

WMA seeks public view on 2nd pool

The Westmount Municipal Association appears to be having second thoughts on the building of a second swimming pool in Westmount. "The Association is still very interested in finding out what the public view is on this question", a spokesman declared Tuesday night following the WMA's monthly executive meeting.

He said that the Recreation Committee was still giving the pool question careful study. "We may be able to make a report on our findings at the December open meeting," he said. "We'll then call for discussion on the subject."

"We don't want to rush into this," he said. "After all, it took four years to decide on the first pool."

This appears to be a reversal from last month. Following the October meeting, president J. H. Richer told The Examiner that "the present pool is sufficient for all and there does not appear to be an immediate need for another." He said the city might well find a better use for the $120,000 set aside in June, out of a loan by-law to provide for a possible second swimming pool.

In other business this week the association announced that it had made representation to the Brummer Construction company to have the apartment building presently under construction at Lansdowne and Western boarded up on the lower floors. The spokesman said that children had been using the partially completed building as a "dangerous playground."

Greene avenue store is hit

"Smash and grab" artists hit Mitchells Electric, Saturday night, removing three television sets in a matter of seconds from the store at Greene and Western, it was reported.

Police said that the men heaved a large square of cement through the shop window at 2:51 a.m. Sunday morning. A constable on the beat heard the alarm at Greene and Sherbrooke, but the men had fled when he reached the scene.

A passing motorist missed the license number, but was able to describe the get-away car.

Next week's weather

November 16 to 23

Pleasant but cold with morning mists and flurries. Gusty winds will bring showers of mixed rain and snow. Temperature range: south 20-50°F, Laurentians 10-45°F, northern counties and the Gulf 5-35°F. Snow 3 to 5".

Quite agreeable mid-week with some sunshine, very cold winds and some flurries. Heavy snowfalls for all the north.

Mainly sunny to end the week with morning mists. Light snow or freezing drizzle for some places. Skiing may be possible on some slopes.

MEET THE TEACHER

It was "Meet the Teachers Night" at Westmount Park School Monday and several hundred parents attended to find out what "Johnny" was up to. Above, Grade Three teacher Mrs. M. Pappé, assisted by K. G. W. Smith, newly elected president of the Home and School Association, explain the classroom work to parent Mrs. R. O. O'Connor.

After subway

May widen Western

Western avenue, between Atwater and Greene, may be widened late next year upon completion of the West End subway terminus, The Examiner learned recently. City Hall engineers said that no decision has been made on the proposal although "we are giving it a thorough study."

"If we are ever going to do anything with Western, this would definitely be the time," an engineer added. It was announced earlier that the entire section is to be dug up for the subway station, starting early in 1964.

Officials said they were "somewhat reluctant" to develop the street further as a main through artery. They noted that the planning firm of Bland, Lemoyne and Edwards in their extensive report on the planning of the Lower Section of Westmount went further. After an eight months study of the area in 1960 the firm recommended that "in order to preserve the residential character of the area adjacent to Westmount Park, Western avenue should be closed to all traffic from Claremont to Clarke avenues."

Tenants to vacate after May 1 for Westmount Center project

Tenants of stores and houses in the Wood, Western, and St. Catherine street areas are preparing to vacate their premises by May 1, at the earliest to make way for a large construction project. City Council, meeting in a special session Tuesday afternoon, approved a re-zoning by-law to permit the erection of buildings up to 21 storeys on a one and three quarter block sector.

It was reported that real estate agents have purchased much of the property on the block bounded by Wood, Western and Elm avenues and St. Catherine street and a portion of the block fronting on Elm, between Western and St. Catherine, including three properties on Greene avenue. The majority of tenants in that area report that their new leases expire May 1 and understand that

Private French School seeks to relocate here

A proposal to establish a private French school on The Boulevard in one of Westmount's most historic homes is now being studied by Westmount Council. Officials of the Ecole Michelle Provost, presently located on Cote des Neiges, said that they are seeking to relocate their "high school grade section" at 3219 The Boulevard, next door to The Study.

The three-storey home, property of the Thomson family for generations and a prominent Westmount landmark would be renovated slightly, school officials said, to make room for 75-100 students in three classes. They said that the exterior would not be changed.

Present owner of the house is Corey Thomson of CKVL. He told The Examiner that the house built in the early 1800's had been for a time the official residence of "the chief British General in Canada." "At that time Mount Pleasant avenue was the driveway leading to the residence," Mr. Thomson said. "The Maple Trees still standing along the street were planted by British troops as was the orchard on the east side of the avenue, all in a move to keep the troops occupied."

Mr. Thomson, who lived in the house as a boy, noted that a special feature of the building is a sixty foot long underground passageway leading from the basement to a large chamber containing a well. "We imagine that this was built to be used as a secret escape route," he said.

Several years ago Mr. Thomson offered the property to the city at $5.00 a foot so that the grounds might be used as a park, provided that the house be kept intact. Various local women's organizations said they would be glad to donate antiques if the house were re-opened as a museum. His offer, however, was rejected by City Council. They said that the cost of upkeeping the house and property would be too high.

