

CARRANZA-- VILLA SPLIT

Constitutionalist Leader
Takes Out an Injunction Against His Villa

MONEY CONSIGNED TO VILLA'S TERRITORY WAS HELD UP BY ORDER OF COURT.

El Paso, July 4.—(Special)—Further evidence of the completeness of the Carranza-Villa split was found in an injunction on file in the State District Court here to-day, which prevented the entry into Villa territory of five hundred pesos in Constitutional currency, recently printed by an American company. The action was taken by Carranza's agents here.

The issue was ordered before the internal troubles of the Constitutionalists had reached a breaking point, which has resulted in the conference between the military leaders in progress to-day at Torreon.

The money arrived consigned to national treasury at Juarez, and the Carranza representatives at once asked for the injunction against the express company handling the consignment and Laraza de la Garza, Villa's agent at El Paso. The paper of the regular national constitutionalist issue will be held until disposition of the case can be made.

REPETITION OF BENTON AFFAIR

British Subject Arrested And May be Executed by Constitutionalists

GEORGE DOUGLAS, A SCOTCH-MAN, CHARGED WITH HAV-ING ASSISTED MEXICAN FEDERALS.

El Paso, Texas, July 4.—While the warring factions of the Constitutionalists are attempting to adjust their differences, the arrest and possible execution of a British subject in Constitutional territory has developed a new complication.

James Caldwell, the British consular agent at Zacatecas, reported yesterday that George St. Clair Douglas, a Scotchman, was under arrest and about to be subjected to a court martial at Zacatecas on a charge of having assisted the Federals during the recent fighting incident to the capture of the city by Villa's troops.

H. C. Miles, the British vice-consul at El Paso, after consulting with both Carranza and Villa agents here, yesterday secured assurances that no disposition of the Douglas case would be made until Theodore Hamm, American consul at Durango, reached Zacatecas and investigated the affair on behalf of the Washington State Department and the British Foreign Office.

MUCH INTEREST CENTRED IN CONTEST BETWEEN BOSTON

SENSATION IN LONDON SOCIETY

Sir Denys Anson Jumps Into River
After Being Chaffed by Lady Guests

YOUNG MAN NAMED MITCHELL, WHO WENT TO HIS ASSIST-ANCE WAS ALSO DROWN-ED

London, July 4.—A sensation has been created in London society by the tragic outcome of a midnight river party arranged by Sir Denys Anson, the young baronet who a month ago succeeded to the title on the death of his uncle, Sir William Anson, a leading constitutional lawyer and member of Parliament at Oxford.

Young Anson on Wednesday engaged a river steamer to take himself and his party of friends up the river from Westminster, which they left at midnight. On the return journey from Kew, about three o'clock yesterday morning, the boat, jumped off or fell over board, and was drowned. A man named Mitchell, a member of the orchestra, which was playing aboard the boat, jumped after Anson and was also drowned.

The facts, according to the best evidence thus far obtainable, appear to be that Sir Denys, a high spirited youth, full of pranks, wanted to dive into the river from the deck of the boat and was prevented by the captain. Chaffed by some of the women of the party, Anson went to another part of the boat, and before the engineer who noticed his action, could prevent him, he dived into the water. He swam a few strokes and suddenly seemed in difficulty.

After the death of her husband in 1891 she moved to Orangeville, where she resided with her son until her death. Amongst her cherished possessions was an old rocking chair once the property of Laura Secord.

Six Story Tenement House Collapsed in New York To-Day

STRUCTURE WAS WEAKENED BY DYNAMITE BLASTS DURING EXCAVATION WORK.

New York, July 4.—(Special)—A six-story tenement house at 102nd street and Lexington avenue collapsed to-day, weakened by dynamite blasts in nearby subway excavation work. Ten persons were killed, according to early reports.

All available ambulances in the city were sent to the scene. Many persons were injured.

Because of the confusion, it was difficult to get an estimate of the dead.

A chance passer-by on the street was decapitated.

Later it was reported that the death list was much larger than at first supposed. Eight bodies were recovered.

Preliminary police estimates place the dead as high as fifty.

JOHN H. ROBERTS HAS RESIGNED

Brought About by Failure of Dominion Alliance to Give Support

DID NOT WANT TO APPEAR BE-FORE LICENSE COMMISSION
OWING TO ITS PERSON-NEL.

Montreal, July 4.—Mr. John H. Roberts has placed his resignation as secretary of the Dominion Alliance in the hands of the President, Mr. S. J. Carter, as a protest against the failure of that organization to support him to the extent he desired in his protest against the present personnel of the License Commission. Many of the members thought that the public attacks made on two of the persons composing the commission were unwise, and they refused to endorse a resolution of utter condemnation.

A resolution was passed expressing the regret of the Dominion Alliance that the Quebec Government had not appointed an English-speaking legal representative on the Board, but another resolution was passed immediately afterwards to the effect that the Dominion Alliance would continue to appear and make opposition to the granting of licenses to those whom they regarded as improper persons.

And Consort Interred

PLACED IN VAULTS IN PRE-SENCE OF NEW HEIR AND MEMBERS OF IMPERIAL FAMILY.

Artstettin, Austria, July 4.—(Special)—The bodies of the assassinated Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his consort, the Duchess of Hohenberg, arrived here to-day and were interred beneath the castle chapel, with very simple ceremonies.

The funeral procession had crossed the ferry over the Danube, at Pochlarn, at dawn, in the presence of many people, and the cortege reached the end of its journey at 5 o'clock.

The coffins were immediately placed in the chapel of Artstettin Castle, where priests and nuns said prayers at the side of the catafalque for several hours.

Later in the morning two trains arrived from Vienna with the late Archduke's children and other members of the imperial family who were to assist at the burial.

After the final rites had been given by the clergy, the coffins were carried through lines of army veterans and firemen to the family vaults and were placed in their final resting place in the presence of the new Heir Apparent, Archduke Charles Francis Joseph, and a number of other members of the imperial family.

LIBERAL RALLY AT WATERVILLE

Hon. S. A. Fisher and Townships
Members Address Large Meeting

COMPARISON MADE WITH THE POLICY OF THE PRESENT GOVERNMENT AND THAT OF LIBERALS.

Waterville, July 4.—(Special)—A largely attended meeting under the auspices of the Compton County Liberal Association was held in the Town Hall here last night. The chair was occupied by Mr. F. G. Gale, and amongst those on the platform were Hon. S. A. Fisher, A. B. Hunt, ex-M.P. for Compton; F. N. McCrear, M.P. for Sherbrooke; G. H. Boivin, M.P. for Sherbrooke; A. R. McMaster, K.C., of Montreal, and J. Nicol, K.C., of Sherbrooke.

HON. S. A. FISHER.

