ARMIES ARE NOW READY TO FIGHT

Contest for Possession of Mukden Will be Bitterly Waged.

OYAMA HEAVILY REINFORCED

Russian Emperor Has Decided to Send Out More Troops and Will Maintain the Struggle to the Bitter End.

St. Petersburg, November 14.—The latest indications from the front point to an early resumption of military operations on a large scale. Field Marshal Oyama has received heavy reinforcements from New Chwang and evidently is about ready to wage battle for the possession of Mukden. The Japanese are showing particular activity on their right flank, as if they were contemplating a turning movement from that direction. General Kuropatkin has fortified his positions along the Shashe river, and as he seemingly is prepared to accept a battle he doubtless has made dispositions to block the flanking operation. According to the opinion of military authorities here his left flank is secure.

Japanese Are Active.

Mukden, Nov. 14.—Since yesterday signs of a serious engagement taking place within the next few days have been increasing. The Japanese are displaying great activity eastward. Fears are beginning to be expressed that the railroad will not be able to bring up sufficient supplies.

Sending Out More Troops.

London, November 14.—The Daily Telegraph's correspondent at St. Petersburg, asserts that the Emperor has decided to send out the second division of infantry of the guards as soon as the troops, already called out shall have been dispatched to Manchuria. The guard usually are only sent to the front when there is a monarch or a grand duke in command. The dispatch of these troops, the correspondent adds, shows the determination of the Emperor to struggle to the bitter end.

Will Represent Great Britain.

London, November 14.—A despatch to a news agency from St. Petersburg, says that Vice-Admiral Sir Lewis Anthony Beaumont, has been appointed British representative on the North Sea commission to enquire into the firing on the British trawlers by the Russian Baltic squadron.

Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron the despatch adds, had a good voyage from Tangier to Dakar, where it is now coaling from German colliers. The other portion of the fleet is still repairing at Suda Bay and elaborate precautions have been taken for the safety of a further section of the squadron that is about to sail from the Baltic.

Russians Want Evidence.

Berlin, November 14.—The Russian consul at Bremen has offered on behalf of this Government a substantial reward for evidence bearing on the Dogger Bank affair.

A Large Gathering of Members and Friends Welcomed Them Back from Australasian Trip.

The directors of the Young Men's Christian Association held an informal reception on Saturday afternoon in honor of the return of Secretary Budge and Mrs. Budge, from a trip to Australia and New Zealand. The pretty parlors of the building were well filled by members of the Y.M.C.A. and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Budge, and many a hearty handshake was extended the popular secretary on his return to Montreal. Music was supplied by an orchestra and light refreshments were served.

Among those present were: Rev. Hugh Pedley, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Paterson, Mr. C. T. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Kinghorn, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. In the evening, Mr. Budge gave an address in the Association Hall on his visit to Australasia.

CANADA'S FINANCIAL SHOWING.

Ottawa, Nov. 14. (Special.)—The financial statement of this Dominion for the four months ending with October shows the revenue to be $23,513,263, a decrease of about $200,000, compared with the same time last year. The expenditure was $13,452,845, an increase of about $4,000,000 compared with the same four months last year. The capital expenditure was $2,943,054, an increase of $1,700,000 over 1903.

The revenue for October was $6,354,187, nearly a half million better than for the previous October. The expenditure for the month showed little change.

A CAMPAIGN OF TARES.

Quebec, Nov. 14. (Special)—Dodgers were circulated in Quebec East on Saturday announcing a public meeting at the Jacques Cartier Market, to protest against the nomination of Mr. Geo. Darveau, who was chosen by the electors a week ago to contest the constituency in the Liberal interest. In response, over one thousand men and boys congregated on the market square after vespers, and could not allow any speakers to address them. It is said that the dodgers were placed in circulation by the Conservatives, with the object of creating disunion among the Liberals. The scheme failed miserably.

THE STATES AND MARITIME PRC NCES SWEPT BY GALE

Telephone and graph Systems Were Tied Up For Twenty-four aud Many Wrecks Along United tes Coast Occurred.

Yesterday was a remarkable day in the matter of weather. It opened with a snowstorm, the third of the season in this district. The snowstorm occurred early in the morning and was only perceptible on the mountain. Even late in the afternoon, however, there were traces of what had been a snowfall lying in sheltered spots in the valleys, around the Westmount golf course, and in the cemeteries. But as the day grew the thaw became general.

Till nightfall the Montreal atmosphere was calm, but after sunset it began to blow very heavily. Montreal was experiencing the tail-end of a cyclonic disturbance that probably entered in the Atlantic a short distance below Nova Scotia. Except in Cape Breton, Nova Scotia and the Southernmost parts of New Brunswick, whence more trouble is reported, Canada felt very little of the disturbance. But the coast-line of the Eastern States and landward far up into New York State was swept by tremendously violent winds. Canada was completely isolated from New York as far as telegraphic and telephone communication goes.

This morning two or three of Montreal's more enterprising brokers sent their large New York orders by cable—25 cents per word to England and 25 cents per word from England to New York. It was the only way round the wire trouble. Not a quotation has been received here from New York up to the opening of the afternoon board. Even the cables are hard to reach. Not a word can be had from Sydney, C.B., where the G. N. W. Telegraph Co. has its cable connection. The Anglo-American people, however, whose cable runs via Prince Edward Island, are able to put messages through. There is no trouble west of Montreal, but the West cannot get its messages into New York.

Maritime Points Cut Off.

Halifax has not been reached by the C.P.R. since an early hour last night. St. John, N.B., is in the same predicament. While the extent of damage is not accurately known, it is believed that the normal communication will take two or three days to re-establish. Owing to the widespread extent of the disturbance, running all down the Atlantic coast to New York and beyond, it may still be many hours before even a temporary and round-about connection is effected. New York and Buffalo secured a southern connection of some kind at a late hour this morning, and the Associated Press news service today has not been seriously impaired.

No report can be secured from the Bell Telephone of the state of its wires in Canada outside of the Montreal district. The coast cities cannot be reached by telephone as yet, but no damage was done in Quebec.

Manxman in Storm.

The steamer Manxman, of the Dominion line, which arrived on Saturday from Bristol, reports having met some very heavy weather on her way across. The sea was so rough that she had one of her booms broken in the storm.

New England Swept.

Boston, November 14.—New England was the centre yesterday of the storm which, since Saturday morning, has been sweeping up the Atlantic seaboard. When morning dawned yesterday the immediate storm centre was off Cape Hatteras, but in the afternoon it had moved to the vicinity of Nantucket Island. When at its height it blew with hurricane velocity.

In this city the maximum velocity was forty-five miles at 5.20 o'clock yesterday afternoon. At Block Island, R. I., there was a seventy-six mile gale, and at Nantucket, this state, a velocity of sixty miles was recorded. The storm passed east last night and was severe in Maine and the Maritime Provinces. At Portland, Me., at 11 o'clock the wind was increasing in velocity and would, the observer at the local weather bureau said, reach hurricane dimensions.

Telegraph Lines Demoralized.

New York, November 14.—Communication with the west after having been cut off for many hours by Sunday's storm was re-established soon after three o'clock this morning by the Associated Press. This was accomplished through a telephone wire between Baltimore and Chicago. Morse telegraph instruments displaced the telephonic devices and a restricted service was at once begun. It developed that Washington had been in almost constant communication with the west during the night and the news sent by the Associated Press from its New York office to Boston, thence by way of Portland, Maine, and the Canadian Pacific Telegraph lines to Chicago, and the west, was relayed back to points east of Chicago as far as Washington.

The wire service between Baltimore and Washington was still completely out of service at five o'clock this morning, poles and wires having been carried down in many places by the great weight of wet snow and the intense force exerted by the furious gale.

New England telegraphic circuits and those to Philadelphia and Baltimore were the only ones in working order. The damage to wires is the most serious which the telegraph company's have fared in many years. It spread over a wide area and caused a great rush to get out repair gangs, who were hurriedly started in the night by special trains over all the railroad lines, north, west and south. Little could be accomplished, however, until daylight.

The wires were found to be down completely north, west and east of Albany and north of Poughkeepsie on the New York Central. There was not one wire working on this route and that extended only to Poughkeepsie. On the Erie line over which many circuits to Chicago are operated one hundred poles were knocked down near Port Jervis, N.Y., and no wires were left south of Baltimore nor between Philadelphia and Harrisburg. Much trouble also exists south of Ashington where the storm first appeared. In the latter city several inches of snow fell. The storm began at 11 o'clock a.m. with a drizzling rain which turned into heavy wet snow.

Owing to the width of the storm's path much delay to railway traffic is anticipated as the telegraph largely controls the movements of trains.

Boatmen Swept Out to Sea.

New York, Nov. 14.—Three prisoners from among several hundred confined on an island in the East River for petty offenses are thought to have lost their lives in Sunday's storm. They were "trusties," and had rowed a party of visitors back to the city. In the face of the storm the men started back to the island, but their boat was caught in the high seas, which swept them out of sight. Watchers along the shore saw them at mid repeatedly to gain shelter, but without success, and it is thought they were swept into Long Island Sound.

A Velocity of 47 Miles.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 14.—The centre of the Gulf storm struck Norfolk yesterday with a velocity of forty-seven miles an hour. On the coast the wind was much stronger, and all wires between Norfolk and Cape Hatteras are prostrated.

Snow and sleet accompanied the blow, and the barometer registered 28.55, with one exception the lowest in the past thirty-two years. Fears are held for the schooner Myra E. Spear, ashore near Chicamicomico. Wrecking tugs have gone to her assistance. A large schooner dragged anchor near Ocean View during the height of the storm and was rapidly nearing breakers when a tug reached her and towed her into deep water.

Foot of Snow Reported.

York, Pa., Nov. 14.—Nearly twelve inches of snow fell here yesterday. The heavy weight of the snow broke down electric wires all over the city, and both power plants here were compelled to close to protect life and property. As a result the city was without power and light current last night, and the greater part of to-day. This city has been without telegraph or telephone communication with the outside world since last evening. Hundreds of telephone poles and trees litter the highways of this city and county.

SIR WILFRID WILL SPEND HOLIDAY IN CALIFORNIA

Ottawa, Nov. 14. (Special.)—Sir Wilfrid will leave for the South some time after the Governor-General sails, on November 18. Sir Wilfrid will accompany Their Excellencies to Quebec, and there say good-bye to them. Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier will go to Monterey, California, and will be accompanied by Hon. William and Mrs. Paterson.

ST. ANTOINE DIVISION.

At a meeting of the Liberals of St. Antoine division on Saturday afternoon a nomination for the Legislature was tendered to Mr. George Washington Stephens, and was tentatively accepted by him, pending certain arrangements in connection with his personal business affairs. Not being able to make these arrangements, Mr. Stephens was this morning reluctantly compelled to decline the proffered nomination, much to the regret of the Liberals of the riding.

A meeting of the Liberals of St. Antoine will be held in the Reform Club to-morrow at 5.30 p.m. to consider the nomination of a candidate.

Two New Judges of the Superior Court Appointed

Ottawa, Nov. 14. — (Special.)—Mr. Matthew Hutchinson, ex-M.L.A. for St. Antoine Division, Montreal, will succeed Judge White as judge of the Superior Court in the district of St. Francis. Judge White is in ill-health.

Matthew Hutchinson, K.C., is a well know figure in legal circles in Montreal. He is the son of William Scott Hutchinson, and was born at Halifax, N.S., Oct. 29, 1843. Mr. Hutchinson received his education at London, Ont., and in McGill University, and has since had a distinguished career as an advocate in this city. For three years, 1840-1-2, Mr. Hutchinson was Mayor of Westmount, of which town he is now the solicitor. From 1879 to 1891 he was Professor of Law at McGill University. Mr. Hutchinson was elected member for St. Antoine Division at the general elections, Dec. 7, 1900.

HE IS NOW JUDGE COOKE.

Three Rivers, Que., Nov. 14. (Special)—Mr. R. S. Cooke, advocate, of this city, and ex-M.L.A. for Three Rivers, has been appointed judge of the Superior Court for the district of Three Rivers, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Justice Desmarais last summer.

Judge Richard Stanislas Cooke is the son of John Richard Cooke, of Three Rivers. He was born in that city Jan. 23, 1850. Mr. Coke was educated at the Christian Brothers' Schools and the Seminary of Three Rivers, and followed a course in law. He was member of the Council and Mayor of Three Rivers, and represented the Attorney-General in that city. At the general elections of 1900 he was elected to represent the constituency in the Legislature. Mr. Cooke has always been a staunch Liberal.

JUDGE HUTCHINSON.

WAS IT SUICIDE OR MURDER?

J. A. Doherty Had Been Threatened With Violent Death.

A WOMAN IS IN THE CASE

Coroner Was Not Satisfied But the Jury Returned a Verdict of Suicide After a Short Discussion of the Evidence.

Some interesting evidence was given at the inquest held at the General Hospital this morning on the body of J. A. Doherty, the C.P.R. parlor car conductor who was found on Friday night in the lane behind the Academy of Music with a bullet hole through his head. The Coroner was not satisfied that the evidence established a perfectly clear case of suicide, and suggested that the jury bring in an open verdict, leaving the matter still in the hands of the police for further investigation. A verdict of suicide was rendered, however.

Some very interesting evidence was given by Miss Mansfield, the young lady to whom Doherty was betrothed. She states that an engagement had existed for two years, and that the marriage was to have taken place in January next. There had been no opposition to the union by relatives on either side. In September Doherty had been sick, and at that time had told his affianced that there was another woman in the case, and that if he married Miss Mansfield, some one would shoot him. Who the other woman was, or who had threatened to do the shooting, the witness did not know. Doherty did not drink habitually, but when he did he sometimes remained drunk for several days. As far as Miss Mansfield knew, he had never had a revolver.

Robert Harman, the employe at Scroggie's store who found Doherty's body, stated that he was in the habit of going to and from his work through the lane where the fatality occurred. On that evening he had left the store and gone over to the Academy where he had chatted with an employe there, Seguin, with whom he was in good terms. On leaving the Academy to go home for dinner he had found the body, and notified Seguin at once. They with the constable of the theatre, and Constable Landriault had examined the body. This evidence was corroborated by the Academy officials and the constable.

Dr. Roland Campbell of the General Hospital declared that Doherty had smelt of liquor when brought in in the ambulance. He had never recovered consciousness. Charles Lacroix, the Coroner's officer, stated that in the pockets of Doherty's clothes had been found $150 and some little jewelry, which fact was taken as pointing to the suicide rather than the murder theory. The revolver was passed around for the jury to view. It was a 320 calibre, and was stained with blood, although found at the feet of the victim. This demonstrated that the shot had been fired at exceedingly close range, a fact further established by Dr. McTavart in his report of the nature of the wound.

In summing up the evidence, Coroner MacMahon advised the jury to bring in an open verdict leaving room for further police investigation. It had not been proven that the revolver belonged to Doherty, and conductors on the C.P.R. were strictly forbidden to carry such weapons. There was a woman in the case of whom nothing was known, and the whole affair was unsatisfactory.

The jury, however, were satisfied with the evidence and brought in a verdict of suicide.

ANYONE MAY ATTEND CONSERVATIVE CAUCAS

Mr. J. P. Whitney Issued an Open Letter to Conservatives Calling Convention.

Toronto, Nov. 14.—(Special.)—In an open letter to the Conservatives of the province, calling a conference for November 24, Mr. J. P. Whitney says the gathering will not formulate a policy but merely consult on issues of the day. Nor will it be confined to Conservatives, he says. He adds, that in the presence of so great public peril, party designations and differences are of secondary importance, and says the first great necessity of the situation is clean, honest and decent government.

A POPULAR CONCERT CO.

The John Thomas Concert Co. of Boston will appear in Association Hall, Dominion Square, on Tuesday, Nov. 15, at 8.15 p.m. This company, one of the best now travelling in the Eastern States, is composed of three first-class artists, viz., John Thomas, humorist, of whom the New York World says: "The absurd whislicalities and spontaneous humor of Thomas, the famous humorist and elocutionist, were irresistible." Mr. Thomas is ably assisted by Annie Webster Thomas, the talented violinist, and Adelaide Louise Wood, a brilliant young pianiste."

STANSTEAD CONSERVATIVES.

Coaticook, Que., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—The Conservatives of Stanstead are meeting here this afternoon to decide whether they shall nominate a candidate for the Legislature. Mr. G. St. Pierre is the present Conservative member, and Mr. F. A. Bissonette, of Stanstead Flats, is the straight Liberal candidate. In case Mr. St. Pierre abides by the manifesto, it is understood that the Conservatives will try to get an independent Liberal to run, and will give him their solid support.

EPIDEMIC OF DIPHTHERIA HAS BROKEN OUT IN MONTREAL

There Were Twenty-one Cases of a Malignant Type Reported in the City During the Week, Two of Them Being Fatal.

One of the worst epidemics of diphtheria for a long time has broken out in the city, and last week no less than twenty-one cases were reported to the city health department. The exact cause of the outbreak is somewhat in doubt, some doctors venturing the opinion that the dry weather following the wet spell of early autumn is largely responsible. The fact remains that diphtheria is widely prevalent in the city, and the old civic hospital on Moreau street is crowded with diphtheria patients.

Dr. J. E. Laberge, medical superintendent of the civic hospital, says that the cases he has seen are of a malignant type.

Dr. Louis Laberge, medical health officer, did not care to express any opinion as to the origin of the outbreak. There were so many causes that contribute to the spread of diphtheria that it was difficult to say just what was responsible for the present epidemic. Diphtheria generally originated from decaying vegetable and animal matter, and heavy rains drove the gases from such substances out of the soil.

Two deaths last week were due to diphtheria.

There were ninety-nine deaths in the city last week, of which eighty-five were Catholics, twelve Protestants and two Jews. The chief causes of mortality were: Infantile diseases 21, consumption 12, bronchitis 4, bronch-pneumonia 4, diphtheria 2, pneumonia 2, typhoid, measles, pleuro-pneumonia and influenza one each

The number of births registered at the City Hall last week was 118, of which 57 were males and 61 females.

The cases of contagious diseases reported at the City Hall were: Diphtheria 21, typhoid 8, scarlet fever 3, measles 2, chicken-pox 1. The number of vaccinations was 83, and 18 houses were disinfected.

OF COURSE THE GUN WAS LOADED

Terrible Shooting Fatality at Glace Bay—Husband Shot Wife.

Glace Bay, N.S., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Mrs. Campbell Atkinson, wife of an engine driver on the Sydney & Louisburg railway, was accidently shot to death by her husband at noon on Saturday. Mr. Atkinson is a member of the Glace Bay Rifle Club, recently organized, and was at home preparing his rifle for the first match of the club, held on Saturday afternoon, when it was discharged. The bullet passed through the body of his wife, who was working in front of her husband. She died an hour afterwards.

The coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

Mr. Atkinson, who is an engineer on the I.C.R., is a son of Mr. William Atkinson, G.T.R. engineer, who resides at Point St Charles. Mrs. Atkinson was a daughter of the late Mr. J. Parson, of Point St. Charles, who was also an engineer in the employ of the G. T. R.

BOGUS BALLOT BOX CASE WILL BE INQUIRED INTO Affair Will be Probed to the Bottom —Some Prominent Men Involved.

Toronto, Nov. 14.—(Special.)—On Saturday evening Lieut.-Col. Sherwood, at the instance of Hon. Chas Fitzpatrick, arrived in Toronto and consulted with Mr. G. F. Shepley concerning the bogus ballot boxes in West Hastings, and as a result there will probably be information sworn out against three or four prominent citizens of Belleville. It is said that important information was received by detectives from one of the parties who had some knowledge of the affair, and this information guided the authorities in the matter. Mr. Duvernet, who is acting for Mr. Gus Porter, M.P. for West Hastings, will attend the preliminary inquiry at Belleville to watch the case for his client, and G. F. Shepley, K.C., will, of course, act for the Government.

SINCE November 3rd Lord Dundonald has been in a position to form some new opinions on the strategic value of blank cartridges.

THE goose-bone prophets predict a hard winter, and the Conservative party is quite ready to believe them.

THE CORONER says the many suicides lately are due to the weather. However, that can hardly be the reason why the Quebec Cons. stuffed up the keyholes and blew out the gas.

COZ HE GOT MORE VOTES

I am greatly disappointed,
The way election ran.
They say of all the candidates
I'm far the better man.
And on my reputation
Most everybody dotes,
But the other "fellow" got there
'Coz
He Got
More
Votes.

I have been much elated,
The way my friends have worked;
The duties put upon them
Not one of them have shirked.
They assured me of election
While taking off their coats,
But the other fellow "got there,"
Coz
He Got More
Votes.

My wife says I am handsome,
So I put my photos out,
Placing them in such positions
They'd be seen without a doubt;
But when the votes were counted,
Quite blasted were my hopes,
For a homely "rooster" got there,
Coz
He Got More
Votes.

THURSDAY is Thanksgiving Day, and the Cons. should start in now and figure up something to be thankful for.

AN INDIGNANT CON.

The "Woodstock Dispatch," of Woodstock, N.B., is a paper that gave whole hearted support to the Cons. It could see nothing for the Libs. "West of Lake Superior," and also had Mr. Blair to "the stump within 48 hours, sure. The day before elections it figured out a Con. victory of about seven millions.

The editor has just succeeded in digging himself out, and is full of steam heated indignation. He writes:

"There is reasonable suspicion that politics in Canada is not getting any cleaner than it has been, and possibly, may be, perhaps, it is getting a d—— sight worse.

"Where will this rottenness end? Democratic government has hardly justified itself. Manhood suffrage is a good thing, but dogheod suffrage, skunkhood suffrage, these are not good. And what better than a dog or skunk is the man who sells his vote? If $25 was the average price paid for votes in this country, then about 1,200 of the free and independent electors of Carleton County took money on election day."

Every losing Con. so far has stated that his county was bought. If the Libs. spent all the money they are supposed to have spent the election cost them the modest sum of $880,000,000,000,000.

The Voice From Compton.

With the passing away of a number of leading orators from the House a Halifax paper goes through the list and thanks lovingly of our agricultural friend the hon. Rufus Pope:

"There also goes out Rufus Pope, of Compton, who brought the rather rough good humor of the great out-door life of a cattle dealer into his method of speech in the House."

WHAT EMOTION moves the Hon. W. F. Maclean's paper to observe that "speech is golden and silence is Hon. A. G. Blair?"

THE Hon. Kang Yu Wei, of Hong Kong, China, is at the Windsor, and the Gazette reports his views on Canada as follows: "Hok-i-ee-ki-chi-ok-a-lum-a-lum. Chik-a-lee-a-a-a-um-m-m. Mensee-Ki-yi-mock-a-mock-a."

Considering that this is such a fine country that seems to be a pretty mean thing to say about it.

THERE is a chance for Blair yet. He is a member of a Curling Club and might resign from that. Anything to make the Quebec elections interesting.

A LITTLE SNOW now and all the storcs will be getting out their 1904 styles of Santa Clauses.

TO THE CONS.

And now at last, poor nominee,
Your face may be relaxed,
And you may frown and settle down
Those features overtaxed—
The battered smile, the tattered smile
The smile of frozen look,
The daily smile, the nightly smile,
The smile-that-won't-unhook.

The best, the worst is over now,
And peace is on the land,
And even yet you may forget
The gladness of your hand—
The hand that shakes, the hand that quakes,
The hand that suffered much,
The hand that's pained, the hand that's sprained,
The hand-that-won't-unclutch.

And though defeat has crossed your bowns
One solace may atone:
In woe or weal you still may feel
Your face is now your own—
Your private face, your public face,
May scowl or smile or scoff,
The greed of place mars not that face,
The face-that-won't-come-off.

MULTI MILLIONS IN THE BALANCE

A Montreal Man is After the Immense Jennings Fortune.

VERY PROBABLY HE IS HEIR

There Have Been Many Claimants During a Century, but Mr. David Jennings Believes He Will Succeed.

Dame Fortune plays many tricks with the hopeful sons of men and too often holds out a glittering prize only to withdraw it when her suitor regards his hopes as certain of fulfilment. But a Montreal man is at present making a bid for one of her greatest prizes and is apparently on the point of winning it. This is Mr. David Jennings, of 106 Faris Street, who is claiming the fortune known as the "Jennings millions," in England.

In 1798, William Jennings, the richest commoner in England, died and left his huge fortune in the Bank of England. Since then it has been steadily accumulating and his landed property in Staffordshire and London has been increasing in value until to-day the fortune is an immense one in even this time of great accumulations of wealth.

For over a century the law has been waiting for a direct descendant of Jennings, but though many claimants have appeared none has satisfactorily proved his case before the courts. Four years ago Mr. David Jennings began his researches into the family history, under the belief that he was a direct descendant. For years he silently pursued his search among the records and parties concerned and last year, with the information he had accumulated, he went to England to prosecute further inquiries. For months Mr. Jennings, who though seventy years of age, is energetic and hearty—has been accumulating valuable documents relating to his title in various districts and has at last entered his claim before the courts, fully confident of success. Friends have come to his aid and the best legal talent has been secured. The case was opened on Wednesday last and the English papers are looking for startling, as well as interesting, revelations before it is settled.

DON'T EAT TOO MUCH BREAD

Bakers Jump the Price to 9, 9 1-2 and 10 Cents Per Loaf.

Montreal bakers have decided to raise the price of bread. The small loaf will be half a cent dearer and the large loaf a cent. The price of the loaf will vary from 8 cents to 10 cents, according to quality.

