HOTEL RUINS YIELD SECOND BODY

Searchers Recover Charred Remains Of Oswald Charlewood

Considerable Difficulty Experienced in Identifying Second Corpse Found in Grand Central Hotel Ruins — Little Light as to Origin of Fatal Blaze Uncovered at Opening of Coroner's Inquest Into Death of Robert Cooper.

Almost at the same time that Coroner Eugene St. Pierre began the inquest into the death of Robert Cooper, twenty-five years old, who died in the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital from injuries received in the holocaust which destroyed the Grand Central Hotel on Monday morning, searchers this morning discovered the charred remains of thirty-one year old Oswald Charlewood, the second body to be recovered of the trio trapped in the blazing structure.

The body of Charlewood was discovered about 9.30 o'clock in a third-storey bedroom and was so badly mutilated by the flames that considerable difficulty was experienced by his grief-stricken mother, Mrs. Ernest Blodgett, and Mr. Blodgett, in definitely identifying the remains when they were taken to Lord's Funeral Home. With all of the inmates of the hotel except Charlewood and Lancelot Stewart accounted for, the shape and contours of the trunk, all that was left, indicated that it was that of Charlewood. Stewart being a man of slighter build.

Also resting in the funeral home are the remains of Stewart Grose, twenty-eight, who sacrificed his life in a vain attempt to rescue fellow-boarders in the hotel after having brought two to safety.

Fears at one time held for the safety of a Toronto salesman, Ralph Askew, missing since the time of the fire on Monday morning, were allayed yesterday afternoon when the latter reported to the police. Suffering from the effects of his forced exit from the hotel, he had taken refuge in another hostelry and had remained in bed for twenty-four hours, not realizing the concern caused by his absence.

The heavy rain which began to fall late this morning was welcomed by the Fire Department who hoped that it would definitely extinguish the smouldering ruins which have given the Department considerable trouble in the past three days, even as late as this morning a call being turned in for equipment to combat a fresh outbreak in what remained of the roof.

Gave Life Saving Fellow Boarders.

His effort to save his fellow boarders is believed to have played an important part in drawing Charlewood to his death. When he received word of the conflagration, Charlewood awakened Doug Hunt, now a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital suffering from burns and other injuries, and went back into the dense smoke to spread the alarm. It was while on this mission that Charlewood was believed to have been overcome by smoke and flame.

Inquest Opened Today

The inquest into Cooper's death was adjourned until tomorrow afternoon to hear two more witnesses, after the evidence submitted this morning indicated that the fatal blaze originated in the vicinity of the kitchen early on Monday morning. The witnesses still to be heard are Miss Gabrielle Isabelle, maid in the hotel who discovered the fire, and Constable Picard, who was patrolling Wellington street shortly after the fire.

Warns Against Dominion Becoming Mere Dependency Of United States

Former Secretary-of-State Attacks "Vicious Propaganda" Being Spread in Effort to Have Canada Abandon Portion of Valuable British Market.

Montreal, Oct. 20.—Hon. C. H. Cahan, former Conservative Secretary of State, declared in an address last night that Canadians should "resist all efforts to make this country a mere dependency of the United States."

Speaking before the Conservative Association of St. Lawrence, St. George, Mr. Cahan denounced what he called a "vicious propaganda" both in respect to trade matters and the "dangerous illusion" that Canada must "rely on the naval and military forces of the United States for defence of our Pacific Coast ports against foreign aggression."

The former cabinet member now represents St. Lawrence-St. George, a Montreal riding, in the House of Commons.

On the question of trade, he declared the United States was now "inviting" Canada to give up some of its Empire preferences in order

Chinese Take Upper Hand In Struggle For North Province

Foreign Reports from Tsinan, Shantung Capital, Declare Provincial Troops Under General Han Fu-Chu Are Making Steady Advances Northward—Japanese Retreat Under Activity of Chinese Guerrilla Units.

Shanghai, Oct. 20.—Shanghai received today the first independent reports that Japanese not only are slowed down but are being pushed back on one section of the North China front.

Foreign reports from Tsinan, Shantung province capital, were that provincial troops under General Han Fu-Chu are making steady advances northward toward Tschow, near the northern provincial border.

The Japanese about-face was ascribed jointly to intense activity of Chinese guerrilla units and assertions that overtures are in progress for a compromise between Japanese and General Han.

In Shanghai a Japanese spokesman declared Japanese troops were digging their way forward against Chinese of the Shanghai front. United States Ambassador Nelson T. Johnson made written representations to the Chinese Government asking that Chinese warplanes quit flying over the Shanghai International Settlement and dropping bombs in foreign areas.

The Embassy representatives, presented at Nanking, were based on a report by Consul General Clarence E. Gauss, showing 1,990 Chinese and sixteen foreigners have been killed in the foreign areas.

The Ambassador said previous Chinese assurances that planes would not fly over foreign areas had not been fulfilled. He said foreigners have been endangered because Chinese planes attract anti-aircraft fire and increase the probability of a repetition of previous incidents in which Chinese bombs fell in foreign areas.

527 EXECUTED IN RUSSIA DURING LAST FIVE MONTHS

Moscow, Oct. 20.—Sixty-five executions for anti-Soviet activities were reported from the provinces today, raising to 527 the known death toll for sabotage and espionage in five months.

Fifty-four were reported executed in Ulan Ude, in the Buryat Mongolian republic, for spying and wrecking on the railroad, allegedly at the behest of the Japanese intelligence service.

KING AND QUEEN WELCOMED BY A LARGE CROWD

Autumn Mists and Cold Weather Failed to Keep People from Turning Out to Greet Their Majesties at Bradford, Yorkshire.

Bradford, Yorkshire, Oct. 20.—Autumn mists and cold weather greeted the King and Queen to Bradford and district today but large crowds again turned out to welcome them to this centre of the woollen industry.

Their Majesties spent the early part of the day at nearby Halifax. They lunched with the mayor and afterwards were introduced to the members of the Australian Rugby League team which is touring the country.

Bradford factory workers massed in the streets in numbers estimated at 100,000 as the King and Queen entered the industrial city. Sir Samuel Hoare, Home Secretary, accompanied the Royal party.

Yesterday they filled engagements at Hull and York. It was the first time a reigning monarch had visited the latter city since the days of the Stuarts.

In the west of England the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester concluded a tour of the Duchy of Cornwall estates. At Exeter the Duke laid the foundation stone of a new library for University College of the South-west.

The couple were warmly greeted as they motored through the country lanes of Devon and Cornwall on their two-day tour. They returned to London by train in the afternoon.

EXPLOSION CAUSED $40,000 DAMAGE

Montreal, Oct. 20.—A midnight explosion of undetermined origin destroyed one of the "mitrator houses" at the isolated plant of Canadian Industries Limited near Beloeil, about twenty-five miles northeast of Montreal. The one-storey frame building, located since the three workers left

Claims Debt Repudiation To Replace Social Credit In Aberhart Schemes

Conservative Senator Declares Indications Are Premier Amerhart Will Base Plea for Re-election on Statement "You Have Not Had to Pay Your Debts While I Was in Power."

Edmonton, Oct. 20.—Senator W. A. Griesbach told the West Edmonton Conservative Association last night that Premier Aberhart's address here Sunday indicated he is getting ready to "ditch" Social Credit and base his appeal to the electorate solely on the statement "You haven't had to pay your debts while I was in power."

Senator Griesbach said he did not know whether the Premier might abandon Social Credit altogether or merely cease talking about it in his appeals to Alberta voters. "But I do believe," he added, "that from now on the debt-cutting side of his administration will be stressed more and more strongly, and that Social Credit will pass slowly out of the picture."

UNITED STATES NOT COMMITTED ON ORIENT ROW

President Roosevelt Denies Republican Charge that He Has Reached Agreement with Britain to Change Policy.

Aboard Roosevelt Train en Route to Washington, Oct. 20.—President Roosevelt headed toward Washington for conferences on farm, budget and housing problems today after asserting the United States would enter the nine-power treaty conference at Brussels October 30th unhindered by any advance commitments to "other governments."

A formal statement on the Belgian parley to consider peace in the Orient was issued after a conference at Hyde Park, N.Y., with Norman H. Davis, American delegate to the conference, who sails today for Europe.

It was generally regarded as a reply to the statement of Senator Hiram Johnson, Republican, California, demanding the President state his foreign policy intentions in "plain language," and asserting "United States was entering the conference undoubtedly with a prior understanding with Great Britain."

Johnson's statement that the "ambulatory" Ambassador Davis would not be going to Brussels "unless in advance a programme had been agreed on between England and this country" drew this response from Mr. Roosevelt:

"Mr. Davis, of course, will enter the conference without any commitments on the part of this Government to other governments."

There was no comment from the President on the stock market slump, but officials declared no federal move to close the New York Stock Exchange was under consideration.

At the close of their shift at five o'clock, was wrecked at an estimated loss of $40,000. No one was injured.

CANADA TODAY IS WELCOMING U.S. MINISTER

Government Leaves Cares of Office Aside Today to Greet United States Secretary of State and Mrs. Hull.

Ottawa, Oct. 20.—The Government today prepared to entertain Cordell Hull, United States Secretary of State, due here at noon for a three-day courtesy visit in Ottawa and Toronto. No cabinet meetings were scheduled for the rest of the week, following yesterday's council at which a bye-election date was announced for Victoria.

The administration's decision on allowance or disallowance of Alberta's three contentious pieces of legislation dealing with credit, banking and the press, will not be made known till next week at least, Prime Minister Mackenzie King told a post-cabinet press conference yesterday.

The Prime Minister announced Victoria's bye-election to fill the seat rendered vacant by the death last week of Hon. S. F. Tolmie, former British Columbia Premier and Federal Agriculture Minister, will be held November 29.

His announcement brought to the close the number of bye-elections to be held in the next five weeks. Others are scheduled November 15 in Frontenac-Addington where Hon. Colin Campbell, former Liberal House member, resigned to contest a seat in the Ontario Legislature and in Dufferin-Simcoe where Hon. Earl Rowe, Ontario Conservative leader, resigned for the same reason. Both men were defeated but both are expected to get seats in Ontario bye-elections.

ANTI-CZECH FEELING IN GERMANY WHIPPED TO NEW HEAT TODAY

Berlin, Oct. 20.—Anti-Czech feeling in Germany was whipped to a new heat by the press today.

German newspapers supported editorially the position taken by Konrad Henlein, leader of the Sudeten Deutsche party, who wrote an open letter to Czechoslovakia's President, Eduard Benes, insisting on autonomy for German districts of the Czech republic.

Henlein's letter followed a border incident in which Czech police were said to have man-handled members of his party attempting to hold a banned rally.

Further Concessions On Non-Intervention Must Come From Fascist Side

Although British and French Governments Are Far from Abandoning Hope, View Is Held that Italian and German Delegates Must Yield on Question of Withdrawing Volunteers Before Grant of Belligerency Rights.

London, October 20.—The cabinet today considered a last effort to break the deadlock over Spain. Despite the dark outlook, both the British and French Governments are far from abandoning hope. They see no reason to assume that non-intervention has definitely broken down.

At the same time, from present indications, the concessions must come from the Italian and German side. The British and French Governments, it is intimated, hold to their position that belligerent rights for both sides in Spain can be granted only after a substantial number of volunteers have been withdrawn and that withdrawals must be on a proportional basis. Reports that the French are ready to drop proportional withdrawal are not confirmed here.

(A Havas News Agency report said it had been learned from informed sources that Great Britain and France would adopt the suggestion made by the Italian delegate yesterday that the British plan of July be substituted for the five-point French plan. This, it was said, would force Italy and Germany to take a stand on the basic question of withdrawing volunteers, and put an end to quibbling over methods of procedure.)

(The British plan calls for control of non-intervention in Spain, the granting of belligerency rights, and the withdrawal of volunteers, and discussion of these points in that order.)

Likewise no confirmation is forthcoming of Gibraltar reports of further movements of Italian volunteers to Cadiz. The Radical-Socialist newspaper L'Oeuvre, of Paris, reports the Italians have established bases in the tiny Columbretes Islands west of the Balearics and that the Germans have established submarine bases on the island of Alboran, about 150 miles east of Gibraltar.

FAMILY BUDGET IS GREATER THAN 1936

Ottawa, Oct. 20.—The Dominion Bureau of Statistics' cost of living index, based on numerous factors affecting the family budget, showed a rise of three per cent, in September in a yearly comparison but declined to 83.4 from an August figure of 83.6. Base year is 1926.

Principal contributing factor to the downward trend in the current year was a two-month recession in food prices which ran counter to average seasonal behaviour. Principal recessions occurred in vegetables and beef which declined sufficiently to offset rises in prices of eggs, butter and other meats.

In the yearly comparison the food declined from 79.1 to 78.3, fuel sank from 86.1 to 84.7, rent was up from 83.8 to 87.3, clothing from 70.6 to 72.9, sundries from 92.2 to 93.1.

The total index was nine per cent. higher than the 1936 depression low while wholesale commodity prices were up twenty-four per cent.

ENTERS HIGH SCHOOL AT NINE

Corvallis, Ore., Oct. 20.—Alexander Hull, Jr., learned to read and recite the multiplication tables when he was four, and now, barely nine years old, he's a high school freshman.

It's his first taste of formal education. His father recognized he had "a gift" when he learned the alphabet at two and decided grade school could do nothing for him.

He undertook his education at home.

Drastic Indictment Of Roosevelt Regime Marks Landon Reappearance

Charges that "Failure" in Exercise of "Too Much Power" Largely Responsible for Economic Conditions United States People Are Facing Today.

Topeka, Kas., Oct. 20.—Alf. M. Landon reasserted himself as an active, as well as titular, leader of the United States Republican party last night in a blunt indictment of the Roosevelt administration as greedy for power and a "failure" in the exercise of "too much power" already granted.

Of Mr. Roosevelt himself Landon said, "He is not the man who was elected in 1932. It is apparent that Mr. Roosevelt is going through the same process that transpired in the life of every man in history who was given too much power. Power feeds on power—today, just as it did in the days of Julius Caesar."

Government reorganization, he quickly added, "has for its main purpose the placing of practically every federal employee under the thumb of the President."

