

Westmount repulses weather attack

By TONY PATTERSON

Making up in tension and stress what it lacks in adventure and romance is the annual Winter drama of snow-removal — a drama that is played out continuously in Westmount from mid-November to late March.

With 32 miles of street, 6 miles of sidewalk and 6 miles of lane to tend, there is little rest for City Engineer J. R. Daye and his men when the snow starts to fall. When it continues to fall, their task at times approaches the herculean.

Mr. Daye supervises a staff of 170, a number which can be increased to as many as 250 on heavy days, who in turn handle a fleet of massive machines designed to plow, lift and transport snow and to maintain passable roads through this municipality. As drudging as the job might seem, it presents its material for first rate suspense—not to mention mystery.

WEATHER REPORTS

The City of Westmount receives weather reports twice a day from a private industrial forecasting bureau. If weather is expected to be troublesome the reports become proportionately more frequent. A typical storm is the one handled over the last week.

A report came in warning of a snowfall, and predicting that, it would be remarkably heavy and would be constant over a lengthy period of time. The fall started at 3:00 a.m. Sunday.

SALT SPREADERS

The two salt spreaders operated by the municipality were immediately sent into action. Following a predetermined route they spread first the main arteries through the City and then worked their way through the 7 districts into which the municipality is divided for this purpose. This operation continued right through for the duration of the storm. When one round was completed, they started once more at the beginning.

In the meantime, 10 plow trucks, from 4 ton up, and 12 tractors commenced plowing the streets and sidewalks, following the same route as the spreaders. When they had been out a while, 14 more machines were dispatched to either load the snow onto a host of trucks or to cast it onto nearby lawns.

The operation was well under way, but it had many grueling hours to go before the bone-weary men could call a halt on a successful fight to keep the streets clear. During the next six days, men worked 15 to 17 hours at a stretch, with 4 or 5 hours off for needed sleep, and will be working still until well into tomorrow. During this time more than 4,500 cubic yards of snow has been moved in 5,000

Fire destroys local home

Next week's weather

By ERIC NEAL

February 22 to March 1

Sunny then clouding for ice storms and 2-5" of wet snow in the south, and near blizzard conditions in the north, and repeating later in the week.

Bright and cold again, and probably quite windy, with drifting snow over icy roads. We will have several "freak" storms during 1958, as we had during the last half of 1957.

Fire broke out and raged fiercely for two hours Monday to mark the first major Westmount conflagration in two months. The blaze was discovered at 3:15 a.m. in a rooming house at 382 Olivier Ave.

Miss R. Lalonde, owner and resident in the house, awoke to the smell of smoke and rushed from her downstairs apartment to the third floor. On the way she met one of the boarders who told her that the floor was full of smoke. Miss Lalonde immediately called the local Fire Department.

When firemen arrived, they discovered fires raging in the ceilings of the first and second floors and immediately put them out. On inspection of the roof, however, they discovered that the flames had penetrated through and little could be done to prevent the roof's destruction.

After two alarms and a constant playing of nine streams of water on the blaze, it was finally brought under control at five a.m. Most of the men had returned to the station by nine a.m., but a guard remained on the premises until noon, Wednesday when the police stationed one of their men at the scene.

Chief Harper theorized that the fire must have started in a second storey fireplace and crept through the walls into the ceilings.

Though the top floor was a

6-year-old dies playing behind snow machinery

Tragedy struck a Westmount family Monday afternoon when six-year-old Keith Philip Shaw was killed by a caterpillar tractor that was clearing snow from a lane near his home, 250 Metcalfe Ave.

The driver of the tractor, operated by the City of Westmount, had been once through the lane — which runs South of Ingleside and West of Metcalfe — and was turning to clear the other side when Keith, who had apparently been hanging on the back of the machine, fell under the tractor.

One of a number of men who are brought up each winter from their farms in St. Michel de Naperville to operate the tractors, the driver has been with the City for two winters and has proved reliable and trustworthy.

A family man himself, he naturally noticed children who were playing in the vicinity and took pains to stay as far away from them as possible.

Natural gas era welcomed

Brilliantly hued flares ushered in the natural gas era for most of Westmount at five o'clock this morning when the manufactured gas was burned off at numerous points throughout the City.

The operation will affect those portions of Westmount between Claremont and Kensington-Argyle and between the CPR right of way and the northern limits of Westmount.

Revision hours, places arranged

Returning Officer H. S. Upton states he had received several calls from residents who were missed when the enumerators passed through the district last week.

The Returning Officer has no opportunity to add or delete names to the lists as turned in by the enumerators.

