NO NEW LEGISLATION LIKELY TO BE INTRODUCED BEFORE NEW YEAR

Present Indications Are that Quebec House Will Adjourn for Christmas Holidays About December 19—Debate on Speech from Throne Remains to Be Completed Before Legislature Breaks Up—Session Likely to Reconvene on January 7.

QUEBEC, Dec. 6.—Members of the Legislature are beginning to scent the Christmas turkey and thoughts are turning to adjournment for the festive season. The unemployment legislation, immediate cause of the early session having been disposed of, there will be no further parliamentary bills submitted to the House till the New Year.

The debate on the Speech from the Throne remains to be completed before the Legislature breaks up for the holidays, probably on December 19th at the latest. It is doubtful if any speaker could be long-winded enough to prolong the session beyond that date, which allows a clear two weeks for spirited debate on the Government programme. Optimists hope to get started on their Christmas shopping by December 11th.

It is likely that the session will reconvene on January 7. Observers claim that one of the first pieces of legislation will be the adoption of a system of collective insurance, probably closely resembling the Workmen's Compensation Act of Ontario.

The theory is advanced that a possible difference in the mentality of the two provinces may later necessitate modification of the act, but it would seem on the surface that organized labor and its platform champions are to realize a victory. The attitude of the employer class remains to be definitely expressed. Some apparently are pleased, believing that it will mean lower rates. Nevertheless, Quebec is not yet as heavily industrialized as the neighboring province, consequently the lower volume of business will mean slightly higher rates. Champions of the cause declare that the lower wage scale of Quebec should go a long way to equalize that difference. It is improbable that the new act, if it passed the House, will be put into operation before next September, as the machinery for its administration will require long preparation.

BEATTY URGES DOMINION AID FOR FARMERS

Guarantee of Pool Loans by Federal Government Suggested by Railroad Head at Dinner.

LONDON, Ont., Dec. 6.—While opposing any proposals for the fixing of the price of wheat, E. W. Beatty, K.C., president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, speaking at the banquet of the Ontario Commercial Travellers' Association here last night, urged that the Dominion government assist the Prairie Provinces in overcoming the depression following the wheat marketing failure by assuming some of the wheat pool guarantees for the 1929 crop.

Mr. Beatty described present day conditions in western Canada and declared that the farmers were as much in need of assistance as the Eastern manufacturers and the unemployed citizens throughout the Dominion.

EIGHTEEN ARRESTS FOLLOW FLOWAGE LAND ARGUMENTS

Power Company and Land Owners in Bingham Vicinity Unable to Agree on Price for Property.

BINGHAM, Me., Dec. 6.—Eighteen employees of the Central Maine Power Company were arrested by deputy sheriffs today on a charge of trespassing in connection with the alleged cutting of growth on flowage land at Caratunk near here. All were released on bail for appearance at the next term of Superior Court.

The complaints were Alanson E. Hunnewell and the Bingham Land Company. Attorneys for the complainants declared their clients had refused to sell the land in question at a price offered by the power company. They said that following this refusal, power company crews were sent to cut the flowage growth.

CHARGES TAKEN AGAINST FLIER ARE WITHDRAWN

Austrian Authorities Have Decided Not to Press Counterfeiting Charges Against Charles Levine—$10,000 Bail Furnished by Wife, Who Is Suing Him for Divorce.

VIENNA, Dec. 6.—The Austrian authorities today reported that they had decided to drop charges against Charles Levine, United States trans-Atlantic aviator, who was arrested on November 17th after he had arranged to make a flight over the Alps with a small French plane of small denomination.

Charles Levine explained his wish for the machine as motivated by a desire to print his own likeness and that of his wife on the back of medals which otherwise would appear as French coins, taking the product back to the United States for distribution.

Since he was understood here to be wealthy in his own name the charges of intent to counterfeit two franc pieces were generally discounted by everyone except the authorities, who held to the letter of the law.

After a week of imprisonment, he was released on $10,000 bail furnished by his wife who is suing him for divorce.

STOCK BROKERS STILL FACED BY COURT CHARGES

Isaac Solloway and Harvey Mills Will Be Placed on Trial in British Columbia at First Moment They Can Be Brought Together at Vancouver.

VICTORIA, B.C., Dec. 6.—Isaac W. C. Solloway and Harvey Mills, partners in the stock brokerage firm of Solloway, Mills and Company, will be placed on trial in British Columbia at the first moment they can be brought together at Vancouver, it was stated by the Hon. R. H. Pooley, K.C., Attorney-General of the province. Both men will be arraigned on a charge of conspiracy to commit an indictable offense under the Criminal Code, in respect to the British Columbia trading of the firm.

Harvey Mills, who today finishes a one-month term in Leithbridge jail, will be taken immediately into custody by Constable C. LeDoux, of the British Columbia Provincial Police, and brought to Vancouver. He will be arraigned at Vancouver on a British Columbia charge of conspiracy to defraud.

MAN SUICIDES AFTER ATTEMPT TO KILL FRIEND

Police Investigating Mysterious Shooting on Lonely Lachute Farm.

LACHUTE, Que., Dec. 6.—Following what was believed by police as the attempted murder of Ralph Gauley, twenty-two, of Lachute, a man named Patterson, caretaker on a farm here, shot and killed himself last night. Gauley was removed to a Montreal hospital, seriously wounded by a bullet.

The shooting of Gauley occurred in the kitchen of Patterson's house, on the farm of Frank Penfold, of Montreal, where Patterson was employed. Patterson came here a short time ago from Mills Isles with his family and neighbors said Gauley was a frequent visitor to the house. After the first shot, Patterson walked out of the house and killed himself, falling on the highway. An inquest will be held.

DETROIT CLUB OFFERATOR TO FACE MURDER CHARGE

Forty Detectives and Patrolmen Meet Pizzino on Arrival from New York to Face Trial.

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 6.—Ted Pizzino, who formerly operated the Kit Kat Club here, was returned today from New York to face charges of first degree murder in connection with the slaying of Gerald E. "Jerry" Buckley, radio political commentator, who died with eleven bullets in his body last July 23rd.

Police Commissioner Wilcox headed forty detectives and patrolmen to meet Pizzino when a report spread that an attempt would be made to free the prisoner. Pizzino was taken to police headquarters. He maintains he is in New York the night Buckley was killed.

CASES BEFORE SOVIET COURT ARE CONCLUDED

Expected that Sentences Against Eight Soviet Engineers, Charged With Conspiracy to Overthrow Moscow Government, Will Be Rendered Today.

MOSCOW, Dec. 6.—The Soviet court extraordinary, which has been sitting in trial of eight Soviet engineers charged with conspiracy to overthrow the Moscow Government, adjourned at noon today to consider the sentences, which will be returned about 6 p.m. tomorrow, (11 A.M. E.S.T.).

There has been no question of guilt involved in the trial, which has been in progress nearly two weeks, since the eight defendants admitted the conspiracy in all its details. Despite this the government constructed a thorough case against them, broadcasting their guilt to the Russian world by radio and motion picture.

This noon's adjournment was taken after the last two of the defendants, Sergei Kuznetsov and Xenophon Shtin, had made pleas of mercy to the court.

M. Shtin, as he spoke to the court, was greatly affected and his eyes were full of tears. He admitted his guilt but asked that his life be spared. "I have searched throughout this trial," he said, "I have no reason to ask for leniency but I give myself into the hands of the proletarian court. I promise that if my life is spared I shall devote myself to honest work."

M. Kuznetsov was pale and appeared to be ill. He spoke only a few minutes. "My lawyer already has pleaded for me and I have little to say. I fully admit my guilt and I have concealed nothing from the court. I know that the proletarian court has no feelings of vengeance, and therefore I hope that I may be given an opportunity through honest work to wipe the blot from my name."

FOG MAINTAINS GRIP ON RIVER THAMES TRAVEL

Some Liners Managed to Reach Docks Early Today as Fog Lifted for a Few Minutes.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—A barrier of fog which has dammed shipping in the Thames for two days broke long enough this morning to permit some movement of shipping, then rolled down again and tied up river and channel traffic.

Liners from Australia, India and South America, their passengers chafing at the delay, hove to off the estuary but by mid-morning it began to look as though they would be able to dock before the day ended.

The fog extended over most of southern England but it was thinning out to the west.

There was a bedlam of bells and sirens as harbor traffic began to move in Port Gravesend this morning, and there was considerable relief as a rowboat poked out of the mist carrying two boys who had been marooned by the fog and were believed to have been lost. They explained that the skipper of a steamer, picking them out of the fog last night, had taken them aboard.

DEATH-DEALING FOG SWEEPING OVER BELGIUM

Terror Stricken Inhabitants of Meuse Valley Locking Selves Tightly Within Houses as More Than Sixty Persons Die.

BRUSSELS, Dec. 6.—Terror-stricken inhabitants of the Meuse Valley today shut themselves and their livestock tight within their houses, doors and windows closed and cracks chinked up to keep out a milky mysterious death-dealing fog which has covered the district for five days.

Sixty-four deaths were counted in eight villages. In every instance the end was the same, a choking as of asthma or asphyxiation and a sudden succumbing, with death throes much like those of soldiers of the Great War who, unprovided with masks, died in gas attacks. Others, uncounted, were in hospitals seriously ill.

Various theories were advanced to account for the eerie visitation, which it was feared would assume much wider proportions. One of the most striking was that of Professor J. B. S. Haldane, eminent British scientist, who said it was "something like the black death," the mysterious plague which ravaged Western Europe in the fourteenth century, laying low one-third of the population.

Scientists practically abandoned the theory that poison gases, emanating from buried German ammunition dumps, are the cause of the deaths, which were regarded as spread over too wide an area for such to be the case.

The Ministry of Health undertook a searching medical and judicial inquiry into the visitation, and while awaiting its results before making an official statement, announced that the medical experts making preliminary investigations supposed the deaths to be due to the intensely cold, wet fog which has lain over the area since Wednesday.

FARNHAM PLANT NEARS COMPLETION

MONTREAL, Dec. 6.—A two million dollar plant, financed by British capital, for the manufacture of linoleum, is nearing completion at Farnham.

Construction of the building began last spring, and machinery is now being installed. Production is expected to start in about two months.

REDUCTION RUMOR DENIED

QUEBEC, Dec. 6.—A rumor that has been circulating in Montreal to the effect that the Quebec Government was about to reduce the price of automobile license fees was denied by Premier Taschereau, who said: "I do not know just how his rumor could have started, for the provincial Government has no intention of taking any steps in this direction."

LISTLESS MOVEMENTS FEATURED IN CANADIAN MARKETS DURING WEEK

Reactionary Tone in New York Failed to Have Appreciable Effect on Canadian Boards—Moderate Improvement Being Reported from Several Lines of Industry—Dividend Payments Reach New High Records—Steel Ingots and Casting Output Show Increase.

