13 airmen murdered in Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE — Congolese soldiers have murdered 13 Italian airmen they captured last week, the United Nations said here today.

A UN spokesman said the insurgents Congolese troops had "brutally murdered" the Italians at the Kivu province town of Kindu.

George Ivan Smith, the chief United Nations spokesman here, said that reliable witnesses had reported that the airmen were shot last Saturday in front of the Kindu prison, shortly after being arrested and brutally beaten by Congolese troops.

Some of their bodies were dismembered and hurled into the Lualaba River, the spokesman added, by soldiers who apparently suspected them of being Belgian paratroopers.

The Italians were captured by the Congolese when they flew in to deliver equipment to the UN Malayan force in Kindu.

PROPOSALS 'SPECIFIC'
Smith said the UN command was presenting "specific proposals" to the central Congo government for the forceful action to investigate and punish those responsible for the murder and to prevent a repetition.

If the government response seems insufficient, Smith said, the UN is prepared to act immediately on its own. He added that Malayan troops prepared for any necessary action, already are being flown to reinforce the 200-man Malayan UN garrison in Kindu.

The UN already had threatened military action if the rebellious soldiers—part of a disorderly command of more than 2,000 claiming allegiance to leftist Vice-Premier Antoine G.

zenga—failed to be taken by the world body.

UN headquarters here was in teletype consultation with Acting Secretary-General U Thant in New York throughout the night to decide on the next steps to be taken by the world body.

The murder of the Italians was announced after word that Congolese Gen. Victor Lundula had returned to Kindu for another attempt to obtain the Italians' release and to quell what was described as an open mutiny against the authority of the central government. Diplomats in Leopoldville said Girenga himself was responsible for the mutiny.

The 13 airmen had flown into Kindu in two C-119 transports on a routine mission to supply the Malayan troops with scout cars. Congolese troops attacked the airmen in the UN Malayan officers' mess, manhandled and beat them and took them off to the town's prison.

Eyewitness reports to the UN said the men were shot, before a crowd.

Smith said it had been planned to give the Congolese one hour to hand over the captured Italians today and if this failed the UN would have used jet planes against them.

But the idea of an air attack has been dropped because it would involve "senseless retaliation," he said. It had become more important to carry out a serious investigation and obtain satisfaction from the Congolese, he said.

GET NO RESULTS
UN representatives who returned to Leopoldville from Kindu Wednesday night reported "fruitless efforts to get satisfaction from the local commandant, the civilian authorities or anyone else who might be supposed to be in a position of authority."

U Thant Tuesday gave UN troops authority to take all steps to restore law and order at Kindu and also at Albertville in northern Katanga.

Meet in Paris
WASHINGTON (AP) — The foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France, and West Germany probably will meet in Paris next month, the U.S. state department announced Wednesday. Agreement has been reached, press officer Francis W. Tully said, that the four foreign policy chiefs should get together to discuss "problems of common interest."

Drain on jobless fund
OTTAWA (CP) — Married women have been unjustly accused of being an unfair drain on the unemployment insurance fund, an Ottawa woman told the Gill committee on unemployment insurance today.

Mrs. Svanhvit Josie went before the committee of inquiry with a 53-page brief proposing an integrated unemployment compensation system linking a national employment service with unemployment insurance and unemployment assistance allowances.

Mrs. Josie said she started out to make a study of the insurance plan as it affects women to answer charges that married women were abusing the fund.

But the deeper she got in her investigation, she said, the more aware she became of other important aspects of unemployment insurance — all summed up in her brief.

Universities disappointed at Ottawa
OTTAWA (CP) — The National Conference of Canadian Universities and Colleges ended a 23-day gathering here Wednesday disappointed that its long-standing demands for larger federal assistance are receiving "sympathetic consideration" rather than immediate action.

The answer of delegates to Prime Minister Diefenbaker's suggestion that the provinces bear a larger share of education costs was that regardless of what the provinces pay federal help is sadly lacking.

Dr. G. C. Andrew, deputy to the president of the University of British Columbia, said Mr. Diefenbaker's address to the conference Tuesday night "wasn't too fruitful."

The 200 delegates had expected he would announce an increase in federal university grants to $2.50 from the present $1.50 per capita of provincial population.

Hopes to break deadlock
UNITED NATIONS (CP) — Canada is pondering a disarmament procedure aimed at breaking the deadlock between the United States and the Soviet Union, External Affairs Minister Howard Green said Wednesday.

Green spoke to correspondents after the great powers again locked horns on the sort of disarmament negotiating body they want. They both said, however, they want to embark quickly on resumption of disarmament negotiations.

Opening debate on disarmament in the United Nations political committee, the two big countries vied with avowals of disarmament.

These oft-repeated positions tend to leave many UN members and observers with a ho-hum attitude — they have heard it all before. Green's proposal was apparently aimed at outlining a possible new path of compromise progress.

Green told his press conference that Canada is "toying" with the idea of proposing a 17-member disarmament committee to succeed the 10-member East-West body that came to grief in Geneva in June, 1960.

The Canadian foreign chief went along with Western objections to the Russian-drafted talks in disarmament negotiations but proposed the addition of African, Asian and Latin American countries to the committee, making a total of 17.

$100 million cost of tests?
WASHINGTON (CP) — Its series of nuclear tests in the atmosphere may have cost Russia about $100,000,000.

This is an informal estimate by a qualified Pentagon source based on what it would have cost the United States to put on a similar display, including the explosion of a 60-megaton bomb.

The informant emphasized that the figure of $100,000,000 could only be described as an "intelligent guess." Through reduced payments and lower living standards, a totalitarian power might be able to harness scientists and industry at a price much lower than in a competitive democracy.

Although the Russian tests were shrouded in secrecy, the explosions in the Arctic indicated that the Communists still have not completely caught up to Americans in refinement and efficiency in nuclear weapons production. The informant concluded that the Russians may be expending greater energy and effort to make their bombs.

Conference debates dualism
QUEBEC (CP) — The Laval Canadian affairs conference settled down today to a debate on what Canada's two main races have against one another after hearing Justice Minister Fulton say the French and English "must arrive at mutual understanding despite frustrations, obstacles and annoyances."

He also announced that a draft bill guaranteeing the rights of French-Canadians and making them "unalterable with the unanimous consent of all the provinces and the federal government," will soon be submitted to the provinces for approval.

Mr. Fulton, addressing the conference's opening banquet in French, said if the bill is approved it will guarantee French-Canadians' fundamental rights—"affecting language, education, property and civil rights."

It will be made public within a few days, he said, and will give Canada the power to amend its constitution.

Today the first plenary session opened with Gerard Pelletier, editor of Montreal La Presse, discussing "What the English-Canadians have against us." Murray Ballantyne, author and lecturer will discuss "What the French-Canadians have against us."

Speaker of the U.S. House
Sam Rayburn is dead at 79

BONHAM, Tex. (AP) — Sam Rayburn, who served longer as Speaker of the House of Representatives than any man, died today in the hometown he loved.

Cancer and its complications caused his death. He would have been 80 Jan. 6.

Representative John McCormack of Massachusetts, the Democratic leader of the House, is the leading candidate to succeed Rayburn as Speaker.

McCormack was the man Rayburn chose to serve temporarily as Speaker when "Mr. Sam" had to leave Congress before it closed because of what he called ser said he had dropped to about 120.

Rayburn was a bachelor. His only marriage was dissolved several months after it took place in 1927.

He was sensitive about two things, his lack of hair and his ill-starred marriage. He often accused photographers of focusing cameras in such a way as to emphasize his complete baldness.

His records were not those of longevity — he served in the House more than 48 consecutive years and was its Speaker more than twice as long as the previous record-holder, Henry Clay.

No immediate funeral plans were announced, but it is expected that President Kennedy will be one of those to honor the dead speaker at the services.

Rayburn achieved one wish concerning his death but failed in another.

"I want to die with my boots on and with my gavel in my hand," the venerable dean of 20th-century politics told friends when he left Washington at the end of August for what was to be his final departure.

Request made to Lt.-Gov.

Windsor asks city status

WINDSOR — The Town of Windsor will request the Lieutenant Governor of the province next week to raise the status of the community to that of a city.

The decision to apply for a change in status was made at a council meeting Tuesday night.

The session followed a public meeting which was held on Monday night to decide whether or not a referendum would be held to vote on a $90,000 loan by-law to raise funds for a new municipal building.

In order to force a referendum, 21 signatures were required. During the two-hour period which the ratepayers had to vote, 22 managed to sign the petition.

The twenty-two property owners that did sign the petition, had to fight their way through a group of about 20 men, who wanted the bylaw passed automatically.

The men were told by Mayor Noel, that if 21 men did not sign, the bylaw would pass and they could start working on the project the following day.

The twenty men pushed, the police even though there were five constables and the chief present.

Some petitioners asked the chief of police, Esdras Turgeon, to clear a path for them but he did nothing.

The bylaw was for a proposed municipal loan of $90,000. The town secretary said the complete cost of the construction of the new building would be $200,000. He said $45,000 could be raised by selling the old building and that the town was receiving a $65,000 grant from the government.

After the voting was over and the referendum had been forced, Mr. Noel addressed the unemployed group of men who had failed in their attempt to prevent the petition signers from entering.

He said: "We will take steps to stop these obstructions."

On Tuesday, the town council met on the city status issue.

Mr. Noel said that if the request is granted, the minimum number of signatures required to force referendums would be raised from 20 to 40.

The mayor said council invokes article 12 of the Cities and Towns Act in making the request to the Lieutenant Governor.

This article stipulates in effect that the Lieutenant Governor may act by letters patent and raise the status of a municipality from a village to that of a town if it numbers at least 2,000 persons and that of a town to a city if it numbers at least 6,000 persons.

The mayor said he did not know when the Lieutenant Governor would give his decision.

Pressure mounting for rebel release
PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle today faced mounting pressure from abroad to release three fastling Algerian nationalist leaders who intend to continue their hunger strike until set free.

Three Moroccan ministers sent by King Hassan II to plead with de Gaulle for the release of Mohammed Ben Bella, vice-premier of the Algerian rebel government, and two rebel ministers announced Wednesday night that they were delaying their departure for home.

The announcement raised speculation that de Gaulle may be showing signs of freeing the three rebel leaders to avoid making them martyrs in Algeria's fight for independence.

Ben Bella and his fellow prisoners, Hussein Ait Ahmed and Mohammed Khider, were transferred under heavy guard from the Chateau de Tourant in the Loire Valley to Garches Hospital near Paris Monday night when French officials became concerned about their health.