"It's a magnificent structure, but unfortunately not the type that any single family would want to live in today," Mr. Thomson said. "It's just too large — what can you do with eleven bedrooms, numerous bathrooms to say nothing of vast servants quarters? Besides it's

'Y' drive reaches 24%

Some 89 canvassers will be contacting over 1100 homes and business firms in Westmount in the next two weeks as the Westmount YMCA Division seeks to raise its objective of $10,950.00 as a part of the City-Wide objective of $285,000.00.

At the first report luncheon, held earlier this week, Westmount reported 24% of its objective raised and early indications are that the total objective can be realized.

W. D. Macdonald, Chairman of the Westmount Division, commenting on this first report results, stated — "Although we are slightly behind our position of a year, we are very pleased with several new donations and the number of increased gifts over last year's subscription, received to-date. We require a minimum of $1900.00 in new money to reach our objective and present indications are that this can be obtained."

G. L. Welton, Executive Secretary of the Westmount Branch, said that results to-date are encouraging. "However, the success of the Campaign is in the hands of the canvassers," he added.

"I urge every canvasser to get to work immediately so that all cards can be completed by the closing banquet on Thursday, November 28."

One team, captained by Walter Smill has reached 158% of its objective. Three other teams have reached 50% of their objective to date.

'Mums' show is popular

Wet weather this week did not keep Westmounters from visiting the annual Fall Show of Crysanthemums at the Greenhouse. Officials there report that attendance has been "excellent."

The Mums show has, with the exception of war years, been an annual event since 1928.

This year it includes 3,836 plants of Chrysanthemums, in 4 varieties: Exhibition type, 70 varieties with 1,281 plants; commercial, 27 varieties with 1,009 plants; bush, 58 varieties with 1,346 plants; cascades, 1 variety with 200 plants.

The Conservatories are open from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. on week days, and from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sundays, for the duration of the Show.

Westmount raises $32,008 for Catholic Charities

Three Westmounters were behind the Federation of Catholic Charities remarkably successful campaign this year. Westmounter Stanley D. Clarke general chairman announced this week that the Federation topped its objective for the first time in ten years raising $748,370.

The biggest boost came from the parish division, it was reported. Under the leadership of A. P. Wickham, 16 De Casson road they topped $300,000 for the first time and returned $42,000 more than last year.

Mr. Wickham's own Ascension Parish, Westmount collected $32,008 which is just over 100% of the objective. Ascension parish chairman was J. McN Charlebois of 30 Thornhill avenue, Westmount.

Lions are fiercely protective of their young. Recently the Powell River B.C. Lions got together and donated enough bunting to make up thirty sets of shorts and shirts for some of the world's destitute children. The fabric was sent to the Unitarian Service Committee of Canada. The voluntary USC needs 310,000 Friendship Dollars for world relief and contributions are being accepted at USC Headquarters, 63 Sparks Street, Ottawa 4.

Students council meet is considered a success

By DAVID L. SMITH

Last Friday and Saturday, Westmount High School played host to about 150 delegates who attended the Twentieth Annual Student Council Conference, held here. It was generally considered a great success.

The conferences begun in 1944, are intended to encourage the development and improvement of high school student councils. When they began, few schools had student councils; now there are few without.

The delegates arrived Friday. A banquet offered by the Reader's Digest, was held from 6:30 to 8:30 in the dining room of the Digest building. E. P. Zimmerman, president of the Association, sat at the guest table. The speaker was J. E. Perry, Principal of Lennoxville High School. Mr. Perry, founder of the first conference, spoke about the history of the conference and the resulting growth in number of student councils. He stressed the role of the principal, teachers, students, and the executive in the organizing of council activities.

Following the banquet, the delegates returned to the High School to hear a panel discussion on the conference theme: Students' Council — Everybody's Business. Paddy Springate, acted as chairman, with a panel consisting of two teachers and two students: Mr. Heywood, of Macdonald High; Miss Northrup, of Cowansville; Kathy McLaren, of Shawinigan Falls; and Bill Merrifield, of Verdun.

The next item on the program was entertainment. Dierdre Vogan and Vivia Stuart, grade ten students, sang three songs, accompanied by Miss Jamieson, the school's vocal music teacher.

A skit, "The Cock and the Pearl" followed. This featured Penny Rudnikoff, Sonya Brozman, Gail Portnuff, Naomi Lappin, and Deborah Greenberg, and this correspondent.

The program ended with a performance by a group of folk-singers, called the Group of Seven. The evening concluded with an informal dance in the school gym, decorated in the school colors of purple and white.

Two forty-minute discussion periods were held in the morning during which representatives were divided into small groups to discuss the questions, "Should the Students' Council be Abolished?" and "What were your Students' Council's main successes and shortcomings this past year?"

The apparent success of the conference is the result of a co-operative effort on the part of many students, and teachers.

