OUR WOMEN'S CLUB.

THE NEW ORGANIZATION SUCCESSFULLY LAUNCHED YESTERDAY.

A Pleasant Meeting in the Fraser Hall—The Officers Elected.

The movement for the formation of a Women's club in Montreal has, at last, reached a successful conclusion, and this city is now on an equal footing with other cities of its size and reputation on the continent in having an institution, where cultured, intellectual and ambitious women can meet and exchange ideas. Some people, more especially those belonging to the male sex, look upon such a club as something of a blue-stocking nature, but nothing is further from the ideas of the promoters. The Women's Club is to be essentially for the exchange of ideas which will benefit the whole community, for who does not know that, after all, it is woman who rules the world?

The gathering in the Fraser hall yesterday was representative of the best in the woman's world of Montreal, some fifty or sixty ladies meeting to assist in the organization of the new club. Mrs. Robert Reid was called to the chair, and delivered a most interesting address, pointing out the benefits to be obtained from the formation of a woman's club, and the objects of which should be to promote useful and agreeable relations among women of artistic, literary, scientific and philanthropic tastes. A provisional organization was then perfected as follows:

President—Mrs. Robert Reid.

Vice-President—Mrs. Sinton.

Secretary—Mrs. Macnaughton.

Treasurer—Mrs. R. D. McGillem.

The work will be divided into four departments—the home, social science, art and literature, and philanthropy—and each of these departments will elect two representatives to the board of directors, which will also include the officers elected yesterday.

When the meeting adjourned it was found that thirty-four ladies had signed the roll of membership, and a good score more asked for further information on the subject. The club will hold a business meeting on the second Friday of a general meeting on the last Friday of each month, and the prospect is that when the club meets again on Jan. 13, the membership roll will be largely increased.

A vote of thanks was passed to Mrs. Clarke Murray for her kindness in having put a room at the disposal of the club.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Mrs. Elliot is in town in consequence of the very serious illness of her sister, Miss Hamilton, Sherbrooke street. Mrs. Elliot is the guest of Mrs. G. W. Hamilton, Peel street, of Toronto.

Mrs. Mackay is visiting her sister, Mrs. Archibald McGillem, of Stanley street.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Stephens have returned once more to their old home, on Drummond street. They have spent several winters in Italy, and in summer travelled all over the continent. Their enforced absence was owing to the delicate state of health of their eldest child.

Mrs. E. S. Clouston and children are in Paris just now, but intend going to Italy later on. The children's ill-health renders it necessary to keep them in a warm climate during the winter.

Mrs. R. R. Dobell, of Quebec, has been in town for a few days on her way through from Toronto, where she has been visiting her father and mother, Sir David and Lady Macpherson, of Chestnut Park.

Sir Joseph and Lady Hickson visited the capital a few days ago.

Miss Laura Smith, of Ottawa, is visiting Mrs. Davidson, of Peel street.

Mr. Beatham, arrived from England last week. He will probably remain here for the winter.

Miss Van Horns has gone to Boston to spend some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stimson have returned from England.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Paton are expected in town in a day or so, from England.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Rawlings are expected home on Monday from New York, where they have been spending the past ten days, since Mr. Rawlings' return from England.

Mrs. Whitehead, of Cote des Neiges, with Mrs. Whitehead and Mr. Whitehead, have gone on a trip around the world, via Vancouver and Japan.

On dit that an engagement will be announced between the daughter of a well-known wine merchant and a young doctor very soon.

A juvenile dance was given by Mrs. Lightbound on Wednesday evening. It was most enjoyable. Several grown up young ladies and gentlemen were invited to help to entertain the children.

The dance at the Army was not generally successful, although an announcement was made in the papers concerning it. At any rate there were not nearly so many present as usual.

Mrs. Stanger gave a progressive collation on Wednesday evening, followed by a small dance. It was a great success.

