BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION
AND SOFT AND FAIR HANDS AND ARMS are fully realised and sustained by the use of ROWLANDS' KALYDOR,
An Eastern Botanical Preparation, perfectly free from all mineral or metallic admixture. It is distinguished for its extremely bland, purifying, and soothing effects on the Skin; while, by its action on the pores and minute secretory vessels, it promotes a healthy tone, alays every tendency to inflamation, and thus effectually dissipates all redness, tan, pimples, spots, freckles, discolorations, and other cutaneous visitations. The radiant bloom it imparts to the cheek, the softness and delicacy which it induces to the hands and arms, its capability of soothing irritation and removing cutaneous defects, render it indispensable to every toilet.
It obviates all the effects of climate on the skin whether with reference to cold and inclemency, or intense solar heat, and affords immediate relief in cases of sunburn, stings of insects, or incidental inflammation. Gentlemen after shaving will appreciate its softening and ameliorating properties.—Price, 4s. 6d. and 8s. 6d. per bottle.
CAUTION.—The words ROWLANDS' KALYDOR are on the wrapper, and their signature, "A. ROWLAND & SON," in red ink, at foot.

BOGLE'S TOILET ARTICLES.
BOGLE'S HYPERION FLUID.
FOR RESTORING PRESERVING AND EMBELLISHING THE HAIR.
The following certificate from Dr. Winslow Lewis, one of the most eminent Physicians of Boston, will show the estimation in which it is held by the scientific and learned, being one only of many others received.
Boston, Feb. 15, 1856.
Mr. Wm. Bogle:—Sir: The preparation invented by you, for the hair, has been extensively used in my family, and they give it the decided preference over all other compositions of the kind. It invigorates and beautifies the hair, and clears the skin of all impurities, without producing any ultimate deleterious effects, which are so frequently the result of many well-known patented compounds. * * * WINSLOW LEWIS.
It is an indispensable article for the ladies, as it keeps the hair in place and curl, and the skin or parting of the hair free from dandruff and scurf. For children, it lays the foundation of a good head of hair.

HAIR DYE.
PHILANTHROPY.—The world is much indebted to Mr. Wm. Bogle, for the Hyperion Fluid, which promotes the growth and beauty of the hair, and, when applied cures baldness. His Premium Electric Hair Dye also is highly esteemed, and has been the means of improving the appearance of many persons, by its application on the hair, whiskers, moustache, or goatee, of objectional color, and converting them to a most beautiful glossy black or dark brown.

PROFESSOR WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—Having tried unsuccessfully sundry highly recommended "hair tonics" on our own hair-denuded crown, we had about lost all confidence in nostrums of that sort, until a few weeks ago we met a distinguished politician of this State, whom we had seen three years ago with thin hair, and "as grey as a rat," but now boasting as fine and glossy a head of hair as one could wish. We demanded the secret of his improved appearance, when he readily accounted for it by ascribing it to the virtues of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative. We shall try that next as our advertising columns show it to be for sale in town.—[Ottawa Free Trader.—Sold here by all the Druggists. du DC 200

Nothing can be more interesting than the numerous extraordinary Cures without Medicine of Indigestion, (Dyspepsia) Flatulency, Constipation, Nervous, Bilious, and Liver Complaints, Cough, Asthma, Consumption, and Debility effected by Du Barry's delicious Health Restoring Revalenta Arabica Food. We give a few:
[illegible]hester, December 3d, 1847.
Gentlemen,—I am happy to be able to inform you, that the person for whom your Revalenta was procured, has derived very great benefit from its use; distressing symptoms of Dyspepsia, and Constipation of long standing have been removed, and a feeling of restored health induced. Having witnessed the beneficial effects in the above-mentioned case, I can with confidence recommend it, &c. &c. James Shorland, late Surgeon, 96th Regiment.
Silvington Rectory, Cleobury Mortimer, Salop, Feb., 1851.
Gentlemen,—I was in a miserable state of nervous irritation, but now I am entirely free from it, and in the enjoyment of good health. Your Food is everything to be desired in my case, as I feel as if I was in a new state of existence; and I recommend others similarly affected to try it, for its effects are most surprising and agreeable.

DAVIS' PAIN KILLER.
My Dear Sir,—I desire to state a few instances of good resulting from the use of the Pain Killer. The first case that I shall mention in which I performed a cure was that of a servant boy who had his right hand severely scalded by the falling of boiling oil on it, two days perfectly cured by the application of a mixture of Cream and Pain Killer, as directed in such cases. Then my girl was cured of an obstinate Cough. Lastly, I shall refer to myself—I took the medicine—not from any confidence I had in it; on the contrary; I took it with a great deal of dread—however, I must own that it several times relieved me of cold in the knee—and it cured me of a fever—of pain in the knee—and an ulcer in the mouth. In addition to this above a case of cholera was brought to my notice; a coachman was attacked with this disease, and medicines kept for this complaint were given to the man without any effect, and, as the last resort, which was cold and speechless, the Pain Killer was administered, which threw a warmth into the system and revived his sinking energy—in short the man was restored.

