

PICKETS MARCH HERE

But Officials Say 'No Strike'

Twenty pickets — all construction men and representatives of the Montreal Building Trades Council (CLC) — are picketing the Louis Donolo construction work in progress at Western and Redfern ave., where a joint residential-commercial development is being built.

They told The Examiner yesterday that it was not a strike. They were merely there to inform union members that the contractors (Donolo) had no agreement with the council.

H. E. McCORMICK, president of the Examiner Publishing Company, who has been elected first vice-president of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association at the annual convention held at Banff, Alta.

However, by 10.30 a.m. about thirty per cent of the 120 men on the site had stopped work. These were mostly sheet-metal workers and elevator operators.

Henry Rochon, head of the Trades Council and the man who organized the picketing, told The Examiner, "This is a fight to the finish for us. If necessary we are prepared to picket this job into October, when it's due to finish. We're determined to get recognition."

But a naive representative of the Donolo firm said "There is nothing wrong here this morning. All our men are at work".

Cause of the dispute is the present system whereby contractors negotiate for labor with the Builders Exchange and not with the Unions direct. The Unions are demanding individual agreements.

The Builders Exchange, in this middle of this dispute, have been negotiating for management for the last thirty years. Currently they have a two-year contract with the Unions.

Exchange President, W. E. Williams, has appealed to the

He Took Five Years To Write Book About 4,298 Chimneys

First in a photostory series by Ted Harrison on the various departments of the City of Westmount.

One of the least-known departments of the City of Westmount is a division of the Fire Department, the Chimney Sweep. Chimney Sweeping in Westmount is carried out by professional sweeper A. Paquette and two assistants, Roland Roy and Paul Meunier.

Mr. Paquette has been sweeping chimneys for a living since 1912 and he became the Westmount sweep in 1925. His father had been a sweep for 39 years.

Chimneys in Westmount must be swept each year according to by-laws 187 and 569. Two days before the sweep is to clean the chimney a notice is left at the resident's door stating the by-laws and requesting that the owner notify the occupants that the chimney will be swept. Sweeping costs thirty cents a storey and two dollars a flue. The average chimney, swept from the top, takes about five minutes.

Most used tool-of-the-trade is a brush on a long rope which is used to sweep chimneys from the top. The next most important is a brush on a long rolled piece of strip iron, used to clean chimneys from the bottom. This usually takes from fifteen minutes to one half hour. Then there are two ball shaped weights used for checking the insulation on gas chimneys and for breaking through blocked chimneys. Lastly there is a fifteen pound steel bar for punching small holes in blocked chimneys.

People have been known to complain to the Fire Department that their chimney has not been swept, because they did not see any ladder, but the fact is that the sweep does not use a ladder. He throws a rope to the roof and hoists himself up. He then stands on the top of the chimney, as Mr. Roy is doing in the photo, and drops his brush down the hole.

Mr. Paquette is known (Continued on Page 2)