The Kansas made these criticisms: "Social progress—I agree with Mr. Roosevelt that progress lags. The

GRANBY SIGNS NEW COACH AND FIVE PLAYERS

Dick Carroll, Former Coach of Windsor Bulldogs, Will Handle Granby Team—New Puck-Chasers All Played in Eastern Ontario Last Year.

Granby, Oct. 20. — The Granby Hockey Club has signed five new players and a new coach, Dick Carroll, who formerly handled the Windsor Bulldogs, for the coming Provincial League season, according to Homer Cabana, general manager of the Granby Arena.

The puck chasers general all played in Eastern Ontario last year and include Roy Marsh, who was with the Cornwall Flyers last winter, Normie Darragh, an Ottawa boy who is the nephew of the late Jack Darragh, a great star with the old Ottawa Senators; Ernie Larabee, who played with Lesalle in the Ottawa City Senior League last year; Jack Wilson, a former Ottawa Rideau defenseman; and Strade, a defenseman from Ottawa.

Mr. Cabana stated that only two of last year's team are sure of positions for the coming season. They were Alphonse "Peanut" St. Onge, a Granby boy, and Don Boyd, who came to Granby from the Cornwall Victoria team.

It is possible, the Granby sportsman, went on to say, that Marcel Delpierre and Lafontaine will be invited out to practice with the team, and it is still hoped that L. Thurler, a star with last year's amateur Canadians, will be able to obtain an amnesty card to play this year with his home town team after a season's absence.

The Granby Club intends to begin training in Sherbrooke on November 15th, in order to be well prepared for their first game of the season, which takes place in Granby on December 5th.

CHATHAM ALSO CLAIMS CARROLL

Chatham, Ont., Oct. 20. — Dick Carroll, veteran coach, today formally took over coaching duties with Chatham Maroons of the Michigan-Ontario League. Ice making has started at the arena and the team is expected to start practice at the end of the week.

Besides coaching Maroons, Carroll will assist elementary and secondary school teams.

GRANBY BASEBALL TEAM OPERATED AT LOSS

Granby, Oct. 20. — The Granby Baseball Club operated at a deficit of $1,113.46 during the 1937 Provincial League.

This news was ascertained yesterday when Homer Cabana, owner of the club, presented his annual financial statement. It was disclosed that against gross receipts of $16,882.58 there stood an expense bill of $17,996.04, of which $7,142.49 was the amount paid out in salaries.

Cabana said that Sorel, the league champions, had proved the best drawing card, with a total of $3,448.11 having been paid to see that team play seven games. Sherbrooke took second, with $2,912.43 being paid to see them in six games.

Montreal Black Panthers proved the poorest drawing card. They played twelve games in Granby and only drew in $1,936.67. The total paid admission for the season was $36,943 or an average of $755 per game.

EXPLAINS IMPORT RULE

Portage La Prairie, Man., Oct. 20. — Clarification of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association import rule was presented to E. A. Gilroy, C.A.H.A. past president, by W. G. Hardy, C.A.H.A. vice-president, here last night.

"The import rule as framed, Hardy said, means that in cities having more than one club, players transferring from one club to another are not regarded as imports. Therefore regarding junior clubs outside cities in the west it would rule that players in the same league should not be regarded as imports provided precautions against packing clubs are taken."

He added that if Manitoba requested he would extend the ruling made in Saskatchewan allowing four junior imports this year. Hardy's ruling will likely be presented to the Manitoba Amateur Hockey Association executive meeting here Saturday.

dencies in dealing with domestic matters. How far does he intend to go? The President's recent international affairs statement mentioning quarantine for aggressors and expressing doubt of peaceful American escape in a world at war "sounds just like what we were told in 1917."

RACE WITH HOOVER FOR LEADERSHIP SEEN

Washington, Oct. 20. — Alf. M. Landon's return to the United States political wars was suggested to some observers today by the possibility of a spirited contest between him and Herbert Hoover for active leadership of the Republican party.

The Kansan's speech criticizing Roosevelt policies came in the midst of efforts by the former President to rally sentiment for a mid-term party convention next year.

Landon has been reported cool to the Hoover convention idea and did not mention it last night.

The Republican National Committee will meet in Chicago on November 5th to vote on holding the usual convention, which would be a prelude to the 1938 congressional campaign.

William Henry Cody, better known as Buffalo Bill, was born on February 26th, 1846.

When Mr. Cahana was in Paris in 1932-33 negotiating a trade agreement with France, he said, diplomatic and consular United States agents there "were active in representing to the French government authorities the inexperience of recognizing the Ottawa Imperial Conference preferences."

Of Pacific defence, Mr. Cahana said that upon one occasion when Canadian Pacific ports were endangered during the Great War, it was Japan's fleet that "hastened to our assistance." Now, he said, with American citizens endangered in China, "the only protection they receive from their own Government is a series of diplomatic notes, which are treated with contempt by a powerful aggressor."

"When American citizens call in vain for protection," Mr. Cahana said, "Canada should hesitate to rely upon a Monroe Doctrine, which is attenuated and ineffective except as a means of intimidating weak and dependent states."

"I trust that Canadians will have sufficient of manly courage to resist all efforts to make this country a mere dependency of the United States of America. Certainly our existing political attachments to the United Kingdom and the other nations of the British Commonwealth are far more honorable than any other political ties which could possibly frame."

TRIPLE TIE IN TEMPLE CARPET BOWLING LOOP

Quartettes Skipped by Jack Scott, George Liddell and Ralph Cutts in Neck and Neck Race for Leadership.

Quartettes skipped by Jack Scott, George Liddell and Ralph Cutts are today sharing first position in the Temple Carpet Bowling League as the result of the games played at the Masonic Temple during the past week.

Scott extended his score to two straight victories by taking Tommy Hurn into camp by eight to five, while Liddell kept his record clear with a nine to eight victory over W. Eaves and Cutts nosed out Tom Molyneux by seven to six.

In the other encounters, Bill Davidson led Phil Mathias by ten to three, Geo. Parsons outpointed Bob Whitley by nine to six, Jack Jovett edged out Bill Wilson by seven to six and George McLeod defeated Reg. Benton by nine to six.

BOXING

LIGHT HEAVYWEIGHT CROWN AT STAKE TONIGHT

Vancouver, Oct. 20. — Eddie Wrenthol, of Viking, Alta., and Sonny Buxton, Victoria, completed training yesterday and announced themselves ready for tonight's twelve round bout recognized by two western boxing commissions as for the Canadian light heavyweight crown.

The Western Boxing Federation of Edmonton and the Vancouver Boxing Commission officially gave the scrap title status.

Wrenthol claimed the title when he won a decision over Winnipeg's Charlie Belanger a year ago, but was never given official recognition throughout Canada.

GRATEFUL FOR RESCUE

Holyhead, Wales, Oct. 20. — Mollie's Limited of Shanghai will subscribe $100 annually to the Royal National Lifeboat Institute in gratitude for the rescue of fifty-nine of the crew of the Marie Moller on fire off Holyhead, March 22.

A. C. CRITCHLEY SAYS ENGLISH GAMBLE MORE

Calgary-Born Czar of England's Greyhound Racing Industry Says Americans Are Pikers in Gambling Compared to the English.

New York, Oct. 20. — "You think the people in this country gamble? How! How!"

The man who laughed was General A. C. Critchley, the millionaire czar of England's greyhound racing industry.

"Why," said the Calgary-born promoter, controlling his mirth, "do you know how much will be bet on the totalizer (pari-mutuel) alone at my eight tracks this year? About $10,000,000."

(Editor's note: that is about $50,000,000.)

"And what, General Critchley, do you get out of that?" he was asked. "Oh, we take only six per cent," he said, "but of course we charge an admission price too, about sixty cents a head, and the average attendance for 104 nights at White City, my biggest track, this season was a little over 20,000."

So you get an idea why the General, who came out of the army to introduce hound racing to England in 1926, feels like laughing most of the time.

"It's a great thing for the people," he observed with a twinkle. "The English people are crazier about gambling than any in the world. Everybody's got to bet on something every day. The dogs give them a splendid outlet. Why, if it wasn't for the dogs they might be gambling on the stock market."

Critchley is proud of his White City track. It is the "hot spot" among greyhound places. One side of the big arena, high up, is enclosed, and there inside, safe from the weather and the rabble, several thousand white-tied "toffs" and their evening-gowned companions came wade leisurely through eight courses while the programme is being run. Every table offers a perfect view of the track.

"You'd be surprised, though, that these society customers don't bet any bigger money than those in the open seats," Critchley commented. "Where the money comes from I don't know, but the average wager is about 35 shillings ($14.50), and at White City it has averaged 65 shillings for months."

The General—a big, powerful man and a crack golfer—has gone into fight promoting as a sort of sideline in London. He came over this time with some hazy notion of forming an alliance with Mike McGill, a student in the University of Toronto.

"Tommy Farr came back quite a hero," he said, "but promptly began talking too much and spoiled it all. He bragged too much about the amount of money he could make in America."

Chinese Take Upper Hand In Struggle For North Province

Both Chinese and Japanese planes were active in the Shanghai-Nanking area today. Japanese dropped heavy explosives on the Chinese air-drome at Nanking and Chinese raided Japanese lines about Shanghai.

Chinese air and artillery attacks on the Japanese landing field in the Yangtze area of the International Settlement were believed responsible for the transfer of a number of Japanese planes to a more remote landing field near Woosung, twelve miles down the Whangpoo river from Shanghai.

Admitted and authenticated Japanese losses in the Shanghai area total fifty planes. Chinese asserted they have shot down more than one hundred Japanese aircraft.

Japanese authorities served notice on foreign consuls that the Japanese decline to assume responsibility for the safety of neutral automobiles travelling from Shanghai to Nanking.

British consular officials told their nationals that trips outside the International Settlement would be undertaken at their own risk. They added that if the consulate were notified of intended trips it would attempt to make arrangements with Japanese for protection of automobiles.

Yesterday Japanese warplanes machine-gunned a civilian automobile on the Nanking-Shanghai road. The occupants, including an Italian naval lieutenant, escaped injury.

Dispatches from North China quoted a Japanese spokesman as saying the Chinese probably had received heavy reinforcements in Shansi Province. He said Chinese were attacking Japanese supply and communication lines in the region, but added that the Japanese were advancing.

The Japanese North China advance was stopped altogether in some places. In northern Shantung Province a Japanese withdrawal was reported.

(The Japanese cabinet in Tokyo approved reductions in government expenses of $59,000,000 for the remainder of the year in an economy move to help meet the cost of fighting in China.)

WORLD-FAMOUS SCIENTIST HAS CLOSED CAREER

Lord Rutherford, Pioneer in Radio-Activity Work, Passed Away at Cambridge Following Operation—Well-Known in Canada.

Cambridge, Oct. 20. — The scientific world today mourned Lord Rutherford, one of its great figures, who died last night after a severe abdominal operation. He was sixty-six years old.

Director of the famous Cavendish Laboratory for the past sixteen years, Lord Rutherford was a pioneer in study of radio-activity, transmutation of elements and the splitting of the atom.

His genius as a teacher attracted a brilliant group of men to Cambridge which became the centre for the world in attacks to the structure of the atom. Finally in 1932 he was able to announce "a discovery of great scientific importance" — that of the neutron.

Dr. J. D. Cockcroft and Dr. E. T. S. Walton, both of whom worked under his supervision, had split the atom, achieving a goal sought by physicists for many years.

Death of Lord Rutherford brought sorrow to his colleagues and friends in Canada where he was widely known. He was Macdonald Professor of Physics at McGill University from 1928 to 1937.

McGill's regret was expressed by Sir Edward Beatty, Chancellor, who stated that "the world has lost one of its greatest physicists and scientists."

The Manchester Guardian today described Lord Rutherford as an example of that "constant flow of great scientists and scholars coming from the Dominions to enrich the world."

His book on radioactivity was universally accepted. He discovered that partial demagnetization of steel wires surrounded by a coil was a sensitive means of detecting electrical waves, but he left the apparatus for Marconi to adapt for practical use, Lord Rutherford continuing to pursue fundamentals.

Ben Ernest Rutherford in Nelson, New Zealand, future scientist was a brilliant student in universities in his native dominion and at Cambridge. He went to McGill soon after graduating from Cambridge.

While at McGill he, with other scientists, carried on the research that established the nature of radio-active transformations. In 1903 he was elected a fellow of the Royal Society.

In 1908 Dr. Rutherford, as he was then, was awarded the Nobel Prize for chemistry for his work in the field of atomic chemistry, then practically unknown.

After leaving McGill Dr. Rutherford went to Manchester University as professor of physics. There his reputation attracted brilliant students, including Charles Darwin, Hans Geiger and Neils Bohr among others.

With their aid, his experiments progressed rapidly. One of his most important achievements was the experimental demonstration of the nuclear nature of the atom and the electrical structure of matter. This was the key to atomic physics.

In 1914 he was knighted and five years later he succeeded his former teacher, Sir J. J. Thomson, as Cavendish professor of experimental physics at Cambridge and professor of natural philosophy at the Royal Institute.

Lord Rutherford was raised to the peerage in the New Year's honors list of 1931, as the first Baron Rutherford.

led the Mongol cavalymen who cooperated with the Japanese across the Chahar and Suiyuan, called on the Japanese commander, and thanked him "in the name of the Mongol race" for the "liberation" of Suiyuan "from Chinese oppression."

(The Nishi Niichi in Tokyo yesterday published a dispatch from its Shanghai correspondent predicting the Soviet Union would liquidate its mutual assistance pact with Outer Mongolia in order to permit it to return to Chinese sovereignty and in that manner fight Japan without embroiling the Soviet Government.)

(Should such a move eventuate, it would transform the situation in the north, since the Outer Mongolian army, nourished by Soviet armaments, is believed to be powerfully armed and efficiently organized.)

BUILD CLYDE BRIDGE

Glasgow, Oct. 20. — The City Council will build a new bridge across the Clyde at Finnieston at a cost of more than $3,000,000. Purchase of property on the bridge site has already cost $2,500,000.

urged the Commissioner send a duplicate report to the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council so it would be available for scrutiny.

Speaking at the annual meeting of the West Edmonton Conservative Association, Mr. Duggan charged "concealment" of the report was one of several incidents which he said indicated clearly "dictatorship" was the ultimate objective of the Social Credit administration.

