FRENCH MAKE FRESH GAINS NORTH AND SOUTH OF SOMME RUMANIANS HALT TEUTONS

The Village Of Saily-Saillisee Is Entirely In The Hands Of French Troops—Rumanians Repulse Attacks Along Their Border—Greece Still Center Of Interest And Situation Is Tense

Apparently the Rumanians have been successful, for the time being at least, in stopping the advance of the Teutonic Allies all along their border. At no point along the line is the claim made by either Berlin or Vienna of fresh successes against the Rumanians, while on the other hand the Bucharest War Office asserts that the troops of King Ferdinand at various points have repulsed the attacks of the Teutonic Allies, inflicting heavy losses on them and capturing numbers of their officers and men.

Violent fighting is still in progress in Galicia, where on the Narayuvka front the Bavarians have stormed a Russian position and captured 350 men and twelve machine guns. Berlin asserts that to the west of Lutsk in Volhynia, following the repulse of the Russians, the troops of Emperor Nicholas have not returned to the fray and are merely bombarding the Teutonic positions. The repulse of Austro-German attacks in the Carpathians, where snow is now falling, is recorded by Petrograd.

Both north and south of the Somme the French troops have made fresh gains. The village of Saily-Saillisee is now entirely in their hands and the Germans have been driven from the hills north-west and north-east. Over a front of a mile south of the river, between La Maisonnette and Biaches, the German first line defenses have been driven back by the French.

To the east of Thiepval gains by the British north of Gueudecourt and in the region of Butte De Warlencourt war recorded by the London War Office.

Patrol encounters and bombardments feature the fighting in Macedonia.

In the Austro-Italian theatre the Italians are another step forward in their advance in Trentino, having broken the Austrian line between Cosmagno and Roite and also taken a commanding position on Mount Pasubio.

Greece still remains a centre of interest as the result of the landing of Entente Allied marines at Piraeus and Athens. Fresh demonstrations of bitterness by the Greek populace against the marines have been shown and the situation still remains tense. An appeal drawn up at a meeting of Greeks at Athens has been handed to the American Minister for transmission to Washington. It asks the American people "to avert the subjugation of those who desire only to remain free."

NORWEGIAN CREWS SUFFER.

London, Oct. 18.—Crews of certain Norwegian vessels, torpedoed by German submarines, were placed in small boats and endured dreadful sufferings before reaching land, says a Bergen despatch to the Copenhagen Politiken transmitted by the Exchange Telegraph Company. Four men were frozen to death, and a Norwegian mate died on his arrival at Alexandrovsk, near Archangel.

NEWS FROM RUMANIA GOOD.

London, Oct. 18.—Today's news from Rumania is regarded by the British commentators as reassuring. With the help of Russia, which is credited with sending formidable reinforcements to the frontiers, the offensive has been vigorously renewed by the Rumanians.

Austro-German attacks in the passes have been generally repulsed, and Bucharest reports speak of the pursuit of the Teutonic allies, particularly in the Predeal region, where the crucial struggle of the present moment is proceeding.

Tuesday's Bucharest communication admitted that the Rumanian troops had been repulsed on Mateias Hill, which is 12 miles within Rumanian territory in the Torzburg Pass region, but the British military experts believe that if fortune favors the Rumanians in the Predeal district, the invading force at Mateias may find its position precarious. In the Gyimes Pass, where the Austro-Germans have reached Agas, seven miles within the frontier, fighting is still going on.

BRITISH STATEMENT.

London, Oct. 18.—The official bulletin from British headquarters in France issued tonight reads:

"An attack this morning extended our front north of Gueudecourt and towards Butte De Warlencourt. So far, over 150 prisoners have been reported.

"Yesterday, besides many reconnaissances, our aircraft carried out three bombing raids against enemy communications, in which railway stock and station building were damaged. A train was hit and derailed.

"There were many fights in the air, in the course of which four enemy machines were driven down damaged; one fell into a lake. Four of our machines have not returned."

FRENCH STATEMENT.

Paris, Oct. 18, via London, Oct. 19, 12.20 a.m.—The official communication issued by the War Office tonight reads:

"North of the Somme we completed the conquest of the village of Saily-Saillisee and drove the enemy from the ridges north-west and north-east of the village.

"South of the Somme the first German line was carried with a rush on the whole front between La Maisonnette and Biaches.

"In these two attacks we took 250 prisoners including five officers, and also several machine guns.

"On the remainder of the front the usual artillery actions occurred.

"Despite misty weather our aviators were active throughout Tuesday. Three enemy aeroplanes were brought down on the Somme front—one near Aizecourt, a second west of Bouchavesnes and the third between Rocquigny and Le Transloy. The last mentioned was brought down by Lieut. Heurteux, bringing his total to nine.

"One of our aviators, attacked by three Fokkers between Roye and Lassigny, drove down one of his adversaries and put the other two to flight.

"On the right bank of the Vardar river (Macedonia) we took enemy trenches to a depth of 400 feet. The Serbians continued their progress on the north-west slopes of Dobropoloye. There has been rifle firing and cannonading on the plains of Monastir. Some Turkish contingents have arrived on the lower Struma."

GREECE IS STILL SCENE OF UNREST

TROUBLE BETWEEN ENTENTE ALLIES AND NATIVES STILL CONTINUES.

Athens, Oct. 18, via London.—A French marine patrol last evening arrested at the point of the bayonet seven youths who were hooting the Entente powers. A huge crowd gathered for the purpose of rescuing them. The Greek military commander in Athens called out troops who charged and dispersed the crowd. Greek patrols were immediately placed in various districts to control any attempts at anti-Entente manifestations.

French Admiral in command informed the Premier that he would call at the Ministry in morning, although it is thought possible that as a result of the British minister's audience with King Constantine the French troops may be withdrawn on a pledge that the Greeks maintain order.

It is known that the King has given command that anti-Entente demonstrations must cease, as the very existence of Greece is at stake. It is difficult to say, however, whether, in the present state of public opinion over the presence of marines of the foreign powers at Athens and Piraeus, even the King's orders will be obeyed by the excited populace.

London, Oct. 18.—"The British Minister to Greece had a long interview with King Constantine this evening," says a Reuter despatch from Athens under date of Tuesday, "and it is understood His Majesty insisted on the groundlessness of the suspicion that Greece contemplated an attack on the forces of General Sarrail. As proof of his good faith the King is said to have declared his readiness to withdraw the Greek forces from Larissa."

The Weather

Toronto, Oct. 18.—The weather is unseasonably cold throughout the Dominion except in British Columbia, where it is fine and warm. A disturbance now moving northward from the Gulf of Mexico will probably cause gales on the Great Lakes.

WILL ASK ALLIES TO EASE PRESSURE ON THE GREEKS

KING CONSTANTINE HAS GREATLY GAINED IN FAVOR LATELY.

Athens, Oct. 17, via London, Oct. 18.—Mr. Droppers American Consul said today that he would forward to Washington the petition for protection of Greece from the pressure of the Entente. He expressed the opinion that the demonstration and appeal to America were due to the reports of the coming of an American fleet.

The action of King Constantine yesterday morning in dismissing all guards during his address to the Greek sailors and in riding alone and unprotected through the crowd pressing about him and touching the sovereign and his horse, appeared to inspire the almost fanatical devotion of the populace. In addition to this the events of yesterday evening, including the seizure of three Greek battleships, which is not yet known generally presage possibilities of trouble. The city is being policed by Greek cavalry.

HODGINS WILL SECOND ADDRESS

ENGLISH LIBERAL ORGAN IS APPARENTLY BARKING UP WRONG TREE.

The announcement of the Quebec English Liberal organ that Mr. Madden, of Quebec West, will second the address at the opening of the approaching session of the Legislature, may be taken with the proverbial grain of salt.

Unless a change is made in the meanwhile, the seconder is likely to be Mr. William Hodgins, of Portage-du-Fort, the Liberal M.L.A., for Pontiac, who defeated Mr. Campbell in the last Provincial election.

EXPECTS DECISION ON WESTERN FRONT

GENERAL MARCHAND SAYS ALLIES WILL STRIKE FINAL BLOW THERE.

With the French armies in France, from a staff correspondent of the Associated Press, via Paris, Oct. 18.—Far down in the dugout, Brigadier General Marchand today expressed to The Associated Press his opinion that the war would be decided on the western front whenever the Entente Allies saw fit to strike the final blow. The general said the decision must be fought out on this side sooner or later, and that while he was not a prophet and could not see into the future, the Allies certainly had the upperhand now and would not get cut out of touch with the Germans, who, judging from their movements, are worried.

General Marchand long ago, as he himself puts it, had the honor of being a "little adversary" of the late Earl Kitchener in Africa, but afterwards became one of Kitchener's greatest admirers. He spoke of Earl Kitchener's organizing skill with admiration and when the Field Marshal's death was mentioned was deeply moved. At present General Marchand has under his orders a division composed of some of the most daring troops in the French army. Since he recovered from his wound he and his men have achieved high distinction on various sections of the front. Their only desire is to be used even more than they are. General Marchand says he has a difficult task to keep his men back.

Many of the men fought with General Marchand in Africa, when, as he told the correspondent, a victory in a fight meant an advance of at least a thousand kilometers, whereas in the present war an advance of a couple of miles meant a great victory. Said General Marchand today in speaking to his men:

"We are obliged to restrain our men, so as to keep in line with the rest of the army at the front. Any section of the army could make a dash in advance almost any time, but that would spoil our general plan."

Asked what was the principal lesson learned in this war, General Marchand replied:

"Formerly an army which occupied the heights was supposed to have the advantage. We have learned from the experience of trench war that the force down below has the upperhand since it can shell the enemy out of his trenches above while the opposing artillery can with difficulty bombard trenches below it."

