"Betrayal" Cries Smallwood

Calls For Public Mourning Over Ottawa's Future Grant

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Premier Smallwood has ordered all public buildings draped in black today to "mark Prime Minister Diefenbaker's betrayal of Newfoundland, and of Canada's honor."

The fiery premier said Wednesday night Mr. Diefenbaker had "plunged Newfoundland into mourning" and had "betrayed" the province.

He was commenting in a statement on the federal government's announcement in the Commons Wednesday of financial proposals for Newfoundland.

The prime minister said the federal government will have fulfilled special financial agreements with Newfoundland under the 1949 terms of union when it has paid the province special grants amounting to $36,500,000 between now and March 31, 1962.

THIRD BETRAYAL

Mr. Smallwood charged the prime minister had "betrayed" Newfoundland in three separate matters in as many months.

"For three months our Supreme Court has lacked one of its three judges because of Mr. Diefenbaker's failure to fill the vacancy caused by the death of

20 Newfy Unions May Support IWA Loggers

By IAN MACDONALD
Canadian Press Staff Writer
CORNER BROOK, Nfld. (CP)

Twenty unions representing workers in this western Newfoundland area prepared today to discuss support of the International Woodworkers of America (IWA) which struck the Anglo-Newfoundland Development Company Dec. 31.

Meanwhile, the possibility of new violence arose with the announcement by Max Lane, a Liberal member of the legislature and temporary president of the independent Newfoundland Brotherhood of Woods Workers that his union organizers would move into the Corner Brook area "within the next 10 days." He said it was possible the NBWW could move in sooner to seek members in this IWA stronghold.

The new union has so far concentrated on organizing in central Newfoundland, site of A.N.D. operations.

SEEK LEGAL ADVICE

Mr. Lane said the 8,000-member NBWW has its legal advisers

Oil-Recovery Project Proposed A-Blast Safe - Gov't

OTTAWA (CP)—A government authority says there is nothing to fear from a proposed atomic explosion in Alberta's Athabasca oil sands next year.

Dr. John Convey, director of the federal mines branch and chairman of a government-industry committee studying the feasibility of the oil-recovery project, said the committee has received representations from four groups who say the blast might pollute the atmosphere. The groups were not named.

"You'd think they would give us more credit," said Dr. Convey. "We wouldn't take any chances."

EXAMINE TEST RESULTS

He said in an interview the feasibility committee, established last month, will go to Nevada in three weeks to examine results of a similar nuclear blast in oil shale there.

If investigations go as expected, Richfield Oil Corporation of Los Angeles would proceed with the northern Alberta explosion next year, perhaps as early as February or March.

Cost of the project—preliminary to what could be one of the largest single man-made explosions ever to occur—would be $1,000,000.

The Athabasca sands, 250 miles north of Edmonton, are believed to contain more than 300,000,000 barrels of oil—almost double the world's total known reserves—over a 30,000-square-mile area.

An underground blast similar to the one in Nevada is expected to create an underground cavity in which oil, perched from the sand by atomic heat, would gather and could be pumped to the surface. Other efforts over the last 40 years to release the oil economically by various methods have failed.

working to decide whether the union will negotiate directly with Bowaters Pulp and Paper Mill or 80 independent contractors, who hire 2,000 loggers to cut wood for the mill here.

He said before negotiations open it must be decided clearly with whom the union should deal. In central Newfoundland, loggers are directly employed by A.N.D.

Peter Fudge, president of the Corner Brook and District Trade and Labor Council, said that Bowaters should negotiate with the IWA "which was properly and lawfully certified." The union lost certification for its two Newfoundland locals early this month under a bill passed by the legislature.

Anticipating new outbreaks, Mr. Fudge has asked CLC President Claude Jodoin to appeal to Prime Minister Diefenbaker to make certain "the Newfoundland government-sponsored union does not precipitate violence by using police in a mass invasion."

Mr. Fudge said generally peaceful conditions have been maintained here "due to the continuous personal efforts of the IWA and other union officials . . . and the natural decency and common sense of our west coast loggers."

"FORCED INTO WOODS"

He said the NBWW's organizing plans will endanger the peace here. He said Mr. Lane "is importing his squads of conscripts who have been forced into the woods by government welfare workers who told them to strike or starve."

The violence-marred strike has already claimed the life of a constable. A murder charge has

Dummy Space Capsules Intact After Dropped From Airplanes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dummy space capsules the size of those that someday may carry U.S. spacemen into orbit have been dropped into the ocean from high-flying planes and recovered intact.

Scientists reported today that after the capsules dropped in free fall for set distances, parachutes opened to slow their descent. The cone-like capsules weighed more than a ton.

Next step in the space research program: Development of materials to absorb the shock of landings on ground. Model capsules have already been dropped from altitudes of 10 miles.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration today reported significant progress in four general areas — air drops, escape techniques, impact tests, and wind tunnel and flight studies of model capsules.

"PROJECT MERCURY"

The early research is part of Project Mercury, the program to place a man in orbit around the earth. So far, its research has provided valuable information toward developing a safe and reliable manned satellite capsule, NASA said.

Two other highlights of the progress report were:

Space scientists have been experimenting on the firing of escape rockets that would permit a man to get out of a capsule high enough in the air for a parachute to open—if trouble should develop soon after launching.

Wind tunnel tests are planned of a space capsule on top of a Jupiter intermediate range ballistic missile.

NASA has been paring down a list of 110 potential spacemen. Early next month it will make public the first team of less than a dozen volunteers.

PLUCKED FROM SEA

In the ocean drops, two helicopters and a crash rescue boat went to the impact point. One helicopter, directed by the other and by the crash boat, retrieved the capsule by hooking a line into an eye at the top of the test model.

Altitudes at which the capsules were released in the ocean drops and at which parachutes opened were not disclosed.

NO-GRAVITY EXPERIMENT — American scientists have reproduced a state of weightlessness which is expected to be encountered by future space pilots.

Britain proposes foreign ministers meeting in Geneva

Dalai Lama Has Fled From Lhasa

DARJEELING, India (AP) — A reliable source here on the Indian border reported today that the Chinese Communists have announced that the Dalai Lama fled from Lhasa during the revolt in the Tibetan capital.

The whereabouts of Tibet's 23-year-old religious and political leader, revered by his people as "the living Buddha," was unknown here. There were rumors he was heading south toward the Indian protectorate of Sikkim, between Darjeeling and Tibet, or southeast toward the Indian province of Assam.

Refugee Tibetans were speculating that their Buddhist godking would remain with resistance forces in southern Tibet or might cross into India. Reports persisted that the revolt that broke out in Lhasa last Friday has spread to the countryside. The Chinese have been reported in control once again of Lhasa.

The Tibetan cabinet was reported by a reliable source to have renounced the 1951 treaty which recognized Red China's control over the country. The source said the Chinese also had admitted this publicly in Lhasa.

SIGNED DECLARATION

The report in Darjeeling was that the cabinet of advisers to the Dalai Lama, before the fighting started in Lhasa, added its names to a declaration declaring Tibet independent of Chinese control and charging the Communists with breaking promises in the 1951 treaty to respect Tibet's religion and way of life.

In Kalimpong, India, sources said Tibetan women openly led a campaign in Lhasa to rid Tibet of Chinese rule shortly before the revolt started.

They said 5,000 women circulated a petition demanding the withdrawal of Chinese troops and renouncing the 1951 Sino-Tibetan treaty.

The petition, reported to have carried the signatures of Tibetan government leaders, was handed by the women to the Chinese commander in Lhasa earlier this month.

DALAI LAMA

LONDON — (Reuters) — Britain today proposes in a note to the Soviet Union that an East-West foreign ministers' conference should start in Geneva May 11.

The note, delivered in Moscow and published here, suggested the foreign ministers should discuss "questions relating to Germany, including a peace treaty with Germany and the question of Berlin."

Their purpose should be to reach positive agreements over as wide a field as possible, to narrow differences, and to prepare constructive proposals "for consideration by a conference of heads of government later in the summer."

U.S. AGREES

In a similar note, the United States told Russia it is prepared to take part in a summit conference on the understanding that a prior meeting of foreign ministers should "justify" the gathering.

