Old political standby tight money issue enters campaign

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The tight money issue—that old standby of Canadian politics—has been revived as the election campaign enters its final week.

Conservative Leader Diefenbaker told Nova Scotia rallies Saturday that Finance Minister Gordon is reported ready to introduce tight money measures after next Monday's vote.

 Advance poll is varied

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Turnout Saturday at advance polls for the Nov. 8 general election ranged from light to heavy in major centres across Canada.

A Canadian Press survey showed Carleton riding in Ottawa probably had the heaviest turnout with about 700 casting ballots. Lighter voting is expected today as persons planning to be out of town election day select their choice of candidate.

Results of the advance polls will not be available until next Monday night when all regular polls close.

Charles H. Daw, returning officer for Toronto—Danforth, only official available Sunday night in Metropolitan Toronto constituencies, said activity Saturday at the seven advance polls in his riding was "very active." The polls will be open again today.

"At one poll, 37 persons voted Saturday compared with 49 during the two days of the advance poll in 1963," he said.

Other major centres gave this picture of Saturday's voting: St. John's—Light, with only 20 voting.

Halifax—No figures available, but an official said the turnout was medium.

Creditiste Leader Caouette said in Montreal that if the Liberals are re-elected, they will impose credit restrictions that will hurt small businessmen.

Meanwhile, Prime Minister Pearson was predicting in Vancouver that his party will win "a few more" seats than the 143 total forecast by Southam News Services. The Liberals had 129 seats in the last Parliament, six short of a majority.

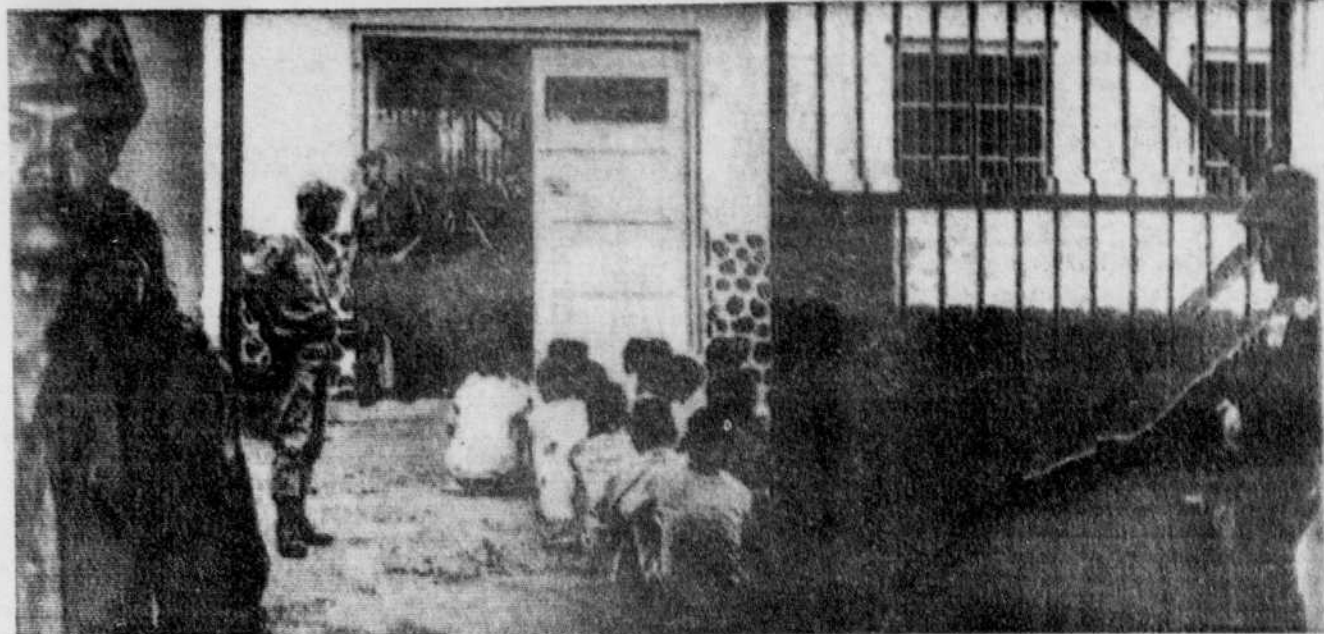

New Democratic Leader Douglas said in Burnaby, B.C., he would not join a coalition government but would be ready to support any minority government that agreed to implement the NDP's promises.

Social Credit Leader Thompson said in Hamilton that Mr. Pearson is trying to "stampede" the people into voting Liberal by saying that another election would soon be inevitable if the government failed to get a majority.

PEARSON 'FLOUNDERING'
Mr. Diefenbaker told 850 persons in Digby, N.S., Saturday night that the Pearson government is "floundering from chaos to chaos."

He said imports are rising sharply and the government soon would be in a difficult financial position. This was one of the reasons an election had been called at this time.

At an afternoon rally attended by 1,100 in Yarmouth, N.S., Mr. Diefenbaker said tight money would be "a policy of disaster," paralyzing business and boosting living costs.

INDONESIAN COMMUNISTS DETAINED — Captured members of the youth wing of the Indonesian Communist Party sit on the ground after being delivered to a prison in Jakarta Saturday. Indonesian communists reportedly are being taken by the army following the abortive coup, Oct. 1, against the Sukarno government.

Quebec children hit by cars

Riot, deaths mar Halloween

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

A riot by 400 screaming, rock-throwing teenagers in White Rock, B.C., two deaths in Quebec, scores of injuries and some vandalism marred Halloween night.

Halloween was generally celebrated a day early this year, leaving Sunday to recuperate for All Saints' Day today in Quebec. And police had their hands full.

The White Rock, B.C., incident was touched off when a group of youths in the U.S. border resort community stole four wooden bicycle racks from a school and blocked off a road. The crowd swelled. Youths piled lumber, hurled gasoline-filled bottles and set the barricades ablaze.

When police moved in the riot - throwing began. Several policemen suffered minor injuries and a fire truck and patrol car were badly dented by rocks. One youth and a juvenile were arrested.

Elsewhere in B.C., rain, a ban on firecrackers and a host of teen-age parties sponsored by community groups served to halt much of the usual vandalism.

In Leggettville, N.B., blazing roadblocks caused accidents resulting in minor injuries to car drivers and in Woodstock, N.B., rowdism resulted in 24 youths facing court charges for speeding, illegal possession of alcohol, throwing firecrackers, littering streets and one charge of placing a false fire alarm.

In Quebec, two costumed children were struck and killed by cars. In Toronto, three children were injured in separate accidents involving cars.

A Berwick, N.S. boy was severely burned when firecrackers exploded in his pocket and in Jasper, Alta., one person received bad burns after a sky-rocket set fire to a box of fireworks.

Police in Eastview, Ont., sought the person responsible for giving away apples with pins buried in them, and in Orillia, Ont., bottle caps, buttons and 22-calibre cartridge shells were mixed in bags of popcorn.

In Halifax, vandals were blamed for the cancellation of a television variety show at the Atlantic Winter Fair when it was found a nail had been driven into a transformer at the back of a loudspeaker. A slaughterhouse was burned in the Annapolis Valley community of Aylesford.

Provincial Transport and Sherbrooke Transit buses were operating as usual with little or no delays although some roads were reported icy.

Route No. 1 between South Stukely was very slippery but plows had cleared the ET Autoroute of snow and had spread sand making driving conditions very good.

As much as two inches of snow covered the Knowlton area last night where winds were very gusty. At the Sherbrooke Airport near East Angus less than an inch of snow was recorded over night and winds this morning blew west between 22 and 30 miles per hour.

Rain falling Saturday and Sunday totalled 21 inches, an experimental farm official reported.

Wintery scene greets November in Townships

November has opened the same way October closed: with snow.

Snow began falling at 5 o'clock this morning when temperatures had fallen to 30 degrees so that by 8 a.m. 3/4 of an inch had sprinkled the ground. Winds at 8 a.m. were recorded westerly at 20 miles per hour, the Lennoxville Experimental Farm reported.

Reds control Java areas

Indonesian fight spreads to north in 'civil war'

JAKARTA (CP) — Fighting between armed bands of Communist rebels and religious groups has spread to northern Celebes, the official Antara news agency reported today.

The report followed news of a fierce struggle raging in central Java where armed Communists were reported in control of vast regions. Third Deputy Premier Chaerul Saleh has described the situation as civil war.

Indonesia's Communists are strongest in central Java. Many fled there from Jakarta after the abortive Oct. 1 coup.

Police patrols in northern Celebes today hunted down Communists who had fled into the jungles. Antara said a Christian was stabbed to death in church at Tondano and two local civil defence members were killed in a battle with Communists at Tandengan.

The agency also reported army troops in Minabaha, another part of northern Celebes, had rounded up suspects believed involved in the coup attempt.

They seized Communist documents exposing a plan to drop 50,000 weapons from foreign sources, Antara said.

TERRORISM INCREASES
The military commander in central Java said today terrorism by young Communists is becoming "increasingly serious" around Surakarta.

Martial law was proclaimed last Tuesday in central Java. In Bojoli, the district army commander said the death toll in the city reached 250 last month.

Further news of the army's anti-Communist drive came from east Java where several party leaders were reported captured and in west Java, 100 party members have been arrested on suspicion of complicity in the Oct. 1 plot.

Wilson hopeful for Rhodesian settlement

LONDON (CP) — British Prime Minister Wilson says he believes a Rhodesian settlement is possible. But Rhodesia's two leading African nationalist leaders have rejected plans for a commission to work out a settlement.

Wilson returned Sunday night from talks in Rhodesia to report to Parliament today on the agreement he reached with Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith to set up a three-man royal commission which will seek a formula for conditions under which the self-governing central African colony could be granted independence.

Wilson and Smith have not yet agreed on the ground rules for the commission nor on ways to change the 1961 constitution to make it acceptable to both sides.

However, the British leader said the agreement to set up the commission has created conditions "in which the terrible disaster which I believe, was imminent this weekend, can be averted."

Wilson went to Rhodesia after the colony's ruling white minority threatened to declare independence without yielding to British demands for guarantees promising eventual rule to the colony's 4,000,000 Negroes.

 Smith seeks way around

SALISBURY (AP) — Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith today searched for a way around his disagreement with British Prime Minister Wilson on the terms of a royal commission which, it is hoped, will solve Rhodesia's independence crisis.

The royal commission would decide whether the present constitution would be accepted, with some adjustments, by all Rhodesians for independence.

Wilson and Smith have agreed on a royal commission but not on the adjustments or the conditions under which the commission would operate.

Wilson's Commonwealth secretary, Arthur Bottomley, said before leaving Salisbury Sunday talks would continue through official channels.

Bottomley left a day after Wilson, who had flown to Salisbury to lead a new British bid to solve the Rhodesian crisis.

Klan head shoots self after story he's a Jew

READING, Pa. (AP)—Daniel Burros, New York Ku Klux Klan leader, shot himself to death minutes after learning his Jewish origin had been made public, a fellow klansman told police.

Burros, 38, died of two bullet wounds Sunday shortly after he had read a New York Times story detailing his long-hidden background.

The shooting was in the apartment of Roy E. Frankhouser Jr., 25, named by the House of Representatives Committee on Un-American Activities as grand dragon of the Pennsylvania Ku Klux Klan.

Frankhouser told police that Burros, after reading the Times story Sunday, said he had to go to New York to "wipe out" the Times' reporter who had disclosed his secret and said he also would "wipe out" the newspaper staff.

Burros' death was listed by police as apparently suicide.

China row

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—The leading boosters of Communist China for UN membership are reported split over what to propose to the General Assembly.

Diplomatic sources said the division had developed among the 11 delegations that got the 117-nation assembly to agree to debate an item calling for "restoration of the lawful rights of the People's Republic of China in the United Nations."

They said Cambodia suggested a resolution proposing to seat Communist China on all UN bodies without expelling Nationalist China.

Albania, Communist China's chief ally in its feud with the Soviet Union, urged that the resolution call for expulsion of the Chinese Nationalists in favor of the Communists and meet some of Communist China's other conditions for joining the UN.

300 flee fire

DEDHAM, Mass. (AP)—A brush and woods fire, swept along by chill, gusty winds, drove more than 300 persons from their homes here early today, burning five houses and scorching at least 10 others.