Hon. Sydney Fisher was the principal speaker. He compared the financial situation under the Liberal regime with that existing under the Borden administration. Discussing the question of tariff reform, Mr. Fisher said that the Liberals kept their promise made during the 1906 elections to revise the tariff if they came into power by placing the Fielding tariff on the statute books in 1907. The Conservatives had criticized this tariff, but had not amended it until the present session, when, instead of making a reduction they had increased it, whereas the Liberal tendency was to decrease the tariff as the revenues of Canada grew larger.

Mr. Fisher emphasized the necessity for good faith between the Government and the electors. When the Liberals were in power they carried out their promises and maintained a good understanding with the people, but the speaker left it for the audience to judge if the Conservatives had acted in the same way.

DEPRESSION IN TRADE.

Mr. Fisher dealt with the depression in trade. This, however, had not affected England as it had the other nations. England was the only free-trading country in the world, which proved that after all free trade was not such a bad thing.

When the Liberals came into power in 1896 Canada was in a similar condition to the present, but the Government immediately began to remedy the situation by opening new markets and creating a preference with England.

THE NAVAL POLICY.

Messrs. McMaster and Boivin discussed the navy question. The former strongly advocated a Canadian navy, as it would tend to unite all the different races into a big Canadian nation.

Speeches were also delivered by Messrs. F. N. McCrear, M.P., A. B. Hunt and J. Nicol.

WILL SPEAK AT LAKE MEGANTIC.

Another Liberal meeting will be held at Lake Megantic to-night. The speakers will be Dr. Gregoire, M.P.; N. J. Scott, M.L.A. for Compton; A. B. Hunt, G. H. Boivin, M.P., and Oscar Gladu, ex-M.P. for Yamaska.

THE WEATHER

Entering municipal politics, he became mayor of his township and subsequently warden of the county of Brome. He was editor, for a short time, of the Cowansville Observer, and was twice president of the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers. He was created a Q. C. by the Quebec Government in 1879 and by the Marquis of Lorne in 1881. He received the honorary degree of D. C. L. at Lennoxville in 1883. During the Chapleau Government he was solicitor-general from October, 1879, up to his resignation in July, 1882, and held the commission of Crown lands in the three following Conservative administrations. He was successfully by Messrs. Mousseau, Ross and Taillon, finally retiring from official life on the resignation of Mr. Taillon, in January, 1887.

In acknowledgment of his public services he was presented by the Conservative party, September, 1887, with a handsome money testimonial. Since his appointment to the bench His Lordship has devoted much attention to the promotion of the Good Roads' Association in the province of Quebec, and was also instrumental in 1897 in founding the Brome County Historical Society, of which he was elected the first president.

The subject of this sketch was appointed a member of the Protestant section of the Board of Public Instruction in 1897. Mr. Justice Lynch is a member of the Church of England and has served as delegate to the Anglican Synod. His Lordship takes a great deal of interest in the welfare of Knowlton and the county, and his advice is sought in all matters of importance connected with the same.

eruption on head had to cut hair

Formed Pimples and Matter Spread, For Three Months Did Not Go to School, Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured in Ten Days.

69 Rue Denzilly, Ville Emard, Montreal. "Cuticura Soap and Ointment cured my little girl, aged eleven, of itch of the head. It formed a pimple and that pimple broke and the matter spread and wherever the matter went another formed. She had large scabs on her head and at night she scratched until the blood came. I was obliged to cut her hair all around the eruption. For three months she did not go to school and I cared for it during that time without result. "I was told to wash it and to make an ointment of —, but after washing it she was worse. One evening when reading the paper I saw the advertisement of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I wrote at once. After receiving the sample I immediately washed her head with the Cuticura Soap, then I put the Cuticura Ointment on. I did that twice a day, evening and morning. From the time I commenced using the Cuticura Soap and Ointment that she did not scratch any more. It stopped the itching from the first evening. After buying some Cuticura Soap and another box of Cuticura Ointment, in ten days she was completely cured." (Signed) Mrs. Arthur Polier, July 5, 1913. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. A single set is often sufficient. ON THE VERGE OF A BREAK-DOWN

Wrecked Strength And Shattered Nerves Completely Restored By "Fruit-a-tives", The Famous Medicine Made From Fruit.

MRS. W. N. KELLY.

HAGERSVILLE, ONT., Aug. 26th, 1913 "I can highly recommend "Fruit-a-tives" as they did me an awful lot of good and I cannot speak too highly about them. About four years ago, I commenced taking "Fruit-a-tives" for a general break-down and they did me a world of good. We bought a good many dollars' worth but it was money well spent because they did all that you claim for them. Their action is so pleasant, compared with other laxatives, that I found ONLY pleasure, as well as health, in taking them. They seemed to me to be particularly suited to women, on account of their mild and gentle action, and I trust that some other women may start taking "Fruit-a-tives" after reading my letter, and if they do, I am satisfied the results will be the same as in my own case." MRS. W. N. KELLY

A blood purifier, a general tonic, a builder of health and strength, "Fruit-a-tives" is one of the great discoveries of the century in curative medicine. One of the valuable properties of "Fruit-a-tives" is its marvelous cleansing powers. When these tablets are taken, they act on the three great eliminating organs of the body—the bowels, kidneys and skin. "Fruit-a-tives" keeps the system free of waste matter, prevents the formation of an excess of uric acid, and insures the blood being pure and clean. "Fruit-a-tives" sweetens the stomach, increases the flow of the digestive juices, makes digestion complete and enables the system to absorb and assimilate an abundance of nourishment from the food eaten. "Fruit-a-tives" builds up, invigorates, strengthens the whole system. As a general tonic, there is nothing else quite so good. And these tablets are so mild in action, so pleasant to take, that they are particularly suited to women. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

When you've ordered Silk do you accept Sateen? Almost a foolish question, but—not quite! There are still some people who order Kellogg's Corn Flakes and are given a substitute "just as good"—and accept the imitation. The difference between Kellogg's CORN FLAKES and the "just as good" kind is even greater than the difference between silk and sateen. The great difference is in the flavor and the nutriment. Be sure that you ask for and get Kellogg's. It is the original. 10c per package

OTHINE PRESCRIPTION.

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear beautiful complexion that it is sold by druggists under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.
Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.
Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

DEATH OF MISS F. M. LYNCH.

Much regret will be felt by a wide circle of friends at the death of Miss Florence Mary Lynch, which event occurred at the residence of her brother, Mr. Wm. J. Lynch, on Friday, 26th June 1914. The late Miss Lynch, who had only attained the age of 22 years, and 5 months, possessed a lovable disposition which endeared her to all who knew her, and her companionship was sought by many. Her cutting-off in the full blush of young womanhood makes her demise all the more sad. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Lawrence Lynch; her three brothers, Messrs. W. J. Lynch, comptroller of the Q.R.L.H. & P. Co.; Chas. Lynch, of the firm of M. P. & J. T. Davis, and A. S. Lynch, of Sydney, Australia, and one sister, Mrs. C. Wentworth Peters, of Vancouver, B.C., all of whom will have sincere sympathy in their bereavement.