The reply from France, also delivered in Moscow today, specified agreement to a summit meeting only if the foreign ministers meeting made "genuine progress."

The French note differed little from the British and U.S. notes but displayed much less enthusiasm for a summit meeting than the others.

The three allies were replying to a Soviet note of March 2, in which the Soviet Union for the first time agreed to a foreign ministers conference preceding a summit meeting.

The British note said the foreign ministers would propose the date, place and agenda for a summit conference.

ONE OR MORE MEETINGS

The U.S. and British notes followed a formula worked out by President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan in their meeting last week. The plans call for dealing with the Berlin crisis through diplomatic negotiation looking toward one or more meetings at the summit.

The heart of the Eisenhower-Macmillan formula in substance was approved later by de Gaulle and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

It was clear from the wording of the notes that, as Eisenhower told a press conference Wednesday, there is no automatic commitment to hold a summit meeting this summer. The decision would depend on what the foreign ministers were able to achieve — if anything — toward resolving the Berlin and other German issues.

De Gaulle's note indicated even stronger reservations.

MUST HAVE PROGRESS

He said he would be willing to go to the summit only if a foreign ministers meeting made genuine progress. The U.S. and

Two Hurt As Ships Collide

NEW YORK (AP)—The Grace liner Santa Rosa and the empty oil tanker Valchem collided at 3 a.m. EST today in the Atlantic 22 miles off Atlantic City, N.J.

The Santa Rosa, carrying 265 passengers, reported by radio that she was not in immediate danger.

The coast guard said the liner's bow knifed halfway into the tanker near the stern.

The Santa Rosa was damaged above the water line.

The two ships remained joined about 2 1/2 hours before the captains decided it was safe to separate them.

A small fire broke out in the Santa Rosa's forward paint locker, but it was quickly smothered by the automatic chemical extinguishers on board.

Two injured crew members of the tanker were taken aboard the Santa Rosa and put in its hospital.

Five coast guard cutters and a helicopter were dispatched to the scene. The Moran towing and transportation company sent two of its tugs from here.

The Santa Rosa had been due to dock here at 8 a.m. from Nassau, Bahamas. The coast guard said it would continue its way here.

Only Starvation Can Move Pickets Says IWA Head

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP) — The president of a Newfoundland local of the International Woodworkers of America (IWA) said Wednesday night only one thing will remove IWA members from picket lines in his province — starvation.

Lawrence Ball, head of Local 2-225 at Deer Lake, Nfld., speaking at a rally convened by the Canadian Labor Congress, described what he said were conditions under which loggers work in Newfoundland.

The IWA was recently decertified by the Newfoundland legislature.

Mr. Ball, who said he has been a logger for 30 years, said the average income for loggers is $1,500 a year.

He said in the winter 50 men occupied a bunkhouse originally designed to hold 35, drew their water from a common two-gallon pail and toilet facilities consisted of a ditch outside.

Most loggers lived on a strict diet. Their food consisted of vegetables and salt meat. There was no fruit or fruit juices and few of the loggers' children had ever tasted eggs, ham, bacon or fresh milk.

Mr. Ball said that during the weekend there is no communication between the outside world and logging camps and loggers must treat injuries or sickness themselves.

Right Name, Wrong Bed

GLENDORA, Calif. (AP)—His friends decided that John H. Corson had been in his favorite tavern too long. They decided to take him home.

Only trouble was, nobody knew for sure where John lived. So they looked up the Corson address in the telephone book.

No one was at home when the party arrived and the front door was locked. Never mind, the bedroom window was open.

So his friends entered, carrying Corson, and deposited him on the bed.

That's where Charles C. Corson found John H. Corson a short while later. Charles C. Corson, 38, resented John H. Corson, 56—and no relation—being in his bed. He called the sheriff's office.

John H. Corson was booked on suspicion of being drunk. No charges were filed against his well-meaning friends.

Bribe Attempts

TORONTO (CP) — Two members of Metropolitan Toronto council said Wednesday that attempts by the public to bribe civic officials were "common practice." Reeve Marie Curtis of suburban Long Branch and city Alderman Philip Givens revealed they both had received offers of money if they used their council offices to "do favors."

Group To Visit

OTTAWA (CP)—A part of 80 staff instructors and students from the NATO defence college in Paris arrive in Ottawa Sunday, April 5, for a two-day visit before going to the United States. In Ottawa, the group will be given a series of lectures on Canada's political, economic and external policies; tour the St. Lawrence Seaway and visit Air Defence Command, RCAF Station St. Hubert, Que.

Easter Recess Offers A Break To Commons Members

OTTAWA (CP) — Parliament's Easter recess offers an 11-day respite to Commons members inflamed over freight rates and federal financial aid to Newfoundland.

Before the Commons recessed Wednesday until April 6 Lionel Chevrier (L—Montreal Laurier) joined CCF House Leader Hazen Argue in breaking a few lances with Transport Minister Hees over the government's proposed $20,000,000 subsidy to the railways to mitigate the effects of last fall's 17-per-cent freight rate increase.

Mr. Chevrier said the subsidy is a stop-gap measure.

"It is nothing more than the kind of solution that the government has applied to all problems. It allows all major problems to develop to a state of crisis before it acts and then it acts by writing out another cheque."

INTERIM MEASURE

Mr. Hees said the proposed legislation is an interim measure, providing $20,000,000 over a 12-month period.

At the opening of the sitting, Mr. Diefenbaker announced that the government will have fulfilled financial agreements with Newfoundland under 1949 terms of union when it has paid the province special grants totalling $36,500,000 between now and March 31, 1962.

Opposition Leader Pearson labelled as "quite unwarranted" the assumption that no federal obligation will exist after 1962. He and J. W. Pickersgill (L—Bonaville-Twillington) later issued statements sharply criticizing the government announcement.

The Commons also heard an announcement from Finance Minister Fleming that he will present his 1959-60 budget the night of Thursday, April 9.

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS
 HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Do the love scenes in today's movies go too far? Ramon Novarro, one of the great screen lovers of the past, thinks so.
 "There is nothing left to the imagination," said the still-hand-some Latin. "They show you everything—almost. I don't think that is right."
 "It was different in the old days. Our pictures made suggestions, but we left something for the audience to imagine. The Lubitsch pictures were like that spicy but not offensive.

 "I remember a love scene Garbo and I did in Mata Hari. It was shot in the dark with only two cigarettes glowing. You didn't know whether we were in bed or on a couch or what. Ah, that was movie-making!"
 Novarro has come back to the movies after a nine-year absence from the screen. Oddly, he is returning to play a heavy—the ruler of a frontier town in Heller With a Gun.
 Why is he back?
 "Because I was bored," he admitted. "I had been devoting myself to my real estate holdings in the San Fernando Valley and my 50-acre ranch near San Diego. I finally gave up trying to make the ranch pay, and I sold it. Now I want to do just enough acting to keep my mind busy."
 Now 59, Novarro is one of the few stars who worked his way up through the extra ranks. He started in 1917, working in Cecil B. de Mille films on the old Paramount lot.
 He managed to survive the transition to sound by not pushing too fast into it. He did one song in the part-talkie Pagan Love Song, then decided on an extended vacation in Europe. He recalled Mary Pickford urging him to stay here and pioneer the new medium. "You pioneer; I'll wait," he replied.
 After 15 years of stardom, his career faded in 1935. He explained why:
 "MGM wouldn't let me grow up. I told them, 'I'm 35 years old! How can I still be playing football for Yale?' But they wouldn't listen to me."

 Flower fund convenor, Mrs. Lionel Allen, was unable to be present, but in a report stated that flowers had been sent to two funerals and potted plants had been sent to two members in hospital. Get-well cards were signed by those present and forwarded to members in hospital, and to another member at home.

Plan $300,000 Expenditure On Parks, Playground Development

A special loan bylaw of over $300,000 to develop outdoor recreational facilities will be drafted by the Sherbrooke City Council in the near future, it was decided by the aldermen at a special meeting last night to study capital expenditure projects.

