Bombay, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Indian army troops stood at the alert today in riot-torn Hyderabad city after new fighting broke out in the capital of the south Indian state.

Heavy patrols also moved through the twin city of Secunderabad and a dusk-to-dawn curfew was ordered for the more than 1,000,000 persons of the two centres whose state has been a major centre of communist agitation.

Police opened fire twice last night and once again today on communist-sparked rioters agitating against the employment in the state government of non-Hyderabadi Indians, a long-standing issue in the state.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 4—(AP)—Whether the Atlantic hurricane will strike the United States mainland or whirl to a harmless death over open water may be determined today by a high-pressure area from the midwest.

The tropical twister, with walloping winds of 110 miles an hour, was estimated to be 700 miles east-southeast of Jacksonville, Fla., in a predawn advisory today.

The Miami weather bureau noted late last night that the high-pressure front, then over Illinois and Ohio, was moving at a rapid pace toward the east coast.

"There's a chance it will reach the coast today and block off the hurricane," said meteorologist Allen Marshall.

Marseilles, France, Sept. 4. — (Reuters) — Rescue squads searched today for bodies believed buried in the smouldering ruins of a soap factory which exploded and burned overnight.

Twelve dead have already been recovered, and 32 persons were taken to hospital with injuries.

The explosion last night was believed to have been in a tank of benzine. It was followed by a big fire which blazed for hours.

Houses over a radius of 100 yards from the factory were damaged. Streets were littered with broken glass, shutters and twisted steel girders torn from the factory.

U.S. Sabre Jets Destroy 12 Communist Aircraft, Damage Three Over Korea

Near Record Kill Is Reported As Jets Provide Cover For Superforts.

Seoul, Korea, Sept. 4.—(AP)—The United States Fifth Air Force said U. S. Sabre jet pilots today rolled up a near-record score for one day against Communist MIG jets — 12 destroyed and three crippled.

The best single-day performance by the fast Sabres was last July 4, when they destroyed 13 Russian-built jets, damaged seven and probably destroyed one.

A big force of Sabres swept across North Korea and destroyed the MIG's in a series of blazing dogfights. They flew cover for swarms of fighter bombers which struck communist front-line positions. Allied losses, if any, will be reported in a weekly summary.

The intensified air action followed Wednesday night's strike by Okinawa-based Superfortresses against the Changjin hydro-electric plant in North Korea — newly-repaired from previous bombings.

One Sabre pilot reported seeing a MIG go down without absorbing a shot during the jet battles between the Yalu and Chongchon rivers in extreme northwest Korea. Capt. Arthur McCarthy said the Red jet overshot him, went out of control, and its pilot bailed out.

The air force said an unidentified U. S. pilot bailed out of his damaged Sabre over neutral territory, presumably the Panmunjom truce conference site.

The fiery battles came during a break in the bad weather which Wednesday kept virtually all U. N. planes but the big Superforts on the ground.

Clouds covered the key power installation and the B-29s used radar to aim their bombs.

The Far East Air Forces said in Tokyo there was no Red opposition and that all the bombers returned. The number on the raid was not disclosed.

U. S. fliers knocked out Changjin's plant No. —last night's target—late in 1950. Repaired, it was bombed in a big air attack last June.

United Nations fighter bombers and Sabre jets swept over North Korea in clearing weather today, in the wake of a tropical storm which whipped northeastward into the Sea of Japan.

Winds of up to 70 miles an hour and about four inches of rain lashed parts of the battle front Tuesday and Wednesday.

Reds probed 11 times across the front Wednesday. Chinese troops felt out Bunker Hill near Panmunjom again this morning, then withdrew.

None of the skirmishes involved more than 25 to 50 soldiers.

Munsan, Korea, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Korean armistice negotiators today ended one recess and called another after the United Nations command suggested that the communists really don't want to end the fighting.

The delegates met for 51 minutes at Panmunjom in their first session since Aug. 27. No progress was reported. The Reds agreed to a U.N. request for a recess until Sept. 12, the sixth straight recess.

Maj.-Gen. William K. Harrison, senior allied negotiator, told the communists "there is a widely-held suspicion that you do not desire an armistice and that your negotiations are mere camouflage to conceal your real purpose to continue the conflict."

"If this suspicion ultimately proves to be true," Harrison added, "the world will have discovered once and again and beyond any doubt the futility of attempting to negotiate with communists on any reasonable and honorable grounds."

Harrison charged that the unyielding communist stand on the truce-blocking issue of prisoner exchange shows "that you are cruelly indifferent to your people or that you are mere puppets of alien communist rulers, obedient to your masters' commands."

Canada Has Part In Oil Talks

By BRUCE PHILLIPS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Banff, Alta., Sept. 4.—(CP)—The convention of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission, a meeting which signified Canada's entry as a major factor in the petroleum world, has ended.

More than 300 delegates from 20 states in the United States, two Canadian provinces, and Latin American countries, attending the summer meeting of the U. S. conservation group, the first meeting outside its home borders.

The three-day meeting, from the point of tangible achievement, was uneventful. The convention affords delegates the opportunity of discussing mutual problems, but as one speaker put it on the convention floor, most of the policy work is done by standing committees of the Compact which meet frequently through the year.

The one fact which all speakers hit upon was the important place which Canada is assuming in the petroleum world.

A speech prepared by U. S. Secretary L. Chapman, who was unable to attend, described Canada's expanding oil and gas industry as "tremendously important."

Only one resolution was put before the convention and was passed unanimously and without discussion. It condemned U. S. federal government interference in the regulation of oil and natural gas conservation.

It referred to a federal power commission order which refused to recognize the validity of orders issued by the Kansas Corporation Commission, a state conservation group.

The resolution stated the F. P. C. action left Compact member states no alternative but to protect their jurisdiction over natural resources.

The motion, in part, said:

"We call upon the Federal Power Commission in the national interest to cease their constant quest for additional unlawful power and to co-operate with state authorities in effective local conservation of natural resources."

Viennese Get Jokes By Phone

Vienna, Sept. 4.— (AP) —Vienna telephone owners will soon have their daily chuckle guaranteed.

By dialing a certain number they will be able to hear the "joke of the day" recited by an experienced humorist, according to Vienne press reports.

The Vienna telephone company already provides children with fairy tales, perplexed housewives with a daily menu selection, including costs, musicians with perfect "A"-pitch, sport fans with results, not to speak of weather forecasts and other information services.

Tokyo, Sept. 4—(AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur's old briefing room will be opened to the public soon as a concert hall. The newspaper Asahi said the famous Dai Ichi building auditorium will be made available to musicians unable to pay for a commercial hall.

Anglican Synod Opens At London

London, Ont., Sept. 4.—(CP)—The 18th general synod of the Church of England in Canada opened on a subdued, devotional note today prior to discussion of a wide range of subjects during the 10-day meeting among 300 clergy and laity.

Highlight of the opening day was to be the charge by Most Rev. Walter Barfoot, Archbishop of Edmonton and Primate of all Canada. Archbishop Barfoot succeeded Most Rev. George Frederick Kingston, who died since the last triennial synod was held at Halifax in 1949.

Prior to the opening of the general synod, the House of Bishops of the Anglican Church held closed meetings and passed a resolution expressing concern over the lack of a "religious note" in services held by the Canadian government for the late King George VI.

In their only release following the meetings, the Bishops said: "Canada has been built upon a religious foundation, inheriting strains of Christian worship, outlook and teaching from many European countries. Today, when a materialistic philosophy is seeking, openly and deliberately, to undermine all religious influence and teaching, the Bishops feel that upon great state occasions the government of Canada ought to express our heritage and our future hope by services in which the religious note is clear, definite and unmistakeable."

The resolution, forwarded to the Canadian government, added:

"Such services, marked by simplicity, dignity and sincerity, should be repugnant to no Christian communion, but would reflect the depest faith and fondest aspirations of the majority of the Canadian people."

Delegates represents 20 dioceses from Newfoundland to British Columbia. Following a colorful procession at the opening of the general synod, Very Rev. W. R. Matthews, Dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, England, will be preacher.

Scheduled for discussion are varied subjects including the name of the church, the possibility of a primatial see, a possible revision of the office of Holy Communion, and marriage laws.

Labor Hostility Is Lessening

Margate, England, Sept. 4.—(Reuters)— Canadian labor leader Ken Green told British unionists today that hostility to the trade union movement in Canada is "slowly but surely giving way to enlightened understanding."

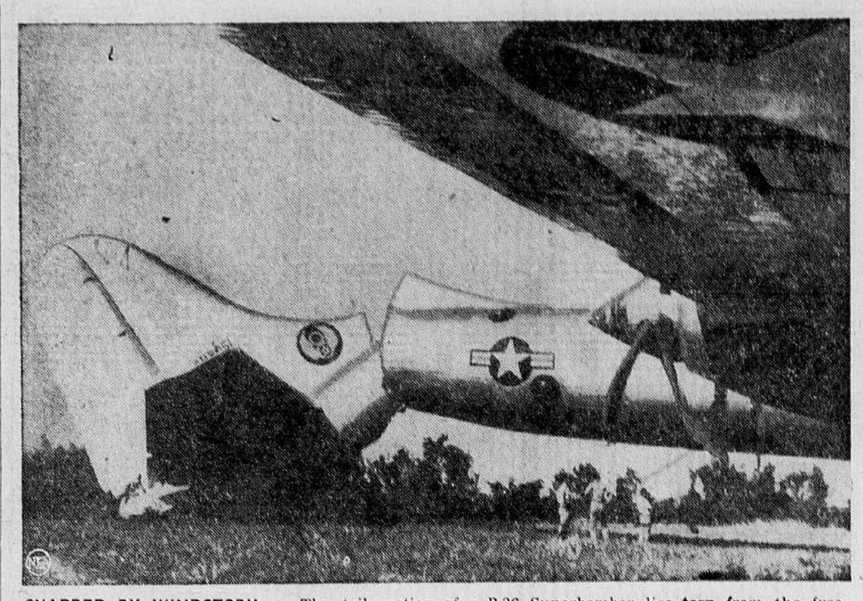

Addressing the British Trades Union Congress as a fraternal delegate from the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, he said Canadian unionists dissociated themselves from views expressed by some people in Canada about the British welfare state.

"It may be that they fear we will take advantage of these social security measures," he said.

Green, secretary of the Halifax affiliated trades and labor unions council, warned that communists have "no respect or true freedom and in many cases would like to use unions in the interests of the fatherland."

Canadian unions are trying to reduce the communists influence, he said.

The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, he said, is not opposed to immigration into Canada but asks that the present "haphazard unplanned system" should be remedied.

Communists Put Pressure On Iranians To Reject U.K.-U.S. Oil Proposals

Big Chinese Shipping Co. Reorganized

Hong Kong, Sept. 4—(Reuters)—China's second-largest shipping company, which includes several Canadian-built vessels not yet paid for, has been reorganized into a joint state and private enterprise, the New China (communist) news agency reported today.

The company was formerly known as the Ming Sung Industrial Company. Reorganization took place Sept. 1, the agency said.

Its fleet numbers about 40 ships. Nine of them are ultra-modern vessels built in Canada under a scheme negotiated by the Canadian government and the Chinese nationalist government before the communists ousted the nationalists from the mainland.

The vessels fell into the hands of the communists and Canada has not been paid for them.

There are three 3,000-ton and six 900-ton steamers built in Canada on which $1,248,174 is still owing.

Seven of these modern vessels slipped out of Hong Kong harbor and berthed at Canton just before the first capital repayment of $86,000 became due to the Canadian government on June 30 last year.

The Canadian government had acted as joint guarantors with the Chinese nationalist government for the building of the ships.

Two other Canadian-built vessels fell into the hands of the Chinese communists earlier on the Yangtse river.

Today's news agency message said the company—whose owner, millionaire Le Tso Fu, committed suicide last year during a communist hunt for capitalists—had suffered serious losses in recent years through mismanagement.

Democratic reforms would now be carried out and the workers mobilized to increase production and undertake an austerity campaign.

The headquarters of the company had been moved from Hankow to Chungking, the agency said.

The report did not mention the money owing to Canada.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Sept. 4—(AP)—The communists have mounted a major propaganda offensive to try to defeat the Truman-Churchill proposals for a settlement of the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute.

The voice of Soviet communism beamed into Iran is a clandestine "Azerbaijan democratic" radio station which officials here believe to be on Russian territory. A record of broadcasts during the last few days shows a violent opposition to the oil deal offered Iran by Britain and the United States last Saturday.

The three-point plan, sent to Premier Mohammed Mossadegh by President Truman and Prime Minister Churchill, is being denounced by the Reds as "plunderous proposals," a device for "American imperialists" to steal Iranian oil and a plan put forth by the "deadly enemies" of the Iranian people.

The same broadcasts blast with equal heat Truman, Churchill and Mossadegh, despite the fact that Mossadegh has already turned down the plan. The communists probably do not believe that Mossadegh's resistance will stand up indefinitely and they are calling on the Iranian people to demonstrate against this latest effort to settle the oil dispute.

Churchill and Truman proposed Saturday that the world court determine compensation for British property in Iran which the Tehran government has nationalized, that Britain's Anglo-Iranian Oil Company arrange for sale of the Iranian oil in world markets, and that specific steps be taken to end promptly the Iranian government's financial distress.

The British and U.S. governments are deeply concerned lest Iran's continued lack of oil revenues, cut off for more than a year now, should throw the country into communist control.

Mossadegh turned down the Truman-Churchill proposals Saturday, simply saying they were "unacceptable." American officials had felt that the plan was exactly what Mossadegh had said he wanted. It now appears that Mossadegh is afraid of a "trap" because the plan appeared to meet his requirements too completely.

