U.S. GOVERNMENT TAKES OVER SOFT COAL MINES

World News In Brief

Toronto, May 22.—(C.P.)—Paul Gray Garwood, 28-year-old war veteran charged with bigamy, solemnly looked at the two women claiming to have been married to him and told Judge James Parker in County Sessions yesterday that he could not remember ever seeing them before. Defence counsel pleaded accused had suffered a mental blackout wiping out memory of two marriages.

Judge Parker described the case as "most peculiar" but ruled that Garwood was fit to stand trial.

Garwood was brought back from New Brunswick to stand trial. The case resumes Monday.

Nuernberg, May 22.—(P)—Baron Ernst von Weizsaecker, former German ambassador to the Vatican, declared today that history would list Pope Pius at the top of all those deserving praise for conduct during the war in Italy.

Next to the Pope in the regard, he told the International Military Tribunal under questioning of counsel for the German High Command, indicated as a criminal group, history would bestow its praise "on the German Wehrmacht under Field Marshal (Albert) Kesselring."

Weizsaecker was summoned to the witness stand yesterday by counsel for Rudolf Hess.

Weizsaecker said that during the Nazi occupation of the Eternal City "Kesselring told me half his days were taken up with the question of feeding Rome."

"Perhaps it is not known here," he continued, "that in the autumn of 1943 the Holy See published an official communiqué that the behavior of German soldiers in Rome was to be praised."

Singapore, May 22.—(Reuters)—Rt. Hon. Malcolm MacDonald, former British High Commissioner to Canada, today was installed as Governor General of the Malay Union and Singapore.

Mr. MacDonald is the first Governor General of the Malay Union and Singapore. A British white paper January 22 outlined a new constitution which provides for regrouping of the Malay States and the Straits Settlements into two administrations—A Malay Union and Singapore.

London, May 22.—(C.P.)—Prague radio announced today that Karl Hermann Frank, former Reich protector for Bohemia and Moravia, had been publicly hanged today as a war criminal.

Frank was convicted by a Czech people's court yesterday on charges of responsibility for the massacre of Lidice—a village of about 500 population 18 miles from Prague. It was obliterated by the Nazis in June, 1942, in revenge for the slaying of Reinhard (The Hangman) Heydrich.

Chinese Government Claims Capture Of Strategic City

Nanking, May 22.—(P)—Chinese government forces today claimed the capture of Kungchuling, halfway between Szepeingai and their goal, the Manchurian capital, Changchun. Communists countered by closing in on Chaoyang in southeastern Jehol province and Tsienan, capital of Shantung.

Front-line dispatches relayed from Mukden reported elements of the government's new 1st Army reached Kungchuling 40 miles south of Changchun, last night and that advance units today pushed seven miles further north.

Although government dispatch said national troops had "entered" Kungchuling and that advance units had pushed on north, it was not clear whether they had captured or by-passed that strategic city.

Some six weeks of fierce battling, chiefly for Szepeingai, and days of slow progress as the government troops plodded both afoot and with horse-drawn equipment, preceded the capture of Kungchuling. The push started as the Communists moved on Changchun in mid-April when the Russians withdrew their occupation troops from the Manchurian capital.

Meantime, Gen. Chang Chun, Governor of Szechuan province and the original government member of Marshall's peace commission, flew to Shanghai on a truce mission. The Shanghai Evening Post said he would confer with Democratic League leaders who had refused to go to Nanking "because they contended 'the present

Await Sign From Lewis His Miners Will Stay On Job

Government Seizure Seen as Urgent Bid to Keep Alive Two-Week Truce Now Set to Expire Saturday Night—Dim Prospects for Any Settlement in U.S. Railroad Labor Dispute Before Five-Day Strike Truce Ends Tomorrow Afternoon.

Washington, May 22.—(P)—Two wartime naval officers took over United States soft coal mines today and waited eagerly for a sign from John L. Lewis that his 400,000 union members will stay on the job.

Government seizure—which raised the American flag over 4,500 pits—was announced by the White House in an urgent bid to keep alive the two-week strike truce, now set to expire Saturday night.

President Truman designated Interior Secretary J. A. Krug, 38-year-old former naval lieutenant, as Federal Mines administrator. To aid Krug, he assigned the boss of the wartime Seabees—Vice Admiral Ben Morrell, who ran United States oil refineries after a similar seizure step last year.

At a preliminary session yesterday, Mr. Lewis told Mr. Krug and Mr. Morrell that the question of working was one for each individual miner to decide. Mr. Krug also met with the operators yesterday.

Coal Price Boost Held Inevitable

Washington, May 22.—(P)—Government officials who feared John L. Lewis might scuttle the United States Government's wage-price policy expressed belief today that federal seizure of the soft coal mines has lessened that possibility.

These officials, who withheld use of their names, told a reporter that since the United Mine Workers' boss now must deal with the government on a wage and welfare fund contract, the odds are against a price-shattering agreement.

They said a coal price increase, averaging perhaps 30 cents a ton or more, is a foregone conclusion. But they do not expect this to touch off a general round of price boosts for consumer goods as did the steel price increase granted in February.

But they do fear that higher prices for coal might aggravate another situation which could lead to higher prices for many consumer products. This is the railroads' pending request for a 25-per-cent increase in freight rates.

A coal-price increase presumably would strengthen the case of railroads because they are major coal consumers.

London, May 22.—(P)—Moscow radio today quoted a Tass report from "reliable sources" as saying that seven American-piloted planes had been shot down over Manchuria while bombing Chinese Communist forces.

Standard of both the Kuomintang (People's Party) and the Communists makes successful peace talks impossible.

Further news from the civil war was a Central News (government) Agency dispatch received in Nanking reporting that the Communists had captured Anize, a town near Tientsin on the Peiping-Tientsin Railway.

In Peiping, the Chinese Ministry of Information said the Communists, apparently attempting to seize the Chengteh-Chinchow railroad, drove to Hsinlingkou, 10 miles north of Chaoyang. It said the government garrison was isolated.

The ministry said the Communists troops captured Pehpiao, 20 miles northeast of Chaoyang.

Eight Red brigades were reported concentrated around Pingchuan, 100 miles to the southwest, and were besieging the nearby village of Wutuchi.

The government reported that the railroad linking Linghuan, Chaoyang and Chihnsien already had been cut. Linghuan is 60 miles southwest of Chaoyang.

The Peiping Chronicle carried a dispatch from Tsinan saying the Communists' forces were reported advancing on the isolated Shantung province capital from three directions.

Creating doubt as to whether government troops had captured Kungchuling or only entered it was an earlier dispatch from Associated Press.

Anthem Omission Due To Excitement

Quebec, May 22.—(P)—Excitement was responsible for omitting to play "O Canada" during Quebec's civic welcome tendered Viscount Alexander in the Palais Montcalm Saturday, Brig. Edmund Blais, officer commanding Military District No. 5 (Quebec), told Mayor Lucien Borne in a letter made public yesterday.

The band of the Royal 22nd Regiment was to play "O Canada," "God Save the King" and "The Grenadiers," Viscount Alexander's favorite pieces, according to the program, but "in the excitement and daze of the ceremonies, the band leader, Lieut. Edwin Buenger, made a mistake," the letter added. The three pieces were to be played after the Governor General's address but "O Canada" was omitted.

Soviet Denies Truman Plea To Give Aid

Stalin Refuses Help to UNRRA in Moscow Broadcast—Own Resources Depleted.

London, May 22.—(P)—Moscow radio announced today that Prime Minister Stalin has regretfully informed President Truman his request that Russia assign grain to help the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration meet the world food crisis came just three months too late.

The President's request, Stalin said, came after the Soviet Union had "assigned a certain quantity of foodstuffs to France and other countries" and at a time when Russia's own resources were seriously depleted.

The Soviet Prime Minister advised the President that the Moscow Government would have to give "special study" to his proposal that Russia co-ordinate her grain exports with those of other wheat-producing nations to make better use of grain reserves needed by a hungry world.

Stalin added that the Soviet Government has "no objection in principle" to the proposal.

Rumors that Russia had turned down the President's appeal came from Washington last Saturday, but there had been no official word prior to the Moscow broadcast last night. Unofficial Washington reports last week-end said Mr. Truman apparently still had hopes of getting Russia to reconsider her position on the world food problem.

A Moscow broadcast last Saturday said Russia had pledged to deliver more than 1,100,000 tons of grain to Finland, France, Poland and Romania during the first year of peace.

Eleven American ships loaded with Russian wheat were reported to have reached Marseilles last month as the first instalment on a total of 500,000 tons of wheat which the Soviet Union promised to deliver to France in April, May and June.

Russia also agreed to sell Poland 200,000 tons of grain for sowing this year's harvest and has promised another 100,000 tons to Finland. In addition, Moscow announced, Russia last September agreed to deliver 150,000 tons of wheat and 150,000 tons of corn to Rumania, and is making an additional grant of 20,000 carloads of wheat this year.

2 Masked Bandits Rob Ontario Bank

Alisa Craig, Ont., May 22.—(P)—A province-wide search was under way today for two masked bandits who robbed the Canadian Bank of Commerce here yesterday afternoon of a sum variously estimated between $6,900 and $14,120.

The $6,900 estimate was given by police shortly after the hold-up but bank manager R. J. Stevenson, busy with his staff balancing the books, would not estimate the sum. Late last night reports were that the total might reach $14,120.

Full descriptions of the two hold-up men were furnished Provincial Police who threw a network around roads leading from this community 20 miles northwest of London.

The hold-up occurred when a short, swarthy man carrying two automatics, his face covered by a green and white polka-dot handkerchief, entered with a taller companion, who also carried a gun. There were no customers in the bank at the time and they herded the five employees into a washroom, then took the currency from the cashier's cage.

Judge Charges Jury Today In Spy Trial Of Mazerall

Ottawa, May 22.—(P)—Trial of Edward Mazerall, 30, National Research Council engineer, on a charge of conspiracy is to go to the jury today.

Chief Justice J. C. McRuer will charge the jury at the opening of court and it is expected that by noon the jury will have retired to consider their verdict.

Yesterday, the jury heard argument from R. A. Hughes, counsel for Mazerall, and J. R. Cartwright, Crown counsel. In little more than an hour the two solicitors summed up the evidence and put their viewpoints forward.

