FLETCHER'S FIELD CASE DECIDED BY COURT OF APPEAL IN CITY'S FAVOR

...rs of the Poirier Family Have no Claim on the City's Playground or the Million and a Half They Sought.

...rt of Appeal this morning ...ed judgment in the famous case ... by the heirs of the Poirier family ... the city of Montreal and ... Percy Stanley Rigg, by which ... claimed to be the proprietors of an undivided share in that portion of Mount Royal Park known as Fletcher's Field, and they prayed ... that the city and the Bagg Estate be either condemned to surrender to them their share in the property or to pay them its value, amounting to about one million and a ...dollars. Four actions altogether were instituted in the Superior Court in June, 1905. One of these, however, was made a test case, and went to trial in the Superior Court, before ... Lordship Mr. Justice Charoonneau, during the winter of 1907-08. ... June, 1908, the Superior Court ... judgment dismissing the plaintiffs' claims, and also dismissing an action in warranty which the city had taken against the Bagg Estate, calling upon them to guarantee the city ... the plaintiff's demand. ... Poirier heirs thereupon took ... to the Court of Appeal, but ... have not succeeded in having the ...gment reversed. ... Justice Trenholme, speaking for the court, said that the Court of Appeal was unanimously of opinion that the city had by the expropriation proceedings taken in 1872 absolutely acquired the property in question by a good title, and that their effective possession ever since had in any event prescribed all claims to the land or to an indemnity in respect of the land taken to form Mount Royal Park.

Judge Trenholme also said that he was clearly of the opinion that even in 1872 the Poirier heirs had no rights in the property, and that the title of the Bagg Estate was at that time without defect, the Bagg Estate having been then in possession of the property for upwards of sixty years.

Unless Mr. Edmond Brossard, K.C., who, with Mr. Lafleur, K.C., as counsel, is acting for the Poirier heirs, appeals this morning's decision to a higher court, the judgment just rendered will put an end to one of the most interesting of recent attempts to recover a long lost inheritance in our local courts.

Mr Archambault, K.C., city attorney, has represented the city in defending these cases, and Mr C. A. Campbell, of the legal firm of Hickson & Campbell, has been acting for the Bagg Estate, and also as counsel for the city in the Court of Appeal.

These cases have caused much interest in legal circles, because of the many interesting questions of the law of real estate which were raised and decided in them.

The court consisted of Sir Louis A. Jette, Justices Trenholme, Lavergne, Cross and Archambault.

RISKED LIFE FOR PROPERTY

Foreigners Narrowly Escaped Being Burned to Death in Saving Possessions

THREW TRUNK ON FIREMAN.

Nine Men Saved by Nets in Early Morning Fire.

Instead of leaping for their lives into the fire nets, a couple of foreigners in the top floor of the building at 460 St. James street, threw down a trunk and several valises, incapacitating a fireman and almost destroying all chances for their own escape at 2.40 this morning. Fire broke out from some unknown cause in the kitchen of the lodging house, and shortly afterward the structure was filled with dense smoke. Before more than two of the occupants had escaped egress via the stairs was cut off by flames. Nine were saved by the nets and three or four got out on the ladders put up by the firemen.

After apparently all had reached the street there were cries from the third floor, and a couple of heads were put out of a window. The firemen immediately re-manned the nets and prepared to catch the men. But instead of the bodies of men came down a trunk. It struck Lieut. Patrick Cavanagh, of No. 4 station, who was holding the net, on the shoulder. Then directly afterward followed several valises.

From the time the trunk came down the firemen yelled in all the languages they knew at the pair to jump before it was too late. But the pair did not understand either French or English, and apparently took it for granted that the fire-fighters were warning them to be sure to get their valuables. It was not until all of the belongings of the pair were on the pavements that they followed.

The firemen are still wondering how it was that they were not overcome by the smoke or burned to death, whilst they were packing their goods.

Lieut. Cavanagh fortunately escaped without any broken bones, though the bruise the trunk left is pretty large.

The fire in the lodging house was discovered by two night telegraph messenger boys, who were on their way home, and they ran to No. 4 station, close by, and called the firemen.

While that station was proceeding to the fire a man rang in an alarm and more apparatus came.

Some of the occupants of the place were awakened by the smoke and the crackling of the fire. They immediately jumped out of bed, yelled an alarm and rushed to the street. Before any others could take advantage of the summons the fire was running up the stairway.

The firemen arrived in time to find a crowd of gesticulating foreigners with their heads out of the front windows screaming for help.

The net was soon spread, and one by one the imperilled men dropped to safety. To assist the nets some ladders were put up, and in a few minutes all but the pair on the top floor were out.

The task of getting the men to the ground in safety was a hard one for the smoke hung low, only clearing occasionally. To the eight or nine men who held the net much credit is due for succouring all without one accident to the jumpers. Their agility in catching all of the falling ones was remarkable. Several strenuous changes of position had to be made by them to prevent a body which burst through the smoke from landing on the pavement. Under such conditions many accidents have, in the past, happened.

The fire lasted for about 20 minutes. As the house was furnished with great simplicity, the damage to contents was small. The building itself was badly damaged. The proprietor of the house was A. Hubert. In charge of the firemen were Chief Tremblay, Sub-Chief Mann and Sub-Chief Lussier.

FRENCH CABINET

M. Caillaux Accepts Task of Reorganization—Probable Formation of Ministry

Paris, June 27.—Joseph Caillaux today formally accepted President Fallieres invitation to organize a ministry to succeed that of M. Monis, which

M. CRUPPI,
Minister of Justice.

resigned after being in power not quite four months.

The new cabinet probably will be made up in part as follows:

M. Caillaux, Premier and Minister of the Interior.
Jean Cruppi, Justice.
Justin G. Desolves, Foreign Affairs.
Eugene Etienne or Adolphe Messimy, War.
Theophile Delcasse, Marine.
Jules Steeg, Public Instruction.
L. L. Klotz, Finance.

Caillaux offered Poincare his choice of the portfolios of Foreign Affairs or War, but he preferred the Ministry of Justice. As this did not harmonize with Caillaux's ideas of a combination from a political standpoint, Poincare will not enter the new government.

FIREMAN OVERCOME.

Two Ottawa Firefighters Injured at Fire in Store.

Ottawa, June 27.—Two firemen were seriously injured and several other ovecome by smoke in a blaze on Somerset street, in the west end of the city, at noon to-day. The fire was in a shop, and Fireman Gravelle fell through a trap door into the burning cellar. It was some minutes before he was rescued, but his life was probably saved by Captain Alexander Potvin turning a hose onto hmi. In getting Gravelle out Fireman Garnot, who made a heroic rescue, was also burned, both men being taken to a hospital.

Philadelphia, June 27.—Disturbances about the plant of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, where a strike of more than 5,000 men has been in progress for three weeks, are becoming more frequent. For several days men who did not go on strike have been complaining that they have been attacked by strikers while on their way to work. To-day a trolley car carrying Baldwin workers was attacked by a small crowd with stones and bricks. No one was seriously hurt, but the police made a number of arrests.

CANADIANS ARE LIONIZED

Coronation Contingent Royally Entertained in London

PRINCE OF WALES INSPECTION.

Queen Sends Flowers to Captain Macoun in Hospital—Canadians Sail on Saturday.

(Canadian Associated Press.)

London, June 27.—To-day the Prince of Wales, Princess Mary and Prince George visited the Overseas camp at Chelsea and inspected the different contingents. The Prince of Wales specially asked where the different companies of Canadians came from, and begged a button from Colonel McLean's tunic, a request which was promptly complied with. All the commandants gave him their badges, whereupon Prince George demanded a similar gift.

The South Africans gave their peculiar lion's roar, while the Canadians gave the royal children three cheers, with a tiger, and sang 'O Canada.'

Mr. Lewis Harcourt, the Colonial Secretary, visits the camp later in the day.

To-morrow the Canadians go to Windsor Castle, where the officers take tea at noon. Lord Strathcona dines the officers and their wives at night. On Friday the King presents the Coronation medals at Buckingham Palace.

On Saturday the Canadian camp will be struck at one o'clock to embark on the 'Empress of Britain' at seven o'clock.

Colonel McLean says the officers and men are nearly killed with kindness and hospitality.

Captain Macoun, who was injured by falling from his horse last Thursday, is now progressing favorably. There will be no permanent injuries, and he will be able to leave for home in a fortnight. The Queen sent him flowers yesterday, while the King makes daily inquiries of his condition.

MR. BORDEN AT CALGARY

Conservative Leader Was 57 Years Old Yesterday—Memorial Presented

Calgary, Alb., June 27.—Yesterday was an exceedingly busy day for Mr. R. L. Borden, who was fifty-seven years old yesterday. He formally opened the new City Hall at Calgary, and had a reception which lasted for nearly two hours. Yesterday afternoon he addressed a large meeting at High River, 50 miles south in the constituency of MacLeod, and last night he returned to Calgary, where he addressed a mass meeting in the rink. Calgary gave the Opposition leader a right royal welcome, the city being lavishly decorated. At High River his special train was met by a large crowd, including many immigrants, and Mr. Borden was taken to the public park, where he was presented with a memorial on behalf of the United Farmers of Alberta, favoring reciprocity, and the other planks of their platform. In his reply, Mr. Borden renewed his protests against the passage of such an important measure without the people being consulted, and promisei to do all in his power to force the Government to consult the country before ratifying the pact. Mr. Borden also welcomed the newcomers from the United States, declaring that the experience of the past showed that they were not one whit behind Canadians in patriotism for the land of their adoption.

UNION JACK IN PORTLAND

Flown on Coronation Day and Band Played British Airs

Mr. Arthur G. Wilkinson writes from 1017 Wellington street, Verdun, as follows:

'I would like through your columns to bring beore the notice of our people of Canada, the respect shown our beloved King George on Coronation Day in Portland, Maine, U.S.A. Not only were there many Union Jacks flying, but it was my pleasure to attend the performance given by the military band at Fort William.

'Most of the Empire's patriotic airs were renrered very beautifully by the band, and I was very much impressed at the large crowd present, and especially so at the respect shown when the British National Anthem was played.

'I feel we should thank Portland for this, which I am sure, means the strengthening of the bonds of friendship between the two English-speaking nations.'

SCHOOL BOYCOTT.

Democrats of Poland Decide to Remove Restrictions.

St. Petersburg, June 27.—A despatch from Warsaw states that the congress of the National Democratic party today decided to discontinue the boycott of government schools in Poland.

The boycott was inaugurated in 1905, when the hope of obtaining autonomy for Poland was widely entertained. It was enforced vigorously, and in many instances Polish youths who continued to attend the University of Warsaw were fired upon. Private Polish schools were established, but their certificates were not recognized by the Government unless the instruction was carried on in the Russian language.

These schools also failed to obtain sufficient financial support. For several years there has been an increasing agitation against the boycott on the ground that it deprived tens of thousands of the means of an education.

The National Democrats form a majority of the Polish representation in the Douma.

LUTHER LETTER.

Presented to German Emperor by Mr. Morgan.

Kiel, Germany, June 27.—J. Pierpont Morgan yesterday presented Emperor William with the autograph letter written by Martin Luther to Emperor Charles V., and for which the financier recently paid $25,500. His Majesty was immensely pleased and forthwith conferred the Grand Cross of the Order of the Red Eagle on Mr. Morgan. The letter, which is in Latin, is of a great historical importance. It was witten in 1521 during the Reformer's return journey from the Diet of Worms and described the proceedings and defended his attitude. The letter never reached Emperor Charles, as its contents were such that no one dared deliver it.

A Florence dealer representing Mr. Morgan, obtained the epistle at an autograph sale at Leipsig, Saxony, on May 3 last. As soon as it became known that the historic document was to go to America, the annoyance of the German public was expressed in many newspaper editorials.

TO WELCOME PREMIER

Big Demonstration to Sir Wilfrid Being Arranged.

The preliminary steps of the big demonstration to be offered to Sir Wilfrid Laurier here on his return from London, were taken last night, at a meeting of delegates of the Liberal clubs of the city, who met at Mr. Severin Letourneau's office, to discuss the means of making this demonstration a really triumphal one.

The Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux and Mr. Honore Gervais, K.C., M.P., were present, and short speeches were made, and an organization committee formed.

Letters have been received from the Liberal associations of Three Rivers, Nicolet, St. Jerome, Shawinigan, St. Hyacinthe, etc., favoring the movement for an unprecedented demonstration.

HAYTIAN REVOLUTION.

President Simon is Now Anxious For Peace.

Port au Prince Hayti, June 27—President Simon has started out again at the head of his troops for the purpose of bringing about peace in the northern districts of Hayti. He left yesterday with a large force under his command aboard the cruiser 'Antonine Simon,' his destination being Cape Haytien, but the cruiser will call at St. Marc and Port-a-Paix.

It is impossible here to obtain any definite information concerning the revoluntary forces, but recent advices have indicated that the movement is of considerable extent and that much damage has been done. It is said that the President has undertaken the expedition with the most pacific intentions and will make an endeavor to persuade the insurgents to lay down their arms before employing force.

Kingston, Jamaica, June 27.—Many Haytien exiles who are arriving here report that General Finche, formerly a warm adherent of President Simon, has joined the rebels with a large following in the northern section of the republic.

BOND THEFT CHARGED.

Pittsburg Broker and His Clerk Under Arrest.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 27.—A. L. Pearson, an attorney, and president of the Union Realty Company of this city, and Samuel M. Carnahan, a clerk employed in the office of Holmes, Wardrop and Company, brokers, were arrested here yesterday, charged with the theft of bonds valued at $10,000 belonging to the brokerage firm. Pearson is prominent socially. His father, Gen. A. L. Pearson, was at one time commander of the troops of the state.

The bonds disappeared from a safety vault in November, 1908, during the absence of Messrs. Holmes and Wardrop. A search was instituted, and a ton of waste paper carted back to the office from a freight station for examination. Carnahan was one of the hardest workers, but the search was fruitless. The matter was placed in the hands of detectives. Last week the bonds were offered for sale in New York. The sale was allowed to go through. Carnahan, when arrested, said he found the bonds, and showed them to Pearson, who kept them for his own use.

PRAISES EARL GREY.

Governor-General's Departure Regretted by Guelph Club.

Guelph, Ont., June 27.—An address has been sent to Earl Grey by the Guelph Fat Stock Club referring to his approaching departure from Canada with sincere regret. The address adds that His Excellency has been singularly happy in his relations with the Dominion, and it may well be said that no viceroy at Rideau Hall has established himself more thoroughly in the good-will and esteem of the Canadian people. It concludes by wishing him many years of continued usefulness in the service of the Empire. A. E. Meyer, president, and J. M. Duff, secretary, sign the address.

COVENT GARDENS PERFORMANCE

Brilliant Presentation and Scenes at Coronation Event

ROSE STREWN THEATRE.

Indian Princes in Picturesque Garb —Renowned Artists in Cast.

London, June 27. — One of the most magnificent spectacles in connection with the coronation was the command performance last night in Covent Garden, the interior of which was transformed into a veritable floral palace, wreathed with England's fairest flowers. Those privileged to be within the great auditorium will long remember the gorgeous scintillating picture, the fragrance of 100,000 perfect rose blooms, the noble company of men and women representing the royalty of the world, and all the most distinguished in British official and social life, who filled every box and every stall.

The King and Queen drove from Buckingham Palace in a state coach, escorted by Life Guards. On their arrival Their Majesties were received by the chief stat fficrs d screeone E by the chief state officers and escorted to the royal box, while the brilliant audience rose.

The royal box consisted of ten boxes in the centre grand tier thrown into one, providing 100 seats, nearly all of which kere occupied by guests of royal rank. Flanking the royal box were two other large boxes, each occupied by 100 representatives of foreign countries, in gorgeous uniforms, and the representatives of the dominions. About half the stalls were allotted to the suites of the distinguished guests.

In point of picturesque attire, the Indian princes, glittering with jewels, were easily first, escipsing the royalties in thei rmost splendid uniforms.

The King was in an admiral's uniform and wore the Order of the Garter. The Queen's gown was of delicate pink, over which the blue riband of the garter showed in marked relief. On her bosom were the twin stars of Africa, on her head a diamond fleur de lys and a maltese cross. The Queen was escorted to the royal box by Crown Prince Frederick William of Germany, and the German Crown Princess entered on the arm of His Majesty.

Although rain fell to mar the occasion, dense crowds gathered outside Covent Garden to witness the arrival and departure of Their Majesties and the royal visitors. After the performance, the royal guests, the special envoys and members of the diplomatic corps attended a ball given by the Duke and Duchess of Westminster at Grosvenor House.

Renowned artists took part in the gala performance. The programme opened with a scene from the second act of Verdi's 'Aida.' This was followed by the second act of Gounod's 'Romeo and Juliet.' Then came Act III. of Rissini's 'The Barber of Seville,' and 'Tableau II. of the Russian ballet, 'Le Pavilion d'Armide.'

Among the artists were Mmes. Melba, Destinn, Tetrazzini, Barat and Kirkby Lunn, and John McCormack, Sammarco Franz, Bassi and Malatesta.

KING'S GARDEN PARTY

Six Thousand Present at Coronation Function at Buckingham Palace

London, June 27.—'The King's afternoon party' as the Coronation garden party at Buckingham Palace this afternoon, is officially designated, was the largest affair of the kind ever held in the spacious grounds of their Majesties London residence.

No less than 6,000 guests had been summoned, and as all the women were in the dainties of summer costumes, the gardens of fifty acres presented a charming picture. The bright sun favored the festival, and the great groves and multi-colored flower beds with a large lake in the centre looked their best.

Brightly painted barges manned by the King's boatmen in scarlet gold liveries lent a touch of earlier days to the scene. Empire structures had been erected on the lawns and bands of music were stationed through the garden.

The King and Queen with their royal guests and escorted by the great officer of state toured the grounds in procession during the afternoon, the other guests forming avenues as the Imperial party approached.

Two by-standers who received bullets from the pistol the young Italian girl drew when she met Fiverone last night are expected to recover.