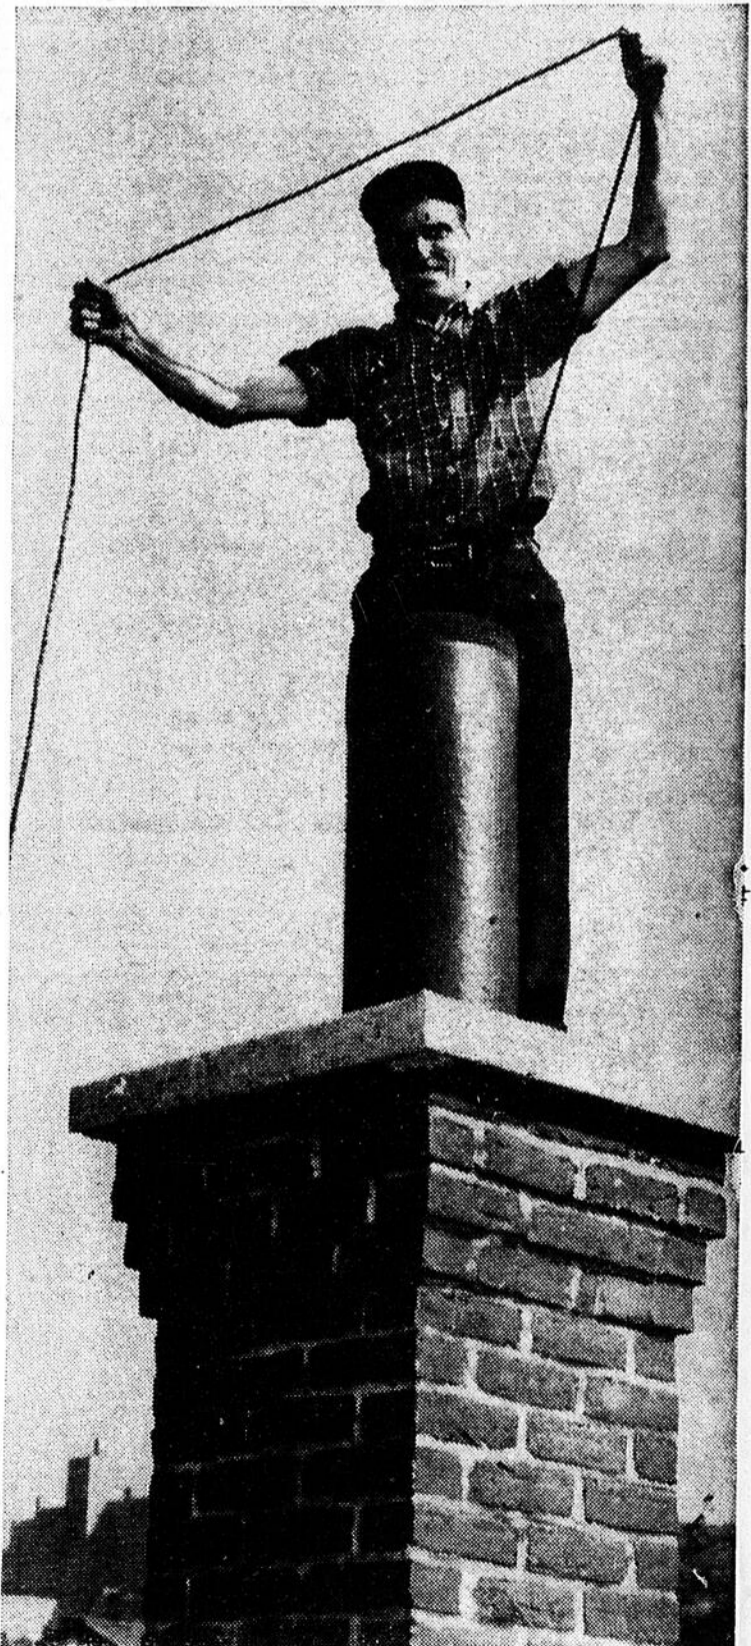

Obey Moral Law Rabbi Stresses In New Temple

"This Hebrew month of Elul has been set aside by our teachers to be devoted in preparation for the High Holy Days. We must come spiritually equipped through preparation and study and meditation for the great truths represented by Rosh Hashonah and Yom Kippur and in particular its emphasis on the obedience of the moral law," Rabbi H. J. Stern said Friday in the New Temple.

"All mankind in our time is living on the brink of a war which if it breaks out none may survive. With all our progress in science, in economic production and in all our programmes of social betterment, we find ourselves living in a world of fear. We seem to have failed despite our advances to find security. We have failed because one element has been missing. What has been missing is the moral law in social, political and in the international realm. This is indeed the fatal deficiency of our time," he added.

"Hence it is good to witness the construction of new edifices to the worship of God and the brotherhood of mankind. Synagogues and Churches are more needed today than ever. For these are indeed community service institutions in the cause of righteousness and in the cause of awakening mankind to

Meanwhile Williams said, "The directors and I have fully considered this matter and have decided to uphold the principles of the collective agreement we have with the Trades Council, and are willing to oppose legally any attempts to break it."

However, it is understood that the Trade Councils grievance is not solely with the Donolo firm. They have chosen their sites as the first stage for their picketing in view of the big jobs they are running at this time.

 throughout the city as the foremost authority on chimneys, and he is very proud of the fact that neither he nor his men have ever had an accident. This is, he says, because he never talks to his man when he is up on a chimney. Mr. Paquette himself does not climb chimneys any more because he is 70 years old, but his chief sweep is a youngster of 50. The largest chimney he has ever swept is the one on the Charles Frosst Building. This one takes two men two days to clean, and it is cleaned with steel brushes by climbing up the inside.

Mr. Paquette, who is always with his men on the job, has written a book giving information on every chimney in Westmount, which number 4,298. The book took him 5 years to write. The Fire Department have

VOLUNTEER LEADERS NEEDED

The 1957-58 Fall and Winter Program of the Unity Boys' Club of Westmount gets underway on Monday, September 16th, with a wide variety of activities scheduled for the boys and girls in the Westmount-St. Henry districts.

REGISTRATION

For the past two weeks, the Club has been open for registration purposes only. Youngsters six to sixteen years of age living in the above mentioned districts are eligible to join the activities, former members and new members must register. The registration of new or old members will continue throughout the forthcoming season. A limit of 100 members has been set as the maximum number of members required to adequately carry on a program.

A new membership record was established at the Unity Boys' Club during the 1956-57 season when 6 year old David Warren of Selby street became the 1000th member.

Activities for the forthcoming season will include: A complete agenda of arts, crafts, hobbies, sports and social and special activities.

STAFF

It was announced recently by Club Director Maurice Mariasine that Miss Crystal Cunningham has been appointed Girls' Work Supervisor and will be in charge of the Girls' Section of the Club. Miss Cunningham specializes in Handicrafts having graduated from Macdonald College in Arts and Crafts. Miss Cunningham has been on the Staff of the Unity Boys' Club for the past two years.

Ron Havard, who has been with the Club for the past year and a half continues on as Boys' Work Supervisor. Physical Supervisor Robert Neal will also be back in his post as Supervisor of the Physical Education program.

WORKERS

Although the majority of volunteer workers will be re-

During the past year Mr. Paquette cleaned 6,184 chimneys in Westmount, and it has been estimated that during his time in Westmount he has cleaned over 200,000 chimneys.

turning to the Unity Boys' Club for another season of rendering service to the Youth of the Community, there are several openings for new workers. This is necessitated by the increase in the membership enrollment.

