Eight hurt in local accidents

Eight persons have been injured in auto accidents so far this month in Westmount.

Two persons were hurt in a two-car collision Feb. 17 at the intersection of Wood avenue and Sherbrooke street. One of the cars was driven by Carl Graham, 28, of Roxboro, who was injured along with a passenger in his car. C. E. Corbett, 49, also of Roxboro. The driver of the second car, Michele Perrier, of 2590 Des Carriers, Montreal, escaped injury. The collision occurred at 8.20 a.m.

Five persons were injured, none seriously, when two cars collided Feb. 12 at Prince Albert and Western avenues. Four of the injured, residents of Montreal and Verdun, were in one car. The other injured man was the driver of the second car. The mishap took place at about 11.45 p.m.

PRIME MINISTER AND PUBLISHER

Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson and members of the Government were the luncheon guests of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association during their Semi-annual meeting held in the Chateau Laurier, Ottawa, Monday, February 22. Urges basic rights be guaranteed with referendum provision

For the second time in less than a week the City of Westmount has made representations to Quebec officials on provincial actions that may greatly effect the future of the city.

A telegram signed by Mayor Michael L. Tucker was sent this week to Minister of Municipal Affairs Pierre Laporte stating Westmount's opposition to Bill 13 in its present form.

The Bill, now before the Legislature would permit the amalgamation of municipalities without a referendum of the municipalities' property owners.

TELEGRAM SENT

In the telegram Mayor Tucker stated:

CITY OF WESTMOUNT STRONGLY OPPOSE ADOPTION OF BILL THIRTEEN IN PRESENT FORM. RESPECTFULLY APPEAL TO GOVERNMENT TO INCLUDE PROVISION FOR REFERENDUM IN BILL BEFORE ADOPTION. SUCH GUARANTEE ESSENTIAL TO SAFEGUARD RATEPAYERS' RIGHTS.

Copies of the telegram were sent to Premier Jean Lesage and the Hon. J. Richard Hyde, speaker of the House and member for Westmount-St. George.

Mayor Tucker's action followed representation by many of the Montreal area mayors and city councils along the same line.

OPPOSITION DISMISSED

Municipal Affairs Minister Pierre Laporte, during second reading of the bill late this week dismissed the opposition by saying the bill would not find favor with "those mayors and councillors who above all want to hang on to their jobs."

Bill 13 would permit municipalities to amalgamate after approval by a simple majority of a city council and without reference to the citizens.

Just last week Westmount and the Westmount Municipal Association asked for changes and further study before any action be taken on the recommendations of the Blier Report.

It has been felt that under the present terms of Bill 13, city councillors of a municipality might be subject to influences from outside their community and those pressures might cause them to pass what is in essence annexation resolutions.

The bill has aroused strong opposition in many areas of the province where it is seen to be a threat to the basic right of citizen government.

Juveniles held in car theft

Three juveniles, including two from Westmount, were picked up by Westmount Police this week after a car later reported stolen was pushed down the hill at Greene avenue almost to St. Antoine street.

Police say the three juveniles were spotted pushing the car and were later picked up in a laneway for questioning. One of the teenagers was discovered to have run away from his home in Sherbrooke and he was handed over to Social Welfare Court to be transferred back to Sherbrooke.

A short while later a car fitting the description of the car pushed by the juveniles was reported stolen. Police believe the teenagers moved the car from Greene avenue in order to take it to a place where they could try to get it started without attracting attention.

The car was only the second auto to be reported stolen in Westmount this year. The first theft occurred ten days ago and that auto has not been recovered so far. Car thefts in the city, so far this year, are "considerably lower" than during the same period last year, police say.

Preparatory work going ahead

Demolition continuing

Demolition of buildings located on the site where the Westmount Centre complex will be built, is almost complete.

This week the wrecking crews started on some buildings fronting on St. Catherine street while other buildings nearby were still occupied by tenants.

The remaining tenants occupying property now owned by the Westmount Centre have received notice to vacate their premises by the 1st of April.

Demolition on the Western-Wood-St. Catherine-Greene site of the major complex is almost complete, and a spokesman for the Centre this week reported that most demolition will be completed shortly and the remaining buildings will come down as soon as they are vacated.

City Council last week approved the redivision of all the lots involved in the project into one large lot. The sale of Elm avenue land was given final approval by the City Council a few weeks back.

The Westmount Centre spokesman said details of when excavation work might start "may be available" next week.

Pile driving necessary

Workmen of the Parco Company are busy pile driving at the site of the 16-storey office-apartment building in the Claremont-Western-York area.