The arrangement was made at the end of last week, and is due to the continued high price of flour. The finest Manitoba flour is selling at $5.80 a barrel, which is much above normal. It was expected some weeks that the price would fall, but it has remained steady.

The first move was made by the French bakers, as the result of a meeting of the French Master Bakers' Association last week. They decided to raise their bread to 8 cents and 9 cents, the price charged by the English bakers. Following this move the English bakers decided to raise the price also, and will charge from to-day 9, 9½ and 10 cents.

There is little prospect of a reduction for some time to come. So long as present prices of wheat are maintained in Winnipeg, the cost of flour will remain high. Even at the abnormal rate there is a good demand for wheat in American markets, which are buying from Canada, and this is likely to continue.

THE YOKE

A Romance of the Days When the Lord Redeemed the Children of Israel From the Bondage of Egypt.

WHAT THE CLERGY SAY OF IT.

REV. ROBERT F. COYLE, D.D., Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in America. Author of "The Christianity of Christ," etc. Pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church of Denver, Colo.

THE YOKE is a notable production. As a work of art it seems almost perfect. In tone it is as pure as a fresh blown rose; in plot and purpose it is above criticism; in spirit it is not less wholesome than the sacred narrative from which it draws its inspiration. In addition to the light it thows upon ancient Egyptian civilization, it is of great value for its deep and dominating religious motive. It is a book that will live, and I predict for it an immediate and very wide circulation.

EX-CITY PAYMASTER HAMEL BROUGHT BACK TO THE CITY YESTERDAY

Chief Carpenter Was in Havana for Six Weeks Before He Was Able to Get Hold of His Prisoner.

Chief Detective Carpenter arrived in the city last night from Havana bringing with him ex-City Paymaster Hamel, in custody, on a charge of forging a ten thousand dollar cheque. His return has, of course, given considerable satisfaction to the Aldermen. The Bank of Montreal, on whom the cheque was pased, has never acknowledged it as being a forgery. The officials have all along held it as bearing the genuine signature of the City Treasurer, and had Hamel not been returned for trial, there can be little doubt, the matter would have led to a law dispute between the city and the Bank.

The ex-paymaster is in excellent health, and is little changed since he left for southern parts. The home trip was made without incident of moment, Mr. Hamel giving the chief no trouble whatever. Of course the chief kept close watch on his prisoner, but all through, what took place seems to have run on friendly lines. Hamel recognized that he had to return, and that in acting as his escort, Chief Carpenter was only performing a duty. In doing so, it may be believed that things were made as smooth for the prisoner as was consistent with security. As the chief remarks, "there is a way of treating a man who is being brought to justice. At least I have found it so. There is no need to make a man feel every minute of the time that he is a prisoner, a man on the way to face a criminal court; the law will punish him later on, according to his deserts.

At the same time not too much latitude was given. While making the trip home as easy and as pleasant as possible, the chief was taking no risks. "I never lost a prisoner in my life," remarked the chief.

A [illegible] DELAY.

It is now [illegible] eks since Chief Carpenter left [illegible] avana, his visit having extended to quite twice as [illegible] as was intended, the formalities in the law courts lasting a much longer time than was looked for.

First an appeal was made on behalf of Hamel, to the Supreme Court, and just when this was about to be decided, accused's counsel got away on another break and set up another appeal. The final decision came on Thursday last, says Chief Carpenter, and before he got his man the text had to be signed by President Palmer.

The strong point put forward for Hamel was that extradition would not conform with the constitution of the country, as there was no treaty in force for the surrender of persons alleged guilty of an offence such as was laid agaist the runaway ex-paymaster, it being also argued that even if there were such a treaty, it could not be made retroactive.

A CASE OF RECIPROCITY.

In regard to both contentions the decision went against Hamel, for the reason that there are two methods of extraditing prisoners, by treaty and by national compact. In the present instance the extradition took place at the direct request of the British Government, with an assurance that were Hamel given up, the Government would reciprocate when asked to do so. In recent times Cuba had acted in a similar way in response to requests from Spain and Mexico.

Chief Carpenter seems to have enjoyed his visit to Cuba in better fashion than on the first occasion, he went after Hamel. The weather was more to his taste, while perhaps the fact that success has attended his latest journey has something to do with the more cheerful appearance he carried to the City Hall to-day.

Mr. Carpenter has a good word to say of the Cuban officials with whom he came in contact, each and all doing what he could to make things as pleasant and agreeable as possible for their visitor. Havana, he describes as a clean, well paved, prosperous looking city.

None of the members of Hamel's family accompanied him on the voyage home, but it is understood they will follow soon.

FRENCH CHAMBER RATIFIED TREATY

Anglo-French Treaty Was Approved by an Overwhelming Majority.

Paris, Nov. 14.—Foreign Minister Delcasse secured a notable triumph Saturday when the Chamber of Deputies by an overwhelming majority ratified the colonial treaty entered into between Great Britain and France and at the same time gave Parliamentary approval of his policy of a rapprochement between the United Kingdom and the French Republic.

The vote closed a ten days' debate. The final hours brought out vigorous opposition in behalf of the fishing interests of Brittany and Normandy against the abandonment of the French shore of Newfoundland. M. Surcouf (Republican) urged that M. Delcasse re-open the negotiations for the purpose of getting for the French fishermen the same rights for the free purchase of bait as are enjoyed by the Americans. It was asserted that the French fishing interests in Newfoundland would be exterminated as the result of the treaty.

M. Delcasse resisted the request for a renewal of the negotiations and a resolution of M. Archdean (Nationalist), condemning the treaty, was defeated by 435 to 60 votes.

The resolution approving of M. Delcasse's declarations was adopted by 436 ayes to 94 nayes. The treaty was then ratified by 443 to 105 votes.

The new treaty with Siam was also ratified.

The effect of the treaty between Great Britain and France is to terminate French sovereignty over the Newfoundland shore, but throughout the debate the principal significance of the treaty was attached to its giving practical effect to the Anglo-French rapprochement.

Annexed to the report on the treaty submitted to the French Parliament, is a letter from Lord Lansdowne to M. Delcasse, containing, according to the Standard, the following passages:

"In the opinion of His Majesty's Government, there is nothing to prevent French fishermen who fish for bait on the treaty shore from taking such bait away, and disposing of it. On the other hand, the trade in bait on the treaty shore ought to be, as it has been up to the present, subject to local regulations, which should apply without distinction to French and British fishermen.

"His Majesty's Government has no doubt that the Newfoundland Government will loyally respect the arrangement which has been concluded relative to the sale and purchase of bait. If, however, anything in the local regulations which may be enacted in the future by the Newfoundland Government should, in the opinion of the French Government, be of a nature to injure the rights of French fishermen under the convention, the French Government will only have to call the attention of His Majesty's Government to the matter to ensure the fulfilment of the terms of the convention.

"With regard to the use of seines and other kinds of fishing tackle, His Majesty's Government interprets the convention as providing that the French fishermen on the treaty shore will have the right to use the same tackle which they have been in the habit of using hitherto, in the same way as the British fishermen, and subject to the same regulations.

"His Majesty's Government knows no reason why French subjects should be denied the right of acquiring or letting lands or buildings for industrial or commercial purposes on the treaty shore."

WOMEN CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Barrie, Nov. 14.—Chancellor Boyd is presiding at the Fall Assizes. There being no business for a grand jury, none was summoned, the two criminal cases having been carried over from the Spring Assizes. Mr. L. D. Gunn, K.C., Orillia, is Crown counsel. The chief case on the list is that against Mrs. Saunders and Phoebe Davis, who are charged with the murder of Mrs. Saunders' infant on December 2, 1903. Since December 19 the women have been in jail, an adjournment being granted at the Spring Assizes at their request.

HOSPITAL FOR THE INSANE.

The medical superintendent of the Protestant Hospital for the Insane reports for week ending Nov. 8: Admissions 7; discharged cured, 2; discharged on trial, 3; deaths, 3.

The visiting governors for week commencing Nov. 14th are: Messrs. E. H. Copland, Jos. Eveleigh, H. R. Ives and H. H. Lyman.

THE EVIDENCE WAS STRONG.

Not long ago a man was charged with shooting a number of pigeons, the property of a farmer.

In giving his evidence the farmer was exceedingly careful, even nervous, and the solicitor for the defence endeavoured to frighten him.

"Now," he remarked, "are you prepared to swear that this man shot your pigeons?"

"I didn't say he did shoot 'em,' was the reply. "I said I suspected him o' doing it."

"Ah, now we're coming to it. What made you suspect that man?"

"Well, firstly, I caught him on my land wi' a gun. Secondly, I heerd a gun go off an' had seen some pigeons fall. Thirdly, I found four o' my pigeons in his pocket—an' I don't think them birds flew there an' committed suicide."

WHEN CHINA RULED RUSSIA.

Mr. E. H. Parker mentions in the Monthly Review that Russia, under the name of "Cuman" was a dependency of the Mongol hordes who dominated from the Danube to the China seas (1220-1368). During the latter half of this period Russian bodyguards were much affected by the Mongol Emperors at Pekin; these guards were mostly war captives, or complimentary gifts sent as tribute from the nominally vassal princely kinsmen in the West.

MR. MORSE ON LIBERAL VICTORY

Grand Trunk's Vice-President Calls it Tribute to Business Policy.

Mr. F. W. Morse, 1st vice-president and general manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific, when asked for a statement on the result of the general elections, made the following comment:

"The results of the elections are such as were generally looked for, and, I consider, show only the confidence that should be expected in the Government which has so greatly assisted in bringing on the business prosperity of the country. The Government, by its tariff policy, of adjusting from time to time the duty on the different commodities, which the constantly changing conditions demand if fairness is to be accorded to all, has caused many large and important industries to be established in Canada, and a large majority of those that were previously in business, and which have been under competent management, have greatly enlarged their plant, output, and receipts.

"The vote also shows the appreciation felt at the Government's action in looking to and providing for the future development of the country by the launching of its railroad policy. This will mean, as the work progresses and the settling of the Northwest rapidly follows, increased business and prosperity such as Canada has never before experienced.

"I think for many years to come that the eyes of the world will be directed fowards Canada, and no one will be disappointed."

MONTREAL HER HOME 88 YEARS

Mrs. Barry Buried Yesterday—Came Here a Fair Irish Girl of 18.

Montreal's oldest inhabitant was laid to rest yesterday afternoon, in Cote des Neiges, the funeral being attended by a large number of relatives and friends.

Mary Aird, relict of William Barry, first saw the light in County Derry, in 1798, in the reign of George II., and after fourteen years spent in the old home, emigrated, along with her parents, to the United States, moving thence four years later, to Montreal, where she resided continuously until her death on Friday. Shortly after reaching Montreal she met, and subsequently married, William Barry, also a 'Derry native, setting up house at 63 Colborne Street, where twelve children were born to them, and where, as wife and widow, she resided through all the years right up till May last, when she went to reside with her granddaughter, Mrs. John Maher, at 55 Duke Street, in whose house the old lady died, at the age of 106 years and 6 months.

The husband, who died in 1893, at the age of 94, was for forty years gardener with the late Sir Hugh Allan, retiring on a pension, which was, on his death, continued to the widow.

Mrs. Barry was for twenty years a member of the Ladies' Society of St. Ann's Church, and was a constant attendant at church until a year or so ago, while up till last week she was able to walk about. Of her twelve children only three survive, James Barry, 75, who is well known to the Griffintown natives, and Mrs. Meeney and Mrs. Sheevers, both also residents of Montreal. One son, Michael, was a member of the Fire Brigade, and lost his life saving that of Capt. Hogan in the big St. Urbain Street fire.

There was a funeral service in St. Ann's Church this morning, which was well attended.

Blaney's production of "The Factory Girl," with all the old scenic effects and a lot of new specialties. There will be matinees all three days. GENERAL KUROKI KILLED ON OCT. 4

He Was Struck by a Shell During the Battle of Liao Yang.

Moscow, November 14.—Nemirovich Danchenko, the well - known Russian war correspondent, telegraphing from Mukden under yesterday's date, says the reports of the death of General Kuroki are confirmed. According to his version, the splinter of a shell struck General Kuroki, tearing out a portion of his breast and abdomen. He died October 4, at Liao Yang, and his body was sent to Japan. A rumor is persistently circulated that a kinsman of the Mikado Siaosanai, literally "Little third Prince," has been appointed to succeed General Kuroki, but that the actual command of the army has been entrusted to General Nodzu, who is reviewing operations.

GENERAL KUROKI,

Whose Record in this War Stamped Him as Among the Very Best of Japan's Military Leaders.

Kuroki's Gallant Career.

Kuroki was one of the hereditary fighters of Japan. He was sixty-two years of age, and when chosen for the command of the first army was still vigorous, mentally and physically, and enjoying the complete confidence of the Emperor and his fellow-countrymen. In the war with China, ten years ago, he was selected by Marshal Count Oyama to command the right column of the army for the advance on Weihai-wei.

In the final assault Baron Kuroki retained the command of a division, and after the other columns had carried out the tasks entrusted to them he received orders to advance against the forts which offered the chief resistance. He justified magnificently the trust of the commander-in-chief, and the forts were captured, leading to the capture of the fortress on the following day. Kuroki became a popular hero in Japan and his appointment to lead the army in Corea and Manchuria was applauded by public opinion.

VESSEL'S RECORD BREAKING CARGO

The Season's Shipping Trade of Montreal is Nearing an End.

The last of the season's shipping trade in the port of Montreal was marked by the entry of a record breaking cargo. The Mount Temple is at present discharging 7,000 tons of general cargo at Victoria pier, and this is claimed to be the largest amount of freight ever brought to Montreal in a single vessel. The C.P.A. steamers from London and Antwerp, of which this is one, have been carrying uniformly good cargoes all season, usually bringing in about 4,000 or 5,000 tons. But as this was the last boat of the season from these points the amount of freight offered was unusally great. The cargo consists of all sorts of freight and is almost entirely consigned to Canadian points.

On the docks all is bustle and hurry in discharging and reloading the last ships in port. Another week will see the harbor pretty well clear of shipping until next spring. As usual in the fal lthere is a shortage of labor on the wharfs which adds to the troubles of the stevedores, although they believe they will be able to get the ships away in good time.

In the spring a large number of laborers flock in from outside points for the season's work on the docks and about this time of the year they begin to return to their homes for the winter or look up a winter job. Many go to the shanties and the ranks of the 'longshoremen have all to be filled by city laborers, who do not always offer themselves for this work as readily as the work requires.

A man whose remains have not yet been identified died in a cell at the No. 4 Police Station on Saturday night. He had been found incapable on St. Dominique street, near Vitre and taken to the station, where three hours later his death was discovered.

When arested the unfortunate man was unable to tell his name, but showed no signs of illness.

It is thought that it will be possible to identify him by a guarantee found in his watch case from a St. Catherine jeweller. The man was about thirty-five years of age.

SIR WILFRID'S MOVEMENTS.

Sir Wilfrid will pass through Montreal some time on Wednesday on his way to Quebec to participate in the farewell tendered by that city to Lord and Lady Minto. He will probably spend only an hour or so in Montreal, and the exact time of his visit is not yet known.

Distinguished Chinese Reform Leader Welcomed to Montreal

In Gorgeous Garments He Was the Central Figure of an Imposing Procession Yesterday in Which Uncommon Music Played a Part.

His Excellency Kong Yu Wei, of Hong Kong, the leader of the reform movement in China, arrived in Montreal yesterday, and was accorded a royal reception by the Celestials who make this city their place of abode. A brass band, a Chinese band and a parade were among the accessories to the celebration, which was unique in Montreal's history.

Kong Yu Wei arrived on the Lake Manitoba, and while he was still aboard the steamship was greeted by a delegation of local Chinamen, headed by Lee Chu, president of the Montreal branch of the Chinese Empire Reform Association. After the exchange of many gutteral felicitations, the procession was formed on the King Edward pier and moved along to 629 Lagauchetiere street, the Chinese Hall, which was weirdly and elaborately decorated for the occasion, such quiet and unostentatious colors as green, yellow, red and orange being profusely displayed.

The scene at the hall might well have been taken from "The Chinese Honeymoon" except for the absence of women and the English language. There was much beating of gongs and other instruments of alleged music, to which the Chinamen is addicted, and after a quarter of an hour's joyous confusion, the notable visitor mounted the rostrum and delivered a speech, which the Chinaman is addicted, and understand it to be eloquent and stirring. He urged his too admiring listeners to give their unwavering support to the principles of reform which his association was striving to promote amongst the Chinese race.

Headed by Lee Chu, mounted on a curvetting steed and decorated with a gorgeous sash, the parade was formed again and proceeded along St. Catherine and Windsor streets to the Windsor Hotel. The lively strains of the English band and the uncanny din of the Chinese musicians attracted hundreds of citizens to the line of march, and what the natives saw but heightened their interest in the celebration.

His Excellency's learned secretary, Chew Kok Hean, who is an honored graduate of Harvard, explained the nature of the mission of the illustrious visitor.

It was nearly noon when the procession arrived at the Windsor, and Kog Wu Hei immediately sought the seclusion of his suite of rooms for rest and refreshment. In the afternoon, he willingly accorded an interview, through the medium of an interpreter, Chew Kok Hean, to the newspaper representatives.

A STRIKING FIGURE.

His Excellency presented a striking figure, being clad in Oriental robes of rare design and startling colors. He wore a circular turban of black silk with a red tassel, blue jacket, decorated with gold and black braid, bifurcated lower garment of heavily quilted yellow cloth, white stockings, blue puttees and sandals. Evidently he possesses an excellent physique, for though his stature is not great, he is strongly and compactly built. His facial expression is one of intelligence, and there is a merry twinkle in his eyes not usually found amongst the people of his inscrutable race.

Kong Yu Hei holds advanced views and these do not please the Dowager Empress o fChina, who would like to abolish him. His Excellency, having some knowledge of her wishes, wisely resides in Hong Kong, where the Union Jack affords him the protection that he needs. From that city, he sends forth missionary literature to the members of the Chinese Empire Reform Association, beeseeching them to lose no opportunity to introduce modern methods into China's business and politics.

He is not an extremist, but is endeavoring to bring about the enlightenment of the Chinese race by placing the juvenile emperor on the throne, by surrounding him with capable advisers, by negativing the Dowager Empress' influence and by educating his fellow-countrymen. It has been said that his association, which numbers millions of members in the homeland and thousands in foreign countries is but biding its time to plunge China into a war of rebellion but Kong Wu Hei says that this is not the case. He says that they are seeking to overthrow the Dowager by peaceful means. He denied that his party will try to set up the young emperor's court in Vancouver.

FAVOR THE JAPS.

Kong Wu Hei is of the opinion that the Chinese would like to see the Japs win out in the war now in progress, as they are afraid of Russia's further aggressions unless she is curbed.

He and his party, which includes Charlie Yip Yen, a prosperous Vancouver merchant, left this afternoon for Ottawa, where he will pay his respects to Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Then they will go to Vancouver.

GREY NUNNERY VISITED BY CITY DIGNITARIES

A Great Institution Which Shelters and Cares for 1,250 Persons, and Teaches Various Trades.

Mayor Laporte and representatives of the City Council visited the Grey Nunnery, Guys street, on Saturday afternoon, at the invitation of the sisters, and made a tour of inspection through the numerous departments of that great charitable institution.

In the party were Aldermen Ames, M.P., Bastien, Sadler, Couture and Ricard, Canon Racicot, of the Archbishop's Palace, Rev. Mr. Lecocq, superior of the Seminary of St. Sulpice; Rev. Messrs. Giroux and Chevalier, priests of the same order; Hon. Mr. Beaubien, Drs. Rottot, Masson and Lecavalier, A. Bienvenu, of the Recorder's Court; Edwin Hurtubise and Alfred St. Cyr, Mrs. Laporte who was acompanied by her daughter and several other ladies.

The party spent three hours in visiting the diferent departments of the building under the direction of Rev. Sister Hamel, the lady superior. The institution shelters 1250 persons, of whom 250 are men, the rest being orphans, foundlings and women. Within a few months, no fewer than 1075 babies were admitted to the children's department by the nuns. Of these a large number died.

An interesting part of the work of the sisters is the industrial quarter where printing, book-binding, taper flower and wax work. Church ornamentation and other industries are carrier on.

The total annual expenses of the institution are about $100,000, barely covered by the receipts. The revenues have been created by the industry of the Grey Nuns, and are the proceeds of properties they themselves have built.

ST. LAURENT SHOEMAKER COMMITTED SUICIDE

Benjamin Martleau, thirty-six years of age, a shoemaker by trade, whose home is in St. Laurent, committed suicide yesterday afternoon by hanging himself in a shed. Martineau has been supposed to be demented for some time and was to have been taken to the asylum at Longue Pointe to-day.

Coroner MacMahon went out to St Laurent to-day to make investigations in the case, and if an inquest is thought to be necessary ti will be conducted there to-night.

HAMEL DECLINED TO ENTER PLEA

Case Adjourned Till Tuesday—Neither He Nor the Chief Would Talk.

"Good morning Mr. Hamel."

"Good morning to you."

When Mr. Hamel shook hands this mornig with a Herald man, he seemed in the best of health and spirits, and was willing to talk on every sort of subject that might be broached, excepting only that in connection with which Chief Carpenter had undertaken the trip to Cuba.

"I am not in a positon to say anything to you," he remarked, "that is likely to be of any good to me. It would not be judicious on my part to talk. I could not very well do so without introducing the names of others, and meantime, at any rate, silence on the subject that has led to my being here to-day, is best."

ENJOYED HIS TRIP.

Mr. Hamel laughingly referred to his enjoyable journey through the States and by steamer to Cuba, and had quite a number of good words to say in favor of that island as a residential location. It is old-fashioned from our way of looking, he says. The 'way-back Spanish methods of doing business are in evidence, although in Havana and other cities there is an up-to-date new world arrangement of the streets and certain of the more prominent buildings. There is very little English spoken unless amongst those of the inhabitants who have ben educated in the United States or in Europe, while as for French, the language is almost entirely unknown.

"Mosquitos?" Well, yes. I should say there are a few of them around in Cuba," said Mr. Hamel. "The specimens we have in this part of the world are not worth mentioning in comparison. I was not long on the island when they picked me out as a new comer. They like the fresh arrivals, and will go buzzing all round and over a native, or a man who has been in Cuba for some time without even alighting on him. At any rate, I fancy it would be a sheer case of starvation before he tried to taste native blood. It looked to me as if all in the country had singled me out, and the way they got away with my fresh Canadian blood became rather weakening to me, however much it tickled their palates and satisfied their discriminating taste. After a bit they got tired of me, and flocked off to fresher arrivals as the boats tied up at the wharf.

Cuba is all right in a way. The weather was enjoyable enough during my stay. Although some days were very warm, yet I have experienced heat quite as strong in Montreal when we have had hot spells, and if there came a particularly blistering day, there usually was the recompense following of one or two of cool, mild winds, with moderate sun overhead.

"Tobacco! Well, they do grow fair stuff, and their cigars are all right. Sorry, have none about me just now.

"By the way," said Mr. Hamel with the good-byes, "you might say I was not in any kind of asylum. I read a statement in one paper while I was away that I was in an asylum. That is not so. There has been nothing amiss with me in any respect whatever to call for my visiting any sort of asylum. It has now been said, I understand, that I left Montreal with letters of introduction and a mapped-out arrangement to go to a certain place. That is not so. All references to monasteries and asylums and such like stories are purely imaginary.

"How did I travel home? Well, you'd better ask the chief."

Chief Carpenter did not seem particularly anxious to give any story of the homeward route. Halifax was a very nice port, he said, but they had not landed just at the wharf there. From this, the Chief struck off on to a story of a handy tramp steamer that, with the greatest of good luck, he found was about to leave some obscure point on the Cuban coast just at the time he was ready to leave for home. The wind-god, too, had been all in his favor and had worked him a good turn. Up till then the breeze had been out of northerly, but no sooner were Mr. Hamel and himself aboard than she veered right round, and with a steady stern-wind the voyage was a short one.

As the chief and his prisoner only left Havana Thursday last, it will be recognized that they made fast miles to the United States coast and a fairly fast run by train, north to the Canadian border, Montreal being reached in the course of yesterday.

ARRAIGNED IN COURT.

The court room presided over by Judge Lafontaine was crowded to the outer doorways this morning, the crowd waiting patiently to see Hamel brought in. After the other and more trivial cases had been disposed of, the court officers attempted to encourage the audience to leave, but only a very few of the less knowing ones adjourned.

After a few minutes interval, the Judge again took his seat on the bench, and immediately after Chief Detective Carpenter entered with his prisoner.

In a few words Judge Lafontaine informed him the charge was one of obtaining $10,000 by means of a forged cheque, and in a word the accused replied that he declined to plead.

The case was then adjourned until Tuesday of next week, the court being of opinion this would best suit both sides and give an opportunity for the lawyers to prepare themselves for the preliminary enquiry.

SCOTCH ANECDOTES.

Many years ago a newly arrived Highlander was being shown the sights of Glasgow by a friend. As they crossed a street they saw in the distance a dense crowd of people, and the newcomer asked what it meant. He was told that there was a man being hanged for sheep stealing. He looked aghast and exclaimed: "Ochan, Ochan; hanging a man for stealing sheeps! Could he no' ha bocht them and no peyed for them?"

