Local girl students need summer jobs now

The Huntingdon area is full of job-hungry female students this summer, and Student Employment Officer Alain Forest of the local Manpower office is desperately trying to help them find work.

"Right now I have 101 girls applicants on my list for whom I can't find jobs," he told The Gleaner last week.

Fifty-nine of these are high school students and another 42 are attending C.E.G.E.P. or university. The latter group in particular are hard-pressed to earn money to help with next fall's tuition fees.

"We are launching a campaign to local employers and private citizens to hire these girls," Forest daid. "Any kind of job can be filled - mother's helper, domestic, secretarial or clerical positions. Many of the girls would take mother's helper positions on a part-time basis at a very reasonable salary."

Male students in the area have had a better break so far this summer, although a general slowdown in local industries has affected the number of jobs available for young men also.

The main employers, as in past years, are the textile mills in Huntingdon and Ormstown, Hemmingford's Safari Park, the Federal Government, and Franklin's Leahy Foods.

"Our goal for the Huntingdon area for student jobs this year was set at 150," explained Forest, "and so far we have found 105 jobs. But some of our main sources have cut back this year - for example, last summer Cleyn & Tinker here in Huntingdon employed 32 students, but this year they have been able to take on only 11."

"Our office opened on May 12, and will close on Aug. 22. This is our peak period for applications and for trying to place them. Right now we have a total of 176 students from high school. C.E.G.E.P., and university levels looking for work. We have somebody for practically any need."

Of the 105 students now working, 31 are male high school pupils, 25 male C.E.G.E.P., and 17 male university students. The office, in the Post Office Building has eight girls in high school, 12 from C.E.G.E.P., and 10 from University.

It's easy to see that the girls are getting the short end of the employment stick in this, Women's Year of 1975.

WILL IT WIN? Maybe it did. These three youngsters were preparing to launch their helium-filled balloon on June 27. Where it went, nobody knows.

Anniversary wind-up

Wanted: ticket 1996

Owner of Balloon No. 1996 in the Huntingdon Anniversary contest sponsored by local Francophone Women's Groups stands to win $10.

The balloon was found last week in Rigaud, Que., about 25 miles from Huntingdon, and Mrs. Evelina Leblanc, Vice-President of the anniversary Committee, is anxious to find the person who launched it on its epic flight.

"We sold about 1,000 helium-filled balloons on our Day, June 27, and the Huntingdon Police, who took calls from those finding them, report over 30 people phoned in."

One person bought 17 balloons at .35 each, but the giant bunch did not seem to get as far as the singles.

Owner of the winning ticket is asked to contact Mrs. Leblanc at 264-3369, following which the names of both owner and finder will be released.

Anniversary track meet great "first" for Legion

The Huntingdon Legion sponsored a most successful all-day field day and track meet for area youngsters at Arthur Pigeon School on Wednesday June 30, as part of the 150th Anniversary celebrations.

The event was divided into two sections - a morning field day for the five to nine year olds, and an afternoon Olympic style track meet for the older children, teen-agers, and some adults who participated in a special Mile race.

In the morning the younger children were placed in teams according to age and participated in the following events: runnin broad jump, dashes, softball throw, three-legged race, sack race, shuttlecock race, and "all-fours"race.

The children competed againt standards for their age levels, receiving a maximum of three points per event. Team scores were totalled for all events and an average calculated per player. The team with the highest average won.

The afternoon meet was formally opened by a torch-bearer running a lap around the track and lighting the Olympic-style flame which burned throughout the afternoon.

Over 100 youngsters aged ten and over competed in the events of their choice in Peewee, Bantam, and Midget age categories for boys and girls, and a large number of spectators cheered the young athletes on.

The hurdles were a particular thrill for many Peewees who attempted them for the first time, and the pole vault drew crowds as the competition was extremely keen.

The close of the meet saw

Historical Society draws crowds to display, lecture

The Chateauguay Valley Historical Society outdid itself in presenting a vivid memorial to Huntingdon's 150th Anniversary through various media on Monday June 30, culminating in Dr. Robert Hill's talk on early journalism in the Huntingdon area, which was held in St. John's Anglican Church during the evening.

During the day, people thronged by the hundreds to the Society's exhibit in the County Building, and to the quilt exhibit across the street in the church hall.

Said Society Past President David Milne, "When I arrived at 10 a.m. the place was jammed. We were really surprised at the numbers of people - far more than we had expected."

Many visitors signed the guest book, but many others did not, so the total numbers cannot be ascertained, but the flow continued all day long.

One of the highlights at the County Building was the hourly showing of a 1925 film of the Town's 100th Anniversary, loaned by Dr. G. Kelly of Montreal.

Among the items of special interest noted by Historical Society member and Gleaner correspondent Mrs. Eileen L'Espérance were: "Leslie Rennie's lovely Rose & Thistle furniture, a Regimental uniform and other dresses; Mrs. Rutherford's ancestor's wedding nightgown and

Union votes to strike at two textile plants

Cleyn & Tinker Ltd., and Model Dye Works (Canada) Ltd. employees voted on Tuesday to reject the companies' general salary increase offer and to go on strike on a date as yet to be announced.

Operations at both plants closed down Tuesday morning of this week, during which time employees were advised of the companies' final offer by their unions, Locals 137 and 373, United Textile Workers of America (Q.F.L.-C.L.C.) representing Cleyn & Tinker Ltd., and Model Dye Works(Canada)Ltd., respectively.

After being advised of the companies' offer, a vote was held on Tuesday morning.

Local 137 (Cleyn & Tinker Ltd.) employees rejected the company offer by a vote of 147 to 102.

Local 373 (Model Dye Works Ltd.) employees also rejected the company offer by 79-20.

Negotiations have been in progress since April.

In May 1973, a three year contract was signed when a 20-cent per hour increase for production workers was approved. In May 1974 a 40-cent increase was accepted plus an additional five-cent increase in October. The current offer which was rejected was 40 cents per hour retroactive to May 1975.

Average salary for production workers is now $3.50 without overtime or premium and the rejected offer would have increased this to $3.90.

More highly skilled workers receive more than this rate. Maintenance workers' offer was fifty cents more per hour and tradesmen sixty cents.

Both mills will close for annual holidays July 19 to August 4.

A number of employees contacted by The Gleaner don't anticipate the strike to commence before September, however, the strike could legally begin as early as July 23.

Killed in accident

The tragic death of Jean-Jacques Boyer of Cazaville which occurred early Monday evening shocked and saddened residents of Cazaville and community and all who knew him.

An employee of Canadian National Railways at Valleyfield, Boyer was returning to his home in Cazaville from work when his car left the road on the Rang-du-Six at St-Stanislas-de-Kostka and struck the same tree which Marcel Duheme's car struck on June 7 when he was killed instantly.

C.V.R. tracksters top field in Games eliminations

The Chateauguay Valley Track Team is quickly establishing itself as the top track and field team in the South-West Quebec Region. This was clearly evident in the Quebec Games trials last weekend in Valleyfield, as 39 C.V.R. tracksters walked away with 52 medals.

The team which will represent southwestern Quebec at the Quebec Games in Trois-Rivières in mid-August will be selected within the next two weeks, and it would seem that from 12 to 15 C.V.R. athletes will be on it, by virtue of their sparkling performances at the trials.

Among those surmounting the hot and humid weather was David Myland who took the gold medal in the midget polevault. He soared 11 feet and 3 4 inches to win the event, and then narrowly missed 11 feet 6 inches which would have been a personal record. David, from Ormstown has just returned to competition after recovering from a broken elbow. He also placed second in the 800 metre event.

Yvon Jemcjyk also had an outstanding day, throwing the 1½ kilo discus for a personal record of 135 feet 3 inches to earn himself a gold medal. In the earlier Provincial High School Championships, Yvon won a bronze medal. However if he had equalled his most recent performance, he would have placed first in that meet.

Yvon also won a bronze medal in the shot put in Valleyfield.

A young man who had an extremely fine day at the trials was Howick's John Younie, who won four gold medals, in the four events he entered. In the polevault, Younie once again narrowly missed the Quebec Record of 11 feet, finally settling for 10 feet 6 inches. John also won gold medals in the hurdles, javelin, and relay.

Morgan Thompson of Huntingdon threw a personal best in the Bantam Boys' Shot put, putting the four kilo shot 44 feet 56 inches. Morgan also placed fourth in the javelin throw.

Meanwhile the C.V.R. girls team took their share of the medals in the Quebec Games Trials.

Karena Jensen of Franklin took two gold medals in the Bantam girls 80 metres and 150 metres, probably running

Five brigades join to fight plant fire

The Hinchinbrooke Volunteer Fire Department and four others from the Southwestern Quebec Mutual Aid Association were called out on Sunday afternoon to fight a blaze in two outbuildings belonging to George Anderson at Anderson's corners.

The buildings housed equipement for burning X-ray films and retrieving valuable minerals from the film coatings.

The fire, of unknown origin, was discovered when a passing motorist alerted Anderson, who was sleeping in his house after working in the plant until midday.

The Hinchinbrooke Brigade received the call about 3:45 p.m. and arrived at the scene to find that heat from the fire was causing a large propane tank to "gas off" - releasing its pressurized contents through the safety valve with what Hinchinbrooke Chief Dan Tully called "a real roar".

"While there is usually little danger of an explosion with these tanks, you never know, and we treated it with extreme caution," he said.

The call to Mutual Aid was placed, and tankers from Franklin Ormstown, Huntingdon, and Godmanchester rushed to assist.

The flames spread from their starting point to the second, main building housing the furnace.

"It took four hours to complete putting out the fire and cleaning up," said Tully. "We were able to save the end of the barn which contained the supplies of film, and the furnace itself was relatively undamaged."

Fireworks seized at Lacolle

The Lacolle detachment of the Quebec Provincial Police raided a fireworks outlet on Route 15 near the American border last Thursday afternoon, seizing about $50,000 worth of merchandise.

Reason for the seizure, police said, was that fireworks were not being stored in accordance with federal law.