The council decided to present separately from the annual public works bylaw all projects to lay out new parks, swimming pools and a ski run. This year, the city's share of the public works bylaw is expected to rise above $400,000.

Director of Services Charles Langlois said that the bylaws could be altered before the final drafts. He refused to divulge estimates of the total expenditures.

Last night's meeting was the last of three on the capital expenditure budget which is a summary of the plans and estimated costs of permanent works to be undertaken in a time limit set by the council. These projects will supplement the public works provided for in the 1959 budget at a cost of $410,000 and will be outlined in the same bylaw.

Purpose of the three meetings was to decide which projects are to be completed this year and those to be shelved for later.

Mr. Langlois said that he could not say which projects in the budget would be undertaken definitely this year until he had submitted a complete report of the meetings for the aldermen's approval.

It is known, however, that the aldermen approved in principle nearly $550,000 in sidewalk and paving works the major part of which will be assessed on bordering properties. The city's contribution is estimated at about $50,000.

Street widening projects, intersection improvement plans and other works that were approved in principle at the two other meetings were not available.

PARKS

To be included in the bylaw covering recreational facilities are seven new parks (four of which will be equipped with wading pools), a ski area off the mountain in the West Ward, an Olympic standard swimming pool at Victoria Park in the East Ward, and a chalet at Jacques Cartier Park.

The cost of developing ski slopes, including a tow, is placed roughly at $100,000 while a swimming pool to accommodate both youngsters and adults at Victoria Park is estimated to cost $75,000. Admission fee would be charged at both places.

Expenditures to open the new parks with the extra cost for wading pools and the chalet at Jacques Cartier Park are estimated at $122,000.

The parks and the estimated cost of developing them are as follows: Assomption Park, at the corner of Dupuy and De La Bruyere Sts., $30,400 (council decided to appropriate only $20,000 for this year); Boudreau Park between 10th and 11th Aves., $29,500; St. Alphonse Park, to be developed in part only, at the corner of Balmoral and Malouin Sts., $13,000; Camirand Park, at the corner of Camirand and Ball Sts., $36,200; St. Colomban Park, on Wellington St. South (purchase of land only this year) $16,300; Sangster Park, corner of Kitchener and Cambrai, $18,000.

The council added a project for a seventh park, located near St. Jean Baptiste Church in the East Ward, at the request of Ald. Felix Thibault who was unable to attend the meeting because of illness. No estimate of construction cost was given.

Included in several park projects were expenditures for comfort stations which varied between $2000 and $5000. Council decided to follow a suggestion by Director Langlois that the municipal engineering department draw up a plan for a uniform type of building for all the parks.

Mr. Langlois said one contractor could be given the work of building all the comfort stations. The cost, he said, would be less to the city.

SEPARATE BYLAW

Ald. Marcel Savard introduced the proposal of separate loan bylaw to expand the city's recreational facilities.

Collector Of Customs At Rock Island Is Retiring

ROCK ISLAND — Mr. E. J. Struthers retires on Tuesday, March 31, as Collector of Customs and Excise at Rock Island Port of Entry.

Mr. Struthers came here on February 1, 1928, as Collector of Customs at Beebe Junction, being promoted from Sub-Collector of Customs at his home town of Noyan, Que. At that time the port office was in Beebe Junction but was transferred to Rock Island during the spring of 1929.

During World War II, Mr. Struthers was on loan from 1940-1943 to the Bank of Canada as an inspector of Foreign Exchange, located in Montreal and Ottawa and from 1944 with Commodity Prices Stabilization Corporation, Limited, one of the largest Ottawa war-time Crown companies. In this corporation Mr. Struthers was senior examiner, chief of personnel and after assistant treasurer.

Mr. Struthers was wounded twice in active service during the First World War and is a great promoter of the Canadian Legion, "One of the finest organizations in Canada for Canadian veterans, in which every Canadian veteran of wars should be a member," says Mr. Struthers.

Mr. Struthers has served on the executive of the Dominion and Provincial Commands of the Canadian Legion and has represented the Dominion Legion Command president many times at provincial and state conventions and once in taking the salute at Parliament Hill in Ottawa on an Armistice Day. He is an active member of Stantead Frontier branch of the Legion and at present on both the Senior Commands.

Mr. Struthers was the one Canadian Legion member present at every presentation made by the Legion to the Canadian Government during World War II and

His suggestion was seconded by Mayor Armand Nadeau who said that it would be proof the council is "interested in doing something for our youth."

He said the public should be favorable to a bylaw that would include at least two self-paying facilities. He was referring to the ski run and the Victoria Park swimming pool.

In both of these cases, he said a slight admission fee could be charged and the facilities could be used by the youngsters in the day time and by adults in the evenings.

It is presumed mixed bathing will be permitted at the Victoria Park pool.

Referring to the ski project, he said it must be developed this summer to be ready for the next season.

Ald. Carrier Fortin said that by separating the recreation projects from the permanent works, the public works bylaw would be reduced considerably.

Ald. Gerard Berard suggested the council visit the site of the future ski run. He said it could be seen from the foot of St. Gerard St.

Mayor Nadeau relayed the opinion of Ald. Thibault who said he objected to the council buying large parcels of land for projects which would be an added burden on the city's debt service.

Negotiate With Two Industries

Members of the municipal industrial commission and other city officials are expected to meet with officials of two companies located in the Montreal area next week in an effort to have operations moved to Sherbrooke.

The two companies are planning to move to as yet undetermined locations outside the metropolitan area and, in one case, perhaps to another province.

Aldermen Paul Gervais, chairman of the industrial commission, and Ald. Everett Nicol, a commission member, met with officials last week.

Ald. Nicol said last night following the special meeting on the capital expenditures budget that one company could employ about 200 men and the other about 50. The companies, he said, intend to move in about a year.

More Bogus Money

Several more counterfeit Canadian $10 bills have appeared in Sherbrooke, it was reported today by RCMP officials here, bringing to about 25 the number of bogus bills found since last Friday afternoon.

Officials add that a man is slated to appear in court today charged with possession and uttering.

The bills began appearing in the district last weekend and since that time have been turned up at the rate of about three or more a day.

RCMP officials point out that the engraving on the bills is ill-defined and generally lacking in sharpness. The words: The British American Bank Note Company Limited, appearing at the bottom centre of the face of the bill, are hardly legible.

The inking on the reverse side is rather more blue than the violet of the genuine $10 bill. Careful comparison with a genuine bill will point out the deficiencies in any questionable bill.

Oasis Club Sugar Party On April 7

The Oasis Club of the Blind held a Bingo party at the MacKinnon Memorial and the many members present, including those who had come from Magog, were welcomed by President Emilien Proulx.

New Officers Installed By Y's Men's Club

The installation of the new executive and reports of the year's activities were the main features of the weekly supper meeting of the Sherbrooke Y's Men's Club held at the Magog Hotel last evening. Immediate past president Cliff Lamb presided.

The slate for 1959 is as follows: President, Don Griffin; 1st vice-president, Curtis Bishop; 2nd vice-president, Vern Wilkin; secretary, Gordon Moe; treasurer, Jim MacKinnon. Newly elected directors are Walter Mutchler Jr., and Tom Lawrence.

The treasurer's report as given by retiring treasurer, Allan Rennie, showed an improvement over last year's financial standing.

President Lamb in his review of the year's projects, commended Jeff Wilson for the success of the track meet, which reached a new high, with 240 boys from 12 schools competing. Mention was made of Lifesaver Day, the proceeds of which had been down from the 1957 take.

Seventy-seven boys attended the camp at Shore Acres, an increase of 23 over 1957. To offset the deficit from the camp, the first annual BP Gas Day was inaugurated. Thanks to Ed Budd and Bob Davies, this event was most successful.

In closing his report, President Lamb thanked his executive and the members for their support during his term of office, giving special mention to Rollie Dewar, camp director, and all project chairmen.

President Don Griffin then took the chair. He reminded the members of the Lifesaver Days, April 10 and 11, and asked for their continued support of the track meet to be held on May 23. Seated at the head table with president Griffin were immediate past president Lamb, Curtis Bishop, Allan Rennie and Jim MacKinnon.

