No Income Tax Boost

Higher Taxes Likely, Duplessis Intimates In Throne Speech

Quebec — (P) — The Quebec government has hinted it will have to increase taxes to cover high grants for education and to meet expenditures required by the province's industrial expansion.

The hint came Wednesday in the speech from the throne opening the first session of the 25th legislature.

Premier Duplessis said later, however, that his Union Nationale government does not intend to increase the tax on personal income, which now amounts to about 15 per cent of the federal levy. Quebec taxpayers are allowed to deduct 10 per cent from their federal tax to partly offset the provincial payments.

The throne speech, outlining the government's plans for the session, said a bill to extend the life of the income tax law, which came into effect in 1954, will be presented to the legislature. The present law expires Jan. 1.

Legislature circles speculate there is a possibility Quebec will increase its corporation tax from the present seven per cent.

Under the terms of the new federal — provincial taxation agreement, taking effect next year, provincial governments which do not suspend direct taxation in return for federal subsidies, may collect up to nine per cent on corporation profits.

The throne speech said the government plans to set up a system of "remarkably generous" grants for education from the primary to the university level.

The announcement came during growing controversy in the province over federal aid to universities and the type of grants given by the provincial government. Details of the revised system of provincial grants were not disclosed.

Some quarters believe the government may set up a permanent committee on aid to universities which would determine the needs of the universities and report on them to the minister of finance.

During the session the legislature will be asked by the government to vote increased sums for needy mothers allowances which now range from $35 to $60 monthly, and more money for farm loans, rural electrification, land drainage, and colonization. The government will also introduce bills dealing with the development of natural resources, with taxation powers of municipalities, and with increased health services.

Today in the 93-seat legislative assembly, Armand Maltais, Union Nationale member for Quebec East, will reply to the speech from the throne. The second will be Raymond Johnston, Union Nationale member for Pontiac. Both houses then are likely to adjourn until Tuesday when the throne speech debate will get under way.

Liberal leader Georges LaPalme, conversing after an operation, was replaced as Opposition house leader by Rene Hamel, member for St. Maurice riding, who will open the throne speech debate Tuesday.

Dairies Explain Boost

MONTREAL — (P) — The Quebec dairy industry Wednesday issued an explanation, "at the request of many consumers," regarding a "milk price increase Nov. 1."

"Since 1951 the price of milk had not been increased by commission order in spite of the constant increase in the cost of operation at farm level as well as pasteurizing plant," a statement said.

"Following the request of the milk producers and dealers... the commission decided to increase the consumer's price by one cent a quart and to divide this increase in approximate equal parts between the producer and the dealer."

At present 64 markets in Quebec were regulated by the commission orders.

In Granby, Stanstead, Waterville and Cowansville the commission price was increased more than one cent a quart to bring it "in line with actual existing price."

The commission issued this list of regions with consumer's prices as now established: Montreal and vicinity 20½ cents; Quebec, Levis, Beauce and Lake St. John 20; Trois-Rivieres, Shawinigan, Grand-Mere, La Tuque, Sherbrooke and Drummondville 19½; St. Hyacinthe, St. Johns, Sorel, St. Jerome, Asbestos, Lachute, Coaticook, Cowansville, East Angus, Granby, Stanstead, Magog, Richmond, Waterville, Farnham and Valleyfield 19; Charlevoix and Donnacona 18½; Louiseville and l'Assomption 18.

Educators Believe Aid Is Acceptable

OTTAWA — (P) — A major national conference on university problems has ended with signs of a break in the support Quebec universities have given to that province's opposition to federal financial aid.

Msgr. Irene Lussier, rector of the University of Montreal, and Principal Cyril James of McGill Wednesday announced, as their personal opinions, that present offers of federal funds could be accepted.

Prime Minister St. Laurent has announced plans to double federal university grants to $18,000,000 a year, plus additional expenditure of $50,000,000 in 10 years for university capital expansion paid through the Canada Council which would be set up by Parliament.

Msgr. Lussier and Principal James emphasized they were not speaking for their universities. Decisions on whether to accept federal money must be made by the university governing bodies.

Principal James said he knows of no barriers to acceptance, but Msgr. Lussier made two conditions: The money would have to be used only for expansion of buildings and equipment, and it should never be "a pretext for intruding upon our educational system."

Premier Duplessis has criticized federal grants as an invasion of provincial constitutional rights. Quebec universities col-

Jubilant Troops Suez Bound — Fifty cheering members of the 1st Battalion, Queen's Own Rifles, boarded an RCAF flying boxcar Monday on their way to Halim, the first leg of their trip to join UN forces who will police Suez. Kadar Vetoes Anti-Red Plan

VIENNA — (AP) — Russia's puppet premier of Hungary, Janos Kadar, today rejected neutrality as a future policy for the country and refused any negotiations with former premier Imre Nagy as long as he remains in the asylum of the Yugoslav embassy in Budapest.

Kadar set the policy of his regime in a statement to a workers' delegation, broadcast by Budapest radio, which showed clearly that he has no intention of walking out of the Soviet-dominated Warsaw pact or giving up the close ties with Moscow which set off the revolution three weeks ago.

Kadar claimed he had reached an agreement with Soviet military authorities in Hungary that "no one may be deported," and declared that the government would "hold no one responsible for participating in the uprising of the past three weeks."

This contradicted a Budapest radio broadcast Wednesday which said the Soviet army was deporting Hungarians to the east in sealed railway cars in a desperate effort to stamp out revolutionary elements.

In London, however, the foreign office said today that there had been deportations of Hungarians to Russia "on a substantial scale" during the last few days.

The British spokesman made the statement at a press conference after he had been told of Kadar's broadcast remarks.

Kadar declared in today's statement only persons arrested during commission of "acts of terror" and crimes would be prosecuted.

Kadar said that a neutral Hungary—which Nagy had proposed during his brief tenure as premier—would be "exploited by the imperialists and lead to war."

The international political situation, he added, does not favor a policy of neutrality.

As for the man the revolt had made premier briefly, Kadar said an agreement with Nagy "could be possible only if he changes his attitude and comes out of the Yugoslav embassy to negotiate." Nagy took refuge with the Yugoslavs when the Russians poured troops into Hungary and Budapest to suppress the revolution.

Meanwhile, in a desperate attempt to end the general strike paralyzing the country, the Soviet-imposed government announced a mass purge of former top Communists and expressed approval of limited "free" elections "at a later date." But the only parties allowed to participate would be those which "stand for socialist principles and serve the interests of the workers."

The premier reiterated his previous stand that negotiations for the withdrawal of the Russian forces from Hungary can only be opened after order and peace have been restored.

The rebel guns were silent in Budapest today following the end of armed resistance at the big plants on Csepel Island, in the Danube just south of the capital. But the workers there, after Continued on Page 10

Protective Guard On Soviet Consul In Port Said

PORT SAID, Egypt — (P) — The commander of the British-French force holding Port Said announced Wednesday he has put a "protective" guard around the Soviet consulate in this battered battleground city.

The Soviet consul, Anatoli Chikov, was named by one British officer Tuesday as a "blooming nuisance" who was helping stir up an undercurrent of intimidation among Egyptians here.

The commander, Lt. Gen. Sir Hugh Stockwell, said in Wednesday's announcement that a military guard was put around Chikov's consulate "for his own safety."

"It would be an awkward political situation if someone bumped him off," Stockwell added.

He said a similar military guard had been stationed at several other "delicate" embassies but did not name which?

Imprison Killer Of Two Children

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — (P) — A big blonde baby attendant, who said "children sometimes get on my nerves," Wednesday was sentenced to 10 to 22 years in prison for the fatal shaking of two of them.

Virginia Jaspers, 33, who stands six feet and weighs 220, pleaded guilty to two counts of manslaughter three weeks ago. She was charged in the deaths of 11-days old Abbey Kapsinow last August, and two-months-old Jennifer Malkin in 1951. She was arrested after a doctor who knew of the other deaths became suspicious at the third.

What India Loses, Canada Gains

By ED SIMON

NEW YORK — (P) — In the eyes of many Americans, the impact of the Middle East and Hungarian crises has jarred India loose from her position as mediator between East and West. And Canada appears to have gained some of the prestige India has lost.

In the past, Prime Minister Nehru's refusal to align himself with the West against the Communist world has provoked some impatience here, particularly in official circles. But he has been widely looked upon as a spokesman for the uncommitted sections of the world and as a possible peacemaker between the United States and Russia.

Canada, on the other hand, has appeared to most Americans in one of two guises — as a dues-paying member of the British Commonwealth, right or wrong, or as a 100-percent ally of the United States that could be counted upon to follow Washington's lead at all times.

These conceptions received a jolt in the period of shifting political alignments that followed the outbreak of fighting in Egypt and Hungary.

First, Canada's External Affairs Minister Pearson chose to abstain in a United Nations vote rather than defend the intervention of Britain and France in the Middle East. Then, while the U.S. state department appeared to flounder, he stepped in with his plan for a UN police force to keep the peace in Egypt.

Meanwhile, India had been quick to join the United States, Russia and the majority of UN members in vigorous denunciations of the use of force by Britain and France in Egypt.

But when the issue of Russia's activities against the Hungarian rebels came up in the UN, the Indian delegate abstained from voting and declined to state a position, saying he was awaiting instructions from his government.

Eventually Nehru took a stand, deploring the use of force anywhere but refraining from any pointed criticism of Russia. His delegation continued to abstain on UN votes on the Hungarian question.

Wednesday's joint statement from the premiers of India, Ceylon, Burma and Indonesia, of which Nehru undoubtedly was a chief architect, was typical. It expressed concern at "the aggression and the intervention by the great powers against weaker countries." But the only "aggressor countries" named were Britain and France.