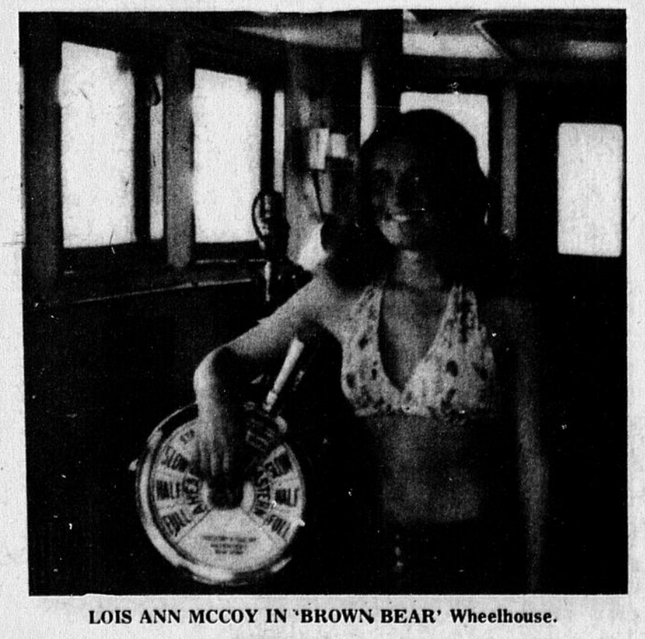
Joining local police in the raid were R.C.M.P. officers and Federal Government Explosives Inspectors, who declared that the fireworks posed a threat to safety.

The store, owned by Roger Noel, was heavily patronized by Americans in search of July 4 fireworks, the sale of which is illegal in the U.S.

Police stated that other smaller fireworks outlets in the area have also been subject to seizures.

Huntingdon girl reports

Movie-making in Mexico



LOIS ANN MCCOY IN 'BROWN BEAR' Wheelhouse.

Since last December Huntingdon's Lois Ann McCoy, daughter of Dave and Edna McCoy, has been working aboard a boat in Mexico engaged in movie making. In this story written for The Gleaner on June 4 she tells how it is in her exciting work. The letter which accompanied her story told of bathing in the warm gulf waters and added "Almost every day we catch a fresh tuna." For a local girl it's a big switch from life on a horse farm on the Athelstan Road.

by LOIS ANN MCCOY
for The Gleaner

It's three o'clock in the morning, a gentle surf rolling in on a secluded beach, warm breeze, starry heavens and peace abounds.

But what's this?Sirens screaming through the stillness, searchlights panning the shoreline, submachine guns firing madly, scores of federal agents coming over the dunes in a frenzied attack and five dinghies, demolished in the crossfire and overturned in the surf.They float amidst wounded bodies and cases of Scotch whiskey and rum.

A solitary girl races to the water's edge, her primeval screech heard as she sees her partners.

"Cut!"

The dead rise nonchalantly to life and the director, Stanley Daren, is on the scene. The girl, Liza Minelli, and her cohorts, Burt Reynolds and Gene Hackman, return over the dunes to relax and have coffee between "takes."

Yes, we're on a movie set and approaching the end of filming "The Lucky Lady," a 20th Century Foxx production scheduled to be released in mid-December.

Set in the probition era of the 1930's, the aforementioned trio make their fortune rum-running between Mexico and California with their fast sailboat, the"Lucky Lady" against great odds of the Coast Guard and the Mafia who wish to control the illicit trade.

We are filming in the Guaymas on the beautiful Sea of Cortez in Mexico.

This and That in Town

CAT THIEVES - are active in Ourtown. During the past week at least three Siamese cats disappeared and their owners are almost certain they were stolen.

A FEW YEARS AGO - all breeds of cats were mysteriously disappearing - and it turned out that they were being stolen and sold to laboratories for study and dissection purposes. Possibly some ended up as 'chicken' in restaurants ... it's no secret that a former well known restaurant in Valleyfield was charged with serving cat meat .. but people who have lost their valuable pets in this recent rash of thefts doubt if their cats have been taken for these purposes for the simple reason that only cats worth real money are disappearing. Common barn and alley cats appear safe enough. For the moment.

TO PLAY IT SAFE - if you own a pet of any kind - cat, dog, bird, pony or any other kind..keep an eye on it. Especially at night, that's when snakes slither around stealing.

JIM AND MRS. BICKFORD - of Toronto - are vacationing with his parents, Harold and Mrs. Bickford and at Connaught Place, Lake St. Francis.

A VALLEYFIELD RESIDENT - phoned The Gleaner this week and said, "The 150th Anniversary celebrations in Huntingdon were wonderful. We attended functions in four different days. The organizers certainly deserve praise." We agree. In fact, we agree 100% but we wish readers would say so in a Letter to the Editor... it would mean much more for the organizers and for readers.

AND ANOTHER VALLEYFIELD RESIDENT - claims that the condition of the road from Huntingdon to Athelstan should be brought to the attention of M.N.A. Ken Fraser. "It's dangerous. There's going to be a tragedy on that road. On one curve it's almost impossible for a car and truck to meet. What might happen if two school buses had to pass? And at another curve (presumably near the Dave Mcoy farm) the water is almost to the blacktop even during this summer drought...what must it be like in spring...and there's no guard rail!

FACT IS - that person, who doesn't want her name to be used - is absolutely right and we believe that Mr. Fraser will be pleased that the condition of this much used road has been brought to his attention.

SUBSCRIBERS - to The Montreal Star - will be pleased to learn that the five-week strike has been settled and that publishing resumes today (Wednesday).

AT LEAST FORTY BUSH FIRES - are raging in La Belle Province. Some out of control. Years ago, it wasn't uncommon to see flames when the Tea Field was burning but for the past few years, at least, only smoke has been noticeable. Some used to think that areas of the seven-mile long stretch of black muck was purposely started alight in order to burn off brush. Could be. With everything so dry this summer, it wouldn't require much of an effort to get willows, poplars, birches and other soft wood trees burning though. And would you believe that some people enjoy a little of that unique smell of Tea Field smoke? It is different, sweet and heavy, but a little goes a long way for most folks.

MELVIN CARRIGAN - wife Pat, son Jim and daughter Jo-Ann of Lakewood, California came back to the old home town during the 150th Anniversary. They drove to Winnipeg, then after visiting relatives there, flew to Dorval where they were met by big brother Lawrence (Shell) and family. Melvin says it was his first trip "home" in 21 years. He and his family left Dorval July 1st, for Winnipeg. Then they'll drive through the Rockies to Vancouver and down the West Coast to L.A. "Wish we had longer to renew acquaintances here but it's been great. Maybe we've talked Lawrence into coming to see us."

DID YOU KNOW THAT WALLY - a dentist and member of the Boston soccer team which played to a 14-all tie against our Saracens - flew here by air for the game and flew back the same day?

R.R. NESS & SONS LIMITED - of Howick - "Burnside Farms" to most, has been sold to a Belgian interest. Founded by Robert Ness in 1856, the farm consists of 480 acres. We understand that a dispersal sale of the livestock will be held September 29.

SERVICE ABOVE SELF" - that's what John Thompson must have been thinking on Monday night when he volunteered to be the 75-76 treasurer of the Huntingdon Rotary Club. Congrats, sir.

HAIL - great big stones - in the Malone-Fort Covington area Monday p.m.

IF OUR TOWN CATNAPPER - wants meat maybe he should go out to the town dump on the Plank Road. Big ones. Some probably up to 8 or 10 lbs., at least. If Tea Field really starts burning maybe he can even find barbecued or roast rat.

Accident...

Boyer was alone in his car when the 8 p.m. accident occurred. When the vehicle left the road it knocked down about 125 feet of fence before striking the tree.

Harold Wattie of Athelstan arrived on the scene about one minuté after the accident occurred. He states that Boyer didn't breathe after the impact. There was little blood although there was a large opening on the victim's chest which indicates that death was instantaneous.

Jean-Jacques Boyer was a good organizer and he accomplished much for the youth of Cazaville. He was a man who could turn his hand to almost any work and in his spare time he worked as a carpenter. He recently remodelled his own home and the kitchen which required intricate finishing work, was especially well done.

Besides his wife, nee Fernande Hurteau, the deceased is survived by three children Sylvie Age 13, Christianne nine and Jean-Guy who is three and a half years old.

The body is resting at the Montpetit Funeral Home in Huntingdon and the funeral service will be from St. Anicet Church at 10 a.m. tomorrow, Thursday with burial in the parish cemetery.

United Church welcomes new pastor

REV. PAUL HACKER

Huntingdon Pastoral Charge of the United Church of Canada, comprising Huntingdon, Dundee and Rennie United Churches received their new minister, Rev. Paul Hacker on Sunday July 7. He succeeds the Rev. Kenneth McLaughlin.

The new minister is married to the former Janine Bertrand of Sherbrooke, a nursing graduate of Catharine Booth Hospital, Montreal. The Hackers have two children — Jérémie, age three years, and Julie, 11 months.

As a student-pastor Rev. Hacker served the Caistorville Parish near Hamilton, Ont., before coming to Huntingdon.

In 1960 Mr. Hacker received his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Western Ontario, London. He attended the Toronto School of Theology and received his Master of Divinity Degree through Victoria College, Toronto on May 7, 1975.

On June the first, he was ordained to the ministry of Word and Sacraments and Pastoral Care by Hamilton Conference of the United Church of Canada. Huntingdon Charge becomes his first assignment since ordination.

Before joining the ministry, Mr. Hacker served as a high school teacher of English and History in Markdale and Watertown Ont. for four years. In 1964 he accepted a two year overseas teaching appointment with the Canadian External Aid Office which took him to the International School in Ibadan, Nigeria. In 1968 he worked for the Kenyan National Teacher's Federation as a teacher of Religious Education in three secondary schools near the northern frontier of the world-famous Serengeti National Game Reserve. He was also a chaplain to the students where he taught.

In addition to English and French, Mr. Hacker speaks Swahili, the "lingua franca" of East Africa. He is interested in sports and music, and plays piano, organ, trumpet and guitar. He looks forward to sharing in ecumenical church events in Huntingdon and area.

His concern for third world needs both physically and spiritually continue to hold his attention.

"I would like to see more sharing of personnel between the Church of the West and the Church from other parts of the world, because Christians everywhere have much to learn from one another," he told The Gleaner.

Arriving in Huntingdon on July 1, he and his family were delighted to be able to view the climactic parade of the town's 150th Anniversary celebration?

"We were impressed by the display and felt a lot of effort must have been expended to make it such a success," he said.

Rev. and Mrs. Paul Hacker and their family reside in the new United Church manse at 6 Clyde St., Huntingdon.

"We anticipate spending many happy days in God's service ministering to the needs of our parishioners in Dundee, Huntingdon and Rennie's," said Rev. Hacker.

Succumbs to hurts

Richard Deschamps of the White Station Road, Cazaville, died recently in a Montreal hospital as a result of injuries sustained in an April 26 traffic accident.

Deschamps lost control of his car and hit the ditch in the single car accident on Route 132 at Cazaville. Provincial Police were not able to ascertain the details of the circumstances surrounding the accident.

At Havelock

Usual great meal planned for fair

It is a trifle early for people generally to be thinking of the Havelock Fair next September but not for the Hinchinbrooke Volunteer Fire Brigade and its Ladies Auxiliary. In particular the ladies are deep in their planning for the annual dinner they put on at this event.

