LIKE THE PIONEERS — Just as in colonial times, this man works on his land with his gun on his shoulder. Ghislain Larouche, of Orsainville, isn't protecting himself against Indians or wild animals, however, but against striking Quebec City area construction workers. The workers recently attacked several people who attempted to continue working at construction sites. (CP Wirephoto)

Astronauts nearing home

HOUSTON (AP) — The Apollo 10 astronauts raced through the final hours of their trail-blazing moon journey today, heading for a fiery dash through the atmosphere and return to earth.

Their landing in the South Pacific ends an eight-day voyage of discovery that cleared the way for two Americans to walk on the moon in July.

As they neared their homecoming, Thomas Stafford, John Young and Eugene Cernan were on a near-perfect course.

They planned a brief jet thruster burst to zero-in on a narrow flight angle that would slam them into the earth's thickening atmosphere 400,000 feet above the Pacific at 24,694 miles an hour.

Just nine minutes later the craft dangles under three huge parachutes, dropping down at 22 m.p.h.

Splashdown was set for 12:51 p.m., EDT, 395 miles east of Pago Pago, Samoa. A recovery force of ships, planes and helicopters, headed by the carrier Princeton, waited to retrieve the newest space heroes.

WEATHER WAS GOOD
The weather in the recovery area was good with a forecast of light winds at about 11 miles an hour, sea swells of three to four feet and partly cloudy skies.

Stafford, Young and Cernan did not expect to stay overnight on the carrier as did earlier Apollo teams. After medical examination, shower and food, they planned to fly by helicopter to Samoa, where they will transfer to a jet transport for a trip to Ellington Air Force Base near Houston's manned spacecraft centre and a reunion with their families. A long delay in pickup could cause the flight to Samoa to be delayed to Tuesday.

Stafford, Young and Cernan were in good humor and eager to get home as their sturdy spaceship neared the end of its 246,000-mile return trip from the moon.

Sunday they aimed their color television camera out one window and relayed pictures of a receding moon. Then, through another window, they showed the earth looming larger. Both bodies were half in shadow.

They even shaved for the occasion—the first U.S. spacemen to do so.

USE RAZOR, CREAM
"This is a remarkable innovation," said Young. "After spending a lot of money on mechanical shavers which always managed to leave whiskers flying around the atmosphere, somebody finally came up with the idea using a razor and brushless shaving cream."

The cream held the whiskers, he said, and kept them from floating in the weightless cabin. The cream was wiped off the razor with a towel.

Back in Houston, the astronauts will start an extensive 10-day debriefing period. The most interested listeners will be Neil Armstrong, Edwin Aldrin and Michael Collins—the crew picked to fly the Apollo 11 moon landing mission in 55 days.

Armstrong and Aldrin, who will make the moon landing, want to hear more about Apollo 10's description of the landing target in the Sea of Tranquility.

As Stafford and Cernan swooped their lunar landing vehicle to within 9.4 miles of the spot, Stafford radioed this report:

"It looks a lot smoother than some of the photos show. I estimate a 25- to 39-per-cent semi-clear area, so if the LEM has enough hover time, it should not be a problem. However, if you come down in the wrong area and you don't have hover time, you're gonna have to shove off."

HOVERS LIKE COPTER

The LEM can hover like a helicopter for about a minute to select a smooth touchdown area.

Vickers decision attacked

MONTREAL (CP) — The controversy surrounding a decision by Canadian Vickers Ltd. to close its shipyard here continued Sunday with accusations from union officials and federal and provincial representatives.

Michel Chartrand, president of the central labor council of the Confederation of National Trade Unions, said in a news release governments are more interested in preserving the interests of private industries than in finding jobs for skilled workers.

Mr. Chartrand accused all politicians of being "bandits and crooks" and said democracy in Canada "is a fraud."

"Freedom in Canada is the 'freedom to be unemployed,'" he said.

"You can't have a lower standard of living when you're unemployed; you can't have less freedom than when you have no job."

Mr. Chartrand was referring to the expected layoff of about 500 workers, members of unions affiliated with the CNTU, when the Vickers' shipyard closes in July.

He said he no longer believes in federal government intervention in the problem since Ottawa had permitted the dissolution of the Canadian merchant marine.

WORKERS VICTIMS
Rene Levesque, who attended a meeting of workers at the Vickers shipyard, said the workers are victims of a "system where Ottawa tosses the ball to Quebec and vice versa" and the workers end up the losers.

New chief must weld UN forces

MONTREAL (CP) — Quebec Premier Jean-Jacques Bertrand says that after next month's Union Nationale leadership convention it will be up to the newly-elected leader to reunite the party and prepare for a provincial election.

Mr. Bertrand speaking at a news conference Saturday said no decision about an election date has been made.

"But, we have to be always ready. Under the law, our mandate is for five years. Traditionally, however, elections come after a four-year term, and, with today's needs, this could be shorter."

Mr. Bertrand said that if he is elected leader at the June 19-21 convention, his principal leadership rival, Jean-Guy Cardinal, will remain in the cabinet as education minister.

The other candidate is Andre Leveille, a party backbencher representing Montreal Maison-neuve riding.

SAYS TREND HEALTHY
Mr. Bertrand added: "Just because there is a leadership fight doesn't change anything... in fact, it's healthy, good for the party. After all, I didn't have to call for a convention. I could easily have done like Mr. Lesage—just hung on."

Mr. Lesage is leader of the Opposition Liberal party.

The premier declined to comment on Mr. Cardinal's campaign tactics.

Poher prepares final appeal

PARIS (Reuters) — Interim President Alain Poher today polished up a 12-point policy statement he hopes will ensure victory over Gaullist Georges Pompidou in his race for the French presidency.

Poher, 60, is favored in the latest opinion polls to trounce Pompidou in a runoff ballot June 15, which will be required if no single candidate gets more than 50 per cent of the votes in the first round June 1.

Poher will present his policy statement Tuesday, which he hopes will firmly establish his intention of breaking with the policies of former president Charles de Gaulle.

A spokesman for Poher said the statement would include details of already declared policies such as a fresh impetus for European unity, impartiality in the Middle East, and return by France to disarmament talks in Geneva.

Concentrating on putting himself forward as an average Frenchman removed from the grandeur of the Gaullist era, Poher has employed low-key campaign tactics which have been considerably more successful than Pompidou's, the polls show.

RETURNS TO PARIS

Pompidou, who this week is expected to pull out all stops to prevent a predicted defeat by 10 per cent in the second round of voting, leaves for Paris this afternoon after a quiet weekend at his country home in southwest France.

The former banker and prime minister Tuesday goes back to his whistlestop tour of the provinces.

Despite the whirlwind campaign, organized to the last detail by the well-oiled and efficient Gaullist party machinery, the latest opinion poll gave Pompidou 41 per cent of the first round votes—the same figure as in a previous poll before the official race started following de Gaulle's resignation April 28.

In the second round the polls forecast a comfortable victory for Poher, because left-wing voters—whose four candidates are certain to be eliminated in the first round—would be expected to vote against a Gaullist.

Middle-class background aids Poher

ABLON, France (AP) — When Alain Poher was a young and obscure municipal councillor, a local fortune teller told him: "You will go far, young man. One day you will be president of France."

Poher laughed and told his friends: "I am a technician. I'm not interested in politics."

The fortune teller did not live to see Charles de Gaulle's resignation catapult the almost unknown Poher into France's highest office April 28.

As president of the Senate, the 60-year-old former mining engineer automatically became interim president on de Gaulle's resignation. And the man who once said he was not interested in politics is a leading contender when France votes next Sunday on a new president.