It deplored "large-scale violence used on all sides" in Hungary and expressed the hope that Soviet troops would soon withdraw. Then it ended with a homily on the evils of colonialism in Asia and Africa.

The United States, which had reluctantly sided against its allies in the Middle Eastern question on the grounds that armed action should be universally condemned, reacted to Nehru's Hungarian policy with almost unanimous resentment.

In the eyes of public opinion, India's stand has bred a new distrust and Canada's has earned a new respect.

Threatened Move Of "Volunteers" Sparks Action

LONDON — (P) — First units of the United Nations Middle East police force landed in the Suez Canal zone today, rushed in on urgent UN orders in a move to forestall the threat of Communist "volunteers" being poured into the tense area.

The first Swiss airliner loaded with 45 Danish troops landed behind the Egyptian lines at Abu Suweir at 9:30 a.m. (2:30 a.m. EST). A second plane carrying 47 Norwegians landed at 10:02 a.m. Abu Suweir is on the west side of the canal near Ismailia.

A third plane carrying equipment for the international police force landed 45 minutes later. The Swissair planes were chartered by the UN to move the police units and supplies to Egypt.

Arrival word of the planes' was radioed to the UN staging area at Capodichino, Italy, near Naples. Swissair officials said the aircraft were making a quick turnaround, but it appeared unlikely that a second contingent could be ferried to the canal zone today.

Before the first-unit takeoff, the international force at Capodichino had swelled to 467 men of four countries — Denmark, Norway, Colombia and Canada. The force finally will total perhaps 10,000.

There still was no word meanwhile of a clear-cut agreement on the exact task of the police force in Egypt. This apparently remains to be worked out by Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, who left UN headquarters in New York Wednesday night for Rome and Cairo.

Takeoff of the first units had been stalled for two days by technical and political difficulties.

The departure came on urgent orders from Hammarskjold, who acted shortly after a report from Moscow that President Nasser had asked the Soviet Union to send to Egypt immediately the thousands of Russians reported to have "volunteered" to join the Egyptians against British, French and Israeli forces in Egypt.

Before leaving New York, Hammarskjold said his mission was "to do what I can to assist setting up and getting going a United Nations emergency force in Egypt."

"It is the first experience of its kind," he told reporters. "It is the first truly international force. Let us hope we will succeed in establishing peace and order."

Squarely confronting the operation are the conflicting stands of Egypt and Britain, France and Israel on the role of force. Egypt demands that the British, French and Israeli invasion forces withdraw immediately, that the UN force take up positions along the 1949 Egyptian-Israeli armistice lines, and that Egypt resume full control of the Suez Canal.

Fog Delays Canadian U.N. Force

HALIFAX — (P) — The big movement of troops from Calgary to Halifax where they will board the carrier Magnificent for duty in the Middle East was being held up today while fog enclosed the nearby Shearwater Airport where the troop-carrying Flying Boxcars have been landing.

The 14th flight which landed about 5:30 a.m. EST today was the last to get in here before fog settled down over the runway. A few hours later the 15th flight landed in Moncton and its 50 troops prepared to travel here by bus.

The last flight of the RCAF's gigan airlift of 950 troops left Calgary Wednesday night and was due here late today. Airport officials said fog was expected to lift shortly after noon.

If the airbase is still closed the remaining flights, carrying the final 150 members of the 1st Battalion, Queen's Own Rifles, will likely land at Moncton or Greenwood, N.S. Army officials said they expected all troops to be in Halifax before late tonight.

Hungarian Relief Post Smothered By Gifts

LONDON — (P) — A veteran welfare worker looked at the small mountain of Hungarian relief supplies blocking the Red Cross office and shook her head in wonder.

"It has been a long time since England saw anything like this," she said. "Certainly not since the east coast floods of 1953."

Throughout Western Europe, welfare workers are telling the same story. The free world, they say, is sending the shirt off its back and the ring off its finger to help Hungarian refugees and other victims of the Russian repression.

More than $10,000,000 in money has been given or pledged in voluntary contributions, and the amount is rising by the hour.

Thousands of tons of medicine, food, clothing and other supplies have already been sent to Budapest or points along the Hungarian border. A vast backlog of additional supplies is clogging relief depots throughout Western Europe.

Most of this material is expected to be channeled into Hungary through neutral Austria.

The Hungarian government authorized the International Red Cross to start regular convoys from Austria into Hungary Wednesday.

Contributions have been received from prime minister and pensioner alike. Sir Winston Churchill gave £1,000. Street collectors in London told of old women throwing wedding rings into the brimming baskets.

West German students patrolled streets and shops with boxes marked "Ungarn Hilfe Hungarian Aid." Few passers-by failed to contribute.

Norwegian students staged "one day's pay for Hungary" drives, offering to do any chores for 20 kroner ($2.80) a day. Boy Scouts sold "Thank you, Hungary" tickets.

Receipts from all soccer games in Denmark this Sunday will go to Hungarian relief.

The Dutch ministry for social work called on the same emergency machinery set up after the disastrous floods of 1953.

The Swiss Red Cross sent almost all its reserve blood plasma supply to Hungary. The international headquarters of the agency at Geneva said it was so overwhelmed with offers of assistance that no calculation of the total offers was possible.

Word has been received from District Governor Richard H. Cowles of Burlington, that G. Earl Heath of Derby Line has been selected as District Governor or Nominee of Rotary for 1957-58.

Past District Governor George C. Kidder, Dean of the University of Vermont, was chairman of the nominating committee which made the selection and as no other nominations have been received from other clubs in this Rotary District, the nomination was declared official on Nov. 12.

Earl Heath has been a member of the Rotary Club of the Boundary for over 12 years, was president in 1948-49 and is at present a member of the board of directors of his club, having charge of club service.

While a member of the club, he has been active in all club affairs, being one of the first to help start the annual Boundary Rotary Fair, and also in starting the Rotary Children's Room in the Haskell Library.

He has served his Rotary district as chairman of the International Service Committee for the past four years, and in that capacity has aided in the operation of the Model United Nations Assembly, held annually at Plymouth Teachers College, Plymouth, N. H.

In his capacity as Chairman of International Service, he raised the sum of $1,000 from the Rotary Clubs in this district for the aid of a children's tuberculosis hospital in Colombo, Ceylon. Four beds in this hospital were endowed and needed.

G. EARL HEATH
equipment bought as a result of this effort.

Interested in international affairs, he has been vice-president of the Vermont Council on World Affairs for the past three years.

District 287 consists of a total of 32 Rotary Clubs, with 15 each in Vermont and New Hampshire, and the Sherbrooke and Boundary Clubs in Quebec.

The term of office of a governor starts on July 1st, but is preceded by a 10-day International Assembly held at Lake Placid, N. Y., April 30 to May 8th, 1957.

Coaticook Man Escapes Injury In Car Plunge

COATICOOK — (Special) — A 22-year old Coaticook man miraculously escaped serious injury yesterday when his 1956 panel truck crashed over a 125-foot embankment at the edge of the Coaticook River.

Yvon Helie was turning from Child Street onto Factory Street shortly after noon when the accident occurred. He apparently lost control of the vehicle which jumped the sidewalk, crashed through a small fence and fell down the embankment. A large evergreen tree at the edge of the river saved the truck from dropping into the water.

While the truck was completely demolished, Helie crawled from the wreckage with only a slight cut on his right arm. He was treated for shock and returned home.

Organists Plan Special Program For Patron Saint

Nov. 22 is St. Cecilia's Day — the patron Saint of Music. For many years it has been the practice of musicians and musical organizations throughout the world to honor their patron Saint with some special musical event on St. Cecilia Day.

This year, in fitting observance of the occasion, the Sherbrooke Centre of the Canadian College of Organists will present a complete performance of the Solemn Mass for St. Cecilia, composed by Charles Gounod, in the Church of St. Jean Baptiste by an all-male choir of some 50 voices, including boy sopranos under the direction of John Codere, with Jack Lenaghan at the organ.

There will also be organ selections by Mrs. Robert Bell, organist and choir director of Trinity United Church; by Miss Pauline Roy, organist at Notre Dame de Perpetuel Secours, and by Morris Austin, organist and choir master of St. Peter's Anglican Church.

The presentation will commence at 8.30. There will be no charge for admission but a collection will be taken during the evening.

STANBRIDGE EAST—

The Ladies' Guild of Pigeon Hill was invited to the home of Mrs. Orval Casey to meet with several members of the Stanbridge East Guild. Among those attending were Mrs. H. Guthrie, Mrs. C. Primmerman, Mrs. E. Tunc, of Pigeon Hill, as well as members of the local Guild. Refreshments were served by the hosts.

Mr. Asa Stote while cutting trees in the woods cut a deep gash in his leg. Having his truck there, he was able to get home and be driven to Dr. Orr in Bedford. Mr. L. Lachapelle has been engaged to do his farm work.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Hodge and Miss Susan Hodge were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hodge for the week-end.

A demonstration of Hat trimming under auspices of the Women's Institute is being held in the United Church Hall from Monday till Friday in the afternoons and evenings.

Misses Marion and Brenda Henry were in Hudson Heights, visiting relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bracey were in Richmond visiting his sister for the week-end.

A Forgotten Detail — Members of the Memphremagog Conservation Club are shown attempting to break the two inch coating of ice which covered Cherry River Pond yesterday. Below freezing temperatures of Tuesday night foiled their chances of completing the last step in destroying the fish in the pond. A chemical was to have been introduced into the water which would have brought all the fish to the top. Once rid of the present life, they had hoped to stock the pond with lake salmon. The project will have to wait for warmer weather. (Photo by Gerry Lemay)

Old Man Winter Wrecks Plans To Clear Out Pond

By BETTY BRADSHAW

MAGOG — (Special) — Old Man Winter played a trick on members of the Memphremagog Conservation Club yesterday and hundreds of doomed fish at the bottom of Cherry River Pond managed to get the last laugh.