TO ALL WHO VALUE THEIR SIGHT!
MESSRS. ROSENTHAL & MICHAEL, Opticians and Graduates of the Royal Eye Infirmary of the city of Berlin, Prussia, would respectfully announce that the success they have met with in the treatment of all defects of the sight, during their residence in Montreal for the past year, has induced them to import a very large assortment of their celebrated
SCOTCH PEBBLE SPECTACLES!
just received per steamship "Anglo-Saxon;" and they are now prepared to suit the most defective vision with the utmost precision.
These Spectacles—now so universally used by all who value the sight—not only protect and assist, but also strengthen the eye. Their superiority has been acknowledged by the most eminent Oculists and Opticians in the world, who unhesitatingly recommend them as the most suitable and useful for the eye, of which fact all purchasers can satisfy themselves personally. The Scotch Pebble Glasses correspond so thoroughly with the curve of the eye, that the light coming from all directions is refracted as strongly as through the centre of the Glass. This allows persons of weak sight to follow the most intricate and minute employment, either by day or candle-light, without causing the least sensation of drawing of the sight, which common Glasses generally produce.
Messrs. ROSENTHAL & MICHAEL have also just received from Europe a fine assortment of OPTICAL INSTRUMENTS, consisting of Simple and Compound Achromatic Microscopes, Opera and Marine Glasses, Ladies' and Gentlemen's Eye Glasses, Magic Lanterns, Mathematical Instruments, &c., &c., which they offer for sale at their Rooms, at a small advance on the cost of importation.
No. 13 Great St. James Street,

OFFICE HOURS from 9 A.M. to 6 P.M.
Messrs. R. & M. beg to lay before the Public the following Testimonials, being a few of the many hundreds they have already received in praise of the justly celebrated Scotch Pebble Spectacles:—
HAMILTON, November, 1856.
We, the undersigned having used the Optical Instruments and Scotch Pebble Spectacles of the manufacture of Rosenthal & Michael, and having thoroughly tested their powers and qualities, do certify that we have found them to be good, and can recommend them to the public as well worthy of consideration. We can particularly recommend the Scotch Pebble Spectacles, for the protection which they afford the Eye, and the increased clearness and power of vision.

ANIMOS ROVITATE TENCEO. QUO.
THE MONTREAL HERALD.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, SEPT. 2, 1857.

The South-Sea Islands.—By the United States mail, on Saturday last, we received our exchange numbers of The Pacific Commercial Advertiser, published weekly at Honolulu, the capital of the Hawaiian Islands. Some extracts may, possibly, prove interesting to our readers. The issues received are of the 28th May, the 4th and the 11th June. We would premise that in its mechanical features—quality of paper and neatness of type—the Pacific Commercial Advertiser would do credit to any printing establishment in Montreal; while the able and scholarly style of its editorials will favourably compare with those of its United States and Canadian contemporaries. For example, it would, we think, be difficult to give a more graphic "pen and ink sketch" than the following, which we cut from the Advertiser of the 27th of May :—

"The heat, dust, and monotony of our tropic summers have fairly set in, and threaten us with a term of quietness hardly equalled by that of any former year. The whalers have taken their last barrel of provisions and shipped their last man for the spring season, and are now in their harvest field, filling their capacious hulls; transient merchantmen shun the port as though it were infected with the plague; and our coasters idly lie in port caulking their decks, hardly caring if the pitch does not dry for a fortnight under the scorching sun, or if at sea their spankers saucily flap under the lee of Waianae, Molokai, or Lanai, while the breeze that ruffles the sea around the point remains provokingly distant, and will not heed the cooing whistle of the helmsman.

Were it not for these almost intolerable doldrum spells at sea, the idle denizens of our city would lay their plans to spend at least a month in learning, on the highlands of Hawaii, the skill of the vaquero, or in measuring the rise and fall of the lava lake at Kilauea, or in strolling over and enjoying the cool retreats of Makawao or Haleakala, or Maui, or Hanalei and Wailua, on Kauai.

The mere rumor that an inter-island steamer enterprise is on foot, comes like a cool gust of air to the would-be traveller. Now, in the hot summer months, is the right time to take it, and commence such an enterprise if we are to have one. It was no doubt a due sense of the oppressiveness of the weather and the wants of the people that led a gentleman the other day to pledge $2500 towards the introduction of a steamer. And a score besides will be found to stand with him (provided the present weather continues). The want of a steamer keeps hundreds at home who have never been twenty miles from Honolulu, but who might then see and enjoy the unrivaled views of nature which exist on the other islands of this group. A good steamer would draw more visitors from abroad, and as travel would thereby increase a hundred fold among the islands, so would trade necessarily increase, and every coaster would receive the benefit of the impetus. But not having a steamer at hand, the crowd settle down to the same routine of life which has always been their lot, except where here and there one musters up courage to brave the horrors of a week at sea."

In the same issue, we find a long and interesting account of the presentation to His Majesty, the King of the Islands, at his "Palace" in Honolulu, of a beautiful Bible from the American Bible Society. That Society, the Advertiser says, have lately prepared an Edition of the Bible to be presented to each of the reigning Sovereigns of the world. The copy given to His Majesty is a large and handsome book, bound in dark Morocco, with gilt finish and is enclosed in a Rosewood box. It was presented by Mr. S. N. Castle, with an appropriate address to the King. We can only afford room for His Majesty's reply, which we learn from the Advertiser, "was written by him at very short notice on the morning when it was delivered. The manuscript contains but one correction or alteration." His Majesty said :—

The volume you present me in behalf of the American Bible Society, and the letter with which it is accompanied, I receive with a mingled feeling of pleasure and reverence. When I remember the moral illumination and the sense of social propriety which have spread throughout these islands, in proportion as the Holy Scriptures have been circulated, I cannot but admire and respect the human agency through which Providence has effected its benign purpose. But of all the members of the institution, there is none with whom I could more gladly find myself in communication than the Secretary, whose labors have won for him a name among Christian philanthropists which might excite a world to emulation.

