

CANDIDATES IN MANY COUNTIES WERE SELECTED

Brig.-Gen. Smart Unanimous Choice Of Conservatives In Westmount

TWO MOUNTAINS FIGHT

St. Eustache Farmer To Run Against Leader Of Quebec Opposition

Montreal, Jan. 18—Brig.-General C. A. Smart, who since 1912 has represented Westmount in the Provincial Legislature, was the unanimous choice of a Conservative convention held in that city this afternoon to run as candidate for Westmount in the forthcoming Provincial elections.

In accepting the nomination General Smart declared that both Premier Taschereau and Hon. Jacob Nicol, Provincial Treasurer, had overstepped the bounds of Parliamentary procedure and gentlemanly conduct and had even used "rough language" in respect to himself.

Alfred Labelle, advocate, was the unanimous choice of the Vaudreuil County Conservatives at a convention held at Rigaud today to run for the County in the coming Provincial elections. Mr. Labelle is a returned officer and son of Brig. Gen. Labelle.

Dr. C. A. Bernard, physician, of St. Casaire, was chosen as Liberal candidate for the County of Rouville at a convention held today.

I. M. Richard, notary, was chosen as Liberal candidate for Vercheres County at a convention held at Vercheres village today.

Dr. J. A. E. Beaudoin, physician, was the unanimous choice of a Conservative convention held at the St. James Division Opposition Club, to run for the division.

A. Harry Wolfe was chosen today to run for the St. Louis Division, the Conservative interest.

Alderman W. J. Hushion today issued a statement that he intended to run in St. Ann's Division in the Liberal interest.

Eudie Charbonneau a farmer of St. Remi was chosen by unanimous vote on a fourth ballot to be Liberal candidate for Laprairie-Napierville in the forthcoming Provincial elections. The former Member, Walfrid Oedillot, was also placed in nomination but was not endorsed. Owing to the storm all delegates from Napierville parishes did not arrive in time, whilst all those from Laprairie were present. The latter chose a Napierville man.

J. N. Richard chosen

Montreal, Jan. 18—A Liberal convention at Vercheres took place at 11 o'clock this morning and the candidature was unanimously to J. N. Richard, of Contrecoeur. Mr. Richard stated his campaign at once with a meeting following the convention.

Alderman Bray, it is understood, will attend the Conservative convention at St. Henri and will very likely be the Conservative candidate against Alderman Bedard.

E. W. Sayer, who has accepted the Conservative candidature for St. Lawrence Division, is opening a series of campaign meetings in the division this week.

In Laprairie-Napierville the candidature has been accepted by Max Brossseau, a farmer of St. Constant. Hon. E. L. Patenaude was present at the convention yesterday and was first asked to run in this County as well as in Jacques Cartier, in view of the fact that he had previously represented Laprairie-Napierville but in view of the amount of general campaign work he had on hand he felt that one county was as much as he could manage this election.

The Yamaska Conservative convention took place yesterday at St. Francois du Lac and the candidature was unanimously offered to Joseph Desrosiers, Mayor of St. Guillaume d'Upton. He accepted the honor.

The question of an opposition candidate for Maskinonge will be discussed at a meeting of Conservative of Louisville on Saturday next.

Conservative conventions being held today are Vaudreuil, at Rigaud, and St. James Division this evening in the Cartier MacDonald Club. There is little doubt that Dr. Beaudoin will have the nomination.

ONTARIO PEOPLE TO VOTE ON BEER

Question Of Referendum To Sponsored By Member—Little Gov't. Opposition

Toronto, Jan. 18—A special dispatch from Kitchener to the Telegram says: It was learned this afternoon that the people of Ontario will be asked to vote on a referendum on the question of a beer and wine license at the general elections this summer. It is said that Carl Howarth, M.L.A. will sponsor the measure at the coming session, supported by a U.F.O. member and the government will not show any strenuous opposition. "It was also learned that there would be no redistribution in Ontario this year."

In the latter constituency. Brome County Conservative convention is being held at Knowlton this afternoon and Nicollet to-morrow. The convention in Compton, to choose an opponent for Hon. Mr. Nicol, will take place to-morrow.

In Malouneville and St. Mary no official Liberal candidate is being put up, the Liberal organization having decided not to run any official opposition to Labor candidates.

Thurbe for Chambly

Mayor Alexandre Thurber of Longueuil was the choice of the Liberal convention held at Longueuil today for candidate in the provincial elections to run in Chambly County.

Judge Monet today committed Maurice Plery to stand trial on a charge of perjury in connection with statements which he is alleged to have made in an affidavit charging Sir William Stavert, Chairman of the Quebec Liquor Commission with having transported liquor illegally. Plery was committed for trial after appearing for voluntary statement. He elected to be tried by a jury before the Court of King's Bench.

Couldn't Agree

Megantic, Que., Jan. 18—In spite of the mediation of Hon. Mr. Perreault, Minister of Colonization, the Liberal convention held here last night could not agree on a candidate for the pending elections in Frontenac. The majority of the delegates favored Mr. C. Ballarson but Dr. Gregoire, the retiring member refused to accept the nomination, so there will be two Liberal candidates in Frontenac County.

Sauve's Opponent

St. Scholastique, Que., Jan. 18—Anatole Levesque, farmer, of St. Anasache, was the unanimous choice of the Liberal convention today to run for Two Mountains Division against Arthur Sauve, leader of the Quebec Opposition.

Labissoniere Chosen

Three Rivers, Que., Jan. 18—(Special to the Chronicle)—Mr. Joseph A. Labissoniere of Champlain, was today chosen as Opposition candidate for the County of Champlain in the approaching Provincial elections.

Dussault in Dorchester

Sherbrooke, Que., Jan. 18—(Special to the Chronicle)—Mayor Georges Dussault, of Ste. Marguerite, Dorchester County was selected as the Conservative standard bearer for the coming Provincial elections.

Langlais is Candidate

Riviere du Loup, Jan. 18—(Special to the Chronicle)—Jules Langlais, advocate, was selected as the Conservative standard bearer for Temiscouata in the coming Provincial elections.

Bergeron to Run

Chicoutimi, Que., Jan. 18—(Special to the Chronicle)—Pierre Bergeron, former Mayor of Jonquier's Township, chosen as Conservative candidate for Chicoutimi.

LAZY LIKE

A rough-and-ready Westerner visited Paul Terry up at the studios of "Aesop's Film Fables." Terry commented upon the visitor's keen sense of observation of things in general.

"What is your idea about the ethics of modern business men?" asked Terry.

"Well they remind me of hunter friends of mine who when out deer hunting kill only fawns and does," returned the visitor.

"How's that?" inquired the cartoonist.

"Why," chirped the hunter, "they're always passing the buck!"

"Topic of the Day, Films."

SON—That may be, but I know the business is perfectly safe in your hands, even while I'm away.

FRENCH, ITALIANS AND BELGIANS TO CONTROL CUSTOMS

Three Hundred Officials To Inaugurate Commission's Plans In Coblenz

TO LEVY EXPORT TAX

Total Exports Annually Placed At Fifty Billion Gold Marks

Coblenz, Jan. 18—Three hundred French, Italian and Belgian controllers of customs, finance and forestry will arrive here to-morrow together with several uniformed customs officials for the purpose of inaugurating immediately the commission's plans. The German officers will be left where they are. It is expected that only a few million marks will be found in the customs house but control of the customs means that any goods sold abroad will be so controlled that foreign currency paid for them would remain in the hands of the customs officials, who will apply the present German law, heretofore not enforced.

The total exportations from the Rhineland annually are placed at fifty billion gold marks; they include 70 percent of all the German dyes, quantities of textiles and machinery, locomotives and electrical appliances manufactured at Cologne and the products of the Krupp plant with ten furnaces at Aix-la-Chapelle.

It is planned to levy an export tax of from one to ten percent then through the Central Bank to receive the foreign money payment which will be held but the industrial concerns will receive the equivalent of it in marks or whatever paper money may be issued later.

The customs between the Rhineland and France and Belgium will remain for the present, in order not to disturb prices in those countries. The same applies to Germany.

There will be no attempt to establish a customs barrier along the Rhine, but a strict watch will be kept to prevent the Ruhr and Rhineland industrialists from trying to ship out through Germany without registering their exports. The import duties will be collected in the usual manner and the various existing customs clearing houses will be continued.

Forestry exploitation will yield 20,000,000 gold marks yearly without intensive or destructive operations. The two largest forests are in the Palatinat and a third is in the rear of Belgium.

Situation Far From Clarified

Berlin, Jan. 18—Up to a late hour to-night official quarters here were without information with respect to the execution of the French threat to cite Fritz Thyssen and other industrialists before military courts because of their refusal to obey the orders of the Allied economic mission.

The Ruhr situation in general, as viewed at Government headquarters, appears still to be far from clarified. The impression was gained that the French were not making any tangible headway in their attempted enforcement of reprisals. The interception and sequestration of a dozen or more Rhine barges and the detention of rolling stock at several points were the only measures of confiscation reported to Berlin today.

It is believed here that sharp intervention in the Rhine traffic will result in the complete cessation of all coal transportation by water as it is thought the shippers and sales agents will not risk having cargoes seized. Attempts on the part of the occupation authorities to influence the organized railway workers also are reported to have fundered on the stubborn refusal of the latter to recognize the French authorities.

Coal shipments to points outside the occupied zones, it was reported to-night, continue of normal volume. They are said today even to have shown a slight increase over Tuesday's movements.

The League of German Industrialists today addressed a congratulatory communique to Fritz Thyssen, commanding him and his fellow industrialists for their courageous attitude of resistance and assuring them of the League's moral and material support.

No Military Operations

Paris, Jan. 18—Herr von Hoersch, German Charge d'Affaires at Paris, in a protest made last evening to the French Government, it is officially announced, declared that the extension of the Franco-Belgian military occupation had gone beyond neutral zone established by the Versailles treaty and had reached the proximity of territories occupied by German garrisons.

