BRITAIN PRAYS IN FACE OF A GREAT CRISIS

Funeral Of Cardinal Begin Took Place In Quebec Today

Next Wednesday Conference May Decide Issue

Operators and Employees Will Confer in Last Effort to Avert Great Industrial Upheaval—Archbishop of Canterbury Calls Nation to Prayer in Face of Almost Unparalleled Crisis—Government Striving to Avert Strike and Great Industrial Disaster.

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, July 25.—Hope rather than confidence is the feeling at the moment regarding next Wednesday's conference between the coal mine owners and the miners, which was called in an effort to bring about a new working agreement and thus prevent the strike which has been called for July 31st, the day on which the old agreement expires. The attention of business interests everywhere will be focussed on the conference Wednesday for the serious consequences of a walkout by more than a million miners are fully realized.

The trouble between the owners and workers is an outgrowth of the proposals for a new agreement by the owners which would mean about a twenty per cent. reduction in wages and an extra hour of work daily. The miners have refused to accept this and have continued steadfast in their decision to remain aloof from negotiations unless the proposals were withdrawn.

No official announcement has been forthcoming as to what persuasions W. C. Bridgman, who has been acting as mediator, used to bring the opposite sides together, but the Daily Mail understands that his final success after repeated futile attempts was due to a proposal that at an unconditional conference the parties would examine together the conclusions and recommendations of the Government committee of inquiry, whose findings about the situation between the miners and mine owners are expected to be published Monday. Neither side, the paper says, will be committed by participating in the conference.

A. J. Cook, secretary of the Miners' Federation, is declared to have intimated that the executive of the Federation agreed to meet the employers after receiving reassurance that the owners' proposals, although not abandoned would not form part of the discussions. The Archbishop of Canterbury with the concurrence of the Free Church Council, has issued an appeal for special prayers in all churches and by Christians generally for "guidance and help in the face of great dangers and perplexities in this moment of an almost unparalleled crisis."

TRANSPORT UNIONS WOULD REFUSE TO MOVE COAL

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, July 25.—The possibilities of the threatened strike of coal miners became more serious today when a conference of the transportation and railway unions decided to take steps to prevent the movement of coal in the event of the miners' strike.

It has been decided to call a conference in London on Thursday of the executives of all trades unions to decide what strike action, if any, shall be taken by the unions generally.

BIG FIGHT IS NOW ON TO SAVE RUSSELL SCOTT

Sanity Question Raised and Legal Talent Preparing for Battle—Defence Will Claim Prison Confinement Has Deranged Him.

(Associated Press Despatch)
CHICAGO, July 25.—Cell madness will be the plea of Russell I. Scott, erstwhile financier and promoter, of Canada, in his effort to escape the gallows, from which he has been saved twice within a few hours of the carrying out of the death penalty.

Allentists who testified for Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, kidnapper-slayers of Robert F. Kennedy, will be called on in the effort to prove Scott is suffering from "prison psychosis." The defense theory will be that his mind has become affected by his fifteen months' confinement and the harrowing experiences of two death watches in the shadow of the noose.

During the ten days allowed them before the sanity hearing, set by Judge Joseph E. David for August 3, William Scott Stewart, Scott's attorney, will assemble the psychiatrists for a desperate legal battle to have Scott committed to an asylum. That the fight will be bitter has been indicated by prosecutors, who believe Scott is as sane now as at the time when Joseph Maurer, drug clerk, was killed in a hold-up. Scott was found guilty of the killing. The State will not cease efforts to have the death sentence carried out. Robert E. Crowe, State's attorney, has been summoned from his vacation in Northern Wisconsin to lead the State's effort.

While State and defense gird themselves for the legal fight which will begin Monday with hearings of preliminary arguments on the sanity test August 3, the police continue to check reports from various sections of the country regarding the whereabouts of Robert Scott, Russell's brother, indicted with Russell, but who never was apprehended. Russell has contended that Robert did the shooting.

A telegram purporting to come from Robert, sent to Governor Small, brought Russell a week's reprieve six hours before the time set for the hanging, July 17. The message later proved a hoax.

An offer to take Scott's place was made to Governor Small by G. P. McGraw, of Washington, D.C., who said he made it in an effort to bring about abolition of capital punishment.

BLAME THE GOLD STANDARD IN ENGLAND

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, July 24.—With reference to the criticism of the Government for its reversion to the gold standard, which has been made in some quarters in connection with the miners' strike and the labor difficulties in general, the Daily Express, one of the papers which has been most hostile to the gold standard, and especially the chancellor of the exchequer, Winston Churchill.

The paper contends that restoration of the gold standard is responsible for the grave decline in British bank deposits and export trade. It says, among other things, that the deposits in five of the biggest banks declined £40,000,000 sterling the first six months of 1925 because of the restoration of the gold standard.

RESOLUTION RE MOTOR TRUCKS AND HIGHWAYS

Sherbrooke Board of Trade Calls Attention of Provincial Government to Situation—Railways Affected and Highways Worn Out—Think Something Should Be Done—Much Discussion at Last Night's Meeting.

Following considerable discussion by prominent railwaymen and merchants of this city and other places a motion dealing with the growing employment of motor trucks as a means of freight and passenger transportation and proposing to put the matter before the Provincial Government was unanimously passed last evening at a special meeting of the Sherbrooke Board of Trade.

With Mr. A. M. Sangster, president of the Board, occupying the chair, Mr. Edgar Genest presented the following motion for the consideration of the Board:

"Considering the importance of that serious problem, the delivery of goods by automobile trucks;

"Considering the considerable damage caused to our national roads by the use of these trucks;

"Considering the harm done to our railways by our refusal to accord them legitimate revenues;

"It is proposed by Edgar Genest and seconded by George Denault that the Sherbrooke Board of Trade earnestly request the Provincial Government to take the necessary steps to remedy this state of affairs;

"That the Secretary of the Sherbrooke Board of Trade be authorized to send a copy of this resolution to the different boards of trade of this province, as well as to the railway companies, asking them to adopt a similar resolution."

The mover of the motion then proceeded to present his views on the matter and give his reasons as to why such a resolution was deemed advisable. He stated that some time ago he had looked into the commercial situation of the country, and had found it none too good. One merchant, on being questioned as to what he thought was the reason, replied: "I think the trouble is caused by the delivery of merchandise by trucks. There is only one solution, and that is to approach the government." Mr. Genest stated that he then wrote to Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, also E. W. Beatty, K.C., president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and also interviewed the Hon. Jacob Nicol, provincial treasurer, on the subject. "Mr. Nicol," said Mr. Genest, "asked him to obtain the necessary backing of business men, and he would do all he could in the matter."

In closing, Mr. Genest said: "It would be a great credit to Sherbrooke if it could take the lead in this great question. It is no ordinary matter, but is of interest to both the Federal and Provincial Governments."

Mr. J. O. Darche, on being asked to speak on the matter, asked if business men are going to establish large outside firms to allow themselves in cities and deliver goods by motor truck, damaging roads which have been constructed by taxes exacted from the public. Mr. Darche proceeded to give instances, which, in his mind, goes to show that the Provincial Government is alive to the situation, stating that they have already passed laws prohibiting the passage of trucks over a certain weight, height and width, over the highways.

Alderman Newton also expressed his views on the subject. He said: "This is a free country, and a legitimate business can be established and carried on in a way the founder sees fit. But, if trucks damage the roads, it is only right that they pay for these damages. The truck service has proved very satisfactory, and once a better and more satisfactory way of doing things is found, it is impossible to go back to the old way. It is an unfair competition with the railways, and I think that trucks ought to be made to pay their own way."

Mr. J. H. Walsh, general manager of the Quebec Central Railway, in making a few remarks, stated that the railways of the country have perfect confidence in the government. Mr. Walsh said: "The matter on hand has been one of weighty consideration to the railways for some time. It is cutting into our revenue very seriously, and I feel that the action of the Sherbrooke Board of Trade is a wise one." In closing, Mr. Walsh added: "The number of railwaymen present here tonight shows how we support your action."

F. N. McCrea, M.P., spoke. The chairman then called on F. N. McCrea, M.P., who expressed himself as being entirely in favor of the resolution.

"Trucks are using public roads," said Mr. McCrea, "which are built for the benefit of the public. That is all right, but people who truck for pay, it is a different proposition, and

IMPOSING CEREMONIES MARK FUNERAL OF CARDINAL BEGIN AT QUEBEC THIS MORNING

Remains Laid in Crypt of Basilica, Beside Those of Sixteen Deceased Archbishops of Quebec—Cardinal Hays, of New York, Present—Sherbrooke and Diocese Represented—Remains of Cardinal Borne from Palace to Basilica.

(Associated Press Despatch)

QUEBEC, July 25.—Encased in a mahogany covered casket and draped in purple, the whole surmounted by the red bierette, the body of Cardinal Louis Nazaire Begin, the late Archbishop of Quebec, now rests in the Basilica. Amid ceremonies that were moving in their impressiveness, the remains of the deceased prelate were conveyed yesterday from the palace, where they had lain in state since Sunday to the ancient church which is now in process of rising from the ruins of the disastrous fire that destroyed it in part, some years ago.

Today at nine o'clock the interment of the deceased prelate took place in the crypt of the Basilica. Cardinal Begin was laid to rest alongside the tombs of the preceding sixteen archbishops of Quebec.