Citizens of Westmount and St. Henry and district are invited to apply for this worthwhile work. The Club is extremely anxious to get workers who have in addition to liking children, some talents in Arts and Crafts, such as: woodwork, painting, leatherwork, sewing, etc. or as coaches of basketball, hockey, or instructors in badminton, gymnastics, volleyball etc. or even those who might lack specific skills but who might be interested in general supervision.

The Unity Boys' Club of Westmount is sponsored by the Rotary Club of Westmount and is operated by the Montreal Boys' Association, a Red Feather Service.

 (A photostory by Ted Harrison)

The Westmount YMCA's Fall Program will centre around three main activities: Gymnastics, Swimming, and Fencing. The remainder of the program will not get under way until October when Jim Hawkes, the Youth Supervisor will have returned from his vacation.

The only program going on at the moment is a training course known as the Leaders Corps. The Corps is comprised of the best all-round enthusiasts with some leading ability. They are trained during this month in particular to help the regular instructors during the rest of the year.

The Swim program, which is an all year round activity is emphasizing the passing of tests this month and about twenty-five per cent of the 250 members of the Westmount YMCA are participating.

The Fencing Classes have started again at the Y and will be continued throughout this winter again under the instruction of Mr. S. Vamos, who has conducted them for the past seven years. For the first time the classes are open to all comers who will be taught as a group and not individually as in the past. The final day for enrolment in this class is Oct. 1, 1957.

In October the regular clubs will start up again. They are: Photo Club, the Junior Hi-Y, the Underwater Swim Club, and probably one or two new ones. Inidentally, the Westmount YMCA is the only Y in Montreal with a complete program for boys and girls.

Badminton Action

The City of Westmount Recreation Department will be commencing their Badminton Club, Tuesday, October 15, from 7:30 to 9:45 p.m., at the Roslyn School Gymnasium.

All residents, 16 and over, are eligible to join, and may register by calling the Recreation Department at WE. 5-6975.

There is no membership fee, but the players must supply their own equipment, (racquets and birds).

WE SAY

Perhaps Junior Gets Too Much

Present day youngsters have it pretty easy, compared to their parents and grandparents. Everything is planned and arranged for them. Perhaps that is why so many of them are restless and unappreciative.

Take the case of playing fields as an example. Today, young ball players have facilities and equipment as good as major leaguers, better than many minor league professionals: level, well-kept fields, skin diamonds, lights for night play, and so forth. Their schedules are arranged for them. Everything is well supervised.

It wasn't so in the case of their fathers. In those days youngsters often had to do their own organizing, build their own backstops, arrange their own schedules, cut the grass themselves, arrange for their own uniforms and equipment. In many of the leagues in which they competed, distances were considerable and they did their travelling by street car. They were lucky if they had more than two baseballs with which to play a game. A favorite trick was to liven up an old ball by soaking it in water and then baking it in the oven for a few minutes. This all made them take the game very seriously, and they enjoyed every minute of play and the work that preceded.

Perhaps we give the kids too much today—too much planning from the top and too much supervision of their play. Not enough left to their own devices.

Quick Action To Save Life

Now that school is open again, local parents have the daily worry of the children crossing busy intersections to and from their classrooms. All busy intersections, even those protected by traffic lights, are dangerous to children: even with the lights in their favor there is danger from traffic making left and right hand turns. Young children are easily confused in traffic.

Vancouver, and several U.S. cities, have adopted what they call a system of "scrambled" traffic at intersections. For a period long enough for even the oldest pedestrian to make the crossing all traffic lights show red, stopping traffic simultaneously in all directions. During this period pedestrians may cross in any direction, even diagonally. The system removes the confusion for small children, and is a wonderful convenience for all pedestrians.