LINEMAN ELECTROCUTED

Toronto, Oct. 18.—Albert Moore, 30 Argyl street, a lineman in the employ of the Toronto Electric Light Company, was electrocuted at the Grand Trunk crossing, Queen street east, this afternoon, by coming in contact with a high power wire. Immediately his clothes burst into flames while his belt still held him at the top of the pole. Before the body could be taken down it was necessary for firemen to play the hose on it. The fireman who was operating the hose received a severe shock.

Maud Williamson plays her stepmother, a scheming, vicious woman, who abuses even her own children and makes Crystal's existence unbearable. Major Winnington Barnes plays Jude Transom, a brutish man with sufficient craftiness to conceal his real character when it suits his own ends. Henry Edwards plays Gideon Midhurst, straight-forward and ambitious, but for the welfare of others rather than for himself. A CRICKET STORY.

Canon Lyttelton, Eaton's headmaster, who is retiring in favor of the Rev. C. A. Alington, and a famous cricketer in his early days, was once addressing a fashionable audience on the subject of the unnecessary luxury of the modern boy's life.

"Even cricket," he remarked, "has become largely a society function, with elaborate luncheons and high teas"; and he went on to say that this sort of thing always reminded him of the gamekeeper who didn't know much about cricket, but who was hastily chosen into a side to supply a vacancy.

When the match was over a friend said to him:

"Well, Bill, how do you like cricket?"

"Oh," he replied, "I liked it well enough, all except the running about between meals."

IRISH QUESTION AGAIN AIRED IN PARLIAMENT

PRESENT SYSTEM OF GOVERNMENT IS INCONSISTENT WITH PRINCIPLES FOR WHICH ALLIES ARE FIGHTING, SAYS MR. JOHN REDMOND.

London, Oct. 18.—11 a.m.—The Irish question was again brought to the fore in the House of Commons today with the introduction by John Redmond of a motion criticising the system of government of the island.

"That the system of government at present maintained in Ireland is inconsistent with the principles whereof the allies are fighting in Europe, and is, or has been, mainly responsible for the recent unhappy events and for the present state of feeling in that country."

Since Mr. Redmond gave notice of his intention to attack the government, the Irish leaders have had a number of conferences with Baron Wimborne, Lord-Lieut. of Ireland, but these probably had more to do with the suggestion of extension of conscription to Ireland than with the grievances arising from continuance of martial law and the failure to release all those arrested during the uprising in Ireland last spring.

Unionist Amendment. John Rawlinson, Unionist member for Cambridge University moved as an amendment to the Redmond motion the following:

"Having regard for the importance of the United Kingdom and Ireland combining with the rest of the empire in presenting a united front to the enemy, it is not desirable at the present time to discuss controversial matters of domestic politics."

Mr. Redmond moved his resolution in the presence of a crowded house. Among those in the gallery were Baron Wimborne, the Lord Lieutenant, Baron Charles Beresford, Baron Pirrie and Baron Stanfordham, King George's private secretary.

Change in Spirit. The Irish leader said it was undeniable that the situation in Ireland was full of menace and danger, and he contrasted this state of affairs with the genuine enthusiasm for the Allies in Ireland at the beginning of the war. He proceeded to review the situation in detail.

"The whole situation can only be met by bodily grappling with the Irish situation," continued Mr. Redmond. "So long as the present state of government exists in Ireland, so long will the present excited and irritated public feeling exist; so long as the Irish people see that England, fighting for the rights of small nationalities in Europe is maintaining by martial law the Unionist government against the will of the people of Ireland, no real improvement can be hoped for."

Against Martial Law. "Let the government withdraw martial law, and put in command of the forces in Ireland a man who has not been connected with the unhappy transactions of the past. Let the administration of the Defense of the Realm Act be as stringent as they like, but animated by the same spirit and carried into effect by the same machinery as in Great Britain. Let the 500 untried prisoners be released. Let the penal servitude prisoners be treated as political prisoners, and above all let the government take courage in its own hands and trust the Irish people once and for all by putting the Home Rule Act in operation, and resolutely and on its own responsibility face any problems which that might entail."

Mr. Redmond declared that present conditions were injuriously affecting the British cause throughout America and the Dominions especially, at the present moment, in Australia. As one who had honestly done his best and who was prepared to continue honestly to do his best to win the war, no matter what the risks to his own popularity and influence might be, he begged the government to harken seriously to his warning advice.

Mr. Redmond said the situation was full of menace to the hopes and aspiration of Ireland and to a good understanding between Great Britain and Ireland and full of menace to the highest interests of the Empire at the present moment.

"My object is to allay, not to inflame, feeling, and to show how it is possible to save the situation," he continued. "I do not want to make a party speech and accordingly start my survey with the outbreak of the war."

Thwarted and Snubbed. "From the very first the efforts of the Nationalist leaders were thwarted and snubbed, and looking back I am amazed at the success which under the circumstances attended their efforts. Ireland had 157,000 men in the army, of whom 92,000 were Catholics, and 10,000 in the navy. Thirty thousand Nationalist volunteers had enlisted, and if it had not been for distrust of Ireland in the early phases of the war the number of volunteers would have been trebled."

The Nationalist leader complained that the delay in putting the Home Rule Bill on the statute book gave the opponents in Ireland an opportunity of saying that they were about to be cheated in their trade. The promise made by Premier Asquith as to the creation of an Irish army corps also had never been fulfilled, he said.

Systematically Thwarted. The difficult task of the Nationalists to popularize the army had been systematically thwarted, Mr. Redmond continued. The new National University was not allowed to organize an officers' training corps, while a number of privileges had been granted Trinity University. He complained generally of the unsympathetic attitude of the War Office in regard to various measures suggested to popularize recruiting in Ireland. Changes were made but too late, he declared.

Taking each thing individually, he went on, the effect was small, but cumulatively the effect was enormous and the undoubted enthusiasm at the beginning of the war began to die away.

The Final Blow. The final blow came in the formation of the coalition government, the speaker declared. From that day recruiting for the army had diminished and recruiting of the Sinn Féin increased. From that day things went from bad to worse and finally came the rebellion.

Cites South Africa. "I am profoundly convinced that if the rising had been dealt with in the spirit with which Premier Botha dealt with the rising in South Africa it would have meant the saving of the situation," Mr. Redmond went on. "Ireland was denounced because a couple of thousand men had attempted this mad rebellion—Ireland, who had not been trusted like South Africa; Ireland, who had not had ten years experience with free institutions, like South Africa."

Mr. Redmond asked what was the purpose of the government in setting up a Unionist administration in Dublin and what they proposed to do. Had the new Chief Secretary found a solution? Was it proposed to maintain martial law? He said he would do everything possible to maintain the Irish regiments at their full strength, but it was no use asking him to do the impossible. It was the duty of the Empire to remove all that made for bad faith and bad management and settle Ireland on a basis of freedom and responsibility. Compulsion, he declared, would only aggravate the difficulty, and he asked that the Irish recruits enlisted in the United Kingdom should be sent to Irish regiments.

Mr. Duke Replies. Henry Edward Duke, the Chief Secretary of Ireland, replying to Mr. Redmond, said he recognized that underlying Mr. Redmond's speech was a profound desire that Ireland should play a part worthy of the highest traditions of her countrymen in this great struggle. The real question, he continued, with which this country and Ireland were confronted was whether when Great Britain was fighting for her existence, Ireland, from one cause or another, should stand aside. Those grounds of criticism which referred to mistakes and recruiting mismanagement were capable of remedy, he added, and Mr. Lloyd-George, the Secretary of War, was particularly qualified to deal with them.

Mr. Duke said that 500 men still interned for participation in the Irish uprising were ringleaders and he asked:—"Do the Nationalists desire 500 trials for treason with the consequences which would follow?" The time had not come, he continued, when many of the interned men could safely be allowed to return to the countryside, but men who made application and who had been able to offer security were being released. There must be some restraint, he insisted, upon men from the southwest who took part in or sympathized with the rebellion and who had not abandoned what he characterized as their foolish ambition, and if nothing better could be devised martial law would have to be continued.

Not Local Rising. The rising in Dublin, Mr. Duke declared, could not be regarded as a local happening and it was impossible for the government to accept the prescriptions of Mr. Redmond. The Secretary said he sympathized with the Nationalists' disappointment in the application of the Home Rule Act, but declared that the real obstacle was the disagreement among Irishmen themselves, and for that the British system of administration could not be blamed. He pleaded strongly for a voluntary settlement of the Irish problem.

In regard to martial law, the government must bide its time, he added. It must withdraw every restriction as soon as possible, but its paramount duty was to secure to every law abiding subject of Ireland protection by every means at its command."

T. P. O'Connor Replies. T. P. O'Connor said that Secretary Duke's speech simply meant coercion, more coercion and still more coercion, but the whole history of Ireland proved that coercion was useless. The present administration of Ireland, Mr. O'Connor asserted, was incompatible with the principles for which the Entente Allies are fighting. The government, he said, could not enter with clean hands the peace which he prayed and believed would follow the Entente victory, unless Ireland was pacified.

Moves Amendment. After Mr. O'Connor had spoken, John F. P. Rawlinson, Unionist for Cambridge University, moved amendment to Mr. Redmond's motion as follows: "Having regard for the importance to the United Kingdom of Ireland combining with the rest of the Empire in presenting a united front to the enemy, it is not desirable at the present time to discuss controversial matters of domestic policy."

Sir John Simon, the former Home Secretary, contended that the continuance of martial law in Ireland was needless. Its removal, he said, would assuage the bitter and dangerous feelings.

