HON. CLIFFORD SIFTON
OPPOSES RECIPROCITY
And Flays the Government for Placing Canada's Head in a Tight Noose.
WE HAVE ALL TO LOSE, NOTHING TO GAIN.

Special to the Chronicle.
Ottawa, Feb. 28.—Hon. Clifford Sifton, former Minister of Interior, cut away the ties binding him to the Liberal party in the House to-day by coming out flat-footed in opposition to the reciprocity agreement.
That the Government was deliberately placing Canada's head in a noose and was making the great West a back yard for the city of Chicago was his firm conviction, and in a speech of an hour and a half he flayed his former colleagues for their spineless idleness in entering into such an agreement, in which Canada had everything to lose and little to gain.
The Government benches sat dumb-founded at the spectacle of this former giant of the Liberal party flaying his leader. Mr. Sifton's speech was enthusiastically received by the Opposition, and is regarded as a death blow to the agreement by its opponents.
Mr. Sifton was received by both sides of the House in silence, the only demonstration being a slight outburst of hand-clapping from one of the public galleries. He opened by alluding to the importance of the question, stating it was the most important that had come before the House since he became a member of it.
"When I say," he added frankly, "that the result of investigation has been to lead me to the conclusion that I cannot follow the leader of the party with which I have been identified practically all my life, it will be very evident that to me at least it is an extremely important question."
A difference with a political party, went on Mr. Sifton, with which he had been so closely and intimately associated, must necessarily be of an extremely painful character. He paid a tribute to the members of the Government, some of whom he regarded as his close political friends, and he noted that in the county of Brandon there were many men who had supported him for twenty-three years who, he was satisfied, would find great difficulty in understanding why he found it necessary to vote against the party with which he and they had been identified so long. Mr. Sifton then said that his opinion on this matter was not a suddenly formed one, but was the mature conviction which had come to him as the result of twenty years' pretty close contact with the affairs of Canada. He had never made any mystery about these opinions.
Mr. Sifton then criticised the conduct of debate by the Government. There never had been, he said, such an important alteration of the tariff as proposed in these resolutions, and in alterations of an extensive character it was always customary to make a very thorough and complete inquiry of the most expert and detailed character. Otherwise, it was impossible that those who were acting should know what they were really doing. When other countries undertook this kind of work such inquiries were made. When the Germans last revised their tariff 20,000 experts were employed to collect information for the benefit of the Government and Parliament. In England the experts of the Board of Trade acted. In Canada we generally have a connection of detailed information, which was available when the debate came on, and which the Minister in charge gave for the benefit of the members.
Mr. Sifton did not think the Government had acted properly in the present case. He thought there should have been a full and clear statement as to the effects of the treaty upon our relations with favored nations. Some information had been elicited by dint of persistent questioning on the part of the Opposition, but he ventured the opinion there was not a single member outside the Government who knew whether he was in possession of the whole information or not. There should have been comparative statements of prices. This would have been easy for a body of government experts to secure, but Parliament had not had the benefit of it. Heretofore in such matters full information had been brought down. Mr. Fielding in introducing the resolutions had not argued their merits in detail. One had only to refer to the speech which Mr. Fielding made on the Grand Trunk Pacific resolutions to see the difference.
"I would conclude," added Mr. Sifton, "that either the Government has not made the investigation and does not possess the facts, or else the facts do not bear out the contentions which they put forward."
Mr. Sifton dissented strongly from the Liberal argument that everybody in Canada had been in favor of reciprocity with the United States for 40 years. He did not know of any warrant at all for that statement that both parties or that even one of them had favored reciprocity for the past forty years. There could be no doubt that the Liberals were in favor of reciprocity twenty years ago. In the platform of 1893 there was what might be called a "look at reciprocity," and in 1898 at the joint High Commission Laurier had attempted to get some measure of reciprocity. But it was equally sure that when the Commission was over Laurier expressly made his position clear, and in the general elections of 1900, 1904 and 1908 there was no mention whatever of reciprocity by either party.
As a member of the Government in the first two of these elections, Mr. Sifton said he should be credited at least with having had a general idea of the policy of the government, of which he was a member, and no individual would be more surprised than he if he was told that in either of these elections it was part of the policy of the Government to seek reciprocity. He quite agreed with what had been said about the Government having no mandate to make these proposals (Opposition cheers). He did not mention that point because of any desire to fill up the cup or aggravate the argument against the Government. Canada did not have a system of government by delegation. Our governments were not elected to do specific things. That was not the nature of our constitution. It was a system of parliamentary responsibility and great discretion was vested in Parliament and the Government in connection with the transaction of new business, which was not discussed when they were before the electors. While many things might be done which were not discussed before the people, the government may not constitutionally or properly do everything, and Mr. Sifton ventured to say that when the fiscal policy of the country had been thoroughly canvassed, settled, debated and approved in 1900, 1904 and 1908, there was no constitutional warrant for the Government's reversing the policy radically without consulting and practically without the knowledge of the people. (Opposition cheers.)

Speaking from his own experience and that of many members of the Liberal party, he did not believe that in the recent history of Canada anything had happened which had given to the thinking people so painful and sudden a shock as the realization that four or five men of the dominant party could suddenly of their own motion, without discussion and without the knowledge of the country, commit that country to a radical change of fiscal policy. That was not the doctrine of Constitutional Government, as he was taught it in the Liberal party, and he did not think there could be a more dangerous innovation.

What Canada was asked to do in these resolutions, said Mr. Sifton, was to reverse the fiscal policy of Canada. In addition to prosperity on a sound basis, said Mr. Sifton, Canada had independence; she was independent for everything she raised and sold. The local markets took 90 per cent of everything raised in Canada by the farmers. The rest went to the great free, open market of Great Britain, from which nothing but our own foolishness could possibly exclude us. Now the proposition was made to revolutionize the fiscal policy under which these results had been obtained.
The effect, in Mr. Sifton's opinion, would be very great disturbance and dislocation of business. Some would sustain heavy loss, and the disturbance for a considerable portion of the community would be extremely serious. Some industries would be destroyed. There could be no doubt about that. "What reason could be given for drawing the pen through an item of the tariff and shutting up an industry which was not accused of charging illicit prices or of any other evils? What reason could there be for selecting that industry and wiping it out of existence? For the life of me," said Mr. Sifton, "I cannot see. I am bound to say it does not appeal to my common sense. I think the meat-packing industry will be destroyed if this treaty goes into effect. There is no more chance," he added, "of that industry standing up against the beef trust of the United States than there would be of my standing up against this building if it fell on me. That is precisely the position in which our packers will be put."
The fruit growers, in Mr. Sifton's opinion, would be injured. Mr. Sifton contended that the agreement would not assist in transferring American capital to the construction of factories in Canada. In the past these factories had been established on the ground that Canada's fiscal policy was settled. It was not reasonable to suppose that business men with money to invest in factories would decide to invest unless they got some definite assurance that what had happened in this particular case was not going to happen again. He did not see how they could get that assurance. What was being done in this case would be done again when the Government saw fit. Mr. Sifton then alluded to the case of pulp and paper. Quebec and Ontario had decided in their wisdom that it was a good and patriotic policy to insist on their pulp being manufactured at home. That policy met with unanimous approval. It was known that the United States wanted cheaper paper made from Canadian pulpwood. All Canada had to do was to sit down in this case and wait. The Government had not done that, but a clause was inserted in the agreement which placed a bonus on the abrogation of the regulations of Quebec and Ontario. Parliament had no power to abrogate them, but it did the worst possible thing by placing a bonus on their abrogation.
Again farmers had been taught how to prepare their products properly for the great British market. Cold storage on steamships was instituted, and now these products were going to a great staple free market that was improving and enlarging all the time. Now, under the agreement it was proposed to ship our products to the States and to throw away all the advantages of the work already done, to break business connections which it had taken years to develop, and allow our competitors to go into that market, to buttress it around in such a way that we could not enter it again, and to put ourselves in dependence upon the markets of the United States. How long would that market remain open? Nobody knew. It might be five years. A year ago the United States was brandishing a club over Canada's head and threatening to impose a surtax on her goods. Now it was said the United States was friendly. What will it be a year from now? Nobody knows. At the present time the United States was abrogating the Blaine treaties of reciprocity made with Latin republics, and without the courtesy of negotiation or discussion. How much better, he asked, would Canada's position be when an occasion for irritation might arise? Dozens of things might happen to cause irritation between Canada, Great Britain and the United States, and it would be very easy for a political party in the United States to court popularity by doing something which might be of an unfriendly character to Great Britain and Canada. Then, when our mar-

M. MONIS MAY BE NEXT PREMIER
Of France—Has Been Asked by President to Form a Cabinet.

Paris, Feb. 28.—There is practically no doubt that Antoine Emmanuel Ernest Monis will be M. Briand's successor as Premier, although he has announced that he will give no formal answer until tomorrow to President Fallières's request that he form a new cabinet. Before deciding to accept the responsibility, M. Monis informed the President that he would consult with his friends, and the result of this consultation makes it almost certain that he will accept the difficult task.
M. Monis is regarded in political circles as peculiarly fitted to organize successfully a workable ministry. He is acceptable to all sections of the Republican majority, while assured also of the support of the Radical-Socialist section, whose defection was the principal cause of M. Briand's resignation. The fact that M. Monis is a senator, and consequently was not party to the attack made by M. Maury against the Government in the Chamber of Deputies on Friday, serves to make him acceptable to the adherents of the former Premier.
M. Monis spent a busy evening consulting with his supporters. He first paid a visit to M. Briand, after which he was closeted with the president of the Senate and Chamber of Deputies, and M. Bertheaux, ex-Minister of War, who is also a vice president of the Chamber, and M. Delcasse, former Minister of Foreign Affairs. Speculation is rife as to the composition of the new ministry. According to those in the confidence of M. Monis, M. Delcasse is to have the portfolio of marine, Monis himself taking that of the interior; ex-Premier Ribot or Senator Raymond Poincare, is to be made Minister of Foreign Affairs; M. Cruppié, Minister of Justice, and M. Bertheaux, Minister of War. Jean Dupuy is to be retained as Minister of Commerce, and M. Caillaux, Minister of Finance in the Clemenceau cabinet, will be appointed Minister of Public Works. It is also believed that M. Caillaux will be appointed Minister of Public Works, Posts and Telegraphs, prior to the assumption of that office by M. Puech, will be offered a portfolio, not yet specified.
M. Monis is a lawyer and has sat in the Senate for Grignon since 1891. He took a prominent part in the overthrow of the Burgeois ministry in 1896. As Minister of Justice in the cabinet of Waldeck Rousseau, he signed the decree convoking the high court to try the Royalist plot against the Republic in 1899. He has many friends among politicians and occupies a position of great authority in the Senate, of which he has been vice president since 1906. In politics he is a Radical-Republican, moderately inclined toward the advanced Left Section.
After a two-hour conference this evening with M. Delcasse, M. Monis announced that Delcasse had accepted the portfolio of Marine and M. Bertheaux that of War. The acceptance of these is considered to assure the success of the new combination.
During the course of his interview with Delcasse, M. Monis said that he had decided to offer the portfolio of Finance to M. Caillaux, the champion of the Income Tax bill, now before the Senate, and that of Justice to M. Cruppié. He had originally intended to ask M. Pinchon to retain his position as Minister of Foreign Affairs, but in view of the latter's expressed determination to retire, he decided to ask M. Ribot to become the head of the Foreign office. Should Ribot decline, the Foreign portfolio will be offered to M. Poincare. M. Monis will make a report to President Fallières at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

AN EXPLOSION OF GASOLINE
Causes a $750,000 Fire at Kokomo, Ind.—One Life Was Lost.