A 35-year-old Sherbrooke man, Paul-Emile Lapointe, 155 Gillespie, is resting fairly comfortably in the Hotel Dieu today following an accident last night when he was hit by a car at the intersection of King st., East, and 1st Avenue.

Driver of the car was Arthur Gaudette, of Rock Forest. Lapointe was riding a bicycle at the time and Gaudette claimed he did not know of the accident until he felt a slight bump as he turned on to 1st Ave. from King st.

Lapointe was taken to hospital suffering from lacerations and a suspected fracture of the kneecap.

Hospital officials stated that his condition was not considered serious.

Optimist Club Aid Sought For Swimming Pool

The city council last night decided it would seek the financial support of the Sherbrooke Optimist Club in the construction of a wading pool at a new park project for a slum area of the East Ward.

Ald. Marcel Savard raised the question during last night's special meeting on capital expenditure projects, when the plans for the new park, Assomption Park, were discussed. The new park to be located at the corner of Dupuy and De La Bruyere Sts. would cost an estimated total of $30,400.

Council agreed in principle to approve a total of $20,000 to cover works of levelling, tree planting and other improvements. The sum for the wading pool, they decided, could be solicited from the Optimists.

Mayor Nadeau, who supported the decision to appeal to the club, said that the Optimists had spoken of financing the project several times in the past but had not made any written offer. He said club officials had spoken of contributing $6,000 from a reserve fund and raising the remainder of the approximate $12,000 through a public subscription campaign.

The mayor suggested that the Assomption Park project be temporarily shelved until the council had met with club officials.

Ald. Carrier Fortin said he favored the financial co-operation of the Optimist provided the administration of the pool remained with the city. He said there had been talk that the Optimists were willing to contribute provided that were given a five-year contract to control facilities.

Ald. Savard said that the club only wanted a plaque installed on the grounds to show that the club had raised the funds for the project. Ald. Robert Gauthier said he had received the same information as Ald. Savard.

No Sign Of Jail Escapee

GRANBY — (Special) — Provincial Police officials here this morning state that no sign has been found of Pierre Tetrault, 30, who escaped Tuesday evening from the Sweetburg jail. He was being detained prior to transportation to the St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary to which he had been sentenced for two years on charges of automobile theft and passing forged cheques.

Originally believed to have headed in the direction of Granby or Waterloo, police say he may have headed north in the direction of Montreal instead.

Tetrault's wife, from whom he is separated, lives in Granby with his father in Waterloo. Meanwhile Provincial Police throughout the district are on the alert for the missing man and have furnished the following description: short, five feet seven inches; brown hair and eyes.

Tetrault escaped Tuesday evening while he was on duty in the jail kitchen. He is believed to be wearing a blue suit.

Active on the executive of Stanstead College, Mr. Struthers was a director of Canadian Legion Educational Services and one of the applicants for the charter of those services.

Interested in youth education and the Boy Scout movement, Mr. Struthers is a member of the Dominion and Provincial Council of the Boy Scout Association and is president of Stanstead County Council of Boy Scouts.

He is president of the Stanstead County Historical Society. Deeply interested in history, his fine library contains many valuable books on Canadian and American history, including possibly one of the best collections of books on local history now available.

Further activities of Mr. Struthers include being mayor of Stanstead Municipality for his third term. In the summer of 1936 Mr. Struthers and the late Mrs. Struthers were among those who made the Canadian Legion Vimy Pilgrimage, and, with others on the same tour, were guests of King Edward VIII at Buckingham Palace. Later they visited friends and relatives in France, England, Scotland and Wales.

Mr. Struthers has been, for many years, a member of the Christian Science church and is at present first reader of the Newport, Vt., Society of that church.

A Courageous People

China has held sovereignty, real or nominal, over the mountainous country of Tibet for hundreds of years.

The one concession the Communists made to the deeply religious Tibetan Buddhists was a guarantee of independence to their spiritual leader, the Dalai Lama.

Since then, the Dalai Lama has been a virtual prisoner in his own palace, guarded by Chinese Communist soldiers.

ed fanatically faithful to their god-king and, although guerilla warfare against the Chinese had been going on for some time in the mountains outside the capital city of Lhasa, it did not erupt in the city itself until the safety of the Dalai Lama was threatened by a Chinese request that he go to Peiping.

Because of his hold over his people, the Dalai Lama is unacceptable to the Communists, who have groomed a rival "living Buddha" from another faction and schooled him in Communism in China.

"Get Tough" Policy Pays Off

Those observers who claim that the best means of reducing automobile accidents is by the imposition of severe sentences upon violators of the laws against drunken and negligent driving appear to have support for their arguments in the sharp reduction in the number of such cases being heard before the courts recently.

Faced with a virtual epidemic of impaired driving charges, local judges about 18 months ago adopted a "get-tough" policy against violators, sharply upping the fines imposed and lengthening the periods for which licences were suspended.

After this policy has been applied consistently for a comparatively short period, a sharp reduction was noted in the number of such cases coming before the courts.

The net result was that in 1958 the number of charges laid for this offence was 55 below that of the previous year. This is even more impressive than it appears on the surface as the earlier months of 1958 were in the "cooling down" period when the potential offenders were still unconvinced that the courts meant what they said.

Now that the efficacy of this "get tough" policy has been demonstrated, it is to be hoped that the bench will continue its stern application of the laws against negligent drivers.

Rev. Prof. H. C. Burt

The death of Rev. Prof. Henry Chadwick Burt, for over a third-of-a-century professor of philosophy and economics at Bishop's University will come as something of a personal loss to those former students of that institution who have been privileged to make his acquaintance during their university careers.

The relationship between "Pop" Burt, as he was affectionately known by successive classes at Bishop's, and his students was one of informality with anecdotes and lighter comment being used to supplement and impress the more stereotyped lectures which too often feature these subjects.

In the years in which he became almost an institution at Bishop's, Prof. Burt took a keen interest in the extra-curricular activities of the students and he was a keen supporter of many of the organizations which are a feature of college life.

But Professor Burt was also active outside strictly college spheres, contributing many articles on religious and philosophical matters to publications both in Canada and abroad.

Letter To The Editor

The Editor, Sherbrooke Daily Record.

Dear Sir: Some time ago, you published in the columns of your valued paper, a statement released March 4, 1959 by the St. Andrew County Protestant Central School Board.

board although signed by four, with no mention of the member who refused to sign) to their public responsibility.

The statement, by inference, invokes the doctrine of infallibility, a novel twist for a Protestant school board. In spite of the fact that it decries the lack of interest shown in school matters by the public at large, whenever interest is shown, it labels it "misrepresentation." Those of us who attended the meetings of the Central Board during February are all too aware of the source of any misrepresentation. It fails to say that the local school boards voted 4-2 against its decision with one board remaining neutral. It does not mention that the school principals and teachers protested its action or that it received signed petitions from ratepayers from all parts of the country.

Perhaps this is the "propaganda" which it states it cannot allow to influence its decisions. It now places the main reason for its decision on the poor performance of the Supervisor instead of on grounds of economy. This is understandable. The "economy" balloon was so riddled with holes after two public meetings that it collapsed. Even the chairman of the Education Committee could not muster enough lung-power to keep this one afloat.

Typical of the half-truths to which we are becoming accustomed is the statement re: inspectors and helping teachers. Surely, the honourable gentlemen of the board do not expect us to believe that a visit of a few days a year from an inspector and a helping teacher is going to replace the work of a supervisor. Are not our principals and teachers the best judges of the work of the supervisor? They have been unanimous in supporting him.

The gentleman of the board might well have spared us the crocodile tears in para 20, "it is with regret that the Central Board has been forced, etc., to disclose these unpleasant details, etc." It has shown that it really does not want public interest because this might interfere with its authoritarian rule.

The people of St. Andrew County have the board they deserve if as the statement points out, likely candidates on local boards are sometimes initially nominated by the school janitor. This is one statement from the board that I find not too difficult to believe.

Perhaps this whole matter will make us all more alert to our responsibilities in the future.

However, let us first deal with the present. In view of its lack of public support, the members of the present board who signed the published statement should resign.

JAMES B. CONNOR, Magog.