Elizabeth Weldon and Mr. Stracina were responsible for the registration preparations, and Joel Schacter and Miss Wales looked after the registration and reception of delegates. Typing and correspondence were done by the grade eleven commercial class, Lucy Fellowes, and Jackie Snyder, and Miss Gallant and Mr. Barr.

Young Canada Book Week:

Canadian books gain with youngsters here

Young Canada Book Week begins today and this year's theme — Across Canada with the Voyageurs — is most appropriate. Miss Catherine Fraser, Children's Librarian at the Westmount Public Library said recently.

According to Miss Fraser, Radisson has finally overtaken Buffalo Bill. She said there appeared to be a great revival of interest in early Canadian explorers and other figures from the history of this country. "This is as it should be, the influence of the American TV Westerns is dying," she said. "Now children are clamoring for books about the Mounties, the Hudson's Bay Company, the Eskimos, and particularly the Voyageurs."

To meet the demand, the Children Department has acquired large selections of books outlining Canada's history in story form, she said. For the Week a display of selected children's books will be on display in the Adult Department for parents and children to see and perhaps choose their Christmas presents.

Two recent books of special merit will be on the tables, Miss Fraser added. They are: "Beyond the High Hills," one of the first collections of Eskimo poems for children and "The Prince with the Hundred Dragons" by Malcolm Foster.

Two of Quebec's oldest H&S Associations join

Two of the oldest Home and School Associations in the province of Quebec joined Monday night at Westmount Park School. K. G. W. Smith was elected president of the Home and School Association and several former members of the now defunct Kings and Queens organizations joined the executive.

Elected in addition to Mr. Smith were:

Vice-President, D. K. Sherry; Treasurer, Mrs. Cukierman; Secretary, Mrs. E. M. Forbes.

Pupil Insurance, Mrs. Millman, Mr. Harbottle; Art Classes, Mrs. Bayne, Mrs. Lange; Membership Chairman, Mrs. K. Smith, Mrs. Millman; Program Chairman, Dr. Bayne, Mrs. Deong, Mrs. Assels; Ice Carnival, Harbottle, Mr. Gall; Library Committee, Mrs. Beatts, Dr. and Mrs. DeJong, Mrs. Graham; Skate Exchange, Mrs. Beatts; Mrs. Graham; Telephone Committee, Mrs. Bridge.

Most of the parents toured the renovated building on Oct. 28 to inspect the new facilities.

Last night they were able to meet the teachers, inspect their child's book and handicrafts and learn something of the program. Principal M. T. Craig said that parents wishing to discuss individual problems with the teacher should arrange for a later appointment.

Chaput to speak at Loyola

The cause for (and against) separatism will no doubt be aired fully here tomorrow at 1 p.m. when Dr. Marcel Chaput speaks at Loyola in the Science Building Auditorium.

Tamila Barycky, who has been seen many times at the Victoria Hall, Westmount, in productions of the Children's Theatre. Now 19, Miss Barycky, who is a resident of Notre Dame de Grace, is this week playing the demanding role of an affectionate maid in "The Waltz of The Toreadors," a current production of the newly formed Lantern Playhouse, 1858 St. Luke street. This comedy is by Jean Anouilh. She won a scholarship while with the Children's Theatre, and as a result did some television work. Since then Miss Barycky has played a starring role with La Poudriere, and is now on the staff of "The Lantern Playhouse". The next play of the Playhouse will be "Raisin In The Sun" by Pamela Hansberry which will open Nov. 28.

Young Canada Book Week

YOUNG Canada Book Week begins today. Across Canada libraries and schools are displaying posters, arranging exhibits and lectures for children, all designed to encourage them to read more books — good books.

This is a laudable effort, yet it is doomed to failure without the co-operation of the most important institution of all for the child: the home. It must naturally follow that if the youngster is not encouraged to read at home all the efforts of libraries and schools will be of little avail.

Of course reading encouragement is of little use if the shelves at home contain only junior's comic books and father's paperback detective stories.

Although Robert Browning had an excellent formal education, what made the difference between him and his classmates was his father's library of 6,000 volumes to which he had free access. Not many of us are so fortunate.

Many modern homes do not have the space to devote to half the number. Perhaps, to own and to read a comparable number is an ideal toward which to aim. It is one much more possible of realization than it was in the days of Mr. Browning.

The Westmount Public Library, which contains in excess of 70,000 volumes is not as convenient as your own bookcase, but it is within walking distance of the home of every Westmounter, for school age children at least and makes a fine supplement to your private library.

The Atwater Library also contains an excellent selection of books for older students including a unique collection of technical works.

Why not make every week Book Week?

YOU SAY

Clean up St. Catherine

Sir, I feel it is time someone wrote to suggest that something be done to clean up the stretch of St. Catherine street between Victoria and Green avenue.

While there are some notable exceptions most of the stores along this potentially fine Westmount street are in a fairly good state of repair. But many of the private homes and apartment, a thorough wall cleaning, etc.

When tourists drive into West End through Westmount along St. Catherine street, I feel they get an unfortunate reception.