I will not attempt to echo the tone of fervent admiration and gratitude with which you allude to the happy changes effected by the dissemination of God's Holy Word. But from the position I occupy, the facts meet me whichever way I turn my eyes. I see them every day and every hour. I see principles taking root among my people that were unknown, and unintelligible to them at that dark period of our religious history to which you have referred. They have now a standard by which to judge of themselves and each other as members of society. Without that standard no law but the law of autocratic power could have ruled them. Its absence would have rendered the gift of free institutions, such as they now enjoy, a worse than useless act of magnanimity on the part of my predecessors. The commerce and intercourse with other countries to which we owe our present prosperity would have been checked by numberless difficulties. In one word, we see through all our relations the effect of those aspirations and principles inculcated by this sacred volume.

I should be wanting to myself did I not express the gratification I feel in seeing here present some of those who were the first to labor in the vineyard. Although they look for their reward elsewhere, they will not reject any passing tribute of respect. Their labor has been long and their anxiety great, but their constancy and patience have equaled the emergency. The result of their life's work may not disappoint them if they judge it by the anticipation of their more sanguine years. Yet, in their decline of life, they see some of the fruits they prayed for, and they will not complain, when they remember that the measure of their success is from above.

Allow me to thank you for your personal share in the presentation, and through you to express my kindest acknowledgements to the American Bible Society.

Our next extract, following, as it immediately does, the above reply to Mr. T. N. Castle, affords, it appears to us, but very doubtful evidence as to the practical working of the "free institutions," to which His Majesty so complacently refers. It is as follows :—

EPPULSION OF MR. MONSARRAT.

When we went to press last week, the case of Mr. Monsarrat had taken no definite turn, though few were disposed to doubt the result which would follow, and which, so far as those residing in town are concerned, is generally known. As chroniclers of passing events we are bound to put on record the finale of the act, that any who may be disposed at any future period to re-enact the scenes, may know the unfortunate result.

On Wednesday, May 20th, Mr. Monsarrat was given to understand that he would be allowed to remain in Honolulu long enough to settle his affairs, and would for that purpose be granted his liberty on parole, which, however, was declined. A compromise of the affair which was most earnestly sought by his personal friends, being thus defeated by himself, it became necessary for His Majesty to sentence him, which was done at 2 o'clock on Thursday morning.—There were but two copies of the sentence, one of which was given to Mr. M. and the other kept as a record. It was very brief and simply sentenced the prisoner to perpetual banishment, not to return to this kingdom under penalty of death.

At half-past three o'clock, Thursday morning, Mr. Monsarrat was conducted by the Marshal and Sheriff and a guard of forty soldiers to the steamer, which had her steam up and ready for sea. On leaving the palace, Mr. M. was told that resistance on his part would be of no use, that the orders issued in regard to him were peremptory, and if any attempt to escape was made, he would have to be treated as a culprit. He assured those having charge of him that he had no idea of resisting, and would yield to the superior force placed over him.

The steamer, which had been armed with a twenty-four pounder and a guard of 15 soldiers, proceeded to the roadstead, to await the sailing of the "Yankee." The cannon on board was shotted, and orders had been given to approach the "Yankee" and order her to heave to. If this order was not obeyed, a shot was to be fired across her bows; and if this did not fetch her to, another shot was to be fired at her hull.—Captain Smith, however, had been advised not to make any resistance, but comply with whatever demands might be made on him by the government.

Owing to the want of wind, the steamer was obliged to return into the harbor and tow the "Yankee" out, during which Mr. Monsarrat was left in the King's large boat in charge of the Marshal and Sheriff. The bark sailed about noon and on reaching the outer buoy, the boat having Mr. M. pulled alongside and he stepped on board. On entering the cabin he protested in presence of Captain Smith and the agent, Mr. Mitchell, against being expelled from the kingdom by a superior force which he could not resist. He entirely exonerated Captain Smith and the owners of the vessel from all cause of future liability. He said, however, that he should not pay his passage over, whereupon Mr. Paris paid the captain eighty dollars for his passage.

We learn that His Majesty sent off one hundred dollars to be given to Mr. Monsarrat, that he might not say he was sent off without means. This he declined, however. In the cabin Mr. M. appeared quite overcome, especially when his friends left him and returned to port.

Thus has ended, at least for the present, this most unfortunate affair. It will teach a lesson to all who may hear of it, and it will be well if all lay its moral to heart.

DECREE OF BANISHMENT.

We, Kamehameha Fourth, by the Grace of God King of the Hawaiin Islands, to all to whom these presents shall come : Greeting :

Whereas, Marcus C. Monsarrat, a naturalized subject of this Kingdom, is guilty of having perpetrated a grevious injury to Ourselves and to Our Royal Family :

And whereas, Such injury is of such a character as, in our judgment, to authorise and require the expulsion of the said M. C. Monsarrat from Our Dominions, in order to the due vindication and preservation of our honor and dignity.

Now, therefore, Know ye, that We, in the exercise of the Power vested in Us by virtue of Our office as Sovereign of this Kingdom, and in accordance with the provisions of the Forty-fifth Article of the Constitution, do hereby order that the said Marcus C. Monsarratt be forthwith expelled from this kingdom; and he is hereby strictly prohibited, forever, from returning to any part of Our Dominions, under the penalty of Death.

