World News In Brief

Vatican City, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The Pope was reported "much improved" today from the attack of influenza and bronchial pneumonia which has kept him in bed since last Thursday.

The 76-year-old Pontiff's temperature "has gone down to normal," his doctor reported. The Pope's condition during the week-end had caused grave concern in the Vatican.

Seoul, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Allied planes today hammered communist supply routes and front-line positions on the frozen western Korea front.

Outnumbered United States Sabre jets damaged two communist MIG-15 fighters over MIG alley in far northwest Korea.

Only light ground action was reported as Gen. J. Lawton Collins, U.S. army chief of staff, began his seventh tour of the battlefield since the Korea war began 2½ years ago.

London, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Informed sources said today that Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and R. A. Butler, Chancellor of the Exchequer, on their projected visit to the United States, hope to enlist American support for a vast new program of wider world trade.

Britain's new ambassador to the United States, Sir Roger Makins, announced in Washington that tentative arrangements for the visit of the two British leaders would be completed in about 10 days.

Faid, Egypt, Jan. 27.—(Reuters)—The British Canberra jet bomber attempting a record flight to Australia landed here today at 1:05 p.m. GMT (8:05 a.m. EST) today, four hours and 29 minutes after it took off from London.

The plane is bent on beating the flight record of 19 hours and 10 minutes set last May by another Canberra.

San Francisco, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Two tax consultants today proposed that working girls be permitted to deduct their beauty costs from their income for United States tax purposes, just like professional glamour girls do.

It's just as important for secretaries, clerks and other women working for men to look pretty on the job as it is for the girls of movies, stage, radio and television, argued the consultants.

The tax experts are Glenn Graves and Hugh McMahon, who were employed for years in the San Francisco office of the Internal Revenue Bureau.

Johannesburg, Jan. 27.—(Reuters)—Patrick Duncan, son of a former governor-general of South Africa, appeared in court yesterday charged with inciting natives to resist the government's racial segregation laws.

Duncan was arrested last month when he entered a native reserve and addressed a crowd of non-whites. Detained with him were Manilal Gandhi and other Europeans and Indians.

CCF Seeks Greater Federal Assistance For Education

Ottawa, Jan. 27.—(AP)—A CCF request for greater federal aid to education drew both support and criticism yesterday in the Commons.

In what has become an almost annual resolution, R. R. Knight (CCF-Saskatoon) urged that the federal government provide the financial assistance necessary to assure equal opportunity of education to all Canadians.

He won support from Progressive Conservative and Social Credit members, but Liberals, led by Justice Minister Garson, attacked the proposal.

The resolution was still being debated at the adjournment hour. It may not come up again this session if the Commons today adopts a motion to give its business precedence over that of private members on Mondays and Wednesdays.

Also on today's agenda is a government motion to establish a 26-man committee to review activities of the publicly owned CBC.

In the education debate, Mr. Garson said the provinces now are financially able to do more for education. Under tax agreements with the federal government, the provinces had compiled surpluses of more than $600,000,000 in the last five years.

No one wanted federal interference in the field of education, said Mr. Garson.

Polio Vaccine May Prevent Dread Scourge

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Reporter
New York, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Scientists now have a vaccine which they have good reason to believe will protect humans against polio, ending the dread scourge of a crippling and killing virus.

The proof of the pudding will come through tests on many children, probably to be run this year.

This is the main substance of a report last night by Dr. Harry M. Weaver, research director of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

This vaccine is one pay-off of $18,000,000 devoted to research by the March of Dimes funds since 1938. It looks like the best practical answer yet to the challenge of polio.

It has stimulated a few humans, and many monkeys and chimpanzees, to make their own antibodies or disease-fighters against all three types of polio virus. The monkeys, in fact, went scot-free even when given lethal doses of polio virus after the vaccination.

The acid test for this vaccine still lies ahead—the tests on thousands of children. Even if it works, the vaccine will not be generally available this year, not until some questions are answered about how good and how long its protective effect lasts.

But it is certain that this vaccine is safe, that it can't cause polio in children or adults who get the shots. For it is made out of viruses killed by chemical treatment, with formalin or formaldehyde, so that the viruses cannot damage human nerves.

And it is certain that the vaccine could protect against all three types of viruses that can cause human polio. It took three solid years of work, costing $1,370,000, to learn that there are only three such viruses—named the brunhilde, Lansing and Leon strains—which are dangerous. This vaccine contains all three types.

Medical research also has learned how the make these viruses in practically unlimited quantities, Dr. Weaver reported.

It's done by growing viruses in glass test-tubes on bits of animal or human tissues.

Viruses in this vaccine although killed by chemicals, still keep the power to make a human produce antibodies against polio viruses. Anti-bodies are natural defence agents which can disarm any invading viruses.

Winnipeg, Jan. 27.—(AP)—RCAP officials today reported a small Piper Cub plane, believed carrying missing pilot Jim Black of Bissett Lake, Man., has been sighted upside down on a small lake. There was no sign of life.

Meeting Called After Yesterday's Negotiations Broke Down

Montreal, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Heads of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways today enter negotiations with labor union officials over a wage dispute threatening Canada with its first winter railway tie-up.

An announcement last night by Prime Minister St. Laurent that the CPR and CNR presidents were willing to reopen talks with the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen brought hope of averting a walkout of 25,000 BRT members set for Feb. 2.

The announcement came just a few hours after news that a series of conferences between members of the BRT negotiating committee and railway vice-presidents N. R. Crump of the CPR and S. F. Dingle of the CNR had failed.

A. J. Kelly, BRT vice-president, immediately declared the negotiating committee's willingness to take up discussions with CPR president W. A. Mather and CNR president Donald Gordon.

Meanwhile, because of uncertainty over the outcome and the short time remaining before the strike deadline, railway executive staffs went ahead with preparations for a possible traffic standstill on their 44,000 miles of line manned by a total of 196,000 employees.

More Arrests Made In East Zone Purge

By TOM REEDY

Berlin, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The East German communist purge is reported today sweeping through the entire foreign ministry including the diplomatic corps assigned to Moscow and the satellites.

West Berlin political circles heard from sources in the Soviet sector that Anton Ackermann, successor to the imprisoned foreign minister Georg Dertinger, has ordered a complete shakeup.

Other employees of the ministry are said to be those representatives endorsed by Dertinger for their assignments.

Recall of Stefan Heyman, minister to Hungary, and Erhard Scheffler, minister to Albania, is reported ordered.

Other employees of the ministries in Prague, Warsaw, Budapest and Tirana (the capital of Albania) also will be brought back to Berlin, the report added.

Other political friends of Dertinger throughout the east zone are said to be in imminent danger of arrest, particularly his associates in the east zone's fellow-travelling Christian Democratic Union of which he was deputy chairman.

Reports reached West Berlin that CDU Mayor Friedrich Kuchwind of Lettewitz, in Sachsen-Anhalt, and three members of the area's CDU party committee were arrested on charges of sabotaging the regime's efforts to fully communize life in the east. A half dozen CDU members of the Lettewitz district fled to west Berlin during the weekend.

The plight of terror-stricken refugees fleeing from the communist purge was further complicated today by a driving snowstorm. But the 1,000-a-day pace of the last 10 days appears to be continuing.

Death Sentence Asked For Priests

London, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Warsaw radio said a Polish communist court will pass sentence today on five Roman Catholic priests, a layman and a woman accused of spying for the Vatican and the United States.

The prosecution has demanded the death penalty for two of the priests, Jozef Lelito and Michael Kowalik, and the layman, Edward Chachlica. It asked the following sentences for the others: Father Franciszek Symonek—life imprisonment; Father Wit Brzycki—15 years; Father Jan Pochopien—11 years; Stefania Rospond—eight years.

In the five-day trial at Krakow, the seven defendants were accused of being mixed up in a United States-directed espionage ring aimed against Poland's communist government.

A radio monitoring error led to a report earlier today that the Krakow court already had passed the expected sentences.

Vienna, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Police said last night an Austrian fashion expert was nabbed by Soviet agents in the Russian-occupied town of Moedling on Vienna's outskirts Saturday.

The victim was identified as Anselm Jakob Grant, 40, professor at a Vienna fashion school. He was reported to be a friend of Gustav Grimm, wartime resistance leader who was arrested by the Russians in Vienna last June.

US Economist Is Convicted Of Perjury

New York, Jan. 27.—(AP)—William W. Remington, former United States government economist, was convicted today of perjury in denying he ever gave secret government data to Elizabeth Bentley for relay to Russia.

He also was convicted on a second perjury count for falsely denying knowledge of the existence of a unit of the young communist league at Dartmouth College when he was a student there in the 1930s.

Remington, 35, could be sentenced up to 10 years in prison and $4,000 in fines on the two counts. This would be twice the penalty he drew on a previous conviction—'which he got reversed on appeal.'

The federal court jury's verdict left further charges hanging over his head.

The jury acquitted the handsome one-time $10,000-a-year department of commerce employee on one count of a five-count indictment. This charged him with falsely denying he ever recruited any one into the communist party.

On two other counts the jury of 11 men and one woman reported it was unable to agree. These involved his denials that he ever attended communist party meetings at Nashville, Tenn., when he was employed by the Tennessee Valley Authority, or that he ever paid communist party dues.

Miss Bentley, admitted former courier for a Soviet spy ring, was a prosecution witness against Remington at both trials. She said he gave her war production board information.

All five perjury counts grew out of Remington's testimony at this first perjury trial two years ago, at which he was convicted and sentenced to five years and a $2,000 fine.

The defence contended at both trials that Remington gave war production board data mistakenly and innocently to Miss Bentley.

No date for sentencing Remington was set today after the jury handed up its verdict following nine hours and 50 minutes of deliberation. Remington was continued free in $7,000 bail pending a hearing Thursday on defence motions.

Seoul, Jan. 27.—(Reuters)—Thirty persons were feared drowned and 29 injured when an overloaded ferryboat carrying 200 sank off Kusan last night.

It was the second South Korean ferry disaster in three weeks.

