World News In Brief

By The Canadian Press
Traffic accidents cost the lives of 10 persons in eastern Canada during the week-end. In addition two died in fires, three were drowned, a Nova Scotia couple was fatally shot, one man died after a fight and another person died in a home accident.
Eight persons were killed in Ontario six in Nova Scotia and five in Quebec.
In Quebec province, Joseph Livingstone, 43, was killed at Montreal by his own truck when he was caught under the wheels as it rolled down a hill. Also in Montreal, Mrs. Albert Boileau, 42, died in an apartment house fire.
John Anderson, 62, was killed when an auto struck the sleigh he was driving in Montreal. Benoit Servais, 10, was sliding at nearby Albani when he was run over by a car. James Crete, 70, of Ormstown, Que., was killed by an auto.

London, Feb. 4.—(P)—Vincennes, Mass. will sail for Canada next Saturday to take up his appointment as Governor-General of Canada, a Canada House spokesman said today.
Massey will travel on the liner Scythia to Halifax. He will then fly to his home near Port Hope, Ont., prior to taking up residence in Ottawa.
Massey, Chancellor of the University of Toronto, was named recently to replace Viscount Alexander as Governor-General. Alexander, who has been conferred an Earl-dom, will become Britain's defence minister.

Port Stanley, Falkland Islands, Feb. 4.—(Reuters)—Sir Miles Cliford, governor-general of the Falkland Islands, was due at Hope Bay, Antarctica, today to investigate the Anglo-Argentine shooting incident.

A British party was attempting to land supplies at Hope Bay last Friday when an Argentine group fired over the British heads, forcing them to return to their ship, the John Biscoe.

Hope Bay is at the northern tip of Graham Land, part of the Falkland Islands dependencies which have long been disputed between Britain and Argentina.

The British landing party intended to re-establish a survey base destroyed by fire about three years ago.

Omaha, Neb., Feb. 4.—(P)—Five persons died and 12 were injured—one seriously—in a fire that routed 40 persons from the Liberty apartments near downtown Omaha last night.

One body was tentatively identified as that of J. Lesovich. Identification of the other bodies was not immediately possible.

Freighter Wrecked, Crew Reaches Carolina Shore

Morehead City, N.C., Feb. 4.—(P)—The 26 crew members of the Pan-American freighter Miget leaped safely ashore before dawn today as hurricane-whipped winds broke their 2,600-ton ship in two.

A Coast Guard rocket fired by a beach party searching the shoreline of Portsmouth island, drew an answering blinker light from the stranded freighter; about 2 A.M. that exchange of messages above the Atlantic's roar was sufficient to give the Miget's crew their bearings. All came over the small freighter's side and walked in.

The captain and his 25 men, worn by the all-night battle were taken to an abandoned Coast Guard station on the barren island. All were soaked and sleepy.

Water reached the freighter's fuel supplies yesterday. Soon all power failed. The Miget was helpless in one of the worst winter southcoasters in years along this coast.

In the night the Miget and a Coast Guard PBY plane exchanged flare signals. But Coast Guard boats attempting to reach the freighter were turned back by heavy seas.

The diesel propelled Miget went ashore 20 miles southwest of Cape Hatteras. The Coast Guard this morning dispatched boats to Portsmouth island to transfer the crew across Ocracoke inlet to Ocracoke island.

A howling storm moving up from the south helped this famed graveyard of ships claim its latest victim. The Miget, bound from Baltimore to Morehead city, bucked the storm and found herself in trouble. The Miget called for help, saying she was losing headway and taking water in her fuel.

The Coast Guard reported the vessel aground on a sand bar about three-quarters of a mile off Portsmouth island, the southernmost in a string of barren reefs forming this section of the outer banks.

At Winds of near-hurricane force (75 miles an hour) whipped the waters off Hatteras throughout the night. The western flank of the storm brushed the outer banks

Truce Negotiators Near Agreement On Prisoners Of War Exchange Plan

Proposed Service Pay Split Fought

By DOUGLAS HOW
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Ottawa, Feb. 4.—(P)—There's a minor mutiny going on in Canada's armed forces—an argument over the rights of man that has gone straight up to the desk of Defence Minister Claxton.

The upshot may be cancellation of plans to split the married servicemen's cheque in two, one cheque for himself, one for his wife. The army, at least, has recommended that Mr. Claxton cancel them. The air force is boiling, too.

Barrack-room lawyers right up to the top ranks have blossomed forth with a magnificent array of arguments why this proposed assignment is an indignity, an imposition, an error, and even an invitation to irresponsible women to try to get hitched to unsuspecting young men in uniform.

As some stories go, there are many wives who don't like the new system.

It will interfere with family budgeting, servicemen say.

It will cause more trouble from wives throwing money around than the troubles the forces now get from soldiers not supporting their wives—the main reason given for the change.

It will reduce—so the stories go—some men to the indignity of pleading with their wives for cash because out of their own portion must come pension, income tax and other forced deductions.

The arguments are endless. They are believed to have been amassed in one eloquent and moving document for presentation to Mr. Claxton with the army's blessings.

The air force is seething with indignation too. The navy isn't so much affected because it has had a modified assignment plan in effect for some time and is, in fact, suspected of being the original force for change in this drama.

Married troops overseas make automatic assignments, too, now.

The new assignments would vary according to rank and there are four different categories for each rank. A sergeant living in an apartment or house and having children would find $141 of his $231 a month going to the wife.

If they have no children the little woman would get $126. If they're living in married quarters provided by the service, the wife would get $108.

Full Dress Session Planned To Start Work On Final Section Of Armistice.

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN
Munsan, Korea, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The United Nations and communists today moved nearer agreement on plans for exchanging war prisoners as truce negotiators scheduled a full-dress session Wednesday to start work on the final section of a Korean armistice.

"I think we can get together and write the rest of the agreement" on prisoner exchange, said Rear-Admiral R. E. Libby. "For the first time, I think we are in a position to settle the nuts and bolts of the situation."

Staff officers drafting truce supervision plans made no measurable headway. They still must iron out differences over troop rotation, neutral inspection and definitions of coastal waters. U.N. spokesmen have described the differences as minor. The staff officers are not debating the key truce supervision issues—whether the Reds have the right to build and repair North Korean military airfields.

The full, five-man armistice delegations will meet in Pannunjom at 10 a.m. Wednesday (8 p.m. EST Tuesday) to open negotiations on agenda five—recommendations to governments.

It will be the first plenary session since last Dec. 4.

Vice-Admiral C. Turner Joy proposed Jan. 31 that negotiations on three sections of the truce be conducted simultaneously to speed agreement on an armistice.

In accepting his suggestion, the Reds agreed to provide a detailed working draft. They are expected to propose withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea—a pet communist project—and a high-level political conference to settle the whole Korean question.

U.N. headquarters in Tokyo said no recommendations will be made to governments involved in the Korean war unless the truce negotiators agree on what to recommend.

The disclosure killed off speculation that two separate sets of recommendations would be made. Staff officers working on truce supervision and the prisoner-exchange sub-committee will meet as usual at 11 a.m. Tuesday (9 p.m. EST Monday).

Libby Monday gave reporters the most optimistic report of the prisoner exchange sub-committee's 53 meetings.

"We may be ready to go to the staff officer level in a day or two. I may be completely wrong, but I think we are beginning to make progress," he said.

At the same time, Libby emphasized that negotiators still are "180 degrees apart" on the major issues—voluntary repatriation and safeguards to insure return of displaced civilians.

Seoul, Korea, Feb. 4.—(P)—The newly arrived 40th division—California's old National Guard outfit—today was identified in action on the central Korean front east of Kumsong.

The United States Eighth Army reported that the 40th tangled with the Chinese communists Sunday in a bitter, hour-long patrol action. It had been announced earlier that the division has been in Korea for about two weeks.

It was the day's biggest patrol clash on the snow-covered front. The mercury skidded to 15 degrees below zero and allied infantrymen elsewhere huddled in their bunkers.

The bitter cold and strong winds limited today's ground action and air strikes. However, a flight of 19 Sabre jets spotted

Murderess Makes Fifth Escape

Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 4.—(P)—The search for Winnie Ruth Judd, red-haired trunk murderess of 21 years ago, today spread throughout Arizona with police admitting they were baffled by her fifth disappearance.

"We have no clues," Sheriff L. C. Boies said.

Winnie Ruth, 48, dubbed the "tiger woman" after she killed two women and dismembered their bodies in 1931, has eluded capture since escaping from the state hospital for the insane Saturday night.

She opened a third-storey window, slid down a 48-foot rope improvised from restraining straps, and disappeared in the night. Police are still checking reports she fled in a dark-colored sedan waiting outside the nine-foot barred wire hospital fence.

Theories of her whereabouts varied widely.

Winnie Ruth, an attractive nurse before the twin killing, was convicted of shooting Agnes Ann Le Roi and Hedvig Samuelson Oct. 16, 1931. Their dismembered bodies were shipped to Los Angeles in a trunk and suitcase.

Mrs. Judd was caught and sentenced to be hanged. She was declared insane in 1933 only 72 hours before the time of execution.

Two-Year-Old Murder Case Is Reopened

Welland, Ont., Feb. 4.—(P)—A two-year-old murder case with "fantastic" implications has been reopened with the laying of a murder charge against 34-year-old Lloyd Frank Cross, former Welland resident.

Police said Sunday that Cross was charged with the bludgeoning of Sam Delibasic, whose frozen body was found by rabbit hunters in a field three miles north of Welland Dec. 17th, 1949.

The 47-year-old Welland taxi-driver, whose death started a flood of rumors about a feud in his native Yugoslavia which killed his brother, had been missing a week before being found.

Before reaching half across the continent to nail Cross in Brockville, N.B., police sifted through a web of such reports. Their findings were not disclosed, but Inspector Len Neil, who helped bring him back, said Sunday it "shapes up as being a fantastic case."

He added that another arrest will be made in a few days and that this man also will be charged with murder.

Rumors of a Yugoslavian vendetta were tangled with reports that Delibasic was accustomed to carry a large sum in his wallet. The wallet was missing when his body was found but a number of bills and some change were in his pockets.

At the time Yugoslav-Canadians here shook their heads over the robbery theory and read a sinister motive into the slaying. Delibasic was said to have dabbled in international politics. His brother was an ex-Chetnik who fought Marshal Tito's communist partisans in the old country during the war.

Delibasic came to Canada in 1928 and lived in Kirkland Lake, Ont., until 1942. Friends didn't worry about his disappearance for a few days because they believed he was making one of his periodic visits to Timmins, where he once worked.

Manila, Feb. 4.—(P)—A police report today said Mangyan tribesmen wielding spears and arrows killed 16 Japanese soldiers in the second world war on a small island southwest of Manila.

The Mangyans ambushed the Japanese when they returned from foraging for food.

The Japanese fought futilely with bayonets and swords. Their ammunition was corroded and useless.

Nationalists Omitted From Egyptian National Front

Cairo, Feb. 4.—(Reuters)—The extreme nationalist Moslem Brotherhood has not been asked to join Prime Minister Aly Maher's national front, it was reported today.

Hassan El Hodeiby Bey, supreme guide of the brotherhood, said he talked with the Premier last night, but that his organization was not asked to join the new front, aimed at unifying the various political parties behind Maher's handling of the Anglo-Egyptian crisis.

Reports today said the Prime Minister was having difficulty with the parties participating.

Meanwhile, the Egyptian newspaper Al-Ahram said today that British efforts to settle the stormy dispute are "taking a new direction conforming to the Egyptian viewpoint."

At newspapers here quote the Prime Minister as saying reports that Britain and Egypt have resumed negotiations are "pre-mature."

Al-Ahram said that Maher has

Sixth General Assembly Tightened U.N.'s Program Against Aggression

Withdrawal Of Troops Is Vital Issue

By ROBERT EUNSON
Tokyo, Feb. 4.—(P)—Communist and United Nations armistice delegates are about to lock horns on a new issue—the withdrawal of foreign troops from Korea.

This big stumbling block was sidestepped by U.N. negotiators when the talks started nearly seven months ago. But it will be the next major issue to boil up at Pannunjom.

