Announces decision

Bertrand in running for leadership of UN

By CUTHBERT JONES
(Record Staff Writer)

COWANSVILLE — Jean-Jacques Bertrand, former Minister of Lands and Forests and of Social Welfare and Youth in the Union Nationale administration, will seek the UN party leadership at the first convention in the history of the party — to be held in Quebec City during September.

Mr. Bertrand officially announced his entry into the leadership race at a gathering of some 2,000 electors of Missisquoi County held in Ste. Therese School here Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Bertrand has represented Missisquoi in the provincial Legislative Assembly since 1948.

The 45-year-old Sherbrooke lawyer is the second official entry into the Union Nationale race, former Hydraulic Resources Minister Daniel Johnson, of the neighboring county of Bagot, having announced his leadership aspirations some weeks ago.

In making his announcement, Mr. Bertrand said:

"My candidature is an act of faith in the new lease of life which I favor, and which I want, an act of faith in the democracy and the principle of liberty and responsibility which will guide my political activity and that of those who are backing me."

Indicative of the support which he believes he will receive from his fellow members of the provincial parliament, Mr. Bertrand introduced a number of members of the Upper and Lower chambers who were present on the platform.

These included Hon. Patrice Tardif, MLC, Armand Russell, MPP for Shefford; Claude Gosselin, MPP for Compton, and Eloi Gullette, MPP for Frontenac.

HISTORY TO JUDGE
Speaking largely from a prepared text, Mr. Bertrand dealt with a number of problems facing the party if it hoped to regain power in the near future.

Referring to patronage, he declared:

"Everyone will want to know what I think of patronage or rather the abuses of patronage. On this subject, there can be no doubt that the hour of courage, of sincerity and of lucidity has struck for the members of the Union Nationale who genuinely desire change."

"But," he added, "there can be no question of condemning individuals. History will assume that task."

Continuing, he said:

Certain men have become living targets within our party

Provincial premiers meet

To set up council of provinces

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP) — Key men behind the move are Canada's 10 provincial premiers open a two-day conference here today, gathering around the same green-topped mahogany table where the fathers of Confederation sat 97 years ago to lay the groundwork for a new nation.

The conference of Sept. 1, 1864, led to Confederation 34 months later.

Today's talks will be chiefly aimed at organizing something almost as historic—a council of the provinces.

Prepare progress program

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP) — Western hemisphere statesmen put finishing touches today on a historic declaration allying the American states in a mighty push for progress.

President Kennedy's alliance for progress program will become a reality Wednesday when ministers of 20 American states—and perhaps 21—gather for a ceremonial signing of the "declaration of Punta del Este." It will be the final act in the inter-American economic conference which has been meeting here since Aug. 5.

The declaration will put into motion Kennedy's program designed to pump $20,000,000,000 into Latin American economies in a move to help back the fight of Communism.

A U.S. source said Kennedy's representatives at the Inter-American conference feel strongly that the alliance will inspire Latin Americans to help themselves.

Archbishop dies

VIENNA (AP) — The Papal Nuncio to Austria, Archbishop Giovanni Dellepiane, died Saturday of cancer. He was 73. A native of Genoa, Italy, the archbishop had been dean of Vienna's diplomatic corps since 1952.

Reds close gate at Brandenburg

Weekend accidents Townships toll four

BERLIN — Communist East Germany today announced the "temporary" closing of the Brandenburg Gate, chief crossing point between East and West Berlin.

The closing left open only 12 other street crossings in the divided city. It was announced as effective at this afternoon.

Karl Maron, East German minister of the interior, signed the announcement. He blamed the measures on "continued provocations."

Earlier this morning, the East Germans moved armored cars and steel-helmeted troops into position near the gate as big crowds built up at the crossing point.

The crowds began assembling late this morning after some 5,000 West Berlin workers staged a march to the West Berlin city hall in protest against the Communist closure of the border.

A silent crowd of several hundred East Berliners also assembled on the Communist side of the gate and East Berlin police pushed them back from the border.

On the West Berlin side, a unit of helmeted emergency police took up positions to prevent any clash and a loudspeaker called on the crowd to obey police instructions. West Berlin police diverted traffic away from the area around the gate in an effort to prevent any border clash.

As the crowds built up, the East Germans moved six armored cars up closer to the gate. They also brought an armored truck with a high-pressure water gun into position.

Meanwhile, the 5,000 factory workers marched through the streets of West Berlin carrying placards reading "we demand."

$2 million worth of art is stolen
AIX EN PROUVENCE, France (AP) — Borrowed paintings by French impressionist Paul Cezanne worth $2,000,000 were stolen Sunday in southern France's seventh major art theft in two years.

With police admitting they have scarcely a clue in the latest haul, a spokesman for the Pavillon Vendome, which was showing the paintings, indicated it is ready to pay ransom to get them back. They were insured for 10,000,000 francs ($2,000,000).

The Pavillon Vendome spokesman said the masterpieces, borrowed from exhibit in this ancient city where Cezanne was born, are so well known that no reputable dealer would buy them.

Weekly newspapers open meet
HALIFAX (CP) — Canada's weekly newspaper men will spend the next three days discussing such problems as publishing costs, competition from television and subscriber demands in an increasingly technological world.

The 42nd annual Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association convention opens today in a spirit of recognition that the weekly needs to parallel the growing cosmopolitan personality of the country's smaller communities.

"There's more young blood in the weeklies," said a spokesman for the more than 350 publishing and editors who have gathered for the convention. "There'll be less general talk and more attempts to see what can be done to cope with these problems," he said.

JERUSALEM (AP) — The officer as the master bureaucrat behind the Nazi slaughter of millions of Jews.

Summing up, he attacked point by point the prosecution charges that Eichmann zealously and efficiently carried out Hitler's orders for the destruction of Europe's Jews.

"If what the prosecution says is correct, then all the Nazis still being hunted can come out of hiding," Servatius declared. "The great guilty one has been found—Adolf Eichmann."

CHALLENGES AUTHORITY
The defence lawyer challenged the authority of the special three-judge tribunal to try Eichmann for crimes against the Jewish nation.

"Since Israel did not exist as a nation at the time of Eichmann's activities, there could have been no crime against the Jewish nation," Servatius declared.

Servatius claimed the defendant's only duty in the Nazi holocaust was to "oversee and supervise the smooth functioning of transport" the deportation of Jews by train to the death camps in the eastern occupied areas.

The prosecution charges Eichmann had personal authority over what happened to Jews after they reached the death mills and decided which groups were herded into the gas chambers. But Servatius said Eichmann "was charged with taking care of any hitches which developed in transport and the did so."

"The instructions came from Hitler . . ."

"The prosecution has not submitted evidence that he was not a high-ranking official in the German government."

Newfoundland gets respite

Rain holds up fires but only temporarily

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — Newfoundland's fire fighters, spattered Sunday by one of the few rains the province has had all summer, face their flaming forests with new vigor today.

Sunday's rain—about a quarter of an inch in most fire areas but at times it fell in torrents—was the first break in 70 and 80-degree heat and clear skies in two weeks.

It had a halting effect on the fires but was neither heavy nor lasting enough to do much permanent good. Officials have estimated that many of the fires, burning in bone-dry bush and cracking softwood stands, will not die until the snow arrives.

The rain gave the 1,000 firemen a chance to establish stands against advancing flames. A half dozen hot spots on Trinity Bay and the north-east coast were calmed.

New Chelsea on Trinity Bay suffered the only building loss during the weekend. A home and a barn were destroyed. With the women and children evacuated, men made a desperate fight with water, bulldozers and trench-digging teams.

He said he saw no reason, in the international situation, for shortening the summer recess and recalling the Commons and Senate earlier than they planned to resume their work.

Morocco, he added in an airport interview, it was originally planned that the session would continue normally into the fall, and there has been nothing to develop internationally or otherwise in the recess to change the plan.

The prime minister thereby effectively ruled out some speculation that he might prorogue the 1961 session soon after its resumption next month and open a new session, making an early start on the 1962 program.

The current session actually started in November, 1961, and carried through Christmas, Easter and summer recesses and already is the longest in history.

The prime minister's remarks also appeared to rule out any likelihood of a general election this autumn. At least eight weeks and preferably more are needed to conduct both an election campaign and carry through the election machinery, and a winter election is generally regarded as out of the question because of climate.

Mr. Diefenbaker was asked about Parliament and the international situation when he returned from a 10-day visit to his home province, Saskatchewan.

CAN'T MAKE RAIN
Rain-making equipment from Montreal was set in strategic points. Generators threw silver iodide into the atmosphere to create rain, but the project has not produced rain.

Show Business

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—There's a new man in Lucille Ball's life. Marriage? It could happen, say her friends.

The man is Gary Morton and he is a night club comedian. And to give the story of an extra, romantic twist, they met on a blind date.

Lucille is back in Hollywood after a European vacation. Her constant companion now, as then, is Morton, a tall, broad-shouldered New Yorker with an agile wit.

"Gary has made Lucille laugh again," says an intimate. "He's good for her."

By her own admission, Lucille was depressed after her divorce from her longtime co-star of I Love Lucy, Desi Arnaz. She plunged into work, first in a Broadway musical, Wildcat. The show almost did her in. She finally had to quit because of exhaustion.

During the run of the show she met Morton. A friendship blossomed, then romance.

When I reached Lucille at her

Beverly Hills home, she admitted, "I've got a great guy."

"No, I have no plans to get married," she said, adding reflectively, "I'm afraid of marriage."

"I'm not," Morton said lightly. He has been occupying Lucille's guest house, and they were leaving for Lake Tahoe, where he will appear at Cal-Neva Lodge.

He explained that they met in New York on a date arranged by Paula Stewart, who played Lucille's sister in Wildcat and who is married to comedian Jack Carter. The word is that Miss Stewart figured Lucille needed a man to help her out of the depression created by the divorce. She figured right.

Who is Gary Morton? He was born in New York City, a trucker's son. He attended public schools in Manhattan and, like many another comedian, graduated to show business via the U.S. Army.

"I was in special services at Fort Riley, Kan.," he said. "That's where the bug got me."