Persistent rumors have stated that the builders ran into difficulty at the site and engineers had to be called in to deal with 'river bed' condition of the soil.

Officials at the site deny this and say they have encountered "only the difficulties of any winter construction."

However, the soil that can be seen is totally unlike the earth laid bare at other construction sites. It is yellow-brown in color and its texture is somewhat like sand or silt.

The area has taken such a pounding that workmen have kept a check on nearby houses to see if any damage has resulted.

Excavation start soon

Excavation work at the old Atwater Ball Park site of the West End Plaza may begin "at any time."

A spokesman for the project said this week that workmen are still preparing the site. At present "levelling and lining work" is being done.

Plans for the ground-breaking are expected to be announced "shortly."

Rotary hears blind appeal

W. E. Williams, executive director of the Montreal Association for the Blind, addressed members of the Westmount Rotary Club at Victoria Hall, Wednesday, with a plea for support for those aided by his association and a report of the manner in which it is being operated at the present time.

The services, he said, are necessary, they cannot be obtained in any other way, and are being formed efficiently.

Annual appeal for funds of the association is now in progress, Mr. Williams pointed out, and reminded his listeners that the campaign is conducted only by mail — the Montreal Association for the Blind, he said, makes no door to door canvass, and sells no magazines subscriptions.

He also stressed that the association does not employ telephone canvassers of any kind, and that those who may think they are helping the association by giving in any other way than the recognized mail campaign are actually not benefitting his cause in any way whatsoever.

Atwater Library

Three color films will be shown at the Atwater Library Wednesday, March 3, at 8.15 p.m.

The films listed for the program are Hawaii Calls; Japan — Land of Enchantment; and Mexico—Route of Independence. They will be shown courtesy of the Canadian Pacific Railways.

The library, located at Atwater avenue and Tupper street, presents the Wednesday evening programs free of charge.

Arizona city gets flag from Westmount

The City of Tucson, Arizona, now has the national flag of Canada to fly when the occasion permits. The flag, a gift of Mayor Michael L. Tucker, was relayed to Mayor Lou Davis of Tucson through City Manager Norman T. Dawe and his Tucson counterpart, Mark Keane.

The presentation of the Maple Leaf flag took place in Tucson over the weekend as Mr. Dawe attended a meeting of the executive of the International City Managers' Association.

Mr. Dawe, vice-president of the International group, represented Canada and all European countries with municipal systems at the executive gathering.

"In actual fact," Mr. Dawe said, "the flag was a gift from the Mayor of Westmount to the Mayor of Tucson."

It is believed to be the first time that the new flag has been relayed to an American city.

The city managers, who plan their conferences on the weekends in order not to take time off from work, deal with every area of concern to civic governments.

Among recent projects was the production of a movie film on city managing designed to be shown in schools to interest students in careers in municipal government. The managers are conducting studies on many subjects of interest to cities, including the application of space technology research to local problems. One city, Pasadena, California, has already voted the money for use of nuclear energy to manufacture electricity for the city.

The next meeting of the International City Managers is scheduled to be held in Montreal in September.

Elizabethan Evening presented by Westmount High students

The students of the Theatre Club of Westmount High School last night presented their first performance of this year's drama project — An Elizabethan Evening. The second performance will be given this evening at the school auditorium.

Even before the audience entered the auditorium they were treated to glimpses of the Elizabethan era. Just after entering the school they could see an exact model of Shakespeare's Globe Theatre, and scrapbooks on Elizabethan subjects.

The model, an excellent three-dimensional recreation of the Bard's theatre, was built by Norman Charney and Albert Ransom, assisted by Mr. Strokowski and Yohanan Herson.

The evening of madrigals and drama began with an "Elizabethan Prelude" presented by the Girls' Choir and Deidre Vogan and Vivia Stewart.

Scenes from Julius Caesar, culminating in the assassination, followed. In the cast were Lewis Greenblatt, Grier Gundall, Neil Charness as Caesar, Brutus and Cassius. Susan Wood played Calpurnia, and Bluma Litner, Portia.

"An Elizabethan Interlude" followed the intermission with the choir and soloists performing again.

Scenes from Macbeth followed with Michel Shore in the title role. Included in the cast were Tova Wisenthal as Lary Macbeth, Brian Hill as Malcolm, Peter Blakely as Banquo, and Richard Kaplan as Macduff.

Members of the Theatre Club Executive are Tova Wisenthal, Suzanne Levine, George Schwalbe, and advisor Miss D. King.