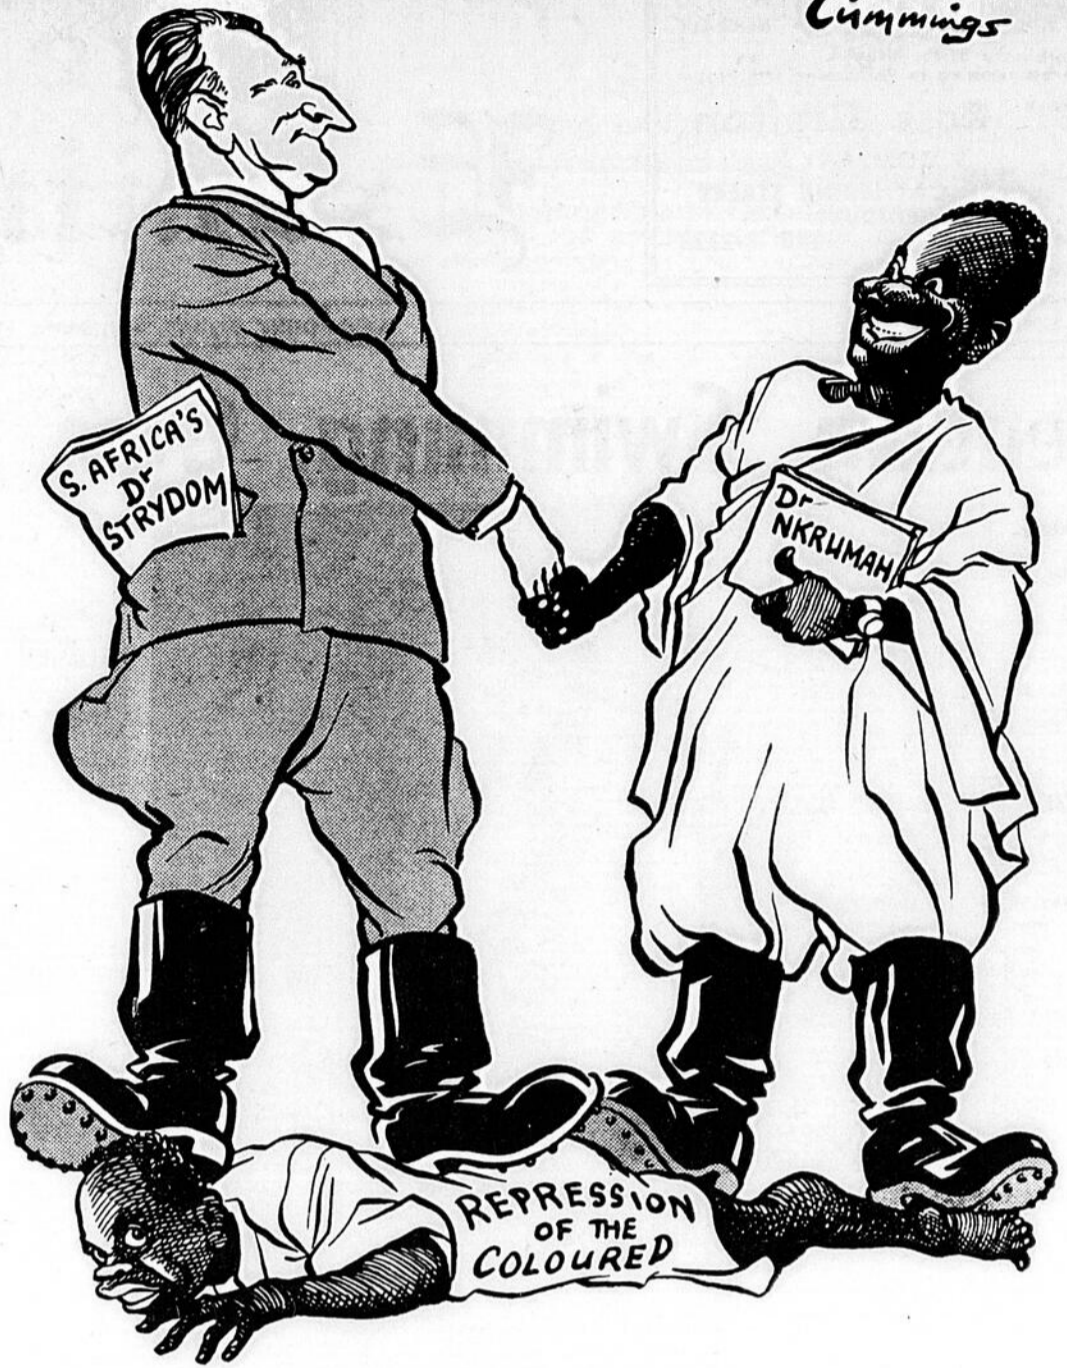

But it seems to be hard to install any new system in Montreal. Last summer, an experiment was made with pedestrian lights in downtown Montreal. These lights, used successfully in many cities, signal pedestrians to "walk" or "don't walk." They comprise a variant of the scrambled system. The experiment here was a failure because "the public wouldn't co-operate", accordingly to traffic officers.

Imagine that, "the public wouldn't co-operate"! In U.S. cities where the system was put into operation, the public had no choice. Judges were installed in temporary quarters in the vicinity of the lights and, after due public notice, people who "wouldn't co-operate" were brought before them and fined on the spot. Co-operation was quickly and easily obtained.

Marginal note

THE usual argument in favor of better roads is that life would be easier for motorists. But now someone has said that better roads would encourage more people to buy cars. The better roads would then become jammed, and better roads still would be needed to encourage yet more people to buy cars. And so on.

YOU SAY

259 Metcalfe Avenue,
Westmount, Que.

Sir,

I was surprised to notice in the current issue of your neighborhood paper, which reaches all Westmount residents regardless of race or creed, an advertisement for an educational establishment which proclaims, in prominent type, "restricted enrollment." While the policy of the private school, however much we may deplore it, is a matter for the conscience of its principal, a newspaper is a public institution. As such, it should exercise sufficient integrity to reject any advertising which fosters segregation and implicit racial prejudice.

Yours truly,
(Mrs.) P. L. Compton.

More Argument On The Rink

Editor,
The Examiner.
Dear Sir:—

I am sure that everyone fully understands and appreciates the Park Supervisor's (Rolland Herson) wish to publicly congratulate the City Council on proposing a project, such as an artificial rink, and I feel sure that all residents in Westmount admire greatly these men for their desire to promote the good health and welfare of our children.