Enthusiastic members of the club had been working for weeks clearing the land and building a dam at the outlet of the pond in Mount Orford Provincial Park here. Their intention was to rid the pond of all its fish and stock it with 75,000 lake salmon.

Since Cherry River runs from the pond into Lake Memphremagog, it was planned that when the salmon grew to a certain size the dam would be opened to permit their migration. Yesterday special chemical was to have been pumped into the pond to stun all the living fish in the water and bring it to the top.

About forty people gathered at the scene, laden with boxes and baskets in which they planned to carry off the edible fish. But, to their dismay, there weren't any fish. In fact, there wasn't even any way to get at the fish.

Members of the club had forgotten one small thing of the utmost importance. Below freezing temperatures the night before had produced at least a two-inch coating of ice over the shallow pond.

Nothing could be done except to return home and await warm weather or hard rain which might thaw out the lake. According to club members that might still come before winter but in all probability the scores of pickled, trout, and bull-pout living in the pond will be spared their lives until next spring, when members will again try to clean out the pond in their effort to conserve fishing in Lake Memphremagog.

One of these was the result of a four-year stay in India where Miss Ambrose joined a professional company of Hindu dancers. When we wondered what had prompted this somewhat unusual venture, the tall and slender artist-dancer replied that it was the result of a long quest to determine the origin of the ballet. She had traced the known beginnings from the Court of King Louis XIV to Italy and thence to Spain and the travelling gypsies, who originated in India. Here, in the Hindu dance, she discovered many of the same basic movements as in ballet and did not find it difficult to learn the intricacies of this ancient form. The Hindu teachers were however, demanding in their insistence on utter devotion to their art, even to requiring servile duties and obedience from their pupils.

She also mentioned that she had never found anyone like the Hindu people for their natural sense of color. They just seem to know what will go with what and their handwork is beautiful, she said.

Unexpected

Joining Canadian Ballet Surprise Step By Artist

By BARBARA WARK

Kay Ambrose, artistic adviser to the National Ballet of Canada, claimed she had no intention of joining the company when she came to Canada from England in the fall of 1951. She came for the purpose of collaborating with Celia Franca, the company's artistic director, on a book she was writing on ballet technique for beginners.

She mentioned the fact in an interview Tuesday while she was in town to check on scenic arrangements for the presentation taking place tonight at the Granada Theatre. Miss Ambrose said she arrived in Toronto in the midst of frantic preparations for the opening performance, whereupon she pitched right in to help and hasn't stopped since and one can well believe it when meeting the vibrant, dark-haired artist.

Miss Ambrose designs all the costumes and scenery for the National Ballet and, as if that didn't demand enough ingenuity, she said she is also required to be a carpenter, at least as far as designing and laying out plans for any mechanical devices. She admitted that one of her biggest problems was working out an elevator arrangement required in one of the ballets.

Costume designing, too, was no easy matter, she explained. People often think that an idea which comes to mind need only be sketched out on paper and they don't realize that one also has to bear in mind the problems of the dancer who must wear the costume and the dress-maker who must create it.

The costume sketches which she showed us readily brought to mind the illustrations in her ballet books, Beginners, Please! The Ballet-Lover's Pocket Book and Ballet-Lover's Companion and she mentioned that she had contributed eight books on the dance which have been translated into 18 languages.

One of these was the result of a four-year stay in India where Miss Ambrose joined a professional company of Hindu dancers. When we wondered what had prompted this somewhat unusual venture, the tall and slender artist-dancer replied that it was the result of a long quest to determine the origin of the ballet. She had traced the known beginnings from the Court of King Louis XIV to Italy and thence to Spain and the travelling gypsies, who originated in India. Here, in the Hindu dance, she discovered many of the same basic movements as in ballet and did not find it difficult to learn the intricacies of this ancient form. She also mentioned that she had never found anyone like the Hindu people for their natural sense of color. They just seem to know what will go with what and their handwork is beautiful, she said.

Before going to India, Miss Ambrose studied ballet with Madame Romberg in London, who also numbers among her pupils, Celia Franca, Frederick Ashton, choreographer for Sadler's Wells and Anthony Tudor. Her earlier education was received in France, where she developed a fluent mastery of the French language and at Reading University in London.

In speaking of the new Canadian company, Miss Ambrose had nothing but praise for the 50 young dancers who comprise the troupe and for Miss Franca, its director and guiding spirit. The dancers are a devoted, hard-working lot and they insist on their practice each day, she said. Some ten of them come from Quebec province.

The National Ballet which will present a program tonight in the Granada Theatre starting at 8.30, gave its first diplomatic "gala" performance in Ottawa Wednesday night before an audience including Governor-General Massey and his vice-regal party, diplomats from nearly 40 countries, Supreme Court justices and high ranking officials. Journal critic, Brian Magner, termed Miss Franca's performance of the peasant maid Giselle as a "personal triumph" and hailed Choreographer Ray Moller as a "new talent upon the Canadian horizon" for his staging of the new ballet, La Llamada.

Heavy Damage Awarded For Sidewalk Fall

In a Superior Court judgment handed down by Mr. Justice Gaston Desmarais, the City of Sherbrooke was ordered to pay damages of $3,022 to Mrs. Maurice Aubert for injuries received in a fall at the corner of Galt and Fairmount streets on January 31.

Rendering judgment, Judge Desmarais pointed out that it had been proved that the city failed to take proper action to maintain the sidewalk in a safe condition, as the section in question had been in an icy condition for several hours before Mrs. Aubert sustained her fall.

Damages were assessed as follows: Hospital and medical costs, $192.20; domestic assistance during convalescence, $130; physical pain and suffering, $200, and loss of earning power as the result of a 15 per cent permanent incapacity, $2,500.

Mrs. Aubert had asked $7,000 under the latter head, but the judge cut the award to $2,500.

The "New" Communism

For two weeks the world heard the voice of free Hungarians. It was a voice that cried out in anguished tones against the Communist tyrant that had muffled it so long. But now it is stilled again.

Led by tanks and planes, many thousands of Russian soldiers swarmed into a land whose population totals considerably less than that of the New York metropolitan area.

Though the brave rebel forces here and there fought on against crushing odds, it was clear the revolt had been smashed. The Russians ousted Premier Imre Nagy, who by a strange process had in a few days become almost a "liberal" leader; and installed a typical puppet regime beholden to Moscow.

It was a terribly unhappy ending to one of the most glorious chapters in the long story of man's quest for liberty.

In Poland, defiance of Moscow succeeded because it did not go too far. The government there held to Communist lines. There was no open revolt, no cry for full Communist overthrow, no pulling down of Russian statues or burning of Red books.

But in Hungary all these crucial challenges were flung at the Kremlin. Emboldened by their first successes, the rebels demanded more and more. On point after point, Nagy yielded.

He abolished farm collectivization, promised free elections, amnesty for rebels, and a government with non-Communist representation. He called for withdrawal of Russian troops from Budapest, and announced Hungary's repudiation of the Warsaw pact authorizing Soviet detachments on satellite soil.

Russia's limited forces in Hungary began a pull-back as the Kremlin talked of withdrawal not only there but from Poland and Romania.

Yet all the while Moscow's council's were divided. The peril of a free bridgehead reaching to the very border of the Soviet Union was deemed great. Other satellites would be split, and flanked.

So as millions of Hungarians rejoiced in their breath of free air, and Soviet commanders "negotiated" troop withdrawals, far greater Russian forces pounded across the border and took a stranglehold on strategic points. At dawn on Sunday, Nov. 4, they struck with full armored might.

The old Russia of Stalin, imposing its will with a blow from the mailed fist, was reborn in this action. With its rebirth the image of a Communist leadership dedicated to peace and justice crashed in the dust.

Not even the clamor of war in the Middle East can cloak the evil of tyranny so ruthlessly reasserted. The United Nations has acted to strip off the smiling mask and proclaim to the world its support for Hungary. The whole world must see the Russians for what they are.

Hungary's real emergence as a newly free land may now be long years off. Yet none but the most glib followers of the Kremlin will question that the remarkable Hungarians are kept from liberty only by the most overwhelming application of force.

Their fierce spirit should fire the hearts of all free men.

Vain Search

It makes dismal reading that for the second successive year the Nobel Peace Prize Committee meeting in Norway has been unable to find any one worthy of its cherished award.

We must assume that the committee has searched diligently for a citizen of the world whose contributions to the cause of peace merited their accolade. That they could not find one is perhaps an acute commentary on these times.

Peace is the great goal of free men. Yet to give it lasting foundations today seems a more elusive task than ever. In many corners of the earth leaders in varying walks of life are striving desperately to accomplish it. Despite their efforts, the Nobel committee had to say sadly: "None of these will do."

And as the committee returns to the search for another year, the explosive events of Europe and the Middle East underscore their trials.

Danger In Too Tight Money

(Toronto Telegram)

While inflation can be bad for a country, a wrong idea of it, resulting in too tight money, could be a man-made obstacle, President John S. Proctor of the Imperial Bank said in a speech to the Canadian Society of New York. This would come about, he explained, if central bank authorities thought "a perfectly natural increase in prices and income and wealth were something unsound."

Monetary policy in Canada during the past eight months has been directed to curbing further expansion in certain fields of credit activity. As pointed out in these columns, the effect is not uniform, and in some parts of the country results in hardship.