HISTORY'S GREATEST CHARITY:

FATHER, FORGIVE THEM; FOR THEY KNOW NOT WHAT THEY DO.

Gets Close Attention

West German Refugee Problem

By DOUGLAS AMARON

BERLIN (CP)—The problem of refugees is one of the most important facing West Germany today and one that the nation is giving its closest attention.

Every day some 300 refugees arrive in West Berlin from East Berlin or the Soviet zone. They bring only what they can carry in their hands, for to cross the guarded frontier with more would arouse suspicion.

Their numbers now total 3,000,000 and the situation is aggravated by the presence of an additional 9,000,000 Germans expelled by the Communists from the Polish- and Russian-occupied eastern provinces.

Among them, refugees and "expellees" make up almost one-quarter of West Germany's population, and since all have lived under Communist occupation they add emphasis to German opposition to any softness by the West in dealing with Khrushchev.

Most refugees come to the West through West Berlin because access from the eastern sector of the city is relatively easy. The zone, on the other hand, is sealed off from Berlin by barbed wire and is patrolled by armed soldiers and police in some places dogs.

The 300 who come to West Berlin each day find refuge in a camp that has been built so it can be converted into apartments if the refugee problem ceases to exist. They are screened by a three-man commission and more than 99 per cent are admitted.

A handful, such as known criminals, are not accepted as refugees but are allowed to remain in Berlin in special camps. There are about 400 such persons in Berlin at present.

After 12 days in Berlin during which they undergo medical examination, the majority of refugees are flown to West Germany and distributed among the provinces, each of which has an annual quota. None travel to the West by train for fear they would be removed by the Communists who control the railways.

There are special camps in West Germany where refugees may stay until they are integrated but camp life is optional and many join their relatives or friends.

Jobs are found in Germany's booming industries, for most refugees are industrial workers. Professional men—and there is an increasing number of them leaving the East—resume their professions, and one-half of those who at one time operated their own businesses are in the same line of work again.

Only farmers are difficult to place. Germany has no spare farm land and farmers are not easily integrated into industrial life.

Housing for refugees is subsidized by the state, provinces and cities and there are personal subsidies for individual refugees. Social security helps to look after those who can't find work.

The picture is not all bright, however, and Dr. Peter Paul Nahm, secretary of state in the ministry for refugees, says 400,000 refugees and "expellees" still live in camps, while the same number make their homes in former air raid shelters, cellars and other poor living conditions.

On the whole, he said, the people who have fled the East are in the lower third of Germany's living bracket.

The situation will improve, for West Germany has been building 400,000 homes a year for the last 10 years and apart from the coal industry there is no recession.

More than 25 per cent of the refugees are in the 18- to 24-year age group and, including children, nearly 50 per cent of all refugees are under 25. Older people are less willing to pull up stakes and the Communists do not bother with the aged the way they do with the young.

Most refugees and "expellees" stay in West Germany once they arrive, although the Communists say from 900 to 1,000 return to the East each month. Dr. Karl Zimmer, director of the refugee centre in West Berlin, said however that about 600 of these return later to the West and few go back a second time.

Emigration is not encouraged because it would remove specialists needed in West Germany and at the same time take away the bread-winner who is supporting parents and grandparents.

There is no ban on emigration, however, and about one-quarter of the 170,000 persons who have left Germany since the beginning of 1953 were refugees or expellees. For the most part, however, they prefer to remain in Germany.

Most of them hope some day to return to their homes in the East and fear this will be more difficult if they move away. Family groups, separated for 12 years or more, do not want to be split up again.

THE ART OF EATING PANCAKES

(Toronto Telegram)

Soon the sap will be running in the sugar bush. And as the wood smoke mingles with the sweet vapors of the maple's lifeblood, the thoughts of any red-blooded Canadian must turn to pancakes and maple syrup.

Supreme pleasure from their consumption comes not from good cooking alone, but from the best techniques in stacking and eating. A few basic rules:

Decide in advance how many pancakes you are going to eat; the wisdom of this will become apparent as you proceed. The pancakes should be not more than six inches in diameter, and little less. Cook them all at once or as fast as the batter can be ladled out—no matter how large a griddle or how many frying pans this requires.

Use your own favorite recipe. Cook the pancakes to a fluffy, golden brown, crisp around the edges. Place the first one on a warm plate as soon as it is done. Right in the middle of it lay a pat of butter an inch and a quarter square by one-quarter thick (preferably farm butter, especially if your recipe doesn't call for buttermilk). Don't spread the butter around, but if your cooking technique is good the second pancake should now be done and it must be attacked at once on top of the first. This process is repeated until all the pancakes are stacked alternately with pats of butter. It is permissible to top this structure with two pats of butter and spread them around. Pour a generous dollop of maple syrup over the lot and you are ready to begin.

A word of warning: Do not attack this creation aimlessly. Cut a slice from the outside edge; savor it; rotate the plate slightly; cut another slice. When you have thus traversed the 360 degrees circumference of the cylindrical stack, being again. Never take two bites in succession from the same spot.

It may be necessary to replenish the maple syrup from time to time. If the lip of the plate is deep enough to take the syrup all at once, so much the better.

As you work slowly towards the heart of this masterpiece, the need for following the directions religiously will become apparent. The pleasure increases with each bite. And the last bite, sopping with butter and maple syrup, is the ultimate delight in maple syrup and pancake. The need for deciding in advance how many pancakes you can eat will also be obvious. When this last, supreme morsel has passed the lips, there can be no pleasure in starting again from the outside until the next pancake feed.

WHEN NOT TO SWAP HORSES

It is perfectly all right to swap horses in mid-stream if your first horse breaks a leg. Otherwise, you had best stay with him.

South's four heart contract looked reasonable enough to him. He needed either the heart finesse or a successful guess for the jack of clubs to insure it.

The deuce of spades opening gave him another idea. He could strip the hand of diamonds and spades, play ace and another trump and if trumps broke the man with the lead would have to play clubs for him. So South won the first spade in dummy and led the deuce of diamonds. East went up with the queen and South had his horse-swapping idea.

Obviously East held both the king and queen of diamonds so that the jack could be established for a club discard. South led the queen of hearts and finessed.

East won with the king and played king and another diamond. West ruffed and dummy overruffed but there went the club discard.

Now South had to try the club guess himself. He pulled East's last trump and led a club to his king. West took the ace and shot the suit back. South played dummy's ten and East's jack set the hand.

Gerald Waring REPORTING

OTTAWA — One aspect of the Diefenbaker-Smallwood controversy which I am sure must puzzle others as it does me is how it can be wrong to send RCMP reinforcements to Newfoundland, but right for the RCMP already on the island to do what the reinforcements, had they been despatched, presumably would be doing.

That is, maintaining law and order.

Justice Minister Fulton explained in these words the reason behind his novel and ingenious interpretation of the RCMP contract between the two governments:

"I am not prepared to see the RCMP... (become) ... an agency for union-busting."

Now, this remarkable statement must mean either of two things: First, that Fulton has knowledge that the provincial authorities intended to use the reinforcements in a way not in keeping with the RCMP's traditional role as upholders of the law. If so, he has failed to make such knowledge public. Or his statement must mean that the 200 RCMP in Newfoundland have already been used as strike breakers. But this he denies. The police in Newfoundland, he said, "have done a creditable job of keeping the middle position and in enforcing law and order."

Fulton then added that "sending 50 more reinforcements would put an entirely different complexion on it." But how? He says that reinforcements would further aggravate the situation, but that begs the question. How would the reinforcements change the complexion of the RCMP in Newfoundland? Fulton has not offered any direct answer to this question, and until he does his reputation is likely to be affected by a suspicion that he used the powers of his office for a political purpose, to embarrass and discredit the Liberal administration in Newfoundland.

The crux of the matter is, if Fulton did not go too far, then he explained too little.

The government of Canada was committed by contract with the government of Newfoundland to send RCMP reinforcements to the latter's request, "if in the opinion of the attorney-general of Canada (i.e., Fulton), have regard to other responsibilities and duties of the force, such increase is possible."