A second fire broke out in the Quincy House student dormitory at Harvard University in Cambridge, Mass., driving 400 students into the street.

No injuries were reported in either fire.

Get Klan papers

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The FBI and Mississippi police officers now have top-secret documents of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, including a virtual guerrilla warfare order, a Memphis newspaper reports. The Commercial Appeal, in a front-page article, says one document is an executive order of secretive White Knights that would be disclosed by the UN.

American activities committee of the House of Representatives, White Knights—as distinguished from their less secretive brethren—the United Klans of America, are strongest in south Mississippi, from Natchez to Laurel, where they have five klaverns and their chieftain is Samuel Bowers, a coin-machine distributor.

70 die in Canada

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

At least 70 persons died accidentally in Canada during the weekend, 47 of them in traffic mishaps including two costumed children making Halloween rounds in Quebec.

Despite the near-winter season, there were 13 drownings across the country, three fire deaths, a hunting fatality and six unclassified deaths in a Canadian Press survey from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday, local times.

Quebec reported 31 fatalities—20 in traffic, seven drownings, one fire death and three deaths in tractor accidents.

US bombers destroy Viet Nam missile site, bridge

KILLED IN 'HUMAN WAVE' ASSAULT — Marines look over the bodies of Viet Cong guerrillas killed Saturday in a "human wave" assault on the marines' position 10 miles southwest of Da Nang, South Viet Nam. Saigon (AP) — Battling their way through heavy missile and conventional anti-aircraft fire, U.S. planes hit three surface-to-air missile launching sites Sunday about 35 miles northeast of Hanoi, a U.S. military spokesman said.

One U.S. Navy plane was shot down and the pilot listed missing.

Pilots reported they counted 17 missiles fired at them during the attack. They said they observed hits on launchers and vehicles in the target areas of all three installations.

The action over the missile area was the heaviest so far disclosed in the air war against North Viet Nam.

The air force planes dropped 19 tons of 500- and 750-pound bombs and fired thousands of rounds of 20-millimetre cannon fire on the missile installations they hit, the spokesman said.

While the missile installations still were under attack, navy pilots bombed a bridge guarded by the missiles. Then a second flight of navy planes also hit the bridge.

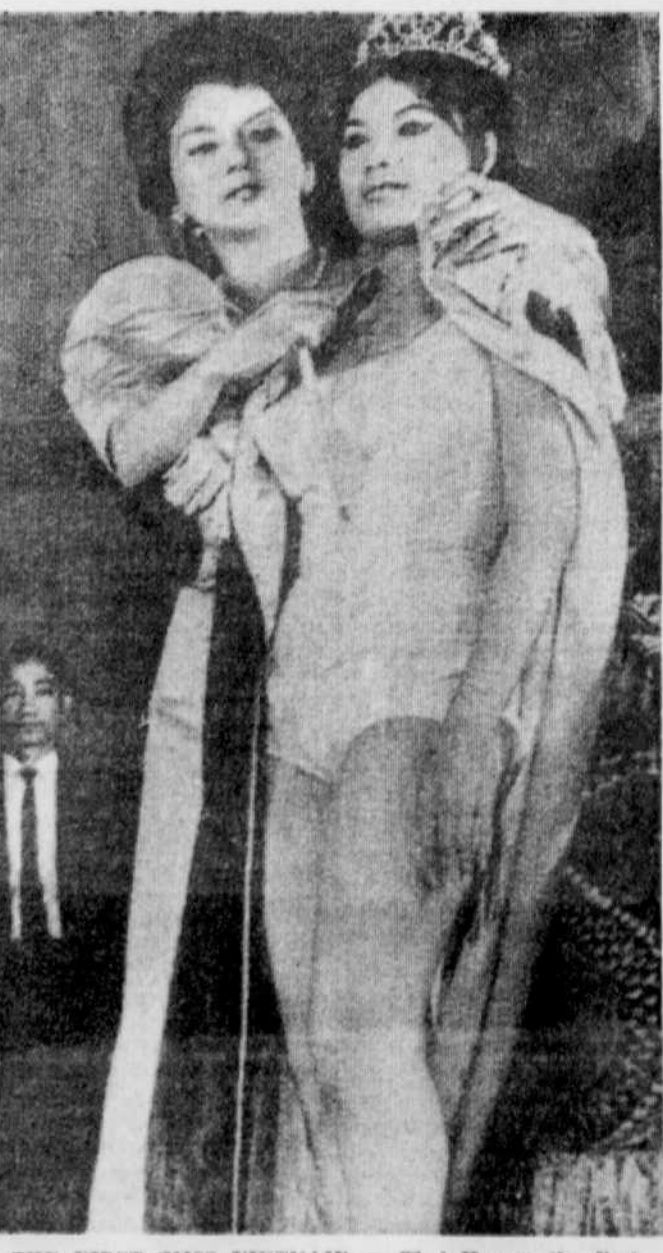

In all, 21 tons of bombs were dropped on the bridge, knocking all spans into the water.

Six U.S. planes are believed to have been shot down earlier by missiles installed by the Russians in North Viet Nam.

Permanent missile launching sites have been installed at several points around Hanoi and Haiphong, North Viet Nam's chief port. A number of mobile launchers also are operating.

U.S. forces have reported three previous attacks on mobile missile units. Navy pilots said they left a missile, launchers and trucks in flames 52 miles northwest of Hanoi.

Wrong directions from the South Vietnamese were blamed for a weekend U.S. air attack that killed 48 civilians and wounded 55 others in a friendly village.

THE FIRST 'MISS VIETNAM' — Thai Huong, the first "Miss Vietnam," gets help with her cape by Mrs. Morena Salcedo following the contest in Saigon. Beebe Institute arranges for county meeting

BEEBE — The meeting of the Women's Institute was held on Oct. 21 at the Beebe school, with a change of date due to the 50th anniversary of the Stanstead County Institute.

Nov. 3 was the date set for the county meeting, due to the teacher's convention. Mrs. Marion Buckland, Orleans County Home Demonstration Agent, and a representative group of her leaders have been invited to be guests of the Beebe Women's Institute at the county meeting. Mrs. Brevoort, home economics convener presented for approval the menu she planned for the county meeting.

It was decided to hold a Chinese auction at the county meeting, with all members asked to donate small articles for the auction.

Mrs. Woodard gave an interesting report concerning the delegation of 82 W.I. ladies from Ontario, who toured Border points of interest.

A motion was made to again furnish prizes for the Beebe Elementary School. The annual donation of $10 is to be sent to the service fund.

Plans were made for a card party, with the proceeds to be donated to the Dixville Home for Retarded Children.

Rules for a tea contest were read and members were urged to compete.

The citizenship convener, Mrs. Little, spoke on the benefits of UNICEF and showed the catalogue of UNICEF cards.

The education convener, Mrs. Mosher, told of the free lessons in French being given in Lennoxville and Stanstead on Monday and Wednesday evenings 7.30 - 9.30.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Little, who presented an interesting quiz on Canada, which was very amusing.

A hearty welcome was extended to Mrs. Norman Hayward. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. B. Labrec and Mrs. H. Emslie.

HIGHWATER

Mr. and Mrs. R. Aubrey and family, Iberville, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilkins.

Mr. and Mrs. John Porter, Waterloo, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. Clark.

Mr. Fred Aiken is a patient in the B.M.P. Hospital, Sweetburg.

Recent callers of Mrs. Kate Bailey were Mrs. Eva Sawyer and Mrs. Lem Clark, Sherbrooke.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

JACOBY'S URGE LIMIT RAISES

This week's series will discuss limit raises and specifically the use of the jump raise to three of partner's opening suit bid to show a good hand that is not quite strong enough for a game force. In other words a hand with 11 or 12 points in support of partner's opening bid.

The bidding in the box shows this limit raise at its best. North the way we all changed and decided that the hand that was almost worth a game raise should be bid indirectly. Thus North would respond two clubs rather than three spades and a game would eventually be reached.

There is one difference which is one reason why the Jacobys have decided to use limit raises again.

If North responds two clubs, East is quite likely to get into the bidding with two diamonds. After all he is not painted on his chair. West might try a diamond raise and East might wind up sacrificing at five diamonds. He wouldn't make the contract, but he would be down only two tricks and would save game and rubber.

Instead of bidding four spades your partner bids four clubs over your three spade call. What do you do now?

On Oct. 21, Mrs. Warren gave a tea in honor of Miss Phyllis Felson, Sutton, on the occasion of her birthday. Members of the sculpting class, which Miss Felson taught at the Cowansville Art Centre, attended and presented the guest of honor with a gift, to use on her trip to Madeira next month.

Mr. J. Teal, Beaufort, was a recent guest of Mrs. Annie Manson and Mrs. L. M. Doherty. In the evening, the Doherty families gathered at Mrs. Manson's to view interesting slides of Mr. Teal's trip to South Africa, and spent an enjoyable evening.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Selby were Mr. and Mrs. Roch Allaire, Quebec City. Mr. Selby was host to the Roch Fishing Club. The wives also attended and an enjoyable evening was spent playing cards. Other guests at the same home included Mrs. Warren Johnson and Mrs. John Hogan, Cowansville, and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Semple, of Montreal.

Mrs. Geoffrey Doherty was pleasantly surprised on Oct. 23, when her fellow members of the Cowansville teaching staff, entertained at a tea in her honor at which time they presented her with a baby carriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Knowles and four children, Trenholm, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bracey, Mr. Hubert Bracey, Montreal, who had been a guest of his parents, for a few days, has returned home.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Honey West may change all that non-sense that a woman's place is in the home. She's the swinging gal in television.

The television female, usually vicarious thrill watching restricted to apron-wearing ma- trons or sunny Miss Fixits, is getting a new image this season in the admirable form of Anne Francis. As the star of ABC's Honey West, she serves up judo chops instead of light suppers.

The show has come in for its own share of lumps, some critics finding the plots wildly improbable, with action, intrigue and drama crammed into a too-fast 26 minutes. But the series appears to be holding its own against the potent Gomer Pyle in the ratings.

Miss Francis, a 33-year veteran of the film studios, thinks Honey West has a lot going for it.

U.C.W. meets at Melbourne Ridge

MELBOURNE RIDGE — The United Church Women met at the home of Mrs. George Johnston on Oct. 21 with one visitor.

Mrs. K. Barrie was in charge of the devotional period and read a poem entitled, The Tongue.

Mrs. G. Beers, the president, read an item from the clip sheet. She also thanked all those who had assisted in any way to make the chicken pie supper such a success.

Community Friendship reported 53 cards, 25 hospital calls and five house calls.

Mrs. S. Johnston read a portion from the study book on Trinidad.

Members are asked to bring good used clothing to the next meeting to be packed in a mission box.

Mrs. S. Johnston gave a report on the U.C.W. Rally held in Danville. Several people, who have been in hospital, are to be remembered with gifts.

The next meeting is to be held on Nov. 11 at the home of Mrs. S. Johnston.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Margaret.

Pianist performs tomorrow

Grant Johannesen, well-known concert pianist, will appear at the University of Sherbrooke Auditorium, Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. in the first of the Sherbrooke Community Concerts.

Mr. Johannesen will play two Sonatas by Prokofiev and Beethoven, Images-Book II by Debussy and Twenty-four preludes by Chopin.

Mr. Johannesen is a native of Salt Lake City, and received his formal training there.

At eighteen, he continued his work in New York City, then went to Europe to further his studies on a scholarship.

He has appeared in concerts all over the world, and possibly his greatest triumph was recorded in Russia, where he received one of the highest plaques ever accorded a visiting artist.

In Moscow, Police had to erect metal barriers to contain the crowds who couldn't get into the Moscow Conservatory; the 1500 concertgoers who did get in, gave pianist Johannesen, six curtain calls for his performance.

R. C. BOARD FREE RIDE CARD Student transport problem is solved by system of passes

By BARBARA STEVENSON
(Record staff reported)

With snow falling already, students rely on bus travel more and more. A look at Sherbrooke student bus travel shows some changes from last year's system.

Besides the usual identification cards issued by Sherbrooke Transit Inc. this year, school boards are issuing passes allowing students living over a mile from school but within Sherbrooke city limits to travel by bus free.

