

FIRE AND NEAR VICTIM:

It was an all-out alarm for Westmount Fire Brigade, with mutual aid back-up from St. Laurent, just before noon Tuesday when flames burst through the front windows of this Victorian house at 29 Staynor street. The fire had gained a firm hold in the walls of the old structure, working their way through also to No. 27. In the lower photo Fireman R. Dessureault holds a large, black cat rescued from the smoke and water some three-quarters of an hour after the outbreak, wet, wheezing but alive. Five of his companion cats ran free when firemen broke in. The house is owned by N. O'Donnell, 447 Mount Pleasant avenue, and is occupied by Rod Dewar.

 "We can take nothing for granted," Dr. H. Locke Robertson, principal of McGill University, warned English-speaking parents in the packed auditorium of Westmount High School Monday night. Dr. Robertson was one of three panelists at a joint meeting to discuss the Quebec government's controversial Bill 62 which would reorganize school administration on the Island of Montreal.
 "Times have changed. We cannot take it for granted that we will always receive fair treatment." The Quebec ministry of education "has neither the time nor the desire to attend to the problems on the English side," he said. He cited the example of

St. Leonard and said that when the government was asked for co-operation in the formation of English CEGEPs its frequent excuse was that "time was not ripe."
 Ian Trasler, principal of John Grant High School and past president of the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers, said most of its members opposed the unified school system because no one had convinced them it would be an improvement over the present system. "The Quebec government is trying to legislate something that cannot be legislated," he said.

Don't legislate

Mr. Trasler who is treasurer of the Association for Reform in Education said, "I do not oppose Bill 62 for fear of the French. I sometimes have the idea if you get rid of the legislation we would get along very well." Mr. Trasler advocated putting both groups on a stronger basis instead, and said: "We will learn to work together as we are doing, and let them stop trying to legislate us."

 Joseph L. Pagé, chairman of the Pagé Commission, explained the purposes of the bill. Its aim is a centralization of economic organization and equipment, a decentralization of teaching administration and the more active participation of parents.
 "All parents would have a direct say," he remarked. "People of Jewish faith would be eligible as board and council members."

 Mr. Pagé felt that, to be dynamic, the school system needed a unified school board and that the removal of barriers and co-operation of board members would improve understanding and efficiency.
 "As a Canadian and a Québecer I am conscious the future of Canada and Québec will be decided in Montreal. This is a challenge... we want everyone to work together."
 Saying that Bill 62 was a proposed amendment to the Education Act and has to be read with existing legislation, Mr. Pagé assured parents that Bill 63 guar-

Westmount tops in fire protection

Westmount and North Bend, Oregon, shared honors as the top North American communities in fire prevention last year. The National Fire Protection Association in Boston made the announcement Tuesday of the results of annual contests in the two countries.
 As a grand award winner, Westmount is rated tops in Canada by the NFPA and beat out a wide range of cities of considerably greater size. There were 1,600 entries.
 In second to fifth positions after Westmount were Hamilton, Scarborough, Ottawa, and Calgary.
 Westmount's 5,400 inspections of homes and other buildings during the year were cited along with various public-awareness programs.

No quorum: Council holds non-meeting

Westmount City Council held a non-meeting Tuesday evening and didn't name an alternate for Mayor Peter McEntyre to represent the city at tonight's meeting of Montreal Urban Community centre-sector municipalities.
 The special, one-agenda-item meeting was called Friday for 5 pm Tuesday, at which time the mayor, Aldermen Jean Richer and Charles Aspler, and a full complement of city official were on hand.
 While waiting for any one of their four missing colleagues to show up and make it a quorum His Worship informally addressed those who were present on the city's high award for fire prevention as well as on the previous evenings Bill 62 information meeting at Westmount High School.
 At 5:13 pm - more elapsed time than taken for many a full agenda in the past - General Manager Norman Dawe came in to announce that no other aldermen could be expected. Mr. McEntyre therefore declared the meeting impossible to hold. Those present agreed to extend the notice to 5 pm today and felt that, in any event, there would be no serious consequence if it could not be held then, either - unless something unforeseen prevented the mayor from attending the Community meeting at which the sector's two representatives to the new executive committee are to be appointed.

 The motion, which was to have been made by Alderman John E. Birks, was to say: "That in the event the mayor is unable to act as delegate of the City of Westmount at the meeting to be held on Thursday, Jan. 29, under Section 8 of the Montreal Urban Community Act, the council hereby appoints as alternate delegates to attend the above-mentioned meeting the pro-mayor or, if he is unable to act, the next senior member of council".