The three started their fast Nov. 2, along with about 3,900 other Algerian prisoners in France who are on a hunger strike demanding better prison conditions.

WANT FREEDOM
Algerian spokesmen had indicated earlier that Ben Bella and his two ministers were demonstrating solidarity with all Algerians imprisoned by the French. But their lawyers made it clear Wednesday that the three are fasting for their freedom. Ben Bella is determined to go on "to the end," his lawyer said.

The Moroccan ministers arrived Tuesday and talked with de Gaulle and Foreign Minister

PARIS (CP) — Finance Minister Fleming of Canada will meet President de Gaulle of France and Prime Minister Macmillan of Britain for important talks on the European Economic Community. It was learned today.

The Canadian minister, here for a ministerial conference of the 20-nation OECD, will see de Gaulle Saturday morning. On Monday in London he will call on Macmillan in the morning and later lunch with Duncan Sandys, Commonwealth relations secretary.

Both meetings have interesting aspects. De Gaulle is understood to be intrigued, if not puzzled, by Canada's strong show of resistance to Britain joining the European Common Market. He himself used to be an opponent of the Common Market but now apparently is convinced of its merits.

France has gained more from the Common Market so far than any of the other five members.

SEEK CLARIFICATION
Fleming's meetings with Macmillan and Sandys are likely to result in a request for clarification of Canada's stand on the Common Market in the light of what some British newspapers have called "the Drew controversy."

George Drew, Canada's high commissioner in London, stayed away from a special British briefing given in London last Friday by Sandys and Edward Heath, lord privy seal.

Drew's absence was widely interpreted as a deliberate rebuff to the British government, designed to underline Canadian resentment about alleged British reticence in passing on information concerning the Common Market negotiations.

Port residents welcome 'Lissie'
TEMA, Ghana (Reuters) — The Queen and Prince Philip today drove to Ghana's new port of Tema and were greeted by beating drums and placards reading "hearty welcome Lissie."

Children lined the road here from Accra to watch the royal couple. They were accompanied by President Kwame Nkrumah.

They toured the port area, 17 miles from Accra, in an open Rolls-Royce past waving Norwegian, Russian, British and Israeli seamen on berthed merchant vessels.

The royal party then drove on to Akosombo, 60 miles northeast of Accra, where preliminary work has started on the site of the giant Volta River project.

About Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Television — perhaps specifically the first Sing Along With Mitch show two seasons ago—is responsible for the loss of an electrical engineer, a diplomat, a physician and a broadcasting executive.

Those were the professions toward which members of a singing group called The Brothers Four were heading when the lightning of success struck.

The four, all from the Seattle area, were fraternity brothers, seniors at the University of Washington. John Paine, Bob Flick, Dick Foley and Mike Kirkland had made a recording. Greenfields which caught on. Then came the Sing Along date.

Occasional TV appearances have been vital to their success, the boys say. They have gone guest shots on all the top network shows. As a result record sales have increased, they can do more money, turn down jobs they don't like, and have become financially secure in two years' time.

The disadvantages are that none has found time to finish his college education. In the last eight days they have played college dates in eight different places, ranging from Florida to Michigan.

Concert pianist shows ability in highly diversified program

By ALISON SCHOENFELD
(Record Staff Reporter)

The program presented by Italian pianist Mario deli Pont at the St. Charles Auditorium Wednesday night provided him with an opportunity to exhibit his skill in almost every style of music. The program was sponsored by the Jeunesses Musicales of Canada and was attended by over 700 students. Since the purpose of the program was to introduce the students to the various schools of music — this was the reason for the great diversity of works presented. The concert opened with a Tocatta by Bach and closed with a short number by Bartok. The composers presented in between ranged from Durante through Schumann, Mendelssohn, Brahms and Debussy to Prokofiev. The numbers by Schumann and Brahms were heavy and majestic and very forceful but almost too methodically presented. The Prokofiev and Bartok, gay, sprightly and very short, were the most enthusiastically received.

However, his interpretation of the entire program was excellent particularly since he was faced by such a variety of moods, styles, and themes, all of which were rendered with distinction.

Gilles Lefebvre, president of the JMC in Canada gave a short explanation of each work. The concert is being given again this afternoon and tonight.

Courses open

The public speaking courses organized by the Sherbrooke Junior Chamber of Commerce got underway Wednesday night at the Technical school on Camirand Street.

The course is open to the members of the organization and the general public. The classes will be held once a week.

Sponsored by the E. T. Forestry Association, all owners of woodlots and sugarbush contest, now opened to all French and English speaking farmers in the Shefford, Missisquoi and Bromé areas.

Two prizes of $50 each, will be awarded at the convention to the owners of the best kept woodlots and sugarbushes in the contest area.

The purpose of the contest is to encourage owners to clean up their woodlots, cut away dead trees, therefore insuring a better crop in the near future.

The judges, members of the E. T. Forestry Association, will visit the woodlots and sugarbushes of entrants between the months of May and September. The contest is open until May 1.

Applications must be sent to Roger Roy, Forestry Engineer, Cowansville or Lucien Bedard,

Funeral service Friday for W. Whittier

MAGOG — Funeral services will be held Friday at St. Luke's Church, Magog, 2 p.m., for the late Willis Whittier, long-time resident here who passed away at his 355 Somers Street residence on Tuesday 14th.

Following a successful farming career in his native Cherry River, Mr. Whittier moved to Magog in 1931, and joined the Dominion Textile Company Limited, where he was retired in 1954.

During his lifetime he gained many friends, particularly due to his ardent love of hunting and fishing, and for the part he played in game conservation.

Mr. Whittier is survived by his widow, the former Florence Strickland, of Sherbrooke; two sons, Herbert and Harold; two daughters, Mrs. William R. Whittier and Mrs. Francis Bennett from a former marriage; two other sons; George and Alfred, and four other daughters; Mrs. Roger Hebert, Miss Alice Whittier, Mrs. Malcolm Armstrong, of Sherbrooke, and Mrs. Douglas Hall, of Montreal.

Rev. R. S. Ripper will officiate at the funeral. Interment will be in the Cherry River Cemetery.

Restaurant permit applications opposed by Sherbrooke hotels

The Association of the Sherbrooke Hotel Keepers opposed every application made by Sherbrooke restaurants for permits to serve alcoholic beverages with meals at Wednesday's public hearings of the Quebec Liquor Board.

The association also objected to the application of the St. Francois Snow Shoe Club of Ascot township, but the objection was rejected on the grounds that Ascot was not within the territory of the City of Sherbrooke.

Fire damage is $20,000

WATERLOO — A cement garage, located on Foster Square here was destroyed early this morning by fire which broke out about 5 a.m. Damage was estimated at $20,000. The garage belonged to the estate of Theodore Larose.

Roland Beaudry, the caretaker, said that by the time he woke up the building was already burning and the communication lines were destroyed. In order to advise the Fire Department he had to run out and stop a passing car which was then sent for help.

By the time Deodat Cabana, fire chief of the Waterloo fire department and his men arrived to the scene the building was already a total loss.

Three cars were destroyed with the garage as well as some repair equipment belonging to Guy Gilbert and Paul Couture.

The cause of fire is unknown.

The directors of the clinic report that if anyone wants to give their blood they may donate at Bishop's University, Lennoxville, where the clinic is now being held.

12,000 chicks burned

WEST SHEFFORD — (Staff) — A total of 12,000 four-day-old chickens were burned to a crisp early this morning when fire destroyed a barn near West Shefford.

The two storey wooden structure is the property of F. Dowd of West Shefford. Total damage is estimated as high as $10,000.

Cause of the fire is not known.

Three escapes from the Coos County New Hampshire prison were turned over to the N. H. State Police late yesterday after being recaptured by the R.C.M.P. near Coaticook.

The remaining nine applications were from Sherbrooke. Alphonse Laramee, owner of the Hotel Central and another applicant asked the board to postpone their applications indefinitely. One application concerned a transfer of permit.

The Sherbrooke applicants were Le Versaille, Mee-Ho, an unidentified restaurant near the Belvedere St. Armory, Yildiz at the shopping centre, Nanking Cafe, Angel China Cafe and Gourmet restaurant.

All the witnesses for the applicants said that the service and the meals at these restaurants were excellent.

The applicants said that although the number of customers lost because of the absence of permits was not considerable, they stated that the customers wouldn't mind driving a mile or two further to get the drink. They said they applied for permits to complete their customer service.

Speaking for the hotel keepers Roger Bourgeault, owner of the New Wellington hotel, and president of the Sherbrooke Hotels association said:

"I am opposed to these applications since it will undermine the hotel business of Sherbrooke."

Asked what his own operation included, Mr. Bourgeault said that besides the hotel which has a dining room and two banquet rooms, he also owns a tavern and night club. The Flamingo with a seating capacity of 360.

Mr. Bourgeault estimated that the returns from the liquor in the hotel, the tavern and the club amounted to about 30 per cent of his income, a percentage which is the average in the province.

On the request of the board, Mr. Bourgeault declared that on one Saturday night his club was able to clear about $800 dollars. The board pointed out that the figure could be easily increased.

Asked about the meals served by the hotels, Mr. Bourgeault said that the meals in hotels start at over a dollar. "For ninety cents we only offer sandwiches," he declared.

It is at this point that the counsels for the applicants pointed out that if a man with average income wanted to have a glass of beer with his meals he had to spend a considerable amount of money, while in most restaurants applying for permit a good meal could be obtained much cheaper.

The manager of King George Hotel said that he had no personal objections to the restaurant licence requests but he added: "What I fear, and our association fears, is that these permits will open the door for the applicants to ask permits for lounges, dining room licences, and flood the already limited Sherbrooke market."

Lorne Power, board member remarked: "All this could happen, if but if, somebody opens the door."

$50 fine for hit and run

A 50-year-old Magog man was fined $50 and costs in Sherbrooke District Court Wednesday morning after he pleaded guilty to a charge of hit and run.

Lucien Trepanier was arrested a few hours after his car was involved in an accident near Magog last Sunday night. The police report stated that Trepanier's car struck another one driven by Miss Rejeanne Meunier. Damages to Miss Meunier's car were in the neighborhood of $350.

Trepanier told the court that he wasn't under the influence of alcohol at the time of the accident but felt a slight dizziness. It was revealed in court however that the accused was recently ordered to spend 23 days in a Domremy Institute, where he will receive treatment for an alcoholic condition.

