DEMANDS DEFENCE INVESTIGATION

Flaming Trap Kills 19 Soldiers — These are two fire-ravaged trucks in a raging forest fire in the Troodos Mountains in Cyprus. British authorities reported 19 men killed and 68 injured in the inferno, which was believed started by fleeing rebels. The fire engulfed the troops as they closed in on the suspected hideout of the rebel leader, George Grivas. (NEA Radio-Telephoto)

Retired Staff Chief's Statements Should Be Probed Says PC Chief

OTTAWA — (P) — The main figure emerging in the current defence debate in the House of Commons is a man who isn't even there.

Since his retirement as army chief of staff last summer, spare, erect Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds has, through speeches across Canada and magazine articles, launched a one-man campaign against the government's defence policy.

Opposition leader Drew Thursday seized on Gen. Simonds' statements to demand that Prime Minister St. Laurent establish at once a standing Commons defence committee to investigate the general's charges against the defence department.

He said Gen. Simonds, in effect, has alleged a complete breakdown of administration within the department. If his statements were true, they comprised a damning indictment of the department.

Gen. Simonds has charged, among other things, that junior civil servants in the defence department stall the carrying out of armed forces decisions, that headquarters is top-heavy in personnel and cumbersome, that the chiefs of staff are prevented from putting their views before the minister and that the Canada-United States permanent joint board on defence blocks close liaison between the Canadian and American chiefs of staff.

Nearly every speaker in the debate, which continues today, has mentioned Gen. Simonds. Three top-rank Progressive Conservatives—Mr. Drew, Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC, and Howard Green, Vancouver Quadra, have demanded that Defence Minister Campney reply to the general's charges.

At one point Thursday, Mr. Campney asked Mr. Drew whether he approved of Gen. Simonds' views on the need for national selective service.

Mr. Drew said he disapproves of some things the general says. But he might well ask Mr. Campney the same question because the minister had given Gen. Simonds "blanket approval" at the time of the army chief's retirement.

The opposition leader said Gen. Simonds and the present chiefs of staff should be called before a committee to give facts on which an intelligent defence debate could be based. The reason the government for years had refused to set up a defence committee was to prevent members of Parliament from obtaining information.

Inherited Stalin's Purges

SAN FRANCISCO — (P) — State Secretary John Foster Dulles made a slashing attack on "Soviet Communist despotism" Thursday assailing its present leaders as "close collaborators" of the late Joseph Stalin and the beneficiaries of his "sadistic" purges.

The speech made by Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev on the abuses of Stalin's rule, Dulles said, "is the most damning indictment of despotism ever made by a despot."

"It should of itself be sufficient," he said, "to make all free peoples shun that type of despotism as they would shun a plague."

Addressing the annual convention meeting of Kiwanis International Dulles challenged the Soviet rulers to put to the test in Germany their argument that communism will be freely accepted by non-Communist peoples on its merits.

At the "summit" conference in Geneva last year, he said, Russia's rulers pledged themselves to let the German people—in East as well as West Germany—have free elections.

Yet, he said, since the Geneva meeting the Soviet government has refused to fulfil its promise of free elections because it fears the German people would reject communism and its "so-called social gains" in East Germany.

Dulles said the main point to be drawn by the Free World from Khrushchev's sensational expose of the Stalin era is that it demonstrates "the inability of the Soviet Communist system to liquidate its own evil leadership."

Under this system, Dulles went on, "only death or violence can assure the end" of a period of misrule.

Bench Warrants Issued

Montreal — (P) — Bench warrants were issued Thursday for 36 men and women who failed to appear in court after being released on bail following their arrests in connection with voting irregularities in Wednesday's provincial election.

The accused forfeited their $25 bail deposits. Most were arrested in a raid on an alleged headquarters of a vote telegraphing ring.

The ring operated by sending its members to vote illegally.

Police said it ran a shuttle service by taxis and other vehicles between the headquarters and various polling stations.

Meanwhile, 13 men accused of carrying offensive weapons, pleaded not guilty and were released on $50 bail deposits pending trial July 12.

Three baseball bats, iron bars, a hunting knife and a heavy auto wrench were among weapons police said they seized from two cars during the arrests.

Four other men also appeared in court on charges of being in possession of a blackjack but were released after the prosecutor said he thought the charges should be withdrawn.

Legion Hunts Rebels

Algiers — (Reuters) — French foreign legionnaires, supported by artillery and rocket-firing planes, today tracked down a band of Algerian insurgents who killed 10 soldiers in a surprise ambush near Sidi Bel Abbes, the famed legion fort in western Algeria, Wednesday.

The legionnaires are fanning through wooded, mountainous country which stretches to the south of Sidi Bel Abbes, a city of 60,000 people and the foreign legion's headquarters in the region.

In another offensive against insurgent bands in the Nementcha mountains, planes have been using guided rockets, according to a report reaching Algiers today.

The aim of this offensive is to stop the flow of arms destined for the insurgents from nearby Libya, the report said.

More than 3,000 troops, aided by marine commandos and planes, attacked a band of well-armed insurgents hiding in mountain caves close to the sea, west of Oran, last Wednesday.

France will have 260,000 land forces in Algeria by the end of July, Robert Lacoste, French minister residing in Algeria, has expressed the hope that the stepped-up military drive against the insurgents will have produced "tangible results" by fall.

Strike Deadline Near For US Steel Industry

NEW YORK — (P) — Tinged with new bitterness, the steel labor contract negotiations continued today in the face of an inexorably approaching strike deadline, now only eight days away.

Accusing the industry of "conspiracy" to force a shut-down, the United Steelworkers went methodically about the task of setting up their strike machinery. Should it come, the strike could call out 650,000 American workers immediately and play havoc with the economy.

The companies were standing fast, but there was a faint hint that the giant United States Steel Corp. might not be as unyielding as the others.

The "big three" of steel—U.S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic—sent letters to their 350,000 workers praising the industry proposal for a five-year contract. There was a note of finality in the Bethlehem and Republic texts not noted in U.S. Steel's.

As the company negotiators put it last week: Steel's offer is not a floor from which the companies will be bargained upward.

In general terms, the companies figure they are offering fixed annual pay raises of 7.3 cents an hour. Hourly wages now average $2.46 in the U.S. The companies estimate the first year's cost of their "package" at 14 to 15 cents.

The union estimates that the fixed annual pay boosts would amount to only a nickel a day in take-home pay.

The steel talks started out this year in so-called joint negotiations involving the big three. The apparent hope was that agreement would set the pattern for other companies.

A deadlock ensued when the companies announced that they would bargain only within the framework of their own proposal. For two days the union then carried on separate talks with individual companies.

When these also got nowhere, there was a return to joint bargaining Thursday. After 3½ hours the meeting adjourned. Again there had been no headway.

Government officials in Washington privately expressed increasing concern over the possibility of a steel strike, but said that for the time being they intended to keep out of the bargaining.

However, it was reported that

Liberal Elected By 176 Votes In Hull County

Hull, Que. — (P) — Liberal Oswald Parent today was declared elected in Hull constituency after an official count of ballots settled the last undecided seat in Wednesday's Quebec provincial election.

Returning officer Jacques Beland said Parent had a 176-vote lead over Union Nationale Candidate Roland St. Onge.

The final count — Lucien Gaboury (Lab.-Prog.) 84; J. L. Garneau (Ind.-UN.) 1,900; St. Onge, 10,421; Parent, 10,597; Maurice Regimbald (SDP) 153.

Dancing Lessons For Army

OTTAWA — (P) — Dancing lessons for ordnance corps cadets? And sponsored by the national defence department?

William Hamilton (PC-Montreal Notre-Dame-de-Grace) says it's so.

Not only that, he added in the Commons Thursday night but the department also has issued two booklets.

