Marler Rejects Plea That Airline Routes Be Made Wide Open

OTTAWA — (CP) — Transport Minister Marler has thrown cold water on opposition demands that air routes served exclusively by the publicly-owned Trans-Canada Air Lines be thrown open to competition.

He said in the Commons Tuesday he does not believe cheaper passenger and freight rates and better service would flow from TCA competition with private air carriers.

Widespread competition would result either in TCA operating losses or higher rates.

Demands that privately-owned airline companies be allowed to compete on TCA's cross-country routes came from both Progressive Conservative and Social Credit ranks.

John Diefenbaker (PC—Prince Albert) said there is no justification for continuing TCA's monopoly. TCA was well established, had surpluses year after year and operated to the limit of its equipment.

"I think the time has come to remove the shackles from the airlines in Canada," he said.

George Hahn (SC—New Westminster) said the CNR and TCA are bringing "the creeping paralysis of socialism to Canada."

TCA refused to permit competition from private companies. The CNR was trying to put truckers out of business by cutting rates and setting up its own trucking service with trucks carrying "piggy back" on railway flatcars, he said.

The two opposition members criticized the rejection of applications by Canadian Pacific Airlines to run a cross-country air freight service and by Pacific Western Airlines to operate an east-west air coach passenger service.

They were debating a government resolution later adopted unanimously, to set up a 26-member committee to carry out the annual review of operations of the publicly-owned CNR, TCA and Canadian National (West Indies) Steamships.

Later the House opened a debate, which continues today, to establish a Senate-Commons committee to study operations of the federal district commission which administers the national capital plan for development of the Ottawa district.

Tuesday the Commons had its first vote of the session on a divorce bill, voting 98 to 39 to give second reading to a divorce bill for a Quebec resident which was contested by his wife.

It also discussed, inconclusively, a bill sponsored by Raoul Poulin (Ind—Beauce) to have all government cheques printed in both English and French.

In the upper chamber, Senator David Croll (L—Ontario) said a halt must be called to an invasion of Canada by United States capital investment. He described it as "economic colonialism."

Senator Nancy Hodges (L—British Columbia) spoke in support of a private bill to have the Exchequer Court handle divorce petitions at present dealt with by Parliament. She said the present system tends to bring the whole parliamentary system into disrepute.

In the Commons transport debate, Mr. Marler said opposition demands for competition on TCA routes were not accompanied by similar demands for TCA competition on routes of private air lines.

World News In Brief

Shawinigan Falls, Que.—(P) — Eddy Boisvert, 63, Tuesday was committed for trial during the fall assizes on a charge of murdering his wife.

The woman was found hacked to death in her home in suburban Baie Shawinigan Feb. 27. Boisvert, a former mayor of Baie Shawinigan, was arrested a short time later and a coroner's jury found him criminally responsible for her death. The Trois-Rivières fall assizes open Oct. 25.

Port Edward, B.C. — (P) — A 19-year-old youth and two small children were burned to death last night in a house fire in this north coast cannery village.

The victims were: Edward Johnson and his sisters, Barbara, 3, and Dione, 14 months. Mrs. Stanley Johnson, their daughter-in-law, and her baby escaped. All but the youth were asleep upstairs in the two-storey converted duplex.

Washington — (P) — The House of Representatives voted today to pay $11,197 to a London bobby severely injured when he tried to eject two gate-crashing American airmen from a dance. Legislators were told the airmen were intoxicated and offered "to fight any Englishman." In the melee, constable Thomas F. Milton fell down a stairway, and was later retired for permanent disability.

Taira, Japan — (P) — Gas exploded in a coal mine shaft here today, killing 14 miners. Seven others were injured.

Hamilton, Ont. — (P) — John (Paddy) Green of Ancaster township Tuesday was fined $300 and costs on a charge of conducting a cockfight.

The charge arose out of a police raid on an Ancaster township property where the event was being staged. A number of other participants were fined last week for their parts in the affair.

Halifax — (P) — Jewish university students demonstrated Tuesday night on a south end pier where nine crated aircraft await shipment to Egypt.

Harbor police said "20 or 30 students from Dalhousie University" carried placards into the transit shed at Pier 20. The placards carried slogans opposing arms shipments to Arab countries of the Middle East.

Mechanical Logger — A new mechanical logger is at work in the woods of Ontario and Quebec. The machine shown here was built by the woodlands section of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association and five of them are in experimental use. The machine, which has four-wheel drive, can pick up 3½ tons of pulp-wood logs, transport them across the roughest woodland terrain and dump them wherever they are needed. (CP)

Time-Lag Is Danger In Finding Defence For Ballistic Missile

Ottawa — (P) — Defence against the Intercontinental Ballistic Missile is possible, says Dr. O. M. Solandt, former chairman of the Defence Research Board.

But the "real danger" in the next 10 or 15 years, he told a 90-minute press conference, is the time-lag between development of the ICBM and the defence against it, which undoubtedly would be some form of counter-missile.

Whichever side—the free world or the Communists—first got the ICBM would hold political dominance over the other at least until an effective countermeasure was developed.

He said ground-to-air guided missiles fitted with nuclear warheads will be required for an effective Canadian air defence system in the foreseeable future.

The 46-year-old doctor-scientist said ground-to-air missiles eventually will supersede fighter planes in the defence system.

The CF-105 jet interceptor, a prototype of which may be flown next year, probably would be the last piloted fighter produced in Canada.

Dr. Solandt, who left DRB last week to become assistant vice-president of Canadian National Railways in charge of research, said he would be "surprised" if the ICBM does not become a reality within 15 years.

Top priority must be given in Canada in the coming years to improved methods of detection and early warning of attack.

But when the ICBM became an operational weapon, the air defence system as it is known today—radar lines and interceptor planes, would be of little use.

A. H. Zimmerman, Dr. Solandt's successor at DRB, said the defence against the ICBM will have to be 99 per cent effective if the missile carries a nuclear warhead.

Dr. Solandt warned that the shortage of scientists and engineers in Canada is already a critical problem, not only for defence research but for industry as well. This shortage would be the dominant factor in Canadian scientific and economic development.

Dr. Solandt, chairman of DRB from its founding more than 10 years ago, said Canada hasn't the scientific manpower necessary to develop new guided missiles on its own. Canadian scientists probably would concentrate on adapting United States missiles to Canadian use.

Mr. Zimmerman said some 400 Canadian scientists in government and industry now are up to date in the guided missiles field.

Mr. Zimmerman said some 400 Canadian scientists in government and industry now are up to date in the guided missiles field.

Progress Very Rapid On Heart

Toronto — (P) — A medical professor says progress in combating heart disease is so rapid specialists are having trouble keeping abreast of developments.

Dr. Carl Burton, assistant professor of medicine at the University of Toronto, told the Health League of Canada convention Tuesday:

"Clinical progress is so rapid in this ever-expanding field that it is all the practising cardiologist can do to keep abreast of the indications for, and limitations of, the various investigations and surgical procedures available in his own centre and elsewhere."

Most notable advances, he said, have been in diagnosis and treatment of diseases of the heart and arteries.

He said Canada's refined diet, with its particular emphasis on dairy products, might be one of the most important factors connected with the problem.

"Studies on diet of various races disclose that the countries reporting the greatest incidence of atherosclerosis are those having the highest fat intake."

