URGED QUEBEC TO ACCEPT PENSION MEASURE Dog Team On Way To Granby -- Rebel Holds Ruling Hand

Numerous Issues Are Discussed By Montreal Mayor

Praised Ontario System of Mothers' Allowances and Made Plea that Province Accept Federal Old Age Pensions Act—Also Discussed Loss of Labrador to Canada.

(Canadian Press Despatch)
MONTREAL, Jan. 18.—Mayor Camille Houde, Conservative, St. Mary's, Montreal, figured in the Quebec Legislative Assembly yesterday with a speech, which lasted three hours, in the course of which he covered all branches of governmental activity. He praised the Ontario system of mothers' allowances, and made a plea that the Province accept the Federal Old Age Pension Act. He talked of the loss of Labrador to Canada, and said that the Provincial Government was equally to blame for this loss, claiming that the necessary preparations had not been made, whereas Newfoundland had made all possible studies into the matter and, he added, the natural predisposition of the Privy Council was for Newfoundland since the island colony was in debt to England, and to Englishmen.

Mr. Houde said foreign capital in the province was being encouraged to a point where outsiders were allowed to drive the Quebec farmers from their homes.

Referred to St. Mary's By-Election
He talked of the by-election in St. Mary's; of alleged intervention by the Government with the magistrates; denounced the Government for allowing foreigners from the United States to seize the natural resources of the province, and evict farmers from their homes; and he urged, as the way of escape, that the province develop what water-powers which remain to it, so that if A. R. Graustein, president of the International Paper Company, whom he had mentioned several times, notably as being associated with a desire to have his company get hold of all the paper mills in the province, was too harsh in his demands, the province would be able to meet the situation by a Government-owned power development.

Mr. Houde did not make all his speech from his seat. He walked about, his hands in the armpits of his vest at times, at other times he waved his arms. Now he returned to the Speaker, now to the Ministers, then completely around to face the end of the House.

Mr. Houde followed W. P. Grant, Liberal M.L.A. for Champlain, who while not in the class of brilliant speakers, made a speech that had the merit of knowledge of the subjects he dealt with, which were largely relating to the forests, a subject in which he is an expert.

Pleased at King's Recovery
Mayor Houde, rising amidst applause, expressed pleasure at the recovery of His Majesty, and hoped that all further news of the health of the Royal family would be good.

The member for St. Mary's did agree with the statements of the Government as to the general prosperity in the province, and reproached the Government with not having followed the advice of M. Sauve in establishing industries in the rural centres. Why had not the Minister of Agriculture taken measures to protect the Quebec market gardeners against American competition. Why were not the surpluses used to create an agricultural centre, so as to aid the farmers who could not pay for the farms they had bought at high prices during the war. Mr. Houde said not only were Conservatives criticizing the Government, but the Liberal member for Lotbinière, Hon. J. N. Francoeur, had declared at a public meeting that the policy of the Government toward industries in the province was nefarious, and brought about desertion of the farms.

It was not encouraging to the farmers to permit foreigners to come into the province and drive them out of their homes, as had been the case in Lake St. John.

Mr. Houde hoped the Government would be able to realize its aim of protecting people against fraudulent mining schemes, but this policy was contradicted by the fact that the ministers of the Crown continued to be directors of mining companies.

Mr. Houde turned his attention to Hon. Honoré Mercier, who had gone

BLIND PIG HABITUÉS
LIABLE TO ARREST
IF BILL PASSES

QUEBEC, Jan. 18.—
Warrants will not be necessary for the arrest of customers found in "blind pigs" provided the arrested persons are immediately taken before a magistrate. Such is the intention of the bill to amend the Quebec Liquor Act which is being sponsored by Hon. Jacob Nicol, Provincial Treasurer, Premier Taschereau stated yesterday.

Under the law as it exists today, a decision was given in the Montreal courts that even if found in places where the sale of liquor was illegal, the habitués could not be arrested, unless a warrant had previously been secured. The effect of this judgment was to nullify, in part at least, the operation of the law. If the present bill is ratified by the House, customers will be subject to arrest provided they are immediately taken before a magistrate.

Momentous Questions Were Taken Up Today By S.A. High Council Meeting Began With Virtually Full Attendance, But It Was Indicated that a New General Might Not Be Chosen Until Tomorrow.

(Associated Press Despatch)
SUNBURY, ON - THAMES, Eng., Jan. 18.—The High Council of the Salvation Army resumed its session this morning with two momentous questions up for discussion.

Choice of a successor to the deposed leader, General Bramwell Booth, and reforms in the Army administration.

The meeting began with virtually full attendance, but it was indicated that a new general might not be chosen until tomorrow.

The Council came near being deprived of the presence of the deposed leader, General Bramwell Booth, who was followed by Catherine Booth, who spent the night at a villa near Sunbury Court. Other members of the Booth family were not expected at Sunbury today.

into St. Mary's by-election to protest his holding a double mandate, and yet had accepted the position of chairman of the Quebec Streams Commission, though the latter position did not pay, admitted Mr. Houde.

Strange Situation.
It is a strange thing, he added, that the defence of a company which had secured natural resources in the province should be undertaken by a member of that company, who was a member of the House, the reference being that Mr. Grant is an official of the International Paper Company.

Mr. Houde said the best defence the Government had made as to its forestry policy was by saying the limits were not sold, but only leased, as if that made any difference, since in either event the wood was cut off.

The International Paper Company is seeking to get hold of all other timber in the province.

STANSTEAD MAN AND WIFE FOUND UNCONSCIOUS

Garage Keeper and Wife Found Overcome by Carbon Monoxide Fumes—Believed Caused by Furnace.

(Special to the Record)
STANSTEAD, Que., Jan. 18.—As Mr. Harley D. Ames was returning to his home in Derby Line about noon yesterday, he drove up to Ames' service station at Rock Island. No one coming out to serve him, he entered the station and found Mr. Gelineau, who operates the station, and his wife both unconscious on the floor, evidently overcome by carbon monoxide gas.

Medical aid was summoned and Doctors Stockwell, Ross and Gauthier soon arrived on the scene. It was discovered that Mr. Gelineau, who had brought her husband's lunch, was not very badly affected, and she was soon restored to consciousness. It was some time, however, before Mr. Gelineau was brought around.

It is believed that the fumes must have come from the furnace, as there were no cars in the garage at the time. Mr. Gelineau was mending a snow shovel when he was overcome by the gas. Mrs. Gelineau says she noticed an unusual odor when she entered the premises, but suddenly was overcome.

MONTREAL, Que., Jan. 18.—The Montreal Trades and Labor Council decided by an unanimous vote last night to ask the Provincial Government to enact legislation providing old age pensions in the Province of Quebec.

JURY DISAGREES OVER ACTIONS OF QUEBEC MAN

A. J. Garland, of St. Armand, Will Appear Before United States Courts Some Time in February. Connection With Smuggling Charge on Which He Appeared Yesterday.

(Associated Press Despatch)
BURLINGTON, VT., Jan. 18.—Disagreement was reported by a federal jury here after four hours deliberation yesterday in the case of A. J. Garland, of St. Armand, Que., who was charged with smuggling liquor into the United States.

When Garland went on trial his counsel held that he had been illegally arrested. Counsel said that Garland was proceeding to a customs house at Swanton to declare his cargo of 466 bottles of liquor when he was arrested. The prosecution held that transportation of the liquor into the country constituted an offence as it was not dutiable merchandise.

Judge Harland B. Howe ruled that it was for the jury to determine when that body disagreed, the date for retrial as set for some time in February.

Victorious Rebel Chief Has Been Acclaimed New Emir By Entire Kabul Province

Bacha Bakao, or the Water Boy, Is Understood to Have Fifteen Thousand Men Under Him, Fully Equipped, and Is Said to Be Maintaining Excellent Order.

(Associated Press Despatch)
ESHAWAR, India, Jan. 18.—Advices from Kabul, capital of Afghanistan, state that Habibullah Khan, victorious rebel, known as Bacha Bakao, or the water boy, has been acclaimed the new Emir by the entire province of Kabul.

He is understood to have 15,000 men under him, fully equipped, and is said to be maintaining excellent order.

Contrary to Karachi despatches saying that King Amnullah, who abdicated last week, was preparing to attempt recovery of his throne, the reports received here state that he has ordered the governor of Kandahar to lower the Royal standard, which was hoisted there Tuesday, on the ground that he is no longer King.

Evacuated from Kabul by British Force Airplanes
NEW DELHI, India, Jan. 18.—Inayatullah, King of Afghanistan for a few days, and members of his household have been evacuated from Kabul by British air force aeroplanes. The party reached Peshawar en route to Kandahar, where Inayatullah's predecessor and brother, the former King Amanullah is.

BRITISH OFFICIALS GAVE WARNING TO AMANULLAH
(Canadian Press Despatch)
LONDON, Jan. 18.—The attitude of the French and German press towards the Afghan revolution is a rather sorry return for the gallant rescue of French and German nationals from Kabul by British airmen, the Daily News says.

The French and German papers seem to be divided in opinion. Some hold to the theory that the British Government pushed King Amanullah to his doom by fanning the flame of his reforming zeal, while others say British influence was directly concerned in stimulating the revolt against the King.

The plain truth, the News points out, is that the Indian Office went out of its way to warn Amanullah of the danger of the revolution, and the course he pursued before he left England. Neither Amanullah's policy of reform, nor the revolt which resulted from it were in any sense dictated by the British Government.

DAIRYMEN AT CHICAGO STILL AT DIFFICULTY

Fight Occurred Between Striking Dairy Farmers and Other Milk Producers Not Taking Part in Pure Milk Association's Controversy With Chicago Distributors.

(Associated Press Despatch)
CHICAGO, ILL., Jan. 18.—A fight between striking dairy farmers and other milk producers not taking part in the Pure Milk Association's controversy with Chicago distributors occurred in McHenry County yesterday when some of the dairymen tried to break through picket lines to deliver their milk at a receiving station of one of the large Chicago firms.

Witnesses said about three hundred men took part in the affray, although no one was injured, except a few black eyes and bruises. The McHenry County receiving station, which ordinarily receives about 50,000 pounds of milk daily, reported it received only 1,000 pounds yesterday.

In Lake County other pickets also were guarding some of the milk trucks that had been seized and the milk poured out.

The striking farmers are endeavoring to force the distributors to pay them $2.85 instead of $2.70 per hundred pounds, which the dealers have so far refused to do. As yet there has been no danger of a milk shortage, the distributors calling on other sources to keep up their supplies.

REGINA, Sask., Jan. 18.—Provisions for several new public buildings in Saskatchewan at an estimated cost of $1,500,000 is made in the main estimated table in the legislature last night. In addition a $4,000,000 outlay is provided for highways, $1,500,000 advance for the power commission and $800,000 for extensions to the provincial telephone system.

THE WEATHER

SNOW OR RAIN
Pressure continues high over the Far Northwest and low over the greater part of the United States and from the Great Lakes eastward, with centres of depression over the Northern Rocky Mountain States, the Southwestern States and the Gulf of St. Lawrence. The weather has been mild with snow and rain from Ontario to the Maritime Provinces and cold with snow flurries in the Western Provinces.

Forecast: Snow or rain to night and part of Saturday.

PRINCESS MARY THROWN WHEN HORSE FALLS

Soft Ground Broke Fall, Although Nearly Ridden Down by Friends Before They Could Stop—Mounted Horse and Continued Hunt.