Where were the English?

One can never guess what the attendance will be for a "free concert." And it may surprise readers that the audience in St. Andrew's Church last Sunday night, 101 Cote St. Antoine road, an English congregation, was mostly French people.

There was a very representative attendance of prominent French Canadian musicians - Dr. and Mrs. Jean Papineau-Couture; Louis Charbonneau, our expert drummer of the Montreal Symphony; another percussionist, Paul Duplessis - among them. The only English member of the musical colony was Westmounter Sarah Fischer.

Of course, there may have been others but during intermission I had the opportunity to notice many who were present. This place of worship is indeed attractive and unlike most churches has a splendid foyer so there is room to move about during the entr'acte and see who is there.

As previously stated, I was amazed that the church was not packed to hear Raymond Daveluy because of his prowess on the organ. (He is the regular organist at St. Joseph's Oratory.) Having heard and reviewed him a number of times, I knew what to expect. Pierre Mollet, a well-known baritone, also had his share of the two-composer program of Honegger and Bach. Both artists received great applause.

Rebuilt after the fire a few years ago (it also happens to be right opposite the Westmount police and fire station) the new church is really well planned. Before you enter at night, the stained glass windows of many hues attract you and I was told that, during day services, they are elegant within, specially when the sun is strong.

I have been in countless churches of all denominations,

Last year the school introduced the Lower Canada College Certificate of graduation. All leading universities throughout Canada and the U.S. have agreed to recognize it as a basis for preliminary acceptance.

Last weekend after much thought this year's certificates were awarded on the strength of the Christmas exam results. This allows students to plan, with greater certainty, their post-high-school careers and diminishes anxieties associated with university entrance.

The certificates awarded were the gold (highest) and the red (second highest).

Since this fine concert had been advertised, the attendance should have filled specially as the location is one of the easiest to get to right behind Westmount City Hall. It probably was three-fifths full!

The regular organist, Gordon White told me that they probably will have more concerts open to the public, so let us hope people will make the effort to attend them.

Hodgson, R.F. Miller, H.S. Patch, B. Patterson, T. Reaper, M. Wleklinski, R.B. Jones, D. McDonald, J. McPhee and R.M. Peck received gold certificates. D.H. Tweedie, J.D. Miller and D. Reid received red ones.

In Grade Eleven, the following earned gold certificates: J.R.M. Aihoshi, M. Bantey, P.E. Benson, M.R. Fournier, J.Y. Hague, K.G. Hague, B.R.S. Hall, T.E. Hooley, I.F. McDonald, M.G. McIntyre, R.G. McRobie, J.D. Muir, D.R.G. Tait, C.R. Thompson, A. Dascal, G.D. Farnell, K.C. Hampson and G.A. McDonald. Red certificates: D.G. Halpenny, T.O.G. Kovacs, B. Liefman, F.P. Nestel, D.W. Thomas and I.W. Beggs.

The Old Boys' Association is holding their annual dinner on Feb. 10 at the school. The guest speaker will be Blair Gordon, a Lower Canada old boy and former chairman of the board of governors. He will discuss Lower Canada's past, present and future.

Burst main floods area

Folks in the Clandeboye avenue area were without water for nearly 12 hours last Thursday after a water main burst on their street and provided some spectacular ice conditions all the way down into St. Henry.

The escaping torrent was down Clandeboye, along Prospect and then south on Greene through the CPR underpass. On Greene, Westmount Works employees attempted to channel the flood into catch-basins.

Montreal Water Works men provided emergency water to affected residents while repairs were being made. Service was resumed about 4 pm.

Watch it!

In our item last week concerning the new watch and clock service on Sherbrooke Street west, the impression may have been given that all watches of the makes mentioned should be repaired at that shop.

The statement should have read that those watches which were still under guarantee could be brought there instead of being sent out of town as formerly.

Actually, any qualified watchmaker in the Westmount district can repair these watches satisfactorily.

Perrette 4th holdup nets $204

For the fourth time in a year, the Perrette Dairy store at 4471 St. Catherine street west, just west of Metcalfe avenue, was held up Monday night.

A lone, revolver-armed bandit chose a quiet moment to confront Manager Peter Messaris and relieve him of $204 in cash.

The incident occurred between 9:35 and 9:46 pm. The holdupman, described as about 25 and neatly dressed, drove off.

