PILOT KILLED, THREE INJURED IN PLANE CRASH

Victim Of Fatal Plane Crash

Bromptonville Man Dies From Injuries Received In Crash Near Windsor

Eugene Gagnon Died as Rescue Party Nearing Base Camp—Three Maine Residents in Local Hospital as Result of Crash on Return from Poultry-Buying Expedition.

One man is dead and three others are in serious condition in St. Vincent de Paul Hospital today as the result of the crash landing of a Seabee amphibian plane belonging to Sherbrooke Airways into the Watopeka river on the limits of the Canada Paper Company, fifteen miles from Windsor Mills yesterday morning.

The dead man is Eugene Gagnon, twenty-seven-year-old pilot of the plane, a resident of Bromptonville.

The injured are: - Maurice Berube, 20, Brunswick, Me., suffering a possible fractured spine and serious head injuries;

Maurice Frank, 30, Cumberland, Me., injuries to left wrist, left leg and head, in critical condition;

Norman Edwin Thresher, 25, Freeport, Me., fractured right leg, condition fair.

The accident occurred about eleven o'clock when the propeller of the chartered plane apparently became disabled and it crashed into the almost-dry Watopeka River. First intimation of the disaster was received at Windsor Mills from an employee of the Canada Paper Company who found Berube wandering along a wood road in a badly dazed condition about one o'clock.

The man was taken to one of the company camps where company officials were able to gather the bare information that the crash had occurred. An ambulance was called and the man was transported to Sherbrooke.

Indications in his rather disjointed statements that at least three other men had been left in the wreckage caused company officials to rush plans for the organization of a search through the extensive timber limits situated beyond St. George de Windsor, experienced woods workers were called from their regular duties and some sixty were sent into the woods from a camp located near the spot Berube was discovered.

Alec Philip, manager of the company, and Dallas Grant, superintendent, each took off in a plane from the Windsor airport to survey the area and returned about four o'clock with news that the missing plane had been sighted, and that some of its occupants, at least, were still alive, about two miles from the camp.

Searchers were directed to the scene while Philip and Grant rushed to the camp to take personal charge of the rescue operations. Two rescue parties under Alphonse Gosselin and Maurice Ewing, woods rangers for the company, were already heading toward the scene and a third was organized under Mr. Philip. The woodsmen were accompanied by Dr. Jean Paul Fortin, of Windsor Mills, and a number of first aid experts.

The rescuers arrived at the scene of the crash just as darkness was falling and found the three men beside the crashed plane, still conscious but suffering severely. Administered the two-mile trek back to the camp was started. For two hours the rescuers battled against night and a rough brush trail with their human burdens. The task was rendered even more difficult by the critical condition of the victims. The three wooden stretchers had just reached the outskirts of the camp where ambulances and volunteer helpers had gathered when Gagnon succumbed to his injuries.

Gagnon's body was transferred to Windsor Mills while Frank and Thresher were taken by ambulance to Sherbrooke.

Information received from the injured men indicated that the first sign of trouble appeared when the propeller of the plane began to vibrate, immediately following which it nosed into the almost-dry river. Berube, apparently the least injured of the group, managed to extricate himself from the cabin plane and then pulled out his companions. Despite his severe sufferings and shock, Berube followed the stream until he met one of the wood roads and turned up this. In a semi-conscious condition he followed the road until he was sighted by the Canada Paper employee who gave the alarm.

The plane had been chartered by Frank and his companions on Monday to make a poultry-buying trip to St. Come and Quebec City. The party was on its return trip to the Windsor Mills airport and

Meat Lifted From Price Ceiling List

Rents, Sugar and Fats Principal Items Still Remaining Under Control.

Ottawa, Oct. 22.—(P)—The buoyant Canadian economy was freed another post-war notch today as the Government announced abolition of price ceilings on meat and meat products and on oats, barley and screenings but still held the line on vital pegs such as rent control and its feed grain freight assistance policy.

The decontrol order, second such major step within a month, was announced jointly last night by Finance Minister Abbott and Agriculture Minister Gardiner. It said also that subsidies on grain used for livestock feeding is discontinued but that the freight assistance subsidy for movement of feed grains would be continued until the end of the current crop year, July 31, 1948, in the face of an eastern feed grain shortage.

The order, effective today, left but, a handful of items—such as rents, sugar, fats, oils, wheat, flaxseed, rapeseed and sunflower seed—restricted as to price. Coming at a time when the 40-day-old packinghouse workers strike was yet to be finally settled, it was expected to have these immediate effects:

1. Price of meat will likely rise immediately but is expected to settle back to probably around present levels with settlement of

Packinghouse Workers Vote On Strike Settlement Plan

By The Canadian Press
The tangled packinghouse strike picture in Montreal appeared to be clearing today, raising hopes that the 54-week-old walkout would soon be settled on a Dominion-wide basis, as members of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (C.I.O.) voted on settlement proposals.

Complicated by a court injunction against picketing which resulted in the arrest of more than 200 union members, relations between the union and the meat-packing companies in Montreal took a turn for the better last night as Jacques Casgrain, U.P.W.A. organizer in Quebec, announced a 24-hour picketing truce in the Montreal area during negotiations with two strikebound plants.

The two plants—Modern Packers Ltd., and Wilsil Ltd.—were reported ready to reopen contract talks within a day or two while two other Montreal plants have already reached agreements with the union.

When a Sherbrooke Airways plane crash-landed some fifteen miles from Windsor Mills yesterday, Eugene Gagnon, twenty-seven-year-old pilot of the plane, (above), received injuries which caused his death shortly before the rescue party reached the base camp. Gagnon is shown on the stretcher during the course of the long trip through the woods.

FRENCH SOCIALIST CABINET RESIGNS OFFICE

Paris, Oct. 22.—(P)—An official announcement today said that the cabinet of Socialist Premier Ramadier had resigned.

The announcement came with startling suddenness a few hours after the cabinet had called the assembly back to an emergency session next Tuesday.

Premier Ramadier was expected to explain the reasons for the resignation at a press conference.

London Press Critical Of Reform Plan

Even Laborite Daily Herald Is Cool in Support of Plan to Curb Right of House of Lords to Delay Legislation.

London, Oct. 22.—(P)—The Government's proposal to trim the little-remaining authority of the House of Lords met almost unanimous criticism today in the British press.

Only the Labor Daily Herald voiced lukewarm approval for the measure proposed at the opening of parliament yesterday, a proposal described by the Times of Salisbury as a "shabby and shoddy political deal" and by Winston Churchill as a "deliberate act of social aggression" that would "divide the country."

An all-out floor fight over the proposal seemed definitely in the cards and some political circles predicted a new general election would result.

Prime Minister Attlee announced in the course of preliminary debate on the proposal yesterday that the Government's intention was to limit the power of the hereditary House of Lords to delay enactment of legislation from two years to one year.

The Lords have no final power to defeat legislation, but can refuse to enact it and thus require the House of Commons to pass it three times, a two-year process under present laws.

"It is wholly out of accord with the decencies of constitutional usage that suddenly, without cause or provocation and without discussion, let alone consent, a single party should by virtue of its majority seek to diminish the remaining powers of the Upper House for the purely cynical purpose of easing the passage of a single controversial measure," The Times said.

Its reference was to the government's announced intention of carrying out its election pledge to nationalize the iron and steel industry before 1950. A proposal to nationalize the gas industry was presented to Parliament yesterday, but iron and steel nationalization was not mentioned in the Speech from the Throne. Some Labor supporters believe the Lords would use their powers to delay steel and iron nationalization.

The Daily Graphic, Conservative, commented: "It is impossible to resist the conclusion that this reckless tampering with the constitution is a smoke screen designed to blot out Socialist blunders."

"By thus brawling with phantoms," the Liberal News Chronicle said, "the Labor Ministers may find themselves arranged before the bar of public opinion. In attacking imaginary abuses, they may find themselves called upon to defend their own competence to cope with national problems which are real."

World News In Brief

Sweetsburg, Que., Oct. 22.—Harold Mairs of Waterloo testified in King's Bench Court here yesterday that while driving on the Waterloo-Warden highway last April 20 he felt a slight shock as if he had hit a bump in the road but did not know he had hit a man. Mairs, who is charged with manslaughter in the death of Andre Robidoux, stated he was driving in the dusk at about 25 miles an hour when he felt the shock. He said he saw nothing on the road and continued on his way.

Dr. Joseph Goyette of Granby also took the stand testifying that Robidoux had died in Granby of a skull fracture on the night of April 20. Robidoux died about three hours after being struck by an automobile on the Waterloo-Warden road. Earlier, it was established that Robidoux had been walking home after meeting his father and a few friends for a drink in Waterloo. He left work about six o'clock, met his father, had a "few beers" then started home accompanied by a friend. Robidoux was killed on the way and the friend suffered serious injuries when a car hit both men.

Court was adjourned until today when prosecution and defence will review the evidence before the jury withdraws to consider its verdict.

Montreal, Oct. 22.—(P)—Company and union officials will meet at the conference table again today in another attempt to head off a threatened strike of 125,000 Canadian railway men, called for Nov. 3.

Representatives of the Canadian National Railways and Canadian Pacific Railway Company conferred yesterday with 17 representatives of railway brotherhoods and, after an hour's session, adjourned with the announcement they would meet again today. A joint statement said: "The parties jointly met for a short time and have had a brief review of the matter and have adjourned to meet again tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 p.m. to continue the discussion."

Neither side would say what progress had been made toward settling the dispute which arises from a union demand for 14 days annual holidays with pay.

Ottawa, Oct. 22.—(C.P.)—John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, will address a nominating convention at Penitence, B.C., Nov. 1 when a successor will be chosen for Hon. Grote Stirling who resigned recently as the federal party member for the constituency of Yale.

Warmongering Charges Will Be Rapped By Western Bloc

By ROSS MUNRO
Canadian Press Staff Writer
New York, Oct. 22.—(P)—The "warmongering" debate opens today at the United Nations with leading western powers planning to make sharp replies to the vitriolic Russian accusations that the United States and other countries are guilty of fostering war hysteria.

It is expected that the debate this afternoon in the Political and Security Committee will produce more acrimonious scenes as Britain and the United States take the lead in the western retort to the Soviet charges which Andre Vishinsky, head of the Russian delegation, will press again when he addresses the committee.

Canada may become involved with L. B. Pearson, the Canadian delegation's representative on the committee, adding the Dominion's voice to the counter-action against the Russians.

A strongly-worded speech has been prepared by the Canadian delegation, it was learned, but final decision as to whether it will be delivered will possibly await the expected arrival here today from Ottawa of Justice Minister Isley.

