City is prepared for Royal visitor

Today The Queen is in Canada. Yesterday Newfoundlanders spent anxious moments wondering whether the fog would lift, allowing the Queen's plane to land in Tor Bay where an official reception had been planned for weeks.

Less than a week from today, she will be in Westmount, passing beneath the two white, flag decked towers on Sherbrooke street just west of Atwater, which will mark the entrance to Westmount.

Banners, shields and flags will decorate her route through the city on Thursday afternoon. In city hall square alone, 22 gold-topped, tall white poles will boast streaming banners of a tricolor pattern.

Gold poles have been erected on The Boulevard and Sherbrooke street to match opposite lamp standards, from which banners will also fly.

On Argyle avenue, shields are already in place on light standards and matching black gold-topped poles opposite. Yesterday morning city workmen completed the decorations on this street by placing two flags, crossed behind the shields, on each pole. The shields are of four types: the "ER II" insignia on a yellow field; the red lion of Scotland rampant on a yellow field; the three gold lions of England couchant on a red field; and three silver fleurs de lis on a blue field.

A detachment of 360 of the military, 425 cadets, 45 RCMP officers and RMCP reserves, will line the route and the city hall section in addition to members of the Westmount Police Department, and police detachments from neighboring communities.

Through the efforts of Wing-Commander C. D. Barnett, Headquarters, Air Defence Command, the co-ordinating officer for all services troops and cadets, and Lieutenant - Colonel V. Leduc, Headquarters, Quebec Command, the parade marshal, adequate military units will be on duty to assist in keeping order at the City Hall site.

Units represented will be from the RMR; RCAF; 3rd Column RCASC; RCOC School; 3rd Field Regiment Eng'rs.; RCA Cadets and RCAF Cadets; 14th ROD; and 11 Signals Regiment.

Officers of the RMR will be wearing dress uniform, assistant city manager N. T. Dawe stated yesterday; however dress swords and other arms will remain sheathed, as this is not a military parade.

On the lawn in front of city hall, a roped-in section with space for 3,000 spectators is being set up. The space surrounding the cenotaph is open to spectators as are the streets in the general area.

The schedule for the Queen's visit to Westmount has been geared to the minute. Guests invited by the city to sit on a platform in front of city hall must be in their places by 2.30 Thursday afternoon, one hour before Her Majesty's actual arrival.

The schedule is as follows:

3.23 p.m.: Royal cavalcade enters City of Westmount at eastern boundary at Sherbrooke street west near Atwater, and proceeds along Sherbrooke street

Library closes

The Westmount Library will be closed for approximately six weeks, for building alterations, starting the night of June 30, to re-open about the middle of August. A definite date will be announced later.

The library will also be closed on Wednesday, June 24, (St. Jean Baptiste) from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m., and on Thursday, June 25, from 1 p.m. till 6 p.m., on the occasion of the visit of Her Majesty to the City of Westmount.

Three injured in auto crash at Dorchester

Injuries were sustained by three persons following an automobile collision recently at the corner of Atwater and Dorchester avenues.

Injured were Mrs. Juliette Beland, 40, 801 Canning, Thomas MacCambridge, 28, of 6865 27th avenue, Rosemount, and Charles MacCambridge, 15, of 466 Claremont avenue. They were taken to the Montreal General Hospital for treatment.

Involved in the accident was Romeo Lepine, 27, of 2264 Quesnel, and Thomas MacCambridge. Lepine, whose passenger was Mrs. Beland, told police that he was travelling south on Atwater behind a taxicab, when upon approaching Dorchester the cab suddenly pulled to the left. He pulled to the right, he stated, and struck an auto that was making a left turn onto Dorchester from Atwater.

MacCambridge, driver of the second auto, stated that he was making a left turn onto Dorchester, that the two side lanes were clear of traffic, and that "he pulled in and stopped, waiting for the inside lane to clear. A car suddenly came down at a fast rate of speed from the middle lane and struck the right of my auto."

Girl's condition critical following car accident

Doctors are fighting for the life of a young TCA air hostess who at last report lay unconscious in the Montreal General Hospital following an accident at the corner of Wood and Western avenues early Monday morning.

Miss Gisele Bouchard, 28, of 1465 Crescent street, was still unconscious three days after the accident, with a severe head injury keeping her on the critical list.

The accident occurred 6.30 a.m Monday and involved two autos, one driven by Miss Bouchard, the other by Roch Fortier, 27, of 2208 Valois street, a signalman at Coteau Station.

Fortier stated he was going north on Wood avenue at about 20 mph; that he went through a stop sign which he did not notice at the Western avenue intersection; and that he then struck another auto going west on Western avenue. A passenger in his auto, R. Belanger, 20, of 901 St. Johns street, Chambly, was taken to the Queen Elizabeth Hospital with a cut over the left eye and a gash on the left hand.

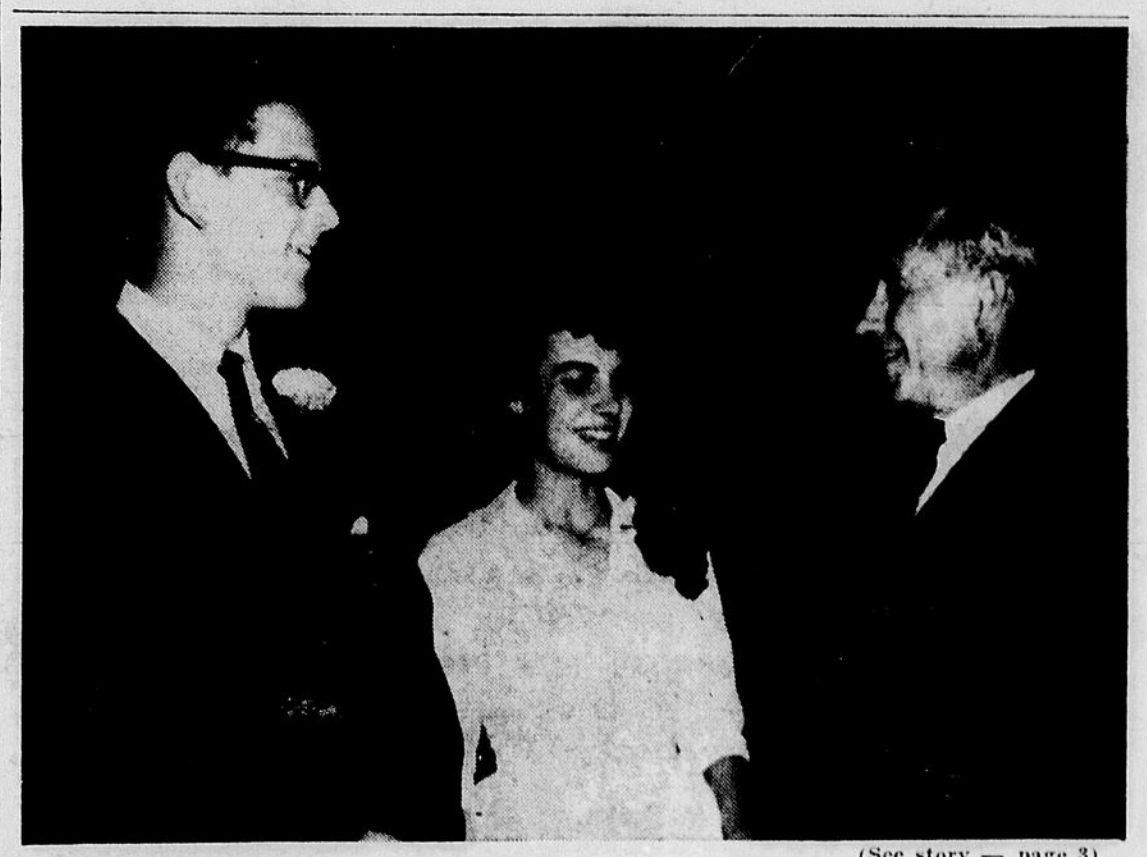

After striking the auto driven by Miss Bouchard, the police report states, Fortier's car hit a tree on the northwest corner of Western and Wood, crossed a lawn, tore up a flower-bed, and was finally stopped by the wall of the Church of the Advent.

Miss Bouchard is the daughter of Mrs. M. Bouchard, 2441 Maplewood avenue.

Explosion in gutter on Lexington avenue

Natural Gas Company workmen are still working on a gas leak which caused a slight explosion opposite 775 Lexington avenue June 10.

Between five to six gutter bricks were shifted by the explosion, and gas was detected in manholes and watermains. Fire Chief Harper stated that the situation is under control.

At Unity Boys' Club

International flavor is seen in talent show at Lake Placid

The delegation from the Westmount Rotary Club who attended the performance presented by the Unity Boys' Club Talent Parade at the International Rotary Assembly in Lake Placid, N.Y. on June 3, were indeed impressed with the professional quality of the concert and the wonderful reception given the young artists by the large audience.

More than 800 Rotary officials and members of their families from 51 countries convened at the Lake Placid Club for the 1959 international assembly and Institute of Rotary International.

The international assembly is comprised of members of the board of directors and committee chairmen of Rotary International and those Rotarians who will serve as district governors for the new fiscal year which begins July 1. Purpose of the international assembly is to confer on plans and activities during the coming year for the 10,200 Rotary clubs which have a membership of 477,000 business and professional executives in 112 countries.

AUDIENCE CAPTIVATED

The large audience showed their appreciation throughout the performance, each youngster receiving well-deserved applause. The concert itself was geared to an international flavor as a salute to other countries and states. These included: France, Italy, Germany, Poland, Scotland, Ireland, England, Texas and the 50th state of the United States, the state of Hawaii.

PROGRAM

The Talent Parade was under the musical direction of Fred Johnston and he was assisted on the drums by Billy Smith. Opening number by the Unity Cuties, a precision dance group: Sherrill Muir, Carolyn Scanlan, Cheryl Dargavel, Linda Hotton, Patsy Prevost, Ellen Rowland and Adele Prevost. Western Selection by Gerald Hebert and his guitar; Highland Sword Dance by Maureen O'Brien; Continental Offering by Hannah Lebwohl; The Irish Jig by Pat Collins; The Starlites, Pat Mumford and Erlana Fraser; Songs of Italy by Cecilia Orsini; Acrobatic Dance Number by Lily Parks; Song Stylist Ken McWhirter; La Parisienne, Evelyn Desjardins and her Accordion, Hawaiian Fantasy and Bamboo Dance by Judy Matthews; Ventriloquist with Sandy and Annabelle by Carolyn Blythe; The Youngsters, Marcel and Michel Houde; Percussion Specialty by Billy Smith; Trumpet and Song, Billy Walker, The Charleston Group, Erlana Fraser, Cecilia Orsini, Pat Mumford and Pat Collins.