Poher is an unassuming middle-class Frenchman. His surprisingly strong showing in early pre-election polls may be due to his simple, quiet manner than to his political stature. After 11 years of de Gaulle, many Frenchmen are tired of "grandeur" and Poher is the least grandiloquent leader they could wish for.

"If I am elected," he said in a campaign speech, "I intend to be the first president to give an example of simplicity."

ENDORSE HIS PROMISE

In his native village, where he has served as mayor for 24 years, his friends and neighbors heartily endorse this campaign promise. "He is exactly the sort of man we need as president," said restaurant owner Jean Ibancos. "He is a man like any of us, not a monarch like de Gaulle. Under Poher, France will become a republic again."

Poher's wife, Henriette, shuns public life and refused to "move up to Paris" with her husband when he became interim president. She can be seen every day buying her groceries nearby.

Poher lives in Paris during the week, and in his absence, his house does not even have a police guard.

Roger Chevalier, who for 26 years worked as secretary at Ablon Town Hall, recalls 1943 when France was under Nazi occupation and the Gestapo came to Ablon to arrest the family of a known resistance leader.

"The Gestapo men were in my office asking where to find them," Chevalier said. "I managed to get Poher on the phone and fortunately he understood my double-talk. By the time the Gestapo reached the address he had managed to spirit the whole family out of the way."

Poher was a finance ministry inspector at the time and was one of the earliest members of the underground resistance movement inspired by de Gaulle from his London exile.

After de Gaulle became president for the second time in 1958, Poher's enthusiasm waned. Last month, his opposition to administrative reforms proposed by de Gaulle helped to bring the general's downfall.

NLF extends holiday ceasefire

SAIGON (CP) — The National Liberation Front announced today Viet Cong forces will observe a 48-hour ceasefire to mark Buddha's birthday.

The announcement, made on the Viet Cong's clandestine liberation radio, said the ceasefire would extend from 7 a.m. May 29 to 7 a.m. May 31.

The Viet Cong ceasefire is 24 hours longer than that announced by the South Vietnamese and U.S. commands, which will last from 6 a.m. May 30 to 6 a.m. May 31.

Celebrations for the 2,513th anniversary of Buddha's birthday take place May 30.

The broadcast, monitored by the U.S. mission in Saigon, made no mention of whether North Vietnamese forces would observe the ceasefire.

It said the central committee of the NLF decided to cease military attacks throughout South Vietnam because of the front's policy of respect for religious freedom.

CITIES BOMBARDED

In the ground war, guerrilla gunners today bombarded the northern cities of Hue, Quang Ngai and Quang Tri, but reports indicated no casualties and little damage.

Three rockets exploded near the walls of the ancient citadel in Hue, the former imperial capital, a South Vietnamese spokesman said.

Quang Tri was struck by three rockets and to the south three mortar shells thudded into Quang Ngai.

Six members of a U.S. Army mine-sweeping mission team today were killed in Quang Ngai province when they were ambushed by North Vietnamese. The Americans withdrew after a short exchange of fire, a U.S. military spokesman said.

Ten Americans were wounded. North Vietnamese losses were unknown.

More than 700 southern allied troops, including about 300 Americans, and 4,000 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were killed in the Vietnam war last week, preliminary reports today for allied sources said.

Leftists seize Sudan

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A leftist government was installed in Sudan Sunday after an apparently bloodless coup by a group of colonels.

The officers overthrew a civilian regime headed by President Ismail el Azhari and Premier Mohamed Mahgoub and vested supreme power in a National Revolutionary Council headed by Col. Jaafar al Numairi, the army said in a broadcast.

The council banned public gatherings, closed all banks, suspended newspaper publication, annulled the 1954 provisional constitution, and dissolved the cabinet and the constitutional assembly. Airports were closed but reopened Sunday night.

Numairi, a former defence minister, was described by sources in Damascus as an extreme leftist. The sources said the new leaders in Sudan are leftist Socialists or Communists and that their government probably would follow political and economic policies similar to those of Egyptian President Nasser.

The Sudanese radio said the revolutionary council had promoted Numairi to major-general, named him commander-in-chief of the armed forces and reappointed him defence minister in a new 19-man cabinet. The new premier is Babakar Awadallah, also regarded as left-leaning, who resigned as Sudan's chief justice in 1964.

REMOVE TOP OFFICERS

Numairi purged 14 top military officers from their posts.

New commanders were named for the air force, the Khartoum garrison and all armored units. A new police chief also was appointed.

There was no immediate word of the whereabouts of the ousted president and premier. Gen. Hamdallah Deif el Nil, the ousted army chief of staff, was reported on the run but later announced he had given himself up.

The army said a hunt had begun for the ousted ministers of defence, justice, communications and health.

The new premier said in a broadcast that his regime is determined to go away with "Bickering political parties" and set Sudan "on the road to freedom and socialism."

News in brief

Fifty killed

At least 50 persons died in accidents across Canada during the weekend, 41 in traffic.

A Canadian Press survey from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday night local times also showed that eight persons drowned and one died in a fire.

Quebec reported 24 traffic deaths—including seven in a two-car collision—and two drownings. Ontario had eight deaths, six on the roads, one in water and one in a fire.

Pilot plane

CARIBOU, Me. (CP) — An Air Canada passenger plane headed for Montreal from Moncton, N.B. Sunday guided a lost single-engine plane with three persons aboard to a landing strip here after an urgent message from Boston Airport.

Captain A. L. Shaw of the Air Canada Vanguard plane told airport authorities the Boston air traffic control centre messaged that the plane, a Piper Cherokee, had lost its bearings along its flight plan.

It was in danger of running out of fuel.

Record salary

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago's public school teachers have voted 9,776 to 585 to accept a new contract which ends a two-day strike and makes them the highest paid teachers in major U.S. cities.

The agreement was worked out last week by the Chicago Teachers Union and the board of education.

The one-year contract gives teachers a $100-a-month raise and provides fringe benefits and improved working conditions.

Starting teachers will receive $8,400 annually effective in September. Detroit ranks second in starting teachers' salaries with $7,500.

Detective shocked at slaying youth

TORONTO (CP) — Detective James Sugden Saturday described at a coroner's inquest his partner's shock at having fatally shot a Portuguese youth May 4.

Testifying during the third day of the inquest into the death of Angelo Nobrega, 20, shot in the head after he and his two brothers were stopped as suspects in a theatre break-in, Detective Sugden said he saw Detective Kevin Boyd lurch backward from the waist as if pushed off balance, saw the flash, heard his partner's gun discharge and saw the youth fall.

"I was shocked. So was Kevin. There was a look of disbelief on his face. Time just stood still. It seemed so long. I wish many times I had a photograph of his face. He was agitated, disbelieving, shocked, all at the same time."

The other brothers, John, 17, and Jose, Angelo's twin, began yelling, and for the first time he realized the three were brothers, Detective Sugden said. He handcuffed them together.

"Both got violent, especially Jose. He took a kick at Detective Boyd and he started to kick me."

"I can remember Kevin saying: 'Christ, call an ambulance, get an ambulance.'"

ASKED TO DEMONSTRATE

Detective Boyd, 33, who had given the bulk of his testimony Friday, was asked Saturday by T. I. Goldin, lawyer for the Nobregas, to demonstrate how the incident occurred

Charged in axe murders

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (CP) — Frederick Moses McCallum, 19, is scheduled to appear in court today on two charges of non-capital murder in connection with the axe slaying of seven persons last Jan. 30.

McCallum was originally charged with seven counts of non-capital murder and was committed for trial following a closed preliminary hearing April 18. The original charge was withdrawn and McCallum charged in the deaths of Thomas Pederson and John Baptiste Herman.

McCallum's court-appointed counsel, J. H. Clyne Harradence of Prince Albert, says he will seek an adjournment when court opens.