In a country parish in the west of Scotland the minister's man was a noted pessimist, whose only consolation to his friends in any calamity consisted in the remark, "It micht hae been waur." One morning he was met by the minister, who told him that he had had such a terrible dream that he had not yet been able to shake off the effects of it. "I dreamt I was in hell, and experienced the torments of the lost. I never suffered such agony in my life, and even now I shudder when I think of it." The beadle's usual consolatory remark came out, "It micht hae been waur." "Oh, John, John, I tell you it was the greatest mental distress I ever suffered in my life. How could it have been worse." "It micht hae been true," was the reply.

Doctor Sloan, of Ayr, about forty years ago, told me that a friend of his had gone not long before to see the parish minister of Craigie, near Kilmarnock, and finding him for the moment engaged, had turned into the churchyard, where he sauntered past the sexton, who was at work digging a grave. As the clergyman was detained some time, the visitor walked to and fro along the path, and at length noticed that the sexton's eyes were pretty constantly fixed upon him. . . . . At length he stopped, and, addressing the grave digger, asked, "What the deil are yé staring at me for? Ye needna tak' the measure o' me, if that's what you're ettlin' at, for we bury at Riccarton."

A country doctor who was attending a laird instructed the butler of the house in the art of taking and recording his master's temperature with a thermometer. On repairing to the house one morning he was met by the butler, to whom he said, "Well, John, I hope the laird's temperature is not any higher today." The man looked puzzled for a moment, and then replied: "Weel, I was just wonderin' that mysel'. Ye see he died at twai o'clock."

DIED TOGETHER TO ESCAPE POVERTY

Two Sisters Commit Suicide Leaving a Strange Bequest.

New York, November 14.—Locked in each other's arms on the bare floor of a dismantled flat in East 51st street, from which they had been dispossessed on Friday, two sisters, Louise and Valerie Abel, 44 and 38 years of age respectively, were found dead yesterday. In the mouth of each was a ruber tube, whichconnected with the chandelier.

In the hand of the younger woman was an open letter, written in German which stated that the sisters had decided to die together, afater talking over the matter for a week, and requesting that they be buried in one grave.

"For this consideration," the letter continued, "we give our bodies for the benefit of medical science."

The two women had failed to pay the rent for the flat they occupied, and on Friday were dispossessed. At the same time their furniture, which they had bought from an instalment company, had been taken from them, and they had been given permission by the janitor to remain in the flat over Sunday.

SPECIAL SERMON TO THE YOUNG FOLK

Rev. G. O. Salton, of Ottawa, Addressed Sunday School Children.

"Ships' Signals" was the subject of an address to little folk by Rev. G. A. Salter, of Dominion Church, Ottawa, at St. James Methodist Church yesterday morning.

The occasion was the 87th anniversary of the St. James Sunday schools, and a large number of the pupils were present. After the responsive lesson, the children of the primary department rendered a chorus.

Rev. Mr. Salton spoke from the text in Ezekiel, "Tyre is a ship perfected in beauty. . . Her rowers have taken her into great waters; the east wind has broken her in the midst of the seas." Tyre was likened to a ship, decked gaily with silken sails and manned by her governors. These had guided the ship badly and she was wrecked.

Each human being was a vessel, and if he or she ventured into evil companionship the result would be disastrous. Each of the children present had launched out into the sea of life. The captain of the ship was Christ; the Bible was the pilot, and conscience the compass that told whether the right course was being followed. The anchor of the good ship was hope, the sails were faith, and the cargo that was to be cared for so faithfully was the human soul.

Ships at sea when they wished to exchange messages, used a certain code of signals. The speaker illustrated his remarks with the various flags used by sailors for signalling from one vessel to another. A combination of certain three letters signified "make ready for sailing." The children should make good preparations for their voyage by obedience, by being truthful, and by being pure.

Another signal was "make for the port indicated." Heaven was the port of all sailors on the sea of life, and they must not swerve from their course. Among the other signals with direct bearing on life were "dangerous without a polit," "want a pilot," and many others. From each of these the speaker drew the lesson to be applied by the children just setting out on the stormy voyage.

In the afternoon Rev. Mr. Salton addressed the members of the Sunday schools on the subject, "A Strange Prison." An interesting programme of music was also rendered. The evening subject, by the same speaker, was "Glory and How to Win it," an address especially directed to the needs of young people.

ANOTHER RAILWAY TRACK FATALITY NEAR MONTREAL

James Monahan a man about thirty-five years of age, residing at Point St. Charles, was struck by a Grand Trunk train at Dixie yesterday morning and killed. Monahan was walking on the track with James Harvey and another companion when the train arrived.

Harvey was held by the police as a witness but the third man disappeared, and it is not known who he was. Coroner MacMahon will hold an inquest at the morgue this afternoon.

The Tunisian arrived in port Saturday evening after passage of 7 days, 2 hours, having been slightly delayed by heavy weather. £16 were colected on board at two concerts given by the passengers on behalf of the Liverpool Seamen's orphanage. She brought 74 first, 150 second, and 614 third class passengers from Liverpool.

Hamlin, Mitchell & Fields have engaged Miss May Robson to play one of the principal parts in their production of Victor Herbert and Glen MacDonough's musical play, entitled "It Happened in Nordland," which will dedicate the new Lew M. Fields Theatre Nov. 28.

"Woodland," Henry W. Savage's production of the Pixley and Luders fantasy of the forest, is now making a brief tour of the Northwest, after a long run in Chicago. "Woodland" will enter upon an indefinite run at the New York Theatre, New York city, on Nov. 21. This is one of the largest attractions under Mr. Savage's management and the most unique one in many ways. All the scenes are laid in a forest, and all the characters are birds. The prima donna is a nightingale and the soubrette is a wren, etc.

Pain Across the Kidneys For Three Years.

Suffered Great Agony. Could Not Stoop or Bend.

No disease is so quiet and stealthy in its approach as kidney disease. That is why it is so dangerous. It may become deep-seated before you realize the danger.

It is therefore of great importance to recognize the early warning symptoms, because in its early stage kidney disease is easily curable. Pain or dull ache in the back is one of the first signs. So are bladder pains, bearing-down pains, smarting sensation when urinating, frequent or suppressed urination, and gravel or sediment in the urine, etc. You cannot be well if your kidneys are not performing their functions properly. In all ordinary cases of any derangement of the kidneys, a few doses of will put the patient right; in old or chronic cases, the treatment should be persisted in.

Mr. Michael A. McInnis, Woodbine, Marion Bridge, N.S., tells of his experience: "For the last three years I suffered great agony with pain across my kidneys, and was so bad that I could not stoop or bend. I consulted and had several doctors treat me, but I got none the better. On the advice of a friend I procured a box of that valuable life-giving remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, and to my surprise and benefit I immediately became better. In my opinion Doan's Kidney Pills have no equal as a cure for any form of Kidney disease.

Price 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25. All dealers, or direct by mail.

LATE PROFESSOR OF M'GILL IS DEAD

Exactly Fifty Years Ago He Began to Teach in That University.

Dr. Duncan Campbell MacCallum, emeritus professor of midwifery at McGill University, died yesterday at his residence, 844 Dorchester street, in his 81st year. He had been connected with that university since 1854.

The late professor, who was of pure Highland extraction, was born in 1825 at Isle aux Noix, Que. He graduated M.D. at McGill in 1825, continued his studies at London, Edinburgh and Dublin, and was admitted M.R.C.S. of England in 1851. Returning to Canada, he entered medical practice in Montreal, and was appointed demonstrator of anatomy at the university in 1854. He had accordingly been half a century at McGill.

In 1856 he was promoted to the chair of clinical surgery, and four years later to the chair of clinical surgery and medical jurisprudence. In 1868 he was appointed professor of midwifery and the diseases of women and children. That position he held until 1893, when he retired, and was made professor emeritus. Thus for the long period of thirty years he was actively engaged in the teaching of his profession.

Dr. MacCallum was for a long time visiting physician to the Montreal General Hospital, and latterly was chairman of the medical board. He had charge of the lying-in Hospital, and was physician to the Harvey Institute for children.

The late professor took a warm interest in the literature of his profession, and was a frequent contributor to the British-American Surgical Journal, and the Canadian Medical Journal. In conjunction with Dr. William Wright he established and edited the Medical Chronicle. His "Reminiscences of the Medical School of McGill University attracted considerable attention.

Dr. MacCallum married, in 1867, Miss Mary Josephine, daughter of the late Mr. Hypolite Guy, a judge of the Superior Court of Quebec. He leaves a widow and five children. His four daughters are Mrs. T. Starkey, Mrs. E. Desbarats, Mrs. D. Shepherd, and Miss MacCallum, and his only son, Mr. Duncan Guy MacCallum, is a medical student at McGill University.

THE TIME INOPPORTUNE FOR MEDIATION EFFORTS

France Will Not Interfere at All at the Present Stage of the War.

Paris, Nov. 14.—The reports of attempted mediation in the war in the Far East have again made it plain that France does not consider the time opportune to exert influence singly or jointly to induce Russia to make or accept terms. At the same moment that the rumors were circulating in various capitals that France intended to act, M. Delcasse, the Foreign Minister, was pointing out to diplomatic callers that efforts at mediation would be futile.

The ambassador said: "It is profoundly regrettable that the parties did not heed your advice towards averting the present slaughter."

"Yes," answered M. Delcasse, "but all my efforts were in vain."

The ambassador then asked: "Cannot anything be done to terminate the war?"

M. Delcasse replied with an expression of deep regret: "No, I am sorry to say that it appears nothing can be done at this time."

Although brief, this is accepted as showing that Russia's best friends have not entertained any present prospect of mediation.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

F. X. St. Charles & Co. Retiring From the Retail Trade.

The old established firm of F. X. St. Caarles & Co., grocers and provision merchants, of St. Lawrence Street, are retiring from the retail trade to-day by moving into their new and commodious premises on St. Gabriel Street, where they will carry on the wholesale trade exclusively.

The history of the firm is an interesting one. It was established in 1860 by Messrs. Dufresne and McGarrity, under whose name the business was carried on until 1876, when it was changed to Messrs. Dufresne & Mongenais. In 1893, Mr. F. X. St. Charles, who was, at that time, head accountant, joined the firm as a junior partner and the name was changed to Dufresne, Mongenais & St. Charles. Three years later, after the death of Mr. Dufresne, Mr. St. Charles became sole proprietor, as he is to-day. During the forty-four years of its existence, the business has grown into a great concern and among the many firms, from whom Mr. St. Charles is sole agent for Canada, the following can be mentioned:—The great Chartreuse concern of Voiron, Robert Bouche & Co., B. Leon Croizet, G. Meme, J. Dupont & Co., cognac, of France; White Rock Mineral Spring Company, who took the grand prize at St. Louis Exposition; Meneres & Co., of Oporto, who also took a grand prize for port wine; the Schlitz Brewing Co., Milwaukee, and dozens of other firms of equal importance.

The business at St. Lawrence Street has been taken over by Messrs. Raymond Bros., who have been connected with the working of the firm for a number of years, and the store, which for over forty years has been so well-known, will remain as before, excepting for the name.

DISRAELI'S DEBTS.

Benjamin Disraeli, Lord Beaconsfield, Premier of England, was noted for his nonchalance and what would be called in American slang "nerve." One time when he was still a young man he was driving with Sir Philip Rose to Shrewsbury, where, at the general election, he had been nominated as the Conservative candidate for Parliament. As they neared the borough Sir Philip noticed a large poster, stopped the carriage, and, calling his friend's attention to it, remarked: "It is something about you." Disraeli read the words printed in large letters: "Judgment debts of Benjamin Disraeli, Tory candidate for Shrewsbury." Underneath was a list of debts upon which judgments had been signed. This he perused carefully. Then he turned to Sir Philip and said placidly: "How accurate it is! Now let us go on or we shall be late." He won the election.—Exchange.

TO TRAIN ANGLICAN CLERGY AT DURHAM

Rev. J. Wakeford, of Liverpool, Appealed for Funds at St. Johns.

"We urge you churchmen of this great continent to interweavt your energy with our antiquity," said Rev. John Wakeford, of Anfield, Liverpool, in the course of a powerful appeal on behalf of St. Chadds College, Durham, that old cathedral city which dates back 1,007 years. The colitge has been established, in connection with the university, for nearly fifty years, for the purpose of training candidates for the ministry.

Mr. Wakeford, who came as a delegate from the English episcopate, has been travelling some 10,000 miles upon this continent. His own parish contains 10,000 souls, and those who heard his sermons in the Church of St. John the Evangelist, upon its twenty-fifth dedication anniversary, now understand why his Liverpool church has over 900 communicants. A powerful voice is aided by that vigorous delivery and forceful phraseology which commands attention and inspires faith.

This evening a meeting will be held in the school room of St. John's at 8 o'clock to hear an address from Mr. Wakeford upon the details of his work, at which discussion is invited.

In the morning the text was taken from Nehemiah iv., 17, which deals with the building of the second temple at Jerusalem after the captivity, when the workers were compelled to carry a weapon in the one hand to resist those who sought to interrupt their pious labors. From the fact that the first work undertaken by the people under Nehemiah and Esra was the raising of the altar, then of the outer courts of the temple, then of the walls of the city, for the protection of all, and only lastly did the people attend to individual comfort in the building of homes, the preacher drew the lesson that "the creature comforts of the animal man" must not be put in the first place as is the tendency of this later age. He quoted passages from Scripture in which the warnings were constantly repeated to "endure hardness" to "rejoice in tribulation." And he dwelt upon the tendency of the great Anglo-Saxon peoples, as they grew greater and enjoyed more luxuries than their forefathers, to grow more shallow and superficial in thought; more inclined to that materialism which was the deadly foe of the inevitable, wholesome discipline and self-denial which must mark the individual career of the people of God.

As Tertullian had said: "Christianity is not hereditary; parents cannot transmit the Divine spark"; it must be kindled by prayer and prayer would bring faith and hope, even in the darkest hour.

In the course of his address, Mr. Wakeford stated that a journalist, who had made an elaborate analysis of the great Dictionary of Biography, followed by one of the popular reference book, "Who's Who," found that 52 per cent. of the persons mentioned therein were sons of the clergy. He instanced Lord Curzon and Cecil Rhodes as cases in point in connection with an argument pleading for the support of special training colleges and illustrating the necessity of a study of the dead languages and of the physical man as essential to the preacher of the Gospel.

In the evening Mr. Wakeford spoke from the 16th verse, II. Kings, iii., 16, upon the remarkable interview of King Job with Elisha when the latter lay "a dying," and instructed the King to take bow and arrows and to "open the window eastward and shoot," and later on to "smite the ground with the arrows."

The allegorical lessons were graphically enforced that Christianity was an aggressive force at war with the world at large as was Joab against the Syrians. Joash stayed his hand when he had smitten thrice; had he smitten five or six times his enemies would have been routed; instead, he was himself overwhelmed.

"Thorough" must be the motto. St. Augustine defined religion as "the vital connection between the individual soul and God." The age more and more resents discipline, restraint and the strict observance of the bonds of family life there can be no Christianity. "Restraint is the secret nerve of power." Steam must be confined or restrained before it can become a propelling force.

"There is either fidelity or infidelity at work in each mind." "race is forever stultifying mathematics." With many telling phrases Mr. Wakeford illustrated his sermons, and he quoted a letter written by Mr. Gladstone toward the end of his great career, in which the statesman said: "I am convinced that the future of the human race depends, in the main, upon the great question of belief and that the most special and urgent of present needs is the need of sufficient means for the effective promotion of Divine learning."

Incidentally, Mr. Wakeford mentioned that the present Dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, noted for his organizing powers, attributes his success in church work to his having been some time at the desk of a shipping office in Liverpool.

The visiting governors to the Montreal general hospital this week are Jno. R. Hersey, T. C. Brainerd, Alderman H. A. Ekers, H. B. Picken.

One Million Dollars

Have Been Spent to Give Liquozone Free to the Sick.

When we purchased the rights to Liquozone, we decided to buy the first bottle and give it free to each sick one we learned of. We published the offer in nearly every newspaper in America, and 1,800,000 people have accepted it. In one year it has cost us over one million dollars to announce and fulfill the offer.

Don't you realize that a product must have wonderful merit to make such an offer possible? We have never asked a soul to buy Liquozone. We have published no testimonials, no physician's endorsement. We have simply asked the sick to try it—try it at our expense. And that is all we ask you, if you need it.

Kills Inside Germs

Liquozone is not made by compounding drugs, nor is there alcohol in it. Its virtues are derived solely from gas—largely oxygen gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time. This process has, for more than 20 years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research.

The result is a liquid that does what oxygen does. It is a nerve food and blood food—the most helpful thing in the world to you. Its effects are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. The reason is that germs are vegetables; and Liquozone—like an excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetal matter.

There lies the great value of Liquozone. It is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease. It is this fact that gives Liquozone its worth to humanity. And that worth is so great that, after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals, we paid $100,000 for the American rights.

Germ Diseases

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquozone attacks the germs, wherever they are. And when the germs which cause a disease are destroyed the disease must end, and forever. That is inevitable.

Hon. J. C. McCorkill Was Again the Choice of Brome County Liberals

Nominating Convention at Knowlton on Saturday Was Characterized by the Utmost Harmony and Enthusiasm—No Other Name Was Presented.

(Staff Correspondence of The Herald.)

Knowlton, Que., Nov. 14.—Brome Liberals held a nominating convention here on Saturday afternoon to select a candidate for the Legislature. Hon. J. C. McCorkill, Provincial Treasurer, was the unanimous choice. Not one dissenting voice was heard, the entire proceedings being conducted with the utmost unanimity, harmony and enthusiasm.

Brome Liberals are a fighting organization. Whether there is to be a contest or not this time, they are prepared. Their armor is strong and well polished. They have just came through a victorious campaign, returning Hon. Mr. Fisher by the splendid majority of nearly 900. What they have done, they can do again. If an opponent is put up at the last moment, they won't be caught napping. In fact they would rather like a fight. This laying down of arms by the Conservative leader and his doughty lieutenants meets with nothing but contempt from men who have known the taste of repeated defeats. To them in the old days it was an incentive to greater effort.

A REPRESENTATIVE CONVENTION.

The convention, which was held in town hall, was an extremely representative one. From every portion of the riding came two accredited delegates, with generally one or two other stalwarts to bear them company. They were there from Fulford and Eastman in the extreme north, and from Mansonville and Glen Sutton on the south, and every man of them came to testify his appreciation of Mr. McCorkill, and to tender the minister his support. There were over one hundred delegates present, the picked leaders of Liberalism in Brome, men who have fought a good fight for a score and upwards of years. There were veterans there who were middle-aged men when Hon. Mr. Fisher first entered politics, but the burden of years has not lessened their enthusiasm for the Liberal cause, nor diminished their ardor for a fight. It was no small tribute to the Provincial Treasurer that this body of men acclaimed his candidature with a fervor intense and unmistakable.

THIS YEAR AND LAST.

Mr. McCorkill's position, indeed, was much different from what it was a year ago, when he was first nominated in Brome. At that time he had just accepted the treasurership, much against his inclinations. It was only his strong sense of public duty which made him accept the responsible post. He was then comparatively unfamiliar with the provincial finances, and almost wholly with the administration of his department. More than that, he came over from Missisquoi to Brome to ask the men of Brome to elect him to succeed Hon. Mr. Duffy, then and to-day a well-loved figure. He was unacquainted with many of them; he had no record as an administrator to present. At all that, he was elected by a large majority.

On Saturday all that was changed. He came not only as their former member asking a renewal of confidence, but as a minister who in one year had achieved a great administrative address. He was able to announce that in that one year there was a greater surplus than has been. His presentation of the budget last spring lacked nothing of the clearness and completeness of his predecessor's work. Brome is still proud of its two ministers.

MINISTERS IN GOOD FORM.

The feature of the convention outside of the striking unanimity which prevailed, was the addresses of Hon. Mr. Fisher, and Hon. Mr. McCorkill. The nomination itself was, as a matter of course. Both Ministers were in fine form, and delivered rousing addresses. One was fresh from a great victory, not only in his own county, but as leader in the Eastern Townships. The other was the representative of Government so strong that its opponents sulked in their tents and refused to enter the combat. Mr. Fisher devoted his remarks largely to comment on the general result of the elections, thanking the electors for their splendid work on his behalf, and pointing out the necessity of organizing now just as if there wer a big fight on hand. They couldn't be certain until Friday afternoon. Mr. McCorkill's address was an admirable effort, both in manner and matter. His review of the provincial situation was a masterly one, and his scathing comment on the "manifesto" campaign was most effective.

MAY GO BY DEFAULT.

There is not likely to be a contest. The Conservatives hold a convention to-morrow, but the general impression is that they will abide by the manifesto. They have been making strenuous efforts to get Mr. John Draper, of Sutton, to run as an Independent Liberal, with their support, but Mr. Draper was at the Liberal convention and voted for Mr. McCorkill. Moreover he prophesied that the latter would be elected by acclamation on Friday next.

Mr. H E. Williams, of Knowlton, president of the Brome Liberal Association, accupied the chair. He at once called upon Hon. Mr. Fisher to address the convention.

Hon. Mr. Fisher Reviewed the General Results

The Minister of Agriculture was received with continued cheering. At the outset of his address he thanked them from the bottom of his heart for rolling up such a magnificent majority for him on Nov. 3. When the campaign opened, as a Minister he was obliged to take part in other counties, and so could not take the active personal part in his own county, which they reasonably might have expected. But he had appealed to the men who had won many victories, and they responded nobly. He had been with them only after nomination day, the easiest part of the fight, but the result was that his opponent just missed losing his deposit by thirty votes.

The result in Brome was repeated throughout the Dominion. Sir Wilfrid Laurier is the idol of the country. The people of Cannada believe in him, so returned him to power with a magnificent majority He deserved it. He is a great statesman and an honest man, devoted to his country, and a patriot of the highest type. He has received a greater mandate than any public man Canada ever had. Sir John A. Macdonald was returned to power several times, but he never had the heart of Canada with him as Sir Wilfrid has. (Cheers.)

It could not longer be said by their opponents that the Liberals held power through their Quebec majority. He had never been ashamed of that. The French vote was honest and patriotic. The Liberals have that vote still, but over and above that they have a big majority in the other provinces. Their only loss was in Quebec, and that was because they had all of it before, and in the nature of things were bound to lose a little. As it is they have a clear majority of forty-one in this province. Outside of Quebec they have a majority of over twenty. (Cheers.)

Mr. Fisher expressed extreme satisfaction over the results in the Eastern Townships. During the campaign they didn't hear much of the Dundonald affair. (Laughter.) People down here knew much about that. The local Conservatives knew better than to make it an issue. Liberals all over Canada had been afraid of the result in this district. They feared for his return in Brome. (Laughter.) You may laugh, but it is true. They know better now. The only county where the question was discussed was Compton. (Cheers.) The result was that for the first time in fifty-one years that county went Liberal. Mr. Pope had undertaken to drive the speaker out of public life. He was himself defeated by nearly 300 majority.

HON. J. C. McCORKILL,

Provincial Treasurer, who was Re-nominated for the Legislature on Saturday by the Liberals of Brome.

The Dundonald Issue Proved a Boomerang

At Ottawa where the Dundonald question had been simply torn to shreds, where they had a special Dundonald Day, etc., the Liberal candidates were returned by the largest majorities any Liberal candidate ever received there. So it was in Glengarry, where Lord Dundonald was offered the nomination. In Nova Scotia, the home of Mr. Fielding and Sir Frederick Borden, where the people are mostly Scotch, what happened? (Cheers.) There was not a single Conservative returned, and Sir Frederick's opponent lost his deposit. The Dundonald matter was overdone. The Conservatives had no real questions to present, and no general policy, and the electors properly repudiated such futile and ignorant appeals to prejudice.

THE G. T. P. APPROVED.

The general policy of the Government had been endorsed, and the G.T.P. project approved. From East to West the verdict was in our favor. We have today a mandate in a larger way than any Government ever had to carry out that great railway project which is to build up Canada, and insure a continuance of progress and prosperity.

The speaker then referred briefly to the results in the neighboring counties. The redeeming of Compton had been in no small degree due to the work of four young Liberals who had gone in there to conduct the Liberal campaign. One of these was a Brome boy, Mr. Egbert Westover (applause). In Missisquoi, Hon. Mr. McCorkill had done splendid work as head of the Liberal organization. He regretted the defeat of Messrs. Maclaren and Christie in Huntingdon and Argenteuil. At Ottawa the other day Sir Wilfrid had given him the following message for the Eastern Townships: "My thanks and appreciation of general result. You did nobly." (Cheers.)

REFERENCE TO PROVINCIAL TOPICS.

Reverting to provincial affairs, Mr Fisher said he had no quarrel with the "manifesto." If the Conservatives chose to abdicate their functions they must answer for it. It was not the custom of Liberals in the days gone by. There had been in the province for some time a Liberal Government. It had conducted a clean, stable, economical administration, and had kept expenditure within the revenue. It was of the utmost importance to continue this regime. There are a group of men, in the larger cities, who have combined to rob the province, through franchise-grabbing, etc. It is of the utmost importance in this crisis when party ties are drawn loosely that men of experience and integrity should be elected to defend the treasury. In Mr. McCorkill the people of Brome had such a candidate. It was essential he should remain Treasurer (cheers). He had done his full duty by the county and province and would continue to do so.

Nomination was then proceeded with. Dr. Cutter, of Sutton, proposed the name of Hon. J. C. McCorkill, and this was seconded by delegates from every section of the county. It was declared carried by a standing vote.

