Good Competition For Square Dance at Ormstown Ex.

The Jasper Old Time Square Dancers of Ormstown, presented a beautiful demonstration of step dancing which helped them to clinch first place in the third annual Canada Packers Square Dancing Contest held in the Industrial Building of the Ormstown Exhibition, on Saturday night. The group was captained by Jasper Lamb and included Eleanor Lamb, Carl Waller, Iris Waller, Glenn Waller, Grace Waller, Kenneth Lamb and Dorothy McCaig.

With this fine display of step-dancing, many people present were reminded of the by-gone days of not too many years ago when most square dancing included step-dancing. Unfortunately step-dancing has faded away but it is hoped that interest will be such that step-dancing might return to the good old fashion square dance.

There were five groups entered in the hotly competed contest. The Lachute Country Smoothies won second prize and the Border Riders of Dundee placed third. The Howick Stampeders, the youngest set seen in competition for some time did very well and placed fourth. The Elegant Eight of Howick and Riverfield placed fifth.

Each group was required to do one prescribed square which Canada Packers had designated and one of the team's own choice. Each group was judged on performance and rhythm.

Caller for the Canada Packers Square was Franklyn Cameron, who also called for the Border Riders and Jasper's Old Time Square Dancers. Watson Berry was called for the Lachute Country Smoothies and Matt McKell was caller for the Howick Stampeders and the Elegant Eight.

The Lachute Country Smoothies in their colourful attire included Ken Wilson, Glenna Kennedy, Clifton Berry, Pat Menard, Wayne Berry, Francis Robertson, Gerald Tamalty and Susan Tamalty.

The Border Riders had the men in blue checkered shirts and jeans with the ladies in white blouses and red skirts. They included Robert Leslie, Fern Sutton, Roy Leslie, Dorothy Stirling, Jimmy Arnold, Elva Campbell, Cameron McNicol, and Elizabeth McNicol.

The Elegant Eight included Charlie Tenant, Mary McKell, Elton Robertson, Margaret McKell, Ross Brown, Marjorie Orr, Wayne McKell and Shirley McWhinnie. The Stampeders included Billy Welburn, Dorothy McWhinnie, Melvin Watt, Norma Tolhurst, George Donaldson, Dorothy Welburn, Gordon McKell and Carol Tenant.

Maurice Duplessis Speaks At Ormstown Exhibition

The Hon. Maurice Duplessis, Premier of the Province of Quebec, spoke at the official opening ceremonies of the Ormstown Exhibition on Thursday night. Ceremonies took place in the arena of the Fair Grounds and was well attended by many interested people.

On the platform with the Premier were the three members of the Provincial Parliament from this district, Mr. H. Alister D. Somerville, Huntingdon, Mr. Arthur Laberge, Chateauguay and Mr. Edgar Hebert, Beauharnois. Mr. Duplessis spoke briefly about his political platform for the forthcoming election. He was introduced by Mr. Hebert and thanked by Mr. Somerville and Mr. Laberge.

During his visit to the Ormstown Exhibition, Mr. Duplessis presented a cheque for $10,000 which was $5,000 for the regular grant and an extra amount of $5,000 toward expenses. Following his speech, Mr. Duplessis saw the cattle parade, two classes of the Horse Show.

Upon leaving the arena the Premier proceeded to the Barrie Memorial Hospital to a reception tendered him. At the hospital Mr. Duplessis presented two cheques for $5,000 and $10,000, the first being a part of the regular grant and the other toward other expenses.

Following a conducted tour through the hospital by Dr. M. R. Stalker, Mr. Duplessis spent a half hour meeting with the doctors, nurses and governors of the hospital in the board room.

Claim Against School May Curtail Many Purchases

The Huntingdon High School Board of Commissioners met at the school, on Thursday evening, for a regular meeting with all members present. A special meeting was held on Tuesday, June 5th, for the purpose of consideration of the judgement handed down in the case of David Roskies who was injured in a fall at the school on October 10th, 1953, and the case was heard in Valleyfield, on February 22nd, of this year. The decision of the judge was given on May 19th and the amount of the damages awarded to the plaintiff, Mr. Nathan Roskies, father of the David, against the School, was $17,000. At the moment, the Board has not definitely decided upon the procedure it will follow.

Mr. Lyle Sparrow was present on behalf of the taxpayers of his district to ask the Board what procedure would be followed. He said he felt that something should be done as a safeguard to future occurrences of the kind. Mr. Graham, Chairman of the Board, said that since the accident the Board had increased the amount of insurance on this risk. Mr. Sparrow said the insurance should have been more in the first case and it was like locking the stable door after the horse was stolen. Mr. Graham replied that this was a first time and nothing like this had happened in possibly a hundred years, thus there had appeared no need for increase of protection. Mr. Sparrow said there is a different class of people in the world today and many of them would do anything for money, therefore it was imperative that everyone should protect themselves as far as possible. He asked the Chairman to inform him of the action they decided upon and advised them to obtain the services of a good lawyer to delve futher into this case and advise them for the future. It might cost a little money, but it would probably pay off on possible future occasions. Mr. Graham thanked Mr. Sparrow for his interest and promised to inform him on developments of the future.

In view of the fact that the school may be called upon to provide some $12,000 in this case, several of the Commissioners said that future expenditures would have to be carefully analyzed before being authorized.

The question of the furnaces at the school was brought up and it was suggested that one be converted into oil burning, in order to get greater satisfaction next year. The Board discussed this matter at some length and decided to get prices and full information for the next meeting. This matter is also subject to the damage case claim.

Several requests were made by Dr. Willis for certain pieces of equipment and he was told to bring full information for the next meeting, when further consideration would be given.

It was decided to do some painting inside the school to an amount $500. This will be done during the month of July in order to afford the caretakers time in which to get the cleaning of the school done before school re-opens in September. It is also possible that some new drinking fountains will be installed, as some of those now in operation are not functioning properly and there is need for additional facilities on account of further increased enrolment after school re-opens.

The bus routes came up for discussion and it is possible that some re-arranging of the buses will be made to accommodate the extra pupils who will be travelling during the next school year. Some buses are only carrying small loads, while others are overloaded, by changing routes and buses, it is hoped this can be overcome. The meeting was adjourned as the hour was getting late and this matter will be further discussed at the adjourned meeting of Tuesday, June 12th.

Fine Weather Prevails For Ormstown Exhibition

Ormstown Exhibition, long awaited, has now come and gone — from point of view of a Fair, it was one of the best in several years — as to attendance, there was much to be desired.

This year, this exhibition came at a time when conditions were not of the best. The province is in the throes of an election and it has been an extremely cool, wet and backward spring. The weather for the show was ideal, but then it was the weather that the farmers had been waiting for to do their spring work. These factors undoubtedly had something to do with the general attendance. Nevertheless, the attendance at evening shows was fairly good and especially was this so on the opening evening and on Thursday evening when Hon. Maurice Duplessis, Premier of the Province, officially opened the exhibition.

On Wednesday, the opening night, the students of Ormstown High School provided the early part of the program and paraded to the grounds with a number of very excellent floats. This is a feature of the show which always adds a touch of local colour to the exhibition. It means a great deal of sacrifice on the part of students and staff-members alike, especially at this time in the school year. However, it is cheerfully and well done by all.

The show was good in many ways — for instance there was a larger number of entries for the Horse Show and thus there was much keener competition in a number of the classes. There was a very large industrial exhibit, mainly machinery, which always attracts a large number of farmers and others. Several of the dealers report that they made some very good sales as a result of the exhibit. The midway provided a variety of entertainment and there were several new rides. The acts at the Grandstand in the afternoon and in the arena in the evening, also provided a pleasant change. There might have been some disappointment that there was no horse racing, but this was not too evident.

In the exhibits portion of the show, there was plenty to see and all were of premier excellence. The judges must have found their tasks to be quite heavy, for the exhibitors were certainly showing their best. This was true of all departments and in a number it was noticed that there was an increase from previous years. There was an excellent display of Home Cooking, Arts, and in the Sewing department. Molson's had a display on the upper floor of the Industrial Building which tied in with their sponsorship of the Fishing Tournament. The Health Unit was kept busy taking X-Rays of various people and who in due course will receive a report on the findings obtained. Flowers and plants were well represented, it apparently being a good year for such showing.

On the lower floor of the Industrial Building, the exhibit of the organ by Willis & Co., Montreal, added a touch of life by the music rendered and prompted many an enquiry about the instrument. There was the usual display of farm machines for milking, etc., syrup making, household appliances and furniture. An added attraction was the Dow exhibit and the appearance of several well known hockey players who had featured in the Stanley Cup playoffs.

