REV. ALEXANDER MELLOR

Bishop of Montreal Officiates At Induction of Advent Rector

The institution and induction of Rev. Alexander Mellor as Rector of The Church of The Advent, Westmount, took place St. Barnabas Day, Thursday, June 11.

The Rt. Rev. John Dixon, Bishop of Montreal officiated at the service assisted by The Venerable Archdeacon A. P. Gower-Rees, the induction sermon was preached by the Rev. R. R. Latimer, Rural Dean of Montreal West.

All clergy of the Diocese and all parishioners of the Church of the Advent had been invited to attend the service, during which A. J. Hewton, Rector's Warden, presented the keys of the church to the new rector.

In the absence of Lloyd C. Hazelton, the People's Warden, William Phipps assisted Mr. Hewton in that part of the service where the two Wardens and the Archdeacon officially conducted the incumbent to his chair.

Fr. Mellor succeeds the Rev. Canon Sydenham B. Lindsay who retired recently. He first came to the Church of the Advent as curate last September from St. Margaret's Barbados.

Born in Manchester, England, the new rector studied at Lichfield Theological College and was ordained a priest in 1936. His present induction coincides with the 17th anniversary of his ordination.

First appointed curate of All Saint's, Port of Spain, Trinidad, Fr. Mellor also served as curate of St. John's, Longsight, Manchester and returned to Trinidad to take charge of St. Paul's, San Fernando. Later he was in charge of St. David's, Toco before proceeding to Barbados where he was in charge of St. Lawrence, then Rector of St. Mark's and later of St. Margaret's. His wife is the former Marjorie Burke of Trinidad.

Following the induction service a reception was held in the parish hall.

Westm't Rotary Prepares For Annual Charity Event

Final plans have been made by the Rotary Club of Westmount for its annual carnival which will take place in Westmount Park near the Glen, beginning Monday, June 22, for one week.

The event, one of the most successful entertainments of its kind in the past decade, will buy further equipment for the Unity Boys Club and for a new project for the Montreal Association of Girl Guides.

Westmount Rotarians have won an outstanding reputation as "barkers" in the old carnival tradition. They have often been compared by their admirers with professional carnival men. Thousands have flocked to the Westmount Rotary Carnival in past years and an even greater attendance is forecast for 1953.

Superior Court Judgments Given: Rooming House Operators Win Case: City Files Appeal In Higher Court

Westmount by-laws governing the operation of rooming houses within a specified restricted area are not applicable if such business were "in being" prior to May 1st, 1951, according to Mr. Justice F. T. Collins in a Superior Court judgment handed down this week, which ordered the local Recorder's Court to discontinue the hearing of rooming house by-law violation cases against Adam Ruttinger, 488 Elm ave., and Joseph Kriviskus 405 Metcalfe ave. which charged them of breaking the city by-law and remaining in business.

Churchmen's Conference Is Held Here

Westmount Park-Emmanuel United Church on Western ave. has presented a busy scene during the past week as some 300 to 400 delegates from Eastern Ont. and Quebec attended the 29th annual meeting of the Montreal and Ottawa conference of the United Church of Canada.

The Rev. Dr. Harvey B. Campbell, minister of the local church held a worship service on Monday evening at which communion was celebrated by Dr. E. E. Long, president of the conference, assisted by Dr. Campbell and elders of the church.

During the conference it was reported that the United Church of Canada in the Montreal area had raised nearly $1,500,000 and that the total amount raised in the conference district was close to $3,000,000.

The statistical report revealed that there were 38,863 members of the Church in Montreal, and 82,237 members in the entire conference.

In the Montreal area there are 125 ministers in 127 churches. They are attended by 21,731 families in the city and 42,622 in the conference district.

United Churches in Montreal also provided the setting for 2,360 baptisms and 1,162 marriages during the past year, the report revealed. It was estimated that 25 per cent of the wedding ceremonies in Canada were performed by the United Church.

The report listed 20,795 city children attending 116 Sunday Schools. Total Sunday School membership in the conference region is 42,987.

It disclosed there are 170 women's missionary societies, 154 women's associations and 1,310 men's organizations in the Montreal area.

Delegates attending the annual meeting from eastern Ontario and Quebec learned the value of all church property in the region was in excess of $23,000,000. Montreal property is worth more than $12,000,000.

Wins Diploma

Eric C. Laffoley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric J. Laffoley, 805 Upper Belmont was among graduates of the Provincial Institute of Textiles, Hamilton, Ontario, who received their diplomas, May 30.

The long-drawn out dispute reached Superior Court by way of proceedings by which the rooming house proprietors asked the higher court to restrain the local court from proceeding with the cases.

In support of his decision His Lordship stated that by the civil code of the province of Quebec "no one can be compelled to give up his property except for public utility and in consideration of a just indemnity previously paid."

Quebec Law

"That," said His Lordship, "is a fundamental principle of Quebec law. If the city by-law now questioned, be applicable to its full extent to the plaintiffs in these cases, that means that both of them will have to abandon their established business without receiving any indemnity or compensation."

"They acquired the two houses for the purpose of using them solely as rooming and boarding houses. The Legislature has the right to grant power to the city to prohibit for the past as well as the future the existence of such houses without indemnity but it requires the clear words of a statute to do it."

"It must be presumed that, if the Legislature wished to do violence to the terms of the law prohibiting the confiscation of vested rights without indemnity, it would have so expressed itself. Since it failed to do so, it could only have intended that the fundamental terms of the civil code article would be applied by a municipality in the exercise of the powers conferred upon it."

His Lordship also noted that the City of Westmount claimed it had power to make by-laws "to assure peace, order, good government, health, general welfare and improvement of the municipality."

Said His Lordship, "It is difficult to envisage that a simple matter such as the regulation and prohibition of boarding houses concerns the peace, order, good government, health, general welfare and improvement of the city. It is clear, upon the evidence, that these two boarding houses were well kept, clean, inhabited by respectable people and never provided any problem for the city."

"It may be that boarding and rooming houses may depreciate the value of properties in their immediate locality, but that does not affect the city at large. In exercising its general powers, the city must clearly justify the necessity of doing so in a manner that must be apparent in some way. This the city has failed to do."

As regards a section of the city by-law giving authority to regulate the carrying on of trades and industries, His Lordship decided that, under that section, Westmount had power to regulate boarding and rooming houses "but not to prohibit them under conditions existing in these cases."

Men's Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Leibowitz came to Shaar Hashomayim in 1937 as members of the Hebrew School faculty. Within a short time, their professional qualifications and native abilities were recognized and they were given greater responsibilities in the administrative and supervisory work of the Educational Department.