SINCERE THANKS

All the youngsters and supervisors who made the trip to Lake Placid are most grateful to the Rotary Club of Westmount for making the trip possible and also wish to extend their sincere thanks to Rotarian Donald B. Ross who as business manager of the Lake Placid project, did an outstanding job of promotion and organization — every detail was thoroughly organized — an assurance that each youngster was to receive maximum comfort, safety and a most thrilling and educational experience. Our youngsters are most grateful and will long cherish the memories of the Lake Placid trip.

SUMMER PROGRAM

Details for the 1959 summer program are now complete and a brochure prepared. The timetable of outings, tours, visits, craft-work, sports and games has been arranged in consideration of the wide age range and abilities and aptitudes within the age groups.

As far as it is possible all categories have been catered for and, also, attention has been given to a varied program each day to avoid too much strain or similarity of activity during the morning and afternoon sessions. The program is a full one and alternative activities in anticipation of adverse weather conditions have been planned.

In addition to the set timetable, baseball and softball games will continue according to league commitments and plans also include several hikes to the country for the senior boys. The summer program is under the direction of Program Director Robert Parker and Girls' Work Supervisor Crystal Cunningham.

SPORTS NOTES

Unity's league leading "Indians" won their fourth straight game and their fifth in six decisions the hard way last Monday night. They scored ten runs in the last inning to defeat the White Sox 10-5. Led by Bill Holden, who batted a 1,000 during the game (3 for 3) and climaxed by Mark Ono who hit a two run triple in the final inning, the Indians made a sterling comeback. Pitcher Carols Gagne now holds a two and one record in three starts. Richard Holden is slated for the next game and will go after his fourth win against the third place Orioles.

ACCOUNTANT HONORED: Marking his attainment of fifty years' membership in the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Quebec, (June 15, 1909 — June 15, 1959), George C. McDonald, 66 St. Sulpice road, senior partner in the firm, McDonald Currie & Co., receives a silver tray from the president of the Institute, Howard I. Ross, 56 Summit Circle. Mr. McDonald is a son of the late John McDonald, one of the ten Montreal accountants who founded the Institute in 1880. Mr. Ross is a grandson of the late Philip S. Ross, another of the original ten Institute members and founder of the firm P. S. Ross & Sons, now Ross Touche & Co.

to Clarke avenue, thence along Cote St. Antoine road to city hall, entering grounds by means of new driveway.

3.26 p.m.: Presentation of Mayor Fournier of Montreal; presentation of Members of City Council, their wives and the General Manager. Request permission to present gift. Invitation to sign Golden Book. Departure.

Her Majesty will be presented with a silver Maple Syrup Jug. The design of the Jug incorporates the coat of arms of the City of Westmount, the fleur-de-lis of the Province, and the maple leaf of Canada.

3.31 p.m.: Departure City Hall. Royal cavalcade circles city hall grounds by way of Sherbrooke street, then northward along Argyle avenue to The Boulevard, eastward along Cedar avenue to east city limits near Daulac road.

The climax of the day's activities will be a fireworks display in Westmount Park commencing at approximately 8.45 p.m., and all citizens are invited to attend. The display will be mainly aerial and will be seen to advantage from the upper levels of the City, particularly in the open areas north of Montrose avenue. In the event of inclement weather or high winds, the display will be postponed until the evening of June 26.

Special parking regulations will be in force from 7.30 p.m. in the Westmount Park area in order to protect the public and their vehicles and to prevent a serious congestion of traffic. No parking will be permitted on Western avenue between Metcalfe and Lansdowne avenues, on the full length of Melville avenue, on Academy road and on Park Place.

Obituary

WILLIAM ROBERTSON

A funeral service was held today from St. Andrew's United Church, Cote St. Antoine road, for William Robertson, executive assistant to the president for operations of the Quebec Natural Gas Corporation, who died Tuesday at the age of 58.

Mr. Robertson was an elder of St. Andrew's United Church.

Born in Paisley, Scotland, Mr. Robertson came to Montreal at an early age. He was educated at the Montreal Technical School before joining the Montreal Light, Heat and Power Company as a draughtsman in the gas department.

Mr. Robertson remained with the gas industry through the Quebec Hydro, later joining the Quebec Natural Gas Corporation of which he was executive assistant to the vice-president at the time of his death.

During World War II, Mr. Robertson was a major in the 3rd Field Regiment of the Royal Canadian Engineers (Reserve).

He was a Mason of the Beaver Lodge as well as a Shriner. Mr. Robertson was also a member of the Marlborough Golf Club and the Mount Royal Curling C[illegible]

He is survived by his w[illegible] former Irene Catherine Cra[illegible] daughter Jean; a son, Lt. Bruce W. Robertson, Royal Canadian Navy; a brother James and a sister Margaret, all of Montreal.

Two cars collide at Clarke avenue

A minor automobile accident occured Monday at 10 a.m. at the Sherbrooke - Clarke avenue intersection when an auto driven by Hyman Cohen, 48, of 2260 Lucerne avenue, Town of Mount Royal, collided with another car, driven by Eddy Merling, 22, of 4816 Esplanade avenue.

Cohen told police that he was driving west on Sherbrooke behind another auto at about 30 mph, when at the Clarke avenue intersection the auto in front, faced with a yellow light, stopped suddenly, and his car struck it in the rear.

Merling stated that there was a space of about 15 seconds between the time he stopped and the impact.

Major accident cause is ego, says Everson

The greatest hazard in highway driving is "yourself" and "your" driving habits, according to R. M. Everson, president of Montreal Buick, vice-president of the Montreal Executive Association, and a member of Montreal Kiwanis.

Everson, who was addressing members of Westmount Rotary at the club's weekly luncheon-meeting, stated that each driver should pass a resolution abiding by highway safety rules — a resolution that will not be broken.

"There are many ways to check accidents," said he, "but the most effective way is by checking ourselves.

"The driver should never be caught by surprise," he continued; he should always be in an alert position, hands and feet ready for action. Many accidents occur when the driver loses balance on a quick move."

He suggested that probably the safest method of holding a steering wheel is in the "10 to four" position. He added, however, that this is quite difficult when the driver is slouched in his seat.

"A driver," continued Everson, "should always check about him. A look in the rear-view mirror every seven seconds will definitely prove useful toward traffic safety.

"One of the ways I obey these rules that I put forward," he said, "is by imagining that my car is in the middle of a road race, travelling at high speeds, being passed on the left and on the right— just as on Quebec highways — and subject to a smash-up at any moment.

"Instinctively," he continued, "I will sit up alert, grasp the wheel properly, and watch all sides."

Commenting on long-distance driving, Everson stated that a rest every 50-or-so miles would prove wise. "Never drive when you are too tired," he stressed.

On the subject of the 18-year-old driver who is apt to drive at excessive speeds, he said: "The youngster has better reflexes than we do—faster. He can aim his car down the highway, and, upon finding himself in a jam, can get out of it faster than we. What we have over the youngster is better judgment.

"If a young driver is a careless speedster," he continued, "his father should get him a job in an auto garage cleaning out the insides of accident-wrecked autos. After a few weeks, he'll be a bit more cautious in his driving."

"The errors that we can watch for in our highway driving are discourtesy, failure to use a signal when passing, necessity for using brakes and the like.

"If we make our rules and keep them," he concluded, "then we may be the lucky ones who will stay alive on the highways this summer."

Sweeps cleaned up— but didn't clean out

Two men were released from jail yesterday following a week's imprisonment while they awaited sentence for attempting to impersonate the city's chimney sweep.

This did not salve the pinched pocketbooks of Tupper street citizens who allowed themselves to be taken in by the phoney sweep and his two accomplices. After handing out $2 for an inadequate sweeping job to the impersonators, the residents must pay the regular 90 cents to the city's authorized sweep.

In jail for the week were Raymond Ward, who lives in a basement apartment at 4007 Dorchester street west, and Hugh Flower, a roomer at the same address. The third accomplice, Ward's teenage son, received a reprimand from Juvenile Court for his part in the affair.

According to Det. Sgt. A. E. Jones of the Westmount Police Force, notices were placed in doors in the Dorchester street area by the city's only official chimney-sweep, Roger Paquette, to the effect that chimneys would be swept within two days.

The notice stated that the charge was 90 cents.

Ward was among those who received the notices, and apparently decided to go into business for himself — at the Training is not education research president warns

"Education must not be sacrificed for 'training'," said Dr. E. W. R. Steacie, president of the National Research Council of Canada, and a graduate of Westmount schools at recent graduation ceremonies at St. George's School on The Boulevard.

The large, modern gymnasium of the school was crowded with parents and friends as ceremonies for the third graduating class took place.

"If the curriculum is overloaded with practical odds and ends, the process becomes purely training and cases to be real education," Dr. Steacie pointed out.

He was considering the question of classical and scientific education, and whether one should be sacrificed in favor of the other. In favor of scientific education, he remarked that one of the major factors in today's world is the ability of man to exercise control over his environment.

Yet, he continued, in many institutions of learning, science is being given less attention than it should be. He did not condemn classical education: he felt that those specializing in either the arts or science should have a working knowledge of the other.

Oddly enough, out of the seven graduates made up of four boys and three girls, all four boys intend to study science. One based his decision on the fact that, "There is no future in arts, really."

'The Faith of the Citizens is my Strength'

On the silver maple syrup jug to be presented to The Queen next week, Her Majesty will see the crest shown below.

It is the coat of arms of the City of Westmount, and was first envisioned in 1932. It was brought into being to replace a Maple Leaf on a shield that had served the city as a badge since incorporation in 1908.

For several years, various designs were discussed, and it was not until 1944 that the council addressed a petition to The Lord Lyon to "be empowered to bear and use such Ensigns Armorial as may be found suitable and according to the laws of arms". Percy E. Nobbs was engaged to prepare a design for submission with the petition.

The arms represent, by heraldic symbolism, something of the historic changes and development of the community, and the character of Westmount as it is today.