On the grounds outside the Industrial Building there was a long line-up of farm machinery exhibits stretching to the grandstand at the far end of the grounds. Here Bruce Ness of Howick was showing Massey-Harris, Smoker, McKee and Ferguson implements in great array. I.H.C. was represented by L. M. Kelly, Huntingdon; A. A. McCormick, Ormstown and W. G. McArthur, Howick. John Deere implements were being featured by W. Goodall, Huntingdon and Bill Hooker of Ormstown. Allis Chalmers was sponsored by L. Sparrow, Huntingdon and Case machinery by F. C. Moore, Huntingdon. Riverside Motors, Huntingdon, had a large display of Buick and Pontiac cars and GMC trucks. Dandurand of Valleyfield had a display of Plymouth cars. Harold Higgins was in his old stand with Purina Feeds. There was also an exhibit of German made diesel cars and trucks which were attracting a lot of attention.

The midway attractions were by the Bernard All Canadian Shows and it occupied all of the space between the farm machinery exhibits and the Arena.

The cattle, horses, sheep and swine and goats filled their respective parts of the cattle sheds. A full report of the cattle is given in another column by Mr. Frank Napier. However, it was noted that there were quite a number of goats on exhibit and these by Ormstown breeders. They were attracting much attention from the patrons. The poultry department was very well filled with very fine specimens of various varieties and breeds.

The Horse Show in the evening and in the afternoon of Saturday, was perhaps one of the best that has ever been held. Several new classes were added and provided extra competition and riding skill. As usual the kids and their ponies provided plenty of fun and excitement. Only two competitors entered the Best Lady Driver in the District of Beauharnois competition, these being Miss Viola Lallemand and Mrs. Roland Riel, both of Huntingdon, who each won a trophy donated by the Shawinigan Water & Power Co. Miss Lallemand placed first. Many local horse owners placed well in the show as will be seen by the prize list. This list will be published in next week's issue of The Gleaner.

The three acts were mostly to do with balancing and acrobatic performances and all were very good and quite entertaining. One of the acts was performed with chairs piled one on the other in various ways. Another was performed on a ladder high up and near the roof of the arena, while in the afternoon a performance was given on a high pole. Two young ladies gave a performance of acrobatics which took well with the audience.

On Friday afternoon a busload of veterans were entertained by the Fair Board. Molson Emergency unit was also on display and this is certainly a large unit and should provide all possible in cases of emergency at any time.

The prize list will be found in another part of this issue.

Good Number Exhibits in Cattle Classes at Ormstown

By Frank Napier

Ormstown still maintains its naturally proud reputation insofar as its dairy cattle division is concerned; that is as one of the actual dairy cattle shows. Off-hand, and without knowledge of the actual numbers of animals entered or on parade, we would say that there were apparently average numbers of Holsteins and Jerseys. On the other hand, the Ayrshire section was comprised of only some 60 heads, a considerably smaller number than usual.

Nevertheless, in the Ayrshire section, as in the other breed section, the quality of the animals shown and the showmanship of their exhibitors were of a very high order indeed. There is a "hackneyed" livestock expression with respect to "tail enders". Well, this year there were no tail enders, and in quite a number of instances the judges had to make pretty close decisions.

The Ayrshires

Regular exhibitors included J. B. Cairncross of Sunny Pine Farm; J. Earle Ness & Sons of Terrace Bank; R. R. Ness & Sons of Burnside, all of Howick; J. G. Wilson of Alderwood of St. Valentin. New and outside the district exhibitors were J. W. MacGillivray, Glencameron Farm, Brome Centre, and Mrs. Lucille Davis, Nether Brae, Fulford.

The judge was Alex Wallace of Smiths Falls, Ont., who, as most everyone is aware, is a son of J. M. Wallace, Athelstan, Que. Alex. Wallace is a district Manager of Swift Canadian, and, as apart from his parental Ayrshire connection, he also had an outstanding reputation as an Ayrshire herd manager — with the former Credholme herd of Streetsville, Ont.—while he also owns a considerable number of Ayrshires.

Unfortunately, the space at our disposal does not permit of giving a full list of the awards and so we will only give a few of the highlights.

O. J. W. MacGillivray won first in the bull calf class and the reserve junior championship on Glencameron Illustration by Burnside Ambition; Mrs. Davis had the first prize junior yearling bull in Nether Brae Emblem, while R. R. Ness won first in the junior yearling bull class and the junior championship on Burnside Worthy Comment.

There was only one entry each in the 2 year old bull and aged bull classes, and because of the past reputation of the two bulls concerned their competition for the senior and grand championships was perhaps the most keenly watched contests in the show.

Alderwood Supreme, junior and reserve grand champion at the 1955 Royal Winter Fair, was the 2 year old bull. And, while he is now owned and was here shown by J. W. MacGillivray, he was bred by J. G. Wilson.

The aged bull was Cherry Bank Royal Bomber, a former Ormstown champion for his breeder P. D. McArthur & Sons, and first prize 3 year old at the 1955 Royal for his present owner J. G. Wilson. Both bulls were in top form but the judge finally "gave the nod", so to speak, to Alderwood Supreme, first for the senior and then the grand championship. Cherry Bank therefore was that while Alder-Royal Bomber was, of course, the reserve in both instances. It therefore was that while Alder wood did not attain the supreme honours, they had the proud distinction of not only breeding the senior and grand champion, but also of being the owner of the reserve winner in both instances.

As usual the female classes were of a very high order indeed, with the first prizes being awarded as follows:

J. G. Wilson won firsts in the aged dry cow class on Cluaran Penelope; in the 3 year old, dry class, on Alderwood Lady Nettie; in the senior yearling class and also the junior championship on Alderwood Penelope. Alderwood also won first in the graded herd and the progeny of dam classes.

J. W. MacGillivray won first in the 2 year old, dry, class on Glengarry Lucky Winsome.

J. B. Cairncross won first in the 3 to 4 years, in milk, class on Sunny Pine Cora.

Mrs. Davis won first in the senior yearling and the two-year-old, in milk classes, on Nether Brae Debbie and Charmante de St. Benoit, respectively.

J. Earle Ness & Sons, first in the junior heifer calf class on Terrace Bank Pearl; first in the aged cow in milk class and the senior and grand female championships on their well-known former leading winner Pannell Daisy 2nd. (imp).

R. R. Ness & Sons won first in the senior heifer class and also the reserve junior female championship on Burnside Arlene. Their second prize aged cow in milk, Burnside Fascination 5th also won the reserve senior and reserve grand female championships. They also won first on Dairy Herd, Junior Herd, Senior and Junior Gets of Sire.

The Jerseys

As already indicated the Jerseys made a very nice showing indeed before Bert McGrath, Manager, Bokar Farms, Whitby, Ont., and an outstanding Jersey judge.

The exhibitors included Leo F. Benware, Malone, N. Y.; Lionel A. Forsyth, Dundee; Mrs. R. L. McCaig & Sons, Ormstown; W. T. McEwen & Sons, Ormstown; Pine Gables Farm, Cowansville, Mrs. A. R. Virgni, and North Hatley.

Mrs. Virgin won the junior and reserve junior male championships, on her first prize senior yearling bull and her first prize bull calf, respectively. She also won the reserve senior and reserve grand male championships on her first prize 2 year old bull.

The senior and grand male championships went to Pine Gables Farm on Pine Gables Bright Beacon, first prize aged bull.

Mrs. R. L. McCaig & Sons won first in the junior yearling bull class on Brampton Elfar Acme. That firm also won first in the junior get of sire class on a group by Campburn Royal Sir.

Pine Gables Farm also won the junior female championship on their first prize junior yearling heifer; the senior and grand female championship on Pines Gables Beacon's Lilybel. Also firsts on graded herd, dairy herd, senior get of sire and progeny of dam.

W. T. McEwen & Sons, won the reserve junior female championship on their first prize senior heifer calf, Honeyholm Beacon Lass. That heifer also won the Donald Black Trophy for the best heifer bred in the Chateauguay Valley Jersey Club area. Messrs. McEwen & Sons also won the reserve senior and the reserve grand female championships on Honeyholm Star, first prize aged dry cow.

L. A. Forsyth won first on Folleigh Sweet Briar in the class for cows 5 years or over in milk.

The Holsteins

Twenty Holstein herds furnished competition in that breed section 13 of them from the district of Beauharnois; three from other parts of Quebec; 3 from Eastern Ontario and one from Malone, N. Y.