Beginning Hockey and How to Play Better Hockey.

Stanley Knowles (CCF-Winnipeg North Centre) suggested: "Perhaps the department could give lessons in fancy skating—it's done a lot of that."

Mr. Hamilton referred to a picture of a group of ordnance corps cadets taking dancing lessons at the "Rosita and Dena dance studio" in Montreal. He said apparently the cadets were there "as a national defence project."

Lodger Shot, Owner Held

COCHRANE, Ont. — (P) — Mrs. Toini Kolin, 42, was shot to death Thursday night, climax to a day-long rooming-house argument.

Picked up for questioning was the establishment's proprietor, Walter Pakkala, 49, and early today he was still held as police investigation continued.

Mrs. Kolin was found dead on the floor, a bullet wound through her chest.

MONTREAL — (P) — Police said Thursday they have smashed an international organization dealing in the printing and sale of obscene photographs.

A raid on a studio in downtown Montreal, they said, has broken a business estimated to have an annual profit of more than $1,000,000. It followed a six-month investigation by Montreal police, federal post office authorities and the RCMP.

One man was arrested. Seized were some 2,100 immoral photographs and a card index file containing the names and addresses of 15,000 persons, believed subscribers.

The listed addresses were reported to be from almost every major city in North and South America and also included Rhodesia, Transvaal and South Africa.

Police charged John Malcolm Ellis, 28, with being in possession of immoral photos. The organization is alleged to have branches in several other Canadian cities.

World News In Brief

LOS ANGELES — (P) — A blonde cocktail waitress, 27 and pretty, told a judge Thursday that a refusal to play strip poker almost cost her her life. Mrs. Juanita Bradley, seeking a divorce from her husband, John, said the 29-year-old shipyard worker insisted on playing strip poker in mixed company, and "when I refused he took me down to the beach and dumped me into the water." Mrs. Bradley got the divorce.

HUGO, Okla. — (P) — The summer recreation program for the elder citizens of this south-east Oklahoma town was crippled Thursday when someone stole the domino table from under the trees in a downtown lot. A reward of $15 was quickly offered.

RIVERSIDE, Calif. — (P) — The city council has finally made it legal for couples to dance cheek-to-cheek. It passed an ordinance Thursday repealing a 31-year-old ban against such romantic goings-on on the dance floor.

BATESVILLE, Ark. — (P) — A 13-year-old girl was severely injured Thursday when her scalp was torn off by a rotary machine in a portable grain elevator. The victim was Donna Ruth Parks. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Parks, her parents, said the girl's pony-tail hair-do became caught in the machine.

HOLLYWOOD — (P) — Judith Anderson got carried away Thursday night and uttered the word "damn" on a television broadcast, she said. The slip came during a performance of Mary Roberts Rinehart's The Circular Staircase. "I just got carried away by my role and didn't know I had said the word until it was too late," the actress related after the CBS show Climax.

NORWAY, Me. — (P) — Four children in the care of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Nottage were credited Thursday night with saving their step-parents' farm by fighting a fire bucket-brigade fashion for 20 minutes until the volunteer fire department arrived. The state wards said they knew they had to act fast because last July a blaze destroyed the old Nottage farm in nearby South Paris.

HOLLYWOOD — (P) — Comedian George Burns was resting today in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital after minor surgery Thursday of an undisclosed nature. His condition was listed as good.

HANOVER, N.H. — (P) — A government economist said Thursday that the growth of Russian output per worker is exceeding that of the United States. Grover Ensley, staff director of the joint economic committee of Congress, told the Dartmouth Conference on Economic Growth that the productivity of the Russian worker is increasing at the rate of six per cent a year compared to a three-per-cent increase by the American worker.

Ask Credit Restraint Ease In Commons But Banker Disagrees

MONTBELLLO, Que. — (P) — President F. W. Nicks of the Canadian Bankers' Association said today the present policy of credit restraint is designed "to sustain and prolong prosperity by not allowing an inflationary spree to take over."

Increasing restraint was applied by the chartered banks as a result of monetary actions and suggestions of the Bank of Canada following unusually strong pressure during the last 12 months for additional credit, Mr. Nicks told the CBA's annual meeting.

Through credit restraint "loans have become less easy to obtain, increases have become difficult to arrange and, for some purposes, quite out of the question," said Mr. Nicks.

"It may seem strange to talk of credit restrictions while there is abundant evidence of continuing prosperity for the country at large. But we are living in age of national economic management, not only in Canada but in all leading nations, and one of the prime objectives of such management is to see that booms do not get out of hand and lay the groundwork for depressions."

The Bank of Canada used recognized monetary powers to increase or diminish chartered banks' aggregate capacity to supply credit in the form of loans or investments. Also, the central bank sometimes sought informal arrangements with the chartered banks to deal with special situations.

"Experience is showing that it takes a good deal of determination and rather strong medicine to bring a surging business expansion under reasonably effective control."

Mr. Nicks said it is better to put up with some restraint now and work in co-operation. The alternatives might be "either another bout of inflation, with the attendant danger of a serious subsequent shakeout or else a return to the apparatus of direct control over business and individual activities."

Can Enforce Closing Of Night Spots

MONTREAL — (P) — A Quebec Court of Appeal decision Thursday opened the way — at least temporarily — for police to enforce regulation closing hours in Montreal night spots.

More than 50 night clubs face civil court actions.

There was speculation, however, that this may be delayed by carrying the appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada.

In Thursday's decision, the Appeal Court rejected the attempt by Vic's Restaurant, Inc., to reverse a superior court decision last year.

The case sprang from the refusal of the police last year to grant annual operating permits to the restaurant and 23 other premises. Another 57 were refused permits this year, also for contravening closing hour regulations and other rules.

OTTAWA — (P) — Demands from opposition members that the government's credit-tightening policy be loosened to let more money into the home mortgage field have evoked a non-committal reaction from Finance Minister Harris.

But he did make it apparent during Commons questioning Thursday that the government has the situation under observation.

Careful to drop no hints that a reduction in the record-high Bank of Canada interest rate may be forthcoming, Mr. Harris said the government is "keeping a very careful watch on the results of the policy and how it may be affecting particular groups of people."

Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North Centre) said loan money is available for speculative investment but not for home building. He suggested a policy of selective credit control so that "such credit as is available might be made available for the building of homes."

Mr. Harris said that whether a general or particular credit control is desirable "will be considered from day to day."

Replying to John Diefenbaker (PC—Prince Albert), he said there is no basic for press speculation that a reduction in the Bank of Canada's three-per-cent interest rate might come within six weeks.

Mr. Harris said he will meet Tuesday with a delegation of the Toronto Metropolitan Home Builders' Association to hear their problems. He expected representations from other parts of Canada.

Mr. Harris said he was meeting today with the Canadian Bankers' Association at Montebello, Que.

"But nothing is to be read into that other than the statement that I am going to see them."

It has been learned from high-placed financial authorities that the chartered banks themselves may decide to ease on mortgage loans while tightening loans in other fields.

At the Bank of Canada's request the chartered banks have generally limited the flow of loans. But authorities here say the central bank gave no orders as to which category of loans was to be reduced.

English Poet Dead At 83

TWICKENHAM, Eng. — (P) — Walter de la Mare, internationally known British poet, died today at the age of 83.

De la Mare was one of the few members of the Order of Merit, a non-title honor reserved for no more than 24 living persons of special eminence. Queen Elizabeth named the poet to the order in 1953.

De la Mare was 30 years old before he published his first book, Songs of Childhood, which was the start of an almost endless series of stories for children.

Last year he and the American-born sculptor, Sir Jacob Epstein, were awarded certificates of honorary membership in the American Academy of Arts and Letters.