The sun setting in a sky of gold behind a purple mountain is significant of the name and place. St. Anthony's raven, dropping the bread, is reminiscent of the earlier name, Cote St. Antoine, while the earlier village of Notre Dame de Grace is recalled by the white roses which also serve to remind that the city is noted for its gardens.

The entire petition to The Right Honorable, The Lord Lyon, King of Arms, Edinburgh, is of particular interest at this time, it is printed here in full, as follows:

"This Petition of THE CITY OF WESTMOUNT, a body corporate, having its seat in the Province of Quebec, Dominion of Canada, and chartered by Act of the Legislature of the Province of Quebec, 8 Edward VII, c.89, assented to the 25th April, 1908.

RESPECTFULLY SHEWETH:

THAT the Community now known as the City of Westmount was originally incorporated as a Village Corporation by Letters Patent granted by His Honor Rene Edouard Caron, the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Quebec, dated 9th December, 1873 to take effect 1st January 1874 under the name of THE VILLAGE OF NOTRE DAME DE GRACE, and this name was by the Statute 42-43 Victoria c.43, assented to 31st October 1879 changed to the VILLAGE OF COTE SAINT ANTOINE, and by the Statute 53 Victoria c.76, assented to 2nd April, 1890, the Village became THE TOWN OF COTE SAINT ANTOINE, and this name was by the Statute 58 Victoria c.54, assented to 12th January, 1895, changed to THE TOWN OF WESTMOUNT and the Municipality was finally chartered as a City Corporation under the name of THE CITY OF WESTMOUNT as herein before set forth, and is now desirous of bearing such Ensigns Armorial as may be found suitable and according to the laws of arms.

WE SAY

What really are citizens' ideas?

A CLERGYMAN who lives in Westmount has pointed in the public prints to a series of what he considers shortcomings in the administration of the city's parks.

Though it is June, he wrote, all equipment for summer fun has not been installed.

He also pointed to the need for repairs in some cases, and for good measure urged that certain vacant lots be cleaned up.

In concluding his letter, he used the words: "Citizens of Westmount . . . what are your ideas?"

We, too, are wondering "What are the citizens' ideas?" If the citizens will let us know, we will hasten to print them.

Let's hope tongue was in his cheek

A WEEK ago a property owner of Westmount, in a letter to the editor, discussed at length the ways in which Westmount is slipping from its position of preeminence as a place in which the 'right people' may dwell.

With a decided 'U' attitude that would have done justice to Nancy Mitford, the writer found the children of tenants "noisy and uncivil". They "stay out late" he added, and "occasionally have to be censured by police".

In fact, this property owner went so far as to suggest that all who are not property owners be ejected from the city as quickly as possible.

Even visitors to the community, he urged, should be screened carefully before being allowed over the border.

Our hope is the writer had tongue in cheek.

THEY SAY

—EMERSON.

YOU SAY

'Spend money on parks rather than Royalty'

Sir:

We all greatly rejoice at the high honor accorded to us by the visit of Her Gracious Majesty Queen Elizabeth II even though it is costing us many thousands of dollars in improvements. But why, oh why haven't we a few dollars to buy fresh clean sand to put in some sand boxes in the parks for hundreds of little children? Would any gift please Her Majesty more?

The condition of the sand box in Stayner Park, for example is a shame.

Over 60 children tried to have recreation in Selby park one evening. There is no room in it for a ball game. There is only one bench. There are no jungle gyms or baby swings that many parks have. There is no drinking fountain.

God has richly blessed us with one of the most wonderful queens in all history. When she drives up to our city hall, what would she think if she knew how much money, time, and effort we spent in her reception, and how little over the last years on her little children for parks, and playground summertime recreation equipment?

Some equipment is excellent but, as of the time of writing, some slides are still not up. Some sandboxes have still only a little dirty sand left in them from last year. We have no modern wading pools as many communities have. All the children don't go away all summer.

St. Henri's park equipment at the foot of the Glen or Marcil Park in N.D.G. compared to some of ours puts ours to shame. See them for yourself. We sorely need more parks and playground, better equipped, where the people who use and need them live.

In my last letter I suggested procuring the vacant lots on the corners of Lansdowne and Sherbrooke and Western which could be turned from weed patches into places of beauty, beautiful landscaped park area, not parking space for cars, which is certainly needed too in some sections.

Perhaps it is not too late to procure the north side of St. Catherine street between Clarke and Redfern for additional sports and playground area for the new high school that will be built across the street.

We are all glad to know that at the last Municipal Association Meeting reference was made to an imminent long overdue reorganization of Westmount Park, which would no doubt be at considerable cost.

I am sure many people who have used this important and famous park for many years, and many more taxpayers and concerned people will want to take a pretty long hard look at any such proposal before it is finalized.

Rev. William Morris.

Westmounter defends tenants' viewpoint

Sir:

As a resident of Westmount for over 20 years, I was taken aback at the letter published last week from "Property Owner".

We are a democratic people — citizens of Canada and happen to live in Westmount. As such, we are proud of our community. To suggest screening visitors or prospective buyers — well we may as well have a curtain (iron) in front.

To further suggest that only buyers, not tenants, live in Westmount is to claim that people who buy houses are superior to those who are so-called tenants. This is certainly not true; many of the tenants are international and brilliant people, preferring to rent rather than buy a home. Why should we restrict them?

It would appear that "Property Owner" is under a misapprehension of our democratic way of life.

By DEBORAH WOODWARD

Thomas Lawe is one Westmounter who will be particularly happy to see the Royal yacht Britannia come into Montreal Harbor, bearing the Queen and Prince Phillip on June 24.

For four years, from 1954-1957, Lawe rode the high seas on the Britannia, the one-man percussion section of the Royal Marine Band. Royal dinners, afternoon tea, gala ship dances —these were occasions for every kind of music. "We had to be double or treble handed," says Lawe, who used to manage the bells, drums, and cymbals for the band.

The Britannia sailed 'round the world with the Royal couple three times during Lawe's tour of duty. Lawe's last world cruise, a six-month stint to some of the most remote islands in the British Empire, included stops at South Africa, Mauritius, New Zealand, Eastern Canada, and countless other spots. Lawe quips good-humoredly, however, that in all his world cruising he has never seen an inch of the United States!

"Prince Phillip is just another one of the boys, says Lawe. He's been in the navy himself and he knows what's going on around a ship."

Though the Royal party have their own private staterooms aft in the ship, they wander freely on the Britannia decks and have a word from time to time with the officers and sailors. "They're quite home-y people away from the pomp and circumstance!" Lawe confides.

"The band members were what you might call the 'gentlemen of the lower deck'," he explains. Taken from the big Royal Marine band in Portsmouth, England, the 22 chosen members are kept busy on tour with their daily ship schedules and engagements in port.

Lawe met his wife a Montreal, on his last tour, when the Britannia stopped off in Montreal on its way to the Empire Games in Australia. "Ususally you'd meet a lovely girl on the last night before leaving a port," recalls Lawe, "but that time it was different — I met Margaret on the first."

Just a few of his experiences might be interesting for the record — a visit to Hiroshima after World War II; duty, on the Gambia when she fired the last shots of World War II against Japan; visits with the Royal family to the small islands several thousand miles off the southwest coast of South Africa — the furthest islands from land in the world, hoisting of Queen Salote of Tonga onto the Britannia by crane!

The Lawes look over voluminous scrapbooks of Tow Lawe's New Zealand days, when he was with the H.M.N.Z.S. Bellona. Someday, with their two sons Stephen and Desmond, they hope to sail back.

At present Lawe plays in the band of the Royal Canadian Ordinance Corps.

Members of the graduating class were Dick van Rees, 90 Summit Circle, president of the Students' Council; John Sichel, Peter Lebensold, John Shipley, Pat Lilly, Ora Hendey and Carol Freeman.

John Sichel was winner of $25 a prize for work submitted to the Canadian Mathematical Congress.

Dr. Steacie concluded his talk with a warning to seekers of uniformity in education.

"They should not be allowed to rule out special treatment for the unusually gifted students," he stated. "Nor should there be too much of an attempt to produce the student who is 'well-adjusted'. The great things in this world are usually produced by those who are ill-adjusted in life."

His closing words complimented St. George's School "for the special attention paid to top-grade students".

3 Westmounters graduate from Harvard University

Among the 3,000 students to receive academic degrees at the recent commencement of Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass., were three Westmounters, members of post-graduate schools at the University.

Receiving a Master of Business Administration degree was David M. Ferguson, 1 Forden avenue. Ferguson, a graduate of Lower Canada College and McGill University, plans to follow his career in Toronto.

Nikola Svilokos, 415 Victoria avenue, formerly of 662 Murray Hill avenue, was awarded his Master of Arts degree. Svilokos, who fled with his family from Yugoslavia at the age of 18 attended Loyola College, and went directly from there to Harvard University. He will be leaving for the United States shortly to take up a position as chief mathematician for the Dow Chemical Company.

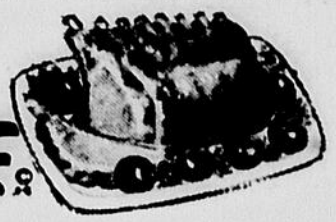

Richard D. Bourke, 774 Lansdowne avenue, receive his Master of Architecture degree.

Of the 11 Quebecers who graduated from the university, seven were from the island of Montreal.

Traditionally held in the tree-shaded campus from a canopied platform on the porch of the university's Memorial Church, Church, the ancient ceremony of conferring degrees was followed by a series of small, informal "commencements" in the Harvard houses and among the graduate schools. Here each student received his degree individually from officials of the school of house with which he was most closely associated.

Two accidents at Grosvenor-Sherbrooke

Mrs. Madeleine Wilson, 42, of 414 Grosvenor avenue, was struck in the arm by an MTC bus recently as she and her 15-year old son Guy crossed the intersection of Grosvenor and Sherbrooke street west.

Lucien Tasse, 46, driver of the bus, subsequently told police that he was unaware any injury had occurred.

Mrs. Wilson stated that she was crossing the intersection from south to north on a green light, which changed to yellow and then to red when a bus struck her on the arm.

According to Tasse, he was heading east on Sherbrooke, and had stopped for a red light at the Grosvenor intersection. To his left, a truck was also stopped. The traffic light turned green, he told police, and he had started to move when he suddenly noticed a lady and boy come into view after crossing in front of the truck.