Kokomo, Ind., Feb. 28.—Fire that started from an explosion of a quart of gasoline, with which a workman was cleaning a new automobile, to-day destroyed the plant of the Haynes Automobile Company, causing $750,000 damage. It is believed that a workman, Geo. Bauer, lost his life in the flames. All the other 500 men and women employed in the factory were accounted for to-night. Short circuiting of an electric wire caused the explosion in the assembly room of the factory. The flames rushed through the building and to a second building. Many of the employees had to run for their lives. The fire department of the city was powerless to check the flames, and within two hours the interiors of the two buildings were a mass of debris. One hundred completed automobiles were destroyed. The insurance carried by the company is $250,000.
The factory was closed, when we had shut ourselves from Great Britain, what was our position?
"We are putting our heads into a noose."
In conclusion Mr. Sifton declared that the policy of the Government was unpatriotic and following the path that led away from national ideals.

SIR A. AYLESWORTH WILL WITHDRAW
Dominion Minister of Justice Will Not Again Be a Candidate.

Toronto, Feb. 28.—Sir Allen Aylesworth, Minister of Justice in the Dominion Government, announced to the executive of the North York Liberal Association at Newmarket that he would not again present himself as a candidate. Interviewed subsequently, Sir Allen repeated that he would not be a candidate in North York, and volunteered the statement that he would not run in any other constituency.
The executive meeting throughout was of a very stormy character. Sir Allen's resignation caused little comment as it was anticipated.
When John Smith, Reeve of East Gwillimbury, introduced a carefully prepared resolution indorsing the reciprocity programme of the Federal Government, opposition broke out. Although it was a closed meeting, the protests were of such a vehement character as to arrest the attention of people passing the meeting place.
Among the prominent Liberals present who denounced the reciprocity agreement in unmeasured terms were: Aubrey Davis, son of the Hon. E. J. Davis, Minister of Crown Lands in the late Liberal Government of Ontario, and H. S. Cane, of Newmarket, a leading Liberal and a big manufacturer. So pronounced was the opposition that the motion in favor of reciprocity was finally withdrawn.
The question of a successor to Sir Allen Aylesworth was discussed. The name of Thomas C. Robinette, K. C., was received with favor. A meeting of the association will be called shortly to consider the whole situation.

LANDSDOWNE BILL RE HOUSE OF LORDS
What It Contains—Government Home Rule Bill for Ireland.

London, Feb. 28.—The debate on the Veto Bill in the House of Commons was continued to-night in a rather listless manner. Waldorf Astor, who was elected for Plymouth, made an attractive maiden speech. Greatest interest, however, was displayed in an adjourned meeting of the Unionist members of the House of Commons to discuss the question of the reform of the House of Lords. The meeting was in private, and the Chief Whip indicated the lines of Lord Lansdowne's reform bill, which the Unionists indorsed. It is understood that the Lansdowne bill will embody Lord Curzon's proposals, retaining the hereditary principle to the extent of 100 members, another 100 to be elected and the remaining 100 to be nominated. The new House of Lords thus constituted would still be essentially Conservative in character, and, according to the Liberals, it would be subject to the objections against the existing House of Lords. The Cabinet, according to the Times, has already commenced deliberations on the Home Rule scheme, and has agreed to the retention of Irish members in the Imperial Parliament, but in reduced numbers.
The Times further states that the Unionist meeting to-day was very inconclusive and that the Unionist leaders appear to be destitute of any coherent or generally accepted scheme for the reform of the House of Lords. Those who attended the meeting, says the paper, were little wiser at the end than they were before.

THIRTEEN MEN WERE KILLED
In a Jail Delivery in Mexico—Forty-two Prisoners Escaped.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The killing of thirteen prisoners, including two Americans, in the jail delivery at Cuahuahua, Mexico, on Sunday, was reported to the State Department to-day in a telegram from Vice Consul Leonard at that point. Mr. Leonard said that 42 prisoners escaped and that 20 still are at large. Disturbances are increasing along the northern frontier of Mexico and the situation necessitates the close watching by the American troops of practically every inch of the boundary line in order to preserve the neutrality of the United States. There are constant reports of the passage of contraband articles and the soldiers are kept busy running down rums and maintaining an effective patrol.
A shipment of arms en route to Mexico has been captured by United States marines near Douglas, Ariz.
The appearance of small pox at Yalotla, Mexico, was reported to the War Department to-day.

AGREEMENT MADE IN THE DARK
Washington, D.C., Feb. 28.—Senator Gronna, of North Dakota, made his maiden speech before the Senate to-day, speaking upon reciprocity which, in the words of the Senator, means more to the people of his State than to those of any other State in the Union. A farmer himself, Senator Gronna's speech was delivered in the interest of the agricultural class. "The farmers who are asked," said Mr. Gronna, "to share their markets with Canadian farmers will derive no benefit from this agreement. It opens no new markets to them and it reduces the duties on practically nothing that they buy. It is noticeable that the few manufactures from which the duties have been removed outside of rough lumber, print paper and wood pulp, are those of which we have never imported any appreciable quantities from Canada and in all probability never shall."
The Senator said that this agreement had been negotiated in the dark; that Congress had been furnished with no information as to what consideration had swayed the American representatives to insist on certain reductions of duties, or to grant others. One could not escape the conclusion, he said, that the agreement was the result of hasty and ill-considered action, and he intimated that one might be tempted to ask if the American representatives who subscribed to the agreement did not unwittingly get a gold brick. The Senator could see no reason why use had not been made of the tariff commission to supply data and facts upon which a tariff agreement might have been framed. Despite the existence of this commission, said Mr. Gronna, "we have a tariff schedule drawn up for and presented to us with the request and implied threat that we must make it law with-

TAG DAY.

Tag Day has been and gone. The ladies who organized it were unable to say last night how much the day's work had realized, but all admitted that it had succeeded beyond their wildest hopes.

Every one, "taggers" and tagged alike, entered into the spirit of the thing, and the ones received as readily as the others gave. There was no "pestering," and even Dr. Andrew Macphail would not have objected. And there was no need of pestering. The majority of the willing victims were not content with being tagged once only. Most people were carrying four or five of these insignia, and some wore so many cards that they would have sufficed to make a respectable garb for our primeval ancestors.

The greatest credit is due to the numerous ladies who worked so tirelessly and devotedly to collect money for the consumptives. They had a bitterly cold day to face, but none of them were discouraged by the fact.

Apart from the pecuniary benefit derived from such a campaign, its educational value through the advertising of the disease is also very great, and the fact that so much can be through private enterprise and initiative should prove a spur to our provincial and municipal authorities to take this question of tuberculosis into more serious consideration.

The Anti-Tuberculosis League of Quebec has been in existence only a short while, but it has already accomplished much, and is evidently as efficient and well organized as it is enthusiastic.

WHAT WILL LAURIER DO?

The Star thinks that there is only one man in Canada who can keep this country from the perilous path of Reciprocity.

We do not agree with the Star, but the statement is partially true. Sir Wilfrid will have the first chance of administering a quietus to the arrangement.

So far he has said very little in favor of it. Every argument used by his party in favor of it is in direct contradiction to his impassioned plea for the construction of the Transcontinental.

Reciprocity defeats the object of the all-Canadian route, which Laurier called "a national as well as a commercial necessity, a corollary of our status as a nation."

The object of the Transcontinental was to provide an exit for the Western grain through Canadian ports and to carry the products of the East to the prairie market, to prevent our trade from deviating into American channels.

Reciprocity will do away with all that.

The Transcontinental was intended to keep us "commercially independent" of the United States.

Reciprocity will drive us into commercial vassalage.

When Laurier carried the last election on the slogan, "Let Laurier finish his work," it was generally understood that the Transcontinental bulked very large in that "work."

Can Laurier, then, go back on his Transcontinental policy? If he does it will be an act of colossal folly.

He must by this time have begun to realize that if he forces this measure down the throats of the Canadian people this one act will undo whatever good he has ever done.

He would go down to posterity as having sacrificed his country to partisanship, as having abused popular government by ratifying through a subservient majority a treaty arranged in secret against the will of the Canadian people and without consulting them upon it.

He should kill the bill at the earliest opportunity. He could do it in various ways, in the Senate, for instance, through amendment. Or he should apply to the Governor-General to dissolve Parliament and place the issue before the people.

There will be no reciprocity if the people are consulted.

POLITICAL STANDARDS.

The best among the American papers are accustomed to draw parallels between the way of doing things in the United States and the way of doing them in Great Britain. The comparisons are usually to the immense disadvantage of the United States. The following is a case in point, and it is worth reproduction. It is from the Pittsburgh Dispatch:

"There is an interesting illustration of a vital difference between the English political standard and ours in the outcome of that contest of the election in which Timothy Healy was defeated at Dundalk, Ireland. The contrast is not to our advantage, but it should result in our instruction.

In the first place, while the election is not much over a month past, the trial of the charges held before a local court has reached the result. Here a contest is likely to be drawn out so long that a term may expire before it is settled who is really entitled to the place.

In the next place, the English practice is to give the contestant every facility to produce the evidence, while the law here is too often construed to mean that unless the contestant can first prove a prima facie error or fraud in the returns there cannot be a recount. At Dundalk the outcome is that in a short trial Healy produced such proof of the corruption that the holder of the seat abandoned the contest. This does not seat Healy, but it requires a new election, at which he confidently expects election.

AMERICA IN ENGLAND.

An English newspaper laments the dependence of the British upon American supplies. The writer pictures a Londoner as sitting down to a breakfast made of cereals put up at Niagara Falls, a beefsteak from Omaha, a slice of bacon from the Mohawk Valley, and his bread from wheat ground in Minneapolis. On his way to his office he rides in a car made in New York, propelled by machinery made in Schenectady, over a railroad constructed by American engineers and largely of American materials. On reaching his office he sits in a chair made in Chicago, before a roltop desk made in Buffalo, his letters written on a typewriter made in Syracuse, signed with a New York fountain pen and dried with sheets of blotting paper from New England. His letters are put away in files made at Grand Rapids. Looking over his daily paper he reads of the placing in American ships of orders for American battle-ships for European and Asiatic nations. He might have added the rejuvenating of old English estates with American gold, secured through alliances matrimonial.

PISTOL TOTTING.

State Senator Sullivan of the United States has introduced a bill requiring any person to have a license to carry a revolver before he can purchase one. Opponents of the bill give out a statement in which the following appears:

"The cause of homicide and suicide is to be found in the heart and mind of the slayer. The man who takes life—either his own or another's—is abnormal. He may have either a malignant heart, the distorted morals and standards created by a dissolute life, a false code of ethics or an unhealed brain. We should not lose sight of the fact that it is the man and not the pistol with which we have to deal."

One serious weakness of the foregoing argument, as made against the proposed restriction on the "gun toting habit," is that many crimes result from the carrying of revolvers by persons whose possession of them was not due to criminal intent, at least not criminal intent of a definite kind. Too often a person carries a revolver merely because he imagines he will need it, that he will encounter some one whom he must shoot to save himself. Such contingencies are too remote, except under extraordinary conditions, to justify a person arming himself. When extraordinary conditions exist, the law provides for the lawful carrying of a pistol.

When the curtain falls in Washington on March 4 the "also slain" bills will exceed in number the casualties in the Mexican insurrection.

Commander Peary is experiencing as much difficulty in obtaining his rear admiral's cocked hat and stars as he did in establishing long-distance communication with the north pole.

The most expensive real estate operation ever recorded took place in New York last week. A grain of Broadway sand lodged in Caruso's throat, and the high-priced tenor was unable to sing for two nights, losing $10,000. Yet even Caruso is but small potatoes compared with some of those Montreal snowshoers.

A wonderful secret process by which fruit, flowers and insects—indeed, all plant and animal life—can be converted into metal without any depreciation of natural beauty, is announced, according to Chamber's Journal, by a prominent American electro-metallurgist. "Metallizing," it is called, and its application appears to be illimitable. Thus, for instance, the rose, no matter how delicate and beautifully tinted it may be, is taken from the garden, and within a short while every petal, leaf and stalk is transformed into solid metal about twice as tough as copper. It is not a plating process, but an actual metamorphosis from the organic into the inorganic condition. The process is entirely electrical, and so skilful and complete are the natural characteristics of the articles under treatment preserved that it is not until they are taken in the hand that their metallic nature is detected by the weight.

WHY?

