the report states, cost the country at least ten times more than the loss owing to labor troubles.

BOURASSA HEADS BIG FRENCH PILGRIMAGE

From Last Night's Postscript Edition.

EDMUNDSTON, N.B., Aug. 18—(Canadian Press).—A pilgrimage of 250 French-Canadiens, headed by Henri Bourassa, to the Maritime Provinces, arrived here at 6.30 o'clock this morning, and a formal welcome was tendered at 9 o'clock. Hon. J. E. Michaud, representing the province, and Mayor A. D. Cormier, representing the city, delivered speeches of welcome, and Mr. Bourassa and Monsignor Richard, Montreal, replied. Mr. Bourassa declared no political significance whatever attached itself to the visit which was mainly to cement friendly relations between the Maritime Provinces and Quebec. The party left here at 11 o'clock, their next stop being St. Leonard's, then to Moncton.

MOOSE JAW HOMES FLOODED IN STORM

From Last Night's Postscript Edition.

MOOSE JAW, August 18 — (Canadian Press.)—The worst hail and rain storm experienced in many years swept over the Assiniboine district yesterday afternoon. Hail drove over the town for more than half an hour accompanied by torrents of rain that flooded cellars and streets, causing considerable damage to garden truck and flowers.

Farmers in the immediate west, northwest and south of the town report loss to their crops estimated at from 5 to 75 per cent. Little or no damage is reported from Valor, just west of the town, or from the north and northeast.

PROSPECT BRIGHT FOR GRAIN YIELD

Rains General and Improvements Are Report Over Wide Area

From Last Night's Postscript Edition.

WINNIPEG, August 18—(Canadian Press.)—Rains have been fairly general throughout the Prairie Provinces during the period covered by the 18th crop report issued today by the Canadian National Railways for the week ending August 16. In consequence of the general precipitation, general improvement in crop conditions is reported.

Cutting of rye and coarse grains is now well under way in Manitoba and part of Saskatchewan, but the wheat harvest will not be general throughout the west until well towards the end of August. As high as 25 bushels of wheat is predicted in Manitoba and parts of Saskatchewan, but the Southern reports Alberta shows that the average yield will be only 8 bushels with as much as 15 bushels in the best districts, and from 8 to 20 bushels in the northern section.

No damage from rust is reported for the week, very slight frost damage in Saskatchewan, where there is also a fly reported to be working in the Durham wheat in the boundary sub-division which has caused 25 per cent damage. Hail was reported by only two or three districts and the greatest damage was fifty per cent.

Altogether, prospects are much brighter and if the frost keeps off, considerably more grain will be harvested than was expected even in the previous report.

HAZEN WILL NOT LEAD CONSERVATIVES

From Last Night's Postscript Edition.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Aug. 18—(Canadian Press).—Sir Douglas Hazen, just home from England, where he attended the international bar meetings, said today that the convention should result beneficially to the already friendly relations between England, Canada and the United States. Sir Douglas, who is Chief Justice of the New Brunswick Supreme Court, laughed when told of a published suggestion that he might become leader of the Conservative party in Canada in place of Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen. The Chief Justice expressed keen regret at the deaths of Hon. F. B. Carvell, Dr. M. G. Teed, K.C., of St. John, and Hon. John Morrissy, of Newcastle.

In Canada there are fields of soft coal lignite, estimated at 57,000,000,000 tons, which would last 140,000 years at the present rate of consumption.

AMERICAN FLIERS AGAIN DAMAGED

From Last Night's Postscript Edition.

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, August 18. —(United Press) — In attempting to take off on the flight to Fredericksdals, Greenland, today, both American planes were damaged to such an extent that the flight was postponed until Thursday.

The propellor on Plane No. 4 was broken and the spreader bar on No. 2 was splintered as the two planes attempted to hop off.

The U. S. S. Richmond, one of the convoy of American ships which is aiding the flyers, was notified immediately of the damage.

The commander notified the flyers that the ship was speeding to Iceland with the necessary parts and would probably arrive Wednesday.

Repairs will probably be made to the ships that day and the two airmen expect to start their 850-mile flight on Thursday.

The American worker has at his disposal 50 per cent. more power than any of his competitors.

MERCHANTS' CHIEF IN HOPEFUL VEIN

Says Business in West is Such That Fall Outlook Is Good

From Last Night's Postscript Edition.

OTTAWA, Aug. 18. — (Canadian Press.) — Interviewed here today regarding merchandising conditions throughout Canada, J. A. Banfield, of Winnipeg, president of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, said there was no reason for the "calamity howling" which was prevalent in some parts of the country, "particularly down east."

Mr. Banfield, who will preside at the nineteenth annual convention of the association here tomorrow, said that while there was undoubtedly a depression at present, it was due to the abnormal conditions brought about by the war. While the basis of profit for the retail merchants in all lines was on a par with that it was in 1912, the merchants' overhead had increased from 40 to 50 cent.

Merchants were suffering from "too much style" Mr. Banfield continued. Factories, finding business dull, originated new styles, especially in the boot and shoe trade, without any regard for the retail merchants. The consuming public followed closely the styles and consequently stock held by retail merchants became obsolete before they had had a proper chance to offer them to the public.

"There is nothing the matter with our country, or business in general, Mr. Banfield said. "We find conditions among the retail merchants of the west to be generally of such a character as to warrant optimism for a favorable fall trade. We in the west are optimistic and that is what is needed in the east. You must get rid of the grouch. Get rid of the blue ruin idea, and show confidence in Canada.

CRACK SAFE WITH AXE TO STEAL $5

From Last Night's Postscript Edition.

WINNIPEG, August 18 — (Canadian Press.) — Robbers who broke into the Pirt Printing Company here early on Sunday morning obtained only five dollars after their laborious task of breaking open a small safe with an axe. The robbers overlooked another safe containing jewelry and other valuables. A package taken among other papers from the safe was found in a neighboring schoolyard with a sum of money and other documents still intact. No arrests have been made.

You are certainly old enough to make your own choice, and I would advise you to ask the girl to marry you right away. Probably your people do not want to be deprived of the money you contribute to the house and may have some selfish reason for their objections. If the girl is all you desribe her to be, you will be winning a prize.

A STAINED SINK.

I have found the following, very good for removing stains from the sink.

After cleaning sink in the usual way, pour a little javel water into the sink and with the sink brush, keep it moving over the stain and around the sink to prevent it going down the drain for a few minutes. This usually leaves it nice and white. Thought I'd like to pass this hint along. A READER.

Ed. Note.—Thank you.

THE LACHINE POLICE.

Isn't this a strange practice, a nervy one, a dangerous one, and one that should be immediately stopped? All summer long the Lachine police hold up at various points on the Lakeshore road every auto and pedestrian to sell tickets for their "sports" and union. The ferry crosses hundreds of cars daily, local and foreign, none escape this pernicious hold-up begging, which is fifty times worse than tag day, as few people care to ignore the command of an officer in the uniform of a policeman. HOW ABOUT IT.

DO YOU BELIEVE IT?

Some one told me that old King Solomon once told his ministers that men were more faithful than women. His ministers wanted proof. So a very poor man was sent for. To him he said: "bring your wife's head to me and I will make you a king among men." He left the king quickly (with a very sharp knife.) Soon he returned with the knife saying that it was impossible for him to commit such an act. The king pretended much anger and said in a loud voice: "send your wife to me," (he took the knife and blunted the blade so that it would not cut. He gave the knife to the wife with the command "bring your husband's head to me and I will make you a queen among women." The wife grasped the knife ran quickly home, made her husband intoxicated. To her dismay the knife would not cut so she ran quickly back to the king and told him so, proving man more faithful than woman.

Do you believe it?

Monsier (Self-Styled), "Heathen Chinee," this is a Jewish legend — maybe you have similar legends. Please tell us one. I'm sure that you can do it too. FLUFFY ETHEL.

RACE AND RELIGION.

I am writing you to ask your advice on a serious matter which deeply concerns the welfare of two valuable friends of mine. The boy holds a responsible position in a nearby resort. The girl comes of a well-to-do, respectable family. They have formed an attachment, the summer kind, and have become deeply affected. Now, Miss Currie, inasmuch as these two friends are of a different race and religion, and for these reasons must not allow the state of affairs to become too serious, I am anxious to know what steps should be taken to insure the happiness of both in the future.

I have always considered that attachments such as this, formed under similar circumstances, ought not to survive the summer and should be regarded just as harmless flirtations. However, I am afraid that my two friends have formed a relationship which is more deep and dangerous. I should be most grateful, Miss Currie, if you would give your invaluable advice in this regard.

PAX VOBISCUM.

Ans.—All the advice in the world will do no good to two people who are —or think they are—"in love." Let your friends work out their own salvation without interference from you, or you are liable to meet the inevitable fate of the "innocent bystander."

STEPMOTHERS.

I read in last night's Star about stepmothers being dangerous. I am a stepmother and love the little ones to whom I am now mother. I know there are bad ones. But there are a few good ones, too. Those who are bad, only marry men of means—not for love. Give me love, not money. I would call women like that "grabbers." Any stepmother who would be bad to little children, who have been left behind, should realize she must die some time and meet that little mother and God. I don't think I could be any other way but kind to these little ones. Dear Miss Currie, a kind act goes a long way, but lots of people don't see it that way. They want to do when it is too late, and they can't undo what is done, and then want mercy. If I had a stepmother who was bad to me, I would be very mean to her. I know what mother's duties are, and I love all I do, because God helps me. I wish I knew Broken-Hearted Mother. I would give her kind words to comfort her. If she believes in God, those who are bad to her will have their turn in life, as God is slow, but sure. Those who go to church should practice what they hear preached. ALICE.

WHY MEN LEAVE GIRLS.

I have been going with a girl for the past three years. She is slim, fair, tall and good-looking, but of a religious nature.

We had a swell time together until last January. Then she wanted to reform. That is live up to her standard of believing. I did not, so she gave me the cold shoulder. I was not down-hearted. She picked me up and threw me down twice in January, and picked me up again. Maybe I was soft, but I really loved her.

All went well until I left the city about a month ago (I lived in Montreal). Because I kept her waiting two days for a letter, she sent me a sarcastic letter of about ten pages. So I threw her over. Did I do right? Why I did so was because she was not fair. She wanted me to go all the way, and she not to move off her high horse.

I think nearly all girls are the same. That is why they are left out in the cold.

CLAN ALPINE.

In the best society it's considered loud, and all our best doctors say its bad for the health for boys and surely its worse for young ladies. One could hope these scientists who are here would give their dictum. But let me write on

A Heroine

A mother in Glasgow died, leaving baby two months old, three girls and boy. A month after the father died. Here was Maggie, aged seventeen, left in charge. Friends advised the Poorhouse. But Maggie said "no." An old woman next door kept baby during the day. Maggie working in Coats' Mills, the two younger girls kept house as well as they could and the boy of eight ran messages among the butchers in cattle market, and that often with baby sister in pram, where he learned rough words, but a look from his oldest sister would stop him. This went on for three or four years, then things got on better. The younger sisters got in the mill, too. The boy had some push, got horse and cart of his own and bought the bones from the shops, sold them to tallow makers, got married at twenty, a steady lad. Then Maggie took ill, was taken to Infirmary, but died next day — stomach trouble, just overworked in her youth. Now the poor board offered to bury her, but the young man and wife said "no," got her home to their house and at his wife's request, and then the sisters said, "Maggie won't have a plain deal box. She did for us when we were young and she'll have a decent "funeral." They paid five pounds for the coffin. Only wish it could be better written. But its a true story.

RE SMOKING FOR GIRLS.

Will you please allow me a space in your valuable column. I am anxious to answer the letter re smoking for women, signed, "Lone Wolf." First, he mentioned cigarettes as the cause of "unclean thoughts." How on earth could smoking cigarettes cause unclean thoughts in anybody's mind! If so, every man must be subject to unclean thoughts, for "what's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander." A girl smokes for the same reason that a man smokes, because she likes it. We are three girls who never remember smoking our first cigarette because we started to do so, so young. It has never affected our minds or morals. Some people (like the Pharisees) like to quote the Scriptures. I never saw yet where it was a sin to smoke. I would challenge anyone to state their authority for regarding it as sinful. I thank you, Miss Currie, for your answer to "Old Chum." He must be old in heart as well as in years, and is certainly twenty years behind the times. His outlook on life is very narrow. I always like to meet broad-minded people. A broad-minded man will never criticize a girl smoking. There is no necessity for girls to smoke on the street, but it is quite allright to smoke at private parties with our boy friends as we have done, and they never thought any the less of us for doing so, and instead of staying away, the "Heartless Wretches" (to quote "Lone Wolf") have always turned up again with a fresh supply of cigarettes. We come from the best country in the world, where the men are broad-minded and noble and the women are the purest of God's creatures, and we are not ashamed to state that we have always smoked and since coming here have not dropped the habit. The men there are good sports and don't believe in continually running down their girls for harmless sport. I am very grieved to find such narrow-minded people as "Lone Wolf" and "Old Chum," but I suppose they are the kind of people who "Strain at a gnat and swallow a camel."

TRI CAILINI.

WHAT IS SUCCESS?

One of the eminent scientists now visiting Toronto has said "that the only thing which decides the quantity of brains in man is whether he has made a success of life."

But, pray, what is success in life? What is the unit by which we measure this much prized cerebral matter? Is it gauged by the amount of wealth accumulated, by the great discoveries of science or invention,—by the dissecting of mysteries which alleviate suffering and benefit mankind physically,—by laying the foundation stone of great constitutions,—by the glorious deeds of conquering warriors,—or simply by the observance of the Golden Rule? In other words, chose the greater man — Rockefeller, Edison, Pasteur, Lincoln, Napoleon—or Christ? Must this internal possession of grey matter be ouwardly proven by the aggressive and vitriolic methods the world has accepted today or may not a peaceful citizen who knowingly has never harmed his neighbor, who truly understands the meaning of the word "brother," who lives the honorable, sympathetic, straightforward life of the responsible family man, who remains comparatively poor because to him the accumulation of great wealth can only be done at the sacrifice of inherent principle and charity — I ask, may he not possess as much grey matter as any living man?

Grey matter? If Tom Jones and Jimmie Brown have never had the opportunity to develop their brain cells along Edison or Pasteur lines, does this social handicap remove the grey matter from their respective brains? If a man must start earning his bread and perhaps that of a dependent mother, brothers and sisters, at the age of seventeen and possess the peaceful, unaggressive, unassuming make-up of Christ, is he going to conquer the money world? No—but has he less brains?

What is success in life? According to the present standard of the world, Christ lived a very unsuccessful life—He ended His life on a gibbet and he was never known to write one sentence, still was He devoid of grey matter? I pray you to tell me, what is success in life? LOUISE.

HER SPIRIT DEAD

I am eighteen and lost my mother some seven years ago and my father has been very strict to us since. I have an older brother, about two years older than myself, and as every sister who thinks of her brother as she should, I am trying to locate mine.

One night about four years ago my brother went to a party and arrived home at four the next morning. My father, seeing he did not return at the usual hour, which was about tenthirty, waited for him, so when he arrived he was given a sound thrashing and told if he did not come home earlier hereafter not to ever enter the house again. The next morning the maid on entering his room found all his things gone and he had also left. Dad thought he went to some friends for a few days, so was not worried. About four or five weeks later he arrived with a notary asking Dad to sign some papers, so he could enlist in the Navy (as he was not yet of age). Without hesitating Dad quickly signed them and told brother to leave his house and never return to it again. That was five years ago and he hasn't even written, although I think he wrote me twice, but Dad received the letters first and destroyed them, so I never knew a thing about them, or where he was.

My brother was a good boy and loved his home dearly and I am sure it wasn't his fault.

I often long to see him or hear from him and often wait for his return, but I don't think I shall ever see him again.

About four years ago my Dad closed our house and we started to travel and finally crossed the border and have been living in Montreal ever since, so if brother did return home to pay us a visit he could see none of us.

If I can ever find him again I am sure Dad would forgive and forget but it seems there are no hopes of ever tracing him.

I have inquired in the U. S. Navy, and the Canadian, but without any satisfaction and I wonder where I could now inquire.

I am sure my father must feel sorry, although he won't give in.

Do you think Dad did right? Even if my brother stayed out beyond his time it was the first time. I know what it is to try to break up a party and I also did think father did wrong in thrashing a big boy of his age.

Do you think that parents should be so strict? I'm sure I don't, because, look what it has done to our family. Dad has been very cross since and is giving me a double share of strictness. I for one can never forgive him nor forget it.

I have been going out with a very nice young man lately and think a lot of him. My cousin (with whom I live) allows him to call on me and take me out. I am sure if Dad knew about it, he would be very cross and turn him out, also object to my going out after ten o'clock. Should I tell my friend about it or shall I tell Dad? Do you think I am old enough to have a boy friend, providing we both act sensibly?

One thing more before I close is that I am told the Navy makes good boys evil-minded and teaches them to drink. Is this true, as my brother never drank or smoked? Will some one who knows something about the Navy please give me a bit of information? SHANGHIE.

Ans.: 1—Your "Dad" certainly sounds very strict and I would think he might temper justice with mercy. 2—Any work which is entirely for men is usually very rough but if your brother had good morals and a strong character, he would come through all-right.

TOMATO BREDIES.

Two lbs. fat mutton from the forequarter, 1 large onion, 2 peppers, salt, 4 to 6 medium size tomatoes and a little fat. Scald the tomatoes to remove the skin; cut the meat into neat pieces, slice the onion, and put it with the cut-up peppers and fat into a saucepan, over a brisk fire, for a few minutes, stirring it all the while. When the onion begins to brown, put in the meat, cover the saucepan and let the meat brown nicely, stir occasionally. Drain off some of the juice from the tomatoes, and add them to the meat and let all stew gently till the whole is one mass. If the tomatoes are very juicy take out some of the gravy, it makes a nice flavoring for soups. Serve with boiled rice.—South African dish, tasty and nice.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

BAKING POWDER.

Buy baking powder in small amounts keeping on hand only a supply for immediate use. Always cover immediately after using and store in a dry place.

FILLING FOR MATTRESS

A filling of dark hair is said to be preferable to one of white for a hair mattress, since the white must be bleached and this relieves it of its springiness.

HOLD UP PICTURES.

Large needles will hold light pictures safely on the wall, and will not injure the paper or the wall.

CONDENSED MILK.

Evaporated or unsweetened condensed milk should be removed from the can on opening and kept on the ice.

BUY NEW RUBBERS.

It is better to buy new rubbers for your fruit cans than take chances on old ones which may be defective and spoil your fruit.

SET COLORS.

Borax helps set color, so a little added to the water in which cotton clothes are to be washed is of great advantage.

FOR FLOWERS.

A bit of charcoal helps purify the water in which you keep flowers and will prevent any objectionable odor.

