Beavers lose 6-5 in Sweden to even record

STOCKHOLM (CP-AP) — Soedertälje of Sweden defeated Sherbrooke Beavers 6-5 in Ahearne Cup hockey tournament play Tuesday and evened the Canadian Allan Cup champions' tournament record at 1-1.

The Canadian team defeated Djurgården of Sweden 8-3 Sunday.

The Swedes outscored the Beavers 3-2 in the first period and 3-1 in the second. The Canadians had the edge in the final period and outscored the Swedes 2-0.

Scoring for Sherbrooke were Real Rousseau with two goals, Bill Dupre, Rene Pepin and George Guilbault.

PLAYED STRONG GAME

The Swedish team played brilliantly in the first half of the game and the Canadians did not come back until the final period.

Soedertälje took the lead at the eight-minute mark of the first period and made it 2-0 eight seconds later. Dupre, 22-year-old centre who came to the Beavers two years ago, scored at the 10-minute mark and Rousseau, 24-year-old right wing from Sherbrooke and a five-year veteran with the Beavers, tied the score at the 15-minute mark.

The Swedes took advantage of a penalty to Maurice Hurtubise, 21-year-old right wing from Sherbrooke in his first year with the Beavers, and scored a goal with seven seconds left in the period to go ahead.

SCORED EARLY

Sweden added another goal after two minutes of the second period. The Swedes pressed the Canadians and added two more goals before the period was over. Swedish goalie Kjell Svensson thwarted a couple of Canadian efforts with acrobatic saves before Rousseau scored his second goal.

Pepin, 34-year-old team captain and right wing, scored midway in the third period and Guilbault, 185-pound centre in his second year with the Beavers, closed out the scoring late in the period.

Canadian goalie Serge Aubry got off to a shaky start but held his own in the last period.

Snow delays sea search

CLETHORPES, England (Reuters)—Snow swirling over the North Sea today held up attempts by divers to search the sunken wreck of the oil rig Sea Gem for possible survivors.

A spokesman for the British Petroleum Co., operators of the 5,600-ton rig, said there was very little hope for eight crew members reported missing since the rig collapsed 40 miles east of the Lincolnshire coast Monday.

A lifeboat, a tug and a British Petroleum supply vessel remained at the site where 19 of the rig's 32-man crew were snatched from the sea by rescue ships and helicopters.

Dean Sutherland, 45, an American survivor, lay critically ill in a hospital at nearby Grimsby today after suffering a stroke Tuesday night.

Independent Balent children anticipate new year happily

VANCOUVER (CP) — The four Balent children, content with their independent life 3,000 miles away from family strife in Montreal, look forward to the new year with happy anticipation.

Violent weather eases off

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Violent weather that hit Canada's east and west coasts Monday and Tuesday was expected to ease off today, leaving most of the country with cloud, cold or snow.

In British Columbia, where at least a foot of snow covered the south coast and Vancouver Island areas, snowflurries were expected to continue for a few days along with freezing temperatures.

The heavy snowfall caused at least one death, widespread power failures and traffic tie-ups.

Outranks all politicians in poll

Rivard voted the newsiest figure

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Lucien Rivard was an easy winner over Lester B. Pearson in the annual poll for the newsiest Canadian of the year.

The polite Montreal dope smuggler swept the board in voting for the country's top news-makers among news editors of Canadian Press member dailies and radio and TV stations served by Broadcast News, a CP subsidiary. He won in the category for those outside public affairs, and in the over-all class.

In addition, the activities of the 50-year-old Rivard — now serving a 20-year sentence in the United States for heroin smuggling — were voted the top Canadian story of the year.

Rivard's dramatic March jailbreak in Montreal, his political entanglements and all the other trimmings of his amazing months in the public eye combined to catapult him from a 1964 nobody to the head of the list in front of Mr. Pearson and Conservative leader John Diefenbaker, who ran one-two last year.

Fourth place this year went to Quebec Premier Jean Lesage. There was no significant support for other Canadian individuals.

Among world figures, President Johnson of the United States led the list with Pope Paul second and third place going to Prime Minister Ian Smith of Rhodesia, who brought that country to independence.

In the voting for the newsiest Canadian outside public life, it was Rivard all the way. He displaced Hal Banks, deposed Canadian boss of the Seafarers' International Union who now is in the United States as a fugitive from a five-year sentence for assault conspiracy in this country.

Banks did not rate any votes this year. Far behind Rivard were Pierre Berton, Toronto TV personality and writer, and impersonator Rich Little.

A scattering of single votes went to miscellaneous figures such as Gordie Howe, Detroit Red Wings' hockey star; Cyrus Eaton, Nova Scotia-born millionaire and crusader for international understanding; singer Robert Goulet; actor Lorne Green and writer Farley Mowat.

Mr. Pearson had led the overall poll for the previous two years, winning in 1963 after

South said ready for ceasefire

Truce talk loud in Viet Nam war

Strike threatens supplies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. government steps up its pressure today to end a strike which the defence department says could virtually cut off the supply of rifle and machine-gun ammunition for U.S. fighting men in Viet Nam.

"We want a settlement," said chief federal mediator William E. Simkin after reporting scant progress toward ending the 29-day strike of AFL-CIO machinists.

The plant is the sole supplier of gunpowder for rifle and machine-gun bullets and 20 millimetre shells used in the Viet Nam war.

While Simkin pressed for a voluntary settlement of the dispute over wages, fringe benefits and working conditions, the White House was reported ready to halt the strike with court action if necessary.

SAIGON (CP) — Truce talk pervaded the Vietnamese theatre of war today, but the United States underscored its commitment to South Viet Nam by airlifting another brigade of U.S. troops into the jungle conflict.

The moratorium in the U.S. air war on North Viet Nam went into its sixth day, but the halt in the air attack still drew no public peace feeler from Hanoi.

The South Vietnamese government was reported ready to join the Viet Cong in proclaiming a ceasefire for the Vietnamese New Year next month. The United States entertained some doubts but was expected to concur in the truce.

Meanwhile, Viet Cong guerrillas went on a widespread offensive early today, overrunning a district town and a military outpost and harassing South Vietnamese government positions in many parts of the country.

Neither Washington nor Saigon saw the Communist offer of a truce on Tet, the lunar New Year festival Jan. 20-23, as a significant breakthrough toward peace. In the long guerrilla war, a military lull during the national holiday has become an annual ritual.

Twenty-one Americans were killed in combat last week compared with 10 in the previous Sunday - to - Saturday reporting period, a U.S. spokesman announced. There were 95 American wounded.

Government casualties were listed as 227 dead, 499 wounded and 104 either wounded or captured, while the Communist toll was given as 937 killed and 137 wounded or captured.

Zambia hoards gas as oil airlift grows

LUSAKA (AP) — As Canada and the United States step up efforts to aid landlocked Zambia following the gasoline supply shutoff by the illegal Rhodesian government, stringent measures are being taken to ease the demand on oil stocks.

Government ministers are using smaller cars, diplomats have bought bicycles and many workers have cut out trips home for lunch.

Gasoline rationing, which currently limits motorists to one gallon a week, is expected to end within the next three months.

Meanwhile the government is appealing for further economies. Zambia's watchword has become "Is your journey really necessary?"

The situation is not helped by the temperamental telephone system, now being further overworked as the public tries to do business without personal contact. Most people are prepared to wait for nearly thirty minutes for local calls rather than use gasoline.

MEET INDUSTRY NEEDS

Emergency measures have ensured sufficient supplies for most industrial users.

British RAF Britannia transports are bringing in more than 1,600 gallons a day.

Humphrey asks peace aid

MANILA (AP) — Vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey arrived in Manila today on the second stop of his brief Asian tour after asking the Japanese government to help bring peace to Viet Nam.

Humphrey will represent the United States at the inauguration Thursday of President Ferdinand E. Marcos.

During his 18-hour stopover in Tokyo, Humphrey asked Prime Minister Eisaku Sato for the help of Japan "for any other government" to achieve peace in Viet Nam.

All humanity would appreciate Japan's efforts if they succeeded, Humphrey told Sato during a 95-minute conference earlier today. Their talks were closed but reporters were told what was said by the American embassy counselor, J. Owen Zurhellen Jr.

Humphrey's statements seemed to be directed more at Japanese critics of American policy in Viet Nam than at the government, which supports the U.S. stand.

The vice-president said the American people look forward to a time when the great resources now being used for the war can be applied to peaceful progress instead.

He told Sato that when demonstrators call for the United States to "get out of Viet Nam," that is just what the United States wants to do. But he added it would not do so until the freedom and peace of Viet Nam are guaranteed.

He wound up his conversation by urging Japan to extend more social, economic and medical aid to Southeast Asia, particularly to the refugees of South Viet Nam, but he did not ask Japan for military aid.

The Japanese constitution bars sending military men overseas.

Fanfani firm on quitting

ROME (AP) — Amintore Fanfani rejected today a request by Premier Aldo Moro that he withdraw his resignation as foreign minister.

Fanfani submitted his resignation Tuesday in a dramatic move in which he repudiated any connection with anti-American remarks reported made by his friend, Giorgio La Pira.

In the resignation Fanfani also denied any part in what he called the "imprudent initiative" of his wife in giving a party at his home during which La Pira, controversial former mayor of Florence, was reported to have made his statements.

Mystery mission

WARSAW (AP)—W. Averell Harriman, U.S. ambassador-at-large, arrived in Warsaw today on a mysterious mission.

U.S. Ambassador John A. Gronouski cut short a visit to the western Polish city of Poznan and left before dawn to meet Harriman. Shortly afterward they went to the Polish foreign ministry.

★ ★ ★ Traffic light

SALISBURY (Reuters)—Traffic was thinner and parking no problem in the Rhodesian capital today as the country faced its second day of gasoline rationing.

Under pressure of an oil embargo imposed after the white-ruled African nation's declaration of independence from Britain, motorists again lined up for their rations today outside garages and government offices.