Rebuilding jobless insurance fund

Two important suggestions advanced by national organizations for stabilizing the national unemployment insurance fund should be considered carefully by the Government before it makes any move towards increasing the present premiums.

Basically the suggestions presented by the national business organizations provide for the divorcing of the insurance and the welfare aspects of the unemployment insurance fund and for levying of premiums based on the employment records of various groups of industries.

Faced with the problem of caring for the workless who had exhausted their normal benefits, succeeding governments instituted a system of seasonal and supplementary benefits. By extending the period of payments beyond those envisioned when the premium scale was drawn up, these supplementary payments caused an excessive drain on the fund's reserves to the point where it was virtually bankrupt.

The latest suggestion is that these supplementary payments be met directly by the federal treasury and be classified for what they are — welfare outlays. This would permit the unemployment insurance fund to resume its original functions.

The proposal to base premium charges on the long-term unemployment record of the various classes of industry would bring contributions in some relation to the benefits received.

At present, a man working in an industry which experiences little or no unemployment over a long period of time is compelled to contribute equally with a person working in an essentially seasonal industry. The former receives few benefits while the latter collects many times his payments.

In most seasonal industries wage rates are higher than those for similar classifications in non-cyclical lines, recognizing the principle that uncertainty of employment brings the right for higher hourly remuneration. Thus no objection can be taken to adopting the idea of varied levels of unemployment insurance contributions.

Dads who want to be heroes with their sons shouldn't help them with their homework.

The precious heritage of literature

"The books we read when we are young are the most important books we will ever read."

These are the words of Canadian novelist Hugh MacLennan, patron of Young Canada's Book Week, which opened yesterday and runs to Nov. 22.

He says that books can bring the whole world to us and if the world they bring is a true one, they are almost as valuable as school.

He emphasizes that this statement only applies to good books, to the ones that inspire the reader, encourage him, and educate him. He strongly criticizes cheap comic books and cheap literature of every kind which is sold to young people for a profit and for no other reason.

Cheap literature will never add sparkle to a child's life, it will never provide dreams that someday may be fulfilled. It takes real books to do this task.

Children cannot realize the opportunities they are wasting if they don't read worthwhile books. It is their parents who should provide the right kind of reading material. It takes a parent to start a child off with Winnie the Pooh, to bring him up on Walter de la Mare, introduce him to Pickwick Papers and then to let him loose with thousands of delightful books to choose from and the ability to distinguish between what is worthwhile and what is rubbish.

Mr. MacLennan concludes his Young Canada's Book Week message with the words, "I am only one writer out of many others in the world, but I can say with all of them, that if I had not read books when I was young, I would never have written any when I was older. Indeed I do not know who I would be now without books, for the good ones I read are as much a part of me as my own bones and cell tissues."

These are words to be kept in mind by parents. They are words that perhaps someday will mean a great deal to their children.

Young Canada's Book Week is important, not because it introduces revolutionary ideas but because it reminds us of the precious heritage of literature we have and how important it is to see that it is carried on to the next generation.

When a love knot is tied with just one beau it's more likely to last.

Horse and buggy mail gets through

A 73-year-old Hatley postman still uses a horse and buggy to cover his 16½ mile rural route, winter and summer.

Sound inefficient?

Not at all, says Alan Wheeler.

In the 12 years he has been delivering mail he has been turned back by winter drifts only three times. "And there isn't a car made that will do the work" of his trusty steed, Mr. Wheeler said in a Record story yesterday.

We are often told that the Canadian Post Office Department is one of the most modern and efficient in the world.

It has at its disposal fast jet planes, huge fleets of trucks, electronic sorting equipment — in short, everything that science can devise to make sure the mail gets through.

But how many horses and buggies has it?

The chances are, not very many. Our Eastern Townships man, as a matter of fact, may well be one of the last of his kind.

On the basis of his experience, however, postal authorities may think it worthwhile considering going back to the horse and buggy on some of their routes.

In more than a decade of delivering mail, Mr. Wheeler says he has never received a complaint.

That's something the rest of the Post Office Department, for all its up-to-date technology, can't claim.

Other papers say:

Answering questions half the fun

Guesswork has already been taken out of many details of everyday living. Any husband who can light an oven can prepare a multi-course meal without a flaw. It is perhaps only a question of time before the risk of disappointment can be completely lifted from that cherished activity: the annual vacation, or holiday.

In the old days we may have followed the advice of friends, both as to destination and things to do, see, and by all means avoid. Or we sent away for what we hoped would be unbiased literature from resort areas whose friendly advertising of countless advantages caught our fancy.

More and more, however, the professional travel agent and the guided tour have taken over such responsibilities — and, some folks would say, the fun — of planning the holiday trip.

A hint of the future may lie in a reader service performed by The Observer in London, which devotes a half page to an exhaustive questionnaire on vacationers' desires. The newspaper puts 26 numbered questions (some multiple-part) to readers, asking them to "put a tick in the appropriate squares."

The queries range from matters of fact (Have you taken a holiday abroad in the past four years?) to areas of personal taste ("Do you like the price of your room to be displayed in it?") Some of the multiple-choice replies are intriguing. For example, if you admit to camping out, you are asked whether () from choice, () for economy, or () don't know.

After going down the list jotting a few tentative ticks, we began to daydream of the future when we will all note our preferences as the new year begins. Electronic computers will put us into the right conveyances, hotels, eating places, entertainments, and in the final gesture of thoughtfulness deduct the holiday expenses from our regular pay check in a way that we will scarcely notice. Nobody will have to ask "How was your vacation?" They — and we — will know in advance.

Red China Puts an End to Suffering

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Ex-mayor deplores Windsor issue

Dear Sir:

With your permission I wish to avail myself of the use of your worthy medium.

At the outset I wish to assert that from all indications democracy is dead in Windsor. Proof of this was apparent at Monday's public meeting which was scheduled for 7:00 p.m. The purpose of this meeting was to vote on Bylaw No. 256 which concerns the construction of a municipal garage, fire station and police station. This bylaw would authorize a loan of $90,000. The fracas that ensued was well worthy of the haven of intrigue and jack boots, Russia. Only the guns were missing.

A group of unemployed and young scamps filled the hall to overflowing. Every seat was taken. The majority of those seated had no right to vote. They had been well drilled and had gained entrance before the scheduled 7:00 p.m. opening. Oddly enough this meeting did not begin with a prayer as is the usual custom. It was evident from the mood of the crowd that prayer had no place here.

If this meeting had been conducted in a democratic manner, no less than 50 persons would have registered their vote, but many turned away in disgust when they ran into this human barrier at the entrance. They could not believe what they witnessed.

Mr. Noel, the mayor, harangued the crowd continually and kept them in a ferment. "You fathers of families, they want to deprive you of a living, always the same little group who vote for referendums," and so on ad infinitum.

Mr. Noel thinks that the 22 persons who registered their vote should not impose their will on a population of 7000. But is it not more logical than that one man, Mr. Noel should impose his will on 7000 people.

The constables, nine in number, did absolutely nothing to protect those who came to vote. The more robust ones fought and bucked their way to the signing table. This was democracy in action.

To enlighten the population on what is afoot I wish to add this.

The people who came to vote were not voting against the erection of a municipal garage etc. What they objected to was the location of such. The land close to the Powder Mill is certainly not the centre of the town. The point that hurts most was the little matter of the $9,500 difference in the bid of the contractors. As you know Mr. Marcoux of Sherbrooke was awarded this for the amount of 164,000 and he was $9,500 higher than the lowest bidder. The reason Mr. Noel had for the gullible was that Mr. Marcoux promised to employ mostly Windsor people and the other bidders refused to do so. This lame excuse was being accepted with reservations, until it was blasted by Mr. Grondin, Sherbrooke contractor in the public press of Saturday Nov. 11. Mr. Grondin whose bid of $154,500 was the lowest, declared that he had been emphatic in stating that he would employ Windsor people if he were awarded the contract. Whither: the $9,500 Mr. Noel?

The ratepayers who went to sign did so of their own free will. I don't see why I should be blamed for all that goes on in Windsor. Personally I did not go to vote for the referendum.

I wish to live in peace and quiet with my family. Town business in the past ten years has taken me away from them a lot. I often ask myself: have I been foolish to squander my best years in this thankless pursuit? I have come out of this business a little poorer but a lot wiser — and sadder. I expected at least respect for my efforts for the betterment of the Town and population, but I find insult and innuendo is my reward.

Thank you, Mr. Editor, for this privilege.
J. Theophile Bolduc
Ex-Mayor of Windsor.

Adenauer's new troubles

Bonn's ex-Nazis push Germany towards the camp of the east

NEW YORK — (NEA) —

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is coming to visit President Kennedy with a full pack of new trouble. Summed up it's this: How to keep West Germany strongly allied to the West.

Two developments have brought this about: First, the Russians and their East German puppets erected The Wall dividing East Berlin and West Berlin. Second, as a result of the September election, Adenauer was compelled to drop his pro-West foreign minister, Heinrich von Brentano, and organize a coalition government with the nationalist Free Democrats.

The new foreign minister is Gerhard Schroeder, a former Nazi with pro-Eastern leanings.

Adenauer and Schroeder have made the statements customary in such cases that no change in German foreign policy is contemplated. In the stylized phrasing of the diplomats such statements are virtually de rigueur as prelude to a change.

It is interesting, therefore, to look behind the words of the leaders of West Germany to the actions now coming to light.

THE OTHER DAY, West Germany's Ambassador to Moscow, Hans Kroll, came out of a meeting with Chairman Khrushchev and "leaked" to diplomatic quarters that the Russians had made a "concession" on Berlin. The gist was that the Russians would guarantee the right of free access to Berlin in exchange for recognition of their right to sign a separate peace treaty with the East Germans.

This would not represent any substantial departure from previously announced Moscow attitudes. But an entirely different face is put upon the matter by later information to the effect that it was Ambassador Kroll who made the proposals.

The picture of Bonn's Ambassador conceding to Khrushchev the Russian right to sign a peace treaty with East Germany is quite a more serious matter.

If this is so it would be interesting to hear from Chancellor Adenauer on whose behalf Kroll was sounding out the Russians in Moscow. Was Kroll acting on his own or was he the agent of the new foreign minister, Schroeder? According to qualified German diplomats, the old Chancellor is not behind these efforts.

THE MANNER AND HASTE with which the discussions in Moscow were leaked would lend credence to the belief that Khrushchev is seeking some sort of accommodation with the extreme nationalist forces now getting up steam in West Germany.