Mr. Justice Lunney's report as head of a Royal Commission investigating construction costs of Alberta highways was submitted last week to the Attorney-General's Department and withheld from publication by Premier Aberhart, who holds also the post of Attorney-General in the Cabinet.

The Premier announced the report would not be released until the next session of the Legislature.

"uproot them from the farms." Facing us is the fact that two-thirds of the people we seek to instruct escape us," the secretary added. "If we do not assure their presence in the modernized classes we are planning, we will have assured a sound start to our programme for future success of Quebec's farming industry."

The Education Council Secretary presided at the final business session of the Congress, convened by Quebec Agriculture Department to study thoroughly the most pressing needs of agriculture and agricultural education.

The Catholic committee of the Education Council, headed by Hon. Cyrille F. Delage, Superintendent of Public Education, attended the session.

Also to be heard from today were C. J. Miller, Chief Inspector of Catholic Primary Schools; E. Litalien, Chief Quebec School Inspector; Paul Hubert, Regional School Inspector; J. H. Laviole, head of Quebec's Horticultural Service; L. P. Desrosiers, Agricultural Education Service Agronomist; Brother Bernard Victor, Professor of the Institute of Christian Brothers; J. C. Magnan, head of the Provincial Agricultural Education Service; and Alphonse Desjardis, Public Education Department Agronomist.

Tonight the Congress will close with a banquet which Premier Maurice Duplessis will attend, with Agriculture Minister Bona Dussault, Deputy Minister Achas Roux, and other Government officials.

REBELS SLOWLY CLOSING ABOUT NORTHERN CITY

Government Bulletin Confirms Insurgent Claim of General Advance in Northern Spanish Territory.

Hendaye, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Oct. 20. — A general advance by Spanish insurgents on the Asturian front placed Villavieja and Infesto under their control today, bringing the most advanced spearheads within twenty miles of Gijon, their seaport objective in the northwest Spain.

General-Franco's attacking troops marched on the Government's last important stronghold on the Bay of Biscay against "feeble resistance."

A government field bulletin confirmed insurgent claims of a general advance but did not mention domination of strategic cities.

Reports from both sides indicated that the Aragon campaign in the Spanish northeast had slowed down. (Government reports to Madrid said eight thousand Moorish insurgents had been hurled back near Toledo in central Spain and that six hundred insurgents were killed.)

How the speculative kings and capitalistic captains of the money street fared the last two months was a matter of conjecture.

Some old time big traders insisted they had merely become "longtime investors" and coupon clippers since the Securities Exchange Commission took control of the stock market.

At the same time there have been vague stories of an "American bear crowd," selling American stocks abroad to escape the watchful eye of Uncle Sam's police force.

While many new things under Wall Street's sun have come to pass since 1929, mainly from Washington, brokers saw the old tradition of the big man selling while the little fellow buys carried out recently.

This time the S.E.C. provided concrete data to support what in other declines had been largely observations of brokers.

Persistently, since the Securities Commission last June started publishing weekly and daily figures on purchases and sales of stocks in less than the standard 100-share units, the buying has outweighed the selling.

The buying surplus tended to rise substantially on the wide break since Labor Day.

Analysts took this as an indication the so-called "public—as distinguished from large investors and capitalistic interests — was buying and "bargain-hunting."

Many small bargain hunters in the 1929-32 decline came out well, even at present prices.

Whether the little bargain hunters of 1937 would ring the bell again remained to be answered after the market emerges from the present storm.

Believes Fire Started in Kitchen

Geoffroy, sixty-nine year old night watchman, fixed the origin of the fire in the kitchen, but was unable to say how it began. His attention was first called to the blaze by Miss Isabelle, whose room was over the kitchen. He immediately ran to the kitchen but could not enter because of the flames. After ringing the alarm twice to awaken the occupants of the hotel, he sounded the fire alarm but was prevented from re-entering the building which had become a mass of flames.

Everything Normal Half-Hour Before Outbreak

In answer to questions by Coroner St. Pierre, Jutras stated that he had visited the kitchen about 5:30 o'clock when he found everything normal. The fire in the stove was an ordinary one. There were no signs of gas and he noticed no explosion.

Constable Chamberland declared that on arriving on the scene the firemen at once began lifting ladders to the front windows to rescue a number of women there. He heard no screams or cries for help, and when he first noticed Cooper the latter was falling between the second and third stories. Chamberland did not know whether he fell or jumped.

The jury comprises A. J. Stark, T. R. Clark, Kenneth Kinder, A. D. Kelly, H. Couture and Robert O'Donnell.

Condition of Injured.

Good news concerning the condition of those injured in the Grand Central Hotel tragedy comes from the Sherbrooke and St. Vincent de Paul hospitals today. With the exception of Gerard Dion, 58 year old bartender of the Grand Central and the candlestick maker had come out better than in the disastrous rout of margin traders in the 1929 crash.

On paper millions of stockholders of moderate means—the great middle class—were poorer for the sweeping decline which eliminated half or more of prices quoted last spring for stocks of some of the leading industrial concerns.

But analysts pointed out the storm had broken under conditions greatly different from eight years ago as a result of the use of federal power to keep the little fellow from flocking into the market on a "shoe string."

Whether elimination of "shoe string" trading had been altogether advantageous for the average trader was questioned by some. The vast selling wave yesterday was attributed at least in part to delayed liquidation of weakened margin accounts which might have been sold out earlier had federal margin requirements been lower.

However, most brokers agreed high margins fixed by the Federal Reserve Board, plus lessons learned in 1929 and a leaner purse, had operated to thin out the rank and file of the speculative army which in other years might have been expected to cause the rise of rising prices.

How the speculative kings and capitalistic captains of the money street fared the last two months was a matter of conjecture.

Some old time big traders insisted they had merely become "longtime investors" and coupon clippers since the Securities Exchange Commission took control of the stock market.

APPOINT JUDGES FOR TEMPERANCE COURSE

Plan Temperance Work In The Sunday Schools

Sherbrooke County W.C.T.U. Executive Appointed Officials to Take Charge of National Temperance Study Course—Books Will Be Sent to Wales Home.

Reports of the recent provincial convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union held in Lennoxville were listened to with keen interest at the W.C.T.U. executive county meeting yesterday afternoon in Douglas Hall, with Mrs. G. G. McCurdy, the county president, in the chair. Mrs. P. Pergau had charge of the devotional period, which included prayer, Bible reading, and hymns.

The secretary was instructed to send letters of thanks to the following for their splendid assistance during the provincial convention: Lennoxville United Church for the use of both the church and Douglas Hall; to Mrs. F. S. Browne, for her faithful service as organist and to the Sherbrooke Daily Record and representative for publicity.

Plans were made for the national temperance study course to be carried on in the Sunday Schools. In this work, Mrs. F. R. Matthews and Mrs. P. Pergau will have charge of the local branch, while the county work will be judged by the following: Dr. Mary O. Vaudry, senior work; Miss Willis Hunting, of Lennoxville, intermediate; Mrs. R. S. Lipsey, juniors, and Mrs. Draper, of Ives Hill, primary work. The plan of work was discussed and various ways in which the counties may measure up to the thirteen point programme drawn up by the Provincial W.C.T.U. outlined.

It was suggested that a supply of books be sent to the Wales Home, and it was decided that the trophy for membership increase will continue to go to the Union securing the most points during the year.

Following adjournment, those present enjoyed an informal tea, and a sale of food was held. Mrs. L. W. Smith and Miss Martha Stevenson were in charge of the tea, and Miss Crane presided over the food table.

SUCCESSFUL CARD PARTY
A very successful card party was held last evening in the Troop Room of the Town Hall, under the auspices of the Scout Auxiliary, when bridge and five hundred were played at seventeen tables, with a beautiful prize at each table.

Mrs. R. H. Fletcher, president of the Scout Auxiliary, welcomed the many guests, and Mrs. W. T. Evans,

REVIEWS WORK OF TRADE BODY IN BROADCAST

J. L. Foley, President of Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce, Discusses Various Aspects of Chamber's Activities.

In another of a series of radio broadcasts, sponsored by the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce, J. L. Foley, president of the Chamber, said:

"The Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce takes pleasure in presenting you another of its series of broadcasts in the interests of the City of Sherbrooke, and this evening we will direct our efforts towards interesting not only the property-owners, but all citizens as well, since the creation of a more extensive scope of employment, not only for our present generations but also for our growing youth should be of paramount importance and interest to all concerned."

To this end your Chamber of Commerce has directed its continuous effort with a certain amount of success, and while a certain secrecy is necessarily advisable in all our negotiations with firms proposing to establish branches in Canada, so that other cities will not outdo us in securing these industries as the result of uncalled for publicity, we are nevertheless in close touch with several good prospects which if we are successful in enticing to Sherbrooke, will absorb our labor asset to the fullest extent.

Of these extensive negotiations the public in general is not aware, and would therefore question the reason for the development of additional electric power, which is to be the subject of our address this evening.

"The shortage of electrical energy was very forcibly brought to our attention by the power consumed in the electrification of the City of Sherbrooke during its centennial celebrations, when the want of additional power made itself so keenly felt. This consumption does not even begin to represent the amount of power which would be required by the addition of say two or three new industries of any importance, some of which, as you know, consume large quantities of electrical energy, depending of course on the class of goods manufactured, the class of machines used, and the retarding shifts which they employ, when working during the nighttime as well as daytime."

"The Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce has every reason to believe that with sustained pressure and well-directed efforts, we are succeeding in ending the City of Sherbrooke with two or three and perhaps more important industries to absorb our excess labor available here but, should these new industries materialize for Sherbrooke, and we are confident they will, the municipal electricity department must be ready to supply the additional power required, and this can be accomplished only by the development of the Two Miles Falls project, a project heartily endorsed by the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce and very favorably considered by all those interested in the further advancement of the City of Sherbrooke, and which should receive the support of all or a good majority of the local property-owners, should the question be referred before them by means of a referendum."

"If our information is correct, the reserve of electrical energy which now exists is practically nil, and an overdraw of some importance presents itself, as was the case with the centennial electrification, serving as a very good lesson, and warning that the development of additional power is a want which will unfailingly make itself felt in the very near future."

"Canada in general, is at the present time enjoying an era of progressive development which is gratifying to perceive. The City of Sherbrooke, with its industrial, commercial, social and religious facilities, its very enviable location as the gateway to the United States, its trunk routes being constantly developed and improved, and the incomparable railway service which serves our region, compares very favorably with any other city of its size and greater. For these reasons, we cannot admit that our city can be looked upon with the least disfavor by any industrial prospect, and we most certainly cannot sit back and let other cities get ahead of us when it is a question of attracting to Sherbrooke any worthy industry, be it a branch of any such industry already established with its home office elsewhere, or a new industry worthy of consideration."

"The Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce has in the past given its attention to various other projects, all of which we considered important and still consider important, but the development of the Two Miles Falls power project has been brought to the fore, by the force of its importance and necessity, and a prelude to the culmination of the efforts of Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce directed towards the industrial development of Sherbrooke."

"The question of the purchase of what are known as Diesel Engines has been discussed in municipal circles. From the information furnished us these Diesel Engines are useful in the development of electrical energy as a temporary measure only, and they are of no use to provide the amount of electrical energy which we consider would be required to accommodate any appreciable number of new industries within the city limits, and

BIOGRAPHIES LAID BY REV. A. H. McCREER
"All the marks of the worthwhile book I find in biography," declared Rev. A. H. McCreer, vice-chancellor and principal of Bishop's University, in an interesting and informative address entitled "Browsing in Biography" delivered over the local radio station. The broadcast was under the auspices of the Sherbrooke Public Library.

"No man closes his life-story of any one of his fellows without better understanding, not only one other life, but all human life," said Rev. McCreer, who included in his remarks a list of the more highly regarded biographies.

THE GRAND CENTRAL HOTEL, THIRTY YEARS AGO

The Grand Central Hotel, which is today a mass of ruins, among which are the remains of one of the four victims who lost their lives in the fire which destroyed this seventy-five-year-old hotel on Monday morning, was the center of business in the Sherbrooke of thirty years ago. From the record files of October 20th, 1907, it is seen that thirty years ago today this hotel was the meeting place of the Postmasters' Association of the Province of Quebec. On the evening of the same day the Sherbrooke Milkmen's Association met and decided to increase the price of milk in the city to seven cents per quart.

Today the hotel is in ruins. What building will rise on its site is still unknown, but there remains the lesson that time goes on bringing with it changes, tragedies and heart-breaks.

LOCAL SCOUTS WILL HOLD DISTRICT HIKE

Arrangements were completed at a meeting of the local Boy Scouts' Association last night to hold the district hike on Saturday. The hikers will leave from Newington for Beattie's farm, near Lennoxville, where a camp fire and supper will be held. A treasure hunt will be staged and prizes given.

Herman Conley gave a very interesting account of the conference held over the week-end at North Hatley, remarking that he was very disappointed in the small attendance of leaders from Sherbrooke. It was decided to compete for the Lister Trophy in the near future and all the Scouts were asked to take part in the Armistice observance at Lennoxville.

It was reported that Blenden Bradford, of Noranda, has resigned as District Scoutmaster and the resignation of Scoutmaster Lynn Trussler was accepted with much regret. Apple Day plans were left in the hands of the Leaders' Council. The Toy Shop was also discussed, and it was decided to begin this work at an early date.

INSTITUTE KEEPS PACE WITH SEASONS

The alacrity with which the Women's Institute keeps pace with the "seasons" was most practically revealed at the October meeting of the Beattie's ranch, when bulbs were distributed and a practical demonstration of "potting plants" was given by Mrs. Charles Drummond. The interesting session was held at the home of the president, Miss F. I. Drummond, Drummond Road.

Following the customary opening with the Club Women's Creed, bulbs for the annual bulb growing contest were distributed among the members. The very appropriate demonstration was then put on by Mrs. C. Drummond, after which there ensued a pleasant informal discussion on new ideas for gardening. "Wills, Legal or Otherwise" was the topic of an excellent paper by Mrs. J. R. Cillis.

It was decided to continue the usual card parties again this year, the first one to take place at the home of Mrs. W. Ellis and plans for a Halloween party at Mrs. A. E. Cillis were also put under way. The president gave a resume of proceedings at the county meeting recently held at the MacKinnon Memorial, following which the meeting adjourned.