Excellent Record

Mr. Leibowitz has been professionally active in Jewish education and its allied fields of group work and camping for over 25 years. He was born in New York, where he received a complete Hebraic and secular education. He was graduated from the College of the City of New York, with the degree of Bachelor of Science, specializing in the Social Sciences, particularly Education and Philosophy. His Hebraic training included the Teachers' Institute of the Isaac Elchanan Yeshiva and the K'vutza, a selected group trained for creative service in Jewish education by the late Dr. Samson Benderly, the Dean of Jewish Education in America. Mr. Leibowitz's background in Hebraic-Religious training also includes post-graduate courses in Rabbinics and Semitic Studies at the Hebrew University in Jerusalem; and in the Graduate School of the Yeshiva University in New York. He is planning to complete his Doctorate in Hebrew Literature at the Jewish Theological Seminary of America.

Prior to his present post he served with Congregation Baith Israel Anshei Emeth in Brooklyn; as a member of the Marshallia Hebrew High School Staff of the New York Bureau of Jewish Education; and as Educational Director of the Community Center of Israel in New York. Here, in addition to his position as educational director of Congregation Shaar Hashomayim, Mr. Leibowitz has served various communal organizations including the Young Men's Hebrew Association, Young Judaea, Shearith Israel Synagogue, and the Montreal Hebrew Teachers' Seminary where he was instructor in History and on the board of directors.

He participated in the founding and direction of Camp Achvah, the first Hebrew educational camp established in 1928 by the New York Bureau of Jewish Education specifically to further Hebraic studies during the summer months. His camp activities also include the Cejwin Camps at Port Jervis, Camp Hakoah at Trout Lake and Sunshine Camp at Lac Masson, at all of which he served in a key capacity or as director. At present, he is executive consultant of Camp Tekumah, a camp dedicated to the ideal of wholesome Jewish living in a normal camp environment.

Other Interests

Among Mr. Leibowitz's many other interests in the Jewish Community are the Zionist Organization, the Canadian Jewish Congress, the Canadian-Jewish Teachers' Seminary and the Igud (Canadian Association of Hebrew Schools). Mr. Leibowitz is also

For the by-laws under the circumstances, were not given any "retrospective effect."

CITY TO APPEAL

In connection with the recent judgments regarding the prosecutions of two rooming house keepers on Elm Avenue and Metcalfe Avenue, the City Council has instructed the City Attorney to enter appeals to the Court of Queen's Bench.

The judgments declare that the City's By-laws do not prevent the a member of the National Council for Jewish Education, the professional organization of educational practitioners in the United States, and of the Educators Assembly, an affiliate of the United Synagogue of America.

Mrs. Leibowitz a native New Yorker, received a complete Hebraic and secular education in the New York Schools, having attained the Degree of Bachelor of Arts from Brooklyn College, after specializing in languages and teaching methods. She was also graduated from the Seminary College of Jewish Studies with the Degree of Bachelor of Hebrew Literature; and from the Teachers' Institute of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, the professional training school, with the Degree of Bachelor of Jewish Pedagogy (now designated Bachelor of Religious Education).

She is the only professionally trained Hebrew Teacher in Canada with these academic and professional degrees, and licensed by the National Board of the American Association for Jewish Education. Mrs. Leibowitz was appointed to the Hebrew Faculty of Shaar Hashomayim upon her arrival in Montreal in 1937, after having gained wide experience in Hebrew and Religious School teaching in New York City, where she had also participated in the furthering of the Hebraic Arts Movement among the academic youth.

Camp Director

She has had extensive camping experience since 1929 at Camp Achvah, Cejwin Camps, Camp Hakoah and Sunshine Camp of the Montreal Federation of Jewish Community Services. At the last mentioned, she served as co-director with her husband, and is presently director of Camp Tekumah. She has participated actively in women's cultural activities here, and has achieved an enviable reputation as a dynamic, stimulating and charming classroom and platform personality. Mrs. Leibowitz was appointed first headmistress of the Shaar Hashomayim Foundation School in 1947, supervising over sixty children on the pre-school level ranging in age from three to five.

operators from carrying on their rooming house operations at these locations, as they were established there prior to the repeal of the Dominion housing regulations in Order No. 200 of the War-time Prices and Trade Board.

The judgments disposed of these two cases only and did not decide that the By-laws are ultra vires or invalid or that the Municipal Court lacks jurisdiction to hear charges under the By-Laws, and the Council considers that they are still enforceable except in particular circumstances like those involved in the recent judgments.

The appeals from the two judgments are to be filed immediately.

"Doug" Smith Discusses Golf

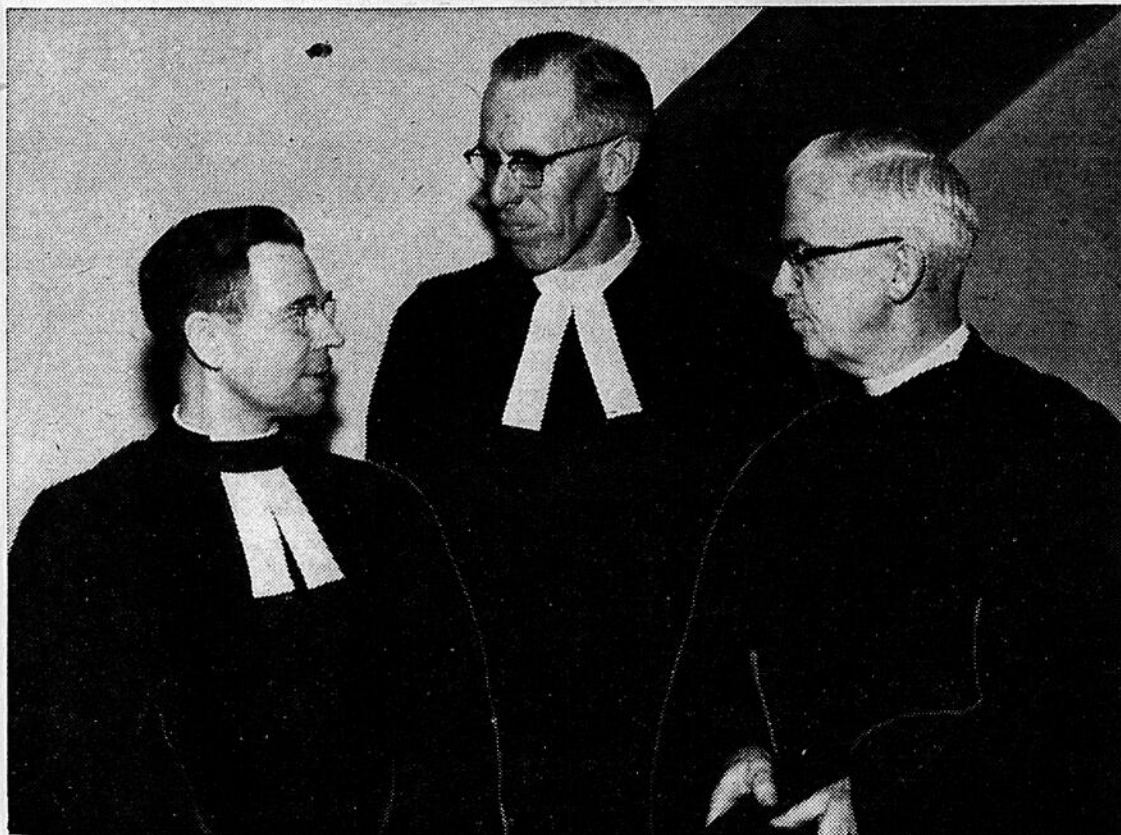

Mr. Douglas Smith, better known to thousands of Canadians and to members of Westmount Rotary Club as "Doug Smith" of "This is your Imperial Esso Hockey Broadcast" took a somewhat larger area of territory for his talk before local Rotarians at the Victoria Hall on Wednesday when he chose "Comments on the Canada Cup Golf Matches" as his subject.