Mrs. David Leach had a "tea" on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Gibb Shaw had a large "at home" on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. D. Mann gave a dinner party last evening at her residence, on Drummond street, to Mrs. Aldous, of Wilmot.

of this intercourse can be traced in their characters. Under a modest exterior the French girl hides an element of masculine strength, while the active, self-reliant French lad has an almost feminine refinement and tenderness of disposition.

SHE REBELS.

A Fashionable Parisienne's Protest to the Empire Gown.

Since the short waist, the Empire waist, is becoming more and more largely on the horizon, it may be interesting to give the opinion on this subject of a Parisian woman of the world who has very decided views on all things relating to dress, says a correspondent. Her views on the short waists are contained in the following fragment of a dialogue she had with the head of one of the firms of fashionable dressmakers in Paris: "I shall rebel, sir! Nothing in the world shall induce me to wear your Empire dress!"

"But, madam!"—"You wait! line under the arm! Why, it is preposterous. On trying on the costume you sent me last month, I found to my horror that I looked like a big baby in it. You know I wrote to you at once saying that I should never make such a fright of myself; and now, as soon as I enter your place, you propose to make another such gown for me. It is madness!"

"No, sir, no. You have had your own way a little too long, you dressmakers, and you have begun to think that we shall not fall in with all your caprices. But let me tell you that we will not accept a gown submitted to the Empire dress. So do not say anything more. I have said my last word."

A Woman Florist.

There is in a small town in the State of New York a most successful woman florist, who began with only a few house plants in a window. These plants were the despair and admiration of her friends, who were in the habit of coming to her to start slips and supply them with blooms. At last she had a little conservatory built, and gradually filled it with choice and beautiful blossoms and plants, and made a business of her undertaking. She studied botany, flower culture and decoration, and held her own in the florist's world. In one year she was able to enlarge her business, which has increased each year during the ten she has been engaged in it.

A Dainty Pocket Knife.

In the pocket of a tailor made gown the swell girl carries her knife. Anybody who thinks this is an ordinary knife such as can be gotten at any shop is mistaken; it is invariably made of gold, and, in addition, is decorated with some special design. A very original one has a heart of lapis lazuli framed in diamonds set in one corner of the handle, and the owner's name and a curious cipher carved on the other. A very general fancy exists for having the name engraved upon the knife in an exact copy of the way one would write one's own initials.—Chicago Journal.

To Care for the Complexion.

The desultory way in which many women care for their complexions yields poor results. It requires care to keep perfectly clean hands, and women can't expect to erase wrinkles, callosities and black spots by occasionally dabbing their faces with some advertised water under a high sounding name. A little care given every morning, with a pure cosmetic, will give lasting results, but the treatment must be as regular as combing the hair.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

BIRTHS.

CAMERON—At Lancaster, on December 8, the wife of Angus D. Cameron, L.D.S., of a son.

CAMERON—On Dec. 14, at 77 Hutchison st., the wife of W. L. Cameron, of a son. (Ottawa Free Press copy.)

LABADIE—On Dec. 15, at 248 Notre Dame street, the wife of F. Labadie, M.D., of a daughter.

LAWRENCE—At San Francisco, Cal., on the 8th December, the wife of Geo. Lawrence of a son.

MURRAY—On the 15th Dec., '92, the wife of W. J. Murray, of a son. (Dublin papers please copy.)

MARRIAGES.

BLAND-SHERWOOD—At Carleton Place, on Dec. 6, by Rev. H. F. Bland, assisted by Rev. S. G. Bland, the Rev. C. E. Bland, B.A., B.D., of Miss Emily L. Sherwood, daughter of the late Wm. Sherwood, Esq., barrister, of Brockville.

DAVISON—In this city, on 16th December, 1892, May Anne, daughter of the late John Auld, and wife of Duncan Davison, Esq., of the late residence, No. 20 Lincoln street, Montreal, to Miss Emily L. Sherwood, daughter of the late Wm. Sherwood, Esq., barrister, of Brockville.