If we are selling our embroideries and lingerie at such low prices, it is because we have a balance of stock purchased from the manufacturers at ridiculously low prices. Come and see. FAGUY, LEPINAY & FRERE.

Sol! We are to have a new tariff now—a dual tariff, hatched and made in common! How brotherly!

The Mountain President has brought forth at last the little mouse-child of his Statesmanship!

Away, then, with the National System that has made us!

Henceforth a tariff made at Washington!

Let us sit, when we make our tariff and discuss our industries, in the parlors of the White House, with our eyes on the portraits of our Jacksons and our Jeffersons, and let us dip our pens in the inkhorns of our newly adopted Patriot-Fathers.

We want to make our tariff, to measure the length and breadth of it, and its duration, how long it shall last, the terms and conditions under which we are to work and live.

Let us call in, then, our pulp-consuming Senators of the Paper Trust, our iron-devouring Congressmen of Pittsburgh. Let us ask them how long it shall last.

Nay! Give them the pen! They write so beautifully—such fair, round characters. They wrote us our Declaration of Independence (was it ours? We forget strangely); they wrote us our Abrogation of 1866; they wrote us our McKinleyism of 1890—let them, then, take the pen and write our tariff for us now.

Will it last? Last? Why should it not? Have we not the word of our pulpwood Senator and our iron-devouring Congressmen, and our wheat-cating miller of Minneapolis that it shall last.

Last! It shall last as long as ever they shall find one cent of profit in it!

Why do you hesitate? Why do you not take the pen? Why do you not sign?

That sound! That rustling behind the tapestry of our good White House? Nay! Only some ghost of a departed Loyalist—poor idle visionary of the past—that thought his British Wilderness under the Old Flag a better abiding place than this.

Out with him. Sign, good sirs, sign. Will not our pulpwood Senator look after us?

UNSEEMLY TREATMENT OF A POOR OLD WOMAN.

Chatham, Ont., Feb. 28.—Sarah McNaughton, an indigent imbecile, literally buffeted from pillar to post by a penurious corporation, which refuses to keep her, had another fast ride last night. Just who ordered it is not known, but a taxicab wheeled up to the Home for the Friendless and the McNaughton woman was taken out into Chatham Township at a rate that defied all the speed laws ever made. She was dumped on Reeve Abraham, who hitched up his trusty driver, bundled the indigent into the cart and half an hour later escorted her to a seat on the doorstep before the office of Mayor Brackin, of Chatham. This unseemly treatment of this poor old, penniless woman has caused a lot of talk. Though she frequently lived in Chatham Township, that municipality refused to make provision for her keep, and she was found starving in Chatham City.

6 YEAR OLD GIRL

Cured of Kidney Trouble.

Mrs. Alex. More, of James Street, Oxford, N.S., says: "Booth's Kidney Pills cured our little daughter, Christian, aged six years, of many symptoms of kidney weakness. She complained of a sore back, the kidney secretions were frequent and uncontrollable, especially at night. Her stomach was weak and her appetite poor. This caused her to have frequent headaches, and the least exertion would tire her. We had tried many remedies, but she did not improve. Finally we learned of Booth's Kidney Pills and procured a box. In a short time she was well and does not now complain about her back, the kidney secretions have become normal, and she plays around the house with no apparent fatigue. We always recommend Booth's Kidney Pills."

Booth's Kidney Pills carry a guarantee that if you derive no benefit your money will be refunded. Booth's Kidney Pills are a specific for all diseases of the kidneys and bladder. QUEEN MARY PLANS FOR CORONATION

Living Quietly at Buckingham Palace, the Present Headquarters of the Court.

PURCHASES IRISH LACE
Interested in Home Industries and Promotion of the Welfare of Women of Emerald Isle.

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, Saturday.

BUCKINGHAM PALACE is now the headquarters of the Court, and the King and Queen will not visit Windsor again for any length of time till they go there for the Ascot races shortly before the coronation. There will, however, be a gathering of royalties at the castle on May 8, the first anniversary of the death of King Edward, by which time Queen Alexandra will have returned from her trip in the Mediterranean.

Queen Mary, since her return to Buckingham Palace, has been living very quietly, entertaining her most intimate friends and those about her Court by herself. Her Majesty has pleasant little gatherings every afternoon for tea, the beautiful tapestry room being used for the purpose. This, which is one of the most pleasant apartments in the palace and has a charming outlook over the gardens, was a great favorite with Queen Alexandra, who usually spent her afternoons there.

It takes its name from certain very fine old French and Belgian tapestries on its walls, surrounded by heavy gold frames, while there is some magnificent old French furniture in the room. Queen Alexandra kept there her wonderful collection of ivory miniatures, and the place of this collection is now occupied by some of the many valuable curios and works of art that the King and Queen Mary brought back from their Indian and colonial tours. The tapestry room is in close proximity to Her Majesty's private apartments, and she can reach it without having to pass along the main corridors.

BUYING IRISH LACE.

Queen Mary is now showing her interest in home industries in a practical fashion, and particularly her desire to promote the welfare of the women of England to the work done by her sisters in the Emerald Isle. Her Majesty has given a large order for some of the choicest Irish lace, principally rose point, Carrickmacross and Limerick, including a beautiful Court train in Carrickmacross, applique and guipure. The Queen has also bought a quantity of lace and work done by the St. Helena government lace school, with which she is highly pleased, and thinks very pretty. The St. Helena lace industry was started as recently as 1897, in accordance with a scheme of the League of Nations.

With the one exception of the imperial mantle or pall, which the King assumes at his coronation, the robes to be worn by the King and Queen are being made in London. Until lately it was understood that the King would wear the imperial mantle made for King Edward VII, but it now seems to have been decided that His Majesty will wear the mantle of one of the Georges.

The Queen will not wear the mantle or train worn by Queen Alexandra at her coronation, as at one time there was reason to believe it was Her Majesty's intention to do, but one specially made for her in London. This is being made of purple velvet lined with ermine, and will be embroidered by the members of the Ladies' Work Society, of which Princess Louise, Duchess of Argyll, is president.

FOR HOME INDUSTRIES.

The movement for the promotion of everything British in the way of dress being worn this coronation year, started by Queen Mary, enrolls its recruits more rapidly every day. The latest to join is one of the greatest artists in dress of today, Lady Duff-Gordon, who, under her business name of Madame Lucile, has achieved both an American and a European reputation for dresses of her own creation and design, and who is an enthusiastic supporter of the movement. She is now arranging an exhibition of a series of tableaux, for which she has reserved a large space at the Crystal Palace.

All these dresses are being designed by Lady Duff-Gordon herself, and will be made in her London workrooms, in Hanover square.

PAGEANT OF EMBROIDERY.

The large assembly of society women at the pageant of embroidery, held in Sir George Cooper's house, in Grosvenor square, was also testimony not only to Queen Mary's movement but to the interest that is taken in fine needlework. The exhibition was in two parts. There was a loan collection of antique embroideries, the most interesting item of which was a screen lent by Lady Buckle out of Knole, which is said to have been worked by Queen Elizabeth and the women of her court. The Dowager Lady Northampton lent an old firecreen. There were also embroideries done by members of the Athens Society of Broderers, in which section a diploma prize for the finest exhibit as to fidelity of design, detail of coloring and artistic execution was divided between Lady Phyllis Windsor-Clive and Mrs. Stroh.

In the dining room, which was fitted up with a stage, six tableaux were given as illustrations of a lecture by Mr. Paulson Townsend on the "History of Embroidery." The first of these had a special interest at the present moment, for it showed Queen Elizabeth's embroidery toward the coronation robe. The first of the coronation robes was taken by Lady Duff-Gordon, the daughter-in-law of Lord Salisbury.

American Peeresses Figure Largely in Plans for Coming Coronation Season

Lady Decies, Lady Newborough and Hon. Mrs. Cecil Bingham Among Recent Recruits.

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, Saturday.

LONDON is now making a beginning with its season of 1911, a coronation season which promises to be the most brilliant London has seen for a great many years, if ever before. It is felt in high quarters that it is time to get rid of the Victorian idea that to be respectable means to be dull, thus silencing the lips of those who have been so busy predicting that social life in the new reign will be stagnant.

This idea originated among those who took it for granted because the King and Queen, not being card players themselves, disapproved of high stakes, which have been the rule for some years in the bridge playing which has prevailed in the houses of the nobility. On the contrary, the high play at cards has prevented much of the entertaining in certain houses which otherwise might have taken place.

It is now becoming apparent that hostesses who have not done much entertaining for many years will now throw their doors open wider and endeavor by the brilliancy of their receptions to eclipse memories of previous efforts. One new hostess will be the Duchess of Devonshire, Mistress of the Robes, who will lead the way with a series of magnificent functions, including a royal ball at Devonshire House.

LADY DECIES A FIGURE.

Though Lady Decies will be only one of quite a considerable number of American peeresses who will take part in the coronation festivities, the bright young bride of that popular nobleman Lord Decies will be one of the most interesting, as no doubt she will be one of the most interested, in the long series of entertainments. In the thick of which she will arrive from her honeymoon.

Like Miss Vivien Gould, the Duchess of Marlborough (née Vanderbilt), one of London's most popular hostesses, was only eighteen when she became a British peeress. Though on a visit to the United States she will stop only a short time in order to be back before the coronation. She was one of the four tall and stately young women whom Queen Alexandra selected to hold the canopy over her head at the coronation. The other three were the Duchesses of Sutherland, Portland and Westminster, and a more beautiful quartet could hardly be imagined, worthy in every way to surround such a beautiful Queen. The Duke of Marlborough acted as Lord High Steward at King Edward's coronation.

The Duchess of Manchester is another American hostess who has been popular in Ireland, and who now is planning to entertain in London on a grand scale at her house in Grosvenor square. The Countess of Ancester, who succeeded to the title only this year, also is an American woman who will be entertaining largely. She was Miss Elsie Bressa, daughter of Mr. W. L. Bressa, of New York, and was married in 1905 to Lord Wiltshire's daughter, who has now become Lord Ancester. It was the present Lord Ancester's father who officiated as Joint Hereditary Lord Great Chamberlain at King Edward's coronation, but this time it falls to Lord Carrington. Lady Ancester takes a deep interest in politics, and was of great assistance to her husband in his election fights until he left the Commons to take his seat in the House of Lords. Interest in politics, however, has in no way weakened her interest in other matters. Her dresses are not only always charming but original. She is known as an admirable horsewoman and a keen rider to hounds.

OTHER AMERICAN PEERESSES.

Another American peeress who is regarded as one of the most charming is the Marchioness of Dufferin and Ava. She is an enthusiastic musician, and recently, it will be remembered, gave her vocal services for charity. Another young American peeress who is a favorite with royalty is the young Countess of Granard, who was Miss Beatrice Ogden Mills. It seems almost natural that Irish peeresses should look to America for their brides, for it was from there that Lord Dufferin's wife also brought his wife, one of the three beautiful daughters of Michael Grace, of New York.

But the list of American hostesses who are entertaining in London, or will soon be doing so, is almost endless. There are, of course, the Duchess of Roxburghe, the Countess of Craven and Lady Leith of Fyvie, while among others who may look to seeing their husbands in the ordinary course of events in the House of Lords may be numbered Lady Aldstone, sister of Mr. Anthony Drexel, Jr., and Lady Acheson, daughter of Mr. Ridgley Carter, the United States Minister at Bucharest; Lady Newborough and her sister, the Honorable Mrs. Cecil Bingham, once Mrs. Chauncey, one of the most popular American hostesses in London, whose unexpected marriage to General Bingham took all her friends by surprise.

It is hardly likely, however, that anything will surpass in grandeur the royal ball that is to be given by the Duchess of Sutherland at Stafford House, one of London's most wonderful palaces, in honor of her daughter, Lady Rosemary Leveson-Gower. In addition to several formal entertainments she is also resuming her Friday evening parties, at which many prominent intellectual and artistic celebrities are always to be met.

ANOTHER ROYAL BALL.

The Duchess of Portland is to give a royal ball in Grosvenor Square. The Duchess of Wellington will give another at Ardsley House. The Duchess of Norfolk will entertain largely at Norfolk House and at Grosvenor House, which has been closed for the last two years, while

THAT LONDON FACE IS SEEN HERE, TOO

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, Saturday.