The ladies say the meal will be just as great this year as in the pas twhen it has been patronized by thousands of fair visitors.

The brigade and the auxiliary held a joint meeting June 23 at the Athelstan Fire Hall to report on dinner planning.

"Quantity and quality of food and service will be maintained at the same high level as in past years," the ladies announced at the end of the meeting. "Most important, there will be no increasein the price of the dinner and as in the past, all meat and meat products served will come only from federally inspected sources.

The meeting was chaired by Linda Rennie, president of the Ladies Auxiliary assisted by Beryl Myatt, chairman of the Havelock Fair Committee.

nightgown and wrapper showing the finest of stitching; Mrs. McCrimmon's mother's gowns, and an early school inspector's records and reports on all the schools in the area he visited. I spent over half-an-hour reading the details of each school, its furniture, the teachers and their salaries, the books and the condition of the pupils education - all of it priceless.

"The display by the McCoy brothers was fascinating with tools of the early days, cards of buttons, bowler hats, old-fashioned shirts, the lamps which lighted the shop and the street outside. Also the lovely old china and pottery and one of the earliest record players."

Said Mrs. L'Esperance, "One could have spent a whole day there and still not have seen everything. And then over in the basement of the Church Hall, quilts, quilts everywhere! All heirlooms, so many different and interesting patterns and such beautiful, fine stitching and all so carefully preserved.

"Miss Lilian Rankin, Mrs. Gunion, Mr. and Mrs. Don McCrimmon and their committee are to be congratulated on an outstanding display. They must have spent an enormous amount of time searching out and organizing the display. Everything was clearly marked with its origin and the donor."

Main theme of Dr. Hill's evening talk was "Huntingdon and the National Dream". He pointed out that Huntingdon, as one of only two constituencies opposing Confederation in the 1860's, was somewhat out of step with the rest of the country during the railroad building boom which followed. He pointed out the role of Robert Sellar, founder of The Gleaner, and an ardent free-trader, in voicing the position of the local farmers, who were opposed to protective tariffs introduced by Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Before the building of a railway in the area, he said, farmers exported their butter and cheese direct to British markets via the Lake St. Francis ports such as Port Lewis and did not rely on Montreal markets to distribute their products. All in all, the upper Chateauguay Valley was very much outside the "National Dream" of the late 19th century, and Sellar's voice, heard in The Gleaner, was very much a voice in the wilderness, accurately and consistently passing on local opinion to anyone who would listen.

The lecture was presented with vitality and humor, aided by the use of microfilm projections which Dr. Hill acquired during three years' research for his doctoral thesis in the subject.

"I learned more Canadian history that night than I ever did in school," said Hemmingford's Mrs. L'Esperance.

Fire...

Two firemen were affected by the heat, but none was injured.

"This was a good example of the benefits of the Mutual Aid system," Tully told The Gleaner on Monday. "Sunday afternoon is a bad time to locate our firemen - only about half our men are available - and the fact that the other departments came so quickly to help was undoubtedly a factor in containing the fire as quickly as we did."

There are no residences in the immediate vicinity of the barns, but the roar from the propane tank alerted neighbors down the road.

George Anderson was unavailable for comment early in the week as to the extent of the loss suffered by the Montreal-based firm which operates the plant, or as to whether they plan to rebuild.

At Ormstown Arena

Horse show set for July 12,13

An All-Breeds Horse Show, with emphasis on western riding and horses, will be held at the Ormstown Arena on Saturday and Sunday, July 12 and 13.

Last year's event was the largest such show in Quebec with 588 entries, and organizer Arthur Murphy of Melocheville says that this year's show could be bigger still.

Registered Appaloosas will be shown on Saturday morning, Registered Paints in the aftenoon, and the evening will feature an open show highlighted by an N.R.H.A. Open Reining class.

"This class is being put on by the boys from Ontario," said Murphy. "They showed here last year and saw the interest there was for Reining in Quebec plus the facilities of the Ormstown Arena, which has very good footing. This is an Open class and any breed, registered or non-registered can enter. The entry fee is $15.. There is a purse of $200 plus 90% of all entry fees. You can make your entries the day of the show.

"Last year our Open Show was a big success especially for the Performance classes. There were 20 to 40 horses per class. There will be Ribbons, Trophies and prize money in the Open Classes this year."

On Sunday July 13th, will be the Registered Quarter Horse Show starting at 8 A.M. with the Halter Classes and the Performance classes on Sunday afternoon.

There will also be a Cutting Futurity and Reining Futurity and Maturity again in Ormstown in September of this year.

And we want you to participate.

Congratulations everyone

At Monday night's brief meeting of the Huntingdon Town Council, congratulations were the order of the day for all those involved in the successful 150th Anniversary celebrations - the organizers, and especially Councillors Georges Lazure and Gerald Brisebois.

The ten days celebrations went off without a major hitch, and this can only reflect credit on all those involved.

But a major proportion of the credit must also go to the people of Huntingdon, young and old, who threw themselves into the affair with enthusiasm and also with dignity, in the sense that the huge crowds who gathered for the various activities preserved their good humor and civilized behavior, despite delays, heat, humidity and overcrowding.

The Council also congratulated the police, who supervised the crowds.

But little supervision, in the disciplinary sense, was needed.

For example, the hundreds of teen-agers who attended the dance at the Arena behaved in an exemplary fashion.

Positive news about young people is sometimes neglected in favor of trouble-making. The Anniversary taught us many good things, among them the fact that Huntingdon youngsters are an asset to be proud of.

July 1, 1975

This year's celebration of Canada's birthday, traditionally an occasion for patriotic rejoicing, was especially so in Huntingdon, since it was part of our 150th anniversary.

But in the midst of celebration it might be noted that the July 1 fete also coincides with a rising nationalist mood of the 1970s and, too, with a feeling of economic uncertainty astir in the land.

To this latter feeling Prime Minister Trudeau addressed himself in a holiday message. He urged that Canadians use restraint in demands for higher prices and bigger profits as a means of showing individual and national maturity.

On Canada's 108th birthday he said people are being challenged to look beyond self-interest towards the common needs of the country and the international community.

It seems unlikely that anybody will deny this. The question is whether such obvious urging is enough to alter the present spirit of get-all-you-can-while-you-can now prevalent among businessmen and trade unionists alike.

The real need is for example and leadership from Prime Minister Trudeau.

Food warnings up

United Nations recent food conferences have made it quite clear that the world is running out of food and while in Canada and the Chateauguay Valley we are fortunate in this regard today, there are early-warning signs for the future.

Statistics developed by the National Farmers Union indicate that within nine years, if the present rate of decline in food production continues, Canada will have a shortage of food.

And, since the pressure of population on food supplies in other parts of the world is already much worse than in Canada it follows that Canadians, when the pinch is really felt, will hardly be able to draw supplies elsewhere.

Because of our history as an agricultural land--the shift to industrialization and city life has changed the old "bread basket" concept of Canada a great deal--too few people are aware of the country's dependence on the farmer. And too few Canadians, other than those on the farm, are aware that food is a commodity and has to be paid for, just like gasoline or steel or clothing.

Too long Canadians have assumed that cheap food is theirs by right. Too long farmers have been almost apologetic about their needs and have been inclined to deal in sympathy for themselves. The fact is that the social equations Canadians have been building into society don't fit reality.

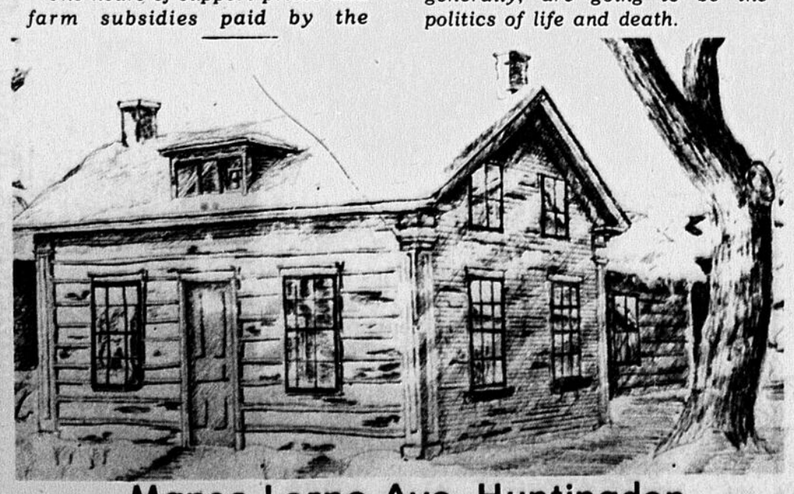
One hears of support prices and farm subsidies paid by the government to farmers but these are really consumer subsidies since it is the ultimate consumer--not the farmer--who benefits through a lower cost of food.

Society appears prepared to subsidize some things and not others. Education, for instance, is heavily subsidized and one and all may agree is a good thing. But supposing the time comes when the PHd who has benefitted from the government purse slowly starves to death because not enough farmers are farming?

Or take the case of an elevator man in a building in the city. He is assured a minimum wage. His hours and conditions of work are regulated and he is guaranteed an income in the event of unemployment. Yet the farmer who feeds this elevator man has no such protection. In the long run the question of food comes down to planned use of the land and the economic place of the farmer in society. With every passing day land use planning becomes more vital at all levels of government leadership.

A great deal has been said and written about land use planning yet little has been accomplished because the problem is so complex and involves so many social levels. But in due course the question is going to be one of food and a realistic return for farmers or hunger.

That's when the politics of land use in our Valley and in Canada generally, are going to be the politics of life and death.



Manse Lorne Ave. Huntingdon

This building was the original Methodist parsonage around 1830-40. It is located on Lorne avenue, one of the oldest sections of Huntingdon. It hasn't changed a great deal over the years, and with a little imagination, it can take you back in time to the beginning of Huntingdon. [Drawing by John Ryan, Huntingdon].

Ayer's Cliff anniversary draws local residents

by Jean McEwen

Last Sunday a number of folks from this area drove to Ayer's Cliff to help celebrate the sixty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Keeler, parents of Mr. Winston Keeler. Mr. and Mrs. Keeler were "At Home" to about 175 friends and relatives who came to bring their love and best wishes to this very popular couple of "The Cliff".

The party was held at the home of their other son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Keeler, and the house was gay with bouquets of lovely garden flowers.

The bride of sixty-five years wore a pink polyester dress and a corsage of pink rose buds and the groom a white carnation boutonniere.

Refreshments were served by the U.C.W. Group of Beulah United Church where Mr. and Mrs. Keeler are members and each guest received a piece of anniversary cake which Mrs. Keeler Sr. had made. A lovely three tier cake decorated by the couple's grand-daughter Mrs. Dale Smith of Halifax, Mass. was topped by a tiny bouquet of pink rose buds.