Montreal Police are investigating a similar robbery to a Perrette store on Monkland avenue in N.D.G. the same evening.

Parents choose teaching tongue in coming week

Now it can be told. At the Jan. 12 Westmount School Board meeting, Commissioner A. Reid Tilley told of the problem boards would face in hiring teachers now for next fall's school requirements as a result of Bill 62's language provisions.

The law says that upon registering, both parents or guardian must indicate in which language they wish their children instructed. It would be too late to hire then.

Therefore, school boards have decided to send home with students next week a questionnaire which it will be school principals' responsibility to see is returned, anticipating the next-September question.

The questionnaire was under wraps until word of it leaked out of town to a radio station.

Gear taken

At least $1,000 worth of film and music gear was taken some time between Jan. 19 and 23 from Apt. 7, 4330 Sherbrooke street west.

Greasy street causes prang

Pierre Desjardins, 28, of Ste. Thérèse-en-Haut, had his 1968 Dodge written off and complained of a piece of glass in his eye for which he refused medical treatment early last Friday afternoon on Dorchester boulevard west.

Desjardins was driving west and, when he proceeded to make a left-hand turn south into Clandeboye his wheels spun on the greasy pavement which left him in the path of an eastbound taxi, a 1967 Plymouth, driven by Willett K. Williams, 37, of LaSalle.

Damages to the two vehicles were estimated at $1,150.

First aid course begun

An eight-week course in First Aid, hosted by Cecil Arnaud, superintendent of the Westmount division of the St. John Ambulance Brigade, has been made available to citizens of Westmount and other areas, it has been announced by F. R. Prevost, provincial training officer.

Instruction which began Monday night in Victoria Hall is provided by Allan C. Soifer of the association. Upon successful completion of an examination, a first aid certificate will be issued, Mr. Prevost said.

Patrol finds man in building at 1:20 in am

The value of the patrolman on foot was proved yet again early Saturday morning when a constable found a building used for storage at 4937 Sherbrooke street west, off Claremont avenue, insecure.

He called for assistance and found on the premises was Lloyd Frederic Salmon, 34, of 5586 Rosedale avenue, Cote St. Luc.

Salmon was freed on bail pending his appearance in Westmount Municipal Court next Thursday evening.

The premises were used by Inter-World Industries, whose offices are at 375 Victoria avenue. The incident occurred at 1:20 am.

Slippery street causes pileup on Sherbrooke

Friday at 6:15 pm Miss Gabrielle Haskins of 2100 Claremont avenue was driving a 1957 Triumph west on Sherbrooke street when, opposite No. 4330, at Redfern, she lost control on the slippery pavement, spun around and into the eastbound lane where she was struck by Dr. Aboud Mounir of Cote St. Luc, driving a 1969 Plymouth.

Another 1969 Plymouth, also eastbound and driven by Robert Hofer of 4688 Westmount avenue, piled into the original tangle. There was about $1,500 damage to the three vehicles.

McEntyre Dawson good combination

Last week our good friend and fellow editor, Mr. Lawrence Hibbert of Town of Mount Royal Weekly Post, paid tribute to our Jan. 8 editorial which suggested Westmount should provide the leadership of the centre sector in the new Montreal island Community and that our mayor should be on the executive committee, if not the vice-chairman.

The Post's front-page response proceeded to dissect our claim, advancing instead the case of Mount Royal's own Mayor Reg. Dawson. Well done, it was nonetheless an over-reaction. It betrayed, between the lines, a sudden cold fear that Mr. Dawson may not be the shoo-in he was expected to be.

It would be futile to argue the personality of Mr. McEntyre against that of Mr. Dawson, because an essential difference between Westmount and Town of Mount Royal is that we are not prone, as are our friends over the mountain, to hang onto mayors and aldermen for very long periods.

More important, to us at any rate, is the "personality" of the community each man represents and from which he draws his strength. We cannot accept, as The Post suggests, that the degree to which Westmount or Mount Royal may be persona grata with the City of Montreal is not germane.

Westmount uniquely is surrounded by Montreal - a wag suggests that, by definition, Montreal is Westmount's suburb, and its only one. We have had to have good relations with the central city, and we still insist that an enlargement of that state is just what the Community will need most.

Mr. Dawson is, undeniably, experienced in inter-municipal fighting and it has occurred to us that perhaps an ideal combination might be the mayors of Town of Mount Royal AND Westmount on the Community council.