TORONTO, Ont., Dec. 6.—Lack of interest continued to mark trading on Canadian stock markets this week and prices, except in a few individual cases, declined. A reactionary trend in the New York market had its influence in Canada but it was generally apparent that selling quickly dried up when prices turned lower. The general undertone of the Canadian market, however, did not undergo any definite trend.

Sentiment in conservative quarters has not changed and several industries have reported moderate gains. In the newsprint field, sugar refining, the boot and shoe, cotton, silk and wool industries, advances are apparent and while indications of a general trade revival are not yet under way, they are not totally lacking.

Construction contracts during November exceeded those of October by eighteen per cent. Retail trade is now concentrating on the Christmas shopping season and this is tending to keep industrial operations at a low level, and in fact may recede further in the next few weeks. Extra payments in the form of dividends or bonuses by a large number of the leading Canadian corporations indicate that conditions in Canada are not as bad as elsewhere. In fact, the total dividend payments for the present month by Canadian corporations will be in the neighborhood of $50,000,000, and creates a new high record for distribution in any one month of any year.

Business conditions throughout Canada were uneven in October, according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, but the beginning of December finds an improvement in car loadings and while gross receipts

AGREEMENT IN SCOTCH COAL MINE STRIKE

Temporary Truce Reached at Meeting of Miners' Leaders in Glasgow—Work to Be Resumed Monday.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—The 85,000 striking coal miners in Scotland will go back to the pits on Monday, under terms of a temporary truce reached yesterday.

Decision to call off the strike, which has been in effect the past week, was made at a conference of miners' leaders in Glasgow. No settlement, however, has yet been reached between the mine owners and the men, and negotiations will be continued at a joint conference tomorrow. Meanwhile the men will work on an agreement based on the rate of wages prevailing before adoption of the new Mines Act, which became effective last Monday.

Under the new Mines Act a 7½ hour day is specified, but the owners proposed instead a ninety-hour fortnight, consisting of ten eight-hour shifts and two five-hour shifts. This plan was rejected by the Scottish miners, and the owners countered with the declaration that a cut in wages was the only alternative.

Lack of definite settlement between the miners and owners has caused discounting of any excessive optimism. Nevertheless it is felt the mere fact that the Scottish miners have agreed to go back to work will greatly facilitate negotiations with the English and Welsh miners towards some permanent agreement than the day-by-day contracts under which work is now being carried on.

ORDERED TO RETURN TO WORK IMMEDIATELY

GLASGOW, Scotland, Dec. 6.—Striking miners in the Scottish coal fields were ordered back to work immediately today, by a conciliation board of owners and union delegates. The delegates voted yesterday to resume work in the mines on Monday, pending adjustment of a dispute over the "spreadover" working schedule.

Work is to be resumed on the same wage scale which was in effect before the miners struck on December 1st. The agreement stipulates that the collieries shall not be worked in more than eleven five hour shifts in two weeks.

SPECIAL PRAYERS FOR UNEMPLOYMENT

DAYTIME TURNED INTO NIGHT

GERMAN FASCISTS PREVENT SHOWING OF FAMOUS FILM

White Mice, Stench Bombs and Catcalls Used When American Version of "All Quiet on the Western Front" Was Presented.

BERLIN, Dec. 6.—White mice, stench bombs, catcalls and shouts of denunciation were used by German Fascists to provide a tumultuous reception for the United States-made movie of Erich Maria Remarque's novel, "All Quiet on the Western Front."

So successful was the reception that the theatre lights last night were turned off, while police emptied the house and later performances were suspended. The show was resumed today only under heavy police protection.

BROOKLYN WAS VISITED BY A STRANGE BEING

A Steer Reduced to Beefsteak Is Something New Yorkers Understand, But What a 1,200 Pound Steer Makes His Appearance It Is Another Matter.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—New York is a city of culture and refinement, unvarying in the ways of such creatures as steers. It is not surprising, therefore, that when a 1,200 pound steer went on a rampage in Brooklyn yesterday, the population was greatly concerned.

A steer, reduced to beef steak, is something New Yorkers understand, but steers on the hoof, steers that snort and plunge and bellow—they are something else again. So the steer kept rampaging, the borough peasants ran forth, waving their arms and exclaiming "Whoa!" which apparently was not the right word. Bold gendarmes flourished their clubs and struck terroristic postures, none of which impressed the steer.

The animal made a dive for George Paszkowski, knocked him down, and then galloped to the top of an eight-foot pile of scrap iron where he stood snorting defiance.

Finally there appeared on the scene a native New Yorker—who most likely was born in Wyoming. He suggested that three or four docile cows be turned into the scrap iron yard.

It was done. The steer, observing how well behaved were the cows, quieted right down.

That portion of Brooklyn which had been running a temperature during the excitement, immediately returned to normal.

BIG DECREASE IN CANADIAN EMIGRATION

Number of Canadians Entering United States Cut by Seventy-Four Per Cent. During October.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Immigration to the United States from Canada was cut seventy-four per cent during October, Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson announced yesterday. This curtailment was made by application of the clause of the Immigration Act which prevents a consul from giving a visa to anyone likely to become a public charge.

The figures for October immigration from Canada are 1,622 as compared with 6,127 during the same month, 1929. The 1930 figures include unmarried children, wives and husbands of United States citizens as well as professors, ministers, students and previous lawful residents of the United States.

Commenting on the cut in general immigration figures for October which amounted to seventy-four to eighty-seven per cent, a press release from the Department of State said: "The consuls of the United States in the enforcement of existing provisions of law, in the light of present economic conditions, have brought about the above results without arbitrary rejection of applicants."

The statement announced that immigration from quota countries during October was 1,668 as compared with a normal immigration of 14,846.

LOUIS BARTHOLOMEW TODAY ACCEPTED INVITATION TO FORM A MINISTRY

New French Cabinet Will Succeed Defeated Government of Andre Tardieu—Raymond Poincare Declined to Accept Invitation When Extended to Him by President Doumergue—Acceptance by M. Barthou Was Thought Likely.

PARIS, Dec. 6.—Louis Barthou today accepted an invitation from President Doumergue to form a ministry in succession to the defeated Government of Andre Tardieu.

Raymond Poincare, who has saved France in many another political crisis, today declined to step into the breach opened by the resignation of the Tardieu Government, and President Doumergue cast about for another man willing to assume the difficult task of forming a new Cabinet.

The war-time president pleaded ill health, but in the chamber lobbies the gossips were saying that if Doumergue should fail to find his man Poincare might be willing to reconsider, might be prevailed upon to accept the post of Premier next week and reorganize the Government.

"I told the President," said Poincare this morning, "that I do not yet feel strong enough to assume such a heavy task and that I feared I could not fulfil my duty as I would wish."

This was an allusion to an operation which the former Premier underwent some months ago. In some quarters Barthou, himself a former Premier and author of the military service bill prior to 1914, which gave France trained reserves in the Great War, was regarded as the President's most likely choice for Premier should Poincare persist in his refusal. It was taken for granted that Barthou would accept the charge once it were offered.

HIGHER PRICES OF PETROLEUM OUTPUT URGED

Royal Dutch Officials Point to Need of Better Profits if Smaller Producers Are to Keep Curtailment Agreements.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Further curtailment of crude oil production, and maintenance of prices adequate to permit the smaller producers to live from a small output, were urged as vital to the petroleum industry today by officials of the Royal Dutch Shell group, the world's largest producers.

The stand taken by Royal Dutch, which has vastly expanded its influence in the domestic retail markets and intensified competition during the past two years, has been viewed as significant in Wall Street. Furthermore, this organization has been the keenest competitor of United States companies in the foreign markets, which have been recently unsettled by the withdrawal of the price schedule of the Export Petroleum Association.

Although it had been reported from London that Royal Dutch has been suggesting a joint price rise by all companies, Richard Airey, leading Royal Dutch official in the United States, in a statement to the Associated Press, denied such a move, explaining that the organization has merely made known its opinion that present low prices are bringing the smaller producer to the edge of ruin and endangering the whole curtailment programme.

THE WEATHER

CLOUDY AND MILD

Pressure continues high in the Maritime Provinces and over the Western States, but low in North-western Canada, with a shallow trough extending southward from Lake Superior to the Florida peninsula. A disturbance of increasing intensity is centred near Bermuda. With the exception of rain in Southwestern Ontario, the weather has been fair throughout the Dominion and mild from Ontario west.

Forecast: Easterly winds; cloudy and mild tonight and Sunday; some local falls of snow or rain.

Northern New England: Cloudy, followed by rain late tonight or Sunday; not quite so cold tonight in New Hampshire and Southern Vermont. Fresh northeast and east winds.

Temperature yesterday: Maximum 33, minimum 13.

Same day last year: Maximum 24, minimum 7 below.

ICE BLOCKADE UNLIKELY
SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Dec. 6.—Milder weather today stemmed the increase in the thickness of ice below the Soo, and with prospect of navigation closing in a few days, it appears unlikely last trippers will face an ice blockade. There are only half a dozen boats in the upper lakes to pass the Soo down-bound this year.

Uncertainty of Copper Outlook and Large Expansion Plans Cause Action to Conserve Cash.

MONTREAL, Que., Dec. 6.—At a meeting of the board of directors of Noranda Mines, Ltd., held here yesterday, it was decided to pass the dividend, which would ordinarily have been paid on January 2 next, according to a statement made by James Y. Murdoch, president of the company. Such action was taken, according to Mr. Murdoch, because of the uncertainty as to the price of copper in the near future and also because the company was committed to heavy expenditures during the next few months in connection with the purchase of considerable interest in a large Canadian copper fabricator, and also the completion of the refinery being constructed by the company's subsidiary in Montreal East.

After stating that the directors had decided to pass the dividend, Mr. Murdoch's statement follows: "The amount paid to shareholders this year totals $5,399,430 of which $1,679,829 was from 1929 earnings and $3,919,601 from 1930 earnings. While it was estimated that the earnings for the last quarter of the current year would considerably more than make up the amount paid out of this year's earnings, it was apparent it would be necessary to draw on surplus account to pay any reasonable dividend."

"In view of the uncertainty as to the price of copper in the near future, and considering the fact that the company was committed to heavy expenditures during the next few months in connection with its recent purchase of a substantial interest in a large Canadian copper fabricator and the completion of the refinery being constructed in the Town of Montreal East by its subsidiary, Canadian Copper Refiners, Limited, and in connection with the bringing into production early in 1931 of such refinery, the board considered it to be in the interests of the shareholders to preserve the present strong liquid position of the company, which is considered ample to protect the shareholders' interests. It is the policy of the board to resume dividends as soon as it feels conditions justify such a course."

At the Sunday morning service, the pastor spoke of the prevailing tendency of pessimism, the habit of many to dampen the ardor of those who, on the road to progress, would adopt new measures to success. NO MORE WORRY ABOUT WEATHER CHANGES

With the change of weather to rain, sleet, or high winds, a great many people in this northern climate suffer from stiff and aching muscles and joints, which is a form of rheumatism. Other causes are sprains, over-exercise, and after various strenuous sports.