In his introductory remarks the speaker expressed some doubts concerning the basic purpose of the Canada Cup International Two-some matches which is that of "creating international goodwill through golf" but said that with the recent staging of the International games and the Professional Golfing Association series at the Beaconsfield course, the game had definitely become big time in this country.

He paid warm tribute to Jules Huot and Stan Leonard for their play in the recent series, describing Huot as the finest golf player produced by the part of the nation known as French-Canada.

Neither Huot nor Leonard, or any of the other Canadian players had any pushovers in the recent games, said the speaker and Canada has every reason to be proud of their representatives.

The International Twosomes, said the speaker are destined to become the biggest thing in golf and he expressed the wish that the Beaconsfield course would become the permanent playing course.

Prominent Local Resident John C. Newman Dies

JOHN CAVERHILL NEWMAN, 634 Sydenham ave., well-known local resident, one of the city's leading business men and one of Canada's outstanding philanthropists died at his home last Wednesday evening.

He was 74 years of age, and at the time of his death was chairman of the finance committee and a director of General Steel Wares Limited, with which company he had been associated for sixty years and of which he was the founder and first president.

His business career started at the age of 15 when he left High School to enter the employ of the old McClary Company as office boy with a monthly salary of $15.00.

In 1927, as president of the firm, he organized the merger of various metal working concerns which eventually became known as General Steel Wares.

During his lifetime he held a series of directorates in banks, trust companies and industries, including the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Price Bros. and Co.

Ltd., Sherwin-Williams Co., of Canada, Ltd., and Anglo-Canadian Telephone Company.

He was also at various times president of Baldwins, Montreal, Ltd. and director of Baldwins Ltd. (England); vice-president of the Lake Superior Corporation, and director of Hamilton Bridge Co., Canada Steamship Lines, Northern Navigation Company, Montreal Trust Company and Canadian Vickers Ltd.

Community Activities

For many decades he took an active part in the work of hospitals in the metropolitan area.

He was president of the Western Hospital during a period of acute financial difficulties in 1920 when he put its finances on a sound basis, building the Nurses Home on Dorchester street at Atwater.

While he was president, the Western amalgamated with the Montreal General in 1924 and he became vice-president and then president of the MGH, a post he relinquished in 1943.

During this period he gave large sums to the hospital for the purchase of radium so that indigent patients could get relief from cancer.

The funeral service was held in the church of St. Andrew and St. Paul, where the Rev. R. J. Berlis paid eloquent tribute to the deceased. Canon Gilbert Oliver, rector of St. Matthias church, assisted at the service in the Presbyterian church. Burial took place in Mount Royal cemetery.

Chief mourners were his wife; two daughters, Mrs. W. W. Eakin and Mrs. Douglas Cowans, jr.; a brother, Henry Newman; three grandchildren, Miss Shirley Eakin, Richard Eakin and John Cowans; a sister-in-law, Mrs. Henry Newman; two sons-in-law, Dr. W. W. Eakin and Douglas Cowans, jr.; and his nieces and nephews, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Newman; Dr. and Mrs. Fraser Gurd; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Currie and Frank Gurd. Honorary pall bearers were George B. Murphy, R. N. Watt, W. P. O'Brien, James Stewart, V. M. Drury, Frank B. Common, Q.C., R. Bruce Taylor, R. C. Vaughan, Ross Clarkson and F. S. Brophy.

Westm't Park Clubs Hold Variety Night

Westmount Park Clubs held their entertainment night last Friday in the Webster Hall of Westmount Park-Emmanuel Church, where ably assisted by the Scouts under the direction of Mr. Patch, they put on a very successful show, each number of which was well received by the near capacity audience.

Mr. J. Bagley acted as master of ceremonies, while Mr. H. W. Clarke was commentator for the fashion show.

Soloists were Miss M. Rogers, Barry Stevens, "The Cubbets" Barbara Caplan and Ellen Shapiro who danced.

Much of the success of the show was due to the hard work of Miss J. Hunter "Ahela", Miss M. MacGregor, Mr. Patch and members of the group committee. Mrs. K. Robertson, Mrs. Sister and Mrs. Mackners did the makeup.

It is hoped in the Fall to take the show on a tour of local military and children's hospitals.

OVER THE TOP: News was received from Red Cross head- quarters this week that, with all returns in, the Westmount organization had exceeded its objective of $39,000 by a substantial margin. Shown here are Mrs. J. A. D. Falkner, Roslyn Avenue, chairman of the campaign in Westmount, and Alderman Lloyd Blachford.

'Do It Yourself' Is Theme Of Decade As Paint, Power-tools Handled Easy

Let's mark this down as the do-it-yourself decade.

Maybe you did your own paint- ing around the house in 1942: But for every one of you who did, nine of your neighbors were paying to have it done. Last year, however, two out of every three did the job themselves.

In 1948, about 28 per cent of homeowners hung their own wall- paper. Last year, it is estimated about 60 per cent were amateur paper-hangers.

Sales of home power tools jump- ed from $6,000,000 in 1947 to $80,000,000 last year. Lumber- yard sales to homeowners totaled $1,200,000,000 in 1939; $4,300,000,- 000 in 1948 in the U.S. alone.

Today the total is estimated at close to $7,000,000,000 a year. Higher prices, of course, account- ed for much of the zooming in- crease.

The urge to paint, paper, or swing a hammer is no passing fancy. Companies which formerly served only professionals are now selling to amateurs and learning, sometimes with surprise, there are a lot more amateurs than professionals.

Circulation of handcraft maga- zines and books is way up. News- papers, radio and TV stations are devoting more attention to do-it- yourself features.

Relaxation Sought

Why this sudden urge to be handy men and often handy women? One answer is that the pace of the modern world is so swift that the average person is constantly seeking relaxation from tension—relaxation which he gets by "puttering around" the home workshop.

But why isn't the man of the house relaxing by sitting in a comfortable chair in his slippers?

It is estimated that about 53 per cent of all dwelling units in the U.S. are occupied by their owners as compared with 40 per cent 10 years ago. More homes... more homeowners... more re- pairs... more home workshops.

Perhaps the most important answer is the high cost of labor. It is no longer possible to call in a handy man for a few hours and have him fix half a dozen things around the house for three or four dollars. You have to call in a specialist at so much a look and so much an hour. Often you can't get him when you want him.

Every home used to have a bud- ding workshop. Sometimes it was only a hammer with a shaky head and a screw driver with a broken handle. The fellow who had a half dozen other basic tools was con- sidered to have a pretty fair workshop.