THE LATE HAROLD ALFRED CAMPBELL

Harold Alfred Campbell, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Campbell, whose sudden illness and death at the Sherbrooke Hospital, has cast a gloom over the whole city, was born in Sherbrooke on May 21st, 1889. He graduated from the Sherbrooke High School in 1906 and, in the fall of the same year entered McGill University to take up the study of medicine, for which profession he was eminently fitted. He was greatly interested in his work and at the end of his second year led his class although competing with men much older than himself. In the early part of his third year, to his great sorrow and the regret of his friends, he was obliged to leave college, owing to ill health. Upon the advice of Montreal specialists he went to Saranac Lake where he remained for five years under the care of Dr. Hugh M. Kinghorn. Although not entirely cured, his health very greatly improved and in June he returned to Sherbrooke to spend a part of the summer with his parents. On Sunday afternoon he was taken suddenly ill with an attack of appendicitis and after a consultation the doctors considered an operation imperative.

Although the operation was successful the shock was too great for his strength to withstand, and he gradually sank until at 7 o'clock on Thursday morning he passed peacefully to rest surrounded by the family, his mind remaining perfectly clear until the last.

As a little lad he possessed a sweet soprano voice which was frequently heard at the church, where many will remember him as the boy soprano.

He was a lover of music, and, in later years, after entering college, became a member of the McGill Glee Club and was associated with several city choirs.

He was a faithful student and during the five years spent in Saranac, he read much that would have been of value to him had he been spared to complete his course, which hope he had never entirely abandoned. While there he had also made a thorough study of German under Professor Stukeman.

Of a bright and unselfish disposition, he endeared himself to all with whom he came in contact and wherever he went he was surrounded by a host of friends who will long remember his cheery word and pleasant smile.

The sincere sympathy of all is extended to the family in their great bereavement.

3 Points of Superiority in our CORRUGATED GALVANIZED IRON

1.—Only the FINEST COLD-ROLLED STEEL is used, because cold-rolled is a much tougher and finer material than the hot-rolled article.

2.—The CORRUGATIONS of our corrugated iron ARE DEEP AND ABSOLUTELY UNIFORM. They are PRESSED ONE AT A TIME, not rolled; for with the rolling process the corrugations are not uniform and will not fit accurately, thus causing a great deal of trouble in laying.

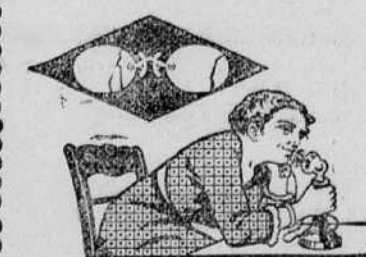

3.—The steel, to pass our rigid inspection, must be THOROUGHLY GALVANIZED, GUARANTEED A PERFECT, EVEN, BRIGHT COAT. Poorly galvanized material is not as good as painted black iron. Its absolute perfection in workmanship and quality of material used that make our corrugated galvanized iron SUPERIOR TO ALL others.

Agriculture: Stock Raising: Farm Notes

POULTRY IN QUEBEC

The province of Quebec is producing more eggs and more dressed poultry than ever before. At the same time the imports of eggs into the province have steadily increased until in 1913 there were imported $12,201 dozen. This is an enormous quantity of eggs and costs the province approximately $200,000.

The importations of dressed poultry and eggs have steadily increased from year to year, and unless more interest is taken in poultry raising Quebec will spend increasing sums of money annually for the products of the poultry industry.

Present conditions, however, seem quite favorable for an increased production, as more farmers are taking an interest in poultry raising. In many sections of the country where farmers previously had never thought of keeping fowls they are now keeping from 50 to 100. In many other parts of the province farmers are increasing the size of their flocks, more attention also being paid to the proper methods of management of the flock.

The most important feature, however, is the interest which the girls and boys are taking in poultry. There are several hundred school children belonging to the rural schools and academies in different sections of the province who are becoming actively engaged in the poultry business.

A definite line of work is being carried out under the direction of the poultry department of Macdonald College. This work is being done in conjunction with Macdonald College demonstrators who are located in different parts of the province. The college, in order to do everything possible to advance the interests of the poultry industry and to encourage young people in poultry culture, makes a practice of each year distributing a large number of hatching eggs free to the school children. The children are asked to take the best of care with the hatching eggs and with the chicks, and they are also expected to show all the chicks which they hatch from the college eggs at a fall fair which is provided for this purpose.

This year the college distributed over 400 settings of hatching eggs to school children in the counties of Pontiac, Ottawa, Jacques Cartier, Chateaugay, Huntingdon, Missisquoi, Stanstead, Sherbrooke and Compton.

In the fall of the year poultry fairs will be held at the following places: Shawville, Aylmer, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, Hawick, Huntingdon, Cowansville, Lennoxville, Ayer's Cliff and Cookshire. The children enjoy the friendly rivalry in raising and exhibiting their chicks, and this line of work is doing a great deal to interest a larger number of people in poultry culture and to improve poultry conditions in general.

In order to make the work more effective the poultry department of Macdonald College prepares a monthly bulletin which is sent free to all of the school children who take part in the raising of the chickens. Other school children who are interested in poultry keeping may receive this bulletin upon request. Each bulletin deals with some special phase of poultry work and from the bulletins a great deal of information is gleaned. The young people are taking great interest in this kind of work in such earnestness that good progress is being made, and the effects of such work are bound to be far-reaching—Canadian Citizen.

WHERE IS THE HORSE BUSINESS GOING?

It is no use saying "the horse business is as good as over," because anyone acquainted with the trade at all knows that to be untrue. However, we should not get too pessimistic, as prices for good animals still remain firm on our leading horse marts. Motor power has usurped as it were the place that would ordinarily have been occupied in the growing trade of towns and cities by the horse-drawn vehicle. Chicago is a city teeming with electric and gas-propelled conveniences for transportation and from April 30, 1913, to April 30, 1914, auto delivery wagons and auto trucks increased from 799 to 4,207 or 3,408 in all, during the same time horse-drawn vehicles decreased from 58,114 to 54,429 or 3,685 in all. Where short, heavy hauls are necessary, the horse will still hold sway. It is the long weighty cargo that makes the truck a profitable means of transportation. This circumstance in itself does not explain the weakening of the trade in horses, but other cities have a line tale to tell and although Chicago does not present the displacement of horses that one would expect the numbers are none the less significant.