With the transference, yesterday, of the body of Cardinal Begin, deceased Roman Catholic primate of Canada, whose death occurred on Sunday last in the Archbishop's Palace here, from the Palace to the Basilica the people of Quebec took part in the last ceremonies when the Cardinal's remains were laid to rest in the crypt of the church alongside those of the other sixteen archbishops of Quebec who have preceded him. Today's ceremonies were replete with all the dignity and the impressiveness of the solemn occasion.

Thousands thronged the church and many thousands more had assembled outside as the solemn services for the repose of the soul of the late prelate were conducted. Everywhere signs of deep mourning were in evidence, the public buildings were strewn with draperies and private residences displayed tokens of the sense of the loss that has been sustained in Quebec and the whole Roman Catholic Church in Canada by the death of Cardinal Begin.

Quebec's population had been augmented considerably at the present season by the tremendous invasion of visitors and by the assembly of pilgrims here on the eve of the feast of St. Anne de Beaupre. These added their numbers to the multitude and joined in the mourning.

Cardinal Begin's body last night rested in the Basilica, in its mahogany covered coffin, enshrouded in his robes and surmounted by his bierette and ceinture of office. At each of the four corners stood a member of the Papal Zouaves, while kneeling beside it were the Dominican Sisters, in continuous prayer. Yesterday's ceremonies were carried out with grandeur and solemnity. Monsignor Labrecque, Bishop of Chicoutimi, presided over the office of the raising of the body. Borne on the shoulders of six priests, the coffin was carried to the hearse outside the palace. The officiating clergy were Father Garon, of Ste. Victoire de Tring; Roy, of St. Patrick's, Riviere Du Loup; Cinq Mars, of Grandines; Voyer, of Lotbiniere; Houle, of St. Maurice de Thetford, and Laflamme, of St. Anselme.

In the ceremony of the resting of the body, Monsignor Labrecque was assisted by Father McGuire, of St. Louis, and Father Hudon, of Notre Dame Du Chemin, both of Quebec.

In the funeral procession every department of civic, political and religious life, not only of Quebec, but of Canada, was represented.

CARDINAL HAYES ATTENDS THE FUNERAL

(Associated Press Despatch)

MONTREAL, July 25.—Cardinal Hayes, of New York, accompanied by his secretary, Mgr. Donohue, Rev. Dr. Roach, President of the Catholic Summer School, Cliff Haven, N.Y., and George Gillespie, New York, spent two hours here yesterday before leaving for Quebec to attend the funeral of Cardinal Begin today.

It is also a very unfair one."

The speaker then went on to say that the people build the roads, and all the trucker has to do is to buy his means of conveyance, and start a business, whereas the railways have to build their own roadbeds, and not only build them, but keep them in constant good condition. "All the trucker furnishes is a truck," said Mr. McCrea, "while the people furnish and keep up the roads. It is also unfair to the people who have invested their money in the railways. This is a question which needs a lot of study, and the sooner we get down to business, the better."

The speaker went on to say that the trucking business is only for a period, the motors only being able to run in the summer, whereas the railways have to keep operating the whole year round.

Others who spoke in favor of the resolution were George Denault, seconder, and E. L. Stewart Patterson. Those who spoke and took the side of the trucks were Messrs. A. R. Wilson, Meredith Wilson and J. K. Edwards, who, however, did not oppose the adoption of the resolution. Mr. Edwards, in a few words, gave his opinion in favor of the trucks, but closed his remarks by saying: "I hope the government will settle the question with the greatest good to the greatest number," which was apparently the stand taken by others not wholly in favor of the resolution.

Among those from out of town present were Albert A. Gardiner, of the traffic department of the C. N.R., who moved a resolution on behalf of the railwaymen, thanking the Sherbrooke Board of Trade for their share in bringing before the government a much-needed question; A. B. McNaughton, superintendent of the Portland division of the C.N.R., of Richmond; and H. M. Gain, assistant superintendent, also of Richmond.

PROBLEMS OF THE ESKIMO AND INDIAN

Civilization Has Not Helped the Former to Look After Himself.

REGINA, July 25.—That the eskimos in far northern Canada were becoming a real problem was the word of Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the interior yesterday. The incursion of the white man into those territories was partly blamed for the falling from grace of the aborigines, the Minister declaring that the native providence of the Eskimo has given way to improvidence, the result being that when difficult times came he was without the stores of food and supplies he formerly used to provide and became in danger of starvation. The plains Indians, the Minister further declared were less troublesome to his department than the bush Indians of the northern territories and generally were in better circumstances.

A. R. MACMASTER M.P. FOR BROME, MAY BE JUDGE

Member for Brome Best Bet in Case of Montreal Vacancy if He Wants It.

OTTAWA, July 24.—A rather formidable list is comprised by the lawyers whose names are mentioned, or have been recommended by various parties, for appointment to the judicial vacancy on the Superior Court at Montreal, due to the death of Justice MacLennan.

It is considered doubtful if Andrew MacMaster, M.P., would go on the bench, although his retirement from political life is forecast. If he should care for a judicial appointment his chances are considered superior.

Mentioned for the appointment are: Mr. MacMaster, R. T. Stackhouse, K.C., W. L. Bond, K.C., Arnold Wainwright, K.C., R. C. McMichael, K.C., J. A. Ewing, K.C., J. J. Creelman, K.C., A. E. Harvey, K.C., W. W. Chipman, K.C., R. L. Calder, K.C., and William Patterson, K.C.

J. A. C. Eithier, M.P., for Two Mountains is the most prominent of three or four aspirants to replace Hon. Calixte Lebeuf on the Circuit court.

A Superior court vacancy also exists in Three Rivers on account of the death of Judge Desey. Appointments will likely be considered next week.

Colored Races Are Advancing Quite Rapidly—Urges Whites To Be Just And Fear Not

The problem of the negro has not yet been solved and, in the Philippines, another colored race is querying American authority.

Numerically, the position is against the white. The number of colored human beings on the earth is 1,150,000,000, while there are but 550,000,000 white people. Two-fifths of the world's area is peopled by white races, three-fifths by colored. EXPERTS STILL ARE STUDYING DEBT PROBLEM

Caillaux and Churchill Will Confer Early in September.

(Associated Press Despatch)

PARIS, July 25.—The experts who have been working on the French debt to Great Britain are continuing their consultation with the British experts. Finance Minister Caillaux yesterday informed the cabinet that the situation was expected to be ripe for discussion of details of a settlement early in September, when M. Caillaux will go to London to take up the matter with Winston Spencer Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer.

The commission to consider the funding of the United States debt will then, it is thought, also be ready to start for the United States to talk over France's debt to that country, and unless the situation then seems such that M. Caillaux cannot be absent from Paris for three or four weeks, he will head the commission.

Dear Corner Children:
The mail box was empty this morning, but the corner uncle was not surprised because these are busy days and the children have so much work and play outside that they have little time to write. I saw a garden the other day in which are growing some very fine vegetables for the school fair. I do hope the boy who is working so hard to make his garden grow will win prizes.

My tomatoes are quite large now and will bear well I think. My cukes are growing also, and I hope to have some nice ones in a week or two. I found a few ripe raspberries one day this week and the bushes looked as if there would be many more. It is much easier to pick them than strawberries, do you not think so?

I am sure that many of the corner cousins are enjoying motor trips in the country, visits to relatives and friends, and all kinds of pleasant outings. We have had so many showers this summer that many who are taking trips get wet and sometimes have their hats and clothes spoiled. It is best to smile and forget all about it, for the summer is short, and we must have our holidays. I saw a boy fall in the lake the other day. He had his best suit on, but he laughed and said: "How stupid of me!"

I must tell you a little fish story, a true one. A boy was fishing along the lake shore and something nibbled at his line. He lost his grip on the pole and it slipped into the water. He got a boat and went on the water to get his fish rod and when he pulled up he found a fair-sized perch on the hook. Just at that moment a large pickerel came along and swallowed the perch and the hook broke off. He went to the house and got another fish line and hook and fished until he caught the pickerel that ate the perch. We may call that an example of perseverance. Don't you think so?

I hope all the cousins enjoyed the little story about Robin, who was surely persevering in his sand-digging. He was so deeply interested in his search he didn't notice how hard he was working, and it gave him a good appetite. It is always a good plan, then the time does not seem so long and we can feel proud of what we accomplish if we do it in the right way.

The boys and girls will soon be talking about school days and their clubs and games that make the school term more interesting. I hope some of them will write to the corner and tell all the news they can. Until the school days come may every boy and girl have the happiest time ever is the wish of

"To what, to who-o-o?" called the twilight owl.
From his nook in the old oak tree. Again and again to the silent wood "To what, to who-o-o?" asked he.

A thoughtful lad on his homeward spoke up through the evening gloom: "If you'd studied your grammar, you know old owl."

You'd know you should say, "To who-o-o!"

ROBIN'S SURPRISE

Although it was a long walk they returned with spades after dinner, and Pat found it difficult to drag Robin away to tea.

In the morning he rushed off again, and came back to dinner feeling

BILLY MINK PAYS A TRIBUTE

By Thornton W. Burgess.

Tribute always will be paid To those who fight though sore afraid.

—Old Mother Nature.