After firing five shots Miss Saglinbe fled to the roof of a nearby house, where she fought off the police for fifteen minutes with hatpins.

'He told me he loved me and no one else and that he was going to make me his wife,' said the girl after her capture. 'I believed him until I learned he was married, and was a father of two children. I knew then that he could not marry me and I determined to kill him. I did not mean to shoot the other men.'

REVERED IN LIFE THE REV JOHN M'KILLICAN LEAVES MANY MOURNERS

Veteran Congregationalist Loved All Over Canada Died This Morning at Ripe Age of 87 as Result of Accident at Kingston

The Rev. John McKillican died this morning at his home, 628 Dorchester street, at the age of 87, as the result of an accident at Kingston two weeks ago. It was during the Congregational Union that he fell down a flight of stairs; the shock caused paralysis on the right side and he never regained consciousness, passing away quietly in the presence of his family.

Thus ends the career of one of the most revered and lovable men in the vast Dominion of Canada; his name was known from East to West and all those who knew him were his friends. More particularly identified with that portion of Eastern Canada, lying bedalen Islands, the news of his death will come with a touch of personal loss and sorrow to all those in that district engaged in religious work, who will remember him as a faithful and energetic servant of his Master, and upon whom no demand was too heavy, and no task too great if it was to carry the words of the Bible to his beloved people of Canada.

The Rev. John McKillican was born near Vankleek Hill, County Glengarry in 1824, his father, being the Rev. Wm. McKillican, who entered the ministry in 1790, and was engaged for many years in pastoral and missionary work in Scotland, coming to this country in 1816. At the age of twenty, and after having taken a four years' course at the Congregational college in Toronto, he was called to the church at which his father had ministered for nearly thirty years.

For some years he lived at Danville, Quebec, where on Oct. 19, 1854, he married Miss Parker, a daughter of the Rev. Ammi J. Parker, then minister of the Danville Congregational Church. He remained there until the fire of Danville when he moved to Montreal and became secretary and travelling agent for the Sunday School Union. It was in this work that he became so well-known throughout Quebec and the Maritime provinces.

Mr. Killigan had a wonderful memory for names and faces always recalling the names of those with whom he met on his travels. During his long period of work with the Sunday School Union, which extended over twelve years he organised over twelve hundred Sunday schools with six thousand teachers and over forty thousand scholars. He visited over three thousand one hundred schools, and delivered over eight thousand sermons and addresses. When it is remembered that he was all the time pushing his way into the back blocks of the parts through which he travelled it will be seen how stupendous this work was. Many places in Quebec and the lower provinces received their only religious instruction from his lips, and the visit he made to them seldom oftener than once a year were the only occasions upon which the settlers and their families saw a clergyman. Struggling against such odds he yet established that band of Sunday schools which still bear the imprint of his kindly righteous touch.

He was a great temperance worker and an ardent liberal, and was one of the oldest living graduates of the Congregational College having taken his degree in 1851, and was a member of the Executive of the Dominion Alli...

All those who hungered after righteousness and had a taste for the devout expressions of consecrated men, were familiar with this old and revered gentleman, who up to very recently was to be found at the front at every public religious meeting of importance in Montreal. Courteous and kindly, of virile mind and vigorous as a speaker, he secured attention whenever he preached or spoke. His reminiscences were always interesting, and he sketched the lives of the people with kindly phrase and with touches of quiet Scots humor, which brought them living to the view of his audience.

He celebrated his silver wedding in October, 1904, when many distinguished clergymen and laymen were present and handsome presentations were made typical of the love which was bo...n for him.

It is now about twenty years ago since he retired from active work, although he occasionally supplied for other Congregational ministers. Although not ohcially connected with the working body of the church, he spent all his time in religious work, and was well-known in the hospitals and at the bedside of the sick and needy. His genial personality and spiritual radiency took comfort and consolation whereever he went on these errands of mercy.

He leave many relatives and friends. His wife is still living, as also are his two daughters, one Mrs. Wright, i... the wife of Mr. E. A. Wright, a Montreal accountant, and the other Miss Anna M. Killican, living at home with her mother.

The Rev. Mr. McKillican was one of the oldest readers of the 'Witness,' and at the time of the Jubilee of this paper in 1906 he wrote a letter telling how he had read the 'Witness' then for sixty years, watching always the great influence for good which it had in city, town and village, and particularly in new settlements.

'By its influence,' the letter said, 'home life had become greatly improved. Entire settlements where it had been the paper have become remarkable for intelligence, and it is a fact also that from such sections our high school and universities have had a large number of students.'

The funeral will take place from the residence on Dorchester street on Thursday afternoon at two o'clock.

WARNING TO TRADESMEN

Harbor Commissioners Say Inside Flood Wall Not a Thoroughfare

Three cases of considerable importance to tradesmen and others having business on the Montreal wharves with the many ships lying at anchor, came before Recorder Weir this morning, at the instance of the Harbor Commissioners.

For the first time in history the Commissioners took steps to prevent carters and others using the road known as 'inside the flood wall' as a thoroughfare, when Louis Lebeau, 708 Centre street, employed by the Laing Packing Co.; Raoul Charlebois, 59 Notre Dame street, employed by the Montreal Steam Laundry; and Jos. Girard, carter, 1038 St. Andre street, were summoned for the offence stated, and not using the proper roadway to the vessels which they were visiting.

When charged all defendants pleaded guilty, and were left off with a caution.

AUSTRALIAN NAVY.

Melbourne Organ Refers to Imperial Conference Discussion.

(Candian Associated Press.)

Melbourne, June 27.—The 'Age' says the ostentatious confidence trick by which Mr. Asquith is supposed to have told the delegates to the Imperial Conference some Admiralty and War Office secrets, is one symptom amongst many Imperial statesmen of a desire to commit the dominions to an Imperial Council in time of war. Australia, however, has too high a sense of her own dignity and autonomous rights to be taken in by such bait.

GRAIN INSPECTION SECRETARY.

Ottawa, June 27.—John Byrne, of the grain inspection branch of the Department of Trade and Commece, is said to have been slated for the position of secretary of the commission, to be appointed under the Grain Inspection Act.

TO BUY OUT WATER COMPANY

Ald. N. Lapointe Thinks $1,020,000 Fair Price for M.W. & P. Co. System

REVENUE AND INTEREST.

Says Couple of Million Dollars Will Be Saved by Purchasing Stock and System Now.

At a shareholders' meeting of the Montreal Water and Power Company this afternoon, the question of selling out at least ninety-five percent of the stock of the company to the city will be again underconsideration. If as a result of the meeting a statement of their financial position with the present debts and necessary future outlaws is prepared, Chairman N. Lapointe will call a meeting of the special civic committee selected by Council to deal with this matter for Friday afternoon.

Questioned by a 'Witness' reporter this morning, Ald. N. Lapointe said: 'I think that the offer to sell to the city for $1,020,000 is very fair. If we wait for a couple of years more I am afraid that we may have a couple of million dollars more to pay. You must remember that it is we who want to buy, not they who want to sell. They have a very good property, and they are satisfied with it. We believe that we will be able to supply two-thirds of the territory now covered by the M. W. & P. Co. from our new aqueduct enlargements.'

'But the Board of Control has reported against it, believing that the increase of debt would mean an interest charge that would increase the water rates to consumers over the whole city?' urged the reported.

'The revenue will be enough to pay the interest, I am certain,' said Ald. N. Lapointe confidently. 'When we have all our figures ready I will take them before the Board before I take the report into the Council, so that they will be fully acquainted with the facts. I do not believe the debt will prove to be over $6,000,000, although some mention $8,000,000. The difference in price now charged the citizens is 2 1-2 cents in favor of the city system, the company's rates being fifty percent greater than the city's.'

PARIS BOURSE IRREGULAR.

Paris, June 27.—Prices were irregular on the Bourse to-day, and a heavy tone prevailed at the closing.

PIER COLLAPSED; MANY INJURED

Holiday Crowd at King Edward Park Too Much for the Structure

FELL TWELVE FEET TO MUD.

Unconscious Victims Dragged From River Bed By Ropes and Ladders.

Shaken by the running of several thousand people part of the pier at King Edward Park collapsed at 6.30 Sunday, and 150 people disappeared into the yawning gaps and thirty were injured—miraculously, none were killed, and the most serious injuries recorded are broken bones.

There being no direct communication between the island and the city the first news of the accident to reach Racine pier was telephoned from Boucherville. Ambulances were immediately ordered to be in readiness on the arrival of the first boat. In addition to the ambulances from the various city hospitals, taxi-cabs and autos were brought in to assist in the work of caring for the injured, and having them removed to the hospitals.

As no conveyances seemed to be arriving, Chief Campeau, who was there, placed three patrol waggons at the disposal of any who might desire to reach the city. In many cases this offer was accepted.

Apparently the news of the accident had reached the city, as thousands of curious people crowded Racine pier. A big squad of police, under the command of Chief Campeau and Lieut. Martin took up positions on the wharf, and had all they could do to cope with the immense crowds.

Great crowds were awaiting the boats at Racine pier to make the trip to the park, but the news of the accident, very much exaggerated, turned most of them away.

The company's boats kept arriving at regular intervals, and by 9.30 adequate accommodation had been found for all who desired assistance in reaching their homes.

Thirteen injured persons arrived on the 'Imperial,' which pulled in at 11 o'clock, five of whom had to be removed in ambulances, while the rest made use of taxi cabs, etc.

Of the six persons taken to the General Hospital only the two following stayed in:

Miss Lea Frappier, 22 years, 62 Cadieux street, suffering from broken arm.

Conrad Leblanc, 30 years, 128 Selby avenue, broken leg.

The others were:

James Lemequand, 27 years, 266 St. Urbain street, bruised shoulder.

Mrs. R. Riley, 42 years, 34 Colhoun street, bruised knee.

Ernest Frappier 23 years, 132 Berri street, contusions on legs.

Patrick Tierney, 36 years, 510 Colonial avenue, cuts on chest and bruised ribs.

The three taken to the Royal Victoria Hospital are still there. They are.

Mrs. Mary Mullins, 715 Berri street, broken ankle.

Miss Maggie Belair, 41 Grand avenue, bruises and contusions.

Miss Annie Clark, 19 Chomedy street, fractured leg.

Only two or three of those taken to Notre Dame Hospital and remained there over Monday. The ones there are:

Mrs. Constant Robert, 25 years, 1459 St. Dominique street, right leg fractured.

Mrs. Chas. Abdon, 35 years, 631 Notre Dame street west, contusions on right foot.

Miss Jannard, 25 years, 327 Garnier street, contusions on elbow.

Miss Mary Ford, 26 years, 51 St. Antoine street, contusions to knee.

Robert Dyer, accompanying Miss Ford, was considerably shaken up.

Mr. Alfred Beauchamp, 320 Rivard street, right leg fractured.

Mrs. Alf. Beauchamp, same address, suffering from contusions and bruises.

Mrs. Jos. Giroux, 45 years, 915 Demontigny street, right leg bruised and right arm injured.

Helene Marin, 20 years, 915 Demontigny street, cuts on face and chest.

Richard Pettes, 23 years, 791 Notre Dame street east, slight injuries.

Among the many who did not go to the hospitals were:

James McLaughlin, horse owner, New York, slightly hurt, at the Corona Hotel.

Alcide Lariviere, residing at 1124 St. Denis street; Miss Charlotte Merton, residing at 16 Park avenue, Mrs. Marcovitch and her daughter, of 64 Delorimier avenue; Charles Epstein, of 1186 St. Antoine; Harry Lawson, of 44 Mount Royal avenue, were among the injured, who went to their homes.

Mr. J. T. Bolnan, of Baltimore, guest at the Place Viger, slightly injured.

Miss Aspinall, 124 Prince Arthur street west, back sprained.

The breakage occurred outside the waiting room at the end of the wharf. A boat was approaching and the crowds of people who wanted to get home ran for the entrance. In front of them were massed a couple of thousand people, when suddenly a loud crash was heard above the shuffling of feet and the talking. There was silence in the crowd a few seconds while the flooring shook, but when it began to sag to the tune of the cracking of timbers and the noise of rails being torn from their places, the crowd tried to rush to safety, pushing in all directions. The floor of the pier opened like two trap doors, leaving a gap in the centre, and those in that portion of the pier dropped down out of sight. Those in the sides scrambled for safety, but their own efforts impeded them. Those close to the solid sides of the collapsed portion were dragged back by the others, who futilely tried to save themselves, whilst on top of the ones who fell first went scores of struggling and screaming men, women and children.

The pile of humanity down in the mud and water fought until those who were conscious had got to their feet. These turned their attention to getting the faces of the unconscious ones out of the water and mud which carpeted the ground.

Some of the stronger ones managed to climb out and many were able to mount ladders, which were put down whilst others were pulled out with ropes. Those who remained were lifted out bodily, carried to the near-by home of Mr. J. Gravel, where first aid was rendered.

A couple of hours afterwards the injured ones were taken back to Montreal, where thirty were treated in the hospitals.

Fifteen or twenty more escaped with trivial cuts and bruises, and went home and the others were unhurt.

The most general damage was ruined clothing, smashed hats. Half of the ground under the part of the pier which fell is covered with water and the other half is several inches deep in mud. All of the 150 who fell in had their clothes more or less damaged, few escaping with less than a ruined pair of shoes.

Even this morning, after much of the destroyed attire had been lifted out, several wrecked hats could be seen and a large number of women's slippers and handbags, and men's low shoes, were taken out of the mud late last night.

One man lost his coat for a while, and when it was found it was not fit to handle.

The cause of the accident appears to have been the slipping of one of the upright beams.

It was probably shaken out of place by the swaying of the wharf, due to the running of the large number of people who wanted to catch the boat, and when the first beam gave way the others were torn out of their places by the weight of the crowd.

The beam, it is thought, was strong enough to hold up the number of people who were there, but their running shook it down. Its strength was shown some time ago when an immense motor was taken over it by three horses.

The part that sank was about 60 feet by 20 feet, wider than the width of the pen in front of which the people were standing. Before it gave way there had been no indication of its instability.

The twenty park employees who were there did good work in getting the people out. In all seven doctors looked after the injured in the temporary hospital on the boat as they were being taken to the city.

The beams on which the flooring of the pier rested were nailed at the bottom to square pieces of plank laid on the ground.

The hole was filled shortly after noon to-day and Mr. Gravel said that that portion had been made twice as strong as it was before.

FOUR HUNDRED PASSENGERS WRECKED.

Helsingfors, Finland, June 26.—The Finnish-Swedish mail steamer 'Bori,' with 400 Stockholm excursionists on board, was wrecked off Korpo Island, in the Outer Skerries, to-day. It is not known here yet whether there was any loss of life.

WILL SEND A DOCTOR.

Mr. J. T. R. Laurendeau, president of the King Edward Park Company, is authority for the statement that the company will send its physician to any one who may have sustained injury in the accident at the park's wharf on Sunday. Any one desirous of medical aid will be treated at the expense of the company upon notifying.

IN THIS CASE RUMOR LIED.

A rumor which has been going the rounds here and in the New England States to the effect that the visit of Grand Trunk Railway officials to Providence, R.I., was with a view to the establishment of a steamship line between that city and European ports, was flatly contradicated at Grand Trunk headquarters yesterday.

The meeting, Mr. Cy. Warman said, was solely for the purpose of organizing the Southern New England Railroad Company, of which Mr. E. H. Fitz-Hugh is president, and Mr. John Murdock, of Providence, is vice-president.

'POINT' LOST CAR PETITION

Public Utilities Commission Decided To-day it Had no Jurisdiction

LOST ON TECHNICALITY.

City, Not Private Citizens, Should Have Entered the Complaint.

The Public Utilities' Commission rendered a decision yesterday in the case of the residents of Point St. Charles, who were asking new tracks from the M. S. R. Co. to insure improvement in the service. Another demand was for better ventilated cars.

The Commission, without entering into the merits of the case, dismissed the petition on a technicality, the Commission stating that it has no jurisdiction because the complaint instead of being by the city was made by individuals. If the city will take up the matter the Commission will investigate on the merits of the case.

For the same reason the complaint entered by Messrs. Hemming and others, asking for changes in the Guy street line was dismissed.

RECIPROCITY BILL

Defeat of Root Amendment is Taken for Granted—Measure in Senate

Washington, June 26.—The Canadian reciprocity bill was taken up in the Senate to-day within ten minutes after the session convened, the Root amendment being the special subject of consideration.

Senator Thornton, of Louisiania, denounced the measure on the ground that it discriminated against the agricultural element.

Admitting the probability of the defeat of the Root provision later in the day, Mr. Thornton still advocated it. He said he did not want Canada to get the advantage that would be given by the wood pulp provision as it stands.

COLLISION ON CANAL

Bridge Knocked Off Pivot and Road is Now Blocked

A serious accident occurred at the bridge over the Lachine Canal at Cote St. Paul road yesterday. A large freighter from Kingston passing down the canal from the west struck the bridge with great force, knocking it completely off the pivot, so that it is now impassable for traffic. The canal is free for boats to pass up and down, but the pedestrians, vehicles and street cars are all blocked. A gang of men was set to work at once and are rapidly proceeding with the repair of the pivot.

The freighter suffered very little damage and was got safely through the locks.

PAVING CONTRACTS

Aldermanic Caucus Still Discussing the Tenders

The caucus of aldermen at one o'clock yesterday had not reached an agreement with regard to the tenders submitted for permanent pavements in Montreal. The Bitulithic Paving Company, represented by Mr. Warren, asked that their contract should be increased to 25,000 square yards, stating that in such case they would be willing to reduce their price to $2.40, also to give a surety bond, and to deposit $25,000 in cash to show their good faith. They said that it would cost $30,000 to bring in a plant, and they thought that under all the circumstances they should have more to do than two streets only.

Controller Wanklyn thought it was irregular that any individual should be privileged to come in and make recommendations after tenders had been put in and opened.

Some objections was also taken to the fact that the city did not know the price for blocks when tendering, but only the cost of laying them.