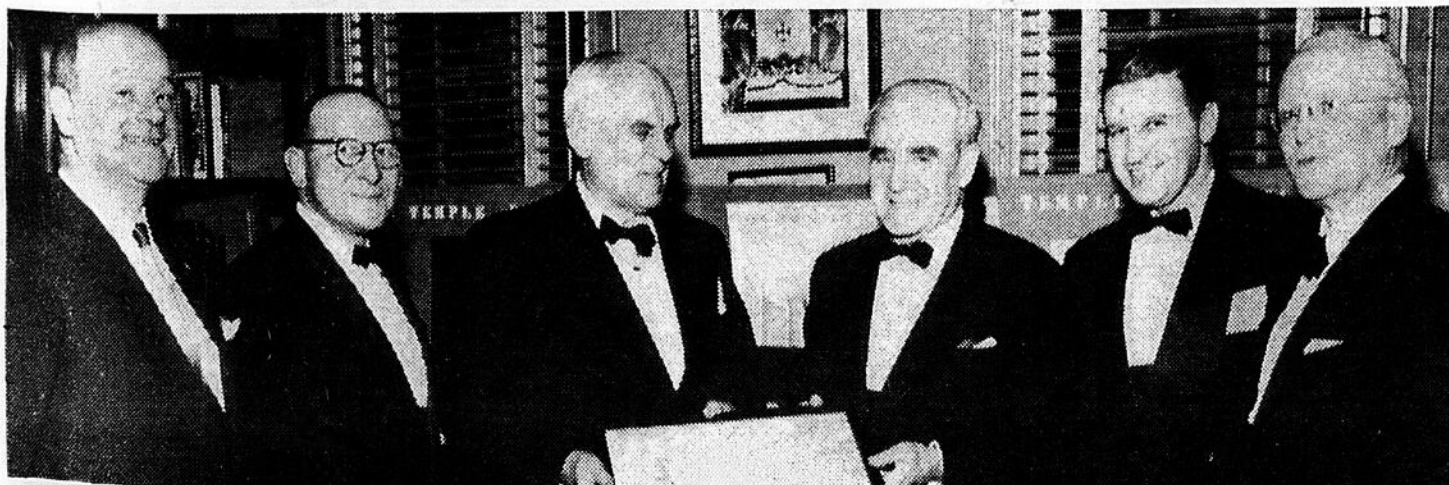

Should a resident be missed they will have an opportunity of making the correction by a visit to the Revising Officer, who has power to add. As an alternative, contact the committee room of one of the candidates who will endeavor to have any wrong corrected.

Revision takes place March 13, 14 and 15 between the hours of 10 a.m. and 11 a.m.; and 7 p.m. and 10 p.m.

Revision for Polls 76 to 92 will take place at St. George's Club, 3685 Westmount Blvd.

Revision for polls 93 to 118 and polls 123 to 125 will take place at Victoria Hall.

Revision for polls 119 to 122 and for polls 126 to 128 will take place at 751 College St.

HOCKEY RESULTS

The Unity Boys' Club Hockey House League under the direction of Boys' Work Supervisor Ron Havard has been in operation since early in January at Staynor Park. The rink at Staynor has been made available through the courtesy of the City of Westmount Recreation Department.

The League was organized for the purpose of providing an opportunity for those boys who failed to make a school or city league team. Ninety-six boys were registered and three sections organized. They are: Atoms, bantams and seniors. In last week's games Hawks defeated Canuck 4-2 and Rangers defeated Leafs 5-1. For the Hawks Roger Lefebvre and Harold Barnaby each scored two goals and for the Canucks Richard and Billy Holden scored one a-piece. In the Ranger-Leaf game, Arthur Driver and Colin Adams scored two each and John Ono, one for the Rangers while the lone tally for the Leafs was scored by Mark Ono.

BASKETBALL

Unity Upsets Lakeshore — The Unity Boys' Club Senior "B" basketball team under Coach Dick Schroder pulled the upset of the year last Friday night when they trounced the highly touted and completely packed Lakeshore quintet 95-68.

John "Bugs" McDonald who recently got his release from the University Settlement "Orchids" was sensational for Unity with a 19 point effort. McDonald who started his basketball career with Unity's Biddy team some six years ago received tremendous support from his team mates, in particular Ulrich "Ricky" Brown, who was all over the floor and when he wasn't setting up key passes, took time out to score himself, to the tune of 16 points. Dave Barnard, with the team since its inception six years ago, was also a spark-plug and Dave had a good night with 15 points.

Liberals happy over NU backing of some Conservative candidates

By POWEL SMILY (Special to The Examiner)
OTTAWA — The fact that Premier Maurice Duplessis is openly lending the support of his well-heeled political machine to certain Progressive Conservative candidates in Quebec is being welcomed by some Liberal strategists as the 'Kiss of Death'.
With what could be interpreted as a fair measure of wishful thinking, these strategists contend that Mr. Duplessis and his methods are regarded throughout the rest of Canada as something less than the apotheosis of ethical practice; and that Mr. Diefenbaker is making a bad deal in selling a partnership to the redoubtable tactician from Three Rivers.

Harold W. Soper buried Tuesday

Funeral service for Harold Warren Soper, 3246 Cedar avenue, Westmount, was held Tuesday in the Church of St. Andrew and St. Paul. Mr. Soper, well known in Montreal financial circles, died Saturday in Florida at the age of 66.