Officials here do not think he will rescind his rejection, but are hoping that when he makes a formal answer after the Iranian parliament meets on Sept. 10 he will leave the door open for further negotiating.

State Secretary Dean Acheson tried to overcome Mossadegh's suspicion with a statement yesterday nailing down Britain's acceptance of oil nationalization in Iran.

French Reds Are Seeking United Front

Paris, Sept. 4—(Reuters)—The French communist party today appealed to the country's various socialists and leftists to join with them in a "united national front."

The party's appeal is seen as an attempt to put the brakes on the drop the party has been suffering in France.

Communist strike calls have been ignored, communist candidates have been defeated in elections and the party membership has been dwindling.

The party newspaper L'Humanite issued the call today, reprinting a speech made last night by party chief Jacques Duclos to the central committee.

"At the present time many Frenchmen who do not entirely agree with the communist party program are with us on a number of issues and can create with us a powerful and united national front, which would bring about a powerful economic and political force which would deal with present problems," it said.

The appeal geared to arrival of No. 1 communist Maurice Thorez, in Moscow for two years taking treatment for a brain haemorrhage.

Toronto, Sept. 4.—(CP)—The Social Credit party, victor in recent elections in British Columbia and Alberta, plans to contest at least 50 Ontario ridings in the next federal election.

Neil Carmichael, Toronto district organizer, said last night that Premier Manning of Alberta will arrive here next month with a staff of organizers to help line up party organizations.

U.S. Senate Claims Reds Run Union

Washington, Sept. 4 — (AP) — Senate investigators today described a labor union as being "under the control of agents of the Kremlin," and urged the justice department to consider perjury action against its officers who signed non-communist affidavits.

A tightening of the law to prevent communists from holding union jobs or offices also was recommended by the Senate's internal security sub-committee in a report on its investigation of the Distributive, Processing, and Office Workers of America, an independent union.

The sub-committee made public sworn testimony in which the president of the union, Arthur Osman of Brooklyn, N. Y., and a number of other top officials were described as communists.

Osman refused to answer when asked if he ever had been a communist, invoking his constitution privilege against possible self-incrimination. Other officers also balked at saying whether they are or ever were members of the communist party.

The D.P.O.W.A., with some 65,000 members, was formed in October, 1950.

The hearings showed that Osman and others identified in the testimony as communists had signed the non-communist affidavits required by the Taft-Hartley law to make the union eligible for certification as a bargaining agent by the National Labor Relations Board.

The sub-committee recommended that a copy of its hearings, conducted mostly behind closed doors, be turned over to the attorney-general so that he could determine whether prosecution of these officers for perjury is warranted.

It also recommended that Congress give prompt attention to a bill previously introduced by Senator Pat McCarran (Dem. Nev.) the sub-committee chairman, to make it unlawful for a member of a communist organization to hold office or any job with a labor organization, and to permit employers to discharge persons who belong to organizations designated as subversive by the attorney-general.

The largest unit of the D.P.O.W.A. is district 65, with about 35,000 members in the New York city area. The sub-committee received testimony that it had used "good squads" and other terrorist tactics against small business concerns and their employees.

Harvey M. Matusow of Dayton, Ohio, a self-described former communist who turned informer, testified that almost without exception the full-time employees of the union are communist party members.

Chicago, Sept. 4— (AP) — George Terik, 63, was in a pickle for picking a pickle out of a pickel barrel—and not paying for it.

Terik yesterday admitted stealing the pickle—valued at 25 cents— from Carson A. Gallagher's delicatessen.

But the justice of the peace reduced the charge to disorderly conduct and fined Terik $107—to be worked out at the Cook county jail at the rate of $2.50 a day.

Terik had a pleasant surprise last night. Police at the station chipped in and presented him a gift—one dozen dill pickles.

Eisenhower Will Outline Views On Foreign Policy

Washington, Sept. 4. — (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, jubilant over his triumphant sweep through Dixie, formally opens his presidential campaign in Philadelphia tonight with an address outlining his views on foreign policy.

The Republican Presidential nominee is expected to critize the Truman administration's conduct of foreign affairs in his talk.

The General returned to New York last night from a two-day, six-speech drive through the solid south—first ever made by a Republican Presidential candidate—that drew about 300,000 persons.

Aides said the enthusiastic reaction exceeded their "fondest expectations." One top adviser predicted a November split in the traditionaly-Democratic south.

Eisenhower himself gained confidence, and, some said, developed a brand-new fighting personality.

The Democratic Presidential candidate, Governor Adlai Stevenson, today was in his Springfield, Ill., headquarters, putting the finishing touches on speeches he will deliver on a western campaign beginning tomorrow in Denver.

Meanwhile, there were reports that Stevenson's supporters were trying to drive a wedge between Eisenhower and Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio in order to split Republican ranks.

Some said the Democrats may get a "major break" in Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and Iowa as a result of the advice by Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune, to Republicans to ignore both party candidates and concentrate on a third party for 1956.

The belief in some circles is that many Republicans, still bitter over Taft's loss to Eisenhower in the July nominating struggle, would heed McCormick's advice.

Senator Richard M. Nixon of California, Republican vice-Presidential nominee, said in Sanford, Me., yesterday that there are 10 uncovered cases of governmtnt corruption for every one the public knows about.

Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, who plans to stump his state for Eisenhower, said at a state fair at Syracuse that only a Republican victory would rid the government of "widespread corruption."

Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, who lost the Democratic nomination to Stevenson, disclosed yesterday he has sent a personal appeal to his supporters to back the man who defeated him.

Pearson Leaves Today For Tour Of Western Capitals

Ottawa, Sept. 4—(CP)—Canada's External Affairs Minister, Hon. L. B. Pearson, leaves today for another round of talks at western capitals where new decisions may soon be shaping up on the west's defensive military buildup in Europe.

Mr. Pearson will visit Washington, London and Paris for conferences with his opposite numbers in those capitals. The talks will mainly concern matters to come before the North Atlantic Treaty Council meeting in Paris in December.

But it may also touch on the United Nations where Russia has served notice of new veto blockages of countries, such as Japan, seeking admission.

While abroad Mr. Pearson will formally give up the chairmanship of the N.A.T.O. council which he has held for a year. The chairmanship will go to Foreign Minister Kraft, of Denmark, the next country alphabetically in line.

This would leave Mr. Pearson free to take on other tasks outside his cabinet work, such as the presidency of the General Assembly of the U.N. for which he has been mentioned. The minister has indicated he would be willing to take on this job.

Mr. Pearson will take off by air from Toronto for Washington where he will confer with U.S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson. Then, after a week-end return to Ottawa, he leaves Tuesday for London and Paris to see British Foreign Secretary Eden and French Foreign Minister Schuman.

It is seen as significant that his departure comes only a few days after a Toronto speech in which he said N.A.T.O. was "still far from perfect" and stressed that its defence objective must be given first priority to meet the Soviet "conspiracy."

He noted some said the N.A.T.O. defence effort in Europe was not big enough while others claimed the defence burden already was too large. He believed the answer lay somewhere between the two extremes.

N.A.T.O. agencies already are examining the position with a view to making new proposals which, the minister said, will result in vitally important decisions being taken by the governments of the 14 member states.

"9-Hour Houses" Coming To Canada

Lincoln, England, Sept. 4. — (Reuters)— Works minister David Eccles blew a whistle at 7 A.M. today and 10 men rushed into action to attempt to erect a house by 4 P.M.

The house, an experimental prefabricated structure, is the forerunner of many to be crated and sent to Canada to complete a $100,000 order.

Eccles will open the finished house tonight. It will then be dismantled for export.

The house has a living room-dining room, a kitchen, a bathroom, an entrance hall and three bedrooms.

Specially designed for Canadian conditions, it has glass fibre insulation and special storm-proof windows for winter and fly screens for summer.

First houses in the order will go to the new Canadian "model town" of Ajax, near Toronto. Others are for Gander, Nfld.

Young People Are Visited By Prime Minister In BC

Vancouver, Sept. 4. — (CP) — Youth got top priority today as Prime Minister St. Laurent's let's-get-acquainted tour continued in British Columbia.

First call on today's schedule was at New Westminister junior high school, where the Prime Minister was to speak to students and do some tree-planting on the school grounds.

The second call was at Burnaby South high school to speak to assembled public and high school students.

And before leaving for Victoria at midnight tonight, the Prime Minister will sandwich in a batch of other calls. These include receiving an honorary degree at the University of British Columbia, speaking at the formal opening of the new U.B.C. law building and attending a dinner and a reception.

Mr. St. Laurent arrived here yesterday with an announcement that set private radio broadcasters speculating.

In reporting that the government wants an additional loan for the CBC for construction of three new television stations, the Prime Minister noted:

"The part to be played by privately-owned stations in extending national television services in Canada is being actively considered by the government."

When reporters asked if this means private radio might be allowed to operate television, Mr. St. Laurent said: "It is certainly not the intention to have television any more a monopoly than radio broadcasting."

Beyond that, he did not elaborate.

The Pacific coast will ge one of the new stations, and the others will be located in the Prairie provinces and in the Atlantic provinces.

Mr. St. Laurent also spoke on the government's stand on obtaining revenue for the embryo television industry in Canada.

"As national television will, in the initial stages at least, cover only a part of Canada the government considers that its cost ought not to be financed out of the general revenue of the country.

"National television services should be paid for by those who receive their benefits, not by the people at large. How payment for these services should be made is a question that it still under consideration."

Mr. St. Laurent's most recent speech in Vancouver was made last night at a dinner given by the law society of B.C. to the Canadian Bar Association, in convention here.

He expressed his pleasure at attending another convention of the association, many of which he has attended in the past as a practising lawyer.

And he said the association was "an important factor in bringing us together as proud citizens of the growing young Canadian Nation."

The fit-looking leader said earlier he hopes to lead the Liberals into the next general election but he parried questions about the probable date of the balloting.

"I hope my health will continue to be such that it will be the right thing to do," he said when a reporter asked him if he will continue as leader when an election is called.

VIRGINIA MAYO HAS NO KICKS; FANS GET A KICK OUT OF HER

Hollywood—The Women: Jane Russell and Faith Domergue may scream about their likenesses on the billboards, but Virginia Mayo's not whimpering one bit about her scantily clad image in the ads for "She's Working Her Way Through College."

Her shapely figure is making Virginia as potent a hunk of box-office bait as "King Kong' and she's saying:

"I think the ads are very nice. That figure of me is eye-catching and provocative. It has—er—action in it. It has appeal for women, too. Women like to look at a beautiful figure as much as men do."

With "Back to Broadway" coming up as her new song-and-dance stint, Virginia is right up there with Doris Day as a musical comedy queen on the Warner lot.

"But I had to talk the studio into letting me do what I was trained for," she confesses. "Until last year, I hadn't done anything in the musical comedy line but a bit with Bob Hope and some stooging for Danny Kaye. And stooging for Danny is nothing and nowhere."

Curves In Boots

They've shorn Jan Sterling's tresses a la Huckleberry Finn, put her in cavalry britches and boots, and ironed out the Brooklynese that's been her vocal trademark for her role in Nat Holt's "Pony Express" at Paramount.

And Jan, whose curves won't stay hidden in men's clothing, is saying that it's the greatest thing that ever happened to her.

"My shirt's unbuttoned as far down as Alan Ladd's, but I'm getting away from witch parts," she crowed. "I'm a sort of ingenue who flings herself at Buffalo Bill. This means that I now have a wider field. I won't be limited to vixens with Brooklyn accents. You have to be versatile if you want to play in all kinds of pictures or even stay in the movie industry today."

It's something to put the noses of Holywood profile kings out of joint—Yvonne De Carlo's list of the nine most fascinating males in the world today.

Not one local greasepaint king is included.

Here are sultry Yvonne's choice and she knows all of them but the famous musical conductor:

The Duke of Edinburgh, the Shah of Iran, Polish sculptor Korczak Zeilowski, Aly Khan, opera composer Gian Carlo-Menotti, Peter (hero in "Quo Vadis") Ustinoff, Howard Hughes, Sir Laurence Oliver and Arturo Toscanini.

Yvonne's cutting way down on her dating, though, and vows that she'll lace into the next press agent who links her with a man she doesn't know.

"I want to shake off the impression that's been created like a slow poison over the years that I've gone out with everybody in the world and that I'm not a serious girl."

Delivers All Ways

Add the name of Joan Banks to the list of wives of Hollywood movie kings who are zooming right along as actresses.

Joan, who's in Fox's "Top Man," is the wife of Frank Lovejoy, and he's flashing the "Go" signal on her movie career.

'We met working in radio," Frank told me on the set of "The Difference" at RKO. "She's a talented girl with the drive of every other actress. She makes a good wife and delivers in all departments."

The big roles that Frank expected after his click in "I Was a Communist for the FBI" haven't come along, but he's reasoning:

"The day when a studio would keep a talent under wraps until suitable stories could be found is gone. You do what the studio gives you and you make the best of it. How much more can people expect of you? I haven't a complaint in the world."

With Broadway appearances and long road tours behind her in "Romeo and Juliet" and "Candida," Olivia de Havilland is confessing that she's overcome a yen to run the other way a la Greta Garbo.

There was a time when shy Olivia cringed in public, but now—

"The theater gives you some old basis of courage that an actress can't get any other way. I had to make a speech at the testimonial dinner for Judy Garland. I didn't need any help and I wasn't a bit nervous. I never could have done that without stage experience and touring the country in plays.

"If I had been asked to make a speech a few years ago I would have died."

JACOBY ON CANASTA

WATCH HOW YOU DISCARD ACES

There is an important difference between aces and other cards, particularly when both sides need 120 points for the initial meld. Two or three aces will help you reach the count without using up too many cards.