Dr. Burton said there are 500,000 Canadians with diseased hearts or blood vessels and these diseases are responsible for a third of all Canadian deaths.

In reply to a further question by Donald Fleming (PC—Toronto to Eglinton) the prime minister said the only application for arms now before the government is one from Israel for 25-pounder ammunition.

Five Harvard training planes were reported to have arrived in Halifax last week-end. Reports said they were to be shipped on the freighter Womogiri to the Egyptian air force base at Heliopolis, near Cairo.

Three of 15 Harvards sold to Egypt were shipped in January on the freighter Star of Assuan.

The question of the controversial aircraft sale did not come up in the Commons Tuesday. Mr. St. Laurent announced Feb. 7 the government would not interfere with shipment of the remaining 12 planes.

Autherine Lucy Denies Writing For Red Cause

New York — (P) — Autherine Lucy, expelled University of Alabama coed, said last night she will broadcast over the Voice of America today a denial of a letter attributed to her by a radio broadcast from Communist Vietnam.

"I have never written anything for any Communist cause," Miss Lucy said.

The North Viet Nam broadcast, monitored by the U.S. information agency, quoted a letter attributed to the Negro girl who is attempting to gain admission to the university.

Signed "Lucy," the Communist-broadcast letter asked whether Americans, who "are opposing and despising the American Negroes," were "pretending to be charitable" to the "yellow-skinned South Vietnamese" in order to bring them under the yoke of America.

No More Shipments Of Arms

Ottawa — (P) — Prime Minister St. Laurent has assured the Commons no further Canadian arms shipments to the Middle East will be approved until the situation there eases.

Maj.-Gen. Pearkes, VC (PC—Esquimaux-Saanich) asked Tuesday whether the government was considering reimposing its ban on arms shipments to the Middle East.

"I am under the impression that there are no arms going forward at this time," Mr. St. Laurent replied. "Applications for further permits are under consideration and that consideration will not be completed until the situation in the Middle East seems to ease."

In reply to a further question by Donald Fleming (PC—Toronto to Eglinton) the prime minister said the only application for arms now before the government is one from Israel for 25-pounder ammunition.

Five Harvard training planes were reported to have arrived in Halifax last week-end. Reports said they were to be shipped on the freighter Womogiri to the Egyptian air force base at Heliopolis, near Cairo.

Emergency Session Of Security Council Is Being Considered

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — (AP) — Representatives of the Western powers are conferring here on the advisability of calling the United Nations Security Council into emergency session in an effort to head off further threats of war in the Middle East.

Informed quarters say the United States, Britain and France have reached no decision yet on such a council meeting. But diplomats at the headquarters of the world organization acknowledge that the situation in the tense crossroads area is grave and getting worse.

Private talks are going on almost continuously as the diplomats study developments. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld continues his consultations with individual delegates.

Hammarskjöld said he had summoned the head of the UN Arab Refugee Agency, Henry R. Labrousse, to headquarters for consultations. The refugees are one of the big problems standing in the way of Israeli-Arab peace.

Diplomatic observers see two main factors behind the rapid deterioration of the Middle East situation:

1. A switch in Soviet policy, ending the Kremlin's neutral ity and bringing its support openly to the Arab side.

2. The growth of Arab nationalism, manifesting itself in anti-Western demonstrations all the way from French North Africa to Jordan.

Added to the already-tense atmosphere existing under the Palestine armistice agreements, these developments were bound to inflame Arab-Israeli relations and result in increasing incidents.

The problem has been further aggravated by Israel's policy of retaliation, which has resulted in four resolutions of censure by the Security Council.

Israel Rejects Plan For Preventative War

JERUSALEM — (AP) — Advocates of a preventive war against the Arabs have been rebuffed in Israel's parliament, but mounting Middle East tensions continue to be felt throughout much of the world.

Israel's nationalist Heruth party was defeated, 66 to 13, Tuesday night on a motion of no confidence in the government of Premier David Ben-Gurion. The Heruth wants Israel to attack before Communist arms shipments can tip the balance in the Arabs' favor.

The premier told a stormy parliamentary session that Israel will not start a war against her Arab neighbors. But he warned that recent events have increased the danger of a second Arab-Israeli conflict.

Arab leaders today continued their top-level conference at Cairo, where informants said their chief aim is to bring Jordan's British-trained Arab Legion into the Arab military line-up led by Egypt.

Meeting at Cairo are King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia, president Shukri Al Kuwaty of Syria and Egypt's Premier Gamel Abdel Nasser. Co-ordination of Arab defences against Israel is described as the second objective of the conference.

Pressure for bringing Jordan into a close military alignment with the three big Arab states was stepped up following last week's dismissal of Britain's Lt. Gen. John Bagot Glubb as commander of Jordan's Arab Legion.

Jordan's ambassador to the U. S., told State Undersecretary Herbert Hoover Jr. in Washington Tuesday that the firing of Glubb was a "personal matter." He said the action would have no effect on Jordan's policy.

The Israeli foreign office charged Egypt with "massing fighting forces inside the Gaza strip and the Sinai peninsula" and accused the Egyptians of three new truce violations Tuesday. It demanded that the UN Israel-Egypt mixed armistice commission meet in emergency session to deal with the charges.

Eden Facing Attack On Mid-East Policy

LONDON — (Reuters) — Prime Minister Eden today faced an attack on his government's handling of the Middle East situation by the Labor opposition and criticism by some of his own Conservative supporters.

The prime minister expected to wind up a debate in the House of Commons tonight on the crisis which has developed in the Middle East following the expulsion by Jordan of the British commander of the Arab Legion, Lt.-Gen. Sir John Bagot Glubb.

Urgent instructions to attend Parliament for the debate were sent out today to government and Labor party supporters in the Commons.

Indications were that the government would survive any vote in the House, despite expected abstentions from some of the Conservative critics of the government's policy in the Middle East.

These critics at a private meeting last night asked Eden a series of sharp, frank questions about the situation in Jordan and other Middle East trouble spots. They made plain their uneasiness at what they considered Britain's lack of firmness in the Middle East.

The Conservative critics, numbering about 30, advocate a stronger British approach in Middle Eastern affairs. They came into being as a group to protest against the withdrawal from Suez.

Eden's statement to the House tonight was expected to be a major declaration of British policy in the area.

An article in a leading Liberal paper, The News Chronicle, says Eden's descent from glory has been one of the swiftest in ministerial history.

The writer of the article, Percy Cudlipp, adds: "Between May and March, a political reputation which took over 30 years to build has vanished."

Ike Sends Bulganin New Disarmament Bid

Washington — (P) — Administration officials say the United States will make new disarmament proposals to Russia and the Western powers later this month.

The proposals will be in line with President Eisenhower's appeal in a new letter to Russia's Premier Bulganin to bring "under control the nuclear threat" hanging over the world.

Eisenhower's letter was released by the White House yesterday, and within a few hours Bulganin told reporters in Moscow "it was a very interesting letter and a good one." He added that it would require much study.

Bulganin, questioned by reporters at a Kremlin reception, said he would reply to Eisenhower's letter as soon as possible.

At the same reception, Nikita S. Khrushchev, Communist party chief, held a private 25-minute conversation with U. S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen, but both declined to tell reporters the subject matter.