More acres coming under cultivation and more intensive farming now being practiced necessitates a greater number of horses, and when the auto car becomes common in our towns and cities it will lose a part of its advertising value to its owners. The up-to-date, horse-equipped vehicle, many even have a greater value in that regard, and when they are at a part in that respect decision will hinge upon economical operation. When that time comes we are led to believe that the battle will be more equal.

Tractors will plow and seed the prairies, but when it comes to cultivating we must depend on the horse. This is no idle dream for the mining system of farming in the west is gradually yet surely moving backward from the railroads. In proof of this the twenty carloads of western hogs recently offered in the Toronto markets is substantial evidence. The West will eventually, no doubt, look after its own horse business, for they are breeding good horses there in numbers. However, the Eastern States of the Union are now taking a considerable number of our eastern-bred animals, and they are willing to pay a fair price. The horse, without doubt seen a period of slight depression, but circumstances do not warrant any extreme pessimistic view for the future—Farmers' Advocate.

Notices of meetings and reports of the same will be published in this column. It is open also to the free discussion of all matters pertaining to the farm.)

COWS THAT WEAR WELL

One of the many advantages reaped from systematic cow testing is the fact that it not only detects cows of indifferent value (saving dairymen the burden of providing for worthless cows, instead of their having good cows to support them) but also it has frequently discovered valuable cows. For instance, a farmer at Ennismore, Ontario, had a small, undersized "native" cow which he intended to sell, not placing much value on her. But cow testing showed that she is one of the best in the herd both for milk and fat production. Don't sacrifice good cows.

This recalls another cow at Ayer's Cliff, Quebec, bought at auction for $28 because no one knew her value. Indeed she was put in with three others as the four poorest in the herd of the man who was selling out. The present owner believes in cow testing and has refused $100 for her; she gave 322 pounds of fat in seven months.

The men who have built up herds that average 8,000 or 9,000 pounds of milk per cow are just those men who know, through having proved it that cow testing pays. Your cows may be like fancy china, of very fine appearance, but they may not wear well, may bring you in sixty or seventy dollars each during the seven months' factory season.

SUCCESSFUL WITH POULTRY

I want to sit down at the "Round Table Farmers Club" and as others have been telling what they made from their poultry, I want to crow too. Jan. 1st, 1913 I commenced with 40 white Wyandotte hens and pullets, and two roosters. The last of July I had 35 hens, and in September I had 30 hens so I thought 35 hens would be a fair average for the year. In January they laid one and a half dozen a day, and in the whole year they laid 455 dozen, and I sold $85.29 worth of chickens and hens. My feed cost me $86.30 and I bought it all. The poultry we used for the table, I put in at the price I sold them for, but I did not put in the 94 dozen eggs that we used in the house. I had the sour milk and turnips, and in the summer they ranged on the farm but I fed the year around. In the winter I fed four quarts of oats in the morning, at noon the same of wheat, and at night the same of corn, at dry in a deep litter. Sometimes I would give them raw potatoes instead of turnips. They had oyster shell before them all the time and plenty of water. The eggs averaged about 32 cents per dozen. I cleared over $3.00 per hen, not counting the 94 dozen eggs that were used in the house. Of course there are some that may not believe it. Perhaps they have tried and could not do it, and therefore think no one can, and no doubt others have made more.

MRS. E. S. M.

Knowlton, July 3

BE CAREFUL OF THE WEED SEEDS

When cutting the hay, it is good practice to have a man with a good sharp scythe mow all the herbage in the fence corners around the field, and also in those of the adjoining fields. There is no way by which weeds and weed seeds are spread to a greater extent than by allowing all kinds of them to grow and mature in the fence corners. Besides getting rid of the weeds considerable good cow hay is produced in this manner and the appearance of the place. Get after the sow thistle, quack grass, curled dock, burdock and dozens of other weeds in this manner. It would be better as a general thing to have fewer fences, but where they are the next best thing is a careful mowing of all fence corner growth.

COWS LOVE MUSIC

A Port Jervis, N.Y., despatch says: George Rensco, who controls a large dairy near here, bought a "second-hand" phonograph. Farm hands set it going one night and the fifty Holstein cows gave so much more and better milk than usual and were so quiet and docile that they have tried it several nights since with amazing results.

The cows are so trained now they await their evening concert and masticate their food much better, and the farm hands when through milking amuse themselves with some tangy steps that are real up to date.

CONCERNING HEREDITY

Under the head of "Stored Environment" Wallace's Farmer discourses upon the question of heredity in domestic animals and in man. Particular mention is made of men who have shown great propensity. The paper says:

"It is the same way in the human family. If we read history, we will find here and there some one man who is the sire of brains; for example, Lyman Beecher. Another striking example is Jonathan Edwards. Here again we have a striking difference. Lyman Beecher produced a family of great sons and daughters, and yet there the propensity seemed to stop. You hear nothing of Lyman Beecher's grandchildren. They seem to have sunk to the level of the people among whom they live. There is no one great outstanding descendant of Lyman Beecher today. On the other hand, the descendants of Jonathan Edwards seem to be able to perpetuate the peculiarities of that great figure."

There is one fact in this heredity matter that has a powerful modifying effect on the subsequent generations of males, yet the farmer does not mention it. Lyman Beecher's sons very likely paid but little attention to the intellectual endowment of the wives they married. The sire, no matter how propertied, cannot hope to influence the sons and grandsons of the male line very far on account of that law of heredity that declares: "Sons take after their mother, daughters after their father." The great and leading qualities of the sire will be much more apt to show forth in the sons of his daughters than in his own sons who will give forth in their sons the qualities of their mother more than their father. The strongest blood we can procure on the sire's side must have strong backing in the females he is mated with, if it is expected to raise a generation of strong males to follow him—Hoard's Dairyman.

ECONOMY OF SKIM MILK

Most farmers have a very clear idea that in milk raising there is nothing like good, sweet skim milk. There are three ways of using milk with calves: First, feeding whole milk; second, feeding with skim milk; third, letting the calf run with cow. The Kansas Experiment Station conducted an experiment in all three of these methods and here is a short table that tells at a glance what the facts were that they found in all three. Three lots of ten calves were fed 15 days. The skim milk lot received grain enough daily to replace the fat taken from the milk. Here is a table that tells the story:

Method of feeding	Average gain per head	Daily cost per head
Skim milk	223 LBS	1.51
Whole milk	287 LBS	1.86
Running with dams	238 LBS	1.77
The final cost of the gain shows that the greater economy lies with the skim milk.

MEXICO'S CATTLE HERDS.

(Cincinnati Inquirer)

One of the effects of the long continued war in Mexico has been the diminution in numbers of its cattle, which formerly amounted to many millions of heads on the vast plains of the plateau.

Hundreds of thousands of the cattle have been slaughtered by the bands, raiding columns and armies which have been constantly in the field, other hundreds of thousands have been stolen or confiscated and millions have been shipped or driven out of the country to be turned into cash by either the possessors or the time being or the legal owners.

