PROPOSALS FOR SECURITY WHICH FRENCH DEMAND AGAIN TAKEN UP

British and French Officials Hold Meeting—No Indications of Trend of Discussions, But Feeling Was Expressed in Conference Circles This Morning That Negotiations Were Nearing a Finish, Be That Good or Bad.

LONDON, April 4.—Premier Ramsay MacDonald, Right Hon. Arthur Henderson, Foreign Secretary, and Aristide Briand, Foreign Minister of France, had lunch together today to discuss proposals for security which the French demand, and it was understood final decision on the possibility of achieving a security agreement might be made at the lunch table.

For several days the British and French have been discussing a draft formula for security prepared by the British. This formula has now come back from Paris with French counter-suggestions, and today's luncheon was to give the British a chance to reply.

While there was no indication of how the discussions were trending, the feeling was expressed in Conference circles this morning that the negotiations were nearing a finish, be that good or bad.

LITTLE HOPE HELD OUT BY FRENCH DELEGATES

PARIS, April 4.—The barometer of hope by French circles in the London Naval Conference was down again today in consequence of the Italian party impasse and the conviction that the United States will never adhere to another sort of security pact satisfactory to France.

The satisfaction felt during the past few days at the fact that things had been taken in hand with a view to reaching an early accord has given place to expression of deep pessimism.

The only hope now understood to be held seriously in French circles is that a three power pact may be agreed upon and that this will ultimately help, along with the efforts of the League of Nations, to put through a general disarmament scheme.

THIRD READING OF COAL BILL PASSES HOUSE

Labor Government Succeeded Last Night in Putting Through Measure by Vote of 277 to 234—Is Expected to Put Coal Industry on Sound Basis.

LONDON, April 4.—The Labor Government has succeeded in putting through Parliament one of the great pieces of industrial legislation ever laid before it, the Coal Mines Bill. Third reading was given last night by a vote of 277 to 234, though the Conservatives, led by R. H. B. Stanley Baldwin, in a last minute attack declared their faith in the efficacy of the coal industry and refused to believe it was its last legs.

The Bill has had an arduous Parliamentary career since its introduction late last year, and has resulted in numerous narrow divisions, including one defeat for the Government.

It provides for the fixing of a quota of production of coal for the whole country. In each district a board composed of the colliery representatives themselves, will decide the allotment for each pit. The minimum price of coal can be established by the central board from time to time, and collieries selling below this minimum can be penalized.

The Bill carries provisions for furthering amalgamations between collieries.

There is another section of the Bill providing for reduction in hours of miners from eight to seven and a half a day. Before the coal strike of 1926 miners worked seven hours a day; after the coal strike the Conservative government raised the hours to eight. The bill finally settles the National Wage Board to consider questions of wages and hours in the industry.

Another feature of the Bill is provision for levying a certain percentage upon the domestic sales of coal for aiding the export trade.

Right Hon. William Graham, president of the Board of Trade and sponsor of the Bill, revealed that since the Government's coal marketing proposals had been introduced, there had been far reaching proposals for amalgamation of collieries. Every effort was being made to win the consent of hostile minorities to amalgamations in the interests of general efficiency, he told the House. He thought the organization of the industry provided for under this Bill would be of great advantage, especially in the matter of meeting Continental competition.

Right Hon. Stanley Baldwin pointed out to last year's sales of 240,000,000 tons of coal—only twenty per cent below the 1913 figures—was evidence of a creditable performance. He believed that no general charge of inefficiency could be levied against the management of the coal industry.

PROPOSITION OUTLINED BY NEWS AGENCY

Propose a Greater Distribution of European News by Radio Telephone from Paris.

MONTREAL, April 4.—Members of the Canadian Press from the Province of Quebec gathered here yesterday to meet M. Housaye, vice-president and general manager of the Havas News Agency of France, who was accompanied by M. Remy, Washington correspondent of Havas, and to consider a proposition for an extensive service of European news by radio telephone from Paris.

M. Housaye explained Havas, in conjunction with the French Government, had recently erected a high-powered broadcasting station at Paris, with the primary object of giving a continuous news service to South American newspapers, covering the news of Europe, particularly of the four Latin nations, France, Italy, Portugal and Spain, and Germany. He proposed to extend the service to Canadian daily newspapers and outlined a plan whereby the service could be copied in Montreal.

This novel proposal for putting down news out of the air by telephone was received with much interest, though the heavy cost involved seemed to make it impracticable just now in view of the fact The Canadian Press is already well served from Europe and contemplated putting in a staff correspondent in Paris.

Fire Damp Explosion Claimed A Toll Of Thirteen Lives

BRUSSELS, BELGIUM, April 4.—Thirteen men were killed and eight injured in a fire damp explosion in a coal mine at Elouges, near Mons, last night.

Two of the injured men were seriously hurt and were taken out by rescue crews who worked desperately throughout the night.

The explosion took place as an electrically controlled dynamite charge was detonated. The miner in charge of the operation declared that all precautions had been taken and that there was no trace of fire damp before the accident.

King Albert has requested by telegraph a complete report and the causes and circumstances of the tragedy.

OPINION ON UNEMPLOYMENT GIVEN BY PREMIER KING CAUSED UPROAR

Cries of "Shame" Arose from Opposition Benches When Prime Minister Said that He "Would Not Give a Five Cent Piece to Any Tory Government in This Dominion for Such Purposes as Unemployment Relief."

(Special to the Record)
OTTAWA, April 4.—Cries of "shame" from the Opposition benches in the House of Commons yesterday provoked the Honorable William Lyon Mackenzie King, Prime Minister, to repeat his statement that he "would not give a five cent piece to any Tory Government in this Dominion for such purposes as unemployment relief."

The statement caused such an uproar that it was some time before the Speaker was able to restore order, as members in various parts of the Chamber took exception to the fact that such a statement should have been made by the Prime Minister.

Premier King in his argument contended that there was no national unemployment problem at the present time, that what unemployment there existed was seasonal, that this would recur as long as there was a winter in Canada and as long as there was a Canada, that no provincial Government had communicated to the Federal Government during the present winter to ask for any help to meet unemployment problems, and that "in the absence of any representations whatever from any provincial Government we have no right to say that there is any national unemployment problem."

Trouble came shortly after the Premier had told of the absence of requests from any of the provincial Governments when he declared he would not give "These Tory and Progressive governments any financial aid for such purposes." Matters were made worse when he said: "I would be prepared to go a certain distance in giving some consideration to the two of the Western provinces in that have Progressive premiers at the head of their Governments; but I would not give a single cent to any Tory Government on earth."

An uproar from the opposition benches greeted the Prime Minister's remark and for a few moments the House was in a turmoil, with cries of "shame" issuing from all parts of the opposition. Hon. R. B. Bennett and Hon. H. H. Stevens, the Premier, however, returned immediately to this point and amplified it.

"May I repeat what I have said," he declared loudly. "With respect to giving money out of the federal treasury to any Tory government in this country for their unemployment purposes, with those governments situated as they are today with policies diametrically opposed to those of this government, I would not give them a five cent piece."

If the prime Minister chooses to amplify his remarks in this connection, it is expected it will be on the floor of the House. Proceedings this afternoon will be closely followed.

LORD WILLINGDON THRILLED OVER CANADA'S REMARKABLE PROGRESS

Outlining Wonderful Development Which He Has Witnessed During Three and a Half Years' Residence in Canada, His Excellency Pleads for Greater Co-operation Between Business Men and in Educational Matters.

VICTORIA, B. He outlined the possibilities of Empire co-operation, "I sincerely trust that in the future, businessmen throughout the Empire will get around a common table and put their heads together," his Excellency said.

"In education also," he continued, "there is an opportunity for co-operation. A general interchange of undergraduates between the various universities and of professors would be an excellent thing. There would be nothing better than to get young men out into the various parts of the Empire to learn of the different conditions."

UNITED STATES WOULD HELP IN ENFORCING LAW

Members of American Auto Association Ready to Co-operate With Canada if Law to Provide for Extradition of Careless Motorists Is Thought Advisable.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 4.—If the need for a treaty between Canada and the United States to provide for extradition of motorists breaking the laws of either country should be demonstrated members of the American Auto Association would support the necessary legislation.

Ernest N. Smith, executive vice-president of the association, expressed this opinion yesterday and added he could see no objection to extradition of motorists involved in serious accidents where there was direct responsibility.

Information that Hon. George S. Henry, Minister of Highways in Ontario, had advocated international legislation to provide for extradition, Mr. Smith regretted the text of the Minister's remarks was not available. He ventured the suggestion that there could hardly be objection to bringing to justice those guilty of criminal offenses, but considered that if it were merely a question of speeding or violation of some minor ordinance the advisability of extradition might be questionable.

FRANCE PAYS GREAT HONOR TO CANADIANS

Important Section of Paris, Overlooking Canadian Legation, Has Been Named "Place du Canada."

PARIS, April 4.—Canada is honored in Paris by having one of the principal "places" named for it.

"Place du Canada" is along the Seine, at the angle of the Avenue Emmanuel III and the Rue Francois Premier, at the corner of the Grand Palais, where a great stream of traffic crosses the Pont des Invalides. Overlooking this is the Canadian Legation.

The first Canadian Minister, Philippe Roy, who has represented his country here since before the War, as high commissioner, before the creation of the Legation, endeared himself to Parisians by remaining in Paris when the French Government moved to Bordeaux under the menace of the approaching German armies.

The strain upon Mr. Blain was specially heavy, because in the absence of Mr. Duplessis, he was the only lawyer of the Opposition, and the daily experience here illustrates the necessity of a reasonable "sprinkling" of lawyers.

In the way of direct progress, the Government did considerable in the matter of bridges, providing for the construction of a bridge between La Cite and Capchaque, for a new line from Bizard to Laval sur la Mer, and for one across the Gaspé Narrows.

Five additional counties were added to the membership of the Legislative Assembly, making the total ninety, the new creations being all rural.

In the matter of health, Hon. Athanasius David, in addition to carrying on with his colleagues the heavy burden of the health department, in legislation which is designed to give even easier facilities to the rural counties, for the establishment of county health units. A step forward was also made by the Minister in the matter of providing more adequate school inspection facilities, the number of inspectors being increased.

Education and health advances are also in the bill which Hon. Mr. David put through to provide $50,000 a year for the creation of a biological institute attached to Laval University, which will be affiliated with the Pasteur Institute, and a measure of credit for this creation must go to Dr. Anatole Plante, M.L.A. for Mercier, Montreal, who took the matter up on the floor of the House early in the session.

A grant of $250,000 to Bishop's College University was another educational landmark, especially for advancement of English education.

That the Government does not intend to mark time as regards problems of social insurance is indicated in the law to provide for the creation of a commission to study all such matters.

The cause of women made notable advance, even though there was no legislation; but the two reports of the commission which studied the status of women under the Civil Code, went a long way towards meeting the views of the women's organization, and it may be taken for granted that the resulting legislation will come down next session.

A slight gain was marked for the cause of women's suffrage, the vote rising to twenty-four in favor of granting the vote, but beyond that there were shown no signs that the province, generally speaking, as represented in the Assembly, has changed in sentiment in the matter.

Over many leagues of land and water, a well-typed letter, couched in terms of irreproachable English, from Mr. Peder A. Hansen and posted at Lisbon, Portugal, has reached "The Old Homestead". At the time of writing, the young man was saying a visit at the home of his uncle, in this city, with a population of nearly one hundred. With the prospect of returning soon, to his native northern land of Denmark, the young European's thoughts return to Canada and Hatley where for a time, he had been in the employ of Mr. A. E. Pellier. The writer, speaking briefly upon post-war conditions at home and expresses a wish that with one or two of his brothers, he might return and find farm employment and eventually might bring the remaining members of his family to this favored land. CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH REMEDY FOR CATARRH, CATARRH, DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES.

