BRITISH GOVERNMENT FACES ORDEAL TODAY

Commission To Obtain Markets For British Exports

Are Prophesying Defeat Of Labor Ministry Today

Question at Issue Is Government's Policy Toward Unemployment—Conservatives and Many of the Liberals Complain that MacDonald Government Has Done Nothing to Justify Claim of Its Spokesmen that Labor Alone Has Remedy for Unemployment, and Some of Extremists Among Laborites Themselves Agree, All Saying that Government Has Merely Continued Policy of Its Predecessors.

(Associated Press Despatch.)

LONDON, May 22.—The Labor Government is facing another ordeal in the House of Commons today, and notwithstanding the failure of their recent predictions on similar occasions to eventuate, the political writers again are prophesying the defeat of the ministry. The question at issue is the Government's policy toward unemployment. The Conservatives and many of the Liberals complain that the Government has done nothing to justify the claims of its spokesmen that labor alone has the remedy for unemployment, and some of the extremists among the Laborites agree—all saying that the Government has merely continued the policy of its predecessors. The Conservatives, accordingly, are moving today to reduce the salary of the Labor Minister, Tom Shaw, by £100, so as to enable the House to express its opinion. Hope of voting down the Government is based partly on the fact that a large number of Liberals are attending a party meeting at Brighton, thus preventing them from coming to the Government's aid should they decide for tactical reasons to waive the complaints, rise in Liberal ranks, of labor hostility. The vote, however, may be averted by the motion being taken out, although the movers will try to prevent this. In any case the Government's position is not likely to be affected, and the worst happening if it is defeated will probably be that Shaw will lose £100 a year. The Minister of Labor has already indicated his line of defence, saying that, despite the criticism, the unemployment has shown phenomenal decline to the Government's policy.

Sir Henry Thornton and Lady Thornton, accompanied by their daughter, Miss Anna Thornton, attended the opening of the Woodbine race course, Toronto, on Saturday, and are shown as they arrived at the track.

NEGOTIATIONS RE NEW GERMAN CABINET FAIL

Nationalists Insisted Upon Right to Appoint Admiral Von Tirpitz as New Chancellor.

(Associated Press Despatch) BERLIN, May 22.—The negotiations between the middle parties and the German Nationalists on the subject of the formation of a Government have failed, owing to the Nationalists' insistence upon their right to appoint Admiral Von Tirpitz as the new Chancellor. The other parties refused to discuss a personal question of this nature until the policy of the future government was settled, whereupon the negotiations broke down.

STATES THAT A 'PETTING PARTY' COST $362,000

Boston Merchant Told Court of Paying Money to Detectives, Lawyers and the Injured Woman.

(Associated Press Despatch) CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 22.—Edmund D. Barbour, eighty-three years old, suffering from heart disease, infirm, and able to see but a few feet in front of him, tottered to the witness stand of the Middlesex Superior Court yesterday and testified that he had paid over to Daniel H. Coakley, disbarred Boston lawyer, $362,000 in cash, bonds and stocks for a "petting party" he had in his office with "Mrs. Daley," Barbour, a Boston china merchant, told the court that he had never been the same since the occurrence—that his body became infirm and his mentality was shaken. Coakley and William J. Corcoran, former District Attorney for the county, went on trial yesterday on indictments for conspiracy to extort money from Barbour and others by means of threats between 1914 and the present time. The incident, according to the witness, occurred in 1916. Barbour said that he had known the "Mrs. Daley" for ten years previous to that. One day in July, 1916, he testified she came to his office for money. "While she was there," he said, "I embraced her and we had a petting party—just a petting party, your Honor, and nothing else." By the time that he got through paying "respectful but unidentified detectives, lawyers, and the injured woman," Barbour testified that he had expended $362,000. This amount, he said he delivered to Coakley in cash, stocks and bonds.

RESOLUTIONS ON THE BUDGET CONSIDERED

Very Little Progress Was Made—First Reading of Superannuation Bill Was Given Yesterday.

(Associated Press Despatch) OTTAWA, Ont., May 22.—The superannuation bill was given first reading in the House of Commons yesterday. The remainder of the afternoon was given over to consideration in committee of budget resolutions, very little progress being made.

The Senate discussed Senator Turri's proposal for Senate reform. Senator Dandurand recommended that the senators await for some concrete proposal from the Government before making any decision.

Today in the House of Commons the superannuation bill will come up for second reading and Labor Department estimates are also on the tapis.

In the Senate today Senator George Foster will make a special address on the activities of the League of Nations during the past year.

(Associated Press Despatch) OTTAWA, May 22.—A charge that there is still a combine controlling freight rates on the Great Lakes was made in the House yesterday by L. P. (Associated Press Despatch) THREE RIVERS, May 22.—Hon. Andre Fauteux, speaking here last night, declared Canada was facing the greatest crisis in her history as the result of the present budget. British Government Very Anxious To See Development Of Overseas Part Of Empire Government Will Assist in Making Emigration as Easy as Possible—President of Board of Trade Announced that Commission Would Shortly Be Appointed to Investigate Question of Obtaining Markets for British Exports.

(Associated Press Despatch) LONDON, May 22.—(Cable) In course of the debate in the House of Commons last night, Sidney Webb, president of the Board of Trade, said the Government was as anxious as anyone to see the development of the overseas part of the Empire. They had accepted the economic conference resolution in this connection, and were desirous of making emigration as easy as possible. Mr. Webb said great stress should be laid on family migration and group migration and settlement, rather than on sporadic migration, and the Government was going to do something in that direction. The Government, he said, had renewed its offer to the Australian Commonwealth Government under the Empire Settlement Act of 1922 of a large grant in aid of settlement schemes or for development purposes, in connection therewith. The Government hoped that the scheme would result in large development of overseas settlement.

Mr. Webb announced that a commission would shortly be formed to investigate the question of obtaining markets for British exports. The British and the Commonwealth Governments have an agreement under which each bears half the costs of the passages of migrants. The nomination system under which any person residing in Australia may name one or more British subjects in Great Britain as prospective settlers or settlers, which entitles the persons named to assisted passage, is a feature of the arrangement.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL HOSPITAL IS LIKELY TO RECEIVE A CERTAIN AMOUNT FROM CHARITIES FUND

Rumor that Government Would Guarantee a Loan of Some $150,000 Is Denied by Premier Taschereau—Hospital Has Merely Asked for Aid from Charity Fund in Order that They May Meet Expenditures Which Have Led It to Ask for Assistance—Rumored that Mr. Lapierre, Member for Megantic, Had Been Named Minister Without Portfolio Is Also Denied.

(Associated Press Despatch) QUEBEC, QUE., May 22.—The Sherbrooke St. Vincent de Paul Hospital will in all probability receive a certain amount from the charities funds for a term of some twenty years, in order that they may meet expenditures which have led it to ask for aid from this fund. The matter was discussed yesterday at the meeting of the Provincial Cabinet, and it was rumored that the Government would guarantee a loan of some $150,000 to the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, but Premier Taschereau stated last evening that such was not the case, and that the hospital had merely asked for aid from the charity fund. It was also rumored during the course of the day that Mr. Lapierre, member for Megantic, had been named minister without portfolio, as Labor representative in the Cabinet, but Premier Taschereau also denied this rumor, stating that no appointment had been made, and that he did not know when the appointment, if any, would be made. Routine matters occupied the attention of the Cabinet for the remainder of the sitting.

I.O.O.F. GRAND LODGE CHOSE NEW OFFICERS

1925 Meeting to Be Held at Sutton—Sherbrooke Odd Fellows Officers of Grand Encampment.

The Grand Lodge of Quebec, I. O. O. F., will hold its 1925 session in Sutton, an invitation from the Oddfellows of that town having been accepted at yesterday's meeting in Montreal. The new Grand Master, Rev. Herbert Charters, who is a resident of Sutton, conveyed the invitation. The chief officers elected at yesterday's session of the Grand Lodge are as follows: Grand master, Rev. Herbert Charters, Sutton; deputy grand master, G. S. Heath, Stanstead; grand warden, Brother Findlay, Montreal; grand secretary, T. J. Potter, Montreal; grand treasurer, R. W. Dixon, Montreal. A proposal to increase the Home and Benevolent Fund was adopted. This provides for an assessment of the lodges on the basis of fifty cents per member annually for the next four years, payment from the lodges to be made semi-annually. This will yield about three thousand dollars per year, half of which will go to the capital account of the fund, and the other half to the revenue account, which will be immediately available for use in needy cases. At yesterday's session representatives were present from the jurisdictions of Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Ontario.

YOUNG CANOEIST LOST LIFE IN TORONTO BAY

War Canoe Overturned—Other Members of Crew Managed to Scramble to Sea Wall.

(Associated Press Despatch) TORONTO, May 22.—Overturned in the heavy sea outside the sea wall opposite the Toronto Canoe Club quarters, foot of Bowling Avenue, last evening, a war canoe spilled its fifteen occupants into the water, with the result that John Johnson, aged 24, was drowned. The other men managed to scramble to the sea wall, and they were taken from there by boats manned by members of the club. Both the police and the life-saving station were notified of the tragedy, but despite the fact that the crew dragged until late at night, the body of the unfortunate young man was not recovered. The crew were out practicing and were about ten to fifteen feet from the wall when the craft capsized.

Another Crime Record Established in New York—Hold-Ups Have Been Very Numerous

More Crime Experienced Within Past Twenty-four Hours Than in Any Other Similar Period in Several Months, According to New York Police.

(Associated Press Despatch) NEW YORK, May 22.—More crime was experienced here the past twenty-four hours than in any other similar period in several months, according to the police record. The first occurrence was a hold-up yesterday morning, in which one of two bandits was shot and killed by a policeman. The last was early today, when four ticket offices of the elevated and subway transportation lines and an East Side store were robbed almost simultaneously. Five armed men took part in one of these hold-ups. The other robberies occurred during the daylight hours yesterday. Axel Johnson and Albert Lake, two payroll guards, were shot down and $2,700 was taken from them in Brooklyn. Another hold-up, a half hour later, was by a young bobbed hair woman who entered the store of a dealer in picture frames, argued with him over some work, and suddenly took two guns from her handbag to clinch her argument. She robbed him of $60, but returned five dollars when he told her it was all the money he had and that he had a family in Russia to support. Yeggmen entered a retail paint store on the Bowery opposite one of the elevated stations which had been robbed early this morning and broke open two safes, escaping with $600. It is declared in police circles that the city is in the midst of another "crime wave." The last outbreak of crime culminated in the arrest and conviction of the bobbed hair bandit.

BOLSHEVISTS ARE NOT BACKED BY MAJORITY

Declares Grand Duke Nicholas Only Man Who Can Bring Russia Out of Its Present Chaos. (Associated Press Despatch) CHATHAM, Ont., May 22.—That the Grand Duke Nicholas, former commander of the Russian forces, is the only man who can bring Russia out of its present chaos, was the emphatic statement of W. O. Rodmar, a Russian of noble birth who is visiting here, in an address delivered before the Rotary Club yesterday. Rodmar stated that it is impossible for any government to do business with the present Russian administration and that so long as chaos remains in Russia the instability of Europe will continue. "The bolshevists will never be able to deal with any country in a business way, for they are not backed by the majority of the population," he said. "In fact they are hated." "It has taken the Grand Duke seven years to make up his mind to head the movement in which three million Russian refugees will endeavor to restore peace to their native land. There is no Russian who is so deeply loved. Even the men in the red forces love him. Once he crosses into Russia they will follow him."

AN AWFUL ATTACK OF PIMPLES ALL OVER HIS FACE

Pimples breaking out on the face and other parts of the body is a sure sign that the blood is not in proper shape.

While the skin is the object of the attack the real seat of the disease is in the blood on account of the entire circulation being poisoned.

Burdock Blood Bitters quickly and effectually banishes pimples and all other skin diseases as it goes right to the root of the trouble by cleansing and enriching the blood.