Stage Manager was Rod Tilley, sound crew manager, Steve Grossman, lighting crew manager, Robert Day. Convener for the make-up committee was Ruth-Ann Eliasoph.

WE SAY

Few facts in Blier material

AS reactions to the Blier Report are made public, one fact becomes more clear. The material the Blier Commission was presented, the material of the Commission's report, and the reactions that stem from the report, are all, for the most part, made-up of opinion.

The ICC, in its memorandum to the cabinet committee now studying the report, complains that the commission did not carry out any studies on geographic, economic, political, demographic and other factors. But neither did the ICC. The individual municipalities might possibly be able to plead that they did not have the resources to present facts and prepare studies to present to the commission, but surely if the ICC is to justify its existence it must undertake what individual municipalities cannot do alone. Even in the memorandum itself, the ICC has very few facts and a great deal of opinion.

However, the opportunity to use the tools of science and of history to determine the realities of the situation existing in this area, has probably passed.

Now, the citizens of Westmount are faced with the very strong possibility that a system of regional government may be set up that could lead to the liquidation of the city as a separate municipality.

If the Montreal General Council is to be set up, a possibility suggested in Westmount's brief to the Blier Commission should be ex-

YOU SAY

Suggests Speaker should resign

Dear Sir:

I would like to suggest that the voters of Westmount-St. George got 'a dirty deal' when their representative Richard Hyde was named the Speaker at Quebec.

Since his election we have heard nothing from him. I understand that now when the Westmount Municipal Association, as well as the City of Westmount, need him to aid their causes in connection with the Blier Report and other matters, that his hands are tied. As Speaker he must remain neutral. For all practical purposes this leaves Westmount-St. George without a representative in the Provincial Government just at a time when he is needed.

I wonder if the Quebec Liberal Party thought of this before his appointment? It seems to me that the strongest opposition they could have expected to their forced annexation program, and other programs, would have come from the alert and articulate residents of Westmount; by muzzling the representative of those citizens, they have effectively rendered neutral whatever opposition their programs might arouse in Westmount.

I don't suppose anything can be done about the situation now — unless it is possible for Mr. Hyde to resign as Speaker and beginning looking after the affairs of his constituents now that they need a representative.

plored. The brief suggested the breaking down of existing overgrown and overpowering municipalities such as Montreal into less unwieldy units. If the commission truly rejects annexation as a solution, why should it not be possible to restore autonomy to areas annexed by Montreal in the past that now could provide the resources to insure their administrative efficiency.

Thomas More Institute

Community change to be lecture theme

European, United States and Canadian educators and philosophers are taking part in Thomas More Institute's 20th anniversary lecture program which has just been announced to open on Sunday, February 28, under the title "Insight and Expectation: Existential Community and Projection into the Future", a scientific and philosophical exploration of the motivation behind our community organization and change.

Locale for the series is the auditorium of the Royal Bank, Place Ville Marie, with the seven addresses spaced two weeks apart.

Eric Voegelin, philosopher, lecturer and author of the New Science of Politics and three volumes so far of Order and History, will be the first speaker. Dr. Voegelin, who is professor of government at the University of Munich, is currently visiting professor in the political science departments at Harvard and Notre Dame Universities.

What are the psychic forces that make for social change, what signposts do citizens erect for their own communities under which they may progress or stultify, what are the keys for a community's success? are questions implied in this original course.

In its 20 years of local operation in adult education, Thomas More Institute has seen the community as the active focus for learning.

The other six lecturers who will develop the theme of the anniversary program are J. Rennie Whitehead, former head of the Research Lab at RCA Victor in Montreal, now a member of the Scientific Secretariat of the Privy Council of Canada; Marshall McLuhan, director of the Centre for Culture and Technology at the University of Toronto; George A. Ferguson, professor of psychology at McGill; Amos N. Wilder, Hollis professor of divinity, emeritus, Harvard; Ralph W. Tyler, director of the Centre for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences, Palo Alto, California; R. Eric O'Connor, SJ, president of Thomas More Institute and chairman of the Mathematics department at Loyola.

Information on the course and registration may be had by calling the Institute at 3421 Drummond street, 842-5076.

D'Oyly Carte

The D'Oyly Carte tradition in connection with the Gilbert and Sullivan operas is often misunderstood by even the most enthusiastic Gilbert and Sullivan fans.