(1) But, Mr. Herson adds that he fails to see any reason why such variables I had mentioned are of interest to anyone.

(2) He also states that there should be no necessity for parents to accompany their children to this artificial rink;

(3) That there is no more danger to ice skating than from playing tiddlywinks;

(4) That he has yet to hear a single child say 'I don't want an artificial rink to skate on'—children who would be made happy as a reward for the little money ($500,000.00) which we residents of Westmount would pay.

From Mr. Herson's remarks, I gather that his rebuttal was written too hastily, and with but little thought to what he calls the many 'variables' I mentioned in my letter.

I am sure that the Councilmen of the City of Westmount included a number of the mentioned variables with many others I did not mention, in giving consideration to this project, before they reached an agreement.

It is customary for business men to consider all new business or propositions from all angles before assenting to same. It is also customary for business men to give consideration to all qualifications of an applicant, before they hire him or her.

I am sure that Mr. Herson would propound one or two dozen variables before he would place his signature on a cheque in payment for a home all his own, and that many of the variables he would require answers to would appear of no interest to others, yet would be of the utmost importance to Mr. Herson.

I am sure that Mr. Herson would wish to delete that portion indicated by number (2) from his letter. Surely, no person would allow their children, if under 10 years of age, and living some distance from Western and Landsdowne, to walk alone (and especially at night) to and from the proposed rink, or to cross Sherbrooke and other busy intersections? This applies in particular to that period when children are attending school, and have only the evenings and Saturdays for skating.

(3) I often have seen beginners fall to the ice, and I maintain that there is some risk of danger from the skates to those who in the crowd would be near. I suppose that Mr. Herson, when a lad, never indulged in any rough play, and that no youngsters would want to show off in front of those present at the rink?

A lady tells me that she knows someone who lost an eye, as a result of playing tiddlywinks.

(4) Who, if anyone, can say they ever heard a child state that they would not want some place of amusement, or to attend same? You might as well expect them to turn down your offer to provide all the free candy and ice cream they could consume.

Mr. Herson's reference to the LITTLE MONEY we residents would have to pay tickles my sense of humor, and I can but rightfully assume that under these circumstances he would be willing to forward his cheque to cover that sum, over the half-million mark, the City of Westmount would have to pay for this ice rink?

Yours truly,
R. U. INTERESTED.

Presence of mind

PRESENCE of mind, says an article, is the quality most needed in a crisis. The Emperor Napoleon III had it. A man shot at him in the Bois de Boulogne. The shot misfired. The man tried again, and missed, "is this never going to finish?"

The Seed and The Soil: II

By

The Venerable
R. Kenneth Naylor, D.D.,
Rector, Trinity Memorial Church

"And these are they likewise which are sown on stony ground; who, when they have heard the word, immediately receive it with gladness; and have no root in themselves, and so endure but for a time; afterward when affliction or persecution ariseth for the word's sake, immediately they are offended."

As in the first kind of soil the picture is stripped to its essentials and one element is left out. If the man who is represented by the shallow soil continues as he is, then there is no hope for him. For persecution of one kind or another is bound to arise for the word's sake and he — in his shallowness — is unable to face it. You may question the statement that persecution is bound to arise, but we have the word of our Lord that it is so, and experience backs up that word. Once St. Peter boasted that he and his fellow-disciples had left all to follow Jesus, and he wanted to know what they were to have in return. Our Lord replied that they would get everything back that they had surrendered, multiplied one hundred-fold; then He added the ominous words — "with persecutions." No one has ever suggested that being a follower of the Lord Jesus is an easy matter — the persecutions are just around the corner. They come from the Devil, as in the case of our Master; they may and plants have grown and have giveth us richly all things to enjoy."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (79: 31-32): "Giving does not impoverish us in the service of our Maker, neither does withholding enrich us."

The Golden Text is from Hosea (12:6): "Turn thou to thy God: keep mercy and judgment, and wait on thy God continually."

come from our friends and even our relatives; they may even come in the form of temptations from the hidden, unknown depths of our own hearts. But come they will, for we do not lightly attain to the bliss of God's Kingdom: as the Master, so the servant.

Then surely it goes hard with the man who has heard and received and has no depth in himself. If he remains without depth the matter is hopeless. But as in the case of the heart that resembles a hard-trodden path, he need not continue in his old state. Even stone can be softened by the power of God, provided the stone submits to that power.

We shall be thinking presently of the deep soil. But that deep soil was once stone. It has been worn down by the forces of nature and rock is transformed to something less rigid; grass added to the soil, and after many centuries perhaps there is soil as deep as the soil on the prairies. Once on a time our Lord took bread and blessed it and multiplied it to feed the multitude. He did not change the laws of nature, but He by-passed them for His purposes. So He may by-pass the ordinary ways in which depth of soil may be produced in the human character, and bring about in that shallow soul, by conversion, and faith and grace, something unrecognizable even to the person concerned. But as in the case of the hard soil, the operative word on his side is surrender; on God's side it is power.

Law And Disorder Topic Of Rotary

"Personal liberty hangs on a very slender thread in this and every other country, and we will not be safe until the people who administer the government are imbued with a determination to restrain themselves in the exercise of their power," Alec Grigg, QC, told the Westmount Rotary Club Wednesday.