The French Government replied today in effect that the measures taken did not constitute military operations, but were in accordance with the notification given Germany on January 10th. The reply added that the resistance of the German industrialists to the orders of the Allied authorities for the delivery of coal had forced the Allies requisitioning.

The reply said that the requisitioned coal would be employed to fill deliveries due as reparations and then for the needs of the occupied territories in the Ruhr and on the left bank of the Rhine, and that consequently only the surplus could be sent to Germany.

CAUSE OF DELAY IN NEGOTIATIONS

For Debt Funding Said To Be Practical Politics In British Circles

London, Jan. 18—Observers who seek the cause of the present delay in the debt funding negotiations with the United States must be satisfied with the phrase "practical politics," according to British official opinion as expressed this evening.

The British Cabinet is plainly dissatisfied with the terms that the American Debt Funding Commission finally offered Stanley Baldwin, Chancellor of the Exchequer, at the head of the British Mission in Washington, believing that what the Ministry considers to be the relative economic and financial conditions of the two countries warrant an easier settlement for Great Britain.

Other official circles whose duty it is to keep advised of the actual conditions in the two countries, express the opinion that the United States terms are liberal to the liberal as any British Commission can ever expect. Prime Minister Bonar Law is declared to share the latter view for he is an economist as well as a politician and Mr. Baldwin is believed to be entirely satisfied with the United States terms but to see plainly that his duty is to return to Britain and outline the full situation before the Cabinet. The desire of the British Government to hold out for the best possible settlement will be understood in the United States, according to official circles, when it is realized that a virtually new Government which is pledged to a policy of re-armament is dealing with a problem which seriously affects the taxpayers.

The United States Commission, it is pointed out, had a great advantage over the British Mission because it has right at home where its members could have daily conferences with the Government leaders and determine the limit of concessions to which Congress was likely to agree.

On the other hand, Mr. Baldwin had reached a point where the exchange of information with Downing Street by cable had become impracticable, and the only thing to do was to return home, but official circles are confident that a basis for a settlement will be reached shortly after his arrival in London.

Official Statement

Washington, Jan. 18—The following official statement was issued after the Commission had their leave-taking here today:

"The two Commissions have given long and detailed consideration to the questions involved in funding of the debt. Progress has been made toward a mutual negotiation of problems involving and discussions have now reached a point at which the British Government thinks it desirable that the Chancellor of the Exchequer should return to London for consultation. The discussions have therefore adjourned and the Chancellor of the Exchequer will call on the 20th instant."

Stanley Baldwin, the Chancellor, and Montagu S. Norman, Governor of the Bank of England, the other member of the British mission, expect to arrive in London a week from tomorrow and was stated that he would make the report to the Cabinet on the following day. The results of the London conference will be cabled to Sir Auckland Geddes, the British Ambassador here, and the negotiations with the United States Commission will be resumed immediately by him.

Details of the suggestions on terms of settlement which have been made by the Commission still was withheld. It was explained that these suggestions were not in final form and that their public discussion in advance of an agreement in principle might prove embarrassing to the future negotiations.

It was learned, however, that the rate of interest which the United States representatives said they would feel justified in recommending was considerably below the 4 1/2 percent minimum fixed by existing law.

Necessarily the interest law is the crux of the whole situation for upon it depends the amount of the annual minimum payments by Great Britain and also the length of time to be agreed upon for the extinguishment of the debt.

Great Danger To Peace

The French Cabinet met this morning and discussed the Ruhr situation, but the exact nature of the conversations was not given out.

In other official quarters, however, it was stated that the policy of passive resistance adopted by the Germans was regarded by very great danger to the peace of Germany. Continuation of the present attitude of the Berlin Government and the Ruhr industrialists, it was stated, gave rise to fears that the nationalist spirit may be aroused to such a pitch as to provoke serious trouble.

It was pointed out that the reaction had already been felt in Upper Silesia, where secret societies are reported to be exerting great efforts to bring about strikes.

The French policy in the Ruhr, it was stated, is to facilitate the industrial activity in the Ruhr rather than to place obstacles in the way, as charged by the Germans.

FIFTY DEPUTIES ENGAGED IN FREE FOR ALL FIGHT

Wildest Rioting In History Of French Parliament Broke Out

IMMUNITY SUSPENDED

Of Marcel Cachin, Communist Member, By Vote Of 371 To 143

Paris, Jan. 18—After what is said to have been the wildest rioting in the history of the French Parliament during which fifty deputies engaged in a free for all fight on the floor, the Chamber of Deputies this evening by a vote of 371 to 143 decided to suspend the Parliament immunity of Marcel Cachin, the Communist Member.

A Commission of the Chamber which investigated charges that Cachin recently had been engaged in Communist activities in the Ruhr, recommended that the Deputy's parliamentary immunity be lifted so as to permit of the prosecution of Cachin by the Government on a charge of conspiring against the security of the State in connection with plans to call a general strike in the Ruhr and in French cities, in protest against France's seizure of the Ruhr.

Several Deputies, notably Radicals, during the debate, expressed disapproval of the Government's action. They declared that M. Cachin was being persecuted for his opinions and that the evidence adduced by the Government had not established the crime alleged.

This aroused the fury of the members of the Right. Leon Durling was conspicuous in hurling epithets across the Chamber which were more picturesque than parliamentary. The members of the Left replied in kind and beat "the devil's tattoo" on their desk lids.

Francois Arago, Vice-President of the Chamber, was presiding. He was compelled to suspend the sitting for a time. When the sitting was resumed, however, the uproar steadily grew worse, and finally, after a warm exchange of insults with the Right, the Communists rose in a body and, bowing over the ushers, attempted to storm the Presidential desk.

The members of the Right, led by Prince Joachim Murat, flew to the rescue. When the two bodies met, fists flew. The cooler among the Deputies rushed in to try and part the combatants, but their efforts had the usual effect of increasing the vigor of the scrimmage. Eyes were blackened and lips and ears were swollen in the melee.

M. Arago stood at his place above the tumult, wondering what it all was about and vainly asking some one to explain. Finally he again ordered the sitting suspended, but the battle went on for several minutes until reinforcements of ushers were brought up and succeeded in parting the belligerents and forcing them into the lobby.

After the excitement had subsided and the fighting spirit had cooled down the sitting was resumed and the motion to suspend the parliamentary immunity of M. Cachin was voted on.

No Damages Awarded

A jury under Chief Justice Martin has declared that no damages had been awarded Mrs. Annie Vincent who sued the Young Women's Christian Association for $15,000 as the result of her husband's death who was killed by falling down the elevator shaft of the Y.W.C.A. building in this city in November 1921.

They found that Vincent was solely responsible for the accident, there being gross negligence on his part in failure to take precautions to see that the elevator was there.

ONE KILLED AND FOUR INJURED AS CAR LEFT TRACK

Accident Near Bridge At Beaufre Yesterday Afternoon Cause Of Death

FARMER IS DEAD

Mr Brown, Farmer Of St. Joachim, Only One Of Victims Fatally Injured

One killed and four injured was the toll of casualties when a Q.R.L. H. & P. Co car jumped the tracks yesterday afternoon on the Montmorency division near the bridge at Beaufre, turned over two or three times and then went into the ditch. The accident occurred shortly after 4 o'clock, the car having left St. Joachim at 4 o'clock en route to Quebec.

The dead man is Mr. Brown, a farmer of St. Joachim while the injured are Motorman George Harding, an old employee of the Company, cut about the head, Conductor Dussault, also cut about the head, and Rev. Abbe Nadeau, of the Seminary and Mme. Vermette, of Canadiere Road, the extent of whose injuries could not be ascertained last evening.

What made the car leave the track is not apparent, but the approach to the bridge is fairly steep and possibly a faulty rail caused it to jump off the track and roll over into the ditch.

The accident occurred just below the bridge near Beaufre, which spans the Grande Riviere. The car left St. Joachim at 4 o'clock and was due at Beaufre some twenty minutes later, there being a distance of some two miles or so between the two places.

None of the injured men or the officials of the company could be reached last evening, but it was learned that a special car left Quebec for the spot at 11:30 last night.

There were conflicting versions of the accident flying around at first, one of them being to the effect that the car had gone off the track while on the bridge, into the river, while the other which later was accepted as correct was the one stated above that the car had jumped the track just before reaching the bridge.

All of the injured parties were brought into Quebec last evening and conveyed to their homes.

The Weather.

Toronto, Jan. 18—The depression which was in Manitoba last night is now centered in Quebec and a cold wave covers the Western Provinces. A few light snow falls have occurred in northern Ontario and in Quebec, also in the Maritime Provinces.

QUEBEC, FRIDAY, JANUARY 19, 1923.

LIBERAL CAMPAIGN OPENED IN QUEBEC EAST STRONGHOLD

Big Rally Held Last Night In Martineau Hall—Taschereau, Lapointe, Turgeon And Galipeault Among The Speakers—New Dam At Kenogami—Superior School Of Commerce Here—Help For Unemployed

With a flourish of trumpets and a band of heavy artillery the Liberal party in the Province of Quebec opened the political campaign here last night and once over the top will continue its militant operations with vigor until the popular verdict is given on Monday February 5th.

The campaign was opened in the Martineau Hall on Notre Dame des Anges street, where the meeting was presided over by Mayor Samson, and speeches were made by Louisa Letourneau, Liberal candidate in Quebec East; Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Marine and Fisheries; Hon. L. A. Taschereau, Prime Minister of the Province; Hon. W. C. Kennedy, Liberal candidate in Quebec Centre; Martin Madden, Liberal candidate in Quebec West; Arthur Paquet, Liberal candidate in St. Sauveur; Hon. Adélard Turgeon, Speaker of the Legislative Council, and Hon. Antonin Galipeault, Minister of Public Works and the Interior.