If you know to some one who is troubled with Catarrh, Deafness, head noises or ordinary catarrh cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. In England a secret for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily require constitutional treatment.

Sprays, inhalants and douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear, which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the air passages towards the lungs which is equally as dangerous. The following formula which is used extensively in the damp English climate is a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climatic conditions.

Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Permut (Double strength). Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Grogged nostrils, a cold, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the eustachian tubes is reduced. Permut used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired results. This preparation is easy to make, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh or head noises or is hard of hearing should give this treatment a trial.

PLAN ELECTRIC OPERATION OF ASBESTOS MINE

Canadian Johns-Manville Company Replacing Seventeen Steam Locomotives by Electric Driven Engines.

ASBESTOS, Que., April 4.—The greater efficiency and safety of electricity over steam in mining operations is again testified to by the decision of the Canadian Johns-Manville Company to electrify their entire plant at Asbestos.

For several years this company has had seventeen steam locomotives in operation in their mines and on their railway between Asbestos and Danville, where connection is made with the Canadian National Railway, a distance of about two miles. Already, however, these steam hoists have been retired and their place taken by electric engines, while the other fourteen are scheduled to finish their work within the next few months.

Over fifteen thousand tons of asbestos rock are being handled on the lines daily.

Why Some Ducks Were Left Behind

By Thornton W. Burgess

These menfolk seem to think that right is all that's needed to make right.

—Mrs. Quack.

Mrs. Quack had told Peter Rabbit that oil was the cause of some of her troubles on her long journey up from the Sunny South. Peter didn't even know what oil was, but of course he was curious to know all about it.

"It is something that is on the water—something man puts on there," explained Mrs. Quack. "It doesn't mix with the water, but floats on top. If a Duck, or other bird that swims on the water, doesn't see it and gets into trouble, it is dreadful. Yes, sir, it is dreadful."

"Why is it dreadful?" persisted Peter.

"Because," replied Mrs. Quack, "it gets our feathers all matted together. Birds often get in such condition that they cannot fly. We had to leave two of our flock behind us two days ago," Mrs. Quack said sadly.

"Do you mean you left them behind because they couldn't fly?" Peter asked. "That's it," replied Mrs. Quack. "They couldn't fly and they were sick besides. I think the oil made them sick. It gets worse and worse."

"But where does it all come from?" cried Peter.

"I don't know just where it all comes from," replied Mrs. Quack, "but a lot of it comes from big ships. Of course you don't know what a ship is. It is a great big boat that ever so many men can live on at one time. And it sails on the ocean. You don't know what the ocean is? It is a great body of water and the water is salt."

"I wouldn't like that," said Peter. "Oh, that's all right," replied Mrs. Quack, "when you can fly to fresh water when you are thirsty and when we are hungry. There are some Ducks that live on fish and get all their food in the salt water. Of course, we Mallard Ducks get our food in fresh water. But when we are journeying we do sometimes spend some of our time on salt water; especially where the salt water runs way up into the land, as it does in many places. It was in one of these places that we found the oil two days ago. Two of the flock had become separated from us and got into the oil before they saw it. We missed them and went to look for them. When we found them we knew that they wouldn't be able to come on with us. I don't like to think what will happen to them."

"Why don't they wash the oil off?" Peter asked.

"Oil will not wash off," replied Mrs. Quack. "There is no way we can get it off. Once a bird has it in his or her feathers, it is there to stay. It is awful! And all the time it is getting worse. Man seems to be using more and more oil. It isn't always on the salt water that we find it. Sometimes we find it on the big rivers. Man has emptied it into the big rivers. It not only makes danger for us, but it kills the fish and it kills the water-plants. The longer I live the more I wonder that I'm alive. These two-legged creatures called men are the most selfish creatures in all the Great World. They seldom think of anybody but themselves."

"Farmer Brown's Boy thinks of other people," spoke up Peter.

"That's so," replied Mrs. Quack. "I wish there were more like him. I wonder if he'll bring us any corn. I certainly would like a good dinner of corn."

ASK ITALY TO JOIN FRANCE AND BRITAIN

Meanwhile Henderson and Briand Continue Negotiations Regarding Extent to Which Britain Will Guarantee France Against Aggression.

LONDON, April 4.—Italy has been asked to join Great Britain and France in a mutual security arrangement affecting the Mediterranean. It became known yesterday.

Meanwhile Right Hon. Arthur Henderson and Aristide Briand, French Foreign Secretary, continued their negotiations regarding the extent to which Great Britain will guarantee France against aggression.

Colonel Stimson, head of the United States delegation, said: "The situation is much improved since last week and I am much more optimistic of a five-power agreement now than I was at that time."

Some conference observers saw in the invitation to Italy to join the Mediterranean security arrangement a jockeying by the French for a position from which it might be suggested to Italy that since everybody's security was guaranteed, the Mussolini Government might abandon its claim for naval parity with France.

Members of the police department have been busy engaged during the past few days fixing up the traffic regulation signs on the principal streets of the city. These include the well-known signs such as "No Parking", "No U-Turn", "Stop", and the others which are so familiar to motorists.

The signs are made of a thick rubber and are placed on the road where they are easily seen by all motorists.

A DECREASE IN COLLECTIONS AT LOCAL OFFICE

Revenues Collected by Customs and Excise Branch Showed Drop of $40,715.36 for Month of March.

A sharp drop in collections for the customs part of Sherbrooke features the statement issued by the local Customs and Excise office this morning. Total collections for the month of March were down from $129,027.69 in 1929 to $88,312.31 this year. While all sources of revenue were lower, the largest decrease was in the excise tax collections, which declined nearly fifty per cent from $42,177.20 in March, 1929, to $23,572.65.

The reductions in the rate of the sales tax is responsible for the greater part of this loss, this being the principal item collected under this head in Sherbrooke.

A falling off of $19,696.32 is seen in the customs duties collected during the month. In March, 1929, these amounted to $88,004.55 as compared with $68,401.23 last month. Here again the lowering of duties in the last budget effected the returns for the month.

The comparative statement for the months of March in 1929 and 1930 follows:

	Mar. 1930	Mar. 1929
Customs duties ..	$66,401.23	$86,086.55
Excise and sales tax ..	22,572.65	42,177.20
Excise duties ..	282.33	688.84
Sundry collections ..	56.10	95.20
Total ..	$88,312.31	$129,027.69

a bicycle, valued at $25, the property of a Mr. Southgate, of this city, and Valliere of stealing leather straps, valued at $12, from a warehouse of Codere Limited.

Two men, giving their names as Reginald McDonald and W. O'Connell, address unknown, were arrested in Richmond yesterday by Mr. Patrick Harrington, Canadian National Railways police constable at that place, on charges of riding on a C.N.R. train without paying their fares. The two men pleaded guilty on their appearance before Judge J. H. Lemay this morning and were fined $5 and costs, with the alternative of spending the next fifteen days in the local jail.

INTERESTING ADDRESS ON "THE GIBBS HOME"

Mr. W. E. Thorne, who has been actively engaged in educational work for many years in England, and who recently brought a party of English boys to the Gibbs Home in the city, was the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Y's Men's Club at the Y.M.C.A. last evening. He spoke of the Gibbs' Home, what it means to the boys of England, and how these young lads are picked out and brought together.

Mr. Thorne told of the founding of this successful Anglican organization many years ago, mentioning how in the early days the work was confined chiefly to destitute children, but during and since the War, the homes were largely filled with the children of fathers and mothers who had suffered or died through the war.

The starting of the home, the caring of the children, making sure that there is lots of fresh air and good food, and giving them a bright Christian outlook, means so very much.

Mr. D. P. Diplock, the campaign manager for the 1930 Y.M.C.A. financial drive, was present in connection with the campaign which opens next week.

COMEDY PLAY BY PLYMOUTH Y.P.S. IS WELL STAGED

Members of Cast Carried Out Their Parts in Excellent Style at Plymouth Church Hall Last Evening.

Plymouth Church Hall was crowded last evening when "Aaron Slick from Plover" which was presented under the auspices of the Y.P.S. of Plymouth United Church. A laugh from start to finish, with all members of the cast carrying out their parts in good fashion, the three-act comedy was exceptionally well staged and most enjoyable. The following is the complete cast:

Aaron Slick (not as green as he looks), Mr. L. A. Gilbert; Wilbur Merridew (a crooked speculator), Mr. E. Stewart; Clarence Green, (a mysterious young man), Mr. W. A. Fisher; Mrs. Rosy Berry (an Oklahoma widow), Mrs. R. Larabee; Gladys May Merridew (a sweet young thing), Miss B. Baglow; The Girl in Red, Miss B. Sears; and Sis Riggs (a regular tomboy), Miss A. Sangster.

Mr. Leonard Brodie presided at the piano. This three act rural comedy is staged in Oklahoma and the place is the kitchen of the widow's home, where Aaron proposes, or tries to, and where the crooked city speculator does his best to buy the farm on account of the oil he thinks he has found. Aaron comes to the fore and makes him pay for a half interest in the farm, more than the crook offered for the entire farm. The widow, (Mrs. Berry), and Sis Riggs move to Chicago and lead a gay life in a hotel. The city speculator, Mr. Merridew, finds no oil and takes action against the widow, but Aaron again comes to the rescue and finds courage to propose to the charming widow and they return to dear old "Oklahoma."

Mr. L. A. Gilbert, as "Aaron Slick," is irresistible, carrying out his part of the bashful lover to perfection. He also provoked much laughter in his attempts to propose to the charming widow, Mrs. Rosy Berry, and later, when the scene changes to Chicago, he proves most convincingly that he is "not as green as he looks."

Mr. E. Stewart, who took the part of the crooked speculator, had a long and difficult role, which he played exceedingly well, as did Mr. W. A. Fisher, as the mysterious young Clarence Young, who later turned out to be a very capable detective, Mrs. R. Larabee as the attractive widow, Mrs. Rosy Berry, was outstanding. Her acting, especially when she attempted to help the bashful Aaron when he was on the point of proposing delighted the audience.

Miss B. Baglow as the sweet young niece, Gladys May Merridew, looked charming and sophisticated and took her part well. Miss B. Sears, who represented "The Girl in Red," was most alluring, and she very nearly captivated the susceptible Aaron. Miss Alice Sangster as Sis Riggs, the tomboy, who works for the widow, carried out the role of the country girl to perfection. All the members of the cast took their parts exceptionally well, but to Mrs. Larabee, Miss Sangster, Mr. Gilbert and Mr. Stewart, who played the premier roles, much of the success of the entertainment is due. Mr. Leonard Brodie at the piano enlivened the intermission between the acts, assisted by Mr. W. J. Ormiston, who in his unaccustomed Scotch songs dressed in Highland costume, was very entertaining. The programme concluded with God Save the King.

Prior to the opening of the programme, Rev. Dr. Read expressed the deep appreciation of the Y.P.S. members to the cast, and to Mr. A. J. Phillips, whose valuable help so cheerfully given, effected in no little measure to make the play such a splendid success.

POWER PROBLEM IS TAKEN UP BY BOARD OF TRADE

As City Does Not Object to Outside Power Concerns Operating Here, the Fact Should Be Given More Publicity, Said Mr. Chénier Picard at Meeting Last Night—General Session on April 16.

Why shouldn't Sherbrooke give more publicity to the fact that outside power companies are allowed to sell power here in competition with the municipally owned power industry? This important question was brought up at a meeting of the Board of Trade Council in the City Hall last evening, and, with questions in connection with an air-drome for Sherbrooke and a parking place for tourists, will be discussed at a general meeting of the Board of Trade to be held on April 16th.