Premier Praises Redmond. John Norton Griffith, Unionist, having expressed the opinion that it would be impracticable to attempt to apply conscription in Ireland, Premier Asquith, rising, admitted that there had been a regrettable mistake and blunder in recruiting in the early stages and said that Mr. Redmond's suggestions for filling up with Irishmen the wasted ranks of the gallant Irish division would receive the most careful and sympathetic attention. No man had rendered more constant, loyal or effective service in recruiting, he declared, than the Irish leader.

Repudiating the allegation that Dublin Castle was being run by a Unionist administration, the Premier said it must be remembered that they were dealing with a provisional and, he hoped, a transitory situation. Martial law in the commonly accepted sense was not being applied to Ireland, and if the dissidents could be secured by pacific means nobody would be more anxious to adopt them than the government. He did not consider it safe, in view of the possible recurrence of recent events, to disperse with the existing safeguards, but the government was desirous at the earliest possible moment to revert to normal conditions.

The Irish Prisoners. Turning to the question of the Irish prisoners some stormy passages occurred. Mr. Asquith promised that those detained should be liberated at the moment it was considered safe to do so.

The Nationalist member Alfred Byrne, representing a division of Dublin, shouted:—"They are starving."

Timothy Healy Speaks. Any complaints brought to the notice of the Home Secretary said Mr. Asquith, would receive immediate attention. Timothy Healy interrupted saying: "He is the hardest hearted gaoler we ever have."

"The Honorable Gentleman," replied the Premier, "knows that that description is not applicable to the Home Secretary. Let him produce his facts."

Mr. Healy shouted: "It is idle to do so. Let the American Ambassador visit the prison."

"If the American Ambassador will give himself the trouble," responded the Premier, "I shall be most happy. I take nothing back of what I said on my return from my visit to Ireland with regard to the impossibility of forcibly imposing on any part of Ireland a form of government lacking their consent."

Nationalists cries of: "What are you doing now?" In conclusion the Premier said that the atmosphere now existing in Ireland could only be dispersed by an agreed settlement. He believed there was no party, no sane politician in Great Britain, who would not welcome with joy such an agreement and co-operate whole-heartedly therein, and he prayed it might be soon reached.

The Premier's speech was received with manifest signs of disapproval by the Nationalists. Joseph Devlin, Nationalist for West Belfast, regretted that he was unable to congratulate the Prime Minister on a single suggestion toward solving the Irish problem or a single word of sympathy with those endeavoring to

PRESBYTERIANS OF ANTI-UNION SIDE

REV. DR. SCOTT ADDRESSES SESSION ON "THE PRESENT CRISIS."

Toronto, Oct. 18.—Rev. Dr. E. Scott gave an address before the Presbyterian Anti-Union Convocation on "The present crisis," at a largely attended session today. The movement for church union, he said, was one arising largely among college and university officials who for purposes of their own, would lead the church where they wished. The question was whether the great Presbyterian church will tolerate the machinations of these men who would hand it over to an ecclesiastical combine. The speaker intimated that the official publication of the church was largely the tool of those who were agitating for union. In the discussion which followed Mr. George F. MacDonald, of Ottawa, suggested that a committee be formed to take legal steps even carrying the matter to the Privy Council if necessary, to prevent anyone using the name of the present Presbyterian church in any application to Parliament.

Rev. Samuel Lundy, of Qu'Appelle, denied that the people west of Winnipeg wanted union. At the afternoon session a recommendation of the publications committee favoring the establishment of a weekly organ representing the Presbyterian church was referred to the nominating committee after several speakers had endorsed the proposal.

Rev. W. G. Brown then in a paper dealing with the financial needs of the church in face of the coming change set out a scheme that all ministers in country or city get the same base rate of salary and that any differences be made up by voluntarily contributions in the churches. After discussion this subject was referred to a committee.

preserve the constitutional movement in Ireland.

The government had handed over Irish affairs to Lord Lansdowne, Major Price and the editor of the Morning Post, and he suggested that that triumvirate should take over the work of recruiting in Ireland and see whether they would succeed. The government could get all the men it wanted in Ireland, he declared, if Home Rule were granted.

Lloyd George's Opinion. David Lloyd-George, Secretary for War, said:

"At the most crucial period of recruiting at the beginning of the war, some stupidities, which at times almost looked like malignance, were perpetrated in Ireland and were beyond belief. It is very difficult to recover a lost opportunity of that kind, where national susceptibilities have been offended and original enthusiasm killed."

Every effort, he continued was being made to keep Irishmen in Irish regiments, and only in cases of military emergency were Irishmen drafted into non-Irish regiments. He was sorry to say that some of the Irish battalions of English regiments had ceased to be Irish in character.

The total number of recruits from Ireland since the beginning of the war, said the War Secretary, was 105,000, or two and a half per cent of the population, which was very low compared with the remainder of the United Kingdom and the Dominions.

Looking at the urgency of the military problem he hoped that the men of all parties would help Mr. Redmond to their utmost to solve his difficulties and create a better atmosphere in Ireland with regard to recruiting. He desired to see this gallant and warlike people brought back to their original temper at the outbreak of the war. Everybody in England and the men of all parties in Ireland should consider how to remove the causes of injustice, distrust, and suspicion between the two races which rendered it impossible for them to co-operate.

"I believe it can be done," said the Secretary. "Before beginning any controversy about recruiting in Ireland, I should like to see that considered. I am making this appeal as Secretary of War because I know how vital it is that everything the Empire can do in every quarter should be summoned to our aid in this great struggle. Let us make it easy for Ireland to assist. Let everybody in Great Britain subordinate everything to securing the assistance of this great race. And I make the same appeal to Ireland."

Mr. Redmond's motion was defeated 303 to 106.

BURIAL OF CORPSES. Berlin, Oct. 18, by wireless to Sayville, N.Y.—"The attitude of British soldiers towards enemy dead," says the Overseas News Agency, "is illustrated by the following order of the commander of the second Canadian Division: "Secret. Second Canadian Division, Fifth Infantry Brigade.

"The commander saw in the foremost lines a considerable number of unburied corpses, many of which must have been lying there before the occupation of the position by the Canadian corps. The corps commander requires from every division in the

INTERVIEW WITH MADME. GUILBERT

THIS WELL-KNOWN ARTISTE HAS SPENT FOURTEEN MONTHS IN WAR ZONE.

Madame Yvette Guilbert, who has been called by the critics "the supreme genius of song interpretation" was interviewed last night at the Chateau Frontenac by a Chronicle representative, to whom she expressed her pleasure at being in Quebec once more. Notwithstanding the high position she occupies in theatrical circles, Madame Guilbert would not say anything regarding her professional work. However, when questioned regarding the war in France she gave some particulars of the work in which she was interested.

Madame Guilbert said she had instituted in Paris the "Buffet Theatral," which was organized with the object of providing and caring for the orphans of artists who had fallen on the field of honor, and they have been many.

Another work she is interested in, and which Madame Guilbert instituted herself with the aid of several prominent French people is the collection of clothes from the society people. These are given to poor young artists who have not the means to supply themselves with the necessary costumes.

Madame Guilbert was in France during the first fourteen months of war. She sang in the hospitals and trenches and everywhere she could for the benefit of the soldiers. Whilst in America she is continuing her good work by sending over contributions to these deserving charities.

This well-known artist appears at the Auditorium tonight and will no doubt be greeted by a large audience.

C.P.R. COMPROMISE SEEMS LIKELY NOW

ORDER OF TRAINMEN PRESIDENT CONCEDES POSSIBILITY OF AGREEMENT.

Winnipeg, Oct. 18.—Concessions which are said to go more than half way to meeting the demands of the conductors and trainmen of the Canadian Pacific Railway, were granted by Grant Hall, on behalf of the company at today's conference. The leaders of the men refused to comment on the proceedings of the conference, but the delegates freely discussed the new developments at their headquarters tonight, and from their remarks the above information was gleaned.

The chief commander orders that this be communicated to all ranks and that it must be accomplished, not only for reasons of humanity, but principally for hygienic reasons. Therefore, it is ordered that dead Germans also must be buried."

ITALIANS STORM AUSTRIAN LINES NORTH OF PASUBIO

STRONG REDOUBT CALLED THE "TOOTH OF PASUBIO" IS CARRIED BY ASSAULT—ENEMY ARE TAKEN AT CLOSE QUARTERS.

Rome, Oct. 18, via London.—Italian troops on Mount Pasubio, in the Trentino, yesterday broke the last Austro-Hungarian lines of resistance in the region between Cosmagnon and Roite, says the Italian official statement issued today, and stormed the Austrian lines north of the summit of Pasubio. The text of the statement reads:

"On Mount Pasubio after breaking the last resistance in the region between Cosmagnon and Roite our troops yesterday stormed the enemy lines north of the summit.

"Following an effective artillery preparation the strong redoubt which the Austrians had built on a commanding position called the "Tooth of Pasubio" was carried by assault. Seventy-two prisoners and a quantity of arms and ammunition were taken.

"Two strong enemy columns which moved to the counter attack were allowed to advance within a few hundred yards of our lines when they suddenly found themselves under the concentrated fire of our batteries and were almost destroyed. During the night the enemy attempted further attacks, all of which were driven off with heavy losses.

"Along the remainder of the front only artillery actions took place, enemy batteries firing a few shells on Asiago (Trentino) and Gorizia."

GENERAL ELECTION NOT COMING YET

DATE FOR OPENING OF FEDERAL SESSION FIXED FOR JANUARY.

Toronto, Oct. 18.—That the date for opening the next session of the Federal parliament has been fixed for some time in January and that in the meantime a general election or a coalition government is not and will not be considered by the authorities at the capital was the statement made tonight by the Honorable Robert Rogers, Minister of Public Works, who spent part of today in the city.