Mr. Soper was a member of the Royal Ottawa Golf Club, the Country Club of Ottawa, The Rideau Club, the Montreal Club, Kanawaki Golf Club, St. James Club of Montreal, and a past member of the Royal Montreal Golf Club. He was associated with the Province of Quebec Golf Association, and did much for sports in Canada.

He was a life governor of Montreal General Hospital and Julius Richardson Memorial Hospital. He was also a past president of the Arts Club of Montreal.

Mr. Soper is survived by his wife, the former Alice Ross; a son Warren Y., of Montreal; a daughter, Anne (Mrs. Thomas R. Fisher), of Montreal; a brother, Walter E., of Ottawa; a sister, Eleanor (Mrs. Wallace B. Creery), and four grandchildren. Burial was in Mount Royal Cemetery.

Dr. F. W. Norwood buried Tuesday

Final tribute was paid in Burlington, Ont., Tuesday, to Rev. Frederick William Norwood, DD, world renowned preacher and one-time pastor of St. James' United Church, Montreal. Well known in United Church circles here, Dr. Norwood died in hospital in Hamilton, Ont., Friday. He was 81.

Known for his unconventional autobiography "Indiscretions of a Preacher", Dr. Norwood was minister of St. James Church from Jan. 1943 to May, 1947. He held pastorates in Australia, where he was born, was educated in London and Vancouver, and travelled widely throughout the world.

He was past president of the Royal Empire Society of Montreal, honorary president of the Dickens Fellowship, Montreal branch and one of his several church positions was General Missioner for Protestant Denominations in Canada and the United States.

After serving in the First World War with Australian forces, he was appointed to a pastorate in London. In 1932, he filled a six week preaching mission at Emmanuel Church, Montreal.

Surviving is his wife, the former Alice Clark; a daughter, Joan (Mrs. R. P. Naylor), and his mother, all of Montreal. Burial will be in Mount Royal Cemetery.

Mrs. J. N. Neumann buried on Monday

Final tribute was paid Monday to Mrs. J. N. Neumann, the former Beatrice Kurnik, 3330 Ridgewood Ave., who died Sunday on her 83rd birthday in the Jewish General Hospital, following several months' illness.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Grabe Basch of Boston, Mrs. M. S. Singer of Montreal, Mrs. M. F. Goldenberg of Toronto, and Mrs. Elaine Solomon of Boston; 10 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Rabbi Harry J. Stern officiated at the service which was held at Temple Emanu-El, Westmount.

Oliver Retallack tells Rotarians about insurance

Insurance agents are generally a qualified, competent lot, whose assistance is as valuable and trustworthy as a doctor's or lawyer's, Oliver Retallack, insurance broker and vice-president of the Insurance Broker's Association, told Westmount Rotarians, Wednesday.

"Not so long ago, insurance agents were a dime a dozen," he said. "Anyone used to be able to obtain a licence, and many of the policies sold were invalid."

Now, through the efforts of the industry as a whole, the number of brokers in the province of Quebec has been reduced from some 10,000 to 4,500 within the last 10 years, he said. "As a result, the agents are more competent because they have to be to last; they are more interested in the proper handling of a client's requirements than in the commissions."

The public is increasingly being served better and more efficiently by counsel and advice rather than by the old time foot-in-the-door salesman, Retallack stated.

He advised the Rotarians to use their broker as a qualified professional counsellor on insurance matters, and to show complete confidence in him. "There may be some 'black sheep' amongst insurance agents," he noted, "but generally they are interested in giving the best service and advice to their clients, and this can't be done without the complete confidence of the client in his agent."

Retallack said the insurance industry as it is set up today provides stability to the economy of the country, as well as financial salvage and mental peace of mind.

"Any qualified insurance broker is anxious to assist you," he said. "Tell him your problems, give him your confidence and he can obtain from the Insurance companies the protection you require at the lowest possible cost - consistent with the claims settlement you expect when the unforeseen occurs."

He said the changes in insurance are occurring constantly, and it is the broker's job to keep abreast of the newest developments, to keep insurance protection modern in form, range and rate.

Snow big news during January in city report

Westmount City Manager, Tom Hughes, released his report for the month of January this week and in the spotlight was that old winter headline grabber — snow.

Total snowfall for the month exceeded 32," more than 6" above the norm for this month. Snow fell for eighteen days during the month and the fall exceeded one inch on ten of these days.

In all, 1,532.70 tons of roughing materials were used throughout January and 69,015.50 cu. yds. of snow was cleared from the streets and sidewalks.

Despite the inclemency of the weather, scavenging went forward as usual and 997.45 tons of garbage as well as 209.25 tons of ashes were collected at a total cost of $11,376.11.

The Fire Department recorded an active month in answering 60 calls — 16 for fires and 44 miscellaneous. No large fires, however, were reported.

The School Health Program was continued with 225 medical examinations being completed. Twenty eight defects requiring immediate attention were discovered and 37 defects were corrected. There were 24 home visits.

The Police Department reported a total of 129 accidents resulting in injuries to 34 persons. Compared to the figures for the previous month, this represents a decrease of 16 accidents and three injuries.

Of the accidents during the month, 103 were caused by traffic.

