

Private bill is forecast to preserve tenant vote

The rights of Westmount voters who are tenants rather than property owners will be protected, according to a statement by Mayor J. C. Cushing at Tuesday's annual meeting of the Westmount Municipal Association.

In a speech in which he outlined past activities and future plans of the city council, Mayor Cushing said that "steps will be taken, if necessary by private bill, to insure that citizens of Westmount who are not paying property taxes directly will not be disenfranchised."

Last month 4,500 tenants in the City of Outremont had their names deleted from the election list following a court order stating that tenants not paying property taxes could not vote.

Other plans for the future listed by the Mayor included the increase of the city's quick borrowing power for temporary loans in anticipation of revenue from bond issues or taxes; the preparation of the tax roll every three years instead of every one; and the increase of the city's powers of expropriation.

The latter, he stated, are at present somewhat restricted, and there is a need for powers at least comparable to those enjoyed by the City of Montreal.

Mention was also made of additional space required by the city hall offices, which, said the Mayor, are at present operating in somewhat inadequate quarters.

Capital expenditures in the coming year will not involve any major construction, he continued, with the possible exception of increasing the facilities and capacity of the corporation yard buildings, and continuing the program of expansion in the light and power department on lines of development laid down many years ago.

TRAFFIC PLANS

Future traffic plans will be concerned with removing hazards, he said, e.g. widening existing lanes to take care of modern transport; and straightening out the bend in Grosvenor avenue where it joins Montreal at its northern extremity.

Nothing will be done regarding the widening of Dorchester street west, the Mayor continued, until the City of Montreal decides to take similar steps between Atwater and Guy streets.

METRO

In talking of events of the past year, Mayor Cushing referred to metropolitan government in Montreal as "a milestone in the history of Westmount, Montreal, and Quebec. I cannot tell you the amount of time in man hours which has been consumed in working it out."

He mentioned the Westmount newsletter, whose first issue was devoted entirely to Metro.

Auto gutted by gas fire

A 1958 Hillman convertible opposite 22 Windsor avenue was completely gutted by fire Friday at 2.09 p.m. when children playing with matches set fire to some gasoline which was on the road beneath the car.

The car was owned by Mrs. John A. Walker of 47 Ainslie road, Town of Mount Royal.

Westmount Fire Chief Harper said the gas on the road probably came from the gas tank of the auto which was full. The car had been sitting in the hot sun, which could have caused a slight expansion of the fluid, which then dripped down to the street.

WMA chairman tables query with 27 items

A 27-part question which was submitted to the Westmount Municipal Association for consideration at its annual meeting Tuesday by A. Jacob Livinson, 114 Blenheim Place, was tabled by chairman F. W. Gross on the grounds that it requested the Association's opinion on the several parts, which he was not authorized at that time to express.

Mr. Livinson, an Association member, who accused the chairman and a fellow-member of ridiculing him in his attempts to be heard, later brought up a further question under the heading of new business, regarding the possible use of incandescent lighting on business thoroughfares.

Alec Heron, superintendent of the city's Light and Power Department later told newsmen that incandescent lighting, which did not require supporting posts, had been tried in several U. S. cities, and was not "an unqualified success".

The 27-part question was not referred to again until after the meeting, when city manager T. J. Hughes expressed the opinion that most of the suggestions involved considerable expense.

A question was addressed to Alderman Laird Bovaird requesting that steps be taken to improve the lighting on Winchester avenue.

"Something will be done," Bovaird assured the questioner. He reported that the city is planning an ambitious program of improved street lighting.

A further point arose on parking in Westmount lanes. Alderman C. Drury stated that parking in lanes, whether public or

Minister emphasizes potential in industry

Canada has sufficient potential to become one of the leading industrial nations of the world, according to Howard C. Green, minister of public works.

Green was addressing a meeting of the Young Progressive Conservative Association Wednesday evening at the Westmount Junior High School on the policies and objectives of the Conservative party.

The key policy of the Conservative party, he disclosed, is development. "The government is striving to develop the St. Lawrence Seaway, the North, oil and gas, a national energy program, the Columbia river area and the harbor at St. John's, Newfoundland.

"But at the same time," he emphasized, "the government is not neglecting secondary industries. We have devised a process to promote these industries, far from letting them lie fallow."

"Since our party came to power in 1957," he said, "many things have been done to combat the current recession. We have adopted a small home loan policy which has proven quite successful and has shown a record number of housing developments.

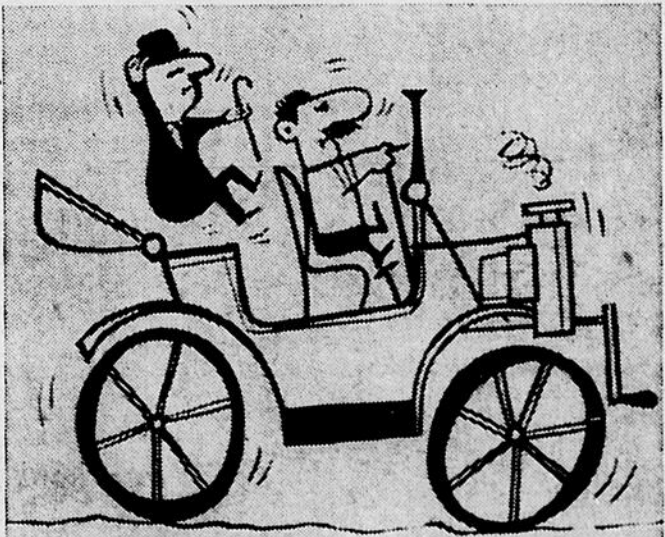

He stated that his party undertook programs to aid those Canadians "who had it tough," with old age pension increases, larger pensions to the disabled and programs to aid veterans and the development of Canadian agriculture.

"The Conservative party is anxious to help municipalities and the provinces," he continued. "Last fall the federal government met with municipal mayors in talks which proved both useful and beneficial. Incidentally, the provinces are getting more money from the federal government than ever before."

Concerning Canada's status in defence, he said: "Canada should do a fair share in defence production with her allies. Currently, defence agreements between Canada and the U.S. are working out much better than before."

Concluding on the note of the Commonwealth, he stated: "The Conservative government aims to make Canada a leader in the Commonwealth, to help her retain her place and show full power in world affairs, whether it be the United Nations, economic aid to other countries or showing her colors as a leader among the industrial nations of the world."