Moreover, even if you seem to have no need for aces for your own meld, you hate to discard an ace for fear that it may be just what the doctor ordered for the next player. In short, aces are practically never discarded before melds have been made.

This fact often has a bearing on the way you play your hand. For example, suppose both sides need 120 for the first meld, and you have a pair of jokers with three other pairs—kings, queens, and fives—with some odd cards to fill out the hand. How should you begin to play the hand?

If you choose to do so, you can put down the pair of jokers with the pair of kings, or with the pair of queens; or you can put down one joker with each. This would be excessively timid, however. Your best course is to meld nothing, but to play for the pack.

The hand continues, and you eventually acquire a pair of aces in addition to the other pairs you had in the beginning. Now you must change your policy. You must meld the two jokers with the two aces.

This costs practically nothing so far as winning the pack is concerned. Nobody was going to discard aces anyway. You still have your kings, queens, and fives to help you win the discard pile; and your partner now has a chance to get the pile even if he is unable to meld 120 points.

Q—In a game of three-handed Cut-Throat Canasta, recently, I wanted to meld out concealed. After making all possible melds I had left in my hand three black threes and a jack. I tried to meld the three black threes and discard the jack, but my opponents said I could not discard if I melded black threes. Were they right?

A—No. I cannot imagine where people got this notion. In all forms of Canasta you are allowed to make a discard when you meld out with black threes. There never has been any rule against this.

When you meld out with three or four black threes it's exactly the same as any other way of melding out. That is, you are allowed either to make a discard or not—just as you please.

Canadian Legion Fair At Coaticook Over Week-End Was Complete Success

Coaticook, Sept. 4 — The fifth annual indoor Fair held in the Coaticook Armouries, sponsored by the local Canadian Legion, Branch 26, came to a close on Saturday night last at midnight, and indications are that it was the most profitable of any such event to date.

While final figures will not be available for some time yet, it appears as if the boys will net close to $1,000 for their two days' effort.

The Fair opened on Friday night at eight o'clock, with the Coaticook Band parading through the Main Street, leading the crowd to the Armouries. The presence of the Band, playing on a specially erected platform outside the building, did much to add to the enjoyment of the evening and attracted many passers-by who may not have known about the Fair otherwise.

The first night's attendance was less than had been hoped for, due to an occasional sprinkle of rain throughout the evening, but the gross take for the night topped last year's opening night by around forty dollars.

Saturday afternoon was observed as a special children's matinee. As soon as the doors opened at two o'clock until late in the afternoon, the building rang with the gay, excited voices of hundreds of young folks enjoying the special booths run for their enjoyment. The biggest attraction for the kiddies was the Fish Pond, which ran out of prizes and had to replenish their stock. The Ladies' Auxiliary ran this particular booth and did very well by it. They also handled the refreshment stand and Cup and Saucer booth, both of which were well patronized.

Saturday night the hall was filled to capacity and many of the booths did such a rushing business that they ran out of prizes and had to get stock from other booths. As a matter of fact, very little stock was left to be carried over for another year, which was highly pleasing to those in charge of purchasing supplies. Mr. Murray Woodman, general chairman, states that the whole undertaking was most gratifying from all aspects.

The lucky winners in the drawings for door prizes were: Miss Mary Adams, who won an electric warmer, donated by J. N. White Reg'd.; Miss Ruth Drew, who won a large box of fancy biscuits, donated by J. Soulier's Biscuit Shop; Murray Cutts, of Sherbrooke, who won a tin of toffee, given by Beerworth's Reg'd.; Mr. Wilbrod Lavigne, who won a man's gift set donated by Mr. Louis Abdolla, of Coaticook Pharmacy; Mrs. Guelph Parker, of Dixville, who won a lovely set of hand-painted water glasses, donated by the Regent store.

Winners on the Superfine booth, who had their choice of electric table lamps, ash stands, card tables, or electric clocks, were Mr. Louis Elias, Mr. Lucien Bouchard, Mr. Hector Beaudoin, Mr. James Bell, Mr. Murray Woodman, Mr. Ronald Corbeil, Mr. Leonard Gammon, Mr. Bristol Smith, Mr. Stanley Beerworth.

Winners on the raffle were P. Wiggett, W. J. Therriault, Therese Bouchard, R. Beaudoin, J. M. Lachance, of Montreal, all of whom won five dollars each.

Late in the evening the main prize of $100 on the raffle was drawn and activities on all booths stopped for a time as everyone gathered around the raffle booth to witness the drawing of the main award. Mr. Samuel Green had the honor of selecting the winning ticket and the lucky winner was announced as Mr. Leo Paul Lebel, of Coaticook.

The Sherbrooke Daily Record had a stand at the Legion Fair this year for the first time and free copies of the Record were handed out each night by the attendant, Mr. Stanley Beerworth, local correspondent.

A guessing contest at this booth resulted in a year's free subscription to the Record being awarded to Mr. Allen Grady. The correct answer, by the way, was 192. Mr. Grady came the nearest with 176.

The various booths are now dismantled, tied together and stored away until next year rolls around. The Legion wound up their weekend festivities with a gala dance held in the Armouries on Monday night, Labour Day, and this also was marked as a success.

Census takers are paid an average of seven cents for each person they interview.

Cats Take Romance Too Seriously And Turn City Into Darkness

There were two cats from Kilkenny,
Each thought there was one cat too many,
So they scratched and they spit,
They fought and they bit,
'Til except for their nails
And the tips of their tails,
Instead of two cats, there weren't any.

Patrons of the Sherbrooke municipal electric system may not know of the fighting qualities of the famed Kilkenny cats, but last night they had definite proof of the hatred and determination which can rest in the hearts of two valiant Rock Forest felines.

As the result of a battle between two Rock Forest cats, the city was without power last evening for periods ranging from five to twenty minutes shortly after eight o'clock.

From an investigation conducted by the employees of the department after the electricity distributory system was thrown out of action temporarily by a short circuit on the Rock Forest transmission line, it appears that the two cats in question were engaged in a bitter battle over their lady love and, cat-like, decided that the dispute could best be settled at a considerable distance above the ground.

Thus they transferred the engagement to the cross-arm of a pole on the high-tension line from the Rock Forest power plant. Probably they decided that the wires offered a better foothold, or whatever is considered an advantage when two felines battle, but in any case they managed to get across two of the wires, causing a short circuit which knocked out the switchboards at the Galt street sub-station and threw the entire system out of kilter.

The distribution plant was soon restored to normal but the cats were only charred ruins.

Exhibit Of Y. W. C. A. Instructors Will Be Held Here September 12

A week from Friday evening, between the hours of eight and 10 o'clock, an exhibit of the work of Y.W.C.A. instructors, who will teach at the new series of arts and crafts courses to be given at the Y.W., will be held in the MacKinnon Memorial, 40 Montreal street.

Registrations for the courses, first of which begins September 23, will be accepted at that time.

Prospective students are urged to attend this exhibit so they may be advised by the instructor as to the course and the materials required. If enough interest is shown, some of the Autumn classes may be repeated after Christmas, and other new ones formed.

A course in rug-making, hooking and braiding, is planned from January to April.

Courses to be offered in the fall term, the most ambitious program of arts and crafts ever planned by the Sherbrooke Y.W.C.A., are lino-cutting, stencilling and brush-stroke painting, glove-making and felt work, sculpting, oil painting, and wood-working.

A course in leather-embossing might be arranged by the time registrations are in full swing.

This series of courses will be no pink-tea party affairs concluding with social sessions. Rather, they will be hour upon hour of solid instruction and work.

The lino-cutting instructor is W. H. Cripps, of Ulverton, who did the cuts which adorn this year's Page-Sangster Printing Company calendar.

The course will teach the students cut designs on heavy linoleum blocks, which can be used for fabric printing as well as for picture and Christmas cards.

Stencilling and brush-stroke painting, which also begins September 23, will be under Mrs. C. H. Beaulieu, whose interest in this field started early as her father owned an antique business where he also re-finished furniture. Mrs. Beaulieu has studied early American decoration and design in Vermont schools and has taught privately and at So-Eo courses as well as having sold some of her work in Montreal and, locally, at the Sheffield Shop.

Instruction will include the decorating of trays, boxes, and furniture. Students should bring an article on which to work.

Glove-making and felt work, which begins the same evening, will be directed by Mrs. Norman Bowers and Mrs. Mildred Larrabee, respectively. The whole course may be taken or on part only.

A resident of Milby, Mrs. Bowers turned to glove-making as a hobby becuase or her natural interest in any craft. She has taken many W.I. courses in this field and has found it a very satisfying hobby. Gloves may be made plain leather, pigtex, suede, and in various colors.

Mrs. Larrabee, who lives in Sherbrooke, has also made a hobby of the course she will instruct felt work. She has made many gifts of this hobby, has used them to aid her church at bazaar sales, and has sold a considerable quantity of her art.

These are the courses which will be given each Tuesday night, beginning September 23. Lino-cutting will run for ten two-hour lessons, stencilling and brush-stroke painting for the same length of time, glove-making and felt work will run for ten lessons for the complete course but a half-course of five lessons may be taken.

Sculpting and oil-painting will be given on Wednesday evenings, beginning September 24, while an intensive course in wood-working, at L'Ecole Technique, 53 Camirand street, will commence in the middle of October until March, twenty lessons at three-hours each.

Cattle Smuggling Into Vermont, N. H. Reported By U. S. Newspaper

Providence, R. I., Sept. 4. — (CP)—The Providence Journal-Bulletin reports today that unscrupulous men are reaping huge profits by smuggling Canadian cattle over the border into Vermont and New Hampshire in violation of a ban to prevent the spread of foot-and-mouth disease to United States herds.

Reports Leonard O. Warner and Stuart O. Hale write that the ban has created "a perfect situation for the cattle-smuggler; buy low and sell high."

Although Canada recently officially declared Canadian herds free of the disease, the U. S. has not lifted the import embargo slapped on when the epidemic broke out.

"These days in Canada you can buy a young milk cow for from $160 to $225—the price promises to drop even lower—and you can sell her here in southern New England for from $400 to $450," Warner and Hale report.

"No one questions your movements along the Canadian border," Warner and Hale write. They tell how they "drove three days on both sides of the border in northern New England and Quebec, repeatedly criss-crossed the line at regular customs stations. . . ."

"At no time," the Journal study says, "were they stopped, questioned or even followed. They saw no border guards or patrols except at the regular customs stations . . .

"Paul Lawrence, customs agent in charge of investigations for the Vermont-New Hampshire border, told Journal reporters that the smuggling of banned Canadian cattle 'is widespread.'

"At his St. Albans, Vt., office Lawrence went even further. He said he felt the smuggling activities are well organized, that the illegal racket is a co-operative venture between money-hungry southern New England cattle dealers who know intimately the vast network of unprotected back roads . . .

"Forged animal health charts and ear tags obtained from slaughter houses and other sources enable the smugglers to sell their illegal stock masked as U. S. animals of good health," the Journal says.

The Journal reports that since the ban was imposed last February, U. S. authorities have prosecuted only one smuggling case, resulting in a $1,000 fine for a Newport, Vt., cattle dealer. Cattle allegedly were brought from Ontario and Quebec and thence to a barn straddling the border near North Troy, Vt.

Fredericcton, Sept. 4. — (CP) — Supt. E. H. Perlson, R.C.M.P. chief in New Brunswick, said today there was no indication of cattle smuggling across the New Brunswick-Maine border.

He was commenting on a Providence, R. I., report that unscrupulous men are reaping huge profits by smuggling Canadian cattle over the border into Northern New England in violation of a ban to prevent the spread of foot-and-mouth disease to United States herds.

Ottawa, Sept. 4. — (CP) — An R.C.M.P. spokesman said today there is virtually no illicit traffic of Canadian cattle across the Canada-United States border into New England.

He was commenting on a report from Providence, R. I., which said unscrupulous men are "reaping huge profits" by smuggling

REPUBLICANS SEEK A NEW LOOK

The Republicans have been trying hard to produce some ideas on variations of the United States' European policy that would give them a "new look" before the voters, and President Truman says the way they are doing it is dangerous to the U. S. and its allies.

So far, the argument centres around the idea of John Foster Dulles, former adviser to the State Department, and others that the U. S. should show greater determination and take the initiative in a campaign looking toward eventual liberation of the European satellites.

Dulles, now a top Republican policy-maker, has always thought the first step was for Truman to make it clear to the Kremlin that the U. S. will never make a settlement until these countries are free. The administration has preferred to wait and see what the situation is when words can be backed by greater Allied strength, but Eisenhower said it in his American Legion speech.

Dulles has made several speeches on the subject. The gist of his idea comprises three additional steps. First, a propaganda campaign to stir up the spirit of resistance in the satellites. Second, when active resistance movements have begun, to supply them and provide liaison through air drops. Third, concentrate the efforts of the undergrounds on convincing Russia that she has swallowed more than she can chew, and force her to get out.

Dulles says it was not premature action by the Warsaw underground which brought disaster upon it near the end of the war but betrayal by the Russians. This consisted of Russian failure to put their troops into the city coincident with what had been planned as a co-ordinated uprising against the Germans. The Poles were practically wiped out.

Which raises the question, would not there be an exactly analagous situation in central Europe today, or on any early tomorrow, if the undergrounds began to show their hands without Allied forces at hand, ready to move right in?

The Poles had been helped by air drops throughout the war. They got food, munitions, and enough newsprint to keep alive 110 underground newspapers under the noses of the Germans.

An armed revolt within one of the satellites would pose the most dangerous problem of the entire cold war. The United States would have to decide whether and how to aid.