Mr. Chénier Picard, member of the Board of Trade Finance Committee, brought the question of the eligibility of private power concerns to operate in this city before the meeting. He stated that the city did not oppose the entrance of these private concerns, who could, he claimed, sell all the power the city desired within the city limits, as Sherbrooke was not a "closed city." As the city took this stand, why not advertise it more, he argued, and thus clear the impression that many people of Sherbrooke and elsewhere have that no private concern is allowed to operate within the city limits. The question was discussed at some length and the matter laid over until the general meeting, when it is hoped that there will be a representative gathering of members to study the problem.

The standing question of an air-drome for Sherbrooke was taken up by Mr. Chénier Picard, and before the members of the council for discussion. Arguments for and against the city taking the initiative in this matter were heard, with a scant majority being in favor of a municipal airport. The project, however, was shelved until the general meeting, when it will again be brought forward for discussion.

The tourist problem came in for considerable discussion last night, the bone of contention being whether or not the small house on the Webster property on Meadow Street, which is suggested as a parking place for tourists, would be suitable for the purpose. Information was given by Messrs A. C. Skinner and J. K. Edwards were appointed to enquire into the matter and report their findings at the general meeting.

The matter of more signs to inform tourists of goods which can be obtained cheaper in Canada, than for merchants and the printing of the U. S. Statutes regarding tourist regulations will also be taken up at the meeting on April 16th.

The meeting was presided over by last night by the president, Mr. A. C. Skinner.

Senate Gave Second Reading

real said he had never seen a bill which was clearer than the liquor export bill and there was no need to refer it to a special committee. Such a committee would be a waste of time, he said, and he would like to see the Government to negotiate an anti-smuggling treaty.

Senator P. W. Laird (Conservative, Regina) said the bill might have been passed without much comment, but for the "alarming" speeches made in the Senate by the leaders of the Government. He thought Senator Dandurand in his speech on the motion for second reading had "put the cold steel into friends of the party which he represents and which were certainly friends in need."

In the year 1925 the services of those friends were very welcome in that year but apparently they were not so welcome at this time," Senator Laird claimed. A special committee should be appointed to consider the bill in order that it could obtain information respecting the revenue Canada would lose if the bill passed, the effect on employment, the amount of capital investment that would be affected, the enforcement of the existing law, and cognate matters. In this opinion it was his duty to stop liquor from being shipped to the United States and continue shipping liquors to St. Pierre, Miquelon.

Senator Dandurand pointed out that "The United States has not asked us to stop clearances to St. Pierre-Miquelon and they won't ask us that without asking other countries to do the same."

Senator Lynch-Staunton of Hamilton said the bill had passed the Commons without much discussion and he thought it would pass the Senate. He thought the bill to a committee would not stop it from going through. They ought to be satisfied it was effective legislation and legislation that would not do Canada any injury. By permitting liquor to go to St. Pierre-Miquelon Canada would be losing nine dollars a gallon. If Canada lost that revenue the United States gained nothing or obtained no advantage why pass the bill? "I am sincerely impressed with the fact that this legislation is futile and is a mere gesture," said the Hamilton Senator.

LENNOXVILLE COUPEE HELD AT NEWPORT

Henry Myhill and Dorothy Brent, Both Said to Be from Lennoxville, and Posing as Man and Wife, Were Taken Off Train.

ST. JOHNSTON, Vt., April 4.—Henry Myhill, of Lennoxville, Quebec, and Dorothy Brent, also of Lennoxville, posing as man and wife, were arrested by Immigration Officer Hugh McNeal, in charge of the Quebec Central train coming into Newport Wednesday.

The pair, who were bound for Massachusetts, were taken off at Newport and subjected to rigid examination and Myhill was held on the charge of violating the Mann Act and the woman was charged with trying to enter the country under an assumed name.

They were lodged in Orleans County jail and at a hearing later in the day before U. S. Commissioner Walter H. Cleary bail was fixed for Myhill at $500 and the girl's bail was $400.

Myhill had on his person the sum of $400 said to belong to the young woman but he declined to put the sum as her bail unless he could be released also. He was finally induced to give up the sum for her and she with her child was released. Myhill is said to have a wife and children living in Sutton, P. Q. and he was formerly employed by the Boston and Maine at Newport. He is fifty-three years of age and she is twenty-three.

MISSION SERVICES WILL BE HELD IN ST. PETER'S

Will Be Conducted by Captain Arthur Casey—Two Church Army Officers Have Been at Work Here for Past Two Weeks.

In preparation for the mission to be conducted by Captain Arthur Casey in St. Paul's Anglican Church, two captains of the Church Army in Canada have been working in the parishes of St. Peter's, Church of the Advent, and St. Paul's Mission during the past two weeks. During their time here these captains, Messrs. Ayland and Baker, have endeavored to speak to every organization belonging to every Sherbrooke church and so far as has been possible have called on every Anglican family in these parishes giving all a personal invitation to the mission services, and now that the time of the mission itself draws near some one perhaps is still wondering "What is the Church Army?" "Who is Capt. Casey?" and "What is the object of the mission?"

The Church Army is a body of Lay Evangelists who stand for conversion, consecration and churchmanship. All are communicant members of the Anglican Church. The organization was founded nearly fifty years ago by a young clergyman of the Church of England in London, Eng., who felt the need of such workers, and who also felt that the Anglican Church was broad enough to have a place for the layman. So he began a very uphill fight, first alone and then with a few followers, chiefly maids and butlers, etc., and so on till today there are in England, over eleven hundred commissioned officers and sisters and their founder and chief, Wilton Carrile, now a prebendary of St. Paul's Cathedral and Companion of Honor to the King, has seen the Church Army welcomed by almost every bishop of the Anglican communion.

Church Army headquarters now occupy a huge building near Hyatt Park, London, England, and from that building are operated the fifty-five different departments of evangelistic and social work. Of late the Church Army has spread beyond England and its branches are officers in India, Africa, Australia, New Zealand, etc., and this year it is hoped that other officers will be sent to other countries.

Bishops of the Episcopal Church in the United States asked that officers from England might spend some time with them that they might see whether or not the work would be practicable there, with the result that a Church Army training centre was opened there, and so it was here in Canada, when in the year 1925, a training centre was opened in Toronto, and on January 6th, 1930, saw the first Canadian captains commissioned, and now there are more cadets in training. This summer men will be sent to various parts of Canada in charge of their vans so taking around—perhaps to places not otherwise reached—the message of "Jesus and His Love."

Capt. Casey has been with the Church Army many years, and many and varied are his experiences including missions conducted in English prisons. He is at present acting secretary of the Church Army in Canada.

The object of the mission is to tell again the "old, old story, old, yet ever new, another effort to urge on them that have fallen from grace, and to strengthen such as do stand."

A list of services will be found in tomorrow's issue.

CITY BRIEFLETS

COAT OF PAINT WOULD IMPROVE PARK BENCHES. This week the park benches were placed in Strathcona Square, which is a happy indication that warm weather is slowly but surely coming this way.

When the benches were placed in the park it was presumed that they would be given a fresh coating of green paint. This has not been done as yet. It has been suggested that the Parks and Real Estate Committee make a note of this fact and see to it that the benches are given a much-needed touching up with the paint brush.

Mrs. Ernest Wright, of River Road, Passed Away at Home of Her Cousin in Richmond Yesterday.

RICHMOND, Que., April 4.—The death occurred here yesterday afternoon of Mrs. Ernest Wright, a well known resident of the River Road, Cleveland Township.

Mrs. Wright came to town yesterday morning to spend the day and paid a visit to her cousin, Mrs. Walker, Stanley Avenue. Shortly after entering the house, she complained of a feeling of weakness, but after a short rest seemed to be restored to her usual health.

However, about two hours later she collapsed to the floor. Dr. Manning was called, but in spite of all his efforts she passed away about three o'clock from heart failure.

The funeral will be held from her late residence, River Road, tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock, to St. Andrew's Church, Richmond.

MADAME ALBANI HAS CONCLUDED GREAT CAREER

World-Famed Singer, Who Was Born in Chambly, Que., Died in London Yesterday.

LONDON, April 4.—The rise from obscurity in the little French-Canadian village of Chambly, Que., to become a world-famous singer, claiming the friendship of Queen Victoria, was the record won by Madame Albani, whose death occurred in London yesterday, at the advanced age of seventy-eight years. The history of Madame Albani's colorful career is the story of the daughter of a church organist in a small Canadian village, whose musical abilities lifted her from the humble position of choir singer to the honor of being one of the greatest sopranos of the last century. Ere she retired from the concert platform, at the age of sixty years, Madame Albani had made the "first singer" of the German royal household, had been an intimate friend of the late Queen Victoria of England, and had heard the plaudits of the musical elite of the great cities of the world. It was at Albany, N.Y., that the soprano first made her public appearance and later, in assuming her professional name, she remembered to honor the city where her career had begun.

Madame Albani was born Marie Emma Lajeunesse, daughter of Joseph Lajeunesse, organist in the church of the Canadian village of Chambly, near Montreal, on November 1, 1852. The early teachings of her father a man of excellent musical tastes, for her a reputation as a player of the piano, organ and harp even before her singing was noticed.

Her voice first attracted attention while she was a student at the "Convent of the Sacred Heart," at Montreal. Soon afterward the family moved to Albany, N.Y., where at the age of fifteen Marie Emma became organist and choir director of an Albany church. In this city she made her first public appearance as a singer. Friends noticed the child musician was gifted with a remarkable voice and she was urged and assisted to begin the study of singing under the best masters available in Albany. She pursued her studies, later going to Europe for work under teachers in Paris and Milan.

Her debut was made in 1870 at Messina, Sicily, in the opera "La Sonnambula." Her triumph there brought her to Florence and so on to the heights of her career.

Supplementary estimates tabled by Hon. A. R. McMaster, Provincial Treasurer, call for a total of $8,422,440 for the current year, which ended June 30, 1930. The larger amounts are $190,000 for the administration of justice, $651,515 for public instruction, $210,000 for insane asylums, $70,000 for reformatory and industrial schools, $20,537 for public works and labor, of which $150,000 is for sound and healthy bridges along highways, which the Government is taking over from the municipalities, $666,000 for agriculture, $424,000 for roads and mines of which $400,000 is for roads, $395,000 for lands and forests, $268,000 for the Department of Colonization, and $1,000,000 for charges on revenue, and $32,422 for divers services.

Alme Guertin, Conservative M.L.A., for Hull, talked in the Assembly of floodings in the Gatineau district, claiming that the people of Maniwaki and neighborhood had suffered considerable material damage and that the fault was due to the Government. He claimed also that Hon. J. E. Perraault, Minister of Roads, when visiting the district last summer, had played politics on a wide scale.

Hon. Mr. Perraault said that when he had visited the district he had found that he had been preceded by Mr. Guertin, who had talked much politics, and much also that was not according to fact. It was not the fault of the Government, he said, and had been caused, but due to the development of the Gatineau river by the Gatineau Power Co., causing floods, and all except two cases had been peaceably settled, and in these two cases the owners were away.

Hon. Honore Mercier, Minister of Lands and Forests, told Mr. Guertin he should have left the matter to the end of the session, and said he wished to play politics and nothing else. There was flooding, it was true, but not worse than elsewhere last spring, and the trouble was due to excess of water and nothing else.

RICHMOND IS PIVOTAL POINT IN QUEBEC'S NETWORK OF HIGHWAYS

First Settler Was Elmore Cushing, Who Came Up St. Francis River, Bringing His Worldly Possessions in Nine Birch-bark Canoes, Piloted by Abenaki Indians, in 1798—Today Is Important Railway Centre—Twenty Passenger Trains Daily In and Out of Richmond Afford Excellent Communication With All Parts of Province and Adjacent New England States.

In common with its sister towns, situated in the beautiful and romantic St. Francis Valley, Richmond enjoys the privilege of a picturesque setting, unexcelled in any part of the Eastern Townships.