The judge was Albert Desrosiers, (Canada Department of Agriculture) St. Hyacinthe, Que.

The junior champion bull was Spring Farm Fond Tom, first junior yearling for Georges R. Gladu, Sutton, Que. Reserve junior champion was Eglantiers Regal Legacy first prize bull calf for H. Guilbert, Vercheres.

The senior and grand male championships went to W. K. MacLeod, Disraeli, on Carnation Northman, first prize bull 3 years or over.

W. K. MacRae & Son, Howick, won second in the aged bull class and also the reserve senior and reserve grand championships on Rockwood Drop Romonarch. McRae & Son also won the senior and grand female championships on Garrymede Connie Pabst, first prize aged cow in milk.

Remarkable Sale 34 Head Holsteins

A sale of as many as 34 head of cattle by one man by private treaty is indeed a remarkable occurrence. However, that's what has happened in the case of the small, but select Holstein herd of Donald Hamilton, Athelstan, Que.

Originally, that herd, including some 18 cows and milking age heifers, was scheduled to go to Venezuela, South America. However, due to shipping or other arrangements, or lack of same, that idea had to be cancelled for the time being. It therefore was that Hermas Lajoie, Secretary, Quebes Branch, Holstein Friesian Association, acting on behalf of the original purchasers, arranged for the final sale of the Donald Hamilton herd to four different Holstein herds in the Province of Quebec.

An indication of the quality and the bloodlines of the Hamilton cattle is given in that 8 head went to the famous Raymondale Farms, Vaudreuil, and that 17 head went to the recently established herd of J. A. Gasser at Pike River, Que.

Five head went to P. Sauve, St. Anicet, and 4 head to G. Faubert, Dundee.

The selling prices of these cattle have not been announced. However, since the animals comprised the entire breeding herd, the work of several years intensive expert breeding, plus excellent bloodlines, the average selling price was doubtless quite substantial.

Letter to Mr. Lapalme On Policy

Mr. George Lapalme, M.L.A.,
Leader of the Liberal Party,
of the Province of Quebec,
Liberal Provincial Organization Headquarters,
287 Villeneuve St. West,
Montreal, P.Q.

Dear Sir:

I have read various press reports of your criticism of the Union National Government's policy of giving protection to the Dairy Industry and their method of controlling of butter substitutes. As to whether this criticism is deserving or not I am making no statement, dairy producers individually will make that decision; but I do wish to observe that nowhere have I read what policy you are advocating should be followed.

I am asking that in fairness to the dairy producers of the Province of Quebec that you announce what protection you would provide for the dairy industry should you be called upon to form a government following June 20th and would you permit any butter substitute to be sold in this province and under what method of control.

I may give some publicity in the press to this letter.

Trusting that I may read of your announcement of policy on the above mentioned subject, I remain,

Yours truly,

JOHN K. DICKSON,
Vice-President, Montreal Milk Producers' Co-Operative Agricultural Association and Director, Dairy Farmers of Canada.

The Claim Against Huntingdon High School

THOSE who already know of the judgment that was handed down recently in the damage claim against Huntingdon High School in the case of the accident which happened to David Roskies, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Roskies, feel that it is a bitter pill to swallow. The judge awarded $17,000 in a damage suit against the School.

Evidence given at the hearing of the case in February of this year purported to show that the school grounds were a public playground. The accident happened on a non-school day — Saturday — and the victim was of pre-school age and therefore not a pupil of the school. Evidence submitted was by several non-taxpayers of the school, whose children did not attend this school, but who had the habit of playing in the school grounds. This evidence explained that there were no guards or warnings posted to show the school grounds were private property and it was treated in the nature of a public park by these children. It is strange, but almost everyone else knows that the school grounds are not a park and the fact that there are articles such as swings, etc. ,that these are for use of the school children while attending school. True children did play on these swings, etc., after school hours and on holidays, but it was thought that they did so at their own risk and that actually they were trespassing on private property. It was not considered necessary to post signs, or to further enclose the school grounds as common knowledge was sufficient to prevent people from using the grounds as a park or playground. There are very few schools anywhere in this area that have the grounds entirely enclosed to prevent people from gaining entrance when school is not functioning. If this is the case, then all schools will be affected by it and school boards would do well to start making plans to enclose the grounds and keep them locked when school is not in session. In addition further precautions have to be taken in order to protect the interests of the school and the taxpayers from such claims as that which has been made and damages awarded.

Apart from the small amount of insurance which is available to cover this claim, the taxpayers will have to find a sum of at least $12,000. There is no provision in a school budget for such vast sum and to provide it, it is quite possible the taxes will have to be increased until this sum has been satisfied. Thus the claim will be an infliction on all taxpayers of the Huntingdon School Municipality. The Board can hardly be blamed for this calamity, especially in view of the fact that so many other schools are carried on in the same way.

The Election Is Yours

A WEEK from today, the people of Quebec will be going to the polls and voting for the man of their choice, which will decide which party will form the government for the next four to five years. Generally speaking the contest is a straight one between the Liberals and the Union National Parties. There are a few independents, but no other large party is in the field.

In our own constituency of Huntingdon County and in the adjacent counties of Chateauguay and Beauharnois, the contests will be between National Union and Liberal candidates. In all these cases the sitting member has been a National Union Party man and he is seeking re-election. The Liberal candidates are all new men. They are: Mr. James F. Smythe for Huntingdon; Mr. Gerard Cadieux for Beauharnois and Mr. Gerard Bourdon for Chateauguay. Union National candidates are: Mr. H. A. D. Somerville for Huntingdon; Mr. Edgar Hebert for Beauharnois and Mr. Arthur Laberge for Chateauguay.

Announcements have been made in this newspaper with regard to these men and advertisements have appeared as to the dates of the meetings they will hold during the remaining period before election. Mr. Georges Lapalme is the Leader of the Liberal Party and Mr. Maurice Duplessis is the Leader of the Union National Party. The Union National Party is staying with its platform of safeguarding the autonomy of Quebec, while the Liberal are reviewing present taxation with a view to reduction; to granting more benefits to the people in the way social security and seeking to gain more outlets for farm produce of the Province. They also wish to do away with the dictatorial powers of Mr. Duplessis. It is also maintained by the Liberal Party that high taxation in Quebec is sending potential industry away from this Province and that others already located here are considering removing from the Province. The Union National Party maintains that the Province is quite prosperous and that more industries have located here in the past number of years on account of the inducements offered to do so. They have spent money on schools and hospitals and roads, which the Liberals when they were in power had neglected to do.

In the foregoing is a brief idea of what each party is offering in the way of a platform. It is up to the elector to decide for himself which of the candidates he will support on June 20th, when he goes to cast his ballot. It is your election and the decision remains with you as to what will happen after the votes have been counted. One thing we would urge is that everybody goes to the polls and casts a ballot for the candidate of his choice, this is an obligation which no one should ignore.

Challenge of Science

UNIVERSITY heads lately have been putting more and more emphasis on the need for a larger number of students taking higher education.

These and other leaders in education aren't just seeking more entrants for the academic halls. They are trying to prepare for the problem of the future, when a shortage of trained scienists might slow down progress.

In an address at Vancouver the other day Dr. G. E. Hall, president of the University of Western Ontario at London, Ont., said: "What we consider assets in natural resources were considered by our forefathers as barriers of progress. Now Canada's future is unlimited — if we have people to do this type of development work".

And he asked: "Where are the people to develop Canada, unless we can comb the Dominion and make it possible for an increased number to have the opportunity for more education?"

Right now, owing to the rapid advance of science, there is a shortage of scientists, technologists and technicians in many countries. Russia's apparently successful efforts to cope with this problem have added to the misgivings in the free world.

There are different levels in science. The pure scientist is concerned only with theory, someone like an Einstein or a Lord Rutherford. The fundamental applied scientist deals with basic principles which affect a whole range of applications. The technologist is the one who thinks how scientific ideas can be made to work in an industrial world, and the technician is the one who actually puts them to work.

All these are in increasing demand. A recent BBC broadcast which pointed up the shortage of science teachers stressed the need for convinving science graduates that teaching in itself is a worthwhile vocation.

In Canada, as elsewhere, the question includes getting enough experts to train other experts. And the problem must be solved if Canada is to face adequately the challenge of the new age.