Hon. Mr. McCorkill Scored the Manifesto

Upon rising to accept the nomination Mr. McCorkill was greeted with "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." He thanked them for the unanimous nomination, and for his nomination and election a year ago. He had been sent to Quebec with a strong mandate. He understood the difficulties, responsibilities and duties ahead of him, and had filled them to the best of his ability. At the present moment there was grave danger ahead. The trusts were trying to get hold of the Legislature just as many state Legislatures across the border are in the hands of the trusts. This had been going on for several years. He had them in the Legislative Council and fought them last year as Treasurer. It was extremely important that there should be men in the Legislature, who realized the danger of Trusts domination and would fight it. For himself he had a reputation of being an enemy of the trusts and would live up to it. He believed in the rights of the whole people, and would do his best to conserve them. If elected he would continue to represent the entire people.

The speaker then turned his attention to the manifesto, which he handled without gloves. The Cabinet decided to dissolve the House in order to find if the people approved of the four years administration. Last year there were two Conservative organizers in Brome, who told the electors why they should not support the candidate of the Parent Government. They denounced Mr. Parent and his Government in the strongest terms. There had been another session since then, and these men had another year in which to prepare and present their charges to the electorate. They were ready to fight a year ago but now what happens. Hon. Mr. Flynn says they haven't had time to get ready to fight. That contention is childish. Some even characterized it as cowardly.

WHAT INDUCED THE MANIFESTO.

Mr. McCorkill says he understood the reason for it. Mr. Flynn couldn't get elected in a single seat in the province. Certainly not in his old constituency, Nicolet, where Mr. Lemieux was returned with a big majority. That showed what was coming to Mr. Flynn. (Laughter.) He issued the manifesto instead (cheers) The Conservative member for Wolfe approved it, why? Because Mr. Tobin has just been elected there by 1,400 majority. He has no use for Wolfe. He prefers the manifesto. (Laughter). Mr. L. P. Pelletier adopted the same course. The Liberals used to take defeat differently (Cheers). Would Sir Wilfrid Laurier be where he is to-day if, in 1891 he had issued a manifesto? That is not the kind of stuff we are made of.

RECORD OF THE GOVERNMENT.

"Hon. Mr. Parent asks for a renewal of confidence. I am here as his representative and member of his Government. It has been charged that Mr. Parent is not an orator. I admit he is not a Sir Wilfrid Laurier, but there is only one Sir Wilfrid in the British Empire. (Cheers.) Mr. Parent is a business man and an able administrator. He has the confidence of financers. Provincial Government is largely a matter of bookkeeping. The question is, are you satisfied with the present administration of affairs, and are you going to retain it or go back to the era of extravagance which prevailed from 1892 to 1897? In those five years there was over $1,000,000 deficits besides increased taxes. In their last year the deficit was $900,000, now there is a surplus each year. I am happy to say that in the year ending June 30 last there was the large surplus of $135,000. We have also reduced the debt of the province, and increased grants to public services without increasing the taxes. In the five years of Conservative rule, the average yearly grant to agriculture was $180,000. From 1897 to 1901 it was $194,000 and from 1901 to 1902, $221,600. Similar grants to public instruction had been increased from $397,000 to $472,000 and to colonization from $106,455 to $114,188. It has been charged against us that these amounts are not high enough. The reason why they are not is because out of our total revenue of $4,800,000 we have to pay an interest account on the public debt of $1,600,600."

Mr. McCorkill next dealt at some length with the great benefit to the province which would follow the opening up of the northern districts by the G.T.P. Colonization would follow the railroad. There was a magnificent country to the north, which only required opening up. He closed with a few words on organization.

SOME OTHER SPEAKERS.

Mr. Egbert Westover followed. He referred to the rumor that he had aspired to be a candidate, and said that it was started by the Conservatives, in order to create dissension in the Liberal ranks. They would be disappointed. There was no Liberal split in Brome. They were all proud to have Mr. McCorkill represent the county, and he would be returned by an overwhelming majority. Mr. Westover's remarks were enthusiastically received.

Mr. J. C. Draper, of Sutton, referred to the lack of educational facilities for farmers' sons in the province, and wanted to see a fine agricultural college, similar to the one at Guelph, built. He believed that Mr. McCorkill would be elected by acclamation.

Hon. Mr. Fisher announced that through the generosity of Sir William Macdonald such an institution was already under way. It would be located on Montreal Island.

After short bright speeches by Mr. Lamoureux and C. C. Cotton, of Sweetsburg, and Rev. E. M. Taylor, of Knowlton, the convention closed with cheers for the King and candidate.

GRAND TRUNK DOUBLY HONORED

Awarded Two Gold Medals at the World's Fair, St. Louis.

St. Louis, Nov. 14.—(Special.)—The Grand Trunk Railway system has been awarded two gold medals by the Superior Jury for its exhibit in the Fish and Game building. These are given under the classification in the fishing and hunting groups.

Every visitor to the World's Fair concedes that the Grand Trunk pavilion in the Fish and Game building is one of the most artistic in that department, and its unique conception has attracted marked attention since the opening of the fair. The exterior of the pavilion is constructed with an eye to architectural beauty, and is ornamented with largep hotgraphic pictures 54 x 78 inches, of scenes in the several summer resort districts and fishing and hunting confines in Canada, surmounted by a series of some of the finest deer and moose heads that were obtainable from the Canadian forests. The interior of the pavilion is also artistically arranged with other large photgraphs, together with oil paintings and mounted fish and game, with Multilens mutoscopes projecting moving picture scenes along the line of the railway. One of the leading features of the exhibit is a specimen moose head with sixty-six-inch antlers spread, said to be one of the largest in the world.

H. R. Charlton, advertising agent for the Grand Trunk, is responsible for the conception of this splendid booth, and the work of installation was done under his immediate supervision. R. Mc. Smith, southern passenger agent and special representative of the Grand Trunk at the fair, shares with him the honor awarded to the Grand Trunk.

THANKSGIVING RECITAL.

Professor Dussault, organist of Notre Dame Church will give an exceedingly interesting programme of organ works at the recital to be given on the evening of Thanksgiving Day in the new Olivet Baptist Church, Dorchester street. The selections will include movements from Widor's 1st, 4th, 6th and 7th Symphonies, and special interest is attached to these numbers from the fact that Professor Dussault pursued his organ studies under the composer.

The programme will afford an opportunity to bring out the best effects of this magnificent instrument. The choir will sing a Harvest Anthem, and a vocal duet will be given by Miss Adelaide Patterson and Mrs. Arthur Hugman, late of the Carlton street Church, Toronto.

AN OBJECT LESSON

In a Restaurant.

A physician puts the query: Have you never noticed in any large restaurant at lunch or dinner time the large number of hearty, vigorous old men at the tables; men whose ages run from sixty to eighty years, many of them bald and all perhaps gray, but none of them feeble or senile?

Perhaps the spectacle is so common as to have escaped your observation or comment, but nevertheless it is an object lesson which means something.

If you will notice what these hearty old fellows are eating, you will observe that they are not munching bran crackers nor gingerly picking their way through a menu card of new fangled health foods; on the contrary they seem to prefer a juicy roast of beef, a properly turned loin of mutton, and even the deadly broiled lobster is not altogether ignored.

The point of all this is that a vigorous old age depends upon good digestion and plenty of wholesome food, and not upon dieting and an endeavor to live upon bran crackers.

There is a certain class of food cranks who seem to believe that meat, coffee and many other good things are rank poisons, but these cadaverous sickly looking individuals are a walking condemnation of their own theories.

The matter in a nutshell is that if the stomach secretes the natural digestive juices in sufficient quantity, any wholesome food will be promptly digested; if the stomach does not do so and certain foods cause distress, one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal will remove all difficulty, because they supply just what every weak stomach lacks, pepsin, hydro-chloric acid, diatase and nux.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do not act upon the bowels, and in fact are not strictly a medicine, as they act almost entirely upon the food eaten, digesting it thoroughly and thus giving the stomach a much needed rest and an appetite for the next meal.

Of people who travel, nine out of ten use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, knowing them to be perfectly safe to use at any time and also having found out by experience that they are a safeguard against indigestion in any form, and eating as they have to, at all hours and all kinds of food, the travelling public for years have pinned their faith to Stuart's Tablets.

All druggists sell them at 50 cents for full-sized packages, and any druggist from Maine to California, if his opinion were asked, will say that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the most popular and successful remedy for any stomach trouble.

HOPE TO MAKE CHINA ONE OF THE GREAT NATIONS

Men of the Celestial Empire Addressed by His Excellency Kong Yu Wei in Knox Church.

An address, on the subject of reform, was delivered to a large gathering of Chinese of the Montreal colony in Knox Church last evening by his Excellency Kang Yu Wei, president of the Chinese Empire Reform Association.

The Chinese came in such large numbers that the lower hall, where it had been the intention of holding the meeting, was found to be too small to accommodate the gathering, and it was decided to place the church proper at their disposal. From their boarding houses, restaurants, tea shops and laundries they poured in until they filled the body of the edifice from one end to the other.

Kang Yu Wei prefaced his remarks by contrasting the methods of Eastern and Western civilization, and advocated social and commercial reform more in keeping with Western ideas. The necessity for effective sanitary conditions was also urged on his fellow-countrymen, as being conducive to good health. He also abjured them to maintain their patriotism for their mother country, which, they hoped, by the introduction of more advanced ideas, to make one of the great nations of the earth. Japan was cited as a model in this connection.

AN ERROR OF JUDGMENT.

Every well-wisher of Hon. Mr. Parent—and their name is legion—will sincerely deplore the fact that, moved by considerations of loyalty to a party friend, he has endorsed the candidature of Hon. H. B. Rainville. Mr. Parent has given the city of Quebec the best administration it has ever had—progressive, economical and wise. He has given the Province of Quebec an administration that, in executive acts, has been above reproach. His whole public life has been marked by loyal public service, free from suspicion of selfishness or personal gain. As a consequence, he has won the confidence of all who appreciate clean, wholesome administration of civic and provincial affairs. To now endorse a man whose public career and public ideals have been the very antithesis of his own, is an act so wholly at variance with Mr. Parent's life and character that it must be looked on as one of those inexplicable mistakes that the best of men will make. The people of Montreal know Mr. Rainville as a man who has betrayed the trust they reposed in him, and they are naturally astounded at the sight of Mr. Parent, who has proved worthy of all the great trusts reposed in him, standing the sponsor of this unfaithful steward. Mr. Rainville may, as Mr. Parent says, have rendered much service to the Liberal party, but he is now appealing to his constituents whose interests he has betrayed into the hands of a giant corporation, and who cannot be expected to overlook this crime against them simply because the perpetrator of it has chosen to work his evil deeds under the banner of the Liberal party. Mr. Parent's loyalty to his political friends has, for the moment, blinded him to the facts of the situation as seen by Montreal eyes, but we are confident that he would not have lifted a finger in the matter had he understood that his action might be interpreted as an endorsation of civic unfaithfulness.

MR. RAINVILLE'S RECORD.

The splendid meeting held in support of Mr. Langlois in St. Louis division on Saturday night showed very clearly what is the feeling of the people towards Mr. Rainville, a feeling the depth and determination of which must have been all but unknown to Hon. Mr. Parent when he began to interest himself so actively in support of Mr. Rainville's candidature.

In Montreal we know Mr. Rainville's record rather too well. When he entered the City Council, now over twenty years ago, he was recognized as a man of much ability, near relative to one whose ability was already demonstrated. He worked his way to the front steadily, not rapidly; meantime entering the Legislature, where, however, he made no great appearance until his election as Speaker of the Assembly four years ago. It was in the City Council that he did his great work, such as it was.

After he had worked up through the muck in the course of years the opportunity came for his first great coup. When the contract with the Gas Company under which we now live, was made, he had become first, or at least the second, personage in the Council. Up to that time he had acted as a friend of municipal reform. He had effectively criticized some expropriation proposals, and had shown what looked like a genuine desire to get Montreal out of the difficulties into which recklessness had brought her. In the early stages of the debate over the gas contract he continued his role of useful critic. He resisted the demands of the company, and made much of the claims of a rival company. Then, suddenly, there was a change. The rival company disappeared. The old Company was given a contract on better terms, for the company, than anyone had ventured to expect. Mr. Rainville had seen the proposition in quite a new light. And so badly did his later correspond with his earlier course that he was at once challenged, and in good set terms, in his own ward. Mr. Laporte told on that ocasion a story of ups and downs in the price of gas stock, and of resulting profit to certain persons after the Council had changed its tone, that was the beginning of the end of Mr. Rainville's preeminence at the City Hall.

He was not, however, to leave without doing more mischief. Safely installed as chairman of the Finance Committee, he exercised a sinister influence over every branch of the civic service. The power of appropriating the city's money was largely in his hands, and he used that power to bend everybody, from his colleagues to the humblest employe, to his purposes. In the law department his influence was at its worst. It took years, after he was at last turned out, to empty the pigeon holes of documents stored away out of deference to his wish, and other years to clear the court records of cases that, thanks to him, had dragged on for years. In the Finance Committee in 1899 he brought about the famous transaction regarding the three million dollar loan, which, it was calculated, was effected with a direct loss to the city of nearly a quarter of a million dollars, which sum was divided amongst themselves by lucky investors. Mr. Rainville was at the height of his genius in the transaction; holding meetings in secret; cajoling this colleague; waiting for the absence of that one; putting in this tender; withdrawing that one; carrying about in his own pockets official documents bearing on the case; doing what he liked; suppressing what he liked; ultimately getting his way before the public knew what was going on; and then cynically defending the transaction as the best possible in the city's interest. In a way it was; for it made possible his crushing defeat by Mr. Lebeuf at the succeeding election, and he has never come back. Last year he threatened to try, but thought better of it. It is worth noting that his defeat for the City Council was made possible by the action of the same Liberals who have taken up the cudgels against him now.

His next exploit was at Quebec. He had been appointed Speaker of the Assembly, much against the wish of those who knew his municipal record. He has made, indeed, a very capable presiding officer. But the fears of those who knew him were more than justified when, on the introduction of the Montreal Light, Heat & Power Company's charter in 1901, he abandoned all pretence of official dignity, and personally directed the monopolists' lobby, against all the forces brought to bear by the City Council, the Council of Westmount, and by influential delegations of private citizens.

"To-day Mr. Rainville is the moving spirit in the lobby which aims to have the Legislature hand over the city to the tender mercies of a twenty million dollar monopoly. That he is in charge of the lobby at Quebec is indisputable. He will not deny it. He makes no secret of it. His name is in the bill as one of the applicants for the charter. The lawyers who are representing the promoters take their orders from him. Through his friends in both Houses, and on the committees of both Houses, he controls all that is done. It is he, Speaker of the Assembly, who alone is able to say for the promoters whether a stated amendment will be assented to or not. It is he who directs the operations whereby the telegraph wires are kept hot with messages from shareholders in any or all of the Forget group of syndicates to members to vote in favor of the bill under discussion. Talk about the evils of the lobby! Is it not about time for the public to call a halt when the Speaker of the Legislative Assembly is the chief of the biggest lobby ever known at Quebec?"

And this is the man who, having done his work all too well, comes to Montreal to demand re-election. Possibly Mr. Parent forgot all this, or underestimated the resentment felt in Montreal, when he came to Mr. Rainville's defence. As the head of a good administration in Quebec City, Mr. Parent can hardly, when he comes to understand the matter, ask anybody to vote for the head of the monopolists' lobby.

MONTREAL LABOR POLITICS.

Some of the younger leaders in local labor circles have started a movement to place labor candidates for the provincial parliament in some of the Montreal constituencies. This movement appears to be based, not on the existence of any well-defined demand among trade unionists for labor representation, but rather on the hope that support will be forthcoming from other quarters. The expectation is that the labor candidates will be supported by La Presse, La Patrie, and possibly the Star, and that the assistance of these journals will enable the labor candidates to slip in between the candidates of the monopolies and the progressive Liberals. What foundation there is for such an expectation does not appear. In fact, on the face of it, it is unreasonable. La Presse is apparently controlled by the monopolists, and is hardly likely to support labor candidates, who, if they are to be true to their programme, would oppose private monopoly of civic franchises in all its forms. And, whatever course the Star may adopt, the value of its support would be highly problematical. A movement inaugurated under these circumstances, a movement relying, not on the desire of workingmen for direct representation, but on illusive expectations of interested support from other quarters, would seem to be ill-timed and ill-advised.

It seems paradoxical to claim for candidates put up under such circumstances the title of labor candidates. At any rate, it is significant that the men who have done most to build up the trade union movement in Montreal decline to have anything to do with this haphazard incursion into the political arena.

Many English speaking labor leaders in the city are in favor of the organization of an independent labor party, but not a single English speaking labor leader has identified himself with this movement. The older heads hold that these spasmodic efforts to secure labor representation only weaken the position of trade unionism. Without organization, without funds, it is impossible to properly contest an election. A movement launched a few weeks before an election can never be convincing, and it will never enlist the interest, much less the active support, of the great bulk of workingmen.

The history of the labor movement in England shows this. After sixty years of spasmodic and systemless effort to secure labor representation, a bare bakers dozen of labor leaders have been returned to parliament. And practically all these men, with the exception of Keir Hardie, sat at St. Stephens as the representatives of the Radical wing of the Liberal party rather than as representatives of trade union men. They owed their election to the fact they had done something to command the support of the Radicals, as much as to the fact that they stood for the interests of workingmen. Even to-day John Burns, Henry Broadhurst, Richard Bell and others are Radical first and labor representatives afterwards. Indeed, John Burns holds no official position in the labor movement.

The fact is, that before the Taff Vale Railway decision forced trade unionists to go into politics in order to protect their funds, the great majority of British workmen were not interested in the question of labor representation. Since, however, the need of having representatives at Westminster has been brought home to them, they have organized a political party and are going into politics on a business basis.

In 1899 the Labor Representation Committee was formed, and now a million and a half of trade unionists, and probably as many more co-operators are assessing themselves to provide funds to run labor candidates. Since its formation the committee has contested a number of bye elections, returning its candidates in some instances by sweeping majorities. It has realized and demonstrated the value of organization and funds. In England it costs from £350 to £700 to run a candidate, and in every constituency there are scores of socialist and labor societies which carry on a great deal of campaign work voluntarily. If it costs the English workmen $1800 or $3500 to conduct an effective campaign, the inference is that in Montreal, owing to the dual language, labor men would have to expend considerably more to secure the return of their candidates. And yet there are some men who propose to contest half a dozen divisions without an organization behind them or a red cent to bless their candidates withal. Not only has no provision been made for money for campaign work, but it does not appear where the deposits the candidates must put up will come from. None of the trade unions are likely to advance the deposits nor is it likely that the candidates themselves will do so.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT.

The system under which our Legislatures deal with private bills is undoubtedly a fruitful source of abuses. Certainly, as Montreal has learned to her cost, it facilitates unwarranted invasions of public rights. A Government, however well-meaning and public-spirited, cannot properly fulfil its larger functions, and at the same time accept responsibility for all private bills legislation. Nor can a committee, composed perhaps of rural representatives, be expected to always realize that the adoption of an innocent-looking private bill often involves a gross violation of the rights of an urban community.

The system should be changed. In England private bill legislation has come to be in fact, as well as in form, a purely judicial proceeding, and there is a growing tendency to relegate it, as it ought to be relegated, to local tribunals. An indication of this tendency may be seen in the adoption and extension of the system of what is called permissive legislation, which leaves to local authorities the responsibility of deciding how far a given principle shall be applied.

The organization of a Local Government Board, such as they have in England, would also tend to promote the good government and general progress of our cities. In England, as here, municipalities desirous of embarking on enterprises involving the borrowing of money are obliged to procure Parliamentary powers to do so. The procedure which this necessity entails is often cumbrous and expensive, but there seems to be no general objection to it, and, under the circumstances, it has certain very obvious advantages. The Local Government Board, to which all bills affecting municipal interests must be submitted, is a more or less permanent committee of civic experts. Its inspectors are continually visiting the various cities of the kingdom, and its members are consequently familiar with the conditions and requirements of different communities. The committee is thus in a position to place the practical experiences of one city at the disposal of another, and to promote a certain uniformity in civic development. Before being submitted to the searching examination of such a tribunal, bills are naturally drafted with exceeding care, but often the committee, drawing on its extensive knowledge of civic problems, is able to make amendments which materially facilitate the carrying out of the purpose of the bill and obviate futile and expensive experiments.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

In some ways our own St. Louis show is more attractive than the one on the Mississippi.

It was very nice of the Conservative leaders to leave the field clear for the Liberals to deal with Mr. Rainville.

Mr. Lebeuf gave Mr. Rainville a sound beating in Centre Ward in 1900, and Mr. Langlois will repeat the performance in St. Louis in 1904.

Since we are bound to have a Liberal Government anyhow, it is a wise precaution to remove those elements which tend to destroy governments from within.

Mr. Rainville may have rendered great services to the Liberal party, but about all anyone can remember during four years past is his great service to the Power Company, of which he is a director.

The monopolists are entitled to levy tolls if the people's resistance is ineffectual, but once in a while a head comes up for hitting, and then it is apt to be bad for the head. Of course, the monopolists collect their tolls just the same.

The decision of Mr. Matthew Hutchinson to retire from the representation of St. Antoine Division deprives the electorate of that constituency of the services of a gentleman who has proven himself a capable and public-spirited representative. In every case where the city's interests were endangered, Mr. Hutchinson's voice and vote were found on the right side, and he did all that was possible to prevent the passage into law of the numerous private bills that were introduced for the purpose of exploiting Montreal in the interests of monopolists and schemers.

Prof. Goldwin Smith on Canada's Manifest Destiny

Addressed the Ottawa Canadian Club on "Some Past Events"—Gladstone Letter Episode Explained—Discussed the Problems of the Future.

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—It was a pathetic picture that Professor Goldwin Smith sketched for the Canadian Club when he spoke of himself as the last leaf left before the storm which has borne to their fate the great men whom he had known in earlier years. He had chosen as his subject, "Some Past Events," which led him to refer to his first visit to America at the time of the Civil War, and the men whom he had met. He paid a glowing tribute to Abraham Lincoln, a profoundly serious man; Gen. Grant, Ben. Butler, and others, and apostrophized the humanity of the Americans in their conduct of the struggle.

"You may have noted,' proceeded Dr. Smith, "the episode of the Gladstone letter. Gladstone at a time when victory seemed declaring for the South, said that Jeff. Davis had made a nation. He might rather have said that Jeff. Davis had found a nation, for the Confederacy was from the first a nation in all respects, though born of a sudden disruption. But he was afterwards sorry for what he had said. It offended the North; it grieved the friends of the North in England. Gladstone in a letter to me suggested that if the North chose to let the South go, thus getting rid of slavery, there might thereafter be a union of Canada with the Northern States. I was probably intended but was not instructed to make the contents of the letter known to our friends. I judged it better not to do this, seeing that the letter would not have produced the edesired effect and might thereafter have proved embarrassing to the writer. I, therefore, kept it to myself and it was destroyed with the rest of my private correspondence before I left England. But I have a clear recollection of its contents. Mr. Gladstone, of course, took it for granted that the union, the possibility of which he suggested, would be free. No other thought could possibly have crossed his mind.

"Neither Mr. Gladstone nor any other members of the British Cabinet, ever for one moment swerved from the determination to observe an honorable neutrality. The sinister overtures of the French Emperor were at once repelled. Are Americans sure that had the case been theirs and they had been the nation whose raw materials were cut off, neutrality would have been so faithfully preserved? In the whole four trying years one cruiser escaped without a clearance, unarmed, on a pretended trip of pleasure. And though in that case there was negligence, it was owing to the sudden illness of the legal adviser of the Crown before whom the papers lay. Has no filibustering expedition ever escaped from the ports of the United States?

"The final severance of the North from the South, on which Mr. Gladstone speculated, did not take place. So far as that is concerned, therefore, we have nothing to trouble our minds.

AS TO THE COLONIES.

"Knowing what I do of the minds of British statesmen in former days, I can hardly hear with patience the Jingo cry that they looked upon the colonies with contempt and had mean ideas of British destiny. Their policy was colonial self-government, which most of them probably regarded as training for nationality. That ideal might be mistaken, but it was not mean. The policy of self-government nobody has yet proposed to reverse. I was intimate with Bright and Cobden, the special objects of this calumny. Neither of them ever uttered a disparaging word about the colonies, though they thought the state of dependence over-worn. The only man who did speak contemptuously of the colonies was the Imperialist Disraeli, whose fancy was Oriental and who cared only for the Imperial splendors of Hindostan.

"No doubt if Gladstone were now alive and were asked whether the colonies could be allowed to control the foreign policy of Great Britain, or the issues of peace and war which are dependent on it, he would answer that they could not. If he were asked whether it were possible to frame a fiscal system equally suitable to all of a number of states scattered over the globe and differing widely in their commercial circumstances, he would answer that it was not. If he were asked whether England had a divine mission on the strength of her superior civilization to go about destroying all the wild-stocks of humanity, he would answer that she had not. If he were asked whether England in her dealings with the weak was bound to observe the laws of righteousness and humanity, he would answer that she was. If he were asked which he preferred, a nation with a heart and a mind with destinies and aspirations of its own, or one of those vast and heterogenous empires which human ambition has constructed and nature has scattered again, he would say that he preferred the nation. But he would not, on this account, be showing that he was indifferent to the greatness or the happiness of England. He had spent an illustrious life in promoting both.

THE DESTINY OF CANADA.