He stated that the lady was walking with her head down, that he touched his horn slightly and turned his wheels to the right to avoid her, and that the boy grabbed her arm and pulled her back. Tasse said that he looked in his rear view mirror, and seeing the woman and boy standing on the street judged that nothing had happened, and drove on.

Another accident occurred at the same intersection on Saturday at 11.41 a.m. when a Provincial Transport bus and an auto driven by Jean L. Pelletier of Toronto collided.

Pelletier, who was travelling east on Sherbrooke stated, that he approached the Grosvenor avenue intersection as the traffic light changed from green to amber. He applied his brakes, he stated, and his car was struck in the rear.

Driver of the transport bus, Andre Charland, 42, of 1031 Perrot boulevard, stated that he too applied his brakes but was unable to avoid hitting Pelletier's auto.

The violent eruption of the volcano Tambora, near Java, is said to have been responsible for making 1816 a year without a summer. Solar radiation was cut by the almost world-wide dust.

HOW TO GROW A SECOND INCOME

Many Canadians of quite moderate means are doing it. They're growing a "second crop" of dollars in the form of regular dividends from Canadian securities. Perhaps you can, too. Westmount Rotary launches project for senior citizens

The Rotary Club of Westmount is about to launch another major project which, it is firmly believed, will have a genuine appeal to all citizens and one also which, when in operation, will provide a much needed community service for many senior citizens.

They will buy a property in Westmount, alter it to suit the requirements, furnish it and establish a Residence for Elderly Persons. The new venture will be under the operational management of the Family Welfare Association through it's Golden Age Committee. Prospective applicants for residence within the project will be required to meet certain conditions which will be carefully set out by the committee in charge of the operation.

The residence which The Rotary Club of Westmount will establish is the forerunner of many similar types of projects which other organizations will take up on behalf of the senior citizens.

Specifically the category of elderly persons are those persons who, basically, are totally or almost totally dependent upon the existing old age pension and who, for that particular reason find great difficulty in maintaining themselves comfortably.

There are known to be many hundreds of such persons in the Greater Montreal area who, after paying room rent in premises often totally inadequate for their better welfare have barely enough left to furnish themselves with even two meals a day if they are to clothe themselves and make other necessary purchases as well.

It is hoped that the residents will have a maximum of freedom with a minimum of restriction. They will perform their own light housekeeping duties and do their own cooking. A resident caretaker will look after the heavier chores such as floor washing, polishing, etc. The residents will have freedom of movement and those so wishing may take partial employment if they are able and wish to do so.

It is anticipated that the new project will be in operation early in 1960.

The Unity Boys' Club, was the first major project of Westmount Rotary, put into operation ten years ago and now recognized as one of the finest and most active youth service community centres in the Montreal area. Westmount Rotary hopes for the same enthusiastic citizen support for their new project as was received for the Unity Boys' Club and earnestly solicits the publics' interest on behalf of elderly people.

The Rotary Club of Westmount is holding its annual Carnival June 23-27 inclusive at the Westmount Rink, St. Catherine W. at the Glen, as their initial endeavour to further this project.

Automobile, bus are in collision

A Montreal Transport bus and an auto collided at the corner of Sunnyside and Grosvenor avenues Tuesday, 11 a.m., with serious injury resulting.

Miss Judy Miller, 13, of 742 Roslyn avenue, sustained a bruise on her left leg, but refused medical attention.

Driver of the auto, L. Cantin 55, of 649 Vitre west, stated that he was proceeding east on Sunnyside, missed the stop sign facing him at Grosvenor, and hit a bus going north on Grosvenor.

J. St. Pierre, of Verdun, driver of the MTC bus, corroborated Cantin's statement.

REDDY APPOINTMENT: The appointment of Dr. Arnold F. Jones as surgeon-in-chief of the Reddy Memorial Hospital, to take effect July 1, 1959, is announced by hospital president J. M. Thompson. Eric Neal says:

Weeks between July 11-25 best for Summer vacation

Holiday West Enders are in luck if they've chosen those two precious weeks between July 11 and 25. According to weather expert Eric Neal, prevailing blue skies and warm weather will make these the best two consecutive weeks of the summer.

The old saying "rain before seven, shine before 11" holds good in this prediction, as morning mists or fog will be cleared by hot suns to make fine days during this period.

A heat wave is scheduled for the week of July 11 to 18, while the risk of tornado conditions in the Ottawa Valley area, including Montreal island and extending to Ontario and Abitibi, clouds the picture somewhat.

Moonlight nights and brilliant Northern Lights the following week are in line with traditionally romantic summer evenings.

Old Man Sun will be putting in more time than the average working man — 60 hours the week of July 11 to 18, 55 hours the week of July 18 to 25.

rate of $2 a sweep. And not a very clean sweep, according to one housewife, who felt he might just as well have dumped a box of soot on her carpet!

Two days later Paquette called to find dismayed citizens who said their chimneys had already been cleaned out. Detectives were called in, and after questioning the residents, were directed to Ward's apartment. He had apparently made no attempt to get away.

Det. Sgt. Jones stated that the men had handed out "receipts" written either on the official notices or on unofficial receipt forms.

Ward is unemployed, has a large family, and allows himself to be supported by his wife and eldest son. Both Ward and Flower are native of the Gaspe peninsula.

Ward and Flower came up before Judge Fontaine at the Court of Sessions yesterday morning. Sentence was postponed until Thursday. Unless the money is fully reimbursed by that time, Judge Fontaine stated, the men will be pailed. They were released for the time being on $500 personal bail.

Other officers elected were: P. M. Adamson, first vice-president; T. M. Mills, second vice-president; Mrs. D. Carney, secretary; C. G. Wood, treasurer; Mrs. M. Rejall, membership director and Mrs. D. Norris, ice convener.

TO APPEAR AT THE NORTH HATLEY PLAYHOUSE: David Francis, of 4241 Montrose Avenue, will be appearing this summer at the North Hatley Playhouse in Quebec's Eastern Townships. A musician of note, Francis has played with the McGill Band for the past four years. Locally, he has appeared in "The Pirates of Penzance" and "The Mikado" at Westmount High School. He will be an apprentice member of the North Hatley Playhouse Company: learning theatre, make-up, props, and technique, and acting in supporting roles alongside of some of Canada's outstanding acting talent.

YMCA busy training leaders for work at Summer camps

Leadership training schemes moved into high gear this past week for some 60 YMCA Camp counsellors who will provide summer fun and summer learning for 1,000 Montreal youngsters in the YMCA boys camps. Pre-camp city training sessions have centered on the counsellors' part in helping youngsters acquire skills, safety habits, healthy emotional attitudes, along with self-confidence and individual initiative.

YMCA Kamp Kanawana, established in 1874, and one of the first boys camps in North America, is based upon the YMCA character building concepts of Spirit, Mind and Body. The essential philosophy is that within the comradship and adventuresome setting of outdoor living, boys learn some of the basic values for living.

A Ross Seaman, recently appointed resident director of Kamp Kanawana, announced some new appointments to the Senior Staff this season:

Bill Vandertogt, a physical eucation teacher on the staff of Montreal Protestant Schools, will be water-front and boating director. Mr. Vandertogt was on the Dutch Olympic swimming team in 1936 and has maintained an active interest in swimming events over the years.

Throughout camp history, visiting Y Secretaries from countries around the world have been the center of keen interest at story-telling time. This year, Timur Jaylani, MA, from Indonesia and a graduate of Islamic Studies at McGill, joins the staff on program director of the Junior Section.

Jack Organ of Town of Mount Royal, heads the advance work party already installed at Kanawana and busily engaged in checking tents, platforms, cabins, bunks, canoes, sail-boats and all the essential equipment that makes for a smooth, happy camp.

The Metropolitan Camp Committee of the YMCA announced that plans were complete for the new North Woods Camp to operate on a true "courier de bois" basis with canoes and all, 300 miles up into the Quebec northlands. Registrations for the special camp have been limited to boys 14-16 and trips out are expected to be about three-weeks duration. The tripping and mapping plans have been carried out in co-operation with the Provincial Government, Parks and Reserves Dep't.

Other camps operated by the YMCA are:- Camp Perrot for boys and girls, on Isle Perrot just beyond Ste. Anne's and 28 miles from downtown Montreal.

At St. Adolphe de Howard the Otoreke Summer Lodge is open to young adults and young married from 17-35 and is a popular sport for weekend visits or a complete vacation.

Garden Party

An architect's drawing of the Clubhouse at Spring Valley Estate near St. Sauveur, Que. Members can acquire large half-acre lots on a beautiful mountain lake.

A free prospectus is available by calling the club office at WE. 7-9355.

This Week IN WESTMOUNT

by Valentina Rahr

MR. GEORGE WESLEY, 4425 St. Catherine street west, announced today that plans for the Spring Valley Country Club have been completed by architect Erwin Bamberger of St. Sauveur des Monts.

"Located in the heart of the Laurentians, the Spring Valley Country Club offers a unique combination of relaxation and social and sports activities" Mr. Wesley commented.

"The rustic Club building will overlook a clear natural mountain lake. Swimming, boating, fishing, volley ball, badminton and horseback riding along beautiful mountain trails are among some of the present attractions. In winter there is skating and cross country skiing and ski tows are available in St. Sauveur just three miles away. Upon completion of the Clubhouse social activities such as Saturday night dances, cocktail parties, fashion and art shows are planned. The Club expects to provide full meals and snack bar facilities.

For the small fry, there is a playground being prepared while their parents will have fun and relax. The grounds of a 120 acre estate are open to members for hiking and riding."

Mr. Wesley who is the President of the Spring Valley Country Club started the Club a year ago. Since then, many prominent business men and executives have joined with their families. The objective of the present membership drive is to obtain as many new members as possible to allow the construction of the Clubhouse.

"Three types of membership are available," continued George Wesley. Residential membership — Clubhouse membership for non-residents and Beach Club membership. The main privilege offered to members is the right to purchase large ½acre lots at comparatively low cost and to build modern cottages according to their own or the Club's architects plans — while at the same time enjoying the facilities of a Country Club.