Sam, the Red Cross man

By CYNTHIA JONES

Marathon

"During the drive two taxis painted white with huge Red Crosses will tour the city," said Mr. Gershenson. "I first got tied up with the Red Cross in 1953 when we had our famous 37-hour marathon blood donor clinic."

Mr. Gershenson was a key figure in the success of the marathon which scored a world record for a 10-bed clinic with 2,042 pints or 55 pints an hour, and 8,000 pledges.

"I'll never forget it," said Mr. Gershenson, reminiscing in his photograph-bedecked office above his St. Catherine street eatery. "I didn't go to bed for the duration but it was worth it and I'm glad I did my bit because I was rewarded the next year."

Mr. Gershenson underwent a major operation which lasted a whole day and 10 pints of Red Cross blood were required to save his life. This experience made him a more dedicated Red Cross man than ever.

Many wounded soldiers returning from World War II will recall Mr. Gershenson's Volunteer Transport League. A total of 69,178 men and their next of kin were transported 251,920 miles to their homes by 700 volunteer cars. "We met 22 trains because there were just no taxis in those days and the poor fellows needed transportation home," said Mr. Gershenson.

Good works

Sam's good works are legend. He has arranged fundraising shows for the Canadian Institute for the Blind, including one all-night show at CKVL. He has put on fun parades for synagogues, being a member of Shaare Zedeck in N.D.G. where he lives with his wife and family at 5065 Prince of Wales avenue.

Mr. Gershenson was 27 when he and his three brothers-in-law opened Dinty Moore's on its present site. "We had 40 seats and now we have 300, and 105 employees," said Mr. Gershenson, a familiar figure to his patrons, including many 'show' folks.

Cross buns along with hot cross buns at Easter time in his restaurant Dinty Moore's which up to now has been noted for its window-cooked hickory-smoked and charcoal-broiled steaks, fowl and spareribs.

"I'm engaged on other gimmicks, too," Mr. Gershenson explained eagerly. "Did you know that during the campaign which opens Saturday, that 75,000 place-mats showing a pretty girl in a Red Cross uniform and beret, are distributed throughout Montreal restaurants. Doubtless the proprietors will co-operate wholeheartedly with this promotion because not only are the paper mats attractive but Mr. Gershenson pulls some weight in restaurant circles as a director of the Canadian Restaurant Association and the Quebec Restaurant Association.

WE SAY

Westmount's record with staff is good

WESTMOUNT has an excellent record when it comes to keeping staff members around for more years than some of them care to admit.

The 25-year-club is growing steadily. Each year-end a new group joins the charmed circle.

In these days of movement to the suburbs, we find many a city hall where the calcomine on the front hall is as green as the manner of the tax-collector at the counter. But in Westmount, things are different.

You can slip into a conversation with a city employee almost as easily as into your favorite smoking-jacket.

He probably discussed the weather with your father, and maybe even went fishing with your grandfather.

Brotherhood is advancing

PERHAPS it seems paradoxical to suggest that during this last year, in a world beset by deepening tension and suspicion, the ideal of brotherhood has advanced noticeably.

But undoubtedly it has. The antithesis of brotherhood is a complex compound of smugness, nurtured by a feeling that one race or nation, one religion or social caste, is superior to another.

What setbacks such notions took in the last 12 months!

Whether the person responsible was a Petrograd rocket specialist or a Moscow hockey player, a Tokyo golfer or baseball star, or a Chinese physicist, the effect was the same. Some of the last vestiges of the old idea of inherited intellectual, technological and physical domination were blasted; and the explosions were heard around the world.

What does this mean to brotherhood? Simply that the first requirement of brotherhood is respect—a recognition that all other peoples are not to be looked down on, but, as often as not, to be looked up to—at least, to be regarded on eye level.

When we contemplate the prospect of encountering a half-vegetable, half-animal visitor from Saturn, holding in his tentacles a hydrogen ray gun, even a Dyak head-hunter seems a pretty good fellow to have along in a pinch. And the next-door Presbyterian or Catholic, or Jew, or Moslem, seems a boon companion and friend in need indeed.

Such conjecture, of course, is partly fanciful exaggeration, yet, in our innermost minds the same thoughts have been hovering around all Western peoples.

The processes of onward-marching brotherhood are not without pain and inconvenience, humiliation and hardship. But like many other kinds of worthwhile transition, the result will be well worth the temporary travail. — Saint John Telegraph Journal.

Of the Westmount band's performance adjudicator Robert A. Rosevear said:

"Never before have I found such expression in the Toccata for Band by Frank Erickson. The playing and the interpretation was excellent."

When maneuvering for his last turn, however, he noticed two children, a boy and a girl, near his machine and got down to move them to a safer place. The children ran and as he looked about, he saw the body of the young lad behind his tractor.

Police enquiry later ascertained that the children who ran were Deborah and Robert Shaw, brother and sister to the dead youngster.

A coroner's inquest held Tuesday returned a verdict of accidental death and exonerated the operator of any blame.

And the true tragedy of Keith Shaw was contained in the words of his young sister to police who questioned her.