The chief of the British delegation, youthful Hector McNeill, is scheduled to speak for the United Kingdom, and Warren R. Austin, permanent United States representative at the U.N., for his country, with Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, a delegation member, as one of his advisors.

Late yesterday, on the eve of this debate, Australia's Dr. Herbert Evatt countered Russia's move to curb alleged "warmongering" in the United States, Turkey and Greece by proposing to replace the Soviet resolution, which is before the committee, with one condemning those who "falsely" accuse national officials or other prominent individuals of trying to incite another war.

The Australian resolution, which United States and several other delegations were inclined to feel merely complicated the issue, calls on each member of the U.N. to take "appropriate steps" against harmful propaganda but carefully avoided any suggestion that there should be any resort to censorship.

Dr. Evatt urged that positive measures be taken to encourage fair and accurate reporting of of-

J. A. Archambault Named Honorary Secretary of Provincial Chamber of Commerce—G. Desmarais of Richmond Legal Adviser.

The declarations came last night at the end of two days of meetings by party organizations on the eve of the opening today of the Ontario Legislature in which the party holds 66 of the 90 seats.

The more than 900 delegates re-elected A. D. McKenzie of Toronto president and chose R. A. Robinson of Port Arthur first vice-president. They also: Adopted a resolution calling for an increase in the price of gold, now $35 an ounce, by establishment of a free market or by Federal Government purchase for sale abroad.

Bigger Mining Development Held Key To Canada Growth

Toronto, Oct. 22.—(P)—Increased development of mining in Northern Canada holds the key to the country's economic progress, John Bracken, national leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, told the closing banquet of the party's Ontario Association which also heard Premier Dewart assert that industrial construction in Ontario is going forward at a pace never before achieved.

The declarations came last night at the end of two days of meetings by party organizations on the eve of the opening today of the Ontario Legislature in which the party holds 66 of the 90 seats.

The more than 900 delegates re-elected A. D. McKenzie of Toronto president and chose R. A. Robinson of Port Arthur first vice-president. They also: Adopted a resolution calling for an increase in the price of gold, now $35 an ounce, by establishment of a free market or by Federal Government purchase for sale abroad.

Approved resolutions urging greater financial assistance for needy university students and setting up of a more comprehensive university scholarship system. Suggested provision for curative treatment as well as appropriate punishment for persons who commit sex crimes.

By resolution called on the Federal Government to state its policy in regard to feed grains to relieve "the desperate situation now prevailing" attributed to uncertainty over prices. (Later yesterday the Government discontinued subsidies on feed grains.) Commended the Dewart administration for steps to increase the tourist trade and limit export of pulp logs.

Dropped from his resolutions list a proposal by the junior group that the Provincial Government finance a housing program. Resolutions committee members took the view the suggestion was untimely in view of Federal controls over building materials.

Both Mr. Bracken and Premier Dewart touched on immigration. Mr. Bracken said selective immigration of persons whose backgrounds and ideas enabled them to fit easily into the Canadian scene was in line with his party's policy but plans for development of natural resources should take precedence. Premier Dewart said the Ontario air immigration plan provided for selection of immigrants and "broke a bottleneck" created by the problem of finding means to transport new citizens across the Atlantic.

Available evidence indicates that we now must look northward for the great storehouse of Canada's future wealth," said Mr. Bracken. He said this called for investigation to determine the nature and extent of the metal resources, policies of sound conservation and development of means of processing raw materials in Canada.

He was in favor of floor prices for farm produce but the economy over prices. (Later

PITCHING HORSESHOES

If you aren't doing anything for the next three minutes, I'd like to play a little something for you on my mandolin.

Every so often I take my appetite to a small cafe of Lexington Avenue. It has two attractions—(a) the music of several elegant fiddles, and (b) meat balls that speak with an Hungarian accent.

Last night I was parked at my favorite table—the one with the tablecloth—when a good-looking gal walked in. The headwaiter sat her down at the table next to mine. As I split a meat ball down the middle, I inventoried the newcomer. Thirtyish—good profile all over—the kind of clothes everybody's missus would like to wear.

On the other side of the napkin-sized dance floor, I noticed a well-set-up gent sharing my interest in the gal. When she looked in his direction, he smiled at her. The unattached lady smiled back. The gent got up and walked out to the checkroom. He returned a moment later with one of those cellophane-wrapped orchids that the pros in our better men's rooms carry as a sideline.

Ethel Barrymore, dowager queen of the American stage's famed "royal family," is pictured on the lawn of her Mamaroneck, N.Y., home with her daughter, Mrs. John Mignietta, and her grandson, John Drew Mignietta, the ninth generation of the great theatrical family. Little John's great-great-uncle was the well-known matinee idol John Drew.

"Here it comes," I said to myself. "A pick-up."

"And a pretty pick-up it was. The big bad wolf scribbled something on the back of a menu. A waiter delivered the menu and the orchid to the lady. The lady read the message and smiled a yes to its sender. The gent walked over to her table, bowed, introduced himself and sat down.

"This is very kind of you," I heard him tell her. "It's not much fun dining alone. Will you permit me to choose the wine?"

"A pretty smooth operator," I thought. I saw the headwaiter watching the couple and wondered when he was going to tell Romeo to take his monkey business elsewhere—that a pick-up might jeopardize the joint's liquor license.

"I've seen you around town a number of times," the man on the make continued. "I didn't quite know how to go about meeting you."

The lady smiled. "It was very thoughtful of the Duke of Cumberland to introduce us," she said.

The wine steward brought in the ice bucket, gave the bottle a final swirl, and popped the cork.

"Roederer '26," said Pick-up Pete. "This is a special occasion my dear. A toast is in order. Here's to the two of us over the years."

The tzigane orchestra went into an old Franz Lehar song. The gent rose, bowed, and asked his lady if she'd care to dance. Old-World stuff. I had to admit they looked pretty good together on the dance floor. When they sat down, I heard him whisper something about not wanting the night to end too soon.

"Stuff and stuff," I said to myself, and asked for the check.

On my way out, I passed the headwaiter. "What gives here?" I asked. "You saw what happened. How come you didn't break it up?"

The maitre d' smiled. "It's been going on for a long time," he said. "On the same evening in October for the past eleven years, Mr. Coddington and the lady come to this cafe and re-enact the same little scene. They've been doing it ever since he first picked her up in this restaurant back in 1936. They always reserve the same tables. Once I got up enough nerve to ask him why. He told me it kept them both young."

"Who's the lady?" I asked.

The maitre d' grinned. "That's no lady," he said. "That's his wife, Mrs. Coddington."

EAST FARNHAM
Mr. and Mrs. Byrne entertained at a farewell party one evening, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Barton before their departure for their new home at Sweetsburg. Over thirty friends were present. The evening was spent in singing the old familiar songs and a contest, after which a letter was read by Mrs. Byrne in recognition of the many acts of kindness that Mr. and Mrs. Barton have bestowed on the church, neighbors and community, since their sojourn here for the past seven years. A basket filled with canned goods, fruit, jelly and pickles were presented to them with good wishes for happiness in their new home. Mr. and Mrs. Barton were taken by surprise but expressed their sincere thanks to the many friends present. The hosts assisted by several ladies served delicious refreshments which brought a very pleasant evening to a close.

CARY GRANT IS A PERFECTIONIST
Hollywood, Oct. 22.—Back-stage gossip to the contrary, Loretta Young swears she and Cary Grant hit it off fine as co-stars of "The Bishop's Wife." She told me: "I was worried about working with Cary, so I talked to Irene Dunne and Myrna Loy before starting the picture. They told me: 'He'll wear you down, Loretta, but only because he's such a perfectionist.' After two days I got used to him but I don't think Sam Goldwyn ever did."

Loretta just got back to Hollywood after seven weeks of location at Eugene, Ore., on "Rachel." The morning after her arrival in Eugene, she went to mass at the only Catholic church there and then whispered to the priest: "I want to get home to my husband in a hurry. Please pray that it doesn't rain." There were only seven days of rain in the entire seven weeks.

Joan Fontaine celebrated her 10th anniversary in Hollywood No. 10, Olivia de Havilland didn't send her congratulations.

Tierney Gains Weight
Lawrence (DILLINGER) Tierney looks so well and has gained so much weight, since escaping from the Los Angeles Jail, that I didn't recognize him visiting an RKO set. He's still on milk punch and is ready to return to the screen. RKO wanted to give him another gangster role in "The Window," but he turned it down, and is holding out for a sympathetic role.

The New York office of Paramount publicity sent out tiny plastic bathtubs to herald Cecil B. DeMille's new movie, "Unconquered." My 6-year-old son took one look at it and said, "Corny." I agreed with him. But then, it's in keeping with the picture, which dishes out typical DeMille corn as subtle as a sailor on shore leave.

Jane Greer is trying to talk RKO into giving her a Betty Grable build-up in musical comedies. She sang with a Washington, D.C., orchestra before marrying Rudy Vallee, and then sang with Vallee's Coast Guard band during the war. But the Coast Guardsman heard eight of Rudy's songs to her own. (Another reason, no doubt, for their divorce.)

Bob Mitchum doesn't have as much money as he thought, and he's talking to his lawyers about it.

Of Bill And Brenda
Bill Holden wasn't too happy, at first, about the decision of Mrs. H. (Brenda Marshall) to return to the screen. But now he's reconciled to it. Bill deserves an eight-million-dollar bonus from Paramount after that great performance he gave in "Dear Ruth."

Jane Russell and Bob Waterfield should be in their new home by Christmas. One feature of the $75,000 layout is a swimming pool half outside the house and half inside.

Annual Rural Urban Dinner Of Sherbrooke Rotary Club Is Held At Hatley Church

The Sherbrooke Rotary Club "is pleased to visit Hatley to share bread and fellowship with the men of the area, and I believe the meeting will benefit urban and rural dwellers alike," George B. Murphy, Jr., president of the local Rotary Club, said last night at the club's annual rural-urban dinner held at St. James' Episcopal Church Hall, Hatley.

Approximately 140 persons attended the meeting, held by Rotary for many years to foster closer relations between residents in rural and urban areas.

Mr. Murphy expressed the wish that the meeting would be the forerunner of many more to come. It was the second time the club had met at Hatley for their rural-urban dinner, held in various towns in the Sherbrooke area.

Mayor R. R. Whitcomb, of Hatley, welcomed the Rotarians to the supper and said the town would be more than pleased to receive them again.