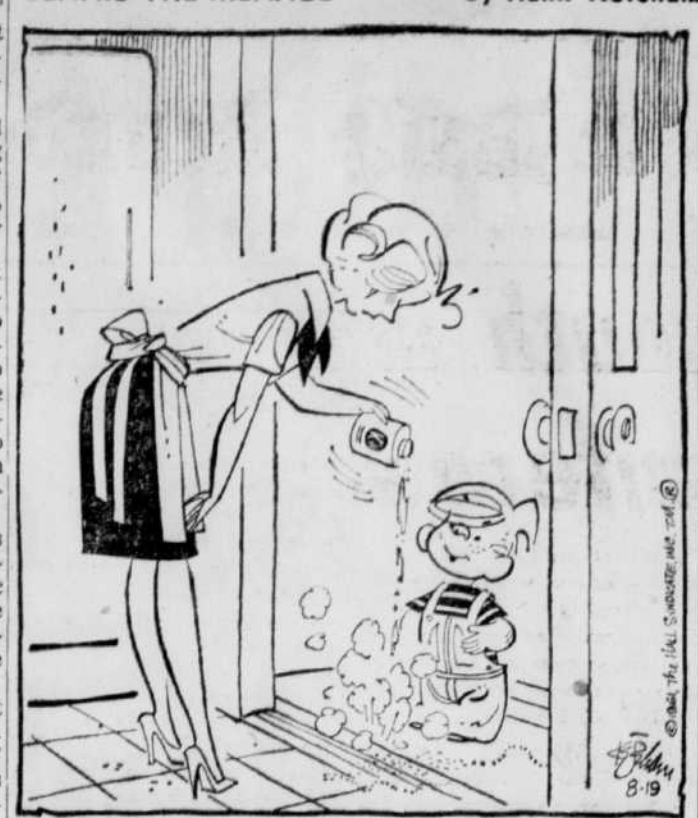

After the war, he played clubs and theatres, first as an impressionist and later as a satirical comedian. He appeared on TV's comedy hour, in Mr. Wonderful on Broadway and in the better joints from Vegas to New York's Copacabana. Like Lucille, he has had one divorce.

Despite the marital split, Lucille maintains close business ties with Arnaz. Asked about her future plans, she replied, "Desi knows more about them than I do."

She said that she'll probably do some TV specials for Desilu, including Lucy Goes to Broadway. She plans a Dinah Shore show and another film with Hope, Critch's Choice, it looks doubtful if she will ever return to the suspended Wildcat.

"The demands of the Musicians' Union have made that financially impossible," she said. She added that she might consider a return to the stage and mentioned a possible deal with Josh Logan.

"But next time I'll be much more careful in choosing what I do," she said. "No musical was ever as tough on a performer as Wildcat."

Dr. Hyman
SURGERY, WATCHFUL WAITING

Q—My doctor discovered a fibroid tumor of my uterus and gave me the choice of X-ray treatment or operation. Which is preferable? I am 35 and hate to think of having to take shots the rest of my life.

A—If you were nearer to your natural menopause and as free from symptoms and discomforts as your letter elsewhere suggests, I would suggest a course of "watchful waiting" or "skillful neglect" in the hope that the fibroids might shrink appreciably as they often do at the time of the "change". However, at 35 you are best advised to choose surgery.

This permits your surgeon to see, remove and submit for microscopic examination, the tumor or tissue involved. It also spares your ovaries thus saving you the effects produced by an artificially induced menopause.

Stanstead Historical Society meets

SOCIETY EXECUTIVE — Officers of the Stanstead County Historical Society elected at the annual meeting Saturday are, from left: Austin Foster, vice-president; J. D. Ferguson, president; B. W. Brown, secretary, and Arthur Judd, Jr., treasurer. (Andre Pepin Photograph)

STANSTEAD — Probably one of the largest attended meetings of the Stanstead Historical Society on record took place on Saturday in the museum of the County Building on Dufferin Road, attended by persons from far and near.

Dr. Chilton Williamson, of Barnard College, a noted historian, and Harold Baldwin of Baldwin's Mills were the speakers of the day.

Dr. Williamson, who is professor of history at the College, and whose ancestors at one time were residents of the Townships before going to Picton, Ont., spoke on the influx of New Englanders into the Townships and Quebec Province from 1783 to 1823, of the troubled times of the New Englanders in those early days and of the war of 1812 which clear the air and brought an end to the pressure of misunderstandings between the people of Vermont and the Townships and of the genuine friendships which emerged in the late 1800's. The speaker spoke frequently of the Allen family of Vermont and their actions in Vermont and New England, he referred to William Smith, an official of Quebec who helped open the Frontier to the Loyalists to orbit from the St. Lawrence to the Frontier Border.

For his interesting and inspiring talk, Dr. Williamson was thanked by the Society president, J. D. Ferguson and J. D. Ferguson, vice-president, Austin T. Foster.

Brilliant piano concert at Orford Musical camp

By ALISON SCHOENFELD
Vlado Perlemuter gave a brilliant concert on Saturday night at the summer camp of the Jeunesses Musicales of Canada at Mount Orford.

Mr. Perlemuter chose an all Chopin program consisting of two sonatas and twelve etudes. The opening number was the four movements of Chopin's Sonata in B Flat minor, Opus 35. Mr. Perlemuter demonstrated great ability as a pianist not only by his fantastic agility but also by his equally laudable interpretation of both the sombre and the light moments of the work.

Even the familiar third movement, the Funeral March took on new meaning. Mr. Perlemuter played with such dexterity that music seemed deceptively simple but none the less beautiful.

The final moments of the last movement gave Mr. Perlemuter another wonderful opportunity to demonstrate beautiful technique and style.

The 12 Etudes which the pianist played were well chosen to provide variety and keep the audience interested. Mr. Perlemuter certainly achieved his objective. The Etudes are very

Initial concert splendid

By NORMAN WEBSTER

Whether ships or young artists, it's always nice to be there at a launching.

So it was Sunday night at Mount Orford, as 21-year-old Marek Jablonski draped his coat over the piano bench at the Jeunesses Musicales du Canada auditorium and began in brilliant fashion a career which many have already marked for greatness.

Mr. Jablonski, recent unanimous choice for first prize in the J.M.C. National Music Competition, demonstrated on the bare stage an artistry which in the coming months will be witnessed by audiences at a series of top-flight concerts across Canada, later at debuts in New York and Paris.

If Sunday's recital is any indication, they will not be disappointed, for 15 years of musical training combined with a rare artistic intuition to produce an exciting and memorable concert.

Mr. Jablonski imparts to his music a skill and a mood that create in the listener an acute awareness of its beauty and power—and herein lies his artistry. His technique and control of this mood—especially in the second half of Sunday's program—was nothing short of superb.

It was in the second half of the program, in fact, that Mr. Jablonski had his best moments. Playing a Waltz, two Scherzi and two Mazurkas, all by Chopin, he ranged from pure lyricism to sheer power, never overlaboring the mood and keeping the audience hanging on every note.

Especially notable was the sudden contrast between the sweep and roll of sound winding up Scherzo No. 3, Opus 39 and the light, almost tripping melody which opened Mazurka No. 4, Opus 41.

In Rhapsody No. 4, Opus 119 by Brahms, the pianist demonstrated his fine command of keyboard dynamics, for it is in the bold, dramatic passages that Mr. Jablonski is at his best. He has an intensity and demeanour that nicely complement heavier, more dramatic sound.

He does not just play the piano, he attacks it—but it is a controlled attack and exciting to observe as well as listen to. This man is a professional.

Another professional touch came at program's end, when Mr. Jablonski answered crashing applause with two short encores—a Mazurka by Chopin and a Brahms Intermezzo. Both were quietly and delicately done, and then the pianist was gone, despite more applause.

He left things just where they should be, without overdoing it. Marek Jablonski is already an artist. He should be a great one.

It was nice to have been there at the launching.

Quebec Hereford Breeders hold field day

GEORGEVILLE. — Over 250 people attended the annual Quebec Hereford Association Picnic held at the farm of J. C. Routledge near Georgeville on Saturday.

Highlights of the day's activities included a tour of the Routledge farm, a picnic lunch, judging competitions, a weight guessing competition, and speeches by officials of various cattle organizations both national and provincial.

Charles Leech of Calgary, secretary of the Canadian Hereford Association was one of the main speakers. Other speakers were Bob Mayhew, of Bury, president of the Quebec Hereford Association, Clifford Gaulin, president of the Quebec Shorthorn Association, and Dr. Louis Johnson, president of the Quebec Aberdeen Angus Association and the Quebec Beef Cattle Association.

This was the second time within five years that the picnic had been held on the Routledge farm. Mr. Routledge is a member of the executive of the Quebec Hereford Association.

The cattle judging competitions held during the afternoon were divided into two sections, one for those under 18 and one for those over 18.

Recover loot of robbery

Sherbrooke police intercepted thieves in the act of stealing $4,000 worth of goods from the Jules Huard cash store, 111 Depot Street early Sunday morning. The loot was recovered but the offenders escaped.

According to Sherbrooke police, they received a call from an unidentified person around 3 a.m. saying he heard someone breaking glass at the Huard store.

Police arrived in time to see a truck pull out of the yard.

The arrival of the police apparently scared the thieves. They fled, leaving the truck, and the stolen goods, all chain saws, behind.

Accidents mar Bedford Fair closing day

By PAT BOUGIE
(Record Staff Reporter)

BEDFORD — The 132nd annual Bedford Fair — oldest in the Eastern Townships — came to a close Sunday, leaving thousands of children happy with thoughts of winning teddy bears and filling their tummies with candy floss.

The fair was termed a complete financial success by its directors, but was marred by two unfortunate accidents, one of them serious.

Eighty-six-year-old Ovila Berard of Pine Avenue, Bedford, was taken to hospital in St. John's suffering from a fractured skull and lacerations after being knocked down by a race horse.

Mr. Berard was injured Sunday while attempting to cross the race track as the sulky drivers warmed up their horses.

Saturday afternoon, 14-year-old Ken Baker of Starbridge East fractured his leg when the pony he was riding during a race tried to jump off the track and rolled over on the youngster.

Main-event of the three-day outing proved to be the Horse Show held in the fair grounds arena building Saturday night.

One of the largest exhibitions, ever held, the horse show was enhanced between classes by the Gastoni Attractions, square dancing and a cattle parade.

Winners of the various classes in the show were as follows:

The special class of Fine Harness was awarded to Morning Star, owned and driven by Mrs. James Hodge of Sherbrooke.

Best Saddle horse was owned and driven by Jim Hodge of Sherbrooke, while the Combination Class, Saddle and Buggy went to Miss Kris Hodge, also of Sherbrooke.

Best Palomino Horse was Sahara, owned and driven by Jean Planteau. The Gentlemen's Turnout was won by Jim Hodge of Sherbrooke. Best Pony Stallion was owned by the Howard Pony Farms of Iron Hill.

Best Saddle Horse driven by a man was that of Tex Bockus of Foster, while the Pony Class winner was the Howard Pony Farm.

The Western Parade, one of the most striking spectacles of the show, was won by Jim Hodge of Sherbrooke.

Best Lady driver was Mrs. Tex Bockus of Foster, while the Roadster Class was awarded to Bay Richard of Farnham.

Best Saddle Pony belonged to Kris Hodge of Sherbrooke, while the top pony mare and colt belonged to Vera Phelps of Stanbridge East.

In the cattle sphere the Holstein Grand Champion Bull and Female was owned by Georges Gladu of Sutton, together with the Senior and Junior Champion Females and Senior Champion Bull. Junior Champion bull was owned by Jack Bailey.

The Roland Desourdy Farm of Sweetburg was awarded all prizes in the Aberdeen Angus division.

In the Herefords, the Senior and Grand Champion bulls and females belonged to Keith Robinson of St. Arm. Junior Champion bull was owned by David Reallie of Bedford.

In the milk cattle division, the Grand Champion Jersey bull, Senior and Junior Champion bulls, Grand Champion female, Senior and Junior female champions were all owned by L. Hadlock of Freighsburg.