A well known legal authority and former law officer of the Quebec legislature, Mr. Grigg was talking about law and disorder. Speaking with authority from his long experience with the law, he went on to point out some glaring contradictions that exist in the laws today.

Primitive man was governed by myths. He was armed with curiosity and precious little else. In his primitive way he sought to explain the wonders of nature.

To him thunder was the anger of a god and the sound of a stream the trilling of nymphs. Over the centuries reason prevailed and logical answers were found for most mysteries. But some of the myths persisted and are deeply imbedded in the law, he said.

In the middle ages if a man were accused of a crime he was required to walk barefoot over red hot irons. According to the reasoning of those days if he were innocent God would protect him from injury. A certain monotony in the judgments of the Almighty, however, convinced jurors that an alteration was required. But even to the present day people seek to use the law as a weapon of persecution, he said.

There is no real difference between methods used by the late Senator McCarthy and people who organized the Salem witch hunts. Here in Quebec we have our own quaint anomalies. After the age of 21 a woman is in the eyes of the law considered capable of managing her own affairs. Yet, once she marries, for some reason, she a complete mental breakdown and is no longer adjudged capable. For the rest of her married life she remains in a state of mental torpor according to the law. Her husband alone can make decisions on financial and business matters. If he dies the woman once again becomes compis mentis and is able to look after her own financial affairs. This is ridiculous and medieval, he said.

In another way the law serves to regulate the acquisitive mind. In our society the acquisitive mind is honored, Mr. Grigg said as he gave the following illustration. Suppose, I an inpecunious lawyer, were sued by a wealthy banker for half a million dollars. A judgment against me for half a million dollars is awarded by the court with all due solemnity. Then we have the position where the irresistible force of judgment comes against the immovable object of my not being able to pay. What happens? I go bankrupt and he does not get a penny.

Our criminal code at the moment ensures that our prisons are adequately staffed and packed with promising young criminals. They might be described as finishing academies for criminals. The law should be revised to coincide with developments in psychiatry. The present system whereby a man is murdered legally for the crimes in obscurity behind walls is something of which we ought to feel ashamed, Mr. Grigg said.

Westmount Family Sees TV Favorites On Set

Although they spent five weeks away from their home and television set, members of one Westmount family now know more about the production of their favorite TV program than if they had stayed here.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Kyle, 534 Grosvenor, and three of their five children spent an afternoon on the set of Father Knows Best in Hollywood, this summer as part of their five week motor trip to California. They met the cast and were shown many technics used in filming and producing the program.

The Westmount family was invited to visit the set after Mrs. Kyle wrote to Robert Young in care of the Du Pont Company of Canada expressing her family's interest in their TV program.

The Kyles frequently identify themselves with the Anderson family in Father Knows Best. Mr.

Kyle is an insurance man, and three of their children are about the same ages as the Anderson family of two teenagers and a ten year old. Sherill Kyle is 17, Judy Kyle is 13 and Gordon Kyle is 11.

Mrs. Kyle told The Examiner that she enjoys watching the program because "it is so close to home. If the TV situation is not our problem this week, it might be our problem next week."

Mrs. Kyle said she was particularly impressed by Jane Wyatt who plays Mrs. Anderson. In addition to telling the Kyles about problems of dramatizing the Anderson family sketches, the actress queried them about real life problems of family life in Westmount.

Noting that everyone on the set seemed to be in good humor, Mrs. Kyle said she was amazed at the number of times each scene had to be filmed. There were so many takes, she said, that the Friday filming seemed like an "endurance contest."

While five members of the Kyle family were touring the West, the other two members, Sharon, 4 and Brian, 19, remained in Westmount. Brian is a member of the Monitor advertising staff.

Law And Disorder...

(Continued from Page 6) and they can console themselves with the thought that justice has been done he added. This is not so. Today our civil rights and liberties hang by a slender thread. We are completely at the mercy of the executive government according to law. Their powers will be kept under restraint as long as things go well and we have a truly representative parliament. But the opposing parties must be strong. If one party is too strong or two parties are evenly matched, he said, you have a dangerous situation.

Mr. Grigg then concluded, "I repeat that today our only protection against tyranny is the determination of the people in our government to restrain their power."

Cook-Brady

The marriage of Carolyn Sylvia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Manhard Brady, to Mr. Robert James Cook, of Victoria, B.C., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Francis Cook, of Pembroke, Bermuda, took place on Friday afternoon, at four o'clock in Dominion-Douglas Church, Westmount, the Rev. A. Lloyd Smith, DD, officiating. Mr. John Robb played the wedding music and white gladioli arranged with greenery and candles in candelabra were used as decorations.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was in a gown of blush pink French tulle over taffeta and pout de faille, fashioned with a fitted bodice of pout de faille embroidered with net appliques, and a very full skirt of tulle applied in the same motif having a butterfly bustle at the back extending into a cathedral train. Her circular veil of matching tulle illusion was held by a bandeau embroidered with seed pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of pale pink and white carnations.

Mrs. Ian James Downey, as matron of honor for her sister, and Mrs. George H. Garneau, Mrs. Robert A. Hall, and Mrs. Craig R. Malcolm, as attendants, were in bouffant frocks of Limoges blue velveteen, with fitted bodices and flared skirts having back fullness and caught at the waist with small bustle bows. They wore matching bandeaux and carried Colonial bouquets of white gladioli blossoms.