He reviewed the history of Hatley which is 155 years old, the oldest town in the region. It was settled in 1792 by United Empire Loyalists who crossed the border and reached the region through forests and over trails.

Mayor Whitcomb added that since that time the men of Hatley had lived up to the loyal traditions of their ancestors. During the Second Great War, 60 persons from the locality enlisted in the armed forces.

In recognition of the town's high enlistment rate per capita, the government presented an honor roll to Hatley two years ago.

Fine Presentation Marked Opening Of Concert Season

Inaugurating the 1947-48 season of the Community Concert Association, Jennie Tourel, leading mezzo-soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, added new laurels to her artistic crown as she appeared before a large and appreciative audience in the Granada last evening.

Madame Tourel, who was born of Russian parentage, was brought up in France and Switzerland and has perfect command of seven languages, French, Russian, English, Spanish, Italian and Portuguese.

Possessed of a beautiful voice of phenomenal range and evenness, she has been drawing rave notices from critics all over the country and has gone on from one major triumph to another. At the Metropolitan she excelled in the title roles of "Carmen" and "Mignon" and was the first mezzo-soprano to sing Rosina in the original version of "The Barber of Seville."

This talented artist has a warm, glorious tone and even in her high notes does not lose any of the rich, velvety quality which characterizes her lower registers.

Flawless diction, combined with flexibility and perfect breath control, plus an innate musicality, result in a portrayal of the art of song which would be difficult to excel.

Her exquisite treatment of Faure's "Three Poems" left nothing to be desired, while the more lusty "Habanera" from Carmen was interpreted in a vibrant and colorful manner, with the gypsy abandon usually associated with the role.

The nostalgic, haunting quality of the Russian music, which always has a particular style of its own, was felt in Grechaninoff's "The Steppes," beautifully sung by Madame Tourel, in Russian.

In the delicate "Si Mes Vers Avalent des Ailes" the artist's flexibility and complete mastery of her rich voice was again evidenced and her tones were of the sweet quality usually associated with the lyric soprano.

Feeling and sensitivity marked her English selections, Tchaikovsky's "None But The Lonely Heart" and Hageman's "Do Not Go My Love" being interpreted with remarkable expression and understanding.

Responding to enthusiastic applause, Madame Tourel rendered several encores, among them "Sons My Mother Taught Me" and "The Cuckoo."

Her versatility was again apparent in "Coming Thru' the Rye" which she sang as an encore, with a rich Scotch brogue.

George Reeves was a faultless accompanist and in Debussy's "Mandoline" particularly, so delicate and careful was his playing that it was as if the voice and piano were one.

Y.W.C.A. BOARD HEARD REPORT ON FIRST CAMP

In an interesting informal manner Miss Doris Banfill told the Y.W.C.A. Board of Directors of the first Y.W.C.A. National Assembly held at Camp Oshawa from August 27th to September 4th, at which she was the Sherbrooke representative. Introduced by the president, Mrs. G. H. Carr, who presided at the meeting Miss Banfill outlined the week-long activities of the leadership training course. This course sponsored by National Council was most instructive and inspirational and will be long remembered and of great advantage to those privileged to attend. The speaker was thanked by Miss Whiteley.

The general secretary's report was a source of interest and pleasure to the well-attended meeting. From "Open House" on September 24th, the registrations have been numerous and clubs are active again. The Quincentenary Club, Overseas Wives Club, and Hi-Dip-and-Dance are all back in full force. A new Business Girls Club is the process of organization and the instructive Junior Leaders' Corps will meet again this season.

Activities at the "Y" ranging from nursery school to social dancing and including basketball, bowling, swimming and Key Slim Clubs have a present registration of 292. The Business Girls' Club has a record attendance of 61 and Mrs. K. Bryce, Physical Instructors reported lots of enthusiasm and fun in all classes. Mrs. Bryce is assisted in the swimming classes by three volunteers, Mrs. Don Howard, Mrs. Florence Martin Mead and Miss Priscilla Hume, whose services are greatly appreciated.

Improved lighting in the gymnasium brightens it considerably and will be most helpful to all night classes.

The Board of Directors gratefully acknowledges and appreciates two bequests received from the estates of Mrs. Nellie Thompson and Miss Jean McKeelnie.

Since the MacKinnon Memorial will "come of age" on November 20th, having been opened on that date in 1902, a Birthday Party has been arranged for that evening.

It was of interest to all members to learn that the Y.W.C.A. and Catholic Women's League are the two official organizations appointed to assist the girls coming from Europe as displaced persons. The November Board meeting will be held on the first Monday afternoon, November 3rd, in order to meet Miss Jean Campbell, chairman of younger membership, who will be in Sherbrooke on that date.

Anniversary Of Local Police Force Observed By Gathering

Some 125 members of the local police force and guests attended a banquet and dance held in the Chateau Frontenac Hotel last night to celebrate the 75th anniversary of the department, the banquet being the annual gathering of the police force.

Speakers for the evening included Mayor Guy Bryant, Maurice Gingues, M.P., Alderman C. Guy Bishop, chairman of the Protection Committee, Alderman Armand Fiset, Redmond Hayes, K.C., Chief of Police Edouard Moreau, Director Percy Donahue, of the Fire Department, Richard Crepeau and Rev. Canon Ira Bourassa, a former Chaplain of the Department.

Leopold Bigonnesse acted as chairman for the evening and gave an address on the Department.

All speakers paid high tribute to the local police force and congratulated them for their police work and their good reputation. Several speakers stated that many tourists have spoken words of praise about the department.

The subject of arbitration for policemen's demands for wage increases and better working conditions was discussed at some length and it was announced the decision of the three-man board investigating the matter will be known on October 27.

At the end of the banquet dancing was enjoyed to the music of Gin Gagnon and his orchestra.

Those seated at the head table with the chairman were: Mrs. John Bourque, representing Mrs. Bourque, Maurice Gingues, Mrs. Maurice Gingues, Mrs. Guy Bryant, Mayor Guy Bryant, Mrs. Leopold Bigonnesse, C. Guy Bishop, Chief of Police Edouard Moreau and Rev. Canon Ira Bourassa.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHN'S-MANVILLE

HOUSE BURN UP OR BURN DOWN?

After a fire, you've probably heard folks say, "The house burnt up." But actually many houses do not burn up, they burn down! You see, the third biggest cause of all residential fires is sparks on inflammable roofs.

Fireproof roofing stops this menace! That's why John's-Manville Durabestos Shingles are in such demand today! In over 35 years not one of these asbestos-cement shingles has ever burned—not one has ever worn out. But that's not all. Durabestos shingles are strikingly attractive—have all the charm and grained texture of fine weathered wood.

The treasurer, Mrs. Noonan, reported a goodly sum from the rummage sale and Mrs. Fisher expressed her thanks to all who helped to make it a success. The members were assigned to streets to canvass the parish instead of the usual annual supper. The date, December 3rd, was set for the Christmas sale and Mrs. Jones was welcomed back after spending the summer in England. The members were invited to meet at the home of Mrs. E. Deacon next meeting day. Mrs. Merrill moved an adjournment after which Mrs. Fisher served afternoon tea.

THE MEAT STRIKE ENDED

The imminent termination of the strike of the Canadian meat packing house workers will be welcomed by all sections of the population who have suffered inconvenience and even acute financial loss through the suspension of activities in the major packing plants. The workers receive certain concessions under the new agreement but actually they have gained nothing that could not have been achieved under the process of orderly negotiations through established arbitration procedure.

This policy was rejected by the union leaders with the result that the killing and processing of livestock was virtually suspended at the most critical period of the year. Cattle and hog raisers were faced with the task of retaining the products on their farms, using feed grains urgently needed elsewhere for caring for these animals past their prime condition. Fortunately, weather conditions have been unusually favorable for the pasturing of livestock and the loss, substantial as it is, is somewhat less than it would have been under normal circumstances.

The Canadian consumer has found his choice of meat drastically limited and the threat of a large-scale black market has become acute in the heavily-populated centres.

One of the most tragic effects of the unjustified walkout was the virtual suspension of Canadian meat shipments to hungry Europe, which resulted in the halving of the British bacon ration from two ounces weekly to two ounces per fortnight. Furthermore, there is little or no likelihood that this loss can be replaced, as when operations are resumed in the Canadian plants it will take the entire production to meet the current demands.

The best that can be hoped for is that the agreement now being concluded will bring extended peace to the industry and assure an ultimate resumption of normal supplies for the domestic and export markets.

Of course, the consumer, as usual, will be expected to foot the bill, the additional costs being passed on in the form of higher prices.

LABOR-MANAGEMENT CO-OPERATION

The Nova Scotia coal fields, long one of the sorest spots on Canada's industrial structure and the scene of many a bloody clash during the frequent and long drawn-out strikes which plagued that section, are today providing one of the finest pictures of how improved relations between management and labor can boost production and provide increased wages to the worker.

Under the settlement plan which ended a strike of 13,000 miners last June, the men were given an immediate increase of $1.00 a day with an additional forty cents to be paid effective December 1 if the output per man-day was raised to certain pre-determined objectives.

The September production figures just released show how effectively the objective is being achieved. The Cumberland Railway and Coal Company pits at Springhill on the Nova Scotia mainland were outstripping the field and had passed their goal. Production soared to 44,530 tons in September, or 1.86 tons per man shift. Under the terms of the agreement signed between Dominion Steel and Coal and the United Mine Workers, the 40-cent level for Cumberland, a Dosco subsidiary, was set at 1.77 tons per man shift.

Dominion Coal Company in Cape Breton raised 289,161 tons, a per man output of 2.08 against 2.42 required for the boost. In the same period Old Sydney Collieries, Sydney Mines and Florence hoisted 61,089 tons for a man-day mark of 2.37 against an objective of 2.41. Pictou County's Acadia Coal Company produced 31,165 tons, an average of 1.51. The objective is 1.75.

The record of increased production in the Nova Scotia mine areas offers the real solution for the question of higher wages. When increased rates are accompanied by expanded output the worker actually benefits by the increase, but when production is stationary or declines he is the ultimate sufferer from boosted prices.

MORE ITEMS DECONTROLLED

The action of the Government in removing price and other controls from the meat industry is a necessary consequence of the settlement of the packing plant walkout and the removal of the subsidies hitherto payable on a long list of feed grains and similar products. Livestock raisers who are forced to buy a substantial portion of their feed requirements can hardly be expected to sell their production at existing prices and at the same time pay substantially higher costs for their raw materials. Similarly any increased cost in the processing of meat must be passed on to the consumer.