When the speakers arrived in the hall crowded with electors. It was Premier Taschereau who led the way into the hall and to the platform. As he appeared on the stand with the other speakers and most of the members of the district he was given a rousing reception, and the crowd broke into song. "O Canada" was rendered as well as "Le drapeau des épaulettes." The band struck up "Auld Lang Syne," while a group in one corner whistled out an old election tune to which new names are supplied to suit the occasion. Last night the words were: "Pas de Sauve, c'est Taschereau qu'il nous faut."

Premier Taschereau in his speech which was followed with attention, reviewed his regime and went into details as regards the policies which he had carried out.

He announced that an order-in-council had been passed authorizing the construction of a dam at Kenogami at a cost of $2,500,000, and also said that it was the intention of the Government to have a superior school of commerce in Quebec similar to that in Montreal.

Defending the Quebec Liquor Law he said that the cost of alcohol in Europe had almost doubled and it was likewise for the costs of transportation as well as the duties imposed. The Government had realized a profit of $4,000,000, but he had paid the Federal Government a sum of $6,000,000 in duties. It was Quebec that had to do everything. All Ottawa had to do was to present the cheque at the bank and it even obliged the placing of stamps on cheques.

Mr. Taschereau expressed the hope that the Ottawa Government would reduce the duties on liquor and then, he said, the Quebec government would reduce the prices. At the beginning of the meeting there was a tendency on the part of some in the audience to heckle. In fact the Premier was interrupted rather freely by one citizen.

"I see Mr. Sauve has one friend here," rejoined the Premier, "and I ask my friends to silence him."

After that there were very few interruptions. Towards the close of the meeting one individual was ejected from the hall by the Provincial Police and he no sooner landed in the street, than he was taken in hand by the city police.

Hon. Ernest Lapointe was suffering from a severe cold and said he was there contrary to his doctor's orders. He assured the meeting that the Ottawa Government was determined to give Quebec just representation not only on the Railway Board but everywhere else. He was roundly applauded for this statement.

Undoubtedly the most eloquent speech of the evening was that delivered by the Hon. Adélard Turgeon whose splendid flights of oratory were applauded to the echo.

Hon. Antonin Galipeault delivered an excellent speech which was teeming with facts regarding labor legislation and what was being done for the working classes. He was vigorously applauded when he announced that the Government would not hesitate at spending a few thousands of dollars to relieve unemployment here during the winter.

In opening the meeting Mayor Samson thanked the meeting for the honor of presiding. It was not only on honor but a pleasure to do so as a member of the Liberal party. The presence of the Prime Minister showed the interest he took in the city.

Reference by the speaker to Laurier, Lapointe and Provincial Ministers and members brought out respectful cheers. Only the other day he was told by an English financier that Canada was indeed fortunate to have such a man as element as the Province of Quebec.

Louisa Letourneau, Liberal Candidate in Quebec East, was the first speaker. He thanked the Premier for opening his campaign in the celebrated and patriotic division of Quebec East. He recalled that he has been their representative for 16 years and thanked them for their confidence.

He was conscious, he said, of having done his duty at that time and accepted the candidature again because he was urged to do so by the large majority of the electors. The Liberal Governments of the Province of Quebec had well understood the interests of the people and had governed with sound financial methods which was proved by the surplus of $5,000,000 for the last fiscal year.

Mr. Letourneau then reviewed what the Government had done for education and agriculture. Agricultural schools had been established, while technical schools had also been built to train expert labor at home.

All the actions of the Government might not be approved, but on the whole it had to be admitted that there was absolute liberty. "Liberty of the press," came a voice from the crowd.

In his closing remarks Mr. Letourneau said that he had been asked to run again by Conservatives and Liberals alike and he asked all to think of the fifteen years of public life which he had spent in their service and give them an imposing majority on election day.

Hon. Ernest Lapointe was received with cheers and applause as he advanced to speak.

He thanked the meeting for hearty greeting. He had come contrary to advice to raise just in their confidence so that his presence might be a testimony that he was not neutral. In difference in politics was not generally sincere. He had always had an opinion and liked to give it. He believed it was the sacred duty of the citizen to express his opinion to the Government that had made of the Province of Quebec the greatest and the most prosperous in the Dominion.

The Government was criticized, but it is always those who progressed who are criticised. Those who remained stationary always had peace and tranquility.

He recalled how Quebec East had elected him as successor to Laurier in the division. It was due first of all to the generosity of the electors but he had the influence and the efforts of Mr. Letourneau. He asked the electors to do for Mr. Letourneau what they had done for him.

Touching lightly on Federal issues he assured the meeting that it was the intention of the Federal Government to give Quebec all the representation which was due not only in the railway board but everywhere else. (Cheers and applause).

He urged the electors to return Mr. Letourneau and also Mr. Cannon in Quebec Centre. In his closing remarks Mr. Lapointe spoke of his visit to Europe. He said that he had met the peoples of every country and had returned with more pride than ever that he was a Canadian. Canada was not torn and upset by the hatreds which sowed discord everywhere.

Premier Taschereau. Premier Taschereau was then introduced and received a rousing reception.

In his opening remarks he greeted those who attended the meeting and referred to Mr. Lapointe as one who had honored his country in Europe during the last war and also in Ontario. He collapsed most miserably before the sound common sense of our farmers.

"Send us a little whisky," shouted one heckler. "Speak to us of the Liquor Commission," came from another part of the hall. "You did not tax enough. You did not sell your whiskey dear enough." "Prick the light and there got it cheap." (Laughter).

Later on another elector called upon the Premier to talk about the bill increasing the salaries of deputy ministers. "I have replied the Premier, "that Mr. Sauve has one friend in St. Roch's. I ask my friends to silence him."

Premier Taschereau. "It is an old tradition that the fire gun of an election campaign is fired in St. Roch. I do not wish to break away from that tradition as it is a guarantee of success."

"Was it not in St. Roch that 45 years ago, Sir Wilfrid Laurier won the great Liberal victory? Was it not, only a Liberal victory? Was this very spot that in his immortal conference, he laid down the principles of our party, that he traced the way and in a clear vision of the future showed us the road we were to follow?"

"Some of the older people still remember the stirring times, they remember them with deep feeling, but they must be happy today when they see what great success attended their very difficult beginnings, when they realize the splendid growth of Liberal ideas and the great triumphs of recent years. "No doubt a splendid figure of Laurier is missing, but his memory is still fresh, we still feel his directing spirit and the sole mention of his name is a trumpet call and the herald's signal of certain victory."

The Elections. After those introductory remarks, Hon. Mr. Taschereau, referring to the complaint heard in some quarters, that general elections should have been held after the first session following the retirement of Sir Lester B. Pearson, said that he had referred to prepare a programme, solve many of the problems, accomplish as much as possible, and then come before the electorate and ask it to pass judgment.

Mr. Sauve, the leader of the opposition, said the Premier, wanted elections in 1918 and today he did not want them at all. He objected to elections in winter, but the Conservatives had held elections in winter in 1892. Mr. Sauve's federal friends held elections in winter in 1916 and again in 1921, and the Leader of the Opposition had not caught his death of cold during those campaigns.

"Mr. Sauve claimed a few days ago that the Conservatives would carry 50 seats, said Mr. Taschereau. He could only get 5 of his friends elected in days of bright sunshine, in 1919. Let him try his luck in winter."

There was another reason for holding the elections at the present time, said the Premier. The government had adopted a new road policy. The system would require many months of preparation and it was necessary, therefore, to know whether the people approved of the new policy, at the very earliest opportunity.

The Liberal party, he said, had resisted all the attacks made against it and had grown in public favor.

Political History. Hon. Mr. Taschereau then reviewed the past political history of the province. When the Conservative party went down to defeat in 1897, he said, the finances of the province were in a terrible condition, good roads and bridges were unknown, there was no colonization, little attention, tuberculosis was decimating the population of the province, when thousands of babies died the people were only left with their heads buried in the sand. Little angels in heaven, and finally the sick and the needy, too numerous to be taken care of by the then existing institutions were left to their own resources.

All Problems Solved. The Liberal party, said the Premier, had faced all those tremendous problems and had solved them. First as regards finance. In 1897 the revenue of the province amounted to less than $3,000,000 and this year it had reached the total of $22,000,000 or eight times as much as under the Conservative regime. The annual deficit of $700,000 had been changed into a surplus of over $5,000,000, said Mr. Taschereau.

In 1897 the Conservatives gave $110,000 for colonization purposes. Since 1919 the Liberal government had made grants amounting to nearly $7,000,000 and this year alone they would represent a sum of nearly $2,000,000. Fifty new parishes or missions had been created in this province. Roads were prepared for the settlers and bridges built to facilitate communications. The government, he said, had even granted $7,000,000 to help a settler in future could obtain a sum of nearly $2,000,000. Fifty new parishes or missions had been created in this province. bridges for a sum of $6,000,000 had been constructed.

"The Conservatives never built an iron bridge," said the Premier, "they thought it was much easier to swim across rivers."

The Liquor Law. Mr. Taschereau then took up the liquor question. The new system he said had been a success, both from a material and a moral standpoint. He said he did not wish to refer to the abuses of the past, under the old liquor laws, but he drew attention to the fact those abuses were so great at one time, that a city like Quebec, although it was well known the people in the province were not in favor of total prohibition, had voted in favor of a dry law by a majority of 4,000 votes.

Two years later when the city was offered the new liquor law it accepted and adopted it by a majority vote of 14,000. For the first year of its operation the liquor law had given a profit of $4,000,000, said the Premier, and the money had allowed vastly increased grants to colonization, agriculture and the like. The assistance it had enabled the Government to redeem many obligations, and had permitted the construction of many good roads without borrowing one cent.

Before the new law was put into operation the Government, said Mr. Taschereau, received many delegations from temperance societies, asking for reform. Those delegations no longer made their periodical visits to the Parliament buildings. The Premier then pointed to the large decrease in the number of arrests for drunkenness in Quebec province when compared with Ontario. In spite of the great increase in the population of the city of Montreal, the number of arrests for drunkenness which was 634 per month in 1920, had fallen in 1922 to 363.

