WESTMOUNT, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1940

WE'RE PROUD OF QUEBEC

Senator L. A. David has called attention to something that is well worthy of note. Speaking in the Upper House, he commented that everyone must have noticed the difference in the feelings and attitude of the Province of Quebec today from that which existed in 1917. Everyone who has given the matter a moment's thought certainly has.

It was in 1917, as will be remembered, that Quebec led the bitterest fight against the Union Government party, solely as a protest against conscription.

On October 23 of last year, Premier Duplessis went to the people on a platform that was almost frankly one of non-participation in Britain's war. The province turned on him and elected 69 out of 86 members from the Liberal Party, which had the strong backing of members of the Dominion Government, pledged to full support of the Empire. Since then, partial conscription, affecting service for home defence, has been brought in. Not one Quebec Member of the House of Commons has raised a serious note of protest, and high officials of both church and state in the province have lauded the compulsory service program.

There is ample justification for Senator David to speak of the change in feeling and attitude in Quebec. That province has won the honored place to which she is entitled as a strong, loyal supporter of a great Empire.

BRITAIN'S INDUSTRIAL CAPACITY

Recently announced figures of United Kingdom trade indicate encouraging news. For the first seven months of the present year, in spite of extraordinary demands at home, and the threat of enemy action of the high seas,

Great Britain not only maintained her position as a great exporter, but actually increased by some £10,000,000 the total of her manufactured goods shipped abroad during the January-July period, as compared with same period in 1939. Total exports for the seven months aggregated £225,000,000.

Naturally the character of the goods exports has changed from the pre-war years. There is an almost inexhaustible domestic demand for machinery, ships and aircraft. Offsetting declines in exports of this nature have been increases in the shipment of pottery, electrical goods, chemicals and dyestuffs, and manufactured textiles.

With the greater part of the European market closed to her, Britain was obliged to find other fields for the placing of her exportable surplus, so larger quantities of British manufactures are now being sold in Canada, the United States and Latin America. Canada's imports from the Motherland for the eight months ended with August, 1940, show a total value of $105,000,000, or thirty-six percent more than in the same period in 1939. The principal increases include: Pottery, up $1,000,000; electrical apparatus, up $500,000; chemicals, up $500,000; and textiles, up $13,000,000. Textiles accounted for forty percent of the total British imports during the eight-month period, compared with thirty-six percent in 1939.

When it is considered that every factory in the United Kingdom which can do so is busy turning out military supplies, the remarkable increase in the volume of the nation's exports is undeniable evidence of Britain's great industrial strength, as well as of her continued command of the oceans' channels of commerce.

CANADA AT SEA

No one jokes any more about the Canadian Navy. There is good reason for this. It is exemplified in the speech of Commander Reginald Fletcher, Under-Secretary to the First Lord of the Admiralty, in which he enthusiastically praised the naval help which the Dominion has rendered the Empire in this war.

This, really, is the first British war in which Canada has effectively gone to sea. She has never before been looked on as a maritime power, but she has well and solidly established her reputation in that field today. She has thus gained stature in the Empire family.

R.C.A.F. BAND TO PRESENT PROGRAMS

One of the outstanding features of the Armistice Parade on November 11th was the brilliant playing and deportment of the Royal Canadian Air Force Band under leadership of Warrant Officer T. F. Cooper.

This aggregation is visiting Montreal for only a brief period so their public appearances will be limited.

Musical lovers in the city will be afforded two unusual opportunities of hearing the band through the kind permission of Air Force Commodore T. M. McEwen, M.T., D.F.C., A.B.C., Commandant No. 3 Training Command, on Sunday, November 24th at 3 o'clock in the Salvation Army Citadel, 1225 University Street, the brass section will present a musical programme which service will be open to the public, and a warm invitation is extended. This special event is sponsored by the Montreal Citadel Band, another in the series of its "Pleasant Sunday Afternoons."

On Monday evening, November 25th, at 8 p.m. in Emmanuel Church, Drummond Street, the entire band (56 members) will offer a fine and varied programme of band and vocal music, including, marches, overtures, selections, Patriotic Airs Hymn tunes, etc.

The band has a fine complement of soloists, and Bandsmen Cliffe Hunt, Ted Robbins, and George Houslander will present cornet, euphonium, and trombone solos. L. Ridsman Bramwell Ritchie, a fine vocalist, will offer tenor solos. The band has a talented brass quartette, which will also be heard.

Wing Commander C. Snow of No. 3 Training Command will be chairman, and preside over this outstanding event. Flight Lieutenant Canon Gilbert Oliver, M.C., who is on leave of absence from The Church of the Messiah, Cote St. Antoine Road, will also be taking part in the programme.

The public is cordially invited to be present. Early attendance is recommended.

The Examiner's Hidden Titles Contest

The Westmount Examiner's Hidden Titles Contest is run with the kind co-operation of Mr. Godd, manager of the Westmount Theatre. Each week twelve passes are given to the six lucky winners who comply with the following requirements:

Simply find the two "ads." in the current issue of The Westmount Examiner in which the names of the two feature pictures being shown at the Westmount Theatre during the first half of the coming week are hidden.

Submit all answers to The Contest Editor, The Westmount Examiner, 2191 Hampton Avenue, using the special coupon provided in each issue for the purpose.

Contestants must be over 16 years of age. Residents of Westmount, only, are eligible. All answers must be in the office not later than Wednesday, and the names of the winners will be published in Thursday's issue.

A convenient coupon will be found elsewhere in the paper. The winners are drawn from among those who submit the correct answers as, unfortunately, it would be impossible to give passes to every one submitting the right answers.

The winners of last week's contest are as follows and their passes will be received in Monday's mail: John Kennedy, 138 Abbott Ave.; Miss Georgie R. Harper, 412 Roslyn Ave.; Mrs. F. E. Pickering, 27 York Ave.; K. S. Fortune, 435 Elm Ave.; Edwina Briggs, 590 Lansdowne Ave.; Alan Labaune, 400 Kensington Ave.

Trip Through Factory At Morgan's Revealing

SERVICES WORTH KNOWING ABOUT

Alice going through the Looking Glass wasn't half as interested as I was while going through Morgan's six-story factory on Beaver Hill. It was simply humming with industry—twelve different departments all busy at services, most of which I'd never dreamed existed. Money-saving services worth knowing about.

MOTOR CAR HOSPITAL

"This is the Body and Fender Department," said my guide as we started off on a tour of the ground floor. "Suppose your car crumples up against a telephone pole. You hope it won't, of course. But if it does and you have it towed to Morgan's Factory, this overhead trolley," he pointed up at the ceiling, will swing your sick car inside and our experienced workers go to work and doctor it up with a complete, first-class refitting. Which means they'll straighten out all dents and kinks, repair the upholstery and woodwork, paint the chassis, overhaul the motor, and turn out your car so rejuvenated that even YOU would hardly recognize it."

SUPER AWNING SERVICE

"That's where we store awnings," said my guide as we looked into a large dry room. "When autumn comes and your thoughts turn to cosy fires—and it won't be long if this cold weather keeps up," he interjected. "And you think of taking down your summer awnings, a call to Morgan's Factory will bring men to your home to take down the awnings, remove them to the Factory, where special machines will blow out all the dust and dirt out of them. Then they are carefully dried, covered with paper, and put into storage on the ground floor. When spring comes round again, your awnings, bright and fresh with new life, will be delivered to your home and put up again. How's that for service?" We thought it was pretty good.