Mr. Hughes said it could be admitted that a Soviet espionage system was active but there was no evidence that Mazerall had taken any serious part. Two reports which he had given Gordon Lunan, Wartime Information Board official, contained no highly secret information and could have been obtained by the Soviet through regular channels.

The only evidence of Mazerall's participation was in his own evidence to the Royal Commission on Espionage and in reports made by Lunan, "a paid employee," to the Soviet representatives.

Mr. Cartwright quickly admitted that the reports contained no vital information but that, he said, did not affect Mazerall's guilt. The jury had to determine whether a conspiracy existed and whether Mazerall took part in it.

The most damaging evidence against Mazerall had been that he remained silent after he had been approached by Lunan to obtain information in a secret manner for the Soviet, and again when he learned others were involved in the conspiracy.

Cases of two other persons charged with espionage activities were scheduled before County Judge A. G. McDougall today but were adjourned. Hearing for Durnford Smith, 33, National Research Council employee, was set for June 12 and Israel Halperin, 36, Queen's University professor, for June 17.

Hope Kindled For Settling Strike In B.C.

Union Leaders and Operators Negotiate Before Chief Justice—Other Groups Threaten Walkout.

Vancouver, May 22.—(P)—After a week-long breach between union and management, negotiations which might effect a settlement in the British Columbia lumber strike were scheduled to resume here today at a meeting between International Woodworkers of America and operators' representatives presided over by Chief Justice Gordon Sloan.

Speedy efforts to settle the week-end strike of 35,000 loggers and sawmill workers were initiated yesterday by the Chief Justice soon after he was asked by the Federal Labor Department to renew mediation moves.

The original number of men to strike was 37,000, but was down to 2,000, T.W.A. district officials said, after 75 operators had signed the 1946 agreement accepting union demands for a 25-cent hourly wage increase, 40-hour week and union security.

The renewal of Chief Justice Sloan's activities does not involve any new powers, an authoritative source said. All he is asked to do is continue negotiations and, if the parties agree, arbitrate on union security.

Both the union and operators have agreed to co-operate fully with the commissioner.

U.S. May Extend Bonus On Wheat

Washington, May 22.—(P)—With available cereal supplies still running far short of United States promises to famine areas, the government is expected to extend its 30-cent-a-bushel wheat bonus beyond the May 25 expiration date.

Top agriculture department officials declined comment on this possibility, but conceded that the bonus offer has not brought in the amount of wheat urgently needed to meet export schedules for the remainder of May and June.

Inclusion Of Union Jack In New Flag Is Probable

Ottawa, May 22.—(P)—The Parliamentary Flag Committee yesterday decided to continue the process of elimination and ballot on the remaining five flags after a session which heard suggestions of compromise following statements for and against the inclusion of the Union Jack.

Each of the 37 members will turn in their votes to-day for the five designs and using the result of previous balloting as a guide it would seem safe to forecast that ensign type flags bearing the Union Jack will remain in the field.

By elimination the committee previously had whittled down the designs from 2,500 to the five now before the committee.

Wilfrid Lacroix (L-Quebec) Montmorency declared he would continue to vote against a design containing the Union Jack and that he felt he was carrying out the wishes of all the people of Quebec. The inclusion of the Union Jack in

Toronto Inquiry In Meat Continues

Toronto, May 22.—(P)—The inquiry of Commissioner J. D. McNish into the Toronto meat situation, entered its sixth day today with indications that yesterday's break in the wall of secrecy surrounding alleged black market activities, in the form of a signed admission by one dealer, would be widened by a perusal today of his invoices and records for 1945 and 1946 to date.

The dealer, Louis Edelstein, was confronted with a signed statement in which he admitted having paid over-ceiling prices for meat but he claimed the statement was obtained under pressure and he was uncommunicative on all questions tending to elicit further information on the subject.

The statement read at yesterday's hearing was provided by two R.C.M.P. constables last June.

The dealer, Louis Edelstein, was confronted with a signed statement in which he admitted having paid over-ceiling prices for meat but he claimed the statement was obtained under pressure and he was uncommunicative on all questions tending to elicit further information on the subject.

Report Spain Not Equipped To Wage War

Investigating Committee Gleans No Evidence That Franco Regime Is Seeking Atomic Weapons.

New York, May 22.—(P)—The United States lacks concrete evidence to confirm "rumored activities in Spain relating to the production of atomic energy," the State Department has informed the United Nations Security Council, and is convinced that Spain is unable to wage modern war.

The State Department, declared, however, in a report submitted last Saturday and made public last night by the Security Council's sub-committee investigating Generalissimo Francisco Franco's regime, that Spanish agents still are spreading Axis propaganda in the New World.

The sub-committee announced it has been informed by Argentina that Argentina has no "relevant documentary or other information" to the regime of Generalissimo Franco being a menace to a world's security.

Premier Jose Giral of the Spanish Republican Government in exile is scheduled to appear before the sub-committee tomorrow with a 400-page document which he said before leaving Mexico City yesterday would provide "additional evidence" in the case against Franco Spain.

The sub-committee was appointed to investigate charges by Polish delegate Oscar Lange that Spain was providing shelter for Nazi war criminals and German scientists experimenting on new weapons, and that she constituted a threat to world peace.

The State Department report also contended that Franco had not been co-operative in repatriating Germans. The report said that as of May 10, 1,559 Germans had been repatriated but that 2,205, not counting families, remain and should be repatriated as quickly as possible.

Woman Murdered As Police Look On

Liverpool, England, May 22.—(P)—Police pressed a hunt throughout Northern England today for a man who stabbed and strangled an attractive, red-haired manicurist in her salon Monday night while two detectives peered through a ceiling porthole.

The detectives had taken room on orders to investigate the use being made of the premises by the victim, Mrs. Ella Staunton, 30-year-old former beauty contest winner. They said the slaying occurred when Mrs. Staunton and a man who entered the salon while they were on watch passed momentarily out of their line of vision.

Justice Minister Plans Retirement

Ottawa, May 22.—(P)—Justice Minister St. Laurent said yesterday in an interview he plans to retire from public life shortly and return to the law practice he left in Quebec in 1941 to take the Justice Department portfolio for the war period.

Mr. St. Laurent indicated that his retirement might come after the current session of Parliament when such matters as redistribution of representation in the Commons and changes in the Judges' Salaries Act have been cleaned up.

He termed as "ridiculous" a newspaper report which said speculation among back-bench Liberals was to the effect that Prime Minister Mackenzie King would retire within a year, appoint Mr. St. Laurent to succeed him, and continue to sit as Liberal member for Gengarry until the next election, when he would retire.

Legion Will Appoint New Leader Today

Proposal to Admit N.R.M. A. Men to Legion Membership Rejected After Sharp Debate.

By DOUG HOW
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Quebec, May 22.—(P)—Big bustling and occasionally belligerent, the first post-war convention of the Canadian Legion rolls into the third of its four days today with the prospect of selecting a leader to take over from the ex-general who led it through six years of war.

Square-set Alex Walker of Calgary, a non-commissioned officer in the First Great War, is expected to step down from the presidency of an organization that has swollen to a strength of 250,000 through a rapid influx of new veterans.

The man who emerges in his place will be the choice of more than 725 accredited delegates from commands in all provinces and numerous states of the United States. Intensive lobbying has been going on since delegates began to gather Saturday, an additional 300-500 of them men and women who came along without any vote in proceedings.

J. C. G. Herwig, general secretary, said yesterday the convention was double the size of those in the past.

Eleventh in the series that started after formation of the Legion in 1925, it is expected to hammer out the problems of unemployment today in the wake of three thorny issues which aroused hectic debate yesterday.

Delegates accepted the recommendations of his rehabilitation committee on housing, student-veterans' allowances and numerous other points. Rejecting a Quebec amendment, they approved a policy of urging unification of government departments efforts in housing, a national housing plan for families living on $100 a month and a veterans housing act to provide urban homes.

Chairman Jack Moore of St. Vital, Man., had to call delegates to order during the debate on the students' allowances. The convention accepted a recommendation that married veterans rates be increased from $80 to $100 a month and single veterans from $60 to $70.

Sharp debate emerged on appearance of an amendment to make the married allowance $110 with student-veteran delegates defending themselves against charges that they should think of their less-favored comrades.

The third major issue arose over a recommendation by the constitution committee that N.R.M.A. men who served in a theatre of war should be granted Legion membership. It was rejected after a turbulent debate which saw the sharp diversity of opinion on any issue to date.

Subsidies For Fluid Milk To Be Increased By Ottawa

Ottawa, May 22.—(P)—The government's price stabilization policy came in for further criticism yesterday as the Commons continued debate on Progressive Conservative and C.C.F. motions of want-of confidence arising from price control administration.

Opposition to the policy was expressed, among others, by Liguori Lacombe (Ind., Laval-Two Mountains), while rising to its defence were Rene Jutra (L., Provencher) and Andrew Stuart (L., Charlevoix).

Earlier, Finance Minister Hiley announced increases in the government subsidies paid for fluid milk going into production of cheese and processed milk, both effective on May 1.

He said the cheese subsidy was increased 10 cents—from 20 to 30 cents a 100 pounds while that for fluid milk going into concentrated milk was being boosted eight cents—from 15 to 23 cents a 100 pounds.

The cheese subsidy increase will continue until April 30, 1947, unless "absorbed" into the sale price in the meantime, while the subsidy on concentrated milk will be effective until next September 30, when it will be considered further.

Labor Minister Mitchell disclosed the Labor Department hopes to make an increased number of German prisoners-of-war available to help with the harvest of sugar beets in Western Canada and in Western Ontario.

In the Senate, Senator Gustave Lacasse (L., Ontario) defended the "Canada Day" bill and said those against the measure seemed to be only "half-hearted" in their opposition, indicating they did not know "which leg to stand on."

In the rehabilitation debate, John Proke (C.C.F., Regina) urged Finance Minister Hiley put the government's price ceiling policy on a "scientific" basis by adjusting it in accordance with the incomes of the various groups in the Dominion.

This could be done by obtaining figures showing the income of these groups and then re-arranging the price structure to give some increase to the group "obviously suffering from economic deficiency."