Announcing the NEW CROWN & ANCHOR Lager Beer

Now milder, smoother, lighter to the taste...
sparkling clear and brilliant to the eye!

Here in the BREW KETTLE a difference is created

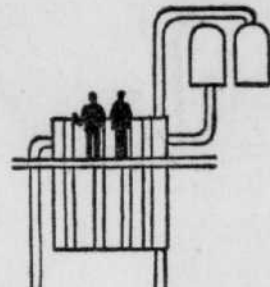

You've been looking for the ideal lager beer... one without a hint of bitterness, sting, or over-sweetness.

Take one sip of the new Crown & Anchor. After just that one sip you'll want to know why it tastes milder (not bitter), smoother (not sharp), lighter (not heavy-sweet). And as your pleased glance falls upon the glass, you'll want to know why the bubbles shine so brilliantly in this clear, sparkling brew.

Here are the why's... 1. Because a new pure yeast strain — imported from Copenhagen — has been introduced into the fermenter to make the beer more mellow. 2. Because the ageing period has been lengthened. 3. Because the Molson's brewmasters have developed just a slight variation in the proportions of malt, hops and other ingredients that go into the brew kettle — and it has made an important difference. 4. Because subtle changes — just a few vital minutes — have been made in the timing of the brewing processes. 5. Because this new brew is forced through thousands of layers of filtering material to remove any haze and impart a brilliance to the finished product.

All slight... all seemingly "un-world-shaking" — but together these refinements have produced Molson's new Crown & Anchor, a truly tasty lager beer.

Here in the FERMENTER a difference is created

Tested by trained palates and plain people... both say new Crown & Anchor tastes best!

The new Crown & Anchor was first submitted to a panel of trained beer tasters. These trained testers sipped from an unidentified glass of new Crown & Anchor... then from unidentified glasses of other popular lagers.

These trained palates gave the new Crown & Anchor higher marks than any other lager for mildness, smoothness and lightness of taste. And trained eyes gave new Crown & Anchor the highest marks for clarity and brilliance.

Then bottles of the new Crown & Anchor and bottles of the next most popular lager — both identified only by numbers — were left in thousands of homes throughout Quebec. Interviewers called later to get these ordinary consumers' opinions. Here's what they found...

Everywhere, new Crown & Anchor was preferred by a majority of all lager consumers.

Like the trained experts, these average consumers preferred Molson's new Crown & Anchor for its mildness, smoothness, lightness of taste... for its sparkling brilliance and clarity.

Prove it for yourself...

Call for a "CROWN" today!

A Vote Of Confidence

Now that the election is over, the government at Quebec should set to work immediately to substantiate the confidence that the people have again shown in Mr. Duplessis and his associates.

The vote was a wonderful mandate for the Union Nationale government. It strengthened the government hand so forcefully that its position would appear strong for many years, barring some unforeseen upheaval.

With such an expression of goodwill for his Union Nationale administration, Mr. Duplessis might be well advised to dispel some rather distasteful suggestions that have been made about the government at Quebec.

For example, despite the fact that St. Maurice elected a Liberal, why not give them the bridge that was held up as bait for a Union Nationale majority? A handful of votes seems to be hardly justification for depriving a community of something which apparently is warranted.

Quebec is a thriving province, probably just on the verge of tremendous development. Certainly nobody has worked and fought harder for what he believed to be the rights of his province than has Mr. Duplessis.

His methods may sometimes antagonize other sections of the Dominion — may also cause disquiet in his own province — but, for all that, there is one thing paramount in his makeup and that is a grim determination to strengthen and develop the Province of Quebec.

This is a great and admirable ambition, one that should be held by all citizens of this province. Let us all work to this end, ignoring petty differences, strengthened in the knowledge that this is a rich and fertile land whose opportunities are limited only by our energy and initiative.

Lost By Default

Well, The Tribune has lost another election.

This in itself really isn't too serious since most newspapers lose elections at one time or another.

Rather, it was the manner in which this big French-language daily lost the election that seems to bear comment. The Tribune, in a sense wasn't beaten; it lost by default.

An editorial recently appeared in the Ottawa Journal which throws a bit of light on the subject. The Journal was highly critical of the Saint John Telegraph Journal, which neglected to take a stand in the New Brunswick elections. This is part of what The Journal said:

"On the eve of the New Brunswick provincial election the Saint John Telegram Journal, largest newspaper in the province, came out with an editorial captioned 'Be Sure to Vote On Monday.'"

"Under certain circumstances this is good advice. Unfortunately, this was the first mention of the election that had appeared in the Saint John paper's editorial page for at least a week prior to the election; it made no attempt whatsoever to try to clarify the issue or to help the elector to cast his vote intelligently or usefully. It was just neutral. Silently neutral.

"A neutral newspaper or neutral individual has no right advising or exhorting anybody to vote. And if a voter has to be exhorted to vote the chances are that he would be serving democracy and his community better by staying at home."

So it was with The Tribune. Its silence was punctuated by an editorial last Tuesday which reminded its readers that there was an election coming up and "To vote is a right and obligation."

Here was a paper whose influence is felt in more than 20,000 homes in the Eastern Townships, yet it failed utterly to provide its readers with even the slightest advice on what issues were at stake and what it felt was the significance of these issues.

The Tribune is a Liberal paper and everybody knows it. It is useless to hide this fact, nor is there any reason to be ashamed of it. As an "opposition" newspaper, its opinions perhaps take on even greater importance in the community.

But opinions, good or bad, can carry little weight if they lie hidden under a cover of transparent neutrality.

The Quebec Elections

(Ottawa Journal)

Mr. Maurice Duplessis remains Quebec's "uncrowned king", sits on his political throne more firmly than before.

This is all the more remarkable, seeing that Mr. Duplessis faced a challenge on two fronts from what many believed to be formidable forces: (1) An alliance of provincial Liberals with the "Union des Electeurs" (Quebec's version of the Social Credit party) and the old Nationalist leader Mr. Rene Chalout, and (2) a group of Federal cabinet ministers and Liberal MP's who chose to make this Quebec contest their own.

In 1939, at the beginning of World War II, three of Mr. Mackenzie King's Quebec ministers, Mr. Lapointe, Mr. Carlin and Mr. Power, unsheathed their sharp swords against Mr. Duplessis — and Duplessis fell.

In the campaign which ended yesterday four of Mr. St. Laurent's Quebec ministerial captains, Mr. Marler, Minister of Transport, Mr. Lesage, Minister of Northern Affairs, Mr. Lapointe, Minister of Veterans' Affairs, and Mr. Pinard, Secretary of State, evidently believed they could make history repeat; supported by a phalanx of Ottawa Liberal backbenchers they entered the Quebec fray early and stayed late.

But the influence of these Quebec federal Liberal ministers upon Quebec voters in 1956 — if we may judge from Mr. Duplessis' far too decisive victory — must have been a far cry from that of their formidable predecessors of 1939. Not only did Mr. Duplessis increase his party's representation in the Legislature (from 65 at dissolution to 72); he received a higher percentage of the popular vote (from 48 percent, to 52 percent), and — perhaps most spectacular and significant of all — wrested from the Liberals the Quebec East riding which is represented in the House of Commons by Prime Minister St. Laurent.

Quebec East was not only an historic Liberal fortress; it was a Liberal shrine, almost since Confederation held unbrokenly by three men, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Mr. Ernest Lapointe, and Mr. St. Laurent. That such a constituency, won by the provincial Liberals in 1952 by a majority of 800, should now go over to the Union Nationale by a majority running into thousands, must assuredly bring concern to Ottawa's Liberal high command.

Mr. Duplessis' party is not a Conservative party; but federal Liberals have not forgotten, and will today probably remember more than before, that it was built upon a hard core of Conservatism — the old Quebec Bleu party — that Mr. Duplessis is of Conservative lineage, and that his principal ministers, Gagnon, Barrette, Sauve, Bourque, Beaulieu and Rivard are federally as Conservative as Mr. George Drew.