She said: "Keith was playing on the tractor and got killed" — a statement more eloquent than pages to warn those children who, unaware of the hovering danger, might wish for the same type of thrill which cost this youngster his life.

At the 46th annual meeting of the Westmount YMCA, E. L. Hamilton, 650 Belmont avenue, was elected chairman of the Board of Managers. J. C. Annesley, 1 Sunnyside avenue, was elected vice-chairman.

Five new members were added to the Board — M. E. Fee, R. O. Huntington, R. C. B. Love, J. O. Pitt and L. H. Walls. The following members were re-elected for a one year term — J. C. Annesley, W. F. W. D. Robb, retiring chairman, in presenting his report commented on the number of new clubs which had been formed during the past year, including Phiat, Co-Ed Hi-Y, four Junior Hi-Y's, Technicians Club and Skin Diving Club. Mr. Robb also mentioned that the Branch has increased its membership by 23% over the past two years.

Mr. Eric Hamilton presented the Club Charter to Miss Sarah Toppin, president of the Co-Ed Hi-Y and Mr. Charles Reckitt presented the Club Charter to Miss Susan Taggart, president of the Alpha Gamma Chapter of Phiat. Leadership certificates were presented to various leaders in the Youth and Physical Departments and a leadership pin was presented to Bruce McFarlane.

Guest speaker of the evening was Rollo G. Smethers, past president of the International Association of Y's Mens' Clubs, who chose as his topic "Potentialities Unlimited." Mr. Smethers stressed the growth of the YMCA from the birth to its founder, George Williams, to the first YMCA in London, England, in 1844. He stressed the importance of using buildings and equipment as mere tools in order to get at the real job of the YMCA which is developing character in young men and women throughout the world. Mr. Smethers spoke of the close relationship that the YMCA has maintained with the churches down through the years. In closing, Mr. Smethers cited the four main points of a salesman's program. (1. To know your product, which he stated as producing Christian citizens. (2.) To keep

Rink construction is up to schedule says city manager

Construction of the Artificial Ice Rink is proceeding on schedule according to a report from City Manager Tom Hughes.

Electric power is available for use at any time and installation of the electrical equipment is scheduled to start immediately.

The pre-cast roofing is presently being installed and the finished roof will be put on when this work is finished in about two weeks.

The dressing and equipment room accommodation is well on its way to completion.

The installation of rink piping has been postponed from its original date of next week to sometime in April.

The concrete floor, which must be poured in one continuous 36 hour operation, will be put in when the rink lighting has been set up. It is expected that this arrangement will eliminate the necessity for flood lighting which might leave shadows unlit and consequently cause an inexperienced pouring job.

The driver who speeds along at 85 is literally killing time.

Scriptural passages in the Lesson-Sermon on "Mind" will include the following from Isaiah (40:28): "Hast thou not known? hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary? there is no searching of his understanding."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mark Baker Eddy will be read the following (180:25): "When man is governed by God, the ever-present Mind who understands all things, man knows that with God all things are possible. The Drama of Salvation Prologue

By
The Venerable R. Kenneth Naylor, D.D.,
Rector, Trinity Memorial Church

From time to time one is presented with little booklets of texts which are considered especially important, and as having a special bearing on our salvation. It is true that some passages in Scripture are more important than others: it is vastly more important to know that He bore our sins in His own Body on the tree than to know the list of the Kings of Israel; it is more important that He looked round about on them with anger for the hardness of their hearts than that St. Paul was let down from the wall of Damascus in a basket.

But in choosing out our texts we should be careful to keep in mind that Scripture is a unity, and we are not at liberty to pick and choose in order to support our own particular theories about salvation. For example, Luther so emphasized "faith" that he considered the Epistle of James "a right strawy Epistle." So too the Anglican tends to lay so great an emphasis on the Church and the Ministry that he neglects other things of equal importance. We need to preserve what St. Paul calls "the proportion of faith."

That does not mean that every Bible writer gives us a full picture of salvation; rather he presents us with the elements of the story which are satisfying to him, or to use a Reformation phrase, "which speak to his condition." That means for us that no Biblical writer is complete in himself. Matthew needs to be balanced by John, Paul by Peter. They are not contradictory but complementary. Paul's emphasis on faith is completed by James' emphasis on works, and by his own emphasis on love. Yet there is a sense in which each writer is complete. This is his way of understanding God's scheme of salvation. Matthew and Luke, for example, felt that the New Testament story of salvation must begin with the Nativity of the Saviour; John felt that it should begin at the very beginning of things; while Mark was content to begin with the Ministry of John the Baptist.

I am going to suggest then that we try a course of Bible reading, taking one man's idea of salvation, not in little texts but in large sections. And because Mark is the most compact of the Gospels I am going to outline Mark's scheme in the form of a great drama — an action — in which God Himself in the Person of His Son is the chief Actor. Some may be ready to read St. Mark with me, to see in the Gospel the greatest of the Works of God, and the reaction of men to these works.