The Government had sold for $18,000,000 worth of liquor last year, to residents of Quebec province and to strangers and the latter figured for about 40 per cent of the total of the purchases. The population of the Province, said the Premier, was about 2,500,000, so that each individual bought for about six dollars of liquor in the year or about 50 cents a month or one and one-half cents a day.

In the Quebec District the Liquor Commission had sold 535,000 bottles of liquor, or about two-thirds a bottle per capita. The law, said the Premier, had undoubtedly been a success from a moral standpoint. The cost of liquor was high, the Premier admitted, but it must not be forgotten that the cost of alcohol had doubled in Europe and that all other expenses, freight, etc., had increased. Moreover, duty on liquor had been raised to such a height that it added very substantially to the final purchase price.

Amendment to Law. During the last session, said the Premier, the Liquor Law had been amended so as to allow the sale of beer in rural municipalities, without restricting that sale to meal times. The urban and rural municipalities, he said, had been given the same footing. Rural municipalities, however, were given their full autonomy as they were required to vote on the question before the new regulations could be put into operation.

Mr. Taschereau also dealt with the establishment of agricultural and industrial schools to replace the reform schools. He said he would let Hon. Mr. Galipeault deal with the labor legislation adopted by the Government and also with the question of public works already undertaken or under way.

Public Assistance Law. The Premier spoke at great length about the Public Assistance Law, which he said had given splendid results. No less than 102 institutions had already taken advantage of the new law and since September 1921 he had received no less a sum than $700,000, when previously they received only a paltry $38,000. Many hospitals and other similar institutions had been saved from bankruptcy through the new law. The fight had been waged with new vigor and with a great amount of success against tuberculosis and infanticide mortality, and the Premier thanked to the provisions of the new law.

Future Development. Dealing with the future, Mr. Taschereau said that one of the greatest assets the Province possessed was its wonderful supply of hydraulic power. It was the policy of the Government to have those powers developed by capitalists, either Canadians or strangers, so that the Provincial Budget would not have to bear any of the cost. He referred to the recent arrangements made for the development of the Grand Discharge at Lake St. John which would ultimately provide one million horse power and would cost in development over twenty million dollars of which nearly five millions would be paid out in wages in the district where the new plant was to be constructed.

The development of hydraulic power and the establishment of new industrial centres, said Mr. Taschereau, would help solve the problem of emigration to the United States.

After some remarks about the Government's policy for the development of the maritime fisheries in the Province for which a sum total of $400,000 had been provided at the last session, Mr. Taschereau said he had entire confidence in the future.

Appeal to Electors. In concluding his remarks the Premier asked his audience to place in opposition the Liberal programme and that of Mr. Sauve and his friends and then make their cross.

"Let the Opposition attack our actions," he said, "let them criticise them, it is their right, but in the very best interest of our Province, we have best and respect most highly, let them drop the campaign of slander which was conducted during the entire Labelle campaign. Never was such a campaign conducted in our Province before."

The names of most respectable families had been dragged in the mud, he said, simply for political purposes, but the day had come when justice spoke in a clear voice, and those whose hearts had been an assuager were avenged.

"Calumny," concluded the Premier, "will never conquer, and on January 19th, next, the names of those who have endeavored to make this Province the greatest in the Dominion, who have tried to raise it to the heights which all its children have always expected for it."

L. A. Cannon, Liberal candidate in Quebec Centre, followed the Premier in a crushing victory for the Liberal party. "What about the suburbs?" shouted one auditor. "The suburbs will remain true to tradition," retorted Mr. Cannon.

Referring to those who criticized the holding of winter elections, Mr. Cannon said that municipal elections are held throughout the province on fixed dates and the date set for them is the second Monday in January.

He greeted Mr. Lapointe as an assuager of his Suburbs would be true to tradition and would do its duty. He said that Mr. Lapointe's absence in Europe had been felt as the people of Quebec believed that their special representative in Ottawa should always be there to represent Quebec in the House of Commons.

Martin Madden, Liberal candidate in Quebec West, said that the people had listened with deep attention to the programme of the Prime Minister and would give him the finest majority ever given in the House of Commons. Mr. Madden referred to the calumny which had been circulated and said he knew that they had never been believed by the worthy people of the city.

Arthur Paquet, Liberal candidate in St. Sauveur, followed. He told the Premier that St. Sauveur would elect the Liberal candidate. He had been offered the candidature by Liberals and Conservatives alike and he was sure of victory.

Cheers greeted the Hon. Adélard Turgeon, Speaker of the Legislature. He paid a warm tribute to Mr. Letourneau and said he was glad to give him his support. He said there was one saint in the calendar of the Conservative party and that was St. Sauveur. He recalled that in the Joli regime violent attacks had been made by the Conservative press. He told how he had been attacked himself by the Conservative press when he was in the Gouin Cabinet in 1907, but how the reform school had not praise him high enough since he got out of politics.

He then said the Conservatives had resorted to taking up the rumors concerning the murder of Blanche Garneau and had even sought to have her name put on the heads of respectable citizens. He also said that the very vilest stories had circulated in the campaign for the bye-elections in Labelle County.

Mr. Turgeon also touched upon the case of the herring fleet. He recalled the offending passage in "The Axe" and recalled the succeeding events. He described the composition of the Royal Commission and dwelt upon the high qualities of the Judges as well as the lawyers and said there was no suspicion cast upon the findings of the Commissioners, which are still fresh in the minds of the public, and was loudly applauded by the meeting.

Mr. Turgeon did not appear as a witness, he said. Mr. Lavigne had said at the Monument National that Robert's charges were true from "a to z." Why then had not Robert proved them. Mr. Sauve had said that the murderers of Blanche Garneau were not the fishermen, but the herring packers. He said that the very vilest stories had circulated in the campaign for the bye-elections in Labelle County.

EARLY WINTER AND HARDSHIPS

Freezing In Of Herring Fleet Affects People On Lonely Shores In Nfld.

(By Canadian Press.) St. John's, Nfld., Jan. 18.—Just now the attention of Newfoundland authorities is directed, perhaps hopefully, to the unhappy plight of the people who inhabit the lonely stretches of shore line on the western side of the colony, from Bonne Bay north. Winter at the best, deals severely with those isolated settlements, when transportation both by land and sea is halted by the rigorous weather conditions, but this season a combination of evil circumstances render their situation almost tragic.

Their troubles began with and still focus around, the failure in delivery of the cured herring supplies at Bay Island. Unprecedented frosts set in soon after the first of December, and the herring fleet, taken off guard, got caught in the ice and there the boats remain, seven of them, with thousands of barrels of herring in their holds that may never be delivered, while on shore the fisherfolk who toiled during the season to take the fish from the sea, await in many cases with bated breath and empty pockets, the onrush of winter. Some of the vessels had taken on their cargoes and others were waiting to load, when the frost king swooped down upon them weeks before experience had taught the shipping men to expect a demoralizing weather conditions.

The entire Scotch cure at Bay Islands this season is estimated at 9,600 barrels as compared with last year's pack of 25,000 barrels. Almost the whole of this stock remains unshipped, while there is a good demand abroad for it by any means of transportation. Meanwhile the packers cannot pay the fishermen who depended on the returns from the herring fisheries to keep them during the winter months.

Warnings of the dread circumstances that threatened the western shore people, were sent to St. John's, when it was seen that the waterways were freezing up with such rapidity, and everything possible was done by the Government headed by the Right Honorable Sir Richard Squires. The steamer Sagona reached the harbor in quick time, at the instance of the Minister of Fisheries, Hon. W. F. Coats, and succeeded in freeing one hundred of the two hundred fleets of nets that had become frozen in. Of the remainder, fifty fleets sank with the weight of herring in them, and fifty more could not be reached.

Then the Canadian Government ice-breaker Lord Stanley was sent up to break the ice and free the imprisoned herring fleet. But it was too late. The steamer Sagona reached the harbor in quick time, at the instance of the Minister of Fisheries, Hon. W. F. Coats, and succeeded in freeing one hundred of the two hundred fleets of nets that had become frozen in. Of the remainder, fifty fleets sank with the weight of herring in them, and fifty more could not be reached.

Now the weather is in complete control of the situation. Rail transportation facilities are practically demoralized because of heavy snowstorms and there are reports that many of the fishermen are without food, or money to buy it, and in some cases there is no food to buy. Cargoes of supplies are piled up at Curling and Port Aux Basques with delivery impossible owing to lack of facilities. The coastal vessels have been cancelled because of the ice barrier.

Mr. Turgeon also touched upon the case of the herring fleet. He recalled the offending passage in "The Axe" and recalled the succeeding events. He described the composition of the Royal Commission and dwelt upon the high qualities of the Judges as well as the lawyers and said there was no suspicion cast upon the findings of the Commissioners, which are still fresh in the minds of the public, and was loudly applauded by the meeting.

KENNEDY'S BODY IS ON WAY HOME WALLACE REID FILM HERO, DEAD

Late Minister Of Railways Was In Excellent Health Half Hour Before Death Screen Star Passed Away In Hollywood Sanatorium—Was Fighting Narcotics

Windsor, Ont., Jan. 18.—Flags drooped at half mast over every public building, as well as banks and public and separate schools, in Windsor and its sister municipalities today as a token of respect to Hon. W. C. Kennedy, M.P. for North Essex, news of whose sudden passing in Florida yesterday has made of the city a place of real mourning.

To many of the citizens the first hint of the untimely death of Mr. Kennedy came when the big bell on the St. Alphonsus Roman Catholic Church tolled a requiem at 7 o'clock this morning.

While plans for the funeral are as yet only tentative awaiting the approval of Mrs. Kennedy, it is understood that the remains will lie in state in Windsor armories on the day before the obsequies.