Grand Champion Bull in the Canadian Cattle, together with the Senior Champion Bull and Junior Champion Bull, were owned by Clement Edoin of St. Armand.

Grand Champion female was owned by Mrs. Alice Pettigrew, of Freighsburg.

Best Canadian Cattle Senior herd belonged to Clement Edoin.

Top Shropshire sheep belonged to Adrien Paquette of St.

Armand. Top swine were owned by Norman Simpson.

A new exhibition this year grabbed the public's interest. For the first time in the 132-year history of the fair, nutria (South American Beavers) were on display. The animals were owned by John Cowley of Noyan.

These animals have a life expectancy of about 18 years and are prized for their fur. A matched pair cost as much as 1,200.

In the women's sphere of the fair, sponsored by the Bedford Horticultural Society, Mrs. Marcel Bechard of Bedford won the Sherbrooke Record prize for having the best tray of assorted cooking.

The only trophy of the whole fair was awarded to Mrs. George Harland of Bedford for having the greatest number of points in the floral division of the show. She was awarded the Langevin Cup.

Cooking and canning winners were: Norman Simpson of Noyan; Mrs. H. Reallie of Bedford; and Mrs. M. Bechard also of Bedford.

Handicrafts Mrs. E. K. Lebrun of Cowansville, and Mrs. C. Desrosiers.

Saturday's race results: Ridgeway, driven by G. Herbert of St. Dominique. Time was 2:20.

Millspring, driven by L. Herbert, of St. Dominique. Time: 2:19.

Marty Creed, driven by Mrs. O. Suprenant of Farnham. Time: 2:15.

Towards a beginning

A great deal of uncertainty regarding how communities should go about setting up civil defence planning on a local level was cleared up Saturday by the head of civilian civil defence for Canada.

In a telephone interview with The Record from Ottawa, R. Burns Curry, chief of the Emergency Measures Organization, outlined the following steps:

1) Pass a by-law, authorizing the setting up of a civil defence committee, consisting of council representatives, the heads of fire, police, health and engineering departments, members of local Army and militia groups;

2) Appropriate funds to hire a professional civil defence organizer.

These are not new or startling proposals. Many towns and cities in Canada, particularly in Ontario, have long since carried them out, even to hiring ing a full-time civil defence organizer. To the best of our knowledge, not a single community in the E.T. has made any similar moves.

Mr. Curry's advice constitutes a clear lead from the Federal government as anyone could wish for in beginning a civil defence program. His suggestions do not begin to answer all the questions that such a program entails, but they point — simply and logically — to a start.

And that is what Sherbrooke and other Quebec communities need right now — a start in civil defence planning.

If the mayors and councillors of our various communities take the matter of national survival seriously — and it is difficult to see how they could do otherwise in this day and age — then they should lose no time in bringing an appropriate by-law before the people.

City filtration plant

Sherbrooke's Mayor Armand Nadeau said Friday he is optimistic that public opinion in the city is swinging towards a filtration plant for the community's water supply.

He said at his weekly press conference that he has contacted various organizations throughout the city in connection with the project, and that council is actively promoting public interest in it.

It is to be fervently hoped the mayor's optimism is well-based.

Referendums on a filtration plant have been held five times in recent years. Each time, the project has been defeated by the property owners who voted.

These defeats were suffered in spite of the fact that most council members and all experts connected with the issue at city hall are agreed that a filtration plant is a necessity.

Everyone knows how bad Sherbrooke's water supply is. In the summer time, many families draw purer water from public artesian wells, filling containers regularly, and storing them in refrigerators, rather than using tap water.

Hospitals and many industries have to set up their own systems of water purification before they can use city water.

Liberal doses of chlorine have kept the regular supply comparatively safe, so far, but even this procedure is not a 100 per cent guarantee that the water will continue to be safe.

A few years ago, it was estimated a filtration plant for Sherbrooke would cost about $5,000,000. That's a great deal of money, but the cost has risen since then, and will continue to rise the longer the project is put off.

Sherbrooke is a rapidly growing city. Soon or later, it will have to catch up with the times and build a filtration plant.

For all of these reasons, the sooner one is built, the better.

Newfoundland's plight

For some years now, provincial and federal authorities have warned of the serious consequences of forest fires.

There is no better example of their gravity than the plight of Newfoundland today.

For more than two months now, forest fires have been raging throughout the province. Every week, there are reports of new blazes, of more families being evacuated from their homes, of thousands of acres of precious timber land going up in smoke, along with the houses and belongings of Newfoundlanders.

The situation has been aggravated by dry weather and capricious winds, but at the heart of the trouble are the twin evils of carelessness and malice.

The first fire began early in June with sparks from a sawdust pile. Shortly after that, sparks from a logger's power saw started another. There has been no respite since.

Criminal minds have added to the disaster. So far this year, RCMP officials have obtained seven convictions in Newfoundland of persons accused of deliberately setting fires. Thirteen more are awaiting review of the attorney general's department. The fires hit at the very lifeblood of an economy one-third committed to the pulp and paper and allied industries.

There had been plans to add a third paper mill to the two already established in the province, but pulp and paper officials now say that if the forest fires continue, there will not even be enough lumber for two.

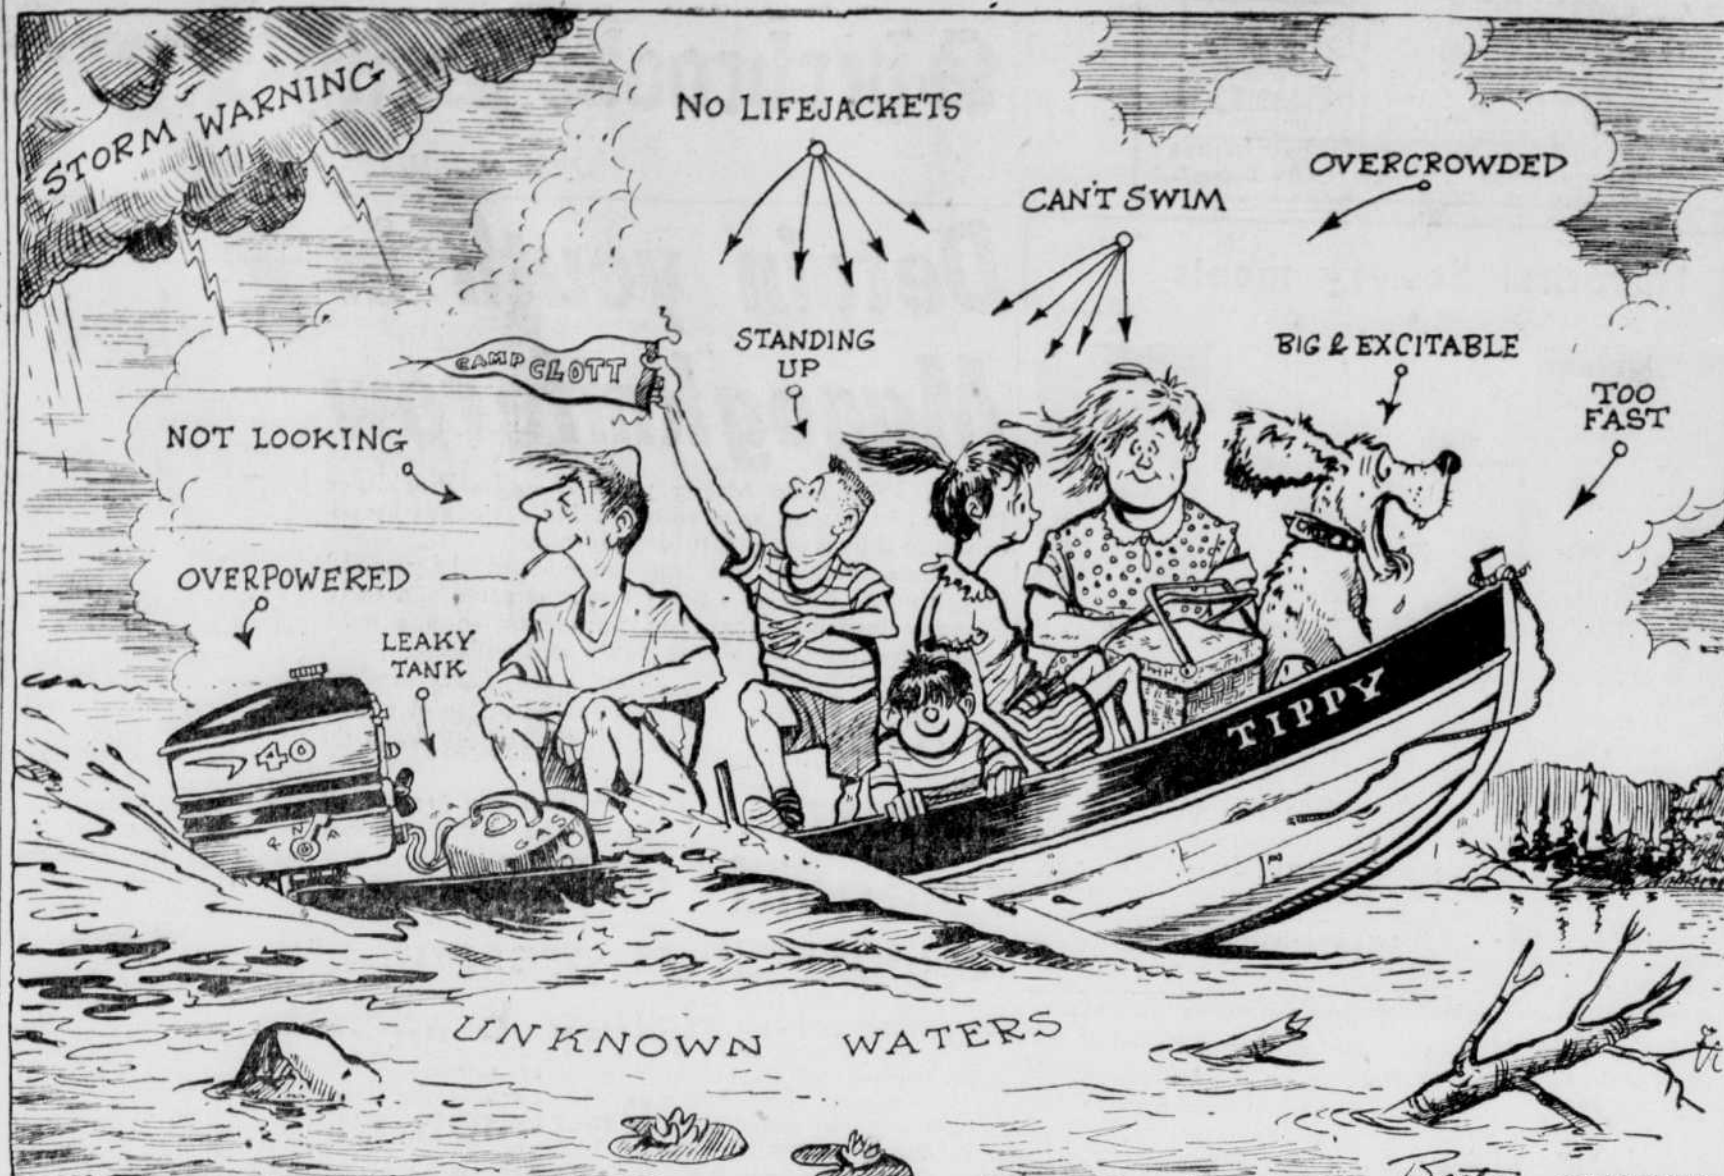

Thousands of lumbermen are out of work, many communities wiped out or disrupted.