All the reports passed last week came up again, and were passed without discussion. The passing last week was irregular, because they had not been signed by City Surveyor Barlow, as provided by the law. To get over this difficulty it was decided to ask a charter amendment at the next Legislature making Mr. Janin Chief Engineer of municipal works instead of consulting engineer, as now.

It was decided to spend $1,500 for concerts during the summer in the public parks.

Mr. David McNicoll, of the C. P. R., wrote asking for approval of a line being constructed in Forsyth street to the city limits in Maisonneuve. It was decided that the city would oppose the project before the Dominion Board of Railway commissioners on any other ground than that the line should be laid underground or on an embankment.

The Board of Control reported against using the school playgrounds during the summer time, but the caucus sent the matter back for their further consideration, asking that at least ten school playgrounds should be thrown open in congested districts for $150 each.

FRENCH CABINET.

M. Cailloux Will Form New Ministry.

Paris, June 26.—It is understood that M. Cailloux has accepted the duty requested of him to form a new Ministry. He thinks, however, that it will not be possible to complete the new ministry before Wednesday. He hopes to retain Theophile Delcasse, the Minister of Marine, and Jean Cruppi, but transferring the latter from the Foreign Office to the Ministry of Justice, now occupied by Antoine Perrier. The new Premier will request former Premier Leon Bourgeois, Raymond Pincare, once the Minister of Finance, or M. Deselves, the prefect of the Seine, to take the post of Foreign Affairs.

MUST TRANSFER SHARES.

In the Practice Court yesterday, Mr. Justice Demers granted the writ of mandamus sought by the Bank of Quebec against the Montreal & Southern Counties Railway to compel the latter to enter into its transfer books 800 shares now detained by the bank.

Judge Lanctot yesterday imposed a fine of $2 or eight days on a group of ten foreigners arrested for track walking on the C. P. R.

BIG STRIKE IN MANY PORTS

Dockworkers in England Renew Seamen's Dispute With Federation.

AMSTERDAM AFFECTED.

Workers at Hull, Goole, Grangemouth and Clyde Quit Work Negotiations End.

London, June 26.—Another shipping strike was launhed to-day. The union workers on the docks at Liverpool generally obeyed the order to strike against the forty-six firms in the Shipping Federation.

The shipping interests at Hull, Goole, Grangemouth and Clyde found themselves in a similar plight, the union men refusing to handle goods from Federation ships. Negotiations between employers and employees have ceased for the time being at least.

The trouble began at Liverpool, where the strike leaders, encouraged by the success of the seamen in obtaining concessions, issued a manifesto ordering all the union workers employed by the Shipping Federation to stop work to-day.

TWO THOUSAND QUIT AT AMSTERDAM.

Amsterdam, June 26. —Two thousand dock hands struck to-day in sympathy with the striking seamen. Work ceased at all of the ships of the eight largest firms.

London, June 26.—General Sir Seymour John Blane, retired, died here to-day. He was born in 1833, and saw considerable service in India. He was wounded at Inkerman, and was brigade-major during the storming of Delhi. He served as aide-de-camp and military secretary to four Governors-General of India.

PRESERVING THE CITIZENS.

Advantages of City Planning Discussed by Experts.

'The necessity for city planning as a preservative force in the lives of the citizens does not yet seem to be fully understood in Canada from the practical point of view,' said Mr. Duningto Grubb to a 'Witness' reporter yesterday morning, 'but it is being given great attention in Europe, especially in England, where many of the older cities are in almost the same condition as Montreal. Some of the older cities tackled the subject of reorganization many years ago, but not to any large extent. Birmingham in an attempt to abolish its slum district pulled down whole districts and built tenements round large open yards, only partially solving its problem, but giving more air space to the poorer citizens than they had had before, and other places have also made attempts to improve conditions. One of the most recent and also one of the greatest is that of the city of Bolton, in Lancashire, where the whole of the centre of the town is being raised to the ground to give place to a new town planned on modern lines; the sum of over $10,000,000 is to be spent on the improvements, half of which is being presented by Mr. Charles Lever, of soap fame, and the balance by the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunington Grubb only arrived in Montreal last week, and lectured last night at the Westmount Town Hall, under the chairmanship of Ald. J. H. D. Sherrard, on 'Town planning.' They both have had considerable experience in England, and intend making a tour of the Dominion to study conditions, afterwards returning east and setting up an office either in Montreal or Toronto.

FINANCE

CHANGES MADE IN BY-LAWS OF C. AND D. BANK

Montreal, June 26.

The Hon. J. A. Ouimet presid 1 at a special meeting of the Montreal City and District Savings Bank, held at noon to-day for the purpose of confirming on the part of the shareholders the following changes and amendments to the by-laws, moved by Mr. H. Markland Molson and adopted unanimously.

That the nominal value of the shares of the capital stock of this bank be changed from $400 per share to $100 per share, and that each share of $400 be exchanged for four shares of $100 each.

That the annual meeting of the shareholders of this bank be held on the second Monday in February in each year.

That these by-laws shall have force and effect from July 4 next.

POWER LEADS WITH BIG RISE SHAW. ALSO UP

Montreal, June 26.

The continued rise in Power, which culminated in an advance of four and a half points this morning, at 171, is puzzling the 'Street,' which has heard that the earnings for May are very much in excess of those for the same month of last year, but feels that this is not sufficient to effect such a movement. Shawinigan rose with it and scored an advance of over two points.

Richelieu, Steel common, 'Soo' and Toronto Street were fairly busy, but with no features to note.

New York, June 26.— Opening was active and buoyant. Heavy profit taking indulged in an advance, but there was enough short covering and fresh early buying to take care of this. Sentiment helped by favorable weather reports, which indicated rain in many places where needed. After an hour or so, the profit taking sales were too heavy for the new buying, and prices began to react.

The market in the afternoon was fairly active, and as a rule prices were but little changed from Saturday's finals.

Sales at noon were: 362,650 shares; bonds, $2,475,000.

POWER UP AGAIN

Montreal, June 26.

Immense activity in Power and Shawinigan this afternoon drove up the price to new high records. Power culminated at 174 1-8, and Shawinigan at 118. Steel, Cement common, Toronto Street, an dother stocks were fairly active, although Steel showed some weakness, declining to 56 5-8.

NEW DIRECTORS ARE APPOINTED FOR R. & O. MERGER

Montreal, June 26.

The proposals of the directors of the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company, recently published in regard to the new merger company, were unanimously agreed to at a special general meeting held at the company's offices to-day.

The five new directors named are: Messrs. John R. Binning, W. Grant Morden and C. A. Barnard, K.C., of Montreal; Edmund Bristol, K.C., M.P., of Toronto, and James Playfair, of Midland, Ont.

The capital of the company is raised to $10,000,000, the directors having power to exchange shares of the Northern and Inland Company for those of Richelieu. The exchange is to be effected on the following basis: Northern Navigation stock is to be bought at $125 per share, paid for by Richelieu at par. The Inland is to be bought at an assessed valuation and to be bought by Richelieu stock at $120. Competent assessors have been chosen by the Inland Company and the Richelieu, the Canadian Appraisal Company being chosen arbitrator.

At the close of the meeting Mr. C. J. Smith, general manager of the new amalgamation, said that this season was very promising, and that he had reason to expect record results over the entire merger system.

WIRELESS CASE

New York, June 26.—Argument on appeal from the judge of conviction in the cases of Colonel Wilson, president, and Francis Butler, director of the United States Wireless Telegraph Company, and Wm. Tompkins, head of the New York selling Agency which disposed of the stock of the United Wireless to investors, was heard to-day in the Federal Court. Arguments will last a couple of days.

Money in Heavy Demand in London---Stock Market Was Quiet, But Buoyant

London, June 26.—Money was in increased demand for month-end requirements to-day. Discount rates hardened following the purchase by Germany of most of the $5,000,000 South African gold available in the open market.

The stock market was quiet but fairly cheerful. Home rails were weak exceptions and declines on fears of the shipping strike on traffic. Kaffirs and Copper stocks and Mexican rails firmer. American securities opened steady and a fraction higher. The Harriman merger decision stimulated the market and Southern Pacific and Union Pacific were in good demand and led an upward movement during the forenoon. Later the leaders lost half a point on profit taking, and the rest of the list sagged in sympathy. The closing was easy. Erie shares were weak.

'Soo' Decrease

The earnings of the 'Soo' Railway for the third week in June show a decrease of $10,150, and from July 1 last, a decrease of $2,019,956.

UNION LEGAL

It is believed that the prosecution will finish its case this afternoon. The defence will be brief, and a verdict is looked for by to-morrow.

DOMINION BANK NEW BRANCH IN LONDON CITY

The management of the Dominion Bank of Canada has announced the opening of a branch in London, England, in July, and under the able management of Mr. C. A. Bogert, this institution is growing rapidly. This will be the sixth Canadian bank to establish an agency in the Imperial city, if we include the Bank of British North America. Those now holding branches there, are the Bank of Montreal, Commerce, Royal and Union.

The Dominion bank was established in 1871, and has just completed forty years of existence. Its growth has been substantial. In 1875 it had eight branches, while at present it controls eighty branches in this country.

A striking evidence of the growth of the institution is to be found in the deposits, which at the end of 1875 amounted to $1,747,497, while at the end of last year they were $49,102,784.

Equally satisfactory progress is shown in the profit earning capacity of the bank, for in 1895 net profits amounted to $189, 562, and for 1910, $659,301.

The year 1910 was a prosperous one for the Dominion bank, while the present year gives similar promise.

DEAL ON TAPIS TO MERGER SEVERAL FLOUR CONCERNS

St. Thomas, Ont., June 27, (Special.)—It is reported here that a merger of many of the leading milling companies of western Canada, including the two local mills of the John Campbell and Company, is under process of formation.

Officials of the John Campbell and Company are at present out of the city and confirmation of the story cannot be secured.

It is understood that this is the forerunner of a gigantic merger in which several of the large milling companies in Canada are concerned, and that certain financiers in Toronto and Montreal are quietly at work in an effort to bring about the greater deal.

New $36,000 Smelter

Kingston, June 27.—The North American Smelting Company will next month begin the erection of a lead smelter to cost $36,000. The company has been awaiting the bulding of the Canadian Northern line which is to run right through its property in Loughborough township.

RIO DIVIDEND

Toronto, June 27.—The talked-of increase in the Rio dividend has not yet materialized, the directors having declared the usual 1¼ percent for the quarter, payable on Aug. 1, to shareholders of record July 10.

Forcasts of an increase had been made on the steadily increasing earnings coupled with the supposed inclination of some of the directors toward larger distribution.

Stock Exchange Talks

When President Underwood of the Erie Railway visited Montreal last week it was twelve years since he had been in the city. Most of his time here was spent with Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, with whom he was closely associated years ago, when he was connected with the Canadian Pacific subsidiary, the 'Soo' line.

Other Canadian Pacific interests, who are large investors in Erie, point out that a man in Mr. Underwood's position would certainly not come all the way to Montreal unless he had something very particular to discuss with Canadian Pacific people.

It is impossible to say whether it will be a month or a year before any negotaitions that may now be underway are brought to a head.

The United States courts have clarified the vision of business, at the same time that they have chastised the 'consciously guilty.' The Oil and Tobacco opinions, with the Harriman merger vindication ably assisting, have enfranchised right-doing big business.

Whenever a magnate is quizzed on the steamship deck, or on the steps of a private car, or a banker is interrogated, the tenor o fitheir replies reveals just now a unanimity of cheerfulness.

Technically and generally—unless he again becomes too noisy—the optimist has considerable to say for himself these days.

Canadian Northern

The Canadian Northern at the end of May had 3386 miles in operation, or 171 miles more than a year ago.

For the month gross earnings increased $220,700, and net increased $186,100.

For the year to date net earnings have increased $513,500.

TORONTO GRAIN

Toronto, June 27.—Receipts of 452 cars of wheat at Fort William against 236 this date last year are reported. Cables are slightly higher and a little export business is being done. Prices are unchanged, those for barley, rye and buckwheat being purely nominal.

Latest quotations:—Ontario wheat.—No. 2 winter wheat, 80c to 82c outside. Manitoba wheat.—No. 1 northern, $1.00½; No. 2, 97½c; No. 3, 94¾c. Oats.—Canada western No. 2, 40¼c; No. 3, 39¼c at lake ports; Ontario No. 2 white, 37½c to 38c outside, and 40½c to 41c on track Toronto.

Corn.—American No. 2 yellow, 59½c c.i.f. Midland. Peas.—No. 2, 79c to 80c outside. Rye.—No. 2, 70c to 72c outside. Barley, 60c to 65c outside, for malting, and 55c to 57c for feed.

Buckwheat, 50c to 52c outside. Manitoba flour, first patents, $5.10; second patents, $4.60; strong bakers, $4.40. Ontario flour winter patents, $3.55, Montreal freight. Mill feed.—Manitoba bran, $21 in bags; shorts, $23; Ontario bran, $22 in bags; shorts, $23.50.

EGGS FAIRLY ACTIVE.

Straight gathered stock in round lots were made at 17½c to 18c; single cases, 18½c to 19½c, and selected stock, 21½c to 22½c per doz.

RUBBER DIVIDEND.

Canadian Consolidated Rubber directors have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1 percent on the common, and 1¾ percent on the preferred, payable July 3.

Opinions on the Market

J. S. Bache & Co.—The market responds to good news more readily than to the reverse. This shows the inherent bullish character of the speculation. We believe the stocks are a purchase for a long pull, as we expect to see considerable higher prices.

E. & C. Randolph.—Reports of soaking rains in the corn belt helped the movement along, and more buoyancy was shown than has been seen for a long while.

Laidlaw & Co.—The sentimental effect of the Harriman merger decision should be widespread. The probabilities point to a broader and more active market.

CANADA ENJOYS MUCH FAVOR IN ALL MARKETS

Mr. Abner Kingman, jr., of the local Board and Investment Company of Ambrose and Kingman, has just returned to Montreal from an extensive business visit to the British Isles and the continent.

He returns very well pleased with the result of his negotiations on the other side, and gives an encouraging view of financial conditions in the big money centres of Europe and the growing interest in this country.

In an interview with the 'Witness' yesterday, Mr. Kingman stated that his firm was successful in establishing connections in the leading financial centres of Europe. 'The large banking, insurance and such institutions in England are already dealing in Canadian securities of the more stable kind to a large extent,' he said, 'and they are willing to accept the best issues which are backed by representative men. What has been said about the surfeit of Canadian stocks in London is correct enough, but congestion will not last. It is unquestionable that London is becoming more particular as to what it accepts, although Canada's name is as good as ever.'

'On the continent,' he continued, 'I found conditions improving. In Zurich, Amsterdam, Brussels and Paris a lively interest is being taken in Canadian industries, and this is being increased by Canadian visitors and the press.

'In Paris,' he concluded, 'conditions are very encouraging. The work accomplished abroad by Mr. Rodolphe Forget, who is very highly regarded in the French Capital, is having a decidedly favorable effect, and I may say that French capitalists look upon Canada as a land of safe and profitable investment.'

HUGE REALTY CO. IS FORMED ---C.P.R. IN DEAL

The important announcement is made that the International Realty Company, which is perhaps the largest organization of its kind, has just been organized by interests associated with the Canadian Pacific Railway, to carry on operations in Canada. The operations of the company throughout are calculated to be supplementary to the development programme now being carried on by the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Its purpose is to buy and sell Canadian real estate on a large scale, to organize farming companies in the Canadian north-west, to act as agents for, and manage farm and city property, loan money on mortgages, carry on insurance business, and in general perform all the offices of a general fiscal agent in the Canadian north-west.

The sales organization of the International Realty Company covers all the Northern States and Canada and is by far the largest sales organization doing an international business. Besides its seven directors, representing some of the most able men in their respective fields, the company will have a selling organization of fifty stockholding financial houses.

While the corporation will perform various financial functions it will devote its greatest efforts to the grouping of small tracts of land in the western Canadian wheat belt into large farms, which will be financed and operated by the company.

The president of the company is Mr. Ernest E. Floyd, Eastern representative of the Canadian Pacific Colonization Department; vice-president, Mr. Thomas O. Harvey, agent Canadian Pacific Colonization Department. Associated with them on the board of directors are Messrs. Edward A. Lovely, Detroit; A. L. Biedler, New York; H. A. Stormfeltz, New York; and H. P. Carver, Calgary.

SALES OF PRODUCE

Mr. Auguste Trudel, manager of the Quebec Cheesemakers' Agricultural Co-operative Society, reports the following sales of butter:—

610 boxes, finest, to Lowell & Christmas, Ltd., at 21¾c; 31 boxes, fine, to A. J. Brice, at 21¼c.

Pasteurized.—70 boxes, finest, to A. J. Brice, at 21¾c.

WHAT GRAIN MEN HAVE TO SAY

Mr. James J. Hill, in his book, 'Highways of Progress,' says, in referring to agriculture in the United States:—'If not another acre were to be redeemed from the wilderness, if the soil were kindly treated and intelligently, there would be produced all necessary food for the want of, in round numbers, 650,000,000 people.'

The average yield of wheat in the United States is 14 bushels per acre; in Germany, 28 bushels, and in England, 32 bushels. The report of the United States National Conservation Commission says:—'Proper management will double our average yield per acre. The United States can grow the farm products needed by a population more than three times as great as our country now contains.'

These are further illustrations of the fact that the United States need not, and perhaps will not be a grain importing country for many years. Other facts would suggest that the minimum of production has already been past and that there is, and will continue to be, a normal increase in productivity, especially with recent advantages of scientific cultivation.

During the decade of 1887-1896, the United States produced an average of 12.7 bushels of wheat per acre, whereas in 1897-1906 it produced 13.8 bushels, or an increase of 9 percent.

AN IMPORTANT MOVE.