Canadians, with the purchasing power of the dollar shrunken, and their total annual savings less than the amount of taxes, turn in many cases to bonds and debentures rather than to enterprises such as attract U. S. investors in Canada.

If in fact there is inflationary potential in rising gross national product, our problem is bound to grow, Mr. Proctor points out, because "we have seen nothing yet."

His view is supported by a DBS bulletin dated October 30 and disclosing the May-to-

August trend. This shows more people working, labor income up, important increases in sales of groceries, clothing, furniture and motor vehicles. Building was down as regards residential and government but not industrial. Exports rose faster than imports. The index of industrial production was up in almost all categories except iron and steel, and that would be a temporary setback.

Canada's economic expansion, Mr. Proctor believes, should be allowed to continue "without being affected by political instability and chronic inflation."

Bank presidents are interesting when they speak out, and Mr. Proctor has spoken to good purpose.

VANISHING ENGLISHMAN

(Sam Pollock on BBC)

The stiff-upper-lip Englishman of tradition has almost completely gone out of fashion, both in fact and in fiction. The distinguishing mark of this character was that he thought all displays of emotion frightfully bad form—which meant that he usually ended upon roaming the wild places of the earth, and doing a whole lot of no good to the local big game, or else shut up in a gloomy isolated mansion on the moors, where he was to be occasionally observed striding about the ground accompanied by his pet leopard. And all because he had never been able to bring himself to disclose to that awfully nice girl way back, that he was that way about her. Silly Ass! It was a good job that he was never a very common type. If all Englishmen had taken after him both the English race and the race of big game in Africa would by now be extinct species.

Press Comment

SOME WORDS ARE GREATLY OVERWORKED
(From The Printed Word)

Words, more than people, tend to become overworked. Fortunately, after a period of overwork has brought exhaustion to words and readers, writers and speakers may decide to give their slaves a rest. It is not many years since everything was "intriguing" whether an intrigue was involved or not. Then there was a vogue for "hectic," misused by ninety-nine out of a hundred persons who put it on paper. Both seem to have been given decent burial. "Exotic" survives in perfume advertisement, principally because the copy-writers think it is a synonym for "erotic" or believe, perhaps correctly, that readers of their advertisements will so interpret it. Other writers, for the moment at least, seem to have turned it out to pasture.

One word currently showing signs of strain is "dramatic." A friend of misused adjectives has recently noted "dramatic" applied to such things as clocks, plumbing fixtures, clothes and baseball games. Apparently in modern English usage (not Fowler's), the adjective may be applied to anything except the drama. But when an adjective is used for so many purposes, it ceases to have any meaning at all. Its resting period is at hand or overdue.

Since language grows by extension of its use, it might be pedantic to insist on limiting the application of "dramatic" to the field of the drama. One could not really object to describing some utterances of politicians as "dramatic" when the utterances are framed and presented with the intention of misleading the public. The point of the adjective, if it must be used, is to suggest artificial contrivance. Applied to baseball games, it verges on the libellous. If sports writers cannot do without it, they might reserve it for descriptions of professional wrestling matches.

hearts, and East won with the queen. East returned the king of hearts, and dummy ruffed.

Declarer next finessed the queen of diamonds, losing to the king. West returned a diamond, and South took the ace in order to ruff his last heart in dummy.

All would have been well if declarer had taken the precaution of ruffing with a high trump. As it was, he was left with only the ace and queen of spades in the dummy. He drew trumps with the ace and next led the queen of spades, but East refused to win the trick with his king.

Now South had to lead clubs from the dummy, and therefore lost a club trick. This was one trick more than he could afford to lose.

If East had taken the queen of spades when it was offered to him, he would have helped declarer out of his troubles. Any return would allow South to capture the lead and draw the last trump, after which declarer could take the club finesse to make his contract.

Whooping cranes

(Christian Science Monitor)

At latest count there are 27 wild whooping cranes now in existence (plus three in zoos). That is one less than a year ago. And American and Canadian officials have been conferring on means to save these huge birds from extinction.

Why should they be? The adult whoopers are five feet tall and spread their wings almost eight feet — too small for an ostrich and too big for a coot. They toil not, neither do they spin — at least, not for men. They are not good to eat; they lay only a couple of eggs a year. If they dispose of any insects and grubs harmful to agriculture, the birds are now too few to be of any help. And as for their far-ranging forces — who could not whoop with a five-foot windpipe?

Border Curling Club Notes

The Border Curling Club Ltd. has opened its doors for the start of the second year and the many hours of work by volunteers through the summer and fall showed up in the form of a practically new kitchen, an attractively painted ice shed and the clubhouse in apple-pie order.

The first mixed bonspiel of the year started on Monday and the club is open to anyone interested in watching the play. Members are welcome to bring any number of guests with them for the week's activities.

The finals will be held on Saturday, with semi-finals in the afternoon and finals at night. A party will be held and dancing will follow the curling events.

The Ladies' Border Curling Club Ltd. met with the new president, Mrs. Priscilla Fitch, in the chair, Mrs. Bess Rivet having resigned owing to her departure from town.

Mrs. Olive Doubleday read the secretary's report and Mrs. Betty Cass gave the treasurer's statement. Mrs. Blanche Beasse of Stanstead was elected to fill the vacant post of vice-president.

The by-laws drawn up by the committee were presented by Mrs. M. Burke and accepted.

The match committee registered the curlers present for teams. Any curler not present and who would like to curl on a team may get in touch with either Mrs. Dorcas Pocock or Mrs. Juanita MacLean.

Team play will start shortly, but the ice is available at any time for practice or for those getting up a couple of teams.

MANNERS MAKE FRIENDS

If you are old enough to have dates you are old enough to know better than to sit in a car in front of a girl's house, blow the horn, and expect her to come out to meet you. Go to the front door and knock.

It's really not such an ordeal — after the first time or two.

If cooking oysters remember that best results are obtained when the little fellows are heated just until they plump up and their inner edges show signs of ruffling. Too much heat toughens oysters.

B & P W Club Tour Bell Telephone Co.

The consensus of opinion among members of the Business & Professional Women's Club upon the conclusion of their visit to the Sherbrooke Exchange of the Bell Telephone Company was that their tour had proved an outstandingly interesting and educative event.

Upon arrival the guests were welcomed by members of the Bell Telephone staff and conducted in groups to the various stations and offices where the purpose and workings of each were explained by employees possessing thorough knowledge of their duties. The visitors felt that much had been learned in the course of the evening concerning the intricacies of the telephone system in all its ramifications.

During a few moments of relaxation spent in the attractive Bell Telephone cafeteria a short business meeting was held under the presidency of Miss Margaret Haight.

It was announced by Miss Haight that the club's Christmas party would take place at Rockcliffe on Monday, December 10.

The names of Miss Ida Baxter from Edinburgh, Scotland and Mrs. Mary Potticary, R.N., were proposed for membership and unanimously approved.

Sympathy was expressed to Mrs. Eva Renihan in the recent loss of her father Mr. Azarie Dupuis.

Miss Clara Aitkenhead, chairman of the program committee, conveyed the very sincere thanks of the club to the group of Bell Telephone personnel whose courtesy and kindness had made of this evening such a pleasurable and profitable occasion.

Other members of the chapter assisted in serving.

CONFIDENTIALLY YOURS

—by Byrne Hope Sanders

MONTREAL, Nov. 15th—Here's an inspiration! A gift to bring someone you love companion-ship—interest—fun for many years. All these come with a beautiful little Budgie! Think now—wouldn't your Mother enjoy the bright cheeriness of this gay little friend... wouldn't your Daughter? Budgies are so easy to care for. They bring constant laughter with their show-off tricks; such interest in teaching them to say new words! Inexpensive to buy and to keep... and thriving always on BROCK'S NATURAL FEEDING DIET... because it contains all the food elements they need. We all dote on our own Budgie, Sir Isaac—so I speak in all sincerity when I say "Do give a Budgie this Christmas... for companionship and pleasure!"

One Thing I've Learned...... about cooking to please the whole family — is to use the family favorites—with a new twist added, for variety. Like hamburgers, with sauce made from LIPTON ONION SOUP. Wonderful! Cook your hamburgers as usual — and pour this sauce over them.

Onion Sauce for Hamburgers
2 1/2 cups water 1 tsp. butter or margarine
1 pkg. Lipton Onion Soup 2 tbsps. flour
1/2 cup water

Bring water to a boil. Add Lipton Onion Soup, and butter. Cover and cook 10 minutes. Blend flour and water, stir into soup mixture until thickened. Lipton Onion Soup is delicious for gravies, too. You'll find the flavor is delicate — and delicious!

Family Contentment...... is, surely, one of life's most precious gifts! It grows from family hours together—enjoying, for instance, a game of MONOPOLY. It's the most popular game there is—and no wonder! From three to eight may play—and it's as much fun for Dad as his small son—buying and renting properties—building houses—investing money—making money! With youngsters enjoying home life so much more than ever before—capture their interest with a group of fine games tucked into the shelves at home. "Let's play Monopoly"—is a sure-fire invitation to family enjoyment!

Coffee Times Are Happy Times... specially when you enjoy them with the rich, full-flavored goodness of the New INSTANT CHASE & SANBORN. Whether it's breakfast on a crisp November morning—or enjoying a TV spectacular—or your own little moment of relaxation after shopping or house-cleaning, there's nothing quite so good as the New Instant Chase & Sanborn. For one thing, there's nearly 100 years of coffee experience back of its perfecting. For another, it's gentle-brewed for mellow goodness. See for yourself—look through the window in the jar—that rich, coffee color which means real coffee flavor. Wish you'd try it! You'll be glad!