(Associated Press Despatch)
LONDON, Jan. 18.—The Daily Mail says that Princess Mary was thrown from her horse while hunting with the Bronham Moor hounds, and might have received serious injuries.

Her horse floundered in the mud near Selby House, the story says and fell on its side. The Princess was thrown clear some distance away but owing to the softness of the ground was not hurt.

Other riders, however, were so close to her that they had difficulty in reining in their horses.

They dismounted and helped the Princess to her feet. She laughed, got back on her horse and went on with the hunt.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—A reunion of an unusual kind was held in London last night when thirty-four Antarctic explorers, survivors in Britain of nine Antarctic expeditions and two relief expeditions, met to form a dinner club.

Membership is to be limited to those who have participated in Antarctic exploration. Among these were participants in the Southern Cross expedition of 1919.

Food and Medical Supplies Were Being Rushed To City of Cumana Which Was Shaken By Earthquake

Government of Cumana Informed President Gomez by Wireless that Every Building Had Been Destroyed, Adding that There Were a Great Number of Victims—Number of Dead Placed at Twenty-Five—Number of Injured Reported to Have Been Taken from Ruins—Cumana Located About a Mile Above Mouth of Manzana River.

(Associated Press Despatch)
ARACAS, Venezuela, Jan. 18.—Steamers and all the smaller craft available today were rushing toward the city of Cumana, which was levelled by an earthquake, with food and medical supplies and tents. They were also carrying nurses and doctors to care for those injured.

Every Building Destroyed.
Every building in the city was destroyed, the Governor of Cumana informed President Gomez by wireless, adding there were a great number of victims.

The newspaper Universal put the number of dead at twenty-five, out of a population of about 15,000. The paper said a great number of injured persons were being taken from the ruins.

Telegraphic Communication Severed.
The earthquake severed telegraphic communication with the city and accounts were fragmentary regarding the extent of the disaster.

Cumana is located about a mile above the mouth of the Manzana River, about 250 miles east of Caracas. The raw products of the region are coffee, tobacco, sugar and lumber, while cotton goods manufacture is one of the chief industries.

ed cost of $1,500,000 is made in the main estimated table in the legislature last night. In addition a $4,000,000 outlay is provided for highways, $1,500,000 advance for the power commission and $800,000 for extensions to the provincial telephone system.

International Dog Team Left Marieville--Expect To Reach Granby Today

Alden Puisseur and Brothers, George and Edwin, Guests of Village of Marieville Last Night—Reception Held—Itinerary Includes Stops at Granby, Waterlo, Magog, Sherbrooke and Coaticook—Have Been on Trek Nearly a Month.

(Special to the Record)
MARIEVILLE, Jan. 18.—With traces taunt and furry bodies close to the ground, the International dog team in charge of Alden Puisseur and his two brothers, Edwin and George, started the day's mush from this place this morning, the destination of which will be Granby, if the mild weather does not make this an impossibility.

Mayor J. A. Ouellette, of this place, met the team a few miles out-of-town on arrival here yesterday afternoon and escorted it to the city hall, where a delegation, headed by Messrs. H. Ste. Marie, president of the Chamber of Commerce, S. J. Gelineau, postmaster, Ida Lamoureux, first selectman, and Alpha Ladoureur, police chief, gave the men official welcome as guests of the village. The visitors were put up at Besset's hotel, while the dogs were housed in a nearby garage.

A celebration was announced for the evening, when an informal reception was to be held in Bruneau's Hall.

Storm Helped Travelling
When the team arrived in town there came at the same time a storm of blizzard proportions, and late in the afternoon some doubt was expressed as to the possibility of the team making its destination, Granby, today.

Driver Alden Puisseur and his two brothers, Edwin and George, smiled at the idea that the mail carrying dog team would be held up, suggesting that in all probability the storm would make travelling by sled all the easier. To date the team has covered more than 225 miles, mostly over poor conditions; so the storm was looked upon by the drivers as a help.

The children at the local schools were given a treat in the way of a picture of real Arctic color, when in the afternoon the dogs, which are genuine Eskimo dogs, having been brought out of Baffinland in the Arctic regions by an officer on Donald MacMillan's expedition to the North Pole in 1923-24, were driven to the schools and brought to a stop in the yards, while the snow and hail, Driver Puisseur, clad in his Eskimo costume of hair seal, related to the headmaster, who translated it into French, the history of the dogs.

At the finish of the story the children sent up three hearty cheers.

Stopped at St. Hubert
The team came here yesterday from Chamby, where the drivers had stopped for the night, after having left Montreal. On the outskirts of Chamby, the team stopped at the St. Hubert air port, where approximately four hundred pieces of dog team mail, which had been carried the entire distance of three hundred miles from Lewiston to Montreal, were placed aboard the air mail plane leaving for Albany, N. Y., while news cameras clicked and reporters witnessed the meeting of the most ancient and the most modern means of transportation being used to carry messages of good will between two great countries.

Spent Two Days in Montreal
The team left Montreal, its northern destination, at nine o'clock on Wednesday morning, after having spent two days in the metropolis, during which time the men were the guests of the city and were put up at the Mount Royal Hotel, with the dogs on exhibition in the lobby and on the roof.

Revised Itinerary
According to a revised itinerary made public today, overnight stops are planned in the following towns along the route to be followed by the team on its return to Lewiston: Granby, Waterlo, Magog, Sherbrooke, Coaticook, Canaan, Vt., Colebrook, N. H., Berlin, Bethel, Maine, Rumford or Mexico, Livermore Falls, Augusta, Gardiner, Sebottus and Lewiston.

There is a movement under way to bring the team to Portland, Me., as a southern destination, but Driver Puisseur declared that he was not able at present to state whether or not the team would go there. It all depended, he said, upon how much interest was demonstrated in that city, adding that if it were sufficient he would be glad to drive the dogs there.

When Mayor Ouellette welcomed the men to Marieville yesterday he voiced again that same spirit of general hospitality and friendliness that has been displayed in every Canadian city and town.

"It is a great honor and pleasure for me to have the opportunity to welcome messengers of good will from our brother country, the United States. And it is particularly pleasing to me that greetings are carried by man's oldest means of transportation, which, I believe, with the development of our countries' beautiful possibilities for winter sports, will become ever more and more popular," Mayor Ouellette said.

Making Trip for Sport
He also expressed some surprise at the comparative youthfulness of the drivers. Because of stories of the Northland, where sordidness, mull for gold, and Eskimos travel over the Arctic ice fields, it has come to

HER MAJESTY IS SPENDING MORE TIME WITH KING

His Majesty Maintains Progress and Shows More Interest in Palace Matters -- Queen Mary's Visits to Sick Room Are More Frequent, But Are Restricted to Ten Minutes Only.

(Associated Press Despatch)
LONDON, Jan. 18.—It was authoritatively stated this morning that the satisfactory progress reported yesterday in the condition of King George is maintained.

Comment on the King's condition in authoritative quarters was to the effect that he is improving gradually, but surely. His slow progress has continued over a considerable period without interruption and it is hoped that the time of convalescence may be within sight, although a good deal of ground must be covered before that stage can be reached. The King is taking food in a normal manner for invalids suffering great weakness and satisfaction is felt that he is now obtaining proper nourishment.

TAKES INTEREST IN PALACE AFFAIRS
(Associated Press Despatch)
LONDON, Jan. 18.—The Daily Mail said today that King George had enjoyed long periods of sleep during the last few days and his interest in palace affairs had weakened. He was not allowed to read the papers, since the effort at concentration might prove too great.

The King was having much longer talks with members of the Royal Family, especially Queen Mary. Her visits to his bedside are frequent, although the time limited to her is ten minutes each time, lest the King's strength be overtaxed.

MARGARINE.

Many correspondents write to me asking about the food value of different kinds of butter substitutes. There are really only two types of margarine in the market, although made by many different companies. The oldest kind was originally called oleomargarine and is composed of animal fats, vegetable fats, salt and milk. The other, commonly called nut-margarine, is made of vegetable fats, salt and milk. Each company making either the animal fat or the vegetable fat margarine uses its own formula or recipe, but of course all this is done under the supervision of the pure food laws.

Napoleon III offered a prize for some palatable form of fat food which could be used like butter, which there was a scarcity at that time. His prize was won in 1870 by a Frenchman named Mege-Mouries who called his product oleomargarine. His method or other similar methods have been used since that time, and today there are sixty-one margarine factories in the United States alone, with an annual business of over $100,000,000.

Many people prefer the flavor of margarine to that of cow's butter and others use it because it is considerably cheaper in price. As far as the food value or margarine is concerned, it is very similar to that of butter, although it has been claimed that the vitamins A of cow's butter is absent or a negligible quantity in margarine.

The fact is that all vitamins are found mostly in the green leaves of plants, and it is not essential that we secure any of these from any one kind of food. If one desires to use margarine because of its lower price or because he enjoys the taste, there is no reason why he cannot substitute this nourishing fat for cow's butter.

Many of the nut-margarines contain a large percentage of raw starch and therefore cannot be a good substitute for either cow's butter or the margarine made from animal fats. Although these nut-margarines are undoubtedly wholesome foods, they must be used carefully, as raw starch is always more difficult of digestion.

The lower price of margarine is a consideration in some families where the income is small. At the present time cow's butter sells at about fifty-five cents a pound, while the different kinds of margarine sell for from twenty-three to twenty-five cents per pound.

One cannot question the wholesomeless of animal fats, vegetable fats, salt, milk or butter. Margarine is a scientific combination of these articles of food and is, of course, as wholesome a product as these foods are themselves. On the basis of cleanliness, soundness, freedom from contamination, convenience in handling, and suitability for cooking purposes, there is little difference between the different kinds of margarine and cow's butter. It is, after all, largely a question of the individual's selection of the most palatable margarine or butter which he can afford to buy.

Questions and Answers.

Question—C. J. writes: "I had pneumonia several months ago. An abscess formed on my right lung, which was removed by an operation, cutting in behind my right shoulder blade. There is now just a small hole like a pinhead there, and pus comes out of it every morning. What can be done to stop that discharge, or will it stop itself in time? I still feel weak, and breathing is still bad. I am sixty-three years old."

Answer—Try a fruit fast for a few days, and the discharge will stop if nature is ready for the opening to close.

Question—Mrs. S. writes: "I am greatly interested in your theories and we are following your menus published every week. When Sunday dinner is served at noon, are your luncheon menus suitable for Sunday supper?"

Answer—It is perfectly all right for you to change your Sunday meals about, using the dinner at noon and the luncheon in the evening, although I think it is the better plan to use a generous morning and evening meal, and a lighter luncheon. This separates the two large meals of the day, keeping them approximately twelve hours apart.

Question—Martha D. writes: "I would like to know if there is a permanent cure for goitre. Is it safe to marry with this trouble, or would it affect a child?"

Answer—If the goitre has not been operated on it can be cured simply through living on the correct diet. If you have a goitre when you marry, there is danger of its becoming larger if proper care is not taken when any child is born to you. One of my patients, cured of goitre over fourteen years ago when she was then eighteen years of age, has since had three children, and through proper care has never had a return of her thyroid trouble.

writing, the report is, that she is quite comfortable. Mrs. Wilfred Gagnon came up from her home at Boynton, to look after the house, while her mother-in-law was at the hospital and now she is very ill with pneumonia. Her mother, Mrs. Gilbert Roy, of Sherbrooke, is caring for her, with Dr. Wells in attendance.