Mr. Conrad Anderson, Kelfield, Sask., writes: "A year ago I had an awful attack of pimples. They broke out all over my face and I could not get rid of them in any way. One day a friend told me about your Burdock Blood Bitters and let me have a bottle he had to spare. After using it I noticed a change, so I bought three more bottles, and now I don't know there is such a thing as pimples."

MRS. DAVIS NERVOUS WRECK

Tells Women How She Was Restored to Perfect Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Winnipeg, Man.—"I cannot speak too highly of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was a nervous wreck and I just had to force myself to do my work. Even the sound of my own children's playing made me feel as if I must scream if they did not get away from me. I could not even speak right to my husband. The doctor said he could do nothing for me. My husband's mother advised me to take the Vegetable Compound and I started it at once. I was able to do my work once more and it was a pleasure, not a burden. Now I have a fine bouncing baby and am able to nurse her and enjoy doing my work. I cannot help recommending such a medicine, and any one seeing me before I took it, and seeing me now, can see what it does for me. I am only too pleased for you to use my testimonial."—Mrs. EMILY DAVIS, 721 McGehe St., Winnipeg, Man.

HEART WAS SO BAD HAD TO SIT UP IN BED

Mrs. O. E. Fitzgerald, 106 Ross St., St. Thomas, Ont., writes:—"In the Fall of 1921, I was taken ill with my heart, but I did not pay much attention to it. I kept on with my household duties, but seemed to become worse and worse, and finally had to call in a doctor. He said I was all run down and was a nervous wreck. I had a severe pain in my chest which would move over to my heart and it became so bad I could not lie down, as when I did I had such a smothering feeling I would have to sit up in bed till it passed away."

I tried several remedies, but with no good results. Finally, I was induced to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I took 7 boxes, and I am now as well as I was 30 years ago, and I am now 65 years old."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box at all druggists or dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Don't Spoil Your Child's Hair By Washing It

When you wash children's hair, be careful what you use. Do not use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much free alkali, for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is Mulisified cocoanut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It is inexpensive and beats anything else all to pieces.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulisified is all that is required. Simply moisten the hair with water such as rain water. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. You can get Mulisified cocoanut oil shampoo at your drug store, and a few ounces will last for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulisified. Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Church closed the most successful year in their history on April 30th. At the annual meeting, held in the Church Hall, at which the president, Mrs. C. M. MacRae presided, very gratifying reports were presented. From the standpoint of enthusiasm, activity, harmony and financial returns, the society had a very good year. The retiring president, Mrs. C. M. MacRae and her helpers, deserve much credit for the year's work, which was made comparatively easy by the co-operation of the families identified with the congregation. The financial statement presented by the treasurer, Mrs. A. W. Pratt, showed the sum of $893 raised during the year—the largest in the history of the society. The pastor, Rev. W. P. Wornell, presided at the election of officers which resulted as follows: President, Mrs. H. A. Chadcock; vice-presidents, Mrs. C. M. MacRae and Mrs. A. Cromwell; treasurer, Mrs. W. A. Pratt; secretary, Mrs. A. H. Goff; assistant treasurers, Mrs. Ed. Scale and Mrs. H. L. Cleveland. Mrs. Wornell took the opportunity of thanking the ladies for the readiness with which her suggestions of needs at the Parsonage were received, and for improvements made, which added comfort and convenience.

Mrs. (Rev.) W. P. Wornell and Mrs. (Dr.) J. A. Butler will leave on Monday next for Ottawa to attend the Branch meeting of the Women's Missionary Society.

Next Sunday evening in the Methodist Church the service will take the form of a congregational gathering, when the reports of the activities of the church for the past year will be presented. It is expected that this will be a most enthusiastic meeting.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT BEFORE THE COURT. His Lordship, Justice Gloabensky, gave judgment on the Bench yesterday in the case of Borah Steinberg, merchant of Magog, vs. A. Quenneville, also of Magog.

Plaintiff alleged that on the 3rd of November 1923, at 7 o'clock, while he was driving his motor truck on the public road, from Magog to Sherbrooke, on the right side of the road, his machine was struck by defendant's machine, coming in the opposite direction, that plaintiff, when he saw defendant's machine, dimmed his lights several times, calling for the defendant to dim his lights, which he did not do; that without any cause or reason, defendant crossed the road and struck plaintiff's machine while plaintiff was driving on the right side of the road, as near the ditch as it was possible; that plaintiff's wife was hurt and unable, for several weeks to perform any work and plaintiff claimed $50.00 for this loss of time, etc.; plaintiff alleged that he had to pay $105.35 for repairs, to his machine, $18.00 for a tube and inner tube and further claimed the sum of $26.00 for loss of profit while not using his car and a sum of $100.00 for depreciation in the value of the car, making a total of $299.35.

Defendant by his plea denied plaintiff's allegations and specially pleaded that the accident was due entirely to plaintiff's fault in not keeping to his proper side of the road and to his impediment in steering with four persons in a one seated car; that a large part of the damages were caused by a collision with a Mr. Alfred Ducharme's car after the accident; that the total damages did not exceed $50.00.

A great number of witnesses were heard on both sides and his Lordship gave judgment in favour of plaintiff for the full amount claimed, to wit: $299.35 and the costs against defendant.

Colonel Emile Rioux, K. C., was acting for plaintiff and Mr. E. P. McCabe was acting for defendant.

PUBLIC MEETING TO CONSIDER QUEEN STREET PAVING

The Queen street paving programme is again receiving serious consideration at the hands of the council, as well as by the ratepayers, and a special meeting has been called for Tuesday evening next, at eight, p.m., in the city hall, when the issue will be discussed in detail.

Since the matter was discussed thoroughly last fall, a third proposition has been submitted for the approval of the council. The matter is one which requires immediate consideration in order to allow a start being made on the work.

The public in general and the north ward residents in particular are asked to attend this meeting when the different propositions will be discussed, and at which several alderman and engineer Tremblay will be present to supply any required information.

D. G. LOOMIS LAID TO REST YESTERDAY

Many Paid Last Respects to Memory of Veteran Citizen of Sherbrooke.

Many of Sherbrooke's citizens gathered to pay a last tribute to the memory of the late Daniel Gordon Loomis, one of the most prominent citizens of the city, who was laid to rest yesterday afternoon in Elmwood Cemetery.

A service was held at his late residence, 2 Bellevue Avenue, which was conducted by the Rev. B. B. Brown, pastor of the Methodist Church, assisted by the Rev. Dr. G. Ellery Read, of the Congregational Church. A quartette from the Methodist Church choir, consisting of Mrs. A. L. Parker, Mrs. F. H. Bradley, Mr. A. L. Parker and Mr. J. G. Armitage, sang "Nearer My God to Thee," and Mrs. Bradley sang "If He Shall Say, Well Done," as a solo. Mr. Gault Parker was at the piano.

Following the service at the house, the long procession marched to Elmwood Cemetery, where the remains were laid to rest. The chief mourners were Mr. W. E. Loomis, Major General Sir F. O. W. Loomis, Messrs. A. H. Foss, C. H. Foss, E. B. Evans, L. L. Evans, Misses, James and Aleck Loomis and Gordon Loomis.

The bearers were six grandsons, Messrs. Dan Loomis, Arthur Loomis, Maurice Loomis, Edward Loomis, Roy Foss and Donald Foss.

The pall bearers were Messrs. George Armitage, A. G. Campbell, E. S. Stevens, F. J. Parkes, C. B. Howard and Dr. F. H. Bradley.

The late Mr. Loomis was born at Russelltown, Que., on September 14th, 1840, the son of Warren Loomis and Almira Gordon. He was descended on his father's side from Joseph Loomis, of Braintree, Essex County, England, who emigrated and landed in Boston on July 17th, 1638. He was the ninth generation.

His mother was the sister of the late James and Clark Gordon, who were well known residents of Sherbrooke.

The Loomis family moved to Sherbrooke about 1856, and on June 18th, 1862, Mr. Loomis married Amelia Burrows, and they celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary together in 1922. Mrs. Loomis passed away on November 13th, 1922.

The late Mr. Loomis had lived in Sherbrooke ever since he came here in 1856. He was very active in the business affairs of the city, and was interested in the brick and lumber manufacturing business and in contracting. He carried out work in railroad and building construction all over Canada. He was a Conservative in politics. He took a very great interest in the affairs of the Methodist Church, of which he was a life-long member and supporter.

He is survived by three children, Mrs. Arthur H. Foss and Mr. William E. Loomis, of this city, and Major General Sir Frederick Loomis, of Montreal, and by sixteen grandchildren.

Among those who attended the funeral were Messrs. J. M. Jenckes, J. A. McKee, Stephen Edgell, H. B. Fletcher, W. J. Hunt, Clifford Tate, Kenneth Wilson, Allan Bayley, C. A. French, C. O. Palmer, Ronald MacDonald, Fred Hovey, A. R. Wilson, W. W. Shaw, R. Jessiman, Clifford Tate, G. S. Thomson, Neil Dinning, James MacKinnon, R. A. Webster, Ernest Armitage, T. D. Walsh, L. J. The hostesses were Mrs. Wiggett, Miss Porry, Mrs. McMurray, Mrs. Ato, Mrs. Fred Day, Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Cann. The time spent at supper was most enjoyable. CLAIM AUDITORS DID NOT LOOK UP BY-LAWS

Mr. B. A. Dugal Discusses "Deferred Assets" Relative to Unread Meter Account.

Additional extracts from the report, prepared by Mr. B. A. Dugal, city accountant, deal with the disposal of different amounts and imply that the auditors have shown a general lack of knowledge of the city by-laws or else a refusal to consider same. Mr. Dugal observes: Consolidated Debt.—"We never had anything to do with the issue of debentures except to register the total amount of an issue in the liabilities account—consolidated debt—and this account, in accordance with the auditors' verification, is correct. The issues are made in the secretary-treasurer's office. The matter of interest coupons has been treated previously. The system followed is that of the city of Montreal. It was installed under the recommendation of Mr. Meagher, who had fifteen years' experience in this connection. The book in which these coupons were registered in 1923 contains 437 pages, with other 14,000 coupons. There have been eight issues ranging from $200 to $55,000. All issues balance. Not a cent error. Complete agreement between the credit balance and the list of missing coupons. Not too bad for a system which the auditors claimed to be so worthless. Revenue Expenditures.—"The proceeds of these sales were deposited to the only general account which we possessed, fusion of all accounts in one, which was the cause of so many of our troubles and which we could not separate before securing the necessary funds. It was necessary for these proceeds to pass through there and then be distributed later. Insofar as missing vouchers are concerned, there are none missing and there are not supposed to be any. In similar cases, the vouchers are the issue by-laws themselves, and there is no way of securing any better authority. One must, however, be sufficiently well posted on municipal routine to know that a register book of all by-laws is held in the secretary's archives; it must also be thought of and followed up by a visit. Cash receipt books.—"These books were not changed, but are the same as existed in 1922. No criticism in the auditors' report of 1922. Have they changed their opinion? These books were drafted, printed and put into use in 1914 by the auditors Bryce and Begin. They are the same ones we have today. For the past two years we have asked for a new system with a cash register. It has just been granted and we will have it within three months. Committees Divided in Opinion.—"Accounts receivable in suspense. $916.75 for meters and $1,399.94 for general. It is in error to state that there was no authority for these charges. They were made on the recommendation of the waterworks commission for water furnished to other city departments, and we do not see why these departments should not pay for water used in the same way that they pay for electricity consumed. But the other department did not want to pay. Another instance of where one committee says 'yes' and another says 'no.' The accountant, between the two does not know what to do and is later blamed by the auditor who, for reasons we ignore, does not explain the matter clearly as we have done so above. Profit and Loss. Waterworks.—"Credit $1,002.92. Yes! Correct. The only thing which was not said was that this difference occurred in the 1920 accounts which were not in agreement with 1920 audit. This was the year prior to our taking over charge of the accounting. This explanation would have been very short to mention and it places the responsibility on somebody else, but I am beginning to believe that this is exactly what they were trying to avoid. Electricity. Contingent account $500.—"This concerns the years 1919 and 1920 that is to say a year or two prior to our time. In August, 1921, we studied this account and there was a surplus of $103.02. This surplus was acquired in previous years and we put this amount aside for possible eventualities. Discussion of Deferred Assets. Electricity. Accounts receivable, $54,174.04.—"The auditors diminished this account by $22,091.92. They took an amount of $20,083.85 and (Continued on Page 16.)