WHERE THINGS ARE STORED

We came to a department sectioned off with a steel wire fence. "That's the Central Stockroom," guarded like a jewel. It contains all the supplies and materials for the entire factory. And over there you see the Receiving and Shipping department where all goods coming in and out are carefully checked."

A fragrant, woody odour wafted towards us as we entered the Lumber Stockroom. On all sides were stacks upon stacks of interesting-looking woods. Teak from Burma, walnut, oak, mahogany, even Koko wood from the Andaman Islands (we looked them up and discovered they are islands in the Bay of Bengal, India).

The Koko wood, we learned, is a heavy grained wood particularly suited for paneling offices and taverns. The wafery sheets of wood, said the guide, would later be made up into laminated panels—5, 7, or 9-ply. "Look," he directed my attention to the ceiling. "See that overhead trolley? We can unload a complete car load of lumber and transport it the entire length of the lumber room. And these," touching several large machines, "rip the lumber, cut it into lengths, and various widths."

Practically the only room in the entire Factory we didn't enter was the Dry Kiln. It's a warmish room, we gathered, where lumber is put to be dried under controlled heat.

Way off in a dark corner was the Veneer Stock Room. "We keep it as far away from the heat as possible," and, as we peeped through the lattice screen, "we have some splendid crotch and fiddle back mahogany." "Fiddle back mahogany?" we queried. "What's that?" Just as we might have known it was particularly fine mahogany used for the backs of fiddles. The room was stacked to the ceiling with fitches of veneer (fine wood cut into thin sheets).

"Here we store the scaffolding," and we peered into a dim room stored with dozens of ladders and the like used for painting and repairing houses and buildings. On one side was a carpenter's workshop.

I gapsed at the size of the mighty press in the Gluing Department. "One of the largest, if not THE largest in Canada," we learned. "It measures 6' x 11'." Nearby were other presses of different shapes. Panels for elevator cabs are placed in these even presses, after which the panels are placed in the drying room under controlled heat.

"Not much we can't make here," chuckled the guide, as I looked into a perfect maze of machinery in the Millwork Bench and Machine Shop. "We have the most modern equipment and facilities, and we've turned out everything in woodwork from a lady's heel to an aeroplane so large we couldn't get it out of the building." I asked him what he did with it, but he went on enthusiastically: "Why, we've made the elevator cabs for the Dominion Square Building, and the Sun Life, woodwork for the local Court House, the Royal Bank, the Bell Telephone. We made the elevator cabs for the Royal York Hotel in Toronto, and the complete woodwork fixtures for the Hudson Bay Store at Winnipeg. . . . Which was going pretty far afield, I thought."

WHERE RUGS ARE WASHED

I liked the way rugs are washed on the Fourth Floor. It's all very thorough and scientific. First, the rugs, oriental as well as domestic, are minutely examined for repair work, moth life, how good the rugs are, and their intended purpose. Then each one is placed in a long rug-beating machine and fed through rollers on to a flat smooth steel plate where rapidly revolving flexible strips of leather gently but efficiently tap out the dust. This dust is then carried away by a suction fan.

There was, our guide told us, approximately 4,000 rugs in the Factory at that time, (which speaks well for Morgan's system of rug-washing.) Incidentally, Morgan's Factory is a member of the Certified Rug Cleaners' Institute, a body of experts that has made a deep study of the whole question of rug care.

After the beating, the rug is placed flat on a sloping floor, and with simply gallons of fresh water streaming over it, is thoroughly gone over with a revolving electric brush, and pure lather soap worked right into the rug. This special rug soap renews wool fibres that due to loss of their original oil have become harsh and dry. Next, the rug is immersed in a tank of clear water and then fed flat and square into a huge wringer and hung fair and square to dry. After drying, the rug is steamed and brushed and inspected. Any needed repairs are sent to the repair department, or to be resized, and then sent back to its owner with all the harmful grit removed, and glowing with new life. It's a thorough cleaning and must, as our guide said, add years to the life of a rug.

You can also have your furniture washed on this floor.

AFTER A FIRE IN YOUR HOME

You can store your damaged furniture and the contents of the home at Morgan's Factory, pending adjustment. "They'll dry out gradually," said the guide, "or, if you are in rather a hurry to get things settled, the drying will be hurried up."

THEY POLISH FURNITURE

"See this table?" he pointed to a once-beautiful dining room table, now hideously disfigured with glass ring stains and cigarette burns. "When it leaves this department—the Natural Wood Polishing—modernize it—put in new webbing and so on. And we use all types of materials—fabrics and leathers. It's a good idea to mothproof furniture, too." We watched these craftsmen at work, "skilled workers every one." All of them working beside well-lighted windows, re-upholstering, "renovating from the ground up." They certainly appeared to know their work and love it.

MATTRESSES CUT IN TWO

People often send a large mattress to the Factory and have it cut in half for twin beds, we learned, thinking it one of the most economical ideas we'd ever heard. You can also have mattresses recovered, the filling thoroughly cleaned, and have it mothproofed too, if you wish.

Much too complicated to describe was the machine which goes to work and makes up awnings—bends the rods, puts the eyes in. Then, after a brief peep into the room where materials for filling are stored, such as kapok for mattresses, etc., we went on to the Third Floor.

WOODWORK ARTISTS

"No sloppy work here in the Cabinet Department," asserted our guide. "These men know what they are doing—all experienced workers, long practised in their crafts. They make new furniture and repair it." We paused to watch a man carving what looked like a chair leg, and an exquisite piece of work it was. "We can reproduce a piece of furniture so nearly like the original you couldn't tell the two pieces apart," he said. And I didn't doubt him at all.

Note: Should your beloved antique show signs of ageing or wobbling, you can safely trust it to Morgan's Factory for renovation.

THEY STICK TOGETHER

I gapsed at the size of the mighty press in the Gluing Department. "One of the largest, if not THE largest in Canada," we learned. "It measures 6' x 11'." Nearby were other presses of different shapes. Panels for elevator cabs are placed in these even presses, after which the panels are placed in the drying room under controlled heat.

"Not much we can't make here," chuckled the guide, as I looked into a perfect maze of machinery in the Millwork Bench and Machine Shop. "We have the most modern equipment and facilities, and we've turned out everything in woodwork from a lady's heel to an aeroplane so large we couldn't get it out of the building." I asked him what he did with it, but he went on enthusiastically: "Why, we've made the elevator cabs for the Dominion Square Building, and the Sun Life, woodwork for the local Court House, the Royal Bank, the Bell Telephone. We made the elevator cabs for the Royal York Hotel in Toronto, and the complete woodwork fixtures for the Hudson Bay Store at Winnipeg. . . . Which was going pretty far afield, I thought."

suffers with a worn white-looking seam, Morgan's Factory will cut and then join the carpet together again just like new.

CALLING THE SERVICE DEPARTMENT

We passed this department on the way out. And next time you call Lancaster 4121, picture a bright room on the first floor where girls quickly and efficiently answer the phone, take down all details, and see that your work is forwarded to the right department.

Thank you, Morgan's Factory, for being such an interesting place to visit. We'd like to call in again some time.

Cadet K. P. Pyper Killed In Action

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Pyper, of 7 Douglas Avenue, have received word that their son, Cadet Kenneth Pedley Pyper, in charge of a platoon with the rank of Platoon Sergeant-Major, has been accidentally killed while on active service in England.

Educated at Westmount High School before entering the University Bishop's College, Cadet Pyper was well known here. He was a member of the Canadian Officers Training Corps at the latter institution and enlisted and went overseas with a Montreal Regiment early in December.