Given under Our hand and the Great Seal of the Kingdom, at Our Palace of Honolulu, this twentieth day of May, A.D. 1857.

Kaahumanu.

What could have been Mr. Monsarrat's crime? what "grievous injury to Ourselves and to Our Royal Family" had he "perpetrated"? It is really most tantalizing that, not having perused the previous fyles of the Advertiser, we should be left in ignorance of the particulars of "this most unfortunate affair"—and are of course incapacitated from benefitting by the lesson, which its editor says it will teach to all who may hear of it, or of laying its moral to heart.

In the same number of the Advertiser we find the following obituary notice :—

Death of Wm. L. Lee.—His Honor William L. Lee, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, died at his residence, on Hotel Street, this morning (Thursday), at two o'clock, aged 36 years and three months. His disease was consumption. His death, which has been anticipated for some time, will be a heavy loss to our community and nation. He arrived in Honolulu October 12th, 1846.

Mr. Lee, we learn from an extended biographical sketch of his life in the Advertiser of the 11th June, was a native of the State of New York and a member of the legal profession in that State. He appears to have been universally and deservedly respected in the country of his adoption. His death and the necessity of appointing a successor to the important political and judicial offices held by him, elicited the following leader in the Advertiser of the 4th June. We give it in extenso, for we think its perusal will afford our readers an excellent idea of what its writer calls the "vital, working-part of the body-politic" of His Majesty Kamehameha's kingdom. The Advertiser says :—

The death of Wm. L. Lee leaves vacant the highest seat on the judicial bench of this kingdom, connected with which is the office of Chancellor. Article 86 of the Constitution unites these two offices and reads : "The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court shall be Chancellor of the Kingdom." These united may be considered as the most important trust in the gift of the King. The Chancellor is defined, in the English administration as "an officer invested with judicial powers, and particularly with the superintendence of all charters, letters, and other official writings of the Crown, that require to be solemnly authenticated. Hence this officer becomes the keeper of the great seal, and the highest officer of the Crown, and keeper of the king's conscience." The intent of the framers of our Constitution was to have such an officer here; but the office has not yet become so prominent as it is held in England. Still the advice and council of the Chancellor and Chief Justice is the highest here, and he is expected to give his opinion in all important matters of state.

The vacancy having occurred, the question now arises as to who will be the successor. This, of course, is a question which the public cannot settle; His Majesty alone has that right, and without attempting to influence in one way or the other, the important decision, perhaps a free, public discussion of the subject will be of good result.

The singularly opportune return of His Excellency, Elisha H. Allen, Minister of Finance, at the moment that enabled him to attend the funeral of the late Chief Justice, will, no doubt, aid his Majesty in the choice of a successor. We have good authority to believe that the office of Chief Justice, if not already settled on, will be tendered to Mr. Allen. He has had a long experience in the practice of the law, as well as a legislator in the U. S. Congress, and would carry to the bench the extensive knowledge acquired after thirty years forensic practice and observation, as well as a good degree of that respect which such an officer should command. There can be no question that as a lawyer he is well qualified for the highest judicial honors as well as Chancellor. But legal learning is not the only requisite demanded in the incumbent of this office. In the present transition state of the kingdom the Chief Justice should possess a knowledge of the native language, and more particularly of their manners and customs, which can only be acquired by freely and constantly conversing with them in their own dialect. This knowledge is necessary to a full and impartial decision in the many intricate law cases arising between foreigners and natives. The advanced age of Mr. A., however, renders his acquaintance with the native language quite impossible.

Aside from this, Mr. Allen's policy has generally been considered non-committal or indecisive, which, if carried into the decisions of the Supreme Court, would exercise any but a healthy influence. A bold, clear and decisive stand on all important questions, particularly in cases of precedent, has the prominent feature in the decisions of our late Chief Justice.

Judge Robertson, the present Associate Justice, has also been spoken of as a candidate for the vacancy. In legal research, study and experience Judge R. is as deficient as Mr. Allen is skilled. In most of the chamber decisions made by him, he has had the valuable aid of Judge Lee, and during Mr. Lee's absence, of Mr. Allen, which generally have given satisfaction. But still his experience has been limited, and left to his own resources and judgment, it is impossible to predict what degree of satisfaction would be given. Though deficient in the legal qualifications Mr. Allen possesses, his knowledge of the native language, habits and customs, renders him, so far as fitness for the native part of the office is concerned, superior to Mr. A. He, however, has unfortunately never been so popular, which has been owing in a measure to the want of a law education, and perhaps to the appearance of ambition on his part (though we cannot call it such), in his being pushed on by circumstances to occupy posts for which greater experience and learning have been always deemed requisite. The appointment of Mr. Allen would meet with general approval, while that of Judge Robertson, even as an ultimatum, would meet but partial.

Besides the above, other of our lawyers have been spoken of, but we suppose that the vacancy will be filled by one of the gentlemen named. The duties of the office, when properly executed, are laborious; and on this account its salary ($5000) has been made the highest in the kingdom, excepting only that of the King.

The late Chief Justice Lee, by the wisdom and impartiality of his decisions, has gained for the Supreme Court the highest respect, not only among foreigners residing here, but abroad. It is all important that this respect for the judiciary be maintained. A Chief Justice holds his office for life, subject only to removal on impeachment. An appointment is more easily made than revoked. Such appointment should be made not deliberately, and ought, if possible, to be one in which there would be an unanimous approval.