But what is most disastrous about the situation is that the damage done by the fires cannot be repaired in a month, a year or even a decade.

It will take generations before Newfoundland's forests are back to what they were before the fires began — if there are no more fires in the meantime.

Few areas in Canada are as dependent on the forest as Newfoundland, but in all areas, the forests are an important natural and economic resource.

Wherever forest fires occur, economic progress is set back, and as in Newfoundland, it takes generations to recover.

British Conservatives give blessing

Planning no longer 'dirty word'

LONDON (CP) — Planning, once a dirty word in the British Conservative vocabulary, is being refurbished with the blessing of party leaders.

The task has fallen to the chancellor of the exchequer, Selwyn Lloyd, who last month forced Britons to tighten their belts in an austerity program aimed at solving the nation's current economic crisis.

Now he's looking for a longer-term solution to Britain's recurring problem of boom and bust.

While other members scurried away on vacation after the Aug. 4 parliamentary recess, he stayed behind to develop his plan for a new "live within our means" housekeeping policy for Britain.

His first step was to send an invitation to the Trades Union Congress—the equivalent of the Canadian Labor Congress—to meet him for discussions on the possibility of drawing up a five-year plan of production targets.

The TUC accepted and the first conference is expected to take place within the next couple of weeks.

The chief employers' organizations found similar invitations awaiting them after Britain's traditional August Bank Holiday weekend.

Lloyd undoubtedly has in mind the possibility of long-rice prices in South Viet Nam. Communist control of much of the flow of rice to Saigon from the rich rice-growing provinces to the south has sent prices leaping to between two and three times the prices paid last year.

To the army men, the answer seems simple: more pay.

Political and economic observers, however, believe that an increase in pay rates alone would not solve the problem.

They say that the South Viet Nam budget could not absorb an increase of even 25 per cent in the pay of private soldiers, and they believe that more foreign aid would only help the inflation which is worrying the South Viet Nam government.

Few areas in Canada are as dependent on the forest as Newfoundland, but in all areas, the forests are an important natural and economic resource.

Wherever forest fires occur, economic progress is set back, and as in Newfoundland, it takes generations to recover.

term planning of the distribution of the nation's resources.

In his "little budget" speech last month, he made two direct references to the matter.

First, he said he'd like to establish—in consultation with both sides of industry—an improved machinery for extending the discussion and forecasting which now take place in private and state-owned industries.

Next, he'd like to see the wage and dividend puzzle he's trying to impose succeeded by a "new long-term policy" designed to ensure that "increases in incomes must follow, and not precede or outstrip, increases in national productivity."

His cautious statements provided just the stimulus the economic pundits and editorial writers needed.

The Financial Times' economic correspondent speculates that the chancellor during the coming meetings will discuss a plan for the establishment of one body dealing with both in-

than a refurbishing "for the phrase to become respectable."

"The Socialists, of course, continue to regard the term as one of quite mystical significance."

"But opinion among the rest of us will be divided and uncertain."

President Kennedy's proposal for a Latin American Alliance for Progress stands as a landmark in the "new frontier" approach to international affairs he introduced during last fall's election campaign.

The proposal is notable for the public and private investment contemplated—$20 billion in 10 years. More important is the recognition that revolution in Latin America is inevitable and the determination to see that revolution comes in the tradition of freedom and order.

In his message to the conference at Punta Del Este, Uruguay, the President said the U.S. would provide "resources of a scope and magnitude" to enable Latin America to achieve a breakthrough to self-sustaining economic growth.

But he warned that the U.S. could do this only if the Latin American nations "formulate plans, mobilize the internal resources, make the difficult and necessary social reforms and accept the sacriphrase to become respectable."

WHO TO SUCCEED FROST?
(St. Thomas Times-Journal)

The retirement of Premier Leslie Frost as leader of the provincial Progressive Conservative Party was not unexpected, but is to be sincerely regretted by all regardless of party affiliation. He has served as Premier since 1949 with such distinction and honesty that it is difficult to name another provincial politician within recent times who has accomplished so much good for the people of the province and has kept his name and, to a large extent, that of his fellow ministers, free from taint of any sort.

Although his resignation as chief of the party in the province does not imply his immediate resignation as Premier, it is believed he will step down from that post also after the fall convention, or when a successor has been thoroughly groomed to take his place.

The coming departure from the provincial scene of Mr. Frost poses some interesting and important questions. The naming of a successor will, of course, be the task of the convention to be held by the Ontario Conservatives. There are several possible contenders, but all of them will find it most difficult to follow Mr. Frost and escape successfully from his shadow.

The timing of the resignation is most significant. The unpopular Ontario sales tax sponsored by his Government comes into effect next month. There will be criticism even among Conservatives, much of which will rub off on the federal Conservatives in the public mind. It is unlikely that Mr. Diefenbaker will risk a federal election with the sales tax fresh on the books.

It will be difficult indeed to find a successor for Mr. Frost. The party needs a leader whose honesty and integrity are widely accepted and beyond dispute. There are some, of course, but a casual

JACOBY On Bridge

George Gooden has prepared some sample hands designed primarily for declarer's play. At the same time, they teach one principle of defense which is that you should always consider a trump lead when your opponents have reached their contract after a raise by dummy.

West does not have quite enough strength to go to two clubs over South's spade over call, and North's raise to two spades keeps East from rebidding. Thus, although East can make three clubs, he finds himself defending a two-spade contract.

If West opens a club, South makes the hand easily. He wins that trick, ruffs a club, returns to his hand with a trump, ruffs his last club and makes the rest of his own tricks.

If West opens a trump, as he should, it is a different story. South can play the ace of clubs and ruff one club, but he won't be able to get back to his hand to ruff that last club, and a second trump lead will hold him to seven tricks.

The President's emissary, Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, set education as top priority. He promised U.S. backing also for investment planning, industrialization, agricultural improvement and land reform. He offered U.S. participation in a coffee stabilization program (coffee makes up about a third of the value of Latin American exports) and said the U.S. would consider plans for a tin agreement.

This program blends elements of the Marshall Plan with the spirit of the American Revolution. It comes late for Cuba. It depends much for its success on whether some of the Latin American ruling cliques have learned the lesson of Cuba as well as the U.S.

South Viet Nam army

Morale being severely tested

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (Reuters)—The morale of South Viet Nam's army, the country's great hope for crushing Communist subversion, is being severely tested.

The army is fighting a bitter, frustrating war against an elusive enemy that has dragged on for 16 years. And now, instead of peace, the strength of the Communist guerrillas is increasing.

The army has to operate much of the time in areas and among people hostile to it—not because they like the Communists, but because any sign of sympathy for the government troops brings stiff Communist reprisals.

Communist propaganda agents are putting great subversive pressure on the army both from inside and from outside its ranks. Soldiers who were deducted from his wages. If he buys his own food, he is also in great financial difficulty because his wife and children have at the same time to buy food costing almost as much as if he were living with them.

No extra allowance is paid to South Viet Nam's soldiers while they are on operations and there is no free food ration.

Their wages are low even compared with domestic servants' wages in Saigon, where $28 a month is common.

The Communists emphasize these facts to the soldiers. Government officers admit the soldier's greatest worry today is not whether he is about to be attacked by guerrillas but whether his family has enough to eat.

The problem has been brought to the fore this year by soaring prices of rice in South Viet Nam. Communist control of much of the flow of rice to Saigon from the rich rice-growing provinces to the south has sent prices leaping to between two and three times the prices paid last year.

To the army men, the answer seems simple: more pay.

Political and economic observers, however, believe that an increase in pay rates alone would not solve the problem.

They say that the South Viet Nam budget could not absorb an increase of even 25 per cent in the pay of private soldiers, and they believe that more foreign aid would only help the inflation which is worrying the South Viet Nam government.

The problem has been brought to the fore this year by soaring

Annual garden party at Currier proves success

CURRIER — The Community Hall was the scene of a most successful annual joint W.I. and W.A. garden party, with proceeds amounting to $884.70.

Mrs. J. Stark, Mrs. E. Bryant and Mrs. S. Horner were kept busy at the table of useful and fancy articles.

The candy table in charge of Mrs. H. A. Channell catered to the sweet tooth of young and old.

The heavily laden home cooking table, in charge of Mrs. R. H. Stone, Mrs. G. Clement, and Mrs. H. Coates was soon depleted.

J. M. Bryant was at his usual place selling tickets at the door, and Mrs. Bryant was kept busy selling tickets on a beautiful, tooled copper picture.

The warm weather kept Mrs. L. Cochran busy dispensing ice-cream and soft drinks, and the young fry soon emptied the fish pond, which was in charge of Margaret Bryant.

Mrs. R. E. Fisher, assisted by Mrs. Fellows, and Mrs. Dawson disposed of the usual bargains in the salvage shop.

Mrs. C. J. Bryant and her corps of willing helpers served a bountiful ham and salad supper to a well-satisfied crowd.

Games, in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Trew, Mrs. A. Viers, and Mrs. MacMillan proved popular.

CPR EMPLOYEE HONORED — J. Aldie Morin, an employee of the Canadian Pacific Railway for 46 years and yardmaster at Sherbrooke for 22 years, centre, receives a gift from Paul Carriere, general agent, right at a reception held at the Elks Club Saturday. To the left is Mrs. Morin.

be interpreted as approval. Others may think I have disassociated myself. I learned something at home in my family and later at school — problems that arise in the family must be settled in the family and not in the public forum, and I will remain in my party to solve them.

"However," he continued, "there should be no question of dismissing lightly certain practices which are contrary to the common good of the province. Personally I see the solution in the reform of individuals and at the same time the reform of our political framework. No matter how good the law is, if individuals want to get around nothing will stop them. As long as citizens see in politics a means of acquiring favor, the functions of government will be distorted.

"It is my personal ambition to seek out in every part of the province elite troops who will consider politics as a sacred calling and who will enter it with honest intentions after ridding themselves of all personal appetites."

Mr. Bertrand expressed the belief that the greater support of the party by individuals who gave small donations would remove much of the sinister influence of large corporations over the political picture. He also suggested that party political funds should be handled by trust companies and pledged himself to work for legislation limiting election expenses.

Turning to the future of the Union Nationale, Mr. Bertrand declared the party was at the turning point in its young history. The time for old clichés had passed and the party must work toward four objectives:

Pursue the democratic ideal and equality of all before the law; Renew the ranks and structure of the party; Orient the mentality of the members toward real public service;

Adapt the facts of the present time to its principles of political action.