Looking Back Along the Trail

Editor's note: The following is a continuation of excerpts taken from book "Transations of the N.Y. State Agricultural Society" 1848. Much of what is contained here is part of Canadian early history.

Burning of the Mohawk Castles, and Schuyler's pursuit of the enemy. — This exploit so rekindled the ferocity of the Iroquois against the French, that all hopes of coming to terms of amity with them, Frontenac now found to be vain. He therefore resolved to weaken and intimidate them, and for this purpose collected a force of six or seven hundred French and Indians, armed and supplied them well, and set them out in the middle of winter, for the Mohawk valley. After a journey of incredible hardships, they arrived there in February, 1693. The three castles of the Mohawks next above Schenectady, were surprised, and three hundred captives taken. Tidings of this incursion reaching Major Schuyler, at Albany, he speedily rallied some three hundred men, and with about an equal number of Indians, hastened in pursuit, overtook and engaged in several skirmishes with the Canadians as they were returning across Saratoga county, retaking about fifty of the captives. A violent storm of snow and wind now came on, favoring the retreat of the French. And still more fortunate were they in reaching the banks of the Hudson, at a spot where the river was all open above and below, save a narrow strip of ice on which they crossed, and which was readily broken up as soon as they were over. Schuyler following their tracks reached the river next day; but such was the extreme severity of the cold, th shortness of his provisions, and the aversion of the Indians to fighting when the leafless trees and bushes afforded them no covert, that he was constrained to give over further pursuit. The Indians who accompanied Schuyler were so distressingly destitute of provisions that they fed upon the dead bodies of the French; and the French party, before they reached Canada, were reduced to such straits, that to keep from famishing, they were forced to eat the leather of their shoes.

Second Expedition for the Conquest of Canada. — In the progress of Queen Ann's war, the frontier town of New England were most severely scourged by parties of Indians and French from Canada, and matters had that it was plainly foreseen the now arrived to such a condition rival French and English colonies on this continent could not continue under separate European sovereighs—and that the American plantations of one or the other of these nations must be subdued by whichever power wielded the longest sword. Impressed with this fact, a project was formed by the British ministry, for the subjugation of Canada, in the year 1709, in which all the northern colonies were to unite with the forces to be sent from the mother country. Pursuant to the plan of this enterprise, the regular troops from abroad were to be joined by the provincial corps of Massachusetts and New Hampshire, and proceed by water up the St. Lawrence and attack Quebec; whilst the troops of Connecticut, New York, Jersey and Pennsylvania were to rendezvous at Albany, and pass thence by way of Lake Champlain, to attack Montreal. Colonel Francis Nicholson, who had been a lieutenant governor of this province, was chosen to command this latter branch of the expedition.

Military Road opened through the County, and Three Forts Built — New York entered vigorously into this scheme, and put forth her utmost energies to open the way from Albany to Lake Champlain, and get everything in readiness for forwarding the troops and their supplies with speed and safety. The commissioners for procuring and transporting provisions and other necessaries, were authorized to break open houses, and to impress vessels, teamsters, horses and wagons. In addition to the independent companies of the province, four hundred and eighty-seven men were mustered into the service, forming with troops from the other provinces a body fifteen hundred strong. This force was joined by six hundred Mohawk warriors, and in the latter part of June, marched from Albany to the upper Hudson. The solitude of these forest wilds now suddenly gave place to the hum of labor, as roads were opened and fortifications reared. Of the carpenters and house joiners impressed into the service, twenty were sent to the lake at Whitehall, where a hundred bateaux and as many bark canoes were constructed. At the several carrying places along the route, blockhouses, barracks and storehouses were built. From opposite Schuylerville, a road was cut, up the east side of the river to Fort Edward and thence by way of Wood creek to Whitehall, a distance of forty miles through a heavy forest. Along this road three forts were erected. The northernmost one of these was built partly from funds furnished by the British government, and in honor of the reigning sovereign, was named Fort Ann. It stood upon the west side of Wood creek, about a half mile south of the present village of Fort Ann—the Champlain canal now passing partly through the spot which in inclosed. The other two were constructed entirely at the expense of the province. One of them was at the commencement of the great carrying place, probably upon the same site where Fort Edward was afterwards built, and was named Fort Nicholson, in honor of the commanding officer in this enterprise. The other was called Saratoga fort, and was in the present town of Easton, on the summit of one of the river hills opposite Schuylerville, about a mile south of the present road from that village to Galesville. These Forts were constructed wholly of timber, and were similar to the other stockade fortifications of the country common at that period—affording an effectual defence against any attack of musketry, but incapable of withstanding artillery. The only description of either of these structures which I have been able to find, is that of the last, as given by the naturalist Kalm, who visited it forty years after, and speaks of it as follows: "Saratoga has been a fort build of wood by the English to stop the attacks of the French Indians upon the English inhabit ants in these parts, and to serve as a rampart to Albany. It is situated on a hill, on the east side of the river Hudson, and is built of thick posts driven into the ground close to each other, in the manner of palisades, forming a square, the length of whose sides was within the reach of a musket shot, (i.e. a musket fired from one side of the fort could carry a ball to the opposite side). At each corner are the house of the officers, and within the palisades are the barracks, all of timber."

The Week At Ottawa

OTTAWA, (CP) — The gas pipeline bill became law last Thursday on the Government's deadline.

Progressive Conservation and CCF party members—with the sole exception of John Diefenbaker (CP—Prince Albert)—boycotted the Senate ceremony in which the pipeline bill was given royal assent and became law.

The legislation provides for temporary government financing of two major parts of the $375,000,000 project of Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd. for a 2,000 mile line to carry Alberta natural gas to Ontario and Quebec.

Commons passage of the bill took more than three full weeks as opposition parties used a variety of procedural weapons to delay or block it. The Senate, however with its seven man Conservative minority, took only two relatively quiet days to deal with it.

Construction Started

The legislation authorizes a loan of up to $80,000,000 to Trans-Canada to cover 90 per cent of the cost of building the 575-mile Prairie section of the 2,200-mile line, the world's longest.

Its approval by the June 7 deadline holds the company to its agreement to build the section by Dec. 31. Company officials said tenders for the job were being called immediately and work will start this month.

The loan, due to be repaid by next April 2, will be made by a new crown company which will also build and lease to Trans-Canada a 675-mile section through Northern Ontario. The Ontario government will finance up to $35,000,000 of the section's estimated $118,000,000 cost.

Defeat Censure Motion

As the week ended, a Commons vote on party lines defeatd the censure motion against Speaker Rene Beaudoin. The vote was 109 to 35 against an unprecedented motion by Opposition leader Drew to censure Speaker Beaudoin on a charge of "subordinating the rights of the House to the will of the government."

The motion, which arose during the stormy pipeline battle, was defeated by the combined votes of Liberal and Social Credit members and Ross Thatcher (Ind—Moose Jaw-Lake Centre). Progressive Conservative and CCF members, who fought the pipeline bill and on June 1st revolted against the Speaker's actions on the debate proceeding, voted to censure the 44-year-old Speaker.

Mr. Drew, closing debate on the censure motion, said that a vote would not restore "that easy relationship and mutual understanding" necessary for conduct of parliamentary business. Only election of a new parliament would restore that. "Something ugly has come into this House," he said. "This parliament cannot be the same again." Health Minister Martin said the opposition was trying to attack the government through its attempted censure. "No matter what the government has done it is no justification for pulling down the authority and the reputation of the Speaker," said the minister.

Death of M. P.

John Lorne MacDougall, 57-year-old Liberal member for Vancouver Burrard, died suddenly, apparently of a heart seizure, just before the opening of the afternoon Commons sitting on June 6.

The Commons adjourned for the day immediately word reached the floor that the Liberal member had collapsed and died in a fifth-room washroom in the Parliament Buildings. It was in the midst of debate on a motion by Opposition leader Drew to censure Speaker Beaudoin.

Mr. MacDougall's wife, Marjorie, was in the Commons Gallery at the time. Friends escorted her to her husband's office where the body was taken.

A dentist, Dr. MacDougall was forced to abandon his practice years ago because of First World War disabilities. He suffered a chronic heart condition and was diabetic. He had complained earlier during the week approval to the pipeline bill at 3:20 a.m. that day.

A native of Tiverton, Ont., Dr. MacDougall was first elected to the Commons in 1949 and returned in the 1953 election. His becoming voice was familiar in the Commons and the corridors. He was fond of joshing both political colleagues and opponents.