So far the negotiators have agreed on two agenda items—the subjects to be covered in the discussion of an armistice and where the fighting stops.

The down-to-business manner in which staff officers are working over the draft for agenda item three—policing the truce—has sounded a note of optimism throughout the U.N. command.

Sub-delegates still are locked over item four—exchange of prisoners—but there is hope there, too. The communists made a slight concession yesterday in agreeing that once a prisoner is exchanged he should be under parole never to fight again.

Discussions of enforcement of the armistice and prisoner exchange now are going on.

The curtain is going up Wednesday in a new tent, but when the delegates meet to discuss item five—recommendations to the interested foreign powers—it won't be a sideshow.

The stars of the talks—Rear-Admiral C. Turner Joy and North Korean Gen. Nam Il—are going to open the show when the two full delegations meet. They are expected to bow out for sub-delegates.

When the talks began last July the communists stated their idea of an agenda. That was:

1. Stop fighting on the 38th parallel.

2. Withdraw all foreign troops from Korea.

Joy claimed that this was not an objective way to approach an armistice.

The job of drawing a cease-fire line was included and Nov. 27 it was drawn, mostly north of the parallel.

Joy ducked the Red demand for withdrawal of foreign troops by adding the fifth item to the agenda. It reads:

"Recommendations to the governments of the countries concerned on both sides."

This Chinese complaint was overshadowed by Russian charges that the U.S. was preparing aggression in southeast Asia and assisting "Kuomintang" (nationalist) troops in Burma. The U.S. denied these charges and, jointly with France and Britain, served notice on Russia that any communist aggression in southeast Asia would be put before the U.N. for urgent consideration.

The surge of nationalism in the Middle East was reflected in the Assembly's work by the swing of many Arab countries to a neutral position on many east-west problems where previously they were solidly behind the west.

Middle-east programs are expected to hit the Assembly with full force at the next session in the fall. Arab efforts to bring them up at the sixth session largely were shunted aside.

Hopes for a move towards an east-west agreement on many issues was hit by Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky of Russia who said on his departure that the Assembly produced only measures for aggressive war on the Soviet Union.

Royal Couple Holiday At Africa Lodge

Nyeri, Kenya, Feb. 4.—(Reuters)—Prince Philip, astride a borrowed pony, will play in a polo match at the local club this afternoon.

Princess Elizabeth will drive to the Nyeri polo club with him to watch the match.

The Royal pair, making a four-month round-the-world Commonwealth tour, are stopping over here at their hunting lodge.

This morning they explored the 10-acre estate which surrounds their lodge, given to them by the colony as a wedding present.

Almost from their doorstep they could view the highest peak in the colony, 17,000-foot Mount Kenya. Then they wandered along the Sagana river, which winds through their preserve and is stocked with brook trout for the Royal table.

The Prince and Princess will leave the lodge tomorrow to spend the night in the treetops—"Treetops" log hotel, built 35 feet up in the main fork of a giant tree.

"Treetops" started 20 years ago as a single board nailed across the branches; now cocktails and dinner are served while the guests watch rhinoceros fighting in the moonlight below.

As the more interesting big game are only likely to visit the drinking pool below "Treetops" at full moon, "artificial moonlight" may be prepared for the Royal party's visit.

A large lamp giving diffused light is placed behind the trees where normally the moon rises. This light is supplied by electric current from a silent motor more than a mile away to prevent frightening the game.

Former Interior Secretary Harold Ickes Died Sunday

Washington, Feb. 4.—(P)—Death came quietly at dusk yesterday to Harold I. Ickes, 77, the new dealer whose sharp wit and blunt speech stormed for two decades across the United States scene.

Ickes, self-styled "Old Curmudgeon," died at 6:25 P.M. EST in a coma after an 11-week illness following complication of an old arthritic condition.

Virtually unknown in 1932 when President Franklin D. Roosevelt appointed him secretary of the interior, Ickes had become one of the most turbulent figures in politics by 1946, when he resigned in a huff.

"A unique figure in American public life is lost to the nation," President Truman commented last night, adding:

"He was with a true patriot and a many-sided citizen whose passing leaves a void in our national life not easily filled."

Funeral services are scheduled for 2:30 P.M. EST Wednesday.

During the turbulent depression years of the 1930's Ickes was head man of the public works administration. His bitter feud with the late Harry Hopkins, Roosevelt's close friend and head of the works progress administration, made New Deal history.

Ickes liberally used his talent for fashioning barbed titles and phrases. He pinned them on people and issues the world over. But political campaigns were his special province.

He once referred to Thomas E. Dewey, Republican Presidential candidate of 1944 and 1948, as "the candidate in sneakers." He called Wendell L. Willkie, Republican candidate in 1946, "the

N.S. Teachers May Soon End Their Strike

Sydney, N.S., Feb. 4.—(P)—An early end to Nova Scotia's first teachers' strike was considered possible today after an announcement that the Cape Breton county council will re-consider their salary demands.

Michael Sullivan, county warden, said he will announce this afternoon when council will reconvene to study the demands of 243 rural and village teachers who have stayed from their desks since Thursday. The teachers made up the Cape Breton county local of the Nova Scotia teachers' union.

Reports that council would have to obtain permission from the attorney-general's department to hold a special session led to confusion. Actually, no such permission was necessary.

Following the council meeting the teachers will hold a mass get-together to decide on future action. They are asking a $300 annual increase.

One proposal before the council is that the teachers be paid a $300 bonus this year pending clarification of provincial municipal responsibility in the matter.

During its regular sessions which ended Friday, county council turned down the teachers' request and declared that any increases would have to come from the provincial government. The government has stated repeatedly for more than a year that it already pays more than its share of education expenses.

The Cape Breton action, first strike of its kind in Nova Scotia's history, is part of a long, province-wide fight by teachers for better wages.

The Antigonish rural local and the Halifax county local of the N.S.T.U. also have voted to strike. The result of a province-wide strike vote is expected to be released this week.

The provincial government makes substantial grants to teachers, with the understanding that these will be bolstered by county contributions. Provincial authorities have complained, however, that the provincial grants have sometimes been taken as minimum salaries.

Salaries range greatly. Teachers with no formal training receive from $550 upward yearly and those with an academic licence get a starting salary of $1,920.

The teachers have received wide support in labor and other circles. Sid Oram, president of the Nova Scotia federation of labor, said during the week-end the federation's annual brief to the cabinet this week will be highlighted by resolutions calling for "immediate action" and "that federal aid for education be sought."

Vatican City, Feb. 4.—(Reuters)—About 100 Roman Catholic bishops have been jailed, deported or exiled by a dozen communist countries, the Vatican's 1952 Pontifical yearbook showed today.

Some of the bishops may have been killed, the yearbook said, but it is difficult to obtain detailed information from behind the Iron Curtain.

Communist China heads the list of recent persecutions against the church. A Cardinal and three Archbishops are among prelates said to have been "impeded" in carrying out their functions.

FRANKIE MENDED FENCES, BUT FOUND NO CROWD TO CORRAL

Hollywood—Behind the Screen: Frank Sinatra's lavish party for the press following the preview of "Meet Danny Wilson," didn't give him much chance to meet the scribes—only a few showed up.

Most of the press admittance cards, like mine, were filed in the wastebasket.

Frank's co-star, Shelley Winters, showed up for the preview but skipped the party.

Insiders claim that Frank failed to send Shelley an invitation, (they feuded throughout the picture), and the studio finally gave her a bid after she screamed:

"It's MY picture. Why wasn't I invited?"

Oh well, Ava still loves him.

There's been so much delay on the Rita Hayworth movie, says Alan Wilson, that they're calling it "Affairs in Trinigranddad."

Frankie Laine's doctors now believe that a throat operation will be unnecessary. But he has to be as silent as Jane Wyman in "Johnny Belinda" until he opens at a Miami Beach night club at the end of February.

Jane Russell has been ordered by her studio to be silent on the subject of her cravings for another adopted child. It whittles down the glamour. Jane was even told not to bring 16-month-old Tommy Kavanaugh to the studio again.

The romance is too hot to be kept mum, so I'm telling you that it was gorgeous, blonde Diane Garrett who brought Robert Taylor back from Europe in such a hurry. It's developing into a bonfire.

Medics have strapped up Ida Lupino's back and advised her that she may have to take to bed to insure her stork date.

Method In Their Modesty For the first time in Hollywood's publicity-mad history producers are insisting that their names be left off the screen. TV's the reason.

All credits are being deleted by movie producers, leaving their films to television to avoid squawks and boycotts from theater owners.

To wild-eyed exhibitors who complain about the sale of movies to TV, the producers have a bland, innocent, explanation:

"We leased them to a fellow for distribution and he leased them to TV. We're as surprised as you are. But there's nothing we can do about it."

Some of Liz Taylor's pals are saying that the Michael Wilding influence is showing in her new British accent. Aw, maybe she's just getting ready to do a picture with Doug Fairbanks, Jr. . . . Doris Day is in a pot because a fan magazine vetoed a cover photo without the Day hair bangs. The editor said her fans wouldn't recognize her in a different hair-do.

Dress designer Taft consulted an interior decorator about re-doing her living room.

"Let's make it old English," she told the decorator, "to match the movies on my television screen."

Her friends back east say that Susan Peters, whose health took a licking with her daily "Our Miss Susan" TV show, won't try live video again.

The Drama For Groucho? Groucho Marx as a straight actor—sans moustache, mad leer and loping walk?

and "A Girl In Every Port" without his famous brothers, Groucho is saying that he'd like a turn at some serious emoting.

"Not 'Hamlet,' mind you," said the comedian. "Just a straight dramatic part. I don't know whether audiences would accept it."

"Zasu Pitts tried it and audiences got hysterical. I suppose the same thing would happen to me."

Groucho admits that he's as "morose and morbid" as the next rib-tickler when the curtain goes down. He tells the story about a man, troubled with melancholia and suicidal impulses, who consulted a famous psychiatrist in Paris.

"Tonight," the psychiatrist told him, "go to the circus and see Salvi, the famous clown. It will lift you out of yourself."

"I can't," said the patient, "You see, I am Salvi!"

Jane Wyman and her current date, socialite Travis Kleefeld, insist that it's a strictly-for-laughers palship—nothing more.

"Why mother, you can drive! All these wet mornings—the children going to school—you didn't!"

Grandma leaned from the car. "Sure I can drive. I've owned a car for years. Should I suddenly get paralyzed? Now I'm on my way to see the states. I'm driving all over America. Your father and I once planned to do it."

Georgia gasped. "All alone? At your age?"

Grandma laughed without rancor. "I'm only 55 and that in these days is about what 30 was in my Grandma's day. I'm as strong as a young horse and I never felt younger. Good-bye, children, thanks for the hospitality."

She stepped on the gas and the miraculous new car flowed forward, round the corner and out of their lives.

One Aldermanic And Two Mayoralty Candidates Entered In Local Race

Three sets of nomination papers for applicants to municipal office in the March 24 elections, at which time the posts of mayor and of at least four aldermen will be filled, have been issued so far by City Clerk Antonin Deslauriers who will act as returning officer under the terms of the city charter.

Two of these have been provided to candidates for the mayoral seat which is being vacated by Mayor Charles B. Howard, the prospective candidates being: former mayor, Alphonse Trudeau, and Armand Nadeau, K.C., a former alderman and defeated candidate for the mayoralty in 1950. Street reports say that a third candidate, Ald. Sylvio Rousseau, will also seek election but to date the East Ward representative has said nothing definite as to his plans.

The third set of papers was taken out by Ald. Carl Camirand who will seek re-election in the Centre Ward. Whether he will receive opposition is questionable although a certain individual who represented the ward on the Council for a one-year term is reported working to have a contest although he is unwilling to run himself.

The other seats becoming vacant are those of Ald. Armand Fiset, in the West Ward, who has already indicated he will seek re-election, of Ald. Oliva Deziel in the East, and Ald. W. H. Bradley in the North. Neither of these aldermen is as yet ready to make his intentions known.