APRICOT CREAM.

A delicious apricot cream is made by mixing equal quantities of cream and canned apricots drained and put through a potato ricer. You will need no sugar.

GREASE FOR PAN.

The pan in which you bake a sponge cake or angel food should be greased very lightly and dredged with flour.

CALL MY BROTHER BACK

Oh call my brother back to me,
I cannot play alone.
The summer comes to flower and bee,
Where is my brother gone?

He would not hear thy voice, fair child,
He cannot come to thee.
That face that once like summer smiled,
On earth no more thou'lt see.

A rose's brief bright life of joy,
Such unto him was given,
So thou must play alone, my boy,
Thy brother is in heaven.

And has he left his birds and flowers,
And must I call in vain,
And through the long, long summer hours
Will he not come again?

And by the brook and in the glade,
And round our cottage door,
Oh had my brother with me played
I could have loved him more.

SOME NOTES ON MIDGETS.

J. D. writes: The Book, "Barnum," has, I think, aroused interest in the midget, and I believe an article on the "little people" would be appreciated by the readers of your particular department.

How does the medical profession account for dwarfs? From the above mentioned book we learn that Mrs. Tom Thumb was the daughter of tall parents, and had a midget sister and six brothers and a sister of normal stature. It was surprising to note that Mrs. Thumb's tiny sister had, by another midget, a baby weighing 5 pounds 10 ounces, dying four hours after birth. A child of Mrs. Thumb's lived but two and one-half years. It is recorded that a certain Capt. Nutt died at 33 years of age, while Mrs. Thumb lived through a second marriage and reached 77 years of age. As one writer puts it, what would you say is the "glandular basis of midgetism?"

The hunchback has also been made rather a romantic and at the same time pathetic figure in fiction. What is his relation to the dwarf? A hunched back and stunted growth seem to go hand in hand. How do the M.D's explain the hunchback? Are these two conditions ever hereditary

REPLY.

Hunchback is an acquired condition and is, therefore, not inheritable. It is generally the result of tuberculosis of the bones. Drinking raw milk from tuberculos cows is the most frequent cause of the infection. Rickets is another cause. This disease may be present at birth, or it may be acquired. It is caused by lack of sunlight and a diet which is poor in lime and phosphorus. A certain degree of hunchbackism is the result of occupation, as you may remember from Eugene Sue's "Mysteries of Paris." Hunchback people generally beget straight-backed children.

Dwarfism is another story, and more than one principle is involved. Cretins are dwarfed in varying degree. The cause of the dwarfing in cretinism is congenital disease of the thyroid gland. There is inheritability in cretinism, or rather in thyroid deficiency. Perhaps also some condition of the pituitary body may be responsible in some cases of dwarfism.

In his book, "Heredity in Relation to Eugenics," Davenport treats of dwarfism in two places. In his chapter on the inheritability of stature, he somewhat incidentally refers to it; he lays down two inheritance laws governing stature. However, little in this chapter applies to dwarfism. In his chapter in the geographical distribution of inheritable traits, he connects dwarfism with inter-marriage. He gives no inheritance laws, but the chapter causes one to infer that when dwarfism is introduced into a stock or an island or in a mountain valley where the people stay close to home and intermarry for many generations the number of dwarfs increases greatly.

Plainly Davenport regards this tendency as a manifestation of degeneration, and he does not discuss the possibility that it is a question of Mendelian inheritance. Another explanation, and, in my opinion, one that is more probable than that proposed by Davenport, is that dwarfing is a De Vries mutation and that, once it appears, it has some tendency to follow some of the laws of Mendelian inheritance. I have never seen any studies which took up the subject of excessive strain on the pregnant woman as a cause of dwarfism—Tournier's explanation of De Vries' mutations.

WHITE SPOTS ON SKIN.

K. D. S. writes: On my hands and different parts of my body white patches have come and they do not disappear. I wish you could tell me the cause and suggest a remedy. I have consulted two physicians about it, and they say it is due to a lack of something which supplies the skin, and appears as people grow older. I am a woman in the late fifties, and am well and vigorous, but find this very disfiguring.

REPLY:

Probably you have vitiligo. If you are not anaemic the condition does not threaten your life or health. Some people keep these patches stained.

INJURIOUS TO EAT WHILE WORKING.

K. C. B. writes: Several employes in my office eat their lunch and typewrite or do clerical work at the same time. Does this interfere with proper digestion, or is it in any way injurious to the health?

REPLY:

It does. There is advantage in making the eating of a meal something of a ceremony. The ceremony begins with washing the hands. The next step in the ceremonial is attaining the right frame of mind.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

By JAMES J. MONTAGUE

TO A YOUNG ROBIN

No more you wait upon a bough
And loudly wail for food,
For you're a full grown robin now—
The biggest of the brood.
And on swift wings, now feathered firm,
You swoop across the street,
And seize the fat the luscious worm
Your father meant to eat.

What matters it, though all the spring
Each quiet evening through
He sat above your nest to sing
His father's pride in you?
What matters it, although he plucked
The down from out his breast,
In order that you might be tucked
So snugly in that nest?

Time was, when with a feeble squeak,
You spoke your appetite;
He thrust within your gaping beak
Your dinner, bite by bite.
Through howling gale or stinging rain
He answered your appeal,
And never did you ask in vain
For your perpetual meal.

But youth is not to be denied,
So you dart down today,
To thrust the poor old chap aside
And take his worm away.
And so this little song I've sung,
In which the world is told
That it is pleasant to be young,
And dreadful to be old!

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

APPETITE OVERCOMES CAUTION

By Thornton W. Burgess.

He little better is than fool
Who permits appetite to rule.

—Old Mother Nature.

Never had the blueberries in the Old Pasture been bigger. Never had they been sweeter. Never had they been more plentiful. Never had Buster Bear enjoyed himself more. Next to honey, Buster Bear likes sweet ripe blueberries. Buster was making a pig of himself. Yes, sir, he was making a pig of himself. Those berries were the kind known as high-bush blueberries. Some of those bushes were high enough and big enough almost to be small trees. Buster sat up, or stood up, to strip those berries from the bushes.

Now of all people of the Green Forest there is none with greater caution than Buster Bear. Buster's eyes are rather small for his size and they are not the best of eyes. There are many eyes in the Green Forest better than the eyes of Bustr Bear. But his ears and his nose are of the best. He depends on these more than he does on his eyes. And it is seldom that he forgets to keep them busy.

But this morning appetite had overcome caution. Buster could think of nothing but filling his stomach with those delicious blueberries. It takes a lot of berries to fill the stomach of such a big fellow as Buster Bear. Buster was stripping those berries from the bushes into his mouth as fast as he could. He wasn't at all fussy. He didn't mind getting some green ones with the ripe ones. He didn't mind getting some leaves and an occasional tiny twig. Once in a while he grunted with satisfaction.

The Merry Little Breezes of Old Mother West Wind were dancing about up there in the Old Pasture. They carried every tiny sound that they could pick up. They carried every scent that they could find. They blew in Buster's face. Buster didn't heed them. He didn't listen to the little sounds they carried. He didn't sniff to catch the little scents they carried. He was too greedy. He thought of nothing but filling that big stomach of his with those big, sweet, delicious berries.

He continued to strip those berries from the bushes into his mouth

Now the Merry Little Breezes are among Buster's best friends. In fact, he has no better friends. When they found that he would pay no attention to them at all they were both hurt and a wee bit provoked. They had done their best to warn him that there was some one in the Old Pasture whom he probably would rather not meet. Now they decided to go off and leave him alone.

"Did you ever see such a greedy fellow?" exclaimed one as they danced away, leaving Buster alone.

"It will serve him right if he gets a good scare," said another. "He has forgotten that he has eyes for anything but to see blueberries. He has forgotten that he has ears or nose at all. He is thinking of nothing but his stomach. How any one can allow appetite to rule him completely is more than I can understand."

But Buster heard nothing of this. He continued to strip those berries from the bushes into his mouth and occasionally grunt with pleasure. He might have been the only person in all the Great World for all the thought he gave to others. Buster was piggish. He certainly was piggish. Could you have watched him you would have thought that he had an idea that somehow those berries were likely to suddenly disappear and that he must get all he could before this happened.

LOVE OR FAME?

By Violet Dare

XLIII.—NEW FRIENDS.

I was glad that, since I was to be separated from Larry, I would have the diversion of work to take my mind off him at least. But, oh, how I hated to let him go!

We planned our home that evening and set the date for our wedding—which couldn't be certain yet, of course—and tried to tell ourselves that we didn't mind waiting two months.

"We'll have a little apartment—just four rooms," I told him. "And we'll be awfully economical about furniture. We'll have a nest of little tables in the living room instead of one big, expensive one, and we won't have any dining-room—two bedrooms, and a living-room and a kitchen will be plenty for us. And I shall cook and keep the house clean and everything!"

Larry was perfectly delighted. He hadn't any family, and had been living in rooming houses and hotels for so long that he'd forgotten what a real home looked like.

After he went away I sat in the window of my room, just luxuriating in happiness. Finally I wrote a letter to Sylvia Stearns, telling her about it. Larry had told me that Sylvia had known when she went away; she had asked him, that morning when he took her up to the railway station, if he wasn't in love with me, and he'd said he was. And she'd urged him to tell me so right away and he'd meant to that night when we were dancing together, but the girl he'd known when he was a boy and Elkhorn, ruined everything between them.

"Nothing can ever separate us now, though, can it?" he'd said when he left me.

"No—nothing ever can," I'd told him. I thought of that now. And the falls roared and roared at me as I almost remembered our words. They almost seemed to mock me. It frightened me a little and I hurried into bed and tried not to hear them.

I was awfully interested in meeting the people I was to work with, when they arrived the next day at about eleven o'clock. There was one girl about my age, named Crystal May, who played the lead, and another girl, older, played the adventuress, her name was Janet Powers, and she and her husband, Phil Cabot, as he was known on the screen, were the villains of the picture. The hero was a young man who'd come up very rapidly in pictures that year. He'd been on the stage, made good there and in some light comedies on the screen, and now was playing the lead in this picture. There were two or three character actors too, all men, and that was all.

I think I'd have liked Crystal May if she hadn't been so pleased with herself. She was the perfect actress type that used to be so popular; the type with yellow curls and big blue eyes and a pretty, rather empty face. She wasn't empty, though; she was awfully shrewd. And her mother, who travelled with her, worked so hard keeping her young and girlish that from the very first I felt a little bit sorry for her.

Janet Powers was a regular person, and she and I soon formed a very real friendship. She was dark, rather statuesque and very beautiful and between her and Crystal May's mother there was a constant battle. It was rather funny, of course, to hear them squabbling, and I couldn't help being amused at them. They'd known each other in the early days of picture making; Janet Powers had been one of the big favorites then, like Clara Kimball Young and Florence Lawrence. But as pictures developed she'd fallen behind; she'd grown older, of course, and she'd had bad luck in signing up with two companies that fell through and had left the screen for a time.

Her husband, who was a leading man in the old days, had gone on, though. And finally she couldn't stand it any longer, and so came back into pictures. She couldn't be a star any more but she played big parts and got lots of money, and quite often she and her husband got an engagement together as they had now.

BARBERS' PATRONS FUME WHILE DRY AGENTS SEEK BOOZE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. — (Associated Press.)—Five fuming patrons were left stranded amid billows of drying lather in the shop of Frank Spasaro last night while prohibition enforcement raiders consumed an hour finding six gallons of alleged intoxicants. Spasaro then was arrested and the shaving was resumed. The place once was a bar room celebrated for its cocktails.

PRESERVE PACT OF FOREFATHERS

Cause Confederation to Endure, Says Bourassa In Maritimes

MONCTON, N.B., Aug. 19. — (Canadian Press.) — "If Confederation were to endure, then we must preserve the pact of our forefathers," declared Henri Bourassa, heading the party of 275 French-Canadians touring the Maritime Provinces, in replying to addresses of welcome by the City of Moncton and the French-Canadians of Moncton here last night. The two special trains carrying the French-Canadian visitors reached here at 8 and 8.20 o'clock. Twenty-five hundred people met the visitors at the depot.

A procession headed by L'Assomption Band was formed, and marched to L'Assomption Academy Hall, where four thousand people listened to the addresses of welcome and the replies.

Addresses of welcome were delivered by Mayor Adgett in behalf of the society. Right Rev. Bishop Leblanc, Rev. H. D. Cormier, pastor of L'Assomption Church, and A. J. Legere, chairman, on behalf of the French Acadians of Moncton.

Replies were made by Henri Bourassa, Mr. Vezina, Montreal; Richard of Verdun; Father Lavergne, of L'Action Catholique.

OUT TO SAFEGUARD OJIBWAY HISTORY

Handwritten Volumes to Repose in Neighboring Province's Archives

MINDOMOYA, Manitoulin Island, August 19.—(Canadian Press).—As a result of the visit to Manitoulin Island, of Col. Harry Cockshutt, Lieut.-Governor of Ontario, that province has fallen heir to a collection of documents of inestimable value bearing upon the early history of the Ojibway Indians, some 300 of which tribe still inhabit the Island.

The documents in question, dating back to the year 1748 and compiled by French Jesuit missionary fathers who labored among the natives, were obtained on the Indian reserve of Wickwomikong near Manitowanting. They had been preserved for generations there by the Jesuit priests in charge of the reserve, and were presented for safer keeping to the provincial archives. Consisting of several large foolscap volumes, ranging in size from a few leaves to 600 pages, the volumes are expected to shed new and comprehensive light upon the history, language and life of the early Ojibways. They are written entirely in French and Indian, one being described as an encyclopedia of terms, a glossary more complete than any mere vocabulary or dictionary. The books are written in very fine handwriting, the translation of which will admittedly be a lengthy undertaking.

EXTREME PENALTY WILL BE ASKED IF JURY NAMES McCOY

Ninth Wife of Pugilist Declares He Still Loves Her

ACTOR SOUGHT

District Attorney Satisfied With Alibi of Victim's Husband

LOS ANGELES, Calif., August 19. —(United Press.)—"Kid" McCoy is sane, and if the grand jury returns against him the State will ask for the extreme penalty," District Attorney Asa Keyes today thus promised another sensational trial for Los Angeles, as the grand jury was to convene to hear evidence in the death of beautiful Theresa Mors, for whose alleged murder, Norman Selby (Kid McCoy) is being held.

Keyes' declaration followed the report of three alienists who examined the former pugilist yesterday, and, according to their reports, found him sane but "suffering from an exalted ego."

"He thinks himself irresistible to women," Dr. Victor Parkin, one of the three alienists, said. "He thought he was the super-Shiek of the twentieth century, and couldn't stand to be 'thrown down' by any woman, over whom he thought he had complete control."

That McCoy did possess a strange fascination for women, was demonstrated by Dagmar Dalgren, his ninth wife, who visited the apartment in which McCoy and Mrs. Mors were living at the time of the latter's death, and in a jealous rage, created such a disturbance that police had to escort her home.

DANCER EMPHATIC.

Miss Dalgren, an actress and professional dancer made loud and vehement announcements that she was the "Kid's ninth wife and proud of it."

She also declared that "McCoy still loves me and no other woman can have him."

The fighter in his new role of the "great lover," today denied any knowledge of jewelry, valued at $10,000, Albert Mors, the dead woman's husband, charged was stolen from his wife, either before or after her death.

McCoy admits that Mrs. Mors had made him presents of jewelry at various times, but said he knew nothing about the pearl ring, brooch and wrist-watch, Mors claims has been stolen.

SUMMERS SOUGHT.

Police have been unable to find Dick Summers, an actor, to whom McCoy is alleged to have confessed killing "That woman I've been living with," according to a story told police by a woman friend of the actor. Search for Summers was continuing today.

Keyes said last night, after investigating Mors, that he was now satisfied with the latter's alibi, that he had retired at 11 o'clock on the night Mrs. Mors was found dead.

"His statement has been corroborated by the manager of the hotel, where he makes his home," Keyes said.

The investigation of Mors followed a garage-keeper's story to police that Mors had appeared at his garage late on the night of the alleged crime and "behaved in a visibly agitated manner."

Mors visited the garage all right, but it was earlier than the garage man thought it was," he explained.

Two drawings by Millais, "A Composition Sketch," which secured for him the silver Isis medal of the Royal Society of Art, when he was 11 years of age, and "A Study for a Gold Medal," were sold for 18 guineas at Christie's. "Preachin, to the Roundheads," executed when Millais was 11, realised 42 guineas.

Two bodies thought to be those of C. Elmes and Fred Pitt, two of the boys who were drowned with two others and their schoolmaster in the bathing tragedy at Bantham, were recovered, one at Bigbury-on-Sea, and the other at Bantham.

BRYAN ACCEPTS PARTY NOMINATION

Davis' Running Mate Denounces Opposition in Formal Speech

LINCOLN, Neb., August 19.—(Associated Press.)—Before a large and cheerful gathering of long-time friends, supporters and national and sectional party leaders, Governor Charles W. Bryan last night informally accepted the nomination for Vice-President by the Democratic party and laid down in unmistakable terms the principles and issues upon which he will go before the people for victory at the polls.

Governor Bryan definitely opened his campaign with a promise to the Progressive Farmers and wage earners that the Democratic party would stand as a unit in seeking a solution of their difficulties.

Senator Harrison, Mississippi, who delivered the notification address, also acclaimed the Democratic organization as the only one to which the Progressive elements could look for direction and leadership.

The vice-presidential candidate praised his party's platform as "broad, strong and progressive enough to justify the support of those who believe in equality before the law." He pledged his full support to Mr. Davis and declared both he and the presidential candidate are in harmony with the platform upon which they will fight for electoral support.

"Honesty, efficiency and economy in Government" were declared by the nominee as the need of the hour.

He laid to the door of the Republican administration the responsibility for the unrest through the country, "duplication of Government work, unnecessary boards and commissions, high cost of Government and excessive taxation."

Woman's work and child welfare, the Democratic party's interest in and support of labor, outlawing of war, water power, law enforcement, and private monopoly were other subjects discussed by Governor Byran. He promised to take up later, during the campaign, other matters enumerated in the party's platform as demanding attention.

WOULD INCLUDE JAPS IN QUOTA

Missionary Sees Exclusion Law As Blow To Christianity

CHATAUQUA, N. Y., August 19 — (United Press.) — The exclusion of Japanese immigration "has struck the Christian movement in the Japanese Empire a staggering blow and plunged missionaries into a dark Gethsemane," William Axling, missionary of the Northern Baptist Church, told the opening session of a convention of religious leaders held here under the direction of the Federal Council of Churches.

The recent exclusion law, Dr. Axling said, came as a "climatic crucifixion of Japan's national pride and susceptibility.

"From the Prime Minister down to men of low estate I was asked to sound it from the house-top here in America, that they were not asking for the open door nor the half open door," he said. "They recognize that it is unwise to send any large number of Japanese immigrants to this land. They see that it only creates a problem.