Crown prosecutor Serge Kujawa said, however, he would oppose a delay and would call about 14 witnesses and submit about 10 exhibits.

McCallum, a Metis laborer from Buffalo Narrows, a remote Saskatchewan community, was arrested shortly after the seven bodies were found in a two-room home in the community 210 miles northwest of Prince Albert.

RCMP found the bodies of Thomas Pederson, 32; his children Grace Ann, 8; Robert Thomas, 5; Richard Daniel, 4; and Rhoda Beatrice, 2; in the home with the body of John Baptiste Herman, 48, of La Loche, Sask., a house guest.

When you look at all the cards there is always a right way to play a hand. When you are just looking at your hand and dummy you can only follow the best percentage and hope.

South wins the club lead and leads a diamond toward dummy. If he rises with the king or queen and East ducks with his ace, South is going to be a disappointed declarer. Assuming that the defense doesn't fall apart, South will wind up making just eight tricks.

If South plays a low diamond from dummy everything will be fine. The sun will shine, the birds will sing and he will make four or five odd, depending on whether or not he wins the second club.

Move the ace of diamonds over to the West hand. South will make 12 tricks if he rises with the queen, since a second diamond lead toward dummy will bring home the whole suit with the loss of just one trick. The duck play will also bring home the game but there will be considerable sacrifice of overtricks.

It is also possible that the duck play will lead to defeat of the contract while the queen play will be a winner. Just start off West with four diamonds to the ace. The duck play will lead to only eight tricks, the queen play will produce nine.

Since a suit will break 3-2 about 68 per cent of the time, the duck play has to be superior in rubber bridge. In duplicate declarer has more of a problem, although we do favor the duck. The reason is that some pairs in a duplicate game will play the hand in diamonds. Maybe as high as six, maybe as a part score. A declarer who makes four no-trump will beat all diamond games and part scores. A declarer who goes down at three no-trump will lose to everybody.

SINGAPORE SWINGS at night. Entertaining sightseers, Malay dancers like this one move in figures—as in square dancing—with music which embodies Western influences, probably brought by Portuguese traders.

Waterloo Legion Auxiliary donates to various causes

WATERLOO — The Ladies Auxiliary of Legion Branch 77 had a busy meeting on May 13 when they voted to donate money to underprivileged children, the Canadian Cancer Society and the Sherbrooke Hospital.

Sixty dollars will be allotted to send local children to Camp Livingstone this summer. Also $15 each will be donated to the Cancer Society and Sherbrooke Hospital campaigns.

THE WELL CHILD

No Specific Treatment For Hepatitis Carrier

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

A mother writes that her son was born with viral hepatitis and died at 10 weeks. Although this woman was never jaundiced and never had a transfusion, her doctor said the baby's infection was transmitted through the mother's blood. She would like to have another baby and wonders how she can prevent it being born with hepatitis.

If her doctor has reason to believe that she is still a hepatitis carrier, he should arrange for an exchange transfusion of the new baby at birth. There is no specific treatment for this disease as yet and a person may remain a carrier for many years.

Q—My son, 5, is normally intelligent and I would like to send him to kindergarten but I am afraid the children would tease him because he drools. Could this be due to the fact that he is a mouth-breather? Is there any treatment for this condition?

A—Mouthbreathing interferes with the proper development of the teeth and jaws. It may indeed result in chronic irritation of the gums and drooling. Other possible causes for drooling are nasal obstruction, malformation of the upper jaw and habit. Nasal obstruction requires surgical correction; a malformation of the jaw requires orthodontia; and the breaking of an undesirable habit requires motivation. If structural changes are ruled out and habit is the cause, ridicule by other children may provide the motivation he needs.

Q—What would cause continual nonpainful cracking of the wrists and ankles in a girl of 15?

A—The cause is either a roughening of the opposing joint surfaces or the snapping of a tendon as it slides over a bony prominence. The condition does not affect the child's health but it may cause embarrassment she may be able to reduce the noise by avoiding sudden jerky movements.

REV. D. J. GILLIES

Prison was his parish

SCOTSTOWN — (Staff) — Rev. D. J. Gillies, who arrived here recently to administer to parishes in Scotstown, Milan and Megantic, says of one of his recent positions that "the prison was his parish."

This refers to his position as Protestant chaplain at British Columbia Penitentiary which he filled from 1952 to 1966.

Mr. Gillies, who graduated from Presbyterian College, Montreal, in 1933, was in Cape Breton from 1935 until 1942 when he joined the 27th Canadian Armored overseas until 1946. Upon his return to Canada in 1946 he moved to Vancouver Heights Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Gillies is no stranger to the Scotstown area, however, having spent a number of summer vacations here.

Three die in crash near East Angus

EAST ANGUS — (Staff) — Three persons were killed and another injured in a head on collision, Sunday evening, near East Angus.

Dead are Mr. and Mrs. Ludger Denis of Weedon. A third person has not yet been identified.

Injured is Miss Doris Poudrier, of Granby.

The accident occurred about 7:45 p.m. about three miles from East Angus.

Mr. and Mrs. Denis were traveling alone while Miss Poudrier and the unidentified person were occupying the second car. Cookshire QPP are investigating the accident.

Sherbrooke

Two persons were injured Sunday afternoon, when their small foreign car hit the rear of another vehicle on King Street West.

Injured are 20-year-old Denise Berthold, of 2193 Denault Street, and 19-year-old Susan Cochran, of 2192 Denault Street.

They were both taken to St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, where they were released later. Both suffered from superficial injuries.

One man escaped injuries, last night, when his car struck a concrete lane divider on King Street West, to end up crashing into a steel fence of a nearby residence.

The driver, Julien Noel, of 2551 Maisonneuve Street, was not injured, but his car received heavy damages.

Noel told police he was passing another car when he struck the concrete divider, and ended up crashing into a steel fence of a nearby house.

Bird watcher's notes

By J. GRAHAM PATRIQUIN

Three excursions of Bird Club members have turned up a trump each outing. A Wednesday night group - 16 - on Cote's Island had a superb view of a perching Osprey, sitting undisturbed on the left bank of the St. Francis. The Island yielded another species of unusual interest, a few days later, when careful observers noted the curved bill of a Greater Yellow-legs.

Massawippi Fish and Game Conservation farm visit was good for the season's first (Myrtle) Warbler, Brown Thrasher, and a nesting Black Duck with seven eggs to start her 1969 family planning. She may have had worrisome problems, too; the next was located a full half-mile from the nearest swimming-water, and that will mean a lot of duck footing for the tiny juveniles on their first hike to the marsh.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Fontaine hosted an evening group around their cottage on Lake Massawippi where a Great Blue Heron showed for a season's first, and a pair of Yellow-bellied Sapsuckers, ordinarily shy of humans, worked over a dead elm in front of the observers, who had ample time to check and recheck color spots and all markings from the Field guide.

Hugh Doheny was happy with a viewing of two Cormorants, near the junction of the Massawippi and St. Francis. This was a repeat sighting; they were at the same location in 1968 for a single observation. You have to go quite a few miles before they are common on a freshwater stream.

Lifting mail a bad habit

Cashing someone else's cheques sent one man to jail for six months, Friday, when he appeared before Sessions Judge Roland Dugre.

Valere Beaugard, 26, of Sherbrooke, was arrested after he had been spotted by policemen, taking mail from boxes.

Beaugard changed his plea to guilty. He was awaiting announcement of another sentence to be delivered next July for a similar offense.

Judge Dugre decided to sentence the man to six months concurrent on each offense.

Beaugard had been arrested before for similar offenses.

Judge Dugre expressed the hope that six months in jail would help Beaugard in changing his attitude towards theft.