By MAURICE MARIASINE

The Unity Boys' Club summer program will get underway on Tuesday, June 30, with a trip to the Granby Zoo. It is expected that approximately 100 children will register for this special event. The last time that a visit was made by the Club to the Granby Zoo was on June 26, 1956.

Club members who wish to participate in this event are urged to register early. Further particulars may be obtained from Boys' Work Supervisor Robert Parker and Girls' Work Supervisor Crystal Cunningham.

HOBBY SHOW

The regular schedule of arts and crafts which started at the beginning of October 1958 and which was conducted on a weekly and biweekly basis since that time will come to a close on Friday, May 22, when the Club will hold their annual Hobby Show Exhibition.

Articles produced during the year will be on display. It is "Open House" for parents — they are urged to come to the Club and see for themselves what their children have accomplished constructively during the past season.

TALENTS OF '59

A preview of the Variety Show which will be presented at the Unity Boys' Club on Friday May 22, was presented at the Queen Mary Veteran's Hospital last Friday night. From the audience viewpoint the Show was a complete success — the patients' appreciation was genuine and enthusiastic and many of the acts were called back for encores.

Included in the May 22 show will be Mona O'Brien's majorette group who will present a baton twirling exhibition and several other club activity acts.

Following the Club presentation, the Talent Club's next assignment will be at Lake Placid, N.Y., on June 3, where the group will entertain at the Rotary International Assembly.

TRACK MEET

The facilities of the Westmount Athletic Grounds have been secured to conduct the Sixth Annual Unity Boys' Club Track and Field Meet on Saturday, May 30. Club members planning to participate in the Meet are asked to register immediately.

A meeting of the planning committee was held at the Club this week under the chairmanship of Club Supervisor Robert Parker. The program was reviewed and officials appointed for the Meet.

LAURIER CLUB

While all other group clubs at Unity are in the process of culminating their activities for this season, the Laurier Club under the capable leadership of Peter Doherty is carrying on and given every indication that this group club of 14 boys will continue their weekly meetings and discussions indefinitely.

Last week a constitution was drafted, an election of officers took place, interesting and educational movies were shown and the previous week, their guest speaker was Mr. Joseph Poirier whose principle topic was "Social Work."

Elected to office were: president, Michael Dwyer; vice-president, Buddy McKaig; secretary, Michael Bervaldi; treasurer, Richard Cooney; activities supervisor, Claude Servant. Peter Doherty in the group supervisor; advisor and consultant is Unity's Boys' Work Supervisor Robert Parker.

After attending the University of Toronto he joined the 42nd wing of the RAF in World War I and was stationed at Fort Worth Texas.

Talent Show scores hit at Queen Mary Veterans

A crowd of white-shirted, blue-corduroyed men gathered in the auditorium of the Queen Mary Veteran's Hospital Friday evening to witness the Unity Boys' Club Talent Show.

The men, many of them in wheel chairs, gave hearty rounds of applause to soloists Hannah Lebwohl, Audrey Jay and Cecilia Orsini, who sang some of their old favorites, including "I believe," "Toot Toot Tootsie."

The show opened with a precision chorus line performed by Ellen Rowland, Adele Prevost, Sherrill Muir, Linda Hotton, Carolyn Scanlan, Cheryl Dargavel and Patsy Prevost.

Also coming in for her share of the limelight was pint-sized Judy Matthews, who put on an impressive display of singing, dancing and baton twirling.

One of the featured performers was Wee Willie Starkey, who according to master of ceremonies Maurice Mariasine, Unity director, came out of "retirement" for the show. Starkey played guitar and sang professionally for several years, but now performs only for his own pleasure, or in the case of Friday evening, for that of others.

A phenomenal act was given by a young ventriloquist billed simply as Carolyn, who kept her audience laughing with the sharp repartee between herself, her dummy, Sandy, and his homely girlfriend.

All performers were greeted with enthusiastic applause. The program included Keyin Murray, Maureen O'Brien, Lily Parks, Frances Gould, Maxine Godfrey, Evelyn Anthony, "Pat and Erlana," Pat Collins, Maureen Rennie, Ken MacWhirter, George Luker, Evelyn Desjardins, Billy Smith, "The Youngsters," and a Charleston group.

Regular members of the Talent Show who did not perform were "Little Billy," Billy Walker, and Gerald Hebert.

J. G. Harper tops 1959 executive in WMA elections

John G. Harper, 640 Lansdowne avenue, was elected president of the Westmount Municipal Association by acclamation at Tuesday's annual meeting in Victoria Hall, as well as 45 other officers of the proposed slate.

Vice-presidents for the coming year are Geoffrey H. Merrill, 335 Clarke avenue, and Irving Backler, 44 Roxboro avenue; Mrs. Miller A. Peterson continues as secretary - treasurer.

An unexpected addition to the proposed slate of officers was announced just before the vote was taken. Mrs. Bernard T. Jones, 331 Clarke avenue, was nominated for an as yet undesignated position by 20 members of good standing in the Association.

Following the reading of the list, which contained an unusually large proportion of doctors' names, Association member Dr. Gordon Copping was led to comment that "Mrs. Jones must pay her medical bills very promptly." Audience reaction indicated that Mrs. Jones was a popular choice as a nominee.

President Harper told citizens he would bring his best efforts to the Association, and pointed out that there was "a wealth of talent" in the new executive. He then proposed a vote of thanks to Fred Gross, outgoing president, and his executive.

Other members elected to the executive are: H. V. Banks, J. C. Barry, J. B. Brierley, L. Brunton, J. Caplan, F. D. Cobbett, R. W. Coristine, P. G. Edgell, R. M. Everson, S. B. Fraser, J. A. Train crash hospitalizes
 Westmouter

Sidney B. Fraser, 58, 47 of Windsor avenue, was among five commuters taken to the Montreal General Hospital late Monday afternoon when the 4.40 CPR dayliner, headed for Ste. Anne de Bellevue, collided with an engine backing up on the same track.

Fraser, who is associated with the Commercial Union Assurance Company Ltd., was on his way home from his St. James' street office, and was standing inside the dayliner when the accident occurred.

"The next thing I knew, I was on the floor," reported Fraser from his hospital bed Tuesday. He suffered a fractured leg in the accident.

The engine which collided with the dayliner was backing into Windsor Station to link up with cars scheduled for Ottawa. Neither vehicle went off the rails, but all traffic in and out of Windsor Station was delayed for 20 minutes while CPR crews worked to clear the tracks.