St. James marks 1st Lent Sunday

Sunday, is the first Sunday in Lent and it is being observed in St. James United Church, at the morning service by the Minister, Reverend Norman Rawson beginning a new series of morning sermons on the general theme "This Amazing Jesus."

At 7:30 p.m. the famous film "Martin Luther" will be shown in St. James. This is a film that every Protestant should see more than once in order that they can be well grounded in the beginnings of the Protestant movement. For non-Protestants it will be a source of information that should act as a corrective to much mis-information.

This is his way of understanding God's scheme of salvation. Matthew and Luke, for example, felt that the New Testament story of salvation must begin with the Nativity of the Saviour; John felt that it should begin at the very beginning of things; while Mark was content to begin with the Ministry of John the Baptist.

Conservatives hit high gear in Westmount

The Conservative campaign in the constituency of St. Antoine-Westmount is moving into high gear. "All our plans seem to be working out well" Ross Webster, the Conservative Candidate for the district reports.

"It's amazing how the people are rallying around and offering their assistance in this campaign — there doesn't seem to be any doubt about the fact that this constituency will have their man sitting on the government side of the house with John Diefenbaker after March 31," he says.

Campaign headquarters are being set up in Victoria Hall and a complete executive are hard at work completing all arrangements. Not only the men but a very active women's organization and the ever-active Young PC's are in the thick of the battle and will be more active from day to day.

"The way their old-guard candidates are dropping out it looks as though one of the smaller parties may emerge as the official opposition" suggested Webster. "The shoe is definitely on the other foot now and the opposition parties are having difficulties securing candidates to contest the riding."

The campaign here promises to be an interesting one. Prime Minister Diefenbaker has indicated his keen interest in the outcome of the election in St. Antoine-Westmount and has given his whole-hearted support to Ross Webster.

Lenten Humility

I searched upon the starry heights for God,
Climbing, with tired feet, each cloud wrapped peak,
My search was fruitless, — so in doubt, and fear,
Downward I turned, — a lowlier path to seek.

As down I stumbled, toward the valley dark,
Wearied of life, — in bitter, deep, despair,
Feeling my quest for Him, was at an end, —
Then lo! I found the shining Presence there.

Miss Margaret Aitken, MP, of Toronto, will speak to Women's Service Clubs

Miss Margaret Aitken, MP, will be the guest speaker at the Joint Service Club Dinner to be held at the Windsor Hotel on February 25. Margaret Aitken is a daily columnist on the Toronto Telegram and Conservative MP for York-Humber.

A third generation Canadian with Scottish forbears, she was born in Newcastle, New Brunswick, and educated in Toronto— at Branksome Hall and at the University of Toronto. Before graduating, she completed her education abroad.

For 18 years, she has been a member of the Telegram staff—a reporter, feature writer and columnist. Assignments have taken her back and forth across Canada and the U.S. In the past 10 years, she has covered political elections and conventions, meetings between war leaders (Ex-Prime Minister Churchill and the late President Roosevelt), important events in Britain, including the meetings between Commonwealth Prime Ministers, the Royal Wedding in 1947, an industrial tour of the British Isles under auspices of the Dollar Sterling Export Board in 1950 and the Coronation in 1953. Another major assignment included the Middle East, at the time of the Jewish-Arab war and when the Republic of Israel came into being.

In January 1953, Miss Aitken announced her candidature for election to the Federal Parliament. This catapulted her into a hotly contested nomination fight and a close election. She won the new riding of York-Humber, after two weeks of suspense and recounts, by a majority of 67. In 1957 she was re-elected with a majority close to 8,000.

Immediately following the election, in collaboration with Byrnie Hope Sanders, C.B.E., Miss Aitken wrote a book on her adventures in politics. It is entitled "Hey, Ma! I Did It," and reviewers across Canada have called it a hilarious combination of a whodunit and a political primer. In 1955 Miss Aitken won the Canadian Women's Press Club award for the best column in a daily newspaper across Canada. Her "Between You & Me" column is a daily feature in the Toronto Telegram and the Vancouver Herald. She also writes a political column

Miss Aitken's brother, William Aitken, is a journalist in England and a member of the British House of Commons. She and her brother are the only brother-sister team in the British Commonwealth of Nations to be members of Parliament in two Houses—the brother in Britain, the sister in Canada.

This year, Miss Aitken was named Chairman of a Parliamentary Standing Committee—the first time in Canadian history that a woman has been so honored. She is also a member of four other Parliamentary Committees.

Red Cross home nursing relieves hospital burden

Home nursing taught by the Red Cross, and loan cupboards, which are a part of the home nursing service, are helping to relieve the burden on hospitals in the Province of Quebec.

The courses in home nursing and loans of hospital beds, wheelchairs and other sickroom equipment give assurance to hospital medical staffs that a convalescent patient can be well-cared for at home and need not remain in the hospital wards. Beds occupied by patients who can be looked after at home can be vacated for the benefit of incoming patients.