The largest herds of cattle in Mexico were those of the northern states, the states north of San Luis Potosi, Zacatecas and Tepic, and this entire region has been swept clean of cattle and farm products by the soldiers and the bands that call themselves soldiers that accompany the armies in the field.

Great numbers of these cattle have been driven across the boundary line between the United States and Mexico and have been sold to buyers in the United States.

No class of plunder and loot is more eagerly sought by the rebel commanders than cattle, for they served either to feed their followers or to bring cash to their pockets or bank accounts in the border towns of the United States.

The herds were carefully rounded up and turned into east at the earliest possible moment by the colonels and generals who were out for liberty and not, the constitution and confiscation, patriotism and plunder.

For three years Mexico has contributed annually a supply of cattle to this country far greater than normally and the cattle buyers of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona have secured large numbers at low prices from lawful owners eager to convert them into cash before they could be seized by robber bands, quick to dispose of them after seizure from their legal owners.

The result is that Mexico's herds are less in total numbers of cattle now than they have been for fifty years and very few cattle will now be shipped from the country, as there is little or no surplus after the home demand for meat is supplied.

This country's supply of cattle from Mexico may be considered as terminated for the next five or ten years.

"We Build Better Tires Than Goodyears"

That—in effect—is what makers say when they charge you higher prices. And 18 makers do that. They are asking for tires up to one-half more than present Goodyear prices. The inference is wrong. Those extra prices are all unjust. The verdict of users—as shown by sales—is that No-Rim-Cut tires are the best in the world. And in four ways they certainly are.

That Is Impossible

It is utterly impossible, so far as men know, to build a better tire than Goodyear's, measured by cost per mile.

For years and years we've employed scores of experts to find out ways to better them. Their efforts have cost us a fortune each year. No-Rim-Cut tires mark the present-day limit, to the best of their belief.

What We Save

The increased output and modern equipment of our great Bowmanville factory have immensely cut cost of production. They have greatly reduced our overhead and our labor cost.

No-Rim-Cut tire prices dropped 23 per cent last year. They are half what they used to be. But never before was the quality so high as it is today.

Smaller makers can't compete on any high-grade tire. That's another reason for getting Goodyear tires. Almost any dealer will supply them.

How They Excel

No-Rim-Cut tires, in at least four ways, excel every other tire.

Our No-Rim-Cut feature—which we control—is found in these tires alone.

Our "On-Air" cure is employed by no other maker. This extra process adds tremendously to our own cost, but it saves many times the amount in blow-outs.

Our rubber rivets—formed to combat tread separation—are a patent feature found in no other tire. Our All-Weather tread

Hints for Bee-Keepers

Many a beekeeper has ordered some hive parts from a dealer in supplies, and received something that he did not want. A thorough knowledge of bee hive parts as well as their names is valuable.

The hive stand is the platform or foundation upon which the hive rests; this may be a brick at each corner, or several boards, or a specially made platform.

The hive body is the case that holds the combs of the hive proper. The brood frames are the wooden frames in which the brood combs are built.

The follower board or division board is used beside the brood frames in the hive body to wedge over the brood frames and keep them snugly together.

The supper is the case holding the one pound sections or honey boxes. The section holders are little frames upon which the sections rest in the super.

The separators are thin slats placed between each row of sections in the super to prevent the bees from making one comb fat and another lean.

The starter is the piece of wax comb foundation and tin sections and frames to guide the bees in building the combs straight in them.

The honey board is used over the frames in winter, and also over the sections in summer, being always beneath the cover. All hives are not supplied with honey boards.

The bee escape board is the honey board equipped with a little tin container or trap so that when placed beneath a super of finished honey the bees can pass through it but not return. Honey may thus be removed without using a bee smoker.

Brood foundation is beeswax rolled into sheets for use in the brood frames. It should not be used in the section honey boxes.

Surplus foundation is beeswax rolled into thin sheets for use in the sections only.

Boatmen Dying Out

Owing to the decline of Kingsdown near Deal, as a fishing village, the race of boatmen is dying out, and there are hardly enough left to form a crew for the lifeboat. At the quarterly practice a butcher, a milkman and an eighty-year-old boatman had to man the boat.

The Campaign in Stanstead

The temperance forces in Stanstead County fired their first shot, in the active campaign for a dry county, at Magog on Wednesday, with Judge Lafontaine and ex-Alderman Cartier, of Montreal, leaders of the temperance movement in this province, as the principal speakers.

The meeting was largely attended, enthusiastic and in every way encouraging to the advocates of prohibition.

In securing an earlier date for the voting the anti-prohibition party scored a decided advantage. They shortened the period of education among the voters of the county. The temperance campaigners, however, have sprung to the front, and the fight is on.

It is believed that if the individual voters can be reached in this appeal for the abolition of the liquor traffic from Stanstead County the victory will be won.

The effort of the temperance advocates should be to make the voter realize his personal responsibility. The evils of intemperance are well understood to-day. There are examples in every community of the poverty and suffering that follow in its trail—and, saddest of all, of the children deprived of their chance in life through the neglect and incapacity of their protectors. If the individual voter can be brought to realize that in casting a ballot for the continuance of the saloon he becomes a partner in the traffic and must share responsibility for the evils that accrue, he will go to the polls with such serious forethought as will augur well for the cause of temperance.

Assassination of Austrian Heir

The assassination, this week, of the heir to the Austrian throne, and his wife, adds another to the long list of similar tragedies.

There appears, however, to have been more of a national movement behind the killing of Archduke Ferdinand than is usual in such cases. In 1908, Austria, by a coup d'état, annexed Bosnia, which had previously enjoyed semi-independence, and the act was regarded with deep resentment by the populace, particularly the Serbian inhabitants, who compose a large part of the population. Serbian hatred of Austria was intensified by the unfriendly attitude of Austria towards Serbia in the recent Balkan war. This attitude prevented Serbia from securing a port on the Adriatic.

This assassination is, therefore, chargeable more to racial hatred than to anarchistic hatred of all governmental authority, which is the usual motive prompting attacks upon crowned heads.

It emphasizes the restive state of the peoples of Eastern Europe. The ruling house of Austria exercises its authority over many races. It has ever sought to repress the voice of liberty. Militarism rests heavily upon the people. It is not strange that there should come from time to time, from among the unfortunate peoples under the few autocratic governments that still exist, fanatical patriots who strike their rulers in the false hope that they will help the cause of the peoples who cry out for a measure of that liberty which is enjoyed by the more fortunate members of the human family whose lots have been cast under more liberal governmental institutions.

Acts like that which occurred in the capital of Bosnia do not help the sacred cause of liberty, but often invite repressive legislation.