The honoured couple received numerous cards and messages including a message from Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth.

Those from this area who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Winston Keeler, Mr. and Mrs. Earle Templeton, Mr. Dean Templeton, Mr. and Mrs. Donald McEwen and Miss Kathy McEwen from Ormstown, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Baker from Huntingdon, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Keeler from Ste. Anne de Bellevue, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Templeton of Howick and Mr. and Mrs. Danny Templeton who were home from Guelph.

Best wishes for many more years of health and happiness are extended to this very popular couple "Gramp and Gram Keeler."

Children take part in Mass

"AND A LITTLE CHILD SHALL LEAD THEM".

These words were vividly brought home to the Hemmingford congregation of St. Romain's Church on Sunday morning High Mass when the pupils of Academie Langlois, Grade 1 and 2, French and English led them through the ritual of the Mass with the dignity and reverence one would expect from an experienced adult.

The Rev. Gilles Daoust celebrated the Mass but the children led the prayers, the responses, gave the readings, served the Mass, sang two hymns and elsewhere where appropriate. It was not only a youngster from Grade 2 who read the Lesson but Grade 1 also.

Three devoted teachers and the Principal were responsible for teaching the children the fact that active participation in the services and work of the Church is everyone's duty, young and old. That their teaching was crowned with success was fully demonstrated at Church this morning.

The teachers were Mme Idola Beaudin, Grades 1 & 2 English; Mme Violette Lussier, Grade 1 French, Mme Jacqueline Malenfant, Grade 2 French and Principal Mme Kathleen Laplante.

Mrs. J. L'Espérance

Mr. and Mrs. George Marlin were married 45 years ago on June 25, and to celebrate their anniversary a lawn party was held at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Marlin of Chateauguay on Sunday, June 29. It was a lovely day and all the family and friends, about 45 guests altogether, gathered in the treeshaded garden for a buffet lunch. A three-tiered wedding cake, made and decorated by Mrs. Howard (Lois) Marlin centered the table. Among the many delightful gifts presented to the couple was a Roxton rocking-chair. The only members of the family not present were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jackson and the children of Cabri, Saskatchewan, but later in the evening the happy day was made complete by a long distance telephone call from Cabri.

About 150 Junior Golfers will compete on Friday, July 11 at the Hemmingford Golf course for the Montreal and District Junior Championship. It is hoped a goodly number of adults will turn out to encourage these enthusiastic future champions.

A small tournament was held on the newly completed third 'nine' on Saturday. The greens are in excellent shape but a little more work needs doing on the fairways. Judging by the large numbers on the course every day, during the week as well as weekends, we are going to need yet another 'nine'!

Aubrey couple attend reunion

by FLORENCE CRAWFORD

Murray and Jean Templeton of Aubrey spent the week-end of June 28 at Lachute where they attended the first reunion of the 1950 graduating class of Lachute High School.

Twenty five years ago Murray was a teacher and Jean was a graduate so both were interested in the startling changes that have taken place. The 1950 class gathered from the Maritimes to Western Canada and the U.S.A. Some of the quiet ones had blossomed into public figures with considerable success.

Local folk know that the Scotch Concession representative at the gathering has done a great job in this community as teacher, farmer's wife, mother and loyal member of the United Church Congregation and choir, ably supported by her teacher-farmer husband, Murray.

They attended the Sunday morning service at Lachute United Church. They too have a problem finding male singers. There are dozens of men in every community with a talent for singing (listen to them when they are driving a tractor)

Maybe, just maybe, this is the year they will realize they have a god-given talent and what better place to use it than in the church choir. There's more to tithing than using money.

Ruby Salter B. Ed., who received her degree from McGill University at the June Convocation. Ruby is the daughter of Joan and Eric Salter of Glenelm. She received her early education at Huntingdon Academy and graduated from C.V.R. in 1969. In 1970 she attended Marianopolis College, where she did her C.E.G.E.P. Ruby will start her teaching career in September, with Centennial Regional High School, in Greenfield Park, Montreal.

Barb Younie took the midget girls Javelin event with a toss of 114 feet and should be in fine form for the upcoming Quebec Games. Barb also placed third in the discus event.

Carol Stoughton took the gold in the 80 metre hurdles, placed second in the 100 metres and fourth in the high jump.

Nora McIntyre also took a gold in the hurdles (Bantam) fourth in the ZOM and fifth in the long jump.

July 1 parade "biggest ever"

The last day of Huntingdon's official anniversary celebrations was highlighted by the July 1 parade, organized by the Huntingdon Legion.

This was the official wind-up to the 10 days of festivities and the final event of Tuesday's Legion Day program.

The parade started at Notre Dame School, at 6 p.m., and wound its way along York, Dalhousie, King, Lake, Chateauguay, Henderson, and Fairview Sts. to end at the Regional Arena.

A halt was called at the Cenotaph on Dalhousie St., where the Legion performed a salute. Here a special group comprised or organizers of the day's program and other members of the Anniversary were assembled on the sidewalk as the parade passed.

Two Provincial Police on motorcycles and members of the Huntingdon Canada One Motorcycle Club led the parade.

Floats

Five vintage cars drove in the parade, calling back meny memories to some of the oldes spectators, and a grand total of 18 floats participated, making this one of the largest parades in the town's history.

THESE BABIES have "come a long way" along the parade route, at least.

These were

Bentley (Joe) Douglas, old-time blacksmith who has shod horses in Ormstown, Huntingdon and Rockburn and is still at it after 60 years.

Huntingdon Post Office, delivering mailbags.

"Moon Shine,' days.

"You've Come a Long Way, Baby".

Huntingdon Bank of Commerce.

Rotary Club.

Huntingdon Chateau.

Legare's Store.

Perpetual Rosary.

Catholic Women's League.

Old-time country dancers.

Huntingdon Florist.

Les Voyageurs, canoe champions.

Claude Quenneville, auctioneer.

L'Age d'Or.

Huntingdon Hospital Centre.

Craft and Recreation Centre.

Knights of Columbus.

Horses and bands

To the special pleasure of the many children along the parade route, many horses were in the parade, both with riders and pulling floats.

And the whole display was accompanied by music from eight (count'em) bands: the Valleyfield Champlain Guard, Montreal Sea Cadets, Huntingdon Canadets, Ormstown Band, Valleyfield Air Cadets, the Dollard des Ormeaux Guard, Beauharnois Harmonie, the Chateauguay Valley Pipe Band, and the Portuguese Philharmonie.

Bingo

Later in the evening, some 400 people jammed the Arthur Pigeon School Cafeteria in the stifling heat, to join in a giant Bingo.

About 8:30 p.m., hundreds more gathered in the schoolyard for the closing fireworks display, marking Canada Day and the finish of Huntingdon's spectacular Anniversary celebrations.

Hyland family feted by two congregations

On Sunday, June 29 following the regular morning services the two congregations of St. Paul United Church, Ormstown and Franklin United Church joined together for a farewell picnic in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Herb Hyland and family who will be leaving here the end of July to a new charge in Ontario.

Following a picnic lunch and social hour on the shady lawn of McDougall Hall, Rev. and Mrs. Hyalnd and family were presented with several gifts from the two congregations in sincere appreciation of their services to all.

Best wishes for their future were expressed by all present.

Adele Leduc weds A.J. Woods in St. Joseph's Church rites

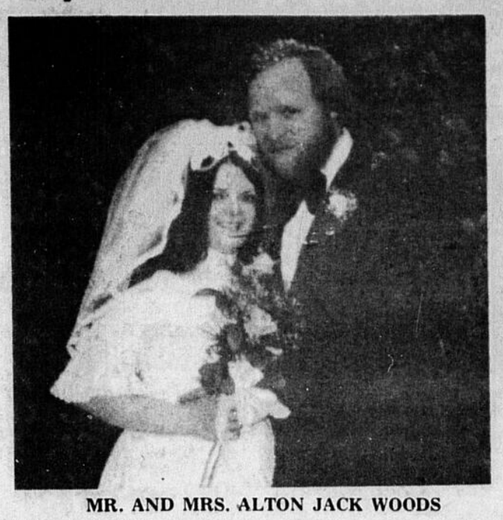
St. Joseph's Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday, June 7 at 5 P.M. when Adele Leduc youngest daughter of the late Alcide Leduc and of Ola Higgins exchanged vows with Alton Jack Woods, son of Bernard Woods and of Wanda Winters of North Bangor, N.Y.

Father Georges Quenneville, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her step-father, Aristide Beauchesne.

Adele chose a princess-style gown of white silk and heavy lace embroidery with pink trim, ending in a three quarter length train with tiny pink bows down the back. A four-tiered lace-edged veil fell below the shoulders and was held in place by a pink looped head piece with petals and seed pearls. She carried two long-stemmed pink roses and baby's breath with white streamers.

The matron of honor, Nicole Arthur, was gowned in a pink silk floor length dress with shoulder length cape and hood. She carried a smiliar spray of deep pink carnations.



MR. AND MRS. ALTON JACK WOODS

The two junior bridesmaids were nieces of the bride, Lyne Leduc and Cindy Ovans, both dressed in matching gowns of shocking pink with white lace trim and each carrying a pale pink carnation with baby's breath.

The flower girl was Lori Woods, niece of the groom, who looked charming in a white silk gown with green trim. She carried a ball-shaped bouquet of white mums and tiny pink flowers.

Yvon Nadeau, nephew of the bride, was ring-bearer, dressed in a light blue suit with navy blue ruffled shirt.

The groom's brother, George Woods was best man.

The bride's mother was attired in a floor length gown of dusty rose silk, white accessories and a corsage of pale pink carnations.

The mother of the groom wore a turquoise floor length gown with lace jacket, white accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

During the ceremony Mrs. Nicole Laurendeau sang "The Wonder of You," "O Promise Me" and "We've Only Just Begun." She was accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Micheline Latreille.

After the marriage, a reception was held at Lakeview Inn, St. Anicet, where a delicious meal was enjoyed by over one hundred guests. Music for the evening was supplied by the Hell Tones.

Adele and Jack left on a short motor trip to Lake Placid and various parts of the U.S.

Prior to her marriage Adele was entertained at a bridal shower given in St. Joseph's School Hall and at another in North Bangor at the home of her future sister-in-law, Sheila Malette.

Best wishes are extended the young couple for the future.

Rockburn
by Diane Farquhar

One of the main topics of discussion in Rockburn these days is the chance of acquiring a pumper truck for the Hinchinbrook Fire Dept. to be stationed on the property of Ronald Maither in Rockburn village.

The purchase of a new truck requires a vote from rate payers throughout the Hinchinbrooke area.