THIS is the season of the year when London editors turn their pens to ally topics and they are now discussing what is called the "lonely London face." A visitor from Australia says that away out there in the wilds the expression on faces is open, cordial and friendly, but that here, in the world's largest city, a study of the passing faces—void of all human interest, with eyes cold and hard, and manner distant and uninviting—makes him long for the life and action and laughter that are found on the Wallaby track.

A physician who is also a student of physiology says the "lonely London face" can be seen in all classes, from wealth; financiers to junior clerks in brokers' offices. There is no other face like it, says this physician, unless it be in New York, which, of course, must be taken as another slap at the English correspondents who are stationed there. There is no reason for being miserable in London, and loneliness is entirely out of place, for, like Chicago, there are more ways of leaving it than in any other city in Europe. That's why many people like it.

LONDON "CAN'T SEE" THE "HAREM" SKIRT

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, Saturday.

THE harem or Pacha skirt is still the burning topic in assemblages of the world's feminine, where dress always is a subject of serious consideration. This new rade, which was born to meet a want that many sportswomen and all airwomen recognized, is now being transformed into an adjunct of the evening toilette, and some of the more daring of the women members of English society are wearing the skirt which "half veils and half conceals" the delectable of bodice. The Pacha skirt came in lightly and will lightly go, for the strict woman who wears it bears a striking resemblance to an animated tub of butter, and the thin and curvy woman looks, if anything, more angular and less like the world and all its ways.

Hostesses Who Have Entertained Little Heretofore Will Throw Their Doors Wide Open.

The Duchess of Westminster will give one and probably two balls. The Marchioness of Lansdowne, whose coronation reception in 1902, just before King Edward's illness, was the most splendid of the whole season, attended by the Indian princes in their gorgeous robes and wonderful jewels and by nearly every other royal personage in London, will again receive at Lansdowne House.

Chelsea House will be thrown open, the first time in many years, and the Earl of Cadogan will entertain largely both in honor of the new Countess Cadogan, daughter of his granddaughter, the Honorable Sybil Cadogan, who is just eighteen. There will, of course, be splendid functions at the embassies, in which Mr. Whitelaw Reid and Count Wolf-Meternich will take a prominent part.

The opera season will open at Covent Garden on April 22, and the coronation gala performance will take place about a week after the coronation, when a notable feature will be the appearance of the Imperial Russian ballet from St. Petersburg.

The demand for boxes and stalls for this season's opera is unprecedented, and the King has already subscribed for the royal box, which has been unoccupied for so many months, and a depressing feature of the house.

Between May 7 and June 21 four Courts will be held at Buckingham Palace, and for these the number of applications has already far exceeded the limit imposed.

WOULD-BE BRIDES STORM CANADIAN

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, Saturday.

M. THOMAS HOWELL, the Canadian immigration agent who is conducting the search throughout England for brides for the stalwart farmers of Canada, has given up searching and is really trying to lose himself. As the army of brides-to-be, not content with bombarding him with tons of letters, are here by hundreds seeking personal interviews. There are touches of humor in some of the letters received by Mr. Howell, who has been overwhelmed with invitations to teas and other functions dear to the feminine heart. One of the letters received is from a young woman in a London workhouse, who, with unconscious irony, writes:

"Please come and see me. I can make you quite at home."

Women, however, are not half so anxious as the men of England to go to Canada. It is estimated that fully 150,000 English mechanics, farmers and laborers will leave for the Dominion during the coming season. By direct route from London to Canada nearly 17,000 passengers will start for Canada in March and in addition during that month about three thousand immigrants will reach that land of promise via the United States.

This phenomenal immigration is attributed to the general prosperity and immense advance in railway construction in Canada. Fully thirty per cent of these immigrants are skilled workmen and nearly all of them have means upon which to subsist for months after their arrival. There is no doubt that immigration is being stimulated by English imperialist organizations, which expect through the sturdy Britons to neutralize the effects of the great rush from the United States to our Lady of the Snows.

SUFFRAGE SKETCH BY MISS CORELLI

"The Sedan Chair" Among the New Theatrical Offerings in the English Capital and Their Reception.

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, Saturday.

AT last Miss Marie Corelli has written a play. To be sure, it is only a one act play and will be given in a music hall instead of a regular theatre, but still it's her first play.

The title is "The Sedan Chair" and the subject is the suffragist movement. Ever since the cry of "Votes for Women!" became loud in England publishers have besieged Miss Corelli to write her views on the question. Up to now she has been proof against the publishers' blandishments and check books, but in "The Sedan Chair" we will learn just what the distinguished novelist thinks about it all. Sir Edward Moss has paid a very large price for the sketch, which will be produced at the Hippodrome. It is stated that the price is three times as high as the previous high water price mark for a sketch.

Another new and distinguished contributor to the music halls is Sir William Gilbert. He is now putting the finishing touches to a one act play, in which Mr. James Welch will appear at the Coliseum. At present Sir William calls the playlet simply "A Character Study," but that title is very likely to be changed.

The subject is said to be rather a grim one; nevertheless the work, according to Mr. Welch, contains a strong flavoring of the author's characteristic and sarcastic humor. This is the first time that the famous author of "Pinafore," "Patience" and "The Mikado" has ever contributed to the music halls or written a sketch. Naturally its production is awaited with a great deal of interest by theatrical circles here, both in music hall and theatre camps. Sir William has been writing continuously since the early sixties. That in itself is a marvellous record quite apart from the brilliancy of his work.

Miss Gertrude Kingston has closed her Little Theatre and will now take a well earned rest on the Continent. It is proposed, according to the Times, to reopen the theatre in a few weeks under a new management with some Viennese musical comedies as an attraction. Attractive as the theatre is, it so far has failed to attract the public in any large numbers.

Sir Herbert Tree has made himself a prime favorite with English actors and actresses. He announced the other night that in future he will pay salaries during rehearsals. The other important managers cannot very well help but follow suit.

Mr. Herbert Trench has decided to revive "The Blue Bird" each Christmas season at the Haymarket, the same as Mr. Frohman does "Peter Pan" at the Duke of York's. Meanwhile "The Blue Bird" is to make a tour in Ireland and then visit Australia.

While Mr. Robert Lorraine has by no means given up acting, he will devote his leisure, as in the past, to flying. The Express states that Mr. Lorraine will take up the building of aeroplanes and found a flying school of his own.

The date of the coronation gala theatrical performance at His Majesty's Theatre has been officially fixed for Tuesday, June 27.

Miss Maude Allen appeared in a special matinee at the Palace Theatre in a series of new and charming dances. Fortunately for her health, the weather has become much warmer and she probably didn't get pneumonia.

In the performance of "The Princess Clementina" Miss Stella Patrick Campbell injured one of her feet. The pain was so great that she was obliged to give up the performance. Last week marked the thirtieth anniversary of the forming of the Compton Comedy Company. The Stage says that when Mr. Henry Compton on his return from America, thirty years ago, formed this company to give English comedies he had no idea that it would continue for more than a few months. It has been playing steadily ever since and is probably the oldest theatrical organization in the world.

A portrait of Mrs. George Alexander, wife of the actor-manager, painted by Mr. W. Graham Robertson, is one of the principal features of the National Portrait Society's exhibition at the Grafton Gallery. Although the Court is still in mourning, it is not being rigidly held to any longer. The Duke and Duchess of Connaught and Princess Patricia attended a performance of "The Chocolate Soldier" the other night. It was their second visit to that charming opera within a fortnight, according to the Pelican.

Mr. Charles McEvoy, author of "All That Matters," is not an Irishman, as is generally supposed, but an American. He was born and brought up in Boston. "Tantalizing Tommy" is to be turned into a comic opera. Dr. Hugo Felix is writing the music and the indefatigable Adrian Ross the lyrics. It will be remembered that Dr. Felix is the gifted composer of the highly successful "Madame Sherry." This is not a bad tip for dramatists to prolong royalties. When a good play has had its day, turn it into opera.

Mr. Lewis Waller has had medals made bearing his profile. They are in imitation of Roman coins and will be sold as souvenirs at the Palladium when he appears there as Marc Antony in "Julius Caesar." The prices of the medals vary from a guinea to sixpence, depending on whether the nice girl purchaser wishes her Waller profile in gold, silver, bronze or aluminum. They don't come in leather.

WEDS WORKHOUSE BRIDE OF 80 AT 94

England's Oldest Postboy, Thrice a Husband, Marries Woman Who Was Twice a Wife.

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, Saturday.

ON St. Valentine's day Central Hall, Chatham, was packed with an assembly eager to witness the wedding of England's oldest postboy, Mr. William Hennen, ninety-four, to Mrs. Fanny Wadhams, eighty. Mr. Hennen has been married thrice, Mrs. Wadhams twice. The aged postboy, not wishing to be a burden to his children, entered the Workhouse twenty years ago, and it was there that he met Mrs. Wadhams. Their marriage was made possible by the Old Age Pension law.

As a postboy Mr. Hennen worked in Blandford, Exeter, Sherborne and Dorchester, and it was from the last town that he once took the Shah of Persia to Weymouth. When trains came into use and postboys became obsolete Hennen became gardener at Wimborne. At other times he had acted as valet to different gentlemen, and in this capacity he saw some notable people. He once attended on King Edward when the latter was out shooting.

Hennen's favorite story, however, is that of how he picked up the little girl who became Queen Victoria. She was playing on the sands at Weymouth and tumbled down just as he was passing. Mr. Hennen and his bride had their first automobile ride a week ago. When asked how he enjoyed it the old postboy, with his ruling passion still strong within him, replied:

"I haven't been so cold for a long time. I think there's nothing to beat a 'orse's back'."

RATS EAT $75,000,000 A YEAR IN ENGLAND

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, Saturday.

It is calculated, according to Sir James Crichton-Browne, that the loss to agriculture alone in England from the ravages of rats runs to something like $75,000,000, and that they could be exterminated if the imports of grain could be decreased to the value of about $25,000,000.

At present from 5,000 to 6,000 rats are destroyed in the port of London every month, according to Mr. Wilson, the chairman of the Sanitary Committee of the Port, and yet they are unable to keep down the importation of these "undesirable aliens."

LORD STRATHCONA BESET FOR ALMS

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, Saturday.

SOME days ago Lord Strathcona, Canada's High Commissioner, touched by the story of a poor woman, responded to her appeal for help.

This got into the newspapers, and the great Canadian now has evidence of the extent to which the profession of begging letter writers is followed in London. He has simply been inundated by letters from the impecunious, and has received naive offers from others to recommend really deserving objects of charity, thus safeguarding the millionaire against the annoyance of distributing his gold among the unworthy.

Lord Strathcona is wealthy, but he is also essentially a man of business with a business mind. The begging letter writers are likely to cause the stream of his charity to dry up somewhat.

THE NEW CUNARD IS THE AQUITANIA

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, Saturday.

The enormous steamship which the Cunard company is having built at Messrs. John Brown & Co.'s yard, at Clydebank, is to be named the Aquitania. As usual with Cunard ships, the derivation of the name is interesting. Aquitania is the Latin name of a part of Gaul, originally including the country between the Pyrenees and Garonne, people by Iberian tribes and by Celtic families who settled among them.

The Aquitania, as already announced, is intended for the New York mail service and will cost about $2,000,000 ($10,000,000). She is to be 885 feet in length, 95.6 feet in breadth, tonnage will be 50,000 and she will be able to steam 22 knots. Accommodation will be provided for 3,700 passengers—650 first, 750 second and 2,300 third class, and the vessel will embrace many novelties in her construction, among other innovations being Turkish and electric baths, a swimming pool and a theatre.

The once famous White Star liner Germanic, a vessel which has been regularly plying to and fro across the Atlantic for upward of thirty-six years and which probably holds a record in that respect, has been sold to Turkish buyers.

KING REMOVES BAN ON FINGER BOWLS

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, Saturday.