In the big conflagration which occurred in Toronto in April, 1904, several hundred concerns, some of them large, some medium and some small in size, were practically put out of business. In the former class E. W. Gillett Co. was numbered. A few months after the fire they moved into their fine, up-to-date factory which, at that time, looked to be sufficiently large for a good many years. The demand, however, for this company's goods has been so great that they are now forced to either erect a new plant or enlarge their present one. The latter could have been done, as they owned adjoining vacant property, 50 ft. frontage by 186 ft. in depth, but even the additional space gained in this way would only likely be sufficient for the next four or five years. The management of the company decided to deal with the question in a large way, and placed their property on the market. Within a few days a sale had been made to the old reliable W. R. Brock concern.

The Gillett Company are now dealing with plans for a large, new plant which will be located somewhere on a railway, and this plant will likely consist of several buildings. Besides manufacturing Magic Baking Powder and their other well known specialties, it is the intention to manufacture boxes, tin cans, paperboxes and everything of this kind, as well as to grind corn and other raw materials used in the business. The company calculate it will take about fifteen months to get their new plant into running order.

MR. DICKIE'S SERMON.

The Rev. R. W. Dickie, of Crescent Street Church, writes; 'May I have the privilege of correcting a slight inaccuracy in the report of my last Sunday evening's sermon appearing in Monday's 'Witness'. I did not characterize any of the disannulments of marriage in this province as a defiance of civil law. I spoke of the cases cited as being for all intents and purposes divorces. I did speak of the teaching of the church of Rome with respect to mixed marriages in the other provinces of Canada, as a defiance of the authority of the civil government of these provinces. When the laws of these provinces recognize the validity of mixed marriages solemnized by Protestant ministers, and the church of Rome teaches the Catholic members of such unions, that in the sight of God they are not married, and therefore free from responsibility in unions recognized and authorized by the civil givernment, I cannot characterize it in any other way.'

THE DIET DISPENSARY.

Through the kindness of the management of Dominion Park, the ladies of the Montreal Diet Dispensary have arranged to have a staff of helpers at the Park on Dominion Day to solicit five-cent subscriptions in aid of this charitable work. The committee is endeavoring to sell a mile of one inch coupons, each one of which merely serves as a receipt for the donation received, and is destroyed as soon as sold. It is hoped that all persons well enough to enjoy the holiday will think of their less fortunate friends by buying some portion of this mile of good cheer, and thus provide nourishment and the services of a trained nurse for the needy sick.

TO-DAY'S INQUESTS.

More Deaths From Previously Reported Accidents.

Two inquests were held at the morgue this morning, and Coroner McMahon disposed of two others. Narcisse Briere, aged 79, who was injured in the accident at Bout de l'Ile, in which Miss E. Ouimet was killed, died this morning, and the case was disposed of.

Ploydore Davis, aged 20, the lower part of whose face was blown off by a giant fire cracker at Nominingue, died last night, and the case was disposed of.

An inquest was held on the body of Emilien Rouleau, aged 5, who was burned to death in Verdun, and a verdict of accidental death was returned. It is thought that a match must have been ignited accidentally in the bed.

The case of Neil Gogain, an electrician, who was killed by electricity at Cote des Neiges, was investigated, and a verdict of accidental death returned.

BLASTING MUST BE DONE.

Major Howard Says Enough Men are on Sherbrooke Street Sewer.

'How can we put down a sewer 35 to 37 feet in rock without blasting?' exclaimed Major Howard, Sewers Engineer, this morning, when asked concerning the complaint made by ex-Mayor Wilson-Smith about blasting on Sherbrooke street. 'It is ridiculous to talk in that way.'

Major Howard further stated that the contract for the section in front of ex-Mayor Wison-Smith's place is supposed to be finished on July 1, but that they would be somewhat overtime. The city is calling for tenders now for the next section from Bleury street to Victoria street.

'Ex-Mayor Wilson-Smith contends that more men could be put on this sewer work,' he continued. 'If they did, it would only mean that there would be more blasting to do.'

MANY HURT IN RACE RIOT.

Americans and Italians Fight in Virginia.

Elkins, W.Va., June 27.—Randolph county authorities early this morning had under control the American Italian riot that has been going on the last few days the result of which three Italians are dying and one American is in a serious condition from stab wounds. While there are still open threats of vengeance and a continuance of the trouble Sheriff Pritt with a force of ninety men is on the scene to stop further bloodshed. The trouble started at Weaver, 15 miles from here on Sunday night, when an Italian from Junior, three miles away, was stabbed. In the same fight H. E. Shufer, an American, was stabbed. Italians from Junior took up the cause of their countryman, and last night went to Weaver and started the fighting. Shotguns, and long knives were the favorite weapons used. The natives of the little mining village fled behind the doors of their homes, terrified, and it was their exaggerated telephone notification to the sheriff that summoned a strong force of officers.

Upon the approach of the latter, the Italians fled to Junior through the thick laurel that surround Weaver, making escape easy. No arrests have been made as it is impossible to obtain identifications of the disturbers, the Italians shielding each other.

TUESDAY, JUNE 27, 1911.

Dr. Fitchett, Australian minister and author, describes Australia as a labor paradise, one evidence being that on the 'Onvjeto,' on which he sailed to England, there were six hundred and thirty-three third-class passengers, most of them working men, off to the Old Country for a holiday. They made the voyage to England to see the coronation, and Dr. Fitchett asks triumphantly, 'where else would you find a stream of laboring people 'travelling for a holiday voyage of 'twenty-four thousand miles?' It is certainly a good record, but Canada has done pretty well in the same regard, and, in one respect, even better, for thousands of Canada working people, men, women, and even comparatively boys and girls have gone to 'Lunnon' from here, and they have mostly travelled Second Class! Dr. Fitchett affirms: 'There is no other 'community in the world in which the 'position of labor is so happy and its 'opportunities so abundant as in Aus-'tralia.' It may be so, but, if so, Canada must run a good second.

'That's what comes from Sunday excursions!' Such was the comment made by some good people on hearing of the accident at King Edward Park last Sunday. It tends to show how persistently the theory of Job's friends continues to live,—that misfortune is a sure proof of guilt. 'Remember, I pray 'thee, who ever perished being inno-'cent, or where were the righteous cut 'off? . . . The light of the wicked 'shall be put out and the spark of his 'fire shall not shine. The gin shall 'take him by the heel, and the robber 'shall prevail against him. The snare 'is laid for him in the ground and a 'trap for him in the way.' The author of 'Job' shows how utterly untenable all this is, and our Saviour showed explicitly that the eighteen upon whom the tower of Siloam fell and slew were not sinners above all who dwelt in Jerusalem; and that the Galileans, whom Pilate had slain among their sacrifices, were not, by that, proved to be sinners above all the Galileans. The punishment that falls upon those who violate God's laws of nature or of grace are not arbitrary judgments. They are not like the vengeance which an Eastern sultan might take upon those who had offended against his decrees. We are coming by degrees to juster ideas. We see people cut down in the path of duty as well as in the path of pleasure. We see disaster overwhelm the Sunday-school excursion on the 'General Slocum,' as well as the crowd in the Chicago theatre.

Feverish pleasure-seeking on Sunday works two evils. Following an equally feverish week's work it inevitably tells upon the mental and physical tissues, and upon the moral nature of the pleasure-seeker, and it also tells severely upon those who are compelled to minister to the feverish demand for excitement. Sunday accidents are common, not because they are arbitrary judgments of an offended God, but because human nature requires at least one day's rest in seven, because the Sunday crowd is usually feverish and excitable, and because those who help to provide the 'pleasure' have already been driven beyond endurance. Certainly no pains should be spared in seeing that all places where crowds congregate are inspected properly. Newspapers and citizens should hammer at this continually until proper action is taken.

THE IMPERIAL SIDE OF RECIPROCITY.

Every day one can meet people who have not yet grasped the fact that the principle of reciprocity has long been endorsed by both of the political parties of Canada. It is wonderful, indeed, how short the political memories of people can be; and how safely, at times, political leaders can count upon this forgetfulness. Now that the parties have divided on the question of reciprocity, there are thousands of Conservatives who fancy that they have always disbelieved in the principle, and who imagine, further, that their party has always been the stern and unbending opponent of it. It is sheer forgetfulness, having its origin in lack of earnestness in the study of political history and principles. Ideas are lightly accepted or rejected, according as they have or have not the party endorsation. What else can explain the curious forgetfulness of Mr. Hugh John Macdonald, the other day, as to his father's attitude? How could he be his father's son, Hugh John asked, except as an opponent of reciprocity? Yet far more real than his belief in protection, which as a matter of fact was no more than a lively sense of gratitude for what protection politically did for him in 1878, was Sir John A. Macdonald's constant recognition of the commonsense of reciprocity. Every one of his political acts in this connection, and notably the 'standing offer' of reciprocity, which remained so long on the statute books, was at least an indication that he believed pretty firmly that the good sense of the people of Canada had made them one on the question of desiring the fullest possible commercial intercourse with their neighbors. When even Hugh John forgets this, it is not surprising that many other Conservatives forget it. To be perfectly fair, however, this forgetfulness is not confined to one party. Many Liberals, as a matter of fact, and to the injury of Canadian Liberal history, have forgotten some of the planks of the great platform of 1893. A more serious recollection of the splendid declarations of that year would have redounded more than once to the credit of the party and saved some serious errors of administration.

But in accepting frankly and fully the offer of the United States for a large and liberal reciprocity pact — which it would have been utter folly to have rejected—the Liberal party is certainly redeeming one of its great pledges of 1893. The frequent pretensions, therefore, on the part of opponents, and even Mr. Borden echoes them, that the project is 'something new,' and that the country is taken unawares, have no foundation in fact whatever. For several years before the advances came from Mr. Taft, as every reader of the newspapers should know, the sentiment in favor of reciprocity has been steadily growing in the United States. It has been asked for and advocated by individuals and by bodies whose interests and arguments alike have precluded the idea that their motives have rested in any degree upon purposes or intentions of political absorption. In other words the common sense people of both sides of the line, with inherited and developed shrewdness, are and always have been at one in deploring the unnecessary and removable trade barriers between the two countries. What, then, has been the determining force which has divided the two parties of our own country on this question? Why have the Conservatives abandoned the plain declarations of their leaders in the past as to the wisdom, propriety, and reasonableness of reciprocity? There can be no hesitation in answering that the determining force has been the periodical obsession of the party by a sort of spurious imperialism, and it is in the cities chiefly that this obsession has manifested itself.

That it is a spurious imperialism, however sincere its exponents may think themselves to be in their ultra-loyalty, is shown by the fact that nine-tenths of those who urge that reciprocity with the United States is disloyal are utterly opposed even to the slightest increase of the existing British preference. The fact is that our true Canadian Tories, who still largely influence the Conservative party, in spite of the newer elements it has gained in recent years, never have changed, and probably never will change, their old habits of thought. Ultra and exclusive loyalty was their profitable stock-in-trade in the days of the Family Compact, and it still keeps its place in the old shop window. The newer elements of the Conservative party, however, should have known more of the real history of imperialism during the last sixty years than to have imagined that freer trade relations with our neighbors would have been any strain upon our loyalty. From the days when the Prince Consort read to his children the poems of Longfellow in preference to those of any other poet, down to the present time, there has been a steady growth in good-will, in spite of moments of strain, between the great branches of the British race. That good will is reflected in a thousand ways which none but the churlish can refuse to see, and it is one of the best fruits of true imperialism. Free commercial intercourse can only help that good will.

CONDEMNS 400 HOUSES

Toronto Health Authorities Insist on Proper Sanitation.

Toronto, June 27.— As a result of the work of the inspectors engaged by the Medical Heath Department to investigate the housing conditions in certain parts of the city, no ess than 400 houses are condemned and the occupants or owners were notified by etter that they must put the min proper shape or close up. There were chiefly in The Ward, and the southern part of Ward Two, on Eastern Avenue, and nearby streets. Inspectors went around again to see that the cleaning-up and the improvements ordered were actually carried out. In most cases this was done, but a few owners declared they could not afford to make the improvements, and closed up their places.

RUSSIAN DANCERS.

Pavlova and Mordkin in Lawsuit Over Commission.

London, June 27. — Pavlova and Mordkin, the dancers, were the central figures yesterday in a lawsuit which was heard in the High Court. The case grew out of a claim brought against Mordkin by Mayer, a theatrical agent, for a commission alleged to be due the latter for getting the dancer an engagement at the Crystal Palace.

When Pavlova was called to the stand as a witnesss, she seemed keenly to enjoy testifying against Mordkin. She told how Mayer got the engagement for herself and troupe of dancers at $2,000 a week. She had asked that Mordkin be hired to dance with her, and this was done, the terms being that Mordkin should receive $400 weekly, out of which sum he was to pay the agent a commission of 10 percent. She had said that at that time she felt friendly towards Mordkin, but added, with a significant smile and a shrug: 'But now, well, no.'

Mordkin testified that he had no idea he had contracted to pay a commission. The case was decided in favor of Mayer.

ARGENTINE CUSTOMS.

Revision in Agreement With the United States Sought.

Buenos Ayres, June 27.—An interpellation in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday by Deputy Carlos brought up the discussion of the question of American flour, which some months ago was granted a concession of 30 percent reduction in duty by Brazil. This reduction was confined to American flour, and therefore will have a serious effect on the importation by Brazil of flour from Argentina.

The minister of foreign affairs explained that neither Brazil nor the United States has acted with any intention of discriminating against the Argentine product. The minister read the instruction which had been sent to the legations at Rio Janeiro and Washington and a note from the United States Government declaring that that country had no intention of seeking from Brazil other concession than those already obtained for American flour. Should any action be taken in this direction, however, the United States is to give the Argentine Government six months' notice.

The Chamber passed a bill authorizing the executive to suppress or lower the customs duties on petroleum, lumber or machinery made in the United States on condition that the United States would conclude reciprocal commercial treaties.

MINE IS FLOODED.

Six Hundred Men Thrown Idle at Port Hood.

Halifax, N.S., June 27.—A report reached Sydney yesterday that the colliery at Port Hood, owned by MacKenzie and Mann, is badly flooded. The water began coming in on Friday and there is as yet no cessation. The latest report by telephone states that there are nearly ninety feet of water in the pit. It is conjectured that the water is from the ocean, the shaft being located about five hundred feet from the shore.

About six hundred men will be thrown out of employment. There were no fatalities.

AUSTRALIAN POPULATION.

Census Gives Commonwealth 4,449,495 People.

Melbourne, Australia, June 27.—The new census gives the Commonwealth of Australia a population of 4,449,495.

According to the 'Statesman's Year Book' the population of the Commonwealth of Australia consisting of New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland, South Australia, West Australia and Tasmania at the census of 1901 was 3,773,801.

FINED AT OUTREMONT.

In the Outremont Police Court on Monday, A Male, of 56 Ford Street, and A. Desjardin, of 582 Rivard St., were each fined $10 for fast driving in buggies and racing on Cote St. Catherine Road on Sunday evening.

Councillors George, Robinson and Munroe were the presiding magistrates.

STANDARD OIL PLANT BURNS.

Portland, Oregon, June 26.—Three foremen are thought to have perished in a fire which broke out to-day in the plant of the Union Oil Company. The damage is now estimated at $250,000, and the flames are still spreading.

HOWE'S TRAVEL FESTIVAL.

Interesting, various, fanciful, instuctive, amusing, refined, polished, wonderful! Such are a few of the phrases which strike the mind when one is sitting in the Princess Theatre enjoying Mr. Lyman H. Howe's 'Tavel Festival.' What differentiates this presentation most perhaps from any other moving picture entertainment that we have ever seen in Montreal is the perfection, the good manners of everything. There is nothing coarse of any kind in the succession of pictures which follow one another sometimes in almost bewildering variety; and after it is all over one of the lasting impressions is that we have been in the most excellent, refined company; that we have travelled in luxury and ease through many distant lands; that our views of the world are magnified many times, and that we should be grateful to the man through whose means we can so graphically see the finest and most inaccessable scenery in the world. The accompanist deserves all the applause he gets. He has a big repertoire, and he fits in his tunes as appropriately to the pieces as did the pianist in Mark Twain's story of the travelling 'Magic lantern.'

ANOTHER REASON FOUND FOR DELAYING PAVEMENTS

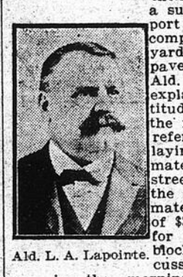
Controllers Failed to Show on Report Cost of Materials for Each Street

COUNCIL AGAIN TO-MORROW.

With One Over a Quorum Alderman Lavallee is Appointed a Catholic School Commissioner.

The discussion on the permanent paving report was not finished yesterday, and Ald. O'Connell was not appointed by the City Council to the Catholic Board of School Commissioners. These negative and principal results of the meeting yesterday afternoon were further enforced in the latter instance by the appointment of Ald. Lavallee by a vote of 12 to 0 towards the end of Council, when only a bare quorum remained. In a motion making this appointment, the Lieutenant-Governor was asked to make the appointment legal.

It was a motion of Ald. L. A. Lapointe that first made patent a difficulty in accepting the paving report, and brought about a difference of opinion between himself and Controller Wanklyn. The motion asked that the report should be adopted, subject to their first receiving a supplementary report showing the complete cost per yard of the new pavements to be laid. Ald. L. A. Lapointe explained his attitude by saying that the report presented refers only to the laying of certaain material on certain streets, and not to the cost of the material. An item of $3,380.10 is shown for laying granite blocks, but the discussion at the caucus in the morning had brought out the fact that there was no money voted for material, and that a subsequent report would come up from the Controllers asking for money to cover the material. That is, the cost of laying the granite blocks is so much per yard on the various streets. It was also necessary to know how much material of the granite blocks would be needed for each street, and the cost. Controller Wanklyn had said that he was ready to start to work this week, but he did not understand how he could go ahead on a contract to lay the blocks when the blocks had not as yet been appropriated to the proprietors. They had $200,000 worth of blocks on hand, but it was necessary to make a report dividing the block they wanted to sell to the proprietors.



Ald. L. A. Lapointe.