There were nearly 300 people aboard the dayliner, of whom about 30 were treated in Windsor Station for minor cuts and bruises. Material damage was confined to the front of the first car of the dayliner, which was pushed in.

headed for two more at RMC in Kingston, after which he will receive his BA degree and embark upon a career in the army.

Boundary lines Westmount officer-cadet are often odd wins CMR graduate honors

By Nat Bernstein

Some people are often under the mis-guided impression that certain streets, running east to west or north to south, or any other way, form the basis of boundary lines between certain cities or towns. This is not so.

Boundary lines were mapped long before streets. And surprisingly enough to some people, streets were built over boundary lines. Except where marked on maps, there is no visible line separating Westmount and Montreal.

But the invisible line is nevertheless obeyed.

Dorchester and Atwater streets form four busy corners. There are traffic lights on each to stem the flow of traffic which crosses Atwater from Westmount and her surrounding areas as well as from Montreal and surrounding areas. There are also cars which come across Dorchester from Verdun and the areas about that city and from Montreal again.

And supervising this area is a Westmount police constable. His main function is to direct pedestrian traffic and keep a watchful eye on light jumpers. But hardly a day passes when he's not caught up in the middle of things keeping traffic moving in all directions.

The question will arise "why not a Montreal or Verdun policeman?"

The answer is simple. The boundary line separating Montreal and Westmount runs in such a way that three of the corners belong to Westmount and one to Montreal.

Strange boundary . . . Any more questions . . . ?

He was awarded the Prize of "Biff." Honor reserved for the cadet who has maintained the highest military proficiency while at the college. The prize, a pair of binoculars, was presented to him by solicitor general Leon Balcer.

WE SAY YOU SAY

Radar checking slowing traffic

RADAR check of traffic in Westmount is having the desired effect on the speed at which cars are going through the municipality.

Motorists appear to be conscious of the fact that they may run across the contraption at any spot in the city, and this is giving them pause for thought.

That pause is making all the difference.

There are some who are still trying to figure out ways and means of beating the system — but these are to be found everywhere, and they seldom win; never in the long run.

One motorist was overheard recently to say that he could nullify the effect of the radar check by switching on his electric turn signal when he was passing through it; another one has advocated blowing the horn to fool the electric-eye.

Neither works, we are told.

Vote of tenants to be protected

NEWs that Westmount is to take steps to protect the tenant vote in the municipality is heartening.

Following a court order that disenfranchised tenants not paying property tax in Outremont recently, Westmount began study of ways and means to remedy the situation in the local municipality.

The way is through a charter amendment and it is expected that the city council will prepare such an amendment to go before the private bills committee of the provincial legislature, at its sitting tentatively scheduled for the autumn.

About half the electors of Westmount are affected. Without this move by the city council, as a result of the court ruling in the Outremont case, tenants in Westmount would be unable to vote in municipal elections.

California resident writes to home town

Sirs:

Unless I write and let you know, you won't know that my copies of the Westmount Examiner are not correctly addressed. I have missed two copies, but received the May 1 issue today.

Having lived in Westmount for 45 years, you may well understand why I look forward to receiving the local paper with all the news from my old home town.

If it were not for health reasons and the gorgeous climate here, I would return to Montreal to live. The saying is quite true—"you can take the man out of Montreal, but you can't take Montreal out of the man". I lived on Clarke avenue before coming out here three years ago.

You were always threatening to charge five cents for the Examiner, and now I see that it has finally come to pass. I hope you receive many subscribers. I just can't remember when we didn't get it—and free.

Examiner profile:

He fights war and delinquency

The problems of youth and the danger of nuclear war are two exigencies that take up much of Professor Cuthbert Gorham Gifford's time. His academic job is associate professor of social work at McGill University.

Professor "Giff" Gifford, a 40-year-old former RCAF squadron leader with the DFC, and father of four, also is group work consultant to the Mental Hygiene Institute whose representative he is on the Youth Committee of the NDG Community Council, which issued the sound report on juvenile delinquency and plans a youth leadership week in the third week of September.

As for nuclear war, Professor Gifford is president of the with particular reference to nuclear war.

Professor Gifford said the group is now 60-strong, and a good beginning has been made on the first objective while on the second, individual members have written to the Prime Minister, the Minister of External Affairs and their own representatives in parliament.

The Schweitzer Group recently issued a statement on Canadian Foreign Policy which made nine recommendations. Among them were that Canadian foreign policy should be directed towards the reduction of tensions wherever they occur, and that Canada should urge the continuance of discussions between the U.S.S.R., U.S.A., and U.K. towards banning nuclear weapons tests, as an initial step towards disarmament, and as a beginning of understanding among the great powers.

Writer

The February issue of "Anglian Outlook" carried which is under the chairmanship of Kenneth Mackay and Mrs. J. J. Hill.

"The Youth Committee has found that there are enough facilities but a shortage of mature leaders and the opportunity of leaders to get to know the mental health aspect of group leadership or what makes kids tick," said Professor Gifford.

The professor knows what makes kids tick. As a social worker in Toronto after the war, he came in contact with the Beany Gang. (He hates the word gang and its sinister connotation). Disturbed by the out-of-focus coverage of the gang's activities by the daily newspapers, he wrote a less sensational account in MacLean's Magazine. Just recently he wrote a widely-read article for Week-End Magazine entitled "Myths of Juvenile Delinquency."

Local gangs

Asked if there were any gangs operating in Montreal at the present time, Professor Gifford winced at the word "gang" but replied: "Yes, there are plenty but they are not as big as the Beany and their roughness varies from group to group." As for girls, there are a number of hangers-on... "on the fringe."

Born in Montreal, the son of William A. Gifford, a retired teacher of church history at United Theological College, and the late Mrs. Gifford, he attended Argyle and Westmount public schools, and McGill. He has one sister, Hilda, who is chief librarian at Carleton University, Ottawa. After graduating in arts in 1939, he took a year of theology at United College and was assistant of the Student Christian movement at the same time.

At the beginning of his second year he enlisted as an AC2 air navigator, instructed at St. Jean's for a year and one half and went overseas in May, 1944. Posted to the RAF Pathfinder Force, he completed a double tour of 45 sorties.

While overseas Professor Gifford decided not to go into the ministry, and after interviews with RCAF counsellors he decided his profession would be social work.