Moving swiftly across the Smiling Pool came a small brown head. Peter Rabbit, sitting on the bank, just had to admire the speed with which that brown head approached. It was the head of Billy Mink. Peter realized more than ever what a very fine swimmer Billy is. Billy came straight, over to Jerry Muskrat's new landing and climbed out on it. As he did so he saw Peter Rabbit. "Hello, Peter!" exclaimed Jerry. "Were you talking with Jerry Muskrat? You must have been, because I can smell the musk Jerry so delights in. This must be a new landing of his. It wasn't here the last time I was along this way. Jerry certainly is a hard worker. I know of no one more industrious, excepting Paddy the Beaver. Did Jerry see me coming?"

Peter nodded. "Yes," he admitted Billy Mink grinned. "He needn't have feared me," said he, "there really was nothing to be afraid of. Fish are too plentiful and too easily caught to make it worth while fighting for a dinner. Besides, Jerry is too old and tough now."

"Do you mean, Billy Mink, that you really would kill Jerry Muskrat?" demanded Peter, looking very much shocked.

"Of course I would if I had to," replied Billy, grinning more broadly than ever. "You know, in hard times it is every one for himself. Well, I can tell you one thing, Peter, and that is that I would look around quite a bit before I undertook to make a dinner of Jerry Muskrat. Of course with one of Jerry's babies it would be different. Jerry himself is too good a fighter to take any unnecessary chances with. I really wouldn't care to face Jerry unless I had to. You know, there isn't a cowardly hair on him when he is in a tight place. Get Jerry where he feels that he must fight and he'll do it as long as there is a kick in him."

"Of course," said Peter, quite as if that were the thing he would do under the same circumstances.

Billy Mink laughed right out. "To hear you talk, Peter," said he, "you would think that is just what you would do unless the circumstances, and you know very well that all you would do would be to squeal and kick. Jerry Muskrat doesn't look for trouble, but when he meets it, he stands up to it. He may be frightened half to death, but no one would know it from watching him. I have seen him scare people much bigger than himself. No, Peter, I certainly am not looking for a fight with Jerry Muskrat."

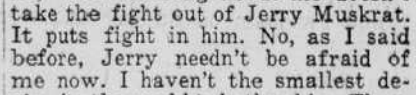

"I am glad to hear it," said Peter. "Jerry admitted to me that you are the one he fears most because you can follow him wherever he goes. I guess he feels about you the same way I feel about your cousin Shadow the Weasel. Just thinking of Shadow takes all the fight out of me."

Again Billy Mink chuckled. "Well, you can be pretty sure, Peter," said he, "that thinking about me doesn't take the fight out of Jerry Muskrat. It puts fight in him. No, as I said before, Jerry needn't be afraid of me now. I haven't the smallest desire in the world to bother him. There are plenty of fish and if one is spry there is a young bird now and then for a change of fare. That reminds me, Rattles the Kingfisher should have a family by this time. Tender young Kingfishers would be an agreeable change. I believe I'll have a look and see what the chances are. Good-bye, Peter."

CAN ORIENTALS BE BRIBED TO QUIT CANADA?

185,000 People of Colored Origin in Nine Provinces

Representatives of five dark-skinned races today---Their success a romance of economic history---Negroes migrated with Loyalists after U.S. revolution

ARE Canada's colored citizens an asset or a liability? Are Orientals happy or unhappy in the Dominion? How many of them would welcome a plan to pay them to leave the country and return to their native lands? Would Canada be justified in considering fixing a standing compensation of five hundred dollars to any man or woman from China, Japan or India who would return to the east and forfeit the privilege of returning here?

This suggestion is not so fantastic as it appears at first glance. Canada has a large group in its citizenship of people who can never become assimilated. They are industrious, peaceable men and women, but they are not, and can never be, on a social equality with their white fellow-citizens. Canada has no right and no desire to make these people feel unwelcome, but could she not, by the judicious expenditure of several millions of dollars, relieve a situation which in some quarters of Canada, has grown to be acute?

Few Unhappy Incidents.

Canada has been exceedingly fortunate in the history of colored immigration. There have been protests from several provinces from time to time concerning the increase in the number of brown, yellow, and black settlers. On the whole there have been few unhappy incidents. The protests have been mostly upon economic grounds. Their low standard of living, sending Canadian money abroad, purchasing their supplies from their home lands, their penetration into basic Canadian industries, and similar pleas have been made.

A few weeks ago a Mediterranean fisherman, leaning over the side of his boat saw below him in the clear waters of the sea the strange outlines of what appeared to be streets and buildings. His discovery was reported to someone in authority and archaeologists, in amazement and delight identified the place as a site of a forgotten Phoenician city.

Yet, while Phoenicia is only a memory, one of the great nations which flourished in her day still remains, and that is China. The great Rip Van Winkle of the orient, the nation which has slumbered for twenty centuries, was a great world power in the days when Egypt, Assyria, Babylon and Phoenicia were the "great powers."

Canada's Color Problem.

While Chinamen are the most numerous of the oriental people within our borders, we have five distinct types of colored people to deal with. There are 39,757 Chinamen; 1,016 British Indians; 15,868 Japanese; 18,291 negroes, and 110,814 American Indians. This gives us a total colored population of 185,576 people, or 2.25 per cent. of the total population.

None of these people are without their quarrels with the authorities at some time or another. The very breadth and depth of British justice gives them the basis for claims to which we, as British subjects, are loath to turn a deaf ear. We like to feel that within our borders there is real freedom for every man who deserves it, but we cannot in duty to our own race allow sentiment to befool an issue which may in days to come merely be shifted to the shoulders of our sons and daughters.

Century of Migration.

The past century has seen the greatest migration of people from one part of the world to another in the whole of history. Between thirty and thirty-five million people have broken their ties with their homes and have sought new destinies in strange lands. Millions of Europeans have gone from Europe to Canada, United States, Australia, New Zealand, Africa. Millions of Orientals have shifted from Asia to America, Africa and the islands of the seas, the West Indies, the new lands which white men were discovering and developing.

There are in America, northern and southern continents, including immigrating orientals and native born Indians, nearly twenty-five million people of color.

Canadian Indians.

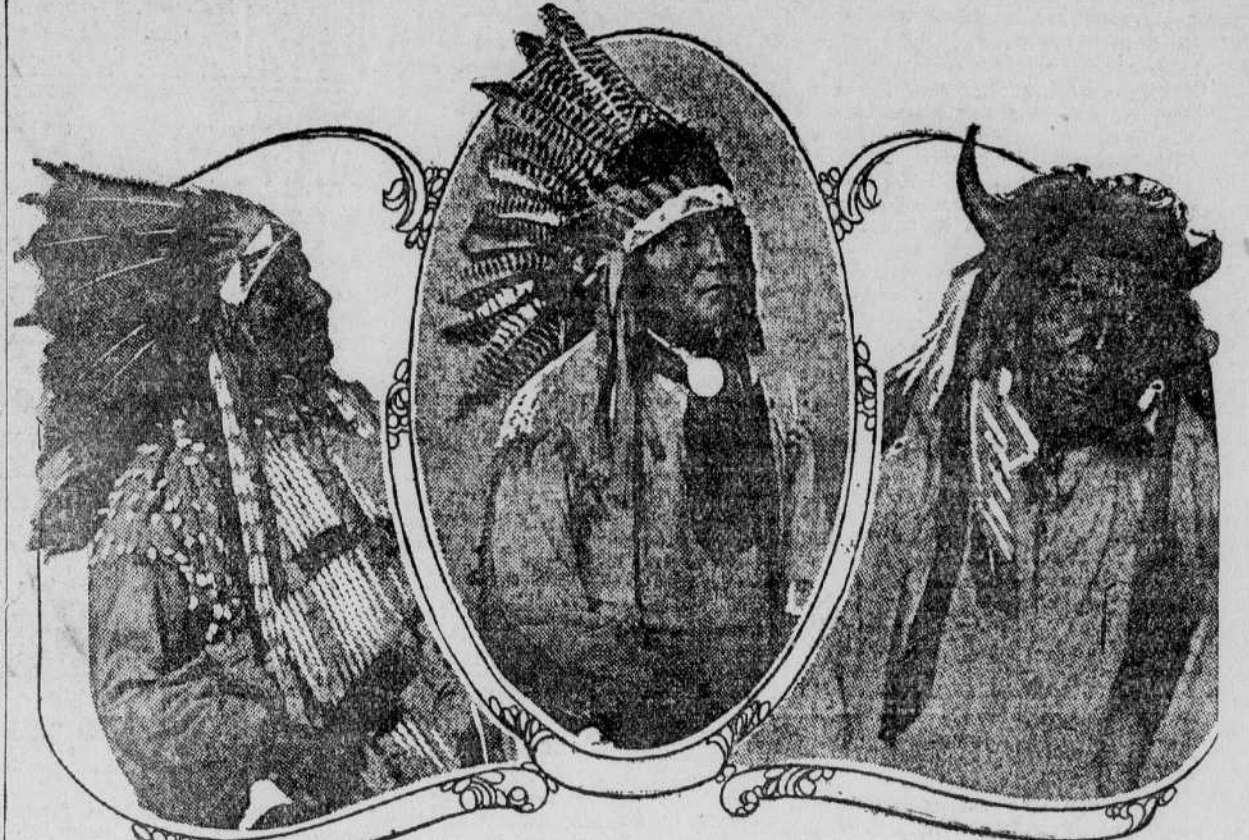

The biggest part of Canada's colored citizens are the native born American Indians. There are 110,000 of these still in Canada, and fourteen thousand Indian children are attending Canadian schools. Every Canadian at some time or other must sigh with regret over the fall of these creatures of the forest. They take little or no part in public affairs. It is the rare thing for a man of Indian birth to attain to any degree of prominence in Canada. Their lot seems to have been to acquire only the evil things of civilization. However, the old Indian spirit is by no means dead. It was startling to Canada to realize, not long since, that the old Six Nations Indians did not regard themselves as a part and parcel of the Dominion. They demanded no less than admission to the League of Nations on the basis of nationality which they declared they possessed.