Many though not all underground leaders contend that armed intervention would be the only real aid. And armed intervention would mean, in all likelihood, engagement with the occupying troops of Russia and the direct danger of world war. And should Russia want to start a war it might well incite such an event for the very purpose, trying to put the blame on the West.

THE PREDICTORS ERR

It is a commonplace of the stock market that big events are anticipated days and sometimes weeks in advance. Thus discounted ahead of time, the events usually produce little shock when they actually occur.

Lately some of the experts judging the national and world scene have been going pretty heavily into this business of anticipating things to come. With this difference: they haven't always been so successful in measuring the prospects, and consequently the actual events have often dealt something of a blow.

This being an American election year, it is probably a painful time to remind the experts of the fiasco of 1948, when President Truman upset the carefully calculated thoughts of most veteran observers, and won re-election.

Since then a good many other events have been misjudged. The ranting Russians were figured to make a stir at the San Francisco Japanese peace treaty session last fall. They didn't. General Eisenhower's June return to the United States was foreseen as almost certain to touch off a prairie fire. It didn't. Examples are legion.

Perhaps these discrepancies between forecast and event wouldn't arouse too much concern if the erring observers simply acknowledged mistakes and vowed they wouldn't happen again.

But some of the experts insist on blaming the participants in the events, instead of themselves, when things don't work out as they predicted. A few go so far as to distort the story of an actual event to fit what proves to be their own farfetched anticipation of it.

So we get some pretty tortured versions of current history these days. Why?

Certainly it never was easy to foretell activties in the realm of practical affairs. There is no accurate barometer for human behavior. But over the decades some pretty sound guesses were made of what was to come.

Nowadays the confusion of affairs has vastly complicated the task of predicting. That very complexity is the prime excuse for error by the experts. They can cover only so much ground themselves, and thereafter are dependent upon the findings of others.

But the difficulties of digging for even that part of the facts which one man can fairly unearth have tended to discourage too many. A lot of them have therefore become little more than collectors of surface impressions, and rather jaded collectors at that. When they supplement these with the surface gleanings of others, they erect a shaky pyramid that can topple at the first real breath of reality.

There is no cure for this condition but hard work. Because the world is harder to understand does not mean we can abandon the project. The manpower and the facilities for grappling with this task in America are unexampled.

Instead of talking events to death before they occur, our experts ought to spend their time scanning thoroughly the groundwork for those events — talking to all the people they can, reviewing past history where it has a bearing, getting and keeping the feel of the country where the events will be made. This sounds simple enough, but it's become a rather uncommon practice.

Less talk and more action on the observers' front wouldn't eliminate forecasting errors. But it might make the surprises less frequent.

LABOR UNION CAMPAIGN FUNDS NEVER REACHED HIGHEST GOALS

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — Talk about multi-million dollar campaign funds raised by the labor unions to influence elections seems to have been pretty well exaggerated. With some 15 million members in labor unions, various drives for "a buck a member" had a potential total of $15 million. But they have never achieved anything like such results.

CIO's Political Action Committee had its best year in 1950, when it received contributions of $1,200,000. C.I.O. now claims about six million members, so this represents one out of five contributing. This money was divided half for national headquarters and half for state and local organizations for congressional and other campaigns.

With 18 salaried employees in Jack Kroll's PAC headquarters, the big job is research on congressional records for local campaigns, preparation of speaker's handbooks and similar activities. Printing eats up most of the budget. A series of vest-pocket booklets on "'52 Facts" has already circulated more than three million copies.

AFL's Labor's League for Political Education has a more complicated financial structure. Its political activities are supported by voluntary contributions, and the best collection it has ever made was $600,000, also in 1950.

In 1949 LLPE started out to get $2 a head from every AFL member. It was too much. Next year they cut it down to $1 and did better, but still not too well, considering that the organization claims eight million members. All this $600,000 was sent to the states for local political work.

Ten Cents A Member Supports It

The educational part of LLPE is supported by a straight 10-cents-a-member assessment. This raised another $600,000, since the garment workers and some of the railway unions have their own political kitties. When this educational work money runs out, AFL calls for another assessment.

The AFL-sponsored Frank Edwards radio show costs nearly $1 million a year. Formerly the federation and LLPE sponsored this show jointly, and each organization published its own weekly tabloid newspaper. The two newspapers are now combined and AFL headquarters foots the bill.

CIO-PAC has been polling its members through local union meetings on what they regard as the most important issue of the campaign. In Ohio slips of paper were passed out for the members to write their answers. The results came as something of a surprise, in that they reflected local conditions predominantly.

In Youngstown and the other steel centers, repeat of the Taft-Hartley law headed the list, largely because it had been made an issue by the steel strike. In Cincinnati, unemployment insurance came up first. In Columbus it was workmen's compensation.

Nationally, the top issues are regarded as continuation of the liberal policy, price control and inflation, strengthening of the Social Security system, avoidance of war and maintenance of world peace.

Ray Of Hope For Seaway Advocates

St. Lawrence Seaway advocates got a ray of hope for their cause recently when Rep. Tom Pickett of Palestine, Tex., resigned his congressional seat to take a job with the National Coal Association.

The coal industry — including both the mine owners and John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers' union — has been second only to the railroads in opposition to development of the St. Lawrence Seaway and its electric power projects.

In Congress, Representatives Pickett was a member of the House Public Works Committee, where he was a leading opponent of the St. Lawrence project. It was his vote and voice that were given credit for keeping the St. Lawrence authorizing legislation from being reported out by the committee for a vote on the floor.

September 9 is the immediate big election day, with eight states holding their primaries for state office on that date. They are Arizona, Colorado, Minnesota, New Hampshire, Utah, Vermont, Washington and Wisconsin.

Major interest centers on the Wisconsin race, where Sen. Joe McCarthy's seat is at stake. There are five Republicans seeking the senatorial nomination, which splits his GOP opposition vote and gives McCarthy some advantage.

Leonard Schmitt is the strongest of his Republican opponents. Running for the Democratic senatorial nomination are Henry Reuss and Tom Fairchild.

Senator McCarthy is in Wisconsin, recuperating from a serious operation for hernia. The operation was successful, but his doctors have ruled out all political campaigning. Whether he will be able to make any speeches or appearances on his own behalf before the primary is still uncertain. But this may give him a good "sympathy" vote.

Fast Harvesting Adds To Problem Of Farm Shortage

Winnipeg, Sept. 4. —(CP)— A revolution in grain harvesting, which has been under way for 25 years, is a major factor in the grain storage problem confronting western farmers now as they start bringing in perhaps the biggest crop in history.

Agriculture officials here say the introduction of combine harvesters, tractors and trucks in place of threshing machines, horses and wagons has slashed the harvest season from an all-fall job to as little as two weeks.

Farm storage—an important part of the old, slow system—has been allowed to slide in favor of a speedy clean-up and fast delivery to elevators.

Flood of Grain—

Elevator and railways handling facilities, geared to an average crop, can not handle this year's estimated flood of 1,455,000,000 bushels of all grain expected to come off the prairies in a few weeks. Third big crop in a row, it bumps against 405,000,000 bushels carried over from last year.

Manitoba farm officials say that under the old system harvest started early in August and ended when the first snow fell in October. Now, with favorable conditions, it can be finished in less than a month.

Under the old method, grain was cut and tied in bundles; piled manually in "stooks" to dry, possibly for weeks; and later hauled to threshing machines for separation of grain and straw. Then the grain was stored in granaries for leisurely transport to elevators—until recent years in horse-drawn wagons.

This spread elevator deliveries over a long period.

Under today's method, a combine harvester plods through the grain fields and takes off the crop in one operation. A grain truck, shuttling from combine to elevator, can keep pace and move as much as a carload of grain—1,800 bushels—to the elevator in one day.

The speed of this method and the high cost of building granaries deterred farmers from building and replacing old storage.

Even with Canadian Wheat Board delivery quotas, designed to control the flow of grain to market, only a limited amount was kept on farms. Handling facilities could cope with an average yield.

The swing to mechanized farming which has multiplied storage problems is illustrated in figures from the 1951 census.

In 1941, western Canada had 18,081 combines. By 1951, the total had jumped to 79,117. In the same period, the number of threshing machines dropped from 44,218 to 43,414. Tractors increased from 112,624 to 236,930; trucks from 43,363 to 113,512.

Sees Taxi Service Using Helicopters

Ottawa. — You should be able to take a helicopter "taxi" between such places as Ottawa and Montreal within 10 years. And by that time you should be able to fly from Vancouver to Toronto in four hours.

These are some of the predictions of John R. Baldwin, chairman of the Air Transport Board, the government body which controls civil aviation in Canada.

In a speech to an Ottawa service club he looked into aviation's crystal ball and predicted that "helicabs" would be running a 45-minute taxi service over the 125-mile route from Ottawa to Montreal by 1962, and perhaps earlier than that.

At present, he said, the helicopter is too expensive to compete with other types of transportation in that field. The helicopter has to be made larger and has to be operated more cheaply.

For longer distances, he said a big part of air travel would be done in jet transport planes flying 500 miles an hour or more, at heights of eight or nine miles. Air travel would become cheaper and safer, and people would be able to get tourist-class seats.

ODD HAND USUALLY CAUSES HEADACHES

I know that there are more optimists than pessimists, because practically everybody misplays the type of hand shown today. The good pessimist always makes the slam contract; a good optimist always comes a cropper. West opens the queen of spades and dummy wins with the ace. The optimist lays down the ace, king, and queen of trumps in the hope of dropping the jack. In this case he has no such luck and the slam is doomed.

Our optimist does his best to recover by cashing the king of diamonds and entering dummy with a club in order to take discards on dummy's top diamonds. West promptly ruffs, however, and is then able to cash two spades to set the slam two tricks.

The pessimist does not hope to capture the jack of hearts. After winning the first trick with dummy's ace of spades, the pessimist immediately finesses the ten of hearts. When this finesse loses to the jack, our pessimist is not a bit surprised. He nexer expects to win a finesse!

Now, however, West cannot defeat the contract. If West tries to continue spades, dummy's remaining trump will stop the suit. And, of course, South likewise has control of the other suits. South can easily regain the lead, draw the rest of the trumps, and get his discards on dummy's diamonds.

You, South, hold: Spades A-J-10-5, Heart 7, Diamonds A-K-J-9-4, Clubs 8-6-2. What do you do?

A—Bid two spades. A "reverse" bid by the responder is forcing, so there is no need to make a jump bid of any kind. North is unlikely to have four spades, so he will probably be unable to raise the spades; but the knowledge that you can take care of that suit may enable him to bid or avoid no-trump without guesswork.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades A-J-10, Hearts 7-5, Diamonds A-K-J-9-4, Clubs 8-6-2. What do you do?

The Record Short Story

THE LED HORSE

By SEVEN ANDERTON

Old Sam Joyce and I were discussing modern youth. Sam was annoyed by the youngsters' total disregard for either advice or example. With great originality I observed that you can lead a horse to water but you can't make him drink.

"You can if you're smarter than the horse," Sam retorted. "Did I ever tell you how old Simon Patterson settled his daughter and her husband?"

"Simon was the best farmer that ever hit these parts," Sam took up the tale. "His heart was in it. Folks used to say that Simon was so much a part of the soil that sap rose in him in the Spring, like in a tree. Anyhow, he built up the best farm in Center County and parts adjacent.

"Simon prospered, enjoyed himself and raised a boy and a girl. The boy was killed in the war and Simon's wife died about a year later, when the girl, Della, was sixteen.

"Simon hired Joe Trent and his wife to keep house and help with the farm. Della turned out to be a disappointment to Simon. She did not want to be what she called a hayseed and she kept pestering Simon to leave the farm. She might as well have asked him to climb the windmill and jump off.

"Simon was mighty fond of Della and he humored her in most things. But he wasn't leaving the farm. He tried hard to make her see that it was the best place to live, but she wouldn't listen. So things went on with Simon hoping and Della fuming. Della was pretty as a picture and the young bucks began to spark her, but she wouldn't be serious about any of 'em. She wasn't going to marry and settle down on a farm or in any hick town like Centerville.

"So when Della graduated from high school and wanted to go to an eastern college Simon let her go. He figgered that she would be glad to get back to the farm after she had a taste of city life. But Della up and married a young city feller. She brought him back to Centerville to meet Simon and Simon offered to take him in as a partner on the farm. That didn't work, because Della had got her say in first and the city feller wanted to work in a boiled shirt anyhow. They stayed three days and Simon preached the gospel of the farm all the time. Then they went back to Cleveland, where Della's man had a job in the office of some big concern. When they was leaving, Simon told them partnership in the farm was a standing offer.

"With Joe Trent and his wife, Simon went on building up the farm. She got to be a humdinger as time went on. Della had two boys and a girl in the first four years after she was married. Once a year her husband would get a vacation and they would drive out to spend a few days with Simon. He kept trying to sell them the farm idea, but they wouldn't buy.

"The last time Simon tried, Della told him that Arnold, her husband, was making seventy-five hundred dollars a year. Simon said what of it. The farm had paid nine thousand the year before clear of taxes, upkeep and all other expenses. Della said that Arnold wasn't strong enough for farm work anyhow. Simon said Arnold would never get any stronger in a city office, but he would on a farm. But the young folks went back to Cleveland.

"That winter Simon died—sudden. Della and her family came for the funeral. She and Arnold got a jolt when Simon's will was read. He left the farm to them—this way. They had to live on it ten years. Durin' that time they couldn't work at anything else—and they couldn't leave the farm for more than a week at a time and not for more than six weeks in any calendar year. After the ten years they could sell the farm or do anything else with it that they wanted to. But they had to be living on it within thirty days after Simon died and keep to the terms of the will or they would get five hundred dollars and the farm would go to the State Agricultural College for an experiment station.

