

The Favorite Masquerade Song.¹

as Sung by Sig.^{ra} Storace.

IN MY GRANDMOTHER.

Composed by Stephen Storace.

Ent. Sta. Hall.

Price 1/-

London. Printed & Sold at Bland & Wellers Music Warehouse, 23. Oxford St.

Allegretto

p f

On the lightly sportive wing At pleasure's call we fly; Hark! they dance, they play they, sing, In mer-ry merry re-vel-ry.

Hark! the tabor's live-ly beat, Hark! the Flute's in numbers sweet, Fill the night With delight at the Masquer-ade. Hark! the ta-bor's live-ly beat, Hark! the Flute's in numbers sweet, Fill the night With de-light at the Masquer-ade

Grazioso

Beneath this mask what ten-der woes We soft-ly hear re-veal'd, Se-cure, that, while the bosom glows, Our blush-es lie con-ceal'd! Se-cure, that, while the bo-som glows, our blushes lie con-ceal'd! Let the grave ones warn us as they may Of e-very harmless joy afraid, While we're young and we're gay, Let us frolick and play at the Masquer--ade. While we're young and we're gay, Let us frolick and play At the Mas-quer--ade

Vivace

Andante

Hither trips along a beau so smart, dear heart! Pret-ty lass, this way soft, soft stay here; my dear! Tis a favour, Sir, I must de-ny. Oh fie! Can I trust you what! alone with you. a - dieu! Then a mid the croud we mix again And join the mot ly train; Let the grave ones warn us as they may, Of e - very harmless joy a - afraid, While we're young and we're gay. Let us fro - lick and play at the Mas - quer - - - ade While we're young and we're gay let us frolick and play at the Masquerade. Let the grave ones warn us as they may Of e - very harmless joy afraid While we're young and we're gay Let us frolick and play At the Mas - quer - - - ade. - - - the Mas - quer - - - ade. - - - the Mas - quer - - - ade.

Vivace