In case of the probable elevation of Mr. Allen to the Judicial Bench, the office of Minister of Finance, now held by him, will become vacant. There are many who believe that an entire reconstruction of the cabinet would be beneficial. Rotation in office, when not hasty nor made for trivial motives, produces a healthy state in governments or in corporations. The machinery of state easily rusts, and requires reburnishing. There is no doubt that an entire change in the cabinet would impart a healthy vigor to our state.

The appointment of Prince Lot to be Minister of Finance would meet public approval. Though young for such a trust, they have confidence that he possesses the latent qualifications, which time and experience only will mature.

The management of the Department of the Interior has long been an eye-sore to the kingdom. It is the vital, working-part of the body-politic and for years has been but half managed. This failing being evident, the bureau of public works was two or three years since partially cut off from it and thrown into the war office; but we doubt if the superintendent of it knows to which minister he is responsible. Without intending any disrespect towards the incumbent minister, whom ill health has incapaciated and whose former services deserve perhaps a pension, we must say that the public interests demand that the Department be placed under an active, vigorous and thorough statesman, who shall infuse into every subordinate branch of it a vitality which it has now lost.

Nor is there less need of change in the Department of Foreign Relations and that humbug Department of War. An occasional manifesto from the former gives token that life in it is not wholly extinct; but the slumbering drafts of French treaties and protocols, lying half moth-eaten in its alcoves, with the standing purpose of the French Emperor to maintain permanently in our port a vessel of war, however much it may be needed elsewhere, assure the public that a change here might work for their good. The idiosyncracy of years has wormed itself into every line, folio and document of the Department, till the idea of change in policy or purpose is as remote as the prospect of reaching the north pole.

The Department of Public Instruction, too, needs a renovation no less thorough than the other departments. And the intended return to the United States of its present head, which is talked of, will render it practicable, should changes be made in other departments.

We conclude our extracts with the following miscellaneous items, from the Advertiser of the 11th June :—

Chief Justice.—As was generally anticipated, His Ex. Elisha H. Allen, was on Thursday last appointed by this Majesty to fill the office of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, vacated by the death of Judge Lee. So far as we have heard the appointment gives general satisfaction, and under all the circumstances is the best that could have been made. Chief Justice Allen enters upon his duties with seven years acquaintance with our law and customs; and he possesses an unusual share of that public respect and confidence which the incumbent of that office should have.

☞ We have been requested by Judge Robertson to correct the statement made in our last issue that he received the legal advice of Mr. Allen, during Judge Lee's absence to the United States in 1855. The facts are these : Judge Lee, on his departure for the United States, thinking that Judge Robertson might need assistance on doubtful questions of law, made such arrangement as would secure Mr. Allen's advice if Judge R. should at any time wish to avail himself of it. It appears now that no such advice was solicited or given, and Judge R. certainly deserves all the credit which may attach to the decisions referred to.

Coolies.—The Privy Council, at a session held on the 1st day of June ordered, "That all Chinese Coolies found about the city having an honest means of livehood, shall be arrested as vagrants." Also, "That all Chinese Coolies found prowling about at unreasonable hours of the night shall be arrested and detained until the morning as suspected person." In accordance with the above wholesome ordinance, the sheriff has issued a notice that its provisions will be enforced, and that all coolies found out after 10 o'clock at night, will be arrested.

Theft.—A young mango tree in the yard of Mr. Dimond, which for first time had been filled with mangoes, was stripped of its choice fruit a few nights since, supposed to have been done by coolies. It is not so much the value of the fruit, flowers or birds frequently stolen, that causes annoyance, but the feeling of insecurity, and that after years of patient nurture of choice trees or flowers, and just at the moment their possesor hopes to enjoy his reward, a vandal can, during the night, rob him of the labor of years.

Attention, Company!—A splendid stand of colors, the gift of somebody—we don't know who—but suspect the ladies—was received, per Major Fanny, and is to be presented to the Honolulu Rifles, the coming week. The cost with standard, was near $200.

Molokai.—We learn that the natives on Molokai are making great preparations for their annual celebration, July, which they call Puali Inuwai. From all accounts, we judge that the celebration will surpass those of former year, and be well worth a visit from foreigners, who may wish to see that Island.

Lahaina, — by some good fortune, always stands ahead of the rest of our group, in the luxuries of tropical fruits. A correspondent writes: "The fig season has fairly commenced, and we are luxuriating with abundance of this luscious fruit. Our grapes are coming on also, but it needs the warm sun of June and July to give them that richness which makes them so near to perfection. The sweet potatoe crop also promises to be a much larger one than usual." By the way, we hear that Lahaina has become temporarily deserted of its foreign residents, all seeking a change ;—some have gone to California; some to Hawaii, some to Molokai, and quite a number will spend the summer in the cool slopes of Hale-a-ka-la. Can't we of Honolulu get up an excursion this summer. Who has charge of the steamer Pele?