But an after-Christmas lull could explain the absence from city streets of many of the large American cars in which out-of-town farmers collect their provisions.

★ ★ ★ Bypass officials

NEW YORK (AP)—A self-appointed three-man mission to Hanoi bypassed the U.S. state department in hopes of getting first-hand information on the peace intentions of the North Viet Nam Communists, says an editor of the magazine which sponsored the trip.

"Quite frankly, government permission was not sought," said John McDermott, associate editor of Viet-Report, at a press conference Tuesday.

Federal law provides penalties of up to five years in prison and a $5,000 fine for some unauthorized trips to foreign countries.

★ ★ ★ Bribe offered

SAIGON (Reuters) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky of South Viet Nam said today he had refused a 100,000,000 piaster (about $1,400,000) bribe to become an ambassador abroad.

He did not disclose who had offered it.

Addressing South Vietnamese Army officers at a meeting on the psychological warfare campaign against the Viet Cong, Ky denied rumors that he is going to leave South Viet Nam to allow a civilian government to take over his military regime.

Estimates Asian war expensive; US cost soars to $10 billion

WASHINGTON (CP)—In 1950 the United States announced economic and military aid for France's tottering Southeast Asian colony of Indochina and it included 35 equipment "advisers."

As 1965 began 15 years later, there were 23,000 American military advisers in South Viet Nam, a creation of the 1954 Geneva agreement.

But as 1965 ended, the undeclared war had rocketed toward a possible commitment of 400,000 fighting men and an indicated price tag for 1966 of $10,000,000,000.

All roads to peace seemed blocked despite periodic flurries from a great variety of international initiatives.

No end was visible for a conflict, which in the most basic American view was a show down with the rising power of China.

President Johnson's inherited war had been broadened to halt the collapse of the South, which it did by September, but North Viet Nam, meeting Hanoi's demands for force, expanded its own direct aid to the Viet Cong insurgents, hunted by high-flying B-52 jet bombers, heavy artillery and mobile squads of U.S. troops.

Its resistance, despite almost-continuous attack by American air power on selected targets so far, doomed hopes that peace negotiations could be speeded by an awesome taste of American military might. In the countryside where the war must be won, the Viet Cong still controlled more than 50 per cent of the area.

The war had three faces, each increasingly sombre.

1. Militarily, the U.S. virtually alone was committed in steaming jungles and rice paddies to a conflict potentially bigger and longer than Korea, where American casualties totalled 157,530. Nearly 200,000 American troops were in South Viet Nam by Dec. 20.

MAY EXTEND WAR

There were firm reports of American intent under certain conditions to extend the fighting into neighboring Laos and Cambodia in an effort to reduce North Vietnamese reinforcements.

Air strikes crept closer to the key northern civilian targets of Hanoi and the port of Haiphong, still sanctuaries. American battle fatalities since Jan. 1, 1961, totalling 255 at the start of the year, had reached 1,496 by Dec. 13, swollen by sharp and bloody hand-to-hand fighting. The reaction of China, the great question mark, remained cautious, if shrill.

2. Diplomatically, Viet Nam's impact was global — obsessing U.S. foreign policy, deepening the ideological rift between China and Soviet Russia, chilling prospects of more East-West accord on such crucial issues as nuclear spread and even distorting relations within the Atlantic alliance. It added to the frustrations of the United Nations.

3. Domestically, it posed serious political, economic and social trouble for President Johnson. The war seemed the key topic for the Republicans in next November's congressional elections. The heavy climate of progress created by the Great Society legislation of 1965 was threatened by spending cuts — to finance the war and curb inflation — and perhaps a tax increase.

HOLDS SUPPORT

Increasingly, as reflected in newspaper, television and radio coverage and the signals from the government, Americans became much more aware of Viet Nam's price. But if there was growing concern, President Johnson held decided public support for his policy and the calls for a pullout or a negotiated peace at some price were voiced only by a small minority.

There were well-publicized burnings of draft cards and a few citizens set themselves on fire in protest over the war, but the rise in voluntary enlistments testified to the more dominant American mood.

In Viet Nam itself, as the U.S. role swelled in the country of 14,000,000 people, the military regime was stable. The number of refugees, testifying to the harsher air attacks and land encounters, crept toward 1,000,000 and the U.S. struggled to implement some fundamental economic and agricultural benefits on which any free and independent South Viet Nam must develop.

Peace efforts — by 17 non-aligned nations, by a five-nation Commonwealth delegation, by the UN and by diverse other initiatives — had foundered on a grim reality at the root of the whole war.

North Viet Nam, goaded by an adamant and belligerent China, apparently regarded as the only basis for peace a four-point program spelling eventual Communist control of the South.

The U.S., while espousing "unconditional discussions," was dedicated to keeping South Viet Nam non-Communist, for years if necessary.

The growth of the war was steady during the year:

Feb. 7—Steady bombing of North Viet Nam begins as "peace persuader," retaliating for Viet Cong strike at American camp.

April 2—President Johnson announces troop expansion.

April 7—Johnson pledges "unconditional discussions," coupled with billion-dollar air program for a peaceful Southeast Asia.

May 6—Two marine divisions, first clearly-labeled combat troops, committed.

May 19—U.S. ends five-day lull in bombing North Viet Nam which had been suggested by Prime Minister Pearson, Secretary-General U Thant of UN and other world figures; U.S. says no response, Hanoi blasts pause as peace trick and critics of U.S. say pause too short.

June 7—U.S. military personnel pass 50,000.

To promote city region in Montreal

By KARL KRAMER
(Record Staff Reporter)

Sherbrooke Mayor Armand Nadeau announced yesterday that the city plans to start a publicity campaign in Montreal to promote industry, commerce, and tourism in the Sherbrooke area.

The mayor said that he is planning to ask a Montreal publicity agency to run a publicity campaign in Montreal. The company will work with an initial budget of $25,000 and will have to sell Sherbrooke as well as the Eastern Townships.

The mayor said the accessibility of the Sherbrooke region due to the ET autoroute will have to be promoted.

The mayor said he hopes that a meeting between Sherbrooke's city council, the industrial commission and several members of the Chamber of Commerce and the department of Commerce and Industry of the Provincial Government will be held shortly to discuss the possibility of improving business in Sherbrooke and in the Townships in general.

As it is only the Eastern Township's resident who knows about the ET autoroute the mayor said it is time the Montrealer is told about the route as well. This, he said, could be done by the Montreal newspapers, television stations and radio stations in both languages.

He said that Sherbrooke must be known as something - either a summer or a winter resort. The mayor said that the city would go along with any suggestion the publicity agency has as "they are experts."

The mayor said that he is ready to start the ball rolling "anytime."

The mayor briefly reviewed 1965 and told of the major projects planned by the city for 1966.

The mayor said that the official sod turning ceremony for the sports centre will be held on February 1, at the latest.

Mr. Nadeau said that architects are presently working on the proposed city hall plans. Depending on the speed of the provincial government, plans to start work on the city hall will be known soon, said the mayor.

The mayor said as soon as detailed agreements have been made between the federal, provincial and city governments work on the illuminated fountain in the Magog river will start.

Mr. Nadeau said that he hopes that work can start this winter.

The mayor said that 1965 was a year in which much happened; the construction of two bridges, the completion of the pipe line and the completion of the air terminal.

The mayor said that the inauguration of the two new bridges would be held soon. He said that they have been built relatively inexpensively. "On the overall the city has saved about $800,000. This includes the 25 per cent on the federal, provincial loan for municipalities," he said.

"The city saved over $650,000 on the Lake Memphremagog water pipe line which was the federal - provincial loans," he said.

Small fire is quelled

Firemen from Sherbrooke Number One and Four stations were called out at 10:59 last night to a small fire at the Beckwith Box Toe Ltd., 1050 Talbot street.

The fire was contained in the boiler room where the fire started and was soon put out. The firefighters returned to the stations about 12:05 this morning.

Bank holdups hit new high in ET

By DOUG MACKENZIE
(Record Staff Reporter)

The number of bank holdups and post office robberies hit a new high in the Eastern Townships this year.

Up until today, there have been a total of 18 bank holdups in the region, Record news files show, compared to 12 in 1964.

There were three major post office robberies, compared to one the previous year.

Thirteen major store robberies throughout the area were reported last year.

Total loot taken in bank holdups during 1965 was at least $356,541 compared to at least $176,300 in 1964.

Total loot in all robberies in 1965 was at least $461,756, compared to at least $178,800 in 1964.

One of the biggest hauls of the year was from a holdup of the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce in Asbestos Dec. 10.

Three suspects were subsequently captured in a wooded area near Weedon by QPP officers from Sherbrooke and Asbestos.

The three suspects, Gerry Grabina, Albert Comtois and Edouard Chiquette, all of Montreal, are awaiting trial in connection with the robbery.

These three men are also believed to have taken part in other robberies in the province.

Total loot from this robbery was set at $171,741 including $139,000 of the Johns - Manville company payroll.

All but a few dollars was recovered with the capture of these bandits.

Another spectacular bank robbery occurred in Sherbrooke during the year which deserves more than passing notice, and that occurred at the Canadian National Bank on the corner of Windsor and King Street east on September 13th, in Sherbrooke.

Three men entered the bank at about 9:30 a.m. by cutting the safety chain on the front door, and fled with the loot in about two minutes time in a green car driven by a fourth man who was waiting at the curb.

Loot was first estimated at possibly $100,000 in this robbery but bank officials later stated that the amount was about $30,000.

Probably the robbery that evoked most peoples wrath was the Christmas night robbery of two aged people in their eighties living in Mystic.

Three men threatened these two old people with violence if they did not turn over their savings to them, which totalled $8,200, and probably was all the money they had in the world.

Bank holdups netted bandits $356,541 and break-ins netted thieves $77,515 while the three post office holdups gained crooks a total of $7,700.

One of the postal robberies that netted three bandits $4,500 in Richmond May 11th also saw the three men involved behind bars by the middle of September.