Considerable interest is manifested here in the announcement that King George V. has removed the ban against the presence of finger bowls on the table when he dines with his subjects.

This marks the severance of another of the links which binds England to her picturesque past. It will, of course, be recalled that the prohibition of finger bowls when English royalty is present dates from the days when gentlemen of Jacobite leanings were wont to toast "The King," but would save their consciences by holding their glasses above a basin of water, thus indicating that it was "Bonnie Prince Charlie" or some other pretender overseas who was meant.

ONLY 'HIGH BROWS' LIKE THE PLAYLET

An American First Nighter's View of Mr. Granville Barker's Newest Translation.

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, Saturday.

THREE years ago Mr. Granville Barker was offered the directorship of the millionaires' theatre in New York, then about to be opened. He went to America, looked it over and decided he did not want it. Recently Mr. Barker, apostle of the new thought and high art in the drama, appeared as a mere actor in a variety theatre.

The theatre was the Palace Music Hall, where Mr. Barker produced a very thin, talky and uninteresting sketch called "Ask No Questions and You Will Be Told No Stories." It is one of a series of four that Mr. Barker has translated from the German of Herr Arthur Schnitzler.

The other three are to follow in weekly doses; at least that was the original intention, but wiser counsel may prevail. This one not only lacked point and purpose, but didn't even have bright dialogue. A man hypnotizes his sweetheart to learn if she is faithful to him. Then he hasn't the nerve to ask her, and so remains in blissful ignorance.

It's about as unimportant a playlet as I have ever seen, but the London critics, thanks to Mr. Barker's high browed reputation, and many hidden beauties in it.

LONDON SNEEZING; INFLUENZA THERE

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, Saturday.

Now that influenza is with us again, physicians are once more advocating the isolation of all who are affected with colds, and this advice is given gravely in the face of the fact that if it were followed nearly every house in London would have to be turned into what is termed a nursing home.

One physician says the disease costs London quite $2,000,000 a year, because it is fair to assume that one-half of the population is unable to work two days a year owing to colds or influenza, and each person's services are estimated as being worth at least five shillings a day.

The manager of one of the biggest stores in London says there is always some one away from work with a cold. There is no excuse for saying London is lonely, as you can always have a cold to keep you company.

VISCOUNT MILTON'S BIG CHRISTENING

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, Saturday.

THE christening of the infant Viscount Milton, heir to the Fitzwilliam earldom, at Wentworth Woodhouse last Saturday was celebrated on so lavish a scale that even the great rejoicings which characterized the golden wedding anniversary of the late Earl and Countess were exceeded.

A great village of canvas surrounded the historic pile which is the country seat of Lord Fitzwilliam, and in this gigantic marquee more than thirty thousand persons enjoyed the hospitality extended in honor of the first direct heir to the earldom in seventy-five years.

Seven thousand persons were invited to the christening, but only a limited number was able to see the actual ceremony, which was performed in the chapel attached to the castle. The chapel looked like a floral bower, filled as it was with palms, lilies, white azaleas and hyacinths.

The baptismal bowl, a valued possession of the Fitzwilliams, was of silver oval in shape, exquisitely wrought, and bore inside the family coat of arms. This piece of consecrated plate is the most massive item in the fifteen tons of silver which the house is said to contain.

After the ceremony, which was conducted by the Rev. R. E. W. Verini, the guests assembled in front of the castle and were all presented to the head of the house. Four bands furnished music, and there was an impressive display of daylight fireworks. The refreshments were served to the guests in the marquee on the lawn, and there was a barbecue for the tonantry and other visitors.

Several prime bullocks, products of the estate, were roasted, and this was a feature of great interest to all. According to an English newspaper, there were 24,000 sandwiches, 20,000 meat patties, 2,000 gallons of beer and unlimited quantities of tea, without which no English function would be complete. A special staff of 20 waiters, who went from London to Wentworth by special train, served this gigantic feast.

The little Viscount received many handsome presents, including enough silver mugs to fill a cupboard, but the gift the Earl appreciated most was a great silver bowl from the employees of the estate. No such christening had ever taken place in England, as there were more than fifty thousand persons in attendance as guests or lookers on. The gathering reminded one of the feudal days when all those who lived in a barony were retainers of the baron.

CELEBRATION OF MARDI-GRAS

Procession Last Evening Was a Striking One—Streets Were Crowded.

"Chanteclore" appeared at the City Hall yesterday afternoon and was presented by the Mayor with freedom of the city, this being typified by a large golden key, which was subsequently borne in triumph through the principal streets.

All this was preparatory to the big Mardi-Gras celebration which took place last evening, and which was designed to pave the way for an annual gathering and series of festivities such as are held in New Orleans.

The city presented an animated appearance all through the day, but at night the streets through which the procession passed were packed with people. Many buildings were decorated for the occasion and the whole route of the parade was brilliant with light and color. Every body seemed to enter into the spirit of the occasion, and there was a feeling of jollity among all.

The procession started off from the Drill Hall shortly after 8 o'clock and traversed most of the leading streets of the Upper Town and St. Roch. With Chief Trudel in charge, and who was driven in his handsome uniform turnout of Mr. A. Morgan, the different sections quickly fell into line and provided the crowds assembled a series of cars and scenes instructive and amusing. Several of the leading firms of the city had gone to great expense to turn out cars for the parade, and many of them were really more than usually striking.

The procession proceeded from the Drill Hall through the principal streets of the Upper Town and then traversed St. Roch, returning uptown, where it dispersed.

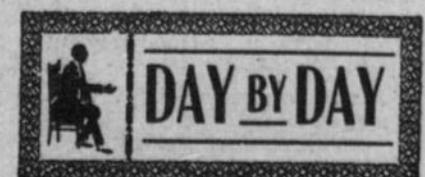

The display was a most interesting one and one which revealed prospects of greater possibilities. Many of the cars in line were, as stated above, striking and unique. Among them might be cited the car drawn by four horses and which represented the Z. Paquet Company, the different departments of the big store being shown in a unique manner. The hunter's cabin of the Herman Young Co. was another car which attracted attention, and the snowshoos had a fine car in the shape of a huge moose. The ice men had a big ice man, all carved out of ice, and other trades were represented by no less interesting outfits.

There was a feeling of hilarity in the air; everybody seemed to be in the best of humor; the jostling and the discomforts of the most seemed to be for the nonce forgotten. Every one was out for a good time. Everybody seemingly was having a good time, and was doing the utmost to make the best of it before the midnight bell rang out the close of the celebration and ushered in the fast of forty days.

The initial attempt at a real Mardi-Gras celebration in Quebec must be set down as a success. It was worked up by Chief Trudel and Mr. Philippe Roy, who acted as secretary, without any outside aid, and it shows what can be done in the future if the citizens as a whole take hold of the situation. The idea is a good one, and should be followed up.

Another car in the procession which attracted general attention was a counter-part of the Dominion ice breaker Montcalm. The car was designed by Mr. Nap. Turgeon and constructed by Messrs. F. X. Samson, A. Gureaux, J. Dion, E. Hamel and W. Huot. The car was a most attractive one.

At the conclusion of the parade there was a masquerade ball at the Auditorium Cafe, at which there was a large attendance. Chabonneau's orchestra supplied the music and before the midnight hour was reached a halt was called and Chief Trudel was presented with a handsome testimonial from his many friends in Quebec in recognition of his services in organizing and bringing to so successful an issue the Mardi-Gras celebration.

Ashes to-day.

Mardi-Gras succumbs to mercurial menage.

There was a procession last night, and the allegorical cars were successful carriers.

The coming forty days are not yours. They are lent. But don't you try to borrow on them.

The Harpoon Club Choir has been dissolved. The singers from Longueuil have them beaten by a long distance.

May we be permitted to remark that the winter is marching on.

Another good chance to swear off.

Oh, Henry, where did you get that nose?

The official poolmaker did not make good yesterday.

Quebec failed to win out at the winning post last night.

IN AND ABOUT TOWN

THE CANADIAN MINING INSTITUTE

Thirteenth Annual Convention
Opens at Chateau Frontenac This Morning.

The thirteenth annual convention of the Canadian Mining Institute will open at the Chateau Frontenac this morning and will continue for three days. The programme for to-day is as follows:

Addresses by Sir Lomer Gouin, the Premier of the Province of Quebec, and the Hon. C. R. Devlin, Minister of Mines.

Presidential address, annual report of council and financial statement.

Section of council and officers, 1911. Mineral statistics for 1910 by Mr. J. McLeish, of the Department of Mines, Ottawa; Mr. T. Denis, superintendent of mines, Quebec; Mr. T. W. Gibson, Deputy Minister of Mines, Toronto; Mr. Alvan Donkin, Deputy Commissioner of Public Works and Mines, Nova Scotia, and others.

General business.

AFTERNOON.

Excursion to Montmorency Falls by electric car, leaving at 2.30 p.m. (Full particulars will be bulletined later.)

EVENING SESSION, 8 TO 10 P.M.

"The Engineering Problems of Geological Nature Afforded by the New Catekill Aqueduct of New York City" (illustrated), by Dr. J. F. Kemp, Columbia University, New York.

"The Origin of Archaean Gneiss," by H. P. H. Brumell, Buckingham, Que.

MET WITH AN ACCIDENT.

The ferry steamer Plessis met with an accident in the ice yesterday afternoon, and went into Davies' pond for repairs.

Members of the Sportsmen's Fish and Game Protective Association are reminded of the annual meeting for the election of officers to be held this evening at the association's room, Masonic Hall, Garden street.

COURT OF SESSIONS.

The young man Bezeau, who was accused of stealing harness, the property of a man named Turgeon, was condemned in the Court of Sessions yesterday to a term of six months in jail. This is the second time he has been convicted of a similar offence, having only come out of jail last January after serving two months.

If William H. Kitchell and wife, late of New York, supposed residing at private house in Quebec, will communicate with room 210, Chateau Frontenac, before noon on Wednesday, they will learn something to their advantage. Any news of Mr. Kitchell and wife will be rewarded.

VEHICLE CAPSIZED.

A member of the Ordnance Stores Corps met with an accident yesterday afternoon, but happily of not a serious nature. He was driving down Palace Hill, when, on turning the bend of the hill the vehicle upset, and he was thrown against the stone wall of the Arsenal, striking his head and cutting it. He was taken into the Hotel Dieu, where the wound was dressed, and he left shortly after.

QUEBEC CARTAGE AND TRANSFER COMPANY, LTD.

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Quebec Cartage and Transfer Company, Ltd., was held at their offices, St. Roch and Des Fosses streets, on Monday, 27th inst. The financial statement was submitted, showing that the affairs of the company were in a satisfactory state. The past year has been a financial success and the future prospects are good.

The directorate elected for the year 1911 comprises the following gentlemen:—Hon. R. Turner, Messrs. N. Belleau and J. T. Ross, Hon. A. Turgeon, Hon. E. B. Garneau, Jules Hone, Jr., Esq., and H. D. Barry, Esq.

A Food Expert

In making the world-famed food—

Grape-Nuts

Combined whole wheat and barley in such a way that it is partly digested before being eaten.

The diastase in the barley, in the presence of heat and moisture, changes the more or less indigestible starch part of the grain into an easily digested form of sugar—just as the organs of the body change it if they operate properly.

Thus the expert solved the problem of perfect digestion for those who may be below par.

FIRST OF THIS SEASON'S SAILINGS

From Europe for the St. Lawrence—Fruit Steamer Leads.

The first of the fruit boats from the Mediterranean for this port in the coming season will be the Fremona, of the Thomson line, which is scheduled to leave her last port of call about April 1. This will be just about the same date as that on which the first of these steamers sailed last year. She will in all probability be found in the race for the honor of being the first ocean going vessel to reach Quebec. She is due to commence her voyage from Leghorn, and will call at Catania, Messina, Palermo, Sorrento and Naples. She is to be followed some three weeks later by the Bellona, which will call at most of the same ports and in addition, after leaving Naples, will also touch at Terragona and Cadiz.