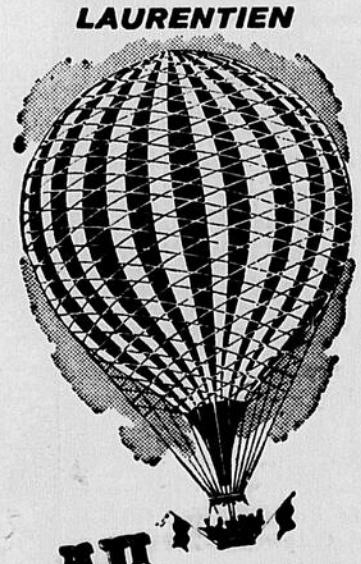

"Members will have a secluded place within easy reach from the town where they can meet with others of similar interests and hobbies. The property has the advantage of being high in the mountains with ideal climatic conditions, on a lake half a mile long. It will specially appeal to those who love unspoiled nature. Some members are going ahead with their construction plans for cottages."

The opening of the Spring Valley Country Club took place during the month of May when a painting exhibition was held at Win-Sum Inn in St. Sauveur, followed by buffet supper and dance. Several other similar events are being planned. Mr. Wesley is a member of the Laurentian Development Board, Mount Royal Tennis Club, Museum of Fine Arts, Canadian Club and Canadian Authors' Association Montreal Branch.

Dr. Alan Ross, Belmont avenue, is busy with plans for the International Paediatric Congress which opens at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel on July 19. Paediatricians from all parts of the world are expected to attend.

Notice about school closing: The previous instructions about school closing have been changed as follows: Classes will remain in regular session on June 22nd, 23rd and 24th, with the reports being given out on the Wednesday afternoon. This will affect pupils attending King's, Queen's and Roslyn Schools.

As you like it

By Laurent Price

It is the intention, according to a reliable source, of the present management of the Windsor Hotel to demolish the Peel-Dorchester side of the old edifice and erect a modern office building in its place. The remaining Peel-Cypress section, thoroughly refurbished inside and out, to serve as a revitalized Windsor, retaining all its graciousness and splendor in a smaller but worthy version. (The demolition contractors, the Beaver Company, have already posted a sign to the effect that their work will be completed by the end of next September. They'll really have to work like beavers, too.)

If you happen to be strolling or driving by the Cypress street end of the Windsor Hotel on Peel street, and take more than just a casual look at the venerable old hostelry, you'll quickly realize that the north entrance has undergone a delightful transformation. Soon this will be the main portal of a rejuvenated Windsor Hotel.

So subtle, too, is the change that no unpleasant shock is experienced. Rather, one is transported back a few decades to an impression of quiet dignity — even luxury — which typified the Windsor as one of the foremost hotels in North America.

And, upon further inspection, it is to be found that this welcome retrogression to its former magnificent stature is, or will be, carried through to the lobby, the lunching and dining sections, the ball rooms, the private banquet facilities and the rooms and suites themselves. All this despite the havoc wrought by a couple of fires in recent years, and the depradations of ill-mannered pigeons.

HELENE STEVENS

So with the foregoing paragraphs to set the stage, as it were, we'll get on promptly to the star and subject of this week's column, Helene Massicotte Stevens.

Better known to her milkman, butcher and grocer as Mrs. James Stevens (he's the Chez Ernest impressario), Helene toils picturesquely and effectively as a special representative under Mrs. Felix Alexandor (of whom, more in a later column) in the hotel public relations department.

By appointment, we met Helene Stevens in the Windsor's new La Reserve room, and in reply to our initial inquiry, the little charmer assured us the name had nothing to do with Noble Red Men.

Later we realized that Helene had helped form some of the favorable impressions of the hotel's new set-up we had acquired — just like any good "pitch-girl" should.

But solely under our own steam we did arrive at one conclusion: If the new or revived atmosphere of the Windsor exudes dignity, without stuffiness; sparkle, without flamboyance; and luxury without ostentation, it is our measured and considered opinion that the hotel's new public relations department functions enterprisingly with talent and with glamour.

The objective of Helene's office is, of course, the successful solicitation of cultural, social or just carriage — trade groups to make use of the Windsor's appropriate settings for their dressed-up or casual gatherings. (We stifled the use of the word "soirees" just in the nick of time).

And, Helene Stevens' background and experience with Montreal's gilt edged set, its foibles, tastes and preferences make her well qualified for the job.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emile Massicotte, the youthfully attractive and engaging Helene is a smartly gowned and groomed, five feet-five honey blond. (Maybe this should read "honey of a blond.")

Her father, a prominent Montreal notary, during the nineteen thirties, served as this city's fire commissioner. During his tenure of office, no doubt he prevented or quelled some pretty fair conflagrations.

Correlatively — and before Stevens, of course — we have also concluded that the fair Helene probably started a few blazes in the hearts of young Montreal men-about-town to off-set the more mundane accomplishments of her distinguished father.

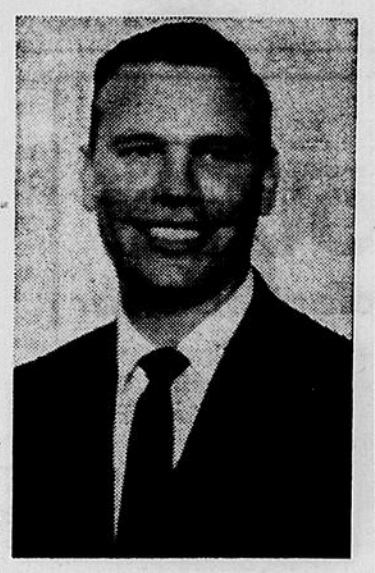

Summer Sports and Resorts

At Stowe, Vermont, Marie Risso and Nancy Graham open their Playhouse with Carolyn Green's Janus . . . Runs from July 1 through July 5 . . . If you happen to be in that resort town over Sunday, try the buffet at Lin L'Ecuyer's Maxlyn restaurant . . . food in plentiful and very tasty quantities is served from 1 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. and for a reasonable fee too . . . His partner, Max Huber, is back from Florida to really get a sunburn in Vermont . . . Chub and Adeline Skelton open their smart Foothills Riding Camp at Stowe for girls between 10 and 17 July 1 . . . This is definitely, if the young lady in your family wants to learn all about horses, and still have a fine vacation . . . On the subject of camps, the Powter one for boys north of St. Donat has the distinction of being the oldest in the Laurentians . . . Victor Nymark informs us that the golf layout at St. Sauveur is in first class shape . . . Parker Perry, the Green Mountains Inn boss, at the Ritz . . . in town for the Bolshoi ballet . . . Mr. and Mrs. Robert Green of Westmount at Au Lutin . . . Naomi and Randolph Casgrain of Ste. Scuttlebut has it that Bruce McKay, the actor-owner of the Connaught Inn at North Hatley, is on a diet . . . if he lands some walk-on parts at the Playhouse there, it should help the slimming program, too . . . That's all, dear readers. Keep cool, and stay dry! Depending on the weather, of course.

Organ concert at TMR hall

A program of modern organ music is being given in the Town Hall, Town of Mount Royal, on Friday, at 8.30 p.m. Frank M. Goodman of Phoenix, Arizona, a young man with modern concepts of rhythm, has prepared a number of selections that will be of particular interest to young people, although he has included some semi-classical numbers and standard tunes that will appeal to older folk who remember the birth and early development of jazz.

Included are such standards as Stormy Weather and the "On the Trail" theme from the Grand Canyon suite, some Latin-American music and the famous Warsaw Concerto and Swedish Rhapsody.

Mr. Goodman, who is doing missionary work in the Montreal area, has cut two popular recordings which will be released when he returns home, in about 18 months' time. A talented pianist and singer (he sings and plays piano on Friday as well as playing the organ) he has played at the Grand Canyon and other American resort areas in the southwest.

Ex-French Premier will speak here

Maurice Bourges - Maunoury, former premier of France and hero of the French resistance during World War II, will be guest speaker at a "Tribute to France" dinner being held by the Montreal Israel Bond Organization on June 22 at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel.

Julius Briskin, general chairman of the Montreal Israel Bond Organization, who has just returned from Israel, will preside. Mr. Bourges-Maunoury will be introduced by Samuel Bronfman, national president of Canada-Israel Securities.

It's Salad Time!

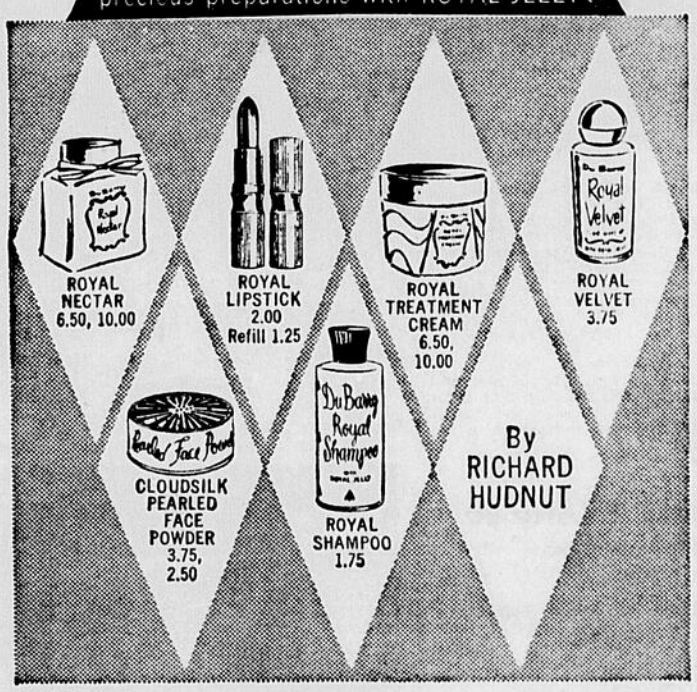

Yes, salad days are here and what a treat to relax in our air-conditioned dining room and enjoy one of our famous salads. They're crispy, fresh and cold and make a wonderful meal on a hot day. Try one and we're sure that they'll become one of your favourite Summer foods.

This is the time, too, when many hard-working husbands are forced to live alone and like it while the wife and kids vacation in the country. Here's a suggestion! Have breakfast at Macy's before making the trip to the office. You'll find the food tasty and the service efficient and just think — no dirty dishes staring at you from the sink when you get home at night!

A salute to Her Majesty

By
The Venerable
R. Kenneth Naylor, D.D.,
Rector, Trinity Memorial Church

In 1837 William IV died, and his niece the Princess Victoria became Queen. It was a troubled time. Monarchy seemed to have fallen on evil days and many observers felt that it could not survive in the modern world. There seemed to be a rising tide of republican feeling in Great Britain, set in motion by a militant reform movement. It was not long before the Chartists became active. The age of aristocratic privilege seemed doomed, and the monarchy might well pass with it. And to crown it all the new Queen was an untried girl. There was a good deal of anxiety. Perhaps that very fact was to the advantage of the monarchy, for at heart the English are a very sentimental people, and they responded to what they felt to be the need of the Queen.