Senate Confirms Wilson As U.S. Secretary Of Defence

Washington, Jan. 27.—(AP)—A strategy board for the cold war was created by President Eisenhower yesterday to study techniques in "the struggle for the minds and wills of men."

The President named eight men for the project, and instructed them to report to him by June 30.

A White House announcement said: "The committee will survey and evaluate the government's information and related policies and activities with particular reference to international relations and the national security."

It is a "psychological strategy board," James C. Hagerty, the White House press secretary, told reporters.

In appointing the strategy board, of a plan of operations for the Eisenhower implemented one part cold war that he outlined during his election campaign. Speaking in San Francisco, Oct. 8, he said:

"In cold war, we do not use an arsenal of arms and armaments. Rather, we use all means short of war to lead men to believe in the values that will preserve peace and freedom."

The new group, members of which will receive no salaries, includes:

William H. Jackson, 51 New York investment executive, chairman; C. D. Jackson, 50, of New York, publisher of "Fortune" magazine; Sigurd Larson, 62, president of Young and Rubicam, New York advertising agency; Gordon Gray, 44, president of the University of North Carolina; Barkley McKee Henry, 50, of Princeton, N.J., director of the U.S. Trust Co.; John C. Hughes, 62, of New York, president of McCampbell and Co., textile representatives; Abbott Washburn, 38, of Minneapolis, Minn., formerly of General Mills, Inc.

Robert Cutler, administrative assistant to the President, is the eighth member of the board.

Probe For Possible Sabotage In Empress Fire Continues

Liverpool, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The probe for possible sabotage in the fire death of the Empress of Canada continued today as the bulk of the once-proud Transatlantic liner lay half-submerged in her berth, still smouldering from the flames that gutted her.

Workmen who were aboard Sunday when fire broke out aboard the 20,135-ton ship were questioned until late last night by superintendant James B. Firth, 64, head of the home office's science laboratory.

Firth has viewed the Canadian Pacific Steamships vessel from the dock but said he would have to get aboard to really begin work in the search for clues that might spell sabotage. She is the third ship in Liverpool docks to be hit by fire within a week.

No passengers were aboard and no lives were lost when fire ravaged the liner which had just undergone a refit in preparation for the coronation trade. Now the Empress rests on her port side in thick mud, her decks vertical and her yellow funnels smashed against the dockside.

Firemen and workmen said the flames broke out below decks, possibly in the dispensary or a pantry, but smoke and heat prevented them from tracking down the source. Herbert Balmer, CID super-

Death Claims Sen. David In 71st Year

Montreal, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Senator Louis Athanasie David, 70, a protégé of the late Prime Minister Sir Wilfrid Laurier and a leading figure in Quebec politics for more than 20 years, died in hospital yesterday after a brief illness.

Exact cause of death was not known. He had been in hospital since Saturday.

Senator David, a Liberal member of the Senate since 1940, was born and educated in Montreal and was the son of the late Senator Laurent Olivier David, a life-long friend of Sir Wilfrid.

He graduated in law from the Montreal section of Laval University, now the University of Montreal, and was called to the bar in 1905.

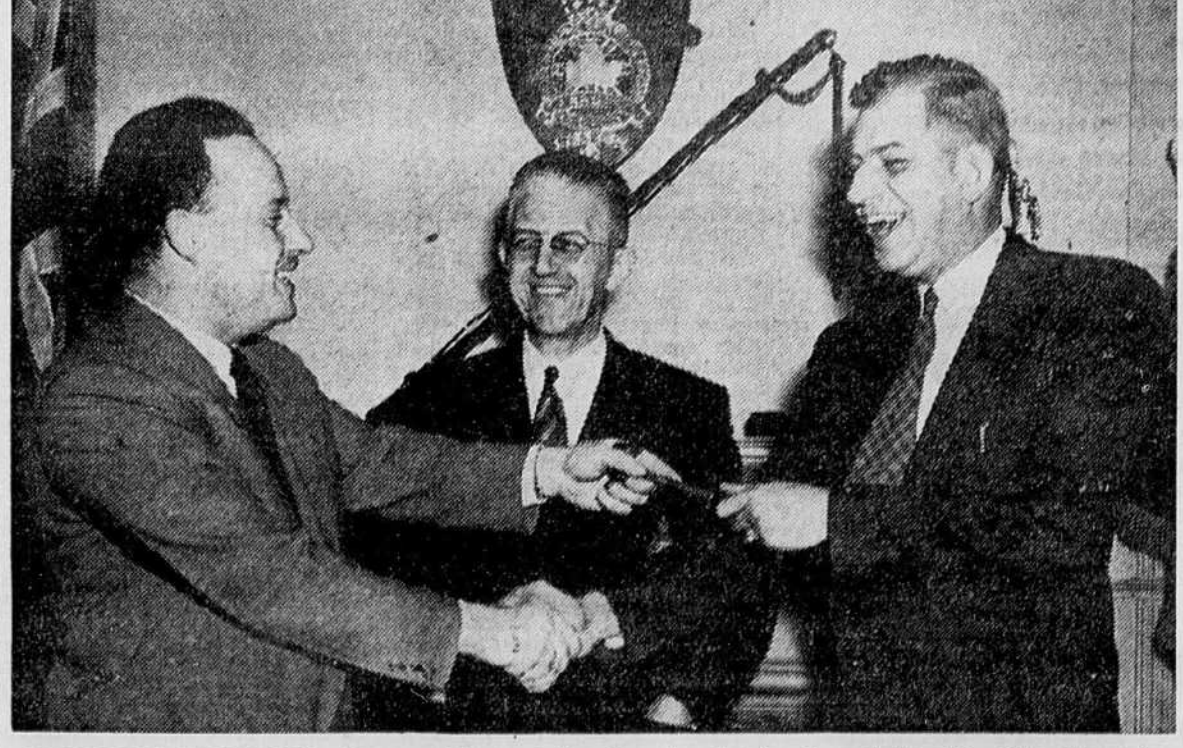

An advocate by profession and a member of the firm of David, Brodard and Demers, Senator David was first elected to the Quebec Legislature in the general election of 1916 and re-elected five times before retiring in 1936.

He ran again and was elected in 1939 and a year later was appointed to the Senate. He also served for some time as provincial secretary.

Senator David's death leaves 21 vacancies in the Senate. Seven Quebec seats, six from Ontario, four from New Brunswick and one each in British Columbia, Prince Edward Island, Manitoba and Newfoundland are vacant. Liberals now hold 73 seats in the 102-seat Upper House and the Progressive Conservatives eight.

A patron of the arts, music devotee and accomplished writer, he instituted the annual David prize for which English and French-speaking writers competed for grants awarded by the provincial government.

As head of the department of education he was instrumental in establishing rural health units throughout the province. His widow, two sons and three daughters survive.

EXPERT FEELS HIS 'BOO' IS DUE ACTRESSES WHO SLAP ON 'GOO'

Hollywood—Behind the Screen:
Wonder why so many veteran movie queen are beginning to look more like Whistler's mama on the screen than glamorous sirens?

Because they're worried about their age and insist on putting on their own make-up.
"All they need," U-I's make-up
artist, Frank Westmore, told me,
"is a nice, simple make-up that would make their age less obvious. But they slap on the goo, they cake it on. They're making up the way they did 20 years ago."

AT THE NEW PREMIER

New camera techniques and the speed of film have changed the art of make-up. But the poor girls don't know it. They call attention to their wrinkles and lines with all that goo.

Frank rates Barbara Stanwyck, to whom he's applying the powder puff in "All I Desire," as one flicker empress who has retained that younger-than-springtime look.

"She doesn't go in for heavy make-up," he said. "She leaves it all to me. I give her a little powder and shading over the eyes and she looks terrific."

Bob Hope was offered $10,000, according to Quick Magazine, if he and his wife would appear at a party in New York City. Bob wired back:

"Can't make it. Can't I phone for $5,000?"

Now it can be told that Barbara Payton's first studio biography, written by the publicity department, listed her favorite hobby as "petit-point." Then came all those newspaper headlines and the fellow who wrote it is still blushing.

Maybe it's information that belongs in a medical journal, but a Hollywood plastic surgeon just finished building up a starlet's derriere with pliable plastic material that feels like skin. . . . Richard Conte has optioned a novel, "Prince Bart," for conversion into a stage play and a movie. It's about a movie idol whose didoes are highly recognizable.

Further proof of the Agnes Moorehead-Robert Gist secret marriage:

Producer Paul Gregory will co-star them as "Those Fabulous Redheads" in a nation-wide road tour in 1954. Agnes will do a stage version of "Sorry, Wrong Number," as part of the show.

It happened at a well-known night spot. Hollywood celebrities were being called to the floor to entertain at a charity affair. After much coaxing, Producer Joe Pasternak was hauled up, took a quick bow and mumbled, "Glad to be here, but I have no talent. Thank you."

But as Joe returned to his table, a drunk looked up, applauded madly and yelled, "More, more, more!"

Here Go The Girls
Producer Alex Gottlieb is turning cartwheels over the emoting of Anne Baxter in "The Blue Gardenia" and vowing that "she's a great actress who's been buried in men's stories for years."

The producer's big argument with Hollywood:

"If we don't start writing women's stories again, there won't be any great women stars. After Bette Davis, Joan Crawford and Olivia de Havilland, whom have you got?"

Susan Hayward is telling it around that her hubby, Jess Barker, may bust out as a sportswriter.

Bob Dalton's telling this story about Tallulah Bankhead: Her dog was killed by an automobile and the motorist tried to ease her grief by saying: "I'll be happy to replace your dog."

Tallulah snarled back: "Don't flatter yourself, sir."

There's still talk of a coast-to-coast TV program for the 25th annual Academy Awards, March 19.

But the big major studios, I hear, are turning thumbs down on the idea.

"One-Way Ticket," a movie based on the subject of drug addiction by adolescents, will blame their parents. Sam Price, hubby of Anne Francis, is the producer.