Friends of Miss Caroline Dillon are sorry to learn she is a patient in Sherbrooke Hospital suffering from a cracked vertebra, when she fell from a ladder at school while decorating for Christmas. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dillon had dinner on Christmas at the hospital with Caroline. Christmas eve guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dillon were Mr. and Mrs. Omer Drouin, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Laroche and Mrs. Rena Locke, Pittsburg, N.H.

Christmas Day supper guests at the same home were Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Arbury and daughter, St. Elie, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Berwick, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Morrison and family, all of Randboro.

The Ladies Auxiliary, of the Royal Canadian Legion, held its regular meeting on Dec. 22. There was an exchange of gifts among the members and refreshments were served.

Miss Shirley Loveland, Montreal, is a holiday guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Loveland.

Miss Myrtle Thompson was a holiday guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clive Thompson.

Mrs. Gerald French and Debra spent Christmas in South Durham with Mrs. Wm. Johnson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Perkins, Senneterre, are spending the holidays at their home here.

SKIING AND SAFETY — Charles Catchpaugh, president of the ET Zone of the Canadian Ski Patrol, spoke to the Sherbrooke Rotary Club last night on the work of the Canadian Ski Patrol System, the prevention and treatment of ski accidents. Operation, training, work of Canadian Ski Patrol described

Anyone who has ever hobbled around on a broken leg after a tumble on one of the Eastern Townships' ski slopes would probably have been very interested in the Rotary Club's guest speaker last night, Charles Catchpaugh, who is the president of the Eastern Townships Zone of the Canadian Ski Patrol System.

Mr. Catchpaugh told the Rotarians that some 5,000 skiers on Canadian slopes would require first aid or medical treatment, and that the Canadian Ski Patrol's 2,000 members would look after 70 or 80 per cent of these cases.

To provide this service, Mr.

Catchpaugh said, the Ski Patrol recruits and trains above average skiers who have stamina, and the ability to learn and administer perfected first aid.

He went on to say that the aims of the organization are to prevent skiing accidents, to provide on the hill treatment to injured skiers, and to promote skiing.

The ET Zone, he said, has 11 patrols and upwards of 180 members. These patrols follow the procedures set down by the Patrol's headquarters in Toronto, Mr. Catchpaugh said.

After his talk Mr. Catchpaugh showed a film which illustrated the major techniques used by the ski patrol in evacuating chair lifts, searching for skiers injured in avalanches, and routine patrolling of ski trails. The film also showed how patrol members care for and transport accident victims.

Garth Fields, who supervises the local zone headquarters, and Edward Vancour, who is the Ski Patrol supervisor for one of the local sections, were also at the meeting.

Charged he set fire

Paul Emile Lazotte, 22, of Sherbrooke who is accused of setting his Chartierville home on fire and collecting $1,500 from the Mutual Insurance Company asked for a trial by a judge alone yesterday before Judge Redmond Hayes of Court of Sessions in Sherbrooke.

The trial is set for January 6.

Bernard Lavallee, 37, of Omerville was fined $100 and costs and had his drivers licence revoked for six months when he pleaded guilty to a charge of impaired driving in Magog Christmas Eve.

Court Hayes of Sherbrooke Judge of Sessions gave Lavallee one month to pay the fine.

Gaston Langlois, 26, of Sherbrooke, who is accused of dangerous driving in Island Brook on September 9 asked for a trial by judge only yesterday when he appeared before Sherbrooke Court of Sessions Judge Redmond Hayes.

Robert Labrecque, 23, who is accused of stealing equipment valued at $1,200 from an Ascot Firm chose a trial by a judge alone yesterday before Sherbrooke Court of Sessions Judge Redmond Hayes.

Robert Bourque, who was sentenced to 23 months in jail recently because he said he stole to help his sick wife has spent five years in penitentiary and two years in jail on a previous offense said Guy Blanche Crown Prosecutor, yesterday.

The city's business

Zoning change is said required if old folks home plan approved

If the Sherbrooke Rotary club converts a London Street home to a home for the elderly, zoning regulations in the area will have to be changed, it was learned last night at the city council meeting.

Citizens in the zone will have an opportunity to express their opinion about the change in a referendum.

If the project is approved, those occupying the building will each have a separate apartment, own kitchen and will take care of themselves. One of the requirements would be that the occupants are healthy and should they be hospitalized they will consent to giving up the apartment, said Bruce Bishop, president of the research committee of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club in a letter last night.

Fourteen persons and the caretaker and his family would occupy the home on 509 and 511 London Street.

The City of Sherbrooke has decided to make use of a Xerox copying machine for the city hall.

The cost per month is $85 minimum. The machine was preferred because the company retains service men in Sherbrooke.

The Dominican Nuns on Elizabeth Street, Imperial Esso, and L. L. Primer received permission last night from the city council to have their evaluations revised.

The nuns run a school for retarded girls which is non-taxable property. Imperial Esso had just removed its reservoirs on Rand Street, diminishing the property value and L. L. Primer's house is a condemned building ready for destruction.

Jean Paul Lajoie, J. G. Groudin and J. P. Hamel received permission last night from the city council to attend a technical congress in Quebec City on February 20, 21, 22 and 23.

At first Mr. Lajoie asked permission to send Mr. Groudin and Mr. Hamel but Ald. Nicol said that the head of the department and the most junior employee should attend the meetings.

The mayor said that all three should go because the city does not need them—the days are close to a weekend.

UCW of Bishopton adopts little Hong Kong girl

Lee Po Chun who lives in poverty among thousands of other children in refugee Hong Kong as the Foster Child of Bishopton United Church Women receives medical care, food, clothing, education opportunities and family guidance.

This tiny Chinese girl lives with her parents, a four-year-old brother, Siu Ming, and a one-year-old sister, Po Lai. Her father having settled at Hong Kong in 1945 earns about $26.32 monthly in a paper box factory. Po Chun's mother helps provide for her family by peddling vegetables, earning $22.81 per month.

But their monthly income is not adequate.

Foster Parents' Plan, a non-sectarian, non-profit and government - approved organization, attempts to fill the needs of children like Po Chun.

Foster Parents such as Bishopton UCW and Foster children in Greece, Italy, Hong Kong, Korea, Philippines, Vietnam, Colombia or Ecuador become acquainted by exchanging photographs and letters that contain family and country descriptions.

Po Chun lives in a resettlement area. When it rains her family's small cubicle leaks. Rent for their home which is furnished with a double bunk bed and some cooking utensils is $7.02 monthly.

The little girl attends kindergarten where she pays $2.63 monthly. Although she is talkative, obedient, and has a pleasant disposition she needs more nourishing food.

Good woods vs. infertile fields

Reforestation of appropriate areas of the Eastern Townships, either under a regional forestry commission as recommended by the regional development council of Brome, Stanstead, Richmond, Compton and Wolfe counties to the Quebec department of lands and forests, or by any other method, would pay dividends several ways, both immediate and future.

First, it would mean turning marginally productive land into economically sound lumber producing areas.

Next, it would help stem the loss of valuable topsoil and minerals through erosion. Many of our barely-fertile fields were once fairly productive, but, through ignorance of proper farming methods such as using wooded areas for soil conservation, their natural richness has been eroded away.

Changing farm economics, too, are involved. In recent years, through modern production methods, we have seen fewer and fewer acres under cultivation, but producing more and more foodstuffs. Thus it follows that only the best land is now economic to farm.

Much of the ground that was once adequate, if not abundant, for cultivation no longer makes the grade, even if it has not deteriorated through faulty farming.

Education and assistance in reforestation is also recommended by the council.

This makes particular sense in light of the situation mentioned in the brief presented to the lands and forests department by the council; much of our wood is now imported from Vermont and Maine.

In an area where many farms are supported by government handouts and subsidies alone, instead of producing much needed wood, some change is unquestionably needed. The suggestions of the regional development council deserve the immediate and serious consideration of our government.

Throwing away the union rule book

Unions do not have the responsibilities of business management, and this is often one factor in labor unrest.

But when, under peculiar circumstances, organized labor does find itself in a management position, amazingly enough, it begins to act and sound like management itself.

In Glasgow, for example, unionized shipyard workers have agreed to throw out all the usual labor hocus-pocus in the interests of keeping an industry going and their jobs alive.

Reason for this union-like attitude is that their union, in cooperation with private enterprise, has taken over the running of a shipyard that was on the verge of bankruptcy.

The workers were told that in order to keep the business going, they must be prepared to throw away their labor union rule books and abandon strikes and slowdowns.

The union members then passed a unanimous vote of confidence in the man who will head the operation, and decide how the union members will work.

They have agreed that he must run the business on the basis of what will produce the best output per man hour.

Five thousand jobs are at stake in this particular enterprise, and there is reason to believe that under the new organization of the business, with union sacred cows consigned to other pastures, they will be saved.

There is nothing surprising about this. In too many cases, labor attitudes and practices, based on concepts at least 25 years out of date, cripple business and even parts of a country's economy.

When this happens, organized labor is not maintaining a members' security, as it boasts it does, but in fact, undermining it.

Given the same decisions to make as management must make, as demonstrated in the Glasgow case, a union makes the same choices as intelligent management makes, and for the same reasons.

Strikes and other union practices that unjustly hamper business activity benefit no one, least of all the union member.

Times change but does good taste have to be sacrificed on the altar of "progress?"

Spare us the khaki-clad fair sex

The defence department is reported to be considering the mass recruitment of women to fill a serious manpower shortage in the forces.

We hope this plan won't be considered too long before it is dropped. Not least among our several reasons for this hope is a simple distaste at the thought of our fair ladies cast in the role, however indirect, of fighting men.

This reaction might fall into the category of delicate sensitivities that can be cast aside in time of great need; indeed women joined the forces in the tens of thousands during the Second World War and their contribution to the allied effort was invaluable.

War on a worldwide scale is one thing. It demands sacrifices on the part of every citizen of every nation joining the fray. The maintenance of a standing peacetime force is another. Are the powers that be justified in encouraging members of the fairer sex to abandon their femininity and to don fighting togs in peace time?

ladies to the trenches, or their modern day equivalent, but in times of relative peace like these, neither do the men engage in the enthusiastic bloodletting of wartime.