FAREWELL DINNER TO DEVONSHIRE

GENERAL ROBERTSON GIVES GOOD ADVICE REGARDING THE WAR.

London, Oct. 19.—Lieut.-General Sir William R. Robertson, chief of the Imperial Staff at Army Headquarters, discussing the progress of the war last night at the Canada Club's farewell dinner to the Duke of Devonshire,

This "old natural balance" is simply Nature's perfect arrangement and proportioning of food elements in our food supply for perfect building of body, brain and nerves. ADVANTAGES OF FRENCH LANGUAGE

SIR JAMES GRANT WRITES LETTER TO LE DROIT OF OTTAWA.

Writing to Le Droit, Ottawa, Sir James Grant says: The Editor "Le Droit".

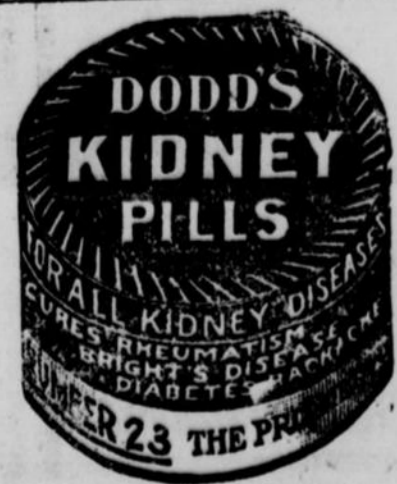

Dear Sir,—One of the most remarkable events in our history, is the effort now being made by leading men in Ontario, the Premier Province of Canada, to demonstrate beyond doubt, the true feeling of brotherly friendship towards the great French Nationality, which has contributed so greatly, in every line of action, towards the progress and prosperity of our Dominion. The French language is a chief factor of strength, unity and increased mental activity. For forty years I have had the honour of representing the French Catholic University of Ottawa in the Council of the College Physicians and Surgeons, Ontario, and have been president and Chief of Staff of the General Hospital (French and Catholic) for about the same period. Ottawa University holds a unique position as an educational institution. A large number of students are from the United States, chiefly to acquire a perfect knowledge of the French language. To this subject I have devoted careful investigation, and with what result? The graduates, in the Republic, have attained such renown, occupying the highest positions as lawyers, priests, physicians and even senators, the result of a high order of mental culture. In fact, what phosphates are to the soil in the production of our best grain, so the French language is to the brain cell in the development of the highest degree of intellectual power. The strongest lever of success in life, is a thorough knowledge of the French language, which should be encouraged in all our schools, from ocean to ocean, to strengthen the ties that unite us as a people."

Sincerely yours, J. A. GRANT.

who is to succeed the Duke of Connaught, as Governor-General of Canada, said:

"It took us two years to begin. We have got through the beginning stage and are now in the middle stage. Don't ask when the end will be. Let us centre our thoughts and efforts on the middle and the end will look after itself. The enemy can be beaten only in one way—by hard fighting."

QUEBEC, OCTOBER 19, 1916.

THE HEARST PAPERS.

On several occasions we have remonstrated because the anti-British Hearst papers were allowed to be sold in Canada. Recently the Postmaster-General, Hon. Mr. Casgrain explained the obstacles in the way of denying these journals the right of entry by the mails.

On the twelfth of this month, however, there appeared in the Boston American a most bitter, false and malicious article against England which should at once be brought to the notice of the Borden Cabinet. We are sure that it will furnish enough ground for action. It is entitled "England Tries to Restrict International News."

CANADA'S NEW GOVERNOR-GENERAL.

The Canadian Gazette, London, says: The Duke of Devonshire has touched a most responsive Canadian chord by his farewell speeches here. They are instinct with kindness, good taste and the earnest determination of an understanding English gentleman. In illustration take his speech on Monday at Leeds University, of which he is Chancellor. Referring to the new affinity between the peoples of Britain and Canada he said:

I know I take from England and from the University a message of cordial sympathy and good will to the people of Canada. The relationships between the two countries are now cemented for all time and hallowed and sanctified by the sacrifices which all have been called upon to make. A turning point in our history has now been reached. We either go forward or crumble up. We are not going to crumble up. This country today is stronger, not only in its individual parts, but as a whole. I go to a country of vast resources and with enormous opportunities, and a country which has already recognized the benefits of well-ordered and regular education from the lowest to the highest degree. I must honestly admit that I was never so surprised as when the suggestion was made to me that I should undertake the high and important position of Governor-General of Canada. The task is a hard one, and it is difficult for me to follow in the distinguished line of statesmen who have held this high office. It is especially difficult for me to follow in the footsteps of the man who has done so much both for the development of Canada and for the good relations which exist between Canada and the Mother Country—H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught. I can only trust that I shall have the power to carry out the duties of that great office in a worthy manner and bring into closer union the Mother Country and the great Dominion of Canada.

This is surely the speech of a man who is well qualified to fulfill that greatest of all functions of a Governor-General according to Lord Dufferin's dictum—namely, to oil the wheels of government by the use of tact, good judgment and wise sympathy.

SEEING IT THROUGH.

The true Britisher must remember that there is only one consideration requisite for success in this world's war, and that is to "Stay with it until the end." The glory of our men in the trenches is to keep on advancing, until victory crowns their efforts. Our munition workers, men and women, are working overtime, to supply the army with material. Financiers and collectors of Red Cross funds keep on obtaining money to carry on the war. Recruiting officers are busy filling up the serried ranks. We all have an objective, and should not let anything divert us from a final victory.

All are prone to consider that the end is in sight, and no further effort is necessary. The sooner we drive this feeling from our thoughts the better it will be for all concerned. The Germans were very optimistic, only two years ago. They considered that it was only necessary to turn loose their legions, and the world would be at their disposal. Two years of war brought them a proper realization of the difficulties to be surmounted, to attain an end that meant so much to others as well as to themselves.

We have taken up the cudgels, for emancipation from Prussianism, and it behooves every man and woman to "remain on the job" until Prussianism is obliterated, lock, stock and barrel. It must also be remembered that the enemy is only now weakening, and is far from being conquered. It is hard for a non-combatant, living so far away from the scene of conflict, to realize how the millions of struggling soldiers exist and fight. If we could only view a battlefield, after the carnage, or while the troops of the contending armies are actively engaged, we might have a different opinion regarding the near approach of the end of war. It is our unfortunate birthright to be sure of few things, in this world. We are creatures of circumstances, but are assured of the fact that the unprepared will always stand in the background, at the mercy of the man or the nation that will take advantage of opportunities. Might is a great factor, when associated with right; but might is sometimes used to coerce and bring people to agree with wrongdoing.

War brings out the callousness in human nature far more than any other means that could be employed. It is usual for warring nations to justify their actions by employing methods excusable in the eyes of the aggressors, but methods that would condemn an individual to the gallows are of daily occurrence in the European countries today. German "frightfulness," the atrocities committed on the Armenians by the Turks, Bulgaria's treatment of the Servians—all are excused by those associated with the Central powers, as necessary to bring their opponents to a sense of their position. The drowning of hundreds of men, women and children, on the Lusitania, was so much appreciated in Germany that joy bells were sounded. Murdering Nurse Cavell and Captain Fryatt was regarded as justice on the one side, and the most dastardly of crimes on the other.

Since the days of David and Goliath, strategy has been used to bring about the downfall of a common enemy. David did not show only bravery in his duel with the adversary. Any man, with a rifle in his hands, is able to kill another man on an open field, provided the other man is armed only with a sword. David, with his sling could throw a missile many hundreds of feet. Goliath could only use his sword at arm's length. The strength of Goliath was in his right arm, but he failed through the dependence on might against the brainpower of his enemy. Germany strode forth, two years ago, with sword in hand, ready to cleave through any opposition; but was met by the weaker powers, and held until assistance arrived. The modern Goliath is sorely wounded, from the attack of his enemies, but is far from falling to his knees and seeking mercy.

It has always been proverbial of the British race that they have an objective and continue until the final end is accomplished. The plodding German nation makes use of the tactics of the Chinese: they have no higher ideas and ideals than subservience to the will of those in authority. With those in command, "Need knows no law." The Allies have "conquered" the Central powers, but the war is far from "finished." It is only a question of time; but all depends on the war our men and women support the government whether that time will be shortened, or whether this war will continue for years. It will require the united aid of all, to bring about a lasting peace, and the man who now shirks the responsibility cast on him is not deserving of any better treatment than that which will be meted out to those responsible for the terrible condition of the world.

A SWEEPING STATEMENT.

"By the first of January, 1917, it is Germany's plan to sweep the seas clear of enemy ships by submarine warfare."

This was how the chat began between Mrs. Noah Thompson (nee Schnell) and her old friend, Captain Rose of the German U-boat 53 on his world famous visit "of a few hours" to Newport, R.I., recently.

We are quoting from a Rhode Island press telegram of October 12: "The substance of the conversation," says Mrs. Noah, who must feel that her pirate-visitor has raised her to an eminence in the world comparable to nothing that has happened since Ararat, "the substance of it was that Germany plans to gain complete control of the sea."

"She plans to sweep the sea with a flotilla (a most inconvenient name for vessels which do so very little floating) "with a flotilla of 300 submarines." A pretty fine sweep for the dozen weeks which are about all that is left of this hurricane year 1916!

And the besom which is to "gain complete control" of the Seven Seas is something of an anti-climax.

Three hundred undersea boats! Why, the Allies have trapped about half that number already, and are turning out some 400 a year from their naval yards, as Rudyard Kipling reports. It may raise our hair to hear it but the fact is that 300 submarines are about as adequate for that job as Mrs. Patington's historic mop was for the job assigned to it by Sidney Smith in his famous parable of the Atlantic ocean.