Mr. Duplessis' majority is too great; his power now too entrenched; it would be better for him, and far better for Quebec's government and politics, were he confronted by a strong opposition. For Mr. Duplessis, like all fallible human beings, will be weakened by too much authority, almost inevitably become a prey of the infirmities of complacency and autocracy which power held too long and decisively have brought to ministers in Ottawa.

The Journal has not much use for those in English-speaking Canada who profess to regard Mr. Duplessis as an arrogant dictator, likening him sometimes to Peron and Franco. But The Journal does believe that Mr. Duplessis would have been far better off with a lot less of the almost unanimous support which Quebec gave him yesterday. A numerically weak Liberal opposition in Quebec, or in Ontario for that matter, is just as much a democratic failure as a numerically weak Conservative opposition in the Parliament of Canada, breeding the same evils.

THE GOOD DOCTOR

(Peterborough Examiner)

Mr. Massey made a strong plea for the widest possible education in the humanities for physicians, as well as their special training. This is asking much, for a medical course is long and arduous. But we think Mr. Massey is right.

The great physician is not the man with the most machines, but the Osler or Groddeck who has learned to ferret out the secrets of body and mind, acquiring this knowledge as much from literature and history as from the clinic and the lecture room.

When we are really ill, we want to feel that we are in the hands, not only of a team of technicians, but of men whose understanding of mankind goes deeper than a single science.

RUSSIAN GOLF

(Brantford Expositor)

It is altogether likely that the more enlightened among the peoples of the Soviet Union have heard of golf. Indeed the wonder is that the Russian experts in national biography (not to mention propaganda) have not long since come up with the claim that a Russian invented golf long Muscovite centuries ago.

As it turns out, however, this is one pursuit the inhabitants of the Soviet Sixth of the globe do not seem to have cultivated. Proof of this is indicated in the fact that during their recent visit to England Marshal Bulganin, the Soviet Prime Minister, and his associate, Mr. Khrushchev, were introduced for the first time to the strange implements and small ball to which so many recreationists are devoted.

The gentlemen from the Kremlin seemed interested and even tried their hands at the strange game. After that they were more interested than ever.

Digesting this information, the usually sedate Wall Street Journal comes up with the bright suggestion that this subject should be pursued farther.

"Both Bulganin and Khrushchev," it remarks, "look like men whose physique would be benefited by a little exercise. But above and beyond the benefit that might accrue to both gentlemen is the change that might be worked in international relations. No man can play golf and remain dictator. By the time he has sliced into a trap and taken four strokes to get out, he has learned just how humble he really is."

Of course this sort of thing might have the effect of ruining Russian dispositions and making them more irascible than they used to be in the days of the late vituperative Vishinskiy, but it's worth a thought. Before now more has been accomplished on the golf links than at the diplomatic table.

IMPERIALISM, RUSSIAN-STYLE

(Windsor Star)

It is utter hypocrisy for Russian Communists to pretend they are against colonialism when, in fact, they are the worst sort of imperialists. Because, in their empire, they perform a type of imperialism heretofore not prevalent in the world.

They not only dictate how these people shall be ruled, or how their economic or other affairs be managed. They not only keep them, physically, in strict subjection. They dictate what they must think and say, by educational processes and propaganda. "Thought control" is a new form of imperialism.

It may be, under the new regime, Russia is loosening a little the control over the satellite states. But there is a definite limit to this process, else that part of the Communist empire will fall apart. And there is no chance whatever of Russia allowing the Letts, Estonians and Lithuanians their freedom — much less the subject peoples of central Asia.

THE GREAT WALL OF CANADA

BYGONE DAYS

THIRTY YEARS AGO

From the Record of Tuesday, June 22, 1926.

Farmers throughout Western Canada are rejoicing over a heavy rainfall which has assured them of sufficient moisture to safeguard the grain crops for several weeks. There is promise of one of the heaviest crops on record.

An early House vote is expected on the Conservative no confidence in the Mackenzie King Government. As the Conservatives comprise the largest single group in the House there is a probability the Government may face defeat.

Supporters of the Taschereau Government at Quebec, speaking at a political rally in Sherbrooke, declared that the provincial treasury would have the sum of $1,000,000 for the reduction of the public debt during the present year.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

From the Record of Monday, June 22, 1936.

A caucus of the Provincial Opposition parties held in Sherbrooke over the weekend resulted in Maurice Duplessis being given the overwhelming support of both groups in an effort to oust the Liberal party which has been in power for 40 years.

Twenty persons were killed and a large number injured as the result of a series of racial clashes in Palestine over the weekend.

Although favoring the lifting of sanctions against Italy, the Baldwin Government has refused to recognize the Italian seizure of Ethiopia. The Mediterranean situation is further complicated by the demand of the Turkish Government for the right to fortify the Dardanelles.

TEN YEARS AGO

From the Record of Saturday, June 22, 1946.

Final details were today whipped into shape for government control of lake shipping which comes into effect at 9 a.m. Monday. Capt. E. S. Brand, of Ottawa, is expected to set up headquarters in Toronto and a large scale resumption of lake traffic appears likely early in the week ending the tie-up caused by the Canadian Seamen's Union strike.

Strikes and demonstrations protesting the arrest of Jawaharlal Nehru president-designate of the All-India Congress Party, crippled services in major cities of India yesterday and several persons were injured at Madras in South India.

A Board of Arbitration sat yesterday at the Court House to hear viewpoints of the City of Sherbrooke and the Brotherhoods of Police and Fire Employees of the city in the question of wages, over which the two have been at loggerheads for some time.

FASHION NOTE

(Owen Sound Sun-Times)

When you see a young lady with her petticoat showing don't go up and tap her on the shoulder and tell her about it. It would appear that it is all done on purpose.

There can be no other explanation for such a general display of filmy lace and pretty colors. In recent years a miss or older lady might have appreciated being told if her "slip was showing," particularly if it was done in a discreet manner. Then, however, they were just plain "slips," we think. Now however there has been a reversion back toward the voluminous petticoats of another era.

Not only that, but they are of many colors that were impossible in those olden days. And so they are allowed to discreetly peek beneath skirts, and are so arranged that when the young lady rushes along the street, giving a bit of a swirl as she turns the corners, there is a restrained fanlike swirl accompanied by a flashing color.

Pernaps even the handpainted hosiery, with their arrows, snakes and other designs, will some day soon return to milady's favor.

WOMEN ELIGIBLE

Since 1920, women have been eligible for the Victoria Cross, highest decoration for valor, but no woman has ever received it.

Old Driftwood Carving Hobby For B.C. Woman

VICTORIA — Mrs. Sophie King's driftwood carvings are in great demand, but the 76-year-old artist can't bear bear to sell any of them.

Many visitors to her home on Salt Spring island, near Victoria, want to buy, "They beg, beseech and cajole," she said, "but I don't want to break up my collection. I'm sorry."

Fifteen years ago she made her first carving, transforming a bit of driftwood into a frog. Now she has a set of more than 50 woodworking tools and a collection of 30 carved carvings.

She took up her hobby because she found time on her hands when her husband was fishing. "I find all the driftwood I need on our beach."

"The important thing is to find wood with natural crooks in it that can easily be carved into the shape of a particular bird or animal."

One of the best-loved carvings in her collection is a giant bald eagle. She is also proud of a cornucopia, a woodpecker, a painted totem pole carved from the vertebrae of a sealion, a monkey and a weasel.

She wonders how tourists find their way to her home, in an isolated section not on a public road.