One thing is certain, gentlemen, whatever your external relations may be, and however dear may be the tie to the Mother Country, on this continent your destiny is cast. Here is the field of your duty, and of your aspirations. Here, not in Europe, or Africa, or Australasia, you have to play your part in the fulfilment of the hopes held out to man by the discovery of the New World, the hopes of a happier state of society, a lessening of the terrible inequalities of the human lot, a government not of force but of reason, answering to he conception of Pym, who said, "that is the best form of government which does actuate and inspire every part and member of a state to the common good." Those words, gentlemen, are my political philosophy.

"You have interesting times before you. Democracy is on its trial. It has pretty well performed the destructive part of its task; the constructive part remains to be performed. Meantime the passions of aggrandizement and war, which slumbered for a time, have re-awakened. Jingoism tramples on righteousness and humanity. Religious belief is being shaken by science and criticism, and the authority of conscience as it rested on religious belief seems in danger of being impaired. War is raging between capital and labor. Society is threatened with a tyranny of accumulated wealth. If you mean to take an interest in public affairs, as it is the duty of every citizen of a free commonwealth to do, you will have plenty to occupy your minds. I wish I could look in twenty years hence and see how you are getting on."

SIR WILFRID'S REMARKS.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in response to persistent calls, excused himself from making a speech on the ground that he had much speaking to do of late. "Dr. Smith's splendid address has taken me back to early days," observed the Premier, "when I was a young law student in Montreal. I went there in 1861, just when the Civil War had broken out. Having read 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' I was an anti-slavery man. It is to the credit of the United States that they eventually triumphed, and that all traces of the struggle have disappeared, and the country is now more united than at the time of Washington. It is a credit to democratic institutions. I am not so pessimistic as Dr. Goldwin Smith regarding the future of the United States. I don't think there will be disruption, but if there should be disruption to the south, I certainly do not want it to the north. I am a great admirer of the American people. Perhaps they have not always been considerable in their international relations, but despite all their faults I admire them still. Though I admire the United States," added Sir Wilfrid amid applause, "I admire Canada more."

Late Arrivals

The concert and indoor entertainment season is well on its way for another year, and the same characteristics of a certain class of Montreal people are observed. For the most part the citizens are gregarious, and social functions are many, but the bane of them all is the late arrival fiend. Two events during the past week were spoiled for this reason. In one case, a concert at King's Hall, the performers and those who had the courtesy to get there at the proper hour, had to wait the pleasure of the front-benchers," who kept trooping in with much noise and clatter, and loud-toned conversation, until after 9 o'clock. These individuals comfortably settled, the performance began.

The experience of lovers of good music is taht they need make no effort to be punctual at a concert, otherwise they are obliged to wait until those who ought to know better put in an appearance.

Montreal unpunctuality is not confined to concerts. Hockey matches are proverbial in this respect, and promoters of these, had they an eye to good gates, would endeavor to start at the time advertised. More would attend if they did.

Unpunctuality robs the better class working man of the opportunity of pleasing his aesthetic taste. He has to be up betimes of a morning to go to his work, and if a concert does not commence till 9 o'clock at night he is debarred from attending. He cannot afford to reach home at 11.30 o'clock. He must sleep, therefore he is compelled to stay at home.

Is it right? Do these people who style themselves the elite of the city ever consider the selfishness of their conduct? Apart from the fact that they show exceedingly bad form, they directly militate against the bringing of good music and other sources of public amusement and education to Montreal. They prevent the presence of those who cannot afford to pay for more than a back seat, and take money out of the pockets of promoters, with the result that Montreal for a city of its size is not catered for in the way it should be. They limit the influence of all that is best in literature and the arts by disgusting any who would otherwise patronize performances.

Managers have the solution of the difficulty in their own hands and the sooner they exercise their controll the sooner will Montreal in this respect be abreast of other cities. Begin performances punctually, irrespective of empty front seats. Let the late arrivals wander in at their will and disturb the performances. They will soon realize that their presence is unnecessary to start the proceedings, and will observe that their conduct is offensive. Managers will then find that the galleries which are the real sources of revenue will be well filled.—J. M.

MINE SHAFT A MILE DEEP.

The deepest mining-shaft has been sunk to a little more than a mile in Cape Colony, and the deepest borehole has reached about the same depth in Silesia. The Hon. C. A. Parsons contends that there should be no insurmountable difficulty in carrying a shaft down 12 miles. An appproprlate estimate has shown that to reach a depth of two miles the cost would be £500,000. Ten years would be required, and a rock temperature of 122 degrees F. would be found; while to penetrate 12 miles would cost £5,000,000, and would take 55 years, the rock temperature expected being 272 degrees. The disaster at the Simplon tunnel works will, however, not encourage deep-boring enterprises.

VERY MUCH MIXED.

A correspondent sends to the "Spectator" a mixed metaphor coined at a meeting of shareholders held in London on Wednesday week. "S—— has gone through a long period of depression, and we are not out of the wood yet; but I believe bad-rock has been touched and although the turning-point may not at the moment be in great prominence, it cannot be far off."

ECHO OF TICHBORNE CASE.

Sir Percival and Lady Radcliffe are about to celebrate their golden wedding. Her ladyship—whose maiden name was Doughty—was the cousin of the famous Roger Charles Tichborne, the whole story laid bare in the course of the celebrated lawsuit was woven. Young Tichborne, who was an officer in the Guards, proposed marriage to Miss Doughty, and when she declined the offer he left the country in disgust, first proceeding to South America, and then booking passage to Jamaica, on the Bella, of which nothing afterwards was ever heard. Miss Doughty was married soon afterwards, in 1854, to the well-known Yorkshire squire.

THE ST. LOUIS LIBERALS ENDORSE CHOICE OF THE PARTY CONVENTION

Rousing Meeting Held in St. Joseph's Hall, on Saturday Evening in Favor of Mr. Langlois—Senators Beique, Dandurand and Cloran Were the Speakers.

A good deal of plain speaking with respect to the course of Hon. H. B. Rainville in the Quebec Legislature, and of Premier Parent in recognizing the ex-Speaker as the official Liberal candidate for St. Louis division, marked the meeting in support of Mr. Godfroy Langlois at St. Joseph's Hall on Saturday night.

Senators Dandurand, Beique and Cloran, were Mr. Langlois's main supporters and with regard to Mr. Rainville's record they all agreed that in the Legislature he had been too devoted to serving corporations to be ablee to do his whole duty to his Montreal constituents. They also protested vigorously against any attempt to dictate to the Liberals of St. Lawrence who should or should not be their candidates. As Senator Beique remarked, such domination might be practiced at Quebec, but the people of Montreal would not tolerate it and would insist upon the old Liberal principle of nominating their own candidates.

The hall was more than crowded. It was quite inadequate to accommodate those who desired to attend. It was also decidedly enthusiastic in its endorsation of Mr. Langlois and the principles he and his supporters enunciated.

SENATOR BEIQUE SPEAKS.

Mr. Fruitier presided and first presented Senator Beique, who opened by reading an interview said to have been given by Premier Parent as follows:

"Hon. Mr. Rainville is the ministerial candidate, because being elected as such, he has always given a loyal support to my Government. I do not, therefore, hesitate in declaring that Mr. Rainville possesses the confidence and support of my Government. It is said that he is being opposed in Montreal because of his interest in a company accused of increasing their light accounts, but these are municipal questions and have absolutely nothing to do with the policy of the provincial Government. If Hon. Mr. Rainville was not worthy of the confidence of the electorate as ministerial candidate, it would alone rest with my Government to say so."

"In all my forty years work for the Liberal party," said Senator Beique, "this is the first time I have heard a Prime Minister undertake to place his own will before that of the people. The people of St. Louis have regularly chosen their candidate, and it is not for Premier Parent to interfere with their choice. If such dictation is the custom at Quebec, it is not here, and Mr. Parent will find that the people of Montreal will not submit to it.

"It is not correct to say that municipal affairs were being injected into the campaign—it was quite the reverse, they had been forced by Mr. Rainville's course. Mr. Rainville perhaps had the right to support the Montreal Light, Heat and Power Company, but it was to his shame that he had openly done so, even at the expense of his constituents. If Mr. Rainville had been a traitor to the city in the past he would be so again.

Senator Beique regretted having to speak in such a way of a friend of his but felt it incumbent upon him to do so. He was interested in the same companies as Mr. Rainville, but had always felt it his duty to sacrifice his private interests to his public duties.

"I feel fully," concluded Senator Beique, "the responsibility of opposing Premier Parent in this matter. For forty years I have worked for the Liberal party, and to-day I must obey the dictates of my conscience in opposing Mr. Rainville and supporting Mr. Langlois."

THE PEOPLE ARE SUPREME.

Senator Dandurand followed with a vigorous speech. Seven times he said he had fought Federal campaigns, and it was always a tenet of the Liberal party that the people should choose their own candidates, as the St. Louis people proposed to do.

The Conservative party had abdicated and if Premier Parent were to be permitted to nominate the Liberal candidate it would mean that the people were to give up their functions of self Government.

As to the Parent letter recently published Senator Dandurand could hardly believe that the Premier had written it.

COULDN'T SERVE TWO MASTERS.

Mr. Rainville, said Senator Dandurand was a director of the Montreal Light, Heat & Power Co. and he asked could a man holding that office properly represent a Montreal constituency at Quebec. As an instance of the impossibility of such a thing Senator Dandurand recalled the efforts made by the city council to secure a reduction in the cost of city lighting, and the opposition to this they encountered from Mr. Rainville. The latter at Quebec had engineered the fusion of several of these companies, as a deputy he had secured a charter for this syndicate, giving it monopolistic powers and had thrown all his influence as speaker against the City of Montreal's opposition to this charter. As a result of this and a practical monopoly of the water powers near Montreal, prices had been increased 33 1-3 per cent.

"This combined power must be broken," said Senator Dandurand emphatically, "and to whom shall we look to break it, to Mr. Rainville or to Mr. Langlois?

Further, when this city sent its representatives to Quebec to try to secure the right to expropriate the gas plant did not Mr. Rainville both in the lobby, and in the committee itself combat the city's ends The Montreal Street Railway will soon want an extension of its franchise. If you send such men as Mr. Rainville to Quebec you can be sure they will get it. It used to take a two-thirds majority of the council to extend a franchise but this wise safeguard was repealed as the price of getting the other clauses of the city's bill through the Legislature.

"I have come here," concluded Senator Dandurand "to strike a blow at the influence of the Montreal Street Railway, the Light, Heat & Power Co. and the other monopolies. When Montreal secured deputies who will keep faith with their constituents, and look after the city's interests instead of the desires of these monopolies the country members will not sacrifice the city's interests as they have done in the past. We must have honest men, not speculators, as our representatives at Quebec. We have had enough of men who are willing to sacrifice the city for the sake of the stocks they hold."

MR. LANGLOIS' SPEECH.

Mr. Langlois was greeted with hearty cheers, and made a brief speech. He thanked those who were protesting so vigorously against Premier Parent's action—such interference was a new Liberal doctrine which must not be permitted. "I would fear for the future of our country," said he, "if our people would submit to such dictation, which, if tolerated, would practically make a party convention useless. But the convention will remain a living factor when those who would make themselves dictators are gone."

Mr. Rainville, he said, had served the Liberal party, but he had also served himself well. "Had Mr. Rainville been faithful to his trust I would not be in the field. But I am in the field, and shall be there on the 25th. The Liberals are going to sweep this province, and the time is opportune to teach Mr. Parent that the people of Montreal are not ready to let the Legislature of this province go on sale.

"Let Mr. Rainville be the candidate of the Prime Minister. I am the candidate of the people as against the trusts, whom I have opposed both on La Patrie and Le Canada, and if Mr. Tarte intends to support Mr. Rainville no one will fear the result. (Applause.) If all our friends work as they should we will have 1,500 majority."

Senator Cloran followed with a rousing speech, and was received with cheers and cries of "Our next Mayor." He declared that Mr. Parent was not in accordance with all his ministers when he recommended Mr. Rainville as candidate. "We want Mr. Langlois not only to oppose the trusts, but to make the will of the people paramount, and show the Prime Minister that we will not submit to dictation as to who our representative shall be." (Applause.)

Ald. Dagenais, in a brief speech, told how when he was sent to Quebec as part of a civic deputation on various matters, he, with the other delegates, had been continually hampered by Mr. Rainville's opposition to the desires of the city and his aid to the corporations.

Other speakers were Messrs. R. Latulippe, H. Gervais, of the Early Closing Association, and Mr. C. A. Wilson.

Although the meeting lasted until a late hour, the whole audience remained until the end, and broke up with cheers for Mr. Langlois and the other speakers.

LABOR CANDIDATES IN EVERY CITY DIVISION

Labor candidates will be put in the field in every electoral division of the city. This was decided at a largely attended meeting of workingmen held yesterday afternoon at St. Joseph's Hall, which was presided over by Mr. Ed. Berthiaume.

Mr. A. Verville, president of the Canadian Trades and Labor Congress, will run in Hochelaga; and Mr. Achille Latrielle in St. Louis. Messrs. J. A. Rodier, N. Arcand, A. Mathieu and V. Tardif were offered the St. Mary's nomination, but declined, and the meeting adopted a resolution to support Mr. Marchand in that division as the candidate with the cleanest record. For St. James Division Mr. A. Kelly was nominated. In acknowledging the nomination, Mr. Kelly did not definitely promise to accept it. He thought that St. James would be a very difficult riding to carry.

Mr. Poirier, speaking on behalf of the Early Closing Association, said that this body had declared itself against Mr. Rainville's candidacy in St. Louis, and would support Godfroy Langlois. There were in St. Louis 846 clerks with the right to vote. Mr. Rainville's actions in connection with the Light, Heat and Power Company, and other financial enterprises had been opposed to the best interests of the people of Montreal.

Mr. Emile Pelletier, of the Painters' Union, asked the Early Closing Association to give its support to Mr. Latrielle, as a properly accredited Labor candidate, but Mr. Jacob replied that having given their word to Mr. Langlois, they would keep it.

Messrs. L. M. Dupont and J. A. Rodier expressed astonishment at the action taken by the association in not working hand in hand with the Trades and Labor Council. A joint meeting of the two bodies will be held and a satisfactory arrangement is to be looked for.

Speeches were made by Messrs. Verville and Latrielle, accepting the nomination of the Council. The latter pledged himself, in the event of his election, to aid in every possible way the interests of the Early Closing Association.

A committee of twenty members was appointed to look after the conduct of the campaign. The Central headquarters will be at St. Joseph's Hall.

CONFERENCE IN W. QUEBEC.

Quebec, Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Messrs. John W. Knox, Martin Malcolm, Fergus Murphy and Ald. D. Griffin, the four aspirants for political honors to represent Quebec West in the Provincial Legislature, have entered into a new plan with Premier Parent, to decide who shall be the Government candidate. They have each named two representatives to meet three others, who will be named by the Premier today, when a joint meeting will be held to make a choice that will amicably end the difficulty.

SOUTH LANARK FIGURES.

Mr. E. J. Kyle, of Merrickville, writes The Herald pointing out errors in the detailed figures of South Lanark election. The Herald regrets that some of the returns were incorrect, but the majority of fifty-two given Mr. M. Caldwell, was correct, and doubtless Mr. Kyle joins the other Liberals of that part of Ontario in welcoming such a notable victory.

MANY CANDIDATES ARE ALREADY IN THE FIELD

Already a number of Liberal candidates for the provincial elections have been nominated and preparations are actively under way to complete the roster without delay. Compton is the only county to nominate a Conservative, and has chosen the late member Mr. A. W. Glard.

Following are the candidates chosen to date:

Montreal:

St. Ann's—Hon. J. J. Guerin and Ald. M. J. Walsh.

St. Antoine—G. W. Stephens (Lib.); Edward Cusack (Labor).

St. Lawrence—James Cochrane.

St. Louis—Godfroy Langlois and Hon. H. B. Rainville and A. Latrelle (Labor).

Hochelaga—Jeremie Decarie and A. Verveille (Labor.)

Sherbrooke—Dr. Pelletier.

Argenteuil—W. A. Weir.

Beauharnois—A. Bergevin, M.P.P.

Bonaventure—J. H. Kelly and W. H. Clapperton.

LANARK CONSERVATIVES.

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—The Conservatives of North Lanark have called a convention for the 25th inst., to select a candidate for the Provincial Legislature.

CAPE BRETON LABOR PARTY.

The Independent Labor party of Cape Breton express their intention of nominating a candidate to contest Cape Breton county at the bye-election rendered necessary by the resignation from the Local House of D. D. Mackenzie, since elected to represent the North riding of Cape Breton and Victoria county in the Commons.

FINAL COUNT IN STORMONT.

The official returns for Stormont show that Mr. Robert Pringle, the late Conservative member, defeated Mr. R. Smith by 111.

The count gives the following returns:—

	Smith.	Pringle.
Cornwall Town	544	607
Cornwall township	598	576
Finch	411	433
Osnabruck	500	601
Roxborough	536	483
Total	2,589	2,700

Majority for Pringle—111.

MR. ASSELIN MAY RUN.

Le Nationaliste announces that Mr. Oliver Asselin may become a candidate in St. Louis Division for the Legislature as an Independent Nationalist. The journal states that Mr. Asselin has been approached by many of his friends to accept a nomination, but has not yet given his answer. Should he run it will be as a candidate of the rights of the people, particularly of Quebec province, against the greed of trusts and the dishonesty of governments.

ST. ANN'S CONSERVATIVES ARE BECOMING RESTIVE

The situation in St. Ann's Division continues unaltered, except that as the days pass with two Liberal candidates in the field there is considerable unrest amongst the local Conservatives who think they see an opportunity to capture the seat. There is much talk of an independent nomination being offered Mr. Frank Curran or Mr. Con. McDonell, both of whom are prominent in Conservatives councils in the riding, but neither has so far expressed his willingness to accept. Among Liberals there is a feeling that it would be well to have a convention of the party before nomination day so as to avoid all risks of entering the election with forces divided.

NOTES FROM ONTARIO.

Lincoln Prohibitionists have decided to run a candidate against Dr. Jessop.

Wentworth Liberals have nominated R. A. Thompson for the Provincial Legislature.

The recounts in London and Brantford practically verify the original count and do not affect the results of the elections of Nov. 3.

MAY BE PROTEST IN COMPTON.

Cookshire, Nov. 14.—It is rumored here that Compton Conservatives are preparing to protest Mr. Hunt's election. The matter was secretly discussed at the recent convention, but no public action has yet been taken. Liberal workers declare that they have not the slightest fear of a protest, and state that so far as they are concerned the election was a particularly clean one.

NOMINATED FOR FRONTENAC.

Kingston, Ont., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Howard Reynolds, of Verona, was on Saturday afternoon, at a mass meeting of Liberals, chosen unanimously to contest Frontenac for the Provincial representation. Messrs. Shibley and Franklin retired in his favor and he made a most acceptable speech of acceptance. A strong delegation was named to attend the Liberal convention in Toronto.

OTHER NOMINATIONS.

Quebec, Nov. 14.—Liberals of Quebec West have nominated a second candidate in the person of Dr. Jobin. A candidate for Quebec West will probably be selected to-day.

Mr. A. J. Miquelon has been nominated by the Liberals of Wolfe. Mr. J. A. Chicoyne, the late Conservative member for Wolfe, has evidently accepted Hon. Mr. Flynn's mandate, as he has issued an address declaring that he will not be a candidate in the present contest.

Dr. Pelletier is the Liberal candidate in Sherbrooke.

STRAIGHT PARTY FIGHT IN COMPTON COUNTY

Cookshire, Nov. 14.—Compton County Conservatives are the first to formally repudiate Hon. E. J. Flynn's mandate, and determine to continue in existence. At the county convention on Saturday the delegates held a lively meeting, and finally decided to nominate Mr. Alv. Glard and force a straight party contest. Mr. Flynn's suicidal manifesto was discussed at some length, and met with strong disapproval, the delegates refusing to believe that the defeat of Nov. 3rd justified such self-immolation. The unanimous decision to nominate Mr. Glard as Conservative candidate, of course, was influenced by the fact that Mr. Glard won the contest in 1900 by 337 in a three-cornered fight, Mr. J. B. St. Laurent, of Compton, is the Liberal candidate.

The Stanstead Conservative convention will be held to-day, and it is the general impression that it will also ignore Mr. Flynn and renominate Mr. St. Pierre, the late candidate.

LIBERAL CONVENTIONS.

The following Liberal conventions will be held to-morrow:—Shefford, at Waterloo; Missisquoi, at Bedford, and Vercheres, for that county.

JEWISH VOTERS MEET.

The Jewish electors of St. Louis held a large meeting yesterday afternoon at Standard Hall, at which some 400 were present, and unanimously decided to support Mr. Langlois. The meeting was quite a linguistic exhibition, Mr. Langlois speaking in English, Mr. A. Blumenthal in both English and German, Mr. A. St. Martin and English, and Messrs. Kaufmann, Coutu and Dr. Marcotte in Hebrew. Mr. Blumenthal, who is a Conservative, announced himself as a supporter of Mr. Langlois.

TWO MOUNTAINS TO-DAY.

The Liberals of Two Mountains meet in convention at Ste. Scholastique this afternoon, when Hon. Lomer Gouin will be the chief speaker. It is expected that Mr. Hector Champagne will be renominated.

INDEPENDENT LOSES DEPOSIT.

The official count in Russell shows that Mr. Shaver, the Independent candidate, loses his deposit. The figures are:—Wilson (Lib.), 3,305; Askwith (Con.), 2,405; Shaver (Ind.), 102.

BONAVENTURE NOMINATION.

New Carlisle, Nov. 14.—The Liberals of Bonaventure held a convention here on Saturday, and nominated Mr. John Hall Kelly. Mr. W. H. Clapperton, the late member, will also run.

ONTARIO CONSERVATIVES.

Toronto, No. 14.—The Ontario Conservative party will hold a convention at Toronto on Nov. 24, immediately after the Liberal convention.

MR. BERGEVIN RENOMINATED.

Valleyfield, Nov. 14.—Mr. Achille Bergevin was unanimously nominated Liberal candidate for Beauharnois at Saturday's convention here. Hon. Lomer Gouin was present and made an address. Mr. Bergevin's requisition papers have been signed by over 1,800 electors, including 400 Conservatives.

CREASE WON TEST DURING WAR WEEK

London Editor Discovers That Man's Trousers Must be Bagless

London, November 14.—"In the midst of wars and forebodings of wars the Englishman, nevertheless, finds time to pay more attention than ever to the crease of his trousers."

This testimony to the equanimity of the race is paid by the editor of the Tailor and Cutter. When England stood on the brink of a conflict with Russia the editor visited the assembling places of masculine fashion in order to gather impressions, and the fact that was most strongly, most persistently conveyed to the mind of the observer was that the trouser crease is more sharply defined, more mathematically precise, than at any previous epoch in the country's history.

"A perfect crease," said the expert, "is now the ambition of every well dressed man."

To assist in the realization of this great aim a new "crease while you wait" machine has been invented. It looks like a large pair of scissors, with two small rollers at one end. The latter are heated in a spirit lamp and then the centre of the trousers leg, where the crease should be, is placed between the rollers, and the machine run down toward the foot. The advantage of this contrivance is that it can be used while crease requiring garments are being worn. The disadvantage is that in the hands of the inexpert it may burn holes in the trousers and raise blisters under them. But so consuming is the present craze for creases that this wouldn't be deemed too great a sacrifice if ultimate success were assured.

Hitherto the crease has been confined to trousers, but on the authority of the Tailor and Cutter, it is now spreading to overcoats, where it is superseding the seam. To wear a seamless sack coat with a crease down each side and one down the back is to proclaim one's self absolutely up to date in this matter.

A STARTLING TRANSFORMATION.

Sir William Harcourt once dined on an English man-of-war, and, a storm coming up, the captain, who was a small man, persuaded him to occupy his stateroom for the night.

The steward was not told of this, and next morning at six he brought a cup of coffee to the captain's door. Knocking twice without any answer, he hastily opened the door.

"Don't you wish your coffee this morning, sir?"

Sir William gave a snore, and the steward was amazed to see a huge figure turn over in the berth.

Smash went the cup and saucer, and the frightened sailor tore off to the surgeon's room.

"For heaven's sake, sir!" he gasped; "come to the captain's room. He's speechless and swollen to ten times his natural size!"

LESSONS TOO COSTLY.

The schoolmaster's life is not a happy one sometimes, but in Texas at least it has compensations. Here is a letter from an anxious parent recently received by a teacher in that State:—Sir,—Will you in the future give my son easier some to do at nites? This is what he's brought hoam two or three nites back:— 'If four gallons of bere will fill thirty-two pint bottles, how many pints and half bottles will nine gallins of bere fill?' Well, we tried and could make nothin' of it at all, and my boy cried and laffed, and said he didn't dare go back in the mornin' without doin' it. So I had to go and buy a nine gallin keg of bere, which I could ill afford to do, and then went and borrowed a lot of wine and brandy bottles. We filled them, and my boy put the answer down. I don't know whether it is right or not, as we spilt some while doing it.—P.S.—Please let the next be some water, as I am not able to buy more bere."

Montreal showed their real form Saturday, and defeated McGill 30 to 18. Had they played the same kind of football all season, they would not have been put out of the championship running in the last lap of the race. McGill did not have their strongest team on the field, but they showed that they could play sufficiently good football to make things exceedingly interesting for Ottawa College if they are fortunate enough to win the Intercollegiate championship.

Queen's had a walkover with Varsity, and are now tied with McGill. The two will either play home and home games, greater number of points to count, or a sudden death game. If McGill win, they will play Ottawa College for the Lominion championship, but if Queen's win they will not challenge the Quebec champions.