The Annual Gathering of the Caledonian Society.—Yesterday the Grand Annual gathering and Prize Games of the Caledonian Society, favoured by delightful weather, went off very successfully in Guilbault's Gardens, which were laid out with great taste. The rich foliage of the trees, the luxuriant grass, diversified with wild flowers, and several pieces of statuary arranged in conspicuous positions, the gay dresses of the bonnie lasses and children, the splendid Highland costumes,—all this formed en ensemble at once picturesque and charming. About ten o'clock—the hour announced for the commencement of the games,—crowds of well-dressed people thronged the gardens, all apparently anxious to witness the athletic games and manly sports of the sons of "Auld Scotia." In the course of the day not less than 4,000 persons assembled in the gardens. The committee of management are deserving of all praise for their considerate kindness in erecting a commodious stand for ladies and children, and in their praiseworthy exertions to contribute to the comfort and amusement of the company. Mr. John Wood, the able and indefatigable Secretary of the Society, contributed in an eminent degree to the success of the various games. During the day the Band of the Montreal Field Battery of Artillery, under the able leadership of Mr. Nunn, played some sweet and enlivening Scottish airs. The strains of the bagpipes also added to the enjoyment of the company. Some of those who did not participate in the athletic games amused themselves in the mazy dance; and others in swinging and romping. Letters of apology were read from His Worship the Mayor, and several influential citizens, expressive of their regret at not being able to attend.

We should not omit to mention the impartial and able manner in which Messrs. John Boyd and James Penny discharged the duties of Judges, and that of Mr. David Mair, who acted as umpire.

The games terminated about seven o'clock, when the company began to disperse, having spent a most agreeable day. We give below a list of the successful competitors, with the prizes awarded :—

The next game in the programme was the best piper in Highland costume, but as there was no competitors the game did not come off.

SACK RACE.

Six competitors. Winner, William Bell. Prize 20s.

WHEEL-BARROW RACE.

Seven competitors. Winner, William Carson. Prize 20s.

With this ended the athletic games; but before concluding we may just remark that Christopher McRae, and A. N. Macpherson, of Glengary, were the champions of the day; the former having carried off two first and three second prizes; the latter two first and two second prizes.

With reference to the throwing the Light Hammer, which was won by A. N. Macpherson, it is only fair to state that had it not struck the fence the distance would have counted several feet further. At the Celtic games, lately held in Glasgow, the distance thrown was 101 feet, the hammer being 2 lbs. lighter than the one used by the Caledonian Society. Making allowance, then, for the difference of weight, this may be considered superior to the Glasgow throwing of the Light Hammer.

NEWS BY THE "ATLANTIC."

INDIA.

On the Centenary of Plassy, the Delhi mutineers had given out that they would fight all day, and they literally did so; they came out at 6 A. M., and fought till 7 P.M., leaving between 400 and 500 dead. We lost thirty killed and eighty wounded. They have upwards of fifty guns of large calibre in position, and fire them with great precision. It is believed by the authorities at Delhi that the mutineers muster 25,000. Our Europeans, up to the 23d of June, were little above 1,500, but by the 28th they would amount to about 5,000, and with them Barnard hoped to do it handsomely; but we are still without news beyond the 27th. Almost all the Dawks, except to Lahore, are cut off, and there have been no telegraphs for a long while. All the signallers were murdered at Indore, and that old faggot, Baiza-Chaee, is at the bottom of the Gwalior revolt, and she has been trying hard to incite the Kolapoor and Sattara people and the Deccan Sirdars. She is supposed to be worth two millions sterling, and to be sending her money in every direction. Captain Hungerford holds out in the fort at Mhow with his European company of artillery, but all his drivers have mutinied and gone off. There will be no more native drivers hereafter. What is to be done with all the officers of the late Bengal army no one can venture to suggest. I believe that by the end of the year we shall belong to her Majesty, and that possibly the armies of the three presidencies will be formed into one, so as to get Bombay and Madras troops to the north, to show what discipline is; otherwise Bengal will be filled with Europeans and natives employed for police only. We have deserved all that has come upon us for our unfaithfulness; and, if Lords Ellenborough and Lansdowne speak the voice of England, we shall lose India, and that deservedly.

THE MEXICAN TROUBLE WITH SPAIN.

(From the London News, August 18.)

It would, we venture to suggest, be useful if some independent member were to interrogate the government, before Parliament rises, on the state of relations between Spain and Mexico, and on the part which her Majesty's Ministers have taken in these affairs and are prepared to take in them; for, at present, a rupture and hostilities appear very imminent between the two States.

It is now some months since Mexico sent to Europe two diplomatists for the purpose of arranging two disputes—one with England arose out of an insult offered during a local pronunciamento and throat cutting in one of the Pacific ports of Mexico to an English Consul, and out of the destruction of his commercial property. The diplomatist sent for that purpose to London was General Almonte, and by him an arrangement was come to with Lord Clarendon without any great difficulty.

Very different has been the success of the mission of Senor Lafragua.

There are, it seems, some 40,000 Spaniards settled in the old Spanish colony. They are exceedingly unpopular, both with the government and the native races, Creole and Indian. The government has at this colony as a nuisance whence Spain hopes one day to regain dominion in Mexico. The consequence of this unpopularity is, that many atrocities and outrages have been perpetrated on the subjects of Queen Isabella resident in Mexico, and that their perpetrators have gone unpunished. As in duty bound, the government of Madrid has insisted on redress and punishment for the injuries thus criminally inflicted on the persons and property of Spaniards entitled to the protection of the laws in Mexico. But the government of Mexico, admitting its obligations, pleads the difficulties of its position, and the revolutionary state of the country.

The Spanish government, not undesirous on its part of having a quarrel with Mexico, insists on the government of that republic fulfilling its duties in a far more rigid manner than it is itself able to repress and punish crime in Spain, and chooses to regard the weakness of Mexico as a menacing power. On both sides there is, no doubt, a very great amount of insincerity, and very possibly but little real wish for accommodation.