DOUBLE BRINGS UNUSUAL LEAD

There wasn't much to the play of today's hand. West opened a heart, and East ruffed. East then cashed the ace of clubs, defeating the slam contract. South easily won the rest of the tricks. South would have fulfilled the slam contract if West had led anything but a heart. South would be able to draw three rounds of trumps, then take the three top hearts and ruff a heart. South's fifth trump would take care of dummy's low diamond, and dummy would therefore win everything but one club trick.

The whole point of the hand is in the bidding. How did West know that a heart lead would work out best?

West didn't, in fact, know what was going to happen. His partner's double of six spades had demanded an unusual lead, and West was simply being obedient. As we have seen, his obedience paid big dividends.

This kind of slam double, invented more than 20 years ago by Theodore A. Lightner of New York, is used by experts of all countries. In today's hand, for example, East and West were English, and the hand itself was part of an international match.

Lightner reasoned that you can't expect to get rich by doubling reliable opponents when they have voluntarily bid a slam. Hence there is no need for an ordinary penalty double in this situation. Instead, the double can be reserved for situations in which you think that an unusual lead will defeat the contract.

West might have led a club or a diamond as no double, since it is usual to lead a suit that your side has bid. After the double,

West knew that he was expected to lead a suit that his side had not bid. The choice of a heart was therefore marked.

CARD SENSE

Q—At rubber bridge, neither side vulnerable, the bidding has been:

West North East South
1 ♠ Heart Pass Pass 3 ♠
You, South, hold:
Spades J-3-2, Hearts 5, Diamonds K-8-7-5, Clubs K-Q-J-7-3.
What do you do?

A—Bid two clubs. You have enough strength to act, but you should bid rather than double because you would not be pleased by either a spade response or a penalty pass.

TODAY'S QUESTION
The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold:

Spades A-3-2, Hearts 5, Diamonds K-8-7-5, Clubs K-Q-J-7-3.
What do you do?

Norah Leonard Pupils Hold Annual Recital

The pupils of Norah H. Leonard, B.A., F.M.C.M., held their annual piano recital in the Synagogue Hall on Montreal Street Tuesday night.

Forty-five young boys and girls participated in the program and the pupils combined talents in a short choral interlude when they sang "The Ice-Cream Man" with Richard Palmer and Peter Smith, taking the solos parts and Miss Louise Katadotis acted as accompanist.

Following the program, A. J. Philip of Windsor Mills congratulated Miss Leonard and the pupils on their fine recital and addressed a few words to the parents and friends.

Mr. Philip said the people of the Eastern Townships were fortunate in having a teacher like Miss Leonard who inspired them with a desire for musical culture and who imparted to them her own enthusiasm for the art. He asked the parents to encourage their children to continue their musical studies, a branch of learning which was most important.

At the close of Mr. Philip's remarks, Master Garth Henderson presented Miss Leonard with a corsage of carnations and a gift on behalf of the class of 1956.

Mr. Philip then announced the results of the examinations and presented the reports and prizes to successful candidates.

Misses Lois Sawyer and Katherine Simpson received the guests and Miss P. A. Willard and Master Barry Smith assisted Miss Leonard with the program.

Miss Betty Young Tendered Shower At Rock Island

ROCK ISLAND — Misses Gloria Lyons, Shirley Smith, Sylvia Anderson and Barbara Webb, all of Stanstead, were co-hostesses at a delightfully arranged shower held at the Spencer company cafeteria in honor of the approaching marriage of Miss Betty Young, a popular June bride.

Miss Young had supposed she was attending a shower for a friend, whom she had been asked to bring to the cafeteria; it was only upon arriving that she was greatly surprised to learn she was the honored guest.

After being escorted to a chair trimmed in shades of yellow and white, she was presented with a corsage of yellow and white carnations. Her mother, Mrs. William Young, and future mother-in-law, Mrs. Walter Smith, were also presented with similar corsages, and assisted the bride in opening the gifts, which were arranged on a lace covered table centered with a bowl of narcissus.

The many useful articles for her new home in New Brunswick, were passed around and admired, for which Miss Young expressed her appreciation.

Refreshments were served, and included a bride's cake made in the design of a double wedding ring, decorated in white and yellow and topped with a miniature bride and groom.

The party was attended by 25 co-workers of the Spencer Company, Mrs. Young, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Donald Young, all of

ACWW President Will Speak At QWI Prov. Meeting

Mrs. A. M. Berry, O.B.E., J.P., Queensland, Australia, president Associated Country Women of the World, will be speaking at the annual provincial convention of the Quebec Women's Institutes, Thursday evening, June 28th, at Macdonald College.

Mrs. Berry was born in New South Wales and brought up in the country. In 1921 she married an owner of a sheep ranch in that State and moved to Queensland in 1927. Since the death of her husband she has made her home in Brisbane and now resides in Clayfield. She maintains an active interest in her sheep station, but owing to recent heavy floods she has not been able to get out there for some weeks before leaving for Canada.

For years she helped with the outside work on her property, driving trucks and yarding sheep. In her earlier days she often rode and sometimes swam her horse to meetings of the Country Women's Association, when it was impossible to travel by car. The sheep station is 35 miles from Clayfield and the only way to get out there during the floods was by tractor and that only when they were receding. "Once upon a time," said Mrs. Berry, "I would not have hesitated about a trip of 35 miles on a tractor, but I feel I am getting too old to be shaken along on the rough roads by that means."

Mrs. Berry has two daughters, both married, and six grandchildren. Her special interests are hostels for mothers, Red Cross work, Queensland Bush Children's Health Scheme, the work for crippled Girl Guides. She is more used to broadcasting than most people, as this is an everyday medium of communication in Queensland.

Mrs. Berry joined the CWA in 1927 and has been branch secretary and president, divisional president, state international officer, deputy state president. As international officer she represented CWA on United Nations committee, New Settlers' League and Reception committee of immigration. She led the Queensland delegation to the ACWW Copenhagen Conference in 1950 and at the 1953 conference in Toronto she was elected president of 5 1/2 million countrywomen living in 27 countries.

Since then she has visited countrywomen's societies in: England, Scotland, Wales, Northern Ireland, Eire, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Finland, the Netherlands, Germany, Switzerland, Lebanon, Malaya and Pakistan. Last year she toured Africa, visiting the Cold Coast, Nigeria, South Africa, North and South Rhodesia, East Africa and went home by way of the United States. She also visited ACWW members in Hawaii and New Zealand. She reached home in time to spend Christmas with her family and in May this year she set out again, to visit the Women's Institutes of Canada. She will arrive in London sometime in July to attend a meeting of the ACWW executive committee.

Such a schedule demands physical and mental qualities of endurance and application of a high order, but Mrs. Berry thrives on it.

Mrs. Berry arrived in Vancouver May 24, has visited Institutes in all provinces on the way, arriving in Quebec City Monday, June 18th, where she was entertained by Les Cercles de Fermieres. She is arriving in Montreal this morning and will attend the Q.W.I. Convention at Macdonald College. On Saturday, June 30th, she leaves by plane for Moncton, her next stop on this busy schedule.

Teen-Age Girls' Dress Is A Disgrace---For Mothers

By RUTH MILLETT

No mother in her right mind wants her teen-age daughter to attract rude stares, invite wolf whistles from corner loafers and provoke less than gentlemanly remarks by strangers.

And yet all over the country otherwise protective mothers who are trying to bring their daughters up like ladies let them run around town in brief shorts, rolled up to even briefer than the manufacturer intended they should be.

There's a place for shorts in today's living. Worn at appropriate times and at appropriate places they fit in well with the ease and freedom we now enjoy.

But why should a girl who has skirts in her closet run around town in shorts? If we want our daughters to act like ladies and be treated like ladies we can't let them dress as though they are out to attract any kind of attention they can get.