Should Ald. Rousseau decide to enter the mayoralty contest, his East Ward seat would also become vacant.

Three Persons Are Injured In Collision

Three persons were injured in a collision which occurred early yesterday morning on King street near the Rock Forest road.

Injured were: Miss Gwen Dustin, 21, of Magog; Donald Hope, 25, of Magog; and Alex Hamilton, 34, of Sherbrooke. None was seriously hurt.

Miss Dustin was a passenger in a car driven by Mr. Hope, while Mr. Hamilton was alone in his car. Both cars were heavily damaged in the accident.

Municipal Police Constable P. Y. Messier investigated the mishap.

Police Press Search For Bank Robbers

Municipal and Provincial Police continued their search over the week-end for the two men who Friday night robbed the Caisse Populaire St. Therese of $20.90 and manager Maurice Champagne of $200 of his own funds.

Descriptions of the two men are skimpy as they both wore masks and banded and gagged Mrs. Maurice Champagne placing her in another room of the house at 237 King West while they ransacked the premises. She was the only person in the house at the time.

Information provided by persons who think they saw the two men indicates they are between five feet five inches and five feet eight inches and height and that one was wearing a station wagon coat, the other a blue trench coat. Both are said to be young and slight of build.

Police say this is only the third armed robbery committed in Sherbrooke in more than five years. In 1946, the manager of the New Sherbrooke Hotel was robbed at gunpoint of some $300, and several months ago Gendron's Corset Shop was robbed of some $20 by a gunman who was apprehended one half hour after he had pulled the hold-up with the use of a toy gun.

Movies Shown At Meeting Of C. C. O. Branch

Harry Long, conductor, and several musicians from the Sherbrooke Symphony Orchestra, were guests of the Canadian College of Organists at the regular monthly meeting of the Sherbrooke branch held last night in St. Peter's church hall.

A feature of the meeting was the presentation of three motion pictures dealing with a modern symphony orchestra and its makeup.

The forthcoming concert consisting of works for brasses and organ together has been deferred until after Easter. Mr. Long, who will conduct the concert, felt that this would give more time to those taking part to prepare the concert and that by April the rush of Symphony and other local rehearsals would be over.

Miss Doris Robinson was elected interim treasurer, replacing Mrs. Bertha A. Bell, L.R.S.M., who had to vacate this office due to the pressure of other work.

Miss Lyndall Jackson assisted by some of the members, served light refreshments at the end of the meeting.

Final Tribute Is Paid To
Mrs. Dupuis

A host of sorrowing friends and relatives gathered last Saturday in the Church of St. John the Evangelist, Coaticook, to pay a last tribute to Mrs. A. N. Dupuis (Jeanne Bachand) of Sherbrooke, who passed away at her home following a lengthy illness.

A fine musician and well known singer, Mrs. Bachand-Dupuis' death, although not entirely unexpected, came as a great shock to her many friends who feel in her passing a deep personal loss.

It seemed fitting that she who had received so many flowers during her lifetime, on the concert and operatic stage, should be literally showered with beautiful floral tributes at her death. In addition to these there were numerous telegrams and messages of sympathy.

Apart from her husband, Dr. A. N. Dupuis, well-known Sherbrooke business man and popular figure in sporting circles, the deceased leaves to mourn her loss one daughter, Madeleine, of Coaticook; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Bachand, of Coaticook; one brother-in-law, Rev. Antonio Dupuis, pastor of Ste. Famille Church, Richmond; three sisters-in-law, Mrs. R. Davignon, Rock Island, Mrs. M. Turcotte and Miss Jeanne Dupuis, of Sherbrooke, as well as a number of cousins, nephews and nieces.

Rev. Father Dupuis officiated at the solemn High Mass, assisted by Rev. F. X. Raymond and Rev. A. Houle, as deacon and sub-deacon, respectively. The choir was under the direction of W. Theriault.

Honorary pall bearers were P. A. Dionne, Arthur Vincent, Edmond Blain, W. Dionne, Alfred Rousseau and B. C. Lemoine.

Bearer was Jean Lincourt, Armand Robitaille, Roger Bouchard, Leo Jubinville, J. O. Boisvert and Adrien Maurice.

Interment was in Coaticook.

Former U. N. B. Students Meet At Lennoxville

A social evening for alumni of University of New Brunswick now living in the Eastern Townships was held on Friday evening at Elmwood Inn.

E. T. residents who attended were Dr. W. O. Raymond, Lennoxville, Dr. A. A. Dougan, Lennoxville, Dr. H. Bruce Fletcher, Andover, H. Duchene, Roy Barbour, all of Sherbrooke, Miss Helen Hughes and Miss Jean Ramsey, King's Hall, Compton, John Shearer, Farnham, and Cameron MacMillan, Brimstonville. Mrs. Douglas, Mrs. Fletcher, Mrs. Barbour and Miss Barbara Davey were guests.

Dr. Raymond, who graduated from U.N.B. 50 years ago, presided.

Dr. W. C. D. Pacey, professor of English at U.N.B., told the group that since he had joined the faculty eight years ago the University has grown not only in size but in prestige.

He singled out for particular emphasis the expansion of the school of graduate studies and the gift by Lord Beaverbrook, who is the U.N.B. Chancellor, of the Bonar Law Bennett library. Dr. Pacey also predicted that U.N.B. was on the verge of perhaps the most significant phase of its development.

John C. Murray, U.N.B. alumni secretary, also spoke and showed motion pictures of recent activities on the campus. He suggested that the addition of a Ph.D. course in chemistry, a graduate course in logging, a bachelor of education course, a degree course in mechanical engineering, and a course in business administration—all within the last few years—constituted a remarkable expansion in the curriculum. He said that U.N.B. is not a big University out is, like Bishop's, a good one.

Mrs. Pacey and Mrs. Murray, the former Elsie Groome of North Hatley, were present with their husbands.

Dr. Raymond commented that there were 10 times as many students—795—at U.N.B. today as there were in his day. He delighted the group by recalling that as a result of a prank the present Chief Justice of New Brunswick, the Hon. C. D. Richards, had spent a night in the Fredericton jail.

Council Meets
This Evening

The City Fathers will hold their regular first of the month meeting this evening with the prospects that debate and discussion may keep them around the City Hall until a late hour.

Although only one apparently contentious item is on the order paper, relations between certain members of the Council have become strained in recent weeks over certain statements made both within and without the Council and there has been a marked tendency to raise questions of privilege to put their opponents in their place. As a result, debates have been touched off on what are generally considered routine matters.

The one obviously debatable item is the street naming by-law which was introduced by Alderman Henri Labonne at the last session and held over for detailed study tonight.

Gambling Houses Raided

Municipal police carried out over the week-end their fourth raid within a week on local gambling houses.

A house on Depot Street and an establishment on Wellington Street were raided by the local police.

This morning in Recorder's Court the two keepers were fined $100 each while fifteen found-ins were sentenced to pay fines of $25 each.

Guy Bryant gave the report of the War Memorial Finance Committee. C. G. Bishop, P. M. Robins, H. Grundy, C. Ross and A. C. Stevens, with Mrs. R. L. McCabe and Mrs. A. A. Munster were appointed to the committee for the coming year.

Mr. Loveland then reported on the financial state of the parish, explaining in detail the various items in the financial report. At the same time he presented a budget for the coming year based on last year's records.

At the conclusion of the meeting coffee and doughnuts were served by the ladies of St. Peter's Guild.

Holy Name Society Hears Address On History Of Eastern Townships

While it might have been expected that Great Britain would have welcomed the influx of English-speaking settlers to her newly-conquered French-speaking domain, especially if these newcomers were escaping because they opposed a revolt against England the Crown opened up this territory without much enthusiasm.

The above remark was made last night by Ashton Tobin, K.C., local barrister, in an address to a gathering of members of the Holy Name Society of St. Patrick's Church and their guests. The meeting was held in the church hall.

Speaking on the Early History of the Eastern Townships, Mr. Tobin stated that: "While the flood of Loyalists, one of the first large groups of political refugees, to the Eastern Townships was composed of persons British in origin, they were American in upbringing and viewpoint and independence of spirit."

"It was for this reason that the fact that Britain wanted this area to serve as a buffer zone between the settled part of Canada and the hostile American colonies that I say the Crown opened up this region without much enthusiasm."

A good buffer zone could have meant leaving the wilderness untouched, whereas the influx of settlers meant roads and means of communication."

Mr. Tobin said the Quebec Act of 1774, two years before the American Revolution, had provided sweeping privileges for the Roman Catholic Church to as far west as Chicago.

"This the colonists to our south regarded as a great insult to them and made this quite plain. Can you imagine, then, the good chuckle provided for the good Bishop at Quebec two years later at the spectacle of the United States asking the habitants to join in with them against England."

Mr. Tobin traced the history of the Eastern Townships from the period prior to 1760 when this territory was part of the French empire to the year 1851 when the Grand Trunk line from Montreal to Sherbrooke was completed. He said the history of this region is largely that of the history of the St. Francis River and divided his interesting talk into three sections, pre 1760, 1760 to 1783 and 1783 to 1851.

"On the fall of New France," the speaker stated, "the province was inhabited by some 60,000 persons who were French, Roman Catholic and tillers of the soil when they came under the domination of a people British, strongly Protestant and mostly merchants."

"At the time, there were only 400 English in Canada, mostly local barristers, in an address to a gathering of members of the Holy Name Society of St. Patrick's Church and their guests. The meeting was held in the church hall."

"But England's attitude was one of happy neglect. Not knowing what to do with Canada, England did nothing and, in the Gilbert and Sullivan line, 'did it rather well.'"

Mr. Tobin's talk was crammed with references to early settlers of the Eastern Townships such as Sewell Moe who was going up the St. Francis River in a dugout boat when he struck a rock, the boat being wrecked. He swam ashore and established a farm near where the Carnation Company now has its plant. One man with 40 signatures would get enough land to open a Township and Gilbert Hyatt opened Ascot, cleared the bush and established a mill which bears his name. For denouncing an agitator who advocated joining the U.S. (the man was hanged for his pains), William Barnard and Ernest Cushing were rewarded with the Townships of Brompton and Ship-ton, respectively.

Mr. Tobin's address climaxed and concluded a very busy day for the Holy Name Society.

They had a special speaker at their monthly communion mass in the morning, Rev. Charles Carroll, s.j., of Montreal. In the afternoon, initiation ceremonies were held for new members with the sermon and benediction of the Blessed Sacrament delivered by Father Carroll.

Before and after Mr. Tobin's speech, a group of local artists presented a musical program. They were: Barbara Sharpe, and Kenneth Heatherington, vocalists, each appearing in several solo numbers; Hector Hebert, violinist; and Beatrice Winslow, pianist, Mrs. Andrea Levesque accompanying the soloists at the piano.

Refreshments were served by wives of the members after the evening program.

Past President Michael Bryson was in the chair for the meeting and thanked Rev. Julian Clarke for his help to the Society both spiritual and temporal. He also thanked the executive and members for their assistance in the past year. At the close of the evening, Father Clarke thanked and congratulated the members, saying he was very

HEALTH WEEK — A CHALLENGE

In sponsoring Health Week in Canada, the Health League of Canada seeks to bring public appreciation to the fact that despite the tremendous progress in medical science in the past half century, there are vast fields in which the advancement has been pitifully slow. In some cases this lack of accomplishment has been due to the inability of the research workers to find the cause and cure of certain diseases, but more often it has resulted from the failure of the public to make itself aware of the means available for meeting conditions.

The League notes the following improvements in recent years: The striking decline in mortality rates in many diseases; the wonderful discoveries in medicine and surgery; the effective research in nutrition, in mental health, in causes and treatment of disease; the greater use of preventive treatments and the wide extension of hospital services.

But it points to the following conditions still to be mastered or achieved: Cancer, tuberculosis, venereal diseases, heart diseases, arthritis, child and maternal health, compulsory pasteurization, general immunization, sanitary school conditions and proper care for old age.

The idea behind Health Week is to make the individual citizen active along with voluntary associations and official health departments—local, provincial and national—in doing everything possible to perfect Canada's health.