Just Been Hanging Out The Clothes...... on a raw November day. Hard on one's hands, isn't it? But you can protect them so easily with Olan's C.T.A. BALM—made for busy hands like yours and mine. A quick thumb pressure gives you the little you need—just rub it vigorously into your busy hands after every exposure to work—water—weather. You'll be proud of your lovely hands if you keep the household size with the convenient dispenser always handy—both for only 69¢! No leaking—no need to twist or seal the bottle. Just that quick thumb pressure—and you're set! At drug counters, everywhere.

Here's The Inside Story about home improvements. At this time of year, with general construction activity slackening off for the winter, it's easier to find the skilled workmen to turn those plans for indoor home improvements into a practical reality. Yes, and practical in more ways than one because you can save money by paying for the labor and materials all at once with an inexpensive BANK OF MONTREAL Home Improvement Loan. You can repay your loan in equal monthly installments, plus interest at only 5 1/2% interest per annum. An HIL is the ideal way to keep your home in tip-top shape. So, see what needs fixing up inside your house, then see your local BofM manager about fixing up a Home Improvement Loan for you.

How To Lose Weight! I can honestly tell you that it's easy to do—with Ayds and the Ayds Plan. Taken before meals, delicious-tasting AYDS and the Ayds Plan curb your appetite. You just naturally eat less, so down goes your weight—and with no nervousness, sleeplessness or unpleasant "side-effects". Clinical tests under medical supervision have proved that men and women who used Ayds and the Ayds Plan lost more weight than those on any other reducing methods. They really are wonderfully effective—contain added vitamins and minerals, too. You must lose weight with your first box—or your money refunded! On sale everywhere.

You Can Be So Confident...... that you are giving that precious babe the exact milk formula he requires, when you ask your doctor to tell you which of the three FARMER'S WIFE formula milks is the best for him. All three are prepared especially for infant feeding. Pediatricians, themselves, asked for the Partly Skimmed Milk (Blue Label)—a high protein, low fat milk concentrate. Many babies thrive most satisfactorily on Whole Milk (Red Label), or Skimmed Milk (Yellow Label). All Farmer's Wife formula milks have Vitamin D content increased and are vacuum packed in the most modern container for your extra protection. Start your babe on one of them and watch him thrive!

Impressive Service At Unveiling Of Ayer's Cliff War Memorial

AYER'S CLIFF — A large crowd gathered at the War Memorial for the annual Remembrance Day Service, which the local Branch No. 128 of the Canadian Legion, under the presidency of W. W. Call, made every effort to make one to be remembered. The unveiling of a new War Memorial was dedicated to the men of Ayer's Cliff and vicinity, who served in World War

1. World War 2, and the Korean War. The service was held following the church service with the veterans attending in a body. The invocation was given by the Rev. H. C. Denton, followed by the singing of "O Canada."

The monument of black marble, was unveiled by A. C. Parkhill, father of Douglas Parkhill, who gave his life in World War II. Mayor George Mosher, of Ayer's Cliff, Mayor Kenneth T. Little, of West Hatley Municipality, Mayor Ferdinand Cloutier, of Stanstead East, and Douglas MacKinnon, representing Barnston West Municipality, as Mayor Henri Roy was unable to be present, comprised the supporting party.

Rev. Herve Noel, and Rev. W. H. Boomhour, made the dedication speeches which was followed by the "Last Post" sounded by Guyle Clough, two minutes of silence was observed then wreaths were placed in memory of those who gave their lives, by the Municipalities, business places, organizations and individuals. Veteran Edward J. Astbury acted as color bearer. The service closed with the singing of "God Save Our Queen."

The men of the Legion have worked untiringly to make this Memorial possible, and with the generosity of individuals, organizations, and generous contributions from the Municipalities, Ayer's Cliff, West Hatley, Barnston West, and Stanstead East, made their dream come true.

TOWN IMPROVEMENTS

This Town has been buzzing a greater part of the past week with activity. Due to the efforts of the Mayor, and the co-operation of our Q.C. Agent, Louis Gregoire, the railroad sent a bulldozer here to level the land between the track and on the south side of the station.

The grounds at the Municipal building have been levelled thus greatly improving the appearance, and making a much nicer entrance to the village.

The Old Tyler Cemetery at the foot of the Cliff was some time ago ploughed up, the old fallen stones picked up and ground levelled and grassed over, but it has seemed a shame to many that this plot had no marker for the Pioneers of this district that were buried there.

A short time ago a cement base was made in the center of the plot, and a monument was erected, and later the names will be inscribed.

This "Pioneer Memorial" was made possible through the local Legion Branch, as it was their monument, and has been replaced by a larger one on the new site in front of the County Building on Main Street.

The mayor and council were approached and their donation graciously accepted. The old monument was moved to the cemetery, with some trees planted and lawn mowed, this can be a credit to the town, instead of one of neglect. The citizens are really happy that this has at last been done.

BEULAH ASSOCIATION

Mrs. H. N. Pierce and Mrs. Glen Little were joint hostesses, at the Gibson - Pierce home when they entertained the regular monthly meeting of the Beulah Evening Association. Mrs. Pierce led the devotional period and Mrs. W. H. Boomhour continued with discussion on the subject of Salvation.

The business followed when the president, Mrs. C. Milton disposed of many important items. Rummage sales were planned, definite plans were made for the Christmas sale and tea which will be held December 12th. Mrs. Sam Astbury, Mrs. M. Melnyk and Mrs. R. G. McHarg were appointed to arrange for the tea, and the various committees were named for the sales table. Donations were voted to the Missionary and Maintenance Fund, W. M. S., Sunday School, Mission Band and Explorers group. It was agreed to give a gift to a recent bride and to a faithful member, who is at present under a great emotional strain.

The hostesses served refreshments and a pleasant social hour was enjoyed by all present.

Bringing Up Baby

HINTS COLLECTED BY
Mrs. Dan Barker
(MOTHER OF 5)

Is baby on the brink of that first birthday? It probably seems only a couple of yesterday's ago that your pride in joy was completely dependent upon you. Now independence is the order of the day for your self-styled Gulliver. Such fun finding out what feet are for—that little hands can make a spoon behave—or that a coo really comes out as a word. All part of learning coordination, confidence, basic ingredients for growing up.

More ingredients for growing up—table fare for tykes with teeth. Like Gerber Junior Foods, for instance—prepared with a tender, evenly minced texture that's just right for tots who can chew. Then too, they have the naturally good true flavors and eye-catching colors baby's been used to in Gerber Strained Foods. And you have a grand choice to keep that appetite perky.

Bang-up idea. 2 simple ways to cut toddlers' bangs, minus fuss, muss and tears.
(1) Apply a strip of cellophane tape across bottom of bangs and cut along tape edge. No prickly hairs in baby's eyes... a straight line is assured.
(2) Hold a small opened envelope directly above baby's eyes and snip. Hair drops neatly into envelope and the kit and kaboodle can be disposed of easily.

Hearty main dishes for nippy November days. Gerber Junior Vegetable and Meat Dinners combine 2 important food groups—vegetables and meat—for extra nourishment and unusual flavor interest. There are 7 appetizing varieties of Gerber Junior Vegetable and Meat Dinners—all are as wholesome as can be. Look for them on your Grocers' shelves.

Safety first dept. Dangling iron or toaster cords can lead to disaster in the hands of inquisitive, little toddlers, so make sure they're well out of reach. Gerber Baby Foods, Niagara Falls, Canada.

forces plunged into Egypt Oct. 29th.

Hanging over this barrier of disagreement is the fear of intervention by Communist "volunteers."

The report that Nasser had asked for such help came from an Arab diplomatic source in the Soviet capital. It was not confirmed by the Egyptian embassy in Moscow.

The New York Times says in a dispatch from Cairo that official sources in the Egyptian capital denied that Egypt has asked the Soviet Union to send "volunteers" to Egypt at this time.

The dispatch quotes one source as adding that Egypt "naturally" had not repudiated offers from the Soviet Union, Communist China or any other power to send "volunteers" if Nasser felt they were needed. But since there now was a cease-fire, with UN forces ordered to the scene, Egypt felt no need for the entry of foreign "volunteers."

Egypt made an urgent appeal to the world for help after Britain and France opened their invasion of the canal zone.

The Soviet government last weekend said it would not hinder the departure of volunteer airmen, tank drivers, artillery experts and others if British, French and Israeli forces delayed in withdrawing from Egypt.

President Eisenhower told his press conference in Washington Wednesday that the United States opposes any intervention by Russia or Communist China in Egypt. His remarks left the inference that Washington might ask the UN to sponsor such opposition as was done in Korea.

The government-controlled Cairo radio reported Eisenhower's statement at length.

As the vanguard of the UN force took off for the now quiet battle zone, UN officials said Egyptian authorities had made housing arrangements at Ismailia, half-way on the 103-mile Suez waterway, for a force of 1,000 men.

The Abu Suweir arrival point is a former British army headquarters site southwest of Ismailia. Billets at the camp were being prepared today to receive the police units.

downing their guns, joined in the general strike.

Nagy, from the Yugoslav embassy, sent word to Western correspondents Wednesday that he would have no dealings with the Kadar regime.

The former Communist party first secretary, Ernoe Geroc, and former premier Andras Hegedues headed the list of those purged by the new regime Budapest radio said they had been barred "forever" from any public and party activity and "advised to resume their former jobs" in private life.

Geroc, now believed in the Soviet Union, had been blamed by the rebels for calling on the Soviet army for aid immediately after the rebellion broke out.

The flood of refugees from the battered country continued. More than 4,000 crossed into Austria Wednesday, bringing the total since the revolt began Oct. 23 to nearly 30,000.