Mr. L. L. Vaughan and his mother Mrs. Mary Vaughan, are still confined to the house.

Mr. Harold Connors, of North Hatley, has secured work with Mr. C. W. Morse.

Nurse Shederick, of Magog, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. B. W. Brown, and family.

Mr. C. G. Rollins has been spending a few days at Ayer's Cliff, with his son, Forest, and wife.

Miss Blanche Sharon, of Lennoxville, was at the parental home for the week-end.

ELECTION RESULTS. There were eight contestants in the municipal election held here on Thursday, January 10th. The returning councillors being Mayor A. G. Hurd, Councillors Tom Matthews, Morton Evans, Jim French. New nominations were Mr. R. W. Montgomery for mayor. Messrs. Robert Tannahill, Ernie Painter, and Peter Ginn were successful candidates. Mayor A. G. Hurd, re-elected; Tom Matthews, re-elected; Jim French, re-elected; Ernie Painter, elected.

Rev. A. J. Vibert returned home from Montreal, having been the guest of his brothers and sisters.

The annual vestry meeting for Sawyerville will be held on Monday evening, January 21st, at 8 o'clock, for election of wardens and lay delegates to the Synod and transaction of other business.

The Ladies' Guild met last Friday afternoon with Mrs. L. H. Hunt, as hostess.

The Rebekahs entertained at a card party on Friday evening, January 11th, in the I.O.O.F. Hall. Cards were played at ten tables.

The first ladies' prize was won by Miss Ethel Thompson; first gentlemen's prize, won by Mr. Emmet Leonard. The last card party for the season, will be held on Friday, February 8th.

FLU

How best to use Vicks VapoRub

1. As A Preventive

Several times a day, insert Vicks up the nostrils, also melt a little night and morning in a bowl of boiling water and inhale the steaming medicated vapors.

2. If a Cold Starts

If possible, go home and go to bed. Apply hot wet towels over throat and chest until the skin is thoroughly reddened. Then rub vigorously with Vicks. Spread on thickly and cover with warm flannel.

Leave the bed-covering loose, so that the vapors, released by the body-warmth, may be freely inhaled. At the same time, Vicks acts through the skin like a poultice.

Repeat this treatment every four hours, eat lightly, and stay in bed until the cold is broken. Complete rest helps the body to throw off the cold more quickly.

3. After A Flu Attack

Physicians advise that the chief danger in this epidemic is after influenza. Then, more than ever, colds attacking the weakened system may lead to bronchitis, sinus-trouble or pneumonia. This is especially true of children or old folks.

Heed even the slightest cold as a danger signal and treat it promptly without "dosing."

Mrs. Wm. Bailey is spending some time at Leavitt's Mills at Messrs. Clarence and Archie Bailey's.

The temperance lessons were resumed Sunday after two Sundays of not being held on account of illness. Rev. Mr. Muir gave a short talk on "Temperance Community," building and used the coral insects and islands as examples.

On Tuesday evening a most enjoyable time was spent with Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Campbell, when they opened their home to the members and friends of the Farmers' Telephone line to hold their annual oyster supper, while the business meeting was held. Mrs. Campbell kept the young people busy with games guessing contests, etc., which soon attracted a large number of people.

Miss Muriel Allison returned this week to the high school at Lennoxville.

Mrs. O. Gagnon and daughter, Therese, were recently guests of relatives in Sherbrooke for a few days.

COMPTON

Mr. A. C. Pomeroy, of Charlottetown, P.E.I., was a week-end guest of his brother, Mr. A. L. Pomeroy, Mrs. Pomeroy, leaving here on Monday for Rock Island to visit to Dr. and Mrs. Ball.

Miss Chisholm, nurse-in-training in the Montreal General Hospital, is staying at Maplehurst for a few days.

King's Hall reopened this week after the mid-winter vacation.

In the correspondence appearing in Tuesday's Record, the name of Mrs. Pomeroy, president, was omitted by mistake from the list of officers elected at the annual Guild meeting, also in the item relating to election of councillors for the Township of Compton, Councillor O'Brien should have been O. Brun.

Listen!

Have you heard about Peps? Peps is a scientific preparation put up in pastille form, which provides an entirely new and effective treatment for coughs, colds, chest and throat troubles.

Peps contains certain medicinal ingredients, which, when placed upon the tongue, immediately turn into vapor, and are breathed down the air passages to the lungs. On their journey, they soothe the inflamed and irritated membranes of the bronchial tubes, the delicate walls of the air passages, and finally enter and carry relief and healing to the lungs.

While no liquid or solid can get to the lungs and air passages, these Peps fumes get there direct, and healing commences.

Order Sent to London Yesterday for Best Available Apparatus for Treatment Similar to That Used on King George—Recommends Examination by Four Physicians.

SOUTHWOLD, England, Jan. 18.—General Bramwell Booth is to have the ultra-violet light treatment, such as the King has been undergoing, and an order was sent to London yesterday for the best available apparatus. It is believed the treatment will greatly benefit the neurathic condition of the General.

Staff Captain Dr. Hart, formerly private secretary to the General, yesterday visited him to suggest that he consent to having four physicians examine him for the purpose of a public statement on his physical and mental fitness to retain the Generalship.

Dr. Hart suggested that these doctors be Col. Dr. Percy Turner, of the Salvation Army, Dr. Weir, who attends the Prince of Wales, Dr. Wardlaw Milne, who is now attending the General and himself. Physicians examined the General recently and expressed the opinion that his body was that of a man of sixty-two rather than of seventy-two years, according to Dr. Hart.

The annual meeting of the Guild or the B.C.M. Church was held at the parsonage on Thursday, January 10th at the close of the vestry meeting in the church which the Guild attended at the request of the incumbent. At three o'clock, the Guild adjourned to the parsonage. The president, Mrs. G. H. Durrell, presided over the regular routine business, after which the Rev. A. Radmore took charge of the meeting and reports were read for the year 1928.

The secretary, Mrs. J. N. Code, gave the number of members enrolled at 32; meetings in the year 20; average attendance of members, 17; visitors, four; one lawn social, one Halloween social and a Christmas tree.

The reports by the treasurer and the various conveners reflect considerable credit upon the members of the organization, also the determination of all to uphold the cause which they represent—Christ and His Church.

The work convener, Mrs. J. J. Dixon, read an itemized account of expenditures and earnings in that department, also of the work finished and unfinished still on hand, showing a profitable year.

Election of officers for 1929 was as follows: Mrs. E. Thomas, hon. president; Mrs. G. H. Durrell, president; Mrs. C. D. Johnson, vice-president; Mrs. A. M. Hunter, treasurer; Mrs. J. N. Code, secretary; Mrs. N. Crowhurst, flower fund. Committee: Fancy work, Mrs. J. J. Dixon, (convener), Mrs. L. P. Durrell, Mrs. A. L. Chamberlain, Mrs. E. W. Taylor, plain work, Mrs. W. Knowlton, (convener), Mrs. A. B. Young, Mrs. W. A. Inglis, Mrs. W. A. Dixon, entertainment, Mrs. A. Radmore, (convener), Mrs. A. P. Hillhouse, Jr., Mrs. J. Allen, Mrs. L. P. Durrell.

The meeting was then declared closed and tea was served after which a hearty vote of thanks was extended to Rev. A. and Mrs. Radmore for their hospitality.

Annual Vestry Meeting
On Thursday, January 10th, the annual meeting of the vestry of the Bishop Carmichael Memorial Church was formally opened with prayer and scripture by the incumbent, Rev. A. Radmore, E.A. Mrs. G. H. Durrell, vestry clerk, pro tem, read the minutes of the last meeting. The financial report of Mr. C. D. Johnson showed that all expenses and obligations of the past year had been fully met and a balance on hand. Votes of thanks were moved to the retiring officers and the organist for their untiring devotion to their trusts also of the past year.

The officers for 1929 are: Mr. H. N. Rockwell, incumbent's warden; Mr. C. D. Johnson, people's warden; Mr. L. P. Durrell and Mr. A. L. Chamberlain, delegates to Synod; Mr. Raymond Durrell, vestry clerk. The sidesmen are Messrs. E. Gibbs, A. L. Chamberlain, W. G. Knowlton, L. P. Durrell, G. H. Durrell and Raymond Durrell.

General Notes
Mr. Malcolm Crowhurst, who has been a recent guest of his mother, Mrs. N. Crowhurst, has returned to Stamford, Conn., where he has secured a position with the Automatic Sprinkler Corp. of that city.

The regular meeting of the Women's Auxiliary will be held at the home of Mrs. A. M. Hunter, on Tuesday afternoon, January 22nd. As this is the annual meeting every member is requested to be present. The annual thank-offering will be taken up on this occasion. Officers are also expected to bring in their reports of the year's work.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Williams have been confined to the house for the past week and a half through illness.

Mr. L. Jenne and Miss Marjory Smith, of Sutton, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Inglis and Mrs. M. Shepherd.

Miss Ruth Crowhurst has returned to Sherbrooke to resume her studies at Dudley's Business School, after spending the holidays the guest of her mother, Mrs. N. Crowhurst.

Dr. Fry, of the McGill Arts, Montreal, was called here in consultation with Dr. Blake, of Waterloo, owing to the serious illness of Master Winfield Durrell.

The matins in the Bishop Carmichael Memorial Church will be at ten-thirty o'clock on Sunday, January 20th.

EXPERIMENTS IN PLANTING BIG SUCCESS

Use of Asphalt Paper to Retain Moisture and Increase Bacteria Successfully Tried Out by Dufferin Heights Resident—Manner of Preparing Crop Explained.

Some years ago planters in the Hawaiian Islands, who were put to great expense in keeping down the weeds during the two years required to raise their crop of pineapples and sugar cane, conceived the idea of placing strips of asphalt paper between the rows. This experiment met with unforeseen success, for not only did it completely kill all undesirable growth, but to their great surprise, greatly increased the yield.

The United States Bureau of Agriculture, becoming interested, started experimenting and found that the paper mulch, by drawing the heat and holding the moisture, increased the bacteria in the soil on which the plants fed, so that the crop was not only greatly increased, but crops like cotton and other tropical plants could be raised many miles north of their former limits. The yield in other crops was also found to be doubled and trebled by the mulch.

Residents of the Eastern Township, who "garden on paper" during the winter months, might do well to try a little experimenting under paper next spring. The best results of which have been obtained in the following manner:

Prepare the ground by forming a bed about three feet wide with the edges slightly higher than the middle, on which is spread a sheet of asphalt building paper (not tar paper) held down by staples made of fence wire. Make a cross cut in the paper at the place you wish your plant, and by turning the corners, insert the seeds or plant.

Hang up your hoe as far as that bed is concerned, for you only have to look after the insects pests and pick the crop.

Experiments were carried out along these lines at Dufferin Heights, Stanstead, last summer with good results, the most noticeable of which was a row of golden bantam corn, half of which was under paper and the other half in the ordinary hill, the fertilizer in both being the same.

The first planting of the corn came out wonderfully well under the paper, but only a few kernels came out in the other lot, so it had to be planted over, with the result that the paper mulched corn led the other by about two weeks, and with a much better crop.

All plants grown in this manner show improvement, except cauliflower, which was brought to a head too quickly.