Immediate relief can be obtained by rubbing in a few drops of Absorbine, Jr., to the parts affected. And in most cases a few treatments will drive away the pain.

Absorbine, Jr., safeguards you against infection because it is both a highly efficient antiseptic and a germicide. It is greaseless and stainless and quite harmless. Buy a bottle at your druggist's—$1.25—and prove its great value by actual experience.

PURSE OF GOLD IS PRESENTED AT DANVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Norris Perkins Celebrated Their Golden Wedding Anniversary—Friends Gave Them a Surprise Party.

DANVILLE, Que., Dec. 6.—Many friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norris Perkins to celebrate their golden wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Perkins were completely taken by surprise as they had not even remembered their anniversary until arrival of the friends. Rev. W. Merton Snow, pastor of the Adventist Christian Church, composed a few lines suitable for the occasion which he read and every one enjoyed the wedding cake decorated with white and gold frosting, with "Best Wishes" in gold letters, made by Mrs. D. M. Marston.

A purse of gold was presented to the bride and groom of fifty years. An address by Dr. Adams and friendly wishes from all brought to a close a very happy evening. Mr. and Mrs. Perkins resided in Asbestos until a few years ago, when they came to live in Danville. They have two sons and two daughters, and in all their fifty years of married life they never had a break in the family. All wish them both many more years of happy wedded life.

The music was by Rev. Snow, entitled "Golden Wedding Mates" (by A. Longfellow), is as follows:

The speeches have been made, dear friends, and we have listened in And wondered how it came to pass That Norris Jane could win?

So tongue-tied is this friend of ours How could he find the speech When talking on the girl of his The things of love to teach?

And then we've questioned 'mong ourselves How could this dame, demure, The silence of this quiet man Across the years endure?

But be this all as it may be, Our questioning aside, We're here to greet this smiling groom And hail this happy bride.

Full fifty years of living, friends, This pair have journeyed through, And Norris loves his Norris still, And Jane her Jane, too.

This is God's plan that side by side The twain should live as one, Though few of us their record reach Before our race is run.

Of joy and grief these fifty years Mayhap they've had their share 'Mid toil with child, and toil with man And heavy loads of care.

Trusting them not in things they've done, Nor yet in mortal clay, They live by faith in God, dear Son And wait His glory day.

God bless them now, God bless them then, God bless them, kith and kin, God heal their hurts, extend their days, And help them life to win.

Such is our prayer together here For Golden-Wedding mated pair, Such be our prayer together then Before the Golden Gates.

HOLD SPOTLIGHT IN RUSSIA'S QUEER TRIAL

While foreign observers strive to separate truth from falsehood in the amazing story of a great European conspiracy to make war on Soviet Russia, brought out at the trial in Moscow of eight leaders of the Russian "Industrial Party," citizens of Russia held great parades and demanded their execution. This layout shows the "confessions" of some of the accused men as leaders in the "plot" against Russia. No. 1 is the public prosecutor, Nikola Krilenko, who is demanding the death penalty for the Russian prisoners. The others are: No. 2, Colonel T. E. BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 6.—The submarine has spelled the doom of naval conquests in the future, Rear-Admiral William S. Sims, retired, told an audience last night.

CHOOSE GIFTS FOR COMFORT CONVENIENCE, COZY WARMTH, OR LOUNGING LUXURY SHOULD BE CONSIDERED FOR CHRISTMAS PRESENTS THAT WILL BRING PEACE TO THE FAMILY

Comfort gifts that bring peace to the family might include: (1) a modernistic clock for Father, or an electric one; (2) plenty of matches for the young man of the family, colorful ones riding along in a holder with an old print for decoration; (3) a new warm gold-yellow woolen jacket with white maribou trim, for the young woman addicted to reading in bed; (4) colorful printed sheets and pillow cases to delight Mother; (5) new lounging pajamas for a man, of beige and wine striped flannel, with wine-colored satin trim, including belt; (6) a "truth" mirror, excellent for him-who-shaves or her-who-makes-up; (7) modernistic end table, in gorgeous color, with black smoking outfit atop it, for the collegiate.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The very first Christmas gifts—those that the Wise Men brought—were peace gifts.

This Christmas it might be a good idea for you to give comfort gifts that mean peace. Peace to those that get them because they make them cozy; peace to the family because each member is happy.

There are innumerable comfort gifts for the young woman of today. If she is inclined to like breakfast in bed, there is all of the paraphernalia such as breakfast tray, with individual set of gray china, single vase flower, amusing books and individual electric cooking equipment. If she reads in bed there are new, warm, woolen crocheted and knitted bed jackets this year, with furry trim.

Many kinds of extra bits of lovely lingerie come in this group, also a chaise longue, a bedside lamp, boudoir pillows, a basket, weave boulen throw or Afghan, rainy day apparel such as a new colorful raincoat, with cape collar, and umbrella to match; toe rubbers in a case to carry in a purse, sports outfits, extra warm gloves for sports; a new supply of handkerchiefs, stockings, and a pair of the new angora breeches to wear under her frocks on cold days.

Mother, aunt or "the wife" may welcome some of the new colored sheets and pillow cases that now come in figured designs, in sets. The quaint "hug-me-tight" is in style again, as are warm bedroom slippers.

Then there are glazed kid house slippers; sets of new suspenders and garters to match; sets of shoe trees, coat and trouser hangers and laundry bags to fit his closet. There is a new shaving mirror that has an electric light in it for perfect illumination.

A modernistic clock or one of the new and reliable electric clocks would be welcomed, as would a steamer rug; new luggage, especially a fine Gladstone, a piece men always like; a good reading lamp; an easy chair; subscriptions to his favorite magazines; beautifully monogrammed handkerchiefs; a new pair of fur-lined gloves for driving; a warm scarf and mittens for skating; and an electric stove for those days when the wintry winds can't be beaten by the furnace.

For the young man

The young man about town, in college or just out of it and newly married, likes comfort gifts too. There are many modernistic end tables; easy chairs; cassocks; smoking outfits such as nests of ash trays, boxes of colored matches; cartons of cigarettes, or a new pipe and tobacco pouch.

Electric orange squeezers and cocktail shakers are on the market and so are small electric stoves for party suppers in a man's room. He might like a modernistic couch cover, with pillows to match; a leather toilet case with brushes, shaving equipment and creams; matching handkerchief and neckties for gala occasions; books; book ends; an ornamental reading lamp; a modern desk and chair; a colored portable typewriter; a radio; or an automobile cigarette lighter or other automobile equipment, including robe and cushion.

If a child really lacks comforts, it is fitting to give him things to wear. But, after all, children should have these things by right of living. Reserve for them the pretties, the amusing games, the joy of Christmas. If other members of the family are comfortable and at peace, surely the children should be made happy.

and careful and suspicious. Never again will he be caught in a trap, nor is he likely to be caught by any of our enemies. He may be crippled so far as that leg is concerned, but there is nothing crippled about his wits.

It was so. In time that crippled young Muskrat proved to be the smartest of all the young Muskrats and was quite capable of taking care of himself. But he had paid a dreadful price, didn't you think so? (Copyright, 1930, T. W. Burgess)

SHERBROOKE PURE MILK COMPANY LOWER PRICES

On account of the present depression in values and of the unemployment stress, the Sherbrooke Pure Milk Company have decided to reduce the price of their milk by one cent a quart, bringing their prices back to the former summer rate.

The Sherbrooke Pure Milk Company claims to supply practically seventy-five per cent of the city's population. This reduction will mean that Sherbrooke will be furnished pure milk on as cheap a scale as prevails in any city of its size in the Dominion.

ADDITIONAL SEIZURES MADE

Working under the personal supervision of division chief Savard, of Montreal, Customs Preventative officers have been unusually active during the past few weeks with success. Concentrating their investigations around Arthabaska, Officers Roland Verdon, of Sherbrooke, and Albert Bergeron, of Arthabaska, have made large seizures at Ste. Julie station, involving considerable contraband stock. After discovering a secret cache in the store operated by Emile Cote, the officers culminated a two-year search by finding a secret compartment under the floor of a pantry belonging to Gabriel Barber, a hotel keeper at Ste. Julie Station. Forty gallons of illicit spirits were seized in the trap.

Proceeding to Victrolaville, the officers visited the home of Pierre Longval where, hidden on shelves under a wood stove, they found three additional gallons of liquor.

The results of these raids and the success with which the efforts of the officers have achieved will, no doubt, prove an effective check to this illegal trade.

HIS MAJESTY'S THEATRE OPENS DOORS TONIGHT

Extensive Repairs and Alterations to Building Undergone During Past Six Weeks—Opening Under New Management of Vallee and Lagueux.

His Majesty's Theatre will open its doors once more to the people of Sherbrooke this evening, after having been closed for many months. Extensive repairs and alterations have been made to the building during the past six weeks, until it is now in splendid condition. Architects and builders, together with inspectors and electricians, went over the building, tracing its weak points and attending to their repair and the result has been fresh artistic decoration, a renovation of the entire building and a thorough investigation and repair of the whole structure. Alterations and repairs to the extent of some $8,000 have been undertaken and now the popular amusement house is ready to serve the public.

Opening under the new management of Messrs. Vallee and Lagueux His Majesty's has adopted a policy which the management will meet with the approval of the public generally. In order to accommodate the French-speaking portion, an entirely French programme will be presented the first part of the week, while the latter part of the week will be given over to an English performance. Equipped with the Northern Electric system His Majesty's will be running talking pictures every day of the week, together with a silent drama. The music for this will be furnished by an orchestra comprising fourteen pieces. Experts express the opinion that the construction of the theatre, built especially for the presentation of opera and stage performances, will give to the synchronized films a rich and pleasing tone.

FREE BREEDING SERVICE OF FAMOUS PERCHERON

Perhaps the handsomest horse in the world is the shining black Percheron. The jet black horse, with his coat all combed, brushed and polished is a study in life. I do not know whether or not my friend Kenneth Dawes, of Montreal, who makes the famous Black Horse brew, wishes to replace forbidden signboards with live signs frisking in the fields along the highways, but his recent purchase at the Royal Winter Fair of "Nelson," the reserve grand champion, would indicate some good purpose.

In addition Mr. Dawes is securing from France four other famous Percheron sires, and for 1931 he will offer free breeding service with the five registered Percherons to any farmer in Quebec. This service will no doubt tend to improve the strain of utility farm horses throughout the province. "Nelson" comes direct from the famous sire "Lord Nelson IV" with the prize-winning "Diamond" as dam, and he has been a prize-winner year after year at the Horse shows of Canada.