BOSTON VIEWS THE SEAWAY

It is doing no more than recognizing the shortness of contemporary vision measured on the vast scale of history to remark that some day the St. Lawrence Seaway will be built and that Americans will look backward and wonder why they were so long going about it, says The Christian Science Monitor published in Boston. It continues it is a recognition of the vast scale of history, on the other hand, to point out that the ultimate desirability of something does not demand it be undertaken at any moment, regardless of circumstances.

Justifiable faith in the inevitable expansion of the North American economy argues for going ahead. A hardheaded look at the problems of the moment argues for postponement at least until the drive toward sufficient rearmament is well "over the hump."

The case for urgency rests largely upon the need of iron ore for national defense and upon the fact that Canada says it will go ahead on its own. It is true that the high-grade deposits of Minnesota's Mesabi Range are nearing exhaustion. But the range's vast reserves of low-grade taconite can be processed about as cheaply as ore brought from Labrador. The huge Steep Rock deposits recently found in Ontario are accessible directly from the Great Lakes. And Venezuela ore would not need the St. Lawrence to reach big American blast furnaces.

As for the argument as regards Canada stressed by President Truman: Canada does not talk of starting before 1953. Estimates of time to completion run no less than four years—some say ten. And it is doubtful that Canada could proceed with a soundly engineered plan without working out many details with the United States on use of international waters and American abutments for the dams.

All of the latter arguments apply to power as well as to navigation.

When the peak of rearmament's demand for materials, manpower, and money is past, the St. Lawrence Seaway then could provide one of several projects to take up the slack left in an emergency expanded economy.

TALE OF THE COONSKIN CAP TOPS KEFAUVER CAMPAIGN LORE

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent
Washington — (NEA) — The real story on Estes Kefauver's original coonskin cap has now been revealed by George M. Clark, president of the Pioneer National Bank of Chattanooga, Tenn. This seems to be a key issue in the Kefauver campaign for the Democratic nomination for President, so it might as well be recorded for history, like the cherry tree myth.

According to Mr. Clark, he furnished the cap. He got it, he says, from a young engineer on a U.S. Army Corps of Engineers river boat, who was stationed at Osceola, Ark. Mr. Clark doesn't remember the man's name.

So if he ever reads this, here's his chance to step forward and become famous. Anyway, living in a houseboat while doing levee and revetment repair work along the Mississippi, there wasn't much in the way of amusement except to go coon hunting in the swamps. One day the young engineer decided to make himself an old-fashioned pioneer cap, with the tail hanging down the back.

On a river trip to Paducah, Ky., Mr. Clark happened to meet the young engineer, who gave him the cap.

Mr. Clark took it home as a souvenir and thought no more about it until shortly after Memphis Boss Ed Crump published his now-famous full page ad, blasting Estes Kefauver as a candidate for the U.S. Senate, and likening him to a pet coon.

The Tennessee Bar Association was meeting in Chattanooga at the time. As one of the entertainment skits, somebody wrote some dialogue for an imaginary conversation between Boss Crump and Kefauver.

The script called for the man playing the part of Kefauver to wear a coonskin cap. The only one that could be located was Banker Clark's and he lent it to the lawmakers for their merry-making.

Kefauver Borrows The Cap

Nobody seems to remember any of the gag lines in the act now, but it was supposedly a riot. Word of it got to Estes Kefauver who was campaigning in the state. He called up Mr. Clark and asked to borrow the coonskin cap.

Jack Baihe, who was Kefauver's press agent, persuaded him to wear it at his next campaign rally. It wowed the audience and got Kefauver's picture in all the papers.

Kefauver then paid his tribute to the coon. "A coon can lick a dog four times its size. He is somewhat of a giant killer among the animals. Davy Crockett, Sam Houston and all of our great men in that era of early Tennessee history wore the familiar ring-tailed coonskin cap."

"Mr. Crump defames me, but worse than that he defames the coon, the all-American animal. We coons can take care of ourselves. I may be a pet coon, but I ain't Mr. Crump's pet coon."

After the election Mr. Clark presented Senator Kefauver with the cap. The Senator credits it with having won him 25,000 votes. He defeated Crump's candidate by 35,000.

There is another Kefauver coon story which isn't so well known. When Estes Kefauver was in Yale law school, 1925-27, he didn't have much money. So supplement his income, he ran a tutoring service for students having a hard time passing their exams.

After getting one particularly backward student successfully past this hurdle, the well-to-do young man made his tutor a present of a coon skin coat.

It was one of those long affairs that Joe Colleges affected in that flapper era.

Estes Kefauver wore it home to Madisonville one vacation and was a sensation. That was long before he ever got into politics.

Birth of Campaign Legends?

Stories like this are now cropping out from behind every tree and rock in the Kefauver country of eastern Tennessee. They're apparently building up what will become the Kefauver campaign legend.

Stories about the Estes Kefauver childhood are rare. He seems to have been a serious-minded good boy, right from the start. There are no Tom Sawyeresque Kefauver stories kicking around. But H. L. Callahan, now mayor of Kefauver's home town of Mountville, Tenn., and formerly Estes' high school teacher, has come up with what is probably the original cutie-kid Kefauver quote.

Mr. Callahan relates that four-year-old Estes Kefauver was one day watching his aunt's dog Laddie, chase a rabbit.

In baby-talk the boy remarked: "If Laddie would quit barking so much and save his wuf, he could wun faster and catch the wabbit."

The moral of this drawn by Kefauver's backers is that this is the way their man is running for the Presidency. He doesn't bark, he saves his breath, and they think he's going to catch the rabbit.

PRESS COMMENTS

SUPERPOUSE

Toronto Globe and Mail

Wealthy matrons are commonly anxious that their daughters should make good marriages, and one at New Haven, Connecticut, was no exception. She insisted that her daughter should wed a man with honesty, initiative, good culture, charm, ambition, perseverance, moral courage, self-control, a good mixer, thrifty, dignified, independent, of high social rank and good education.

Patricia Proctor married a man who appeared to meet these requirements. But evidently he didn't, for he appeared in court at New Haven last week, suing his mother-in-law for breaking up the marriage. It was in the course of the hearings that her specifications were read.

They are rigid specifications, and our masculine readers will wonder, at first glance, whether anybody could possibly live up to them. But on second thoughts, each will realize that there is one man—just one—who fills the bill; and each will know exactly who that man is. Whether his wife will agree is, of course, something else again.

TEMPTED BY WAGES

Victoria Times

It is a matter of concern to many that Canadian talent should move in the volume it has moved during recent years across the 49th parallel. Understandably young men and young women of this country are tempted by higher salaries in the United States. Yet it should be apparent to them that the influx of American capital into this country is the most impressive proof that could be given of Canada's potentialities.

Those potentialities represent opportunity for Canada's young people — opportunities for jobs in the great development now taking place from St. John's to Victoria. In the long pull it promises them a good life, probably not on wage and salary scales prevailing in the United States, but rewarding in other ways.

And those same opportunities are open to new settlers from other lands — opportunities which should make Canada a favored destination for the finest type of immigrant.

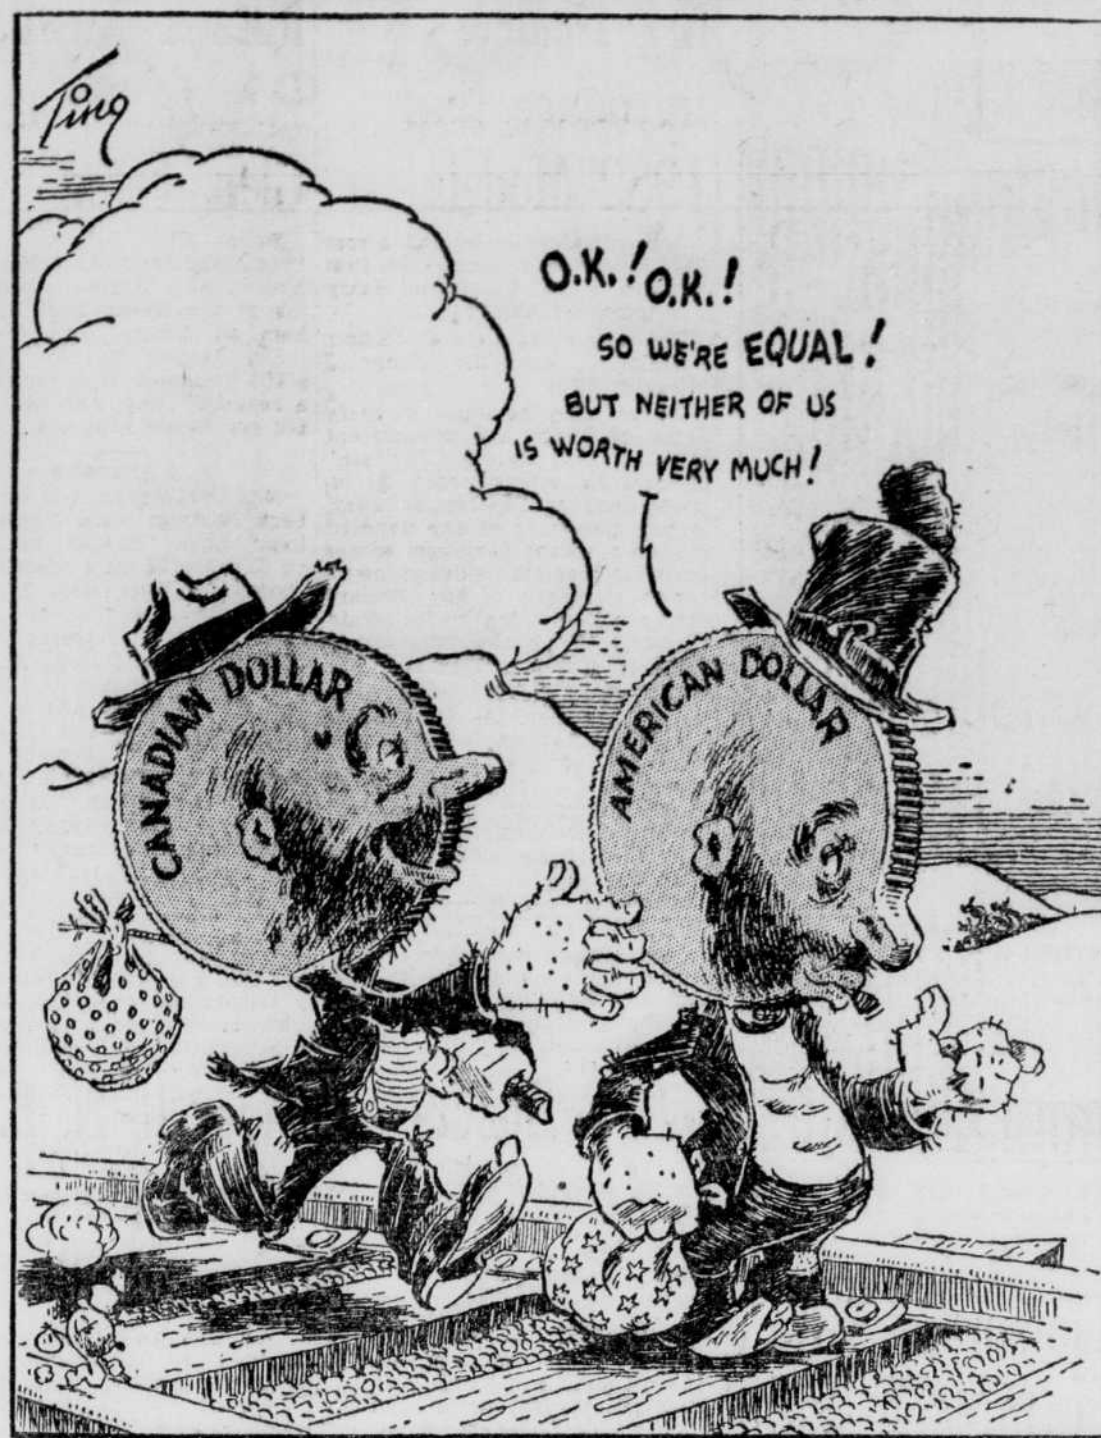

'SEWER RATES'

Owen Sound Sun-Times

The proposal to charge "sewer rates," similar to the present "water rates," when a sewage disposal plant is installed in Owen Sound, is the only fair and equitable manner in which to finance the project and its operation.