The United Nations disarmament sub-committee is scheduled to meet in London March 19. Harold E. Stassen, Eisenhower's special assistant on disarmament, plans to fly to London Saturday. Between then and March 19 he will hold preliminary talks with representatives of Britain, Canada and France.

Those countries, together with the U.S. and Russia, make up the sub-committee which is trying to develop disarmament measures acceptable to both the Soviet and Western powers.

About 14 people are feared to have been swept into a Lofoten islands fjord when an avalanche thundered down on a group of houses in Sigerfjord.

The wreckage of one house was towed back to land by a fishing boat.

A second avalanche destroyed a stone-built power station and cut off power from the East Lofoten islands. Rescuers dug in the ruins for two engineers who were on duty.

Six more persons were reported missing after a third avalanche, also in the Lofoten islands, officials reported. Two houses near Kvaefjord were buried.

Housewife Worker Rates High With Storekeeper

MONTREAL — (CP) — The housewife with some spare time on her hands and anxious to help out the family budget, is the favorite of storekeepers when they go out to hire part-time help.

This was indicated in discussions Tuesday at the annual conference of the Canadian Retail Federation.

Part-time help, it was indicated, is an important factor in today's retail picture. It helps cover peak-hour shopping rushes and helps to deal with the special problems raised by increased week-end and night-time shopping.

Many stores do the biggest part of their business on Fridays and Saturdays and can't economically keep on during the dull part of the week sufficient permanent help to deal with the weekend rush.

In this situation, judging by the discussion, the housewife is a sheer glamor girl to the storekeepers and they don't know what they would do without her. She rates, it was indicated, well above school girls.

Island Of Stability

There are few enough stable spots in the Western political picture. It is relieving, therefore, when so important a figure as German Chancellor Adenauer rides out a shaky period and takes a new hold on the Bonn government.

His grip was jarred recently when the Free Democrats in the Ruhr province of North Rhine-Westphalia linked up with the rival Social Democrats to unseat a provincial ministry headed by a member of Adenauer's Christian Democratic party. At the national level, the Free Democrats have been part of his government coalition of parties.

The move was meaningful because it pared Adenauer's upper house majority to a point below the two-thirds majority he needs to enact some features of Germany's rearmament proposals. His government is committed to rearmament in support of NATO and the West.

But in this developing dilemma, potentially one of the worst of many he has faced, other Free Democrats came to Adenauer's rescue. Sixteen of the 53 serving as representatives of the lower house (Bundestag) bolted their party and formed a new group pledged to the chancellor.

Adenauer himself acted to strengthen his position. He agreed to stiffen civil control over the proposed army and thus gained Social Democratic support for the general rearmament law now pending.

Thereafter, confident of its passage, he threw the other 37 Free

Democrats out of his ruling coalition. Evidently he felt he could not count on their help in future tests of loyalty, and thus had nothing to lose.

Once more, then, the old man whom Sir Winston Churchill calls the greatest German statesman since the 19th century Bismarck appears in firm control.

Nevertheless, it would be foolhardy to ignore the danger of his present position. Political realignments appear to be taking place, and some are subtracting from the solid foundation of his support. More and more he is compelled to improvise, to make concessions to his opponents, to keep on top.

The West obviously must do more than pray that the aging chancellor will live well beyond the German republic's next general elections in 1957. Within the limits foreign states must fix for themselves to avoid charges of interference, and we and our friends must work discreetly but forcefully to strengthen Adenauer's hand against his adversaries.

This means chiefly helping him to keep alive hopes for the reunification of East and West Germany, the issue his opponents seek most often to exploit against him. Beyond the point of tedium, we must listen to Communist unity proposals even when we suspect they are worse than some of their phony offerings of the past.

Adenauer is one of the real rocks of the Western fortress against communism. We cannot afford to see that rock chipped away.

The Modern Babysitter

Some baby-sitters make a point of asking customers whether they have a television set in the house. If the answer is "no," they refuse to go there.

If things get much worse, buying a television set may be recognized as a necessary first step in parenthood. To have a baby before a television set may come to be looked upon not only as mistaken, but also as somewhat immoral.

People seeking a baby-sitter may have to stand the cold scrutiny of a social-worker type of teenager who calls to check their fitness as parents and employers.

They will answer a long catechism dealing, among other subjects, with their TV set and the kind of aerial it has, the contents of the refrigerator and whether or not the baby smokes in bed.

However, once a baby-sitter is satisfied with a client's references, pay and fringe benefits, and agrees to take the job, he or she will probably do it conscientiously.

Here is a scene that illustrates the stuff modern baby-sitters are made of.

Mr. and Mrs. Frett have rushed home from a dance because their house is on fire. They arrive just as the baby-sitter, Jane Toadfeather, is being carried off in a stretcher after a heroic dash through smoke and flame.

Mr. Frett (at his wife's end): "Did you... I mean, were you too late... that is, were you in time to save...?"
Jane: "Quit stammering, Dad. Sure I saved it. And it wasn't even scorched."

Frett: "Oh, thank you, thank you. We'll never forget you for saving our baby."

Jane: "Whaddya mean, saving your baby? I dunno where HE is. I saved the television set."

Study In Frustration

Greatest Ambition Was Denied Beaverbrook, Biographer Says

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

London — Lord Beaverbrook wanted power. Money plus brains, he thought, would get it for him. He had the brains and he got the money—but power eluded him.

So says Tom Driberg, journalist and left-wing politician, in a book on the 76-year-old press lord who emerged from a New Brunswick manse to become an enigmatic figure in British politics.

Driberg's verdict is implicit in his title: "Beaverbrook: A Study in Power and Frustration." The book traces his career from the first get-rich-quick deal in Canada to the present time, and concludes that despite all appearances the power-lust was never satisfied.

"The appetite was never to be sated; the power remained a mirage," writes Driberg, who worked on Beaverbrook's Daily Express for 15 years.

In short, the book plays down Beaverbrook's impact, both as a backstairs politician, described by a contemporary as the "little Canadian adventurer," and later as a shaper of public opinion. His mass-circulation newspapers are entertaining, Driberg says, but hardly anybody takes them seriously.

Some British writers reject this judgment. Harry Boardman, in the Manchester Guardian, considers his sway in political affairs was important enough to be "equated with power." He adds that a "propagandist of genius, even if misguided," could hardly be lacking power when in control of papers whose circulation runs into millions.

A. J. P. Taylor, writing in The Observer, says what the Beaver really loves is not power but excitement, something to feed his tremendous energy.

"Consider the photograph of him... pencil in one hand, telephone nearby. These are not instruments of power; they exist for their own sake. It is as though Napoleon fought battles not to win them, but solely to provide materials for his army bulletins; it is not necessary to fight the battles as long as the bulletins come out."

Driberg's book was late in appearing, probably because of the subject's strenuous objections to what he calls a "hostile" biography. It is fascinating to speculate upon the pre-publication tug-of-war that almost certainly took place between Beaverbrook and Driberg. The author, incidentally, told a reporter he does not consider it a cruel book, though his attitude is seldom sycophantic. He records the famous headline of 1939—"There Will Be No War"—and says Beaverbrook defended it by saying that if the prophecy proved correct, the paper would win praise, and if wrong nobody would remember. Beaverbrook, who has said he

POWER IN THE LAW

Hamilton Spectator

The distinctions between right and wrong are too often clouded in that half-world where psychiatric technicalities are bandied to and fro and the hoodlum doesn't slug the little old lady to rob her but because he was lonely and unloved when he was a boy.