Because there were to be two from this sector, the argument had been that it should be one French and one English-speaking. Somehow everyone seemed to be conceding a seat to Mayor Garipey of Verdun.

However, if we look at the executive committee as a whole as it represents all sectors, it could make eminent good sense to pull for Mr. McEntyre AND Mr. Dawson. A strange thing could happen at tonight's choosing.

Tempting merchants and other items

We are constantly fighting a gentle battle with all kinds of good people who simply do not understand that The Westmount Examiner, like several hundred weeklies across the country, is a local community newspaper.

We know our readers are interested in Biafra and Vietnam, the Olympics, the stock markets, French policy in Libya, etc.

But we also know Westmounters don't look for these things in their local newspaper. They take The Examiner to inform them about people and things in this 1,000-acre enclave known as Westmount. On these pages we're unabashedly concerned with the parish pump, as no other medium is.

Thus we are unhappy this week to pass up notice of The Milk Fund, Feb. 1 to 15, sponsored by the Canadian Progress Club - a good cause, but no apparent Westmount angle.

And a mention of Consumer Week in Canada, March 1 to 7. The Consumers' Association of Canada has not thought to tell us if anyone in our fair city has anything to do with the association.

Likewise, the Québec Furniture Retailers Corporation - in any event it sounds rather commercial - have asked us to ask you, our readers, "Don't tempt the merchants; refrain from going to stores after hours" - lest they break the new closing times set by the WESTMOUNT A BOTTLENECK? One of the concerns of the new Montreal Urban Community will be arterial roads crossing municipal boundaries. Lying squarely in that category is St. Catherine street in Westmount a notorious place to get caught in morning rush-hours. It hasn't been helped by Montreal's abrupt closing of Dorchester eastbound from Atwater last week; even so, St. Catherine is another name for morning trouble. One clear reason: while two-way in Westmount, this main stem is one-way eastbound in Montreal; from Atwater east, providing four lanes abreast. (See lower photos, taken from Fort street looking west about the same time as our large photo, looking east from Westmount High School, right foreground.) Westmount has special problems, such as Dorchester ending at Clark and St. Catherine (above) and a limited-width de Maisonneuve boulevard from Greene to Claremont to carry westbound traffic in the evenings. Even so, the daily morning mess on St. Catherine is overdue for renewed serious study.

We Say

Reporting of theft held irresponsible

Sir: As a long-time subscriber to The Westmount Examiner, a concerned citizen, and a teacher at St. Paul's Elementary School, I must protest the irresponsible reporting on the front page of the Jan. 22 issue under the heading "Crookey."

The circumstances of the reported theft were such that the other children in the class and school were not aware of it until your paper reported it, naming not only the school but also the grade to which the child belonged. The good Lord knows, as does anyone with any sense of responsibility and compassion, that any child involved in such an incident has enough strikes against him without having his misdemeanor shouted from the roof-tops.

You Say

Furthermore, neither the theft nor the apprehension of the culpriety occurred in the manner reported. The Westmount Police Department, which is usually the recipient of well deserved praise, must have been asleep at the switch when this tidbit of news was released to your reporter, and they must share the blame.

I hope and pray that in future both the Westmount Police Department and The Westmount Examiner will act in a more responsible, charitable manner, particularly where the welfare of our children is concerned.

Sincerely,

The National Film Board and the Saumier Report

Is Canada's film industry doomed? If one were to believe certain critics of austerity measures at the National Film Board, the answer would be yes. I must however dissent from this view.

In recent years, Canadian producers, actors and films have been acclaimed at home and abroad. "Isabel" is one example that come to mind. NFB documentaries are consistently excellent and many have received international awards.

It is perhaps true that Canadian films have been, until now, sadly neglected by the majority of our own people. They were neither "conventional" American nor "way-out" European. They did not fit into a category. Now, perhaps, Canadian films may be establishing a category of their own.

Many people believe that since Canadian films are beginning to attract a following across Canada, now is not the time to curtail the National Film Board's production personnel and expenses. Rather they should be expanded.

A result of the federal government's austerity measures, the NFB's 1970-71 budget is to be maintained at the present year's level of $10,000,000. This decision resulted in an announcement by the NFB that there would be some layoffs, particularly in the film production sector. This announcement sparked considerable public protest and prompted the film makers' union, Le Syndicat Général du Cinéma et de la Télévision, to appeal to the prime minister for government consideration of the production staff's situation.