"I try to show that family tensions precede the dope habit in adolescents and give them a psychological tendency toward narcotics." Price told me. "It's not a popular theory. But I don't think that happy, well-adjusted youngsters with good family relations fall prey to narcotics, even when they're peddled around the high schools. The weakness starts earlier—at home."

ST. ELIE D'ORFORD

Many from this district were present at the largely attended funeral of Mrs. Samuel (Margaret) Roarke, which was held on Wednesday, January 22, at the Bishop Funeral Chapel, Sherbrooke.

Mrs. Roarke, who was the mother of ten children, leaves fifteen grandchildren and nineteen great-grandchildren. The meeting was opened by the Rector, Rev. Canon H. O. N. Belford, with the Litany from the "Living Message," Golden Jubilee Prayer and others.

The financial report was presented by the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. William Hetherington, and showed a very successful year's work, with all pledges having been met, a slight increase in the United T. O. and several food parcels sent to England.

Stewart, of Montreal, who has recently been bereaved by the sudden death of her sister, Miss Catharine Bowie, who was a member of St. Georges Church W. A., in Montreal, and with her sister, Mrs. Stewart, often attended St. Paul's W. A. meetings during the summer.

Entertaining plans were made to have a Valentine Tea and food sale.

Official Board Of Coaticook United Church Held Annual Meeting At Manse

Coaticook, Jan. 27. — The official board of the Coaticook United Church met at the Manse and received the annual reports of the various church organizations.

The meeting was conducted by Rev. Dr. W. B. Perry with 16 members present and opened with a prayer led by Dr. Perry. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Frank Hansford, and approved.

The report of the Session was read by the clerk of that group, A. A. Hopkins. This report covered the statistics of church membership, funeral services, weddings and baptisms held during the year. It also included an expression of appreciation of the service rendered by the organist, Mrs. Paul Brunet, the members of the choir, the Sunday School staff, the elders who had assisted at the sacrament observances, as well as the various officers of the men's and ladies' organizations.

The report of the board of stewards was read by the treasurer, Andrew Thompson. This revealed that, in spite of the additional expense added to the annual budget by the installation of the $3,000 oil burner equipment, the year had ended with a balance on the credit side of the books.

The report of the Women's Association was given by Mrs. John Stein. This showed that the ladies group had had a very successful and busy year. They had held several money-raising efforts such as rummage sales, teas, food sales, etc., and had catered to a wedding reception and a banquet. The ladies were congratulated and praised for the very valuable services they had rendered.

The W.M.S. report was given by Mrs. A. C. Jenks. It showed that this ladies' organization had also had a very good year.

Various phases of their important work were reported by the report of the Mission Band as prepared by the leader, Miss Isabel Wadleigh. Miss Wadleigh is to be commended for the valued and untiring efforts of her work with the young people.

The report of the Sunday School was given by the superintendent, Stanley Reesworth. He said that the Sunday School had increased in membership during the year. There are now 27 on the roll. The pupils took part in a special children's Easter service and held a Christmas White Gift service. Through the kindness of Mr. Hauser the children had enjoyed their annual picnic at his cottage at Lake Wallis. Several donations to the Sunday School funds from interested friends in the congregation were gratefully acknowledged by the superintendent.

The report of the choir was given by Jack Turnbull. Through the kindness of a few members of the church the choir had been able to purchase a new supply of anthems, which added much to the enjoyment of the weekly worship service during the year.

John Stein reported for the trustees of the Benevolent Fund. This fund is built up by special collections at the close of the communion services during the year and is used to aid members of the congregation who need assistance and comfort.

Among the other items of business discussed were the setting of the dates of the annual congregational meeting and the anniversary service, both to be held early in February.

UNITED CHURCH W.M.S.
The installation of the officers of the W.M.S. for 1953 took place at the home of Mrs. A. G. Jenks on January 20.

The president, Mrs. Perry, presided and received the reports of the work done by the various departments in 1952. These showed an increase in membership and gifts and that splendid work had been done along all lines of missionary endeavour. A vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Perry for her untiring efforts in making the past year such a successful one.

Dr. Perry then addressed the meeting. He drew attention to the last words of Jesus—"Go ye into all the world," saying that the W.M.S. had this world vision to which our Saviour referred. The words "I will be with you always" applied to all who would follow in the years to come, as well as to the disciples to whom He was bidding farewell.

The officers of 1952 were re-installed by Dr. Perry, with Mrs. Perry again as president, the ritual compiled for this service by the United Church, being used.

The family escaped uninjured. Two cars were lost in the blaze but several others were saved, as well as a small amount of household furniture.

members of the out-going executive committee were summed up by president Newman Hunter in his remarks: "January 1953 finds us in a very sound and enviable position attained by very few voluntary groups or service organizations. At the commencement of 1952 we announced our objective: to consolidate the good work of previous years and build for the future. All major objectives, with the cooperation of Legionnaires, have been attained.

In his report on the Poppy and Polio campaign, chairman of the committee, John Kay, said that returns this year from the Poppy tag day were not what they should have been with a drop of $50 from other years, a decrease that can be attributed to the shortage of volunteer canvassers. So short were they in fact that several sections of the city were not even covered, a flaw that must be mended in 1953.

On the other hand Branch No. 10 is to be saluted for drive returns of the Polio campaign which saw this Branch place third in the Province for its successful efforts.

Chairman of the Darts Committee Denis Hunt-Duke, reported on a venture undertaken last year for the first time, the organization of a dart team.

Memberships are reported to have jumped this year from 200 to 250 members, a direct result of a Membership campaign instituted at the beginning of 1952.

Chairman of the House Committee of the out-going executive, John Davey reported the installation of a much needed ventilation system and expressed his hope for insulation during the coming year.

Hospital and Visiting Committee chairmen Arthur Taylor and Claude Mongeau reported that 75 visits were made to the hospital

Outstanding Ballet-Opera To Be Shown

London Films' achievement, "The Tales of Hoffmann," will be presented on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week at the Granada Theatre.

The picture stars Robert Rounseville in the title role and features The Royal Philharmonic Orchestra conducted by Sir Thomas Beecham, Bart.

The prologue opens in the Opera House at Nuremberg where Hoffmann sits in the auditorium, madly in love with Stella, the prima ballerina, portrayed by Moira Shearer.

The sight of her re-opens old wounds and moving to a nearby tavern, he tells the story of his earlier loves, these being presented in "The Tale of Olympia," "The Tale of Giulietta" and "The Tale of Antonio."

The epilogue tells of the brief and final meeting of Hoffmann and Stella in the tavern.

Old-Timers Are Guests Of Lions Club At 12th Anniversary Night

The Lions Club of Sherbrooke last night combined its annual Charter night with a tribute to the "old timers" at a ladies night banquet held at the New Sherbrooke hotel.

A number of former members of the club were guests at the banquet and took part in the program which was featured by brief addresses by a number of past presidents.

Last night's program marked the celebration of the 12th anniversary of the local Lions.

Two former members of the club, Charles Jacques and Dr. J. A. Landry, acted as Tail Twisters for the evening and kept members digging into their pockets for fines, as they revived some of the penalties of past years.

Roland Savoie, who recently rejoined the club, made a lively song-leader.

The guests were welcomed by past president, Dr. Rene DuBerger, who, in addition, was the winner of a white "cowboy" hat which was the prize in a Chinese auction. The ladies prize in the auction went to Mrs. DuBerger.

An attractive compact with the Lions crest, the gift of Mrs. Cecil Dunn, was awarded as a door prize for the ladies and was won by Mrs. Armand Morissette.

A Lions Contest was held with Jos. Babin, Cecil Dunn and Dr. Landry as the contestants. This was won in a romp by Dr. Landry, who was presented with a suitable prize—a tin of sardines.

Humorous "presentations" were made during the evening to Wilfrid Routhier, Alex Allard and Eddie Canon.

The program was introduced by Doug Amaron, president, who provided the running commentary for the review of the club's history which was amplified by reports by past presidents Dunn, Canon, DuBerger and Chevalier.

The program was brought to a close with the showing of two brief films, one of the Lions excursion on Lake Memphremagog about 10 years ago, and the other of the local delegates trip to the Lions International convention at Mexico City last summer.

The films were provided by past president Alberic Julien and Rene Robert.

FEWER GOLDEN EGGS

The Bank of Canada recently published significant figures based on the financial reports of 500 Canadian firms with individual assets over $200,000. The earnings of these companies were split three ways taxes accounted for 48 per cent, dividends 30 per cent, and the remainder, 28 per cent, was available for business expansion.

There are many among us who are not disturbed by this 48 per cent corporation tax. In fact, one is tempted to assume that the Government is among those who hold with the "soak of corporation" policy as being one which affects only those who can well afford to pay taxes.

But surely there is a limit beyond which restriction on corporation expansion and development is most prejudicial to the interests of the future of the country. It is acknowledged that the development of Canada rests largely on the shoulders of Canadian industry, but unless that industry can expand through accumulated savings the basis of our present day prosperity will become narrower instead of wider. Corporation savings dropped by 22 per cent in 1951, and interim estimates show that the decline has continued. The situation was succinctly described by the executive vice-president of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Mr. T. J. Emmert last week: "It is plainly impossible for a company or an individual to go on living off capital, and borrowing, even to improve the tools he works with."

The same saturation limit has long since been reached on the municipal plane. We can agree with Warden McKillop's understatement, "Our taxes are beginning to be quite a load." His solution, also, is the most practical one, "Show economy." This solution offered by the warden for the county applies equally as well to the whole country. But defence appropriations, welfare services and the complexity of foreign trade fluctuations make the task of Mr. Abbott and his colleagues infinitely more stupendous than those facing the Elgin County Council. There is no doubt, however, that a program of economy in all municipal expenditure throughout Canada would contribute much to improving the national tax picture. If the people paid less local taxes they could find use for their money in buying what the corporations produce. But unless Ottawa sees fit to ease the burden on the corporations, they cannot save sufficient to guarantee and expanding industrial future. When the corporations cease to lay golden eggs, what source is left?