IN A DOUBLE SENSE
"Poor Bill! He got his wish and died with his boots on."
"Yes, and with good measure, at that."
"What do you mean, with good measure?"
"He also died with one boot on—the accelerator."

TURKEY OFFERS CANADA MARKET FOR ITS GOODS

Visitor to Canada Sees Opportunities for Increasing Interchange of Commerce Between Canada, Balkan States and Near East.

(Special to the Record.)
MONTREAL, Que., Jan. 18.—That there are opportunities for increasing the interchange of commerce between Canada and the Balkans and near east is the opinion of Z. J. Bejanoff, of Constantinople, who was in conference today with passenger officials of the Canadian National Railway.

Mr. Bejanoff, who is a native of Serbia, now a Turkish citizen and resident in Constantinople, stated that the new Republic of Turkey was today making great strides towards prosperity and he believed that with the Balkan States, Turkey offered a market for many Canadian products providing the manufacturers were prepared to make an energetic selling campaign in these markets.

The purpose of the present visit of Mr. Bejanoff is to arrange for the visit to Canada of a Turkish football team which would play off games against Canadian teams from Montreal to Vancouver. Arrangements for this tour, he stated, have been made with the Dominion Football Association and the party brought over will comprise approximately twenty people, of whom nine will be spare players, while the remainder are regular players.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Duhamel are convalescing from an attack of la grippe.

Those elected to run as councillors at nomination on January 7th were the out going councillors, Messrs. Charpentier, Clency, Soules and the two new ones nominated were Messrs. Gravel and Ferland. The Mayor, Mr. John Kennedy, was re-elected by acclamation. At the close of the poll on Monday night the winners for councillors were Messrs. Charpentier, Ferland and Gravel.

Mr. A. Wescott, of Stanbridge East, with his motor hearse, accompanied by Mr. Joseph LaVoie, undertaker of this place, went to St. Johns on Saturday morning and got the body of the late Mrs. Rouel Bouchard and conveyed it to the home of her father at Notre Dame de Stanbridge. The late Mrs. Bouchard, who was only twenty-one, leaves her husband and a little boy and a host of relatives to mourn her loss. The sorrowing family have the sympathy of the entire community.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Kemp include Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Kemp, of Farnham; Mr. Fred Slack and Notry LaBau, of Montreal, and Miss Thelma Slack, of Farnham.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Duhamel are convalescing from an attack of la grippe.

The Committee Meets to Decide Mother's Fate

"We would be glad, of course, to have mother come and live with us," says one of the sons.

"But the trouble is our house is so small."

"We haven't a spare room," adds the daughter-in-law regretfully.

And so it goes. One after the other makes excuse. Each has his or her own problems, and responsibilities.

Widowed at 65, Mother's fate would have been vastly different had father left any estate, or adequate life insurance. Mother could have had a nice little monthly income of her own if father had planned right—an income guaranteed by the Mutual Life of Canada, and payable as long as she lived.

This Mutual Monthly Income policy is one every man with family responsibilities should seriously consider. Any Mutual Agent will be glad to tell you the advantages of this policy. Let us send you our folder, "The Greatest Thing in the World of Insurance."

OFFICIALS of the UNITED AMUSEMENT CORPORATION

Three officials of the United Amusement Corporation, owners of Sherbrooke's newest theatre, "The Granada," which will be formally opened tonight. They are: Left, Mr. George Nicholas, Managing Director; centre, Mr. Ernest Cousins, President; and right, Mr. Isidore Crepeau, Vice-President.

NEW THEATRE TO OPEN DOORS
THIS EVENING

Formal Opening of Granada Theatre Promises to Be Outstanding Event in Theatrical Life of Sherbrooke—Many Prominent People Will Attend.

At eight-fifteen o'clock this evening the portals of the Granada Theatre will be formally thrown open to the general public of Sherbrooke, and the city's newest and beautiful theatre will begin its existence among the people of Sherbrooke.

The officials of the United Amusement Company, who are owners of this new movie house, have arranged a special formal opening to mark their coming to Sherbrooke and every indication is that Friday, January 18th, 1929, will remain an outstanding date in the annals of Sherbrooke's theatrical activities. A large number of invitations have been extended to prominent ladies and gentlemen of the city, while many outstanding theatrical people from Montreal and other points will also attend tonight's event.

Among the company's officials who will attend the opening are Messrs. Ernest Cousins, president of the United Amusement Company; Isidore Crepeau, vice-president; Edward F. McMahon, secretary-treasurer, and P. G. Demetre, director. The out-of-town guests comprise among others, Messrs. Harry Dahn, manager of the Capitol Theatre; Tom Conway, manager of the Orpheum Theatre; J. H. Adams, manager of Loew's Theatre; and George Rotake, manager of the Palace Theatre, all of Montreal; E. English and T. Dowbiggin, Paramount Pictures; Maurice Davis, Ben Kaufman, Arthur Laurette and J. Macklin, from the Regal Film Company; Al Jeffries, United Artists; Frank Leduc and William Elman, Universal Films; Jules Levine, Columbia Pictures; E. Wells, president of the Montreal Film Board of Trade and representing the Film Booking Offices of America; James Gorman, First National Pictures; H. Bailey, W. J. O'Hara and J. F. Pearson, Fox Film Corporation; C. R. Osborne, Warner Brothers; Wilton Spencer, director of publicity for the Capitol Theatre, Montreal; N. C. Hennessey, assistant general manager of "La Presse" Publishing Company; Arthur Moisan, proprietor of the Victoria and Carlor Theatres, Quebec City; B. Burke, of the Burke Theatrical Supply Company; N. Lazarus, owner of the Napoleon and Lord Nelson Theatres, and J. H. Smythe, of the Regal Theatre.

New Theatre is Magnificently Furnished.

The Granada Theatre, which is indeed one of the finest theatres in Canada, is a very valuable asset to the City of Sherbrooke and can be truly described as the very finest in the theatre. The exterior of the building is a wonderful addition to the buildings of Wellington Street, and a building which the people of Sherbrooke can point to with pride and satisfaction.

So far as the interior is concerned no better idea can be secured than by a personal visit.

From the moment one passes through the main doors until the theatre proper has been reached the eye sees nothing but what is beautiful. Passing through a bright lobby, where the ticket booth is situated, the visitor goes through a second set of doors and then enters upon the main entrance of the theatre itself. Here the spirit of old Spain prevails, and throughout the entire building the same tone is closely carried out.

The entire building cost between $250,000 and $300,000 and has a seating capacity of 1,700. It is truly a Sherbrooke theatre for the construction work was in the hands of the Newton Construction Company, while the workmen were all Sherbrooke residents. The architect was Mr. D. Creighton, of Montreal, and the artist responsible for the very beautiful hand painting decorations which grace the interior was Mr. Emmanuel Briffa, also of Montreal. The entire furnishings are of antique Spanish design which is carried out in wonderful effect.

Elaborate heavy antique Spanish furnishings grace the entrance, while here and there at regular intervals are dignified and impressive pieces of art. Two very effective fountains also stand near the entrance, while gold fish and numerous pretty bird cages with singing birds add much to the general appearance of this section.

This quiet atmosphere of the theatre itself is very inviting and every detail for beauty and comfort has been given careful attention. The body of the theatre and balcony is arranged with very comfortable seats, while the walls are very tastefully decorated with beautiful hand painted scenes and specially effective lighting effect. While the interior decoration is very elaborate it is not in any way overdone, but everything blends in perfect harmony, combining to make a very modern and beautiful theatre, which is also thoroughly fire-proof throughout. The stage decorations are perfect, while one of the outstanding features of the theatre is the specially arranged ceiling with its moving clouds effect. Special attention has also been given to the matter of ventilation and heating.

Inaugural Programme.

The programme arranged for the formal opening will be as follows: "O Canada", by the Granada Augmented Orchestra, with Mr. Gaston Jutra conducting; inaugural remarks by His Worship Mayor J. S. Tetreault; Granada Weekly, showing pictures of Sherbrooke; "We Faw Down", a Metro comedy special, featuring Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy; "When Dreams Come" (Continued on page 5)

NEW THEATRE TO OPEN DOORS THIS EVENING

True, a color classic; a special stage attraction, featuring The Granadians, presented by Gordon Dahn in "Melody Days", a pot Pourri of music, song dance, assisted by Suzanne Alain and Al Edwards, with the guest conductor, Mr. Maurice Meerte, of the Capitol Theatre, Montreal. The feature play-offering will be "Alias Jimmy Valentine", starring William Haynes with Lionel Barrymore, Leila Hyams and other well-known stars. The programme will be concluded with the exit march played by the Granada Augmented Orchestra.

Programme Policy.
The officials of the company have announced that their policy will comprise three changes of programme weekly, the changes being made on Sundays, Tuesdays and Fridays, with special vaudeville attractions on Fridays and Saturdays. Within three weeks' time the theatre will be supplied with its new sound equipment, costing about $25,000, after which the theatre goes of Sherbrooke "talkie" pictures. The prices are announced as matinee, twenty-five cents; evening, balcony, twenty-five cents; orchestra, thirty-five cents and boxes, forty-five cents. On Sundays the prices will be five cents higher.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Sherbrooke Troop Held Meeting
The 5th Troop held its weekly meeting last evening in St. Peter's Church Hall. The meeting was in charge of A.S.M. Barlow, as S.M. C. Price is confined to his home with an injured foot. The programme opened with flag break and roll call, followed by a lively game. The instruction periods were in the hands of A.S.M. C. Barlow, who instructed a group in signalling, while Instructor Loughheed gave the boys some pointers on fire-lighting by friction. Another game was played and the meeting closed with the troop in horseshoe formation and flag lowering and prayer.
A short session of the court of honor of the troop was held following the meeting. A large turnout is looked forward to for next week, as there are some important items to be announced in which all are interested.

MR. EDWARD COUNTER PASSED AWAY THIS MORNING

There passed into rest early this morning a well-known resident of this city in the person of Mr. Edward Counter, whose death occurred at his home, King Street, following a month's illness.

The late Mr. Counter had been an employee of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company for many years. He leaves a wife, one daughter and one granddaughter.

TWO FIRE CALLS EARLY TODAY

At 6.15 this morning the fire department received a call for a fire on St. Martin Street. On the arrival of the department a search was made of every house on the street, but no trace of a fire of any sort could be found. A call was received shortly after seven o'clock this morning for a chimney fire at the corner of Galt and St. Pierre streets, in the property of Mr. Y. Hebert, occupied by himself and tenants. Slight damage was done.

BANK CLEARING FIGURES SHOW INCREASE

The bank clearings for the week ending Thursday, January 17th, according to figures furnished by the Sherbrooke Clearing House, amounted to $226,591.58, which is an increase of $50,786.41 over the same period last year, when the clearings totalled $175,805.17. An increase of $28,785.09 is also shown for the past week as compared with the corresponding week in 1927 when the figures given were $197,099.89.

DANGEROUS SITUATION AT FRONTENAC STREET CORNER

Since the lower section of Frontenac street, opposite the Griffith property, has been widened, a rather serious situation has developed in connection with the street car stop, which is situated just a short distance from the corner on Frontenac street.

This being one of the official stops for tram cars, pedestrians are sometimes likely to forget about autos coming around the corner from Marquette street, while auto drivers are also inclined to take this corner at a fast rate of speed.

It is felt by many that something should be done. Either a police officer should be placed on duty at this intersection, or else the street car company should alter their stopping place.