STANBRIDGE EAST—

Mr. J. J. Bertrand, M.L.A. addressed the members of the Stanbridge East Women's Institute and guests from surrounding communities on the legal status of women. Two interesting films were also shown by a representative from the Quebec Publicity Bureau. After the address, a Forum was held which proved both interesting and informative. The speaker was introduced by the convener of education, Mrs. C. Rhicard and thanked by the president, Mrs. Tomkinson.

Remembrance Day was fittingly observed in the church services here with special music and prayers. Rev. H. J. Reynolds conducted the service in St. James Anglican Church and Rev. T. F. Duncan had charge of the service in the United Church. In the afternoon a number from here attended the Cenotaph observance in Bedford.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Kidd entertained the teachers and friends of the United Church Sunday School at their home, when a discussion on several items was held and plans made for the Christmas party. Lunch was served by the hostess, and a social hour was enjoyed.

Rev. Raymond Stote, of Grenville, was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. Stote and Mr. and Mrs. Asa Stote.

MRS. BERTHA CHAPMAN, of Brome, Que., who, on Sunday, November 11th, celebrated her 90th birthday at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Chapman at Brome. Born in Sutton on November, 11th 1866, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hurlburt, Mrs. Chapman came to live in Brome in 1881 and has lived in the same house for the past 57 years. Although her eyesight is failing and she is quite deaf, Mrs. Chapman's physical condition is excellent. She has never been seriously ill, nor has she ever been in a hospital. She attends church every Sunday and takes a keen interest in all village activities. Until her eyesight began to fail, she did beautiful crocheting work. She gets a great deal of pleasure from radio and some television programs and particularly enjoys a good game of cards. For the past four years, she has accompanied her son-in-law and daughter to the South, spending two years in Carolina and two in Florida. They intend to leave on November 15th to spend the winter in Florida again this year. Mrs. Chapman is an excellent traveller and looks forward to the trip, which they take by car, every winter.

Ottawa Unable To Grant Request For Transmitter At Lake Megantic

LAKE MEGANTIC — Recently T. R. Veary forwarded a letter and petition to the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation asking for the establishment of an English language low power relay transmitter.

Following is a copy of the letter received from J. A. Oulmet, Ottawa, in reply:

"Your letter of Sept. 6th urging the establishment of an English language low power relay transmitter at Lake Megantic, has been referred by the Department of Transport to me for reply.

"As you point out the Corporation has established such a transmitter at Lake Megantic to serve the French language population of the area. It is calculated that this reaches approximately 17,000 by day and approximately 8,000 by night. A similar installation in the English language would bring service to only 400 by day and 300 by night.

"The revenues available to the C. B. C. for radio purposes have for some time now been so limited that the board of governors of the Corporation has not considered it feasible to add to the transmitting facilities of the Corporation. The C. B. C. has received representations from a number of areas for which an installation would provide service to a larger number. It has had to rely upon its high power transmitters such as C. B. M. Montreal to bring service to smaller numbers at outlying ance of $1174, $300 more than last year, due partly to the curtailment of expenditures and to committees carrying out several hundred dollars worth of improvements at their own expense.

The new executive for 1957 comprises: Honorary president and Trustee, A. J. Philip; Hon. vice-presidents, H. Cranford and J. E. Morrison; auditor, M. T. J. McKee; president, H. Finley; vice-president, C. Christman, J. Van Damme, G. Clapp; Past president, O. Bogstad; secretary, R. MacDonald; treasurer, R. Gilbert; camp committee chairman, T. Clapp, badge secretary, P. Farley.

Mayor and Mrs. Bolduc and Mrs. Houldsworth were also present.

ODDFELLOWS MEET

About 50 people were present at the dinner served in the Club House by Willowdale Rebekah Lodge at the annual Oddfellows' meeting of District No. 6.

Seated at the head table were F. Robinson, D.D.G.M., who presided, and Mrs. Robinson, D.D.P. district No. 5; J. Cruickshanks, G.M. Grand Lodge of Quebec Province; H. F. Sanderson, D.G. M., Ayer's Cliff; Mr. and Mrs. S. Hart, Sherbrooke; G. Clarke, G. W., and Mrs. Clarke, Bishopston; J. Gardner, G.C.; H. Robinson, P.D.D.G.M.; Mrs. E. Aldrich and Dale Aldrich.

One of the high points of the evening was the presentation by Mr. S. Hart of Sherbrooke, of the silver cup for the outstanding athlete at the Oddfellows field day to Dale Aldrich.

After the dinner, members and guests returned to the Lodge room where session was opened by Jubilee Lodge No. 31, and speeches were heard by Grand Lodge officers.

Later in the evening, Mrs. F. Robinson entertained the officers at her home.

Extensive Store Renovation By Jack Echenberg And Sons

Latest Window Display System Features Change

In keeping with modern store practice Jack Echenberg and Sons have renovated their store on Wellington St. north.

Last May this store and its head, Jack Echenberg, celebrated an anniversary, that of Mr. Echenberg's 50th year of business in Sherbrooke.

The store specializes in ready-to-wear women's clothes and the firm has been in its present location since 1939 when Mr. Echenberg dissolved partnership with his two brothers, and entered business with his son, Edwin.

The renovation work made a complete change of the store front, mainly in the windows, which are now more spacious and well lighted. From the outside one can see the entire interior of the store.

With this renovation Jack Echenberg and Sons becomes another merchant keeping up with Sherbrooke's modern commercial progress.

Remembrance Day Fittingly Observed At Cenotaph By Waterloo Residents

WATERLOO — Remembrance Day was fittingly observed when a large number of citizens followed a parade from the Legion Hall to the Cenotaph, where a service was held.

The parade, organized by George A. Young, was comprised of the Waterloo Band under the leadership of Dr. G. Poirier, Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, C.G.I.T., and members of St. Luke's Junior W. A.

The cenotaph was banked with wreaths presented by relatives and citizens in grateful memory of the men whose names are inscribed on the monument.

Rev. Paul Busing and Rev. Colin M. West addressed the assembly fittingly referring to the men who had died in their fight for freedom.

Following the Last Post by Cleveland Pugh, the assembly marched to St. Bernadine Church where a service was held.

TURKEY DINNER

Over five hundred were served at the turkey dinner in St. Paul's Church Hall. Friends attended from Montreal, Granby, Mansonville, Knowlton, South Stukely and Warden.

Miss Pansy Sargeant was in charge of the dining room and Mrs. Orval Quilliams ably convened the kitchen committee.

Owing to a well arranged system of numbering tickets, all confusion was eliminated. Gratifying monetary results were obtained from the efforts of the promoters.

General Notes

Other visiting clergymen included Archdeacon Lidstone, of St. Georges Church, Granby, Rev. R. E. R. Nurse, St. Paul's Church, Knowlton and Rev. John Brett, of Sutton. The remains were brought to the Tetreault Funeral Home, where the funeral service was held on Thursday, November 8th, with Rev. Paul Busing officiating. Burial took place in the family lot in the Eastman cemetery. The chief mourners were a brother, Mr. Carl Dingman and Mrs. Dingman of Mount Orford and four nephews, Homer, Maurice and Albert Dingman and Herbert Norris, who officiated as bearers.

Mr. Arthur LeBlanc of Montreal, and Mrs. LeBlanc, who recently returned from Europe, spent the week-end at their home here.

Lucien Turcotte Guest Speaker At Boundary Rotary

ROCK ISLAND — "All of us are handicapped in some way or other, but we still manage to do our work," was the contention of Lucien Turcotte, whose work is the placing of handicapped people in jobs they can successfully handle.

Mr. Turcotte was the speaker at the meeting of the Rotary Club of the Boundary, held at the Del Monty Hotel, with president Ernest Sutton presiding.

Mr. Turcotte said that there was a feeling that handicapped people were not as able to do jobs without visible handicaps, but he stated that actual tests had proved that many of these people had a higher rate of production, fewer accidents and less absenteeism.

It was a question, contended the speaker, of finding the proper task and then convincing the prospective employer that the person could do it capably and well.

He said that plants where these people had been employed were enthusiastic about the results obtained and that the prejudice against hiring handicapped persons was gradually decreasing.

The short talk was followed by a film illustrating many of the points the speaker had brought out.

Mr. Turcotte was introduced by E. J. Struthers and thanked by Lloyd Bliss.

President Ernest Sutton announced that G. Earl Heath had been officially declared to be the District Governor nominee for 1957-58, the first time a member of the Boundary Club has been so honored.

The only visiting Rotarian present at the meeting was George Orthey of Newport. Alson Weaver of Kitchener, Ont., was present as a guest of Maurice Moore.

Vets' Group And Militia Joined With Dignitaries To Commemorate Armistice

MAGOG — Magog citizens saw one of the most impressive Armistice Day commemorations this community has ever witnessed when veterans, militia groups and cadets gathered at the Army, Navy and Air Force Hall at 9:15 Sunday morning.

At 9:30 they paraded to the city's Memorial Park, and from there to St. Jean Bosco Church where the Armistice Day service was held.

The Rev. Father Page, in his sermon on the Book of St. John, took for his text, "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, and the Son so loved us, that He gave Himself for our salvation."

In his talk, Father Page suggested that the soldiers who had fought in the two wars, imitated Jesus Christ when called to duty to defend the rights of others. "Many of them never came back," he said. "Many came back more dead than alive. Today we are gathering in Churches and at Cenotaphs to commemorate the courage of those soldiers. Today we are joined in prayer for those men, but let us make every day a day of remembrance to prove our gratitude."

Father Page noted that despite the sacrifices made and the misery and suffering caused by the past two wars, the world is still restless and man still believes that to obtain peace he must continually prepare for war.