Its historic background takes us back to the early days of colonization in the Eastern Townships. Authentic records tell us that Richmond's first citizen, Elmore Cushing, came up the St. Francis River bringing his worldly possessions in nine birch-bark canoes piloted by the Abenaki Indians. He landed at the little brook which flows at the foot of the Soldiers' Memorial Monument, called to this day Cushing's Brook, in honor of the founder. The date is fixed as being May 24th, 1798.

Somewhat later, in 1822, the primitive village assumed the name of Richmond in honor of the celebrated Duke of Richmond, Governor-General of Canada in 1818-19.

The building of Craig's Road early in the century (1809) determined Richmond's importance as a highway centre, even in those early days, a position which has gone on increasing in importance until today it's one of the pivotal points in the great provincial network of permanent highways.

From the International boundary line the tourist may journey in perfect ease through the beautiful lake region, Memphremagog, Massawippi, Aylmer and a score of others, the lake fountain heads of the Magog and St. Francis Rivers, past soaring peaks, past a myriad of shining water courses, through rich farm land and thriving towns and villages midst varying and typical industries. The route leads through Sherbrooke, the Queen City of the Eastern Townships, and thence past Bromptonville and Windsor to Richmond. Here excellent accommodation awaits the traveller in hostelleries famed for their cuisine and good cheer, or, if one prefers it, in private lodgings, just like home. From Richmond, following the Sherbrooke-Yamaska highway, the trail leads to Lake St. Peter on the St. Lawrence, through Drummondville, one of the great power centres of South Eastern Quebec, whence electric energy is radiated to the whole region.

Richmond's strategic situation as a highway centre will permit the tourist to branch off from here to towards the Ancient Capital City of Quebec, over the famous Quebec Bridge, to the very heart of the city, itself the heart of French Canada, or should the tourist so desire, he may go in equal comfort over excellent roads to the Metropolitan City of Montreal. The Montreal-Richmond-Quebec Highway runs through a land of diversified scenery and varied activities.

My of the country roads and minor highways in the Richmond district have been gravelled, thus permitting half-hour runs to the celebrated Asbestos Mines, through Danville, picturesque and thriving village; or again, to the very edge of Brompton Lake, a great body of water in a wild and rugged region, now being promoted as a natural and national game and fish reserve. Richmond took on vastly increased importance with the advent of the Grand Trunk Railway in 1851. The junction point of the main line, Montreal to Portland division, with the Richmond-Quebec division of the Canadian National Railways System, Richmond today is one of the principal railway centres of the Province of Quebec. The terminal facilities and splendid station are distinctive features of Richmond's railway activities.

Situated seventy-six miles from Montreal, ninety-six miles from Quebec, twenty-five miles from Sherbrooke and 220 miles from the City of Portland, Me., Richmond's excellent train service puts it within easy access to all these important points; and some twenty passenger trains daily in and out of Richmond station afford unexcelled communications with all parts of the province and adjacent New England States. Local freight service is equally efficient.

Manufacturers intending to locate in the Eastern Townships are invited to consider these facilities, to which are added good factory sites, abundance of labor and efficient power service. The policy of the Town Council is to deal generously with bona fide industrial concerns. Richmond takes legitimate pride in its religious, educational and social organizations, all of which are splendidly equipped with suitable public buildings. Amongst the outstanding institutions, mention may be made of the Catholic, Anglican, Methodist, Presbyterian and United churches, St. Francis College, Convent of Notre Dame, the Academy of the Sacred Heart (erected 1922-23 at a cost of $63,000), the Court House, Post Office and Railway Station.

Municipal government is carried on by a council composed of a mayor and seven councillors. The present office holders are Messrs. W. J. Ewing, Mayor; C. Dupuis, secretary-treasurer; C. Healy, F. A. Bouvette, E. Emond, F. A. McKee, C. Hill, Dr. Manning and B. Tremblay, councillors.

The present municipal evaluation is:
Taxable Realty $1,568,200.00
Exempted Realty 328,050.00
Tax rate 13 mills.
School rate 10 mills.
Attention is drawn to the many advantages of Richmond as a place to establish a home. Its municipal services such as light, water, roads, sidewalks, fire alarm and fire protection, sewers, etc., are all thoroughly organized and would do credit to a much more populous centre. The beautiful homes in Richmond's residential sections are justly admired by all visitors and Richmond welcomes intending home-makers to its precincts.

Richmond is the county seat of the County of Richmond. The County Council, Registry Office, Circuit Court, and County Agricultural Association all have headquarters here.

The centre of a rich farming district, Richmond takes great prominence in matters agricultural. Its annual County Fair draws a great number of visitors, while its exhibits in all the products of the farm are universally recognized as being amongst the best in the province. In fact, Richmond County maple sugar makers have captured first prizes in Dominion-wide competitions, while the fame of its pure bred herds, notably of the Richmond Jerseys, is well known. Immense quantities of milk and other dairy and farm products are shipped daily from Richmond to the adjacent city markets. Its highway and railway facilities and nearness to growing markets enhance the advantages of the surrounding farming district. Richmond is well equipped with financial and commercial institutions, and many of its stores would do credit to a large city, while there are several small industries, such as the last factory, saw mills, sash and door factory and brick yard.

Richmond extends a hearty welcome to the tourist in quest of a rest or on a sight seeing holiday; to the traveller it offers good treatment; to the intending manufacturer, first class facilities and fair treatment; it invites home builders as being a good place to live in, and to all it extends the glad hand of good fellowship.

WHY KINGSTON WAS CHOSEN AS CAPITAL IN '41

Was Deemed Easier to Defend
Than Montreal and More Centrally Located, According to Dr. Adam Shortt—Development of Water Transportation Recounted.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 4. — Probably no Canadian has delved more into the political history of Canada than Dr. Adam Shortt, who for years was professor of political science in Queen's University at Kingston. Long before Dr. Shortt joined the Canadian Government forces in the capital, as chairman of the board of historical publications, public archives, he had spent two months each year in close research work in the Dominion Archives. His book on the life of Lord Sydenham, first governor-general of the United Provinces of Upper and Lower Canada, contains an interesting statement with regard to the reasons why Kingston was elected by the governor as the seat of government in 1841.

He states that there were five places whose claims were canvassed—Quebec, Montreal, Kingston, Toronto and Bytown (now Ottawa). The latter was eliminated almost immediately, for although remote from the frontier it was also remote from the more settled portions of the country and afforded no suitable accommodation. Toronto and Quebec were both too far removed from the centre of the United Province; Toronto, in addition, was incapable of defence and in winter time was shut off from regular communication with Britain. It had been urged that the Legislature might meet alternately in the two provinces, which was fancied into the proposition that the capital should be placed on a scow and towed around the leading cities in rotation.

The final choice lay between Montreal and Kingston. From the point of view of defence Kingston was safer. As regards communication with Britain, Montreal was nearer in summer and Kingston in winter, via New York, Montreal was the larger and more important city; Kingston the more centrally located for the whole province. Judged from the existing requirements their claims were about equally balanced. (Continued on page seven)

ST. FRANCIS RIVER SCENE NEAR RICHMOND.

RICHMOND TODAY CAN LAY CLAIM TO ONE OF MOST MODERN HOTELS

Every Possible Consideration Has Been Given in Connection With Construction of New Building and Its Furnishings—Is Made Entirely of Steel, Brick and Cement and Is Fireproof Throughout.

(Special to the Record)
RICHMOND, April 4.—The Town of Richmond today can lay claim to one of the most modern hotels. This fine, new building is the Brunswick Hotel, which has risen on the site of the former hotel, which was totally destroyed by fire a short time ago.

The new hotel, which has been erected to meet the demands of the travelling public and to afford a comfortable hotel to travellers and tourists while making a stop in Richmond, is made entirely of steel, brick and cement, and is absolutely fire-proof throughout. It is a compact structure, seventy-five feet long by seventy-five feet wide and contains three stories. The imposing facade is of rustic Frontenac brick with artificial limestone trimmings and beautiful arched windows in the first storey. The exterior appearance is both artistic and business-like, while the electric lighting fixtures are efficient and attractive. In the broad cement stairs leading to the built-in vestibule, over the main entrance, the monogram B. H. (meaning Brunswick Hotel) stands out in bold relief in the central decorative stone.

The basement comprises the barber shop, public lavatories, travellers' sample rooms, and the usual house storage space, wash room, etc. Modern twin furnaces, burning crude-oil with Oil-o-matic control and up-to-date radiation assure even heat throughout the building.

On the first floor are situated the rotunda, dining room, bar, cloak rooms and writing rooms, with ample space for the large spacious dining-rooms.

The rotunda, in addition to the office space, has a fire-proof vault, while close to the entrance a handsome fire-place gives a home-like appearance to this spacious apartment. Telephones connect all the rooms with the office.

The dining-room, 50 feet by 25 feet, is beautifully finished and is admirably lighted through the arched windows, while the electric fixtures and wall candelabras provide a mellow and pleasing effect.

The kitchen is equipped with modern culinary utensils, cold storage, etc., thus ensuring the excellent "cuisine" for which the Brunswick Hotel has been famous in the past. The writing room is amply lighted both electrically and artificially and ample provision has been made for the holding of private dinners, teas, club and society gatherings.

The main stair-case leading from the rotunda to the upper floors is five feet wide and is built of steel with tile treads. Ladies rest-rooms are provided for at the different landings. A minor stair case in the rear is of like construction. An exterior steel fire-escape completes the safety of the hotel.

The bed-rooms, some fifty-five in number, on the second and third floors are all equipped with hot and cold water, a number of the rooms being arranged in suites, while many have private baths attached. The baths, toilet-rooms and sanitary appliances are of the most up-to-date type in every section of the building.

Great credit is due the general contractors, Messrs. Scott Bros., of Scotstown, Que., for the quality of the workmanship and material employed. Much may also be said of the sub-contractors, Messrs. A. Blouin, of Sherbrooke, for plastering; Poulin & Messely, Quebec, ornamental iron; T. Donahue, Sherbrooke, electric fixtures and wiring; A. Perrault, Sherbrooke, painting and glazing; MacKinnon Steel Co., Sherbrooke, structural frame; J. N. Deschene & Labrecque, Sherbrooke, plumbing and heating; W. E. Charost, Sherbrooke, accessory heating, and L. Joly, Montreal, tile flooring. Needless to add the hour furnishings are in keeping with the quality of the building itself.

In point of safety, comfort, good service and reasonable rates, the travelling public may rest assured of first class accommodation.