This removal of controls and ceilings over meat prices was scheduled for last month when many other items were removed from the restricted list. However, the walk-out of the workers in the major packing plants caused their temporary retention. Now, with the promise of an immediate increase in supplies, the Government feels justified in ending the restrictions.

Whether this will mean an immediate price rise is uncertain, as a heavy backlog of animals for marketing may produce a short-term glut that will prevent any undue jump, although the surplus probably will be insufficient to cause any major break in prices, especially in view of Canada's commitments to Great Britain.

The removal of the restrictions on the meat trade leaves only rents, sugar and fats as the major items under control. The ending of rent control is not expected for some time yet, perhaps eighteen months, the existing housing shortage making some form of protection for the tenant desirable. Fats are in extremely short supply throughout the world and will continue so for some years. The fate of sugar rationing largely depends upon the current crop in the producing area. A normal crop will increase the world supply to the point where rationing can be removed.

U. S. AND UN IN SLOW MOTION

Any one inclined to give up on the United Nations General Assembly because it didn't do anything in the first month of its present session, should compare the speed record with that of the last session of the U. S. Congress.

Convening the first week of last January, it took the Congress nearly four months to agree on anything. Then, by dint of mighty effort, it brought forth a law to change the name of Hoover Dam.

Talk about frustration. The mighty U. S. Senate is the greatest deliberative body in the world—the most deliberate, that is. It took 'em two months and five days to confirm David E. Lilienthal and the four other members of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission.

In the second week of the session, President Truman sent Congress his first economic report. Congress never did anything at all about that, in the whole seven months it was in session. Just think that over as you ponder your grocery bills and the other bad news from the UN headquarters.

In its one great burst of speed, the Congress did manage to pass the Greek-Turk aid bill in a little over two months. Still people complain because the UN hasn't been able to polish off the centuries-old Balkan problem in 30 days.

MOST BILLS PASSED IN JUNE AND JULY

It was June before Congress could agree on its labor bill, its tax-out bill, the extension of rent controls, and ratification of the peace treaties with Axis satellite countries. It was July—after the current fiscal year had started—before Congress began to appropriate money to run the government.

Congress had to work nights, right up to the closing, to do what it did. Even so, the pile of unfinished business left for next session is strictly super-colossal.

This record is not recited just to refresh the memory on how inefficient Congress is. Matter of fact, it's still the best government in the world. But the slow-motion speed records hung up by the U. S. Congress should be kept constantly in mind when appraising the work of the UN. The boos and brickbats now being heaved at the UN are bad business.

Sure, the speeches during the first month of the General Assembly were long, boring and inconclusive. But did you ever listen to any of the speeches on the floor of the U. S. Senate and House?

Sure, Vishinsky and Gromyko are oratorical pains in the neck, and a lot of these Balkan smart alecks need a good swift kick in the Russian-tailored britches they have grown too big for. But did you ever hear McKeellar in action—or Pappy O'Daniel—or Rankin? Russia has no monopoly on the hill-billy stuff.

It is, no doubt, extremely trying on Secretary Marshall and the American delegation at Lake Notch-Success to have to sit and take the international ranting that goes on in the UN town meeting. It is tiring not to be able to get some things settled quick.

PALESTINE PROBLEM IS NOTHING NEW

But the problem of Palestine, for instance, has been unsolved on this earth since the days of Moses and the Exodus. It would be nothing short of a miracle if any of the issues now confronting the UN could be wrapped up in a neat package and handed to an expectant world before Christmas.

It's going to take time. Time and infinite patience. The American people are conditioned to the delays of Congress. They are used to Senator Pepper at one extreme and Senator Taft at the other, disagreeing on everything. They are not used to the harangues and studied insults of half-civilized mountaineer and peasant revolutionists just emerging from long exploitation in the slums of decadent Europe. It may take some time to become accustomed to congressional wrangling at the international level.

But to give up on the UN now—to say that it is falling down on the job and will have to be abandoned—is sheer folly.

To surrender is to admit that the only alternative to barbarian manners is a resort to still more barbarian war. Ask any veteran who spent five years island-hopping in the Pacific or pushing the Nazis around from Casablanca to Berlin if he is ready for another war. Not even the Communist leaders in the nine European countries who have just drawn up the new Comintern manifesto against the Marshall Plan want that.

So let them rant and let them rave, interminably, as in Congress. In the immortal words of Gen. Walter B. Smith, the U. S. ambassador to Moscow, "The time to start worryin' is when they stop talkin'!"

WHY WE MUST HAVE PEACE

Press Comment

NEGATIVE POLICY FAILS AT THE POLLS

York-Sunbury's emphatic rebuff of Lt-Gen. Ernest Sanson in favor of Brig. Milton Gregg, Liberal Minister of Fisheries, will dismay Progressive Conservatives throughout the Dominion. There is full reason for disquietude. Not only has the Liberal candidate won by one of the handsomest pluralities in a seat traditionally conservative; this defeat follows so closely on the shattering failure at Halifax that it must arouse queries if not doubts in the minds of all rank-and-file Progressive Conservatives.

There is no doubt but that the drastic degree of Liberal success may correctly be attributed to the remarkably high efficiency of Premier John McNeil's provincial machine. But that explanation, true though it may be, is not of itself sufficient excuse. Nor can refuge be taken or consolation found in the statistical fact that the total vote was lower than is common in a constituency that takes its politics, if not its politicians, seriously.

In the surprising lack of significant issues upon which to arouse public opinion; or in the failure to create such an issue. Nor is the whole explanation the glittering bribe offered the riding in the flattering form of a cabinet representative, whilst the opposition could only agree to oppose; and reap York-Sunbury that spartan fare that is the best that could be expected from Government bounty in such circumstances.

Each one of these factors, contributed its share to the crushing Progressive Conservative failure. But neither separately nor collectively do they adequately excuse the extent of that rout. The explanation is far simpler. The York-Sunbury by-election was not lost last night. Gen. Sanson was vanquished in Ottawa months ago when his own party settled on the strategy to be followed during the election. That a party whose whole faith is based on initiative should adopt a negative policy in election strategy is of itself defeatism. There could be no other result than that occurred. Progressive Conservatism is positive. It is aggressive. It is enterprising. When it abandons these basic watch-words of its program it automatically forfeits its most powerful claims to allegiance.

Of purely organizational activities within the constituency during the election period there can be no possible criticism. A fine strenuous fight was fought without thought of self or of any object but victory. But it must be noted that the Progressive Conservative organization had to be improvised for the occasion. Almost no vestige of the mechanics of vote-catching remained from the General Election two years ago. The Liberal Organization, on the other hand, met the by-election with the steadiness in emergency of the veterans they are, and with the team spirit of permanent association.

In any event no organization, however devoted or inspired can wholly compensate for the total absence of consistency in high policy. The lesson is obvious. Unfortunately it has been taught before with equal brutality; and with equal lack of impression. There is a quality of the Bourbon in Progressive Conservative policy-making that will not encourage the loyal adherent to hope for success at the polls. For York-Sunbury, correctly assessed, leads inevitably to meditations on those marvels of Natural History now extinct because they failed to learn adaptability to new conditions of life.

PRECIOUS COCOA BEANS

Wall Street Journal. Johnny's chocolate candy bar and Mamma's chocolate pie have reached a crossroads.

Cocoa beans sold for less than five cents a pound in pre-war 1939. Yesterday they were worth 49 cents. The increase is roughly 900%. A dizzy 50% rise has been scored in a short six weeks. Says one chocolate manufacturer, "You think other prices have gone up? If they had kept pace with cocoa in percentage gains since 1939, wheat would now be worth $10 a bushel, butter $3.20 a pound, eggs $3.20 a dozen and round steak $3.60 a pound."

NOT RESPONSIBLE JOURNALISM

Mr. George V. Ferguson, now the Editor of The Montreal Daily Star, during his professional career has not been at all backward in writing about the mistakes of other writers and publications. In September 1 issue of Maclean's Magazine, Mr. Ferguson dealt with the subject, "Are the Yanks Invading Canada?" in which, however, he himself slipped badly.

In the course of that article he made this assertion: "Canada, accepted the situation, almost unanimously, by entering in 1940 into a permanent military alliance with its southern neighbor. There was a single loud voice against it, that of Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, who attacked the Ogdensburg Agreement so violently that, in the interest of what it conceived to be a high national purpose, the Toronto Globe and Mail refused to report the speech and contented itself with a chiding editorial on the subject."

The truth is that Mr. Meighen did not attack the Ogdensburg Agreement at all. The record is clear. In the Debates of the Senate, November 13, 1940, page 12, Mr. Meighen's speech is reported. Dealing with public references to the Ogdensburg Agreement, by Mr. L. W. Brockington, Mr. Meighen said: "Has Canada entered into an agreement or pact with the United States to defend that country in certain eventualities? Has the United States entered into a corresponding agreement with us? There are no words of the spokesman of the Prime Minister. I am not discussing an agreement."

Then Mr. Meighen made his point that if the Ogdensburg Agreement were a pact it should come before Parliament. If it were staff talks that was another question. Such an attitude cannot be described as "an attack."

Mr. Ferguson made gratuitous reference to this newspaper. Mr. Meighen, it will be recalled, was at that time leader of the Opposition in the Senate. It is not the function of a newspaper to suppress an important speech of a responsible public man. The Globe and Mail did not refuse to report the speech, as Mr. Ferguson says. The report was carried at length on the front page of the issue of November 14, 1940.

This newspaper's editorial comment on Mr. Meighen's speech did not "chide" the Opposition Senator. On November 15, 1940, in the course of an editorial dealing with the charges of a lack of militia equipment, made in the House of Commons by Mr. George S. White, M.P., we commented in these terms: "The whole picture of plans, methods and objectives, if there is such, should be brought into the open now, not only because of the criticisms of Captain White and Senator Meighen, but because there appears to be a definite demand in the country for the removal of a mystery on which the only light offered comes from expenditures. Where is the Gov-

RE AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE

Dear Sir: I would much appreciate your allotting me space in your valuable paper to ask a question of "the powers that be" that has long been agitating my mind.

Why is it that a person, having attained the age of seventy, cannot obtain an automobile insurance in our country? If a man or woman is capable both physically and mentally to secure a license to drive a motor vehicle, why is he or she not fit to be insured? The individual of seventy, possessing his faculties, has a richer store of experience and common sense and I have yet to see one exceeding the speed limits; how about you? Does he not deserve protection then, equal to the younger man whom, as we all know, is oftentimes venturesome and risks the tight spot an older man would shun.