During the pleasant social hour which followed the hostess served delicious refreshments, assisted by Mrs. Charles Drummond and the Misses Perry and Jean Drummond.

The development of the Two Miles Falls project would be the solution. In addition to this, we must consider the centralization of expenditure which would result from the development of the Two Miles Falls site as compared with the purchase of these Diesel Engines in a foreign country to which our funds would be dispatched instead of being retained here for the benefit of local workmen and suppliers.

"The several features which enter into this question are worthy of the serious consideration of every public-minded citizen. The Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce is doing its part in bringing these features home to you, and it remains for each and every one of you to do your part by giving the matter your wholehearted consideration and support at every opportunity."

STUDY PROBLEM OF JAP ACTION IN NORTH CHINA

Members of Y.M.C.A. Speaking Club Given Interesting Address on Economic Conditions in Far East.

The apparent motives behind the present Japanese invasion of China were outlined last evening to the members of the Y.M.C.A. Speaking Club by George Christison, of Lennoxville, who spoke on "Chinese Coastal Cities and their Relation to the Present Japanese Campaign."

Mr. Christison expressed the conviction that Japan's current invasion of China was entirely motivated with the object of solving her pressing economic problems. The invasion was intended to quiet the economic discontent and social unrest of the Japanese masses by distracting them with military display, while Japan also sought access to China's vast natural resources.

These two objectives had been achieved to an important extent in that the under-paid and over-worked masses had been entertained by the campaign against China, and the control of the latter country's rich resources was pretty well assured to the Japs as the result of their seizure and present tenure of the great coastal ports of Shanghai, Canton and Peking.

The speaker was thanked by Gordon Rothney, after which Harry E. Grundy congratulated him on his instructive subject matter and commendable delivery. O. Sargent acted as chairman of the meeting.

It was decided that a debate on the resolution, "Confederation has been a success in Canada," would be held at the "Y" on Tuesday, November 2nd, with Wesley Bradley and Francis Hove upholding the affirmative and John Withall and Gordon Rothney the negative. O. Sargent will be the speaker at the next meeting, with Wesley Bradley acting as chairman.

BLIND GIRL PIANIST MEMORIZES CLASSICS

New York, Oct. 20.—Miss Mary Munn, blind Montreal girl whose skill as a pianist has won her wide acclaim in Europe, said today she owes her success to an almost perfect ear for music.

Completing preparations for her first New York recital tonight, Miss Munn explained she does not use Braille in preparing for her recitals. "Braille would take much too long," she said. "Besides only the absolute classics and the more popular moderns are published in Braille. I could not do half tonight's programme if I were dependent on it."

The programme will include Beethoven's Sonata in "A" Flat Major, Op. 110; Brahms' intermezzo in "E" flat minor, and Camille's "Pavane" and selections from Bach and Handel. The more modern composers will be represented by Vaughan Williams, Matthey and Bela Bartok, a Hungarian composer.

Explaining her methods of study, Miss Munn said that when she was a student of music in London her instructor frequently would call for a sonata to be prepared in a single week. Even if the piece were published in Braille, practicing it would mean feeling the score with one hand while playing with the other. Miss Munn took the short cut, open to genius.

"Someone plays the piece through to me twice, slowly," she said. "If it is long I study one part at a time. Usually after hearing it twice I have memorized it and I then play it through myself, working out a scheme of fingering."

Miss Munn said it took her eleven hours to memorize the Beethoven sonata she will play tonight. Simpler pieces can be mastered in two or three hours.

URGE PUBLIC TO WATCH FOR ROSS KIDNAPPERS

Kidnappers Double-Crossed Ross Family by Failing to Release Their Wealthy and Aged Victim.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Solution of the Charles S. Ross kidnapping hinged largely today upon a watch for the appearance of $50,000 in ransom money.

A public appeal to be on the lookout for the 5,250 ransom bills went out after federal agents disclosed the kidnappers had double-crossed the Ross family by failing to release their wealthy and aged victim.

Serial numbers of the bills were distributed by J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation at Washington, who urged the public to assist by reporting receipt of the currency. The ransom payment consisted of $15,000 in $20 bills, $25,000 in $10 bills and $10,000 in $5 bills.

Lack of any known communication from the seventy-two year old retired manufacturer since he was abducted twenty-five days ago led investigators to consider a number of theories as to his fate.

There was widespread belief the victim, who suffered from heart disease, died from shock or was slain by his captors to eliminate the risk of being identified by him later. Investigators also theorized Ross might still be held captive while the kidnappers make plans for a flight.

D. M. Ladd, head of the F.B.I. office here, said the Ross family paid the ransom "upon what they believed to be definite proof that they were in contact with the kidnappers." Authorities were silent on reports that the "definite proof" consisted of a written message from Ross, or a hat he wore at the time of his disappearance.

Speculation also was rife as to whether the actual kidnappers or another gang collected the ransom.

INCREASE IN EXPORTS OF DAIRY PRODUCTS

Ottawa, Oct. 20.—The Dominion Bureau of Statistics today reported large increases in the September export of milk and its products and eggs compared with the same month last year.

Exports of milk and its products totalled $2,477,332 in September against $1,722,384 in September, 1936. Exports during the first six months of 1937 were $9,813,660 compared with $7,791,084 in 1936. Exports of eggs totalled $10,338,000 valued at $28,340 in September against $9,732 at $13,715 in September last year. Exports in the six months were $34,238,000 at $58,170 against $27,759 at $62,610 in the same period of 1936.

Rotary Spirit Lauded By Vermont Speaker

Rotarian George M. Hogan, Twice President of the St. Alban's Club, Assured Local Members that "the Spirit of Rotary Will Never Die."

"Whatever its faults may be, whatever its setbacks, the spirit of Rotary will never die. Its moorings are anchored in a great unscathed moral obligation," asserted Rotarian George M. Hogan, of St. Alban's, Vt., in a well-delivered and extremely interesting address before the Sherbrooke Rotary Club at their meeting last evening in the New Sherbrooke House, Rotarian Hogan, president of the Vermont Bar Association and twice head of the St. Alban's Club, took for his subject "The Unseen Rotary."

In his opening remarks, the speaker observed that it was remarkably easy for one Rotarian, whether he was a stranger or not, to address others, as Rotarians the world over are united in a common bond of fellowship and good-will.

Touching upon some of the characteristics developed by membership in a Rotary Club, the speaker declared that tolerance, unselfishness, a sense of obligation and a high standard of ethics are fostered by Rotary. "The unseen forces continually at work among Rotarians have touched the world," he stated.

A brief review of English and United States history was given by Rotarian Hogan, showing the similarity in the peoples of the two nations.

The speaker of the evening was accompanied to the meeting by three brother Rotarians from the St. Alban's Club, A. N. Deringer, Joseph

L. Therrien and Ed. Walker. Rotarian Bart Holtham introduced the speaker and he was thanked by Rotarian Lee Watson. Encouraging reports of the coming Rotary Fair were given by Rotarian Everett Goodenough and a grant of $100 was authorized on behalf of the Junior Welfare League. President Rosaire Samson presided at the meeting.

DIXON SPEAKING

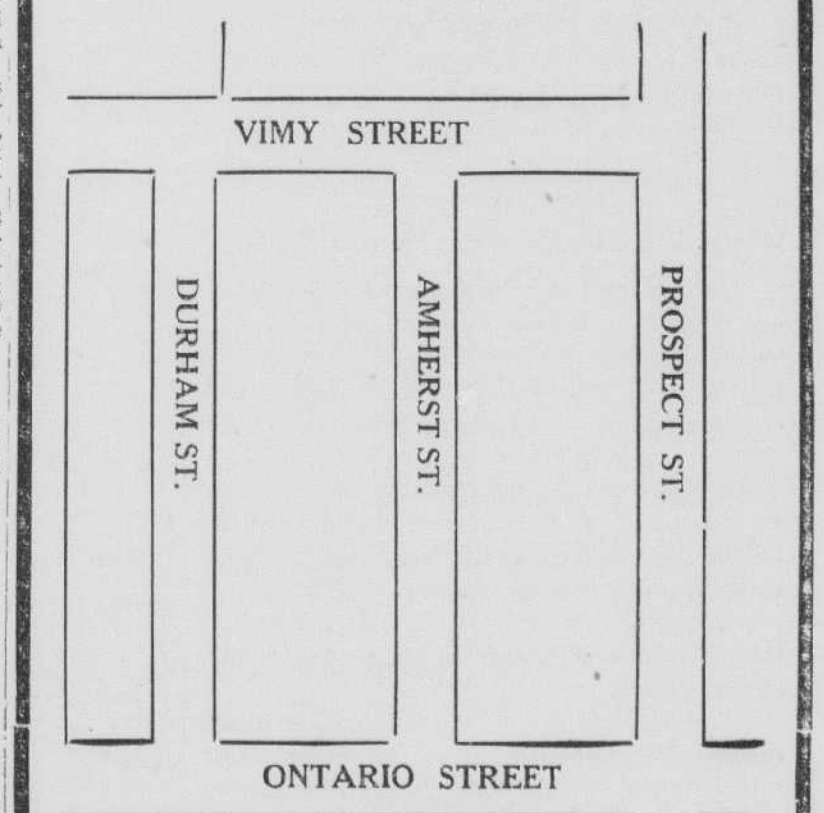

Just a short time ago I expressed a certain delight, which was shared by many people, in the prospect of having the Centenary lights turned on again for Christmas week. Now comes the voice of authority saying that it were wiser to tear them down at once, rather than wait for the snow and sleet to do it when the cold weather comes.

Couldn't we just take a bit of a chance on old Mother Nature being good to us this once? If she wants to pull the wiring down, then we can only say "Kismet." But suppose she decides to leave them alone for our delight over Christmas! Why must we pull them down just to forestall the possibility of a storm doing it?

Of course I'm no electrician. Electricity is something I know little about. But I do know the meat business! I know when meat is tender and when you deal with me you'll think that meat is always tender. That's because I won't have any other kind in my place.

Now Is The Time To Build Your Own Home

The district bounded by Ontario, Prospect, Vimy and Durham Streets is one of the most desirable in Sherbrooke for residential purposes. The lots in this development are extra large, having a frontage of 66 feet and a depth of 120 feet.

The location is within five minutes' ride from the centre of the city in the regular buses which run right past the property. Every convenience has been provided for and many substantial homes have already been built in the immediate vicinity.

DURING THE MONTH OF OCTOBER A SPECIAL PRICE OF $700 FOR EACH LOT HAS BEEN SET AS AN INDUCEMENT FOR THOSE WISHING TO BUILD NOW OR IN THE EARLY SPRING.

I invite you to investigate this better class home location. And I shall gladly help you to arrange financing both the lot and a modern home. Owning your own home is cheaper than paying rent.

Opening Of Winter Fair And Horse Show.

The 1937 Winter Fair and Horse Show will be formally opened this evening. From tonight until the closing hour on Saturday night the Sherbrooke Exhibition Arena will be the scene of great activity with special attractions for people of all tastes and ages.

The officials of this year's Winter Fair have left no stones unturned to make this one of the most outstanding of such events ever held in Sherbrooke.

As a special attraction this year, Winter Fair patrons will be privileged each night to see the famous Musical Ride staged by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, an event which was widely acclaimed at Madison Square Garden, New York, and also in Montreal. This unique feature has been secured at considerable expense and it is highly recommended to the Winter Fair patrons. It is a spectacle which is certain to please and is more than worth the price of admission.

There is also the Poultry Show to be held in conjunction with the Winter Fair and also the sale of prized live stock.

The 1937 Winter Fair can be recommended with every assurance of pleasing and those who fail to visit the Arena will be missing something truly worth while and highly entertaining.

Meet us at the Winter Fair.

Courage To Live.

Challenging science to "remake man" as the only remedy to save modern civilization, Dr. Alexis Carrel, distinguished surgeon and Nobel Prize winner, astonished a Dartmouth College audience with the assertion: "The civilized races are losing the courage to live . . . the reproduction of gifted individuals is decreasing."

Improvement of the race is possible, Dr. Carrel declared, through institutes of "psychobiology" to produce leaders of government and education rather than the specialists the present system yields.

But, while science can aid, the future of the race seems to rest more upon the individual. Only in the courage to live to the best advantage for self and fellow man, in justice, peace and health can civilization survive.

Abundant Life Only For Those Who Pay.

The triumphs of the last generation were chiefly concerned with devising new goods and services to make life easier and safer. This generation's problem apparently is to find some way of making these devices available to people who lack the money to buy them.

Nowhere has this been emphasized so strongly as in a speech given before the American Public Health Association recently by Josephine Roche, assistant secretary of the treasury.

Miss Roche revealed that there is a direct and tragic relationship between the death rate and the annual income.

Between forty million and fifty million Americans get along on incomes of less than $1,000 a year, said Miss Roche. Their death rate from the ten major diseases which cause seventy-five per cent. of the deaths in the United States is twice that of the rest of the population.

For seven of these ten diseases, she said, the death rate mounts steadily as the income goes down.

The death rate from respiratory tuberculosis, for instance, is seven times as great among unskilled laborers as among professional people. Pneumonia's death rate is three and one-half times as great among unskilled workers as among professionals.

Nor does it stop there. Illness that is not fatal but that takes a man away from his job is far more common among the low-income group. One of twenty family heads on relief is unemployed because of physical disability. Among the higher income groups, the rate is one in 250. The unemployed in general have twice the disabling illness that the employed have. W.P.A. workers have a disabling illness rate forty per cent. above that of other employed persons.

All of this throws into clear relief the knottiest problem of the age—how to make available to all the people the discoveries and inventions which science has turned up for us.

Medical science today is better able to keep people sound and well than ever before. It can prevent diseases that formerly were unpreventable, it can cure diseases that formerly were incurable, it can perform operations previously impossible, it has a far clearer idea of the relation of diet to good health.

Yet all of this does little good to the man who cannot afford to take advantage of this new knowledge. If doctors did not in so many cases give their time and skill without thought of fees, the situation would be far worse than it is; even so, Miss Roche's figures show unmistakably the tragic connection between poverty and ill health.