New Trade Agreement

Canadians last week learned the results of four months' negotiations at Geneva under the 36-country General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

Canada agreed to cut or remove duties on a great variety of goods ranging from seafood to beer, fire engines and newsprint, in exchange for the first major tariff concessions she has recevied from the United States and other countries in four years.

Trade Minister Howe hailed the new GATT agreement in the Commons and called on the U.S. and other countries to approve creation of the Organization for Trade Co-operation to administer the GATT and make it "more effective."

The OTC was proposed at an earlier GATT conference as a means of policing tariff pledges and imposing penalties on countries that break their promises. Britain has already indicated willingness to join but the U.S. Congress has not yet given its approval.

What's the score under Duplessis?

NEW INDUSTRIES IN CANADA IN 1955

ONTARIO	260
QUEBEC	33

In 1955, out of a total of 346 new industries (Canadian, American, British and European) in Canada, 260 established in Ontario whereas only 33 located in Quebec.

According to Canada Gazette, published weekly by the Queen's Printer, Ottawa, since 1952, 120 companies situated in Quebec have requested to transfer their head offices to other provinces, the majority of them relocating in Ontario.

From 1952 to 1955, capital investments in the Province of Quebec increased to only $7,547,000 or $1,790 per person as compared to $11,324,000 (or $2,360 per person) in Ontario.

here's the PROOF

that Duplessis has discouraged new industries from establishing in Quebec

- Statement by Mr. Fred Gardiner, president of the Toronto Metropolitan Commission (February 17, 1956):

"Metropolitan Toronto would be foolish not to take advantage of Premier Maurice Duplessis' restrictions on industry in Quebec . . . It is most important to attract industry and since Duplessis — sometimes called "Do-as-he-pleases" — has been making the climate uncomfortable for industry in Quebec . . . "(On January 24, 1956, Metro Chairman Gardiner speaking to a dinner meeting of the Ontario Forest Industries said) ". . . the Quebec premier is double taxing, insulting and penalizing industry".

- Statement by Lands and Forests Minister M. Mapledoram (Fort William) published in the Toronto Globe & Mail, Feb. 24, 1956:

"Firms which have been operating in that province for upwards to three quarters of a century are now interested in Ontario forests. The Duplessis policies are driving them to us."

- Gordon Mines in "The Financial Post" (March 27, 1954):

"Quebec is definitely harder to sell as plant location. Industrial development men say prospects fear further tax troubles.

"Many of those concerned with industrial development in Quebec report that the tax has definitely affected the attitude of firms considering Quebec as a location for new plants or an expansion program."

ASSURE QUEBEC'S FUTURE ECONOMY
CHASE DUPLESSIS FROM POWER

LAPALME SAYS:

"The economy of the province rises and falls according to whether the government is good or bad. The present Quebec administration has, out of all ten provinces, the greatest number of nuisance taxes. These only serve to encourage capital investors and industries to move to other provinces. At the same time new business is discouraged from establishing in Quebec."

The Truth About Mr. Arthur Laberge and Maxime Raymond

Mr. Arthur Laberge says that Mr. Gérard Bourdon, Liberal candidate in Chateauguay County, was a supporter of the Bloc Populaire for the 1945 Federal election. Mr. Bourdon never denied that. But there is something that people do notknow. In return for But there is something that people do not know. In return for Mr. Maxime Raymond in two elections which brought the defeat of Mr. Honore Mercier in Chateauguay County.

We invite Mr. Arthur Laberge to come forward and try to deny the real truth in Ormstown on June 18th. Will he come or refuse as he did already refuse the contradictory meeting offered to him in Chateauguay? He is also invited for the same purpose at the Howick meeting on June 16th when Hon. George C. Marler, Minister of Transport, Federal Cabinet, will speak in favor of Gerard Bourdon.

It is a known fact that Mr. Arthur Laberge has two ways of thinking and working: with our English-speaking friends he is against Maxime Raymond and with the French-Canadians he is for him! Now what!

Duplessis has increased

hydro electric power CONSIDERABLY in every Quebec area

Hydro electric capacity had to be increased to keep pace with Quebec's growing industrial development. Premier Maurice Duplessis faced up to the task in 1944 and in the subsequent decade boosted hydro electric energy from 5,800,000 to 8,000,000 horsepower. We now have an additional 2,400,000 horsepower under construction in the province and total output will soon exceed 10,000,000 horsepower.

Quebec's hydro electric potential is known to be 26,000,000 horsepower.

Graduation Party for Miss Gisele Moniqui

Some 125 guests attended the social evening at which congratulations and best wished were extended to Miss Moniqui.

During the evening the guest of honour was overwhelmed by the numerous gifts she was presented, she thanked each and everyone for making the evening such a great success and especially for such lovely gifts which were presented her.

At 12, a buffet was served, it was also then that a beautiful bouquet of flowers was presented to Gisele. This was followed by a wonderful acrobatic act presented by a seven year old girl Miss Lily Park of Montreal. As the evening progressed all enjoyed dancing to the popular orchestra of Gilles Marleau of St. Etienne.

St. Andrew's W.M.S. Meeting

St. Andrew's W.M.S. met on Wednesday, May 30, in the Annex, with a good attendance. The president, Mrs. Middlemiss, conducted the meeting and opened the service with the hymn. In the absence of Miss Turner, Mrs. McCartney acted as secretary. Mrs. Hamilton gave the treasurer's report and Mrs. McArthur reported that the Home Helpers had given $26.00.

Discussion of plans to celebrate the sixtieth anniversary took place when it was decided to hold the celebration in September, and a committee appointed to make the necessary plans. These were Mrs. Middlemiss, Miss F. Turner, Mrs. Hamilton, and Mrs. Smellie.

A petition sent by the Montreal Council of Women to remedy conditions among women in Mental Hospitals and jails, was signed by all present. The study period was taken by Mrs. McCartney, who read a chapter from the study book, which told of the food shortage of the people of India, many of whom never have sufficient food. One example of the kind of work being done is organized training in agriculture, which enables the people to use methods that make their land more productive and yield richer harvests, thus helping them to a better way of life. This typifies one of the newer advances in agricultural missions.

At the close of meeting, lunch was served by Mrs. C. Oney and Mrs. Stanley Ruddock.

Almost $1,000,000 For Health in Chateauguay County

The National Union places human capital first and Mr. Arthur Laberge, our Member, sees that our hospitals and our health unit are well looked after.

The Honourable Maurice Duplessis has always promoted the idea that, in his opinion, the most valuable asset was human capital. All his legislative programs, all his laws, all his policies are witness to the Premier's intent always to give preference over all else to this human capital.

When he submits draft Legislation his motivating interest is always the welfare of the individual: not alone his physical well-being but his moral and intellectual progress.

If our Province today enjoys such generous and advanced social laws, which still remain within our means, it is just because the National Union Government's first care is for human capital.

Human Capital First and Foremost

If Agricultural conditions have been greatly improved by the farm credit, the draining of water courses and many other like measures, it is because the Hon. Maurice Duplessis has wanted the farm worker to enjoy better working and living conditions.

Our educational institutions have witnessed astounding progress in the past few years. Why? Because the Hon. Mr. Duplessis considers that youth should be given the best possible opportunities to find a happy and fruitful existence.

The interest shown by the National Union in old people, the sick, needy mothers, poor students, the blind and invalids is the interest to protect the greatest and the finest of all assets — human capital.

Health

That explains the intensive development of the Department of Health and its activities in every sphere. This Department was the first which could advance the well-being of our human capital and it has made enormous strides.

Let us glance rapidly over the Nation Union's benefits to Chateauguay County from 1948-1956, only through the work of the Department of Health:

In Our County

In the first place, we find that the Chateauguay - Huntingdon Health Unit, which has done wonders throughout the division, received $151,446.12.

The Julius Richardson Hospital, Chateauguay, received grants totalling $291,000 and the Barrie Memorial Hospital, Ormstown, got $260,000.

In hospital fees the Barrie Memorial received $11,817.45 and the Julius Richardson, $100,-904.70.

To all these amounts must be added $33,613.21 spent for health by the Public Charities Act.

And all this, reached, for a relatively small county of limited population, the wonderful sum of $848,781.48 — almost $1,-000,000!

These generous benefits are due, we all know, firstly to the understanding and wise policies of the National Union. Formerly, hospitals were hardly to be found excepting in the large cities. They were non-existent in small centres. Today things are quite different and people can receive as good care and treatment in small places as in the larger ones because the Hon. Mr. Duplessis has seen to it that human capital be protected everywhere.

Health Units have also multiplied throughout the province and they have rendered invaluable and innumerable services to the people.