Hazen Argue (C.C.F., Wood Mountain) criticized the government's action in authorizing a 12½ per cent increase in the price of farm implements and said that the Progressive Conservative opposition had not opposed the price adjustment because they were supporting "big business" all across Canada.

Mr. Stuart expressed belief it was selfish to ask for floor prices for agricultural products and not support ceiling prices, and urged the removal of duty on goods now in short supply.

Mr. Jutra said any move to eliminate price controls would put farmers back to where they were after the inflationary period that followed the First Great War.

Mr. Lacombe urged government protection for the farmers in view of the sacrifices they had made during the war. It was time for a return to normalcy and the removal of controls which weighed on the farmer and the worker.

BEETHOVEN IS FEATURE OPUS

Gilles Breton, 12-year-old prodigy pianist, scored a triumph in his recital at the Granada Theatre last evening, under the auspices of the local Knights of Columbus.
Young Breton presented a selected classical program. From Beethoven's Sonata in D Major, Opus 28, highlight and first piece of the program, he had the applauding of the audience. In the last movement, particularly, he showed extraordinary skill in shading.

The Sonata in A Major, by Mozart, was interpreted with spirit, the difficult left hand work in the first movement being outstanding.

Following intermission, the artist played a Chopin group of five pieces, each of which received wholehearted applause. He was magnificent in the Valze Brillante, opus 34, No. 1, holding the rhythm carefully and giving color to the musical phrasing. Other Chopin pieces played were Prelude, Opus 29, No. 23; Valse, Opus 70, No. 1; Fantaisie Impromptu, Opus 66, and Polonaise, Opus 53. The mechanical perfection of the artist was shown in his steady movement throughout the Fantaisie. He rendered the Polonaise with ease.

In the third division, the program carried Schumann, Opus 12,
No. 3 (Schumann); Prelude, Opus
3, No. 2 (Schumann); and Liebestraum and Rhapsodie Hongroise, No. 2 (Liszt). Only Bach was lacking for a complete program.

Gilles Breton played three en-cores, the last being one of his own compositions having a sober and reposing melodic theme.

JUNIOR TRADE ASSOCIATIONS TO MEET HERE

A regional meeting of Junior Chambers of Commerce will be held here, June 16 under the chairmanship of Gilles Desroches, regional president, it was announced to-day.

Delegates from the Junior Chambers of Cowansville, Farnham, Granby, Waterloo, Magog, Coaticook, Sherbrooke, Richmond,
Asbestos, Warwick, Victoriaville, Princeville and Plessisville are expected to attend.

TOWN PLANNING BOARD WARNING

The recently formed municipal Town Planning Committee, headed by Ald. Albert Charpentier, today issued to citizens taking possession of and converting to their own use, land situated between the sidewalk and the street line in front of their homes.

It is reported, the written statement released from the City Hall says, that "a number of citizens have taken earth away, others have laid additional earth on top of the land while others have dug it out with complete disregard for symmetry or beauty."

The street line, in many cases, extends a number of feet closer to homes than the present sidewalks and this is city-owned land falling under the jurisdiction of the building and zoning by-law.

It is requested that citizens be warned that a single Vermont club not being present. In all, 267 delegates were registered at the Hotel
Barre, 146 Rotary Annex were registered and 46 guests.

LOCAL DEMANDS TO BE SETTLED BY ARBITRATION

Certain demands of representatives of the municipal police and fire department joint committees, mostly with regard to the fixing of salaries and working hours, which could not be met by the City Fathers at a committee meeting held last evening with a government conciliator, will be submitted to arbitration, it was learned at the City Hall this morning.

Ubaldo Brunet, Department of Labor conciliator, presided over the meeting which brought together Director Percy Donahue, of the fire department, Chief of Police Edouard Moreau and the respective presidents and secretaries of the joint committees and Aldermen Guy Bishop, Armand Fiset, Ovide Desjardis, Albert Charpentier,
J. D. Tremblay and Sylvio Rouseau. The city attorney, Edouard Bouvier, and the city clerk and treasurer were also in attendance.

Following a long session, at which a number of agreements were arrived at, the question of a fifty-two-hour week demand and certain salary fixing remained outstanding with the result that an arbitration board will be formed in the near future to hear the points at issue.

NEW GOVERNOR IS SELECTED BY ROTARIANS

Barre, Vt., May 22.—Climaxing
the two-day conference of Rotary District 14, delegates unanimously nominated W. Earle Goss, of Franklin, N.H., to succeed F. Ray Adams, of Springfield, Vt., as their district governor. The election preceded a well attended luncheon at the city auditorium at which the newly-appointed nominee was officially introduced, and the conventions heard an address by the Rev. Lemuel S. Sherwood, of Rutland Junction, N.Y.

The future district governor, who has been a past president and secretary of his home town Rotary since becoming a charter member eighteen years ago, will be elected to office at the annual Rotary convention held in Atlantic City the first part of June.

Reports of various committees and district officials were heard during business sessions of the convention, including reports from the secretaries of group assembly meetings.
Upon request of several delegates, copies of these reports were voted to be sent to each district club for their own benefit and information.

A report of the registration committee evidenced the apparent success of the conference from an attendance standpoint. Of the 52 clubs in the district the report showed representation from 47, with only a single Vermont club
not being present. In all, 267 delegates were registered at the Hotel
Barre, 146 Rotary Annex were registered and 46 guests.

Howe Advises World Pact In Aviation

Sees Need to Set Up International Control Authority to Avoid Wasteful Rivalry.

By CLYDE R. BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Montreal, May 22.—(C)—Delegates from close to 40 nations go to work here today on a second attempt to devise a common agreement under law to govern the operation of international air commerce to the end that wasteful and aggravating rivalries may be eliminated.

The first general assembly of the Provisional International Civil Aviation Organization was formally launched yesterday afternoon by Reconstruction Minister C. D.
Howe, head of the Canadian delegation, who reiterated Canada's policy for an international authority administering a code of rules for air commerce between nations.

Delegates from 55 of the 45 members states of PICAQ which was set up at a Chicago conference in December, 1945, heard a number of speakers express their confidence that a world organization to control international aviation would result from the present conference.

E. W. William A. Burden, assistant secretary of Commerce and head of the American delegation, indicated that the United States policy of free competition for the world still existed as it did at Chicago.

He warned against rushing too hastily into a multilateral agreement which would bind all aviation nations to abide by a general set of rules for operation.

Mr. Howe emphasized the policy of Canada which was the same as that presented in Chicago, that international aviation should be subject to a code of regulations acceptable to all and administered by a permanent international organization which it is planned to set up at the meeting here.

"Naturally we look to see the possible effect on our own civil air lines of any proposed multilateral agreement," Mr. Howe said.
"We will ask for terms that are reasonable and fair to our airlines before we sign any undertaking and we would expect all nations to do likewise."

"Even in a world of bilateral agreements we feel we would hold our own."

"The prospect would not dismay us as we feel that our airlines could stand up in the conflict but we feel strongly the need to avoid international friction and that the sum of overall benefits completely outweighs narrow internationalistic ambitions."

"It is the thought of such a conflict that we deplore not competition between air lines but competition for the favor of states."

"From many other points of view we would consider it a tragedy if this assembly failed to reach agreement."

Only Ourselves Responsible If Red Influence Felt Here, Leslie Roberts Warns Rotary

Leslie Roberts, well-known Canadian author commissioned by the Canadian Government to write the history of this country's contribution to the three services in World War II, spoke at the regular meeting of the local Rotary Club last evening on the Russian dilemma and stated that "we can live with Russia if we realize the Russians are as entitled to their way of living as we are to ours."

"If Communism comes to Canada," the speaker said, "it will not be because a handful of native Communists have sold us a bill of goods and fomented a successful revolution, but because we fail to give our people the homes they need, useful work to do, and the dignity which stems from security. It will be because we permit the processes of free democracy to be stifled by selfish, power-hungry men. Above all, it will be because we ourselves placed no value on freedom gained at so great a price."

Feeling that the present day challenge is not to try to "reform" Russia and change the political and economic habits of its people, but to "make a vivid dynamic Democracy work here and now," the speaker reminded his listeners that Russia had not had "very good luck" in some of their associations with other countries in the past and believed that Russia had "what is tantamount to a water-tight case testifying to the perjury of the west in days gone by."

Rejecting the censorship which the Soviet Union exerts on visiting correspondents, and their insistence on controlling the source of news, the speaker nevertheless stood convinced that "we can share peace and brotherhood with 180,000,000 citizens of the Soviet Union, men and women who, like us, yearn for peace and have won the right to claim it" by laying down their lives on the battlefields in the common cause with Americans, Britons, Frenchmen, Canadians and men of other lands.

Asking the question, "What do we fear from Russia?", the speaker listed a number of possible answers: "Russia's economic system. The political aspects of Communism. Widespread propaganda that the government of the Soviet Union is anti-Christian. The screening of visitors to the Soviet Union while their people are permitted to travel freely in other countries. Censorship which Russia lays down on foreign journalists. Our fear of her constantly increasing industrial strength. Our inability to comprehend the working of the Russian mind and Russia's insistence on having friendly governments in countries adjacent to her borders."

The speaker then proceeded to outline the history of the war of 1914-1918 to show the whole picture of armed intervention in Russia by the forces of other nations and at conclusion of this stated, "you may get a key from this as to why the Russians wonder about us and why they want friendly neighbors."

He also spoke of the efforts made to keep the Soviet Union out of the League of Nations until the year 1934 and stated that Russia was the first "to raise its lonely voice" against the growing powers of Fascism.

Concluding his address, Mr. Roberts quoted the words of a Russian writer on the topic of the Russian's desire for peace as a "vital necessity" and adding his own convictions, Mr. Roberts said, "I believe this statement honestly reflects the aims of the Russian people and their governors and I am not at all alarmed that Russia will not tolerate on her European flank the kinds of governments which operated in Poland and the

LOCAL PIANIST SCORED SUCCESS LAST EVENING

In her piano recital at St. Patrick's church last evening under the auspices of the Holy Name Society, Mildred Lergie Sampson, outstanding Sherbrooke pianist, showed talent and accomplishment equivalent to that demonstrated by any featured artist in any of this season's concerts.