Since this would mean better and faster fire protection for us all, let us not forget to cast our ballots next Friday July 11 at Herdman Town Hall.

The residents of Rockburn village have been concerned at the speed of traffic passing through on Rt. 202.

Consequently, a petition has been posted at Barr's store, Marion's Beauty Salon, The Bear, and Welburn's store.asking for a flashing amber light to be installed at the corner of Rt. 202 and the Rockburn side road and that the 30 m.p.h. zone be extended to a point beyond Welburn's store.

This light and new zoning would be a benefit to everyone in the area as it should slow traffic considerably. Perhaps a well filled petition sheet will make it known how interested we are in safety for one and all.

Once again our church Hall in Rockburn was used for a surprise Bridal shower for Jill Kemp of Nafanee, Ont., the future bride of Donald Frier.

About 9 p.m. Jill came into the nicely decorated hall expecting to attend a meeting with Mrs. Muriel Frier, but instead found 45 friends and neighbours awaiting her, with a table laden with many lovely and useful gifts.

Since Jill will be a new resident in Rockburn, she was introduced to everyone by her future mother-in-law, Muriel Frier.

After Jill opened her gifts she, gave a warm thank you speech, and the hostesses, Mrs. Ted Norman, Mrs. Everett Lindsay and Mrs. Pat Welburn, served a lovely lunch, including a shower cake made by Barbra Norman.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Lindsay of Gloversville, N.Y. have been weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hudson Lindsay. Francis Lindsay, being a native of Rockburn, has been visiting friends and relatives during his stay. They also took part in a family gathering at the summer cottage of Mr. and Mrs. George Lindsay at Moonlight Lake.

If anyone has any news for Rockburn News please feel free to call me at 264-3960.

Hemmingford friends shower bride-to-be

April Milne was the guest of honour at a miscellaneous shower held on Sunday afternoon, June 22, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fraser Matheson.

Guests, around 22 altogether, from Ormstown, Roxboro, Pt. Claire and Hemmingford were present when anunsuspecting bride-to-be arrived and was seated in a chair prettily decorated in pink and white.

She was kept busy for quite a while opening the many gaily wrapped gifts and passing them round for all to admire.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Matheson and Mrs. Frank Deery and April cut the prettily decorated Shower cake made by Mrs. Matheson.

Miss Milne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seaton Milne of Covey Hill Road.

37 of Gruer clan meet at Ormstown

The privacy of the spacious lawn at the home of Helen and Wallace Gruer, Ormstown, was the gathering place of the Gruer clan on Saturday June 28.

The garden party started at noon when a buffet lunch was enjoyed by 37, uncles, aunts, cousins and a few girl and boy friends.

Marj and Fred Battison came all the way from Oyama, B.C.; Ross, Jennifer and Peter Gruer from Lindsay, Ont.; Russell and Ethel Gruer, Dave and Linda Dungey, Campbell Gruer and Leslie Delacour from Kingston, Ont.; Gladys, Ed, Tom and Scott Green and Joann Young from Windsor, Ont.; Wilbert, Sybil, Holly and Danny Gruer, from Aubrey and Danny McArthur, Howick; Muriel Ness and Barbara Ness; Anne and Ross Elliot and family; Nancy and Ross Peddie and family from Howick; Baird, Lawrence and Melanie Gruer, Ormstown, Catherine and Michel Beauchamp, and the littlest one of all, one month old Phillippe from Valleyfield.

The family enjoyed this gathering so much, they met again on Sunday afternoon at the old family farm on the Norton Creek road to celebrate the forthcoming 20th wedding anniversary of Wilbert and Sybil Gruer. It was a joyous occasion and needless to say the main entertainment was visiting.

Ormstown Presbyterian Adult Group presents life memberships

Three members of Ormstown's Presbyterian Senior Adult Group were presented with life membership pins and certificates at last week's Evening Adult Group meeting in the Church Hall.

Mrs. Archie Tannahill, Mrs. Grant McLaren, and Mrs. Isabell Grier all members of the Senior Group, were introduced by Mrs. Bill Milne, and the presentations were made by Miss Marion Swan, Mrs. Olive Goodall, and Mrs. Harold Kerr.

Members of the Senior Afternoon Group were guests at the meeting conducted by president Ruth Tannahill with devotions led by Gerry Pilon. Bernie Cullen gave an interesting and informative talk on the Centennial of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

A number of items of business were dealt with, including plans to cater for a wedding the end of July; it was announced that the South Shore Presbyterial meeting will be held in our Church in September, and a reminder was given that the glass depot in the old mill beside the Wheat and Chaff will be open the first Saturday of each month (including the summer months) from 2 to 4 p.m.

A pleasant day was spent in late June when forty nine folks boarded a bus at 9 a.m. at the Presbyterian Church and set out for a tour to Rawdon to see the Canadiana Village. They enjoyed a bountiful home-cooked lunch, seeing the various restored buildings and antiques, also buildings in the process of being restored. Everyone reports a very good day and thanks to Mrs. Bill Hooker for all her efforts in organizing the tour sponsored by the Evening Adult Groups.

Hemmingford

Mrs. J. L'Espérance

Mr. Earl Rabideau, Miss Linda Nickolson, Mrs. Brady of Toronto and Mrs. Rita Thurston of Ormstown were Saturday callers of Mrs. Rolland Baskin and Mrs. Lillie Baskin also were Sunday guests at the Rollande Baskin home.

The rugged coastline, Mexican atmosphere and sunny days have made the winter wonderful.

I live aboard a 118-foot small ship, the "Brown Bear," which was used to help deliver three of the boats in the movie from Los Angeles last December. The company has used this boat in several background scenes; also as a lighting boat for night movie shooting and for some of the camera work.

It has certainly been exciting, seeing a large scale (rumors of a $14 million budget) movie slowly taking shape and many new friendships have resulted.

The head cinematographer (with Oscars from "Cabaret" and "2001") is a not infrequent guest aboard the Brown Bear.

Right now it appears that we may be involved in more moviemaking. There is talk of one on General MacArthur in Indonesia, another in Costa Rica, or skin diving and salvage work in the South Pacific or the Caribbean.

And if, aboard the Brown Bear, we do get to the American East coast, I think a slight detour down the St. Lawrence River with a stop-over at Port Lewis to see my folks would be highly in order.

After all, home is still home.

Cleyn & Tinker et Model Dye:

Une grève pourrait être déclenchée

Une grève pourrait être déclenchée à la Cleyn & Tinker et au Model Dye Works de Huntingdon le 23 juillet prochain. Alors, la grève deviendrait légale.

Au cours d'une assemblée syndicale à l'Aréna Régionale de Huntingdon, mardi matin, les employés de ces deux firmes votèrent pour la grève, n'ayant pas accepté les dernières offres patronales qui se chiffrent à .0.40c l'heure.

Ayant quitté le travail mardi matin, les employés de ces deux usines se rendirent à l'Aréna afin de prendre le vote sur les dernières offres.

Le local 137 votait 147 contre 102 pour le rejet des offres, tandis que le local 373 totalisait un vote de 79 contre 20 pour le rejet des offres.

Mme Olivier, des OUTA, était présente à cette assemblée syndicale. Il appert que le comité exécutif du syndicat aurait recommandé la grève.

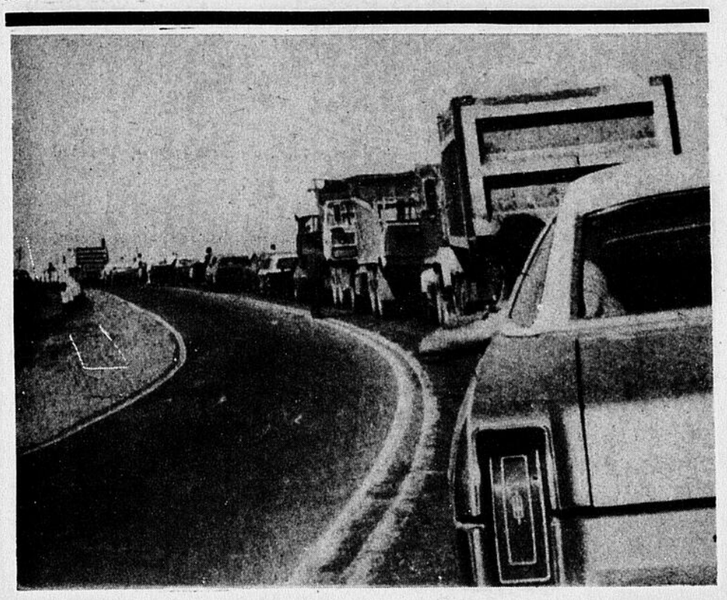
La grève pourra avoir lieu dès le 23 juillet prochain, mais un porte-parole syndical affirma que cela ne voulait pas dire qu'elle aurait évidemment lieu à cette date. A partir de cette date, les employés ont un délai de 60 jours pour déclencher leur grève.

Les négociations salariales étaient en marche depuis le mois d'avril. Il s'agit de la troisième année du contrat signé en 1973 entre les deux parties, affirmant que le salaire était renégociable alors.

Les employés et la firme n'en vinrent pas à une entente et c'est pourquoi le vote de grève fut proposé par le comité exécutif. Il semble toutefois que les négociations se continueront entre les deux parties dans trois semaines.

La représentante syndicale est maintenant en vacances pour trois semaines, et on sait que les usines ferment pour les vacances annuelles du 19 juillet au 4 août.

M. et Mme Léandre Racine, de la rue Lac à Huntingdon, recoivent fièrement le prix de $50 pour le concours de décoration de maisons pour le cadre du 150e anniversaire de la venue des premiers pionniers à Huntingdon. Le président des fêtes, Georges Lazure et Laurent Nadeau présentèrent le chèque aux heureux gagnants la semaine dernière.



Le pont Larocque: une merveille

Le pont du chemin Larocque devrait être une merveille du monde. Des automobilistes doivent attendre longuement à maintes reprises durant la semaine, parcequ'il y a un bateau ou parce que des travailleurs y font des réparations. Les nouvelles barrières au début du pont ne font que faire reculer la ligne d'attente de nombreuses automobiles. Il faut être patient maintenant pour aller à Valleyfield. Ce pont est la merveille de l'attente.

Des dommages à Cazaville

Des dommages à la propriété de Mme Antoine Haineault de Cazaville furent commis le 6 juillet dernier. On brisa des arbres et des cabanes à oiseaux.

Aussi, à Cazaville, des pièces d'automobile furent volées de la ferme de Jean Lussier. La Sûreté du Québec, détachement de Huntingdon, fit l'arrestation de trois jeunes dans cette affaire; ces derniers devront comparaître d'ici peu en cour.