The other cause of quarrel is pecuniary. The final separation of Mexico from Spain left many just and created several unjust claims by Spaniards on the government of the old colony. So long as Spain refuse to recognise the independance of Mexico these claims remained in abeyance; but, the independance acknowledged, the Court of Madrid pressed their payment on Mexico. A convention to provide for their liquidation was concluded. Under it claims to the extent of some three millons of dollars, were admitted, and bonds in respect of them issued by Mexico. This ought to have terminated the question. It did not. Succeeding governments in Mexico imputed fraud and forgery to nearly one half the claims so admitted, and repudiated payment. Against this repudiation Spain protested, threatened reprisals, and a rupture appearing imminent, Senor Lafragua was send by president Comonfort to Europe to arrange this and the other dispute, already described. The mission—Spanish and Mexican—with willingness to acknowledge the validity of all the bonds issued, but as added the determination of his government to expose and punish the authors of the fraudulent claims and vouchers.

Weeks were wasted in Paris on points of etiquette. At last the Mexican Envoy proceeded to Madrid. Spanish pride and Mexican sensitiveness, and suspicious, had brought matters to a stand still, when the mediation of England and France was offered, and understood to be accepted.

Notwithstanding the announcement that such was the case, Spanish preparations to seek redress by force went on. When in the course of every one, Senor Lafragua, about ten days ago, made known the fact that the Spanish government had suspended all negotiations with him; and he has in consequence placed Mexican subjects in Spain under the protection of France.

This rupture, although as yet one of diplomacy, is—considering the state of Spanish preparation at the Havana—a very serious, and in some respects an alarming state of things.

Our commerce with Mexico is small and declining, but such as it remains it must be protected. And any war waged by Spain on a large scale against Mexico, after the mediation of France and England has been offered, must be discouraged to the greatest possible extent.

The separation of Mexico from Spain has become a permanent fact in the world's history.—Neither England nor the United States can permit any blockade of the coasts of Mexico, or any revival of piracy in the Spanish Main.

THE VISIT OF THE EMPEROR OF FRANCE TO THE QUEEN OF ENGLAND, IN A RUSSIAN POINT OF VIEW.

(From Le Nord, (of Brussels,) Aug. 14.)

After stating that the recent visit of Louis Napoleon at Osborne was intimately connected with the difficulties resulting from the question of Turkey and the Principalities, the Nord has the following remarks :—

"We always shared the conviction that after the interview at Osborne the English-French alliance would in no manner be endangered.—Since the alliance exists, more than once incident has occurred to threaten its solidity, and each time we saw the Emperor Napoleon make efforts for strengthening it by opportune concessions.

These concessions were necessary, and England, perhaps, understood it but too well. Without them the English French alliance would at this hour be but an irritating remembrance. This alliance, in fact, has not for its basis an identity of interests between the two nations; it exclusively relies upon the wisdom of the two governments, which, in the interest of their individual policy and the maintenance of general peace, feel the necessity of making their efforts, by forming mutual intimate relations, to extenuate the effects of the real opposition which exists between the two countries—an opposition still heightened by national sentiments which are not rendered sympathetical by disagreeable remembrances.

The English-French alliance will, therefore, always be a political alliance; it will never become a national and popular one. The principles which modern science drew from the teachings of history, have shown us that the only lasting, sure and popular alliances are those which are founded upon political combinations, or upon family relations whose influence ceased to weigh upon the destiny of nations, than those which have for their basis the identity of interests, manners, spirit and sentiments."

MARKETS.

London Money Market, Tuesday Evening, August 18.—The remittances by the Magdelina, from the West Indies and Pacific, reach the sum of £275,653, which, with the £183,400 per Asia, from America, gives a present supply of say £470,000 to meet the purchases of silver on the continent. There is a sudden cessation today of business in the bullion market, the demand for the mail of the 20th being supplied. With the foregoing arrivals it is unlikely that there will be any great amount of bullion taken from the bank for some days to come, if then, as the Great Britain, from Melbourne, will, no doubt, arrive before the above £470,000 has absorbed. This vessel has upwards of £100,000 in gold on board, and other vessels cannot be far distant with about £300,000 more, so that there is little reason to apprehend any very severe pressure at present.

The East India Company have been lending money at 4½ per cent, and the financial agents of the Dutch government have been making advances out of the English portion of the sound dues redemption money. These operations prove a great assistance to the money market.

There have been some realizers of profits, and the result is that of the English funds are not so firm, although the character of the market has not altered. It appears sound and steady, and, probably, without some unforeseen event occurs to alter prices, there will not be any severe fluctuation for some time. There will not be another mail in from India before the next settlement, so that the market will be left much to itself, and at the present there is a decided pause in speculation, neither the bulls nor the bears operating largely. Consols opened to day at 91¾ to 91¾ for the account.

The operations in the foreign securities continue undistinguished by any special feature and quotations rule stead and quiet. Peruvians are firm at 81 to 88; Spanish are 40 to 40¼; Mexicans, 22 to 22¼; Turkish Six per Cents, 94¼ to 95.

Railway shares have been less firm to day, with not so much doing, but in general the aspect of the market is good, and prices are not unlikely to go better.

The disaster to the cable of the Atlantic telegraph has put a stop to business in the shares, which are now nominally at 300 discount. We believe that it is intended to convert them into stock as soon as the remaining £106 instalment has been paid. A £1000 share is preposterously a high figure, and can have no beneficial influences.