Richmond County historians decide on museum entry fee

RICHMOND — (Special) — Miss Jean Pepler was re-elected president of the Richmond County Historical Society at its annual meeting held in Richmond recently. Other officers re-elected were: honorary president, M. Harkom, honorary first vice - president, Miss E. Dunn; honorary second vice - president, Sister Litchfield; honorary third vice-president, Mrs. Grant Harris; past president, F. Wintle; first vice - president, D. Hall, second vice - president, Mrs. H. Snaden; third vice-president, G. Skilling; recording secretary, Mrs. S. Husk; corresponding secretary, Mrs. H. W. Dapp; treasurer, M. McLennan; chairman of museum committee, Alec Booth; archivist, MacKenzie Paige; publicist, Mrs. S. Husk; directors:

Mrs. M. Fraser, Ian Smith, Miss M. Boast, and Paul Delaney. Mrs. I. Fallon replaces a former director. Building and grounds committee: J. Batstone, F. Wintle and G. Ewing. Letters were read from the provincial minister of cultural affairs acknowledging the society's request for a grant for the museum, and stating that this would be given consideration after approval of the budget.

The treasurer's report was given by M. D. Fraser. Books have been audited by H. Nowland and found correct, and the bank balance is satisfactory. Miss Pepler reported on the sale of hasti-notes which had been made up using the sketch of the museum drawn by Capt. Brown. Sketches have now been made of the stone schoolhouse at Pierce's Crossing, and of the covered bridge at Salmon Creek, and these will be used in the same way. Packages of 12 notes with envelopes, four of each design, will be sold for $1 when the new ones are ready. The report of the museum committee was given by Mrs. MacNaughton. It has been decided that the museum will open for the summer Saturday, June 14, and will be open each Saturday from 2 to 5 p.m., until September 27.

This year there will be a small charge for admission, 25 cents each for adults, 15 cents for children coming alone. There will be no charge for children accompanied by grown-ups, or on educational tours.

It is felt that four people are needed in attendance at the museum when it is open.

Fred Wintle has retired as chairman of the building committee, and his place has been taken by J. Batstone. Plans are underway for some landscaping of the grounds, and general improvements to the exterior of the building.

As a mark of appreciation for their many hours of painstaking work in editing the book "Annals of Richmond County", Mrs. A. T. Smith and Mrs. Stafford Husk were voted live memberships in the Society. Mrs. Grant Harris voiced the gratitude of the members to them, mentioning the tedium of work such as this, and how valuable it had been to the Society to have it so carefully done.

An interesting chronicler's report of news-making events in the county in the past 12 months was presented by Mr. MacKenzie Paige, concluding with mention of the deaths of some of the respected older residents. Miss Pepler thanked all committee members for their work during the year.

The county president, Mrs. Calvin Harvey, presided over the meeting. The secretary, Mrs. George Fernibough, read the minutes of the annual convention held in May 1968 at Stanbridge East, the semi-annual meeting held in September 1968 at Cowansville and the board meeting held in February 1969 at Fordyce. The county treasurer, Mrs. Simon Bidner, gave a balanced and detailed report on the County funds, which showed a substantial balance.

The conveners of the various committees then read their annual reports. The report for agriculture was read by Mrs. Gordon Brown, for citizenship by Mrs. King Shephardson, for education by Mrs. George David, for home economics by Mrs. Irene Williams, for publicity by Miss K. M. MacIntosh and for welfare and health by Mrs. John Wanzer.

After lunch, which was served by the members of the Dunham Branch, Mrs. Walter Westover of Sutton, took the chair for the election of the county officers for the year 1969-70, with the following results: President, Mrs. John Wanzer; first vice-president, Mrs. Simon Bidner; second vice-president, Mrs. Irene Williams; secretary, Mrs. George Fernibough; treasurer, Mrs. Roy Jenne.

This was followed by the election of the county conveners: Agriculture, Mrs. Gordon Brown; citizenship, Mrs. King Shephardson; education, Mrs. Wallace Doherty; home economics, Mrs. Irene Williams; publicity, Miss K. M. MacIntosh; welfare and health, Mrs. Douglas Vaughan.

The newly elected president, Mrs. Wanzer, then took the chair for the rest of the meeting. Plans were made for the semi-annual meeting to be held in Stanbridge East in September.

This 58th convention was honored in having as guest speaker Mrs. Westover of Sutton, who is the second vice-president of the Provincial WI. She announced that the coming provincial convention at Macdonald College will be shortened to one and one half days for the branch delegates.

She spoke of increasingly meagre assistance given the Quebec, WI by the provincial government, which compares unfavorably with the situation in other provinces.

She read an interesting history of the J and P Coates Thread Co. which sponsors handiwork competitions in the various WI groups. In closing, she reminded her listeners to "Learn more, live better" and to show toleration to all races, creeds and colors.

After the adjournment of the meeting, afternoon tea was served by the ladies of the Dunham Branch.

Prison organist and chaplain are guests of Brome church

BROME — Those who attended the Sunday evening service at St. John's Church were inspired by the organ music, provided by Thomas Simpson, organist at the St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary and the Old Brewery Mission. Certainly at no time in the memory of those present had such music been heard and the volume of singing was evidence of the pleasure derived from it. Also of great talent were the four solos sung by Mrs. Edna Badger.

Rev. Henry Blase, Anglican Chaplain, at the penitentiary, gave a short but soul-searching message to leave everyone thinking about his role as a Christian and attitude towards those who are endeavoring to take their place in society after serving a sentence.

Mr. Blase spoke of Christ's answer to the thieves crucified with him and of the love and forgiveness He has for us.

After the close of the service many expressed personal appreciation to Mr. Simpson for his magnificent playing and to Rev. Blase for his meaningful message.

It is expected that Mr. Simpson and Rev. Blase will be returning to conduct another service in June.

Safeguard Against Acne
Medical writers seem to agree that soap and water are among the best weapons against acne. To prevent blemishes, tiny skin glands should be allowed to become unplugged. How to do it? Washing. But this must be done properly. Soap and water, and the use of a soft brush (NOT a harsh one which will irritate the skin), to be followed by copious rinsing with fresh running water.

No money, no job, no husband

VANCOUVER (CP) — A Grade 8 education, married at 16, three children, no money, no job, no husband. Handouts, welfare, subsidized housing.

This is a familiar combination for many women in Vancouver. Many want out, but they can't find a baby-sitter to free them for the course that would make the difference.

But a small group of women are slowly and carefully climbing out of the spiral of depression. A course, the carefare to attend, and the baby-sitters have been provided.

And they're trying. They're being helped, but probably for the last time.

Fifteen women now meet daily in an informally arranged but strictly run classroom. Their students again. Their children are in the care of sitters paid by social services.

The provincial government's education department has approved the courses they take, and the federal manpower organization is paying the salary of instructor Betsy McDonald.

CLASS IS EXPERIMENT
The Vancouver school board is paying for the classroom space and the Vancouver Vocational Institute set up the program of studies.

The idea was born in one of the city's housing projects where two women started MOMS—More Opportunity for Mothers.

The class is an experiment to determine whether this is the way to get women in this situation off welfare.

The first thing that was discovered is that there are more women looking for this kind of help than there are classroom chairs. Fifteen were chosen from the 57 who applied originally. Many more have inquired about the program.

What they want to know is how to catch up on a life that went by while they were trying to be breadwinner, mother, budgeter and worrier for a family that had no man in it.

Most of the students lack not only education but also the confidence to go out and apply for a job.

MAY BE WAY OUT
Mrs. McDonald is the pre-training class teacher. She is helping the women brush up on arithmetic and English, plus exposing them to a variety of speakers who advise them on the advantages and obstacles that will be theirs when they are off welfare.