It certainly does not mean that the operas have not been touched by change. As Savoyards will see when S. Hurok brings the celebrated D'Oyly Carte Company to Place des Arts from March 10 to 15, the D'Oyly Carte tradition means that the quality of performance has been constantly maintained and that certain necessary changes which would no doubt have been heartily approved by both Gilbert and Sullivan have been introduced.

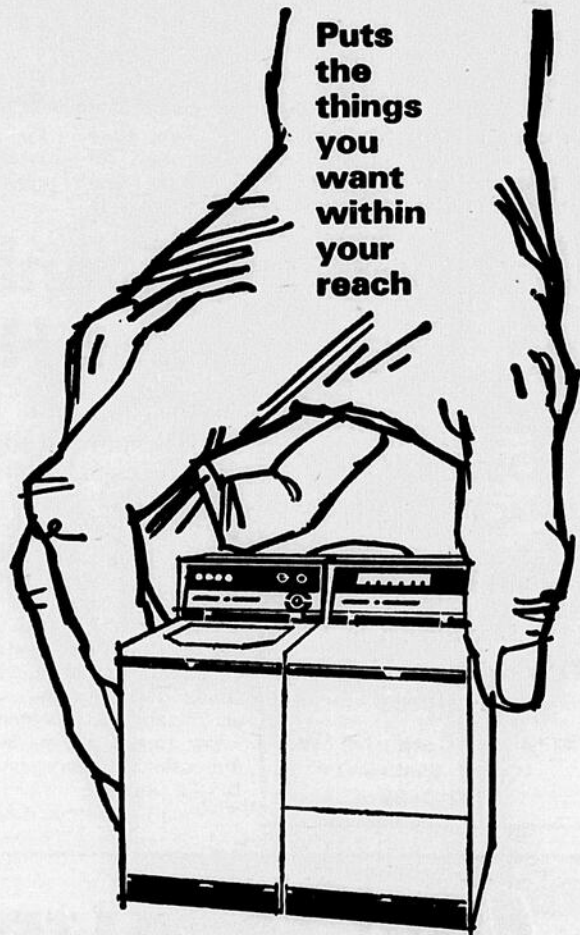

Gilbert and Sullivan produced their operas with no great thought of the distant future.

The D'Oyly Carte management has always recognized that to keep the productions absolutely intact would be to turn them into museum pieces.

Fashions change, costumes must be cut differently, settings need renewing and stage department changes with the years.

When Rupert D'Oyly Carte took control of the company just after the first world war he made a clean sweep of the dead tradition and shabby costumes.

Bridget D'Oyly Carte, present head of the Company, realizes the need to maintain high standards of production and the company has some of the best theatrical and wardrobe workshops in England. They have a large staff of devoted workmen who have literally grown up with the D'Oyly Carte Company and see that the productions are always up to date no matter how far the company has travelled on its tours.

ROVING REPORTER

By Oliver Towne

They've had it! The tenants in the buildings on Greene that are to be demolished to make way for the entrance to the Westmount Centre shopping Plaza finally got notices this week that the period of grace was over. Everyone out by April 1st! Now begins a mad scramble to find new premises. Practically all those concerned would prefer to stay in the immediate vicinity — but where?

There is a good position open for some lady at the Children's Corner. Call Mrs. Bruck at the store.

M. Young's Market, St. Catherine and Elm, would like to move into their new premises on Greene but there are alterations to be done in the store and so far the City hasn't seen fit to issue a permit.

Peter Gregory, son of Malcolm the rug expert, is over in England. He's employed at the mill operated by Carpet Trades Ltd., Kidderminster, Worcestershire. Studying the carpet manufacturing business from the floor up. He expects to return home some time in June.

No lack of requests by would-be tenants for the building being renovated by Grainger Tomkinson next door to his John Watson Plumbing firm.

City Clerk Ronald B. Seaman is just getting over the flu. Upon hearing of someone who had the bug and passed out, Mr. Seaman was happy he decided to take a cab instead of his own car when he had to appear in court on city business while most ill.

A sign of spring . . . what must have been the first park-bench-sitter was basking in the brilliant sun at Westmount Park the other day while his dog romped with the squirrels and kids the sun brought out. The wind was cold though.

Waitresses in a small restaurant on St. Catherine near Atwater are still waiting for the 'thousands' of workmen who, they were told weeks ago, would pour into the restaurant from the West End Plaza across the street.

Who says aldermen don't work hard . . . we hear that when city council adjourns its public meetings and goes into a private 'committee meeting,' the sessions sometimes last until midnight . . .