Not as subjects of the British crown, but as allies! Occasionally Canada has to foot some bill for compensation over some matter in which treaties were neglected when Canada became a nation. Such was the case entirely. Ontario had to pay half a million dollars to the Indians of Huron and Simcoe counties for lands appropriated and which the Chippewas and Mississaugas were able to prove had never been purchased from them.

Oriental Win Wealth.

The success of Oriental people throughout Canada, Japanese, Chinese, and British Indians, is one of the most remarkable of human achievements in economic history. Childlike, servile and conservative Orientals have emerged as aggressive and shrewd business men. Their enterprise has won for a great many of them not only comfort but opulence. Unfortunately they cannot secure equality with white people. However unjust and prejudiced the attitude may be, white workers will not work on an equality with colored people. They create an industrial stratum into which white people will not penetrate. Winnipeg has passed a law prohibiting white women from working in Chinese restaurants. Other provinces have provided means whereby either directly or indirectly the same results may be achieved.

China a Land of Resources. There is no excuse for the emigration of Chinamen to the new world. We all have a vague idea that China with its "teeming millions" is a crowded land in which it is difficult to sustain life. It is true that there are in China 428,000,000 people. It is today probably one of the poorest countries in the world, but potentiality, it is the richest of all lands. It is capable of sustaining a population three times in size. The United Kingdom is supposed to be one of the most densely populated countries, with a population of 379 to the square mile, but China's population is 195 to the square mile in its eighteen principal provinces, but including Mongolia, Manchuria, etc., the rate is 75 to the square mile. So vast and so rich is China that it could produce all that is necessary to make it a great industrial country. Coal is found everywhere in China. It is estimated that she has coal reserves of a hundred billion tons. The country is rich in other minerals as well, and is vast enough to produce tropical as well as northern crops. The Chinese are the best workers in the world. Intelligent, industrious and frugal. Why then should Canada be saddled with an Oriental problem when China has plenty of room to expand within herself?

A Passion for Learning.

But China will not always remain a sort of gigantic Sleepy Hollow. Her sons at home and abroad are beginning to awaken to the fact that they have it in their power to restore China's old glories. Learning has become a passion with them. There are earnest Chinese students in every important city in Europe. The museums and art galleries of London, Paris and Rome are haunted by spectacled Orientals with guide books. All the professions are attracting them, but especially those which have to do with commerce and industry. Chemistry and banking are favorite lines of endeavor. The University of Toronto and McGill University have their quota of Chinese hard at work absorbing modern western education. Culture they have in plenty from their own world-old classics. What they want from the Occident is the knowledge of industrial development and finance.

Japanese Turn to Canada.

The first of the Japanese to enter Canada came in 1896. Fifteen thousand entered the province in five years. Unlike Indians and Chinese, the Japanese came prepared to enter every avenue of trade and industry. They adopted western dress and the western mode of life. So successful were they that to-day they own great areas of important real estate in Canada. They are forging ahead in business. When the immigration from Japan became too heavy Canada entered into an agreement with her neighbor across the Pacific whereby Japan herself restricts the emigration of her subjects.

Japanese shops are no longer a curiosity in any city in Canada. They are accepted as part of everyday life. Well dressed Japanese are to be found everywhere and they excite no interest when they drive about our big cities in limousines.

All Want to Own Land.

These people have all a common ambition---to own land. In B.C. so successful have they become in acquiring land that whole districts have been given over exclusively to them. They have monopolized certain lines of business. They have shown an uncanny sense for acquiring these lands at strategic spots, so that eventually white settlers have been forced to sell and move.

The first British Indians to penetrate into western life were some business men who went to London, England, sixty years ago. They settled there and were soon joined by others of their people until to-day there is a large colony of Indians in the empire capital.

First British Indians.

The Indian immigration presented the greatest difficulty to Canada. The movement began in 1905. Five thousand men came in seven years. They were British subjects and therefore entitled to certain privileges as they were merely passing from one part of the empire to the other. Statesmen were nonplussed. The only thing they could do was to demand that each immigrant upon landing must be possessed of two hundred dollars. This reduced the immigration to almost nothing in 1908. The men were Hindus and Mohammedans who worked in sawmills and on railway construction, but they brought with them the evils of the caste system.

Canada has put a stop to Eastern Indian immigration and there are now in the country only 1,016 of these people. British Columbia has 951 of them. They are mostly Sikhs from the Punjab, a virile and warlike people, but agricultural in their habits. They are imbued with much vanity and a sense of their own importance. Those who immigrated years ago to the United States and Canada provided one of Britain's most serious war problems in India. They became prey to German agents and in the first year of the war, ten thousand of them returned to India to begin an agitation against Britain. Two thousand were intercepted at the ports but the rest got into the country and added fuel to the fire which was already smouldering in India. We all know what has happened in the years since and the trials which the British officials,

We all know what has happened in the years since and the trials which the British officials,

"the steel framework of the Empire in India," have had to combat. That day, however, is passing, and the animosity against British rule is now replaced by animosity between the Hindus and Mohammedans who suspect each other's motives in the measures of self rule which have been accorded in some parts of India. However, if Canada had not effectively restricted immigration from India there would be an endless stream from the 500,000,000 people of that vast empire, ninety per cent. of whom are poor, in spite of our long cherished dreams of the wealth of India. These are people who bring their caste system with them and would establish in Canada a miniature of the great sub-divided empire of India.

A Refuge for Slaves.

The first actual immigration of negroes to Canada began just after the American revolution. The town of Shelburne which was founded by the Loyalists in New Brunswick in 1783 had a section devoted exclusively to negroes who numbered about four thousand. England had to pay compensation to owners in the United States for the negroes to whom she extended refuge. In 1792 twelve hundred of the black folks were deported to Sierra Leone. After the war of 1812 four hundred fresh black emigrants settled in New Brunswick, slaves from the south who had learned from men who had returned from the fighting along the Canadian boundary, of a land to the north in which the black man was as free as the white. New Brunswick still has about twelve hundred blacks, but Nova Scotia and Ontario have by far the largest settlements, the Maritime Province sheltering about sixty-two hundred and Ontario seventy-two hundred. Quebec and Alberta have about equal numbers, less than eleven hundred each; British Columbia has seven hundred; Manitoba, five hundred, and Saskatchewan four hundred.

"Uncle Tom" in Canada.

The nineteen or twenty thousand negroes in Canada now are for the most part descendants of the slaves who escaped from the United States in the nineteenth century. In 1851 they totalled 2,102; in 1861, they were 13,166, and before freedom was granted to them in the United States their numbers swelled to almost 75,000. One of the most interesting of the refugees in Canada was the hero of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," who was in real life Josiah Henson. He lived and worked for many years in Canada, became a Methodist preacher and made several trips to England in the interests of his people. In 1876 he was entertained by Queen Victoria.

A Mayor of Toronto.