PRESS COMMENT.

Here is something new in dining-car altruism. A Canadian railway, the C.P.R., with kindly solicitude for its passengers, has put up a special notice in large type warning people against the dangers of over-eating while travelling. This paternally inclined company says that while traveling by rail for a day or more, people need less food than they would normally consume at home under ordinary circumstances.

In spite of the fact that they need less food while traveling, most people are tempted to eat even more than usual which is, of course, too much. Even the almost prohibitive prices do not discourage this evil.

This company not only urges people to go easy on the quantity of food they consume, but it furnishes lists of suggestions for a well balanced diet. With this guide any passenger can have exactly the right proportions of proteins, carbohydrates, fats and minerals at every meal. There is no excuse for indigestion.

It's about as strange to find such sound advice in a dining-car as it

MR. WM. C. SCOTT ANNUAL MEETING OF GARRISON CLUB DIED YESTERDAY

ONE OF QUEBEC'S OLDEST AND BEST KNOWN CITIZENS PASSES AWAY.

One of Quebec's oldest and best known citizens passed away last evening in the person of Mr. William Cunningham Scott, a native of this city, who had reached the mature age of eighty years. Mr. Scott was for over fifty years the Quebec manager of the Canadian Express Company, and only retired from its services a few years ago. He was son of the late Hugh Erskine Scott, of Quebec, his mother having been a member of the Chillas family, who have been residents of Quebec since 1775. Mr. Scott was a devoted member of the Church of England, a delegate of the Provincial Synod, a member of the Cathedral congregation for over fifty years, and of late years an active supporter of Trinity Church. Mr. Scott is survived by his widow, a daughter of the late Daniel McGie, and two sons and two daughters.

DEATH OF MR. LEOPOLD HEBERT
The death occurred yesterday of Mr. Leopold Hebert, son of Mr. Georges Hebert, organist of St. Jean Baptist church. Deceased was 24 years of age, and was a brother of Mr. Henri Hebert.

PRIVATE J. A. COOPER KILLED AT FRONT.
It was with sincere regret the many friends in this city learned of the death at the front of Private J. A. Cooper, of the Grenadier Guards. The late Private Cooper previous to his enlistment in the fall of last year, had been in the employ of the Chateau Frontenac as valet, and was very popular with the patrons of the hotel. The deceased was a native of England, and so far can be ascertained had no relatives in this country. He was about 27 years of age and unmarried.

FUNERAL OF LATE MR. OCTAVE MATTE.
The funeral service for the late Mr. Octave Matte, contractor, took place at the Basilica at 9.00 o'clock yesterday morning. The service was chanted by Abbe Tancrede Paquet, assisted by Rev. Fathers Vachon and Blais, as deacon and sub-deacon. A large number of friends and acquaintances were present to pay their last respects, and to show their deep sympathy. Other relatives present were the four sons of deceased: Eugene, Ernest, Arthur and Albert Matte, and two grandsons, Charles and Paul H. Matte. Other relatives present were Messrs. Alf. Bouchard, A. R. Legarde, O. Tardin, A. Jolin, A. Verreault, L. P. Matte, L. O. Simard, A. Bernier, W. Bertrand, and N. Bertrand. The Knights of Columbus, of which deceased was a member, attended in a body. Deceased was a member of the firm of Vandry & Matte. Interment took place at Belmont cemetery.

CAPT. PAPINEAU SYMPATHIZES WITH QUEBEC FAMILY

LAUDS DEEDS OF LATE SGT. MCINNIS IN A LETTER TO BROTHER.

Captain Talbot M. Papineau, of the General Staff, Canadian Corps in France, prominent recently in a controversy with Henri Bourassa concerning Canada's part in the war has addressed a letter of sympathy to Mr. Wm. McInnis of the Transcontinental Railway, Cap Rouge, in connection with the death in action of his brother, Sergeant John Ed. McInnis, who was killed on September 15th, last.

The recipient of the letter has two other brothers on active service, one of whom was wounded about the same date that Sgt. McInnis was killed.

Captain Papineau's letter follows: October 3rd., 1916.

Dear Mr. McInnis: I am writing to tell you how deeply I feel the death of your brother, Sergeant McInnis, recently killed in the fighting on the Somme. He was an extraordinary record of courage and devotion to duty. He was in my own platoon when the regiment went to France and I know him never to have missed a single turn in the trenches where he always played his part. I should think his record is absolutely unique in the Regiment. There cannot be more than three or four other men who have seen as much service. He went through our first hard winter; survived the battle of May 1915; continued during the whole of that summer and the following winter. Again on June 2nd, he saw the Regiment suffer severe losses. Finally he took part in the successful attacks made by the Regiment near Courcellette and there he met his death. I feel the most profound regret at the loss of this brave man and of this old friend. He had survived the black days of defensive warfare; winter, its monotony and dreary danger. It is cruel that he could not have lived to enjoy victory and the human reward for all his devotion. For those who survive there can be no unthinking pleasure; we shall, always remember that men like himself by their sacrifice have made life possible for us. In the day of peace and rejoicing he will not be forgotten. I am, Yours faithfully, (SGD.) TALBOT M. PAPINEAU, General Staff, Canadian Corps.

SOLDIER OF 167TH BATT. FOUND DEAD AT LEVIS.
Sergt. Gagne Thought to have Fallen Over the Cliff—Inquest Today.

Sergt. Stanislas Tancrede Gagne, of the 167 Battalion, aged 24 years, was found dead at the foot of the cliff, near Mercier's factory, in Levis, yesterday morning. The matter was reported to Chief Marsan, head of the Levis Police, and to the military authorities. The body was removed to the morgue and an investigation begun by both the police and military authorities. A formal inquest will be opened at Levis this morning at ten o'clock. Sergt. Gagne is said to have come from Chicoutimi county. His cap was found at the top of the cliff, from which it is believed he fell accidentally. Death is believed to have been due to a fracture of the skull, resulting from the fall. The 167th Battalion is stationed at Levis.

CORRECTION.
In connection with the action for $2,025 damages against Pierre Pouliot, a tanner, of this city, taken by the widow of the late Elzeur Pouliot, who alleges her husband died from the effects of falling into a large vat used in the process of tanning, Mr. Pouliot telephoned to The Chronicle yesterday to state that the liquid in the vat was cold water, in which a small quantity of lime was dissolved. He added that it was not the fall into the vat that had caused the man's death, as the water was only three feet in depth and was such a mild solution that anyone might drink it without harm.

LT. O. McLEAN WOUNDED.
The numerous friends of Lieut. Osborne McLean, of this city, will regret to learn that he was wounded in the recent fighting in France. News to this effect has just been received by his mother.

Doctor Tells How To Strengthen Eyesight 50 per cent In One Week's Time In Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.
Philadelphia, Pa.—Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye strain or other eye weakness? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time." It was like a miracle to me. A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes as so to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two or four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time. Note: Another prominent Physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. The manufacturers guarantee to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in a most every family. W. Brunet & Co. sell it."

LAVAL-ST. ROMUALD
PLAY-OFF SUNDAY

In The World of Sport

DANNY FIELDS
ARRIVES TODAY

QUEBEC'S BASEBALL SEASON WILL CLOSE SUNDAY NEXT IF THE WEATHER IS FINE

Local Fans Hoping for Nice Day for Laval-St. Romuald Play-off Game for the Championship—Indians Will Likely Have Their Regular Line-up.

Provided the weather is favorable, Quebec fans will see the last of City League baseball Sunday next on the Exhibition Grounds when Laval and St. Romuald will see off for the championship after one of the most eventful, sensational and at the same time disappointing, (from a financial point of view) seasons on record.

Had the weather been fine for the most of the opening games the fans would have been treated to some of the finest contests imaginable. As events panned out some of the best ball of the season was played on a Saturday before a paltry two or three hundred spectators while a fine struggle between leaders scheduled for a Sunday would have to be postponed because of rain. All the clubs with the exception of St. Romuald and Levis most assuredly lost money and it is quite evident that the only way clubs could have made money during the past season was to have had playing grounds of their own as was the case of the two organizations across the river.

Laval's showing all season has been a surprise. They undoubtedly were fortunate in winning some of their opening games but it gave them the right spirit and fighting every inch of the way they landed up on top of the heap with the Indians and will be at death grips with them Sunday afternoon. If the Indians lose the championship they will have themselves to blame in a measure. Had Jocks not been so fussy over a fine point in the rules, the Laval team would have had no room to protest the game which the Indians clearly won. Probably Drolet's walk to first in the seventh inning would not have mattered anyway and with Desjardins pitching in airtight fashion and the rest of the boys playing ding-dong ball it did seem rather officious on the part of the big leader of the Braves to demand Drolet's out. Umpire Malcolm, who did not take the trouble to even look up the rule on this point at the time, headed Jock's kick and called Drolet out. And it is this little play which may hand the pennant to Laval. If Laval's team wins on Sunday big Jocks will have to shoulder, like Merkle in the famous game against the Cubs some years ago, the blame for losing the title. Of course, Jocks did not pull any home in this instance—the ump making a mistake—but Big Six will feel like Merkle if the pennant is lost.

Tancrede Boucher is confident of winning. He has worked hard all summer for his Indians and deserves credit for the big fight he made for the honors. He has a great team and if he can bring the full aggregation down here for the game, Laval will have a hard time winning.

