World News In Brief

Hull, Que., Aug. 3.—(CP)—A new, two-year wage agreement between Hull bus drivers and the Hull transportation company was signed early today, formally ending a driver's strike which has tied up bus transportation for a week.

Some buses may be back in operation today but officials said it will take until Saturday to get the system back into full operation.

Ottawa, Aug. 3.—(CP)—The State Department announced today that restrictions on the reproduction of royal emblems on souvenirs will be relaxed temporarily for the full visit of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh.

The relaxation, from Sept. 1 to Dec. 1, will apply to "souvenirs of a permanent nature to be sold in Canada."

Under it manufacturers may use reproductions of the royal arms, the crown, the arms of the Princess and the Duke and the standard of the Princess.

Miami, Fla., Aug. 3.—(AP)—A Miami salvage crew diving for treasure off the Florida keys has recovered eight cannon from a British vessel that apparently sank at least 200 years ago.

Lester Cunningham, diver for a Miami salvage company, said the cannon bore a British crown insignia with two Union Jacks superimposed. Also found was the ship's anchor. The vessel itself, which sank in 35 feet of water, had disintegrated through the years. The weapons were encrusted in coral.

Missoula, Mont., Aug. 3.—(AP)—A 700-acre forest fire, the largest and most destructive in this region this year, was reported yesterday by forest service regional headquarters. About 400 men were expected to get the fire under control sometime today. Officials estimated the blaze, started by lightning early Wednesday, already has done $100,000 worth of damage.

London, Aug. 3.—(AP)—The swans in the river Thames, under terms of ancient law, belongs to the King—and lately they looked a mess. A ship had discharged bilge and oil into the river. The swans became sticky and the color of field mice. It was all set right yesterday. Men on boats crowded the swans up against a dock and experts gave them shampoos.

Lenox, Mass., Aug. 3.—(AP)—From now on bare legs will not be permitted at the summer concerts given here by the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Thomas B. Perry, Jr., executive secretary of the Berkshire music festival, said last night ushers will hand out wrap-around skirts to women who show up in shorts.

Tanglewood officials also said they would "prefer" that women not attend the concerts in slacks either.

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Aug. 3.—(AP)—United Nations forces broke a four-day dull on the central front with a seven-mile-wide limited attack south of Kum-sung Thursday.

Gains of more than two miles were made against practically no resistance. Tank and infantry teams pushed on nearly a mile farther after original objectives were won in three hours. These teams ran into heavy mortar and small arm fire.

Rising Cost Of Foodstuffs Pushes Index To New Peak

Ottawa, Aug. 3.—(AP)—The rising cost of staple foodstuffs—mainly meat, eggs and fresh vegetables—is mainly responsible for shooting Canada's cost of living to a new high.

That was the word of the Bureau of Statistics yesterday as it reported a 3.5 rise in its cost-of-living index in June, sending it up to 187.6 from 184.1. The index is based on 1935-39 prices equaling 100, so that the rise since the base period has been 87.6 points.

The food sub-index climbed 9.9 points in June to 249.7 compared with 214.3 points a year ago. There were other small increases in such items as drugs, hospital care, tobacco, newspapers, coal and coke.

Princess Elizabeth, Philip Accept Invitation To Visit Pres. Truman In Washington

Soviet Visit Proposed By U.S. Senator

Washington, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Senator Brien McMahon (Dem. Conn.) has proposed an exchange of visitors between Russia and the United States: A Congressional delegation for the 14 members of the Soviet Politburo.

The Congressman, McMahon told the Senate yesterday, could tell the Russian people "about the peaceful and friendly desires" of the American people.

"I decide for myself whether the American people want peace or war."

McMahon said he would like to see Congress approve resolutions endorsing both of the trips he proposed.

The Connecticut Senator told a reporter today he wants to discuss the matter with some of his colleagues before deciding whether to sponsor such legislation.

"I tossed out an idea," he said. "Let's wait a bit and see what happens."

McMahon indicated, however, that he would be surprised if Stalin and company said "come ahead and we'll be over to see you, too."

His lack of optimism was pointed out by sharp criticism he fired at Soviet leaders for failing to publish in Russia a resolution, already approved by Congress, expressing American friendship for the people of Russia.

"By refusing to publish this expression of friendship by the American Congress, the Soviet government has committed a crime against peace," he declared.

McMahon said one of the resolutions he has in mind would "formally ask the Soviet government for permission for 50 Congress members to visit Russia while we are in recess to tell the Russian people about the peaceful and friendly desires of the American people." He added:

"I'd ask . . . for permission for these members to visit every city and town within a thousand-mile radius of Moscow . . . and let that government refuse such permission if it dared."

A turn-down, McMahon said, would label "the spurious Soviet peace claims meaningless from now on."

Quebec Drowning Takes Four Lives

Tadoussac, Que., Aug. 3.—(AP)—Four persons were drowned Monday when their canoe overturned at Lake Gobeil, 20 miles from this Saguenay district town, it was learned here today.

The victims, all of Loretteville, near Quebec city are: Rene Verret, 50, and his wife; Eugene Verret, 58, brother of Rene, and Jean-Paul Boucher, 29.

The four persons, only occupants of the canoe, were on a fishing excursion at the time. Rene Verret, his wife and brother Eugene had driven to Tadoussac to spend a week's holidays with Boucher and his wife. Boucher operated a store for tourists at Tadoussac during the summer.

First evidence of the tragedy was the discovery of their overturned canoe and the men's hats floating in Lake Gobeil.

The bodies have not been recovered.

Royal Couple Will Spend Two Days At Blair House Near End Of Overseas Tour.

London, Aug. 3.—(Reuters)—Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh have accepted the invitation of President Truman to visit him in Washington from Oct. 24-26. It was announced today.

It is not known whether the Princess and the Duke will also visit any other cities in the United States. They will arrive at Quebec City Sept. 30 for a tour of Canada.

The announcement accepting President Truman's invitation came from Clarence House, the London home of the Princess.

It said: "Their Royal Highnesses the Princess Elizabeth, Duchess of Edinburgh, and the Duke of Edinburgh, have accepted with great pleasure the invitation of the President of the United States to visit him in Washington from Oct. 24 until Oct. 26. Their Royal Highnesses will stay at Blair House as guests of the President."

Blair House is Truman's residence while the White House is under reconstruction.

The 25-year-old heir presumptive to the British throne and her husband will sail from England Sept. 25 on the Canadian Pacific Liner Empress of France.

The last members of the Royal Family to visit the U.S. were the King and Queen. They went there as guests of President Roosevelt in 1939, also after a Canadian tour.

No detailed timetable for the Royal couple's Canadian tour has yet been issued. It is known, however, they intend spending three weeks visiting Canada from coast to coast and including most of the principal cities.

It will be the first trip to the American continent for the Royal pair. Elizabeth's only previous long-distance tour was to South Africa with her parents and her sister, Princess Margaret, in 1947.

Poles Flee Homeland To Sweden

Stockholm, Aug. 3.—(AP)—A bullet-riddled Polish training aircraft carrying four Poles, one of them a woman, landed at the Bulltofta airport, near Malmö, southern Sweden, today.

The Poles made their dramatic escape from communist Poland in a homemade plane less than 24 hours after 12 sailors of the Polish navy staged a mutiny aboard a minesweeper and escaped to this country.

Preliminary reports from Malmö said the takeoff of the four Poles was preceded by a gun fight.

The three men and a woman were whisked away from Bulltofta airport in Swedish police cars.

They were taken to a camp for political refugees. Reports from the airport said the four Poles escaped from an airport near Poznan at 3 A.M. after an exchange of fire with Polish army guards.

Their plane was described as a makeshift affair with a Polish engine, wheels from a German Messerschmitt, several parts of Swiss origin and an American carburetor.

One report said a hatch in the bottom of the plane was blown open during the flight across the Baltic and the passengers were almost thrown into the sea.

On arriving at Malmö they still carried firearms. But they told authorities a sub-machine-gun they had used in the fight at Poznan was dropped into the Baltic.

Allies Want Reds To Guarantee They Will Not Bring In Reinforcements

Baby Airlift Is Operating From Berlin

Berlin, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Commercial planes lifted 90 tons of Berlin export products to west Germany in the last 24 hours in an expanding effort to defeat Russian controls which have curbed overland shipments.

This more than doubled the tonnage of two days ago, and the three participating airlines said they were awaiting the arrival of more freight planes to increase it still further.

Allied transport officials here would not speculate how big the "baby airlift" might grow. Unofficial quarters talked of a goal of 200 tons daily but everybody hoped the Russians soon would back down.

East Berlin's communist press took first notice of the commercial airlift with an editorial in the Berliner Zeitung.

The Zeitung said it was all "a profiteering scheme" which would be unnecessary, if West Berlin firms met Soviet demands to present certificates of origin for their products. The communists claim that such certificates would show that most west Berlin products are manufactured from materials "smuggled out of (Soviet) east Germany."

The west has refused to deliver such certificates and, in an attempt to make the Russians retreat on the issue, has stopped trade between west and east Germany.

That trade stopped last midnight and as yet there was no immediate Russian reaction here.

Truck freight service between Berlin and west Germany—though thinned by the Soviet hold-up of shipping permits which forced resort to air freight—continued this morning.

Rail and barge traffic was idled.

250 Korean Youngsters Invited To Party, 1,000 Turned Up

By eight o'clock 500 were jammed at the gateway. A scant 150 were peeled off and formed up in the courtyard—ranging from tiny barefoot three-year-olds to 15-old boys and girls with little brothers and sisters on their backs.

The waiters had their served in minutes once the first 95 were allowed inside. A big plate of ham, sweet potatoes, buttered peas and a slice of bread like cake. As much iced cocoa and fruit squashes as they could drink. And cake for dessert.

By the time the first sitting was over the crowd at the gate had grown to more than 1,000. The second lot filed in as the first, clutching bags of candies, went out.

Correspondents turned waiter went around cutting up the ham into little pieces for them.

"You can't tell me these kids aren't hungry," commented one as the youngster whose food he was chopping up wolfed it down as quickly as it slivered off his knife.

Flash-bulbs flared as photographers snapped shots of "Korean children going to a party." Broadcasters trotted out their microphones and tape records and said what a wonderful time the kids were having.

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN
U.N. Advance Headquarters, Korea, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Allied delegates at deadlocked Korean truce talks demanded today that the communists guarantee they will bring in no troops, planes or ships during any armistice.

Vice-Admiral C. Turner Joy, chief United Nations delegate, opened the day's session on this point. There was no indication that the Reds gave a direct reply during the session which lasted two hours and 35 minutes.

It was the eighth meeting devoted to trying to agree on a cease-fire line. It ended the same as the rest: no progress.

A communist reply to Joy's demand that the present balance of power be maintained could be expected at Saturday's session, scheduled to start at 11 a.m. (9 p.m. EDT Friday).

Brig-Gen. William P. Nuekols, U.N. spokesman, reported that Joy emphasized ground forces alone do not constitute complete balance of power. Naval and air power must be taken into consideration.

Allied warships shelled targets on both coasts Friday and U.N. planes flew nearly 900 sorties. Only three Red planes were sighted.

Admiral Joy, a U.N. commander, said also "emphasized that the United Nations command would not relinquish its present military defensive position to satisfy political desires to subdivide Korea."

The communists are insisting on a buffer zone along the 38th parallel, old political boundary between North and South Korea. The U.N. demands a cease-fire line along the present front, which follows terrain that can be defended.

Joy closed Friday's session, the communique said, by posing "several searching questions in an effort to establish the general attitude of the communist delegation toward a purely military armistice and the resultant cease-fire."

Red replies were not disclosed. The communique said North Korean Lt-Gen. Nam Il, chief communist delegate, "spoke for nearly two hours attempting to justify his previously-expressed view that the military demarcation line should be fixed along a parallel of latitude rather than following significant terrain features which are militarily important to the security of the United Nations forces."

This was the first time that an allied communique had specified the exact nature of the deadlock: the Red "political desire to subdivide Korea . . . versus a parallel of latitude" versus the U.N. demand for "security of United Nations forces" along the "militarily important" line they hold along the Imjin river in west Korea and across the high hills of central and east Korea.

Red radios at Peiping and Pyongyang have claimed the allies are demanding a cease-fire line far to the north of the actual battle line. This led to speculation here that the communists may be preparing themselves to accept the allied demand, since in their propaganda they could try to make it appear as a "Red victory" or a logical compromise.

However, Nuekols said he could observe no change in the basic Red position during Nam's talks today. He said the North Korea general again insisted the demarcation line should be along the parallel instead of along terrain features.

Hollywood, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Betty Hutton says she and movie producer Norman Krassa are going to be married in January. Betty said she will wed as soon as her divorce from camera manufacturer Ted Brjksin is final. Krassa formerly was married to Ruth Frazee.

The session was adjourned before the end of November while Premier Duplessis and members of his Cabinet attended in Ottawa a federal-provincial conference that led later to a pensions agreement.

The Quebec Houses resumed their sittings after the year-end holidays and the procedure is expected to be the same this year. The pensions legislation will confirm an agreement by which the Quebec government has agreed to share equally with the federal government the cost of $40 monthly pensions to persons aged 65 to 69 inclusively. The pensions will be subject to a means test.

Parliament already has enacted legislation by which the federal government will assume the full cost of $40 monthly pensions without means test for Canadians aged 70 and more.

Premier Duplessis said one of the reasons he has given three months notice of the session opening is to allow sponsors of private bills plenty of time to get them ready.