Khrushchev obviously understands the profound political changes that are taking place in West Germany. He is surely aware—even if "liberal" Western politicians and commentators are not—that the events of last August when his puppet Ulbricht built The Wall that separates East and West Berlin rang the knell of the "Adenauer era" in Bonn.

The 55-year-old Chancellor gained in the course of 12 years for West Germany unprecedented economic prosperity and international acceptance. But with his Christian Democrats no longer a majority in the Bundestag he had to pay a heartbreaking price to stay in power another two years.

The coalition he now heads is thought by many competent observers to reflect the growing influence of the extreme nationalists among the Free Democrats, a rag-bag party that includes Ruhr industrialists, former Nazis and even some genuine liberals.

ONE OF THE MORE DYNAMIC LEADERS of the Free Democrats, Siegfried Zoglmann, formerly was head of the Hitler Youth Foreign Press Department. He played a leading role in his party's coalition talks with Adenauer.

However, it was Adenauer's sacrifice of von Brentano—whom the Free Democrats called weak and too pro-Western—that is symbolic of the West German changes.

As Bonn's foreign minister for six years, von Brentano was always identified with the policy of French-German collaboration and the construction of West European unity.

The fact that he was a firm believer in a democratic Ger-

Gerald Waring REPORTING

OTTAWA — How much radiation does it take to kill you? Four hundred roentgens? How many roentgens from Russian test fallout? One?

Then, say government scientists, there's no reason to panic.

Quod erat demonstrandum? Maybe. Foreign Minister Green's nettled reaction to Defence Research Board Chairman A. H. Zimmerman's assessment of the fallout danger indicated he didn't agree with Zimmerman's view. But then Green was beating the danger drums at the United Nations, and however necessary Zimmerman may have felt it was to reassure the populace, it didn't help Green in his glooming and dooming at the UN.

What good is the government-sponsored fallout shelter? Would some 90 per cent of the population survive in shelters? Or are they a waste of money — pap for the people, to give them a sense of security which, however unjustified, will keep them from panic?

Prime Minister Diefenbaker says everyone should build a basement fallout shelter. "We can do much," he asserts, "to ensure survival." The Emergency Measures Organization has a too-pat formula for fallout decay and radioactivity disappearance. In two days, says EMO officials, 90 per cent of the fission and fusion products will have gone; in two weeks, 99 per cent, and in two months, 99.9 per cent.

This encourages people to think that in a nuclear war they need only pop into their holes like rabbits, stay there for a couple of weeks, and emerge unscathed to pick up life much as it was before. Since we all revolve around our own personal interests, of which our own survival is the most important, the comforting belief that we'll get by all right in our Diefenbakers frees us of our greatest anxiety over nuclear war. Maybe it wouldn't be so bad after all.

Soldiers go into battle believing or hoping it can't happen to them. Are our political leaders fostering in us a new nuclear psychosis, a confidence that we can go into nuclear battle and not be killed? Fostering a psychosis that will accept the possibility of World War III with some degree of equanimity?

The British tradition, enhanced in World War II, is that the people of the "tight little island" can face the enemy's worst with steadfast courage and grim determination that sees them through to final victory. These qualities in the Canadian people are untied. Does Diefenbaker fear we would fail the test?

Khrushchev's terror tactics, his 50 and 100 megatonners, are designed to break the West's will to resist, to throw our society into a chaos of inflation, falling production and lawlessness, with every man for himself. Thus far he has

EROSION PERILS HOMES

(Cleveland Plain Dealer)

An Ohio Department of Natural Resources study of lake erosion shows that 588 homes in 22 areas are being threatened with destruction and John R. Hyland, shore erosion division chief, says that lake-front communities should legislate to discourage new construction in hazardous areas.

They not only should legislate to discourage such building, they should ban it. Such action is long overdue.

Thetford marks Armistice Nov. 19

THETFORD MINES — Armistice Day is to be observed here on Sunday, Nov. 19 by Thetford's 15th Field Squadron RCE CA (M) at the cenotaph at 11 a.m.

A Mass will take place at Notre Dame de la Presentation Church at 10 a.m. Father Jean Rock Lachance, chaplain, will officiate. The men, led by Capt. Ivan Theberge, commanding officer of the unit, will then march to the cenotaph where a Remembrance Day service will be held.

Civic dignitaries, company officials, the Girl Guides and Boy Scouts Association, as well as individuals, will also take part and wreaths will be placed at the cenotaph in tribute to the soldiers who died in both World Wars and to the civilian dead.

Victor Emmanuel II was proclaimed first king of united Italy in 1861, being succeeded by his son Humbert in 1878.

G. Rejhon joins Diplomatic staff

THETFORD MINES — George Rejhon, geologist on the staff of Asbestos Corporation, under Dr. P. Riordon, left recently to join the Diplomatic Service. He is due to report in Ottawa, where he expects to remain for a period of two years, after which he will be posted abroad.

Upon graduating in 1957, Mr. Rejhon, of Montreal, came to Thetford where he has since remained. His friends, work companions, and especially the Boy Scout Association, will miss him. He was devoted to the Boy Scout movement, being Assistant Scoutmaster for two years.

Prior to his departure, Scoutmaster George Riley and the boys tendered him a farewell party, as did other friends.

MOE'S RIVER —

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ewart, Miss Joyce and Master Gary Ewart, and Mr. Wendell Luce spent the weekend visiting friends in Ottawa and Brampton, Ont.

Mr. and Mrs. Ewart, who are in charge of the training for skiers activities beginning this week with cross country, pre-ski exercises and so forth.

Boys are being permitted skating from 1:30 to 3:30 on Saturdays and students of Grades X, XI and XII, after studies on Sunday evenings.

Several of the senior boys have been invited to the Sunny-side school Sadie Hawkins dance to attend this community activity has been given by Dr. Hutchison.

The Community Adult Education courses, directed by Dr. Hutchison and A. L. Ledeganek, are nearing mid-course. There has been a good response to the courses, which is encouraging to the directors, who are making every effort to have the community share the College.

Weekly activities at Stanstead College

The infant son of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Hutchison was christened at a service in Stanstead College Pier Hall on Sunday, Nov. 12, Rev. A. McKinley Rose and the Rev. James Hendry, officiating.

The baby, for whom the parents chose the name Ross, was carried by his maternal grandmother, Mrs. John Ross, and wore the family christening robe which was handmade over 120 years ago by his maternal great-great-grandmother.

Following the service, a turkey dinner and christening cake were served to the students and afterwards Dr. and Mrs. Hutchison welcomed the staff members and their wives in the reception room, where coffee and cake were served.

Friday morning, Nov. 10, an impressive Remembrance Day service was held at 8:30 a.m. in Pier Hall, conducted by the headmaster, Dr. H. Hutchison, and chaplain, Rev. James Hendry. Captain L. McGillon read the Honor Roll and the Great Silence was observed.

Dr. Hutchison has been conducting the church service in Hatley United Church for the past two Sundays.

Kill Moslems

ROUBAIX, France (Reuters) — Moslem gunmen Wednesday night machine gunned and bombed three Algerian cafes in this northern town, killing four Moslems and seriously injuring another.

Everyone at the College is pleased to learn A. J. Philip, chairman of the Board of Trustees has returned to his home in Windsor Mills after spending a week in the Sherbrooke Hospital.

PROVINCE OF QUEBEC CITY OF SHERBROOKE

PUBLIC NOTICE
By-Law No. 1154

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that on the 18th day of September 1961, the Municipal Council of the City of Sherbrooke has adopted By-Law No. 1154 of the City of Sherbrooke, amending By-Law No. 1071, concerning zoning in zone C-38.

That the original of said By-Law No. 1154 is kept at the City Hall, in the Municipal Archives, where everybody can take communication thereof.

The By-Law will take effect on November 30, 1961.

Given at Sherbrooke, this 13th day of November 1961.

H. P. Emond,
City Clerk.

NEW ENGINES

CHEVY II has the goods under the hood. There's a brand-new 4-cylinder, 90 hp high-stepping money-saver, or a 6-cylinder, 120 hp high-performance power plant that takes just a little more gas and gives a lot more go. Take your choice and go, go, GO for less.

NEW ROOMINESS

Here's the inside story of the year. Although this car was designed to be over two feet shorter, it still provides stretching comfort for six adults. And you'll love the handsome interiors, quality fabrics and sofa-soft seats. Try a Chevy II for size — and sighs.

NEW SUSPENSION

Straight from fifty years of Chevrolet know-how and engineering thoroughness — the suspension advance of the year — Chevy II's fabulous Mono-Plate rear springs! No harsh bounce. No squeaks. And sensationally smooth, smooth, smooth!

NEW STYLE

The Chevy II Nova 400 Convertible, clean as a mountain breeze in line and design, shows you why Chevy II is truly the car that exemplifies function with a flair. All nine Chevy II models have the finish, the sparkling style, you expect from Chevrolet, the perennial leader. See it... try it... at your Chevrolet dealer's today.

Lady curlers commence season with banquet

Activities for the 1961-62 season of the Ladies Sherbrooke Curling Club opened on Tuesday night with a dinner at the Club House followed by a short business meeting presided over by the president Mrs. J. A. Hogg.

The room was tastefully decorated for the occasion and a large fan-shaped arrangement of yellow and white chrysanthemums and autumn leaves adorned the head table.

Grace was said by Mrs. D. Conley, followed by a one minute silence in memory of Mrs. F. H. Bradley former honorary member and Mrs. A. Gauthier a former member.

Mrs. Hogg in her opening address following the dinner, introduced the head table guests who included members of the executive and Miss Elizabeth Haight, honorary president. The president welcomed both old and new members and wished them a pleasant season.

Mrs. D. Racey read the list of new members which brings the total membership to 226, the membership now being closed for this season. She then gave the financial report.

The minutes of the annual meeting were read by Mrs. A. F. Ross and the match report was given by the match convener Mrs. W. Elliott.

Mrs. D. F. Watson, delegate to L.C.A. gave a report of the meeting which was held in PRESIDING OFFICERS — Shown above are from left to right Mrs. Arthur St. Onge, director, Mrs. J. A. Hogg, president, Mrs. W. Elliott, match convener and Mrs. H. R. Vine, corresponding secretary, who presided at the semi-annual dinner meeting of the Ladies Sherbrooke Curling Club held on Tuesday at the club house.

Mrs. Hogg announced the new being held at the Club House a film will be shown of the Briar Tournament followed by mixed bowling. On Saturday night at the dinner.