The fact is that the military is a way of life, and it is a way of life that doesn't seem to suit women.

Many military people, both officers and men, who have worked with women in the forces during peace time have found them to be complaining, trouble-making, favor-seeking and self-centred. In other words, they display all the symptoms of deep-seated discontent.

There are exceptions, of course, but we would be willing to bet our bent puttee that few men would say they enjoyed working with women in the forces.

Women are nice. Their calling is a higher one than that of second-class soldier or sailor.

If the forces are desperately short of manpower, then all means of recruiting men should be exhausted before substituting womanpower.

"TAKE YOUR PICK..."

Truly new Cabinet suggestion:

Senior and junior ministers needed in 20th Century Canada

MONTREAL (TNS)—Since Nov. 8, the Canadian people have been waiting in quiet anticipation for the direction of things to come as their leaders took a collective sun bath in the Caribbean.

By LAURIER LA PIERRE

It is not my purpose to cast any doubts on those presently in place. There is no doubt, however, that the present atmosphere in Ottawa is not attracting enough bright young men to Parliament, in spite of the adequate remuneration and fringe benefits offered.

This is true because very few dynamic young men are willing to bury themselves on the back benches of Parliament and do little but shout "ready, aye, ready" on cue through their political masters.

Nor does the present structure of the Cabinet correspond to the realities of Canadian political life. There is absolutely no doubt that in the federal politics of 1965 the old relationship which bound French-speaking Canadians to the English-speaking wing of a particular party has changed drastically and is bound to continue to change.

In the past, French Canadians who went to Ottawa were there as representatives of a minority and served only as the passive agents of power. Now French Canadians are determined to participate fully in the affairs of their country — if the English-speaking Canadians will permit them to do so. Their participation will be based on the principle that Canada is founded on an EQUAL partnership between Canadians who accept French as their principal language and those who accept English.

The new cabinet that I envision must have as its cornerstone the equal partnership of English and French-speaking Canadians. It must accept the provincial-regional divisions of Canada. It must be flexible enough to permit adaptation and change without upsetting the entire edifice. It must be small enough to supply effective leadership and large enough to realize the ideal that the administration of the affairs of the country are the responsibility of those who are elected and not of those who are appointed.

It must provide enough opportunities so that alert and dynamic individuals will find politics an interesting and feasible career.

(Prof. La Pierre is director of French Canadian studies at McGill University and a television commentator.)

This suggestion would demand pervasive changes in the present structure of the cabinet but there is no doubt to my mind that such changes are necessary in order to bring our parliamentary system in tune with the 20th century and provide the Canadian people with an imaginative and bold leadership which we certainly crave.

(Prof. La Pierre is director of French Canadian studies at McGill University and a television commentator.)

Bygone days

TWENTY YEARS AGO

(From the Record of Saturday, December 29, 1945)

LAKE MEGANTIC — The annual Christmas supper entertainment and tree of Knox United Church was held in the Sunday School room. The room was tastefully decorated with evergreens, garlands and wreaths and a beautiful Christmas tree. The three long tables looked especially festive, with lighted red candles in silver holders. Supper was served at six o'clock and about 75 people, members of the congregation, Sunday School, and friends partook of the bountiful repast. A social hour was enjoyed until time for the program which consisted of recitations, songs and a pageant after which Santa Claus arrived and was greeted by the children who each received gifts and a bag of candy. The chairman, Rev. Pollitt then led the audience in giving Santa three cheers and a tiger and a very pleasant evening was brought to a close.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

(From the Record of Friday, December 29, 1950)

Mrs. Angus MacKenzie was elected president at the annual meeting of the Lennoxville Women's League which was held at her home.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Raymond Stevenson, first vice-president, Mrs. George Christian, second vice-president; Mrs. Harold Turner, secretary, and Mrs. Margaret Fowles, treasurer.

The meeting which was attended by a large number of members was chaired by the retiring president, Mrs. Fowles. Mrs. J. G. Trenholme presided for the election of officers.

TEN YEARS AGO

(From the Record of Thursday, December 29, 1955)

Mrs. C. A. Turner, president of St. Andrew's Ladies' Aid was re-elected to office at the closing meeting of the organization, held at her Victoria Street home.

Mrs. W. W. Davey presented the slate of officers for 1956 which resulted as follows:

Honorary president, Mrs. S. G. Garland; president, Mrs. C. A. Turner; first vice-president, Mrs. C. Bruyong; second vice-president, Mrs. W. J. MacNaughton; recording secretary, Mrs. Geo. M. Dick; corresponding secretary, Mrs. D. A. Turnbull; treasurer, Mrs. John MacDonald.

The PRAYER FOR TODAY FROM THE UPPER ROOM

I am the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and find pasture. (John 10:9).

PRAYER: Almighty God, at the beginning of this new year, may the ancient blessing be ours: "The Lord shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore." Through Christ our Lord, Amen.

'Upstart' for 20 years

De Gaulle wants France for France

By WILLIAM BOYD

United States dismay at President de Gaulle's "anti-Americanism" was predictable. But surprise at it shows ignorance of a man who, although characterized as a haughty ascetic, began in the 1920s to formulate publicly a design for France.

Yet it was not until recently, during the Kennedy administration, that the U.S. began to treat him seriously.

On examination his crime appears to be his refusal to allow Washington to govern France: Gen. de Gaulle has insisted that he wants France to be her own boss.

Most of his moves which have raised U.S. ire have been on his books for some time:

The French force de frappe was a logical step for a man who for 30 years has urged that France modernize its army, particularly since the U.S. refused to share its nuclear secrets with France;

Beginning with NATO's creation, Gen. de Gaulle argued its charter would have to be reformed if France was to play its proper part;

In 1947 Gen. de Gaulle said U.S.-Soviet rivalry threatened French peace, something he believes still valid;

Europe for Europeans has been one of his constant themes. He vetoed Britain's first attempt to join the Common Market because he feared Britain would be a vehicle for U.S. interference in Europe.

U.S. criticism of the general became almost feverish when he announced opposition to the U.S. stand in Vietnam. Yet many of the non-Communist governments of the world agree with him.

Despite Gen. de Gaulle's courage and intelligence in unifying France in 1945, Washington, with a Roosevelt hangover, continued to regard him as the upstart it did during the war.

Because of this and his recent statesmanship, many American commentators approved the president's "humiliation" on the first ballot of the French elections.

"It was bound to come," they seemed to chuckle. "He was getting too big for his boots."

Yet analyses since the first ballot show that Gen. de Gaulle lost votes because of inflation and lack of housing at home, not because of his policy abroad.

Anti-de Gaulle commentators also suggested the president would not humble himself to run against M. Mitterand in the second ballot. But they confused arrogance with pettiness and frivolity, some things with which Gen. de Gaulle should never be charged.

His record of battling with the French military authorities before the fall of France in 1940; his inspiration of the Free French against opposition from Roosevelt and Churchill; his persistence in the settlement of the Algerian question all deny that.

Gen. de Gaulle has also been called a dictator, mostly by French politicians, whom he has always distrusted.

But there is no press censorship in France. Vehemently anti-de Gaulle parliamentary speeches run at length in the newspapers; anti-de Gaulle editorials appear regularly in Le Monde, Combat, the Nouvelle Observateur and, of course, the Communist and extreme right-wing press.

And even the pro-Gaullist papers now are beginning to question the president.

His paramount failure to many is that though he has dominated French politics for years, he has not prepared an adequate successor. (TNS)

TODAY IN HISTORY

Thomas a Becket, Archbishop of Canterbury, was murdered in his own cathedral 795 years ago today—in 1170—by supporters of King Henry II. The son of a London merchant, Thomas became chancellor (prime minister) of England at 37, the first Englishman to occupy the post since the Norman Conquest. He proved an excellent politician and lived in splendor rivaling the king's. However, when appointed archbishop in 1162, he changed sides and used his personal popularity to strengthen the church's position against the king's. It is generally believed the murder was prompted by Henry's wild cry: "Who will rid me of this turbulent priest?"

1775 — Sarah Siddons made her debut on the London stage as Portia in The Merchant of Venice at Drury Lane.

First World War
Fifty years ago today—in 1915—the Russian advance on Persia took Kashan; fortress guns drove off German torpedo boats in Swedish territorial waters; 16 British aircraft bombed Comines.

raid which destroyed the Guildhall and much of the City financial district as well as many famous old churches; German troops in Romania reached the Bulgarian frontier; President Roosevelt proclaimed the United States the "arsenal of democracy."

Charged with defrauding home

SWEETSBURG WARD — A Montreal man charged with misrepresentation for defrauding an Austin retarded child's home of $110 pleaded not guilty Tuesday morning and his preliminary hearing was set for January 10.

The accused, Gerard Allaire, employed at the postal ministry in Montreal is charged with having presented himself as an intermediary for the provincial government and collected the $110 as payment for services rendered from Mrs. Butters of the Cecil Butters Memorial Home in Austin. The date of the transaction was December 10.

Following his arrest bail of $1,000 cash or $2,000 property was set due to his past record of similar offences but through the plea of his lawyer Tuesday it was reduced by Judge Delaney to the regular bail of $500 cash or $950 property.

Allaire had previously been found guilty of false pretext, fraud and theft.

Marcel Fontaine, of no given address, pleaded not guilty Tuesday to a charge of criminal negligence involving a recent car accident at Pike River about five miles east of Bedford. His hearing was set tentatively for January 4. He was released on bail in the meantime.

A Granby resident was sentenced to a $50 fine and court

By JAMES McALLISTER

costs and his driving permit was suspended for three months when he pleaded guilty to a charge of hit and run. In default of payment he is liable to one month in prison.

The accused, Napoleon Choiniere, pleaded guilty to the offence which was committed October 1 on Route 13 in Bedford District. The time was 10:30 p.m. This was his first offence.