Cadet Pyper was to have received his commission this month, his parents stated.

REV. JOHNSTON WILL PREACH BOTH SERVICES

Minister to Occupy Pulpit At Morning and Evening Services at Baptist Church Sunday

Both services in the Westmount Baptist Church Sunday will be conducted by Reverend J. A. Johnston. At the morning service the sermon theme will be presented in the form of a question: "Where Is There God?" — A Christian answer to a crucial question.

At the evening service the minister will have as his theme: "A Dictator's Deputy Who Shirks His Sacred Duty." At the heart of the message there will lie the most important question that any man can ask or answer, namely, "What shall I do then with Jesus, who is called Christ?"

The Young People's Union has a most attractive gathering for young people each Monday evening at 8 o'clock. A large number of young men and women attend. Those who are seeking a virile and satisfactory Christian experience are cordially invited.

The Mid-Week Fellowship, held each Wednesday evening, brings together a large number of people. This assembly is informal and of great inspirational value to all who participate. The period for intercession affords opportunity for all to take part. To all of these services an invitation is cordially extended.

Under the command of Sea Scout Master A. L. Patrick, the junior sections in charge of Sea Scout Master W. J. Hill while Sea Scout Master Hugh Anderson heads the senior group.

The Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club Sea Scouts have contributed sums through its war fund to the Overseas Parcel League, and the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve ladies' committee. LAST RESPECTS ARE PAID LATE MRS. TIMMINS

Funeral Service Held for Widow of Prominent Mining and Financial Figure

The funeral service for Mrs. L. H. Timmins, of 4 Surrey Gardens, was held Monday morning in St. Leo's Church, with interment in Cote des Neiges Cemetery. Mrs. Timmins, widow of L. H. Timmins, for many years a prominent figure in the mining and financial world, died on Friday at her home.

The former Miss Alphonine Pare, Mrs. Timmins was the daughter of an old French-Canadian family of Lachine, and was skilled in music and the literary art. She was an active social worker, and was a charter member of the Catholic Women's League.

In recognition of her charitable and religious work she was decorated in 1937 by His Holiness Pope Plus XI with the medal, "Bene Merenti."

Surviving her are two sons, L. Henri Timmins and Jules R. Timmins; two daughters, Mrs. R. Costello and Mrs. Donat Raymond; four sisters, Mrs. N. A. Timmins, sr., Mrs. Adhemar Pare, of Lachine, and two sisters in the Order of the Sisters of St. Anne; two brothers, Arthur Pare, of Lachine, and J. B. Pare of Timmins, Ont., and several grandchildren, nephews and nieces.

Westmount Baptist Church Notes

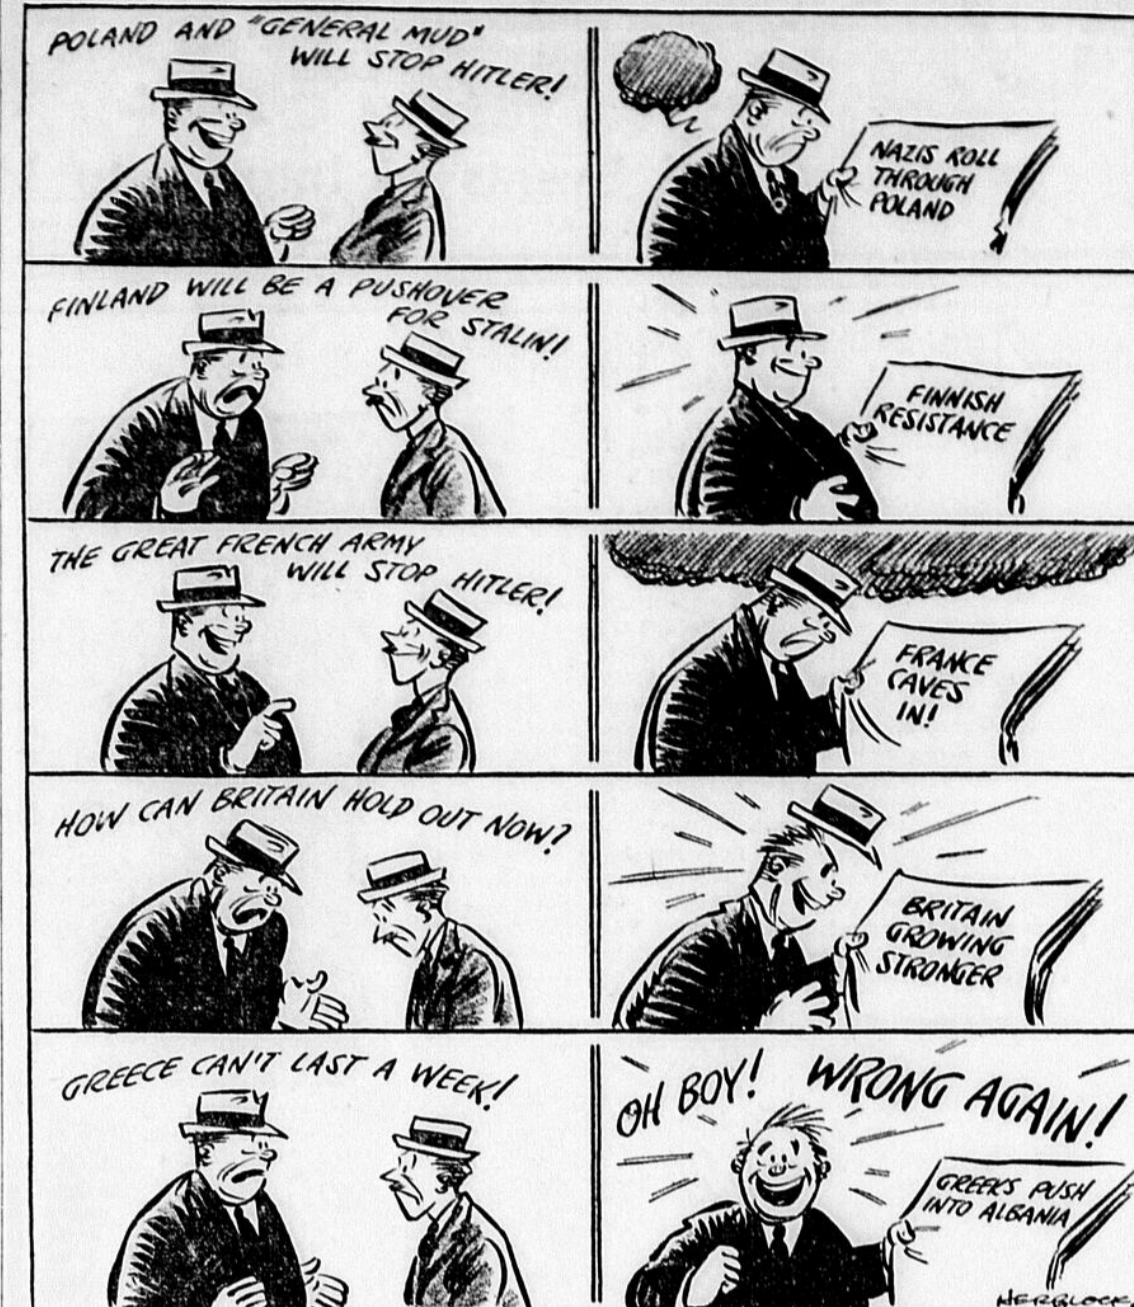

Both services in the Westmount Baptist Church will be conducted by Reverend J. A. Johnston. At the morning service the Sermon Theme will be presented in the form of a question: "Where Is There God?" — A Christian answer to a crucial question.