Follow the French, retain our culture

Sir, — Now is the time for those communities which do not wish to be taken over by the City of Montreal, and which are predominantly English to make it clear that their people wish to live in a place conducive to and run according to their culture.

If the French can hold out for their cultural rights, so can the English.

I think this is the best way to silence the City of Montreal.

A good rule works both ways. Can they refuse us the rights which they are clamoring for themselves?

Book of the month
A CHINESE novel of just under 5,000,000 words, written by hand has been found in Hong Kong. I thought of serialising it in this column, but was told that after seven or eight years of it people would go elsewhere for their entertainment. This Week in Westmount

BEATRICE TOBIN ASSE-LIN, Atwater avenue, president of the national Liberal Women's Federation of Canada, still receiving cards, telegrams, flowers and telephone messages congratulating her on winning the election. On the walls of her off white living room are paintings by Canadian contemporary artists, Lillias Torrance Newton (who was commissioned to paint Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip), Goodridge Roberts and Hutchison. At one time Mrs. Asselin attended classes at L'Ecole des Beaux Arts and the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts, studying under Mrs. Newton.

Members of WHS Council and others entertained students from schools in the Province of Quebec who attended the conference this week . . . MRS. JOHN H. DUNNE, The Boulevard, met this week to talk over plans for St. Mary's Ball which takes place on November 22 at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel with Mrs. F. L. McPhail, Mrs. Harold Stanford. Proceeds from the event will be given to assist the hospital . . .

JEAN DESMARAIS, member of the Independent Art Association Academy road, originator and director of the "Panorama de L'ART," the mammoth exhibition of paintings which took place at Place Ville Marie last June, is holding a one man show of his own works this week at the Ritz Carlton Hotel in the Green Room and the Silver Room until Sunday November 17 inclusive. Interesting portraits of prominent Montrealers and Westmounters are on view . . .

ATWATER LIBRARY this week opened a hobby show of entries made up by members of the institution. On display are the following: jewellery, handicrafts, ceramics, paintings, needle point pieces, paintings on velvet, hobby work from the children from St. Laurent Neighborhood House, chinese ornaments, hand loomed articles, and many other original works. An outstanding entry is a series of Eskimo miniature heads, mounted and colorful, which were made up by artist Paul Andre. The show will continue until November 26.

WHS students honor war dead with poem

Westmount High School celebrated Armistice Day this week with the traditional services for the Junior and Senior Schools. These included remarks by Richard Lord, past president of the Old Boys Association and an address by the Rev. Callum Thompson. The last part was played by Richard Bourne.

Michael Shore, grade ten student at the school wrote the following poem for the occasion:

ARMISTICE DAY

Ballad of a Lonely Soldier
By MICHAEL SHORE

O Soldier, Lonely Soldier, where are you going?
To a land far away where freedom is blowing.
Where the hills and the mountains are filled with love.
Where men and children find help from above.
In a place, where brotherhood and understanding is signed.
Where men to sorrow and unhappiness are not blind.
O Soldier, Bold Soldier why must you fight?
I must win this victory and kindle a light.
So that man once more will live in peace.
I wan't with all my strength to lengthen this lease.

The battle is on, the fighting has started.
And all good men from home have departed.
The Soldier, the Bold Soldier from his family has gone,
His son and his wife remain with tears at dawn.
They say a soft prayer to guide him on his way.
With the hope that him life shall never betray.
While on the battle field, all is stilled.
For the battle is won, but our hero is killed.
Peace has been found and peace shall remain
For the Soldier, the Lonely Soldier fought only for peace and not for fame, for he has even left a name.

O Soldier, bold Soldier, a victory for all you have won
And now understanding shall fill all men and your son.
O Soldier, Lonely Soldier, where are you going?
To a land far away where freedom is going.

Notes and Oddities of Westmount 1905

Unanimous election of R. Brock Thompson as president of the Westmount Municipal Association for 1938 featured the 29th annual meeting of that group Monday evening in Victoria Hall. W. Gordon Hansen was named vice-president and J. Cornil Binnie, honorary secretary treasurer with W. W. Williamson as honorary treasurer auditor.

Mr. Thompson announced that paid membership in the association for the year stood at 271, an increase of 20 over the previous year. He said six meetings had been held during the year and in response to a suggestion made a year ago by D. M. Rowat, a committee met with the school commission to urge more stress on the teaching of French in local schools.

A summary of activities at the Westmount Athletic Grounds showed that the purchase of property, which had been advocated by the Association two years ago was well justified. The Association learned that a fancy figure skating instructor had been secured to teach at local rinks during the season.

It was announced that the Association had endorsed the nominations of R. W. Steele, Dr. Fred J. Tees and Hugh M. Scott to fill vacancies on the school board after the new year.