Controller Wanklyn said that the Council had asked that they should submit each lot of tenders for the approval of the aldermen as they were received. In the case of the sidewalks they had wanted details and materials for each street before passing the report. In the case of the pavements they now made another claim. Some weeks ago the Board of Control had asked for money to buy blocks, and it had been granted them. A request for money for the purchase of crushed stone for concrete had also been approved. 'Now we ask you,' continued the Controller, 'to pass the last part of the report in order to complete it, and you say you do not know what appropriation you will have for these materials. You can to-day, if you wish, vote for the work to be done for the asphalt, as you have everything before you in that item, and so allow us to begin the work. Also, in my opinion, you can vote for the work in granite blocks to proceed as well, if you approve of granite blocks.'

You have blocks in your stores ready for use, and they must be used. It only remains for you to say that we can use them. However, if you pass the rest of the report, we could go on with the work, and have the details you desire before we would be laying the blocks.'

Ald. Lariviere thought it was necessary to have everything legal before proceeding. The blocks should certainly be appropriated to the different streets before they could be laid.

Ald. L. A. Lapointe feared trouble if the Controllers were allowed to proceed with work which later might not be approved as their position would be open to criticism. He also thought they needed full particulars as to $10,-000 set aside for general inspection. The Council should know just how this money was to be expended, whether in inspecting the work done by the contractors or that by the city. The city was doing three-fifths of the work. A sum like that, if not properly allocated, might be diverted too much to the city's use by the Chief Engineer in order to show how cheaply the city could do the work. That would not be fair to the contractors.

Ald. O'Connell.

Ald. Lavallee.

Ald. L. A. Lapointe further said that the cost of a street pavement now shown as $3,000 might be $10,000 when they had all the figures.

Ald. Lavallee moved that all the paving to be done by the city should be struck from the report, and that the rest of it should be adopted.

Ald. Ward—'Why are not prices put before the public? Why do the Controllers come here with one-half of the prices, and not the other part. The proprietors want to know the full cost before we go into this.'

The debate was adjourned until Wednesday afternoon, the following motion of Ald. Emard being an instruction to the Board of Control:—

'That the said report be returned to the Board of Control with the request that they complete it by giving the total cost of the paving for each street, not only the foundation and the laying of pavement, but the cost and the kind of material, so that the Council would know the exact cost for paving each street.'

ALD. LAVALLEE APPOINTED TO CATHOLIC SCHOOL BOARD.

In the dying moments of yesterday's Council, with a bare quorum, a motion of Ald. Prudhomme, seconded by Ald. Bastien, that Ald. Lavallee should be appointed Catholic School Commissioner to take the place of ex-Ad. Gallery, whose term has expired, and that the Lieutenant-Governor should be asked to ratify he appointment, was passed by a vote of 12 to 0.

When the question came up, only half the members of the Council were present. Ald. O'Connell moved that the item be struck from the order of the day, but the motion was lost. Seeing this six aldermen, Ald. L. A. Lapointe, Drummond, McMahon, O'Connell, Monahan and Ward, walked from the Council, and the vote proceeded without them.

On the motion of Ald. O'Connell to have the item struck from the order of the day, there was the following division:—

Nays—Ald. Leclaire, Prudhomme, Dandurand, Roux, Brodeur, Bastien, Emard, Lariviere, Lussier, Deguire, and Lavallee—11.

Ayes—Ald. L. A. Lapointe, N. Lapointe, O'Connell, Ward, Monahan, Tetreau, Drummond and McMahon — 8.

Ald. Prudhomme's motion was adopted as under:

Ayes—Ald. N. Lapointe, Leclaire, Prudhomme, Dandurand, Roux, Brodeur, Bastien, Emard, Lariviere, Lussier, Deguire, and Lavallee— 12.

MONTREAL W. & P. COMPANY EXTENDS OPTION SIX MONTHS.

A letter was received was received from the Montreal Water and Power Company renewing for a term of six months the option previously given the city on at least ninety-five percent of its total outstanding capital stock. The terms on which this option is granted are that the price to be paid by the city is $120 for each share of the par value of $100, and $37.50 for each share of the par value of $25.

The total issue of preferred stock is $500,000 in 5,000 shares of $100 each, and the total issue of common stock is $280,000 in 11,120 shares of $25 each. This would make the total price payable $1,020,000.

The company does not guarantee to deliver more than 95 percent of the issued capital stock, but they ask that the three or four percent minority shareholders shall have the right to sell their stock at any time within six months from the date the city exercises the option on the same terms as above mentioned. The letter was signed by Edwin Hanson, chairman of the Shareholders' Committee.

ROSEMOUNT PROTECTION INADEQUATE AGAINST FIRE.

The Assurance Mont Royal, through Mr. J. E. Clement, general manager, gave the city notice yesterday by letter that having given Rosemount residents rates as low as in other districts under the impression that a fire station was to be built, they would hold the city responsible for all the damage they would have to pay through the fact that there was fire protection inadequate to the needs of the quarter.

CONTRACTOR'S OBJECTIONS TO CITY'S TENDERING.

Mr. A. E. Chagnon, builder, objects to the principle of the city submitting tenders for its own work, because it has not to give deposits on which to lose interest, because it has not to pay water taxes or meter rent, because it uses the city's money to pay weekly wages, and because the contractors pay higher wages to workmen than does the city.

UNFAIR TREATMENT ALLEGED TO WATER WORKS EMPLOYEES.

The Association des Contribuables of Montreal West makes serious complaint of the internal administration of the Waterworks Department, saying that the employees are treated unjustly, and gives no encouragement in the way of promotion to induce them to put forward his best efforts. They have too few men for the work, the boilers are in a bad state and are liable to explode, and a general bad system of management. The particular employees mentioned were the stokers at the Waterworks Department at Point St. Charles. Their working hours had been reduced from 12 to eight hours, but the number of men on each shift had been reduced proportionately, and they had too much work to do. Complaint was made of the American coal used, it being claimed that this is not as good as the Dominion variety.

Mr. Elzear Lazure, of 41 Turgeon street, wrote also claiming that having had three years of service as as engineer he had applied to Mr. Samuel G. Veary, of the Waterworks Department in Point St. Charles, for a position, his certificates being acceptable to Mr. Champagne, boiler inspector, and Mr. Lesage, superintendent of the Waterworks Department. He had been passed over for another with half a year's experience, on the ground that he was inexperienced.

Aldermen Lariviere and Lavallee said that such complaints had been made to them also.

A resolution of protest of the Shamrock Amateur Athletic Association was read in Council against the delay in finishing the St. Lawrence street subway under the C. P. R. tracks.

The Sheltering Home at 152 St. Urbain street has asked to be remembered when the Meurling bequest is divided among the city charities. This home does work among women and children who may be temporarily out of a situation or a home.

Through Ald. O'Connell, the residents of Maple avenue, in Point St. Charles, protested against the change of name of their street to Parnell.

COSTLY EXPLOSION.

Two Men Killed and Property Damage Totals $200,000.

Port Arthur, Texas, June 27.—Two lives were lost, half a dozen men were injured, some seriously, three oil barges and one tug were burned to the water's edge, and about 10,000 barrels of oil, two large warehouses and over 500 feet of wharves were destroyed as the result of an explosion which was followed by a fire in the Port Arthur harbor and water front yesterday. The loss is about $300,000.

Captain Frank Weber, of the barge Humble, and Samuel Sicero, an Italian laborer, lost their lives in an explosion aboard the 'Humble,' where the fire started.

The flames swept rapidly over several small vessels belonging to the Texas Company, and spread to two large warehouses of that concern. These, together with the wharves, were soon a mass of ruins. Other buildings were slightly damaged.

INTERNATIONAL AERO RACE.

Brussels, June 27.—Andre Beaumont, who left Utrecht, Netherlands, yesterday afternoon on the fourth leg of the International Circuit air race, arrived at the aviation grounds at Berchem, a suburb of Antwerp, at 5.24 p.m. He was followed by Kimmerling eleven minutes later. Kimmerling started on his flight from the outskirts of Utrecht to the Belgian capital one hour after Beaumont began his flight.

LONGUEUIL.

The usual weekly meeting of the Town Council was held last evening, Mayor A. Geoffrion, M.P.P., presiding and Aldermen Gariepy, Cross, Mars, Robert, Benoit and Gear being present. Several ratepayers on Victoria Avenue wrote asking Council to place a permanent sidewalk on their property, 11 feet from the fence and 6 feet wide, and they would bear the expense, and would also fill in the space between the sidewalk and the fence. This was referred to the Roads Committee, with the information that Council was in favor of its being granted.

Owing to several cases of disorderly conduct being reported on the property and grounds of the Longueuil Boat Club the Club Committee wrote asking the Council to appoint a special constable to patrol the property, as such proceedings were becoming common, and were causing quite a scandal in that neighborhood. The Police Committee were requested to take stern measures.

Alderman Benoit made a strong appeal to Council to amend Section 38 of the Sidewalk Bye Law, and to lay parts of the sidewalks on some streets if they were not in a position to lay the sidewalk on the whole of the street. Some time ago the Council protested Dr. Pelletier of the Public Health Department, regarding the building of the sewers, and the drainage of the town of St. Lambert into the river. Dr. Pelletier immediately took it up with that town, and a letter was read from him enclosing one from Mr. J. R. Beatty, Secy.-Treas. of St. Lambert explaining matters. After some discussion it was decided that this explanation was not satisfactory, and a committee consisting of the Mayor and Aldermen Gear and Lalonde were instructed to apply for a mandamus against St. Lambert proceeding with the works, the first thing on Tuesday morning. The Council then adjourned.

ST. LAMBERT.

A special meeting of the Town Council was held in the Town Hall last evening, Mayor Hooper in the chair. Several accounts for permanent improvements amounting to $5,300 were ordered to be paid. These accounts had been inspected and approved by the Works Committee previous to the meeting. Mr. Le Royer was appointed inspector of the works now being constructed by the town, he to report to the Works Committee and to be under their jurisdiction. Mr. Patton, Chairman of that committee, reported that they had been able to secure better prices for sand and stone than were tendered, and he was authorized by the Council to purchase the amount required at the lowest price. The newly appointed inspector was ordered to prepare an estimate and draw up plans for the new connections for water all over the town. Several questions were asked regarding the expenditure for permanent improvements, wages or men employed, etc., and all were answered satisfactorily. Mr. Morin, of Notre Dame Street, appeared before Council and complained that the men engaged on the permanent works had, whilst working on that street, disconnected his cellar drainage pipes. Mr. Dickenson, engineer, then explained that connection with the main sewer would be made in a few days when they commenced to lay it on the street, and that this breakage was only temporary. After reading several letters from various firms regarding prices of material, etc., Council adjourned to next Monday.

The Councillors present at the meeting were:—R. Patton, A. Venne, A. L. Brault, S. Gonin, and P. J. McInenly.

WANTS JEWISH TRADE.

Russian Organization Consequently Seeks to Cancel Expulsion Order.

St. Petersburg, June 27.—The Ministry of Trade is negotiating with the ministry of the Interior with the view to the temporary suspension of the order of the governor of Tobolsk, Siberia, prohibiting Jews attending the Fur Fair at Tyumen.

If the Ministry of the Interior does not grant this concession the other ministry will take the case before the Council of Ministers.

Premier Stolypin holds the post of Interior Affairs, and the present action was taken following a telegraphic appeal from the Board of Trade of Tyumen setting forth that the exclusion of Jews was injurious to business. The Premier recognizes that the order of the governor of Tobolsk is in accordance with the letter of the law, but also that the law has never been applied rigorously.

CANADIAN LOCOMOTIVE CO.

Issuing $1,500,000 Preferred Stock Carrying a Bonus of 25% Common.

The remarkable railway development of Canadian Railways has enormously increased the demand for locomotives of ever-increasing size, power and cost. The demand is one of the most certain in any line of manufacture.

There is a big field for a larger and up-to-date locomotive building plant in Canada—the present plant of the Canadian Locomotive Company, of Kingston, is entirely inadequate to handle its orders, and just now there are contracts in sight which would keep an augmented plant busy until the end of 1913. The owners of the plant—a powerful syndicate of English and Canadian capitalists—intend to enlarge the works so as to cope with the increasing demands for locomotives in Canada. The present output is not much over 75 engines a year—depending on the type required—and many valuable contracts have to be declined owing to the company's inability to deliver. It is now intended to double the capacity of the plant and perhaps treble it.

To enable them to make this expansion the company are issuing through Aemilius Jarvis & Co., and as announced elsewhere in this issue, $1,500,000 of 7 per cent. cumulative preferred stock carrying a bonus of 25 per cent. common stock.

Being exempt from taxation, and with little danger from labor troubles, as explained in President Harty's letter as in the Prospectus, the company is in an exceptionally favorable position to manufacture most profitably.

The company's premises occupy three blocks in the city of Kingston, having a street frontage of about 865 feet by a depth of about 555 feet—to a frontage on Lake Ontario of about 1175 feet—the area enclosed being 333,000 square feet. There are about a dozen buildings, including one of the finest power plants in the country, a magnificent erecting shop with huge travelling cranes, boiler shops, riveting shops, machine shops, tank shops, tender shops, blacksmith shops, foundry and pattern rooms, paint shops and carpenter shops. In all, the works occupy seven acres. The company has its own branch railroad line in Kingston and its own wharves and docking facilities on Lake Ontario.

The engines it turns out are the most up-to-date possible, and that they are satisfactory in service is proved by repeat orders from all previous buyers. The C.P.R., the G.T.R., the I.C.R., the National Transcontinental, the Canadian Northern, and the Government-owned Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railroad—all are patrons of the Canadian Locomotive Company of Kingston. Six engines recently turned out for the T. & N. O. are said to be the largest ever built in Canada. Chairman Englehart, of the T.&N.O., speaking of these engines declared them to be the finest he had ever seen and were giving the greatest satisfaction. At present the company has contracts for some 50 engines with the C.P.R., the C.N.R., the I.C.R., and the Algoma Central, and it is becoming increasingly difficult to keep up with the orders.

The working staff is about 800 strong and a big proportion of the employees have grown up with the works and own their own homes in the neighborhood. This fact is a pretty strong safeguard against labor troubles common in other centres.

The men who are to control the new company are recognized powers in the financial world. The banking firm in charge of the business is Aemilius Jarvis & Company, of Toronto, and associated with them are the well known firm of Brown, Shipley & Company, Bankers, of London, England.

The directors are: Hon. William Harty, Kingston; John L. Whiting, K.C., Kingston; Aemilius Jarvis, Toronto; Robert Hobson, Hamilton; Frank G. Wallace, Pittsburg, Pa.; Warren Y. Soper, Ottawa; James Redmond, Montreal.

Of the large amount for which firm subscriptions have been received, and which will be allotted in full it is worthy of note that Paris (France) and London (England) have taken a substantial sum.

Shipping Federation to Use Concerted Action in Dispute

London, June 27.—The ship owners have at last realized the necessity for concerted action in view of the growth of the strike. As a result meetings were held yesterday in every affected district for the purpose of deciding upon a line of policy. On the reports from these meetings, the federation is expected to announce any action it may take. It is expected the firms will endorse the position taken by the ship owners at Leith, who unanimously agreed that in view of the competition of foreign shippers in the freight market, concessions are impossible. They will lay up their ships rather than agree to the demands.

The most serious phase of the strike yesterday was the action of the dockers and transport workers who went out at many places. Thousands quit at Liverpool. While the walkout is ostensibly in sympathy with the seamen and firemen, the men made it clear that they will themselves demand an advance in wages. The shipping business at Liverpool is most seriously hampered. The Nelson line has yielded and has granted to the seamen and the firemen an advance of ten shillings a month, but the dock workers will not work with them unless they get the advance, too. The officials of the Nelson line believe they will be able to win the dockers over. Several of the company's ships are held up in the meantime, as also are some of the Ellerman's. Many others are in difficulties, though some are likely to yield.

EUCHARISTIC CONGRESS.

Archbishop Bruchesi Reads Minutes of Last Year's Sessions Here.

Madrid, June 27.—Spain officially welcomed the twenty-second International Eucharistic Congress yesterday. King Alfonso delegating Infante Don Carlos, who made a speech of greeting: The church of San Francisco, in which the proceedings are being held, was filled with prelates, priests and lay delegates from all nations. A solemn special service with discourses by the Papal Legate and the Bishop of Namur followed.

Every train is bringing in additional delegates and arrangements have been made that promise to give the Congress the same brilliance as marked the gathering at Montreal last fall.

Cardinal Garcia, archbishop of Burgos, opened the congress this afternoon in the church of San Francisco. Archbishop Bruchesi, of Montreal, read the minutes of last year's congress at Montreal, after, after which two telegrams received from Pope Pius, blessing the delegates and according them plenary indulgence, were read.

REPLY OF BISHOP WALSH.

Portland Ecclesiastic Issues Statement Regarding French-Canadian Affair.

Portland, Me., June 27.—'A scandalous attempt to overthrow the legitimate authority of bishop and priest and to bring lay socialism into the administration of church affairs,' is the way Bishop Louis S. Walsh, Roman Catholic bishop of Portland, sums up in a public statement issued last night, the the recent attempt to secure legislation dissolving the corporation sole, by which he controls the property of the church throughout the state. It is the first public utterance of Bishop Walsh on the subject since he issued the recent interdict against six French-Canadian laymen of the diocese of Portland, who were leaders in the movement to secure the legislation.

'The corporation sole' the bishop says, 'is in no way, shape or manner connected with the alleged grievances of the French-Canadian people or societies. It is simply a permissive title for holding property.'

Three Girls on a Yacht

SUMMARY OF THE PRECEDING CHAPTERS.

The fortunes of the three girls, Alix, Anne and Angela Temple, are at their lowest ebb apparently when they face a third summer without holiday in their tiny flat at Battersea Park. The death of Captain Temple, the easy-going father, and of the invalid mother, had left them stranded in Brittany and London had seemed to offer unlimited chances to enlarge their too slender income. Alix, at twenty-two, has the usual struggles of a slightly successful author, while Anne, twenty, works for a pittance in a millinery establishment, and seventeen-year-old Angela keeps house. Returned MSS. and four weeks of hot dry weather have done their work when Anne returns one day with a delightful surprise. Miss Alicia Grane-Chester, a wealthy customer, has asked if the sisters would be willing, during Anne's holidays, to 'air' the 'Flying Fish,' as the yawl will otherwise lie idle all summer. Delightful plans are indulged in, and Miss Chester herself comes to make final arrangements, saying that supplies are on board and a man and boy will be at their command. In the evening at her own home her brother asks about her latest proteges.