Recognized for her ingenuity as a program maker, Mrs. Sampson's choice in her five groups played last evening gave opportunity for a variety of touch and tone color. Her performance was marked by enthusiasm and first class technical skill.

From the first group, Pastorale (Scriabin), Prelude (Mendelssohn), Sonata (Hummel), Mrs. Sampson held her audience closely throughout the program, and won three encores and a recall.

Bethoven's C Minor Variations was followed by a Chopin group, which received full and long applause. The third in the group, the familiar Polonaise (Opus 53), received particular acclaim. Other two were Ballade (Opus 23) and Prelude (Opus 28, No. 21). The difficult passages in all were played with an ease and warmth that charmed the audience.

Two of the four pieces in the fourth group were works of Alberto Jonas, under whose skillful and sympathetic guidance in her unknown native gifts into sound artists.

Jonas' Tocatta was last in the group. Any tocatta is intended to display the skill of the performer, and this one was particularly adaptable to this purpose. With the Tocatta were Nocturne (Faderewski), Waltz in C Sharp Minor (Jonas) and Song Without Words (Sapelnikoff).

The program concluded with the Gavotte, By Night and Waltz, by Antonio Lora.

Plan To Take Over Operation Of Local Autobus Service Is Seen As "Municipal Socialism"

Voicing a personal opinion today two of Sherbrooke's outstanding citizens expressed themselves as being opposed to the city's plans to take over the local autobus service. The men were J. A. Archambault, president-elect of the Chamber of Commerce, and Walter Sutherland, president-elect of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club.

Both Mr. Archambault and Mr. Sutherland stressed the fact that they were speaking for themselves only, and were in no way committing the organizations of which they are such prominent members.

"I am absolutely opposed to the city taking over private businesses, and entering into the field of commercial competition," said Mr. Archambault. "This is municipal socialism, and will make industries and businesses lose faith in Sherbrooke."

Mr. W. S. Sutherland said: "The proposed taking over of the bus lines by the City is ill advised, in my opinion, as a municipal transportation system tends to become a political football of different factions, with resultant deterioration of service. It is also a trend towards Socialism which I am opposed to."

A poll of citizens taken at random on Wellington street showed opinion to be divided. Some expressed the view that "if the city could give as good service, they might as well take it over." But

MEDICAL HELP GIVEN CHILDREN BY RED CROSS

Many physically handicapped children have received help and, in many cases, permanent cures through the medical assistance made possible by the Junior Red Cross. This important department of the Canadian Red Cross Society is one of the vital parts of the peacetime plans of the organization in this province.

The first post-war membership drive of the organization is now under way in this district.

The purpose of Junior Red Cross work is to provide a source of financial assistance to facilitate the care of children suffering from illness, accident or some physical defect which may be corrected or improved by medical treatment. Both the raising and pending of this fund are primarily educational projects in good citizenship for Junior Red Cross members.

Any child is eligible for treatment, who is not 18 years, and in the opinion of a physician or surgeon will benefit by medical treatment, and whose treatment has not already been assumed by the government or by any other organization. When the treatment of the handicapped child has been decided upon by the physician and the Junior Red Cross committee, hospitalization, medical and surgical care is provided as well as transportation to and from the hospital.

Foster home care is also supplied, and even the cost of nursing, in emergency cases. Other treatments, as ordered by the physician in charge of the case, are also provided which often include physiotherapy, massage and orthopaedic appliances.

Application for financial assistance to the Junior Red Cross Crippled Children's Fund should be made before any care or treatment on a child is commenced, except in the case of emergencies. Application forms, completed by the local doctor, are forwarded to the provincial director of the Junior Red Cross in Montreal. Local doctors, school inspectors, Junior Red Cross branches and other groups are encouraged to report all cases of handicapped children apparently in need of medical care.

When a child returns to his family, after treatment, the person responsible for the original application is informed of this fact by the Junior Red Cross director. When necessary, the director seeks the help of the public health nurse, field staff, teacher, or any other responsible agency, to ensure an adequate follow-up procedure.

Gifts of special equipment for more adequate treatment of handicapped children are also made through the Junior Red Cross committee. Since 1919, the Junior Red Cross throughout Canada has financial hospitalization for 25,000 children, exclusive of dental cases.

Advance Made In Movement For County School Boards

Progress in the movement for County School Boards in the Eastern Townships is revealed in a report issued for publication by W. P. Percival, Director of Protestant Education for the Province of Quebec.

The report points out that a majority of the boards in Compton County have petitioned for a county board, and that only one more petition is necessary before petitions will have been received from the majority of the boards in Stanstead County.

The following boards have petitioned for a county school board in Compton: Bury, Bulwer, Sawyer, Cookshire, Island Brook, Compton Village, Compton Township.

Mr. Percival's report announces that Shipton will be admitted provisionally to the Richmond-Drummond-Arthabaska Board on July 1st of this year. It is also noted that Miss May Hextall, of Knowlton, has received the First Degree of the Order of Scholastic Merit. Miss Hextall has also been named a helping teacher for Knowlton district.

Mr. Percival revealed that he has requested the enactment of legislation making it obligatory for a vehicle to stop not less than ten feet from a school bus that has stopped on a highway to discharge or pick up children, and is making an effort to have a medical officer appointed for the Department of Education.

I.O.D.E. PLANS EDUCATION FOR MANY CHILDREN

During the next three years the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire in Sherbrooke and throughout Canada will be devoting their energies to the raising of $500,000 for the I.O.D.E. Second War Memorial.

Similar in pattern to the memorial established at the conclusion of the war of 1914-18, the object is to furnish bursaries in Canadian universities for the sons and daughters of those who were killed or suffered permanent disabling injuries in World War II. It is also expected that a further project will be to establish post-war graduate scholarships to selected students for study in universities in any part of the British Empire.

In repeating their former commemorative effort, the I.O.D.E. realize that no project undertaken by them in their 45 years of service has given such remarkable returns. This alone would have justified the Order's existence. Letters received from former holders have indicated that this educational gift had restored their faith in the cause for which their fathers sacrificed so much.

The First War Memorial did more than that, for so great has been the influence through the years that those helped have by their outstanding service in the Second Great War made a magnificent contribution to Canada.

The desire of the Order to make post-graduate scholarships of advantage to Canada as well as to the recipients is shown in a paragraph of the memoranda sent to prospective scholars, which reads: "All Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire scholars shall return if possible to Canada to live and work here after the completion of their course in British universities." Of the 251 sons and daughters given bursaries to Canadian universities and the 145 post-graduate scholarships to a British University overseas, nearly all participate in the professional and business life of the Dominion. Of these, one is president of a university, several are authors, some are clergymen, others are in journalism and radio work or in some other phase of creative, professional or commercial life.

Among those might be mentioned Matthew Halton, war correspondent and broadcaster and author of "Ten Years to Alamein." Professor Watson Kirkconnell, of McMaster University, had been of immense service to Canada through his intimate knowledge and understanding of our new Canadians. Dr. Allie Vibert Douglas, post-graduate student at Cambridge University, lecturer in physics and astrophysics at McGill University and now Dean of Women at Queen's University and also with the committee appointed on the post-war problems of women. Lieut.-Commander Bruce S. Wright, of the Province of Quebec, had an invention accepted by the Admiralty. Miss Elizabeth Monk was the first English woman in the Province of Quebec to be called to the Bar. John H. Linford, Manitoba, was appointed as scientific officer by the British Admiralty to set up in Sierra Leone the first magnetic experimental station abroad in connection with magnetic mine research and ship detection.

The educational memorials of the Daughters of the Empire serve to combine in their effect reverence for the dead, gratitude to those who will have to bear physical suffering for their lifetime as a result of war, and a sense of responsibility to the dependents of these brave men.

C.C.L. STATES POSITION IN PATON STRIKE

Rival workers' unions are marshalling their forces for a showdown in the Paton Manufacturing Company strike, and the battle cry of the Canadian Congress of Labor was sounded today by Patrick Walsh, of Quebec City, general organizer of the Congress, who places blame for the illegal walk-out on Paul E. Marquette, a former provincial regional director of the C.C.L.

Marquette deliberately held up negotiations between the company and the C.C.L. when he was representative of the Congress, Mr. Walsh charges, his plan being "to canalize the subsequent discontent of the workers against the C.C.L. and then try to disaffiliates them from the Congress and have them join his new organization."

It was pointed out by Mr. Walsh that here part of the workers did join the organization, but that they later deserted the Marquette group and joined forces with the National Catholic Syndicate.

"Marquette deliberately played the game of the Catholic Syndicate, consciously or unconsciously, by dividing the workers and thus giving the Syndicate the opportunity to exploit this division to their own advantage," Mr. Walsh declared.

Maintaining that the majority of the workers at the Paton plans still belong to the C.C.L., and that the strikers are the group that now belong to the Catholic Syndicate, Mr. Walsh said the C.C.L. intends to hold the company to its obligation to negotiate only with the Congress, which is the certified bargaining agent.

In a statement yesterday to the 115 employees of the carding and spinning departments who are on strike, Walter Goddard, plant manager, announced that permission to increase wages could not be asked from a war labor board until negotiations had been carried on with the union certified as bargaining agent. That in this case the C.C.L. had been certified as bargaining agent since last year, Mr. Goddard pointed out that the company could not negotiate, legally, with Marquette's group or the Catholic Syndicate.

LAND ACT HAS BEEN USED BY 400 VETERANS

Four hundred veterans from this province have been qualified to date for an establishment on a farm under the Veterans' Land Act, considered one of the most generous of modern laws, announced Stephen Boileau, District Superintendent of the Veterans' Land Act for the province of Quebec, today.

Advantages are numerous and real under the Act which provides, among other things, that the Government may absorb a maximum of 98% of a farm establishment of $6,000. Many ex-servicemen, however, are not aware of it and therefore are missing this opportunity of being helped to settle on a farm of their own. A regional office of the Veterans' Land Act, is located in Sherbrooke.

WORK DONE IN LOCAL CLINIC UNDER REVIEW

President Mrs. R. C. Tate was in the chair for the review of the Child Welfare Clinic, at which the monthly V.O.N. report was heard with that of the treasurer.

The last showed expenses for the month of April to be $247.93. The donations received from Mrs. E. G. Pearce ($5) and Mrs. J. H. Bryant ($2).