Let us suppose a man upon retirement at seventy, since he is considered on the shelf from a business standpoint, wishes to enjoy the fruits of his labor and his independence by taking pleasure trips with his car; yet can he do so? Although active in every respect, usually he does not attempt distances in case of accidents since he is without the protecting hand of insurance. It is sufficient to feel outclassed and unwanted in the commercial world without the added feeling of inadequacy and inferiority created by the lack of motor insurance. Surely, if he is sound of mind and body, he is essential in order to drive, he ought to be in a position to carry insurance. Our U. S. neighbors insure, irrespective of age, once the applicant is a competent driver. This seems only fair policy; why not adopt it?

Let us give the "Seventies" the deserved security and justice granted others. If not, what is the opposed reason?

Yours truly,

"FAIR PLAY."

ement headed? While we are inclined to think the twilight twitters (Mr. Meighen's phrase) of the Joint Defense Committee speak for themselves as a warning to dictators that the democratic front is solidifying, we believe that most people will agree with Senator Meighen that, if the war is to be won or lost in Europe, it is there rather than at home it must be fought. Thus, on both points, Mr. Ferguson is wrong. It is always wise, when making a criticism, to be sure that facts will support it. But to launch an attack on any man on a basis of misrepresentation is unforgivable. It is not responsible journalism. Mr. Ferguson should not allow preconceived ideas of others' attitudes to blind him to the truth.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By Wm. E. McKenney, America's Card Authority

A SLAM IS BEATEN BY FALSE CARDING

Here is an interesting hand I picked up at the national tournament. It embodies the theory of a spade opening, and also a very cute false-card play.

With East bidding hearts and West supporting them, South knew that a heart opening was hopeless. He thought that nothing would be gained by opening a doubleton diamond, and he wanted to save the king of clubs for a possible trick.

That left nothing but a spade, and he selected the four-spot as a sort of "off-color" opening. The queen was played from dummy, and if North had put on the five, a smart declarer would have made the contract. He would have cashed the ace of spades and led the third spade, dropping both of the adverse spades together. Thus he would have made five spade tricks, more than enough for his contract.

The alert North player, however, played the jack of spades on dummy's queen. Now declarer figured that South must have had five spades originally, so he decided to try to establish the club suit. He led the queen of clubs from dummy, took the finesse, and South won.

A spade was led back, and declarer was through. If he went up with dummy's ace, he would have only eleven tricks, while if he put on the eight-spot, as he did, North would win with the ten and the contract was down one.

House Of Lords To Remain Vital Part Of Parliament

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Britain's Government, finding itself thwarted with obstruction at the hands of the House of Lords in carrying out the nationalization program, has decided to put a further curb on the legislative power of the Conservative Upper Body of Parliament.

The curb will fairly well reduce the Lords to the status of a debating society—a distinguished organization, to be sure, but virtually impotent insofar as interference with Commons is concerned.

What's that? The House of Commons, comprised of bankers and candlestick makers, is going to hamstring the August House of Lords which includes all the nobility of Britain? That's right, and it will be done by a bit of political sleight-of-hand which has been used before but still baffles the upper chamber. It is this way:

For close to 800 years the House of Lords functioned as a hereditary institution, amidst all the power and glory of ermine and crimson.

The Lords exercised great authority until one day in 1909 they rejected the national budget which had been passed by the House of Commons. Liberal Prime Minister Herbert Asquith rose up in wrath and led a terrific fight against the power of the Lords.

It was one of the greatest political battles of English history. The upshot of it was that in 1911 Asquith secured the passage of a bill in Commons to deprive the House of Lords of its veto power. Then he jammed this down the throats of the Lords by threatening to have the King create enough Liberal peers to outvote the Conservatives in the Upper House.

The Lords accepted the bill because there was nothing else for them to do, since the monarch would have had to create the Liberal peers if the Prime Minister requested it. Later the Lords were further crippled by an act under which the Commons can over-ride any action in Lords by voting it down in three successive sessions of Parliament.

However, three sessions of Parliament cover two years, which the Socialists feel is too great a delay if they encounter obstruction by the Lords. The real point is the nationalization of the iron and steel industry. This was one of the items on the Labor platform when they were elected to power a little over two years ago. Because of the economic crisis the Government wants to delay this nationalization for perhaps another year, so not to interfere with the present industrial set-up.

But the life of the present Government is a bit less than three years before another general election must be held. If the Government waits a year to nationalize iron and steel, and then encounters obstruction in the House of Lords, the bill cannot be passed over the Lords' rejection before the life of the Government expires.

So Prime Minister Attlee's regime has decided to put another crimp in the prerogatives of the Upper House. It is said that a bill will be introduced to cut down the length of time that the Lords can delay passage of a bill, reducing the time to perhaps six months.

Passage of such a bill can be secured, if necessary, by the same method employed a generation ago by Asquith. The Upper House could be packed with Socialist peers created from the ranks of Labor. It would be a hardy House of Lords which would try to buck such a line as that.

Does this mean that the House of Lords is on its way out? I don't think so, although it may undergo changes. It is a great and valuable institution, highly regarded by all classes of the population. Even in the expression of its views, the House of Lords acts as an invaluable balance wheel for the House of Commons.

Bigger Mining

One solution of agricultural problems lay largely outside the agricultural industry itself. Improved life on the farm depended on driving people to take up farm occupations but rather in project by which many other and various opportunities for employment were created.

"We are caught in a spiral of rising prices," said Mr. Bracken who with Mrs. Bracken left immediately after the banquet on a party business tour which will take him to Vancouver. "If present (Federal) Government policies continue on their heedless way, the inflation which we experience today will be followed by deflation tomorrow, with loss of markets and unemployment as its inevitable consequence.

"For inflation there are two cures and they are complementary. One is to get the scarce goods that people are seeking into production and the other is to encourage savings to go into new projects for the development of our natural resources."

Premier Drew called the present "Ontario's brightest day of opportunity, the beginning of Canada's greatest period of expansion." He described recent increases in Ontario's industrial capacity and said:

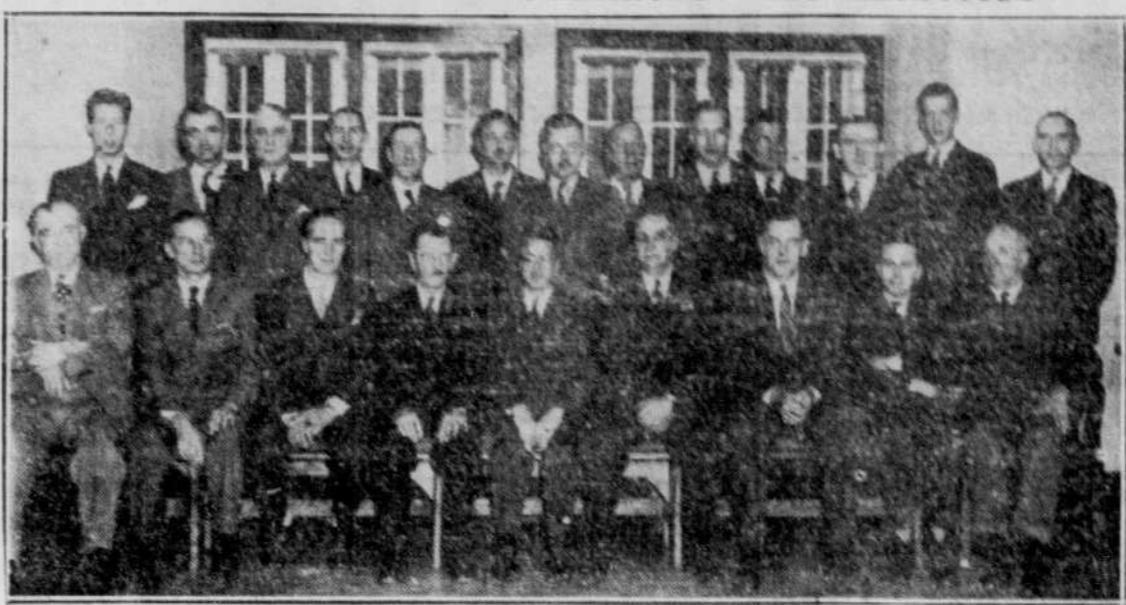

"Never at any time have we sought to separate the productive capacity of Ontario from the welfare of every Canadian. Our belief is that by increasing our own production and joining our strength with other provinces in one strong federal system, we can make our most effective and largest contribution to the building of a strong and United Canada. We believe that this party can be an instrument in Ontario and elsewhere throughout Canada for the development of one of the very great nations of the world."

Population of the province, now approximately 4,300,000 was capable of "rapid and steady" expansion.

"The evidence is conclusive that this great province can support several times its present population in an ever-increasing measure of comfort and prosperity. It would not be over-populated if it had 25,000,000 people."

Stating that Ontario has under way "by far the greatest development program ever undertaken in its history," he said projects included a four-year $200,000,000

Maine Coast Ravaged By Forest Fire

Loss Estimated at More Than $1,000,000 in Maine as Five Other States Report Fires.

Goose Rocks Beach, Me., Oct. 22.—(AP)—A terrifying forest fire consumed almost 200 buildings along a five-mile stretch of picturesque Maine coastline before it was brought under control early today.

Most of the razed structures were summer cottages, but there were scores of homeless families in the Goose Rocks, Cape Porpoise and Wildes districts of Kennebecport.

Kennebecport Village, with 2,000 residents, was spared, and diminishing winds and effective backfiring stemmed the advance of the fire—the most serious of 40 burning in Maine's long-parched forest lands.

Firemen reported early today that the blaze which swept the Cape Porpoise section was still burning along a 15-mile front.

Farmers in the path of the flames moved livestock and carried household equipment into the village of Kennebecport for storage in garages and other business establishments.

At least 5,000 firefighters and volunteers tried to keep the flames from racing into the village.

With nearly another 100 homes and cottages lost in other parts of the state, Forest Commissioner Raymond Rendall estimated the loss at more than $1,000,000.

Kennebecport is the site of a large summer colony of artists and writers, and among the razed buildings was the summer art school of nationally-known painter Elliot O'Hara.

The blaze indirectly claimed one life—that of a man directing traffic in the fire zone. Several firemen suffered minor hurts and one was reported missing.

The Maine situation, worst in the east, was described as "the most explosive" ever recorded in the state. New York, New Jersey, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Vermont also reported fires.

Other serious Maine fires were on Mount Desert Island, where a two-pronged blaze moved toward the exclusive resorts of Bar Harbor and Seal Harbor, at Waterboro and East Livermore. Bar Harbor lost its light when the flames burned out a transformer.

Red Cross workers set up mobile canteens to feed firefighters in the Kennebecport area and directed care of evacuees.