Fulton decided against sending reinforcements, and the cabinet supported him. Many allege that Fulton's decision was a breach of the contract. Whether that is so can be decided finally only by the courts, and Premier Smallwood has announced he will sue the federal government for breach of contract.

If the case ever comes to trial, the courts must decide whether the "having regard" clause of the contract is sufficiently broad to warrant Fulton's interpretation of it. That is that the availability of reinforcements cannot be decided by "a mere mathematical calculation", but must include consideration of factors as broad as the attorney-general's disapproval of policies of the provincial government requesting the reinforcements.

Fulton sees his responsibility this way: For the RCMP "to be a successful and effective law enforcement agency, there has to be a degree of (public) acceptance of it. If I allow that acceptance to be destroyed, it ceases to be an effective law enforcement agency."

This principle is wholly praiseworthy. But Fulton has not yet sufficiently related it to the situation in Newfoundland to satisfy many observers here.

Matter of FACT

One of the strangest of all trees is the banyan, a member of the mulberry family and a native of India. Such a tree may have as many as 350 large trunks, besides thousands of smaller ones. It may grow to a height of 100 feet and cover a wide area. A banyan has been known to shelter 7,000 men at one time. The Hindus regard the tree as sacred.

The Doctor Says

there may be a family tendency. It is known, however, that tobacco smoking, infection, ringworm, and a chemical poison known as ergot play a part in the origin of the disease, at least in some people.

In this connection it is interesting to note that chronic poisoning brought about through eating ergotized bread, particularly when it is rye bread, appears to bring on the disease in some people.

Not all victims of Buerger's disease can be treated alike. Absolute avoidance of tobacco, removal of any sources of infection and a good intake of fluids and salts are generally recommended.

In the more serious cases the use of drugs to prevent coagulation of the blood may be useful. Good results also have been reported with a machine applied to the leg which will vary the pressure on the blood vessels, something like the way a milking machine works.

Surgery may be necessary. When the blood supply has been stopped to a toe, for example, the tissues will die and the entire toe may have to be cut off.

Raynaud's disease is a related blood disorder—with certain important differences. In this disorder the blood vessels affected go into spasms and contract, especially when exposed to cold. An emotional upset acts in a similar manner.

Raynaud's disease is most common in the hands. Consequently the fingers often turn white when put in cold water or when anything else happens which produces a contraction of the blood vessels. Exposure to cold, emotional upsets and like factors which bring on the symptoms should be avoided. Here, too, tobacco must be

BLOOD VESSEL DISEASES ARE OFTEN BAFFLING AFFLICTIONS

Buerger's disease is an inflammation of the lining of the blood vessels, particularly those in the legs and feet. It may lead in time to the complete blockage of blood flow through the involved blood vessels.

Thus the normal pulsation of the blood vessels in the affected limb may disappear entirely. This is one of the characteristic signs. This disease is much more common in men than in women, but whether this is due to heavier smoking or to some other reason is unknown. Actually, the exact cause is not entirely clear, though

Small Fry Hatch Easter Decorations

Easter vacation marks the start of the spring social season for the youngsters almost as certainly as it does for their elders.

Aside from the flurry of birthday parties which must be met and survived as they come, there are clubs, school and social organizations, all planning some sort of event that may involve your daughter (and you) in some key capacity such as planning refreshments.

Although there is a wealth of clever, ready-made party table decorations available, a limited budget precludes any big expenditure on decorations.

Youngsters I know like a festive setting, but want the money available to be spent on food.

Recently, a committee of Brownies meeting in our home to plan a springtime program agreed to test ideas for gay party table favors which would:

- 1—Be very inexpensive.
- 2—Be easy enough for a 9-year-old to make and not too difficult for a mother-in-a-hurry to whip up.
- 3—Look bright and fun-filled.

The ideas are those of a young artist who knows more tricks with construction paper than does a magician with a rabbit.

The results of our trying them were successful, and I pass the instructions along for your possible use.

TWO COLORFUL contributions are place-favor bunnies holding little cups of candy and a centerpiece of bright "flowers" which echo the colors of dyed eggs and candy ones around them.

The materials needed include construction paper, an empty cottage cheese container, cellophane and plastic tapes, cotton swabs, drinking straws and water colors.

Make a pattern for the bunny—one with arms and legs outstretched—ours were each about six inches.

Cut bunnies from construction paper and paint features on the face.

Bow tie, hands and feet you can snip from colored plastic tapes, or you can use paint.

Bend each bunny at waist and fold his arms around a nut cup. Tape in place with clear tape. For extra security use a small piece of tape or paste to stick cup to his lap.

THE FLOWER POT is made by covering a cottage cheese container with colored construction paper. Fasten with cellulose tape.

Ornament it with a painted design around the sides—using brush and water colors or a cotton swab dipped in paint. Turn container upside down and punch six small holes in bottom.

To make flowers, outline simple flower shapes with black ink on bright colored papers and cut them out.

Snap a cotton swab in half and insert in center of each flower. Insert the end into a drinking straw and put the straw into a hole in cottage cheese container.

Scatter small candy eggs around the base of the flowers. If you are using the flower pot at center of table, you might want to set it on a lace paper doily backed by colored paper and weighted with home-dyed Easter eggs.

An Easter vacation party is fun to plan. This nine-year-old stretches the party budget by making her own table decorations. Pink bunnies, colored, potted flowers, and a generous supply of dyed eggs and Easter candy are all readied for the guests.

Traditional But Different: Ham With Honeyed Peaches

For many, ham for Easter has become a tradition. Today, of course, the favorite hams have been brown sugar-cured and cooked over hardwood fires. Also, they come from a lean type of hog, and are further trimmed so that there is less fat and waste.

On the short shank ham, a popular choice, much of the skin and excess fat have been removed. When buying this short shank type, or any bone-in ham, figure on about one-third pound per serving.

These short shank hams come in two styles: cook-before-eating or fully cooked.

For special occasions like Easter dinner, you'll want to give the ham a bit of dress-up.

HAM, PEACHES 'N' HONEY STYLE

Bake a ham, either the cook-before-eating or the fully cooked kind, according to the directions on the wrapper. One-half hour before time indicated on the schedule, remove ham from oven. Four off drippings. Remove shank skin if present. Cut fat into diamond shapes. Drizzle ¼ cup of honey over surface of ham. Place drained canned peach halves around ham. Spoon a teaspoonful of honey into each peach half. Return ham to oven to brown-glaze and complete baking. Serve ham with peaches.

Try this for a small family.

MAPLE-GLAZED HAM (Makes about 12 servings)
One ready-to-eat half ham (6 to 8 pounds), whole cloves, 1 cup maple-blended syrup.

Place the ham fat-side up on rack in shallow baking pan. Heat in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 45 minutes. Then pour off drippings; remove the rind. Score fat and garnish with cloves.

Pour 1/3 cup syrup over ham every 15 minutes; repeat twice. Then continue to bake until the ham is glazed and golden brown, about 15 minutes longer. Total baking time about 2 hours. If desired, serve syrup mixture as sauce over ham.

EASTER DINNER: Avocado and grapefruit cup, ham baked with peaches in honey, casserole of whipped potatoes with grated cheese, fresh asparagus with butter, new carrots, spring salad bowl, angel cake with fresh or frozen strawberries, coffee, tea, milk.

Mrs. A. Mountain Entertains W. A. At South Durham

SOUTH DURHAM—The Women's Association of the United Church met at the home of Mrs. A. Mountain. A visitor Mrs. F. Richmond, was welcomed.

The president, Mrs. Everett Coote, was in charge of the devotional period.

The secretary, Mrs. M. Coole, read the minutes and correspondence, and Mrs. A. Mountain gave the financial report.

The sum of $250 will be given to the board of stewards, and $5 to the Red Cross.

A supper of Irish stew was served.

The next meeting will be held in the United Church hall on April 8, with all members assisting.

GENERAL NOTES

Mr. Grover Montgomery has returned home from the Sherbrooke Hospital, where he has been under observation.

Miss Margaret Montgomery motored from Montreal to spend a few days with her father, Mr. Roland Montgomery.

Miss Betty Lou Millar, of Montreal, spent the weekend at her home here. Mrs. Lloyd Millar accompanied her back to the city to visit her brother, Mr. Howard Hughes, a patient in the General hospital.