Objections to stop signs on steep hills approaching the Cote Road, Westmount avenue and The Boulevard were voiced from the floor by Mr. Whitehall, a Roslyn avenue resident who claimed that people in those vicinities were disturbed by the noise of changing gears and racing motors on cars that were obliged to stop on the steep inclines. He suggested slow signs on both the north-south and east-west thoroughfares. Mr. Whitehall also complained about speeding on the Boulevard and Westmount avenue, especially at night. Alderman Scott pointed out that this problem was under study by traffic experts.

Real Estate transactions in Westmount during the month of October totalled only 10, involving a sum of $46,792, it was shown this week in figures released by the Montreal Real Estate Board. This places Westmount third among the suburban municipalities, being led by Verdun.

For the first ten months of the year Westmount lead the suburban municipalities, with 168 sales for $1,888,445 leading Outremont by $683,503.

Winnipeg Ballet here next week

The Royal Winnipeg Ballet will give two evening performances at Westmount High School auditorium on Friday and Saturday, November 22 and 23, with a children's matinee on the Saturday afternoon.

At the evening performances, the program will be Roundelay, Land of Snow (The Snowflake Waltz from the second act of "Nutmacker"), the Princess Aurora Pas de Deux from "Sleeping Beauty" and Let's Whoop-De Doo, Brian MacDonald's new ballet which had its premiere recently in Moscow, where it received a standing ovation.

The children's matinee will be devoted to the full-length "Hansel and Gretel."

The company's appearance here is sponsored by the Leese Chamberlain School of Dancing on St. Catherine Street in Westmount. Miss Chamberlain, director of the school, taught many of the members of the present Winnipeg Ballet Company at special summer seminars in Banff.

"Roundelay" first of the ballets to be performed was created by Ruthanna Boris danced to Czerny and Heller studies typifying the carefree fun and enjoyment youngsters can have. It is a light work presented through the medium of pure dance. From the strong, vigorous dancing of the boys in the Tarantella, hide and seek, marches, instrument playing, the leader demanding her men to obey her command, the game of slumber, one round follows another as spontaneously as children at play.

"The Land of Snow" with choreography by James Clouser and costumes by Karl Kaufman, is set to Tschikovsky's "Snowflake Waltz" from the first act of the Nutcracker Ballet

"Pas de Deux" by Tschikovsky has choreography by Marius Petipa, and costumes by Constance Officer.

"Let's Whoops De Doo" by Don Gilles is dedicated to the misalliance of classical ballet and the western myth.

ROVING REPORTER

By Oliver Towne

The Westmount Municipal Bargain Basement recently closed its doors after a successful season. It was a short season as seasons go: about 50 minutes in length. But during that time it offered what might appear to be remarkable bargains. Bicycles sold for fifty cents and 1953 Fords and Chevrolets went for one dollar.

Forty-nine unclaimed bicycles and six automobiles were put up for auction and all were sold. About a dozens bicycle dealers showed up to take over most of the bidding. City employees looking for presents for their children were also prominent.

Bids ranged from 25 cents for a tricycle (minus seat and pedals) to a maximum of $20.00 for a three-speed gear bicycle.

The automobiles were not quite as appealing. Only one appeared to be in any sport of running order and it went to a public works crewman for $17. The remaining five sold for $1 each, to be sold as scrap.

Shoppers who missed the big sale need only wait 12 months. Children will inevitably lose their bicycles and motorists will abandon their cars on city streets.

The bargain basement will reopen next year; third garage on the right, just behind the steam-roller.

"It's considerably quieter around the construction site for the new police and fire stations. A nearby resident reports that she is just now recovering from a severe case of "shellshock" after two weeks of blasting and supplemented by the clatter of pneumatic drills. Excavation work is virtually complete and carpenters are now nailing up forms to hold the concrete.

Apparently it's standard procedure, but it certainly sounds inefficient: Twice in the past month workmen tore up a foot and a half wide section on the south side of Sherbrooke from Redfern to Lansdowne. First it was G. M. Gest and Co. under contract with Natural Gas. After installing an eight inch gas main (and in the process creating daily traffic tieups) they filled in the strip and topped it with eight inches of concrete. Two weeks later city employees moved in to rip this up and replace it with their own concrete and asphalt. They apparently will collect so much per square yard on the work. Standard procedure, they say.

'Y' seeks weights

Once again the YMCA is appealing to the community for weights of all sizes, to keep its weightlifting room equipped. Anyone having 3, 5, 7½, 10 or 15 lb. weights around their home which they do not use are asked to contact Mr. Dudgeon, at the 'Y' (WE. 7-3916). As well, plastic hula hoops are required for a forthcoming gym show. The 'Y' reports that donated equipment can be picked up simply by phoning the branch.

In 1962, advertisers again spent more money in newspapers than in any other medium, and the newspaper remains overwhelmingly dominant as a local advertising medium.

Dorchester

widening approved

Second item on the afternoon's agenda was the purchase of 13 properties for a total of $408,250 to make way for the widening of Dorchester.

Demolition of the building here will begin within the next three weeks, a spokesman announced. All the properties should be acquired by the end of December.

Highest amount authorized for the purchase was $108,000 for the property at 4081 Dorchester.