Power-Tool Ownership Up

Today, no self-respecting home handy man would admit that he didn't own a few power tools, or at least a portable electric drill.

It is estimated that 11,000,000 American homes have workshops now with billions of dollars' worth of equipment. Circular saws range from 20 dollars to several hundred dollars. The same goes for band saws, jig saws and other stationary power tools.

The portable power tools are sowewhat cheaper, but their price range also is very wide. As with hand tools, quality costs extra.

It is portable electric drill which gives the amateur his first reali- zation of how quickly and easily a power tool can do a tedious and exacting hand job. A few presses on the trigger, a whir, and a difficult task has been made easy.

Power tools will not transform a handy man into an expert cabi- netmaker, but they can start him in that direction.

The nature of laughter and what never ceased to exercise heavy arouses people to it and why, has thinkers.

A Notable Anniversary

The Montreal Gazette 175 Years Old This Month

The Gazette of Montreal has celebrated its 175th birthday.

As the oldest newspaper published continuously in Canada and one of the most respected journals in the world, The Gazette's 175 years have been years of achievement and years of promise for the future.

It might seem rather unusual that the 175th anniversary of any company would pass with a minimum of publicity; but, in view of the Coronation which took place the day before The Gazette's birthday fell, the newspaper's officials wisely decided not to place too much stress upon the jubilee event.

Besides, self-praise is an indulgence which the prominent only rarely permit themselves.

One hundred and seventy-five years is a long time. Fleury Mesplet, who came to Canada with Benjamin Franklin, printed the first edition of the newspaper on his hand press on June 3, 1778, 89 years before Confederation made Canada a country.

The Gazette, first La Gazette Litéraire, has chronicled the events which have made this land a nation, the British North America Act; the War of 1812; the Upper and Lower Canada rebellions of the 1830s; Confederation; the development of the Canadian West; the Riel Rebellions; the building of the C.P.R.; the Boer War; two world wars; and the life and death of the governments of Sir John A. Macdonald, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, R. B. Bennett and Mackenzie King.

Conservative in political beliefs and in editorial policy, it has never allowed pressure or inducements of any kind to alter its unbiased treatment of news. It was one of two newspapers the late W. L. Mackenzie King read daily.

The Gazette has grown up with Canada, its development from the days of Mesplet's hand press to its present $500,000, five-unit color press paralleling the development of this country from a British colony to a self-governing nation whose place in world events have consistently grown more and more important.

President and Publisher John Bassett, Editor Edgar Andrew Collard and the members of the staff of The Gazette may well be proud of the Canadian institution of which they are a part.

One hundred and seventy-five years as a free newspaper, giving to its readers world and local events as they happen, without discrimination. That is a record of which to be justifiably proud.

Symbolism

By Rev. Canon R. Kenneth Naylor
(Rector of Trinity Memorial Church)

We have been drenched in symbolism for the past fortnight and we might do well to stop for a moment to consider what the thing itself means and what purpose it serves in national and religious and personal life.

By symbolism we mean the use of material objects and of outward signs to indicate certain facts. It would be possible to crown a queen quite differently. In place of the Recognition in the Abbey it would be possible to issue a questionnaire to selected groups asking if they would recognize the daughter of George VI as their Queen. In place of the taking of the Oath and the presentation of the Bible there might have been a statement of the Queen, neatly typed and signed, that she was prepared to be a Christian and abide by the ancient laws.

In place of the Anointing there might have been simple and devout prayer. In place of the investiture with Spurs and Swords, with Armill and Robe and Orb, with Ring and Sceptre and Rod, and finally the Coronation with St. Edward's Crown, there might have been mere statements to cover the facts hereby represented.

Obviously that simplicity would be effective, but it would not arouse the same high emotion and enthusiasm. But that is hardly the point. It would seem that there is a value in symbolism itself which meets a deep need in our human nature. It is a development of the instinct to represent inward feeling by outward actions which is universal in human life. We see it when we express friendship by shaking hands, or affection by kissing; we see it when we kneel to express our humility and reverence before God. We see it again when a man and a woman exchange vows in the presence of God, and are thereby made man and wife. A common law marriage without ceremony could be regarded as equally effective. But as a matter of fact it is practically impossible for us to go through life — or even to go through a single day, without expressing feelings and emotions by some outward act.

So Church and State have combined to use this deep-seated instinct and turn it to their own purposes. For the State it is a great and magnificent spectacle symbolizing the power and unity of the people. For the Church it represents the claim of God to dominate every aspect of life, national and public as well as private. And for the people it is an acknowledgement that God has a claim upon them no less in their public than in their private lives.

Home Instruction Pupils should report to their respective teachers. The Closing Exercises will take place in the Community Hall where school prizes and Junior Congregation attendance pins will be presented to those who have earned these awards during the year now ended. Dismissal will be directly from the Community Hall.

Outstanding Exhibit

The Third Annual Exhibit arranged by the Adult Art Class attracted a large and enthusiastic gathering who were greatly impressed by the artistic creations of the group. Eric Goldberg, prominent Montreal artist, the instructor, welcomed the guests and expressed his gratification at the success which has attended this endeavour. He also paid tribute to the Synagogue's Educational Department for its constant interest, encouragement and support. Greetings were given by Rabbi Wilfred Shuchat and Dr. George J. Strean, Chairman of the Extension Activities Committee, sponsors of the group. Dr. H. G. Ross spoke on behalf of the Adult Art Class and made a presentation to Mr. Goldberg, for his excellent instruction and leadership.

Christian Science

"God the Preserver of man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

This Lesson-Sermon teaches that those who spiritually understand, even in a degree, the incorporeal ever-presence of God, and who rely faithfully on His omnipotent love, will experience increasing good and find human problems yielding.

The Golden Text is from Proverbs: "Whoso putteth his trust in the Lord shall be safe."

Bible citations include the following from Ezekiel: "I will feed my flock, and I will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord God. I will seek that which was lost, and bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick." (Love) maketh me to lie down in green pastures: (Love) leadeth me beside the still waters. (Love) restoreth my soul (spiritual sense): (Love) leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His names' sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for (Love) is with me: (Love's) rod and (Love's) staff, they comfort me. Correlative passages from the denominational text book "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following: "In the following Psalm one word shows, though faintly, the light which Christian Science throws on the Scriptures by substituting for the corporeal sense, the incorporeal or spiritual sense of Deity: —

"PSALM XXIII. (Divine Love) is my shepherd; I shall not want.

"Thirsty! But Wouldn't Drink."
This will be the title of the morning sermon in Westmount Baptist Church. This man was desperately thirsty. A great longing swept over him as he cried: "O that one would give me to drink." When his friends brought the thing he longed for, he wouldn't touch it.
Some drinks are too costly to consume.