Mr. Arthur Laberge

We must not, however, lose sight of the fact that the great instigator of all these accomplishments in Chateauguay County, the one who took all the preliminary steps and the one who has shown incomparable devotedness to his district, is our own Member, Mr. Arthur Laberge, who represents Chateauguay County in our Provincial Legislature for the National Union.

Mr. Arthur Laberge is an outstanding figure in the National Union Party. Nevertheless he has never refused to help to support anyone. He never allows party considerations to interfere in a question of trouble or of assisting a citizen.

He was first elected in 1948. During his first four years, he had done so much for Chateauguay County that the people unhesitatingly re-elected him.

He now comes before the electorate once more with even greater accomplishments to his credit. Thanks to his efforts, Chateauguay County is in the full swing of development. He is not obliged to defend his conduct: his works speak for him! He does not have to make promises: sufficient it is for him to state quite simply — "I shall continue the work which I have started!"

A Third Term of Office

The voters of Chateauguay County will not hesitate to entrust Mr. Laberge with a third term at Quebec. They will send him back with an even greater majority than ever before. This would be a touching tribute to him and a token of acknowledgment and gratitude for his excellent work.

Mr. Arthur Laberge enjoys excellent health. He is not accustomed to counting either his effort or his time or his displacements. He wants Chateauguay to be one of the most favoured in the province and he has so far admirably succeeded.

If you want the National Union, its Chief, Hon. Maurice Duplessis, and our Member, Mr. Arthur Laberge, to continue to serve us so well, see that Chateauguay County continues to support with even greater solidarity and enthusiasm than ever before the Friend of the Farmer, of Youth, the Friend of everyone — Mr. Laberge!

The Protestant School Commissioners for the Municipality of Huntingdon in the County of Huntingdon in the District of Beauharnois, also known as the Protestant Board of School Commissioners administering the Protestant High School of Huntingdon, also known as the Huntingdon Academy, a body politic and corporate, according to law, and having its head office and principal place of business in the town of Huntingdon, in the district of Beauharnois, Defendants.

The Court, after hearing the plaintiff and the defendant through their lawyers in a damage suit following the injuries which the son of the plaintiff, acting on behalf of his son, suffered in the schoolyard of the defendant, examining the procedure and the produced facts, hearing the proof and deliberation:

This yard, in Huntingdon, is open to all children of the neighborhood. Regardless of whether or not they are of school age, their language and their religion, whether it be school days or holidays, or hours before or after school.

They are even invited to it through the fact that the defendant had installed attractive games such as swings, see-saws, horizontal ladders, trapeezes, etc.

The authorities should have known, for it was evident that the children were constantly playing in the yard. Furthermore, they were aware of it. On many instances, the Chief of Police was called when some children threw stones, or were ill-behaved. He was never asked to keep them from playing there even when the school was closed. A former officer of the Provincial Police lived close by. The back part of his house was connecting with the schoolyard. He had five children, of which two were of pre-school age. They all played in the schoolyard with the other children. Once, he received a claim for a window pane which one of the children had broken. The girl who looked after the plaintiff's children, then aged 18, called the yard "the playground". The proof is too abundant to insist on those facts.

Through the week-ends, from 3.30 p.m. Friday until Monday morning, the school was closed, there were no schoolteachers, no guardian and the yard was used as a playground. In all that, maybe there was no fault on the part of the defendant, but only generosity. It is not for the Court to decide.

The school, big enough for it has 350 students, is composed of an old part which is two-storied, and of a newer part which is more elevated. Both buildings are joined by a closed passage, the roof of which is at the level of the windows of the second storey of the older part, at about 18 feet from the ground. That roof had a fence all around it and somewhere near was a fire escape which the Commissioners had received instructions to replace. To replace it they had decided to make a chute, that is to say a large metallic tube into which the students, coming out of a window of the older part on the top of the passage, would slide to the ground. They gave, at fixed contract of $500. for the construction and erection of the metallic chute to a contractor by the name of Hooker. While the construction was going on, the commissioners had the fence protecting the roof removed. Later, a little hut was made to close the opening at the top of the tube and of the window with which it communicated. According to Chairman Graham, Hooker had nothing to do with the removal of the fence circling the roof of the passage nor with the hut. It seems also that he had nothing to do with the cement base on which the bottom of the tube was to rest.

In October, 1953, the chute had been completed the day before and it does not seem according to the proof, that the contractor had anything more to do with it. On that date, two employees of Hooker were working at the school, not on the tube, but on some pipe of the heating system. They finished their work on the chute on the 9th, and they never touched it after that. No proof shows that this contract of Hooker was not finished on the 9th. The contrary seems to be proven. On that date, the school caretaker had loaned to the two employees a ladder owned by the school. On the same evening he saw the ladder on the ground by a wall. On the Saturday evening, he took it into the basement.

Before going any further, as the question of a ladder was mentioned in the preceding paragraph, the Court must say that the first questions concerning the ownership of the ladder were asked by the court president. Others, from the plaintiff, followed. The defense was opposed to those for they did not derive from the main interrogatory. The Court declares that it is not bound by article 340 of the Code of civil procedure, (see 344).

On the morning of the 10th, before 9.30, the plaintiff's maid took to the "playground" the two Roskies children, David, five and a half and Jackie, two and a half. There were many children there.

At about 10.30, there were about ten children who played by the chute. Two or three were nearly fourteen, the others were younger. The most able climbed the interior of the chute and then let themselves slide. The younger ones climbed the ladder which was placed from the ground to the roof, near the chute.

The plaintiff's maid had been talking to her fiancé at that time, Claude Lafleur, who was doing some soldering for the pipes at about twenty feet from the tube. He told her not to stay, for it was dangerous. She went with the two children to the swings which were at about 60 feet from the chute. A couple of times, David, attracted by the chute and probably by the children who were playing there, asked the maid to go but she refused and kept the children at the swing. Later she noticed that David was not with her anymore. She ran to the ladder. According to her statement, when she got there, she was told that the child had fallen from the roof of the passage on the other side. According to young Jean L'Heureux, when she got near the ladder, the young one was almost at the top. That difference does not change anything; it was proven that he had fallen from the roof of the unprotected passage. Even if there was fault on the part of the young girl, which the court does not believe, it would not affect the solitary responsibility of the defendants, if they were at fault.

The maid picked up the child. His nose was bleeding. She went to wash him at the school wash room and then noticed that he could not stand up. She called her fiance, who took young David to the hospital.

Was there, from the defendants' part, fault which caused that sad accident? When one invites young children to use a very dangerous object in itself and that because of it a young child is injured, there is fault which engenders responsibility on the part of the one who invites.

The schoolyard was open. It was very attractive in itself, at the time of the accident, there were two or three other attractions, besides the ordinary games, each dangerous in itself. One cannot imagine that children going to play on the swings and on the trapeezes would not be attracted by the chute, the ladder and the roof, not protected roof, the whole combined.

The defendants, the only ones responsible for the schoolyard, knowing the state of the premises and the particular danger at that date, did not place a watchman to keep the children from entering the yard, or getting near the chute, or using the ladder; they did not take any measure of protection and persisted in extending their invitation. In the court's opinion, they only can be blamed.

Young David Roskies suffered a fracture of the left thigh-bone joint and one of the right wrist. Taken immediately to the hospital, he remained there until November 10, and had to return many times.

The wrist was treated by manipulations under anaesthetics and by application of a cast. The result was good.

The fracture to the thigh-bone caused a number of difficulties. The traction being insufficient, manipulations were necessary. There was a sliding in the cast and the hip had to be manipulated again. Two threads had to be used so that the parts stayed in position. Hospitalization ceased on November 10, but the patient was sent home wearing his cast, which covered him from hip to toe. On December 21, after X-Ray examination, the threads had to be removed due to infection. On December 30, the X-Ray showed that not enough blood was received. On February 12, 1954, the same fact seems to have been noticed. After the removal of the cast which apparently was still on at the date of the institution of the claim, around the beginning of April 1954, supports were needed and will be for one year.

The father of the child studied textiles at Leeds University, England, and at Philadelphia. After these specialized studies which lasted 4 years, he was employed by The Huntingdon Woollen Mills Limited, in 1955, at $10,000 yearly salary. The son should approximately attain the same level.

The ordinary figures do not seem to give the expected length of life of a five and a half year old child, but at eight years old, it is of fifty-seven years. The figures do not show the needed capitals for annuities from twenty-one years only. At this age it takes $2,272. to guarantee a $100. annuity. Those figures were admitted.