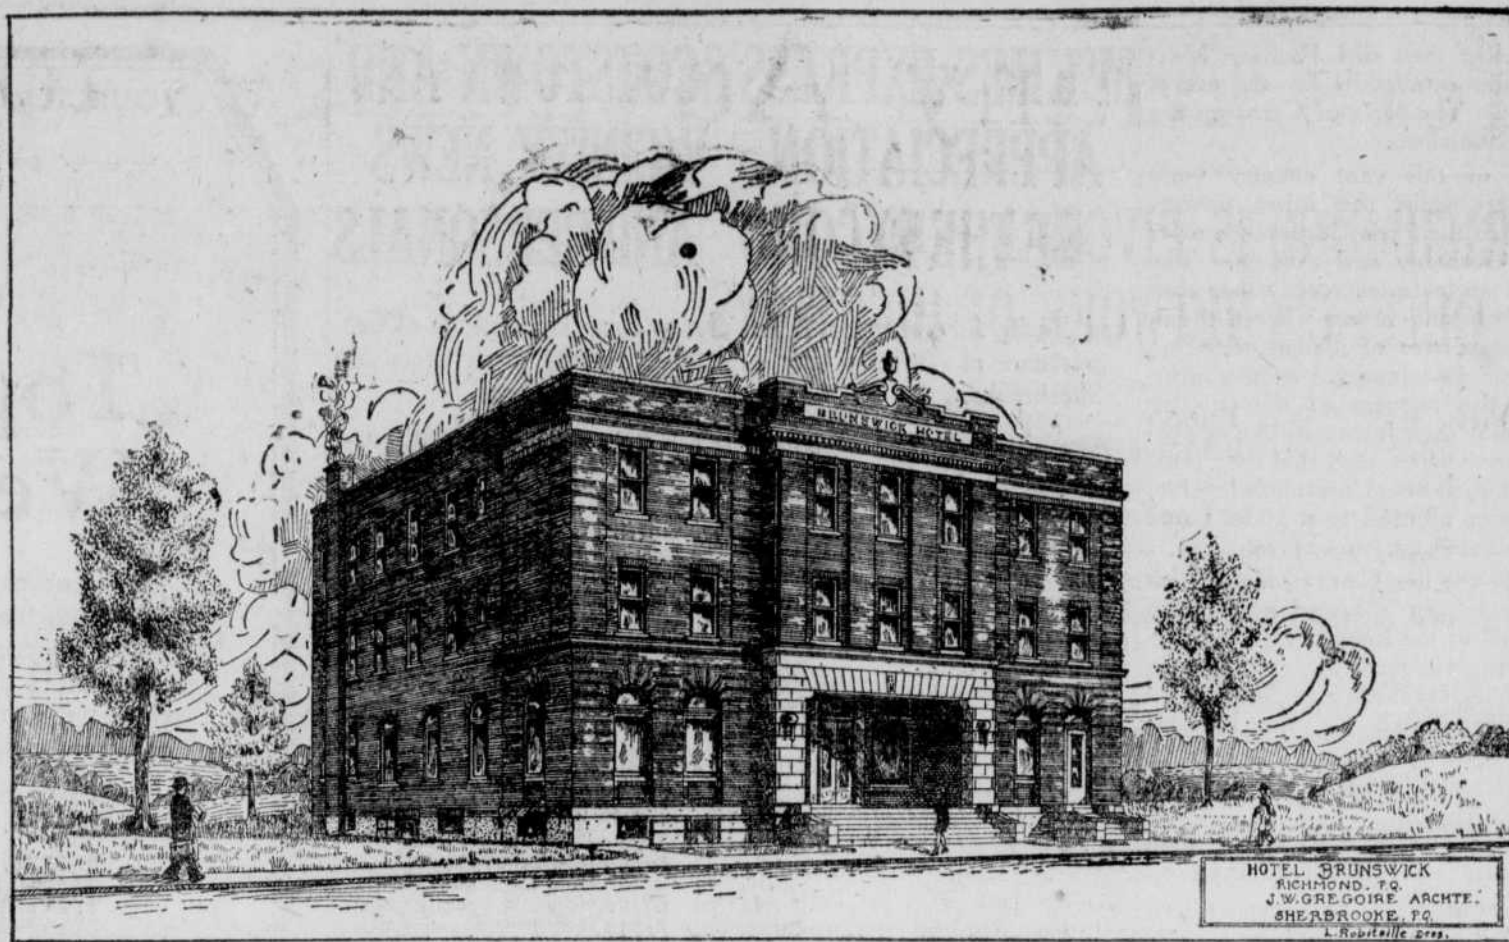

The proprietor, Mr. Cadieux, is to be congratulated on his enterprise, while "Ben" is well known throughout the Eastern Townships, Province and the New England States as an excellent citizen and jovial host.

Why Kingston
Was Chosen As
Capital In '41

but having regard to the future development of the country Kingston had undoubtedly the advantage. Moreover, Lord Sydenham frankly confessed he considered it desirable the capital of the province and the sittings of the legislature should be removed from the presence of a large French population. Especially from the influence of a host of petty lawyers and doctors such as filled the Montreal district and had already created trouble. On the whole, therefore, he gave preference to Kingston. Replying to his confidential despatch of May 22nd, 1840, Lord John Russell Quite approved of Sydenham's reasons for fixing upon Kingston. It was not, however, until the beginning of February, 1841, that it became publicly known that Kingston was to be the capital of the united provinces. Dr. Shortt also tells of the remarkable development of water transportation just before the beginning of railways. Freight was taken from Montreal to Kingston by the Rideau route which became so congested the boats had to be locked all night. This was just at the beginning of the continental movement, and settlers passed through on their way to Wisconsin. The Rideau Lakes and canal were very busy until twenty years ago. The waterway built in the early thirties largely for military purposes, is now but little used as the railways reduced its usefulness and finally the automobile and motor truck made it almost useless. However it served its day and generation.

Away back ninety years ago the project of deepening waterways to admit vessels of fourteen feet draught was mooted, which shows how long ago this question was under consideration. However, the railways came in during the 50's and interfered with the water traffic. Dr. Shortt remarks that so absorbed was Kingston in the greatness of her water facilities that she snubbed the railways and as a reward got side-tracked.

THE MORAL EXPATRIATES.

Heaps, of Winnipeg, and Drury, the weak chinned ex-Premier of Ontario, have during the past fortnight gone far afield to detract the city and the country they live in.

A. A. Heaps, M.P. for Winnipeg, is the Socialist elected in the slums of Manitoba's capital by the votes of several thousand untutored foreigners who hate the men who make a success of life. He resides in Montreal, where he sells pictures for a living, the while his constituents are led to think he is in Ottawa. Heaps has the vivid imagination of the soapbox orators who created a social uproar in Winnipeg some years ago, and whose election, together with that of Woods' worth, has just about ruined the promise of greatness for that city.

An over-zealous advocate of public ownership, Mr. Heaps recently made some comparisons of the cost of electric lighting in Winnipeg and in Montreal, and stated that almost every kitchen in the Manitoba city was equipped with electric ranges. Which was a ninety per cent. exaggeration.

He then said that the cost per kilowatt hour in Winnipeg was less than a cent an hour, while the price in Montreal he quoted at five cents per kilowatt hour.

Without any regard for accuracy, he made statements and comparisons which were deliberately false. Electricity for cooking purposes in Montreal ranges from half a cent to two and a half cents per kilowatt hour. The Montreal Power contributes to public maintenance about three-quarter cent per kilowatt hour in Federal and Municipal taxes. The Winnipeg Power contributes not one cent. The electric consumer in Winnipeg being thus relieved causes a great burden of Federal expense to be borne upon the economic shoulders of Montreal.

The net rate obtaining in the City of Montreal is, therefore, three-quarter or eight-tenths of a cent when measure fairly with the nine-tenth rate of Winnipeg.

In the final analysis, Mr. Heaps has only emphasized the fact that in the cost of electricity the Montreal consumer has it all over the Winnipeg municipal plant. Morally the Montrealer has the additional satisfaction of knowing that he contributes his just share to the upkeep of the country. From this fair share the City of Winnipeg is released. And every municipality which may own its own utilities and does not pay its fair share of sales tax and income tax must stand on the same ground and under the same conditions for a true comparison.

In shirking the taxes they lay a larger burden upon the weary taxpayer who must pay an enhanced income tax and general tax.

Figure manipulators take no account of this shirking when they wish to show profits to deceive the public.

And Mr. Drury, who was the willing tool of Sir Adam Beck in laying a debt of two hundred millions on Ontario for its hydro-electric, now goes to an American city to tell them that Canadians are huge consumers of alcoholic drinks.

There should be some punishment for the moral expatriate, even more severe than ostracism from associates.

SMUGGLING BOTH WAYS.

After constant and persistent urging by Canadian bodies and by the press, the Prime Minister has announced that he will use the Canadian Liquor Embargo, called Bill 15, as the lever for a treaty with Washington to prevent the smuggling into Canada of silks, cigarettes and other materials which the returning bootleggers bring into Canada by their devious routes of entry and re-entry.

It will be recalled that the Hon. Mr. Euler stated in Parliament that the United States preventive force did not appear to be in earnest when offers of co-operative assistance were made to them by the Canada customs authorities along the border.

Here is a copy of a letter placed before the Prime Minister some time ago which may be of interest as a courteous retort by an American customs patrol officer, who said:

"There is no use in informing the Canadian customs as they do not seem to care. It is my belief that there has been more smuggling in general from the United States to Canada this year than in any year since I have been on the border. I have not seen the Canadian patrol this summer and I think you will find that there has not been a single seizure made at this Canadian port this summer. Out of all the information given the Canadian customs this year I do not think there has been a single case investigated, and I am sure that cigarettes have been coming over all summer."

This is an intolerable situation. The government has been advised of it time and again, and R. L. Sparks, of Ottawa, says that the so-called re-organization was a farce. He also charges that the Canadian preventive service is filled up with hundreds of incompetent and frequently dishonest party heelers. These representations were repeatedly made in Parliament, and it is to be hoped that belated action will change to immediate action.

THE MONSTERS OF MOSCOW.

Lenin and Trotsky, the Russian autocrats who subdued a people of over 125,000,000, and made them slaves to a body of self-elected Socialists, realized earlier than did Ramsay MacDonald that in public ownership lay the secret of ultimate Socialism. The Serfs of Czarism are today the Slaves of Socialism.

The industries of this vast country were taken from the owners whilst the other powers were busily engaged in the Paris Conference after the Armistice with Germany and Austria. The former owners of these factories were either shot or outlawed. No compensation was offered them. The later Robespierres of Russia, needing further money, have now advanced on the farmers. Already half the farmers of the country have been notified that their farms will be appropriated without compensation, and that they must all become the hired men of a Communist plan, so many of them being allotted to a 30,000 acre farm under some selected Simon Legree.

The shooting of the late Czar of Russia, his wife and children, has been followed by a Reign of Terror in the Land of the Bear, and atrocities, cruelties and crucifying violence such as even the monsters of the French Revolution could not conceive, have been perpetrated by the hideous Monsters of Moscow.

The visitor to Russia who escapes the cordon of surveillance never returns.

Let us analyze the brain cells of the man who believes in Socialism lest he go mad by overtaxing them.

EDITOR'S NOTE BOOK.

As the young politician would say, "See the Man Higher Up."

And the Veteran goes him one better with plans for an aerodrome, where all the high-up men can come down and see him.

The busiest man in town these days of night frost and day shine should be H. H. Edwards, manager of the Cary Maple Sugar Company at Lennoxville. Since the inception of this plant at the forks of the Massawippi and the St. Francis has given rise to the plentiful use of the word "sweet" when you talk of the folks in this charming university town.

"Make haste slowly! Let us be deliberate and not too hurried" is the expression of one ex-cusant of inaction. Which reminds one of the dilatory fire brigade which arrived after the building had been razed to the ground. Our farmers ask for protection. Out industrialists are groaning for stability of our National Policy. The Government established a Tariff Board of Enquiry, and for three years this Board has been conducting a debating club, carefully selecting opposing interests for each session of the debate. The while our commerce is being raided by the United States and our mercantile fabric is being razed to earth.

EVENING CHIRPINGS

Doubtless the perfect citizen is one who feels an urge to shout the National Anthem while making his income tax return.

Modernism in literature just seems new because it appears in book form instead of the single sheets once sold by the town pervers.

Mummies teach us little about Egypt. Archaeologists a few thousand years from now may judge us by our theme songs.

Longer skirts will save the cotton industry if somebody will find a way to use cotton fiber in rayon.

The chief fault of patriotism is that it gets us in trouble and then quits before we get the bill paid.

A dead town, as a rule, is one that permitted a few men to run everything until they got fed up on praise and lost interest.

Many women are studying law now, and we may yet see the plea of insanity supplanted by "just because."

The chief character in the next endurance contest of national importance will be the well-known coal pile.

When he stops talking about the "intelligent minority" and begins to praise the "common man," you know his books are selling better.