The proposal, set forth in the report submitted to the City Council by Gore and Storrie, consulting engineers, would make an assessment of $14 a year per household by doubling the present water rates and levying one mill on the tax rate. The direct charge would be collected every two months, as is the case with water rates, a plan of payment which the average person finds much more comfortable than making the payment in a lump sum.

NEVER QUIT TRYING IF YOU WANT TO WIN

"This was a very peculiar deck of cards," said Dick Kahn, "and the king of clubs looked to me like the king of spades. You must admit my bidding is quite reasonable if I hold the king of spades instead of the king of clubs."

"True enough," I agreed. "But that was also a very peculiar raise to two spades that your partner gave you."

"That's also true," Dick admitted. "I thought he had four spades."

"Anyway, there he was in four spades doubled—a ridiculous contract. Was he downhearted? Of course he was. But Dick Kahn, who holds the Masters Pair Championship and about a dozen other national titles, gave the hand the five of spades and managed to make his ridiculous contract."

West opened the king of hearts. A trump would have settled declarer's hash, but West didn't dream of leading away from his king.

Kahn ruffed with the deuce of spades, cashed the top clubs; and ruffed a club with dummy's eight of spades. He returned to his hand by ruffing a heart with the five of spades and ruffed another club with the dummy's nine of spades.

Now he took the ace and king of diamonds and ruffed a third heart in his hand, this time with the ace of spades.

By this time he had rattled off the first nine tricks, and the queen of spades was still in dummy. West was down to his four trumps.

Kahn now led his last club, and West could not prevent dummy from making the tenth trick with the queen of spades.

Neat, and also a little gaudy.

Defence Projects And Metal Industries Develop 1952 Boom

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Ottawa, Feb. 4.—(C.P.)—Canada, in the midst of the biggest industrial expansion boom in history, is expected to increase public and private investment in 1952 to a record $5,000,000,000.

A detailed survey of government and industrial plans for investment in new machinery, equipment, plants and housing during the year has been undertaken by the trade department.

The official estimate will be tabled by Trade Minister Howe when Parliament reopens Feb. 28.

The big investment emphasis during 1952 is expected to be concentrated in defence and defence-supporting industries, such as in the fields of strategic metals. Experts believe strong support in these fields will help overcome some weakening in such other categories of investment as housing and light industry, including textile manufacturing.

The expected climb to the $5,000,000,000 mark will mean a $400,000,000 increase over the $4,600,000,000 invested during the previous peak year of 1951. But the increase—$400,000,000—likely will be only about one-half the $800,000,000 jump recorded during 1951 when the investment boom climbed to $4,600,000,000 from $3,800,000,000.

Adding some stimulus to the general picture is the expected increase in the federal government's defence budget of $300,000,000 to a peacetime record of $2,000,000,000.

The Record Short Story

Grandma Changed Her Hobby

By OLGA A. ROSMANITH

Grandma's hobby provided amusing conversation for young Mr. and Mrs. Waite. They had quite hilarious times with it during the neighborhood canasta parties they were able to attend because Grandma was home baby-sitting with the toddler and watching that the homework was done by the two older children.

She was filling the house with soap and cleaning powders no one could ever catch up with because she needed the wrappers and box tops for her contest entries. Grandma herself was getting amusing to live with because she was searching in Bartlett's book of quotations for new reasons why she kept this or that soap on hand, and she used this erudition to dumbfound the television-conditioned children. But she was not amused, since no trips to Paris, huge checks or free motor cars had got around to Grandma.

She had used the serpent's tooth one about the thankless child when Georgia had suggested she lay off now and give up the whole thing because the soap would have to move out to the local Red Cross or some place to make room in the closets, that was not why she and Phil were giving Grandma an allowance for the baby-sitting, anyway.

Phil saw Grandma's eyes cross slightly and her face go red with suppressed fury before she delivered King Lear's cutting line in an impersonal tone right out of the ice like a beauty's assassin. "Pay no attention, Grant. I'm all for it. We could do with a new car, believe me."

In spite of this, Grandma was so discouraged she gave up her hobby for a whole week. Then Georgia got rid of the surplus soap, put enough for three months in the kitchen cupboard and the house smelled normal.

The radio announced a new contest for 10 beautiful new Ford cars with a check for a thousand dollars with each, and Grandma resumed her hobby. Some soap without wrappers is really powerful.

A snooty married girl friend of Georgia's started dissension again by sniffing when she entered the house and remarking that it smelled like a beauty's assassin. Grandma came downstairs in time to hear Georgia say, "It's awful, but I have to put up with it. It's this juvenile hobby of my mother-in-law's."

"What? Does that still go on? If I were you I'd tell her to get a house of her own to do her collecting in."

"Hush. She'll hear you. She's got her own house, but I'd be right back changing dummies and playing watchdog instead of going out to play canasta. But I have tried to get her to throw the soap in the garbage can."

Grandma tip-toed back upstairs and sat at her bedroom writing table and wrote her last contest entry with considerable passion. Absolutely her last, she told the small confined bedroom through her teeth, while she folded the wrapper and put it with the entry in the envelope. Then she put a pert Breton sailor hat on her tinted dark hair and went out for the mail.

Georgia and her visitor heard the clang of the mailbox across the street, as if Grandma had opened it with a hatchet. They looked out and saw her standing there peering into her purse; then the unexpected sight of her snapping the purse shut, and instead of coming right back in, turning her back and walking in the opposite direction.

"She must have gone shopping for something," Georgia said uneasily. "And it's just about time to feed the baby."

Grandma didn't return for three and a half hours. She had gone to the neighborhood movie which gave a double feature. She had seen Clifton Webb in a revival of "Sitting Pretty," a picture not at all calculated to induce a mood of grandmotherly emotion.

It was dark when she got home. Georgia was putting the dinner on the table. She said calmly, "Grandma, it's half past seven."

"Is that so? Thank you for the news. But remember, I am not your Grandma."

Georgia turned to her husband who was tinkering with the television. "Phil, dinner's on the table! Is that blinking mechanism all you think of? Why didn't you marry one?"

He was crouching on the floor

When she drew up at the house, she hugged Grandma. "It's so easy to drive, darling, I guess it would be safe to let you drive it sometimes."

Phil went red on behalf of his wife. "Wait a minute, how do you know mother doesn't want to sell it and use the money?"

Grandma calmed their fears. "I wouldn't dream of selling it. I have the thousand dollar check, too, and that will pay the gift and license taxes."

But while they watched television and discussed what to do with the old car, she stayed upstairs and packed her things, ready to be on her way in the morning. She brought her cases down her self and piled them in her treasure. Georgia didn't realize what

Diocesan AYP A Rally Is Held In Quebec City

"Old Fashioned" was the theme adopted for the Quebec Diocesan A.Y.P.A. Rally held in Quebec City, over the week-end. Alan Brown, Diocesan president, presided at the meetings and discussions.

Saturday morning, before conference time, the ordination of Rev. Thomas S. Knox, as priest, was held. This was of special interest to A.Y.P.A.s as Mr. Knox is Diocesan Chaplain to the Anglican Young Peoples' Association. The sermon was preached by Canon Russell Brown, Rector of St. Peter's, Sherbrooke.

The conference got underway Saturday afternoon with registrations at 1:30 p.m. The Diocesan Executive and Council held their meeting to discuss various matters including the revised organization constitution.

Evensong was said in the Holy Trinity Cathedral just prior to supper which was served at "The Old Homestead."

Saturday evening's program consisted of a one-act play and square dancing at St. Matthew's Church Hall. Miss Bunny McPherson acted as mistress of ceremonies for the latter. Refreshments were also served during the evening.

Sunday's program started with Holy Communion being celebrated in St. Matthew's church. This was followed by breakfast in the hall at which time Rev. T. S. Knox, Diocesan chaplain, was presented with a gift by Barbara Learmonth, on behalf of St. Matthew's A.Y.P.A.

The Rallyers attended the 11:00 a.m. service as a group at the Trinity Church and Archbishop Carrington preached the sermon. Lunch was served in the hall after the service. A sing song completed the week-end's varied program.

Those attending the rally from out-of-town were members from St. Peter's, Sherbrooke, Danville and Drummondville.

New Delhi, Feb. 4.—(P)—Election successes by the communists in some Indian states led party boss Ajoy K. Ghosh to declare yesterday that in a very short time we will have the backing of the majority in the country.

Ghosh said in an interview that Red influence is going to spread rapidly now it's got a start in the general elections going on throughout India. He said unless Prime Minister Nehru's government relaxes its present rigid laws against the communists, "all hell will break loose in the country."

The Red party general secretary pointed to nearly complete election results in Madras and Travancore-Cochin, where the communists have made the greatest headway.

Ditchfield Bowlers Glamorous Bolero Hold Banquet At Lake Megantic

Lake Megantic, Feb. 4.—A most interesting evening was enjoyed by the "Ditchfield Bowlers" this week when a mid-season banquet was held at the Queen's Hotel. The Bowling Club started the evening off with a delicious turkey dinner followed by ice-cream and a beautifully decorated cake in honor of Miss Hazel Rider's birthday. Miss Rider also received some lovely gifts from her fellow-bowlers.

Later the prizes were awarded, accompanied by appropriate remarks by Mr. R. Mead. Mr. Earl Veary won the silver cup, with the highest score, averaging 101 points per game. Mrs. George Veary was presented with the lady's consolation prize, a bowling pin and ball, dressed as a doll. Mr. Harold Rider won the men's consolation prize, an old fashioned coat-hanger and a cigarette lighter. The whole evening was such a success that plans are already being made for a repeat performance, some time in the Spring.

The new models are the Kaiser "Virginius" and the Henry J "Vagabond."

Dramatically beautiful in every detail of design and appointment the new 1952 Kaiser "Virginius" features Kaiser-engineered "exclusives" such as Super-sonic Power; largest glass area of any standard four-door sedan; narrowest corner posts for greatest visibility; latest centre of gravity of any standard car—plus the riding luxury of aircraft-type shock absorbers matched to synchronized springs.

Distinctively styled in the Continental manner, the 1952 Kaiser "Virginius" features a new hood ornament of black plastic and chrome, plus chrome script insignia "Virginius" on both front fenders. The "Virginius" Series of fenders two-door, four-door and coupe body styles.

The new 1952 Henry J "Vagabond" is a smart edition of Canada's most practical, lowest-priced, full-size car. Available in both four and six cylinder models, the Vagabond offers a full range of beautiful color harmonies both inside and out.

I Was Nearly Crazy With Fiery Itch—

Until I discovered Dr. D. D. Denner's amazing popular, this pure, soothing, liquid medicine caused by eczema, pimples, rashes, athlete's foot and other skin troubles. Trial bottle, the first application checks even the most intense form of money back. Ask druggist for Dr. D. D. Denner's (locusts of extra strength).

For Bad Winter Cough, Mix This Syrup Yourself

If you want a splendid cough medicine, mix it at home. It costs very little, yet the way it takes hold of distressing coughs, giving quick relief, is astonishing.

Any druggist can supply you with a 2-ounce bottle of Pinex. Pour this into a 16 ounce bottle and fill up with granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. To make syrup, use 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water and stir a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. (Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.) It's no trouble at all and gives you four times as much cough medicine for your money—a family supply. Keeps perfectly and tastes fine.

It is surprising how quickly this loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps to clear the air passages.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, a very reliable soothing agent for winter coughs. Money refunded if not pleased in every way.

Congregational Meeting Held At Ayer's Cliff

Ayer's Cliff, Feb. 4. — Forty people gathered at the vestry for the annual congregational meeting of Beulah United Church.

The pastor, Rev. W. H. Boomhour, presided and opened the meeting by reading a portion of the 10th chapter of Romans, and led in prayer.