THE PUZZLE OF IRAN

The national economy of Iran since its long oil dispute with Great Britain has looked to the Western World like a fakir doing the celebrated Indian "rope trick" — suspended without visible means of support. The explanation, says The Christian Science Monitor is that Iran, for all its wealth of petroleum, is primarily an agrarian country.

"Black gold" somehow gets in people's eyes. In the United States it may be recalled even that when Oklahoma was in its heyday of oil production that state still earned more income from its farm products, chiefly cotton, corn, wheat, and livestock, than from petroleum.

Iranian oil revenues, moreover, poured only through government channels instead of reaching Iranians directly. Hence, especially under pressures of national pride, they could the more readily be cut off. And since the base was in agriculture and handicrafts, notwithstanding a low general income level, petroleum profits and royalties could be treated somewhat as a luxury.

This accounts for the unsuspected bargaining power found in the hands of Premier Mossadeq — whose authority to rule by decree has just been extended for a year. Yet even Dr. Mossadeq apparently has just about exhausted the leverage to be applied in his negotiations with the British Foreign Office and the former holders of the Anglo-Iranian concession.

A modern country cannot permanently forgo the advancement it might gain for its people by a development of its mineral resources. Nor can development be attained without technical skill and commercial outlets. Iran already has seen its place in the market filled and surpassed by production from neighboring Iraq, Kuwait, Bahrain, and Saudi Arabia.

There is the complication of the influence wielded by the Islamic nationalist leader, Mullah Kashani; but this at least in legal channels, seems to be waning slightly.

Hence, it looks as if eventual settlement on the basis of offers from London which American Ambassador Loy Henderson is presenting in Teheran may not be altogether a vain hope.

Press Comments

A MAHARAJAH

London Spectator

There is a lot of interest in Who's Who if you look for it, and quite a lot that you come on without effort. Take for example this entry, which I happened on while looking for something else; I give it in extenso:

ORCHHA, Maharajah of: H. H. Sir Saran-mad-i-Rajahai Bundelkhand Sawai Mahendra Maharajah Shri Vir Singh Deo Bahadur, KCSI cr. 1936; b. 14 April 1899; Succeeded 1930. Address: Orchha, Central India. All that — and then just that.

A LONG TIME COMING

Edmonton Journal

That was a proverbial ill wind which struck Edmonton. While it replaced the "banana belt" weather with a blast of Winter, it also restored the farmers' confidence in the country's ability to produce moisture.

During the extended mild spell, there was much searching back through the files of memory for a comparable Fall and early Winter period. As far as weather records go, however, the morning of Monday, January 5, when the thermometer dipped to one below, was the latest sub-zero weather has ever arrived in Edmonton. It ended a stretch of 290 days above zero.

ANOTHER "OK" THEORY

Winnipeg Free Press

Whence came the express "OK"? A number of explanations have been offered by historians. It has been held that President Andrew Jackson used "OK" as meaning all correct; that OK derives from man-Indian word okeh — meaning "it is so."

Now Prof. Allen Read of Columbia University advances a new theory. President Van Buren, who followed Jackson, was born at Kinderhook, New York and was known as Old Kinderhook. In 1840 his supporters organized Old Kinderhook or OK clubs and the letters have survived in the sense they now bear.

LOTS OF HORSES

Lethbridge Herald

Horses may be going out of fashion even here in South Alberta where the first horse ranches came on the heels of the Riders of the Plains — the Mounted Police in 1874. But Canada is using more horses today than ever before — horse power.

How many people realize that Canada has more than one horse power of installed electric plant for every one of our more than 14,000,000 people? That is a fact. At the end of 1952 we had 14,304, 230 horse power of installed electric plant for ties, an increase of 1,064,000 horse power made available during the year. That gives every employed worker in Canada more than three horse power at his command, which is one of the reasons that Canadians have one of the highest individual production outputs per capita in the world.

And it's only beginning. We are told that we have so far installed only 22 per cent of the known hydro electric power potential. And with our coal, oil and gas we can go to almost any lengths in increasing the figures by using the new super-steam plants.

Canada has great natural resources. But none of them is of greater value than the horse power available from electric developments to help our workers turn out a large daily amount of back-breaking work. We're making our new electric horses do the hard chores.

CORONATION SWORDS

UK Information Office

Furnishing and refurbishing ceremonial swords in preparation for the coronation is keeping British sword cutters busy. The 180-year-old Wilkinson Sword Co., of Acton, the only company doing this work has received orders for 2,000 swords.

An order just completed is for swords for the Royal Canadian Navy. The firm is executing an order for cavalry swords for the RCMP, and has in hand an order for sword belts for the Royal Canadian Navy.

Ceremonial swords have not been standard equipment for officers for Britain since before the war, but many officers have pre-war swords and are having these refurbished — at an average cost of about $15 each. The cost of a new sword is about $40, the exact price depending on the type.

The new swords are of about a dozen types and are being made for the Household Cavalry, the Yeoman of the Guard and others. The longest are those of the Household Cavalry — 38 inches, compared with the average of a little more than 30 inches. Many swords are being sent to be brought up to date — and will bear the Queen's cypher.

$40,000 RINK FOR $8,000

North Bay Nugget

That was a terrific story of "community effort" that came out of Temagami. It told of the official opening of Temagami's new curling rink, a project that was almost entirely accomplished through the voluntary efforts of the citizens of the community.

The rink is valued at approximately $40,000, but actually it cost only $8,000. The difference — $32,000 — represents the labor and materials "donated" by the people of the town. To obtain some of the material, club members even went into the "logging business," cutting some 600 logs in the bush and floating them down Lake Temagami. Every man, woman and child who could swing an axe helped out. The men also poured cement by lamplight.

While the male members of the club took care of most of the physical labor, the women members staged innumerable events to raise necessary cash.

DENTISTRY SANS GHOSTS

Detroit Free Press

Dental mirrors — the little things dentists poke into your mouth to have a look at that back molar — have been improved by plating them with rhodium to give the dentist a better view.

The old-type mirror showed secondary or "ghost" images. Since most dentists don't believe in ghosts, especially when hunting for cavities, this caused a lot of unnecessary and uncomfortable probing and picking.

Maybe that next visit to the dentist won't be so bad. But, he'd better not still be haunted by a mirror harboring ghosts!

Bible Thoughts

All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness.—II Timothy 3:16.

When you have read the Bible you will know it is the Word of God because you will have found it the key to your own heart, your own happiness and your own duty.—Woodrow Wilson.

Magistrate-Sportsman Takes True To Life Role In Film Board Short

Ottawa, Jan. 27. — (CP) — Rod-erick Haig-Brown of Campbell River, B. C., magistrate, fisherman and author, is taking a crack at picture making.

The 44-year-old, British-born short-story writer, novelist and famed fly fisherman is working on the final phases of a national film board short, "The Country Magistrate."

The story for the film was taken from his book, "Measure of the Year." He and producer-writer Robert Anderson of the CBC worked on the script and filming for three months in Campbell River before coming here.

Mr. Haig-Brown acts in the picture as the country magistrate. Proficient at both, the tall, lean sportsman acted in England years ago "to keep from starving" and is a magistrate at Campbell River. "I took over the job 10 years ago when they offered it to me after no one else wanted it," he said by way of explanation.

A native of Lansing, Sussex, Mr. Haig-Brown came to Canada when 18 after working six months in the United States. He worked in Vancouver Island logging camps from 1926 until 1929 and then wrote his first book, "Silver."

"While writing the book, I worked as an extra in British films and sold short stories to keep alive."

Since then he has written 10 books, countless short stories and become a world-famed angler. He won the Canadian Library Association award in 1946 for "Starbuck Valley Winter" and the Governor-General's citation for "Saltwater Summer" in 1948. His other works are "Pool and Rapid," "Ki-Yu," "The Western Angler,"

"Return to the River," "A River Never Sleeps" and "Timber."

Last winter Mr. Haig-Brown was invited to Argentina and Chile to inspect sports fishing.

It took a demonstration, but he taught the South Americans respect for fly fishing. Invited on a fishing expedition to remote Maitre Lake in Chile, he was told to leave his fly rod behind. "I brought it along anyway and landed six fish in two and a half hours. One was nine pounds and the smallest weighed six and a half pounds."

Mr. Haig-Brown has lived in Campbell River close to 20 years. He is married to an American girl, the former Ann Elmore of Seattle, Wash., and has four children. One of them, 11-year-old Alan, appears briefly in the film.

The story, intended primarily for European distribution, is simple, telling the everyday events in the life of a country magistrate. In one scene he holds court on a pier of the fishing village.

All the actors are neighbors of Mr. Haig-Brown. Even the R.C. M.P. officers are authentic. As director Anderson put it: "Who could play the part of a policeman better than a policeman?"

To keep grease spots from getting on the clothing of motorists from car doors, nylon plastic wedges are used in place of the usual metal wedges to keep the car door from rattling. They require no greasing.

A robot motorist with mechanical nerves is the newest scientific tool for designing more comfort and safety into automobiles. This device automatically records on a moving tape the slightest rolling, pitching, or zigzag motions in cars under test.

Western Family Builds Business In Fine Clothes

Calgary — (C) — A family from Britain is working here and adding an artistic touch to normal western production.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ottewill, among other articles, turn out hand-painted western shirts of striking and beautiful design and coloring. One of these shirts was worn by Calgary's "Miss Stampeder," Pat Dinnigan, at the beauty contest in connection with the Grey Cup final at Toronto last November.

The Ottewills have added several lines to their productions. Mrs. Ottewill makes shimmering evening gowns, with matching stoles, on which her husband paints delicate and detailed designs.

They say the largest demand is for "signature ties," on which the signature of the purchaser is reproduced with a mirror-image to make a curious, symmetrical design.

Mr. Ottewill is employed as a mechanic during the day, and does his painting in the evening. His wife, who was a singer in Britain, works alongside him on a battered sewing machine.