Ruth Millett

A boor is a boor is a ... and women qualify, too

No woman is attractive when: She is yanking a small child along by one arm and glaring at him as she bawls him out. She is cutting another woman down to size when the other woman isn't around to defend herself. She ventures outside her home with her hair in pin curls or on rollers. (Even a scarf tied over the curls doesn't improve matters much.) One drink too many has convinced her that she is the life of the party. She is so busy trying not to miss anything that is going on around her that she doesn't really listen to or look at the person who is talking to her. She is doing her best to impress someone. She is being difficult and hard to please, under the illusion that such behavior will mark her as a person who is accustomed only to the best. She is giving a new acquaintance a cold, calculating stare and asking pointed questions to find out if the person is worth turning on the charm for. She is setting forth her ideas and opinions in a positive, overbearing manner that a conversation turns into a harangue. Her voice grows louder and louder as she attempts to drown out everyone else so that she can hold the center of the stage. She is being catty and showing her claws in a voice that positively purrs. She is calling attention to her virtues.

St. Paul's Ladies' Guild

Christmas tea well attended

Despite the inclement weather the St. Paul's Christmas tea was well attended. Guests found a cheery atmosphere within the small hall where a traditional Christmas theme was carried out in the form of small pine trees in the windows and poinsettias, and greenery entwining the hall posts. Receiving the guests was the president, Mrs. G. Carleton and the rector's wife, Mrs. R. Jervis. Read, Cashier for the afternoon was Mrs. F. Stanford.

Pouring at the tea table, arranged with a white linen cloth having a low centre-piece of yellow and green leaves, flanked by red candles in silver candelabra were Mrs. L. Miller and Mrs. W. F. Caswell. The food table with all the delectable home-made cooking was in the care of Mrs. M. Man-digo and Mrs. G. Dawson, while the fancy work table was supervised by Mrs. A. Peck and Mrs. F. Lord.

The parcel post table was taken care of by Mrs. S. Farmer and Mrs. A. Raymond. Mrs. A. Edgcombe was in charge of the fancy work table for the Ladies' Auxiliary of the St. Paul's Church and St. Paul's. The individual tables were arranged with embroidered linen cloths centred with tall crystal vases of yellow and mauve chrysanthemums and fern. These were looked after by the waitresses Mrs. A. Simpson, Mrs. A. Taylor, Mrs. J. McLeod, Mrs. E. Jenkinson and Miss F. Wright, under the supervision of Mrs. H. J. Drew.

The kitchen convener was Mrs. D. Sangster, assisted by Mrs. M. Morin, Mrs. H. Backland, Mrs. A. Fearon and Mrs. G. Murray.

Baby birthday club

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Sherbrooke Hospital list below new members of the Baby Birthday Club: — Bernier, Laurie Ann; Martin, Raymond; Joseph, Maher, Barry; Lemieux, Diane; Authier, Maureen Collette; Pryce, Arthur Kevin; Lamontagne, Donald; MacDonald, Mary Lou; Gauthier, Jean.

Food Tips

A roast serves more people, and has more flavor, when a well-seasoned bread stuffing is added to it. For instance, an inexpensive cut of meat like breast of veal becomes an attractive and tasty meat dish when it's spread with stuffing and shaped into a roll. One package of active dry yeast gives the same amount of leavening action as one package of compressed yeast. But it's important to remember that active dry yeast should always be dissolved in warm, not hot, water. The compressed yeast should always be dissolved in lukewarm water.

No Hot Air for Hair

The best method of drying hair is to towel it dry. Next, brush it thoroughly. But if you haven't the time to wait, get more mileage from a win-ter suit: have a huge stolid made of matching fabric. If possible, line it with fur.

Stole, Suit Match

Paris shows a new way to get more mileage from a win-ter suit: have a huge stolid made of matching fabric. If possible, line it with fur.

Today's recipe

POPOVERS FOR TEATIME

1 cup sifted all-purpose flour, 1 tsp. salt, 3 eggs, beaten, 1 cup milk, 2 tbsps. melted butter.

Sift together the flour and salt. Mix beaten eggs and milk. Combine the dry and wet mixtures. Add the butter. Beat until the dough is creamy. Butter popover pans and heat them in a 450 degree oven until sizzling hot. Fill the pans half full of batter. Bake at 450 degrees for 20 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake 20 more minutes until popovers are high and golden. Serve with lots of butter.

Don't Wear Mask

Don't defeat the prime purpose of your foundation make-up by abruptly ending its application at the chin and jawline, thereby leaving a masklike appearance.

3 OUT OF EVERY 100 CHILDREN BORN IN CANADA ARE MENTALLY RETARDED!

Mental retardation is a condition of impaired or incomplete mental development dating from birth or an early age. It is usually associated with a slowness to develop, a limited ability to learn, a reduction of social aptitudes and limited vocational capacity.

Mental retardation recognizes no boundaries of race, colour, creed or financial circumstances. There probably will be at least 13,000 mentally retarded children born in Canada this year!

Imagine the strain the parents face caring for these Peter Pan children who mentally will never quite grow up. These parents need your help and your prayers.

Like all children, retarded children are God's children. They are born to families high and low, rich and poor. Some will struggle on the edge of normal life after being hurt by the unkindness of others who have never bothered to think about this problem; some will never leave their cots; but many others can be trained to lead useful and happier lives.

YOU MAY THINK ALL MAKES OF WASHERS ARE ALIKE BUT...

LOOK AT ALL YOU GET FROM FRIGIDAIRE

You get unprecedented reliability—thanks to the "15-Year Lifetime Test" in which Frigidaire Washers are run day and night to equal 15 years of home use! Every engineering development is watched for weakness that might lead to breakdown during the test — and corrected when detected. Your 1962 Frigidaire Washer is as reliable as science can make it!

Also look for: Durable rust-resistant porcelain wherever water touches the washer; full-width top opening; side-opening lid; recessed toe space; recessed spill guard top.

ONLY FRIGIDAIRE WASHERS
OFFER A CHOICE OF ALL THESE FEATURES!

1. Special Fully Automatic Soak Cycle — ideal for baby diapers, grimy play clothes, work clothes, and the only way to wash wool safely.
2. "Somersault" washing action—cleans clothes gently without blades, without beating, thanks to Frigidaire's patented 3-Ring Agitator.
3. Faster wash cycle than any other make — you use less water, less detergent, less electricity.
4. Detergent, bleach, dye, and rinse-conditioner dispensers built right into the Agitator, to dispense laundry aids automatically under water at just the right time.

Injury in bath tub means cash

JOHANNESBURG (Reuters) B. A. Dawson, a South African engineer, slipped in his bath tub, cracked his head on a tap—and came up with an idea that may mean a new industry for South Africa.

He visualized a bath tub without taps. And that's what he produced—a practical, fully-engineered bath without projecting taps.

The idea is simple and can also be applied to washbasins, eliminating those projections which catch you on the eyebrow when you bend down to sluice your face.

Water enters through a special aperture in the wall of the bath or basin. The flow and temperature are regulated by a hidden hot-and-cold mixing unit.

World patents have been applied for. "Two million bath tubs are manufactured annually in the United States alone," said Dawson. "If I capture only 10 per cent of that, it could mean millions in foreign exchange for South Africa."

Manufacture, he said, entails little modification of present processes of casting bath-tubs and the purchase price is likely to be even lower than that of a conventional tub.

KNOWLTON —

Rev. Th. Van Pettegem, who had been in Holland for the past few weeks, conducted the morning services at the United Church on Nov. 12, observing Remembrance Day. Mr. Van Pettegem based his sermon on, "The Victory of Peace," and the choir under the direction of Mrs. Wm. Badger, with Mrs. L. Tuxen, organist, rendered the anthem, "Song of Hope and Peace."

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Syberg included Mr. and Mrs. Jean Robert Nadeau, of Cowansville, and Mr. B. Rasmussen, and Miss D. Larsen, of Brigham.

Miss E. Coyle, of Montreal, is in residence in one of Mrs. Pauline Walters Apartments on the Lake Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hines spent a day in Sherbrooke.

Miss Lucia Knowlton has returned from spending a holiday with her niece and family in Ottawa.

Mr. Arthur Aiken, of St. Laurent, and Mr. David Aiken, of Mansonville, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Bockus.

This white space is to make it possible for you to clip the blank cheque on the opposite side of this page, fill it out, and send it to the Association for the Help to Retarded Children Inc. (Sherbrooke Branch).

Church group to buy new stove

STANBRIDGE EAST — At the regular meeting of the W. A. of the United Church it was decided to purchase a new gas stove to replace the old wood one now in use in the church kitchen.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Belle Farfield, with the vice-president, Mrs. Leonard Stone, in the chair in the absence of the president, Mrs. Anne Harvey.

After the meeting, lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by the other members, and a social hour followed.

RICHMOND —

Mr. and Mrs. Lennox Hay and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Cromwell, of Montreal, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. Marveau Alexander.

Mrs. D. S. Hart, Town of Mount Royal, who was guest of her sister, Mrs. Harold G. Ross, and Mr. Ross, has returned home. Mrs. W. O'Donnell accompanied her daughter for a short visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Davidson of Montreal East, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Davidson.

Mrs. J. Hinchcliffe, of Montreal, was a weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Carr. While here he attended the Legion ceremonies.

Mrs. Eva Donahue has returned from Ste. Dorothee, after visiting her mother, Mrs. John Dyson, also her sister, Mrs. Ethel Byrne, at Montreal.

Friends of Mr. S. E. Morrison are sorry to learn that he fell while at work with his son on his farm, breaking his left arm.

MELBOURNE —

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wentworth, accompanied by Mrs. R. F. Lockwood, of Richmond, were recent guests of Mrs. Wentworth's brother, Mr. Charles Wright and Mrs. R. Wright.

Mrs. L. M. Fee has returned from Montreal, where she attended a family dinner party at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. W. Lawton, and Mr. Lawton

Seagram's Martini-Master Most Happy Invention

SHERBROOKE—New ease and convenience in the preparation of martinis are now achieved through the use of the unique Martini-Master, the container for Seagram's Gin, the world's driest gin.

Made from antique glass with a gold-plated cap and easily removed label, the Martini-Master is simple to use. Just unscrew the large golden cap to add ingredients and ice. Stir gently. To pour, replace large cap and remove smaller top cap. The narrow neck acts as a suitable strainer.