The body will reach Washington Friday and will be met by a number of Windsor friends of the dead Minister, including Gordon D. Wickett and Charles S. King, both close personal friends, as well as business associates. If it is decided to hold the funeral next Wednesday evening for Windsor, it is expected that Premier King and a majority of the Cabinet Ministers will attend.

Bishop Fallon of London will be the celebrant at the high mass to be sung here.

The annual banquet of the Essex Bar Association which had been arranged for to-night, was postponed for a week. At today's luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce resolutions on condolence were passed.

Port Myers, Fla., Jan. 18.—The body of W. C. Kennedy, of Windsor, Ontario, Minister of Railways and Canals of Canada, who died at Naples winter resort, near here, last night, was to leave here this morning for Washington. At Washington the body will be placed in a private car for the remainder of the trip.

Cardiac insufficiency was given as the cause of death.

Yesterday Mr. Kennedy went fishing in the Gulf and companions said he had remarked that "he felt unusually well." Soon after dinner, however, he was stricken and died in his apartment at the Naples Hotel.

Spent The Day Fishing. Naples, Florida, Jan. 18.—(By Canadian Press)—The late Hon. W. C. Kennedy, Canadian Minister of Railways and Canals, was in excellent health and spirits half an hour before his heart failed, resulting in his death at seven o'clock last night.

Friends who were with him have denied to the Canadian Press the tragic suddenness with which the stroke came.

Mr. Kennedy had spent the day with friends fishing in the Gulf and on his return remarked that in two weeks he would be able to take up golf. It had been ten days since he arrived at this remote winter resort to recuperate from the effect of abdominal operations which he had undergone at Montreal, and each day had brought forth wonderful improvement.

At six o'clock last night he walked to the resort pier and in company with Windsor friends viewed the sunset. Apparently in better health than at any time since the operations, he chatted for a while and returned to his residence for dinner.

At six thirty he sat down to the meal was taken suddenly ill and at seven had passed out. His heart had failed him.

According to the plans announced previously to the departure of the body today the remains will arrive in Windsor Sunday afternoon. The body will take place Wednesday, burial will take place Wednesday.

QUEBEC, JANUARY 19, 1923.

INTERESTING BRITISH YOUTH IN CANADA.

A direct stimulus to British-Canadian immigration, particularly in turning the minds of England's youth, agriculturally inclined, towards farming opportunity in Canada, is contained in the announcement that Mr. E. W. Beatty, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, is awarding a full summer course at the agricultural schools of Alberta to the four prize winners of the Young Farmers' Clubs of Great Britain.

The London Daily Mail was responsible for the movement known as "The Young Farmers' Clubs of Great Britain." Small organizations were formed in farming communities of the British Isles and some particular or specialized line of farming taken up by its members, the result being Calf Clubs, Pig Clubs, Poultry Clubs, Bee Clubs, Rabbit Clubs, etc.

There has been considerable association and interchange of visits between these boy organizations of the United States and Great Britain which has brought the operations of each to a high pitch of enthusiasm and done much to effect a mutual understanding in agricultural matters between the two countries.

The four selected boys will arrive in Canada early enough to commence their summer course at the Alberta agricultural schools in May. They will be given as thorough and comprehensive an impression of Western Canada agricultural conditions as possible in the time, visiting different areas and such agricultural fairs and exhibitions as offer.

The benefits which may flow in the wake of this scheme are manifold. No phase of Canadian immigration has, in the past, produced such excellent results as that of young boys from England who have grown up with the land and rapidly absorbed its ideas and ideals.

Other developments should result from the stimulation of mutual interest in agriculture in the two countries. There is some possibility of the award being made an annual one, and it is confidently hoped that some arrangements may be made to have representatives of the Canadian Young Farmers' Clubs visiting England every year.

Certain Southern Californian women, inspired by the most lofty ideals, are reported to have begun a campaign for the improvement of the Press of that State. The aims of the movement are explained by one of its leaders, who says that "with such an illustration of the practicability of clean journalism as has been furnished by the Christian Science Monitor, which has proved the advantage of printing only the good news and refraining from featuring crime and scandal, the organizations promoting this movement are encouraged to believe that the Los Angeles newspapers will co-operate to bring about a better condition of the press."

Boston newspapers given by the American Newspaper Directory for 1921: Christian Science Monitor, $2,000; The Transcript, $3,000.

"Nor is Boston an exception; its case is duplicated in every American city where a more serious journalism has been tried. In New York, the Evening Post has been and is a great newspaper. It has high traditions, it treats national, international, and all serious problems and events with fine discernment and intelligence, but while the unspeakable productions of Hearst enjoy a million subscribers and lucrative advertising, only 38,000 of New York's millions subscribe for the Evening Post.

"And as in America, so in England. Newspapers like the Times and the Morning Post, and reviews like the Nation and the Spectator and the Saturday Review, languish in circulation and revenue, whereas sensational dailies and wealthy purveyors of the divorce court garbage (in, win millions and titles for their owners. Fine literary journals like the Pall Mall and the Westminster have been driven altogether from the field.

"What, then, is the publisher to do. A newspaper has, or ought to have, moral responsibilities, and should aim for the highest, and if 45 men out of 50 prefer 'Mutt and Jeff' to a serious treatise on national finance, it is impossible to ignore the forty-five for the sake of the five. To do so would be to court dwindling circulation, followed by dwindling advertising, lack of revenue, and death.

The Ottawa paper, moreover, might bring its information up to date with advantage. During the past twelve months, according to the Christian Science Monitor, that paper's circulation has increased at an average rate of more than 1,000 a week, and is now over 80,000. The score for the serious Press of Boston therefore is at least 113,000, or more than double the Journal's total, as compared with 1,362,000 for the Press of Suffolk Ave. It is distinctly a good showing that one in every ten or eleven newspaper readers of the Hub should be sufficiently wealthy and highly cultured to enjoy the intellectual feast provided by the Monitor or Transcript, which is very literally carvare to the multitude.

All Gaul was divided into three parts and it is the common mistake of publishers to assume that the public is divided into two: morons and blue-stockings. If these gentlemen choose to so direct their papers as to appeal exclusively to lovers of literature or to lovers of sensation that is their affair, but they have not succeeded in demonstrating to the satisfaction of anybody else that they can make money only by raking it out of the muck of the gutter.

The vast majority of the public have been too busy all their lives in earning the right to exist to acquire the culture which a literary paper presupposes, but, on the other hand, we believe that the vast majority are not as interested as publishers persuade themselves in prurience and scandal. There appears to be no reason why a publisher with courage and ideals should not turn out a paper which should be as clean as the Monitor and as popular as Hearst's American. Public taste has been so far debauched that the experiment might be attended with difficulty and that is not to say that it could not be crowned with success.

A Verse Or Two THE LAUGHING PRAYER.

The sorry prayers go up to God Day after weary day, Whimpering through the eternal blue And down the Milky Way. Deaf to the music of the stars, The children of desire, Beggars before the Throne of God They wait for God to tire. The proletariat of heaven Swarmed in the Golden Street One day when Michael's host came by Up to the Judgment Seat. Above the heavenly mansions Bright, streaming banners flowed, While Cherubim and Seraphim Were crowding in the road. And then a little laughing prayer Came running from the sky, Along the golden gutters where The sorry prayers go by. It had no fear of anything, But in that holy place It found the very throne of God And smiled up in His face. Then Michael waited in the road, For Michael understood, While God looked on the laughing prayer And found it sweet and good. So God was comforted, He said, "There still is hope for men, One man prays happily." And so He turned to care again. —Louise Driscoll in Garden of the West.

Press Comment RED TAPE IN ACTION.

The number of forms now to be filled out by every business man, no matter how small a business he has, is appalling and takes several days if his time each year. We love red tape and would like to see more. It is giving jobs to some needy politicians at any rate, and it would be a shame to throw so many out of work.

24 CARNEGIE MEDALS GIVEN

CROWDS THROG TO POLLACK FIRE SALE

Opening Day of Big Fire Sale Shows Store to Capacity—Overtaxed Clerks Unable to Care for Purchasers—Galaxy of Bargains.

Nine o'clock yesterday morning, the opening hour of the big fire sale at Pollack's, found the doors of the store thronged with a dense crowd of anxious shoppers. Once the doors were opened, the big store soon filled up and this condition obtained all day. Indeed, the crowd was so large that Mr. Pollack was compelled to call in the police, not to deal with any offenders, but to act as a "traffic cop" and regulate the flow of purchasers.

Although the store clerks were more than doubled, they were utterly unable to cope with the constant flow of buyers taking advantage of the fire sale bargains, and Mr. Pollack is adding to the staff in order to cope with the big week-end business today and tomorrow.

In order to afford a much needed rest to the staff, Pollack's will close their doors at the noon hour, 12 till 1 o'clock. Mr. Pollack feels that those who visited the store yesterday should not have the impression that the goods displayed represented the whole of the lines available. Lack of space prevented this; but the big sale made by yesterday's buying will be filled in today by a host of new offers.

SERVICE WAS LARGELY ATTENDED

A very solemn anniversary service took place yesterday morning for the memory of the late J. B. Morissette, the past-President of the Catholic Board of Schools, Archbishop Mathieu, of Regina, attended the imposing ceremony, and a large number of clergy was also present. The church was full of citizens and friends, and there were also representatives of the different Academies and convents of all the city parishes.

At the end of the ceremony, solos were rendered by Mrs. Fafard Drolet and Art. Gagne, K.C.

If you want a fine evening's fun, come to the Apollo Dances, St. John street, tonight.

SHOULD FLOG DRUG PEDDLERS

Said Canon Scott When Interviewed Last Evening On The Drug Traffic

A Chronicle representative interviewed Canon Scott last evening with reference to the anti-drug crusade which is being pushed in Montreal, and in reply to this question: "Have you met with any cases of dope-taking in Quebec?" "Yes," he said. "At least four cases have been brought to my notice in the last few months."