SCHOOLS MUST DEFEND THEMSELVES

Sure, they may be entirely innocent of the kind of attention they are attracting.

But their parents shouldn't be that naive.

Just because they think of their daughters as sweet little girls doesn't mean the rest of the world is going to if they run around looking as though they're dressed for a pin-up portrait.

Many public schools have had to make rules against girls wearing shorts to school. They enforce the rule by sending offenders home promptly to don a dress.

That's a sad reflection on parents. It's not at school that a girl should learn to dress and act like a lady but at home.

And some towns have even had to put into law just how few clothes women can wear on public streets and on public beaches.

What has happened to women's own sense of lady-like behavior?

Boxing Circles Buzzing As World Heavy Scrap Looms Between Moore And Parker In Toronto Next Month

TORONTO — (CP) — International recognition earned by a Canadian boxer and the prospect of a match labelled as a heavy-weight title bout are awakening a wave of enthusiasm in fight circles here.

The title-fight billing is sure to draw fire, but the enthusiasm may be transferred to Maple Leaf Stadium here next month if the plans go through for a battle mixing Archie Moore and James J. Parker.

Moore, the light-heavyweight title holder and the leading contender to succeed the retired Rocky Marciano as heavyweight champion, is due in Toronto Tuesday to sign for the match. Parker, of Barrie, Ont., is the Canadian heavyweight champ.

Meanwhile, Gordon Wallace, who defeated Ron Barton in London Monday for the light-heavyweight championship of the British Empire, arrived home and was challenged by Yvon Durelle of Baie Ste. Anne, N.B., the Canadian king in that division.

Durelle, who has defeated Wallace three times, is peeved because he didn't get a crack at the Empire title before Wallace. He was in London in a preliminary to the Barton-Wallace bout and lost. Earlier he had been defeated by Barton.

Wallace arrived at his Brantford, Ont., home to a reception of police and fire sirens and a motorcade at the outskirts of the city. He is to be given an official civic reception later.

Durelle, who arrived in Moncton by plane from London, said he would like to defend his Canadian championship against Wallace in a 15-round bout at Moncton in late July or early August.

Wallace said he would go for the match "anytime and anywhere," even in Moncton, if the price was right. He had fought Durelle in Moncton before.

He shrugged off a question about his three losses to Durelle.

Harry Sheppard Hopes To Match Gordon Wallace And Sugar Ray For World Championship In London

LONDON — (CP) — Fight manager Harry Sheppard, crackling with pugilistic plans for the future, said Thursday he hopes to match conquering Gordon Wallace of Canada against Harlem's Sugar Ray Robinson.

Sheppard said things still are fluid, but that British promoter Alex Griffiths is "very hopeful" of getting the two together for an open-air contest at Birmingham. It would be a middleweight affair.

Wallace won the British Empire light-heavyweight championship at London's Clapton Stadium Monday night, defeating Britain's Ron Barton, but weighs only about 162 pounds and can easily descend to the 160-pound limit for a middleweight fight.

Sheppard, a manager who shuttles between Canada and Britain, also has virtually clinched a July 23 light-heavyweight fight at Birmingham between Yvon Durelle of Baie St. Anne, N.B., and British boxer Randolph Turpin. There's a possibility Pat Supple of Montreal, Canadian bantam champion, might meet Dai Dower of Wales in a preliminary. In any event, Supple is likely to meet British bantam champion Peter Keenan in Glasgow later this summer.

One other tilt on tap would involve Ritchie Howard of Halifax, Canadian lightweight champion. The opponent has not been settled.

Sheppard, of Montreal, returns to Canada in a few days.

Marlene Hagge Takes Lead In Ladies' PGA Event

DETROIT. — (AP) — Shapely Marlene Bauer Hagge, with a record-breaking 69 in the opening round, held a two-stroke lead today over 24 other women pros going into the second round of the ladies PGA tournament.

In second place, with 71, is veteran Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill., who would rather win this tournament above all others. This crown is the only one that so far has escaped her.

The 72-hole medal play duel will continue through Sunday over the 6,415-yard layout.

Neale Fraser Knocks Over Richardson

LONDON. — (AP) — Lanky Ham Richardson of Westfield, N. J., last American threat in the London grass courts tennis championship, was beaten in the quarter-finals Thursday by Neale Fraser, Australian Davis Cup squad member, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Four other U.S. stars were knocked out Wednesday in the Australian-dominated tourney, final tune up for the (all-England) championships at Wimbledon, June 25-July 7.

Don Candy, another young Aussie, removed another non-Australian when he trounced Italy's Orlando Sirola, 6-2, 6-3. In an all-Australian match, Ken Rosewall, 21-year-old cup star, defeated Mal Anderson 6-6, 6-2, 6-4.

Dow Edges Legion 4-3 As Marcotte Homers To Give Brewery Team Win; Duchess Meets Brown Sunday 1:30

RICHMOND.—Big Real Marcotte, first man up for Dow in the bottom of the seventh inning, connected for a home run off hurler Rolli Letourneau to break a 3-3 tie and give his team a 4-3 win.

Bill Murchie's homer in the fifth inning had tied the game for Legion and it was anybody's after that. Jean Paul Perreault also slammed a homer for Legion in the same inning but his team was unable to count in the last two frames.

The win moved Dow to within one game of topplace Molson's and left Legion occupying the cellar.

Letourneau and Beaudet hurled the game for their respective teams each giving five hits. Letourneau fanned five and walked two while Beaudet fanned seven and walked two.

Gregory's Legionnaires opened the scoring on Letourneau's run when he counted on Noel's singleton. Legion batters were retired in order in the next two frames while Dow tied the game 1-1 on Desrosiers' run in the second. They added two more in their half of the third to take a 3-1 lead. Legion was scoreless in the fourth getting only one man on but the two round-trippers in the top of the fifth gave them the tie. Beaudet retired two while the third was out when he bunted on the third strike.

Legion picked up only one hit in the sixth and their seventh found the first man out on a pop-up fly to the second-sacker. The next man struck out and the third made first on a slipup by the third-sacker. With two men away, catcher Bergeron flied out to short-stop to retire the side.

Gregory was hoping for a quick finish when Letourneau faced Marcotte. He connected for a long fly over Harold Kydd's head for the winning tally. It was the only hit and run that Marcotte got in the game. Desrosiers had two-for-two for his team. Norm Noel, stalwart third-sacker for Legion, had the best average for his club with two-for-three. He was credited with five put-outs.

Sunday's tilt has Duchess visiting Brown with game time slated for 2:00 if two games are played, the first will start at one-thirty. Dow . . . 012 000 1-4 5 1 Legion . . . 100 020 —0 3 5 1 Beaudet and Blais; Letourneau and Bergeron.

Bill Renna Conducting Personal Campaign To Lift Richmond Out Of Depths; Royals And Leafs Lose

Big Bill Renna's personal campaign to lift Richmond Virginians out of the International League depths has started to show results.

Renna slammed a game-tying homer with one out in the ninth Thursday night, showing his mates the way to a 5-4 victory over Rochester. The victory moved the Virginians into seventh place, two games back of Havana.

Just as he did in the second games of Tuesday night's double-header, Renna got the hit the Vees needed to stir them up. Tom Hamilton reached base on the wing's fourth error and Buddy Carter singled. Then Dee Phillips singled in the winning marker. It was the third unearned run against Bob Blacklock who went all the way for Rochester.

Rochester scored all their runs in the fourth off starter Ed Cernigino on a pair of two-run homers by Dick Rand and Eddie Kasko.

Home runs by Larry Novak and Bobby Micelotta led an 11-hit Miami barrage as the Marlins strengthened their hold on third place, beating the league-leading Montreal Royals 7-3.