Nutrition, child care, money management, speech, dress and self-assessment are some of the subjects covered.

Not all the women are young. Some have grown children and a lifetime of defeats behind them. Some have been trapped only long enough to make them fight against the conditions.

When the course ends, they'll be given aptitude tests and advised of possible next moves. It will be a way out if they make the grade. Their children will know a different life than one on welfare, and this is what the women want.

Ray new trial bid opens

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — James Earl Ray makes his bid today for a full trial on a charge of murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.—a crime he admitted with a guilty plea 11 weeks ago. J. B. Stoner, a member of Ray's third team of lawyers, said he was prepared to put his client on the witness stand if developments at a criminal court hearing permitted.

Ray, serving 99 years in the Nashville state prison, was brought to Memphis Thursday and is being held under heavy security precautions in the county jail.

A witness stand appearance by the 41-year-old prisoner would have interesting possibilities. At the time of his guilty plea his then lawyer, Percy Foreman, expressed in court a personal conviction that there was no conspiracy in the April, 1968, King assassination. Ray said "I don't agree," but did not elaborate.

Ray is asking a new deal in court on the grounds that his former lawyers did not provide him with adequate counsel and forced him to plead guilty. He also contends the subsequent death of Judge W. Preston Battle, who accepted the plea, guarantees him new trial. The presiding judge for today's hearing, Arthur Faquin, will decide whether the case should be reopened and whether to allow any testimony.

WROTE TWO LETTERS

Ray wrote Judge Battle two letters from prison asking for a new hearing. Battle died in late March without acting on the requests.

Ray asserted that Foreman, his second lawyer, and a previous lawyer, Arthur J. Hanes, wanted him to circumvent a full-scale trial through a guilty plea so their royalties from books and motion pictures on his life would not be jeopardized.

He argued that if he had gone to trial, the facts in the case

B of M plans new Hong Kong branch

MONTREAL — Bank of Montreal plans to establish its second office in south-east Asia at the Crown Colony of Hong Kong have been announced by J. Leonard Walker, president.

Mr. Walker said the proposed Hong Kong office will complement the B of M's representation in Tokyo and will strengthen the bank's operations in the Pacific rim, which is becoming increasingly important to Canada's economy. In Hong Kong, the bank will be in a position to take better advantage of the outstanding trading potential of the area, he added.

The decision to open in Hong Kong follows a recent visit there by Mr. Walker and by Peter R. Shaddock, executive vice-president, international banking. Mr. Walker is a member of the steering committee of the Pacific Basin Economic Co-operation Committee and the bank has recently become a founding shareholder of the Private Investment Company for Asia.

Hong Kong is Canada's second largest trading partner in south-east Asia. The bank's new office is designed to strengthen and develop Hong Kong-Canada business ties and will fill a two-way information function for businessmen in the two countries.

In April, the bank announced plans to open its fourth branch of the Bank of Montreal (California) at San Diego. An office was opened at Milan, Italy, in November and, earlier last year, equity interests were acquired in Joh. Berenberg, Gossler and Co. of Hamburg, and in Banque Transatlantique, Paris.

The B of M also maintains its own offices in Paris and Düsseldorf. Other foreign B of M offices are in London, Mexico City, Tokyo, New York, Chicago, Houston, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Sacramento.

It also has a one-third interest in the Bank of London and Montreal Limited, its affiliate in the Caribbean and Latin America, which has 45 offices in that area.

Offshore rig goes after oil

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (CP) — A multi-million-dollar offshore oil rig now searching for oil off the coast of Canada's Vancouver Island is to be shifted to New Zealand soon at a cost of more than $2,000,000.

The rig has been obtained by Shell, BP and Todd, a New Zealand oil group which recently found crude oil off the east coast of New Zealand but lost the use of its drilling rig before it could make further test bores.

The quality of the oil, the first deep oil ever found here, now is being tested in laboratories.

Shell-BP-Todd have hired the rig from the South Eastern Drilling Company of Dallas, another Shell subsidiary. Built by the Victoria Machine Dept. Co. of Vancouver, the rig houses 70 men on a large semi-submersible platform and can operate in up to 600 feet of water.

It is designed to be strong enough and big enough to withstand the heavy battering from seas it is likely to receive 40 miles out on the continental shelf of New Zealand.

In Memoriam

FULLER — In loving memory of our Mother and Grandmother, Mary Fuller, who passed away May 25, 1966. We often sit and think of you. The things you used to say and do. Three years have now gone by, but memories of you will never die. Always remembered and sadly missed by: HER CHILDREN and GRANDCHILDREN

Bishop confirms candidates at Danville

DANVILLE — The Right Rev. R. F. Brown, Lord Bishop of Quebec, officiated at the confirmation service in St. Augustine's Church on Ascension Eve when 25 candidates were presented by the rector, Rev. L. G. Westman, to the Lord Bishop.

Following the Laying on of Hands, two members of the congregation, Sidney Griffin and Frank Davidson, Asbestos, were admitted as Licened Layreaders. The sermon was given by the Lord Bishop, who spoke to those who had been confirmed in that evening — and as always — gave them a message on learning to live in this world as true Christians. The newly confirmed young people partook of the Sacrament of Holy Communion, administered by the Lord Bishop and by Mr. Westman. Many of their relatives and friends availed themselves of the opportunity of partaking of the Lord's Supper. The choir, augmented for the occasion, entered the church with Michael Smith as Crucifier, while the Servers were Claire Cleveland and Brian Patterson. The offering was received by Donald Williamson, Melvin Taylor, E. G. Stevens and E. E. Lockwood. Following the service the candidates signed the Registrar and posed for their photographs, after which a social hour was enjoyed with tea and coffee, served by members of the Altar Guild, under the supervision of the Leader, Mrs. E. G. Stevens. On Ascension Day there was a house Confirmation, at which time the Lord Bishop confirmed Myron Chaddock and Mrs. Avery Denison. Rev. and Mrs. Westman entertained at luncheon.

Last high school graduation, prize giving exercises held at Pope Memorial High School

BURY — The auditorium of the Pope Memorial School was filled with parents, relatives and friends attending the graduation and prize giving exercises of Grades 10 and 11 on Friday, May 9. There was a note of sadness on this gala occasion as the 1969 class is the last to graduate from this High School, which will now revert to the status of an Elementary School.

The auditorium was most effectively decorated for the occasion, carrying out the theme, April showers bring May flowers. Multi-colored streamers in a riot of color hung from the ceiling along the walls, umbrellas in various colors were suspended from the ceiling, interspersed with silvery pendants scintillating as they swung to and fro. Huge blossoms of many colors were a colorful accent on the wings of the stage and here and there in advantageous points was a trellis forming an archway at the entrance. Decorations were the work of the Grade 10 pupils, who are to be highly commended for their artistry.

At the appointed time the 28, Grade 10 students filed in and took their seats in the front rows, followed by the 30 graduates, who took places on the stage. With Mrs. Myrna MacAulay, principal, presiding, the program opened with O Canada followed by an appropriate prayer by Rev. M. Jones.

In her remarks Mrs. MacAulay gave a brief resume of the history of the school, opened in 1953, and of its predecessor, the Fairview High School, opened in September, 1907, only to be destroyed by fire on June 1, 1908, but immediately rebuilt on the same site and opened again that year. This school had succeeded the Bury Model School, opened in 1883.

Mrs. MacAulay referred to former members of the school board, now defunct, and introduced those who were present in the audience. In her comments on some of the teachers who have given service to these schools, she paid special tribute to the late Margaret Mayhew for her 30 years of outstanding service. She then introduced the guest speaker, Dr. J. D. Jeffries, who gave a most inspiring address to the young graduates. Dr. Jeffries was thanked by Shirley Allison.