After saying the Union Nationale will perform its duties as the loyal opposition, he predicted his party would soon assume power.

"Our party is still young," he declared. "It has accomplished things. Our policies and achievements for education and health have been sound and have benefited the people of Quebec. These achievements, which need not be repeated here, have been done without any increase in taxes and a net debt considerably decreased.

"With the Liberal regime there have been new taxes and an increased debt. Jean Lesage and his 'equipe de tonnerre' have brought to the province nothing but hesitation, indecision, unpreparedness, taxation and therefore deception.

Discussing his own beliefs, Mr. Bertrand concluded: "I believe in tradition and progress... We can and we will draw the line between what must be kept and what must be relinquished. Our party must be prepared and will be ready to meet and offer the solution to the problems of our times. We live in 1961 and we must meet the challenge of our epoch."

Legion colors presented to North Hatley branch

NORTH HATLEY — (Special) — In a colorful ceremony held at the cenotaph in Memorial Park here Major John Bassett, publisher of the Sherbrooke Record and Toronto Telegram, presented Canadian Legion Branch 242, North Hatley and Waterville, with a new Legion standard. It was given in recognition of the determined effort made by the members of this new branch to establish and maintain it.

The invocation and dedication of the colors was made by Ed Struthers, the immediate past president of Provincial Command, representing the provincial president. After Major Bassett placed a wreath on the cenotaph, the standard was presented to the color guard, with George Price and Russell Kezar the color bearers.

counter measures" and "re-unification soon." At city hall, they handed over a resolution protesting against the East Berlin restrictions.

The new protests came as East Berlin police strengthened their barricades along the border, sealing in thousands of East Germans anxious to flee the Communist regime.

The refugee flow to West Berlin was reduced to a trickle as the Communists strung barbed-wire fences and other obstructions along the border. Thousands of armed Communist sentries stood guard to prevent any East Germans from slipping through.

Only a few persons watched the Communists work on their barricades early this morning but the crowds started building up again shortly before noon.

Several thousand West Berliners gathered near the border Sunday, jeering and taunting the East Germans.

The East Berlin police hurled tear gas bombs at about 2,000 West Berliners gathered near the border Sunday. They also used clubs on a group of West Berlin youths who heckled them but no one was seriously injured.

POLICE ON DUTY — Some 1,000 West Berlin police were on duty today to hold back any demonstrators and prevent a major flare-up on the border.

During the night East Berlin authorities erected a fence dividing the East Berlin railroad station at Friedrichstrasse to prevent the 53,000 East German and East Berlin citizens who work in the western sector of the city from going to their jobs.

Only West Berliners and persons with special East Berlin police permits were allowed on the platforms where the west-bound trains stop. There were more policemen than passengers at the station at times.

Russian-built tanks and armored cars were drawn up near the border, along with scores of green trucks packed with armed policemen.

Western officials here were openly apprehensive that incidents along the border might touch off an explosion in the Communist sector. The general mood in East Berlin was said to be one of grim depression.

Ernst Lemmer, the West German minister for German affairs, appealed to the East Germans in a radio broadcast this morning not to commit any reckless acts.

"Maintain discipline, keep confidence," he said. "Millions of Germans will never cease to work for something that in the long run cannot be denied to live together in freedom."

Lemmer said the new Communist restrictions were "the despairing measures of a regime that has reached the end of its tether."

West Berlin police averted a looming border clash Sunday by erecting rope barriers to keep thousands of jeering West Berliners away from the Communist police on the frontier.

Some 7,000 West German police were on duty and the remaining 6,000 had been placed on alert. Informed sources said the 11,000 Western Allied troops stationed in West Berlin had also been placed on alert.

Kitchen is scene of many needless home accidents

GAYNOR MADDOX

There are around one million kitchen accidents a year in the home. It is usually the human element, not equipment, that makes the kitchen the most dangerous room in the house.

We learned this from Clyde Schlueter, accident prevention manager for Employers Mutuals of Wausau, Wis. A serious, dedicated young man, Schlueter told us, "Most kitchen accidents result from neglect of a common sense, practical rule almost everybody knows or should know. About 57 per cent of kitchen accidents are caused by burns, and many others by cuts, falls, fires, gas poisoning and poisonous compounds. Some 6,000 kitchen accidents end fatally each year."

He insists a home safety program is urgently needed. "Industry has proven that it can cut the accident rate by nearly 50 per cent through safety measures since the first workmen's compensation law went into effect half a century ago. We are sure that homemakers can do likewise."

He gave us these "housewife questions" to point up common kitchen hazards:

1. Do you have good lighting over range top and work surfaces, and good general illumination?
2. Are appliances located where they won't block traffic?
3. Are cabinets arranged to eliminate climbing?
4. Are there enough electrical outlets so circuits will not be overloaded? Are work areas and floor kept free of cords?
5. Are floor coverings and finishes reasonably skid resistant?
6. Do you turn handles of pots and pans so they do not hang over range?
7. Do you guard against dozing off while heating coffee, tea or other fluids on gas ranges?
8. Do you keep pilot lights, electric cords and gas and electric appliances in good repair?
9. Are you careful not to brush against gas jets and accidentally turn them on?
10. Do you avoid storing poisonous compounds where they may be mistaken for food products, or household waxes and other agents where children can get their eager hands on them?
11. Do you keep matches away from heat? Do you deposit lighted cigarettes in ash trays and not on shelf edge or can top?
12. Do you place scalding liquids where they will not be tipped over?
13. Do you use a pot holder rather than bare hands to grip pot handles?
14. Do you avoid storing knives, ice picks and other sharp objects in cluttered drawers?
15. Do you store matches, towels and other inflammable objects away from heat?

Mary Brooks Picken on sewing

Mrs. Picken answers questions

Some frequently asked questions are answered in this column. I hope they'll be of help to you.

Dear Mrs. Picken: My little girl was given some lovely dresses. They fit around her nicely but are fully 4 inches too short—M.L.

Dear M.L.: Buy some plain fabric of a similar texture or of a print if dress is plain color. Cut the dress apart in the bodice and in the skirt. Cut enough fabric to add a 3-inch band to the skirt and 2 inches to the waist. You must realize that a seam top and bottom of each band will take up 1/4 to 1/2 inch in each seam. So provide for this in your measurements.

You can buy as little as 1/2 yard fabric if you want to, so do not be embarrassed about asking for a small amount. Remember to do this adjustment in length so that it looks like it was a part of the design plan rather than done of necessity.

Dear Mrs. Picken: I inherited some lovely dresses, just my size. Colors and fabrics are lovely, but the sleeves look old-fashioned. Have you a remedy? S.M.

Dear S.M.: Buy a smart pattern your size, with a sleeve you like. Rip the sleeves out most carefully from the dress. Regut the sleeves according to the new pattern.

Notch armholes of the dress so notches of new sleeve will meet, baste sleeves to place. Try the dress on before you stitch sleeves to place.

So many dresses are sleeveless. Why not face the armholes and do away with the sleeves?

Dear Mrs. Picken: I have a beautiful sari, plain gold with a border 2 1/2 inches wide on one side, 1 1/4 inches on the other. How can I use it?—P.L.

Dear P.L.: Saris are beautiful and can be made into very pretty dresses. Yours sounds like it might be lovely done shirtwaist style, with the wide border down center front of both blouse and skirt, and for the collar.

Use narrower border for bottom of sleeves and belt. Choose a pattern that you like, one that has a center front opening. Let it guide you for fit.

Many make a strapless bodice with wide border at the top. Use narrow border at bottom of skirt, laying knife or box pleats at the top of the skirt where it joins the bodice.

POLLY'S QUIZ by polly cramer

A rocking chair adds solid comfort to room

President Kennedy didn't have to introduce me to the joys of a rocking chair. He merely brought out into the open what hundreds of my generation have known for a long time: there is nothing like a good rock for a tired mind or body.

There are rocking chair styles available for almost any decor. Now, I don't think I'd use one in the living room unless it's very informal, but in the bedroom, yes, and the family room, too.

A Boston rocker is a natural in a big kitchen for a restful bit of nodding, knitting or holding the youngest child while the kettle boils.

Get ahead of the rush and grab a rocker from the attic, secondhand store, or antique shop. Have fun painting, reupholstering, slip covering, refinishing and even stenciling.

Dear Polly: My wife wrote you a letter and you answered, telling her to paint our living room walls white. The pink paint on those walls is new and was what she wanted before it was put on. You're crazy if you think I will give up another weekend painting evening coats made of the metallic saris that are lovely.

Cutting, planning, making may take a little extra time, but your result should reward you for your efforts. Shirtwaist-style dresses are favored for cocktails and dinner.

Dear Mrs. Picken: A friend of mine took perfectly good sheets, cut them for contour sheets. I was shocked. Do you think that was good economy?—B.B.

Dear B.B.: If your friend had a large number of sheets and had the time to make them into contours, I see no objection. Most people use contours only on the bottom.

Seems to me I'd use my sewing time for making a smart dress, and would buy some contour sheets just for use as the bottom sheet.

We must think of our time as money and use it where it brings greatest reward in smartness and money saved.

Dodgers, Paced By Duke Snider, Are On The March, Hold 2½ Game Lead Over Redlegs, Who Beat Giants 8-1

Los Angeles Dodgers, led by the rejuvenated Duke Snider, are on the march in the National League, probably drawn by the scent of the richest world series cheque in history.

Veteran Snider, has had 14 hits in his last 30 trips to the plate, and the Dodgers have had six straight wins, 19 in their last 22 games. Dodgers now own a 2½ game lead over Cincinnati Red Legs.

They would be less than human if they weren't beginning to think of the loot from a series in the Coliseum with its crowds of 92,000 and Yankee Stadium with its 70,000 plus. But Cincinnati isn't folding. The Reds stuck right on the Dodgers' heels by snapping San Francisco's five-game winning streak 8-1 Sunday. Wally Post drove in four runs in the Reds' farewell at Candlestick Park where they won eight of 11 starts.

Philadelphia lost its 16th straight, 13-4 to Pittsburgh Pirates but finally broke its scoreless streak after 29 innings. Milwaukee Braves' Lew Burdette won his 14th with the help of a perfect day by Eddie Mathews who had two walks and three hits, including his 23rd homer, in an 8-3 victory over Chicago Cubs.

HAS A SHUTOUT
Snider came through with a run, scoring double and a triple in five at bats against St. Louis while Stan Williams shut out St. Louis 8-0 with eight hits. It was Williams' 11th victory and second shutout.

The Dodgers scored four runs off Bob Gibson in the first two innings. Two were unearned because of an error by ex-Dodger Bob Lillis. Johnny Roseboro drove in three with a seventh-inning double in a four-run blast against relief man Craig Anderson.