The whole family is talented. Janice, at 14 the oldest of three girls, is following the same artistic medium as her father. She had her first painting hung in the Guildhall at London when she was seven, and repeated the success the following year.

Dorothy, 12, is a tireless student of ballet and practices nightly at one end of the living-room. She has already appeared in several Calgary shows, and before she left London had been offered an audition with the famous Sadler's Wells Ballet Company.

Youngest is four-year-old Carol, who already shows signs of following in the light-footed steps of sister Dorothy.

On Canasta

PLAY FOR STAKES AND HAVE FUN

"Please settle a problem that stumps us in Cut-Throat Canasta," requests a San Francisco reader. "Three of us play the game very often, but our enjoyment is spoiled by the fact that one of the players persists in grabbing the discard pile before it's really worth much."

"As a result, she is usually the big loser, which doesn't bother her at all since we don't play for any stake."

"What burns us up is that we never get a chance ourselves to take the discard pile. We'd like to do that once in a while, but she always gets there first."

"What can we do about this?" This is the sort of problem that may plague players of many games. The same thing often happens in contract bridge when a player persists in overbidding, just because he or she wants to play all of the hands. It happens in pinochle, when a bidder refuses to be outbid. It happens in poker, when a player refuses to be driven out of a pot.

The problem is usually settled by playing for a stake. The player who won't let the others have a fair share of the fun is a sure loser, and the other players have all the fun when the time comes to pay up.

When the players prefer not to have a stake, there must be a spirit to give and take on all sides. Each player must act as though he or she really cared about the number of points won or lost. If you don't take a game seriously enough for that, you spoil the fun of the other players.

It should be enough to point out that simple fact. If a player persists in her bad habits even though she knows that she is spoiling the game for the other players, the only remedy is to stop playing with her. The only reason for playing a game is to have fun; and if some body spoils that fun, the game is just a waste of time.

Q—Suppose that a player has only one card in his hand. Is he ever, under any circumstances, permitted to take a discard pile that consists of only one card?

A—No; never. In the original rules, this was permitted after the stock pile had been exhausted, but the rule was changed several years ago. Under the present rules a player with only one card may never take a one-card discard pile.

SHORT STORY

Soucook Massacre

By Richard H. Wilkinson

Charlie Poe lived by his wits. Not because he had to but because he liked to. I could name a half dozen jobs he had been offered all legitimate, all of which he turned down. He couldn't bear the thought of routine and being tied down.

I met him unexpectedly one day last summer in Boston. "Not doing anything," he said when I questioned him. "What's wrong?" I asked. "Looking for something," he confessed.

"If you've nothing lined up," I suggested, "how about taking a ride up country with me? I'm making a two-day trip to Burlington." "Like to," he said.

We started the next morning. Charlie wasn't the cheerful companion I anticipated. Obviously there was something on his mind. Halfway across New Hampshire the road where a dozen or more cars were parked. A sign proclaimed the reason, "Visit the site of the famous Soucook Indian massacre," the sign read. "Nothing like it anywhere. Free lecture. Offers much by way of historical value. A scene you won't forget. Admission 25 cents."

"Stop!" said Charlie. I stopped. We got out and walked over to a shelter beneath which a man was selling tickets.

The man with the tickets saw us and urged us to buy, eloquently Charlie dug into his pocket and produced a half dollar. Presently about 20 people had purchased tickets and the man got down

Anniversary Is Observed In Australia

Melbourne, Jan. 27. — (C) — Australia celebrated the 65th anniversary Monday of the first British colony in the country.

Capt. Arthur Phillip landed with less than 1,000 persons at Sydney on Jan. 26, 1788, and yesterday Australians celebrated the event with a public holiday featuring sports and festive parties. Capt. Phillip's original settlement at Sydney was composed of convicts, soldiers, marines and sailors.

But what was designed to be a penal settlement has become a pioneer in social reforms such as compulsory free education, workmen's compensation and old age pensions. The population has grown to 8,700,000 and the colony which for several years was on the verge of starvation has become a great food exporter.

Australia's advances have been made in the face of enormous difficulties since Australia is an arid country. Of its 2,944,000 square miles, 37.6 per cent has an average annual rainfall of less than 10 inches. A further 30.8 per cent of the area is under 20 inches yearly.

It is therefore a notable achievement that 110,000,000 sheep and 15,000,000 cattle are successfully pastured and around 200,000,000 bushels of wheat are harvested yearly.

Since the middle of the 19th century Australia's prosperity depends on the export of wool since sheep thrive on the hot, semi-arid southern central parts of the continent.

Today Australia produces more than a third (1,000,000,000 pounds weight) of the total world production of apparel wool and 85 per cent of the world supply of mohair wool.

The country's system suited the early Australian pastoralists well in providing a plentiful cheap supply of labor. But revulsion against the system of transporting convicts mounted early in the 19th century and was abolished in 1850 just as gold was discovered.

This discovery led to a rapid increase in population—400,000 in 1850 to 1,145,000 in 1860—and an enormous increase in wealth.

By 1900 six separate self-governing states existed in Australia and federation came about in 1901 when the population was 3,800,000.

Secondary industry thrived during the first world war and in the post-war boom of the 1920s. Then came the depression and a catastrophic decline in the prices of wool, wheat and dairy produce which left Australia short of export funds to pay for essential imports and to service overseas debt.

Coaticook, Jan. 27. — There entered into rest on Friday, January 2, at the Sherbrooke Hospital, the late Elizabeth Bryan, wife of the late Charles O. Bacon, after a lengthy illness.

The deceased was born October 1, 1862, on a farm near Perryboro, Que., eldest daughter of the late John Bryan and his wife, Elizabeth Gooley.

Her early childhood was spent on the farm, but the rest of her life was lived in Coaticook, where for a number of years she engaged in a very successful dress-making business. In 1918 she was united in marriage with the late Charles O. Bacon, who predeceased her by four days.

She leaves to mourn her loss, two sisters, Verna, E. J. Theodora, both of Westbrooke, Me.; a sister-in-law, Mrs. Charles Bryan; two brothers-in-law, Mr. E. J. Thutotte and Mr. Charles Jordan; a niece, Mrs. Frank Hanford; two nephews, Norman and Sydney Bryan, of Coaticook, as well as other nieces, nephews and cousins.

The funeral was held from St. John the Evangelist Church, Coaticook, with Rev. Father Leon LeMay officiating. At the close of the service a funeral hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee," was reverently sung by Mr. W. J. Theriault.

The many beautiful floral tributes, the Masses, and the messages of sympathy received by the family all testified to the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

The bearers were Messrs. Roland Arcouette, Fred Hall, Kenneth Walker, Fred Mullins, Roland Chartier, and Arthene Tremblay. The funeral arrangements were under the direction of Mr. Charles Akhurst of the Knapp Funeral Home. Interment took place in the Mount Forest Cemetery in the family lot beside her father and mother.

MR. WILLIAM CALBAC, OF ST. ELIE D'ORFORD

On December 26, there passed away in the Sherbrooke Hospital, one of St. Elie's oldest and most respected citizens, Mr. William Calbac, in his 85th year.

Mr. Calbac was born in Valcartier on June 17, 1868, the son of the late John Calbac and his wife, Susan Fitzpatrick. He was married on September 14, 1896, and came to this community fifty two years ago, where he resided on his farm until the time of death. He was a kind husband and good father, always willing to give a helping hand to his neighbors.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his wife, Mary Ross; one son, Russell William, at home; two daughters and sons-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McBain and Mr. and Mrs. Irvine Arbery; one son, William James, died in his childhood; three grandchildren, Shirley and Joan Arbery, Myrtle Sage, her husband, Robert Sage, one grandchild, Gordon Sage, a brother, Mr. John Calbac; a half-brother, Mr. John Armstrong, of St. Elie d'Orford; a sister, Mrs. Thomas Potter; three half-sisters, Mrs. Albert Glidden, Mrs. Louis Potter and Mrs. S. Milligan, all of Berlin, N.H. Two sisters, Margaret and Annie, and one brother, Frank, predeceased him. He also leaves several nephews and nieces.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Robert Armstrong, William Arbery, Fred Gautrey, Henry McBain, John Roarkie and Frank Thompson, all old friends of the deceased.

Beautiful floral offerings surrounded the casket at Bishop's Funeral Chapel, where family prayers were said at 2 o'clock, thence to St. Peter's Church, where a Requiem Mass was celebrated at 10 o'clock. Burial was in the "Abide With Me" section of the cemetery.

Interment was made in Edmewood Cemetery.

"Food Surpluses" Were Discussed At High Forest

High Forest, Jan. 27. — "Food Surpluses" was the topic for discussion at the Farm Forum meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McConnell, when 25 were present.

After the broadcast three groups were formed for the discussion. The first question was (1) Do you think our present day markets and prices are sufficient to encourage farmers to produce to capacity?

All agreed that present day markets and prices are not sufficient to encourage farmers to produce to capacity. The past year has been an example, when a surplus of beef and pork as well as other farm products resulted in very low prices. Production costs were equal or more than the returns from the produce.

(2) What, if anything, should be done about surpluses to enable farmers to go ahead continually trying to produce more and more? More markets are a necessity and with a greater population there might not be so many surpluses. A fairly even exchange of trade between countries is necessary.

After the discussion several films were enjoyed and refreshments were served.

The Doctor Says

MUCH TO DISCOVER ABOUT THE NATURE OF VIRUSES

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.
Viruses are no respecters of age, but some viruses certainly attack children much more than grown-ups. Among the best known of such diseases are measles, mumps and polio—though all of them may attack a susceptible adult.

It is a little difficult to separate the viral diseases of children from those of grownups, but in addition to those mentioned, there are some others. For example, during the last few years, many communities have been affected with what is probably a viral disease, sometimes called the vomiting sickness, and spoken of more sedately by medical men as "epidemic vomiting and diarrhea."

The condition comes with remarkable suddenness and after a day or so the children seem to be entirely recovered. For this reason, it has so far been almost impossible to really study this disorder or to find out whether a virus is really responsible or not.