Harold Smyth pleaded guilty to having explosives on his property thus creating a public danger but when it was discovered there was no criminal intent the fine was set at $15 and costs. He was given two weeks to pay.

Jacques Hevey was sentenced to a $50 fine and court costs when he pleaded guilty Tuesday to an impaired driving charge. He was given 15 days to pay. Hevey had last week pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Marcel Bastille of Granby was sentenced to time already spent in jail (15 days) upon pleading guilty Tuesday to an $80 theft.

Bastille, about 20, was given another chance, the crown prosecutor said.

He had stolen money which had been left laying on a table.

Maurice Leduc, charged with assault, was sent to the psychiatric ward at Bordeaux Prison for a mental examination.

Mr. and Mrs. Manfred Mans of Bedford were sentenced to fines for disturbing the peace and causing damage in a public place.

The place was a St. Armand hotel and the complaint made by proprietor Louis Lariviere. The date was December 18.

Mrs. Mans was sentenced to a fine of $10. Her husband was fined $25 and costs.

Paul Beaudet of Cowansville was sentenced to a $35 fine and court costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of disturbing the peace and causing property damage. He was also ordered to pay the damages.

Beaudet was accused of committing the offence in the Patio Bar-B-Q restaurant on South Street, Cowansville, December 19. Damage amounted to approximately $45, police said.

Maurice Francoeur was sentenced to a $100 fine and court costs and was ordered to pay $258.40 when he pleaded guilty by writing to a sales tax offence. In default of payment he is liable to three months in jail.

The complaint against Andre Dupuis concerning a sales tax offence was withdrawn by the crown when it was learned he was now living in the United States.

Emilien Therrien was sentenced to a fine of $10 and costs for driving his car with one defective headlight.

Five Cowansville men were sentenced to fines on traffic infraction charges which occurred between May and December this year.

Marcel Desruisseaux was sentenced to a $15 fine and court costs for not stopping at the intersection of Church and James Streets December 24.

Roland Lacroix was sentenced to a fine of $20 and costs for driving at 45 mph in a 30 mile zone. Paul Desmarais was sentenced to a fine of $15 and costs for not stopping at James and Church Street during September.

Real Riche was sentenced to a similar fine for the same offence. Yvon Duchesne was sentenced to a $50 fine and costs for travelling at 60 mph on Main Street, Cowansville December 19; in default of payment 15 days in prison.

Skaters' shack burns at Dunham

DUNHAM — The heating system in a building used as a skating shack exploded here Christmas Day, spreading fire throughout the building's interior.

The Mayor of Dunham immediately called the Stanbridge East Fire Department which responded with both fire trucks and 16 men.

When the Stanbridge East Fire Department arrived on the scene, the building used as a skating shack was in flames and fire was spreading to the town shed about 15 feet away. The town shed is about 20 feet wide and 75 feet long, situated only 10 feet from the three-storey Dunham Town House.

Fire Chief David Blinn immediately sent the No. 2 unit to a pond about 1,000 feet from the fire while main fire apparatus used its reservoir of 500 gallons to slow the fire. By the time the tank on the truck was half gone the No. 2 unit was pumping water from the pond to the main apparatus enabling firemen to play more fire hoses on the buildings bringing the fire under control at 5 p.m.

Damage is estimated at about $2,000. Among items lost was the pump used to flood the town rink.

Sermon series starts Sunday at Bedford

BEDFORD — (Special) — Sunday, January 2, at St. James Church, the rector, Rev. Kenneth Trickey, will commence a series of sermons based on The Church in the Modern World.

Staff changes at Granby company

GRANBY — John W. H. Miner, president of the Miner Rubber Company Ltd., has announced staff changes which include the following: William H. Harris named Canadian sales manager at the Granby head office; R. J. Mystic pair's stolen bonds not negotiable

MYSTIC — (Staff) — Police reported yesterday no trace had been found of three men who tied up two local old folks Christmas Eve and robbed them of approximately $7,000 in bonds and old coins.

The search continues. The bonds, $6,000 worth of Canada Savings Bonds, stolen from Clarence T. Edmonds 85 and his sister, Mrs. Muriel MacKenzie 82, are registered, police report, and are of no use to the thieves. They are negotiable only by the contractor. For this reason police feel that the theft was committed by amateurs and not professionals.

Guild names officers

St. Andrew's Guild met in the Ladies' Parlour, Monday evening, Dec. 20, with the president, Mrs. Jack Imrie in the chair. Following the opening with prayer, Mrs. Douglas Jones read a Scripture passage in keeping with the Christmas story. Mrs. George Jobel gave the financial statement including complete results of the pre-Christmas bazaar, which were very gratifying.

Several donations were made and on conclusion of business, Mrs. Allan Morrison took the chair and presented the 1966 slate of officers as follows: President, Mrs. Jack Imrie; first vice-president, Mrs. Peter Brulton; second vice-president, Mrs. Allan Goodfellow; secretary, Mrs. Clarence Foley; treasurer, Mrs. George Jobel.

The president expressed her thanks to the outgoing officers and welcomed the new. As the new secretary, was absent due to a slight accident, Mrs. Goodfellow continued on for the remainder of the meeting.

Miss Jean Miller agreed to continue as social convener, Mrs. Donald McIntyre, program convener; and Mrs. George Jobel, wool convener. Mrs. Allan Morrison and Mrs. Reg. Norton will continue on with the kitchen committee.

Pollyanna gifts were exchanged, with Miss Jean Miller acting as Santa Claus, followed by new Pollyanna partners being chosen for the coming year.

At the adjournment of the meeting the members retired to the dining-room and enjoyed festive refreshments at an attractively arranged table, followed by a social hour.

Polly's pointers

DEAR POLLY — When your grandchildren decide to stay overnight with you but do not bring anything to sleep in, just get out one of grandpa's white T-shirts. They fit to a "T" any age and any size, and both the boys and girls love wearing them — GRANDMA KATE

DEAR POLLY — The time is here for washing curtains and draperies so they are spotless for the coming holidays. For easy ironing use a folding picnic table covered with two double blankets. I lay the curtains flat, attach an extension cord and walk around the table and iron without moving the curtains. They come off straight and smooth. —MRS. A. G.

GIRLS — I would cover the blankets with a sheet so there would be no danger of scorching good blankets. Accidents can happen no matter how careful you may be. —POLLY

Questions readers ask

Q—I am really confused about hams, picnics and butts. Is there really any difference between them?

A—Picnics and butts are not hams, although often erroneously so-called. They come from the shoulder, not from the hind leg as genuine hams do. The Boston butt is cut from the upper half or blade section of the pork shoulder. Bostons have the most lean meat of all pork cuts—84 per cent.

The boneless smoked shoulder butt is made by curing and smoking the thick portion of the lean on the inner side of the blade bone. Many packers put this cut in a transparent wrapper and sell it under a trade name.

Picnics, sometimes called Calais, are cut from the lower part of the shoulder and front leg. They have a higher proportion of fat, skin and bone than the Boston. Regular-style picnic includes the shank, which is largely skin and bone.

LUXURIOUS LOUNGER in dramatically contrasting colors and textures combines quilted nylon at-home pants with a practical, full-length housecoat to match. In festive red and rich royal, the three-piece ensemble is by Beatrice Pines of Montreal. Neckline of the shoulder-baring blouse can be tied pussy cat fashion or left to swing freely. Housecoat lining matches blouse.

For and about Women

Basic do's and don'ts for paintings, drawings, or prints, given by art gallery curator

TORONTO (CP) — Care in hanging and handling pictures will give them a longer, happier life. Light and dirt and heat can eventually do them as much harm as a fall from an inadequate hanger.

David Brooke, curator of the Art Gallery of Toronto, says there are a few basic do's and don'ts which apply to any painting, drawing or print you care about enough to hang.

"It's never a good thing to hang a heavy painting on a sticker. Use ordinary picture hangers which are usually sold with an indication of how much weight they will hold.

"You should have adequate hooks and eyes in the frame as well, and don't use too much wire. Excess picture wire can cause trouble.

"If you have an oil painting, put cardboard on the back to protect the canvas.

"Never stick a drawing or a print to its mount. It should be hinged. Don't use any form of cellulose tape. It will discolor as it gets old.

"Don't expose a drawing or a water color in a strong light or it will fade, even under glass. Never back a drawing with wood. It will get acid stains from the wood. "Don't hang a painting over a radiator. Apart from the heat, you've seen streaks of dirt over the top of radiators."

KEEP PICTURES DOWN Mr. Brooke says most people hang pictures too high. There is no hard and fast rule; position will depend on the size of the picture, the room, the furniture and people.

"It should look anchored to the ground, and a painting should not be cramped. It needs more room than just the room to hang it in."

For everyday cleaning he recommends cleaning a glass carefully and vacuuming frames and backs with an attachment.

"Never dust the surface of a painting with a wet or oily rag or a stiff brush. You can use a very soft, light brush.

"Completely cleaning a painting is an expert job to be done with solvents to deal with varnish and dirt. If it's not valuable, there are artists who can do it. If it's first class, have it cleaned by a professional. To find someone reputable you might go to a dealer who will usually be in touch with a cleaner.

"How often you should have it cleaned and for what — surface or discolored varnish — will depend partly on the area you live in.

"Don't ever let a restorer trim the edges of a print or a drawing. It will lessen in value."

If you want to transport a painting or store it, take it down carefully. Pictures should not be handled by the frame. Take the hooks and wire off and cover the front with cardboard which does not touch the surface. Pad the corners of the frame, and if you are going to tie it, wrap another cardboard pad around the frame under the string. If you are wrapping it for storage, be sure both front and back are covered to keep dust out.

Airline stewardesses who face imminent dismissal because they're nearing the doddering early 30s appeared before a House Labor subcommittee recently.

Four airlines, it seems, have policies requiring their stewardesses to resign at either age 32 or 35.

This, claim the girls, is discrimination because of age.

It looks as though the airlines are clinging to a policy they've outgrown. Back in the early days of commercial aviation the majority of air travelers were men (the little woman was reluctant to take to the air, at first).