The following settlements were also approved:

The sum of $18,500.00 for the land and buildings at 4292 St. Catherine street, as set forth in a letter from Mr. C. Johnsen.

The sum of $23,000.00 for the land and buildings at 10 Gladstone avenue, owned by Mr. Samuel Segal.

The sum of $15,000.00 for the land and buildings at 12 Gladstone avenue owned by Mr. P. Antonio.

The sum of $38,000.00 for the land and buildings at 4035 Dorchester street, as set forth in a letter from Messrs. Paul and Albert Kastel.

The sum of $38,500.00 for the land and buildings at 4029 Dorchester street and the sum of $27,500.00 for the land and buildings at 4042 Tupper street, as set forth in a letter from Mrs. A. Bonin.

Mr. Thomson said he had been trying to sell the house for several years and if the application to establish the private school there was turned down he would have "no alternative but to tear down the building and let the property go wild."

'Y' starts Learn to Swim classes

A special Beginners Learn-to-Swim program is now being run at the Westmount YMCA on Saturday mornings from 9 till 9:45. These weekly classes are for all youth members over the age of nine who lack the basic swimming fundamentals.

The course, under the direction of Bill Tyler, is designed to provide the beginner with confidence in the water and elementary swimming techniques. The instruction is supplement with water games and learning of specialized skills such as diving. New members are always welcome and parents with children who do not yet know how to swim are urged to register them as soon as possible.

The following members are presently taking the course: Beverly Clarke, Christina Chiang, Susan Hamilton, Monique Isler, Nicole Isler, Steve Daly, Michael Hogle and Gary Scott.

Learn-to-swim classes are not limited to youngsters. The Westmount 'Y' is presently operating a successful men's beginners course. Swimming time is every Monday from 7 to 8 p.m. Special guest passes are available for men who are not members of the 'Y'. These passes are issued on a temporary basis to allow gentlemen to "try out" the program before taking a regular membership.

You asked the reference department . . .

What is the origin of the Canadian Thanksgiving?

In the year 1763 the people of Halifax, Nova Scotia, proclaimed a day of Thanksgiving for the conclusion of the Peace of Paris which gave Canada to Britain. This was probably the earliest Thanksgiving celebrated in Canada. In Lower Canada, now Quebec the first Thanksgiving was proclaimed on December 22, 1798 and observed on January 10, 1799. The first annual Thanksgiving as now observed was proclaimed October 8, 1879 and observed on November 6, 1879. Since then it has been proclaimed yearly and since 1957 has been set for the second Monday in October. "High days and holidays in Canada."

Is there a book which would give me the names and addresses of mayors of cities of Canada.

What was the Deerfield Massacre?

Deerfield, Mass. was exposed to frequent attacks from the Indians and the French by reason of its situation in the open valley of the Connecticut River. The massacre took place in the early morning of February 29, 1704 when a force of 50 French soldiers and 200 Indian allies from Canada under the command of Major Hertel de Rouville easily entered the snow-drifted stockade and quickly overcame the sleeping inhabitants. Of the 300 inhabitants about 50 were killed, 137 escaped and 111 were taken prisoner (Dictionary of American History)

Which Indian tribes comprised the Six Nations?

PROVINCIAL DEMANDS

At this stage in national affairs the provinces have strong governments while the Dominion has had two minority governments in a row. Westmount Mayor C. H. Drury chats with Mayor George O'Reilly of Verdun (right) and Mayor Pratt of Dorval, prior to the opening of the Winter Employment drive at the Chalet last Friday. Mayors from all the island municipalities attended.

City endorses Winter program

Westmount with its large slate of forthcoming public works, including the Dorchester widening will be playing a significant role in the government's Winter Employment Campaign. Mayor C. H. Drury said last Friday. The occasion was the opening of the ninth "Winter Employment Campaign" by the National Employment Service and the Montreal Employment Advisory Committee, under the chairmanship of Valmore Gratton, at the Chalet.

The City of Montreal was represented by His Worship, Mayor Jean Drapeau. All the other municipalities of Greater Montreal were also represented by their Mayors. Many prominent local businessmen, labour leaders and others were also present.

It was noted that "Seasonal Unemployment" deals perhaps the worst blow to the economy of our nation through the loss of productivity, wages and purchasing power. "The purpose of the Campaign is to draw the attention of the public at large to the effect that special efforts should be made to provide work for as many as possible of the unemployed during the winter months," an official said.

There is also the Municipal Winter Works Incentive Program which covers a great number of projects to which the Federal and Provincial Governments subscribe respectively 50% and 40% of the labour cost.

Last year in municipalities on the island, some 406 projects were approved for an approximate value of $52,874,384.00 representing 447,998 man-days of work for 6,593 workers.

In view of the cooperation of civic authorities and contractors, the majority of workers employed on municipal projects, were hired through the National Employment Service, it was reported.