The government in December appointed a public servant, Mr. André Saumier, to review the NFB lay-off plans. The results of that review were tabled in the House of Commons last week by Secretary of State Gerard Pelletier.

Criticism

The Saumier report contains some food for thought, particularly for the National Film Board management. Its main overall criticism is that the senior management of the board had "scant knowledge of the mysterious workings of government in Ottawa". Dealing with specifics, Mr. Saumier found that the French production unit at the board was having both its budget and personnel enlarged, but that the English production unit was to be cut from 37 to 32, of which 12 will receive a one-year termination notice instead of the usual 3-month notice. Following these lay-offs, there will be 146 employees in the English production unit and 70 in the French production sector. Mr. Saumier concluded that there was no ground for fearing, as some have, that the NFB was threatened with imminent paralysis.

I should point out here that the NFB is not the sole component in the Canadian government's film industry. The CBC in fact spends more money on film production

Westmounters meet on Bill 62

Some one thousand Westmount citizens attended a stimulating and informative discussion on the Government's proposed bill for the reorganization of school structures on the Island of Montreal Monday evening at Westmount High School.

A vacancy on the speakers' platform, however, pointed up the rather remarkable absence of one of the proposed panelists, Mr. Georges Daignault, director of parent services, Québec Department of Education. Mr. Daignault had accepted the invitation of the organizers of the meeting to be present and in fact had been delegated by the Department of Education for this purpose.

Only a matter of hours before the meeting, a message was received explaining that the presence of Mr. Daignault at such a meeting would be incompatible with his duties as a civil servant! Even if such a reason were valid, one might ask why the Minister of Education himself did not attend the meeting, since he apparently was in Montreal at the time.

The three panelists answered a whole series of pertinent questions from the audience.

Each of the speakers agreed that there were many good points in Bill 62 and no one opposed the general idea of a superior school council for the whole island as well as the establishment of equalized taxation and distribution of school revenues in order to provide equal educational opportunities throughout the area and also standardization of administrative services.

The main criticisms had to do with insuring protection of language rights, which are not spelled out in Bill 62 and against the proposal to establish "unified schools boards to cover the whole of Montreal". Each of the boards would be responsible for six separate methods of teaching to be given in its territory.

that is to say, English and French, Catholic and Protestant, as well as non-denominational instruction for both English and French.

Dr. Pagé spoke first in support of the unified boards and stressed the possible aspects of the bill. He felt that unified boards would be the best approach toward mutual respect and trust between the English and French elements in the field of education. He was, however, in the difficult position of setting forth a concept which differed from the report on school re-organization for Montreal which bears his name and which was presented to the Government in October of 1968. One of the main recommendations of the Pagé report was to create 13 regional boards of which nine would cover the whole island for the administration of French schools and for regional boards which would cover the whole island for the administration of English language schools.

Good points

Mrs. Trasler agreed on the good points but he argued that

St. Andrew's revamps governing structure

A new church organization was launched at the annual meeting of St. Andrew's Church Wednesday evening.

The result of two years of intensive study, the new structure marks a departure from the form of government usually found in the United Church. "To my knowledge it is unique," commented Rev. E. A. Kirker, "especially in its preparation for the future."

Committees drawn from the membership of the church will be responsible for the worship, membership, program, outreach, education, finance and planning aspects of church life. A central administrative board drawn from the chairmen of these committees replaces the present board of managers. The Kirk Session of elders which assists the ministers in the spiritual oversight of the congregation is retained in a modified form with responsibilities for increased contact with the membership.

"Another unique feature," adds Mr. Kirker, "is the fact that the new organization was designed almost entirely by the lay men and women of the church." Chaired by E. J. Vorman, 255 Metcalfe avenue, a long range planning committee outlined the need for the new organization during a year-long series of meetings. A new constitution and related organizational guide was drafted and accepted unanimously by a congregational meeting in December. Members of this constitution committee under Lawyer H. J. G. Pye were D. O. Brenner, 374 Roslyn avenue; Miss M. Robertson, 100 Arlington avenue, and D. L. Lindsay, 4329 Montrose avenue.

Youth

With emphasis upon the younger members of the church, personnel for the new committees were then recruited and approved at Wednesday's meeting. Youth was also the emphasis in the five new elders elected to the Kirk Session.

It was announced that during 1969 St. Andrew's had given $27,140 to the Mission and Service Fund of the United Church and local welfare projects.

In addition, the United Church Women contributed $4,685 to work beyond the church.