Today is the day identification cards come into effect for students aged 12 and 17 years inclusive. This will permit students to travel between home and school on regular city buses on the children's rate, four tokens for 25 cents.

After this date, students not showing their cards will be requested to pay adult fare, committor of Sherbrooke Transit Henri Labonne explained.

The cream-colored cards are distributed to students through their schools. They are covered in plastic and contain the student's name, address, photo and card number.

Another identification card, this one white, is available for students travelling between Sherbrooke and points outside Sherbrooke. This is only for travel between home and school.

This white card has not been issued to any students this year as there has been no demand yet, Mr. Labonne said. It would only be used by students who are not transported by a rural school bus contracted for by a Sherbrooke school or by students attending a Sherbrooke school which is not under a school board issuing free passes.

With this card a student could ride a Sherbrooke Transit bus on reduced rates. The student must be between the ages 12 and 17 inclusive and travel between 7 a.m. and 6 p.m. inclusive. The card is not valid on Sherbrooke Transit buses, that is buses travelling only within city limits.

Besides these two identification cards, Sherbrooke Catholic and Protestant School Boards are issuing passes allowing students who live more than one mile from school, but still within city limits, to travel free on city buses.

Due to a provincial law amendment, school boards may obtain a government grant to pay about 75 per cent of the cost involved in transporting students living over a mile away to school in the morning and afternoon.

The school board issues the passes to students in their schools and sends a list of students and addresses to Sherbrooke Transit who then determine whether there are enough such students living in an area to warrant scheduling a special bus.

If a special bus is set up it is marked with the school name. Students with passes from their school board travel on this bus free. The pass is not valid on any other city bus.

But if only a small number of students live in an area more than a mile from the school, a special bus is not set up and they travel free on regular busses by showing their pass.

The Eastern Townships Roman Catholic School Board students began using yellow passes Oct. 21 under this plan. Sherbrooke Catholic School Board students will travel the same way beginning next week and using a blue pass.

The Sherbrooke Protestant School Board students will use a blue pass beginning in the latter part of November; and the Eastern Townships Protestant Regional School Board next September.

At Bishop's One-act plays are analyzed

Three one-act plays presented by the Bishop's University Dramatics Society received their final performances Saturday evening before an appreciative audience in the Memorial Gymnasium on the Lennoxville campus.

Following the third and last performances Saturday, Prof. Arthur Motyer, Bishop's Director of Drama, presented a public adjudication of the student productions.

Particular praise was given to N. F. Simpson's The Hole, directed by Bill Ballantyne. Prof. Motyer noted that this play, representative of the absurdist school of playwriting, demanded a performance which would maintain the audience's amusement and interest even where they could not understand its meaning. Such a performance, he said, it had received.

The play centres around varying interpretations of the contents of a hole in the street. One interpretation is that of the Visionary, which the adjudicator said had been excellently played by Neil Carver.

PRAISES CAST

Prof. Motyer also had praise for other male members of the cast. David Ando, as Cerebro, was lauded for the sense of comic timing, the clear and expressive speech, and the polished gestures, which all contributed to a most amusing performance. Bill Ballantyne, as Endo, had also mastered the comic possibilities of his role. Will Webster, as Soma, presented a good contrast to the other two, although he was judged to be too much involved in his character to achieve the humor that the others had presented.

Prof. Motyer said that Brigid Marland, as Mrs. Meso, and Kathy Gordon, as Ecto, had also contributed to the comic dimension of the play, adding that they perhaps failed to project themselves as well as they might have.

The adjudicator noted that blocking had been, on the whole, inventive and effective; the pace had been, for the most part, sufficiently brisk; and the set had been appropriately simple.

The second play produced by the students, Norman McKinnell's The Bishop's Candlesticks, directed by Steve St. Clair and Steve Trew, was a more conventional drama in which a beleaguered convict is aided by a good bishop of the French Catholic Church. As Prof. Motyer told the Saturday night audience, this play is so simple and unsuited to demand a full measure of sincerity and strength from its performers. This it was not always given.

CONVICT POLISHED

John McIlmurray, as the convict, gave the sort of polished performance expected of an actor of his experience and ability, although he failed to make his audience emotionally moved by his account of the convict's sad life story. Fred Buttner, playing the Bishop, spoke clearly but not entirely convincingly, and at times seemed almost too pious and morally good to be believable.

Prof. Motyer also said that Susan Mills, as the Bishop's sister Persome, gave a reasonable performance, although failing to appear as elderly as the role demanded. Brenda Fleet, as Marie, was amusing but perhaps lacked adequate control.

Rand workers Members of eye safety club

Three Canadian Ingersoll-Rand Co. Workers have won membership to the Wise Owl Club of Canada sponsored by the Canadian National Institute for the Blind for the conscientious use of safety eye wear.

They are Claude Despres, William Leckie and Alain Turcotte all who worked off tragedy in an on-the-job accident. Mr. Despres struck his face on a piece of steel extending over a table as he was bending down, but he was wearing safety glasses and no eye injury resulted. Mr. Leckie while grinding had his safety glasses shattered by a chip which flew off the cutting machine.

Mr. Turcotte's right lens of his safety glasses were struck by a shaving while he was facing a rough surface.

None of the men received damage to their eyes.

Membership in the Wise Owl Club of Canada is made up exclusively of industrial employees and technical students who have saved one or both eyes by wearing eye protection. Today 1,500 people in 550 firms across Canada belong to the club.

Competition faces Canadian wheat

The immediate benefits of the huge wheat sales to Russia and China on the Canadian economy cannot be denied. But it would be unwise for Canadians to bask in the belief that they have a long-term ready-made market for surplus wheat in the two Communist nations.

Competition, which has been held down by natural and political conditions in the major wheat-producing nations, may be intensified for future orders as some countries experience improved crops and others, especially the United States, abolish the political barriers to Communist wheat sales.

Washington reports indicate that President Johnson will soon remove the main obstacle to Soviet wheat sales — the requirement that half the grain shall be carried in American ships.

This condition was imposed by President Kennedy in 1963 to meet the demand of U.S. maritime unions. Since then the Russians have objected to American vessels transporting their wheat because seamen's high wages make the freight charges too expensive.

But, according to information from Washington, the seamen's lobby is being outshouted by a growing clamor from farmers and others for a share in this lucrative trade — trade with Russia and its Eastern European satellites. No one in Washington has been rash enough, as yet, to talk very loudly of trading with Communist China.

The only bar to immediate action by Mr. Johnson reportedly is concern over the attitude of the longshoremen who have repeatedly declared they will refuse to handle grain shipments to Russia.

If this problem can be overcome, the United States could provide Canada with strong competition in grain exports, even if world demand in general and Russian demand in particular remain heavy.

Canadians must be prepared to adopt an elastic policy, ignoring the complacent assumption that because they are making large sales to the Soviets they have a captive market.

Election Act bans need revision

In their enthusiasm for supporting the candidate of their choice, thousands of zealous Canadians unwittingly may break the law in the two-day period preceding election day.

Most party supporters have learned over the years that the wearing of party badges is forbidden on election day itself. But few are aware that the prohibition applies to the 48-hour period preceding the voting day.

Thus to observe the law strictly, those "Mike" and "Dief" badges should be hidden away carefully in the very early hours of Saturday morning.

This is one of the anomalies of the Election Act that requires revision immediately after the new House meets.

Other stupid sections include the prohibition on political broadcasting for a period of 48 hours before any election. As worded the ban does not apply only to federal votes, where it may make some sense, but to provincial and municipal votes held during a federal campaign.

Technically, a civic election held in Ascot Corner two weeks prior to a federal election would force the major radio and television stations in the district to ban all political broadcasts for a period of three days in the midst of a federal campaign.

Churchill home to remain British

Something resembling a sigh of relief will be forthcoming at the announcement that a British businessman, Samuel Leonard Simpson, has purchased the London house where Sir Winston Churchill lived for 20 years and died.

Mr. Simpson indicated that he would either live in the house or establish it as a national shrine, probably both in that respective order.

The announcement some time ago that the residence of the wartime Prime Minister would be sold by auction raised fears that the house would be bought by American interests who planned to dismantle it and transfer it brick-by-brick for re-assembly in the United States, probably as some sort of a museum.

The Americans have an almost maudlin affection for the late Sir Winston. Recently they bought the railway car that carried Churchill's body on the day of the funeral.

It will be filled with pieces of Churchill memorabilia and opened to the public in a small park in California.

The chairman of the state-owned British Railways protested loss of the car to the United States but admitted that had it not been purchased by Americans, it was slated for the junkyard.

Fortunately such a fate will not meet the house at 28 Hyde Park Gate into which the British leader moved during the war when part of it was used for his secretaries and servants. The building is of unique historic value.

No one begrudges the Americans their interest in Sir Winston. He belonged to a large part of the world. But he belonged first to England and it is gratifying that the house in which he lived should remain on British soil.

Death penalty God's order in Genesis

The impending vote in Parliament on capital punishment can be based on a single consideration.

Capital punishment is not a question of its deterrent value, nor on the degrees of murder, nor the method of execution, nor the morals and ethics of that method, nor sentiment, nor sympathy for the bereaved, nor the loss to society of the victim, nor the salvage of the murderer, nor even the remote possibility of executing an innocent man.

But, the death penalty for murder is a 'Yes' or 'No' to the clear, original directive given universally to human Government by God: "WHOSOEVER SHEDDETH MAN'S BLOOD, BY MAN SHALL HIS BLOOD BE SHED." Genesis 9:6.

This command was issued to a remnant which survived a Flood sent to wipe out a corrupt violent race. It was a second start for man.

origin, early growth and laws of the Hebrew people by hundreds of years.

On the issue of morals and ethics, abolitionists have almost unanimously confused personal relationships with Governmental justice against lawbreakers.

Both the personal moral guide and the Governmental code are given in one passage in Romans, chap. 12: verse 13 to chap. 13: verse 7. "Love your enemy" personally, but, use the sword, of government, judicially, to execute vengeance on evil doers, for the powers that be, the Government, are ordained by God, and are authorized by Him to take life for life.

While both retentionists and abolitionists bring in any number of arguments, for and against, God gives just one reason for His statute: "Whosoever sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed: FOR IN THE IMAGE OF GOD MADE HE MAN." Gen. 9:6.

To discontinue the death penalty is to flatly contradict the Divine law, to reject it, to annul it in our society. How can an abolitionist consistently pray to God for help, blessing and protection when he is at war with Him?