"They say, 'Limit Japanese immigration to the vanishing point if necessary, but treat us as men, deal with us as brothers. Cut out the sting and shame of discriminating against us on the basis of our race.'"

Dr. Axling recommended two steps, 1.—Inclusion of Japan in the general quota law, which would permit entrance of an eligible number of Japanese because of the small number now in this country.

2.—Amendment by Congress of the naturalization law, so that the privilege of naturalization would be given to "all persons who qualify, regardless of race."

ATTEMPT MADE TO BLOW UP STEAMER

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 19.—(Associated Press.)—The Argentine coastwise steamer Asturiano, on a voyage to South Argentine ports with 320 passengers and crew, reported by wireless yesterday that a time-bomb exploded in a trunk in the hold of the vessel causing a fire which took an hour and a half to extinguish.

The Asturiano, one of several steamers boycotted recently by the Argentine maritime federation, sailed Friday with a minimum crew.

MRS. MORS' WEALTH LEFT TO HUSBAND

Murdered Woman's Estate Bequeathed to Recently Divorced Life Partner

LOS ANGELES, Cal., August 19 — (Associated Press.)—Mrs. Theresa W. Mors, who died here last Tuesday night with a bullet in her brain, and in connection with whose death, Kid McCoy, ex-pugilist, is being held on susupicion of murder, left an estate of $125,000 and $80,000 in life insurance to her husband, Albert A. Mors, it was revealed here by Mors' lawyers and the District Attorney's office.

Another development was the announcement by Mors' attorneys that $5,000 worth of jewellery, composed of a black pearl, a brooch and a diamond and sapphire-studded watch, had been stolen from Mrs. Mors the night she died. They demanded District Attorney Keyes investigate the disappearance of the jewels.

The will of Mrs. Mors, bequeathing everything to her "beloved husband," whom she recently divorced, was drawn in New York, August 4, 1921. One of the witnesses who signed it was Mrs. Ann Schapp, the woman, who with her husband and another man, was wounded by McCoy in the shooting orgy. Mrs. Schapp, say investigators, had tried to reconcile Mors and his divorced wife.

The police abandoned search for a moving picture actor, or pugilist, to whom McCoy was reported having confessed early Wednesday that he killed Mrs. Mors. This man, named in an anonymous telephone call to police headquarters by a woman's voice, as Dick Summers or Dick Sommers, apparently is a myth, say the police.

The trio of alienists appointed by District Attorney Keyes to examine McCoy stated they intended to file their report later. Mors was granted a special letter of administration by the Superior Court under which he may re-open the antique shop of Mors, Incorporated, by posting a $25,000 bond pending the probate of Mrs. Mors' will.

Lively Volcano is Giving California Much Publicity

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 19—(Associated Press.)—A veritable river of mud, boulders and ashes extending in width from a few hundred yards to half a mile and in some places from 15 to 25 feet deep, is flowing from the mouth of Mud Creek Canyon, eight miles above McCloud, Siskiyou County, on the slope of Mount Shasta into the McCloud River, says a despatch to the Sacramento Bee.

Boulders, some of them many tons in weight, are being carried toward the river in the thick stream, the like of which has never been seen before in McCloud and whose origin is a mystery.

Old residents, students of Mount Shasta's formation, "Blame the phenomena on a glacier, the only one on the McCloud slope of Shasta, which is situated near the path of an extinct volcano and which had been exposed to the sun because of the dearth of snow."

WIND AND FLOOD SWEEP OVER IOWA

Property Damage Estimated At Millions of Dollars

CHICAGO, August 19. — (United Press). — At least two men were killed and property damage running into millions of dollars were caused early today by cloudbursts and cyclones which swept four middlewestern states.

J. N. Schley and Claude Barrett, 19, were killed by flood waters near Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where the storm struck hardest. Schley and Barrett, both farmers, were drowned when they attempted to rescue a herd of cattle.

In addition to other Iowa cities, portions of Wisconsin, Illinois and Nebraska were hit by wind, hail, rain and electrical storms.

The farmers in one township in the state of Washington have agreed to standardize their stock-raising by the adoption of one standard breed for each kind of animal handled.

DOCTOR EXPOSED IN SCIENTISTS' REPORT

Californian Practitioner Who Amassed Fortune, Denounced by Peers

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—(Associated Press.)—The electronic reactions theory of the late Dr. Abrams, of San Francisco, was pronounced unfounded in a report by a special investigating committee of The Scientific American, made public last night. The report followed a year of inquiry.

The committee which brought in its condemnatory report consisted of Dr. Wm. H. Park, director of the Bureau of Laboratories of the Health Department; Dr. Walter C. Alverez, of the University of California; Robert C. Post, president of the Engelwood Hospital and J. Malcom M. Bird and Austin C. Lescarboura, editors of The Scientific American.

Dr. Abrams, who several years ago announced that electrons are the basis of life and the foundation of health, died on January 13, the report says, on the eve of his appearance as a witness at the trial of Dr. Mary Lecoque, an E.R.A. (electornic reactions of Abrams) practicioner of Jonesboro, Ark., who had been charged with using the mails to defraud. He left an estate valued at from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000.

Dr. Abrams, the report continued, contended that a drop of blood contained millions of electrons which reflected many characteristics of a person. By the use of an instrument called the reflexophone, he maintained, he could detect cancer, tuberculosis and other diseases. Diagnosis of a drop of blood, he said, would reveal not only the presence of diseases, if any, but also the age of the person, his race or religion and the probable length of his life. It was his theory, that after diseases had been detected by his method, a cure could be effected by means of the oscilloclast, which used electric waves to offset other waves within the body.

MEXICAN BANDITS KIDNAP AMERICAN

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 19.—(Associated Press.) — The kidnapping on Saturday of R. T. Berrinean, general manager of a lumber and turpentine company, and a United States citizen, was reported to the Foreign Office yesterday by H. F. Schoenfeld, the United States Charge d'Affaires. The kidnapping took place at Tepehuanes, state of Durango, the bandits holding Berrinean for ransom.

The Charge asked the Mexican Government to use every effort to apprehend those guilty of the kidnapping. This the Foreign Office has promised to do.

MITCHELL FIELD, NEW YORK, August 19.—(United Press) — Father John J. Sullivan left here today at 4 a.m. in a De Haviland plane piloted by Lieutenant M. L. Elliott, on the first lap of his trans-continental flight.

The plane was expected to reach Chicago at 11 a.m. after a stop at Cleveland for re-fueling.

Between Chicago and San Francisco the priest will visit the parents of aviators killed in the World War for whom he performed burial services in France, when he was attached to the American aviation corps as chaplain.

Father Sullivan is rector of St. Augustine's church, Boston, and is a chaplain of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

He expects to spend three months on his present mission.

SEASON TICKETS FOR THE 'BIG FOUR' RUGBY AT M.A.A.A. GROUNDS

Tomorrow evening at five-thirty the M.A.A.A. rugby squad will make its first appearance on the gridiron in a preliminary workout. The object of tomorrow's early practise is to test the mettle and intentions of the old team members of last year, as well as the new talent of other teams, whose prowess is already known. The Rugby Club have received the names of some strong players who are new arrivals in Montreal. Among those who have declared themselves as prospective members of the Winged Wheel team this season are Ernie Rolph, who played outside for University; Chick Mundell, who was on the Queen's squad last season; Evans, an ex-Tiger star; Eddie Crain, once with McGill, and last year with Ottawa; Parmalee, who played for Ottawa; and R. Fletcher, who comes from the Parkdale Canoe Club of the O.R.F.U.

The actual work of Wednesday will consist of merely passing the ball around and getting acquainted with the gridiron again. The Wednesday following there will be a general workout, in which anyone who considers himself a possible member of the team, will have a fair chance to make a favorable impression. From then on there will be a practise every Wednesday evening till the wind-up of the Interprovincial and Quebec Rugby Union. The M.A.A.A. Club will place three teams on the field this season—senior, intermediate and junior.

SEASON TICKETS.

At last night's meeting of the club it was decided to introduce the use of season tickets for the three league games to be played on the Westmount grounds of the club. This will be the first year in the history of the association that season tickets were used. The holders of the tickets will have first choice of the reserved seats up too September 25. This means that a season ticket holder may choose a good seat and hold the same seat for the three games of the season. The ticket, which will cost three dollars, will also entitle its owner to preference in the space reserved for the parking of automobiles. The tickets will be obtainable from the following members of the M.A.A.A. Rugby Club, or at the Peel Street club house: Frank McGill, Wallace Caven, Percy Roberts, Newsy Murray, Hal Robinson, Roo Anderson, Bob Holt, W. J. Morrison, Hal Foster, Ken Barwick, John Gallery, Walter Davison, Jeff Russel, Major Greenwood and Jack Corrigan.

STILL ANOTHER NEW GOLF CLUB TO BE KNOWN AS THE ELM RIDGE CLUB TO OPEN NEXT SEASON

Negotiations are underway for the purchase of the Savage Farm, situated near Dorval, for the purpose of laying out still another golf course, this was made known today.

Several prominent Jewish professional and business men are behind the enterprise. The club which will be known as the Elm Ridge Golf Club is expected to be one of the best in the district according to Peter Bercovitch, K.C., who informed The Star. that architects from New York were out looking over the property with a view to possible purchase. If the Savage property is bought, it is hoped that the course will be open next year.

The committee formed to purchase the property and look after the arrangements of the club is composed of the following well-known men: A. Sommer, Metropolitan Realty Co. Ltd.; H. Berliner, of Berliner Gram-o-phone Co., Ltd.; Peter Bercovitch, K.C., J. Levinson, of S. Levinson and Son; S. Wener, of S. Wener and Co. Ltd.; Harry Ropher, H. Horowitz, S. Ripstein, financier; S. Hart, of the Society Brand Clothing Company; and Lyon Cohen, of L. Cohen and Sons.

DISTORTION OF FACT CHARGED ABOUT THE DIVING SANCTION

TORONTO, Aug. 19.—Another chapter in the swimming feud which broke out at the Olympics was written yesterday when the High Park Swimming and Athletic Club was notified by the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association that the permit granted them to hold the low board diving championships had been transferred to Vancouver. In explanation of this belated announcement the Montreal parties who were responsible for the debarring of the Ontario swimmers in France, said that the permit had been awarded to Vancouver some time ago and that in lieu of the above championship the High Park Club could hold the ladies' diving championship. Local swimmers are up in arms over the matter and the opinion was openly expressed that the C.A.S.A. is just rubbing it in.

In response to the above, Secretary Simard, of the Canadian Swimming Association, says:—"This is a pure distortion of facts. I gave Toronto a permit for the Dominion Low-board and High-board Diving Championships.

"Unfortunately I forgot that at the annual meeting of the association we had given the Low-board diving permit to Vancouver.

"I was very sorry, and immediately wrote to Toronto, explaining that I would be pleased to give them a sanction for the Provincial Low-diving. Also I offered on behalf of the association to pay for any medals they might have ordered.

"In reply I received a request for a sanction for the Ladies' Low Diving Championships, which I granted.

"The diving championships at Vancouver are not till the 30th, and the sanction last Saturday in this city was open purely to local people."

MOUNT ROYAL TRACK INTERESTS WILL RUN RACE MEET AT QUEBEC

QUEBEC, August 19.—(Star Special.)—Horse racing will be resumed in this city on August 30th after a lapse of a year as a contract has been signed with the exhibition commission and Messrs. W. Halpin and Tom Duggan, of New York and of Montreal, respectively whereby the latter two are due to stage a seven day meet at the exhibition grounds during the Provincial Exhibition from August 30th to September 6th.

This meet which gives every promise of being one of the most successful held here, will take the place of the scheduled pacing and trotting meet of the St. Lawrence, Fairs Circuit which is held here annually during exhibition week.

The purses, it is understood will be of three hundred dollars while it has practically been decided to offer a cup for the feature event each day while a special trophy will be presented to the jockey riding the most winners during the meet.

The track is in fairly good condition at present, though work will be started on it this week in order to have it in the best possible shape. Extra stables will also be constructed as three-quarters of the present stabling accommodation will be taken up by cattle and horses that will be here for exhibition purposes.

The meet will be held under the auspices of the Quebec Jockey Club.

HEARING OF PERJURY CHARGES AGAINST FIRPO POSTPONED TILL AFTER WILLS FIGHT

NEW YORK, August 19. — (United Press)—The chances of Luis Firpo being deported from this country before he has an opportunity to mix punches with Harry Wills were overcome today when Firpo's hearing in Federal Court on a perjury charge was continued to September 20.

The Firpo-Wills fight is scheduled for September 11 and so far as the court is concerned the Wild Bull can clamber into the ring on that date.

There was much bitter wrangling when Firpo and his Attorney appeared before Commissioner Hitchcock to answer the complaint filed by Canon Chase, of the New York Civic League.

Firpo maintained the same passive face which he usually has when in the ring. He let his attorney, Hyman Bushel, do all the talking.

One of Bushel's contentions was that Chase could not state authoritatively what Firpo said when he came into this country recently in company with the comely Senorita Blanca Lourdes. Firpo is charged with having perjury by saying the fair senorita was a causual acquaintance. Chase says there was perjury in that statement.

Bushel said Chase was not at the dock when the two came into the country, and could not have heard what Firpo said.

Chase said he had testimony from an assistant secretary of labor relative to Firpo's declaration.

Commissioner Hitchcock asked Firpo if he were ready to have the hearing. Bushel answered, yes, but Chase asked for a continuance until tomorrow to obtain evidence.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—After travelling all night and having had only a few hours of sleep, Luis Angel Firpo, the Argentine heavyweight boxer arrived in New York early today to answer charges of perjury made in a warrant obtained yesterday by Canon William S. Chase, on behalf of the New York Civic League, which seeks Firpo's deportation on the ground that he made false statements to the immigration authorities.

The issuance of the warrant was the result of a campaign for Firpo's deportation waged by the Civic League of New York, of which Canon Chase is the head, ever since the Argentine arrived here from Argentina in the company of Senorita Blanca Lourdes Picart several weeks ago. Miss Picart was admitted to the country under bond which guaranteed that she would leave on the first steamer sailing for Havana, for which place her passport was visaed. Firpo was admitted as a visitor.

At the hearing before United States immigration officials, at which both Miss Picart and Firpo were examined, it is alleged the pugilist stated he and Miss Picart were only casual acquaintances. The Civic League charges this was untrue.

Deportation proceedings, if instituted, would probably cause cancellation of the Firpo-Wills bout which is scheduled to take place in Jersey City, Sept. 11.

Boxing In The Open Air At Verdun A.A.A.

Final arrangements have been made for the open air boxing tournament to be held tomorrow night at Rheaume Park. The Verdun Athletic Club are promoting this tournament and have carded fifteen bouts in all. Sabo of the Guards will meet Bert Light, the M.A.A.A. flash, with Heathfield, Bowden, Bedard, Twizel, Leitham, and many more this should prove well up to the V.A.C. standard.

As the club has been very successful in staging tournaments, having had many successes in their past performances, the club has full confidence in their promotor and guarantees its friends a splendid night's entertainment.

Charity Tax Mystery At Track Solved

Complaints have been raised relative to the fact that charity tax tickets purchased at the Delorimier Race Track last week have been given of two denominations for the same amount paid, thus: Fifteen cents is the normal tax on the complimentary tickets in circulation. The collector of these tax payments has given in return for the fifteen cents, tickets marked 10 cents and other marked 20 cents.

A number of those who received the 10 cent slips have questioned whether or not someone was making five cents on each ticket.

Also they maintained that anyone could go downtown and get ten cent tickets and hand them in to the collector. On the whole, it is said this is a very careless way of doing the business and bound to create complications.

This is denied by H. Girard in charge of Provincial Revenue today. His denial states that it is quite true that the two types of ticket were used but that such use was only on account of lack of 15 cent receipt slips.

This applies however, to the complimentary tickets along as the regular admission rate of $1.50 includes the tax and does not affect in the least the general track fans.

There are a limited number of complimentary admissions and for that reason it was thought unnecessary to print the 15 cent tickets.

Crocker To Play In Last Doubles Game

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 19.—(United Press.)—One of the feature matches of the national doubles championships was on today when Bill Tilden and Sandy Weiner met R. Norris Williams and Watson Washburn.

Tilden and Weiner weathered the first round match only after the severest difficulty.

Two other good matches are scheduled today—one between Schlesinger and Brookes of Australia, and Frederick Klams and Willard Crocker; the other between the French Davis Cup pair Jean Borotra and Rene Lacoste and Harvey Snodgrass and Walter Wesbrook, the California pair.

Brian C. Norton, of St. Louis, who won the national championship with Tilden last year, was paired on the courts of the Longwood Cricket Club at Chestnut Hill yesterday, with Wray Brown, of St. Louis, and put out in his first match by Fred Kalms, of Australia, and Willard Crocker, of Montreal, in three sets at 10—8, 9—7, 6—4. Tilden managed to survive the first round, but only after he and his young protegee, A. L. "Sandy" Weiner, of Germantown, Penna, had been carried to five sets by two other juniors, George Lott, of Chicago, national junior champion, and Emmett Pare, also of the Middle West. The score was 8—10, 8—6, 6—2, 3—6, 6—2.

SOCCER PEACE LIKELY NOW—WHAT THE TERMS OF AGREEMENT MAY BE

TORONTO, Aug. 19—(Star Special)—Peace at last will be discussed by the Toronto and District Football Association and the Canadian Football Association at a meeting to be held Thursday night in the Sons of England Hall. The meeting was arranged last night at the T. and D. weekly gathering, and it was hoped the plans will be discussed to settle the long standing dispute between the two associations.

The resignation of Treasurer J. McGowan was accepted by the T. and D. last night with deep regret. In the resignation the Association and the game in general loses one of its best workers and friends.

Craig Campbell says about the above:

Though noting official can be given out by the parties negotiating peace between the C.F.A. and organised soccer, it is learned that a tentative plan is being put forward, and while details are "missing," the substance is something like this:

The D.F.A. in its present state to pass out, also the C.F.A., and be replaced by a board of five members, whose duties would be to handle the Connaught Cup competition, tours and International legislative work.

Canada to be divided into two sections, east and west, known as "Western Canada F.A." and "Eastern Canada F.A."

The two bodies to run their own affairs entirely, without any outside interference, but on mutual lines for the benefit of the game.

The Eastern Canada F.A. to be composed of a council elected by the Ontario F.A., Quebec F.A. (nt.), Inter-City League and P.Q.F.A.

The Inter-City League to return Carsteel and Grenadier Guards, with power to add another Montreal club, with playing strength and financial backing, ready to undertake heavy expenses, an application could be considered.

The O.F.A. and the P.Q.F.A. would practically remain the same.