At the St. Andrew's service this Sunday at 11 am the sermon by Rev. M. R. Ralph is entitled "The High Cost of Indifference." A Coffee Time will be held following the service.

Lectures offered

Naomi Price, CSB, of London, England, will give two free public lectures on Christian Science in this area next Sunday and Tuesday, sponsored by the Christian Science churches in Montreal and Beaconsfield. Mrs. Price has lectured in Montreal in years gone by. She is an authorized teacher and public practitioner of Christian Science, and is making an international tour as a member of the denomination's board of lectureship.

She will lecture first in the auditorium of Beaconsfield High School on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The title of her lecture is "The Gateway to a New Life".

She will lecture again in the Oval Room of Ritz-Carlton Hotel on Tuesday evening, beginning at 8.15, on "A New Look at Miracles".

The need for spiritual appreciation as a basis for enduring affection, rather than personal attachment or physical attraction, will be brought out at the services in the Christian Science churches this Sunday, in the reading of the week's lesson-sermon on "Love".

8,000 hours given Reddy by Auxiliary

Volunteers of the Women's Auxiliary who contributed more than 8,000 hours work to the Reddy Memorial Hospital during the year received tribute at their annual meeting last week from their past-president, Mrs. Oscar Nutik of 409 Clarke avenue.

Volunteers staffed the Rendezvous Shop, the travel cart, library, supply room, outpatient clinic and several other departments. Major fund raising activities included the Theatre Night, the daily travel cart, the Get-It-Now sale and the Candabra ball.

Cheques were presented at the meeting held in the hospital dining room. $12,000 went to Maurice Cadoret, executive director of the hospital, $1,000 to the medical library and $1,000 to social service.

Among officers elected for 1970 were Westmounters Mrs. F. E. H. Gates of 808 Lansdowne avenue, honorary president, Mrs. H. Levin of 4651 Victoria avenue, first vice-president, and Mrs. N. Olesker of 323 Melville avenue, third vice-president and recording secretary.

Woman artists hear Whitton

The Women's Art Society of Montreal will meet on Tuesday at 2 pm at the Montreal Museum of Fine Art to hear Dr. Charlotte Whitton, CBE speak on "Good to Remember." Dr. Charlotte Whitton is an author and former Mayor of Ottawa.

Neilsons celebrate fiftieth

Professor and Mrs. Stanley A. Neilson celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage yesterday.

Prof. Neilson was born in St. Thomas, Ont., his wife in Westmount, and they have lived most of their married life in the house built for his father at 52 Arlington avenue.

Prof. Neilson received his early schooling at Westmount Academy, and graduated from McGill University in 1916 with a degree in Applied Science (Civil Engineering). He worked in the engineering field from then until 1926, and also during that time saw service in Canada and overseas with the Royal Canadian Engineers in the First World War. From 1926 until the Second World War he was associated with the Sun Life Assurance Co., and during the war was engaged in government work.

He entered teaching in 1947, lecturing in engineering at McGill, and was affectionately known as "Pop" to "his boys," as he called them. While he retired officially in 1961, he continued to lecture at McGill for three more years, and after that went to the faculty of Engineering at Loyola College. He retires from there this spring.

First Scout

It is interesting to note that he was one of the first Boy Scouts in Westmount's first troop. He has been secretary of the Class of Science '16, McGill, since 1921, a member of the Engineering Institute of Canada and of the Corporation of Professional Engineers. He is a past president of Westmount Rotary Club.

Mrs. Neilson attended Trafalgar School, and worked for the Sun Life Assurance Co. for a short time before her marriage. She is a charter member of The Fred Fisher, VC, Chapter of the IODE, which has been in existence for 53 years, and which has contributed generously to the community in that time, particularly during the Second World War. She was one of two members who helped found and run one of the first groups for senior citizens, called The Derby and Joan Club, and was active in this endeavor for 10 years.

The Neilsons have one son, living in Winnipeg, a daughter in Toronto, and a daughter in Montreal West. There are eight grandchildren.

A reception in honor of their anniversary is being held, with family, a bridesmaid and friends attending. A telegram of congratulation has already been received from Prime Minister Trudeau.

Bridge, tea at St. Mary's

The Auxiliary of St. Mary's Hospital will hold a Valentine bridge and afternoon tea on Feb. 11, at 1:30 pm in the auditorium of the hospital, 3830 Lacombe avenue. Members and friends interested in playing Bridge are asked to contact the convenor, Mrs. J. Wilson Kennedy.