ROBBERS ARE ACTIVE

The police are making every effort to capture the thieves who entered the store of Boucher, Lacroix and Fissette, yesterday morning. So far, however, the attempts have been unsuccessful. The robbery took place early in the morning, it is thought around five or six o'clock. The thieves entered the store through the cellar door, and forced open the door leading from the cellar to the store. It is not known just how much goods were taken, but the firm state that they think the loss is small. Several articles, found on the cellar steps, had apparently been dropped by the thieves in their hurry to get away.

Everyone who took part was thoroughly familiar with their lines and carried out the action in an admirable manner. Many favorable comments were heard from members of the audience on the performance. Lancelot Stewart and S. Edgcombe performed their character parts in a manner which called forth a great deal of laughter, and all the young ladies who were in the cast did remarkably well. St. Andrew's Church School Orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. Jacob Dick, furnished music before the curtain rose and between the acts. LIQUOR CASES WERE BEFORE LOCAL COURT

Quite a Long Session of Magistrate's Court Was Held Yesterday.

Judge Lemay presided over a lengthy session in the Magistrate's Court yesterday when quite a number of liquor cases were heard. Charges under the Scott Act were laid by J. G. Gauthier against Philippe Laroche and Donat Bilo-deau, but both cases were adjourned until May 28th. Rossi Angelo pleaded guilty to a charge laid by J. W. Parsons for the violation of the Scott Act and was fined a hundred dollars and costs or thirty days. Charges were also laid by the Liquor Commission against the following: Mrs. Wilfrid Lavoie, Wilfrid Lavoie, Alice Malaire, and Mrs. Trentre, alias Chabot. These cases were adjourned until Friday. A young girl fifteen years of age was found guilty of vagrancy, and sentenced to two years in jail. The case of William Burns against Albert Morin, on the grounds that Morin inflicted bodily assault was heard, Morin pleaded not guilty, and asked for summary trial, the case being dismissed. Considerable interest is being centered in the case of J. Coleman, C.P.R., detective, against Octave Bergeron, nine years of age. Bergeron is charged with having placed an obstruction on the C.P.R. tracks as the morning passenger train was coming. The article which was placed was a large piece of iron, and was in such a position that the engineer could not see it in time to stop the train. The train passed over it and fortunately broke it, otherwise it might have caused serious damage. The case was adjourned until Friday. The case of the Liquor Commission against Rosa Cloutier, charged with the selling of liquor, which was given a long hearing yesterday, was adjourned until Friday, when judgment will be rendered. There is no session in the Magistrate's Court to-day as Judge Lemay is in Sweetsburg holding Court.

IT CANNOT BE DONE.

Complaints are constantly being heard on all sides nowadays regarding the heavy tax burden, the high cost of living and the perplexing problem of how to make both ends meet; and the general public is quite justified in its demand that civic and government officials carry through programmes of strict economy.

However, there are a few things people expect, but which they will find rather difficult to secure in this respect.

They cannot get increased public service and at the same time get decreased taxes; they cannot enlarge Government bureaus and commissions without increasing expenses; they cannot have better schools without paying for them; they cannot match dollars with the government without putting up dollars; they cannot live on a higher plane than their fathers lived without paying more for their living than their fathers paid.

In other words, people cannot eat their cake and have it.

POLITICAL SITUATION IN FRANCE.

The world is anxiously awaiting for the next move in the political situation in France. The Socialists, who claim the lion's share of the credit for the defeat of the Bloc National, seem less and less decided on what to do with their victory, and the Government ship is still without a pilot to guide its course.

Somebody must very shortly form a new cabinet, but nobody seems at all anxious to tackle the task. This fact arises from various causes, but the more immediate is that the Left is so exact in its demands as to a legislative programme that although it is victorious it may request so much that it will get nothing. Its leaders want the army service cut down from eighteen to six months, but are apparently willing to compromise on nine months. The magnitude of this demand can be understood when it is stated that such a reduced service would bring down France's army strength from 680,000 to 495,000, and this change, it is claimed, would work a saving of a billion francs.

A NEW PLAN TO END WARS.

Of late a multitude of theories have been advanced to end wars, but the latest peace movement, like not a few others, has its origin in the United States. Based on the plausible theory that the most effective way to prevent war is to render it financially intolerable, it seeks to promote, and, if possible, enforce the doctrine that the nations while engaged in war shall be bound to mobilize all their resources, money as well as material and men. In other words, that to carry on war there shall be, not only conscription of manhood, but conscription of wealth.

"In the direction of movements of this kind it seems almost impossible to avoid the intrusion of a good deal of sloppy sentimentality and distorted reasoning," states the Toronto Globe in discussing the latest peace plan. "With tearful accents and reproachful tones, we are admonished, for instance, that never again shall our brave boys be compelled to fight our battles while their elders and less patriotic fellows remain at home to fatten on their sacrifice and enrich themselves at the price of their blood. And there is emphasized the all too common, though by no means well founded, assumption that wars are caused by the cupidity of individuals who hope to profit from them, and that if profiteering were eliminated, wars would cease.

"That there is unfortunately profiteering in every war cannot be disputed, and any means which can be devised to prevent or punish it should and would meet with universal approval. But to suggest that the last great conflict was 'engineered by profiteers,' and conducted and prolonged to enable any who remained at home to commercialise the sacrifice of those who fought, is to slander a vast body of people, whose patriotism was constantly in evidence, and to flagrantly distort the known facts of history.

"As for the proposal to conscript wealth as well as men in time of war, it is by no means clear from the propaganda of the promoters of the movement as to how, or in what degree, that object is to be attained. Indeed, it is significant that of several provisions, drafted for submission to Congress, no two are alike in their definition of what is meant by the conscription of wealth. Nor is any sound reason advanced why governments which have permitted profiteering and other abuses in their conduct of war should in future be trusted with the unlimited power of mobilising or conscripting what they might regard as wealth regardless of circumstances, or without fear or favor. There is certainly no guarantee that under such conditions the same evil forces which have operated in past wars, and which the promoters of the present movement so loudly condemn, would not be found at work, on even a larger scale. For governments, after all, are not less human, or more patriotic than the people they govern and they are not so easily punishable."

PRESS COMMENT

NAME HIM! NAME HIM!

(Portland Express) "Go ahead! The road is as much yours as mine," shouted a visiting automobilist to a lame man who apologized for his slowness in getting across the street. We are not sure but this item is worthy of a headline.

HOME RULE.

(Hamilton Herald) The good-nature and tolerance of the English people are proverbial, but they may not be proof against the demand of Scottish members of Parliament that Scots shall not only have the exclusive right to govern Scotland but must be allowed to have a large share in the government of England, too.

CHANGING HABITS.

(Belleville Intelligencer) How many of the present generation have ever attended a husking bee, a clam-bake, a quilting bee or enjoyed the thrill of a hay-rack party? The answer is, "Not many," because these old-time institutions are passing, or have passed, apparently unable to survive in this gasoline-soaked era of hurly-burly. It is a matter of genuine regret. They were meccas of the convivial, cementers of a type of friendship rarely encountered today, which prompts the query: Is civilization begetting selfishness? People unquestionably are keeping more to themselves. Apartment dwellers, right here in Belleville, may live for years in the same building with other families without ever knowing each other.

GOVERNMENT INSPECTION OF BANKS.

(Ottawa Journal) Time was when the public echoed like parrots the financial jargon of the mandarins of finance. That time has passed. The great barons of monetary institutions who talked about money and credit in pontifical, mysterious terms have clearly been divested of their leadership; plain-minded people are beginning to find out that banks, after all, are merely instruments of public service, and that that being so, it is but necessary that they should be made to conform to rules of common sense in the performance of their functions. Common sense, fortified by sad experience, now plainly dictates that there be Government inspection of banks; and it is encouraging to find two men, Mr. Edwards, the Government adviser on Banking, and Sir William Stavert, a well-known banking authority, of Montreal, come out for such a step.

LIFE AND CLIMATE.

(Toronto Globe) The United States Weather Bureau suggests that teachers of botany, zoology and geography can add much to the interest of their courses by requiring their students to keep phenological records. Phenology, it may be explained, is that branch of applied meteorology which treats of the influence of climate on the annual phenomena of animal and plant life. No instrument will indicate the advance of seasons as well as the major activities of the plants, since the development of the season is the result of a number of factors, such as temperature, precipitation, humidity and evaporation. The most conspicuous plants are the trees, and since they live for many years observations of their activities are more easily obtained and are more desirable for this purpose. Such observations have therefore been made on the date of the flowering, leafing, seed ripening, seed falling and leaf falling of the common trees. In Europe phenological observations are collected systematically, and have resulted in the production of interesting and instructive charts.

FROTH OR SUBSTANCE.

(Fall River News) Will radio make us better informed, better educated?

A good many people believe that its possibilities in this direction are limitless—and so they are. All sorts of information can be given over the radio, and as its vogue increases so also will increase the amount and diversity of the instruction obtainable from the air.

Even now the speeches of prominent Americans, from President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon down, are broadcasted all over the land, and instruction in all sorts of things is given by radio. Serious subjects are discussed for radio audiences, news bulletins are read, operas sung, and plays that are adaptable for transmission by air are obtainable for those with radio receivers.

But how many radio "fans" care a hoot for this sort of thing? Listen to the conversation of the ordinary radio enthusiast. "I tuned in on XYZ and there was a bird giving some sort of a speel about government and taxes. I got him clear as a bell, too, but it was too dry for me, so I got ZQX and, Oh Boy, you should have heard the peppy jazz I got. Some life there, I'll say."

And "I got President Coolidge the other night, and I stayed with him about five minutes, just to hear the President's voice. But it didn't interest me particularly. I ain't very strong for this political stuff, anyhow—so I tuned in PDQ and got a swell musical recital."

There is no excuse for anybody remaining in ignorance these days and there has been none for many years. Newspapers and magazines, cheap editions of famous books, free public libraries, all are at the disposal of anybody who wants to read and learn. But in spite of all this, the ignorance and lack of information on essential subjects is appalling.

The radio public will take from the air what it wants, and, like the majority of the reading public, it will want the froth and not the substance.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

RESULT OF DELAYING THE EMBARGO

To the Editor:— Sherbrooke Record.

The current issue of the Paper Trade Journal (New York) contains the following announcement: "The St. Regis Paper Company has decided not to carry out its plans for the erection of a paper mill in Canada for the present. The Company recently acquired a site near Quebec and it has extensive timber limits in the province. It will continue to ship its pulpwood out of Canada instead of manufacturing it into pulp and paper within the province."

Plans for the erection of the new mill above referred to were announced by the St. Regis Company several months ago, about the time that parliament passed a bill empowering the government to stop the exportation of raw pulpwood but which has never been implemented. The mill was to have been capable of producing 200 tons and later on 400 tons of paper a day. It would have given regular employment to between 200 and 300 men and support to probably 1000 to 1500 persons.

The reasons why the company prefers not to build the mill at present and to continue to ship its Canadian pulpwood to the United States to be manufactured are not, far to seek.

This is not the only development held up by the delay in applying the pulpwood embargo authorized by parliament.

FRANK J. D. BARNJUM. Montreal, May, 21st., 1924.

ANOTHER PULPWOOD SMOKE SCREEN

To the Editor:— Sherbrooke Record.

My attention has been called to a letter written by an official of the recently organized Pulpwood Dealers' Association, impugning my motives in urging an embargo on the exportation of pulpwood, complaining that the newspaper press of Canada has been too liberal in the space it has accorded to my views, and making a tearful appeal to the editors to close their columns to any further arguments emanating from me.