Minutes of the last annual were read by the secretary, Mrs. W. H. Rexford, and adopted.

The first report was that of the session, which was given by Mr. W. H. Rexford. He spoke of the fine fellowship existing throughout the while church organization which has contributed a great deal to the success of the year.

There are eight members of session, and they have held five meetings, with an average attendance of six. One valued member, Mr. Charles Libby suffered a broken leg in the summer, necessitating his absence, however in October a very pleasant meeting was held at his home.

Since last annual meeting, last year, two highly respected members have been lost by death, namely, Mrs. E. W. Sheldon, who united in 1928, and Mrs. Lillian Hitchcock, who though living in Moose Jaw, Sask., for some years, had retained her membership here since 1892.

The usual appointments of made at the beginning of 1951 all of which, have served faithfully. Mr. Rexford went on to say that the Sunday School have a record number enrolled with a splendid average attendance, and Mr. A. H. Slack the superintendent, with his eight teachers, are carrying on this important part of the church work with the children.

The choir have again given liberally of their time and talents, presenting many fine anthems, Gospel songs and solos, which added to the dignity and enthusiasm of the worship services.

The speaker stated that the attendance had been excellent and that many visitors especially during the summer months had been welcomed.

The visitors registered had again been used and one hundred greeting cards had been sent to those registered.

Special mention was made of the new pulpit and communion table drapes which had been presented by the Women's Association and of the Rexford families, gifts of two silver flower baskets for the altar in memory of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Rexford. At this point Mr. Rexford again expressed thanks to all who had brought beautiful flowers which graced the altar during the summer. Mr. Rexford reported that nine new members had been received and two transfers, and the two deceased mentioned above. The total membership 195 of which 55 are non residents. Recorded were nine baptisms, four marriages, and eight burials.

The choir, which is organized under the presidency of Mr. Fred Wyman, has had an active year. A variety program and ice cream social and concert were among their special efforts. Besides the regular services several song services were held.

The total amount raised was $144.30, amount received in donations $174.65. This enabled them to reduce the debt on the new organ to $100 and leave a small balance of $6.57 in the treasury.

Mrs. Rose Thompson, secretary treasurer, of the Sunday School reported a very good year. There are eight classes, 73 enrolled and an average attendance of 55. Two special programs were given during the year, Rally Day, and Christmas. Eighteen received recognition for good attendance. Seven for one year's perfect attendance, 3 for 2 years, 3 for 3 years, 4 for four years, and one Gordon Thompson, has excellent record of six year's perfect attendance.

Sunday School collections amounted to $148.54. The Rally Day offering $31.05. Gifts and special offerings brought the total receipts to $220.17. Expenses were for supplies, $119.41; attendance pins, $10.15; new Hymnals, $17.94; Save the Children Fund, $25; M. and M. Fund, $45; Christmas tree, $17.63. The balance carried over, $61.13.

Mr. Slack, Sunday School superintendent, spoke of excellent attendance, the good work of teachers, who work under the great handicap of too little space. Every square foot of space is used, even to the kitchen.

Young People's Group was formed in May, under the presidency of Miss Ruth Boomhour, with Miss Rita Clough, as vice-president, and Miss Pat Sanderson, as secretary-treasurer. Their activities include a Weiner Roast at the lake, and carol singing to shut-ins at Christmas. Cash on hand $52.22.

Mrs. Boomhour reported a very full and varied year's work for the Women's Missionary Society, both at home and abroad. Members have made 216 local and 14 hospital calls. They sponsor the C.G.I.T. Group, under the leadership of Mrs. H. N. Pierce, and Mrs. Leland Mosher.

The Mission Band, under the leadership of Mrs. Kenneth Gale, and Miss Ruth Boomhour, and the Baby Band, supervised by Mrs. Lyle Thompson. A complete layout was donated to home missions, and a bale of good serviceable used clothing, valued at $75 was prepaid to the overseas destination. This Society has an active membership of 14, and 24 associate members. Total amount raised $289.05; after all expenses were met, $270.20 was forwarded to Presbytery.

Miss Kathleen Kezar reported for the C.G.I.T. membership increased from 12 to 24 in this group, whose year included study work and recreation. Five of these girls attended the banquet and conference in Montreal, with Mrs. Pierce, and ten members accompanied Mrs. Leland Mosher to the Rally at Richmond. This group attended the World Day of Prayer, conducted the devotional, and gave the program at a W.M.S. meeting. Also conducted the Christmas Vesper and White Gift Service. They have given $5 to missions, and have a balance of $26 on hand.

All church buildings need painting and major alterations are needed at the vestry. Board of Stewards held three meetings. Business transacted was the purchase of some new hymn books for the church, one hundred dollars contributed to the choir organ fund; a new set of Christmas cards to be sent to visitors; the every member canvass; the special Easter and Christmas offerings were organized as usual. Eighty-eight sets of envelopes were used in 1951 and to date, 93 sets for 1952. The above report was given by Mr. J. E. Walker.

This proposal was heartily approved by all present. The special committee, Messrs. Leland, Mosher, Guyle, Clough, and E. P. Lyon were chosen by acclamation.

An eloquent tribute was paid the pastor, by Mr. J. E. MacVicar, who said in part, "we cannot let this opportunity pass without paying our tribute to you for your splendid devotion to the cause of the United Church, in our midst, and all that pertains to the spiritual and material welfare of its individual members. He referred to his sermons as having been followed by rapt attention and it had been a source of profound satisfaction to the members of the Session and Board to know that the life and progress of Beulah United are assured by his wise and tactful leadership. He went on to say that his diversified gifts, unflinching zeal, sound judgment, and unflinching tact command the respect and admiration of all. This tribute was spoken to by Mr. Slack and heartily endorsed by all.

SAINTS DOWN SENATORS 4-1 AND DUMP CATARACTS 5-1

Locals Move Closer To Braves In Hard Week-End Games; Chicoutimi Here Tomorrow Evening At 8.30

Sherbrooke Saints moved a step closer to fifth position in the Senior Group standing when they chalked up two victories over the week-end. Saturday evening in the Capital City they dumped the Senators 4-1 and yesterday afternoon on their home ice, they took the count of their closest rivals, the Cataracts of Shawinigan Falls, to the tune of 5-1.

The double win put the Dugre squad three points ahead of the Cats and fifth position in the circuit.

Tomorrow evening the Saints will be hosts to Rollie Hebert and his Chics from Chicoutimi at the local Arena in the last game until the Royals will move into town to keep an engagement with the Saints.

The victories proved costly to the locals as they may lose the services of Nils Tremblay, their hard-working pivotman, who was injured Saturday evening in Ottawa and maybe on the sidelines for the balance of the season when he fractured his collarbone.

During the last three games of the Saints Roger Bessette has let only three goals get by him. During the past two weeks the local net minder has been outguessed only eleven times in seven games for an average of 1.571. If the Saints maintain their present pace they stand a good chance of bypassing the Valleyfield Braves as Blake's team has played two games more than the Saints.

With the absence of Tremblay, Coach Ivan Dugre sent Ken Biggs to replace the little centre man and shifted Gilles Dube to patrol left lane with Campeau while Tom McDougall filled in on the wing position.

Yesterday's tilt was a rather dull affair as both teams lacked their usual drive as the hard games on Saturday had their telling effect and the game lacked the polish and finish of previous affairs.

A couple of fights in the third period gave the fans a little excitement for a rather dull afternoon. The teams went in spurts during the initial frame while in the second period it was a parade to the penalty bench as referee Stan Pratt handed out fifteen penalties, four majors for fighting.

Bunny Smith, who hasn't tallied a goal since January 13, finally found the range and batted home two goals yesterday and supplied an assist. Tod Campeau, Bobby Pepin and Bill Kyle accounted for the others. Lyle Wiseman saved the Cats from a shutout when he tallied in the first period.

Bobby Pepin almost chalked up a point when he rifled one of his special snap-shots that caught Millar off balance. He juggled the shot but recovered in time before Pepin could shove it into the net. Hinchberger got the thumb for holding Jimmy Planché and during his absence Bunny Smith came through with his first goal when he teamed up with Labrie and Rene Pepin to beat Millar.

However a minute later from a faceoff end in Sherbrooke territory Mel Reed slipped the disc back to Wiseman and his shot hit Bessette's stick, to roll into the net. Just before the end of the period Bobby Pepin got right in on Millar alone but the Cats net-minder came up with the save to ease the situation.

Bessette was called upon to extend himself at the start of the middle frame when Gross got in alone but he made the stop. Bobby Pepin picked up a long pass from Tod Campeau and circled the defense to walk in on Millar alone. He feinted and when the Cats' net guardian made his move Pepin pushed the disc into the open net.

Reed acted the nod for slashing Bill Kyle and the locals moved further ahead. Bobby Pepin picked up the disc and made a perfect pass to Rene Pepin, who was standing by the net, and he in turn slipped it over to Campeau directly in front and the red light went on.

A steady parade started for the penalty bench at this stage with both teams taking their turn at keeping penalty time-keeper Lorenzo Couture occupied. At one time there were four players in the cooler at once.

The Saints still had one in the cooler while the Cats had two when Bunny Smith tallied his second goal. Millar had blocked Bill Kyle's shot when he put the disc over him to put the Cats presumed it was off-side and complained but referee Pratt ruled otherwise and the goal counted.

The third period got away to a slow start and until the fireworks exploded with the bouts between Roger Bedard, former Red of Providence, tangled with Bunny Smith and the boys squared off for a few blows. The Grubby drew a few uppercuts for his effort as Smith was swinging away in fine style.

With the teams at full strength Pete Wright was given the nod for slashing Jack Taylor but nothing happened as the Cats couldn't get organized and were outplayed by the short-handed Saints.

About three minutes from the

end Ted Hodgson shoved Dube into the net and then took a swipe at the local winger. Pete Wright stepped in and after a few brief words ripped off his gloves and went for the rangy Shawinigan rearguard but all the fight had left Hodgson by now. The boys drew majors while Hodgson was tackled with a minor for shoving Dube. They finished the game in the cooler.

Twenty seconds later Guy Labrie got the thumb for slashing Mel Reed leaving the locals two men short. His mates held the fort until he returned. Twenty-five seconds before the end of the game Smith lifted out a pass intended for Kyle but Reed partially intercepted it but when it got away Kyle snared it and walked in on Millar to register the locals fifth tally.

Joanne Hewson Wins Downhill Ski Race

Voss, Norway, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Joanne Hewson of Montreal, won the women's 1,100-metre downhill race in the Helmenkollen Ski Festival Saturday, finishing the course in 1:41.4.

Fifth, behind three Norwegian entries, was Mrs. Rhoda Wurtele Eaves of Montreal. Rosemary Schutz of Montreal, who won the giant slalom event Friday, was sixth.

Norway's Stein Erikson won the men's downhill over a longer and tougher course in 3:04.2. Best non-Norwegian entry was Franz Gabl, director of the Mount Norway Skiing School at Banff, Alta., and coach of the Canadian women's team.

Andre Bertrand of Quebec City was 10th, Bob Richardson of Magog, Que., 11th and Jack Griffin of Vancouver 16th.

In yesterday's events, Mrs. Eaves won the ladies Holmenkollen slalom with a time of 1:44.5. She beat two Norwegians, Tull Gasmann who finished in 1:45.0, and Borghild Nisken with 1:54.4.

Miss Schutz was fourth and Lucille Wheeler of St. Jovite, Que., fifth. Miss Hewson was disqualified for missing a gate.

The men's race was won by Gutorm Berge of Norway in 2:21.1. Stein Erikson of Norway, was second in 2:23.2 and Tom Canadian was Gabl with 2:30.0.

Nils Tremblay May Be Out For Balance Of Season With Fractured Collarbone; Locals Suffer Injuries In Rough Tilt

INJURED

NILS TREMBLAY

Nils Tremblay received a serious injury to his shoulder Saturday evening in Ottawa and maybe lost to the local club for the rest of the season.

The former Senator is under the care of Dr. Lionel Groleau and Dr. Real Lafond, club doctor, and will have an x-ray taken at the St. Vincent de Paul hospital to determine the exact nature of the blow. It is reported that he suffered a fractured collarbone.