Exec switch

The executive meeting of the Westmount Park Home and School Association which was to have been held last night will take place, instead, on Monday at 8 pm in the school library.

Weredale House

by BRUCE INGLIS

This week the junior floor hockey team at Weredale House defeated the West End's senior team. The score was close and the play clean.

The winning goal was scored by Mochie (Florent) Hebert in a powerplay rush. Richard De-nault scored two goals while exhibiting some outstanding play. A hat trick was scored by Fred Fuggy of the West End, who seemed to control the floor.

The team credits most of its success to their coaches, Gary Bondell and Phil Huint.

Last weekend five Weredale boys attended a leadership program sponsored jointly by Montreal Rotary and the YMCA. They spent from Friday evening until Sunday afternoon in their respective T-groups, participating in discussions on interpersonal relations.

The seminar took place in the N.D.G. YMCA, where several of those who attended discovered that their groups were bilingual. This was a very different experience from previous meetings. All participants were most enthusiastic and felt that they had gained a great deal of knowledge.

Claire speaks

Mme Claire Kirkland-Casgrain will speak on Changes in the Civil Code Affecting the rights of Married Women at Tuesday evening's weekly meeting of the St. James Literary Society at the Windsor Hotel.

The National...

than does the NFB. As well, there exists the recently established (1968-69) Canadian Film Development Corporation, which intends to invest a total of two and a half million dollars in Canada's film industry in 1970-71. Taken together, the federal government spends over $25,000,000 a year on film production. The present government considers this sum sufficient for the continuing development of Canada's film industry.

There will always be a need for improvement in the proper allocation of these resources within the responsible agencies. Efficiency, generally speaking, knows no limits, not even cultural ones. The Saumier report has served to focus public attention on the National Film Board's internal operations. To that extent, Mr. Saumier has performed a valuable service for Canada's film-producing industry.

an improved administration by the imposition of unified boards has never been demonstrated.

Dr. Robertson, as might be expected, made a very clear and concise case against the system of unified boards. He expressed the fear that such a system would produce precisely the opposite effect to the objects which were desired by the bill. He felt that it would produce a ghetto situation where English citizens in predominately French areas and French citizens in predominately English areas would tend to gravitate towards the areas where their group was in the majority.

I am personally hopeful that the Government will accept the suggestion which I have already made to the education committee to retain the idea of the unified boards as an ideal to be aimed at for some future date but that, in the meantime, the re-organization of the school system for Montreal be proceeded with along the lines of the Pagé report where separate systems will be maintained for English and French language education.

anted freedom of choice as to language of instruction.

Disagrees

Dr. Robertson disagreed. He said that in his opinion Bill 62 would eliminate English teaching in French areas. "In short it would lead to a ghettoization."

"We have been accused of chauvinism and wishing to prevent advancement of French, but I believe greater progress would be made in Quebec if there were separate boards for English and French."

He pointed out that education encompasses style, approach and habit and said the effects would be ill on the whole educational system and on the English people in Quebec if we went too far toward centralization such as has been done in France.

"In France the system isn't working well," he declared. "The degree of centralization proposed here is frightening."

The three panelists agreed major efforts should be directed to increased understanding between French and English, but distrust of the Quebec education ministry was echoed in questions and statements from the floor. A stir was created by one eloquent, paper-waving speaker: "This is not an educational bill. This is a political bill. And we are fighting for our language rights..."

"They ask us to trust them. But I won't trust them... Because my name is Robert Beale from St. Leonard."

Other queries concerned the sending of French teachers to Africa and Louisiana when we "are short of them here," whether we are "ostriches who hide our heads in the sand" and whether there is hysteria concerning the bill. Robert Keefer, president of St. Paul's Academy Parent-Teacher Association who thanked the speakers, said briefs should be sent to the parliamentary committee. It is necessary, he said, because the current government comes back later and says: "Well you didn't say anything, Brother; it's too late now."

Students rehearse 'Bald Soprano' for two-night stand next week

Not a footstep on the threshold yet

4424 St. Catherine street west

An ambitious group of Westmount students is rehearsing Eugene Ionesco's absurdist play "The Bald Soprano", to run Feb. 5 and 6 at 8 pm in the Westmount High School auditorium.

Directed by Richard Greenblatt, 11th grade student at Westmount High, the play is to share a bill with the National Film Board's "Christopher's Movie Matinee".