The above details outline but briefly one of the proposals now under consideration, and are merely given as such.

The latest story regarding the D.F.A. presidency is that John Easton is going to stand again. But if the present ideas go through, that is from the Ontario and Quebec end, there won't be any D.F.A., as we know it today.

INTER-CITY YACHT RACE HERE SEPTEMBER 5TH AND 6TH

ROYAL HAMILTON YACHT CLUB SENDING CREW TO SAIL AGAINST LOCAL YACHTSMEN—G. HAMILTON, R. HOLLAND AND R. HUTCHINS WILL SKIPPER CREWS IN TRIAL RACES TONIGHT AT DORVAL

The Royal Hamilton Yacht Club has accepted the invitation of the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club to send a crew to sail a series of races on Lake St. Louis in the "B" Class yachts of the latter club, the crews changing boats after each race.

The dates selected for these races are Friday and Saturday, September 5 and 6, and it is probable that the Hamilton crew will come down a few days in advance in order to accustom themselves to the "B" Class type of yacht, for they are more used to the displacement classes sailed on Lake Ontario.

Sailing has been increasing in popularity in Hamilton during the past two seasons, and several of their skippers have achieved some notable successes on Lake Ontario. Last season Bill Judd won the invitation race in the "C" Class yachts at the Canadian National Exhibition races, sailed off at Toronto, when he deceated crews from fourteen other clubs, and he has made a very creditable showing this season, sailing the "B" Class yacht Rowna in the recent International regatta at Sodus Bayon Lake, Ontario, while Norman Robertson defeated all comers in the trial races held early this season on Lake Ontario to select Canada's representative in the Olympic yacht races.

TRIAL RACES TONIGHT.

In order to choose the crew to represent the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club a series of trial races will be held. The first of these will be sailed tonight over the Dorval triangular course, and others at later dates at the discretion of the judges, P. Shearwood and R. Stevenson, who have been appointed by the sailing committee to select the inter-city crew.

Three skippers and their crews will fight it out for the honour of representing Montreal in these events, namely, George Hamilton, Rupert Holland and Ross Hutchins, all of whom made a very creditable showing in the first series of trial races sailed by the local yachtsmen in June to select a crew for the international regatta at the Lake of the Woods.

The races will start shortly after 6 o'clock this evening, the yachts to be sailed being, Vega, owned by R. C. Stevenson; Red Patch II., owned by Victor Whitehead; and Zohra, owned by G. H. Duggan. The crews will change yachts after each race, Vega being sailed in the first race by Rupert Holland, Red Patch II. by George Hamilton, and Zohra by Ross Hutchins.

Considerable interest has been aroused among yachtsmen on Lake St. Louis in the coming visit of the Hamiltonians to Dorval, as it will be the first time the visitors have sailed on local waters.

The list of yachts, owners, skippers, and crews for the trial races is:—

Vega, owned by R. C. Stevenson; skipper, R. D. Holland; crew: A. S. Poe, D. Rae. W. Baxter.

Red Patch II.—G. V. Whitehead, owner; skipper, G. S. Hamilton; crew: G. S. Parke, P. Macdougall, J. Holland.

Zohra—G. H. Duggan, owner; skipper, Ross Hutchins; crew: J. Hunter, T. Wilmot, S. Norseworthy.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE PRO. BOXERS AND WRESTLERS

Manager Gibbs wires:

CLEVELAND, O., August 19.—The Star, Montreal, Quebec:

Kid Durand, flyweight champion of Canada, easily defeated Don Carson, of Indianapolis, in a bout of six rounds. Carson being saved from a KO in the third by the bell. He was hanging on for the rest of the bout.

"Soldier" Jones has a nice trip before him.

Aleck Goodwin, who used to manage Ted Lewis, has arranged some fights for him in Belgium, France, Germany, and Italy, and he leaves on the C.P.R. SS. Minnedosa tomorrow.

Dr. Gadbois, who is still looking after Rioux, is highly indignant that the Soldier won't meet Rioux before he sails, as the Doctor said he should do before pretending to represent Canada in Europe.

Jones says, when he comes back he will be glad to meet either Reddick or Rioux or both.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Aug. 19. — Young Bob Fitzsimmons, son of the former world's heavyweight champion, defeated Soldier King, local light heavyweight, in a 10-round open air bout here last night. The Grand Rapids boxer, although badly beaten in almost every round, stayed the limit, but was on the verge of a knockout several times.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 19. — After taking the count of nine for nine times in seven rounds, Billy McGowan, Atlanta, took a right to the body and the count of 1 0from Harry Fay of Louisville in a scheduled 12 round bout here last night. Both boxers weighed 165 pounds.

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., Aug. 19. — "Young" Stribling, the Georgia schoolboy boxer, scored a technical knockout over Jack Stone, New York light heavyweight in the fourth round of a scheduled eight round bout here last night after punching his opponent almost at will. The referee stopped the fight with Stone helpless against the ropes under a rain of blows from the Georgia "flash."

During the first three rounds Stribling literally used his opponent for a punching bag, jamming rights and lefts to all parts of the latter's anatomy, while his own fast foot work kept him out of reach of Stone's rushes.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 19.—Gene Tunney, United States light heavyweight champion, won a technical knockout over Joe Lohman, of Toledo, when Referee Matt Hinkle stopped the bout in the eighth round. Lohman was floored four times in the last three rounds, taking the count of nine just as the seventh ended. The bout was to have gone 12 rounds.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 19—Carl Tremaine, local bantamweight, and Buddy Taylor, Terre Haute, Ind., have been matched to box 10 rounds here on the night of Aug. 28.

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 19. — Lew Tendler, Philadelphia lightweight, earned a newspapermen's decision over K. O. Mars, Cincinnati, in a 10-round boxing bout here last night. Mars was knocked down in the fourth round and was being counted out when the bell saved him.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Kid Sullivan of Brooklyn still is junior lightweight champion of the United States today as a result of the successful defense of his title in a 15-round bout with Vincent (Pepper) Martin of Brooklyn, at the Queensboro A. C. in Long Island City. Sullivan won on points.

Although no knock downs were scored, Martin was forced to cling to the ropes, to support himself in the second round and was badly battered at the finish.

RE-INSTATEMENTS OF BASEBALL PLAYERS IN ORDER NEXT WEEK

Secretary E. H. Bourdon, of the Registration Committee of the Quebec Branch of the A. A. U. of Canada, announces that the meeting of his committee will be held at the close of next week. The meeting will be dominated by the discussion of the recent upheaval caused by the suspension of the M. A. A. A. baseball team by the Q. A. B. A. The suspension was merely a technicality, and James Macdonald, chairman of the Registration Committee, is invested with full power to reinstate the team, since the M. A. A. A. are not disqualified under clause "B" of the official definition of an amateur player.

British Polo Team Is Now In New York

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—(United News)—The British international polo team, short-ender in the betting on the matches with the Americans, but by no means a whipped aggregation yet, landed in New York yesterday and went to Long Island—players, attendants, ponies and baggage together.

Major Hurndall, captain of the British team, a tall, bronzed man, spoke for his men when he said:

"Oh, we're all right," he said, "but we can do with some loosening up after the trip. We shall get into action about Friday, I think. We know the strength of the American fellows, but we shall pick our line-up without regard for who they do. We'll just do our best. I believe our ponies are better than you think they are."

Devereaux Milburn, captain of the American team, went down to the ship to greet the Britons, who went to Port Washington, L.I., where Julius Fleischmann's polo field has been made available for their practise.

One of the grooms attached to the British stable is Jimmy Faulkner, 70 years old, father of 31 children, the youngest of whom was born last spring. Faulkner is said to have come from a family of 37 children.

The international matches begin September 6.

NEW YORK, August 19.—(By Henry L. Farrell, United Press Staff Correspondent)—America's polo team, which is to defend the international challenge cup against the British team at Meadowbrook next month, will probably be picked after the final test match today.

It seems to be a foregone conclusion that the Americans will line-up in the first match with Watson Webb at No. 1, Tommy Hitchcock at No. 2, Malcolm Stevenson at No. 3 and Devereaux Milburn, greatest of them all, in the back position.

St. Lawrence Model Yachts Won Series

The St. Lawrence Model Yacht Club carried off the honors in the inter-club race against the Montreal Model Yacht Club on Chambly Basin. The total points made by the St. Lawrence Club was twenty-four to the nine won by the losing team. Each club was allowed four boats, all to be of the 42-inch class, to constitute a team, although the Montreal club sailed the race with one boat less than their opponents. The race was held over a seaward and return course, whose total length was about three miles. With a fresh south-west wind blowing, the race was won by the Sapho, sailed by Vice-Com. Woodfine, of the St. Lawrence M.Y.C., which brought the visiting club eight points. Seven more points were added to the St. Lawrence Club total when the Fawn, sailed by Mr. McIntyre, crossed the line second, and six more when the Vamp, handled by Mr. Honey, came in third. The Marjorie and the Outcast, both of the M.M.Y.C., managed to defeat the Jean, the other St. Lawrence Club entry, which was sailed by Mr. Hill. The Marjorie and the Outcast came in fourth and fifth respectively. The Marjorie and the Outcast were handled by Vice-Com. Davidson and Mr. Hemsley, respectively, and the third M.M.Y.C. entry was the Jeritza, sailed by Com. Collins.

SUFFERED DISASTER.

The Jeritza suffered disaster in the race, plowing along in a fine position, and suddenly settling in the water. When the stricken craft appeared to be considering a final plunge into the depths of Chambly Basin, her owner arrived by her side and saved her by holding her up by the mast till he could draw the hull out of the water. The victory gained by the St. Lawrence Model Yacht Club gives them a fifteen-point lead in the series.

A feature of the race was the lively contest of the Marjorie and the Outcast. Both owners had for some time past been declaring their models unbeatable. The Marjorie was the challenger, since the Outcast had proved herself before. The Outcast skipper was confident of victory, and now, since the Marjorie defeated him, he has been hard put to find an explanation for his former confidence.

A race for the M.M.Y.C. "C" Class boats was another number on the program. In this race the Bonavesta, owned and sailed by J. Reader, defeated Mr. Gillette's boat, Irene. Mr. Reader's boat equalled the time record of Fitz's seven and a half minutes set up by the American boat Slipper, which won the Star Cup here last year. This feat, over the same distance as the American record setter sailed, indicates the vast strides taken by the local club over their standard of last season.

GIANTS HAVE BEEN MARCHING BACKWARD FOR LAST TEN DAYS

By Westbrook Pegler, United News Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Strutting along at the head of the procession in the National League so far in front that they were lost to the main body of the parade the New York Giants during the most of this season were like a drum major who has turned a wrong corner and gone his way alone. They were grand in themselves, but so is a solitary drum major. Yet they were not very interesting without a supporting troupe and the public began to evince disinterest in them.

In the last ten days, the Giants have marched backward. The procession has almost caught up and the clientele is now being amused by the comic spectacle of a drum major being booted at every step by the gentleman astern.

NOT INVINCIBLE

There is no doubt that the Giants thought themselves invincible or thereabouts, when they looked back from their position ten full games ahead of the nearest competing team and giggled at the fuss that was going on between the Cubs, Dodgers, Pirates and Reds for the trivial second and third purses. The Giants have been told by their own manager, John McGraw, who knows everything, that they are a very superior ball club. In their training camp at Saratoga last spring they were commanded to conduct themselves as champions, as New York Giants and not as mere ball players, such as, for instance, the Dodgers or the Reds. Why, the Giants lived in marble halls, they were required to change their dress several times a day, like young gentlemen at Newport, and it was the boast of the club that there wasn't a knife-eater on the entire ration list. The Dodgers lived in a loosely conducted place, slightly better than a Bowery lodging house, but a few grades below a well conducted Mills Hotel, and there were no ground rules at the table. The Giants must have regarded the Dodgers with disdain had they seen them going to the Cash-and-Carry cafe in just any old clothes to eke out their ration allowance of $2.50 a day.

MET THE REDS

The Giants met the Reds in Cincinnati Monday in the longest game of the season, losing, 8 to 7 after 17 innings. With that result reckoned in the averages, they were just three games ahead of the Pirates and their assurance of another world series reward was not so sure. It was their fourth defeat since they left here for Pittsburgh last week, and to make matters more gruesome, they had missed a chance to go forward while the Pirates were taking a half-step backward, for the Dodgers beat the Pirates in Pittsburgh 7 to 4. As the Cubs beat the Braves in Chicago 6 to 1, none of the four leading teams—New York, Pittsburgh, Chicago or Brooklyn—changed positions.

New York has unfurled seven bolts of flannel since the war. The Giants won three pennants, the Yanks three and the Dodgers one. These ceremonies and the trophies themselves are not as interesting as they used to be. The Yanks, who have been embattled all season, have drawn more customers in New York than the Giants, who were apparently without serious competition. Not two weeks ago it was noted that the Giants were conducting their ball games before small audiences and the observation was made that one city gets tired of a drum major all by himself.

REASSURED STOCKHOLDERS

It will be very fortunate for the owners of the Giants if they lose this year's pennant. It will be remembered that they claimed to have made little or no profit from the world series of 1923 and 1924. They almost went so far as to say that another world series would be a disaster to them. This having been the case, the stockholders must be reassured by the recent conduct of the ball club.

The Yankees eased their situation considerably by defeating the White Sox in New York, 2 to 0. Joe Bush pitched the shut-out. The Tigers were only 1½ games behind them, but they lost to the Senators in Washington and the Yankees margin therefore is now 2½ games. The Senators are in third place, almost tied with the Tigers. The St. Louis Browns lost to the Red Sox in Boston, 3 to 2, and the Indians swamped the Athletics in Philadelphia, 13 to 3.

J. STRACHAN'S FAMOUS WIRE HAIRED TERRIER "FAIR TEST" DEAD

James F. Strachan has lost one of the best wire-haired fox terriers in the country, country, since his dog "Fair Test" died late last week. "Fair Test" came from England, and has been under Mr. Strachan's care for the past twelve years, winning over a hundred first prize medals and trophies in Canada, in addition to the many triumphs on the other side of the Atlantic. The dog is very well-known locally, having sired some of the best wire-haired stock now in the country. He left a goodly representative of his pedigree in England as well.

SINGLE G., DEFEATED THREE STAR PACERS

NORTH RANDALL, Cleveland, Aug. 19, — Coming back after his winning heat of Saturday, when rain caused a halt to the Grand Circuit card, Single G., W. B. Barfoot's 14-year-old world's champion pacer, showed his superiority by defeating three of the best pacers in training her. Ed. Allen, the Indianapolis reinsman, took Single G. into the lead at the start today, and he was never headed, pacing the first quarter in .29 4-5 seconds, the half in 1.00 2-5, three-quarters in 1.31 4-5 and the mile in 2.01 4-5.

Merriman, Thomas W. Murphy's gelding, tired chasing the old pacer, and was overtaken by Hal Mahone halfway down the home stretch. With Single G. ruled out, Merriman had little trouble taking the consolation mile. Only once has Single G. met defeat on this track in nine years, that was last year, when he was allegedly "doped."

The second division of the 2.15 trot, also unfinished from Saturday, went to Rose D., which won both heats raced today. Saturday's mile went to Zoulou Man, which was never prominent today.

The first division of the 2.15 trot was declared finished, and Hollyrood Frisco, winner of the two heats Saturday, declared the victor.

SPORT CORRESPONDENCE

A TIP TO McGILL C.C.

Sporting Editor, Montreal Daily Star.

Sir,—A scratch cricket match on Campus last night from 6 p.m. till 7:30 p.m. A fair company assembled. The box came round! The cricket fans don't mind supporting cricket. But, McGill C.C., don't overdo it!

AN ADMIRER.

Of course in the gas pains, where you have a pain first in one region, then shooting over into another, and you get the gurgling of the gas, then an injection of a couple of pints of warm soapy water into the rectum will relieve the condition.

However, my only thought just now is that where you have a wait for a physician, and you are just a little afraid that your pain is in appendix region, don't take any medicine whatever, nor food, nor water. If you do, you make things harder for yourself and the physician.

CRAIG CAMPBELL'S SOCCER NEWS AND GOSSIP

LAST EVENING'S SOCCER RESULTS.

(Quebec Cup.)

Can. Vickers, 2; Can. Explosives 0.

(Montreal League.)

Sons of England, 1; R. Highlanders, 1

(Mid-Week League.)

Sun Life, 4; Royal Bank, 1.

Canadian Vickers put an end to all Canadian Explosives' hopes for the Quebec Cup, when last night at Beloeil, they downed C. X. L. by two goals to nil.

It was a hard game, with experience and finish pitted against dash, and dash won. Both Vickers' goals came in the first fifteen minutes of the second half when the home eleven were facing the setting sun and it looked as if Langlands lost Nicholson's shot in the glare of the aforesaid sun. The second one came shortly afterwards from Philips, and try as they could, and they put everything they had into it, Explosives had to bow to Vickers' defence.

The teams were:—

Can. Explosives—Langlands, Wright, O'Brien, Nelson, John Jackson, Sinclair, Scholes, Lone, Renfrew, Albert Jackson and Cree.

Can. Vickers—Murphy, Johnson, Sansom, Galloway, McKean, Greenan, Nicholson, Woods, Philips, Whittaker and Kirkham.

Referee, Bob Walker.

John Jackson won the toss and bet the visitors to face the sun, there being practically no wind. Vickers were the first to press but not for long, then the home side had a go only to be returned. Kirkham forced a corner at the expense of Wright. There was a bit of a scrim in front of Langlands but he connected and booted upfield. Scholes secured and made off, only to run the ball out. A foul throw against Greenan gave C. X. L. a chance which Albert Jackson spoiled by kicking over.

It could be seen at this stage that Explosives had nothing to spare, but they showed a far superior brand of football, as is only to be expected. Langlands' citadel had a close call when Jimmy Wright did not clear as well as he might have done and Kirkham got possession again and the goalie had to save and clear with Woods a top of him. Renfrew did not have a real shot at goal yet and one was blocked, Murphy beating Renny to the ball by inches.

Vickers caused a great flutter in the local supporters' hearts and also in their own when following a foul against Nelson, O'Brien kicked the ball right at Philips when that player was well within the penalty area. Philips blocked and shot, the ball going into the net. Vickers' supporters went wild with joy only to find that the referee had disallowed the goal through no apparent reason, at least to those in the stand. It afterwards transpired that Philips used his hand to stop the ball before he shot, but this did not appease the wrath of some of the crowd.

Half-time came and neither side had scored.

Explosives attacked on the re-start but Johnson and Sansom, ably assisted by Murphy, kept them at bay. Whittaker shot yards too high when in a good position to score. A goal either way at this stage looked like victory and to Nicholson it was left to get that goal. Woods, following another C. X. L. attack got away and going well down slipped the ball out to Nicholson on the wing and he booted it back towards goal. It just curled in under the bar while Langlands did not make the slightest move. If it was tried it was a magnificent goal and anyway one must, as in baseball parlance, credit "Old Man Sol" with an assist.