Many generations must yet pass before the peoples of Eastern Europe will win the blessings which belong to modern governmental systems, and their cause cannot be furthered by assassination.

Maple Sugar Day.

For some time organized efforts have been made to advance the interests of the maple products industry. A law against adulteration has been placed on the statute books of the Dominion, and under the auspices of the Quebec Government, Wednesday of this week, Dominion Day, was observed as "Maple Products Day" by those interested in the promotion of the industry. From one end of Canada to the other there were distributed through railways, steamboats and hotels samples of pure maple sugar and pamphlets descriptive of the industry.

It is pointed out that "of all Canadian industries, there is none more interesting or romantic than that connected with the manufacture of maple syrup and maple sugar. The world's production is confined practically to Eastern Canada, and by far the largest part of this product is made in Quebec."

It might be added that of the Quebec production the largest part comes from the Eastern Townships. The total value of the industry to this province is estimated at $2,000,000.

It is stated that 22,000 cakes of sugar were distributed on Wednesday.

It is believed that the establishment of a high standard for the maple products, and the advertising of this, will result in a great increase in the demand. The prices will, thereby, be enhanced, and the farmers who are fortunate enough to own maple tree groves will benefit accordingly.

The producers of maple syrup and sugar should lend their hearty cooperation to this effort in the interests of this characteristic Canadian industry.

Another Bridge Free of Tolls.

The formal inauguration of the free bridge at Windsor Mills took place on Dominion Day. For many years tolls have been collected for crossing this bridge. The Provincial Government took the matter in hand and brought about an arrangement with the municipalities by which the bridge has been made free. The credit for this, as in the previous instance of the freeing of the bridge at Richmond, is largely due to the Hon. P. S. G. Mackenzie, who has been the moving spirit in the undertaking.

A toll-bridge is a relic of the past. It is an impediment to commerce and objectionable in many ways. The celebration at Windsor on Wednesday was worthy of the occasion, and the new order of things, so far as the Windsor bridge is concerned, will be appreciated by the inhabitants on both sides of the river.

Election of Commissioners

The election of school commissioners in the city of Sherbrooke and throughout the Townships takes place on Monday, at 10 a.m. Unfortunately, little interest is shown in these elections. There have been occasions in Sherbrooke when it has been necessary to send out for ratepayers to move and second nominations.

If ratepayers will not take an interest in the selection of commissioners, they have no right to complain if things do not go to suit them in the school boards.

Let there be a good turnout at the school meetings on Monday. A contest here and there would be a good thing. It would liven up school matters and start ratepayers thinking of the educational problems of their communities.

In Sherbrooke, there are actual issues involving questions relating to the construction and operation of new schools. If the citizens have an interest, let them show it by attending the ratepayers' meeting for the election of commissioners.

STANSTEAD COLLEGE TRUSTEES

ANNUAL REPORTS SHOW THAT GOOD WORK WAS ACCOMPLISHED DURING YEAR. ... The annual meeting of the Trustees of Stanstead Wesleyan College was held in the main building on Tuesday. Besides the local trustees, Messrs. C.W. Cate, chairman of the board, and Mr. B.C. Howard, of Sherbrooke, and Mr. C. W. Holmes, of Watertown, Mass., were present.

The treasurer's report showed that $1,367.67 had been received during the year from endowment investments, the amount including $1,375.00 from the Hodge fund which goes to assist worthy pupils who would otherwise be unable to continue their studies.

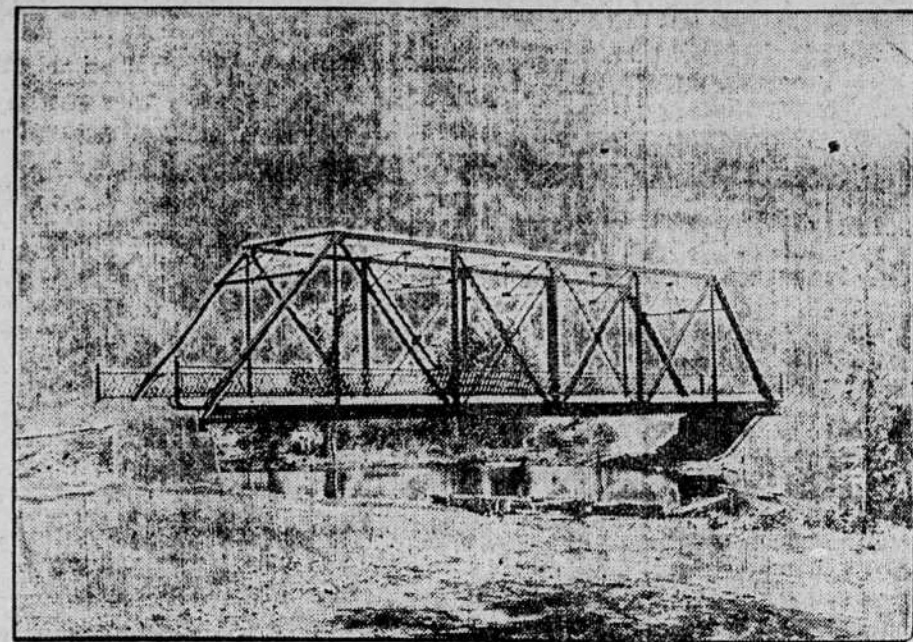

Conditions prevailing throughout the experimental year of "commission management," during the absence of the Principal, gave rise to general satisfaction which has found expression in many ways.

The commission began the year with a handicap of $7,000 expended for repairs last season, but notwithstanding this and the fact that an additional man had to be engaged owing to the absence of the Principal, there was only a small deficit.

The Principal's report, made by Mr. E.C. Irvine, showed an increase of 17 pupils in the Academic department, 15 in the Model school, 10 in the general commercial course and 12 in the Music department over the preceding year.

The total enrollment was 343; number of pupils residing in the College buildings 193.

OFFICERS ELECTED. Officers were elected as follows: — Chairman of Trustee Board, C. W. Cate; Vice-Chairman and Treasurer, B.W. Davis; Secretary, J.F. Telford. Executive Committee — Residential Trustees, Pastors of local Churches, President of Alumni, Dr. C.W. Colby, C.W. Cate, B.C. Howard, H. B. Stewart, J.C. Holland. Auditors, S. Stevens, Col. C. E. MAWSON'S JOURNEY AS TOLD BY HIMSELF

100-mile Trek With Wind at 50 Miles an Hour—Feat Without Parallel in Records of Human Endurance

Dr. Mawson, the young Australian explorer, whose solitary journey in the Antarctic Continent has been described by Sir Ernest Shackleton as "without parallel as a feat of human endurance," reached London the other day. Sir Ernest was one of the first friends to grip him by the hand when he stepped off the boat train at Victoria.