Arthur Pigeon serait sauvé

Il semble que l'école polyvalente Arthur Pigeon continuera de fonctionnner de façon normale, soit avec les cours de Secondaire IV et V.

Toutefois, selon certains commentaires, des représentants locaux souhaiteraient que la décision ne soit pas une affaire d'une année mais plutôt pour un avenir prolongé.

Plusieurs personnes se rendirent à une reconctre de la Régionale Salaberry afin de défendre l'avenir de l'école Arthur Pigeon. Des professeurs, des étudiants et même des parents tenaient à tout prix que l'école Arthur Pigeon survie dans toute sa splendeur.

Le Secondaire IV et V demeurera à Arthur Pigeon; pour faire place, un groupe de 56 étudiants pousuivront leur Secondaire I à l'école Jean XXIII d'Ormstown. Trois professeurs seront affectés à cet endroit et ces locaux seront loués de la locale de Huntingdon.

L'usage maximum des locaux, l'impact social de l'école Arthur Pigeon, l'exemple des plus âgés chez les plus jeunes sont en somme des points d'intervention auprès de la Commission Scolaire Régionale Salaberry.

C'est en somme une victoire, mais certains se demandent si l'école Arthur Pigeon sera assuré d'un meilleur avenir.

L'école de Ste-Agnès pourrait être vendue

Le Conseil scolaire de la Commission Scolaire de Huntingdon a décidé de faire une demande auprès du Ministère de l'Education afin de céder l'école de Ste-Agnès-de-Dundee à la municipalité de Dundee pour des fins de loisirs.

En effet, lundi soir, le directeur général de la Commission Scolaire, Alphonse Caron, fit lecture d'une lettre provenant de la municipalité de Dundee.

Cette dernière faisait noter que le Cercle de Loisirs de cet endroit n'avait aucun local précis pour vraiment fonctionner de facon normale.

Le conseil de Dundee accepterait de faire l'acquisition de l'école de Ste-Agnès-de-Dundee dans son état actuel. Il faut noter que l'intérieur fut complètement détruit par les flammes dernièrement.

Le directeur général nota, en guise d'information aux commissaires, que l'entretien de cette école coûtait environ $1,060 par année; il continua en disant que des travaux de peinture doivent être effectués à tous les trois ans pour le montant de $800.

Depuis quelques années, l'école de Ste-Agnes-de-Dundee n'était pas utilisée par la Commission Scolaire à cause du manque d'étudiants dans ce secteur. L'an dernier, l'école fut utilisée seulement cinq fois pour des stages.

La Commission Scolaire, dans son ensemble, avait la même opinion, soit celle qu'elle ne prévoyait pas rebâtir l'intérieur de cette école. La garder pour des stages ne serait pas une solution, car le Minsitère de l'Education n'accepterait pas le réaménagement de l'intérieur pour cette fin.

Donc, la Commission Scolaire de Huntingdon, de façon unanime, décida de faire une demande auprès du Ministère de l'Education afin de recevoir la permission pour vendre cette école à la municipalité de Dundee.

La municipalité de Dundee pourrait se porter acquéreur de cette école pour des fins de loisirs, si la réponse du Ministère est favorable.

Harrigan et Stevens:

Un an de prison

Un ancien résident de Huntingdon, James Harrigan, et un ami de ce dernier, Gérald Stevens, recevaient une sentence d'une année en prison, après avoir plaidé coupable à une accusation de voie de fait avec l'intention sur la personne de Johnny Mooring.

A la suite d'une enquête du coroner, Harrigan et Stevens étaient reconnu criminellement responsables de la mort du violonneux Mooring, le tout survenu au terrain de stationnement de l'hotel St-Lawrence à Rivière Beaudette, le 28 mars 1974.

Une accusation de meurtre avait été portée contre ces deux individus dont la résidence actuelle est Montréal.

Mais, le ministère public a permis de réduire l'accusation de meurtre à celle de voie de fait avec intention. Alors, Harrigan et Stevens plaidaient coupables.

Saisie de pétards

Jeudi dernier, en après-midi, le détachement de Lacolle de la Sureté du Québec se rendait dans un entrepot appartenant à M. Roger Noël, situé sur la route 15 près de la frontière canado-américaine, afin de saisir des pièces pyrothechniques.

Cette saisie fut de l'ordre approximative de $50,000.

La Sureté du Québec fut aidé, dans la circonstance, par des agents de la Gendarmerie Royale du Canada et de quelques inspecteurs en explosifs du gouvernement fédéral.

La raison de la saisie se résume comme ceci: les pétards n'étaient pas proprement entreposés conformément à la loi fédérale. Semble-t-il le tout devenait un danger.

La boutique de M. Noël est en somme un centre de souvenirs ou plusieurs américains s'y rendent pour faire certains achats.

Egalement, à cause que la vente de pétards aux Etats Unis est illégale, plusieurs citoyens de ce pays se rendaient chez M. Noël pour fair l'achat de pétards afin de fêter le 4 juillet de façon bruyante.

C'est également à la surprise de certains citoyens américains que la saisie s'est effectuée jeudi dernier, soit la journée avant le 4 juillet. Certains américains était présent chez M. Noël afin de faire l'achat de pétards.

Cette saisie ne fut pas la seule dans le secteur; d'autres établissements de moindre importance furent également visités.

La serre serait sauvée

La serre de l'école polyvalente Arthur Pigeon pourrait bien demeurer à Huntingdon à cause du travail acharné de certains professeurs de cette institution.

Ces professeurs ont préparé un rapport prouvant l'usage complet de la serre à Arthur Pigeon. Les groupes de science l'utiliseraient à fond durant l'année scolaire.

Ce document fut présenté dernièrement aux commissaires de la Régionale Salaberry. On sait que la serre devait être déménagée à la Commission Scolaire Jean Talon de Charlesbourg, tout près de la ville de Québec.

Il semble que les autorités scolaires de la Régionale feront des démarches auprès du Ministère de l'Education afin que la serre demeure à Arthur Pigeon.

Le document préparé par les professeurs serait en somme une pièce justificative auprès du Ministère.

150 étudiants recherchent un emploi

Actuellement à Valleyfield, près de 700 étudiants du niveau collégial et universitaire, ainsi que 800 autres du niveau secondaire se trouvent sans emploi d'été. Pourtant, ces chiffres ne reflètent pas la présente situation économique de notre région immédiate.

En effet, Valleyfield semblerait connaitre, selon certaines personnes ressources du milieu, un climat économique assez positif malgré la situation provinciale et nationale.

Toutefois, le Centre de Main-d'Oeuvre pour Etudiants réussit de peine et de misère à trouver des emplois estivaux, qu'ils soient de nature régulière ou occasionnelle.

A la fin juin, le CMC-E Valleyfield avait effectué 130 placements tandis que le sous-bureau de la région Huntingdon-Hemmingford en totalisait 96. Ces chiffres sont peu encourageants si on les compare à ceux de l'an dernier où à la même date, on comptait près de 350 placements pour Valleyfield-Huntingdon.

Par ailleurs, à la fin de juin, plus de 250 employeurs de la région ont été visités et sensiblisés au phénomène de l'emploi étudiant.

On remarque enfin que comparativement au bassin de population et aux chiffres d'affaires des commerces et entreprises, la région de Huntingdon a généré plus d'emplois étudiants que celle de Valleyfield. C'est à croire que les supposés "campagnards" sont plus éveillés socialement que les modernes "citadins".

Nous ne tenons pas cependant à rejeter la pierre à nos concitoyens mais beaucoup plus à les éveiller et même à les réveiller car cet été, on semble bien décidé de laisser nos étudiants de côté. Pourtant, durant l'année scolaire, ces derniers paieront comme tout le monde leur loyer et paieront leur pain le même prix que vous.

Du travail il y en a! Regardez autour de vous et vous remarquerez que beaucoup de choses sont ou restent à faire. De la main-d'oeuvre, il y en a aussi et fort compétente croyez-nous! Rappelez-vous le principe économique de base: une économie florissante est directement reliée à son taux élevé de production.

Cet été on embauche les Etudiants!

CMC-E Beauharnois 429-6456; CMC-E Valleyfield 373-1274; CMC-E Huntingdon 264-3322.

Le tableau des clientèles est présenté et étudié

Lundi soir, en la salle de l'école Notre-Dame de Huntingdon, avait lieu la rencontre officielle du conseil scolaire de la Commission Scolaire de Huntingdon. Plusieurs sujets furent l'objet de discussion, malgré une chaleur écrasante.

Les Clientèles:

Le directeur générale de la Commission Scolaire, Alphonse Caron, présenta aux commissaires un tableau des clientèles au 20 juin.

De ce tableau, on note que la commission scolaire aura besoin de 81 professeurs, mais se lon la norme gouvernementale, seulement 79 enseignants seraient permis.

Toutefois, le tableau des clientèles pourrait changer au 30 septembre, donc le nombre d'enseignants nécessaires serait possiblement selon la norme gouvernementale.

Toujours selon les chiffres au 20 juin, la commission scolaire aurait besoin de 6 professeurs en maternelle, de 64 en cours régulier, 3 spécialistes en dénombrement flottant, et enfin 5 professeurs en déficience mentale.

Or, la direction générale aurait reçu une certitude d'un responsable du Ministère de l'Education, disant que les deux professeurs de surplus seraient acceptés vu les circonstances particulières.

LE BUDGET:

Les commissaires reçurent copie du budget pour la prochaine année scolaire 75-76. Ces derniers l'étudieront dans les prochains jours, et lors de la prochaine rencontre, on procèdera à l'acceptation s'il y a lieu.

ADMINISTRATION SOUS UN MEME TOIT:

Les commissaires acceptèrent le principe voulant que tout le personnel administratif de la Commission Scolaire de Huntingdon soit abrité sous un même toît, afin d'assurer un meilleur rendement de l'administration.

Ceci veut donc dire que la Commission Scolaire louera un autre local à l'édifice O'Connor afin d'abriter tout le personnel administratif. Un montant de $75 de plus par mois sera ainsi défrayé.

Ceci permettra alors un meilleur contact entre les conseillers en pastorale, en éducation physique. Le psychologue Richard Desrochers, nouvellement engagé, sera abrité également à cet endroit.

Cette recommandation provenait du directeur général; ce dernier aimerait pouvoir garder un meilleur contact avec tous les employés d'administration.

Vitesse de lecture:

La vitesse de lecture à voix haute se caractérise par unemoyenne de 130 à 150 mots à la minute. Le secteur de Huntingdon se chiffre à 139 mots à la minute, ce qui est très bon.

Un vol

Le chalet, à St-Anicet, de Georges Hepworth fut visité par des malfaiteurs le 2 juillet dernier.