PASSENGER AGENTS MET AT QUEBEC

A meeting of the New England Summer Tourist Rates Committee was held in the Chateau Frontenac at Quebec on January 16th and 17th. Delegates were present from Boston, New Haven, Portland and other New England points, as well as Halifax, etc. A large number of these were the guests of the Quebec Central Railway, leaving Sherbrooke on Tuesday morning, and returning last night. Through the courtesy of the Quebec Railway, Light and Power Company, all were given the opportunity of visiting the new church at Ste. Anne de Beaupre.

This meeting was held for the purpose of showing the passenger agents of the various New England Railways the attractions of the Central Quebec district.

REV. COLL GAVE ADDRESS AT Y'S MEN'S CLUB

"The Place of a Man" was interestingly portrayed last night at the Y's Men's Club by Rev. Norman Coll as he spoke to the club members. It was an exceedingly impressive address and was very much appreciated by all present.

During the course of the evening at a business session the club members expressed appreciation of the programme of the Y. M. C. A. Religious Work Committee in having organized the McGill Extension course to consist of six lectures by the Sociological Department of

TAXI RAN AWAY ON KING HILL LAST EVENING

Started from Central School and Ran into Grand Union Hotel—Broke Big Window—Second Case of Similar Nature Within Year.

The slippery streets last night caused an accident that might have had serious results. A taxi belonging to the Leblond Company was standing at their station at the corner of King and St. Edward Streets, when it started to slip, gaining momentum steadily and swerving from left to right as it proceeded down the street. Finally it crossed the sidewalk in front of the Grand Union Hotel and smashed one of the plate glass windows. The car was slightly damaged, but no one was hurt.

This is the second accident of a like nature to take place in the neighborhood in the last year, as a Ford ran away some months ago, and after following a similar course landed into Ledoux and Pelletier's store, breaking two of the big show windows.

McGill University. These lectures are to be given on Sunday afternoons at 3.30 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. Out of a series of ten, the first two have been chosen for Sherbrooke.

1. "Modern children and old fashioned parents"; 2. "The juvenile delinquent. How did he become delinquent and what shall we do with him?"; 3. "Casual charity versus organized social work"; 4. "Poverty, personal or community failure?"; 5. "The Canadian Family"; and 6. "The Church in the changing community".

This series will be handled by the Sociological Department of McGill University, and is operated through the McGill Extra-Mural Department, under Col. Bovey. The majority of the members agreed to give their heartiest support, and it is expected that this will be both a very interesting and instructive course.

B'NAI B'RITH INSTALLED OFFICERS

Deputy Past President Horace Cohen and Past President Lionel Coviensky, of Mount Royal Lodge, Montreal, installed the officers of Sherbrooke Lodge, No. 1070, Independent Order B'Nai B'Rith, assisted by Past President Samuel Smith, at the local lodge on Wednesday evening.

The officers installed were: Messrs. Abraham Smith, president; Sol Niloff, vice-president; I. Malkinson, monitor; Abraham Gillman, treasurer; Joseph Schwartz, secretary; Manuel Smith, assistant monitor; Lewis I. Rosenbloom, warden; Bernard Cutler, guardian; and Sam Weinstein, M. Eichenberg and Louis H. Bernstein, trustees.

During the evening Messrs. Cohen and Coviensky spoke at some length on the charitable work of the Order. Among the subjects touched upon was the camp maintained by the Mount Royal Lodge, Montreal, in the Laurentians, at which 905 poor Jewish boys were given a two weeks' holiday during the past summer.

HENAIR GIVEN PENITENTIARY TERM BY JUDGE

Stanley Henair Sentenced to Two Years for Theft by Judge Lemay in the Magistrate's Court This Morning.

A two year penitentiary sentence was given Stanley Henair, of this city, by Judge J. H. Lemay in the Magistrate's Court this morning. Henair had pleaded guilty on Wednesday last to two charges of theft.

In sentencing the young man, Judge Lemay remarked that it was the fourth time the accused had been before him, the majority of the former cases being for charges of a similar nature. The Magistrate added that he was sentencing the prisoner to a penitentiary term for his own good, as it would take him away from his surroundings and bad company, and that during the ensuing term he would be able to break away from all the contacts in this city that had proved disastrous to him.

Henair was sentenced to two years for each charge, sentences of which are to run concurrently.

ASCOT WOMEN'S INSTITUTE HELD MEETING

The regular meeting of the Ascot Women's Institute, held at Willowdale Farm on Thursday, was very successful in spite of the inclemency of the weather.

Reports of the Christmas tree and other activities were given by various conveners. These showed that a most successful community tree had been held at the school where twenty-three "new Canadians" had received presents; boxes had been sent to ten shut-ins, and another family where there was sickness; also a number of useful presents were given to needy children and several cards had been sent.

Mrs. McClary gave a report of the Short Course banquet, but a full account was impossible until all bills were paid. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the conveners and committee. Correspondence included many letters of thanks to the Institute. The roll call was answered by "The Christmas Present I Liked Best" brought a variety of answers.

Plans were made for the purchase of more W.I. equipment and the matter was left in the hands of Mrs. Dawson and Mrs. Woodside. Report of social service work was given by Mrs. Pearson and other

DATES DECIDED ON FOR WINTER CARNIVAL HERE

Decided to Hold Carnival on February 7, 8, 9—Committees Appointed to Complete Arrangements.

A meeting of the Sherbrooke Winter Sports committee was held in the City Hall last night, with representatives of the various sporting organizations in the city present. After the reading of the minutes, the question as to the date of the carnival was brought up, and the dates, February 7, 8 and 9 were decided on as the most suitable. The meeting then proceeded to the election of committees, which were named as follows:

General committee: presidents of the snowshoe clubs, of the Board of Trade, Curling Club, Rotary Club and the manager of the Arena.

Finance committee: Messrs. J. W. McKee, A. Desrocy, A. St. Pierre, E. J. Page and J. A. Moreau.

Race committee: the captain of each club with a representative of the skiers.

Messrs. Bartlett and Rioux were named joint secretaries.

Mr. Van Roden introduced the matter of the reception for the dog-team on Monday, and Mr. Gervais offered the St. Francois club house for this purpose. When more complete information is received, final arrangements will be made for the welcome.

All further arrangements for the carnival will be left in the hands of the committee, with authority to call a general meeting at any time.

Plans made in that department. Plans were also made concerning the February meeting.

After the adjournment a baked bean supper was served by the hostesses, Mrs. J. A. Beattie, Mrs. Byrne and Mrs. V. E. Beattie. They were assisted in serving by Mrs. Stevenson, Mrs. John Beattie and Miss Norma Beattie.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. McClary when the roll

MILD WEATHER AGAIN CAUSES DISCOMFORT

Mercury Rises Fifty-Two Degrees in a Little Over Twenty-Four Hours—Snowfall of Yesterday Has Disappeared, Leaving Roads and Streets in Bad Condition.

"What next?" is the general query this morning as to weather doings. Skies are dull, streets are slippery and people somewhat depressed. Yesterday's snow fall was greeted with much satisfaction, but when rain began to fall during the late afternoon travel became dangerous. A thin coating of ice formed on the snow, but later this turned to slush, and rain continued during the night.

The change in temperature has been remarkable. The readings at the Experimental Station show that at six o'clock Wednesday evening the mercury stood at ten below, and at the same hour last evening thirty above. This morning it had risen to forty-two above, and with little indications of anything else but rain.

Speaking with those who are connected with the winter activities, such as lumbering, wood-cutting, ice-cutting and sports, a pessimistic tone is noted. The winter is advancing and all these enterprises are at a standstill. A business man mentioned yesterday that in one luncheon section they were ready to commence work the last week in November, but so far no work had been done.

Train service was somewhat affected by the sudden change in weather conditions, while in the city street cars, motors and other vehicles had their difficulties, and pedestrians were still more handicapped.

call will be "What I Would Like On Next Year's Programme." A contest in making mutton holes will be held. There will also be a paper read and if possible an out of town speaker.

INEXPENSIVE READING

A novel method of demonstrating to the public the great amount of reading matter that is being furnished by the newspapers daily has been adopted by the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin. This journal has printed in book form the contents, except advertisements, of a single issue which consisted of 192 columns of news and general reading matter, and the result is a volume of 307 pages.

This demonstrates that for a couple of cents a newspaper subscriber is able to secure reading material sufficient to fill a book of average size.

CATTLE HOLDINGS

It is interesting to note that while Canada only ranks twelfth in cattle holdings among the countries of the world, the Dominion is exceeded in meat consumption only by Argentina, New Zealand and Australia, the per capita consumption of these countries being respectively 346.5 lbs., 311.6 lbs. and 227.2 lbs. against Canada's 156.3 lbs. Following come the United Kingdom 127.2 lbs., France 115.0 lbs., Germany 104.2 lbs., Denmark 100.9 lbs., and Belgium 71.1 lbs. Canada's per capita meat consumption is made up of 68.8 lbs. of beef, having increased to this from 60.9 in 1910; 81.4 lbs. of pork against 66.7 lbs. in 1910; 6.1 lbs. of mutton and lamb, as compared with 8.7 lbs. in 1910; the total of 156.3 lbs. comparing the 136.3 lbs. in the former year.

There are eight countries with more swine than Canada, and apparently twenty with more sheep and lambs.

ELIMINATING DISTANCE

The airplane and the airship, entering into an alliance with the cable, the telephone and the wireless, can almost eliminate distance from the forces that now impede the course of Imperial unity. Such is the opinion of Sir Samuel Hoare, British Secretary of State for Air, in reviewing the headway made in aviation in Great Britain. "In this fight with distance we have been advancing along four lines," said Sir Samuel. "We have been carrying out a series of pioneer Empire flights by the Royal Air Force for the purpose of creating and organizing long-distance air routes. Secondly, we are attempting to prove that commercial air service can be flown safely and punctually, and can eventually become self-supporting and independent of Government subsidies. Thirdly, we have been engaged upon the protracted and difficult enterprise of designing new types of airship for long-distance and non-stop flying services. Fourthly, we have been trying to stimulate an interest in the possibility of flying and to encourage, wherever we can, the use of the air lane for civilizing and not destructive purposes.

"The pioneer flights of the Royal Air Force are not stunt flights. They are carried out by the ordinary personnel of the squadrons as a part of their regular training. The units fly in formation and to a regular programme and time table. We have now had a number of flights from one end of Africa to the other, and at the moment all the flying boats, having flown 24,000 miles across sea and land—they traversed the desert from Alexandria to Basra—are now spending a year and a half in the Far East to gain experience of tropical conditions and possible flying boat routes of the future. These flights, apart from their obvious service and technical uses, have been of inestimable value in showing the flag to remote parts of the Empire.

"As to the formation of commercial air services that will fly punctually and safely from one end of the Empire to the other, up to now it has been a period of careful experiment. We have had to prove to the world that air travel can be made safe and that time-tables can be kept. I am glad to say that we have succeeded. The Imperial Airways Company has proved the safety and regularity of air travel and the data that we have accumulated during the existence of the company goes to show that we are within a measurable distance of making commercial flying self-supporting and independent of subsidies."

This review demonstrates quite plainly that Britain is not lagging behind in aviation development.

MARRIAGE

The value of a law is best determined by those who abide by it and not by the law breakers.

Prohibition may be a good or a bad thing, but we don't care for the testimony of convicted bootleggers or bankrupt distillers.