Let us give back to the law its ancient power as an instrument of correction and punishment in order that it may regain the respectful awe of the people. This we owe to our young people and to the future.

With Billy Graham

By GEORGE BURNHAM

Tokyo — General MacArthur conquered Tokyo before he got here, but Billy Graham had to wait until after he arrived.

Different methods were employed. MacArthur used bullets and Billy used a Bible. History will record which of the two methods produced lasting results.

Every major meeting held by Billy set records for the Protestant history of Japan. Residents said few men have gripped the imaginations of the Japanese people as has the American evangelist.

Here is a typical example of one day after addressing the largest group of pastors ever to gather in Japan. Billy called on Prime Minister Hatoyama at noon.

The Japanese Diet, similar to the U. S. Congress, delayed the customary opening thirty minutes to make the visit possible. Billy told the Prime Minister how Christ had changed his life at age 17 and then outlined the Bible formula for world and individual peace. Hatoyama, who suffers paralysis of the legs and uses a cane like the late President Roosevelt, said he became a Christian as a young man. He added, "Burdens and cares of my office are so great that I couldn't stand up under them unless I go home at night and turn them over to God."

Hatoyama loves church hymns and is the only Prime Minister of Japan ever to have one sung at a session of Diet. He relaxes each night at home by listening to hymns. When one of Hatoyama's staff asked if Billy would pray at the conference the Prime Minister apologized for the fact that he could not stand for the prayer. Billy prayed for him, for Japan, for Russia, for America and for all nations of the world. His secretary, Matsumoto, said it was the first time he had ever seen Hatoyama shed tears.

Billy had a hard time attending the evening rally at Kokusai Stadium. He couldn't get in because of the crowd. A cordon of police, making use of the half track, finally cleared the way. The indoor stadium seating 15,000 was overflowing with 18,000. Long before Billy arrived the crowd outside in frigid weather sent up a clamor saying they would go home if Billy would come out and talk with them. He went out onto the roof and spoke briefly. But few left. They continued the cold vigil and listened to an outside loudspeaker.

In the middle of the address the crowd broke through police lines and several thousand surged into the building. Committee members trembled, fearing that the confusion would break up the meeting. The doors near the platform were crashed open just as Billy was about to give the invocation. People poured in but the attention of the listeners was held. There had to be an unseen force because most of the police were huddled in a room burning trash trying to keep warm.

Over 1,000 decisions were held. Asked afterwards what he thought about all of the pandemonium back of the platform, Billy replied, "It was one of the most attentive audiences I have ever seen."

Sidelights: Highlight of Billy's visit to Japan was the night he addressed 1,200 missionaries. Most of them were from America. This might not seem like such a large number but they represented millions of people. Back of each missionary was a board.

Back of each board there was a church. Back of each church were its members. Old songs of the church rang out with fervor seldom seen. When a man leaves home and travels half-way around the world to talk about Christ he usually means business. At the end of the message Billy said: "Bless your hearts. I'm not preaching to you. I'm preaching to myself."

The American Army had a huge Bible and cross carved out of ice at a luncheon in Billy's honor. Top-ranking British general in Tokyo signed a decision card at a morning meeting. Billy and his interpreter looked like Mutt and Jeff at a rally—Billy 6' 2", interpreter, 5' 4". Sgt. Jacob Deshazer, who made the Doolittle raid on Japan and then returned as a missionary, guided Captain Mitsuo Fuchida into making a decision for Christ. Fuchida was leader of the Japanese squadron which bombed Pearl Harbor.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The Editor,
Sherbrooke Daily Record,
Sherbrooke, Que.

It is very interesting to open the Record and read about our Townships' people who are writers of verse and prose. Seeing a person's name at the bottom of the poem does not mean very much to us when we know nothing about them.

Since there is no other publication in our area to tell us about our great people I hope you will continue writing about others when you have completed the series you are presently doing.

How about our painters, collectors and hobbyists?

Sincerely,
Marguerite C. Knapp.

TRUMP CONTROL SAVES CONTRACT

North's response of two clubs in today's hand is the Stayman Convention, asking South to show a biddable major if he has one. South obediently bids his spades, and North raises to game.

It may seem that North bids a lot on his three kings, but he is justified. He knows that a trump fit has been found, and he adds his nine points to the 16 to 18 points that South has advertised with the opening bid of one no-trump. The total should provide a fine play for game.

South wins the first trick with the ace of diamonds and begins to draw trumps by leading a low trump from his own hand. This gives the enemy one of the trump tricks they are sure to win, but it allows declarer to keep control since he still has the ace of trumps.

Declarer wins the next trick, probably a diamond, and draws one more trump with the ace. Now he has drawn two rounds of trumps, which is exactly the right number.

South proceeds to cash the high clubs and ruffs a club in dummy. He gets back to his hand with the ace of hearts and ruffs his last club in dummy. He doesn't care whether or not this is overruled. The defenders can get only their last high trump and a diamond for a total of three defensive tricks.

South would lose his contract if he tried to draw trumps by leading the ace and then a low spade. East would overtake the second trump and would then lead his ten of spades, thus drawing a third round of trumps. This would leave declarer with only one trump in each hand, and he would fall one trick short of his contract.

North East South West
1 Heart 2 Clubs ?

You, South, hold:
Spades K-Q-7-3; Hearts 5-3; Diamonds A-6-2; Clubs Q-J-9-4.

What do you do?
A—Double. Your hand should take four or five tricks on defense, and North should furnish about three more. If North's hand is bad defense, he will bid again instead of letting your double stand.

TODAY'S QUESTION
The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold:

Spades K-Q-7-3; Hearts A-6-2; Diamonds 5-3; Clubs J-10-9-4.

What do you do?

Thinking It Over—For Lent

By Robt. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
Written for NEA Service
We are halfway through Lent. We are rapidly approaching Holy Week when we think about the trial of Jesus.

The crowds had shouted their praise of His healing, His teaching of justice, His stories of love and compassion and His example of friendship and courage. Yet the public acclaim of Jesus did not move anyone to witness for Him at the civil trial.

He was treated like a criminal. He was convicted on circumstantial evidence of being a political impostor. He was betrayed for a bribe. He was sentenced with the extreme human penalty of slow death on a cross.

All of this happened many years ago. What would happen if He were on trial today? Would we act like the crowds, the disciples and the legalists of long ago? Would we be indifferent to His plight? Would we hesitate to testify? Would we accept a bribe to put Him on trial? Would we convict Him on circumstantial evidence?

We cannot pass off these questions with a shrug of the shoulders. The very thought gives a great deal of cause for self-review.

BABY'S COLDS

Help Nature To Fight Them Off
Medical Science denies there is any such thing as a cure for colds—only Nature herself can do it. So when baby's sniffles, or stuffy breathing, warn you of a cold's presence—cooperate at once with Nature. See that baby is kept warm, gets plenty of sleep and take extra care that the bowels are thoroughly cleared of harmful wastes. To do this without upsetting baby's whole system and further weakening it, try Baby's Own Tablets. Mild, yet act promptly in getting rid of irritating materials that make baby restless and feverish.