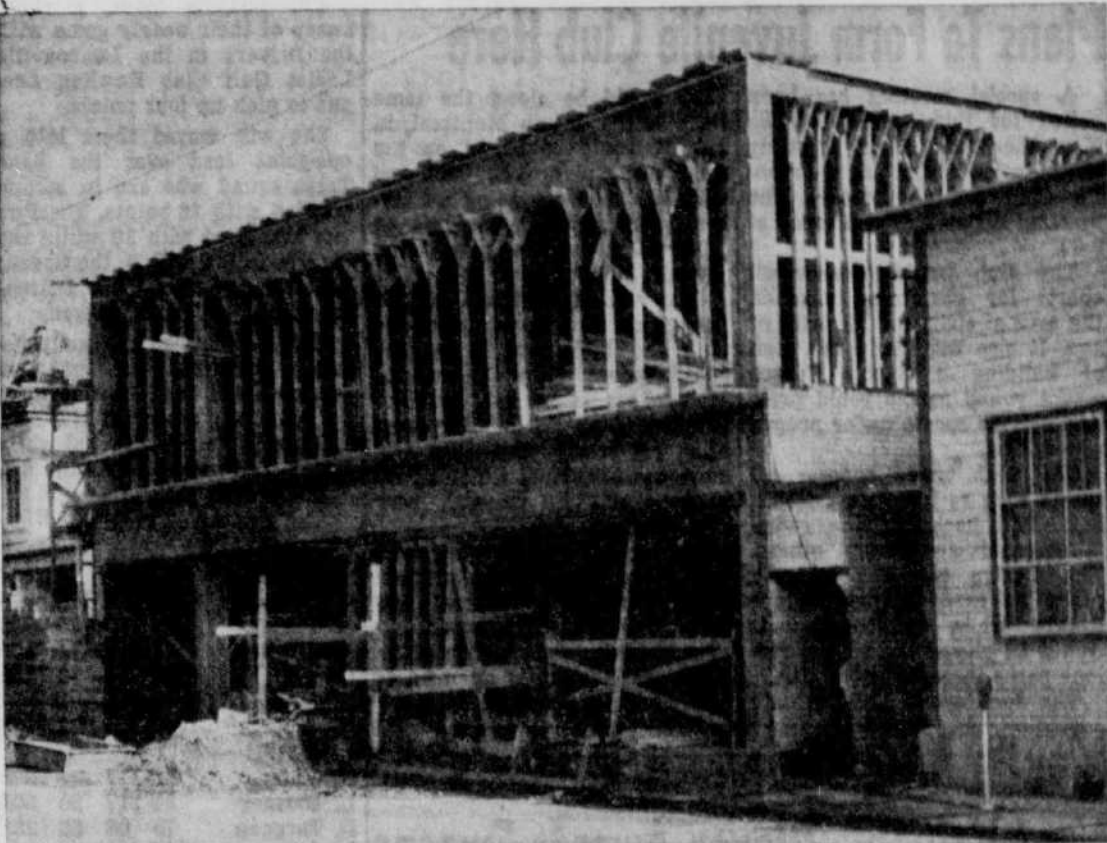

Following the service, the parade proceeded to the Memorial Park for the cenotaph service where wreaths were laid and prayers, poems and hymns were offered in honour of the fallen. The Benediction was given by Canon John Comfort.

Taking the salute at the march past were: Lt.-Col. F. L. Armi-

St. Paul's Mission Circle

Mrs. R. Nelson entertained the autumn Thankoffering meeting of St. Paul's United Church Mission Circle with members of the Woman's Missionary Society as guests.

The president, Mrs. R. Nelson, welcomed the visitors and then conducted a short business meeting. Plans were made to send a parcel containing a knitted afghan and other clothing to the R. W. Large Memorial Hospital at Bella Bella, British Columbia. The sale of Christmas cards by Mission Circle members has proved very successful, with still another order to be sent.

The Thankoffering worship service was conducted by Mrs. R. Trew, assisted by Mrs. F. Beard. The guest speaker of the evening was Mrs. A. E. Swoger, Christian Stewardship secretary for the W. M. S. Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbytery. Her subject, entitled "The Woman with the Costly Offering or the Stewardship of Money", was most interesting and gave all those present a great deal to think about regarding the stewardship of money. Mrs. Swoger was introduced by the president and thanked by Mrs. W. Mitchell.

At the conclusion of the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostess.

Jeweller Gives Talk On Gems

MAGOG — The public are too readily influenced by size rather than the true quality of diamonds, Paul Nadeau, registered jeweller of the American Gem Society, told the 6th charter gathering of the Magog Kiwanis Club held at the Ripplecove Inn recently.

"Today there are many supposed bargains on diamonds," Mr. Nadeau said, "some are offered as wholesale values or presented in other ways at prices that the sellers claim to be exceptional buys."

There are very few of these claims which are genuine he added and that the only method of obtaining true value in buying gems was to deal with a firm that is reliable and educated in the trade.

Mr. Nadeau asserted that "It is the practice of the American Gem Society to place true value on gems and to strive to educate the public as to their worth."

Accompanying Mr. Nadeau were two of his associates from Skinner and Nadeau Inc., Sherbrooke, Alphonse Saumier and Ronnie Fortier, who are also studying under the American Gem Society.

Following the speaker's address, he showed sample stones and answered a large number of questions by those who attended this mixed gathering.

Rev. Canon John Comfort, charter president of the Magog Kiwanis Club, introduced the speaker, and past president Jack Peters thanked him.

Seated at the head table were President Edward Foggo and Mrs. Foggo, Mr. Nadeau, president elect Irene Fortier and Mrs. Fortier, Rev. Canon John Comfort and Mrs. Comfort.

The Sherbrooke and Granby Kiwanis Clubs were also represented.

Each lady attending received a corsage, courtesy of the Magog Flower Shop, and door prizes were given by Hudon and Vigneux Hardware and Vaillancourt Jewellers of Magog. Refreshments were donated by Euclide Langlois.

Archie Stafford, host provided an orchestra for dancing, which brought the event to a close.

Maurice Richard Pots His 99th Goal Against Rangers As Canucks Win

Fontinalo And Beliveau Stage Lively Battle In Opening Frame; Only Game On Tap; Two Tonight

Maurice (Rocket) Richard has never been known to play favorites in his 15-year career as right winger for Montreal Canadiens in the National Hockey League. He scores goals anywhere, anytime, everywhere and all the time.

The 35-year-old ace has scored well against every club in the circuit and is nearing a milestone against New York Rangers. Wednesday night he registered his 99th goal against the Blue-shirts as Canadiens won 5-3 at New York.

The Rocket has scored 466 regular-season goals since he hit big-league hockey — plus 62 in playoff games. Rangers have particularly felt his scoring sting. Richard's goal Wednesday night helped send Rangers to their sixth straight defeat.

It was the only game of the night. The victory moved the third-place Canadiens within two points of the leading Boston Bruins. In second spot are Detroit Red Wings, who have 18 points, one behind Boston. Toronto Maple Leafs are fourth with 14 points, Rangers fifth with nine and Chicago Black Hawks last with five.

The game in New York was only two minutes old when a battle broke out between Ranger defencemen Lou Fontinalo and Montreal centre Jean Beliveau.

Most of the players on the ice became involved in the fight and six penalties were called. It took officials 10 minutes to restore order.

Fontinalo and Beliveau drew five-minute majors. In addition, Fontinalo got a 10-minute misconduct. Harry Howell of Rangers and Montreal's Bert Olmstead drew minors from referee Eddie Powers.

Besides Richard, the Hab scorers were Dickie Moore, Andre Pronovost, Floyd Curry and Beliveau. Larry Popien, Bill Gadsby and Red Sullivan tallied for Rangers.

Rangers spurred into an early 2-0 lead but faded under Canadiens' attack. The Montrealers were ahead 3-2 by the end of the second period and outscored Rangers 2-1 in the final.

Lorne Worsley of Rangers stopped 40 shots. Gerry McNeil, substituting for the ailing Jacques Plante, stopped 29 Ranger shots.

Two games are scheduled tonight. The Leafs are at Detroit and Bruins meet Hawks in Chicago.

Coach Ivy's Pregame Prediction Before WIFU Final Is; The Winner Will Come Out Of It Bruised Up

EDMONTON — (C) — Frank (Pop) Ivy is a quiet sort of man who makes a positive statement only when he's sure of something.

The Edmonton Eskimo head coach is certain of very little in connection with Saturday night's deciding game against Saskatchewan Roughriders in the western football final, but he's emphatic when he says:

"Whoever wins that one is going to come out of it well bruised up."

The 40-year-old Ivy, shooting for his third Western Interprovincial Football Union and Grey Cup titles in three years at the helm of Eskimos, did some outlandish wishing Wednesday night after putting his charges through a brisk, hour-long workout under the lights at Clarke Stadium.

"If we'd won that first game . . ." he said, referring to last Saturday afternoon at Regina when Riders took a one-game lead in the best-of-three series by coming from behind 9-21 to win 23-22 on a last-minute converted touchdown. Esks tied it Monday by winning 20-12.

" . . . now we'd have the series won and could rest for two weeks instead of one; clean up some of those injuries real good and be ready for the East again."

"Ah well," he looked down at his boot and kicked at the heater in the coaches' room, "now our first problem is to get past Saskatchewan."

The injuries to which Ivy referred include a sore back suffered by Frank Anderson, offensive guard and defensive end; Charley Horses suffered by tackle Roger Nelson, end Joe Mohra and halfback Oscar Kruger, and an assortment of lesser bruises that nearly every man on the team shares.