He said the government has saved the province a lot of money by having its own legislation ready early and it should be the same with private bills.

The Premier warned landlords and tenants against trying to get around the terms of the province's rent laws regulations. He said "abuses" will lead to corrective legislation.

Australia's Hospitality Wins Seaman

Ottawa, Aug. 3.—(AP)—A Canadian sailor who found Australian hospitality so terrific he couldn't resist it is being brought home against his wishes.

The navy said yesterday, in four laudatory pages of the magazine Crowsnest, that Aussie hospitality to the R.C.N. cruiser Ontario during a South Pacific cruise was overwhelming.

The magazine didn't mention the sailor's case but headquarters later confessed just how overwhelming it was for one 20-year-old sailor from British Columbia who deserted and stayed behind and wanted to make Australia his home.

His story was told by other Ontario men and confirmed by headquarters. Authorities asked that his name not be made public.

He is a reservist of part-time able seaman who went aboard the 8,000-ton cruiser just for her cruise to the South Pacific which lasted from Feb. 26th to June 4th.

Some other Ontario men, it is understood, went A.W.L. in Australia for a time but were rounded up before sailing. Others got married during the short weeks at their disposal.

The hospitality, the returned sailors agree with the magazine, was tremendous. People said they had to repay Canada's wartime hospitality to Aussie airmen who trained here.

The B.C. youth, however, was the only one who stayed there. The Ontario discovered his absence after she sailed for home and messaged Australian authorities to ask them to try to round him up.

They picked him up recently in Hobart, Tasmania, one of 10 ports of call for the cruiser. They reported that he asked to be punished and discharged in Australia.

Headquarters in Ottawa reported that they have had to refuse the request. He is being brought home. The penalties, however, are not likely to be severe. He is liable to be charged for the cost of transportation home by sea or air and discharged from the reserve navy. Then he will be free to go back to Australia if he wishes.

France Is Still Seeking Premier

Paris, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Former Premier Rene Pleven, a member of the small union of Democratic and Socialist resistance party, today accepted an invitation to try to form a new French cabinet.

Pleven was called by President Vincent Auriol to the task after Socialist Guy Mollet had declined. Party leaders have been trying for 25 days to form a government to replace that of Henri Queuille. Pleven's party is slightly right of centre.

Mollet was the seventh man since July 10 either to refuse to try to form a Cabinet or fail to get Parliamentary confirmation as Premier.

One of the seven was former Finance Minister Maurice Petsche who tried twice. Early today Petsche was refused confirmation by the National Assembly, failing to get the 314 votes required.

Former Premier Henri Queuille resigned July 10 after four months in office, paving the way for a new Cabinet in the wake of France's June 17 elections.

Quebec House Opens Nov. 7 To Consider Pensions Bill

Quebec, Aug. 3.—(AP)—The Quebec Legislature will start Nov. 7 what probably will be its last session before general elections expected in 1952.

The date of the session was announced yesterday by Premier Duplessis who said its first business will be legislation for pensions for Quebecers, aged 65 to 69.

The Premier added that a law to improve the province's new rent control organization may also come before the two Houses of the provincial Parliament.

Such rent control amendments will depend on the experience of government personnel now deciding rental disagreements between landlord and tenants.

Premier Duplessis did not mention elections at the special press conference at which he gave out news of the session—fourth of the 23rd Legislature.

Recently, he declared publicly there will be no Quebec general election this year, third year of the government's official five-year term. In the past, he has said that administrations that wait the full five years before going before the people are afraid of elections.

The late-autumn start of the session follows a 1950 pattern. Last year the government fixed the start of the session for November to pass legislation for the assistance of the fire-wep towns of Rimouski and Capoto.

The session was adjourned before the end of November while Premier Duplessis and members of his Cabinet attended in Ottawa a federal-provincial conference that led later to a pensions agreement.

JEANNE CRAIN IS EXCITED OVER HER NEW ADULT ROLE

Hollywood—Behind the Screen: "I found out that I wasn't the only person bored with myself. Other people were bored, too." Jeanne Crain being straight from - the - shoulder about the breathless lass in gingham and pigtails that she's been playing on the screen. "It's a new Jeanne with the snipped light brown hair in "People Will Talk" and the short tresses give her the look of a doll who can handle a movie wolf without yelping for mama. "I did seven years of young-thing parts," Jeanne told me. "I was the only actress in Hollywood with a husband and babies who wasn't allowed to be mature on the screen. "What broke my heart was doing "Pinky" and then being sent back into the old groove. "She's a grown-up again in "The Marriage Broker" and anybody with any ideas of putting her into a jazzed-up version of "Pollyanna" is going to run into the Crain wrath. "It's death for an actress to keep copying herself," Jeanne said, looking as wise as Greer Garson, Lana Turner and Ava Gardner. "You slip backwards." Brent TV Bound George Brent joins the TV gold rush with pick and shovel this fall in a series of 39 one-half hour films based on "Raffles"—a character not unknown in flicker alley. Large-screen movies for George, who's been reported retirement minded? "I won't have much time for them with TV," he admitted on the set of "FBI Girl." "And I haven't been too busy about my film career. It's hard to get good material. In pictures today, it's "Print it" if they can see you and hear you. Ten years ago we took longer to make pictures, but it was worth it. The result was beautiful and it paid off at the box-office. "I asked George what he thought of the comeback of Bette Davis, his co-star in "Jezebel" and "Dark Victory." "It's not a question of a comeback for an actress of her caliber. The trouble in Hollywood is that you're prone to specialize in kids with dimples. Just because a person has had bad pictures doesn't mean that they're supposed to hang you out to dry and run you out of town."

It may be tough from now on for blondes who can slip on a black wig, glue fish-skin to their eyes and come out looking like Madame Butterfly. Hollywood's latched onto the real McCoy in Shirley Yamaguchi, a bonafide Nippon belle who co-stars with Don Taylor and Marie Windsor in "East Is East." Shirley was introduced to Hollywood on a visit as the Japanese Betty Grable, but now she says: "Before I mostly make musical pictures. Now I am dramatic actress in Hollywood. Maybe now I go back to Japan as Japanese Bette Davis." When Shirley first hit movie-town, one historian of the movie scene cabled to Japan to find out if Shirley was a genuine Miss Rice Cake, or just a beauty with slant eyes out to pull a hoax on filmdom. "Oh, my," said Shirley. "It makes me very surprised. I am, of course, Japanese. All that embarrass me is people who write that I am number one movie star in Japan. "I don't say I am biggest. I am one of five biggest, like Lana Turner and Betty Grable." The Yamaguchi reaction to being the first Japanese star in Hollywood since Sessue Hayakawa: "Make me very happy." JACOBY ON CANASTA

SOLVING WILD CARD PROBLEMS BY OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service

Questions have been piling up for some time, now, so we'd better clear up a few of them. The new rules about the number of wild cards in a canasta seem to puzzle quite a good many of players. Perhaps my answers will straighten them out. Q—Are you ever allowed to have more than three wild cards in a canasta? A—Never. Three wild cards is the limit. Q—My side had two canastas but no other melds. I was down to one card, and drew a wild card from the stock. Can I add it to one of my canastas and meld out? Each canasta had three wild cards in it already. A—You are not allowed to add the wild card to either canasta— as long as each canasta already contained three wild cards. You must simply keep on playing. Q—Does a player have the right to open a closed canasta of either side to determine the number of wild cards in it and whether they are deuces or jokers? A—You may inspect a canasta only at three times. First, you may open it up at the time it is completed. For example, suppose your partner makes the canasta. You may open it up during the turn on which he completes it, and even during the next player's turn. Once the next player has discarded, it is too late to open up the canasta and inspect it. Second, you may open up a closed canasta if somebody tries to add a wild card to it. The purpose of the inspection is to make sure that it does not already contain the limit of three wild cards. Third, you may open a closed canasta at the end of a hand—to count it up for the score. However, you never open a closed canasta just to see whether the wild cards in it are deuces or jokers. Q—My side needed 120 points for the initial meld. I put down three deuces and two kings. My opponents objected to the nine-card canasta? Was it a legal meld? A—Yes. There is no objection to a nine-card canasta, as long as it contains no more than three wild cards. It's an unusual play, and perhaps not very wise, but it's quite legal. Mr. Jacoby is unable to answer individual questions on Canasta from readers. However, he will include the most frequently asked questions in his column.

The Waterloo Advertiser served a wide area as did the Richmond Guardian, and throughout these weekly papers had their part in the newspaper world. These lines were found in a very old newspaper: I'm going by the upper road For that still holds the sun. I'm climbing through night's pastures Where the starry rivers run. If you should think to seek me In my lonely dark abode You'll find this note above the door: He's on the upper road. We can interpret them as we wish.

OBITUARIES

MRS. CHARLES TENNY, OF WATERLOO Waterloo, Aug. 3. — The death of Mrs. Maude R. Tenny occurred on Saturday, July 21, at her home in Waterloo, following a lengthy illness in her 87th year. The deceased was born in Waterloo, the daughter of Archdeacon David Lindsay and Sophia Adam, where she lived her entire life. She received her education in the local school, and sixty-two years ago married Charles Tenny, who predeceased her three years ago. Three children of this union also predeceased her, Mary, Mrs. G. Mitchell; Kathleen, who died at the age of eight; and Jack, who died in infancy. Mrs. Tenny was a great worker in both the church and in welfare societies. As long as her health permitted, the deceased was a faithful and ardent member of many societies and was a life-long member of St. Luke's Anglican Church. One daughter, Rachel, Mrs. C. G. Hall, and two grandchildren, Tenny Tall and Geraldine Macintosh; four great-grandchildren, Mary, Martha, James and Joseph Macintosh survive her. The funeral service was held on Tuesday, July 24, at 3:00 p. m., in St. Luke's Anglican Church with Rev. Harry Andrews officiating, assisted by Archdeacon Lidstone, of Granby. Two hymns, "O What Their Joy and Glory Must Be" and "Abide With Me" were sung by the choir and congregation. The bearers for the occasion were Messrs. Keith Allen, Clarence Hanna, Jack Buckland and Howard Hackwell. Interment took place in the Waterloo Cemetery.

Among those from out of town who attended the service were Mr. Gordon Lindsay, of Toronto, Ont.; Archdeacon Lidstone, of Granby; Mrs. J. B. Woodruff, of Orangeville; Mrs. A. J. Buckland, of Lake Lyster; Miss Marion Watson, of Westmount; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Readshaw, of Sherbrooke; and Mrs. John Jenkins and Mrs. Frank Gaboury, of Montreal.

MRS. JOHN G. MCKERGOW, OF WATERLOO Waterloo, Aug. 3. — Mary Taylor, the wife of John Goadby McKergow, passed away at her home in Waterloo, after an illness of four weeks on Monday, July 23. The deceased, the daughter of Mary Fitzgerald and Homer Taylor, was born in Belleville, Ont., and moved to Montreal, while a young girl. On January 10, 1905, she was united in marriage to John McKergow, in Montreal, and on that same day they moved to Waterloo and into the house, which has been their home ever since. Of this union, there were seven children, six of whom are still living. Mrs. McKergow was an ardent church worker during her life time and was president of the Women's Missionary Society of St. Paul's United Church for many years. Her faithfulness to her work was apparent right up to the time, when failing health prevented further participation. She leaves to mourn her passing her husband, Sidney, the eldest son, of Calgary, Alta.; Alfred, of St. Lambert; Laura, the only daughter, of St. Hubert; Chester, of Toronto, Ont.; Alan and Roger, both of Waterloo; one sister, Cora Taylor, of Montreal; five daughters-in-law; twelve grandchildren and several nephews and nieces. The funeral was held on Thursday afternoon direct from J. W. Draper's Funeral Parlors, with Rev. E. D. Mitchell officiating. Following a short service, the body was removed to Montreal for cremation. The bearers for the occasion were Messrs. J. William Hackwell, Markland and Percy Ledoux, Henry Bird, George Young and Orval Lewis. Among those from out of town who attended the service were Mr. Douglas McKergow, of Calgary, Alta.; Mr. Alfred McKergow, of St. Lambert; Miss Laura McKergow, of St. Hubert; Mr. and Mrs. Chester McKergow, of Toronto, Ont.; Miss Cora Taylor and Mr. Alfred Nicholson, of Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. William Miller, of Granby; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Broadhurst, of Lennoxville. The many floral tributes displayed were evidence of the high esteem in which the deceased was held among her hosts of friends. The Waterloo Concert Band paid fitting tribute to Mrs. McKergow at their weekly band concert on Wednesday night, when they included two of her favourite hymns, "Oh God Our Help in Ages Past" and "Abide With Me." In his short eulogy, Rev. E. D. Mitchell stated that "she did what she could," and that her many acts of kindness and of mercy will be sadly missed by her family, and by her friends.