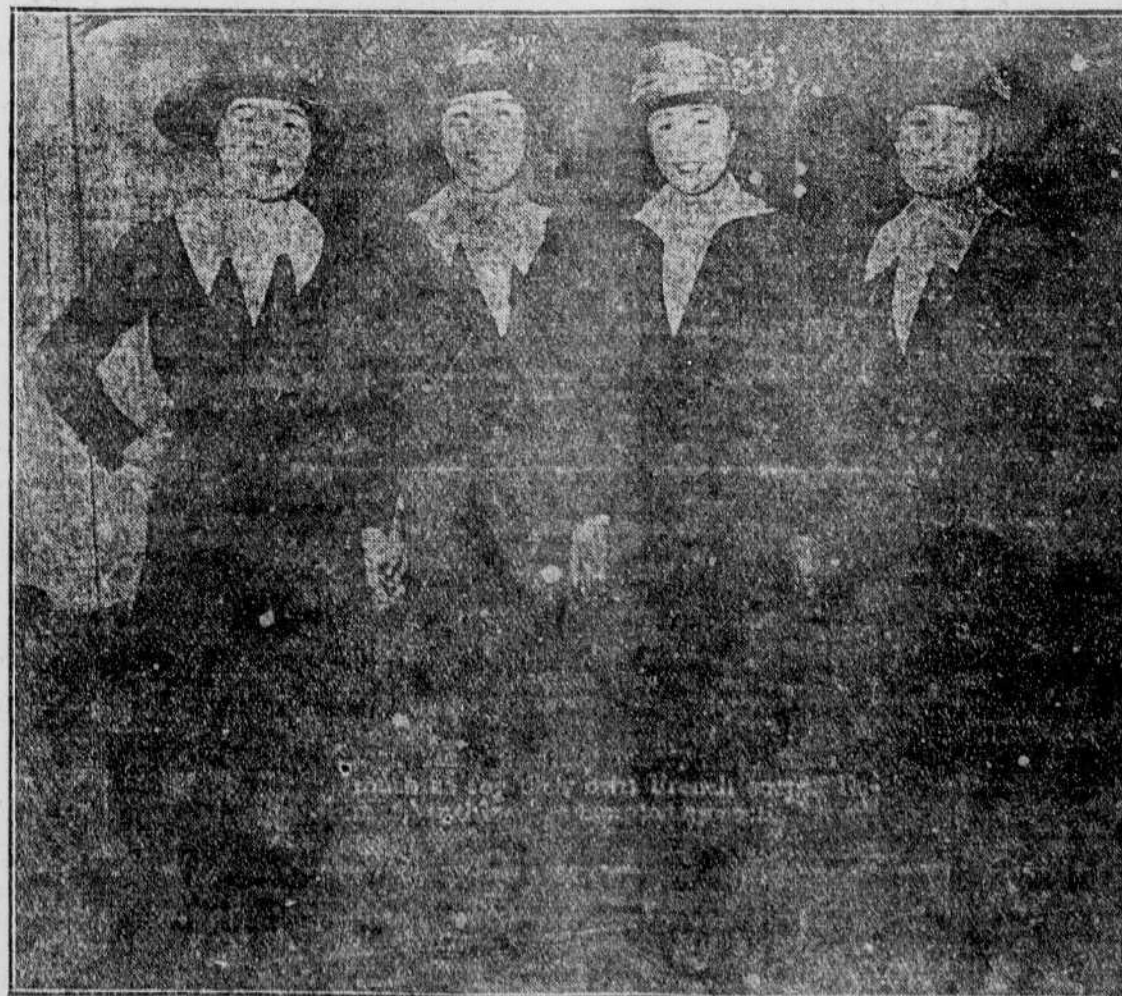

One of the most interesting men of negro descent in Canada is William P. Hubbard who at one time acted as Mayor of Toronto. He was born in Toronto of mixed negro, Indian and Anglo-Saxon blood, was elected an alderman and after years of service became president of the Board of Control. In the summer of 1895, during the absence of the mayor in Europe, he acted in his place as chief magistrate.

Whites Far Outnumbered.

There are 1,650,000,000 people on this earth. Five hundred million are white people, but 1,150,000,000 are colored people, the whites outnumbered more than two to one.

In the British Empire live one fourth of the world's population, but white people are outnumbered six to one. Of course, in this case the whites are all British and Christian while the colored population comprises many races and many religions. One sixth of the population of the Empire virtually governs the other five sixths.

Of course, as a witty Frenchman said, "all generalities are false---including this one." There are large numbers of the colored Britishers who are doing administrative work in many parts of the Empire, and millions of the white race who are too inert to exercise their right of even demonstrating the opinions which they are expected to enter into.

ANOTHER GIRL MATRICULATED

Mr. H. G. Hatcher, M. INSURANCE!

This is an interesting subject to every business man and householder. We go peacefully on our way, secure in the fact that we carry insurance—hold an insurance policy.

There are insurance policies and insurance policies, just as there is shoddy cloth and that which is "all wool and a yard wide." The latter quality is the only kind of insurance our office has ever dealt in. Moral: Insure with

COLORED RACES ARE ADVANCING RAPIDLY; URGES WHITES TO BE JUST

In 1904 gave the East new confidence in its potentialities as regards war. We have probably underestimated the effect of the defeat of a great European military power in a stand-up fight with an Asiatic empire which had, up to that time, been regarded as effete and inferior. The old generation of Asiatics had been brought up under the fear of Western superiority and regarded white races as invincible, and even the Japanese war did not entirely break the bonds of apprehension which were stapled in their hearts. But the existing generation is the one that was in its childhood when the new light of Asia flashed from the Japanese guns and the sound reverberated throughout that mysterious continent.

During the Great War, the yellow races watched silently, with eager eyes, the white peoples strangling each other to death and they are not unaware, now, of the fact that great white nations are lying exhausted after the struggle. In the meantime, they have been learning Western methods and the Western technique of war. Abdul-Krim is something of a portent. He and his brother trained in the French and Spanish military schools in order to learn the best methods of overthrowing. In their native land, the supremacy of their teachers. And how well these warlike brothers have learnt their lesson their fellow students can but tell. The armies of Spain have been driven to the sea and the legions of France, fresh from victory over the greatest military empire on earth, are falling back before the clansmen of this mountain chief. We are told that at the present moment, in China, the latest poison gas from the German factories is being manufactured. The machine-gun, the trench-mortar and every modern contrivance of warfare have found their way into the hands of the colored races, and it is the white races who have placed them there. One million Chinese, drilled in the European pattern, are now in battle array on Chinese soil.

Bolshevik Russia is no doubt doing its best to foment trouble and stir up the colored races in their desire to free themselves from the white man's thralldom. Russia is now an outcast and the nations with which she once associated gather their robes about them disdainfully as she passes. All outcasts rear in making trouble for others. The instinct that made the outcast aristocrats of France into revolutionaries at the end of the eighteenth century has turned their hands upon the class from which they sprang in inspiring Russia to agitate the colored peoples against the white races. Russia is the Mirabeau of the nations. Her hand is lifted against her old European associates and she is helping to stir up mischief for her former friends.

The fact remains there is no doubt at all that there is a growing revolt amongst the colored races against white control. It is not only in military matters that they have been instructed by us. Modern means of communication bring them much more easily into contact with the West and with Western civilization. They have become familiar with it and, in turn, are adopting it amongst themselves more and more. They are receiving the education of the West and mix amongst the white men as equals. The printing press has penetrated even into darkest Africa and the natives have their own newspapers—a useful medium for any form of nationalist propaganda. The white races have set themselves to instruct their colored brethren and this is the result. The problem is one which has to be reckoned with.

There is another factor which helps to accentuate color antagonism. Racial antipathies and prejudices are being fanned by acute trade rivalries. Trade jealousy and competition between the nations in the modern world is a development of the last hundred years. The passionate trade competition between Britain and Germany had something to do with the hatreds which fostered the war spirit. The same process is going on in the East where highly industrialized Japan, having acquired all the special scientific skill of the West and with the unlimited cheap labor, is competing with the West. The Japanese are a race of small cultivators and live on what would be regarded in America or Britain as next to nothing. Lafcadio Hearn describes them as: "A people of hundreds of millions, disciplined for thousands of years to the most untiring industry and the most self-denying thrift under conditions which would mean worse than death to our working masses." A small wage in a factory enables these hardy sons of the soil to buy comforts and luxuries which were completely beyond their reach on the little crofts or quillets where they were brought up. Japanese industry has thus a reserve of physical and nervous endurance which comes from untold generations of labor on the soil and in the open air, removed from the nerve-racking experiences of great aggregations of humanity. The Japanese are now drawing upon the same kind of reserve which fed British industrial expansion at the beginning of the nineteenth century and which enabled Britain to found her industrial supremacy in Europe. At that time we drew, first of all, upon the surplus population from the land of Britain. Then, when this was exhausted in the next generation, the Irish famine came and we were able to draw from Ireland upon the industrial reserve of millions of quality.

Britain has now exhausted her reserves and is working her industrial system with the generation which has borne the rack and poison of industrial life from its youth upwards, and Japan is only just beginning to use her human material and the war gave her opportunity to the full for utilizing them for the purpose of capturing the markets of the East. To take one example, the average number of cotton spindles worked daily in Japan has risen from 1.9 millions in 1911 to 4.2 millions in 1923, while the value of woven goods generally has increased from 337 million yen in 1912 to 1,474 million yen in 1921. When Britain and America were concentrating their energies in war and, insofar as they were producing goods, were doing so at inflated war prices which were prohibitive as far as the poor populations of the East were concerned, Japan was sweeping these markets into her own net and taking full advantage of our absorption in the West to penetrate into China and extend her tentacles there in every direction. Her rapidly increasing population is overflowing on the Chinese littoral. She sees, in the resources of China, a field for exploitation and enrichment, and she finds there to hand the coal and iron which are necessary to her if she is to develop her industries.

But what of the picture of a great federation of yellow races, equipped, drilled and led by Japan, breaking down Western civilization as the wild horsemen of Attila rode down Roman culture? As a blood curdler, it is the most successful of all the shilling shockers! And its circulation just now is increasing rapidly. But as a fact—it has no existence and as a prediction it is remote. We always forget that the Semite races are just as riven by racial antagonisms as the Caucasian peoples. The Chinese have no reason to love the Japanese. It is not so long ago they were at war with each other and Japan still holds, by force of arms, a large tract of what was once Chinese territory. There is no more love lost between the two nations than between the French and Germans—in fact there are probably greater differences of temperament, culture and traditions between the Japanese and Chinese than exist between any two great European races.

During the Versailles Conference, one thing that was very obvious was the terror of the Chinese for this increasing Japanese domination and their efforts to induce the great powers to help them tear out its grip, ever deepening in their flesh, were almost pathetic. It would be unfair to criticize Japan for taking the opportunity which presented itself, during the Great War, when the white nations were occupied in an internecine struggle. Britain, Germany, America—they would all, doubtless, have done the same under similar conditions. Can America regard it as an outrage if Japan, advancing in industrial development, seeks to capture trade in China? Are these sufficient reasons for talking about "another inevitable war?"