The valedictory was given by Leona Hodge, reviewing in retrospect the eleven years of school life and stressing the importance of putting into action the principles therein acquired, to make of themselves worthy citizens, as they take on more responsibility in phase of life they are about to enter.

The program closed with God Save the Queen.

The auditorium was then cleared for dancing to the music of Les Beaulieu's orchestra at which time they were joined by members of the junior grades.

Previous to the program, a banquet was held in the same place with the graduates, teachers and parents as guests. The toast to the graduates was proposed by Ronald Stokes, and replied to by Lloyd Barter.

St. Paul's Ladies Guild catered to the banquet.

The new tough beauties

A new breed of motor cars, with the sleekness of a siamese kitten and the strength of a jungle lion, has burst upon the Canadian scene. Meet the Peugeot 204's, featuring a front wheel drive which laughs at Canadian winters, without needing snow tires. But, f.w.d. gives something more, space. You will find the 204 bigger on the inside where it counts and smaller on the outside where it costs. Through the use of a light alloy overhead camshaft engine, Peugeot engineers have seen to it that this fine motor car offers the optimum in staying power. You will find the 204 will endure even the longest trips at maximum speed. And because it has the sophisticated and unique Peugeot patented suspension, it will withstand continuous punishment even under the most adverse driving conditions. Perhaps these are some of the reasons why the Canadian Motorist called the Peugeot 204 'one of the most interesting vehicles on the North American Market.'

10 SHERBROOKE DAILY RECORD, MON., MAY 26, 1969

Two shutout wins in AL action

American League pitchers Jim Lonborg of Boston Red Sox and Denny McLain of Detroit Tigers both produced shutout wins Sunday.

Lonborg, the league's 1967 Cy Young Award winner, and McLain, his successor last year, each pitched seven scoreless innings as Boston nipped Chicago White Sox 1-0 and Detroit trampled California Angels 10-0.

Lonborg, bothered by recurring shoulder trouble that has kept him from pitching a complete game this spring, scattered four hits before Vicente Romo preserved Boston's first shutout in 40 starts.

McLain, who pitched six innings last Thursday in a 7-3 loss to Chicago, bounced back with two days' rest. He blanked the hapless Angels on two hits for his seventh victory in 11 decisions with relief help from John Hiller, a native of Toronto.

McLain also won his seventh a year ago on May 25, and went on to a 31-6 finish.

CAN'T TOP BALTIMORE

Despite the Red Sox' fifth victory in six games and the Tigers' sixth in seven, neither could pick up ground on Baltimore Orioles, the Eastern Division leaders, who shaded Oakland Athletics 5-3.

Don Buford hit a two-run, eighth-inning double and extended Baltimore's winning streak to five games.

The loss, coupled with Minnesota Twins' 2-1, 3-2 double-hit one in the second game of a doubleheader, but the Giants lost both to Pittsburgh Pirates, 2-1 and 6-2.

In other games, Atlanta Braves bounced Philadelphia Phillies 4-1, St. Louis Cardinals blanked Los Angeles Dodgers 4-0, San Diego clubbed Chicago Cubs 10-2, but dropped the second game to the Eastern Division leaders 1-0.

May drilled a three-run homer to break a 1-1 tie in the third inning and then unloaded a lead-off shot in the sixth. In two games, he drove in eight runs against the Expos, who lost their 10th straight.

May, who has smacked seven homers in the last 10 games, got plenty of help Sunday.

Bobby Tolan also homered for the Reds. Alex Johnson and Tony Perez added two hits each.

Norm Miller collected four hits and Curt Blefary three as the Astros whipped the Mets and Tom Seaver.

The Astros, who have won eight straight games and 17 of the 21 this month, belted Seaver for three runs in the first inning with Blefary's double and run-scoring singles by Miller and Jesus Alou.

Jim Bunning of the Pirates won his 200th major league game, beating San Francisco in the opener of their doubleheader. Willie Stargell's eighth-inning double drove home the winning run.

McCovey and Bobby Bonds hit second-game homers for the Giants, but it wasn't enough against Pittsburgh. Bill Mazeroski's homer touched off a three-run Pittsburgh third inning and Carl Taylor later tagged his first major-league homer for two more runs.

Palmer is given 6-1 odds

NEW YORK (AP) — Arnold Palmer has a 6-to-1 chance to qualify for the U.S. Open Golf championship.

That's the general outlook for the golfing millionaire and 682 other players shooting for 117 places in the tournament's 36-hole sectional qualifying tests at 14 locations June 23.

The 117 qualifiers, plus 33 players who are exempt from qualifying, will comprise the field of 150 in the June 12-15 main event at Houston, Tex.

Palmer will compete with 51 lesser knowns June 3 at McKeesport, Pa., for eight qualifying spots.

The 39-year-old greenskeeper's son from Latrobe, Pa., was exempt from last week's local qualifying tests as the 1969 Open champion.

Palmer will be paired with Lew Worsham, another former Open champion, as he tries to qualify for the most important of all tournaments in the game he has long dominated.

MOST EYE MEMPHIS

Most of the touring pros will attempt to qualify June 2 at Memphis, Tenn., where the Memphis open starts the following Thursday. The seven field at Memphis will compete for 29 Open spots.

Among the players will be Gardner Dickinson, winner of last week's Colonial Invitational, 1967 British Open champion Roberto de Vicenzo, 1969 tournament winners Tom Shaw, Ray Floyd, Chuck Courtney, Larry Lowry, Dale Douglass, Ken Still and Larry Hinson.

header sweep of the Yankees at New York, dropped Oakland 1 1/2 games behind the leading Twins in the Western Division.

Elsewhere, Kansas City Royals edged Washington Senators 3-2 in 12 innings and Seattle Pilots beat Cleveland Indians 3-2.

Don Wert drove in four runs with a homer and single, Willie Horton and Dick McAuliffe also homered as the Tigers handed California its 10th consecutive loss.

FOUR-HIT HOMERS

Buford's tie-breaking double with the bases loaded sent the Orioles to their 10th victory in 11 games. Boog Powell and Brooks Robinson drilled homers for Baltimore while Mike Hershberger and Danny Cater connected for the Athletics, who have lost six in a row.

Minnesota's Dave Boswell hurled a three-hitter and doubled to touch off a two-run, seventh-inning rally in the opener at Yankee Stadium before a crowd of 57,445, biggest in the majors this year.

Harman Killebrew delivered the winning run with a sacrifice fly and also knocked in the deciding run in the nightcap with a seventh-inning single. Rookie Dick Woodson blanked the Yankees on four hits until the ninth, when he needed relief help from Ron Perranoski.

Bob Oliver's triple and Ellie Rodriguez' double in the 12th swept the Royals past the Senators, who have lost five games in a row.

Tommy Harper stole three bases before drawing a bases-loaded walk in the eighth to force in the tie-breaking run against Cleveland.

Emphasis is back to the driver

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The emphasis is back on the drivers for this year's Indianapolis 500, with A. J. Foyt driving from the pole position in the Memorial Day race.

The turbine car, which came close to winning the last two years, did not make the grade Sunday as the starting field of 33 cars was completed.

This year's only turbine entry ran at 156,440 miles an hour, four m.p.h. slower than any other car.

Foyt won the pole position Saturday with a speed of 170,568 m.p.h.

The number of foreign drivers in this year's race shrank to two when the builder and designer of the Lotus cars, Colin Chapman of Britain, withdrew the last of the Lotuses, driven by Joachim Rindt of Austria and 1966 Indy winner Graham Hill of England. They made no qualifying attempts.

"It's tragic, I think," said Hill. "Lotus put so much time into these cars."