At the evening service the Minister will have as his Theme: "A Dictator's Deputy Who Shirks His Sacred Duty." At the heart of the message there will lie the most important question that any man can ask or answer, namely, "What shall I do then with Jesus, who is called Christ?"

The Young People's Union has a most attractive gathering for young people each Monday evening at 8 o'clock. A large number of young men and women attend. Those who are seeking a virile and satisfactory Christian experience are cordially invited.

The Mid-Week Fellowship, held each Wednesday evening, brings together a large number of people. This assembly is informal and of great inspirational value to all who participate. The period for intercession affords opportunity for all to take part. To all of these services an invitation is cordially extended.

ANYTHING CAN HAPPEN

HEADS DIVISION

Mrs. J. Leo Mason, formerly of Westmount and well known in the city, heads the women's division of the special names committee of the Federation of Catholic Charities Campaign, which seeks $190,000 before November 26 to care for the many unemployed who depend on its agencies.

DR. G. FLEMING WILL ADDRESS SCHOOL GROUP

Noted Professor Will Be Speaker at Meeting of Roslyn Home and School Association

The Roslyn Home and School Association will hear Dr. Grant Fleming, Professor of Public Health at McGill University on Monday, November 25th, at 8.15 p.m. The meeting will be held as usual, in Roslyn School and the subject of Dr. Fleming's address will be "Health Education."

Parents and teachers of Roslyn School children are looking to this meeting to launch the work of the Association for the year, as "Health Education" constitutes the most important study that will be made by its members during the current session. A record attendance is therefore expected at this meeting, which is the second of several scheduled by the Association at the instance of its membership, which is becoming ever more aware of the importance of its function.

The meeting will also hear the reports of the different committees which have been formed to study various phases of the work. Following this refreshments will be served and an opportunity will be afforded the Teachers to chat informally and suggest plans for the future.

New Dance Series To Start Saturday

The first of "Westmount's New Friendly Dances" will be held this Saturday evening in the Gymnasium of the Westmount Y.M.C.A. under the direction of Miss Joan MacMillan.

High Home And School Association Article

The following article, entitled "Is Formal Discipline Necessary in the School," has been prepared for the Examiner by H. B. Parker, principal of the Westmount High School, and is another in the series sponsored by the Westmount High Schools Home and School Association:

Two boys, one six years of age and one eight years old are "playing soldiers." They are not particular what they use for guns and swords, but they are very much interested in marching and army discipline.

Little girls are "playing school" on a Saturday morning. All their attention is given to order and conduct. They are not much concerned with the subject-matter taught.

Boys are playing Baseball on the corner lot. Most of their time is spent in discussing the rules of the game and the decisions of the umpire; very little Baseball is played.

Before the first real game, the Senior High School Football Team has, for weeks, been training. The boys have been subjected to strict discipline by the coach. The members of the team know what this discipline means; they realize what is required of them, individually and as a team. They know the consequences if they do not adhere to this discipline.

Imagine the quarter-back, in the middle of the game, calling his men into a huddle and, saying "Now is there any nice little boy here who would like to take the ball on the next play and carry it part way down the field?" This just is not done, nor does a five-year old boy relish such twaddle in his own home.

Eighty-five per cent of the High School boys have voluntarily joined the Cadet Corps. They did not join for the privilege of trundling a gun around a gymnasium for two hours at a time; they joined because they realized that there they would receive the very strictest kind of discipline.

Democracy must be defended, but it cannot be defended if the next generation is to be composed of self-expressionistic individuals, or of pampered undisciplined children.

Parents, do not soften the next generation.

WOMAN INJURED BY AUTOMOBILE

Struck by an automobile at the corner of Dorchester street and Atwater Avenue, at 7.30 p.m. on Sunday, Miss Ellen Kennedy, 71, of 4670 Grosvenor Avenue, suffered a fractured hip.

According to Westmount police, the auto was driven by Jos. A. Lapierre, 5157 LaSalle boulevard, Verdun. The latter took the injured woman to the western division of Montreal General Hospital, whence she was transferred to St. Mary's Hospital.

Constables W. Maxwell and E. Denbeigh, of Westmount, investigated.

YMCA Appeal For Funds Will Open On Jan. 15th

Announcing that the Canadian Y.M.C.A. would appeal to the corporations and public-spirited people of Canada on January next for funds to carry on its War Services, James Y. Murdoch, Chairman of the National Y.M.C.A. War Services Committee, expressed regret that it has not been possible for the Canadian Red Cross Society, the Y.M.C.A., the Salvation Army, the Knights of Columbus and the Canadian Legion to effect a merger campaign.

The Department of National War Services under the Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Ottawa, therefore, has authorized the Y.M.C.A. which is recognized by the Department of National Defence for Welfare Services to men of the Forces, to conduct a separate appeal. For this purpose, the Y.M.C.A. has been allotted the dates January 15th to 29th, 1941.

The 1940 Y.M.C.A. Appeal for funds, which secured $1,062,000 for War Services and over half a million dollars for home services, was required to finance its far flung services during the first sixteen months of the War.

CAPTAIN SCOTT TO PREACH AT GALVARY

The preacher at this service will be Bro. Capt. R. DeWitt Scott, who will take as his subject "Light." While Capt. Scott will bring a message to the Masons present, yet his remarks will not be confined to them alone and any visitors should receive inspiration from his address.

The Sunday School will meet in regular session at 3 p.m. There are organized classes for young men and women, and all former members and new friends are cordially invited to attend.

The Boy Scouts will meet on Monday at 7.15 p.m. The Young People's Union will be addressed by Mr. Frank Carey, who will speak on "Missions Among the Miners." All young people specially invited to attend.

NEW COIFFURES ARE CAREFULLY DESIGNED ON PRECISE LINES

Neat, Close-Groomed Effects Replace Haphazard Hair-Do's

Definite lines distinguish the new fall and winter coiffures. There are no careless long bobs among the hair styles that smart hairdressers ask their chic clientele to consider these days.

There are pompadours and variations of them galore, of course. And there are old-fashioned spit curls, perukes, chignon effects and merry widow waves. Large picture hats set off the narrower, more distinct waves to excellent advantage. Tiny fur and feather hats and suave felt ones, inspired by the mortar board you wore the day you were graduated, are perfect atop straight pompadours and broken ones.

"Brigham Young" effects—bonnets and forehead curls—are new. Also straight from the American album are adaptations of the hairdo that Betsy Ross, Dolly Madison, Anne Rutledge and Lillian Russell wore.

On the whole, hair is shorter—with many hairdressers using six-inch lengths all over the head. Tailored swirls across the back with simple perukes, chignon effects and merry widow waves are revived. Back hair never is manishly shingled, but it often is short, swirled and shaped to fit the head.

Curls may be in neat clusters on the neck, but they never are allowed to tumble willy-nilly over the shoulders. Even debutantes and Hollywood stars are being persuaded to wear their long bobs shorter

A black velvet cocktail hat, inspired by a mortar board, is posed atop a stunning pompadour which was featured in the Coiffure Guild's official fall show.

Red Cross Aids Civilians Held In Warring Lands

The International Red Cross Committee here has succeeded in obtaining in belligerent countries the same ruling for interned civilians as applies to prisoners of war.