3. Rent and eviction controls, left untouched by the latest order, are expected to continue until March, 1949. It is probable the Government will ask Parliament at the next session for a year's extension of the emergency powers under which they are administered and which expire next March 31.

It was expected, too, that the order would result in a higher price for feed grains and reports from Winnipeg indicated that western farmers have been holding up stocks of these feeds in expectations of lifting of ceilings.

In elaborating on the Ministers' announcement, Prices Board officials here said that lard and tallow are the only meat products on which price ceilings remain but the order requiring defatting of beef carcasses will remain in effect.

The announcement said that to "ensure fulfillment of Canada's overseas commitments of livestock products and in view of the shortage of feed grain in Canada, the Government reiterates its policy of allowing no exports of oats and barley during the current crop year."

The subsidies removed from feed grains amounted to 25 cents a bushel on wheat and barley and 10 cents a bushel on oats and in July the government announced that these would be continued for as long as price ceilings remained on any important livestock products.

The announcement disclosed that it had been intended to decontrol meat prices in September but when the principal packing plants were closed down by an industrial dispute, the Government felt that it would be unwise to decontrol meats at that juncture.

But, the announcement continued, "now that it seems certain that the dispute in the packing industry has been settled, it is expected that meat supplies will rapidly return to normal and that ceilings can safely be removed."

Chile Breaks With Russia On Comies

Goes Step Ahead of Brazil by Severing Diplomatic and Consular Relations With Czechs Also.

Santiago, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Chile, blaming Communism for a recent coal strike, is aligned with Brazil in a diplomatic break with the Soviet Union.

The Chilean government said last night it had severed diplomatic and consular relations with Russia, and with Czechoslovakia as well, because of "instigations of international Communists" held to have "disturbed the public quiet of Chile."

The Brazilian Foreign Ministry announced earlier in Rio de Janeiro that Brazil had cut diplomatic ties with the Soviet government because of what it called "outrageous and even callous" Russian press criticism of Brazil's President Eurico Gaspar Dutra and her army.

Chile's step will leave the Soviet-oriented section of Europe without a single representative in Santiago. Yugoslavia broke relations with Chile Oct. 11 in protest at Chile's expulsion of two Yugoslav diplomats. No other countries in the Eastern European bloc have had representation here.

Brazil, with some 42,000,000 inhabitants, has a Communist party claiming 200,000 members—largest in the Western Hemisphere—although it was outlawed last May. Chile, with about 5,000,000 population, has a Communist party claiming 70,000.

Both countries have maintained diplomatic relations with Russia since 1945. Chile's Communist dominance in unions of coal, copper and nitrate miners.

Yugoslavia's Congress yesterday voted confidence in the government after the break with Russia. The Senate acted unanimously, the Chamber of Deputies by a 190-6 vote, with Communist deputies voicing opposition.

Chile's ambassador to Moscow, David Cruz Ocampo, resigned last year but has remained there in an attempt to get Soviet permission, so far refused, to take his Russian wife and his son, Luis, out of the country.

material is "substantially" greater than at the present time.

In connection with the latter condition, the committee said it "might" be provided that construction should be started only when "the total volume of private construction in the United States has been less in the immediately preceding six months than during the same period the year before."

The committee added: "(We) believe that completion of the project on the above basis would tend to be of over-all economic and industrial benefit to the United States as a whole."

"It would tend to increase the economic and industrial potential of the United States, just as development of the Panama Canal had a significant and beneficial effect on the nation's industry and transportation."

The committee also said its investigations had convinced it that the proposed depth of the canal be 25 instead of 27 feet. It said the former depth is "necessary and desirable."

A HANDY GUIDE TO EASTERN TOWNSHIPS' MERCHANTS AND BUSINESS SERVICES

WHEN T B HEALS

By William A. O'Brien, M.D.
Tuberculosis of the lung has started to heal when the patient has felt perfectly well and has not expected any tuberculosis germs for at least six months. He must exercise special care for some time before he can consider himself safe.

Modern treatment of lung tuberculosis is rest of the inflamed lung. As soon as the disease is discovered, the patient should go to bed, since lungs move less while lying down.

If healing does not begin on bed rest, air is injected between the lung and the chest wall to flatten the lung. A small amount of air may be breathed in through the main bronchus, but it cannot get into the lung. This stops most movement of the organ and helps start healing.

Most critical period in a sanatorium patient's life is the two years which follow his discharge. As a general rule, he should wait from six months to a year before going to work. Each day he should be a little more active, until he is on a normal schedule.

If the ex-patient had a light job, he may go back to work earlier for part of each day, to see how he gets along. If his old job was heavy work, he has to be restrained for a light job.

Report Each Month
Most sanatorium physicians ask patients to come back every month during the first year, for special examinations, including X-rays of the chest. At no time during the first three years, should he stay away longer than three to six months.

Tuberculosis germs in the infected lung remain alive a long time after healing, and some of them never are destroyed. If the patient is given sufficient time, a hard scar will form in his lung which will lock in the germs and prevent their escape under ordinary conditions.

Q—Are X-ray treatments of value in epilepsy? If a cure is not possible, is it advisable to send the patient to an institution?
A—X-rays are not used in treatment. If you plan to send the patient to an institution, consult your physician for advice.

How to Make a Splendid Cough Syrup at Home

Cough medicines usually contain a large quantity of plain syrup—a good ingredient, but one which can easily make in your own kitchen. Take 2 cups of granulated sugar and 1 cup of water, and stir a few moments until dissolved. No cooking! No trouble! (Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.)

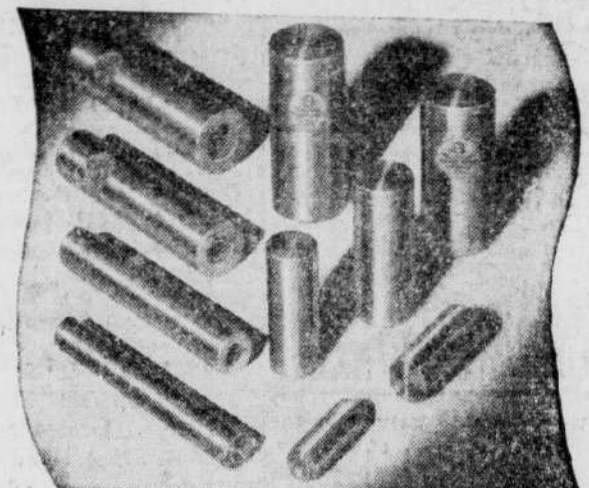

Then get from your druggist 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, pour it into a 16 oz. bottle, and fill up with your syrup. This gives you 16 ounces of really splendid medicine for bad winter coughs. It makes a real saver, because it doesn't please you in every way.

Pinex is a special compound of potent ingredients, in concentrated form. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes and makes breathing easy. You will be delighted with its quick effect in clearing up coughs.

RICHMOND AND MELBOURNE RECORDINGS

New Method Of Asbestos Mining Is Described To Board Of Trade

Asbestos mining under a new method being introduced by the Johns-Manville Company at Asbestos, was the subject of an address given by Karl V. Lindell, plant engineer, at the monthly dinner meeting of the Richmond and Melbourn Board of Trade, held at the Richmond Hotel.

The speaker dealt briefly with the plans for mining the asbestos under the block system, and described in some detail the erection of the concrete head-frames which have received such wide publicity in the engineering field. The talk was supplemented by colored films.

Fred J. Newell introduced the speaker and at the close of his address he was thanked by K. G. Nourse and George Tremblay.

Other representatives of the Johns-Manville Company present were C. McCaw, industrial relations, W. Soutar, asst. manager, L. Kennedy, training supervisor.

One of the most interesting points brought out was that the new construction is being made on plans looking forward many years.

A business meeting was held after the showing of the films. Thomas Southwood presided and the following committees submitted reports:

Civic Committee: Rev. George Harrington stressed the importance of town or community planning, and read excerpts from an available circular on this subject. He also congratulated the Junior Chamber of Commerce on the improvements they had made in the property selection for a park.

Industrial Committee: H. P. Stone gave statistics on the number of new dwellings made ready for occupation during the past year.

Housing Committee: George W. Ewing gave further figures on new dwellings being erected.

George Tremblay, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, described the new publicity pamphlets prepared by the Eastern Townships Associated Boards of Trade. 25,000 copies of these pamphlets have already been printed for circulation in England, France, Belgium and the United States, and 25,000 more copies await printing.

It was announced that the annual meeting of the Eastern Townships Associated Boards of Trade is to be held in Richmond shortly. An invitation from the Junior Chamber of Commerce was extended to the members of the Board of Trade to attend a dance to be held on October 31 under the auspices of the former organization.

Planning For Annual Sale Of Seals In Richmond-Melbourne District

Plans are being prepared to hold the annual sale of Christmas Seals in the Richmond-Melbourne district, co-operating with the 21st annual national campaign of the Canadian Tuberculosis Association.

Last year's campaign enabled the committee to have 395 employees of local plants X-rayed, and this year the committee hopes to have the necessary funds, secured through the sale of seals, to X-ray all the employees of public places, such as hotels, restaurants, stores, pasteurization plants, etc.

The full co-operation of the public is being anticipated to make the sale of seals a success and to keep the community health standards at a high level.

The annual campaign will run late in November, further details to be announced prior to the start of the sale of seals.

An active committee, under the name of the Richmond-Melbourne Christmas Seal Committee is now at work organizing the project, which is under the direction of the Richmond Junior Chamber of Commerce, of which George Tremblay is president.

Chairman of the Seal Committee is Dr. Paul Archambault, V. S., assisted by E. S. Cogan as vice chairman, with R. Dagenais as treasurer, and Miss D. Hains as secretary.

"The Meridians," New Men's Choir, Formed In Boundary Communities

Spurred on by a love for good singing, following the visit of the Montreal Men's Choir to the Boundary Communities last spring, a group of men who are greatly interested in choral work met to organize a Men's Choir at the Boundary.

Today, "The Meridians" is a well-balanced and extremely good choral group, bringing together the finest male voices of the Boundary Communities. Directed by Ernest J. Hills, former member of the Montreal Men's Choir, "The Meridians" Men's Choir of the Boundary is a group of which the citizens may well be proud.

The third practice session of the fall season was held last Thursday evening, with 16 members present. Director Hills reports that they are a highly-enthusiastic group and are making rapid progress. "Every member of 'The Meridians' is a man who enjoys good singing and good fellowship, and we cordially invite all other men so inclined to join us," he said.