Seven young men of the West-mount Congregation will conduct the evening service. The congregaand how they say it. Young people

National Council Of Women Of Canada Hold Annual Meeting In Winnipeg; Celebrates 60th Anniversary

The annual meeting of the national council of women of Canada is being held in Winnipeg, at the University of Manitoba, from June 15 to 20 inclusive. The president, Mrs. Allan Turner Bone, who will just be completing a two months official visit to the Councils of the Prairie Provinces, will preside. Hostess Council, for this occasion, is the Winnipeg Council of Women, of which the president is Mrs. W. P. Fillmore, who represented Mrs. Turner Bone, in the Abbey, at the Coronation. Mrs. Fillmore will be the speaker at the Tuesday evening meeting, of June 16, and her subject will be "Coronation Highlights".

Founded in 1893, by the Marchioness of Aberdeen and Temair, wife of the then Governor General of Canada, the National Council is celebrating its 60th anniversary. A trip to the Peace Gardens, bordering North Dakota and Manitoba, will be a feature of the annual meeting, when a plaque, commemorating the founding of the Council will be unveiled to Lady Aberdeen's memory, who also founded, in the same year, in Chicago, the International Council of Women. Lady Pentland, a daughter of Countess Aberdeen, has written a biography of her distinguished mother, entitled "A Bonnie Fechter". A good fighter is a very modest title for outstanding achievement in the pioneer days of women's organized service to the world.

High in interest, at this meeting will be the report given by Miss Esther Kerry, of Montreal, vice-president of the National Council on a "Survey of Organization and Function of the National Council of Women. The preparation of this report has involved a three year period and it outlines plans affecting the future of the Council.

Another report of interest will be that of Dr. Esther Clark Wright, a vice-president of the National Council and also the Canadian Federation of University Women (one of the federated societies of the NCW), who has just returned from a trip around the world, during which she attended the International Conference of Social Work in Madras, India. Her topic will be "Three Continents."

Two special subjects being dealt with, by the NCW this year included Geriatrics and Nursing Schools. Speaking on the former will be Dr. Wallace Wilson, adviser in Geriatrics to the Director General of Treatment Services, Department of Veterans' Affairs and an outstanding authority on Geriatrics in Canada, who will speak on "The Older Worker" and Mrs. Roy E. Campbell, of Regina, chairman of the Standing Committee, NCW and ICW, Trades and Professions, who will report on "The Older Woman Worker". Dr. A. R. Lord, B.A., LL.D., of Vancouver, Director of Evaluation and author of "Report of the Evaluation of the Metropolitan School of Nursing, Windsor, Ontario, will speak on "Nursing Schools".

Among those from Montreal, attending the 60th Annual Meeting of the National Council of Women, held in Winnipeg, at the University of Manitoba, from June 15 to 20, inclusive will be, Mrs. Allen Turner Bone, the president of the National Council, Miss Esther Kerry, vice-president of the National Council, Mrs. Saul Hayes, chairman of the United Nations Standing Committee and Mrs. R. G. Gilbride, president of the Montreal Council of Women. Also attending on her return from the annual meeting of the Canadian Girl Guides Association, in Vancouver, will be Mrs. W. J. Hyde.

Karnak Ladies

The annual garden party of the Karnak Ladies Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Mann, 12 Lakeshore Drive, Strathmore, on Thursday, June 18, under the convener'ship of Mrs. J. W. Buckland.

Train leaves Windsor Station at 11:15 a.m. eastern standard time — 12:15 daylight saving time. Bus leaves terminus at 12:00 daylight saving time.

Church Service

The annual Church Service of Montreal Crystal Chapter No. 35, Loyal Orange Association, will be held at St. Matthey's Presbyterian Church, Pt. St. Charles, on Sunday at 7 p. m. Members of L.O.B.A., J.O.L. and L.O.L. lodges cordially invited. Meet at 6.30 p.m. in church hall.

Newfoundland Assn. To Hold Celebration

Newfoundland Day John Cabot celebration will be held on Sunday June 21 at 3 p.m. in the Atwater Park opposite the Forum, at the John Cabot Memorial.

This is to lay a wreath to the memory of John Cabot and his eighteen Bristol Mariners who founded the British Tradition in the New World on June 24, 1497, by landing at Cape Bonavista in Newfoundland. All Newfoundlanders are welcome at the ceremony. A Reception will be held in the Vice Regal Suite of the Ritz Carlton Hotel from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. Tickets are to be obtained from the President and executives of the Newfoundland Assn. of Montreal, Suite 815 Medical Arts Bldg. or by phoning Mrs. D. Pamela Edward's Painting Interests Queen Elizabeth II

Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II has expressed her great interest in the very real talent of Pamela Edwards, who painted "The Queen's Picture". Her Majesty was especially interested in this large portrait in oils which was completed shortly after the Accession.

Pamela Edwards was born in 1917 and is the wife of Cecil Edwards, of Ste. Adele en Haut, and daughter of Brigadier and Mrs. Bertram Watkins, of Aldenham House, Herts, England. She has painted in oils since the age of 16 when she received commissions for paintings from various members of Hunt Clubs with which she and her family hunted. She later studied art in London and Paris.

Whilst her equestrian portraits are remarkably fine, her paintings of many personalities in England and Canada have received wide acclaim from art critics. Dr. Stern of the Dominion Art Gallery, Montreal, regarded as an eminent art expert in Europe and North America, considers Pamela Edwards possesses great artistic talent.

Married in the first year of the war to Cecil Edwards, then Squadron Leader in the Royal Air Force, they came to Canada in 1947 and are now Canadian citizens. With their four children—Carolyn 11, Lance 7, Eliot 4 and Clive who very recently arrived, they enjoy life in the Laurentians. With their own horses, their principal hobby is riding.

MR. AND MRS. HUBERT STEIN recently donated the original painting above, entitled "The Queen's Picture" to the Quebec Provincial Museum. Pamela Edwards painted the picture, which was unveiled at a reception given recently in the "Champs Elysees" of the Berkeley Hotel by Mr. Stein for artists and numerous personalities of the cultural and social world. On this occasion the Hon. Omer Cote accepted the painting in the name of the Provincial Government.

Clothes Should Suit Holiday Activities

This is traveltime. Even if you haven't decided where you're going — even if you're going only for a week end — travel is in the air. Splashy advertisements, booklets filled with pictures of far places, timetables with attractive, long, daylight-saving hours, these give gentle but perceptible nudges and before long vacation plans begin to unfold.

The wise integrate clothes and travel plans from the beginning, avoiding that mad scramble at the last minute that too often leaves you with the wrong things to wear at the time you most want everything to be correct. Let your travel wardrobes be so right that they are completely subordinated. Then you can have a genuinely good time.

Your mode of travel is basic to your clothes planning. Are you going by motor, plane, ship, or train? Let your wardrobe fit the activities in which you plan to participate. It is intelligent, in so far as you can, to figure out exactly the things you need. Don't coax yourself into packing extraneous articles you think you may need. Be specific with yourself before you start — and travel light!

Warning Against Sandwiches Made Too Far In Advance

Don't make your picnic sandwiches too far ahead of the event and if you do, keep them cool, especially if they contain proteins.

That's some advice from Miss Nan O. Garvock, who's executive director of the Montreal Diet Dispensary—a Red Feather welfare agency.