Legion Topples Bel-Air 23-17 In Darts Tilt

RICHMOND — Les Dalton's dart gave Legion the win over the Bel-Air Club when the Valcourt team played at the Legion hall this week. The victory, coming to the tune of 23-17, put Legion back in first place.

They broke the three-way tie when three of the duos won four rounds with Dalton and Delaney getting the winning darts though they won only two rounds. The four-round winners were Maurice Davis with Maisie Heale; Ken MacLeod with Kay Crack and Ed Campbell with Ed Knowles.

Lorne Kydd and Jack Cunningham, Sr. won three-out-of-five while three other teams lost three rounds.

T. Lacroix and Paul Belair won four rounds for the Valcourt team and V. Pratte with J. Boisse won three-out-of-five. Four other teams lost three and two lost four rounds.

Two games are scheduled for Friday night with RDC meeting Tremblin in Melbourne while Rovers travel to Valcourt to meet the Hotel Bel-Air aggregation.

Special Meeting To Be Held Tonight At New Sherbrooke Hotel To Study Plans To Form Juvenile Club Here

A special meeting has been called for this evening at the New Sherbrooke Hotel to study the question of forming a Juvenile Club for Sherbrooke. The meeting is slated to commence at 8.00.

The club would sponsor all sports for youngsters between the ages of eight and 20 years of age. It also will study the plan of building a Sports Centre where young people could practice various sports under proper supervision.

The Club would sponsor all sports such as baseball, softball, basketball, hockey, skiing, swimming, tennis and several others.

The Centre would provide a place to carry on all indoor events while outdoor sports would be played out on the various parks throughout the city.

The forming of the Juvenile

Club would be along the same lines as the one in Montreal, in fact it would be based on the same principles. The Montreal Club has been operating for several years and is considered an outstanding success in fighting juvenile delinquency.

Last year in Montreal 123,300 youngsters were members of the club and took part in various sports sponsored by the organization. Last season it cost the Montreal Club $20,980 for operating all sports while the revenue was $19,991.65 which would make sports in general, very reasonable.

This evening a group, who have been studying the proposition of forming a club, will explain to the meeting the advantages of having such a club in the City. The meeting is open to all interested followers of sport.

Mantle Wins American League's Most-Valuable-Player Award; Sweeps Triple Batting Crown With .353 Mark

COMMERCE, Okla. — (AP) — Mickey Mantle last night brushed aside all the ballhoos about chasing Babe Ruth's record 60 home runs. Said the current New York Yankee slugger: "I've still got plenty of time."

The 25-year-old switch-hitting centre fielder of baseball's world champions was awarded the American League's most valuable player award Wednesday. He placed first on the ballots of every one of the selectors, three from each league city.

The MVP award gives Mantle additional ammunition in his quest for a $50,000 salary from the Yankees. In 1956 he swept the league's triple batting crown with a .353 average, 130 runs batted in and 52 home runs.

Most baseball observers have tabbed Mantle, who has played five full seasons with the Yankees, as having the best chance to beat Ruth's 1927 home run mark. But Mickey says he'll be happy to hit 52 homers against next season.

Mantle also declared that an injury to his left leg has completely healed. The injury slowed him down part of last year.

Ted Williams of Boston Red Sox, MVP winner in 1945 and 1949, finished sixth this year. The first 10 in the MVP balloting with point scores: Mantle 336; Yogi Berra, New York 186; Al Kaline, Detroit 142; Harvey Kuenn, Detroit, 80; Billy Pierce, Chicago 75; Williams 70; Bob Nieman, Baltimore and Gil McDougald, New York 55; Vic Wertz, Cleveland 45; Bob Lemon, Cleveland 40.

Canada To Skip 1957 World Hockey Championships In Moscow Following Executive Vote; Plan Bugged Down

MIDLAND, Ont. — (C) — Canada will not compete in the 1957 world hockey championships.

George Dudley, secretary-manager of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said Wednesday Canada will pass up the championships in Moscow next year because of "the great change which has taken place in world affairs during recent days."

The CAHA executive committee voted against sending an all-star team and rejected a proposal that Vernon Canadians, Allan Cup champions last year, and Ottawa Junior Canadians play off for the right to form the nucleus of Canada's entry.

Said Dudley: "In casting their votes many of the executive members indicated that they felt the great change which had taken place in world affairs during recent days had made the situation such that Canada should not consider competing in Russia."

"Under the circumstances, Canada will not have an entry in the world championship series in Moscow next year."

Canada has won the world championship 15 times, having competed 20 times.

Pentition VS won the title last year with a 5-0 defeat of Russia in Dusseldorf. This year, however, Canada's entry, Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen, finished third behind Russia and the United States. The championships were played in conjunction with the Winter Olympics in Italy.

The decision to drop from competition this year climaxes a six-month period of doubt and confusion about the championships.

Lions Blank Aces 2-0; Rene Pepin And Bell Tally

TROIS-RIVIERES, Que. — (C) — Trois-Rivieres Lions blanked Quebec Aces 2-0 Wednesday night for their second Quebec Hockey League victory in as many nights.

Goals by Rene Pepin and Bev Bell late in the second period accounted for all the scoring.

Caddies Hold Top Spot In Golfers' Loop

The Caddies made a clean sweep of their weekly game with the Drivers in the Lennoxville Ladies Golf Club Bowling League to pick up four points.

The win moved them into a one-point lead over the Sand Traps squad who are in second position with 16 points. The Putters are third with 10 while the Wedges follow with 8, the Greens have six points and the Drivers are in the cellar with three.

Mrs. J. Mathieu is the pacesetter with 113 for the best average while Mrs. M. Roy is in the runner-up spot with 112. Mrs. J. Tarte is fourth with 103 while Mrs. Y. Roberge is next with 100.

Jim Bailey Wins Preview Olympic 1,000-Yard Run

GEELONG, Australia. — (AP) —

Jim Bailey of Australia won the 1,000-yard run in 2:07.8 at a preview Olympic track and field meet here Wednesday.

Bailey, a student at the University of Oregon in the United States, beat his countryman, Don MacMillan.

A committee was to choose the best coaches available and the coaches of all teams under CAHA jurisdiction would be asked to name their top players as possible candidates.

The scheme bogged down during the summer.

Dudley said the executive committee was asked to vote against the all-star scheme "in view of the great delay which had taken place."

His comment followed a decision by the executive committee of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association that Canada will not send an entry to the championships.

Agar said Vernon Canadians, 1956 winners of the Allan Cup, had heard nothing from the CAHA since they won the Canadian senior amateur title last spring.

"I hope the Association has thought it over thoroughly," he said.

Agar suggested that the tense international situation may be giving the CAHA "an easy way out."

Cautious Coach Peahead Walker Talks Of Ifs And Buts In Big Four Final; Ti-Cats Will Be Tough If It Is Wet

MONTREAL — (CP) — Peahead Walker is a cautious foot ball coach who brightens visibly only after the ball bounces the last time, with the Montreal Alouettes still in front.

He's playing the Saturday finale against Hamilton Tiger-Cats that way. Carefully-voiced appraisal of the ifs and butts he feels can hurt his club have been his only comments.

A nine-point lead isn't much against a high-scoring team like the Ticats, says Peahead. If it's wet, Hamilton's ground attack will be hard to contain because, he says, Montreal quarterback Sam (The Rifle) Etcheverry and his small hands have trouble with a heavy ball.

But while the Als ran through practice Wednesday night, they were rated 2 to 1 favorites to wrap up the Big Four final and qualify for the third straight year to meet Western Canada in the Grey Cup.

Montreal defeated Hamilton 30-21 at Hamilton last Saturday in the first game of the home-and-home, total-point series.

The Ticats were due in today by plane—a day early. They claim a few breaks and some solid football may give them the series.

"We're certainly due for a win down there," Hamilton coach Jim Trimble said at Hamilton, "and nobody can tell me we're out-classed."

Hamilton lost 52-14 and 82-14 in its two appearances here this year.

Assistant coach Ralph Sazio added of last week's game: "If we had been getting the breaks, it could just as easily have gone the other way."

Both clubs reported personnel fit aside from bruises here and there for the sold-out contest.

Hamilton was scheduling two workouts before the game and Trimble said "some offensive changes" were planned.

Of the 26,485 tickets to the Nov. 24 East-West classic at Toronto's Varsity Stadium, 10,216 will sell at a top price of $10 each. Another 9,169 will go for $7.50 apiece, 3,810 will bring $6 and the 3,290 "cheap seats" will cost $5.

Figures issued by the Canadian Rugby Union show that 30 per cent of the tickets—7,659 each—go to the CRU, the Western Interprovincial Football Union and the Big Four. The Ontario Rugby Football Union receives 2,553.

The Big Four's allotment will be broken up this way: 50 per cent to the winner of the Eastern Canada final series and 20 per cent each to the runner-up and the third-place team. The fourth-place club gets 10 per cent.

The CRU's portion takes care of 2,000 extra tickets for the host team. Toronto Argonauts, whose 10 per cent of the Big Four bite brings them approximately 750 tickets, thus receive 2,750.

One thousand each goes to the other three Big Four teams, and an additional 1,000 to the WIFU pot. There are 952 allotted for such groups as public relations accounts, the Quebec Rugby Union, the Intercollegiate league and Grey Cup committees.

There has been no public sale of Grey Cup tickets since 1950 when it was decided they should be divided by the teams among the fans who supported them all season.

This year's receipts may hit $275,000 by the time television, radio and film rights are tallied.

The CRU has attempted to soften the blow of the $10 top price—highest in the 47-year history of the classic — by printing extremely colorful tickets.

Says Harry McMillen of Toronto, secretary of the CRU: "We thought we should have something fancy for $10."