Mr. George H. Garneau acted as best man for Mr. Cook, and the ushers were Dr. William R. Cooke, Mr. H. Arnold Steinberg, and Mr. Ian J. Downey.

Mrs. Brady, the mother of the bride, was in a sheath gown of periwinkle blue pout de soie. She wore a large dusty pink flowered hat, and had a spray of pink roses pinned to her handbag.

The reception was held at the

Good-Bye Summer

*Although Summer's leaving
Lovely garden ways,
Forsaking all the roses,
And the golden days,
Still, although she's going,
With the birds, and flowers,
I can't say I'm grieving
For the passing hours.*

*And, although she's listened
To the calling moon,
And left all the beauty,
For the frost, and gloom
Of the Fall, and Winter,
All the sleet, and rain,
Still, I have her promise,
She will come again.*

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Cook left for New York, the bride traveling in a suit of perverche blue cashmere, under a Russian squirrel stole, and wearing a white feather hat, and a corsage bouquet of peach roses.

Every day is "Ladies' Day" at Le Pavillon

Ladies who lunch in Le Pavillon of the Hotel de LaSalle tell us they find the atmosphere "Delightful," the decor "so charming" and the food "absolutely divine!" Well, we admire them too... their pretty chatter that enlivens the midday hours.

While everybody features a "Businessmen's Special," Le Pavillon, with you in mind, prepares a "Special Light Luncheon" and that is why, for a relaxing interlude in a shopping day, or a business day — for a place to meet good friends — the quiet luxury of Le Pavillon is a fashionable choice with the ladies.

Like all the famous restaurants of the Hotel de LaSalle, Le Pavillon is air-conditioned and, for dining room guests, parking is complimentary.

Every day a Special Ladies' Luncheon

With a rare appreciation of feminine tastes, our chef features a "Special Light Luncheon" in the regular menu in Le Pavillon. It is changed each day, but a typical menu is shown at left.

"WHAT HAPPENED?" seems to be what truck driver Gilles Mercier, 24, of 1550 St. Denis St., is saying as he surveys his bodyless truck. He was driving west along Sherbrooke street at Clarke ave. when he heard a terrible noise and felt a dragging on his truck. He stopped and looked around. Alan J. MacLachlan Buried On Friday

Final tribute was paid Friday to Alan James MacLachlan, 4736 Victoria ave., who died Wednesday. He was 75.

Born and educated in St. John's Newfoundland Mr. MacLachlan came to Montreal at an early age.

With the outbreak of the First World War Mr. MacLachlan enlisted in the 42nd Highlanders and saw battle at Mons, for which he was awarded the Mons Medal. He was discharged as a Lieutenant and began work as a clerk for the Bank of Montreal. He remained there until ten

He is survived by his wife the former Bessie Cox.

Final tribute was paid yesterday morning to Mrs. Joseph Boucher deBoucherville.

Formerly Corinne Martin of Montreal, Mrs. deBoucherville was educated at Villa Maria Convent. Her home was on Redfern avenue here, but she spent most summers on her husband's estate until it was sold last year.

Mr. deBoucherville died in 1933.

The deBoucherville family ancestors owned the signorial estate after which the south shore community near Montreal is named.

Mrs. deBoucherville did a great deal of charitable work until ill-health confined her several years ago.

She is survived by a son, Pierre; two daughters, Marie (Mrs. Jean Beique), and Corinne (Mrs. Jean Desy), wife of the Canadian Ambassador to France.

Al Chamberland Named To Head Philharmonia

Albert Chamberland well known local musician who has been connected with Radio Canada, Les Concerts Symphoniques and the Chamberland Trio, has been appointed artistic director of the newly formed Montreal Philharmonia Orchestra.

Composed of 96 professional and non-professional musicians, the orchestra will hold its first rehearsal in the Strathcona Academy, corner St. Catherine road and Pagnuelo, on Monday at 8.15 p.m. Any musician who might like to join the group can obtain information from the secretary, Laurette Duchesne, RA. 1-3213.

The reason why animals or plants are known scientifically by names of Latin or Greek origin, says the Book of Knowledge, is so that scientists all over the world can at once recognize what animal or plant is being referred to. In Canada a dog is dog, in France he is chien, in Germany he is hund; but his universal scientific name is Canis familiaris, meaning domestic, or household, dog.

Mt. Royal Tennis Sets Up September Events

The distribution of prizes is slated for Saturday, September 21 when a closing tea will be held. This event will start at four o'clock and the informal party will start at nine.

The ladies will hold their closing meeting and dinner, Tuesday September 24, at seven o'clock. Reservations not later than September 23.

A special general meeting is scheduled for Thursday, September 26 at eight o'clock to discuss and approve general club improvements plans outlined in the president's letter of last month.

Another big event is planned for Saturday, September 28 when the annual closing dance will take place.

Other events planned for September will be the Junior section closing dance slated for tomorrow night and the shipwreck party slated for Saturday night.

Munn, Boeck Tennis Champs

Bob Bedard won the Montreal Cup the hard way.