Most of the horses used on the Quebec farms come originally from the Percheron strain, and it may be because of their great qualities that the Eastern farmers have been slow to adopt the tractor.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

6TH TROOP HOLD OUTDOOR NIGHT

The meeting of the 6th Troop last evening was in charge of A. S. M. Wilson, T. L. Lethbrun and Instructor L. Hayes, and took the form of an outdoor programme. After the usual opening, an inter-patrol one mile Scouts pace race was held, resulting in very close results between the different patrols. A horse and rider relay, covering nearly a half mile, proved very popular and was run off twice. Another dash-race running game entailing considerable ability in disguise and staking also took a prominent place in the programme. Near the close of the evening, S. M. Murray started his series of talks on signalling and succeeded in getting a number started on this important phase of competitive tests. The meeting closed with flag lowering and the night yell. A short Court of Honor meeting was held afterwards for the purpose of drawing up a programme for next week's meeting.

2ND SHERBROOKE TROOP HELD MEETING

The regular meeting of the 2nd Troop was held on Friday evening. The meeting was opened with a flag break and Scout silence. The patrols were then dispersed to their corners for roll call, dues, etc. Inspection was then held. Following the inspection a blow-ball game was played, in which the Eagles were the winners. The instruction period under the patrol leaders followed. A very interesting and instructive game was played. One part of the game dealt with the signal lights at the corner of King and Wellington streets. Every Scout should know the signals, which were explained to them. The meeting closed with flag lowering and the Lord's Prayer.

URGES ALL TO BE KIND TO ANIMALS

A school-boy in Valcourt, Que., wrote the following article on "Kindness to Animals." The composition was sent in by his teacher, Mrs. Vernon G. Booth, and contains a real message for all children and adults who come in contact with animals. The composition reads:

It is not through cruelty, but through thoughtlessness and carelessness that animals are treated so roughly. If people would only think twice before they do anything, as well as before they speak, it would be better for them, and the animals too.

When animals are young, that is the time to train them. They are just like children. If they are well brought up they will be well behaved and a great help to the owner. Dogs that run away from home have reasons for doing so. They have perhaps been abused or had no training at all.

An animal has feelings just as a person has. You should never load a horse too heavily. If the horse shirks one must not whip it, because it will not do any good. It will only make a very bad horse, and an animal bears pain silently. If an animal is well treated it will help you in time of danger.

Cattle should not be crowded in trains. If people are crowded they are glad to get out. It is the same with cattle. Just think of the cattle in a train where they cannot move, or even breathe fresh air. It is also a loss to the farmer.

Once a man was going on a long journey and he left his horse to graze while he walked on to a wayside. His horse was kind and knowing, and he had done this often. When he had gone about a mile the man sat down to rest, and he sat on some quicksand. He cried for help. There were some people in a boat nearby, but they did not hear him. As he was sinking down his horse came up at full speed, turned around and his master caught its tail and the horse pulled him out. Now if this man had been cruel or docked the horse's tail he would have been killed, for the horse would not have come to his master if it had been ill-treated, for it would have been afraid of him.

Trapping and hunting often prove cruel sport. It is not really cruel sport, but nowadays people do not think. Some people shoot at a deer whether they are sure of getting it or not. I do not see how men can bear to shoot these harmless animals.

How would you like an animal if it could come and shoot you in the hip when you were not doing anything wrong? It is the same with animals. Some people use traps with springs and catch animals by the feet. I am sure you would not like to get your fingers or feet caught in a trap and starve to death. I wish everyone would use something that would not cause the animals any suffering.

Neglected stables are bad things for the health of animals. A stable should be well lighted and well ventilated. Cattle have to stand in stables all winter, so they should be made very comfortable. I wish some one would see to it that cattle are well fed and well sheltered through the cold winter months. The cows should have a cool place to go into when it is hot and when the flies are bad. Cows do not like to be bothered by flies any more than we do. Each cow should have its own water bowl and feed box. Their beds should be kept clean and dry. Do not over-crowd them either.

Whenever you see an animal being abused, go and stop it and teach the abuser a good lesson in "Kindness to Animals."

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

The many friends of Mrs. R. J. Kennett, of Montreal, who was taken seriously ill in Sherbrooke, will be pleased to hear that her condition is much improved.

The treasurer of the Red Cross Society acknowledges with thanks the donation of $100 from Miss Mildred Ewing in memory of her father, the late Mr. R. A. Ewing, of Sherbrooke.

The Canadian Girls in Training of Plymouth United Church met last evening in the church hall. There was a good attendance and after holding group meetings, the members practiced for their Christmas entertainment.

The Worthy Matron Mrs. Beck, of Montreal, came out to Sherbrooke to attend the bridge party and food sale held yesterday afternoon in the Masonic Temple, under the auspices of the Sherbrooke Chapter No. 22, Order of the Eastern Star. The affair was a decided success, both socially and financially, the members of the Chapter appreciated the honor of having the Worthy Matron with them, and are also indebted to her for the donation of prizes for each table. The conveners for the bridge were Mrs. A. Morrison and Mrs. N. Hunting, and many tables were required to place the large number of players. A table of home cooked food, over which Mrs. E. Becker and Mrs. G. Bambridge presided, was laden with tempting wares and realized a substantial sum towards the proceeds of the afternoon. At the tea hour, Mrs. E. Messenger and Mrs. S. LeHury were in charge, assisted by members of the Order.

Y.W.C.A. NOTES

FENCING CLASSES POPULAR
A fencing class has been started at the Y. W. C. A., MacKinnon Memorial, and the girls are finding it most interesting.

The number of those attending the "Children's Hour" on Saturday afternoon are increasing. The interest has been keen in the plaster work, which gives a great scope for the development of the art of coloring.

Many of the junior members have asked for a weekly showing of motion pictures but the lack of a lantern is a handicap. This has been somewhat mitigated through the courtesy and co-operation of the Y.M.C.A., who will not only loan their lantern but operate it as well. Mr. G. D. MacKinnon has offered to give the girls a treat on Tuesday after school with his lantern and reels.

Count this paragraph. It contains fifteen words that cost 30 cents in Record Want ads.

Good with Everything!

Whether it is bacon, cold meat, fish, cheese, or tomatoes, a little H.P. makes them still more delicious.

It's the flavor that counts—that unique H.P. flavor which results from the perfect blending of oriental fruits and spices with pure malted malt vinegar.

Make it a meal-time rule always to have H.P. handy.

FINISH WASHING... sooner

No need to blue and re-wring the clothes when you use MACK'S NO-RUB LAUNDRY FLAKES—make clothes white as snow and save two out of six washing operations. The 10c package does for 3 washings and saves its cost in soap—saves rubbing too, try it—its worth while.

• AT DEALERS •

WIRELESS LINK BETWEEN CHINA AND AMERICA

New Trans-Pacific Radio Station Opened at Shanghai This Morning by Government Officials.

SHANGHAI, Dec. 6.—Direct commercial wireless service between China and the United States was inaugurated here today with an exchange of congratulatory messages between President Chiang Kai-Shek and President Hoover.

Opening of the Nationalist Government's new radio station here to commercial business provided the necessary link in the Orient. The new station brings China into direct communication with other stations throughout the Orient as well as with the western hemisphere.

The Shanghai station will work with other Oriental links and with radio plants in Paris and Berlin to communicate with areas west of here.

A large number of Nationalist Government officials participated in the opening ceremonies. All asserted the inauguration of the service marked the beginning of a new era in China's relationship with western nations.

AUXILIARY AT FOSTER HELD BUSY SESSION

Regular Meeting Held at Home of Mrs. W. A. Dixon—Foster General Notes and Personals.

FOSTER, Que., Dec. 6.—The regular meeting of the Women's Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. W. A. Dixon on Tuesday afternoon, November 25th. In the absence of Rev. A. Radmore, the meeting was formally opened by the president, with Scripture reading and the Lord's Prayer, followed by the Members' Prayer in unison. The minutes of the October meeting were read and accepted. The roll showed an attendance of twelve members and four visitors present.

The monthly notes were read by Mrs. J. N. Code. The most important business of the afternoon was packing the annual bales for the Indian girl, Ruby Lu Force. During the packing, the Dorcas secretary, Mrs. A. B. Young, in a few well chosen words, tendered her sincere thanks to all the members for the kind co-operation which they had so freely given her at all times during the year, and a vote of thanks was also extended to different members for gifts of various kinds which they had so generously donated. The president, Mrs. C. P. Hunter, spoke of three dollars that had been received from Mrs. Mary Blake which was a loan given for the organization of the Junior W. A. earlier in the season. After some discussion it was moved by Mrs. G. H. Durrell and seconded by Mrs. Gibbs that this amount be increased to $3.65 and designated to the extra cent a fund that had been previously spoken of. Members were requested to keep in memory the date of St. Andrew's Day and their prayers were asked for the extension of the white settlers' work.

At the completion of the business session, lunch was served by the hostess assisted by her niece, Miss Renahan, of Beebe.

Mrs. C. P. Hunter, on behalf of the members and herself, expressed a hearty vote of thanks for the hospitality which had been extended. Mrs. Radmore very kindly offered her home for the next meeting of December 30th.

EXPLOSION AT GRANBY CAUSED HEAVY DAMAGE

Blast in Central Garage Wrought Huge Hole in Wall of Building and Shattered Glass in Surrounding Streets—Damage Estimated at $5,000.

GRANBY, Dec. 6.—An explosion, which might have resulted in fatal consequences, occurred here yesterday afternoon, shortly before three o'clock, when a tank of compressed air exploded in the Central Garage on Dufferin street. The blast, which took place in the upper story of the establishment where there were stored some twenty automobiles, shattered windows in surrounding buildings and damaged several cars considerably.

People in the vicinity of the scene of the accident thought that the blast emanated from the construction work being done at the Roman Catholic Church, but investigation showed the spot where the explosion had been so terrific that a large hole, big enough to drive an automobile through, had been wrought in one of the walls. Several men were working on the stored vehicles at the time of the explosion, but fortunately none of them were injured.

The cause of the blast was not yet determined. The loss is estimated in the vicinity of five thousand dollars.

The First Year is the Hardest! That's When Parents Must Strive Most to Mold Character of a Child Says Noted Woman Psychologist; Neglect May Slow Development

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Whoever said that we never too old to learn appears to have made a mistake.

Sometimes, after the age of six months, the time limit is passed. Mary may already have become a wall-flower and Johnny may never learn not to be afraid to fight the boys in the alley after school.

And it won't be Johnny and Mary's fault. The blame is on the shoulders of their parents who neglected their social life when they were six and seven and eight months old.

Dr. Charlotte Buhler, professor of child psychology at the University of Vienna, has been studying all the stages of infancy for years and years. Hundreds of infants and older children are brought to her laboratory every year.

And now she has prepared a guiding set of rules for parents, which tell how you may decide if your child is normal, and also how you may keep him that way.