You can tell when flush times are ended. The family doesn't discuss any kind of antiques except Dad's pants.

Correct this sentence: "Forcing children to memorize dates and names," said he, "gives them both education and intelligence."

PRESS COMMENT

CIVILIANS AND WAR.
It is nonsense to talk of "humanizing" the submarine. By the time London can be wiped out on the pressure of a button in Paris, Berlin or Moscow, war will have killed itself by its own efficiency; but so long as war can be localized, "humanized," toned down, and camouflaged; so long as the non-fighting civilians, including the politicians who organize it, can contemplate it from a safe distance, then war is likely, or more likely, to persist as a habit.—George Glasgow in the Contemporary Review, London.

Communists marching in Washington carried banners of various kinds. One of them read, "We Demand Work or Wages." Another was worded this way: "Seven-Hour Day, Five-Day Week." Still another said: "Down With the Speed-Up and Wage Cuts." Taken together and compared, the mottoes, or demands, show pretty clearly that the Communists want "wages" rather than work. They are just as anxious for the wages not to be cut as they are that working hours be cut. If they had expressed their real sentiments they would have carried a banner, the biggest of all, inscribed: "Pay Without Work."—From the Pathfinder.

McKIM'S EXPRESS SCOTSTOWN AND VICINITY NEWS AND PERSONALS

And Recite Advantages and Importance of Thriving City of Sherbrooke.

About a quarter century ago the late Anson McKim began the yearly publication of "McKim's Directory of Canadian Publications," and the issue for 1930 has just come to us from the press. It is a most interesting book of fact and figure, telling the story of every publication in Canada from Prince Edward Island to Vancouver. It also contains a brief sketch of each and every city town and village where a newspaper is published—an invaluable book of reference for both advertiser and publisher.

In McKim's present Year Book there is a recital of all the important industries of Sherbrooke, according to our city's present population of 29,000, and reciting these chief industries: Woolen mills, cotton, carding, flour and saw mills, iron and brass foundries, clothing, shoe, and jewelry factories, pork packing plants, structural steel, scale and carriage factories, sawing and pulp mill machinery factories, boiler and machine shop, agricultural implement assembly plant, bobbin and spool, sash and door and petent medicine factories, silk mills, fibre factories, "beer factories," etc.

McKim's Advertising Agency, one of the best in America, also relates our twenty churches, fifteen schools, five hospitals, two hundred stores, two public libraries, and fifteen hotels, together with the county town buildings.

"Sherbrooke is the commercial metropolis of the Eastern Townships," the Editor continues, "and is experiencing industrial expansion and prosperity, important power and manufacturing development being in progress. The City has 12,000 horsepower within its limits and 25,000 horse-power has been developed within twenty-five miles. It is the centre of a rich farming country, and is surrounded by asbestos and copper mining, by lumber and pulpwood industries."

Of the Sherbrooke Record the book recites some of the towns and villages where this paper circulates: Asbestos, Barnston, Brome, Beebe, Compton, Cookshire, Coaticook, Clarenceville, Denham, Cowansville, East Angus, Frelighsburg, Granby, Hatley, Marlboro, Mansonville, Rock Island, Stanstead, Scottsboro, Sutton, Waterville, West Shefford.

The average daily net paid circulation of the Daily Record as verified by the audit for 1929, is quoted at 9,444. We are printing each day an average press run of over 10,300, and within the week after there can be found only the file copies. We may take some pride in our paper, but we do take a greater pride in our readers who represent the best people of Sherbrooke and the Eastern Townships. Their continued interest and kindly criticism will keep us humbly striving to further their best interests. And they are not loth to express their views by word and by letter.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THE COMMUNITY SCHOOL

To the Editor,
Sir:—Will you kindly give space for an old "Hayseed" to ask a few questions and pass a few remarks concerning the proposed plan of Consolidation in Sawyer-ville. It would like to hear the opinion of parents through your valuable paper, after they have carefully thought over the following in connection with bringing small children from the small or district schools to one big school in Sawyer-ville, first, take the journey of six miles for children in the elementary grades, "Oh, but we are going to bring them in motor buses," I heard one man say. That is alright in September, October and probably November, but me thinks the natives will look to see a motor van going along the Kingsley neighborhood road or the Town Line road, through the snow drifts in January, February and March. If they undertake it in April, May and June I think we will need to haul them out of more than one mudhole. This journey cannot be accomplished in less than two hours in bad weather, which means the children must be up for school at seven o'clock (an hour when many village children are peacefully sleeping) then home again at six, hungry, tired and sleepy, and more lessons for evening assignments. Possibly I am mistaken, but I hear one teacher is to be hired, I have heard and I know the teachers in both the Town Line and Kingsley schools have about all they can do to teach the scholars they have. How will one do justice to both? Our leading men want to give all the children a good education. By all means do so, but they cannot get that by overstudy or study when overtired from a long drive in bitter winter weather. If we raise up stalwart men and women with good educations, care must be given the body as well as the intellect. And is it cheaper? Go to other districts where it has been tried out and inquire. And what about environment? To use a Hayseed's expression, there is enough devilry hatched up in our district schools. I "hate me doots" if there isn't a great deal more in a crowded village school.

The community school has been tried out in many places in Ontario for several years, and the new departure which has aroused the distrust of our farm friends, has been found to be a great advantage. It provides a better system of education, allows for the employment of teachers who are specially apt in imparting knowledge,

News Items and Jottings of General Interest from Scotstown and Neighborhood.

SCOTSTOWN, Que., April 3.—The examination papers which have been written by the scholars of the United Sunday School were brought in on Sunday last. Dr. C. M. Smith, Mr. McMannis and Rev. D. Robertson were appointed to act as judges. A number took part, the primary, intermediate and senior's being represented.

Rev. D. Robertson is preaching a series of special sermons previous to Easter. Last Sunday morning he spoke on "Decision," when he spoke especially to the young, explaining to them the importance of making a decision at the formative year of their life, pointing out the danger of putting off to a more convenient season, when the ravages of time which wait for no man left their impress on sensitive human nature, as it did on the universe round about us, when the spirit may not strive as keenly.

Mr. R. A. Scott has arrived home from Tache, where he spent the winter months.

Miss Hazel Sims, of Lennoxville, was a week-end guest of her aunt, Mrs. J. J. Scott, and Mr. Scott.

Mrs. MacLean, of Stornoway, Scotland, spent a few days over the week-end in town guest of her cousin, Mr. Wm. MacLean and other friends.

Mr. Harvey Parsons is able to be out again after his accident, which occurred while he was working at Hoileh, Me. He was badly cut on the face, loosening some teeth, but has quite recovered.

Mr. Norman MacDonald, of Red Mountain, was in town this week a guest of relatives.

Miss Thyrna MacAulay, of Gould, was in town during the week-end.

Mrs. Herman Lax was in Springfield, Vt., last week called by the death of her brother, Mr. Angus Black. Mr. Black, who was a son of Mrs. John Black, of this town, spent the early years of his life here. The sympathy of the community goes out to his mother and family in their bereavement.

Mrs. D. B. MacAulay has been quite ill, her friends will be sorry to know. Miss Muriel MacAulay, who has been teaching in Sherbrooke, was called home to attend her mother.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Boy, former residents of this town, who left last summer with their son, Paul, for Sugar Hill, N.Y., where they are all engaged in the merchandising business, will be interested to know that Mr. Boy is still carrying on his Christian activities, having accepted the pastorate of the Advent Church at Lisbon, N.H., seven miles from his home, where he journeys every Sunday to conduct the services as well as the mid-week meetings. Friends here wish Mr. Boy success, in his new endeavors.

The regular monthly meeting of the W.C.T.U. Society will be held at the home of Mrs. A. A. MacKenzie on Thursday afternoon of this week.

Mrs. John Black, who is spending the winter months in Farnham with her daughter, Mrs. George Wilson and Mr. Wilson, celebrated her eightieth birthday, Monday, March 31st. She was remembered by a host of friends having received numerous post cards, as well as a number of gifts. Mrs. Black is the oldest pioneer settler of this town, now living here, and many residents as well as old friends who have taken up their abode elsewhere have fond and cherished memories of deeds of mercy received at her hands. She was the district nurse in the early years of the town's history, when trained nurses were a luxury that not many were able to indulge in. She would probably not be able to tell how many are indebted to her for being brought safely into this old world and helping to make their voices heard. All complaints from the best method to help the first tooth through to appendicitis, Mrs. Black had a remedy for it, and it is not unusual to still hear someone say, "Mrs. Black was a great believer in that."

All join in wishing her many more years of health and happiness.

The card party and dance given by the S.H.S. on Friday evening last in Sherman's Hall was well attended. Cards were played at eleven tables. Mr. Leonard MacIver furnished the music.

Miss Christy MacLennan was a recent week-end visitor of friends in Sherbrooke.

and broadens the community spirit of the pupil.

With a well-powered motor bus to make the trip each morning and night on the main highways to the central school there should be a reduction in the average time required by the pupils who now trudge along the roadway. Another tendency will be to keep the highways open the year round, as they should be. I think our esteemed friend is unduly alarmed about the environment for there can be no other risk than now exists in any school. And one must early teach the children to hold fast to that which is good.

Of the new and different, there is over an inclination to be skeptical. It may not always be good, but the central community school has been proven good, and we offer this assurance in all faith to any who may worry.—The Editor

NO garment can be better than the cloth from which it is tailored. Such importance do we attach to the woollens that go into Semi-ready clothes that we maintain our own organization at Bradford, Yorkshire.

A top-coat must be appropriately cut from woollens woven expressly for top-coats, not, as is often the case, from materials designed for suits.

The soft, roughish-surface Semi-ready top-coats are notably smart this spring. They flex to the figure with that "careful careless" drape which is imperative to good looks.

"ANCESTOR JORICO"

by WILLIAM J. LOCKE

Dr. Simmons put his head through the door. Toby signified with a nod that nothing had happened. The doctor disappeared. Toby lit another cigarette. The day developed into one of perfect spring. The cabin was flooded with sunlight. Toby heard the distant ship's bells that indicated noon. He threw away his cigarette and took up the number of an old magazine which the nurse had been reading the night before. It was a drowsy hour—he had been awake since 5.

Suddenly he heard a throaty sound from the bed and started up. Jones was awake. His blue eyes looked into vacancy. In a second or two his hands went up and rubbed the eyes mechanically. Toby stood like one confronted with a resurrection from the dead.

Jones stirred, turned, met Toby's eyes in a strange stare, then, suddenly, in a fraction of a second, he bolted upright to a sitting posture, brought his right hand to the salute, and spoke:

"Corporal John Gregory Jorico, D Company, Fourth East Suffolk." Then his jaw sagged, and his body sagged, and he fell back limp and huddled. Dead.

CHAPTER VIII

There we were, the knot of us five, at the end of the gayly equipped veranda cafe, gathered together in dismayed and puzzled discussion of Toby's tidings. In the first place we had never contemplated a fatal end to Jones' concussion. His death was a shock, one not minimized but rendered even more poignant by the losses we had sustained on the disastrous voyage. Toby sat with his head in his hands, saying very little. Something of beauty had suddenly been swept from his life, the dog-like devotion of a human being. Ruth's eyes were red with tears. You must remember that at this time I knew nothing of the circumstances which led to Jones' accident. I had to judge then by my general knowledge of a poor devil torn between love and jealousy of his master. That the girl should mourn a pathetically afflicted blood relation and also a man who had loved her very truly, was the most natural thing in the world. Hettie and Binkie and I were each, in our several ways, affected by the poor fellow's death. He was an honest soul; a vivid personality. To all of us he had endeared himself by his understanding and ever ready helpfulness.

This is a tribute I must pay to our collective humanity. His death came as a personal calamity to each one of us. I must pay it in order to insist on a just proportion between our sorrow and our tremendous interest in the amazing declaration of his name.