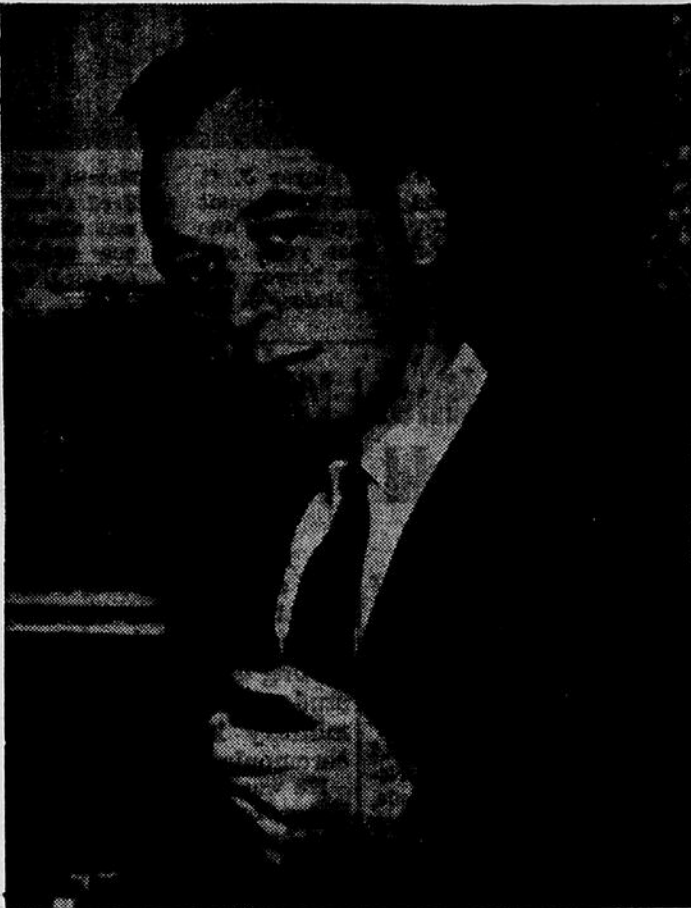

Professor Gifford chose the University of Pittsburgh and entered the veterans' scheme. He took social group work, graduating in two years' with the degree of Master of Social work.

His first job in 1947 was in Toronto as program director of a small settlement house called Central Neighborhood House. He also supervised the social work students at the University of Toronto. In 1942 he married Joyce Oliver, daughter of Canon Gilbert Oliver, formerly rector of St. Matthias and now of Rosemere Church. As head of a small family he augmented his salary that first year by shovelling sand.

Finds niche

As a result of the "Beany Gang" article in MacLean's, Professor Gifford was offered a job with the Bathurst Community Club where he worked for 15 months with boys aged newly-formed Schweitzer Group of the Unitarian Church of the Messiah, whose formation was inspired by the three Oslo broadcasts last year by Dr. Albert Schweitzer called "An Obligation to Tomorrow", his theme being the danger of nuclear war and practical alternatives to it.

Altruistic

"This appeal gave the final impetus to concern about nuclear war among some of the members of our church," said Professor Gifford, his brown eyes alight. "Once this concern was brought out in the open it became clear that a significant number of members of the church shared it and that there was a basis for a group. A lot of people think 'how altruistic', but you know that we owe it to the future of our children."

The objective of the group he said, is to become informed about the issues involved in the possibility of nuclear war, and to assist persons in the church who wish to do so, to give practical effect in individual and group action, to their concern about the dangers of modern warfare, and an article by Professor Gifford on the Schweitzer Group "An Effort to be Sensible."

The word "sensible" seems to sum up the professor's approach to the problem of juvenile delinquency. He is not an alarmist and has a great understanding of and a great faith in young people. "The problem requires common sense and good planning which we are just beginning, but there is no need for a crash program," he said. "There is no crisis here. It always has been with us. We haven't done enough and if we use what we know in an organized war we could improve the situation."

One of his 13 group work students at McGill—Mrs. Norma Zukerman—has been doing her field work with the N.D.G. Youth Committee. An Ethiopian, Yohannes Gerima, now a graduate, inlined this scheme, acting as executive secretary to the Committee

Roslyn H&S to fete principal

George H. Penrose, for 25 years the principal of Roslyn School, will be honored by his past and present colleagues on May 25, at 8:30 p.m., in the school auditorium.

Penrose, who has seen more than 4,000 children graduate from Roslyn School during his term, was at the very roots of the Quebec home and school federation 15 years ago.

On hand for the celebration and presentation of several moments will be fifteen past presidents of the Roslyn Home and School.

BALLET PERFORMERS:— When Madame Susta presents her ballet at Westmount Junior High School, on May 29 these performers are expected to share the limelight. On the left Marion Von Keller and Vincenzo Maruca attempt a "pas de deux." On the right, gypsies Noreen Slider and Elizabeth Lewicka display their form.

Noted European choreographer to present ballet at Junior High

Madame Charlotte Susta, who prior to her arrival in Canada was a noted choreographer in Europe is teaching ballet in N.D.G., apart from conducting classes in her own studio.

Madame Susta works mostly with children and obtains remarkable results. On May 22 she is giving a recital at Westmount Junior High School.

Having considerable experience in film and theatre work, she not only writes choreography for all her ballet numbers, but designs costumes as well. And they are truly beautiful.

It is a pleasure to attend a dress rehearsal at her studio. One can clearly see that ballet is her love and reason for life. She devoted 27 years to it and now she wishes to pour her own experience into the small bodies of her nimble pupils, working with them assiduously and smiling happily when they make progress.

"I wish to be able to show you what the ballet can do for the children to make them graceful and natural in a happy union of music and movement" — she explains in her charming, if halting English. "I would also like to let the parents and friends share a part of what we experience in our world of ballet—beginners" — she continues — "and also prove that the ballet helps to develop well formed and healthy bodies."

Madame Susta is certainly the best example of that.

Her pupils perform all kinds of work. There are of course such classics as 'pas-de-deux', but they require a little more skill and experience and are done by older students, while the folk and character dances are executed by the younger ones who do not lack verve, temperament or the best of intentions!

While Madame explains certain steps a large group of dancers sweep into the room in colorful, gypsy attire to perform an animated number and there are also singers among them. A solo dance is executed before the group resting on the floor, and there is hand-clapping and tambourine shaking which makes it all very lively and romantic.