"What is your impression of the present method of suppressing the traffic?" "It seems to me" he replied, "that we are going the wrong way about it. The poor victims are looked upon as criminals deserving punishment, instead of being looked upon as cases for special sympathy and treatment. No one knows the agonies which the poor sufferers endure when the supply of the drug is cut off. It is no use sending them to jail for a short term."

The Government ought to provide treatment in a sanatorium and pay the expenses of the patients out of the fines of those who sell the drugs. "Our present system is most inhuman."

How can the traffic be suppressed? "It could be suppressed in two months, if floggings were invariably administered as well as a fine enforced. For crimes which are the outcome of passion, there may be a measure of pity, but for cold-blooded traffic in soul destroying drugs for purposes of gain, there can be no punishment too heavy. A few cases of flogging would soon end the hideous commerce. Half measures are worse than useless and allow the contaminating influences to spread. Sanatoriums for the victims and floggings for the dealers, these are the things to aim at in this new crusade."

WEEKLY KIWANIS CLUB LUNCHEON

Ontario Mining Man Gave Interesting Lecture At Yesterday's Meeting

The usual weekly lunch meeting of the Quebec Kiwanis Club was held at the Chateau Frontenac yesterday, presided over by the President Mr. Arthur Dery, and attended by a large number of the members. The speaker of the day was Mr. R. H. C. Browne, President of the Ontario Anthracite Mines, Ltd. recently formed after the finding of a very large body of coal deposits at Sudbury, Ont. Mr. Browne is not in Quebec to promote the business interests of his company, he came on a visit to friends, and through one of the latter Mr. Charles Smith K.C. Secretary of the Quebec Harbor Commission received an invitation to speak to the Quebec Kiwanians. Mr. Browne after being introduced by the President of the Club, delivered a very interesting address on the mineral resources of Northern Canada. He said that for 23 years he traversed the Hudson Bay territory as a magistrate administering justice, and would say that the people of Canada have but a slight conception of the wealth of the resources of this country. Speaking of the Hudson Bay he said it was replete with mineral deposits and this applied generally to the Northern hinterland of Canada.

It was while Mr. Browne was pursuing his duties as magistrate in Northern Ontario that he came across and made the discovery of an anthracite coal deposit in the district of Sudbury. He said in relating his experiences of travel through the north that he had made adventures, and instanced that while in the act of cutting a tree for the building of a shack on a property he had acquired, the axe slipped and struck one of his feet, breaking a bone. He was alone at the time and a distance of 20 miles from the nearest habitation, and unable to use his foot, he had to crawl on his hands and knees for twenty miles, which took him four days before he could reach assistance.

Speaking of his discovery of the anthracite coal in the district of Sudbury interior, Mr. Browne said coal has so often been reported from one point and another in Ontario and the report has been so often found baseless that the public grew incredulous of the matter, but at last a material closely like anthracite was found in quantities that were likely to have economic importance, and finally the discovery of the Sudbury seams which after analysis proved to be anthracite equal to the Pennsylvania anthracite. After dwelling upon the discovery and what it means to the economical situation in Eastern Canada in particular Mr. Browne said the history of the discovery and development of the economic minerals of the Province of Ontario is replete with instances of which the discovery of coal in this Province will only be another parallel. The story of Cobalt and Gowganda is just about to re-occur in the matter of coal.

Like Cobalt and Gowganda, public opinion and unfortunately technical opinion also, has been and is recorded against the possibility of any coal deposits being found within the boundaries of the Province of Ontario. The economic importance of such a discovery within this Province is too well appreciated for me to make it necessary for elaboration, but that in my opinion the Ontario Anthracite Mines, Ltd., possess upon their properties west of Sudbury, Ontario a commercial deposit of a high grade Anthracite coal, I do so after the most careful consideration taking into full recognition the fact that in so doing I am about to place on record for the first time, the indisputable fact, that a deposit of high grade anthracite coal does exist, and cover it runs the trans-continental line of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The economic importance of such a state ment must focus attention.

It may be asked why this discovery was not made before, this in my opinion is due to the fact that the geology of the district has been regarded as of the classification in given an Upper Huronian, which has been found wrong. The Huronian system of rocks, cannot contain coal naturally treat as an absurdity, any possibility of coal in the Huronian system. It is for this reason that professional advice, apparently has heretofore been as against coal, with in the Province.

A microscopic examination of this coal from the outcrops of your properties showed that it is similar to a sample of high grade Lehigh Valley Pennsylvania coal, which it at present being sold in Toronto. While deposits found under the conditions outlined in reports should exist in considerable thickness with a series of coal seams.

The peculiar occurrence of nickel in all parts of the world is associated with the striking productive anthracite coal areas also further points to similar conditions in the geological time when the sediments were deposited in what is generally known as the Sudbury area of Ontario, and more particularly in the Chelmsford basin.

At the conclusion of Mr. Browne's address, Mr. A. G. Russell moved a vote of thanks which was unanimously adopted amidst applause in demonstration of appreciation.

"SHOULD FLOG DRUG PEDDLERS"

Said Canon Scott When Interviewed Last Evening On The Drug Traffic

A Chronicle representative interviewed Canon Scott last evening with reference to the anti-drug crusade which is being pushed in Montreal, and in reply to this question: "Have you met with any cases of dope-taking in Quebec?" "Yes," he said. "At least four cases have been brought to my notice in the last few months."

"What is your impression of the present method of suppressing the traffic?" "It seems to me" he replied, "that we are going the wrong way about it. The poor victims are looked upon as criminals deserving punishment, instead of being looked upon as cases for special sympathy and treatment. No one knows the agonies which the poor sufferers endure when the supply of the drug is cut off. It is no use sending them to jail for a short term."

The Government ought to provide treatment in a sanatorium and pay the expenses of the patients out of the fines of those who sell the drugs. "Our present system is most inhuman."

How can the traffic be suppressed? "It could be suppressed in two months, if floggings were invariably administered as well as a fine enforced. For crimes which are the outcome of passion, there may be a measure of pity, but for cold-blooded traffic in soul destroying drugs for purposes of gain, there can be no punishment too heavy. A few cases of flogging would soon end the hideous commerce. Half measures are worse than useless and allow the contaminating influences to spread. Sanatoriums for the victims and floggings for the dealers, these are the things to aim at in this new crusade."

CROWDS THROG TO POLLACK FIRE SALE

Opening Day of Big Fire Sale Shows Store to Capacity—Overtaxed Clerks Unable to Care for Purchasers—Galaxy of Bargains.

Nine o'clock yesterday morning, the opening hour of the big fire sale at Pollack's, found the doors of the store thronged with a dense crowd of anxious shoppers. Once the doors were opened, the big store soon filled up and this condition obtained all day. Indeed, the crowd was so large that Mr. Pollack was compelled to call in the police, not to deal with any offenders, but to act as a "traffic cop" and regulate the flow of purchasers.

Although the store clerks were more than doubled, they were utterly unable to cope with the constant flow of buyers taking advantage of the fire sale bargains, and Mr. Pollack is adding to the staff in order to cope with the big week-end business today and tomorrow.

In order to afford a much needed rest to the staff, Pollack's will close their doors at the noon hour, 12 till 1 o'clock. Mr. Pollack feels that those who visited the store yesterday should not have the impression that the goods displayed represented the whole of the lines available. Lack of space prevented this; but the big sale made by yesterday's buying will be filled in today by a host of new offers.

SERVICE WAS LARGELY ATTENDED

A very solemn anniversary service took place yesterday morning for the memory of the late J. B. Morissette, the past-President of the Catholic Board of Schools, Archbishop Mathieu, of Regina, attended the imposing ceremony, and a large number of clergy was also present. The church was full of citizens and friends, and there were also representatives of the different Academies and convents of all the city parishes.

At the end of the ceremony, solos were rendered by Mrs. Fafard Drolet and Art. Gagne, K.C.

If you want a fine evening's fun, come to the Apollo Dances, St. John street, tonight.

SONS AND LA TUQUE ARE CONFIDENT OF VICTORY

GREAT GAME SHOULD RESULT IN MEETING OF SONS OF IRELAND AND LA TUQUE TEAMS TONIGHT

Contest Will Mark Opening Fixture Of Second Half Of Provincial Hockey League Schedule—Both Outfits Are Confident Of Victory—Harry Hyland Will Referee

One of the best games of hockey that has yet been witnessed in this city this season should be on the card at the Arena this evening when the La Tuque team crosses sticks with Sons of Ireland, first half champions. In the opening game of the second half of the schedule.

Although Sons have captured the first half title and are therefore certain of being in the play-off for the league championship immediately following the final league game, it does not mean that they are going to take matters easy in this half and let Chicoutimi and La Tuque fight it out for the second half honors.

The reliable Turgeon will as usual guard the nets while that stellar fencible of Lamerand and Richardson will be on deck to break up the dangerous rushes of the boys from "Way Up North." Lamerand has been going like a house on fire in the last couple of games and was the big scorer in the out-of-town games against Chicoutimi and La Tuque.

The forward line will consist of George McNaughton, Hammy Laroche and "Pinkie" Dinan. McNaughton, although his name does not appear very often in the list of scorers, is nevertheless responsible for the majority of goals scored by his team for he is an unselfish player and would rather pass the puck than make more certain of a goal than take any chances of losing an opportunity of tallying by trying to break through alone. Laroche, although out of the game for a few weeks, showed in the last few practices that he has improved greatly over his former performances and should give the La Tuque net-minder many anxious moments tonight. Dinan, the hard-working right winger, is showing more speed in every game and it is a pretty sure bet that the La Tuque boys will have to show some real speed and ability to break away from his backchecking for Dinan is what can be termed a sixty-minute backchecker.

Lamerand, Morrisette and Gagné will do relief duty and it is very probable that Lamerand will have plenty of opportunity to perform. The La Tuque team has a great little team set up to the present are on even terms with the locals in the matter of games won and lost and they defeated Sons here and Sons turned the tables at La Tuque.