Numerous international organizations are also co-operating with the International Red Cross Committee to bring moral uplift to prisoners of war and to the interned. As a result a consultative committee for the procuring of suitable reading materials has been formed with the following societies among its members: The World League of the Young Men's Christian Association; the International Board of Education; the International Red Cross Committee; the Commission for Spiritual Help to Prisoners of War; the International League for Librarian Associations; the International University Foundation and the World League of Student Associations.

Catholic Charities Able To Help Many Needy Ones

A brake screamed. On the pavement lay a still little form. A crowd gathered as the ambulance arrived.

It was Joey; hit by a car while playing in the street. For Joey's mother was poor, and he had no place to play except outside the front door. And he would run into the road.

Joey went to hospital, into a plaster cast. For five long years the little chap has worn it. He never was strong, and doesn't get well quickly like other children with better chances.

After he left hospital, all Joey saw of the world for months was the house across the way and a bit of sky down the street. But he's a real Trojan, and cheerfully watched the other kids scampering around as he did — once.

One day a lady went to see Joey and, tearfully, he confided to her that "nobody takes me any further than the gallery." Then and there he was on the threshold of a new world. For, from the gallery a little later he saw a bright, shiny automobile round the corner and it stopped — where? Right at Joey's door! Next thing, the chauffeur was carrying him carefully to this wonderful car, where he sank into the luxurious cushions and off they went. Down new streets, past glittering stores, down a hill, under a subway, and out into the green, green country.

An ecstatic little Joey came home safely. "Do you know what, Mum?" he shouted. "I saw a real cow!"

The WOMAN'S Page

Musical Pageant Planned By Women's Auxiliary

An undertaking of great interest will be sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of Shaar Hashomayim, when a musical pageant entitled "The Jewish Home Beautiful," will be presented on Wednesday evening, November 27 at 8.30 o'clock, in the Assembly Hall of the Synagogue, Kensington Ave., Westmount. This panorama will enable the audience to go round the entire year in Jewish ceremonial, thereby demonstrating how the Festivals make the home the centre of moral strength radiating beauty and charm. The special significance of these joyous occasions will be emphasized by "tables" arranged in horseshoe design and dedicated to each festival; setting and decoration with fruit, flowers, candles, crystal and silver will carry out the theme of gaiety and devotion to home ideals, inherent in all. The Festivals represented in this delightful and original work include Rosh Hashanah, Sukkoth, Chanukah, Passover, Purim, Shevuoth and Shabbas. This calendar of Festive Events will be explained by a specially selected group of ladies, including Mrs. E. Lozinski, Mrs. B. Lefcourt, Mrs. N. Silverman, Mrs. N. Mendelson, Mrs. J. Ross and Miss Esther Asner, will sing selected melodies for each festival. Choral accompaniment is under the direction of H. Semiatin, choir director of the Shaar Hashomayim. Solos will be given by Cantor N. Mendelson, Mrs. E. Lozinski and Mrs. B. Lefcourt. Hostesses who will preside at the Festival Tables are Mesdames Joseph Levinson, Lyon Cohen, Jacob Kellert, Samuel Bronfman, H. Tarshis, H. R. Cohen, F. Leopold, H. J. Levinson, J. Klein, M. A. Marshall, Leon Levinson, B. H. Rubin, R. Robinson, M. Cummings and Misses Hattie and Beckie Kellert. Mrs. Edward Solomon, president of the Women's Auxiliary of Shaar Hashomayim will conduct the gathering and will welcome the guests. Dr. H. Abramowitz will address the audience and thank the participants. Refreshments are in charge of Mesdames B. Matts, L. K. Freedman, J. Kushner, J. A. Besner, Norman Friedman, Samuel W. Jacobs, A. Cohen, H. Shulman, I. Kert, H. L. Bacal. Ticket convenors are Mesdames Emmanuel Solomon, A. Dobrofsky, I. Kert, B. Matts, J. H. Fine and H. L. Franklin. The Way to a Man's Heart

Refrigerator Pie With Whipped Cream

Canned or fresh, highly spiced or bland, pumpkin is an All-Canadian pie contest winner. But pumpkin has other uses, too. Here's a novelty recipe for candied pumpkin squares to serve with roast chicken.

PUMPKIN SQUARES
One pound, 8 ounces of pumpkin chips, 1 pound, 8 ounces sugar, juice of 4 lemons, rind of 1 lemon.

Pare and remove seeds and stringy parts of pumpkin. Cut into thin slivers, about 1/4 inch thick and 1/2 inch square. Mix with sugar, lemon juice and rind of lemon. Cook until pumpkin becomes transparent. Pack in sterilized jars. Fill up with syrup and seal.

For individual pumpkin pies or for a large pie, try this recipe of Della T. Lutes, genial authority on American foods.

QUAKER PUMPKIN PIE
Four eggs, 1 cup sugar, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon ginger, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 cups evaporated milk, 1 tablespoon melted butter, 7 tablespoons cooked pumpkin. Beat yolks of eggs, add sugar, salt, spices, milk, pumpkin and butter. Fold in beaten egg whites last. Fill crust as full as possible and bake in oven at 500 degrees F. for 10 minutes; then lower heat and bake at 325 degrees F. for 55 minutes. This makes a large pie, but can be baked in individual patty shells if desired.

REFRIGERATOR PUMPKIN PIE
One tablespoon gelatin 1/4 cup cold water, 1 1/2 cups milk, 1 1/2 cups cooked pumpkin, 2 tablespoons molasses, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon ginger, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon salt. Soak gelatin in cold water. Heat milk, pumpkin, butter and molasses together in top of double boiler. Combine sugar, ginger, cinnamon and salt and add to pumpkin mixture. Stir in softened gelatin and mix thoroughly; cool. Pour into crumb pie shell and chill until firm.

AUBURN GIVES MANY THRILLS IN MAGIC ART

Tom Auburn once more baffled an extremely large audience at the Catholic Sailors Institute last week. Auburn's manipulative skill in handling billiard balls and cards is something to appreciate, from cutting a length of rope into three pieces, restoring it, then cutting it into three pieces again and once more restoring it to swallowing a length of thread then about 20 razor blades previously examined by a member of the audience, drinking a glass of water he immediately proceeds to extract the blades from the mouth threaded.

Auburn not only mystified the front stage audience but many of the American Acts from two or three of the better known night clubs in Montreal who were awaiting their turn to perform were also amazed, as it is a well known fact that if you have the opportunity of being backstage during a magician's performance a person would naturally see how many of the magician's miracles are performed, but even backstage the professional artists were bewildered. Many questions arose during his performance, especially from the American performers. Persons who were asked these questions were pleased to advise that Tom Auburn was a Canadian boy, even then these people were a little skeptical until Lieutenant Bill Minogue verified the fact.

Auburn's busy season is commencing and the professional engagements are becoming extreme. On Friday and Saturday evenings, November 15 and 16 Auburn entertained at St. Lambert's on both evenings and had to return for engagements in Montreal. He once more returned to the Sailors Institute on November 20 for a repeat performance. On the 23rd he will appear at Three Rivers with the Y.M.C.A. T.N.T. Revue. The Red Triangle Club of the Y.M.C.A. will also be entertained by Auburn on the 26. Professional dates will keep him busy right through until December 23 and on this evening he will entertain for the Navy League of Canada.

NEWS OF THE THEATRE WORLD

Theatrical Attractions

"Flowing Gold" To Open At Westmount On Sunday

"Flowing Gold," a lusty saga of love and adventure in the western oil fields. The film opens at the Westmount Sunday playings until next Tuesday night.