In this field as in so many others, we are on the threshold of a dazzling new era of human happiness. We are kept out of it, not by lack of knowledge, but simply because we cannot figure out how to make the more abundant life pay its way.

Motoring Made Dangerous.

There are so many phases to motoring and there is so much that can be said about accidents and the varied causes leading up to accidents that the question can be discussed from many viewpoints.

But there can be no argument to the fact that one of the most dangerous types of motorists is the exhibitionist—the chap who has an exaggerated sense of his own importance when he gets behind the steering wheel and insists on driving with that sense of his importance as his ruling motive.

This verdict is returned by Dr. C. H. Watson, president of the National Safety Council.

"Safety is a question of performance," says Dr. Watson. "Because people know what they should do, does not mean that they will do it."

One needs to drive only a little while to understand the truth of what Dr. Watson says. The man who weaves in and out of traffic lanes, passes other cars on curves or hills, cuts in suddenly, crashes lights and ignores stop signs is displaying all the stigmata of the man who has set himself up on a pedestal. He also provides the set-up for most of our accidents.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

From the Files of the Sherbrooke Record.
October 20th, 1907.

A syndicate of about twenty business men principally from Compton County and Sherbrooke, has been formed under the name of Marshboro Gold Mining Syndicate. They have secured the mining rights on a plot of land about six miles from Lake Megantic Village and about a mile from the inlet of Victoria River.

The Sherbrooke Milkmen's Association announce decision to increase price of milk on the first of November to seven cents per quart.

Harry Taylor, a Knowlton Home lad, died at the Sherbrooke Hospital from lockjaw, which resulted from injuries received when an iron bar fell on his hand.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Bowker, of Granby, were honored by their relatives and friends on the occasion of the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

Deaths reported: Mrs. M. Gillis, of Stornoway; Richard Lacasse, of Rock Island; Archibald Trudeau, of Coaticook; Mrs. Matilda Dunn Potts, of Lake Megantic.

The hostesses at the weekly Guild tea at St. Peter's Church, Sherbrooke, were Mrs. G. F. Bradford and Mrs. A. Steele.

Mrs. A. F. MacLagan, formerly Miss Sara Foss, of Sherbrooke, received for the first time since her marriage at her residence in Montreal West. The tea table was in charge of Mrs. Fred Enright and Mrs. E. F. Foss, assisted by Miss Ruth McIntyre and Miss Elsie McArthur.

IF YOU WOULD WRITE.

(A Hint to Neophytes)

"If you would write," the teacher said, "Immortal prose or lilting verse, Then you must labor day and night To make your writing clear and terse."

"If you would write," the critic said, "And be acclaimed a true success, For quality strive more and more, Of quantity write less and less."

"If you would write," the public said, "Write something really up to date, An antiquated, tawdry style, Will set you down as second rate."

So if an author you would be, Heed every word of this advice; Toil on without a thought of fame, Some day you may command your price.

PRESS COMMENTS

PRINT THE STUFF! NOBODY READS IT.

(Toronto Saturday Night)

If there had not been in recent years a very serious decline in public respect for the rights of property, we should never have heard of so preposterous a proposal as that of Mr. Aberhart for the seizure without payment of large quantities of valuable newspaper space in the periodicals of Alberta and its use for the dissemination of government propaganda. The pages of a newspaper are the property, directly, of the owners of that newspaper, and indirectly of the people who pay their good money to purchase copies of it. In the good old days when property was property, nobody would have dreamed of seizing great portions of this particular kind of property and using it for purposes desired by the government but not desired by the owners or the readers of the newspaper.

On principle the demand is frightful. In practice we cannot bring ourselves to believe that it will be seriously harmful to the Alberta newspapers, nor that it will do the slightest good to the noble cause of Social Credit. It may be possible to lead the intelligent readers of the Calgary Herald to the water of pure Social Credit dogma, in the form of a full-page spread in their favorite paper, but it will never be possible to make them drink. We have had to read a good deal of Social dogma in our time, and we know from sad experience that it is not readable—that nobody, that is to say, would read it voluntarily. Even the Alberta Social Crediters do not READ it; they listen to it, over the air, in the mellifluous tones and the sanctimonious phraseology of the Pious Prophet Premier, but they do not read it in the columns of the Premier's organ, and that is precisely what makes him mad at the other papers that they do read.

On the days when Mr. Aberhart is commanding a page of the Calgary Herald for his preachments it will obviously be necessary for the editor to condense or omit some of his more normal features; but even so verbose a person as Mr. Aberhart will hardly be able to fill a newspaper page every day. And we can imagine that with judicious and reasonably pungent comments by the Herald editor, ("This is tosh!" "That is damfoolishness!"—"Here the reader will note that the Alberta Government is in the plan flat, downright lie!"), conspicuously printed in an adjoining column, even a page by Mr. Aberhart might not be wholly devoid of journalistic interest.

Take heart, good colleagues of Alberta. It might be worse. All you have to do is print the stuff; you don't have to read it.

SEE YOUR DOCTOR WHEN WELL

(St. Thomas Times-Journal)

Speaking at the inauguration of a recreation and fitness campaign for the United Kingdom, Premier Chamberlain gave very good advice when he recommended people to see the family doctor for a check-up. That is particularly necessary in the case of people over forty. At that time of life most of them begin to lose their youthful looks and trim figures and they take to nostrums of all kinds and indulge in sports and exercises which may do them more harm than good in an effort sometimes conceived in a state of alarm to try to regain their former sprightliness in a hurry. There comes a time when people are really too old to do exercises, except in a few exceptional instances, and those between forty and sixty, who are most liable to these spasmodic efforts, should on no account do so unless they get directions from their doctor, after careful examinations, what they should do and what they should not do.

It has been said that more care is taken of livestock than of human beings. At the first sign of disease among his animals a farmer will send for a veterinarian, or start doctoring them himself, although his reason for doing so is probably more economic than anything else. A man or woman will take care of the health of a horse, dog or cat, but beyond trying to avoid catching colds, many human beings take no special pains to ensure that the delicate and much abused mechanism of their bodies are in good condition. Most motorists are careful about their cars, and if they are going on a long journey, or after they come back, they will take the vehicles to a garage man to see that everything is all right. But if they feel all right and they make no trouble to go to a doctor to make sure that something is not developing. They wait until something happens—then it may be either too late or they have to go through a long and expensive illness.

See your doctor at least once a year and get a thorough examination. Don't go to him during his ordinary office hours when he has not the leisure to go thoroughly over you. That takes a long time and he cannot keep other people waiting an hour or more. Make a special appointment so that he can do all that is necessary. It may save you much suffering and expense later. And if he finds there is nothing wrong with you it will give intense satisfaction to know it.

ROOSEVELT'S SPEECH.

(Montreal Star)

At the worst, President Roosevelt's resounding speech must do a lot of good. It should, for one thing, make it very sure that the United States will not now apply their clumsy neutrality law to this case and so very definitely tend to disarm China in the face of Japan. It ought to encourage the selling of arms and war supplies to the Chinese on easy terms. China can ultimately pay anything. It ought to stiffen British and French policies in the Mediterranean as well as in the China Sea. It ought, indeed, if followed up, assure Russia a free hand if she chose to act as the agent of civilization and cross the Amur.

Above all, it ought to be taken seriously and confidently by the British and the French. If there is to be any "letting down" in this case, as in the case of Manchuria, let the American people do it—not British diplomacy. President Roosevelt has launched a bolt from the blue against the sinister forces of disorder, rapine and ruthless murder. He should get full credit for it, and should be made to feel that he can rely on an instant response and loyal co-operation should he see fit to fire again.

HUMAN HENS.

(Glasgow Herald)

One may spend an instructive five minutes in any busy thoroughfare in the city watching the human hens crossing the road. They will step into a stream of fast-moving traffic with all the confidence of the children of Israel passing through Jordan. If there are pedestrian crossings they ignore them. If there are pedestrian crossings they go out of their way to avoid them. There is scarcely a human folly that can be committed in face of such a weapon of destruction as a bus that they fail to commit. And motorists, of they are sinners against, are themselves sinners, although the rigors of the law exact from them a higher sense of responsibility than pedestrians usually reveal. But if pedestrians are afraid to use Belisha crossings in Glasgow—and there is no doubt that many are—it is motorists who have made them so. One may see, too, without looking very carefully, many instances of selfish and heedless driving by motorists who allow themselves to relax from the ceaseless vigilance and caution that is due from them as road users.

GREAT BRITAIN IS DETERMINED TO GOVERN.

(New York Times)

At last Great Britain is meeting terrorism in Palestine as it should. Answering the demand of Arab leaders for release of the two hundred prisoners seized after the slaying at Nazareth of a British Commissioner and his bodyguard, the authorities in Jerusalem outlawed the Arab Higher Committee, arrested some and deported others of the Arab officials directing its subversive activities. Among these thus deprived of power were the Mayor of Jerusalem, the secretary of the Higher Committee, and the Grand Mufti of Jerusalem, the directing spirit of the committee. Evidently the Pax Britannica is about to be established throughout the mandate.

It would be virtually impossible to exaggerate the importance of this demonstration. The maintenance of order is not, of course, equivalent to a solution of the difficult problem of the Holy Land. But unless the Mandatory Power shows the courage to repress disorders and punish the instigation, even when these are highly placed, there can be no hope of a settlement that will do justice to the interests of all the peoples concerned.

PUBLIC OPINION CAN END IT.

(Farmer's Advocate)

The outspoken, somewhat gruesome articles being published about highway tragedies and the pictureization of traffic accidents will surely cause the majority of people to exercise more care when at the wheel. It is perhaps unlikely that all the people who drive cars will stop to read the articles and it may be that many careless, brainless drivers will ignore them altogether. These people must be reached and impressed in some other manner, and it is only through an awakened public opinion that pressure can be brought to bear upon the most heedless ones.

When carelessness—often hard to distinguish from bad judgment—infractions of traffic rules, reckless driving or criminal negligence are observed they should be reported at once to the proper authorities. Supported by an awakened public opinion the boys, reports that hospitality the Highway Department and officers of the law can then take the necessary steps to rid our highways of the drivers who cause accidents and death.

Only through an awakened public opinion hostile to recklessness on our streets and highways can the number of accidents be reduced and these great traffic lanes made safe. A responsibility also rests upon the

AN EYE ON ENGLAND.

(Christian Science Monitor)

There is an exciting play by J. B. Priestley in which the most emphasized character never appears on the stage. If the Reich's reception for Premier Mussolini were that play, Britain would be that character. . . . The continuing bid for British friendship, the fact that British rearmament has boosted the world price of armament materials so high as to cause undisguised concern among some other participants in the arms race who now even hint at hopes of limitation (!), the increasing prestige of both Britain and France since the Nyon Conference, on submarine "piracy"—these are all reasons why the eye-filling spectacle in Berlin will yet seem to await an actor outside of its spotlight. And as the tone of dispatches from both Berlin and Rome may be considered as reflecting official feelings of those capitals, this emphasis on London evidently is not considered inappropriate.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN.

(Ottawa Citizen)

What is the news from Hollywood about Charles Chaplin forsaking the character he has immortalized on the screen—the wistful, fugitive figure in bowler hat and shabby dress who is a trifle of a vagabond? It was printed in the news columns and bore the A. P. imprimatur, and yet it sounds scarcely believable. Chaplin gave up the part of the little tramp which has made him famous? As well believe that the leopard can change his spots! For Chaplin and his pathetic clown are one and indivisible in the minds of filmgoers everywhere and it is almost impossible to think of them apart. . . .

The old Chaplin—the Chaplin of defeated purpose, of injustices bravely borne, of dashed dreams and extinguished hopes—was to enter limbo. He will henceforth be a legend, a creation for cronies to talk of in twilight of their recollections. We feel like saying, to paraphrase the anguished lament of the boy whose baseball hero came under a cloud: "Say it ain't so, Charlie, say it ain't so!"

HISTORIC MESSAGE.

(London Spectator)

Some of us can remember the bitterness caused during the 1900 elections, held in the middle of the Boer War, by Mr. Joseph Chamberlain's telegram to a Conservative candidate, running "a vote given to the Liberals is a vote sold to the Boers." Mr. Chamberlain stoutly maintained that he never wrote that, and his original text, when turned up by the post office, was found to read "a vote given to the Liberals is a vote gained to the Boers." So stated Mr. Gales, a Manchester postal official, interviewed by the Manchester Guardian; but my own recollection is that the message as published ran: "A vote given to the Liberals is a vote given (not sold) to the Boers."

PERHAPS.

(Montreal Gazette)

A party of ten boys, sons of British ex-service men who fought against the Germans, have returned to London from a visit to Germany, where they had been the guests of the Reich League of Ex-Service Men, the president of which, Colonel Reinhardt, extended the invitation. Captain Roy Brigel, who accompanied the boys, reports that hospitality was showered upon them from all sides and that they lived with German families, joined in the German youths' games and attended their schools. When the British boys left, there were parting tears at the station. Perhaps the visit of the boys will have greater effect in the way of international friendship than even visits of heads of states.

McGILL'S NEW PRINCIPAL

(Le Devoir, Montreal)

It seems astonishing that McGill, a century old, and after producing men of value, should be unable, according to the judgment of its administrators, to produce a man suitable to take over the supreme direction of the institution. Recourse to another country, not for a specialist or a teacher for a new subject, but to obtain a new principal, is something rather unusual. The principal not only belongs to a rich family whose munificence has been profitable to McGill; but is also an administrator of the Rockefeller Foundation which contributes important resources to university teaching.

But all that is McGill's affair. The great Canadian public cordially welcomes Mr. Douglas, who will perhaps act as an agent between the United States and this country, and prove a powerful factor in promoting friendly relations.

AMERICAN PUBLICITY

(Le Nouvelliste, Three Rivers)

Where is publicity going to lodge itself now? The other day we read the following notice in an American newspaper from Los Angeles: "Bury your dead in a Glendale cemetery. The earth is softer than elsewhere, and every Sunday concerts for the dead are given from three to four o'clock in the afternoon." From the Los Angeles Times we obtained the following, this time between rival gravestone dealers: "Have this piece of work done at such a price. It is after death that life begins."

And an ad by a rival: "Why live when you can be buried at a cost of only $18?"