Since a sweet, young thing has so much appeal to the tired businessman (particularly the middle-aged one) the airlines perhaps needed pretty, young stewardesses to help sell men on the idea of flying. But, today, air travel is such an accepted mode of transportation that if you take a train anywhere you find yourself having to explain to your friends why you chose to go by train when you could have gone by plane.

Flying isn't an adventure any more. It's just a fast way of getting where you want to go.

Planes today carry women of all ages and children, too—as well as tired businessmen.

Women and children couldn't care less whether the stewardess is pert and young and prettily carefree or old and plain.

If she is pleasant and as solicitous of the women and children as of the men aboard, that's all that matters.

Besides, with the jets taking over, the stewardesses are kept busy running up and down the aisles to serve coffee and meals before a flight is over.

There's little time for the good-natured bantering with which the early-day stewardesses kept the tired businessman happy and feeling younger than his years.

COLORFUL AND CAREFREE — Spacious cupboards and modern appliances in a colorful, carefree kitchen setting are the dream of every housewife. In this attractive but functional kitchen, three walnut patterns of arborite decorative plastic laminate have been used. They are Spice Colonial, Burl and Antique White. Below the counters, the Burl Walnut of the drawer fronts is repeated in the centre panels of the cupboard doors which are bordered in Spice Colonial. The upper cupboards, again with Burl centre panels, are bordered with Antique White Walnut which has been used for the counter tops and edge trim.

When glitter adds to the glamor

Top designers in Paris, London, Rome and New York are on the same wave-length this fall. They're making shorter, softer, more varied clothes, all with a distinctly feminine air.

When fashion is at its prettiest, jewelry is more essential than ever.

How to choose correct jewelry styles that will accessorize the diverse fashion trends? Nothing can equal gold as a sleek accent for sportswear, a perfect accompaniment to knits, suits and dresses.

But variety in clothes calls for a corresponding diversity in jewelry.

Knits this season run the gamut from the most casual kinds of sportswear to exciting hostess and cocktail gowns. Each style requires its own jewelry.

burst pins, wedding band earrings and bracelets worn in pairs are ideal for Courreges-style dresses.

Women who have gone all out for the Total Look, with stockings, hats, bags and shoes expressly chosen to co-ordinate with dashing sportswear, should choose jewelry with the same care.

Chanel-style golden ropes anchored on blazer pockets with bold pins, wrists of gleaming bangles, and classic wedding band earrings look great.

Newest place to wear pins is tucked beneath lapels, so only a small portion shows.

Since youth is set on a pedestal these days, many designers have catered to the tastes of the Mods, and women youthful enough to wear go-go fashion.

The teens to twenties crowd with their shiny straight hair love the high-up dress, long sleeved, with short skirts exposing their knees. Bangle bracelets, charms, swinging earrings, tassels and pendant are all right with these styles.

The smock, big fashion news, and a part of today's youth kick, is practically a uniform for the Mods. Worn in daytime, it can be accessorized with intricately textured collars, contoured earrings.

Another great young look is a three-piece costume: a skirt, long stretched-out overblouse, sheltered by a narrow coat with a bit of a fit. The overblouse might be worn with a tasseled nugget, teamed with tassled earrings. A bow pin worn on the coat is up-to-the-minute fashion.

Newest suit of all is the dirndl suit, with its rounded silhouette. To heighten the effect of its soft, young look, it could be worn with several strands of gold chains encircling the throat and wrist.

BEGULING

After dusk, clothes go feminine all the way. Beautiful and beguiling, they are extravagantly opulent in every way. Fabrics range from glowing brocades to lush velvets and fluttering, transparent chiffons.

The theatre suit, a worldly little costume, baredshouldered with the jacket a masterpiece of shape, may be worn with many-stringed, many colored necklaces. Point up sculptured material with delicate flower pins placed at the very edge of the jacket.

The Far Eastern beauty of one-shouldered sari dresses, those seductively clinging columns of fluttery chiffon, might be enhanced with delicately scrolled necklets, on bracelets.

The feminine hostess gown, with high bustline, softly sashed, can be highlighted by a necklace tied into two falls of fluid gold. Add to this look, a glistening chain bracelet and intriguing pendant earrings. (T.N.S.)

Banfill-Henderson vows exchanged

SOUTH DURHAM — The marriage of Janet Hilda Frances, daughter of Mrs. Hilda Henderson, of South Durham, and the late Mr. Glen Henderson, of Douglas Albert Banfill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chesley Banfill, of Richmond, took place recently at St. James Anglican Church, South Durham.

Canon H. Church officiated at the double ring ceremony and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Harold Gunter. The church was decorated with baskets of variegated flowers and the guest pews marked with pink and white ribbon.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Kenneth Henderson, of Richmond, wore a floor-length gown of white taffeta with lace trim, the fitted bodice fashioned with a scooped neckline and long sleeves ending in points over the hands. Her shoulder length veil of scalloped tulle illusion, held in place with a coronet of simulated pearl petals and three - tier wedding cake flanking mohair braid petals. She carried a cascade bouquet of red Yuletide roses.

Miss Dian Henderson, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, was in a street length dress of pale green, featuring a scooped neckline and short sleeves. Her headpiece was a white veil hat and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations.

Mr. Everett Banfill, of Richmond, acted as best man for his brother and the ushers were Messrs. Franklin and Raymond Henderson, brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Henderson, mother of the bride, wore a three - piece teal blue double knit suit with white trim. Her corsage was of red Yuletide roses. Mrs. Banfill, the groom's mother, chose a blue ensemble with white accessories and a corsage of red Yuletide roses.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the South Durlam I.O.O.F. Hall, the head table being centered with a three - tier wedding cake flanked with white candles in cut glass holders. The cake was made by Mrs. Lawrence Henderson, the bride's sister, and decorated by Mrs. Wilfred Lancaster, the bride's aunt.

Following the buffet lunch, dancing was enjoyed to the music of Warren Fleming and his orchestra.

Later, the couple left on a wedding trip to Vermont on other points of interest, the bride travelling in a two - piece gray ensemble with a corsage of yellow carnations.

Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Banfill took up residence in Richmond.

Guests were from Montreal, Richmond and Lennoxville.

No 'slacks' at posh grill supper club

OTTAWA (CP) — They may be high-fashion cocktail pants to couturiers but to Rudi Prins they're just slacks.

Mr. Prins, executive assistant manager at the Chateau Laurier Hotel, has turned thumbs down on the latest feminine fashion as far as his establishment's posh grill room supper club is concerned.

"An iron curtain of fashion ignorance," claimed former model Mrs. P. J. Murray after being turned away from the supper club after seeking entrance in cocktail pants.

"This same outfit can pass through the majority of doors all over the world without question but not in conventional Ottawa, it appears."

Mrs. Murray said she was wearing pure silk cocktail pants, a velvet top and high-heel evening shoes.

Mr. Prins stuck to his anti-pants guns. Many guests like to wear dinner jackets to the grill, he said, and this was hardly the setting for "slacks."

He said the grill room ban will remain in force.

Police strict despite Expo

MONTREAL (CP)—"Expo or no Expo, Montreal is not going to become an open city," Police Director Jean-Paul Gilbert said Monday.

The director, who took office this year, said in an interview that Montreal police will continue to fight vice and organized crime.

He gave the situation surrounding the world's fair, scheduled to be held here in 1967, a special emphasis.

"There is a tendency at the moment to claim that Montreal is becoming an adult city and one hears it suggested that because it will receive thousands of visitors to Expo, officials should develop a sense of tolerance so that we can be listed as belonging to an adult city."

The director continued: "I do not see how we can become more adult if vice is tolerated. It is certainly not through violation of the law that one can claim to be adult."

Pension changes

MONTREAL (CP)—Officials of 17 railway unions, saying CPR employees are up in arms, asked the CPR Tuesday to negotiate changes in the railway pension agreement announced earlier this month.

The union officials protested a decision by CPR chairman N. R. Crump that the pension matters they wanted to discuss "are not open to discussion."

The representatives are members of the General Chairmen's Association, which comprises the general chairman of all CPR international unions.

Pearson letter

QUEBEC (CP)—Rene Tremblay, who resigned as postmaster-general Dec. 16, made public Tuesday a letter he received from Prime Minister Pearson following his departure from the cabinet.

The letter, dated Dec. 17, read as follows:

"I was very sorry to receive your letter of Dec. 16 confirming the decision of which you have already told me to submit your resignation from the cabinet. I regret having to accept it and more particularly the reasons which prompted it."

"I know that your health has suffered in recent months due in part to the strain that comes from subjecting to unfair and unwarranted attacks on your personal integrity, attacks which as you point out were rejected categorically by Judge Dorian as they were by your constituents in the recent election."

"Please accept my warm appreciation of your services since you have been a member of the government and the assurance of my continuing respect and friendship."

SCHACHENDORF, Austria (AP)—Communist Hungary is making the Iron Curtain between it and Austria tighter.

All along the 240-mile frontier, rusted death traps and obstacles put in place nearly two decades ago are being replaced by more efficient equipment, including fences nine feet high and electrical alarms.

When the Budapest government ordered work to start last September, it explained that the curtain was there to stay as a protection against "imperialist intervention and Western spies."

Restraints CLC
MONTREAL (CP)—An interim injunction has been granted in Quebec Superior Court restraining Lodge 712 of the International Machinists' Association (CLC) from taking any reprisal action against lodge members who might have crossed picket lines during an eight-week strike at the Canadian Ltd. plant in suburban St. Laurent.

A hearing on a possible permanent injunction will be held Jan. 5. The strike lasted from April 12 to June 4. Canadian contends that when the strike was settled before conciliators of the Quebec labor department, the parties agreed to clauses barring reprisals.

Wagner to amend

QUEBEC (CP)—A spokesman for Justice Minister Claude Wagner said Tuesday Mr. Wagner will propose an amendment to the Criminal Code concerning contempt of court at the federal provincial conference of attorneys-general in Ottawa starting Jan. 5.