The Laval management made a wise move when they signed up Crevier. With only Masse to stand off the rest of the clubs, Laval would have been down and out long ago. Masse is a fine pitcher but is not strong enough for the work which he would have been commended to do had he been alone to fight it out with the other pitchers. St. Pierre foresees that double-headers would be a necessity later on in the season and when he grabbed Crevier he saved the club. Camille has proved that he is one of the cleverest boxmen in the game and will be a hard man for the Indians to solve next Sunday if his support holds up all the way.

DANNY FIELDS ARRIVES TODAY

NEW YORKER WIRES IRISH-CANADIAN CLUB THAT HE WILL BE ON HAND FOR BOUT.

The Irish-Canadian Club received word yesterday that Danny Fields and his manager Billy Peppy will arrive in town this afternoon. Fields is in good shape for his bout with Allen on Friday night and expects to give Red the beating of his lifetime. Allen has already fought Fields and Red is anxious to meet him again as opinion was divided in the last bout which took place in Bridgeport, Conn.

There is little doubt that as a main attraction, the Fields-Allen mill will prove one of the most interesting of the season and there has been a large demand for ringside tickets for the event.

The preliminaries are good. Kid Palmer and Young Mack will go on in the opener and on the strength of their former showing both boys should hop through a fast four rounds. The same may be said of the White-Demers go which is the second on the card. As White and Palmer are likely to meet within a short time both boys will try to make the best showing possible in their bouts Friday night.

The semi-windup attraction will be between Lapointe and Gagnon, two St. Sauveur boys who are noted for their pugilistic ability and both have bunches of followers.

The management of the Irish-Canadian Club are leaving nothing undone to give their patrons good sport and judging by the previous events of the club there is every reason to expect that future programmes will be well-worth watching.

KING GOSSIP.

"Danny" Fields and his manager are expected this afternoon.

"Red" Allen's friends expect him to beat Fields though the latter claims a decision over him in a former bout.

Lapointe and Gagnon will provide the fireworks in the semi-windup, Friday night.

Pittsfield, Oct. 17—"Chick" West of Holyoke won a twelve-round slug-fest match from Joe Eagan of Dorchester at the Twentieth Century A.C.

Woonsocket, R.I., Oct. 17.—Young Blades of this city gained the decision over Billy Meyers of Boston in ten rounds at the Coliseum. Young O'Neil made it two straight by out-pointing Dave Powers of Malden.

Cincinnati, Oct. 17.—Joe Haley of this city knocked out Eddie Coulon of New Orleans in the fourth round at the Harlan A. C.

Columbus, Oct. 17.—Johnny Griffiths of Akron gained a shade over Bryan Downey of Columbus in their twelve-round bout before the Queensbury Club.

New York, Oct. 17.—Jack Dillon of Indianapolis and Al McCoy, middle-weight champion, were matched today to meet in a ten-round bout at the Broadway Sporting Club, Brooklyn, October 21.

New York, Oct. 17.—Tommy Houck, once a noted middleweight boxer, is totally blind, it was learned here today.

The physician who attended the pugilist made the statement that the blindness was due to contact with an unclean glove in the days when Houck was a preliminary boxer.

BROOKLYN DODGERS TURN BACK $30,000.

New York, Oct. 17.—Nearly $30,000 in cash and checks were returned today by the Brooklyn Baseball Club to holders of tickets for the third game of the World's Series at Ebbets Field, which failed to materialize because the Robins were able to win only a single game from Bill Carrigan's Red Sox.

This is more than half the amount of money that will be refunded and President Ebbets stated today that the club expected to have all the tickets back within a day or two.

LEONARD MADE HAMMER WILT

NEW YORK LIGHTWEIGHT SCORED TECHNICAL K. O. IN 12TH ROUND.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 18. Benny Leonard, New York lightweight, scored a technical knockout in the twelfth round of his fight with Ever Hammer, of Chicago, here tonight. Hammer's manager, stopped the bout to prevent his man being punished further after Hammer had been knocked down for the count of three. The fight was to have gone fifteen rounds.

Sporting Notes

George Acquin has turned weather prophet. "No game Sunday," says George, "It's going to rain."

We leave it to you, people, to judge whether Mr. Acquin is a weather prophet or not.

How the local magnates feel after the season:—
Leon St. Pierre, Laval—"We'll be champs, Sunday. Only bad weather can delay the honors."
Tancrede Boucher, Indians:—"We'll make it a decisive win this time."

Frank McLaughlin, Emmets:—"We had the best team in the league but they wouldn't let us use Buell. And anyway we didn't want the championship."

Steve Newton, St. Pats—"What's the use?"

F. X. Giguere, Naps—"If we had played all the games in Levis the story would have been different."

Jimmy Walsh, Vics—"Sure we threw all our games."
L. Letourneau—"Wait till next year."

One of the St. Patricks squad is back in the city but has dawned khaki McKaysey is the boy in question and he looks fine and fit in his new uniform. "Mack" also played for the Tipperary ball club during the summer.

Over $30,000 was returned to ticket-holders in Brooklyn who had purchased a set of three tickets in case a third game in Brooklyn was necessary. Yet, there are people who say the series was fixed.

Well, let's forget baseball for a couple of paragraphs. Romeo Lepine who is out hobbling around with a cane after his discharge from home treatment, announces that the Quebec City Hockey Association will hold a special meeting this evening. This is not the annual meeting but simply a preliminary.

Ehmet McDonald the enterprising young manager of the Sons of Ireland Hockey Club is a very far-seeing individual. He stated last night he had definitely closed negotiations with the management of the Pittsburgh A. C. whereby his Sons of Ireland will play two games against the Smoky City outfit in Pittsburgh on March 16th and 17th, 1917. The games will be played at the Duquesne Gardens.

Frosty weather seems to root out the hockey players. Last night Jack McDonald, bright as a new pin, looking fine and fit, found his way down the Quebec's great, gay thoroughfare (till 9.30) and mingled with the throng just as if he was used to it. Jack has received his contract from the Quebec hockey club but it is not signed yet. But the young veteran player would not commit himself regarding his intentions. It is understood that the contracts to the local players contain figures which are greatly lower than last season.

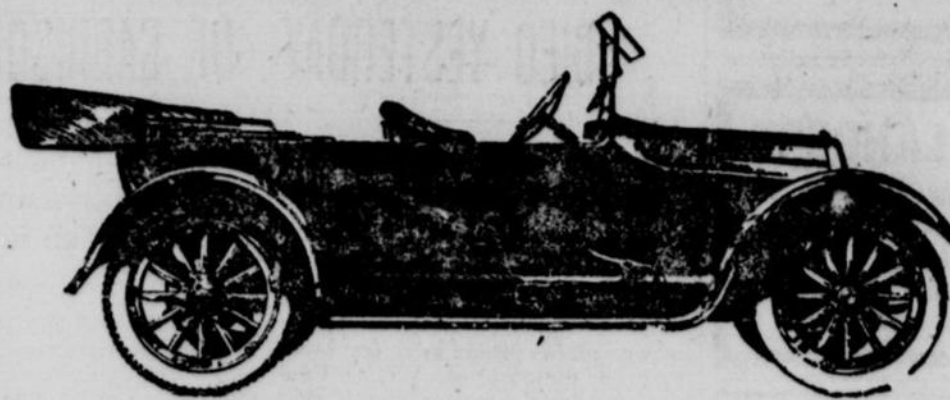

Manager Quinn of the Quebec team, states that the players will be given the best possible conditions but that in view of the poor seasons just passed "war prices" will have to prevail. This is the situation all over the N.H.A. Circuit. The 28th Battalion team will be the best off in this respect.

One thing is certain. The public which supports the professional game want to see new faces. There are still a few of the old faces who will be welcome as they always do their best and are still in the front rank of players, but there are some whose usefulness has been spent or whose unwillingness to give of their best has caused their deterioration in the eyes of the fans. These are not wanted any more.

The Sons of Ireland baseball team regret that owing to the lateness of the season it is impossible for them to meet the Standards on Sunday next.

The Tipperary Club champions of the Junior series of Quebec will have a dinner on the 28th, to commemorate their success.

PRINCETON DRAWS THE COLOR LINE

WILL NOT INCLUDE TUFTS BECAUSE OF NEGRO FOOT-BALL PLAYERS.

Princeton, N.J., Oct. 17.—Tufts is likely to be dropped from the Princeton football schedule, according to a report current here today. It is said that the local authorities object to negro players and inasmuch as the Massachusetts college used two colored men Saturday she is down to lose her place on the Tiger list.

A number of Southerners attend Princeton, and this is the reason assigned for the objection to colored players.

Tufts had two Saturday, Morrison, a guard, and Brown, a tackle. Neither of these players was abused. Between halves, however, Morrison suffered from convulsions, but neither he nor the Tufts men said it was due to any feeling against his color.

Morrison played through the second half, while Brown's only complaint during the game was his protest to the officials because of the language used toward him.

Joseph Murray, treasurer of the Princeton Athletic Association, in a statement today said that "as far as can be learned," there will be no changes in the schedule of the Princeton football team because of the development of a case of infantile paralysis among the student body.

"The Dartmouth game will be played," the statement said, "and it is almost certain that the Lafayette game will be played as scheduled. Untrue statements to the effect that a quarantine has been placed on the university resulted in many inquiries at the athletic association office asking if there were to be any changes in the schedule."

An Inside Bath Makes You Look and Feel Fresh

Says a glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast keeps illness away.

This excellent, common-sense health measure being adopted by millions.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do.

Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate, in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminative organs.

Those who wake up with bad breath, coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who are subject to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to health and appearance.