Volunteer instructors, all trained nurses, gave 36 Red Cross home nursing courses during 1957. They instructed 788 students in 15 communities. Ten courses were held in Montreal, five each in Deux-Montagnes branches and Mont Laurier, two each in Howick, Rawdon, Rouyn and St. Bruno, and one each at Cowansville, Huntingdon, Jonquière, Knowlton, Lachine, La Tuque, Nicolet and Ormstown.

Home nursing and the loan cupboards are among services maintained by the annual Red Cross financial campaign. The appeal will be held in March with a provincial objective of $1,243,300.

Red Cross home nursing courses were attended by women in all groups from 18 to past 70. The lecture and practical work in the courses teach recognition of the various needs of sick children and adults, how a family can organize and work together to care for a home patient, and how to give meals, medicines and treatment to the patient. Lessons are devoted to care of the aged and the chronically ill, to pre-natal care, child birth and baby-care, and to many emergency situations, including emergency deliveries.

round the clock. For the first time in several years it was deemed necessary to dump snow in parks. And this was just the amount of snow loaded by blowers. The amount cast off the streets and onto nearby lawns is well-nigh incalculable.

MAIN ARTERIES

The two main 'beats' which receive priority in any storm are those main arteries carrying traffic right through the City — St. Catherine St., Sherbrooke St., Cote St. Antoine rd., Westmount ave., and Westmount Blvd. If a storm should happen along at the evening rush hour, all attention is directed toward keeping Cote St. Antoine rd. clear. All traffic can then be routed through Westmount on the one street while work goes smoothly forward on the others.

Immediate attention is also given to clearing a fire route from No. 1 station to the top of Westmount. This route follows Cote St. Antoine to Fordham and thence up to Sydenham and Edgchill.

When these most important routes have been cleared, work commences in each of the 7 sections. Each area is supervised by a foreman, equipped with a 1 ton pick up truck, and all areas are given equal preference and facilities.

combatting a storm," said Mr. Daye, "is to get on top of it before it gets out of hand. But this presents its problems. If we decide to move our equipment at the first sign of a storm, and then that snowfall doesn't materialize in any proportions, we have made an error in judgment that will be rather costly. If, on the other hand, we decide not to move but to wait, and the storm strikes hard and fierce, we are once again behind an expensive eight ball which has the added disadvantage of inconvenience for the citizens."

All, as you can see, is not roses for a City engineer.

And his job is made no easier by irate citizens who demand to know "what right has he to toss snow on our lawns?" or "what is meant by towing my car to a garage?"

As a matter of fact, both these measures are taken in the interests of the tax-payers who complain.

In the first place, snow that is uncommonly dirty or that would obviously mar the appearance of a neighborhood, is never cast on lawns. To haul away all the snow in trucks, however, would cost an estimated 600% more than to merely cast it.

The problem of the parked car, moreover, is a very touchy one. It is true that the occasional well-meaning driver will leave his car in what he deems to be a lawful parking space only to return hours later to find it gone. The justification for this action, however, is contained in the precautions taken to prevent it.

Snow removal signs are always posted four hours before any work is done. If, in that time, a parked car has not been moved, the police department is notified and they make an effort to determine if anyone in the immediate area is the owner. Only when this measure has along with people is the fact that a number of his employees have worked with him since Dinty's was founded 20 years ago.

A native Montrealer, Mr. Gershenson is the only child of the late Morris Gershenson, a well-to-do clothing manufacturer, who died in 1929. His mother, Fanny, lives with her son. Sam left Baron Byng High School after one year. "I flunked out," he said, "I was just interested in sports but I've read a good deal since, everything but fiction, and I guess you'd call me a self-educated man."

failed is the garage called to remove the obstacle.

And the reason is plain. To have several trucks and a blower, with the men who run them, held up for any length of time is rather costly. To return later would entail even greater expense. Far more convenient and less costly to merely haul the offending vehicle away. And all you drivers do understand, don't you?

NOT HEARTLESS

Let it not be said, however, that the clearers of snow lack either heart or conscience. Let the record make note of some of their deeds of chivalry.

For any large or important occasion, say a dinner or a large private party, which is threatened with disaster because of the inclemency, the shovel of the department is available — within the bounds, of course, of reason.

Walks and roads surrounding churches invariably receive prompt attention should the snow be so disrespectful as to fall on a week-end.

time at 19 he visited the Museum of Natural History in New York. At the Museum he met Roy Andrews Chapman, the archaeologist, who found dinosaur eggs in the Gobi desert. "I was thrilled and he took me to lunch," said Mr. Gershenson. "I spent five and a half days there and everytime I go to New York I visit that museum." (Chapman is now curator).

In 1936 he married Fanny Manella. "She had the same name as my mother which has led to confusion on occasion," said Mr. Gershenson.

The Gershensons have two children. Maureen, 18 a redhead, who is attending Macdonald College after a year at McGill. "She is going to be a teacher and already has done some practising at Rose-dale School," said Mr. Gershenson, proudly.

His 15-year-old son, Carl, whose nickname is "Cowboy", is at Monkland High School. "He is body-building at Billy Hill's," said Sam.