Miss Garvock says that meat and eggs and fish are especially tricky picnic items and that it's risky to keep them too long in anything but a cold—or at least a cool—temperature. Also, she says, all foods should be wrapped against flies, ants and worms; but not hermetically sealed against fresh air.

The Red Feather dietary expert thinks that literally thousands of stomachaches and more serious health upsets could be avoided if people stopped to remember and apply some of the modern knowledge concerning food conservation. An expert, she says, with the right equipment, can keep an egg fresh for a year. Most of us on summer picnics do well to keep sandwiches in healthful condition for more than a matter of hours, she pointed out.

love among the penguins

Romance is a rocky enough road for human beings. But if you happen to be a penguin, it's a super-obstacle course.

You have seen pictures of penguins. Can you tell a male from a female? No. Well, strangely enough, the romantically-inclined penguin is in precisely the same predicament.

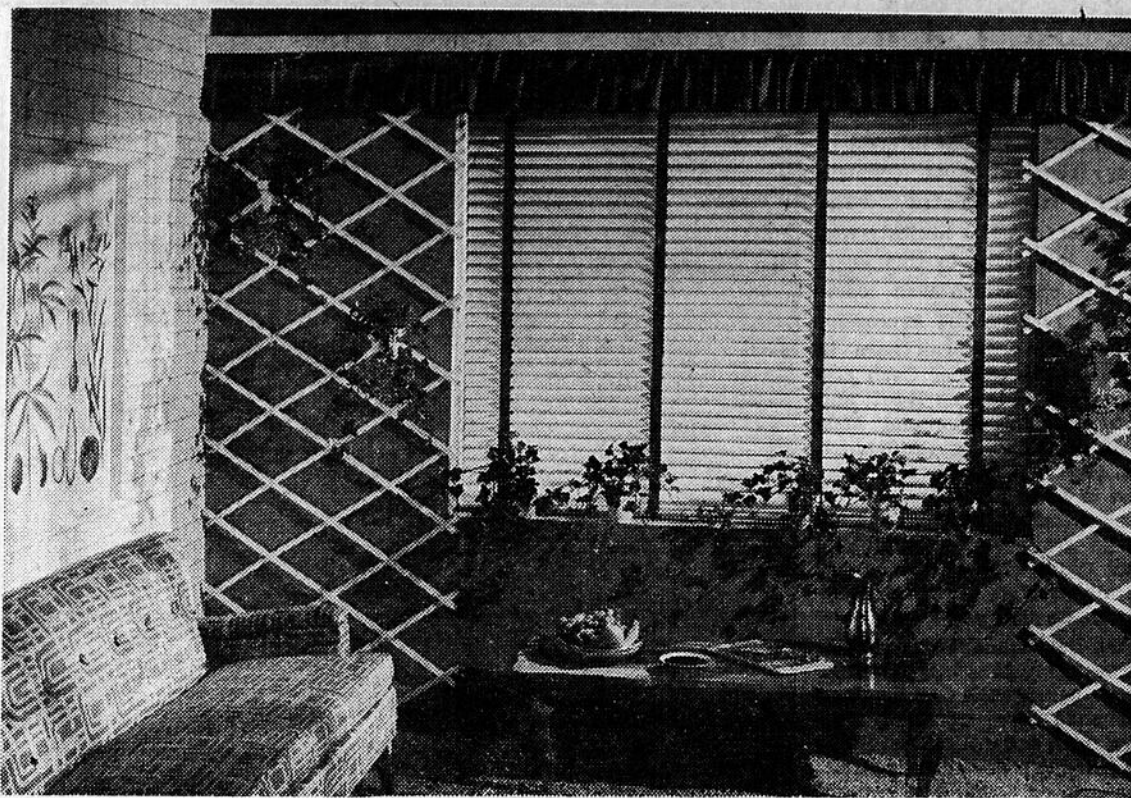

However, he has a solution. He presents a pebble or a feather to the penguin of his choice. If the gift is ignored, he knows he has found a maiden as yet unschooled in the art of flirtation. If it is accepted, he has found his one true love.

The system has its hazards, though. He may be rewarded with a vigorous peck, indicating that he has made the mistake of selecting a staid old bachelor!

Life for penguins and people is often confusing. However, when on the lookout for a refreshing ale the situation is uncomplicated. For the connoisseur, the right ale will be plainly identified with the word "Molson's" on the label. The love affair between Molson's and ale-quaffing Canadians has been going on now since 1786, and the bonds of affection grow stronger with every passing year.

You don't need pebbles or feathers. Just plight your troth with those three little words: "Make Mine Molson's".

Bright Ideas For Light Housekeeping

During the month of June, homemakers prepare for light easy housekeeping for hot summer days. Rugs and draperies in warm wool colors that have given the home such a cosy look all winter are rolled away, and in their place appear shining floors protected by rag or rush matting, and light curtaining that will entice any cool breeze.

Whether you plan to do your summer housekeeping in town or in a country cottage, the fantasy of green and white in the upper picture will prove cool and attractive. Two baby-gates, enamelled white, will provide the trellis effect on which white pots of ivy, philodendron, or other easily grown creeper may climb. A ruffle of fabric tacked onto a one-inch, white-enamelled lath and green tapes for your white Venetian blinds will bring unity to the whole and the effect will make you feel cool on the warmest day.

Café curtains in radiant decorator colors ranging from sea green to shell pink will help create sunlight patterns in your kitchen or breakfast nook, either at home or in the country. Their crisp freshness will also promote that cool and comfortable effect.

Sheer patterned voile curtains will make a whole room seem degrees cooler. Sewn exactly like your winter curtains, pleat for pleat, they can be hung from the same rods. The lighter the fabric, the more material you will need, so that the curtains will fall in graceful folds. Keep blinds drawn during the heat of the day, and open windows wide in the cool of the night to keep the house cool.

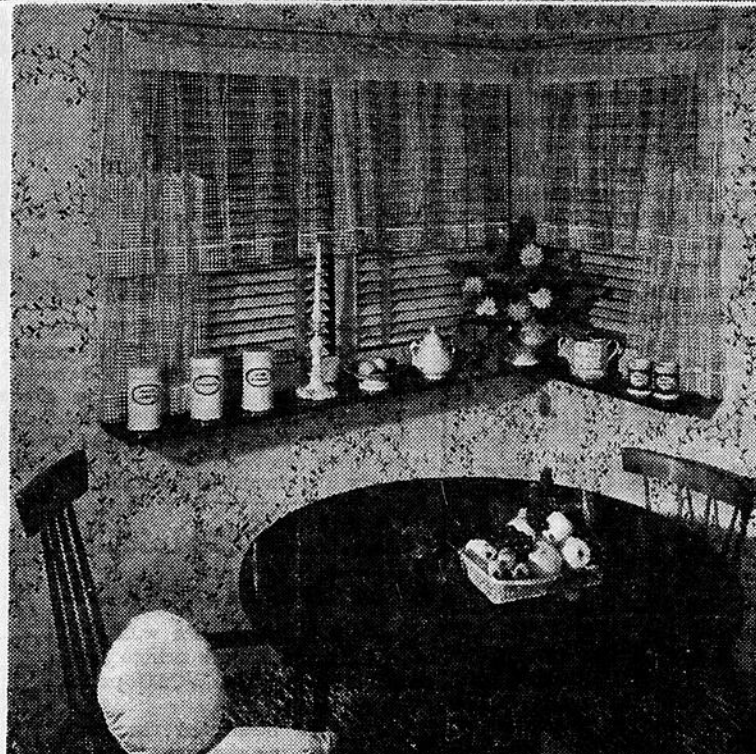

Strip end tables and coffee tables of most bric-a-brac. Almost-bare tables look refreshing for a change, and are a joy to dust. Straw and white accessories give a cool effect, and pale paper lamp shades can replace dark or richly decorated shades for the season.