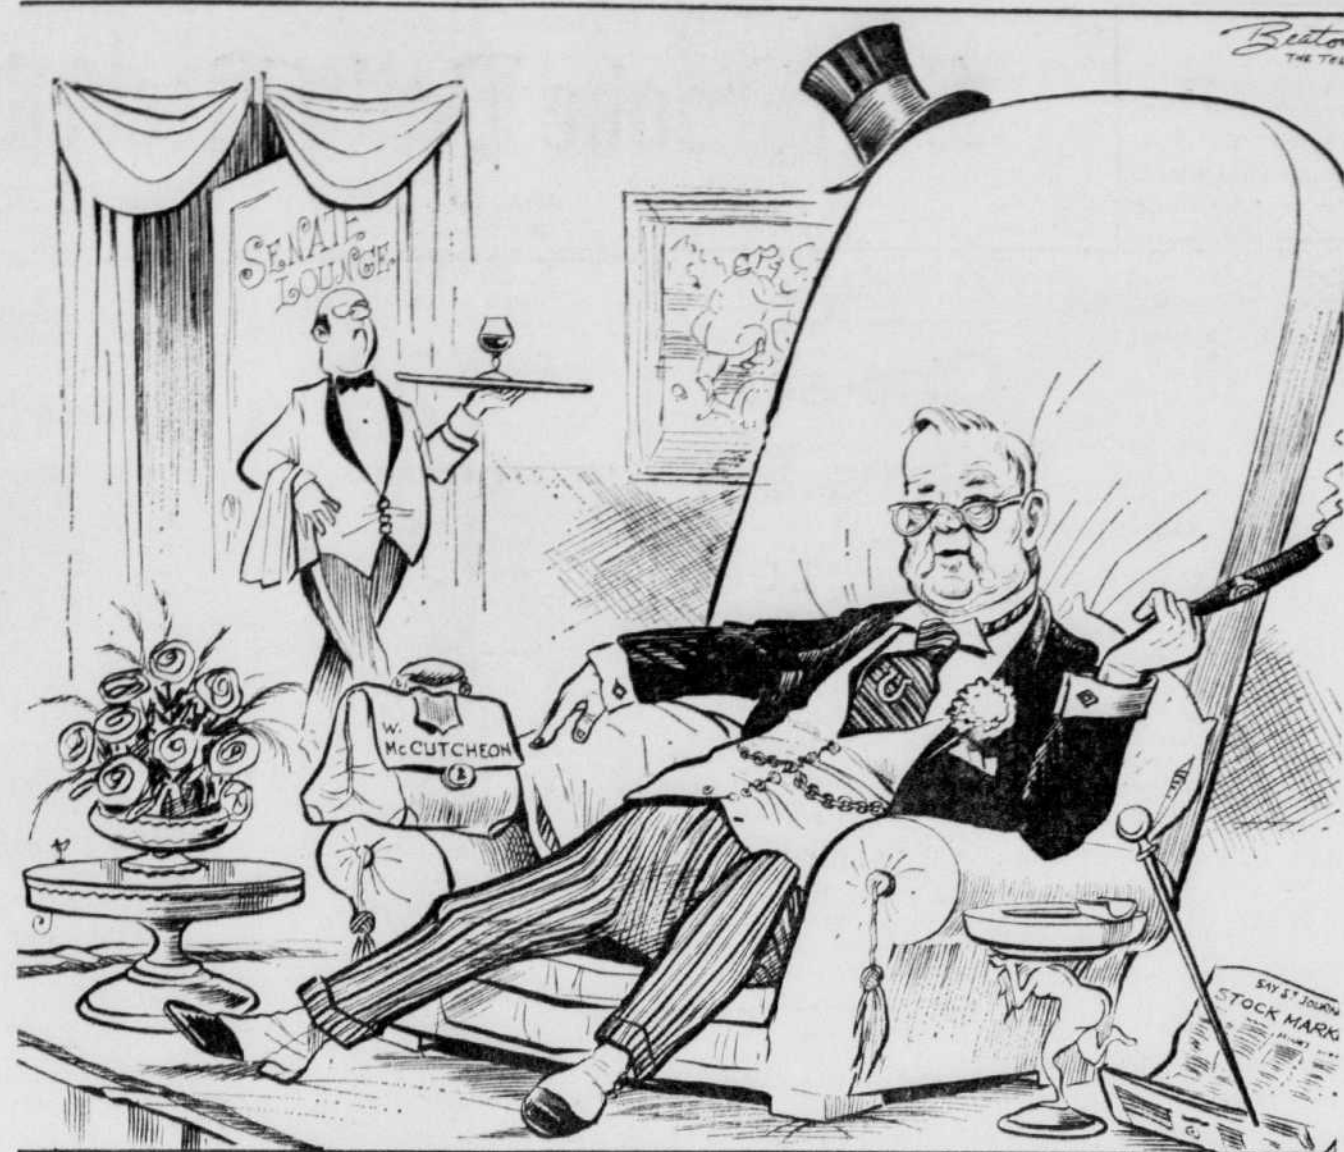

And, to dispense with capital punishment is to remove one essential, primary standard of reference in all law, the value God sets on one human being.

The late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes of the U.S. Supreme Court spearheaded a movement, devaluing to a grain of sand a human soul. But the drive against fixed values lost confidence and the demand arose for a return to fixed standards. See Time, Sept. 21/53.

We understand that the late Government of this country commuted all, or nearly all death sentences during its tenure of office. Now is the time for every God-fearing Canadian to do something about God's law and its enforcement in our land.

Make God's law, Our law.

Landholders prove less flexible

White men under African rule seem to be faring fairly well

The determination of Premier Ian Smith to maintain white rule in Rhodesia highlights the position of white minorities in newly independent African countries now ruled by natives. Canadian Press reporter Joseph MacSweeney, who visited 10 countries during a tour of the black continent, says white residents generally are doing well under African rule. He outlines his findings in this story.

By JOSEPH MACSWEENEY

LUSAKA, Zambia (CP)—President Kenneth Kaunda says some white settlers in Zambia are permanently infected with racism. "They were born like that, they'll die like that," he said.

In Kenya, the white man has been told to call his African countrymen "Bwana" (mister), if he wants to stay in the country.

In Tanzania, some white settlers long for the "good old free-and-easy days" before independence and African rule. "It's tense now," complained an airline employee.

In Uganda, one white businessman commented: "We have discrimination in reverse now, you know — the Africans discriminate against us."

In Nigeria, an oil company employee asked: "How can they be expected to run the country when they can't even make the phone system work?"

"The Ghanaians are fine people except for the Yabos," said a European engineer in Accra, scoffing at the more hot-eyed radicals in government service.

You come across all kinds of attitudes on racial relations in a trip through Africa. But in general, white residents appear to be getting along well and happily under African rule in newly-independent countries on both sides of the continent.

FINDS COURTESY
A Canadian reporter, treated with courtesy and consideration in several countries, found considerable support for this conclusion.

"I'm amazed at how well the African leaders are doing in the face of their difficult problems," said a coffee company executive whose work takes him around Africa.

White men in business and commerce seemed more enthusiastic about the African governments than landowners and farmers. One British diplomat said old-line settlers tend to isolate themselves and did not respond to the new waves of nationalism.

There is evidence that the Africans do not regard their ascendancy as the end of the white man in Africa.

Derek Bryceson, English-born minister in Tanzania's government, was recently re-elected by a big majority over an African opponent in general elections. Tanzania has only 21,000 whites in a population of 9,560,000.

SEATS SET ASIDE
Zambia, previously Northern Rhodesia, with the largest European population among the former British colonies, reserves 10 seats in the national assembly for white members out of a total elected membership of 75.

Most of the Europeans, 71,000 out of a total population of 3,650,000, work in Zambia's famed Copperbelt. Uproar followed a by-election in which Copperbelt voters overwhelmingly rejected a white government candidate.

Although only 600 voters were involved and both candidates were white, government spokesmen said the anti-government poll boiled down to "white racism." Kaunda implied it resulted from the high proportion of white South Africans and Rhodesians in the area.

There were demands for abolition of the reserved seats, now held by the National Progress Party, and these are scheduled in any case to vanish after the next general election.

The Times of Zambia, whose editorial staff is largely white, commented: "It is over-estimated their vanishing political power to worry too much about how 600 whites marked their ballot papers."

A copperbelt miner, in the country since 1953, said: "I voted NPP because it is a European party and 'I'm a European. I suppose I also considered that to vote any other way would be helping to introduce a one-party state."

"The European has forfeited the right to be called 'Zambian,'" said one government official.

MIXING IS LIMITED

To a Canadian traveller, racial relations in Lusaka, Zambian capital, seemed particularly friendly. Yet, typically, a certain voluntary segregation exists, partly by choice, partly for economic reasons.

"Let's have a drink," said a newspaper friend, an African. "European bar or African bar?"

On leaving an African bar some time later, he was called to a table for a brief consultation. "They wanted to know what you were doing here," he confessed.

A waiter at a so-called European bar said there was nothing to stop the Africans coming in, "but they seldom do." Two patrons turned their backs when asked about life under the African regime.

Sour incidents were not typical of Zambia or elsewhere, but the person looking for pin-pricks can find them. In Dar es Salaam, Tanzania, the traveller was served third at breakfast in an African restaurant although he was first to arrive.

On a more serious level, he was advised both in East and West Africa that in the event of a car accident — particularly should an African child be injured — it would be wiser not to stop but to report the incident to the nearest police station.

That advice, however, might equally well apply to an African driver.

EXPRESS WARMTH

Canadian diplomats, teachers and external-aid officers invariably spoke with warmth and affection of the ordinary Africans, praising their courtesy and friendliness. Conversation, especially among women, was sometimes difficult because of shyness. The Africans instinctively respond to the white person as to one with the bigger share of the world's goods.

In former French Africa, the prosperous Ivory Coast now has 30,000 resident Frenchmen in a total population of 3,800,000. That is twice as many Frenchmen as before independence and their skills are welcomed by top government officials even if resented by ambitious young Ivorians. The finance minister is a Frenchman.

Independence came to British West Africa, the "white man's grave," with comparative ease because the European population was small, thanks to climate and policy.

There was no white-settler question and today, with administrators moving out while managers and technicians move in, a balance is maintained, notably in Nigeria.

MANY EMIGRATED

The story was starkly different in East Africa, where Kenya's white settlers battled African rule and serious land problems remain to this day, although an estimated 40 or 50 per cent of the white farmers have departed, many to Rhodesia and South Africa.

A Kenya land board was established to purchase farms for African resettlement, but some farmers complain bitterly that they are unable to dispose of their property at a sufficient price to recover their investment of money and toil.

Significantly, their protests are directed at the British government, not the Kenya government. Many went to Kenya after the Second World War, receiving assurances of fair, long-range treatment. Now their anxiety is sharpened by the fact that December is the deadline for deciding whether to take out Kenya citizenship.

Some ministers have hinted that non-Kenyan landowners would not be welcome and some of the settlers are apparently worried also about what may happen when moderate President Jomo Kenyatta, now in his 70s, vanishes from the scene.

A widely-experienced British diplomat said the East African settlers, different from British communities in other colonial areas, became "extremely anti-British" when London began granting independence to native peoples.

"They were anti-British even under the Tory government," he said. "Now that Labor is in power in London, they are even more anti-British."

Observers see the greatest menace to racial harmony throughout Africa as white attitudes in Rhodesia, South Africa and Portuguese Mozambique and Angola.

It is often said that Britain could hardly act against its "kith and kin" in Rhodesia, but one British minister has spoken of dangers to kith and kin elsewhere.

"A Rhodesian unilateral declaration of independence could start a blaze in Southern Africa which no one can control or put out," said Cledwyn Hughes, minister of state for Commonwealth relations.

"In thinking of other kinsmen in Rhodesia, do not let us forget our kinsmen in other African countries — in Zambia, Kenya, Tanzania and elsewhere — in all nearly as many as there are in Rhodesia. What will be their fate once the fire is lit?"

TEN YEARS AGO

(From the Record of Tuesday, November 1, 1955)

RANDBORO — The WA was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Speck when dinner was served to 34 members and friends. The devotional period was taken by Mrs. Cameron, followed by a business meeting when reports of the chicken pie supper were given. Mrs. Noble Smith of Lennoxville gave an interesting and instructive talk on the work of the WA across Canada. The speaker was thanked by the president who also thanked the hostesses for the afternoon. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Ethel Seale, Mrs. Eddie Ward and Mrs. C. W. Speck and son, of Lennoxville, Mrs. R. A. Cameron, Mrs. Volney Hurley and Mrs. Walter Steer of Sawyerville.

November 12th to 18th inclusive marks Optimist week among the men of the international order of the "Friends of the Boy," and this takes on added meaning in Sherbrooke as the local club prepares to step up membership.

Optimist week here will be ushered in with an oyster party to be held at the arena on November 13.

Canadian Optimism will be given a shot in the arm next week when the Hon. Louis St. Laurent, prime minister of Canada, will accept honorary membership in the Laurentian Optimist Club. This will be conferred upon the prime minister at a joint meeting of the clubs at Montreal.

President Truman is also an Optimist.

MELBORO — The Hal-low'en masquerade party held in the Melboro Consolidated School one evening under the auspices of the Women's Institute was very entertaining. There was a large attendance. The prizes for costumes were won as follows: Ladies, 1 Marion Fowler, 2 Lyla Stinson and Gweneth Fowler; gentlemen, 1 Gordon Miller, 2 Billy Nelson and Galen Driver; girls, 1 Gertrude Crack, 2 Joan Frank, 3 Susie Bleimings; boys, 1 Robert Crack, 2 Robert Frank, 3 Hilton Driver; dancing, in costume, 1 Barbara Riff, 2 Hilton Driver. The judges were Mrs. Gordon Ames, Mrs. Griffith and Mrs. Raymond Pariseau. The remainder of the evening, was spent in dancing, with excellent music furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Johnston, Mr. J. A. Johnston and Ames and Mr. Osborne Wilkins were floor managers. At midnight, refreshments were served by the ladies of the WI. The proceeds of the evening amounted to approximately 35 dollars.