We have heard from many critics what is the matter with our marriage institution.

The trouble is that thousands who have tried it and succeeded are not vocal. Most of the yelping comes from the failures.

In the rotogravure section of a New York paper there appeared some time ago an interesting picture.

It showed a white-haired couple sitting under a reading lamp in the library of their home in Stockholm, Sweden. The man was a brother to the Swedish king.

Forty years ago he had fallen in love with one of his mother's ladies in waiting.

He had renounced his title and married her. And for forty years their romance had lasted and they had been happy.

Few finer things appear in the daily news. Few things, in this imperfect world, can equal a long and happy married life as an example of mutual unselfishness and concession. Says the speaker in Edward Carpenter's "Philolaus to Diocles":

"All the sweet noons and moons we have spent together;
All the glad interchange of laughter and love.

And thoughts so grave or fanciful
What can compare with these, or what surpass them?

All the unbroken faith and steadfast reliance—
Nigh twenty years twining the roots of life far down;

And not a mistrustful hour between us—
Or moment of anger:
What can surpass all this, or what compare?"

The greatest "success story" in the world is the story of a successful marriage.

Each married couple has to steer its own course and all honor is due those who arrive safely in port.

"There are millions of happily-mated couples," says Dorsey in his volume, "Why We Be Like Human Beings," "who find no fault with Nature's marriage laws or those recorded in codes."

"We hear only of the unadjusted. Marriage itself is no more responsible for such a than is business for arson or banking for defalcation."—Cpt. 1929.

PRESS COMMENT

PROGRESS OF MUSIC IN JAPAN.

(Christian Science Monitor)

Music has made far greater progress in Japan than painting, sculpture or any other of the arts of the Western world. This Japan today is one of the world's best markets for gramophone records, while a number of the world's outstanding artists perform before full houses in Tokyo, Osaka and other Japanese cities at prices which would be impossible in most American cities. Moreover, it is no uncommon thing, when tramping through the countryside far removed from the ports and cities of the Empire, to hear the strains of opera or of some popular song floating out across the rice paddies. The radio, which has met with a great success in the Far East, furnishes Western music almost daily, and music of one sort or another occupies more than half of the programmes broadcast.

Not only, however, is this prevalence of Western music noticeable in Japan, but also an understanding and appreciation of it is gaining ground. For instance, Tokyo now possesses three symphony orchestras with subscription concerts each season. Also, during the warm weather, concerts or recitals are given almost every night in one of the downtown parks, and the people flock to them in thousands.

Japan's eager and intelligent acceptance of Western music is bringing about development of importance in its art. Japanese music as such consists of a simple melody and intricate rhythms. There is no harmony in it as that word is understood in the West, but it is becoming recognized that the best of Japanese music has something of importance to contribute to the world, although it must be reshaped and harmonized before the world will accept or understand it. This process of reshaping is well under way, many Japanese songs having been orchestrated in the Western fashion so that they retain their Japanese melody and as much of their Japanese rhythm as is compatible with the elimination of discord. In other cases Western musicians have made a study of Japanese music and have then composed original scores based in a general way on the result of their studies.

Social and Personal

The engagement has been announced of Mr. Chester Charles Parsons, of Norwood, Mass., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Parsons, of Sherbrooke, Que., to Miss Vera Johnson, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Johnson, of Norwood, Mass. The marriage to take place the latter part of January.

Mrs. J. H. Shearn and Mrs. T. Elliott have received word of the death of their aunt Mrs. E. F. Major, at her home in Ottawa, Ont. Much sympathy is felt for the family, as the death occurred only three months ago of Mr. Major. The late Mr. and Mrs. Major were former residents of this city, but had made their home at Ottawa for the past number of years.

The Mothers' Auxiliary of the Fourth Troop Boy Scouts was pleasantly entertained at the home of Mrs. C. G. Bradford, Island Street, on Wednesday evening. After a brief business meeting cards were played at five tables. The prizes were won by Mrs. Patton, Mrs. O. Williams and Mrs. S. Hansford. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss P. Russell.

The Women's Association of Plymouth Church met yesterday afternoon in the church hall with a fairly good attendance of members. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Z. Griffith, the meeting was conducted by Mrs. J. A. McLean, and during business routine final arrangements were made for the parish supper to be held on January 24th. A social hour was enjoyed by the members while tea was served.

The Brompton Road Women's Institute held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Keith Moe on Wednesday afternoon with a good attendance of members and several visitors present. After the usual business matters had received attention, a social hour was spent. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Reba Hatch and Mrs. Gordon MacElnae.

The Women's Missionary Society of Trinity United Church met yesterday with Mrs. George Hall, Cliff Road. The president, Miss Van Vleet, conducted the meeting, which was opened with devotional exercises, and an interesting paper on Stewardship was read by Mrs. E. G. Pierce. Mrs. Mackie Fuller read the chapter in the study book and discussion followed. Mrs. Hall read a letter received from Dr. Murray, a medical missionary in Corea, that was filled with interesting news to the members of the society. A social hour was enjoyed, during which dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, with Mrs. R. I. Dean and Mrs. Richardson assisting.

The Guild of St. Patrick's Church held its weekly card party yesterday afternoon. Both bridge and "500" were played, the prizes in bridge being won by Mrs. J. L. Pinard and Mrs. A. E. Salois. In "500" they were won by Mrs. D. Bellavance and Mrs. J. H. Butts. The tea table was arranged with red tulips in silver baskets and red lighted candles. Tea was poured by Mrs. M. J. Powers and Mrs. James McGivney. The hostesses were Mrs. R. J. Miller, Mrs. J. G. Hawkins, Miss A. McGivney and Miss A. C. Murray. The annual meeting of the Guild was held recently, when the following officers were elected for the new year: Mrs. R. J. Miller, president; Mrs. J. G. Hawkins, 1st vice; Miss A. McGivney, 2nd vice; Miss A. C. Murray, secretary-treasurer. The reports of the various committees were read and proved very satisfactory. A vote of condolence was taken on the death of Mrs. Branswell, who had been a devoted member of the Guild for a number of years.

CITY BRIEFLETS

LOCAL MAN WINS CONTEST.
Mr. R. G. Price, of 123 King St. West, won the contest for the pen of Barred Rocks, consisting of a male and four females, at the Poultry Show yesterday.

"LADIES' NIGHT" AT SNOW-SHOES.
Tomorrow is "Ladies' Night" at the Sherbrooke Snowshoe Club. The programme will commence at four o'clock. Supper will be served around six-thirty o'clock, while a general programme has been arranged for the evening. This meeting is open to members only, and their wives or lady friends.

HIGH CONSTABLE L. A. GAUDREAU HONORED.
Mr. L. A. Gaudreau, of this city, high constable of the District of St. Francis, was elected president of the Association of High Constables for Eastern Quebec at the annual convention recently held in Montreal.

At the convention were high constables from St. John, Sherbrooke, Bedford, Valleyfield, St. Hyacinthe and Sherbrooke.

WATER CAUSED DAMAGE AT COURT HOUSE.
The heavy rain last night was responsible for considerable damage at the Court House. The section of the roof of the building which is being repaired was apparently not sufficiently strong to support the heavy rain, with the result that the water leaked through and made its way down through three stories, causing considerable damage to the plaster.

This morning the court officials had to give their attention to the mopping up of the water and repairing, so far as possible, the damage which had been caused.

Mr. G. M. Baird, of Montreal, is spending a few days in town on business.

A meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., will be held in the "Y" on Tuesday afternoon, January 22d, at 3:30 o'clock.

Mr. S. A. McVetty, Woodward Avenue, was called to Pennacook, N. H., yesterday, owing to the death of his brother, Mr. George E. McVetty of that place.

Mrs. Bertha Price was in Montreal yesterday on business connected with the biographical publication, "Women of Canada," for which she is Eastern Townships representative.

After the meeting of the club last night a number of the Y's Men and their friends had a skating party at the Arena, after which the party returned to the "Y," and had a pleasing social time with refreshments.

On Wednesday, January 16th, at a meeting of the 1929 Council of Optometrists held at the College of Optometry in Montreal, Mr. J. C. McConell, optometrist of Sherbrooke, was re-elected president; Mr. Alfred Mignot, vice-president; Mr. Narcisse Beaudry, treasurer; and Mr. M. R. de Mele, secretary for the coming year.

A successful card party was given last evening by the Knights of Columbus in their hall, Gordon Street. Bridge and "500" were played, and the prizes awarded as follows: In bridge, Mrs. E. W. DeSeve and Mr. C. S. Millette, and in "500" Mrs. J. R. Roy and Mr. Adolphe Kaspar. The attendance was good and the social evening much enjoyed.

Mr. E. M. Greene, of East Sherbrooke, who retired at the beginning of the year from active service with the Quebec Central Railway Company, was made a presentation recently of three fine pieces of furniture from the firemen, engineers and men of the Newington Shops. Mr. Greene has been with the company for forty-six years, and the presentation was a tangible expression from his fellow-workmen.

The meeting of King George V Chapter, I. O. D. E., held yesterday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Andrew Steele, Dufferin Avenue, was well attended. The Regent, Mrs. S. A. Jones, conducted the meeting, and during business routine plans for an entertainment in the near future were discussed. Nomination of officers for the ensuing year took place, and election of same will be made at the next meeting. During the social hour delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Mary Wilson.

The 53rd Chapter, I. O. D. E., held its regular weekly meeting last evening at the home of the regent, Mrs. T. A. Loughheed, with a good attendance of members and one new member welcomed. The regent conducted the opening exercises, and during business routine arrangements were made for a card party to be held on Tuesday evening, January 29th. The layette to be donated at a later date to the Red Cross Society was completed, and the sum of fifteen dollars was contributed by the Chapter to the Child Welfare Clinic. The rug which was sold by card was won by Mrs. T. A. Loughheed. It was decided that the next meeting would be held at the home of Mrs. A. Jobell, 58a Court street, on Thursday afternoon next. A social half hour was spent, during which dainty refreshments were served by the hostess for the evening, Mrs. G. Bryant, with Mrs. W. Joiner and Mrs. R. M. Loughheed assisting.

INTERESTING CASE BEFORE JUDGE WHITE

Case of Olivier Villeneuve vs. Arthur O. Labree Heard in Superior Court Yesterday—Is in Connection With Road Across Property of Plaintiff—Was Taken on Delibere.

The case of Olivier Villeneuve vs. Arthur O. Labree, both of Beebe, was taken on delibere by Mr. Justice C. D. White in the Superior Court yesterday afternoon. The case is in connection with a road across land owned by Villeneuve on which it was claimed Labree used despite a warning to the contrary by the plaintiff.

It appears that the plaintiff and defendant own adjoining properties at Beebe. Across Villeneuve's land a path or road leading to the main highway, Villeneuve decided that he did not want this road used and put up a sign to that effect. The defendant, however, it is claimed, did not take any notice of the sign and continued to use the path with the result that an action was taken out against him. Labree, in his plea, stated that there has been a path across the land for over thirty years and that for the past twenty the municipality had maintained it. He further claimed that both himself and the plaintiff have in the past received money from the municipality for working on that certain stretch of road and therefore, in his opinion, the path is public property. At the conclusion of the hearing the case was taken on delibere by His Lordship.

LENNOXVILLE NOMINATIONS NEXT MONDAY

Council Nominations Take Place on Monday, January 21—Women's Institute Meets—Discussion on Child Labor.