Straw and plastic place mats are now available in such attractive settings that summer linen laundering is completely unnecessary. Try arranging garden flowers in wicker baskets for a new cool note, or make a tempting desert-centrepiece of fresh fruit in season.

BURNETT'S WHITE SATIN GIN
BURNETT'S LONDON DRY GIN

Distilled in Canada and distributed by The House of Seagram

 By JACK HIRSHBERG

HOLLYWOOD, June 10 — It's all over now, even the tumult and the shouting, and television may again be said to have acquitted itself rather well. I'm speaking of video coverage of the Coronation. I watched it unfold on a large screen at the Columbia Broadcasting System's palatial new Hollywood Television City headquarters. There, along with noted Britishers visiting or resident in California, I enjoyed a buffet dinner with all the trimmings as the royal pageant flashed upon the electronic screen.

It was a moment to remember, for never before has an event staged so far away been seen here so quickly. Even the miracle of radio could not equal this.

Today, however, I cannot help but wonder just why the element of time was of such tremendous importance. The network spent vast sums chartering bombers and airborne photographic labs in an effort to scoop one another and flash the Coronation picture first. Many thousands of dollars could have been saved if all hookups had organized a pool plan for transportation and processing of the film and put it on the air simultaneously. The glory of a momentary "beat" is at best a passing one.

The component most missing from the colorful Coronation on TV was, of course, the color, itself. There is nothing particularly exciting in black and white film of an event which has been staged many times and frequently covered by newsreels. The millions of words published prior to the ceremony about everything from the Queen's chamber maids to the man who polished the hub caps on the royal coach managed somewhat to take the edge off the Coronation procession, itself.

Yet, I must confess a certain emotional thrill generated by the intimacy of the procedure and the immediacy of its viewing. Next time a king or queen is crowned the whole world will eavesdrop via a global network transmitting the event in full color.

It is probable, however, that such an event is still a long way off. Queen Elizabeth has a life expectancy of many decades which I hope she will enjoy to the full.

* * *

The most potent effect of the televised Coronation was undoubtedly upon the ladies and gentlemen who sell receiving sets. Interest in the event generated a heavy volume of set sales across Canada and the States, and here in Hollywood merchandisers tell me there was more interest in seeing the Coronation than in the installation of President Eisenhower last January. Only the World Series, apparently, sold more video receivers than the Queen's crowning.

The effect of this ever-increasing television audience upon other forms of business and communication is reaching the drastic stage. Colliers Magazine has dropped from a weekly to a bi-weekly publication, Quick Magazine has folded, and several other periodicals are ready to give up the ghost. Minor league baseball leagues are faltering, and even some major league towns are in double. Sales of phonograph recordings are off and the book publishing business is in a terrifying doldrums. They all blame the TV bogey, and in part they are all probably correct.

It will be several years before TV takes its proper place in the scheme of things and society adjusts to its temptations. Then, when televiewing becomes as commonplace as radio listening became, we may look for a revival of interest in good literature instead of second-rate wrestling.

Goltman Pupils Recital June 23

George H. Wilkie Graduates 'Cum Laude'

On the Dean's list of Williams College, Williamstown, Mass., there is news item dear to the heart of many an anxious searcher for the honey of learning and it reads, graduated "Cum Laude with highest honours in Philosophy" which notation is followed by the name, G. H. Wilkie.

George Hamilton Wilkie, the honour graduate is the son of Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Wilkie, 531 Lansdowne ave. Mr. Wilkie is well-known in the community as minister of Stanley Presbyterian Church.

During his course at Williams, George was an officer of the Kappa Alpha society, the Outing Club, the Philosophical Union, the Christian Association and also filled the office of college carillonist.

George's intentions lean toward the medical profession and he has been accepted at the Harvard Medical School where he will begin his studies in September.

Homer First Soap-Opera CBC Says Airing Odyssey

Listeners to stations along the CBC's Trans-Canada network have something of a surprise in store for them on June 18 with the beginning of a series of half-hour programs based on Homer's Odyssey.

The series, prepared by Mac Shoub, replaces the John and Judy program, and is not so much of a departure as it may seem at first glance. Shoub believes that Homer set the pattern for our present-day technique of handling stories in serial form. The Odyssey, he says, is the first of all soap operas, a combination of the love story, the adventure serial, science fiction and the novel.

Homer is the earliest Greek writer whose works have survived. He lived in the 8th or 10th century B.C. and his best known poems are the Iliad and the Odyssey. Both revolve about a single theme, the Trojan wars and their aftermath. Shoub covers the first four books of the Odyssey in the first two scripts. In order to keep the action moving, he concentrates on the search of Telemachus for his father and on the romantic counterplots involving his mother's suitors.

In addition to the human beings involved in the Odyssey, there are at least three goddesses, none of whom is less feminine for being divine.

New Carlings Plant Opens June 16; Houde To Cut Tape

A sparkling new brewing and bottling plant will be opened at 10.45 a.m. on June 16 by the Carling Breweries (Quebec) Limited. The cutting of the traditional ribbon by Montreal's first citizen, Mayor Camille Houde, will be the main feature in a four-day program of activities including a reception to retailers of Carling products on the Island of Montreal.

Federal and provincial cabinet ministers will attend the opening ceremony, at which the main speakers will be the company's president, C. O. Dalton, and Mayor Houde. A visit of the bottling plant and a luncheon will follow.

The new Carling plant is located at 5930 DeGaspé Street in a huge building that has been entirely renovated at a cost of more than two million dollars, and boasts the latest in brewing, cooling, filtration, storage and bottling equipment. The carbon dioxide compressors, for instance, are the most modern of any brewery. The brewing kettle is the largest in all four Carling's Breweries plants, which means one of the largest in the entire industry, and the stainless steel coolers are the most modern yet developed anywhere.

Particular attention has been paid to cleanliness and air conditioning. The air in the fermenting room is as sanitary as that in hospital operating rooms; and the soakers, in the bottling shop, are of the most advanced design.

Scots Ancestry Research Body Expects Busy Summer In U. K.