GOVERNMENT COSTS UP

Government spending in Canada was $14,600,000,000 in 1964, compared with $3,900,000,000 in 1950.

Bureaucrats, beware!

Reds tackle Red tape

By PETER WORTHINGTON

MOSCOW — (TNS) — The greatest threat to the Soviet Union's new economic reforms is the jealous hostility of its bureaucrats at home. Or so it seems.

To the surprise of practically no one at the recent Central Committee plenum, Premier Kosygin and Party Boss Brezhnev outlined broad plans to streamline industry and put it on a profit-making basis.

Everyone knew the shift of emphasis was coming. Everybody was pleased — in principle — that changes were to be augmented. But what surprised many observers, and especially Russians, was the calm, restrained and businesslike presentation.

Never before have Russians had such slogan-free unemotional, straightforward talk from their leaders. There was none of the Khrushchevian ad-libbing, colorful warnings and earthy boasts. There were none of the lies and optimism of Stalin's time.

Probably even B & K don't realize the extent to which bureaucracy can stifle initiative. For today it's tougher than ever to get things done, or to make changes, in Russia.

A dictator can order and demand changes — or else. Russia seems to be going through a phase of collective leadership: it is a dictatorship without a dictator. And the bureaucrats aren't afraid today as they might have been in the past.

CHANGE

Kosygin's "declaration of intent" represents the culmination of three years of economic advances. Ever since Evsey Liberman, an obscure economist in the Ukrainian city of Karkov, made his first tentative suggestions three years ago that the "profit motive" might be a way to increase efficiency and improve quality, Soviet thinking has been changing.

Now, of course, the works of Lenin are being perused for quotes that show clearly that he approved wholeheartedly of the marriage of profits and socialism.

The Kosygin proposals have been widely advertised and discussed by this time; the volume of sales rather than the volume of production is to be the new index of industrial success, and bonuses and grants will be based on this.

Instead of state handouts, factories will borrow on credit.

The bureaucratic middle-man will be bypassed and factories will deal directly with stores. More profits will be reinvested into the factories concerned, for distribution among workers and to pay for improvements.

Factory managers will have more authority and responsibility — central planners and bureaucrats less. Penalties will be imposed on factories that produce shoddy goods.

In his report Brezhnev indicated some awareness of the dangers of bureaucracy.

"It is clear that reorganization of the system of management is not enough to eliminate shortcomings," he said. "What is needed is prolonged and persistent work to... resolutely eradicate irresponsibility, red-tape, bureaucratic attitudes."

The Soviet Union is possibly the world's greatest bureaucracy.

TODAY IN HISTORY

Lord Durham sailed for England 127 years ago today—in 1838—after only four months as governor-in-chief of British North America. A mixture of eccentricity and acute political intellect, Lord Durham solved his main problem, what to do with Papineau's French-Canadian rebels, by banishing them to Bermuda. Because the island was outside his jurisdiction, the British government was persuaded to challenge his decision, and Durham resigned. There remained only his report, the keystone of responsible government within the provinces and their union in confederation.

1509—Michelangelo's frescoes in the Sistine Chapel, Rome, were first exhibited.

1952 — The first hydrogen bomb was exploded at Eniwetok Atoll.

First World War

Fifty years ago today—in 1915—the Serbian arsenal at Kragujevac, 59 miles from Belgrade, was captured by Central Powers forces; an Allied attack on the Bulgarians at Uskub was planned.

FOR TODAY

The Upper Room

The Lord seeth not as man seeth; for man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart. (1 Samuel 16:7).

PRAYER: We thank Thee, heavenly Father, for the innocence and purity of little children, for the dreams and aspirations of youth, for the nurture and guidance parents give them, and for the wisdom and grace of advancing years. Without regard to the prestige of men, may we give ourselves in deeds of faith to Thine honor and Thy glory. In Jesus' name, Amen.

CHURCH TOWER REPAIRED — Repairs are being made presently to the base of the tower of the Emmanuel United Church in Cowansville. Total overall estimated cost of the renovations to the building and the installation of a new oil heating system as well as new lighting is between $35,000 to $40,000. Thursday work on the new chancel entrance had been completed and the installation of the new lighting and heating systems. The door to the sanctuary was expected to be ready by Sunday. Also completed was installation of a new hall floor of cement.

Lesage turns tourist in ruins of Lebanon

BEIRUT (CP)—Quebec's Premier Jean Lesage has temporarily dropped the cares of office to become an ordinary but eager tourist among the historic ruins and monuments of Lebanon.

Mr. Lesage, accompanied by his wife, is on a tour of the Middle East after visiting Italy, where he opened a Quebec commercial office in Milan Wednesday.

The premier, who arrived in Beirut Thursday, told officials at the Canadian Embassy here that he would telephone them if he needed anything but that otherwise they could forget him for three or four days.

Mr. Lesage was quoted as saying: "I plan first of all to get a good deal of sleep, then to stroll around the sights."

"Believe me, I need this rest, came to Lebanon to get it," Mr. Lesage would say only that he gets up at 9 a.m. every morning, and is out sight-seeing until the evening.

Saturday, the premier and Mrs. Lesage visited nearby ruins that include a temple dedicated to the Roman god Jupiter.

STANBRIDGE EAST — At the meeting of the United Church Women, held on Oct. 13 at the home of Mrs. Bruce Kidd, the highlight of the evening was the conferring of a life membership upon one of its elder members.

Mrs. Frank Corey has been a member of the Stanbridge East Methodist Church, Ladies Aid, later called the Women's Association, and now known as the United Church Women, since she came to this area from Gould, when she married the late Frank Corey in 1919.

She has been a loyal and conscientious supporter of all associations of the Stanbridge East United Church, and no one is more deserving of the recognition tendered her.

Mrs. Stanley Soule, president of the U.C.W., read the citation and sent Mrs. Corey with a pin, recognizing her as a life member of the United Church Women.

Mrs. Corey thanked the members for the kindness in honoring her in this manner.

Shots fired as boys lead chase in stolen deputy chief's car

COWANSVILLE — (Staff)

Two juvenile car thieves were arrested Wednesday morning on Quebec Street after Chief of Police Ernest Deschamps fired a few shots in the air warning them to stop or he would shoot them. Chief Deschamps did not know how old the two were at the time of the chase, he said, but when approached the two turned out to be 14 and 15 years old.

Cowansville.

Chief Deschamps and the constable came upon the stolen car on the Dunham Road and recognizing Clement's he took chase. He fired a warning shot at the vehicle but the driver upon reaching town took off on a trail through side streets in back of the police station, and only came to a halt when Chief Des-champs stopped the car with his own. He blockaded the street and the youthful driver crashed into his car, causing an estimated $300 damages to the stolen car, according to a police official.

The youths then jumped out of the vehicle and ran until they were stopped by Chief Deschamps' second warning shot.

Mr. Hammond, the hunter on the right, has found his London Life policy to be a surprisingly good investment. Details below.

How Mr. R. E. Hammond's London Life policy can now pay its own premiums with the money it earns for him

As well as giving protection, a London Life Jubilee policy earns dividends year after year. The experience of R. E. Hammond shows just how valuable these dividends can be.

IN OCTOBER of 1925, Mr. R. E. Hammond — now a senior buyer with the CNR in Toronto — bought a $5,000 London Life Jubilee policy.

This is a profit-sharing policy. So Mr. Hammond has been credited with dividends every year for 40 years.

His yearly premium is $65.75. His 1965 dividend is $72.55 — $6.80 more than his premium. This policy can now pay its own premium each year.

miums, yet he would continue to build an estate.

When he bought the policy, Mr. Hammond had a choice of taking his dividends in cash or leaving them with the Company to accumulate for him. (London Life insurance is surprisingly flexible.) He chose to leave his dividends to accumulate with interest compounding each year.

Nine years ago he could have used these dividends to pay all future premiums — under a special option contained in Jubilee policies. (This is a sensible move for the man who plans to retire early or expects his income to decline sharply in later years.)

The policy will continue to build savings because the cash value goes up each year. This year, in addition to his dividend exceeding his premium, his cash value increased by $80.

If Mr. Hammond should decide to withdraw his savings when he retires, he can take them as a lump sum, as an income for life, or as an income for a definite number of years. Once again, flexibility.

Here are three more reasons why a London Life Jubilee policy is an excellent buy:

(1) It is a surprisingly good investment. It is just as safe as high-grade bonds and much safer than most common stocks.

(2) If you buy when you are young, you can get double your money back by age 65.

Example: If you are 25 and in good health, you can buy a $10,000 Jubilee policy for $13.09 a month. To age 65, you will pay in $6,283. But at age 65 you will have built up savings of about $13,790. (This is made up of $8,210 in accumulated dividends and $5,580 in guaranteed cash value.)

The dividends above are based on the Company's current dividend scale. While they are not guaranteed, the Company has had an outstanding record of dividend payments. Dividends allotted to owners of London Life profit-sharing policies for 1965 exceed $29 million. (3) Dividends are high because the London Life Insurance Company invests wisely and profitably in Canada. (In 1964, the Company earned 5.72% on its investments — after investment expenses.)

Polly has some pointers

DEAR POLLY — I clean the recessed spaces between bathroom tiles with an ordinary typewriter eraser. Just rub and stains and grime disappear. The abrasive in the eraser acts just like scouring powder. — OLIVE

DEAR POLLY — I have found that, when cleaning closets, it is good to take an old pair of men's socks, cut off the toe parts and slip a sock on each arm with fingers protruding out of the open toe. Clothing and other things in closet can be moved and rearranged; the parts of hangers and closets that need dusting can be taken care of by pulling the socks put in a stick for the plant to grow against, it soon grows taller than the stick. I have now put a round brass extension curtain rod in the pot and I can raise it as the plant needs more height. I hold the plant to the top of the rod with a piece of plastic gummed tape. — MRS. Women, stronger sex says Russian captain VANCOUVER (CP)—The captain of the Russian freighter Sorsha believes that if the world's women want peace, they can get it.

The captain thinks women are the stronger sex, and as boss of a tough crew she is living proof of her point.

Captain Anna Schetinina, one of the few women skippers of blue-water vessels, has held captain's papers since 1935.

In a speech to the Quota Club, a business women's organization, she said:

"We are from different countries, with different systems, but we women all want peace, not war."

"All my life I have worked with men, not women, and I feel women are the stronger half of the population."

"If all the women of the world want to say 'War, no!' all the world can live in peace."

The club members gave Captain Anna a cake and a miniature totent pole. She took time off to speak to them while her ship was loading in Vancouver harbor.

BANANA LOAF

1½ cups sifted pastry flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
¾ cup sugar
2 eggs, beaten light
1 cup (1½ to 2 large) mashed bananas
½ cup whole wheat flakes

Measure once-sifted flour and sift with baking powder and salt.

Cream shortening. Gradually blend in sugar, and continue beating until light and fluffy. Add thoroughly beaten eggs and combine well.

Add dry mixture, alternately with bananas, combining after each addition only until smooth. Stir in whole wheat flakes.

Turn into thoroughly greased loaf pan, 8 x 4 x 3 inches. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 60 or 70 minutes. Let stand over night before slicing.

BATE-NUT LOAF
2 cups sifted pastry flour
OR 1¾ cup sifted all-purpose (bread) flour

½ teaspoon salt
2 cups chopped pitted dates
1 teaspoon baking soda
¾ cup boiling water
2 tablespoons shortening
¾ cup (lightly packed) brown sugar
1 beaten egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup chopped walnuts

Measure once-sifted flour and sift again with the salt.

Combine dates and baking soda and pour on boiling water. Let stand until cool.

Cream shortening and blend in sugar. Add the well beaten egg, then the vanilla. Beat until combined.

Add cooled date mixture, then walnuts. Gradually work in dry mixture.

Turn into well greased loaf pan, 9 x 5 inches and let stand at room temperature for 20 minutes. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 60 to 70 minutes. Cool well before slicing.

MAPLE COPSE CHAPTER, I.O.D.E.

The October meeting of Maple Copse Chapter, I.O.D.E., held recently, was a busy one. Interesting reports were received, and a new by-law changing the time of the meetings was passed. It was decided that, while meetings would, as usual, be held on the fourth Monday of the month, these would take place at 2.30 p.m. instead of 8 p.m.