PREMIER BREWSTER.
Hon. H. C. Brewster, the new Premier-elect in British Columbia, is a New Brunswicker by birth and tradition, for he only removed to British Columbia to become prominent in the growing fishery industry with which he had on the Atlantic seaboard been made familiar. He was first elected as member for Albert in 1907, not long after he got to the Pacific coast, and he was re-elected in 1909. In the election of 1912, however, he was defeated in his candidature for Victoria City, but next year he got back, and before the close of the year was leader of the Provincial Liberals. He deserved this honor, because for a brief period he was the only Liberal in the House.

Born in Harvey forty-five years ago, he soon set about doing things in a large way on the Pacific coast. The first was to remove Oriental labor from his fishing and canning works. A new method of sanitary sealing for salmon tins caught his eye and he introduced it with mechanical soldering. In fact, he did not forget lessons which the Maine fisheries had taught him.

HON. MR. MERCIER GIVES INTERVIEW

QUEBEC HAS BEST HUNTING AND FISHING RESOURCES IN THE DOMINION.

Montreal Oct. 18.—Returning from a trip in the La Tuque district to examine the hunting in the province, the Hon. Honore Mercier, Minister of Colonization, Mines and Fisheries, declared at the provincial Government offices yesterday that there is no other province in the Dominion of Canada possessing better hunting and fishing resources than the Province of Quebec.

"There may be one or perhaps two provinces which can pride themselves upon having hunting and fishing resources equal to ours," he declared, "but there is no other province that can be described as better from the sportsman's standpoint.

"Quebec is developing its hunting and fishing resources as never before. For instance, in 1905, the revenue from the Fish and Game Department was around $80,000. For the year ending the 30th of June, 1914—the last announced report—the revenue had increased to $132,000."

Mr. Mercier left Quebec on September 20 along the line of the Transcontinental and made Cric des Prairies, about 30 miles from La Tuque, his headquarters. At that point the two rivers, Vermillion and Prairies, meet, and it is there that Mr. Alphonse Tremblay, of La Tuque, who is a guide, takes charge of fishing and hunting parties. Mr. Mercier left the main camp at Cric des Prairies to examine the internal conditions of the territory, and was in the region twelve days. Altogether he covered 75 miles of country, canoeing and portaging up the Vermillion River. On each side of the river he was surprised to see such a large number of lakes, many of them being three to four miles in extent. Everywhere there were evidences of the game that is making Quebec famous amongst sportsmen. The trails of moose and bear were frequently seen, and along the rivers were numerous beaver dams which compelled the Minister and his gamekeepers to lift their canoes out and portage over the work of the beavers. In the lakes, trout was most plentiful; some red speckled trout were caught weighing as much as four pounds. On the Vermillion River some large pike were hooked. Unfortunately the weather conditions were bad, and the rain had swollen the rivers so much that the holes in the river banks known amongst sportsmen as "beaver-wash" were flooded out and the beaver were to be seen frequently travelling from one bank of the river to the other. At one time at the front of the canoe. Not only along the Vermillion River, but also along most of the rivers of Northern Quebec, the Minister says that beaver is plentiful. Beaver skins sometimes sell as high as $10 a pound per skin, the average price being about $7 to $8.

The Beaver Problem.
For the purpose of hunting beaver, the Province of Quebec is divided into two zones. Zone No. 1, where beaver hunting is prohibited, represents the old province less that part of the Counties of Chicoutimi and Saguenay to the east and north of the River Saguenay. Zone No. 2, in which beaver hunting is permitted, represents the remainder of the province.

"It is an acknowledged fact," declared the Minister, "that the best policy is to have one law for one territory. Some of the best authorities such as the North American Game Protective Association, have been trying for a long time to have uniform laws to regulate hunting."

Northern Quebec is full of hunting possibilities, according to Mr. Mercier, not only in the matter of fur animals such as beaver, mink, otter, marten, pekan and fox, but also moose, bear and deer. Mr. Mercier himself noticed many new deer tracks, and the hunters and trappers of the district told him made of the Ungava and Alibi districts that the deer were beginning to come in that part of the province where they had not been coming for several years.

"In the province of Quebec, we have a territory so large and so easily located in the north and yet so sparsely inhabited that there are big natural hunting game and fishing reservations."

Sportsmen are encouraged to develop the hunting and game resources of the north.

Pamphlet for Sportsmen.
Mr. Mercier himself is preparing a special pamphlet to be distributed amongst sportsmen to make better known to them the possibilities of sport in Quebec. It is the intention of the department to distribute these pamphlets amongst outside sportsmen who, while obtaining some of the best sport that can be obtained in the Dominion, bring revenue to the province and business to the community. The development of hunting and fishing resources has made great progress in Quebec during recent years. For example, whereas in 1897 the total revenue to the province from hunting was only $300, for the last financial term ending the 30th of June, 1915, it was $39,747. It must also be remembered that for the leasing of lakes and rivers an additional sum of $67,133 was collected. The total net revenue as shown in the report for 1915, for fish and game was $131,279.41.

Mr. Mercier pointed out that last session the Legislature passed a law obliging fur merchants to take out a nominal license of $10 and to make reports to the province as to the quantity of furs taken during the year and at a later date a royalty may be imposed on each skin.

"How do you check the trading in furs?" Mr. Mercier was asked.

"That is the difficulty," he said. "It is my intention to adopt a stamping system by which means skins will be stamped. Some fur merchants say that may cause delay but we do not desire to do anything that will harm the fur trade."

"I have talked the matter over with different fur dealers, and many of them are already marking their furs with stamp hammers. We think the stamping system will prove to be a protection to the merchants as well as to the province, because as soon as the royalty is paid, the skin will be stamped and the dealers cannot possibly be called upon a second time. It will also help in a large measure to check illegal hunting in the Quebec territory. In the law as passed at the last session of the Legislature, the royalty on the skins will not be payable before next September or some time later that may be determined upon."

KHAKI LEAGUE CLUB EXTENDS HOSPITALITY TO SIR WM. PRICE'S REGIMENT.

The 171st Battalion C. E. F. were the guests of the ladies of the Khaki League Club last night, and, needless to say, the boys were delighted with the entertainment provided for them which consisted of a first-class concert and supper.

The function was held in the billiard room, which was tastefully decorated with flags, prominent amongst which was one with the motto "Good Luck to the 171st."

In addition to the non-commissioned officers and men, many of the officers and their wives also attended, including Lt.-Col. Sir Wm. Price and Lady Price.

Many local artistes figured on the programme which was fully up to the usual standard.

The ladies in charge of the arrangements were indefatigable in looking after the comfort of the guests and at the close of the entertainment were the recipient of cheers from the soldiers. It should also be mentioned that a number of returned wounded soldiers were present.

Features of the programme were the pipe selections by a Piper of the 171st, and the singing of a song by Miss Gibson, which was composed by Mr. Ed. Joseph. The first verse and chorus are as follows:

Verse:
The Kaiser had an army which was costing him so dear,
Said he, I can't afford to feed them sausages and beer,
We'll go and get some British beef and good Canadian wheat,
We'll strafe some French and Russians, then we'll sit us down to eat.

Chorus:
O Bill the Kaiser, you've now got wiser,
The Allied troops will soon get Hungry too;
Your Turkey's roasting, your Zepps are roasting,
And soon we'll cook your German goose and you.

PEPPY'S DIARY.

It is the Most Intimate Journal in Literature.

"The unique charm of Peppy's Diary," W. H. Hudson says in his essay on Peppy in "Idle Hours in a Library," "lies very largely in the frankness, the naivete, the unsophisticated directness of its record; it is as if I insisted, really and truly what other chronicles of the kind have been simply in name, a journal intime. . . . And let me ask you not to judge too harshly of the man into whose existence we have thus ventured to pry. . . . Remember that we have been privileged in his case to push aside the curtain which men habitually keep carefully drawn across the penetralia of their lives; that we have caught him often enough at unfair advantage and in a light fiercer than that which Tennyson says, beats upon a throne, blackening every blot. At any rate, I for my own part see no reason why, as we lay his diary aside, we should indulge in platitudes of criticism—still less why we should console ourselves with the flattering thought of moral superiority. Peppy was not a great man it is true; he was often weak, often foolish; the temptations of this world again and again proved too much for him; at many important points his theory and practice of life were alike unsound. But it might be well perhaps, before we undertake to throw stones at his glass house to look a little carefully into the vitreous mansion in which we ourselves dwell. And if you and I were forced to lay bare, as he has done for himself, the secret thoughts and feelings, the passing fancies, the unspoken desires, the foibles and failures of our everyday existence, I wonder how many of us would see reason to be proud of the revelation so made. O my brothers, let us be humble and charitable! Humility and charity are excellent things and humility and charity, I confess, I find constantly forced upon me when ever I dip, for an hour's genuine amusement, into the Diary of old Samuel Peppy."

Closing Letters By the Can. Press

New York, October 18.—Irregularity characterized the movement of prices in the stock market today. Other strong shares included United States Industrial, which left the specialties at an extreme gain of 14 1/2 to 14 3/4, Cuban American Sugar and Porto Rico Sugar, with gross gains of 8 and 5, respectively, and Atlantic, Gulf and West Indies, which wrested supremacy from other shipping issues on its rise of 3 3/4 to 98, a net record.

Trade conditions are largely responsible for the higher levels in these issues, it being generally recognized that the paper and leather industries are deriving further substantial benefits from foreign orders. The same reason applies with equal force to the sugar stocks, while the movement in Atlantic, Gulf and the West Indies accompanied reports of enormous earnings and prospective dividends to share holders.

Substantial advances were registered by other inactive shares, notably National Biscuit, Loose-Wiles Biscuit, Harvester, Continental Can, Pacific Telephone, Montana Power and petroleum.