Miss Hattie O. Empey, chief of the V.O.N. here, reported seven clinics held, with eight new cases admitted. Total attendance during the month was 45 children, eight under one year, and six of preschool age. Thirteen were referred to the doctor; four toxoid immunization were completed; nine were reported needing teeth attention, one eye, and two, tonsils and adenoids.

SUN IS ROOF'S UNDOING TOO!

Yes, the title of the recent best-seller, "The Sun Is My Undoing," sums up the basis of most roofing trouble. You see, "Old Sol" is really the toughest enemy of any big roof. The scorching heat of the sun dries out roofing felts—causes them to crack and blister—takes years from the life of the roof.

Johns-Manville has used asbestos to combat this drying-out action of the sun. Because asbestos fibres are solid they do not act as wicks through which the sun can draw off the asphalt, so essential to the life of a roof. Thus, with asbestos felts, the vital waterproofing material is safeguarded.

This is only one of the many Johns-Manville roofing developments explained in an interesting booklet, "Things You Should Know About Your Roof." For your free copy write, on your company letterhead, to Canadian Johns-Manville, Sun Life Building, Montreal.

'47 CONCLAVE OF ROTARIANS IN SHERBROOKE

The 1947 spring conference of Rotary District 195 will be held in this city in May of that year, stated W. S. Sutherland, one of the fifteen Sherbrooke delegates who attended the annual event held in Barre, Vt. last week, to members of the local organization at their regular weekly meeting in the New Sherbrooke House last night.

Rotarian Sutherland said that the local delegates, on behalf of the club, extended the invitation to the conference which was accepted for next season.

In a brief summary of events and procedure followed at the conference, Mr. Sutherland mentioned the importance of the four main meetings, club, vocational, community and international service.

It was his opinion that the conference had been "the most successful he had ever attended" and he stressed the value to Rotarians of the annual affair.

CITY SHOULD NOT TAKE OVER BUS SERVICE

The city council will take a long step toward municipal socialism if they adopt the proposal of Alderman Hector Lanctot to take over the local autobus service.

Mr. Lanctot is quoted as saying "the present autobus company is realizing a handsome profit in Sherbrooke and I feel that this revenue could well be diverted to the municipal coffers." The only legitimate excuse the city council might have for going into the transportation business would be to give improved service at reduced rates.

There is no suggestion of this, and, in fact, it would be very difficult for the city to improve the service at the present time, faced with shortages in autobuses. The sole reason for the proposal is to divert the profit of a private business into the municipal treasury.

Sherbrooke is already engaged in the public utility business, including electricity, gas and water, and shows a substantial profit on these enterprises. But it should be remembered that the city enjoys a complete monopoly in these fields, which represent the cream of public utilities.

Taking over a business, simply because it is profitable, sets a dangerous precedent in city affairs. Today the autobuses, perhaps tomorrow someone will suggest that Alderman Lanctot's profitable furniture business should become a municipal perquisite.

The principle of Government running businesses, in competition to private enterprises which are forced to pay taxes which help to maintain their publicly-owned competitors, is wrong, whether that Government be federal, provincial or municipal.

Sherbrooke is not in a position to start a risk-taking enterprise. If the transportation business falls off, as it did here before the war, then the city will turn the burden onto the citizens, who will be forced to pay higher fares. Once the system has been taken over, no private company would be willing to buy it back, if the municipality was taking a loss, for fear that they would be forced out of business again if conditions improved.

The job of the city council is to give the best possible municipal government, and in this Sherbrooke has an enviable reputation. There is no doubt that Mr. Lanctot is acting in what he believes are the best interests of the citizens. But it is not the function of the city to compete in private business, particularly as the money it is called upon to risk belongs, not to the council, but to the citizens.

THE HITLER LEGEND

As was feared in many quarters, Adolf Hitler, alive or dead, is rapidly becoming a German legend—comparable to Siegfried or Friedrich Barbarossa—according to reports from inside the Reich. One year after his cloudy downfall, the little man with the mustache still has a strange hold upon the affections of the people whom he carried to the most inglorious of defeats. They do not curse him as the Italians cursed Mussolini. Hitler has a secure place in their minds and memories because the Teuton clings to his leader longer than other folk. He is born to the hero concept.

Many Germans who disliked the Nazi extremes and now foresee decades of humiliation and economic slavery for their conquered nation still look back forgivingly on the man who brought them to their sorry state. They find excuses for the inhuman excesses practised in his name. Typical of the common view are these statements gathered by an Associated Press correspondent:

"Hitler was a sincere idealist who tried to do the best he could for his country," one well educated girl declared. "He was German through and through. He was betrayed by men around him who withheld information from him."

"It is well he died on the battlefield," said one German. "It would have been a national shame to have had our Fuehrer sit before a foreign court to be condemned to death. We would not like that. No true German would, no matter what he felt about Hitler."

Most Germans believe that Hitler is dead. Among the certain classes, however, there are thousands who think him still alive and perhaps even in the country. Some fanatical followers have elevated him to the ranks of demi-god and believe he will return at some future hour to restore his battered Fatherland. Doubtless one or other, even both, of the latter ideas are being actively cultivated by those Nazi leaders who are still at large and by the remnants of the German general staff. By spreading these beliefs they are laying the basis for a possible revival of the militarist policy in the Reich. Already these individuals are believed planning a third great war, a campaign they or their successors will undertake when Allied controls are lifted and they are permitted to return to their homeland.

ITALIAN INDUSTRIAL RECOVERY

One of the brightest features in the general European situation today is the industrial recovery of Italy, the economic leaders of the country claiming that the return to normal has been so rapid that production will exceed pre-war figures by the end of 1946, while the automotive production may double that of 1939. The only governing factor, according to Meuccio Ruini, President of the Council of State, is the availability of raw materials, as despite the ravages caused by war in so many ways, Italy's heavy industry installations in the north are largely intact.

Despite this industrial expansion, jobs are still unavailable for any appreciable part of Italy's two million unemployed. More than one-third of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration's current $325,000,000 budget for Italy is devoted to industrial rehabilitation and a further allocation is to be made for the second half of 1946. Coal imports scheduled for industrial use between January and June this year totalled 2,395,000 tons.

Italian production is playing an important part in UNRRA operations and the administration aids in recovery by disposing of certain products abroad, consistent with its policy of using surpluses in receiver countries to meet the needs in other lands. As a result, Italian mills are making fishnet twine from Egyptian cotton for the Balkans and China. Italy gave 10,000 tons of salt for Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia. Greece received 4,000 tons of Sicilian sulphur for which Italy will get resin, needed for soap and varnish production.

Other UNRRA-sponsored arrangements will see Italian cork go to Greece, Yugoslavia, Albania and Poland, payment being made by barter, including tobacco. Czechoslovakia wants to buy lemons and Greece needs fire-bricks to rebuild the gas-works at Piraeus.

Barter plays an important part in all these rehabilitation deals as few, if any, of the nations concerned have any substantial reserve of foreign currency to permit trading in the ordinary manner. One of the functions of UNRRA, second only in importance to the distribution of relief, is to develop this barter on the most efficient possible lines so that the wheels of industry may be restored and the drain on the supplying nations reduced.

TURKEY BALKING RUSSIA

Typical of the fear that sooner or later affects all neighbors of Soviet Russia, Turkey has extended the state of siege in the neighborhood of the Dardanelles. In the case of Turkey the fear dates back to 1939 when she was offered terms similar to those Russia imposed on Finland and the Baltic states. The acceptance of these terms would have put her in Russia's power. But Turkey rejected them pointblank and when, in 1940, Hitler refused to approve Molotov's request for bases on the Dardanelles, the threat passed until after the defeat of the Nazis. In the last few months it has returned with new force, being heightened by events in nearby Iran.

The chief Soviet demands are for bases on the Dardanelles and territory in northeastern Turkey. The Turkish Government has steadily refused to accept them and has made plain its intention to fight for its integrity if this should be necessary. In the meantime it is being treated to the war of nerves that is one of Moscow's methods of gaining its ends and that has been frankly disapproved by James F. Byrnes and Ernest Bevin.

It must be fully appreciated that this war of nerves is directed not only against the courage of the resisting state but against its exchequer, which in certain cases is more important. There nations must bear the expense of keeping large forces under arms for long periods and this is a heavy financial burden besides reducing the productive efficiency of the country.

So far Turkey has been able to take the worst the Russians have to offer them in this respect and the manner in which their neutrality has been observed to date indicates that if the other nations of the world were to unite in a common front against Russian tactics, the existing world situation might undergo a radical change.

A Bit Of Compton's History

(Contributed)

The following account of Philip Henry Gosse, one of the pioneer settlers of the Compton region, has been contributed to the Record by a resident of that area in the belief that the story of this man might prove of interest to residents and former residents of this section of the Eastern Townships.

EDITOR.

Philip Henry Gosse the father of Sir Edmund Gosse, Librarian of the House of Lords and a man of letters, came to Compton in the summer of 1835 with Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Jaques, two strict Wesleyans who influenced him to join the Wesleyan Society of which he became an ardent member, puritan and rigid in his religious practice for the rest of his life. He was an entomologist but decided to become a farmer, having become fired with the ambition by the highly colored reports of emigration advertisements.

The party of three friends arrived at Quebec intending to go to the shores of Lake Huron, but friends in Quebec, knowing the hardships that awaited them there persuaded them first of all to visit the Eastern Townships. They drove to Compton in an open carriage in the height of summer and decided to buy a partially-cleared farm on the Waterville road near the Spafford road, a property that later was bought by William Wiggott and later still, by Mr. Vernon. They thought they had found a land flowing with the milk and honey of prosperity, but soon had a rude awakening, for they were unfitted for the hard manual labor involved in getting a living from the soil.

FROM THE PEN OF E. T. WRITERS

The following verse was written by former Pilot Officer Eugene Kaszyez, who lives on Joffre Street, East Sherbrooke. Mr. Kaszyez enlisted in the R.C.A.F. early in the war, and while on operational duty oversaw contracted lung trouble. His wife, the former Eleanor Clark, of Lake Megantic, is also a veteran of the R.C.A.F., and held the rank of corporal. The poem was first published in the Montreal Daily Star. Written while the author was suffering from illness, it is a stirring challenge to all war veterans who have lived to help build the future of Canada, from their unnumbered comrades who died to give that chance.