MRS. M. E. LEAVITT, OF AYER'S CLIFF Ayer's Cliff, Aug. 3. — On May 13, 1951, there passed away at the Sherbrooke Hospital a much respected and deeply mourned member of this community, Helen E. Leavitt, the wife of Mr. Morton E. Leavitt. Although she had not been in robust health for some time, the end came as a great shock to her family and friends. Mrs. Leavitt was born in Freighsburg, on September 19, 1889, a daughter of the late Mr. Thomas Morrison, and his wife Millicent Teal. She started her education in Freighsburg, soon afterwards, she, with her parents moved to Hatley, where she continued her education at the Hatley Model School, later taking a business course at Gleason's Business College, in Sherbrooke. At the conclusion of her course she was employed in the insurance business, first in Freighsburg, then in Sherbrooke. At about this time she moved to East Sherbrooke with her parents. In 1914, she was united in marriage to Mr. Morton E. Leavitt, formerly of the Carr neighborhood, Compton, when they took up residence in Ayer's Cliff, where she and her husband have spent their years together, and during these years she worked with him in the Leavitt-Chadsey General Store. After retirement she was very active in the Red Cross Society, doing such for Over Seas Relief and acting as Red Cross secretary during the years of organization until her death. She was a member of the local Branch of the Women's Institute, and for many years one of the Directors of the Agricultural Society in the Fancy Work Department. She leaves to deeply mourn her loss, her husband; one sister, Mrs. Margaret Whitcomb, of Hatley; two sisters-in-law, the Misses Florence and Julia Leavitt, of New York; one brother-in-law, Mr. Harris Leavitt, and family, of Hamilton, Ont.; two aged aunts, Mrs. William Tilson, of Brigham, and Mrs. James Morrison; and an uncle, Mr. William Morrison, both of British Columbia; besides a host of friends who join with the family in mourning her loss. The funeral took place on the afternoon of May 16, in St. George's Church, Ayer's Cliff, with Rev. M. Brett, of Abbotsford, a former rector officiating. The interment took place in St. James' Cemetery, Hatley. A large number of sorrowing friends filled the church and gathered at the grave to show their respect and love for the deceased, and sympathy for the bereaved ones. Many beautiful floral offerings also bore their silent message of sympathy. The bearers were, Messrs Elwin Chadsey, Arthur Slack, John Hibbard, Charles Whitcomb, Claude Whitcomb and Willis Dustin. Those from a distance who attended the funeral were, the Misses Florence and Julia Leavitt, of New York; Mr. Harris Leavitt and son, of Hamilton, Ont.; Miss Minnie E. Webb, and Mrs. Gertrude Webb, of Sutton; and Rev. M. Brett, of Abbotsford.

Magog Abolishes Sec'y.-Treasurer's Office, Names City Clerk, Treasurer; Stormy Scenes Mark Council Session

By CUTHBERT JONES
 Magog, Aug. 3.—Magog has decided to abolish the post of secretary-treasurer of the municipality and following the example of many larger cities has decided that it requires both a city clerk and a city treasurer. This decision was taken at a somewhat stormy regular session of the City Council held last evening and is obviously a compromise move to eliminate much of the friction which has featured the civic administration in the past few months over the failure of Mayor Ernest Simard and the suspended secretary-treasurer, Roger Boudreau, to agree on the legality of many acts.

Under the revised set-up, Mr. Boudreau, whose suspension by Mayor Simard on July 13 touched off the string of events which are supposed to have ended with last evening's session, will continue to act as City Clerk with the same salary as he was drawing prior to his suspension, while the former assistant secretary-treasurer, Eugene Badaeu, will become the City Treasurer. To simplify routine during the absence of one or other of these officials, the City Clerk is also assistant treasurer and the City Treasurer is also assistant clerk.

The compromise nature of this decision is obvious from the fact that the "honorable amends" the suspended secretary-treasurer was

Massachusetts Girl Scouts Visit City

A mobile unit of Massachusetts Girl Scouts went through Sherbrooke yesterday afternoon and spent the night at the Brompton Lake Camp before leaving for Quebec City.

The girls stopped in Sherbrooke and visited with Miss Geraldine Hebert, president of the local girl guides association. They were met in Sherbrooke by Miss Doris Hatch, a local guide, who accompanied the girls to the local guide camp at Brompton Lake.

The girls, smart appearing in green-line uniforms, are travelling in two cars and trailers. On their way back from Quebec they plan to stay for some time at the Brompton camp.

Fall From Wall Of Burned Building Proves Fatal To Lucien Marchand

Lucien Marchand, 35, of Sherbrooke, died in St. Vincent de Paul Hospital yesterday afternoon as the result of injuries suffered in a fall while working on the former premises of Dawson Auto Parts, Wellington Street South.

Donat Thibodeau, 20, of Sherbrooke, was also injured in the fall but was released from St. Vincent de Paul Hospital after receiving treatment for minor injuries.

The Duranleau and Jalbert ambulance took the men to hospital. Thibodeau said that Marchand was fatally injured in attempting to save him from harm. Thibodeau fell from a fire escape when some bricks gave away and Marchand reached out to catch him, losing his balance and dropping 40 feet to the ground.

Mr. Marchand is the son of Aurele Marchand, local contractor, and is survived by his wife and two children.

A coroner's inquest will be held at the municipal police station today. Dr. Louis Gagnon, coroner for the district of St. Francis, will preside.

Mr. Marchand succumbed to the injuries shortly after being admitted to hospital. The men were repairing the building damaged in a fire last November 20.

Municipal Police investigated.

Sweetsburg Bull Gets Superior Sire Rating

Jersey bull, Brampton J. S. D. Basil 107096 bred by B. H. Bull and Son, Brampton, Ontario, and owned by Wendybrook Farms property of Pierre Veillon, Sweetsburg, Quebec, has been awarded a Superior Sire certificate No. 75 by the Canadian Jersey Cattle Club.

Jersey bulls are rated according to the performance of their daughters in production.

Brampton J. S. D. Basil now has 23 tested daughters that average 7,646 lbs. of milk, 450 lbs. of fat with a test of 5.88%. His 25 classified daughters average 84.30%.

Brampton J. S. D. Basil was born December 20th, 1942 and his sire is Brampton Jersey Standard Design a tested bull in both Canada and the United States. In Canada he has 13 tested daughters that average 8,390 lbs. of milk and 490 lbs. of fat and his 12 classified daughters average 84.20%.

His dam is one of the famous Molly sisters. She has four records—as a two-year-old she made 755 lbs. of fat from 13,753 lbs. of milk in 265 days qualifying for a gold and silver medal certificate. As a three-year-old she again qualified for both gold and silver medal certificates in 305 days with 12,880 lbs. of milk and 704 lbs. of fat. As a five-year-old she produced 15,917 lbs. of milk and 800 lbs. of fat in 365 days, qualifying for another gold medal certificate. At seven years she produced 13,208 lbs. of milk and 682 lbs. of fat in 365 days.

It was her full-sister that sold in the Sale of Stars for $18,500.00 a few years ago and another pair of full-sisters won the progeny-of-dam at the Royal Winter Fair. These famous cows are all sired by Brampton Basileus superior sire, medal of merit, gold and silver medal bull with 22 superior sire sons. Offspring of Brampton J. S. D. Basil have won many prizes in Quebec and the Maritimes.

Hertel O'Bready, Magistrate's Court Clerk, Dies Suddenly At Age Of 49

A well known citizen, Hertel O'Bready, Clerk of the Magistrate's Court and Justice of the Peace, passed away suddenly this morning at his home on Argyle Street. He was in his 50th year.

Last evening he attended the baseball game at the local ball park and on his return home complained that he was not feeling very well. Death came early this morning.

Born in Sherbrooke, the son of the late Moise O'Bready, who was a member of the Legislative Assembly in 1923, and his wife, the late Georgianna Bazen, the deceased was educated at St. Charles Seminary and St. Mary's College, in Montreal.

He chose law as a profession and was admitted to the Bar on January 12, 1926. His appointment as Clerk of the Magistrate's Court and Justice of the Peace, became effective in January, 1937.

A fourth degree member of the Knights of Columbus, he was a director of the first local baseball team to join the provincial league in 1937, was one of the instigators of the Vacation Colony playgrounds at Jacques Cartier Park, played lacrosse for the Nationals and also belonged to the Richelieu Club.

He leaves to mourn his loss his wife, the former Lucienne Lacroix; four children, Jacques, Louise, Francine and Pierre; four sisters, Mrs. Leopold Chevalier (Marianne), Mrs. J. Graham (Juliette), Miss Rolande O'Bready, all of Sherbrooke, and Mrs. Hugh Crochetiere, of Montreal; three brothers-in-law, Leopold Chevalier, Hugh Crochetiere and W. Gagnon; four sisters-in-law, the Miss Berthe, Alexandrine and Marie-Anna Lacroix, and Mrs. Celestine Gagnon, all of Sherbrooke, as well as a number of nephews and nieces.

The remains are resting at Brien's Funeral Parlors on Ball Street and the funeral service will be held at 9 o'clock on Monday morning, in St. Jean de Brebeouf Church.

Loretteville Bingo Closed

Quebec, Aug. 3.—Provincial police yesterday raided a parish bazaar at nearby Loretteville, closed a bingo game and seized prizes valued at $10,000.

The Loretteville bazaar was organized to raise funds to pay off debts on a parish hall. It had been operating two weeks.

Loretteville's mayor Gerard Brousseau, announced that he has protested against the seizure to the Attorney-General's department.

He told newspaper men he felt it was wrong for provincial authorities to close the bingo section of the bazaar when games of chance will operate openly at fairs all over the province later this month.

1st Entries For Ayer's Cliff Fair

Ayer's Cliff, Aug. 3.—First entries for the Ayer's Cliff fair, August 23 to 25, have been received, fair officials announced today.

They came from Douglas Johnston, of Stanstead, in the Ayrshire class and from Clark Jones, of Beebe, in the ponies division.

assistant treasurer. But proceedings were halted on the motion to appoint Boudreau as city clerk and Badaeu as his assistant.

Pro-mayor Ledoux was doubtful if the former secretary-treasurer would agree to the decision and asked that he be called. Mr. Boudreau came forward amid the wild cheers of the crowd. The proposition was explained to him and he shrugged his shoulders in apparent consent.

This touched off loud comment from the crowd and a near-riot resulted when the former mayor, Maurice Theroux, objected vocally to the manner in which the proceedings were being conducted.

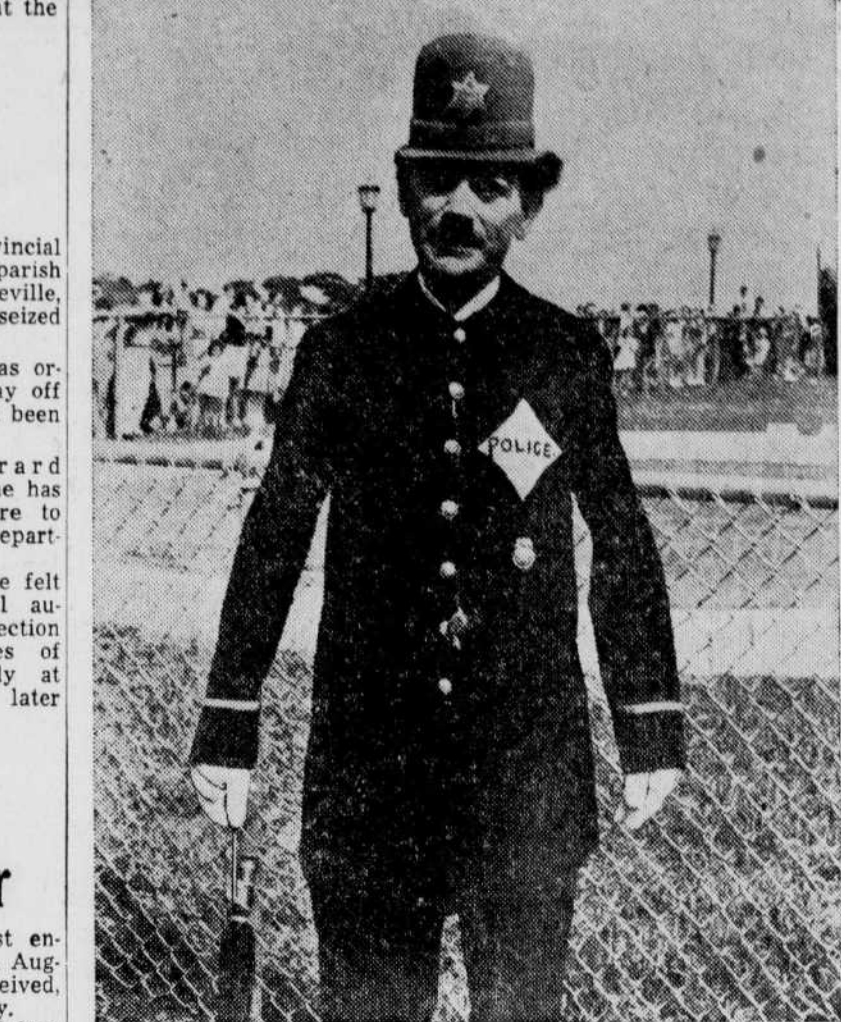

It is moved by Ald. Adelard Lacasse seconded by Ald. Leo Ledoux that the motion of July 24 be rescinded, Ald. Laurent Girard dissenting.

This motion was the one confirming the suspension of the secretary-treasurer until July 30 and after he had made "honorable amends" to the mayor. The "honorable amends" have never been forthcoming. Mr. Boudreau sent a letter of explanation which was rejected by the mayor, but refused to sign a two-line note of apology presented to him. Nothing was said last evening about the pay for the secretary-treasurer from the time he was suspended by Mayor Simard on July 13 for his refusal to sign a cheque for $220 salary for Alphonse Girard, secretary of the Centennial Committee, to his re-engagement as City Clerk. Boudreau had refused to sign the cheque on the grounds the payment was not authorized by the Council. The mayor then charged him with insubordination and suspended him. The rumble from the crowd intensified and there were several loud expressions of sympathy for Mr. Boudreau.