There were times of trial later, when the Queen withdrew from the public after the death of her husband, but that too was overcome, and Victoria spent the last years of her life, almost a legendary figure in the English world. The characteristic story of the time is the story of the Lord Mayor of London receiving the Queen at Temple Bar, kneeling before her carriage with tears of emotion streaming down his face. She had restored the feeling for monarchy.

Queen Victoria's successors have maintained the standard which she set; especially George V and George VI. They reigned through two World Wars, and set an example of cheerful steadfastness that had a tremendous effect on their people, and on the rest of the Western World.

It is that tradition that the Princess Elizabeth inherited. And she has lived worthily of the inheritance. There is probably no harder worked woman in England than Elizabeth II. Further, she has taken to herself a husband who is one of the most farsighted and observant of modern Englishmen; and their home life sets a pattern that their people must admire and should follow.

Monarchy has practically passed from the Western World except in this one instance; the fact that it continues to function as the focus and rallying-point of a great commonwealth of nations is our great tribute to Her Majesty. God save the Queen.

Pastor A. R. Mitchell to attend convention

Pastor Richard A. Mitchell of the Montreal Seventh-Day Adventist church, 4250 Western avenue, will go to Oshawa Sunday to help prepare for the annual summer convention of the denomination which convenes June 26 - July 4.

Pastor Mitchell is joining more than 50 ministers, Bible instructors, and other church employees from Ontario and Quebes at the camp site located on the campus of Oshawa Missionary College, Oshawa, to help ready the convention grounds for the approximately 1500 persons who will attend the nine day religious gathering.

Ministerial study sessions and daily worship periods will also be held during the days of preparation.

"The Montreal Seventh-day Adventist church members are expecting one of the biggest and most important camp meetings ever held by the denomination at Oshawa this year," Pastor Mitchell said in referring to the coming convention, and the ministers and other workers of the church are going to do all they can to make these expectations realized.

"The purpose of this convocation is to re-emphasize spiritual values and to renew consecration of church members. With God's help and our own labors this year's convention will fulfill this purpose," he said.

"PIONEER OF THE YEAR": — Fred Peters, left, president of Dominion Sound Equipment receives a silver plaque and is congratulated for being named "Pioneer of the Year" by the Canadian Motion Picture Pioneers. Making the presentation is William Lester, president of United Theatres and looking on is Phil Maurice, president of the Pioneers.

Maurice re-elected Pioneers president

Phil Maurice, of Consolidated theatres, was re-elected president for the third consecutive term by the Canadian Motion Picture Pioneers at their 11th annual meeting held at the Sheraton-Mount Royal Hotel.

Trustees are Ben Norrish and Leo Choquette, (honorary); William Lester, William Singleton, Romeo Vandette and Tom Cleary.

Place des Arts fund raising moving slowly

The Place des Arts campaign to build Montreal's long-awaited concert hall has been unexpectedly slow, it was revealed at the second annual meeting of the Sir Georges-Etienne Cartier Corporation which is the body set up to administrate the project.

Reporting to the meeting Louis A. Lapointe, president of the corporation, said that to date over $1,000,000, from over 3,000 individuals and corporations, had been contributed toward the goal of $3,500,000. Although the campaign officially ended May 23, considerable activity is still going on with the assistance of volunteer canvassers to cover the great number of cards still outstanding, he said.

Mr. Lapointe stated that he is confident of additional amounts still to come through public subscription, but warned that more intensive effort would be required by all concerned to achieve the $3,500,000 objective.

The total cost of the Great Hall and plaza will be $8,500,000. Both the Province of Quebec and City of Montreal have each pledged $2,500,000, leaving $3,500,000 to be subscribed by the public.

The annual statement, prepared by Mr. M. Caron, the corporation's auditor, was presented by Mr. R. E. Wagar, the corporation's treasurer who reported that initial operations in the development of the project were financed within the $325,000 advanced grants made by the City of Montreal.

These expenses include the retainment of specialists, necessary in such a project, such as architects, theatre and auditorium design experts, and fund-raising counsel.

Mr. Lapointe said that in building Place des Arts the board of the Sir Georges-Etienne Cartier Corporation wanted to be absolutely certain that the project would become Montreal's greatest pride and a credit to the metropolis and cultural heart of Canada.

During the meeting, Mr. Lapointe was re-elected president of the corporation and other officers re-elected were: Honorable John P. Rowat, Vice-president, Roy E. Wagar, treasurer, Robert Letendre, secretary. Claude Robillard continues as managing director. The other officers of the Corporation are: Samuel Bronfman, Jean Drapeau, J. Bartlett Morgan and Judge Roland Paquette.

In conclusion the meeting was informed that revised preliminary plans are expected to be completed within a few days.

BANK OF MONTREAL

Family Finance Plan

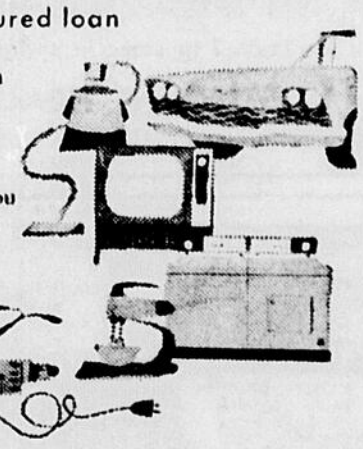

Bring all your personal credit needs under one roof

with a low-cost B of M life-insured loan

Here is the modern approach to finance the things you want to buy for your home and family . . . to take care of expenses for school, college, vacation and so on . . . and, of course, to meet emergencies.

The Bank of Montreal Family Finance Plan enables you to plan your purchases and helps you meet unexpected expenses under one single comprehensive plan.

Here are four good reasons why — whether single or married — you should use the Bank of Montreal Family Finance Plan . . .

"MY BANK" 70 2 MILLION CANADIANS B of M

1. All loans are automatically life-insured. Should you die before your loan is repaid, your debt to the Bank will be cancelled.
2. Monthly repayments can be extended up to two years — or even three, if need be. This means that FFP can be tailored to suit any salary.
3. You can borrow up to $3,500, depending on your income, to buy the things you want for your home and family, or to meet emergencies.
4. Planned repayments help you run your income — instead of letting it run you.

If you have a steady income and can make monthly loan-repayments without hardship, you can finance almost any useful purpose through the Bank of Montreal Family Finance Plan. Why not talk to the people at your neighbourhood B of M branch . . . you'll like their helpful attitude. Whether you are a B of M customer or not, you will find a warm welcome.

The Soul of Beauty

So much there is, to bind us to this earth,
June's beauty, with its verdure and perfume;
Of bright green woods, and flowers all in bloom,
As nature, brings her vagrant charms to birth.

We find behind earth's beauty, Heaven's plan,
Beyond the fairy form of leaf and flower,
A life, a Love, a great Supernal Power,
Uniting all the earth, with God and man.

Miss Gail Susan Margolese weds Dr. Michael N. Levitt

The marriage of Gail Susan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David G. Margolese, of Westmount, to Dr. Michael Norman Levitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Saul M. Levitt, took place on Tuesday evening, at half-past six o'clock, at the Elm Ridge Country Club, Dorval, Rabbi Wilfred Shuchat, of Shaar Hashomayim Synagogue, and Dr. Harry Stern, of Temple Emanu-El, officiating. Yellow gladioli, snapdragon and daisies were used as decorations.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was in a gown of white silk organza, over poult de soie, fashioned with a fitted bodice, having a scoop neckline appliqued with embroidered Alencon lace, and a very full skirt appliqued in the same motif ending in a chapel train. Her veil of tulle illusion was held by a coronet of seed pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. Jacqueline Margolese, as matron of honor for her sister-in-law, wore a bouffant frock of white French frilled lace over aqua silk, with a matching headdress and carried a cascade bouquet of shasta daisies.

Mr. Stanley Shuster acted as best man for his cousin, and the ushers were Mr. Richard Margolese, Mr. Arthur Solomon, Mr. Stanley Diamond, Dr. Harry Dubow, Mr. Alan Rudner and Mr. Ronald Gallay.

Mrs. Margolese, the bride's mother, was in a gown of aqua Alencon lace embroidered with beads. She wore a hat of the same shade and a corsage bouquet of yellow orchids.

Mrs. Levitt, mother of the bridegroom, was gowned in aqua Chantilly lace over poult de soie. She wore a matching hat and a corsage bouquet of yellow orchids.

Following the reception, Dr. and Mrs. Levitt left for the Eastern United States, the bride travelling in a frock of turquoise and white cotton pique, under a matching jacket, and wearing white accessories, and a corsage bouquet of white orchids. They will take up residence in Washington, D.C.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Aron Schwartzberg, of Miami, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Schwartzberg, Mr. William Schwartzberg, of Flushing, L.I.; and Mr. and Mrs. M. Israelson, of Toronto.

MISS LOIS MONAKER, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Jacob Monaker of Notre Dame de Grace and MR. GERALD MOSS, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Moss of Montreal, whose engagement is announced.

Burke-Cayford

The marriage of Carole Jean, daughter, of Mrs. Walter Frederick Cayford and the late Mr. Cayford, to Mr. Norman Daniel Burke, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Burke of Westmount, took place recently in the Church of the Ascension of Our Lord, Westmount. Standards of white gladioli were used to decorate.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Stanley Cayford, the bride chose a peau de faille gown fashioned along trapeze lines with scooped neckline outlined with sequins and pearls, three-quarter length sleeves, and a long train. A crown headdress held her fingertip veil, and she carried a bouquet of white stephanotis and split carnations.

Mrs. Michael Bennett was matron of honor, wearing a gown of blue silk organdy over silk taffeta styled along empire lines with a balloon skirt. She carried a bouquet of Talisman roses.

Miss Mary Burke, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid, gowned similarly to the matron of honor, and carrying a bouquet of yellow roses.

Mr. T. V. Burke, Jr., was best man for his brother, and ushers were Mr. Bruce Wilson, Mr. David Orr, Mr. Kenneth Copeland and Mr. Wayne Hibbard.

Mrs. Cayford, mother of the bride, chose a gown of powder blue Chantilly lace appliques on net over taffeta, wearing a blue organza picture hat and a corsage of white orchids.