In the O.R.F.U. the Torontos gave the Argonauts a drubbing, and will now play off with Peterboro, the winners to meet Hamilton. The championship is a sure thing for the Hamilton team.

Across the line Yale defeated Princeton by 12 to 0, but the game was hardly a fair test, as it was played on a greasy gridiron that prevented Princeton from using their speed, and enabled Yale to make the most of their weight.

MONTREAL 30, M'GILL 18.

In the most spectacular football match played on the M.A.A.A. grounds this year, Montreal defeated McGill for the city championship Saturday afternoon by a score of 30 to 18.

It was a pretty contest to watch, and the 1,800 people who viewed it, enjoyed it thoroughly. A strong wind, which blew almost straight down the field, made a certain amount of close play imperative, but on the whole the match was more open than any of those played on local grounds in the Quebec Union series.

Both teams affected the same style of play, when the elements favored them—running and kicking—and McGill, even when the wind was against them, relied more on their speed than on their line-bucking abilities. It followed that there was plenty of sprinting, punting, and tackling, and these features made the game well worth looking at.

The scrimmages were closely matched, and each had difficulty in getting out the ball to their respective quarters. In fact, the scrimmage work was loose on both sides, and the halves did not have as many oportunities to handle the ball as they would have had if the big trios had been able to play a clean-cut game.

The wings on both sides were snappy and aggressive, and while the students were a trifle faster in their following up and decidedly surer in their tackling, the Montreals were the better at breaking through and at protecting their back division.

The half-back lines were equally effective in so far as ground gaining was concerned. The McGill boys kicked just a little more strongly than their opponents, and had a superior running combination, but the Montreals offset these advantages by their greater speed.

Billy Christmas played particularly good football as long as he was on the field, but was unfortunately injured in the first half. He kept on playing, but in the second period his right leg was wrenched badly, and he had to be caried off the field. Percy Molson dropped back to centre half, and McGill laid off a man.

But it was Jimmy Craig who was the star of the game. He made three touchdowns, one by lightning following up and two by brilliant dashes of 50 and 60 yards respectively.

M'GILL WON THE TOSS.

McGill won the toss, and it was a prize package for them. They had a strong wind and a blazing sun in their favor, and also the Intercollegiate rules. They started off nobly, their halves booting the ball high in the air, where it was caught by the gale and hurried over the Montreal line. McGill was given a free kick a moment after the whistle blew, and Hamilton hoisted the oval to Macdonald, who was compelled to rouge.

Montreal 0, McGill 1.

Billy Christmas kicked off to Hamilton, who again lifted the ball over the Montreal line, a rouge resulting.

Montreal 0, McGill 2.

From the next kick-off Hamilton kicked into touch-in-goal for another point.

Montreal 0, McGill 3.

Zimmerman kicked over the dead line and the McGill rooters began to get busy.

Montreal 0, McGill 4.

The wind was blowing a living gale, and it looked as if the Collegians could with its aid run up a big score in the first half. However, Montreal took a brace and Billy Christmas made a nice run from behind his goal to the quarter. Montreal lost the ball on downs, and from the first McGill scrimmage Zimmerman secured it and kicked into touch-in-goal.

Montreal 0, McGill 5.

The five points had been made in as many minutes, but the tide of battle turned, and Montreal stock went up when Hammy Gordon broke through the McGill line for a thirty yard run to centre. Alex. Christmas supplemented this gain by a splendid punt, the ball going into touch in the McGill quarter. Craig nipped through for another fifteen yards, and Montreal were within striking distance of the enemy's line. Hostilities were suspended for injuries to Billy Christmas and Hamilton, the former sustaining a bad wrench of his right leg. Montreal was given a free kick and W. Christmas punted high. The ball dropped just over the McGill goal line and Hamilton and Walter Molson plunged at it simultaneously. They collided and both missed the oval. Craig didn't though, falling on it for a touchdown. It was a very difficult goal to kick, but Macdonald performed the feat.

Montreal 6, McGill 5.

McGill was awarded a free kick, and Macdonald was forced to rouge.

Montreal 6, McGill 6.

Hamilton made his mark, and tried a drop on goal. He missed the posts, but Craig had to rouge.

Montreal 6, McGill 7.

M'GILL'S PLUCKY STAND.

McGill made a plucky stand for the first five minutes of the second half, and held Montreal at centre. On the ball going into touch Malcolm essayed a long throw-in to Martin, but Craig shot from his position in the back field just as soon as the ball was launched into the atmosphere, caught it on the dead run, juggled it for the fraction of a second, and shot towards the McGill goal. He out-footed every competitor in the race for points, and placed the ball squarely between the goal posts after as pretty a fifty yard dash as was ever seen on a football field. Macdonald converted, and the score stood—

Montreal 12, McGill 7.

Billy Christmas was hurt again, and had to retire. P. Molson was changed, when he attempted to kick after a pass from Gordon, and the ball went loose. Richards snapped it up and darted over the Montreal line for a touchdown, which he converted.

Montreal 12, McGill 13.

It was anybody's game at this stage, with both teams going strong. McGill was given a free kick in its own quarter, and Hamilton boosted the ball to Alex. Christmas, who made a fine return into touch-in-goal. As he kicked Zimmerman went to tackle him and received injuries which compelled him to drop out of the game.

Montreal 13, McGill 13.

Hamilton kicked to A. Christmas, who made another great punt to Cowan. The latter missed the ball, and Johnston fell on it for a touchdown, which Macdonald converted.

Montreal 19, McGill 13.

Then followed the sensational play of the day. McGill secured the ball near the Montreal quarter, and Richards, Hamilton and Martin essayed a running combination. Martin fumbled and lost the ball. Craig caught it up and was away through a broken field. By marvellous sprinting he got clear of the tangle of players and was leading by a good ten yards when he reached the McGill quarter. He had plenty of leisure to place the ball squarely between the goal posts, but Macdonald failed to convert.

Montreal 24, McGill 13.

It was so dark during the last ten minutes that the progress of the ball could not be followed from the side lines. Referee Herbert Molson was authority for the statement that Lesser and P. Molson negotiated a touchdown for Montreal, which Macdonald converted, and that Hamilton made one for McGill, which Richards failed to convert. So the official score at the end of the game was—

McGill and Queen's Are Tied for the I.C.R.F.U. Championship

Queen's Administered Sound Drubbing to 'Varsity Last Saturday.

INTERCOLLEGIATE STANDING.

	Won.	Lost.	Points scored.	Points Ag'st.
McGill	3	1	45	32
Queen's	3	1	74	32
Varsity	0	4	27	89

Kingston, Nov. 12.—(Special)—Queen's very easily defeated 'Varsity in the senior Intercollegiate Rugby match here Saturday, the score standing 31 to 3. 'Varsity had no hope of winning from the Presbyterian University team, for they were without the services of McPherson on the half-back line and Jermyn on the wing. Furthermore their scrimmage and wings could not cope with those of Queen's who are decidedly strong there. Thus Queen's and McGill's are tied for the championship.

About 1,500 people witnessed the match at the university athletic field across which the wind blew diagonally and with great force, the ball sailing at times to a great distance on a small kick. Queen's had the advantage of the breeze and kicked very effectively. Before ten minutes had gone, they had scored two touchdowns, both on miss plays, Donovan and Carson getting over 'Varsity's line. Neither try was converted, the next score was a touch by Williams who made a good run. The try again was missed, on account of the uncertain wind. Macdonald kicked a rouge, making Queen's score sixteen.

Varsity's only score was near the end of the half, when they had put the play to Queens 20-yard line. Queen's halves fumbled and to save a large score Williams and Macdonald kicked the ball into tuoch giving Varsity a rouge.

Half time score: Queens 16, Varsity, 1.

Though Varsity had the wind in the second half, they could score only two rouges which were got on Southam's kicks. Both could have been saved by Queen's, but as the latter were well in the lead, fullback Macdonald made no attempt to get the ball out. Half a twenty seconds had elapsed in the half when Queen's scored a touch, Carson picking up the ball after it had been fumbled on both sides and going over 'Varsity's line untackled. Queen's 21, Varsity 1. Then came Varsity's two rouges after a hard twenty minute's play around Queen's twenty-five yard line. From that on Queen's played Varsity off their feet and scored two more touches, Timms getting one and Carson the last.

Queen's.—Full back, Macdonnell; half backs, Walsh, Williams, Richardson; quarter-back, Carson; scrimmage, Donovan Thompson, Gillies; wings, Cameron, Dobbs, Kennedy, Bailey, Britton, Patterson.

'Varsity.—Full back, McKay; half-backs, Laing, Southam, Kennedy; quarter-back, Hoar; scrimmage, Johnston, Lash, Ritchie; wings, Davidson, Bonnell, Reynolds, Lailey, Burns, Ross.

Referee.—McCallum, McGill; umpire, McKenna, McGill.

Montreal Juniors Are Making Strong Bid for Premier Honors

Defeated Quebec Saturday by a Score of 16 Points to 5.

Quebec, Nov. 14.—(Special)—It is evident that the people of Quebec are not very enthusiastic over the game of football judging from the small attendance of spectators which have turned out during the present season to witness the game. A very interesting match was on the Q.A.A.A. grounds Grand Alee on Saturday last, between the junior teams of the M.A.A.A. and the Q.A.A.A. and yet there were not more than 250 spectators on the grounds to observe the fray.

The members of both teams started in as juniors, and it is safe to say that the average weight of the players could be put down as 160 lbs., and the manliest aggregation of young fellows one could wish to see. If the seniors are chosen for their weight and physical development, they must indeed be giants in stature. The game, however, was a good one, even if it were one sided and was won by the Montreal players, who had the advantage in weight and science. The umpire was rather too strict at times and apt to be hard on the Quebec players, and in fact there were occasions when it looked as if he was a wee bit partial. The referee also seemed inclined to favor the visitors.

The game was scheduled to commence at 2.30 o'clock but it was somewhat later when the personnel of both teams lined up for their work on the field in the following order:—

Montreal.		Quebec.
Hamilton	Fullback.....	Gale
Russell	Halfbacks....	Eberhardt
Spry	Halfbacks....	Lemesurier
Dickson	Halfbacks....	Fitzgerald
McLean	Quarter.....	Riveard
Ryan	Scrimmage.....	Goode
Cameron.....	Scrimmage.....	McKee
Dessum	Scrimmage.....	Yennor
Bennett	Wings.....	Murphy
Dodds	Wings.....	Blair
Coollcar	Wings.....	Kingwall
De Alloquin	Wings.....	Butler
Dorney	Wings.....	J. Power
Hammond	Wings.....	Roeber

Referee Dr. Rankin, Quebec.
Mr. Seris, Montreal, umpire.
The guards were in good condition and weather fine.

The Quebec players were strong in scrimmage but weak in their back division. They gained more ground in their scrimmage work than the visitors but owing to the weakness and poor judgment of their back division lost the match. On the other hand, the Montreal players were strong in their back division and their good judgment was apparent as a contrast. The first half finished with 12 points in favor of Montreal to Quebec's 5, and in the second half the the Montreal boys succeeded in increasing their lead by 4 more points to Quebec's zero.

Stirlings Are Undecided as to the League in Which They Will Play

May Leave the F.A.H.L.—Their Prospects Are Encouraging.

> The F.A.H.L. will meet at the Windsor Hotel Tuesday night to elect officers and draw up a schedule. It is possible that the feasibility of effecting an amalgamation of the C.A.H.L. and F.A.H.L. will be discussed.

At the annual meeting of the Stirling Hockey Club some forty members, including the president, Mr. Edward Tattersall, were present. The reports of the secretary and treasurer were read and adopted and the election of officers for the ensuing year proceeded with, resulting as follows:

Hon. president—Mr. M. S. Foley, re-elected.

Hon. vice-presidents—Mr. G. R. Kearley and Mr. C. D. MacKerrow, re-elected.

President—J. Thurston Smith.

Vice-president—Harry Watson.

Hon. secretary-treasurer — Geo. H. Fletcher.

Assistant secretary—H. C. DeWitt.

Committee—P. N. Foley, E. Russell, A. H. McCuaig.

The season's prospects were discussed at length and the future of the club looks decidedly bright. With all last year's players still in line and the new men which each succeeding season develops, the officers are assured of success and a big effort will be made to land the premier honors of the intermediate class. The question of what league the team would play in was also discussed, but this matter was left to the incoming executive to deal with.

At present the club is a member of the Federal Intermediate League, but it is by no means certain that they will remain there.

Much enthusiasm was in evidence and from all appearances the Stirlings are "off" to a good start for 1904-05.

C.P.R. HOCKEY CLUB.

The second annual meeting of the C.P.R.A.A.A. Hockey Club, was held in their rooms, Delorimier Avenue, Friday night, when it was decided to make application to the Commercial League, as well as the Metropolitan League. After the reading of the treasurer's report for the past season the following officers were elected for the ensuing year.

President, Mr. Brumbau; vice-president, Mr. Foley; treasurer, Geo. Hunt; secretary, J. Kilcullen, 987 Notre Dame Street; committee, Mr. Hunt, P. Reynolds, S. Gardner, Mr. Hall and Mr. Chown.

AN ENJOYABLE AFFAIR.

The third annual concert and ball of the United Shoe Machinery Co. Hockey Club was given in Drummond Hall last Friday evening, where a firstclass programme was rendered. It broke up at an early hour in the morning and everybody seemed well pleased. It was regretted by the management that owing to the illness of the party concerned, it was unable to present one of the principal features of the programme, however, the item was ably filled by Mr. P. McLaughlin, and all concerned wish to express their thanks to all who aided in making the concert a great success. Among those present were Messrs. Averill, of Boston, Thos. Scott, Algeo, Clarke, Mount and Higginbottom. Mr Clarke presided in a most satisfactory manner and it was the general belief of all those present that the club will be one of the leaders in the Manufacturers' Hockey League.

> The members of the Shamrock football team, Timothy Slattery and Bert Kenehan, saved a woman from drowning in the Lachine canal on Saturday night. The woman walked through the open bridge at Wellington Street. Hearing the splash, Slattery and Kenehan procured a ladder which Slattery held while his companion descended and pulled the unfortunate woman from the water. She gave her name as Mrs. Beunett, but gave no address.

DAWSON HOCKEYISTS PLANS.

The promoters of the hockey team which is to tour Canada and the States the coming winter have received several letters in the last mail greatly encouraging the undertaking, says a Dawson exchange. From the Victorias of Winnipeg, former champions of Canada, a letter has been received over the signature of Secrtary Rose, offering favorable terms for any date the Klondike team can appear at Winnipeg. "Hod" Stewart, a former team mate with Weldy Young, the moving spirit in the Klondike team, writes from Michigan, where he is managing a rink, stating that he will be pleased to receive the Yukoners and fix dates for games.

Joe Boyle, the Yukon concessionaire who has been given authority to arrange dates in the eastern Canadian and American towns for the Klondikers, writes that he has made satisfactory arrangements for appearance of the Dawsonites at Ottawa in a series for the Stanley Cup with the Ottawa Hockey Club, Montreal, Quebec, Toronto, New York City, Brooklyn, Baltimore, Washington, D.C., Pittsburg, St. Paul, Minneapolis and other smaller towns. In the more southern cities mentioned the games will be played on artificial ice.

The Dawson players expect to get away some time in December, probably the middle of the month, and to begin playing as soon as they can reach the cold belt where strong teams can be encountered.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Annual Open Road Race of Grand Trunk Boating Club

McCuaig First and His Team Y.M.C.A., Won Out on Points.

Fine weather favored the road race Saturday afternoon. There were twenty-four competitors altogether, four from each of the following clubs: Y. M. C. A. Harriers, Grand Trunk Harriers No. 1, Grand Trunk Harriers No. 2 and the Godon Harriers.

The start was made from the Grand Trunk Boat Club at about four o'clock. The competitors ran along the road as far as the asylum and back again, covering a total distance of about five miles. The times were declared satisfactory.

The races were held under the auspices of the Grand Trunk Boating Club Harriers. Mr. W. P. Kennedy, president of the club; Geo. Bowers, and Z. Butter, acted as judges.

The rewards consisted of a trophy and three prizes. The following is the summary:

J. M. McCuaig, Y. M. C. A. Harriers, first; G. C. Palmer, Y. M. C. A. Harriers, second; Fred. Kearns, Grand Trunk Harriers, No. 1, third; C. Mason, Grand Trunk Harriers No. 1, fourth; Thomas, Shipman, Gordon Harriers, fifth; C. Stanley, Y. M. C. A. Harriers, sixth; Albert Woods, Gordon Harriers, seventh; A. Morrison, Grand Trunk Harriers No. 1, eighth; Fred. Vilert, Gordon Harriers, ninth; J. C. McCallum, Y. M. C. A. Harriers, tenth.

Time—First, 26.59 min.; second, 27.b min.; third, 28.8 min.

In the individual finishes there were a number of surprises. McCuaig, of Y.M.C.A., who was supposed to be a poor finisher, took the lead about three hundred yards from the finish and won out from his team mate, Palmer, and Kearns, of G.T.B.C., by about fifteen yards behind. Mason, of G.T.B.C., was a close fourth, with Shipman, of Gordon Harriers, fifth, and Stanley, of Y. M.C.A., sixth.

McCuaig's time of 26 min. 59 secs. was remarkably fast, beating the time made by Lochead, of McGill, last fall, by one minute and fifty-eight seconds.

At the crack of the starter's (Minette) pistol the runners started off, and a very fast pace was held for the first stretch of the road. Palmer, of Y. M. C. A., took the pace, with three Grand Trunk boys and two others of his own team right on his heels.

After a mile and a half, Stanley, of Y.M.C.A., and Morrison, of the G. T. B.C., dropped back, and the four leaders, Palmer, Kearns,, Mason and McCuaig, began to draw away.

After the turn the pace was a little faster. As they neared the finish, on passing Queen's Park track, Palmer began to open out, and gained a few yards; then Kearns started to catch him, and was followed by McCuaig, who passed them both and began to open out for the finish.

C. Stanley and G. Woods made a very exciting finish, Stanley winning by a close margin.

R.M.C. CADETS WERE BEATEN BY M'MASTER

In the First of Home and Home Games for Intermediate Intercollegiate Championship.

Toronto? Nov. 14.—McMaster added another to their list of victories Saturday morning by defeating R.M.C. by 30 to 23, in the first of the home-and-home games for the intermediate championship of the Intercollegiate Union.

Conditions were hardly favorable for a good game, the wind being very strong and the ground slippery. R.M.C. won the toss and elected to kick with the wind. McMaster held their own for a while, but the wind was too much for them, and the cadets kicked twice over the dead-ball line. Then Constantine dropped a pretty goal from field, making the score 7 to 0. Constantine was the mainstay of the cadets, and kicked twice for a touch-in-goal. Shortly afterwards he made a long run, starting a successful piece of combination work, the ball going over for a try, which was converted. R.M.C. 15, McMaster 0.

Two more kicks over the dead-line and a try by Lawson, converted by Constantine, made it look like a Waterloo for McMaster. R.M.C. 23, McMaster 0.

Another score appeared likely when the ball was kicked well over McArthur's head and nearly to the McMaster line. But McArthur made a feint and trapped a cadet, who had been following up fast, into playing offside. This gave McMaster a scrimmage well down the field. McArthur kicked over the R.M.C. line, Nordheimer fumbled and Peine was on the ball like a flash. The goal was missed. This completed the scoring for the half. R.M.C. 23, McMaster 5.

In the second half it was McMaster from the first toot of the whistle. Two safety touches and a touch-in-goal gave them five points. R.M.C. 23, McMaster 10. Then Nordheimer muffed and Peine, whose following up was a feature throughout, went over for a try. The goal was missed. R.M.C. 23, McMaster 15. McArthur was making the best possible use of the strong wind, and his long punts counted for three more rouges. Then Benson made a 25-yard run, crossed the line, but lost the ball. A rouge resulted. R.M.C. 23, McMaster 19.

R.M.C. worked the ball down to the McMaster line, but the boys in the green and black averted a score, and shortly after Pengelly followed up one of McArthur's mammoth punts fast enough to nail Nordheimer on his own line and push him over for a safety touch. McArthur kicked over the dead-line again, making the score R.M.C. 23, McMaster 22.

Here Peine won the game with a brilliant run, resulting in a try. Jordan converted and it was all over but the cheering. There was still time left for McArthur to boot the ball over the dead-line twice more before the whistle blew, with the score McMaster 30, R.M.C. 23.

Considering the high wind and the slippery ground, it was a good exhibition of football. Constantine and McArthur did most of the work for their respective teams. For McMaster, Peine and Pengelly showed great form. McMaster were constantly playing offside, and gave the cadets a great many free kicks. This disposition will have to be overcome before they go down to Kingston to bring the cup home. R.M.C. have defeated Queen's II. and McGill II. somewhat easily, and are a hard team to beat on their own grounds. The teams:

McMaster (30)—Back, Peine; halves, Benson, McArthur, Gray; quarter, McEwen; scrimmage, Campbell, McGregor, Fitch; wings, Vining, Jordan, Munro, Holman, Moyle, Pengelly.

R.M.C. (23) — Back, Nordheimer; halves, Budden, Constantine, Powell; quarter, Lawson; scrimmage, Agnew, Scott, Mathison; wings, Rass, Curry, Warren, Corastine, Parr, Armstrong.

Referee—A. B. Wright. Umpire—Dr. Hendry.

'VARSITY AND OTTAWA.

Toronto, Nov. 14.—'Varsity has offered Ottawa College $35 to play an exhibition game here on Saturday, Nov. 19th. It is altogether likely Ottawa College will accept. 'Varsity has also accepted terms with Hamilton, to play in the Ambitious City on Thanksgiving Day.

DALHOUSIE CHAMPIONS.

Halifax, N.S., Nov. 14.—Dalhousie University won the trophy and the Rugby championship of Nova Scotia yesterday, by defeating the Wanderers of Halifax, the score being eight to three. It was the concluding match of the series and brought out 3,000 spectators. Dalhousie's victory was the fifth successive championship won by the university.

TORONTOS AND PETERBORO IN O.R.F.U. SEMI-FINALS

The Winners Will Play Hamilton for Championship—Argos Were Beaten Saturday.

Toronto, Nov. 14.—The Torontos defeated the Argonauts Saturday afternoon before one of the largest crowds of the season, giving them the privilege of playing off with Peterboro for the honor of meeting the Tigers of Hamilton in the finals of the O.R.F.U.

The weather was not all that could be desired, for a stiff wind was blowing northeast, and, the Argonauts winning the toss, started off with this in their favor. Notwithstanding this, however, they were only able to negotiate four points in the first half, while the Torontos were able to do likewise and the score ended fourteen to four in favor of the latter. The Oarsmen played a rough and strenuous game, but were not in as good condition as their opponents and can attribute their defeat mainly to this and their lack of judgment. In the first half with the strong wind favorable, they should have played an open, kicking game, but instead held the ball for runs. The Torontos were the faster and headier and seemed to have the knack of getting the ball and holding it. They can attribute their success in no small measure to the headwork and good judgment of Morrison, at centre half, for his kicking was directly responsible for many of the scores.

The Argonaut wing-line was much the heavier and they used their weight. The game was not devoid of casualties, for Robertson has a badly sprained ankle and Brockbank was retired with a broken leg, resulting from an accidental kick, Mara taking his place on the wings.

The referee was very impartial, his rulings not being disputed at any time.

The teams were as follows:

Torontos (14)—Back, Flett; halves, McGuires, Morrison, Robertson; quarter, Cochrane; centre, Perrain; wings, Fellowes, Peterson, Marsh, Dale, Bleasdell, Brockbank (Mara).

Argonauts (4)—Back, Aitken; halves, Hamber, Ardagh, Trimmer; quarter, Smith; centre, Bassett; wings, Clarkson, Grey, Hoyles, Murphy, Reiffenstein; spare, Hague.

Referee—Rev. A. F. Barr; umpire, Dr. A. B. Wright.

PECULIAR HAPPENING IN FOOTBALL GAME AT 'VARSITY

Player Swallowed His Wad of Chewing Gum and Nearly Died.

Toronto, Nov. 12.—There was a peculiar happening yesterday on the Varsity Athletic Field during the progress of the Mulock Cup games between the junior S.P.S. and Med. teams. In the second half, while the S. P. S. students were intently watching an attempt to kick a goal, Large, the Meds' centre man, suddenly fell all over himself. He groaned and moaned and displayed all the symptoms of a man in a fit. Every possible assistance was tendered him, but to no purpose. Finally when it occurred to one of the spectators that the player was choking he was treated to a back-punching process, and in short order Large was all right, but in no shape to continue. He had swallowed his chewing-gum.

'VARSITY'S HOCKEY TEAM.

Toronto, Nov. 14.—There was a good attendance at the annual meeting of the hockey club of the Toronto University, when the officers were elected for the year. As Harry Houser has left the college, he has resigned the office of captain and another will have to be elected. The following are the officers:—Hon. president, President Loudon; hon. vice-president, Dr. A. B. Wright; president, Wilkie Evans; vice-president, C. G. Heyd; secretary-treasurer, D. E. Robertson; manager first team, C. V. Jamieson; manager intermediate team, G. Ramsay; manager junior team, C. C. Bothwell.

The following representatives were also elected:—University College, R. Laidlaw and R. Reid; Medicine, R. McIntyre; S. P. S., W. G. Swan; Dentals, J. Crawford; Victoria College, F. Hamilton; Pharmacy, G. Wright; representative to O.H.A., C. G. Heyd.