Then the Mayor presented the motion to abolish the post of secretary. He listed Ald. Girard as mover, but the failure to find a formal seconder did not prevent the motion being adopted unanimously.

Similar treatment was given a motion to name Eugene Badaeu treasurer with Roger Boudreau as

Coming To Sherbrooke

Charlie Frank (above) is a versatile clown and as such he is likely to appear in a variety of costumes at the Sherbrooke Fair, August 25 to September 1 to add additional merriment to a fun-crowded event.

A quick change artist Charlie is apt to be a clown cop policing patrons seated and waiting for the show one minute and Charlie Chaplin the next.

His audiences seem to like him best though when he reaches into an imaginary bag of tricks to produce out of thin air eggs, lighted cigarettes, cards and many other objects. Not content to mystify his audience at a distance Charlie will draw eggs from behind spectators' ears, their noses and maybe even their pants pockets.

Charlie is a whirlwind of comical action. He can gauge audience reaction in advance and tell how hard you'll laugh even before he presents his next trick. He never has taken time out to explain how he makes smoke come out of his ears but that may be because he doesn't really know himself.

Lighted cigarettes offer no problem to Charlie. He can produce them from anywhere and he does it with a mere flick of his fingers.

Charlie projects his own likeable personality into each of the clown characters he personifies. Consequently instead of appearing dull and drab they seem real.

Charlie Frank was secured by the management for appearance at the Sherbrooke Fair through George A. Hamid & Son, New York, the nation's outstanding booker of outdoor attractions.

Weather Will Determine Crop Prospects

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 3.—Prairie crop prospects at this period hang in a weather balance with rains needed in the south and warmth the first essential in the north. This is clear from the estimate made from the last week through Canadian Pacific agricultural authorities.

Beneficial rains accompanied the week's heat wave, Manitoba crops in the south improving in many areas. Some points report rains too late to save badly burned grain, the damage up to 50 pc. in some south, west-central and central sections. Average rainfall at 15 representative points was 5.47 inches as compared to the normal of 8.44, chiefly in southern Manitoba. Wheat is headed more generally than last year at the same time, heads averaging an equal length of three inches. Oats and barley are 97-0/0 in head, much above last year's estimate.

Manitoba's flax is poor to favorable and well in bloom. Early harvest has begun and is advancing with the week.

Saskatchewan needs more rain under high temperatures and a limited moisture supply noted now in the south. Crops on stubble show burning and need for rain in south and west-central is urgent. North Saskatchewan prospects are good with average precipitation at 25 representative points close to a normal of 7.40 inches. This pertained at Assiniboia, Shaunavon, Macklin, Elbow, Outlook, Dafoe, Humboldt and Lloydminster. Wheat is headed on a good average of last year, 930/0, oats and barley are filling well except in the extreme south. Most Saskatchewan flax is blooming well.

Alberta reports show high temperatures in the south but generally favorable prospects with moisture conditions good, a higher average precipitation than in 1950. Wheat is heading well and oats and

Lower Island Surprise Party For Mrs. Little

Lower Island, Aug. 3.—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Little entertained 45 friends and relatives at a surprise party in honor of Mr. Little's mother on her 83rd birthday.

The guest of honor had been invited to her sister's, Mrs. William Christie, for supper and upon returning home found several guests had already gathered. After the gifts had been opened and admired, card games and crokinole were enjoyed. The prize winners were: Cards, ladies' 1st, Mrs. Allan Little; ladies' consolation, Mrs. E. Johnson, men's 1st, Mr. C. D. Ward; men's consolation, Mr. Douglas Ward. In crokinole; ladies' first, Mrs. F. MacIntosh; ladies' consolation, Mrs. James P. Wright; men's first, Mr. C. H. George; men's consolation, Mr. Wesley Robinson.

Refreshments were served by the hostess who was assisted by several of the ladies.

Q.W.I. Offers Art Course

An art course is being added to the services offered by the Quebec Women's Institutes. This will be carried on by Miss E. Elizabeth Campbell of the Q.W.I. staff, who has much ability and is well qualified to give instruction in this skill.

Requested by the members themselves, this extension to the Q.W.I. programme was approved by the Provincial Board at the recent annual meeting and already several classes have been arranged for the fall at various centres of this province.

"Painting for Pleasure," as the course has been termed by Miss Campbell, is elementary and practical and will last for five days, or a total of 20 hours to be divided into two three-hour or one four-hour session each day.

Speaking of her plans for this course, which is a new venture for the Q.W.I., Miss Campbell stresses the fact that it is only for people who are interested in painting, whether they have tried it previously or not. "More than any other course offered through the Q.W.I.," she states, "its success is almost entirely dependent upon the interest and enthusiasm of its members."

BRITISH POLITICS

News dispatches from Great Britain report a rift in the Conservative party, with the anti-Socialist British Recorder taking a poll of the Opposition Members of Parliament as to whether they want to go into the next general election under the leadership of Winston Churchill or have some younger leader. The fact is admitted that the penalties of old age, deafness for example, have come upon the Conservative leader. Furthermore he is aloof from the rank and file and it is said that he knows the names of only a handful of his supporters. But there are also troubles within the Labor ranks, Aneurin Bevan being writ large in this respect. It is agreed that the next general election will come in October, and it is generally agreed that the government will be defeated.

A judicial and impartial observer of The New York Times writes from London that between now and October, when the big labor conference is scheduled, Mr. Bevan will have to walk a tight rope indeed. He must avoid being adopted by the Communists, and he must avoid expulsion or resignation from the Labor party for there is no other place for him to go. Much as he is idolized by the rank and file of local Labor parties he cannot win without gaining support of the trades unions. In many of them he has strong support but he has yet to capture any of the big unions and they cast their votes under something like the units rule at conferences.

Thirty-five per cent of the Parliamentary Labor party is made up of trade union members. They are a hard-headed lot, more interested in maintaining the Labor party in power than in any Socialist doctrine. Together with the government they form an almost invincible alliance against which Bevan may well break his lance. But his plans go beyond the annual party conference. As he reads the political signs, the Labor party is in for a defeat in the next election. It is his hope that after that the party will adopt his thesis as its platform and him as its leader. After a brief period of Tory rule he thinks the country would swing back to Labor again. Astute political leaders predict that within five years Bevan will be Prime Minister or the forgotten man of the Labor party.

YOU CAN'T WIN

The problems of the citizen who wishes to receive his mail in the suburban areas are reviewed by The Printed Word, a monthly publication produced by a Montreal-Toronto firm of public relations consultants. The tale, as recounted by The Printed Word, is as follows:

A taxpayer who had received no mail in the ten days since he moved into a new dwelling in a new housing project went to present his troubles through the small wicket at the District Post Office. Postmen couldn't deliver mail while there was no mail slot in the door, he was told. This seemed reasonable, so the man had a slot dug in his front door and reported back to the DPO. He was then told that a door slot, or even two door slots, wouldn't do when two dwellings were sharing a common front door.

Purchase of two mail boxes was the next step. This was described in detail through Small Wicket, but, also, was not sufficient. Wrong type of locks on mail boxes. So the right type of locks, two per mail box, were installed, taxpayer returned to announce triumphantly. Yes, everything seemed in order, said Small Wicket, somewhat reluctantly, and there was no reason the taxpayer couldn't have mail delivered—as soon as sidewalks were on his street.

THE COST OF WASTE

It may be difficult to believe that the loss to the people of the United States in one year from rust, rot, mold and bugs runs to $12,000,000,000 but that is the estimate.

Rust alone is said to cause an annual loss of about one-half that amount. Moth damage is reported to cause yearly losses of $100,000,000.

So serious is this destruction that the National Research Council has set up a deterioration-prevention centre in Washington with the aim of bringing all relevant research throughout the world on the problem.

While the service is primarily for government agencies, the findings, with few exceptions, will be turned over to industries and individuals.

The necessity of dealing with the deterioration problem arose during World War II when military equipment had to face practically every type of climate. It was found that equipment with a predictable life of months or years in temperate climates became inoperable in weeks in the tropics.

It is easy to see that another global war would accentuate the problem since, as in World War II, there would be further depletion of raw materials.

But even in peacetime the avoidance of deterioration is important. The problem of needless waste should be attacked in every realm.

PRESS COMMENTS

A ONE-WAY STREET LEADING SOUTH

(By Wayne W. Parish, Editor American Aviation) The Canadians are now beefing that the U.S. is not living up to the high-sounding words of the Canadian-U.S. pact of economic co-operation by which production facilities and skills of the two countries should be freely exchanged in the interest of hemisphere defence.

A look at the record would indicate that they have every reason to beef. So far the "economic co-operation" pact has been a one-way street leading south.

Canada agreed to standardize on aircraft, training, ordnance, planning — everything, right down the line. This was a sensible move. When it comes to defense the two countries have everything in common. Not to standardize would have been foolhardy. But Canada is buying about $900 million worth of war material including airplanes, engines, and parts, from the U.S. over a period of three years. At the moment the total orders placed by the U.S. in Canada are about one-fifteenth of that. All the orders we've placed north of the border consist of one order for guns, one order for about 500 de Havilland single-engine Beavers, and a share of the Beech T-36 trainer contract which will involve a few hundred airplanes plus some designing and subcontracting. This is the total extent of reciprocity.

It isn't a matter of sentiment. Canada needs dollars. She's getting short. She can't continue to buy far more than we buy from her without running into exchange trouble.

She can't cut down on her military purchases because she agreed to standardize on all war equipment. So now when she needs a particular type of airplane, and lacking something of her own, she has to buy in the U.S.—and the plane must be completely standard.

Thus when Canadair began to build the North American F-86 Sabre for the Royal Canadian Air Force, Canada didn't benefit her dollar situation one iota. Engines and parts and accessories have to be bought in the U.S. If Canada were building the F-86 for the U.S.A.F., then her dollar situation would be vastly improved. Building a U.S.-designed airplane is only beneficial dollar-wise when the airplane is being built for the U.S.

Canadair, Ltd., entered its own design in the advanced trainer competition at Wright-Patterson Field recently. It came within an ace of winning. Had the prime contract been given to Canada, the 15 to 1 ratio of reciprocity would have been eased materially.

We certainly are not advocating that the U.S. aviation industry be sacrificed or diluted in order to maintain a trade balance with Canada, but high defense officials will have to find some means of spreading the production work now that it has been agreed that we are to spread the work of defending the hemisphere. If not airplanes, then other defense work. There is plenty to do and Canada's facilities are reasonably diversified.

Standardization and reciprocity must be more than mere words. A one-way street on procurement simply won't work economically.

AN OPPORTUNISTIC EXPEDIENT

(Toronto Telegram)

Parliament should take a firm stand against attempts by Finance Minister Abbott to cover up his erroneous budget estimating by charging the cost of universal pensions at 70 to the treasury surplus which seems likely to pass the half billion dollar mark by the end of the fiscal year. At the close of the first quarter the surplus had reached $336,445,157 — eleven times greater than Mr. Abbott's estimate for the full twelve-month period which he gave to the House of Commons in April.

There can be no question that Welfare Minister Martin is correct in holding that the money to finance pensions for everyone at 70 should be raised by a direct social security tax on a contributory basis and that the money should be paid into a fund separate from the Dominion's consolidated revenue fund which receives the tax revenues. If as our Ottawa correspondent reports in another column on this page, Mr. Abbott takes the view that his colleague, Paul Martin, shouldn't care particularly how the money for pensions is raised, it lends support to our fears that the present Finance Minister is more concerned with political considerations of the moment than with the adoption of sound financial procedures that will be suitable in the long future. To grab the big surplus this year to pay next year's old age pensions might be a politically popular move but it would also be an opportunistic expedient.

The joint parliamentary committee of last year which reported on a social security program recommended that the money for universal old age pensions be raised on the contributory principle and gave as its reason "the importance of establishing a close association in the mind of the individual between his contribution to the cost and the ultimate benefit he is to receive." This is a sound principle, but it will not be recognized if the pensions payments are made from the Government's general pot. Loading all schemes of a social character into general budget simply has the result of providing Finance Ministers with excuses for not applying economy in departmental business and reducing taxes.

WE KNOW NOT WHO WON, BUT WE KNOW WHO LOST

Glimpses Into The Past

By BERTHA WESTON PRICE

OLD NEWSPAPERS COME TO LIGHT

One morning the incoming mail brought a roll of old newspapers, which, when unfolded reminded me of that old phrase, "the sea and yellow leaf," with their deep-toned pages and dim printing. But it was with a feeling of reverence that the large sheets were turned carefully. We are faint to forget the men who gave us the first newspapers, weekly, then daily, starting out with poor tools, and slowly but surely bringing them to a state of excellency that is a tribute to their endeavour and persistency.

We all know that the British Colonist, published at Stanstead, was the first newspaper in the Eastern Townships. Then followed weekly papers in various sections of the newly settled country and many of them have been merged into the larger weeklies and dailies.

The oldest paper found in the bundle sent me was a copy of the Canadian Independent, and Home Journal, of date December 31st, 1875, making it 76 years old to date. It seemed strange that I had never seen, nor heard of it before. It was published at Cookshire, Editor—Proprietor A. N. Donahue, who tells his readers it is devoted to the agricultural, industrial, political and commercial interests of Canada. Apparently it was a new venture for we read that this weekly paper "will be published on Wednesday of each week."