People and Places

Note from R. H. (Ben) Rough, ex-Montrealer and now indoor, outdoor and sidedoor advertising executive in Toronto, to the effect he's heading for Montreal and some of the fine Au Lutin qui bouffe food, among other things . . . Bruce MacKay, owner of the Connaught Inn at North Hatley, back from a trip to Florida and Cuba, without a beard . . . Meanwhile back at the homesite, his genial associate Chet Gould had a siege of pneumonia . . . he's fine now and ready for the Summer fray . . . Uncle Beauregard, with the gentle season approaching, is pondering the purchase of Bermuda shorts . . . he is, however, slightly diffident about the project. According to him, most of his viewing experiences have consisted of short fat guys or very tall lean ones wearing them . . . Go ahead, Unc. on your trim figure they'll look good. Speaking of trim characters, nothing is entirely lost to culture and civilization in our time when sincere appreciation of good taste and talent, by a considerably younger board of judges, voted no less than nine TV awards to the very great Fred Astaire. We felt better forthwith (a real way to get into a happy euphoric frame of mind) . . . (And now to get out of it fast) Dorothy (ain't she sweet) Kilgallen reported to her faithful readership last week that the family of the late and widely lamented Cecil B. De Mille was seething because no Oscar was provided post-humously for his great film works. Dear, dear Dottie must be really confused. We have it on good authority that his immediate family couldn't have cared less . . . Furthermore, we're also very sure that Mr. De Mille wouldn't have wanted any part of the "production" connected with the recent Oscar award show . . . Besides, you and your grandchildren, dear subscribers, will be enjoying and savoring De Mille masterpieces on the late, late show for years to come . . . This in itself will be pretty fair honor and an appropriate monument . . . yes? . . . We're beginning to think our tolerance of a certain columnist is on a par with Frank Sinatra's opinions . . . (Let's forget it. Okay, Sis? — we mean our own.) . . . Montie Elsdon, Woodacres' owner at the Mansonville end of Lake Memphremagog, awaiting official confirmation as fish "Weigher-Inner" for the area . . . Mrs. Mary Miller in the same section would like it known that her Edgewater Lodge will be open this coming weekend (Victoria Day) . . . Hamish Hamilton (are you reading, Senneville?) an artist in his own right is developing quite a "paint and pallet" set at his Spring Valley Inn just outside South Bolton . . . we agree with Mrs. Hamilton that the Shaggy Dog Bar attached to the premises is "unusual", too . . . Roberta Stafford owner of Churchill Arms Inn in Stowe, Vermont, entertained six visiting Colombian newspaper men last week . . . they couldn't have visited a better place to sample North American hospitality.

Small Fry Note: Mr. and Mrs. Larry Heyer's very small son, Nifty-Cliffy, back from the hospital in fine and dandy shape . . . They run the Ski Inn in the same resort town . . . So, ending this portion on a true family note, we continue to . . . Review Out-of-Town Cabana Lodge, Route No. 1 at Magog: Host and owner, Leslie Brandt, unveiled the new and exciting Bahama Room recently added to his smart Cabana Lodge last Saturday. Overlooking Lake Memphremagog, with an unforgettable view of that famous and beautiful expanse of water, the decor of the room is a fine reflection of the owner's interior decorating talents and good taste . . . A comfortable fire-place, natural African wood panelling, wall-to-wall carpeting and a uniquely designed bar make up a perfect setting for the excellent cuisine and swell accommodations. Try it next time you're near Magog.

I went to the Norton Memorial Infirmary in Louisville, Kentucky, and stayed there for five years as director of group activities in the psychiatric department."

For the last two years he taught a course in the Kent School of Social Work at the University. He also acted as consultant for group work and recreation for the Kentucky department of mental health.

In the fall of 1955 he came to the Faculty of the McGill School of Social Work whose director is Professor John J. O. Moore. His predecessor as professor of group work was Miss Anne Zaloha who is now at the University of Hawaii in Honolulu.

Professor Gifford, his wife and family live at 4375 King Edward avenue. Children are Jocelyn, 15, a student at Monkland's High School where Professor Gifford is acting president of the Home and School Association; Christopher, 13, Brian, 10, both of Rosedale School, and Heather, 3.

Children's fund reports $53,194 for 1958 season

The Canadian Save The Children Fund received $53,194 between January and October of 1958, reported Quebec chairman R. O. McMurtry, MC, Monday night, of which more than half ($27,877) was contributed by the Quebec Committee.

At the annual meeting of the Quebec committee of the Fund at the St. James Club, Mr. McMurtry reported that 129 sponsors were brought in by the committee, and 167 children were sponsored, an increase of 20 over the previous year.

Among the officers elected at the meeting were Mrs. G. Gordon Hyde, 12 Grove Park, and Mrs. Samuel Bronfman, OBE, 15 Belvedere Road, vice-chairmen; Mrs. O. S. Tyndale, 115 Sunnyside avenue, honorary treasurer; and Mrs. John G. Harper, 460 Lansdowne avenue, director of publicity.

Goren to play in bridge meet

Charles Goren, noted American bridge champion, will be one of the guest competitors in the Canadian-American Regional Bridge Championships sponsored by the Montreal Bridge League at the Sheraton-Mt. Royal Hotel on May 15, 16, 17, and 18.

Maurice Paul, Henri Parent, and Mrs. Ida Kastner, all of N.D.G., and James D. Ross, Aaron Goodman, and Miss Helen Hague, of Westmount, are members of the tournament committee.

Included in the championship events will be: the mixed pair, ladies' and men's pairs, open pairs and the team of four. Intermediate and novice pairs will also be featured.

Directors from the West End are: H. Parent, Peter Schwartz, J. Boothby, Mrs. I. Kastner, Miss H. Hague, James D. Ross, A. Goodman, and Mrs. D. Roberts.

Raymond Daveluy given council grant

Raymond Daveluy, of 4211 Dorchester street west, Westmount, has been awarded a Canada Council grant which will allow him to take part in the International Festival of Improvisation on the Organ at Arnhem, Holland, in July.

The four organists selected to enter the organ competition which calls for extemporization on a musical subject include an Austrian, a Dane, a Dutchman, and Daveluy, a French Canadian.

The competition is only one section of a large festival of opera, concerts, and plays going on concurrently in many Dutch cities.

Daveluy is the organist for the Parish of St. Sixte in Saint Laurent and teaches at the Conservatory of Music in Montreal. He has had fifteen public recitals in Montreal and has performed with the Montreal Symphony Orchestra and the Montreal Bach Choir.