"Well, Della and Arnold moved onto the farm. They couldn't duck it. The place was worth more than a hundred thousand dollars on the market and it was paying a profit of ten thousand a year. But they told everybody from the start that they thought Simon had played them a dirty trick and they were going to sell the place and go back to the city the minute the ten years were up. So they settled down to do the ten years. Della and Arnold grumbled a lot, but the kids took to the farm like ducks to water. Donald, the oldest kid, was eleven years old.

The Trents were kept on to help with the farm, but 640 acres and the herds and poultry kept all hands busy. The kids started to school and were soon well acquainted. They got into 4-H clubs with calves and pigs. In no time they had pets all over the farm.

"Even Arnold began to get interested when he saw young crops come up from seed he had planted. He was thirty-some years old and had never put a seed in the ground before. He learned a lot from Joe Trent and his days in the field put a tan on his pale hide and he began to get some meat on his bones.

"Well, the ten years sneaked by like years do and folks began to watch for the farm old Simon had built to be put on the market. It had been a long time since anybody had heard Arnold or Della grumble about the trick Simon had played on them. Arnold was past forty and Della was thirty-nine. Both of them were brown and healthy. Don was twenty and all three kids had their own interest in the farm—and plenty of money in the bank. You never saw a likelier bunch of youngsters. Everybody liked them. Their livestock took prizes all over the place and Don had been elected president of the Future Farmers of America in the state. An Ayershire heifer raised by Edna, the girl, won first prize at a Chicago show.

"I could tell you a lot more, but you get the idea. The roots had gone down in Center County soil. The soil had given health and plenty and contentment had sneaked up on them. Old Simon had done a good job. Sale of the farm hadn't been even mentioned in the family for several years.

"But Centerville folks have long memories in things like that. The end of the ten years was two weeks off when Ralph Estes, the real estate agent drove out to the farm and asked Arnold and Della if they wanted to list the place with him, so he could have a buyer ready.

"The way Ralph told it back in town, they acted like he had insulted them. The whole kit and kaboodle of them jumped all over him. The farm wasn't for sale.

"But Centerville folks had been waiting ten years for this. Little town folks are mighty patient, but when they plan on fun they mean to have it. Folks that didn't want a farm any more than a hog wants a brief case started making offers. Other youngsters began to ask Don and the other kids how soon they were leaving for the city."

"You might just as well stop being mysterious about names," I told Sam. "I know the place. The Gifford farm up north of town. There was an article about it in Farm Journal last year. Arnie Gifford and his wife have retired and turned the farm over to their children."

Sam looked betrayed. "That's right," he said. "But I was goin' to tell you about the payoff first. It came when Della went to the meeting of Farm Bureau women. She was treasurer. The other women prodded her by tellin' her that they wanted to elect her president, but if she was goin' away—that done it. After the meeting, Della went down and put a big black type advertisement in the Weekly Banner.

"'That advertisement said that young folks generally made fools of themselves and she and Arnold had done so. It went on to say that the farm was not for sale and why, but the best part of it was at the end. It said that there was nothing wrong with young folks that time wouldn't cure and would Centerville please give her and Arnold credit for being cured and for raising children that didn't need curing.

"Well, Centerville did. And nobody made any more offers for the farm. Don is married now and lives on it. The other two kids have bought more land right alongside and are making Don scratch to keep ahead of them. So don't be so sure that you can't make a horse drink by leading him to water. Old Simon did. I'll bet you he's having a good chuckle about it wherever he is."

"Um," I said. "There must be a pin that could be stuck in that, but I don't seem to find one at the moment."

Dog Graduations Will Take Place At North Hatley

Graduation exercises of Mrs. Lorna Casgrain's Summer School for Dog Obedience will take place at North Hatley's baseball field, this Saturday evening at five o'clock.

In event of rain, the graduation of pooches will be carried over to the same time Sunday.

Noble Smith, of Lennoxville, will be judge and Mrs. J. W. Neilson, of Sherbrooke, president of the Eastern Townships' branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, will present the prizes.

No charge will be made for admission but a silver collection will be taken up in aid of the S.P.C.A., which recently opened a shelter for animals at Katevale and has embarked on a drive for more members and funds in order to maintain this shelter at full operations.

Following presentation of diplomas and prizes, Mrs. Casgrain will give a demonstration of advanced dog obedience, using her two poodles, Wendy, U.D., Int. C.D.X., and Becky, Int. C.D.

The dogs and their owners have completed a 10-weeks' course in obedience training, in which the owners learned to teach their dogs good manners through certain specific exercises, such as to walk at heel, sit, stay and lie down upon command, and come.

Cattle Smuggling

Canadian cattle into Vermont and New Hampshire. A U. S. ban is still in force against Canadian cattle because of last spring's outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease in Saskatchewan.

"A few years ago" there had been smuggling, the spokesman said, but lately—three or four months ago— there had been only one isolated case in which a man was found attempting to drive five head of cattle across the U. S. border from Quebec. He was apprehended by the R.C.M.P.

Enforcement of the U. S. ban is a matter for U. S. customs authorities, he added.

Cows Killed By Truck At Fitch Bay

Two cattle, valued at a total of $325, were killed and the truck which struck one of them received $450 damages Monday night on the gravel road between Crystal Beach and Fitch Bay.

Provincial Police Traffic Officer Rosaire Daigle, who investigated with Traffic Officer Curtis Parsons, identified the driver of the two-ton truck as Rosaire Fontaine, 29, of Katevale, the animals were the propetry of farmer Donat Cote, Fitch Bay.

The deceased were part of a cattle parade across the road, from pasture to barns, at about 8.20 o'clock Monday night. One of them was killed outright, falling against another and breaking the latter's leg. The second cow had to be destroyed. This marked the third cow to be reported killed by a motorist in the district this week.

Mission Veteran At Pentecostal Church Sunday

Rev. R. J. Jamieson, a veteran Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada missionary 84 years "young" and a native of Megantic, Quebec, will be the guest preacher next Sunday at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. at the Sherbrooke-Lennoxville Pentecostal Church, Main Street North, Lennoxville. Rev. Hubert Lewis is pastor of the church.

Mr. Jamieson, standing more than six foot tall, still looks hale and hearty, despite his nearly fifty years of missionary work in the British West Indies, where he and his late wife laid the foundation of the Pentecostal work that now numbers dozens of congregations. The work has reached such maturity that practically all of the leadership has been transferred to the West Indies, and such Canadians as are in official capacities are elected by the direct vote of the West Indian churches. They now have their own three year theological school, the West Indies School of Theology, in Port-of-Spain, Trinidad.

Mr. Jamieson "retired" two years ago and now makes his home in Vancouver. He is now in the east to attend the eighteenth biennial national General Conference of the Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada, which will meet in the Central French Pentecostal Church, Montreal, from September 11 to 17.

He will be visiting relatives in Lennoxville during his visit to the Eastern Townships.

Appointment of E. J. Umphrey as vice-president of General Motors of Canada Limited, is announced by William A. Wecker, president of the company. Mr. Umphrey has been director of sales for the past ten years and his appointment culminates more than 32 years' association with General Motors of Canada. He will continue to direct all sales and advertising. A native of Manitoba, Mr. Umphrey's first connection with General Motors was in the Winnipeg sales office. In succeeding years he served in many important executive capacities in the various sales zones across Canada, and in the head office at Oshawa. He was for some time manager of the Calgary zone and later held responsible positions in the Montreal and Toronto zones. In 1938 Mr. Umphrey came to Oshawa as assistant general sales manager and in 1942 was appointed director of sales for the company.

Dunham Votes For Repeal Of Scott Act

Dunham, Que., Sept. 4—(CP)—By a vote of 80-59, residents of this Eastern Townships centre yesterday voted to allow the sale of alcoholic beverages and repeal the Scott act. Dunham has been continuously "dry" in the memory of old residents.

Joseph Favreau, town secretary, closed the poll at 4 p.m.—an hour earlier than scheduled—when a an hour elapses without a vote being cast. A Quebec statute authorizes closing of a poll if half an hour elapses wiithout a vote being offered.

E. T. Jersey Wins Award

Another Ton-of-Gold Certificate has been won by the famous Pinetree Jersey herd of W. H. Miner at Granby, Que.

Walter Wright, farm manager, reports that Pinetree Baron's Jean has in 1,420 days, or less than four years, produced 2,122 lbs. of butterfat.

Jean is a daughter of Pinetree Sporting Baron, one of the bulls bred and used at Pinetree Farm. The dam of Jean is Standard's Roma, that has two records, one made as a two-year-old and the other as a three-year-old which average over 450 lbs. of fat each. Standard's Roma is a daughter of the superior sire, Pinetree Magic Standard, that made such an outstanding contribution to the Miner herd several years ago.

Mrs. Irwin poured tea and was assisted in serving by Mrs. Hall and Miss McKenna.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

On Wednesday evening, August 27, at the home of Mrs. John Caldwell, a miscellaneous shower was given in honor of Miss Phyllis Cooper on the occasion of her approaching marriage.

The rooms were tastefully decorated for the occasion with phlox, gladioli, petunias and baby's breath. The guest of honor's chair was decorated in green and yellow, as was a tiny umbrella suspended from the ceiling, arranged with green streamers and attached to the table which held the gifts.

Master Gary Cooper handed the gifts to Miss Cooper and after opening them, she expressed her sincere thanks and pleasure. Stating that she was taken completely by surprise, Miss Cooper invited all present to visit her in her new home.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Reid Russell, Mrs. Lyle Cooper, Miss Linda Caldwell, and Mrs. John Caldwell.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il, chief Red negotiator, retorted that Harrison was attempting to show discord between the Chinese and Korean communists.

The communists demand return of 116,000 allied-held prisoners, including all 20,000 Chinese. The U.N. has offered to return 83,000, including 6,400 Chinese, insisting that the 87,000 other prisoners don't want to rejoin communism.

OBITUARIES

MRS. AUGUSTUS JACOBS, OF QUECHEE, VT.

Rock Island, Sept. 4. — Mrs. Evelyn Jacobs, widow of the late Augustus E. Jacobs, of Holland, Vt., passed away away on Wednesday afternoon, July 16, 1952, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Stewart George, in Quechee, Vt. The following Friday the remains were brought to the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jacobs, Derby Line. On Saturday afternoon prayers were offered at the Jacobs' residence with the family circle, then the funeral cortege proceeded to Stanstead South Church, where numerous friends had gathered to pay their last respects to a good friend. Words of comfort and sympathy were spoken by Rev. Craig Wilcox, pastor of the Beebe Advent Church. The bearers were four grandsons of the deceased, Messrs. Dean George, of Lebanon, N.H., Kermit Jacobs, Lyle Jacobs and Arnold Jacobs, all of St. Albans, Vt. The remains were laid to rest in the Derby Line cemetery.

Mrs. Jacobs was born in Holland, Vt., on March 14, 1872, the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. M. L. Ames. On March 27, 1889, she was united in marriage to Augustus Jacobs, and to this union were born four children, a daughter, Mrs. George (Flora), of Quechee, Vt., three sons, Earl A., of Derby Line, and Kenneth R., of St. Albans. Marshall predeceased his mother several years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs lived their married life on a farm in Holland, Vt., where they were respected by all who knew them. They were good neighbors and their hospitable home was open to all who called.

The lovely and numerous floral offerings were silent tokens of the esteem felt for the deceased. Mrs. Jacobs was a member of the Beebe Advent Church and a very active worker in the Holland Advent Church. Mr. Jacobs passed away on October 24, 1922, and after that Mrs. Jacobs and her son, Kenneth, carried on the farm for a while. After the death of her mother she came to Derby Line to be with her father, and following his death a few years ago, she since made her home with her three children.

Mrs. Jacobs is survived by her children, sixteen grandchidren, several great-grandchildren and two brothers, Messrs. George and Charles Ames, of Derby Line.

Among those from out of town attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Stewart George, Quechee, Vt., Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. Lye Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Jacobs, all of St. Albans, Vt., Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Chadburn, Irasburg, Vt., Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Roberts and family, of Beverly, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Greto, Lynn, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gifford, White River Junction, Vt., Mr. and Mrs. Dean George, Lebanon, N.H., Mrs. Dexter Corwall, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Talcott, all of Sheldon, Vt., and many other relatives and friends from the surrounding communities.

Richmond, Sept. 4. — The sad news reached here of the passing of Mrs. Ruth M. Bell, wife of the late Mr. B. C. Bell, of Montreal, and a daughter of the late Mr. C. A. Miller and of Mrs. Miller, of Richmond, at the hospital at Kingston, Ont., after a brief illness, on August 18.

The deceased had made her home with her sister, Mrs. Harvey Carmichael, at Prescott, Ont., for some time.

Mrs. Bell was born at Windsor Mills, Que., coming with her parents at an early age to reside in Richmond.

The funeral service was held at the Locke Funeral Home in Prescott, Ont., and was conducted by Canon Ralph Carmichael, of Wilmington, Conn., a nephew of the deceased, assisted by Rev. E. W Coates, of Prescott, formerly of Richmond.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. H. Carmichael, of Prescott, Ont., and Mrs. Clara Laird, of Montreal; two brothers, Mr. William Miller and Mr. Raymond Miller, of Montreal; a sister-in-law, Mrs. William Miller, of Montreal, and other relatives.

NOW, TIDE WASHES CLOTHES WHITER THAN YOU CAN BLEACH THEM!

Yes, TIDE washes clothes even WHITER than soaking in bleach overnight!

New TIDE miracle! No more need to bleach —except for stubborn stains!