Newspaper editors who have received copies of this letter would, considering its source, undoubtedly have been highly amused at its effrontery, if its assertions did not constitute such a poor reflection upon their own perspicacity and editorial judgment.

As to the personal attack upon me I can afford, as I have done in connection with similar attacks from the same source, to ignore it entirely. Personally, it is immaterial to me whether Canada adopts the policy of retaining her small remaining wood supply for her own use or continues to allow its exploitation by aliens. So far as my own individual interests are concerned, if the arguments against an embargo are worth anything, my interests would be better served by allowing things to remain as they are at present. My timber holdings are all owned in fee. They are very much in excess of the requirements of the pulp mill of which I am a part owner and if what these opponents say is true—that an embargo would be against the interests of the Canadian land holders—then I am engaged in an effort to destroy my own best market.

But, I take it, Canadian newspaper, and Canadians generally who have studied the question, are not to be misled by the pulpwood exporters and their friends, the American paper manufacturers. It is the people and the newspaper press who have a vital interest at stake in the preservation of the remnant of the Canadian forests and not a lone individual like myself who, having retired from active business, is unconcerned whether the government takes action or not, except as a matter of pride in his native country, a patriotic desire to see it develop and an ambition to do his small share towards directing public opinion in the right channel.

I have advocated this embargo because I have felt that it was a national necessity and by long odds the most important measure now before the country. I have, however, carried on in a perfectly independent capacity and have asked no one to do anything that was not justified by considerations of public welfare alone. Any time the editors of our Canadian newspaper feel that I am not working in the best interest of Canada I have sufficient respect for their intelligence to know that they will voluntarily decline to print what I send to them without the unsolicited advice of an association of pulpwood exporters.

PLAY GIVEN AT BEEBE PROVED BIG SUCCESS

Reports of Meetings and General Newsy Notes from Beebe and District.

BEEBE, QUE., May 22.—The drama "Safety First," which was given in the Beebe Town Hall, May 15th, under the auspices of the Ladies' Guild, was superior to any thing of its kind ever put on here by local talent. It was a new and sparkling farce with a story of sustained interest abounding in mirth-provoking situations. There were ten characters and each one did their part well. The play moved briskly along with culminating effect, incident succeeding incident, and the act endings were quick and snappy, with plenty of movement for everybody, which kept the audience in a roar of laughter. Much praise is due to all who took part in this play.

The solo sung by the Rev. Mr. Pull between the first and second act was much enjoyed by all, also the violin solo played by Mr. Aram, between the second and third acts. An orchestra of four pieces furnished some very nice music. The dance following the programme brought a very pleasant evening to a close.

An Artistic Floor-Covering That Saves You Both Time and Money

No wonder Gold-Seal Congoleum Art-Rugs are so popular with up-to-date Canadian women. For here is a floor-covering that meets the housewife's every requirement. Its rich, colorful patterns satisfy the exactions of good taste, while at the same time its sturdy materials and sanitary surface make it extremely durable and easy to clean. And in addition, Gold-Seal Congoleum Art-Rugs are very inexpensive.

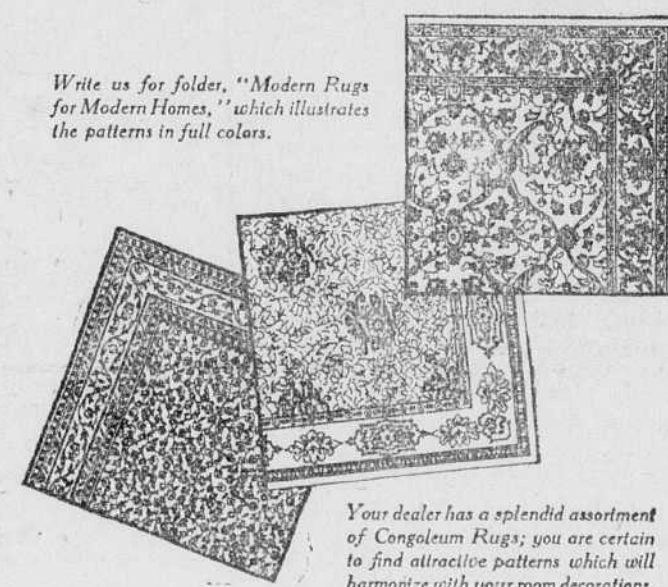

Waterproof and Sanitary

They are made all in one piece, on a heavy base that water cannot penetrate or harm. Moreover, their smooth, firm, seamless surface cannot absorb dust, ashes or spilled liquids. Cleaning them is merely a matter of wiping with a damp mop.

Another excellent feature of Congoleum Art-Rugs is that they lie perfectly flat on the floor without fastening of any kind. Just unroll them and in a short time they hug the floor; yet they can be easily moved if necessary.

DUNHAM CHURCH BOARD HELD A BUSY MEETING

Reports for Past Year Presented—Election of Stewards for Coming Year.

DUNHAM, Que., May, 22nd.—The regular quarterly meeting of the Official Board of the Dunham Methodist Circuit was held at Dunham on May, 13th. The meeting was called for the hour of twelve noon, when in response to the invitation of the Dunham Ladies' Aid Society the members of the Board partook of dinner together in the Sunday School room. As the Ladies' Aid was holding a meeting the same afternoon, a most delightful social hour was spent when the members of the Board and of the Aid, as well as other visitors who were present, enjoyed the social gathering and the splendid dinner which had been prepared. Many expressions of appreciation were heard, and many wishes expressed that such an enjoyable function might be repeated next year.

At two o'clock the meeting of the Board was held. Representatives were present from Dunham, Stanbridge East, Frelighsburg, and Farnham's Corner divisions of the circuit, Rev. G.H. Forde, superintendent of the Circuit presiding.

The meeting opened with worship, after which the business of the circuit was taken up. Report of the year's work were received from the Sunday Schools, Ladies' Aid societies, Women's Missionary societies, Trustee Boards and other organizations. The splendid work done by the Ladies' Aid societies came in for special commendation.

The election of Stewards for the coming year was proceeded with and the following were elected: Messrs. E. F. Baker, Ewart Martin, W. T. Westover, N. O. O'Brien, C. Montle, Frank Corey, L. Stolliker. The offices of recording steward and Circuit treasurer were filled the same as last year by the reappointment of Mr. Ewart Martin as recording and Mr. Frank Corey as treasurer. The following district visitors were appointed, Messrs Amos Laduke, M.C. Robinson and W. Dymond.

The congregational representatives, who number seven, will be appointed at meetings of the different congregations, and the other members of the board by the various other organizations of the circuit which they represent.

During the proceedings a special vote of thanks was tendered to the Rev. W. F. Perley, of Stanbridge East, for the splendid service which he has rendered to the circuit in preaching at the different appointments and helping in every way in the work of the Circuit. A similar vote of thanks was accorded to Mr. E. L. Hodge also of Stanbridge East, who has also rendered similar service and who holds the position of a regularly appointed local preacher of the Methodist Church.

Both of these gentlemen have withdrawn any charge to the circuit conducted many services during the year, and made it possible to maintain the schedule of regular services over the large territory included in the circuit. Their valued help is highly appreciated by all the congregations.

Various plans were discussed for the advancement of the work of the church of Christ in this territory, the outcome of which will be shown during the coming year.

As it was not found possible to conclude all the business at this meeting, a special meeting of the stewards of the circuit was arranged for the evening of Friday, May, 23rd, of which meeting Mr. E. F. Baker is the convenor, and which meeting will review the financial business of the circuit and report to the congregations.

Special thanks are due to Mrs. L. Rouse, president, and to the members of the Dunham Ladies' Aid who so kindly entertained the Board at dinner.

At the District Meeting of the Waterloo District of the Methodist Church which was held at Sutton on May 15th. Mr. Frank Corey was appointed to represent the Dunham circuit as one of the lay members of the Conference which meets this year at Gananoque, Ont.

Gift to Church.

The Anglican Church of the Ascension of this village was the fortunate recipient of a square grand piano which was placed inside the church hall on Monday, May 18th. This instrument was given to the church by Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Pettes of this village. The Rev. J. Irving, incumbent, and wardens, the Ladies' Guild, the Willing Workers, and the members and friends of the Church of the Ascension all join in thanking Mr. and Mrs. Pettes for this excellent gift. The addition of this piano fills a long-felt want, and it is not only appreciated as a valuable to the church's furniture but it is gratefully accepted as a memorial to the late Mrs. James C. Pettes.

It is a lamentable fact that the congregations of the country churches are decreasing year by year. Owing to this fact the people of this parish are justified in pointing with pride to the success of their church during the last few years of trying times. It is indeed, highly gratifying to note the true Christian spirit and hearty co-operation which exists among the people of this small parish, who can now worship in one of the best equipped and most comfortable churches in this part of the Eastern Townships. And the gift of this beautiful piano comes as a reward for their untiring efforts, and demonstrates clearly that the Christian comforts and ministrations of this church are appreciated.

HEROIC WIFE IN OVERALLS IS BLIND HUSBAND'S EYES

Congressman and Helmpet Conquer Together—Were in Trenches and on Torpedoed Boat

In her way she is just as celebrated as the Lady with the Lamp—the Lady in Overalls. She is the inspiration of Washington.

The story of Margaret Schall is the story of a woman's heroism, and, incidentally, of her husband's as well.

In the office building of the House of Representatives at Washington, you can find this extraordinary pair. On the door is the inscription: "Thomas D. Schall, Minnesota."

Inside, you meet Thomas Schall, the blind congressman, and Margaret, his wife, his eyes, his secretary, in very truth his helmpet, and she is wearing blue overalls.

People look at her twice, not because of the overalls, but because of herself; short of stature, with tiny hands and feet, blue twinkling eyes, and a mass of wavy blond hair and blue overalls.

"I began to wear them in wartime," she told the author of the Boudoir Mirrors of Washington, "when we didn't have much money for dresses, and they are so comfortable and convenient I always wear them for the office. When it comes to filing books and papers, Mrs. Schall finds that overalls help a great deal in climbing up and down ladders to reach the proper bookcase or cabinet."

It was at college that they met. Tom had struggled up from obscurity. He had been a chore boy, bootblack, newsboy and janitor to his own law office in Minneapolis.

Then they were married. Four happy years passed, and success was just in the offing. Then—tragedy hurled its fateful bolt.

Tom Schall was never to see his wife's face again. He leaned down to light his cigar at the electric lighter. There was a short circuit, and Thomas Schall was blind.

"What shall I do?" he asked. "I will be your eyes and you shall still practice law," said Margaret Schall.

Blindness did not conquer Tom Schall and his little wife. She went through law to be able to help draft her husband's bills. When he ran for Congress, she drove his car, choosing the right place so that the wind would blow his voice towards the crowd. When they went abroad in 1918 permission was granted to her to accompany her husband into the front line trenches, where she described for his sightless eyes the pages of history that were being written in blood.

Homebound, the greatest test of her courage unexpectedly came. But it was unexpected to her, used to foreseeing things. She had arisen early the morning the torpedo hit their ship. Hurrying below, she assisted her husband to the deck. Then she tied him to her waist with a rope. As they were both good swimmers, she counted on guiding him at sea as she had guided him on land.

The captain thrilled when he saw the sight. No hysterics. No weeping. Simply "Good-morning, Captain," in a cheery voice.

The captain cited Margaret Schall for bravery. After the war, she was presented with a decoration, which she is saving for her two-year-old daughter Peggy when she grows up.

Thomas Schall is recognized as one of the ablest men in Congress. You can think what you like about Margaret Schall. "You don't find her at the women's clubs, at the bridge luncheons, at receptions, or jazzing till dawn," says the anonymous chronicler. "Her life is too full of work, or sacrifice, and, most wonderful of all, of a great joy for what she has achieved."

A TOO-LATE APOLOGY

ONE of the many good stories Dame Nellie Melba is fond of telling concerns a drawing-room concert she once attended.

The host was nervous and inexperienced, and at the end of a song with which one of the guests had obliged, he rose hurriedly.