Could a Rotarian do such a thing? . . . when Rotary luncheons are held Wednesday, parking space at Victoria Hall is very limited. Someone with a big car parked it at an angle almost blocking off the exit of a small foreign model. When the young lady who owned the little car emerged from another function at the hall, she did not have enough confidence to ease her auto by the other. She stood perplexed until she spied a young man coming out of the library and then called on him to help push her car out of the danger zone. No one could swear the other car belonged to a Rotarian, but the odds are . . .

Who is this Baron Douphol who sings at the Chantecler twice a week?

In real life he's Yoland Guérard. You saw, heard and thrilled as he sang the role of Baron Douphol in "La Traviata" at the Place des Arts recently. Now, you can admire him every Wednesday and Saturday evening in the Cocorico Room of The Chantecler Hotel. His repertoire of songs is wide and varied, from opera through pop. It's an evening to look forward to.

Christian Science

Man's freedom is attainable
lecturer says

There is in the world today so much activity in pursuit of political freedom, that people lose sight of the need to gain other freedoms, equally important, a Christian Science lecturer declared in an address Monday evening, February 22, in Victoria Hall, Westmount.

In the past, peoples who have been held captive have sometimes become submissive and forgotten their divine right to be free; and in a similar way, the speaker continued, modern man has tended to accept bondage to materialism, and not to understand that his primary need is for spiritual freedom.

The lecturer was Francis William Cousins, CBS of Manchester, England, a member of the world-wide Christian Science Board of Lectureship, who spoke under the auspices of the Christian Science church in Westmount.

"Whilst we may consider ourselves free people politically," he said, "we know, nevertheless, that there are many things that claim to hold us in subjection
— for instance, sickness, sin, fear, ignorance, lack, death. We cannot attain freedom from such limitations until we wake up to the fact that they are illegitimate. Christian Science reveals that man is spiritual. As we demonstrate the rules of Christian Science we realize the spiritual nature of man, and find this freedom."

St. Paul's & St. Leo's Girls keep on winning at basketball

By BEVERLY JONES

St. Paul's Academy has certainly been showing exceptional ability when it comes to basketball. They beat D'Arcy McGee High School 22 to 18 in a great game played last Friday, afternoon at D'Arcy. Then again last Tuesday they won a remarkable victory over Sacred Heart. St. Paul's have played Sacred Heart twice and in both games have emerged victorious. During the latter game Sacred Heart was ahead until the last few minutes of play when St. Paul's emerged victorious. The final score being 24 to 22.

The last time St. Paul's played Sacred Heart, they won 23 to 22. In Tuesday's game, Cheryl Hogan and Ana Machon scored the majority of baskets, while Claire and Ellen McManus, Kay Norris and Jackie Darawent were terrific guards. The whole team played very well though. So far St. Paul's has a perfect record of victories, and everyone is justly proud of them.

CATHOLIC WEEK

This week, St. Paul's observed Catholic Week throughout the high school. The Westmount Public Library generously lent the girls about forty books on a variety of subjects. The poster committee arranged the books and posters in the school library. The teachers and girls all remarked that the array of books was very intriguing and that they would love to read many of them. This book display was a project undertaken by the Young Christian Students.

OPEN HOUSE

Last Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday was "open house" at Marionapolis College. The Seniors of St. Paul's visited the College as a group on Wednesday, and found it very interesting. The purpose of the visit was to better acquaint the students with college life and its activities.

A religious film that has no equal

By Millicent Hickmore

AT A COCKTAIL-BUFFET given by Norman Olson Publicity Associates at Le Martinique Motor Inn on Monday afternoon, a preview of the color pictorial exhibit of scenes from George Stevens' film, "The Greatest Story Ever Told," was held.

This film will be premiered in Montreal in cinerama and technicolor at the Cinerama Imperial Theatre.

After an extensive tour of the Holy Land in 1960, Mr. Stevens, Hollywood's most respected craftsman, decided to film the story in the United States rather than in Israel as tentatively planned. The reason is that the Holy Land is not like it was, and Mr. Stevens wants the scenery to look like it was 2000 years ago.

Years of Bible study have been spent on this story, it is the screen's first purely religious film. The cast of approximately fifteen hundred find it awesome and Dorothy McGuire, playing "Mary," said, "I gave up smoking on the set, I felt sort of guilty."

The film, The Greatest Story Ever Told, George Stevens promises, will not breed controversy because in the spirit of the Bible religions are in harmony. In the spirit of the Bible, conflicts are forgotten.