Mrs. Burke, mother of the bridegroom, wore an original model of navy blue surah silk, with a cherry red hat and corsage of pink Sweetheart roses.

Following a reception in the Sheraton - Mount Royal Hotel, Mr. and Mrs. Burke left for Cape Cod, Mass., the bride travelling in a rajah silk frock of beige and white, wearing matching accessories and a gardenia corsage.

2 cups all purpose flour
2 teaspoonfuls liquid shortening (salad oil)
2 cups hot water, but not boiling

Mix flour, oil and hot water to make a thin batter such as the consistancy of pancake batters. Allow this to stand for 24 hours in a covered bowl, at room temperature. This "dough" must not be refrigerated.

A cake decorator with plain tube is filled with this dough (which will have thickened and increased in bulk when ready) and is forced through in spider web design into deep fryer in which oil is boiling (salad oil is recommended). These "webs" should be cooked one at a time unti lgolden brown then dropped into pot of slowly simmering syrup for 4 or 5 minutes. Remove carefully and decorate with slivered blanched almonds.

Syrup is prepared by mixing 5 cups sugar with 2 cups water and boiled until syrup spins a double thread, then allowed to simmer while preparing "webs".

Jelebi brought a very interesting fact to light when Mrs. Irani pointed out that most pastries in India are prepared without eggs because a large percentage of the population are strict vegetarians due to religious beliefs while others simply could not afford the price of eggs.

Another, was that oven cooking is practically unknown and that all foods were cooked "over the fire" on top of the stove, hence cakes, cookies, breads are thus prepared.

STRUDEL

Dough 1 cup ice cold water
2 cups all purpose flour more or less sift before measuring

Mix flour and water in bowl, then knead until smooth.

Place in a greased bowl containing 1½ tablespoons oil. Turn dough until completely covered.

Cover bowl tightly, place in refrigerator overnight.

Remove and turn dough out next morning, on floured cloth.

Cover and allow to rest at room temperature about 2 hours.

Roll slightly, cover for another 15 minutes. Then stretch until paper tin. Cut dried edge of dough. Spread filling near edge of long side . . . when entire dough is slightly dry, commence to roll, sprinkling powdered sugar or icing sugar over the entire stretched dough. Roll up as large jelly roll. Important . . . be sure dough is dry.

Cut into pieces, then place on ungreased pan slightly floured. Bake for 12 minutes in 350 degree oven just enough to cook bottom.

Filling:
1 egg yolk
1 lb. walnut (ground)
¼ lb. dessicated cocoanut
1½ cups sugar
2 lemons, rind and juice
4 plain soda crackers, finely crushed
Mix all ingredietts and use as filliig in strudel.

McArdle-Vaincourt

The marriage of Norma Jean, daughter of the late Willard N. Vaincourt, and of Mrs. Vaincourt, of Franklin Centre, Que., to Mr. Thomas Edgar McArdle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. McArdle, took place recently in Queen Mary Road United Church, the Rev. Eric Errey officiating at the double ring ceremony. Mr. Kenneth Gilbert played the wedding music, and Mrs. Bruce Stewart, the bride's cousin, sang during the signing of the register. Standards of spring flowers arranged with greenery were used to decorate the church.

The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Mr. David Ness, was gowned in white Chantilly lace over poult de soie. Her short veil of tulle illusion was hed by a headdress of sequins, and she carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss June Vaincourt, as maid of honor for her sister, wore a pink nylon frock with a matching headdress, and carried a bouquet of pink gladioli blossoms.

Mrs. Joyce Hawes, Mrs. Roslyn Chadwick, and Miss Gertrude Carson, as attendants, were in frocks of embroidered Swiss organza over taffeta; Mrs. Hawes being in pale green, Mrs. Chadwick in powered blue, and Miss Carson in buttercup yellow. They wore headdresses of the same color, and carried bouquets of gladioli blossoms.

Mr. Gordon Mines acted as best man, and the ushers were Mr. Grame Vaincourt, the bride's brother, Mr. William Neves, and Mr. Norman Sears.

Following the reception, which was held at Victoria Hall, Mr. and Mrs. McArdle left for Virginia Beach, Va., the bride travelling in a powder blue linen ensemble and wearing a white hat and accessories.

First Provincial office is opened for UNICEF

Mrs. D. W. Heywood, Quebec Provincial Chairman, and Mlle. Lucille Rodier, vice-chairman, of the United Nations Association Committee for UNICEF, are pleased to announce that a business office has been opened in Room 4 of the Canadian Bank of Commerce Building, 1414 Crescent street, Montreal. (Telephone VIctor 4-4123).

The phenomenal growth of UNICEF from its first introduction in Quebec in 1955 when the children's Hallowe'en collection amounted to $972.00, to 1958 when the same source provided approximately $44,000, has resulted from the enthusiastic cooperation of individuals, organizations, and the press throughout the province. The organizational needs of the project have grown proportionately, and it has become necessary to establish a central office where the various activities can be coordinated. Thanks to the generous donations and assistance of a number of business firms and individuals the premises have been furnished and equipped at a minimum cost.

Reception in Waterloo, Que., honors newly married couple

A reception was held in The Waterloo High School at 8 p.m. on June 6 in honor of Mr. and Mrs. William Allan Fowle, who were married in St. Matthias Anglican Church, Westmount, on May 23, with a reception immediately after at Victoria Hall, Westmount, prior to their honeymoon in Bermuda.

Mrs. W. A. Fowle is the former Marjory Gertrude Hammond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell D. Hammond of Butternut Bay Farm, Waterloo, Que., and of Westmount, Que.

Over a hundred people were presented to the receiving line of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Hammond, parents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Fowle, the bride and bridegroom; Mr. Michael Freeborn, best man; Miss Brenda Thompkins, bridesmaid; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Alfred Hammond, brother of the bride, usher, and his accompanying bridesmaid; Miss Shirley Maynes, bridesmaid; and Mr. Wesley D. Hammond, brother of the bride, usher.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fowle, parents of the bridegroom, of Saint Laurent; Miss Val Roberts, maid of honor, Montreal, and Mr. Peter McMartin, Westmount, were unable to attend.

After the guests had been received, the best man and master of ceremonies, Mr. Michael Freeborn introduced himself and welcomed the guests in English. Mr. R. D. Hammond welcomed the guests in French with the assistance of Mr. Robert Bourbonnais, a neighboring farmer.

The best man then asked the bride's father to speak to the gathering.

Mr. R. D. Hammond spoke on the growth of his family in both English and French. Needing no assistance at this point with his French. At the conclusion of his remarks Mr. Hammond announced that it was his daughter-in-law's birthday and called on his wife to present Eva Hammond with a birthday present. This was done to the singing of "Happy Birthday to You".

The best man then called on Mr. Armand Russell, MLA for Shefford County and Mayor of Waterloo to address the guests. This Mr. Russell did to good effect in both English and French, saying that if more people from the big cities would discover the Eastern Townships as the Hammonds had, it would be a boost and help to the Townships, as well as pleasant home and surroundings for the city folk. Buy property in the Eastern Townships and encourage others to spend some of their time and money in this beautiful part of the country. Mr. Russell wished the young couple every best wish in the new life.

The best man then called on the Rev. Alfred W. Smith, Rector of Church of the Redeemer, Montreal, to speak. Mr. Smith told how he had met Mr. R. D. Hammond 25 years ago at Boscobel and Davidson Hill in the Eastern Townships and how he was now associated with the family, although not belonging to his Parish. Mr. Smith said he had been honored to assist the Rev. Kenneth Keefe, Rector of St. Matthias at Marjory's and Bill's wedding and he knew they would make a fine pair, he then wished them Godspeed in their new venture into wedlock. The Rev. A. W. Smith was attended during the evening by the headquarters staff of his parish Girl Guides No. 15 Coy Montreal, headed by Miss G. Munro, Captain and with Mrs. A. Ward, Girl Guide Commissioner.

After concluding remarks by the best man the remainder of the evening was devoted to dancing and the serving of a buffet supper.

Popular music was very kindly provided by Mrs. John H. Drew of Montreal at the piano (Mrs. Drew's husband and the bride's father started school together) accompanied by Mr. George Young Sr., of Waterloo on drums and traps. This was alternated with recorded music from a public address system.

The wedding cake (now 3-tier, 1 tier was eaten at the Westmount reception) baked by the bride's mother, sat upon the stage platform, flanked by large yellow mums and pale yellow pompons. Directly below the wedding cake was the large punch bowl, which found constant use. The hall was decorated with white wedding bells and streamers. A very enjoyable evening was had by the bridal party and the guests. Many beautiful presents in addition to sums of money were received.

Among those who were unable to attend, but who sent their best wishes, were relatives and friends in Australia, South Africa, England, the United States and throughout Canada. Venerable Archdeacon Lidstone of Granby, Messrs. Wilfrid and Leo-Paul Ledoux, Rev. Malcolm Brett of Sutton, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ares, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Slack, Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Coote of Frankville, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Venters, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Parkes, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Simms, and Mr. and Mrs. John Strom, Granby, were among those to send their regrets at being unable to attend.

Eight-man team wins three trophies

An eight-man team of Montreal paraplegics captured three trophies and seven medals to place fifth in Olympic Games for handicapped persons in New York.

The team, sponsored by the Canadian Paraplegic Association and the Canadian Foundation for Poliomyelitis, Canadian Legion, was sparked by Jean Rochon who won two trophies and a medal.

Bill Hepburn, director of physical recreation for the handicapped, arranged the trip.

Rochon and two other Canadians — Gaetan Bourgoin and Pierre Brosseau — took the top three places in the archery event.

East-West college football teams may compete in Shrine Bowl game

THE East-West all-star Shrine football game, sponsored by the Canadian Shriners, which was halted by the Big Four and Western Union clubs may be played after all.

Negotiations are currently underway for an all-star game involving all-star teams from the Eastern and Western College football Unions. The proceeds will be shared by the Shriners and the Canadian Paraplegic Association.

The latter group already has a hand in college football as a game is played annually between the University of British Columbia Thunderbirds and McGill for the Paraplegics Trophy. For the past few seasons this game has been a success, although not always a great financial success.

The major shortcoming of the Shrine all-star games for the past three seasons has been the weather. They were always played the Saturday following the Grey Cup game. The weather was either wet or cold and often both.