"Ladies and gentlemen," he began. "Before Mrs. Smith started to sing she—ah—told me her—ah—voice was not in the best condition and—ah—asked me to apologise for it, but I neglected to do so and—ah—I apologise now."

Famous "Bad Luck" Jewel

AROUND the neck of Mrs. E. B. McLean hangs the tragic Hope Diamond in the famous painting by Philip Laszlo, the eminent Hungarian portrait painter. The great gem is depending from the shorter of the two chains. It is this stone that May Yohe blames for all her terrible poverty, privations and misfortunes. The tragic death of Mrs. McLean's oldest child, "the million dollar baby," and her husband's unpleasant predicament in the Tea Pot Dome oil scandal is interpreted by the superstitious as another manifestation of the black sorrow that comes in the wake of this notorious stone.

Congressman's Wife Wears Overalls

THIS is Mrs. Thomas D. Schall, wife of the "blind congressman" from Minnesota, as she appears when ready to attend to her heavy work of cleaning the five rooms used by Congressman Schall in the capitol. Mrs. Schall also is secretary for her husband and sits with him during congressional sessions. When it comes to filing books and papers, Mrs. Schall finds that overalls help a great deal in climbing up and down ladders to reach the proper bookcase or cabinet. During the eight years her husband has been in congress, she has always helped him in his official duties. Despite his blindness, the Congressman is very active, and is recognized as one of the ablest men in congress.

GUELPH'S BLIND PIANIST INSPECTS HIS NEW HOUSE

A GOOD story is told of Mr. Albert Kaiser, Guelph's well known blind pianist. Some few years ago Mr. Kaiser was having a house built. One Saturday afternoon a friend of his was passing the new home which at the time was practically only a skeleton of a house. Two or three children playing thereabouts remarked that a blind man had gone in there, pointing to the house. The gentleman immediately became alarmed about Mr. Kaiser, as there were no floors or stairs as yet erected in the place. He found Mr. Kaiser up on the second floor feeling his way with his cane. He remarked to him, "What are you doing here?" The reply came back, "Oh, I just came up to see how the men are getting along with the roof."

FLAHERTY'S VOICE BEATS EVERYTHING BUT RADIO

NEARLY everybody that rides on the C. N. R. between Toronto and Sarnia has heard or heard about Charlie Flaherty. For the benefit of those who haven't he is the veteran depot master at Guelph and is possessed of a voice which for distance has everything but the radio.

On one occasion he had just finished calling the stations lying from Guelph west to and including Chicago, when a venturesome youth in the crowd shouted in a very pious voice "Amen." Not to be outdone Mr. Flaherty replied "Thank you. It's a poor parish that can't afford a clerk."

TOO MUCH FOR BALFOUR

MR. (now Lord) BALFOUR was one day strolling near his Scottish home at Whittinghame when he was accosted by an old man hailing from a neighboring village. On being presented with a shilling, the man whispered to Mr. Balfour: "Mon, dae ye ken what I'm gaun to tell ye?" "No," replied the statesman. "Well," was the rejoinder, "it's gaun tae rain seventy-two days." Mr. Balfour, thinking to have a little fun with him, remarked: "That cannot be, for the world was entirely flooded in forty days." "But," returned the old fellow, "the world wisnae sae weel drained then as it is noo."

BAGDAD BAGGINESS

SOME people when talking to royalty are too nervous to think. The wit of Mr. Henry Ainley is not subject to these "frozen by fright" fits. As you know, he plays the part of a portly Bagdad confectioner in "Hassan" at His Majesty's Theatre. Queen Mary and the Queen of Norway were so impressed by his performance that they summoned him to the royal box during the interval.

"That's not you, Mr. Ainley?" said Queen Mary, indicating Mr. Ainley's girl as the confectioner. "Your Majesty," said the quick-witted actor, "I am a true subject with a false stomach!"

Her Eyes Shut

HELEN plays whist so much that she can go through a game with her eyes shut. "Yes; I've been her partner when I thought she was playing that way."

Superstitious See Curse Of Hope Diamond for McLean

Stone Taken From Idol's Breast Leaves Trail of Misfortune Wherever It Has Been—Brings Fatalities to Owners—Possibility of Bad Luck Foreseen by McLean in Clause of the Agreement of Purchase.

HAS nothing been heard of the notorious Hope diamond for a few years? "Just wait," say the superstitious.

Then comes the Tea Pot Dome oil scandal. If the Hope diamond isn't mixed up in that brew—for almost everything seems to be mixed up in it—something will be wrong with Fate as a mystery writer.

Then the papers ring with the name of Edward Beale McLean, who has sent $100,000 in checks to Albert B. Fall, secretary of the interior, before that gentleman was driven from the garden of Washington.

The Hope diamond is in the limelight again.

Mrs. McLean wears it sometimes around her neck. Philip Laszlo, the eminent Hungarian portrait painter, shows it in his famous canvas of Mrs. McLean. The "bad luck" gem hangs from the shorter of the two chains about her neck. It is of a wonderful blue and weighs slightly more than a quarter of an ounce.

Thirteen years ago, when he bought the Hope diamond, Edward B. McLean was not as superstitious as he probably is now.

Even without the Hope diamond his story was as queer a romance as modern chronicles can produce. All his life Ned McLean has had someone looking after him. His millionaire father saw to that. When the young man of 33 tried to break his father's will he found that it was iron-clad. By the terms of a compromise, the son might have a voice in the management of all his father's properties, including the Washington Post and the Cincinnati Enquirer, but his income was restricted to the $1,000,000 interest; he could make no business actions without the approval of bankers and lawyers his father had named. But there were the $50,000,000 in his wife's fortune, the millions of Thomas F. Walsh, the Colorado mining magnate who from a humble Irish origin had risen to become the partner and close personal friend of King Leopold of Belgium.

The memorandum of sale seems to prove that McLean had a few doubts about the stone of lurid tragedy. "Should any fatality occur in the family of Edward B. McLean within six months, the said Hope diamond is agreed to be exchanged for jewelry of equal value at the selection of Wilton J. Lambert," read an ominous clause.

It was eight years later before tragedy came. This was the celebrated case of the "hundred million dollar baby," their first child, who was wheeled around in a specially constructed steel go-cart, rocked to sleep in a gold cradle, and guarded night and day from threatened kidnapping by more armed detectives than in the suite of the president of the United States. But one day in 1919, while playing outside the beautiful Washington estate of his parents called Friendship, he suddenly eluded his guards, and, dashing through the gates to the roadway, was killed by a passing Ford car.

It was from Cartier of Paris that McLean had bought the accursed stone for $300,000, in spite of its tragic history, stretching back, according to semi-legend, to the seventeenth century, when it was stolen from the breast of a Burmese idol for Tavernier, the great French traveler. For his diamond and his discoveries, he was enabled by Louis XIV. of France, tradition says. But Tavernier was torn to pieces by wild dogs at the gates of Moscow. Madame de Montespan, the favorite of Louis XIV., who wore the gem, immediately lost her place in the grand monarch's heart. In 1792 the Princess de Lamballe wore the diamond at the bidding of Marie Antoinette. It was not long before her head was being carried through the streets of Paris on a pole by the revolutionaries and Marie Antoinette was guillotined. It is even hinted that Marat had possession of it before he was assassinated by Charlotte Corday.

The notorious gem then went to Antwerp. The son of William Fals, the lapidary, stole it from his father's shop. The parent committed suicide. Fals, the younger, sold it to a man named Beaulieu who died from dissipation in London in 1820. Daniel Ellason, a London jewel merchant, bought the great diamond from Beaulieu, and sold it for $90,000 to Henry Hope, a rich Englishman and grandfather to Lord Francis Hope, who inherited it.

Of interest to Canadians is this part of the story. Although bankrupt, Lord Francis Hope, in spite of the offer of a million dollars to give her up, married May Yohe, the beautiful favorite of the London music halls. Years ago, she sang during a tour in the Canadian theatres. Her song, "Honey Ma Honey," and her laughing carefree face won all hearts.

But troubles started for May Yohe when she began to wear the Hope Diamond. To it she attributed all her marital troubles. Lord Francis divorced her. In 1910 she was even reduced to running a third rate boarding house at Seattle. Only a year or two ago, did she win her way back to the vaudeville stage.

Meanwhile, the Hope Diamond went on its way to E. B. McLean. Simon Frankel, of New York, bought it for $168,000. He had financial misfortunes. Jacques Colot, its next owner, went mad and committed suicide. A Russian prince lent it to an actress and that night as she wore it on the stage he shot her dead. A Greek merchant sold it to Sultan Abdul Hamid, of Turkey, and was killed in an accident, while the sultan, after being deposed, died insane.

Mr. McLean secured the notorious stone from Pierre Cartier, a French jeweler, who acted as the agent of the Young Turks. The superstitious, pointing to the strange clause in the purchase agreement, show how even at the time of the sale, McLean in the back of his mind had hidden fears about the result.

AUTHOR PRAISES GARLIC WOMAN FAINTS AWAY

Mr. Robt. Lynd, Addressing Society for Suppression of Parsnip-Eating, Succeeds Beyond Wildest Hopes

"I WAS invited the other evening to attend a dinner given by the Society for the Suppression of Parsnip-eating," says Mr. Robert Lynd, the distinguished English editor and essayist.

"When my turn came to speak, I resolved not to care twopenny what I said so long as I kept talking. After a few perfunctory words about the guest of the evening, I talked heavily, not only about the parsnip, but about every vegetable that I could remember; spoke of the different methods of cooking sprouting-broccoli, the use of garlic as a preventive of influenza, the deprecations of snails on lettuce, finger-and-toe disease in turnips, and the arguments for and against planting broad beans before Christmas. "Within five minutes I had the audience fast in the grip of deadly boredom. In twenty minutes they looked haggard. At the end of forty minutes a woman fainted. When I sat down at the end of an hour, there was not a single handclap to disturb a silence that told me I had succeeded beyond my wildest hopes."

Give me five minutes' talk with a man about politics or weather or neighbors or finances, and I'll tell you whether he's going to reach ninety-five in good shape or not. If he says he has the finest neighbors in the world and adds that times never have been better or politics cleaner or the weather finer, then you may be pretty sure that he'll be a winner at ninety-five or any other age. No matter how long you live, there isn't time to worry.—Chauncey M. Depew, 89-year-old ex-Senator, lawyer and after-dinner speaker.

Englishman Turns Moslem

HERE is Sir Charles Edward Archibald Watkin Hamilton, Bart., of Selsey, Sussex, England, who has embraced the Islamic faith. Sir Charles, who is 48, is the holder of two baronetcies, one dating from 1776, the other from 1819. Sir Charles is the first of his high rank to adopt the Moslem teachings, though there are about 500 people of different rank in England who have done the same.

Meanest Person Living Was the Bishop's Wife

That Was When Mrs. Sillitoe First Went West and Did Not Know How Cowboys Gave Collection

NOT many wives of bishops have been publicly denounced as the meanest person within a radius of five hundred miles, but such an experience fell to the lot of Mrs. A. W. Sillitoe, whose husband was one of the first bishops of northern British Columbia.

Mrs. Sillitoe tells the story in her recently published memoirs.

According to custom, she had accompanied the bishop on one of his visits to the remote part of his immense diocese. Barkerville, then famous as a gold camp, marked the end of the journey.

The visit of the bishop, who was extremely popular, brought hundreds of miners and prospectors from the outlying creeks, and the little church was crowded for Sunday service. The singing was of the heartiest, and after an eloquent appeal for funds by the bishop, two prominent churchwardens passed around the hat.

The response was generous, as might be expected of a gold camp in the heyday of its prosperity. Silver dollars and bills, gold dust and nuggets, and a few I.O.U.'s, half filled the improvised collection box.

The churchwardens sorted out their "colors," counting as they went along. They were quite cheerful until one of them found a twenty-five cent piece in the hat.

Now this was in 1881, when two-bits was the smallest coin circulating in the west.

Immediately the churchwarden rose and dropped, and the miner delivered a few appropriate remarks which somewhat shocked the good bishop.