In addition to martini-making, the ingenious Martini-Master performs valiantly as a shaker for all cocktails. When entering, several shakers can be used to prepare and store a supply of your favourite cocktails. They also add a distinctive new note to dining when used to serve fruit juices, iced tea and iced coffee.

Try Seagram's Gin soon. It's extra dry, extra smooth because it's aged in special oak casks to the golden moment of perfection. This ageing imparts a delicious dryness that gives every gin drink a unique crispness.

Winnipeg's St. James Rods cop little Grey Cup championship with 16-13 victory over Rosemount Bombers CALGARY (CP) — Winnipeg's St. James Rods tucked away another Canadian Junior football crown Wednesday night with a 16-13 victory over the defending champion Rosemount Bombers of Montreal. It is the Rods' third Dominion title since 1955.

The Shriners - sponsored final, played before about 6,000 fans in temperatures that dipped at least 10 degrees below freezing, was in doubt to the last seconds.

Clutch passing by rookie quarterback Gordie Irwin and payoff yardage from four hard-running backfielders proved the difference.

The Bombers pulled off three dazzling interceptions, one leading to a touchdown, but lost their advantage when they fumbled three times.

Curling Club opens tonight

The semi-annual meeting of the Sherbrooke Curling Club will take place this evening, announced President Ernie Taylor.

A curler's dinner will be served at 6:30 prior to the meeting when the various reports for the past season will be read. Curling has already commenced and new members have been receiving instruction from Doug Racey and his committee.

Dave O'Keefe, chairman of the ice committee, has three fine sheets ready for the members and activities will commence next week with several club competitions on the agenda.

Rods Gary Robson slipped behind two defenders and grabbed a 55-yard pass that led to the Rods' first touchdown, and caught a 10-yarder for another that proved to be the winner.

CONVERTS TO

He converted his own touchdown and the second, scored by fullback John Davidson. Brian Lunney kicked a pair of singles.

Leon Jacobs scored both Rosemount touchdowns, one on a twisting 25-yard run, and punting fullback Gerry Yaccato kicked two singles.

The Regina Leader - Post Trophy, first awarded to the Canadian Junior champions almost 40 years ago, was received by Rod co-captains Paul Robson, Bob Davidson and Irwin. They also received the Shrine Trophy.

The touchdown run by Jacobs at 8:59 of the second quarter signalled the start of wide-open play by both teams. On Rods' second series after the kickoff, Robson caught the long pass setting up Davidson's touchdown plunge.

The St. James defensive line quickly singled out the 185-pound Yaccato as the man to stop in the Bomber backfield, and a hard tackle during a Rosemount surge in the third quarter forced him to fumble at midfield.

Robson took a 19-yard pass to the Bomber 32, and three ground plays set up Irwin's touchdown toss to Robson.

Early in the last quarter, guard Pierre Desjardins pounced on a Rods fumble deep in St. James territory, and it paid off four plays later with Jacob's second touchdown.

SOD TURNED — Three mayors and a member of parliament are seen in the act of turning sod where the Normandie Lanes, a new 48-lane bowling layout, will be built. Left to right, Mayor S. Blais of Bromptonville, Mayor J. W. Bernier of Rock Forest, Mayor Armand Nadeau and Maurice Allard, MPP, form the shovelling brigade. In the rear are some of the invited guests who attended the special ceremony. On the right is Rev. Father Valere Duplain parish priest of Rock Forest, while on the left is Guy Ouenneville, manager of the proposition. The new building will be built on Bourque Boulevard just beyond the Alouette Motel in Rock Forest.

Can stop Argos' scattergun offence — Trimble

TORONTO (CP)—Both Toronto Argonauts and Hamilton Tiger-Cats have the type of scattergun attack that can roll up a basketful of touchdowns when all the gears are meshing.

That being the case, the outcome of the two-game, total-points Eastern Football Conference final may rest on the performance of the defensive squads.

The Ticats have a well-schooled crew of specialists in the job and the ability, at least in the words of coach Jim Trimble, to contain the Argos' new-found scattergun pass pattern.

hope our defence will be adequate."

PATTERSON TO PLAY

Trimble later made it official that end Hal Patterson will play for the first time in six weeks. The great pass receiver, acquired this season from Montreal Alouettes, has been sitting out what was officially described as a shoulder injury while the Hamilton front office persistently denied rumors that it was something more serious.

It was also announced, to the surprise of many, that there is a possibility neither George Scott nor Carver Shannon will be in the lineup.

Instead, Trimble may continue with Millam Wall, the rookie from North Carolina, at offensive halfback. This would give him a rearguard reserve, since both Wall and Patterson are adept in defensive duties. Toronto coach Lou Agase is likely to stick with the defensive backfield that held off Ottawa Rough Riders in the semi-final—Ron Morris, Jim Rountree, Stan Wallace, Dick Shatto and Art Johnson.

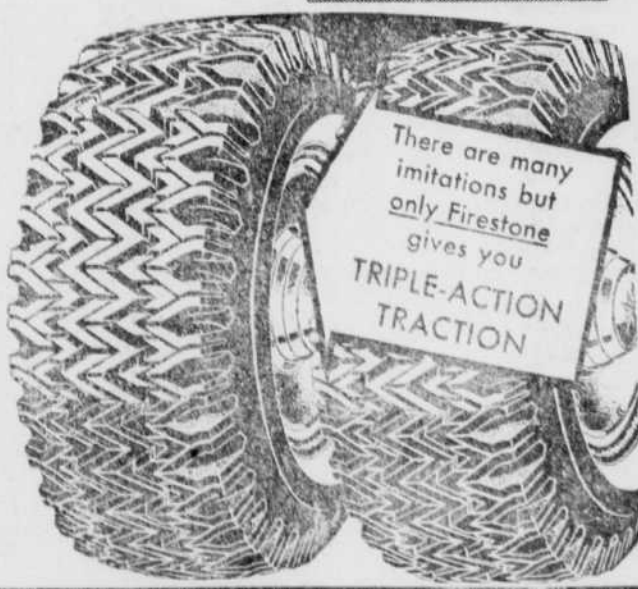

VITAL COGS

Morris, is a strong outside linebacker, but he and Shatto are vital cogs in the Argos' pass attack. Morris caught four touchdowns from quarterback Tobin Rote last week-end when the Argos eliminated Ottawa 43-19.

That was the game in which Toronto unveiled the spread formation—variously dubbed the rovin' Tobin, remote Rote or short punt lineup—in which the quarterback stands eight to 10 yards behind the line of scrimmage with potential pass receivers scattered all the way to the sidelines.

It's not new to the Ticats, who used it with devastating effect back in 1958. Trimble's view is that Toronto's initial success had much to do with element of surprise and that will no longer be present in the series to pick the East's Grey Cup representative.

In fact, said Trimble, the reason Hamilton didn't use it further after achieving such early success was that it can be defended against quite easily—"and we will do just that Sunday."

Bernie Faloney, Parker voted top players

MONTREAL (CP) — Bernie Faloney of Hamilton Tiger-Cats has been voted most outstanding football player in the East and Jackie Parker of Edmonton Eskimos was the choice in the West, it was announced today.

One more ballot will be held to decide which of the two quarterbacks is the most outstanding player in the Canadian Football League. The choice will be announced in Toronto during Grey Cup week and the winner presented with an award donated by a distillery.

Voting is by sports writers and broadcasters in the five Western Conference and four Eastern Conference cities.

Also announced were the eastern and western choices for two other awards:

Outstanding Canadian player — Defensive end Tony Pajaczkowski, Calgary Stampeders; halfback Bobby Kuntz, Toronto Argonauts.

Outstanding lineman — Frank Rigney, Winnipeg Blue Bombers; John Barrow, Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

University of Sherbrooke basketball squad looking forward to good year, opens with Farmington Nov. 27

Twenty-five players have started to train at the University of Sherbrooke for the coming basketball season.

Among them are such known players as the Desmarais brothers, Guy Bertrand, Ray Batrie and more players are expected by the end of this week, namely Jacques Sylvestre, Gilles Bedard and Norm Swain.

Coach Pete Baird says he expects a very good season and adds that he is looking forward to meet the Farmington Teachers College in Sherbrooke on November 27.

The team holds its practices and games on the Campus gymnasium on Monday and Wednesday nights from 7 until 8:30 p.m. The doors are open to all those who are interested in basketball.

Following is a schedule of the games to be played in Sherbrooke in the coming season.

LAST NIGHT'S STARS

Bert Olmstead of Toronto, who helped set up the tying goal and scored the winner as the Maple Leafs edged Montreal Canadiens 3-2.

Shack stars in Toronto's 3-2 win over Habs, Hall and Red Hay are outstanding as Hawks blank Wings

Eddie Shack has been labelled as over-rated. He's also been called a loafer and a troublemaker.

But the controversial 24-year-old Toronto Maple Leafs winger is a speed demon on skates who at times comes up with a play that makes spectators pop out of their seats.

Shack came up with a couple of these plays Wednesday night. One produced a goal which fired the Leafs to a 3-2 victory over Montreal Canadiens in one of two National Hockey League games.

The Leafs were trailing 2-1 when Shack carried the puck almost the length of the ice and then beat Montreal goalie Jacques Plante while lying on his back at 6:40 of the third period.

Seventeen seconds later, veteran Bert Olmstead tipped in a blueline slap shot by defenceman Tim Horton for the winning goal.

In the other game, Bill Hay, a magician with the puck, banged home his first two goals of the season and goalie Glenn Hall stopped 28 shots for his second shutout to steer Chicago Black Hawks to a 2-0 triumph over Detroit Red Wings.

The results left Canadiens in first place, but only one point ahead of Maple Leafs who vaulted into second over idle New York Rangers. Montreal still has 20 points while Toronto has 19 and New York 18.

Chicago, meanwhile, moved into a tie for fourth place with the Wings. Each team has 13 points. Boston Bruins bring up the rear with nine.

Canadiens get another chance tonight to widen their lead when they meet the Bruins at Boston in the league's only action. Shack remains one of hockey's most perplexing problems. He was rated a can't-miss professional prospect when New York brought him up at the start of the 1958-59 season. Rangers, convinced he would never attain his potential, dealt him off to the Leafs last season.

In 211 NHL games, he has scored only 34 goals — four of them this season.

But Toronto fans love him.

CRASHES INTO PLANTE

Leafs didn't appear to be getting anywhere Wednesday night until Shack steamed up the ice with one of his patented heads-down drive. He crashed into Plante, then shot. For a moment it appeared that Bobby Plaford had slapped in the loose puck but officials said no.