The Town Hall at Derby Line has been placed at the disposal of the choir, free of charge, and a practice is held every Wednesday evening at 7.30 p.m.

Officers of the group are: Director E. J. Hills; president, Wayne Hitchcock; executive members, George Cowles, Frank Grout and Stewart Edgar.

INSTITUTE AT NORTH HATLEY HELD MEETING

North Hatley, Oct. 21.—The North Hatley branch of the Quebec Women's Institute held its October meeting at the Community Hall. Mrs. R. W. Bowen, the president, conducted the business hour, during which the reports of the committees were heard, indicating that the branch is diligently applying itself in its efforts for "Home and Country."

At the school opening the Institute gave, as has been the yearly custom, health prizes in the Primary grades. Several letters of appreciation for gifts to very new citizens were read and a successful food sale was reported by Miss Alice Colt. Plans were made for the County quarterly meeting to be held in North Hatley, in November, and a committee was appointed, headed by the convener of Home Economics, Mrs. J. A. Seguin, with Mrs. Abby Kezar and Miss Alice Colt to aid her.

The convener of National and International Relations, Mrs. Gladys Kezar, presented the suggestion that each of the Church organizations might be interested in helping to make up the box which the Institute endeavors to send regularly to an elderly lady in England. Members of the different church organizations were asked to contact their groups and notify Mrs. Kezar.

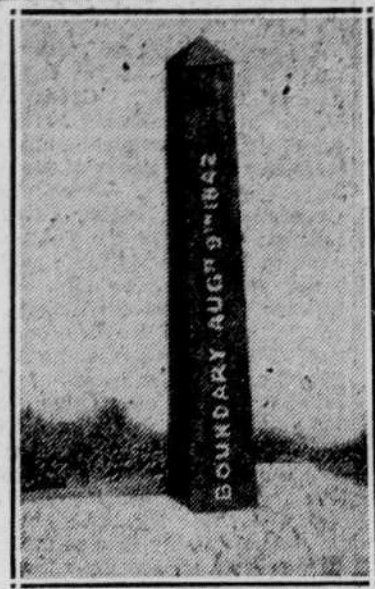

The resignation of Mrs. P. W. Knights, the convener of the Sunshine Committee, was regretfully accepted. A letter was received from the County Health Unit requesting that the Institute provide assistants on the day of the inoculation services, which are held at regular four-week intervals, at the Community Hall. The president, Mrs. Bowen, offered to make arrangements for this purpose with the convener of Health and Welfare, Mrs. J. R. McKay.

At the conclusion of the business hour a delicious chicken-pie tea was served by the hostesses, Mrs. A. Q. Perry and Mrs. Abby Kezar, assisted by Mrs. Paige Kezar.

General Notes
Mrs. A. J. Jackson's many friends will be happy to hear that she has returned home from the Sherbrooke Hospital, and is making gratifying progress toward improved health.

A Junior High School Choir in four parts has been formed under the guidance of Dr. Cooper. This has now been instigated as a full choir of about 100 voices. The choir is composed of the complete grades seven, eight and nine. This is the first time such a choir has been organized outside the city of Montreal. It contains thirty-five tenors. It has been decided to produce the Gilbert and Sullivan Operetta, "H.M.S. Pinafore," in the spring. Try-outs for the leading roles were held on Saturday morning, and a list of the principals will appear later.

The school orchestra held its first practice of the year this week. Thirteen musicians turned out, and more are expected. A few assorted pieces were played, and Dr. Cooper complimented the group on the talent shown at this initial meeting.

On Saturday, November 1, West Hill High School's 40-piece band will give a recital at the Haskell Opera House. This band is one of the best High School bands on the Island of Montreal. The presentation has been made possible by the College Athletic Association, and tickets will be on sale during the coming week for 75c.

John Gilmore, Director Of Frontier Community Body, Resigns, Joins TCA

Resignation of John Gilmore, Recreational Director of the Frontier Community Centre for the past year, presented to a meeting of the executive committee last Thursday evening, was accepted with much regret.

Mr. Gilmore, who took over the post last fall, succeeding Jim Galbraith, has created a great deal of interest in this enterprising community organization, and lifted sports in the Boundary Communities to a new high level. Through his initiative and energy, several new leagues were started, and baseball, softball, soccer and bowling teams began to spring up like mushrooms in the Boundary Communities. Hockey and basketball, following the initial spurt given by Jim Galbraith, also blossomed forth into some fast-stepping competition, and plans were already being made for a very active winter season.

Mr. Gilmore, however, received an offer from Trans-Canada Air Lines to rejoin the service, and began his new duties on Monday of this week. With TCA, he will become a Navigator on the Trans-Oceanic flights.

Former member of the R.C.M.P., and with the R.C.A.F. during the war years, serving overseas with the R.A.F. Bomber Command in England, he also saw service with TCA when the R.C.A.F. were assigned to the mail flights. He now rejoins the airlines in his former capacity of navigator.

MANY ATTEND PARTY GIVEN BEEBE COUPLE

Beebe, Oct. 22.—Rev. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Lovelace were guests of honor at a largely attended farewell party in the Church dining-room on Wednesday evening, October 15, prior to their departure for Montreal, where Rev. Mr. Lovelace has accepted a call to the St. Paul's United Church.

Upon their arrival at the church, Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Lovelace were welcomed by Rev. Dr. H. A. Carson, of Rock Island, who paid warm tribute to the work done by Rev. Mr. Lovelace during his seven years here, both in the community and in the Presbytery.

A varied program followed with Mr. John Lees, Jr., chairman. A vocal solo by Mrs. Reginald Bryson, of Granitville, was accompanied by Mrs. Leney. Reading were given by Mrs. Edith Bellam, a quartette composed of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Edgar, Mrs. Dorothy Seales and Mr. Conrad Haselton, and a duet by Mrs. Seales and Conrad Haselton, accompanied by Miss Marjorie Woodard were all much enjoyed.

Mrs. Harold Beane voiced the appreciation of the women's church groups to both Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Lovelace, who have always given their time and ability, provided an open house for meetings and helped in any way possible to make every venture a success. "In fact," Mrs. Beane continued, "this

A Harvest Supper is being served in the Stanstead South Church tomorrow evening starting at 5.30 p.m.

RAMBLING ROUND THE BORDER

Press notices in Montreal papers of the three brothers who are principals of schools in the Province, with the accompanying photo of the Perrys, gives this writer a chance to call attention to the fact that three brothers, with whom he attended Stanstead College, are also, all three, principals of schools in this province, and they all come from the Boundary District.

Sons of Will Heath of Heathton, the Three Heath Brothers are now principals of the following schools: T. Lee Heath, at Coaticook, Franklin Heath at Kenogami and William Heath at Bedford. They each received their preliminary education, prior to going to get their degrees, at Stanstead College. Their mother was a teacher, too, and their sister, was and still is, although married, teaching with her husband in an Eastern Townships school.

Thanks to Miss Jessie Colby, of Carrolcroft, for calling this to the writer's attention.

Rock Island has another newly surfaced street, with the finishing of work on Riverside Drive, which runs from midway on the so-called Plain Hill past Holmes Pond, towards the College Grounds. This is now tarvia-surfaced.

SHERBROOKE SWAMPS ATLANTIC CITY 7-0 IN EXHIBITION TILT

Locals Packed Too Much Power For Sea Gulls; Noel Tremblay Signs To Perform As Fourth Defence Player

Granby, Oct. 22.—Paced by Tony Demers and Armand Bourdon, who notched two goals apiece, Sherbrooke St. Francis Hockey Club last night swamped the Sea Gulls of Atlantic City, members of the Eastern Amateur United States Hockey League, 7-0, in an exhibition tilt.

Displaying power both on the offensive and the defensive, as well, Coach Dugre's boys rolled along in high gear and outshot their opponents at will. In the initial frame Sherbrooke notched four goals while holding their lighter foes at bay. In the second stanza neither team did the best, but in the final period Sherbrooke kept the disc in the Sea Gulls' end for the better part of the frame, and had it not been for the good work of Gerry Courteau, in the nets, the score would have been in the round figures.

Noel Tremblay Signs
Tremblay, who played last year for the Eagles of Verdun on the blue line, was signed last night to play for Sherbrooke. Tremblay is 29 years old, tips the scales at 180 pounds and stands 5' 10". Previous to last year he performed with the Volans, of Hull, and then finished the season with Victoriaville. In '44-'45 he was with Shawinigan Falls in the old Interprovincial loop. He resides in Verdun, and commenced his hockey career with the Lafontaine Juniors, in '40-'41 he played in the Maritime League with the Millionaires of Sydney.

Coach Dugre used three lines last evening in action, with three blueline defenders. Herbie Carmier, Tony Demers and Bunny Glover functioned as one unit, with Adj. Cote, the much-discussed hockey player, Andy Perron and Ralph Orlando, who was on skates for the first time in three weeks, but nevertheless turned in a good account of himself, while Armand Bourdon, Marcel Bouchard and Young Gaudreault, who hails from Quebec City, worked as

JOEY BROWN STOPS KING IN TORONTO

Toronto, Oct. 22.—Fast-stepping Joey Brown, the neuro-fighter from New Orleans, punched his way to a close eight-round decision over Toronto's Lt. Arthur King in a lightweight bout—the main attraction of a five-bout card—at Maple Leaf Gardens last night.

For the 8,500 odd fans, King's exhibition was enough to make him a reasonable facsimile of the Tiger King in his amateur and early professional fights. This was King's 13th pro bout while the New Orleans negro is a veteran of some 41 ring appearances.

The Toronto scrapper—in his old role of the "Tiger Fighter"—both infighting and long range tactics to work on his opponent in the fifth session and managed to keep up the torrid pace for the round to thoroughly tie-up Brown who laid Montreal's Danny Webb on the canvas last July in Montreal. Webb, Canadian Lightweight King, bounced to an easy victory over King in their only meeting so far.

Brown, continually a grinning, crowding fighter, didn't let King's longer rights and left in for much play in their meeting and in the Toronto boy's frequent rushes they most always end up in a clinch.

King, aware of the points he was behind at the start of the eighth round, tried to put Brown on the canvas but the "dark destroyer" from New Orleans couldn't be floored.

Eighteen Rookies Are Playing In N.H.L. This Season; Many Starring

There are eighteen players entering the National Hockey League this season for the first time in their youthful careers, and one who has played two games in hockey's big tent.

Montreal Canadiens and Boston Bruins top the rookie rosters with five freshmen each. Chicago Black Hawks have four N.H.L. newcomers on their squad; Detroit Red Wings and New York Rangers have two rookies apiece, and Toronto Maple Leafs have one fresh face on their crew.