The sheets are large, but the heading modestly small; no scare heads, no war news, and few pictures leaves it rather dull and unappealing, but the reader finds that those old-timers called "poets" could fill a column with what may be called jargon, rather than verse. This paper has an entire front page story, and the second page has a few press comments, an article on "How to pay the Doctor" which might well be copied here, but is too long. A news item tells of a Temperance lecture given by a Mr. Gales; also of Prof. Nicholls, the well-known Phrenologist who used to go about the country examining heads, especially those of children to learn if they were worth bringing up. During his discourse the Professor asked some one from the audience to come to the platform so he could demonstrate. A prominent Sherbrooke lawyer went forward and was kindly told that he had violated one of the organic laws, the result being that his cranium had been robbed of its natural covering. The lawyer turned away, took his hat and left the audience.

On the third page there were a few births, marriages, etc. One which read nicely was: "In St. Paul's Church, Robinson (now Bury) by the Rev. Chas. Thorpe, B.D., assisted by Rev. Jas. Boydell, B.A., incumbent at Kingsley, Frederick William Terrill, Advocate, to Alexandrina Ann Melver, only daughter of Lewis Melver, Esq., Robinson." All those names are familiar ones. (No date of the marriage given.)

The Stanstead Journal of which John Holland was Editor and proprietor, served a wide area and still does the same under the capable management of Editor Lloyd Bliss. The Compton County Chronicle, published in Cookshire for several years, was an "old reliable" in the hands of Editor Channell who in 1897 left for broader fields and established the Daily Record, the Eastern Townships first Daily. La Tribune was a runner-up and provides the French population with daily reading.

A copy of the Chronicle in the bundle received, of date 1891, has a few oddities that make a strong contrast with our present day publications. No large headings; no scare heads; no war news (all quiet on the Western front just then) but there was poetry—lots of it. One poetic effort had 114 lines, almost the entire length of the page. The writer was trying to advise a young man how to get his wife from so many charming young ladies, and several names were mentioned, making it rather personal. Another long poem on same page, 108-line verses over the signature of Mrs. George Arkley, well known at that time as a writer of verse, also Oscar Dhu who had a real poetic fling. The correspondent for Milby "takes pleasure in explaining that the word 'idiot' does not appear in the bible. 'It is the Esquimaux (note spelling) word for a snow house.'"

Many local writers of those days preferred a pen-name, some probably felt safer that way. There was "The Spirit of the Peak" who in ordinary life was Fairman Hall and there is evidently a reference to him in the following remark from the Milby correspondent: "The Marbleton correspondent who signs himself 'Habitué' in the Gazette has blossomed out as a reader of dreams and the 'Spirit' may think himself lucky to have for his interpreter one so eminently suited for this high calling. Those who are troubled by nightly visions that they cannot interpret should visit the presiding divinity of the Hall, down in the little village of Marbleton." (Apparently a bit of sarcasm.)

Some one was asking if old E. T. newspapers could be located. The Sherbrooke publications are, I believe, to be found at St. Charles Seminary, and of course there are old papers treasured in many E. T. families, but try to locate them!

In the Compton County Chronicle we find some advertisements that show the change in prices. A Sherbrooke store opening up its spring goods gives the following: 200 pieces flannelette will be sold at 4 1/2 cts a yard; 95 pieces grey cotton at 4 1/2 cts a yard; 95 pieces of wool henrietta at 20 cts per yard. And some reminders of early days are the Pick-me-up powders for horses with a picture of a gay rack o'bones; the benign features of Lydia Pinkham on the bottom of her vegetable compound, on

EXPERTS CAN MAKE SOME MISTAKES

In the wee hours of the morning, when all the tournament players are asleep and dreaming of grand slams, the cleaning staff gets busy on the floor of the tournament room. I wonder whether they find all the tricks that were dropped there during the day. It's a cinch that lots of tricks get dropped even by the experts.

For example there was the famous grand slam played in the national tournament of 1948 by Mrs. Margaret Wagar of Atlanta. Mrs. Wagar's jump to four spades on the South hand usually shows a far stronger hand. Her partner, John R. Crawford, of Philadelphia, thought that she had the usual strong hand and decided that there would be tricks to burn at a grand slam contract. There weren't.

West opened a low trump, and Mrs. Wagar won her own hand. With seven diamonds out, there was no way for the suit to provide more than three diamonds. That would be enough to take care of one club and two hearts—but declarer would still have a losing heart.

All this went through Mrs. Wagar's mind in about one second. It wasn't a true finesse, of course. If West had covered with the king of hearts South would have been right back where she started. But West had to decide on a course of action in a split second. He played low, hoping that declarer would not stake the grand slam on a finesse at the second trick.

West's play dropped a very heavy trick on the floor, since the grand slam depended on it. The queen of hearts held the trick, and now there were several different ways to make 13 tricks.

CARD SENSE
Q—The bidding has been: South West North East
1 Spade Pass 3 N.T. Pass

You, South, hold: Spades A-Q-J-7-3-2, Hearts A-10-5, Diamond 4, Clubs 9-6-3. What do you do?
A—Bid four spades. This is not a slam try, but merely an indication that you prefer game at spades to game at no-trump. There is greater safety in your strong six-card major suit, especially in view of your singleton.

TODAY'S QUESTION
The bidding has been the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades A-Q-J-10-7-3, Hearts A-10-5, Diamond 4, Clubs K-6-3. What do you do?

The Record Short Story

WHEN GREEK MEETS GREEK

By MARIE DE NERVAUD

Why wasn't she completely, blissfully happy, Mary Lou asked herself in a dazed kind of disbelief at her state of mind. What girl could ask for more than this wonderful thing that had happened to her? She still had a feeling that it was all a dream.

For reassurance, she glanced from the sparkling water of Long Island Sound to Ralph at the wheel beside her. His curly black hair was ruffled by the wind and his eyes glinted blue between dark lashes as he gave her a quick answering look.

"Happy?" he asked.
"Scared," Mary Lou's laugh, which she'd intended to make light and jesting, really did sound scared. "Oh, I'm probably a fool darling, but I still think it was a mistake for me to come down for a whole week-end. Suppose your mother doesn't like me?"

"Give me something that's really supposable," Ralph again let his eyes leave the road to rest a second on Mary Lou's tawny gold hair, such a bewitching contrast to her green linen dress. Her eyes, brown and wide-set, were both adoring and troubled.

"I'll have to stop and kiss you if you look at me that way," Ralph threatened. "No, honestly, honey, Mother's going to love you. We have to realize, being a widow with an only child, it's been a bit of a shock, coming so suddenly. She wasn't prepared. I've just never paid attention to girls. Look, there's the house, with the lawn stretching to the point."

Mary Lou gulped. "It's lovely, only—I didn't realize it would be quite so big—"
"We have one wing closed up," Ralph explained carelessly. "Mother's a wonder the way she runs it with only four servants. Not counting the gardeners, of course."

"Of course," Mary Lou agreed weakly, and was more scared than ever. How had she ever thought her world and Ralph's could meet? Ralph was so natural and matter-of-fact about his wealth that he made her feel small to even mention it.

Heaven knew, she wasn't marrying him for his money! She'd have been ever so much happier if he'd just turned out to be an ordinary young man with a job, which was what she'd supposed he was that day two months ago when he'd breezed into Ned Hawley's office while she was taking dictation.

Ned had introduced them, and after Ralph left, he said, "There goes one of the richest young men in New York."

That should have been her cue to steer clear of him, Mary Lou thought living over her fantastic romance like a drowning man going down for the third time.

When she found Ralph waiting for her outside the office, instead of going to dinner with him, she should have said, "No, thank you," and run away as fast as she could.

But she hadn't. She'd listened to his ravings about love at first sight, and here she was.
"Now look, Mary Lou," Ralph slowed down in the thick scruffy gravel of the drive. "Just remember that one of the things I love about you is that you're so natural and straight-forward and honest and fine. You're like a drink of clear, cold water compared to the fizzy champagne most of the girls are like here."

"Sounds dull," Mary Lou said, but a warm confidence flooded her at Ralph's look.
"Not when a man's thirsty, it isn't," he said. "If you only knew how I've been looking for someone like you, Mary Lou."

Instead of Ralph's mother, an impassive English butler met them and Mary Lou's spirits sank again.
"Madame is on the south terrace," the butler answered Ralph's impatient question, and Ralph swept Mary Lou with him through a huge living room calling, "Mother! Here we are!"

Scottish Pence Sets New World Record For Two Miles To Cop $50,000 Nassau Pace Last Night

Westbury, N. Y., Aug. 3.—(AP)—Scottish Pence set a world record of 4:13 2/5 for two miles in the $50,000 Nassau Pace last night, easily winning over 11 opponents in a race marred by two accidents.

The six-year-old bay son of Scotland-Millie Worthy, driven by Wayne (Curley) Smart, led for all but one lap in the four trips around Roosevelt Raceway's half-mile oval.

Six lengths behind in second place was Dudley Hanover, from the Hayes Fair Acres Stable, Duquoin, Ill. Another three-quarters of a length away in third place came Highland Ellen, owned by Ralph H. Kroening, Milwaukee, Wis.

The horses hardly got away when Thomas B. Scott, driven by Tom Carlock, stumbled and went down. Wayoff, driven by Frank Safford, piled into the downed horse and sulky and rolled over in a heap. The reinsmen and horses, however, were uninjured.

No-Hitter Slips Away From Acker In Ninth

Imagine pitching a no-hitter for eight innings, then losing the game 1-0 in the ninth! That's what happened to Tom Acker of Buffalo Bisons last night. The only consoling part of the defeat is that he had no one to blame but himself.

A double by Bill Gardner, two singles and a walk produced the run that gave the seventh-place Ottawa Giants the triumph, and in the process pulled them out of the International League cellar.

Harry Nicholas scattered five hits for his second triumph against three defeats. Springfield Cubs, after getting out of the basement for one day, hit the bottom again by dropping a 6-2 decision to Syracuse Chiefs.

In the other two contests, the league-leading Montreal Royals crushed Toronto 7-2 and Baltimore Orioles shaded Rochester Red Wings 4-3.

Ross Grimsley had no trouble going the distance for the Royals. Primarily a relief pitcher, he was making his third start of the season. Irv Medinger was charged with the loss.

Medinger was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the sixth inning. Sonny Day, formerly of Winnipeg's Mandak League entry, relieved for the second straight night and gave up three hits in three innings.

Liverpool, England—Gus Foran, Liverpool, awarded decision over Rolly Blyce, Trinidad. (Blyce disqualified for low blow in fourth round).

and the track was cleared before the field came around again. Coming into the stretch the third time after almost 1 1/2 miles, a wheel broke on the sulky of Stormyway, second choice at 6 to 1, and locked with a wheel on the bike of White Mountain Boy.

It was second world record this summer for Scottish Pence, also winner of the rich race last year. The flying sidewheeler set up a 3.06 clocking here for 1 1/2 miles July 25. The old mark for two miles, 4:16 4/5, was made in this same race two years ago by Grat-tan McKillo.

Red O'Brien was fourth, followed by Ferman Hanover, Dale Brewer, Buck and Cobb, Hayes Hanover and Dr. Stanton, driven by W. L. Fraser of Forest, Ont.

Scottish Pence won $22,500. Reinsman Joe O'Brien of New Glasgow, N. S., drove Victory Dusty to third place in the first race, won by Connally.

The Markets In Summary

New York, Aug. 3.—(AP)—The Stock market made a faltering attempt today to continue its advance of the last two sessions but met with little success.

There was a burst of activity at the start featured by the movement of large blocks of stock.

Both steels and motors were mixed but rubbers continued their advance today.

Chemicals were mixed, and other major divisions of the market either moved narrowly or remained quiet.

TORONTO

Toronto, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Prices were mixed at the opening on the stock market today. Utilities, papers, steels and refining oils were ahead in a slightly weaker industrial section.

The Doctor Says

CAREFUL DIET HELPS ELIMINATE FORMATION OF KIDNEY STONES

Several months ago after writing a column on kidney stones in which I remarked that diet was often important in lessening the possibility of the formation of new stones, several people write asking for the details of such a diet. One even said that he had four stones removed and that their composition was calcium phosphate and calcium oxalate.

It is not possible to describe a diet which would be suitable for all persons who have had trouble with kidney stones. The most important reason is that there are several kinds and the chemicals entering into their structure are different and consequently they need different kinds of diet.

But it is also true that people differ from one another in other respects besides the chemical composition of kidney stones: some are fat, some thin, some are young and others are old, some may have diabetes or another condition which would effect the kind of diet they should have.

Kidney stones, of course, are not really "stones" at all. They are chemical compounds which have crystallized out of the urine because the latter no longer carries them in solution. They form in some part of the kidney, usually a sort of open space known as the pelvis.

Also they grow little by little and do not appear suddenly as fully formed masses. This slow growth generally means that symptoms are not produced for years, and indeed it is not unusual to find them unexpectedly in an X-ray film taken for some entirely different reason.

It is usually when the stone starts to move (which it may never do) that real trouble starts. Most of them have sharp, ragged edges, and as they begin to move down the urinary passageways they cut into the delicate tissues producing bleeding and pain that is likely to be terrific.

In fact this pain is often really unbearable and may take several injections of morphine or similar drugs before the victim can do anything but writhe in agony.

Treatment

In a way there are two stages of treatment. The first is the problem of the particular stone which is passing. Often the stone is eliminated by itself but sometimes its passage has to be aided by one or more of the methods which are now available to speed its course. The next step is to find out if

Want to Collect Stamps?