CWPC: A delightful evening was had on Monday, when the Canadian Women's Press Club met for dinner at Le Martinique Motor Inn. The guest speaker was Enid Nemy Cohen, a well known and former president of the Club. Enid, who now resides in New York, spoke on the subject "What it's like to work for the New York Times." Telling of her experiences in the women's section, she related some interesting and comical interviews, some of them likened to those we, the members experience. Mrs. Zoe Bieler introduced the speaker and Miss Pat Marini thanked her.

BOOK LOVERS can choose from a large selection of recent and out of print books at half price, from March 9 to 14 at the Nearly New Shop, 1209 Burnside avenue from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. daily. There is a large selection of books including novels, biographies, text books, encyclopedias, a Book of Knowledge and a wide selection of children's books.

The Nearly New Shop is staffed and operated by volunteers of the Women's Auxiliaries of the Royal Victoria Hospital and the Montreal Children's Hospital, and all proceeds go to further the work of the auxiliaries throughout the two hospitals.

War Memorial Scholarships

Mrs. D. W. McGibbon, National President, IODE, announced the names of the fifteen Canadian students granted post-graduate scholarships for the academic year 1965-1966. All the scholars indicate a preference for study at a graduate school in the United Kingdom.

The War Memorial Scholarships are awarded annually to Canadian men and women graduates to continue their academic studies at the post-graduate level. Each scholarship is valued at $2,000 and it is the sincere hope of the donor that upon completion of the degree each scholar will return to Canada to pursue his or her career.

Mrs. Donald M. Brown, National IODE War Memorial secretary, reported that ten awards were granted to new scholars and five to scholars for a second year of study abroad.

IODE Awards 2nd War Memorial Post-Graduate Scholarship for the 1965-66 Academic Year to Miss Joan Pennefather, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Pennefather, of the Town of Mount Royal.

Miss Pennefather is presently enrolled at McGill University in history at the graduate level and will pursue her graduate studies at Oxford, England. Throughout her college career she has assumed many forms of leadership.

Seniors finish with 5 wins and 4 losses

By ANDY MCGILLIS

St. Leo's senior hockey club, who have played fine hockey on occasion but have fallen prey to inconsistency all season, ran true to form in their closing game of the schedule at the Forum, suffering a 4 to 1 loss at the hands of Verdun Catholic High.

In their previous game the Saints looked formidable in defeating Father McDonald High 4 to 2. The Verdunites deserved to win in a game that produced little in the way of good hockey. André Camilli opened the scoring early in the game on a blue line shot that gave the Academy a short lived lead that was soon to be dissipated after two chippy penalties paved the way for two fast Verdun goals.

St. Leo's showed some spark during the game with John Donnelly, Bob Braut, Jules Desjardins and Dalston Barnoff carrying the puck well but their efforts were too individual to cause undue worry to the Verdun net minder. St. Leo's finished the race with five wins, four losses and one draw in the six team league. The team needs no apology for their efforts, it could be better it is true but a small school like the Academy in the thick of the race all year, need no alibis on their play.

ACADEMY BRIEFS: The annual winter carnival for the students of St. Leo's and St. Paul's will be held on Thursday March 25 at the Westmount artificial rink. It will be a battle for first place this afternoon in the school's intramural hockey league, when Lions tangle with Saints at the Westmount rink. The senior hockey players are grateful for the fine support received at games from the student body, the same hardly holds true for the parents. Mike Radoman and Eddie Kelly on the improve with every game in the intramural hockey league and look like good bets to move up to the school team next winter. There is no better physical activity in the Parish for teenagers than a senior school hockey team but sad to say only a few parents appreciate this fact.

Spartons take first game of Midget finals

Spartons won the first game of the Midget Hockey Championships final series (2 out of 3) by a score of 4 to 3 in Westmount Municipal Hockey play.

Trailing 3 to 1 with 6 minutes and 20 seconds remaining in the third period they tied the game at the 9:40 mark, Phil Lecouffe scoring both goals.

Lecouffe then took passes from Gordie Holland and Graham Lorimer at the 8:50 mark of the overtime period to complete his outstanding effort for the evening.

Richard Atherton scored twice for the losers and Barry Josephson got their third goal. Gordie Holland accounted for the Spartons' first goal.

Mustangs finished the regular season with 21 points and the runner-up Spartons had 15. Dave Beasant Spartons Captain edged Barry Josephson, Mustangs' Captain, by one point and won the scoring championship. Beasant had 20 goals and 11 assists to Josephson's 19 goals and 11 assists.