EDITOR.

I am the voice of those who died
These numbered years.
Who suffered, bled, were killed
To quell the world's belated fears.
Unnumbered millions strong, I rise to speak
For others such as I, to come in future years.

Here no lament I sing, but make one plea—
That I shall not have died in vain.
For all my sons the world around I beg
This plea go not unanswered yet again.
Sing me no songs of glorious praise,
Nor eulogies of deeds, all empty airs;
Remember, now, hold fast to posterity,
That races, creeds, or color God needs not.

For me no empty tears, or bootless, wailing cry.
In Flanders fields, if you succeed, in peace I'll lie.
I lived, with joy, the brief span of my years,
And now I rest; My task is done, yours to begin—
To set aright for me the world's affairs.
I would have wrought myself for Man's domain
Had not the sands of life run out for me.
In trust, in hope, I leave you to your task;
Surely 'tis not too much for me to ask
Such small return for millions sweat away?
Commending all to God, I can but pray
That Earth has seen her last tormented day.

Ste. Agathe des Monts.

—Eugene Kaszyez.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

SAFETY PLAY MAKES BIG SLAM A CINCH

Major Russell J. Baldwin, former tournament manager of the American Contract Bridge League, tells a story about his recent trip to Japan. On the way out he played gin rummy and lost something like 50,000 points. They just kept a running score, and instead of flying back, they took a slow boat! About two-thirds of the way back Baldwin was two points plus, so they quit gin rummy and started to play bridge.

Here is an interesting safety play that came up, which immediately puts Baldwin in the expert class. The opening diamond lead was trumped with dummy's four of spades. A small club was led to the ace and a spade played back to the king.

If Baldwin had carelessly led the king of clubs at this point, he might have lost his contract. His correct play was to lead a small club and trump it with the queen of spades, then cash the ace of hearts.

New he could cash the jack of spades and go over to dummy's ace of spades. His losing cards could be discarded on dummy's good clubs, and he still had a trump for dummy's last heart.

The Jaques lived on the east side of the road, Philip Gosse lived on the west side surrounded by 60 acres of land and in a log hut which he proceeded to paint with skimmed milk and powdered lime.

During part of the three years he remained on the farm he taught school, receiving ten pounds for the school season of twelve weeks. While in Compton he made a collection of insects for a Montreal museum, and gathered materials for a book which was published in London in 1840 entitled "The Canadian Naturalist." It consists of a description of animal and plant life in Compton, arranged in calendar form with a chapter devoted to each fortnight of the year.

In March 1838 he sold his farm and went to Alabama, returning to England next year and thereafter published learned scientific treatises on zoology and kindred subjects. The "Life of Philip Henry Gosse F.R.S." by his son was published 1890.

HEMISPHERE DEFENSE

Vancouver Sun

President Truman's request for legislation to outline a program of military collaboration with the other nations of the hemisphere, including Canada, has had a somewhat strange effect in Ottawa. Officialdom there is silent and "unofficialdom" pretends to be quite innocent of ideas about Mr. Truman's meaning and purpose.

Even before World War II, President Roosevelt knew that the clouds were beginning to lower and that the Americas were in peril. So he pledged the United States to help in the defense of Canada. In 1940 the realization of his fears brought the two countries so close together that a joint Canadian-United States defense board was set up. It functions still.

When Canada learned that the U.S. Navy was planning "Operation Frodo" to test the efficiency of aircraft carriers in Arctic waters, a plan for a similar Canadian test was dropped. When Canada sent a snowmobile team on a swing through the Northwest Territories to test Arctic military equipment, the U.S. Army sent along observers.

So far it appears there are no definite defense commitments, by treaty or otherwise, between Canada and the United States. But neither are there any between Canada and Britain and the other Commonwealth nations. This is a dangerous condition that should not continue. There should be no incompatibility between Canada's participation in an Empire defense scheme and an American scheme.

Canada's defense chiefs should discuss with Washington a plan for physical co-operation between the United States and Canadian armed forces in the event of war. This is what some of our leading military men have been advocating. It might involve the re-organization of the Canadian armed forces along American lines and their re-equipment with standardized American material. It has been objected that this involves a break with British Navy, Army and Air Force standards, but this is not necessarily correct.

During the late war the British and American Allies were inconvenienced by different standards in equipment, particularly in such seemingly unimportant but actually vital things as screw threads. However, that difficulty is now in process of being ironed out and it is not impossible that the Joint Chiefs of Staff in Washington will in time agree on other means of meshing their resources.

Canada, in its own interests, should be working to integrate British Empire and United States defense as quickly and as completely as possible. World events are demonstrating that imperial problems are also Washington's problems. This fact was recognized in relation to Canada's particular problems of defense as long ago as 1938 when Mr. Roosevelt made the famous Organsburg declaration of defensive assistance.

DOROTHY DIX

Family Incompatibility

Inability Of Girl And Mother To Get Along Not Unusual

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a normal 20-year-old girl. Among the people with whom I associate away from home, the people I work and play with and go to church with, I am perfectly happy and get along harmoniously, but I can't get along with my mother, and I can't figure it out. If she says the slightest thing to me that might be a criticism or merely a comment on some subject we are discussing, I will fly into a passion. Very seldom do I get upset with anyone but her.

For example, not long ago I had a really grand party for some young people at our house. Mother was swell about helping get things ready and generally making the party an occasion. But after the last person had left she began picking them to pieces, so we had a big old row.

I would give anything to be sweet and considerate of Mother, but I can't, no matter how hard I try. Can you give me some help? I need it.

UNHAPPY DAUGHTER.

SITUATION NOT UNUSUAL.

ANSWER: I think there is no more mistaken idea in the world than that because people stand in a certain family relationship with each other they are bound to be congenial and happy when together. Nothing is farther from the truth. There are many cases in which parents and children hate each other without rhyme or reason, and there is probably no large family in which the brothers and sisters are not in a perpetual quarrel.

Evidently your trouble with mother is just that you are antagonistic to each other and everything either one of you does rubs the other raw. You cannot change your nature, but you can show enough intelligence to part and live your own lives in your own way. If you do, you will find that you will develop an affection for each other that you never had before.

I was instrumental once in separating a mother and daughter who were both fine people, but who, like you and your mother, got on each other's nerves and made each other so unhappy that both were about to go into a case of nervous prostration. But when they were parted, they became devoted to each other and lived happily ever after, with a couple of thousand miles between them.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: On one of his furloughs home my son married a girl he had known less than a month. Soon afterwards he was shipped overseas. Now, though he has enough points and could come home, he does not want to come home to his wife.

She has written him that he has got to get her a home of her own if he expects her to live with him. She is otherwise very demanding. If he should come home now, they would have to come and live with us as there would be nowhere else for them to go. What shall we do?

JITTERY MOTHER-IN-LAW.

ANSWER: It looks as if your son is himself going to solve the problem of his ill-advised marriage by staying overseas. Evidently his wife has no affection for him and she will get tired of waiting and get a divorce. No marriage based on a month's acquaintance could have anything in it that would make it very binding.

As your daughter-in-law has proved so unworthy and treats you and your husband with so little consideration, I think you would be wise to write your son that he cannot bring her to your house to live.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a girl of 17. Three months ago I was secretly married and have told no one except my best friend. When I married this boy, who is now 19, I thought I was very much in love with him, but now I find other boys attract me. Since my husband lives with his parents and I live with mine and we have decided not to live together until I am 18 and he is 21, I only see him at a dance on Saturday nights, and I am tired of being tied down. Now that the news is wearing off I want a divorce, or something, and I am afraid to tell my parents of my marriage.

What shall I do?

UNFORTUNATE WIFE.

ANSWER: There is nothing you can do except to tell your parents and get them to have the marriage annulled while you are still under age. Do it at once.

The Record will be pleased to receive any letters to this Dorothy Dix column. These will be forwarded to Miss Dix who will answer them as quickly as possible.

Say Schwartz—and be Sure!

DEPENDABILITY was one of the wholesome traits W. H. Schwartz inherited from his sturdy Dutch ancestors when he set up his first coffee roaster back in 1841, and made this virtue his life motto. To carry out this policy, his grandsons constantly keep abreast of every development to better their products.

Their latest is the Thermal-Roast. By this radically different process, every bean is so uniformly roasted that the coffee is of UNVARYING QUALITY.

Be kind to yourself. Try a pound of this newer and finer Schwartz Coffee, now again vacuum-packed for your protection. Make it the Schwartz way and you'll truly have "the cup you can't forget!"

But say Schwartz and be Sure!

"TOO BAD—THERE WAS NO LIFE INSURANCE...!"

WHAT woman excites more pity than the widow left without some financial provision for her future?

For most people, Life Insurance is the one sure means of planning a continuance of income in case of the untimely death of a breadwinner. It can be arranged to provide a guaranteed monthly income which will arrive with clock-like regularity... a continuing "pay-envelope" to replace earnings that are lost.

The wife who neglects to plan the family budget to allow the inclusion of Life Insurance is foolish indeed.

Richmond I.O.D.E. Plan Bazaar For War Memorial Fund

Proceeds For Educational Benefits Of Children Of Fallen Or Disabled Veterans — Committees Appointed

At the May meeting of the Udophus Lord Aymer Chapter, I.O.D.E., presided over by Mrs. George Walker, plans were made for a bazaar to be held in St. Francis College High School on June 28. The entire proceeds are to be used to augment the War Memorial Fund.
This fund is to be used for the educational benefits of sons and daughters of men who have given their lives or have suffered permanent disabling injuries for their country's cause.

Among the objectives of the I.O.D.E., the members are urged to cherish the memory of brave and heroic deeds, to forward every good work for the betterment of their country and people and to instill into the youth of the country patriotism in its fullest sense.

The members of Udo-

COUNTESS OF HADDINGTON CUP AWARDED

Richmond, May 22.—The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., was held in the Masonic Hall with the worthy president, Eleanor Hills, in the chair.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Leslie Rattray. Five new members were initiated, Mrs. Julie Demers, Miss Irene Lacroix, Mrs. Kay Macintosh, Mrs. Marion Setterlund and Mrs. Nancy Pye. Mrs. Juanita Pollock, a former member was welcomed along with the new members.