The Beloeil outfit showed what they could do and with Johnny not in reach, Beloeil tried everything that they knew, and that is a lot but the defence they faced was too good and they got desperate. There were several displays of temper, unnecessary heavy charging and things of that nature. Notably among these was Gordie Sinclair's display of childishness, when with a foul throw given against him, he kicked the ball across the ground. There are several referees in town who would have pointed to the club house but Sinclair was made to get the ball and things quieted down.

Vickers picked up towards the end, but could not produce any more goals and the game ended with them two up.

In view of the prominence of Canadian Explosives, it would seem strange that in the last five games, cup and league, they have not scored a single goal, while Vickers have run in seven against them.

Summed up, the cool methodical display of Explosives' front rank could not penetrate a defence such as was put up last night, and though, taking things all round, Explosives had more of the play. What use when the other side scored two goals? Jimmy Wright did his best but he is no fullback and is apparently too well on in years to learn. As a half, few could touch Jimmy when in his prime, but there are limits to every man's ability.

Vickers, one and all, played a great game, especially Nicholson and Greenan, the cripples, Nicholson putting up a great display on the wing. Philips, while he is young, yet shows the possibilities of improvement, but uses his hands far too much for a forward, not on men but on the ball. Murphy saved his side many a time and on the other team all put up a good game. Jackson in the forward line and his namesake back at centre half, tried desperately for the equalizer. It seemed as though they must score but somehow something always happened at the critical moment and prevented them from drawing level. Sansom kicked out to stop Renfrew, and Sinclair headed just over the bar a little later. The next thing was a break-away by Vickers left. Jimmy Wright misklicked and Philips secured and beat Langlands amid wild enthusiasm—on the part of Vickers.

For the next half hour there was only one team in it and they were two goals down. Renfrew nearly rubbed one off when he hit the upright with a fine header.

Albert Jackson, who was out of the game since the Fort William game, and though he played against Locos Saturday, has not apparently fully recovered.

Albert Jackson, of C. X. L., intends to go home to Bolton. Another fine Beloeil player is Jimmy Jackson, who a few days ago trod on a nail to such ill effect that he will not be able to play for quite a while.

The Sons of England came out of their shell in fine style last night at Alexandra Park, when they ran Royal Highlanders to 1-1 score. This may not seem much at first glance to Sons of England, but it means their first point of the season, after many weary weeks of waiting.

Oswald scored for Sons of England in the first half, and the lead was kept until near the end, when Johnny Peace penalized from a penalty kick. The Sons deserve a lot of credit for making Highlanders go to such a limit, dividing half the spoils.

In a Mid-Week League fixture, Sun Life defeated Royal Bank, 4-1.

The Printers Football Club met last night and decided to "carry on". Another meeting takes place on Thursday, and according to reports it can be said that those members who wish to resign can do so, but it will be not without regrets.

McDougall, of Calvin Verdun United, has been transferred to C. P. R.

C. P. R. play Rosemount this evning in the Players Mutual Benefit Cup, on Rosemount's ground. C. P. R.'s team will be:—Nicol, Barnes, Gedye, McDonald, Tommy Johnson, McCrindle, Langley, McDougall, Angel, McKay and Ford.

The Mid-Week League at last night's meeting challenged a team from the Montreal League.

The Montreal League will hold a very important meeting tomorrow evening, when two protests will be heard. Canadian Explosives, despite the referee's ruling in awarding Canadian National their first goal in the match CXL lost, 2-1, and Royal Highlanders protest the eligibility of Canadian Vickers' goalkeeper, Murphy, claiming that he is a professional, and not reinstated, and at present on the books of Armadale, Scottish Second Division.

Nomads are going into strict training for their home league game against Canadian Explosives next Saturday.

The North Branch Y.M.C.A. Junior soccer team, which was organized this spring and entered in the Junior P.Q.F.A. Soccer League, has shown a marked improvement in their team work during the last four games. The North Branch team having drawn byes for the next two weeks are anxious to arrange practice games with any soccer team wishing to take part in a practice match on Tuesday, Thursday evenings and Saturday afternoons on their field, which is the Outremont Soccer Field on Rockland avenue. Games may be arranged with R. P. Thomas, director, Dept. Physical Education, 5550 Park Ave. Telephone Atlantic 1184 or 2253 or Belair 9406-W.

Grenadier Guards and Carsteel play the return game for the Charity Cup tomorrow evening on the Shamrock grounds. They met two weeks ago at Thornton Park, Carsteel winning by one goal to nil, and Guards feel quite confident that they will overcome this, and take the lead. CANUCKS OUTHIT ACES BUT LOST BY 4-3 SCORE IN TEN INNING CONTEST

After a lengthy ten-inning struggle it befell that Ottawa-Hull took a 4-3 fall out of the proud Canucks at Atwater Park yesterday afternoon, but the hitting went all to the Canuck camp, Hartnett and Minetree combined granting a paltry four bingles, while the local willow wielders touched Kinnere for ten safeties during the afternoon. But the day was lost to the Canucks through the juggling which was in practise around the infield division. This afternoon the Canadiens will have the opportunity to redeem lost prestige when they meet the By-town squad in a game at Atwater Park at 4.30 this afternoon.

Dubuc and his gang made haste to grab an early lead, and succeeded in pulling down two counters in the very first inning. The Farrand faction could not get started against Kinnere, and it was not till the fifth act that the lid came off and they grabbed a run. In the next inning Peeler connected with one of Kinnere's choice offerings and crashed it over the billboards for the four bases, while Frank Delisle galloped home ahead of him for an additional brace of runs which made the locals one up on the visitors. By a heavy effort, Ottawa deadlocked the tally in the ninth, and held the locals to their previous total. In the tenth instalment, the Dubuc swatmen cut loose again and pulled to the front. The Canucks were helpless before the stirling ball the winners exhibited in the final section of the inning, and were forced to accept the small end of the score.

The Canadiens were lamentably lax in their infield section, no less than seven errors being chalked up against them during the game, but Buster Hartnett was excelling himself at his duties on the hill, and if the matter had rested with his twirling, the victory would have dropped to the Canucks. The Canuck infielders couldn't get the ball to go in the right direction when they were making throw-ins, and Hartnett had three bad marks against him as a result of his own juggling in the innings that he pitched before Al Minetree took a hand in the proceedings.

The situation in the enemy camp was directly the reverse. Kinnere was hit all over the park, but the faultless fielding of the visiting baseballers held the Canucks at bay. Kinnere was not doing so bad for a first showing in the league, however, and he fanned seven Canuck batsmen. His head work got him out of a few bad predicaments, and the fielding behind him gave him courage. Last season Kinnere was on the Canadien pitching string in the old Eastern Canada League, but this is his first appearance in these quarters this year. The Ottawa owners have reason to be proud of Oeschler, who is their shortstop artist, for Oeschler has the goods. His throwing arm is working fine, and he has a far-famed ability to hurl the ball just where it will help his teammates most, with an infallibe precision. In addition to his fielding, Oeschler is no babe in arms when it comes to swinging the hickory pole. He counts as one of Ottawa's best bets in the heavy artillery department. Oeschler was playing a good consistant game at second for Ottawa yesterday, and many Canuck runners met disaster trying to make second.

Score by innings:—

	R.	H.	E.
Ottawa-Hull .200 000 001 1—	4	4	0
Canadiens .000 012 000 0—	3	10	1

Epinard Did Fast Work In His Training Stunts

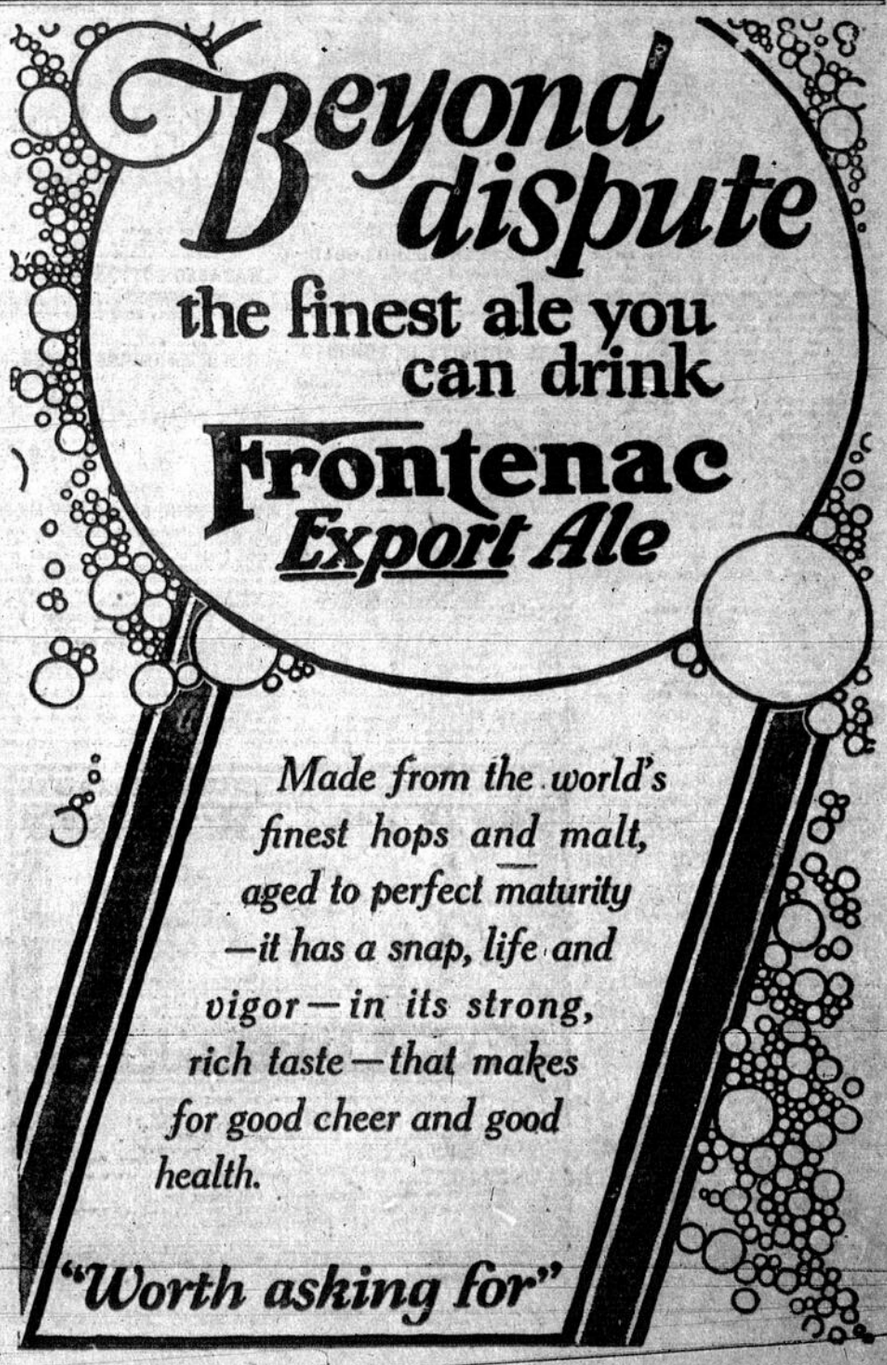
SARATOGA, August 19.—Epinard did not appear on the race track Sunday morning. He was taken over to Hose Haven and from there to the Oklahoma training ground, where he astounded onlookers and clockers.

"He could ily," said Sam Morrell, the colored clocker. "I timed him five-eighths in 25 3-5, 49 2-5 and 103 2-5 pulling up. He did the second quarter in :23 4-5, and seemed to be just breezing. I believe that if allowed to run he could have done five furlongs in that deep sand in a minute. That doesn't seem reasonable but I believe it."

Gene Leigh said: "I took the horse to Horse Haven and galloped him there and then took him over to Oklahoma and worked him. That's the way he was used to exercising in France. He galloped on one track and worked on another.

"He went well within his speed and was being pulled up as he finished. At that I timed him the last half in :51. Apparently he did the first eight in 12 2-5."

The whale is disappearing off the Pacific Coast. The total catch in four months was 317.



NOTES OF THE RUGBY GRIDIRON

Westmount A.A.A. Rugby players will commence organized practice next Saturday, and report at the gridiron on Royal avenue at the week-end. For the past two weeks individual players have been out kicking the ball around and generally loosening up for the workouts, which this season will be under the direction of Coach Doug Kerr, with Howard Hyman handling the junior squad.

TORONTO, Aug. 19.—Parkdale Canoe Club will not enter a team in the Ontario Football Union senior series this fall. The paddlers have thrown in the sponge for 1924 at least, but may be back when another season rolls around. Many good players have been released by the decision to retire, among these being Joe Breen, Hal De Gruchy, Bill Mills, Tommy Barrett, Earl Douglas and others. They will either line up with Argonauts or Beaches, the latter being expected to get into the senior race with former St. Alban's players as a nucleus for a fast team.

TORONTO, Aug. 19. — Argonauts are organizing for the inter-provincial football union race which promises to be one of the most exciting in years. It will be remembered that the Hamilton Tigers won the title last fall, but in doing so they were favored with some particularly lucky breaks in the final game, and these, plus mistakes by the Argos, turned an impending defeat into victory, say the local critics.

But it is the present that the Argos are thinking about. They realize that Tigers will have a far stronger team than they had last year with players like Brian Timmins of Ottawa, Garvey, of Sarnia, Quinn, Walker and Evans, of Queen's, and other men available. Montreal will be stronger than in 1923, but Ottawa will likely be weaker, according to opinion here.

Joe Breen and Earl Douglas, two of the most brilliant backfield men in Canada, will likely be with the Argos. Breen is a sure starter.

Weissmuller Credited With Swimming Record

PARIS, Aug. 19.—Johnny Weissmuller, of Chicago, participating in the international swimming meet at Vienna, did the 100 metres, free style, in 57 8-10 seconds, says a despatch to the sporting paper L'Auto.

The mark given in the above despatch would be a world record. The previous record, also held by Weissmuller, was 58 3-5 seconds, established at Alameda, Calif., in July, 1922.

ATHLETIC THAT BODY OF YOURS

By James W. Barton, M.D.

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act.)

PAIN IN APPENDIX.

You are miles away from home, perhaps on a motor trip, or ten miles from any town.

You get the sudden pain down on the right side of the abdomen, a few inches above, and to the inner side of prominent point of your hip bone.

You know enough about that body of yours to realize that the pain is in the region of the appendix, and that you may be really having an attack of appendicitis.

If the pain is too severe, and you feel too weak to travel, try and get to the nearest house and to bed.

This may mean a tremendous lot in the battle, should you really have appendicitis.

The ordinary gas pain in the stomach is relieved by a little baking soda.

If this pain is in the region of the appendix you might be tempted to use castor oil, or a dose of Epsom salts, calomel, or some other purgative.

I've just one thing to advise, "Don't do it."

Most cases where the appendix has been perforated, give a history of purging by the patient or his folks.

Nothing should be given by the mouth either in the form of food or medicine.

You see if you take anything into the stomach, immediately movement of the whole canal begins, just like the movement of a worm.

If then you set up a simple movement by food or water; or a severe movement by a purgative, you can see the harm that may be done to a tender inflamed appendix.

If you are very thirsty you can rinse out your mouth with water.

Sometimes relief for the symptoms may be obtained by using small injections of warm water into rectum, but they should be only a few ounces at a time. In fact, in severe pain in any definite region of the abdomen it is not wise to take a purgative.

Smelters Local Leader—Other New Highs—Wall Street Disturbed Bear Tactics

LIST BROADENED WITH SMELTERS AND POWERS UP

There was a further expansion of trading on the Montreal Stock Exchange this morning, with the active leaders again very strong and in some cases advancing into new high ground. The character of the trading, aside from increased activity, was very much like that of yesterday, with Smelters by far the most active individual issue and the power group also active and very strong.

Smelters furnished trading in 4,410 shares. After opening at the new high level of 43, it sold up to the new peak price of 44, and closed at 43⅝, for a net gain of 1⅜ points. Montreal Power and Shawinigan were again in good demand. The former sold as high as 174¼ and closed at 174, an advance of ¾ on top of yesterday's 4¼ point rise. Shawinigan again sold at the high of 137¼ and closed unchanged at 137. Quebec Power was strong at the new high of 93¼, up 1¼.

Dominion Glass was a strong spot with an advance of 2¼ points to 112¼, after selling at 113. National Breweries opened fractionally easier at 56½, but again moved up to the former high of 57, unchanged. Alcohol was not prominent but the price held fairly steady at 35⅝, off ⅛. Paper stocks were irregular. Abitibi advanced 1½ points to 63, the highest level in some months. Spanish River was off ¾ at 107¼, and the preferred was off ½ at 115½, after both had opened unchanged.

Features in the balance of the list included Montreal Tramways, up 1 to the new high of 171; Asbestos, off 1 at 31, Bell Telephone, up ½ to the new high of 133½; Brazilian, up ⅛ at 46⅝; Cement, off ½ at 86 and the preferred up ¼ at 103¼; Twin City, off ¾ at 46¾; and Steel of Canada preferred, up 1 at 103. Union Bank sold at the new low of 98½, the first time it dipped below par, and closed at 100, off 2 points.

Total number of listed shares traded in was 10,276, as compared with 7,433 yesterday morning.

RAILWAY FACILITIES FOR RICH MINING AREAS

KIRKLAND LAKE, Aug. 19.— (Star Special.)—Following a visit to this district, George W. Lee, chairman of the T. & N. O. Railway Commission, announced that the construction of the Larder Lake branch of the Nipissing Central Railway would be completed and that the contractors would be off the job by the middle of October.

Announcement was also made that the electric storage battery cars have been promised for delivery October 15, and will be placed in commission at as early a date as possible.

For rapid and economical construction, however, the branch of the T. & N. O. Railway from Cobalt to South Lorrain probably constitutes a record in Northern Ontario. This line was not commenced until June, but will be ready for freight and passenger service by October 15. The construction of this branch of 18 miles will actually occupy not more than four and a half months.

The South Lorrain line will haul out silver ore and concentrates to the value of approximately $250,000 a month, and with prospects of encouraging development which may establish additional mines.

The Larder Lake branch, through Kirkland Lake from Swastika, will carry out $400,000 in gold a month, and with assurance of $500,000 monthly by this time next year. The indications are that this line will carry $1,000,000 in gold per month before the end of two years—not including the big field which unfolds itself in event of continuing the line into the rich gold fields of Rouyn in Quebec.