When the professor has time he likes to play golf or go on camping trips with his family. Last summer he was asked to go to the University of Utah to initiate a three-day course for the faculty of the School of Social Work. He has led sessions on social work at Canadian conferences in Edmonton and St. John's, Newfoundland, and has some more coming up shortly in Toronto and Charlottetown. The Almighty dollar commands a lot of respect. But it doesn't go as far as politeness.

PR chairman of Royal Tour

R. C. MacInnes, of 504 Lansdowne avenue, director of public relations for Trans-Canada Airlines, will be chief information officer and chairman of the public relations sub-committee for the royal visit.

MacInnes was a member of the working press at the time of the Canadian tour of His Late Majesty King George VI and Queen Elizabeth twenty years ago.

Since then he has served as deputy chief information officer for the visit of Their Royal Highnesses Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh in 1951 and as chief information officer for the 1954 visit of His Royal Highness Prince Philip.

Westmounter named on list

John A. Marlin, 419 Lansdowne avenue, is the only Canadian student to be named on the Dean's List at Harvard University, it was learned here yesterday.

Marlin is a graduate of Portsmouth Priory School, Portsmouth, Rhode Island.

More than 370 first-year students at Harvard have been named to the list on the basis of their mid-year grades.

INDUSTRIAL CHECKUP

Large industrial firms that arrange medical checkups for their employees find that the results are gratifying since quite often diseases are discovered in their earliest stages and prompt treatment can usually cure or arrest the condition. A chest x-ray discloses cases of tuberculosis, and other tests reveal heart trouble or diabetes which, if not diagnosed and treated in time, might have progressed to stages beyond successful control.

A Laurel To West Hill High

By Frances Goltman

THE ANNUAL SPRING CONCERT staged by the music staff of Westhill High School on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of last week in their attractive auditorium was run in professional style and certainly rated the tremendous applause accorded the nine sections on the program.

SOME YEARS, school concerts are better than others and this season the program comprised such variety that everyone enjoyed it from start to finish. It ran without a hitch and the music students' new sienna colored blazers are really eye-catching.

THE MUSIC STAFF of this large high school, Mrs. J. Penner, Mr. L. Gershkovitch, Mr. J. A. Etienne and Mr. J. G. Ringwood, deserve great credit since the results showed careful preparation and their respective qualified ability. The public generally does not realize the hours of labor that goes into any concert of this sort.

The program began with the Intermediate Band conducted by J. A. Etienne in "Little English Suite" by Leroy Jackson and the ever popular "Glowworm" by Lincke, arranged for band by Walters. Mrs. Penner led the well drilled Eighth Year Girls' Choir in "Sweet Nightingale" and "Lift Thine Eyes" by Mendelssohn. Haydn's "Minuet" from "The Military" Symphony and Ketelbey's "In A Persian Market" were splendid numbers chosen by Mr. L. Gershkovitch for the Orchestra. The Minuet was particularly good.

NEXT CAME a real novelty, the Dance Orchestra, 13 boys who received great applause for a medley from "Damn Yankees". They had had been expertly drilled by

J. Archie Etienne and played without a leader. IT WAS CERTAINLY A BUSY evening for Mr. Etienne, who conducted the Intermediate Band (two numbers), the Junior Band (two numbers), the Senior Band (four numbers) and directed the Dance Orchestra and Clarinet Quintet (composed of one girl and four boys). This experienced musician deserves congratulations for his skill in bringing out the best talent in all these categories. The (Continued on Page 8)

TULIP TIME: Pretty Maureen Manser adds her charm to that of the tulips which are now in bloom throughout Westmount, and especially in Westmount Park. Today marks the opening of the Ottawa tulip festival, and throughout Canada the popular flowers are reaching the height of their season. Planted in the fall by the city's Parks Department, they are the first blooms to be seen in Westmount Park, and the beginning of a long succession of flowers of all colors and sizes lasting throughout the summer.

Hymn followed by a rousing American Folk Tune, "L'il Liza Jane". Refined and sensitive coaching in "You'll Never Walk Alone" showed Mr. Ringwood's ability to produce a fine legato from high school students. "The Green-Eyed Dragon" drew tumultuous applause from the audience and the excellent diction made every word clear. Returning to a sober mood, the majestic "Land of Hope and Glory" by Elgar made a fine ending to the varied group.

TWO TALENTED SOLOISTS were heard, violinist Gabriel Ohlra, who had good tone and a flexible technique, in Concerto No. 2 by Sletz and pianist Leila Siegal, who not only played well as soloist with the Senior Band in "Night Piece" by Klein but proved herself an admirable accompanist with the violinist and the dependable pianist with the orchestra and Senior Band. Both students received much applause.

MR. LEONARD UNSWORTH Principal of Westhill High made a few timely remarks and thanked the students, music staff and audience for their co-operation. Mr. George Brown also spoke a few words about the benefits and necessity of the new Place Des Arts.

SPECIAL MENTION MUST be made of the artistic and effective lighting arranged by Mr. Earl Corey. Also to stage manager Mr. P. Church and to Miss E. McLeod for the posters she planned.

Book worms' paradise features best sellers

Just south of Sherbrooke street on the right side of Prud'homme there's a shop with a pink front and a half-painted sign.

Probably there are more books per cubic foot at 2268 Prud'homme than anywhere else in N.D.G.

It is behind this simple front that Miss Frances Liben lives, reads, and orders books. She has collected a lending library of over 6,000 of the last ten years' best books — novels, adventures, tall tales, and even a few biographies.

The Book Shoppe has dual citizenship because up until very recently it was situated in the heart of Westmount, on Greene avenue. In fact, it is quite a quizzical little shop when you explore its official papers — and find that it's the Greene avenue Bookstore Reg'd on Prud'homme!

Miss Liben explains that her library is in no way a competitor with the big public libraries. "Having the new books that can't possibly be gotten at the public library — and having them when they're wanted — is the business," she explains. "People don't mind paying five cents a day for a book as long as they can get a hold of it promptly."

The problem comes, in having enough copies of a single book at one time. Even with a large-scale enterprise it would be difficult to supply the public with enough Doctor Zhivago's!

"Every time a book comes in there's a new kind of excitement," says Miss Liben. It is hard work keeping up with all the books that are being published, catching up with books that the library needs, and balancing the books to have something left to buy new ones with. In fact, it's a 17-hour a day job.