On Monday, January 21st, nominations of aldermen for the town council will take place in the town hall, between the hours of noon and two o'clock. Should the results necessitate the holding of an election, this will take place on February 6, from seven o'clock a.m. until five p.m. It is understood that this is the year when the entire board completes its term of office, and will have to be re-elected or new men selected to fill the council board.

Women's Institute Meets.
The monthly meeting of the Lennoxville branch of the Women's Institute was held yesterday afternoon. In spite of the snow storm the attendance was good, and a good deal of routine business was transacted. A committee was named to make necessary arrangements for the demonstration annually given by instructors from Macdonald College. Congratulations were expressed to Mrs. John Manes, who won the cup for another year in the women's exhibit in cooking and sewing held in connection with the annual short course in agriculture and household science. Mrs. Manes was the winner of the cup last year also.

The programme was on the subject of "the child labor laws of Canada" and was taken by Mrs. E. L. Atto. Although Canada is still a young country, it was pointed out that already child labor with all its sinister accompaniments is becoming a menacing problem. An unholy alliance existed between unemployment, low wages, long hours, child labor and illiteracy. The beginnings of these evils were apparent in Canada, and wide-awake citizens were making attempts to check them, by minimum wage legislation, factories, acts and conferences to deal with the unemployment problem.

Various laws had been enacted, it was stated, by the different provinces, but these had little co-relation with each other, having the appearance of being passed to remedy some particular grievance and had relaxed as soon as their task was ended.

Seven years ago the League of Nations agreed upon certain international standards, but Canada could not see her way clear to accept them, until each province had considered and legislated upon them. As this has taken a long time, Canada, while having standards as high, or even higher, than those outlined by the League committee, yet lacks concerted action and thus is at a disadvantage.

A synopsis of the proposed international legislation was given. In this the minimum age for admission of children to industrial employment was fourteen years; night work was prohibited for all persons under eighteen; agricultural employment for children under fourteen prohibited during school hours; compulsory medical examination every year for all under eighteen in certain employment.

The tests of child labor laws should be: That no employment should impair the child's health or vigor, interfere with the education he should receive to fit him for life or unfit him as an efficient worker. The necessity of not only preventing unwise employment, but of providing preparation for the life's work, whatever it might be, was urged. The vital necessity of every province in the Dominion, and of the Dominion, in international relationships, playing their part in this vital matter was brought vividly before the meeting.

The hostesses for the afternoon, Mrs. J. T. Harrison, Mrs. Atto and Mrs. McCurdy, served afternoon tea at the tea hour.

Ladies' Aid Met

At the monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the United Church held on Wednesday afternoon in Douglas Hall, plans were outlined for the work of the year. The officers, recently elected, were hostesses for the tea which followed the business meeting. These were Mrs. J. A. Seale, Miss Dods, Mrs. H. P. White, Mrs. W. J. Lane and Mrs. H. W. S. Downs.

paper companies in Quebec so as to be a state within a state, declared Mr. Houde, in his view of the newspaper situation. "The Prime Minister smiles, but perhaps he does not do so when he meets Mr. Graustein in New York. The Prime Minister is obliged to go very humbly before Mr. Graustein as a supplicant, and ask him to give way. Is that not a state within a state?"

What of the remedy, asked the Deputy for St. Mary's, he believed there was a means of escape, and in be a generally held idea that dog team drivers are men who have reached their fifties. The drivers of this dog team, however, who are three brothers, are all under thirty years of age. They are making the trip, as far as they are concerned, for what sport and adventure they can get out of it. It is being financed wholly by themselves, and they emphatically denied that any person or organization was backing it financially.

Since leaving Lewiston on December 20th, the team has been on the trail a month, lacking two days. They plan to be two weeks more en route.

The "beauty diet" that made her ugly

SHE was one girl who was going to stay attractive—so she watched her "beauty diet." But, all the time, she was missing something every diet should have. In the dishes she so carefully selected there was scarcely any roughage. Constipation gained a foothold. Soon, her charm, her strength—the very youth she thought to protect—were paying the price!

Thousands of women and men are paying the price of soft, fibreless meals. Many are dieting—and yet they defeat their own purposes because constipation continues to poison the system. No other evil is more widespread. It may start with aching heads and blushed cheeks. It often ends with serious trouble and disease.

And more's the pity when it can be so easily prevented by means of a simple cereal. So quickly relieved. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to bring sure relief... safe prevention!

WHAT IS PROTEIN?

Protein is that part of feed which contains nitrogen. Lean meat is almost entirely "protein." To the Dairy Cow, it is that part of the feed which is used for body growth, repair of the body tissues and to nourish the unborn calf. A certain amount is also absolutely necessary as an ingredient of MILK.

No other nutrient can take the place of "protein" in the meal ration. An animal can store up in its system a reserve of any food or mineral nutrients until required—excepting "protein." Protein is therefore a very important part of the day's ration. A shortage of "protein" is generally the cause of an unsatisfactory dairy ration.

UNION DAIRY FEED is guaranteed to contain 22% of "protein," as well as the correct percentages of other food and mineral nutrients.

Married Quarters

by DAVID LYALL

"Oh, my dear, to have loved like that makes the whole of life worth while. Regret nothing, don't fret, you've had your hour!"

The passion with which the elder woman spoke awoke a somewhat pained echo in Ruth's heart.

"It was such a little hour," she faltered. "It is because I can't bear it—I must get back to where—" where—other hearts are bruised and sad, where somebody needs me. They don't understand here, Aunt Victoria. Oh, I wish you could help them to!"

"My dear, I'd be worse than useless. You see, I'm in disgrace; but honestly I couldn't help this affair of Poppy's. The man—me as others have come; we get love affairs among them at every stage; few of them are serious. This happens to be the exception, that's all. And he was worth a girl's sacrifice."

"Then I'm sorry for him. I'm afraid Aunt Victoria, Poppy won't stand up to it. She's a perfect darling, and she's been the one gleam of sunshine for me since Bea's death, but she hasn't got depth, or realization of what life means. She's so ignorant of everything outside Cudham. I'm afraid of what she'll find up there in the North. It'll be the supreme test. If she loves enough she'll get through and come out on top."

"And if not?"

"If not, why, his heart will be broken, that's all—perhaps both their hearts."

It sounded like a solemn prophecy.

"Lady Augusta feels terribly" about it. Do you think she'll ever forgive them?"

The question did not appear to concern Ruth much.

"She must eventually, I should think, same as she did Bea and me. But that is a small matter compared to Poppy's adjustment to her new life. She's so young and careless and irresponsible. I'm afraid she's just taken this man's life in her hands as she has done so many toys, and after—"

"What?" asked Lady Stanton Pole anxiously, feeling that she was listening to the words of wise experience regarding a condition of things she could not visualise for herself.

Into Ruth's solemn eyes crept something sombre and prophetic. "After that—the judgment," was all she said.

CHAPTER XIV

On the second and fourth Thursdays in the month Mrs. Benjamin Cotman and the Misses Cotman were at home at Haddon Hall on the crest of Brantree Hill. When they lived at number twenty-three Chapel Street in the valley it had not been considered necessary to establish commerce with friends and relations on such a basis. People had dropped in, at Chapel Street at any hour, and in justice to Mrs. Cotman, it must be added, were made kindly welcome. There had been no such thing as afternoon tea, what they called in mingled scorn and amusement "handed teas" in Markyate.

People gathered comfortably round the table at the tea hour, and were not ashamed to make a meal of it, even consuming apple-pie and cheese as a relish, after copious doses of bread and butter. The Cotmans, like many other rising stars in the social firmament, began by turning their backs firmly on old-time social customs. They had been the six o'clock tea and now, dined at seven, waited on laboriously by a young house parlormaid not very adept at her duties, because the ladies of the house did not know enough themselves to teach her. They had few late dinners in their circle, and had not yet achieved acquaintance with them. In and about Markyate-at-Stone, as in other places, the tendency during the war was to simplify life rather than to elaborate it. Many of the people to whom late dinner was almost a sacred institution, the event of the day, surrounded by precedent and dignity, had voluntarily abandoned it for the period of the war, and were struggling even as the Cotmans were struggling to accommodate three. "I'd better look slippy, or they'll be here before we know where we are. I think everything looks very nice, and that cake-stand is the sweetest thing! Isn't it a mercy I had saved enough to pick up at Marshall's last time I was in Leeds?" They gathered round the four-tiered brass stand whereon rested four plates, each laden in its separate tier with dainties supposed to be the correct card for "at home" teas.

Jane, who had the artistic taste in the family, had sought to add to its beauty by two immense pink bows which had no appreciable connection with its object and mission in life. For the same reason she had pinned two sprouting pink bows obliquely on the corners of two big black satin cushions, easily the most artistic objects in the room, minus the bows.

their tastes and habits to a strange new regime.

"Do you think she'll come, Ma?" asked Jane Cotman as she surveyed the drawing-room about half-past two in the afternoon, after having arranged the painted cushions to the best advantage and turned the prettiest chairs to the full light.

"Yes, I think so; why not? Your Aunt Susan promised faithfully yesterday that she'd bring 'er, I hope she'll come because the Gells are, for certain. They've never been here yet, and Rachel Gell only promised, I'm sure, because I said it was a special occasion in honor of Jim's wife."

"I wonder whether we should introduce her as the Hon. Mrs. Bradford?" said Sylvia a trifle breathlessly. "That would make the Gells sit up, wouldn't it?"

"Yes, it would," said Jane. "Only we can't. I'm not quite certain, but I think if you're an Honourable, and marry a plain person, you drop the title. It would never do to give ourselves away."

"She hasn't begun to pay calls yet. Until we see her pastebored, we can't be sure. It wouldn't do to ask her, of course," said Sylvia. "It would betray our ignorance, as you say, Jane. Perhaps before we could get her in a quiet corner before the other people come and ask her. Aunt Susan promised to bring her early, didn't she, Ma?"

"What if she refused to come at the last minute?" suggested Jane blankly. "Rhoda seemed to think she must. Rhoda says you're never sure of her a single minute. She was perfectly happy, and willing to wipe the dishes for Aunt Susan, but she wouldn't go into the dining-room to be introduced to the Rector's wife."

"I don't blame her either, and if I'd been Aunt Susan I'd jolly well have shaved Mrs. Beauchamp to the door. Of course, it was nothing but Nousey Parker that took her. She never called on Aunt Susan in her life."

"Your Aunt Susan is an excellent woman," observed their mother with the air of a woman clinching the business. "But she has no dignity. If she had an ounce of ambition or pride, she'd have had Uncle Isaac out of that beastly house above the shop ages ago. They're really very well off. Dad says he believes Uncle Isaac has thousands in the bank."

NO CHANGES IN STANDINGS OF N. H. L. TEAMS

Americans and Maroons Played Scoreless Draw at Montreal Last Night, While Toronto-Canadian Contest at Queen City Also Ended in a Tie.

(Canadian Press Despatch)
MONTREAL, Que. Jan. 18.—The first four teams in the Canadian section of the National Hockey League indulged in draw games last night, and as a result, the divisional standings did not undergo any change. At Montreal, the divisional champions, the New York Americans, played to a scoreless draw with the third place Maroons, while at Toronto, the second place Canadians played a one-goal draw with the Leafs, who are in fourth place. The only other team in the section, the Ottawa Senators, who occupy last place, were idle.