Mrs. Pearl Greenberg, a student of Dr. Buhler's who assisted in the translation of her recent book, "The First Year of Life," is familiar with the noted psychologist's views.

"A child must have relations with others, although he is only a few years old," Mrs. Greenberg says. "If he doesn't, he will develop shyly. He is going to be comfortable with other children, he has to play with them from the very beginning."

Social Graces Learned!
When Mary and Johnny have their first birthday parties they are not supposed to hide behind the door. Social contact will be an old story by then.

Don't leave your few months old child lying in his crib and breathe a sigh of relief because he requires so little attention. You'll be sorry if you do, perhaps, when you try to teach him the meaning of the family language.

"If a child isn't talked to, he does not get the proper vowel sounds. It will be more difficult for him to learn to speak than it would have been if he had received conversational attention," Mrs. Greenberg explained.

Also, watch the toys you give your child.

"First toys should be simple," the child psychologist has learned. "They must be the type that can be handled easily. They should be bright and attractive in color. A variety should be used, however, an infant should not be over-stimulated by being given too many toys at one time."

For here again, Mary and Johnny will pay the price in the future when they begin to want entirely too many beads and bracelets and roadsters.

Needs Normal Background
"The child is a product of his environment and heredity," Mrs. Greenberg believes, as does Dr. Buhler. The first year he must live in is the first year he must live in. If he is neglected during the first twelve-month period his development may be retarded."

However, you can make a child nervous, far more nervous than he makes you, if you don't show some sense about your relation with him. Be calm, be considerate, be interested.

For there's wisdom in the mind of a two and three and four months old youngster, even if he doesn't know it.

As the hundreds and thousands of Dr. Charlotte Buhler, left, head of the Department of Child Psychology at the University of Vienna, believes that a child's life is affected to a great extent by influences it encounters before the age of one year. The picture at the right shows an assistant examining a baby to see if it has the consciousness of its legs and arms which denotes that it is physically normal.

on his stomach. Stretch his legs, arms, fingers and tongue. Move in one direction and back again.

Handle static objects. Then, too, don't be contented if the child is quiet. You'll know he is normal if he makes a noise. Habitual crying, sounds of astonishment, repetition of his own original code of sounds, sighing, groaning and enjoyment during movement, all point in the right direction.

All Actions Have Meaning
Notice, too, if your ten months old child rubs his eyes, opens his eyes widely when crying, becomes ill-humored when a person, once seen, goes away, is comforted by caresses, and supports his body on his hands when lying on his stomach, as he grows stronger.

None of these, or dozens of other actions, are aimless. They are all part of infant development. It's a wise parent who knows the future of his own child. And a little observation will help him wonderfully in his basis.

"We believe that we can see whether a child is normal mentally," Mrs. Greenberg said. "The whole child is becoming child conscious. We do not say that a child is not normal if he does, or does not, do this, but our observations have taught us that if a child responds in the manner which we have described, he is normal."

So don't wait until Mary and Johnny count their ages by years. Get busy while they still deal with months, if you want to train them in the way they should go!

Don't worry if they cry too loud. It proves their lungs are strong!

Hold his head up when lying

Graves.

Mrs. and Mrs. Alan Dickenson, of Cowansville, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Willington.

Mr. Thomas Murray, an employee of the Bell Telephone Company, was injured when a motor van containing several workmen coming into this city from Waterloo, hit the eleven o'clock train. Mr. Murray, who jumped when he saw the danger of a collision, had his foot injured, and was taken to Dr. Russell's Hospital for treatment.

Miss Elizabeth Nunns, of Montreal, spent last week-end with Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Fuller. On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Fuller, Miss Nunns and the Misses Alice and Mary Fuller motored to Cowansville, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Nunns.

Mr. Herbert McCurdy and daughter, Betty, of Montreal, spent the week-end with Dr. and Mrs. McCurdy.

Rev. Father Harold Monty, Parish Priest of La Conception, Que., and Rev. Father Maurice Monty, Parish Priest of Val David, were visiting at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adelaide Monty, Rexton Pond, for a few days. They also called on their uncle, Mr. E. Bourbeau, and Mrs. Bourbeau, and other relatives in this city.

Mrs. W. W. D. Brack has returned home from the Royal Victoria Hospital, where she was a patient for a couple of weeks.

Much sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hayes in the loss of their little son, Russell, at the age of two years, who passed away on Saturday, November 22nd, after a month's illness following an attack of pneumonia. The funeral was held at the home on St. Charles street annex, on Monday, Mr. W. H. Walo taking charge. The bearers were Donald Heelie, Lawrence Roe, Robert Gray and Percy Adams, Rev. Thomas Scott officiated, and the interment was in Pinewood Cemetery.

Twenty-four members of the United Church choir were most hospitably entertained at the home of the organist of the church, Miss Romana Cotton, Tuesday evening, December 2nd. After an hour spent in practicing Christmas music and other selections which will be used at a musical evening which they will present at Stanbridge shortly, a Chinese spelling bee was conducted by Col. Ralph Stockwell. Messrs. Harry Parker and Clifford Johnston were chosen captains. The test was to spell the words backwards which proved no easy task but was the source of much amusement. Mrs. W. C. Craigie was the winner in the contest. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

The Friendly of Trinity Church held their annual sale of food and fancy work in the church hall on Wednesday afternoon, December 3rd. The hall looked very attractive and the beautiful work as well as the delicious food found ready sale. Afternoon tea was served.

Mr. J. G. Barrette had the misfortune to lose a horse which dropped dead on the street early Tuesday evening.

I know it ain't so classical as these big dailies are That tells about the world courts and latest movie star; But just for my enjoyment there's nothin' I have found Like the little newsy paper from the Old Home Town.

EXAGGERATED TAXES ARE AGGRAVATING.

That note of optimism and good cheer which can be reflected by a Government or corporation which has just found a splendid surplus at the end of the year is evidenced in the Government address at the opening of the Legislature: "One must not exaggerate the economic situation, for confidence in ourselves and in our marvellous resources is certainly one of the principal factors in the re-establishment of social equilibrium."

This is quite alright, and is an expression to be highly commended. But reassurance would come more quickly to the taxpayers and to the investors if constructive measures were thought of and applied the moment it is found that they are needed. Procrastination is a weakness. One Government fell by the wayside because they delayed too long, and their proposals were looked upon as a deathbed repentance in the face of extremity.

We should have interim reassurance from time to time, such as a promise to the breeders of beef cattle that they would not lose their all if they permitted an inspection which is for the good of the whole. That is only one thought.

The farmers are offered a measure of relief in the payment of taxes and of interest on loans. But that does not help the thrifty farmer who can and does meet his obligations without a murmur. The addition to the Cabinet of another portfolio is both an expense and an error of judgment. There is no call for class legislation in this province. And the resultant reaction is always to the detriment of the man who conceives it and looks for gratitude.

Taxes should be reduced, and particularly such of the irritating taxes which have to be met each day. There are in existence ancient and out-worn bureaus which could and should be abolished.

The people would like to know just how many officials there are in the province, their duties and emoluments, and what they do for their salaries.

The budget should be more carefully adjusted so that the Government will not each year take from the patient taxpayers several million dollars more than are required to conduct the affairs of the province. A surplus is not so much to cheer about when it is reduced to excess taxation over requirements.

In other words our taxes are exaggerated and aggravating when the time calls for trenchant economy in unproductive expenditures.

PRODDING THE WHITECHAPEL GOVERNMENT.

The London Herald, organ of the Labour party in England, and the only newspaper in the metropolis which has the temerity to excuse the deplorable language of the Hon. Mr. Thomas, tries to rebuke the Canadian Premier for his stinging retort to the Whitechapel attack upon the proposals from the Imperial Conference.

"Mr. Bennett has no call to be angry with Mr. Thomas" is the plaintive reply of the dumb-founded editor, who says that the British Minister's language was strong, but his judgment was right.

And the Herald further says, "Many of Mr. Bennett's own countrymen have endorsed" this judgment in equally or more vigorous tones. They must have said it in their sleep or in secret session. But this is a deliberate untruth from an unprincipled pen.

The Herald editor further wants to know what Mr. Bennett's blunt statement may mean, when he speaks of seeking other alliances for reciprocal trade with Canada, after the contemptuous rejection of his proposals by the Labour Government.

"That sounds like a threat," and "if it is a threat let it be a plain one, and do not let us have Mr. Bennett stalking around, darkly muttering vague hints that unless we do what he tells us, he will do something or other that Britain will not like."

To interpret what may appear to be a cloudy phrase to the obtuse editor we can promise that Canadians to a man consider that their First Citizen has been insulted by a riff-raff Government which does not represent Britain or mirror British feeling. It is a ragtag collection of irreconcilables kept in power by the downy opportunist, Lloyd George, who has thoroughly discredited the old Liberal party and reduced its members to a lot of mannequins.

There are other countries which would buy every bushel of Canada's surplus wheat did they get the volume of trade and the preferentials which we have given to Britain for over twenty years purely out of loyalty, and with unreckoned generosity.

We have given Britain a chance to more than double her trade with Canada. Should the Labour Government ever be returned to power to further do ruin to England, it will be the last chance that Canada offers the Mother Country in trade and commerce.

Placed on a tariff parity with other countries, Britain can get mighty little trade from Canada. For before the British preferential she had already lost most of it to the United States.

With neither imagination nor vision the little Englishers in the Canadian Government can continue their seances with the Hindoo potentates, and save the cotton mills their trade in turbans.

The Labourites may prefer the black men of India, but "gentlemen prefer blonds."

EDITOR'S NOTE BOOK.

This journal very clearly prophesied several months ago that the statesmen at the Imperial Conference would not make much progress whilst the impossible Labour administration was in power at Downing street. And yet the Hon. Richard Bennett, with careful diagnose and clear vision, lost no time in presenting to the Conservative party a policy of Empire Unity which will find favour in England and will result in the speedy ousting of the fancy and freak minority government which has done so much in a few short years to injure British prestige at home and abroad.

The Hon. Howard Ferguson, who went to England with the Imperial Conference, grabbed off the Canadian High Commissionership in London. With a Labour administration which descends to the language of Billingsgate, the Hon. Howard may be a better representative than we had thought, for he can represent the Dominions on the hustings when they are attacked in any man's language. He enjoys a platform scrap. Though his position may prescribe him taking part in a British election, there are other and devious ways. To Mr. Ferguson the 600 odd seats in the British House of Commons are like so many townships in Ontario. Anyhow, he is a real country village Canadian with a metropolitan mixture.