IMPERIALISM AND CANADIANISM

(La Patrie, Montreal)

The Imperialists of all varieties are having a bad week. First it was the Bishop of London who was telling, or reminding the federation of British immigration agencies that the Canadian is not at all keen to see the people of the British Isles establish themselves here. And more recently it was the Governor-General who proclaimed the duty of the Canadian is to be loyal to Canada first before being loyal to the Empire.

It is the first time, we believe that a Governor-General of Canada has spoken in this way. Thus, clearly answered by the representative of the King himself, the problem of the "first allegiance" no longer exists.

SCENTED BATH IS REFRESHING BEFORE PARTY

When your spirits are at low ebb and you have the season's first party ahead of you, draw a warm bath. Dump in a generous handful of perfumed bath crystals or a few drops of highly concentrated bath oil.

While the water is running, give your skin a quick cream cleansing. Apply a more generous film of the cream you used for cleansing or a rich softening cream, tuck your hair under a little cap so the ends will not get damp and slip into your perfumed tub.

Forget about the hour as you rest. What if you are a few minutes late for your date? You will be so much more self-confident and radiant that your hostess couldn't possibly be annoyed with you.

Before getting out of the tub, work up a thick lather of your favorite toilet soap and scrub thoroughly. Rinse under a tepid shower or refill the tub with clear water and step back into it for a minute.

Dry and work a little body balm or hand lotion into your ankles, legs and elbows. If your skin tends to chap or become dry in the winter, an application of balm or lotion over the entire body will refresh you. Finish by dusting the entire body with bath powder.

With tissues, remove any cream that remains on your skin and sponge with skin tonic or ice water. Pat away the excess moisture and see how soft and fresh your skin is. You may not need a foundation cream after this if your skin is inclined to be normal or oily. But for evening you may choose a liquid powder lotion or a non-oily cream since it will keep your make-up in place for a longer period of time. If you need it apply it now.

Next comes a delicate blending of rouge, face powder and lipstick. Do not forget that neck, shoulders and arms should be powdered with the same powder you use on your face if you wear a short-sleeved frock.

Your lipstick will last longer if you apply a light film and then dust on a little face powder. Remove the excess powder and lipstick by pressing the lips on a clean tissue. Now apply more of the lip color, let it "set" for a few minutes, then again blot away the excess. Moisten your lips and they will look naturally rosy and stay that way for several hours.

Apply your eye make-up, first brushing away any particles of powder than may have lodged in your lashes or eyebrows. Blue eye shadow leads in popularity this winter, an iridescent blue for blondes and fair-skinned girls and a deeper blue-green for brunettes and girls with brown eyes. Darken your lashes unless they are naturally long and black.

Now take off your cap, brush your curls briefly and reset them. A fairly short, sophisticated arrangement this season. As a final luxurious touch, spray a little perfume over your hair and shoulders.

You And Your Child

CRAVING FOR SWEETS MAY LEAD TO THEFT

A few months ago Lester earned two dollars doing odd jobs for a neighbor. He gave the money to his mother to hold. One day he decided to spend some of this money. Since mother was not home, he thought it would be all right to help himself from her purse. So far, the motives of this twelve-year-old boy were honest. But upon opening mother's pocketbook, Lester found twenty dollars in change and bills, and was tempted. He took four dollars. Lester's father was so overwrought by this incident that he threatened to get a policeman. Only the tears and pleading of his wife restrained him from going through with it. For over a week he was not on speaking terms with the lad. And ever since, his treatment of the boy has been gruff and critical, his manner cynical.

Stealing is a serious offense. But to accuse a child of stealing is a grave injustice. It assumes that a child is a thief. No child, however, is born crooked. If he helps himself to another's property, correct him. Punish him as severely as you believe the theft warrants. Then try to find out what he did with the money.

Lester went out and treated the gang. They had ice cream, candy, peanuts and soda pop. All had a good time, and Lester was the hero of the occasion. Somewhere among these facts is a clue to why the boy was tempted to take money that did not belong to him.

Growing boys have enormous appetites, and among their particular food likes is a desire for sweets. Wise parents take this into consideration in figuring a child's allowance. They also provide occasional treats with the intention of making him less greedy for sweets. Sometimes they have "blow-outs" for the gang at home. The latter is particularly useful when a fellow lacks popularity. When a child steals, there is generally a reason. Find out what it is. Only then is constructive correction possible.

Mrs. P. H. Skelton, Miss Gladys Hale, Mrs. S. R. Fuller, Mrs. W. E. Paton and Mrs. Gordon Hume returned last night from Montreal. The two former were guests of their sister, Mrs. Mary Atkinson, during their visit, the remainder of the party staying at the Mount Royal.

Mrs. Gordon Dunbar, Mrs. T. C. Hurn and Mrs. C. F. Hersey left this afternoon for Montreal to attend the fifteenth annual session of the Grand Chapter of Quebec of the Order of the Eastern Star. The conference, which opens this afternoon at the Mount Royal, will continue until Friday night.

Mrs. Robert Newton and Miss Margaret Newton left this morning for London, Ont., where the latter will receive her B. A. degree from the Western University. Friends of Miss Dorothy Isobel Hobson, of Simcoe, Ont., daughter of Mr. Clement G. Hobson and the late Mrs. Hobson, formerly of Sherbrooke, will be interested in the announcement of her engagement to Mr. James Peter Landon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Landon, of Simcoe. The wedding has been arranged to take place on October 29th at Grace Anglican Church, Simcoe.

The Senior Girls at Bishop's University entertained delightfully at the tea hour yesterday afternoon at the club room in Lennoxville, in honor of the "Freshestes." The latter were introduced to the Dean of women, Mrs. E. Owen by Miss Patricia Wiggitt, Junior Lady, while Miss Helen Legge, Senior Lady, presided at the pretty tea table which was lighted with tall blue tapers. Assisting in the tea room were the Misses Frances Baker, Peggy Richardson, Vivian Parr, Betty Sutton, Janet Speid and Patricia Wiggitt.

Miss Constance Libby, a bride-to-be, was the guest-of-honor at a charmingly arranged shower given by Mrs. Nelson Burns, of St. Johnsbury, Vt., and Mrs. R. A. Pearce at the latter's home on Wellington street. The bride-elect was given a ribbon to follow and found at the end a huge "cracker," which when pulled revealed a shower of lovely linen and other gifts. Another novel feature introduced by the hostesses was a "quizzing bee," the prize for which was won by Miss Mary Ball. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses. The lace-covered table at which Mrs. Libby and Mrs. Bunnell presided being centred with mums and pink snapdragons in a silver basket and matching pink candles in silver candlesticks. Assisting were Miss Helen Bunnell and Miss Frances Shorten.

The Misses Maud and Lillian Haggie delightfully entertained the St. Patrick Mission Circle last evening at their apartment in the Casino Building. Bridge was played at seven tables, the prizes being won by Miss Kathleen Clark and Miss Lucille Crochetiere.

Miss Margaret Fitzgerald presided at the brief business session which followed during which final plans were made for a Halloween tea to be held on Saturday. As this tea, which has developed into an annual event, is to provide Christmas gifts for underprivileged children, it was decided that no admission would be charged, the guests being invited to bring gifts of clothing or toys to the "show." Miss Margaret Mitton and Miss Elizabeth Roy accepted conversely of tea arrangements and Miss Margaret Fitzgerald will be in charge of the decorations.

Mrs. Harry Pary and Miss Bertha Boyd entertained delightfully last evening at the latter's home on Frontenac street in honor of her sister, Miss Gladys Boyd, a bride-to-be of the week. The decorations were charmingly carried out in orange and black, and cards and bangle were enjoyed during the early part of the evening. Later the bride-elect was presented with a "shower" of lovely kitchen utensils, the gifts being wrapped in the same gay colors chosen by the hostesses for the decorations. Delicious refreshments were served in the dining room.

IF MOTHER TURNS ON FAMILY WHO TREATED HER AS WORM

Mrs. Holmes was late. She ran the car into the garage and entered the kitchen door. It was dark and at first she thought the family had decided to go to Aunt Martha's for supper. Poor Jim, he had a meeting tonight and had to leave early.

"Well I couldn't help it," Mrs. Holmes said to herself. "The Cot Club had to wait until Dr. Smith came in, to get his ideas on the new blankets."

She walked into the living room and there sat Jim, Lois and Hal. They hardly looked up at her as she entered. Jim said, looking at his watch, "Well Margaret, it's six-thirty I have to leave in ten minutes."

"Hello, Mom," Lois grumbled. "Where've you been?" Hal just turned the page and rolled over on his stomach.

A Different Reaction
"I'm sorry, everybody," said Margaret. "I'll hurry. I could not get away, and thought maybe you'd go over to Aunt Martha's when it came six. She is only four doors away and she always wants you."

Margaret stood for a moment, looking at her husband and children. She was tired. Before she went out she had done a good day's work. The hospital club only met once a month, and this was the first time she had been late for many a day.

"I fixed things before I left," she said. "The potatoes are pared and the desert made. Why couldn't you start things going?"

"I think I'll be on my way," said Jim. "Never mind about dinner. I'll get some ham and eggs at the grill after the meeting."

"With all the food in this house, it is a pity among all of you that someone couldn't get a meal going," cried Margaret. "It's a wonder you won't wait for me to put it into your mouths. I'm away just once, and this is what happens. Well, I am tired and I'm going to lie down. Do as you like, all of you."

Who Really Was at Fault

Could this be mother speaking? They had expected apologies. Jim had expected to be urged to wait just a little longer while she hurried with supper. Lois had expected a "Sorry, darling. I am sure you are starved." Hal had expected "Here, come kiss your mother, honey. I suppose my big boy is ravenous. Well, you may have an extra helping of everything."

Instead here was mother acting as though she was mad about something. What? Why? It was her fault, wasn't it?

She went upstairs. The three looked at each other as though the floor had sunk beneath their feet. Jim started for his hat, and then came back. The meeting could wait. He said, "Snap to it, kids. Hush! Come on out to the kitchen and we'll get mother's supper and our own."

Uneasily the "kids" got to their feet. Margaret heard excited voices and clicking pans. She wanted to go down and say, "I'm sorry. I'll get you a fine supper and everything's all right." But she didn't. She held her ground. "Come on, Mom. It's all ready," called Hal at last. Margaret smiled. She went down. Who's fault? Margaret's own. She had never put any responsibility on her children. They had learned to soldier.

"CHIEF" HONORS E. T. DIVISION GIRL GUIDES

Mrs. Philip MacKenzie, Provincial Commissioner, Presided at Executive Meeting Here Yesterday.

Growth and expansion in the Girl Guide movement were gratifying facts revealed yesterday at a largely attended executive meeting of Provincial Commissioners in Wesley Hall, to which members of local associations sponsoring Girl Guides were invited. Mrs. Philip MacKenzie, of Montreal, Provincial Commissioner, presided, and representatives were present from Montreal, Lennoxville, Stanstead, Asbestos, Lower Ireland, Bishopston, St. Agathe, East Angus, Hull, Richmond, Theftford, Three Rivers and Granby. This meeting in the Eastern Townships Division was of exceptional interest owing to the optimistic and encouraging reports submitted by the twenty-five commissioners who journeyed to Sherbrooke to present them, and for the enthusiasm which permeated the entire conference at which the total attendance was sixty-five. Mrs. Staver, of Montreal, was the special guest speaker, the text of her helpful address being "Divisional Organization."

Prior to the business session the United Church tea room under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary, Mrs. George L. Hume, of Sherbrooke, Divisional Commissioner, presided, and the pleasant informal social hour was a happy interlude which immediately followed.

SEEK NATURAL LIFE FOR FAMOUS QUINTS

Detroit, Oct. 20.—The chief problem in the early days of the Dionne quintuplets was simply to keep them alive and well, but in the future the difficulty will be to enable them to lead normal lives. Miss Yvonne Leroux, former nurse of the famous five, told an audience before whom she lectured here.

Miss Leroux, dark, pretty and twenty-four, was the first nurse on the scene after the multiple births in the farmhouse of Oliva Dionne at Calander. She attended the babies from twelve hours after their birth until last December, when she resigned.

"The little girls are reaching the age when they are beginning to notice things and be aware of their surroundings," Miss Leroux said. "Until recently they could be regarded as babies, not consciously aware of their environment."

"I miss them much. They are so sweet and adorable that no one could help doing so. When I left they were babies, now they are little girls, but they have not forgotten me. I see them often, as my home is nearby. I visit them whenever I am up there."

meeting of her chapter at which Mr. Ralph Gustafson will be the guest speaker. Mrs. Loomis also voiced the regret of every one at the unavoidable absence of Col. M. W. McNulty, who was to have addressed the Order yesterday afternoon, and added that the I.O.D.E. hoped to have this deferred pleasure at a future meeting.

Ten was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Gallinger and Mrs. Loomis, the latter doing the honors.

ONE OF RADIO'S LOVELIEST ACTRESSES

Any girl who can get away with a but like this undoubtedly comes under the heading of "exotic beauty." Furthermore, not many women are pretty enough to be able to wear their hair in thick curls about shoulders, pluck their eyebrows and use eyeshadow. But Templeton Fox, brown-haired, blue-eyed radio star, is beautiful from head to foot, and as charming as she is pretty, the former Pomona College coed is one of radio's loveliest actresses.

MARRIAGES

ROSS—TURNER

The marriage of Marjorie Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grayson Turner, of Cherry River, to Mr. Malcolm Gustave Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ross, of Sherbrooke, took place on Saturday afternoon, October 16th, at three o'clock in St. Paul's United Church, Magog, Rev. Charles B. McLaughlin officiating. The church was beautifully decorated with masses of autumn flowers and foliage, the Altar being banked with yellow chrysanthemums, hydrangeas and michaelmas daisies, while the pews reserved for the guests were marked with yellow baby mums tied with white satin ribbon. Mrs. Swoger presided at the organ, playing the wedding music from Lohengrin as the bridal party entered and Mendelssohn's march at the conclusion of the ceremony. Mrs. Leonard Akhurst, cousin of the bride, sang "Because" during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely gown of white bridal satin fashioned on princess lines, the long train falling from the shoulders being attached with pearl buttons and the long sleeves ending in points over the hands. Her hip length veil of tulle illusion fell over the face from a Juliet cap of pearls and her shower bouquet was of Tallian roses and lilies-of-the-valley. Her only ornament was a pearl necklace, a gift from the groom.