Sailings of passenger liners will not be much earlier, with the exception of the C.P.R. steamers, than was the case last year. The White Star line's first ship will be the Dominion, which is scheduled to leave Liverpool on April 20, in fact on the same day as was the case with the line's first passenger vessel last season, and she should reach this port about the last day of that month. The first sailing of the Teutonic, which has been transferred from the New York route to this, will be May 13.

The Allan line have also selected April 20th as the date for the sailing of their first vessel, which will be the Corsican.

The Canadian Northern will despatch their first ship on the same day, April 20th, from Bristol, so that the last week of that month will see the wharves once more busy.

QUEBEC AND SAGUENAY RY.

Mr. Arthur H. N. Bruce, C.E., of Ottawa, has been appointed chief engineer of the Quebec and Saguenay Railway. He is expected in town in a day or two to take up his duties and to make arrangements for starting construction as soon as the snow goes. It is anticipated that during the coming season the road will be extended to a point about ten miles east of Murray Bay.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE GEORGE REYNAR.

The funeral of the late Geo. Reynar, which took place yesterday afternoon, was largely attended, a great concourse of friends of the deceased following the body to its last resting place in Mount Hermon Cemetery.

The funeral service took place at St. Matthew's Church, where the Rev. Canon Scott and Rev. A. R. Kelley took part in the service. The chief mourners were the four sons of the deceased and the funeral cortege was preceded by a big delegation from the different lodges of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows in Quebec, of which the deceased was one of the oldest members. The final prayers at the cemetery were said by Canon Scott.

PROVINCIAL LEGISLATURE

The Montreal City bill was the principal business before the House yesterday, as the bill was considered by the Private Bills Committee of the Legislative Council, and further consideration of the bill was adjourned until this morning.

The Legislative Assembly only sat yesterday afternoon, when nothing but routine business was transacted. Hon. Mr. Taschereau's bill respecting building of iron bridges, was taken up in committee and progress reported, the bill to be considered again to-day.

When the House sat in supply there was quite a discussion on the supplies to be voted to the Agricultural Department, Mr. Cousineau, amidst lots of opposition, reading several letters to prove that Hon. Mr. Caron had, at one time, been a fervent Conservative.

Hon. Mr. Caron replied to the charge made by Cousineau that he (Caron) had sold himself, which the latter denied the charge and offered to prove it. After a certain amount of discussion the bill was carried.

February being a short month, we will continue our cheap sale until Saturday evening, the 4th of March, when it will close.

Take advantage of next week and secure your requirements in cut glass, china, earthenware and articles suitable for prizes or presents.

OTTAWA WON FROM QUEBEC

In Fast Match by a Score of Six Games to Two in Ottawa.

Ottawa, Feb. 27.—The Ottawas defeated Quebec by six goals to two in a National Hockey Association fixture at the Arena to-night. The match was fast and was witnessed by a crowd of about 4,000. Play was exciting in the first and second periods, but Ottawa obtained a safe lead in the third and was never forced to extend themselves. Quebec played a hard game and should have had another goal, but Umpire Ryan refused to allow it. Most of the Ottawa players were either off color or they were travelling under wraps. They played a brilliant defensive game, but the attack showed none of the brilliant combination, which characterized their play in the previous matches, although Bruce Stuart, after replacing Ridpath in the second period, lived it up considerably. Stuart checked with great effect and engineered a number of great attacks. Quebec dropped Oatman in the second period and substituted Mallen. Shortly after the appearance of the latter he and Kerr clashed, the Ottawa star giving Mallen a poke with his stick and going off for three minutes. Otherwise play was clean, Ottawa suffering nine and Quebec three minutes in penalties. Walsh scored the first for Ottawa in four minutes and Ridpath, on a beautiful rush, got the second in one minute. Malone scored for Quebec on Dunderdale's pass from behind and Ottawa led at the end of the first period by 2 to 1. The second period was marked by good defence work on the part of LeSueur and Moran, the only goal falling to Kerr, who dodged through unassisted in 18 minutes. In the third session Walsh saw an open net, uncovered, dodged Moran and slapped it in. Dunderdale scored on a long shot and Walsh in one minute got another for Ottawa on Stuart's rush. The last fell to Kerr who took a pass from Walsh.

Desse Brown and Jack Brennan handled the game well and none of the anticipated rough stuff was in evidence. Joe Hall got out of an hospital cot, where he was laid up with ulcerated teeth and played an excellent game for Quebec. Walsh and Bruce Stuart were Ottawa's best, LeSueur saving several sure goals. P. Moran, however, was the most conspicuous player on the ice. The line-up follows:

Ottawa.	Goal.	Quebec.
LeSueur	Point.	Moran
Lake	Cover-Point.	Hall
Shore	Rover.	Holden
Darragh	Centre.	Malone
Walsh	Right Wing.	Dunderdale
Kerr	xxReplaced by Stuart.
xx—Replaced by Mallen.
Referee, D. Brown, Montreal; Assistant, J. Brennan, Montreal.
Umpires, Jack Ryan and George Murphy, Ottawa, and Geo. Tierney, Quebec; timers, M. Rosenthal, Ottawa, E. Seguin, Quebec; penalty timer, Alf. Smith, Ottawa.

FINEST HOCKEY MATCH OF SEASON

Won by Canadiens from Wanderers by Score of Three Goals to Two.

Montreal, Feb. 28.—In what was regarded as the finest hockey struggle of the season, the French-Canadiens defeated Wanderers by three goals to two to-night in the Arena. It was indeed a great victory for the Canadiens and the defeat of the Wanderers in no way reflected upon their merits. Throughout the hard fought game the ex-champions fought with dash and desperation. They maintained a perfect combination nearly all through the game, but failed to penetrate the defence more than twice. The Canadiens' victory was in a very large measure due to the splendid work of Vezina in goals. Repeatedly he stopped hot shots which showered at him from all angles, and it was admitted that it was the busiest night he had ever experienced throughout his career. Both teams gave evidence of good condition, for the pace was particularly fast from start to finish, and although the game was most vigorously contested there was not the slightest semblance of foul play at any time during the hour. Before play commenced a rumor had gained currency that there was likely to be a good deal of feeling between certain players, and probably the warning note of Chief Moffat, of the Westmount police, who cautioned the managers that the fist exchanges would lead to arrests, kept the players on their best behavior. About 5,000 spectators were kept in a high pitch of excitement throughout. The teams, officials and summary:

Wanderers.	Goal.	Canadiens.
Hern	Point.	Vezina
Ross	Cover-Point.	Power
Johnston	Rover.	Lavolette
Glass	Centre.	Pitre
Russell	Right Wing.	Lalonde
Hyland	Left Wing.	Payan
Smaill	Dallaire replaced Poulin in the first period.	Poulin
Referee, Bowie; assistant, Percival. Umpires, Campbell and Hicks.

Game.	First Period.	Mins.
1—Canadiens, Dallaire	8.30
2—Canadiens, Pitre	2.00
3—Canadiens, Dallaire	16.05

5—Wanderers, Russell	12.00

CLIFFSIDES DEFEATED.

New York, Feb. 28.—The second of the series of five games which crack Canadian hockey teams have come to New York to play with local clubs was an easy victory for the New York Athletic Club to-night. They defeated the Cliffside, of Ottawa, a team of clever and young players, by a score of 4 to 3. Neither side developed any noteworthy team play in the game and as individuals the New Yorkers were more accurate shots than the Canadians. Goalkeeper McKinley was busy preventing several near goals. Mallen, who roves for New York, drove over two of the four scores, and Sims and Denesho one each.

PRIZE RING NOTES.

Albany, N.Y., Feb. 28.—In a fast 10-round bout to-night Young Ahearn, of New York, outpointed Charlie Griffin, of Australia. He had a lead in all but one round. In the final round, after a lively mixup, Ahearn had his opponent in a bad way.

Boston, Feb. 28.—Mike "Twin" Sullivan, the Cambridge welterweight, to-night cabled to Floyd McFarland in England his acceptance of offers for two bouts during April. Sullivan will meet Johnny Summers in London, and also the winner of the Harry Lewis-Willie Lewis battle of April 15 in Paris. He will receive $3,500 for the two bouts.

Boston, Feb. 28.—Tommy Quill, of Brocton, was given the decision over Paddy Lavin, of Buffalo, in a 12-round bout at the Armory A. A. to-night. Throughout the first ten rounds Quill forced the fighting, but landed few blows. Lavin contented himself with defensive work until the two last rounds when he cut loose and drove home several right and left uppercuts.

SKI MEN WILL NOT JUMP TODAY

Weather Conditions Have Not Favored the Competition, Which Is Postponed.

What promised to be the best competition which the Quebec Ski Club had ever held was billed for to-day, but the weather did not act right and the competition has been postponed to next Saturday, when the members of the club will turn up in full force to take part.

The club jump is in rear of the Ross Rifle factory, and it is a course that should afford great sport. The Quebec Ski Club has asked as a special favor that those who intend going to see the competition would kindly leave their dogs at home, as last year several serious accidents nearly occurred owing to their canine friends being in the way of the jumpers.

This year the rules governing the competition have been made stricter, and it now requires the competitor to keep his feet till reaching the flag placed at the turn, as otherwise his jump will not count, and as each competitor has five jumps we will no doubt see some very fine jumping and previous records broken.

CHALLENGES ACCEPTED FOR STANLEY CUP.

Ottawa, Feb. 27.—Stanley Cup Trustees Foran and Ross announced to-night that they had decided to accept the challenges of the Prince Albert, Port Arthur and Galt hockey clubs. Prince Albert and Port Arthur will be asked to play a qualifying series at Winnipeg, the winners of which will come to Ottawa to play in the week beginning March 13. The Galt club will be afterwards taken on. The Phoenix challenge is deferred until next season and if Montreal challenges they too will be requested to call again.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The British Government has invited the United States to join in the naval pageant which will be an incident of the Coronation of King George. The ships will be assembled at Spithead for review and the American navy will be represented by the best warships of the United States. The selection of the ships is now under consideration by Secretary of the Navy Meyer, to whom the invitation has been transmitted by Secretary Knox.

The special embassy to the Coronation, in addition to John Hays Hammond, will consist of a secretary, a naval attaché and a military attaché. These members will be selected by the President, but their names have not yet been announced. The naval attaché will be a rear admiral, and the military attaché will be a major-general of the army.

NEW CATHEDRAL FOR TORONTO

It Will Be Completed in 1914 and Will Seat 2,500 People.

Toronto, Feb. 28.—With regard to the changes in connection with St. Albans Cathedral, the following statement was made by the Bishop of Toronto this morning:—

"At a meeting of the Great Chapter of St. Albans Cathedral, the report submitted by Messrs. Cram, Goodhue and Ferguson, was approved and accepted as the basis of future operations for the completion of the Cathedral. The Reis firm were appointed architects of the building, and were instructed to prepare plans on the basis of this report, the building to proceed as directed by the chapter. It is hoped that building operations will be pushed on as rapidly as possible, with a view to competition in time for the next Canadian Church Congress in 1914. It is proposed to have a central tower dominating the whole neighborhood, rising to a height of 200 feet. The building when completed will have, with rare transept and choir, a seating capacity of 2,500."

LONG OCEAN RACE.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 28.—A six thousand mile race from this port to Buenos Ayres was started to-day, when the Norwegian bark Kylemore and Sofia, both heavily laden with lumber, dashed out of Boston harbor before a 30-knot northwest gale. The course taken by the two craft nearly brings them across the Atlantic before entering the trade winds that will bowl them into the River Plate.

HAS RESCUED CREW.

Philadelphia Pa., Feb. 28.—The tank steamer Suram, having on board the shipwrecked crew of the German steamship Hans Menzell, from New Orleans, for Newfoundland, Germany, passed in the Delaware Breakwater this evening. Details of the rescue will not be known until the Suram reaches her dock to-morrow. The Hans Menzell passed out of Cape Henry on Feb. 14 and the rescue took place Feb. 25.

And Remember This

You who are still undecided about your car

HERE is the RUSSELL, made by a big, sound Canadian company, in a thoroughly equipped Canadian plant.

Is the value of this sentimental or practical? Think a minute.