Heading the cast of the Warner Bros. film are Pat O'Brien, John Garfield, and lovely Frances Farmer. This talented triumvirate play their roles to the hilt, gearing their performances to the exciting tempo of plot and direction.

O'Brien is seen as Hap O'Connor, a capable oil foreman, while Garfield is cast as Johnny Blake, young iconoclast, friendless and alone in the world. He has accidentally killed a man, and the ensuing hardships endured have caused him to wear a perennial chip on his shoulder. He and O'Brien meet in a western boom town, and despite occasional flashes of temperament, become attracted to each other. When Hap meets with a serious drilling accident, Johnny takes over as foreman.

Additional trouble begins when the young drifter and the gruff oil well foreman fall in love with Linda Chalmers, played by Frances Farmer. Linda is a strong-willed, vibrant girl with the quick discernment born of a childhood among men. Nevertheless she is a woman at heart, and her love affair with Johnny is one of the romantic high spots of the exacting film.

In addition to the fast-moving story, camera captures some of the most astounding shots of the year, — a huge overpowering avalanche that almost comes between the two lovers, the unique thrill of tapping a new oil drum and seeing the dark fluid shooting geyser-like into the air, the uninhibited rowdiness of a free-for-all among men who love to fight — proof that the world of greasy derricks and thumping machinery is an exciting and breath-taking one.

Pat O'Brien and John Garfield deliver forthright, steady performances as the hardworking oil men in love with the highspirited prospector's daughter. In the latter role Frances Farmer, back in Hollywood after two years of successful Broadway appearances, proves to be an engaging blonde foil for the male stars. An excellent supporting cast including Raymond Walburn, Cliff Edwards, the late Granville Bates, Tom Kennedy, Jody Gilbert, and William Marshall give immeasurable aid to the exciting proceedings, while Alfred Green's direction keeps pace with the lightning action of the story.

"Mary Of Scotland" To Be Presented By M.R.T.

Presenting a play which has been hailed as one of the classics of the modern theatre, the MRT brings to its public Maxwell Anderson's famous "Mary of Scotland" which was one of the New York Theatre Guild's biggest successes. The MRT production will be given at Victoria Hall from November 26 to 30 with one of the best all-round casts the organization has been able to assemble for some time. The play will be directed by Martha Allan, who also plays the part of Elizabeth, Marjorie Raven appears in the title-role and the supporting cast is made up entirely of experienced players, many of whom have appeared on the stage professionally. An interesting feature of the production will be incidental organ music arranged and played by George Brewer, well-known organist. The settings will be by Louis Mulligan.

Mary Stuart has always been a favourite subject for dramatists, poets and novelists. In "Mary of Scotland" Maxwell Anderson has created on the stage the glamour, the mythical beauty, the romantic loveliness of the woman who captured the imagination of the world. He has succeeded magnificently. His Mary is a lovely, tragic, living woman doomed to betrayal by her high faith in essential goodness and her too great love.

With an inevitability worthy of the Greeks the playwright has plotted the course of the unhappy queen through treacherous seas of private and political intrigue to the final tragedy. He has given the colour and feeling of the brave days of old and his characters, while maintaining complete authenticity, are not merely historical portraits but real people in situations which each member of the audience can feel for himself.

No lover of the spoken drama can afford to miss "Mary of Scotland."

"...is so beautifully written, so nobly staged and spoken, it brings definite majesty to the play house." —New York Daily News.

"It is a play in the grand tradition, a play with swinging speeches and sweeping gestures." —New York World-Telegram.

"...first-class combination of biography, drama and good show." —New York Herald-Tribune.

"...has composed a drama that is streaked with greatness. It has restored the English language to its high estate as an instrument of lustrous beauty." —New York Times.

"...stately and eloquent tragedy — a beautiful play. There was a romantic ovation." —New York American.

"Here is not only the best historical drama that has been written by an American, but a script which brings the full, flooding beauty of the English language back to a theatre in which its beauties are but seldom heard." —New York Evening Post.

"Maxwell Anderson has once more clothed English history in the rich fabric which a poet can weave from the English language. His 'Mary of Scotland' is singing drama, warmly beautiful in its speech." —Mr. Anderson's writing has the clarity and beauty of the best of today's speech — it has the texture of true poetry." —The New York Sun.

"I LOVE YOU AGAIN"

Frank McHugh, Myrna Loy and William Powell in a scene from the uproarious comedy romance, "I Love You Again," which is now playing at the Westmount United Theatre until Saturday night.

"HE STAYED FOR BREAKFAST"

It seems that Una O'Connor and one of Melynn Douglas' comrades are not so sure about something, in this scene from "He Stayed for Breakfast," which will play at the Monkland United Theatre starting Sunday. Douglas appears in the negligee.

"Convoy" Film History Making Entertainment

At the Snowdon theatre, is the Michael Balcon production "Convoy," which brings to the screen with vivid realism the heroic work of the Navy.

Brilliantly does it achieve its mission of telling, in language to be understood by all, of the dangers faced and the hazards overcome by a British convoy of destroyers in escorting merchant ships safely home from Norway. It is a tremendous revelation of the duties entailed and the gallantry with which the British Navy takes on the enemy against any odds.

The Admiralty provided facilities for filming episodes with actual North Sea convoys.

The engrossing story depicts the arrival in port of a flagship, the crew of which are eagerly awaiting leave. They are, however, ordered to sea again without a breathing space, to convoy an assortment of merchantmen.

On the flagship the Captain is disconcerted to find the Lieutenant who has eloped with his wife. She, incidentally, is on the refugee ship which soon finds itself in difficulties with a U-Boat. The Captain of the flagship ignores her S.O.S. lest he imperil the rest of his charges, but the Lieutenant despatches a plane to its assistance, only to have it shot down by the enemy. From then on, grim, powerful warfare is the order of the day. Eventually, the Captain's wife is rescued but the flagship finds itself confronted by the "Deutschland" and is forced to engage the pocket battleship single-handed before capital ships of the Grand Fleet arrive and chase the sadly battered attacker away.

Of the magnificent cast, each of whom contributes a perfect characterization, Clive Brook and John Clements are outstanding, the former as the finely-mannered fact commander of the flagship and the latter as the whimsical lieutenant who proves himself a hero before dying in action. Other excellent portrayals are given by Edward Chapman, Judy Campbell, Penelope Dudley-Ward, Edward Rigby and Charles Williams. Released by A.B.F.D. "Convoy" presents a variety of entertainment guaranteed to thrill and amuse.

Maurice Chevalier, Jack Buchanan and the lovely Broadway star, June Knight, occupy half of this fine double program in Rene Clair's production of "Break the News," a picture that has a goodly amount of thrills evenly balanced with laughter and suspenseful action.

The Latest News of the Day and other features will conclude the entertainment.

BENNY VETERAN STAR

Although the belief is general that Jack Benny is only a recent addition to picture, the comedian is a scene veteran. He made his first picture in 1929, and Paramount's "Love Thy Neighbor," his current assignment, with Fred Allen, is his fifteenth film.

PLAYS CONRAD ROLE

Frederic March portrays Axel Hays, the f med character role which Paramount is completing of Joseph Conrad's "Victory," for fall release. John Cromwell directed the picture for Producer Anthony Veiller. Biv Field has the feminine lead. Others in the picture are Sir Cedric Hardwicke,

FOR THE LOVE OF A LADY FAIR...