The proposal would be aimed at placing the burden of proof on the Crown in contempt of court cases. It now is up to a person cited for contempt to show cause why he should not be convicted.

The spokesman said in all other cases in the Criminal Code the burden of proving an accused's guilt rests on the Crown, and the amendment would "bring this section of the code into line with the general spirit of the code."

Narrow escape

MONTREAL (CP)—A suburban police officer narrowly escaped death Tuesday when occupants of a car he was following suddenly fired a machine-gun at him.

Bullets smashed through the windshield and lodged in the front seat near Eugene Perreault, deputy director of police in suburban d'Anjou. He was forced to abandon the chase.

Hooded bandits, armed with machine-guns and revolvers, escaped with $4,800 from a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada in suburban Pointe-aux-Trembles.

Resign threat

MONTREAL (CP)—Fourteen engineers of the Montreal-based Quebec Water Purification Board have threatened to resign in protest over a decision by the Quebec government to move the board's headquarters to Quebec City, a spokesman for the group said Tuesday.

The spokesman said the engineers intend to appeal to the provincial government and to enlist the co-operation of their union and some municipalities.

Ferry cost up

QUEBEC (CP)—Effective Jan. 3 it's going to cost more to take the ferry which links Quebec City with Levis, on the south shore of the St. Lawrence River, it was announced Tuesday.

Gerard White, administrator of the company running the ferry system, said he has obtained the permission of the Quebec Transport Board to increase fares by 10 cents to 25 cents.

Talks slow

QUEBEC (CP)—Raymond Parent, vice-president of the Confederation of National Trade Unions, said Tuesday negotiations between the provincial civil servants' union and the government are moving slowly.

New Vice-President
Molson's Brewery

ZOTIQUE LESPERANCE

The appointment of Zotique Lesperance as a vice-president of Molson's Brewery Quebec Limited has been announced by Hon. H. deM. Molson, president. In his new position Mr. Lesperance will continue with his responsibilities as assistant to the president of the company.

and the government has not yet made a salary offer.

During an interview, Mr. Parent said slowness in the negotiations is partly due to certain imperfections in the civil service code and to differences about which questions are negotiable and which are not negotiable.

THE MARKET TODAY
(Greenshields Ltd.)

Based on releases of tobacco products from bond provided by the DBS, cigarette consumption in Canada in the first ten months of 1965 totaled 35.6 million an increase of 5.7% from 33,682 million in the corresponding 1964 period.

Total revenue of $1,115,315 and net income of $474,182 (equal to 42.5 cents per common share, reported by General Investment Corp of Quebec for the year ended Oct. 31-65 compare favorably with $1,009,396 and $452,502 (40.5 cents a share), respectively, for the preceding fiscal year.

By the end of November, 844 insured pension plans had been modified because of the Canada or Quebec Pension Plans and decisions had been reached to leave 1,267 unchanged and stacked on top of the Plans, according to reports received by the Canadian Life Insurance Association.

"These results may not be representative of the final picture," the Association stresses. "Forty-two per cent of the plans reported on in November were modified or integrated compared with 37% before that. Decisions have yet to be reached on thousands of plans and the life insurance companies are continuing to work closely with pension plan administrators to inform them of the provisions and impact of the new government Plans."

Border Legion marks Yuletide

STANSTEAD — Approximately 50 youngsters, all 12 years of age and under, gathered Dec. 18 at the Stanstead Frontier Branch, Royal Canadian Legion, Memorial Home for the annual Christmas party given by the Legion Auxiliary and Senior Branch.

The party was under the chairmanship of Mrs. Agnes Thomson, who was assisted by Mrs. Frances Sisco and Mrs. Peggy Perrault. A few mothers of the small children were also present.

The youngsters had a merry time playing games, winners receiving prizes. Then along came Santa Claus to distribute remembrances from the gaily decorated Christmas tree.

Each youngster enjoyed chocolate milk and ice cream and lunch was served to the adults.

In the evening the Senior Branch Christmas party took place in the gaily decorated hall. Hector Channell's orchestra played for dancing. During the evening the names were announced for the special Christmas gifts, with a $50 bond going to George Soutiere, of Stanstead, and other prizes to Roger Roy, Center Street, Stanstead, and to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Young, Beebe.

December 23, members of the Senior Branch visited several homes in the communities to deliver food hampers which are given annually, purchased with money provided by the Senior Branch and Stanstead Chapter IODE. The hampers were packed in the afternoon under the convenship of Mrs. E. J. Curtis and her committee of Auxiliary members.

Later in the evening dancing was enjoyed to music furnished by members of the Crawford family from St. Pierre Baptiste, Claude Lachance, Fernand Pomerleau and daughter, Kinneer's Mills.

Guests attending were from St. Pierre Baptiste, Clapham, Theford Mines, Lemesurier and Inverness, as well as Kinneer's Mills.

GRANBY

Yule program presented by Sunday school

SOUTH BOLTON — The annual Christmas concert of the Bethel Pentecostal Sunday School was held Dec. 17 in the church, beginning with a Christmas carol. It came Upon The Midnight Clear, by the congregation.

Ian Manson, a primary student, opened with a recitation, Our Prayer. The welcome was given by Heather Burcombe, Mansenville.

Come to Bethlehem, a two-part pageant, with eight members in the cast, had been presented previously at Island Brook, at a Young People's Rally.

Mrs. V. Hall, Bondville, sang, How Great Thou Art. Miss Marjorie McGee, Granby was the pianist.

The feature pageant included members from all classes, also the Sunday School superintendent, Mrs. Russell Coates.

Recitations were given by Cathy Royea and Douglas Page. The benediction by Rev. A. Nyssonen closed the program.

All the children received candy bags. The proceeds of an offering went directly to the Flambeau Home, Bondville.

OLD TOWN FIRE — More than 100 firemen, with 25 pieces of equipment, fought a blaze in half a block of buildings Tuesday in the old town of Montreal. A squad of men, using the aerial platform, shown here, moved into an alley to get nearer to the source of the flames. It took two hours to bring the blaze under control. By then, several buildings were gutted. (CP Wirephoto)

HAVANA (Reuters)—Organizers of a big anti-imperialist forces conference here Jan. 3 are striving to keep the Sino-Soviet ideological dispute out of discussions to concentrate on issues such as Viet Nam.

The Havana meeting is the first conference of revolutionary movements from Asia, Africa and Latin America. Some 500 delegates from 100 countries are expected to attend.

African delegates appear especially determined to avoid sidestepping of main agenda items by involvement in the Russian-Chinese wrangle.

Old man time missed 1965's first baby

Old Man Time didn't catch a glimpse of Sherbrooke's first baby of 1965 as little Chantal Villemaire came into the world at 2:35 a.m. January 1st in Hotel Dieu Hospital.

Chantal was the fourth child of Mr. and Mrs. Laurent Villemaire of 467 Cartier Street, Sherbrooke, and weighed in at three pounds thirteen ounces, a premature birth.

"I did not expect the birth to come so soon," said Mrs. Villemaire, last year as she rested comfortably after giving birth. "The delivery is about four or five weeks premature. I hope that with time she will gain enough weight so that she will be able to come out of the incubator."

Mr. Villemaire who was in Montreal on business was to be with his wife within eight days. "My husband won't be able to return until that time," said Mrs. Villemaire, "I guess he will be surprised when he hears that he has another daughter."

Three other children completing the Villemaire family include five-year-old Guylaine, three-year-old sister Sylvain and a brother, Rejean, aged two.

Hotel Dieu Hospital has registered the first born of the New Year for the past three years.

Last January Mr. and Mrs. Villemaire had lived in Sherbrooke for four years.

DOLL STANDS IN FOR BABY — That's only a doll in the arms of Mrs. Laurent Villemaire who January first gave birth to the first 1965 baby in Sherbrooke. Mrs.

Villemaire's daughter, Chantal Bridgette, was born prematurely and could not leave the incubator for a photograph so Mrs. Villemaire made do with a doll. The baby was born at 2:35 a.m. weighing three pounds, 13 ounces. At left is Nurse Liliane Fortier. (Record photo by Gerry Lemay)

Merchants to shower gifts on city's first 1966 baby

For the first baby born in 1966 in a Sherbrooke hospital something special is in store. Although the baby may not realize his or her good fortune immediately, the baby's parents certainly will.

Merchants in Sherbrooke plan to continue their practice of welcoming Sherbrooke's first baby with a shower of gifts.

The following stores plan to donate:

- Smith Savard, 104 Wellington Street North — an infant baby carrier which weighs only 34 ounces and was created by a prominent baby doctor.
- Zellers of Sherbrooke Shopping Centre and of 42 Wellington Street North — two $10 gift certificates.
- Steinberg's Limited of Frontenac Street — a gift hamper containing about 25 articles of baby food and for baby care plus the choice of one out of seven valuable prizes, all to the first five babies born in Sherbrooke.
- Tot's Town Ltd. of 105 Wellington Street North — a crib blanket.
- Gerry Lemay Photograph Studio at 119 Wellington Street — an 8 by 10 inch picture.
- Au Foyer de l'Enfant at 235 King Street West — a toiletry basket.
- Fairview Dairy Inc. of 1 Queen Street, Lennoxville — a gift strip of tickets.
- Skinner and Nadeau Inc. of 82 Wellington Street North and the Sherbrooke Shopping Centre — a silver cup chosen from a wide variety.

Babies favorite camera subject

If you're like most people, the majority of your pictures are of the small fry. Children top the popularity poll when it comes to having their pictures taken. Yet, how many family snapshot albums are filled with pictures of the children looking their Sunday best while posing "stiff as a board."

"It's a fact, that all good snapshots of children have one thing in common — naturalness. There are a few simple rules for taking good pictures but today's cameras do most of the thinking for you. This leaves you free to concentrate on the picture."

You don't really need an expensive camera and fancy equipment to get natural snaps of your children. A simple box camera can take very good pictures — provided you keep it handy when things start happening in their small worlds.