The senior team does not look any too strong at present, but the prospects for the juniors are exceedingly bright, as several of last year's crack U.C.C. team are at the University.

PRINCETON TIGERS WERE BEATEN BY YALE BULLDOGS

The Defeated Players Could Not Use Their Speed Because of a Slippery Gridiron.

Princeton, N.J., Nov. 14.—Everything was blue in Old Nassau Saturday. Yale to-day administered the second defeat of the season to the Orange and Black by the score of 12 to 0. It was the first time in the history of the two institutions that a football championship was not at stake; it was the first time that Yale and Princeton had been beaten by minor elevens before meeting in their annual contest.

Princeton will forever blame the elements for to-day's defeat, the intermittent downpours of Friday having made the gridiron soft and slimy. Their backs could gain no headway and their forwards were unable to brace themselves for the fierce attack of the New Haven boys.

The game was devoid of spectacular plays. Yale used straight plays aimed at centre or tackle. Only twice did she essay a quarter-back run. The first attempt was a dismal failure, but on the second try got away for a pretty twenty-yard run.

While Yale outplayed Princeton in the opening half, scoring two touchdowns, the latter clearly had their opponents on the defensive in the closing half. During the last thirty-five minutes of play the ball was almost continuously in Yale's territory.

HOLY CROSS LOST TO HARVARD.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 14.—Harvard easily defeated Holy Cross on Soldiers' Field Saturday, 28 to 5. In the first half the crimson gained at will until near the end of the half, when a fumble gave the ball to McManus, who ran 55 yards for the only touch-down made by Holy Cross.

In the second half Harvard played many substitutes but was able to make three more touch-downs.

Holy Cross was weak especially in the centre. Harvard was weak in her defense at times, but she had the ball through most of the game.

In kicking, Harvard showed great improvement over previous games but she made several bad fumbles.

INDIANS PLUCKY STRUGGLE.

Philadelphia, Nov. 14.—Although Carlisle failed to score against the University of Pennsylvania eleven Saturday, the three touch-downs made by Pennsylvania were earned with difficulty. The Indians were lighter than Pennsylvania, but what they lacked in weight they made good in speed. The final score was Pennsylvania, 18, Carlisle, 0.

AMERICAN COLLEGE GAMES.

At Princetown—Yale, 12; Princeton, 0.

At Cambridge—Harvard, 28; Holy Cross, 5.

At Philadelphia—Penna., 18; Carlisle Indians, 0.

At New York—Columbia, 12; Cornell, 6.

At Annapolis—Navy, 5; University of Virginia, 0.

At Hanover, N. H.—Dartmouth, 15; Amherst, 4.

At Washington—Georgetown, 12; Bucknell, 0.

At Ann Arbor—Michigan, 22; Chicago, 12.

At Evanston, Ills.—Northwestern, 12; Illinois, 0.

At Williamstown, Mass.—Williams, 73; U. of Vt., 11.

At West Point—West Point, 41; New York U'vy, 0.

MICHIGAN DOWNED CHICAGO.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 14.—Chicago University Saturday gave the three-time western champion Michigan eleven a hard battle, the latter winning, 22 to 12. Both teams scored in each half, the maroons making their first score on Michigan since 1900. Chicago lost its star backfield early in the first half by injuries and throughout the remainder of the game Quarterback Eckersall's kicking and his brilliant runs constituted Chicago's entire effective defence. Favored by a strong wind, and by what luck there was in the game, he held Michigan's offense on even terms, during most of the game. Michigan played out the game with but one substitute.

COLUMBIA SURPRISED CORNELL.

New York, Nov. 14.—Columbia brought the football season to a finish Saturday by defeating Cornell in the annual game, twelve to six. The local team displayed wonderful improvement in form, and its entire play was characterized by snap and dash.

There was no scoring in the first half, but in the second half Columbia early made a touchdown. Then Cornell got one, and the score was six to five against Columbia. A safety for Cornell put Columbia once more in the lead, the score being seven to six. Columbia never relaxed, and made one more touchdown by hard aggressive play.

> In the Junior O.R.F.U. series, the Grand Trunks will play the Montreal III. at the M.A.A.A. grounds, Thursday. The winners will meet Quebec here next Saturday.

SPORTING GOSSIP OF THE DAY

The Association Game Between Westmounts and McGill Teams

Was a Fine Struggle—It Ended in a Tie. One All

The Westmount and McGill teams met in a game of Association football on McGill campus Saturday afternoon before a large crowd and neither could prove its superiority, the score ending 1—1.

The game was very fast and Westmount had much the best of the opening stages. They easily stopped the rushes of the students, and, being awarded a free kick, looked exceedingly dangerous, but Warner returned nicely. Soon after Martin made a neat pass to McFarlane, who repassed to Nairn, the latter drawing first blood for Westmount with a fast low shot. Thus ended the first half, and the second continued very fast and exciting. The pace was beginning to tell on the suburbans, for lack of constant training had not left them in the best of condition, and they missed the services of Dions, who was indisposed, although his place was ably filled by Way. The red and white were forcing the play and making determined rushes on Shortrede's goal, and just before time Forbes succeeded in getting in a low shot, which evened the score. Westmount then exerted themselves to the utmost to regain the lead, but luck was against them. A hard shot from Harding struck the upright and rebounded into play, and McFarlane getting possession made another nice attempt, which, unfortunately, struck Harding and thus missed a sure goal.

The game ended a tie, one all, but Westmount, in condition, might be slightly the superior team. The teams were as follows:—

Westmount—Goal, G. P. Shortrede; backs, Heald (capt.), Woodburn, Crabb, J. Martin, W. Martin; forwards, Harding, Way, McFarlane, Graham, Nairn.

McGill—Goal, Davis; backs, Warner, Featherstone, Morrow, Bremner, Willard; forwards, McMeekin, Forbes, McCowen, P. Davis, Boyle.

TWO STIRLING HOCKEYISTS

Mr. P. N. Foley, the Captain of the Stirling Hockey Club.

Mr. J. Thurston Smith, the Popular President Stirling Hockey Club.

GRIDIRON ECHOES

OTTAWA COLLEGE II. WON.

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—Ottawa College intermediate team Saturday defeated Rough Riders' seconds on Lansdowne Park 22 to 5 in the first match of the series of home and home games for the Carling Bryson intermediate championship trophy. The game was a very good exhibition of intermediate football, played with all the snap and vim of the senior article. College's superiority lay in their back division, which outpointed that of the Rough Riders. The Collegians were all around a better balanced organization, having played practically the same team against the seniors all season. The second match of the series will be played on Varsity oval on Saturday next. A great deal of local interest centers in the game, and a big crowd for an intermediate match was present.

The teams and officers were:

Referee, E. Brennan, College. Umpire, Alf. Smith, Ottawa.

* * *

The scoring throughout was according to Intercollegiate rules, 5 points for a touc-down and 1 point for converting.

* * *

Trenholme did not play, as he did not care to risk being injured, in view of the play-off for the championship with Queen's.

Hamilton tried several drops-on-goal with indifferent success.

* * *

Zimmerman's injuries will not keep him out of the Queen's-McGill game.

* * *

The Montreal boys attended the theatre in the evening.

* * *

* * *

Martin devoted his entire attention to Jimmy Craig. The two came together hard in the second half and the McGill man took the count.

* * *

Homer A. Fenton, President of the Newly Formed Strathcona Social and Athletic Club.

* * *

McAllen's blonde locks were usually in the vicinity of the ball.

* * *

It was a clean game, not a player being ruled off.

Macdonald put up a clever game for Montreal.

MISCELLANEOUS

ST. LAMBERT BOATING CLUB.

The closing of the St. Lambert Boating Club's season took place on Friday evening last, by a full-dress dance, which was fairly well attended, a goodly number from Montreal being present. he ball-room was prettily and tastefully decorated, while a few "cosy corners" were distributed here and there, the handiwork of a few ladies of the club. An improvement on former such occasions was the gentlemen's dressing and smoking room—built out from one of the doors leading out on to the balcony—which was well patronized between the dances. The unavoidable absence of President Grose, who was detained up West by business, was noticeable. Of the lady patronesses the following were present: Madames Grose, Woodworth, Christie, Locke and Innes. A tastefully gotten-up programme, bearing the club's monogram, called for twenty regular and three extra dances, which were most thoroughly enjoyed by the participants therein to delightful music by Blaisi's well known orchestra. Mr. Herb. Bourne, the hon. secretary, made an excellent floor manager. Among others present were:—Mrs. and the Misses Grose (3), Mr. and Mrs. Innes, Mr. and Mrs. Woodworth, Mr. Wheatley, jr., and Mrs. and Miss Wheatley, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon, Dr. and Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. and the Misses Christie, Mrs. and the (2) Misses Locke, Mrs. Frank Riley, Mr. and Miss Finch, the Misses Belle Erskine Andrews (3), Buchanan, Williams, Bramble, Peterson, Dawson, Doherty, Eveleigh (Montreal), Hart (Montreal), Comer, Maud Campbell, Clarke Coodchild, Church, Myrtle Moodie (Terrebonne), and Miller and the Messrs. Christie, Kirkcaldie (2), Sinclair, Symington, Will. Mattison, Sudbury, Erskine, Simpson, Johnston Smith, Henry, Jas. Baine, Gordon Baine, F. Walker, Johns, Leo Ryan, Taylor, McNamara, Watson, Howe, Seath. Conary, Campbell, Thomas, Archibald, Cowan, Tolmie, Mowat, Bradford, Hendrie, Connell and Fred. McBride. Supper was served at midnight, after which dancing was again resumed and kept up till a very early hour Saturday. It was a case of "Happy to meet, sorry to part and hope to meet again."

This large dance was followed on Saturday afternoon by a farewell or closing entertainment to the children of the town, they being invited to attend at the club house from 5 to 9 p.m., and in response to the invitation some 100 to 150 assembled there and enjoyed themselves with dancing, games, recitation and song, under the supervision of President and Mrs. Grose, who were loyally assisted by the Misses Horsfall, Grose (3), Reid, Winnie Dawson, "Dene" McKenzie, and Ruby Elliott, and some gentlemen of the committee of the club. Refreshments were served early in the evening and were thoroughly enjoyed by the youngsters, after which dancing and games were resumed till the closing hour, when all dispersed well pleased with their evening's fun. The ladies' committee of the club, and the young ladies who assisted them so willingly, as well as the officials of the club, one and all certainly deserve the greatest of praise, not alone for their work upon the above occasion, but likewise throughout the entire season, which has proved such a successful one all round.

DESIGNER WATSON DEAD.

Glasgow, November 14.—George Lennox Watson, the yacht designer, who has for some time past been ill, died at his residence in this city Saturday morning. His condition was reported to be better Friday morning, but in the night he suffered a relapse and passed away. He was born in 1851.

ST. LAMBERT CURLERS.

The organization meeting of the St. Lambert Curling Club has been postponed until Thursday evening.

MAT AND RING.

CANADIAN PUGILIST DROWNED.

Buffalo, Nov. 14.—William Jackson, a lightweight Canadian pugilist, is believed to have been carried down the Niagara River and over the Falls to instant death on Wednesday night. There seems to be little doubt of his fate, and his parents have given him up for lost.

Jackson's parents live in Bridgeburg, which is on the Canadian shore, three miles below Fort Erie. When the time came for him to leave for the scene of the fight he found that the Fort Erie ferries were not running. Without hesitation Jackson went to a rowboat landing, got into a boat and started to row across the river, with his father on shore watching. All went well until Jackson was close to the American side. Then he lost an oar and was powerless and at the mercy of the swift current.

He cried for help, but in no time he was swept down the river and lost in the darkness. The father feared the fate his son undoutedly met, but waited until yesterday morning. When he learned his son had not appeared at the clubhouse he notified the authorities. Not the slightest trace has been found of rowboat or fighter.

Boston, Nov. 14.—"No bill" in the case of Joe Walcott, the colored pugilist, charged with manslaughter in shooting Nelson Hall, jr., was returned by the Grand Jury Saturday. The jury found that the shooting was accidental.

BOTHNER AND TREMBLAY.

The two most prominent lightweight wrestlers on the American continent are George Bothner, of New York, and Eugene Tremblay, of Montreal. The World's Fair executive of St. Louis, have offered a purse for a contest there between the two, but so far Bothner has refused to accept the conditions. He has two more days in which to decide. If the match does not come off at St. Louis it will take place in New York.

JUNIOR BRANCH TOTAL ABSTINENCE SOCIETY

Ald. D. Gallery, M.P., Presided at the Organization in St. Ann's Yesterday Afternoon.

Ald. D. Gallery, M.P., presided at a meeting of St. Ann's Total Abstinence and Benefit Society yesterday afternoon, at which it was decided to organize a junior branch in connection with the older society. The Christian Brothers of St. Ann's parish, assisted by a special committee of ten members, with Ald. M. J. Walsh as convenor, will have direct charge of the junior branch.

The necessity for organizing the boys into temperance associations before they left school was outlined in brief speeches by Ald. Gallery, ex-Chief Detective Cullen, Mr. P. J. Mornel, Ald. Walsh, Mr. J. L. Cuddihy, and others. The junior branch will have its own officers and will be self-governing under the advice of the clergy and the special committee.

As soon as a member reaches the age of eighteen he will be immediately transferred to the parent society, and in this way the latter will be continually supplied with fresh vigor and strength by the reception of young men into its membership.

Boucher and Roffey, tailors, beg to announce that their stock for the coming season is complete, and would thank you to call and inspect the same. Corner St. Peter and Notre Dame streets.—Adv.

AN INCREASED AWARD.

The New York Central has just received notice that the Superior Jury of Awards, after hearing an argument on the subject, have raised the award first given the New York Central on its exhibit at the Universal Exposition at St. Louis, from the grade of Gold Medal to that of Grand Prize.

This is very gratifying indeed, and more so from the fact that the passenger train which the New York Central exhibited, was one of the Empire State Express trains taken from the service, and not one that had been built expressly for this exhibit.

No higher commendation of the passenger service of the New York Central Lines could well be given, and this award emphasizes the opinion expressed very generally throughout the world that the New York Central Lines now form the great central railway system of America.

The Allan liner Pretorian from Glasgow is due here this evening. She has as saloon passengers Rev. John Armstrong, Mr. James Bohan, Miss Fleck, Mr. H. L. Higgin, Miss M. Kingan, Mrs. Little, Mrs. Macdonald, Mr. Archie H. Macdonald, Miss Linnie McKechnie, Mr. John Macilthie, Dr. J. M. Rogers and Miss J. Rogers.

We deliver bread to any address. James Strachan Bakers to Royalty.

LARGE FAMILIES.

The North of England a Section Noted for Large Families—Parents With Thirty Children. Contests.

The North of England, says Tit-Bits, seems to be a fertile soil for large families, for in 1797 we read of a Cumberland man and his wife, accompanied by thirty of their children, all attending the christening of the thirty-first child; and in earlier years another north countryman, Thomas Greenhill, applied to the then Duke of Norfolk, Earl Marshal, for an augmentation to his coat-of-arms on the singular ground that he was the "seventh son and thirty-ninth child of the one father and mother."

In Conway churchyard there was to be seen—it can scarcely be there to-day—a tombstone bearing the following remarkable epitaph: "Here lyeth the body of Nicholas Hocker, of Conway, gentleman, who was the forty-first child of his father, William Hocker, by Alice, his wife, and the father of twenty-seven children, 1637."

If a man's family be considered as including all his descendants, that of Peter Smith, who flourished in New Jersey in the seventeenth century, is entitled to a high place of honor, for at a recent annual gathering of Peter's progeny no fewer than 7,000 met and dined together under the apple trees in the orchard attached to the ancestral homestead.

In families it is not an unknown thing for one child to be old enough to have a sister or brother young enough to be his or her great-grandchild. Thus the eldest son of Thomas Beatty, of Drumcondra, has passed his 73rd birthday when his youngest brother qualified for the cradle. When William Frost, of Galphay, near Ripon, died in 1789 his eldest child was a sturdy boy of eighty-eight summers and his youngest was barely sixteen, and the Lady Powers-court of to-day is half a century older than her latest brother.

There are cases on record where a century or more has divided the wedding days of father and son. The first Earl of Leicester was first married in 1775, and his son led his second wife to the altar in August, 1875; while Captain Francis Maude, who was married on June 28, 1849, was following the example his father, Lord Hawarden, had set him ninety-three years earlier, in 1756. But both these cases are quite eclipsed by that of General G. Stevenson, of Bristol, who was united to his third wife in 1834 at the age of eighty-two, and whose father was first wed in 1704, the year of Blenheim. This seeming impossibility is accounted for by the fact that the father, who was born in 1630, was married for the third time at the age of 70, and the General was the son of this late union. Thus we get the remarkable result of a man whose father was born in Charles II's reign wooing and wedding within the memory of many people still living.

Rev. T. Leblond, the superior of the Fathers of the Blessed Sacrament has resigned on account of ill health and will be succeeded by Father Estevenon, who founded the house of the Order in this city. Father Leblond will leave for Rome in a few days.

THE AMERICAN HOTEL CLERK.

He stands at a desk upon the counter which fronts your entry. He is usually a man in the prime of youth; he wears diamonds, according to general rumour, and usually lives up to his reputation. He assigns your room.

To the Londoner he appears as a magnificent personage, says a writer in "T. P's Weekly," who combines mysteriously the duties of the man at the door of the Carlton and the privileges of the President of the United States.

You require information as to a railroad route, or a stamp, and the hotel clerk is ready for it. You propound to him all your difficulties, and he solves them with a snap of the lips and a shift of his cigar, for within his circle he is omniscent. He is not subservient: there is no reason why he should be.

Indeed, it was a little startling when the hotel clerk at Chicago overtook me as I was going in to dinner, linked his friendly arm in mine, and said, "Well, sonny, how are you making out? Bully?"

We have nothing like the hotel clerk in England; for the hotel manager is more aloof, and the hall-porter more subservient.

Whence the hotel clerk gets his diamonds I cannot imagine. Not from tips. I would as soon think of dropping a "quarter" into the palm of Mr. Roosevelt after an interview as of offering a tip to an American hotel clerk.

MR. MULOCK FILLED HIS AUTO TIRE WITH STRAW

He Travelled 25 Miles in His $10.000 Mercedes After Making These Emergency Repairs.

Ottawa, November 14.—Mr. Cawthra Mulock, son of Sir William Mulock, postmaster-general, arrived in the city Saturday morning with his big twenty-four horsepower automobile. Mr. Mulock is accompanied by his chaffeur and left Toronto last Tuesday. Twenty-five miles west of Brockville, one of the hind tires blew out, and in order to reach Brockville they had to fill it with hay.

The auto is the largest in Canada and it cost $10,000, being bought in Paris. It is of the type known as the Mercedes, and is capable of holding six people.

VALUABLE ORCHID ONCE LOST BUT IS NOW FOUND

Steward of a Ship Believes He Has Discovered a Rare Specimen not Seen Since 1854.

New York, Nov. 12.—The steward of the sugar steamer Abergeldie, which, after doubling the Cape of Good Hope, has tied up at the Arbuckle refinery, near the foor of Pear-street, Brooklyn, believes he has a specimen of a long-lost valuable orchid.

Through the taste of the steward for orchids Captain Keith's dinning-room became the attractive shelter of a rare horticultural exhibit.

If the steward's surmises, based on the description of the bloom which the native gave him, are correct, he expects to become so wealthy that he can buy up half the top-priced orchids in England and corner the market.

At Macassar, the chief port on the Island of Celebes, the Abergeldie's steward, H. Dedekind, was presented by a Chinese clerk with an orchid seedling, which he planted in gravel within a cocoanut husk.

The Macassar seedling is developing finely, and in five years will break out, said the Chinaman, into white blossoms, and may be then worth $500.

At Sourabaya a native came off shore with palms, and the steward asked him if he couldn't fetch some orchids. A few days later the native returned with some parastic seedlings growing out of moss on the rind of a tree.

The collector had detached the bark with moss and orchid. The Malay said that he had collected the specimens at the risk of his life, having robbed the graveyard of a village near Sourabaya to get the unpromising-looking roots.

From the description of the gorgeous bloom to come, Dedekind believes it to be an orchid, which accidentally arrived in England fifty years ago, from an unknown origin and was lost.

SUPPORTING DARWINIAN THEORY.

Ten years ago the injection of salt water as a restorative to patients dying from loss of blood aroused general interest. This discovery of the quality of salt water probably suggested to the French savant, M. Quinton, a long and patient research concerning salt water, the conclusion of which throws unexpected light on and adds support to the Darwinian theory of evolution. M. Quinton maintains that sea water is the natural source from which, as Professor Haeckel believes, elementary bodies rise which develop into all species, including the human. The environment wherein the anatomical elements of living creatures exist is neither more nor less than a marine one. Our tissues had cells continue to exert their functions in a fluid, the composition of which bears the closest resemblance to that of sea water. This explains the universal craving for salt, and why we periodically rush to the sea coast for health recuperation.

NEVER NEGLECT EVERY-DAY ILLS.

A cold is one of the everyday ills of life. People of all ages, in summer and in winter, are liable to catch cold, and a cold is always dangerous, because a cold is but the beginning of catarrh of some internal organ—head, lungs, stomach or pelvic organs. Any remedy that will cure a cold should cure the many effects of a cold. That's why Smith's Triple Cure is so popular, why people are so enthusiastic after experiencing its wonderful curative power. Smith's Triple Cure promptly cures colds and catarrh wherever located, because it acts directly on the depressed nerve centres, giving strength and vigor to tired nerves, removing the congestion of the circulation and imparting renewed vitality to the mucous membranes.

Picture to yourself the horrors of bronchial catarrh—the terrible cough, disgusting expectoration, wheezy breath and loss of strength, or the tortures of female catarrh—the swollen bowels, shooting pains, offensive discharges, displacements and burning distress, and then realize, if you can, how thankful these sufferers are for Smith's Triple Cure which has delivered them out of their troubles. Is it any wonder that Smith's Triple Cure is rapidly displacing all other catarrh treatments in hospitals and sanitariums and is prescribed by the medical profession generally? It meets a want felt for centuries, yet felt now in this strenuous life of ours as never before. Smith's Triple Cure cures catarrh sufferers of all ages, makes the sick well and the weak strong; it builds up healthy digestion, makes strong nerves and enriches the blood. That's why all the world is praising it, why its magical curative power is talked about in the homes and on the streets.

Smith's Triple Cure consists of four separate preparations, three remedies taken internally acting on the mucous membranes, stomach, liver and digestive organs, purifying and enriching the blood, and a catarrh cream used locally in allaying all inflammation and killing all disease germs in the nasal passages, throat and lungs, a full two weeks' treatment of combined remedies, sold for only 50 cents by all dealers, the greatest value for the money ever offered. If your druggist won't supply you, send 25 two-cent stamps by mail today, and we will send it postpaid and guarantee safe delivery. Address W. F. Smith Co., 185 St. James St., Montreal.

The Mystery of a Hansom Cab

BY FERGUS HUME.

CHAPTER XXXI.—(Continued.)

They both sprang to their feet as the strangers entered, and the elfish child pushed a broken chair in a sullen manner towards Mr. Calton, while the other girl shuffled into a far corner of the room and crouched down there like a dog.

The noise of their entry awoke the hag from an uneasy slumber into which she had fallen. Sitting up in bed, she huddled the clothes round her. She presented such a gruesome spectacle that involuntarily Calton recoiled. Her white hair was unbound, and hung in tangled masses over her shoulders in snowy profusion. Her face, parched and wrinkled, with the hooked nose and beady black eyes, like those of a mouse, was poked forward, and her skinny arms, bare to the shoulder, were waving wildly about as she grasped at the bedclothes with her claw-like hands. The square bottle and the broken cup lay beside her, and filling herself a dram she lapped it up greedily.

The irritant brought on a paroxysm of coughing, which lasted until the elfish child shook her well and took the cup from her.

"Greedy old beast," muttered this amiable infant, peering into the cup; "ye'd drink the Yarrer dry, I b'lieve."

"Yah!" muttered the old woman, feebly. "Who's they, Lizer?" she said, shading her eyes with one trembling hand while she looked at Calton and the detective.

"The perlice, cove, an' the swell," said Lizer, sullenly. "Come to see yer turn up your toes."

"I ain't dead yet, ye whelp," snarled the hag with sudden energy; "an' 'f I gits up I'll turn up yer toes, drat ye!"

Lizer gave a shrill laugh of disdain, and Kilsip stepped forward. "None of this," he said, sharply, taking Lizer by one thin shoulder and pushing her over to where the other girl was crouching; "stop there till I tell you to move."

Lizer tossed back her tangled black hair, and was about to make some impudent reply, when the other girl, who was older and wiser, put out her hand and pulled her down beside her.

Meanwhile, Calton was addressing himself to the old woman in the corner.

"You wanted to see me?" he said, gently, for notwithstanding his repugnance to her she was, after all, a woman—and dying.

"Yes, drat ye!" croaked Mother Guttersnipe, lying down and pulling the greasy bedclothes up to her neck. "You ain't a parson?" with sudden suspicion.

"No, I am a lawyer."

"I ain't a-goin' to have parsons a-prowlin' round 'here," growled the old woman, viciously. "I ain't a-goin' to die yet, drat ye! I'm goin' to get well an' strong an' 'ave a good time of it."

"I'm afraid you won't recover," said Calton, gently. "You had better let me send for a doctor."

"No, I shan't," retorted the hag, adming a blow at him with all her feeble strength. "I ain't a-goin' to have my inside spil'd with salts and senner. I don't want neither parsons nor doctors' I don't. I wouldn't 'ave a lawyer, only I'm a-thinkin' of makin' my will, I am."