The college football season ends in early November and the game will be played the first week after the college championship is decided. This will be almost a month prior to the old Shrine game date and with a break in the weather should be a financial success.

The Canadian Football Council at its meeting last Winter decided to drop the game and offered to play the Canadian junior football final for Shrine charities. This was refused and the game itself was abandoned.

Now a new ray of hope is shining through the clouds and should all parties get together for this college all-star contest, not only will football itself benefit, so will the untold thousands of crippled children in the Montreal and Winnipeg Shrine hospitals as well as the Canadian Paraplegics Association.

Tommy Savage, NDG Monarchs goal-tender who was selected the Metropolitan Hockey League's all-star netminder, will be playing his hockey at Michigan State next year.

Tommy was an all-star goaler for Catholic High School a couple of seasons back and didn't play school hockey last year. Tommy was offered and accepted an athletic scholarship. At the present time he is selling sporting goods for Gerry Snyder, ye old skate guard inventor.

I see by the grapevine that Joan Crawford, wife of the late Pepsi president Alfred Steele, managed to get all the Pepsi trucks and properties back from Fidel Castro.

During the Cuban revolution Fidel confiscated all the equipment. Miss Crawford made an appeal through film producer Jerry Wald, who is co-producing the Castro story. Wald lifted the phone, got its properties back.

has a son, and no better time than the present to get the lad interested in fishing. Actually, if he's anywhere over five years it's a worthwhile investment to buy him an inexpensive road and reel to start him off. Many happy hours will be had by both on the lake or alone at a brook or stream.

There will be times when you will have double duties such as baiting two hooks; untangling lines and fishing him, not the fish, out of water; that you will wish you had never introduced the son and heir to the manly sport of fishing. When this feeling is on, just sit for a minute and think of the time when he may be the source of your bragging about a whopper that didn't get away, for the lad caught it, and on instructions he received from you.

If your son has already acquired a yen for fishing, this summer try to spend a little more time with him. Teach him your own favorite tricks and what there is to know about water safety while fishing. Greater love had no man than this, that he gave up a day of golf to fish with his lad.

Father's Day is Sunday, so what say Dad, there is no more appropriate day or time to take the lad or laddies, as the case may be, off for a few hours to try your luck.

FISHERMEN'S TIP: There are days when "light biters" drive you crazy. How a fish can steal your bait and keep from getting hooked is a mystery, but they do. Observation has proven that they sense or see danger, and do not take a big mouthful, but nibble at your bait. What to do in a case like this is to tie a small size 10 or 12 hook to the end of a 4 lb. monofilament line, completely cover the hook with your bait, no more, enough is enough, then all they will see is a mouthful of bait and instead of nibbling they will latch on.

Kinsmen NHL stars to play June 21

Opening batteries for the Kinsmen Benefit Fastball Game between Canadiens and the NHL All-Stars June 21 at Delormier Stadium were announced.

Turk Broda will handle the All-Stars, comprised mostly of Toronto Maple Leafs, will send Leo Labine to the mound with Charlie Burns behind the plate. Coach Toe Blake of Canadiens will have Claude Provost pitching to Jean-Guy Talbot.

The contest will be staged on behalf of retarded children with proceeds going towards the cost of sending youngsters to summer camp.

Canadiens raised over $8,000 for the same cause last year. Doug Harvey who is working hard for this worthy cause hopes all sports fans will support the game.

"Besides helping a worthy cause, the people who attend the game should be in for a real treat. The All-Stars have an excellent team and Canadiens will make it interesting."

The emotions of being a father...

The world is a scene of many changes. Every day fresh knowledge extends our horizons. New inventions create fresh wonders. New discoveries shape new opinions.

But some things are little affected by external changes. The emotions of being a father, for example, stay constant through the ages.

The hopes and fears . . . the wishes and apprehensions. The humbling realization that no other task in all the world carries with it so grave a responsibility, so rewarding a victory as that of being a father.

For where else does a boy look . . .

. . . for light which will lead to sure places for young feet to stand?

. . . for guidance through the great continent of the mind?

. . . for strength of will and love of goodness?

. . . for those words and teachings that will open wisdom's way?

. . . for a held-out hand, a haven in every sudden storm?

Where else but to a father, who knows that every son is a miracle, like daily light.

The emotions of being a father never change. They flow from well-springs deep within us, as old and changeless as instinct itself. More than anything else Fatherhood is guidance and wisdom — the wisdom of setting a good example in thought, in word, in deed. And one principle that surely deserves to be exemplified is the practice of Moderation in all things, including the use of whisky. It is this thought which The House of Seagram wishes to leave with you on this Father's Day, 1959. May it enrich your life with happiness, and your son's thereafter.

How the guard will protect

Gerry Snyder designs new steel skate guard

The National Hockey League Rules Committee at its annual meeting here this week approved for use by NHL players a skate guard designed to prevent accidental injury caused by the sharp back end of a skate.

The skate guard was designed by Gerry Snyder, Montreal sports store owner and avid sports follower. The new design is to have a steel wire ⅛-inch in diameter attached to the rear of the runner holder and extended to the top rear vertical tube supporting the heel plate where the wire will again be attached.

The Warnock Hersey company inspected the metal and welding and agreed that under proper control the addition of the wire will not affect the quality of the steel blade or steel tubular supports now used.

Many hockey players have had their careers cut short because of injuries sustained by the protruding back edges of a skate blade. Jo Jo Grabowski, while playing with Oshawa juniors lost an eye when hit by the back end of a skate; Boston Bruins' coach Milt Schmidt cut himself during a playoff series a few years ago when he fell on his own skate; Paul Meger of Montreal Canadiens suffered a head injury that almost cost him his life when he was hit on the head by the rear end of a skate; Jackie Leclair, also of Montreal Canadiens had his throat cut through a similar accident.

Canadiens' all-star defenseman Doug. Harvey believes that the skate guard will lessen to a great extent the seriousness of injuries sustained from the rear of a skate blade. When a youngster, Harvey almost lost his life when he tripped and fell on the rear end of his own skate and cut the inside of his leg. The blade severed an artery and Harvey almost died.

The steel skate guard will also be adapted for figure skates.

All NHL officials who saw the new skate guard for the first time this week were impressed by it and have recommended that it be put into production immediately for use in the 1959-60 season.

You don't have to be crazy to play golf, but it helps

You don't have to be crazy to make a living out of golft — but it sure helps. Just ask Paul Hahn, the trick-shot man.

Such feats as hitting three golf balls at once and using the nose of a beautiful young lady as a tee have made Hahn an international figure in a game he once tried to crack by more orthodox means.

Paul came back from four years in the U.S. navy determined to make a living in the jungle of tournament golf. Like many young men of that era, he found it was too tough and quit after one year — a poorer but wiser man.

One of Paul's troubles on the tour was his attitude that golf was too much fun to be taken seriously. And this just won't pay off in a game where dollars hang on every shot.

But this love of fun was the start of a new career that has taken Paul around the world and made him quite a bit of money in the bargain.

During a golf tour, friends suggested to Hahn he might be better off as a trick-shot player anyway. "At first I was mad," Hahn recalls. "But I started to think about it and the more I thought, the better I liked the idea."

Quitting the tour because of the lack of funds, Hahn went back to a job as a club pro. He didn't like that either, so he started to work on his trick-shot repertoire. This was a field that had been pioneered by Joe Kirkwood. Paul felt he needed something new if he was to make a success of it.

His idea was to build a show around the trick shots — an exhibition that could be put on at shows — such as the Sportsmen's — or at golf tournaments.

He headed to Hollywood, the home of the ballyhoo and the gag writers. With the help of movie gag writers — benched by television — he put together a comedy routine.

Of course, the show revolved around Hahn's trick shots and his mammoth bag of golf clubs. This latter item weighs 90 pounds. No. Paul doesn't lug it around on his back.

The 90 pounds of golf equipment is made up of such monstrosities as a regular driver head with a garden hose shaft. With this weapon, Hahn can propel the ball 230 yards.

Amateurs Pros in golf open

Golf fans who like to watch the amateurs in action as well as the wallet and wedge brigade will see a strong delegation of leading United States and Canadian simon pures match strokes with the pros at Islesmere in the Canadian Open.

The 50th Anniversary Canadian Open Championship field will be well represented by scratch and low handicap amateurs out to duplicate Doug Sanders 1956 feat at Beaconsfield.

Sanders of Miami Beach, Fla., and now a pro, defeated Dow Finsterwald in a playoff to become the first amateur to ever win the national championship.

The Islesmere field will include many players quite capable of shunting the pros to the background.

Don Cherry of Wichita Falls, Tex., who won the Canadian Amateur at Kanawaki in 1953, Charles Decker of Wellsville, N. Y., Ted Lenczyk of Indian Hill, Conn. and Jim Funston from Plum Hollow, Detroit, are among the strong U. S. amateur representatives eyeing the Seagram Gold Cup.

Bobby Panasiuk, Canadian junior champion from Windsor, Ont., and one of the country's most promising youngsters, has also entered.

Montreal amateurs will be out in force with Brian McGuigan of Summerlea, Dave Pemberton-Smith of Kanawaki, Ian Fraser of Hampstead and Ken Banks of the host Islesmere club only a few set to match their skill against the professionals.

No-hit LL contest pitched by Leroux

Little Roger Leroux joined the ranks of baseball's no-hit pitchers when he spun a 10-0 Little League victory for the American 'A' League Athletics.

Leroux blanked Senators without a hit or run as he struck out five batters and walked four in recording his feat.

It was the second no-hitter in Little League circles this season.

Pedicelli's ball club shows class

White Owls coached and managed by "Lefty" Pedicelli are off to a great start in the pee wee baseball section of the St. Henri district.

Winning their first start 17-2 over St. Cunegonde, Owls have won three of four starts.

Twelve-year-old Johnny Capozzi was the hero connecting for two homers, with teammate Bernard Campeau also registering a four-bagger. Bobby Angelini was the winning pitcher.

In their next game Owls dropped a decision 4-3 to St. Zotique, but came right back to even the score, winning 8-4 under the skillful pitching of Johnny Capozzi who chalked up 10 strikeouts.

Capozzi came back against St. Cunegonde to win again, this time registering another 10 strikeouts.

The score was 12-7 with the hits divided between Frank Detomasso and Tony Christiano each with a homer, Mike De Francesco with three for three and Dominic Ciampini and Johnny Capozzi each with a single.