BY VIOLET M. ROBERTS

JOHN hesitated a long time before the red-backed album at the Stamp Exhibition, thinking all the while, "Gee, I'd like to collect stamps if I just knew how to start."

Is that your trouble, too? A well-prepared album may look complicated, but it isn't really. All the information you need to get this hobby underway can be learned in the length of time it takes you to finish reading this piece.

Unless you have advanced to the point where you know what you want to collect, buy a "general packet" of several hundred—1000 if you have the money—stamps from your dealer. If you get more than 5000 you're apt to find the task of sorting and classifying them a bewildering one.

You'll need an album, hinges, and a pair of tongs. Select an album with clear prints of stamps. These will help you in classifying. This is known as a "prepared album" and choose one with stiff covers and a good grade of paper. Stamp hinges are small pieces of transparent paper covered on one side with an adhesive. At first, all stamp hinges are going to look alike to you, and you may be tempted to buy those which sell for the least per package. Reconsider this move, and buy the best grade hinge you can afford.

A good hinge will stick to the album, and will peel off easily if you decide to move a stamp to a new location or wish to trade it. A poor hinge sticks to the album and stays there. Usually it refuses to be removed without tearing the album, the stamp, or both.

To attach the stamp, bend the hinge back about one-fourth of its length, with the gummed side to the outside. Attach the smaller strip near the top of the back side of the stamp, and the remainder to the album page. As the name implies, it's a hinge to hold the stamp in place.

If stamps must be removed from envelopes, soak in warm water until stamp and paper separate, then press dry between clean white blotters and weight down with a heavy book.

To classify stamps, consult "The Standard Catalog" for this purpose at your library, the Stamp Club, or a friend's home. You will especially need this help in classifying foreign stamps.

You're ready to start. Take a stamp from the morning's mail and your hobby is underway.

BROWN - DRIVER

Kingsbury, Que., Aug. 3.—The marriage of Helen Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Driver, of Kingsbury, to Mr. Robert Ballantyne Brown, of Richmond, son of Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Brown, of Beauharnois, took place on Saturday afternoon, July 7, at half-past two o'clock, in St. Andrew's United Church, Kingsbury, the Rev. A. E. Wilfong officiating, assisted by the Rev. W. H. Brown. Mrs. O. A. Fowler, aunt of the bride, played the wedding music. Roses and baby's breath arranged with ferns, decorated the church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ankle-length gown of Chantilly lace over satin, the fitted bodice having a high round neckline and long sleeves ending in points over her hands. She wore her mother's fingertip-length veil of hand-embroidered net, and she carried a cascade bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Mrs. Raymond Johnston, as matron of honor, was in an ankle-length frock of pale green organdy over taffeta, with a headdress fashioned of flowers, and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Mr. William Brown acted as best man for his brother, and the ushers were Mr. Galen Driver, brother of the bride, and Mr. Ian Brown, brother of the groom.

Mrs. Driver, mother of the bride, was in a gown of cafe au lait faille with navy blue accessories, and she wore a corsage of yellow carnations.

Mrs. Brown, mother of the groom, was gowned in navy blue sheer and she wore a hat of the same shade, and a corsage of white carnations.

Following the reception, held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brown left for Prince Edward Island, the bride wearing a rust colored suit with white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Brown took up residence in Richmond, where they will be on the teaching staff of St. Francis College.

RAY BROWN TOSSES FOUR-HITTER TO STOP MCQUINN'S SQUAD

Bill Metzger And Pedro Ballester Star In Hitting Department In Win; St. Hyacinthe Here Tomorrow

Displaying plenty of all-around fight coupled with a neat hurling job by Ray "Fireman" Brown the Sherbrooke Athletics last night pounded out a 6-1 decision over George McQuinn and his Quebec Braves to open the gap over the closest rivals in the Provincial League before an evening record crowd of 3,190 fans.

The victory enabled the locals to gain on the league-leaders as the Granby Red Sox dropped a doubleheader to Jean-Pierre Roy, who performed the Iron-man's feat for Cubs.

Tomorrow evening the A's will be at home to the Alouettes of St. Hyacinthe in a twilight fixture at 7:45. Earle MacDonald may be assigned to look after the hurling chores for the locals in an effort to try and stop the heavy-lugging Alouettes of Hank Camell.

Ray Brown and Bill Conroy both went the distance, out the local hurler had the better of the argument. Brown gave up four hits, including two doubles to Neri and Simmons and singles to Manager McQuinn and Bill Conroy. He accounted for seven at the plate and issued only one free pass to first.

The local hitters fell on Conroy, who set them back on his last appearance here, and drove out a total of twelve hits. The Braves' tosser nipped Conroy at the rubber but gave up five tickets to first, which failed to help his cause any.

Bill Metzger was the top man in the hitting department as he picked up four hits in five trips to the plate and registered three runs as well. Pedro Ballester, his partner in the local keystone combination, followed suit and slapped out three hits for four visits to the plate and drove in three tallies.

Garcia registered two hits, both doubles, while Pages, Mantaras and Pascual accounted for the others in the heavy hitting assault.

The sixth inning was the stormy one as far as Duany and Werner were concerned. Duany got the thumb when he protested too strongly over Empire Gerry Mathieu's call on a third strike and when he kept it up after leaving the plate Empire Mathieu thumbed him out of the game.

Werner, who was struck out three times, got the nod when he tossed his hit up against the stands following his retirement at the plate. The A's got the jump on the Braves and after Metzger singled to start things Silvio Garcia drove out a double for the first tally. Duany went down in easy fashion but Pedro Ballester chalked up another double and Garcia came home to give the locals a 2-0 advantage.

In the fourth they added one more when Duany reached first on a hard hit ball to McQuinn, who fumbled it. Ballester banged out a single and then Gonzalez laid down a perfect sacrifice to move them in scoring position. Mantaras drove out a single and one run crossed the plate.

Dodgers Dump Rockets In Lennoxville Loop

Dodgers chalked up their third win of the season in the Lennoxville Bantam Softball League when they swamped the Rockets 16-5.

The final game of the schedule will be held Monday evening when the Dodgers will tangle the league-leading Cardinals. The Cards, who have won all their five games, will be out to finish the season without a defeat.

The Dodgers have three wins against two losses, both to the Rockets, and second place in the loop while the Rockets have as yet to register their initial win of the year.

Bill Friend and Brian Gilbert composed the battery for the Dodgers while John Burt and Winslow looked after the chores for the Rockets.

Shawinigan May Be Without Senior Hockey

Shawinigan Falls, Que., Aug. 3.—Residents of this centre north of Three Rivers may have to go without senior hockey this year.

Theo Racette, manager of the Arena and member of a syndicate that operates the Municipal Auditorium, home of Shawinigan Cataracts of the Quebec Senior Hockey League, said yesterday that if a heating system is not installed in the Arena, there will be no hockey there this winter.

U.S. Meets Mexico In Davis Cup Match

Rye, N.Y., Aug. 3.—(AP)—The United States makes its second stop in a campaign to win back the Davis Cup today when the U.S. tennis team takes on Mexico in the second round of the American Zone Championship.

The winner of the best-of-five match tests will qualify to meet the victor of the Canada-Cuba affair, which also gets under way today at Montreal.

The next step for the North American Zone Championship will be Sweden in the inter-zone final. The winner goes to Australia in December to challenge the Azeacs. National champion Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., who does not figure in Shields' plans against Sweden or Australia, goes up against Armando Vega in the first singles match. In the second, Herbie Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., plays Mario Llamas, champion of Mexico.

Jean-Pierre Roy Hurls Twin-Bill As Cubs Nip Granby 3-2 and 5-2; Farnham And St. Johns Win Others

Jean-Pierre Roy of Drummondville Cubs last night hurled two Provincial Baseball League games against the league-leading Granby Red Sox and won both of them. Cubs won the opener 3-2 and the nightcap 5-2.

In other League games, Sherbrooke Athletics, outitting Quebec Braves 12-6, downed Braves 6-1 and Farnham Pirates, belting 10 safeties off St. Hyacinthe Saints' pitchers Funa and Alvarado, downed Saints 6-2. A homer in the first by Frank Gravino, with two men on, set up St. Johns Braves for a 4-3 victory over cellar-dwelling Three Rivers Royals.

At Drummondville, Roy allowed only 11 hits all evening, six in the first and five in the second.

In the nightcap, Cubs got to pitcher Griffith for 11 safeties. Their big inning was the third when three men crossed the plate before the side was retired.

At St. Hyacinthe, the best Saints could manage was five hits and they erred five times afield.

Cecil Kaiser pitched for Farnham. Funa went to the mound for Saints and was relieved by Alvarado in the ninth.

At St. Johns, Braves won despite being out-hit 7-6 and three errors to Royals' single muff. Bill Gates pitched for Braves and was credited with the victory. Ken Olsen started for Royals and was pulled in the seventh in favor of Aaron Osofsky.

At Drummondville, Roy allowed only 11 hits all evening, six in the first and five in the second.

Robert Bedard Reaches Semi-Finals In Nova Scotia Tennis Tournament

Halifax, Aug. 3.—Three Nova Scotians and one Quebec player were left in the quest for the singles championship following yesterday's play in the Nova Scotia Tennis Tournament here.

Dr. Phil Cole, Hubbards, Bill Pope, Halifax and Robert Bedard, Sherbrooke, Que., joined Don Bauld, Halifax, in the semi-final round by winning their quarter-final matches. Cole defeated Andre De Chavigny, Quebec, in four sets 7-9, 6-1, 6-2, 6-4; Pope eliminated the Nova Scotia Junior Champion, Jimmie Scriven, Halifax, 6-4, 6-2, 6-3 and Bedard turned back Syd Bartlett, Halifax, 3-6, 6-1, 8-6.

In the women's singles final it will be defending champion Mrs. C. H. Mitchell, Sydney, against last year's Nova Scotia Junior Champion, Carolyn Flemming, of Truro. Both won their semi-final rounds with ease. Mrs. Mitchell defeated Vida Large, 6-3, 6-3 while Carolyn eliminated the last outside entry Marion Edger, Montreal, 6-3, 6-2. The final will be played Saturday.

The semi-finals of the women's doubles will be Mrs. Joyce Myers and Mrs. Margaret Bishop playing Vida Large and Beth Evans. The winner of this match will win the right to oppose Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Thompson in the final.

All events will be brought down to the final round today with the final scheduled for Saturday afternoon.

American League Resembles Traffic Jam As One Game Separates First Three Teams; Dodgers Extend Lead

Talk about traffic jams. The American League standing is a jumbled mess of Sunday drivers with everybody honking the horn to go by. Only one game separates the speeding Yanks, Red Sox and Indians with eight weeks to go.

Yesterday Boston won two, Cleveland won one and the leading New York Yanks were shut out by Detroit, 6-0. Even Chicago picked up ground and now trails the Yanks by six games in fourth place.

It's just the opposite in the National where Brooklyn opened up a 10-game gap on New York by bombing Pittsburgh 0-5 while the Giants took it on the chin at Chicago, 6-3. The Phillies, in third place 15 1/2 games out, edged Cincinnati 7-5, and Boston and St. Louis played one of those "suspended games" called to let the Braves catch a train to Chicago, with Boston leading 7-3 in the last of the ninth. They'll complete it Sept. 13.

Probably the top thrill of the day was Bob Cain's remarkable relief job for Detroit at Yankee Stadium. The curve-balling lefty saved Ed White's shutout with a brilliant performance.

Detroit led 2-0 in the seventh. The Yanks had three men on, nobody out and the count was two balls-no strikes on pinch-hitter Johnny Hopp. Then Cain replaced White.

Cain's first pitch was a ball. He followed with three curves to nip Hopp on a called third strike. Billy Martin and Gene Woodling fanned on sweeping hooks to retire the side. The slim lefty blew down the next six men in order in the eighth and ninth.

Boston popped up with a new slugger—Charlie Maxwell—to hit a pinch homer with the bases full assuring the Red Sox of their second-game sweep over St. Louis, 11-6. They manhandled the Browns in the opener 12-1 behind Ray Scarborough's eight-hit pitching.

Maxwell, recently recalled from Louisville farm, had hit two pinch homers before yesterday. This one came off Satchel Paige in the seventh to change a slim 7-6 lead into a solid 1-6 margin.

Larry Doby hit the longest homer seen at Washington since Babe Ruth hit one over the center-field fence in 1923. Doby's cleared the 35-foot wall, 408 feet from the plate in centre in the fifth inning with Dale Mitchell on base to help nail down a 5-2 Cleveland triumph. Steve Gromek went all the way with a four-hitter.

Jim Busby hit a 10th inning homer for Chicago's 4-3 victory over Philadelphia A's. Gus Zernial smashed his 24th homer for the A's off winner Randy Gumpert in the fifth.

Andy Pafko led the Dodgers at Pittsburgh with a double and two singles that knocked in four runs. Pee Wee Reese hit his ninth homer and two singles and Duke Snider added three singles to the 14-hit attack. Carl Erskine went the route for his 11th victory.

Bob Rush got into the win column for the first time since June 9 by stopping the Giants with four hits. Randy Jackson's 13th homer with Hal Jeffcoat on base gave the Cubs an early lead off loser Sheldon Jones.

In the suspended St. Louis game, Bob Elliot was the big gun for the Tribe with two homers. Sam Jethroe and Sid Gordon also hit for the circuit.