At any rate, those who have had it—and I happen to know that it is not confined to children—get over it promptly and completely without any aftereffects.

There are other curious conditions which seem to spring up from time to time that are equally obscure as to cause and treatment. Sometimes the children or grown-ups affected have symptoms similar to those of mild influenza or "flu." Indeed it is possible that such attacks may be caused by the same virus which is responsible for more typical cases of influenza.

The past 20 years have yielded a great deal of information on many of the viral diseases. There is, however, a long way still to go. Much more has to be learned about the nature of viruses, the differences between the various kinds, and the treatment of the diseases which they cause.

May Cause No Symptoms
Probably, viruses are constantly in us or upon us, but often lie quietly without producing symptoms. There is good reason to believe that this happens in some cases. Then under the stress of fever or some other stimulant to the virus, they may start producing noticeable trouble.

The vast majority of children who are attacked by these vague viral infections recover completely without any aftereffects. However, the doctors would feel much better if they knew more definitely what is responsible for some of these outbreaks and felt more certain that they would remain comparatively mild, short and unlikely to produce complications.

Choose an Indian Symbol For Your Secret Signature

BY M. L. HOPCRAFT

SELECT an Indian symbol as a private identification mark for your own school books, ruler, tablets and other personal possessions.

Indian symbols are very simple and are easily made since they're never exactly symmetrical or even. Every symbol has a meaning and it might be well to use the ones you feel are most appropriate. They may be stenciled, painted, or embroidered. Use them single or as borders for handkerchiefs, belts, towels, wastebaskets, flower pots, etc. If used on anything to be washed, be sure to make them of India ink or permanent colors.

If you have a friend who has moved away or a pen pal you correspond with, why not send them some Indian stationery for a gift. Buy the single sheets of plain note paper and choose an Indian symbol to print on the left hand corner. Use black India ink or colored — whichever you prefer.

The drawing shows a few of the most common symbols. Their meanings, keyed to the number, are: 1—RAIN CLOUDS means Bright Prospects; 2—SUN SIGN means Happiness; 3—BEAR TRACK means Good Hunting; 4—CROSSED ARROWS means Friendship; 5—PATHS CROSSING means Journeys; 6—MEDICINE MAN'S EYE means Wisdom, Watchfulness; 7—BIG MOUNTAIN means Abundance; 8—THUNDERBIRD means Bearer of Joy; 9—LIGHTNING ARROW means Speed; 10—MOUNTAIN RANGE means Strength; 11—DAYS AND NIGHTS means Time; 12—THUNDERBIRD TRACKS means Lead to Happiness.

AYER'S CLIFF

The treasurer Harold Hall, announced that all bills were in and had been paid on the chicken shoot held last fall. The total proceeds were $107.15 and expenses were $93.64. Although this event was not too successful financially, it was most successful in a social way, as a number of the sportsmen in the club and their friends were able to get together and discuss the topic of the day, hunting and guns and game.

It was decided to have the annual banquet the month of June this year. In conjunction with the dinner there will be a raffle of a boat, outboard motor, mix-master and automatic toaster. Tickets will be on sale as soon as arrangements can be made.

The next meeting will be held on March 3 at the Ayer's Cliff hall, at which time annual reports will be heard and the election of officers will take place.

Industrial Centre Is Being Established At Richmond

Three New Buildings Have Been Built In Effort To Attract New Industries

"Quite a venture," is the conservative estimate by Mayor Gaston Desmarais, Q.C., of the industrial center and other projects which have been built and will be built at Richmond.

The town has already built three industrial buildings in an effort to bring more industry to Richmond.

Two of the buildings are already occupied by important concerns. The B. and T. Foundry Company of Montreal is now employing about 12 men who are busy putting up machinery in one of the buildings, the first one put up under the industrial project.

By the time this issue is published, the H. H. Brown Company of Worcester, Mass., will have formally opened its first Canadian branch in the second industrial building erected by the town.

Manufacturers of heavy work shoes, the H. H. Brown Company planned to commence its Canadian operations with an employment roster of 100 persons, more than half of them men, and hope to expand.

Richmond authorities were elated that this company had chosen to come here.

The Richmond bid for this company defeated those of several other Quebec centers, including bids from Three Rivers and Granby.

is of concrete, brick and steel and, like the other two buildings on the industrial site, was built at a cost of approximately $75,000.

An important center of the Canadian National Railways, Richmond is a town of 3,500 persons with favorable C.N.R. connections on the Richmond-Quebec, Richmond-Portland and Richmond-Montreal line.

Counting the surrounding district, Richmond draws on a population of between 7,000 and 8,000 persons.

A grand total of more than $2,000,000 has been spent in the last year on construction.

While the industrial project, which commenced in February 1952 with the purchase of 60 acres of land from A. T. Smith—there are another 30 acres available to the town, if needed—came in for major attention from Richmond authorities and the press, the accessories which come with such a project should not be overlooked. Streets had to be opened, sidewalks had to be built, a sewage system installed, water made available and a railway siding built.

The old Valley Road has been rebuilt for a mile and is now Seventh avenue. This will be hard-surfaced in the Spring. An overhead pass on the Craig Road to be completed by the C.N.R. and the Provincial Government will cost $200,000.

Other major construction during the past year was the enlargement of the Wales Home for the aged and the completion of the large extension to the High School.

Shoe Supplies Manufacturing Company, an industry which employs 105 persons, built an addition which doubled its capacity, and, also during 1952, Prospect Shoes Limited, which employs 100 persons, moved to Richmond and is now housed in the building once the office and plant of La Diva Shoe Company.

MAYOR OF RICHMOND

GASTON DESMARAIS

Plans for the industrial center were made by the Sherbrooke engineering firm of Cote, Lemieux, Carignan and Bourque while Alphonse Belanger of Sherbrooke was architect for the industrial buildings.