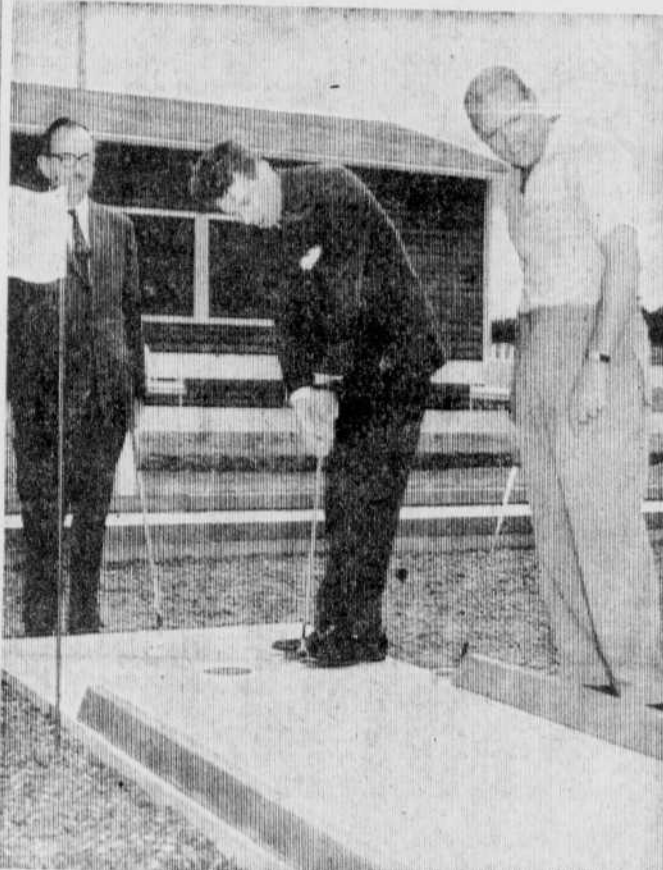

Vada Pinson hit his 13th homer and Post his 14th for the Reds who slugged loser Mike McCormick for nine of their 15 hits. Ken Johnson needed help from Bill Henry in the seventh inning to save his third victory. In Saturday's action, San Francisco downed Cincinnati 6-4. Los Angeles defeated St. Louis 5-1, and Pittsburgh blanked Philadelphia 4-0.

LOSES THE BALL
Cincinnati knocked out McCormick in the seventh inning when they broke a 1-1 tie with four runs and added three more

Mary Stewart Sets World Mark In A.A.U. Meet

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mary Stewart, 15-year-old Canadian, set a new world record in the 100-metre butterfly at the United States National Amateur swimming championships but she held the record only five hours.

Miss Stewart eclipsed the listed world standard of 1:09.1 set by Nancy Ramey of Mercer Island, Wash., at Chicago, Sept. 2, 1959, with a 1:08.8 clocking.

Five hours later, Susan Doerr, a 16-year-old from Philadelphia, broke the world 100-metre butterfly record Saturday in a qualifying heat in the women's 100-metre butterfly in 1:08.2.

Judy Darling Pulled Out Big Shots When Needed To Win Women's Open Golf Crown Over G. Hitchens

VANCOUVER (CP)—Judy Darling, 24, of Montreal, pulling out the big shots when they counted most, Saturday held off a brilliant closing rally by young Gayle Hitchens of Vancouver and retained her Canadian women's open golf championship.

After holding a six-hole lead as late as the 24th hole and apparently on the verge of a dull one-sided triumph, Miss Darling saw the margin dwindle to one hole and was forced to come up with a great shot on the last hole to score a two-up victory.

It was the 36th hole that showed the mettle of the blue-eyed blonde from Montreal.

Miss Hitchens, who a week ago won the Canadian junior championship, was in line with the flag with her second shot while Miss Darling was about 40 feet to the right on an unsteady lie after two.

Miss Darling pitched her third shot to within 2½ feet of the cup and virtually assured herself of a half on the hole and victory.

CONCEDES THE MATCH
Miss Hitchens, a high school student, went for the cup but was long and rolled off the green. She missed both her putt and a birdie-three and then a par and conceded Miss Darling her birdie, the hole and the match.

Miss Darling got off to a fine start, going four up in the morning round when she shot an approximate medal round of 40-35-75 to match Point Grey Golf and Country Club's par for the 18. Her afternoon medal score was an unofficial 44-35-79.

Miss Hitchens, another blue-eyed blonde and the first B.C. golfer ever to reach the open final, had approximate rounds of 78-80.

It was Miss Darling's second title. She won her first at Saint John, N.B., she became the first daughter of a former champion to turn the trick. Her mother won the open in 1936.

Miss Darling pitched her third shot to within 2½ feet of the cup and virtually assured herself of a half on the hole and victory.

Patterson Wins 4th Left-Handed Golf Crown

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man. (CP)—Al Patterson, professional at Winnipeg's Breezy Bend Golf Club, shot over-par 74 Sunday to win his fourth Canadian open left-handed golf championship.

Alex Melnyk of the Winnipeg Windsor Club was second with 77 and Bill Spriggs of Swan River, Man., third with a 79. Patterson also won in 1953, 1958 and last year.

REMEMBER WHEN

Sam Snead won the Canadian Open golf championship 21 years ago today at Toronto when Harold (Jug) McSpaden missed a two-foot putt on the final green of their 18-hole playoff. Both had finished the regulation 72 holes in 281, and in the playoff Slamming Sam had a medal score of 71 to 72 for the defending champion.

In 1960, Cowan again was a finalist but this time was downed 4 and 3 by Calgary's Keith Alexander at the Ottawa Hunt and Golf Club.

FINISHES SECOND
In the same year he was runner-up in the Ontario amateur championships and in 1960, he was second in the Ontario open as well.

"It sure feels good to win after all those years," he said before catching a plane for Toronto.

The finalists played a total of 180 holes in six days, including 18-hole qualifying rounds last Monday and Tuesday, but not including practice rounds.

Cowan's unofficial medal score for the 36 holes was 70-72-142, even par. Homenuk's was 69-72-141, one under. The scores included several conceded short putts, routine in match play.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Batting: Luis Aparicio, White Sox—Led Chicago to a 9-3 victory over Kansas City Athletics with three hits, four runs and two stolen bases, stretching his batting streak to 15 consecutive games.

Pitching: Stan Williams, Dodgers—Pitched Los Angeles to sixth straight victory, shutting out St. Louis Cardinals 8-0 on eight hits.

SECOND WIND: Don Mossi bounced back after a physical ailment to help pitch Detroit into contention.

Guy Desrochers And Frank Newell Suffer Serious Injuries Following Accident; Ruth Dedley Wins In 2.08

A spectacular five-horse spill Sunday evening at the Sherbrooke Race Track in the fifth race sent all five drivers to the hospital. Guy Desrochers and Frank Newell are still in hospital while Clermont Fluet, Jacques Dagenais and Real Beaudoin returned home following first-aid. They will go back today for X-Rays before being released by the doctors.

Guy Desrochers is suffering from possible fracture of the arm while Newell's injuries won't be determined until after X-Rays. He was suffering from back injuries. It was the most serious accident this season at the local track.

The spill happened just when the field hit the stretch on their first turn. Lightning Renown, driven by J. Dagenais, was leading when Prince Bill, with M. Valliere teaming came up on the outside. He cut too sharply taking the feet from under and the others following at close quarters all piled into the leader.

Following the program the judges suspended driver M. Valliere pending further investigation as all the drivers were in the hospital. The outcome will be known once the drivers can testify.

Florent Brochu drove his Ruth Dudley to first place in the main class last night winning in 2:08. Starting from the fifth spot Brochu made his move from the first turn and finally caught up with Jewel's Hiram at the quarter-pole. He took over and set the pace for the balance of the race.

They went to the half in 1:03 4/5 and came home in 1:04 1/5. It was a close battle the whole way as all drivers were teaming to win. Fabi's Poplar Dream finished sixth as he got caught back too far and when he tried to make his bid he couldn't round the field.

The other top event was the ninth race which was won by Florent St. Denis with Royal Match. They were clocked in 2:09 1/5. They crossed under the wire in 1:04 for their trip and after a little serious fighting for positions came home in 1:05 1/5. It was a battle with Larose, behind Reyno Worthy, the Success Alma.

The success of Cole's Colby and Captain McKinney S paid the sum of $150.00. The first quinnella in the third was $57.70 for the winning combination of Ferland Surprise and Merrie Darnleyson. In the sixth the best quinnella of the evening was collected when $110.10 was picked up for Algier Boy and Maxwell Armstrong.

The third was held in the eighth race and Blue Flash and Senator Don C were declared the winners after a photo-finish. They paid their backers $18.50.

The double of Denny Pointer and Lady Jersey Ritz Saturday evening paid their backers the sum of $36.60 while in the third the quinnella of Her Horse and Morning Mist rewarded their backers with $20.30.

In the sixth the sum of $10.70 was shelled out for the winning combination of Huckins' Beau Wyn Dewey Clay while in the tenth it was Fair View and Lise Directly and $34.70 was the payoff. The railbirds were riding with the favorites and they came through hence the reason for the low payoffs.

Volostone, driven by E. Sample of Bangor, Maine, paid the top for a win bet when $23.30 was picked up. It was the first start of the American horse at the local track. $10.50 and $5.80 was collected across the board.

Fabi's Denny Pointer, driven by Guy Desrochers, was the double winner in the D-3 Pace while C. Grenier teamed Daigle's Her Horse to take both ends of the other D-3 Pace. Volostone registered the best time of the evening when he crossed under the wire in 2:12 2/5.

Three Years From Ranges Proves No Handicap As Geoffrey Martel Wins Governor-General Trophy At Meet

CONNAUGHT RANGES, Ont.—A British public school teacher who hasn't fired a rifle competitively for more than three years has won Canada's top rifle award.

Geoffrey Martel, 27, a Channel Islands French teacher, came to the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association's annual matches as adjutant to the 14-member Imperial cadet team.

With Finance Minister Fleming among the spectators Martel Saturday outshot Canada's finest marksmen with the No. 4 .303-calibre rifle to win the governor-general's match, the climax to a week of shooting on the army ranges near Ottawa.

It was Martel's second victory. Earlier he won the Alexander of Tunis match. It was his perfect score in this 900-yard event that established him among the favorites in the governor-general's.

Martel finished the three-stage match with 234 points of a possible 250. He scored 87 points of a possible 100 from 900 yards, 74 of a possible 75 from 600 yards and 73 of a possible 75 from 300 yards.

The matches also decided the makeup of Canada's 1962 team which will compete at Bisley, England. If all are able to accept the invitations, the team will consist of 10 Ontario members, four Manitoba shots, two from Quebec and one each from Alberta and Nova Scotia.

Quebec representatives are Sgt. T. A. Richardson, Victoria Rifles of Canada, and L. Cpl. G. B. W. Ling, 24 Canadian Ordnance Corps, both of Montreal. COP. H. M. Oliver of the RCN Atlantic Command, a resident of Waverley, was the lone Maritime marksman to make the team.

Bye Bye BOGIES by BOB ROSBURG

No. 51—Starting Down

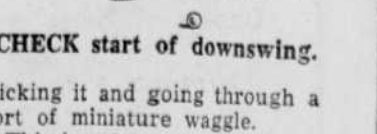

Another check point for the golfer is the start of the downswing.