It is no use being angry. To be angry it to be unjust. If the great powers show wisdom and patience, I do not believe that there will be anything to fear in the end from any combination of yellow races. Not just yet. But if the powers do not consider the question sanely and fairly, looking the facts in the face and making allowances for prejudices and legitimate aspirations, it may well be that there is another inevitable war brewing in the devil's vat. It is the old struggle between force and fair play, between might and right, between mastery and fraternity—in other words, between paganism and Christianity. Which will win?

QUEBEC COMMISSION LIQUOR

No tolerance for those who violate the law

Every infraction of the Quebec Liquor Law brought to the attention of the Commission is made the object of prosecution before the Courts

THE Quebec Liquor Law can properly be called the one temperance law which has been most respected in the Province of Quebec. Nothing is left undone by the Police Service of the Commission that will assure the perfect execution of the new legislation. The benefits from a moral standpoint are apparent.

The Police Service has shown yearly improvement since its organisation in 1921. It has carried on a pitiless warfare against smugglers and "bootleggers" importing non-analyzed alcohols, and against illicit distillers whose products are generally of a poisonous nature. A close supervision is maintained over establishments which, under the law, are allowed permits by the Liquor Commission.

This work is in the hands of 67 inspectors (46 in Montreal district and 21 in the district of Quebec), and their duties are defined by competent heads. During the year 1923-24 many complaints were lodged by these inspectors for violations of the law, and in the great majority of cases the prosecutions were successful, as evidenced by the following figures:

	Montreal District	Quebec District
Prosecutions undertaken.....	1,795	448
Prosecutions won.....	1,208	282

Where the offenses were committed in licensed premises, the Commission cancelled the permits when guilt was proven. Following is the number of permits cancelled in 1923-24:

Permits Cancelled—Montreal District

City	Country	City	Country
Clubs.....	3	1	Manufacturers.....	6	1
Hotels.....	1	19	Restaurants....	6	1
Stores.....	11	11	Taverns.....	1	15

City	Three Rivers	City	Three Rivers
Hotels....	1	Restaurants....	1

Total for District.....

These official figures show the rigid supervision exercised not only over persons who violate the law in the illicit sale of alcoholic liquors but also over holders of permits from the Liquor Commission.

The constant exercise of this strict supervision assures respect of the law and protects our population. The Liquor Commission expresses the hope, however, that the public in full possession of the facts will extend loyal co-operation by refusing its encouragement to all violators of the law.

EXTRACT from the 1924 Annual Report of the Liquor Commission on the operations of its Police Department.

"Our operations against illicit resorts in Montreal have by no means come to an end. Cases of sales without permits are still numerous, amounting to 963. This, however, is a considerable improvement over last year, when there were 233 cases in excess of this figure, making a total of 1,186."

PROGRESS IN A MAN'S LIFE TIME

A man's life is brief indeed when compared with the ages even though it goes for beyond the three score years and ten, and yet a life in this modern time may witness vast and almost unbelievable changes in the world. The Toronto Globe emphasizes this in referring to the death recently at Onillia of John Peters, who passed away on Dominion Day aged 106 years. It is pointed out that he was born at Crossmolina, Ireland, in January, 1819, when King George III. was still on the Throne, and Queen Victoria, who was to rule for 64 years, was not yet born. It was less than four years after the Battle of Waterloo. Steam railways were just beginning to be thought of, George Stephenson having built his first steam locomotive four years before, remarks The Onillia Packet, in noting, Mr. Peter's death. "Telegraphs were not brought into practical use till Mr. Peters was a young man of between 15 and 20. When he came to Canada, in 1853, sailing ships were still in general vogue, though the first steamship had crossed the Atlantic 20 years before. When Mr. Peters was born Onillia and the surrounding country was still the home of the Indians, white settlement not beginning till he was 12 or 13 years of age. Up to within the last few months Mr. Peters could still recall and converse fluently about the men and happenings of 80 or 90 years ago, which to his visitors were matters of history.

There are children at our schools today who will see the end of the present century. What has this coming seventy-five years in store for this country and the world. Mighty events of great moment to the human race will be recorded. It does not seem as though this period could equal or excel in the realm of invention and discovery the century of John Peters but no one can tell.

FUR FARMING NOW ON BUSINESS BASIS

The "wild catting" of the black fox industry seems to have passed and the business settled down to a safe and sane basis. "Having had its spasms of speculative enterprise in which a few people made considerable sums of money, and a great many lost substantial sums, the fur farming industry is now on a business footing in Prince Edward Island, and is apparently proving to be a successful venture," remarks the Halifax Herald and adds: "It does not seem to be very long since nearly every person in these three provinces was hastening to invest in foxes, inspired with the conviction that 'easy money' awaited them. Few had any doubts of the results. Few were able to take the common-sense view that the period of inflated hopes would sooner or later come to an end. It came to an end; and at last the industry found its feet—a great many in the meantime learning by bitter experience that 'easy money' is a very delusive thing. At the present time the industry on the island is of substantial importance. About 500 fox farms are in operation. The value of the products of the industry last year are estimated at $3,000,000. There is still breeding for sale of the animals, as well as sale of furs. The business in these two regards last year was about equally divided, 4,000 live foxes being disposed of, most of them going to the United States and 10,000 pelts being marketed at a value of a million and a half dollars."

Fox farming and fur farming in other lines is carried on successfully in sections other than Prince Edward Island, notably here in the Eastern Townships. According to those interested, there is a fairly safe profit to be made.

ENEMIES OF AGRICULTURE

From time to time new pests arrive on the scene to attack the work of man in cultivating the soil. The weevil has caused millions, probably billions of dollars damage in the cotton mills of the South. The potato bug has been here for many years though successfully combated. In the west rust and other enemies to the wheat crop are always to be feared. And now comes the borer to destroy the corn crops. This has become quite prevalent in parts of Ontario. The Toronto Globe says: "Unfortunately the latest news regarding the depredations of the corn-borer in South western Ontario is not reassuring. Apparently the corn growers are not doing any more than holding their own against the pest. In some cases this year's corn plants have shown as many as 240 eggs each, while in a few of the more badly infected districts the number of eggs on each plant runs up to nearly 800. Scientists assert that 99 per cent of these eggs hatch, and that 25 per cent of the grubs will live until fall to carry on their work of destruction. The only effective remedy so far discovered is for the grower to plow down the corn stubble in the fall. It is said that if this course were pursued on every field the borer would soon become extinct. It must not be presumed that the whole of Ontario's corn crop is in danger because of the borer. The silage of corn is sure death to the insects. The areas affected are only where corn is grown for husking or for seed. During the last five years in this Province the average area of corn grown for husking purposes has been 235,000 acres, while the grain has been worth, on an average, $15,000,000 annually. On the advice of scientists, this year the acreage was cut down from 25 to 50 per cent in the effort to eradicate the pest, but it is doubtful if the crop will come within 50 per cent of average on the areas sown. The loss to Southwestern Ontario, therefore, will be considerable."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

A TIP FOR THE POLICE

Dear Sir:—Many people are wondering when the strong arm of the law, lately quite active, will descend on a notorious bootlegger located near this city. This place has been in operation for some time, and surely must be known to the local police. It is an ideal location, easily reached by motor car and boat, and is no doubt very remunerative to the owner.

Chief Camirand and his force have done very well in the city in cleaning up resorts, but this particular one still thrives. Many "hustlers" down town direct tourists, etc., to this wet spot, and we hope there is no reason why it should not be closed.

EAST ANGUS

A very successful and happy gathering of the congregation and friends of Christ Church was held on the church lawn on Wednesday evening last. The event was under the patronage of the ladies of the Guild of the church. Electric lights had been suspended from tree to tree, under which tables and chairs had been arranged, making a pretty picture. The town band was in attendance and gave varied selections of music during the evening and its renderings were much enjoyed. Candy was sold at a prettily-decorated stall by Miss Mills and Miss Munkittrick, while Miss Annie Mills had charge of the gypsy tent, with Mrs. Munkittrick as assistant. Mrs. Hodges, the second vice-president, looked after the lemonade stall and did a good business, clearing off her whole stock. The ice cream and cake was served by Mrs. Stoddard, the president; Mrs. Montgomery, Mrs. Turz, Westgate, Mrs. Doherty, Mrs. Turz, Mrs. Barlow, Mrs. Woodrow, Mrs. Bowen and Mrs. Lloyd and others, assisted by Mrs. Powders, Mrs. Watkins, Mrs. Nodman Hall, Miss Parsons and Miss Dearden, with other helpers, who were kept quite busy. Flowers were made into posies and sold by five little girls, who did their work well. Miss Muir acted as treasurer for the evening. The proceeds amounted to nearly $90, which was very gratifying.

Services in Christ Church on Sunday, July 26, will be holy communion 8 a.m., Sunday school 10 a.m., matins 11 a.m., evensong 7 p.m.

At the Ascot church of the Holy Comforter there will be afternoon service at 3 p.m., to be followed by a vestry meeting.