CHAPTER III.—Continued.

'I was going to speak to you about them to-night, Bill, anyway, because I've done something.'

'Something about them?'

His sister nodded.

'You see it came about like this. I saw the poor little thing getting whiter and thinner; I knew she had had no holiday—I mean no change out of London—for two years.'

'Two years! Great Scot!'

'Yes; in Battersea, too. I positively couldn't offer them money, and I didn't know how father would take it if I asked three strange girls to stay a month. I thought it out all ways, and then I asked her to lunch, and offered them the 'Flying Fish' for their holiday.'

Young Chester positively tumbled into the room.

'My dear boy, what a noise! Take care, you'll smash my silver table. It is perfectly practical. The 'Fish' is big enough to live upon if they don't want to sail; on the other hand, they are perfectly safe, for they've been brought up on the coast of Brittany, and understand boats all round. Don't you see it exactly met the difficulty? I told them the boat was lying in the creek, and it would be a charity to use her.'

'Tibs,' exclaimed her brother, 'you're a genius. More than that, you're an awfully decent sort. I call the whole thing a stroke.'

Alicia flushed; she was pleased at the praise.

'But they'll want a heap of things, won't they? The boat was almost dismantled.'

'I've settled that; I've written down to Tobin, and told him to get everything straight for three. All the necessary bedding and rugs, and plenty of stores.'

'Right; it'll do the old crab good to move a bit. But, look here, won't they get swamped or fall overboard or something??'

'Oh, dear, no. They are a very capable kind; and boats and sea come naturally to them.' She hesitated; then strolled across to the window, and stood tapping on the frame with long, slender fingers. 'And besides, Bill, I had to do something. I assure you I thought of a dozen plans, but I couldn't face that little creature's white face next autumn if I'd left them planted in town all August.'

'I must say you are awfully decent, Tibs,' said her brother again, with a ring of respect in his voice. And Alicia smiled. 'Have you told the pater?' he added, after a pause.

'Oh, no. He was busy to-day. I'll tell him to-morrow, perhaps. It will be all one to him.'

'Rather.' Then, after another pause: 'When are you off?'

'Day after to-morrow probably. Are you coming?'

Young Chester proceeded to light a cigarette with tender care. Then, dropping the match into a vase close by, in spite of an aggrieved exclamation from his sister, he said:

'No, I don't think so. I rather thought of putting in some sailing round the island.'

'My dear boy, you don't want the 'Fish,' do you?' cried Alicia, who was a woman of large mind, and not given to petty suspicions.

'Well, no. I'd have told you if I had. I wasn't going to Cumber either; I don't want a house on my hands. Lassetter asked me to go with him. He is taking his 'Rose-Marie' round to a race in some of the south-coast regattas.'

'Jolly,' commented Alicia.

'Yes, not half bad, if we get decent weather. I told him I didn't mind coming.'

Mr. Chester did not add that his final decision had been arrived at within the last twenty minutes.

'The pater won't mind, will he?'

'Oh, no; you'll join us at Glen Garrioch afterwards, won't you? He'll want you then, of course.' And they passed to other matters.

In the course of the next day, Alicia called her brother into the boudoir; it wore a somewhat dismantled appearance, as she had been stowing away in safety her pet china, photographs and cushions.

'Look here, Bill, I want you to do something for me. And you mustn't forget; it is very important. Really important.'

'I'm your man,' was the cheerful response.

Miss Chester produced an addressed letter.

'I want you to post this for me.'

'Now?'

'Oh, dear, no; that is what you've got to remember. We go to-morrow. You don't go for a week. I want you to post it in about four days—four or five days.'

Her brother fingered the envelope gingerly, and looked at her, puzzled; she was considering.

'To-day is the 20th; post it on the 25th in Hammersmith—or Hampstead—or anywhere but this district. That leaves five days till the 31st.'

'What's the matter with the 31st, old lady?'

'They go down that day, goose.'

'They!' He caught sight of the address on the envelope, and broke into a soft whistle.

'Right-oh. Bet your money on this horse.' He took out a pocket-book, placed the letter carefully within it, and put it back in his breast pocket.

'You won't forget it, Bill,' repeated Alicia seriously. 'It is very important, without joking.'

'I believe you, Tibs. It'll be all right. I'll post it on the 25th without fail, before I go, and in a London district, but not this one.'

He put both hands in his pockets, and contemplated his sister with meaning and approval.

Alicia looked back at him and laughed.

'Bill, you're a nice boy and a comfort to your relations, as well as an ornament to the banking house of Chester and Hale.'

'Don't turn my head,' was the dry response.

'I wasn't going to; I was merely thinking of testing its powers further. Mrs. Wingate lives at Putney.'

'That's interesting.'

'Don't you think Putney would be a good place to post the letter in?'

Mr. William Otway Grane-Chester paused awhile in consideration; then he chuckled appreciatively.

'Tibs, you're an arch schemer. I'll give you a letter of recommendation to the Russian Revolutionary Committee—if they've got anything so definite.'

'I return the compliment. Considering you are a man—or will be one some day—you caught my idea quite quickly.'

'Will be one! My good girl, I'm twenty-five.'

'In October,' murmured Alicia.

'Well, it's the end of July. I'm practically twenty-five; and if a fellow isn't a man then, when is he one?'

The tone was injured.

'I can't say. Some of you never grow up at all. But you are a very well-developed infant, and the joy of your sister's declining years. Go and dress now, or you'll be late for dinner.'

So it came to pass that Alicia Chester and her father departed next day, with valets and a lady's maid, and all the paraphernalia that Mr. William Chester so much disliked and avoided when possible.

The three girls at Riverside Mansions wished her a happy time with all their hearts, and talked of her constantly the while they made what preparations were possible. Not one of them could say 'I wish' without a shriek from the others. After all, what did it matter?

'I seem to feel in my bones that it's the end of our long lane,' said Angela. 'We shall come back hale, bursting with health and energies, and find publishers sitting on the stairs waiting for Alix. Madame will give Anne a big rise, because she'll find her so full of powers; and as for me'—imagination failed.

'As for you,' continued Anne, 'you shall give lectures on muscular movements and be a strong woman, and have your picture on walls and unfinished buildings. Look here, isn't this neat? I'll make one for each of us; people have them on ships, so why not we?'

'This' was a hold-all for hanging on the wall, with little stitched pockets for holding brushes, combs, and hairpins.

'I made it out of that bit of stuff we had over from the holland blouses. What can the others be made of?'

Stops Itching Heals the Skin

And Cures Eczema, Salt Rheum, and All Skin Diseases.

These Results You Can Be Sure of When You Use

Dr. Chase's Ointment

Quick and certain are the effects of Dr. Chase's Ointment. Itching is stopped almost as soon as it is applied. The sores are cleaned out, morbid growth is arrested, and the healing process is soon set in action.

Compare these results with the tediousness and uncertainty of internal treatment for itching skin disease. By all means look after the health of the blood and the system generally, but get rid of the annoying and torturing skin ailment at once by using Dr. Chase's Ointment.

The reputation of Dr. Chase's Ointment has been made by its marvellous success in the cure of eczema and piles. But it is just as effective in the cure of old sores and wounds which have defied ordinary treatments and been given up by doctors.

Dr. Chase's Ointment is prized by mothers as a treatment for the skin troubles of babies, such as chafing, skin irritation, scald head and baby eczema. Its soothing influence stops the itching, and it prevents the development of eczema from these lesser skin troubles.

Mrs. Oscar Vancott, St. Antoine, Sask., writes that Dr. Chase's Ointment cured her boy of eczema when his head was a mass of scabs, and he suffered untold agony from the itching. Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

TEACHING SUNDAY-SCHOOLS.

Matter Used in Tuition Discussed at Convention.

San Francisco, June 27.—The use of matter not obtained from the Bible in Sunday-school educational work, which has been the occasion of much discussion, was brought to the front yesterday by the representative of the lesson committee's report at the International Sunday-school convention, which was read at yesterday's session. The report declares that 'It is in accord with the principle of making Bible material the basis of the lessons to introduce lessons of a topical nature, based on Scriptural passages, which will permit the discussion of ethical and religious problems of modern life.

'Additional lessons of this nature were issued to run parallel with the Biblical lessons, the report continued. Their reception has been cordial, but it is too early in the experiment to estimate the poignancy of the series now issued.'

KINGSTON MASONS STRIKE.

Kingston, Ont., June 27.—All the masons with the exception of those employed on the new building at Queen's University are again on strike. They were ordered out by the International Union, and are asking for a new agreement with the bosses. The old trouble as regards who shall cut stone is at the bottom of the strike. The masons went on strike on May 1, and only resumed work a few weeks ago.

LORIMER BRIBERY CASE.

Chief Witness Complains of Special Detectives.

Washington, D.C., June 27. — Shadowed for weeks by detectives instructed to get anything possible against him, was the alleged experience of which Clarence S. Funk, of Chicago, star witness in the present Lorimer investigation, complained of yesterday to the Senate Committee inquiring into the Lorimer election. The statement produced a sensation, because the name of Edward Hines, who, Mr. Funk had testified had asked him to contribute $10,000 toward '$100,000 used to put Lorimer over at Springfield,' was mentioned in connection with the services of the detectives.

Mr. Funk declared that four detectives had followed him to Washington, and two had watched him during luncheon yesterday. One of them, he said, had been compelled to give his name and that of his employer when caught in a tight place. Mr. Funk declined to break his work to the detective and reveal his name. He said the employer was not Senator Lorimer The committee ended the day's hearing by going into executive session to consider the situation. At the executive session Mr. Funk is said to have revealed the detective's name and promised to produce him before the committee to-day if possible. The committee then took up the consideration of what steps to take to prevent detectives interfering with witnesses before the committee.

I. C. R. TRAVEL GROWING.

Mr. H. A. Price, assistant general passenger agent of the Intercolonial Railway, in this city, in discussing the outlook for the passenger business of the Government system between Montreal and the Lower provinces, stated yesterday that travel had been much in excess of former years, and that although the Ocean Limited had been put on the route earlier than usual heavy trains were leaving Bonaventure Station both at 8.15 in the morning and at 7.30 in the evening. Mr. Price said that the evident idea of the Commissioners was to put on the Ocean Limited a little earlier every year, and take it off later so that in time the two trains would be run all the year round.

HONORED CENTENARIAN.

Aged Quebec Citizen Serenaded and Banqueted by Many Friends.

Quebec, June 27.—Ambroise Guay, the oldest citizen of Quebec, yesterday celebrated the one hundredth anniversary of his birth, and the event was a memorable one. Over 300 relatives and friends assembled at his residence to do him honor, and after a mass at St. Jean Baptiste Church there was a banquet. The health of the aged gentleman was proposed by Honore Guay, of Sherbrooke, and Cure Beaudoin responded for the guest of honor. The Cadet Band of St. Damase serenaded the centenarian, who was much affected by the demonstration in his honor. Mr. Guay is still in good health and spirits, but he was spirited away by his friends while the celebration was at its height in order that he should not be too much fatigued by the event.

FOR MAKING TEA AND COFFEE.

A cup of tea or coffee made on the table before one's eyes always seems to taste better than the brew which comes from the kitchen. For this reason it has become quite the fad to decorate the breakfast table with either a coffee percolator in copper or a tea set of silver or nickle. Two very attractive designs are illustrated in the accompanying picture. The housewife who values comfort as well as convenience will do well to invest in an apparatus of this kind, for the fragrant fumes of the beverage and the hum of the steaming kettle add considerable cosiness to the breakfast table.

BELTS FROM OLD GLOVES.

Exceedingly pretty crush belts are being fashioned by girls from the long tops of evening gloves which show scarcely any signs of wear when the fingers and hands are past wearing. The parts to be used are first freshly cleaned, of course. As nearly every household can furnish discarded white suede or glace gloves, it is possible to have at least one belt formed of the two arm lengths of kid sewed together just above the wrist. This seam is then concealed by a slide of mother of pearl, ivory, silver, coral or jet, matching the buckle fastening the two ends, and these slides and buckles are to easily shifted that a single set of them will serve for several belts.

The tops of a pair each of pale blue and pink evening gloves may be fashioned into one of the very broad pompadour crush belts now so popular with young girls. The lengths of pink and blue kid or silk are lapseamed and form four distinct strips, the two outer ones being bound with the constrasting color, with black or with white kid. A similar plan may be followed with respect to the magpie belts, and if either one of the black or white glove tops is lacking black or white satin may be substituted, and in case a touch of color is desired the border piping may be of cirise, old blue or empire, green satin or gold ribbon.

Mole colored long gloves may be made into a serviceable belt to accompany a plain linen frock, and one of this shade will look particularly well if the buckle and slide are of old silver set with amethyst colored stones. But long mole colored kind gloves are not so plentiful as those of keraki shade or golden grown, which are precisely the belts to go best with tan shoes and hats, as well as with frocks of natural linen.

SMALL COAT OF SILK.

The little silk coats and boleros have really started out on a career, and one whih will probably prove quite notable, for they seem to be useful little garments, especially to women with slim figures.

One model coatee is in pink corded silk, to be worn over a pink voile dress trimmed with black velvet. The bolero was bloused into a cord which marked a high waist line and had short sleeves and a turn-back collar which fastened just over the white net guimpe of the dress in front with a butterfly bow of the silk.

Another, very much after the same fashion, is in black taffeta to be worn over different dress. For lingerie dresses these boleros will be made in broderie Anglaise, lace and embroidered lawn, and they will vary in length between the very short one and a cut-away coat with a rather longer waist line. The little bolero or short-waisted skirtless coat of black taffeta will be worn with lingerie frocks as well as with colored voiles and silks.

A DAILY COOKERY RECIPE.

Chocolate Raspberry Custard. — Scal a quart of milk in a double boiler. Add four tablespoonful of grated chocolate, and stir until the chocolate is dissolved. Then let it cool a little while beating the yolks of six eggs with a cupful of sugar. Stir the milk into this mixture; add a teaspoonful of vanilla and pour in to custard cups; stand these in a pan of hot water in the oven and bake until the custard is set. When done put a few ripe raspberries on top, heap a spoonful of meringue on each custard, return them to the oven a moment to brown, and then put them near the ice to get cold.

8975—A UNIQUE IDEA IN BEACH ATTIRE.

For the woman who is averse to walking to the beach in a knee length skirt, this design will at once appeal, for she may wear this garment without any feeling of discomfort or annoyance, and enjoy the bathing with as much freedom as if she wore a scant bathing suit. The garment here shown comprises a coat or robe adjusted over bloomers that are held in place by a 'skeleton' underwaist, which may be finished with a shield front or in low neck style. On going into the water, the robe is drawn up by means of a cord or drawstring concealed under the trimming at the hips, thus transforming the garment into a short skirt and blouse, the surplus length being tucked under the cord. On leaving the water, the cord is released and the garment falls back into place as a coat or robe. The pattern is cut in 3 sizes: small, medium and large. It requires 7 1-4 yards of 44-inch material for the medium size.

CHAPTER XXIIII.—Continued.

She laughed again, and Joyce laughed too. She had already been entertained with spirited accounts of the boarding-house and 'Mrs. Haddon' incidents, provided by those excellent and irreverent young mimics Lorna and Toddles.

'But there are beautiful places in London,' she protested. 'Didn't you go to Westminster Abbey or the Tower—or—'

Good gracious, no! We hadn't time or opportunity or inclination. You've no idea how horrid it all was, dark or wet or foggy nearly every day. The shops were all right, though. We used to think those at Cape Town pretty swagger, but they're not a patch on those in Oxford Street and Regent Street. When we weren't house-hunting with Mrs. Bellingham—oh, that dreary house-hunting!—we used to spend hours looking into the shop windows. There was nothing else to do. Though, of course, we weren't long there altogether, and after we went to Charlton Road mother was so ill, and I went up to town only once or twice on business before we came down here; and Ringdon seemed like Heaven after London!'

It really was a pretty little place, though to Joyce accustomed all her life to vast spaces, everything appeared on a tiny scale, as if viewed through the wrong end of a telescope.

Only when, later, she went on a few days' visit to the Bassetts', and Lady Bassett drove her about Dartmoor, did she begin to modify her idea of England as a kind of pocket edition of a country. Here on the great gaunt moor, far-stretching, forbidding in its loneliness and sterility to many folk, who spend most of their lives in over-populated towns and cities, and whose ideal holiday resorts are Margate or Yarmouth, she felt almost as much at home as on her own native veldt; thohgh she critised gently and compassionately the isolated farmhouses and dwellings of the 'moor folk'.

'Why do English people build such ugly little houses with tiny rooms?' she asked her hostess, 'especially here where there's plenty of space. Why don't they have nice big rooms all on one floor, and a stoep on the south side? I don't believe it would cost as much to build houses such as we have at home, instead of these nasty, narrow little gray stone places, with their horrid cramped staircases, and rooms that are more like boxes than anything else. Did you notice the window in that room where we had tea, Lady Bassett? It wasn't made to open! And it isn't as if the people had their meals outside, for they don't; they live in those little airless places, and call themselves civilized! English people have funny ideas of comfort.'

Lady Basset laughed. She had taken an immense fancy to Joyce, quite irrespective of her admiration of her as a nurse and her sincere gratitude. When she first met her at Plymouth, she took her to be a woman, if not of her own age, still no longer young; and when she came to know her better and discovered that she was in reality only a girl, the piquant contrast between her appearance and her naive original views of life and things was curiously interesting and entertaining. In some ways Joyce was as old as she looked, but in others she was a very child, with a child's clear vision, a child's simplicity, and Lady Basset delighted to draw her out and hear her ideas on people, places, and things in general.