If you still have the feel of the clubhead through the manipulative fingers, you may be assured that all is well. If you don't have that feeling, you know the body has begun to dictate. This will result in the body leading and winning the race to the ball.

The hands and clubhead must be given the time they need, without being rushed by the body. With the hands as a medium, the clubhead must be brought crisply through the ball. To put it simply, hit the ball with the hands.

If the hands have hit the ball, they will carry the clubhead through to a perfect follow through and a picture finish, which isn't just for photographers, but also betokens a well executed swing.

As a superior golfer studies his lie, his hands are almost invariably moving on the club, and the ball.

Alouettes End Season With Three Consecutive Wins Over Weekend

Edge Beavers Saturday And Sweep Two From Granby To Cop 4th Spot, Waterloo Takes Two From Coaticook

Sherbrooke Alouettes, under the new leadership of recently appointed Manager Yvon Ellyson, registered three straight victories over the weekend. They edged Acton Vale Beavers 2-1 Saturday and Sunday took the measure of the league-leading Knights of Granby 10-3 in the afternoon and last night at the Park Avenue Stadium posted a 1-1 victory.

It was the final fixture of the schedule as the teams finished up before swinging into the playoffs. Granby capped first followed by Waterloo, Acton Vale, Sherbrooke, Drummondville and Coaticook. Waterloo swept their final bill against Coaticook 11-2 and 9-2.

John Kabat and Claude Prud'Homme teamed up for the win Saturday with the former going eight and one-third innings. He moved out when the Beavers loaded the bases and the local star lefty managed to put out the fire. The score was deadlocked 1-1 at the time.

In the ninth the Als shoved one run across the plate to break the tie. Normie Jacques slammed out a single. A wild heave to second by the catcher and a single by Riopelle drove him home with the big run to post the victory.

The Als tallied six runs in the first inning Sunday afternoon to take an early lead over the Knights. They added one more in the second and two in the third while holding the Knights to two in the second. Each team scored once in the eighth.

Jacques Monette lead the way for the Als with a homer and a single. Andre Riopelle with a triple and two singles and Wozie with three bingles were the best for Sherbrooke. Jean-Guy Mathieu started for the Als but needed help from Rolvel when he ran into trouble in the third.

In the evening fixture at the local park it was a little the same. The Als got the jump once again with six runs in the opening frame. They kept adding as they had no difficulty with the offerings of Jacques, Burak and Gaudreau.

They belted twelve hits while Mathieu went the distance for the locals to earn his first victory in the league this year. Granby booted four times while the Als had one error charged against them.

Waterloo had no trouble with the Canadiens. Rene Latour whiffed 16 at the plate in the first tilt to earn the decision but was touched for eight hits. Fairholme, Bayner and Keith Peak all banged out homers.

In the evening R. Jean plourde belted a homer while Ernie Drolet came up with a four-hitter for the win. He retired 14 at the plate while Corbiere was the best at the plate with four hits, one a double.

The teams will now settle down for the opening playoffs as the dates are still to be settled. It is expected that within a few days they will be fixed.

Hal Woodeshick Tosses Two-Hitter In First Appearance With Marlins, Maple Leafs Drop Two To Columbus

Charleston Marlins better enjoyed the pitching of Hal Woodeshick while they can. He may be back in major league baseball soon.

Woodeshick, recently acquired from Detroit Tigers of the American League, pitched a two-hitter in his first appearance for the Marlins Sunday to shut out Rochester Red Wings 4-0 in the seven-inning nightcap of an International League doubleheader. Charleston took the opener 10-4.

Columbus Jets, aided by a home-run barrage, swept a twin bill from Toronto Maple Leafs 5-3 and 4-3. Richmond Virginians captured two games from Buffalo Bisons 6-2 and 5-3. Syracuse Chiefs and Jersey City Jerseys split a pair. The Jerseys won the opener 4-3 in 10 innings and the Chiefs rebounded with a 6-4 victory in the nightcap.

Saturday Toronto downed Columbus 4-2, Buffalo defeated Richmond 7-4, Charleston downed Rochester 7-3 and Syracuse beat Jersey City 7-4.

SHOWS NO EFFECTS
Woodeshick showed no ill effects of a month-long layoff as he gave up two scratch singles and faced the minimum 15 batters after the second inning. The Marlins laced into Rochester's Gordon Jones and Herb Morford for 10 hits.

The Marlins got 16 hits, including two home runs by Fred Whitfield, to make things easy for starter Hal Dietz in the first game. Dietz was tagged for homers by Barry Shetrone, Harry Chitt and John Powell.

Columbus' Dick Gray hit two homers in the first game. Roman Mejias had two and Larry Elliot one in the nightcap. This burst of power was enough for

ANGLING AROUND FINDING THEM

Larger game fish generally are found in deeper water, close to bars, weed beds and sunken islands.

Shoreline casting is advisable on lakes where deep drop-offs are close to shore.

"Hot spots are found near the middle of lakes," says Art Wallsten, a member of Fishing's Hall of Fame. "Some of the better spots are flats that have underwater obstructions or weed growth at from six to 20-foot depths; weed beds that have drop-offs around their edges; sand, rock and gravel bars that are close to weed beds and drop-offs."

"Sunken islands that have weed growths around them are excellent spots. Bays that are from four to 20 feet deep with underwater weed growth are ideal. Lakes that have gradual sloping bottoms with scattered deep holes produce more."

"Fish a spot for 10 minutes, then move 100 feet, anchor again and fish this area."

"One of the most important pieces of equipment carried is a five-pound weight with from 40 to 50 feet of light rope attached for checking depths."

"Fish dropoffs and around weed beds," stresses Wallsten.

"As for river fishing, cast areas below dams, around islands and edges of rapids, the deeper holes, wing dams, obstructions, rock piles, logs and bars. Anchor above deep holes and use deep running plugs and jigs."

FOOTBALL Tuna Catch Is Setting Records In Newfoundland

ST. JOHN'S Nfld. (CP) — Rod and reel anglers continued Sunday to reap the bumper tuna crop of Conception Bay. Ten bluefin were boated during the day to boost this year's total to 64, biggest in the province's history.

The previous record of 11 for one year was set in 1959 and equalled last year. This year, the tuna struck early, and boats on the Conception shores are booked for weeks ahead. Last year the first strike was Aug. 20.

The government's tourist promotion office has been swamped trying to record the catches on film. "We just can't keep up with it," said spokesman Douglas Wheeler.

The tuna are so plentiful, commercial fishermen are finding as many as six at a time caught in their traps.

Saturday's catch alone beat the previous record. Thirteen were taken.

The tuna have been ranging in size from 400 to 600 pounds.

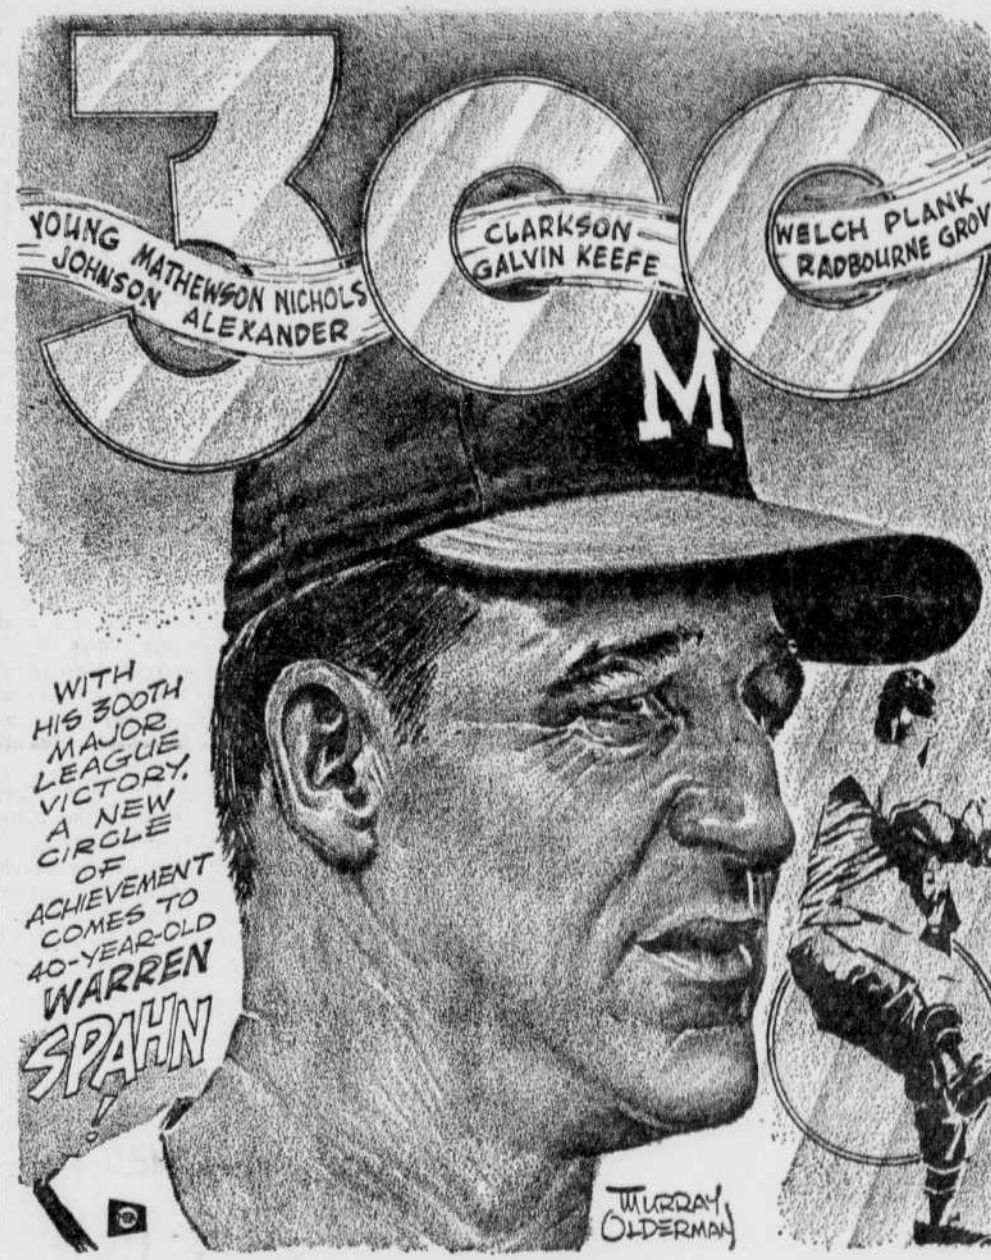

Don Fullmer Loses T.K.O. On Cut Eyelid

NEW YORK (CP) — Teddy Wright of Detroit scored a technical knockout over Don Fullmer, West Jordan, Utah, Saturday night when Fullmer retired at the end of the seventh round in their televised fight at Madison Square Garden. Both boxers are middleweights.

Fullmer had been bothered by a cut on his left eyelid since the second round. As the bout progressed Wright used the damaged lid as a target. Dr. Sam Swetnick, commission physician examined the eye in the fourth and seventh rounds, but did not call a halt.