Heather Ladies plan bonspiel November 18

The Heather Ladies Curling Club of Westmount will hold their annual Bonspiel for the Remine Trophy on November 18, 19, and 20. Invitations have been extended to clubs as far away as Ottawa and Utica, New York, and it is expected that approximately 40 rinks will be competing.

Play will commence at 9 a.m. Monday November 18, with finals on Wednesday November 20. Each team will play two eight end games in one day and ten ends on the final day.

Eight teams will qualify for the finals, the results determined by high percentage.

In addition to the Remine trophy, 32 individual prizes will be awarded.

Last year's winner was winning team from St. Laurent, skipped by Mrs. K. Brown, will be on hand to defend the trophy.

THEY'RE HARDY BREED

Mother Nature has done her best in the past to discourage the farmer, but to no avail. Now he appears destined to become the innocent victim of union disputes and Canada-United States pricing disagreements. . . Fortunately farmers are a hardy breed with a record of having weathered storms in the past. — Estevan (Sas.) Mercury.

Queen Elizabeth Hospital short

Subscriptions to the 1962 general campaign of the Queen Elizabeth Hospital have reached $90,875.65 out of a $150,000 objective, it was announced this week.

The general co-chairmen Ernest A. Laurain and William Metzger said that while the campaign is now officially over, would-be subscribers who have not yet contributed can still do so.

"Receipts to date have been gratifying but the original objective represented the strict minimum requirements," the co-chairmen said in a statement.

Scout council meets on Saturday

The Quebec provincial council of the Boy Scouts of Canada will hold their next meeting in Drummondville on Saturday, November 16, in the Canadian Legion hall, starting at 10 a.m.

The president, Earle T. Moore, will be in the chair. Following the meeting, lunch will be served and the speaker at that time will be the provincial commissioner, J. W. H. Miner of Granby.

A representative of La Fédération des Scouts Catholiques has been invited to attend the meeting, and several members of the business community (of Drummondville) have been invited to the luncheon.

Other members of the local district will also attend; and it is expected that representatives from Sherbrooke, Gaspé, Chateauguay Valley and Quebec plus 20 from districts within the Montreal region will bring the total to 60.

CTTC recommends toys to purchase

By Millicent Hickmore

CHRISTMAS — is just around the corner, and with Santa Claus Parade being held on November 23 — women will be shopping for toys for their children, grandchildren, and their friends' children. The problem is, what type of toys to buy, and here is where we turn to the Canadian Toy Testing Council (CTTC).

The Council was formed about 12 years ago by a number of dissatisfied parents who were irritated by the overpriced, badly-designed and sometimes even dangerous toys so often found in the stores.

CTTC consists of 18 volunteer members, all parents, including a chemist, a librarian, an economist, a physicist and a child psychologist. There is also an advisory panel of teachers, doctors, social workers and the like, whom CTTC can call on for specialized advice when necessary.

Working mainly on toys made in Canada, CTTC tests toys for children of all ages, including those for handicapped children, mentally retarded, and those afflicted with cerebral palsy.

Toys recommended by CTTC are safe, practical, durable and fairly priced — if you have toys on your Christmas list — and are puzzled as to the type you should buy — you can write to Canadian Toy Testing Council, at Trade and Commerce Building, Wellington street, Ottawa, for advice, stating the age of child and if girl or boy.

SEWING AT HOME: Short cuts are the trend today, in sewing as well as in many other projects. The home

The annual Gunners' Ball will be held in the Officers' Mess of the Craig street Armoury on December 6 at 10 p.m. The guests of honor will be Major General, the Honorable E. C. Plow, CBE, DSO, CD, and Mrs. Plow. Brigadier W. C. Leggat is chairman of the ball.

seamstress will find she can make little tots clothes and put on the finishing touches quickly by using the many appliques ready to be sewn or ironed on. Reliable Small-wares, So-Rite products, are very popular and cost very little. For the little boy there is fluffy teddy bears and dogs all ready to stitch on the finished garment, also small rabbits. And for the little girl or for women's blouses, etc., there is cards of small delicate flowers and when sewn on look like fine handwork. Another aid for the seamstress is woven sheer canvas interfacing for sportswear and dresses, called Shopwell — also an iron-on interfacing for shading detail areas, both packaged in cellophane.

YCBW AND BOM

Initials — Abbreviations — Capital Letters — Everything for speed and brevity! Wondering what the title of today's column stands for? YCBW is for "YOUNG CANADA'S BOOK WEEK" which starts tomorrow, November 15 and the other is a new one I originated, BOM stands for "BOOKS ON MUSIC".

The specially important and well publicized seven days, to make young folks cognizant with the cultural, entertaining and educational benefits of reading, seem to neglect the subject of music. Maybe it is because the majority of people in the book field have never thought in terms of promoting the reading of this subject for the annual special week.

Join me when I say, ENCOURAGE children to read the biographies of composers. There are many interesting books in elementary form of Beethoven, Chopin, Schumann, Handel, Mendelssohn, Haydn, Bach, Schubert, Brahms, Liszt, Mozart and others, that tell about their ambitions — disappointments — successes as well as the informative data on the funny happenings in their eventful lives. The unfortunate thing is that, often one has to order the books on music since shopkeepers are reluctant to stock them since they do not sell as easily as their types of reading.