YES! New laboratory tests prove Tide actually washes clothes whiter than you can bleach them! Just put your wash in Tide's so-safe suds . . . and the white things will come out whiter than if you'd soaked them hours in strongest bleach! It's washday's big news! No bleach on earth can match Tide's amazing whitening action!

SO SAFE TO USE! Tide is really safe for everything that's washable . . . the most delicate fabrics, the daintiest colors. Colors love Tide's gentle suds. Why, after just one wash, Tide actually brightens soap-dulled colors!

CLEANER CLOTHES, TOO! And, of course, Tide gets clothes cleaner than any soap of any kind! Even the dirtiest overalls and work shirts come cleaner! Canadian women have proved it themselves. No soap known will get out so much grimy dirt, yet leave clothes so free of dulling film. Get Tide today. Remember, no other washday product—bleach, soap or "detergent"—can guarantee you all these Tide miracles!

SO MILD FOR HANDS! SO THRIFTY, TOO!

Tide has a wonderful new mildness—so kind, so gentle to your hands. In fact, Tide is the mildest of all the leading "detergents"!

SAVES MONEY! Yes! Tide saves you money on bleaches . . . and clothes, too! With Tide's gentle, no-bleach suds, clothes last longer . . . because there's no chance for too much bleach or too harsh a bleach to weaken fabrics. And such a little Tide makes such oceans of rich, long-lasting suds . . . goes so far in hardest water, it's a miracle of economy.

NO OTHER WASHDAY PRODUCT—bleach, soap or "detergent"—CAN GUARANTEE ALL THIS:
WASHES CLOTHES WHITER THAN YOU CAN BLEACH THEM!
GETS CLOTHES CLEANER THAN ANY OTHER WASHING PRODUCT SOLD IN ALL CANADA!
AND TIDE IS MILDER FOR HANDS THAN ANY OTHER LEADING "DETERGENT"!

Barbara Brent's BUYS AND WHYS
A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL, September 4th — Getting ready for happy indoor living this winter? Here's my suggestion:— Ask to see the colourful new DOMOLITE designs at your favourite department or variety store. Domolite is that famous vinylite plastic fabric that's so easy to sew. You can make dressing-table covers, kitchen and bathroom curtains and drapes that need no hemming — for Domolite won't fray. And it cleans like a dream — just wipe with a damp cloth — no ironing. It wears and wears — repels moisture, oil and dirt. Inexpensive, too! Ask for Domolite (made by Dominion Oilcloth and Linoleum Company). And write to me — Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q. — for free, illustrated literature on what you can make with Domolite.

I Think Grape Jelly is one of the best-tasting jellies there is. So do the family! But you know, it's only the home-made kind made with those glorious, rich-purple grapes and CERTO FRUIT PECTIN, that they really beg for! Of course, made with Certo, jams and jellies always turn out perfectly ... yes, every time if you follow the recipes exactly. Beautifully set — full of the true fruit flavor ... a richer flavor, because unlike the old-days, with Certo you can "jell" fully-ripe fruits. And, I find I get up to 50% more jam or jelly from the same amount of fruit ... while saving myself 2/3 of the time of the former long-boil method. All I do is follow the simple recipes in the booklet, under the label of each bottle of Certo.

He'll Like Your Salads! Whether they're tossed and tasty (wonderful with a succulent steak!) ... or whether they're a tantalizing concoction of fruit and nuts — he'll like your salads when you make them twice as tempting with WINDSOR SALT. So often it's Windsor Salt that makes all the difference between "dull" and "delicious". I use it both in the kitchen and at the table to brighten the flavour of most of my favourite foods. Windsor Salt is always free-running. It's the most popular salt in Canada — the choice of most good cooks. Yes, it makes "good cooking sense" to keep a good supply of Windsor Salt always handy.

Takes Just A Jiffy for your youngsters to dress themselves when they can zz-ipp! into their clothes. Yes, there are dozens of reasons why zippers are the thing for your youngsters' clothes — and why LIGHTNING SLIDE FASTENERS are the zippers to use. Canada's original fastener that always works is the only zipper with the automatic lock that locks where it stops. Yet it un-zips with ease when you want it to. Yes, Lightning Slide Fasteners make quick work of dressing and undressing and they stay secure — work or play. Want to know more about them? Here's a GIFT FOR YOU ... just write to me — Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q. — for your free copy of the helpful set of leaflets—"What to Know About Slide Fasteners", with new and easy sewing instructions.

Another Beautiful Woodbury Bride, Marianne Delacorte, was married recently. Her gown of ecru silk taffeta brought out the beauty of her radiant, soft complexion ... kept lovely by years of care with WOODBURY FACIAL SOAP. You see, the mild, creamy lather of Woodbury Facial Soap leaves skin radiantly smooth, younger-looking. While some soaps tend to dry sensitive skin, Woodbury Facial Soap actually softens it. That's because to every cake of Woodbury Soap, skin scientists add a beauty-cream ingredient — the same softening oil used in fine face creams. Try Woodbury Soap for bride-beautiful skin! And try the Woodbury big Beauty Bath Size — for all-over loveliness.

Nobody Likes To Be Called "Old Grumpy". So when a sluggish, headachy feeling has you acting like a "grump", better do something about it. Quickest way I know to trade in those "Blues" for lots of sunshine is to drink a glass of SAL HEPATICA. Yes, a sparkling glass of Sal Hepatica effervescent salts taken before breakfast will work quickly, yet gently, to relieve that uncomfortable feeling in your stomach. Sal Hepatica laxative salts are a trusted family laxative in our house. They work wonders to sweeten sour stomach — as a mild laxative — or as a more thorough remedy for constipation. Yes, there's always a supply of Sal Hepatica in my medicine cabinet. For what's more important than feeling good about being alive?

It's The Thriftiest Buy Of All at pickling time. That's the big gallon jug of HEINZ WHITE VINEGAR. It saves you more than 2½c a cupful as compared with smaller containers. And it makes the best pickles you've ever tasted. Small wonder! — for Heinz White Vinegar is distilled and aged by the firm who made pickles famous. It's full-bodied in flavour — uniform in strength ... it preserves the crisp texture and colour of your pickles to perfection. Something else to help you with your pickling is Heinz FREE RECIPE BOOKLET — "Pickling Success". You should have it! So if the gallon jug you buy doesn't have it attached — just write to me for it — Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.

Are You Planning A Fall Wedding? I'm sure you're busier than you've ever been in your life — but when all the excitement has died down, here's something I'd like you to remember. Something every bride should know about is that truly satisfactory method of feminine hygiene ... ZONITORS. Zonitors are greaseless, stainless, snow-white vaginal suppositories — dainty and convenient to use — powerfully germicidal, yet absolutely safe to delicate tissues. Ask your druggist for Zonitors ... and for some important facts about feminine hygiene, write to me — Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q. A free booklet will be sent to you in a plain wrapper.

LETTER FROM BRITAIN

Public Opinion

By HUGH MASSINGHAM
who is on the editorial staff of the "Observer" (London); formerly was a writer on the "Manchester Guardian."

I find it difficult to give the latest public opinion poll on the attitude of the electorate any serious political meaning. Briefly, the returns showed that if there were an immediate general election, and if voting were in fact according to the preferences stated in the poll, only 40½ per cent of the people in Britain would vote Conservative while 49 per cent would support Labor. Nobody would suggest that these figures make very pleasant reading for the Government, especially as Labor's lead has gone up by three points since the previous month. All the same they do not prove, as some Socialists have been saying, that the Government would be defeated if Ministers were to go to the country. Before the last election in October 1951, the Conservatives had a lead of 12½ points in August and even in September they were still 10½ points ahead. Labor's present lead of 8½ points is therefore by no means decisive.

My own feeling, too, is that the Government's position may improve during the rest of the year. For one thing the morale of the rank-and-file in the House seems to me to have greatly improved during the last week or so. When this Parliament first met the Government's supporters were naturally flushed with victory and talked as if a new heaven and earth would be ushered in almost overnight. Few of them realized that a Government with a small majority cannot get its legislation through Parliament so easily as a Government with a large majority. When month after month passed and Ministers had not redeemed all their election pledges, it was perhaps inevitable that there shoud be some criticism This mood now seems to be passing. The rank-and-file are beginning to understand what the difficulties are and for this reason seem much more prepared to be patient. Besides, it is never much use attacking one's own side. The ammunition should be saved for the enemy.

Is Labor Party Non-Marxist?

While the Conservatives are preparing to renew the battle with greater energy and zest, the Labor Party is trying to work out a new policy. It is not easy, largely because the Movement is by no means certain in which direction it ought to go. Is it a Marxist party, basing itself on the class war and pledged to destroy capitalism? Or is it non-Marxist and non-revolutionary, seeking to humanise and improve society but not tied to any single principle, such as nationalisation?

This debate has been going on for the last six months, and the latest contribution has come from a new group which has just issued a pamphlet called "Socialism: a new Statement on Principles." The document has caused a good deal of excitement because it has already had a cautious blessing from Mr. Attlee and Mr. Morgan Phillips, the Party's secretary. With such powerful backers the pamphlet may prove to be of some political importance.

What, then, does the document say? Broadly speaking, it entirely repudiates the Marxist thesis and argues that Labor should be progressive but not revolutionary. The old Socialist idea that capitalism would collapse and be destroyed and replaced by a new system called Socialism is tersely dismissed as a "myth." "There are no two distinct and opposing systems," it says, "only an infinite number of gradations. No one defines society in Britain today as 'Socialism', yet it is also not 19th century capitalism." The group has nothing but scorn for the idea of the class war. "To pit class against class," it says, "in the end leads to a naked struggle for power and advantage, destroying the very values which Socialists wish most to uphold." As for nationalisation, the pamphlet objects to the way it is sometimes held to be synonymous with Socialism. It even dares to ask, "Do we want more or less state action in the Social Services?" So much for new ideas.

The Socialists Have New Policy Plan

Meanwhile, the National Executive of the Party has been working on the more immediate problem of a new policy. Six committees have been studying various outstanding topics. One of them—the Foreign Affairs Committee—has already issued its statement and others will come before the annual conference at the end of September. The other five have been working on the nationalised industries; agriculture, food, and rural life; the private enterprise sector of industry; the social services, and the Commonwealth. One or two of these committees have already finished their reports and have sent them along to the Executive. The present idea is that they should either be issued separately or be embodied in a single document.

At the moment it seems unlikely that there will be anything very sensational in these various papers, even though there may be one or two surprises. The Party headquarters has—I think wisely—decided not to get together some hasty manifesto which could only be superficial or platitudinous—and perhaps both. What the Party wants to do is to issue the findings of the committees as soon as possible so that the rank-and-file can study them before the annual conference. The rank-and-file will then be able to air its views and the leaders can go away and think again. After this the committees will continue to meet for another nine months and then a comprehensive and detailed statement will be issued before the annual conference of 1953.

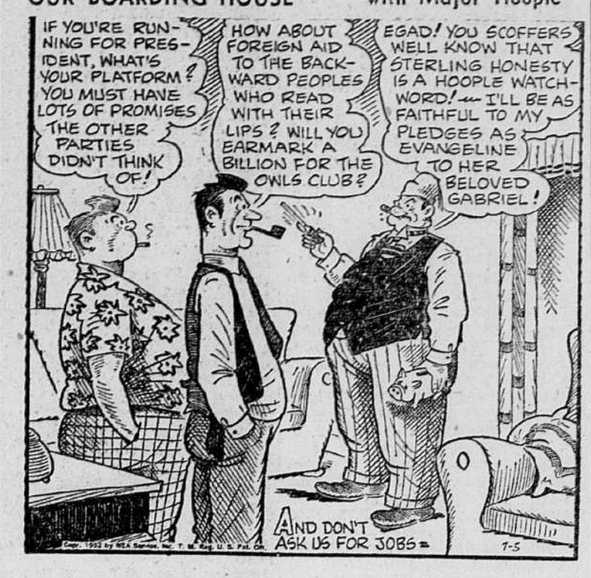

Book Publishers' Celebrations

Two publishing houses have recently been celebrating happy events. The firm of William Heinemann has just opened another wing to its printing works in the country, and my old friend Hamish Hamilton is publishing an anthology of 21 years of publishing in honor of his company's coming of age.

Heinemann's is one of the oldest publishers in Britain, and has been the nursemaid to many famous authors—Galsworthy and Somerset Maugham among them. I never knew William Heinemann himself but everything I have heard about him is to his credit. My first contact with the firm was with his successor, Mr. Charles Evans. Charlie Evans still seems to me one of the great publishers of modern times. It is not only that he was a man of taste and could talk to authors on equal terms. Perhaps his greatest virtue was in spotting talent and then, with the utmost generosity of time and money, bringing it to maturity. He was a lover of good talk, of wine and food—and of bull-fighting. One day, when he was talking about this last passion of his, he suddenly jumped up and gave me an illustration. First, he was the bull and made for me with terrifying snorts and roars. Then, springing away on his toes, he became the matador, all grace and coolness. And so it went on for half an hour until the bull lay dead upon the carpet while Charlie Evans, the matador, looked down on it and admired his handiwork.

Times have changed in publishing as in most things. Hamish Hamilton started his successful firm 21 years ago on a capital of £15,000. If he were planning it today he would need £100,000. No wonder many small firms find it difficult to survive.

SHERBROOKE SENIOR HOCKEY CLUB HOLDS INITIAL MEETING

Committees Named; Plans Discussed; Team Reports Sept. 20; Fans' Support Solicited Regarding Car Drawing

"HELP BUILD YOUR TEAM"

The first meeting of the Sherbrooke Senior Hockey Club was held yesterday afternoon at the New Sherbrooke Hotel with Alex Allard, newly elected president, presiding at the gathering.