The hospitalisation and medicine costs past and to come are about $3,000. Those are the only damages determined.

The Court believes that for the laborious pains which that child had to endure and will endure in later operations, different from his permanent incapacity, for the loss of one school year, for his 15% permanent incapacity in which the Court includes damages to the personality and those deriving from the loss of the pleasures of life, taking in consideration the risks of the existence, that a sum of $14,000 would not be exaggerated.

CONSIDERING the above reasons:

CONSIDERING that the plaintiff, acting on behalf of his son, has proven the essential allegations of his declaration and damages in the amount of $17,000.;

CONSIDERING that the defense has failed in the principal allegations;

FOR THOSE REASONS, the Court DECIDES in favour of the Plaintiff, acting on behalf of his son, and CONDEMNS the defendants to pay the plaintiff the amount of $17,000 with interest and costs.

Mr. Arthur Laberge

has wonderfully served his County of Chateauguay

His re-election is foreseen by a big majority — The interests of Chateauguay County demand a National Union Victory!

The re-election of Mr. Arthur Laberge as Member for Chateauguay County in the Provincial Legislature seems not only to be assured but it is very likely that his majority will be considerably increased this year.

Mr. Laberge was born in Chateauguay; he has always lived there and he has never ceased devoting his every effort for this county. It is the general view that he will receive a vote of confidence and of gratitude the like of which has seldom been seen!

Our Member, in carrying out his duties, has never taken into account political differences; he has never questioned the race, language or religion of a citizen; he has neevr spared himself when the interests of a resident of his county — man or woman — were at stake. Thus he will be sure to receive votes from many who are attached to the Liberal party or to some other group.

Every person in Chateauguay who place the interests of this County above all else want to see Mr. Laberge re-elected. He has shown admirable solicitude for his County and, due to his efforts, Chateauguay is enjoying an era of unprecedented activity.

We have enjoyed the benefits here of numberless improvements in every way. We have had our full share and may be even more of public works, drainage and roads. Bear in mind that the National Union Government has spent almost $1,500,000 in the County from 1948-1956 for bridges, for improvements to existing bridges or culverts, for a road, garage and office, and in grants for fire protection.

Think of it: The National Union Government has spent $4,500,000 in Chateauguay County in the past 8 years. Our roads have been improved, our roads are admirably maintained summer and winter and several roadways projects are underway or will soon be.

Mr. Arthur Laberge has, therefore, demonstrated extraordinary activity since 1948. If only through a sense of gratitude, we owe it to him to re-elect him. But even from a personal point of view, our own interests demand that we support Mr. Arthur Laberge because we know that the County will never be as well or better served than by him.

Beef and Dual Purpose

The Beef and Dual-Purpose classes were judged by Percy Webb (Herd Manager for E. P. Taylor, Winfield Farm, Willowdale, Ont.) a man of wide experience with Shorthorne and Aberdeen-Angus cattle.

The Dual-Purpose Shorthorn classes were comprised of entries from Sylvan Brae Farms of Howick, and the herd of C. N. Abbott of Varennes, Que., with the championships going to the Abbott herd. However, Sylvan Brae won first in the 3 year old dry class on Sylvan Brae Melody Dela; first in the 2 year old heifer, dry, class on Sylvan Brae Iris Royal.

The Shorthorns

The only Scotch Shorthorn herd represented was the Saraguay Farms of Mrs. W. C. Pitfield, Saraguay, Que. The prizes were therefore all won by the Saraguay herd.

The Herefords

There were three herds of Herefords represented, constituting the largest show of that breed ever seen at Ormstown. All three were from other districts—J.P.A. Smyth of St. Scholastique; Clark Jones, Beebe, and John Nichol and Sons Reg'd, Lennoxville, Que. However, it should be of interest to note that Mr. Smyth is a native of St. Anicet, and that he was educated at Huntingdon Academy.

With Garrett ("Chappie") Chapman, Veteran Sheepman (formerly of Waterloo, Que.) as his Manager, Mr. Smyth now farms some 600 acres. The Hereford herd was recently founded as the result of the purchase of three carloads of high class females in Western Canada; mostly two year old, in calf, heifers, mostly from the famous Collicutt herd. The herd sire which was purchased at that time, Greenhills Worthy Domino, was senior and grand champion at Ormstown. The Smyth herd also won the senior and grand female championships.

As befits "Chappie" Chapman's past lifetime connection, a flock of sheep also figures in the scheme of things at the Smyth Farm. It therefore also was that the Smyth Farm had the senior and grand champion Southdown ram at Ormstown.

The Aberdeen-Angus

Brae Manor Farms, Dewittville, had several entries in this section, but due to the (usual) help situation, etc., these entries were not forward. However, Mrs. Bruce McKellar of Brae Manor acted as the Ring Clerk for the Dual Purpose and Beef Cattle classes.

The only exhibitors were therefore L. T. Porter, St. Andrews East, and S. Leslie Kerr, Vaudreuil. The Junior and Grand Champion bull was a junior yearling owned by L. T. Porter, with a summer yearling owned by S. Leslie Kerr as the reserved junior, reserve grand champion.

L. T. Porter also won the senior and grand female championships.

POLITICAL ASPIRATIONS

By
A. S. PIRANT

Eb. and Jake got together for another little confab and of course as usual in these days, the conversation turned toward the election in this Province. They had discussed many matters since Eb. had arrived at Jake's place for a visit and after so long, they had plenty to talk about.

"You know, Jake", said Eb. "since I've been here and since I have been reading the 'papers, I believe the Liberals have a good chance of winning this election. I've never seen so much enthusiasm among Liberal party members and supporters as there is in this campaign. They are really going around as if they meant business. Of course, I realize that the campaign is only just warming up, but the next week will really see the heat turned on. The nomination meeting brought only the two candidates, one for each party — Liberals and Union Nationale, so it will be a straight contest in this riding, at least. There were some rumors that possibly two others would seek nomination at the last minute, but it didn't happen. I believe the Liberals have a drawing card in that chap Marler they are bringing to Hemmingford, this Saturday".

"The Union Nationale fellows hereabouts are sure turning on the figures, according to the advertisements", said Jake. "Of course, one has to remember that we helped to provide this money, or they would not be able to give it out. But then if we look at what George Lapalme says, it will be seen that we are paying for it dearly in more taxes than our neighbor province of Ontario. The Liberals feel they can do just as well and get along with less money and that would mean, they figure they could lower some of these taxes. If they can lower the taxes, we could get more industries into Quebec, instead of them going to Ontario. You know these industrial firms like to come to Quebec, but they are not going to do it if it is going to cost them more for taxes. Duplessis says these corporations can afford to pay higher taxes. That may be so, but why should they if they can get them cheaper some place else?"

"You know, Jake", said Eb. "when these big industrial outfits start figuring on establishing a branch plant or a new undertaking, they make a survey of all the factors as well as the location. They don't go into it blind like. Every little details is figured and they count the cost to the last cent. It isn't only the initial cost, but it is the cost over the years they figure. Taxes, of course, mean quite a bit over the years in the cost of production and doing business. If competition in a certain line is very keen, these fellows have to produce in order to compete and they can't afford to ignore anything that will make their costs too high. I have some friends in the business world and they tell me the taxes they have to pay is big and if they could get even small reductions it would make a big difference to their costs. Take even gasoline alone, two cents a gallon more than in Ontario, a firm operating a large fleet of trucks or cars, would save quite a bit in a year".

"Eb.", said Jake, "you ought to be in politics, in fact you ought to consider running one of these times. You've got some darn good ideas and you have a knack of figuring things out. A good politician should be able to give some thought to what goes on. That's what makes me think that Jim Smythe will be a good man for us. He is quiet and a thinker, he is calm and takes time to figure things out. He is sure working hard to get the vote on June 20th, he's out every day somewhere".

"Well, it won't be long now", said Eb.' "just one more week and we shall know the story. It's the voting that counts and on June 20th I am very sure there is going to be a very heavy vote. If the people want to get their man in they have got to get out and vote, because I am sure it is going to be real close this time. It is not going to be one of them easy elections. I'm backing the Liberals to win and you can be sure I'm not going to take chances by letting them down".

"I'm with you on that, Eb.", said Jake, "and I'm getting all my friends primed up to vote Liberal, some of them have been going the other way, but they say they are finished with that".

Reduce Barriers

Mr. Howe said the tariff reductions negotiated will reduce Canada-U.S. trade barriers and provide "useful, practical gains for Canadian exporters.