Fullmer weighed 157½. Wright a sub for the injured Penny (Kid) Parent, weighed 153.

Test On New And Old American Loop Baseballs Inconclusive, Maris And Mantle Are Still Belting, 45 Each

NEW YORK (AP) — The baseball and the other Ruth hit are identical.

Tests proved this was not entirely so, The Times says. "The 1961 ball was found to be less dense than the 1927 ball. It was 5.6 per cent lighter than the 1927 sample and 1.4 per cent larger in diameter. This was not figured to give the batter an advantage."

"It should be easier for the pitcher to throw the ball faster," said Parker.

The engineers conceded the Ruth ball may have picked up weight from moisture over the years, so on definite conclusion could be drawn from that phase of the tests.

The manufacturer said major league specifications require a baseball weight between five and 5¼ ounces and that a gross (144) of new balls in 1961 weighs the same as a gross in 1927.

The 1961 Yankee ball weighed 5.16 ounces compared with 5.53 ounces for the Ruth ball (with possible accumulated moisture). In a rebound test, the 1936 ball was livelier than any of them. Dropped from a height of 8.6 feet, it rebounded 33.2 inches. The 1961 Yankee ball rebounded 32.8 inches while the Ruth ball bounced back 31.6 inches. Two modern balls rebounded 31.4 and 31.2 inches.

Each was driven into the air 10 times by a piston geared to stroke both the smooth hide and seams. The 1961 Yankee ball recorded the longest flying time — 5.2 seconds. But the old Ruth ball was clocked in 5.1 seconds, proving it still has plenty of tory.

Canadian Junior Tennis Experts Down The U.S.A.

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (CP) — Canadian youngsters, fresh from their triumphs in last week's Canadian open junior tennis championships, won the annual Canada-Eastern United States junior tennis tournament this weekend at this New York State resort.

Canadian players captured 10 of the 16 matches. Detailed results were not available.

The Canadian mixed doubles final was to have been played Saturday at Lake Placid but pressure of other matches forced cancellation of the event, with no winner declared.

Because of a severe thunderstorm halting play Friday at the close of the week-long Canadian championships in Ottawa, the match was transferred to this Adirondack resort where the finalists were competing the following day.

The mixed doubles had reached the semi-final stage. Survivors were Andre Tieleman, 17, of Montreal and Faye Urban, 16, of Windsor, Ont.; Judy Shakespeare, 17, and Bob Piers, 17, both of Halifax; Hedy Rutzebeck, 16, of Vancouver and Claude Savaria, 17, of Montreal; Vicki Berner, 16, and John Fraser, 17, of Vancouver.

A ball struck on the seams travelled farther than one hit on the smooth hide. The balls are identically made with a cork centre, a layer of black rubber, a layer of red rubber, 121 yards of fine white wool, 53 yards of fine grey wool and 150 yards of white cotton covered by a coating of rubber cement and white horsehide.

The cover is sewn by hand by 100 little ladies at the factory.

Roger Maris, Mickey Mantle Chip Away At Babe Ruth's Record, Yanks Lose But Tigers Take Walloping

New York's Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle continue to chip away at Babe Ruth's wild home run surge of 1927. But although both homered in the first game at Washington Sunday, the Senators handed the Yankees a 12-2 beating on Benny Daniels' five-hitter.

Maris came through again the second game, won by the American League leaders behind Jim Coates, 9-4.

Despite the split, New York stretched its league lead to 3½ games over Detroit Tigers who absorbed a 13-5 battering at the hands of Minnesota Twins. Bill Little hit a grand slam homer and drove in six runs for the Twins.

Baltimore Orioles 11 games back, edged Boston Red Sox 6-5 in 11 innings when relief pitcher Arnold Earley threw away a sacrifice bunt for a two-run error. Steve Barber struck out 11 but walked 11 in a touting effort.

Little Luis Aparicio had a big day for Chicago White Sox with three hits, four runs and two stolen bases in a 9-3 victory over Kansas City Athletics.

FIRST GRAND-SLAMMER
Joe Koppe's first major league grand slam homer and bonus rookie Tom Satriano's

Maris' 45th got the Yanks off running in the second game off loser Marty Kutyna and Cleto Boyer added a homer off relief man Dave Sisler. Coates allowed 10 hits while posting his ninth victory.

Tuttle was the big gun for the Twins, who have beaten the Tigers five times in their last six meetings. Camilo Pascual, relieved by Ray Moore in the eighth, won his 10th.

Boston and Baltimore were tied 3-3 after nine and each scored once in the 10th. The Red Sox got another in the 11th but lost when Earley fielded Russ Snyder's sacrifice bunt and threw the ball over the head of third baseman Frank Malzone, permitting two runs to score.

Aparicio stretched his consecutive game hitting streak to 15 with three hits, scored four times and boosted his stolen base total to 41. Frank Baumann went the route for the White Sox, beating Norm Bass.

Koppe's grand slammer off Frank Funk in the five-run seventh gave Los Angeles a 7-6 lead but Satriano's steal of home in the eighth proved decisive because the Indians also scored a run in the eighth. Tom Morgan was the winner in relief of Eli Grba.

Flint's Dave Blocker was clocked at 17.2 to set a Canadian open mark in the 25-yard backstroke for boys 10 and under, while Hamilton's Jimmy Smith set a Canadian mark of 1:10 in the 100-yard butterfly for boys 13-14. Flint's June Shaver won the 25-yard backstroke for girls under 10 with a Canadian open record time of 20.8.

Hamilton's Barbara Kowalchuk set a Canadian record of 1:09.7 in the girls 13-14 butterfly. The final Canadian record was set by a Hamilton aquatic team which won the 200-yard relay for boys 15-16 in 1:41.5.

53 To Compete In Can. Junior

Argos Open 1961 Season Tonight Against Blue Bombers

Question Mark Of Big Four Gets First Test Tonight, Odd-Makers Make Westerners Slight Favorites

Toronto Argonauts, the question-mark of the Eastern Football Conference, open their 1961 season at home tonight against that enigma from the West — Winnipeg Blue Bombers.

Bombers toppled Argos 20-18 in an exhibition game — but the Western club was behind until Toronto quarterback Tobin Rote wrenched the thumb on his throwing hand. Argos lost Nobby Wirkowski, quarterback and backfield coach, in an exhibition with St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League.

The odds-makers have been taking second looks at Winnipeg ever since they edged Calgary Stampeders by one point 18-17 and followed up with a 21-15 squeaker over a building Montreal Alouettes squad Friday.

MAKES IT OFFICIAL

Coach Lou Agase of Toronto made it official early today. John Henry Jackson, 23, a rookie from Indiana, will be at pivot with Dick Shatto and Brian Aston ready to help.

Agase named four imports and four Canadians who weren't regulars last fall to play tonight.

The imports are defensive end Gerry Patrick from Illinois; defensive halfback Art Johnson and corner linebacker Harold Dukes, both of Michigan State, and Jackson.

Doug McNeil, offensive tackle; Clare Exelby, defensive back; Billy Shipp, defensive tackle and Casey Wood, rookie tackle, are the Canadians.

Bombers, coming out for their third game in seven days, will likely be without halfback Leo Lewis and corner linebacker Roger Hagberg, both injured in Montreal. End Farrell Funston and halfback Ray Jauch will likely be their replacements.

RIDERS WIN 41-7

The only overwhelming defeat of the infant football season in the East was handed to British Columbia Lions by Ottawa Riders.

Columbia Lions by Ottawa Riders — a 41-7 shellacking Saturday.

The Grey Cup champions held B.C. off the scoreboard until late in the game when Earl Keeley hit Dick Johnson on the Ottawa goal line from 11 yards away. George Grant kicked the convert.

Russ Jackson, with aid from Ron Lancaster, directed Ottawa's attack. Lancaster moved into the defence when Doug Daigneault went out with a twisted knee. Lions were handicapped when quarterback Bob Schloredt was sidelined in his pitching shoulder.

Jackson passed to Bill Sowalski and Lancaster hit Bobby Simpson for touchdowns; Dick Desmarais, Jackson, Dave Thelen and Jim Reynolds — off a B.C. fumble — scored along the ground. Gary Schneider converted five and had one blocked.

Lions go again Tuesday night against Hamilton Tiger-Cats who, like Montreal, are engaged in a monumental building job.

Rough Riders Thrash B.C. Lions With Ease And Polish, Post 41-7 Victory Before 17,329 Fans At Landsdowne

OTTAWA (CP)—With ease if not always with polish, Ottawa Rough Riders thrashed British Columbia Lions 41-7 Saturday in a Canadian Football League game before 17,329 fans.

It was Riders' first regular game of the season as they opened their defence of the Grey Cup. It was Lions' second loss in two starts and the first for the Western Conference in its partially interlocking schedule with the Eastern Conference.

Ottawa-made lightning struck the Lions before a thunderstorm hit the capital two hours after the game ended.

Riders scored in this fashion: 24 yards in one play; 82 yards in 10 plays; 81 yards in seven plays; 32 yards in four plays; 54 yards in four plays; and 54 yards in no plays. The last was a touchdown run off a British Columbia fumble.

SIX CROSS LINE

The touchdowns were divided among six players: Ends Bill Sowalski, Jim Reynolds and Bob Simpson, rookie halfback Dick Desmarais from Boston University, Canadian quarterback Russ Jackson and fullback Dave Thelen. Gary Schneider converted five of the six touchdowns.

Lions finally got on the board with two minutes left, long after the fans had ceased to care. They picked up an Ottawa fumble at Riders' 37 and substitute Canadian quarterback Earl Keeley threw 11 yards to Dick Johnson at the Ottawa goal line. George Grant converted.

Riders scored two touchdowns by the pass route. Jackson hit Sowalski in the end zone with a 24-yard pass for Ottawa's first touchdown in the opening quarter.

In the third quarter, Thelen was trapped on a draw play. He shoved the ball back to surprised American quarterback Ron Lancaster. Lancaster felt he should do something and threw to Simpson at Lions four. Simpson bulled his way over with one tackler hanging on him.

Riders got a bit of a scare in Lions' opening sequence of plays. British Columbia roared 60 yards to Ottawa's five in nine ground plays but Nub Beamer fumbled trying to crack Riders' centre and guard Sam Scoccia recovered for Ottawa.

After that, it was clear sailing for Riders. They broke open open Lions defensive team almost at will while their own defensive squad piled up British Columbia runners at the line of scrimmage.

Sets new goal after winning 300th victory

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Warren Spahn, 40, Milwaukee Braves' pitching marvel, laughed at father time and set his goals higher today as a member of baseball's exclusive 300-victory club.

The southpaw wonder Friday night became the 13th hurler in major league history to win 300 games as he edged Chicago Cubs 2-1 on a masterful six-hitter.

"I'm going to stay alive as long as possible," Spahn said before heading for a party attended by teammates and friends. "My next goal is to win 20 games this year—and I'm going to have to go some with only 12 so far. Then I'll be back next year."

Although reaching 300 was only a matter of time, Spahn said he was gripped by tension unprecedented in his brilliant career. And he was appearing in his 598th National League game.