That first visit to Basset, however, was not made until the summer; although Lady Bassett had speedily fulfilled her promise of driving over to call on the Granvilles, and would gladly have taken Joyce back with her there and then, since she had already regained her strength wonderfully. But they were all busy now with preparations for Mamie's wedding, which took place on the first Tuesday in June. It was to have been a very quiet little wedding, in fact it was quiet and simple according to modern and smart ideas, but the whole village made holiday and turned up at the church; an unprecedented honor, considering that the bride was a foreigner, as, among the rustic Devonians, every one is who has not had the advantage of being born and bred in Devon.

But then the bridegrom was 'Dr. Ned,' whom they had all known and loved since he was a baby; and the village felt that it had done quite the correct thing when it was discovered that the guests of honor were Sir John and Lady Bassett, and 'Mas'r Harry, back from the war,' for whom a special cheer was raised outside.

Alec Cameron and his young wife came down from London also, and so did kind Mrs. Jameson, with whom Joyce got on famously. It was a busy, happy time, in which past sorrows were almost forgotten —almost but not quite, for two of them, at least, Mrs. Granville and Joyce herself, never forgot the husband and father whose presence alone was wanting that day.

The Welbys, Mrs. Granville's brother and his wife, were invited as a matter of courtssy, though their intercourse with their kinsfolk had been slight and formal, but they did not come.

'It would mean giving the girl a substantial present, and we can't afford to do that, George,' Mrs. Welby asserted decisively. 'After all, she's really a stranger, though she is your niece. I suppose we shall have to send her something. That cruet stand that Algie won at the sports will do nicely. It's a hideous thing.'

The cruet was duly dispatched, and George Welby secretly supplemented it by a cheque and a kindly note to his sister, expressing his deep regret that he was unable to come and 'give his niece away.'

Mrs. Granville felt sorely tempted to return the cheque, but, remembering her brother of old, she guessed rightly that he was dominated by his wife, whom she had never seen and whom she had now no wish to see.

Therefore she wrote a graceful and guarded note of thanks, which Mrs. Welby read as referring merely if the gratitude expressed was meant sarcastically. She was sure of it later when she received a marked copy of the 'Denemouth Press' containing a glowing account of the wedding, written with all the fervor of which a provincial reporter is capable, and the long lists of presents and guests, chief among them 'Sir John and Lady Bassett and Captain Bassett.'

You may be sure that Mrs. Welby lost no time in consulting a 'Baronetage' to see who these Bassetts might happen to be; and great was her consternation when she discovered that they weer county folk with a page-long pedigree.

'How in the world did they come to know such people?' she demanded in wrath and consternation. 'We ought to have gone to the wedding; you ought to have insisted on it, George! I think I will write and ask your sister to come to us for a few days. or we might go down to Denemouth for a week-end, and drive over to—what's the name of the place?— Ringdon— and see her. I'm afraid we've neglected her dreadfully.'

'I fancy you will find it somewhat late in the day to attempt to make up for that neglect,' George Welby remarked dryly. 'I wouldn't attempt it if I were you, Louisa.'

(To be Continued.)

"BED-TIME STORIES"

A TRAMP WHO WAS A HERO.

I was curled up on the walk one cold afternoon trying to catch a fragment of much needed sleep and to keep warm at the same time. That particular spot was made half-way comfortable by the piping under the pavement. You see, I was what they call a 'tramp' dog. I confess I had no home, but that was no fault of mine. I had a master once and a comfortable home and I was happy. But master was one day called away on a long journey and made provision for my lodging at a neighbor's whom I knew I fell asleep, and from/my sleep succeed in, pleasing.

In less than a week he had nailed up the door of my kennel, and shut off my source of supplies. I took the hint and deported myself, spurred on by the growing pangs of hunger.

As I lay there huddled up that cold December afternoon I wondered how long this fast was going to last. The memory of my few months of happiness when I was at home and knew how fresh meat and clean table-leavings tasted, and received encouraging words and gentle patting, —all this had faded through the loneliness and misery of trampdom.

If I could only prove my right to love, to a home, to a kind treatment and a place in some child's heart! I had made advances enough only to have my good intentions misinterpreted. I had gone so far as to one day pick up a scarf a child had let slip from her shoulders, and proceeded to restore the same, but before I could do so a half dozen pedestrians were chasing me across the street, and in the shuffle the scarf was ruined by the feet of one of my pursuers. The child burst into tears, and imprecations followed me, even far up the alley. That sort of thing had completely discouraged me and I concluded that dogs understand men a great deal better than they understand us.

I do not know how long I lay there thinking of man's inhumanity to dogs. I knew I fell asleep ,and from my sleep was sharply aroused by the sound of breaking glass. Looking around I caught sight of a man thrusting his arm through a hole in the window of the jewelry store near by. No one was passing, and it was plain the burglar was succeeding in his work. I knew the felllow fff ffl
I knew what it all meant. I leaped to my feet and as the fellow turned to run I was at his heels barking furiously. He cursed me and kicked at me, but that only made me more determined. He darted into a dark alley, I being close behind.

On through the length of the narrow way he ran. By the time he emerged into the next thoroughfare, where he hoped to have some chance of mingling in the holiday throng, he found me close upon him. My gatling-gun bark finally attracted the attention of passers-by. They surmised the situation and joined in the chase. I gave way to no one, and when at last a big policeman nabbed the fleeing man and brought him to a standstill I had him by the trousers-leg.

'It's no use, gentlemen,' he said with the short breath he had left. 'If it hadn't been for that dog and his yelp I'd have got away. He's worth more than the whole bunch of you.'

Well, there the lane turned and I came into my own. Things happened so quickly after that, I really lost track. Mr. Williams, the jeweler, actually took me, dirty as I was and steaming from exertion, and carried me into the store. There I met his wife and the sweetest litle girl I had ever seen. I was the hero of the hour.

When finally it came time to close the store, visions of dark alleys and cold retreats came back with double force after this little taste of heaven, but, to my astonishment, I was bundled up and actually carried out to the waiting automobile.

'Listen!' said the sweet little girl, laughingly shaking her finger in my inquiring face. 'Just as soon as we get home I'm going to tie a pretty pink ribbon about your neck, and you are going to be my playmate forever and forever. And how does that suit you?'

I suppose in answer I embarrassed them all for I barked all the way home, and danced about so that my mistress could hardly keep my wrap about me. My day of grace had begun.—E. Robb Zaring, in 'Our Dumb Animals.'

CANADIAN LOCOMOTIVE SUBSCRIPTION LIST.

Toronto, June 26.—The application lists for the new issue of preferred stock of the Canadian Locomotive Company, of Kingston, were opened this morning at the office of Aemilius Jarvis & Company, who report a large number of subscriptions as being received. These shares are apparently popular with the small investor, as applications for small lots of shares have been numerous, owing, no doubt, to the attractive nature of the security and the bonus of 25 per cent. in common stock. As an evidence of Canada's industrial progress the showing of the company up to the present time is a gratifying one in the extreme, and with the increased plant and equipment the earning powers of the company should be at least doubled.

GOT CORNS?

Foolish to keep them if you have. No fun in corns, is there? But plenty of pain. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor raises corns in twenty-four hours. Don't you want to get a quick crop? You can by using Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor; its name tells its story. Price 25c., all druggists.

STEAMER WOULD NOT GIVE WAY.

Kingston, Ont., June 27.—Capt. Desmore, of the schooner 'Cornelia,' has registered a complaint with the United States Consul here. He claims that the steamer 'Rochester' came near running down his schooner at 2 a.m. on Sunday, while the 'Rochester' was bound from Buffalo to Rochester. Captain Desmore said as a sailing vessel he had the right of way, but that the steamer would not give way. When it became evidently dangerous he steered the schooner right at the big steamer and this resulted in the 'Rochester' changing her course.

TO-DAY'S FIXTURES

Montreal at Jersey City.
Toronto at Baltimore.
Buffalo at Newark.
Rochester at Providence.

An interesting situation at present exists in the Eastern League, the Royals, Bisons and Skeeters being neck and neck for fourth position, with Providence and Newark likely to remain where they are for a while.

Rain prevented the Royal-Newark game yesterday, and to-day the Montreal boys will endeavor to draw the stings of the Skeeters.

Toronto are at Baltimore, and have got into the winning streak again with a vengeance, which should make some of those fair weather followers of the Leafs look pretty foolish.

Rochester's positon at the head of affairs appears unassailable, and they are playing a steady game, which strengthens it. Baltimore and Toronto are having a duel for second place in the league table, and altogether the Eastern League table is an interesting study to the ball statistical fiend, while the Royals are held up with rain.

Baltimore, Md., June 26.—Rochester won to-day's game from Baltimore by bunching their hits off Vickers, while McConnell held the Orioles safe at all stages. The game was called to allow Rochester to catch a train. Score:—

DIAMOND FLASHES

Skeeters to-day, weather permitting.

It is a great race for the fourth position, and up Toronto way they are again in the throes of ball excitement with the race for second place.

Some of those arm-chair critics of baseball club management in Toronto will look pretty sick at the excellent showing the Leafs are making, after losing a few games with the finest team in the league. They would have had Manager Kelley hung, drawn and quartered because it was their turn to lose a game or two, after having the championship almost in their grasp. 'Twas ever thus! The species exist down here, if they were allowed to let themselves go, but they are not.

The following appears a little far-fetched, and is accepted by the writer cum grano salis:—

'President Crowley, of the Providence club, is laughing over an offer he received yesterday from the Rochester club. He was called up from New York by Secretary Vanderpane, of the Hustlers, and the following conversation took place:

'Mr. Crowley, this is Secretary Vanderpane, of the Rochester club.'

'Yes.'

'We need pitchers badly and want one or two of your staff. We will pay your own price for one or two pitchers.'

'Well, which two do you want?'

'We will take Lavender and Sline, or Lavender and Bedient, and would like to have them report at once, as we are badly off for pitchers. What do you say?'

'Well, I will buy McConnell and Hughes and pay you more money than you have offered for my box men.'

'We can't part with either; they are our mainstays. It would be suicidal.'

'Well, you can't buy either of the men you mention at any price. We are trying to build up a team, not pull it down. Good-bye.'—Providence 'Journal.'

AMERICAN COLLEGE ATHLETES SAIL TO MEET THEIR BRITISH RIVALS.

Seventeen of the crack athletes of Yale and Harvard Colleges, sailed on Saturday for England on the steamship 'Vaderland,' to meet the stars of Oxford and Cambridge Universities in an international track meet which is to take place on July 11th, at the Queen's Club Grounds, London. There are nine events on the programme, and our boys are in hopes of capturing a comfortable majority of them.

Besides the athletes proper, Manager Richard C. Floyd, R. Park, Reginald C. Foster, the disabled Harvard track captain; and trainers Donovan and Mack are with the party.

Poughkeepsie, N.Y., June 27.— Fourteen picked crews, representing Cornell, Columbia, Pennsylvania, Syracuse and Wisconsin, after weeks of training for to-day's intercollegiate regatta, were early astir eagerly awaiting the crack of the starter's pistol that would send their frail shells down the Hudson river in heart-breaking contests for aquatic honors. With skies overcast and rain promised, the early weather indications were unfavorable, but the visitors who had gathered for the regatta found consolation in the fact that there was little wind, scarcely enough to cause a ripple on the river, and flags hung almost limp on the masts of the vessels at anchor along the courses.

While Cornell continued a favorite, there was no denying the possibilities of Columbia and Pennsylvania, whose backers declared that the Cornellians would have to row the race of their lives to maintain their supremacy on the river. It became known to-day that the Quakers on Saturday rowed the four-mile course in 19.02, only a few seconds slower than the course record of 18.53 1-5, made by Cornell in 1901, and this tended to boost their stock.

The four-oared 'Varsity race —the first of the day's events— was scheduled to start at 3.30 p.m.; the battle of the Freshmen eight at 4.15, and the 'Varsity race at 5.30.

Thousands of visitors poured into the city during the day by boat, train and automobile. Throngs of noisy collegians flouted the colors of their favorites — the orange and dark blue of Syracuse, the red and white of Cornell, the light blue and white of Columbia, the dark blue and red of Pennsylvania, and the cardinal of Wisconsin.

U. S. INTER-COLL. REGATTA.

Rival Oarsmen Eager for the Contests of the Morrow.

Poughkeepsie, N.Y., June 26.— The eve of the intercollegiate regatta on the Hudson found the rival oarsmen resting at their quarters along the river, but eager for to-morrow's contests. The long period of traning had been ended in the afternoon with light work-outs.

In Poughkeepsie, however, far from the resting crews, there was life enough, every train bringing its quota of enthusiastic collegians, relatives and friends, who gathered at the hotels and restaurants and eagerly discussed the chances of the various crews.

Cornell's prowess with the oar in the past naturally made the Ithacans the favorites. Columbia and Pennsylvania as the result of good form shown in practice here, are looked upon as formidable rivals of the Cornell men, and in the opinion of many will have to be reckoned with in picking the winner.

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 26.—Lou Criger, the former major league catcher, famous as the battery partner of 'Cy' Young, has signed a contract to manage the Boyne City team of the Michigan State League. He will report July 1.

At the meeting of the Board of Directors last night, Mr. D. Logan was elected chairman of the baths department.

Mr. Logan comes to a department of the institution which has bright prospects for the season, and at the present time all eyes are turned East, awaiting the exploits of George Hodgson the club crack in the Festival of Empire Sports in England.

The clamouring of the youngsters for lacrosse has beeen so loud, and apparently sincere that the officials have called an junior lacrosse practice for 5.30 to-night on the Westmount grounds. A large muster of the juniors is expected, with the present boom in Canada's national summer sport.

Quite a crowd of spectators watched the final game for the rink championship of the M. A. A. A. last night between skips Colin Lockerby and W. S. Wilson. Both rinks were level at the eighteenth end, from which point Skip Wilson gradually drew away, winning by 20 points to 16. The feature of the game was Skip Wilson's play, his draw shots being particularly strong. In addition to the principal game numerous other rinks were bowling on the green friendlies. Summary:

'CROSSE CUTS

There is no local lacrosse fixture for Saturday next, Dominion Day, in the Senior N. L. U. League schedule, so far as Montreal is concerned, two of the home teams being billed for matches away from the Metropolis on our natal holiday. These matches will have a vital bearing on the championship prospects of the various teams, as a loss to either of the two leading team—Tecumseh and Montreal, who have still a clean sheet, would be a serious handicap. Montreal plays at Toronto, Nationals go to Cornwall, while the Tecumsehs will play the Capitals in Ottawa. Shamrocks do not play again till July 8, when they meet Tecumsehs in Toronto. Of the Dominion Day matches, Montreal and Tecumseh are expected to win out, but with regard to the outcome of the National game in Cornwall there is much speculation. Cornwall at home with a greatly strengthened team will in future be a hard nut to crack even for the best teams in the league. The outcome of Saturday's matches will be waited with keen interest.

The make-up of the Montreal team at the first practice of the week last night made it look as if Thompson, one of this year's recruits, would be used on the defence against Toronto in Toronto on Saturday. With a full turnout of all the regulars, from Johnny Brennan in the poles to Frankie Hogan at inside home, Thompson was worked in on the defence at the cover-point position, Neville, Kenna and Hamilton each moving out a position. Thompson is big and strong and has the ear marks of a good player. Whether his lack of experience will count against him when it comes to the final selection of the team is the point that the executive will have to settle. The workout was a lively one for both the home and the defence. Coach Dade kept the defence men working out with the ball after every attack and both ends of the team put in a hard hour's work.

Ottawa, June 26.—The jinx, which has been following the Capital Lacrosse club all season, again made its appearance to-night, when Billy Fagan stopped one of Leo Beauchamp's shots with his right eye. Fagan fell in a heap and required medical assistance, so painful was the injury. The optic swelled greatly, and besides nasty gashes were opened above and below it.

Doctors say that Fagan had a narrow escape from losing the sight of the eye. As it is, there is still danger of serious injury.

Clint Benedict, who promised Coach Smith Saturday that he would turn out to-night, appeared at Mr. Payne's office in the afternoon and asked to be relieved of his promise. He said that the New Edinburgh's have guaranteed to have him reinstated for the Inter-Provincial Amateur Hockey Union.

Owner Bilsky is now negotiating for another outsider, who will probably fill the nets in Saturday's match against the Tecumsehs.

AUTO. RACE REVIVAL.

Boulogne Sur Mer, France, June 25.—There was a revival of the grand prix automobile race here to-day, but under new and improved conditions, and it proved a complete success. Only one machine was capsized, but no one was injured.

The Grand Prix was abandoned last year owing to lack of entries. The conditions under which the previous races were run permitted the use of machines which were shells with enormous engines, quite unfitted for ordinary use. The conditions governing the race to-day provided that the machines must be of a minimum weight of 1,760 pounds, of moderate engine power and carrying the usual equipment of a touring car.

Thirty-one cars started to-day, the drivers representing France, England, the United States, Belgium, Germany, and Italy. The Frenchman Bablot won the event, covering 388 miles in seven hours and two minutes. The American driver Richard finished seventh in seven hours 39 minutes.

The record for the Grand Prix is 477 miles in six hours 46 minutes, made by Nazzaro, the Italian driver, in 1907.

ALBANIA WAS QUARANTINED.

The 'Albania,' of the Cunard line, which reached Montreal yesterday, brought 35 cabin and 376 third-class passengers. She was held up in quarantine at Grosse Isle owing to suspected cases of measles and scarlatina, and thirteen passengers were landed.

CRICKET NEWS

Lachine batted first and ran up a total of 80, out of which Siddle got 31 before he was run out. To some extent he was lucky, being missed several times, but for all that, he batted well. Watson, with 10, was the only other batsman to reach double figures. C. P. R. started badly and never recovered. Moore's bowling being evidently too good for them. Not one member of the side reached double figures though Stanley came within two of the coveted number. In all Moore took 6 wickets for 18 runs, a distinctly good performance. Score:

PT. ST. CHARLES VS. VERDUN II.