Educational reports included the announcement that the Marthe L. Stewart Memorial Scholarship had been presented to Ralf Busse, at the Lennoxville High School's commencement exercises; as well as prizes for Citizenship, in several classes.

A letter of thanks for her prize had been received from Carol Walker.

The Chapter had sponsored Donald van Horne, who attended the summer seminar of the United Nations held in Montreal. Mrs. Preston, educational secretary, had received an interesting report from him of the proceedings, which will be read to the members at the November meeting.

Mrs. Darcy Bennett, treasurer, reported very satisfactory proceeds from the recent rummage sale, and the secretary was asked to send a letter of thanks to St. George's Church for the use of the hall.

Contributions were voted to the Commonwealth Relation Fund; and to Canadian Scene; and the usual wreath ordered from the Canadian Legion for Remembrance Day.

As services secretary, Mrs. P. E. Staples, reported that a parcel containing 279 articles had been sent to Montreal headquarters, and 35 articles had been received during the month. Mrs. Staples had attended the Open House, at Maplemount, and taken 25 pairs of mittens from the Chapter for the use of the children.

Mrs. George Sutherland had received a letter of thanks for the much appreciated shipment of paper-backs for Canadian servicemen in Germany, which she sends each month.

The L.O.D.E. will be sending Christmas presents for children in Arctic schools and hospitals. Mrs. Staples will pack members' contributions shortly and asked that all these reach her before Nov. 6. Headquarters has requested soft toys and lightweight articles (no jewelry) since shipping charges to the North are heavy.

An introduction card had been received from the Palmer Cox Chapter of Granby, giving the name of a member recently moving to Lennoxville. This will be followed up.

It was unanimously decided that the Mayor be asked if greater efforts could not be made to keep the Town's main street cleaner and tidier. The provision of litter-baskets does not seem to have helped greatly.

The singing of the National Anthem, led by Mrs. L. M. Watson at the piano, concluded the meeting. The standard was raised by Mrs. Darcy Bennett. Hostesses were Mrs. Rupert Atto and Mrs. Bennett.

ANDRE DAVID, 28-months-old and his 16-months-old sister, NANCY ANN, children of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Wing, of Stanstead, and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Wing, Beebe, and of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Grenier, Ayer's Cliff. They are the great-grandchildren of Mr. Georges Vachon, of Frampton, Dorchester County.

Mrs. Thompson stays home while husband campaigns

RED DEER, Alta. (CP)—Mrs. Robert Thompson, wife of the national leader of the Social Credit party, says her political role is limited to being a

But the fact is, she is an old hand at electioneering and possesses an intimate knowledge of party politics and campaign strategy.

She has said their family life was much more organized in Ethiopia than since their return to Canada. But although she admits she was "just a little weary" when the Nov. 8 election was announced, she doesn't complain, feeling she could hardly urge women generally to take an active part in politics if she didn't set an example.

Mrs. Thompson likes to sew and garden but those sort of activities are almost forgotten when a campaign is on.

And unlike the wives of other party leaders, she doesn't rule out the possibility of a political career of her own. Asked if she might ever seek election herself, she says she might, "but it will be many, many years in the future."

STAYING CLOSE TO HOME — Mrs. Robert Thompson, wife of the national leader of the Social Credit party, works in her garden at their Red Deer, Alta., home. She took an active part in the federal campaigns of 1962 and 1963 but this year she is staying close to home. She spends a major part of her time on party business despite the time-consuming job of caring for eight children, four of them school age, and during the campaign is acting as liaison between her husband and local officials.

She spends a major part of her time on Social Credit business despite the time-consuming job of caring for eight children, four of them school age, and during the campaign is acting as liaison between her husband and local officials.

Despite her refusal to get involved in party policy, she has been active in the organizing since 1960 when she worked with her husband in his role as campaign manager for the local Social Credit candidate in Red Deer.

HELPED CAMPAIGN

In 1962 she was assistant coordinator of her husband's own campaign when he won the Red Deer seat from the Progressive Conservatives. She handled the same job in 1963.

Graduate of a high school commercial course, the 49-year-old Mrs. Thompson handles dictation and typing for her husband, employing a brand of shorthand she developed herself.

This being her third general election in four years, her family (the youngest child is five, oldest 24) is pretty well accustomed to the disruption of routine that a campaign causes.

Five of the children were born in Africa after the Thompsons went to Ethiopia in 1943 where Mr. Thompson was head of a nine-member team of doctors, nurses and teachers that helped the country after liberation from the Italians.

Fashion Tips

Use Ingenuity in Wardrobe
Schoolgirls have a tendency to copy each other's clothes. Your teen years are the ideal time to develop fashion sense and the first rule of fashion is individuality. So, dress-alikes, put on your thinking caps and, instead of aping your friends, put your own ingenuity into your wardrobe.

Questions readers ask

ICED WATER FIRMS SHRIMP

Q—Is there any way I can make canned shrimp firmer? We like them in salad but sometimes they seem soft.

A—Try this: open can, drain shrimp and place in bowl of iced water. Let stand in the iced water 20 minutes. Then drain and use in salad. The shrimp will be surprisingly firm.

DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES

CALL FOR TENDER 65F-2

Sealed Tenders, in duplicate, should be addressed to the office of the undersigned, Department of Natural Resources, 1620 Boul. de l'Entente, Québec, in time to be received or delivered at the latest by 3 P.M. Eastern Standard Time, Wednesday, November 17, 1965, for the placing of a concrete revetment and waterproofing of the upstream face of Allard Dam, approximately 600 feet long with a maximum height of 40 feet, at the outlet of Lake St. François, county of Mégantic, Province of Québec, all in accordance with the tender document No. 65F-2. Tenders will be opened at the same office, the same day and at the same hour.

Plans, specifications, forms and documents for tender may be obtained upon request to the Department of Natural Resources, care of Mr. René Laganière, room 218, 1640 Boul. de l'Entente, Québec 6, and by depositing a certified cheque to the amount of $50.00. This deposit is refundable only to those who have presented a tender and who have returned the documents undamaged during the 30 days following the opening date of said tenders.

A certified cheque, to the order of the Minister of Finance or a policy of guarantee from a company authorized to provide surety (bid bond), for an amount of not less than 10% of the tender, shall be included with the tender in accordance with the official formula of the Government of Québec.

Such guarantee deposit shall be forfeited if the tender is withdrawn after the tenders are opened or if the successful tenderer refuses to enter into a contract or is unable to furnish the Department with a performance bond and labour, materials and services bond covering contractor's liabilities, each for 50% of the contract price, said bonds to be issued by a duly authorized bonding company, in accordance with the official formulas of the Government of Québec.

Only individuals, firms, companies or corporations having their principal place of business in the Province of Québec, are invited to tender, and only tenders who have obtained a tender document direct from the Department will be considered.

Tenders shall be submitted in envelope provided for such purpose and clearly marked: "Tender No. 65F-2."

The minister does not bind himself to accept the lowest nor any of the tenders.

P. E. AUGER,
Deputy Minister.

Scottish concert sponsored by Scotsdown group

SCOTSTOWN — The Scottish Concert sponsored by members of St. Paul's Presbyterian Circle, under the leadership of Mrs. Maurice Aury and Mrs. Freddy MacLeod, was held Oct. 22 in St. Andrew's United Church Hall. It was largely attended by friends from Scotstown, Sherbrooke, Lennoxville, Bury, Gould and Milan.

Donald Morrison acted as M.C. The program consisted of solos by Misses Eunice Dougherty, Mary Elizabeth MacDonald, Nancy Goodin, Henry Moulard, Milan, guitar selections and singing by Kelly MacKenzie and John MacDonald, of Sherbrooke. Gaelic selections by Norman Murray, Bury and Angus A. MacIver, A Gaelic Hymn by Mrs. Harvey MacRae and Albert Murray.

The ever popular How do you do? song was presented by Mrs. Real Boulanger and John MacDonald. Popular modern dancing was displayed by a very young group of boys and girls, and by eight junior girls.

An amusing Gaelic skit was presented by three ladies, Mrs. F. C. Goodin, Mrs. Harvey MacRae and Mrs. Kenneth Smith, dressed in old-time costumes, sat visiting, reminiscing in Gaelic, when Mrs. Donald Morrison and daughter, Mary, called to see them and sang a Gaelic song to them. An Irish dance by Mrs. Maurice Aury was much enjoyed.

Mr. Morrison thanked Mrs. Aury and Mrs. MacLeod for their untiring effort to make the concert a success. Mr. MacDonald from Sherbrooke, Mr. Murray from Bury and Mr. Moulard from Milan for coming and so ably assisting with the program.

Mrs. Aury was the pianist throughout the program, which closed with Mr. Moulard rendering the favourite hymn of many, How Great Thou Art.

Border UCW makes plans for fall activities

ROCK ISLAND — Stanstead South Church Circle Unit held the Oct. 13 meeting in the church hall. Mrs. Geneva Lyons and Mrs. Raymond Curtis, the hostesses served dessert at a table centered with a silver bowl of autumn fruits.

In the absence of the Unit leader, the assistant leader, Miss Ruth Wing, presided. Mrs. A. S. Judd, Sr., was in charge of the devotional period.

Workers were solicited to serve supper on Nov. 6 at Sunnyside School, where a reception will be held to honor Mrs. Raymond Wheelock, recently installed as Worthy Grand Matron, Grand Chapter of Québec, O.E.S.

Mrs. Kenneth Baldwin agreed to convene the dining room for the Christmas tea and sale, which is taking place in the church hall on Nov. 20.

Plans were completed for the Circle Unit participation in the noon-day dinner at the church hall on Oct. 28. Mrs. Daist Patti agreed to be in charge of the advance sale of tickets.

December 5 was set as the annual congregational dinner, after the church service, for the every member canvass.

A nominating committee of Mrs. Kenneth Baldwin and Mrs. Golda Sandish was named to bring in the slate of officers before the last meeting of 1965.

The new window blinds for the church hall have come. These special blinds are to permit the hall to be darkened for day-time film showings.

The next meeting will be on Nov. 10 in the church hall with a picnic tea.

Quebec Aces and Rochester are beginning to pull away from all opponents in American Hockey loop

Quebec Aces and Rochester Americans, last season's divisional champions in the American Hockey League, are pulling away from the opposition again.

Both scored double victories in weekend plays, the Aces edging Pittsburgh Hornets 7-6 Saturday night and whipping Buffalo Bisons 5-2 Sunday, while the Americans defeated Baltimore Clippers 4-2 and came from behind to nip Hershey Bears 3-2.

The Bisons won their first game of the year Saturday, downing Hershey 3-1 while two Western League teams won in interlocking games. Los Angeles Blades trouncing Springfield Indians 4-2 and Victoria Maple Leafs thumping Cleveland Barons 7-3.

The Blades were beaten 4-2 by Providence Reds Sunday and Springfield topped Pittsburgh 5-3.

Eddie Shack's third-period goal produced the winner for Rochester against the Bears in a meeting of last year's Calder Cup finalists. The champions trailed 2-1 after Mike Nykoluk and Gary Dornhoefer offset Red Armstrong's early goal but rookie Brian Conacher tied it with the second Rochester tally.

SCORE FOR ACES

Guy Gendron and Gord Labossiere fired two quick goals to put the Aces ahead of Buffalo to stay early in the third period. Cleland Morton, Simon Nolet and Don Blackburn also scored for Quebec while Mel Pearson and Billy Dea tallied for Buffalo.

Yves Locas, Roger Cote, Barclay Plager, Brian Smith and Jim Anderson scored for the Indians against the Hornets, whose marksmen were Val Fonteyne, with two goals, and Claude Laforce.

Willie Marshall, Jim Mikol, Serge Boudreault and Rookie Bob Brinkworth looked after the

It's a Volkswagen.

A 1966 fastback Volkswagen.

A twin-carburetor Volkswagen.

A family Volkswagen.

A bucket-seated Volkswagen.

An engine-in-the-rear Volkswagen.

A fun-to-drive Volkswagen.

We call it the 1600 fastback sedan.

1600 because that's how big the engine is. Fastback because that's the way the back is. And sedan because it's not a sports car. Although it has a lot of sports-car features.