Letters To The Editor

FROM A WESTERN FARMER To the Editor,

Sir:—I have just been reading your editorial entitled, "No Man or Country Can Control Food Prices," and I have come to the conclusion that there are a few things about the situation that you do not understand. A few years ago a terrible accident happened in Halifax, N.S. On this occasion the people of western Canada did not begin to knock the people of Halifax and say that it served them right. On the contrary large sums of money were raised in every western city for their relief. The local of the farmers organization that I belong to sent quite a substantial sum. Now the provinces of Western Canada are facing a disaster today that in some ways is as great as what happened at Halifax. Since no one has lost their eyesight, but some are losing their lives and others their health and what is worse a great many young people are losing their chance for an education. Now I, as an individual do not consider I have very much to complain of. I had an average crop and very good weather to harvest it and I am no harder up now than I have often been before. I expect likely will be again some time.

I had 1,000 bushels of wheat to dispose of which I delivered to the Pool and received an initial payment of $454 for it. If I had sold outright on the open market I would have got about $550 for it. I also had two hundred bushels of oats and barley and about twenty loads of sheaves and twenty loads of hay to use for feed. My threshing bill was $145; hired man for a month $50; twine $62; hall insurance $86; repairs $51, which leaves a balance of $15. To pay a tax bill of $135 and buy some coal for the winter. I have a neighbor who has a large family who owns 950 acres of land who has 15,000 bushels of barley that if sold in town now would bring five cents a bushel. Another neighbor has a carload of wheat in Fort William for six cents. Another neighbor has about 16,000 bushels of rye that if sold now would bring about fifteen cents a bushel and the seed for this farm cost about $1,000.

Now up in the north they had a very good crop. This is the district where in a recent editorial you call the people plain shiftless, they have had three falls of snow since cutting, one a very heavy fall, but fortunately at present they are saving a good portion of their crop, but the expense is heavy. One man up near Pleny shipped 1,100 bushels of rye that graded four on account of having some wheat mixed with it and he received $97 for his 1,100 bushels and his threshing bill was $99.

You blame the Pool for holding over wheat, but as an actual fact the line companies have over much more wheat than the Pool did and some of them are in a much worse condition. Now as to the mismanagement of the Pool I would ask you who Mr. Bennett took along when he went to England to try to better the wheat market. He took Mr. McPhail, the head of the Wheat Pool with him, not a line company man.

Mr. Bennett must have some confidence in the head of the Wheat Pool. Now I attended a farmers' meeting Tuesday night, when one of the speakers, who is a very prominent farmer in this district, and who told me today that he did not have enough money to buy a new pair of overalls, made the statement that he himself and some others present had helped to put Mr. Bennett in England and that Mr. Bennett had protected a good many other lines of business and he considered it was not asking anything out of the way to ask for some protection for the western farmers, who a great many of them have been dried out for two, three and four years are facing the loss of their homes.

Your statement that the western farmers who were represented by the premiers of three provinces came to ask for help while Mr. Bennett was away is just plain simple, as anyone would know that no story whatever in the matter would be taken without the knowledge of Mr. Bennett.

Now I have seen your statement a good many times that you are a friend of the farmers. This would be a good time to show this fact by not knocking a farmer company at every opportunity as Canadian farmers should be in sympathy with one another, wherever they live. In your answer to my letter last summer you refer to Dr. Angus MacKay as the late Mr. MacKay. You will no doubt be pleased to hear that Dr. MacKay is not the "late" Dr. MacKay, for that distinguished gentleman is living in comparatively good health in Indian Head at the age of ninety-one years and was able quite recently to lay the corner stone of a new church.

Yours truly,

ARTHUR S. BURRILL, Indian Head, Sask.

ARMISTICE DAY IN INVERNESS To the Editor,

Sir:—In every city, town and village of any importance, great stress is made either by the mayor or the people themselves in the commemorating of the eleventh day of November as one day above all others, since it brings vividly to our memory the signing of a peace treaty which ultimately brought one of the most horrid wars the world has ever known to a finish. It was most disappointing and nonetheless discouraging to witness how Armistice Day was observed by the people of that seemingly important village, Inverness, which boasts of its four churches and a High School.

Many of the Protestant residents of Inverness are bubbling with enthusiasm and zeal to commemorate such times as when King William

DECLINE SEEN IN WHOLESALE PRICE INDEX

Forty-seven Quotations Showed Increase During November, While 123 Declined and 332 Remained Unchanged.

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 6.—The Dominion Bureau of Statistics index number of wholesale prices fell from 84.4 in October to 79.8 in November. Forty-seven quotations were higher, 123 were lower, while 332 remained unchanged. The 1926 price is taken as 100 in making the comparison.

Vegetable products declined from 67.4 to 63.0, due to reduced quotations for barley, corn, flax, oats, peas, rye, wheat, flour, bran, shorts and bread, which influenced the index more than gains by rubber, granulated sugar, coffee and hay. Animals and their products fell from 101.5 to 97.5, on account of price reductions for canned salmon, hides, leather and hogs.

Wood, wood products and paper rose from 85.6 to 85.8, chiefly because of higher prices for ground-wood pulp. Iron and its products declined from 80.0 to 79.0, owing principally to reduced quotations for steel bars, black steel sheets, scrap steel and car axles. Non-ferrous metals and their products moved up from 70.5 to 73.5, better prices obtaining for copper, copper sheets, copper wire, brass, copper pipe, brass sheets, lead, silver, tin and zinc.

PRESS COMMENT

TRUTH IN THE PAPERS.

Mr. Louis Wiley, business manager of the New York Times, has been speaking to the Inland Press Association in Chicago. He told his audience that never had there been a time when a newspaper had a more interesting world to cover, and there has never been a time when the newspaper man was making a greater effort to give the public complete, accurate and nonpartisan news. It is true that some readers when they are told facts they do not like to hear, think that the newspaper man is exaggerating or misreading; the proof of the pudding is in the eating. Experienced newspaper men who are free to find and tell the truth rarely mislead their readers.—Hamilton Herald.

MAKE THE BEST OF THINGS.

We are too new a country to be put down and out because there is lack of work for the time being, and the customary rate of wages. We should be new enough and adventurous enough to take what comes, and, if it is for the moment impossible to get work for high wages, we should be satisfied to work for our board. After all, when all the lives of all the people in all the world are at stake, the majority of them will be found to have been doing just that for the most of their lives.

But Canada is a land of endless opportunities. The fact that a man has to work today for nothing more than the food that is needed to keep him alive does not mean that Canada holds no better future for him. Every man in Canada is one of nine million people who have a heritage that should make ninety million prosperous.—Fort William Times-Journal.

crossed the Boyne, in Ireland. Whether the weather is inclement or not a goodly number will array themselves in various colors and designs of sashes, try to walk straight and put their chests out and feel that they are above all loyal sons of the British Empire.

But when the time comes round each year to show a little respect, reverence and loyalty to those gallant and splendid men and women who gave their lives, their all for their God, King and country, very few at least, in Inverness village, hardly think of it. I understand that not one of the business places observed the two minutes silence as a token of respect for our glorious dead heroes and heroines, though I am glad to be able to say that at the High School such was not the case. But even at this latter institution a better spirit of loyalty might have been shown.

Quite recently the High School here was provided with a good flag pole and a fair sized Union Jack, but those in authority did not think it worth their while to see to it that on Armistice Day above all days it was flying bravely and cheerfully in the glorious breeze and sunshine symbolizing victory over one of the most cruel and devastating wars that the world has ever known. Unless part of the curriculum of a school is that of inculcating the spirit of loyalty to one's country and its heroes and heroines the prescribed course is surely lacking very much indeed. If one looked at the bare flagpole immediately in front of the High School one could only murmur to oneself of how ungrateful or else of how ignorant are some of the people in Inverness.

At a special service at the Anglican Church of the Ascension, the only service which was conducted out of four different denominations in Inverness, only one of two of the loyal sons of William could be seen.

I'm afraid that if good King "Billy" could rise from his grave and find out how far some of his noble sons' loyalty stretched, probably he would go back to his sepulchre in tears.

URGE FULL PENSIONS COST UPON FEDERAL GOVERNMENT

Reduction of Fifty Per Cent. in Manitoba Provincial Land Tax Promised if Suggestion Accepted.

WINNIPEG, Man., Dec. 6.—Delegates to the annual convention of the Union of Manitoba Municipalities here passed a resolution requesting the Dominion Government to relieve the provinces of all levies in connection with the old age pensions system.

If the Dominion took over full responsibility for the old age pensions levies, Premier John Bracken said in an address, Manitoba's Government would reduce the tax on land by fifty per cent. Last year, he pointed out, his administration had made an initial cut of fifty per cent. and it was prepared to go further.

WOULD EXCHANGE WHEAT FOR HOCKEY GAME TICKETS

Suggested as Way to Use Up Surplus of Wheat, But Oats Are So Low Priced Now that It Would Take a Carload to Get into Any Game.

HIGH RIVER, Alta., Dec. 6.—Low wheat prices and the large wheat surplus have given the farmer-hockey fans of this district an idea. They suggested that hockey managers allow them to use a bushel of wheat as admittance fee to each game. They figure they would not be able to use oats. The low price of this grain would compel them to bring a carload to each hockey battle if they wish to be admitted.

STRANGE CASE MAY TURN OUT TO BE MURDER

Death of Wellington De Groat, of Matamoras, N.Y., at First Though to Have Been Caused by Battle With Wounded Deer, But Later Developments Have Somewhat Changed Belief.

MILFORD, Pa., Dec. 6.—A mysterious tragedy of the deer hunting grounds of Pike County was under investigation by the authorities today.

What was at first believed to have been a battle between a wounded deer and Wellington De Groat, of Matamoras, N.Y., was viewed by police, in the light of developments, as a possible murder.

The body of De Groat, a hunting knife in his hand and his rifle at his side, was found in the wilds about ten miles from here last Tuesday. A few feet away a big buck lay dead, shot through the breast.

In reconstructing the supposed battle between the hunter and the animal, De Groat's companions said he had wounded the deer and apparently had been crushed against the frozen ground by its antlers as he ran forward to deliver the death

EMPRESS OF SCOTLAND IS TO BE DISMANTLED SOON

Ship Was Formerly Operated by Hamburg-American Line, But Passed into British Possession at End of Great War.

MONTREAL, Dec. 6.—The Empress of Scotland, one of the Canadian Pacific Steamship Company's ocean liners, sold recently to a ship-breaking company of Blyth, England, will soon be dismantled, according to word received here.

The ship, formerly known as the Kaiserin Auguste Victoria, when operated by the Hamburg-American Line, passed into British possession at the end of the Great War and served in several different capacities before being bought for $800,000 by the C.P.R. in 1921. The ship was sold to the ship-breaking company for $200,000.