The main topic on the agenda was the naming of the different committees for the coming season and at the same time the remainder of the executive was elected. J. R. Manseau was named to the post of secretary-treasurer while E. E. Spafford, J. L. Dupuis, J. A. Laforest, R. Martin and J. L. Gauthier will compose a special board to work in conjunction with the executive.

Mr. Allard, in his opening remarks, thanked the members of the old board for their untiring efforts in giving the city a hockey team during the past five years. He also thanked the directors for naming him to the office of president, and then outlined plans for the coming year and with the cooperation of all members is looking for a good season.

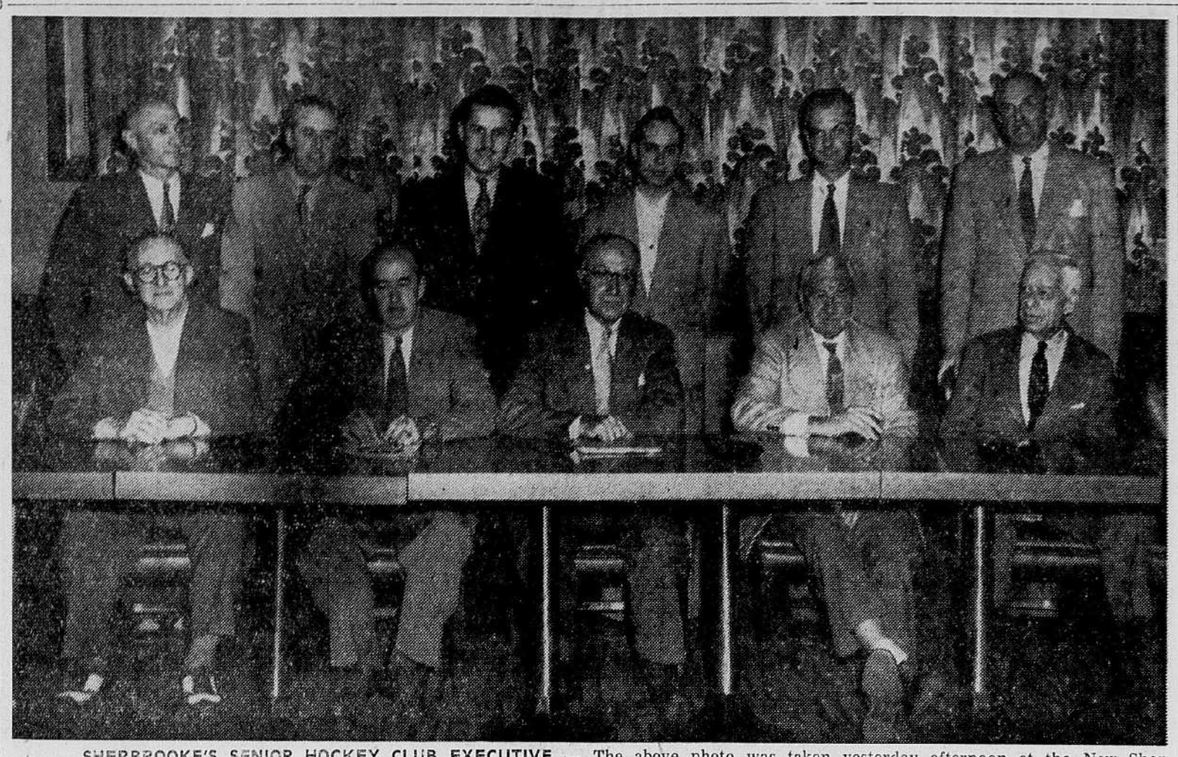

TEAM SLOGAN SELECTED

"Help build your hockey team." This will be the slogan of the team, stated President Allard as he further outlined the program. "We are expecting the fans of the city to help us build up the team as we, members of the executive, are prepared to devote our time and energy to help make the team a real success. This is a community affair and it should be the desire of every citizen to come forward and help in any way possible," Mr. Allard stated. "Just at present we are in the stage of collecting money and also selling tickets on the Pontiac car which will be raffled next month. We understand that it is impossible for 'Joe Fan' to donate but we expect they will get behind the car movement and help put it across. The sale of tickets is a big item and Chairman Art Laforest needs help in order to make it a huge success and with only a few weeks left everyone should get behind the drawing and help to make it a real success."

Guy Crepeau was named legal advisor of the club while Marcel Savard was appointed auditor. It was the wish of all the directors present that the team should be incorporated and this will be carried out in the near future.

Mr. Allard stated that the sum of $8,500 had been collected but it is hoped that by the week-end considerably more will be added. Henri Gingras, vice-president, was named chairman of the Fund Raising Committee with Henry Crochetiere as a member. Jean Louis Dupuis and Cecil Dunn will attend to the ticket situation while S. G. Newton and E. E. Spafford will form a special committee with the president to work in contact with the Arena.

On the player question Forest Keene will help Coach Ivan Dugre line up the players for the coming season. Pilot Dugre was absent but Mr. Keene stated that the team will report September 20 and that six new defensemen will be around with three new forwards. Around the first of the month several players will be added on completion of the pro training camp and it is expected that the local club will secure numerous others. At present only one right winger and a centre man is missing to complete the lineup and it is hoped these will be secured from the pro camps.

Cleveland Fans Fear History Is Going To Repeat; Docile Tigers Now Biting Chunks Out Of Indians

There's a growing fear in the hearts of Cleveland baseball fans today that history is about to repeat.

Last year Cleveland won 17 games and lost only five to Detroit's fifth-place Tigers — but three of those defeats came in late September and knocked the Indians out of pennant contention.

The Tigers are worse off this year. They appear a cinch to finish last for the first time in American League history but when the Indians furnish the opposition the Tigers act ferocious.

The Indians bit the dust again last night, 11-8, blowing a chance to cut New York Yankees' 3½-game lead. The Yanks were stymied 3-0 by the one-hit pitching of Philadelphia's Harry Byrd. In other games, Washington smeared the reeling Boston Red Sox 9-2 and Chicago edged St. Louis 1-0.

Brooklyn kept its eight-game National League edge over the New York Giants, nipping Boston 6-5, while New York nosed out Philadelphia 4-3 in 10 innings. St. Louis brushed by Chicago 6-1 and Cincinnati downed Pittsburgh 1-0.

Don Kolloway, 34-year-old utility infielder, ruined the Indians last night. He whacked a pinch-hit, grand-slam home run off Lou Brissie in the sixth inning to wipe out an 8-6 Cleveland lead. The blow was Kolloway's second pinch-homer of the season.

At Philadelphia, Byrd walked two and fanned four in hanging up his 14th victory for the A's. Irv Noren spoiled his no-hit bid with a bloop double in the second ining. The A's scored all of their runs in the sixth against Vic Raschi on four hits, a wild pitch and error. Raschi entered the game boasting a lifetime 24-2 record over the A's.

The Senators shoved six runs across the plate in the second inning and beat Dizzy Trout and the Red Sox with ease. Randy Gumpert checked his former mates on seven hits.

Lefty Dick Littlefield held Chicago to two hits but one of them was Sam Mele's 13th homer in the seventh inning and it cost him the game.

The Dodgers overcame a 5-0 deficit in beating the Braves for the 14th time without a loss. The Brooks tied the score with five runs in a fourth-inning rally that was climaxed by Gil Hodges' 29th homer and won out in the eighth when Duke Snider squeezed Jackie Robinson home.

Bobby Thomson tripled home pinch-runner Dusty Rhodes from first base in the 10th to beat the Phils.

Veteran Ken Raffensberger recorded his sixth shutout, high for the majors, in out-pitching Pittsburgh's young Ron Necciai. The Reds scored the game's lone run in the sixth on four singles.

Chicago tagged Gerry Staley for 12 hits but the Cardinal righthander coasted to his 16th victory as his mates supplied him with a 6-1 bulge in two innings.

Textile And Shermac Cop Initial Tilts In Industrial Softball Loop Playoffs; Meet Monday At Dufresne

Textile and Shermac took a one game lead in their two-out-of-three series against Domil and Suffield respectively last night at Dufresne Park in the Sherbrooke Industrial Softball League playoffs. Textile defeated Domil 14-5 while Shermac edged Suffield 9-8.

Domil went into a three-run lead in the first three innings in their game with Textile. Rene Pepin, Textile hurler, was generous with free passes, walking four and coupled with two of the four hits, he allowed the Domil team, were responsible for the three runs. Domil went further ahead in their half of the fourth inning getting two more runs to take a 5-0 lead.

Textile got two runs back in their half of the fourth, on two walks and an error, by the Domil rightfielder. Then in a big fifth inning they crossed the plate five times to put them into the lead for the first time in the game. Lamontagne, Domil's hurler, weakened in this inning, and the sixth, as Textile put the issue beyond doubt when they got seven more runs on five hits. This was enough for Lamontagne, who was replaced by Marcoux on the mound. Both teams played heads up ball, but errors by the Domil outfield was a big factor in their defeat.

In the nightcap Suffield jumped into an early lead against Shermac getting seven runs in the first four innings against Shermac's one and at the end of the fifth they held a 8- 3 lead. The roof then blew off as far as Suffield were concerned as Shermac got to pitcher Thomas for three hits in a row to score five runs and tie up the game.

Ronaldi held Suffield scoreless in their half of the seventh, and leading off in the lower half of the seventh, Rolandi won his own game by knocking out a round tripper.

Suffield were unlucky to lose this game, but Shermac showed plenty of fight to come from behind to cop it.

The teams all meet again next Monday evening at Dufresne Park in the second game of the series.

Bill Talbert Says The Only Way To Stop Australia In Davis Cup Is To Set Up Development Program For Kids

Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 4. — (AP) — Bill Talbert, who now qualifies as one of the older and wiser thinkers in tennis, figures the only way to stop the Australians either here or in the Davis Cup is to set up a national development program.

Talbert, awaiting his match yesterday in the National Singles Championship, was leaning against a fence and sympathizing with Vic Seixas, who takes on Australia's young Ken Rosewall today.

"Tough one tomorrow, eh?" Bill asked, and Vic just shook his head.

"We ought to have a national program to develop young players like they have in Australia.

"They ought to get fellows like Gar Mulloy (he was playing on the Stadium court), Ted Schroeder, Jack Kramer and myself who are interested in tennis and who know the game and let them look over a bunch of 20 or so young players and help them. They'd learn a lot playing against the better players, too."

"Take an unknown young player coming in here," Bill continued. "Nobody recognizes him; he has to introduce himself and they tell him 'your locker is down in the cellar.' It must do something to his confidence. But when a fellow like Rosewall or Lewis Hoad comes in with Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor, he gets a big welcome and one of the best lockers. Naturally he feels pretty important right at the start."

Talbert had some evidence to support this theory in the lineup for today's fourth round matches. Four of the five Australian entries still were in there, including the 17-year-olds, Rosewall and Hoad. The only one missing was McGregegor, who had to default in the first round.

A not-so-young newcomer, Sgt. Bernard (Tut) Bartzen of San Angelo, Tex., showed amazing tenacity when he came back after losing the first two sets and beat husky young Jackie Brichant of Belgium. But he'll have to be better and luckier today when he meets Rose.

Art Larsen, the 1950 champ from San Leandro, Calif., tackles Hoad in another of today's features.

Talbert, who eliminated Brendan Macken of Montreal yesterday, also will have his hands full. His assignment? Just Sedgman, Wimbledon titleholder and the defending U. S. champion.

St. Hyacinthe Edges By Quebec 8-6 In 12-Inning Duel To Retain Lead; Granby And Three Rivers Cop Titles

The St. Hyacinthe Athletics held on to their slim first-place lead in the Provincial Baseball League last night, two runs in the 12th inning giving them an 8-6 victory over the second-place Quebec Braves.

The Athletics now have 78 victories and 48 losses against 78 victories and 49 losses for the Braves.

In other league games, cellar-dwelling Granby Phillies shaded third-place St. Johns Canadiens 2-1 and fourth-place Three Rivers Yankees edged fifth-place Drummondville Cubs by a similar 2-1 score.

At St. Hyacinthe, Quebec took an early lead, only to have St. Hyacinthe pull ahead in the eighth. The Braves squeezed out the equalizer in the ninth, but it was the Athletics who broke the tie for victory.

Watychowicz, who went the route for the Athletics, was credited with the win. Shankman, Bazydlo and Lague handled mound chores for the loser.

At St. Johns, the Phillies scored once in the sixth and added another in the eighth for the margin of victory. St. Johns scored their single run in the fifth.

Granby were outhit 7-4. Jim Orr of the Phillies was the winner while John Mullaney, who took over from Cleo Lewright in the fourth for the Canadiens, was the loser.

At Drummondville, single runs in the second and third innings gave Three Rivers their victory. The Cubs got their lone tally in the fifth.

Fred Wingo went the route for the winners and Bill Bryja was tabbed with the loss.

Schedule For Lennoxville Sunday Has Scribe Scratching His Head As To When 3-Header Ever Played

The Lennoxville ball club of the Independent Baseball League apparently believes in having its back to the wall. This Sunday at Scarth Field they will attempt to do the "impossible" by whipping St. Pat's three times– that's right, three times– in order to win the playoffs and league championship.

Playing a triple-header is something of a novelty, if not the first time a team has been forced to play three baseball games in one day.

However, the powers-that-be in the Independent Baseball League are convinced this is the only way to get the season over.

St. Pat's now leads the best-of-five series 2-0 in games and need only one more victory to win the championship. Even postponing the finale a week, as the Lennoxville team wishes, would bring the sudden-death encounter only up September 14th, but the league officials are apparently expecting an early fall of snow.

So, Lennoxville, with the added burden of a two-game deficit, is expected to play a three-game bill at Scarth Field in their home town this coming Sunday.