The Phils hopped on Herm Wehmeier and Ken Raffensberger to come from behind with five runs in the eighth inning. Del Ennis' 13th homer assured the 7-5 victory. Connie Ryan hit a home run for Cincy.

Roger Bessette Signs With Local Hockey Club

Local hockey fans will be pleased to hear that Roger Bessette, Sherbrooke Saints star, has signed a contract with the local club for the coming season.

Bessette, who works for the Fabi firm, has been here all summer and has taken up permanent residence in the City. Last year he was one of the main reasons that the local team finished in the playoffs by his outstanding play.

Last Year's Net Minder And Winner Of Lord Calvert Trophy Reaches Agreement With Sherbrooke Saints

Roger Bessette, Sherbrooke Saints star, signed his contract yesterday for the coming season, Forrest Keene, business manager of the local club, announced today.

Bessette is the first Saint to sign and is one of the few members of last year's team which is expected to be hired. The local club did very poorly last year finishing up in next to last place in the Q.S.H.L.

It seems that veteran defenseman Cliff Goupille, a former N.H.L. performer and a tower of strength to the local defense, will retire "for sure" this year. Goupille has been announcing his retirement for several years.

Bessette won the Lord Calvert Trophy last year after being voted the "Player of Distinction" by the fans. At the first of the season Bessette was not very popular with the local fans and he was even replaced in the nets. Later, however, the fans were hollering for him and at the end of the season he was playing brilliantly.

Bessette came to Sherbrooke with his brother, Marcel, in exchange for Sherbrooke's netminder Paul Leclerc, who went to Valleyfield. Leclerc led the Braves to the league title last year. Marcel was given his release by the local club.

Mr. Keene also announced today that training would get underway September 16, at the local arena.

Henry Dunne Arrested In Racing Probe

Fort Erie, Ont., Aug. 3.—(AP)—Henry Dunne, 48, of (Lennox Road) Chicago was arrested at the Fort Erie Race Track yesterday on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the public, Ontario Provincial Police said last night.

Dunne said he was retired, police reported. They said he was not directly connected with the race track and is not licensed as a trainer or owner by the Ontario Racing Commission, which, with police, has been investigating alleged race fixing at the track.

Police said they could not enlarge on the charge except that he was remanded on $10,000 bail. It is the first arrest made since the Ontario Racing Commission began its investigation last week following the suspension for life of two jockeys riding at the Fort Erie Track.

The Commission suspended four more jockeys yesterday pending investigation.

Louis Mayer Sets Fast Pace In Yearling Sale

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 3.—(AP)—Western gold jingled freely on the $3,195,900 thoroughbred yearling market which closed at Keeneland yesterday with its second highest all-time average.

Louis B. Mayer, the Hollywood movie-maker who purchased 13 yearlings, set a fast pace for the free spending Westerners who poured out upward of $775,000 on the four-day market.

Mayer gave $265,800 for eight colts and five fillies. The market closed at an average of $8,237, topped only by $9,320 in 1946. A $8,214 average today on an outlay of $893,800 for 97 head was recorded.

Sugar Ray Arrives Back In New York

New York, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson came home from Europe yesterday and received a big City Hall welcome although he lost his world middleweight title to Ranry Turpin in Britain.

Robinson told some 3,500 listeners that he "felt losing my title was losing your title because I lost the recognition as our champion."

A Turpin-Robinson rematch is scheduled for Sept. 12 in New York's Polo Grounds.

Miss Anderson Forced To Quit Channel Swim

London, Aug. 3.—(Reuters)—Miss Elna Anderson, 39, Danish schoolteacher gave up her fifth Britain-to-France Channel swim attempt yesterday within five or six miles of the French coast.

She had been swimming a little more than 12 hours. At Folkestone last night Miss Anderson said she would miss another try at the Channel this summer.

Unknown John Barnum Fires Sizzling 64 To Pace Pro Field In O'Shanter

Chicago, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Little-known John Barnum today led a well-jumbled field into the second round of the $15,000 All-American pro golf tournament.

Barnum, 39-year-old 220-pounder, yesterday swipped the All-American spotlight from police-guarded Lloyd Mangrum with a sizzling 35-29—64 round, eight under par, for a three-stroke lead in the quest for a $2,250 top prize. Deadlocked for the runner-up spot were Jimmy Demaret and youth-ful Fred Hawkins, each posting 67s.

Barnum, from Edinburg, Tex., zoomed over the back nine yesterday one stroke better than the previous course mark of 30, set by Byron Nelson in 1945.

C.A.H.A. meeting last week. Last season all clubs with the exception of Charlottetown Islanders of the M.M.H.L. were limited to six imports. The new entry was permitted 12 imports.

Judge Hudson and George Slater, president of the Quebec Senior Hockey League, were asked to appear before the C.A.H.A. to discuss the future of the Major Series. Quebec and the Maritimes have the only circuits interested in the Alexander Trophy.

No Limit On Imports For Maritime Clubs

The Judge had returned from Montreal where he attended a

Stranahan Shoots 66 In All-American Event

Chicago, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Defending champion Frank Stranahan shot a six-under-par 66, one over the course record, for the first round lead in the Tam O'Shanter All-American Amateur Golf Tournament yesterday.

Stranahan's brilliant round gave him a six-stroke lead over Joe Conrad, San Antonio, Tex., Mexican Amateur Champion, and Tom Nieporte of Cincinnati, Ohio State's National Collegiate Champion.

Conrad and Nieporte had par-matching 72's for Tam O'Shanter's 6,915-yard layout.

75th Annual Danville Fair Opens Monday, Aug. 6

Many Fine Attractions Are Planned For This Anniversary Exhibition

The Danville Fair, first on the Eastern Townships summer circuit, starts Monday for three days, with gala attractions lined up for the crowds that will be filling the fair grounds.

This will be the Danville Union Agricultural Society's 75th annual exhibition and hundreds of cash prizes, as well as many special awards are being offered for the winning exhibitors.

The entertainment program has been well looked after, with the midway, horse races, band programs, grandstand attractions and a real old fashioned dance to bring the fair to a close.

The well-known Daniels Greater Shows midway will be on hand with rides, sideshows and games to attract the young and old.

A band from Asbestos will provide the music.

Wednesday, the closing day of the fair, has been designated as children's day and children under 12 will be admitted free to the grounds between 1 and 6 p.m.

On Wednesday evening there will be grandstand attractions starting at 8 p.m. and the Hollywood Daredevils will stage their thrill show. Les Beaulieu's well-known orchestra will provide the music for the wind-up dance.

The horse-racing program will go on in the afternoons with two classes daily. Leading harness racing entries from the Townships will be on hand to compete for the prize money, with purses ranging from $175 to $325.

The exhibits which will be judged include:

Horses, cattle, sheep, swine, poultry, dairy produce, fruits and vegetables, grains, flowers, a variety of articles in the ladies' and children's section, including such things as foodstuffs, handicrafts, and sewn and knitted goods.

Harbor Development Pays Big Dividends

Toronto — There are 1,300 acres of waterfront in Toronto that weren't there in grandfather's time.

The land reclaimed from Lake Ontario during the last 40 years, is the result of a municipal investment of $30,000,000 in the development and administration of the city harbor. For their money, taxpayers have received the 1,300 acres complete with about 30 miles of railway trackage, 116 miles of streets, 10 1/2 miles of berthing space for ships and a baseball stadium.

In addition, part of the land used for the Canadian National Exhibition and all of the thriving Sunny-side amusement centre was dredged up from the lake bottom.

CARNIVAL

"I think we've found the culprit, Mr. Calkins! Notice how the 'r' on this machine matches the 'r' in 'drop,' and the 'e' matches the 'e' in 'dead!'" assessment has increased from $1,986,804 to $59,392,536. In 1912 taxes received by the city from the lands totalled $36,570 and last year the return was $1,914,244. Toronto's investment took the form of city-backed bonds and most of these have been paid off. By the end of 1953 only about $9,000,000 will be left unpaid. Against this Toronto has a harbor development asset worth probably 100 times that amount. The growth didn't come by luck or by chance. It began in 1911 with the formation of the Toronto Harbor Commission. It is continuing today with the commission going strong with plans for even more acres to accommodate possible St. Lawrence waterway traffic.

Problems Retard Benelux Scheme, In "Deep Sleep"

By GEORGE FRANKS
The Hague. — Canals, cut flowers, balance of payments, harbors, excise duties, and trade policies are the varied obstacles to speedy conclusion of Benelux—full economic union among Belgium, Luxembourg and the Netherlands.

The plan, born of wartime enthusiasm, was expected by its promoters to be one of the greatest victories of the post-war era. Instead, it has been steadily postponed.

Frequent conferences have produced resolutions and "agreements in principle." These are now taking the form of desperate efforts to prevent the failure of the whole plan, often described as a most striking example of international co-operation.

Except for a rather limited customs agreement, which in many cases has resulted only in raising the excise duties, little progress of practical value has been made.

In official circles it is being admitted that the Benelux plan "is now in a deep sleep." No one will go so far as to say that it is dead or even suffering from any incurable disease. But the symptoms are serious and the cures baffling.

Even on such a minor problem as the sale of Dutch cut flowers to Belgium, the best solution that could be reached at the latest ministerial conference was "an agreement in principle." No details were worked out beyond a sort of gentleman's agreement that Holland would "regulate" the export of cut flowers to Belgium (although no figures or quotas were settled), and that at a later date a proposal for an export levy would be considered.

The Benelux problems now are beginning to wear out the patience of the peoples of the three countries.

As the Dutch merchants put it: "Holland last year bought about 1,400,000,000 guilders worth of goods from Belgium and sold only 700,000,000 guilders worth. Yet as soon as Holland tries to close that gap by exporting more horticultural produce, Belgium announces an import ban. How therefore can the balance of payments be levelled up?"

A problem of different kind, because it is so technical and complicated, is that of solving the century-old rivalry between the Dutch port of Rotterdam and the Belgian port of Antwerp. For several years a joint committee has been working, but it has only reached "agreement in principle." The crux of the problem appears to be a fair redistribution between Antwerp and the Dutch Rhine ports of a traffic which is much smaller than it was before the war. This seems an almost impossible task.

Fruition of the Benelux scheme is therefore still distant. It will not fail, for all three countries realize that in principle their existence depends upon an economic union, but there are still many obstacles to overcome.

Farmers Of N. Z. Ask Bigger Share Of Reserve Funds

By J. C. GRAHAM
Canadian Press Correspondent
Wellington, N.Z. — New Zealand farmers claim they have too much put by for a rainy day and are demanding a larger share now from the sales of their produce.

When the former Labor government created the guaranteed price principle for sales of dairy produce at set aside a reserve fund to maintain a stable price level. The idea was that when prices were high part of the proceeds of the sales would be put into a stabilization account. This would help to offset changes in world prices and enable fairly uniform payments to be made to farmers even when prices fell.

A somewhat similar principle was later introduced for sales of meat.

Ever since the accounts were established, however, world prices have been rising steadily. The result has been that the reserves have grown to much larger proportions than was anticipated. Even though payments to farmers have risen steadily, prices have more than kept pace and the reserve accounts have grown every year since they were established.

The dairy industry stabilization account now stands at about $89,000,000 and the meat pool stabilization account has reached $105,000,000.

A. G. Alexander, chairman of the dairy produce section of the Federated Farmers, told producers recently that the accounts had now reached a stage where it would be against farmers' interests to accumulate more money in them.

"These huge sums are far in excess of anything ever visualized," he declared. "While they have been accumulating, farmers' prices have been rigidly held down to a cost of production basis with no margin or allowance for development, profit or seasonal hazards.

"We are continually being asked to increase production and we realize the importance of this. But capital and a reasonable profit margin are necessary to bring about increased production, especially so at the present time when labor is not available and must be replaced by mechanization at high cost.

"A study of a cross-section of balance-sheets of manufacturers and trading companies shows clearly the liberal profits earned, the creation of reserves and the consequent expansion of activity which follows. This is in striking contrast to the cheese-paring prices given to primary producers.

"I believe more benefit would be obtained by the farmer's industry and the nation, while still maintaining the guaranteed price, by adopting in future a more liberal interpretation of the standards to bring the cash reward of dairy farmers more in line with that of workers in other industries.

The farmers decided to press for a more liberal interpretation of the guaranteed price standard of capitalization and for the labor reward to be brought into line with that of workers in other industries.

Arab World Loves Egyptian Singer Of Peasant Stock

By ZEN NEGATI
Cairo. There's an evening, every month, when all the radio's of the Arab world are tuned in on Om Kalsoum's program, broadcast from Cairo.

The "nightingale of the Middle East" is on the air on the first Thursday of every month. Her rich, melodious, passionate voice flows from tens of thousands of sets in homes and public places, in shops and taxis, in cities and the villages.

Om Kalsoum has no peers in this part of the world. Her name is known from the Lebanon down to the tip of Arabia. Her admirers range from kings, princes and pashas down to the workers and fellahs, (peasants).

In 1916, the kings and rulers of the Arab states came to Egypt as guests of King Farouk, to chart a common policy. After the talks, the Arab notables relaxed at Farouk's beautiful estate in northern Egypt.

There, in an Arabian night's scenery, the main attraction was Om Kalsoum. She enraptured the audience with her love songs, her patriotic and religious hymns, and the nostalgic songs of Egyptian and Arabic folklore.