The treasurer's report revealed that $198.30 had been realized from the Minstrel Show recently sponsored by the members.

The correspondence included a letter from the provincial command advising the members that the Countess of Haddington Cup had been awarded to the local auxiliary for having obtained one hundred and thirty per cent in the membership drive. Mrs. Eleanor Hills was awarded the highest prize for obtaining the largest number of members during the drive.

A vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. A. E. Fee, who entertained the members of the cast of the Windsor Mills Minstrel Show at her home following the performance in the Town Hall. The president thanked all who co-operated and thus helped to make the undertaking such a success.

Plans were made for a food and fancy work sale in the United Memorial Hall on June 1. The following conveners were appointed: food table, Mrs. Patrick Smith; fancy work, Mrs. George Roy; and

Local Group Stages Enjoyable Play Before Richmond Audience

Richmond, May 22.—The presentation here of "Happy Days" by the St. Patrick's Mission Circle of Sherbrooke, under the auspices of the Richmond Junior Subdivision of the Catholic Women's League, is a good example of what first class entertainment can be provided by a well trained group of amateurs. The play was much enjoyed by all.

The programme opened with the playing of "O Canada" by Mrs. R. Pearson, followed by a duet, "Pas de Charge," played by Mrs. R. Pearson and Miss S. Pearson. After Act I, by special request, a vocal duet "La Spagnola," by Miss F. Gregoire, soprano, and Mr. J. M. Mercier, tenor, accompanied by Mrs. R. Pearson, conveyed exactly the impression intended and was well appreciated. Following this was a violin solo "Sonata by Schubert," by a young violinist, Miss Anita Dubois, who charmed her audience in the perfect rendition of this composition.

Between Acts II and III W. R. Whitehead, bass, by special request sang "Captain Mac," with Mrs. R. Pearson at the piano. This was followed by "Polonaise" played by Edgar Houle, a pianist of great promise.

This entertainment was hailed as a wonderful success by all. Audience reaction was immediate and harmonious. The soft pleasing voices, the perfection of their enunciation, the full mastery of all the vocal technique of the singers demonstrated that they were no amateurs.

Immediately after the performance, the cast was entertained by the Juniors, when delicious refreshments were served under the convenship of Miss Bernice Blanchette, ably assisted by a few of the Juniors.

Patrick Timmons, of Sherbrooke, voiced the thanks of the Mission Circle and hoped that the Junior C.W.L. would invite them to play again in Richmond as they enjoyed coming down.

The president and committee wish to take this opportunity of extending their sincere thanks to the cast of "Happy Days," to all the local artists and to all those who helped in any way to make this evening an outstanding event for the Juniors.

(A SIMPLE TALE TO SHOW HOW BANK CREDIT WORKS)

THAT first green shoot in the spring is a Big Event in McTrowell's life because he makes his living growing vegetables. And the earlier he gets them to market the higher the price he'll receive.

So in early spring you'll see him hard at it, getting his seeds in. But all the time his onions and other crops are sprouting, no money is coming in...and plenty is going out. In the meantime he needs ready cash for fertilizer, fuel, cold frames and wages for the hired help.

Mr. McTrowell knows the answer to that one too. He borrows the money from the Royal Bank. He has learned that bank credit is a useful "tool" in his business

...just as much as a spade or hoe. He could hardly operate without it.

MILK PRICES

A STATEMENT AS TO

WHY MILK PRICES ARE ADVANCING

Every consumer of milk in Canada is being called upon on June 1st, to pay two cents more a quart for this most important food. This is NOT an increase by your local dairy. As a matter of strict fact it is NOT an increase in the true sense of the word. Neither your dairy nor any farmer who produces milk will benefit in the slightest degree.

Think back to December, 1942. Before that you were paying TWO CENTS a quart MORE for milk than the price you have become accustomed to in wartime. Milk loomed large in the wartime family food budget and to keep the cost of living down the government decided to subsidize milk sales.

During the past three years the Government has actually paid TWO CENTS on every quart of milk purchased by consumers in Canada. Every cent of this subsidy was passed along to consumers by your dairy, not a fraction was retained for the very considerable amount of work it entailed. There was a flat TWO CENT price reduction on EVERY quart bottle sold.

Now the Government has decided to discontinue the CONSUMERS' MILK SUBSIDY. Your dairy is NOT increasing the price as a result. The increase which you must pay will not mean a cent more to either your dairy or to farmers. YOU are being called upon to pay the TWO CENTS instead of the GOVERNMENT paying it for you.

The Doctor Says

CLEFT LIP, PALATE DEMAND EARLY REPAIR

Cleft lip (harelip) and cleft palate result from failure of the various pieces of the mouth and face (which nature assembles in jigsaw-puzzle fashion) to grow together before birth.

Prenatal impressions, so frequently blamed for cleft lip and palate, cannot cause them, as the parts are normally joined together prior to the 11th week, long before the mothers are "frightened."

Hereditarily plays an important part in causing the condition, as several cases may occur in the same family, and family histories may show the condition has been present in past generations. It is impossible to predict when a cleft lip and palate will occur, for good genetic information is too scanty at the present time.

Condition Varies Widely
Although the face may fail to grow together in several places, the most common variety of cleft is in the lip. The opening may be on one side or on both, and the condition varies from a small notch in the soft palate to a wide open fissure.

An infant with a cleft lip should have the opening repaired as quickly as possible after birth. Surgeons can operate in the first few weeks and join the separated portions together. This makes it easier for the baby to be fed, and also aids in the control of respiratory infections.

When the lip is drawn together at birth, the jaw bones have a better chance of developing normally, even though the palate may be separated. The nostrils may show a tendency to flatten, and this can be repaired later. (It is not wise, however, to permit the deformity of the nose to persist too long.)

If a cleft in the palate is present, it is usually sewed together later, when the child is a few years old.

Speech Training Advised

Early speech training is recommended in every case. Even though some children who have had a badly deformed mouth do not seem to have much speech difficulty after repair, others have a great deal of trouble. These children should be taught by speech clinicians, who usually are connected with the hospital. If speech clinicians are not available, the mother should obtain information as to how she can help with the training at home.

Difficulty in speech after repair of the palate usually is caused by leakage of air in the nose. Children with repaired cleft lips and palates should feel loved and wanted. Mothers might well pay special attention to their dress, and everyone should encourage them to lead normal lives.

large curtain of the stage quickly drawn back and all the choir girls assembled there, singing "For She's A Jolly Good Fellow." The girls presented Miss Elford with a beautiful pair of pearl earrings in appreciation of her kindness in training them. Miss Elford very feelingly thanked the girls for their gift.

Mr. Roland Fraser, of Sherbrooke, was a guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fraser, over the week-end.

Mr. B. N. Robinson, the guest speaker of the Men's Club, gave a most interesting talk on the "History of St. Stephen's Parish," which was very much appreciated by all who were privileged to hear him.

The Men's Club of St. Stephen's Anglican Church entertained the ladies of the congregation at a most enjoyable evening.

The Misses Doris Tyler and Betty Eimo and Mr. Raymond Tyler, of Barre, Vt., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tyler and Miss Madeleine Tyler. Other guests at the same home were Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Dezan and daughter, Janet, and Mr. Lawrence Dezan, of Ayer's Cliff.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sylvester, Mrs. Esther Sylvester and son and daughter, were guests of Mr. Otis Sylvester.

Miss Katherine Christie has returned from Montreal and is spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Duclos.

Mrs. J. S. Heath and daughter, Dorothy, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Meade on "Mother's Day."

RED SOX SCORE 26th VICTORY IN 33 GAMES IN A. L.

KNOCKS CHIEFS BACK BENEATH ROYALS IN L.

Herb Karpel, stocky southpaw of Newark Bears, is making a determined bid to regain a berth with New York Yankees.

Karpel knocked Syracuse Chiefs out of first place in the International League last night with a 2-1, five-hit, 10-inning victory, his third straight.

The defeat dropped the Chiefs to second place, a half-game behind Montreal Royals, whose contest with Rochester Red Wings was rained out.

Big Joe Coleman, property of Philadelphia Athletics, hurled Toronto Maple Leafs to a 6-3 triumph over Buffalo Bisons.

The Leafs piled up 3-1 lead in six innings and added three more runs in the eighth when Buffalo's Les Mueller walked two batters with the bases loaded and Hank Blasatti drove out a long fly. It was Coleman's fourth conquest of the year.

In the only other conflict, Baltimore Orioles defeated Jersey City Giants, 4-2. The defeat was Jersey City's eighth straight.

Baltimore scored all its runs in the fifth inning after shortstop Russ Weir allowed a double play ball to go through his legs.

Burton And Nelson Will Renew Links Rivalry In Round Robin

New York, May 22.—(P)—Dick Burton and Byron Nelson—top British and American golf pros—will highlight the $10,000 Goodall Round-Robin golf championship at the Winged Foot Golf Club, Mamaroneck, N.Y., May 30.

The event is the second of the post-war era's big links events and follows the Masters' Tournament—which saw the comparatively unknown Herman Keiser come through with a victory.

Burton, British Open champion, and Nelson, Professional Golfers' Association titlist, will be fighting it out in the final 18 of their 36-hole match. Keiser will also participate in the Goodall.

Inaugurated in Cincinnati in 1938, where Sam Snead defeated Gene Sarazen in a playoff, the Goodall tournament was moved east to Fresh Meadow the following year and was a regular fixture until war forced its curtailment.

In addition to Snead, other Goodall winners were Light Horse Harry Cooper in 1939 and Ben Hogan in 1940. Hogan won the recent Fort Worth, Tex., Open when he finished with a blazing 65 and is the U.S. Open favorite.

The Goodall Round-Robin is one of golfing's must-unique tests. No player of the 15 top stars invited is ever eliminated and every player meets the other 14 competitors at least once. The scoring is on a basis of plus and minus points for holes won and lost.

The players are sent out in threesomes, playing two opponents simultaneously.

Besides Burton, Nelson and Keiser, others in the field are Hogan, Snead, Jimmy Demaret, Herman Barron, Bob Hamilton, Vic Ghezzi, Sam Byrd, the former Yankee ballplayer, Harold (Jug) McSpaden, Lloyd Mangrum, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Jimmy Hines and Lawson Little.