AN ATTRACTIVE TWO STORY HOME DESIGNED BY W. W. PURDY

For the average sized family, the home here pictured should meet all requirements. A full two-story home, with three bed rooms and bath on the second floor. In addition to the regular sun room on the first floor, there is a fairly sized den. This might be used as a bed room, or office if one so desired.

A combination of brick and stucco for the exterior walls, with some timber work in the gables gives a little "English" touch to this attractive home. Entrance is from a brick stoop, under the little hood, through a vestibule into the living room.

In the end of the living room is a fireplace with a French door on each side opening onto the sun porch. Bookcases are recessed in the partition between the living and dining room.

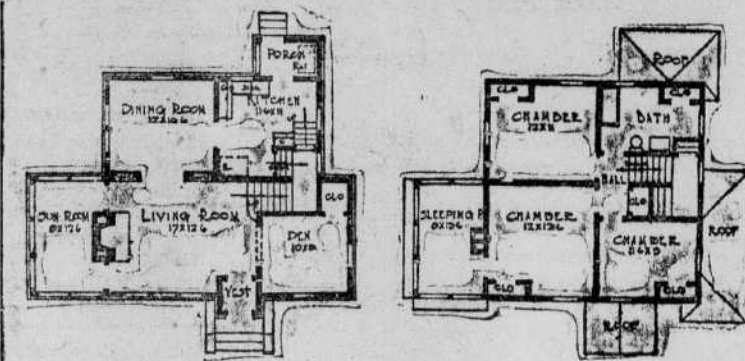

The kitchen with rear entry and space for ice is most convenient. There is no waste room taken up by hallways, the stair goes "up" out in the living room, eliminating any hall, while on the second floor the hall space is reduced to a minimum.

There is a full basement, complete with laundry, vegetable rooms, etc.

It is estimated that this home can be built as described with hardwood floors throughout and birch first floor, pine enameled second floor for from $5,800 to $7,000, exclusive of heating and plumbing.

THE KITCHEN IS IMPORTANT ROOM IN HOME

Modern Housewife Spends Large Amount of Time in "Engine Room" of Home — Should Have Central Location.

Of all the rooms in any ordinary modern home, perhaps the kitchen is the one in which the housewife spends the greater part of her time. The kitchen is woman's vulnerable spot. Make a convenient and attractive kitchen and women prospects find their interest in the house doubled. Unusual color schemes often create more desire than a wall full of the most elaborate "improvements."

It is an old saying:

"Man works from sun to sun"

But woman's work is never done."

The rhythm who thus defined the lot of the fair sex probably was inspired by the sight of a housewife toiling and moiling in one of the dark, dismal kitchens of former days.

Today sees the recreation of the kitchens. Everyone from the architect to the housewife herself is thinking up new ways for saving steps, new devices for lessening labor, and new conveniences for the kitchen.

Lately a new impetus has been given to the decoration of the kitchen which had become a sanitary white place with scarcely a note of color in it. Colored walls and bright curtains have helped bring it out of the slough of the uninteresting.

Two houses were put up recently on an attractive suburban street. Each had the latest improved devices for making home life comfortable and convenient, but both had certain individual characteristics.

Then along came Mr. and Mrs. Newlwyd in search of a new nest. House No. 1 was received with approbation. Its shining white kitchen with its step-saving devices pleased Mrs. Newlwyd but aroused no particular enthusiasm. They went next door to House No. 2.

"See, a lovely kitchen," cried Mrs. Newlwyd. "I'm so tired of dead white. It makes me think of that awful operating room at the hospital."

Suffice it to say that the unusual kitchen color scheme sold House No. 2 to the young pair.

Sanitary finish and appearance of the kitchen is a prime essential. That does not necessarily require that everything be painted dead white, like a hospital. Sunshine is a germicide—one of the best. The kitchen ought to have plenty of windows with cross ventilation, if it is at all possible. The matter of making the kitchen attractive and cheerful while making it sanitary is very well stated by Mary Robinson Thomas, writing about kitchen details as decorative features:

"A color scheme is usually a starting point in making an attractive kitchen. The choice is largely dependent on the proper blending of blue and white, green and white and brown and yellow are pleasing. The gray and dreary should never be chosen for the kitchen."

Walls, floors, woodwork and accessories all furnish opportunities for the use of color. The walls may be painted with a flat or semi-flat waterproof finish that permits frequent washing. Closed shelves with doors painted in harmony or contrast with walls, and perhaps with a stenciled line or motif, lend distinction and interest to any kitchen. A gay bit of color here and there makes the kitchen a cheery place and catches the eye of the woman, who is more attracted by a pleasant kitchen than by all the living room innovations the enterprising builder can think of.

The finish in the kitchen has to stand hard wear, harder, perhaps, than any other room in the house. It is economy to use the best quality of paint and enamel and it makes a good selling point to have everything of the best in adequate amounts. Canny prospects recognize that if the builder has skimped on finishes, for instance, future bills are being stored up for them.

In a recent house-planning contest, in which 6,000 "ideal" plans were submitted, the judges were unanimous in their report that the kitchen is the most carefully studied part of each plan. The average housewife spends 76 per cent of her waking hours each day in the "engine-room" of the home. No wonder women look first at the kitchen when buying a house.

Ideally the kitchen would have a central location in the house, for easy access to all other parts. And in order to save miles of walking during the preparation of the thousand meals each year, it must be as small as is consistent with the equipment which must be placed there—a maximum of about 100 square feet for the average home. Built-in, attractively painted, and other labor-saving equipment help to "sell" the kitchen to the woman prospect, and on the kitchen frequently hinges the entire sale.

MARBLETON

Service will be held in St. Paul's Church on Sunday next, July 26, at 11 a.m., with a celebration of the holy communion, and at 2.30 in the afternoon for public catechizing of the Sunday school pupils. All are welcome, both old and young.

The Junior Women's Auxiliary will sell home-made ice cream at Mr. F. C. Weston's store on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wood, of Montreal, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Oughtred. Mr. Richard Oughtred and Miss Farwell were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Oughtred.

Mrs. Hunt and Miss Carrie Chapman were the guests of Mrs. J. H. Barker and Mrs. C. O. Gustafson at the Arlington House on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Perrin and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Smith, of Lowell, Mass., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. Gilbert, Lime Ridge, for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Gray, of Drumheller, Alta., were calling on Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Bennett last week. Mr. Isaac Lindsay, Mrs. K. Hough and daughter and Miss Alberte Hough, of Sawyerville, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Westman recently.

Mrs. Lynn, Mrs. Saunders and Mrs. Johnson, of Sherbrooke, were the guests of Mrs. J. H. Barker and Mrs. C. O. Gustafson at the Arlington House on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lamoureux and son and daughter, of Manchester, N.H., were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Bennett recently.

Mrs. Towns and little daughter Margaret, of Kinsey, were the guests of Rev. E. H. Humphries and Mrs. Humphries on Wednesday.

Mrs. K. L. Munkittrick spent a couple of days here as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hetherington. Master Lloyd Mackay is spending a few days in South Ham with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mackay.

'MOTHER HOME' TO BE BUILT ON DRUMMONDROAD

Modern Four-Storey Building Will Be Erected by Little Sisters of the Holy Family at Ultimate Cost of Over Half Million Dollars.

A business transaction of considerable importance, and one involving an ultimate expenditure of over half a million dollars, has recently been brought to a successful conclusion, the deal representing the sale of the old Ducker-McDonald property, situated in the Township of Drummond road, to the Little Sisters of the Holy Family. This property, covering an area of some forty acres, has been purchased by the Order for the sum of $12,336,000, the transaction being put through by J. O. Royer, well-known real estate dealer.

The total amount of land now in the possession of the Sisters in that district is one hundred and sixty-five acres, they having purchased, in 1905, one hundred and twenty-five acres adjoining the property recently bought. Although the actual details of the proposed building have not as yet been decided upon, the general principles of the "mother home" have been adopted.

It has been definitely decided that a modern four-storey building will be erected, with at least two wings, and with a total width of approximately 300 feet. The actual work is expected to take at least the best part of two years, and will provide employment for a large number of our citizens. The total cost of the building under consideration, is tentatively placed at $600,000.00.

The Mother Superior is in Rome, where arrangements are being made for the location of a number of the Sisters in connection with duties at the Canadian College.

Particulars relative to contracts, and actual building operations will not be discussed until after the return of the Mother Superior, who is expected back in the early part of September.

AYER'S CLIFF

A most delightful meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society was entertained at the vestry of the United Church on Tuesday, July 21, with Mrs. E. E. Temple and Mrs. Fred Brown as hostesses. Arrangements were made for the annual sale, which will take place on August 12. A very pleasant feature of the social hour were the musical numbers provided, vocal duets being rendered by the Misses Anderson and McHarg, of Coaticook, and instrumental duets by the Misses Olive Brown and Marjorie Woodward. At tea time the hostesses were assisted by the Misses Marion Anderson, Muriel McHarg, Olive Brown and Marjorie Woodward. Tea was poured by Mrs. C. H. Libby and Mrs. H. G. Buck. Proceeds of tea $17.