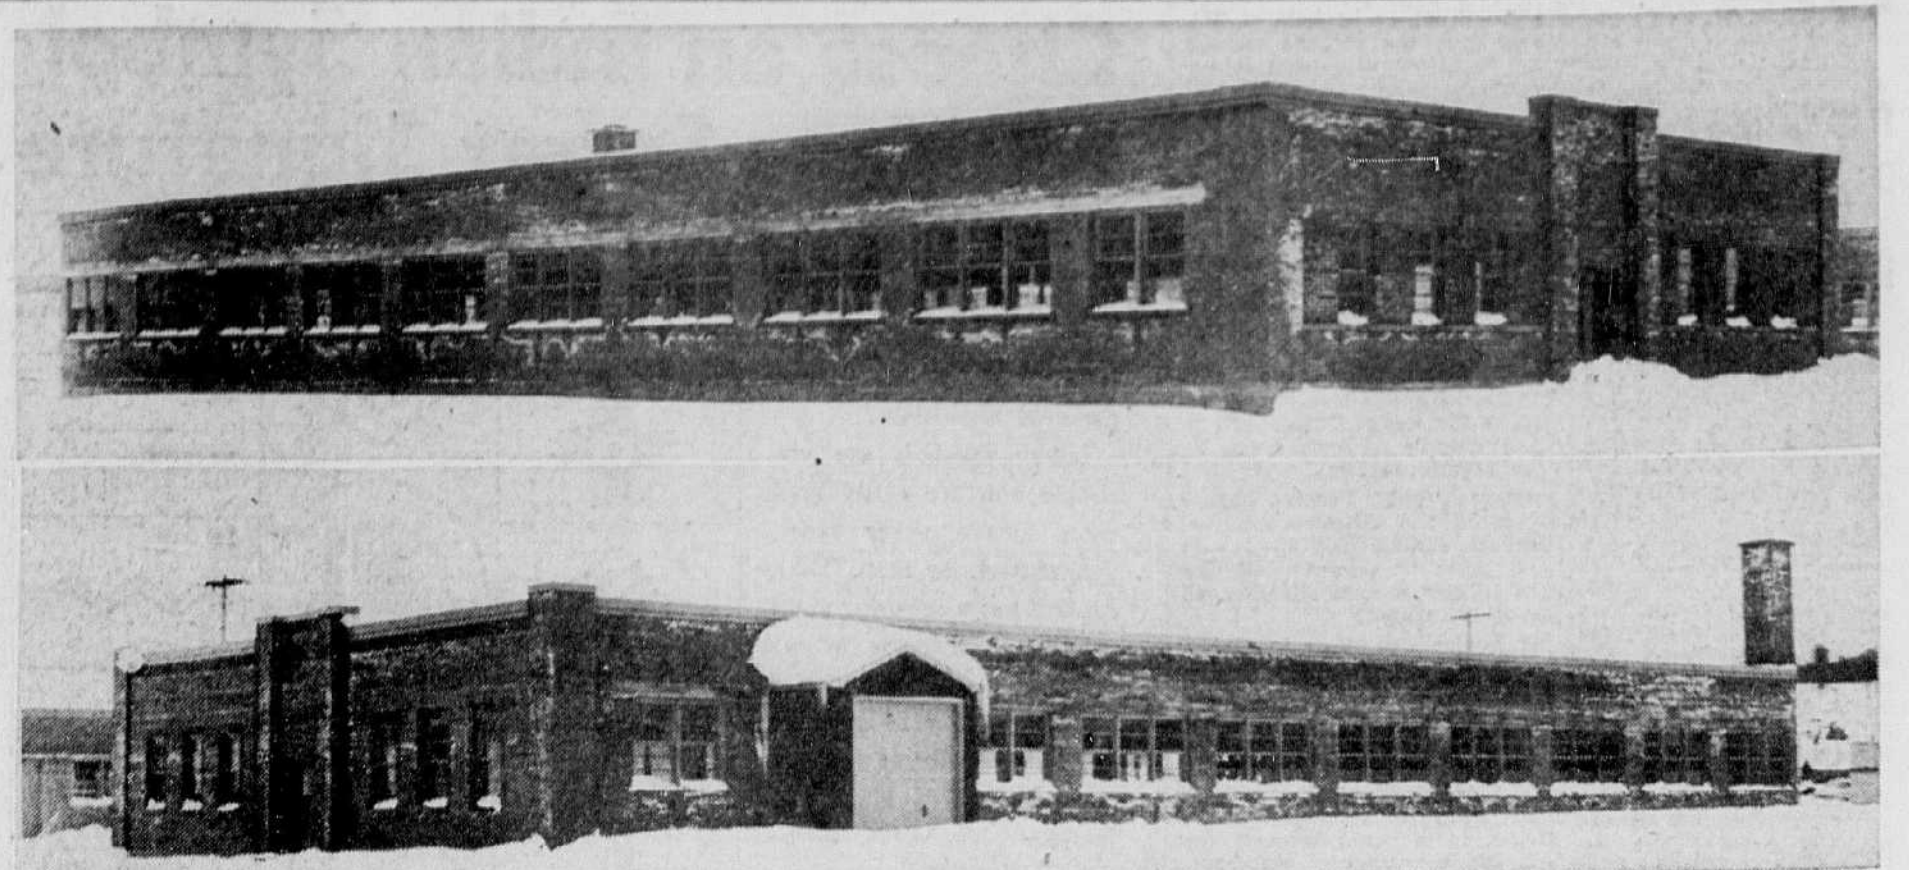

Adelard Jacques was the general contractor while other firms employed in the industrial project were: sash and door, J. E. Lemieux, Windsor Mills; concrete blocks, Willie Vaillancourt, Danville; roofing, plumbing and heating, Arthur Couture; painting, Le-doux and sons; and Romeo Paquette; brick laying, Charles Castonguay; structural steel, MacKinnon Structural Steel and La Metallurgie Moderne.

Brick, East Angus Brick and Tile; electrician, J. E. McCabe, Richmond; excavation, Bosco Construction, Magog; hardware, Codere Limited; heating, (standard building) Jos. Labrecque; sprinkler system (No. 2 building), Grinnell Company of Canada, Montreal; heating, (No. 3 building), Cloutier and Frere.

Construction of the large extension to St. Francis College High School of Richmond was effected by the R. E. Stewart Construction Corporation of Sherbrooke.

The extension cost about $300,000 and includes a gymnasium, cafeteria, six classrooms, offices and clinics.

Population of the United States increased more from immigrants than from births in the first ten years of this century.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Young were in Almonte, Ont., to attend the funeral of Mr. Young's uncle.

Mrs. Jennie Smith, who has been in the C. J. M. Hospital in Asbestos for a few days, is now recuperating at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Paige.

Mrs. Hilton Findlay, who was a patient in the C. J. M. Hospital in Asbestos for some time, is now staying at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Laxson.

Mrs. J. H. Boutelle is in Montreal for a few days. Mr. and Mrs. H. Hunter are in residence at the home of Mrs. Boutelle during her absence.

Who says a reinforced Concrete Building can't be Destroyed by Fire...

This building, a $3,920,000 loss, could have been saved with a Grinnell Automatic Sprinkler System

When the smoke cleared away... damage to this "fireproof" warehouse, and the 150,000 tires and tubes it contained, fell just short of the four million dollar mark! What a terrific price to pay for the lesson, already well-known to many, that "fireproof" buildings often serve merely as good stoves for flammable contents.

A Grinnell Automatic Sprinkler System could have prevented this costly fire. Grinnell Sprinklers offer any building... whether it is "fireproof" or not... positive protection against fire.

Grinnell Sprinklers stop fire at its source, wherever and whenever it strikes, night or day, automatically. 74 years experience proves this.

Consider the cost of fire... in terms of lives lost; property damaged; records ruined. Then ask yourself if you can possibly afford NOT to fully protect your warehouse, plant, store, theater, club, hotel, school, and hospital. This is especially true when you remember that a Grinnell System often pays for itself in a few years through reductions in insurance premiums. TWO GAMES SLATED TONIGHT IN E. T. INTERMEDIATE LOOP

Waterloo Travels To Richmond And Pirates Host To Tigers; Second Spot To Be Decided By Outcome

Second position in the Eastern Townships Hockey League will be at stake this evening as two games are scheduled in the circuit. Waterloo travels to Richmond and Victoriaville moves over to Drummondville to complete the bill.

Drummondville and Magog are slated for second spot while Waterloo trails one point in the rear of the two aggregations but a loss for the Pirates and a win for the Maroons would move them into sole possession of the much sought-after spot in the loop. Cliff Goulet's Aces of Magog are idle tonight.

The Tigers and the Phantoms are the squads who will play the big part in deciding just who will move into favored position. The Jimmy Planché team is an unpredictable unit and blow hot or cold. It is hard to forecast just what they will do but Coach Planché is looking for a win this evening from his charges. It will be the second time this year that the Maroons have travelled to

Brompton Dumps Beebe 6-1 In Valley Fixture

Beebe, Jan. 27.—The Brompton hockey squad continued their winning ways in the Massachusetts Valley Hockey League when they ran off with a 6-1 decision over the Beebe Club in a regular loop fixture.

The Leblanc brothers were the pace setters when they divided three goals while Morissette got two and Charland accounted for the other. Poulin tallied for Beebe to spoil Labbe's shutout.

In the opening period Morissette tallied the first marker when he finished off a play with Charland and Gaudet for the only goal of the frame. In the middle session E. Leblanc teamed up with Ponton and M. Emond to give the Brompton squad a 2-0 lead but in the final stanza the visitors exploded for four goals to Beebe's one, and only, marker.

Morissette opened the scoring and when Frappier got the thumb for tripping Charland tallied his marker. Gaudet left Brompton short handed and this was the opening for the Beebe tally which Poulin registered.

In the last minute of play J. Emond went off for holding the puck and when Beebe moved into the attack G. Leblanc tallied two goals twenty seconds apart to end the scoring for the game.

Quebec Minor Hockey Association Holds Semi-Annual Meeting; Large Number Attend; Playoff Dates Set

The Semi-Annual meeting of the Quebec Minor Hockey Association, and executives, Harry Markson, managing director of the International Boxing Club who was Jacobs' old publicity man; John Reed Kilpatrick and Ned Irish, executives of Madison Square Garden, showcase of many of Jacobs' premier presentations, and others.

Jacobs' widow, Josephine, and his four sisters, Mrs. Anna Kanan, Mrs. Etta Hirsch, Mrs. Hanna Oppenheim and Mrs. Mary Betts, followed behind Dr. Mark in the mourners' procession.

The fight mob silently followed into the streets. Then they reminisced of the old days.

"He was a hot and cold guy," said manager Sol Gold. "One minute he'd do anything for you. Five minutes later he was mad and fighting with you. Later he'd apologize. He was smart and a good business man."

"Yeah," said Jimmy (Fats) Di Angelo, another fight manager. "He was smart all right. It didn't matter who you were or who you had, if you had the attraction, you got in there. And he paid you every cent you were worth."

"Yeah," said another, "he knew what he was doing all the time. He makes these guys today look like amateurs."

"Yeah," said wide-eyed Willie Ketchum, another manager, "Mike would have loved it today. He had a sellout to the very last day."

Prentice Out For At Least Another Week

New York, Jan. 27.—(P)—New York Rangers, of the National Hockey League, announced today that rookie forward Dean Prentice, who was injured in a game at Chicago, Jan. 18th, would be out of action at least until Feb. 8th.

Prentice, of South Porcupine, Ont., suffered a small crack in a bone in the rib section, and there was a slight laceration of the lung, physicians found after examination in Chicago and New York.

Red Wings Shipping As N. H. L. Season Hits Two-Thirds Mark But Howe Is Still Forging Ahead In Scoring Race

Montreal, Jan. 27.—(P)—With the National Hockey League race just about at the two-thirds mark, the Detroit Red Wings are showing alarming signs of slipping.

They salvaged only a tie in three games last week, worst performance of any team in the League.

Such harsh treatment not only helped jeopardize Detroit's leadership in the NHL but also did unkind things to goalie Terry Sawchuk's average.

Montreal Canadiens profited most during the week. In four games they had two wins and a tie and sliced Detroit's lead to a single point. A week ago Canadiens trailed by five points.

Whatever the team malady, the Red Wings weren't all affected individually. The league's official statistics, released today, show Gordie Howe even farther ahead in point-scoring and his nearest teammates maintaining approximately the same positions they held a week ago.

Howe added two goals and two assists to bring his total to 57 points, 12 more than Wally Hergesheimer of New York Rangers. The gap was only nine points last week, but Hergie is still in second place with 45.

Howe is well out in front in goals. He has 31, against Hergesheimer's 21, next best. Howe's 26 assists are only one behind the league-leading 27 piled up by teammate Alex Delvecchio.

Maurice (Rocket) Richard of Canadiens picked up four goals during the week and moved into a third-place tie with Detroit's Ted Lindsay, each with 44 points.

Paul Ronty of Rangers and Metro Prust of Detroit continue to hold fifth and sixth places, although Prust went pointless and has 35 to 39 for Ronty, who added three points during the week.

The goalies' standings were practically unchanged although Sawchuk's average was jolted by an 8-2 victory by the Rangers. His 2.09 still is the best goals-against mark, but a week ago it was 1.92.

Gerry McNeil follows with an average of 2.15 against 2.14 a week ago—and he leads the league in shutouts with seven.

Ted Lindsay of the Red Wings is still the most penalized player in the league. He has served 94 minutes, George Gee of the Hawks is next with 79 minutes, Toronto is the most penalized club with 580 minutes.

Rocky Marciano Receives Ray Hockok Belt For Top Athlete Of Year; Tony Despirito Finishes Second

Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 27.—(P)—Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano last night received the $10,000 Ray Hockok belt as "professional athlete of the year" in 1952 at the Rochester Press-Radio Club dinner.

Hockok presented the prize belt with its solid gold buckle and 26 diamonds to the 28-year-old slugger from Brockton, Mass., to keep permanently.

Marciano, unbeaten in 43 fights with 38 knockouts, broke the grip of baseball in the pro competition. Phil Rizzuto, New York Yankee shortstop, won the first award in 1950, and Allie Reynolds, Yankee pitcher, nipped Jersey Joe Walcott for the 1951 award.