One Nova Scotia Mother says: "My baby of 30 months could not resist a cold as I tried Baby's Own Tablets and she threw this cold off quicker than ever before. I certainly am for Baby's Own Tablets from now on." Equally good for restlessness and peevishness resulting from irregularity of bowelling time, for constipation, digestive upsets and other minor infant troubles. Taste good and are easy to take! ## 'At Home' Held By Prayer Group Of Grace Chapel

On Monday evening, March 5, the Women's Missionary Prayer Group of Grace Chapel was "At Home" to some 250 ladies of the women's organizations of the Protestant churches of Sherbrooke and outlying districts.

The guests were greeted by Mrs. A. C. Hill, Mrs. H. Munkittrick and Mrs. W. J. Kinck.

After a brief song service, the gathering, presided over by Mrs. A. C. Hill, sang the hymn "Crown Him with many crowns." Prayer was offered by Miss Marjorie Beckwith. Mrs. Hill extended a warm welcome to all present.

Following the hymn, "To God be the glory," Mrs. Norman Buchanan presented a reading, "One Sabbath Day." The guest soloist was Mrs. Tom McKnight of Montreal who rendered two solos, "Only Believe and Live" and "In the Centre of His Will."

Mrs. Hill introduced the speaker of the evening, Miss Margaret MacKinnon of Montreal and expressed the appreciation and pleasure of the group at her return to the "At Home" for another year.

Miss MacKinnon held the attention of her listeners as she likened the three steps of a profitable Christian life to a three-fold cord which is not quickly broken, spoken of by Solomon. These three steps which Christ had established, she said, were "Look Unto Me, Come unto Me and Abide In Me." By taking these steps, she contended, one might have peace and joy in this life and glory in that to come. Mrs. W. Haffenden closed the service with prayer.

A social time was enjoyed when tea was served to the ladies in groups at attractive tables covered with white linen cloths and centred with daffodils in individual vases.

Mrs. Arnold Baker was in charge of refreshments. The serving was supervised by Mrs. W. Haffenden and table arrangements by Mrs. H. Munkittrick.

SPRING ENSEMBLE — This spring ensemble is designed in pale, wheat-colored wool. The box jacket has three rows of buttons and is lined to match the navy-and-white, dotted silk, bow-tied blouse. The slim navy worsted skirt buttons onto the blouse. (CP)

Baked Chicken Chop Suey

Here's the way to stretch two cups of chicken into ten servings of delicious chicken chop suey. This is an especially easy way to make chicken chop suey because it's baked and served from the same dish. Toasted crisp almonds on top add that "extra touch!"

INGREDIENTS: 2 tablespoons butter or chicken fat from broth from stewing chicken, 1 cup celery, cut in ¼ strips ½" long, ½ cup green pepper cut in ¼" strips ½" long, 3 tablespoons coarsely grated onion, 1½ cups chicken broth or 1½ cups water with 2 chicken bouillon cubes, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 2 tablespoons cold water, 2 tablespoons soy sauce, 1 can Chinese vegetables, 2 cups diced chicken, 2 cups water, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup uncooked white rice, 1½ cup blanched almonds split in half.

METHOD: Melt the butter or fat in a saucepan. Add the celery, green pepper and onion. Cook until the onion is yellow. Add the broth and heat until very hot. Put the cornstarch in a cup or bowl. Mix in the 2 tablespoons water. Slowly stir in some of the hot broth. Return mixture to saucepan. Cook, stirring, until mixture thickens. Stir in the soy sauce, Chinese vegetables and chicken.

In a greased 3-quart oven dish place the water, salt and rice. Top with the chicken mixture. Bake in a pre-heated 350°F. oven for 45 to 55 minutes or until most of the liquid is absorbed. Sprinkle the almonds over the top during the last 15 minutes of the cooking time. This recipe makes 10 servings.

Mrs. A. Fairbrother Heads Huntingville Temperance Union

Mrs. A. Fairbrother was elected president of the Huntingville Women's Christian Temperance Union at the annual meeting, held at the home of Mrs. Herbert MacLaughlin, Stanstead Highway.

After the pledge and devotionals, two articles were read from the Tidings.

The secretary, Mrs. F. Ingham, gave a comprehensive report of the year's work, showing ten meetings held with an average attendance of seven members. Two members attended all meetings. Activities included a strawberry supper, chicken pie supper, a rummage sale, and a "quilting bee" at a members home.

A five dollar donation sent to the Quebec Temperance League. This union entertained the County Convention on May 4 in the Community Hall, Huntingville. The White Ribbon Tidings is sent to all active members.

The Salvation Army band from Sherbrooke also assisted by giving a concert in the Community Hall. Two delegates attended the Provincial Convention in Montreal. Twelve comfort bags were made and packed and sent to the Sailors Institute in Montreal. Wedding gifts were presented to two local prospective grooms.

The Temperance Essay Contest was carried out and prizes or gifts given to all who wrote. Ten dollars was voted to the proposed Dobson Memorial Fund. A quilt was given to a needy family and blankets and a box of good used clothing was sent to Korea. Four food parcels were sent to an elderly cripple in England, and sick and shut-ins were well remembered.

Clip sheets were used at all the meetings and readings from the White Ribbon Tidings added to the temperance education.

At this meeting it was decided to give $5 to the Light Line Union and a gift of $5 and the White Ribbon Tidings to the Red Cross, also $5 to the school for Retarded Children.

Mrs. W. A. Henderson extended thanks to the officers and members for their cooperation during her long term of office as president and tendered her resignation which was accepted with regret. Mrs. F. Ingham who has been a faithful secretary for the past ten years also asked to be replaced as did Mrs. E. Douglas, treasurer.

Mrs. Fairbrother was unanimously elected president, but due to the small attendance at this meeting further elections will be made at a special meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. George Sutherland on March 14. Offices must be filled before the annual convention being held the latter part of March.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah and the hostesses, Mrs. H. MacLaughlin and Miss Bradley were assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. J. DesRuisseaux.

Grandparents Banished--- Today's Family Is Loser

By RUTH MILLET
It was a sad day for the American family when the marriage experts decided that there wasn't any place in the modern family for grandparents.

Young parents fell for the idea, hook, line and sinker. They were told that three generations under one roof were too many. It wasn't even enough for a young couple to have their own home; it ought to be as far away from both sets of parents as possible.

The idea so easily accepted was that grandparents couldn't share a home with grown children and grandchildren without causing friction. Even if they just lived in the same town they would be forever interfering.

So the modern way is for a young couple to get off by themselves and bring up their children without any advice, help, or suggestions from their own parents.

There may be less family friction that way — but the family is poorer for the separation of generations.

Most men and women who have lived long enough to become grandparents have gained wisdom and insight through experience. Most of them have triumphed over difficulties and lived through hard times. They have a resourcefulness that today's young parents and their children haven't been called upon to develop.

They have lived long enough to know life's true values and aren't as easily fooled by appearances as young people.

Since they brought up their own children with a firm hand and common sense, grandparents aren't frightened at all by the "experts" who scare today's parents with their big words.

Many a family that today is ignoring all that grandparents could offer in the way of advice, help, and by example would be better off for those stabilizing influences.