All's fair in love and war, and Errol Flynn is exceptionally able on both scores in his role as "The Sea Hawk," in which he wins lovely Brenda Marshall, as well as a score of thrilling battles. "The Sea Hawk" opens at the York United Theatre on Saturday playing until Tuesday night.

"Dance, Girl, Dance" Has Star Cast, Ballet Numbers

Produced on a lavish scale, replete with comedy, romance and drama, and studded with captivating dances and matchless melodies, "Dance, Girl, Dance," glittering story of backstage life written by Vicki Baum, which is now playing at the York United Theatre, with Maureen O'Hara, Louis Hayward and Lucille Ball in the stellar roles.

The absorbing story revolves around the adventures of a young Irish girl (Maureen O'Hara) struggling for recognition and fame as a dancer. Counter-pointing this is the rivalry of the heroine's dance associates, especially of her gold-digging rival, (Lucille Ball).

When eight members of a small time dancing troupe are stranded after the police raid the night club where they appear, they hitch-hike back to New York where their agent (Maria Ouspenskaya) endeavors unsuccessfully to get them work.

Lucille, the mercenary one with a definite showmanship instinct, lands a job as a hit dancer. The agent, however, plans to take Maureen to a famous dance impresario but is killed in an automobile accident before she can effect this.

Maureen becomes interested in Louis Hayward, cast as a wealthy playboy trying to drown his worries because his wife has divorced him. Lucille endeavors to attract his attention. The rivalry of the two girls reaches a climax when Lucille lands a job as headliner in a cheap theatre, and prevails upon Maureen to join her act. The further romantic and professional conflict between the two girls, Lucille's ultimate triumph in leading the playboy to the altar, and Maureen's final "discovery" by the famous dance impresario who falls in love with her and guides her subsequent career, are exciting events which build toward the absorbing climax.

Among the colorful song-and-dance numbers featured in this sparkling offering are "Morning Star," lavish ballet spectacle with Maureen O'Hara and a brilliant ensemble, with music by Edward Ward, lyrics by Chester Forest and Robert Wright; and Lucille scription of the baton leader, Paramount Pictures decided it would be a good idea to answer all these letters in one fell swoop. What better way than to put him on every movie screen in the country?

Sig Rumann, Margaret Wycherly, Jerome Cowan, Fritz Field and Lionel Royce.

BRITISH NAVY IN BRILLIANT ACTION

Clive Brook on the bridge of a Convoy Cruiser, orders his men into a suicide action with an enemy Pocket Battleship in a scene from the thrilling, dramatic picture "Convoy," which is now playing at the Snowdon United Theatre.

So to local John Scott Trotter fans, the baton wielder becomes an actor. "Rhythm on the River" is now playing at the Monkland United Theatre until Saturday night.

They gave John Scott perhaps the hardest assignment a player can receive—that of "being himself."

"If they poked a camera through the window of my home when I wasn't aware of it, and shot me eating, shaving, reading and moving about my place, they'd catch me 'being myself,' he explains, "but when a person knows that the camera eye is staring at him, he simply can't go through doing things unconsciously, therefore, I'm wondering just who I was being—certainly not myself—but seemingly Paramount was satisfied, so it's okay with me."

Since "Rhythm on the River" doesn't go very deeply into Trotter's biography, a few words on the subject might not be amiss here. John was born on June 14, 1908, in Charlotte, N.C. He liked the sound of the family piano when but a child, and he was given lessons until he was 18, when he left for college.

Just to complete the Trotter statistics: he's a bachelor, six feet, one inch, has brown eyes and black hair.

PANTHERS TAKE LEAD IN FIRST PLAY-OFF GAME

DEFEAT FLYERS BY 17 TO 5 IN JUNIOR SECTION OF CITY SIX MAN TOUCH RUGBY LEAGUE

The Panthers defeated the Flyers 17-5 in the first play-off game of the Junior Section of the Westmount Municipal Six Man Touch Rugby League on Tuesday, and by virtue of this win carry a 12-point lead into the second game of their total point series today.

The winners took a five-point lead in the first half when Morrow pulled down a long forward pass from Shorty Fairhead, drew the Flyers safety man in and then lateralled the ball out to Wrigglesworth who went the remaining five yards to the goal-line. Fairhead attempted to convert the touch with a forward pass but it was knocked down. The Flyers tied the score five minutes after the second half started, when Glen Magee, behind perfect interference, broke away to gallop fifty yards for a touch. The Flyers missed a chance to go into the lead when they missed the convert.

The Panthers showing their strength came right back with two touches, both converted. Wrigglesworth got the first one on a wide sweep around the end from fifteen yards out, which was converted by Howard, while the second was the result of a forward from Fairhead to Morrow just over the Flyers goal-line. Fairhead converted this one on another forward to Kerr.

While the ground was covered with snow and mud, the calibre of ball was excellent with both teams showing good efforts. Fairhead, Wrigglesworth and Morrow played good games for the winners, while consistent

Bull Roar Skiers To Have New Site

For the coming season the Bull Roar Ski Club has obtained a house at St. Sauveur, near the Totem Ski Club. The club was formed last year. It boasts some of the best skiers in the country including Alex. Riddell, Dominion junior jumping champion. The boys will not enter any competition under club colours. They are looking forward to the success they had last year.

Members are Bob. Kincaid, Alan Cagney, Johnie Riddell, Ward Berry, Bob Walker, Pick Morrison, Herby Raiston, George Batten, Alex. Riddell, Knox McDaniels, Bob Hart.

LOCAL CAGE TEAM QUILTS SENIOR LOOP

Westmount Y.M.C.A. has withdrawn from the Montreal Basketball League's senior section, thereby cutting it down to a four team race. The reason given was the high cost of operation of the team.

Tentative opening date of the senior schedule is set for November 26, with Rockland playing Central Y. The other two teams in the loop are Nationals and North Branch Y.M.C.A. The intermediate section will get under way the following day, with the University of Montreal meeting Sir George Williams.

Newly appointed playing coach of Nationale, Johnny Ferraro, announced that his team is ready for the coming season. He has thirteen men on his lineup which is listed as follows:

Forwards are Edgar Lanthier, Hanford Conklin, Buster Allan, Maurice Mace and Ferraro of last year's team and Ronnie Rutherford formerly of McGill; centres Pat Griffin from last year's club and Wank Usher, formerly a guard with Southwestern Y; guards, Lenny Hutton, Bob Irwin and Alan Mills of last year's outfit and Dave Kingston, last year's McGill Intercollegiate captain and Al Little who played with Nats two seasons ago.

Except from a cinema program! "Patrons who consider the usherettes uncivil should see the manager."

TOYING WITH NATIONAL DEFENCE

News of America's national defense program must have reached the North Pole workshops of Santa Claus, for the martial motif was strong among the toys shown at the recent annual toy manufacturers' exhibit in New York. Typical of the very realistic miniature military playthings are the "big" guns manned by Nick Tasello, above.

MANAGERS OF TEAMS WILL MEET MONDAY

Team managers in the Westmount Municipal Hockey League are reminded that there is a meeting of this league in Victoria Hall on Monday evening November 25 at eight o'clock. The definite alignment of teams to their sections, the distribution of playing cards to the managers and other matters pertaining to the league will be discussed.

All teams intending to enter the league should have a representative present. Also any persons intending to referee in the league this season should either attend or see that his name and address is forwarded.

The Pee Wee Hockey League at Staynor rink will hold a meeting at the shelter on Staynor Park on Tuesday evening November 26 at eight o'clock. All team managers are requested to attend.