Marciano polled 80 first-place votes from the country-wide panel of 146 sports writers and sportscasters. On the basis of 3-2-1 for a first, second or third-place mention, The Rock piled up 309 points.

Tony Despirito, the 17-year-old riding flash from Lawrence, Mass., who broke all records for riding winners in a year, finished second with 201 points.

Bobby Shantz, the Philadelphia A's half-pint southpaw who was named most valuable player in the American League, finished third with 120 points.

Mickey Mantle, the Yankees' replacement for Joe DiMaggio in center field, was fourth with 90 points.

Julius Boros, national Open golf champion, from Southern Pines, N.C., and Willie Hoppe, the greatest billiard player of them all, each had five first-place votes. Joe Black, Brooklyn's brilliant relief pitcher, had two firsts and Walcott polled one.

Bob Solinger Appears Cinch For Another Chance In Big League Hockey; Pacing Hornets In A. H. L.

Pittsburgh, Jan. 27.—(P)—Bob Solinger, a failure in two previous big-league hockey tries, appears a shoo-in for another chance if he keeps up his sensational current pace.

Solinger, left-winger for the Calder Cup Champion Pittsburgh Hornets, is the hottest stickman in the American Hockey League. In the last four games, he's scored nine goals and six assists, twice pulling the hat-trick and another time tallying twice.

The 26-year-old forward slammed three goals against Syracuse Jan. 17 and repeated the performance the next night against Buffalo.

His scoring spurge has helped lift the Hornets from third place to the top of the league by a single point over Cleveland Barons.

Coach King Clancy calls Solinger the best left-winger in the AHL. "He's a natural," says Clancy. "We had five more like him."

Solinger broke into big-league hockey with the Toronto Maple Leafs in the 1951-52 season. He didn't see much action but managed to show enough ability to remain with the team the rest of the season and again at the start of the present campaign.

Last month the 180-pound ace was told to report to the Hornets. His heart sagged and he was ready to throw-in the sponge. Hadn't a doctor once told him to give up hockey?

An eye injury almost cost Solinger his career in 1949. A flying puck during a scramble hit him in the left eye, blinding him for a couple of months. His physician

Prospect Of Grey Cup Semi-Final In West Pleases Ontario Union; C. R. F. U. To Give Final Decision

It appears that a Grey Cup semi-final alternating between the West and the East is in the bag. The three big senior circuits in Canada are for it.

Brainchild of the Big Four Football Union, the semi-final has been given the unofficial endorsement of the Western Conference and the Ontario Rugby Football Union. The ORFU is the breeding ground of Canadian football players and its champion would play the West this year and the Big Four in 1954.

Unless some unexpected opposition to the proposal is voiced at the Canadian Rugby Union's annual meeting in Edmonton in March, the semi-final can be considered a shoo-in.

Norm Perry of Sarnia, first vice-president of the CRU, said he hoped the plan would have the backing of the Western league, indicating he would throw his weight behind the suggestion at the CRU annual meeting.

Sam Shefsky, president of Toronto Balmy Beach, said the ORFU is the backbone of the sport in developing Canadian players, and for this reason should not be left out of the Grey Cup picture.

He thought the game would be well attended out West, recalling an exhibition tour the Beasles made in 1948. "We made money on that trip," he said.

An official of Windsor Royals said the game was a good idea providing it was played in the West or the ORFU team's home park, and not in Varsity Stadium in Toronto.

There would be no advantage at all if the game was played in Toronto," he said. "But if the ORFU teams had an opportunity to go West or play a final in their own parks it would create new interest in the league."

If the Big Four suggestion is approved by the CRU the first game probably would be played this year in the West. It would mark the first time an Eastern team has gone to Western Canada to participate in anything but an exhibition game.

Hildebrand stayed on top in the goal-getting department with 28, an increase of one from the week before. Sullivan's 26 assists were high with Ferguson second at 23.

Gil Mayer of Pittsburgh continued to lead the goalies with an average of 2.46. He has given up 101 goals in 41 games while scoring two shutouts. The sensation of the league, however, is Jacques Plante, Buffalo newcomer who has yielded only 17 goals in his first nine games. Plante has not played in enough games to count among the leaders.

Bill Tobin Pays Fine; Team Trips Murder

Chicago, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Bill Tobin, general manager of Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League, yesterday filled out a cheque for a $500 fine and levelled a blast at the quick trips his team is forced to make.

"No team in the league has been subjected to the travelling conditions we have had imposed," he said. "We just went through another one of those quick trips from a Saturday night game in Montreal to a Sunday game in Chicago. They're murder."

"We leave Montreal at 11 p.m., arrive in Toronto at 6:30 a.m., fly out of there at 7:15 a.m. and arrive in Chicago at 11 a.m. We're not going to put up with such conditions next year," Tobin's $500 fine was the first imposed on him in 27 years with the Hawks.

"I was fined for going into the official's dressing room during a game Jan. 10 between the Hawks and the Canadiens at Montreal," he explained. "The rules say you can't go in even if invited."

Tobin accused officials of holding forward Gus Bodnar in the penalty box one minute and a half longer than he was required to serve.

"No, I won't appeal the fine," he said. "What's the use?"

"Pappy" Gault Earns Decision Over Charlie Debow In Close Battle; Referee Forced To Call For Action

Quebec, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Henry "Pappy" Gault of Spartanburg, S.C., last night won a 10-round decision over Charlie Debow, of Brooklyn, N.Y.

Gault, North American bantam-weight champion, weighed 121 Debow 119½.

Two judges gave the decision to Gault by a slim margin, while the third judge called it a draw. There were no knockdowns.

Gault's piercing left jab gave him a slight edge over his taller opponent in the early rounds.

Debow, however, showed more speed and harder punching in the infighting as he closed the fight with fast, looping right crosses to the head and body.

The crowd of slightly more than 2,000 booed several times and stamped for action. Both fighters wrestled to the canvas twice, once at the close of the seventh round and again in the ninth.

The decision was not popular with ringside spectators.

Gault, who gained local popularity on the strength of two decisions over Fernando Gagnon of Quebec to win and retain his title, held an edge in the first three rounds with his left, landing one good right in the second heat.

Debow struck four self rights in succession in the eighth round and three more in the ninth but without doing serious damage.

Referee Joe Villeneuve had to call out "come on, fight" to the two boxers three or four times.

Tony Percy of Drummondville, Que., won the six round semi-final by a technical knockout over Gerald Head of Washington, D.C., in the fifth round.

Reports Presented At Vestry Meeting Of St. Peter's Church At Cookshire

Cookshire, Jan. 27. — The annual Vestry Meeting of St. Peter's Church was held in the Church Hall on Tuesday, January 20, with a good attendance. The meeting was preceded by a parish supper, at which about sixty sat down to a delicious turkey meal provided by the ladies of the congregation.

As the supper drew to a close, the rector, the Rev. William C. Dunn, addressed the gathering, expressing his thanks for the welcome and support given since his coming to the parish in August, and congratulating the parish organizations on their excellent work. He spoke of the newly formed Guild of Servers, the new branch of the G. A. and of plans for a junior choir. The Sunday School was in excellent condition, and he asked for loyal support of the monthly Family Service. He outlined plans for a chapel in the parish hall, and mentioned some of the outstanding financial and other problems. He concluded by asking the congregation to stand as he read the roll of members who had passed away during the year.

The formal business of the vestry was then begun. With R. G. Gage as clerk of the meeting, the minutes of the 1952 meeting were read and adopted. Reports were given about the completion of the chancel steps and rail as part of a memorial to the late Oliver Cromwell, and it was decided to erect a small brass plate to commemorate this. Tribute was paid to O. A. Osgood for his work in this matter.

The financial report was presented, showing all indebtedness met, and though expenses had somewhat exceeded revenue, there was a substantial balance on hand.

The chairman then called on the representatives of the various parish organizations to present their reports. St. Peter's (Senior) Guild, St. Margaret's Guild, the W.A., all gave very encouraging reports. The chairman presented the reports of the Sunday School and the choir, paying special tribute to the work of the organist, Mrs. G. Gill. It was also reported that there is still a good balance in the Oliver Cromwell Fund.

The election of officers followed. The wardens, R. C. Hodge and J. R. French, were both returned to office. Other officers and committees were also re-elected, and the sexton re-appointed.

The election of parochial delegates to the Diocesan Synod resulted on the choice of Dr. S. J. Bennett and H. Barter, with John MacDonald and Donald Standish as alternates.

Several financial matters were then dealt with. It was decided to contribute an additional $50, to the budget for missionary purposes, and also to try to make an extra contribution of $100, towards the minister's stipend.

Adjournment brought an end to what had proved to be the best attended and one of the most interesting annual meetings to be held in a number of years.

H. C. Barter, who has been a faithful member at the vestry meetings, was unable to attend due to illness and greetings were sent to him from the meeting.

Concert At The Boundary Draws Good Audience

Derby Line, Jan. 27. — The free recorded concert held at the Haskell Library reading room Wednesday evening, drew an audience of 35 people from the Boundary Communities, and proved to be very pleasing. The concert was sponsored by the International Community School, and arranged by Earl Heath.

Thanks to Levesque, Ltd., a fine radio-phonograph was used for the records, and programs mimeographed by Stanstead College were distributed to those present. All of the records played were well received, with perhaps especial interest shown in Yma Sumac's songs of the Inca Indians, and Robert Frost reading his own poems. The Beethoven Sixth (Pastorale) Symphony was also a highlight of the program, as were the light classic songs by Eugene Conley. The opening selection, Roumanian Rhapsody by Enesco, and the closing number, Mephisto Waltz by Liszt, both played by the New York Philharmonic-Symphony Orchestra, proved to be very listenable.

E. J. Struthers proposed a vote of thanks to Earl Heath for the concert, praising the quality and variety of the records, and suggesting that another such event be scheduled for February. Announcement will be made well in advance.