At great risk of exploding internally, the frate minister-churchwarden bottled up the remainder of his expetives, leaving it to his companion to explain to the bishop that the meanest person between Yale and the Arctic had thrown a bit of chicken-feed into the hat.

Mrs. Sillitoe, who had approached on hearing the unusual commotion, saved the reputation of the Barkerville residents by owning up to having put in the quarter. She had not yet been able to reconcile herself to the western monetary viewpoint, and had thought herself very liberal in her donation.

During that same visit, while taking the part of prima donna in a concert organized by the bishop, Mrs. Sillitoe's feet were the target of a shower of silver dollars. These "bouquets" went to swell the church funds, but the singer's best effort was ruined when one of the great cart-wheels landed on her toes.

TIM HEALY SHOUTS "BOO" TO AN HONORABLE GOOSE

IN the old days of stormy debate on the Irish question in the House of Commons, the governor-general of Ireland, the Right Hon. Timothy Healy, was a leading light, and famous for his wit and readiness in repartee.

On one occasion a young English member—in a bitter attack on the Irish party—referred to Mr. Healy in a recent speech, and with sarcasm said the honorable member couldn't say Boo! to a goose.

Tim Healy was on his feet in an instant, and, leaning forward in the young Englishman's direction, shouted: "Boo!" long and loud.

In the merriment that ensued the young member sat down and was not heard from again.

Negro Pullman Porter Precedes Railway Presidents as College Lecturer

THE creed of John Baptist Ford of New York, negro Pullman porter and college lecturer—shown here with his family—may be summed up in two words: "Education" and "service". At 17, Ford, a South Carolina cotton picker, could neither read nor write. This week he lectured before the students of the Tuck School of Administration and Finance at Dartmouth University, having been requested to do so by Prof. Malcolm Keir, who was impressed with his intelligence and efficiency while travelling on Ford's car. "A man is happy when he is giving service to other people," said Ford, and, "Every one of my children is going through college." His 14-year-old daughter, Ruth, won a gold medal for scholarship in public school last year. Ford's lecture preceded other lectures on railroading delivered by railroad presidents and bankers. He told the students that porters respected the man who tipped and the man who didn't tip, but declared that tips were necessary if the porter were to live on a salary of $65 to $85 a month with decent living quarters, costing $70 a month or more in New York. Asked as to the proper sum for a tip, he answered: "Let your conscience be your guide."

Insist on seeing the label that proves it's a genuine Simmons

The special qualities that make the vital difference between a Simmons bed and any one of the numerous "substitutes," are revealed only in service. It is important, however, that you make sure of these qualities at the very moment you are considering your purchase.

Simmons lasting finishes, reproducing the beauty of walnut, mahogany and other fine woods, can be suggested in substitute beds. So can Simmons color effects and the general features of Simmons design. To a large percentage of the public a bed is still just "a bed."

Varied types and styles

But the Simmons range of styles in authoritative and spirited designs, exclusive construction features, scientific methods of finishing, and long years of specialized experience are things far beyond the reach of any imitator. They are the qualities which warrant you and thousands of other critical buyers and users of bedding in insisting that your bed be no other than a Simmons.

Yet these qualities are not instantly noticeable and it is easy for you to make the mistake of thinking that a bed is a Simmons when it really is not made by Simmons.

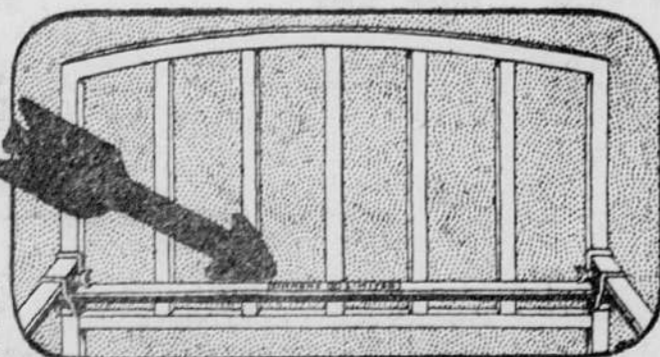

The trade-mark guide

Unless—you look for the Simmons label! There's your evidence. If the bed before you has the Simmons label on the crossbar at its foot, that bed is a Simmons. If it hasn't such a label, it is not a Simmons. Spare twenty seconds now to find the label: you'll be glad you found it for many years.

Challenge any and all "substitutes." No matter what style you fancy or the price you pay, insist on seeing the label that proves the bed, mattress, or spring you want is a Simmons—before you buy!

MICHAEL'S WEDDING GIFT

BY E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

Copyright, 1923, by E. Phillips Oppenheim. Arrgt. NEA Service, Inc.

Vendetta begins between MICHAEL SAYERS, noted criminal, and SIR NORMAN GREYES, once of Scotland Yard, when Sayers' beautiful housemaid, JANET, saves him from Sir Norman by shooting dead an officer sent to arrest him. Janet becomes Sayers' wife and accomplice.

Janet takes passage to Marseilles, where a confederate of Sayers, named Louisa Martin, is jealous of Janet and plots against her. Greyes, following on the trail of Michael, traces him to his place of residence in Marseilles. It develops that Sayers has eluded his pursuers by disguising a confederate as himself and leaving him at the residence. Greyes reaches Michael's hiding place just in time to rescue Janet. He is wounded by a shot from Sayers' revolver. Sayers escapes.

will be known and we shall all go to prison. I will swear to you the woodcutters' oath, the oath across the flames, that your share shall be saved. But go to the village tonight with 20 francs each, the pourboire given us by the Englishmen, and let me keep the rest for you, or hide it for yourselves."

"They had just sufficient wit to realize that I was their superior in intelligence and that my advice was good. So we growled an oath in the strange dialect of those parts, and I gripped their gnarled and knotted hands, which reminded me always of the roots of the trees we felled.

Our next adventure, engineered in similar fashion to the last, brought us a matter of a couple of thousand francs. This time, however, there was trouble for the driver's neck was broken as he pitched head foremost from the seat of the car; and his wife, who was only slightly injured, gave vigorous evidence as to the position of our wagon and the disappearance of her husband's pocketbook after we had dragged his body up from a ledge of the precipice. A gendarme from the neighboring village visited us that same night and made a careful search through our belongings. There was nothing to be found, however, and leaving all speech to me, my companions escaped suspicion just as I did. Afterward, however, I spoke to them seriously.

"Comrades," I pointed out, "this game is too good to last. For a time we must go warily. Afterward we will seek one more adventure, which we must select with great care, for it will be my last. If it is successful, I shall leave you. Afterward you two had better bury your savings in the ground and abandon the game, for it needs brains to be made successful, and you two have not the brains of a rabbit between you."

They knew that I was right, and they held their peace. It was a month later, indeed, before we made our last coup, and it ended in a very different fashion from what I had anticipated. From my lookout place on a stretch of the road above the wagons, I saw a gray touring car, piled with luggage and golf-clubs, approaching from the direction of Cannes. There was a girl in front, seated by the driver, and an elderly gentleman behind. I called down to the others.

"Comrades, this is our chance," I announced. "Move the wagons on around the corner, and be prepared for what may happen."

What did happen was not in the least what I had expected. From where I lay, crouching amongst the scrub, I could see that something was wrong with the car. The chauffeur was rocking in his seat, and the car was swaying from side to side.

But it was the girl's face from which I could not remove my eyes. She must have fully realized the danger she was in, but she showed not the slightest signs of fear. She leaned over and tried to put on the foot-brake, succeeding so far, in fact, as momentarily to check the progress of the car. The chauffeur, suddenly seizing his opportunity, jumped from his seat and rolled over in the dust. The girl's foot apparently slipped from the brake, and the car once more gathered speed.

I saw her eyes, as the car came bumping down the hill, heard the wild shouting and exclamations of the old gentleman behind, and there came to me one of those extraordinary moments which I make no attempt to explain.

I half slid, half scrambled, down the slope into the road, drew in my breath, poised myself for a great effort, and at the psychological moment leaped for the front splash-board. I found myself sprawling across the seat, but my left hand was upon the wheel. We were within two inches of the precipice after my jump, and we just touched the farther side of the road with my grab at the wheel. I righted the car without much difficulty, applied the brake, gently but with increasing force, took the corner with only a moderate skid and brought the car to a standstill within a few feet of the wagon. When the girl saw it, the first look of fear crept into her face.

"Listen, Jacques, and you, Pierre," I said. "I am a man of justice, but although I am one of you, I have traveled beyond these forests, and I know the world. If you take this money with you to the village tonight, you will be drunk, the truth

"Leave the details to me." We went to our work the next morning with a new zest. All the time that we were at work in the forest we were thinking of what fortune might have in store for us on our homeward crawl. We crawled round each corner, lettering at the psychological spot always with the same evil hope in our hearts.

The affair, however, was not so easy. Sometimes we were seen from above or below; sometimes drivers were too careful. On the fourth day, however, success rewarded our perseverance. A small automobile which I had spotted from a distance came round the corner where we were, so to speak, anchored, driven with that full measure of recklessness which only a Frenchman, anxious to have his engine, can obtain. There was a wild cry from the driver, a crash into our wagon, and over went the automobile and man down the side of the precipice.

IT WAS I WHO CLAMBERED DOWN TO WHERE OUR VICTIM WAS LYING AND DREW A PLEASING PURSE.

It was I who clambered down to where our victim was lying, and drew a pleasing-looking black pocketbook from the inside of his coat. Afterward I felt his heart, and discovered that he was alive. I ordered Pierre to move the wagons over to our own side of the road, and we secreted the pocketbook among the logs we were carrying. Presently a public touring car from Cannes, on its way to Hyeres, arrived. The accident was explained; room was made for the injured man, and a liberal pourboire was given us, collected among the passengers. We then made our way home, and later on, when we had lighted our evening fire, we opened the pocketbook. I divided the money into three portions, but I spoke to them as a matter.

"Listen, Jacques, and you, Pierre," I said. "I am a man of justice, but although I am one of you, I have traveled beyond these forests, and I know the world. If you take this money with you to the village tonight, you will be drunk, the truth

SUTTON

Baptist Church Had Annual Meeting.

The annual business meeting of Olivet Baptist Church was held at the Parsonage on Friday evening, May 16th. There was a large number of members and adherents in attendance. Reports for the past year were read and were very encouraging. A pleasing feature of the work is the activity of the young people and the interest that the Sunday School is taking in Missions. Officers were elected for the ensuing year, and plans were made for the future, and especially for the evangelistic services to be held on May 27th and following days, when Rev. G. K. Tyler, of Coaticook, will be the preacher.

General Notes.

Rev. John Champion will occupy the pulpit in the Baptist Church next Sunday morning, May 25th, at 10.30, standard time.

Rev. John Champion, Rev. C. P. England and Mr. W. O. Hawley took an auto trip to Dunkin on Monday to attend the Ministers' and Laymen's Conference to be held in that place.

Special Evangelistic services are to be held in Olivet Baptist Church commencing Tuesday evening, May 27th. Rev. G. K. Tyler and wife, of Coaticook, are coming to assist the pastor in this work. Mr. Tyler is a good Gospel preacher and also plays the violin. Mrs. Tyler will sing. The community at large is invited to attend these services and to take an interest in them. It is hoped that this special effort will be widespread in its influence for good.

is a life insurance policy.

When it is known that life insurance exists, the Widow finds her credit is "satisfactory"; the home continues; the estate can be administered without loss; just debts are paid promptly, and the Will has a chance to do what was intended.

But a vastly different story is told where there is no life insurance; and far more tragic than "a home without a Mother" is the Mother without a home.

Life insurance may be so readily secured that the world thinks little of those who fail to protect their dependents in this way.

THE WATERLOO DISTRICT HELD BUSY MEETING

Reports of the District Were Submitted—Meeting Held at the Methodist Church at Sutton.