Like a fully-synchronized four-on-the-floor. And four-wheel independent suspension to take the bend out of corners. And front wheel disc brakes that stop you effortlessly. And the comfortable bucket seats we've already mentioned.

Then what's sedan about our fastback sedan?

Let's start with room. It seats five. Or two adults and as many kids as you want to stuff into the back seat.

There's 17 cu. ft. of luggage space. A fully instrumented padded dash with electric clock. Carpeted floors. And seat backs that adjust to seven different angles.

These are just a few reasons why our new fastback is a sedan. And a sporty car.

After you've driven one hard for a few years, you'll know why it's a Volkswagen.

Bobby Hull, Chicago Black Hawks' star left winger, picked up two goals and two assists Saturday night to move into a first-place tie with Bobby Rousseau of Montreal in the National Hockey League's individual scoring race.

Hull has a league-leading eight goals to go with three assists for 11 points while Rousseau has three goals and a league-leading eight assists.

Next in line is Chicago's Doug Mohns who has 10 points on five goals and the same number of assists.

The leaders:

Hull, Chicago 8 3 11

Rousseau, Montreal 3 8 11

Mohns, Chicago 5 5 10

Stamps clinch first, Bombers, Roughriders meet

Calgary Stampede clinched first spot in the Western Football Conference Sunday and earned a two-week rest before meeting Saskatchewan Roughriders or Winnipeg Blue Bombers in the WFC final.

The Stampede took their first WFC title since 1949 with a 20-10 win over British Columbia Lions at Vancouver. The Riders prepared for the sudden-death semi-final by dumping the Eskimos 15-12 at Edmonton Saturday.

The Stampede later flew home to a roaring reception from about 3,500 fans who packed the terminal building at Calgary's McCall Airport and snarled traffic for several blocks.

Larry Robinson of Calgary locked up the WFC scoring title during the rain-soaked Vancouver game, scoring seven points for a season total of 95, an edge of 13 over the Lions' Peter Kempf.

Tommy Joe Coffey of the Eskimos tied his WFC pass reception record with six catches for a total of 81. Hugh Campbell of the Riders caught two for a total of 75 receptions and a record 1,360 yards gained.

The Bombers, who with the Eskimos failed to make the playoffs last year, meet the Roughriders at Winnipeg Sunday. A best-of-three final opens at Calgary the following Saturday.

Calgary coach Jerry Williams, first freshman coach to handle a WFC champion in 11 years, said: "Some of the boys want to get at Winnipeg again, to avenge those two defeats."

Winnipeg was the only squad to defeat the Stampede twice during the season.

Robinson booted two field goals and two converts for Calgary. Halfback Ted Woods and fullback Lovell Coleman went over for the touchdowns before 24,191 spectators.

Kempf, trailing Robinson by seven points going into the game, kicked a single and converted Mack Burton's touch-down. The Lions' other points came on a safety touch.

At Edmonton, Saskatchewan Kerbow apparently failed to capture the conference punting fullback George Reed became the second player in Canadian title. He entered the game tied with injured Martin Fabi of the football history to rush for more than a mile in a season. He ran 114 yards on 16 carries for regular-season average.

At Vancouver, coach Dave Skrien said the Lions' plunge shortly after an Edmonton field goal attempt was knocked straight WFC titles and a Grey Cup win was not the fault of quarterback Joe Kapp.

"You've got to have someone to catch the football in this game. Kapp had plenty of time to throw today, but his receivers couldn't get into the clear—and they couldn't catch the ball."

Burton and Kempf each dropped touchdown passes as fullback George Reed Morris and the second player in Canadian title. He entered the game tied

Rilla's Song wins Invitation Pace

NECK PAYOFFS — Marcel Mineault is seen getting Rilla's Song under the wire just ahead of Guy Jutras and Drummond Law. (5), in the Invitation Pace, the main feature on Sunday's racing card at the local oval. John Davies with Bengali, (4), is third with Guy Robichaud and Sir Express Allie, (7), in fourth position in the ninth race.

Florent Brochu's Rilla's Song was obliged to settle for third just ahead of Laporte's Sir Express Allie.

They went to the quarter in 22 2/5 seconds and the half in 1:09 3/5 to finish the mile in 2:15 2/5. This was considerably slower than the usual time for these horses but that was owing to the heavy condition of the track.

The best time of the day was registered in the sixth dash when Buster Huckins teamed Brouillette's Queen's Lawyer under the wire in 2:14 1/5. The field went to the quarter in 34 seconds and Queen's Lawyer way back in seventh spot on the outside commenced to move rounding the field to take the lead.

Bengali, with John Davies teaming, finished third. He generally can come home strong in the last half but the heavy conditions made it tough

He continued hitting the half in 1:05 2/5 and the three-quarter in 1:39 1/5 to establish himself a comfortable lead of over 10 lengths. Robert Jutras with Miss Jessie Direct tried to catch the early leader but the distance was too big and Buster Huckins emerged the winner in 2:14 1/5.

The seventh dash for trotters paid the best price of the afternoon on a win bet when $58.80 was collected for Guy Jutras and Leo's Song. With Noiseux's Irish Blonde they formed the quinella and $81.20 was picked up.

In the tenth race with Guy Robichaud driving Katy Iba and W. St. Cyr with Sir Velvet the exacta paid the top price of the afternoon $212.80. Katy Iba paid $33.80, $15.40 and $5.60 across the board which helped to pay the big exacta

Belt Canadiens 6-4 for their fourth straight win on road, now can they post victories at home is question

Will Chicago Black Hawks be able to win at home?

The National Hockey League-leading Hawks have played at Toronto, Boston, Detroit and Montreal and they haven't lost a game so far this season. Their first home game is against Boston Wednesday.

The Hawks, paced by Bobby Hull, won their fourth road game Saturday by defeating Montreal Canadiens 6-4.

Hull scored two goals to run his season total to eight, best in the league. He also picked up two assists, giving him 11 points and a share of first place in the NHL individual scoring race.

In other weekend action, Toronto Maple Leafs defeated Detroit Red Wings 4-3 and New York Rangers walloped Boston Bruins 8-2 Montreal and Detroit played to a 2-2 tie in the only game played Sunday.

Beside Hull's two markers Saturday, the Hawks got single goals from Doug Mohns, Kenny Wharram, Eric Nesterenko and Stan Mikita.

Yvan Cournoyer scored two goals for the Canadiens while Gordon (Red) Berensn and Jean Beliveau scored one apiece.

GUMP INJURED — Montreal netminder Lorne (Gump) Worsley suffered an elbow injury in the first period but continued to play despite the fact that he lost all feeling in his left hand in the second period. Charlie Hodge replaced him in the third period.

The Rangers posted their first NHL victory of the season Saturday by trouncing the winless Boston Bruins as seven players shared in the scoring onslaught.

Doug Robinson scored the first and final goals for New York as the Bruins lost their third straight game. In between, Phil Goyette, Rod Gilbert, Jean Ratelle, John McKenzie, Bob Nevin and Earl Ingarfield added to New York's cause.

The Bruins managed only a first-period goal by Ted Green and a second-period marker by Parker Macdonald.

Bruin netminder Ed Johnston was forced to retire with a knee injury suffered in a pileup during the first period. He was taken to hospital for x-rays while Bob Ring, 19, was pressed into action.

DEFENCE POROUS — Ring, recalled from the Bruins' Niagara Falls amateur club last Wednesday to fill in for the injured Gary Cheevers, turned in some spectacular saves but was the victim of a porous defence and allowed four goals.

Bob Pulford scored one goal and set up two others as the Leafs built an early lead then held off the Wings Saturday.

Left winger Frank Mahovlich scored his second goal of the year while single markers went to Leonard (Red) Kelly and Orland Kurtenbach. Paul Henderson and defencemen Bryan Watson and Doug Barkley scored for Detroit.

Henderson scored again Sunday night, this time with less than 2 1/2 minutes left in the game to give Detroit a 2-2 tie with Montreal.

Jim Roberts gave the Canadiens a 1-0 lead, but former Leaf Andy Bathgate scored his third goal of the season less than three minutes later.

Canadiens went ahead 30 seconds after Bathgate's goal when Bobby Rousseau scored his third of the 1965-66 year.

Henderson, who scored only eight goals in 70 games last season, closed out the scoring with his tie-goal at 17:35.

NHL STARS — Bobby Hull, who scored two goals and picked up two assists in Chicago Black Hawks' 6-4 win over Montreal Canadiens Saturday.

Doug Robinson, who scored two goals and one assist in New York Rangers' 8-2 onslaught against Boston Bruins Saturday.

Bob Pulford, who scored once and assisted on two other goals as Toronto Maple Leafs defeated Detroit Red Wings 4-3 Saturday.

Farnham juvenile football champs after demolishing Knowlton 31-0

By DOUG MACKENZIE
(Record staff reporter)

FARNHAM—"They just out-hit and outplayed us," was the comment by Jim Larks' defensive captain, after the Farnham Frontenacs demolished the Knowlton Larks 31-0 yesterday to win the EJ Juvenile football league championship.

The Larks lost halfback Duff Hadlock in the first quarter and never seemed to get untracked. Hadlock was helped off the field in the first quarter, with what was later diagnosed as torn knee ligament of the left knee.

The Fronts opened the scoring, with Racine going across from the one on a quarterback sneak. This major resulted when Farnham recovered a bad snap from center, on a Lark punt attempt.

Jim Shuffelt took the kick-off back down to the Farnham half of the field, but the Larks offense bogged down as it was to do the rest of the game, after starting good drives.

Farnham scored again on a seven play drive that covered 52 yds. Allen Palmer, burst up the middle from 22 yds. out to score. The Larks started another drive, this time from their own thirty-two. John Rogerson got in behind a Frontenac defender, and took an Albers pass good for 43 yds. Two incomplete pass attempts left the situation at third and ten. On third down Albers attempted to hit Wade Hadlock on a shot pass, but defensive back Alphonse Cote stepped in front of Hadlock and raced 64 yds. to score.

Once again the Knowlton drive was snuffed out, when a bad snap led to a Farnham recovery, this time on the Knowlton 20 yard line. Once again Racine was the big man for the Fronts as he scored going around the right end from 5 yards out.

All the scoring in the second half, was done from the opening whistle as Racine took Knowlton's kickoff on his own 24, and threaded his way behind excellent blocking, 76 yards to paydirt. Al Palmer wrapped up the scoring by converting this major.

It was inevitable before the game started, that if the Larks were going to win, they would have to stop Racine on his roll-outs, and this in effect is what they were unable to do.

The Frontenacs were full measure for their victory, and Dr. Jean Lavigne, the team's general manager, stated that he is very proud of his team, and they deserved to win.

Defensive Captain Reggie Sorel gave credit to the Larks, and said that Hadlock's injury in the first quarter may have been the turning point. Jim Shuffelt, the Larks' defensive half, was the pick of the Larks defensively. While John Rogerson and Jack Morley played a driving game.

Tie develops at top of OSLAA

Macdonald Aggies eliminate Bishop's with 19-2 cleanup

ST. ANNE DE BELLE-VUE — (Special) — Macdonald College Aggies will be sporting a new set of luggage when they travel to Ottawa next weekend in meeting St. Pat's Gaels for the Eastern division title of the Ottawa-St. Lawrence Intercollegiate Football Conference.

The luggage is no gift, but was actually taken from Bishop's University Gaitsers Saturday, as the Aggies peeled the skins right from the Bishop's backs with a 19-2 win.

This crucial OSLAA game sends Macdonald to the top of the league with St. Pat's, who plastered College Militaire Royale 40-0 in their game. The winner of the next game takes the Eastern title.

The sudden dismissal on the Macdonald campus eliminated the 1964 Conference title winners for the present season, leaving them with one more game to play, against CMR next weekend on the Bishop's field. This however, is of no primary or even secondary importance, as the final standings in the league will not change.

Although the nightmare for the boys in purple was not as frightful as their first meeting, (Macdonald won 49-8), it marked another achievement for the Aggies, as they had yet to defeat the Gaitsers since Bruce Coulter took command of the lines.

As both clubs on the field planned to mop up their opponents, there was one cleaning agent scouring the grid-surface acting like the 'white tornado'.