The game at Montreal was another of those seventy-minute scoreless affairs, mostly actionless and devoid of much sustained action. The Maroons were the leaders in what offensive hockey that was shown, but they could not fathom the strong New York defence.

A Defensive Contest
The Canadian-Toronto game was also somewhat of a defensive contest, with the majority of shots on goal being from outside the two defenses. Both goals came in the second period, the Leafs scoring first when Cox picked up Day's rebound and slammed the disc past Hainsworth. Four minutes later, Sylvio Mantha, stellar Canuck defence man, got his fourth goal in as many games, when he wended his way on a neat solo rush in on top of Chabot.

The latter had no chance on the shot from close in. The game was the first professional appearance of Georges Mantha, brother of Sylvio, who was signed in Montreal late last night. The newcomer looked promising while he was on.

In the American section, the New York Rangers increased their lead at the top of the heap by scoring a one to nothing victory over Chicago at New York, while the divisional contenders, the Boston Bruins and Cougars, were battling to a one-goal draw at Detroit.

Bun Cook scored the lone goal of the New York-Chicago contest in the second period. The game marked the first appearance in competition this season of Herb Gardiner, veteran manager of the Hawks. He paired on the defence with Taylor.

At Detroit, Welland gave the Bruins a one-goal lead in the second period, but the veteran Reg Noble tied it up for the Cougars near the end of the third session. The Bruins were short-handed when the Cougars tied the score.

The standings to date are as follows:

MIDGET LEAGUE GAME YESTERDAY

The Lennoxville Blue Birds and St. Pats clashed in a Midget League fixture yesterday, at the St. Patrick's rink, with five to one. The line-up of the teams follows:

St. Pats—Bradley, Wilcox, McMahon, Leith, Hibbard, Courchesne, Mooney.

Bluebirds—Galvin, McVetty, Shand, Merae, Bradley, Price, Byrne.

MIDGET GAME TOMORROW

A scheduled fixture will be run off in the Midget Hockey League tomorrow afternoon, when the Black Hawks line up against Lennoxville, at the Arena at four o'clock. These teams have not met this season, but their record shows that they appear evenly matched and an interesting game is expected.

WELL-KNOWN MILE RUNNER DIES IN TORONTO

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 18.—W. H. Waring, well-known as a mile runner from 1911 to 1914, is dead here as a result of contracting influenza and pneumonia.

BISHOP'S SQUAD BADLY BEATEN BY PACIFICS

Pacifics Won Third Straight Game at Lennoxville Last Night by Count of 9 to 3—Bishop's Meets McGill Saturday.

The Pacifics won their third straight game of the Sherbrooke-Stanstead Hockey League at Lennoxville last night when they smothered the Bishop's University season hockey squad under a nine to three count in a ragged encounter staged on the purple and white rink. Loose hockey predominated, though occasional spurts of speed livened up what otherwise would have been an uninteresting encounter. Combination play was lacking on both sides, lone rushes being the order of the day. Blinco satred for the purple and white squad in offensive work, while Johnston put up a good game in the checking end. Mitchell and Wolfe did the majority of the spurring for the visitors.

The Pacifics jumped into the lead early in the game and held their advantage throughout. In the first frame the visitors counted up four tallies to the one obtained by the purple and white sextette, while in the second each team notched up a counter. In the final twenty minutes of play, however, the Pacifics staged a strong offensive that netted them four additional counters, while the home team had to be satisfied with one, to make the final reading Pacifics 9, Bishop's 3.

Pacifics Took Early Lead.
Three minutes of the first period had not been played when both teams counted up a tally, Johnston scoring for Bishop's and Mitchell for the Pacifics. The visitors staged an attack which resulted in Mitchell scoring two additional goals in quick succession and, in the final minutes of the frame, Pacifics made the score four to one when the rubber crossed the blue line at the Bishop's goal mouth during a scramble.

Each Team Scored One Counter.
The middle session saw the best hockey played. During the opening minutes the purple and white squad made a strong bid to cut down the Pacifics' lead, and Workman had his hands full for a time. A counter attack by the visitors, however, resulted in another tally for the Pacifics when Alexander drew Rattray to one side and clipped the rubber into the nets. Bishop's tallied near the end of the frame when Crawford drove a shot from wing that fooled Workman completely. Pacifics 5, Bishop's 2.

The Pacifics had matters all their own way in the final twenty minutes of play to allow Lepage, Alexander and Towne to notch up goals within a few minutes of each other. The purple and white team steadied down and staged a strong attack with the result that Johnston tallied what proved to be Bishop's final goal. A rush by O'Donnell resulted in the fast defence man sending the rubber past Rattray to make the final count Pacifics 9, Bishop's 3.

The Line-up:
Bishop's: Rattray goal; Workman; Dennison defense; Wolfe; Brown defense; Wilson; Johnston forward; Lepage; Blinco forward; Mitchell; Crawford forward; Edgecombe; Holman sub; O'Donnell; Skelton sub; Alexander; Puddington sub; Towne.

Referee, Mr. Leslie White.

McGill Here On Saturday.
This Saturday, on the College Rink, Bishop's meet McGill in a scheduled fixture of the Intermediate Intercollegiate Hockey League. The game, which should prove an interesting one, commences at eight p.m.

EMMANUEL DEFEATED DILLON (Associated Press Despatch.)
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan. 18.—Armand Emmanuel, San Francisco light-heavyweight, beat Harry Dillon, Winnipeg, in a ten round wind up fight here last night. The sharp shooting Coast fighter won easily, keeping Dillon away with a rapid fire left hand. Emmanuel weighed 181; Dillon 180.

RESULTS OF BOUTS LAST NIGHT

The results of the fights last night were as follows:
Davenport, Iowa—Otto Von Porat, knocked out Tom Sayers, Detroit, 3 rounds; Kayo White, New Orleans, outpointed Bennie "Kid" Stanley, Kansas City, 8 rounds; Young Terry, Davenport, outpointed Hennie North, Waterloo, 6 rounds; Jackie Decker, Moline, stopped Tommy O'Brien, Cedar Rapids, 5 rounds.

Minneapolis, Minn.—Armand Emmanuel, San Francisco, outpointed Harry Dillon, Winnipeg, 10 rounds; Roy Michaelson, Minneapolis, knocked out Red Carr, Winnipeg, 3 rounds; Jimmy Gibbons, St. Paul, outpointed Tommy Haval, Pine City, 5 rounds; Urban Liberty, Somerset, outpointed Eddie Nemo, Du-eth, 4 rounds.

ROSS AND GIROUX FOUGHT DRAW

(Associated Press Despatch)
WATERVILLE, Me., Jan. 18.—Art Giroux, of Montreal, who out-fought Frankie Genaro in Portland several months ago, was held to a draw here last night by Johnny Ross, of South Boston, in a rugged six round bout.

Giroux started fast, but could not maintain the lead. The South Boston lad landed a heavy left freely, opening a cut over Giroux's eye, which effectually slowed up the Montreal boxer in the latter rounds.

CURLING

CHICKEN PIE SUPPER AT CURLING CLUB GREAT SUCCESS

The chicken pie supper at the Curling Club last night was the scene of the best turnout for some time, over seventy-five sitting down to the repast provided by the caterer. The guests of the evening were Messrs. George Nicholas and William Lee, of the United Amusement Company, of Montreal.

At the close of the meal, the toast to the King was drunk, after which the president, Mr. J. R. Sangster, called upon Mr. Nicholas to address the assembly. Mr. Nicholas spoke briefly of the confidence of his company in the future of Sherbrooke, and outlined the policy of the organization. He finished his address by enquiring as to membership conditions in the club, on which problem, the chairman of the membership committee, Mr. G. Cross, promptly enlightened him. Mr. Lee, also, spoke shortly along the same lines.

Before the meeting broke up, the president called the attention of the members that the table decorations were provided by Mrs. F. N. McCrear, in memory of her husband, whose birthday anniversary occurred in this week.

SPORTING NOTES

SEPPALA WON DOG DERBY

(Associated Press Despatch)
LAKE PLACID, N. Y., Jan. 18.—Leonard Seppala, of Fairbanks, Alaska, yesterday won the two day second annual dog sled derby here, although losing yesterday's race to Walter Channing, of Boston.

Channing finished yesterday's run over the fourteen mile course three minutes and eleven seconds ahead of Seppala, who led all contestants on Wednesday over the course. Seppala's time for the two days' event was two hours, 32 minutes, 33 seconds and Channing's, two hours, 35 minutes, 59 seconds.

Hiram Mason, of Tanwong, N. H., driving for Mosely Taylor, of Boston, took third place in yesterday's race and third in the Derby.

SKATING IN FRANCE

PARIS, Jan. 18.—For the first time in a dozen years skaters skinned over the ice on lakes in Boine de Boulogne today. Their joy was likely to be short lived, for a thaw was setting in and the weather-man said that it was likely to be permanent.

The present intermittent cold snap was unusually severe in the south of France. The thermometer fell to twenty-one Fahrenheit at Marseilles. Ponds and lakes were frozen, which is a rare occurrence.

CUT DOWN GREENLEAF'S LEAD

(Associated Press Despatch)
NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Charles Seabach, Canadian champion, cut heavily into Ralph Greenleaf's lead in their 1,500 point pocket billiard match here yesterday. The blocks were evenly divided, but Seabach tallied 317 points to 249 by Green-

GOVERNMENT IS REQUESTED TO CHANGE POLICY

Alberta Federation of Labor Is of Opinion that Too Many Laborers Are Brought to Canada Under Guise of Farm Hands and Then Drift into Cities, Where They Compete With Canadian Labor.

(Associated Press Despatch)
LETHBRIDGE, ALTA., Jan. 18.—Calling upon the Dominion Government to cancel the railway immigration agreements and supporting the Dominion Trades Congress policy of an advisory council to control immigration, the Alberta Federation of Labor concluded its sessions here yesterday and decided to hold its next convention in Edmonton.

The railway immigration scheme, it was stated, brought too many laborers into Canada under the guise of farmers or farm hands and these after working on the land for a while drifted to the cities where they compete with Canadian labor.

POULTRY SHOW CLOSED DOORS LAST EVENING

Nineteenth Annual Exhibit Attracted Large Numbers—Was Most Successful in History of Sherbrooke Poultry Association—Even Better Show Expected Next Year.

The nineteenth annual poultry show of the Sherbrooke Poultry Association at the 54th Armory, Belvidere Street, was brought to a close last evening after a three day showing, which proved to be the best in the history of the society. The entries were unusually large and the quality of exhibits excellent. The officers were greatly pleased with the exhibit this year and predicted an even better showing next year, despite the fact that the exhibition of 1929 was the best ever held by the Association.

POLICE DEPT. DISCUSSED BY CITY COUNCIL

Council Met Last Night as Committee of Whole, But Declined to Make Any Comment as to Matter Before Meeting—Understood that Police Department Was Target for Some Remarks.

Members of the City Council met behind closed doors as a committee of the whole at the City Hall last evening to discuss, among other matters, certain activities of the Police Department. The discussion and final decision, if any was reached, is being kept secret by the aldermen who attended the meeting.

Alderman Loranger, chairman of the police department, when interviewed this morning said that he had no comment to make. In reply to a question, he said that he did not think there was anything of a serious nature existing, but added, "We want to see what is going on."

Several other members of the Council were also interviewed, but all declined to make any comment, one member saying that there was a lot of discussion but he did not know if it amounted to much.