SUTTON, Que., May 22.—The Ministerial Session of the Waterloo District, at the Methodist Church, convened at Sutton, with the Rev. Wm. Howitt, B.A., B.D., Chairman of the District Presiding. After the devotional exercises the roll was called and the following ministers answered present to their names: Rev. Wm. Howitt, B.A., B.D., of Waterloo, Chairman of the District; Rev. Charles Huxtable, of South Stukely; Rev. Arthur E. Hager, B.A., of Knowlton; Rev. Luther England, B.A., of Knowlton; Rev. Ernest M. Taylor, M.A., of Knowlton; Rev. S. Wesley Boyd, B.D., of Sutton; Rev. Herbert Allenby, of Cowansville; Rev. George Forde, of Dunham; Rev. J. Wm. Perley, of Stanbridge East; Rev. J. B. Hicks, of Bedford; Rev. R. S. Smith, of Farnham; Rev. Thomas Brown, B.D., of Granby, and the Rev. A. Sisco of West Shefford.

A message was received from the Rev. E. W. Crane, who is a member of this district with residence in Toronto, in which he expressed the hope that the District would have a happy and successful season. The usual questions as to the ministers of the church were all put and answered satisfactorily, after which the case of Archie L. Sisco came up for decision. Mr. Sisco was orally examined as to his faith and religious life and having completed his work as a Probationer of the Methodist Church. It was moved by the Rev. T. Brown, and seconded by the Rev. S. W. Boyd, and resolved that this District Recommend to the forthcoming Annual Conference that Mr. Sisco be Ordained and Received into Full Connexion. The Revs. E. M. Taylor and R. S. Smith spoke on the motion which was then put and carried unanimously.

The ladies of the church served dinner and the meeting adjourned. The Ladies of the Church graciously entertained the District in the church parlors and provided an abundance of good things for the inner man, to which the ministers and lay delegates applied themselves with relish and energy. At the conclusion of the meal at the request of the Chairman, the Rev. Wm. Perley of Stanbridge East moved a very hearty vote of thanks to the ladies for their kind preparation for the District. The motion was seconded by Mr. A. E.

This picture, taken in Berlin, shows a motorcyclist carrying a fair passenger on the rear seat, with his portable radio receiving set. The aerial is carried on the back of the passenger, while both riders wear head sets, enabling them to listen in on all radio entertainment.

Hale of Branby.

With the permission of the Chairman the Rev. E. M. Taylor, of Knowlton, said a few words about old times, referring to a time when the whole of the Waterloo District was included in the Stanstead District. It was in the year 1870 that the May meeting was held in Sutton and the Pastor of Stanstead was the Rev. Charles A. Hanson, who attended the District driving to the village in the company of the Rev. E. M. Taylor M.A. At the table he was asked to move a vote of thanks to the ladies for their kind provision. In doing so he said that upon his approach to the village he had been startled to read upon several signs along the road side "Parsons Exterminator." He had voiced his apprehensions to his companion who had drawn his attention to the fact that as there was a picture of a rat between the words, they probably meant parson's Rat Exterminator and Mr. Hanson was accordingly relieved.

Mr. Taylor went on to say that owing to ill health in the home Mr. Hanson was obliged to leave the ministry for a time during which time he entered into business and established the well known firm of Hanson, Montreal. He was so successful in business that his gifts were recognized in England and he was called to London where he became Sheriff of London. He was afterwards knighted and afterwards was found occupying the proud position of Lord Mayor of London. So that Sutton could look upon the fact that at least once in its history it had entertained one who became famous. Sir Charles Hanson passed away some years ago and Lady Hanson more recently.

The Chairman called upon the District to drink the toast to the ladies after which the District repaired to the church for the business of the afternoon. The first business of the afternoon session was to call the roll of Prizes will be given by the examiners and diplomas from the District which will be signed by the Chairman of the District and the Examinee.

While there were not so many scholars taking the course as last year, the District Meeting expressed the conviction that the work done will have a lasting impression for good upon those scholars who took part, and it is hoped that another year there will be a great many more take the examinations.

Resolutions re church property on the Sutton and Dunham and West Shefford Circuits were all considered and moved on to the proper committee at Conference.

The Lay delegates retired and elected delegates and alternate delegates to Conference as follows: Delegates, Mr. F. Barrington, Mr. A. A. Sargeant, Mrs. K. Pattullo, Miss M. Gillispie, Mr. G. E. Vernal, Mr. E. L. Jenne, Mr. Geo. Trites, Mr. Frank Corey, Mr. H. Giddings, Mr. C. H. Bradford, Mr. E. H. Morgan, Mr. A. W. Hale, Mr. Wm. Stafford and Mr. Levi Shufelt. The Alternates appointed were Messrs. A. F. Tupper, Henry Bigg, C. Bull, M. C. Robinson and John Wilson, Jr. The Chairman nominated a committee consisting of Revs. T. Brown and G. Forde and Messrs Barrington and A. H. Hale, as representatives on the Various Conference Committees. The report of which was as follows:—Committees—Ministers—Laymen—Lay Agencies, Rev. Wm. F. Perley, G. E. Vernal; Continent, Rev. H. Allenby, F. Barrington; Religious Education, Rev. T. Brown, F. Barrington; Nominating, Rev. J. B. Hicks, A. W. Hale; State of the Work, Rev. R. S. Smith, E. A. Morgan; Evangelism, Rev. A. E. Hager, F. Covey; Memorials, Rev. H. Allenby, H. The result of the election of the Representative of the District to the Stationing Committee resulted in the election of the Rev. T. Brown. The Rev. Herbert Allenby was elected Alternative Representative.

The report of the Financial Secretary, The Rev. J. B. Hicks, was that the present year finds every circuit with all connexional funds paid in full, and he reports the best to his knowledge during his residence in the District.

The report of the Statistical Secretary, the Rev. Charles Huxtable was that the Circuit Schedules were all in splendid order. As some of the men had not sent the sheets in according to Discipline he could not give all the totals of the figures, but submitted the following Membership. A small decrease of seven, caused by removals. Missionary givings are slightly less than last year's complete reports but as the Missionary year does not end until the last of June it is more than probable that the amounts reported for this year will be augmented. The Women's Missionary Societies reported a substantial increase. While in some of the funds there were small decreases the total assembly funds this year raised were $7,295.00 as compared with $6,278.00 being an increase of $1,017.

The report of the Sunday School Secretary, The Rev. Geo. Forde, was very satisfactory except in that it showed that only a small number of our Sunday School Scholars have been received into the church this year. Had the number been more, we need not have reported a decrease in membership.

The reports from the fields and the large number of circuits asking for the return of their ministers speaks volumes for the work which has been accomplished in the Name of the Lord even though sometimes in the face of many difficulties, and is an encouragement to Ministers and Laymen alike to press forward.

The Rev. S. W. Boyd brought to the attention of the District that as it is expected that soon there will be a plebiscite in the County of Brome for the bringing about a change in the Temperance Law and to put that County under the Quebec Liquor Act, it would be well for the District to take the matter under consideration. And he especially asked for those present who resided in the County of Missisquoi to give their opinions of the Quebec Liquor Act. Without exception the members present from that County condemned the Present Act and condition of affairs, and resolution was unanimously passed urging the people of Brome to maintain their present law. Also a resolution was passed to be sent to Conference and to Dr Moore urging our people in Ontario to maintain the Prohibition law of that Province rather than to permit any such law as the Quebec Liquor Act.

On motion to adjourn being made, Hymn 372 was sung and the Rev. J. B. Hicks, B.A., pronounced the benediction.

CONTRADICTORY REPORTS REGARDING U.S. AVIATORS

Message from Minato Indicated Aviators Had Arrived There from Yatorofu Island.

(Associated Press Despatch) TOKIO, May, 21. — Garbled message received yesterday by the Associated Press from Minato, indicated that the United States Army around-the-world fliers had arrived there from Yatorofu Island, their second landing place in the Kurile Islands. Official despatches to the Japanese Navy Department today, however, stated that the aviators still were at Yatorofu, detained by stormy weather.

BISHOP'S HAS HIGH STANDARD OF EDUCATION

Ideals Towards Which Bishop's University Is Working.

Exact and studied observation leads to measured reasoning and the acquisition of skill and is the ideal toward which true education should strive, according to Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard, and world-wide authority on teaching. Faced with the difficulty of providing a large number of applicants with a college education, some universities have probably found it difficult to provide facilities for that exact and studied observation which Dr. Eliot lays down as an essential. But there is one university which according to its graduates, has striven successfully for eighty-one years to put into practice what Dr. Eliot has but recently put into words. It is Bishop's University at Lennoxville founded as far back as 1843. "Bishop's has never been one of those large, bustling 'institutions' where the size of the graduating classes and the success of the athletic teams are of more importance than the general scholastic standing of the students," said one graduate talking in affectionate terms of his Alma Mater. "It has always been the aim of Bishop's to emulate the great English universities of Oxford and Cambridge and to turn out men well educated in every sense of that much-abused word." A minimum of 20 students a year are given financial assistance in getting their Arts Degree at Bishop's. This is done through bursaries and scholarships and applies to students from all over the Dominion, the only condition being a certain standard of education and character. The amount of assistance is determined by the student's worth, application to studies and general bearing. None are working their way through college, as the financial assistance accorded dispenses with this.

BEDFORD TURNS DOWN 'SUMMER TIME' PLAN

Failed to Reach Agreement at Council Meeting—Other News Notes and Personals.

BEDFORD, Que., May, 22.—Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Dudd with their children, of Greens Corners, Vt., were recently visiting relatives at Mystic, and Mrs. Dodd's mother in Bedford. Miss Dorothy Severight was a guest on Sunday at the home of Mr. D. P. Jones. Miss Freda Vaughan, of Stanbridge Ridge, was the guest on Saturday of Miss Thelma Jones. Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Jones and family motored to Champlain, N.Y., on Sunday, to visit the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Albee, who have just returned from St. Cloud, Fla., where they spent the winter months. Mr. Thomas Howie, was a visitor to Bedford on Saturday. The Rev. F. L. Whitley, Messrs. D. J. Reid and Harry Jones motored to Knowlton on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Eric Hibbard, of Sutton, were guests the past weekend of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Shelton. Miss Kathleen Jenkins, of Montreal, arrived here on Thursday evening, and will remain for a while as a guest of the Rev. F. L. Whitley, and Mrs. Whitley. Mr. Raymond Best motored from St. Albans, Vt., on Saturday, and spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Best. The sale of work held on Thursday last by the Guild members of St. James church was one of the most successful sales ever held. Despite the inclemency of the weather, buyers were plentiful and prices were good, swelling the funds of the treasury. The regular session of the Town Council was held on Wednesday evening with a full attendance of members. Routine business was transacted, and the paying of bills ordered the question of "Daylight Saving" was brought up and as it could not be agreed upon, Bedford will not have "Daylight Saving."

Mrs. Hiram Best, Upper Bedford, entertained on Saturday afternoon in honor of the twelfth birthday of her daughter, Evelyn, when the following young guests were present: Miss Ruth Howie, of Pike River; Isabel Currie, Angeline Stevens, Doris Jones, Eleanor Jones, Leslie Smith, Stella Shapiro, Sybil Brainin, Ernestine Best, J. Getty, Lucile Creller, Marie Hallsley Della Proctor, John Ewing, Harvey Shapiro, Morely Cockerline, Hugh Getty, Bert Gould, Malcolm McCaw, Elliott Cockerline and Charles McCaw, a delightful afternoon was spent by the young people playing different games, after which delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Best. Among other gifts received by the young hostess was a camera from a number of her guests.

The following account of the death of Mrs. John Bockus will be of interest, as she was at one time a resident of this town. Mrs. John Bockus died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Elwyn Thompson, in the Parish of St. Armand West, after an illness of some weeks. For years past her health had been poor, but during the early part of the winter, Mrs. Bockus seemed in rather better health than for some time previous. The funeral, which was held at the house, was conducted by the Rev. Mr. J. B. Hicks, of the Methodist Church, interment was in the Ploss Cemetery on Dutch Street. The late Mrs. Bockus was born Mary Whitehead, of Kent County, England. At the age of twenty she married William Beers. Later they came to Canada and bought a small farm at Mystic. A few years after a daughter, now Mrs. Elwyn Thompson, was born. When the latter was seven months old, Mr. Beers died in the Montreal General Hospital. His widow and child remained for a time at Mystic, then went to the Parish of St. Armand West, where Mrs. Bockus took care of Miss Eva Bockus until the latter's death, after which she married Mr. John Bockus. Mr. Bockus predeceased his wife some years ago. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Elwyn Thompson, and one grandchild, Myrtle Thompson. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson warmly appreciate the many kindnesses shown during the illness and death of Mrs. Bockus, particularly a wreath from Mrs. J. A. Bockus was appreciated.