It is probably more than coincidence that when we cut grandparents off from any real influence over the family, juvenile delinquency began to increase. Why don't we say "nuts" to the experts and give grandparents back their rightful place as wise and experienced and devoted members of the family who have a lot to contribute to family living?

SPRING PRINT WORN BY MRS. B. BEAUDRY

MRS. G. SPAFFORD IN EVENING ORGANZA

By CAROL WITTY

Sherbrooke's women of fashion will be noted for their huge hats and paisley prints this spring, according to trends shown at a Beta Sigma Phi fashion show here last night.

No extremes for them, however. What with high couturier fashions tending towards shoulder-wide cartwheel and coolie hats, milliners are making concessions to more conservative Canadian tastes and hats will have the "more hat look" but in medium doses.

Paisley will be seen in everything from cotton to pure silk, and spring colors are to be shades of brown ranging from champagne to rich mink colors. Black, white, and navy will be seen a lot too.

What fashion commentator Mrs. Hawley Griffith called an "ensemble," is a must for every fashion conscious woman. Several of these dual purpose outfits were modelled at the show held in the Sherbrooke High School.

A street ensemble in a light-weight beige tweed, worn by Mrs. John Dunn, featured this tailored-dressy effect. The duster coat, full, with a deep yoked back and three quarter sleeves, covered a short sleeved dress with tailored top and skirt flaring out into deep unpressed pleats. This was worn with a Panama bowler trimmed with beads and gros-grain ribbon.

A second "ensemble" in another popular spring shade, pale avocado, was modelled by Mrs. Bill Richardson. A more dressy style, it highlighted a classic cocktail gown with the again popular Empire waist, covered by a matching duster coat.

All clothes shown in the fashion show were from the Salon Femina in His Majesty's building here, and according to the Salon manager, Miss Terry Miller, most of the fashions are Italian, French or English imports. Pure silks are features of the two former types and from London designers, are coming light weight worsteds for suits, and high-finish cottons, says Miss Miller.

An Italian import modelled by Mrs. Gerry Spafford portrayed the beige to brown trend. An exquisite silk paisley, it featured full skirt, belted natural waistline, short cuffed sleeves, and a small Chinese collar.

From France was a cotton skirt with a stiff lining to make it stand out. In a rich flowered design, this was worn with a yellow cotton blouse by Mrs. John Dunn.

Cotton is becoming more and more accepted by designers for high couturier fashions, and typical of this trend was a four-season cotton from England, worn by Mrs. John Dunn. This charcoal brown outfit carried out the two-piece idea of today's designers, the dress a simple style which could be worn either casually or after five, topped by a tailored jacket. It was complemented by a shiny straw hat in a visor pill-box style with a tailored bow.

The sheath is still a favorite. Mrs. Sanford Carter showed off an everglaze cotton, sheath style, in a pale avocado with pink and tan embroidery. This was styled with a scooped neckline in front going very deep in back. It was topped by one of the daring new "coolie" hats, the heavy look brought out by the deep petal-studded brim.

Mrs. Eugene Menard wore a five o'clock print in tan and deep blue. Another pure silk, it featured a natural waistline, offset by two large bows, one at the neck and one at the hip. A forward beret trimmed with flowers completed this outfit.

A new idea in pockets was seen in another two-piece affair worn by Mrs. Russel Marois. Pockets on the simple box jacket extended right around to the back on both sides. The jacket was worn over a simple black sheath. This two-piece idea was seen again in a brown cotton tweed ensemble, a tailored dress with removable jacket worn by Miss Claire Chagnon.

Evening dresses which reverted briefly to the floor-length ball-room style last fall are back to three-quarter length for spring and summer. Silk and organza are most popular materials and many are topped by duster coats. Mrs. Bob Beaudry modelled this trend in a black silk organza featuring narrow shoulder straps, natural waist, full skirt and topped by a sheer black duster coat.

The eight models showed over 70 spring styles to some 600 women who packed the High School auditorium during the evening. The spring motif was everywhere—in the brilliant bouquets of spring flowers from Hovey's Greenhouse, the smooth organ music played by Jack Lenaghan, the decorations designed by Mrs. G.

Blanchette, Mrs. M. Bradshaw and Mrs. Pierre Beaudry. Supplies were donated by Zellers and National Wallpaper.

Also seen in the show were jewellery from Hart's, furs from Martin Furriers, hats by Irene Dunn, and makeup by Beauty Counselor.

Mrs. Hawley Griffith, a former Beta member, commented on the fashions, and Mrs. Syd

Hart was general convener of the show.

The raffle of a dress and hat was won by Mrs. A. Laberge and door prize winners were: Mrs. J. E. Sauvageau, Miss Anne Boright, Mrs. Bob Beaudry, Mrs. Fred Baldwin, Miss Baril, Mrs. A. Jones, Mrs. Paul Gauthier, Miss Claire Roy, Miss Sue Reid, Mrs. G. Cote, Mrs. R. Quintal and Mrs. Joffe Aubin.

Cookshire W. I. Presents Reports Of Year's Activities

Cookshire — The Women's Institute held its March meeting at the home of Mrs. Ronald Learned, with Mrs. Worby and Mrs. J.

E. Drennan as joint hostesses. The president, Mrs. Ronald Learned, was in the chair, and opened the meeting in the usual manner.

The minutes were read by Mrs. Farnsworth, and the treasurer's annual report, given by Mrs. Heatherington, showed that the receipts were $632.37, expenditures $420.39, balance $211.98.

It was decided to continue giving a local scholarship in grade 11. The Quebec Women's Service Fund was discussed, and one dollar per member is to be taken from the general funds for that purpose. A card party is to be held in the Hall on March 8, the proceeds to be given to the fund for musical instruction for the school children.

Correspondence was read concerning the Tweedsmuir competitions, all articles to be ready by February 1, 1957. Letters were read about forming more Junior W.I.'s school fairs, pas-teurizing of milk, teacher recruiting, traffic laws, etc. More cancer dressings are needed, also knitted squares. The annual county meeting will be held in Bury, on May 4th. Mrs. Robinson, "Link Secretary," read a letter from our link secretary in England.

Annual reports were given by Mrs. R. Hodge, agriculture convener; Mrs. L. G. McKay, education convener; Mrs. J. A. Butler, citizenship convener; Miss W. Hodge, home economics convener.

These reports showed that the members had been very active during the past year. A school fair had been held, and prizes given for the best gardens and for the products from the gardens. A local scholarship of $50 was given to a student in grade 11, and the allocation per member given towards the Honorable C. D. French County bursary, $25 towards school prizes was given to the principal.

A technician from Macdonald College gave a course in hat making and jewellery.

A demonstration was given by the home economics convener, Miss W. Hodge, on fancy sandwich making; 2 dolls were dressed to represent foreign countries, and these were on display at the County Fair, along with the collection of clothes made by various church members for charitable purposes.

A musical entertainment was given by artists from Sherbrooke, and the proceeds sent to the Cecil Memorial Home in Austin. Gifts were given to the Jr. Red Cross at Christmas, also baskets of "Cheer" sent to the sick and shut-ins. A rummage sale was held and a wreath bought from the Legion for Armistice Day. 100 County calendars were sold, the proceeds to go towards the County Bursary, U.N.I.C.E.F. Christmas cards were bought, a subscription taken for the C.A.C. News and 10 subscriptions for the Federated News. A delegate was sent to the convention at Macdonald College, and representatives to the semi-annual and annual county meetings.