The maid of honor, Miss Muriel Ross, sister of the groom, was gown in emerald green chiffon velvet made with fitted bodice, over which the draped cape formed the bracelet length sleeves. Her small velvet turban with shoulder length veil matched her gown and she wore silver slippers and carried an arm bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums.

The bride's cousin, Miss Ariene Buzzell, as bridesmaid wore a similarly fashioned dress in wine red chiffon velvet, with matching turban and veil. She carried yellow mums and also wore silver slippers.

Mrs. Turner, the bride's mother, was becomingly gowned in plum faille crepe with black hat and accessories and corsage of orchids. Mrs. Ross, mother of the groom, wore a handsome dress of rust-brown chiffon velvet, a brown fox fur.

Mr. Wilbur Turner, brother of the bride, acted as best man and the ushers were Messrs. Leonard Akhurst, of Coaticook, and Herbert Whittier, of Magog.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Cherry River, where the decorations were effectively carried out with autumn flowers, the lovely lace-covered bride's table being centred with a three-tiered wedding cake. Later the bride and groom left for their honeymoon trip to Boston, New York and the New England States, the bride travelling in a smart Balentyna knitted suit in Riviera red, with navy blue accessories and fur neck piece. Upon their return from their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. M.

DOUBLE CHIN IS REMEDIED BY MASSAGE

As important to modishness as the new silhouette with its high bustline, tiny waist, flat abdomen and slender hips is the new chiseled profile envisioned by beauty and fashion experts this fall. Can you imagine a double chin peeking out from under one of the majestic Merry Widow hats?

Whether you choose a plumed hat reminiscent of the Gay Nineties, an exotic turban, or a big sweeping brimmed sombrero, your profile must be delicately molded, unmarred by the slightest droopiness or lines. Regal, molded, young lines of the new fitted silhouette demand a young face, proudly firm and sculptured.

If you are not definitely overweight, a great deal can be done to keep your throat and facial contours firm through the proper use of cosmetics. Watch out for your posture, too. Walk with your head up, your eyes directly ahead. When you are reading or working and the head must be bent slightly forward, see that the tip of the chin is tilted just enough to prevent the tissues from sagging.

Use cleansing cream on your throat daily. Work from the chin downward to the base of the throat with firm strokes. This follows the structure of the throat and at the same time insures thorough cleansing. Remove the cream and wash the neck and throat as carefully as you do your face. Follow with an astringent, slapping it on briskly under the chin.

Now apply a rich cream for softening and massage. Massage from the chin downward to the base of the throat, then outward from the point of the chin along the jaw-line and from the center of the throat outward to the heavy muscle that lies at each side of the neck. For your ordinary nightly treatments leave this hour on the skin for half an hour or so.

Once a week use a mask to help you remold the contours of the face and coax wilted, tired skin back to the firm youthfulness that the new mode demands. There are masks of every description. Some are of the cream type, others are made of cloth.

Use one of these mask preparations over the entire face, neck and throat. You may find that you get better results from using them twice a week at this season, especially if you have neglected your face and neck during the summer and it needs softening, firming and bleaching.

Here is an exercise that is so easy you can take it seven times a day. Try it when your eyes are tired or you feel bored. Throw the head slightly back. Extend the chin, closing the mouth. Now lift upward with the chin and neck muscles. If you do the exercises before a mirror, you can see the muscles actually stand out as you exert the upward pressure with the chin.

G. Ross will take up residence in their new bungalow on the Montreal Road.

The out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Ross, Miss Muriel Ross, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Ross, Mr. Gordon Bradford, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Ross, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. W. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Longway, the Misses Mildred and Norma Longway, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. J. MacCallum, Mr. and Mrs. K. Fry, Nurse Bradford, Mrs. Harriet Bradford, Miss Ada Yates, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Cook, Miss Margaret Cook, Mr. R. M. Bishop, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. F. Byham, Mr. and Mrs. James Byrd, Miss Dorothy Byrd, Mr. and Mrs. James Shaw, Miss Reta Shaw, Mr. Donald Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. James Kenalty, Miss Kathleen Kenalty, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kenalty, Mrs. M. A. Kilgour, Mr. Donald Kilgour, all of Sherbrooke; Mrs. George Haswell, of Glen Falls, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Planché, of East Angus; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Akhurst, of Coaticook; Miss Elsie Coates, R.N., of Bury; Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Bishop, Miss Norma Bishop, Miss Fannie Bishop, Mr. Herman Bishop, all of Bishopston; Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Sweet, Miss Roberta Sweet, Mr. and Mrs. Loyal Longway, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Vincent, Miss Eva Vincent, Mr. Tommy Vincent, Mrs. Cecil Proper, Miss Iva Proper, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Thompson, Miss Bella Crowell, all of Sutton; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Maynes, of Warden; Mr. John Hilliker, Mrs. S. P. Hilliker, of Coventry, Vt.; Miss Athalie Stock, Mr. and Mrs. J. Humphrey, of Magog; Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Parnell, of Lennoxville; and Miss Florence Parker, of North Hatley.

FISHER—AIKEN

Waterloo, Oct. 20. — The marriage of Jean, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Aiken, of Waterloo, to Mr. Bert Fisher, youngest son of the late Mr. C. L. Fisher, of Halifax, England, and Mrs. Fisher, of Waterloo, took place very quietly at half past five o'clock on Saturday evening, October 9th, in St. Luke's Church, Waterloo, Rev. Norman Egerton officiating.

Mr. Claude Fisher acted as best man for his brother. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father and was unattended, wore her travelling suit of navy blue with matching accessories and a corsage bouquet of white heather.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Fisher left for Toronto and Niagara Falls, where they will spend their honeymoon. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Fisher will reside in Waterloo.

The lizard's tail separates from his body easily and without loss of blood. Even fright is enough to cause it to detach itself.

WHAT LIFE INSURANCE MEANS TO OLD AGE

TO men and women in their later years, Life Insurance means freedom from money worries.

It means that, when the protection for the family is no longer needed, the cash proceeds of their Life Insurance policies will provide a guaranteed income for their own old age.

It means that they can retire from active business at 55, 60 or 65—and take a well-earned rest.

It means that they can continue to enjoy the comforts of a home—and the little luxuries that make life so pleasant.

It means that they can be financially independent and face the future unafraid—with the peace of mind and security that lengthens the span of life.

Today, Life Insurance protects and supports thousands upon thousands of Canadians in their old age—and thus renders a great service to the nation.

DROP IN STEELS TOOK EDGE OFF MARKET RALLY

Selling of Steels, Which Turned Over in Heavy Volume, Was Said to Reflect Taking of Profits After Yesterday's Brisk Rally.

New York, Oct. 20.—Losses of one to around two points in steels took the edge off a fast-moving early stock market rally which carried other groups up fractions to as much as three points today.

So furious was the trading pace in the first half-hour the ticker tape fell about six minutes behind the market. Many leaders sold in blocks of 1,000 to 6,000 shares.

Selling of steels, which turned over in heavy volume, was said to reflect taking of profits after yesterday's brisk rally of this group. U.S. Steel and Bethlehem suffered the worst.

Gainers were Goodyear, Montgomery-Ward, Sears Roebuck, Case, Du Pont, Boeing, Consolidated Edison, American Can, Allied Chemical, Southern Railway, Baltimore & Ohio, Radio, Continental Can and National Steel.

Motors and a few metals and rails felt the backwash of selling as business gathered momentum.

Cotton opened uneven. Grains were a little lower. Bonds were mixed.

At the start of trading Wall Street men insisted involuntary liquidation and not values had played the important part in yesterday's morning collapse of prices.

The Tuesday afternoon rally, it was said by usually well-informed brokers, had resulted from demand from so-called "bargain hunters" and corporations with funds available to buy back their own shares.

The industrial background for the market was uninspiring, analysts said.

The Edison Electric Institute reported a slight downturn in power production in the week ended October 16th, but a five per cent. gain over the like week of 1936.

BRIEF SELLING FOLLOWED MONTREAL BUYING FLURRY

Montreal, Oct. 20.—Prices ran up fractions to a point in an opening stock market rally today.

Brief selling followed the buying flurry, but substantial improvements showed for Smelters, Noranda, Montreal Power, Steel Car, Canadian Car, Bell, Brazilian and C.P.R. Nickel sold 1-1/2 to 4-1/2.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK MARKET

Montreal, Oct. 20.—Receipts on the Montreal livestock market today were: Cattle, 10; calves, 108; hogs, 78; sheep and lambs, 170.

There were not enough cattle to make a market.

Calves were firm. The bulk of the veals were sold between $8.50 and $9 and the bulk of the grassers for $4. There were no top veals.

Good ewes and wethers were $7.75. Lambs weighed one hundred pounds or more made $6.75. Culls and bucks were $5.75. Sheep were $3 to $3.50.

Bacon hogs were $8.75, fed and watered. Selects drew one dollar per hog premium. Butchers and heavies were $8.25, extra heavies and lights $7.75, and sows were from $6 to $7.25, according to quality.

"NAKED" WITHOUT GUN

Melbourne, Oct. 20.—Arthur Dufranco, French-Canadian world traveler who has prospected for gold and diamonds all over the world for nearly fifty years, arrived here. He said he felt "naked" without a revolver.

Cape Town, Oct. 20.—A record catch of forty-six whales in one day was obtained by a fleet of twelve vessels operating from the Donkergat whaling station at Saldanha Bay, Cape Province.

SPLENDID SUM FROM SUPPER AT WATERLOO

Itemized Statement Given at Meeting of Beaver Chapter, No. 7, O. E. S., Records $61.90 Derived from Supper Served Odd Fellows.

Waterloo, Oct. 19.—The regular meeting of Beaver Chapter No. 7, O. E. S., was held in the Masonic Temple. Following the opening ceremonies, the secretary, Mrs. Evelyn J. Goddard, presented an itemized statement of the proceeds of the supper served the Oddfellows at their district meeting, which showed the gratifying sum of sixty-one dollars and ninety cents.

The worthy matron, Sister Audrey Marcotte, invited the Grand Secretary, Sister Mary Holden, to acquaint the officers and members with the scheduled Grand Chapter arrangements. Sister Holden, in her descriptive remarks, urged as many officers and members as possible to attend Grand Chapter which will be held in the Mount Royal Hotel, Montreal.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies the ladies adjourned to the banquet hall and enjoyed refreshments served by Mrs. Bridge, Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Boyce.

General Notes

Miss Lucia Knowlton spent a week-end in Knowlton with her brother, Mr. Morgan Knowlton and Mrs. Knowlton.

Mrs. Guy Fletcher, her son, Mr. Meur, and his two young sons, of Evansville, Vt., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. McKenny. Mrs. Fletcher, before her marriage, was Miss Lillie Sylvester, daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. George Sylvester, formerly of Waterloo.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Tann, of Hardinge, Texas, were guests of Mrs. Tann's aunts, Mrs. John Boyce and Miss Margaret Bennett. Mr. Tann is chairman of the United States Board of Civil Engineers.

A large number from Waterloo enjoyed the chicken pie dinner served by the United Church congregation at Warden.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Parkinson spent the week-end and Thanksgiving day with relatives in Rawdon.

Mr. Candlish Bogle, of L'Avenir, was a guest of his uncle, Mr. Charles Bogle.

MARRIAGES

PROVINCE OF QUEBEC, MUNICIPALITY OF THE TOWN OF RICHMOND.

At the adjourned special meeting of the Council of the Town of Richmond, held in the Council Chambers of the said Town, on Wednesday, October 13th, 1937, at eight o'clock in the evening, at which were present the Mayor, the Council and the Mayor's Committee, the following resolution was adopted: That the Mayor, the Council and the Mayor's Committee be and they are hereby authorized to sell the said land to the Municipality of the Town of Richmond, for the purpose of establishing a Branch Store of the Quebec Liquor Commission, for the sale of Alcoholic Liquors within the limits of the said Town.

WHEREAS the obligation in which the Council of the Town of Richmond is placed to submit the said By-Law to the approval of the Municipal Electors, in virtue of Chapter 42, R.S.Q., 1925, Article 6.

WHEREAS a Notice of Motion was given at the regular meeting of the Council, held on October 4th, 1937, that a By-Law will be passed at the next meeting, in reference to the establishment of a Branch Store of the Quebec Liquor Commission, for the sale of Alcoholic Liquors within the limits of the Municipality of the Town of Richmond.

After deliberation, it was moved by Alderman Geoffrey, seconded by Alderman Ross, and carried that:

It is ordained and decreed by By-Law of this Council as follows:

BY-LAW NO. 168

Art. 1.—That the Quebec Liquor Commission be authorized to establish a Branch Store for the selling of Alcoholic Liquors, within the limits of the Municipality of the Town of Richmond, if a Referendum is favorable, in accordance with the said law.

Art. 2.—The present By-Law shall be submitted, according to law, to the approval of the Municipal Electors of the Town of Richmond, on such date and place that will be fixed by Public Notice to that effect, and shall come into force after having been approved by the majority in number of said Electors who shall have voted.

MADE AND PASSED by the Council of the Town of Richmond, then and there sitting and also then and there signed the thirtieth day of the month of October, nineteen hundred and thirty-seven.

S. E. DESMARAIS, Mayor.

Shivering causes contraction of the muscles and, like exercise, it can increase the appetite.

THE STORY THUS FAR.

After a year of probation, lovely Margit Agnew has finally consented to her sister's marriage to Waldo, a young inventor, her dressmaking establishment and her emotions under perfect control. Although Waldo tries to rebel at her wedding plans, she sweetly argues him down, as always. But her sister, Irene, is the more impulsive type. The latter is out shopping one afternoon when suddenly a sidewalk artist calls to her. Despite her better judgment she approaches his easel.

CHAPTER IV.

Ninety-nine girls out of a hundred, when accosted by a curb-stone artist, would respond (depending upon their stations) with such phrases as "No thank you," "Go piddle your paper," "Scram, Michael Angelo!"

Irene's background and upbringing were such, however, that upon being given a forceful command she almost automatically obeyed—especially when that command was backed up by eyes that held the same sort of assurance as Margit's.