Don Cardwell allowed seven hits in going all the way for his eighth victory. Billy Harris, first of three Royal pitchers, was charged with the loss. He took a 1-0 lead into the fifth inning. Then Miami lowered the boom.

Havana Sugar Kings completed a four-game sweep over Toronto, edging the staggering Maple Leafs 4-3.

The Leafs threatened in the ninth, knocking out starter Pat Scantlebury, but Rudy Minarcin came on to end the threat. Don Johnson, the Leaf starter, was the loser.

Mike Kume, Columbus right-hander, salvaged the series finale against Buffalo, scattering seven hits to win 6-3 after the Jets had dropped the first three games of the series.

Home runs by Ray Noble and Al Pilarcik highlighted the victory. Luke Easter, league home-run leader, smacked his fourteenth early in the contest, but failed with the bases loaded in the seventh.

Roy Campanella Finally Breaks Out Of Batting Slump; Clouts Two Homers

BROOKLYN. — (AP) — Roy Campanella is troubled no more. The genial Brooklyn Dodger catcher snapped out of the worst batting slump of his career Thursday night when he hit two home runs, good for six runs, in the world champions' 9-8 victory over St. Louis Cardinals.

Campy was jubilant. "I guess I just ran out of outs," said Campy who matched his June RBI production with the six runs batted in. The homers were his first since June 9 and his first in Ebbets Field since April 29. He raised his batting average seven points to .214 and boosted his RBIs to 31 in 48 games — still a long way from the performances that won the nearly 35-year-old receiver the National League's most valuable player award three times.

Campanella, who said he had tried countless different stances and switched to dozen of bats in an effort to break his slump, revealed that he took few swings in the pre-game practice Thursday night.

"My thumbs were too sore from all of the extra batting practice I have been taking," he said. Somebody suggested that perhaps he had been trying too hard.

"Maybe that's it," he replied "but those two homers were a terrific thing for me. The boys have been winning without me. Now that I'm back on the beam we'll really go places."

Master Your Game...No. 32 Study Green Picking Club

By JACKIE BURKE
Master of the Masters
In addition to being against the rules of the United States Golf Association, most yardage markers are bewilderingly inconsistent.

Some are measured to the front edge of the green, others to the center. Some are measured with surveyor's instruments, making no allowance for the height of the terrain. Some are merely paced off, adding unessential yardage for undulations. Some are guessed at, which is something you can do just as easily, possibly better.

Raised greens have a bearing on the choice of clubs. The level of a green may be 10 feet higher than the spot of fairway you are standing on. In terms of distance, this can mean as much as a full club more.

The simplest act a golfer can perform in aiding his choice of clubs is to stare hard at the green.

Mickey Mantle Leads Voting In All-Star Squad

NEW YORK.—(AP) — With only one day of voting remaining, Cincinnati's Frank Robinson is making a belated bid to take over the National League's starting left field position in the balloting for the all-star baseball game at Washington, July 10.

Rip Repulski, one of three St. Louis Cardinals leading in the voting, has been ahead from the beginning, followed closely by Pittsburgh's Frank Thomas. Robinson, strong contender for rookie of the year honors, has now passed the 818 votes of the Redbird pacesetter.

Robinson must overcome the deficit by midnight tonight when the balloting by the fans ends. The latest figures were released Thursday by commissioner Ford Frick's office.

The race for individual honors is being sparked by the New York Yankees' Mickey Mantle, who has compiled 39,476 votes. Teammate Yogi Berra remains second, more than 2800 ballots behind.

Russia Wins European Track Meet At Norway
TRONDHEIM, Norway. — (AP) — Russia dominated a European track and field meet Thursday night, winning four events and setting two track records.

Russia's Vladimir Kues won the 5,000 metres in the track record time of 14 minutes, 18.2 seconds. Teammate Bogatov bettered the track record for the 110-metre high hurdles in 14.5 seconds.

Delivers Payoff Blow With Two On As Indians Nip Canadiens 10-7 In Hard Fought Battle At Local Park

A 350-foot homer over left field fence last night by Claude Ruel was the payoff blow as the Sherbrooke Indians posted an 11-inning 10-7 verdict over the Coaticook Canadiens at the Park Avenue Stadium.

Ruel's blow broke up a close battle which saw both teams settling down after a wobbly start. Manager Prudhomme used three hurlers while Lefty Renaud went the route for the Canadiens and was charged with the loss. Claude Prudhomme opened for the locals with Roy taking over in the sixth and Bert Cotterell coming in in the ninth in a tight spot.

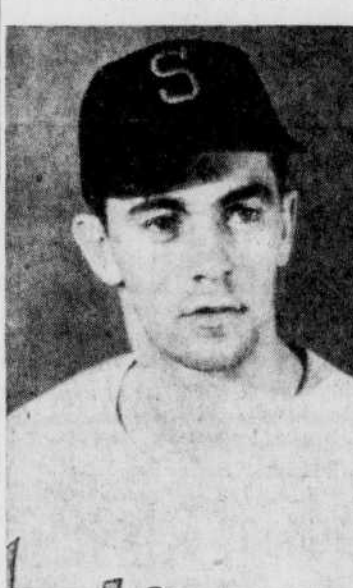

The Indians jumped on Renaud in the first frame and tallied five runs on five hits with two walks. In the top of the fifth the Canadiens put together three hits with two free passes and a wild pitch to post three runs. The Indians got two back in their half for what looked like a 7-3 comfortable lead.

The Canadiens not to be outdone kept plugging away. They got three more in the sixth and then in the eighth, when the Indians threw the ball around, they tied the count 7-7. The Indians were having trouble with Renaud after the fourth inning and could only pick up three singles.

In the eighth the visitors seemed well on their way to move out in front. Michaud opened with a walk, stole second and after two away he crossed the plate following Charron's single on which two errors were committed.

Charron dropped the toss at first and then overthrew at third to allow Michaud to register the tying marker. In the ninth they continued their drive. Marcel Benoit singled and was moved around by Kettle's perfect sacrifice.

Fern Dube set the pace for the locals at the plate with four-for-six while Morin had three and Dussault drove out a double. Charron, Benoit and Kettle all had doubles to lead the Canadiens in the hitting departments.

White Sox Jack Harshman Finally Catches Up With Record Books

Hurls One-Hitter Along With Johnson And Zuverink; Braves Win Sixth Straight; Musial Homers Twice

In 1953, Jack Harshman gave his wife a catcher's mitt for Christmas. He wanted to practice all he could before making his bid as a major league pitcher the next spring, and after seven futile years as a first baseman, they both figured he had a lot of catching up to do.

Thursday, he caught up with the record book.

Only twice since 1900 had major league pitchers battled each other with one-hitters in one game. The third such game went into the books Thursday, and Harshman won it 1-0 for Chicago White Sox against Baltimore's Connie Johnson and George Zuverink.

The victory left the second-place Sox five games behind the American League-leading New York Yankees, who open a four-game series in Chicago tonight after an open date Thursday.

Cleveland beat Boston 5-0 behind Early Wynn's four-hitter, and Kansas City slammed Washington back into the cellar 15-6.

In the National, Milwaukee Braves won their sixth straight under new manager Fred Haney and retained first place with a 7-2 victory over Pittsburgh. Brooklyn held on to second, beating St. Louis 9-8 as Roy Campanella hit a pair of three-run homers.

Rain postponed Chicago at New York in the only other game scheduled.

Harshman, a three-time loser as a first baseman with New York Giants, has won only four of eight decisions with the White Sox this season. He beat Cleveland and Herb Score 1-0 in a double two-hitter in his first start April 19, and he beat Washington 7-0 on four hits June 16. He gave seven hits in the other victory, edging Baltimore 3-2.

The only hit the 28-year-old southpaw allowed Thursday was a seventh-inning double by Gus Triandos. But Harshman, who has a strong 20 scoreless innings going, nailed him at third after fielding Hal Smith's attempted sacrifice.