LOHMEYER—On the 15th December instant, at the age of 45 years, 7 months and 16 days, Tancrède Chevalier de Lohmeyer, advocate and Queen's Counsel. Funeral will take place from his late residence, No. 129 Champ de Mars street, on Monday, the 19th day of December, at half past eight o'clock, to Notre Dame Church, thence to Cote des Neiges cemetery, place of burial. Friends and acquaintances are invited to attend. (Boston papers please copy.)

BRIDGES—In this city, on the 15th inst., John Thomas, aged 21 years and 7 months, eldest and beloved son of Joseph Bridges, used by the holder during her stay it can be made over to another, who can use the balance. After the $10 has been used the share still stands on the books credited to the holder, and she will be entitled to her share of the profits. Add to this, says the balance. The rate per day to stockholders will not exceed 40 cents per day. Each person must engage her room at least a month before good restaurants on the Exhibition, where New England kitchens or the like, where the day's plain meals may be brought with in this sum. Five dollars will pay for the dinner to the Exhibition, leaving $25 for transportation on the round trip between New York and Chicago. The Pittsburgh women, although nearer the Fair, estimate it will cost $70 for a similar expedition from that city, depending on another railroad.

French Girl and Her Father. A French girl feels that there is just one companion as delightful as her mother, just one confidant as sympathetic, and that is her father, says Henrietta C. Daza in the Ladies' Home Journal.

He is her hero and the knight of her dreams, and often have I seen the girls at school hiding their father's photograph in the leaves of their school books, kissing it enthusiastically on the sly, pressing it to their hearts when they go to chapel to say their prayers, sewing his last letter into their pocket.

And when they meet one can see how the father returns his daughter's feeling by his tender clasp of her pure young hand and the adoring affection with which he looks down into her eyes.

He allows nothing to keep him back from meeting her as she comes from school, and giving her his arm—for every French gentleman extends this mark of protection and respect to the women of his family—they start off on their long, happy walk, and many a merry romp, many a tender confidence do they have in the short evening that follows till her early bedtime at 8 o'clock.

In France the son belongs peculiarly to his mother; till he marries she is the "lady on his shield," but the daughter is two-thirds her father's. The effect of this intercourse can be traced in their characters. Under a modest exterior the French girl hides an element of masculine strength, while the active, self-reliant French lad has an almost feminine refinement and tenderness of disposition.

STOCKS MUCH WEAKER.

A General Decline Caused by Firm Money, and the Break in New York.

Friday, December 16.

The speculative markets all around to-day had a sharp decline, the cause being the same in every case, namely, tight money.

In New York money loaned as high as 25 per cent. on one time, but the close was 6 per cent. offered, and reports say that the feeling at the close was greatly improved.

The situation in our own city, considering everything, remarkably good. Of course there was a decline, but the selling was not insignificant, and the drop was not heavy. The rate for call loans was 5 per cent., and in certain cases as low as 5 per cent. was reported, but there was naturally a decided disinclination to lend money until matters are somewhat settled.

Widened the situation still further, caused the scarcity of funds was the fact that one of our large banks called in the heavy amount which they had in the street, having loaned it at a rate of 10 per cent. to obtain the money necessary to place it. The bank in question is being criticised in no unmeasured terms by the street, having brought up to date the $500,000 from New York, offered at a rate lower than the rest of the banks, after it was taken up raised the rate, and have now called it in.

Taking everything into account, the market held its own remarkably well. Cable closed at 174, a loss of 2 points. Gas was also 2 points lower at 223. Telegraph was weaker at 153, and Richelieu sold 13 lower at 694.

In bank stocks Montreal was the only thing traded in, and was 2 points lower at 221. The new city loan has been more than subscribed for, as the offers amounted in all to over £1,400,000; each subscriber was, therefore, given seventy per cent. of the amount asked for. This will tend to ease our money market, as the city will pay off some of its large loans to the City and District Savings Bank. The Bank of Montreal naturally felt well satisfied with their venture, as they have cleared over $100,000 on the transaction, or nearly one per cent. on their capital.