TWO FOREIGNERS ENTER

Denis Hulme of New Zealand and Jack Brabham of Australia are the only foreign drivers in the race.

Chapman said the Lotuses were withdrawn because of concern over the safety of their wheel hubs.

Foyt was joined in the front row by two-time pole sitter Mario Andretti and defending champion Bobby Unser. Andretti qualified in 169.851 m.p.h. and Unser, who won from the third spot last year, had a 169.683.

The second row drivers, who posted speeds of 168 m.p.h., are Mark Donohue, Gordon Johncock and Roger McCluskey.

McCluskey is driving one of the three cars entered by owner-driver Foyt. George Snider put the other car in the 15th starting spot to give the team a three-for-three record. ENTERS THREE OF 11

In contrast, STP magnate Andy Granatelli got only three of his 11 entries in the Lotuses were among the STP cars.

Andretti, Granatelli's main hope, demolished another Lotus last week when a hub broke off and switched to an older car with a Brawner Hawk chassis and turbo-charged Ford engine.

Foyt, whose car also is turbo-Ford powered, is looking for a record fourth win in the race which will be held Friday.

Unser and Donohue both have Lola cars with turbocharged Offenhauser engines. In all, the field has 11 turbo-Fords, 19 turbo-Offys, Dan Gurney's stock-block Ford engine and the two Australian-made Repco engines in Brabham cars.

Billy Vukovich, last year's rookie of the year, was the fastest qualifier Sunday at 164.843 m.p.h.

Bert Yancey captures Atlantic Classic Golf Tournament title

ATLANTA (AP) — Bert Yancey, steady under pressure, birdied the first and second holes of a sudden-death playoff with Australia's Bruce Devlin and captured the Atlanta classic golf tournament title Sunday.

The 30-year-old veteran, who had not won a tournament since 1967, claimed the $23,000 jackpot with a seven-foot putt on the second play-off hole.

Yancey sank a 10-footer for a birdie on the 18th to tie with Devlin over the 72-hole route, and he knocked in another 10-footer on the first extra hole for a birdie, matched by Devlin with a six-footer.

Devlin dropped to second, worth $13,100, when he hit his tee shot on the par three second play-off hole 30 feet from the cup and missed the putt. Devlin blew a two-shot lead when he shot one over par on the 16th and 17th holes, but salvaged a tie with a 10-foot birdie putt on the 18th.

PLAYER WAS THIRD

Devlin and Yancey both shot closing 69s for tournament totals of 277. Gary Player was third with a 78 for 278, and was battling for the title until he slammed his tee shot into Sope Creek on the 15th hole.

Bruce Crampton, who started the day two shots in front, skidded to a 73 and finished fourth at 279, with George Knudson of Toronto, Grier Jones, and Pete Brown tying for fifth at 280.

Arnold Palmer closed with a 72 for a distant 287, but he still beat big Jack Nicklaus, whose finishing 72 left him at 292.

"I feel like a million dollars," said Yancey, who had never before been in a playoff. "It's unbelievable to me that I could make three putts like that."

Devlin said: "I didn't lose it — Bert won it. When you make two putts like that in a playoff, you deserve to win."

RAIN HALTS PLAY

Play was halted for 51 minutes by wind-whipped rain as the leaders headed into the final nine holes.

Yancey and Devlin both made strong runs, but both faltered before their tying putts on the 8th.

Devlin bolted into contention by sinking four straight birdie putts — 5, 15, 25 and 30 feet — but he shot one over par on the 16th when he drove into a trap and he strayed over par again on the 17th when he hit into the trees.

"You might say I blew it there," he said.

Yancey fired a front nine 34 and he birdied the 15th to move within a stroke of the lead. He slipped back on the 17th where he hit his second shot far off the green, but Devlin's troubles gave Yancey another chance and he took advantage of it on the 18th.

The triumph was only the fifth in Yancey's career. It boosted his money winnings this year to $50,323.

Alouettes open their '69 season

The Sherbrooke Alouettes open the season this weekend with two exhibition games against the Granby Cardinals.

On Saturday night, the Alouettes lost what turned out to be a very close game by a score of 3-2. In Sherbrooke on Sunday afternoon the local team was able to make a comeback, and defeated the Granby troupe by a narrow margin of 13-12.

These exhibition games will give the coaches in the league an opportunity to re-evaluate the present state of their teams. Coach Brumley is expected to make a number of changes in his lineup.

The official season opens on May 31. The Sherbrooke team's first game will be on Sunday, June 1, a double-header against Theford Mines. Season tickets are now on sale.

What is there behind the Indianapolis 500's popularity?

INDIANAPOLIS — (NEA) — The 500, not too long ago, was a technological bore. Sure, you had 33 cars flying down the brickyard at varying rates of speed and the spectators screamed and tossed beer cans and got plastered and all that.

After all, what's an Indy for? More of a spectacle than a test of cars and men? A place to be on Memorial Day? Why do perhaps 300,000 people pay as much as $35 a ticket to watch cars race for 500 miles? Why do they jam theaters for closed-circuit telecasts?

There are, of course, any number of historical and psychological explanations. Some accredited experts like to suggest the Basic Morbidity Principle (people like to watch other people kill themselves.) But no thoughtful person who has ever rally seen the race gives BMP much credence.

Then there is the Vicarious Identification Theory (man in stands sees himself as man in racing car) and this has some possibilities. And the Fine Old Tradition Hypothesis (58 years of Indy racing is akin to motherhood, the flag and apple pie) is not without a certain acceptance.

Not much of this has to do with motor racing, perhaps because Indy had never been much of a test in the last 20 years. The drivers, good as they might have been, were saddled with just about the same cars and the same tried-and-true methodology practiced on the brickyard for years.

Australian Jack Brabham changed all this in 1961 when, wonder of wonders, he brought to Indy an oddball rear-engined British car called a Cooper-Climax. The other 32 cars carried the same old Offenhauser engine in the front, the way it had been done for more than a decade.