The school nurse, Mrs. Watson, and the Health Clinic nurse, Miss Aubin, addressed a meeting, and told of the work done through these two departments of health and welfare. Literature for young mothers is available at the Health Unit in Cookshire. Cotton for cancer dressings was collected and sent to Sherbrooke.

Mrs. G. Johnson stated that tickets for the raffle were nearly all sold, and that, to date, over $30 had been realized.

The representative to the annual county meeting will be Mrs. O. C. Farnsworth. The delegate to Macdonald College, Miss W. Hodge, or her substitute, Miss Lucy Hodge.

Mrs. R. Hodge read the tentative program for the ensuing year, which showed a variety of subjects to be discussed. Miss J. McQuat, Macdonald College technician, is to give an "Oven Way and Salad" course on March 19, at the home of Mrs. Ronald Learned.

Ambitious Projects Are Discussed At Knowlton

Members of the Home Board convened in the I.O.O.F. Lodge room at Knowlton, with the vice-chairman, Murray Ransom, presiding. Business of a routine nature was discussed and decision reached on carrying out the necessary arrangements. The Edith Kathman Home, situated at West Brome, was established a few years ago for the purpose of caring for old people belonging to the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and the Order of the Daughters of Rebekah.

The meeting of the I.O.O.F. Planning Board took place under the leadership of J. A. McLeod, of Montreal. The project for 1956 was discussed and a review of the progress made to date was also considered. The project was arranged to provide certain equipment for the School for Crippled Children and for the camp at Ayer's Cliff. This school is closely connected with the Children's Hospital but is almost entirely dependent on public support, tag days and donations.

Following is an outline of what the I.O.O.F. Planning Board hopes to accomplish during the ensuing year:

For the camp and school recreation hall to supply 300 chairs at $5, $1,500; 40 tables, at $14.50, $580; 2 nesting chairs carts, at $12.50, $25; Total $2,205; To remodel the west dormitory at Camp, $1,000; to build wharf,

$1,200 — $4,405. Subscriptions to date for this project amount to $1,500 and there is assurance of a further $1,100 being received in the near future. This means that the half way mark has been reached.

At 6.30, those who had attended the several meetings during the afternoon, augmented by about 15 members from Montreal and local members, sat down to supper which had been prepared by five ladies from the Colfax Rebekah Lodge, No. 29, Knowlton. Later Knowlton Lodge No. 28, met in regular sessions with the Noble Grand, George Sharman, presiding. Minutes and correspondence were read by the secretary, Thomas Boyd. The first Degree was conferred on five candidates by a Degree Team from Montreal. During the evening a cheque for $101.35, proceeds of a military whist held recently by the Knowlton Lodge, was handed to J. A. McLeod, secretary, of the I.O.O.F. Planning Board.

This was one of the largest meetings held here for some time. A total of 65 members were present, including members from Montreal, Cowansville, Sutton, Waterloo, in addition to the Knowlton Oddfellows.

Pee Wee Leblanc Notches Winner In Overtime With 12 Seconds Left; Teams Clash In Windsor Tomorrow

ASBESTOS — A goal by veteran Pee Wee Leblanc in the dying seconds of a ten-minute overtime period here last night was the margin of victory for the Windsor Paper Makers who pulled a surprise win over the Asbestos Meteors 4-3 before 1,638 fans.

The series will now switch back to Windsor and Edgar Gendron squad now holds the upper hand with last night's victory when they clash tomorrow evening in the Canada Paper Arena. It is also a best-of-five series.

The Paper Makers jumped into a 2-0 lead at the end of the first period while in the second frame the teams failed to break into any scoring. Four penalties were called but the team with the advantage failed to capitalize on them.

The second frame was scoreless. The Paper Makers held the upper hand when the Meteors were short-handed. Tessler and Rainville Dubois were tagged with majors for fighting but even this failed to change the picture.

The third period saw the Meteors rally for two goals to knot the count before the half-way mark. Pelletier got the first one while Richard Champagne potted the second to send the game into overtime.

In the extra stanza Ray St. Cyr, the league's top scorer, broke the deadlock but a minute later Bachand evened the count once again when he finished off a passing play with Claude Couture.

The winning marker came twelve seconds left to play. Pee Wee Leblanc was the payoff marksman when he batted home loose disc from the front of the net. Two of his mates, Couture and Houde, had batted at the disc twice and when the rubber rolled over to the side of the net

Leblanc pounced it and lifted it into the open net for the game winner.

Windsor: Dubois, Bachand, Abran, Bergeron, Laporte, Belblanc, Couture, Houde, Lapierre, Spennard, Cloutier, Parker, Parr, Desrosiers.

Marcel Laliberte Stars As Lasalle Wins Commercial Crown

Marcel Laliberte, who tends the nets for Hotel LaSalle, turned in another outstanding goal-keeping performance to pace his team to a 3-1 victory last night over Hotel Albert and give the Hotel Albert squad the best-of-five finals of the Commercial Hockey League 3-1.

LaSalle's rangy netminder was all over the place and it was only his classy job that kept the Hotel Albert sharpshooters at bay. Time after time he came up with the rubber when it seemed that he was beaten. His performance definitely broke the hearts of the Albert forward line who drove, batted and tipped every thing they could at him but they just couldn't budge him.

Laverdier opened the scoring in the first frame just after the minute mark and it seemed that Hotel Albert was well on their way to even the series but they failed to calculate with Laliberte. Following this quick goal they just couldn't do anything. St. Martin evened the count when he teamed up with A. Jutras to beat Longpre from close range. It was all the scoring of the period. Only two penalties were called in what was supposed to be a rugged contest. The teams were playing good hockey and the fans were treated to as good a game as could be seen anywhere.

In the second frame A. Jutras broke the deadlock when he got away from a gangling play by Albert. St. Martin was sitting out a hooking infraction when his mate broke into the clear and coasted in on Longpre. He made no mistake pulling the goalie out to lift the disc into the open net behind him.

In the final frame the Hotel Albert team applied the pressure and time after time when it looked they would make the red light flash Laliberte came up with the disc. He seemed to be everywhere at the right time. St. Pierre finally was put in the clear when he stopped a drive and was away and he made no mistake to tally third marker and give LaSalle the victory.

First Period
1—Albert, Laverdier (Fortin) . . . 1:40

In the other fifth-round matches Saskatchewan, 2-2, plays British Columbia, 1-2; Quebec, 2-2 meets Newfoundland, 0-4; and Prince Edward Island, 1-3, plays Northern Ontario, 0-3.

Alberta was a double winner Tuesday, defeating Newfoundland 12-7 in the third round and edging British Columbia 7-6 in a thrilling fourth-round match. The Kimberley rink skipped by Harold Jordan scored singles in the last two ends and almost pulled the game out.

Saskatchewan came up with two as they got untracked, after dropping their first two matches.

Shawinigan One Game Away From Second Title
Shawinigan Falls Cataracts, driving for their second straight Quebec Hockey League championship, are only one victory away from their goal.

The Cats maintained their eight-point lead over the runner-up Montreal Royals Tuesday night, edging the Quebec Aces 4-3 while the Royals were blanking the tailend Trois-Rivieres Lions 2-0.