Val Harit, defending the handsome piece of silverware which carries the Closed Quebec tennis championship, put up a very stubborn defense.

The final count went 6-0, 6-8, 7-5, 0-6, 7-5, each man fighting hard for the bonus points.

The ladies singles crown, left vacant when Hanna Sladek went to Europe early this summer, was taken over by another former European, Sieglinde Boeck of Mount Royal Club.

She defeated Eleanor Dodge, a clubmate, 6-4, 6-3. Miss Boeck, unlike Bedard, was never in any real danger of having to work overtime for the title.

Bedard, holder of the Canadian singles title, was trailing in the final set of his match with Harit and had to bring all his power shots out of the hat to subdue the Monkland Club star.

The match uncovered some sharp volleying by both men and long hitting baseline duels, when Harit was able to keep Bedard away from the net, his favorite spot.

Bedard also shares the men's doubles honors. He partnered Dick Munn to beat Marcel Tremblay and Roland Godin 4-6, 6-1, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3.

Eleanor Dodge and Therese Helie took over the ladies doubles title with a 6-2, 6-1 win over Ella Arusoo and Michele Parent.

Townies Rugger Beat Ottawa 24-13; Clash With Westmount Side Saturday

TOWN of Mount Royal Rugger Club got off to a good start by defeating Bytown Beavers in Ottawa last Saturday 24-13.

The Town soon took the initiative when Garry Rook crossed the Beavers' line to score an unconverted try. Terry McCabe soon showed his opportunist qualities by crossing for a good try which Ian Ruxton converted.

A penalty goal by Ian Ruxton brought the score to 11-0 when the Ottawa Club replied by scoring a penalty goal which brought the half time score to 11-3.

Bytown Beavers started the second half with much spirit and helped by some defensive lapses on the part of the Town backs, scored a good try soon after the interval which was converted.

Forward Tom Reid, Irish International and Barbarian player scored the Town's next try which was unconverted and this was followed by a good solo effect by Brian Sadler for the Beavers for 14-13 in favor of Mount Royal.

Play was very even as the score suggest at this stage of the game and the Town had to throw in everything they knew to force a decision. Tom Reid showed his class by scoring the next try which was converted by Ruxton while captain Niall Quade ended the scoring with a good effort just before full time. This was also converted by Ruxton.

Individual honors went to Tom Reid who is an asset to any rugger club while forwards Lionel Beckett, David Craig and Terry McCabe played extremely well.

Ian Ruxton had a good day with his kicking marksmanship. The backs were uniformly good and it was good to see the newcomer Jim McIntyre playing a speedy and clever game at wing three-quarter.

The defense was fairly good with the exception of a lapse soon after the interval which was capitalized by the Beavers into bringing the score to within one point but Niall Quade feels that prospects for a successful season are very bright.

This Saturday sees the bringing together of two keen rivals when the Town plays host to the Westmount Club. Game time is 2:30 at the Town Recreation Centre and spectators can be assured of a rousing tussle between two evenly matched clubs. There will also be a second team game between combination of the Town of Mount Royal and Montreal Barbarians versus Westmount and Wanderers.

American Rules, Ball Will Help Grocers To Make Better Showing In Tourney Than '52

EVEN with their own pitcher, veteran Percy McCracken on the mound against them, Steinbergs, Snowdon League champions and pennant winners were still the best when they defeated the Snowdon Stars 4-1, Sunday night at Trenholme Park.

The Grocers head for Clearwater Tournament representing Canada, Sunday morning for Florida via Eastern airways.

They will most likely see action on Monday. The draw, according to team officials is made in Clearwater on Sunday. Losing two games sees the team on the sidelines. If a team loses on Monday in their first game they play Tuesday against other losers.

Snowdon officials are giving their representatives a better chance than other teams that has played in this World Tournament.

For the past summer the league has been playing American rules and with an American ball, which is two factors that were against other Snowdon teams as they played Canadian rules.

The team will be in Florida for about six days, win or lose. All games will be of seven innings. Ace Holden has been the pitcher in batting practices this week during nightly drills.

McCracken, their ace hurler pitched for the Stars while Gibby Wesolowski who will also make the Clearwater trip pitched for the Grocers.

Booker Thomas, who has not had a lot of work during Grocer's campaign also helped on the mound.

Shortstop Rickie Tomlinson hit McCracken like he owned him with a couple of singles. Dave Bernard also had two safeties, while Ray Denoncourt had two for the Stars.

It is not the first time that Grocers have played this tourney. They tried it back in 1952 and won two and lost two. They finished in seventh place against the top teams in United States.

Skippy Burchell due to hockey; Mike Shapiro, business; Guy Lapointe, injured; Hugh Brown, leg injured, will not make the Clearwater trip. The party will number 20.

Additions to the champions team will be Pete Constabe, FBI, who plays outfield, although he plays first base; Dave Bernard, Dow outfield and Gibby Wesolowski, pitcher. Gib will help on the mound with Percy McCracken and Booker Thomas. During the season Grocers won 32 games; lost six and drew one in 39 starts.

New and Old Faces Make Up The Leafs

Bobby Anderson, and Gillo Maione will quarter the club while Tom Cater and Dick Mathieu will play center.