The Scots Ancestry Research Council, set up in 1945 to help enquirers from all over the world to trace their ancestors in Scotland, expects to be especially busy this year with so many Coronation visitors in Britain. In 1952 the Society received over 1,000 applications for information and that figure is expected to be exceeded in 1953.

Although all the births, marriages and deaths registered in Scotland since 1855 are available at the Register House in Edinburgh — where most of the Society's research is done — there is a wealth of information to be dug up from records going back much further in various parts of the country.

In addition to parish register entries, the Society's searchers have consulted wills, testaments, burgess rolls, university graduation lists, church records, and privately-printed family histories. Sometimes old gravestones in churchyards are examined. Using all these means there are few cases in which the Society has not been able to produce for the inquirer some information concerning his or her Scots ancestors.

One of the most rewarding searches recently completed by the Society was in answer to an application from a woman living in New Zealand whose surname was Mowbray and who was able to provide particulars concerning one of her forbears who left Edinburgh about 1840. The Society was able to trace the line right back to the early thirteenth century.

The busiest period of the year for the Society is during the Edinburgh Festival.

to mark the opening of Carling's new Quebec plant with the gift of a carload each of Red Cap ale and Black Label lager to Canada's fighting men in the Far East.

An official representative of National Defence will accept the Carling gift on behalf of the troops at the opening of the plant, and the loads of beverages will start on their long voyage immediately after.

The thing that hath been, it is that which shall be; and that which is done is that which shall be done: and there is no new thing under the sun.

Football Clinic Opens Tonight

McGill's football clinic, which has become a major item for the pigskin delvers, will come out with its seventh annual edition June 11, 12 and 13, it is announced by Vic Obeck, Director of Athletics and head grid coach.

Since the popular mentor started these fanning bees for players, fans, coaches and others, they have grown in stature to the point where they are now held in conjunction with the Quebec Rugby Football Union.

As in former years, coaches from such points as Ottawa, Cornwall, Kingston, Three Rivers, Sherbrooke and other centres outside of Montreal, are planning to converge on McGill's athletic layout during the three-day session. The first two clinics will be held in the evenings, starting at 8 p.m. in Sir Arthur Currie gym. The third day, Saturday, will see the program moved to the outdoors at Molson oval, if weather permits. If not, then the entire schedule will be held in the gym.

Director Obeck said that he would have the assistance of Doug Walker of Alouettes for some of the clinics. Invitations were also sent to Frank Clair of the Argos and to Hamilton's Carl Voyles.

Gordon (Gordie) Howe won N.H.L. scoring championship for third straight season, something no other player was ever able to do before. Third year as First All-Star. Holds N.H.L. record for most points by a player in one season. Born at Floral, Sask., he stands 5'11" and weighs 185 lbs. Turned pro with Omaha in 1945 at the age of 17.

Swiss, Irish Exhibition Here

For some time soccer fans have been asking for two European teams to play an exhibition in Montreal.

Their wish has been granted, as Irish International will play the Swiss National cup holders, Berne, Wednesday, June 17 at the Bell Stadium. Game time is slated for eight o'clock.

Before the big game, Andy Walker of the P.Q.F.A. Minor Board will have two All-Star teams from the Verdun minor setup play an exhibition for 30 minutes.

The Swiss team are on their way home and this will be the only appearance in Canada, while the Irish team will finish up their tour of ten games here next Wednesday.

Capt. and Left Halfback Don McAuliffe scored nine times last season totalling only 34 yards, then started 1952 with a 70-yard touchdown run against Michigan.

Sports Clinic

By LLOYD PERCIVAL

START THE SEASON RIGHT

The first thing that should be done at the start of a season is the staging of what is called "an evaluator." This means a study of what you need as indicated by figuring out your needs through a careful check of the results and experience you had last season and how you stack up physically and mentally at the present time. For example, you ask yourself such questions as "How was my wind last year?" "Did I get many cramps and stitches?" "Did my legs get tired in any certain spot?" "Did I get a headache after a tough session?" "Just what part of my body seemed to give out first under pressure?"

Did I lack drive in my legs?" "Did I get a lot of colds and how did they bother me most?" "What particular skills were my weak points?" "Did I recover quickly after a hard session of play or did it knock me off for the whole game?" "Could I sleep well after a hard game?"

When you have asked such questions and listed the answers you will know what you need. Then you can use the kind of pre-season training that will do you the most good—concentrating on improving your general all-round ability by eliminating your weak spots.

This is an "evaluator"—the most important phase of any scientifically organized pre-season training and conditioning program. This is your first move—stage a personal evaluation (or if you are a coach, stage one for your players) going into great detail and actually listing your findings on paper. Spare no effort to make it a complete study. Do this right away.

AFTER-EXERCISE COAT

The average young athlete doesn't pay enough attention to protecting his health. For example when told to put on a sweater after exercise he is inclined to say "O.K." and then forget about it. This isn't smart because by not making sure his body is kept warm after exercise he is asking for trouble in the form of colds, stiff muscles and many other ills and injuries that occur when muscles cool off too quickly. Watch the "big leaguers" and see how carefully they take care of themselves—they know it pays big dividends!

Verdun Cricket In Third Game Victory

Verdun Eleven won their third game in as many played, when they dropped Maisonneuve. The Verdun club scored 26 runs for one wicket against the East End's club 24, all out. Padmore got six wickets for ten runs in the club's victory.

Westmount hold down first place followed by West Indians and Town of Mt. Royal. Verdun dropped the opener, but have won every time out since.

The locals will have the bye, but four other games are scheduled for Saturday afternoon.

Douglas Norman (Doug) Harvey turned pro with Canadiens in 1947. One of headiest players in hockey, strong both offensively and defensively. Born in Montreal he stands 5'11" and weighs 180 lbs. This is his second All-Star Team in succession.

PUTTING

The first Putting Tournament of the season was held at Westmount Park on Wednesday, June 3rd, with seventeen participating.

The highlight of the evening was the keen competition that was witnessed in the men's tournament. After the regular 36 holes of play, three contestants were all tied up and had to play another two rounds. These three, George Cairns, Jack Smith and young John Trainor, battled around the course again to finish the eighteen holes with another three-way tie.

The final was to be decided over another 9 holes, and after reaching the ninth hole, Trainor was two down and Mr. Cairns and Mr. Smith were all even. However, George Cairns muffed a short putt and Jack Smith holed out to win the marathon by one stroke. By that time it was 10.15 p.m. and the majority of the other players who watched the play were getting tired and a little cold. However, they had seen a good match and went home talking about it.

The ladies' tournament also ended in a tie with Miss Sargent and Mrs. E. Jones leading the field. After a 9-hole playoff, Mrs. Jones came in with a one stroke lead over Miss Sargent.

This was the opening tournament and proved to be a very successful one, with the interest high all around.

Tournaments are held each Wednesday evening commencing at 7:30 p.m. All Westmount residents are welcome.

Track & Field

The third Inter-Community Mid-get Track & Field Meet between Verdun, Town of Mount Royal and Westmount will be held on Saturday, June 13th, at 10:00 a.m. at the Westmount Athletic Grounds.