The visitors have a reliable goalkeeper in Fortin, while the defense work of Monaghan and Dicaire is hard to beat. Brisebois, Laliberte and Gossell constitute the forward trio and is one that plays the puck from the opening gong to the last, and their combination work will give the local boys plenty to worry about during the sixty minutes.

The officials will probably line up as follows: La Tuque Goal, Sons of Ireland; Fortin Point, Turgeon; Dicaire C. Point, Loneragan; Monaghan Centre, Richardson; Brisebois Right Wing, McNaughton; Laliberte Left Wing, Dinan; Gossell Substitutes, Laroches.

Braithwaite, Lamerand, Smith, Morrisette, Gagné. The game is to start at 8:30 o'clock sharp, and as usual the school children will be admitted to the north end of the rink free of charge. A band will be in attendance to live things up between the periods. The officials in charge of the game will be the following: Referee: Harry Hyland. Umpires: E. Cote and E. Pouliot. Timekeepers: N. Fortin and W. Sharpe. Scorer: Dan Griffin. Penalty Recorder: Lou Gignac.

VICS AND NATIONALS WON. Montreal, Jan. 18.—In the Montreal City Hockey League fixtures played here tonight Victoria defeated M.A.A.A. by 3-2 and Nationals won from Loyola by 6 to 1.

In the Class B Bowling League games played last night Adanae won two strings from Deborah and Knights of Columbus shutout Victoria.

Napoleons defeated L'Evenen, 2-1 and Candiac won from Canadiens-Francais 1-0 in the Intermediate Hockey League games at the Arena last evening.

ST. MALO SHOPS WON C.N.R. TITLE

Scored Fourth Consecutive Victory By Defeating Operating Dept. 3-2

St. Malo Shops captured the championship of the Canadian National Railways Inter-Department Hockey League last night by defeating Operating Dept. by a 3-2 score in a league fixture played at the Garrison Rink. In the other match the Freight Department won from Express Dept. by a 5-3 count.

The St. Malo-Operating contest was the best exhibition witnessed in the league this winter and was anybody's to the final whistle. St. Malo was the first to score, Zinck doing the trick after working his way in on Fortin. This lead was not held for long, however, for before the period ended Operating, through Cote, tied the score.

Only one goal was tallied in the second twenty and this fell to Young of the St. Malo sextette. Cote once again put the teams on even terms at the start of the final period. With the score standing two all both teams put forward their very best efforts in an endeavor to take the lead. Young of St. Malo finally broke away and ended by flipping the disc into the net behind Fortin for what proved to be the winning tally.

This victory gives St. Malo Shops the championship of the league as they have not been defeated in four games while the remaining three teams of the league have three defeats and one victory. There are two more games remaining to be played so even if St. Malo drop both it would not in any way affect their standing.

The Express-Freight fixture was a hard fought affair for the first two periods, the score standing at one to one. However, in the final twenty the Freight boys forced to the front, netting four counters while their opponents could only tally on two occasions.

Ottawa, Jan. 18.—The visiting Scotch curlers left Ottawa tonight victors by a single point in a series of games against representatives of the Glebe and Rideau Curling rinks here this afternoon. The aggregate points were 69-68. Four games were played against the Glebe curlers, the home rinks winning on their own ice by 46-33.

They were turned, however, on the Rideau ice when the visitors won a two-game match by 34-22. The largest score of the day was run up by Col. Robertson-Aikman of the Scottish, who defeated R. E. Ritchie of the Rideau Club by 22-8.

The greatest home victory was registered by Dr. J. K. Gordon, who defeated J. K. Keane by 29-2. This evening was spent by the visitors as guests of the Rideau Curling Club. The touring Scots left at 11 o'clock for Kingston.

Three Rivers Lifted Samenhoff Trophy By Margin Of Seven Shots Yesterday

The Samenhoff Trophy, donated by the late Mr. Samenhoff for competition between ladies' curling teams, has left Quebec, it being annexed by two rinks of ladies from Three Rivers yesterday morning. The Trifurcians defeated the locals by a margin of seven points in the total score. One of the local rinks won by a score of 16-7 while the other was defeated 22-6.

The games were closely contested throughout and there were many exciting moments during the time that the ladies were on the ice. As the games had concluded the visiting curlers were entertained to luncheon in the clubhouse while later tea was held in their honor by the President and officials of the Quebec Ladies' Curling Club.

The rinks and scores in yesterday's contests were as follows: Quebec Three Rivers; Miss Ruth Cream, Mrs. Slater; Miss Pope, Mrs. Baptist; Mrs. G. Henderson, Mrs. Ballingall; Miss Sewell, Mrs. W. Whitehead; Skip-16 Skip-7.

Miss Lemesurier, Mrs. J. Ritchie; Mrs. Rattray, Mrs. Farmer; Miss Imrie, Mrs. H. B. Cressman; Mrs. W. Henderson; Skip-6 Skip-22; Totals—Three Rivers, 29; Quebec, 22.

JEWTRAW STILL SHOWS THE WAY

Lake Placid Skater Continued Whirlwind Skating, Capturing All Senior Events

Plattsburgh, N.Y., Jan. 18.—In the second day's racing of the Adirondack Gold Cup championships here today, Charles Jewtraw, the Lake Placid star, continued his whirlwind skating and again cleaned up both senior events of the day. He won the 440-yard in a driving finish with Charles Gorman of St. John, close on his heels. Frank Garnett, also of St. John, finished third. The time was 35 2-5 seconds and established a new local track record.

Gorman and Garnett each won their trial heats in the 440, while Russell Wheeler of Montreal fell on the last turn. Ralph Bloomfield of Montreal finished third in his trial heat and did not qualify for the semi-finals.

Summary: 440-Yard Senior (semi-finals)—First Heat—1, Charles Gorman, St. John, N.B.; 2, Alfred Mulrur, Johnson City; 3, Herman Perleberg, Cleveland. Time 39 seconds. Second Heat—1, Charles Jewtraw, Lake Placid; 2, Edward Gloster, Toronto; 3, Frank Garnett, St. John. Time 35 seconds.

SUES Y.W.C.A. FOR $15,000 DAMAGES

Action Taken Against Montreal Branch By Widow For Milkman's Death

Montreal, Jan. 18.—Alleging that the Young Women's Christian Association was responsible for the death of her husband who fell down an elevator shaft in that institution on November 30, 1921, assuaging fatal injuries, Mrs. James Vincent is suing for $15,000 damages. Vincent, who was a milkman, ascended to the fifth floor of the building with two cans of milk on the freight elevator. He left the elevator open and carried the cans to the kitchen. During his absence some one took the elevator to the ground floor, so that when he stepped through the open door as he thought back into the elevator, he fell down the shaft and was killed.

Hydro-radials will vie with roads in getting into the limelight in the debates at Queen's Park. The government is not expected to make any changes, at least none of importance to the radial bill it passed last session. On the other hand the opposition, at least the Conservative opposition, will press for changes. The administration speakers will point to the recent votes against hydro-radials as vindicating the policy of the government not to commit the province financially in such undertakings, while the Conservatives will likely say it proves what they said last session, that the radial bill was meant to kill radials.

If the Gregory Commission probing the provincial hydro management brings in its report during the session, that will perhaps bring on more debate. Of course it depends on what the report says, but there is not so much money invested in hydro, including the Chipewyan, Nipigon, Central Ontario and other systems, that it is bound to be one that will require a great deal of consideration.

There is no word as to whether the government will introduce the bill to provide for alternate voting. The Conservatives vow that they will fight it to the last ditch, so its introduction would have a decided influence on the length of the session and the complacency of the proceedings.

The timber question has been talked about so much that many people will be surprised if there is anything really new about it this session. However, the Timber Commission's final report was presented since the House rose and after it the report of Dr. Judson Clarke, the latter recommending against the continuance of the Doyle rule under which the lumber company at present pay dues to the government. The rule is admitted by the lumbermen to be only an approximation as to the amount of lumber any lot of timber contains, but they take issue with Dr. Clarke's plan to have actual measurements, claiming it is not practicable because it is impossible to tell how much of a piece of timber will be wasted because of rot or other defects. So any attempt to do away with the Doyle rule will meet with strong opposition by the lumbermen unless another rule of a similar nature is put in its place.

The dispute over the Separate School funds which has recently been fanned, is not expected to occupy much time of the Legislature. Last session Separate School matters looked as if they would start something, but they failed to cause even a flutter in the debates.

The Dairy Standards Act which was made compulsory last year does not seem to have started the trouble among the farmers that many expected. Even many of the staunchest supporters of the government were not at all enthusiastic over Hon.

Manning Doherty's insistence that all milk going to cheese factories must be paid for on a butter-fat basis instead of actual weight, but it does not seem to have brought about all the trouble that they feared. The Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association, from whose district most of the complaints came, were quite favorable to it at their recent meeting, and the big objection at that meeting was the way the cheese is graded. That is a federal government matter so the fight has been transferred to Ottawa and a number of members at Queen's Park will not be sorry.

The laws were passed last year to provide for cooperation in handling cheese but the removal of the embargo on cattle by the British Government may make it advisable to pass some laws at Queen's Park which will enable the Ontario farmer to take full advantage of it.

The Ontario Temperance Act will again face the members. Although there was a lot of talk before last session about cutting it up and moistening the province again, the only changes were to make it stiffer and enable the authorities to enforce it better, so no attempts to make it less stringent are expected this session. Like last year, most of the criticism will be on how it is enforced, not on any flaws in the Act itself. Howard Ferguson is understood to be preparing an appeal to the people on the claim that the Conservatives would enforce the act in a way that would be satisfactory to the public and will not suggest any important amendments to it.

The hotel commission has been studying the situation not only in Ontario but in New York State as well. Its report is expected to propose the province financing an advertising campaign to get tourist traffic.