"Corporal John Gregory Jorico, D Company, Fourth East Suffolk." I have little scientific knowledge of such things. But to me, and to all of us, it seemed obvious that his suddenly awakened mind had gone back down the years, at the sight of Toby, to the first sight of him when he had tumbled into the trench and had been unable to formulate the soldier's instinctive account of himself.

Jorico. An uncommon name. No wonder he had been unable to express it pictorially. "Jorico" by itself might have struck us as a curiosity, though perhaps vague coincidence. But "John Gregory Jorico," with the Christian names that had gone down the family from the old Ancestor himself to Sir Gregory Bingley, afforded, within the fallibility of human conjecture, proof positive of descent from the original stock.

"There's only one way of accounting for it," said Binkie. "You all remember the name of Ancestor Jorico. John Gregory. He had two sons. One was Gregory, the other John. Gregory was lost at sea. I showed you the locker with a lock of his child's hair, and his mother's inscription, and the note on the back of the miniature made by his brother in after years. Jones can't be descended from John. The records are clear. Therefore, he must be descended from the elder son, Gregory. Therefore, good God! he was the head of the Jorico family. The last survivor, in fact, of the male line, by his death extinct. The last of the Joricos. Amazing!"

It was. The more we discussed, the more amazingly certain emerged the identity of Jones. Toby, the practical, said:

"At any rate, we can now get his record from the War Office."

"Yes," said Binkie, "that may put us on to something tangible."

Hettie said: "Why worry, dear?"

"Yes, why?" asked Ruth. "The Treasure."

"But haven't I demonstrated to you, my dear Binkie," said Toby in weariness, "that, given the filthy nature of this beastly ancestor of ours, there can't be any treasure left?"

"Last night you practically convinced me," Binkie replied. "But John Gregory Jorico lying there dead, poor chap"—he made a vague gesture—"sets in another line of inquiry. Why was Jones, as soon as he saw the little devils dancing on the chest in my old book, so keen to come with me? Why afterwards did he tell Toby, in his own way, that the Treasure was in London?"

Alas! Jones, otherwise John Gregory Jorico, lineal descendant beyond doubt, of the old pirate, was dead and could answer no questions.

"My God," cried Binkie, "if only he could have lived, with returning speech—and consciousness—even for twelve hours!"

Hettie put her hands on his arm. "My dear, don't say that. There were only two things we could have wished for him. Either to recover for good and all, or go out, at once, as he did."

"You're quite right," said Binkie, kissing her hands. He turned to us, by way of apology. "Hettie's perfectly right."

"You see," said Hettie, in her plump business-like way, "whatever secret there is—and it must be only a very dim family tradition handed down a hundred years, through generations of uneducated folk—it's hidden for ever now."

"I suppose it is," said Binkie, scratching his cheek. He smiled. "Well, my dear, we'll give it up. The treasure, I mean. But still, it'll be jolly interesting to get on the track of Jones and follow him up to old man Jorico."

Hettie laughed indulgently. "It was before the sudden end of Jones that Toby, the ever thoughtful, discovered that there was no Roman Catholic priest on board. It was almost unprejudiced, said the Captain, the great mass of the population of Trinidad being of the old religion, and English priests always coming and going. There were an Anglican person or two. But their ministrations to an unconscious Roman Catholic would have been more or less futile, and now, to a dead one, quite meaningless. We were all reverently agreed that, when we got to Bristol, we would hand the body to his Church, and, as far as things spiritual went, leave him in its care. We couldn't do more."

The capable nurse performed the last bodily rites. We went down, by ones and twos, to look our last on the gallant fellow who had triumphed over a physical infirmity scarcely known to man, and whose thread of life in the infinitely intricate web of human destiny, was so closely entangled with ours.

The nurse and Ruth had worked him cements of linen, in their women's secrecy. So he lay, as during the course of a long life I have seen so many of those dear to me lie, in the strange and fitting dignity of death. I looked down on him; a sphinx, yes; a sphinx of queer nobility; at any rate, a man.

Binkie and Hettie went down together. They joined up on deck, both tearful.

"I give up the damned Treasure," said Binkie, in a husky voice. "It was his, anyway. And if it's useful to him in the next world, by God he's welcome to it."

STANSTEAD COLLEGE NOTES

The last hockey game of the season took place on Saturday evening last, when the College team met a picked team from the Three Villages on the Olympic ice. The game was well contested by both sides and full time found the score at two all. Overtime was called and after 19 minutes' hard playing, the town succeeded in penetrating the College goal. The game ended with the two ten minute periods leaving the score at 3 to 2 for the town. Frazeau and VanVliet made two of the scores for the town, whilst Mowle goes the credit to the two College goals.

On Saturday afternoon next there will be a Rugby game on the College Campus at 2.30 between Academy and Bugbee.

The regular meeting of the Bugbee Business College Literary Society was held on March 28th. After the reading of the "One Lung", by Miss Anna Struthers, a very interesting debate was held on "Resolved that Moving Pictures are more beneficial than detrimental." The affirmative was upheld by Messrs. C. Musgrove, R. Reed and K. Johnson and the negative by Messrs. S. Shmorkler, L. Farley and R. Lowell.

After a careful summing up of the points made by the speakers, the judges returned with a verdict in favor of the negative side.

Dr. Moody took the services at Centenary Church on Sunday last.

The following teachers and students spent the week-end at their homes or with friends, Miss Donaldson, Miss Ayer, Miss Campbell, Miss Morrill, Miss Purdy and Mr. Hulin.

BRITISH FORCE WAS AUGMENTED IN YEAR 1861

Last of British Troops in Canada Did Not Leave Dominion Until 1870, Old Records Show—Troops Stationed at Kingston Owing to the "Trent Incident."

KINGSTON, Ont., April 4.—Some time ago a discussion arose as to when the Imperial troops were withdrawn from Canada. One writer intimated it was as early as 1854, but this is incorrect. Imperial troops were then withdrawn from Canada for service in the Crimean War, but some of those who survived were returned and still others were sent out from England.

An aged resident of Clayton, N.Y., John Bazinet, who lived in Kingston as a lad, recalled to memory the Imperial troops marching back from the Crimean War and parading over the old Cataract bridge to Fort Henry, opposite Kingston, in 1857. This fort was the home of the Royal Artillery in those days. Dominion Archives records show the last Imperial troops to leave Kingston, after it had been decided that Canada would supply its own soldiers to do garrison work, was a battery of Royal Garrison Artillery which left here for England in the autumn of 1870. The Imperial Government presented the Canadian Government with all military lands and fortresses it had maintained since the days of the French regime.

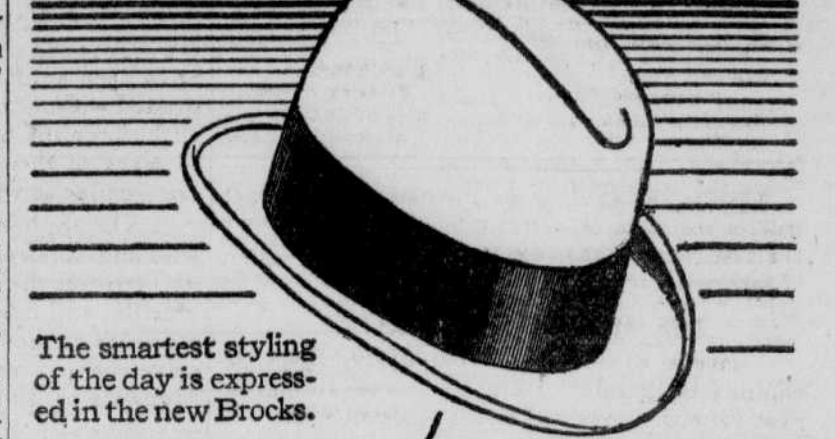

Records show that in 1854, the year the Crimean War broke out, the 54th Regiment of Foot, now the 1st Battalion of the Norfolk Regiment, relieved the 54th Foot prior to October, 1854. In 1855 the 9th Regiment of Foot was relieved by the Royal Canadian Rifles, recruited from Imperial Army men whose time had expired, and therefore wholly Imperial in composition.

A parade statement on file in the Ottawa Archives, dated November 1st, 1855, gives the strength of Imperial troops stationed at Kingston as follows:

Royal Artillery, fourteen other ranks; Royal Engineers, one officer; 16th Regiment of Foot, one other rank; 54th Regiment of Foot, one other rank; Royal Canadian Regiment, fifteen officers and 398 other ranks; staff clerks, one other rank. The official record shows a full battery of Royal Artillery, with other regulars, was stationed at Kingston for a time, that city being so close to the United States, Imperial forces in Canada were largely augmented.

LT.-COL. R. M. BLAIR IS TO HEAD CANADA BISLEY TEAM

Vancouver Man Chosen Commander by Canada Rifle Association—Approval Given by Minister of National Defence.

OTTAWA, April 4.—Lieut.-Col. R. M. Blair, King's Prize winner and grand aggregate winner at Bisley last summer, is to command Canada's Bisley team this year. Col. Bird-whistle, secretary of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association yesterday announced the officers of the Canadian rifle team for Bisley in 1930 had been selected, and the appointment approved by the Minister of National Defence. The commander, Lieut.-Col. Blair, is of the Seaforth Highlanders, Vancouver. The adjutant will be Lieut. Stewart W. Graham, 48th Highlanders, Toronto. The Bisley team is now being selected by the D.C.R.A., from eligible members of the Bisley aggregate. The team will assemble in Montreal on June 12 for inspection, and will sail on the S.S. Duchess of York on June 18.

QUEBEC, April 4.—The price of a two-pound loaf of bread was reduced one cent in Quebec today, was announced by the local bakers' association.

NEW YORK PRESS MARKET COMMENT

Furnished by McManamy & Walsh.

New York World.—Quite aside from business developments, there is a substantial volume of bearish Wall Street opinion based merely on the feeling that important technical reaction is logically due. This sentiment is reflected in the advice of a number of large commission firms and no doubt bore some relation to the day's price movement, as did the fact of Wednesday's down turn, which naturally left day traders inclined to await a demonstration of the manner in which further selling was absorbed, which further selling was absorbed.

Wall Street Journal will say today: Changes benefit Dry Goods Corporation. Pennick and Fords profit $4.88. Advance Amalgam is diversifying. The quarter gross 5 1/2 per cent below 1929.

New Montana Mining profit higher. Conditions only fair in Pennsylvania.

GOSSIP IN THE WORLD OF FINANCE

Furnished by Johnston & Ward.

BROKERS' OPINIONS

Hornblower & Weeks do not feel that any nearby reaction that might be expected from the market is expected to exceed technical proportions as far as the general list is concerned.

J. S. Bache & Co.—The setback is not expected to interrupt the major upward course of prices for several days.

E. F. Hutton & Co.—U.S. Steel seems to be the issue to trade in on the long side.

MARKET GAVE GOOD ACCOUNT

NEW YORK, April 4.—The New York Advisory Service says: Considering the fact that several important commission houses sent out "sell" flashes Thursday, it must be conceded that the market gave rather a good account of itself.

Apparently the list is fast becoming a greater degree of underlying buying power than has been generally realized. It is possible that the heaviness on Wednesday afternoon, plus the adjustments made in the list yesterday have temporarily taken care of whatever correction was needed.

We would hold to a conservative trading course, for a time preferably using dips to pick up our favored stocks, instead of reaching for them on strength.

Fairbanks, Morse, suggested a while back, has finally broken out of its accumulative range and is currently appears to be well sponsored, something which it hasn't been in the past.

Liggett & Myers B continues to reflect good market handling. We favor its purchase on trading dips below 110.

There is reflecting a speculative situation, due to small floating supply of stock, which you are warranted in following up for a trading turn.