Closing Prices.—Four o'clock.—Consols, money, 91¾@91¼; do account, 91¼ @91¾.

Consols closed firmer after official hours, at 91¾@91¾. Indian shares scarcely so firm.—Money easy.

At Paris, on Thursday, the Three per Cents closed at 67f. 15c.

London Produce Market.—Wheat had slightly advanced in Mark lane, owing to the damage from the rain. Sugar dull and 6d@1s lower. Coffee also slightly cheaper. Tea and rice firm. Tallow declined to 64s@64s 6d.—Scotch pig iron 69s 6d. The colonial wool sales were progressing with animation, and prices were firmly maintained.

Liverpool Market, August 19, A.M.—Cotton—A better demaned has sprung up, and under the influence of the Asia's news prices of the current qualities of American are reported fully 1-16d per lb dearearer, the market closing buoyant at the advance. The business of the three days amounted to about 28,000 bales, including 8,000 equally divided between speculators and exporters.

Breadstuffs, under the influence of the recent severe storms and floods, had an advancing tendency, notwithstanding that the weather had become fine and dry, and favorable for the harvests. Flour was in good demand at an advance of 6d for Western canal. Wheat firm and holders demanding an advance of 1d@2d per bushel, which was not generally acceded to. Indian Corn very dull.

Provisions.—Messrs. Bigland, Athya & Co. say that the report of heavy shipments from America of beef had paralyzed the market, and prices were for the moment quite nominal.—Pork quiet and steady. Bacon dull and being reshipped to America. Lard quiet. Prime had sold at 73s. Tallow declining to 64s 6d@65s.

Produce.—Ashes quiet and rather lower; sale of both sorts at 42s. 6d. Rosin steady, spirits of turpentine lower, selling at 35s. Groceries quiet and generally unchanged.

Richardson, Spence & Co's Circular.

Liverpool, August 12, 1857.

Since Saturday the weather has been fine throughout the country, with fine drying winds. At Mark Lane yesterday wheats were 1s to 2s per quarter dearer on the week, owing to reports of injury to the crops in various parts of the country by the violent storms of Thursday night and Friday last. Here to day, with a fair attendance, holders demanded an advance of 1d to 2d per bushel, which could only be obtained in a few instances; towards the close a moderate business was done, at the fdll prices of Friday last. Good inquiry for flour, and Western were 5d per bbl dearer. Indian corn very dull. To-day's quotations are, wheat—red, 8s 4d to 8c 8d; white, 9s 4d to 10s. Flour—Philadelphia and Baltimore, 30s 6d to 31s 6d; extra Ohio, 32s 6d to 32s; Western, 31s to 31s 6d; extra, 32s. Indian corn, mixed and yellow, 30s to 37s; white, 45s to 45s 6d in retail, per 480 lbs.

Beef quiet and no transactions to report. Pork without change. Bacon—A further reshipment of 1,000 boxes is reported this week. Lard—70 tierces prime sold at 72s; fair to good 71s 6d@72s with small censumptive demand.

Tallow very changeable—64s 6d @65s with very little doing; in London its is down to 64s on the spot, and 60s for September delivery.

Bark.—Buyers offer only 14s for Philadelphia

THE SUGAR MARKET AT HOME AND ABROAD—LONDON SUGAR MARKET.

(From the European Times, August 15.)

Importers of foreign having manifested a stronger desire to sell than heretofore, offering liberal quantities by auction, which met only a limited demand, and that almost confined to the superior grocery qualities, prices have suffered a further important depression, grocery sorts being 1s., and gray and brown 2s. lower than last quoted.

West India—Although a reduction has been accented for British West India, yet purchases have been made with much caution in both refining and grocery descriptions.

Mauritus—Although a reduction of 1s@1s 6d per cwt. has been accented, yet private transactions have been small, and at auction sold, low to fine brown, at 49s 6d@51s; yellow 51s 6d@57s 6d.; grainy 58s@60s., and good to fine refining 55s@57s per cwt. Last year at this period rates were from 36s@48s., and grainy 48s@53s.

East India—Native Madras is neglected; brown can be bought at 32s@44s., and yellow 44s 6d@47s., being under previous prices. In grocery and grainy purchases have been made at 50s to 58s. Although white Benares and grainy Bengal are in small supply, still last week's rates are not obtainable, and purchases privately have been trifling, the former at 47s @51s, and the latter at 57s@60s for yellow. Date difficult of disposal, and at auction sold at 55s@56s 6d. for fine, whilst middling was taken at 42s per cwt. Of Penang none offered in public sale, and privately scarcely any business transacted, previous rates not being obtainable.

Refined—Although reduced prices have been accepted, yet purchasers in refined sugar by the home trade are much under the previous week. Brown lumps have been sold at 62s, low to fine grocery 64s to 66s 6d, tillers 64s to 67s, Hambro loaves 65s to 69s and wet lumps 61s to 62s per cwt. Prices have been less in request, and a decline submitted to, common to fine selling at 59s to 60s. In Bastards only small transactions and prices lowering, ruling at 47s to 55s. Several parcels of crushed sugar have been taken for exportation; the rates accepted are, however, 49s to 50s for British, and 46s to 48s for Dutch.

Foreign—Supply much exceeds demand, and a reduction of last week's rates of 1s per cwt. has been accepted, and 1s