Movie Screen Attractions*THE PREMIER."Way of all Men." First National's powerful drama, coming to the Premier Theatre tomorrow and Monday, is not a picture of mystery, but it has a surprise ending.The story on which it was based,
Henning Berger's European dramatic sensation, "Synnöde," was called "the most different dramatic plot ever created" by continental critics. The producers and Frank Lloyd, who directed it, changed the locale to a Mississippi River town but did not modernize the story, since a saloon in which all the characters are trapped by a flood is the principal locale.The surprise deals with whether or not the ten characters escape from certain death and if they do, how they solve certain remarkable problems that result from their predication.Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. and Dorothy Revier are romantic leads. Noah Beery, Robert Edson, Anders Ran-dolph and half-a-dozen equally prominent players have other important roles.The second picture on this bill will be "The Love Trader" with Leatrice Joy, Henry B. Walthall, Chester Conklin and Noah Beery in the cast.Bebe Daniels and Ben Lyon are featured in "Alias Frenchy," the feature attraction on Tuesday and Wednesday next at the Premier Theatre.
The other picture will be "Africa Speaks."Two promising pictures have been secured for the last three days of next week at the Premier Theatre.
They are "She's My Weakness," starring Sue Carol and Arthur Lake, and "Girl of the Golden West."The story of "She's My Weakness" takes place in a modern small town and hinges around the machinations of a combined politician and matchmaker who almost ruins Arthur Lake's chances to capture the affections of Sue Carol.An insight into the character of the plot is given by a quotation from young Lake's dialogue in the picture. He says, "I'm in love with a girl and she wants to marry me, butwe can't because her father and mother want us to."
"Girl of the Golden West" includes in its cast Ann Harding, in the title role, James Rennie, J. Farrell MacDonald, George Cooper, Arthur Stone, Arthur Housman and many others. The story is adapted from David Belasco's famous drama of the same name.MASS PRODUCTION IS FINE.
Applicant for Place—Well, I don't know, mum. You have a very large family, and I'm afraid I couldn't do the work. I suppose you have great trouble in keeping girls, don't you?

There is a big factory of handsome young men near here, and every one of my servant girls goes off and gets married after they have been with me a short time.

AWAIT PREMIER
ON HIS RETURNExpected that St. Lawrence Project and British North America Act Will Be Discussed.OTTAWA, Dec. 6.—Conferences on the St. Lawrence Waterway project and amendments to the British North America Act will follow the return to Canada in a week's time of Premier R. B. Bennett. Dates for the discussions have not been fixed, but the probability is that the Prime Minister will take steps on reaching the capital for conferences in each instance early in the new year.On the St. Lawrence waterway proposal, Premier Bennett may choose to have certain preliminary discussions conducted between the Canadian National engineering board and the United States engineering body, both of which were appointed by their respective countries in connection with the scheme.
Again, the Prime Minister may carry on discussion with the United States Minister to Canada, Hon.
Hanford MacNider. Indication of the course to be pursued will probably be manifested within the next couple of weeks; but the feeling in political circles, in any event, is that conferences on the subject will take place in January.Premier Bennett, now on the Atlantic, is bringing with him a copy of a bill providing for amendments to the British North American Act in accordance with conclusions made at the recent Imperial Conference.
The measure will form the basis of a resolution to be placed before Parliament at the coming sessions, expected to be called for the last week in January or the first week in February. But before its presentation, it is the intention of the Dominion Government to confer with the various provinces of Canada for the purpose of reaching a general understanding of the proposed changes and full agreement in the matter. The date for this meeting may be late this month or more likely in January.As is generally known, the Dominion cannot amend her own constitution. The procedure, where a change is considered necessary, is for the Dominion Parliament to pass a resolution asking for the dissolved change in the British North America Act; and an amendment embodying the change is later introduced in the British Parliament for approval.ed with Morris, but who are reported to have left for Chicago.
Warrants for the arrest of the three men were sworn to by L. L.
McCarthy, a provisional director of the concern, and alleged the theft of $5,000, said to have been received for the sale of courses in stock exchange procedure. According to prospectuses two courses were offered by the concern. One of these promised that on completion of the course, the student would receive a diploma designating him as a qualified investment broker.Among the creditors of the firm is a maker of furniture who claims $3,388.75 while notes and uncash-able cheques issued may reach $5-000, it is stated. Six stenographers

SHERBROOKE, QUE.TO THE SHAREHOLDERSThe directors of your company beg to submit the following report of their administration in connection with your property at South Stukely, Que.Since the last report was issued, on March 4th ult., your company has not only been able to carry on through the present financial crisis, but has managed to hold its wide mining area; to acquire part of it outright; to continue the development work and even to ship ore to the smelter.The development work has consisted in deepening the shaft to over 200 feet, and, at this level, running in a cross-cut approximately 230 feet, which has first shown a new bornite vein and another good chalcopryite vein of a width of about 12 feet. The main bornite vein is also to be found there, according to the statements of the mining engineers and geologists who have explored this last level, but the width of that vein is yet unknown.Two shipments of ore were sent to the smelter at Carteret, N.J. The first one has shown 5.20% copper contents with 2.20 ounces of silver per ton; the second one 4.65% copper, 2.15 ounces of silver, and .02 ounce of gold per ton. These very satisfactory results are establishing beyond any doubt that the ore has a good commercial value, and it is to be remembered that many mines are not even finding, at considerable depths, such a rich ore.Therefore, your directors, with the approval of the shareholders present at the annual meeting, held on the 14th instant, have decided to install on the property a mill for the treatment of the ore, so that the ore contents may be increased and profits realized, thus allowing the company to increase its operations. The preliminary work to the millbuilding has already started, and your directors are depending on your financial support for the quick completion of this work.It is now a well known fact that some of your actual directors have subscribed recently, the sum of $10,000, which went to the company treasury, and have thus made it possible for the company to make the ore shipments and keep on the development work.Your directors also submit that the Annual Report of the Quebec Bureau of Mines, for the year 1929, states, at page 54, that: "At a distance of 40 feet from the shaft, the main zone of mineralization is encountered, in which bornite and chalcopryite are present. A drift has been started on this vein and driven 25 feet towards the South.
Analyses of samples from this drift gave very encouraging results. Earnest and intelligent prospecting work under competent management is being carried out by this company."This government report, concerning particularly the work done at the first level, is certainly ranking your company amongst the legitimate mining ventures. It seems also that your company, having subsisted through the crisis, is bound to make a success.Your directors having seriously discussed the price of the stock, have decided that, owing to actual financial conditions, the price be fixed at 35c per share, for a limited time only. Your directors have also made arrangements so that the shareholders who have paid a higher price for their shares, may secure additional shares at a price to average their holdings at 35c in order that all shareholders be on an equal footing.The books have also been audited by Messrs. Haskell, Elderkin & Co., Chartered Accountants, and the balance sheet shows an expenditure of $38,815.04, up to October 8th, 1930, towards development work, machinery, buildings, property purchased and options; what establishes clearly that your directors have always been keenly desirous of devoting money subscribed towards the development of the property, and to maintain the administration expenses to the minimum.Your directors also wish to record their appreciation of the generous support given them in the past, and are expecting your immediate financial support, and that of your relatives and friends, in order to make a success of your company.

On behalf of the directors,

Armand ROUSSEAU,

November 29th, 1930.

President.

The Black Horses

Announcing a Plan of Interest to Horse Owners

DAWES BREWERY have decided for several reasons to purchase a number of black Percheron stallions and place them in different parts of the Province of Quebec, for the free use of farmers and for the advancement of breeding.They have experienced a great deal of trouble in finding horses, especially black horses, suitable for their business, and feel that a move of this kind will eventually not only benefit them in this way, but generally help the farmer, who will be able to raise a type of horse more easily saleable than the present types.When it is remembered that what is known as the French-Canadian horse is descended from the Percheron breed of horses, imported from France for use in Canada during the early days of settlement, this plan will be greatly appreciated by farmers throughout the Province.The first purchase was of the registered Percheron stallion
"NELSON" No. 11549, made recently at the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto, where he was "Reserve Grand Champion". He is nine years old and has been a prize winner, year after year, wherever he was exhibited. His sire was "LORD NELSON II", a celebrated stallion in the West, and he is out of a prize-winning mare, "DIAMOND".Dawes Brewery now have a representative in France selecting other black horses.The Quebec Government are interested with us and we can depend on having their full cooperation.DAWES BREWERY

INQUIRY INTO AIR FATALITY IS CONCLUDED

Sufficient Evidence Has Been Gathered to Determine Cause of R-101 Tragedy, Although Not Known When Final Report Will Be Made.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—The long investigation into the loss of the British dirigible R-101 was brought to a close yesterday. Sir John Simon, the head of the Board of Inquiry, announced that he could not say when he would be able to make his report. T. S. Collins, a member of the ground staff at Cardington, took exception to a theory expressed by Dr. Hugo Eckener that it was loss of gas which caused the disaster. There were two men aboard who would have known immediately of any leakage, Collins said, and if there had been a serious leak Wing Commander Colmore would have turned the R-101 for home. Collins said he believed erratic air currents were the real cause of the wreck.

UNEMPLOYED TO BE ASSISTED BY VETERANS

Veterans' Shelter Opened by Canadian Legion of Ottawa, Where Unemployed May Secure Food and Shelter.

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 5.—A veterans' shelter to take care of destitute and unemployed, ex-service men of the district was opened today by the Canadian Legion of Ottawa. Seventy odd veterans were early registered at the hostel. The Legion president simultaneously issued a formal request to citizens that no man purporting to be an ex-soldier be given charity while begging from door to door. The Legion would take care of its own people, the president said. At the hostel three meals a day will be provided. Production of a card stamped by the Ontario Employment Bureau showing a veteran has applied for work will entitle the holder to meals. No pensioner nor veteran in receipt of a veterans' allowance will be accommodated. Semi-military discipline has been put into effect, with officers of the Legion executive acting in turn as orderly officers of the day. The city is allowing the Legion forty-five cents per day for meals, for upwards of sixty men being cared for at the shelter.

BUSY AGENDA DRAWN UP FOR AUTO MEETING

Annual Meeting of Quebec Provincial Motor League Will Be Held in Quebec City on December 15.

MONTREAL, Dec. 6.—At the annual general meeting of the Quebec Provincial Motor League to be held at Quebec City on December 15th, a number of important questions relative to motorizing in general will be discussed by the delegates from the different auto clubs of the province. The Royal Automobile Club of Canada will be represented by a number of officers, including George McNamee, secretary.

In giving out a brief outline of the agenda of the meeting, Mr. McNamee declared that a number of amendments to the Motor Act will likely be asked from the Legislature by the members of the League. General matters of road improvements, traffic and legislation will be brought up, and among the most important ones will be the question of lights on horse-drawn vehicles. This has been a subject of argument for some time. Mr. McNamee pointed out, and though nothing has been effected as yet, the auto clubs have not given up hope of having the measure put through.

The age limit for auto drivers will also be discussed and the pros and cons of lowering the limit now effective will be gone into, as will the matter of speed limits at intersections on the highways of the Province. Reduction in tolls on bridges with the aim of abolishing the tolls entirely in the future, the sign-boarding of rural highways, increased supervision on the roads over motor traffic, physical examination of all applicants for licenses, and a number of other questions will be taken up. Many of the items on the agenda are of paramount interest to all motorists, it was said, and as every district in the Province will be represented, and will present views and suggestions, it is considered that the convention will result in strong efforts being made to secure improvements from the Government.