Mrs. Merrill Hungerford, of Swanton, Vt., is here staying with her brother, Mr. Samuel Coslett, for an indefinite time.

Mr. B. Draper spent last Sunday in Cowansville at his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex D. Fisher, of Montreal, were the guests during the past week-end of the latter's mother, Mrs. Wellington Bockus.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Currie and the Messrs. Lawrence Taylor and Charles Corcy, motored to Farnham on Sunday.

Miss Ellicott, of Montreal, is staying at the home of Mrs. D. J. Reid, Upper Bedford.

Mrs. Richard L. Craighall and young son, Richard, who have spent the past two months with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Jones, have left for their home at Surge Tank, Vt. Mrs. Jones accompanied Mrs. Craighall as far as White River Junction.

What might have proved a very serious fire and it not been discovered in time, occurred at the home of Mr. Capsey on Monday morning. The fire originated in an upstairs bedroom, through which a stove-pipe passed, and was caused by the high wind blowing that morning. The contents of the bedroom were entirely destroyed, but with the assistance of neighbors the fire was controlled before more damage was done.

Better than ever

DOMINION ROYAL CORD TIRES
—for years the standard of tire durability, mileage and tire values in Canada—the standard by which all tires are measured.

—now better than ever because of the two greatest features discovered in tire building since the cord tire itself was developed—the Web Cord process and Sprayed Rubber.

These features are exclusive in Dominion Royal Cord and U-cord Tires in Canada.

Dominion Royal Cord Tires, because of these new processes, now have greater uniformity of wear—more resiliency—more mileage—greater value than ever.

Dominion Cord Tires made by the Web Cord process are as much better than cord tires made by the old method, as cord tires are better than fabric tires.

These great advantages come to you without increase in the price—they are extra value—more mileage—which do not add a cent to your cost of Dominion Cord Tires.

Watch for the white strip.

CHICAGO CUBS OUT IN FRONT IN NATIONAL

Giants and Reds Start Important Series at Cincinnati Today—Giants Beat Pirates.

(Associated Press Despatch) NEW YORK, May 22.—Holding first place in the National League today by an unexpected coup, Chicago is in a position to drive stakes around its claim, while the Giants and Reds wrangle at Cincinnati in a four game series.

Grover Alexander pitched the Cubs into first place with an 8 to 6 victory over Philadelphia yesterday, while Ernie Osborne, a discarded Cub, hauled the Reds from the leadership by winning his debut for Brooklyn, 9 to 2. The Giants beat the Pirates 10 to 8 in a slugging match, and the three leading teams are now struggling within the narrow confines of a half game, while Brooklyn is a game and one half away.

Boston was the scene of the only American League contest not postponed by rain, the Red Sox winning their thirteenth battle in sixteen starts and advancing to within a half game of the leading Yankees. They defeated Detroit in a 5 to 4 pitchers' battle between Jack Quinn and Collins.

Manager McGraw, of the Giants, was forced to his home in New Rochelle by an injured knee and Hughie Jennings will direct the Giants until the crippled leader returns, which, physicians stated, might not be for some time.

NEW YORK PRESS MARKET COMMENT

Furnished by McManamy & Walsh

Journal of Commerce—In the main, the market showed a more optimistic point of view than for some days past, and there was satisfaction because a reasonable prospect of agreement on the tax bill had developed.

New York Tribune—While attention will continue to be focused on business and political affairs here and on events abroad, there is little likelihood of any forced selling such as would sharply depress prices in any one trading period. The market has shown itself to be in a strong technical position.

Wall Street Journal—Much of Tuesday's selling came from interior points for the account of holders who had made up their mind to sell if the bonus bill went through. Wall Street Journal will say today: Hoover presses for rail consolidation. Thinks Cummings bill will pave way for fewer systems and much saving in management.

U. S. Rubber's tire profits increase. Results so far this year show decided improvement over 1923. Preferred dividend earned. H. F. Sinclair sees oil improvement. Tells stockholders domestic light oil production declined sharply.

Why the Bonds of Atlantic Coast Collieries, Limited Are a Good Investment. Because they are secured by a mortgage on assets worth, at very conservative valuation, more than double the present issue. The proceeds from the sale of these bonds will increase these assets in the form of equipment and development work by forty per cent. Because the earnings of the Company are just as certain as that there is a market for every ton of coal that can be mined. Because the Mabou coal mines can be operated at a cost assuring a profit at prices which would mean no profit to other mines. Because the quality of a large part of the output of the Mabou mines is higher than that of any other mine in Nova Scotia, and will command a premium when sold on an analysis basis. Because there is an assured market for all the coal that can be produced at prices which will yield substantial profits. Because the Company is soundly financed and will be managed and operated by able, practical men of long experience in the business. Because it has every element of success—abundant and accessible coal, economy of extraction, market and profit. Because the bonds carry a bonus of 20 per cent. in common stock which has good prospects of becoming valuable. We recommend the purchase of the 7% first mortgage bonds of Atlantic Coast Collieries Limited. Send us your order to-day.

CANCER NOT CONSIDERED CONTAGIOUS

If Scientists Discover Microbe Transmits Disease, Way Will Be Opened for Its Rational Treatment and Control.

(Associated Press Despatch) NEW YORK, May 22.—Cancer is not considered contagious but if scientists eventually discover that a microbe transmits the disease a way will be opened for its rational treatment and control. Dr. Charles H. Mayo, of Rochester, Minn., sets forth in a telegram to Dr. George A. Sopher, managing director of the Society for the Control of Cancer.

Dr. Mayo said his message was prompted by somewhat exaggerated reports of an address at Fairbault, Minn., last week, when news despatches quoted him as having said that within a short time cancer would be considered contagious.

"There are several causes which contribute to the development of cancer," said his telegram today. "Microbe infection probably is one of them. Chronic injury or irritation is a long recognized cause and may give opportunity for infection."

PLAN OF INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY IN SPAIN HAS BEEN REJECTED

Believe Steps Should Be Taken Immediately to Encourage Co-operation Between Universities of Different Countries.

(Associated Press Despatch) BRUSSELS, May 22.—The sub-committee on inter-university relations of the intellectual commission of the League of Nations, under the chairmanship of Professor Gilbert Murray, of Great Britain, has rejected the proposal of the Spanish Government to establish an international university in Spain with special provisions for the Jewish students of Eastern Europe, who are affected by the percentage limitation of their numbers in local universities. The feeling was expressed that it would be impossible at present to establish an official international university, although steps should be taken immediately to encourage co-operation between the universities of the different countries by a frequent exchange of professors and students.

UNIQUE TABLE GRACES CEDAR CITY (Associated Press Despatch) CEDAR CITY, Utah, May 22.—The biblical many colored coat of Joseph has a rival in the modern world of cabinet making in the form of a library table made by W. W. Flannigan, engineer of the southern branch of the Utah Agricultural College here. The top of the table is 32x22 inches and contains in its surface 18,200 pieces of wood representing 91 varieties.

Miss Mary Anderson, daughter of Mr. C. W. Anderson, M.P.P., and Mrs. Anderson, of Sherbrooke, Nova Scotia, and popular in Halifax social circles, whose marriage to Mr. Alton L. Lomas, of Halifax, formerly of Sherbrooke, takes place in June. Mr. Lomas is manager of Henry Birks and Sons, Halifax.

CLAIM AUDITORS DID NOT LOOK UP

(Continued from page 5.) place it to 'deferred assets' contending that it did not represent accounts receivable. This concerns electric energy used by customers, registered by the meters, but not read and not invoiced. This energy has been manufactured, it cost money to get it done, this cost forms part and parcel of the operation expenses which our books record; it is certainly right that we should include it in our revenue. A manufacturing company, manufacturing a product which requires several days for the transformation of the raw material into the finished product would not, I suppose, include the goods in process of manufacture in its assets? In any case, as the auditors, after lengthy discussion and proof made that all companies act in a similar manner, came to our way of thinking and included the amount in 'deferred assets' there is nothing less to discuss with the exception as to why this amount is not 'account receivable.' I give an example: "(a)—A client spends $10 for electric light or power from November 30th to December 30th. His meter is read. His bill is sent. It is an account receivable. "(b)—Another client spends the same amount for the same period. His meter is not read, his account is not sent. The auditors state this is not an account receivable. Why? "It remains to be explained that the system of reading the meters is done by rotation. There are 6,000 meters to be read every month, some of which are read each day. At the end of December, therefore, a large number of meters register use of energy for a period of days ranging from one to twenty-nine days. This makes up the amount of $20,083.85 which is as accurate an estimate as can be reached. "Other amounts; $1,530.19, $16.34, $391.64 charges against other services taken from accounts receivable by the auditors and transferred into doubtful suspense account. This was in error on their part, as all these charges were paid, proof of which shown in the 1922 report, which shows only $560.91 in the suspense account. Electricity. Stores.—"With regard to the item of $18,000 charged to stores and debited to maintenance, I have already explained our relations with stores, how we received orders to deal with these accounts and how we took these orders from the manager who was supposed to know about them and also know what he was doing. Nothing further need be said. Property accounts. Electricity, Plants, $3,172,815.45.—"This all concerns the valuations, engineers, managers and superintendents. It has nothing to do with us. "Sauce for the Goose is Sauce for the Gander." Electricity, accounts payable, $34,171.05.—"What was not included in this amount was not given to us by the purchasing department. Insofar as the item of $10,822.51 is concerned in favor of the tax department, for Westbury, without any malice I would like to know why the auditors made this entry without the approval of the council, after they had reproached us repeatedly, in both reports, in both reports, for having acted thus without authority. 'Sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander.' Electricity and gas. Division of salaries.—"It is true that the gas electricity department. That was partment pays a round sum to the decision of the council through the budget which was voted. Had the auditors consulted the budget they would have been informed. "The sum of $15,000 charged to expenses and then credited to revenue, for street lighting, then cancelled, when the books were opened again. I would refer the auditors to by-law No. 255, which is still in effect, which was voted by the electorate and which is our authority. The auditors cannot have read this by-law or they forget to consult it. I quote: Extract From By-Law. Clause No. 6.—"In estimating the revenues of the city from the said works for the above purpose, the council shall include a reasonable charge for the lighting of the streets and public places of the city as well as for any power furnished to any of the other departments of the city to be paid from the general revenues of the city." It is not our fault if this by-law is not adhered to.

ANOTHER ARREST MADE IN CONNECTION WITH BANK CAR HOLD-UP AT MONTREAL

Man Held at Hull—Montreal Police Will Try to Identify Him in Court Today.

(Associated Press Despatch) OTTAWA, May 22.—With the arrest of a man who gives his name as Arthur Jarry, at Hull, the police believe they have one of the gang of bandits who April 1st held up the Banque d'Hochelega collection car in Montreal, stealing $142,288 and murdering two men. The Montreal police will attempt to identify him in court today.

The sentiment of the people was strongly against such a change of flag, and they were very loyal to Great Britain.

JAMAICA LEGISLATURE URGES CONTINUANCE OF PREFERENTIAL TARIFF

Declared that Unless Preference Continued, Jamaica Would Have to Seek New Markets in Canada and United States.

KINGSTON, Ja., May 22.—The legislative council passed a resolution yesterday urging continuance by the British Government of preference on colonial products, especially sugar. If the preference is not continued, it was contended, the West Indian industry would be unable to compete with continental products.

The elected members of the council made it clear that unless the preferential tariff remained Jamaica must seek new markets in Canada and the United States.