"Hullo, Shackleton, that you?" exclaimed the Australian, his clear blue eyes lighting up with pleasure.

"It's me, right enough. And how's yourself?" inquired the breezy lieutenant, gripping harder.

"Getting over it nicely, and almost as fit as a fiddle," was the reply.

Dr. Mawson admits, however, that his nerves were badly shaken by that terrible 22 days' march in Adèle Land after his two companions, Lieut. Ninnis and Dr. Mertz, had been claimed by death. He is not the same man as he used to be, and he adds, "I don't know whether I ever shall be."

It will be remembered that Lieut. Ninnis fell into a crevasse and disappeared with the sledge carrying the major part of the provisions for the party of three.

"Mertz, my second companion, died of starvation," said Dr. Mawson simply. "We had to live on the dogs, and the dogs were dreadfully thin, poor creatures. Mertz, you see, was a Swiss and accustomed, as he told me, only to eat meat on three days in the week. The consequence was his digestion went wrong, and he could get no nutrition from the exclusive diet of dog's flesh. As an Australian I have been used to a diet including something like 50 per cent. of meat, so things were greatly in my favor from the start of our return march from the crevasse.

"All through that march the wind was terrific. Sometimes it took hours to erect an improvised tent, and then a gust of wind would blow it away. Until Jan. 1 (1913), a week before Mertz' death he thought we could get through, but soon after that I knew it was all up with him. He was just starving to death; and he died on Jan. 7 at midnight.

"I put him in his sleeping bag, and left him lying there on the snow plain, with a cross by his side made of half of my last sledge."

A 100-mile trek in soul-destroying solitude faced the survivor of the trio. How he accomplished it Dr. Mawson himself can hardly tell. It was not till three weeks after the death of Mertz that he unexpectedly struck a food depot, and was thus snatched from the jaws of death.

Some of the most interesting things that Dr. Mawson has to say are about the weather in Adèle Land, the seat of his journeys.

"We hit," said he, "on a problem we had never dreamed of. The average wind velocity for the entire year in that part of Antarctica proved to be 50 miles an hour, as against about 15 miles an hour in McMurdo Sound, the base of Shackleton and Scott.

"In Adèle Land, from the beginning of March to the end of October there is one continuous blizzard, with temperatures falling to minus 50 degrees Fahrenheit. The highest velocity we experienced for a whole hour was 116 miles per hour—80 miles per hour is reckoned a violent hurricane in any other land—and a gust on one occasion registered the almost incredible speed of 220 miles per hour."

NOTABLE REPORT ON FAITH CURES

Health Influenced for Good by Spiritual Means, but Medical Treatment of Organic Diseases Advised

Great interest was aroused in London by a report of a joint committee of clergymen and medical men upon the curing methods associated with the Christian Science and like movements.

This committee, consisting of ten leading Anglican clergymen and ten well known physicians and surgeons, considered the subject under the chairmanship of Dr. Ryle, Dean of Westminster, for four years.

They express their belief in the efficacy of prayer. They reverently believe, however, that the Divine Power is exercised in conformity with and through the operation of natural laws. Spiritual ministrations should be recognized equally with medical ministrations as carrying God's blessing to the sick. Health, bodily and mental, is capable of being influenced for good by spiritual means.

The physical results of what is called faith or spiritual healing do not prove on investigation to be different from those of mental healing or suggestion. The committee recognize that suggestion is more effectively exercised by some persons than by others, and this fact seems to explain the "gifts" of a special character claimed by various "healers."

The committee are forced to the conclusion that faith or spiritual healing like all treatment by suggestion, can be expected to be permanently effective only in cases of what are called "functional" disorders, as distinct from organic ailments. Hysteria and various mental conditions are examples of functional disorders, as contrasted with organic diseases, such as kidney or chronic Bright's disease, aneurism of a vessel or a cancerous tumor.

Those who resort to "healers" are therefore warned that they may thereby be postponing until too late the medical treatment which might serve to arrest organic disease. The committee desire to see an increased importance attached to spiritual ministrations as contributory means to recovery, but they strongly deprecate the independent treatment of disease by irresponsible and unqualified persons.

Most of the witnesses connected with the "spiritual healing" of the present day with the "gifts of healing" of the Apostolic Church, regarding these "gifts" as having been long dormant, though never entirely interrupted. Many of them gave convincing evidence of beneficial results in cases of functional or nervous disorders, obstructions, alcoholism, drug habits, venous propensities, etc., through treatment by "spiritual" or mental influences.

Lord Sandwich, one of the witnesses, stated that he had the power of healing, which he had exercised in very many cases, invariably with success. He recognized his power as a Divine gift, and acted entirely on direction or intuition as to what cases he should treat.

The means he chiefly employed were the laying on of hands and prayer. Lord Sandwich mentioned several cases in which he had relieved pain permanently or effected cures in persons suffering from cancer, paralysis, sciatica, neuritis, blindness, mania, etc.

The Rev. Francis Boyd, vicar of St. Saviour's, Pimlico, S.W., said his treatment was by laying on of hands with prayer, and Holy Union.

ity of the Resurrection, Mirfield, said he felt power going forth from him, and that some stated that they had seen rays emanating from his hands as he placed them on patients. He cited cures. He had treated many cases at a distance; he did not think the imposition of hands essential.

Dr. J. Milne Bramwell, author of "Hypnotism and Treatment by Suggestion," said that while making the suggestions, "which he uttered in a whisper or low tone, he told the patient that he did not wish them listened to. He claimed results where every other means had failed, and never a death in his twenty-two years of experience. His powers had increased.

MANIAC'S MEMORY

Man Who Was Able to Recite "The Decline and Fall"

During a lecture at the Sociological Society's meeting in London, Dr. R. Armstrong-Jones, chief medical officer at Claybury Asylum, Woodford, dealt with the relation of genius to insanity. He said that insanity was known to occur with unusual frequency among the relatives of men of genius. Life, however, was a matter of compensation and equilibrium, and if great development occurred in one direction there was a compensating deficit in others. He knew a man who could recite "The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" from cover to cover, yet his mind continued to be of the nursery type, and he did not understand what he dramatically recited. He knew another who would play on the organ any music he had previously heard, and this without notes of which he knew nothing—to remind him.

NOTES OF NEWS FROM RICHMOND

Methodist Minister Given a Farewell Social by Congregation

MANY ATTEND CONCERT GIVEN BY SHERBROOKE ARTISTS.—COMPLIMENT TO BAND.

Richmond, July 4.—(Special) Rev. H. W. Burnett concluded his pastorate at the Richmond Methodist church on Sunday, and both morning and evening services were largely attended. On Monday evening a farewell social was given by the congregation in the church basement, and an enjoyable time was spent. Mr. Burnett was presented with an address and a substantial purse by Mr. D. Taylor on behalf of the congregation. Mrs. Burnett was feelingly remembered by the different organizations of the church, as was also Miss Ruby Burnett. Mr., Mrs. and Miss Burnett left for their new field of labor at Verdun, Que., on Thursday, and the good wishes of the entire community go with them.