Proceeds from the two evenings will go to the new Westmount Youth Centre on St. Catherine street, which is scheduled to open early in March.

The centre, to be named 4424 Inc., is to house a medical clinic and coffee house and serve as a focal point through which other activities can be channelled.

The theatre-cinema evenings are among several fund raising projects organized by the energetic young group to give the youth of the community a challenging recreational, cultural and educational facility.

27 Cubs camp over weekend

Twenty-seven Cubs and eight leaders representing Westmount District attended a weekend Cub camp last weekend at Camp Jackson Dodds, near Joliette. The group left Montreal early Saturday morning arriving at camp by 10:30 am to enjoy the remainder of the weekend. A program of interesting hikes and games was followed, the highlight of which was an old fashioned sleigh ride on Saturday evening.

Cubs from each of the seven Westmount packs participated in a most enjoyable weekend. The leaders who made this trip possible were: Ian Gardiner, Cubmaster of 1st Westmount Pack, Mr. and Mrs. Peter R. L. Payan, Cubmaster and Assistant of the Shaar Hashomayim Pack; Miss Donna Gunnell, Cubmaster of St. Leo's Pack, and Mr. and Mrs. Alastair Fernie, David Joseph and Miss Robbin Warren.

Westmount District Cubs will be holding another weekend camp in mid-February.

Apts. hit

Washer and drier coin boxes as well as two cars in the garage at 4324 Sherbrooke street west had been plundered, it was discovered Tuesday morning.

Dequenched

Two fire extinguishers were reported last Wednesday afternoon stolen from 4862 Sherbrooke street west.

Resident hit-run accused

Clifford J. Emblem, 54, of 4998 de Maisonneuve boulevard west, is due to appear in Westmount Municipal Court next Wednesday to answer charges of failing to remain at or return to the scene of an accident in which he allegedly was involved.

Shortly after 9 pm last Thursday, a 1969 Meteor driving east on St. Catherine ran into the rear of a 1964 Pontiac belonging to David Amer of Town of Mount Royal, which in turn was bunted into a 1967 Triumph of Miss Wendy Johnson of Nuns' Island. This was in front of Westmount High School.

Moments later, the same Meteor collided with a 1967 Renault at Wood and St. Catherine, and again drove off. Owner of the Renault was Mrs. Lucille Martel of Sherbrooke.

WHS to have Instant Theatre on Thursdays

Several Westmount residents will perform in a series of C.C.C. productions in Westmount High School auditorium at lunchtime starting next Thursday.

Mary Morter of 379 Roslyn avenue, (founder of Instant Theatre) Mignon Elkins of 20 Windsor avenue and Ian De Voy of 85 Windsor, are some of the players in the productions which offer entertainment in several areas of the arts.

Modern dance, mime, music and plays, all performed by original members of the Instant Theatre company, will bring live entertainment to the school to encourage the young in appreciation of live theatre. The programs start at 12.20 pm.

Entitled "It's Here Again", the program includes Feb. 5, Miguel Garcia, flamenco guitarist; Feb. 12, "Dora the Beautiful Dishwasher", a melodrama starring Mignon Elkins, Mary Morter, Ian De Voy, Don Scanlan, Roberta Mauer and Guy L'Ecuyer; Feb. 26, contemporary Russian poetry with Ian De Voy and the Montreal Mandolin Ensemble.

March 12, "Out At Sea," a Polish satire starring Thomas Donahue, Guy L'Ecuyer and Dennis Payne; March 26, Judy Jarvis in a program of modern dance; April 2, "Cobbler Stick to Thy Last," a comedy starring Mignon Elkins, Roberta Mauer, Mary Morter, Don Scanlan and Howard Ryshpan.

Mr. Ryshpan's children attend Westmount schools.

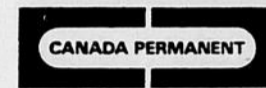

Taxi, car in tangle at lights

A 1966 Dodge taxi driven by Jack Applebaum, 66, of Cote St. Luc, which had come down Mount Pleasant avenue, and a 1965 Chevrolet station wagon driven by Clifford J. Small, 20, of Garden City, N.Y., going east on Sherbrooke, collided at the traffic signals of Greene and Sherbrooke Saturday at 9:15 am. Taxi passenger David Gordon of N.D.G. was taken by Westmount Police patrol car to the Reddy Memorial Hospital for treatment of a bump on the right side of his hand.

Damages to the two vehicles ran to about $800.