Tremblay, who registered a goal and assisted on two others, was victim of an accident when he collided with Gordie Hudson during the third period.

The local centre player was not the only one to be injured in Saturday's game, which was very rough and referee Pean Bennett handed out only three penalties to the Senators for their share of the tilt.

Joe Lepine suffered a cut by Fritz Fraser which required three stitches to close it when he was clipped by his stick. Pete Wright was cut on the ear from another Senator rearguard.

Butch Stahan tossed his elbows around in grand style and got away without a penalty. He broke one of Bobby Pepin's teeth and Tod Campeau is carrying a sore jaw from receiving an elbow in the mouth.

"We don't like to complain, stated Coach Ivan Dugre, yesterday afternoon," but it is very funny to me that besides receiving the penalties we are also picking up all the cuts and blows while the others get off without a cut.

Royals And Aces Share Spotlight In Senior Group Race; Valleyfield Braves Drop Two Over Week-End

Quebec Aces and Montreal Royals today shared the spotlight in the Quebec Senior Hockey League.

The Quebec team moved into a first place tilt with the Royals Sunday when they downed Valleyfield Braves 4-2 while Montreal was playing a 1-2 overtime deadlock with Chicoutimi Saguenays.

Each team has 60 points although the Royals have played one game less than the Quebecers.

Chicoutimi is in third spot with 53 points and is followed by Ottawa Senators with 50.

Valleyfield Braves are in fifth place with 44. Sherbrooke comes next with 39 and Shawinigan Falls Cataracts are in the cellar with 36 points.

In the game between Royals and Chicoutimi, Gerry Plamondon sent the Montrealers in to the lead in the first period with Lulu Denis and Kinkbeiner setting him up.

The teams played through a scoreless second session and the one-goal lead looked good enough for the win until 16:20 of the last session when Lamirande shot home the puck when White sent him a goal-mouth pass on completion of the play.

At Valleyfield, Kraiger, Leyte, Jean Beliveau and Herbie Carnegie tallied for the victors and goal-getters for the losers were Rosaire Joannette and Andre Coriveau.

Valleyfield led a 1-0 at the end of the first period on Joannette's marker. Kraiger tied it up early in the second but Coriveau once more shot the Braves into the lead.

Beliveau evened things up again and then it was Quebec's turn to take the lead on Leyte's goal. Carnegie scored the only goal of the third period to assure Quebec's victory.

In a Saturday game at Shawinigan Falls, and overtime goal by Wiseman gave the surprising Shawinigan Falls a 3-2 win over Valleyfield Braves. Wiseman drove a shot from the blue line hitting the post and beating goalie Leclerc for the winner.

At Ottawa Saturday, Sherbrooke scored a 4-1 upset victory over Ottawa Senators.

Mel Stonehouse's Rink Cops Lieutenant-Governor's Trophy And 39th Bonspiel Championship

Quebec, Feb. 4.—(AP)—An Ottawa Quebec rink skipped by Mel Stonehouse, captured the Lieutenant-Governor's trophy and championship of Quebec's 39th International Bonspiel.

The Ottawa skip, who won the title in 1950 while playing out of Quebec, led his pickup team to an easy 13-7 win over a Quebec Jacques Cartier rink, led by Gaston Amyot, after scoring six stones in the eighth end.

Stonehouse's rink included E. Robertson of Ottawa, third; Herb Pearson, former Ottawa won living in Quebec, second; and Jack Chuck Thron of Quebec, lead.

The six-day Spiel's grand aggregate award for the most wins went to Nelson Findley's rink from Toronto Royal Canadian with a record of eight victories and two defeats.

The award was Findley's second after defeating Earl Gallagher of Montreal West 12-4 to win the City of Quebec trophy. Gallagher, who won earlier the Chateau International for the second time in four years, finished second with an eight-three record.

Apart from Findley's two wins and Stonehouse's victory, Ontario rinks won two other awards. Three finals went to Montreal District, including Gallagher's Chateau victory.

Quebec City rinks won four awards, while Montreal, N.B., and Ormstown, Que., rinks won one each.

A Coppercliff, Ont., rink, skipped by Mac Cananipi, a newcomer to the Spiel, Friday night won the International Golf Cup, a $1,500 award put up for competition for the first time this year.

"Preacher" Roe Signs At Big Increase
New York, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Elwin (Preacher) Roe, acclaimed as one of the best National League south-paw pitchers since Carl Hubbell, has signed his 1952 contract with the Dodgers at possibly the biggest salary ever paid a Brooklyn pitcher.

Although no salary figure was given, it was believed that Roe's 1951 record of 22 victories and three defeats had earned him a whopping increase over last year's estimated $22,500, putting his 1952 pay around $30,000.

St. Francis and Superior will meet in the final two games of the circuit and the School boys will have to cop both tilts if they wish to finish in a tie with league-leading Saints.

The Mercurys yesterday tripped a team of Canadians living in Europe 7-1. Gordon Robertson paced Edmonton with three goals while George Abel, Billy Gibson, Al Purvis and Bruce Dickson scored one each.

Saturday the Mercurys took the measure of a Dutch team bolstered with Canadians 12-3.

Right-winger Gordon Robertson, loaned by the Mercurys to the long snip, sniped two of their three tallies.

Mrs. Linton's Rink Cops Sewell Trophy

Signior Club, Que., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Mrs. H. M. Linton skipped her Montreal St. George rink to victory here yesterday in the 21st annual Sewell Trophy Irons Bonspiel, downing Mrs. L. Nerlich, Toronto Granite, 10-8 in the final.

The Montreal team, which included Mrs. J. H. L. Ross Mrs. A. B. Clarke, Mrs. G. W. Cross with Mrs. Linton as skip, takes the trophy to the George club for the first time in its history.

In three preliminary rounds, they built up a plus-17 margin to score and qualify for the semi-final with three other rinks having high plus scores in three wins.

In the semi-final round, the St. George players defeated Mrs. G. A. Wood, Peterborough, Ont., 11-3, and Mrs. Nerlich defeated Mrs. Cyril Chapman, Montebello, 1-6.

Mrs. F. Earle's Lachute rink won the first consolation award defeating Mrs. R. F. Detmets, Outremont 11-10.

Three other rinks winning all three games in preliminary rounds but whose plus margin of score was not sufficiently high to qualify for the semi-final were veteran Quebec skip, Mrs. T. M. Houghton, Mrs. T. J. Quintin, Sherbrooke, and Miss M. Patterson, Toronto Granite.

Ottawa Teen-Aged College Student Will Mush With Top Drivers In Dog Derby Day Thursday At Ottawa

Ottawa, Feb. 4.—A 15-year-old college student will be mushing along with top Canadian and United States drivers when the gun goes off the annual three-day, 100-mile International Dog Derby here Thursday.

Fernand, a novice, already owns a fair share of trophies. At the age of 12 he won the juvenile championship during the 1949 winter carnival. His father, Hubert Telmosse, is his manager, coach and general guide.

Mr. Telmosse also is a former racer of some reputation. He competed against the present Derby champion, 38-year-old Emile Martel of Loretteville, Que., when Fernand was a baby.

Fernand doesn't give himself much of a chance of taking any of the major prizes. He only wants the experience this year. However, he ran a close third to St. Dinny Hayes of Ottawa—being sponsored by the Army—last week in a 20-mile race. And he only used four dogs.

His time for that distance was comparable to Derby speed, but his dogs are an unknown quantity at the 100 miles for the big race which is run in three day heats of 33 1/3 miles.

Also Young Fernand is having troubles. His lead dog, "Rex" is too old for the kind of competition encountered in the 100-mile race and he has been training another for the lead role. He doesn't know how the new dog will be.

Brown Derby, Former Local Horse, Wins

Toronto, Feb. 4.—Brown Derby, owned by A. Godin of Three Rivers, Que., and Court Orr, owned and handled by Max Featherstone, shared honors in the sixth and feature event at Dufferin Park here yesterday.

Court Orr took an easy win in the first heat over a muddy course. Dillon Seymour closed in the final quarter to place second with Balbo Siskiyou third.

Brown Derby, driven by Real Bardier, took command from the start to win an easy first place in the second heat. Peggy Laird, outpaced in the early stages, gradually improved her position to gain second spot. Dillon Seymour was third.

Banff, Alta., Feb. 4.—Washington State College yesterday captured the team championship at the sixth annual international intercollegiate ski meet here.

Washington State put together a total of 394 points in the four events of the two-day meet to win the title for the first time. The University of Washington, defending champions, scored 389.7 points for second place.

In the individual four-way combined competition Sven Huse of Washington State walked away with first place, compiling 362.2 points in the four events. He placed second in both the cross-country and the jumping for most of his points.

Olaf Giestrud of Wenatchee Junior College, Wenatchee, Wash., was second in the individual with 351.9 points.

The University of British Columbia made the best showing of the two Canadian teams competing in the nine-team meet.

U.B.C. placed third, behind Washington's two squads, with 351.3 points.

In the individual ratings, Gar Robinson of U.B.C. was the top Canadian. He won the giant slalom and placed fifth in the downhill.

Three Former Players Named To Hall Of Fame

New York, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The International League baseball writers association elected three former standouts to the circuit's Hall of Fame yesterday.

The writers selected pitcher Jack Ogden, who won 213 games while toiling for Baltimore, Newark and Rochester; William Murray, who won four pennants while managing Providence and Jersey City from 1894-1906 and George (Hooks) Wiltse, former manager of Buffalo, Jersey City and Reading.

There now are 25 men in the league's Hall of Fame. The League, holding its annual meeting at the same time, adopted a 154-game schedule for 1952 and named two new league directors. The season will open April 16 and close Sept. 7, followed by the Saugussey playoffs.

Opening day finds Montreal at Syracuse, Ottawa at Buffalo, Rochester at Springfield and Toronto at Baltimore. The schedule will be reversed for the northern openings on April 23.

The new directors are W. O. (Spike) Biggs, president of Detroit Tigers, who recently purchased the Buffalo team, and Connie Mack, president of Philadelphia Athletics who purchased the Ottawa franchise.

The writers also elected new officers. Jean Barrette, Montreal La Patrie, was named president.

Cowansville and Knowlton High Schools engaged in a senior tilt at the Manufacturing town's rink in one of the roughest games that has been played among the schools for some time. Cowansville won by a score of 5-3 with Graham Sharman sinking two, Bobby Taylor duplicating, and Tommy Low hiking in a lone counter. On the Purple and White

Dex Jolley, John Sutor and Gordie Wright pleased for the Kemp crew. The ice was slow and officials Gordie Bown and Merton Tyler had more work than some Memorial League games. Two fights were well under way and Dex Jolley of Knowlton was taken into the boards in real Big Time style. You can bet your dollar that in the next game there will be a few school boy athletes who will be taking cooling rests if this type of thing continues.

In the intermediate exhibition game between the same schools the Wood-coached boys won easily over Knowlton by a 4-1 score. Ross Hamilton saved K. H. S. from a shut out. In the regular Intermediate league Bedford and Cowansville are fighting it out for the top honours with both teams having won three and lost one. They split home-and-home games. In last Tuesday's at Cowansville won a whisker decision by a 2-1 count. Johnny Brown and Sirois propelled two for Lloyd Patch and Bedford's lone marker came to a try by Danny Cheek. Bedford showed Sutton the intricacies of hockey by an 8-1 shellacking and subdued St. John's 5-3. The Big Red team knocked Sutton 9-4 and blanked St. John's 4-0. Could be a play off if they maintain their winning ways.

On the girls' basketball front Granby are way out in front in points. They have doubled the score on every team they have played, with Waterloo their latest victims. Knowlton are competing with St. Helen's for second place and Waterloo and Cowansville are battling hard and giving their all to try to cinch that third place spot.

Knowlton knocked off the Cowansville girls 23-12, with a good all around display. Elsie Gocher was head of the scoring parade for Knowlton with eleven points, Rev. Bockus hooped in seven, Lillian Sanborn got two points, Rev. Watson the same with Carol Hirst floating in one foul shot. On guarding Faye Armstrong, "Old Reliable" Journeux, and Edith Thorsland were working like beavers.