Oriental Theme For Linen Ball

The William Street Armoury will take on an Oriental atmosphere on April 4th, when the annual Linen Ball will be held in the setting of an enchanting Japanese garden.

Multi-coloured lanterns overhead and the mysterious swaying of gaily decorated mobiles will add a touch of eye-catching beauty. Huge murals painted in silver and gold, and representing different aspects of Japanese life will give an authentic background for the delicately tinted trees adorned with shimmering spangles.

To bring out the detail of Japanese tradition, several Japanese scenes have been received from the Embassy of Japan in Ottawa. Ushers will be garbed in beautiful Japanese costumes and to add to the mystery, and unidentified rickshaw boy will wander among the guests. Even a Japanese "Hit-Parade" has been arranged to delight the music lover.

Members of the Hospital Auxiliary, under whose auspices the ball is held, have left no stone unturned to make this event one of the outstanding social events of the year.

Fashion

It may sound daring but it will be a lift to your spirits this spring: a pair of lavender kid pumps. Pretty with navy blue and stunning with the softer blues.

Courage with color is the one thing that keeps the clothes we wear from looking drab. But it doesn't mean, ever, that a red hat and green shoes will mix. To look well, colors must blend, not clash.

Women's Groups

SANGSTER MEMORIAL W. A.

The regular meeting of the Sangster Memorial Woman's Association, was conducted by Mrs. E. Morel, with Mrs. R. Wheeler in charge of the devotional period.

Plans were finalized for the Amateur Night on April 1, and the date of the anniversary supper was set for April 9.

Mrs. M. Fuller from Trinity Church, as guest speaker, spoke of the role women played in the life of the early church. Records dating back to 1897 clearly proved the valuable contributions made by the pioneer women towards the establishment of churches in the Eastern Townships.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. J. Edmond and Mrs. C. Wilson.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH LADIES' AID

Mrs. Geo. M. Dick was hostess to St. Andrew's Ladies' Aid on Wednesday afternoon last at her home on Walton Ave. Mrs. Lewis Dunsmore presided, and opened the meeting with a short devotional period.

Routine business included a report of the Phantom tea held earlier in the afternoon and the request that members turn in articles for the May tea to Mrs.

Homemaking

What's underfoot these days may be deceiving. New styles in rubber and solid vinyl floorings take their inspiration from classic marble. The translucent effects in solid vinyl closing follow the delicate veining of quarried marble. Marbled effects in resilient rubber tile combine a wide variety of gay hues with white.

There is direction to painting. Inside, start by painting the ceiling. Then the walls, wood trim and doors. Paint the ceiling in two 2 x 2-foot strips across the width, not the length, of the room, as this will keep a wet edge to work on. When painting walls, start in a top corner, proceed downward covering a strip as wide as the arm can reach comfortably.

KINGSBURY

Mrs. Donald Goodfellow and son, Kevan, are spending a few days with her mother at Smiths Falls, Ont.

That Optimistic, Patient, Happy Group—Gardeners

It used to strike me as strange that people who love to garden are almost always likable and pleasant to be around.

But I think I've got it figured out now. The gardener is an optimist. He has to be to forget last summer's drought, the plague of grasshoppers and the backbreaking work of weeding, hoeing, fertilizing. He must face each new spring with glorious visions of the way his garden is going to look "this year."

Then, too, the gardener is a patient person. He can plant bulbs in the fall and wait for them to break through the soil in the spring.

He can nurse a sickly plant along, coaxing it by food and water and loving care into sturdy growth. He can wait for leaves to come out and buds to form. You can't be an impatient person and really enjoy gardening.

The gardener, also, is a person with a seeing eye. He is entranced with color, shape and form. A blue sky, a plant just breaking into bloom or a hummingbird at work, can make him as happy.

The gardener is also generous. For much of the pleasure in growing things is in sharing.

A true gardener is always urging you to take home a bouquet, or a cutting of the plants you admire most in his garden. The beauty he is responsible for he loves to share.

And last of all, the gardener is enthusiastic. He is so excited with growing things that he has to show you the peach tree that is in full bloom or the daffodils that have just opened.

And the nice thing about his enthusiasm is that it is for things without a price tag. Who knows the money value of a tree whose bare branches in winter form a lovely pattern against the sky and whose green branches in spring hide a bird's nest?

Who knows the value of an old lilac bush that fills the spring air with fragrance?

MANNERS MAKE FRIENDS

You appreciate the kindness of the person who goes out of his way to do something for you. But silent appreciation isn't enough. You should make a point of saying "Thank you" promptly for any favor.

Neglecting to express your appreciation not only shows a lack of courtesy, but a lack of consideration for the feelings of others.

All About Stamps

Among the philatelic agencies that are located in nearly every country the agency operated by the Netherlands is about the best. Those of you who receive their bulletins and illustrated booklets will certainly agree with that statement. The newest booklet is well produced and most attractive. If you would like to receive the releases and at the same time add some stamps from the Netherlands to your collection you should write to: Netherlands Postal and Telecommunications Services, Philatelic Service, The Hague, Netherlands. Remember, you read about this service in this column.

A really nice collection of stamps can now be formed from the ones issued, and the stamps that will be issued, honoring NATO. It might be a good idea to start as soon as possible because one never knows when a set may become scarce. A collection such as this can be added too by the use of information regarding NATO, this information could include:

Finland will issue two commemorative stamps on May 13 to celebrate the centenary of the Department of Forestry and it will also commemorate the anniversary of the first steam saw mill at the same time. The stamp for the Department of Forestry will picture a stand of trees and the sawmill a log being sawed. The United States will try something new in the of commemoratives on the 20th of April at Washington, D.C. This will be the 8-cent "World Peace Through World Trade" stamps. This stamp is being issued in conjunction with the 17th Congress of the International Chamber of Commerce which will be held the week of April 19 to 25 at the Sheraton-Park Hotel, in Washington, D.C.

The newest set of stamps from Ghana is about as colourful as possible but one must admit that the printing and design of the stamps is good, that applies whether or not you like the native art. It seems that Ghana has lost out with a great number of collectors due to the short supply of the Lincoln sheet. The writer agrees with those of you who deplore such a situation but at the same time it would seem wise to hold onto the stamps you already have — remember, the agency is run by experts in the field of public relations and selling, and new collectors will be added continuously, this will be accomplished through newspaper advertising and news releases that will keep the name of Ghana before the public all the time.

There are not too many collectors who want the stamps from the Straits Settlements, for years these stamps were unattractive and of the same design, however, during recent years the designs have improved and now there are some real nice stamps. The stamp issued for the installation of the Sultan Abdul Halim Muazzam Shah on Feb. 20 in Kedah somehow seems to be striking in appearance. You can either agree with me or not, but tell me when you see me. I'd like to know. You might do well to watch Nigeria, she will be independent soon, in fact the first step took place on the 15th of this month when Self Government was initiated in the Northern Region, this event being commemorated with two stamps. New Zealand issued a good looking set of stamps for the Marlborough Centennial, but then, most other dominions do issue sets that collectors want and at the same time do much to draw attention to the industries and attractions of certain areas. It would seem that Canada could do as well, after all, we are supposed to be one of the leaders in the Commonwealth, and along these lines one cannot help but think of the publicity value in the United States where many people do not realize our wealth and world position.

Drummondville Wins Provincial Championship

Belt St. Vincent De Paul 12-6 To Win Series 15-9 And Walk Off With Bregent Trophy For Top Honors

By LEN O'DONNELL

DRUMMONDVILLE — Lou Poliquin's Rockets are the new Provincial Intermediate "A" hockey champions. The champions of the Eastern Townships Hockey League gave the Montreal Laval League champs a lesson in goal scoring last night as they walloped them to the tune of 12-6 and walked off with the two-game total-point series 15-9.

The Series which opened Monday evening was supposed to be a close battle but the Rockets, after a poor showing in the opener, came back strong last night to outplay St. Vincent de Paul in all departments. The first tilt finished in a 3-3 deadlock and the Montrealers, prior to last night's game, were confident they would win the series.