BEAR INTERESTS VIRTUALLY ABANDON OPERATIONS

OPERATORS FOR ADVANCE HAD LITTLE DIFFICULTY IN BIDDING UP PRICES

Net Advances of One To Two Points Quite Common At Close—Number Of Specialties Recorded Substantially Higher Gains—Bullish Interests Encouraged

New York, Jan. 18—Discouraged by their inability to bring out more stocks in their recent drive, bear interests virtually abandoned their operations on the short side in today's stock market and operators for the advance had little difficulty in bidding up prices.

Net advances of 1 to 2 points were common at the close with a number of specialties recording substantially higher gains.

Bullish interests were encouraged by the less belittling nature of the foreign news despatches and the continued improvement in domestic conditions as reflected in increased car loading, particularly of general merchandise; higher crude oil prices; resumption of dividends by Republic Steel preferred and the high rate of production and stiffening price tendency in the steel industry; the good showing being made by industrial companies in their current earnings statements and the continuance of low money rates.

Foreign exchanges were inclined to weakness but largely for final quotation. Demand sterling closed around last night's final quotation $4.45 early weakness being attributed to the failure of the British Debt Mission to reach an agreement with United States government representatives before their departure home. The weakness in francs reflects the doubt of the financial community as to France's ability to collect her reparations payments by force while the further slump of German marks to .0042 cents each mirrors the seeming hopelessness of stabilizing the German unit of currency. Closing exchange rates were at or near the high levels of the day, marks rallying to .0047, cents.

One of the features of the stock market was the heavy trading in Anaconda, which was depressed nearly three points to 45 1/8 and then snapped back to 48, recovering all its losses. Selling of this issue was based on the speculative belief that the heavy fixed charges involved in the recent $100,000,000 financing program for the acquisition of the majority stock of Chile, would materially defer its return to a dividend basis. The day's sales aggregated approximately 60,000 shares.

Republic Steel issues made a good response to the unexpected resumption of dividends on the preferred. Other steels advanced in sympathy. United States Steel common rose nearly a point to 106 7/8. Heavy short covering undoubtedly accelerated the advance in Bids, which closed 2 5/8 higher at 134.

Most of the oil shares made a favorable response to another increase in Pennsylvania crude prices, but the volume of business was comparatively light. Motors were active at higher prices. Hudson, Hupp and Chandler gaining at least a point.

Rail prices again lagged behind the rest of the list, but Canadian Pacific was among the issues which gained one to two points.

The day's total sales were $22,000 shares. Liquidation of foreign bonds and of the lively competition afforded by the large volume of new offerings continued to have a depressing effect on prices in today's bond market, although in no part of the list was the reaction as sharp as yesterday's.

New low records were again established by Belgian 6s, 7 1/2-2s and 8s, French 5s, 5s 1/2-2s, 6s, 6s 1/2-2s, and Serbian 8s, the losses running from 1/8 to 1/2 points.

Final prices showed slight recovery. Uruguay 8s, Cuban Railroad 8s, and Danish Municipal 8s, series A, all moved to higher ground. A gain of 20 cents on $100 in Liberty 3 1/2-2s featured the United States government group, other issues in which showed losses of 2 to 4c.

Railroad mortgages were mixed with the speculative liens showing the best recuperative power.

A break in the Chile Copper 7s, was easily the outstanding feature in the industrial division.

Total sales, par value were $11,535,000.

Closing Letters By Local Brokers

(By L. G. Beaubien & Co.)
New York, Jan. 18—Stocks have given a good account of themselves today. Most of the nervousness which characterized recent markets has apparently passed away and there was some confident buying in U. S. Steel and other market leaders this afternoon. One of the features of the afternoon was the strength exhibited in the recently listed department store stocks. The Anaconda 7 percent debentures were quickly over subscribed today.

Daily Gossip On Leading Stocks

(Special to The Chronicle)
The Royal Bank of Canada has declared a dividend of 3 percent for the current quarter, payable March 1st, 1923, to shareholders of record February 16th, 1923.
The Canada Cement Company, Limited, has declared a dividend of 2 1/2 percent on the preferred stock of the company for the three months ending December 31st, payable February 16th, 1923, to shareholders of record January 31st, 1923.

The New York Stock Market has eluded the guess, predictions and hopes of the daily watchers for lower prices, which have been looked for since the middle of last month," says the current issue of the Bache Review.

"Turning back to December 15th, when the guesses, predictions and hopes began to be expressed, to find any decided accomplishment, it is discovered that prices of stocks with few exceptions are about where they were then and with no trend visible.

"There is nothing, however, to indicate that the better class of investment securities are not a good purchase from the point of view of the longer outlook.

"The Federal Reserve statement shows the decrease in rediscounts and is seasonally expected and even a small increase in the gold reserve. Little change from the easy condition prevailing in money, is looked for, until spring business begins to absorb more funds for commercial purposes."

A well known Montreal financial man, after returning from a visit to New York, where he was consulting with men who are prominent in financial circles, says that they are confident that Sterling will reach par by the middle of the summer.

The annual general meeting of the shareholders of Public Service Corporation of Quebec, will be held at the head office of the Company, 53 Green Street, Quebec, on Tuesday, February 13th, 1923, at 11:00 a. m.

Laidlaw & Co. There is no doubt that the crisis abroad has assumed a more grave aspect, at least the markets on this side so construed it.

Detroit United Railway has declared a dividend of 1 1/2 percent on the common stock, payable March 1st, 1923, to shareholders of record February 1st, 1923.

MEXICAN MONK PREDICTS END OF WORLD.

Mexico City, Jan. 4—(By Mail)—Considerable anxiety is being shown by the Indian population of the village of Mixcoac, near Mexico City, following the recent declarations of Father Genaro Rivera, a Carmelite monk residing there, that the end of the world will come on December 12, 1954. The monk bases his prediction on the highly complex astronomical observations he has been conducting for years, and he asserts that the millennium is a certainty on the date mentioned. Inasmuch as he is a highly respected man of the village, his assertions have caused great excitement among the credulous Indians. Local newspapers have given much prominence to the predictions.

CURRENT FAME

The bishop of a certain district was waiting for a train at an out-of-the-way station. Seeing a stranger gazing him curiously, he nodded to him carefully, fearing he might be sighting an overlooked acquaintance.

"Excuse me, mister," said the stranger to the bishop, "but I think I have seen your picture in the papers." "Very probably," answered the bishop. "Kin I ask you," inquired the stranger, edging nearer, "what you was cured of?"

who have once had Zam-Buk applied never forget how it soothes and heals their hurts. Wise mothers never use anything else. A touch of herbal Zam-Buk—a bandage made of almost any clean rag—no more tears or worry. Zam-Buk is so sure and so reliable that it provides the ideal healer for every sort of wound, abrasion or soreness.

Ask For

Mrs. J. E. Bierwirth, of Cardiff, Sask. writes:—"My little boy cut off the end of his finger and it seemed a case for a doctor. However, I applied Zam-Buk to stop the pain and bleeding and it gave the child such relief that I continued the treatment. Using nothing but Zam-Buk, I dressed the finger each day, and the wound healed perfectly."

The Union. Montreal.—The members of the Union of the Legislature of Upper and Lower Canada will learn with satisfaction the departure for London of James Stuart, Esq., entrusted with the Petitions from this City and County, from the Eastern Townships and from various parts of both Provinces, in favor of that measure, and appointed to act as the special agent of the Petition. On the present occasion, the friends of the Union in this City may be permitted to reflect with pleasure upon the ready and strenuous support obtained for the measure in different parts of these Provinces, as indicated by ten thousand genuine signatures of educated men, influenced solely by feelings of true loyalty and respect for the King, and by permanent interests of their country. To conclude, the friends of the Union on this side of the water, by diffusing good information, having already proceeded so far in promoting the enactment and in securing the tranquil execution of the measure that they may soon be permitted like the pious husbandmen in the language of the Poet, to exclaim: "labourious Heaven for new glorious men hath done his part."

The North Pole. We hear that Captain Bernier has just submitted to some of the officers of the Geographical Society of Quebec a very important and interesting report regarding the Canadian expedition to the North Pole. Captain Bernier has a large experience as a sailor and naval architect. He has travelled the world over. He was only 17 years of age when he took his first ship across the ocean to England. He is well up in geographical matters and is a very energetic man. The Geographical Society will carefully study Captain Bernier's scheme and report thereon to the Local and Federal Governments.

Activity at the Basin.

There is still some life at the Louise Basin. The "Context," belonging to Mr. Julien Chabot, is being repaired there. A number of laborers are employed in moving the engine in order to give the vessel more speed. Further along are some twenty laborers working at the construction of a pontoon for the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Co. The pontoon measures one hundred feet in length and sixty feet across. The work is rapidly nearing completion and will be finished in a month's time.

An Indian Murder.

GOOD HEALTH SECRET OF BEAUTY

Beauty lies in the care a woman bestows upon herself and in keeping at bay those dread ailments peculiar to her sex, which drag her down and leave telltale traces upon her countenance. Sparkling eyes, the elastic step, and a clear complexion never accompany organic troubles. Distressed expressions, a sallow complexion, dark circles under the eyes, lassitude, headaches, and mental depression are the telltale symptoms of women's ailments. Women so troubled should not lose a day in taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, the most successful remedy known to overcome woman's ill and restore health and beauty.

A large dog attended a motion picture theatre at Ann Arbor the other night, and lay on the floor watching the show quietly and intelligently, not once reading a caption aloud.—Detroit News.

"My Heart Would Palpitate, I Had Weak Spells"

Mrs. L. Whiting, 202 King St. West, Brockville, Ont., writes:—

"I took very sick with my nerves and stomach, and seemed to be all run down. At times my heart would flutter and palpitate so and I would take such weak spells in the pit of my stomach that I sometimes thought I would never get better. I had almost given up hope when a friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I did not stop until I had taken twenty-five boxes. It has done wonders for me and I want to recommend it to everyone."