In all, Harshman — who was 14-8 and fanned 16 in a single game in 1954 with the White Sox, and 11-7 last season — faced 32 men.

The only White Sox hit off Johnson, who went to Baltimore from Chicago last month, was a first-inning double by Nellie Fox. But it followed a leadoff walk to Jim Rivera, who then stole second. Johnson, who fanned seven,

Olympic Board Adopts Motion For Competitors

STOCKHOLM — (P) — Avery Brundage of Chicago, president of the International Olympic Committee, said Monday the IOC executive board has adopted a proposal which aims to prevent the Olympic Games from being used as a springboard for a professional career.

According to the proposal every competitor in the games must sign a statement giving his word of honor that he is and intends to remain an amateur. The proposal will be submitted to the IOC general meeting in Melbourne.

Brundage also said the executive board is trying to protect the Olympic symbols from being used for commercial purpose.

was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the eighth.

It was the first double one-hitter since Bobby Cain and the St. Louis Browns, Baltimore's predecessors, beat Bob Feller and Cleveland 1-0 April 23, 1952.

The winning run was scored in the first inning of that one, too, with Marty Marion, now White Sox field boss, driving it in as player-manager of the Browns.

Campanella's second homer, off reliever Murry Dickson, overshadowed Don Zimmer's single that brought the winning run home in the ninth to beat the Cards.

Stan Musial homered twice for the fourth-place Cards, with a man on each time, and with Al Dark had four hits in five trips. Musial now is batting .321. Dark is rushing along at .516 since coming to the Cards from the Giants last week.

Zimmer had three hits and two RBIs after replacing shortstop Peeewe Reese who was knocked dizzy but otherwise apparently uninjured in a first-inning double play.

Del Rice and Danny O'Connell combined for seven of Milwaukee's 13 hits, with O'Connell driving in four runs as Bob Buhl won his seventh. Ron Kline lost his sixth as the Pirates dropped their sixth straight.

Cleveland broke Tom Brewer's eight-game winning streak.

Joe DeMaestri and Gus Zernial each hit two-run homers for the As, who had 15 hits. Harmon Killebrew hit a grand-slammer for the Senators.

WALKING IN WISCONSIN

Now that the years have passed by, one of the most pleasant memories of a six months' stay at Madison, Wisconsin, is that of the Sunday walks engaged in by adults, many of them from the University of Wisconsin, a University so large and sprawling as to constitute a city at the edge of the capital city of McCarthy fame. The walking organization was a loose one. No one could be recognized as the leader of the group, whose composition fluctuated from week to week, its members varying from university age or less to age 65 or 70. No particular hobby enjoyed dominance among the group. One found oneself invited to walk and that was the end of the formality.

The common thread among the members of the group was an interest in the diverse aspects of an outdoor Wisconsin within a 50-mile radius of Madison. First by car and then on foot, each trip was to a different area, each area interesting to both outsider and native. Geology, birds, local history, mammals, conversation, wildflowers, air, fungi, trees (perchance in autumn colour) all found their place during the walks. Sooner or later, rounding a hill or topping a knoll, the straggling group came on a wood fire with the tea pot on the boil, tended by two or three who had travelled by car by a different route. A rest by the fire, general conversation and then the leisurely group would return to the cars and to the bustle of Madison, whose work-day pace would not suggest that there was any place for the quiet walk. This group, ever changing in composition, continues to walk and it is sometimes a photograph of the blazing fire, complete with a charred tea pot, which serves as a Christmas card from Madison, reminding one of the enjoyment of these hikes.

In the Townships individual and parental walking are reasonably common but if one saw fifteen or twenty people, strung out in twos or threes, walking along the skyline or past some stream, one would be amazed unless, perchance, the slung binoculars proclaimed them to be of the bird-watching fraternity. Birds or no birds there is value in any leisurely inter-familial associations of this kind, especially where the age-active stratification so characteristic of our modern society (when not at meals) may be abandoned in favor of a free association of all ages.

NEW SUMMER RESIDENTS FOR LENNOXVILLE

A pleasant young couple moved into Lennoxville last month, taking up residence close to the Clough Avenue home of Mr. R. M. Boright. The male member of the family has made the rounds of the neighbourhood, visiting nearly everyone, captivated them with his pleasant voice, while the female member is presumably busy with the household duties appropriate for a wood thrush.

When local naturalists reported wood thrushes at Orford some years ago Ottawa authorities were skeptical, as this largest of the thrushes had been absent from this general area for many years. The current crop of birdwatchers knew of wood thrushes at Colebrook, N.H., and at Orford but not close to the junction of the St. Francis and Massawippi Rivers. Last year one was observed on the wooded slope behind the Franciscan monastery and now, apparently for the first time, we have them settling in town. Wood thrushes were considered birds of the forest but more and more they have come to live, also, close to man and even to nest in his garden shrubbery. A little smaller than our robin, rusty-headed, with numerous round brown spots below, the wood thrush stands high among songsters. Morning and evening, especially, his flute-like phrases, in short groups of considerable variety, ring through the air. The wood thrush seems to be on the increase and it appears highly probable that nature lovers of the area will know it better, here, as the years pass.

"The Man" To Quit At End Of Season

NEW YORK — (P) — A combination of circumstances has discouraged Stan Musial to such an extent that he seriously is thinking of quitting baseball at the end of the season.

Although the St. Louis Cardinals' all-time great would not comment it has been learned from present and former teammates that the National League's greatest player of his generation is depressed over recent events, ranging from the trading of his closest friend Red Schoendienst to his shift from the outfield to first base.

Another major hurt stemmed from reports prior to the June 15 trading deadline of a player transaction between the Cardinals and Philadelphia involving Musial and Robin Roberts. This rumor has been denied by Frank Lane, Cardinal general manager.

One who knows well this modest, sensitive and sentimental star said when Stan first read the trade rumor in a St. Louis paper he became noticeably upset.

It never had occurred to Stan, for 15 years a symbol of the great Cardinal tradition, that he would ever be associated with a team other than the Redbirds. He felt he had earned security and always had planned to end his glorious career with the organization that had signed him to his first baseball contract back in 1938 when he was a stripling of 17.

Although Musial had said he would never again switch from the outfield to first base he agreed to do that when manager Fred Hutchinson told him frankly he no longer could do the things he used to do in the outfield and would be a greater asset to the club at first base.

The 36-year-old future Hall of Famer may decide to stick it out until he has achieved his principal goal, reaching the 3,000 hit mark, an ambition he hoped to reach either next season or in 1958.

It is not easy to quit when you're earning $80,000 a year but this factor will not act as a deterrent to the National League's highest salaried star once he makes up his mind. Stan is financially secure thanks to his baseball earnings, his restaurant and banking businesses and other wise investments.

Off to his customary slow start, Musial has raised his batting average to .321. He has 12 home runs. And his 53 RBIs tops the National League.

Upper Melbourne Lady Celebrates 94th Birthday

UPPER MELBOURNE — Mrs. H. L. Burt, who recently celebrated the 94th anniversary of her birth, was greeted by many callers who came to extend congratulations and received scores of cards conveying good wishes.

Mrs. Burt was born at Melbourne Ridge, the daughter of the late Jason Auringer and his

Mrs. Burt is the oldest local resident and she states Upper Melbourne and Melbourne have changed much in the past 70 years. Only a few remain of those who were here when she came.

Two years ago this venerable lady went to New York to visit her son. She has not been on long trips recently, although she frequently enjoys an outing.

Miss Maude Auringer, a sister, resides with her. Mrs. M. A. Driver, who observed her 96th birthday early this year at Lennoxville, where she lives with her daughter, is a cousin.