"Mind I gits the watch," yelled Lizer from the corner. "If you gives it to Sal I'll tear her eyes out."

"Silence!" said Kilsip, sharply, and with a muttered curse Lizer sat back in her corner.

"Sharper than a serpent's tooth, she are," whined the old woman, when quiet was once restored. "That young scamp 'ave fed at my 'ouse an' now she turns, drat her!"

"Well—well," said Calton, rather impatiently, "what is it you wanted to see me about?"

"Don't be in such a 'urry," said the hag, with a scowl, "or I'm blamed if I tell you anything, s'elp me."

She was evidently growing very weak, so Calton turned to Kilsip and told him in a whisper to set a doctor. The detective scribbled a note on some paper, and, giving it to Lizer, ordered her to take it. At this the other girl rose, and, putting her arm in that of the child's they left together.

"Them two young 'ussers gone!" said Mother Guttersnipe. "Right you are, for I don't want what I've got to tell to git into the hoospaper, I don't."

"And what is it?" asked Calton, bending forward.

The old woman took another drink of gin, and it seemed to put life into her, for she sat up in the bed and commenced to talk rapidly, as though she were afraid of dying before her secret was told.

"You've been 'ere afore," she said, pointing one skinny finger at Calton, "and you wanted to find out all about 'er, but you didn't. She wouldn't let me tell, for she was always a proud jade, a-flouncin' round while 'er pore mother was a-starvin'."

"Her mother! Are you Rosanna Moore's mother?" cried Calton, considerably astonished.

"May I die if I ain't," croaked the hag. "'Er pore father died of drink, drat 'im! and I'm a-follerin' 'im to the same place in the same way. You weren't about town in the old days or you'd a-bin after 'er, drat ye!"

"After Rosanna?"

"The werry girl," answered Mother Guttersnipe. "She were on the stage, she were, an' my eye! what a swell she were, with all the coves a-dyin' for 'er, an' she dancin' over their black 'earts, drat 'em! But she was allays good to me till 'e came."

"Who came?"

"'E!" yelled the old woman, raising herself on her arm, her eyes sparkling with vindictive fury. "'E, a-comin' round with di'monds and gold, and a-ruinin' my pore girl; an' how 'e's 'eld 'is bloomin' 'ead up all these years as if he were a saint, drat 'im—drat 'im!"

"Whom does she mean?" whispered Calton to Kilsip.

Calton rose up in astonishment, and even Kilsip's inscrutable countenance displayed some surprise.

"Aye, 'e were a swell in them days," pursued Mother Guttersnipe, "and 'e comes a'philanderin' round my gal, drat 'im! and ruins 'er, and leaves 'er an' the child to starve, like a black-'earted villain as 'e was."

"The child! Her name?"

"Bah!" retorted the hag with scorn. "As if you didn't know my gran'daughter Sal."

"Sal Mark Frettlby's child?"

Stocks and Money.

ACTIVE MARKET WITH TOLEDO, DETROIT AND OGILIVE LEADERS; FEW N.Y. PRICES

One or two quotations dribbled in from no one knows where, and considerable amusement was created when the people who repeated them had to maintain their authenticity.

One Montreal house got its Wall Street orders through by cabling to London and having them re-cabled to New York. This was expensive. It cost fifty cents a word.

Some of the so-called bucket-shops were making a great splurge about a few quotations received but the general impression was that they came over the clothes line from some cellar.

"Missouri Pacific opened at 108 3-4 to 109." That was about the only one of the mysterious messages that was received.

The Associated Press, however, got a message through.

The Montreal market was again very active to-day with the tone generally pretty strong. The liquidation of a big line of Toledo gave that stock something of a set back, but the favorites generally made a very good showing.

The brokers seem to be unanimous in stating tht the public is really in the market to a large extent, in fact agree that there is more public interest to-day than at any time since the market first took its upward turn.

One of the most interesting and at the same time sifgnificant pieces of news of the day is the statement by Mr. F. W. Thompson, of the Ogilvie Flour Mills Company that the weather in the west has been exceptionally good for fall ploughing and that the land under wheat cultivation next spring will be twenty to thirty per cent. greater than it was this year. Such a big increase is well understood when it is considered that an enormous number of new settlers went into the country this year and last.

The influence of their work and general operations was therefore not in evidence this year, but will be felt next season. Incidentally Mr. Thompson's advices claim a wheat crop this year of between 63,000,000 to 65,000,000 bushels. Next season, under the greatly increased acreage, a big crop is assured, even although the weather conditions are not altogether favorable.

This is a factor that should be cheering to all the friends of Canadian Pacific, and it no doubt will prove a factor in the future of the milling stocks.

Ogilvie preferred was traded in to a considerable extent to-day, and this news is equally significant in connection with the milling properties.

Opening at 123, with sales of 385 shares around that basis, Ogilvie was rapidly bid up to 128 1-2. There was talk around the "street" of a "plum" for the preferred shareholders, but no official has been made.

Heavy sales of Canadian Pacific rights around 5¾ to 6, chiefly at the latter figure, was not the least interesting feature of the day, while the stock itself sold at 132¾.

The Steel shares showed nothing particularly new. The common opened at 19 and moved back to 18½, while the preferred sold at 48¼, which is ¾ under the highest of Saturday.

The trading in Detroit and Toledo was heavy and in point of activity these two issues led the list. The former was decidedly strong and the latter weaker, Toledo selling at 25½ and going to 23¾, afterwards recovering to 24¾. Detroit opened at 76½, and moved steadily upwards till it touched 77¼, reacting a fraction towards the close.

Steel bonds sold at 77¾ to 78 and there was a sale of $4,500 St. John Ry bonds at 106.

Money continues easy in Montreal at 4½ to 5 per cent.

THE NEW YORK MARKET.

(By Associated Press.)

New York, Nov. 14.—Wall street—Individual stocks, most of them industrials, showed wide opening gains today, but many of the standard stocks lost small fractions. Chicago & Alton rose 3 points, Atlantic Coast line 2, General Electric 2 1-2, and St. Louis Southwestern preferred, Louisville & Nashville, Illinois Central, and Chicago Union Traction about a point. Six thousand shares of U. S. Steel sold at 27 1-2 and 27 3-4, compared with 27 1-8 on Saturday, and 6,000 shares of corn products sold at 23 1-2 and 24, compared with 22 5-8 on Saturday.

The market was furiously active during the first hour, and there were some violent advances among street railroad stocks, which are infrequently active, and among specialties. The standard stocks continued under pressure for a time, but rallied before the end of the hour, making general recoveries of all their losses, and in some cases rising over Saturday's. Southern Pacific was heavily bought. There were declines of 1 in International Pump and Pittsburg, C. C. & St. Louis preferred. Otherwise the recessions were confined to fraction-. The United States Steel stocks became aggressively strong, the common rising 1 1-8 and the preferred 1 3-4; and this was the feature of the day.

SALES OF C.P.R.

The sales of Canadian Pacific in Wall Street last week amounted to 37,200 shares and 12,000 rights.

Consols are 88 7-16 against 87 11-16 a year ago and 93 5-16, two years ago.

U.S. 4's of 1925 are quoted at 130 1-2, against 134 1-2 a year ago and 136 two years ago.

Total sales on the Wall Street exchange last week amounted to 7,771,850 shares for five business days, against 6,992,629 the week previous (six days) and 3,647,950 the same week a year ago.

Total sales in Wall Street for the year to date are 142,301,646 shares, against 140,723,646 shares in 1903, 164,285,990 in 1902, and 227,579,667 shares, in the record year of 1901.

C.P.R. RUMORS.

Various "deal" reports were circulated to account for the strength of Chicago Great Western, Canadian Pacific, and other stocks. It was again asserted that some large system is after Great Western, but this is not seriously taken. The same story has served twenty times to put up this stock. It was reported that closer relations will be made between Canadian Pacific and New England Railroads.—New York Post.

Money is also easy in New York and there is a feeling now that it may continue so in spite of the many predictions to the contrary.

THE OD STORY.

An active and irregular market may be expected for some time to come, but profits should be taken on all sharp rallies and purchases attempted only on the pronounced declines. —Henry Clews.

PUBLIC IS IN.

"This talk about the public not being in the local market amuses me" said a local broker. "There is of course, some manipulation and some big professional work generally, but this is getting to be a public market. My commissions are ten times what they were some time ago and every broker I have talked to on the subject has reported a big increase. In all the years I have been on the Exchange I have seldom seen more satisfactory markets than Fridays and Saturday's.

'Street' Gossip.

Startling Comparisons Suggested by the Big Rise in Stocks

That prices on the New York Stock Exchange had advanced vigorously, up to election day in 1896, and that they rose a trifle higher later in the week, has been recalled many times in last week's reminiscences. Some curious comparisons may be made, however, when one glances at the actual prices of that week. Here are a few of them:

Reading	2⅜	31¾	78½	77¾
Union Pacific..	3½	12½	133	113¼

This year's price of Burlington is computed by doubling the price of the joint 4 per cent. bonds; the low 1896 prices for Northern Pacific and Reading were prior to payment of the assessment of $15 and $20 per share, respectively.

The interesting part of these comparisons is that which shows what were regarded as good prices for railway shares in 1896, and what are so regarded now. It should be noticed, however, that within the period payment on Burlington stock has doubled; that dividends on St. Paul have been raised from 4 per cent. to 7; that Louisville and Missouri Pacific, which paid no dividends in 1896, are now paying 7 and 5 per cent., and that Atchison, Union Pacific, and Northern Pacific, just emerging from bankruptcy in 1896, now pay respectively 4, 4, and 7 per cent. on their largely increased common stocks. Annual net earnings of the systems in question, taking latest returns and those of 1896, compare as follows; of course, with more or less change in mileage:

Burlington and Quincy...	$ 8,163,000	$20,649,249
Chic., Mil. & St. P.	13,005,000	16,453,000
Del., Lack. & Western....	6,760,000	13,137,000
Erie	7,100,000	12,619,000
Louis. & Nash	6,885,000	11,802,000
Northern Pacific	7,102,000	17,668,000
Union Pacific	7,151,000	24,781,000

Record Made in Trading in Bonds

Last week's heavy trading in bonds has broken all records on the Wall Street Stock Exchange. Friday's dealings of $14,816,000 surpassing the sales reported on May 1, 1901, when $11,565,500 changed hands, which was the highest record made previous to this week. That record was made just before the Stock Exchange panic day, and when the boom was in full swing. In the four business days ending yesterday, bond sales on the Stock Exchange exceeded $50,000,000, which makes the trading for this week, even excluding to-day's transactions, the heaviest on record. These four days' sales, in fact, aggregate more than one-third of the total dealings during October, which was the record month of the year to date.

A curious fact about the week's trading in bonds, however, and one which puzzles people who try to determine the true source of the buying, is the fact that so large a preponderance of the business was in relatively low-priced and second-grade bonds.

Bank Rate Will Likely be Raised

The fact that the Bank of England, contrary to the expectation expressed in many financial quarters, did not raise its discount rate this week, gives added interest to the European monetary situation with reference to its bearing on the position of American markets and foreign withdrawals of gold. The English bank will in all probability, however, advance its rate within another fortnight so as to protect its gold supply and prevent the withdrawal of capital that might otherwise be recalled by France or Germany. Ever since the Imperial Bank of Germany advanced its rate to 5 per cent. on October 11 last, it has been expected that the Bank of England would raise its rate from 3 per cent. to 3½ or 4 per cent. In that period the open market rate for money has risen ½ per cent. at London, 9-16 per cent. at Paris, ⅝ per cent. at Berlin, and ⅜ at Brussels. At New York call loans have ranged continuously within ¼ per cent. of the 2 per cent. level.

Optimistic View of a Toronto Broker

In a letter to their clients, Aemilius Jarvis & Co., of Toronto, say: "On the whole, we could place ourselves on record as being more satisfied with the conditions of trade and finance on this continent than for years past. The country is so prosperous, and the expansion is so steady and reasonable, that we can see no sign of any considerable decrease in this repect for a long period. In the meantime vast accumulations of money must be invested, and good securities of all sorts are bound to be benefited by such investment. Healthy reactions will undoubtedly occur, but the astute trader can take advantage of these, and on the whole should find the present a profitable time to be in the market."

A GENIUS OF RECOVERY.

No history of Paris can be dull. For Paris has ever been the fairest city in Europe, the home of brave men and beautiful women, the resort of poets and painters, the capital of all the arts and of all the graces. Clouds have now and again darkened her sky. Her citizens have given way to a fury of persecution which it is not pleasant to remember; fanaticism and civil war have many times filled her gutters with blood; but she has preserved through all misfortunes a genius of recovery, and has gone rejoicing on her way in easy forgetfulness of disaster. Her citizens are to-day, as they have always been, gay, alert, impressionable. Within her borders the liberal arts are still treated with a dignity and respect which are denied them elsewhere. A new school of literature arouses an interest in Paris which could only be equalled in London by a change of Ministry or a railway accident.

Market Reports.

BIG WHEAT ACREAGE FOR NEXT SEASON.

Mr. F. W. Thompson, vice-president of the Ogilvie Flour Mills Company has just received a telegram from Winnipeg that will prove pleasing to all people interested in the welfare of the west. It states that the threshing returns are highly satisfactory and together with the wheat already marketed, basis is found for the belief that the wheat crop will run anywhere from 63,000,000 to 65,000,000 bushels. The wheat generally is showing high quality. But what is even more satisfactory is the statement that the weather of late has been unusually propitious for fall ploughing and that there is reason to believe that the amount of land under wheat next spring will be 20 to 30 per cent. greater than it was this year. Now for a bumper crop for 1905!

Sugar Prices Are Simply Soaring

The sugar market is excited to say the least.

With the foreign and American markets on the up grade Montreal refiners have put their prices up all round.

At ten o'clock on Saturday refiners marked up prices 5c per 100 lb. to $5.00 per 100 lb. for granulated in barrs, and an hour later, on news from New York, they were advanced another 10c per 100 lb. on all grades, making a net rise since Thursday of 25c per 100 lb., and the general impression is that they will go still higher, owing to the very strong position of the raw sugar situation.

The selling prices no ware as follows: Extra granulated, $5.10; Phoenix, $5.00; bright coffee, $4.90; bright yellow $4.85; No. 3 do., $4.50; No. 2 do., $4.55; No. 1 do., $4.50; extra ground, $5.45; powdered, $5.25; and Paris lumps, $5.60 per 100 lb. in barrels and boxes, and granulated in bags 10c per 100 lb. less than the above prices.

Country Produce

Eggs.—There is a fair trade. Prices firm at 21c to 21½c for straight-gathered stock and at 19c to 19½c for good straight cold storage eggs, while No. 2 do. and pickled were quoted at 17c to 18c per dozen. In a jobbing way a fair trade was done in selected at 24c, and in Montreal limed at 20c per dozen.

Beans.—In a jobbing way sales of choice primes were made at $1.35 to $1.40 and seconds at $1.30 per bushel.

Honey.—Extracted white clover honey, 7¾c to 8c per 8-lb. tin, and 7c to 7¾c in 60-lb. tins; buckwheat honey, 6c to 7c, and white clover comb, 9¾c.

Maple Product.—Syrup in 15-gallon casks, 5¼c to 5½c per lb.; in tins, 55c to 60c per wine measure, and 70c to 75c for imperial, and Beauce sugar, 8c to 10c per lb.

Potatoes.—A fair business was done in potatoes in a jobbing way at 70c to 75c per bag. Car lots of fair to good stock are quoted at 43c to 50c per bag, and choice at 60c to 62c.

The Cheese Boards

Cowansville, Q., November 12.—Twenty-four creameries offered 753 boxes buter, and nine factories offered 273 boxes chese. Butter sales: H. H. Hibard bought 208 boxes at 20c, Gunn, Langlois & Co. bought 355 boxes at 20c, D. A. McPherson bought 42 at 20c. Cheese sales: Fowler, 55 at 9 3-4c; D. A. McPherson bought 129 at 9 7-8c; Gunn, Langlois & Co. bought 52 at 9 3-4c. There was 148 boxes butter and 37 boxes cheese unsold.

Cornwall, Ont., November 13.—At the last board 235 boxes of white and 832 colored cheese were sold at 10c. J. A. McRae bought 436 for Hodgson Bros; J. A. Walsh, 506 for Willer & Riley, and J. F. McGregor, 36 for Lovell & Christmas. The report of the secretary showed that the sales during the season were 46,359 boxes, as against 54,441 in 1903. There were many reasons for the deficiency, owing to the much lower price of cheese, the factories were late in opening, and closed earlier than in 1903, and for the same reason farmers did not feed to force the flow of milk. The average price this season was 8.783 per cent, as against 10.515 in 1903. The sales of the season were 14,053 to J. A. McRae for Hodgson Bros.; 13,674 to J. A. Welsh for Jas. Alexandria; 5,695 to J. F. McGregor for Lovell & Christmas; 395 to N. Pitt for Willer & Riley; 3,829 to G. McLean for A. W. Grant, and 4,157 to J. J. Logan for the Ayer Co., Ltd.

London, Ont., November 12.—At our market to-day 250 boxes white, and 385 colored cheese were ofefred; 9 3-4c highest bid on board; no sales; selling after 9 7-8c to 10c.

Is There Enough English Wheat to Go 'Round?

The much-discussed question of the world's surplus wheat crop and the world's consuming needs has been taken in hand by Broomhall's Liverpool Corn Trade News. He frames the following estimate, in quarters of eight bushels, giving the actual net exports of last season and the year before, and the likely exportable surplus this coming season:

Exporting States.	1904-5. Quarters.	1903-4. Quarters.	1902-3. Quarters.
Russia	20,000,000	17,360,000	16,700,000
Balkans	5,000,000	7,100,000	7,100,000
U.S.A.	6,000,000	15,000,000	25,000,000
Canada	3,000,000	2,800,000	4,200,000
Australia	3,500,000	3,500,000	none
Argentina	12,000,000	10,000,000	7,500,000
India	10,000,000	7,100,000	3,400,000
Austria-Hungary	none	600,000	600,000
Others	2,000,000	1,456,000	1,300,000
Total	61,500,000	64,856,000	65,800,000

Last year the Corn Trade News figured out the world's requirements of importing countries at 61,000,000 quarters, which left a substantial surplus over. It now reckons such needs at 62,000,000, which is more than the estimated surplus of the world. The difference is due to the appearance of Austria-Hungary, usually a wheat exporter, as an importer of wheat this year.

Wheat in Chicago

December wheat in Chicago opened at 114 1-4 and went to 114 1-2. May opened at 113 7-8 and went to 114 1-8. May corn opened at 46 5-8 and was steady, while December opened at 51 and was 51 1-4.

Grain, Flour, Hay

Grain.—There is a good demand for oats. Sales of a number of car lots of No. 2 white were made at 41c, and No. 3 at 40c per bushel, ex staore, while a round lot of 5,000 bushels of No. 2 white sold at 39½c, and other sales were also made at 40c, ex store. The tone of the market for corn is also strong, and prices scored a further rise of 1c per bushel, with sales of several cars of Chicago No. 3 mixed at 63c per bushel, ex store. Barley was firm at 58c for No. 3 ex store and car lots of buckwheat sold at 58½c ex store.

Meal.— The demand was somewhat quiet, as is usual on a Saturday; therefore, the volume of business was smaller than it was earlier in the week. Manitoba spring wheat patents, $5.80; strong bakers', $5.50; winter wheat patents, $5.70 to $5.80; straight rollers, $5.40 to $5.50; and in bags, $2.55 to $2.65.

Feed.—Manitoba bran, in bags, $17 to $18; shorts, $21 per ton; Ontario bran, in bulk, $15.50 to $16.50; shorts, $19 to $20; and mouille, $24 to $28 per ton, as to quality.

Meal.—There was no change in the conditon of the market for rolled oats, for which the demand is fair at $2.25 to $2.27½ per bag, and at $4.65 to $4.75 per barrel. Cornmeal was unchanged at $1.35 to $1.45 per bag.

Hay.—A stronger feeling has developed in the market for baled hay and prices have advanced 25c to 50c per ton, which is said to be due to navigation drawing near to a close. No. 1, $9 to $9.25; No. 2, $8 to $8.25; clover, mixed, $7 to $7.25; and pure clover, $6.25 to $6.75 per ton, in car lots.

Big Steel Business

Chicago, Nov. 12.—The past fortnight has witnessed the heaviest buying of iron and steel on record. Orders for over 200,000 tons of material have been placed here by the largest consumers. Some of the orders are for a heavy tonnage, and for steel bars and structural material exceed any previous purchases. The buying has no doubt been induced by the fear of an advance in prices, and the heaviest consumers have rushed in their orders, most of the sales being for delivery in the first six months of 1905. Pig iron has advanced $3.50 per ton in five weeks, and sellers are crowding prices higher. $16 being paid for No. 2 foundry. Railroads are in the market for cars and the Burlington has placed an order for 1,000 cars with builders here. The Grand Trunk is also after a good number of cars.

To-Day's Cattle

There were 1,800 cattle, 1,000 sheep and 200 calves offered to-day, best cattle selling at 4 1-2c, good 3 1-2 to 4c and common around 2c to 2 1-2c. Sheep sold at 3 1-4c to 3 3-4c, lambs, 4 3-4c to 5c and calves, $3 to $10 a head.

Molasses Higher

In line with the rise in sugar, a much stronger feelings has developed in the market for molasses, and prices have an upward tendency, with holders of round lots now asking 30c per gallon for Barbadoes. There has been an improved demand of late, and it is reported that sugar refiners have bought a very large lot in the Lower Provinces at 26c per gallon, landed here, and that they also bid the same figure for some round lots here, which was refused.

HUNTINGDON BOARD CLOSED.

Huntingdon, Nov. 14.—The closing meeting for this season of the Huntingdon Dairymen's Exchange was held here Friday. Prior to the opening of the meeting R. N. Walsh, M.P., on behalf of the members of the exchange, presented Mr. Andrew Phelps, president of the board, with a handsome gold-headed cane, bearing the inscription: "Presented to Andrew Phelps by Huntingdon Dairymen's Exchange, November, 1904." The president briefly thanked those who so kindly had made the presentation.

On the board twenty-three white and 272 boxes colored cheese, 57 packages fresh and 530 packages salted butter were offered. White and colored cheese sold at 9 13-16c, and fresh and salted butter sold at 20c. Sales and buyers: Hodgson Bros., Ltd., Montreal, 23 boxes white, 76 boxes colored cheese and 250 packages salted butter; A. A. Ayer & Co., Ltd., Montreal, 196 boxes colored cheese, 57 packages fresh and 250 packages of salted butter.

At the close of the board a dinner was tendered the buyers of the past season by the members of the exchange at the Central Hotel. Host McMillan provided an excellent menu, to which ample justice was done. President Philps proposed the toast, "Our King and country," which was loyally received, and R. N. Walsh proposed "the prosperity of the Dairymen's Exchange," coupled with the name of the president, to which Mr. Philps suitably replied, concluding his remarks with the hope that the board would be doubled next year, and asking that every farmer would lend his aid. Prices on the board during the season had been the best obtained anywhere in Ontario or Quebec. The other toasts were: "The officers and directors of the exchange," proposed by the president and replied to by Mr. D. Vass and R. N. Walsh, vice-president; "The buyers," proposed by Mr. Peter Tully, and replied to by Mr. E. J. Clarke, representing A. A. Ayer & Co., Ltd., and Mr. W. J. Barker; "The factories," by the president, and replied to by Messrs. N. W. Lecky and James Finn; "The Eastern Townships Bank," by Mr. W. H. Walker, and replied to by Mr. C. W. Thomas, manager of the Huntingdon branch; "Our sister countries," by Mr. R. N. Walsh, and responded to by Messrs. James W. Bryson, Thomas Winter, and James Donaldson, of Ormstown.

WINTER GOWN ON CITY FIRE PLUGS

Five Thousand Hydrants to be Dressed in Straw

Buffalo, Nov. 14.—Employes of the Bureau of Water have begun their annual campaign for the protection of the city's hydrants from the icy touch of Jack Frost. There are more than 5,000 of these hydrants, and unless the number of those now engaged upon the works is increased by the employment of outside help the job will not be completed until the middle of December. Such employment, says Water Commissioner Lyon, will be rendered absolutely necessary if the winter should open early and with indications for a severity on a par with that of a year ago.

The method adopted for the protection of the hydrants is well known to the average citizen, consisting as it does in packing the hydrants with straw over which a metal cover is placed. The cover serves the double purpose of breaking the force of the wind. Before the cover is placed in position, and frequently throughout the winter, the hyurants are pumped out, so as to relieve them of water which sometimes gathers above the valve. Generally, this accumulation is due to some imperfection of the leather binding of the valve or to surface water that seeps in.

DANGER OF FREEZING.

The danger is that this accumulation will freeze and so delay the operation of the plug in case of fire, or even render it altogether useless.

The majority of the hydrants are tested at least once a week throughout the winter, while about 500 in the business districts are examined daily. It will be seen that there is little danger of the Fire Department being taken unawares. The cost to the city of this eternal vigilance of the Bureau of Water is $5,000 annually. This represents just one-third, of the original cost of the hydrants, so that in three years their care costs the city as much as the hydrants themselves. Thirty men are required during the winter months to care for this arm of the water-fire service.

The outskirts of the city, where the streets are none too good and where the mud is likely to be deep, will first receive the attention of the hydrant workers, who will work towards the city's center in an ever-diminishing circle.