Charmer

Many years ago, shortly after Sir Thomas Beecham's book, "A Mingled Chime" was published, the witty raconteur was in Montreal to conduct an orchestral concert in The Montreal Forum. His wife, pianist Betty Humby (who has also passed on) was soloist in the Saint-Saens G minor Piano Concerto for the Forum program.

At the time, a small press conference was held in his suite in the old section (now torn down) at The Windsor Hotel and I was thrilled to have been invited. I had met Sir Thomas before at a reception given by Senator and Madame Athanase David in their home in their honor.

I wonder if Sir Thomas would have the same sentiments if he were alive today? It is only two-and-a-half years since he died and in that short time the word culture has increased with the present public. Alas many people are conscious of it through television. Are the masses doers or watchers? You can answer that.

It is up to the parents, teachers and publishers to promote interest in getting young people to read BOM instead of most of them (notice that I did not say "all of them") sitting glued to television sets.

Besides biographies — ENCOURAGE them to read about the instruments — ENCOURAGE them to read about the captivating incidents in the concert field — ENCOURAGE them to read about the various forms in music — ENCOURAGE them to read about the national influence that makes the music of each country so fascinating. In short ENCOURAGE them to read BOM. Not just during the YCBW

TOP SKIER

Skier Lucile Wheeler, voted Canada's top woman athlete for world meet wins.

Lucile Wheeler will lead new ski program

Lucile Wheeler Canada's darling of the ski slopes just a few years ago, is about to fulfill one of the promises she made when she was at the height of her acclaim.

It was early in 1959 when the St. Jovite Ski baby was being paid highest tributes ever accorded to a Canadian woman athlete because of her world championship victories at Bad Gastein, Germany in 1958 that Miss Wheeler decided to retire from active competition.

And while accepting her award as Canada's outstanding woman athlete, Lucile said that she hoped that she would soon have the opportunity to pass on some of the knowledge which she had used to bring her world titles and acclaim to the young Canadians.

That time has arrived and youngsters in the Montreal area will have the best opportunity to take advantage of the situation, for owner Lou Lendman of Campanorama in the Laurentians has announced that Lucile will head the camp's ambitious ski program over the Christmas holiday period.

This is a highlight of the program listed for North America's first summer and winter camp ever organized. Miss Wheeler will have an able staff under her supervision but she will be on hand to impart her special knowledge to youngsters through the 13 day program from Dec. 21 - Jan. 2, at the site just north of Ste. Agathe.

With Miss Wheeler ready to conduct the skiing program the camp has promise of becoming a great sports centre for Jack Winters, a former member of the famed Harlem Globe trotters basketball team, will be directing a basketball clinic as well.

Winters arrived on the Montreal sports scene in 1960 and has been a big name in the area ever since. After starring for Montreal Huskies for several seasons, the giant centreman left and started another team known as the Northern Oilers for which he is playing coach.

Winter handles the basketball program for Loyola College and is considered one of the finest students of the game. Winters will pattern his clinic after those conducted by such National Basketball Association stars as Bob Cousy of the Boston Celtics and Dolph Shayes of the Syracuse Nationals.

Wanderers down Powderpuffs 63-0 to take semi-final playoffs

The Westmount Wanderers rode to a 63-0 victory over the Powderpuffs on John McDonough's 24-point scoring spree last Saturday to win their sudden death semi-final playoff game in the Black Section of the Draft Football League. "Sonny" Gavin, Bill McNally, and George Christie scored the other Wanderer points.

In the other sudden death game in the Black Section, the Westies edged Lakeshore 14-13 on touchdowns by Jim Fullerton and "Squee" Gordon.

The Wanderers will play host to the Westies this Saturday at Henri Julien Park in a sudden death game to decide which team will represent their Section in the League Championship Game on November 23rd.

The Draft Football League wrapped up its regular season play last week with the Westmount Wanderers finishing on top in the Black section while TMR and Saints tied for first place in the Red Section.

"Sonny" Gavin of the Westmount Wanderers is the leading scorer in the Black Section of the Draft Touch Football League this year. Gavin counted a fantastic total of 238 points in ten games to run away with the scoring title.

Gavin's closest pursuers were three of his teammates, Bill McNally and John McCabe who tied for second place with 111 points each. Behind them in third position was Keith Gavin with 90 points.

Tom Piper of the Rods was the top point getter in the Red Section. He scored 76 points, 14 more than runner-up Bob Cormack of Snowden who had a total of 62 points. Wally Emo of TMR with 53, and Ed Foly of the Travellers with 46, were the third and fourth place men in the race.

Top scorers in the section were:-

- "Sonny" Gavin — Wanderers, 238.
- Bill McNally — Wanderers, 111.
- John McCabe — Wanderers, 111.

Keith Gavin — Wanderers, 90.