However, there are a few more things to check off before you squeeze the shutter button. Get down on his level. You'll be surprised at how the world looks down there at about three feet or lower.

Lighting is important if you're outdoors. Many appealing child shots have lost their appeal due to a youngster squinting into the sun.

Turn your posing child away from the sun, but be sure and check how his face is lighted. Possibly you'll have to resort to flash to fill in shadows.

Keep the backgrounds simple when snapping children indoors or out. A cluttered background can steal the limelight from your little Indian or cowboy and ruin the picture completely.

That's all there is to it. Be ready with your camera, catch the child in action or doing something natural, get down to his level, judge the lighting right, and keep an eye out for the background.

Clippers lead ETABA, Jeff Mills top scorer

Fred W. Bean's basketball Clippers are presently holding their own in the Eastern Townships Amateur Basketball Association, resting in first place in the standings and having three players among the top ten scorers.

Bob Brown, secretary of the ETABA, in releasing the statistics of the first half of the cage season, shows the Clippers with ten points in the standings, having played six games, losing one.

Rock Island Border Bandits, however, are right behind the Clippers, having won all four games played. The Bandits are a recent entry in the ETABA, as well as the University of Sherbrooke junior varsity and the Lennoxville Independents.

OLD BOYS HAVE FOUR TOP SCORERS

St. Pat's Old Boys, tied in the third spot of the standings with Sherbrooke U, have the majority of top scorers.

Jeff Mills, of the Clippers, has amassed 84 points in four games played, followed by Jean Desseureault, Sherbrooke U, with 77.

The Old Boys in the top ten include Louis Simard and Bill Taylor, both with 67, preceding playing-coach, Mike Levesque with 62. Don Charlebois is the fourth man for St. Pat's, netting 50 points.

Rock Island and Lennoxville Independents are the only other two clubs to have a player in this bracket.

DIRECTORS NAMED

Two directors have been named to the Eastern Townships Amateur Basketball Association, to aid in the organization and operation of upcoming activities.

Dick Bean, president, has announced that Jean-Paul Pepin, of Molson's Brewery and Michel Paradis, of St. Laurent Credit Corporation, are the new directors.

Tentative plans have been released by the league executive, regarding the proposed sponsorship of the Provincial Senior 'B' Tournament by the ETABA.

"Nothing is definite yet," stated President Bean, "however we are working for the tourney now. As for the first half of the league schedule, we have met certain minor difficulties, but nothing to cause major concern. The expansion to seven clubs has certainly enhanced senior 'B' action in the Eastern Townships."

League play will continue in the second week of January.

Knowlton Minor Hockey action resumes for Pee Wees, Bantams

KNOWLTON — (Staff) — This town's minor hockey program will be in full swing again this winter, with games scheduled to start on January 8th of the new year.

More boys have signed up to play this year than ever before and the powers that we have decided to add two more Pee Wee teams to last year's total of four.

All the Pee Wee teams take their names from the NHL teams, and the two Bantam teams are called the Aces and the Royals.

Dan Mullins, Rod Crandall, Homer Blackwood, George Rogerson, Cyril Pearson and Bill Blackwood are the six coaches for the Pee Wee teams.

Both Pearson and Bill Blackwood are newcomers to the coaching ranks in Knowlton and will handle the two new teams, the Bruins and Black Hawks.

Keith Mizener and Doug Ladd will once again coach the Bantam teams for boys in the twelve- to fourteen age group. The Pee Wee class begins at 8 years old up to twelve. The teams are divided up so as to distribute the talent evenly. The eight and nine year olds are on the ice together and all coaches have to follow this rule so that 8 and 9 year olds won't be competing against 11 and 12 year olds.

The teams play a five-game schedule, meeting each other once with all six teams in a quarter-final playoff series, followed by semi-finals with one team getting a bye. There will be a sudden death game for the championship.

Trophies will be presented to each member of the championship team, as well as to the goaltender with the lowest goals-against average. The goalies in the Pee Wee and Bantam divisions, to be eligible, must participate in the majority of the team games.

Waterloo dumps SGWU cagers in tourney

MONTREAL (CP)—Waterloo University of Waterloo, Ont., defeated Montreal's Sir George Williams University 63-37 Tuesday night in the first game of the Sir George international invitational basketball tournament.

New York's Plattsburg University smothered St. Lawrence University of Canton, N.Y., 100-64 in the second game.

Bob Pando and Dick Aldridge each had 13 points for Waterloo while Bob Eaton scored eight. Sir George's leading marksman was Sid Gonyea with 12 points.

In a match billed as an unofficial world amateur tennis championship, Manuel Santana of Spain defeated Roy Emerson of Australia 2-6, 6-2, 6-4, 15-13. Santana is the American champion and Emerson is the Wimbledon king.

Year-end sports poll

Habs take first; Beavers rate sixth

The return of Montreal Canadiens to the heights of professional hockey after a five-year absence has won the Habits double recognition in the 31st annual Canadian Press year-end sports poll.

A panel of 141 sports editors and sportscasters voted their seven-game victory over Chicago Black Hawks in the Stanley Cup final as the greatest sports thrill of 1965 and recognized them as the outstanding team of the year.

In both categories, the Canadiens finished ahead of Hamilton Tiger-Cats, the 1965 Grey Cup champions.

Finishing second in the National Hockey League standings, the Montrealers eliminated Toronto Maple Leafs, who had won the Stanley Cup three years in a row, in a six-game semi-final that saw two of the games decided in overtime.

The Canadiens had a more decisive margin for team-of-the-year honors, in which points were awarded on a 3-2-1 basis for the first three choices of each panelist.

The Habs had 276 points and 38 first-place ballots to 223 points and 40 first choices for the Ticats. A distant third were Canada's world champion bobsled four with 101 points and 17 first-place votes.

fourth with 74 points, followed by Niagara Falls Flyers, the Canadian junior hockey champions, with 37 and Sherbrooke Beavers, their senior counterparts, with 33.

HOME TEAM WON
All seven games of the Montreal-Chicago final were won by the home team with the Canadiens pulling away to a decisive 4-0 victory in the seventh game, sparked by their veteran centre and captain, Jean Beliveau, who was named the outstanding player of the series and first winner of the Conn Smythe Trophy.

It was the 13th cup victory in the Canadiens' history, their sixth in 10 seasons and a record-breaking sixth for Toe Blake as a coach. Blake's name also appears on the cup three times as a player, twice with the Canadiens and once with the old Montreal Maroons.

NIPPED TICATS
In the voting for the year's outstanding thrill, the Canadiens' Stanley Cup victory had a narrow 19-15 margin over Hamilton Tiger-Cats' 22-16 triumph over Winnipeg Blue Bombers in the wind-blown Grey Cup final at Toronto's Exhibition Stadium Nov. 27.

The Ticats held second place by only one vote over another hockey achievement, the 600th goal in the tremendous career of Gordie Howe with Detroit Red Wings.

Nine voters recognized the world figure-skating title won by Petra Burka of Toronto and eight tabbed the emergence of Bill Crothers of Markham, Ont., as the world's outstanding half-miler.

Despite their Grey Cup defeat by Hamilton, the Blue Bombers won their share of recognition in the thrill category. Six voters remembers their comeback against Calgary Stampeders after losing the first game of the best-of-three series. Five others singled out the 109-yard touchdown pass play by rookie Ken Nielsen in the deciding game against Calgary.

Detroit Red Wings win another 1-0, but this time it's over Boston Bruins

Roger Crozier, Detroit netminder who registered a National Hockey League-leading 38 of 39 shots directed at him.

CHASING CHICAGO
The victory moved the Red Wings to within one point of second-place Chicago Black Hawks and two points away from league-leading Montreal.

Crozier, who shut out Montreal Canadiens 1-0 Sunday night, was shaken up in a collision with Boston's Tom Williams after 12 minutes of play. Backup netminder Hank Bassen finished off the period, making two saves.

Crozier, 23, a native of Bracebridge, Ont., who was last year's Rookie of the Year, returned at the start of the second period and kicked out 10 shots.

He had an easier time in the final 20 minutes as the Bruins managed only three shots, including two while Norm Ullman was serving a major penalty for slashing Boston defenceman Al Langlois.

Paul Henderson, taking a pass from Jimmy Peters early in the second period, provided the Wings' victory with his ninth goal of the season.

The decisive goal was set up by Peter Mahovich, younger brother of Frank Mahovich, Toronto Maple Leafs' star left winger.

Boston netminder Ed Johnston turned in a spectacular performance by blocking 38 of 39 shots directed at him.

real tonight, Richard suffered a shoulder injury against the Red Wings Sunday and while Worsley damaged a knee in a collision in the same game.

The Leafs have picked up 14 of a possible 16 points in their last eight games, on six victories and two ties.

The Rangers will be looking for their third consecutive home-ice victory tonight.

New York will be without veteran centre Phil Goyette, sidelined with internal injuries since being speared by Boston's Ted Green Sunday.

Chicago has sent Dennis Hull, younger brother of Bobby Hull, and Fred Stanfield to their St. Louis farm club of the Central League.

At the same time, the Black Hawks called up forward Dave Richardson from St. Louis. Richardson's arrival puts Chicago one man over the player limit, but general manager Tommy Ivan is expected to cut a defenceman.

Soviets smash Canada 6-2

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (CP-AP) — The Soviet Union, led by Vyacheslav Starshinov scored Russia's first goal at the 5:16 mark of the first period.

Alexander Almetov scored two second-period Soviet goals. Vladimir Yurzinov, Alexander Striganov and Victor Yakushev also scored for the Russians.

Almetov's two goals both came with Canada a man short. His first shot sailed past defenceman Gary Begg, 24, of Moosemin, Sask., who was on his knees, and then skidded past goalie Ken Broderick of Toronto.

Almetov got his second by flicking the puck over Broderick, who had just blocked one shot and was lying flat on his stomach.

Yurzinov scored with Canada again short-handed at 18:39 to give Russia a 4-1 lead at the end of the second period.