The best titles make up this collection. In just peering over the well-filled shelves, and scanning the piles of books on the lending library table, the eye catches titles as varied as "The Bridge on the River Kwai"; "Some Came Running"; "Auntie Mame"; "The Old Man and the Sea"; "North from Rome"; and Gallico's "Mrs. Arris Goes to Paris". (Gallico wrote "The Story of Seven Dolls" out of which came the movie "Lili".)

Besides the big lending library Miss Liben has all kinds of pocket books, some for ten cents, and many Penguin books. Currently she is featuring a gardening book selection, and most particularly The Better Homes and Gardens gardening encyclopedia.

Nonchalant burglar lifts tape recorder leaves footmarks

A camera and tape recorder, worth approximately $280, were stolen from the home of Maxwell M. Kalman, 49 Aberdeen avenue on May 8. The theft was discovered shortly after 11.45 p.m., with two footprints the only visible clues.

Mr. Kalman stated that he and his wife were in the front of the house watching television when his son, Harold, who returned home at 11.45 p.m., reported that the camera and tape recorder had been stolen from his room in the back of the house.

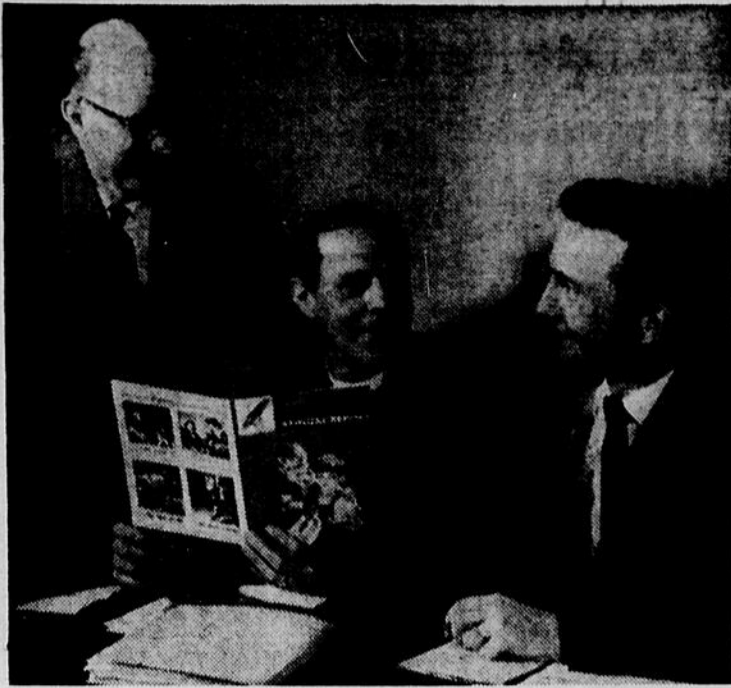

Upon being called, Westmount police discovered muddy footprints, size six, on the carpet directly beneath the window of the room, which was open 12 inches and locked in that position. Fingerprints were also discovered.

Police have not reported any further clues as to the identity of the burglar.

Sod-turning

The turning of the sod and ribbon-cutting ceremony for the new chalet at Trenholme Park will take place Friday morning at 9 o'clock. Parks officials promise a spanking-new modern style clubhouse for the West End park.

Local officials are waiting for word on development that will force action on the widening of Western avenue. This will be another unavoidable change due to the pressure of traffic. Walking along Western avenue near Lansdowne today, and seeing the new Skating Rink with efficiently paved parking space and surrounding sidewalks and roads, it seems very hard to imagine that prior to 1885 toll gates were located at this intersection, and on many other roads throughout the area now within the confines of the City of Westmount.

One paid a five cent fee to enter the roads at Greene avenue and Sherbrooke street; Decarie boulevard and Cote St. Antoine road; and various other places.

The Greene avenue toll, then situated in the Village of Cote St. Antoine, was moved about 1890 to Claremont and Cote St. Antoine, when the community became the Town of Cote St. Antoine. Tolls as a source of revenue were collected by the Turnpike Trust Company for the purpose of maintaining the roads. These tolls were progressively removed when the community became the Town of Westmount, so that none remained when it became incorporated as the City of Westmount.

Public money was not spent on roads in the early days, for it is recorded that $9,961 was expended by the Province of Quebec in the year 1906. Roads were simply drained by having ditches on either side. Some were made of gravel and others used planks. Atwater avenue near the Montreal Forum had plank sidewalks around 1905. The first asphalt road in the Province of Quebec was built in 1911.

Miss E. C. Langstaff, teacher at King's School, presented a skit by Grade II Girls and Boys entitled "Raggle Taggle Town Singers". The paper headpieces worn by the four principle characters were especially amusing - there was a Cat, Dog, Rooster, and a Donkey. Grade II sang several songs, among them were "It's Spring," "The Firefly," and a poem called "The Wind". Miss Vera Jamieson, expressed her pleasure at being able to resume her duties as singing teacher, after a lengthy absence because of illness.

Miss Viola Russell, Cote St. Antoine road, has left on a trip to Vancouver and Los Angeles. She is expected to return in about two weeks.

Dr. Alistair MacLeod, consultant psychiatrist on the Westmount School Board finds that new drugs aid in therapy for retarded children. "Until recently there was little that could be done for the many retarded children who were prevented from making the fullest use of their potential ability to learn and get along with others because of a physical handicap at the highest level of the nervous system. This handicap prevented them from focussing attention long enough to grasp the meaning of the requests made by their parents or teachers. Thus they were unable to show how much they really wanted to co-operate."

In Quietness and Confidence
By
The Venerable
R. Kenneth Naylor, D.D.,
Rector, Trinity Memorial Church

From the Church point of view this is a fascinating time of the year. First there is a period of stress, then a time of exultation, then a period of reconstruction followed by the departure of the Master. Then comes a new experience for the disciples - they simply wait quietly for something to happen. Even the impatient Peter carries out the Master's instructions, to go back into Jerusalem and wait for the fulfillment of the promise of the Father. We may think that it was not too difficult because they had only ten days to wait.
But the point is that they did not know how long the time would be, nor how the promise would be fulfilled. However, they had realized that their Master's departure was also His triumph and they returned to Jerusalem from the Mount of Olives; and they "all continued with one accord in prayer and supplication."