You pay no duty on a RUSSELL car, because it is made in Canada. You pay no duty on RUSSELL parts of needed.

You never have one minute's uneasiness for fear that the makers of your RUSSELL car are of the mushroom variety—here to-day and gone to-morrow.

No, instead of this you know that you can reach the makers of the RUSSELL car to-day or years from to-day, and reach them in a hurry if necessary.

You know the character of the company—probably you know some of the men who compose it. You know that we have one of the best equipped plants in America, first for building your car right, then for making it right if you meet with an accident.

Perhaps you do not know that we have branches and agencies practically everywhere which insure first class care of your car wherever you go.

Remember :

Every time a Russell car is turned out—
Every time the factory is improved—
Every time the organization is extended—
RUSSELL owners are being satisfied.

Is there another such a proposition in Canada?

DUKE OF CONNAUGHT SENDS A MESSAGE

To Canadian Branch of the St. John Ambulance Association.

Ottawa, Feb. 28.—The first annual meeting of the Canadian Branch of the St. John Ambulance Association had many things to make it a happy one for all concerned. During the first year of its organization it has grown in leaps and bounds, indeed so fast that it now extends from one end of Canada to the other. The work of instruction in first aid to the injured is now going on in every part of the Dominion.

H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught is the Grand Prior of the Order and of St. John of Jerusalem and President of the St. John Ambulance Association. Perhaps the first message that the future Governor-General has sent to the people of this country was that read at the meeting by Earl Grey from His Royal Highness. It was a letter of congratulation to Earl Grey and all present on the very great progress made throughout the Dominion in this excellent work during the past 12 months. He wished also to congratulate the Provincial organizations now started under the Lieut. Governors and all those actively participating in spreading the knowledge of first aid on their zeal in furthering the movement, which he hoped in a short time will have attained very large proportions throughout the Dominion and be of great value in minimizing suffering to many thousands in Canada as it has already proved to be in almost every part of the Empire.

Earl Grey spoke of the success of the association during the past six months and complimented the different officials on their work. He was very glad to know that it had been made compulsory for mates or merchant boats to qualify in first aid under the Canadian laws and suggested that it might be advisable that all school teachers qualify also before receiving their teacher's certificates. "It would appear now," he continued, "that all that is required to enable the St. John Ambulance Association to cover every part of the Dominion with its beneficent organization is the contribution of sufficient funds. When the character of the organization and the nature of its work is realized, I feel confident that the money required will be forthcoming."

The receipts of the year were $6,061.85, and the expenses have eaten this all up.

The officers were re-elected.

CASE OF SMALLPOX IN MONTREAL

A Young Girl Discovered with Disease, Supposedly Contracted at Lachine.

Montreal, Feb. 28.—Following closely upon the outbreak of smallpox at Lachine, another case has been reported to the local health authorities in this city. The patient in question is a young girl, ten years of age, who resides on Letourneau avenue, Maisonneuve. She was attacked with the dread malady yesterday, and on the application of the health officer was taken to the Montreal Contagious Diseases Hospital.

It was stated by Dr. Lussier, Medical Officer of Maisonneuve, that there is every reason to believe there is some connection between the recent outbreak at Lachine and the present case. Relatives of the victim have been in close contact with certain people who were accustomed to visit the Collegiate Institution at Lachine, and Dr. Lussier attributes the case under notice to infection. It was announced to-night that the girl had only slight symptoms of the disease, and that it is expected she will be able to leave the hospital shortly.

RAVAGES OF THE CHINESE FAMINE

Shanghai, China, Feb. 28.—A missionary, who arrived here to-day from the famine district, where he had been engaged in relief work, states that 3,000 persons are dying daily and that 350,000 are wholly dependent on the Foreign Famine Committee, which was organized here. In many places cattle, dogs and cats are being killed for food and houses are pulled down by the occupants and the debris exchanged for anything that can be eaten. There is urgent need of help pending the arrival of the American transport Buford, which is bringing supplies donated by the people of the United States.

CONSTRUCTION WORK STARTED

Toronto, Feb. 28.—Construction work has commenced on the Vancouver Island section of the Canadian Northern Railway's Pacific division. The new line will extend from Victoria to Alberni, and form the final link of the Canadian Northern Railway's transcontinental system. The right of way runs southwest from Victoria to Pender Bay, then north, through the practically untouched timber and mineral districts at Malahat, Cowichan Lake and Alberni. All sections of the Canadian Northern Pacific division will be under contract within a year or eighteen months at the latest, and within three years' time all the proposed lines in British Columbia will be ready for operation. Victoria, which is the port of call for the Canadian Northern Railway steamships will also be the shipping point of the new Vancouver Island line.

PARISH PRIEST OF MILDSTONE

Plays French Canadians of Essex County for Insults to Bishop Fallon

Windsor, Ont., Feb. 28.—The sermon from Rev. Father McCabe, parish priest of Mildstone, in the centre of a large Irish Catholic community, when the priest played the French-Canadians of Essex county and throughout the London diocese for heaping insults upon Bishop Fallon, has stirred mutters up and intensified the feeling between the two factions of the Catholic Church. It is expected that Essex county French-Canadians and the St. Jean Baptiste Society will "come back" as soon as they have recovered from the uppermost blow of the Mildstone parish priest, and some lively doings are being looked for. Feeling between the factions has reached such a state in Windsor that the C. M. B. A. of this city may make a move to throw the St. Jean Baptiste Society out of the former society's hall in the Davis building. The local branch of the St. Jean Baptiste Society has the use of the C. M. B. A. hall, the Davis block, for the purpose of holding their meetings, and the feeling has reached such a state that several prominent C. M. B. A. members are urging that the St. Jean Baptiste Society be told to find other quarters.

AUSTRALIA IS AFTER THE MERGERS

Premier Says Monopolies "Can Skin the Consumer Alive."

The U. S. an Example.

Melbourne, Australia, Feb. 28.—The Premier of the Commonwealth, Andrew Fisher, in opening the campaign to-day in support of the proposed change in the constitution, said it was essential to obtain adequate powers to deal with monopolies, which, he added, "can skin the consumers alive if they choose." The Premier therefore proposed to nationalize certain lines of business wherever necessary to the public interest. He cited the United States as a warning to Australia, saying that there 1 per cent of the people owned 50 per cent of the wealth, and 50 per cent of the people owned nothing.

THREE MOST IMPORTANT BILLS

Introduced into the Ontario Legislature—Two Dealing With Liquor License.

Toronto, Feb. 28.—Three most important bills were introduced in the Legislature to-day, two dealing with the liquor license situation and the other imposing a number of new taxes, including one on race tracks in the Province of Ontario. The first bill, which was introduced by Hon. W. J. Hanna, proposes to collect 5 per cent of all bar receipts above an average of $40 per day. To this end, license holders must make a monthly return of receipts, accompanied by a 5 per cent payment, to the province direct, through the Provincial secretary's department, and in order that the latter may keep a check, the bill gives an official of the department access to all books of the licensee as well as all books of wholesale salers. Mr. Hanna explained that in cutting off so many licenses, the remaining hotels were ensured of greatly increased patronage, and it was felt only fair that a portion of this unearned increment should come back to the people of the province. A large proportion of the smaller hotels in the province would not be affected at all. Another important addition to the act gives the Provincial Secretary the power of veto over all licenses in the province. Heretofore he has had this power over licenses in unorganized districts. It is now proposed to exercise this power, save in extreme and exceptional cases.

A separate bill dealing with the liquor problem aims to check the illegal sale of liquor by druggists. It has been approved by the more reputable section of the profession, and provides that a chemist convicted a second time of selling liquor illegally shall be handed over to the Pharmaceutical Council for disciplining, that body having power to suspend his druggist's license for one, two or three years at discretion.

Hon. Colonel Matheson's bill to amend the Supplementary Revenue Act was read a first time, and the principal features follow: Tax on railways fixed at $60 per mile for one and $40 per mile for every other track in organized districts. In unorganized districts the tax will be $40 and $20 per mile respectively. Railways less than 150 miles in length will be taxed $15 and $5 per mile respectively. Railways less than 30 miles in length will be taxed $10 per mile and $5 per mile respectively. Express companies will be taxed $500 for each 100 miles or fraction thereof over which they operate. All stocks, bonds and securities will be taxed 2 cents per share of a par value of $100. Each race track holding running races will be taxed $200 per day. Each track holding trotting races will be taxed $10 for one, $40 for two and $60 for three days' racing. If the taxes are not paid the provincial police will close the meet. Although the bill is not a lengthy one, the provisions contained in the clauses will bring in thousands of dollars a year to the province.

Mr. Nickle (Kingston) called attention to a circular issued by the Optometrical Association of Ontario, urging intending practitioners to join at once and save fees and avoid the exception which would be necessary after the association's bill passed the Legislature. As the bill has not even been introduced in the House yet, Sir James Whitney agreed that the matter was one which should be brought to the attention of the House, and he suggested that it be laid before the Crown attorney.

MAIL ROBBERY ON A STEAMER

Large Sum of Money Taken—No Clue to the Perpetrators.

Vancouver, Feb. 28.—The mysterious disappearance of a large sum of money from the registered mail on board the steamer Princess Beatrice, was reported to-day upon the arrival of that vessel here. The Princess Beatrice left Skagway last Thursday night and during the time intervening between then and the arrival of the boat in Vancouver the registered mail was plundered and the contents stolen. When asked regarding the matter Postmaster McPherson said that no clue had been obtained to the robbers and no information could be obtained to the exact time the robbery was committed. It was only when the mail was received at the post office at Vancouver that the theft was revealed. The Provincial, city and railway police are at work on the case, but so far little information likely to reveal the identity of the thieves is available.

"All that I know regarding the matter," said the postmaster, "is that when the mail was taken from the vessel at an early hour this morning it was found that the registered mail had been plundered. We have no knowledge as to the amount taken or where the robbery occurred."

UNITED STATES STEEL CORPORATION.

New York, Feb. 28.—Percival Roberts, a director of the United States Steel Corporation, was elected a member of the corporation's finance committee to-day, succeeding William E. Corey, former president. Mr. Corey's term as a director expires in April. Mr. Roberts has long been identified with the corporation, having been elected a director and member of the executive committee in 1902, when he was president of the American Bridge Company, one of the Steel Corporation's most important subsidiaries.

MADAME LOUISA CÔTÉ AN EXAMPLE TO FOLLOW

Mrs. Louisa Côté, of l'Isle Verte, has taken St. Michel's Wine for several years and is completely cured

If everybody could understand how essential is the use of a good and well tried tonic for the maintenance as well as for the conquest of health, anemia and consumption would not every year claim thousands of victims. We are living in a period of extreme activity. We are using our strength without counting the cost: the most elementary prudence counsels us to rebuild our strength and to repair the constant losses sustained by our organism, to enrich our blood, impoverished through the extravagant system of living that we are following, from the beginning to the end of the year, whether we are at work or amusing ourselves. There are also illnesses to which we pay a more or less tribute; all persons recuperating strength after an illness should use ST. MICHEL'S WINE, the marvellous tonic which is also a powerful restorer. It stimulates the organic action of the body, it renews the energy, it tonifies the nerves and rebuilds the muscular system by rendering the food easily assimilable. The appetite is restored, as if by magic, and strength returns. From one end of the country to the other the marvellous effects of ST. MICHEL'S WINE are vouched for by persons who have been restored to health and have had their lives saved by its use. The testimonial of Mrs. Louisa Côté, of l'Isle Verte, is taken from many thousands which we have already published.

MESSRS. BOIVIN, WILSON & CO., Montreal.

Gentlemen:—I certify by this letter that I have taken ST. MICHEL'S WINE at various times during several years and that I have found myself very much improved by its use and that I am now in perfect health since I take this wine.

Yours respectfully, LOUISA CÔTÉ.

All testimonials are unanimous in praising the wonderful qualities of St. Michel's Wine, which works wonders in cases of anemia, weakness, exhaustion, nervous fatigue, as well as in recovery from fevers. It is a tonic that has never disappointed the medical profession or the numerous people whom it has restored to health. If you feel weak, ill or tired, take St. Michel's Wine, and you will find strength, health and vigour.