She walked over to the easel. As she walked

NEW OCCUPANTS FOR FARM OF G. MACKINNON

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Hunter, Managers of "Inverness" for the Past Twenty-Seven Years, to Give Over to New Owner, Mr. Roy McLaren, Who Will Work Farm Himself.

Bondville, Oct. 20.—Mr. Justice Mackinnon has sold his farm "Inverness," to Mr. Roy McLaren, of Buckingham, Que.

As Mr. and Mrs. McLaren are going to live on the farm themselves, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Hunter, who have managed the farm in the past will be moving away. Mr. and Mrs. Hunter will be greatly missed as they have managed the property for upwards of twenty-seven years. They will spend the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Robb Millinchamp, and Mr. Millinchamp, of Waterloo.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunter have for many years been active in church and social affairs. Mr. Hunter has long been organist at the little church he loves so well, while Mr. Hunter has been a warden for almost as long a time as his wife has been organist.

Mrs. Hunter is the last of the Hillhouse family in this district and has always lived up to that family's high tradition of community service. Although regret is felt that the Hunters are to leave, it is hoped that they will always continue their heartfelt interest in the neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. McLaren, who will be the new occupants of the farm with their three children, are extended a hearty welcome and it is hoped that they will long remain in the district.

JOYS and GLOOMS

BAH! EVERYWHERE I LOOK I SEE JOY AND HAPPINESS! IT'S SO GOOD TO GET AFTER THOSE JOYS!

HE'S RIGHT! GLOOMS GET AFTER THOSE JOYS!

OH DADDY... MOTHER SAYS YOU WOULD BUILD ME A PLAYHOUSE!

WHAT! ME BUILD A PLAYHOUSE? I SHOULD SAY NOT! I'M DEAD TIRED!

TEAR INTO 'EM, BOYS!

WHY... WHY... LEN! I DON'T UNDERSTAND!

OH YOU WOULDN'T! YOU NEVER SHOW ME ANY CONSIDERATION! YOU KNOW I NEED REST! I HAVEN'T BEEN SLEEPING WELL... BUT... WHAT DO YOU CARE?

I WORK HARD ALL DAY... LIE AWAKE ALL NIGHT... AND ALL YOU DO IS THINK UP MORE WORK FOR ME!

WELL... IF YOU'D DO AS THE DOCTOR SAID, YOU'D NOT ONLY SLEEP BETTER, BUT YOU'D BE A WHOLE LOT EASIER TO LIVE WITH!

HE TOLD YOU CAFFEINE NERVES WAS CAUSING YOUR SLEEPLESSNESS! WHY DON'T YOU QUIT TEA AND COFFEE AND DRINK POSTUM INSTEAD FOR 30 DAYS, AS HE SUGGESTED?

OH ALL RIGHT... I WILL!

BEAT IT! WE'RE LICKED! POSTUM ALWAYS BEATS US OUT!

30 DAYS LATER

SINCE HE GOT RID OF HIS SLEEPLESSNESS, HE'S BEEN A NEW MAN!

YOU SAID IT! SWITCHING TO POSTUM SURE DID THE TRICK FOR HIM!

YOUR MONEY BACK IF SWITCHING TO POSTUM DOESN'T HELP YOU!

JOY

If you are one of those who cannot safely drink tea or coffee... try Postum's 30-day test. Buy a tin of Postum and drink it instead of tea or coffee for one full month.

If... after 30 days... you do not feel better, return the top of the Postum container to General Foods, Ltd., Cobourg, Ont., and we will cheerfully refund the full purchase price, plus postage!

Give Postum a fair trial... drink it for the full 30 days!

Postum contains no caffeine. It is simply whole wheat and bran, roasted and slightly sweetened. Postum comes in two forms... Postum Cereal, the kind you boil or percolate... and Instant Postum, made instantly in the cup. It is economical, easy to make and delicious. You may miss tea and coffee at first, but after 30 days, you'll love Postum for its own rich, full-bodied flavour.

HERE COMES PACKARD FOR 1938

-the only cars that can make you all these promises!

MIRACULOUS RIDE—The new Packard Six and new Packard Eight (formerly called Packard 120) bring you the gentlest ride ever offered to motorists—a ride that literally remakes roads!

UNEQUALLED SAFETY—These new Packards are outstanding in safety. Side-sway is eliminated and the danger of skidding is tremendously reduced.

REVOLUTIONARY REAR END—The foregoing things have been accomplished by a series of epochal improvements which now bring the effect of independent wheel suspension to the rear end.

NEW QUIET BODY—As a result of years of research in cooperation with a great University, Packard brings you a really quiet all-steel body with an all-steel top.

MORE LUXURIOUS SIZE—Both the Packard Eight and Packard Six are seven full inches longer in wheelbase than last year. Bodies are far wider. Trunks challenge those of any cars for roominess.

SERVICE NEEDS CUT—The need for service is still further reduced. Example: Chassis lubrication is now needed only twice a year!

ENDURING BEAUTY—The famous Packard lines are now more beautifully streamlined than ever. But they still proclaim your style a Packard, still guard it from early style obsolescence. Only Packard gives you both long mechanical life and long style life!

EASY AVAILABILITY—YOU can afford one! See your Packard dealer. He will give you proof that, if you can afford to buy and operate any new car, you can afford to buy and operate a Packard!

NEW 1938 PACKARD SIX & EIGHT {FORMERLY CALLED THE PACKARD 120}

DUFFERIN MOTOR SALES REG'D.

YOU HAVE A DATE TUESDAY EVENINGS

Each Tuesday evening, at 9:30 P.M., over the N.B.C. Red Network, Packard brings you one of the most entertaining full-hour shows on the air! Lanny Ross, Charles George, and Florence George head a brilliant cast that entertains each week one of the topmost stars of radio, stage or screen!

LADIES' AID AT BISHOPTON HAD BUSY SESSION

Many Interesting Topics Discussed at Regular Session of Ladies' Aid of Bishopton Church.

Bishopton, Oct. 20.—The Ladies' Aid convened at "Woodbine Bungalow," with a good attendance of members and several visitors. The president, Mrs. de Gruchy, opened the meeting by reading the ninth psalm, followed by the Lord's Prayer, which was repeated in unison.

Mrs. M. Porter, the secretary, submitted the minutes of the previous meeting, which were adopted and business items left over from the last meeting were dealt with and decided upon in a satisfactory manner. Ten dollars was voted to be applied to the minister's stipend, a sum voted on parsonage repairs and ten dollars to be paid to Mr. Bloomfield. The committee appointed to solicit in place of holding the annual salad tea reported that the very satisfactory sum of over forty dollars had been realized, with others to be heard from.

A hearty vote of thanks was moved to all those who had so generously given toward this worthy cause. The roll call was answered by receipts. Lunch was served by Mrs. Henry Kenney and Mrs. Mark Porter, assisted by Mrs. R. C. Rolfe, Mrs. E. G. Gibson and Mrs. de Gruchy, a number of additional guests coming in at the tea hour. The next meeting will be held on October 27.

COMPTON

The choir of the Conitook United Church, under the able directorship of Mr. Turnbull, were guests of the United Baptist Church, at their afternoon Sunday service, on October 17th. The selections rendered by the choir, as also the solos, were well received and were in keeping with the season of Thanksgiving. Rev. A. Johnson, in a short address, gave a very instructive description on the benefits derived from music, pointing out the various expressions of sympathy and cheer and its contribution to worship and praise. A very large and appreciative audience was in attendance.

The regular meeting of St. James' Guild was held in the Guild Room on October 13th. Mrs. Eardley Wilmet, the president, officiated. Several letters were read from the recipients of clothing, etc., from the bales sent out last Christmas to the western relief in Saskatchewan district. The letters were of praise and deep appreciation for the work carried on by the local W.A. The layettes which were made up this summer are now ready for distribution throughout the western districts. Further work is being carried on by the Guild in the way of purchasing of materials to be made up in preparation for their annual fall sale.

About one-fourth of the annual production of gold is used for coinage.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE HELD AT RICHMOND

Large Number Attended Impressive Thanksgiving Services Held in Richmond United Church.

Richmond, Oct. 20.—On Sunday morning, October 10, a Thanksgiving service was held in the Melbourne United Church with Rev. G. H. Craik, a former pastor as special preacher. Special music was rendered by the choir and a solo by Miss Laura Perron. The anthem was "Praise Him, Praise Him." The evening service was held in the College Street United Church with Chalmers congregation uniting. The anthems were "How Beautiful Upon the Mountain" and "Sins to the Lord of Harvest." Mrs. C. R. Boast sang a solo "Lead Kindly Light." Those assisting Rev. E. W. S. Coates were Dr. Sutherland, Rev. S. Gorley Brown and Rev. H. W. Burnett with Rev. G. H. Craik as special preacher. There was a large attendance at both services and the churches were beautifully decorated for the occasion. The music was under the direction of Mrs. Fred Dyson, organist and choir director.

WAKE UP LIKE A CAVE MAN

Feel Full of Life—No More Tired, Dull, Heavy Mornings

Keep your liver healthy and you'll feel great every morning. When you wake up feeling "rotten" your liver is out of order. Your liver cleans the blood of poisons, separates the nourishing part of your food from the waste. Supplies energy to muscles, tissues and glands—gives out bile, the body's laxative, helps stomach, kidneys and intestines to work properly. A more bowel movement isn't enough. "Fruit-A-Lives" made from fruits and herbs, will strengthen and build up your liver like nothing else will. You'll be amazed how well you are every morning. Try Fruit-A-Lives. All druggists.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Ready to go

The liver should pour out two pounds of fluid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, rank and the world looks nasty.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get it out. A liver full of bile flows freely and makes you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of nature but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

ENGLISH HOCKEY LOSES CANADIAN FLAVOR

Protest Against Rough Play In London League

English Sports Writers, Never Having Seen Real Body Checks, Protest Against Hard Hitting Type of Play—Penalty Shot from Two Feet Out Inaugurated.

London, Oct. 20. — Hockey in England is losing some of its Canadian flavor. The admonishments of English sports writers, who never heard of bruising checks like Eddie Shore or Babe Siebert, plus legislation and regulation by officials are altering the game.

The storm of protest raised after a couple of minor ice "riots" in London rinks last season had its sequel at the inauguration of this year's programme in a "clean-up" campaign.

Aimed at stamping out rough house tactics in the rink, a new penalty shot was introduced. The man taking the shot is allowed to skate within a couple of feet of the net before firing the puck. Protests of Canadian goalies on the dangerous aspects of the rule were drowned by applause for "the speedy action of officials" to introduce gentlemanly manners into the game.

Another departure is the goal change-over half way through the third period. A goal rings and the game stops while the teams change ends.

The presentation of the game too follows a different routine than the home of its birth. They don't start with "God Save the King" followed by a long-drawn cheer.

A couple of "ice turns"—fancy skating or barrel jumping—launch the evening's programme. Men and women in evening dress sitting in plush-seated boxes heated by steam radiation clap hands, and supporters' clubs, bedecked with big colored rosettes, twirl "noise-makers" as the gladiators skate on the ice.

The orchestra plays something light while the players take practice shots at the goal. The rink side restaurants finish their dessert. As the game progresses a public address system carries an explanation of the play.

The end of the period is a signal for typical English pageantry. A dozen or so uniformed ice-skaters chosen for their height and displaying rink colors march on the ice into the glare of colored spotlights.

When the orchestra strikes up a martial tune they sweep in measured beat.

SPORT CHATTER

All seems quiet on the Sherbrooke hockey front. The moguls are busily preparing for what they hope will be their most successful season. St. Jerome have signed "Coco" Blanchard, forward who played in the United States last year, and defenceman Bellemare, who spent last year on the surfaces of Europe.

"Push 'Em Up" Tony Lazzari, liquid eyed former second baseman of the World Champion Yanks, who stole the World Series spotlight by leading the batting with a 400 average, is reported to be dickering with the National League Chicago Cubs. Charley Grimm is signed for another year by the Cubs, but may move into a front office job.

This corner received a letter from a veteran Montreal newspaper man telling me that I was on very dangerous ground in trying to pick winners in Sport Chatter. Oh well, even if it is dangerous from the point of view of accuracy it is a lot of fun, and no one expects the predictions to be right anyway.

Complaints are heard about the sixty-five thousand little iron men received every year by Commissioner Landis. Fear of baseball. These are unjustified, as the cost of the Landis office is very high, and any price is worth the high standard that Commissioner Landis insists on. No more World Series scandals such as the Arnold Rothstein fiasco of 1919.

Eddie Wolfe, Sherbrooke coach, reports that his backfield is bruised a bit from the Quebec game, and that some of the players may not be in uniform for the Bishop's game next Saturday. "Dusty" Miller, star against the Granites, is suffering from a wrenched leg. Sinclair and Gillman are both bruised and shaken up.

It seems as if the rulers of "Tin Ear Alley" figure that Robert has not yet ended his usefulness as champion. Miquet will have to wait awhile longer to wear the champion's crown. But his less Monday cannot be looked on as the finish of his career, but merely a process in its building up.

Bob Wagner, who was seen in the local ring two weeks ago, stole the show from the champ in his bout with "Legs" Langevin. Major hope for Wagner, who is following his plan of being the roughest wrestler in the game, started a riot and had to be escorted from the ring by police. One spectator actually came to blows with him as a score or more swarmed into the ring.

Albert Kouri, local sport maestro, will again exhibit this wildman from Oregon next Monday night. Champ Robert will also be on the card, and this corner is of the opinion that most of the crowd will be on hand in the hope that the villainous Wagner will get his just deserts.

Bishop's players are working out with great zeal for Saturday's game with Sherbrooke. Their new tackling dummy is coming in for a terrible beating, and coach O'Donnell is taking off a pound or two as he bends over to pick it up every time a tackler knocks it down.

Jack Rogers, Bishop's quarter, will be shifted to an outside wing position, and Doug Bradley and "Dago" Knox will share the quarter duties, as well as bearing the burden of running back kicks with Harry Gray. This is the first masterminding Len O'Donnell has tried. The coaching assignment at Bishop's calls for more teaching of the fundamentals of football than it does masterminding, and at this O'Donnell is a past master.

Bishop's College School and Lennoxville High School tangled this afternoon in their first meeting of the season. This should be one of the highlights in the School Rugby League, as both schools have fast and hard hitting teams. Remember the classics between B.C.S. and L.