DAVISON BREAK WAS UNSETTLING IN WALL STREET

NEW YORK, August 19.—(Special to The Star from Our Own Correspondent.)—While the leading industrial stocks held close to the year's highest levels in the forenoon, numerous cross-currents developed in several of the specialty groups of the list, but which did not unsettle the market as a whole. On the whole, the morning's news was favorable. Increasing activity in steel centres was reported and the prospects for an increased demand for silver and copper as a result of the London settlement are bright.

Steel common held close to the year's high of 111, attained yesterday. One reason for the strength of steel common is the ability of the corporation to recover quickly from the recent depression. It is pointed out that operating at 58 per cent of capacity, United States Steel could continue to pay an extra dividend of fifty cents quarterly, providing shipments could be made on the basis of present prices. The general impression is that prices will be advanced in the near future.

The copper company stocks were again among the strongest of the entire list, United States Smelting leading the van this morning with a two-point gain.

On the side of the decline, Davison Chemical was prominent, falling more than seven points on what appeared to be the catching of stop loss orders placed by recent buyers.

In view of the many million-share days on the stock exchange since the market began to advance on May 1, it seems surprising that brokers' call loans now foot up to only $1,350,000,000, an increase of only $50,000,000 from the low level of the year made around May 1. Brokers here, however, point out that with money for from four to six months at 2½ per cent to 3, comparatively little call money is being used, despite the fact that call money rates are down to two per cent on the Stock Exchange floor, and 1½ per cent on the outside market. With this small difference between time and call money, naturally brokers are financing a large part of their business with time money. When the high record of $2,000,000,000 was made for brokers' loans in February of last year, time money was hard to get.

Today's London cables state that financial circles there are looking for the $200,000,000 German loan to be floated in October, and that the interest rate will be 8 per cent and without any international guarantee. Bankers here are expecting our exports of raw materials, especially copper, and cotton, to increase in the very near future as a result of the improved European situation resulting from the Reparations agreement.

Resumption of profit-taking, contrasted with further experiments on the long side, gave the stock market an irregular appearance at the opening, but price changes generally were trivial. Several new high records were established, the list including American International Corporation, Texas Gulf Sulphur, Nash Motors, Goodyear pfd., and Gimbels.

Buying orders converging mainly on industrial specialties were counteracted by active realizing in some of the pivotal issues, including United States Steel, American Can and Baldwin. Opening a point higher, American Can duplicated its previous top price at 131⅝ but later fell back to 130. Gains of 1 to 2 points were scored by American Woollen, Air Reduction, Postum Cereal, Allis-Chalmers, Union Tank Car and an assortment of department store stocks. Davison Chemical dropped 2¾ and Congoleum almost 2 points. Trading was quiet in railroad shares, Union Pacific losing a point.

A seven point break in Davison Chemical, probably resulting from the catching of stop-loss orders caused some unsettlement around the end of the first hour, recessions of a point or so taking place in a number of the steels, equipments, motors and rails. Bullish operations were soon resumed in other quarters with many of the tobaccos, rubbers, merchandising issues, Atlantic Refining and the Pan-Americans showing net gains of 1 to 2½ points before noon. Union Tank Car, which climbed 5¼ points to 125¼, headed a list of more than 20 new 1924 highs, which included New York Central at 110⅝ and United States Smelting at 38. Trading was brisk throughout the morning, sales exceeding 325,000 shares in the first hour. Call money again opened at 2 per cent.

Prices displayed a rallying tendency in many cases in the early afternoon, Steel recovering ⅝ to 110⅛ by 1:30. Features up to that hour included:

C. P. R., 152⅛ to 152; Davison Chem., 53 to 45¾ to 48½ to 47⅛; Allis Chalmers, 60⅛ to 63⅝; Cast Iron Pipe, 101 to 98 to ⅛; Am. WHEAT POOL SALES ESTIMATE

WINNIPEG, August 19.—With a total of 86,000 members in the provincial wheat pools of Western Canada, the Central Selling Agency for the organization expects to handle 100,000,000 bushels of wheat this season, according to a statement made here last night by W. Gourlay, a director for Manitoba.

GERMAN LOAN PLANS

NEW YORK, August 19.—With the successful conclusion of the Inter-Allied conference, bankers began speeding up the machinery for flotation of their share of the $200,000,0000 international loan to Germany upon which operations of the Dawes plan will hinge. Preparations for underwriting this huge financial transaction will be started at once, international bankers indicated, with prospects that ratification of the London protocol by France and Germany will be followed by an early sale of the loan. The offering, however, is not expected before October. The presence of leading United States, bankers in Europe, it was pointed out in Wall street would expedite arrangements for the German financing.

ONTARIO WHEAT YIELD BETTER THAN AVERAGE

TORONTO, Aug. 19. — Considerable hay is still in the fields unharvested owing to the overlapping of the grain harvest and the bad weather experienced since cutting, according to reports made to the Ontario Department of Agriculture by representatives throughout the province. Much of the hay is discolored and will be of poor feeding quality, but the bulk of the hay crop will be well up to the average in every way.

Most of the fall wheat is in the barn, and some has been threshed and sold. A portion of the crop has been threshed from the stock. The general yield is more than an average per acre. Sprouting took place in some fields during the wet weather after cutting, and there are some complaints from buyers and millers of soft grain, but as a rule the sample is of good quality.

Barley has turned out to be a most satisfactory crop, both for grain and straw. A considerable quantity of oats has already been cut, but harvesting will continue for a week or more, as there was a very wide range in the period of sowing. The crop on the whole will be a fair one.

Topics of the Street

The star performer of the local stock market today was once more Consolidated Smelters, and as a result of the buying the price rose two points before midday to 44. This is getting close to the high record of 44¾ for all time created in 1916, a few months after the par value of the shares was changed from $100 to $25 per share. Since then the price has been down to 13½.

Trading opened a point higher than yesterday's close of 42, and after touching 42¾, resumed its onward march to the new high on the present movement. It is evident that the future prospects of the company appeal to influential buyers judging from the manner in which the stock has been taken. It is also said that the floating supply is diminishing for the time being.

The other feature of special interest was the advance of 1½ in Abitibi to 63, marking a new high in this issue for some months past. At the same time Spanish Rivers were slightly easier.

It is learned that a very strong fight is to be put up against the merger; in fact, it is already in progress. The principal Spanish River interests are strongly opposed to the merger on general principles, but particularly to the terms on which it is proposed to carry the deal through.

It was stated in this column a few days ago that the proposals had gone a good deal farther than a good many people imagined. This has been confirmed from an unquestionable source, and it is believed that the buying of Abitibi confirmed this.

However, it is now stated that the deal will not go through if the larger holders of Spanish River can prevent it. It is now pretty generally known in the Street that the outline of the deal involves the formation of a new company with a capitalization of $70,000,000. Of shares in this company Abitibi would get $30,000,000 of this new stock against the present $25,000,000 outstanding, or in the proportion of about 1 1-5 share for each share now outstanding. Spanish would get two shares of new for one of old and the preferred would get 2¼ shares. The bonds would first be retired.

It is claimed that these terms would be unfair to Spanish considering its exceptionally strong financial position and its future prospects. It is believed the opponents of the deal feel that if left to continue on its own footing the Spanish situation will work out more to the advantage of the shareholders than it would under the terms of the merger.

The wood position of Spanish is pointed to as one of the strongest factors in its favor, the company's timber limits having been considerably augmented within the past year through an advantageous agreement with the Ontario Government.

Another point which is urged in opposition of the plan is difficulty which the Canadian markets might experience in handling such a large proposition. The chief difficulty would be in times of money stringency when call loans might not be available in the local market at any price. If assured of plenty of call money it might be different, but the situation in Canada is unlike any other money market with regard to extremes of stringency at times.

Strength in Quebec Power and Shawinigan with further improvement in Montreal Power also featured the day's dealings. Quebec Power went to a new high at 93¼, up over a point and a new high, while Shawinigan was firm at the advance to 137¼. Power rose ¾ to 174.

Confirmation of a new stock issue in Shawinigan came through the calling of a meeting for September 22 at which the shareholders will be asked to increase the authorized capital from $20,000,000 to $25,000,000. Of this it is expected that either $2,500,000 or $3,000,000 will be issued at par which at present prices would make the rights worth about $4 per share.

Another stock which made a new high was Dominion Glass which rose sharply to 113, up 3 points from yesterday.

Ind. Alcohol relaxed its buoyancy and eased back from 35⅝ to ¼, but later strengthened.

LONDON FLOUR PRICES UP

LONDON, August 19. — (Canadian Press Cable.)—The London Flour Millers' Association yesterday advanced the price of standard grade flour to 47 shillings per 280-pound sack, a jump of 1½ shillings. Last week the price of flour was rapidly declining, falling a total of 3 shillings, after having reached the high point of 48s. 6d. at the end of July.

WEEKLY CAR LOADINGS DOWN

Car loadings in Canada for the week ended August 9 aggregated 47,239 cars, a decrease from the previous week of 1,638 cars. Coal loading in the eastern division was heavier by 1,115 cars, but other commodities showed only slight increases or decreases. Miscellaneous freight was less in the eastern division by 1,226 cars; merchandise, by 642 cars; and pulpwood by 410 cars. In the western division grain loading was lighter by 262 cars and other forest products fell off 136 cars. Compared with the corresponding week in 1923 loadings were lighter by 3,252 cars.

BRITISH GROUP TAKES PROPERTY IN ROUYN AREA

VILLEMONTEL, Que., Aug. 19—(Star Special).—After scouting Northern Ontario and North-Western Quebec from end to end, the Victoria Syndicate has undertaken the development of the E. J. Thompson property in Cadillac Township along the easterly continuation of the Rouyn gold belt.

The Victoria Syndicate is the scouting organization in which a fifty-fifty interest is shared by the Mond Nickel interests, together with the central mining group of London and South Africa. These interests rank among the more important in the mining industry of the world. The field staff is headed by Percy Hopkins, formerly geologist for the Ontario Department of Mines. Mr. Hopkins has a staff of nine engineers and geologists engaged in the hunt for new mines.

The property acquired in Cadillac Township lies adjacent to the rich find recently made by the M. J. O'Brien interests of Cobalt. The ground was located by E. J. Thompson, of New Liskeard. The claims lie in the sedimentary area, where porphyry intrustions occur. Considerable gold is in evidence, and a force of men is being sent at once to carry out exploration.

IN THE SILVER AREA.

ELK LAKE, Aug. 19—(Star Special).—Renewed interest is spreading gradually through the Elk Lake district as well as Gowganda. This has been occasioned chiefly by the success being met with in the upper side of the diabase sill in the Miller Lake region in Gowganda. The renewed interest has received added impetus as a consequence of the steady increase in the quotations for commercial bar silver.

It has come to be recognized that the geology of the Miller Lake section is duplicated in a number of localities in the Gowganda and Elk Lake district.

While negotiations have involved various properties in the Elk Lake district the first important deal was actually closed this week, when Clifford Smith and associates took over the Groulx property, situated less than three miles north of the town of Elk Lake. Groulx secured his property some time ago, and has been prospecting quietly. Silver was discovered right at the grass roots. Test pits were put down, and as much as four inches in width in high-grade ore has been placed in sight.

Clifford Smith is identified with the Ankerite property in the Deloro section of the Porcupine district.

The Gowganda field remains the chief centre of interest on account of the outstanding success on the Miller Lake-O'Brien and Castle Trethewey. Silver operators, however, see particularly bright prospects for the Elk Lake section, with probabilities of a number of new enterprises in the immediate future.

SILVER CENTRE, Aug. 19—(Star Special).—Two diamond drills have been placed in operation on the property of the Hector Mines, Ltd., in South Lorrain. The property adjoins the Canadian Lorrain, and is controlled by Richard Cartwright and Alex. McNiven of Buffalo.

Surface showings are highly encouraging. The geological structure is good, and strong veins occur in which Cobalt is present. A very substantial stock offer was made some time ago for the Hector property by the Canadian Lorrain interests.

RICH ORE ON SYLVANITE.

KIRKLAND LAKE, Aug. 19—(Star Special).—In an interview with Albert Wende, general manager of the Wright-Hargreaves and Sylvanite mines it was learned that the underground development program has recently been disclosing rich ore on the Sylvanite.

In the long crosscut north at the 1,000-ft. level, a new vein has been encountered, which appears to hold good promise. About 200 feet remains to go to reach the main objective, namely, the easterly continuation of the rich vein recently opened up at the adjoining Wright-Hargreaves.

Everything is now pointing to the necessity of constructing a mill during the coming year on the Sylvanite.

In the meantime, the Wright-Hargreaves itself is measuring up to the best expectations, and the growth to 450 tons daily this fall offers every likelihood of being only a step forward toward much greater capacity as this goes on.

Progress By Wigwam Silver Reported On

Good progress is reported on the properties of the Wigwam Silver Mines of Gowganda. A letter going forward to the shareholders today states that an independent examination was made recently by Horace Strong of Haileybury. Mr. Strong's report is most favorable and confirms Dr. Hardman's report in every detail. Mr. Strong, who is well known in Canadian mining circles, issued the joint report on Keeley with Dr. McIntosh Bell, which resulted in English capital undertaking the development of Keeley, now to the forefront among Canadian silver producers.

"We have now reached a total length in the tunnel of 420 feet," the report states, "and have a vein in the centre of it which carries silver. From the geological formation as shown on the surface, a further distance of 65 feet should carry us out of the red gabbro into a fine-grained grey diabase, where richer silver values may be expected; this we hope wil be accomplished by September.

"Vein No. 357, now, after careful survey, named No. 350, has been driven on for a distance of 72 feet. Here too we should get much richer values as we near the contact, which apparently is close at hand.

"The Diesel Engine plant, including the air compressor, pumps and electric dynamo, is now operating to our entire satisfaction. The cost of power has been reduced to one-third of the former cost when using steam.

"The mine is working a double shift and the main adit is advancing at the rate of eight feet per day, and the drift on vein No. 350 is being prosecuted at the same time.

"Dr. John E. Hardman returned last week from a thorough inspection of the property and workings, and is well satisfied with the progress being made and the increased economy."

MINING ENGINEER HERE

Sam. I. Silverman, the well known mining engineer, who has done notable exploration work in British Columbia and Alaska, is spending a few days in the city. Mr. Silverman is known to mining men as a prospector of the country now known as the Portland Canal mining district, in which the world famous Premier Mine is now being operated by the Guggenheim interests. Mr. Silverman spent some time on the local Street and brings with him stories of important development that is being carried out on the coast, both in British Columbia and Alaska. It is understood he will remain some time in the East in connection with different properties with which he is identified.

UNFAVORABLE WEATHER DELAYS CROPS IN WEST

WINNIPEG, Aug. 19.—Low temperatures which prevailed throughout Manitoba and northeastern Saskatchewan during the last ten days resulted in slight damage to late crops in the northern parts of both provinces, according to the weekly crop report of the C.P.R. issued yesterday.

Ripening of crops in the northern parts of both provinces has been retarded by unfavorable weather all over the West and cutting will be delayed several days on account of rains, the report states.

The new crop of rye and barley is already being moved, but it is expected that oats and flax will be late.

Rye cutting is reported to be general in Manitoba, and should be completed this week. Barley cutting is also in progress.

Cutting of wheat is expected to be general in ten days.

Warmer weather is also needed in Saskatchewan according to the report although the grain is making good progress in its filling out stage. To date the crops have been free from rust and pests. Rye and barley cutting will be general this week while binders should get into action on the wheat crop during the latter part of the month. There is an improvement in late grains particularly oats.

With favorable weather cutting will become general in Alberta about the end of the month.

Late rains brought about remarkable recovery of crops, in British Columbia divisions, but the yield is not expected to approach the average. Light rains during the past week in the southern parts of the province will be of benefit to late fruits. Dry and warm weather prevails in the Okanagan, but is favorable along the main line.

BROOMHALL'S GRAIN REVIEW

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 19.—Broomhall's International Wheat Review says:

The market for wheat has been fluctuating during the week on the Canadian weather and crop news. It can be said, however, that actual world's prospects are now rather hopeful but they are entirely dependent on Canadian and Argentine weather conditions. In any case importers will require large American supplies of wheat. Corn has ruled firm during the week on Argentine shipments and indications of a very short crop in the United States.

AMERICAN GRAIN VISIBLE

The following table shows the visible supply of grain in the United States for the week ended August 16, with comparisons:

Trading Improved On Local Cattle Markets

There were 127 cattle, 363 lambs, 989 hogs and 190 calves for sale on the two local markets this morning. Trading in cattle improved slightly towards noon yesterday and sellers managed to clean up before the market closed. Prices on steers and heifers held fairly level and the good steers realized from $6.25 to $6.50; medium steers brought from $5.25 to $6.00. There were no top quality steers on sale. Cows were lower. The top price was $4.40 paid for a number of real good trim cows from the northwest, while other good ones sold for $4.00 and even lower. Receipts today were mostly common dairy type bulls and these sold from $2.00 to $2.25.

There was a good demand for the few calves offered. Good veals were quoted from $7.00 to $8.00, but very few were good enough to sell above $6.75. Grassers were mostly $3.50 and up. Fairly well finished lambs of mixed breding sold for $11.50 and poorer lots $10.00 and $10.75.

Hogs heavy enough for the butcher trade were in keen demand and prices strong, but the majority of the hogs were light spring pigs weighing from 100 to 140 pounds and only suitable for feeders. These were not wanted at any price and sellers had a number unsold. Good weight hogs brought from $10.25 to $10.50 with one load weighed off cars at $11.00. The few lights sold realized close to $9.00.

WHEAT POOL FINANCING

CALGARY, August 19.—It is expected that at a meeting of the board of directors of the Canadian Co-operative Wheat Producers, Limited, scheduled to be held in Regina today, the organization of the selling agency for the wheat pools of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba will be completed. It is also expected that financing arrangements will be made for the big pool. Negotiations with banks in the east recently conducted by J. E. Brownlee, Attorney-General of Alberta and legal adviser to the pool, resulted in the practical assurance of credit to the extent of $25,000,000.

CORN DEVELOPED STRENGTH AFTER EARLY REACTION

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—Although the corn market underwent a material setback soon after the opening today, prices quickly developed new strength. Forecasts of rising temperature were largely responsible for the general selling that temporarily carried the market downward. On the other hand, heavy storms in Illinois and Iowa tended to stimulate aggressive fresh buying. Initial quotations, which ranged from ¾ decline to 1¼ advance, with December 1.17¾ to 1.18½, were followed by a general fall of about two cents and then by a rally to above yesterday's finish.

Wheat values showed a downward tendency, indications pointing to unlikelihood of further serious crop damage in Canada. Besides export demand appeared slack. After opening at ⅜ lower to ⅛ advance, September 1.30 to 1.30¼ and December 1.35⅝ to 1.35¾, the wheat market suffered a ecided general drop, but recovered somewhat when corn turned upgrade.

Wet weather gave firmness to oats. Starting at ⅜ off to ½ up, December 57, prices sagged but then scored good gains. Provisions were governed mostly by the actions of corn.