The Points batted first, but did little in the way of getting runs until Preston and Durrant got together. These two fairly collared the bowling opposed to them and, with Blair carrying on the good work, the total was carried to 69 before the whole side were dismissed. Hargraves was the most successful bowler, his five wickets costing him in the neighborhood of five runs apiece. Verdun, in spite of the fact that they lost their first wicket immediately, did not begin badly, Gibson and Taylor making a prolonged stand. Each of them annexed 10 runs, but after their departure, a rot set in, and although Houldsworth at the end infused life into the game, his efforts came too late and the whole side were out for 44. ABBIE JOHNSON WOULD GO.

Is Not Allowed a Free Hand in Club's Management.

Guelph, Ont., June 26.—Abbie Johnson, manager of the Guelph Maple Leafs, to-day mailed a letter to Secretary Dalmage, of the Guelph Baseball Club, requesting his release as manager and player. The reason assigned by Johnson is that interference of the directors in the management of the team. He claims he has not signed or released a man since the opening of the season. He has also been obliged to take instructions from the directors as to who should pitch each game, and also as to the arrangement of the batting order. Johnson says he has been manager in name only.

'VARSITY CRICKET.

Pennsylvania and Toronto Play Drawn Game.

Toronto, June 26.—The University of Pennsylvania played a draw game here to-day with the University of Toronto. The game did not start till late in the afternoon because of the rain. The visitors made 140 runs in their innings, and Toronto made 72 for 9 wickets. Hunter's 39 runs for the visitors and Beatty's 21 for 'Varsity were the chief scores. Pennsylvania plays the Toronto Cricket Club to-morrow.

"SLEEPLESSNESS."

Thousands of people all over this land toss night after night on a sleepless pillow. The eyes do not close in the refreshing slumber that comes to those whose heart and nerves are right.

Some are troubled with weak and smothering spells; others palpitation of the heart; others have their nerves unhinged; but whatever the cause—it comes entirely from a derangement of either the heart or nerves, or both. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills offer the blessing of sound, refreshing slumber. They do this by their invigorating effect on the heart and nerves and will tone up the whole system to perfect condition.

Mr. H. Jewel, Keswick, Ont., writes: "I am glad to have the pleasure of telling you what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills did for me. I would have weak spells, seemed to lose my breath, and would have to get up in the night as I could not sleep. I tried many medicines but found nothing good until I used Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I took three boxes and it is three years ago since I did so, and I haven't been troubled since."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

THE PLAZA

The New North End Subdivision

The Talk of the Town!

WHY?

Because, in the first place, I had the bargain for the public. Because it was something brand new in the shape of a proposition, and because I was not backward in letting the public know about it through the press. Finally, the public realized that it was a good proposition; they bought these PLAZA lots freely at the price and told their friends about it. And now nearly the whole city knows that PLAZA lots are the best buy on account of the prospects and the price.

Some people ask me when will the street cars run through the property, as if they thought it was impossible for cars to run there and the lots be sold so cheap. When I tell them the cars already run through the property, they are much surprised and at once come to the conclusion that the best thing to do is to secure some of these PLAZA lots at once, as the Street Railway would not run their line through a district that had not some very attractive features in the way of business.

There is no doubt at all these PLAZA lots are selling faster than any subdivision has sold heretofore, and if you would secure some good ones, you must act at once. As one man said to me: "Secure some of the plums in the "PLAZA," and then immediately put his name down for ten. He realized that lots on the Boulevard ninety-five feet wide, with restrictions, was a really good thing to get his friends in on, and he will be doing them a good turn.

Don't hesitate, the man who hesitates these days is lost. The times are so progressive that you cannot afford to think too long about it, or surely the other fellows will gain the advantage.

But, I hear someone saying, "Oh, what a lot of hot air." Allright take the trouble to examine the situation for yourself; make a comparison of prices; try every place else first, and if you can get anything else that will compare favorably at the price, secure it quickly, and then say what you like about me. It is always well to carefully investigate all the good offers before deciding, as I often find people who have bought before seeing my ads., are sorry they did not wait and buy in the PLAZA. Don't forget, lots at 2 cents a foot, with a street railway line operating through the property, and three park allowances are not picked up every day.

TO REACH THE PLAZA take an Amherst car north on Amherst St. to Laurier Ave., where my autos will meet you and take you for a pleasant ride. If you prefer, board a St. Denis car and transfer on a Back River car which lands you right on the PLAZA property. But it is a good idea to communicate with my head office at 517 St. Catherine St. W., 4 doors west of Peel St. Phones Up. 2990 and 1728 to obtain full information.

RACE FOR MONEY CAUSE OF NEGLECT OF CITIES, SAYS TOWN PLANNING EXPERT

Westmount Congratulated by Mr. H. B. Dunnington Grubb, B.S.A. on Progress in City Beautification.

Mr. H. B. Dunnington Grubb, B.S.A., of London, gave an address in the Westmount City Hall last night on city planning and beautification.

Ten years ago town planning meant nothing to the average citizen, he said. But within that time there had been a revival of the art. The awakening was due to the realization of municipal governments that unless their cities were properly arraigned life within them would not be nearly as pleasant as it should.

Town planning had been forced upon the world. It was found to be absolutely necessary for the welfare of the citizens. If the mass of population, which was to produce the population of to-morrow, was crowded into unsanitary, unhealthy tenements, where they lived under such conditions as to become degenerates, civilization was a failure. The influx of healthy persons from the country into the city might lessen the apparent effect of living under such conditions, but it was then nevertheless.

Mr. Grubb went on to show that it was the tendency in England for each man to own a house and a bit of land. But in cities on this continent it was customary for a great many people to live in flats and tenements.

Though many cities had made immense grants for the building of wide boulevards and embellishing in other ways, that was useless if the masses continued to live under unhealthy conditions. Modern town planning could be described as controlling individual enterprise so as to secure the greatest health, happiness and prosperity for the community. The chief point in dispute was the degree of that control.

As for the traffic problems of a city, Mr. Grubb declared himself against elevated railways. Cities could not afford to block any light or air out of the streets, he said. He was in favor of underground passageways.

To the race for money on this continent did Mr. Grubb ascribe the lack of efforts to make the cities beautiful. The citizens did not take a hand in the improving of their part of the town. The individual man did not feel responsible.

As for the gridiron or block system of laying out the ground plan of a city, Mr. Grubb said that though it had been almost universally adopted in America, there were many objections to it. There was a great waste of time when one wanted to travel in a diagonal direction there was often no regard for the topography, and the unending similarity of the streets was not beautiful—with one centre and the streets radiating from that, broken up by boulevards ringing the centre at different points one had the ideal ground plan of a city. Paris was built that way. Each time the wall had to be taken down and a new one built further out, the old wall had been made into a boulevard.

At times it had been found necessary, in order to handle traffic, to cut diagonal streets in cities built on the block plan. That had been the experience in New York, and such a procedure entailed a great waste of valuable land.

Mr. Grubb congratulated Westmount on the progress of city beautifications as seen in clean, well-paved streets, pretty gardens and tranquility everywhere, and including Montreal and Westmount in one city, he expressed the opinion that there appeared nothing to prevent this city becoming one of the great powers of the world and a commercial centre of great importance. He was glad to learn of the work of the City Improvement League, and hoped that their plans would be heroic in conception and far-sighted in scope.

Ald. Grafftey spoke of the apartment house problem as one that troubled Westmount and explained, that, in face of the existing by-law, the council felt bound to maintain their attitude against such erections, although this had entailed refusing a permit recently for a structure of magnificent design. With regard to amalgamation of the two cities, he recognized that this was a possibility or even probability, but stated that for the time being the citizens were inclined to believe the City Council should complete its work according to the policy outlined before becoming a city suburb.

Ald. Sherrard moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Grubb, which was seconded by Mr. Maclennan.

Mr. W. D. Lighthall, K.C., also spoke.

ROOT AMENDMENT TO RECIPROCITY BILL IS UNANIMOUSLY REJECTED

United States Senate Overcomes Chief Obstacle to Agreement

TIME FOR VOTE.

Attempt to Fix Date For Definite Action — Bill Gaining Strength.

Washington, D. C., June 27.—The Canadian reciprocity bill emerged from its first ordeal in the Senate last night unscathed. The Root amendment, proposing a modification of the wood pulp and print paper section of the agreement, was defeated after seven hours of debate, by an overwhelming vote. The friends of the amendment were so satisfied of its defeat that a roll call on the vote was not demanded.

This leaves the reciprocity measure open to the general fight that is to follow for amendment of important provisions of the Payne tariff law.

Senator La Follette announced in a speech opposing the Root amendment, that he would give to the Senate a chance to pass on general tariff amendments for free paper, free lumber and lumber products, and for reductions in many other schedules. Senator Clapp also announced his intention of offering a free paper amendment later, and other senators gave evidence of their purpose to force, from now on, consideration of tariff revision on the widest plane.

Attack on the Root amendment was interspersed with attack on the whole reciprocity measure in the debate that ran throughout the afternoon, and which resulted in the defeat of Senator Root's proposal to change the House bill by requiring that all Canadian provinces should remove their export restrictions on pulp wood and its products before the reciprocal features applied to the wood pulp and print paper items of the agreement.

'I am opposed to this so-called reciprocity legislation as a whole because I believe it is wrong, harmful and unjustifiable,' said Senator La Follette. 'If it must pass I want to see it made as nearly perfect as possible. I shall vote against the Root amendment because I believe it will defeat the very purpose of the wood pulp and print paper paragraph of the agreement.'

Senator La Follette criticised the wood no justification for any duty on print paper. He analyzed the figures of the tariff board to show that the best mills in the United States actually produced paper cheaper than the best mills of Canada. To continue a high tariff on paper, he said, was to put a premium on 'inefficiency and sloth,' and to make the protective tariff 'deaden all constructive force for the development of efficient management.'

Senator La Follette criticized the newspapers for having urged the reciprocity measure as a means of getting relief from the oppressive charges of the print paper manufacturers. He said they had joined with the 'packers,' the railroads, the flour millers,' and others who would secure advantages through the passage of the reciprocity bill.'

Senator La Follette declared that in the testimony taken by the finance committee it would be shown that the newspapers had suppressed the news of the reciprocity proceedings; but on this point Senator Stone, who also is a member of the Finance Committee, declared the Wisconsin senator was mistaken.

'That is the blackest page in the newspaper history of the United States,' said Senator La Follette. 'I regret that the fact must become part of the history of that legislation. But it is a stubborn fact. There is no one who followed the hearings before the Finance Committee but knows that those who favored the Canadian agreement were given great space, but when the agricultural interests came before the committee, making a great showing of the injury they would suffer, a showing which I consider the most important made before the committee, the news filled but meagre space in the great newspapers of the country.'

A persistent and perhaps day by day effort, beginning to-day, to advance the Canadian reciprocity bill in the Senate by getting unanimous consent to fix a definite time for a vote on it, and, on separate dates, on the House wool and free list bills as well, will be made by Chairman Penrose of the Senate Finance Committee. He does not count upon immediate success for his efforts, however.

During to-day there was a general tightening up of the lines in favor of the reciprocity bill. The friends of the measure on the Democratic side continued the canvass of the situation, and, when the Senate adjourned, declared that no future amendment would receive more than five Democratic votes. The Democratic senators classed against the bill and favorable to amendments are Bailey, Simmons, Clarke (of Arkansas), Thornton and Foster, and some of these are ranked as doubtful.

Tenders For Western Mountain Section Awarded.

Toronto, June 27.—The tenders for the heavy mountain section of the British Columbia end of the Canadian Northern Railway have been awarded, and the contracts will be signed this week, according to Mr. D. B. Hanna, vice-president of the railroad. There are 160 miles in this section in the canons of the Fraser and Southern Thompson Rivers.

The contract from Port Mann, on the Pacific coast, to Hope, B.C., eighty miles, is under construction. The new contracts cover the construction of the gap between Hope and Kamloops. This section must be completed in two years. No tenders have yet been called for the construction of the section between the Yellowhead Pass and Kamloops, a distance of 250 miles.

SEPARATION LAW.

Portuguese Measure Open to Discussion, But Will be Applied Vigorously.

Lisbon, June 27.—In the Constituent Assembly yesterday, Foreign Minister Senor Machado, replying to Dr. Abreu, who submitted an interpellation to the Government on the statements of the Minister of Justice to the effect that the Separation bill was closed and that modifications of the measure were inadmissible, declared that on the contrary it was open to the fullest discussion. This applied, of course, only to those sections of the bill which did not involve inviolate principles, such as the supremacy of the civil power and the freedom of conscience. At the same time he said the suspension of the law would degrade the Republican party, and it would be applied rigorously.

SWEEPING AMENDMENT.

Lord Lansdowne Proposes Many Changes in Veto Bill.

London, June 27.—The great struggle in the House of Lords over the Veto Bill is scheduled to begin on Wednesday next. Lord Lansdowne has given notice that he will introduce an amendment of the most sweeping character. It is designed to exclude from the operation of the bill, should it become law, any measure affecting the prerogatives of the Crown, the right of succession to the Throne, the establishment in any part of the United Kingdom of a separate legislature, and provides that on all issues of great gravity, where the sentiment of the country has not been sufficiently ascertained, a measure pertaining to such issue must be submtited to a referendum vote.

TRAIN WRECKED.

Engine and Tender Rolls Down Embankment at Paris, Ont.

Paris, Ont., June 27.—The 4.10 p.m. accommodation train on the Grand Trunk Railway was wrecked two miles northeast of Paris yesterday afternoon. The two coaches, engine and tender left the tracks on a 40-foot embankment. The engine and tender went almost to the bottom, but the coaches stayed on the edge of the embankment. Fireman Pursell, of Stewart street, Hamilton, was badly cut about the chest and head, and his back and limbs were fearfully scalded. His case is critical. The passengers were not hurt. The engineer had a slight cut on the hand.

KING EDWARD PARK.

Two Steamers to be Added and All Structures Inspected.

Two steamers will be added to the service to King Edward Park on rush days in the future, in order to prevent overcrowding at the wharves.

Many claims have been made on the company for damages to clothing, etc. A number were settled yesterday by Mr. Gravel.

Mr. J. J. R. Laurendeau, president of the company, said yesterday that Mr. Louis Gagnon, provincial government inspector, had been asked to inspect all of the structures of the work.

ROOM FOR TEN POLICE.

But Chief Campeau Has Had No Applications.

Through being able to save some departmental money since the beginning of the year, Chief Campeau will be in a position to increase his force by ten men until the end of December, but for the first time in many years, there have been no applications for the various vacancies existing on the Police Force.

CONTROLLERS SUPPORTED

St. Jean Baptiste Club of Workingmen Endorse Mr. Ainey

HEAR ALDERMEN AGAINST.

Condemn Members of Council Who Prevent Public Works Going Through.

'That this St. Jean Baptiste Club of workingmen reiterate their confidence in Controller Ainey and condemn energetically the aldermen who please themselves in trying to diminish his reputation among the workingmen of this club.'

With the above resolution did about one hundred workingmen of the St. Jean Baptiste Club, 775 Sanguinet street, express their opinion last night of the merits of the controversy between the Controllers and aldermen as to which is responsible for delaying the works, and so causing a lack of work in the city. Ald. Leclaire and Lamoureux spoke for the aldermen and Controller Joseph Ainey for himself and his colleagues. The latter accused Ald. Lapointe, Lariviere and Lamoureux as being chiefly responsible for carrying on a system of wilful obstruction.

Ald. Leclaire argued that the Council had done everything possible to aid the Controllers. He thought there was too much work for four controllers, and that this was the reason that the work was delayed. They needed time to study the reports, but now they are given forty reports to pass in two hours, and in self-defence had to call 'next meeting.' If the reports had been passed without the proper consideration, a brief of injunction would have stopped the work in any case.

Ald. Lamoureux made a fighting speech to the same end, except that he said the Controllers accomplished nothing.

Controller Ainey carefully reviewed the actions of Controllers and Aldermen on the reports during the spring, and said that 'it paid no longer to be an alderman since the committee system had been abolished.' On Ald. Lamoureux denouncing him for this statement, Mr. Ainey said he used it in a popular sense.

The meeting closed at midnight. Mr. Brunet, who move the above resolution, said that the workingmen were not to be hoodwinked. They had abused and denounced Mr. Ainey, but they could see how matters stood.

PRIEST'S OUTBURST

Assails the Irish and Makes Veiled Attack on Premier

Under the heading of 'A Burning Speech,' the 'Pays' of yesterday publishes the following from its correspondent:—

Ste Therese de Blenville, June 23.—The college convention which has just ended was marked with an incident that I am sure will interest the readers of the 'Pays.' The Rev. Father Lord, a former pupil, has pronounced a burning speech regarding the French language, parts of which will constitute an energetic arraignment of the Irish episcopate and other parts a veiled attack upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Following are some of the arrows which the eloquent Jesuit let fly at Bishop Fallon.

'You Francophobes may throw opaque bodies between us and the sun of truth and of justice, but do you think that you could cause an eternal eclipse? The word of truth will have to come out.

'You may slander us and you may falsify our history, but do you think that you can saxonize the church and take away from her the international character it received from its Divine Founder?

'You may perhaps succeed in taking away from the Canadiens (French-Canadians) the schools, the convents, the churches they have built by the sweat of their brow, but take the French language away from the schools, from our temples, from our homes; take it away from five millions of Catholics, who by the unceasing tide of their vitality are sweeping you away, are choking you, are flooding you, never, never!'

Carried away himself by his emotion, Father Lord, alluding to the school question of the western provinces, rapped those whom he calls political clowns.

Liberals, headed by Senator L. O. David, who were in the audience, thought that Sir Wilfrid Laurier was directly aimed at by these veiled attacks, and resented the injustice that they implied; there were even signs that part of those present would retire as a sign of protest.

The director of the college was made aware of what had taken place, and at the next meeting he made a discreet eulogy of the Canadian Premier, interrupted by the cheers of the majority of those present. This ended the incident.

OKA VILLAGE SCHOOL.

The Oka Village School (Indian Mission) closed on the 21st, after a very successful year's work. The progress made by the pupils has been most satisfactory. The June examinations were finished on the 16th. The following is a list of those who received prizes:—