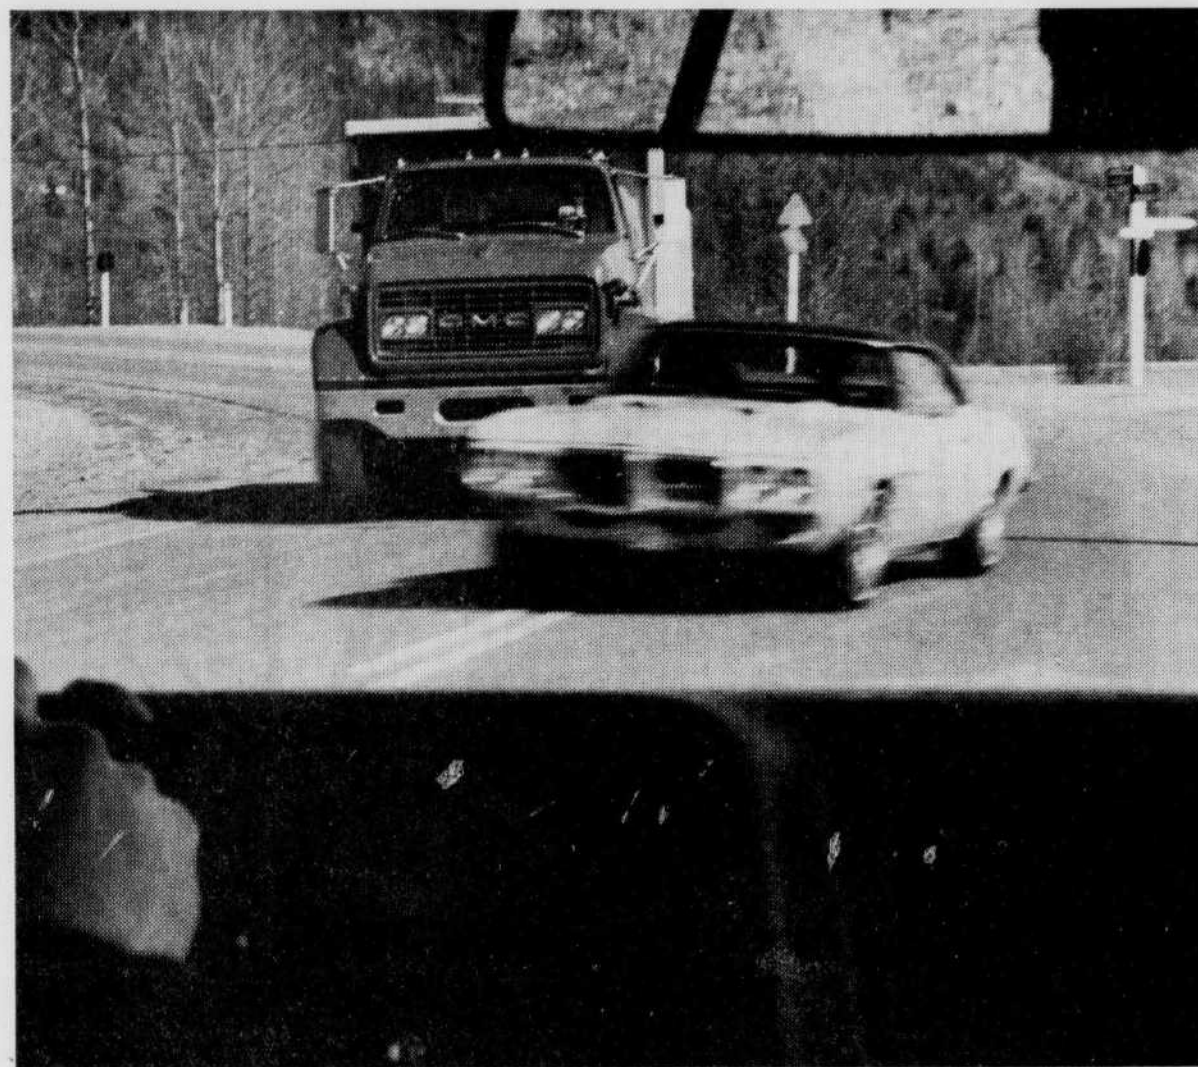

Well, Brabham finished a respectable ninth and, although the Indy boys didn't know it, effectively ended the domination of the Offy and remade the 500. Four years later Jimmy Clark won in a Lotus-Ford and the revolution was complete.

Technology had returned to Indy. The Offys are back with a vengeance, but equipped with turbochargers and almost completely re-engineered. Brabham is back with his own engine, there are a clutch of turbocharged Fords, a couple of Chevys, Plymouths and something called a Navarro-Potter.

The cars to watch are the ones that look like wedges. They were introduced last year by Lotus designer Colin Chapman and are all over the place. Only one front-engined car has been entered, an Offy.

B.F. Goodrich launches the Radial Wide.

Don't be caught dead without them.

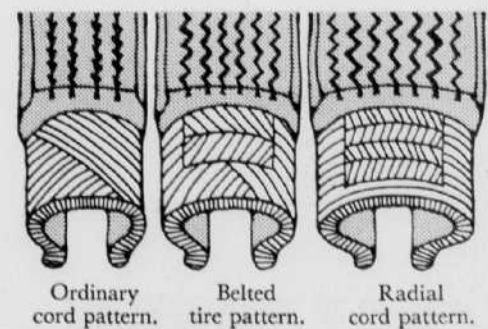

New Radial GT Wide's are life-savers. They'll out stop, out corner and out handle any tire made in Canada.

The new B.F. Goodrich Radial GT Wide is built to keep you safe. There isn't a tire made in Canada that can touch it. It'll out stop, out corner and out run them all. It's the first radial built wide and low specifically for North American cars.

A new kind of construction:

The Radial is the ultimate stage of tire development. It obsoletes ordinary tires... and goes a giant step beyond the new "belted" tires. The Radial GT Wide runs circles around other tires because that's the way it's built. Instead of criss-cross cords, Radial cords run parallel to each other and a rigid belt of cords circle the tire like a hoop. Result:

6 plies under the tread, less heat build up, less distortion and more stability. New ideas in rubber are, of course, nothing new to B.F. Goodrich—we invented the tubeless tire.

Up to double your usual mileage:

Compared to standard equipment tires, the Radial can give you 10,000, 20,000 even 30,000 extra miles. Heat developed by high speed driving is a tire's greatest enemy. Because the Radial generates far less heat than old fashioned designs, it takes a lot longer to wear out. Its tread is 26% deeper than ordinary tires. It can cut tire operating costs in half. What's more, B.F. Goodrich guarantees it for life against defects and road hazards.

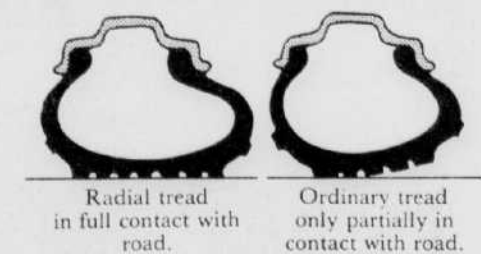

This is going to stop you:

The Radial GT Wide can shorten braking distances dramatically. Because you get up to 41% more tread on the road — plus a tread that can't distort or squeeze out of shape — you stop shorter and safer.

Every corner in Canada is now less of a corner:

The Radial GT Wide will show what it's made of the first corner you take. The tread stays put. There are no stiff sidewalls to lift the rubber off the road. On wet and slippery corners, the tire sticks with you. On dry roads, you'll find out why people buy sports cars.

Your life isn't all they can save:

The Radial GT Wide has an unexpected bonus. You might not expect a tire of this quality and performance to have a frugal side... yet it does. The Radial rolls easier and has less drag. You can save up to 10% on gas consumption and give your engine a little softer life.

10-day free trial:

The Radial GT Wide is now available in sizes to suit most domestic cars. And, there's our European made GT-100 with a unique tread design to suit imported cars. You can try the GT Wide today on a special 10-day free trial, at participating dealers. Drive into your B.F. Goodrich dealer's listed below. You won't drive the same car out.

SHAVING STROKES

by Frank Beard

4-The Putter—(2)

The fellow who first said, "Nobody's perfect," was doubtlessly talking about a golfer. In fact, the greatest attraction about the sport is probably the popular knowledge that nobody ever has and nobody ever will play this game perfectly.

When properly applied, this little item can help your putting.

No matter who you are, you are not going to hole all the putts you strike. Even good golfers, they say, hole only about 35 per cent of the average-length, m a k a b l e putts.

A figure like this gives your mental attitude toward putting a lot of leeway.

For instance, if I go through 18 holes with the attitude that even if I miss a putt I think is makable—six inches or 20 feet, any distance—that my 35 per cent is coming, I'll put much better.

So, don't get upset, don't let your temper take over and don't start feeling sorry for yourself, your time will come. The big thing is not to let your confidence wane in any respect. Just feel that if the best putter in the world only makes 35 per cent and if I can make 33 per cent, then I'm at least on a par with the best putter in the world.

If I miss a putt, I may say, "Golly, I sure would have liked to have made that," but I feel I'll make it on the next hole.

Now, maybe I don't make it on the next hole. The key here is not to take a short range view of this. It may work over a period of 10 years, which is even better. The longer it works the more consistent you'll be.

If you'll reconcile yourself to the fact that patience is the byword, you'll help your over-all putting and maybe increase your percentage.