The Loyal Workers of the A. C. Church put on a most successful supper and sale at the vestry of the United Church. The attendance was very large and a most delicious supper served. The presence of Woodward's orchestra, of Beebe, added much to the occasion. The proceeds from the sale of fancy

COUNTRY PRODUCE

Montreal, July 25th.
EGGS—The condition of domestic egg market yesterday was unchanged prices for all grades being firm swing to the continued small supplies coming forward for the season of the year, and the lighter offerings of high grade stock. There was no improvement in the volume of business, the demand from grocers and their dealers being still of somewhat limited character, and the market was quiet, with sales of fresh extras in a wholesale jobbing way at 41c, firsts at 38c, and seconds at 34c per dozen. The receipts yesterday were 327 cases, as against 1,161 for the same day last week, and 1,657 for the corresponding day a year ago.

POULTRY—A steady feeling prevails in the market for cold storage dressed poultry, and prices showed no important change. A fair amount of business continues to be done in some lines for domestic consumption, and in consequence stocks of such are being steadily reduced but they are still ample to meet all requirements. Sales of 10 to 12-lb. turkeys were made at 40c to 43c per lb., 5 to 9-lb. birds at 32c to 38c per lb., milk-fed chickens at 4c to 6c per lb., selected chickens at 34c to 38c per lb.; selected fowl at 18c to 28c per lb.; selected ducks at 24c to 26c per lb. and selected geese at 18c to 22c per lb.

MAPLE PRODUCT—The trade in maple product was slow, and the market was quiet, with no new phases to note. In a wholesale jobbing way maple syrup was quoted $2 per tin of 13 lbs., and at $1 per tin of 7 lbs., while odd sales of bright grades of maple sugar were made at 20c per lb. and dark grades at 17c to 18c per lb.
HONEY—There was no change in the market for honey, business being still very quiet, as is usual at this season of the year, and in the absence of any important transactions prices were nominally unchanged, with No. 1 white clover honey in comb, quoted at 22c to 23c per section, No. 2 grade at 17c to 18c a section, white extract honey in 30-lb. tins at 11c per lb., 10-lb. tins at 11 1/2c per lb., 5-lb. tins at 12c per lb., and 2 1/2-lb. tins at 12 1/2c per lb.

all firm offers from over the cable were not satisfactory to exporters. There was some demand from local operators and purchases of local sized lots of western No. 1, white and colored were made at 23c per lb., and eastern grades at 22 3/4 per lb.

HAY MARKET

Montreal, July 25th.
There were no new developments in the market for baled hay, prices generally being maintained under a steady demand for supplies, and sales of good No. 2 timothy hay were made at $14 per ton, No. 3 timothy hay at $11 to $12 per ton, and clover mixed hay at $10.50 to $11 per ton, f.o.b. cars here.

GRAIN MARKET

Montreal, July 25th.
There was no improvement in the volume of business in cash wheat at Winnipeg yesterday owing to the continued indifferent attitude of foreign buyers and the tone of the market was again heavy, closing 1-8c to 5-8 bushel lower with No. 1 northern quoted at $1.59 1/4, and No. 2 northern at $1.57 1/4, and No. 3 northern at $1.51 3/4 per bushel ex-store, Fort William. The premiums on No. 2 and No. 3 grades were also easier, a decline of 1/4c to 1-2c per bushel, while No. 1 northern was unchanged. The deliveries of grain yesterday were 6,000 bushels wheat, 200,000 oats, 26,000 flax and 12,000 barley.

Argentine shipments of grain for the week were estimated at 1,480,000 bushels wheat, 2,960,000 corn, 700,000 oats and 1,400,000 flax, while the exports of wheat from India to the United Kingdom were 8,000 bushels, and flax 32,000 with 13,000 to the Continent, and 323,000 bushels of corn were shipped from the Black Sea. Broomhall noted the stormy weather in the South of France was delaying the threshing of all grains.

There has been a steady demand for ocean grain from this port and the available supply for July has been booked up, while the offerings to some United Kingdom ports are also somewhat limited now with the result that the undertone to the market has ruled very steady and rates show little change of late except to the Continent, which are 1-2c to 1c per 100 lbs. higher.

Rates were quoted as follows: Liverpool and London, August, heavy, 2s; oats 1s 9d. Manchester: August, heavy 2s 3d; oats, 2s. Avonmouth: August, heavy, 2s 3d; oats, 2s. Belfast and Dublin: July-August, heavy, 2s 3d; oats, 2s 3d. Antwerp, Rotterdam and Hamburg: August, wheat, 13 1/2c per 100 lbs.; barley 15c, and oats, 16c, berth tramps.

There was no improvement in the foreign demand for grain here yesterday and business generally was quiet, there being only sales of odd loads oats reported for August shipments, but there was some demand from New York exporters for Manitoba spring wheat on spot and sales of one or two fair-sized lots of No. 1 northern were made at 9 1/2c per bushel over Winnipeg July option, c.i.f. Montreal.

Owing to the continued downward tendency of oats in the Winnipeg market, the local market for spot

CANADA AND JAMAICA

(Associated Press Despatch)
KINGSTON, Jamaica, July 25.—Jamaica's delegates to the recent trade conference at Ottawa were entertained at a luncheon Thursday by the Chamber of Commerce. Replying to a toast to the delegates, Hon. He also declared there would be a greater demand in Jamaica for Canadian products, particularly flour. Mr. Morrison did not fear United States retaliation, since the United States realized that Canada and the West Indies were parts of the British Empire and were merely arranging their domestic affairs.

BOSTON BRAVES
HANDED DEFEAT
TO THE GIANTSPittsburg Defeated Cardinals in Yesterday's Game, 5 to 3.

(Associated Press Despatch)

NEW YORK, July 25. — John McGraw's ambition for his fifth straight National League pennant is being spoiled by the Boston Braves, cellar champions in John Heydler's circuit. Against the three leading clubs, Pittsburgh, New York and Brooklyn, the Braves have played better than .500 baseball in the last series with these clubs.

The Braves yesterday tossed a wrench into the Giants works by slapping a 3 to 1 defeat tag on the Metropolitan while Pittsburgh improved its rating by lashing the Cardinals 5 to 3.

The Washington Senators, slowed up by the Yanks Thursday, rested yesterday and the Mackmen took advantage of this lapse in the programme to cement more firmly their position at the peak of the American heap by whitewashing the Boston Red Sox 6 to 0.

While the other clubs have a slim mathematical chance of overhauling the leaders in each league, the race has virtually narrowed down to a two team fight in each instance.

The Dodgers, third in the National are more than one hundred percentage points behind the leaders while the White Sox, third in the American, are more than one hundred and twenty five points astern the leaders.

Rabbit Maranville, playing his first game as manager before home fans, saw his Cubs trail a flying Cincinnati comet, 3 to 1. Brooklyn and Philadelphia, additional National League entries, were idle.

Cobb's Detroit typhoon continued his spurt for a first division rating by trouncing the White Sox, 6 to 4. This gives the Bengals a tie with the Browns for fourth place.

GAMES POSTPONED

As the result of a mutual agreement, the Beasly and Sherbrooke High School Football Clubs will not play this afternoon as the Eastern Townships Junior League calls for, but have decided to postpone the game until some future date.

This step was taken owing to the fact that a great many of the players of both clubs are unable to take their appointed places on the teams, being away on their summer holidays.

LORD CURZON'S
WILL REFERRED
TO POLITICSSaid to Have Reflected on Former Premier — Sections Not Published.

LONDON, July 24. — While the public was still expressing gratitude for the bequests of Marquis Curzon of Kedleston to the nation and the newspapers were printing details of the will with pictures of the two famous castles saved for posterity through the action of Lord Curzon in bequeathing them to the country, the Morning Post launched a sensational story that part of the will was suppressed in the interest of the reputations of some of his political colleagues, upon whom the famous statesman is said to have commented with great freedom.

The portion alleged by the Post to have been suppressed is said to be a "literary testament" mentioned in a supplementary will, distinct from the one in which Lord Curzon distributed his gifts and his animadversions are stated by the paper to refer particularly to a former Premier whose name is withheld. Suppression of the testament will, it is declared, avert "a rude shock to public faith in a man who rendered conspicuous service to the state."

Lord Curzon who died in March of this year, is represented as not intending that the literary testament should be published, although the document seems to have come near being made known through the phraseology the testator used in referring to it in a supplementary will.

The Post tells how Lord Curzon wrote the supplementary will on March 8, at a time when he realized the end might be near. He summoned a lawyer by telephone, but he was unable to come at such short notice. Accordingly Lord Curzon asked the butler and nurse to witness the signature of the original will which had been amended and re-amended during the two previous years. Then with a pencil he wrote on sheets of note paper a supplementary will in which he referred to the literary testament, declaring it was "for guidance, not publication."

"One is left to infer," says the Post, "that it was haste and the absence of a trained lawyer that nearly resulted in giving the world the startling revelations."

In commenting the paper professes it is unable to hazard a guess as to the premier referred to by Lord Curzon, but it is recalled that the Marquis served as Minister under Premiers Asquith, Lloyd George, Bonar Law, and Baldwin, and that under the late Marquis of Salisbury he held the post of foreign minister and under-secretary for India.

The two castles bequeathed to the country, with the stipulation that they be kept open for the benefit of the public, are Patterhall Castle, in Lincolnshire, and Bodian Castle, in Sussex.

Oxford University will receive Napoleonic books, prints and relics, while a collection of Nelson relics and Lord Curzon's Indian correspondence will go to the British Museum.