Ces derniers entrèrent par effraction pour ensuite s'enfuir avec une lunette d'approche.

L'agent Labonté enquête dans ce méfait.

Noyade à St-Etienne

Michel Gauvin, agé seulement de 8 ans, s'est noyé dimanche, dans la soirée, dans une piscine au terrain de camping Bella à St-Etienne, près de la cité de Beauharnois.

Plusieurs jeunes se baignaient dans cette piscine qui était auparavant un lac artificiel. Un autre jeune garcon s'est aperçu de l'incident, et appela à l'aide. Le père de la victime retira le corps de la piscine.

Mais il était trop tard. Le décès fut constaté au Centre Hospitalier de Valleyfield.

Le détachement de Valleyfield de la Sûreté du Québec se rendit sur les lieux du malheureux incident. On fit note que, qu'il y avait trop de noyades de ce genre lorsque les températures sont chaudes et humides.

Mgr Guy Bélanger de retour

Le Service diocésain d'Information annonce avec joie le retour définitif de Monseigneur l'Evêque Guy Bélanger, à l'évêché de Valleyfield.

On se rappelle que c'est à la suite d'une crise cardiaque, au début de février dernier, que les médecins imposèrent à Monseigneur Bélanger un repos complet et prolongé en dehors du diocèse.

Après une convalescence de quelques mois, Monseigneur se croit suffisamment rétabli pour reprendre la direction de son diocèse qui avait été confiée "in absentia" à Monsieur le chanoine Paul-Emile Leduc, vicaire épiscopal.

Le diocèse souhaite donc un heureux retour à son Evêque en lui exprimant des voeux de complet rétablissement!

MONSEIGNEUR BELANGER

Cazaville:

On pleure la mort de Jean-Jacques Boyer

Jean-Jacques Boyer, agé de 31 ans de Cazaville, perdit la vie vers les 20 heures, lundi soir, dans un accident de la route impliquant un seul véhicule.

Le tout survint sur le Rang du Six, au sein de la municipalité de St-Stanislas-de-Kostka.

Jean-Jacques Boyer était à l'emploi du Canadien National à Valleyfield. Il revenait de son travail au moment de l'accident. En route, il perdit le controle de son automobile, déraper pour aller s'arrêter dans une clôture. Il aurait heurté le meme arbre que Marcel Duhème heurta le 7 juin dernier.

M. Boyer était seul dans l'auto au moment où l'accident survint. Le détachement de Valleyfield de la Sureté du Québec se rendit sur les lieux afin de constater l'incident.

Harold Wattie d'Athelstan arriva sur les lieux de l'accident deux minutes plus tard. Ce dernier nota que Boyer ne respirait pas. Le tout porte à croire que la mort fut instantanée.

Jean-Jacques Boyer était un fier organisateur des festivités du carnaval de Cazaville. Sa popularité était remarquable, plusieurs personnes furent surprises et très peinées à l'annonce de la mort de Jean Jacques. La localité de Cazaville est en deuil d'un homme qui s'est fortement donné à la communauté.

Jean-Jacques Boyer laisse dans le deuil son épouse née Fernande Hurteau, et trois enfants, Sylvie, 13 ans, Christiane, 9 ans, et Jean-Guy, 3 ans.

La dépouille mortelle est exposée au salon funéraire Rodrigue Montpetit de Huntingdon. Le service funéraire aura lieu en l'église de St-Anicet à 10 heures a.m. jeudi, et il sera inhumé au cimetière de la paroisse.

Les marcheurs de la Légion saluèrent le cénotaphe lors du défilé du premier juillet dernier.

Le défilé de la Légion termine les fêtes du 150e

La dernière journee des festivités du 150e anniversaire de la venue des premiers pionniers à Huntingdon était sous les auspices de la Légion Canadienne de cette localité.

Les festivités se terminaient par un autre gigantesque défilé dans les rues de Huntingdon. Le tout débuta vers les 18 heures à l'école Notre-Dame; de là, le défilé suivit les rues York, Dalhousie, King Lake, Chateauguay, Henderson et Fairview pour se terminer à l'Aréna Régionale de Huntingdon.

Au cénotaphe sur la rue Dalhousie, les légionnaires firent un salut. Les responsables de la journée du premier juillet et diverses personnalités du comité des fêtes regardaient sur le trottoir le défilé passer.

Deux agents de la Sureté du Québec en motocyclettes et quelques membres du club de moto Canada One de Huntingdon ouvraient la parade.

Les chars allégoriques: Cinq anciens modèles d'automobile était de la fête. Ces derniers rappellèrent des souvenirs aux personnes plus agées de Huntingdon. Dix huit chars allégoriques prenaient part à la parade les voici:

-Jos Douglas, ancien forgeron

- Le Bureau de Poste local distribuant des sacs informatifs
- Les jours du "moon shine"
- Des bébés marquant que Huntingdon a fait un long chemin, soit de 1825 à 1975.
- La Banque de Commerce de Huntingdon.
- Le Club Rotary
- Le Chateau
- Le magasin Legare
- Le Rosaire Perpétuel
- Catholic Women's League
- Les danseurs du bon vieux temps
- Huntingdon Fleuriste
- Les Voyageurs, champions de canoe
- Claude Quenneville Encan
- Age d'Or
- Le Centre Hospitalier de Huntingdon

Association récréative de Huntingdon

- Les Chevaliers de Colomb.

Egalement pour embellir la parade, il y avait plusieurs chevaux défilant au grand plaisir des jeunes enfants entassés le long des rues de la cité. Plusieurs corps de fanfares étaient de la fête. Ici on pense à la Garde Champlain de Valleyfield, aux Cadets de Marine de Montréal, aux Canadets de Huntingdon, au corps de fanfare de la localité d'Ormstown, aux Cadets de l'Aviation de Valleyfield, à la Garde Dollard des Ormeaux à l'Harmonie de Beauharnois, à l'ensemble de cornemuse de la vallée de Chateauguay et à la Philarmonie Portugaise.

En fin de soirée:

Quatre cents personnes s'entassèrent littéralement, par une chaleur écrasante, au sein de la cafétéria de l'école polyvalente Arthur Pigeon de Huntingdon afin de jouer au bingo.

Vers les 20:30 heures, un feux d'artifice dans la cour de l'école Arthur Pigeon attira des centaines de gens. Ce feu d'artifice terminait officiellement les dix jours de festivités dans le cadre du 150e anniversaire de la venue des premiers pionniers à Huntingdon.

Le déjeuner aux crêpes fut un succès.

Boire libéré

Laurent Boire âgé de 52 ans, fut libéré en attendant son procès pour meurtre des jeunes filles, Line et Sylvie Paquette de l'Ile Perrôt.

En effet, il fut libéré le 25 juin dernier par un juge de la Cour Supérieure au Palais de Justice de Valleyfield. Laurent Boire a pu retrouver sa liberté à trois conditions, dont les voici: il doit demeurer chez une de ses filles à Brossard; il doit se rapporter à un caporal de la Sûreté du Québec à tous les deux mercredis; et enfin, il ne doit pas entrer en contact avec les membres de la famille des deux jeunes filles, Line et Sylvie.

Commentaire

Un des commentaires que j'ai entendu tout au cours festivités du 150e anniversaire était le suivant: "On devrait en avoir plus souvent de ces soirées."

Ce commentaire sortait de la bouche de tout le monde. Cela a donc un élément de valeur qu'il faut y penser et y réfléchir attentivement pour les prochains instants.

Il est vrai que Huntingdon a fêté de façon grandiose le 150e anniversaire; il est aussi vrai que la participation des gens fut exceptionnel sur tous les points; il est vrai que plusieurs groupes ont unis tous leurs efforts afin d'assurer de ces festivités un retentissant succès.

Donc, le 150e anniversaire pourrait etre une solution. Il créera possiblement un mouvement chez la population locale permettant aux gens de prendre conscience de leur entité et de leur entourage. Les gens s'uniront plus souvent, c'est possible. Les gens fêteront ensemble plus souvent, c'est aussi possible.

Mais pour le commentaire entendu si souvent marque un point important pour l'histoire de Huntingdon: l'union et la solidarité des gens de notre cité doit se faire de plus en plus remarquer, et alors les visiteurs ne sauront que de s'apercevoir de cet excellent climat à Huntingdon.

Le 150e anniversaire est en somme un appel à la solidarité.

VOUS ETES TOUS

BIENVENUS

Le sang a beaucoup de pouvoir

Ce qui importe le plus au monde pour vous, c'est votre famille. La "famille" comprend parents et grands-parents, conjoint et enfants, frères et soeurs, oncles et tantes, et souvent quelques amis que l'on considère comme de la "famille."

Vous avez besoin de votre famille. Qui d'autre pourrait se réjouir de vos succès, se lamenter de vos échecs, endurer vos plaintes et rire de vos plaisanteries? Avec la vie d'aujourd'hui, il se peut que vous ayez perdu contact avec certains membres de la famille mais ils vous tiennent toujours à coeur.

C'est le temps de projeter vos vacances..et de penser à votre famille. Un membre peut tomber malade ou avoir un accident pendant votre absence.

Vous ne pouvez rien faire contre une telle éventualité, mais vous pouvez l'aider en donnant de votre sang avant de partir.

La Société Canadienne de la Croix-Rouge fournit tout le sang et tous les dérivés sanguins dont les hôpitaux canadiens ont besoin, partout au pays mais en été le besoin se fait plus grand à cause de l'absence des donneurs réguliers. Quand les approvisionnements tombent au-dessous de la moyenne, les hôpitaux éprouvent des difficultés. Ils ne peuvent attendre votre rentrée pour refaire leurs réserves...il leur faut du sang quand ils en ont besoin.

Avant de partir en vacances, pensez donc à votre famille. En donnant de votre sang, vous protégez chaque membre de la façon la plus fondamentale. En donnant de votre sang, vous aidez à assurer aux vôtres les transfusions, dont il pourraient avoir besoin..comme vous-même d'ailleurs.

Le sang a beaucoup de pouvoir..et le vôtre ne fait pas exception..car le sang peut sauver des vies.

Le 27 juin dernier, la journée des associations féminines françaises fut une réussite, comme nous le démontre cette photo prise à l'école Notre-Dame.

Le défilé de la Légion Canadienne fut intéressant. Les gens s'entassèrent le long des rues le 1er juillet afin de regarder attentivement le défilé. La beauté est démontrée par la photo.

L'exécutif étudie des soumissions

Le comité exécutif de la Commission Scolaire de Huntingdon se réunissait officiellement lundi soir en la salle de l'école Notre-Dame.

Des soumissions pour des travaux d'immobilisation et l'engagement d'un professeur furent en sorte les principaux sujets de discussion.