THANKS TO THE BAND.

At the regular practice of the Richmond Brass Band on Monday evening, a communication was read from the secretary of St. Francis Lodge, A. F. & A. M., conveying a resolution in which the thanks of the brethren were tendered for the excellent music provided on the occasion of the recent Masonic church parade, and complimenting the band on their progress, manifested in the precision, conduct and courtly bearing of its members.

The communication was pleasing to the band and a motion was passed conveying their thanks to St. Francis Lodge, to be transmitted by the secretary.

FINE CONCERT.

A large and appreciative music loving audience greeted Mr. Fritz Read, solo pianist of Sherbrooke (late of London England) on his first appearance in Richmond, at the Town Hall, on the evening of Dominion Day.

Mr. Read was ably assisted by Miss Kathleen Robins, soprano, and Mr. Ernest Armitage, baritone, both of Sherbrooke who are singers of much promise and whose efforts showed ample proof of this by the manner in which each of their songs were applauded and encored and heartily responded to. They were most warmly applauded in their duet "I Feel The Angel Spirit-Hoffmann".

Mr. Armitage caught his audience best in his rendering of "Border Ballad." Cowan.

The brilliant piano playing of Mr. Read was truly a revelation to Richmond audience whom he kept spellbound during each of his numbers.

The excellent technique in the "Pavillions-Schumann," the marvelous execution of the "Etude-Rubinstein," but the climax came in "Rhapsodie No. 6 Liszt." The singing of the National Anthem brought this excellent concert to a close, and it is hoped the day is not far distant when Mr. Read will again favor Richmond with another of these treats.

ODDFELLOWS AT SEELY LAKE

About 800 Attended Picnic Which Was Held on Dominion Day

ADDRESSES WERE MADE BY MEMBERS OF THE ORDER.—PLEASANT DAY SPENT.

Dunham, July 4.—(Special)—Wednesday morning, July 1st, was a gay and bright after the three days refreshing rain, and every one here began to make plans to spend the day at Seely Lake, and attend the Odd Fellow's picnic which was held on the shores of that pretty little sheet of water which nestles so beautifully among the surrounding hills. From early in the forenoon until late in the evening every available boat was in use, some fishing, and others rowing over the placid water. The Farnham Band had been engaged and arrived about noon. After dinner the band came over to the Wilkin's grove, and gave some very fine selections.

A base ball game was one of the attractions of the afternoon and was well patronized.

About 2 o'clock the D.D.G.M., Mr. Joel H. Baker, Frelighsburg, chairman, invited the speakers to the speakers' table. Some excellent addresses were listened to. The first speaker introduced was Mr. M. E. Baker, Grand Marshal of the Grand Lodge, of Quebec, who welcomed the visiting members in the name of the Odd Fellows. He said it gave him much pleasure to see so large a gathering in spite of the rainy weather they had had and ventured to say if the previous day had been as fine as July 1st, every lodge in the District would have been well represented. It was the first picnic that had ever been organized in the District No. 10, and it would be his pleasure to see it repeated. He visited the Grand Lodge, as he hoped to do in August, to be able to report so favorably of the event. He regretted that some of the speakers they hoped to have with them for the day were not there owing to the uncertain outlook in the early morning.

The Rev. Mr. Pergau, Grand Chaplain, of the Grand Lodge, Pastor of the Methodist Church, in Clarenceville, and Mr. J. W. McCabe, P.G.M., both expected to be present but the roads and weather prevented them. He felt sure that the interest in the Order was as keen as ever and the present gathering was good proof. The chairman then introduced the Rev. H. Naylor, who said Golden Link Lodge, Frelighsburg, was proud to have as one of its members. Mr. Naylor said he remembered when he was a boy that he thought speeches at a picnic were very much out of order especially when a ball game was on and that he would not be very long. He recalled the fact that the Dominion of Canada was celebrating her 47th birthday. He could remember with what pride every loyal Canadian hailed the day when the 21st birthday was celebrated, and that now that double that age was passed and we were all as proud of our native land as ever. Canadians had been a little slower in developing than our neighbors at the South, but they were modest, and that modesty had been one of the best things that could have happened to us. It had given us a strong and sturdy footing, and a good backbone. It had been said that when a Canadian was applying for a position in a foreign land, that as soon as it was known that they were from Canada it helped a good deal; that Canadians were known to be strong and faithful in the discharge of their duty. Our country was being developed more rapidly as the years rolled on and he predicted a brilliant future for it.

The next speaker was the Rev. Mr. Brundage, a member of the Seely Bay Lodge, Jurisdiction of Ontario, pastor of the Methodist Church of Cowansville, who spoke briefly on the subject of Odd Fellowship. He was pleased to be able to meet so many of the order at this beautiful spot and to know that in Quebec they were so strong. It had been told him that when Century Lodge was organized in Dunham in 1895, that there was only 24 Lodges in the Province with a membership of something over 1800, now there were 60 Lodges and a membership of 6,000. It was an Order second to none in acts of charity, and that every member was able to do his part. He did not say that there were no black sheep in the flock. No, or even the Churches could say that, but that they tried to make a good Odd Fellow out of such a member, rather than a poor one, and that they nearly always succeeded in doing it. He hoped to be able to meet the members again at a similar gathering at this beautiful spot.

The chairman then called for 3 cheers for the King, which was responded to with right loyal will. The Band played O. Canada and afterwards some more good numbers which all enjoyed. It was estimated that over 800 people were on the grounds.

Extoll Chamberlain Who Had Done Much to Further Imperialism

CANADIANS AND AUSTRALIANS DEALT WITH STATESMEN WHO UNDERSTOOD THEIR NEEDS

London, July 4.—The Morning Post, reviewing Chamberlain's work at the Colonial office, says: "The people of Canada or Australia felt that at last they had to deal with a statesman who understood their needs and feelings and who sympathized to the full with their aspirations. Even if no positive achievement had marked his tenure of office, the new atmosphere created and the new spirit introduced into the relations between the mother Country and the daughter States would alone have done much to bring to reality the one-shadowy dream of Imperial union."

Last night's Radical Star said: "Chamberlain will be remembered as the statesman who shattered two great political parties and deluged South Africa with blood. Whatever judgment posterity may pass upon these three capital cataclysms, at least it must see in him one of those dynamic personalities which alter the course of history and mould the destinies of nations. Peace to ashes. He has gone at a moment when peace trembles in the balance and when the wisest of men are prone to plunge into the falsehood of extremes. It may be that his passing will sober partisanship and dispose of the factions to listen to reason."