United States Steel lost none of its prominence as the market leader, furnishing its customary large quota, but traversing a relatively narrow radius and closing at a net gain of 1-3 of a point Standard Rails Chesapeake and Ohio, and Illinois Central were strong during the forenoon notably the latter being advanced from a 5 to 6 per cent basis. Total sales, amounted to 1,090,000 shares.

Developments bearing upon the market were mainly favorable, embracing additional gold imports, advances in steel and iron products, increased demand for copper and easier rates for call loans.

Bonds dealing were heavy, with an irregular tone to international issues. Total sales, par value, $7,670,000.

Chicago—Wheat—Coincident with the announcement that they were securing large supplies of wheat from Australia, the British government began to buy American wheat in a large way and, despite reports to the contrary, it is known that during the last three days export sales of United States wheat have been very large. There is little encouragement in the situation for a bear.

Corn—Corn advanced with wheat and further buying by cash interests some of which was evidently against export sales. There is little use to sell corn short so long as cash interest are able to pay the prices now obtaining for both old and new corn.

Oats—Oats appeared to borrow their strength largely from other grains, although there was bullish factor of a number of export bids. The market is not likely to advance permanently until there is a chance of better shipping facilities.

(By McDougall & Cowans)

Montreal, Oct. 18.—The market held its strength in most issues throughout the day and in certain of the specialties further large advances were recorded. Industrial Alcohol jumped up over 10 points in afternoon the market is beginning to look like the erratic one that we had some time ago. International Paper was strong as were others of the paper issues due to the announcement of a most drastic increase in prices for 1917. Union Pacific and Reading led the market in the railroads and gained two points. The declaration of a quarterly dividend at the directorate meeting at rate of 6 p.c. of Illinois Cen. came as a surprise and helped to strengthen railroads. Reports from steel and copper trades continue highly optimistic, and the return to million share days in the market indicates that public influence is being restored because of great business prosperity which the country is now enjoying. Although the political situation is of dominant interest it is not at present disturbing the market. Until the election is over, however, there will remain the possibility of an upset of prices because of it. Total sales 1,117,435; bonds $7,650,500.

More Gold Shipped.

New York, Oct. 18.—After a lapse of several weeks, gold imports from Canada were resumed today J. P. Morgan and Company depositing at the assay office $5,000,000 received from Ottawa.

This makes a total of about $115,000,000 received from various foreign sources chiefly British, since the beginning of the inflow last May.

(By Bruneau & Dupuis)

New York, Oct. 18.—The feature today has been a very sharp rise in Industrial Alcohol, following a report that a large new contract had been signed. One of two other specialties have been active but the market as a whole has been content with a steady range of prices. News of the day has not been important. We are coming into the home stretch of the political race and opinion naturally varies as to which candidate is leading. The situation is not of course, even approximately as important as when the issue was Bryan and free silver, but nevertheless to those who take a long view, the coming four years are likely to prove difficult and important ones for this country and much will depend upon the character of the administration. There is no doubt but what the tendency of the market is to discount Mr. Hughes election and if this should be erroneous or even appear so before election, a decided reaction would probably be in order. Unless general opinion becomes convinced as to the outcome we are likely to have a somewhat freaky market between now and election. Total sales, stock 1,117,435; Bonds $7,650,500.

HIGH TEA AND FANCY SALE IN FULL SWING

HUNDREDS ATTEND EACH NIGHT AT ST. PATRICK'S HALL—MANY ATTRACTIVE FEATURES—TURKEY SUPPER IS SERVED EACH EVENING—TABLES BOWERS OF BEAUTY—GREAT CREDIT TO LADIES IN CHARGE.

There are doubtless, more attractive features at the High Tea and Fancy Sale at St. Patrick's Hall, than were ever before shown at a similar entertainment in Quebec.

Of course, supper is served, but the quality of the repast given during the High Tea is unexcelled. The ladies, who act as waitresses, make every one feel at home and comfortable. There is but contentment and merriment in dining hall and kitchen.

The viands, relishes, vegetables, cranberry sauce, jellies, desert and cake are all prepared by the ladies in charge of the affair, and for quality, beat the best a $10,000—chef could produce.

Add to this, that the charge for the supper is only fifty cents, one must believe that the millennium has arrived or that one has been suddenly transported to Utopia. Many of those who came the first nights have resolved that for the time the High Tea lasts, they will subsist only on turkey suppers. A very agreeable feature of the Fair is that the visitors are not waylaid right at the door, by persons soliciting chances. There is to be no soliciting of chances in the Hall. There was no special opening of the High Tea. The Reverend Rector simply said: "I declare this Fair open," and from that on, it has been open in the fullest sense of the term.

This event has been arranged by the good ladies of the parish, who are always anxious to do all in their power to second the untiring efforts of the Rev. Father Rector, in any work undertaken for the welfare of the Church. From the entertainment, the Reverend Rector expects to realize a handsome sum to enable him to pay off the debt on the new Church. From his experience of many years spent among us, he feels and knows that the people are with him in all his projects. Every plan he has adopted, every work he has undertaken has been more than successful, through the efforts, labors and kindness of the parish. He has every reason, therefore, to expect that this week's social gathering will be no exception to the many events held in the past.

The High Tea is of such a character that any one can enjoy pleasant evenings and he will greatly encourage the good, faithful and zealous ladies, who spare neither time, labor or money in every good, noble and worthy cause.

SUCCESSFUL SALE OF WHITE ELEPHANTS

THOUSANDS ATTENDED UNIQUE SALE—MAYOR LAVIGUEUR ACTS AS AUCTIONEER.

The long-looked for White Elephant sale commenced yesterday morning at Loyola Hall, and during the day the building was crowded with people eager to purchase the thousands of articles offered for sale. Almost anything that a person might want, whether of an ornamental or more useful character, was to be found on the different stalls, and, in consequence, sales were brisk.

As nothing of this nature had ever been attempted before in Quebec it was but natural that the citizens were attracted by it. The members of Stadacona Chapter I. D. O. E. deserve great credit for the manner in which they had worked up the novel idea and for introducing it to the public of the Ancient Capital.

The Hall was tastefully decorated with bunting and flowers, the latter being sent by Mrs. Ross.

In the evening His Worship Mayor Lavigueur formally opened the sale, and in the course of his remarks said that the ladies of Stadacona Chapter, I.D.O.E., were worthy of commendation for inaugurating this unique sale. He was glad to see that the citizens patronized it in such large numbers, and hoped they would continue their support until every article was disposed of. His Worship then put up for auction a beautiful brass plaque with the coat of arms of the Province of Quebec skillfully worked upon it. The plaque, which was tied with the French colors, Mrs. Frank Stocking was the lucky purchaser of this splendid souvenir.

The Tea Room was in charge of Mrs. J. K. Boswell and Mrs. S. T. Green, who were ably assisted by Lady Price, Mrs. A. B. Whitehead, Miss T. Price, Mrs. Allan Boswell and Mrs. A. Boulton, are assisting Mrs. J. K. Boswell and Mrs. Green. Tea, coffee, cake, home-made bread, sandwiches and mineral water were sold, and quite a business was done.

An enormous quantity of clothing was piled upon two tables, and the prices were so low that it proved hard work to attend to the wants of the patrons. This Dept. was supervised by Mrs. G. L. Mattice in charge, assisted by Mrs. Barelay, Mrs. Home, Miss H. Norris, Miss M. Scott, Mrs. Dodge, Miss Judge and Mrs. Boulton.

The grocery table also came in for a great deal of attention, and deservedly so, as everything was sold at bargain prices. Mrs. Bosse and Miss Norris were in charge, assisted by the Misses Dorothy and Ruth Marsh, Marjorie Davis, Louise Slade, de Lery and Mildred Fry.

Another attraction was the china department, which also included mirrors, cut glass, antiques, pictures, etc. It was in charge of Miss Burstall and Mrs. F. W. Ross, assisted by Mrs. F. G. Scott, Miss Preston the Misses Rhodes, Miss M. Hunt, Mrs. J. F. Burstall, Miss Hoare, Miss Gale, Mrs. H. C. Foy, the Misses Stuart, Miss M. Scott, Miss Laird, Miss G. Williams, the Misses M. and R. Joseph and the Misses Ross.

Mrs. E. L. Sewell was in charge of the jewellery and silverware table, her assistants being Mrs. A. E. Jones, Miss Bignell, Mrs. A. Sewell and Mrs. S. Richard. Among the articles offered for sale were silver dishes, antique silver and gold jewellery, hat pins, etc.

The children's table naturally attracted the little ones. This contained numerous toys, story books, children's clothes, boots, hats, etc. Mrs. Lafferty is the convenor, and was assisted by Mrs. Labrecque, Mrs. W. J. Lynch, the Misses P. Burstall, D. Brown, R. Home, Pacaud, Routhier and Taschereau.

The sale will be continued today when the special feature will be the sale of vehicles and heavy articles.

IF FOOD DISAGREES DRINK HOT WATER

When food lies like lead in the stomach and you have that uncomfortable, distended feeling, it is because of insufficient blood supply to the stomach combined with the acid and food ferment combined with acid and food fermentation. In such cases try the plan now followed in many hospitals and advised by many eminent physicians of taking a teaspoonful of pure bisurated magnesium in half a glass of water as hot as you can comfortably drink it. The hot water draws the blood to the stomach and the bisurated magnesium, as any physician can tell you, instantly neutralizes the acid and stops the food fermentation. Try this simple plan and you will be astonished at the immediate feeling of relief and comfort that always follows the restoration of the normal process of digestion. People who find it inconvenient at times to secure hot water and travellers who are frequently obliged to take hasty meals poorly prepared, should always take two or three five-grain tablets of Bisurated Magnesia after meals to prevent fermentation and neutralize the acid in their stomach.