Soumissions:

Les toitures des écoles des municipalités de St-Louis-de-Gonzague et de St-Stanislas-de-Kostka devront durant les prochaines semaines être réparées. C'est pourquoi dernièrement la Commission Scolaire de Huntingdon demandait des soumissions pour ces travaux.

Pour l'école St-Louis-de-Gonzague, la firme Huntingdon Alsphalte a soumissionné pour un montant de $6,030; Maurice Perreault Construction pour $4,900; Wilfred Dandurand d'Ormstown pour $5,000; et enfin Adrien Vachon de St-Stanislas-de-Kostka pour $4,980.

Les membres de l'exécutif accepta le plus bas soumissionnaire, soit Adrien Vachon.

Pour l'école de St-Stanislas, la firme Huntingdon Alsphalte ferait les travaux pour $2,860; Maurice Perreault Construction pour $2,790; Wilfred Dandurand pour $2,795; et enfin Adrien Vachon pour $2,780.

Les commissaires acceptèrent le plus bas des soumissionnaires, soit Adrien Vachon de St-Stanislas.

Deux soumissions furent reçues pour des travaux de peinture de la bibliothèque de l'école Notre-Dame de Huntingdon. Léo Saumier de Huntingdon demandait un montant de $1,500, tandis que la firme Ste-Cécile Painting de Léo Montreuil soumissionnait pour $1,095.

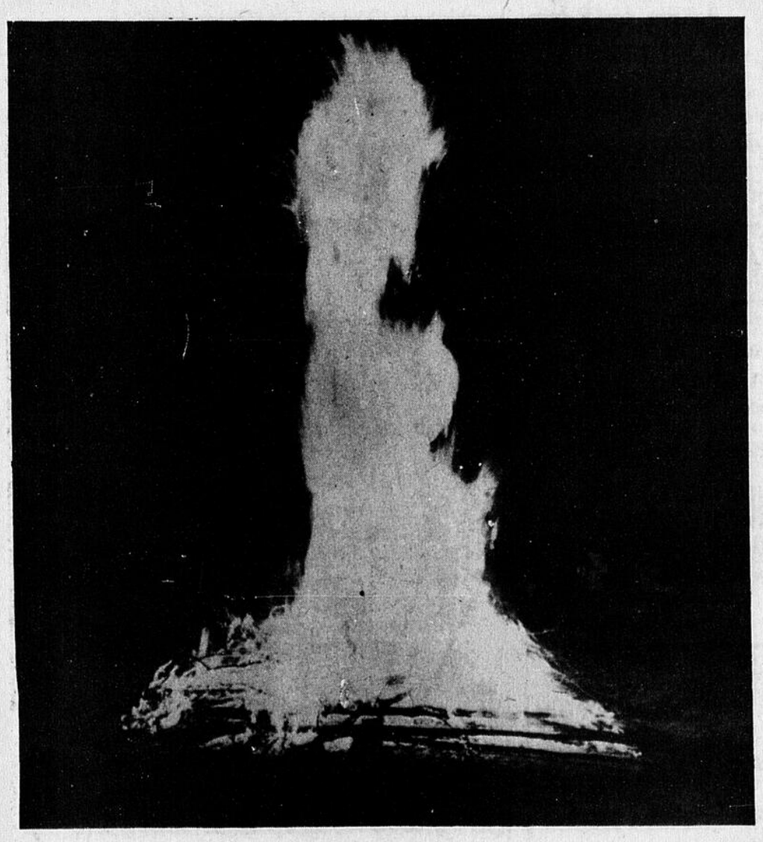
Les commissaires acceptèrent le plus bas soumissionnaire, soit la firme Ste-Cécile Painting.

Engagement et entente:

Monique Nantel fut réengagée par la Commission Scolaire de Huntingdon. Cette dernière sera affectée à une classe de déficience mentale à St-Antoine-Abbé.

La Commission Scolaire de Huntingdon procèdera à une entente avec l'Institut Doréa de Franklin pour l'enseignement de 18 élèves.

Paulette Demers enseignera encore cette année en France dans le cadre d'un autre échange entre le Québec et la France. L'enseignant français sera affecté à la maternelle possiblement pour le secteur de St-Louis.



Un feu de camp dans la soirée du 27 juin a attiré plusieurs personnes. Le tout était organisé par les Guides de Huntingdon.

Régates: toute une organisation

Si il y a une comparaison à faire concernant les Régates Internationales de Valleyfield, ou plus de 100,000 personnes se donnent rendez-vous, c'est surement à l'atmosphère qui règne au Carnaval de Québec.

Souvent comparée à l'Indy sur l'eau, les organisateurs des Régates Internationales de Valleyfield s'efforcent toujours de produire un spectacle nautique des plus enlevants.

Ce n'est surement pas par hasard si ces Régates, les plus grandes en Amérique du Nord sont une réussite, mais au contraire, le fruit de nombreux mois de travail et d'achrnement par les organisateurs.

Si tant d'efforts sont déployés à organiser ces Régates, c'est qu'on veut à tout prix une réussite parfaite à cette organisation. Nous savons déjà que plusieurs personnes sont affectés au bon fonctionnement de ces Régates.

Il suffit de mentionner 30 gardiens, 60 personnes affectées à la restauration, 50 au service de bars, 60 administrateurs et cadres, 10 personnes aux relations publiques et les rapports avec les média d'information du Québec, 10 personnes à l'information et l'enregistrement, 40 personnes préposées à la vente de macarons et de chandails, la force constabulaire de la Cité de Salaberry-de-Valleyfield la Sureté du Québec, la Gendarmerie Royale du Canada, le service technique de Bell Canada, les techniciens préposés au service de son, ainsi que toute l'organisation des courses, patrouilles, arbitres, assistants, marqueurs, juges de coins, préposés aux puits de ravitaillement, grues, tracteurs, etc.. et évidemment les 800 personnes attachées aux écuries de courses.

Quelques compagnies de chasseurs de baleines ont tenté de faire de d'exploitation minière dans le Nord. C'est ainsi que, dès 1900, un certain nombre d'Inuit de Lake Harbour

Hébert au large

Jean-Paul Hébert, de Greenfield Park, reste toujour introuvable suite dernièrement à un mandat d'arrestation émis contre lui par le procureur de la Couronne du district judiciaire de Beauharnois.

En effet, ce dernier doit répondre à une accusation de conduite avec facultés affaiblies. Il avait été impliqué dans une collision entre deux automobiles, tout près de Hemmingford, au mois de novembre dernier; alors six jeunes personnes perdaient la vie.

La Gazette, en fin de semaine dernière, apprenait que Jean-Paul Hébert était toujours au large.

Mérite agricole

Le ministre de l'Agriculture du Québec, M. Normand Toupin, vient d'annoncer les noms des gagnants du concours de Mérite Agricole des Jeunes, class "Etablissement agricole."

C'est Normand Poulin, un jeune homme de St-Prosper, comté de Dorchester, qui a mérité la médaille d'or, lors de cette épreuve d'envergure provinciale. Les médailles d'argent et de bronze sont allées, respectivement à Edouard Carrier, de Pintendre, et à Gilbert Rioux, de St-Simon, comté de Rimouski. Ces trois gagnants reçoivent, chacun, une bourse de $200.

Viennent ensuite, dans l'ordre: Pierre-Yves Germain, de Warwick, comté d'Arthabaska; Daniel Veillette, de St-Narcisse, comté de Champlain; Laurier Paré, de Weedon, comté de Wolfe: Pierre Bergevin, de Ste-Martine, comté de Chateauguay; Paul Chartrand, de Plaisance, comté de Papineau; Marc Jean de Chicoutimi Nord, comté de Dubuc. Ces derniers ont mérité aussi d'intéressantes bourses en argent.

Destiné à faire "apprendre en travaillant," ce concours du Mérite Agricole des Jeunes favorise ainsi une bonne relève agricole et une intégration plus complète de la jeunesse rurale à son milieu. Il donne aux jeunes l'occasion d'éprouver leurs capacités par rapport à leurs objectifs et aux décisions qui doivent nécessairement découler.

M. Normand Toupin, ministre de l'Agriculture du Québec, vient d'annoncer les noms des gagnants du concours du Mérite Agricole des Jeunes, dans la Classe "Jeune Futurs Agriculteurs".

C'est un groupe de Warwick, dans le comté d'Arthabaska, qui a mérité la première place. Il est suivi de très près par un groupe de St-Paul-de-la-croix, dans le comté de Rivière-du-Loup. Viennent ensuite, dans l'ordre, le groupe St-Gilles-St-Agapit, dans le comté de Lotbinière, et le groupe de Howick, dnas le comté de Chateauguay.

Grâce à sa victoire, le groupe de Warwick recevra un trophée ainsi qu'un prix de $300 qui lui permettra d'organiser une activité éducative. D'autres trophées et prix en argent seront également offerts aux autres groupes qui ont atteint la grande finale.

M. Normand Taillefer vient d'être admis membre de l'Ordre des Notaires de la province de Québec.

Né à Huntingdon, il est le fils de M. Armand Taillefer originaire de cette région et de Dame Dolorès Latreille, de Ste-Agnes-de-Dundee, domiciliés maintenant à St-Stanislas-de-Kostka.

Maître Taillefer a fait son cours classique au Séminaire de Valleyfield, son pré-Universitaire au C.E.G.E.P. du même endroit, pour recevoir sa Licence en Droit de l'Université d'Ottawa et son diplôme d'Etudes Notariales au mois de Juin 1975

Notons que Maître Taillefer commence sa carrière en l'Etude Hamon et St. Pierre de Hull.

Les Régates

Le sigle des Régates Internationales de Valleyfield est né de l'imagination de Monsieur André Mooney, un artiste bien connu de chez-nous.

Etant donné l'ampleur d'une organisation sportive tel que les Régates de Valleyfield, le comité organisateur a cru bon de se référer aux services d'un professionnel dans ce domaine afin de pouvoir bein représenter cette importante manifestation sportive.

Monsieur Mooney a donc créé ce sigle d'un style "design" qui représente le coureur passant le dernier drapeau quadrillé d'une course. Les couleurs choisies sont le vert, pour l'eau et la verdure qui nous entourent, et l'orange qui signifie danger auquel sont scumis tous les coureurs.

Soit dit en passant, que le sigle des Régates Internationales de Valleyfield est un excellent moyen de sensibiliser toute la population à cette importante manifestation sportive de chez-nous.

Le sigle sera présent sur les chandails en vente maintenant au Kiosque de Loto-Québec au Centre Commercial de Valleyfield, dans différentes commerces de Valleyfield, au Chalet du Club Nautique de Valleyfield, ainsi que sur le macaron donnant doit à l'accès au site des Régates.