Y Notes

HOCKEY
The Westmount Y.M.C.A. Boys' Division Hockey teams are getting organized. Dr. Bobby Bell has again consented to coach our coaches and give us a start-off for our season. The opening hockey dinner will be held on December 6th. Preps, Juniors, Intermediates, and Seniors will gather for this gala occasion. Boys interested in getting on a team should leave their name at the Boys' office.

SKIING
Plans are being developed for the best skiing season ever, so far as Westmount Y.M.C.A. boys are concerned. Ski enthusiasts should also get in touch with the "Y" office.

STUDENT PARTIES
Senior school students and their friends are having a dance on Saturday night at the Y.M.C.A. in the gymnasium.

HI-Y
The Hi-Y is enjoying a splendid season. Sixty new members were inducted; committees are working on their projects; outstanding speakers have visited the club, and under the leadership of Parker Wearing, Westmount Hi-Y advisor, the Hi-Y newspaper, "Hi-Y in Action," has been published.

HI-Y GRADS
Nell Compton, president, has been carrying on an excellent program of young men's support. Speakers, discussions, and occasional social events, have helped to hold the club together. The outstanding service continues to be the Saturday night parties which the Grads put on for the soldiers and airmen. In this they are supported by the Girls Hi-Y Grads, Robin Hood Club, Chatter and Stitch Club, Westmount Women's Club, and the Westmount Y.M.C.A. Girls' Gym Class.

RESIDENTS
Residents of the Westmount Y.M.C.A. are participating in the gymnasium activities, and shining at volleyball. Basketball and swimming are also popular.

CAFETERIA
The Westmount Y.M.C.A. Cafeteria is now being operated by a complete new staff, under the management of Mrs. Hugh, who has had a wide and varied experience, and comes to us highly recommended. Her meals are nourishing and delicious, and we hope all the friends of the Y.M.C.A. will avail themselves of this added service at the Westmount branch.

GIRLS' HI-Y
Seventy-seven girls were inducted into the Girls' Hi-Y. Girls' Hi-Y Grads continue to meet bi-monthly for supper.

AWARD MADE TO GREENBERG WELL DESERVED

Of all the awards that will be made to an individual in the sport world or 1940 no one will be more deserving than that given to Hank Greenberg of the Detroit Tigers for being the most valuable player in the American League.

When that team was preparing for last summer's pennant race, Greenberg was asked to give up first base and take a position in the outfield. This was done so that more batting strength could be added to the club by putting Rudy York at first base. Greenberg had never played in the outfield and many fans were doubtful as to how the experiment would work out.

Hammering Hank took up his new duties when spring training started and by diligent practice developed into a good outfielder. The result was that Tigers were stronger at bat than they had been the previous year without noticeably weakening their defense. And much of the credit for this rightly belonged to Greenberg for moving to the outfield "for the good of the team."

So then it came time to award the title of most valuable player in the junior major-league circuit. It was no surprise that Greenberg had been accorded the honor. Leading the league in home runs and runs batted in, plus his sportsman ship in filling a position entirely new to him, certainly made him a player most worthy of the title.

This was the first time in the history of the award which started in 1922 that a player has received it while occupying two different positions on a team as Greenberg received it in 1935 when playing first base.

In calling attention to the fine moving to the outfield, we believe that attention should also be called to Jimmy Foxx of the Red Sox who moved from first to catcher "for the good of his team." Foxx is a three-time winner of the award and polled a fine vote this year. In fact we believe he was entitled to even

SENATORS CLINGH TOP PLACE IN SENIOR SECTION OF LOOP; PANTHERS LEAD JUNIOR TEAMS

Last week's games in the Westmount Municipal Six Man Touch Rugby League decided the play-off positions in both sections of the loop. The Senators clinched first place in the Senior section when they swamped Hillcrest 38-0, and will now meet the Reds in a two game total points to count series which commenced on Wednesday, with the second game scheduled for Friday. While the Panthers ended up in first place undefeated in the Junior section, the other three teams battled to the wire for the other play-off berth. Two losses suffered by the Crusaders, one to Panthers 23-6 and the other a crucial game to the Flyers 15-0, eliminated them and enabled the fast finishing Flyers to take second place. The Panthers and Flyers will begin their two game series on Tuesday afternoon, finishing up on Thursday.

The Panthers-Crusaders game, won by the Panthers 23-6, saw a very even first half, with the teams walking off at the interval tied at 6-6. Fairhead getting the league-leaders touch and converting it himself, while Forrester got the Crusaders major score which Dryden converted on a forward pass. In the second half the Panthers ran rampant notching up three touches, two of them converted. Morrow got two of them and Fairhead his second of the day, Wrigglesworth and Kerr making the converts. The Panthers gave a smart display with each man on the team coming through with a good game, while for the losers Morton, Truland and Forrester were the best.

The Senators made sure of first place in the Senior section of the league when they handed the Hillcrest their 38-0 smearing. This was the league-leaders third straight shutout, having scored 72 points without retaliation from their opponents. The scoring parade was led by Will Graham and Kevin Kennedy with twelve more consideration than the committee gave him.

Future years will find many brilliant players receiving the most valuable award; but we feel safe in saying that none will be more deserving than that given to Hank Greenberg "or the part he played in helping his team not only by his individual prowess at the willingness to serve it in a position new to him when the season opened.

NCO'S BANQUET

Rev. Charles G. Smith Addresses Officers of First Westmount Company

The first annual banquet of the non-commissioned officers of the First Westmount Company of the Boys Brigade was held on Saturday evening in the Queen's Hotel, when the Rev. Charles G. Smith, chaplain of the Third Montreal Company, was the guest speaker. Rev. Smith, who had as his topic, "Loyalty," told the group that it was each boys duty to serve with unflinching loyalty his church, his country and his Brigade company. In these troublesome times Brigade leaders had even greater tasks before them, he stated. The speaker was thanked by Sergeant J. Sayers of the 10th Company.

The First Company represented by: Staff-Sgts. James Patterson and Wm. Orr Mulligan; Sgt. Robert Morrow, Corporal Gough and Life Boy Scout Leaders, Rodgie B. Stewart and Herbert Wilson. As the orderlies for this occasion were chosen from the First Company, Ptes. Stanley Williams, Jack Laird, George Montgomery, Sandy Edmonson, and Edwin Goring were in attendance, under the supervision of Sgt. Robert Morrow. The Company welcomed Corporal John Jeffrey now with the C.A.S.F., and formerly Staff-Sgt. with the unit. The program which followed was arranged by the N.C.O.'s and included various musical selections, a ventriloquist, monologues and a minstrel feature by the 3rd Company. Staff-Sgt. Milton Thomas was in the chair and the guests of honour were Messrs. F. Bramley, H. Gallacher, P. Ashworth, E. Pearce, Max Ford, Rev. J. G. Joyce, D.D.

The First Company held its enrolment service Sunday morning, in Melville Church conducted by Rev. Dr. Mulligan. Staff-Sgt. William Orr Mulligan received his appointment certificate and shall from now on work on the instruction of advanced first aid, each Friday evening.

The annual toy repair department of the company has commenced operation and the boys will pick up toys, books, games, etc., by calling Sgt. Robert Morrow at WE. 2691.

The Life Boys are now rapidly getting into uniform and as soon as this is completed, they will hold an enrolment service and receive their various awards. Arrangements are being completed for a special Life Boy Sunday School group.