Wheat inspections at Winnipeg this morning totalled 117 cars, of which 44 were graded as No. 1 northern; 21 as No. 2 northern; 31 as No. 3 northern, and 21 cars as lower grades.

Cash spreads at Winnipeg today were: No. 1 northern, 7 over; No. 2 northern, 2 over; No. 3 northern, 2 under.

Out of the ten companies eight have their headquarters in Montreal, the other two having their head offices in Quebec and Sherbrooke respectively. Exports of butter had a value of $157,877 in June,—more than in May or in June, 1923. The value of exports of fresh and preserved milk and cream was $1,038,658 in June,—nearly $150,000 less than last June.

PARIS, Aug. 19. — (Special Star-World Cable, Copyright.)—Camelot du Roi—Royalist and Fascists—tried to demonstrate against Herriot when the French Premier returned from London yesterday afternoon and were chased and knocked about by enthusiastic Republicans who had come to cheer him. It was known to the police that the Camelots du Roi planned to make their first appearance on the streets of Paris in many months, so large numbers of police were stationed before and inside Gare Saint Lazare when Herriot arrived, at 6 o'clock. The Royalists came from the headquarters of the newspaper Francaise which is across the street, but they discreetly mixed with the dense crowd in small groups.

Inside the station, as soon as the train arrived the Royalists began booing and crying "Down with Herriot!" but their cries were drowned by the cheers of thousands.

The engine crew which brought Herriot led the cheering, and when they heard the Royalists' jeers, they led the attack. The Royalists fled, but many of them were caught and forced to cheer for the Republic and Herriot.

While the Herriot enthusiasts outnumbered the Royalists a hundred to one the latter made enough noise with "Down with the London agreement! Down with Herriot!" to thoroughly rouse the Premier's supporters, so Herriot was followed half way across the city by cheering crowds.

Meanwhile the whole neighborhood was filled with groups surrounding the isolated Royalists.

Preparations are being made for the conferences growing out of the London agreement. The first conference will consider how to divide the two and a half billion gold marks annuity Germany is to pay. The United States is expected to present claims at this conference.

The Wadsworth agreement, by which America is to receive $21,000,000 annually for twelve years for occupation costs probably will be ratified by the French Parliament, and the American claims against Germany, which will also about double this sum, are expected to be added to the total which will be included in the new agreement.

The British are known to wish to keep close to the Spa agreement, but the French wish to open the whole question, especially as they wish to introduce the question of the expenses of the military occupation of the Ruhr.

DEBTS CONFERENCE.

The second conference over the inter-Allied debts will include American debts directly. The British are prepared to scale down to what portion of the Allied debt to England is owed by England to America, deducting from that the advantages the British obtained through the Baldwin settlement. The British are owed by the other Allies roughly five billion dollars, but are willing to scale this down to four billion, to give France, Italy and Belgium and the other Allies a chance to profit by the conditions of the Baldwin agreement.

As the British expect to obtain about one and one-half billion in reparations from Germany, they are willing to deduct that likewise, altogether cutting the Allied debt to England in half. It is anticipated that the French will be satisfied with this result.

These questions, perhaps, will have been cleared away before the inter-Allied conference, with America participating, begins in November.

GERMANS FAVORABLE.

BERLIN, August 19.—(Star-World Special Cable, Copyright.)— Chancellor Marx and Foreign Minister Stresemann have returned to Berlin to push the Dawes report into reality. Monday afternoon, President Ebert told them the country approves their action in London. Later a number of party leaders called informally and told the Chancellor they anticipated no difficulty in obtaining the enactment of the three Dawes by the Reichstag.

Today the Premiers of the individual German states are to meet the peace-makers of London. It is expected that Bavaria and Mecklenburg will demand to know why the London Conference failed to establish that Germany did not start the war; but the net result of today's conference will be, if not approval, at least the admission that the Reich is making the best of a bad bargain.

The Economic Council meets Wednesday to O. K. the experts' legislation, and the Reichstag is expected to be summoned shortly afterward. The passage of the Dawes laws promises to be smooth. Although the menace of reactionary opposition has not yet been entirely eliminated, the Moderates are boasting that the Nationalists will not dare face new elections, which will be inevitable if they block the Dawes report.

The withdrawal of the French troops from the smaller villages of the Black Forest is creating a favorable atmosphere for the adoption of the Dawes plan.

WILL WORK ON.

PARIS, Aug. 19. — (Associated Press.) — Premier Herriot told interviewers today that he was resolved to waste no time in going ahead with the task of obtaining the approval of both Houses of the Legislature of the work accomplished in London. He will take no vacation when Parliament finally adjourns and on the contrary, will work perhaps harder than ever while the representatives of the country in the Senate and Chamber are taking their annual vacations in the country.

"The conference is the first act of peace," he said, "there remain others to be accomplished but I sincerely believe they will prove less difficult. I count on the debate before the Chamber to be over by Friday and that before the Senate by Saturday."

The Premier hopes that even the Lausanne Treaty may be taken up and ratified before the decree closing the session of the Legislature is read.

Note Urging Hanging Of Chicago Slayers Attached To Skull

CHICAGO, August 19. — (Associated Press). — Police are seeking the origin of a letter urging the hanging of Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, for the murder of Robert Franks, found last night on the steps of the home of a wealthy neighbor of Loeb, weighted down with a human leg bone, resting between crossed arm bones with a human skull above. The bones were those of a woman, police said and bore small metallic tags, causing the belief that they came from some medical school.

The letter read: "If the court don't hang them, we will," and was signed "K.K.K."

Enraged Hubby Gets Head Shave as Wife Submits to Bobbing

GOOSE CREEK, Texas, Aug. 19.—(United Press.)—Angered because his wife was having her hair bobbed, John Hardnutt took an adjoining chair in the local barber shop and had his head shaved. "We'll keep the short haircuts for the men after all," he remarked grimly while the razor slipped over his head.

McGREGOR GIVEN ANOTHER CHANCE FOR TYRO HONORS

Will Be Allowed to Fire Shot in Place of Sighter

BULL MEANS TIE

Ideal Weather Expected to Bring High Scores Today

CONNAUGHT RANGES, Ottawa, Aug. 19—(Canadian Press).—With eleven bull's-eyes, including his sighting shot, in the first stage of the City of Ottawa trophy competition on the 300 yard range at the D.R.A. meet here this morning, Sgt. G. M. Emslie, Toronto, made a possible of 50, and bids fair to capture the trophy. Two possibles were scored in the first stage of the Walker, two Governor-General's Footguardsmen of Ottawa, Lieut. D. Pittman and C.S.M. F. Goodhouse, each with 35 points.

Despite a light mirage, making shooting on the long ranges difficult, weather this morning was ideal. A light western breeze and a clear sky, greatly offset the mirage difficulty. As a result the scores this morning were high. In the City of Ottawa event, Lieut. A. M. Blackburn, Winnipeg, made 48 points out of a possible 50, and a number of 47 points were turned in.

"A" team of the Governor-General's Footguards are strong contenders for the City of Ottawa trophy, team match, with a total aggregate of 183 out of a possible 200. The scores of the members of this team are: Sgt. A. F. B. Wilson and Pte. W. J. Irvine, both 47; Lieut. H. Bishop, 45; and Sgt. C. H. Tyrers, 44.

CONNAUGHT RIFLE RANGES, SOUTH MARCH, Ont., August 19.—(Star Special.) —The second day's shooting at the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association matches was started in ideal weather. After a cold frosty night, in which the double issue of blankets was much appreciated, the sun came out brightly and there was a barely perceptible light wind, so light as to not affect the riflemen in any way, and scoring promised to be of a high order.

The day's program opened with the first range, 300 yards, of the City of Ottawa match, which, with the first range of the Walker, also 300 yards and extra series, make up the morning shooting.

In the afternoon, the Bankers at 600 yards, completes the event begun yesterday and is followed by the second range of the Walker at 800 yards and the judging distances.

The Tyro Match yesterday shows how a slight change in rules will cause a large amount of trouble. Last year in the competitions, it was optional with a competitor whether he counted his first shot on score or as a sighter. Naturally, if a bull's-eye, it would go on score. This year, the rule is that the sighter must not count on score. This change in rule was the near undoing of Pte. R. McGregor, of the Guards, Ottawa, who counted his sighter on score and made a 34. That was protested. The Match committee promptly upheld the protest and eliminated the score. Friends of McGregor took the case to the Executive and they allowed the score, ordering the marksman to fire one more shot at 500 yards in place of the sighter counted on score. If he makes a bull, he is again a tie for first place.

EIGHT SAILORS ENTER.

Eight sailors from the British Service Squadron have made entries, but have not yet arrived. They are, however, expected tomorrow. The Royal Air Force is represented for the first time, with a four-man team.

The Victoria Rifle Club promise to be as formidable in the Miniature Rifle daily sweeps as they are with the revolver. In the first day's sweep, Capt. A. S. Boa won first place both at the 50 and 100 yards, but in each case divided with two other men at the 100 yards and with 3 others at the longer distance.

Cadet McNab, Arnprior Cadet Corps, was one of those to tie him at the 50 yards range, with a score of 49.

The Barlow match decided yesterday afternoon is a competition open to teams of four officers from any unit, seven shots each at 200 and 500 yards. This year the winner turned up in the G.G.F.G. of Ottawa, with a score of 256, last year the Cup went to the Princess Louise Argyle, and Sutherland Highlanders with 241, the G.G.F.G. being second with 239.

WORSICK WINNER.

In the Tyro Match, the declaration was withheld due to a protest against the score of Pte. R. McGregor, G.G.F.G. The protest was allowed and the score of Pte. McGregor struck out, the winner thus being Sgt. W. Worsick, L. I., who won $27.

The second match to be completed was the MacDougall and in this no less than six protests were entered. The Council, however, after consideration did not entertain any of them, and the results were not changed. The reliable Sgt. J. Freeborn, G. M. turned up as the winner with a score 33 at 200 yards and 35 at 500, his being a better 68 than that of Sgt.-Major R. Kiddie, H.Q.M.D. No. 2, and taking the cup and $20. Captain Austin of Moose Jaw, took third place and Sgt. Fred Morris, 3rd Vic's Montreal was fourth. Sgt. Desmond Burke, G.M., of Ottawa was nineteenth on the list with a score of 65 and won $5.

The Cadet Match was won by Cadet Captain M. Bowes, of the York Rangers, with a score of 68 points as against two scores of 64 that won last year. Cadet Kinchin, 134 C.C. and Q. S. M. Thomas, Hamilton, Cadet Sgt. L. Williams, of Ottawa, was second, Cadet-Lieut. Thomas, Hamilton and Cadet MacNab(Arnprior, followed in order named.

Fully 1,000 attended a very excellent evening of opera at the Connaught Theatre, which had been arranged by Major Wheatley. Ottawa's best amateur talent was on the program, including Harry Underwood, Hal Clark, Jack Soames, Mrs. H. Underwood, Misses Gladys Walsh, Margaret Lynes, and Mrs. Senator J. H. Cloran.

CONTRACT FOR NEW CHATEAU WING LET

LAKE LOUISE, B.C., Aug. 19.—(Star Special.) — No time has been lost in making plans for the reconstruction on a fireproof basis of the wing of the Chateau Lake Louise which was burned down July 3. The contract has just been let to Carter-Halls Aldinger, of Winnipeg, on plans which have been prepared by Barott and Blackader, architects, of Montreal, the contract specifying completion by June 1, 1925, in time for next summer's tourist travel.

The new addition provides for an increase in the number of guest rooms and more spacious public rooms in order to accommodate the ever-increasing tourist traffic to the beautiful resort in the Canadian Pacific Rockies. All this summer the Chateau has been filled to capacity, the debris of the fire having been cleared away within a week, so that scarcely a trace remained.

The building of the addition involves considerable engineering problems, owing to the depth of snow during winter at the altitude of Lake Louise, which is 5670 feet above the sea and 620 feet above the elevation of the Canadian Pacific Railway track.

WAHABIS BATTLE AND MEET DEFEAT

Three Hundred Reported Killed — Many Prisoners Taken

JEDDA, Arabia, Aug. 19.—(Associated Press). — Bitter fighting took place yesterday between the Wahabis and Government forces in trans-Jordania, according to news which reached here today.

The Wahabis attacked and occupied several towns, including Tarash. Then the Government forces, under command of Khalac Eltal and Arif, made a counter attack and drove the invaders out of Tarash. The Government forces, assisted by local tribesmen, killed 300 Wahabis, took many prisoners and captured a number of camels and rifles.

Sporadic fighting between Trans-Jordanian troops and the Wahabis has taken place at various times during the past two years. The territory is governed by Emir Abdullah, second son of King Hussein of the Hedjaz, an elder brother of King Feisal of Mesopotamia. The political status of the country has not yet been finally settled although it falls within the Palestine mandate and there has been discussion of a proposed merger with Palestine.

Poole Staff Correspondent.) — The withdrawal of the prosecution against Campbell, the Communist editor, will be the subject of a demand for a Parliamentary explanation by Liberals and Conservatives who are expected to unite in a demand that the Government explain its action as well for a declaration from Attorney General Hastings as to whether the prosecution was commenced with his approval and if so whether the withdrawal of the case was with his assent and if so why?

HUNDREDS IN PERIL AS BOMBS EXPLODE

Fire Breaks Out On Argentine Ship on High Seas

WORKERS ARRESTED

Attempt Made to Sink Vessel At Buenos Aires

BUENOS AIRES, August 19. — (United Press.) — The lives of more than 300 persons aboard the Argentine-owned steamship Asturiano were imperilled when two bombs exploded aboard the vessel while it was on the high seas, according to reports reaching here.

Fires broke out from two explosions and it took the crew and many passengers more than three hours to extinguish the flames.

The Asturiano is manned by a non-union crew, and there was a sharp conflict with the Maritime Workers' Federation just before the ship sailed from port here Friday. An attempt was made to sink the ship while it was in port. A bomb was discovered aboard at that time, but was taken off before it had exploded.

Authorities here have ordered the arrest of many members of the Maritime Workers' Federation, following the attempted destruction of the vessel.

The Asturiano was bound from Buenos Aires to Puntes Arena. It carried a crew and passenger list totalling 320 persons.

NICKLE REFUSES MATTHEWS BAIL

TORONTO, August 19.—(Star Special.)—Charles A. Matthews, Jr., former Deputy Provincial Treasurer will remain in jail until his next appearance in Police Court at least, bail having been refused by Attorney-General Nickle.

"The Attorney General was very nice in the matter but firmly refused my application for bail. My hands are tied. I cannot do anything until the matter is out of the magistrate's jurisdiction."

SHIPPING NOTES

DAWES' PLAN AND RAIN IN WEST TO HELP LOCAL PORT

Foresee Revival of Harbor Activities Before Season's End

ON MINNEDOSA

Italian Airmen and Scientists Leave Tomorrow For Europe

Despite poor crops on the Western Prairies, general slackening off of trade, and the present scarcity of shipping in Canadian waters, there is still time and opportunity for the Port of Montreal to develop a record shipping figure before the close of the 1924 summer season.

This is the prevalent feeling in shipping circles today, and freight handlers, grain brokers, shipping agents and others all join in an expression of quiet optimism for the local shipping prospects.

The year 1924, it was expected when the St. Lawrence threw off its winter mantel of ice, would rank high among the most profitable periods in the history of the Port of Montreal.

There came a rush of incoming ships. Before the end of May last and for the space of over a week, more that 35 ocean vessels lay at local docks—a hitherto unheard of state of affairs here. Ocean liners loaded their holds with grain and every other kind of cargo, and their cabins with passengers, before they sailed for Europe. Even the westbound passengers and freight traffic exceeded that of other years.

MID-SEASON SLOW

Then a slackness set in. Most of those intending to visit Wembley, and other European attractions of 1924, having already crossed the seas, and the first rush of the opening seas on over, the harbor settled back to its normal round of activity, and some saw in the slackening a forerunner of slow and unprofitable times to come.

On top of this shipping depression came word of a poor grain crop in Western Canada—word widely spread by grain and shipping authorities of midwestern ports below the border line.

Port officials and shipping men believed for a time that their promising season was to turn out unusually poorly.

But during the past few weeks much has happened that has changed the complexion of things, in shipping men's opinions.

The Dawes' plan has become a signed protocol, rain falling throughout the Prairies has brightened up grain prospects, those summering in Europe are preparing to return home and those preparing to flee the Canadian winter are booking for cruises to the South Atlantic and the Mediterranean.

"Europe needs our grain more than ever this year," one local expert declared today. "If our grain crop has been poor this year that of grain growing countries on the continent has been worse. This will liven things up and I believe there will be not only renewed, but record activity all along the line."

POLO TEAM HERE.

A contingent of the British polo team which will compete in the International Cup matches at Meadowbrook next month arrived at New York yesterday on the Atlantic Transport liner Minnewaska. The members of the polo team amongst whom are Major T. O. Kirkwood, Major G. Phipps-Hornby, Major F. B. Hurndall and Luis Lacey were accompanied by a number of prominent people from the British Isles who, being enthusiastic about the game have come to support their team.

In addition to the British polo ponies there were 14 mounts of the American Army which took part in the Olympic games at Paris. On account of the large number of valuable horses on board special arrangements were made on the liner to keep them in trim. For this purpose one of the Liner's hatches was kept free during the voyage so that the ponies could be taken out of their stalls and exercised.

WINTER CRUISES.

Heavy winter travel is predicted by the White-Star-Dominion line on account of the numerous enquiries received at the office of the Company. In addition to the numerous winter cruises to all the important countries in the tropics and the long world cruise by the Red Star Liner, Belgenland, there will be specially conducted parties in both cabin and third class, personally supervised by the company's representatives on each of the Christmas ships from Halifax and Portland.

The first of the series of conducted excursions will leave Montreal on the Doric, Nov. 22. This is being featured as a pre-Christmas sailing, and thereafter departure will be made from Portland and Halifax, the Regina sailing from these two ports December 6, and December 7, followed by the Pittsburg from Halifax, December 11, to Cherbourg Southampton and Hamburg as a last minute sailing for the benefit of those who have a strictly limited period, in which to make the journey.

The Canada will leave Portland December 13, and Halifax December 14, direct to Glasgow and Belfast.

In discussing 1925 winter sailings, officials of the line stated yesterday that regular services will be maintained throughout the cold months between Portland, Halifax, Belfast, Glasgow and Liverpool, by the Regina Doric and Canada. In addition to the White Star-Dominion Line service the Red Star Line, one of the White Star's associated companies, announces that it will maintain regular services during the winter between Antwerp, Southampton, Cherbourg and Halifax, with the Zeeland and Mongolia, while the White Star-American Line joint service, will continue the Hamburg, Cherbourg, Southampton route with the Pittsburg and Canopic.