FURTHER REACTION EXPECTED

NEW YORK, April 4.—Wall Street Mirror says: This market is not out of the woods yet. In other words it is entitled to further reaction before it can be said to have corrected any technical weakness. The market has been subject to a big volume of profit-taking and considerable hammering by the bear party for the past few days but has given ground stubbornly. Of course, there are several issues which are moving under special considerations, which could build up a big volume of profit-taking and considerable hammering by the bear party for the past few days but has given ground stubbornly.

It is known that most floor traders went home bearish on Thursday but bullishness in the general list but stocks should be selling lower before any thought is given to replacing sold out lines or making new commitments.

POWER GROUP STRONG TODAY AT MONTREAL

Forward Movement Resumed at Opening of Exchange—Brazilian Again Leader in Activity.

MONTREAL, April 4.—The power group, which was inclined to lag during yesterday's session, advanced strongly at the opening of the Montreal Stock Exchange today. Montreal Power quickly ran up 2 1/2 points to 144 1/2. B. C. Power "A" climbed 2 1/2 to 44 1/2, and the "B" issue a point to 23. Power Corporation was up 1 1/2 to 82 1/2.

The balance of the list was also strong. Brazilian, again leader in activity, climbed 1 1/2 to 49. International Nickel, Cockshutt, Famous Players, St. Lawrence Paper and Steel of Canada were up slightly.

Small losses were shown by Abitibi, Bruck Silk and McColl-Frontenac.

BULLISH OPERATIONS ARE RESUMED ON WALL STREET

NEW YORK, April 4.—Bullish operations were resumed at the opening of today's stock market, although soft spots continued to crop out in various sections of the list.

Radio Corporation common opened with a block of 25,000 shares at 61 1/4, up 1 1/4, and Columbia Graphophone with a block of 30,000 shares at 32 1/2, up 1 1/2, and both new 1930 high records. American Can and Electric Automobile each opened a point higher, and United States Steel common showed an initial gain of 1/4 at 194 1/4. Texas Gulf Sulphur dropped a point on the first sale.

Nesbitt, Thomson & Co. REPORT ISSUE OVERSOLD

Nesbitt, Thomson & Company Limited, selling group managers for B. C. Power Corporation 5 1/2 30-year refunding collateral trust gold bonds, report that the issue, which was offered to the public on March 25 last, has been heavily oversold. Demand from selling group members was more than double the amount set aside for this purpose, while institutions demanded from coast to coast was also in excess of the amount that could be confirmed. Retail demand has assumed such heavy proportions that there was an exceptionally large oversubscription, and the issue was in demand between dealers in the open market with bids ranging between 98 and 98 1/2. Many sales were recorded between these figures.

First Page of San Francisco Call-Bulletin Read in Schenectady, N.Y., Three Hours After It Had Left Press.

Schenectady, N. Y., April 4. The complete front page of a newspaper has been transmitted across the country by radio for the first time.

Cliffing the present view into what may be commonplace in the future, engineers of the General Electric Company yesterday reported that successful experimentation had permitted them to read the first page of the San Francisco Call-Bulletin three hours after it had left the press. It was reproduced in full size in the laboratory by a new type automatic carbon recorder, connected to short wave length receiving equipment actuated by signals originating two thousand miles away.

The engineers did not hesitate to forecast many possibilities for this improvement in facsimile transmission, which, while still in a highly experimental stage, gave an indication that some day radio may be delivering a large part of business mail and many also bring daily newspapers directly into the home.

The recording machine was developed by Charles J. Young, son of Owen D. Young, chairman of the Board of General Electric, who attended an address several years ago said that he hoped to live to see the front page of the London Times "flashed with a zip" into New York City.

The recording machine can be attached to any radio receiver much the same as a loud speaker. It prints on a roll of paper which moves through the machine at about one half inch a minute.

The sending equipment, known as a facsimile transmitter, and developed by Dr. E. F. W. Alexanderson, a pioneer in television and telephone transmission, was developed by the General Electric station WEXN which operated on 17.3 meters at Oakland, California.

LAIDLAW'S LETTER

NEW YORK, April 4.—Laidlaw and Co., of New York, who were subjected to further pressure yesterday but selling did not gain momentum and recoveries were made from the low prices of the day, so that on the whole, there was relatively little change from the previous day at the close. Virtual every time this year and very often previously a new high in volume and in the industrial averages has been followed by some reaction as occurred Wednesday. The market is currently in a period of uncertainty and a bearish element of probable course will have to be obtained from the action of the market itself.

Effort to Be Made to Determine Whether British Liquor-Laden Schooner Aramay Was Scuttled by Its Crew or Was Simply Unseaworthy.

BOSTON, Mass., April 4.—An investigation to determine whether the British liquor-laden schooner Aramay, which sank off the Maine coast last Wednesday, after its seizure by the coast guard, was scuttled by its crew or was simply unseaworthy, will be started tomorrow by customs officials, Deputy Collector Thomas F. Finnegan announced yesterday.

COUNTRY AND DAIRY PRODUCE PRICES

These prices are roughly 11c per lb. below what they were on the same date a year ago. New Zealand offerings, and weak world markets, notably in England, are responsible for the prevailing prices, the lowest in many years. To the retail trade solids are 36c and prints are 37c per lb.

EGGS—Eggs can be purchased in the country a little cheaper, dealers state, production now increasing with mild weather the rule. Prices to retailers follow:

WORLD HOCKEY HONORS TAKEN BY CANADIENS

Flying Frenchmen Wrested Coveted Stanley Cup from Boston Bruins in Straight Games—Score Last Night Was Four to Three.

MONTREAL, April 4.—Montreal Canadiens today have possession of the coveted Stanley Cup, emblem of the professional hockey championship of the world. The Flying Frenchmen last night stood off a desperate Boston third period drive and captured the cup in two straight games. They won the first game at Boston on Tuesday by three goals to nothing, and took last night's match by four goals to three.

Canadiens showed the stamina that marks real champions. Worn and bruised from stirring post-season play-off series with the Chicago Black Hawks and the New York Rangers, the "Little Men of Steel" used the new title conferred on them by Montreal sports writers, flashed an irresistible attack for two periods and then held on gamely to the finish despite Boston's best attacking combinations and the dying fight of the last year's title holders.

The scoring summary of last night's game shows Nick Wasnie as Canadiens' hero. This wing man, who played through much of the last part of the season with a cracked rib, and who during that time had been frequently jeered by the fans for his poor play, scored a goal and an assist last night after having performed the same feats at Boston on Tuesday.

Canadiens opened up with an amazing burst of speed which swept them in on Tiny Thompson and netted two goals in the first period. Although always on a goal hunt, their forwards were traveling at a clip which always brought them back in time to assist the defense when Boston broke away. McCaffrey, formerly of Maple Leafs and Pittsburgh, scored one of his few goals during this period, accurately blazing in a pass from Pete Lepine. Wasnie netted next, on almost an identical play, with Burke giving the pass.

During the second period Canadiens again held a wide margin, at times passing the Shore-Hitchman defense as if it did not exist. Thompson was called upon to perform spectacular goal-tending to hold the score down. Sylvio Mantha from Wasnie and Morenz from Leduc were Canadiens' scorers in this period, both goals coming from accurate passing when once inside the defense. In between these goals was sandwiched Eddie Shore's lone effort, a high speed rush around the Canadian team and a high shot that Hainsworth thought would clear the top of the net. It just nestled under the bar.

Three goals down, Boston called upon all their reserve for a third period drive, a drive that nearly succeeded. They kept the puck almost continuously in Canadiens' territory, and banged shots off almost every part of Hainsworth's anatomy. Ably backed up by the rest of the team, Hainsworth stood up under the rally, letting two goals, from Galbraith and Clapper, elude him. Boston netted again in the last minute, but interference cost them the tie. In a dispute over this score, a miniature flare-up occurred in which a blow or two was struck, but it was forgotten when the final bell rang and the deposed titleholders hastened to congratulate their successors.

The line-up and summary: Boston: Thompson, goal; Shore, defense; Burke, centre; Morenz, wing; Galbraith, wing; Oliver, wing; Leduc, sub; Lepine, forward; Mantha, W. Carson, G. Carson, Connors, Desjardis, McCaffrey, Gainer.

JUNIOR BANQUET

Harry Blue, S. G. Newton, E. G. Graves and several others of the exhibition committee will be present. This promises to be a decidedly important gathering for the future of junior hockey in Sherbrooke, and the programme is taking very fine shape. Among those to be present will be Messrs. M. Corcoran and G. Corcoran and G. S. Sampson, the former to give some of his musical selections and the latter to lead the sing song.

CURLING CLUB CLOSED SEASON LAST EVENING

Mr. D. J. Salls Named President of Sherbrooke Club—Successful Season Reported.

The 1929-1930 season, one of the most successful in the history of the Sherbrooke Curling Club, was brought to a close last evening when the annual dinner and banquet were held at the club house. During the evening the officers for the coming year were elected and the trophies won during the past season presented to the members.

What was perhaps one of the outstanding features of the evening was the presentation of a hunting and fishing outfit to Mr. P. McCullough, who, as chairman of the ice committee, spent a great deal of his spare time at the rink so that the members would be assured of smooth, hard ice on which to play the "roarin' game". Mr. Salls, in presenting the outfit, which consisted of a double barreled sixteen gauge hammerless Ithaca shotgun in a leather carrying case, and a modern fish reel, spoke a few words of appreciation of the excellent work done by Mr. McCullough in keeping the ice in such splendid condition.

The winners of the MacKinnon Cup were presented their individual cups by Dr. James MacKinnon, while the miniature trophies were given the winners of the McCrea Cup and Doubles Cup by Mr. J. A. Cook, the retiring president.

The winning rinks were: MacKinnon Cup, Messrs. D. J. Salls, H. A. Hyndman, J. N. Fuller and J. P. Watson (skip).
McCrea Cup, Messrs. J. G. Armitage, C. W. Bridges, G. Sutherland and H. S. Armstrong (skip).
Doubles Cup, Messrs. L. Sangster and J. N. Fuller.

During the business session the treasurer, Mr. T. S. Mooney, read his report, which showed that the club's finances to be in an excellent state, with a substantial balance on hand for the year.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Patroness, Mrs. W. G. Cross; patrons, Dr. James MacKinnon and Mr. W. G. Cross; president, Mr. D. J. Salls; 1st vice-president, Mr. S. G. Newton; second vice-president, Mr. J. B. Beach; secretary, Mr. J. G. Russell; treasurer, Mr. J. S. Mooney; chaplain, Rev. Canon H. R. Bigg; and directors, Messrs. R. G. Costley, C. A. Joslin, H. A. Hyndman and J. W. McKee.

The various committees named were: Match, Messrs. J. P. Watson (chairman), R. Becker, G. Ewing, P. N. Boucher and S. Wood.

SCHOOL TEAMS ARE READY FOR TITLE MATCH

Commissioners High School, Quebec, Representatives Will Invade Sherbrooke Tomorrow.

The stage is all set for the first of the series of home and home games between the Quebec Commissioners High School and Sherbrooke High for the interscholastic basketball championship tomorrow night in the Y.M.C.A.

In previous years it has not been possible to arrange an interscholastic series, except group games played in Montreal on the elimination plan during the past two years. This was found very unsuccessful, and it was decided that the home and home series method should be introduced. Montreal played off as one section and Catholic High were winners, but not desiring to go further than city championship they would not come into the play-off for provincial honors and Quebec and Sherbrooke have the honor of fighting it out between them, the first game to be played tomorrow evening in Sherbrooke and the second in Quebec on Saturday, April 12th. The winners will meet Ottawa Valley, possibly at Ottawa, and then the winners of this match will go up against the Ontario interscholastic champions in some part of Ontario during Easter week, according to present plans.