Canada negotiated with U.S. and 12 other European and Latin American countries. She obtained reductions on more than $300,000,000 worth of goods, about two thirds applicable to U.S. market.

Officials said they tried to get the U.S. to negotiate on the more important Canadian farm and fish exports but the overtures were rejected.

The U.S. cuts, which will be spread over a two-year peroid, will cover about 650 products of which 150 will interest Canadian exporters. They include such items as synthetic rubber, various chemicals, aluminum, steel ingots, some paper products, a group of highly processed goods and a few minor farm products.

Ormstown High School Notes

Television

The thanks of the School Board, Staff, and Students are expressed to Mr. B. L. McGerrigle for providing a television set for the period April 10 to May 15, thus making it possible for O.H.S. to participate in the recent Canada-wide class-room experiment.

Curling

The staff and students wish to express to the Curling Club appreciation for the use of the Club facilities for School Curling during the past.

Scout Activities

A meeting of interested citizens aided by Scouting Leaders of the District, held at the school on Thursday, May 22, resulted in the re-forming of a Community Group Committee. Headed by Mr. W. Frost, this Committee is planning measures for the revival of a scout troop and support for Cubbing as well as other features of the Scouting program.

7-2-11 Club

This year an attempt was made to promote a closer relationship between parents and teachers of students from Grades 7-11. Although the start was a modest one, we feel that we are proceeding in the right direction.

At the last meeting of the Club on May 9, members were addressed by representatives of the Board who discussed reconstruction of the School now in progress.

Mr. A. W. Lang, Executive Secretary, Q.A.P.S.B., spoke to the Club on the current provincial school building programme, and congratulated the local board on their progress. At the May 9th. meeting also a new slate of officers was approved: Mrs. Anderson, President; Mrs. Dawson, Mrs. Morgan; Mrs. Manning; Mr. A. Hooker; Mr. King.

Senior Class Day

It has been traditional that Senior Class Day enjoy fine weather — this year was no exception. On May 20 after the tribes and houses had congregated on the campus, the graduating class and Grade Ten took their places to the right of the Speaker's dais.

Athletic, scholarship and debating trophies were awarded, and the school was honoured by the presence of a representative of the Swift Co. Ltd., who awarded two prizes on behalf of his firm. The recipients, both from the graduating class, were Heather McKell and Jean Ednie. In his address to the graduates, Mr. King stressed the importance of putting effort, enthusiasm and drive into one's work. He also emphasized the rigorous discipline of life, which transcends that of home or school. In closing he congratulated the graduates on their progress, and assured them that they would always be remembered by principal and faculty.

Senior Class Dinner

A fitting close to Class Day activities was provided by a banquet sponsored by Grade Ten for the graduating class. This year plans were well executed as the food, decorations and programme attested. The serving by Grade Nine was a credit to their training, which these girls have been receiving School.

under Miss Aitken.

Valedictorian Betty Forrester extended word of appreciation to the groups, which had made school life happy and profitable. Special appreciation was extended to the class teacher Mr. R. S. White and to Mr. King.

Darel Lang and Ross White had the guests in a state of constant merriment with their Testaments and Prophecies. Whether there was a grain of truth in the statements is doubtful, but their impact on the audience was self-evident. Donnie McCormick was Master of Ceremonies.

Mr. A. W. Lang, Executive Secretary Q.A.P.S.B., spoke to the graduating class on the competition of life which all must join, differing sharply from the competitive games at school in which a student participated voluntarily. In closing, Mr. Lang surprised the audience by naming every member of the graduating class although two decades have elapsed since he was principal of the Ormstown

Canadian Legion Golf Tournament

Five representatives from the Huntingdon Branch No. 81, of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., attended the annual Provincial Canadian Legion Golf Tourament held this year at Three Rivers. Those attending were J. J. Boisseau, E. C. Martin, Myles Tillotson, Hugh Spencer and Cecil Brown. The Tournament was held at the KI—8—EB Country Club, a very scenic Club along the St. Lawrence River. According to reports received, the course was in beautiful shape and was a hard and tricky one to play. At the same time, the Course is one of the most scenic in Canada. The Club house stands on a Cliff from which everyone tees off for the first hole. The first nine holes are in a valley parallel to the St. Lawrence River. The second nine consists of narrow dog-leg fairways between plenty of trees which makes things tough for the average golfer, who has either a bit of a slice or a hook. One of the most interesting and trickiest holes was the Ninth. It seems that it is a par three hole. The golfer must drive off the tee with great height in order to drop onto the green which is on top of the cliff by the Club House. The climb from the tee to the green is so steep that there is a cable car to carry the golfers up to the green.

Winner of the tournament where the members of the team from the Vimy Branch in Montreal. Our local members did quite well. Following the Tournament, there was a buffet supper in which every one had plenty to eat. This was a vast improvement over the supper served at Drummondville last year where the last 50 or 60 threesome did not have anything to eat.

After the Buffet Supper, there was a Ball at the Legion Hall at Three Rivers which helped to celebrate the 25th Anniversary of that branch.

Fishing

During the past week, many ardent fisherman have been out practising their favourite sport, with appreciable results. Several good catches of Speckle Trout have been reported. Occasionally we hear of the occasional Brown Trout being caught. Some good size dore, or walleyes, or pickeral have been caught at Lake St. Francis during the past weekend. Unfortunately we also hear of the occasional muskie being caught out of season either by rod and line or by spear.

Baseball

Now that the season is in full swing and that the weather might be gradually improving, the Huntingdon Merchants Baseball Team have settled down for a season of winnings. But to help them along both financially and spiritually, bigger crowds will be needed for there home games. An afternoon sitting in the Bleachers at Cunningham's Field will prove both rewarding to you the specator and to the players. Come out and support the Huntingdon Merchants, for with your support, they stand a good chance of winning the pennant again this year.

DEGREE B.Sc.

MR. RICHARD J. WILLIS, B.Sc.

Amongst the Graduates to receive the Degree of Bachelor of Science at the Convocation Exercises held in connection with the Sir George Williams College at Montreal on Friday evening May 25th., was Mr. Richard J. Willis, Chief Chemist of the Converting Division of the Montreal Cottons Ltd.

Special credit is due to Mr. Willis, a former Graduate of the Gault Institute, who has attended the evening courses at the College whilst working daytime in the Chemical Laboratory of the Montreal Cottons Ltd. During this time he has taken all the subjects equivalent to the full day course of 4 years, and has earned his B.Sc. Degree while specializing in Chemistry.

The hard work involved in gaining the Degree has in no way damped his ardour, as Mr. Willis intends to continue his studies and work for his Masters Degree in Chemistry.

Mr. Willis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Willis and is married to the former Miss Rachel Bougie.

We are glad to join his many friends in offering him our heartiest congratulations and wish him every success for the future.

Aubrey - Riverfield

W.I. Notes

The regular monthly meeting of Aubrey-Riverfield W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Templeton, Scotch Concession, on Thursday, May 31, a week earlier on account of Ormstown Show.

Current events were given by the conveners. 22 members answered the roll call with "Timely Advice".

A splendid report of the County Convention was given by Mrs. H. Angell and Mrs. Gordon Easton.

The highlight of the evening was a splendid talk by Mrs. Ken Younie, R.N., on civil defence, outlining the plan of the Barrie Memorial Hospital in case of bombing, flood or any major disaster. This proved to be very educational. The speaker was thanked by Mrs. Ewart Orr.

As it was Grandmothers' Night, the remainder of the programme was taken by them. Mrs. Finlay Milne read the minutes of the last meeting; piano music was supplied by Mrs. J. Angell and Mrs. J. Orr.

Mrs. Bruce Ness was a guest and sang "That Wonderful Mother of Mine".

Mrs. Janet Reddick reminisced from the old Family Album and a sing-song was enjoyed by everyone.

We were also very happy to have Mrs. Jennie Metcalfe and Miss Ethel Struthers as visitors.

Brighter Stars for Drive-in-Viewers

Your favorite movie star's smile beams three times as clear and bright from an aluminum screen recently developed for outdoor theatres.

The new screen has won the praise of both audiences and owners. Little wonder the latter like it: one operator found his receipts increased by $40,000 in two months after he replaced his conventional screen with the highly reflective, weather-proof aluminum job.

And so it goes . . . Still another improved product, still another use for this versatile modern metal. The result: everybody gains by production from Canadian smelters that already account for a quarter of the world's primary aluminum.