MONTREAL HAS COLORED BALL LEAGUE ENTRY

Montreal, May 22.—(P)—The Montreal-Pittsburgh Crawfords, newly entered Negro baseball team in the United States Baseball League, will split all their home games between Montreal and Pittsburgh and will make their debut here against the Boston Blues on June 2nd.

The Crawfords, it was learned here by long distance telephone from a league official, will also play in Three Rivers, Que.

The four-team loop also includes the Cleveland Clippers and the Brooklyn Black Dodgers.

INDUSTRIAL "A" GAMES TONIGHT

A change has been made in the schedule for the Industrial "A" Softball League which will send four teams into action tonight at Dufresne Park instead of on Friday, May 24th.

Lesard, undefeated in two games, will play the Y.M.C.A., and Savard will hook up with the Rand.

CANUCKS LOSE KINGSTON GAME BY 10-7 COUNT

With three pitchers being touched for fourteen hits, and committing six errors in the field, Sherbrooke Canadians dropped a Border League fixture at Kingston last night to the home team by a 10-7 score.

Due to an erroneous Canadian Press despatch, Monday night's game was announced as a 2-1 win for Sherbrooke and published in both local papers as such after they had received it over the Canadian Press wire. In reality, the score should have read Kingston, 7, Sherbrooke, 2.

"Pappy" Smith's outfit has now won a single game and dropped four, two to Granby and two to Kingston. In last night's affair Terry, Busco and Yuduski toiled on the mound for Sherbrooke, their offerings providing no difficulties for the Kingston clouters.

Two Kingston pitchers allowed ten hits themselves, but better play in the field kept the Sherbrooke score down. Two of the Sherbrooke errors were committed by "Pinky" Fine as first base, two by left-fielder Gilles Dube, and a pair by Tony Busco, the second pitcher to work for the Smithmen. The linescore:

Sherbrooke 003 040 003 7 10 6
Kingston 1 200 040 040 10 14 2

Local Sportsman Misses $50,000 Race Win By Margin Of $100

But for $100, Lucien Dugre might today be receiving congratulations on the performance of Blue Again, noted trotting horse, who romped to victory in the $50,000 race which closed the harness racing program last Saturday at Santa Anita, Calif.

One hundred dollars or $50,000.

The horse Mr. Dugre, local sportsman, might have owned romped the mile and a quarter course in the record time of 2:02 1/2, bettering by one second the former mark held by Phil O'Neil since 1925.

A crowd of 28,118 harness race enthusiasts saw the race. Blue Again paid $20.20, $12.60 and $7.80 at the pari-mutuel. The sum of $156,491 was wagered on the race.

Mr. Dugre bid for Blue Again last autumn at the York Sales, held in York, Pa., and offered the sum of $4,000 for the race horse. He was outbid by R. W. Leatherdale, of Windsor, Ont., who got the horse for $4,100.

If Mr. Dugre disappears suddenly from the local scene and joins a society of flagellants, his friends here will understand.

As Major Bowes used to say, "the wheel of fortune spins. 'Round and 'round she goes, and where she stops, nobody knows."

Dahlgren Pursues Bobo Newsom As Most Travelled Player In Majors

By AL VERMEER
NEA Staff Correspondent

New York, May 22.—Next to Bobo Newsom, who has switched uniforms 29 times in 20 years, Babe Dahlgren bids fair to become baseball's most travelled player.

When Onkle Frank Frisch called 33-year-old Dahlgren into the Pittsburgh office the other day and told him he had been peddled to the St. Louis Browns, it marked the 15th time in less than 16 seasons that the San Francisco first baseman had peeled off one set of baseball togethery for another.

And Babe Dahlgren has not confined his travels to one part of the country. Starting on the Pacific Coast and in the Southwest, he has moved to different leagues 14 times—a living testimonial to the travelogue people who urge you to see America first.

Dahlgren started with the San Francisco Missions in 1931, had a brief outing to Tucson, and was sold to the Red Sox four years later. Having reached the majors, the six-foot, fancy fielder hoped he would stay long enough to remember his hotel room number—but his journey had merely begun.

From Boston he went to Syracuse, back to Boston, to Newark, up to the Yankees... then the Braves... Cubs... Browns... Dodgers... Phillies... Pirates... and now the Browns again.

What is it that causes Babe Dahlgren, a polished defensive man and a fair hitter, to be shunted from club to club has always remained a puzzling mystery to the first baseman himself, and if it is a personal reason—well, his best friends have still to tell him.

Some of his departure have been under very surprising circumstances. No one reckoned he would be another Lou Gehrig when he replaced the Iron Horse in 1939, but Dahlgren was good enough to help the Yankees to a fourth straight pennant, and a four-game sweep over Cincinnati in the Series. The next season he had his best hitting year with the Bombers but abruptly found himself with the Boston Braves, and for a reason which almost floored him — Joe McCarthy said Dahlgren's arms were too short.

This remark prompted Dahlgren to stand before a mirror and make an extensive study of his arms. "No one ever told me before that they weren't long enough and they feel all right to me," he explained. He canvassed his teammates, telling them that if he offended in some personal way he would certainly appreciate hearing about it, and last summer Frisch thought

Babe Dahlgren is seeing America first.

Bronze Star Winner Saves Third Game For High-Flying Bostonmen

Earl Johnson, a Battle of the Bulge veteran who naturally finds no terror in enemy baseball bats, rates as Joe Cronin's relief ace with three straight "fireman" decisions for the soaring Boston Red Sox.

Every pennant club needs one dependable reliever with ice water in his veins who can step into the midst of a battering rally and quiet the opposition. Cronin appears to have that man in Johnson, native of Redmond, Wash., who was awarded the Bronze Star for bravery in action before he was commissioned a first lieutenant on the field of battle.

Detroit found out about Johnson yesterday when he came in to save a game that Joe Dobson almost lost, hurling five hitless innings and driving home the winning runs of a 6-4 triumph. Two doubles by the 27-year-old bullpen star set the pace for Boston's 26th victory in 33 games. In his last 12 innings on relief, Johnson has allowed only two hits.

The Sox' first place margin was increased to six full games when New York Yankees fell before Cleveland's Bobby Feller, 7-2. Rapid Robert, facing the Yanks for the first time since his no-hit, yielded only five blows and ran his strikeout total to 93 in 80

Vancouver, May 22.—(P)—Contrary folk, these skiers—or could they have the right idea about how to keep cool in "the good old summer time."

A few days ago Vancouver experienced its hottest May day since 1939. The mercury was up around 80 and about 50,000 persons are estimated to have invaded the beaches, soaking up the sun and developing into superior objects for the low type of practical joker, the sunburn back-slapper.

But while the bulk of sweltering humanity crowded into those narrow strips of sand along the ocean, the skiers—they never seem to lose enthusiasm—were up in "them thar" hills of North Vancouver.

The event was billed as the final race of the season—which season, they didn't say.

However, the stump jumpers, as they're called this time of the year, chalked up fast times in the Mount Seymour Ski Club's annual slaliding downhill race. Perfect skiing conditions were reported and Ray Crompton was the winner with a time of 1:51.

After it was over, sure enough, the strange sight to behold was a mixture of street car riders, some dressed in ski livery and others carrying a towel with a bathing suit wrapped up in it.

While on the subject, a matter of high finance came up in Vancouver City Council a couple of days back regarding the ambulance used for conveying injured skiers to hospital.

Since few trips take the ambulance into Vancouver proper, the operators wanted to forego the need for having to pass the city car-testing bureau.

The mayor and aldermen said "nothing doing." The testing fee is only a dollar, they said, and surely the ambulance operators could meet this amount. "Why, it costs three cents to send this letter," commented the mayor.

But if Dahlgren figured this meant he had at last found a permanent home, he was again sadly mistaken. For with the return of Elbie Fletcher, the Pirates shoehorned him off to the Browns.

Lucky for Babe Dahlgren that organized baseball does not recognize the Mexican League. There's no telling where they might send him next.

Old Days Of Pugilism Will Be Revived In Record Series

Boxing followers who look back fondly on the "good old days" of fistfuffs, when the pugilists adopted the famous upright stance, when fifteen rounds would only be used for warming up, and when boxers and fight fans generally were considered beneath "genteel" society will have their innings when, on this page of the Record daily, starting tomorrow, the early greats of the ring game will be recalled.

Written by Billy Roche, the noted referee of golden days, the feature, in a number of entertaining instalments, will remind Record readers of the great "Jawn L." Sullivan, Jim Corbett, Bob Fitzsimmons, Jeffries, Sharkey and others whose names were something to conjure with before the turn of the century.

Tomorrow's story will review the famous Corbett-Sullivan scrap in New Orleans on September 7, 1892. Later you will read how the solar plexus punch was born, and how Jeffries' explodes Corbett's comeback attempt at Coney Island.

Don't miss these stories.

MR. CECIL GEORGE WRIGHT,

Newport, Vt., May 22. — The death occurred on Good Friday, April 19, at the Newport Hospital, of Mr. Cecil George Wright, after an accident.

Mr. Cecil George Wright was born at Fitch Bay, on March 10, 1910, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wright. He attended public school in Way's Mills.

He came to Vermont nineteen years ago and worked on a farm in the town of Coventry, where he stayed eighteen months. He then took a position in Newport, on the Canadian Pacific Railway, as a sectionman, working under his uncle, Mr. Alfred St. Peter. He later became a yard brakeman and then in recent months yard foreman and conductor.

Mr. Wright was married to Loretta Marion Contine, of Newport, on February 25, 1933, at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church.

He was very popular with the men and was conscientious and faithful. His sudden death as the result of an accident in the Newport rail yards in the early morning of April 19, was a shock to his family, his employers and his friends.

Fatally injured in an unfortunate mishap, Mr. Wright was rushed to the Newport Hospital and died shortly after arrival.

Funeral services were held at St. Mary's Church, Newport, April 22, at 10 a.m., with Rev. Wilfred Gelineau, celebrant of the solemn High Requiem Mass, with the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Damase Carriere as deacon and Rev. Oliva Fournier, sub-deacon.

Interment followed in the Roman Catholic Cemetery. The bearers were Messrs. Romeo Dean, Joseph Choquette, Kenneth Pierce,