New curlers swarm to Canada's rinks

This is the first of this season's curling instruction columns by Ken Watson of Winnipeg, Canada's "Mr. Curling." Three times Canadian curling champion, Mr. Watson's column will appear once a week throughout the winter.

By KEN WATSON

It hardly seems creditable that the 1961-62 curling season now upon us celebrates 154 years of indoor curling in Canada, yet the greatest growth in the game has taken place in the last ten years. And with public curling now in the offing for a play-hungry populace in the metropolitan centres, there is a potential of a million addicts of the "roaring game" in the next decade.

Now that pay-as-you-play curling in Toronto, Calgary and Regina has proven itself a profitable financial venture, it is only natural that ominous rumblings of bulldozers tearing the turf for more structures in other Canadian cities can and will be heard with increasing tempo.

In Western Canada, this class of curling has been in operation for half a century. Commercial curlers, as they are known on the prairies, were necessary to the scheme of things, for as ice renters they contributed greatly to the money pots of many clubs to enable them to operate without red ink on their ledgers.

In the East, the picture was quite different. Most private clubs catered only to their own and hung out a "For members only" sign thus building an exclusive sanctimoniousness around the "roaring game."

CURLING BOOM

When the first pay-as-you-play emporium opened up in Toronto's Agincourt district a few years back, the granite wall built up around the royal and ancient game began to crack. First with 12 ice lanes, then four more and finally, an unheard of total of 20 sheets, the proprietor stood amazed at the deluge of people clamoring for admittance.

Hogtown can now boast 120 sheets of ice, or one ice lane for each 10,000 of population.

WEST HAS MOST

How does this compare with Saskatchewan's offer of one sheet for each 500 people? And some of the enterprisers think that Toronto has reached the saturation point. Not yet — by a long way!

Asbestos-Danville-Shipton blanks St. Isaac School 4-0 to extend lead in league, still undefeated Asbestos - Danville - Shipton blanked St. Isaac School of Asbestos 4-0 in a fast-skating hockey game featured in Asbestos Arena Tuesday afternoon.

The win by ADS put the squad in undisputed possession of first place in the five-team hockey circuit which consists of teams from ADS, St. Isaac, St. Bernard, St. Aime, and Asbestos Classique Schools.

Robert Garthshore opened scoring in the game in the early minutes of the primary period when he tallied on assists from teammates Doug McEwan and Willy Munroe.

Dave Gagnon made it 2-0 for the visitors later in the same frame when he scored thanks to a pass play from Doug McEwan and Robert Garthshore.

After a scoreless second period, John Travers made it 3-0 for ADS in the third and final frame when he fired in his only goal of the contest on passes from Doug McEwan and Robert Garthshore.

Finally, with only several minutes left to play, Willy Munroe capitalized on a pass from John Campbellton to bring the final score to ADS 4; St. Isaac 0.

The shutout for goalie Tom Heron brought his goals-against record to a very commendable 0.25 per game. Heron stopped 15 drives in the match against St. Isaac however, his squad outshot the hosting St. Isaac team greatly.

John Gagnon, an injured player who played a full share in Tuesday's match, is to be praised for his fine sportsmanship and drive which he displayed despite face and head cuts.

Asbestos-Danville-Shipton: T. Heron (goal), R. Garthshore, W. Munroe, J. Campbellton, J. Gagnon, D. Gagnon, D. McEwan, J. Travers, J. Ward, M. Fortier.

The league standing follows:

North Hatley High boys sweep basketball fixture with Coaticook, Seniors win 50-31, Juniors 21-12

North Hatley Junior and Senior boys basketball squads took two games from Coaticook Tuesday in Coaticook when the visiting Seniors won 50-31 with the NHHS Juniors taking their tilt 21-12.

Visiting North Hatley Juniors had little trouble in disposing of their Coaticook rivals. The visitors chalked up an 11-4 tally by the halfway mark of the game thanks to superior playing in all departments. In the final frame, Coaticook was outscored by North Hatley 10-8.

T. Cort topped the victors with 13 points while for Coaticook J. Chamberlain was top scorer with six.

A definitely superior North Hatley club coasted to an easy 50-31 victory over Coaticook Seniors. The hosting squad just didn't have the power to compete with them but are to be commended for their determination and drive which had NHHS hopping on several outstanding plays.

The visitors dumped in 28 points by halftime while their opponents were limited to 17. In the final frame, it was North Hatley setting the pace again with 22 as compared to 14 for Coaticook.

Danny Reed was the outstanding scorer for visiting NHHS with 20 points followed by Richard Montgomery with 16. For Coaticook J. Chamberlain was his team's best player with 13 points to his credit.

North Hatley: T. Cort (13), J. Sharman (4), R. Riley (4), J. Rafan, B. Olson, R. Stone, D. Rentaul, M. Kitchew, M. Bean. Total — 21.

Coaticook: J. Chamberlain (6), D. Cook (3), R. Grady (2), T. Chamberlain (1), D. Patineaux, M. Murphy, D. Johanne. Total — 12.

North Hatley: D. Reed (20), R. Montgomery (16), T. Bean (4), T. Cort (4), R. Kizzen (4), T. Carol (2), H. Montgomery, B. Lowe, C. Bean. Total — 50.

Coaticook: J. Chamberlain (13), L. Bishop (6), J. Chamberlain (6), D. Murphy (3), J. MacKinnon (2), D. Mayhew (1), M. Massey, W. Bishop, R. Whitehouse. Total — 31.

Blue Bomber coach was rooting for Esks in semi-final round

WINNIPEG (CP) — It just won't be the same for coach Bud Grant when his Winnipeg Blue Bombers meet Calgary Stampede Saturday in the first game of the Western Football Conference final.

Blue Bombers have met Edmonton Eskimos in the final for the last four seasons in a traditional playoff rivalry.

"You almost hate to see an outsider get in," Grant said after Calgary eliminated Edmonton 27-26 in two game, total-points semi-final.

Grant has been Bomber coach for those playoffs against Edmonton but his personal rivalry extends over four years before that when he played end for Bombers. For three of his playing years Winnipeg and Edmonton also met in the conference final.

Grant admitted he was rooting for Edmonton to win this year's semi-final.

Although Calgary just managed a third-place finish in the regular schedule well behind Edmonton and the first-place

Bombers, Grant is treating them with respect.

"I thought Edmonton was better than last year and if Calgary is good enough to beat Edmonton, they can't be taken lightly," he said.

Grant also said Calgary's upset victory will make no basic difference in Winnipeg preparations even though an Edmonton win was expected.

In the opening game, Grant says, the weather will be the single biggest factor in determining strategy.

This late in the season snow and freezing cold are strong possibilities.

Grant is giving lots of thought on how to contain Calgary quarterback Eagle Day, whose passing was extremely effective in the second game of the semi-final Monday.

Roger Maris is MVP in American

BOSTON (AP) — Outfielder Roger Maris, who made history last season by slugging 61 home runs to break Babe Ruth's record, Wednesday was named the American League's most valuable player for 1961, edging New York Yankee teammate Mickey Mantle for the second straight year.

Maris polled 202 points to Mantle's 198 in voting by 20 members of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Last year, Maris nosed out the switch-hitting Mantle by three points.

Third place this year went to Jim Gentile, Baltimore Oriole's first baseman, who received 157 points. Norm Cash, Detroit Tiger first baseman, was fourth with 151 points. Yankee hurler Whitey Ford, who won the Cy Young pitching award last week, was fifth with 109 points and ace New York reliever Luis Arroyo was sixth with 95 points.

Hockey's Big Seven

Robinson voted rookie-of-year in Western loop

REGINA (CP)—Larry Robinson, 19, flanking halfback with Calgary Stampeders, has been voted rookie-of-the-year in the Western Football Conference, league officials announced Wednesday.

A Calgary product, Robinson is a graduate of the Mount Royal College Cougars, a junior team in Calgary. He will receive the Dr. Beattie Martin Trophy, awarded annually to the league's top rookie in memory of the late Dr. Martin, a prominent football executive here.

Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion of Montreal Canadiens scored one goal in Wednesday night's 3-2 loss to Toronto Maple Leafs and moved into sole possession of third place in the National Hockey League's scoring race.

Geoffrion, last season's scoring champion, has eight goals and 11 assists for 19 points, five fewer than first-place Andy Bathgate of New York Rangers and four behind teammate Claude Provost.

The leaders:

Produce natural gases

MONTREAL (CP) — Every lowland farmer who ever dug a well knows there is natural gas bet ween Montreal and Quebec City.

The first white settlers of the 16th century quickly learned of the presence of shallow, explosive pockets of gas in the fertile St. Lawrence River valley soil.

But since the first natural gas well was drilled north of Trois-Rivières in 1860, commercial success has been elusive. In 1906, the Canadian Oil and Gas Company built a 13-mile pipeline to Trois-Rivières and was marketing gas from 13 wells by 1907. The company folded the next year. Electric ity, a leaky pipeline and petering reserves contributed to its demise.

In 1956, Bald Mountain Oil Company Ltd. made an exciting gas strike at Batisseau, 90 miles southwest of Quebec City.

A year later, mention of the name would hardly stir the most hopeful wildcatter.

PROMISING FIELD

Now, Bald Mountain is among the companies that have flocked to the promising Pointe Du Lac field eight miles east of Trois-Rivières—easily the most impressive yet explored in a century.

Nineteen wells have been drilled there since April and 13 have been found capable of producing a total of more than 120,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas daily.

The figures are impressive, but the life span of the field is still unknown. It might peter out as a hundred others have.

Natural gas is being found in a 30-foot-thick belt of glacial sand and gravel 225 feet beneath the ground surface. This has prompted geologists to peg the field as modest unless it is found that the gas springs from deeper levels through faults—or cracks—in the bedrock.

"Discoveries so far should be sufficient to supply at least 100,000 cubic feet of gas a day," says a company spokesman.

says Natural Resources Minister Rene Levesque.

The major work has been done so far in a 60,000-acre concession held jointly by Laduboro Oil Ltd. and Vercheres Ore - Oil Ltd., two small companies financed almost entirely by Quebec businessmen.

GAS UNDER LAKE

Laduboro and Vercheres have invested about $125,000 in the field so far, completing 12 of 17 wells successfully at an average cost of $3,000.

Laduboro says it is having more success as it drills north from its first wells near the shore of Lake St. Peter, a broad stretch of the St. Lawrence.