MINNEDOSA'S LIST.

An extremely variegated list of passengers have reserved accommodation for the sailing of the Canadian Pacific liner SS. Minnedosa, tomorrow morning, at 11 o'clock daylight saving time, to Cherbourg, Southampton and Antwerp.

Among a large number of notables whose activities keep them steadily before the public, perhaps the two Portuguese aviators, Major S. de Beires and Major Brito Pais, will draw the most attention. The latest stunt of this pair, who learned to fly while attached to the Portuguese army, is to travel by air from Lisbon, Portugal, to Macao, China, approximately 11,000 miles, in 118 hours flying time. From Hong Kong they sailed on the SS. Empress of Canada to Vancouver, and travelled across the continent on the trans-Canada to make this sailing for Southampton.

Professor O. D. Skelton, Counsellor to the External Affairs Department of the Dominion Government, will be a Minnedosa passenger. He will meet the Hon. Senator Raoul Dandurand and the Minister of Defence, Hon. E. M. MacDonald, in London, and represent Canada at the League of Nations conference in Geneva next month. H. G. Richardson, Honorary Secretary of the League of Nations for Canada, will accompany Professor Skelton.

Honorable C. Bonel, of Madrid, Spain; F. DeCostal Lobs, F. De Vasconcellos, of Lisbon, Portugal; Prof. F. Zaremba, of Cracow, Poland; Dr. Fueter and Prof. M. Plancherel, of Zurich, Switzerland; Eugene Barre, Gaston Pigeaud, of Paris, France, and Prof. Erik Holmgren, delegates to the convention of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, in Toronto, are returning to Europe on this ship.

Col. George Ham is taking his first trip in many years to the British Isles. He will spend some months in Scotland and England.

"Soldier" Jones, heavyweight champion of the Canadian Army, is returning to England, where he has contracted to fight some of the European "heavies."

Montrealers sailing are: Mrs. Joseph Beatmans, Miss H. E. Carmen, Mrs. M. E. Carmen, Mrs. S. Challey, and the Misses Challey and Master Chadwey, Miss E. Fournier, Rev. S. L. C. Genin, M. Hartman, Mrs. J. W. Molson, Mrs. G. A. Parkes, Rev. Jos. Passus, Pierre Poli, Mrs. A. C. Rivage, C. J. Sembinelli, Rev. Auguste Shilling, Mrs F. Wheelor and Mrs. Charles E. Spragge.

RECEIVES HONOR.

According to official advices received at the headquarters of the Canadian Pacific Railway yesterday, another honor has been bestowed on Commander Robinson, C.B.E., R.D., R.N.R. The new honor for the hero of the Yokohama disaster is the medal of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem, and was officially invested by Sir R. E. Stubbs, K.C.M.G., Governor of Hong Kong, on the last call of the Empress of Canada at that port. The ceremony took place in the lounge of the Empress.

CANADA'S SHARE IN FEEDING BRITAIN IS NOT LARGE ENOUGH

J. E. Dalrymple, C.N.R. Vice-President, After Continental Tour Sees Opportunities Neglected by Canadian Shippers — Big C.G.M.M. Extensions

Extension of Canadian National Railway offices in Europe and opening up of a new office to take care of interests in Bristol Channel ports; and augmenting of services now being rendered by the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, between Canada, Great Britain and the Continent, are some of the plans to enlarge C.N.R. business in Europe and bring in transportation revenue.

The plans have just been brought back by J. E. Dalrymple, vice-president, in charge of traffic on the C. N. R. system, after three months study of transportation and dock facilities in Europe and of the European situation. Mr. Dalrymple arrived in Montreal from Europe yesterday, were among other things he called together the first European staff conference of the railway, which was attended by 35 heads of departments.

Proposed extensions include the enlarging of the Antwerp office to take care of increasing business between the Canadian National lines and Belgium; the opening up of offices in Cardiff to take care of the company's interests in the Bristol Channel ports of Cardiff, Bristol, Swansea and Newport; and the probable taking over of increased accommodation in London before next year. The Scribe Hotel purchased in Paris some time ago will be the continental headquarters of the C.N.R. service. Regarding the "augmenting of services now being rendered by the Canadian Government Merchant Marine between Canada, Great Britain and the Continent," Mr. Dalrymple refused to be more explicit.

He would give no indication as to whether a C.N.R. freight or freight with passenger service was contemplated, saying he could not disclose plans at this stage.

FOR CANADA'S TRADE.

Mr. Dalrymple, who in his trip to Europe, was accompanied by R. B. Teakle, general manager, Canadian Government Merchant Marine, Limited, and D. O. Wood, foreign freight manager C. N. R., stated the object of the trip as follows: "We went to familiarize ourselves with the kind of transport conveniences, arrangements, facilities in respect to the handling of overseas business. We are quite satisfied that the experience gained will be of very great assistance in the development of business between Canada, Great Britain and the Continent."

Mr. Dalrymple has returned to Canada convinced that the Dominion is not getting the share that it might of foreign trade and is not taking full advantage of markets already available. He hopes to put his views before the great manufacturing concerns in Canada in the near future. "I find goods coming into Great Britain, manufactured articles, meats and products of various kinds which the industries of Canada produce," he said, "and the impression left on my mind is that the manufacturers and the industrial magnates of Canada have a good opportunity of improving the volume of their business if they will study the opportunities available for them, not only in Great Britain, but in France, and as far as I have observed in Belgium also. I propose to try to bring the matter before these gentlemen and offer suggestions. They are not taking advantage now of the opportunities to the extent that I think they might.

FOR BRITISH MARKET.

One thing I would suggest and that is, that the foreign commerce going into Great Britain of which there is a tremendous volume is not paying the Canadian National Railway any transportation toll.

"My object is to divert, or encourage the building up of a business in Canada for sale in Great Britain and on the Continent whereby the Canadian National Railway will have a chance to earn transportation revenue. The market is there for Canadian goods and Canada is not taking advantage of the market that exists. I find Australia and other parts of the Empire and countries outside the Empire like Argentina feeding Great Britain and I think that Canada is not doing what it should."

The British Empire Exhibition, will do much to encourage trade relations between Great Britain and the Dominion in the opinion of Mr. Dalrymple. The Canadian exhibit, he said, dominates all as an exhibit of the products of a Dominion. He was somewhat disappointed in the action of the management of the Exhibition in going in for prize fights and other shows which he thinks detract somewhat from the dignity of the Exhibition. He also thought that, with advantage, certain days might be set apart for adults only. "We all want the children to have everything in the world," he said, "but when 8,000 or 10,000 children swarm in at once, it prevents people who wish to study the exhibits seriously from getting anywhere near the various objects. As an example he cited valuable literature in the science sections, some pamphlets of which cost 40 cents a copy to prepare, descended upon by hosts of children and scattered on the ground outside.

ABOUT HOTEL SITES.

To those who launched criticism against the premises chosen in London by the Chief Commissioner of Canada, P. C. Larkin, P. C., Mr. Dalrymple has a spirited reply. "I agree entirely with The Montreal Star in its support of Mr. Larkin in his selection of the proper headquarters for the Dominion of Canada," he said. Situated right on Trafalgar square, near the C. P. R. and C. N. R. offices, it is the best site in London for the purpose of the Dominion of Canada," he said.

Mr. Dalrymple also has an answer to the criticism directed against the purchase of the Scribe Hotel in Paris for the C.N.R. "Under instructions from the management, I looked over the building and found it admirably located and I'm not worrying at all about the future of that proposition. It will be our continental headquarters," he said.

Mr. Dalrymple is hopeful about the European outlook. "While there I met many men fully conversant with the circumstances and there was a general feeling that if the nations could be brought to agree on some basic point, things would go ahead. That point now seems to be the Dawes report. If the nations could adopt the Dawes Report I think there will be more progress made in the next year than there has been for the last five years.

Holiday-makers were sitting on a circular seat round a great elm tree in a recreation ground at King's Mead, Bromley, when a massive branch weighing four ton suddenly broke over their heads and fell. Many were buried under the foliage and rescued by park-rangers and others. The shock caused a woman to lose her speech for some time.

ADMIRAL FIELD TO MAKE SPEECH HERE

British Admiral Accepted Invitation of Canadian Club

Vice-Admiral Sir Frederick L. Field, K.C.B., C.M.G., commanding the special service squadron of the British Navy at present at Quebec, will visit Montreal on Wednesday, August 27, when he will be the guest of a special luncheon of the Canadian Club at the Windsor Hotel.

The invitation to Admiral Field to visit the city was extended by telegram by Brig.-General G. Eric McCuaig, C.M.G., who yesterday afternoon received a telegram accepting the offer.

The Admiral will be the guest of honor at the Canadian Club luncheon and it is expected, will give an address of note.

He will be accompanied by seven of his officers, who are going with him to Ottawa and then to Toronto, where the noted sailor will open the Canadian National Exhibition.

It is not yet certain, according to those in touch with the Special naval squadron, whether the naval commander will come to Montreal on one of the vessels of the North Atlantic squadron or whether he will arrive here by rail.

Plans to have other distinguished speakers at the Canadian Club luncheons in the near future are under way.

RUHR OCCUPATION DRAWS SNOWDEN'S STRONG DISAPPROVAL

Chancellor Declares There is Much in Dawes Plan That Might Be Criticized But the Main Idea is That a New Spirit Has Been Reached

LONDON, August 19 —(Star-World Special Cable, Copyright.) — Philip Snowden, chancellor of the exchequer, in a lengthy and frank interview last night discussed the London agreement, denounced the continued French occupation of the Ruhr and expressed doubts of some of the arrangements made, but paid a tribute to the spirit in which the understanding between the nations was reached.

Asked what his general impression of the agreement was Snowden replied: "The best that can be said about the results of the London conference is that for the first time since the war an agreement has been reached in a new spirit and the problem of reparations placed on a practical and scientific basis. It is the first negotiated agreement. The Germans were invited, not to receive an ultimatum, but to consider with the allied governments the practical details for working out an agreed plan.

"There is in the Dawes scheme much that one might criticize, but it was accepted by both sides as a complete and coherent plan. Its central idea is the restoration of the full economic activity and unity of Germany. Anything which hampers the full liberty of Germans to order and control her economic life is a violation of the fundamental basis of the scheme.

"If Germany be left free to develop her financial and industrial affairs, then, great as is the burden of reparations placed upon her, the task is not one beyond the capacity of a people so resourceful, so industrious and so capable as the Germans."

After a pause, Snowden added significantly:

"The problem perhaps will arise as to whether the allies will not find a greater difficulty in receiving reparations than Germany will experience in providing them. But that difficulty is not likely to arise immediately.

"But has not the Dawes plan been somewhat mangled in the process of reaching an agreement?" he was asked.

SCHEME MATERIALLY ALTERED.

"In one or two respects the Dawes scheme has been materially altered or modified by the conference and I feel grave doubts as to whether these changes may not give rise to difficulties in future. I have expressed disagreement with the decisions of the conference—with two decisions in particular. Under the treaty of Versailles Germany is under obligation to supply the allies until 1930 with certain payments in kind. Beyond that date there is no such obligation. But until the London agreement the compulsory deliveries of specified goods—in particular coal, coke and dyestuffs—is imposed upon Germany after the treaty obligation shall have ceased, subject to certain safeguards.

"On paper these safeguards may appear to protect the domestic requirements of Germany and her economic and social life; but everything depends upon the final word of the arbitration committee.

"In the event of Germany's being unable to secure from its industrialists the deliveries ordered by the arbitral committee, this failure will be regarded as a wilful default on the part of Germany and will expose her to sanctions in the same way as if it were a wilful default. Such a limitation of Germany's commercial freedom was never contemplated under the treaty or under the Dawes scheme after 1930—particularly in regard to coal. This clause may prove disadvantageous to British industry."

"How will the continued occupation of the Ruhr affect the loan?" Snowden was asked.

"The floating of a 40,000,000 pound loan is the pivot on which the Dawes plan must work. Nothing could have given that loan a better chance of success than the announcement of the immediate evacuation of the Ruhr. The London agreement itself, with its elaborate arbitration clauses and its safeguards for the protection of the loan ought, in spite of the regrettable matter of the Ruhr, to ensure the successful floating of the loan, but an immediate evacuation would have had such a strong psychological effect upon world opinion that the success of the loan would have been placed beyond all doubt.

NOT INFLUENCED

"I have seen in the French press many sarcastic and bitter comments about the influence of international finance on the Conference. I have been caricatured as the tool of international financiers. I think it is only fair for me to say that the international financiers have never tried to influence the decisions of the Conference in any political matter, and when their views have been sought they have confined themselves solely to expressing their opinion as to the conditions on which the public could reasonably be expected to subscribe to the loan.

"Neither the bankers nor the investing public could regard the continued military occupation of a borrowing country as an additional security for a loan.

"However, the occupation of the Ruhr, apart from the immediate evacuation of certain points, is to continue for a maximum period of a year. But from the date of the coming into operation of the Dawes plan the occupation will take a new form. There cannot be any interference whatever with the full economic freedom of German industry. The occupation will be invisible.

"And the cost of the occupation will not be an additional burden upon Germany. Beyond the full inclusive payments under the Dawes annuities, the occupation costs will have to be met by France and Belgium. And it may be that long before the end of the 12 months these countries will find the occupation a luxury not worth the cost."

"What can the French themselves hope to get out of the occupation?" Snowdon was asked.

"The French Industrialists, of which Loucher is the guiding and inspiring spirit, have designs upon the economic control of certain great German industries, which they have made no effort to conceal," he said. "There is a very real danger that political means will be used to advance these designs. The proposed commercial agreement between France and Germany is one method by which this project may be advanced.

"I warn British commercial interests, particularly the textile and iron trades, to be alert in this matter. The draft of the agreement, which has been proposed, is a trade menace to Great Britain of a most serious character."

"What bearing has the talk of the Inter-Allied debts upon the Conference?"

"You ask me about the inter-Allied debts. The French repeatedly raised this question informally during the Conference, and I see that Herriot made a statement upon the matter on his return to Paris. I understand it is proposed that a conference upon the subject should be held at an early date. I shall be happy to discuss this matter with the French Finance Minister, and I can agree with Herriot, that it will be discussed from the point of view of equity.

"I cannot be indifferent to the importance of an early settlement of this problem," Snowden concluded with a smile, "in view of the fact that I have to find 30,000,000 pounds yearly to pay the interest on this French debt, in addition to an even larger sum in payment of our debt to America."

"What do you think of the arbitration clauses?" the correspondent asked Snowden.

GREAT GAIN.

"It is undoubtedly a great gain," he replied, "that all differences which may arise on the interpretation of the London agreement and the Dawes plan are to be submitted to arbitration. If it does not make it impossible, at least it will make it extremely difficult for any one nation to take isolated action against Germany on the ground of wilful default.

"France has sternly refused to renounce its claim of independent action in the letter, but the whole spirit of the London agreement is opposed to such a course; and, though I do not know what interpretation the jurists may place upon any clause in the agreement, it does seem to me as a layman that the London agreement in this matter is free from the ambiguity of the clause in the Versailles Treaty under which France justified her claim to occupy the Ruhr.

"Nevertheless, the French remain in the Ruhr, Mr. Snowden."

"I am profoundly dissatisfied with the determination of the French and Belgian Governments to continue the occupation of the Ruhr. This matter was never discussed by the conference. It had been, I understand, agreed that this matter should not be raised officially. Conversations took place between the French and Belgian Ministers and the German Ministers, with the British Prime Minister and the American Ambassador as neutral observers. No British has recognized the right of the French and Belgian armies to be in the Ruhr at all.

"Apart from the folly, futility and harm of this occupation the British Governments have held that it was illegal under the Treaty. The French went into the Ruhr, according to their declaration, to ensure the payment of reparations. All justification for remaining there after the Dawes plan comes into operation disappears.

"But besides being doubly illegal now, is it not contrary to the whole spirit of the Dawes plan and what is the justification?" the correspondent asks.

"I have never heard one reason or argument put forth to explain the continued occupation of the Ruhr for a day after the Dawes plan is put into effect. The only excuse given is that French public opinion would not tolerate an immediate withdrawal. I do not know much about French public opinion, but I have reason to believe that in this matter French public opinion is not the opinion of Poincare and Loucheur.

"The latter came to London to 'stiffen up' Herriot, and he was followed by Poincare's principal private secretary. General Nollet has been insistent on the retention of the Ruhr, not for reparations but as a guarantee of security. That reason will be just as strong twelve months hence as it is today.

"The continued occupation of the Ruhr is wholly inconsistent with the Dawes plan. The French and Belgian governments could have given no more striking and effective evidence of their whole-hearted acceptance of the Dawes plan than by announcing to the world that they would evacuate the Ruhr the day the plan came into operation. The Ruhr is a sign and symbol of the old vicious policy."

C.N.R. HEAD STATES LOSS WILL BE LOWER

WINNIPEG, August 19—(Canadian Press). — "I do not think anyone can say the result will be unsatisfactory, and, despite a loss, there will still probably be a betterment on last year's figures," declared Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, who discussed the financial position of the National system during an interview here last night.

Sir Henry said he regretted to say they would not reach the $30,000,000 net profit mark he had estimated for the year owing to a probable decrease in gross earnings of $13,00,000, but that working costs had been so reduced that the net profits for 1924 would compare favorably with those of 1923.

EDMUNDSTON GREETS QUEBEC TOURISTS

EDMUNDSTON, N.B., August 19. —(Star Special). — Henri Bourassa, Quebec editor, declared today that his presence with the party of 275 residents of the Quebec province, who passed through here in two special trains en route to the festival of L'Assumption Society at Grand Pre, N.S., has no political significance. He so stated during his reply to addresses of welcome which were delivered here by Hon. J. E. Michaud, upon behalf of the province and Madawaska County, and by Max Cormier, Mayor of Edmundston, upon behalf of the town. The speech-making took place in the new school building after the party had spent two hours in touring the town.

Delicious Mayonnaise Without Eggs

THE mayonnaise makes the salad—and Carnation makes the mayonnaise — without eggs — the smoothest, creamiest, most delicious dressing you ever tasted. So easy to make—so economical too. Try it—the recipe is given below. And write for the free Carnation Recipe Book.

Carnation is just pure milk, evaporated to double richness, kept safe by sterilization. It is sold by your grocer in tall (16 oz.) cans and in cases of 48 cans.

NO-EGG CARNATION COOKED SALAD DRESSING:
1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons flour, ¼ teaspoon mustard, 2 tablespoons butter or substitute, 1 tablespoon sugar, ¼ cup water, 3 tablespoons vinegar, ½ cup Carnation Milk. Mix dry ingredients and add to melted butter or substitute. Add milk diluted with water and cook in double boiler until it thickens. Add vinegar slowly, then cool. This recipe makes ¾ cup salad dressing.