Canadiens' five rookies are all graduates of last season's Allan Cup Champion Montreal Royals. This is believed to be a record for the number of players to come up from one amateur team to sign with the same N.H.L. club. The new Canadiens are:

Dick Butler, the 5' 7", 150-pound winger, is currently playing right wing on the line with the famed Bentley brothers, Max and Doug, in place of the injured Billy Mosienko. This makes the trio an all-Delisle line, as Butler was born in Delisle, Sask., home of the Bentleys, on June 2, 1926. He played with Kansas City Pla-Mors, the U.S.H.L. champions last season, where he scored 19 goals and had a helping hand in 39 others for a total of 58 scoring points.

Tod Campeau, a centre, weighs 175 pounds and stands 5' 11". He played two games for Canadiens near the end of the 1943-44 season. He was born in St. Jerome, Que., and has been on Canadiens' reserve list for some time.

Howard "Rip" Riopelle, a left-winger, was born in Ottawa on January 30, 1922. He stands 5' 11" and tips the scales at a trim 165 pounds. A former R.C.A.F. officer, "Rip" is a speedy skater and an excellent backchecker.

Floyd "Busher" Curry, a left-winger, was regarded by many as the outstanding amateur hockey player in Canada last season. Standing 5' 10" and weighing 165 pounds, Curry has been a top prospect ever since he starred in junior competition with Ottawa Generals. A member of the Royals for the past two years, Curry has a great burst of speed and really knows how to cut in on goal. He has been a top scorer throughout his hockey career.

Jacques Locas, a fiery French-Canadian who plays right wing, was born on February 12, 1926, at Pointe-aux-Trembles, Que. He stands 5' 11" in height and weighs in at 175 pounds. He had a great season with Royals last year in the team's drive to the Canadian senior title. He is a strong, speedy skater, and many predict a bright future ahead for him in the national ranks.

The five Boston players who are making their debut in the N.H.L. this season are:

Ed Sanford, a centre, was just about the most talked about player in junior hockey last year. Only 19 years old, he weighs a solid 180 pounds and is an even six feet tall. Sanford played a prominent role in the triumph of Toronto St. Michael's Juniors last season as the star-studded Toronto aggregation captured the Memorial Cup. He is fresh from junior ranks and has not played a single game of senior or minor professional hockey.

Eddie Harrison, a 20-year-old left-winger, who is a cousin of Sanford's, was also his teammate on the championship Toronto St. Mike's last year. Eddie stands 5' 11" and weighs 170 pounds.

Wally Wilson, a right-winger, who has campaigned in the American League for three seasons, was born at Berwick, Nova Scotia, on May 25, 1921. He is 5' 10" tall and weighs 170 pounds. He played for Hershey during the 1941-42 season but spent the next three years in the Canadian Armed Forces. Wally played the last two seasons with Pittsburgh Hornets and was a prolific scorer both years. Last season he scored 21 goals and had 30 assists for a total of 51 points.

Pete Babando, a 22-year-old right-winger, played for Hershey Bees last season where he scored 19 goals and assisted in 26 others for a point total of 45. He is a husky 190-pounder and stands 5' 9" in height. He played for Boston Olympics in the Eastern United States Amateur League before going up to Hershey last season.

Fleming Mackell, who is only 18 years old, Mackell was born Montreal on April 30, 1929. He stands 5' 7 1/2", and packs a sturdy 160 pounds. Mackell learned his hockey in Montreal where he was a standout junior. He lined up with Toronto St. Mike's Memorial Cup winners last year, and was the

BRITISH ICE HOCKEY LEAGUE HAS HEADACHES

London, Oct. 22.—British Hockey Scouts who tramped thousands of miles searching for talent in Canada this summer and had missed a cue when they did not try to woo players with "Join an English Club and See Europe."

The scramble for Canadians this year meant headaches for club promoters and a staggering trek from home pastures.

The seven-team league, now in the midst of pre-season cup competition, has been getting by on its shoelaces. Instead of work-outs resulting in well-balanced clubs, new players are coming over singly and in pairs are being injected into line-ups on arrival.

The dearth of talent is put down by observers to the fact that some clubs are looking for top-grade players.

They have been held up right and left by players who asked rates of pay—usually about $12 ($48) weekly—and then went to Canadian clubs and demanded more—or else.

One official said: "And who can blame the Canadians? If British clubs smartened up and went out for good juniors they would be much better off."

The search by British clubs is in sharp contrast to the smooth-working Scottish League which lined up enough players in trials at Toronto last August to send over nearly 100 hockeyists.

Seventy-six of these arrived on one ship about the middle of September.

The lackadaisical opening of the English campaigns planned by the British International Hockey Association. Trips to France, Czechoslovakia, Switzerland and Sweden already are arranged—or are being fixed up—for various clubs and in addition teams from these countries and probably the Canadian and United States Olympic representatives will play in England and Scotland.

During the past 19 years 1,395 boxers have appeared in Madison Square Garden . . . but it really is the rodeo that assails your nose when you go into the place these days. . . for the benefit of football fans who still are excited over Frank Leahy's offer to send his Notre Dame team against Michigan any time, one guy who usually knows the score at South Bend gives this explanation: It was merely Frank's reaction to outside criticism of his players. He figures he can put them on the griddle if he wants, but when someone else starts, Leahy becomes a strong defender of his own men. . . also, our informant adds, he knew the players would read his remarks. . . sure, Notre Dame players have to learn how to read. . . End Of The Line

In his interesting booklet about the annual Clemson-South Carolina Grid game, "Big Thursday in South Carolina," Sport Scribe Harper Cault tells how the general admission gate collapsed last year. Head ticket man Dick Anderson asked an internal revenue agent, "what do we do now?" The reply: "I don't know about you, Buddy but I'm getting out of here before I get killed. . . and Villanova' Jim Haughton tells of a coach who saw one of his 150-pound team players rip off a 25-yard gain and yelled: "Look. He ran that play the wrong way again. Won't he ever learn?"

scoring sensation of the Junior O.H.A. where he won the scoring honors with 49 goals and 33 assists for 82 points, thereby shattering the previous record held by Tod Sloan. A driving type of left-winger, Mackell should fit into the Leafs' style of play very well this season.

Coach Day Feels Rangers Are Much Stronger This Year Than Last Season

As the epitome of the perfect hockey gentleman, Coach Frank Boucher of New York Rangers could hardly be expected to cut loose with a resounding raspberry, but it is unlikely he will be lulled into any false sense of security by the nice things said about his club by Coach Happy Day of Toronto Maple Leafs.

Day took up a spectator's post as the men from Manhattan went through a drill yesterday at the Bayview Rink in Toronto in preparation for tonight's National Hockey League game against the Leafs. After he had watched the members of the Boucher brigade gallop around the ice for some time, Day observed:

"The Rangers are good!" Day then went into a summation of the off-season deal whereby Rangers obtained centre Buddy O'Connor and defenceman Frankie Eddolls from Montreal Canadiens in exchange for Joe Bell, Hal Laycoe, and George Robertson. He expressed the belief the Rangers had strengthened their stand through the deal and added:

"Boucher has certainly established himself as a wise trader." Not the least bit nonplussed by all this politeness and praise from a rival mentor, Boucher stepped into the conversation with the remark "that you have to give something to get something these days and we need that something right away."

All these pleasanties will be forgotten, however, when the Leafs and the Rangers step out on the ice tonight at Maple Leaf Gardens, which has been tied up with other attractions to the extent that the Leafs couldn't work in a practice yesterday. The Leafs will be seeking their first victory in three starts while Rangers will be seeking to prove that they're good enough, as Boucher maintains, to make a playoff berth this season. Rangers missed out by a narrow margin on the post-schedule frolics last season. Since then they have added four new faces to their lineup and dropped five of the 1946-47 men. Those to go were

Only One Yankee, No Dodgers On 1947 Major League All-Star Team

New York, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Only one member of the World Champion New York Yankees and not one of the National League pennant-winning Brooklyn Dodgers made the 1947 major league All-Star team of the Associated Press, picked by 233 baseball writers throughout the United States.

New York Giants, Cleveland Indians and Boston Braves, none of whom finished higher than third, each placed two men on the team which showed a National League complexion, with six representatives from the senior circuit as compared to four from the American. Neither St. Louis Cardinals nor Detroit Tigers, runner-up in their respective leagues, placed a man.

The Giants were represented by Johnny Mize at first base and Walker Cooper behind the plate. The Indians donated their fine key-stone combination of shortstop Lou Boudreau and second baseman Joe Gordon. The Braves placed third baseman Bob Elliott and left-handed pitcher Warren Spahn.

Joe DiMaggio of the Yankees, Ted Williams of Boston Red Sox and Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh Pirates made up the outfield while Edell Blackwell of Cincinnati Reds won top honors among the right-handed pitchers.

No player was a unanimous choice. Williams, who led the American League in about every noteworthy batting department, drew the most support, polling 209 out of a possible 233 votes. DiMaggio was close behind with 207. Mize was third with 189, followed by Boudreau, 177; Blackwell, 158; Cooper, 141; Kiner, 137; Spahn, 115; Gordon, 113; and Elliott, 99.

Girl Suffers Naphtha Burns To Save Sleeping Household WINS DOW AWARD

YVETTE BOLDUC of St. Samuel de Frontenac, Quebec, endures great pain to keep fire from spreading

Yvette Bolduc, a maid in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francois Paradis of Megantic, Quebec, was trying to light the stove to cook breakfast. But as she was having trouble getting the fire started, Yvette took a bowl of naphtha and tipped a few drops of this highly inflammable liquid down into the stove. Mr. and Mrs. Paradis and their two young children were still asleep.

In an instant, the flames had leaped out of the stove. The bowl of naphtha and Yvette's clothes were ablaze. Every instinct told her to drop the flaming liquid and save herself from the fire. But instead, she held on to the bowl knowing that to throw it down would set the whole house afire!

GIRL HEROIC DESPITE BURNS
In spite of severe burns, Yvette carried the naphtha from the house, even having to turn the key in a door that was still locked. Only when outside did she attempt to extinguish the flames that were burning her face, arms and legs.

Thanks to her cool courage, a terrible and perhaps fatal fire was averted. We are proud to pay tribute to Yvette Bolduc of St. Samuel de Frontenac, Quebec, through the presentation of The Dow Award.

THE DOW AWARD is a citation for outstanding heroism and includes, as a tangible expression of appreciation, a $100 Canada Savings Bond. Winners are selected by the Dow Award Committee, a group of editors of leading Canadian daily newspapers.