WILL BE OPENED IN JULY, 1914

Levis to Moncton Section of the Transcontinental to Be Completed Then.

Montreal, Feb. 28.—It is now semi-officially announced that the Transcontinental will be opened from Levis to Moncton by July, 1912. The key to the situation is in the completion of the Davis section, a very difficult piece of work extending for two hundred miles from the Chaudiere to the New Brunswick boundary line. The delay has been caused by the great amount of filling on the eastern end of the contract, but as the bridge work will be in an advanced state next summer, Mr. M. P. Davis, who was at the Windsor Hotel to-night, stated that the greatest possible activity will be displayed on the contract during the coming season. There would, he said, be no less than nine steam shovels at work, and he thought that three thousand men would be also going as soon as operations are at full blast. By Dominion Day next year, Mr. Davis added, the work will be completed to the boundary line, and subsequently on to Moncton.

RECORDER'S COURT

Five prisoners charged with drunkenness appeared before the Recorder yesterday. Two of them were sent to jail for two months each, two were fined $5 and costs or fifteen days each, and one $2 and costs or eight days. A carter for leaving his horse alone fined $1 and costs.

THREE YEARS IN THE PENITENTIARY

Montreal, Feb. 28.—Chas. Childers, who was found guilty of stabbing Thomas Shea in a fight on Chatham street on February 4, was today sentenced by Judge Choquet to three years in the penitentiary. Childers has already been in prison fifteen times in the past five years for various offences.

Thos. Waterhouse, who it is alleged killed his wife with a baseball bat, came up for voluntary statement this morning, and pleaded not guilty to the charge. Asked in the Court of Sessions by Judge Choquet where he wished to have his trial held, he chose to have it in the Court of King's Bench, and was remanded until Thursday morning.

THE QUEEN'S

Toronto, the Queen City of Canada, is the important business and tourist centre of the Dominion, its many handsome churches, artistic public buildings, imposing offices, public drives, parks and gardens, are the admiration of many thousands of visitors throughout the year.

One of the best hotels in Canada is located here, the old-established "Queen's," a hostelry that is especially popular with all discriminating people, standing in its own beautiful and extensive grounds, it has an air of quiet and refinement that appeals strongly to the home lover, its fame is far reaching, and many remember with pleasure the hours spent within its hospitable walls.

The "Queen's" is operated on the American and European Plan, the rates being: Rooms without Bath (American Plan) $3 per day up. Rooms with Bath (American Plan) $3.50 per day up. Rooms (European plan) $1.50 per day up.

JUDGMENTS IN THE SUPREME COURT

A Peculiar Case From Calgary
Between a Russian and a German.

Ottawa, Feb. 28.—In the Supreme Court today the motion made yesterday in the case of the King vs. St. Catharines Hydraulic Company was dismissed with costs.

The argument then proceeded on the appeal of Keiser vs. Kalmet. The action was brought by the respondent, Kalmet, a Russian living in Calgary, to recover the sum of $2,000 as money loaned to the appellant, a German. The loan was denied by the defendant, and at the trial promissory notes were produced signed Alex. Keiser, which the plaintiff and a witness, who swore she was present at the transaction, testified that the defendant had signed as an acknowledgment of liability for the amount of the loan. The defendant, whose name is John Keiser, swore that he never borrowed the money nor signed the notes, and he wrote his signature in court in a handwriting quite unlike that on the notes produced. The plaintiff's case was that the defendant had given him the false name of Alex. Keiser with intent to deceive and conceal his identity. The defendant contended that the claim was a conspiracy to obtain from him this sum of money. The trial judge held that the plaintiff was entitled to recover and the full court affirmed his decision. Mr. Justice Beck dissented, holding that there should be a new trial to have the notes and signature of the defendant examined by experts. Judgment was reserved at the end of the arguments.

Finset vs. Ryley Hotel Company, in which special leave to appeal was granted in the autumn session, was next argued. An application was made to Harvey, J. for cancellation of a license for selling liquors granted to the hotel for the Alberta Hotel, at Ryley, Alb. The judge cancelled the license on the ground that there were not forty dwelling houses in Ryley. On appeal to the full court this judgment was reversed, the Supreme Court of Alberta holding that the judge had no jurisdiction to cancel the license, as the ordinance did not confer it except for fraud and in other special cases, where the present application was not one. The validity of the decision of the full court is the only question in issue on the appeal. Judgment was reserved.

THIS IS NO TIME FOR DISARMAMENT

Is the Opinion of Count Apponyi, the Hungarian Statesman.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 28.—Count Apponyi, the Hungarian statesman, visited Philadelphia today and tonight made the principal address at a meeting of the Academy of Political and Social Science. He took for his topic "The Menace of War as Europe Sees It."

Although Count Apponyi is in America on a mission of universal peace he declared this afternoon in an address to the students of the University of Pennsylvania that disarmament at the present time would be folly. "The time for disarmament," he said, "is a question most popular and which takes hold of the more unthinking minds, is not yet ripe. When it comes it must be simultaneous. It would be the height of folly for any nation to take this step at present when peace is not secure. We cannot do away with the fact that the possibility of war exists. Not to arm ourselves because we believe it as foolish as not to lock one's doors because one is for honesty. Anyone who has known my public life would laugh at the thought that I should advocate disarmament. We can serve the cause of humanity at large only by powerfully evolving the institutions which exist between nations. Our spirit of patriotism will do its best to make peace secure by showing that the benefits of peace are greater than those of war."

ANOTHER BLAZE IN MONTREAL

Three Establishments Damaged
—Overheated Stove Was Cause of Trouble.

Montreal, Feb. 28.—A fire from an overheated stove did $3,000 damage to three establishments on St. Catherine street West, at the corner of Guy street, this morning. Munro & Co., wood and coal dealers, were losers to the extent of $2,000, their office and all the fixtures being burned. An electric motor was also destroyed. The loss is partly covered by insurance. James Turner also suffered about $500 damage by fire and smoke to a shoe store of which he is the proprietor. The plate glass windows in the store of Harris & Hopton, florists, were destroyed and about $500 damage done by water to their stock. Their loss is fully covered by insurance. The alarm was rung in at 7:40 a.m. During the fire the car service was tied up, and Westmount business men had to make a detour by way of Guy street to get to their offices.

ALLEGED PROFANITY IN THEATRES

Knotty Questions for the New York Aldermen to Decide.

New York, Feb. 27.—Prohibition of profanity and vulgarity on the stage by a city ordinance was urged by the representatives of church and religious societies before a committee of aldermen today. As an instance of loose language in the theatre, A. S. Colburn, president of the Anti-Profanity League, told of a current play in which profane words occurred fifteen times. Public spitting, he said, was once thought a matter of no consequence, but public opinion has since been educated to condemn it and generally refrain from it.

Alderman Willard, who opposes the ordinance, asked Mr. Colburn if he thought d— and h— were profane words. Colburn thought they were. "I think not," said the alderman. "I have looked them up in my dictionary, and I find no warrant for such a belief." Colburn added that he had counted d— 181 times and h— 150 times in Shakespeare's plays.

It was a general impression among the aldermen that power to cope with disorderly conduct in the theatres was already vested in the mayor and police, and that if any move was now desirable it was, perhaps, the appointment of a board of censors to determine just what is objectionable in stage language.

JURY SECURED FOR ROBIN'S TRIAL

All Peremptory Challenges Exhausted—Counsel for Defence Rebuked.

New York, Feb. 28.—A jury was selected late this afternoon at the conclusion of the second day's proceedings in the trial of Jos. G. Robin, the fallen banker, after Wm. Travers Jerome had exhausted the last of the peremptory challenges allowed him as counsel for the defence. The jurors included two accountants, three salesmen, two manufacturers, an employer, a furrier, a contracting truckman, a machine shop proprietor and an assistant railroad tax agent.

Mr. Jerome challenged one salesman as "mentally incompetent" because the salesman regarded alienist testimony as valuable only when weighed in the terms of "common sense." The challenge was promptly overruled by Justice Seabury, who openly rebuked Jerome.

The defendant himself either slept or feigned sleep during most of the morning session, but during the lunch hour his apathy turned to apparent intense interest in the case. Dr. L. G. Robinovitch, his sister, sat opposite him in the afternoon and carefully scanned each salesman. Alarmed by the rather hostile demonstration of crowds on the street when Robin was taken to the witness stand, she gained permission today to have her brother's lunch brought into the court room.

EXTENSION OF TELEGRAPH LINES.

Battleford, Sask., Feb. 28.—Following representations made by the Board of Trade, Inspector McDonald has completed an investigation covering the proposed construction of a government telegraph line between Battleford and Isle La Crosse, 250 miles north. The proposed line will serve an immense area, which is being rapidly settled up, owing to a large block of homestead land having recently been thrown open. Inspector McDonald will recommend the construction of a part of this line this year.

Of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railway—Wm. Cotter Goes Out.

New York, Feb. 28.—Wm. Cotter resigned the presidency of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Railway Company today, and Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, was elected his successor. Geo. F. Randolph, also of the Baltimore and Ohio, was elected vice-president of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton line, in charge of traffic. Mr. Cotter is to continue as president of the Pere Marquette Railroad Company, of which the C. H. & D. owned, until recently, stock to the amount of $9,209,000. According to announcement made today, the C. H. & D. has sold its Pere Marquette stock holdings to J. P. Morgan & Co. The transaction includes arrangements for financing substantial improvements to the Pere Marquette, to be commenced without delay. Directors of the latter road will issue $8,000,000 five-year 6 per cent notes, to be secured by the deposit of $16,000,000 fifty-year 5 per cent bonds. Under a plan agreed to in 1908, the management of the C. H. & D. was to be taken over by the Baltimore and Ohio, which is to acquire a majority stock interest after seven years at a price to be fixed by arbitrators. The election of Messrs. Willard and Randolph, of the Baltimore and Ohio, to the presidency and vice-presidency of the C. H. & D. was pursuant to that plan.

THERE WILL BE A GREAT DEMAND

For Laborers in the Northwest
This Season — 35,000 Men Wanted.

Winnipeg, Feb. 28.—Estimates prepared here from information furnished by railway and immigration officials indicate that at least 35,000 laborers will be required in the West this year. Each of three big railway companies will be looking for about 5,000 men and more than 20,000 experienced and inexperienced will be needed on farms. The question is not one of placing workers, but of satisfying demands. Immigration authorities declare that there is little likelihood of obtaining enough laborers, especially on farms. The reason is so many opportunities for employment are available that applicants do not seek work on farms or railway positions except as a last resort.

WOMEN WHO SUFFER

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Give Regularity and Good Health

Every woman at some time needs a tonic. At special times unusual demands are made upon her strength. Where these are added to the worry and hard work which falls to her lot, weakness will result unless the blood is fortified to meet the strain.

Weak women find in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the tonic exactly suited to their needs. Most of the ills with which they suffer are due to bloodlessness—a condition which the Pills readily cure. These Pills save the girl who enters into womanhood in a bloodless condition from years of misery, and afford prompt and permanent relief to the woman who is bloodless, and therefore weak. Mrs. R. Fisher, Coates Mills, N. B., says: "Some time ago my system was in a very anaemic condition as the result of an internal hemorrhage caused by an accident. Though I had the services of a skilled doctor for a time, I did not recover my strength, and gradually I grew so weak that I could not do any house-work. As I seemed to grow steadily weaker I became much discouraged, for previous to my accident I had always been a healthy woman. About this time I received a pamphlet telling me of the strengthening powers of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I procured a box at once and began using them, when they were gone I got three boxes more, and by the time I had used these I found myself somewhat stronger and my appetite much better. Before I began the Pills I could scarcely work at all. Now after taking three boxes I was able to walk out in the open air. I kept on with the Pills, and after using six boxes was delighted to find that I could again attend to my household affairs. I took two more boxes of the Pills, and I felt that I was as well as ever I had been, and equal to any kind of exertion. I have since recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to friends with beneficial results."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail at 50c a box or 6 boxes for $2.50 by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