For Cowansville, June Ogden led the Red team with seven points, Helen Ikegami scored two, Betty Ikegami three, and Lois Ingalls and Alice Longway racked up one each. On guard it was all Thelma Sharman who was all over the floor stopping attacks and helping set up plays.

Cowansville let loose on Bedford in the other fixture by a 46-4 decision. Ogden winged in nineteen points, Betty Ikegami twelve, and Alta Peron nine to score most of the points for C. H. S. E. Gage and J. Bombard got two points each for Bedford.

The girls' game of the weekend will be the Granby-Knowlton do and coach Clark Kemp feels sure that if his girls settle down to good basketball they can topple the undefeated Granby club.

Chaff: Kay Hueta's five goals against Waterloo show that the big boy has got over his spell of sickness. John Sutor is coming back strongly from his siege of polio and has popped in two goals in league play. Every-one around the Knowlton area will be sorry to know that Oliver Sutor has pinned down that Waterville job and is now moving his family away from Foster. Tom Ross, manager of the Knowlton town basketball team, and carpet bowler de luxe is heading for the Neuro for a check up on Tuesday.

Allan McFater-Jimmy Carter Bout May Draw Biggest Fight Crowd In Toronto's History On Thursday

Toronto, Feb. 4.—Scheduled for the unusual distance of nine rounds, tomorrow night's non-title bout between lightweight champion James Carter of New York and Toronto's Allan McFater has all the indications of drawing the biggest crowd in Toronto history.

Early movement of tickets is better than anything Maple Leaf Gardens officials can remember. In the opening hour and a half of sales Friday, over $1,000 worth of tickets passed through the wickets. More than 12,000 fans are expected to view the clash.

Carter, still trying to shake off an eye injury received Jan. 21 in a fight with Mario Trigo at Philadelphia, continued working out today. Spectators have crammed the gym watching the Negro fighters' every workout.

The 5½-foot champion may be having some trouble making weight for the 140-pound go. Although the lightweight limit is 135, Carter is reported to be refusing butter at meals and going easy on his eating.

The 20-year-old McFater pounded off a few miles of regular roadwork this morning, but is laying off the sparring. Tomorrow will be another easy day for the Canadian fighter.

The bout figures to be McFater's biggest in 24 professional appearances not only in the ring, but also on the financial side. He drew a $20,000 gate for his bout with Armand Savoie and this one could surpass that.

The nine rounds—a compromise between eight and 10—will not only be the first of its kind in Toronto, but also only the second time McFater has ever gone over eight. He once fought a 10-rounder over Jean Richard in Montreal.

However, McFater doesn't think the extra three minutes will bother him much.

U.S. Wins But Has Trouble With Fans

Zurich, Feb. 4.—The U.S. Olympic hockey team had more trouble with the fans than with their opponents yesterday as they defeated the Swiss Olympic squad 6-4 in an exhibition hockey game.

Some of the 10,000 spectators appeared to think the American players were playing too rough and snow balls were tossed from the stands. Arnie Oss of the American team was removed from the game after becoming involved in a dispute with some of the rabid Swiss fans.

Kiwanis Club Holds Meeting At Waterloo

Waterloo, Feb. 4. — At their weekly meeting at the Waterloo Hotel the Waterloo Kiwanis Club heard a very good address delivered by Mr. R. Meyer, secretary-treasurer of the R.C.A.F. Association, Wing 300 (Remembrance) Granby.

It was Air Force Night and several former R.C.A.F. personnel were present as the guests of the Kiwanians. Included among these guests were Mrs. Phyllis Savage, George Courville, Walter Hughes, Jim Stevens, Bernard Ledoux, Russell Bockus, Robert Racine, George Young, Rene Jolin, George Beaulieu, Francis Daigle, Jacques Lavigne, Clayton Bowker, James Dunn and Jules Lise.

Speaking on the Association, Mr. Meyer stated that it first took root in Ottawa in the mid-summer of 1948. Its organizer and first leader in Canada was Air Chief Marshall L. H. Breadner, then retired. A constitution was drawn and a provisional slate of officers was selected. The aims and objects of the association are as follows: (1) To establish an organization which by its existence will unite, retired reserve, auxiliary and former members of the R.C.A.F.; (2) To support in Canada an adequate and efficient Air Force for the defense of our country; (3) To sponsor and encourage aeronautics in all its branches, and to provide a means by which ex-air force personnel and the public may be kept abreast of the changes in aviation, and all that it implies from both military and civil standpoint; (4) To support the R.C.A.F. Regular, the Auxiliary Air Force, the Reserve, the Air Cadets and other components of the R.C.A.F. which may be formed; (5) and to co-operate with the R.C.A.F. Benevolent Fund, the Canadian Legion and any other organization devoted to the welfare of ex-air force personnel.

Granby was the first Wing formed in the Province of Quebec, the speaker went on, and the seventh in the Dominion. He elaborated on some of the aims and objects particularly showing what could have happened in the last war had such an association been in existence before 1939, and what might not have happened that did during the first part of the war. The R.C.A.F. was something new, something without too much foundation. The Association, however, brings the young fellow right up with the expanding and modern air forces of today. In December 1951, there were a total of 75 Wings spread over Canada, and since then at least one more has been formed in Drummondville. Mr. Meyer then asked all the former personnel of the R.C.A.F. in Waterloo and district to join forces with the Granby Wing and to make one strong unit in these parts. He fully explained the qualifications, the applications forms, fees and meeting dates to those present, and asked them to fully consider the possibility of making Wing 300 one of the best in the country.

Kiwanian Butch Bouchard, himself a former R.C.A.F. veteran introduced Mr. Meyer who was thanked by President Moe Katz. Next week the guest speaker will be Mr. John Coyle, manager of Carnation Company in Sherbrooke.

VESTRY MEETING

The annual Vestry meeting of St. Luke's Anglican Church was held in the Church Hall recently with Rev. Harry Andrews presiding.

A very good attendance was on hand to listen to the reports that were presented showing the various organizations had had a very successful year, with obligations having been met. The financial report given by Mr. Hugh Chambers, the People's Warden showed that during the year just passed the installation of an oil burner in both the church and rectory had been completed adding considerable comfort to all concerned, with no cost whatever to the parishioners of St. Luke's. This was a gift of the late Mrs. George E. Robinson, of Berkeley California. It was also stated that a very satisfactory increase in the endowment fund of seventy-one hundred dollars had been realized by bequests of former parishioners. There are no debts outstanding at this time, it was announced at this meeting.

The officers for the year are as follows: People's Warden, Mr. Hugh Chambers; Rector's Warden, Mr. L. Keith Allen; Vestry Clerk, Mr. Robert Flood; Delegates to Synod, Messrs. Irving Slack and Arthur Reed with substitutes being Robert Millinchamp and Hugh Chambers.

The reports of the Ladies' organizations were brought in by Mrs. A. F. Robinson for the P.W.A., Mrs. Frank Russell for St. Hilda's Guild, the Rummage Sale Committee by Miss L. M. Gilmour and the Sunday School by Mrs. C. G. Hall, where it was noted that ninety-six members are on the Roll with an average attendance of seventy-eight for the year. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to the ladies for their work by Mr. R. E. Moysey and seconded by Mr. Arthur Robinson. A committee consisting of the Corporation of the Church with Mr. Robert Millinchamp and Mr. Robert Flood was formed to look into the inadequate insurance which is carried on all church property and also at the same time two members were appointed to act with the Corporation in other necessary improvements to the church buildings and rectory.

P.W.A. MEETING

The P.W.A. held its regular meeting at the Rectory with Mrs. Harry Andrews presiding. Arrangements were made for the annual Vestry meeting held on January 28th in the Church Hall. The 13th annual meeting of the Waterloo Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society was held at the Court House on Saturday, January 26th, with a good representative on hand for the business. The president, Mr. Frank Allan, was in charge and reports were given by the various committees. Mr. Brodie Brittain read the treasurer's report. One disaster case was reported at Roxton Falls and another at L'Enfant Jesus in which the local society were responsible for bringing relief.

Two blood donor clinics were sponsored during the year, and it was requested that further publicity be given these clinics in the future. A complete report was brought in on Sickroom Supplies and Loan Cupboard which shows a very complete assortment of necessities in time of illness. In the report of Women's Work, many articles for hospital supplies as well as civilian clothing were made locally and shipped to the Red Cross House. In his report, Mr. Allan stated that the Branch had an active year which had more than justified its existence and stated he wished to thank all members of the executive for their co-operation during the year. He expressed his thanks to Rev. Andrews and Warden of St. Luke's Church for their cooperation in connection with the Blood Donor's Clinic. Mrs. L. C. Godbout was elected as official delegate to the Annual Meeting of the Provincial Division to be held in Montreal on February 27th.

United Church Annual Meeting At Bishopton

Bishopton, Feb. 4. — The annual congregational meeting of the United Church, Bishopton, was held at the Town Hall, and was preceded by an oyster supper, cooked by chef O. S. Joyce, and served by the ladies of the church, and was much enjoyed by those present.

Rev. J. S. Nicholson presided at the meeting, and opened same reading a portion of Romans 12th chapter, followed by prayer, while R. M. Bishop acted as secretary. After the reading of the minutes of the annual meeting for 1951, and their adoption as read, Dr. Elliott read an original poem, having the annual meeting as its theme, which was timely and much enjoyed.

Mr. Nickerson reported for the Board of Sessions, who after bringing greetings from the East Angus part of the charge, stated that he had officiated at 7 baptisms, 1 marriage, and 8 burials, had dispensed Holy Communion 4 times, and pastoral letters had been sent out quarterly; there are 76 members and 65 homes under his care. Prayer in remembrance of those who had departed this life, was led by Mr. Nicholson after which the report was adopted.

Mr. Edwards reported for the Board of Stewards, as well as the Missionary and Maintenance fund, showing total receipts for the former of $1067.72 and $232.70 for the latter, while disbursements for local purposes was $1084.27.

Mrs. Bentley, for the Sunshine Society, and Mrs. H. Kenney, for the Ladies' Aid, presented excellent reports, showing an active year's work, all obligations met, and a substantial balance on hand. Mr. W. J. Edwards' term of office as elder, having expired, he was re-elected to the Board of Sessions, while C. Ainsworth, O. Campbell, J. Couchman, T. E. Evans, L. Hooker, J. Joyce, F. A. Leonard and L. Mackay constitute the Board of Stewards; Mr. Evans, L. L. Mackay and Ira Dawson were named Trustees.

Adjournment was moved by Mrs. A. Smith, after which Mr. Nicholson pronounced the benediction.

Following is the poem, written and read by Dr. R. Elliott for the annual meeting of the United Church held at Bishopton:

"OUR ANNUAL MEETING"
This large congregation is met here tonight,
Where all seems so cosy and cheerful; and bright,
For our Annual Meeting, in which, e'er we close
We'll consider many matters, and learn how each goes.

The Sunday School, Sunshine Society, and Ladies' Aid—The Young Peoples' Groups, and the progress they've made.
Looking back we remember those now gone to rest
Who have crossed the dark river, whose souls are now blessed,
And others still struggling through this valley of tears
And enduring much suffering through the passing years.
Each will remember some poor fellowman.
For whom, with God's keep, he will do what he can.

There's a matter of much concern to all,
The attendance at church, which at times is so small.
But this can be bettered if each one of us here
Will resolve to come regularly throughout the whole year
And bring along friends, and visitors too
Who have come on Sunday—as so often they do.

Our finances, I'm told, are not too bad.
Which fact, I am sure, will make us all glad.
Our local expenses have all been met.
And our treasurer has quite some money yet.
Our M. and M. givings have increased quite a lot.
As his report will show how much he has got.

Now as we go forward in this new year
Let us do so with confidence, faith and good cheer.
May our Pastor and wife be blessed richly by God
As they labour to show us the path to be trod,
And may each of us members strive to do his full share
In helping this work, with reverence and prayer.

ROBERT ELLIOT, M.D.