There can be no successful social event in Cairo, Alexandria or elsewhere in Egypt without Om Kalsoum. Often she is invited to perform in neighboring countries. Even her very high fees do not cool off the enthusiasm of those who want "the Nightingale" at their parties.

The dark, tall and strongly built singer is at ease with crowned heads and the poorest.

Om Kalsoum likes to recall her origin. She is a fellaha (peasant) and she displays the main characteristics of the Egyptian land worker; a keen sense of humor and an unmatched gift for jokes and puns. Her sayings are as famous as her songs.

Om Kalsoum was born at Simbellawen, north Egypt, in 1899. She was a teen-ager when she started singing the koran.

In 1919 when Egyptians made their first bid for independence from the British protectorate, a 20-year-old girl spurred Egypt's "fight for freedom" with patriotic songs. This was Om Kalsoum.

Her fame rocketed by the middle '30s. She was crowned the greatest singer of the Arab world. Besides her personal appearances, she sang at the radio and appeared in several Egyptian films.

Her fees soared with her fame. The koran chanter, back at Simbellawen, earned an average of three pounds ($8.61) a month. Today Om Kalsoum receives fees as high as 1,000 Egyptian pounds ($2,870) for a single performance. Her radio programs net her around $34,440 a year.

Om Kalsoum's name has been romantically linked with several Egyptian high society members, but the 52-year-old singer has never married.

She lives in a comfortable villa on the banks of the Nile, in Zamalek, a residential district of Cairo.

Om Kalsoum is a member of the Order of Kamal. The distinction was awarded to her by King Farouk, after the monarch's first marriage in 1938.

Group Of M.P.s Approve British New-Type Rifle

London.—A group of Conservative and Socialist Members of Parliament has approved the new 280 semi-automatic self-loading rifle the war department proposes to adopt for the British forces.

The much-discussed rifle which will supplant the famous .303 Lee Enfield as standard equipment for the British army, passed its test at a private demonstration arranged by Defence Minister Emanuel Shinwell.

The demonstration was staged to show the comparative merits of the new rifle and the 300 Garand semi-automatic, used by United States forces and adopted by Canada earlier in the year. Several of the members fired the two rifles themselves.

Capt. R. E. D. Ryder, Conservative Member for Merton and Morden, who won the Victoria Cross at St. Nazaire in March, 1942, described the 280 rifle as "an excellent weapon."

It was not only revolutionary in design but was lighter and with a "kick" less pronounced than the old .303 rifle which has been the British army's standard bore since 1888.

"The American rifle with its heavier bullet has greater penetration but it weighs more than the .280. If I was buying a rifle for myself I would choose the new one," Capt. Ryder said.

The two rifles are shortly to be subject to ministerial talks between Britain, the United States and Canada in an effort to reach an agreement on standardization.

Critics of the plan to re-equip the British forces agree that the present time is not appropriate for a major change which would clash with standard weapons of friendly countries.

They add that while some United States authorities concede advantages of the new weapon over the Garand rifle, it would be well to move cautiously and consider the change-over when other demands in armaments are less pressing.

Drought-Ridden Southern Spain Poses Problem

By HENRY BUCKLEY
Madrid. — Seasonal unemployment is one of the biggest headaches in the olive-growing area of southern Spain.

General Franco himself, during a recent 1,000-mile tour of sunny Andalusia—pleasant in winter but known as the "frying pan of Spain" in summer—described the problem as "terrifying."

The seasonal unemployment is a result of the concentration on one particular crop—the olive.

The situation in the province of Jaen, which comprises the olive oil bank of Spain and contains a substantial part of Spain's 5,000,000 acres of olive groves, has been critical for months past.

Drought ruined both olive and cereal crops last year. But even in normal years, Jaen has an unemployment figure of 80 per cent of the working population during half the year.

There has been a steady drift of the population northward.

In the La Carolina-Linares area of Jaen an elaborate drainage system is being installed by the state to take water away from land where many lead mines exist. It is hoped that in three years lead production will have increased by 125,000 tons. At present, lack of modern machinery and the worked-out condition of the mines makes lead-mining unremunerative in this part of Spain, despite high world prices.

Experts commenting on the far reaching problem of Andalusia and Estramadura, the agrarian region lying near Portugal, consider that the basic problem is how to bring some 2,000,000 casual agricultural workers into a state of permanent employment with a living standard equal to that of the agrarian and industrial worker in the centre and north of Spain.

The experts say electricity production must be stepped up in the south and light industries established to provide other work for the peasant in the slack seasons—as Swiss farmers often do watch-making jobs in winter.

Irrigation schemes need speeding up. Absentee-landlordism is a brake on progress though the high prices of oil and cereals has improved this situation, because landlords are taking more interest in their farms. Even so, there are many estates owned by aristocratic families living in Madrid or other towns who rarely, if ever, visit the lands they own and which are often left for decades without improvements or care.

But the major problem is that of capital.

The government has elaborate plans to modernize and industrialize agrarian Spain. But private enterprise is not co-operative. Too often, landowners want only to get money out of the land and will put nothing back.

Big Saskatoon Sewer To Open Up New Area

Saskatoon. — A tunnel 50 feet underground where three workmen will spend their next two working years is being built in Saskatoon.

Five feet in diameter, the tunnel will be a main storm sewer two-third of a mile long when it is finished.

The sewer will drain a large area which is now an undeveloped slough basin, but considered one of Saskatoon's most desirable areas for residential development.

The tunnel will take nearly two years to finish and will cost about $200,000.

Several years more will be needed to complete a network of storm sewers branching off the main one now being dug.

At present three city workmen, John Orschekowski, Frank Hepp and James Reynolds, are working an eight-hour shift daily to complete about 4.5 feet of tunnel.

Double shifts are planned for the winter to speed up progress.

Work on the tunnel is a complicated, laborious task. And working space is cramped.

Every few feet the workmen put into place armoex tunnel-liners, big steel rings set upright face to face and bolted to prevent cave-ins.

Originally city engineer Hal Weir planned to install the sewer about 25 feet underground by open-cut installation, but, quicksand at that depth necessitated going deeper to 50 feet below ground.

Mr. Weir said the tunnel is one of the biggest of its kind ever undertaken in western Canada.

Wartime Courtesy Pays Big Dividend

West Hartlepool, Durham, England. — James L. Stevenson, local air-raid warden during the last war, has discovered that kindness and courtesy pays—in his case far more than he expected.

More than 10 years ago when German night raiders were unloading their cargoes of high explosives and incendiaries on industrial Hartlepool, Stevenson took personal charge of seeing to the safety of three elderly spinster residents. Immediately an alert was sounded he would escort them to the nearest shelter; provide them with blankets and make them cups of tea.

After the war, the ex-warden heard no more of his elderly charges until the death of Miss Alice Emmerson, 81, the last surviving spinster.

When her will was probated, Stevenson was named as the principal beneficiary, which left him the residue of the estate, estimated in excess of $60,000.

Happiness Assured By Well's Legend

Formosa, Ont. — When Christian Weiler drilled for oil here in 1901 he found no oil but a wealth of romance instead. A United States syndicate asked him to assist in their search for oil and he drilled a hole 945 feet deep and struck a gusher—of water.

Now in this small community, about 40 miles southwest of Owen Sound, a legend surrounds the still sprouting artesian well. Residents say that a happy marriage is assured when a bridegroom kisses his bride near the well if, afterwards, the couple drinks from the crystal-clear water.

Mr. Weiler is dead but his daughter looks after the 10-acre park in which the well is located. The park, palace gardens, a mecca for tourists and picnickers, is the result of the careful planning and interest devoted to the site by Mr. Weiler.

He bought the area in 1918 and spent many years collecting and planting different kinds of trees, plants and shrubs until it has become a famous beauty spot, but Formosa's "old faithful" is still the centre of attraction for residents and visitors alike.

STRATEGIC LOCATION
Spain's position as a land and sea bastion behind the protecting Pyrenees Mts. makes her desirable ally for the West.

MANPOWER AND
Her army is capable of rapid expansion—to 2,000,000 men, plus sizable navy and air forces.

POTENTIAL BASES
Natural harbors and landing fields, three of which can handle our B-36, need improvement, but have great military potential.

U. S. dickering with Franco's Spain for possible sea and air bases in exchange for U. S. economic aid throws a new spotlight on the controversial Mediterranean country. The Newsmap and picture chart above highlight pros and cons in acceptance of Franco as a Western ally. Other European allies, notably France and Britain, have registered strenuous objections to dealing with the Spanish dictator.

Mansonville's New Roman Catholic Church Was Opened For High Mass On July 22; Several Services Held

Mansonville, August 3. — On Sunday, July 22, the new Roman Catholic Church was opened to the public and was visited by both English and French speaking citizens.

The people of the Parish of St. Cajetan de Potton, are to be congratulated on the completion of so beautiful a church.

Much of the interior woodwork, altar and candle sticks, etc., is the work of Mr. Doyle, the manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, in Mansonville.

July 22 was also the twenty-fifth anniversary of the priesthood of the parish priest, the Rev. Father Lucien Leguerrier. Following the High Mass, Father Leguerrier and over sixty of his nearest relatives and closest friends were entertained at a special dinner in the beautifully decorated hall, which is also part of the new church building.

In the evening, following vespers, a soiree was much enjoyed by a large number of people.

Rev. Father Leguerrier was presented with a cheque for five thousand dollars, to be used for the new building and as a personal gift, he was given a Hamilton watch.

Among the speakers were Mr. M. Gosselin, member of parliament for Brome-Missisquoi, Rev. Father Leguerrier, Rev. E. F. Macklin, Rev. E. White, Rev. J. C. Reilley, Mr. Leo Jacob very ably acted as master of ceremonies.

The musical program consisted of selections by the Mansonville Choral Group led by Mr. Philippe Lessard; Mansonville Orchestra led by Mr. Edouard Laliberte. Songs were given by Mr. Clement Lessard as well as talent from Cowansville.

Following the program the church ladies served delicious refreshments.

AROUND THE HOME

A FINE BOOKCASE can be made from parts of packing cases (or from 7/8" plywood)

A GOOD HEIGHT FOR THE SIDES IS 36", WITH SHELVES 18" WIDE AND 10 1/4" DEEP, SPACED TO TAKE BOOKS UP TO 10" IN HEIGHT. FEET, ABOUT 4" HIGH, CAN BE MADE FROM 2 X 4'S.

Half a coconut shell can become an attractive HANGING FLOWER POT

AFTER REMOVING THE MEAT, LET THE SHELL DRY FOR A FEW DAYS. DRILL THREE OR FOUR HOLES NEAR THE EDGE. RUN A FINE CHAIN (OR FINE WIRE) THROUGH THESE HOLES AND JOIN TO A RING AT THE TOP. PLACE SOME PIECES OF BROKEN FLOWER POT ON THE BOTTOM, ADD A BIT OF CHARCOAL, THEN FILL WITH EARTH.

OBSOLETE ARMS
Spain's army is badly-armed mostly with pre-World War II equipment. She needs modern guns and tanks . . .

AND EQUIPMENT
. . . and, especially, modern planes. Of her 500 to 800 planes, only about half have any military value.

POOR TRANSPORT
Worst deficiency is the nation's road and rail transport system—in need of new equipment and thorough overhauling.

COURAGEOUS FATHER SAVES WIFE AND FIVE CHILDREN AS HOME BURNS

Richard Lavigne, of Contrecoeur, Que., coolly evacuates family from blazing home

1. It was 4:30 A.M. and the entire family was asleep on the second floor of the wooden house. Suddenly Richard Lavigne and his wife awoke to the ominous crackling sound of flames and the smell of thick, hot smoke. The ground floor was a blazing inferno . . . and Lavigne was forced to rush his children to the attic. When he realized that one little boy was still missing he wrapped a nightgown around his head and returned to the second floor.

2. Because of the blinding smoke he had to crawl until he found the little lad . . . almost unconscious on his cot. Lavigne could hardly breathe when he finally reached the attic again. But he was determined to save his family. Through the small window he managed to squeeze a mattress which luckily dropped directly below. Then, calmly, he gave quick, curt directions to his wife . . . and jumped!

3. Bracing himself on the mattress, he looked up at the flaming house and shouted a command to the white, anxious face of his wife. Then one by one the children jumped . . . and one by one they were caught in the sturdy arms of Richard Lavigne. Shortly after he had his wife safely on the ground, the house was completely burned. We are proud to present The Dow Award to a truly brave Canadian.

THE DOW AWARD is a citation presented for acts of outstanding heroism and includes, as a tangible expression of appreciation, a $100 Canada Savings Bond. Who said You can't Afford a Fine Car?

Many's the man who has paid far more for a fine car than the price of this beauty—and got less than this gay and gallant traveller offers. Sweeping proudly past you, it has a distinction that few cars can equal.

Stepping nimbly away from a stop light, it has the willing surge of power that the very exclusive combination of a Fireball engine and Dynaflo Drive delivers.

It rides the road with majestic smoothness, and comes to a smooth and gentle halt, in response to the finest brakes that Buick engineers ever developed.

Inside, it has spacious room, from side to side and front to back and seat to roof—plus a softness of cushions and a richness of fabrics which bespeak the custom standards to which it is built.

All you could want in a fine car is here in abundance.

But don't let that fool you into deciding "It's too rich for me."

If you've looked into 1951 car prices generally, you'll discover this:

You can own a BUICK for little more than an ordinary car will cost—and for several hundred dollars less than the price tags usually found in "the fine-car field."

Why not look into this today?