Many friends

Among Mr. Gershenson's show people friends are Mark Stevens, the TV actor, and Jimmy Coghill, of Old Corona Barn fame. He has been photographed with many celebrities including Mickey Rooney, Dorothy Lamour and Barbara Ann Scott. A mason, he is also an honorary member of the Association of Canadian Radio and Television Artists.

For relaxation Sam often goes hunting. "Of course, I never kill anything," he said. "And in the summers I have a 24 foot cabin cruiser at the Lord Reading Yacht Club at Beaconsfield. It's called 'Fansam' and we go cruising on Lake St. Louis. That's the life," he said, happily.

Ottawa beats Westies in Quebec tourney

By GEO. E. JONES
(Sports Editor)

QUEBEC: Ottawa Central YMCA won the Quebec YMCA annual cage tourney, their second straight, as part of the Sports Day, when they defeated Verdun Pats of southwestern YMCA, 47-39, in the third and final game. Both teams had won their opening two games.

Westmount YMCA placed third with one win and two losses, while hosts Quebec had three losses. Entries from Central, Notre Dame de Grace and International withdrew from the tourney.

Westmount competed in the gymnastics tourney against Quebec and won. Ottawa swimmers beat Quebec, the only two clubs to compete. An exhibition of table tennis completed the tournament.

A poor shooting show in the first half, was the downfall for Verdun Pats when they lost to Ottawa.

At the half, Ottawa were ahead 30-16 but in the second half Verdun won out 23-17.

Bob Kelly was top man for Verdun with 12 points. Best for Ottawa was tall John Stotts with 18 points. Frank Dunnigan tallied 13. Deneffreo scored eight.

Verdun Pats won their second game with a 61-47 win over Quebec Spartans who held the Verdun crew to a 23-22 edge in the first half. It was only the last few minutes of play of the first half that saw the Pats take their one point edge.

Bob Sauer and Jimmy Matchett came out tied for the scoring honors in this game, 21 points each. Bob Kelly picked up 13.

Best for Quebec was Alex Talbot with 19 points. Drouin was next high man with 16 points.

POOR SECOND HALF

Leading 24-30 at the end of the half, Ottawa scored a 61-44 victory over Westmount.

The Westies played a poor second half losing 33-20. This was Westmount's second straight game.

John Stotts and Joe Deneffreo tied for scoring honors with 18 points each. Dunnigan tallied 12. For Westies, Bud Thompson was high man with 16 and Vic Bryant was next high with 12. Bryant got all his points in the first half, but was tied up in the second by Ottawa checks.

FIRST WESTIES WIN

Westmount won their first game, their last of the three game touney, defeating Quebec 67-44. Westies had little trouble. They lead 34-21 at the half and won the second half 43-23.

Vic Thompson and Don Bryant were Westies' top scorers with 16 points each. Ancrum tallied 13. Harrison and Lol Welton, executive secretary of the Westmount YMCA scored 12 points.

PATS WIN 49-34

Verdun Southwestern Y Pats

came up with a 49-34 win over Westmount, one of their four rivals in the MBL Western section.

Playing without two of their regular six foot scoring stars, Ron Mawhinney and Doug Sauer; coach Jim Tsonos, who also played, used three members of the house league, Bill Murray, Keith Turnbull and Ed Meehan.

Bob Sauer was top scorer with 15 while Bob Kelly was next high with 14. The best for Westmount was Harrison with 12. Piper scored nine. Pats lead 22-12 at the half.

Rangers, Braves lead termite

Rangers and Braves are still unbeaten after six starts in the Westmount Recreation Department Termite Hockey League.

Rangers trounced the winless Dukes 8-1. Johnny Donnelly scored four goals, Mietek Radomar three and Kevin Cooney picked up a single. Ralph Plaskett put the Dukes on the score sheet.

Philip Thom and Stephen Kerigan combined their talents to give the Bisons a 3-2 win over Maple Leafs. Thom scored all three goals on plays set up by Kerigan.

Brahm Levine's third period tally sunk the Barons 1-0 in the third period.

Games lost to the weatherman last Saturday, will be played tomorrow starting at 9:30 a.m., Braves meet Leafs; 10:10, Barons take on Dukes; 10:50, Rangers hook up with Barons.

Unity upsets Lakers 95-68

The biggest upset in MBL games last week was the one that Unity beat Lakeshore 95-68. Playing coach Ed Lucht sat this game out, but the 95-68 decision could not have been much better if Eddy had played.

Unity's big gun was Johnny McDonough, who played for University Settlement Orchids this year but got his release. His six foot seven inch height put 19 points through the hoops, and was Unity glad.

Dick Schroder's Unity boys could do no wrong and were hitting at a fine rate.

McDonough was aided no little by shifty Ulrich Browns who, besides scoring 16 points, set up his mates with tricky passes on numerous occasions.

Mike Barnard and Grant Peterson scored 12 points apiece for the winners while Eugene Tabb scored 10.

Danny O'Connell matched McDonough's 19 point output while

Quebec's Talbot wins scoring

Quebec: Alex Talbot, of the Quebec Spartans won the tourney scoring with 53 points. He is also the team's high scorer in the Quebec league.