The series, of course, will last only if Lennoxville keeps winning. If they drop the first one, that's all for the season.

Coming from behind is nothing new for the Lennoxville gang. They had to win a doubleheader last Sunday from Coaticook-Duquette in order to win their semi-final series. Coaticook-Duquette had taken a game lead a week ago and needed only one win to advance into the finals. However, the Lennoxville crew upset their apple-cart neatly with two wins, 20- 10 and 18-4.

They then took on a rested St. Pat's crew the next day, Labor day, but dropped the doubleheader at Dufresne Park 15-14 and 16-8. Lennoxville had only three pitchers available for the four-game series in 24 hours.

Apart from general weariness, the Lennoxville players, never known to squawk before, have charged that poor work on the part of a certain behind-the-plate official in the first game did much to contribute to their downfall against St. Pat's team.

They claim that umpires of the Independent Baseball League should not be associated in any way with other teams entered in the same circuit, although they have no quarrel with the gentleman who was base umpire, in the first game, adding that his decisions were fair to both squads.

In the Monday games, Everett with five for seven, Clark with six out of eight, and Hunting with six for 11, were heavy hitters while pitcher Neil Bennett hit four for seven, including the long home run of the two games.

Bennett and Clark pitched the first game and Clarke and Everett pitched the second. For St. Pat's Cline and Cote went the route in both games.

Heavy hitters for St. Pat's were Leger, four for six, Hamel, four for nine, Cline, five for 10, and Norris, four out of six.

The firing gets underway at Scarth Field, Lennoxville, Sunday at one o'clock. Patrons are requested to bring a picnic lunch since no one knows how long it will take to finish three games.

Bill Juzda Is Waived Out Of N. H. L. After 500 Games In Loop; Ready To Trade Hockey Stick For Throttle

Winnipeg, Sept. 4.— (CP) —With 500 games in the National Hockey League and a taste of red tape under his belt, Bill Juzda is all set to trade in his hockey stick for a locomotive throttle.

Conn Smythe, managing director of Toronto Maple Leafs, announced today the burly Leafs defenceman had been waived out of the National Hockey League.

Waivers on Juzda, a battle-scarred veteran at 31, were passed up by all teams in the six-club league at the $7,500 waiver price. Leafs asked the waivers last spring after Juzda had spent most of the season on the bench. He joined the team in 1948.

Last night, Juzda sat in his car at the Canadian Pacific Railway roundhouse in neighboring St. Boniface to talk for a few minutes before taking over the throttle of a yard engine. His 203 pounds have started to spread round the middle but he looked fit and happy.

The decision of the N.H.L. clubs to waive on him may be the end of a 12-year career in professional hockey.

"I was expecting it in a way when I left Toronto last spring," he said. "I asked then for my release but it was refused."

Juzda said he can understand waivers not being accepted.

"What's the use of a club paying $7,500, plus a player's salary, and then have him quit at the end of a year," he said.

"But I think if they give me my release I'll be all set to play another year."

Juzda isn't too sure of the future but he isn't worried about it.

He said Smythe offered him a coaching job before he left Toronto but nothing was settled. Besides, he likes his present job fine. He's been at it 11 years. Coaching is too insecure.

While playing in the N.H.L., Juzda lost three teeth and picked up about 50 stitches, 23 in one year. He also became known among sports writers as "Bill (The Beast) Juzda."

Juzda, a hard-hitting player, explained the addition to his name was hung on him by Tony Leswick, now with Detroit Red Wings in the N.H.L.

"I was always twisting his arm —not literally either," he said.

Besides the Leafs Juzda, married now and the father of two children, has played with New York Rangers in the N.H.L. and with Philadelphia, Providence, New Haven and Pittsburgh in the American Hockey League.

"Pot Of Gold Night" Draws Police Charge

Ottawa, Sept. 4—(CP)—A charge of conducting a lottery was laid against Ottawa Athletics of the International Baseball League today by city police in connection with the "pot of gold night" draw Aug. 12.

The stunt offered up to $2,000 in nickels to a lucky fan—as much as he or she could carry off the Lansdowne Park ball diamond. Myrna Lumsden, 18, of Ottawa, won the ticket stub draw and managed to cart away a 75-pound load of nickels estimated at $350.

The case was adjourned until tomorrow without plea or election when the manager of the club, Elmer Burkart, was unable to appear.

Buffalo, Sherbrooke To Meet In Pre-Season

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 4. — (AP) —Freddie Hunt, new general manager of the American Hockey League's Buffalo Bisons, said today the club would start training Sept. 15 in the Montreal Forum.

Hunt said pre-season exhibition games already have been arranged with Valleyfield and Shebrooke of the Quebec League.

The Bisons still are without a coach. Hunt said "there are plenty of candidates for the job and it will take some time to decide."

Mario Fricano, Ex-Dodger Farm Hand, Slaps Down Royals; Leafs And Bisons Split In Battle For Playoff Berth

Mario Fricano, Ottawa's ace right-hander, is causing a lot of red faces in the Brooklyn Dodger organization.

Last season, Fricano chalked up a mediocre 10-9 mark with St. Paul in the American Association, a Dodger farm club. Brooklyn scouts came upon the 28-year-old hurler early in the year and sold him to Ottawa. Now, toiling for a seventh-place club, he has compiled a 17-8 record, making him the second-winningest pitcher in the International League.

Fricano turned in a neat six-hitter last night in downing the pennant-winning Montreal Royals, 8-2, after the Athletics had captured the first contest 4-0.

The opener was a scoreless pitching duel between the Royals' Bob Alexander and Joe Coleman of Ottawa, until Coleman pulled a muscle in the seventh inning and was relieved by Bill George. It was George who broke up the shutout by singling in the ninth with the bases loaded to score two. Ottawa then picked up two more runs to complete the court.

Toronto's Maple Leafs divided a twin-bill with Buffalo Bisons, winning the opener 9-8 in 12 innings, and dropping the second game 6-2. Leafs now need any combination of wins or Buffalo defeats adding up to two to clinch a berth in the playoffs.

In the opener, Toronto fought from behind to tied the game 7-7 in the eighth inning and Mike Goliat's lead-off homer in the 12th—his eighth of the season—finally won the game for the Leafs. Frank Carswell, the Bisons slugging outfielder, walloped two homers and a double to knock in five runs.

In the nightcap, a single, Harvey Zernia's triple and Larry Ceisielski's homer in the seventh tallied three runs and sewed up the tilt for Buffalo.

Springfield Cubs and the Baltimore Orioles split a pair of overtime contests, with Springfield winning the first, 4-3, in eight innings, and the Orioles the afterpiece, 5-4, in 10 innings.

Leo Durocher Signs As 1953 Coach Of Giants

New York, Sept. 4. — (AP) — Leo (The Lip) Durocher, miracle manager of 1951, signed a contract today to pilot New York Giants against next year and was still hopeful of pulling another miracle this season.

The dapper little leader declined to disclose the salary, but it was believed to be about $65,000, the same he is reported to be receiving this year following the Giants' pennant triumph in 1951.

"I'm very happy over the contract," he beamed. "Mr. Stoneham (Horace Stoneham, club president) has been very generous.

"He had to cut the vice-president's salary to give me a raise," he quipped.

Turned to the serious side, Leo insisted the Giants still have a chance to overhaul the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers despite the Brooks 'fat eight-game lead.

"I'm not giving up until they can show me in black and white that we have been eliminated," he said. "The boys feel the same way as I do. "We're not out of it yet."

Leo thinks the next five days will tell the story of the pennant race.

"What we need is a few good victories under our belt. Maybe we'll get them now that we open a long home stand."

Ralph Kiner Still Has Hopes To End With 42

Cincinnati, Sept. 4—(AP)—Ralph Kiner's major league home-run crown is tottering today, but the 29-year-old Pittsburgh Pirate outfielder expects to end the season with 42 round-trippers.

"Right now I am kind of handicapped with so few games left," said the husky belter who has tied or won the home-run title the last six seasons.

There are 19 games left to play.

Kiner trails Hammering Hank Sauer, Chicago Cub outfielder, by four. Sauer has blasted 35, Kiner 31.

Kiner met the same situation last season with Gil Hodges of Brooklyn Dodgers. At the mid-season mark, the Pirate slugger trailed Hodge 20-28. He passed the Dodger first baseman in the last two months of the season to win the crown with 42.

In 1949, the season Kiner finished with 54 for his best mark, he belted 16 in September — a good indication he's hot down the stretch.

But the 1952 schedule makes Kiner reach for the aspiring bottle. Five of the remaining Pirate games are at Crosley Field in Cincinnati—a park where Kiner hasn't homered since Sept. 7, 1950.

He came to the Pirates in 1946 and in his first season hit 23 round-trippers. In 1947 he jumped his output to 51 and dropped to 48 in 1948. After hitting 54 in 1949, he fell to 47 in 1950.

Milt Schmidt Signs His 14th With Bruins

Boston, Sept. 4.— (AP) —Milt Schmidt, one of the National Hockey League's all-time great centres, today signed his 14th contract for Boston Bruins.

Now 34, Schmidt, who missed three seasons while serving with the R.C.A.F., told General Manager Art Ross and Coach Lynn Patrick: "I'm looking forward to playing on another Stanley Cup-winning Bruins team before I hang up my skates."

"And this could easily be the team," the native of Kitchener, Ont., continued. "We have some real good kids to play with real good veterans"

Schmidt will pivot for youngsters Real Chevrefils and Leo Labine on one of the Bruins' forward lines during the coming campaign.

"I'll have young legs playing with me," the popular veteran said. "Chevrefils and Labine will dig that puck out for me just like Ted Lindsay and Gordie Howe did for Sid Abel and the Detroit Red Wings. They helped the Wings win the Stanley Cup and a similar combination can do it for the Bruins."

With the retirement of Turk Broda, Toronto Maple Leafs' goalie, Schmdit will be the league's oldest player in point of service.

Montreal Stelcos Even Series With 3-1 Win

Winnipeg, Sept. 4—(AP)—Montreal Stelcos, backed by good defensive play, last night defeated New Westminister Royals 3-1 to tie their best-of-three series for the Canadian Soccer Championship at one game each.

New Westminister took the opener Monday 4-2. Final game will be played tonight.

Gordon Rowlands, Jim McLachlan and John Godley scored for Montreal. Ivan Carr, inside right who scored three goals for New Westminister Monday, booted the Royals' counter.

Stelcos didn't look to sharp at times but made up for it in determination. Royals stars Carr and Gogie Stewart were covered well.

New Westminister couldn't organize any kind of a passing attack. They gave up seven corner kicks compared with two for Montreal.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT

Forest Hills, N.Y., Sept. 4—(AP)—Professional tennis as a big money proposition is as dead as vaudeville at the moment, and it is destined to remain so until either Frank Sedgman or Ken McGregor, or both, decide to cast their lot with Jack Kramer on a world tour.

Jack now is the only promoter left in the field, largely because he is the only player in the pack who would figure to draw big money in a series of matches against the two Australian artists.

Kramer is attending the National Amateur Championships and giving Sedgman and McGregor a big hello each time he sees them, but he has no hope of bagging either player at least until after they have helped defend the Davis Cup at Adelaide next winter.

"I've decided this much," he said. "In this game it's either got to be something big or it's not worth fooling with. . . I want to do it big or not at all, and you know as much as I do about what Frank and Ken intend to do.

As to that, the only thing for sure is that Sedgman backed himself into a very awkward position when he accepted that $12,600 wedding present from Australian fans in return for not signing up with Kramer immediately after the Davis Cup matches at Sydney last December.

If he turns pro now he will be a goner in his own country. The Aussies would never forgive him. A professional athlete, in any case, does not enjoy the standing in Australia that he does in this country, and Sedgman would be doubly damned as an ingrate. Kramer's best bet, probably, is to guarantee Sedgman American citizenship.

McGregor, on the other hand, is free as a bird, and my understanding is that he would love to have a whack at the large, coarse bank notes while the whacking is good.

Always a modest sort of guy, Kramer doesn't say he believes he can whip Sedgman, the world's greatest amateur, but only that he thinks he and Frank could have a mighty interesting series of matches once, he, Big Jake, worked himself back into top form.

EDUCATED TOE—Those fish had better be wary of these rod-and-hook artists aiming at big ones in Brooklyn's Prospect Park Lake. While one uses the conventional approach, the other, Mario Riso, 9, applies his own special technique, with the line attached to an extra-sensitive big toe. The youngsters are participating in a fishing contest held in cooperation with the New York City Park Department. (NEA)

One-Minute News from Johns-Manville

FREEDOM TO GROW

In the August-September News Letter of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, reference was made to business development in this country and U.S.A. which can be condensed as follows:

One of the great incentives which has made of this continent a mecca for men and women of ambition and vitality has been the freedom to start small and to grow big. "Here the venturer may start upon his dream with stars in his eyes — for all the small in this great land have the freedom to grow big. The humblest vendor of today can become tomorrow's merchant prince and his cart a towering castle with wares of all the world."

Physically Canada is a big country but the size of our land mass does not make us a big nation. To achieve our destiny we must grow big, and to do so we must think big. We need big business for this country. We can't transform our trees into paper in a garage work shop. To recover the oil and metals which are locked in the fantastically rich storehouse of Canada's more than three and a half-million square miles and to transform them into automobiles and refrigerators and a thousand and one other consumer commodities requires big plants, big machinery, big planning and big faith.

According to "Canada 1952", our country's recent industrial progress — total production value, employment, wages and salaries — shows a phenomenal rate of growth. Surely the test of experience indicates that the freedom to grow is not only highly desirable but essential, and that our new country which is just starting to flex its industrial muscles needs to guard that freedom.