The Apostles were not idle, for they set about repairing the inroads that sin had made in their ranks, and were a complete body of Twelve when at last the promise was fulfilled -
"When the day of Pentecost was fully come they were all with one accord in one place." Then came the event that rewarded them for their quiet confidence, and that transformed them from a group to a body, from individuals to a brotherhood; from their various ways of living to The Way.

It is hard to realize the change because we are accustomed to see the Apostles as they are in the Acts - confident, sure and ready to face anything for the Master's sake.

In the Gospel story the Apostles are so overshadowed by the figure of the Saviour, that we ignore their shortcomings and failures, we pass over the self-seeking of James and John, the self-assertiveness of Simon Peter, the full-wittedness of all of them, and their

The Holy Spirit changed all that. They forgot their self-

Christian Science

Mankind's need for more spiritual thinking will be emphasized at the services in the Christian Science churches this Sunday. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Mortals and Immortals."

The Golden Text is from Romans: "They which are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God." Explaining the Bible readings will be correlative selections read from the denominational text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including the following: "Mortals must gravitate Godward, their affections and aims grow spiritual, — they must near the broader interpretations of being, and gain some proper sense of the infinite, — in order that sin and mortality may be put off."

in dawn prowl

A Hallowell street roomer who left two suitcases in lieu of rent due to his landlady returned to collect the collateral early Sunday morning—but without the rent.

At 5 a. m. Sunday morning
Mrs. P. Yubert of 75 Hallowell avenue told Westmount police constable K. Goodfellow that she was awakened by a noise in the hall of her home. She called, but received no answer, and upon checking found a man in the hall clothes closet.

"Get out or I'll call the police," said Mrs. Yubert, according to police statement. She said that the man then pushed past her saying that if she called the police he would smack her. He left quickly by the basement entrance, carrying two suitcases.

The man was Robert Laplante, who had formerly occupied room
no. 4 of Mrs. Yubert's establishment. The proprietress stated that she was holding the two suitcases in lieu of $24 back rent owed since April 7.

Laplante had said he would be back for the bags. He was.

If the majority of us could think back to our first trip into the woods after fish, I am sure that we would remember, not the first fish we caught, but the feeling we got from being close to nature, and the wonders of it. The wind in the trees, birds calling, the lap of the water on the shore, and the splendor of the woods as we idled down the lake under clear blue skies. To all of us I am sure that night in the country brings a variety of sounds that city dwellers never hear, and sights they never see, stars so close you feel you can touch them, reflections of the moon on a calm dark lake, and as night settles over all.

by the chirp or flight of birds through the trees, animals both large and small in some way communing with one another and nature. Even if fishing is not your favourite pastime, everyone at some time or other should in some way spend a little time close to the wonders of the wild and learn what it feels like to be alone and close to nature and the sense of peace you can obtain there.

When talking to an ardent fisherman one of the first things he will say is, it's not how you fish, but when you fish. You can have the finest tackle money can buy and be right up to date on the latest methods, but they claim you'll come back empty handed if you pick the wrong time of day to fish. Many claim, and plan their trips accordingly, that the first quarter and the new moon are the times when fish are most active.

Following is a rundown on the best times to fish during the coming week, which may in some way help you to plan a few of your days if you are one of the fortunate fishermen who will find time off during the week to fish.

According to indian guides, stars, the moon and such, the days line up like this, May 11 1 p.m. to 5 p.m., May 15 5 a.m. to 9 a.m. then 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. May 16, 5 a.m. to 9 a.m. then 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. May 17, 5 a.m. to 9 a.m. then 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. May 18, and 19, follow the same pattern as the 17th. The change comes on the 20th when the best times that day to fish would be from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. then 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. Following these times and your own fisherman's instinct should reward you with a catch worthwhile telling the boys back home about.

Just in case you pick a day that turns out to be windy, and that could easily happen this time of year, my tip would be to always try the on-shore wind

Davis cup tilts set for July 24

Montreal will play host to two Davis Cup ties this summer as Canada meets the winner of the Australia vs Mexico match and the victor of that series engages the winner of the Southern Zone.

Pepsi lose and win in Snowdon play while Dow is the other club victor

It was a loose game of ball that Pepsi and Pinky Stamps played at Willibrod park on Tuesday night when 21 runs crossed the plate with Pepsi winning 16-5. They lost on Sunday to Dow and now have a 1-1 record.

Two homers for Pinky by Leo Harris and Maurice Racette still only gave the Stamp boys five runs. Pepsi ran wild in the second frame with eight runs crossing the plate.

They shoved three more across in the fifth and two in the sixth. They scored single runs in the third, eighth and ninth innings. Pinky got all their runs in the fourth, fifth and sixth frames.

made his debut a good one when he scored the winning run to beat Pepsi Cola 7-6.

Bagshaw scored from second base on a base hit by Ab Ryan colliding with Dave Broadbelt at home plate, which prevented the catch or the play being made.

It was an opener with the usual Snowdon flavor with league officials, city and teams all at hand for the first ball throwing. Councillor Harold Cummings made the first pitch while Assistant commissioner W. M. Bradley was at the plate.

Cliff Bowles was the pitching hero of the piece. He replaced starter Gilles Legare in the sixth inning.

After a scary beginning which saw Pete McManaman single to score Kevin Brady on Bowles' first pitch, the Brewers' reliever settled down to hurl a steady contest.

Dow, the defending flag winner, had things pretty much its own way in the early going. Marcel Pepin tripled to score Jacques Belanger for the first of three third inning runs.

Rollie Dupas' sacrifice fly accounted for the second tally, scoring Pepin, and Chuck Klein added another point when forced in from third.

Then, in the sixth frame, Pepsi erupted. Broadbelt singled to bring in Ray Denoncourt and Brady did the same to cash Dave Bernard and Broadbelt.

This tied the score at 3-3 and sent Bowles in to relieve Legare. McManaman poled a single and Brady headed for home on Bowles' initial pitch.

In the eighth inning Pepsi added two more runs on wild tosses by opposition players.

At the bottom of the inning the Brewers' fought back with a three runs to deadlock the count at 6-6.

Ryan singled to score Bagshaw, Lebreche came in on Rousseau's sacrifice fly and Ryan hit pay dirt when the second baseman missed a hard single by Stan Diamond.

Keep all tools sharp. A jack knife should be of good steel, not too large, preferably with two strong blades, a can opener and a leather punch. A small pocket stone is handy for touching up knives and a small flat file will put an edge on an axe or sharpen hook points.