BROWNLEIGH PLACE

Mrs. Frank Nutting received the sad news of the death of her niece, Mrs. Charles Parker, of Portland, Me., which took place on Sunday, November 31st.

SWEETSBURG

Mr. L. A. Giroux spent a day recently in Montreal. Sweetburg citizens note with pleasure the new street lights placed by order of the Cowansville Council at the eastern end of Main street, extending to the Sweetburg border, one light having been installed on a Sweetburg pole. Needless to say, this addition of lights adds greatly to the appearance of the place.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Austin, of Bromo Centre, Mr. and Mrs. Howard McCutcheon, of the Centre road, and Mr. C. L. Sweet of Iron Hill, were recent callers at "Green Gables."

PRESS TORONTO AS LEADERS OF NATIONAL LOOP

Vital Games in National Hockey League Scheduled Over the Week-End, as Toronto and Canadiens Are Drawn.

TORONTO, Ont., Dec. 6.—Week-end by the loss of their youthful scoring ace, Charlie Conacher, Toronto Maple Leafs will be hard pressed to maintain their leading position with Montreal Canadiens at the head of the Canadian group of the National Hockey League in this week-end's schedule of five games.

Toronto's rivals, the Flying Frenchmen of Montreal, encounter New York Americans in Manhattan on Sunday, while the second place Ottawa Senators meet the up and coming Maroons in Montreal on the Saturday night programme.

Chicago's speeding Black Hawks, boasting the best team record in the Calder loop, entertain Detroit Falcons and will probably increase their commanding lead in the American group, while the second place Boston Bruins battle the improving Quakers at Philadelphia.

The Leafs play the Rangers at Arena Gardens Saturday and as both teams play fast, wide open hockey the fans are certain of a rare hockey treat. To date the Leafs have maintained an undefeated record at home but without their leading scorer are an uncertain quantity.

It is the first meeting of the current schedule between the two teams who are both showing rare form at present. Rangers were unlucky to lose their last contest against Canadiens in Montreal on Tuesday and need a win badly to keep in the running for third place in the American group.

A close, rugged battle will likely develop in Montreal when the Maroons encounter the second place Senators. Victory for the latter plus defeat for Toronto and Canadiens will place the Ottawas on top in the Canadian group, but as the Maroons appear to be improving each time they are expected to win and vacate the cellar position to the Americans.

In the opening game of the season at Ottawa the Senators proved masters of the Maroons at all stages, but, at that time the Montrealers were far from the team they have showed themselves to be today. Dunc Munro's old guard of Nels Stewart, Babe Siebert and Hooley Smith have just about reached the peak of their form and with the members of last year's Allan Cup winners fast acclimating themselves to professional company, the Maroons at last seemed headed for a bad objective.

It will be a case of a blasting offensive pitted against stonewall defensive tactics when the Habitués clash with Eddie Gerard's Amerks, the latter, fighting to climb from last place in the group, are certain to make matters interesting, and it is unlikely that Howie Morenz, leading sharpshooter, will fatten his goal average to any large extent against the Wouters-Dutton-Brydge defensive trio.

The teams have not met before this season but it is certain to be a close struggle. Like all Canadian teams, the Habitués find the heat of Madison Square Garden oppressive and it generally affects their play somewhat. In addition two of their players are on the injured list so these factors may combine to bring the Red Devils down to the level of the A's who have been slipping badly in recent games. Boston's hard-hitting Bruins appear to have found a soft spot in the schedule in meeting the last place Quakers and they will no doubt take advantage of the encounter to consolidate their hold on the second rung behind the Black Hawks. The Bruins after a mediocre start have been improving steadily in recent games, but then again, so have the Quakers.

SOUTH AUSTRALIA TAKES LEAD OVER WEST INDIES

South Australia Scores 330 in First Innings to 171 for Visitors.

ADELAIDE, Australia, Dec. 6.—South Australia took a firm grip in their cricket match with the West Indies today, scoring 330 in their reply to the tourists' first innings total of 171. Going in for their second innings 159 runs in arrears the West Indies had lost seven of their best wickets for only 122 when stumps were drawn for the day and they faced almost certain defeat. The South Australia "tail" wagged very vigorously today, raising the overnight score of 170 to 330 by lusty batting.

INVESTIGATION TO BE MADE CALGARY, Alta., Dec. 6.—Investigation by federal and provincial governments into the cost of production of gasoline and the selling price will be recommended by a committee of the Alberta Motor Association.

STORK PROVES GENEROUS TO FRENCH HOUSE

Seven Births Within Thirteen Months at Home of North Shore Habitant.

RAGUENEAU, Que., Dec. 6.—Papa Stork apparently cannot pass the humble habitant cottage of Bernard DesBiens without alighting. Twice in the past year he flapped heavily out of a clear sky with a set of twins for Mrs. DesBiens.

This past week the shadow of his wings was again over the DesBiens roof. He left triplets for Mrs. DesBiens' young married daughter. That DesBiens household all in the compass of thirteen months.

Ragueneau is a little village near Bersimis on the north shore of the St. Lawrence River.

BECAME INSANE FROM TERRORS OF WANDERING

Mystery Surrounds Finding of Jesse Ryme on Shores of James Bay—Set Out in August for Quebec Gold Fields.

COCHRANE, Ont., Dec. 6.—Driven out of his mind by the hardships he suffered when lost for days, possibly weeks, on the shores of James Bay, Jesse Ryme, whose home is believed to be in Quebec Province, was brought out this week by Constable Cavell of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and taken to an institution in Montreal. Ryme was found wandering in the vicinity of Ruperts House on Hudson Bay and taken by a band of Indians to Moose Factory. His wanderings are largely a mystery, as when last heard of he had joined a gold rush in August to go to Chibougamau, in Northern Quebec. How he got to Ruperts House is a mystery. It is suggested that he may have had a partner but if so he has disappeared entirely. The Mounted Police are investigating this phase of the affair.

PROTECTIONIST VICTORY SEEN IN ELECTIONS

Military Secretary to Former Lord Lieutenant of Ireland Predicts Old Country Election During February.

MONTREAL, Que., Dec. 6.—Sir George Prescott, military secretary to the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland in 1916, now on a visit to Montreal, has predicted a British general election by February and a return to protectionist policies. He declared that England was now the greatest dumping ground in the world, causing great depression in her industries. He thought that with adequate protection English industries would flourish and do away with some of the present unemployment.

ELLEN TERRY AND G. B. SHAW CLOSE FRIENDS

In Spite of Deep Friendship Which Existed Between Actress and Author, They Saw Each Other But Once.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—A deep friendship between George Bernard Shaw and the late Ellen Terry—though they met but once—is revealed in letters they exchanged, and which have been purchased for publication by the Fountain Press. The New York Times says that one of its representatives was permitted to examine the correspondence and make public extracts which reveal a heretofore unsuspected Shaw.

The dramatist often expressed a desire to meet the actress, corresponding when last heard of he had joined a gold rush in August to go to Chibougamau, in Northern Quebec. How he got to Ruperts House is a mystery. It is suggested that he may have had a partner but if so he has disappeared entirely. The Mounted Police are investigating this phase of the affair.

"I'm so pale when I'm off stage and rouge becomes me, and I know I shall have to take it off if I consent to let you see me," she wrote him in the 90's, "and it would be so pathetic for not even the rouge would make you admire me away from the stage. O, what a curse it is to be an actress."

PROTECTION OF AUTOMOBILISTS AGAINST GLASS

Member for Cumberland Proposes that All Glass in Automobiles Be Non-Shatterable.

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 6.—Parliament will be asked for the protection of automobile travellers in Canada. The proposal will be advanced by Robert K. Smith, Conservative member for Cumberland, N.S. The text of a resolution which Mr. Smith will place before Parliament for approval reads: "That on and after August 31, 1931, it be made obligatory that all new automobiles made or sold in Canada have in the windshield, side, partition, and rear windows, shatterproof, non-shatterable, safety or laminated glass."

The subject of automobile accidents has been under close study by the Conservative member. Mr. Smith finds that sixty-five per cent of automobile accidents is due to broken and flying glass and it is according to the last automobile census there is one car to every eight persons in Canada. England and the states of New York and Massachusetts are taking steps to protect automobile travellers.

SOVIETS SEEN AS SUPERIOR MOVIE MAKERS

George Bernard Shaw's Words Calculated to Make British and United States Producers Hang Their Heads in Shame.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—Bernard Shaw compared Russian movie films with those from home and from Hollywood yesterday in words calculated to make British and United States producers hang their heads in shame.

"I don't know whether it's possible to make Hollywood blush," he said, "but I am quite sure it is impossible to make Hollywood's British imitators blush. "When you see Russian films," he said, "and remember that never for a moment have they had to fall back on that last refuge of de-caying art—the appeal—we wish we could make arrangements for the Soviets to come here and take charge of our educational affairs."

DESCENDANTS OF WORLD'S IMMORTALS ATTEND DINNER

Poetry Society of London Met Yesterday, But Conversation Was of Politics and Trade Rather Than of Poetry.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—Fifty descendants of immortals were guests at a dinner of the Poetry Society yesterday, but talk was of politics and trade rather than pentameters. For of all these men and women whose inspired ancestors sang through the ages not one has ever written a single couplet.

"Poetry doesn't seem hereditary," the society secretary said. "The gift of song alights on one member of a family and then passes along."

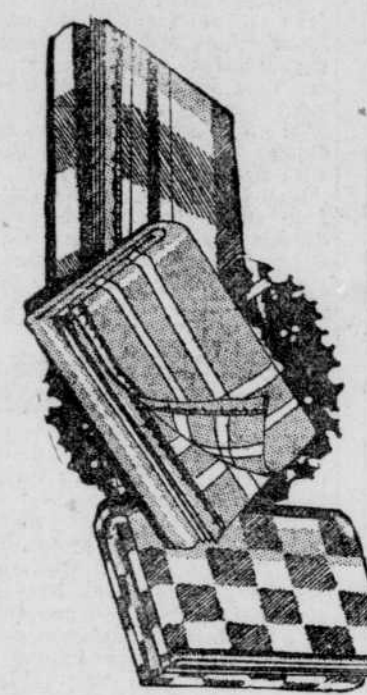

In seeking descendants of famous poets the society even found a woman claiming relationship to Shakespeare; although experts say his line died out. However, she was not at the dinner. Four descendants of Burns exist somewhere but advertisements failed to locate them. Among the guests were descendants of Pope; Alexander Waller, Oarham of the Ingoldsby Legend; John Gay, of Beggars' Opera fame; Sir Thomas Wyatt; Coleridge and Mrs. Felicia Hemans, who wrote "The Boy Stood on the Burning Deck."