Bald Mountain, with a concession that is mostly covered by the lake's shallow waters, says it has "good evidence" the largest portion of the field is under the lake.

Drilled into the bottom through a causeway built out from the shore, Bald Mountain's No. 6 well had to be sealed off late in October after blowing wild for 24 hours. Estimates were that between 10,000,000 and 50,000,000 cubic feet of gas were thundering into the air daily from the runaway.

Bald Mountain's partner New Associated Drilling Ltd., plans to keep drilling on the lake through the winter.

LOW DRILLING COST

Laduboro president Henri Dubord says low drilling costs, nearby markets and sweet, dry gas that needs no processing are a combination that would mean tremendous profit on any sales.

Well-head cost of the gas is only two or three cents for 1,000 cubic feet. Mr. Dubord says one day's sales from a well producing 10,000,000 cubic feet daily would pay its drilling cost. Laduboro also sees the shallow field as a possible storage place for Alberta gas marketed in the Montreal area. More than 18½ billion cubic feet of western gas was sold there in the year ending June 30, 1961.

But the companies plan to Canada has best collection of war pictures

LONDON (CP) — The Evening Standard says Canada has the finest collection of war pictures in the world.

It makes this comment in recalling that Augustus John, celebrated British painter who died last Oct. 31 at the age of 83, was one of the "remarkable" team of painters and photographers chosen by the Canadian government to record Canada's contribution to the First World War.

John joined the Canadian Expeditionary Force in France with rank of major. One of his works, depicting Canadian troops marching behind the lines, was not finished and is believed to be still lying in his studio.

Another painting showing three Canadian soldiers lighting cigarettes is in the Imperial War Museum.

WATERLOO —

Mrs. A. F. Robinson, Mrs. A. J. Buckland, Mrs. William Venters and Mrs. Orval Lewis attended a coffee party at 11:00 a.m. at the home of Mrs. M. Bancroft in West Shefford. Approximately 50 ladies from West Shefford, Sutton, Granby, Waterloo, Knowlton, Cowansville and Sweetsburg enjoyed a social hour.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Moysey were called to Sutton early Monday morning to assist their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Vance Johnson, whose home was completely destroyed by fire.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Chapman were Mr. Robert Smith of Lachine, Miss Shirley Emley, Montreal, and Miss Linda Mount, Bromfield, Mass., and Mrs. Amy Brown of Foster.

Mr. Tenny Hall and his mother, Mrs. C. G. Hall, of Montreal, spent the weekend in Waterloo.

Mrs. Mary Dix, of Mansonville, was guest of Mrs. Hazel Hoopery for the weekend and attended the Armistice banquet.

Mrs. John Layne and two children returned home to Burlington, Ont., after spending two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Moysey.

Mr. O. P. Quilliams took Mr. Frank Bingham to the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital in Sherbrooke on Monday, where he will remain for treatment.

Recent guests of Mrs. Goldie Hollenbeck were Mr. and Mrs. Marco of Richford, Vt.

conduct a deep-drilling program once the limits of the present field are defined in hopes of making the "big, big strike."

Geological consultant J. C. Sproule of Calgary has recommended the deeper search. "We are reasonably certain, from the traces of liquid petroleum gas that show up in an analysis of these gases, that the (shallow) gas has come up from bedrock," he says.

Get professionals to do the job

"Let George do it" is rapidly becoming the rallying cry of householders through the land.

And when George is the local building contractor, it's a darn smart move.

Do-it-yourself is a fine old tradition, and there's not a word against it — in its proper place. There's plenty of room for self-help in home improvement, too.

But for a good many jobs, the only smart thing is to whistle for the first team — the professional building contractor.

He's the man who carries the ball from home owner's pipe-dream to smooth-running performance. And he handles a lot of important details like permits and building code compliance on the way. Most important of all, however, his experience and knowledge can prevent costly mistakes.

It's his job to know local regulations, material availability and labor. Keeping one trade waiting while another finishes up can be costly; delays because materials haven't arrived can be just as expensive. When a contractor is handling the job, such extra costs come out of his pocket, so he takes good care they don't happen.

SAFETY AND HEALTH
Many home improvement prospects involve serious problems of safety and health. There are very few laymen, no matter how expert who really have the knowledge to deal with these problems. The protection a skilled contractor automatically builds into his jobs just can't be measured in terms of these pitfalls, since he guarantees that all work will pass the most rigid inspection.

The old joke about the man who painted himself into a corner is still a cartoonist's staple, but it's nothing to troubles tyro home improvers really get into.

The complexity of modern life doesn't stop at the front door mat; the knowledge needed to select and install the right materials and equipment from the myriads available is, quite literally, a life study. And acquiring this knowledge is how the contractor spends a good part of his days — and nights, too.

SMOOTH-WORKING TEAM

Finding the variety of specialists needed on a home improvement project and then organizing them into a smooth-working team is a full-time job, and one that requires a lot of experience. Here, too, the expert contractor can achieve major savings in time, temper and money.

There's still another advantage to dealing with a contractor, and one of prime importance. Many jobs around the house sound simple enough when they are in the talking stage, but turn out to be well-nigh impossible in the doing phase.

H. and S. meets at Ayer's Cliff

AYER'S CLIFF—The monthly meeting of the Ayer's Cliff and District Home and School Association was held on Nov. 9, with Gerald Lunderborg presiding.

Mrs. A. Scott, the representative of the Regional Council, informed the members of the different meetings which she has attended during the year, one of them being the provincial conference held at Macdonald College.

Mrs. Little gave an outline on what took place at the recent Regional Council meeting in North Hatley.

Mr. Lafond showed slides and gave an interesting commentary on his recent trip to New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. Mr. Langley also entertained the group with slides taken during the Students' Council trip to Ottawa last spring.

Following the meeting the members were served coffee in the school cafeteria.

dollars and cents.

Every community has regulations covering the various phases of construction. Failure to comply with local ordinances can mean trouble, even costly fines. And many a well-intentioned amateur has unwittingly voided his valuable insurance coverage by violating the pertinent codes. Turning the job over to a contractor bypasses

CLEANING CHORES
SO SIMPLE AND EASY

You'll find the oft postponed chore of range cleaning simple and speedy. One feature alone, the removable burner elements, porcelain drip pans and rings will save many a range cleaning chore. For a thorough overall cleaning job you can quickly remove RACK GUIDES, OVEN BOTTOM, BROILER SHIELDS.

"POWER-RACK" — A
FIESTA EXCLUSIVE

Now it's finger-tip easy to adjust the height of your meat from the broiler with the exclusive new "Power Rack". Simply press the key marked your desired cooking height as you watch through the picture window oven door. Height readjustment during the cooking cycle is equally simple.

ONLY FIESTA HAS
THIS WARMING SHELF

Here's an exclusive Moffat Fiesta feature you'll really enjoy—a warming shelf with its own electric element, switch and pilot light. Thermostatically controlled to safeguard your finest china — wide enough for dinner plates rugged enough to take hot pans right off the burner.

ALL CONTROLS AT HANDY ARM HEIGHT

You don't have to reach over a hot oven door to get at the clock, or oven and burner controls. All switch knobs are clearly marked and positioned to indicate readily which of the four elements they control — no confusion here, ever—and they're out of the way of dulling oven fumes, unlike many ranges.

Do it now campaign concerns you

It seems to be the fate of many important national campaigns that they tend to "die out" at the local level. This is unfortunate, but in many ways not surprising. There are so many appeals for help nowadays that it is understandable that we pass some of them by.

An appeal to help 50,000 people in some far off land hasn't the impact of an appeal to assist just a few persons right here in our own community.

It is this fact that makes the local aspect of the "Do It Now" Winter Employment Campaign so important because, although what you do may have some bearing on Canada's economy, even more important still, it is here in our community depends apt to have a direct effect on the livelihood of your friend down the street.

Governments at all levels, national organizations and businessmen all contribute to the success of the "Do It Now" campaign, but its ultimate success depends on you.

As a householder you can arrange to have all types of inside work, such as renovation, decoration, repairs, and other maintenance work around your home done during the winter months, including tune up of lawnmowers and outboard motors, dry cleaning, etc.

As a member of a business organization you can recommend that your firm arrange for construction and maintenance work to be done in the winter, plan the production and stockpiling of standard products during the winter months, organize special campaign and discounts to encourage winter work, and encourage the use of annual vacations in the off-season and the training of personnel in winter instead of summer.

As a member of a service club, church or other community organization you can urge your group to schedule and construction, repairs or decoration.

LOOK HONEY, I'm not a gal who demands a lot... but if you want me, you had better fix up that castle in the country with an ARTESIAN WELL and Fairbanks-Morse Pumping System! The people to call are —

Building snack bar is an excellent project

Basically, it's the spirit of the hosts, the food they serve, and the guests they gather that make a party a success. However, having an attractive and practical means for serving a crowd makes things run a lot more smoothly and adds to the fun—and a snack bar is a big help.

Lumber and lumber paneling are an excellent choice of material for building a snack bar, because they will go with virtually any decorative scheme. And a snack bar makes an excellent addition to a family room, basement game room, or kitchen where it is also ideal for family breakfasts.

It can even be an addition to the patio where, if it is treated to withstand the weather and given some overhead protection, it will help parties to "go" outdoors.

A good, economical softwood—such as one of the 11 species that grow in the western pine region—is ideal for this use.

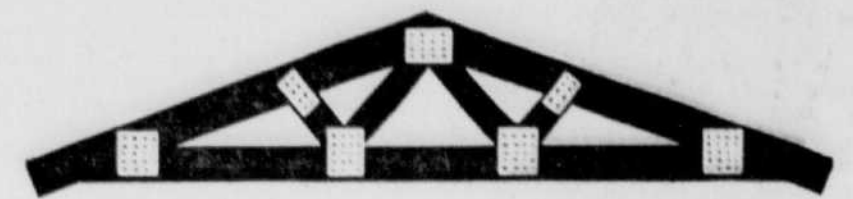

The choice of lumber naturally is affected by the atmosphere a family may wish to create. Some people prefer an informal and might select incense cedar or inland red cedar in a rough-sawn, knotty grade. Others might want a lighter wood and choose spruce or Idaho white pine, both of which are light in color.

For a more formal setting, preference might run to a clear grade of lumber. In this case it would pay to check on the availability of larch or sugar pine, both of which have fine, beautiful grains. However, the presence of knots does not necessarily imply informality.

Engelmann spruce, for example, has small, tight knots that lend this wood to sophisticated room treatments.