New Brunswick and Montreal both have five games remaining in their regular schedules. The Cats now have 81 points, compared with 73 for the Royals.

Trois-Rivieres' loss to Montreal Tuesday night prevented the Lions from improving their mathematical chances of gaining the fourth and last playoff berth.

Trois-Rivieres, with six games left to play, has 36 points, eight less than the fourth-place Aces, who have five games remaining.

Quebec fell short in a determined drive to overcome a 4-1 deficit in the final period at Shawinigan Falls Tuesday night. The Aces fell one short as Dick Gamble rapped in two markers in the third.

Baldy Mackay scored for Montreal in the first period while Ray Laplante notched the other in the second.

Darts League Finals Start Tomorrow Night

Orfuns Darts Club and the Lake Park team start their best-of-five final series, for the Sherbrooke zone championship of the Southern Eastern Townships Darts League, tomorrow night.

The first game will be played at the Orfuns home grounds in the Wellington Hotel.

Lake Park reached the finals by edging out the Molson's team two games to one. Lake Park won the first game 25-23, lost the second 23-17 and on the deciding contest 21-19.

Orfuns had things a little easier in the semi-finals, knocking out Tuque Rouge in two straight, 24-16 and 26-14. The Orfuns have yet to taste defeat in league or playoff darts. This includes an eighteen game schedule and two playoff games.

The winner of the Orfuns-Lake Park series will enter play-offs with other section winners of the Richmond, Border, Massawippi and St. Francis leagues in quest of the S.E.T.D.L. championship.

Tony Percy Unavailable
Edmonton — (P) — Edmonton's boxing and wrestling commission learned that Tony Percy of Drummondville, Que., Canadian welterweight champion, is on the unavailable lists of both Canadian Boxing Federation and the National Boxing Federation.

CBF Chief Commissioner Gene LeTourneau of Quebec placed Percy on the list after a request from Percy's manager, Sylvio Mirreault, that the title fight, to have been held here March 8 be postponed. Percy was reported suffering from a virus infection.

The Edmonton commission on request asked LeTourneau to place Percy on the unavailable list as to the champion's condition. No certificate so far is forthcoming.

Sullivan Favored To Beat Labua
Syracuse, N.Y. — (P) — John L. Sullivan of England, who learned to fight the hard way, was a slight favorite today to whip Jackie Labua in their 10-round middleweight bout here tonight.

The little-known boxer with the famous name says he rates Labua as "a pretty good fighter," but "I think I'll win."

Labua, miffed at close losses to veteran Gil Turner in his last two starts, promised "I won't leave any question about it this time."

When Sullivan was only 14 he began boxing as a booth fighter in England.

His record of 38 knockout victories in 83 professional fights (not counting the booth boys). His over-all record is 64 wins.

Ross Planche Paces Locals With Two Goals; Normand Jacques Turns In Classy Job; Meet Here Tomorrow

Paced by a two-goal effort by Ross Planche and an outstanding net performance by young Normand Jacques the Sherbrooke Beavers upset the high-flying Magog Aces 5-3 last night in the opening game of the best-of-five semi-finals of the Massawippi Hockey League.

The second tilt is booked for the Sherbrooke Arena tomorrow night when the two teams will square off once again. Eighteen penalties were called in the close checking game with seven of the eight goals tallied being registered when the teams had a man in the sin-bin.

Manager Lucien Lachance announced early this morning that reserve seat tickets would be available today and tomorrow from 4:00 until game time. They can be had by calling the Arena at 2-3222.

Claude Ricard opened the scoring in the first period when Gaston L'Heureux, Magog's rugged rearguard, was off for slashing and just before the end of the period Ross Planche potted his first tally of the evening when Magog had a man in the cooler.

It was all the scoring of the frame although both teams had the extra man advantage as seven penalties were dishied out.

In the second period two goals within a minute by Planche and Bob Bedard made it 4-0 for the Beavers. The Aces had one man in the cooler for the first while each club had a man off for the second tally. Coates drew the nod for holding and during his absence Godhue registered Magog's first tally in the final minute of play.

The third frame saw the Aces go all out in an effort to try and equal the score however Jacques came up with some outstanding saves to help hold his team's margin. Williams went off for interference and this was the setup for Magog's second tally by M. Goyette. L'Heureux was off for his fifth tally when Bernard Cote potted Sherbrooke's fifth tally.

Vaillancourt came through with a solo effort to register the Aces' third and final goal just after the half-way mark. Despite Magog's all out attempt they just couldn't beat Jacques, who was turning everything aside that came his way.

NHL Record Books Undergoing Worst Changes In History; Jean Beliveau Leading Way With Two To His Credit

The record books in the National Hockey League are undergoing one of the greatest wholesale changes in the history of the league.

There are 17 games to go in the 210-game schedule and eight league and 13 club marks have fallen. Another 13 records could be rewritten by the end of the regular season March 18.

Leading the parade of individual record-breakers is Jean Beliveau with two. The classy Montreal Canadian centre has also tied another record and is aiming for a fourth. Two club marks have been changed by Beliveau, too.

New York Rangers, picked to finish last this term, are conducting a general housecleaning on their team marks. They have set five records and individual players have erased another three.

Their most surprising mark is the one which defenceman Lou Fontinato set. He has 188 minutes in penalties and still six games to go. The former league mark of 167 minutes was turned in by defenceman Red Horner of Toronto Maple Leafs 20 years ago.

Of the eight league records which have fallen, half are for penalties. Besides Fontinato's mark — it's also the most time ever spent in the penalty box by a defenceman — Beliveau and Ted Lindsay of Detroit Red Wings are holders of badman honors.

Beliveau's 137 minutes is the record for centres in a season and Lindsay has spent more time for a forward or left winger with 151 minutes.

Maurice Richard of Montreal, hockey's greatest scorer, sets a record every time he scores a goal or gets an assist. His 458 goals and 792 points are league marks.

Beliveau's 44 goals ties him with Joe Malone, a former Canadian.

Beliveau is six goals from Richard's 50-goal total as the highest goal-scoring centre in history. His 81 points erased Elmer Lach's total of 80. Malone fired 44 goals in 1917-18 and Lach set his record in 1944-45.

Beliveau has six goals from Richard's 50-goal total as the highest goal-scoring centre in history. His 81 points erased Elmer Lach's total of 80. Malone fired 44 goals in 1917-18 and Lach set his record in 1944-45.

Bert Mordue of Canadiens has a good chance to set a record for most assists in a season. He has 51, four less than the total registered by Lindsay in 1949-50.

Canadians have a slim chance of compiling the most points in a team in a season. They have 92 points and six games to play. Red Wings set the record of 102 points in 1950-51.

The league resumes action Thursday after a layoff since Sunday. Toronto visits Montreal, Rangers and Black Hawks play at St. Louis and Boston and Red Wings tangle at Detroit.

Championship Won By Local Lucky Sparkles
Toronto — (P) — Lucky Sparkles owned by R. L. Bishop of Sherbrooke was named the champion pony for Zone One by president George Jacobson of the Canadian Horse Shows Association.

Points won by riders and horses throughout the various fairs for 1955 were tallied up. On the basis of the total-point score an engraved certificate is awarded.