Winston Ingalls, a former resident of Ayer's Cliff, and one of the hottest athletic prospects that Macdonald has latched onto, showed his prowess against the Gaitsers again. Their last meeting saw Ingalls spending more time behind the Bishop's grid encounter.

goalposts than on the line of scrimmage.

After Al Gratias managed half of the entire Gaitsers points within the opening minutes scoring a single, Ingalls, Mac's mighty halfback, galloped across for an unconverted touchdown.

Approximately five minutes of play separated the next two majors with Ingalls carrying 78 yards. The second half action, with the heavy winds against Mac, offered the best of the game, leaving Bishop's trailing far behind, 12-1. Ron Raynor scored on a punt return covering 55 yards with Jerry Fielders kicking a single.

According to Bishop's Coach Bruce Coulter, the game was salted away for Mac after a Bishop's fumble on the ten-yard line.

"We carried the ball with authority at the time," stated the dejected pilot, "but the fumble gave the Aggies the opportunity to run ahead. After the first two majors, we couldn't catch up then."

Al Gratias, responsible for the Bis op's points, performed well, along with defensive backs Earl Johnson and Brian Grey. Pete Dunn also was a continuous factor in holding down the sizable margin.

Official statistics of the game were not produced, but the majority of offensive action went to Macdonald, with Bishop's not showing their previous forms at either end.

With the close of the season upcoming next weekend, discussion is already circulating about the '66 squad. Both the coach and manager, along with the experienced players, feel a powerful nucleus is on the Lennoxville campus.

A scoreless tie developed between the Bishop's Vestal Virgins and Macdonald girls soccer team, played prior to the more time behind the Bishop's grid encounter.

Oshawa Generals stop Petes as Flyers take over

A third-period goal gave Niagara Falls Flyers a 4-4 tie with Kitchener Rangers and first place in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A standings during the weekend.

The tie enabled the Flyers to overtake Oshawa Generals, who defeated Peterborough Petes 5-3 Saturday for a brief hold on first place, and then lost 6-4 to St. Catharines Black Hawks Sunday.

Both the Flyers and the Generals have 11 points, but Niagara Falls has played six games to Oshawa's eight.

In other weekend action, London Nationals downed Toronto Marlboros 8-6 and Montreal Canadiens defeated Hamilton Red Wings 6-2.

Karl Hagarty scored the tying goal for the Flyers, after Derek Sanderson, Tom Webster and Don Marcotte got the others. Don Luce, Bob Jones, Jim Kruicki and Gord Kannagiesser scored for Kitchener.

Thelen moved past Ottawa's Jim Dillard, who missed Saturday's game.

Other Toronto touchdowns went to Dave Thelen and Len Sparks, who kicked a field goal and a single when a field goal attempt in the third quarter was wide.

Wayte's touchdown came after he intercepted his second pass of the afternoon, giving him nine for the season, first place in that department.

Dick Shatto, playing his last game after 12 seasons with the Argos, sewed up the kickoff return title and also rushed three times for nine yards and caught a 21-yard pass from quarterback Pete Liske.

Don Sutherin wins second straight title on weekend 'nothing' games, sudden-death semi-finals Saturday

The four teams in the Eastern Football Conference played a pair of "nothing" games the weekend, but they meant a lot to place-kicker Don Sutherin of Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

As a result of the two games, Sutherin came away with his second consecutive EFC scoring title.

Six points behind Moe Racine, Ottawa Rough Riders' place-kicker, going into the weekend, Sutherin saw his rival increase the margin to seven Saturday as Montreal Alouettes scored a 16-8 decision over the Riders in Ottawa. Racine kicked a convert in the game.

Then Sutherin went to work Sunday as Hamilton Tiger-Cats downed Toronto Argonauts 35-21 in Hamilton. He kicked three field goals, three singles when he was wide on field goal attempts, and a pair of converts for a 14-point afternoon.

That left him with 82 points, seven ahead of Racine who wound up second.

Sutherin won the scoring title last year with 94 points.

POSITIONS DECIDED

The games, the last in the regular schedule, meant nothing as far as the standings were concerned because all four positions were decided the weekend before.

Hamilton merely solidified its hold on first place by burying the Argos a little deeper in the cellar while Montreal gave rise to speculation on next Saturday's sudden-death semi-final by downing second-place Ottawa.

The Rough Riders, favored to finish first by many observers at the start of the season but a disappointment in the last half of the campaign, play the Alouettes in the game at Ottawa next Saturday. The winner meets the Ticats in a two-game, total-points final for the right to represent the East in the Grey Cup game in Toronto Nov. 27.

Final EFC standings showed Hamilton with 10 victories and four losses, Ottawa with seven wins and seven defeats, Montreal with five wins and nine setbacks and Toronto with three victories and 11 losses.

Braved Cold

A Hamilton crowd of 17,085 braved blustery winds and cool weather to see Toronto open scoring on a spectacular touchdown run by Jim Rountree. He took Joe Zuger's punt on his own 47 and raced down the sidelines to score. But the Ticats, behind Sutherin, moved into a 9-7 lead by the end of the first quarter, were ahead 16-7 at the half and 26-15 at the end of the third quarter.

The loss snapped a two-game winning streak by the Argos, who finished the schedule by winning three of their last five games.

Hamilton got touchdowns from Willie Bethae, Billy Wray and Gerry McDougall, an ex-Argo. Joe Zuger's single and a two-point safety touch rounded out the Ticats scoring.

Other Toronto touchdowns went to Dave Thelen and Len Sparks, who kicked a field goal and a single when a field goal attempt in the third quarter was wide.

Wayte's touchdown came after he intercepted his second pass of the afternoon, giving him nine for the season, first place in that department.

Dick Shatto, playing his last game after 12 seasons with the Argos, sewed up the kickoff return title and also rushed three times for nine yards and caught a 21-yard pass from quarterback Pete Liske.

What should we do with Armand Lafleur, the man who pressed the wrong button and flooded Quebec with extra Embassy cigarette bonus coupons?

We had been making one out of every 100 Embassy packages a special bonus package, with 25 extra coupons.

That was until Armand Lafleur got his signals mixed, and stepped up the frequency ten times.

By the time we found out, extra bonus packages in their thousands* were all over Quebec.

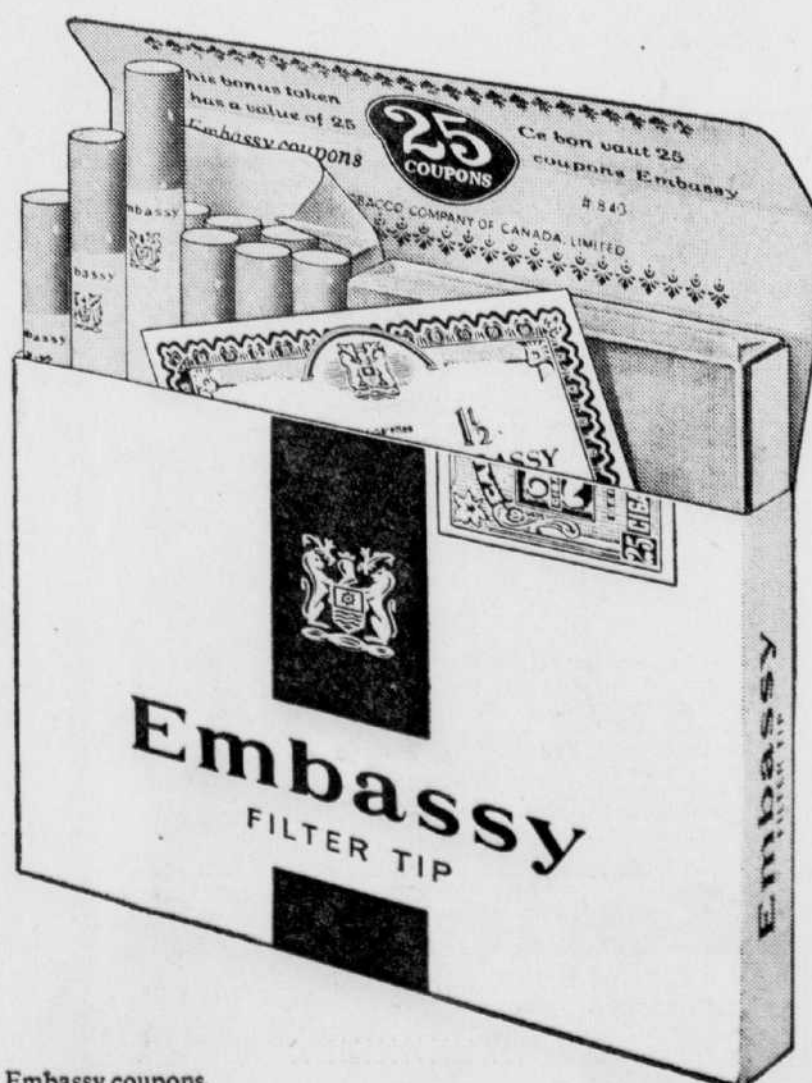

Today, one out of every 10 packages has a "25" bonus inside. No kidding.

We decided to come right out and tell you, because this goof can be your gain.

If you're already saving Embassy coupons, here's a real short cut to the gifts you want.

If you're not—isn't this the time to switch to Embassy?

It's snowing coupons, the gifts are great, and you can't smoke a better cigarette anyway.

You, too, can profit from Armand's error! Coupons are available in Embassy filter, plain end and menthol — in 20's and 25's. When Armand does it, he really does it.

*the equivalent of 1,750,000 regular Embassy coupons.

Church group Beebe greets pastor and wife

BEEBE — The October meeting of the W.H. and F.M. was held at the home of Mrs. Ezra Woodard, with a large attendance of members and several guests. Rev. G. Batchelder, the newly appointed pastor of the Church and Mrs. Batchelder were among the welcome guests.

A report was read from the president of All Mission, Aurora, Ill., on the summer activities of the branches.

It was decided to place a plate in the rear of the Church on Oct. 31 for a special collection to be sent to the India Relief.

A member was thanked for a very generous donation to the mission. The final proceeds for the food sale netted over $60 with a bring and buy sale adding $10.93 to the treasury.

The usual donation of $12 was voted to the Bible Society.

A family, who lost everything in a recent fire, is to be remembered. A completed quilt has been donated. Mrs. Munroe offered to put a top together, and a quilting party is to be held when the top is completed. Mrs. Coburn was appointed to purchase material for the quilt back.

Final plans were completed for the mystery supper and workers appointed.

The November meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. George Coburn.

Following the business session, a guessing contest and a quiz was held, the winners receiving small prizes.

The birthdays of Ruby Wilson and Mrs. Elwin Humphrey were observed with cards, small gifts. A decorated cake was presented to the celebrants. Each lady expressed her appreciation.

Mrs. Woodard, assisted by Mrs. W. Wilson and Mrs. Humphrey, served refreshments to bring a pleasant evening to a close.

THREE VILLAGES

Mrs. E. Ewan, Waterbury, Vt., has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Mann and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Cooper and family, Stanstead.

Mrs. Larry Currier and two children have returned to Red Deer, Alta., after spending two weeks here, where she visited her mother, Mrs. Linda Mosher, and family, Magog. Mrs. Walter Mosher and Mrs. Ella Keeler and Lillian, Stanstead, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Currier and family, Rock Island. Mr. Currier, with the RCAF, stationed at Red Deer has re-enlisted.

NOW EXPORT LESS

Canada now exports about one-sixth of the national production, compared with one-third 30 years ago.

H and S hears guest speaker at Scotstown

SCOTSTOWN — The meeting of the Home and School was held Oct. 20 at the Intermediate School, with a good attendance of members.

Mrs. Ansel Wintle has been elected secretary - treasurer for the term, and gave her reports.

Guest speaker, Mr. Lewis, of Lennoxville, Director of the District Council was introduced by Kenneth MacLeod, and gave an interesting talk on what the Home and School does for the parents. He was thanked by Donald Morrison. A question period followed.

John N. Mackenzie and Donald Morrison were elected representatives to the District Council.

Plans were made to attend a Career Night to be held at the Sherbrooke High School, Nov. 26.

The third Wednesday evening of the month was chosen as the most suitable meeting night for the Home and School.

Hostesses, Mrs. Ansel Wintle, Mrs. Bill MacAskill and Mrs. Donald Morrison, served refreshments in the cafeteria, and a social hour was enjoyed.