The Rockets came up with a strong two-way display and right from the opening whistle they dominated the game. It was only the outstanding work of Bobby Bleau which held the Rockets down. Time after time he was left at the mercy of the fast-stepping Poliquin squad as they swarmed all over him.

Lester Lahaye, Maurice Boivin, Claude Aubry and Kenny Biggs paced the attack with two goals each while Paquin, Bobby Pepin, Remi Lesage and Jacques Morin were the marksmen in the onslaught. For the Saints it was Gagne and Vezina with two each while Lapointe and M. Trotter registered the others.

The Rockets were ahead 5-2 at the end of the first period. Each club added two in the second but in the final frame the home club batted another five by Bleau while holding the Saints to two. Bleau stopped 53 shots fired at him while Joe Lacoursiere had an easy time with only 16.

The tilt opened with a drive as the Rockets were out to demonstrate that they were a better team than they showed Monday evening. Ken Biggs, who gave a nice display of stick-handling with his tricky shifting, set up the first marker when he walked in deked the defense and then gave Lahaye a perfect pass.

The Saints exchanged goals for the first four but three quick ones ended things with the Rockets ahead 5-2. In the middle frame the visitors gave their best performance in holding the Rockets to two while registering the same. However in the third the roof caved in, or we should say that Bobby Bleau had reached the end of his line. He was all in and his mates were standing by. He was an open target and the Rockets really blasted plenty of rubber at him.

With the score 7-4 at the start of the final period Aubry potted his second tally to give the Rockets a 8-4 lead. This stood up until the thirteen minute mark and then bang the roof dropped on Lacoursiere 3 5 8-16 Bleau 20 20 13-53

Lennoxville High School Curling Bonspiel Opens Tomorrow Morning With Twelve Rinks Taking Part

The third annual Lennoxville High School Curling Bonspiel opens tomorrow morning with 12 rinks from all over the Province competing, announced Stan Hamilton, chairman of the tournament.

The E. E. Denison Trophy will be at stake for the winning rink of section "A" as the tourney will be divided into three sections. The other two are listed as the first and second consolation sections.

In order to run off the event it will be necessary to use both Sherbrooke and Lennoxville sheets as it is played on a round-robin system. The first shift is slated for 10.00 and will continue throughout the day at every two hour intervals.

Sherbrooke High School tops the list of entries with two while the host school was forced to withdraw one rink owing to sickness. North Hatley, Thetford Mines, Town of Mount Royal, Three Rivers, Howick, Drummondville, St. Lambert and the John Renzie High School of Pointe Claire along with St. Pat's High School of Quebec City.

A banquet will be held tomorrow evening at the Lennoxville High School at which all the players are invited to attend. This is the first time such a long list of schools are competing in the bonspiel and some good games should be witnessed.

86 Teams To Take Part In Pee Wee Hockey Tourney

GODERICH, Ont. (CP) — A good-sized chunk of Canada's hockey future will descend on this Lake Huron community during the next eight days, eager for play in what is called the biggest little hockey tournament in the world.

The invasion by some 1,200 peewees 12 years and under from points as far as Winnipeg and Quebec City will be part of Young Canada Week.

Some 85 teams will take part in the tournament which began 10 years ago as a one-day affair for 10 Goderich-area teams.

The 6,000 residents of Goderich take the boys under their care each year, billeting, feeding and entertaining them. Some folks take in complete teams for the night.

Stratford, Ont., last year won the grand championship.

Royals Drop 3-2 Verdict To Lions

TROIS-RIVIERES, Que. (CP) — Trois-Rivieres Lions Wednesday night won the first game of a three-team round-robin Quebec Hockey League playoff by downing Montreal Royals 3-2.

In a rough, fast game, the Lions kept the pressure on Royals all the way and cracked through in the third period after flubbing countless opportunities in the first period.

Gilles Thibault, Gerry Desautels and Bob McCord scored the Lions goals. Fern Perreault and Kelly Burnett scored for Montreal.

Palmer-Souchak Tie In Pro-Am Seminole Tourney

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Arnold Palmer and Mike Souchak tied with 141 Wednesday to win $900 each in the pro division of the Seminole pro-amateur golf tournament.

Ben Hogan, Art Wall, Jim Ferree and Gene Littler all tied for third at 171.

Boom Boom Geoffrion May Become Key Figure In Canadiens' Plans To Down Chicago Black Hawks Tonight

MONTREAL — (CP) — Coach Rudy Pilous called his Chicago Black Hawks into a skull session today still firmly convinced he has the right strategy to upset Montreal Canadiens in the clubs' best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-final.

From the outset, Pilous has expounded the theory that if Montreal's so-called big line — Dickie Moore, Jean Beliveau and Marcel Bonin — is stopped, the Canadiens are stopped.

Canadiens Tuesday night grabbed the first game 4-2 and are favored to repeat tonight before the scene shifts to Chicago for games Saturday and Tuesday.

The Hawks succeeded in stopping Moore and Beliveau, the one-two finishers in the National Hockey League scoring derby. They overlooked the upstart Bonin, who rapped in two goals — and away went the strategy.

"We'll iron out several things at today's meeting," said Pilous. "Maybe we're dropping back too fast from the Montreal end. Maybe we're not aggressive enough. I may make a change on my third line."

The change Pilous is contemplating is putting Ken Wharram at centre on the third line, flanked by Bobby Hull and Eric Nesterenko.

"That will give Phil Maloney a rest," said Pilous. "He has been playing a lot lately and may be tiring."

Otherwise, Pilous is expected to repeat with his other two lines. His big scoring punch admittedly rests with Ted Sloan, who scored two goals Tuesday, Eddie Litzenger and Ted Lindsay. He has Glen Skov, Earl Balfour and Lorne Ferguson on another line.

Pilous had it all figured out before Tuesday's game that the Skov - Balfour - Ferguson combination would be his checking line against Montreal's big three. Pilous tried repeatedly to bring this about. Montreal coach Toe Blake would have no part of it. The lines were changed at a furious pace early in the game, and still Blake met Pilous' big line with his own ace scorers.

"Blake has the privilege at home of playing what lines he wishes against mine," said Rudy. "It will be the other way around in Chicago."

Blake is grooming Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion for a regular assignment after a long layoff, and the Boomer's scoring punch might readily cause Pilous to reassess his defensive lines.

If Blake carries out his plan, he will use the burly rightwinger on a line with rookies Ralph Backstrom and Ab McDonald, the Boomer's old linemates.

Henri (Pocket Rocket) Richard may centre a line with Andre Pronovost and Claude Provost on the wings, particularly if Phil Goyette is unable to play. Goyette suffered a deep cut on his ankle in Tuesday's game.

Bruins And Leafs Thinking Of Using Fourth Line To Offset Bone-Jarring Bodychecks, Move To Toronto Saturday

BOSTON (CP) — Boston Bruins and Toronto Maple Leafs resume their Stanley Cup hockey semi-final tonight with rival coaches thinking of employing four lines to offset bone-jarring bodychecks.

"I'll wait and see what happens, but I have a fourth line ready to go if needed," said Boston coach Mill Schmidt, whose Bruins enjoy a 1-0 edge in the best-of-seven series.

Both teams employed makeshift forward units in the final stages of Boston's 5-0 victory in the series opener here Tuesday night. At one time Leafs had four defencemen on the ice.

The teams exchanged heavy body slams before Bruins captured the opener on three second-period goals and the sensational goaltending of veteran Harry Lumley.

Leafs blamed the loss on the 32-year-old Lumley's performance and the "wrong" bounce of the puck. They served notice they intend to continue their hard checking in an attempt to square the series.

"We've been a good body-checking team all season and we'll exchange slams with the Bruins any time," Imlach said. "They're supposed to be the hitting team, but we can hold our own."

The series shifts to Toronto for games Saturday and Tuesday. The winner meets either Canadiens or Chicago Black Hawks, who clash in Montreal tonight with the Habs holding a 1-0 lead in their series.

Welfare Groups In Waterloo To Form Federation

WATERLOO — Mayor Armand Russell called a meeting in the Council Room of the City Hall to discuss forming a federation of all the local welfare associations.
